Interest in Mettetal takes off

The operation of Mettetal Airport in Canton is up for grabs. The state is looking for an operator, and more than 60 people and companies have indicated interest.

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

More than 60 individuals and companies have expressed an interest in obtaining information about managing the state-owned Mettetal Airport.

"I have no idea how many bids we will get," said acting airport manager Randy Coller, state Bureau of Aeronautics licensing and enforcement manager.

Approximately 30 people interested in submitting a proposal attended a morning meeting with Coller Wednesday, while another 10-12 attended an afternoon session at the airport in Canton.

Coller told potential contractors that they will be required to abide by restrictions on the airport that were agreed to by the state when it bought the airport for more than $4 million earlier this year. Desert Sands is operating the airport until a new contractor is in place.

"These constraints are real and we intend to abide by them. Whether they are cast in concrete for the next 20 years, I don't know," Coller said.

Among the restrictions are no extension or shifting of the runway, an aircraft weight limit of 12,500 pounds, as well as a maximum 130 aircraft in hangars and 70 as tie-downs.

Proposals are due by Nov. 15, with plans to have a contractor in place by March 1994.

The state intends to offer two contracts to one individual or one company. One would be for airport management. The other contract is for what is called a fixed based operator. The FBO would be required to sell aircraft fuel and lubricants, as well as provide aircraft assistance, parking, storage and tie-downs. The FBO also may, but is not required to, provide flight

Fest offers Halloween alternative

Learning the law of gravity was never so much fun.

Dr. Zeemo brought out his tops, bicycle wheels, yo-yos and other props to teach the scientific principle to youngsters at Fiegel Elementary School in Plymouth Township Friday. The children yelled, whooped and raucously applauded his act during two assemblies.

Dr. Zeemo's skit, a school play and scarecrows made by the students and propped in the hallways were part of the school's Harvest Festival, which replaced the traditional Halloween celebration. Fiegel ditched Halloween in school, with educators saying it promoted destructive, violent behavior.

If the students minded, they didn't show it during Dr. Zeemo's 45-minute show.

"It was very, very good," said Mitchell Morton, a third grader who liked the juggling act the best.

Morton's mother, Pam, praised the Harvest Festival idea.

"I'm thrilled to death and I love it," she said. "It eliminated the hassle out of sending costumes. That's a pain. This is a nice alternative."

Christopher Riley, also a third grader, liked the singing during the student play the best.

Third grade teacher Ruthann Urevig said not one of her students questioned why they weren't dressing up for Halloween this year.

"Our school improvement plan was 'Children as peacemakers,'" Urevig said. "We thought that we

Residents call ban on hunting off-target

BY JEFF COUNTS

About a dozen people at a public hearing on Thursday took aim at making more of Canton Township off limits to hunters.

Canton Township is looking at making more areas off limits, but wants the state Department of Natural Resources to make a determination before the township acts, said Loren Bennett, township clerk.

The DNR held the public hearing and will make a recomendation to the township board within 60 days, said Sgt. Larry Sargent, who conducted the hearing. He said the township will make the final decision.

Eastern Canton is closed to firearm hunting, but township officials are concerned about hunting now that development is occurring in the western portion.

"We're not opposed to hunting," said Bennett to the crowd. "We're just looking to the DNR for some direction on this one."

Some observers predicted that the hearing would turn into a confrontation between pro- and anti-hunting forces. It didn't happen. At one point during comments from the public, Sargent asked if anybody wanted to speak in favor of a hunting ban in Canton. There were no responses.

"We want to have the right to shoot on our own property," said Francis Alloway of Haggerty in Canton.

Jim Campbell of New Boston, a spokesman for Michigan United Conservation Clubs, pointed out to the DNR that current state laws already handle the situation, adding that firearms can't be used within 450 feet of a dwelling.

He also argued against an extension of the hunting ban, saying that it would just place more of a burden on law enforcement.

Town hall meeting

Republican state Rep. Deborah Whyman of Canton will continue her series of town hall meetings in Canton and Belleville to discuss the state Legislature's ongoing bid to restructure Michigan schools.

Whyman will meet with constituents at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 2, in the Belleville High School cafeteria, 501 W. Columbia; and at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 3, in Canton Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

"House and Senate committee members are aggressively debating the issue and continue to look at all options," said Whyman, vice chairwoman of the House Education Committee and member of the House Taxation Committee. "Gov. Engler's initiative gave us a good starting point. It's now time to shape it into a practical strategy that prepares our children for life in the 21st century."

Whyman urges residents to attend either meeting.

Historic reappointments

Canton Historic District Commission members Melissa McLaughlin and Steve Foley have been reappointed to their posts, which expired in April. Both members will serve another three-year term to expire in April 1996. McLaughlin is also a Canton Township trustee.

Fingerprinting available

The Allstate office of Pete Rose and the Canton Police Department are sponsoring a child identification program — fingerprints and photos — 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 13, at the Kennedy Plaza, 45674 Ford Road, on the northwest corner of Ford and Canton Center roads.

The event is open to the public. Parents will receive a fingerprint and photo record of their children. Refreshments will be served and a special appearance will be made by Barney the dinosaur. For more information, contact Pete Rose at 454-9880.

His attraction to law enforcement's no mystery

By Diane Gale
Staff Writer

The game of finding "who done it" is what attracted Lt. Larry Stewart to police work and, ironically, it's what takes him to another job.

Stewart retired with the most seniority in the Canton Police Department. He left last week to take a job investigating insurance fraud. Again, he'll have to fit the pieces of mysteries together.

Rising through the ranks, Stewart, of Plymouth, was supervising shifts rather than solving cases and he moved further away from what he enjoyed.

"What I really love is doing investigations and it wasn't doing that," Stewart, 48, said. "Supervising a shift is a lot different from investigations. My first love of police work is the game of who done it."

Although he was administrator at the time, Stewart did oversee notorious murder investigations, such as that of Dr. Charles Fisher, who murdered his wife by applying duct tape to her head, and Leonard Tyburski, who killed his wife and stored her in the family freezer for two years.

"Fisher was a bear, it was a case where you knew who did it, but you had to prove it, and with Tyburski it was a two-year effort from the time she was reported missing and the time she was found," Stewart said.

His police career started in 1966 when he was hired as a cadet in Garden City. In May 1978, he started working in Canton. Through the years, Stewart's experience, expertise and energy were relied upon, according to Canton public safety director John Santomauro.

"He's going to be sadly missed in the organization," he said. "Certainly people can be replaced, but people like him contribute significantly to the organization.

"He offered maturity that we are going to have a difficult time replacing. He was dedicated, loyal and always willing to put forth extra effort."

Stewart, who served as acting police chief from January to August 1985 while the township searched to fill the position, watched Canton change from a community of 42,000 residents to more than 60,000 residents. The business and industrial growth in Canton has been as quick.

Meanwhile, Stewart said, Canton police have developed into the "premier police department in Michigan. I have a tremendous amount of pride for the Canton Police Department. You can't get a better chief than what Canton has got.

"I left Garden City to come to Canton, because of the potential of Canton Township and the department has developed beyond my dreams," he said.

When Stewart was hired, the chief's office was a portion of a 60-foot by 12-foot mobile trailer, the department had one clerk, four sergeants and 10 police officers. The lock-up consisted of an eyebolt welded to a steel post.

Today, the department has 57 sworn officers and 23 civilians and the department has use of 26,000 square feet, designed to accommodate 80 police officers and house eight cells that can hold about 60 people.

The public safety department has a state of the art communication center, investigation area, crime prevention, laboratory facility, records department, computer room and fire investigations area.

Although he still used "we" when talking about the department, Stewart is excited about his future. In addition to his investigative work, Stewart and his wife, Marianne, also have been developing a network marketing business for the past few years.

"I couldn't be happier with my life right now, but even before I left the police department, I couldn't be happier," he said. "My whole life has been good.

"It was time for a change and a job offer came along. The only thing I have any sadness about is that I left good people."

She makes a home out of mobile home

By Joanne Maliszewski
Staff Writer

Kathy Roop has lived in the Holiday Estates Mobile Home Park for about 1½ years and wondered why neighbors never got together and planned activities for all residents.

"People tend to think of us in mobile homes as though we will be there only until we buy a home. Well, it is a home to me," said Roop.

Roop wanted to see more activity and camaraderie among her neighbors. She marched over to a meeting of the Holiday Estates Mobile Home Association and asked what was planned for Halloween. The answer was nothing — unless she wanted to volunteer something.

And volunteer she did. By Thursday, 150 children responded to invitations to Friday night's Halloween party and haunted house in the park's clubhouse. The party was designed for children ages 1-12.

The homeowners association gave Roop $25 for Halloween activities. She also received lumber and T-shirts from Better Built Fences and other supplies from Rainbow Construction for the haunted house. Area farms donated bales of hay and corn stalks. The park manager donated the clubhouse.

"People were really generous," said Roop, a student soon to earn a degree in medical billing.

Busy herself, Roop wondered how she was going to accomplish her feat. She also recognized two groups in the park often pushed aside and forgotten: teenagers and senior citizens. "I racked my brain on how I could do this," Roop said.

Sure enough, she realized the teenagers were probably less interested in a party, but wouldn't mind building a haunted house with bits of tantalizing horrors.

Senior citizens in the park were Roop's next step. Seniors baked delicious goodies.

Roop wouldn't mind becoming a social chairwoman of sorts to help plan events for residents.

Canton hunter reports success

The archery season for deer is in full swing in Michigan, and the rifle hunters are getting ready for their season opener on Nov. 15.

Canton archer Greg Etienne reported success in Clare County near Harrison on Oct. 22 when he shot a 4-point buck.

Ski club registration set

Registration for the Plymouth-Canton Ski and Snowboard Club will be Tuesday, Nov. 9.

The Ski and Snowboard Club is open to all sixth- through 12th-graders who live in the Plymouth Canton Community School District. The club has scheduled 16 trips to Mt. Brighton during the winter season.

The student's registration fee includes all transportation costs, club I.D. card and supervision for all trips. The registration fee also includes the student's first four lift tickets and group lessons throughout the season. The registration fee is $70 if the student is registered on Nov. 9. After Nov. 9 the fee jumps to $90.

Registration will take place in the Plymouth Canton High School cafeteria between 4 and 8 p.m. Students who register on this date must have the $70 registration fee. Students in line will be registered at the $70 rate. All registrations after Nov. 9 will cost $90.

Those requiring additional information should contact the Community Education Office in Room 130 of Plymouth Canton High School or call 451-6660.

Groundbreaking scheduled for municipal golf course

By Joanne Maliszewski
Staff Writer

The planned 18-hole, championship Pheasant Run Golf Course that will meander through three subdivisions on Canton Center Road was born on the back of a restaurant placemat.

"We talked of the (social and economic) division in Canton between the north and south lines. We brainstormed what might change that and we came up with the idea of a golf course," said Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack, referring to a conversation with Plymouth attorney John Thomas several years ago in a local restaurant. "It took a few years to convince developers."

Ultimately, several developers bought into the idea of the golf course and residential development, including single-family houses, as well as condominiums planned for the future.

It's taken several years of planning, negotiating and designing, but finally ground will be officially broken for the golf course at noon Wednesday, Nov. 10. The golf course, designed by Arthur Hills and Associates of Toledo, is expected to open for public play in summer, 1995.

Firm hired

The township-owned golf course will be constructed by a Nebraska firm, Landscapes Unlimited Inc. for the lowest bid of $3.5 million. Township officials and administrators said they struggled with the decision that came down between the Nebraska firm and a Plymouth firm, Hilltop Glen Golf Inc., whose bid was about $5,000 less.

"They generally support the low bidder for the quality desired," Yack said, referring to the township Building Authority, which will award the contract. Trustee John Burdziak opposed hiring the out-of-state firm.

Pheasant Run is the first golf course Landscapes Unlimited will build in Michigan. "This is not an easy one for me because of the closeness of the local one," said township treasurer Elaine Kirchgatter, who questioned whether township staff members visited Landscapes Unlimited's projects.

Because the low bid is approximately $1 million more than an original estimate, costs will be reviewed in the total $5.6 million project (which includes golf carts, architectural fees, maintenance equipment and other fees). Revenue bonds were sold for the project. Debt is expected to be repaid with revenues from fees charged for the use of the course.

"As we moved through this thing, a lot of things have changed," Yack said.

Project plans will be reviewed to bring total costs and estimates in line. Interest rates when the bonds were first sold were higher than they are now. Those savings will either go into savings, or bonds will be sold to fill the financial gap. "We're ahead of the game on bonding and behind on actual construction costs," Yack added.

Residential development

The subdivisions, Fairways at Pheasant Run, Fairway Pines at Pheasant Run and Pheasant View, boast more than 700 single-family lots. The development — a planned development district that gives the township planning control — encompasses 650 acres from Canton Center and Cherry Hills roads south to the Rouge River, south of the Canton Public Library.

Of the 650-acre development, the township owns approximately 250 acres, with the golf course comprising about 170 acres, which includes a driving range and clubhouse near the planned Summit on the Park community center.

'This is a unique and unusual development," Yack said. "It is a public-private partnership. The developers are giving us the property for the golf holes." The remaining 7-8 holes will be on township property. Developers also will provide cart paths, crossings and landscaping.

The southern portion of the township's 250 acres, just north of the Rouge River, will be devoted to condominiums in the 1,600-2,500 square-foot range. On Nov. 12, township officials will conduct interviews of developers interested in development.

"Three have shown an interest," Yack said. "The board will look for a firm we believe meets our quality standards. Then we can negotiate a sale (of a portion of the township land)."

When the township bought its 250 acres in 1989, officials paid $9,000 per acre with money from the general fund.

Students donned era outfits and studied everything about the decade including television shows, movies, party food, clothes, hairstyles, hot rods, dances, rock 'n' roll, heroes, technology, innovations, jobs, salaries and living costs.

Canton man leaving Redford supermarket robbed by duo

By Bill Casper
Staff Writer

A 21-year-old Canton Township man was leaving a Kroger store in southeast Redford Township after he finished work Tuesday morning when he was pulled into a mini-van in the parking lot and robbed by two men.

But he got a license plate on the van as the men fled, and Redford police arrested a man the next day.

Officers traced the plate number to a Detroit house, where the mini-van owner lives with his girlfriend. The other suspect remains at large.

Kenneth L. Daniel, 28, stood mute to an armed robbery charge at arraignment Wednesday before Redford's 17th District Court Judge Karen Khalil, who entered a not guilty plea for him. He was lodged in the Wayne County Jail after failing to post $1,500 cash bond and is scheduled to appear Tuesday in Redford's district court for a preliminary examination.

The Canton man told police that he left the store at about 5:30 a.m. when the mini-van, occupied by two men, pulled behind his van in the parking lot of the Redford Plaza shopping mall at Telegraph and West Chicago.

The mini-van's horn sounded twice and the man walked to the passenger side of the vehicle to find out what the men wanted, he said.

The mini-van's passenger pulled him into the vehicle and demanded his money. The man handed about $70 cash to the passenger, who was armed with a hammer.

The van driver, who appeared to be holding a long gun wrapped in a jacket, demanded the man's wallet, which contained his driver's license but no money. The man handed his wallet to the driver before he was released from the van and the two fled.

School volunteer receives kudos

Ted Johnson of Plymouth was named an outstanding volunteer by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education and the "I Care" Committee.

Johnson, a local attorney and a magistrate in the 35th District Court in Plymouth, was honored for his volunteer service to the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park Mock Trial Team.

Last spring, Johnson donated his time to assist Mock Trial Team coach Stacey Champagne in preparing students for the Michigan Law Related Education Regional Mock Trial Tournament, held in March.

Johnson and his wife, Elizabeth, also an attorney, attended the tournament to help coach the team and to provide support and feedback to students.

Johnson also took time out of his schedule on Thursday afternoons throughout the school year to help coach the team for the competition, and he served as a judge for the team when it practiced its trial before students in the Practical Law classes at PCEP.

For the past three years, Johnson has volunteered his time to assist the PCEP Mock Trial Team. He has provided encouragement to the students hoping to pursue a career in law by inviting them to visit his law practice.

An active member of the community, Johnson volunteers as a fund-raiser for the Plymouth Symphony and the Canton Community Foundation.

Johnson received a framed resolution passed by the board, a volunteer pin and a dinner gift certificate donated by the Plymouth Landing on behalf of the "I Care" Committee.

Library celebration: 1 for books

By Joanne Maliszewski
Staff Writer

What could be a better way to celebrate the fifth anniversary of the Canton Public Library building than to throw a party for all 5-year-olds in Canton?

"People have already been asking about the party. If we have a lot of interest, we'll have two parties for the kids," said Jean Tabor, library director.

The weeklong anniversary celebration, Nov. 7-13 — designated by the Canton Township Board as Canton Public Library Week — is sponsored by the library board of directors and the Friends of the Canton Library. The celebration recognizes the library's fifth year in its own building at 1200 S. Canton Center Road.

Actually, the library has been in business since 1980 when it opened on the third floor of township hall. Before that, library services for Canton residents were contracted with Plymouth.

In addition to offering a plain old good time, the weeklong celebration, featuring a big day of activities Saturday, Nov. 13, is also designed to reacquaint longtime township residents with the library and introduce new residents to the myriad of services, Tabor said.

"We would like to raise the consciousness level of new residents," she said. "We want to bring in new homeowners."

When Nov. 7 dawns, there will be no doubt that a major celebration is in store for the library. A giant "Happy Birthday" banner will decorate the library's exterior. Inside, patrons will be greeted with an equally large birthday card. "We will ask patrons to sign it and to write down their comments," Tabor said.

Balloons and decorations will fill the library during that week. Patrons also will receive giveaways, such as bookmarks and calendars marking the celebration.

By the time the event rolls around, the anniversary should be no secret. Area restaurants will feature placemats announcing the celebration that features Midnight Madness, Saturday, Nov. 13, when the library will offer activities, food and library services until midnight.

Saturday's celebration will begin at 1 p.m., with the birthday party for 5-year-olds. All children born in 1988 may attend the festivities that will feature "The Jammin' J.P. Express," birthday cake, and Canton Public Library tops to take home. Parents are asked to register for the party in person or by phone, 397-0999, after 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 3.

At 5 p.m. Saturday, free hot dogs will be available in the lobby, followed by students of Arnoldt Williams Music in Canton entertaining patrons until 7 p.m.

At 6:45 p.m., the Friends of the Canton Library will honor former state Rep. Jim Kosteva. "He has been a great supporter of our library," Tabor said. "He sponsored a bill to allow for a second mill for the construction of this library. And he has helped us get several grants throughout the years."

At 7 p.m., patrons are invited to a family concert with Julie Austin of the Song Sisters. Hors d'oeuvres and non-alcoholic sparkling wine will be served.

Following the family concert, Arnoldt Williams students will continue playing until the Kitchen Band performs at 9 p.m. At 10 p.m., pianist David Reynolds will perform until 11 p.m.

services, sale of new and used aircrafts, parts and supplies, as well as aircraft rentals or maintenance and operation of a repair station.

Pilot John Vergonna, a member of the Mettetal Airport Advisory Board, told Coller he believes there should be no restrictions on the FBO, as far as number of hangar spaces and tie-downs. "You could choke out the FBO," Vergonna said.

Coller said the intention is for both the contractor and the state to succeed financially. Money made by the state, however, will be pumped back into Mettetal. "But it is not our intention to squeeze every nickel out of this place that we can," Coller said.

In addition to wanting to know how much any particular bidders' costs will be, Coller encouraged would-be contractors to be creative in their proposals.

"We think prospective bidders should start with a clean sheet of paper and come up with a creative, innovative plan," Coller said. "We're not necessarily looking for the low bidder. We're looking for what's best for this airport."

A state representative will remain as airport manager for Mettetal. The successful bidder will become the assistant airport manager.

State aeronautics officials, as well as members of the Mettetal Airport Advisory Board, which includes Plymouth and Canton residents, are developing an improvements plan for the airport. The next board meeting is at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 4, in the EAA hangar.

"We would like the contractor to be involved in that process. We hope to accomplish some things here soon," Coller said, adding that costs are now being estimated for pavement replacement. "This is kind of a new philosophy in state government."

Coller told would-be bidders the airport and the bidding process will be conducted aboveboard and openly. "This airport operates in a fishbowl. So we as a state agency have decided it just has to be open," he said.

Now that the state owns Mettetal, everything will follow state rules and efforts will be made not to hamstring the operation with bureaucracy. "It would be nice if we can find or convince a local government to take it over," Coller said. "Our intent is to privatize the operation."

Dan Malone, Mettetal's current FBO, will bid for the contracts.

The successful bidder may subcontract particular services, but Coller said that the state wishes to deal with only one person or one company. He also encouraged the use of subcontracting businesses owned by women, minorities or those who are considered disadvantaged.

"That would be to your advantage. We are under no quotas. But the intent of the law is that the state will make this available to them," Coller said.

Ernie Harwell to speak Nov. 14

By Julie Brown
Staff Writer

Hosannas and home runs may seem to be an unlikely combination, but they'll be a winning one come Sunday, Nov. 14.

Longtime Detroit Tigers broadcaster Ernie Harwell will speak 10 a.m. that Sunday during a program sponsored by the West Plymouth Community Church. The Rev. Phil Rogers, pastor of the congregation, wrote to Harwell about four months ago, "thinking I'd probably not hear from him."

Harwell

"He's so down to earth," Rogers said of the radio announcer, who contacted him right away. Rogers and others at the church are looking forward to the arrival of Harwell, who's been the voice of the Detroit Tigers for more than 30 years.

"To say they're excited would be an understatement," said Rogers, a Livonia resident. "They are elated." Some worshipers, in fact, at first thought Rogers was joking when they heard Harwell would be speaking on Nov. 14.

The church rents space from the Metropolitan Seventh-day Adventist Church, north of Five Mile on the west side of Haggerty. That building's available on Sundays because the Seventh-day Adventists worship on Saturday. That's where Harwell will speak.

"Knowing him, he'll probably sprinkle in some humor and a baseball story or two. We're pretty excited." Harwell won't be preaching as such, but his message will be inspirational, Rogers said.

"He's just going to share his story, talk about his life," Harwell will speak for about 30 minutes, and will stick around afterward to sign autographs for fans of all ages.

"It'll be fun," Rogers said. Church members see having Harwell speak as an opportunity to reach out to other Christians and to those who don't have a church home.

Harwell, a Farmington Hills resident, worships at an area Baptist church. His faith was a source of strength for him when he was abruptly fired by former Tigers owner Tom Monaghan, Rogers believes.

"I've talked to him a little about that. His Christian faith really shined through that episode." Harwell, of course, had the last word, coming back to share WJR-AM broadcasting duties with the newly-hired duo during the 1993 season after Mike Ilitch bought the team.

Now that the season has ended, Harwell will be leaving the broadcasting booth at Michigan and Trumbull. He'll continue to work for the Tigers in a public relations capacity.

Harwell was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y., in 1981. He's been named National Sportscaster of the Year 12 times. He and his wife, Lulu, have been married for 52 years and have four children.

West Plymouth Community Church members have been busy spreading the word on Harwell's appearance. They've put up some 400 posters in the Plymouth, Canton and Northville communities.

Admission to the Sunday, Nov. 14, program is free. For more information, call 451-9722.

Class covers VCR basics

Bob Brooker's do-it-yourself VCR repair class is back at the Plymouth Cultural Center 8-10 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 3. The center is at 525 Farmer.

Cost of the class is $35. Participants should bring their own VCRs. To register, call Brooker at (517) 546-9690.

Brooker has repaired VCRs for institutions, including schools and hospitals.

"We already have the state police and conservation department taxed to the limit without adding more areas to patrol," Campbell said.

The control of pest animals is another reason to continue allowing hunting in Canton, he said.

Others at the hearing shared Campbell's views.

Parent conferences planned

Parent conferences will be 6-9:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 11, in the Plymouth Canton High School gymnasium for Canton and in the Plymouth Salem cafeteria and lower commons for Salem.

Teachers, counselors and administrators will be present.

In order to avoid long lines and parking/traffic problems, parents whose last names begin with M-Z are encouraged to come between 6 and 8 p.m., and parents whose last names begin with A-L are encouraged to attend between 8 and 9:30 p.m.

WHIPLASH

Whiplash is the name lawyers give to a neck injury in which your head is suddenly thrown back to the extreme - hyperextension - and then thrust forward in recoil - hyperflexion. This motion may generate sufficient momentum to bring your chin to your chest.

The most common cause is a rear end car collision, though football injuries or unexpected falls down stairs can produce similar results.

If you experience whiplash, you should first check to see that you have not lost feeling in your hands or feet, and that you can move your finger and toes with no loss of coordination. If so, you can be thankful you escaped damage to your spinal cord.

However, your body is likely to react to such a sudden and punishing force. You well may develop neck ache secondary to severe neck muscle strain. The neck holds the head to the body by a series of deep, overlapping muscles, a row of ribbons starting from the spine of cervical vertebrae No. 7 and ending at the back ridge of the skull (the occiput). It is these muscles that take the brunt of the punishment in whiplash.

Recovery can take weeks to months, heat helps, traction may assist. However, resolution requires attention to careful posture of the head and neck at all times. No brace, medicine or form of physical therapy can equal this personal commitment to your own recovery.

MUSIC NOTES

RCA recording artists 700 Miles are excited about their Nov. 4 gig in Detroit. Not because they named their band such because it's 700 miles between Detroit and their hometown of New York. This time, they get to play a real venue — not a floating monstrosity. "It was a boat party — a booze cruise," John Carlin said. "It was the perfect ending to a grueling tour. We partied and played on the water."

Seriously though, the 700 Miles story is true. "Without laying it on too thick, Detroit is our home away from home," Carlin said. They recorded their demo, which eventually became their debut for RCA, at the White Room Studios while it was still being built. "We were the first band to record at the White Room . . . We had no affiliation with Detroit whatsoever before that. Little did we know that Detroit would play a pivotal role in our lives." 700 Miles will play St. Andrew's Hall in Detroit at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 4, with Big Country (yes, that Big Country).

AIDS research and the environment will benefit from the "Festival of Life" tour which visits Industry, 15 S. Saginaw, in Pontiac, on Wednesday, Nov. 3. Dog Society, The Judybats and The Inclined perform at the show co-sponsored by Greenpeace and The Body Shop. At least $1 per person plus a percentage of all net profits will be donated to both charities. For more information, call 334-1999.

Former Southfield resident Dave Stroughter of Majesty Crush has been tapped for panelist duties at the CMJ Music Marathon in New York City this week. He'll contribute his views on MTV's role in teenage sex education. The band will play CBGB in New York on Saturday, Nov. 6. They return to Detroit on Saturday, Dec. 4, to play in the Detroit Music Awards' post party at Club X at the State Theatre, 2115 Woodward, Detroit. Call 961-5451 for more information. MTV's Kennedy will host the awards.

Music magazines in the United States and abroad have all embraced David Gray's debut album "A Century Ends," on Caroline Records. Gray, he said, for the most part ignores reviews and the comparisons to Van Morrison and his idol Bob Dylan. He lets his thoughtful, almost folk-like acoustic sound speak for itself. But he does have a few words about the record and his life. "It's round. The tour, it's kind of round. The world is round. It's all very reassuring," he said. Gray performs with Kirsty MacColl ("Walking Down Madison") at the Blind Pig in Ann Arbor on Thursday, Nov. 18, in an 18 and older show. For more information, call 996-8555.

Dropping former lead singer Matt Kramer is all part of Saigon Kick's grand plan. "It's our plan to keep dropping one (member) a year. Then we'll release a blank CD in honor of what could have been," said Jason, the one-name vocalist, guitarist and keyboardist for the band. Saigon Kick is now a three-piece and has released their first album with Jason on vocals called "Water," featuring the Z-Rock hit "One Step Closer."

"Water" also features a new bassist Chris McLernon. Drummer Phil Varone rounds out the band which scored a hit with the ballad "Love Is on The Way." They've added two musicians to tour with them as well. Got that?

- John Monaghan's look at the latest in alternative movies.
- Some good Street Sense from Barbara Schiff.

Detroit gets to 'See the Light'

■ Techno artists generally perform to taped music. With NASA's "See The Light" tour, bands like Vapourspace and Orbital hope to prove that they can move audiences with its live sound.

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

Electrosonic: Moby is one of the featured performers during the "See The Light" tour which comes to Industry in Pontiac Friday, Nov. 5. Other performers include Orbital, Aphex Twin, Vapour Space and special guest DJ Tim of the Utah Saints.

Although Detroit is frequently called "the home of techno," the city and the rest of the country have yet to catch on to it like Europeans have.

New York rave promoter DB hopes that with this tour Americans will "see the light" and change their musical mentality.

"It's a rock 'n' roll country, babe. Everyone wants tight jeans, long hair and guitars," DB said. "In the U.K., it's the most important youth movement of the late '80s. Since 1988, it's been the number one driving force fashionwise."

Phil Hartnoll of Orbital finds Detroiters' way of thinking fascinating.

"It's funny. The rest of the world wants to go to Detroit. It's sort of a mecca," he said.

DB hopes they'll change their tune when his organization NASA (Nocturnal Audio Sensory Awakening) brings the "See The Light" tour to Industry in Pontiac on Friday, Nov. 5. The show will include performances by Moby, Aphex Twin and Orbital on the main stage; Vapourspace all night in the Saroki Room; and DJ Tim from the Utah Saints spinning discs. Vendors will be selling wares like Smart Drinks, beads and other clothing.

NASA originated as a rave night at a New York City club called the Shelter. Earlier this year, the morning after its one-year anniversary, it closed because the landlord hadn't paid city taxes for five years. While it searches for a new home, DB made plans to bring the "eclectic" night on tour.

"NASA is the only rave scene that's eclectic in musical terms. We hire five DJs for one night so there's peaks, valleys, it's very up and down all night," he said.

Most of the bands play live, as opposed to the European style of performing to tapes.

"It prohibits moving around because they have to keep their fingers on the knobs" but it's a more honest approach, DB said.

Dance artist/keyboardist/DJ Moby takes playing live to new extremes. He may be strapping on his guitar for the tour to promote his new EP "Move."

"I've been playing a lot of guitar in it (this shows). There's one slow almost heavy metal version of a Joy Divison song," he said about the song "New Dawn Fades."

He admits, however, that it may confuse his fans.

"For rave kids, I don't know if they'll understand it. (But) I've been playing guitar for 18 years. I put it aside but it's been creeping back in," he added. "It feels nice to play it."

■ STREET BEATS

New York's Vapourspace, a.k.a. Mark Gage, feels the pressure of playing his ambient music live but he said he's rather not fool the audience with a tape.

"In techno music, it's hard to get it (the music) to sound the way you want it (live). But there's hidden functions you can utilize (in the keyboards), especially in the older gear. You just have to read between the lines of the owner's manuals," said Gage, who adds he was "more or less discovered" by Richie Hawtin and John Aquaviva of Detroit's Plus 8 records.

Although it's tough to reproduce the sound live, Gage feels it has its advantages. For instance, if the crowd's not dancing to a particular song, he can skip on to the next one. Groups who use pre-recorded music don't have that advantage.

"When you do a live show, you can move along. You're not a slave to any particularly length of a song," he said. "Plus, one tweak of a knob can send a crowd into La La land."

As the tour DJ, Tim of the Utah Saints hopes to keep that feeling going between the acts. He's using the tour to perfect his DJ skills (he DJs at a club in Leeds, England) and to maintain the popularity of his band which will release an album in June.

"I'm doing it to tie the name over so nobody forgets us," he said. "When we release our album, I don't want them to say, 'The Utah Saints. Hmmm. Oh yeah, I remember them.'"

"DJ is my first love anyway."

Since its inception, NASA has continued to push for the betterment of members of the so-called Generation X, DB said. It regularly donates proceeds to organizations like Greenpeace, holds food drives, and urges young adults to vote.

Its rave history has also been successful. NASA influenced the nation's first rave tour with Moby and Prodigy by designing the flier and production. It continued its heavy influence by throwing Brazil's first rave/dance parties which attracted more than 3,000 people.

Technically the "See The Light" tour has all the makings for a regular concert tour. On the tour posters, however, DB warns people not to expect the usual concert format. He said it's an interactive dance experience with the talent and audience thriving off each other's energy.

"If you expect to be entertained (by just standing around), you'll be bored."

He realizes that it may be tough to win over U.S. audiences.

"It's an uphill battle to get house music heard here."

The NASA tour comes to Industry, 15 S. Saginaw, Pontiac, on Friday, Nov. 5. Tickets are $12.50 in advance. Doors open at 8 p.m. Must be 18 or older. For more information, call 334-1999.

Self-employed: Carlos Cabrera and Kevin Murdock are designing and marketing their own line of clothing, called "Psycho EFX."

Team has the Propz for those who are hip

With designer T-shirts popping up as often as grunge bands these days, it's tough to be noticed in the market.

Kevin Murdock and Carlos Cabrera believe that with their background they have a good chance of making it with their line of Psycho Propz clothing.

The two hooked up earlier this year after Murdock was laid off from his job as a graphic designer and Cabrera couldn't find a decent marketing position.

"No one believed in Kevin as an artist, and no one believed in me as a sales and marketing rep," Cabrera said.

Murdock also ran into other problems.

"I've applied for every normal job. It's just that I've been way over-qualified for tons and tons of jobs," Murdock said.

The two 1985 Livonia Stevenson graduates formed Psycho EFX, based in Livonia. The company focuses primarily on graphic design and apparel. Cabrera, who earned degrees from University of Detroit and Eastern Michigan University, is responsible for all the retail and business aspects of the company, while Murdock handles the design and production of the accounts.

They have designed their own line of T-shirts as well as those for other organizations, such as BMW motorcycles, Rock of Ages in Garden City,

The revolving-door band lineup actually leaves Kramer at ease. "Constant confusion lends itself to stability," he said. OK. The band performs at Harpo's, 14238 Harper, Detroit, on Saturday, Nov. 6. Doors open at 9 p.m. Tickets are $10 in advance.

The Music Menu: A CD Cafe in Greektown is now playing strictly local music every Wednesday night. At the cafe, servers offer patrons a "music menu" along with a regular menu from which they order the songs they would like to hear for 25 cents. Local bands can drop off their CDs at the cafe or mail it to: Gordon Novak, owner, 511 Monroe St., Detroit, MI 48202. Other specials at the cafe include Grateful Dead night every Sunday and jazz night every Tuesday. For more information, call 964-MENU.

Although Candlebox was one of the first bands signed to Madonna's Maverick records, they actually haven't had the pleasure of meeting the pop star. "I've talked to her on the phone. That's about it," said singer Kevin Martin.

She and the rest of her staff have been tremendously supportive, however. "I think it's the best marriage between a band and its label. We really thought it (the contract) out totally," he said.

Martin was going to try to catch her New York show, but logistically it didn't work out. Instead, the band jumped on the Living Colour tour which recently passed through Ann Arbor. They also recently played St. Andrew's Hall during its headlining tour in support of its debut self-titled album.

"Detroit was a blast. Michigan is definitely a very rockin' state. We were so psyched to be there."

Troubled by his own childhood in violent northern Ireland, Ali McMordle of the Belfast, Ireland, band Stiff Little Fingers joined with Robert Hamilton of the Dublin band The Fat Lady Sings to create "Peace Together." "The music industry can be used to address various issues," McMordle said. "This provided a voice to protest the situation making the point that children are the ultimate victims. No one's ever addressed the psychological issues of children growing up in violent situations." The CD features songs by U2 and Lou Reed, Therapy? and My Bloody Valentine. The money from the CD goes toward organizations which try to help children grow up without bigotry and depression as a major issue. "This," McMordle said, "is only a drop in the ocean."

Doing a fashion layout in Rolling Stone magazine was the last thing Buffalo Tom thought they'd be doing when East West Records took over promotions duties for their latest album "Big Red Letter Day."

"That was pretty weird," drummer Tom Maginnis said about the layout. "There was a big article so that made it cool. I was a little scared of the fashion thing at first because we're far from that in our home lives."

The band played St. Andrew's Hall in Detroit on Halloween with Bettie Serveert, Laughing Hyenas and The Verlaines.

Playing with Tears for Fears every night gives Roger of Jellyfish a chance to see one of his idols every night. "I'm a fan of Roland's (Orzabal) from way back," he said about Tears for Fears's singer. "Even on his worst days I'm pleasantly surprised."

Cyporyn: I Must Be Dreaming ← Krypton

Banjoist/composer Dennis Cyporyn and his outstanding quartet of mandolinist/cellist Pooh Stevenson, guitarist Dan Blatter and guitarist John DeNomme, have one of the most challenging and exciting new acoustic music sets of the year in this self-produced cassette. That they are a local outfit makes it the more interesting a listen.

Augmented by bluegrass legend Roy Huskey Jr. on bass, former Tony Rice fiddler Fred Carpenter and guitar/ukelele player Dave Romeo, the disc shines throughout.

I'm not particularly fond of the numbers that add drummer Jim Dant, simply because the pieces turn into schmaltzy cliches with the conspicuous rhythm. The rest of the program, though, is as enjoyable as most anything I've heard yet this year.

Though Bela Fleck's adventuresome banjo playing is as close as an exact comparison comes, Cyporyn also has an element of French jazz violinist Jean-Luc Ponty about his sound.

The jazz-grass mix is a winner on tape, but the word is that this is a band to be seen live at any opportunity. As it turns out, an opportunity arises on Nov. 5, when the quartet performs at Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge campus. A 4:30-5:30 p.m. composing/theory, recording, marketing and performance workshop will be followed by a 5-string banjo basics, scales, arpeggios and chords workshop 5:30-6 p.m. Finally, at 8 p.m., the band plays a concert at the Smith Theatre.

For more information, either on the show or regarding the purchase of the cassette, call 471-7595.

and the band Stonehead. Murdock has also applied his talents to corporate IDs, signs, packaging, desktop publishing and computer graphics. They are buying a print shop in Livonia.

After just a few months of business, Psycho Propz is edging in on the competition. T-shirts have been seen at high-profile shows, such as X-Fest at the Phoenix Plaza Ampthitheatre in Pontiac in early September and at the Alice in Chains and Rage Against the Machine shows at the State Theatre in Detroit.

Stores, such as Incognito and Cinderella's Attic, both in Royal Oak, along with Rock of Ages in Garden City, Changes in Birmingham and Surf's Up in Keego Harbor, have put enough faith into Psycho Propz clothing that they carry the items. The clothing, priced between $15-$35, can be ordered through their catalog.

Although the designs vary slightly, the Psycho Propz line of clothing centers mostly on Murdock's trademark skull.

"Kevin's always been into skulls," Cabrera said.

It reflects Murdock's love of industrial music, but his talents aren't limited to it. Formerly, a graphic artist for an advertising firm, Murdock's also has helped design print ads for cars. Using his wide range of experiences, Murdock is able to apply his skills to a wide range of clients.

"The skull is not the focus of every single design. We have 20 or more shirts," Murdock said.

"I didn't want it to be the only thing focused on."

The two men plan to update the line every few months so that their customers don't get bored with the items.

"We want to keep things fresh and new with different designs," Cabrera said.

That's one of the big differences between their shirts and the onslaught of rave T-shirts being marketed by other designers.

"Our stuff is completely different than rave stuff. That stuff dies out quickly," Cabrera said.

Aside from the quality of the shirts, the men pride themselves on the way they their buyers. They don't expect retail stores to come battering down their door to carry their clothing. Instead, Cabrera spends his days traveling to stores promoting Psycho Propz. This is particularly appealing to busy store owners.

"They never have to leave the store. They tell me what they want, and I come back with six or seven drawings of different variations," Cabrera said.

No matter what the variation, the clothing is always made of quality material.

"We could have definitely gone the cheap way out. But quality definitely reigns overall," he said.

Vincent Price made more than horror

BY JOHN MONAGHAN
SPECIAL WRITER

When I heard that Vincent Price had died at the age of 82 last week, I found consolation not in one of his many creepy roles but in an offbeat little comedy thriller called "His Kind of Woman."

The 1951 movie officially stars Robert Mitchum and Jane Russell, but Price steals the show as a hammy Fairbanks-type movie actor who becomes a real-life hero by film's end. I like the movie because it shows Price in one of the many character roles that preceded his title as "The King of Horror."

Although tall and handsome, with an ever-present mustache, Price was never what you'd call a classic leading man type. Fortunately, the movies were able to capitalize on the sense of humor and refined edge that director Roger Corman once said "gave an air of distinction to whatever film he was in."

Price was always anxious to note that just 20 of the 110 movies that he made between 1938 and 1990 were horror titles. Early on he had important roles in film noir mysteries such as "Laura" and "The Web" and a starring shot in the Samuel Fuller western "The Baron of Arizona," which remained one of his favorites.

In 1952, his career changed forever with "House of Wax," the 3-D masterpiece about a disfigured sculptor who sought revenge by encasing dead bodies in wax. From here on he lent his name to a long string of horror films, some classics, many rotten.

In one of the decade's most popular chillers, "The Fly," he actually had the supporting role, leaving the gooey transformations to hapless Al Hedison. He was present for the famed "Help me! Help me!" scene where the tiny fly with a man's head begs for euthanasia.

He starred in two William Castle gimmick-fests, "The Tingler" and "House on Haunted Hill." In the first he found a secret centipedal monster that attaches to your spine when you're scared to death. The latter found Price pushing his unfaithful wife into a pool of acid, only to have her return in skeleton form.

He collected his best reviews for the series of Edgar Allan Poe films directed by Roger Corman, especially "The Masque of the Red Death," where he played Satan-worshipping Prince Prospero. The most entertaining of the Poes was "The Raven," a horror spoof climaxed by Price's wizard battle against Boris Karloff.

His most underrated film remains "The Last Man on Earth," an Italian-made version of Richard Matheson's novel "I Am Legend." An incredibly low budget along with disorienting Italian locales only helped the story of the title character, who does nightly battle with the walking dead.

Price, now a full-fledged star, made most of his remaining movies in Europe. His last great one was 1973's "Theatre of Blood," where he played a Shakespearean actor who kills his less-than-adoring critics with methods devised by the Bard himself. Michael Weldon, author of "The Psychotronic Encyclopedia of Film," wrote "Vincent Price's whole career is a preparation for this wonderful gory revenge comedy."

Off-screen Price was also widely known as an art collector and gourmet food connoisseur. He wrote a handful of books on both subjects, served as art buyer for the Sears Roebuck & Co., and even had a disastrous stint on a television cooking show.

Although seen surprisingly little on screen in the last 20 years, Price has remained in the public consciousness. This is thanks in part to his spooky readings on Michael Jackson "Thriller" album and as the grandfatherly scientist in "Edward Scissorhands," the Tim Burton fantasy that served as a fitting swan song.

Not always the most careful when it came to choosing film roles (neither was Olivier), Price nevertheless remains one of unforgettable personalities of the movies. This year Halloween just wasn't the same without him.

SCREEN SCENE

A sampling of what's playing at alternative movie theaters throughout metro Detroit as reviewed by John Monaghan.

■ DETROIT FILM THEATER
Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward Ave., Detroit. Call 833-2323 for information. ($5; $4 students)

"La Vie de Boheme" (Finland — 1992), 7 and 9:30 p.m. Nov. 5-6; 4 and 7 p.m. Nov. 7. The latest export from the deadpan Finnish director of "Leningrad Cowboys Go America" and "The Match Factory Girl." Here Irish and Albanian bohemians populate the Parisian Left Bank, with real-life directors Louis Malle and Sam Fuller stopping by to pay a visit.

■ HENRY FORD CENTENNIAL LIBRARY
13671 Michigan Ave., Dearborn. Call 943-2340 for information. (Free)

"The Senator Was Indiscreet" (USA — 1947), 7 p.m. Nov. 1. William Powell and Ella Raines star in this clever political satire about an ambitious senator whose "diary" keeps party members in line.

■ MAIN ART THEATER
118 N. Main Street at 11 Mile, Royal Oak. Call 542-0180 for show times. Titles listed run at least through next Thursday. ($6.50; $3 twilight)

"Short Cuts" (USA — 1993). Robert Altman has taken some eight short stories by Raymond Carver and woven them together into an ambitious three-hour film. Too bad these people, played by Tom Waits, Lily Tomlin and Tim Robbins just to name a few, aren't all that interesting.

"Orlando" (Britain — 1992). Virginia Woolf's gender-bending novel follows a the title character who lives for 400 years, first as a man and then as a woman. The often ponderous story is compensated by individual scenes of inspired beauty.

"Baraka" (USA — 1993). A global journey which swoops and soars across 24 countries, backed by an evocative musical score.

■ MAGIC BAG THEATRE CAFE
22918 Woodward at Nine Mile, Ferndale. Call 544-3030 for more information. (Tickets price varies)

"La Dolce Vita" (Italy — 1960), 8 p.m. Nov. 1. In this masterpiece from director Federico Fellini, Marcello Mastrioanni plays a paparazzi reporter making his nightly rounds of Roman high society and its beguiling women. ($3)

"Saturday Night Fever" (USA — 1977), 10 p.m. Nov. 6 (disco party, with trivia, begins at 9 p.m.). John Travolta returns as king of the disco. Amazingly enough, the movie has been attracting "twentysomething" audiences, just tots during the Me Decade, who missed out on the first wave of disco fever. ($5)

■ AMC OLD ORCHARD
Orchard Lake Road, north of I-696, Farmington. Call 553-9965 for show times. ($5.75; $2.95 twilight)

"M Butterfly" (USA — 1993). Jeremy Irons plays a French diplomat in China who falls in love with a beautiful, mysterious diva from the Beijing Opera who turns out to be a man. You'd think that this bizarre story would be perfect for "Naked Lunch" director David Cronenberg, but he fashions his dullest and most conventional film yet.

■ REDFORD THEATER
17360 Laher at Grand River, Detroit. Call 537-2560 for information. ($2.50)

"Rio Bravo" (USA — 1959), 8 p.m. Nov. 5; 2 and 8 p.m. Nov. 6-7 (organ overture begins a half hour before show time). Sheriff John Wayne and boozy deputy Dean Martin wait for a band of killers to try to bust their buddy out of jail. Great atmosphere aids this overly long Howard Hawks' western.

■ STATE THEATER
2115 Woodward, Detroit. Call 961-5450 for information. ($1)

"Monty Python's Life of Brian" (Britain — 1979), 9 p.m. Nov. 1. The British comedy troupe takes on religious epics with this satire about a man whose life parallels that of Christ. Religious groups were in a furor when the film was first released, but in its own way, "Brian" is really quite reverant.

On the Town
DINING & ENTERTAINMENT

'Masala' serves up spicy story of color

BY LEANNE ROGERS
STAFF WRITER

■ The romance is central to the film but the subplot is also memorable.

Racial and cultural prejudice is an affliction that isn't divided between whites and blacks. People of color can have their own prejudices against other people of color and within their own culture based on skin. Those are some of issues examined in the 1992 film "Mississippi Masala" which also ponders the question of what makes a place home.

Arriving in America as a child, Mina, played by Sarita Choudhury, is a very Americanized Indian woman living in Mississippi. Her family, which is supported by a party store operated by her mother, was forced to leave their home in Uganda after dictator Idi Amin dreamed all Asians had to go.

Mina is bickering with her aunt while driving and rear ends a truck. The other driver is Demetrius, played by Denzel Washington, who has a carpet cleaning business. "Your Dirt Is Our Bread and Butter" is his motto. Members of the extended family, who own a motel and are big clients of the cleaning service, jump into action to smooth over the accident in hopes of avoiding a lawsuit.

Mina and Demetrious meet up again at a nightclub and hit it off. After some hesitation on his part, the couple start spending time together. When they start dating, they cause an uproar among family and friends on both sides. Mina's family doesn't like her dating a black man and Demetrious may be trying to make an old girlfriend jealous. Her indignant family could also ruin his business.

The romance is central to the film but the subplot is also memorable. Mina's attorney father, played by Roshan Seth, is an almost tragic figure as he bitterly files lawsuits against the Ugandan government to recover what he lost when forced to leave his home with a few suitcases. It's a psychic wound he can't heal. Despite being born in Uganda and representing black clients, he notes that in the end it all came down to skin color.

Color is also important within the Indian community in a telling scene where guests at a wedding don't give Mina much of a chance to make good marriage. You can be light-skinned and poor or dark-skinned with money but not dark and without money.

Chowdhury and Washington are both very good in a film that shows the sometimes rough road to finding where you belong in life. Mira Nair directs the picture with a steady hand and a good amount of spice.

"Mississippi Masala" is available on tape at local video stores. If you have a question or comment, call LeAnne Rogers at 953-2103 or write her at The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

Home improvement store celebrates Livonia opening

BY MARY RODRIQUE
STAFF WRITER

Amid balloons and banners, Home Quarters Warehouse opened in Livonia on Thursday, touting itself as the fastest growing home improvement chain in the nation.

Anchored in a 130,000-square-foot facility on the northeast corner of Middlebelt and Schoolcraft, HQ offers consumers 40,000 different home improvement items. Besides an extensive inventory, HQ services include do-it-yourself clinics, an on-site child care area called Kids Quarters, and a contractor's desk for professional and commercial customers.

Stores in Roseville, Madison Heights and Southgate opened simultaneously. In Livonia, just about every parking space was filled in the massive lot which abuts the Detroit Race Course property. A constant stream of shoppers filtered in and out of the warehouse.

"I like it. The workers are friendly. I got a great price on a miter box," said Tim Szerszen as he headed back to his car. The Garden City man said he does home improvement work for a living.

Dee MacKenzie, pushing a cart to her car, stopped before visiting her father living nearby.

"I bought a lamp today. But the Oriental rugs are gorgeous," she said.

Inside the building, Mike McCormick, paint manager, said it took six weeks to get his area up and running. There's a computerized paint mixer, a computer bank to help customers search for the right color, even a light display center which allows customers to hold paint chips under different types of lights to gauge what the color will look like at home.

Each area is marked by a huge banner: tile, kitchen, vanities, baths; plumbing, wall coverings, paint, windows, storm doors, moulding and plumbing. Everywhere, the HQ official green color is prominent. All 300 workers, including managers, are dressed in green T-shirts or sweatshirts, some with matching baseball caps. Aisles are wide, lighting is bright, and help is everywhere.

"This is our work staff. We won't let them go after the opening," said Greg Young, general store manager, who moved to Michigan from Cincinnati for the assignment. "I'm tremendously pleased with the staff. They've all had training, managers in St. Louis and everyone in Virginia Beach."

Founded in Virginia Beach, Va., in 1985, the chain now operates 52 home improvement warehouses primarily in the south and east. A warehouse opened in Little Rock, Ark., in addition to the metro Detroit openings on Thursday.

"We've been advancing into the Midwest and we found the metro Detroit area most attractive," said Frank Doczi, company president.

"There are 4.5 million people here, good housing, people who care about their properties, a great work force, and real estate sites available.

"We were thrilled with the reception today," added Doczi, who presided over a board cutting ceremony in the Livonia store, while surrounded by local politicians, HQ staff and curious customers.

"We're going to be opening four to six more warehouses in the metro area over the next few years. Also 10 stores are planned for out-state.

"We looked at the whole metro area and found Livonia to be an important place to locate because of the road patterns. Our goal is to be as convenient as possible."

Pauline Millichamp of the Michigan Jobs Commission office said HQ's arrival creates 1,200 new jobs in the state.

"It's going to create many additional jobs for the city," said David Palmer, Livonia Chamber of Commerce president. "We feel honored such a large company recognized our city."

Livonia Mayor Bob Bennett was also on hand for the festivities.

"It's certainly huge. If you can't find it here, you won't find it anywhere," he said. "It represents a nice addition to our tax base. Also, this corner has been wanting for many years."

City clerk Joan McCotter and Livonia councilmen Dale Jurcisin and Fernon Feenstra were also there.

Freeman-Darling Inc. of Livonia was general contractor for the project.

"Construction from start to finish took 100 days," said Charles Gleeson, vice president of the firm. "It put 120 construction jobs in place for each store. We worked night and day, extra shifts and overtime. Cost per store was between $5 million and $6 million."

POINTS OF VIEW

Educate all our kids, not just the privileged

JOHN TELFORD

Last week, as his three intended killers came in the front door, I smuggled a student out a back exit of the adult high school on 7630 Harper Avenue at Van Dyke where I'm developing a counseling program. He had sold this revenge-bent trio of fellow students some adulterated (diluted) drugs — not a good idea in the inner heart of Detroit, where young men are routinely murdered for far lesser offenses.

As I drove him fast down a glass-strewn alley and away from the battered old school toward safe transfer to a night school, I warned him to stay far away from Harper and Van Dyke indefinitely, day or night. This is a corner where a methadone clinic looms, drug deals go down in the street in broad daylight, and gunfire, sidewalk gambling, narcotics use and other illegalities proliferate in plain sight.

Driving back to my office after dropping him off, I anguished for the thousandth time over what we in Michigan have stood by and allowed to happen to our young people's future — not only with regard to our inner-city public-school populations, but to public-school students in general. Politicians and bureaucrats drone interminably about tuition and transportation vouchers and "empowered" schools and privatized management and "remaking our educational system."

The real question remains: How willing are we to try to educate all of our children, rather than the privileged 33 percent we've been fully educating thus far? To successfully educate everyone for a linguistically and technologically demanding future, we must restore the $6 billion, which was recently robbed from the state's schools — "rich" and poor alike. We also must extract considerably more from the taxpaying public and allocate it to the neediest districts.

When my staff designed a high school "alternative center for education" (which I christened "ACE") in Rochester, I poured hundreds of thousands of "extra" dollars into it. Conversely, ghetto "alternative centers" usually get less — not more — of their own district's money. And these districts themselves have already been shortchanged in light of most of their students' desperate needs.

Meanwhile, professional athletics, pop music and other kinds of opiate have become the priorities of too many Americans. In ancient Rome, the idle and besotted rich called similar palliative pastimes "bread and circuses." These were designed to appease an equally idle and drunken proletariat. You'll recall what happened to Rome soon thereafter. George Santayana warned that those who can't learn from the past are condemned to repeat it.

The expensive bread-and-circus cycle can be broken, but only if we as a state and a nation demonstrate the will to do it. After restoring every cent of the $6 billion (via the income tax) and then taxing ourselves yet further (via the sales tax) for additional money to distribute to the neediest districts, our next step should be to ensure that every district maintain measurable and reasonable outcomes students must attain to advance from grade to grade.

A concomitant step is to eradicate the drug trade. (In other columns, I have outlined ways to do this.) Then and only then will millions of young men like my back-alley passenger and his pursuers stay alive, sober, and out of jail or off the dole. Thus they'll become job-holding contributants to the legal economy and bolster your social security — instead of threatening it and your life and the very survival of our republic.

John Telford, a Rochester Hills resident, was an assistant superintendent in the Rochester School District. He previously was executive director for secondary education in the Plymouth Canton district.

State humane society should go back to the dogs

"People feel very intimidated by someone dressed in camouflage, wearing face paint and holding a weapon in their hands. To dismiss that out-of-hand is ignoring reality."
—Gary Tiscornia, executive director Michigan Humane Society, speaking in a Detroit daily newspaper

Okay pal. If that's the way the Humane Society looks at the world, you won't get any more of my money. I'll be checking to see if the United Way donates any to you guys, and if it does, I'll deep six my donation card and put the money in the Salvation Army kettle.

I'd even rather give my money to my local anti-hunting friend Mike Chiado, even though he spends an occasional weekend harassing hunters. Chiado, of Plymouth, makes intelligent arguments against hunting. He's fun to talk to.

The reason for this is that the comment from the Humane Society goes past purely being anti-hunting and gets into the politically correct new thinking that's as dangerous as the propaganda spread by the Nazis.

The guy from the Humane Society is basically setting up the ground work to start a hate campaign against people who wear camouflage. Any similarities to Germany in the 1930s are welcome.

It's interesting to note that Hitler was a vegetarian and an anti-hunter who called beef soup carcass tea.

As a hunter and fisherman, I don't mind people taking aim at my activities because they object to them on a moral basis. However, the Humane Society crossed the Mason-Dixon line and is becoming like the old KKK by trying to create the stereotype of a hunter as a person who wears camouflage, paints his face and is to be feared because he is carrying a weapon.

JEFF COUNTS

■ As a hunter and fisherman, I don't mind people taking aim at my activities because they object to them on a moral basis.

If we transferred such a description to any ethnic or racial group, we would have headlines the size of a rack on a 12-point buck and more suits than a New York law firm. And for good reason. A hate campaign turns to violence at some point.

Also, the Humane Society's implication that a camouflage-wearing, gun-carrying hunter is "intimidating" ignores reality.

The chance of getting shot by a stranger is higher when driving on a Detroit area freeway than of catching a few pellets from a shotgun fired in the sky by a duck hunter. In other words, that little old lady driving the economy car next to you on the Jeffries Freeway probably has a .357 magnum under her seat and is ready to use it. Hunters, on the other hand, are more interested in mallards than motorists.

But it's easier for the Humane Society to pass off the big lie about hunting than to accept the truth. The first step in the big lie as the Nazis practiced it was to stereotype a group of people. That then leads to banning their activities and eventually to turning them into criminals who must be jailed.

It's time for the Humane Society to go back to worrying about dogs and cats. They're on much firmer ground in that area. Once you start trying to censor the way people dress and in which activities they engage, you may just as well start wearing a brown shirt and marching with the skin heads.

PLYMOUTH CHARTER TOWNSHIP
ORDINANCE NO. 83.63

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH BY AMENDING THE ZONING ORDINANCE TEXT OF ARTICLE XVI, SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS, OF SAID ORDINANCE, RELATED TO REAR YARD REQUIREMENTS. THE TEXT AMENDMENT SHALL SPECIFICALLY PERMIT A REDUCTION IN THE REAR YARD REQUIREMENT IN A R-1-E, R-1-H, R-1-S AND R-1 SINGLE FAMILY RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT ONLY UPON APPROVAL OF THE ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS PROVIDED SPECIFIC CRITERIA AND REQUIREMENTS ARE MET.

THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Part I. The Zoning Ordinance No. 83 of the Plymouth Charter Township, is hereby amended by amending Section 16.1 Schedule of Regulations, and Section 16.2 Notes to Schedule of Regulations, to add a Footnote "z," to read as follows:

Section 16.1 Schedule of Regulations, presently reads as follows for R-1-E, R-1-H, R-1-S, and R-1 Zoning Districts, Minimum Yard Requirements in Feet for Rear Yards:

Zoning District	Minimum Yard Requirements In Feet Rear
R-1-E	50
R-1-H	50
R-1-S	50
R-1	50

Schedule 16.1 Schedule of Regulations is hereby amended by adding a Footnote "z" to read as follows for R-1-E, R-1-H, R-1-S, and R-1 Zoning Districts, Minimum Yard Requirements in Feet for Rear Yards.

Zoning District	Minimum Yard Requirements In Feet Rear
R-1-E	(z) 50
R-1-H	(z) 50
R-1-S	(z) 50
R-1	(z) 50

Section 16.2 Notes to Schedule of Regulations, presently reads as follows:

Footnote (y) is the last footnote to the Schedule of Regulations.
Footnote (z) would therefore be an additional footnote.

Section 16.2 Notes to Schedule of Regulations is hereby amended by adding a Footnote (z) which reads as follows:

(z) The rear yard in a R-1-E, R-1-H, R-1-S and R-1 Single Family Residential District may be reduced after approval of the Zoning Board of Appeals upon the Zoning Board of Appeals finding that the following specific requirements have been met.
1) The single family structure may not extend more than 10 feet into the required 50 foot rear yard.
2) The rear yard of the residence must back to the rear yard of the adjoining residence and not to a side yard.
3) The width of the single family structure extending into the required 50 foot rear yard shall not exceed forty percent of the width of the portion of the single family structure which must comply with the 50 foot setback.
4) The proposed penetration into the rear yard setback is the only practical location for the proposed addition.
5) The completed structure will be consistent and compatible with the other houses in the immediate area in overall size, construction, quality, finish and aesthetic appearance.
6) The proposed extension into the rear yard shall not have a substantial negative impact on the open and expected vistas for adjoining properties.
7) The rear yard setback otherwise required is not less than 50 feet, on account of a consent judgment or other special exceptions.
8) The proposed structure shall comply with all other requirements of the ordinance.

Part II. CONFLICTING PROVISIONS REPEALED. Any Odinance or parts of Ordinance in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed.

Part III. EFFECTIVE DATE. The provisions of this Ordinance are hereby declared to take effect on November 26, 1993.

Part IV. ADOPTION. The Ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of Charter Township of Plymouth by authority of Act 184 of the Public Acts of Michigan, 1949, at a meeting duly called and held on the 26th day of October, 1993, and ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

How to apply

Schoolcraft College is looking for a new trustee.

Applicants must live in the Schoolcraft territory, which encompasses the school districts of Plymouth/Canton, Livonia, Garden City and Northville.

Applications are available in the college president's office or by calling 462-4420. The campus is on Haggerty Road just south of Seven Mile. The deadline for returning applications is Jan. 5, 1994.

The board hopes to pick a new colleague after Jan. 26, 1994.

Michael Burley

Burley resigns from S'craft board

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Citing personal reasons, Michael Burley of Canton Township resigned Wednesday from the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

"I regret that it is necessary for me to resign," he wrote. "I am confident you will continue to do the right things necessary to make Schoolcraft College an exemplary institution. Thanks to all of you at Schoolcraft College for making my tenure interesting and for the most part enjoyable."

Burley, 53, was elected to the board in 1979 and re-elected in 1985 and 1991. Only trustee Harry Greenleaf has been on the board longer (since 1977).

Burley said he plans to sell his house and work on the campaign of Plymouth resident Carl Pursell who is seeking the Republican nomination for U.S. Senate.

"I'm sad to see him go," Greenleaf said at Wednesday's regular meeting.

"I too am very sorry to see Mike resign," said board chairman Steve Ragan, a Plymouth resident.

"It's going to be a real loss," said trustee Patricia Watson. "We're really going to miss him."

Burley's resignation isn't effective until Jan. 26, 1994, making the process of naming a successor more difficult, said trustee Mary Breen of Plymouth Township.

"Mr. Burley has not done us any favors by waiting until Jan. 26," she said. "He's not giving us extra time. He's just making it more difficult for us."

Theoretically, the board could interview applicants to replace Burley almost right away, but trustees worried about what might happen in the event that Burley returned to cast the deciding vote on his successor, or perhaps decided to withdraw his resignation.

Although no one expects Burley to do this, "the theoretical argument and possibility bothers me," Ragan said.

Burley, who hasn't attended a board meeting since June 23, said Friday that he chose the far off resignation date to be helpful. "I did that to help the board and also help any candidate coming in," he said. "I thought it was unfair to resign (immediately) so they would have to go through the process of finding someone in 30 days (as required by law)."

The board decided to accept applications for the appointment until Jan. 5, 1994, interview selected applicants, then make the appointment sometime in Feburary.

Burley was well thought of by the other trustees, leading Ragan to lament at the end of the meeting that someone else would have to make a motion for adjournment, a task Burley usually handled.

Later, Ragan called Burley "one of the kindest, most generous people I know. In many ways it's a thankless job (being on Schoolcraft's board) and Mike did it for a long time."

Schoolcraft President Richard McDowell praised Burley, too. "He brought a lot of educational expertise to the board," McDowell said. "He understood the classroom and what we're trying to do here."

CHEF LARRY JANES

Doctor canned broth to make homey soup

This has been a week to beat all weeks. Between getting the Janes Gang ready for Halloween, speaking engagements, cooking classes and orthodontic visits, I still found time to clean gutters, rake leaves, winterize the trailer and figure out the nutritional program on my computer.

My brain was zapped, my body weak, and the cupboards bare. We ate boiled hot dogs, instant rice and canned corn for dinner.

This morning we ran out of coffee. Seldom have I ever thrown an overcoat over wrinkled pajamas and headed for the store, but I needed caffeine to complete a list of things that had to be done.

I don't know what came over me. Maybe it was the lack of caffeine, maybe it was my sore back from raking leaves, but fate led me to the soup aisle. Pausing for a moment, I thought soup would be a nurturing addition to dinner.

Closing my eyes for a moment, I took a deep breath and reminisced about smells that permeate the house when I make soup.

There could be no homemade soup today because of everything that had to get accomplished. While pushing the shopping cart, I almost ran into one of those annoying stacks of cans protruding in the aisle.

My local grocer was running a promotion on canned chicken stock, and I came pretty close to knocking the whole thing down.

Pausing for a second, my mind immediately transformed me back to Wyandotte, circa 1962. It was like I was standing there in the shadows, like a ghost, observing momma make her much acclaimed noodle soup. But were my eyes deceiving me?

Here was the doyenne of homemade food, the Mrs. Smith of Pies, and June Cleaver of mashed potatoes, holding a jumbo can of chicken broth.

With her hair still tightly rolled in spoolies to look good for tonight's novena at church, I watched as she poured two jumbo cans of broth into her Farberware Dutch oven.

She took a wooden match from her apron pocket and lit the burner, turning the knob so that fire was almost jumping up the sides of the pot. She opened up the spice cabinet I had made her in shop class and plucked three tin cans from the shelf.

The first was pepper, pure and ground. In 1962 I don't think anyone used a pepper mill did they? The second was a half handful of dried parsley and the third held a strange scented, muted green dried leaf that would later be identified as just "bay."

In they went, with a quick stir from a wooden spoon, and then covered with a lid that was far too big. I looked at the old cuckoo clock above the archway separating the kitchen from the dining area and noticed that dad would be home from the day shift at McLouth Steel in a matter of minutes.

It was then I noticed momma on her hands and knees, searching one of the bottom cupboards for what was a large bag of egg noodles. These were the basic pseudo-egg noodles and certainly not the ones that hailed from the fancy-schmansy Italian grocer from Oak street.

The lid from the pot was removed, not with a pot holder but with the bottom of her flower imprinted apron and the fire was lowered to nary a simmer. In went the noodles and at the same moment, in came my dad - "Wash up honey, dinner will be ready in 5 minutes" was all I remember, but how could she do It?

I observed her yanking a head of plain iceberg lettuce from the refrigerator crisper and she whacked into sixes with her favorite machete-looking knife. A crisp wedge was plopped on one of those blue painted plates that A&P used to give away. The naked lettuce was topped with a big dollop of Miracle Whip and wisked to the table.

With the soup simmering away, the loaf of Wonder bread was plucked from the tin bread keeper knifed with some oleo margarine that was forever a part of the kitchen table, sprinkled with some Lawry's garlic powder and popped on the broiler rack for a quick toasting.

In five minutes, the kids were beckoned, dad was waiting and dinner was ready. It tasted like momma had slaved over a hot stove all day long.

There is a difference between homemade and canned stock. Institutional soup bases are even more convenient, but when time is as short as the list is as long, nothing nurtures, nothing warms, nothing satisfies and nothing tastes as good as a pot of good soup. Makes some today!

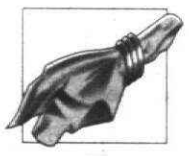
DIABETIC REACTION

families make diet changes for health of it



There's no such thing as a diabetic diet. Cooking for a person with diabetes just means preparing nutritious foods - the type of meals everyone should be eating. Meet some families who have made some healthy adjustments to keep diabetes under control.

BY SANDRA DALKA-PRYSBY
SPECIAL WRITER

When Ann Nordloh of Beverly Hills learned her 8-year-old daughter Catherine had diabetes, she was devastated. She not only worried about how this disease would change her daughter's life, but she was concerned how the rest of the family - her husband and three sons - would adjust to a new way of eating.

"Immediately after the diagnosis, while my daughter was still in the hospital, I attended the required classes to learn how to balance food and insulin to keep the diabetes under control," said Nordloh. "I discovered that some foods, especially those containing high fats and sugars, were poison to Catherine's system, and that I would have to change my way of cooking. I learned that I could no longer turn to canned, boxed and fast foods - all staples of a busy homemaker."

According to Ann, her first trip to the grocery store after completing the classes was a nightmare. "I had to read everything to see if the item contained sugar, salt and/or a high amount of fat," she said. "It took three hours to shop for groceries for a week, compared to my normal 45 minutes. I taught my 5-year-old son Michael how to read the words 'palm oil' so he could help me."

That was six years ago, and now everyone in the Nordloh household has adjusted to Catherine's required food plan. "We all are eating healthy and well," Nordloh said.

"Many of the recipes I acquired specifically for Catherine have become favorites of the whole family. One in particular, an angel food cake with low-fat frozen yogurt, is our traditional birthday cake. I would have never imagined that I would have children who would choose low-fat yogurt over chocolate."

Kathy Koval of Southfield said her family of six is also eating healthy, in part, because of her husband Mike's diabetes. "When we first learned about my husband's diabetes six years ago, I thought all of us would have to eat a bland, boring diet since I didn't want to cook two different meals a night," she said. "Amazingly, the children never noticed a difference because the food choices my husband was allowed were similar to what we had been eating. About the only difference was that we began to eat more of the healthier foods.

"Also, in the beginning I felt that I needed to wear measuring cups on my belt. All I ever did was measure and weigh, measure and weigh. Now I can eyeball proportions so cooking for my husband's special needs is no longer a big deal."

According to Koval, another change was that her food bill went up $70 to $80 a week. "I have to buy the better cuts of meat to assure that they are lower in fat," she said.

Tracy Keller of Farmington Hills agrees that cooking for a person with diabetes just means preparing healthy meals - the type of meals everyone should be eating. "And it means eating on a regular schedule at set times to keep sugar levels in check.

"There's no such thing as a diabetic diet with special diabetic food. It's just the proper selection of healthy foods," she said. Tracy should know! Both she and her husband, Bill, were diagnosed with diabetes at the age of 9. The couple met at the American Diabetes Association, Michigan Affiliate summer camp when both were 16.

CHEF'S SECRETS

Partners cater to customer requests

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Working hard, listening to customers, and providing a quality product at a fair price, are reasons 2 Unique catering and event planning, owned and operated by chefs Vera Ambrose and Kelli Lewton is successful.

Call it coincidence or just luck, but this is a partnership made in heaven: They even share the same birthday, one year apart.

Graduates of Schoolcraft College's culinary arts program in Livonia, Ambrose and Lewton believe it's important to give something back to your community.

They participate in numerous charity events, and recently worked on a cookbook "Women Cook For A Cause," to beneft the Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center Scholarship Fund. The cookbook was published in conjunction with a benefit dinner held on Oct. 24, but copies are still available.

Two of the 50 distinctive recipes in the cookbook are theirs, and Lewton helped test them with chefs Mary Brady and Denise Caudry. Lewton and Brady also styled the photos in the book.

"Women Cook For A Cause," is available for $19.95, plus $3 shipping from: Women's Resource Center, Schoolcraft College, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia, MI 48152-2696. For information, call 462-4443.

Ambrose and Lewton formed 2 Unique in Bloomfield Hills three years ago. For two months they didn't have a name, then someone suggested 2 Unique.

"Our name says a lot, we're unique, we go the extra mile for the customer," said Ambrose. "We take care of everything - food, decorations, linen, plate, and chair rentals, so that you can be a guest at your party. Each day we try to be better. We deal with people one-on-one, we're hands-on owners, we're committed to what we do."

They've catered parties for 10 to 5,000 people. One of them is always on site to make sure things go as planned. They can be reached anytime at 642-5240.

The women were introduced to each other by Chef Richard Benson who retired from Schoolcraft's culinary arts program last year, and something clicked. Ambrose and Lewton said they always knew they wanted to work in the culinary arts field, dreamed of owning a business, but the paths they took to get to where they are today are quite different.

Ambrose, 30, grew up in Bloomfield Hills and earned a degree in hotel restaurant and institutional management from Michigan State University.

The Kellers have two daughters, Anne, 13, and Sarah, 11, who grew up eating sweets and treats like normal children. "Although my husband and I have diabetes, the girls haven't eaten any differently than their friends, maybe just healthier," Tracy Keller said.

She said she takes popular foods and adjusts the recipes so that she and her husband can enjoy them with their girls. For example, for tacos she uses lean ground turkey, lettuce, tomatoes and low-fat cheddar cheese wrapped in soft tortilla shells.

Another popular family treat is low-fat frozen yogurt in between two sugar-free cookies. "There are many good snack foods, including sugar-free sweets and desserts, that we can eat. These same snacks are good for everyone. All that living with diabetes requires is Learning to make the correct choices."

The Kellers positive handling of their disease earned them an honorable mention in the ADA's 1993 "Family of the Year" contest. They were recently highlighted in the organization's publication "Diabates-Forecast."

"The Kellers' award is a nice honor for our state," said Dave Buck, chairman of the ADA, Michigan Affiliate. November is National Diabetes Month, and a good time to learn about this disease that affects thousands each year.

To launch the month, a recreation of the First Thanksgiving will be presented 6 p.m. Friday, November 5, at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth. Tickets are $30 per person, call 453-5375.

"Most everything on the menu can be enjoyed by everyone, including those with diabetes," Buck said.

Buck, a Plymouth resident who has had diabetes for 18 years, said a major aim of the ADA this year is to educate the general public on the use of the term "diabetic."

"We prefer to be known as individuals with diabetes and not as 'diabetics.' We consider this term to be negative and on the same level as the words 'alcoholic' and 'addict.'

"We want to be accepted as 'normal' individuals who just happen to have a disease. We don't want to be set apart," he said.

His wife, Priscilla, added that she has always prepared "normal" food for her husband and family, although she stays away from sauces, gravy and frying.

"Even guests have no idea that they are eating to accommodate Dave's food requirements," she said.

A favorite Buck family dessert is assorted fresh fruit mixed with raisins and nuts, topped with plain yogurt with a dash of honey.

See recipes inside. All are suitable for individuals with diabetes because they are low fat, low salt and sugar free.

"My first job was making sandwiches at a grocery store," she said. "I've always loved to cook."

At 25 she reached a turning point — "I was working at a hotel in Puerto Rico and I asked myself — 'what am I going to do? I was always happiest in the kitchen.' "

She came home, worked a year as a catering supervisor at Zingerman's Deli in Ann Arbor, enrolled in Schoolcraft's Culinary Arts program in 1989, and apprenticed under Chef Ed Janos at Too Chez Restaurant in Novi. She graduated from Schoolcraft in 1990.

Lewton, 29, grew up in Birmingham and graduted from Schoolcraft's Culinary Arts program in 1989. She was an executive chef at Miesel/Sysco before going into business with Ambrose, worked as a sous chef for Master Chef Jeff Gabriel at the American Harvest Restaurant on the Schoolcraft College campus, and at Opus One in Detroit.

What's your philosophy at 2 Unique?

"Presentation is everything, food should look as good as it tastes," said Ambrose. "Hot foods should be served hot, cold foods cold."

"We use fresh foods that are readily available, cooked the natural way," said Lewton. "We cook very nutritionally and sautee foods quick with a little olive oil."

What's on the horizon?

Both women said they want to open a shop that would offer foods to go, catering and cooking classes. "We want to be consultants to help people with their parties," said Ambrose and Lewton. "We want to offer guidance about how much food to buy, to help people help themselves."

Do you have some cooking tips to share?

Both chefs encourage home cooks to view cookbooks as a base of ideas. "People get too locked in," said Lewton. "Recipes are guidelines. Use your own taste and originality. People are afraid of cooking, don't be."

Where do you get your ideas from?

Lewton and Ambrose say they eat out once a week to see what's cooking in the community. "We're constantly educating ourselves," they said. "We get all kinds of magazines. Cooking is a continual growth process."

How do you stuff your stuffing?

We want to know what's — "The Stuff Good Stuffing Is Made Of" for Thanksgiving. Enter our stuffing contest and you could win one of three prizes — a 20-25 pound fresh turkey from Roperti Turkey Farms in Livonia, a $25 gift certificate from Kitchen Glamor, or the newly published "365 Ways to Prepare For Christmas" by David E. Monn.

We're on the lookout for the best stuffing recipe to share with our readers on Nov. 22.

All recipes must be original in nature. All entries must be submitted in typed or handwrittten form and be postmarked no later than 5 p.m. Monday, Nov. 8, for entry into the contest. Include a day time phone number with your entry, and a brief history of the stuffing recipe — it was grandma's recipe, it's been a family favorite for years — you get the idea.

Three finalists will be chosen from all the entries selected. Chef Larry Janes will choose the finalists based on recipe creativity, ingredients, and ease of preparation. The three finalists will be notified no later than 5 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 9.

Finalists will be asked to prepare a single recipe of their stuffing for the judges to Taste.

Send recipes to: Keely Wygonik, Taste/Entertainment Editor, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, Inc., 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI 48150 or fax recipes to 591-7279. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to call Wygonik. 953-2105 or Chef Larry Janes, 953-2045, mail box 1886.

CATHERINE'S BIRTHDAY CAKE

- 1 box angel food cake mix (Duncan Hines)
- 2 packages Dream Whip topping mix
- 1 16-ounce tub Cool Whip
- 2 pints frozen yogurt (the flavor of your choice)
- Food coloring and sugar-free sprinkles (optional)

Prepare cake mix as directed. Let cool. Remove yogurt from freezer to soften. Cut cake into thirds horizontally. Turn top third of cake upside down on plate (make sure plate fits into freezer).

Spread one pint of yogurt on top of this layer. Top with another third of cake. Spread other pint of yogurt on this layer. Top with remaining cake, then place in freezer immediately.

Whip the topping mix and combine with ready-made whipped topping. Add food coloring, if desired. Remove the cake from freezer and frost quickly (yogurt is fast melting). Add sprinkles if desired.

Return to freezer for 20 to 30 minutes. If cake is to be kept in the freezer for a longer period, "tent" cake with toothpicks and plastic wrap. Serves 12.

PEPPERIDGE FARM OVEN-FRIED CHICKEN

- ½ stick margarine
- 2 cups Pepperidge Farm Herb Stuffing Mix
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon water
- Assorted chicken pieces (skin removed)

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Melt margarine in baking pan in oven. Crush stuffing mix in a plastic bag with a rolling pin. Add salt. Beat egg in water. Dip chicken in egg mixture and then coat with stuffing mix, a few pieces at a time, until well coated.

Place chicken (thick side down) in margarine in a single layer. Bake uncovered for 30 minutes, then turn and bake 15 minutes longer. Serves 4.

Recipe submitted by Priscilla Buck

HOT CHOCOLATE

- 1½ tablespoons cocoa
- ¼ to ½ teaspoons salt (optional)
- ½ cup water
- 1½ cups low-fat milk
- ¼ teaspoon liquid sugar substitute

Mix cocoa and salt in pan. Add water. Heat over low temperature. Add milk and sugar substitute. Makes 3 cups.

Recipe submitted by Tracy Keller.

CRANBERRY MUFFINS

- 4 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 eggs
- ⅔ cup skim milk
- 2 tablespoons honey
- 1 cup frozen or fresh cranberries, chopped
- 1 cup whole wheat flour
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Combine all ingredients in a bowl and stir until just moistened. Spoon batter into lightly oiled muffin cups. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 12 muffins.

Recipe submitted by Kathy Koval.

Soups with homemade flavor easy as opening a can

See Chef Larry Janes' column Taste Buds on Taste front.

MOMMA'S CHICKEN NOODLE BROTH

- 2 large (1 quart) cans chicken broth
- ¼ cup dried parsley or ½ cup fresh chopped
- 1 teaspoon white pepper
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 pound uncooked egg noodles

In a large pot, combine broth with parsley, pepper and bay leaf. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat to a simmer and stir in uncooked egg noodles.

Cook, stirring occasionally for 5-7 minutes or until noodles are tender. Remove the bay leaf and serve immediately.

QUICKIE CREAM OF BROCCOLI

- 1 large can (1 quart) chicken broth
- 1 bunch broccoli, cut into flowerettes
- ½ teaspoon onion or garlic powder or a combination of both
- ¼ cup flour or cornstarch
- 1 cup milk, half and half or cream
- 1 healthy dash hot pepper sauce (Tobasco)

In large saucepan, heat broth to boiling. Reduce heat and stir in broccoli and spices. Simmer until broccoli flowerettes are tender, about 10 minutes. Remove pot from heat.

In a separate bowl, add flour and cornstarch and milk. Stir to dissolve flour. Stir in hot pepper sauce. Add a little of the hot soup to the bowl to temper the milk mixture. Whisk in warm milk mixture and continue whisking on low heat for 3-4 minutes or until soup thickens slightly. Do not boil. Serve immediately.

PUMPKIN SOUP

- 1 large pie pumpkin, seeded
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 small clove garlic, finely chopped
- 2 cups chicken stock
- 1 cup canned pumpkin
- ¼ teaspoon fresh grated nutmeg
- 1 cup heavy cream
- salt and pepper to taste

Clean the inside of the pie pumpkin, set aside. In a medium saucepan, heat butter and saute onion and garlic until soft and very fragrant. Stir in chicken stock and canned pumpkin, mix well. Heat over medium heat until heated throughout.

At this point, you can temper with the cream and serve immediately, or you can pour the hot soup mixture inside the pumpkin shell and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Remove from the oven and using a hard spoon, scrape the insides of the pumpkin shell to loosen cooked pumpkin meat. Temper the cream with a little of the hot soup and stir in the nutmeg. Whisk tempered cream into soup inside the pumpkin and mix well. Sprinkle with a little chopped green onion and just a light sprinkling of cinnamon. Serve immediately.

Tuna salad vegetable dish '2 unique

See related story on Taste front.

TUNA SALAD NICOSE

8 cups of greens — bibb, red leaf, curly endive, romaine, spinach and radiccio
Salad garnish
½ cup red onion, thinly sliced
1 cup of artichoke hearts
12 asparagus spears, lightly blanched
1 cup green beans, lightly blanched
2 cups potatoes, roasted in oven, diced
1 red bell pepper, roasted, skinned and julienne
4 4-ounce tuna steaks, rubbed with olive oil, salt and pepper, grilled or sauteed (make sure grill or pan is very, very hot)!
Vinaigrette
6 ounces olive oil
2 teaspoons fresh garlic, crushed
3 ounces red wine vinegar
salt and pepper to taste
Garnish
Nicoise olives, 24 (6 per person) do get extra, there are lots of olive lovers out there
4 tablespoons capers

Arrange greens on large serving platter, then arrange vegetables over greens, then tuna.

In a separate bowl, whisk together vinaigrette ingredients. Ladle dressing over salad and garnish with olives and capers.

Serve with a loaf of freshly baked sour dough bread, warmed.

Chef's note: There are no strict recipes for this famous salad — ingredients depend on what vegetables are in season so feel free to be creative. High quality olive oil, red win vinegar, garlic and olives, preferably nicoises or nicoises-type are a must!

Recipe submitted by Vera Ambrose.

BISTRO VEGETABLES

3 large carrots, cut in ½-inch slices
1 yellow squash, cut in 1-inch slices
1 zucchini, cut in 1-inch slices
1 red onion (small) cut in large strips
2 pounds redskin potoatoes, quartered
1 red pepper, cut in ½-inch strip
1 tablespoon roasted garlic
1 tablespoon pesto
1 teaspoon black pepper
2 teaspoons onion powder
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
4 ounces olive oil

Clean and prepare vegetables. Toss with above seasonings, herbs and oil. Roast at 400 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes until brown and crisp on top.

Makes a great side dish or rustic peasant entree.

Recipe submitted by Kelli Lewton.

Busy days cry out for snappy suppers

On busy days when there's no time to cook, single-skillet suppers can save the day. Easy to prepare and a snap at cleanup, they're midweek menu mainstays for many active people.

Two new single-skillet recipes from home economists at Uncle Ben's, Inc. will streamline the way to family-pleasing suppers. Ready to serve in about half an hour, each recipe relies on a package of Uncle Ben's Country Inn Recipe rice dishes.

The rice dishes require only the addition of water to prepare because of a carefully selected mixture of vegetables and seasonings, with no artificial flavors, already included in the box. Combined with meat, seafood or poultry and a few easy additions, they become great-tasting dinners in short order.

Crab Louis Rice Au Gratin was inspired by the West Coast favorite Crab Louis salad. The quick combination of Country Inn Recipes Broccoli Rice Au Gratin, imitation crab meat, hard-cooked eggs and shredded lettuce is "dressed" with mayonnaise and can be enjoyed warm or chilled.

Herbed Rice Au Gratin combined with ground beef, onion, tomato and garlic makes another single-skillet dinner favorite. A last-minute sprinkling of cheddar cheese completes the homey dish.

For additional recipes that take little time to prepare, write for a complimentary copy of "Great-Tasting, Good-For-You Meals." Send name and address to: Uncle Ben's Country Inn Recipes, P.O. Box 11166, Chicago, IL 60611. Offer good while supplies last.

CRAB LOUIS RICE AU GRATIN

1 package (4.5 ounces) Uncle Ben's Country Inn Recipes Broccoli Rice Au Gratin
1 pound imitation crab meat chunks
4 cups shredded lettuce
2 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Thinly sliced green bell pepper rings
Sliced black olives

Cook rice according to package directions; cool slightly. Add remaining ingredients except green pepper and olives; mix well. Serve immediately or chilled, as desired, garnished with green pepper and olives. Makes 4 servings.

Skillet supper: Crab Louis Rice Au Gratin is a single-skillet supper with fabulous flavor and no-fuss preparation.

BEEF AND HERBED RICE SKILLET SUPPER

½ pound lean ground beef
½ cup chopped onion
2 teaspoons minced garlic
¾ teaspoon seasoned salt
1 package (5.1 ounces) Uncle Ben's Country Inn Recipes Herbed Rice Au Gratin
1-⅓ cups water
1 cup chopped tomato
¼ cup (1 ounce) shredded cheddar cheese

In 10-inch skillet, brown ground beef with onion, garlic and salt; drain. Add rice, contents of seasoning packet, water and tomato; mix well. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 20 minutes; remove from heat. Sprinkle with cheese. Cover and let stand 5 minutes. Makes 2 servings.

Explore the West by native art

I'm always on the lookout for unusual multicultural gift ideas, those eye-catching, handcrafted treasures that define trends and turn yesterday's fads into today's must-have collectibles. This week, I scouted two special shops for wonderful ethnic designs — Native West in Plymouth and Que Pasa in Birmingham.

Native American adornment is enjoying renewed popularity and its appeal is wide-ranging. The explanation for this burgeoning market is simple: Indian crafts are devoted to good luck, spirituality and a oneness with nature.

This earthy vitality radiates from small Navajo silver jewelry pieces called Rock Kritters, available exclusively at Native West, 863 W. Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth. The rings, pendants, pins and earrings are interpretations of ancient pictographs found in the cave dwellings of the Southwest.

Each animated Kritter is handcrafted and inlaid with semiprecious stones, and each comes with an explanation of its symbolism. Snooks, for example, is the baby flute player who brings protection to all of Mother Earth's little ones. Macho Man is the strongest and possesses the greatest physical power among men of his clan. Prices range from $25-$480.Native West gallery exhibits clay art featuring Acoma, Santa Clara, Navajo and Jemez pottery. Here you can see the works of world famous potter, Maria of the San Ildefonso Pueblo. Owner Annette Horn presents finely detailed sandpaintings by Navajo artists Chester Begay and Alberta Tsosie on Nov. 6 and 7. They will demonstrate their artform in the shop. Also featured are handwoven rugs, fetishes, kachinas and pine furniture. Cherokee artist Bill Rabbit will make a special appearance at the store's Holiday Art and Jewelry Festival Dec. 10-12. Beth Stewart, from the Plymouth Historical Museum, stopped by to admire the Indian pottery and couldn't resist a pair of delicate silver earrings. "I love silver jewelry," she confessed.

Happy shopping

Be assured that when you visit Native Nest you will cross the threshold with good feelings and thoughts. The shop accepts those who are pure of heart, mind and soul, as it has been blessed by Deacon Edwin Poulin, a Native American Sundancer.

For colorful hand painted ceramics, woven textiles and wooden folk art from Mexico, visit the newly opened Que Pasa, 151 S. Bates in Birmingham. The vibrant and eclectic window displays Huichol Indian art, including hollowed gourds beaded in intricate designs. The beads are dipped in beeswax and applied to the gourd's surface with porcupine needles. Also seen in the window are ceremonial masks, etched gourds and native stone jewelry.Nillie Strong opened her shop after vacationing with her family in Mexico and falling in love with the native crafts. She has scoured the countryside for the finest examples of Mexican artforms, and her shop echoes their lively spirit, a fiesta for the eyes.

Holiday gift giving is a cinch when you can choose from handpainted ceramic pitchers, bowls and vases that depict fanciful fish, flowers, fruit and people; or pre-Columbian clay artifacts; metal, ceramic and leather floor sculptures; Baja jackets and blankets; and beaded ornaments. Worry dolls, friendship bracelets and noisemakers are ideal stocking stuffers.

Linda Bachrack is a Birmingham resident. You can leave her column ideas at 953-2047, or fax them to her at 644-1314.

LOOKING AHEAD

What to watch for in Malls & Mainstreets next week:

- Jacobson's celebrates 125 years as a retail business.
- Kids learn their P's and Q's at a special seminar.
- Linda Bachrack shops for one-of-a-kind wonderfuls.
- Added Attractions previews holiday events at the malls.

Catalogs are their business

■ Catalogs are stores on paper. You open the pages and shop, shop, shop. And catalog sales are big business — just ask the Farmington Hills advertising agency that has made catalog-creating their specialty. Here's a look inside operations at Group SAA Limited.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

All the leaves are brown, and the sky is gray. Went out for a walk, before winter's ways. I'd be safe and warm, if I ordered a tray — Catalog Dreamin' on such an autumn day

Ordered a tray!

Oh yes! It's on Page 43 of the you-pick-it housewares catalog and it's sooo neat. It's deep, hunter green. Looks real sturdy. Caption says it's made from laminated wood. There's a steaming hot cup of cocoa and a slice of apple pie on the tray in the picture. It's only $25. Comes in two sizes. Matches the green in the family room couch. I've got to have it. Where's that toll-free number for ordering?

And so another happy catalog shopper is born.

"That's the way we do it," laughed Steve Simon, president of Group SAA Limited, a Farmington Hills-based ad agency that has made its $5-million niche producing catalogs for specialty retailers.

"We make the product look so good, it sells right off the pages. We have to. Direct-mail catalogs must provide the consumer with all the information necessary to purchase a product. Color photographs must be true to the color of the product and the written copy must accurately and vividly describe the merchandise."

But Simons and his staff of 32, which includes art and creative directors, office and customer service personnel, take their catalogs a step beyond raw merchandising. Some of their catalogs manage to include humor, whimsy and informative narrations that assure these booklets make their way to the coffee table for further perusal.

This year, Simons and staff will produce 98 full-color catalogs for companies like Morley's Candymakers, The University of Michigan Athletic Department, The Uniform Group, The Coffee Beanery, Barron's, Phoenix Big and Tall Menswear, and Miller's, an equestrian's shopping paradise, to name a few.

Many of the catalogs are shot at luscious locations like Michigan's own Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island or the Hotel del Coronado on Coronado Island near San Diego.

Retailers like Hudson's plans

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

News that Hudson's is pumping renovation dollars into its four older stores is music to retailing ears.

The stores at Eastland in Harper Woods, Southland in Taylor, Westland in Westland, and Northland in Southfield will be remodeled in soft, pale colors and departments will be expanded and updated to customer demand beginning in January.

"We're thrilled by the plans," said Cathy O'Malley, manager of Northland Center. "We require all our tenants to renovate before their leases are renewed, and Hudson's is doing what all retailers need to do periodically. It's exciting. Shoppers should be pleased."

And they are.

"I'm so glad they are going to modernize that Northland store," said Ruby Little of Southfield. "It's my favorite Hudson's and I was worried that they might close it when I saw all the warehouse items on the selling floor recently. The store has such a great selection of merchandise."

John Evans of Westland said so much is happening in the retail world these days, it's hard to keep up. "Every time you turn around, there's a new store coming in or an old favorite going out," he said. "I'm retired and I like to walk around the malls for exercise. It's sure not boring."

Westland's marketing director, Claudia Frederick, said the entire mall is excited over Hudson's plans. "It guarantees us that they will continue to be a tenant here," she said. "There is a customer base that is a strength for Hudson's here. Hudson's improvements will improve the overall look of the center and that's great news."

Chris Morrisroe, Hudson's spokeswoman, said the renovation plans should squash any rumors that the Northland store would become an outlet center or even close down. "If anything," she said, "Hudson's is growing and expanding. While many departments will increase in size, no existing departments will be eliminated. The extra floor space will come from unnecessary storage areas."

The biggest improvements will come to the cosmetics, women's accessories and women's shoes departments. Hudson's is ready to compete with all the retailing newcomers to these categories.

At the Northland store, Women's World will double and move into the fourth floor. Textiles moves to the lower level to complete the home store collection. A Candy Shop will debut on the main floor. The Coat and Dress Departments will be expanded by 55 percent.

At the Westland Store, the Moderate Sportswear Department will grow by 58 percent. Tabletop increases by 80 percent. Women's World will add 75 percent more space to the selling floor. Coats/Swim departments will grow by 85 percent.

At the Southland store, Petites will get 50 percent more space, Career Collections will increase by more than 80 percent, Tabletop will be totally reset and Update Collections will increase by 20 percent.

At the Eastland store, the Candy Shop will be introduced and increases will take place in the Dresses, Moderate Sportswear and Tabletop areas.

Last spring, Hudson's announced plans to renovate its Summit Place store in Waterford and these changes are almost complete.

The Oakland Mall store was renovated in 1992. A new "upscale" Hudson's is planned for the Somerset North Collection at Big Beaver and Coolidge in Troy. Construction will begin next year.

are shot at luscious locations like Michigan's own Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island or the Hotel del Coronado on Coronado Island near San Diego.

"A catalog costs about $50,000 or $60,000 to produce," Simons explained. "And most of the work is done on computer, which saves time and money. Our computer system gives us a competitive edge with faster turnaround time, advanced proofing techniques and more innovative design capabilities.

"I also have a staff willing to work the hours it takes to make deadlines and get the job done. That's why I think we've been so successful. It's that Midwest work ethic. National companies are discovering what hard workers we are here."

Simons' own hard work and energy built Group SAA, Ltd. from a one-man ad agency founded by Simon in 1975 into the multimillion company it has become. Simon grew up in Oak Park, graduated from Southfield High School in 1970 and studied business in college for two years.

"But I left school because I couldn't wait to get out in the world and start my own company," he recalled. "At 20 years old, I was the nation's youngest ad agency president. Experience is the best school."

Simons, his wife Diane, and two children, live in West Bloomfield. Diane is the third step in a three-point proofing process that works to ensure accuracy and clarity in catalog copy.

Simons fell into producing catalogs as a special favor to some clients and then realized he had a knack for the work. He takes pride in never missing a deadline and never coming in over budget. His client list grows as the sales figures rise from the catalogs in circulation.

According to the publication "Statistical Abstracts," catalog sales in the U.S topped 4.7 billion in 1989 and 1990. In 1991, catalog sales fell slightly to $4.5 billion.

It doesn't hurt that the catalog industry itself is on a hot streak. The industry expects catalog use to continue through the decade as an alternative to traditional shopping for busy Americans.

Besides not every retailer wants or needs space on the selling floor. Through their almost historical catalogs, retailers like L.L. Bean and Williams and Sonoma, have customers in more places than they could ever hope to open stores.

An example of the clever soft sell that may be Group SAA's trademark, professional actors were used to shoot the Uniforms by Mindy catalog for restaurants and hotels. It's hard to get excited about waitstaff attire, but the Group SAA staff spiced up the catalog with mini theatrical scenes of amourous-looking chefs, waitresses with stems of roses clenched in their teeth, and matronly diners being pinched by vengeful lobsters. The president of the uniform company, Jay Gerwit of Norcross, Ga., was delighted with the results.

Right now, the crew is working on a Morley's Candy catalog. The chocolate-pecan-caramel turtles picture took five hours to set up and is ready to shoot at last. The candy spills out of the box from two directions and silk ivy vines fill-in the background.

"Chocolate is difficult to shoot," explained Julie Cummings, an art director. "There are all kinds of little tricks you can use to make it look inviting. One is to wait until it starts to melt a bit so it's glistening and very moist-looking."

Since "the photos sell the product," the tempting photos of nuts and candies overflowing from colorful tins and packages in the Kar's Holiday Nut Catalog will mean big sales this season.

"Oh definitely," said Michelle Novak, of Kar's. "The pictures in this catalog are the best ever! I dare you to look through the book without ordering something!"

All the leaves are brown, and the sky is gray. I'll take the Trio of Treats Tin on the 15th page

Hudson's 21st store was opened in 1992 in Traverse City. Female shoppers have long lamented that it's difficult to shop in Hudson stores because the clothing departments are located on several different floors. The improvements planned for the stores address this complaint.

Over 500,000 square feet of space will be affected by the remodeling projects. Business will go on as usual during the renovations. Northland Hudson's was built in 1954 and is Hudson's oldest and largest store. Eastland debuted in 1956, Westland in 1965 and Southland in 1970.

Bridges, roads ice up on chilly mornings

Drivers should beware of bridges on chilly fall mornings, according to the Michigan Department of Transportation. Even when roadways are ice-free, the weather creates optimum conditions for a coating of frost and ice to form on bridges.

M-DOT traffic engineers offer these suggestions for improving safety while crossing bridges this fall:

- During early morning and evening hours, it's wise to assume a bridge may be icy. "Bridge May Be Icy" signs will help identify bridge locations.
- Be prepared to lower your speed on bridges.
- Be especially cautious crossing bridges on curved highways. It is more difficult to control your vehicle if the bridge is icy on curved roadways.
- Avoid hitting brakes too hard or making "panic stops," which may cause a car to skid. Pump brakes to reduce speed.
- Always wear safety belts. They save lives and help prevent serious injury.

Attendance, income up at Detroit Zoo

Nearly half the one million visitors to the Detroit Zoo paid an additional $2.50 to walk through Dinosauria, which featured more than 20 life-sized, prehistoric creatures. The Detroit Zoo is approaching business from a whole new perspective.

Since January, some 489,000 visited Dinosauria, which zoo officials call "super popular." These figures add up to a 40-percent increase in zoo attendance and a gross total of $1.7 million from Dinosauria alone.

The zoo, on Woodward at I-696 in Royal Oak, plus Detroit's Belle Isle Zoo and Aquarium, which attracted 200,000, drew more than 1.2 million visitors. That makes the Detroit Zoological Parks one of Michigan's top five tourism attractions in 1993.

"The success of Dinosauria means a new way of doing business at the zoo," said Chuck Hammond, executive director of the Detroit Zoological Society, the private fund-raising arm of the city of Detroit-owned zoo.

"It proves that creative, market-driven entrepreneurship can leverage new resources and support. The knowledge we gained this year will serve as a bedrock for future, large-scale projects."

Chiefs win division title

Plymouth Canton won its third-straight Western Division championship and fourth in the last five years Thursday with a 68-25 win over Livonia Franklin in girls swimming.

The meet was rescheduled from Tuesday and took place at Novi High School where the Patriots also had a dual meet with the host Wildcats.

Canton coach Hooker Wellman rested many of his top swimmers and allowed other team members to contribute to the championship effort.

"It was good for them to get in the meet and good for the other kids who have to swim next week to rest a little bit," Wellman said. "It looks like we're ready for the conference meet; we just need a little more rest."

Canton's Amy Sonnanstine was a double winner in the 200-yard freestyle (2:17.07) and the 500 freestyle (6:08.73).

Susan Pritchard won the butterfly (1:07.25) and helped the Chiefs win the 200 and 400 freestyle relays.

Kelly Larsen, Lybra Lindke, Joslyn Cruz and Pritchard went 1:52.74 in the 200, and the 400 time of 3:56.06 was a combined effort from Pritchard, Jill Mellis, Lindke and Larsen.

Sara Larson won the 100 freestyle (59.18) and joined Erica Pendergrass, Jill Barnes and Jessica Orleman to win the medley relay (2:04.82).

Canton's other winners were Mellis, individual medley (2:16.49); Suzan Daoust, 50 freestyle (27.94); and Brooke Larson, diving (200.45).

The Chiefs posted a 4-0-1 record in the Western Division and were 9-2-1 overall.

Salem swimmers win dual

With the Western Lakes Activities Association meet on the minds of many Plymouth Salem swimmers Thursday, the Rocks were still able to even their dual meet record at 4-4 with a 115-71 victory over visiting Farmington.

"We had a lot of people swim tonight, and it turned out to be a fun meet for us," Salem coach Chuck Olson said. "Everybody was thinking about next week's conference meet, but we still turned in some good swims."

The highlight for Salem was the school-record performance in diving by Alysia Sofios, who scored 251.95 points.

Kellyann Williams turned in several strong swims as she won the 50-yard freestyle in 26.98, and swam on the winning medley relay team with Yvonne Lynn, Amy Parry and Sara Casillas (2:03.14). Williams, Mandi Ras, Melanie Bosse and Andrea Bien won the 200 freestyle relay in 1:48.19.

Other Salem winners were Carey Hyatt, breast stroke (1:19.59); Jenny Werthman, individual medley (2:32.71); Bien, 200 freestyle (2:09.82); Lynn, backstroke (106.21); Bosse, 100 freestyle (59.67); and Hayley Meik, 500 freestyle (5:57.53).

Farmington firsts were turned in by freshman Anne Marie Scanio in the butterfly (2:06.23) and the 400 freestyle relay team of Scanio, Jill Benivegna, Colleen Hoy and Adrienne Perry (4:09.99).

The WLAA swimming prelims start at 1 p.m. Wednesday, the diving prelims 2:30 p.m. Thursday and the finals 6 p.m. Friday. The competition takes place at Salem each day.

College soccer stars

Kalamazoo College wrapped up another Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Associaion women's soccer title with last week's 10-1 rout of Alma. The Hornets are 8-1 in the MIAA, 13-3 overall, thanks in large part to senior striker Jennifer Russell (from Plymouth Canton). Russell leads the MIAA in goals (19), assists (nine) and total points (47).

■ The University of Detroit-Mercy women continue to surprise. They were 11-3-2 overall, 2-1-2 in the Midwestern Collegiate Conference, in their first season. Freshman keeper Jori Welchans (Plymouth Canton) has helped keep them near the top of the MCC; Welchans is second in the conference in goals-against average (0.99).

Michigan cross country

The highly regarded University of Michigan women's cross country team warmed up for last Saturday's Big Ten Championship meet by performing quite well at the Eastern Michigan University Invitational Oct. 22, led by freshman Emily Shively (North Farmington).

Shively was U-M's top finisher, placing 10th in a personal-best time of 19:16.

Among the U-M men, all finished among the top-25 at the meet, with redshirt freshman Ryan Burt (Plymouth/Dearborn Divine Child) leading the Wolverines with a seventh-place finish in a personal-best 25:34.

New baseball coach

Olivet College has hired a new baseball coach: Dennis Shaw, a graduate of Plymouth Salem High School and Olivet.

Shaw earned his bachelor's degree from Olivet in 1988 and has been an admissions representative at the college for the past three years.

He has also served as assistant baseball coach for the past three years under Dominic Livedoti, formerly of West Bloomfield, who resigned as football and baseball coach at Olivet in August.

Rocks repeat as district champions

■ SOCCER

From teetering near the tank to taking the trophy, Plymouth Salem has made amends for some subpar performances earlier in the season.

The Rocks carted off another boys soccer district title, downing Novi 4-1 Saturday in the final at Northville High School. Sophomore midfielder Ronny Mashni notched two goals; junior forwards Doug Herriman and Joe MacInnis had the others.

Salem (12-6-2) meets Livonia Stevenson (15-1-3) at 7 p.m. Wednesday in a first-round regional match at Ann Arbor Pioneer. The Spartans clipped crosstown rival Livonia Franklin 2-0 Friday in their district final.

Stevenson beat Salem 2-0 earlier this season. That might seem rather irrelevant going into Wednesday's match, though.

"They're the same kind of team as (Livonia) Churchill and we did all right in preparing for them," said Plymouth Salem coach Ken Johnson, whose team upset the Chargers 2-1 Wednesday. "We've strengthened our defense since then. We're moving the ball up front now and we have speed up front.

"We're happy right now."

Johnson might have had the look of a poker player who has bluffed through a pack of Las Vegas card sharks after the game Saturday. The Rocks were 2-3-1 at the start of the season, but that might have been a mirage for unsuspecting opponents.

The Wildcats (15-4-1) were left stranded from the opening whistle.

Salem scored within minutes with Herriman getting ahold of a bouncing ball off a throw-in and nodding it in.

Junior midfielder Scot Buczek did one better. He maneuvered around a Novi defender, cradling the ball on his foot and lofting a delicate cross to MacInnis. MacInnis headed the pass downward, colliding with a Wildcat player in the process.

"They work well together," Johnson said of the Buczek-MacInnis tandem.

MacInnis' goal came with 16 minutes left in the half, but Novi quickly answered back.

Wildcat defender Youichi Matsunago launched a Herculian throw-in that skidded in front of the net. Novi's Kevin Sitts nudged it over the goal line to pull the Wildcats to within one, 2-1.

Mashni, who led a charmed existence in front of the net Saturday, collected the first of two goals with two minutes left in the first half. The sophomore pounced on a rebound when the Novi keeper bobbled a free kick from 20 yards out.

Mashni, standing in front of the net, later redirected a pinpoint pass from sophomore midfielder Andy Makins with 19 minutes left in the match. The goal provided the only highlight of an otherwise tedious second half.

Herriman's early tally obviously set the tone.

"I think we might have been a little nervous and intimidated by them," said Novi coach Larry Christoff. "I told them, 'If we can just hold them for the first 10 minutes . . . ' They just beat us to the ball. It was as simple as that."

Said Johnson: "I thought in the first half we gave a clinic. We were moving the ball really well."

Salem's next riddle will be how to contain a swift Stevenson side, which has not been scored upon in postseason play. Johnson admits the Spartans are fast, but the Rocks might have an advantage in the air with a taller team.

Since meeting Stevenson, Salem has bolstered its back line with freshman defender Chris Curry, to go along with experienced players such as junior Trevor Pruett, senior Brad Jaskolski and junior Mike Kley.

Rocks win: Salem coach Tom Moshimer and his players had reason to celebrate Friday night after the Rocks came from behind in the second half to defeat Plymouth Canton 23-22. Salem scored with 1:37 remaining and converted the two points to give them the victory in the season finale.

Salem rally shocks Canton, 23-22

■ FOOTBALL

Nobody could remember a more exciting Salem-Canton football game; nobody cared if there had been when it was over Friday night.

For the Rocks, this was it, having rallied from a 15-point halftime deficit to defeat favored Plymouth Canton 23-22 after a touchdown drive late in the game.

Salem's victory extended the home-team winning streak to seven-straight years. The rivals have alternated wins since 1987. Both teams finish with 5-4 records.

"That has to go down as a great comeback," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer, whose team trailed 22-7 at halftime. "I don't know how long it's been since I've been this emotional. I'm an extremely happy man right now.

"It was all emotion. Our kids played this game with intensity and played it the way the game is supposed to be played."

The winning drive began at the Salem 25-yard line with 6:47 left in the game. It took the Rocks 14 plays (all running) and just over five minutes to reach the Canton end zone.

Senior Jay Perko ran the last 18 yards for the touchdown to get Salem within a point, 22-21. Perko burst up the middle, sidetstepped a defender at the goal line and lunged into the end zone with 1:37 on the clock.

"I just ran; I just kept moving, hoping," Perko said. "I didn't see anything; I just ran."

Two-point conversion

The Rocks chose to try and win the game with a two-point conversion, and senior fullback Rob Shepley drove across the goal to put Salem ahead for the first time.

"I gave them a choice of two plays, and the kids called it in the huddle," Moshimer said. "They wanted to give it to Shepley; they said it was unanimous.

"He's 230 pounds, but I was concerned about fatigue. But he rose to the occasion. He's the only player to play four years on the varsity for me in 27 years. He had a great career here, and this was a great way to end it."

A double-overtime loss in the previous game weighed on Moshimer's mind and had a role in his decision to go for two points.

"I wasn't going to kick it and put these kids through overtime again," he said. "Even though they have a good defense, I thought the momentum was with us and we could put it in the end zone. If I had any doubts, I would have kicked it, and we have a great kicker (Mike Kley)."

The Rocks were in control the entire second half, shutting down a Canton offense that moved the ball effectively on the ground in the first half and scored on its first three possessions.

The Chiefs never punted in the first half but had six second-half drives end with four punts, a fumble and a missed 52-yard field goal attempt by Jeff Fliss on the last play of the game.

"Our kids were going to sit on 22 points, and they were coming after us to top 22," Canton coach Bob Khoenle said. "We lost our fire; they got the momentum.

"They thought they had the game won at 22-7. I could sense it coming, but we just couldn't seem to stop it. We couldn't get the kids' attention to rise above it.

WLAA playoffs next challenge for Chiefs

Plymouth Canton finished the Western Lakes Activities Association round-robin girls basketball schedule Thursday with an 11-0, first-place record.

The Chiefs followed their victory Tuesday over unbeaten Livonia Stevenson with a 47-35 defeat of visiting Northville.

Top-seeded Canton, ranked No. 3 in the state and 16-1 overall, begins the WLAA playoffs Thursday at home against Livonia Franklin, the No. 8 seed.

Northville, no doubt having scouted the Chiefs in their 65-51 win over Stevenson and seen how dominant Canton was on the backboards, was prepared to five the Chiefs a good game.

With only an 8-6 lead in the first quarter, the Chiefs outscored Northville 13-5 in the second period and had a 26-24 edge in the second half.

"I thought we played a little soft and tentative," Canton coach Bob Blohm said. "Northville played a tough zone and sagged back inside. That made it tough to get a shot inside.

"Northville was not the least bit intimidated. They played a nice game. We didn't get many second shots."

Britta Anderson had 15 points and nine rebounds for Canton, Erica Anderson eight points and 13 rebounds. Alyson Noune tossed in 11 points and Sarah Warnke 10.

Samantha Leger scored 12 of her game-high 17 points in the second half for the Mustangs, 3-9 in the conference and and 6-11 overall.

■ SALEM 63, GLENN 32: The Rocks gained a tie for third place in the WLAA girls basketball standings Thursday with their win at Westland John Glenn.

Salem finished 8-3 in the WLAA but lost a tiebreaker to Farmington Hills Harrison for the No. 3 playoff seed because of an earlier loss.

The Rocks will play host to Walled Lake Central in the first round of the playoffs Thursday, and the winner will meet either Canton or Franklin in the second round.

Senior Lisa Craven and sophomore Shellye Sills scored 12 points apiece to lead Salem, and junior Liz Erickson added 10.

Junior Kelly Lukasik played another excellent floor game for the Rocks and had nine assists, and Sills led the team in rebounding with eight.

Salem began the season with little varsity experience but has compiled a winning record of 10-7. Glenn coach Pat Bennett spoke of the improvement Salem has made since the teams first played.

"Our team has been one of continuous growth and development," Salem coach Fred Thomann said. "We've steadily gotten better as the season went on, and we're playing fairly decent basketball."

Shawn Krause scored 14 points for the Rockets, 1-10 and 2-11.

Top rusher: Senior Brian Neal played a key role in Salem's 23-22, come-from-behind victory Friday, rushing for 86 of his game-high 99 yards in the decisive second half.

CC wins league, misses playoffs

BY STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

As far as the Redford Catholic Central football team is concerned, the 1993 season ended in the right place at the wrong time.

The Shamrocks finished an aganozing weekend and haunted Halloween night with a 35-0 victory over Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher Sunday for the Catholic League championship at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Despite an 8-1 overall record, CC failed to qualify for the Class AA playoffs and won't be able to return to the Silverdome to defend its state championship. The Shamrocks have reached the state final five of the last six years, winning twice.

Dearborn Fordson, which ended the regular season with Friday's 38-21 win over Harper Woods Notre Dame, qualified for the fourth and last playoff position in Region III with an 8-1 record, .237 ahead of fifth-place CC, according to CC athletic director Bob Santello.

What made the news harder to accept was that Santello received unofficial word over the telephone during the fourth quarter from the Michigan High School Athletic Association that the Shamrocks were in the playoffs. The Shamrocks allowed only 21 points in nine games and Sunday's shutout was their sixth of the season.

"We always plan on ending our season in the dome," said CC linebacker Tate Dobbs, one of six Shamrocks on the All-Catholic team. "We saw our season slowly diminishing this weekend and the seniors treated this as the state championship.

"The coaches said to us that we're the best defense they've ever had and definitely carried on the 'Brick Wall' tradition."

"We know there's a couple teams in Class AA breathing sighs of relief that we're not in," CC two-way lineman Doug Brzezinski said.

CC ended five of its six possessions with touchdowns and gained 413 total yards while holding Gallagher to 144 total yards and only two first downs after halftime, one on a CC penalty.

Senior quarterback Barry Lingelbach completed five-of-six passes for 66 yards, including a 19-yard TD pass to Matt Ambroziak. Lingelbach also scored on a pair of quarterback sneaks and sophomore fullback John Spolsky and junior running back John McHale had one rushing TD each.

CC senior tailback Freddie Taylor had 153 yards on 17 carries and Spolsky finished with 82 yards on 14 carries. CC's defense finished with four sacks, one each by Joe Walsh, Andy Shortt, Nick Kallas and Ryan Kato.

The only discouragement, besides the playoff snub for CC coach Tom Mach, was an uncharacteristically high 10 penalties. CC's only loss came in September to Toledo St. Francis, 7-0.

"A lot of tears were shed because this is the end; it's probably the first victory we've cried after," said Mach, who did not fault the playoff system. "But at least we can say that we had another team that could have won the state if we got in. At the end of the year, if they say we're in, I go. I'm a football coach, not a mathematician."

Gallagher drove to CC's 12 early in the second quarter after a fake punt produced a 50-yard reception to wide receiver Raymond Curry but a 30-yard field goal attempt was wide right. The Lancers reached the Shamrocks' 13 on their next possession before consecutive quarterback sacks put Gallagher out of field goal position.

Gallagher coach George Sahadi said the Shamrocks deserve a playoff berth.

"They didn't lose to a team from the state of Michigan," he said.

"Our kids played a good game, but you have to play a good game for four quarters. You can't sit back and coast when the other team is coming after you."

Neal has big game

Salem had 152 of its 224 rushing yards in the second half, and senior tailback Brian Neal was the leader with 86 of his 99 total. Neal had five of his 21 carries on the winning drive.

Shepley added 59 yards on 17 attempts and scored the other TDs on runs of 2 and 1 yard. Perko had 46 yards on six carries.

The Rocks held Canton to just 4 yards rushing and 46 total in the second half, and they outgained the Chiefs 250-197 overall.

"They were bigger than us and they have a great offensive line," Moshimer said. "But our defense dominated in the second half.

"Their defense has been stopping people all year, but we drove the ball down the field in the second half."

Moshimer credited defensive coaches Jim Jarvey, Tom Garrett and Tom Alles for a second-half adjustment that helped stop Canton. The Rocks played three linebackers inside and moved their ends outside.

"It gave them a chance to read better and fly to the ball," Moshimer said. "We had a little success with it in the first half. We started to go to it more and then we stayed with it."

The Chiefs punted from deep in their own end late in the third quarter, and Salem had to go just 38 yards for its second TD.

After the Rocks got a first down at the 5, Canton made a goal-line stand until Shepley scored from the 1 on fourth down. He also ran for the two points to make it 22-15 at 11:10 in the fourth quarter.

Salem forced a punt and got the ball again at midfield with 10:16 to play. The Rocks didn't let a fumble and an offsides penalty that gave Canton a first down deflate their momentum and were determined to reach the end zone again when they got the ball at 6:47.

Chiefs take charge

The Chiefs didn't have to pass in the first half as they rushed for 120 of their 156 first-half total. Eric Arnold had 51 yards and Lenny Gardner 34.

Quarterback Brett Elledge (6-16-73) completed four passes to Tim Moritz for 39 yards and two to Ryan Ostach for 34 on the final desperation drive in the fourth quarter.

Moritz caught a 13-yard pass for Canton's first TD and Arnold ran 3 yards for the second, and the Chiefs led 14-0 early in the second period.

Canton's only mistake of the first half was a fumbled punt that Salem recovered at the Canton 28 and led to Shepley's first TD.

But the Chiefs delivered what could easily have been the knockout punch, faking a field goal and scoring a TD with 1:12 left in the first half. Scott Valimont, the holder for Fliss, ran 14 yards but fumbled at the 10; however, Ostach scooped up the loose ball and carried it into the end zone. Valimont ran for the two points and a 22-7 lead.

"The kids were coming off the ball and doing a good job of blocking (in the first half)," Khoenle said. "But they get 22 points and stop doing it, because they think they're going to win the ballgame."

"We told them we were down by this point margin to Farmington and came back to score 41 points," said Moshimer of the halftime discussion in the Salem locker room, "Granted, this is a better team, and it's going to take everything you have but it can happen."

Spartans gain regional berth with 2-0 win over Patriots

BY LARRY O'CONNOR

■ SOCCER

Livonia Stevenson had jurisdiction on the backline, possessed the deed to midfield, and more importantly, staked a claim in front of the net.

In other words, the Spartans are going to the regionals. They shut down Livonia Franklin, 2-0, Friday in the Class A boys soccer district final at Southfield High.

Stevenson (15-1-3) meets the winner of the Plymouth Salem-Novi district final in the first round of regional play.

The Spartans, who are still euphoric after a draw a few weeks ago against powerhouse Detroit Country Day, are charging through post-season play.

The team has yet to be scored on, also shutting out Redford Catholic Central 1-0 and Farmington Hills Harrison 6-0 along the way.

While all eyes are focused on No.-1 ranked Troy, Stevenson could be a prime suspect to pull off a few upsets.

"We're better at surprising than those nights we're supposed to play better than the other team," said Stevenson coach Walt Barrett. "We need a grisly dog to look at."

On Friday, though, Franklin had little bite.

Senior defender Chris Grodzicki and sophomore midfielder Jeff Urbats collected the Spartan goals. Grodzicki nodded in the first one in the 30th minute to give Stevenson a 1-0 lead at intermission.

No doubt Barrett appreciated the goal-scoring. But he was sending praise to midfield, and to one player in particular.

"On a night when I thought my offense was a little sluggish, Anthony Vettraino sparked the midfield," Barrett said.

Vettraino's passes were made with pace and precision.

One through ball with Vettraino's signature on it found Urbats racing into the middle. Urbats hammered a low shot to the right corner of the net for Stevenson's second tally in the 46th minute.

The goal sealed Franklin's fate. The Patriots were forced to push up, but barely mounted any offensive threat.

Franklin lost leading scorer senior forward Victor Rodopoulos in the first half with a broken nose.

"It was unfortunate Victor got hurt," Barrett said. "We expected an onslaught in the second half with him leading the way.

That didn't help, but Franklin started off sluggishly and never got untracked. Franklin coach Mary Kay Hussey knew it.

"They (Stevenson) went hard to the ball in the first half," said Hussey, whose first season concludes at 8-7-2.

As for the team's apparent lack of emotion in the first 40 minutes, Hussey said, "I don't know what it was."

Stevenson goalkeeper Mo Lanspeary turned away three shots to preserve the shutout. One of his most difficult saves came in the final minutes on a swerving free kick by Patriot defender Dave Binkiewicz.

Some brilliant goalkeeping by Scott Simpson kept the Patriots close, though.

Simpson was called upon early in the match to parry a Nick Deren header onto the bar. The senior netminder also denied Urbats late in the match on point blank shot from 16 yards. Stevenson outshot Franklin 20-6.

A free kick on the left flank led to the winning goal. The ball bounced from Shannon Lamb's head onto Grodzicki's.

SC men rout Kellogg

As tune-ups go, this one was a backfire.

Schoolcraft College's mens soccer team was looking for a team that would provide a challenge, a push. What it got last Wednesday was a 10-man club team that was so inept offensively that it didn't even get off a shot on goal.

All of which resulted in a 12-0 SC victory over Kellogg CC, at Schoolcraft. Indeed, the Ocelots — who improved to 17-0-1 — tried to keep things even by playing 10 men against Kellogg's 10.

Nothing seemed to work, however. "I had to have the guys work out afterwards, just to get in a workout," lamented SC coach Van Dimitriou.

Tim Lampi was most involved in the early barrage. The Livonia Stevenson graduate assisted on the first three goals and scored the fourth as SC built an 8-0 halftime lead.

Other Ocelots to find the net were Andy Cosenza, twice; Matt Lividini, twice; Ryan Olson, twice; and Armando Andoni, Fadi Bazzi, Adam Carriere, Craig Hauswirth and Vince Troiani, once apiece.

Matt Stabile and Gordie Collins split time in goal, but neither handled the ball much.

SC leaves Friday for the NJCAA inter-regional tournament, hosted Saturday and Sunday by McHenry County College in Crystal Lake, Ill., which is northwest of Chicago.

Volleyball

SC coach Tom Teeters can see his team starting to come together. It showed in the Lady Ocelots second-place finish at the Illinois Central College Tournament, and it showed again Thursday when the Lady Ocelots took the University of Windsor to five games before bowing, 15-2, 13-15, 11-15, 15-10, 15-13, in Windsor.

But will they have enough to recapture the NJCAA Region 12 Tournament this weekend?

"It's the best we've played all year," said Teeters of the Windsor match. "We played well and with good intensity, and we had some consistency, which is something that had been missing."

Kristen Barnes led the attack with 24 kills and four service aces. Danielle Pfeffer had 14 kills. Tracia Clendenen set 29 assists to kills, and Shannon Capstick had 17 digs.

The loss left SC with a 17-20 overall record. What made it painful was realizing the Ocelots led 10-4 in the fourth game, and still lost.

Crusaders win 2 more

Two matches, two wins — but one very sizable loss.

Madonna University improved its volleyball record to 38-5 with wins over Western Ontario 15-7, 15-1, 15-8 Friday at Madonna and over Wayne State 8-15, 15-12, 15-10, 14-16, 15-8 Thursday at WSU.

But in the final game of Thursday's match, freshman sensation Julie Martin twisted her ankle. The sprain could keep her out for two weeks, although Madonna coach Jerry Abraham was confident she'd be back in time for the NAIA District 23 Tournament, which the Lady Crusaders will host Nov. 12-13.

Thursday's win over Wayne State did not come easily — nor was it expected to. "Going into their gym, after they had won five of their last six, I thought we played very well," said Abraham. "We did what we had to do to win."

That attitude "carried over to (Friday)," he added. "I expected (Western Ontario) to be a really hard match, especially with Kelly McCausland starting at middle-hitter for the first time (for Martin), and her being a freshman. But she played really well."

In the win over Western Ontario, McCausland had 10 kills and three solo blocks. Kari Van Deusen had nine kills. Mo Paulin added eight kills and 11 digs. Laura Fisher had nine digs, and Mazie Pilut had 31 assists to kills and six digs.

Martin was enjoying a superb match against the Tartars Thursday before getting hurt on Madonna's 14th point. Martin finished with 21 kills, while Van Deusen collected 20 and 11 digs; Paulin, 14 and 19 digs; McCausland, 11; Wood, nine and 16 digs; and Pilut, seven and 41 assists.

Madonna is entering its final week of the regular season, hoping to complete its first-ever unbeaten season in district play.

Blazers coast in playoffs

A strong first-quarter propelled Livonia Ladywood to an easy first-round victory Thursday over Allen Park Cabrini in the Catholic League A-B Division girls basketball playoffs, 69-38.

Junior forward Tara Overaitis scored nine of her 18 points during a 26-10 first-period Ladywood run. Junior guard Becky Bilicki chipped 11 of her 15 points in the opening period.

Maura Duggan added 10 points for the Blazers, who are 13-2 overall and advance to the semifinals 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Schoolcraft College against Dearborn Divine Child.

Joann McComb scored 11 points and Liz Pulaski 10 for the Monarchs, 9-8. Julie Boik, their high-scoring 6-foot-3 center, was limited to eight by Ladywood's 6-4 Anne Poglits and Tara Wasiak.

■ OAKLAND 56, PLYMOUTH 30: Pontiac Oakland Christian remained unbeaten in girls basketball Friday with its victory over visiting Plymouth Christian Academy.

Oakland is 10-0 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference and 16-0 overall. The Eagles are 4-6 and 7-9.

Freshman center Alicia Jones scored 10 points and grabbed 15 rebounds to lead Plymouth Christian. Junior guard Karin Reed added seven points.

Julie Luffy scored 17 points for Oakland, which was 28-13 at halftime and 49-21 after three quarters.

Area woman elected to hall of fame

TEN-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

After many outstanding performances throughout her career, Livonia's Mary Mohacsi has earned election into the WIBC Hall of Fame.

Mohacsi is already in the local DWBA Hall of Fame, as well as the Michigan Women's Bowling Association and the Michigan Amateur Hall of fames. Not many make it to the top, and her latest honor is the icing on the cake of a very illustrious career.

Mohacsi has so many honors and championships, it's impossible to fit the list into this space. Her highlights include three international gold medals in FIQ competition while representing the United States, as well as one silver and two bronze medals.

She has bowled two 300 games and a high three-game set of 771. Mohacsi has been selected as the Greater Detroit Bowling Queen a record 10 times — the first time in 1963. She has averaged at least 190 over her 30-plus year career. In all, she has claimed 13 state championships and 11 city titles.

Mohacsi and her son, Mark, are co-proprietors of the Right Approach pro shops in Merri Bowl Lanes and Taylor Lanes. She currently bowls in the Monday Invitational Ladies Classic at Luxury Lanes, the Arena Pro Shop Ladies Classic at Thunderbowl and the Friday Morning Ladies Classic at Merri Bowl.

Mark is an all-star bowler himself with three perfect games, making a record-setting total of five for a mother-son combination. Mohacsi's husband, Ted, has been a staunch supporter throughout the years and her daughters, Sandy and Cindy, are bowlers themselves.

Mohacsi was fortunate to be coached early in her career by former Livonia Lanes owner Clarence Hoffman, who recognized Mohacsi's potential and sponsored her in tournaments to help her get started. The rest is history.

Letterman's crack staff lines up sports guests

BY MICHAEL SCOGIN

Since David Letterman brought his talk show to its "better time, new station" on Aug. 30, the number of appearances by sports personalities seems to have increased. New York Yankees pitcher Jim Abbott, professional boxer Tim "Doughboy" Tomashek, jockey Julie Krone and Philadelphia Phillies first baseman John Kruk are just a few of the names that have visited the Ed Sullivan Theatre in recent weeks. So, without further adieu, from the home office, here are the top 10 reasons Letterman is having so many sports guests on the new show.

10. More Steinbrenner!

9. Now that Michael Jordan is retired, Dave finally has a chance to win the slam dunk title.

8. Gets to invite Vince Coleman to the neighborhood to give 4th of July safety tips to preschoolers.

7. Marv Albert still drops by to trade hairpiece stories.

6. Finally with a network that has a sports contract.

5. John Kruk comes over to polish off commissary leftovers.

4. Likes to hit the showers after the show.

3. Might have a shot at free New York Mets season tickets next year.

2. Complimentary Cruex!

1. Good excuse to say the name "Mookie."

Boxleitner is water- logged in NBC's "House of Secrets"

By John Crook

Any actor worth his salt is ready to suffer for his art. Being drowned, however, should be considered above and beyond the call of duty. Just ask Bruce Boxleitner, who stars with real-life love Melissa Gilbert in "House of Secrets," airing Monday, Nov. 1, on NBC.

In the psychological thriller, a remake of the 1955 French film "Diabolique" transplanted to contemporary New Orleans, a battered wife (Gilbert) and betrayed mistress (Kate Vernon) decide to kill a conniving doctor (Boxleitner). The plan: Drug him, drown him in a bathtub, then dump him in a garden pond.

Phoning from Tucson, Ariz., where he is filming the fifth "Gunsmoke" TV movie with James Arness, the actor says he knew from the beginning his role would involve some grueling moments.

"When this (project) first came to me, I went out and found "Diabolique" for Melissa... a birthday present, at the time. I kept thinking as I watched that bathtub scene, 'Oh, my God, how are we going to do this?' There's no way to do it but to do it. There's no Hollywood trickery.

"Being drowned is not fun. It goes against everything that we as upright, walking mammals who don't have gills (feel), against everything that all these years of evolution (have wrought)," he says. "Do you realize what water is in your eyes — for hours? I drowned for, like six hours, with my eyes open and.. 'full eye' contact lens — and the irritation from the water getting underneath them. And, of course, it was dirty water because I was still in my clothes and my shoes. And when you go down in water backwards, the water just floods up your nose."

Things got worse when he had to be dumped into the pond. "I had a bad ear infection for a while," Boxleitner recalls, adding with a laugh, "You know what frogs do in that water."

The summer filming in and around New Orleans took its toll not just on the actor. "The scene of the initial drowning... was shot around four in the morning," he says. "Melissa fainted, she went right out that night, just dead from exhaustion, and we had to revive her with oxygen."

Despite that, Gilbert's plucky character drives most of the movie, and she takes the phone long enough to talk about her character, Marion Ravenel. "When you're playing a Southern woman, it's a very easy trap to fall into, 'playing the shrinkin' vi'let,' very Blanche Dubois," she says in an exaggerated drawl.

"(Marion) was sort of an amalgam of Tennessee Williams characters, but more than anything she was Maggie (from 'Cat on a Hot Tin Roof'), who was very strong. If I had played it too simpering and weak, it wouldn't have worked, because somehow I had to find the strength to take what was mine and kill the man I loved, in order to save what I had."

The scene in which Marion must serve her husband lemonade laced with sleeping powder is one of the movie's most riveting moments, and Gilbert says dryly, "That was quite a moment for us. It's one of my favorite scenes ever that I've done. Can I serve lemonade at the wedding, dear?" she asks her co-star and fiance.

"No lemonade!" Boxleitner says firmly, as he takes the phone back. "I swear to God, it was hours of that, and my hands were so sticky!"

Speaking again of the thriller, in which virtually nothing is what it seems, Boxleitner throws in an extra wrinkle about his character, Dr. Frank Ravenel. "I don't think there is a Frank Ravenel," he says. "I questioned whether he was really a doctor. I think he (may have) killed the doctor and taken his identity."

On a personal level, Boxleitner says he originally called the recently divorced Gilbert at the suggestion of his ex-wife. The co-stars became engaged in September, on the anniversary of their first date.

"I don't know why; it just popped out of my mouth, I guess," Boxleitner says. Gilbert, 29, has a 4-year-old son, Cody. Boxleitner, 43, has two sons: 13-year-old Sam, and David, who turns 8 on Nov. 16. They live on a ranch in Hidden Hills, Calif.

HOROSCOPE

By C. C. Clark

Aries (March 21 - April 19)
This is no time to retire inward; you must learn to express your feelings and let other people love you. Use your head in financial dealings.

Taurus (April 20 - May 20)
There is an indication of activity within an organization. You could possibly be recognized for your talents. You may discover you have a new talent.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)
Don't be so worried and depressed. Plan ahead and make some long term goals. You have the power to make the changes you desire in your life.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)
Try not to brood over a problem. Get your mind on something else, and you may find the answers you have been looking for.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)
Do not be overly anxious when dealing with contracts or financial matters. There could be some positive aspects to a difficult situation.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)
There will be a reason to celebrate and have a joyous time. You may receive news of a birth or pregnancy. You could begin a new lifestyle.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)
There could be some surprises concerning wages or pension. It is time to get yourself going and get on with life. Take command of the situation.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)
You can be a nice person, but you also have some stubborn and exasperating ways. Take a look around to determine whether you are part of the problem.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)
Someone's ideas may end up helping you. There is a possibility of a journey for you. This could be the end or the beginning of an era.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)
It will be necessary to make a budget and stick to it. There could be an acceleration in changes regarding a work or domestic situation.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
You may meet someone with whom you have deep karmic ties. A loved one may have an opposing view that could cause trouble for everyone involved.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)
You will have the opportunity to enjoy the results of your hard work. There is a possibility of a new romance or marriage in your future.

SOAP WORLD

Readers give 'Loving' responses

BY CANDACE HAVENS

In true soap opera fashion, just when things were getting good on "Loving," ABC brass decided to bring in a new executive producer, Jo Ann Emmerich, replacing Haydee Grainger. Emmerich takes over on Nov. 1, so it will be a while before we see any drastic changes.

A few weeks ago we asked readers to take a look at "Loving" and tell us what they thought. The letters printed below are representative of the mail we received about the show. Here is what some readers had to say:

Dear Candace: I read your column and decided to give "Loving" a try, and now I am hooked. I can't believe I have been missing such a great show. I already have some favorite characters: Trucker, Dinah Lee and Ava. Thanks for turning me on to my new favorite soap. —Debbie D. in Pa.

Dear Candace: I have been watching "Loving" since it began. It is a wonderful, funny soap, with great story lines. I will continue to watch the show for as long as it is on. I only hope it will survive the competition. —Suzie McLean, Lehighton, Pa.

Dear Candace: I have been watching "Loving" since it was first aired and have watched every episode since. The show has vastly improved over the last few months.

The story line with Ava, Jeremy and Alex is funny, a pleasant change from the usual doom and gloom of soaps. I think Ava would make a great Scarlet for "Gone With the Wind."

I am glad Curtis is gone; he added nothing to the show. Shana's and Stacey's characters are much more appealing since the writers have given them a sense of humor. The music is also terrific. Louie was a great loss, and I'm glad they didn't replace his character. —Barbara Fraser, Windsor, Ontario.

Dear Candace: "Loving" is the best soap. It has a great cast. I really miss Louie; he was one of my favorites. My only complaint is that I would like it to be an hour-long show. I haven't missed an episode since I retired. Tell them to keep up the good work. —Mildred Polzer, Clifton, N.J.
