Canton forms recreation commission

CANTON— Plans for recreational parks and buildings may soon sprout in the township with formation of a recreational advisory council.

The board of trustees Tuesday unanimously agreed to establish the six-person committee, charged with formulating the township's immediate recreational goals and submitting plans to the township board for its approval.

Appointed to the committee were Bruce Roth, Frank Hlavin and Frank McMurray, members of the Canton Jaycees; Bill Lochian and Andy Smith, members of the Lions Club; and resident Tom Stevens.

Brenda Pollack, the township's recreational director, will serve as an advisor to the committee.

RECREATIONAL PLANS of the Jaycees and the Lions Club necessitated formation of the group, according to township Supervisor Robert Greenstein.

Representatives of the Lions Club have presented the township with plans to construct a community activities building somewhere in Canton, Greenstein said. The Jaycees would like to equip the township park on Canton Center near Cherry Hill with playground equipment, picnic tables and baseball diamonds and clean up a section of the Tonquish Creek.

"A lot of these things take very little money," said a Jaycee representative, who noted the availability of state and federal funds for recreation. "There's an awful lot we can do in recreation for everyone."

Greenstein stressed the need to build recreational facilities for everyone.

"We've found in the past that many of the people who get involved in recreation have one specific recreational interest. These appointments are made with the idea that these people have no specific recreational interest and will consider the interests of everyone."

ALTHOUGH TOWNSHIP BOARD members unanimously agreed to form the recreational committee. Trustees James Poole and Brian Schwall asked committee members to form committee bylaws and rules. Terms of office and committee responsibilities should be outlined, they maintained.

But Greenstein and township Treasurer Carl Parsell vehemently disagreed.

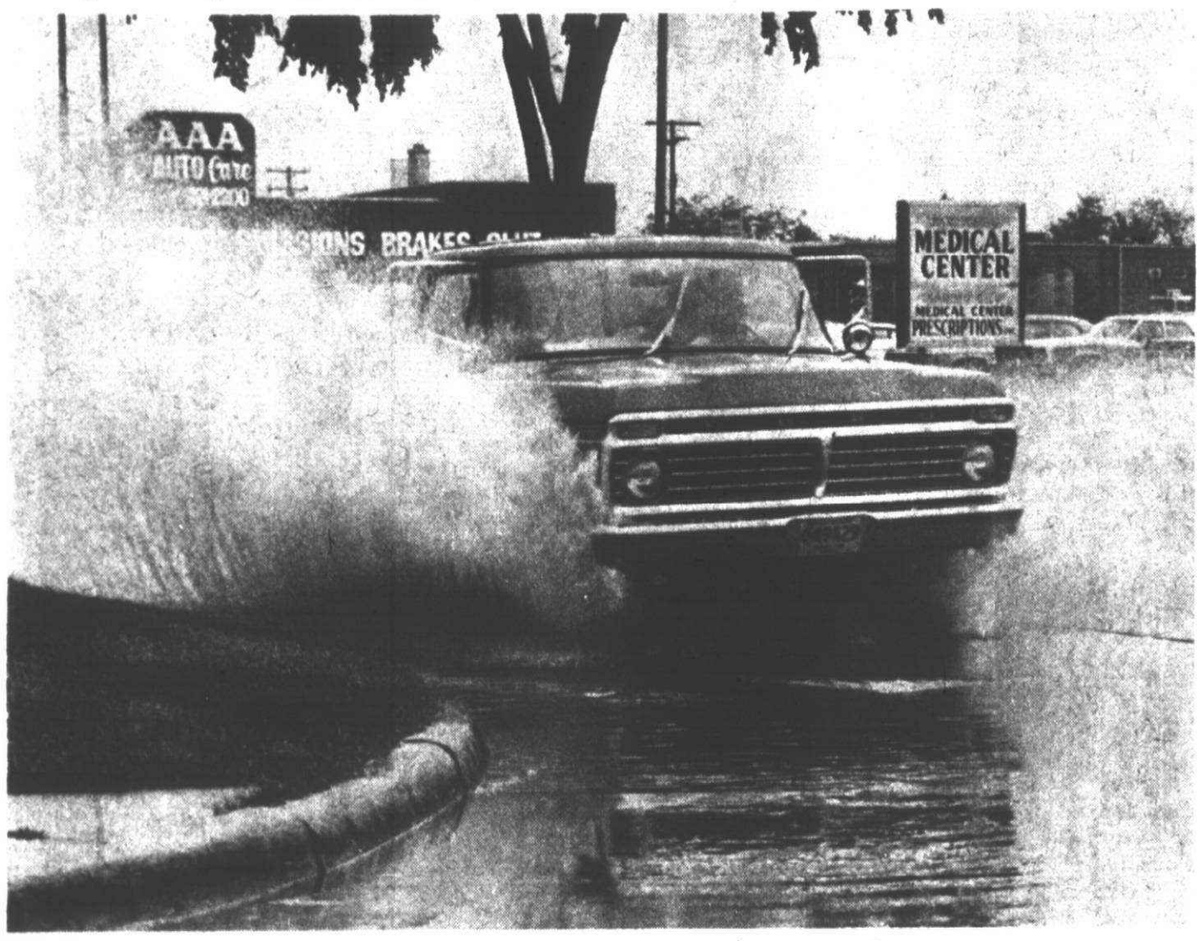

"I'm amazed," said Parsell. "We have a group of people coming forward to do something. Before they can do any work, you want them to work on a bunch of bylaws. That should discourage them right away."

Added Greenstein: "I don't give a damn if these people never have a bylaw. I don't care what title they have. I don't want to put a roadblock in their way. I think that's a bunch of baloney. We're appointing them. If we don't like what they're doing, we can disappoint them."

Poole defended his stand. "I'm not trying to throw blocks in front of their work. But I think they should check into the laws and recommend a way to operate."

Greenstein said the township board could charge the township's attorney with that task.

Parsell moved to establish the committee and appoint its members. That motion, supported by Poole, was unanimously approved.

Canton hit by flooding

SCENES LIKE THIS were common throughout Canton Township Tuesday night, after rain clouds dumped buckets of water on roads and rooftops. Pools of water slowed traffic to a swishing, crawling pace at many places, including: a section of Joy between Canton Center and Sheldon, a section of Canton Center south of Joy, and a section of Sheldon south of Joy. A backed-up Tonquish Creek left piles of trash and debris at many sites throughout the township.

Street numbers will be changed

CANTON— Some township residents may soon have to pull down street numbers off the front of their homes and replace them.

The Canton Township Board has unanimously approved a new street number ordinance, designed to develop a uniform numbering system in the township and increase the visibility of street numbers.

According to Supervisor Robert Greenstein, the ordinance should clear up problems of the township fire department on emergency runs. The fire department has found it difficult to locate homes, where street numbers are small or written in script.

Under the ordinance, all buildings must display street numbers in Arabic numerals of at least four inches in height. Residents or businesses must place the numbers on or near the building's front entrance, or on the side of a building facing the road.

Numerals covered or partially hidden by trees or awnings are in violation of the ordinance. The color of all numerals must contrast with the color of the background posting area.

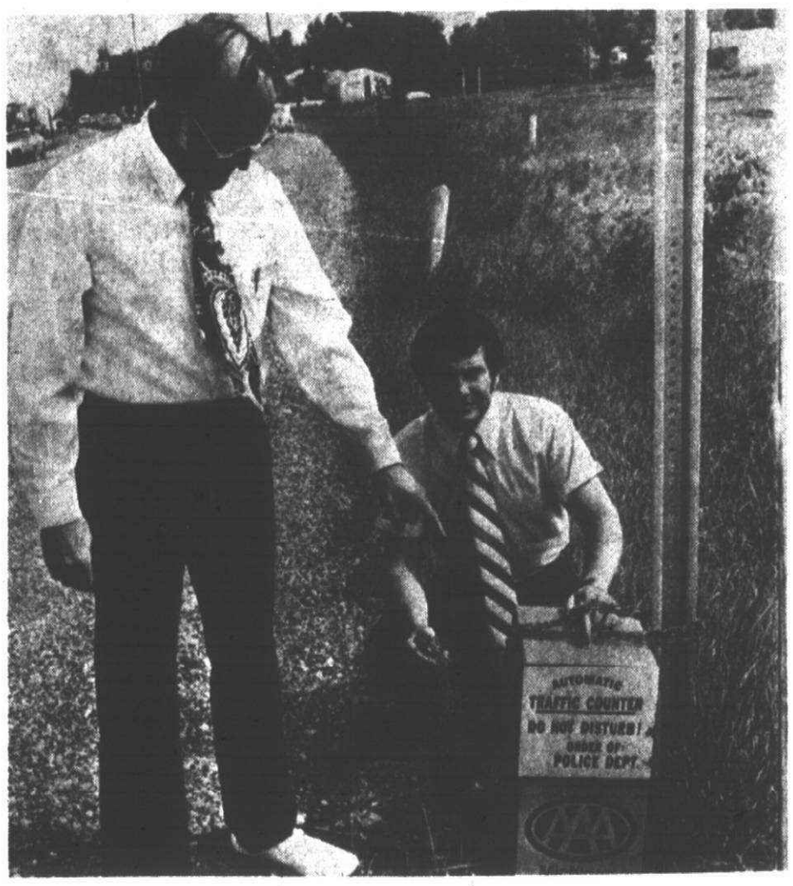

The ordinance charges the Department of Building and Safety to develop a uniform numbering system, based on the numbering system of Detroit Edison.

Street numbers must jump at least one full number for each five feet of frontage on a public road. That means street numbers for houses on 60-foot lots would jump 12 numbers from door to door.

Residents who live on rural mail routes must display street numbers on their homes and mailboxes.

Township residents will have 60 days to comply with the ordinance, after a first nonconformity notice is issued. Failure to correct a nonconformity within 30 days after the second nonconformity notice is issued constitutes a misdemeanor, subjecting the offending occupant to a maximum $100 fine.

The ordinance will become effective upon publication. Township officials said the ordinance will be published as soon as possible.

The survey, conducted by AAA as a public service, will help the township plan for future traffic needs. Trustees will receive the survey report sometime next fall. (Staff photo by Maurie Walker.)

Canton employes vote down union

CANTON— Township office workers Tuesday ousted the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME) as their agent in the second election designed to determine union membership.

Employes voted 6-3 against membership in AFSCME, according to township Treasurer Carl Parsell. One office employe did not submit a ballot because of illness, while another failed to submit an absentee ballot while on vacation.

AFSCME, Parsell explained, had known of the employe's vacation, when it agreed to the June 24 election date.

Union officials were unavailable for comment.

"I think things are getting back to normal," Parsell said, "and the township has proven it can take care of its employes. The township and the employes are moving ahead together."

THE TOWNSHIP had agreed to hold Tuesday's election to avoid a lengthy hearing on procedure before the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC).

AFCSME had asked MERC to order another union election for Canton office workers. The township, the union charged, had failed to mail AFSCME the names and addresses of township employes seven days before the election, as stipulated by state law.

Township office workers had muddied the union membership question with a 5-5 vote at the time of the first election, but one ballot had never been opened.

AFCCME had challenged the ballot of Pam Phillips, Supervisor Robert Greenstein's secretary who, the union said, served in a supervisory capacity. The union later withdrew its challenge and allowed Mrs. Phillips to vote in Tuesday's election.

Intramural plan delayed

PLYMOUTH — The administration is back at the drawing boards trying to revise a proposed intramural program for grades K-12 for the Plymouth Community School District.

Supt. Mike Hoben presented a third proposal for an elementary physical education intramural supplemental program at Monday night's board meeting in Plymouth Canton High.

But for the third time, the board expressed reservations on the proposal and sent it back for reworking. Trustees did, however, seem ready to accept the program for interscholastic hockey and girls' gymnastics and golf.

The hangup is with the $18,000 allocation for a K-12 intramural program. The present proposal is to spend about $12,580 for kindergarten through fifth grade, $2,000 for grades six through eight, and some $3,420 for nine through 12.

HOBEN'S PROPOSAL was a compromise offer from a plan developed earlier by elementary principals and physical education personnel.

Programs already exist in grades six and up and the appropriations are of a supplemental nature to expand existing offerings. The $12,580 for K-5 is for beginning an intramural program.

"Although these dollar amounts will not insure a total intramural program," says Hoben, "it will give us a start in this direction.

Besides the $18,000 for intramurals, another $18,000 has been suggested for the interscholastic hockey and girls' gymnastics and golf.

The money is basically for equipment and supervision, with some expenditures for awards and transportation. Included in the current proposal is an inservice training program to help direct school staff personnel thinking towards developing useful intramural activities at all grade levels.

MARCIA BOROWSKI, school board secretary, commented that the commitment to elementary intramurals amounted to 50 cents per child for one hour per day during after-school hours.

She also asked why shuttle bus transporation was proposed between Salem and Canton high schools, and no transportation planned for elementary buildings.

Hoben said after-school hours was the only feasible time for intramurals. He said consideration could be given to transporation at elementary buildings with displaced populations — those where much of the enrollment is not from the immediate neighborhood.

Borowski questioned the value of awards and transportation at the high school level. "This is already being done under the existing program. Why are we budgeting for these expenses? Maybe the money could be better allocated for transporation or programs at the elementary level. I cannot buy this part of the proposal."

TENNIS ANYONE?

SC courts open Friday

Schoolcraft College will open 12 new tennis courts Friday, June 27 at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend the opening ceremony and refreshments will be served.

Friday's grand opening will feature Schoolcraft trustees and other area officials in exhibition tennis matches. There also will be open tennis for guests following the ceremony.

The 12 regulation doubles courts are color-coordinated with plexipave surfacing, and eight are lighted for night play.

The $130,000 tennis court project was started in July 1974. Architects were Gable, Mills and Young of Lansing and the contractor was Bosco and Volpe of Novi.

Supervised by Hugh Leavell, the courts will be used for a variety of activities this season. The programs include clinics, tournaments, leagues, and campus and matchmaker clubs.

A limited number of individual and family memberships also are available now through August.

The tennis court project is part of a larger physical education development program which includes 23 acres for archery, touch football, field hockey, soccer and other activities.

Schoolcraft is at 18600 Haggerty Road, between Six and Seven Mile roads, in Livonia.

Transport plan comes to vote

A regional transportation plan and a regional housing plan will be sent to the floor for a final vote tonight at the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) General Assembly meeting.

Both plans are elements of SEMCOG's 1990 General Development Plan. A vote by the General Assembly, which is composed of local elected officials from SEMCOG's member-communities, will culminate months of committee work and, in the case of the transportation plan, years of development geared to constructing realistic planning goals for southeast Michigan.

THE REGIONAL Housing Plan according to Housing Subcommittee Chairperson Beverly McAnich, mayor of Plymouth, is designed to complement other elements of the 1990 Plan, while suggesting strategies usable on a local level to address regional housing concerns.

It will also provide guidelines for federal grant review, and provide criteria for evaluating the regional impact on proposed residential development. If the housing plan is approved it will:

- Promote continuing maintenance and improvement of existing neighborhoods
- Develop new neighborhoods that meet the various needs of all household types and socio-economic groups

The plan spent a year in SEMCOG's Council on Regional Development (CORD) and was previously approved by both CORD and SEMCOG's Executive Committee.

APPROVAL OF the proposed 1990 Transportation Plan, a highway-transit plan designed to provide a high level of service, as well as economical transportation to all residents of southeast Michigan, will call for:

- New and upgraded roadways
- A high speed rapid transit system
- Expanded and improved regional bus service

If the transportation plan is adopted June 26, SEMCOG will continue to review and revise the plan annually.

Other agenda items will include approval of Rudolph McCullough and James Grannan for reappointment to the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority's (SEMTA) board of directors for three-year terms.

The Assembly will be asked to approve SEMCOG's 1975-76 budget of $5,136,000 the largest budget ever submitted for approval.

Tonight's meeting will be held at the Mercy College Conference Center following dinner. The center is located at 8200 W. Outer Drive near Southfield Road in Detroit.

SEMCOG is a voluntary association composed of 102 members of governmental units in Southeast Michigan. Its principal function is long-range planning in the areas of housing, criminal justice, environment, recreation, open space and transportation.

Southeast Michigan includes the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Summer registration at SC begins June 27

Registration for the summer session at Schoolcraft College begins Friday, June 27 for classes starting the following Monday.

Students graduating at the end of the summer session will register at 8:30 a.m. in the auxiliary gym. Those whose last names begin with Z through M register between 9-11 a.m. In the afternoon, last names beginning L through A will register from 1-3:30 p.m. Open registration will be 6:30-8:30.

Late registration will be accepted on June 30 in the auxiliary gym and July 1-3 in the Student Affairs Building. Hours are 8:30-11:30 a.m. 1-3:30 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Tuition is $11 per credit hour for residents of Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth school districts. Out-of-district students pay $22, and out-of-state students pay $33. A late registration fee of $2.50 per course will be charged.

The college is located at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Ice cream-eating competition

Kids with an insatiable appetite for chocolate ice cream will be in ice cream-eating heaven Saturday, June 28, when Wonderland Center sponsors its Ice Cream Eating Contest.

The competition is open to the first 200 children to register at 10:30 a.m. in the center of the mall, Plymouth Road and Middle Belt. Starting time for the free feast is 11 a.m.

One winner—the one who eats the most in three minutes without using his hands— will be selected from among groups of 15 competing in three age groups: six and under, seven though nine, and 10 through 12.

All contestants will receive ribbons; winners will get trophies.

Shirt- and dress-saving bibs will be provided, but old clothes are advised.

Historic moment:

Canton High graduates its 1st class of seniors

PLYMOUTH—The year 1975 will be a memorable one for 731 Plymouth residents who can now call themselves alumni of the Centennial Educational Park.

Garbed in the red and white of Plymouth Canton or the blue and white of Plymouth Salem, the graduates completed their commencement exercises June 20 before the crowded stands at the Centennial Park football field.

Graduates of both schools can look back on their senior year as a year of firsts. For Canton it was the first graduating class and all the inherent firsts that the first senior class can bring. For Salem it marked a year of firsts, or near firsts, in football, basketball, and baseball.

Combined, both schools can boast of a band that's rated number one in the state, and some other fine performances in music, drama, debate, industrial arts and many other academic areas.

WHILE CEREMONIES may have lacked the tradition of a commencement speaker, senior class presidents Donna Rinn of Salem, and Cameron Miller of Canton issued challenges to their fellow classmates befitting the seriousness of the occasion.

Miller praised the opportunities for choice in the modular scheduling system at the Educational Park and the course offerings for high school students within the Plymouth Community School District.

"We have learned things others have been denied, for where else do you find the opportunities in high school to take courses that are beneficial and useful in many fields after graduation?

"Judgments which affect our very existence have been thrown at upon us early in life, rather than later through modular scheduling. We have been forced to make decisions for ourselves and run our own lives instead of having them dictated to us."

Miss Rinn was a bit more critical of what her high school education meant to her and called for a return to a more classical approach to education and learning.

"No longer are the ideals of liberal, work at your own pace, do your own thing, type of thinking suitable.... In the process we have lost one thing: that is the value of the classical education."

Calling for more emphasis on grammar, literature, history and the composition of ideas, Miss Rinn noted:

"I realize that I am taking an elitist point of view, but I feel that if we were to attempt these goals then at least if a student fails he will have been exposed to the right kinds of things and have tried.... Society at least owes students the chance to try and fail instead of paving the way to failure for them."

DURING THE ceremonies, Plymouth Canton High School was also honored with a Resolution of Commendation by the Michigan Senate, congratulating the students on the honor of being the first graduating class from Canton. The resolution was presented by State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth), a Plymouth High School graduate.

Music for the evening was provided by the Centennial Park Band, under the direction of James Griffith, and included a special tribute to graduating seniors with robed senior bandsmen joining in the musical salute.

After brief remarks by Plymouth Salem Principal Bill Brown and Plymouth Canton Principal Kent Buikema, the 451 Salem graduates were joined by the 280 Canton High grads in receiving their diplomas from school board members Marda Benson, Carl Berry and George Lawton, and Plymouth Schools Supt. John M. Hoben.

Truth and myth blend in tarot

Witch Watch by GUNDELLA

Tarot cards have been around in one form or another since at least 1390 AD, and probably long before that. Today, they are more popular than ever. Boutiques, bookstores, and even some department stores carry a variety of tarot decks ranging from old Italian or Egyptian cards to modern decks designed by pop artists.

Modern dictionaries disagree on the pronounciation of the word "tarot." Traditionally, the word was pronounced "tar O" when referring to the cards, and "tar at" when referring to the game originally played with those cards.

The tarot deck is really made up of two separate decks called the Major Arcana and the Minor Arcana, totalling 78 cards in all.

TAROT SYMBOLS depict the influence of the Hebrew Kabala, Egyptian mythology, and the early Christian church. Truth, myth, superstition, religion and folklore are blended together in this everchanging book of cards. Like a living language, they have constantly grown and changed throughout the centuries and are even continuing to do so today.

The Minor Arcana, from which we developed our modern deck of playing cards, consists of 56 cards divided into four suits. Each suit has 14 cards, compared to 13 in our present-day suits. There are four face cards—a king, a queen, a knight (corresponding to our jack) and also a page, which is not represented by a modern day counterpart.

The tarot suits and their correspondents are:

cups—hearts
swords—spades
wands—clubs
coins (or pentacles)—diamonds

THERE IS an interesting legend that in the days after Alexandria was destroyed, the city of Fez became the intellectual capital of the world. Wise men from all countries traveled there to teach and to learn from each other. Since they spoke many tongues, they decided to establish a universal language which they illustrated in a book of pictures composed of countless mystic symbols, thus creating a common store of wisdom.

It is these pictures which are believed to have come down to us as the Tarot trumps, or the cards of the Major Arcana.

Others believe they originated in the Orient much earlier than this, and were brought back to Italy, along with pasta and gunpowder, by Marco Polo.

THE MAJOR ARCANA consists of 22 cards, 21 of which are numbered and the fool or jester card which is either unnumbered or numbered zero. This is the only card from the Major Arcana which has found its way into our present playing deck where it appears as the joker.

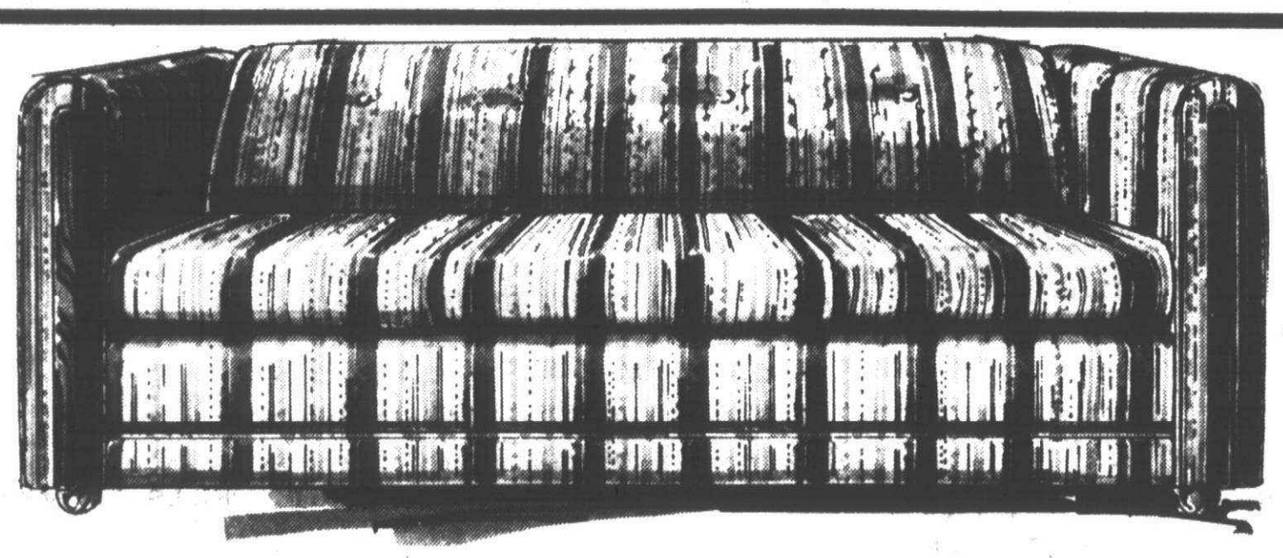

Sometime in the 15th century, Gypsies began to adopt tarot cards as a means of fortune telling, and they did much to spread them in their travels.

Today, most people think of these cards in conjunction with fortune telling. But serious students of the tarot meditate on each card separately, reading it, studying it, analyzing its message and beauty as one would a great piece of literature or poetry.

If reader response indicates an interest, I will in the future occasionally devote an entire column to the study of one card at a time.

Teacher retires after 40 years with district

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—The years often wipe memories of names and places clean, but students at Farrand Elementary School will always know the name of teacher Dorothy Sly MacKenzie.

Farrand PTO members Tuesday presented the long-time veteran of the Plymouth Community School District a commermoration plague and named the school's southwest wing in her honor.

MRS. MacKENZIE, 66, whose family once owned the land on which Farrand School stands, will retire Saturday from her 46-year teaching career.

The 1927 graduate of Plymouth Central High School will retire with her husband, Kenneth, on their farm in Lucknow, Ont.

But Mrs. MacKenzie, who spent her youth in an old farmhouse on Five Mile, will take many memories with her.

"I've lived around here all my life," said Farrand's third grad teacher and I'll miss Plymouth a lot. I've seen the area change from a small to a large community."

In Mrs. MacKenzie's day, students attended old Central High building for grades one through 12. Students unable to attend the old building on Main Street, which now houses elementary and middle school grades, traveled to one-room country schoolhouses for primary school subjects.

About one-third of Mrs. MacKenzie's 1927 graduating class started off to college," the veteran teacher recalls.

"Some of them had to drop out of high school before they graduated," she admitted. "They had to go to work."

AFTER HIGH SCHOOL graduation ceremonies, Mrs. MacKenzie attended Ypsilanti Normal School, now Eastern Michigan University, where she earned her bachelors degree in elementary education.

She spent the first three years of her 46-year teaching career in the Dearborn School District before returning to Plymouth. Until Farrand School was built in 1958, Mrs. MacKenzie taught in Central Elementary School, where her former fifth grade teacher, Nellie E. Bird, served as principal.

Mrs. MacKenzie requested a transfer to Farrand, when she learned it would be built on her parents' former land.

"When I first came to Plymouth to teach, we had to buy all our own supplies like pencils and paper clips," Mrs. MacKenzie recalled with a laugh. "The school buys all that for us now.

"Things keep changing back and forth," she said of teaching methods. "We'll be doing things a certain way, and then they'll change. There'll be a repeat of the old methods every now and then."

Farrand teacher Jim Grinenko affectionately suggested naming of the school's southwest wing in honor of Mrs. MacKenzie at a recent retirement banquet, said Farrand Principal Anne Welch.

"The PTO board wanted to know what to give her as a gift, and they took up his suggestion!"

300 enjoy 'Y' camping

More than 300 members of the Canton, Plymouth and Northville YMCA Indian Guides, Indian Maidens and Trailblazers recently attended the group's annual spring campout.

Traditionally for fathers and sons in Indian Guides, this year's campout at Bishop Lake included new members of the recently formed Indian Maiden and Trailblazer tribes.

The boys and girls enjoyed the weekend's activities and joined for the camp bonfire on a Saturday night and for the obstacle course run on Sunday.

Canton man gets Livonia C-C post

The Livonia Chamber of Commerce has hired a Canton Township man as its number two staff man.

Richard Shanks has been named to fill a new position of executive assistant to Raymond Lech, the chamber's executive director.

Shanks, a former industrial education teacher and product designer with Ford Motor Co., is 39 and lives with his wife and three children at 8259 Orhan.

HE WAS hired with federal Comprehensive Employment Training Act funds, of which part is administered by the Wayne County Office of Manpower.

Born in Chicago, Shanks moved to Ludington, Mich. when he was 10. He served two years in the Army and received his BS in industrial education from Central Michigan University and his MA in the same field from Eastern Michigan University.

He taught in the Ellsworth, district for two years before teaching industrial arts at Detroit's Redford High School for four years.

He was a product designer at Ford for six years until late last year.

In the past few months, Shanks was a substitute teacher in the Plymouth district.

Shanks said his job, for which federal funding may expire this year, will be to help Lech in the chamber's general administrative and committee work.

Realtors' golf day brings fund $1,000

It may have looked like 160 real estate men and women having a good time, but it was worth $1,000 to the Metropolitan Society for Crippled Children and Adults (MSCCA).

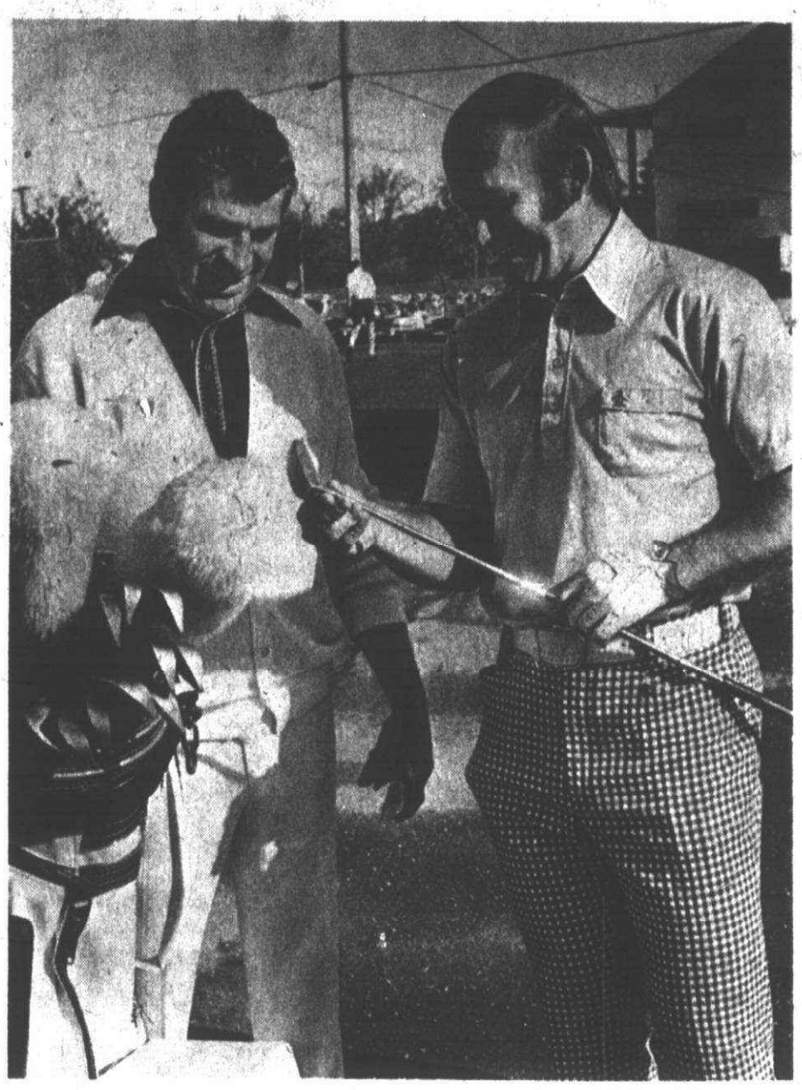

The second annual youth benefit golf tournament of the United Northwestern Realty Association (UNRA) was conducted recently at Farmington Country Club.

Guest speaker was Gary Bergman, defenseman for the Detroit Red Wings hockey team and a board member of MSCCA. He accepted the UNRA donation from Jerry J. Rozema, 1975 president of the 3,300-member organization.

MSCCA is a voluntary health organization financed by contributions from individuals and organizations, memorials and bequests and the support of Crippled Children's Seals.

Serving the tri-county area since 1934, it primarily helps children with orthopedic, neurological or neuromuscular disorders, sensory communication and learning disorders, and psychological and social problems resulting from physical disabilities.

Co-chairmen of the event were were Don Wolfe (Harry S. Wolfe Co.) and Edward Dub (Matuszewski-Dub Co.). UNRA is a real estate multiple listing service in the tri-county area.

U-M unit to visit Westland

Abig, bright yellow mobile displasy unit from the Universityof Michigan College of Engineerng will be operated at Westland Shopping Center, Wayne and Warren roads, June 26-29.

The unit, a mobile home containing many engineering displays, will be run by three U-M engineering students and a recent graduate. They hope to inform students of all ages and their parents of the opportunities in engineering.

The display unit has several interesting displays representing 6ifferent fields of engineering offered at Michigan, including a lunar shoft landing simulator, a TV screen depicting a rapid approach to the moon, and a laser and holography display, illustrating true three-dimensional lensless photography.

An unusual "urban car" built by U-M engineering students also will be on hand, and a 10-minute film on the College of Engineering as seen from a student's point of view.

Schools coming to a close with students surviving heat

By DARLENE STINSON

The long, lazy days of summer are looming brightly ahead for most students in the Plymouth Community School District who are patiently awaiting the passage of today and Friday.

Doors will close Friday at all schools in the district, and all but those at Miller Elementary School will remain locked until September.

A total of 230 pupils at Miller School will return to their books on July 14 for the beginning of the pilot 45-15 program. The remaining 570 children enrolled in the year-round system will return to school on Aug. 4, Aug. 25 or Sept. 15.

REGARDLESS OF the school in which students are enrolled, the final week of classes is a busy one, packed with anticipation for most pupils.

Elementary schools in the district are "winding down" this week, according to their principals. Teachera are packing outdoor events and "going-away" parties into their schedules between book-packing and desk-cleaning tasks.

To make the hot, muggy weather a bit more comfortable, many teachers have brought window fans from home, while some parents have brought ice cream and soda pop treats. Picnics, award assemblies and pool parties at parents' homes characterize elementary activities this week.

"A lot of the normal winding down is taking place," said Carrol Nichols, principal of Bird Elementary School. "I think it's a way of celebrating that the school year is over. It's the traditional ending of the year and the ending of a grade."

Tom Workman, principal of Allen Elementary said, "In general, the kids don't like to work for long periods during the last two weeks of school. When the weather gets hot like this, we try to bear down in the morning and have a little fun in the afternoon."

TEACHERS AND students at the Centennial Educational Park are conducting "business as usual," according to Plymouth Salem Principal Bill Brown, despite the absence of seniors, who were graduated last week. Most students are busy taking finals and thinking of summer jobs.

Gus Gorguze, principal of Central Middle School, says students there are taking final examinations at the discretion of teachers. Students are taking fewer field trips and helping their teachers collect books and clean out classrooms.

Some students, Gorguze said, have complained about this year's extended school calendar, which covers two extra weeks of June because of last fall's teacher strike.

"A few weeks ago, the kids were concerned that they were going over the traditional time. But we told them they weren't really going any longer, because they started later. The more we (teachers and administrators) can set a tone from within, the more the kids can adapt to it.

"It's the same with the heat. The weather has been warm. But if the teacher is overcome with heat, the kids will be too."

STUDENTS AT all schools are showing excitement over the upcoming summer vacation—even those at Miller who will be returning in two weeks.

"There's a lot of excitement in terms of preparation for this summer," said Shirley Spaniel, principal of Miller. "Both the staff and the youngsters are excited about it."

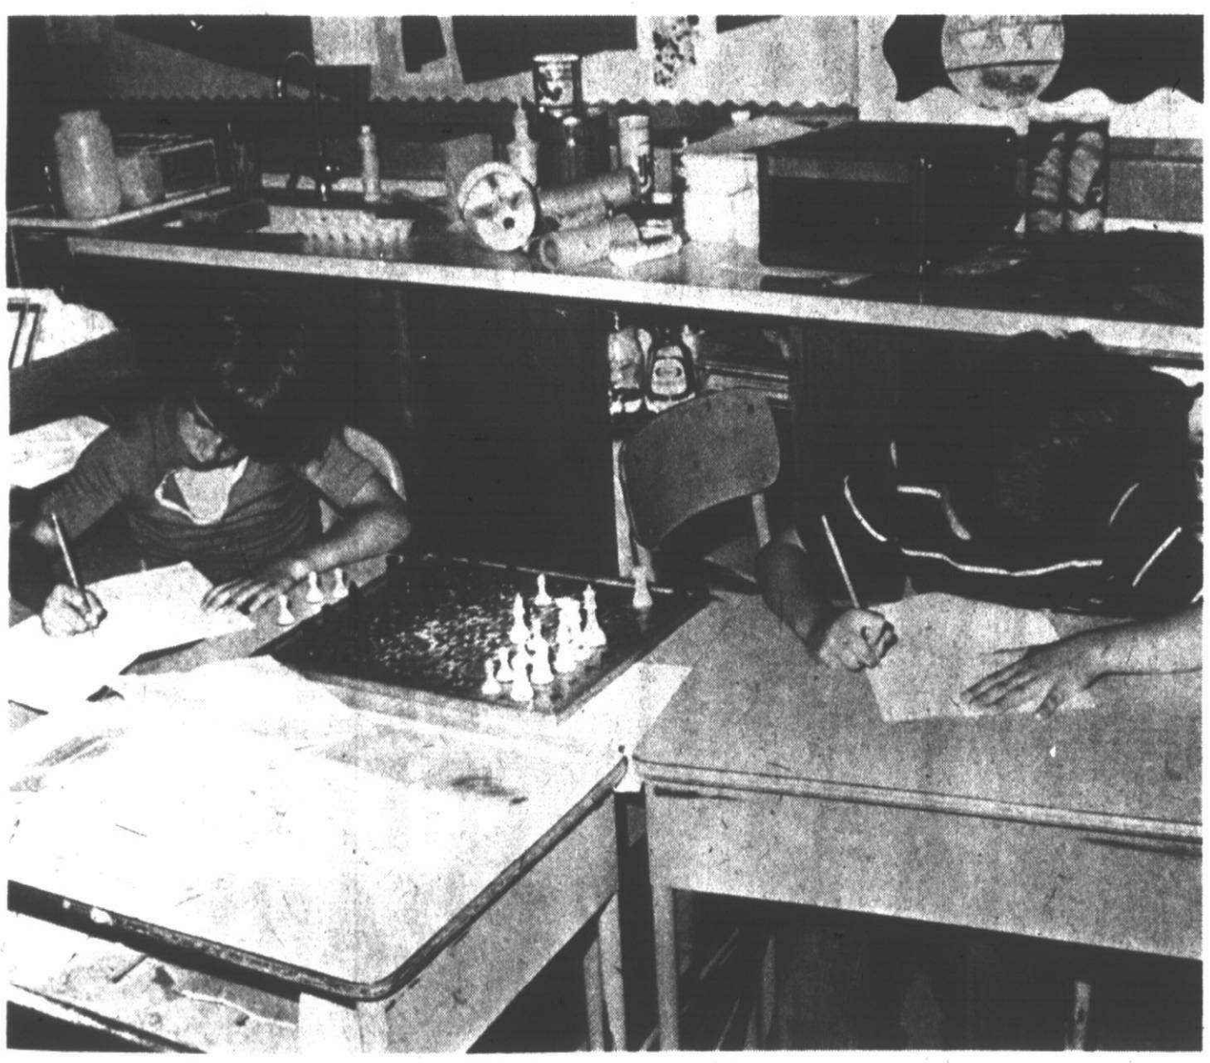

Students at Miller have not seemed to notice the extra two weeks of classes, Mrs. Spaniel said.

"I think it has a lot to do with the fact that we have an air conditioned plant. We just don't have the heat."

Natalie Simpson, a third grader at Bird Elementary, said she's enjoyed this last week of classes.

"I like my teacher a lot," she explained, "but I like summer too. At the end of the school year, I don't want to do too much work, especially when it's hot."

One fifth grade student summed up his feelings about the last week of classes: "It's just the last week of school, and then I can get out!"

Intramurals

dent, asked how much competition would be a factor in the intramural activities?

The priority will be on activiti s inside the building and on maximum participation, Hoben answered. "There is a need for some team sports to maintain interest among students but the number one priority will be maximum participation with sports such as field hockey, dodgeball or kickball."

Trustee Gary Mirto suggested the two 15-minute recesses and 30-minute "free play period" during the lunch break at the elementary might be more constructiv ly used for intramurals during the school day.

Mrs. Benson commented that pupils at that level need free, unstructured time blocks.

Borowski made the motion, supported by Benson, to delay approval of the program until a position statement is developed and work is done on the intramural portion — particularly with how the $18,000 is allocated among grade levels.

Dr. E.J. McClendon, board president, then ruled a motion wasn't necessary but that the matter would just be returned to Hoben for further study and revision.

DAVID GROTTON, a student at Plymouth's Allen Elementary School, paddles a canoe to outrun the heat during the last week of classes. The canoe expedition on a pond behind Tanger School was part of Allen's activity program, under which students participated in special weekly classes during the last four weeks. The classes were designed to keep interest up before summer vacation. (Staff photo by Maurie Walker.)

Harness maker prominent in field

PLYMOUTH—PAST AND PRESENT by Sam Hudson

The career of a Plymouth harness maker, in business here for almost 50 years, exemplifies the transition from horse to automobile early in this century.

George W. Richwine's harness shop, begun in 1903, continued long after the demise of the livery stables which were once a prominent part of the local scene. It had to make many concessions to the horseless wagon, but it survived until the 1950s before joining those other memories of the past—the creamery, the soap-making plant, and the mole-trap business which once thrived here.

BORN IN Cleveland in 1872, Richwine started in the harness business in 1893 when he bought a shop in Romulus, where he met and married Edna E. Johnson.

Later, he was a foreman in harness factories in Flint and Detroit before striking out on his own again. In 1903, he moved to Plymouth where he purchased a harness business in a building on Penniman Avenue, facing Kellogg Park and adjacent to what is now the First Federal Savings and Loan building.

Later, the building in which he had his harness shop was to house Charles McConnell's barber shop and the Plymouth Taxi Co. The Richwine family lived upstairs in the corner building where Murray's Candy Shop, Red's Barber Shop, and Ken and Ork's lunchroom were later located.

Most towns in the area had harness makers when farming was the main occupation and the horse and buggy was the chief mode of transportation. Richwine, in common with others in his field, depended largely on the needs of those who had farm horses to equip. He also sold single harnesses to those in town who drove buggies in the summer and cutters in the winter.

Few of those who drove light vehicles required team harnesses, the exception being "Phil" Markham. Markham's matched bob-tails, pulling the air rifle manufacturer's expensive, handsomely-turned landau, were a topic of conversation in Plymouth at the turn of the century.

BEFORE THE automobile became a household word, Richwine sold harnesses, horse blankets, sweat pads for use under the horse's collar, horse brasses, trunks, travel bags and suitcases.

Three years before he opened his Plymouth shop, however, the first national automobile show had been held in New York's Madison Square Garden. In the year Richwine moved to Plymouth, Charlie Bennett, a competitor of Markham, became one of the original shareholders in Ford Motor Co.

Richwine may not have know it at the time, but America was on the threshold of the "horseless age," and the nature of his harness business was beginning to change.

Soon George Richwine began supplementing his line of leather goods with automobile items. He began to stock automobile robes—a necessity in the days of open-top cars when motorists had almost no protection from the weather. When cars began to sport side curtains, Richwine was often called on to replace the brittle mica which served as "windows" in the panels. About 1917, he added automobile tires, stocking a brand known, appropriately, as "The Horse-Shoe."

Richwine soon became prominent in the harness industry. In 1912, the year Woodrow Wilson assumed the presidency of the United States, Richwine was elected president of the Leatherworks Association of Michigan.

On his visits to other harness makers, Richwine noted that many of them were inept in figuring their costs. To assist them, he made up a cost accounting chart which they could post on the walls of their shops.

GEORGE RICHWINE (right) is shown with Edsel and Henry Ford at Northville horse show in August, 1936. In 1947, at age 75, Richwine had the largest volume of harness business in his career with the Fords amongst his clients. (Reprinted from pictures of Plymouth Past & Present with permission of Sam Hudson).

IN 1920, George Richwine became treasurer of the Village of Plymouth, doing the work in his place of business on Penniman Avenue.

In 1925, he closed his shop and took up fulltime work in the village hall as treasurer and assessor. In 1931, he was succeeded in the job by Nellie V. Cash. Richwine then moved to Plymouth Township where he became justice of the peace. He also reopened his harness business, but at an another location.

At his new site, west of the city on Ann Arbor Road near the junction with Ann Arbor Trail, Richwine began to specialize in the manufacture of harnesses for trotting and pacing horses. He was kept busy by the many race tracks in this part of the state.

Trotting and pacing harnesses made by Richwine appeared on tracks throughout North America. He sold equipment to horse owners in every state and in Canada. After television became a home commodity in the 1940s, he liked to watch trotting horses on the screen and name the horses that wore his harnesses.

RICHWINE MADE equipment for use on riding horses, especially for those riders who favored Western style riding.

One of his customers was Henry Ford I, who commissioned him to make a saddle and bridle which cost $6,000. It was a gift for the auto magnate's aide and strong-arm man, Harry Bennett, and was tailor-made to fit a palomino owned by Bennett.

Ironically, the largest volume of business Richwine ever enjoyed was in 1947, when he had reached the age of 75. That bumper year was coincident with the opening of the race track in Northville. Four years later, Richwine retired from business and gave up his office as township justice of the peace.

George W. Richwine, who died in Plymouth in 1952, is said to have been the last man in Michigan who could really make his own harnesses. Before he died, he had the pleasure of seeing one of this three sons—Alton, Perry and Walton—also become prominent in local affairs.

Perry W. Richwine, an attorney, was mayor of Plymouth in 1949-50, a municipal judge, a member of the city commission and of the city charter commission. He has been Rotary district governor, president of the Plymouth Rotary Club, and president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

Plymouth-Canton OBITUARIES

Rewards for bike safety

Fire chief gives tips on swim pool chemicals

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—A warning on the proper use and storage of calcium hypochlorite, a chemical widely used for water sanitation purposes by owners of small and large backyard wading and swimming pools, has been sounded by Plymouth Township Fire Chief James Gignac.

"When this chemical is carelessly stored or handled, there exists a potential fire and erruptive decomposition hazard," the chief said.

"Calcium hypochlorite is moderately toxic to health, yet a strong irritant like most chlorine compounds. Its primary health hazard is usually associated with chemical burns to the eyes, skin and mucous membranes.

"Upon decomposition, funes of chlorine are emitted which are capable of causing irritations to the respiratory tract."

GIGNAC SAID calcium hypochlorite is distributed for general use in the form of a dry powder, a granular material or a tablet.

"It is more concentrated than the ordinary and more familiar bleaching powder, containing double the available chlorine content, and is sold under a variety of trade and proprietary names.

"While it is not combustible and is stable under ordinary conditions, it is a very reactive and powerful oxidizer, particularly when it is moistened or mixed with most acids."

This chemical, he continued, on intimate contact with organic or oxidizable and combustible materials, may form a mixture that spontaneously bursts into flame, and in some instances undergoes accelerated decomposition and violent erruption, especially when wet.

To promote the safe storage, handling and use of these hazardous chemicals by the general public, Gignac said it is important that complete information be provided on potential hazards and necessary safeguarding procedures.

SOME OF the general precautions recommended in the handling and use of calcium hypochlorite and in its preparation, include:

"Read the container label of the product being used and carefully follow directions.

"Keep the material in the original container and store in cool, clean, dry areas, away from steam pipes or other sources of heat. Do not drop, roll or skid the container and keep it upright.

"Separate container from all organic or oxidizable materials and any other possible contaminants. Keep covered with original closure out of the reach of children. Don't mix materials with household products, acids, solvents or other pool chemicals.

"Dissolve the dry chemical only in plain water. Never pour water over the chemical, always pour the chemical into water, with constant stirring.

School district to ask for $5 million note

PLYMOUTH — The school board has approved an application to the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission and State Board of Education for the district to borrow about $5½ million to meet its payroll until taxes are collected.

The tax anticipation note is an annual loan taken out by the district but each year the amount borrowed gets higher, explains Raymond Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business.

As the total tax base of the Plymouth Community School District increases, Hoedel explained, the state gives less in financial aid to the district. This year total revenues are about 80 per cent local taxes and 20 per cent state and federal aid.

"Because our reliance on local taxes is increasing, each year we must borrow more to meet our obligations until the taxes are collected in December.

"At this point in time every year, our cash flow is extremely weak and it will be necessary for us to borrow in excess of $5 million."

Marda Benson, board secretary, says she hopes to approach the Intergovernmental Council with a proposal that school taxes be collected semi-annually instead of only in December.

This approach could well mean the district wouldn't have to borrow any more tax anticipation notes, Hoedel commented, which would save all taxpayers money because the district must pay interest on the loans.

Band plan is tabled

PLYMOUTH—Because community interest on the subject is high, the Plymouth Board of Education tabled approving a band proposal for Centennial Educational Park.

The board voted Monday night to table by a 5-0 vote, on a motion made by Marcia Borowski. Trustees Carl Berry and George Lawton were absent.

In making the tabling motion, Mrs. Borowski asked that a workshop of board members, administrators and teachers be formed to look into the matter closely before final action because of community interest in the subject.

Supt. Mike Hoben introduced a proposal which called for complete and separate band programs by school year 1977-78. It would be a phased-in program as recommended by Hoben, with the marching, symphony and concert bands maintained as is for school year 1975-76.

In 1976-77, Hoben suggests seperating the marching band so Plymouth Canton would have its own marching unit. There would still be one symphony band in '76-77 but the varsity and cadet bands would be split.

By September 1977, Hoben's plan would have all bands split with separate units for Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools.

Under this plan, the marching band would be split one year before the new musical facilities for Canton high are scheduled to be completed.

FOR THE WOMAN ON HER OWN: NO-STRINGS-ATTACHED ABSOLUTELY FREE CHECKING.

"WHY CAN'T BANKS UNDERSTAND THAT I CAN BE THE HEAD OF A HOUSEHOLD, TOO?"

We understand how it is. Being a woman and the head of a household isn't all that easy, yet. You have to watch every nickel, and the money you do save has to work hard for you.

Well, we're here to tell you that we not only understand. We can help.

So we're introducing No-Strings-Attached, Absolutely Free Checking as just one way we'd like to help. You don't need any minimum checking balance. No minimum savings balance, either. No fees of any kind except, of course, the slight charge for personalizing checks. And if you're the average family, you can save $26 a year with it. Maybe even more.

Overdraft protection, too, just in case you need it. Bouncing a check can happen to anyone. And so can the embarrassment and extra costs it usually causes. But now, just as soon as you qualify, every check you write is covered up to your credit limit in full. And overdraft protection doesn't cost you a penny until you use it.

To our existing customers: Please apply at your branch for conversion to No-Strings-Attached. Absolutely Free Checking.

Just when you really need it.

"Chips off the ole Rock"

EDITOR'S NOTE: Chips off the Rock is a new column designed to report on what young people in the community are doing. It is a special place in our newspaper to tell about the good things done and being done by kids. We will share this news with you and hope you will tell us some of these good things by writing the Observer & Eccentric at 461 S. Main, Plymouth 48170.

The name of the column is borrowed from Sterling Eaton, former publisher of the Plymouth Mail. In honor of Mr. Eaton and his past service to the Plymouth community, we dedicate this first column. All future columns are dedicated to our young people and their community service efforts.

A special June graduate is Kelly Snow, daughter of Ross M. Snow on Northern Street in Plymouth. Kelly recently graduated from the Michigan School for the Blind in Lansing. She was a very active student, having served as president of her senior class, member of the student council, valedictorian, having assisted in the occupational therapy program, and serving on the staff of the summer round-up program.

Instead of a few milimeters longer, it was a milidecimals short for Jill Hochlowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Hochlowski on Amelia Street, Plymouth. She is carrying a 3.97 grade point average at Michigan State University — 0.03 away from a perfect record. A "B-plus" in one of her courses created the silly milidecimal.

Glenn A. Petersen is back in Plymouth after travelling to Fayetteville, Ark., for freshman orientation at the University of Arkansas. Travelling this summer will be Steven C. Elkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elkins on Newporte Street, Plymouth, who is one of 80 students participating in the 1975 Summer Institute of Biblical Studies in Israel by Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. Besides spending four weeks in the Holy Land, Steve will visit Greece and return to Wheaton with 12 hours of college credit.

THE COMMUNITY continues to supply a fine corps of musical talent, among them Deborah K. Knipschild of South Evergreen, Plymouth.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Knipschild, Sr., she has earned a BA with a major in music from Wheaton College where she was a member of the concert band and symphony orchestra. Carol Foust, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Foust of Woodland Place, Plymouth, is a member of the women's glee club at Michigan State University. A 1971 graduate of Plymouth Salem High, at MSU she is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda (national music honor society) and Sigma Alpha Iota (women's professional music society). Another local musician, Linda Lowing, is now attending the the summer youth music program at Michigan State University. A member of the Centennial Educational Park Symphony Band and Orchestra, she earned a scholarship award to attend the camp. Linda's parents will see her again July 19 when she returns to Plymouth.

MARK CULOTTA

RANDE WILSON

NANETTE PAWLAK

"The most difficult adjustment to college life for me has been the amount of freedom one experiences upon living away from home," is the advice given by Rande J. Wilson to this fall's crop of college freshman.

"It is often difficult to put this freedom to constructive use. The college environment has more opportunities available than I ever expected. If a student desires to become involved, the opportunities are available."

And Rande did use the opportunity for constructive projects as a student at Eastern Michigan University. A 1970 Plymouth High grad, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J.J. Wilson of Penniman in Plymouth, he was winner of one of the top 10 students awards this past school year.

At EMU he was director of the environmental action center, member of the university judicial board, representative for the biology department to the student advisory council, employed by the biology department, and active on the political action committee. He has graduated with majors in biology and general science. While at Plymouth High Rande was a member of the gymnastics team and the school newspaper staff.

PLYMOUTH SCHOOLS are turning out some fine athletes also for the college ranks. Dave and Dan Hess of Plymouth received a varsity jacket for earning three letters in baseball at Adrian College. The brothers are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hess of Penniman. Both are juniors at Adrian majoring in business administration. "Who's on first?"

Congratulations are due Nanette Pawlak, a Plymouth Salem freshman, who has won second place in the freshman free style roller skating championship for Michigan. She will continue her competition July 6 in Akron enroute to the national championship in Lincoln, Neb. Her teacher is Penny Money.

Mark Culotta, a sixth grader at West Junior High, recently earned a trophy in the sixth annual mathematics conference at Eastern Michigan University. This bright mathematician is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Culotta of Nantucket, Plymouth, and earned his "Math Expert" T-shirt by competing with more than 400 students from southeast Michigan.

This column cannot end without mentioning the poet among us — John Reinhard of Wiclift Court. John not only writes poetry but makes money doing so — a $100 first prize for "A Lady I Remember" and another $50 for second prize in fiction for a story, "Avery and the Sparrow," in the writing contest by the department of English at Eastern Michigan University. Which proves not all poets are poor.

JAMES E. STANIFORTH of Nantucket Street, Plymouth, has been promoted to director of management information systems for Fruehauf Corp., Detroit. He graduated from Loyola University of Chicago with a BS in mathematics. In his new job, Staniforth will be responsible for the planning, development and implementation of the computer system used by the firm's corporate staff and the Fruehauf Division and will be in charge of all operations of the company's Detroit computer center.

Teachers are hired

PLYMOUTH — Fifteen teachers have been hired and the resignations of five accepted by the Plymouth Board of Education.

Leaving the district are: Cynthia Beale, third grade teacher at Gallimore; Lola Black, art-music and physical education for East and Isbister schools; Marion Breed, first grade teacher at Starkweather, retiring after 19 years in Plymouth; Carol Hendon, first grade teacher at Gallimore; and, Patricia LePlae, home economics instructor at Pioneer School.

New teachers hired by the board for Miller Elementary—who will be assuming their teaching jobs this summer under the year-round 45—15 program there—include:

Carol Bochy, who holds a BS degree from Eastern Michigan University; Sue Bunch, BS degree from Western Michigan University; Catherine Dicks, BA degree from Michigan State University; Nancy Hartung, BA from University of Iowa; James Mazer, BS from EMU; Patti Pollock, BA from MSU; Dolores Temciuk, BS from EMU; and, Ron Zang, BA from University of Michigan.

The other personnel were hired as part of a reorganization of the special education department which will see team clusters serving groups of school buildings.

The special education hires are: Barbara Brenkert, an MA from U-M; Thomas Brown, MA from EMU and undergraduate from Heidelberg College; Suzanne Clark, BA from Adrian College; Ronald S. Jones, a psychologist with PhD from MSU and MA from University of Virginia; Diane Matsumoto, BS from EMU; and, Sarah E. Smith, MA from EMU and undergraduate work at Lindenwood College.

The board voted 5-0 to approve the new hires after meeting 10 minutes in a secret meeting from which the public was barred to discuss "procedural questions" on how the decisions were reached to employ those recommended. The secret session was held in the middle of the regular board meeting Monday night.

CATCHING BIG ONES will be easier when the docks are built on the Middle Rouge lakes. (Staff photo)

No Fish Story

From mudholes to recreation jewels

There may be some truth after all in the old saying that all things come to those who wait.

After years of pleading with the powers that be and cajoling the state and county authorities to transform the three lakes in the Middle Rouge—Newburgh, Wilcox and Phoenix--from mudholes to recreation jewels, hopes were brightened this past week with announcement that contracts will be let for construction of three fishing docks. Two of these are planned for Newburgh Lake and the third for Wilcox, and the news brought joy to the hearts of those who have looked upon the lakes as examples of lost opportunities.

The announcement, made by Sen. Carl Pursell, (R-Plymouth), that the funds are coming from a legislative appropriation of $199,000, and that $66,000 of this amount will be spent on the docks, is a first step in what eventually could make the three lakes one the finest recreation areas in southeastern Michigan.

To those who have visioned the transformation of the mudholes for years, this is just a start.

ONCE THIS WORK is under way--and it should be completed this fall--the next move will be improvement of the shorelines and the landscaping of the banks, especially on the south side of Wilcox Lake. Then could come the much discussed program of pedal boats for the youth--much after the fashion now in use at Camp Dearborn--and later the old-time sidewheelers that have proven so popular in other areas.

In fact, the City of Livonia, several years ago, began a movement to acquire one of these old-timers with the thought of providing rides around Newburgh Lake. Along with this, there has been some thought of having a side wheeler, with the appropriate name of "The Mayflower" gliding around Wilcox Lake.

And don't be surprised if the Rotary Club of Plymouth agrees to sponsor a drive for a lighted fountain in the middle of Wilcox Lake to serve as a multi-colored beacon for the folks travelling the new freeways.

WHILE THEY'RE hoping for these improvements to come shortly, there even is talk now of sponsoring a show boat on Wilcox Lake during the summer months.

If such communities as Lowell and Chesaning can boast such an activity, why not Plymouth?

All of these ideas and hopes that have been cast aside for the past decade are now being revived with Sen. Pursell's announcement.

The three old mudholes may become jewels after all.

Teacher strike bill takes everybody off the hook

Observation Point

by PHILIP H. POWER

Last week, our legislative leaders in the House passed a bill with the supposed purpose of preventing teacher strikes. The very first two lines of the measure's language are symbolic of the very great problems the legislation will produce if finally enacted into law.

"An act to prohibit strikes by certain public employees; to permit strikes by certain public employees..."

On careful reading, the rest of the bill is just as confusing as the opening lines. What it seems to do is to establish that school will start on Sept. 2, the day after Labor Day, unless there is a strike, in which case nobody gets penalized as long as the strike isn't more than three weeks and the kids can get their 180 days of instruction in by the third Friday in June, which is when the school year must end. If, however, the strike goes from three weeks to five weeks, teachers lose a day's pay for every day on strike and the school board loses a proportionate amount in state aid. If the strike goes beyond five weeks, the school board can go to Circuit Court for relief; judges can order more negotiations, or order arbitration, or enjoin the strike.

WHAT CALLED all this lawmaking into effect was the rash of teacher strikes, primarily in suburban districts, last fall. The Crestwood District in Dearborn Heights was the most famous, but others (Garden City's strike lasted 42 days) were equally aggravating to parents and schoolchildren.

Since then, lobbyists representing the interests of teachers, school administrators, school boards, and everybody else under the sun have been having a go at the Legislature to get a bill favorable to their interests. At one point it got so bad that the Legislature locked the lobbyists into a room and told them not to come out until they had agreed to a bill.

That technique ultimately failed (to the relief of everyone), and we now have a bill which is being sold as the "solution" to the problem of teacher strikes.

I CANNOT see how the bill as presently written solves anything.

In fact, what the bill appears to do is guarantee three-week strikes at the beginning of the school year in every district negotiating a contract. Why not strike? The teachers won't lose any pay for striking, since they'll make it up at the end of the year, and there is no economic incentive for school boards to settle before the three-week period is over.

In fact, I'm not certain that the penalties during the next two-week period will have all that much effect in promoting settlement, since labor disputes that have run on for two or three weeks are usually pretty serious and highly emotional by that time.

Going to the Circuit Court, as set forth in the proposed law, is nothing different from the old law -- and there was very little in the old law that prevented teachers from simply ignoring the judge if they felt like it.

IT'S EASY to understand why this bill, with all of its defects, is being trumpeted as the solution to teacher strikes. It takes everybody off the hook, without really changing anything very much.

Teachers can still strike, which is nothing new; school boards can still try for injunctions from the courts, which they could do last year. The Legislature can say it faced up to a difficult problem and produced a solution.

In fact, it's a cop-out, masquerading as a solution.

As usual, the only people who get hurt are the children and parents, who are not represented by lobbyists or other organized pressure groups and who will go into the fall season not knowing when school will start and having no idea of when it will end in summer.

All in all, it's a bad bill, and I hope against hope that the State Senate amends it or that the governor vetoes it. But that would be too sensible.

Write-off needed for domestics

Eccentricities

by HANK HOGAN

Everyone knows it has become impossible to get domestic help.

The men and women who used to be domestics claim they no longer want to do the work because it is demeaning, but the real reason is probably that domestics were never paid very much, and they can now make more money through welfare and ADC.

One reason employers were reluctant to pay domestic help more is that there is no way to deduct those wages for income tax purposes, and everything paid came out of their net income after taxes.

Now we are in a period of hard times, with millions of people unemployed. Yet, there is no incentive for these people to go to work and take a cut in the income they receive from benefits.

A COUPLE OF YEARS ago, the tax laws were changed so that a husband and wife who both worked and whose joint income was less than $18,000 could deduct up to $4,800 a year for payments made to baby-sitters.

Next January the law will allow couples who are both working to have an income of $35,000 and still be entitled to deduct up to $4,800. This was the first transgression of allowing deductions for personal expenses.

If Congress would allow a deduction for wages paid to domestic help, householders could afford to pay substantially more for help and the job would become less demeaning and the welfare rolls would be lightened.

The net effect to the government should be a plus, because the employe's earnings would be subject to taxation (welfare payments are not) and the total cost of welfare to the states and federal government would be reduced.

SOMEHOW, WE are hung up in our tax philosophy. Wages are deductible for a man who washes windows for a store, but they are not if he washes windows for a home.

The name of the game is to get as many people as possible working and generating purchasing power which, in the long run, helps the growth of the country.

People who are working generate funds for social security, which also would help lessen the welfare rates in the future.

As industry automates, there will be fewer and fewer factory jobs in the future for the unskilled, and unemployment will plague us until these people are converted to the service sector of employment.

If this is to have any impact on the economy, the time to change the tax laws is now.

Redirecting ecology emphasis

Editor:

Your sad editorial of May 29, "Is ecology movement dead?" deserves an answer. We say, "No, it's alive, but it's gotten smarter."

It's true that kids are no longer so enthusiastic about cleaning up littered natural areas and recycling cans and bottles.

That comes from sad experience. Those efforts didn't solve the problem. More litter quickly replaced what was picked up.

We agree that more law enforcement isn't a solution. As you said, you can't put a policeman on every acre of parkland. And who ever sees the people who throw beer cans out of car windows?

So we've turned to a different idea: source reduction. We're trying, whenever practical, to stop manufacturers and retailers from using wasteful throwaway packaging.

A prime example right now is House Bill 4296, which requires beer and soft drinks to be sold in returnable containers, with a five or 10 cent deposit. The most visible, long-lasting litter is throwaway beverage bottles and cans. But people will be less likely to discard a bottle worth a dime, and if they do, someone else will be glad to pick it up for the refund.

Evidence shows that the idea will work—and did work for many years before throwaways came along. And it would mean less tax spending for trash disposal, more jobs, lower prices to consumers.

The bill is being blocked in the Michigan House of Representatives by some shortsighted industry and union lobbyists. Environmental and consumer Yes, in a more effective way than ever before. PIRGIM, the Public Interest Research Group in Michigan, is supported by students at Michigan universities—nearly 30,000 of them. With small contributions each term, they enable a full-time staff of seven to work with and for them in Lansing, to make Michigan better for everyone.

Don't write off the environmental movement yet...or young people.

JOSEPH S TUCHINSKY,
Executive Director,
PIRGIM, Lansing

Walkers were 'unruly mob'

Editor:

Re: the subject of youth group march, the wasted energy and the litter trail (Sherry Kahan's editorial, May 22), there is another facet that should be recognized—mob action.

This is an account of an incident that happened during the last walk-a-thon.

Our minister, an Episcopalian priest in his clerical garb, tried to enter E. Jefferson at Mt. Elliott on Detroit's east side, through the line of marchers. After pleading with them during several changes of the traffic light, to no avail, he locked the car doors and proceeded cautiously through, forcing them to give way. He made it, but they beat on his car and shouted obscenities at him.

This wasn't our fine young people using the only means they know to raise funds for a good cause but an unruly mob, pure and simple, ignoring the rights of the individual. Does the end justify the means?

PS: I cleaned up the litter after the local march, and the trampled lawn is back to normal.

Do brewers back recycling?

Editor:

When my alarm radio clicked on at 5:55 one morning, the newscaster made a statement that greatly alarmed me: "The brewers are launching a campaign to oppose returnable bottle legislation and do declare their support to the principle of recycling."

After four long years of recruiting volunteers to man our recycling center (one summer week we made 27 telephone calls to find three workers), we find ourselves not environmentalists, as we thought, but rather handmaidens to the Beverage Industry.

As committee treasurer, I keep the tallies on the weight and money we collect, and I know that glass recycling is not self-supporting. If anyone could truly make a living from it, there would be no need for volunteer do-gooders like us.

Drummond is part of state

Editor:

Next time you write about our great state and show a map of it, show all of it. There is a place called Drummond Island.

Russell F. Herbst,
Livonia

Editor's note: Indeed, you are right. The illustration the Observer & Eccentric runs occasionally does not include the island, but this is because most illustrations, including those issued by the state, do not picture it. However, Drummond Island is drafted on the official state highway map, right at the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula.

Store murals eye-catching

Editor:

Congratulations to the individuals, either the store owners or the enterprising artists, who had the imagination and initiative to place the colorful eye-catching murals on the store sides on the Plymouth Road buildings between Hubbard and Merriman. It is the most colorful and pleasing sight to appear on an otherwise drab busy through street.

I'd recommend Livonians take a look at these artistic building walls and then recommend that store owners in their neighborhoods follow suit.

Hospital efforts highly praised

READERS' FORUM

Editor:

With such an abundance of injurious and criminal behavior these days, perhaps my recent experience will hearten those citizens who have become dispirited and depressed.

On May 2 I sustained a heart attack while on a golf driving range. An ambulance was summoned and, primarily because it was closest, I requested to be taken to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. I found out several days later that I had suffered a condition known as "auricular fibrillation," a wild, uncontrolled, sporadic beating of my heart.

At the hospital emergency ward, my life was saved only through the immediate and skillful application of a defibrillator, an instrument that shocked my heart back to a normal and regular pumping action once again.

The following six days were spent in the coronary care ward, where not only were all my bodily functions recorded, but all my needs were anticipated and cared for by the most competent, dedicated and wonderful staff of nurses I have ever known and whom I shall never forget.

On the sixth day following my heart attack, I was transferred to Ward 4 East. Once again I found all the nurses, aides and orderlies to be dedicated to caring for my every need. They also couldn't have done more to make me as comfortable and cheerful as my condition would permit. The food was excellent, and all my medications were timely and courteously administered.

In spite of this being a Catholic institution, the fact that I am a Protestant couldn't have been of any less importance, nor was religion ever mentioned. To all these complete strangers, I was simply a fellow human being in need, and was treated like the most important man on earth from the moment I was rushed into their emergency ward.

I shall never forget their innumerable kindnesses, and will forever be indebted to the fine staff of St. Mary Hospital.

Managers are concerned

Editor:

This is a letter of praise for the managers of Westgate Towers senior citizen apartments in Westland, Mr. and Mrs. Bandy, where my mother is a resident.

They are both so patient, concerned, friendly and treat all the people equally. I think you would have to go a long ways to find someone to replace them.

I am very thankful to have my mother in such a nice place where I know someone else is concerned about her health and welfare as much as I am.

Bike program lauded

Editor:

On behalf of more than 200 children of Hoover Elementary in Livonia who had their bikes inspected; 600 who had bike safety class instruction and a special assembly; and 125 who participated in bike rally contests May 17, we wish to express our appreciation to all who helped make the program a success.

Donna Halstead of the American Youth Hostels and Officer John Hoye and Cadets Mark Mitchell and Kevin Dawley of the Livonia Police Department participated in the assembly. The Livonia Jaycees and the Pedal Pusher Bike Shop helped with prizes. The Rimspinner Bicycle Club members and Officer Hoye and Cadets Mitchell and Kevin Fitzgerald on their own time served as judges at the Bike Rodeo.

We feel young bike riders who learn to ride safely will not only be better off now, but will also be more likely to be safe automobile support was invaluable in Hoover's Bike Safety Program and we thank them.

Dems thank participants

Editor:

As coordinator of the Wayne II Democratic Issues Seminar held May 31, I would like to express our sincere thanks to all the residents of Livonia, Plymouth and Northville who turned out to take advantage of our program.

The seminars were aimed at the problems of women today, the needs of our senior citizens, consumer services, responsiveness of government and alternative methods of financing education.

I would also like to extend appreciation to Beverly McAninch, mayor of Plymouth; Edward McNamara, mayor of Livonia; Sen. Jack Faxon; and William Ralls of the Public Service Commission.

DR. LARRY VANDERMOLEN,

Flowers should stay on graves

Editor:

Saturday, June 14, I placed a geranium plant on my dad's grave for Father's Day at Glen Eden Cemetery. I pass the cemetery every day, so Monday morning I drove in to check if it was still there. It was. But Wednesday, just four days later, it was gone. I was boiling mad.

I wrote and complained, but I know what their answer will be. It was removed because the grass had to be cut. Why couldn't the grass have been cut before Father's Day or waited until a week later so the plants and bouquets could stay a little longer?

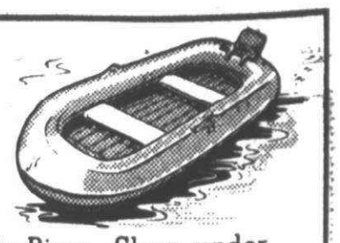

This isn't the first time plants and flowers have been removed so soon after being placed on a grave for a special occasion.

They have deadlines when fresh flowers can be used, and still it does no good to put them on. I can see where dead cut flowers don't look nice and should be thrown away, but a plant that blooms all summer and is disposed of so soon is maddening. The whole section was almost bare, so I'm sure lots of good flowers were thrown away.

I know many people don't revisit the graves so soon after they've been there, but maybe they should to check and see how long their plants or flowers are left there.

Markes' bill bans smoking in stores

LANSING—Rep. John Markes (D-Westland) sees as "fair and reasonable" his House approved bill to ban smoking in grocery stores.

"It takes into consideration the rights of both smokers and nonsmokers," Markes said. "It is a reasonable solution to a very serious problem."

The bill, first unit of a "Nonsmokers Bill of Rights" now before the Legislature, passed the House june 17 on an 85-12 vote and now is before the Senate Health Committee.

Besides being able to shop for food uncontaminated by smoke and in a smoke-free atmosphere, "all customers have a possible windfall with an unquestioned reduction in store insurance costs," said Markes, whose 36th District includes Westland and southwestern Livonia.

Insurance rates could decline by up to 20 per cent, he estimated, an the savings "should and would be passed along to the consumer."

RESPONSIBILITY for enforcing the ban would be placed on store officials.

A store permitting its customers to smoke would face a misdemeanor charge with penalties of up to 90 days in jail, a $1,000 fine or both.

A person refusing to quit smoking at the store's request could be charged with being a disorderly person, also a misdemeanor.

Provision also is made in the bill for a store to establish smoking areas for employes and customers, as long as the area is located away from food.

"IT'S A SIMPLE bill," Markes said, "and results in the least inconvenience of the many bills that have been batting about."

"It means only a short inconvenience to those addicted to smoking and allows both smokers and nonsmokers to buy food that is uncontaminated."

Markes said his measure has the support of the Michigan Retail Merchants Association, the Food Dealers Association of Michigan, the State Department of Health and the State Department of Agriculture.

Other Bill of Rights components still pending before the Legislature would restrict smoking in hospitals, outlaw smoking in public buildings and require large restaurants to have nonsmoking areas.

Registering for the draft

Procedures to register for the military draft were changed on April 1, 1975. Since that date no one can be registered during the remainder of the 1975 calendar year.

Although public announcements were made about this change in April, Selective Service offices are still getting calls from 18-year-olds asking if they still have to register.

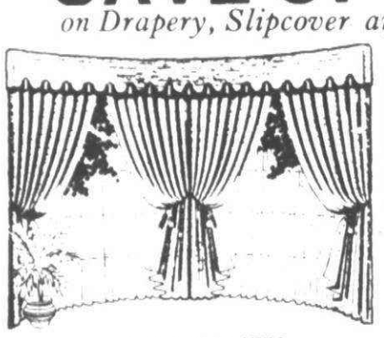

Instead of having to register within a few days of their 18th birthday, persons will now register during a single annual registration period of a few days in early 1976.

Seven-year-old Victor Golden III qualifies for national infantile trials

By TOM SCHRAM
Sports Editor

Even when Victor Golden III tries to look mean, he comes off as your normal seven-year-old neighborhood boy who is more interested in puppy dogs and ice cream than winning international wrestling meets.

And, in fact, to a large extent that is exactly true of the young Canton Township resident who prefers to shun his longer name and call himself "just Vic."

But last weekend Vic took a pair of third places in Eastern National Amateur Athletic Union freestyle and Greco Roman age group wrestling to qualify for a host of national and international tournaments and begin what may be a very bright athletic career.

In the competition held at Eastern Michigan University's Bowen Field House, Vic posted the pair of thirds to qualify for such tournaments as the prestigious Willfrido Massieu international tournament to be held in Mexico City next month and the AAU Infintile team tournament next month in Nebraska.

But for Vic, wrestling is more a pastime than a passion.

"I want to play little league baseball and run track," he says.

Vic has been wrestling competitively for only six months.

VIC AND his wrestling medals.

Last fall his mother enrolled him in a wrestling program at the Wayne-Westland YMCA and its been all history since then as he has won 44 of 67 matches -- many over wrestlers heavier than himself as he has trouble reaching the 45—pound classification in which he competes.

"I enrolled him in the wrestling program because it was the only class of that nature offered," said his mother Christi Golden.

"I'm divorced and I didn't want him to turn out to be a sissy. Seriously, I think you have to be aware of too much of the female influence and I think programs such as this are good for him," she said.

The highlight of Vic's "career" before last weekend came in the New Baltimore Mexican Exchange tournament in April in which he defeated Mexican 45-pound champion Guillermo Ramirez 17-2 to win the title at that event.

"That gives him a lot of confidence for the tournament in Mexico City," said Mrs. Golden.

Despite his success, Vic remains almost "shy" about his wrestling according to his mother.

"HE'S NOT REALLY a bashful child, but he doesn't brag. He kinda takes it all in stride. He just doesn't have a big ego. He's proud in a shy way," she said.

Mrs. Golden is her son's biggest fan and thinks of herself as a sort of assistant coach.

"He's a very agile child and I get really involved with his wrestling. I'm always at the edge of the mat shouting," she said.

The fly in the ointment over Vic's success this past weekend comes in the fact that the Wayne-Westland Spartans wrestling Club lacks the funds to send its four wrestlers who qualified for the Willfrido Massieu tournament to Mexico City.

With only about $40 in the treasury, the club is not even close to the $1,600 it will need to meet expenses on the trip.

The club is currently petitioning area businessmen for donations to make the trip but with competition beginning onJuly 3, the deadline is approaching.

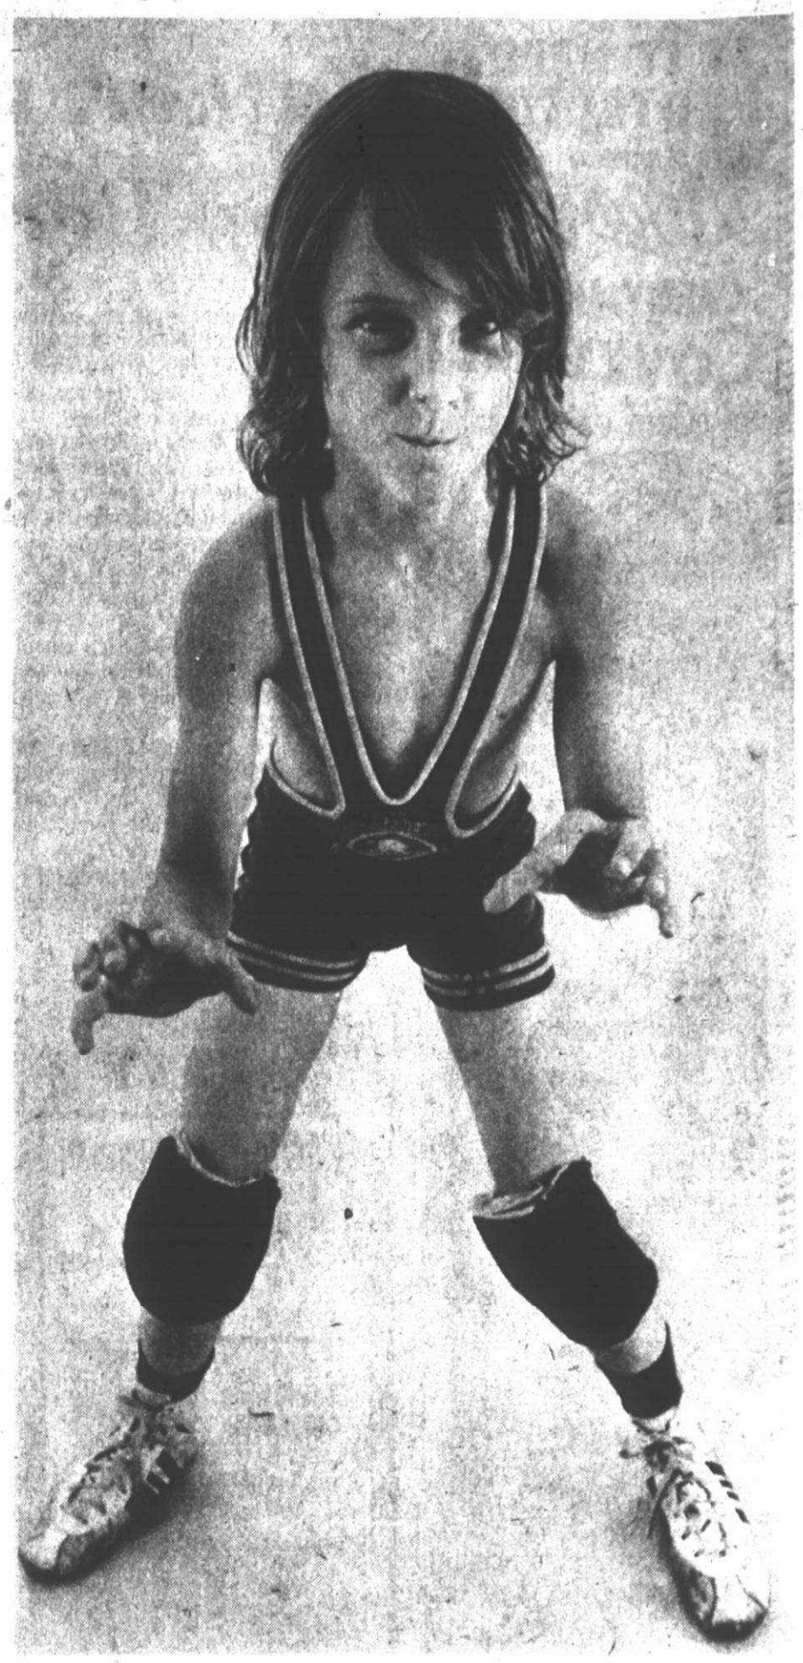

In addition, no plans are currently under way to finance Vic's trip to Nebraska for the AAU finals.

"He's the only one from the club who qualified to go to Nebraska. But we just don't have that kind of money," Mrs. Golden said.

Area residents who wish to contribute to the fund to send the four wrestlers to Mexico City or to send Vic toNebraska should contact the club at the Wayne-Westland YMCA.

"I just think it would be a great experience for him to be able to compete against the best in the country," Mrs. Golden said.

And for Victor Golden III it would mean a chance to try to look mean in some places very far away from Canton Township.

Tight jockey race, 3-mile event highlight DRC finish

A red hot jockey race between Ramon Perez and Sam Maple, two $50,000 events for Michigan-breds and the first 3-mile race in the history of the track will spice the final three weeks of the 1975 thoroughbred season at Detroit Race Course.

The 17,502 throng which watched Mr. Lucky Phoenix win the Michigan Mile last Saturday was the best crowd at DRC since 1972, and plant officials hope it was a harbinger of things to come in the season's closing afternoons. The big mile track winds up its thoroughbred season on Sunday, July 13, and begins an 83-night harness meeting the following Tuesday.

The annual $50,000 Dowling Memorial Handicap, for state bred 3-year-olds at a distance of a mile and one sixteenth, will enliven race proceedings this Saturday at DRC. Ocean Drive, owned by the Estate of the late Robert R. Flynn of Northville, finally beat Red Bob Farm's Royal Finish after a tight stretch drive in the $8,200 Dowling Prep last Saturday.

The expected return from the Prep of such other fine colts as Alibi Bill and St. Aubin, who finished third and fourth, Super Andy, Kims Papoose and Rullahs Clarion will guarantee a strong field for a race that was won last year by Flynn's Billy Onward.

PEREZ AND MAPLE will be back atop Royal Finish and Alibi Bill, respectively, in the Dowling and the tightness of their season-long battle for the track jockey championship will add further interest to the main event. Perez, a 26-year-old Cuban rider, and Maple, a 22-year-old Ohioan, each won three races on last Sunday's 10 race card as they began their battle to the wire.

Perez built up a victory lead before Maple arrived at DRC this spring, but he has never been able to enjoy more than an 11-win advantage. Maple, on the other hand, has never been able to close the gap tighter than a three victory span. Through racing of Tuesday Perez had totaled 73 wins, Maple followed at 65. Closest pursuer to the two runaways was Mike Morgan with 40.

The unique and colorful 3-mile marathon will come on Saturday, July 12, and culminate the long Detroit Distance Series which started weekly back on March 15 at one mile. Building up to the grand finale, the series over the next three Saturdays will feature distances of two miles, two and one fourth and two and one half miles.

Horses build up points according to their finish in the various distance races, and thus do not have to race in every series event to be a contender. Such popular DRC performers as Celestial Bay, Bucket O'Suds, Wapping Street and Ft. Mill have been among the most consistent as the stamina tests head toward the finish.

DRC's closing day card on Sunday, July 13, will be topped by the $50,000 Michigan Futurity for 2-year-old Michigan-breds.

MR. LUCKY PHOENIX romps home nearly three lengths ahead of the highly favored Stonewalk in the 27th running of the Michigan Mile, Michigan's richest horse race, held Saturday at Livonia's Detroit Race Course.

400 entrants make first Schoolcraft tourney success

The biggest tennis tournament ever held in this area turned out to be an overwhelming success last Saturday as more than 400 players participated in the first annual Schoolcraft College tourney.

"It really was a huge success. I didn't expect anywhere near this number of entrants," said meet director Hugh Leavell.

Leavell said that he was pleased with the tournament despite the fact that inclement weather forced some of the matches indoors.

"We really owe a debt of gratitude to both the Northwest Raquet Club and the Livonia YMCA. We could not have made it without them," Leavell said.

The tournament, completed last Friday, saw the Jim Domke, the number four seeded men's single player come out on top. Three top seeds fell in the semifinal round of the tournament.

Results:

MENS SINGLES: Jim Domke (Henry Ford Community College) def. John Sisson (Belleville), 6-2, 7-6.

WOMEN'S SINGLES: Kathy Miesel def. Kathy Ladd (Livonia), 6-2, 6-4.

MEN'S DOUBLES: Jim Domke and Steve Navarro (Henry Ford Community College) def. Jim Bajor and John Chapman 7-6, 7-6.

WOMEN'S DOUBLES: Carmen Charpentier (Southfield) and Joyce Crysler (Inkster) def. Allice Simpson (Dearborn) and Rosemary Preuter (Plymouth), 7-5, 6-2.

JUNIOR SINGLES: Todd Beyer (Westland) def. Dan Turcotte (Dearborn) 6-4, 6-2.

MIXED DOUBLES: John Sisson (Belleville) and Rosemary Preuter (Plymouth) def. Jim Snyder (Livonia) and Jan Martin (Livonia), 7-5, 6-3.

Father, son combination puts MNB atop Berry National standings

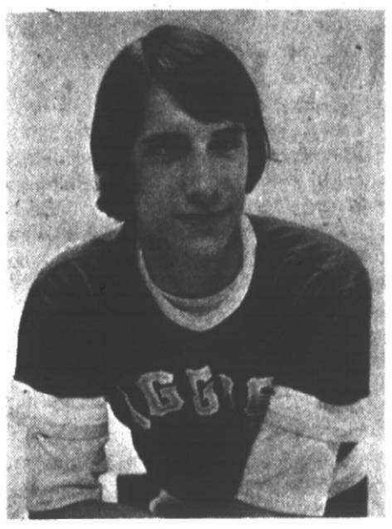

Nepotism might be shaky in the world of business, but for Michigan National Bank of the Livonia Berry Connie Mack baseball league, it seems to be working out just fine.

The reason is that Pat Ruvolo senior, and Pat Ruvolo junior,the Sanford and Son of the Berry League, have respectively coached and pitched MNB to the top of the National League standings with a perfect 5-0 record after sweeping a pair of games Saturday.

Ruvolo junior has been nearly untouchable as a pitcher, allowing only two earned runs and six hits in two complete games.

Pitching, in fact, has been the strong point of the team as a whole, with Greg Sipus posting a 2-0 record including a five-hitter and John Kolis perfect at 1-0.

Right-fielder Tim Murphy and shortstop Rob Rose have been, as was expected, the mainstays at the bat for

PAT RUVOLO

MNB but Ron Colone, who was a sophomore at Stevenson High School last year, has been a pleasant surprise.

Colone has picked up six hits in seven appearences to lead the team in average.

"I wasn't starting him early in the season, but the way he's hitting the ball I'll have to find a spot for him in the line-up," said Manager Ruvolo.

"I like this team because it's balanced," he went on. "Our pitching may be strong, but we've been hitting the ball, too. We have 41 hits in five games and that's not bad. But this is a very tough league and it's still early in the season. It seems that all our games are big games because of the quality of the competition," Ruvolo said.

In the American division of the Berry League, the Yankees remain in front with a perfect record while the Panthers, at 4-1, remain in hot pursuit.

Thursday is "position night" throughout the league which may juggle the standings considerably.

MNB — ELKS

Pat Ruvolo struck out six, walked two and held the Plymouth Elks to four hits as Michigan National Bank won its opening game Saturday 4-2.

Rob Rose delivered a two out triple in the first which scored Ron Colone and Gary Beyrand and Ruvolo each had RBI singles in the second to but MNB up 3-0 early.

The Elks scored run in the fourth on John DenHouter's single, an MNB error and Charlie Johnson's basehit. The Elks had scored one in the third on a walk and two errors.

Tim Murphy accounted for the final run of the game in the last of the fourth when he singled to right scoring Gary Beyrand who had reached base on an Elks error.

Tom Chiatalias took the loss in his first start for the Elks.

MNB — THURSTON

Michigan National Bank came back from a two-run first inning deficit and then held off a Thurston rally in the seventh inning to up its record to 5-0 in the National League.

Greg Sipus posted the victory while Dave Hofflich was the loser for Thurston as both teams recorded eight hits.

Thurston jumped to the 2-0 lead in the opening inning when Dan Hunter singled and Randy Rodriguez tripled and scored on an MNB error.

MNB came back for one in the bottom of the inning when John Kolis and Jim Snyder singled and Tim Murphy hit a sacrifice fly.

MNB took the lead in the third on a Thurston error, a wild pitch, a walk , a fielder's choice and Murphy's RBI single.

Randy Besh tripled and Gary Beyrand doubled to give MNB another run in the fourth and Jim Snyder, Rob Rose and Murphy singled and Thurston committed two errors to give MNB three more runs in the fifth.

Thurston rallied in the seventh when Dave Beebe walked, Dennis Kuschel tripled and Hunter and Rodriguez singled.

But after Brian D'Ascenzo reached base on an error, Sipus got Mark Purkiss to ground out and struck out Brian Shastlinian to end the game.

APPLIANCE — ELKS

The Plymouth Elks scored three times in the fifth inning to break up a close game and defeat Adray Appliance 7-3 Saturday.

Brian Wolcott went the distance for Plymouth to record the win in his first start of the year.

Both teams had seven hits and both recorded four errors.

Charlie Johnson hit an RBI single in the first which scored Dave Pierce who had reached base on an error to give the Elks a 1-0 lead.

Appliance got that run back in the top of the second when Doug Lowney singled, stole second and came home on Steve Shultz's basehit.

But the Elks nullified that run in the bottom of the inning on two Appliance errors, a stolen base and a sacrifice.

Apliance jumped ahead in the fourth when Jess was safe on an error, was sacrificed to second and came home on Howard Copeland's single. Copeland, who had advanced to second on the throw to the plate for Jess, then scored on another RBI single by Murphy. Plymouth tallied its three runs in the fifth when Brian Wolcott and John DenHouter walked, Howard Inch singled in one and Bob Smith drove in two more with a single. Smith had two hits for the Elks and Greg Wood and Schultz each had a pair for Appliance.

FISCHETTI — THURSTON

Dave Ribick struck out eight and walked only one as Thurston knocked off Fishetti Florists 3-1 Saturday.

Fishetti out-hit Thurston 6-5, but Thurston strung three of its hits together in the third inning when it scored all of its runs.

In that inning, Mark Purkis and Dave Beebe started things with singles. They both advanced on a wild pitch and came home on Keith Schauder's base hit. Shauder went to second on the throw to the plate and moved to third on a wild pitch.

He then scored on Randy Kroll's ground out.

Fischetti scored its run in the fourth when Jim Hill singled, moved to second on a wild pitch and scored on Jim Mulligan's basehit.

Hill took the loss for Fishetti. Mark Purkiss was the only player on either team to get two hits. Thurston is now 2-3.

YANKEES — LUCKY LINDY'S

Brent Ericson advanced his record to 2-0 as the Yankees beat Lucky Lindy's 4-2 last week.

Catcher Tom Pacion delivered the big blow of the ball game in the Yankee third.Trailing 2-1 at that point, Pacion blasted a pitch for a home run to left-center field with one on to put the Yankees ahead to stay.

Dave Katz recorded a perfect day at the plate in two trips for the Yankees.

YANKEES — LIVONIA OPTIMIST

The Yankees put a frown on the faces of their Livonia Optimist opponents Saturday when they whipped Optimist 9-3.

The Yankees ended the matter early, scoring four runs on four hits in the top of the first.

Dave Katz and Mike Laird each went two-for-three on the day to ace the Yankee attack and Brent Ericson made it three-for-three in the pitching department, striking out 11 and walking only three while stopping Optimist on two hits.

The Yankees picked up 11 hits on the day.

YANKEES — REEF

Mike Greise put on a 15 strike-out performance as the Yankees beat Northville Reef 6-3 Saturday.

Dave Katz and Tom DePriest each picked up two hits and Tom Pacion broke the game open in the third with a three-run homer to right-center field.

Greis walked only three while holding Reef to four hits.

PANTHERS — CHOO-CHOO

The Redford Panthers went on a 13 hit spree and topped Choo-Choo Car Wash of Northville 7-3 Saturday.

Jerry Thom took the win in relief of Brian Macek to up his record qo 1-0.

Choo-Choo grabbed an early 3-0 lead but the Panthers bounced back for a run in the fifth on Mark Ward's double and A.J. Baker's single and then exploded for six runs in the sixth.

In that rally, Jeff Sheeran, Bruce Stadler, Jim Ulych and Craig Barrowcliff all singled, with Barrowcliff picking up a pair of RBIs, Craig Hill walked, Jerry Thom was safe on a fielder's choice and Ward hit a two-run double.

PANTHERS — LIVONIA OPTIMIST

Craig Barrowcliff won his second game in three decisions and qhe Panthers defeated Livonia Optimist 8-6 Saturday.

Optimist scored five of its runs in the fifth inning to take a 5-2 lead, but the Panthers came right back for four runs of its own in the bottom of that inning and held on.

Willette keeps winning with new team, league

Tom Willette was in a familiar position for a while in last Saturday's s Plymouth Bidwell Masonry victory over Westland Burger King in Adray League baseball action.

The ace southpaw who just two weeks ago led Plymouth Salem High School to the Class A Michigan champibnship was coasting along after four innings without having given up a hit and with a seemingly commanding 6-0 lead.

But Willette was in an unfamiliar position just three innings later, as he tired and gave up two runs in the fifth and five more in the seventh before finally retiring the persistent Burger King team and winning his first Adray start of the year, 10-7.

Bidwell started with three runs in the first inning as Keith Randazzo singled, Cris Martucci and Joe Caudill both doubled and Westland committed two errors.

The Plymouth team also accumulated three runs in the second and sixth innings as Randazzo, Martucci and Caudill each picked up a pair of hits.

But in the end, Bidwell had to hang on for its life as the five-run seventh inning rally fell three runs short.

Willette struck out seven and walked four for the day.

In the second game of the doubleheader, Burger King put on a 17-hit display and easily defeated Bidwell 11-4.

Burger King took a 9-1 lead after three innings and coasted home with Jeff Hodgkins picking up the victory.

Mark Walsh had a home run and a single and Ken Robinson went five-for-five and had five RBIs for the day to pace the Westland attack.

In addition Bob Ganzak had three hits including a triple and Hodgkins had two hits and two RBIs for Burger King.

Tom Willette and Doug Tripp each had a pair of hits for Bidwell.

BURGER KING — GARDEN CITY

Westland Burger King defeated Garden City Sporting Goods 5-1 in the first of two games Sunday as Rolland Morency struck out four and walked just one to pick up the win.

Steve Hodgkins had all five RBI's for Burger King including a first inning three-run home run which he hit after Bob Ganzak and Ken Robinson had singled.

Hodgkins' sacrifice fly in the third drove in Ganzak who had walked and the fifth RBI came on Hodgkins' single in the fifth after two walks.

Garden City's only run came in the third when Gary Ferenchick tripled and came home on Mike Lynch's base-hit.

Jim Purdy worked five innings and took the loss for Garden City.

Purdy redeemed himself in the second game however when he came on in the ninth in relief of Tom Poole and held Burger King scoreless for four innings as Garden City won the 12 inning affair 8-7.

Garden City scored the decisive run when Paul Reed walked and came home on Joe Becszlko's shot up the left-centerfield alley.

Steve Hodgkins had four hits and Bob Ganzak and Jeff Hodgkins had three hits each for Burger King.

REDFORD — ROYAL OAK

Redford Adray continued its poor showing in Adray League competition Sunday as the perennial league champ dropped a pair of games to Royal Oak to drop its record to 3-5.

"It's a general thing. We have to hang in there and hope we can get ourselves straightened out," said Redford coach Bob Atkins.

Generosity was the Redford problem in the first game of the Royal Oak twinbill.

Ron Silverstein, Gary Bolland and Bob Wasilowski combined to walk 10 Royal Oak batters as Redford lost 9-2. Bases on balls were a factor in each Royal Oak score.

In the first inning, Royal Oak's Pat Simpson, who went four-for-four and had five RBIs in the game, singled after two had walked to put Royal Oak up 1-0.

Redford took a momentary lead in the third when Dan Burke singled and Kevin Bara powered a long home run to right field. Gary D'Ascenzo and John Broder then both singled but were stranded.

Royal Oak got the lead back in the bottom of that inning when two men walked with two out and Simpson doubled them in.

Royal Oak added a pair in the fifth with one out when Simpson singled following a walk, Redford committed an error to move the runners up and Paul Harris hit a two-run single.

Simpson added a two run single in the four-run Royal Oak sixth inning.

Redford won every statistic but runs in the second game of the doubleheader. Kevin Bara pitched a strong game, striking out 10 and walking only one but Royal Oak finished on top 3-2.

Redford had seven hits in that game.

Royal Oak strung out all of its hits in the fourth when it scoredits three runs.

Tom McWilliams started that inning with a single and Joe Blugerman doubled down the right field line. Catcher John Broder handled an overthrow from the outfield for Redford on that play and threw to Bara who was covering the plate. McWilliams was safe on the play although the call was hotly disputed.

Mike Cullen then singled in Blugerman and Paul Harris doubledto score Cullen.

In the Redford fourth John Broded tripled to right but was stranded and in the fifth Redford loaded the bases with none out on singles by Bara, Mike Kalil and John Roy.

But Gary D'Ascenzo popped out, Mark Yorchuck looked at a third strike and Bob Waslewski hit a routine grounder to end the threat.

Redford got on the board in the seventh when Bara singled, Kalil walked and D'Ascenzo hit an RBI single with one out.

A second run scored on Mark Yorchuk's ground out but Waselewski popped to Simpson at third to end the game.

200 run in West meet

The Metro-West Track Club opened it's fourth season last Wednesday, as a record 200 athletes participated in the metric meet held at Garden City East High School.

Doug Kurtis and Doug Sweazey, members of the Metro-West, took the first two places in the longest event of the day, the 5000 meter run. Kurtis won in a time of 15:31 in beating Sweazey by 11 seconds.

Chris Richards, of the Motor City Track Club, bested a field of 40 runners to take the 100 meter dash in 10.1 seconds. William Copeland, of Cooley High School, was clocked at 10.2, while Inkster High sprinter, Russell Bailey, was 3rd in 10.25. Sharon Dryer of the Lipke Track Club won the women's 100 meters in 12.7 seconds.

The 400 meter dash was won by Brian King of Rochester Adams in 50.6 seconds. James Grace and Mike Casson took 2nd and 3rd in 51.0 as the top 9 finishers broke 52 seconds. Rochelle Collins of the Motor City Track Club won the womens division of the 400 meters in 57.7 seconds beating Livonia's Sharon Dryer who ran 59.1.

The 1500 meter race was won by Livonia Franklin graduate John Dawe, who ran a time of 4:05 as the first 7 runners went under 4:20.

Westland John Glenn's Tom Jakubowski long jumped 6 inches further than he had all season as he won that event with a distance of 22' 5¾". Tom Keenan, of Harper Woods Notre Dame won the other field event, the shot put, with a toss of 39'½".

Motor City's foursome of Charles Miles, James Grace, Orlando Fielder, and Gonzie Turner won the mile relay in 3:26.7 seconds. Bentley's Rick Hammill anchored a pick-up team that won the 440 relay in 43.4 seconds. The girl's division of the 440 relay was won by Lipke Track Club's Cindy Mellas, Nellie Smyka, Pam Beernick, and Sharon Dryer in 52 seconds flat.

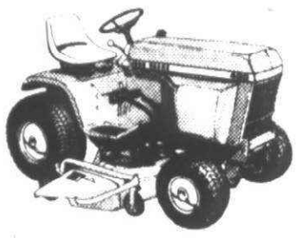

The Metro-Wests next meet will be held on Wednesday at Garden City East High School. Events scheduled are the pole vault, 120 yard high hurdles, 1-mile, women's 200, men's 220, 2-mile, women's mile, 880, fitness mile, and women's and men's 880 relay.

The entry fee is 50 cents per meet, and the meet is open to any athlete who wishes to compete.

In The Pocket.

By W.W. EDGAR

Unless there is a wild scoring spree over the coming weekend that would shuffle the standings, the Detroit area women bowlers will will win a majority of the titles in the state tournament that closes Sunday.

Heading the list will be the Pine Tree Lounge team that rolled 2803 last April, and it has withstood all challenges to date. This team includes Rose Aprahamian, Susan Sternett, Jean Roth, Kay Coppola and Bonnie Barnes.

Kathy Springs is almost assured of the singles title as her 676 rolled on April 5 is one of the highest series of the year. The same is true with Mary Mohacsi, the Livonia school teacher, and Patricia Roth, of Novi, who are at the head of the doubles teams with 1240 that was rolled on April 5.

The only title that would escape them is the all-events, now paced by Helen Munther of Kalamazoo with 1853.

IT'S DIFFICULT to keep the old timers down. This was proven again with the announcement of the all-city women's teams chosen by the Detroit Woman's Bowling Association.

While the younger bowlers captured most of the places on the first team, Mary Mohacsi and Ann Setlock of Garden Lanes, both former bowling queens were named to the second team along with Elvira Toepfer, another former queen.

The first team has Cora Fiebig, the 1975 queen as captain with Lavolia Brown, Pat Lisowski. Kathy Springs and Geraldine Beattie as teammates.

Cora dominated the women's scene all year and captured four of the top honors at the annual awards dinner. She shared in the city team title: won the all events, was named to the all-city team and then was crowned "queen."

HERE'S A NAME to remember when you are discussing the women stars of the future.

Geraldine Beattie served notice that she is on her way when she captured the women's city singles championship with a 690 series that included a 276 game.

BOB CHAMBERLAIN, who does a lot of bowling at Westland Bowl. quit being a bridesmaid in the Michigan Majors Association over the past weekend when he paced the field in the monthly event at Wildwood Lanes in Southgate. He had placed second on six occasions. This time, however, he averaged 211 in winning nine of his 12 matches and contributed a 298 game.

AT THE HALF-WAY point in the Best Ball Tournament at Merri-Bowl, Chuck Evans and Kathy Holly are pacing the field with an 841 series. Their closest rivals are Ken Nikkila and Ralph Bingley with 1817.

LARRY BLAIR walked off with scoring honors in the Cadillac Mixed League at Garden Lanes when he posted a 256 in 670. This beat Ted Stefanski by six pins whil;e third place went to John King with a 246 in 596. Other high scores among the men were a 246 by Rick Schultz and a 247 by Dorian Krager.

Dot Nagy showed the way to the women with a 212 in 525 and Fran Tuttle posted a 208 in 543.

Track losers may get break from state

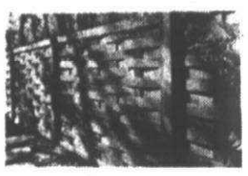

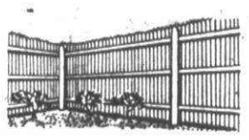

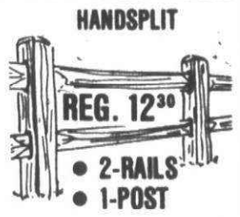

Racetrack winners may soon be able to deduct their losses against winnings on their Michigan income tax returns.

State Representative Robert Geake (R-Northville-Livonia) has introduced a bill, House Bill 5300, which would allow winning bettors to do this.

"I want to see this bill become law because I think it's only fair to the bettor," Geake said. "As the law is now, a bettor could win $10,000 in one race, lose it in the next and still be required to pay state income taxes on the $10,000."

Geake, who has two racetracks in his district, Northville Downs and Detroit Race Course, said that the federal government already allows for income tax deductions against winnings.

A Romulus High School teacher has contacted Geake about the situation. Dr. Harry Willnus originally brought the inequity of the present law to Geake's attention. Willnus is an avid racetrack bettor and is waging a campaign on behalf of all racing fans to be allowed to deduct losses against winnings. Willnus tried unsuccessfully two years ago to file his state income tax with his losses deducted.

SC can lease new satellite center

By DENNY COFFMAN

The Garden City Board of Education Monday agreed to lease Harrison Elementary School to Schoolcraft College on a gradual basis this fall.

The college now leases the vacated Florence Elementary School as a Garden City extension of its main campus, but facilities there are inadequate for projected enrollment increases.

The Garden City administration said, based on its projections (which have been accurate to one per cent in the past), students now attending Harrison can be easily accommodated in the neighboring Douglas Elementary.

Douglas is a kindergarten through third grade school; Harrison is a fourth through sixth grade school.

"HERE WE HAVE an opportunity not to close a school, but to open one," said Kenneth Carman, school board president. "It gives our residents a chance to go from kindergarten right through the first two years of college without going more than a few blocks."

However, the school board left itself an out should Garden City's enrollment suddenly start to increase. According to terms of the proposed six-year lease, the Garden City district can reopen the school to its own students if the need arises.

The college will rent eight classrooms at Harrison this fall, but will continue to occupy Florence through the 1975-76 school year, according to terms of the proposed lease.

The transfer will be complete, with the college vacating Florence by the fall term of 1976.

THE SCHOOLCRAFT College Board of Trustees was scheduled to vote on the matter during a meeting last night (Wednesday). Most of the trustees reportedly favor the transfer from Florence to Harrison.

One of Schoolcraft's most important considerations is the increased number of classrooms in Harrison, more than double those in Florence. Harrison has 21, Florence only 10.

Another reason for the move is parking at Harrison. After the college improves the Harrison parking lot in December, there will be room for 360 cars.

The Florence parking lot, with 65 spaces, was recently improved by the college with state funds.

According to Clay Fechter, director of the Schoolcraft branch in Garden City, about 1,300 students are enrolled in the Florence School.

"We have a terribly large crowd here now," said Fechter. Harrison he said could handle about 2,000 students.

"THIS WILL BE a worthwhile addition to education in the community," said Carman. "We don't want to close down a school building without benefiting citizens."

However, one resident present at the Monday board meeting claimed the area would be turned into a "dragstrip" when the college occupies Harrison.

According to Bracken Snow, superintendent of schools, residents would be protected from heavy traffic because college students would enter and exit on Hartel. Carman said he expected a green belt, a strip of shrubs and grass, to buffer area residents from car lights and noise.

Trustee Delora Yori said an empty school building posed more of a problem to the community than the traffic problem would.

"I think this is a great opportunity because otherwise residents have to subsidize empty school buildings," said Carman.

"We have had complaints of congestion around Florence," he said, "and this is the least offensive way to handle it."

Trustee John Parry agreed that Hartel could handle the traffic in from Maplewood.

Snow said cars would be coming and going at various times, and there would be no sudden surge of traffic.

He said a "needs assessment" would be conducted to determine what use, if any, could be made of the Florence building.

John Giacomini, personnel director for the Garden City district, said allowing Schoolcraft to use the Harrison building "provides a viable alternative to a school closing."

Giacomini said the lease would extend through June 30, 1981.

Prior to the board's unanimous approval of the lease, Turstee Frank Wanderski, said: "Success is what killed the Florence location."

JOHN GROVE of 19158 Omus, Livonia, has been appointed executive director of the Association for Finishing Processes of the Society of Manufacturing Engineers (SME). Grove will coordinate the association's educational activities covering the finishing technologies of radiation curing, powder coating, water-borne materials, high-solids coatings and other processes. The group is located at 20501 Ford Road, Dearborn. Grove joined the SME staff in 1966 and has served in various capacities. He has BS and master of science degrees in trade and industrial education from Kansas State College.

C. OLIN SMITH of Livonia has been promoted to assistant vice-president of National Bank of Detroit's regional banking division. He will be in charge of operations and personnel administration of NBD's 15 branch offices in its Metro West Center headquartered in Plymouth.

RICHARD M. MILLER of Livonia was elected a Fellow of the American Society of Quality Control. Miller, who is director of manufacturing quality control for American Motors Corp., joined the company in 1964 and was director of quality for the company's Kenosha, Wis., plants from 1965 to 1968 when he was appointed to his present position. He was past chairman of the society's automotive division.

Stephens named TV researcher

Samuel K. Stephens of Livonia has been appointed to the newly created position of research director for the WWJ Stations AM-FM-TV.

He will be responsible to coordinate research projects for the station's sales and marketing operations.

Stephens joined WWJ in 1968 after serving as advertising director of the Northville Record and copy chief for D.P. Brother & Company. He earned an MBA from University of Michigan and earned his undergraduate degree from University of Minnesota.

Everyone's a winner at kids fishing derby

By TIM RICHARD

State Sen. Carl Pursell used the occasion of the 13th annual western Wayne County kids fishing derby to announce that two lakes in the Middle Rouge chain will get fishing docks, probably by the end of fall.

Pursell (R-Plymouth) was helping award prizes to anglers in the 6-16 age group when he made the announcement.

Experts say fishing docks have a double impact: They make shore fishing easier, and the pilings attract fish seeking shelter.

Politically, Pursell said, it was a major victory for the metropolitan area, which critics of Michigan's conservation program felt was ignored for years.

THE WAYNE County Road Commission, which has jurisdiction over county parks, including Hines Parkway where the lakes are located, awarded contracts recently, Pursell said.

The funds came from a $199,000 legislative appropriation for lake improvements in the Middle Rouge system.

Some $66,000 was allocated for three 200-foot fishing docks complete with rails. One will go near the Newburgh Lake comfort station, a second on Newburgh Lake in the vicinity of Sumac Drive (just east of Newburgh Road), and the third is slated near the Wilcox Lake comfort station in Plymouth.

Shoreline improvements will be undertaken in the same three areas and cost $48,000.

Finally, dredging will be conducted in both lakes at a cost of $59,100.

These three priorities— fishing docks, shoreline improvements and dredging—were listed as the top three needs for Newburgh and Wilcox lakes by Edwin Mika, parks and recreation superintendent for the Wayne County Road Commission.

Pursell had hoped for nearly $400,000 for the lakes, but state budget problems caused the amount to be cut in half.

A RECORD 683 young fishermen registered for Saturday's angling contest on Newburgh Lake sponsored jointly by the Western Wayne County Conservation Association and the parks and recreation departments of several cities in the Middle Rouge basin.

Most entrants were from Livonia, Westland and Plymouth, however, because those cities had most heavily promoted the contest.

Grand prize and prize for the largest black bass went to Russ McElyea, 14, of Westland for a 13-inch largemouth.

Largest bullhead was caught by Eric Blucher, 10, of Livonia. It measured 9¾ inches.

Bluegill champion was Jeff Nedwick, 14, of Livonia, whose catch was a shade under seven inches.

Ron Bakun, 15, of Livonia caught the largest crappie—8¾ inches.

Bob Daihl, 14, of Livonia, captured the rock bass prize with a six-inch specimen.

Tobin James, 15, of Westland, entered the largest carp, 9¾ inches.

Besides capturing the bluegill prize, Jeff Nedwick astounded the gathering by catching four largemouth black bass of keeper size. Jeff's catches ranged from 10½ to 12½ inches.

Only a few years ago, the largest fish caught in the entire contest was a bass of less than nine inches. Jeff's performance indicates that Newburgh Lake may be improving as a fishing spot.

He caught his bass, bluegills and a bullhead by casting a night crawler out and letting it sink to the bottom in four feet of water. The bass, he said, usually hit it as it was reaching bottom.

THE COSTUME contests for Tom Sawyer and Becky Thatcher look-alikes drew more than a dozen contestants each—the best turnouts ever—and many costumes revealed great ingenuity on the parts of mothers.

The Becky contest was won by Heidi Choss, 13, of Livonia. She accented her old-fashioned purple and white outfit by carrying an apple and a McGuffey Reader.

Tony Soave, 12, of Livonia, won the Tom contest and sported a bandaged toe and corncob pipe. The Tom and Becky look-alikes each won a lawn chair, rod and reel, lures, portable radio and other prizes.

Contest Chairman Hank Chruscial said local merchants donated $1,000 in prizes. Chruscial himself missed the contest. He was recuperating in Botsford Hospital from a back injury.

HEIDI CHOSS, 13, of 15810 Auburndale, Livonia, looked most like Becky Thatcher of "Tom Sawyer" storybook fame, so she won a long list of prizes. Her mother made the costume. (Staff photo)

TONY SOAVE, 12, of 18889 Gilman, Livonia, was winner of the Tom Sawyer look-alike contest. His costume was complete with corncob pipe, bandaged toe, cork bobber and bent pin fishhook. (Staff photo)

Northville Charley's waits for OK

NORTHVILLE—Sale of the Tack Room in Northville to Chuck Muer will convert it into "a kind of neighborhood gathering place...where you can feel really comfortable with your family."

That's on the word of the new owner, whose purchase of Tom Sechler's Tack Room is contingent on state approval of the liquor license transfer.

Purchase price was not disclosed.

"It's not going to be a big restaurant," said Muer, who will rename the place Northville Charley's.

"It's going to be a kind of neighborhood gathering place. A small menu, good atmosphere, someplace where you can be really comfortable with your family.

"If it's successful there, we hope to open others in the Detroit area."

MUER IS coming to rest in Northville after two bounces.

The Franklin Village Council denied his request for a liquor license to open a new establishment there. Earlier the Orchard Lake City Council turned d own the necessary zoning to replace Muer's fire-razed Charley's Crab on the lake.

"I'm afraid I rushed that Orchard Lake thing too fast," Muer said. "I think I learned you can't rush anything like that. You just can't run our type of operation with community hostility. A lot of people got upset, so we dropped it.

"I think our plan would have protected the lake area, but some of the details weren't really considered."

Franklin, a town which has an historic district ordinance, was a disappointment to Muer.

"Now I'm afraid that whole corner we were looking at will become office buildings," he said.

THE C.A. MUER Corp., the parent company which owns the Muer restaurants, currently operates eight restaurants in three states.

They serve a common menu, but have little else in common. There is a converted fire station in Columbus, Ohio, and an old railroad depot in Ann Arbor.

"Most of our operations were old restaurants, some are old historic buildings," Muer said. "Our most successful restaurants are off the beaten path, something like an old farmhouse on about 15 acres of land."

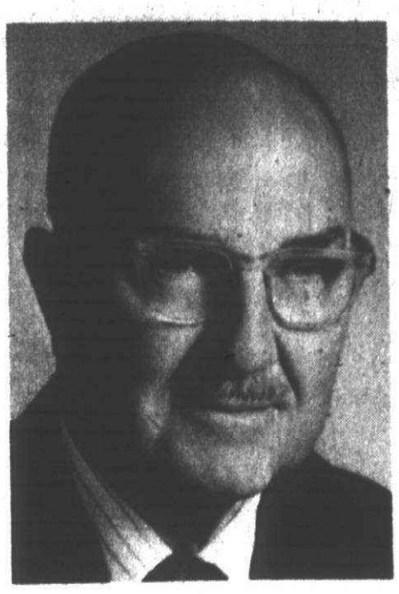

Each is distinctive, each is independent and each, in their owner's eyes, has an intangible "class."

"YOU HAVE to get all kinds of people, " he said. "Over here are some Blacks, dressed to the hilt; over there is someone who wanted to take his mother to a nice place. There are young professionals, and then in comes a group from the prom.

"Everybody is all dressed up, looking so good you want to hug them.

"The mix is important. You have to create an atmosphere. The idea behind Charley's Crab was this eclecticism—these contrasts. You paid $12 for a dinner and ate it with your hands.

"If you were formal, the place looked casual with these funky vinyl tables. If you were casual, the service was still the best—everybody was treated as an equal."

KURT R. KEYDEL has been reappointed by Gov. Milliken to the board of commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA), a regional park agency with 10 Metroparks, as a district-at-large member. His third "four-year" term expires May 2, 1975. He has served on the HCMA Board since 1964. Keydel is a managing partner in the Keydel Company of Detroit, member of the board of governors of Wayne State University, and a member of the Detroit Bicentennial Commission. He graduated from University of Michigan with a BS in chemical engineering.

Layoffs drop to 100 at Livonia Chevy plant

With the recall of 263 employes at Chevrolet's Livonia Spring and Bumper Plant, the number of workers idled by indefinite layoffs is now slightly more than 10 per cent of the plant's total work force.

The recall of employes in Livonia was coupled with the recall of 3,300 employes within the division's 26 manufacturing and assembly plants in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and New York since June 1.

A total of 307 Livonia plant employes remain on indefitinte layoff, according to Robert D. Lund, General Motors vice-president and general manager of the Chevrolett Division.

Lund expects 1976 model requirements will provide for the callback of more seniority employes still laid off.

The total work force at the Livonia plant on June 23 was 2,904.

GM has recalled more than 15,000 Chevrolet Division employes nationwide since March of this year.

Romulus joins SEMCOG

Romulus has joined the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG)—a couple weeks after a similar decision by Augusta Township—to bring the regional agency's membership to 101 governmental agencies.

Augusta, with 5,000 population, is in the southeast corner of Washtenaw County. Romulus, in southwestern Wayne County, joined because the city was a "victim of other people's decision-making," said Beverly McAnally, mayor pro-tem.

"This town is criss-crossed with highways and expressways, and fully one-third of our area is taken up by the Detroit Metropolitan-Wayne County Airport.

"We feel by working with other governmental units, we can gain a great deal of current information and have greater input into the future of our community."

She said another influencing factor was SEMCOG's role as the federal grant application review agency for the region.

SEMCOG is a voluntary association of counties, cities, villages, townships and intermediate school districts in the seven-county region of southeast Michigan. Its principal function is long-range planning for transportation, land use, housing, criminal justice, recreation and sewer, water and storm drainage.

Where to give blood donations

Residents may make appointments to donate blood from 2-8 p.m. Thursday, June 26, at First United Methodist Church, 6443 Merriman, Garden City. The blood bank will be conducted by the Red Cross.

Donors also may visit the Northwest Red Cross office, 3216 Five Mile, Livonia, from 2-8 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Thursday; from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday and Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

Power receives honorary degree

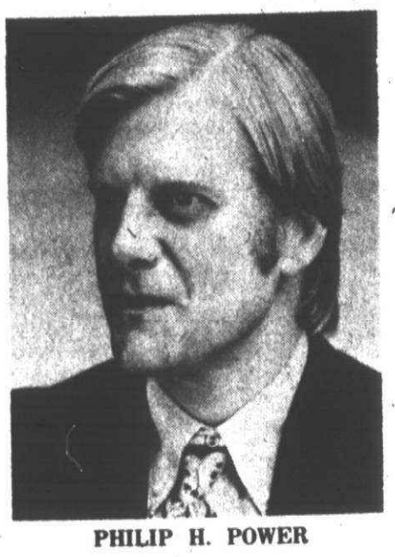

Philip H. Power, co-publisher of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and chairman of the board of Suburban Communications Corp., has received an honorary degree from Cleary College, Ypsilanti.

The degree, an honorary doctor of science and business administration, was conferred at the college's commencement exercises June 14 by Ervin A. Steiner, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Cleary College.

Honorary degrees were conferred on eight other distinguished persons.

Power, 37, graduated summa cum laude in 1960 from the University of Michigan. After pursuing graduate work there, he was awarded a Marshall Scholarship in 1962 and attended University College, Oxford, England where he took honors BA and MA degrees in philosophy, politics and economics.

Diplomas in accounting, business management and various secretarial sciences were granted to 120 students at the college's 91st graduation ceremony.

PHILIP H. POWER

The program was dedicated to Donald Silkworth, former chairman of the board of trustees and long-time college benefactor, who died last December.

Robert J. McBride, station manager of WJBK-TV in Southfield, was commencement speaker.

Area hospitals seek state OK on changes

LANSING—Garden City Osteopathic Hospital in Garden City and Wayne County General Hospital in Westland have applied for state approval of certain changes they wish to make in their operations or physical plant.

Approval is necessary before hospitals undertake any changes in service or before spending $100,00 or more on construction or equipment.

Garden City Osteopathic wants to convert 36 existing beds from continuing care to acute care use. The shift would involve no expenditure of funds and would be made immediately after state approval.

The county hospital wants to relocate and expand some of its service departments such as radiology and nuclear medicine. The project would be completed by July 1976 at a cost of about $217,800.

Applications have been submitted to the Division of Health Facility Planning and Construction of the State Health Department.

SC degree approved

LANSING — An associate's degree in real estate offered at Schoolcraft College in Livonia has been approved by the State Board of Education.

The new associate's degree for Schoolcraft was among 19 occupational education programs for 12 Michigan community colleges approved for the 1975-76 academic year.

Among the new occupational programs are: para-legal technology at C.S. Mott Community College; court reporter, automotive service and medical machine transcriber, Gogebic Community College; medal working technology at Highland Park Community College; electromechanical engineering technician, corrections, security programs at Jackson Community College; transportation program at Kellogg Community College; petroleum engineering technology at Northwestern Michigan Community College.

MICHIGAN BANKAMERICARD master charge

Starting July 1.

A new, limited-edition, Bicentennial Lottery to mark our nation's 200th Anniversary. Top prize: $500,000 cash plus $25,000 a year for 20 years.

Lotteries have been part of the American scene since this country was founded nearly 200 years ago. The early colonies utilized lotteries to build roads, schools, hospitals and pay for the costs of government. Nothing in the last 200 years, however, compares with Michigan's new Bicentennial Commemorative Lottery. The $5 game. It is the biggest and richest Lottery in American history.

One Drawing: October 14

Tickets for the new Bicentennial game will be on sale for three months. Sales will end in late September, or as soon as the limited supply of tickets is exhausted. You need to buy only one ticket to get a chance at the fabulously rich prizes at stake in the Oct. 14 drawing. Bicentennial tickets are available at all regular lottery ticket sales outlets.

17 Winning Numbers

Each Bicentennial ticket contains a 7-digit lottery number that will determine whether you win and how much you win on Oct. 14. On this date, 17 or more winning 7-digit numbers will be drawn. If the lottery number on your ticket matches the last four or more digits of any of the winning numbers, you win. You have up to one year after the drawing to claim your prize. The procedure for winning is described in greater detail below.

Bicentennial Lottery Prizes

	Match all 7 Digits	Match last 6 Digits	Match last 5 Digits	Match last 4 Digits
1st Prize No.	$500,000 & $25,000 a yr. for 20 yrs.	$250,000	$5,000	$500
2nd Prize No.	$250,000	$200,000	$2,000	$200
3rd Prize No.	$200,000	$150,000	$2,000	$200
4th Prize No.	$150,000	$100,000	$2,000	$200
5th Prize No.	$100,000	$ 50,000	$2,000	$200
6th Prize No.	$ 25,000	$ 20,000	$2,000	$200
7th Prize No.	$ 25,000	$ 20,000	$2,000	$200
8th Prize No.	$ 25,000	$ 20,000	$2,000	$200
9th Prize No.	$ 25,000	$ 20,000	$2,000	$200
10th Prize No.	$ 20,000	$ 15,000	$1,000	$100
11th Prize No.	$ 20,000	$ 15,000	$1,000	$100
12th Prize No.	$ 20,000	$ 15,000	$1,000	$100
13th Prize No.	$ 20,000	$ 15,000	$1,000	$100
14th Prize No.	$ 15,000	$ 10,000	$1,000	$100
15th Prize No.	$ 15,000	$ 10,000	$1,000	$100
16th Prize No.	$ 15,000	$ 10,000	$1,000	$100
17th Prize No.	$ 15,000	$ 10,000	$1,000	$100
Additional Nos.	$ 15,000	$ 10,000	$1,000	$100

Thousands of Prizes

The grand prize in the Oct. 14 drawing goes to the ticket holder matching all 7 digits of the 1st Prize Number exactly. That winner will receive $500,000 cash plus $25,000 a year for 20 years. Matching the last 6 digits of the 1st Prize Number wins $250,000 cash. The last five digits are worth $5,000 and the last four win $500. All prizes paid in cash. The prize structure is illustrated.

How to Win

For example, let's say the 1st Prize Number is 1234567. Here are the numbers that would have to appear on the ticket to win a prize:

1234567—wins $500,000 cash plus $25,000 a year for 20 years.
x234567—wins $250,000 cash.
xx34567—wins $5,000 cash.
xxx4567—wins $500 cash.

And that's just the 1st Prize Number. There are many more chances to win prizes ranging from $100 to $250,000.

See your Lottery ticket agent for Bicentennial Lottery tickets.

The Bicentennial Lottery. It could be your ticket to independence.

Woody Allen examines God in 'Love and Death'

BY SHERRY KAHAN

That loveable but godless sex maniac, Woody Allen, is back in our neighborhoods with a new film called "Love and Death."

In the Allen tradition it rips the shreds most of our nation's old and cherished beliefs. Yet even as we sit in the ruins of our institutions, we are smiling.

Instead of being infuriated by the sharpness of his serrated-edged pen, we laugh. We make him rich and enjoy the occasion on which he escorts the wife of our middle America president to a cultural event, impeccably clad in black tie and matching sneakers.

In "Love and Death," Allen doesn't play around with microscopic issues. He tackles the big ones—namely, is there a God?

He is Boris, a peasant-bloused, black-booted Russian who speaks flawless Americanese.

He longs to believe in the deity, but finds it easier to believe in love. He is mad about Sonia, handsomely played by Diane Keaton, who has been paired with Allen before.

Somehow Sonia fails to be drawn by his unmistakable animal magnetism. She prefers, instead, to discuss deep philosophical questions with him in hilarious exchanges of meaninglessness that should set the discipline back at least 100 years.

The time is about 1812. Napoleon has invaded Russia. So who can talk of love and philosophy at a time like that? True, Boris would like to, but his family overcomes his reluctance to defend his country by sending him off to war.

He sets out for basic training carrying his butterfly collection, which just possibly explains why Napoleon was able to get all the way to Moscow.

In no time at all, the bumbling new recruit becomes "the coward all St. Petersburg is talking about."

As writer, director and star of the film, Allen this time keeps his sexual fantasies subordinate to the plot. However, we do glimpse him competing with devasting wit and charm for the winner of St. Petersburg's courtesan of the year award.

With the city at her feet, she nonetheless picks the small, balding soldier, recognizing, no doubt, the urbane man of passion that Allen knows lies beneath. Nor is she disappointed.

The climax of the movie settles around a plot to kill Napoleon, whom even the peacenik Boris can see is a bully.

Will Boris lend his undeniable talents for disaster to the plot? More important, if he gets in trouble, will God use the occasion as a chance to prove Himself by saving him?

Boris is none too confident. "The worst thing you can say about God is that he is an underachiever," he says.

But he is also philosophical.

"After all death is not an end, it's an effective way to cut expenses."

Circus exhibit inspects big top

America's fascination with the big top will be recreated in a summer exhibit opeining June 28 at Henry Ford Museum.

Calliope music, a parade wagon, posters, programs, toys and other memorabilia trace circus life from the 1700s through the great shows of the 20th century.

Circuses first appeared in America in the 18th century, but they were hardly the elaborate, star-spangled productions we know today. The first circuses were an amalgamation of exhibits, oddities and amusements usually displayed on the village green or in a tavern yard. Caged animals were added-- the first lion in 1716 and the first elephant in 1796. Later these animal menageries took to the road, operating for much of the 19th century across the United States.

EMU hosts world premiere viola concerts

Two world premiere performances of works commissioned for the International Viola Congress will be performed in free concerts June 27-29 at Eastern Michigan University.

This marks the first time the Viola Research Society has met in the United States.

Opening day concerts are at 4 and 8 p.m. Friday June 27. All concerts will be held in Pease Auditorium. The first will feature University of Michigan graduate students Patricia McCarty and accompanist Ellen Weckler in a program including sinatas by Brahams and Hindemith and works by Britten and Enesco.

At 8 p.m. the world premiere of "Concerto for Viola" by Clark Eastham will be performed by Nathan Gordon with the United States Air Force String Orchestra. Gordon is principal violist of the Detroit Symphony and conductor of the Dearborn Symphony.

He is a graduate of Juilliard School of Music, studied with William Primrose, and was formerly a member of the NBC Symphony Orchestra under Toscanini. He will also play "Trauer Musik" by Hindemith.

Eastham, commissioned to compose a concerto for this Congress,is a native of Michigan. He earned a degree at the Institute of Musical Arts in Detroit and has composed more than a dozen commissioned works.

The U.S. Air Force String Orchestra will be conducted by Major Albert Bader, assistant conductor of the U.S. Air Force Band. Musicians representing several major symphony orchestras and 23 colleges, universities and conservatories compose the membership of the Air Force String Orchestra. In addition to accompanying Gordon, the orchestra will play a Concerto Grosso by Locatelli, divertimento in D Major by Mozart and "Israeli Folk Song" by Odeon Partos.

The first concert on Saturday, June 28 will be performed at 4:15 p.m. and will feature Franz Zeyringer, accompanied by Daniel Eller of the EMU piano faculty. Zeyringer will perfrom works by four contemporary Austian composers. The closing selection was written for viola and viola d'amore, an antique form of the instrument.

The evening June 28 concert at 8 p.m. will feature Ernst Wallfisch, accompanied by wife Leri, harpsichordist. His first selection, as yet unpublished is "Reflex" for viola and tape. It was written by Ronald Perera and dedicated to Wallfisch.

He will also give the U.S. premiere performance of a sonata by Paganini, who died in 1840. The work was to have been published during World War II, but the manuscript was lost. Wallfisch, who found it three years ago, gave the European premiere last year.

A mass performance of Bach's "Brandenburg Concert No. 6" will close the concert. All members of the audience who wish to perform will be invited to go to the stage. The concerto is written for two solo violas, a string orchestra of viola, cello, bass and harpsichord, but no violins.

The final public concert will feature Donald McInnes and Sir William Primrose at 5 p.m. Sunday, June 29.

Chinese cultural series to open

A three-week program designed to promote a better understanding of the people of China opens at 2 p.m. Monday, June 30 in the Community Art Building, Wayne State University.

Presented by the WSU China Study Group, the ehibit contains handicraft items, maps and more than 500 photographs which offer an overview of life in the People's Republic of China.

The opening reception, "Meet the Travelers," will be attended by Michigan residents who have visited China. Graham Steenhoven, who was famous for his role in fostering better relations between the U.S. and China will also be present.

A film festival offering free showings of films from the People's Republic will be shown from 1 to 9 p.m. Wednesday, July 9 in Community Arts Building.

A two day conference —from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Tuesday, July 15 and from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Wednesday, July 16— will be held in the main branch of the Detroit Public Library. It is entitled "Life in the People's Republic—Firsthand Views."

A teacher's workshop presented by the Project on Asian Studies in Education will be held from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Thursday, July 17.

A children's program will be offered from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday, July 20 on the WSU mall behind Community Arts.

For more information contact People's China Expo, 5229 Cass, Room 101, Detroit, 48201.

Theater workshops at WSU

A summer institute, "Shakespeare and the Stage," designed primarily for junior and senior high school English teachers is being offered July 7-31 by Wayne State University.

Based upon trips to view "Twelfth Night" and "Measure for Measure" at the Stratford, Ontario Shakespeare Festival, the institute will demonstrate the usefulness of theatrical performances to students.

Institute director is Philip Traci of the WSU English department. Lectures will be given by Bathsheba Garnett, director of the University of Windsor Theater, and Robert Hazzard, director of WSU's Hilberry Theater.

Schwartz wins art award

Raymond Schwartz of Livonia captured second place in the Cranbrook Institute of Science's exhibit "The Michigan Wildlife Art Competition."

He received $75 for his pen and ink drawing of a puss moth. Schwartz is a senior at Northville High School.

The exhibiton, on display now through September, includes work by two other winners and 30 honorable mention recipients.

Livonia man named to employment panel

WAYNE COUNTY—Raymond Lech, executive director of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed one of 17 prominent county residents on a panel formed to stimulate employment in the county.

Panel members were named June 16 during the organizational meeting of the Wayne County Advisory Council for Business and Community Development, authorized by the Board of Commissioners last October.

The council is funded by a $35,000 allocation from the commissioners and will be used to finance projects such as research, national advertising and promotional meetings.

The county's Office of Industrial and Commercial Development will provide staff services.

Members of the council were appointed by Board Chairman Roscoe L. Bobo with approval of the full board.

Those from government include: Commissioner Edgar L. Harris (D-Taylor); Jack Pryor, deputy director of the City of Detroit Industrial and Commercial Development Department; Harry White, Ecorse City councilman; and Richard L. Szelc, direcotr, Wayne County Industrial and Commercial Development.

Labor is represented by Donovan H. Wasnuk, area manpower representative, Human Resources Development Institute, and Marc Stepp, UAW vice president.

REPRESENTING business and banking are: Sam Oaks of General Motors' Municipal Affairs Division; Gilbert Sanford, chairman of the board of Weldit Sales and Engineering Co.; Gerald Warren, first vice president in charge of civic affairs and marketing, National Bank of Detroit; Henry Budny, vice president of Budny Investment Co.; and Dr. William Simmons, superintendent, Wayne County Intermediate School District.

Members from nongovernmental business and civic affairs organizations include: Dwight Havens, executive director of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce; Lawrence P. Doss, president, New Detroit; and Walter McMurtry, president, Inner-City Business Improvement Forum.

Also in this group are Joseph P. Stermer, executive director, Southern Wayne County Chamber of Commerce, and Fred Miller, businessman and director, Taylor Chamber of Commerce.

Madonna site planned for orientation

WAYNE COUNTY—The County Juvenile Facility Network will hold one of its four orientation sessions on a new legal publication at 2 p.m., Friday, June 27, at Madonna College, Livonia.

The book, "Juvenile Justice Handbook," is intended for about 10,000 youth workers in the county.

Written by William T. Downs, a professor at the University of Detroit Law School, the book is a comprehensive guide to legislation, policies and practices in Wayne County.

In non-legalese, it outlines court rules, legislation, district ordinances, and police and various school policies on youth.

Developed with federal funds from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration program, the book is being distributed free to individual workers whose agencies have been invited to attend orientation.

The book also will be given to school and community libraries and other places where it will serve as a useful public reference source.

Tuition cut for summer at UM-D

Summer half-term students at the University of Michigan's Dearborn campus will get a tuition break of 25 per cent, in an attempt by the university to spark increased summer enrollments.

Registration for the summer session will be held July 1-2 in Modules one and four, adjacent to the Dearborn Campus' Student Activities Building.

Classes begin on July 7 and run through Aug. 22 with final exams scheduled for Aug. 25-29.

As a result of the tuition experiment, a full-time student taking 10 or more hours will pay $112 for the term rather than the previous $149.

Both regular and guest students may enroll at the reduced rate. For further information contact the UM-Dearborn Admission Office, 4901 Evergreen, Dearborn.

Fees hiked at EMU

Field Service tuition rates at Eastern Michigan University have been hiked almost to 10 per cent by recent action of the board of regents.

Students taking classes at any of 17 established centers throughout Southeastern Michigan will now be paying $35 per credit hour, up $3 from the previous $32 per credit hour.

The new rates will take effect in the fall semester of this year.

The hike accompanies an earlier hike in tuition rates for students taking classes on campus in Ypsilanti. According to a school administration recommendation, the fee hike will keep Eastern's Field Service rate one of the lowest in the state.

WSU registration final date set

Final registration for the summer quarter at Wayne State University will be held Thursday and Friday, June 26 and 27, in qhe Administrative Services Building at Cass and Antoinette, Detroit.

Students, previously admitted to the University, may register in alphabetical order from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1:30-6:30 p.m. on both days.

Summer quarter classes begin Monday, June 30.

We Believe In You!

If a personal loan for any good reason can help you right now, come to the bank that believes you've earned your good credit's worth anytime you need it.

And we say that as bankers.

You see, we make more loans than any other bank in the Detroit area. And that's given us a unique opportunity to watch all kinds of people handle their financial affairs through good times and bad.

And through it all we've seen you manage your money, pay your bills and even save a little, too. And, these days, that's not the easiest thing to do.

So if it comes to needing a personal loan for any worthwhile reason, we hope you'll come to us. Perhaps you'd like the peace of mind of a new car for that trip this summer. Or maybe now's the time to protect the investment you have in your home with a new roof or other major repairs.

In fact, knowing you as we do, we think you probably already know what you need. And how much you can afford. And if you have a question about how much loan you can comfortably manage, remember that the experienced counsel and financial advice of the biggest bank in town is yours for the asking.

Creative seniors get 'dramatic' help

BY SHERRY KAHAN

Observer & Eccentric
SUBURBAN LIFE

Thursday, June 26, 1975 *1C

Lively evenings may be ahead for Livonia senior citizens now that a group of them has almost completed a playwriting class in the Senior Citizens building on Five Mile.

Three of the skits they have labored and laughed over will be on exhibit Sunday, June 29 at 2 p.m. in the activities center of Madonna College. Most of the parts will be played by the writers themselves.

The program will be augmented by four readings presented by members of the drama groups. These are stories, monologues and poems, which their teacher asked them to present to their classmates early in the course to get in the mood to produce their own original work.

Mildred Wieland, Cora Moerter, Hilda Painter and Mary Smith ill offer these monologues and poems.

As a change of pace to the evening of drama, the senior citizen kitchen band led by Louise Anderson will play old favorites on instruments that are found in and near the kitchen.

Square dances will also be performed.

"It is a new experience for me to work with senior citizens," says their instructor, Mrs. Gail Hering, who also teaches creative writing and mass communication to Churchill High School students.

"They are enthusiastic, willing, hardworking and very creative. It is gratifying to be able to help them out of their difficulty."

Their difficulty was having an urge to write, act and produce skits without having the expertise.

"I HAD SUGGESTED this kind of class last year to Madonna College," says Mildred Wieland, chairman of Livonia's Commission on Aging.

"We wanted to learn these skills so we can entertain ourselves. Often programs we do ourselves are a lot more fun than something we have to pay for."

By this year Madonna was ready to go ahead with the class under its federally funded program on aging.

Mrs. Wieland confessed that everyone is a little nervous about the upcoming evening behind the footlights at Madonna, but she is confident everything will go well.

"You get the real hams out on a thing like this," she laughs.

MRS. HERING explains that the senior writers fashion their skits out of raw material that is especially relative to their lives.

An undependable bus driver or a person who loves to display pictures of his grandchildren produce situations that can be counted on to bring a laugh of recognition from an elderly audience.

"As a class we write down all the funny possibilities in one of these situations," said Mrs. Hering. "Then one or two members of the class will write the skit.

"The dialogue must be real to them. Once it has been written down, we assign roles and begin to rehearse."

THE PROPS ALSO have to be real. If the script of "Grandma Gibson's Problem Purse" calls for a claw hammer and lace panties to be pulled out of the purse, that is exactly what will be brought forth.

Alma Sigman is one of the students who has found the workshop "a lovely experience."

"It's an education for me to see what a group of writers can do with a play," she says.

Mary Smith enjoys writing. "I am in good shape physically, so I like to become involved in something that will keep me in good shape mentally.

"It doesn't take me long to write something. I have a wonderful imagination. It would run away from me if I didn't watch out."

The teacher makes the class interesting, she says, smiling at Mrs. Hering. "If I didn't like her I wouldn't be here," she adds.

16 Scots fly in

Plenty of mileage for this anniversary gala

By MARGARET MILLER

If total mileage traveled by guests has anything to do with it, the 25th wedding anniversary party coming Saturday for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph MacMillan of Livonia should be a smashing success.

Sixteen relatives and friends—including MacMillan's 72-year- old mother, Christina MacMillan and 82-year-old Aunt Julie Beaton— are here from Scotland to be on hand for the occasion.

In addition, there'll be guests from Hamilton, Ont., and from Florida.

Several of the visiting Scots got to Livonia early and found Michigan's muggy heat quite to their liking.

It was a definite change from the usual cool of their home, said Mr. and Mrs. James Bruce and Bert Bruce of Uddington, outside Glasgow, and of course the MacMillans' swimming pool made it easy to take.

JAMES AND MARGARET Bruce also were anxious to get in some more visits to "the shops," a term that translates supermarkets.

They had been particularly impressed with these during a previous visit several years ago, and it was the first thing they wanted to show Bert, James' brother.

Yes, they have supermarkets in Uddington, James said, adding that "we're really not in the stagecoach days."

"But nothing like the ones here," put in his wife. "The fruits here are beautiful, and such variety."

IT WAS A VISIT by James and Margaret MacMillan to their friends and relatives in Scotland that really began this week's anniversary mass migration.

That was two years ago and Margaret Bruce, who had been Margaret MacMillan's attendant for the wedding in Barneychurch of Glasgow a quarter century ago, was hostess for a big party in honor of the visitors.

"We had 88 people there," James Bruce remembers. "Some of them Joe had not seen since he was a wee boy," his wife added.

Somewhere during the festivities someone suggested that everyone should head for Livonia in June of 1975 for the MacMillans' silver anniversary.

Others thought it was a good idea. "And then it snowballed," remembers Mrs. MacMillan. "And now a lot of them are really here."

THE MACMILLANS have lived in Livonia for 11 years. Mrs. MacMillan's father, James Durno, makes his home with them.

They moved from Scotland 21 years ago when MacMillan's company sent him to Canada. "And then there was not work when we got there," his wife said. "I told them there would not be," put in Durno, "but I came back from South Africa to go with them."

Eventually another job showed up, and MacMillan now is employed by Holcroft, furnace manufacturer.

THE ANNIVERSARY party will be held in Rassaello Hall in Detroit and some 100 guests will be on hand.

Those who have put in a lot of air miles to get there also include James and Margaret Bruce's two daughters, Linda and Margaret, Brian MacMillan of Edinburg, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Scott, cousins from Edinburg, and their daughters, Marilyn and Lorraine, and Mrs. Jean Lawsen, a friend from Larkhall, Scotland.

Also on the guest list are two sets of aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hardie of Cumbersleng and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hardie of Roslin.

Mrs. Madge Davidson, a long-time friend, is flying up from Florida and Mr. and Mrs. Bill MacMillan and their two daughters are coming from Hamilton.

"WE THINK IT'S wonderful to have a family that will come so far for us," Mrs. MacMillan said.

"And before the party's over," added James Bruce, "we'll take arrangements to do it again for our 25th anniversary in three years."

Combats psoriasis

The heartbreak is real, but she tries to help

By LORAINE McCLISH

A small band of sufferers of psoriasis has formed the Michigan Chapter of the National Psoriasis Foundation to help in the fight against the unsightly malady that has left many of its victims social outcasts and emotional cripples.

Barbara Dorfman, a Farmington woman who is spearheading the drive for members, has been hospitalized for two or three weeks out of every year with the skin disease since she was a teenager.

She has been called "the snake lady." She has been called "that scaly monster." She has been asked by the proprietor of a beauty salon not to come back. And while she was working towards her teacher's degree in college, she was "scared stiff I'd never get a job."

PSORIASIS has been known "to ruin whole lives," Mrs. Dorfman said, because it is not only physically disfiguring but psychologically scarring. In its severe form it can cause its victims to stop working or not be able to get a job at all. It can cause not only deep depression but mental disorders. It can cause ailments through lack of exercise and sun. And it can frequently lead to arthritis.

It appears as silvery skin patches on any part of the body. The patches are composed of dead skin cells which accumulate in layers. It effects men and women in equal numbers of any age. Treatment now is at best a relief. There is no known cause.

"But most important of all," Mrs. Dorfman said, "it is not contagious. This is the big thing we want to get across."

Another, and equally big thing that the fledgling chapter will concern itself with, is the research now going on at the University of Michigan to find a cure for psoriasis.

ONLY HUMANS suffer from psoriasis. "Consequently, there isn't a rat in the world or any animal known in the world that can be used in the laboratory experiments.

"So what we need are people who have the disease to donate patches of their skin to help in the research and we need a lot of these."

There are 2,000 known victims of psoriasis in Michigan and "we've got to find them," Mrs. Dorfman said.

A nucleous of six persons will head the orientation meeting planned for the new chapter at 2 p.m. Sunday, June 29 in Our Shepherd Lutheran Church, 2225 E. Fourteen Mile Road, Birmingham. The church is four blocks east of Woodward, and the meeting will be held in the church basement.

THE SAME six parties have just completed writing bylaws for the new chapter and have elected Violette Collins of Wayne for their president. Other officers are Maggie Curran of Sterling Heights, Jack Nicholas of Warren and Nina DiGaetans of Detroit.

In addition to rounding up volunteers for clinical study and acting as a public information bureau on the disease, the chapter's goals will be fund raising for research, the formation of a speaker's bureau and helping to provide moral support for those in a like situation.

Membership is open to anyone interested for themselves or anyone they know.

"It is so important for people who live or work with sufferers (of psoriasis) to know what this is all about," Mrs. Dorfman said. "I know ones who never married, never went out on dates, just hid themselves in a corner, wouldn't dare to be seen and became completely disabled."

Mrs. Dorfman learned early that she was not going to hide in a corner and credits her ability to cope to talking freely of her malady.

"IT DOES look ugly. It is unsightly. It itches like crazy. I leave a trail of dry skin wherever I walk. And I am hospitalized when I start throwing and yelling when things just get out of hand.

"But thank God for pantsuits, they are a blessing. And thank God for my understanding husband and kids who accept me the way I am.

"I live with it very well. I've accepted it. But I know that those like me are few and far between."

Anna Fowler wins AAUW grant

Anna P. Fowler of Plymouth, who began her college career 22 years after graduating from high school, has been awarded the 1975 Plymouth American Association of University Women scholarship for women continuing an education at the University of Michigan.

Having completed an associate degree at Schoolcraft College this spring, Mrs. Fowler enrolled in the spring program at the U-M to continue studying toward a life-long ambition to teach physical education.

Selection of the award winner was made by U-M's Center for Continuing Education of Women.

"I was surprised at winning," said Mrs. Fowler. "Happily so. It seems as though everything I have been doing in the past 10 years pointed in the direction I'm going now.

"I enjoy working with children in physical activities. I worked as a scout leader for 12 years. I also helped start the Huron Valley Hikers, a hiking and backpacking group."

Mother of three children, two of them married, Mrs. Fowler has been active in the Plymouth Center for Human Development and for a while financed her e ucation by driving a school bus.

"It's a tremendously challenging thigs to go back to school," reported the scholarship winner. "It's very exciting."

Winning awards seems to be a habit in the Fowler family this year. Mrs. Fowler's husband, Dan, a volunteer fireman, was named the fireman of the year in Plymouth.

A visit with 2 of June's brides

By MARGARET MILLER

DEBI AND PAUL KELLEY

Chuck and Laurienne met on an airplane—by proxy, actually—got acquainted by letter and rode through Livonia in a Rolls Royce on their wedding day.

Debbie and Paul met at a prayer meeting, fell in love while working in an inner-city mission and married on a breezy hillside near Brighton, incorporating into the ceremony songs they wrote to each other. And June, the traditional month of brides and weddings, seems the appropriate time to tell a couple of love stories that are just a bit untraditional.

IT WAS A CHANCE conversation on an airliner that led eventually to the ceremony in St. Genevieve Catholic Church that made Laurienne Smith of Livonia the bride of Charles Herbster of Lincoln, Neb.

And it was Laurie's mother, Mrs. Nellie Smith, who happened to be on a flight to Kansas late in the summer of 1972 and met a personable young man who was returning to his Nebraska home after a visit to Europe and a stop at the White House as his state's representative of the Future Farmers of America.

"I got into a conversation with two ladies," Charles Herbster remembered late, "and to make conversation I asked about their families and one of them brought out pictures of her daughter who was a model."

He thought he'd like to correspond with the girl he saw in the wallet photo, and thus began two years of letters going back and forth from Livonia to Nebraska, while Laurie studied at Wayne State University and continued her professional modeling and Chuck worked his way toward a degree at the University of Nebraska and began establishing himself in the livestock business.

THEIR FIRST MEETING, didn't take place until last summer, when Laurie and a friend drove out west and stopped in Lincoln. "I took her out to dinner Aug. 13," Chuck said, "and the next night I told her it might sound crazy but I loved her and wanted her to marry me. She said yes."

"You'd be surprised how much you can learn about a person in letters," Laurie smiles, and her husband adds:

"We kid her mother that if it doesn't work out it will be her fault."

Their wedding was June 13, just 10 months after their first meeting and Laurie, an experienced seamstress, made not only her own alencon lace and chiffon dress but also a formal jacket for Chuck, complete with brocade lapels.

EIGHT BRIDESMAIDS and a flower girl preceded Laurie down the aisle of St. Genevieve Church, and the white Rolls Royce came into the picture by courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Carroll, the Smith family's neighbors, who rented it for the big day as a wedding gift to the young couple.

The Herbsters will make their home in Lincoln, where Chuck will complete work on a degree that will qualify him for work in four related agricultural fields and will continue to manage varied farm animal holdings.

He also may make a run for the Nebraska State Senate. Laurie is transferring to the University of Nebraska and also hopes to get back to teaching modeling.

FOR DEBI BARTELT and Paul Kelley, both Livonians who during the last year have been working with the House of Prayer in Detroit, a hillside in the camp where they were counselors last summer seemed the perfect place for an early June wedding.

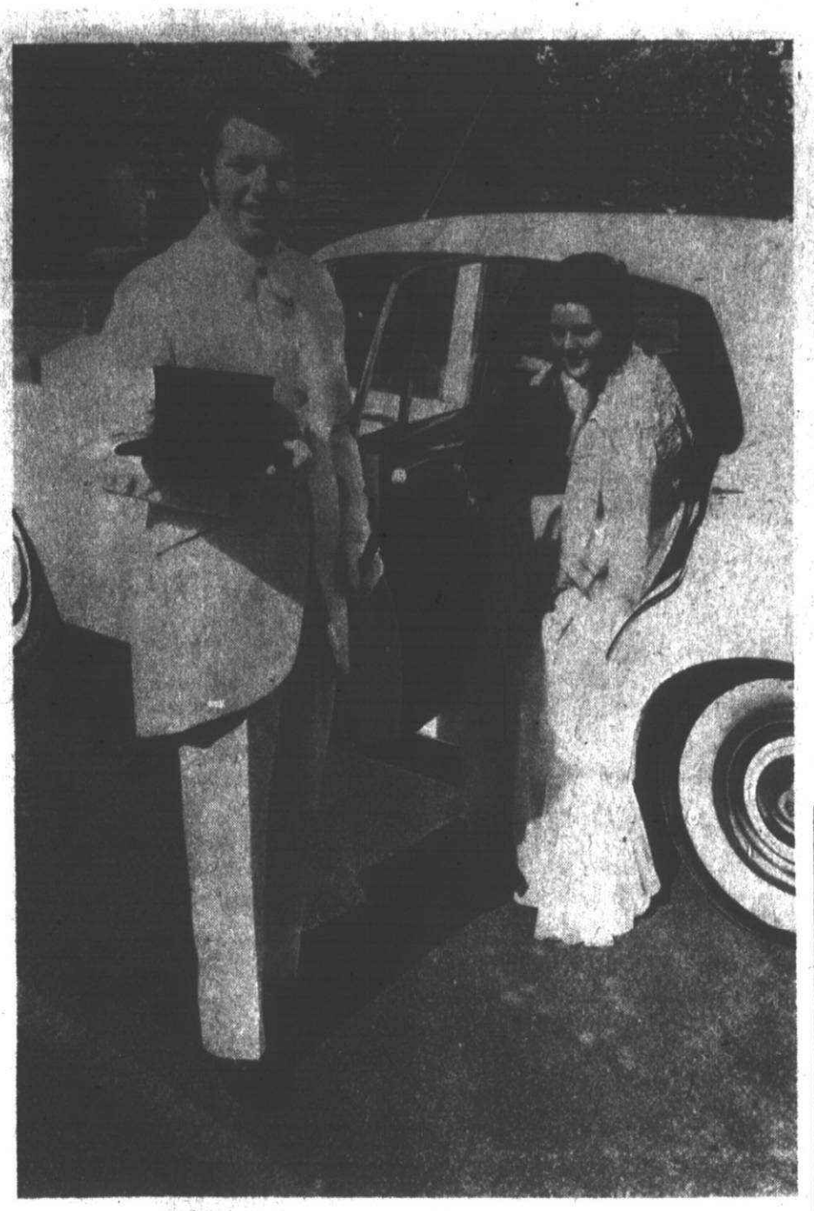

They also felt they could best make the ceremony their own by writing the vows to each other and expressing them in song.

"I've always wanted to get married outdoors," Debi said. "I think churches are beautiful, but I love the natural setting."

The setting she and Paul picked was a hill in Camp Talahi, a United Church of Christ camp, and Debi's mother reported later that the Friday when they exchanged vows was "a little breezy."

"But it was such a beautiful ceremony, words couldn't describe it," Mrs. Bartelt said.

THE BRIDE and bridegroom, both of whom sing in a group called The Chosen Few, part of the House of Prayer ministry, sang songs to each other and then closed with one they sang together to previously-recorded guitar music.

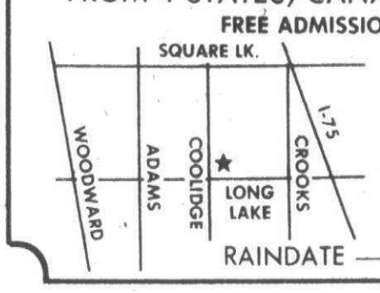

CHARLES AND LAURIENNE HERBSTER

The clergyman for the ceremony was the Rev. George Bogle, head of the House of Prayer ministry, and among the guests were several carloads of people who worship regularly there.

Debi and Paul will be living in an apartment at the mission center, and they'll continue to operate a Christian book store that is their reachout mission in the Detroit Greyhound station.

THE NEW GENEVA Presbyterian Church of Canton, scheduled for construction in the coming year.

Geneva prepares to build

By MARGARET MILLER

Plans for a new church building in Canton—one designed specifically to be shared with the rapidly-growing community—have been approved by the congregation of Geneva Presbyterian Church.

The $250,000 structure at 5835 Sheldon, between Ford and Warren, hopefully will be ready a year from now to house both worship and community activity, said the Rev. Jeffrey Goldsmith, pastor of the congregation now in its third year.

Architectural plans will get under way following the congregation's June 15 vote, Rev. Goldsmith said, and the hope is that ground for the building can be broken in the fall.

"WE PLAN TO BUILD a flexible, multi-use structure," Rev. Goldsmith said. "We want a building that will be really used, not only by our congregation but also by those in the community.

"As of now there is no other building in that area that can serve for meetings and other gatherings."

The new building will contain 5,700 square feet in area, including a worship area, four classrooms, a kitchen and office space.

The worship area won't be a sanctuary with stationary pews, the pastor said, and added:

"We have no plans to build such a sanctuary; we can't justify it either economically or theologically."

He explained his congregation felt it unwise to designate a large amount of expensive space to an area that would be used only a few hours a week.

"And theologically, a formal sanctuary says God is set apart in some holy place," Rev. Goldsmith added. "We don't want to say qhat—we think of God as part of everything we do."

THE ROOM to be used for Sunday worship will have space to set up 250 chairs, he said, and it also will be available as a npot for other kinds of gatherings.

The kitchen also will be convertible, doubling as a classroom on Sunday mornings. A three-bedroom home on the property the church purchased last year will be used as an office during the time of construction and then will be converted to more classrooms for church school.

Gordon Merritt is architect of the planned building, and the construction work will be done by Merritt, Cole and McCallum of Farmington.

Local voices join freedom concert

Twenty-five area residents will celebrate America's past in hymns and patriotic songs during a performance by Concert Ministries Saturday, June 28 at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium, Detroit.

They will be joining with more than 200 other musicians in this non-profit, non-denominational Michigan choir to present a bicentennial musical called "Freedom Celebration."

All the performers were selected and trained by internationally known choral director, Thurlow Spurr. Under his leadership the choir was chosen over hundreds of choirs across the nation to sing at the National Religious Broadcasters Convention in Washington, which was adressed by President Gerald Ford and Billy Graham.

Among the soloists to be featured during the Saturday event is Shirley Thomas Balmer, a concert pianist and former Plymouth resident.

In addition to the musical program, a color film showing the historic landing on the moon will be shown and explained by Jim Irwin, Apollo 15 astronaut, who participated in the landing.

CONCERT MINISTRIES had its beginning in 1972 as the sanctuary choir of the First Church of the Nazarene of Detroit. The group quickly grew in size, and in the past 24 months it has sung more than 50 major concerts.

Baritone Tom McHendricks of Westland finds considerable satisfaction in his role as a participant.

"I like the music and find the whole thing a complete turnabout from my office work," he said. "I have made good friends. We are one big family."

His wife, Carol, was also a member of this musical family until recently when the arrival of a new baby placed her on the sidelines temporarily.

McHendricks explained that the choir rehearses once a month on Saturday from 3-9 p.m.. However, as a performance approaches there are more rehearsals.

While Saturday's concert will be mostly patriotic music, the choir often gives completely religious concerts and has presented such full-scale productions as "Alleluia," "Love," and "Jesus is Coming." Hazel Diegel of Livonia finds that this music provides a kind of "outreach" for her.

"I'm not much on speaking to people about my religious beliefs," she explained. "But through music we can reach out to so many to tell them about Christ."

OTHER LIVONIA nenbers of the choir are Bonnie Clark, Caren Evans, Joyce Motley, Susan Nacci, Val Hillyard, Marjorie Mayes, Ruth Mayes, Dores Baggett, Jim and Dave Taggart, Bob Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Washburn.

Plymouth residents in the choral group are Jack Sibal, Charles Eden, Vada Starr, Phil Starr, Ed Lane and Ron Crain.

Westland singers are Robert Thomas, Ella Knopf and Brenda Chambers.

Tickets for "Freedom Celebration" are $3.50 in advance or $4 at the door. They are available at Christian bookstores in the Detroit area and at Concert Ministries, 18751 Fenkell, Detroit.

CHURCH BULLETIN

ST. VALENTINE CATHOLIC CHURCH, 14841 Beech, Redford Township, will be the setting for a concelebrated mass of thanksgiving as the Rev. William J. Gibbons, C.S.B., Marks the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

Fr. Gibbons, now vicar general of the Basilian Fathers, was principal and superior of Catholic Central High School from 1964 to 1967 and later was elected regional representative of the order for eastern United States. A native of Detroit, he graduated from Catholic Central and has degrees from St. Michael College in Toronto and Columbia University.

Fr. Gibbons is the brother of Mary Ellen Jones, Catherine LaForge, Sister Rita Gibbons I.H.M., Elizabeth Noelke and James Gibbons.

REDFORD BAPTIST CHURCH, 25295 Grand River, Redford Township, will present Moishe Rosen, leader of the Jews for Jesus movement, as a special speaker Sunday, June 29 at 9:30 a.m.

Rosen is a graduate of Northeastern Bible College and a Baptist minister. He and his wife, Ceil, have been involved in leadership of two large Hebrew-Christian congregations, and in the last few years he has organized the Jews for Jesus ministry.

An opportunity for discussion and questions will follow his Sunday talk.

GRAND RIVER BAPTIST CHURCH, 34500 Six Mile, Livonia, will welcome Dr. W.D. Gough to its pulpit Sunday, June 29 at 10:45 a.m. worship.

Dr. Gough, pastor of a Baptist church in Clarksburg, W.Va., and a graduate of Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, will appear as a candidate for the pastorate of the local church. The position has been held since April on a temporary basis by Dr. Wayne C. Clark, former pastor of Redford Baptist Church of Detroit. He will stay until a permanent pastor is installed.

Grand River Baptist also will begin a series of 7 p.m. evening films June 29. The first offering will be "The Return," a recent production dealing with events in latter days.

Other films will be shown on the last Sunday of the month for the next five months. A social hour will follow each filming.

ST. PAUL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, 27475 Five Mile, Livonia, has vacation church school and a junior day camp program in session this week.

The church school for children ages three through third grade, will continue through July 2, meeting mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

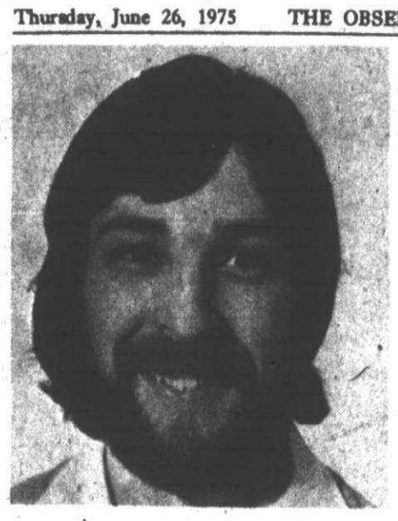

The day camp began June 25 and will continue for six consecutive Wednesdays, offering Bible study and visits to parks and nature centers for children from fourth through sixth grades.

All children interested are invited. They are asked to be at the church at 9 a.m. Wednesdays or to call the church for registration information.

St. Paul church will held its annual strawberry and ice cream social Sunday, June 29 from 5 to 7 p.m. Besides the desserts, there will be entertainment provided by the church's fellowship committee.

TIMOTHY LUTHERAN CHURCH, 8820 Wayne, Livonia, will hold regular 8 p.m. Thursday services for the remainder of the summer.

The Thursday service, a repeat of the previous Sunday, is intended for families who are away during the weekends.

THE REV. GARY WILLIAM BELL, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bell of Livonia, was ordained a deacon in the United Methodist Church Detroit Conference during the recent annual session at Adrian College. A graduate of Bentley High School, he has a degree from Oakland University and is a student at Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, N.Y.

Jack Belk ordination set

Jack A. Belk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Belk of Livonia, will be ordained a Lutheran minister Sunday, June 29 during the 11 a.m. worship service in Peace Lutheran Church, Detroit.

Participating will be two uncles who are retired Lutheran 7lergymen, a brother ordained a few years ago and a cousin who is a seminary student.

The new clergyman graduated from Bentley High School in 1967 and from Capital University at Columbus, Ohio, in 1971. This year he earned the degree of master of divinity from Concordia Theological Seminary at Springfield, Ill.

He has accepted a call to serve the Good Shepherd and Emmanuel Lutheran Churches in neighboring communities of Medora and Leesville in Indiana.

The uncles who will officiate for the ordination are Dr. Louis Belk of Fairmount, Minn., and the Rev. William Belk of Warren. His brother, the Rev. Kit Belk, is pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church of Buckeye, Iowa, and his cousin, Mark Girardin, is in his second year at the Springfield seminary.

Leslie McAlpine weds James Hamp

To the music of Piper John Goodenow, Leslie A. McAlpine and Dr. James A. Hamp received their guests following a candlelight wedding service in First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, the Rev. P.R. Magee officiating.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. James A. McALpine of Greenbriar Street, Plymouth, and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hamp of Reeds Lake Boulevard, Grand Rapids.

MRS. JAMES HAMP
(Leslie McAlpine)

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, selected an empire-waisted gown with pearls embroidered on the wrists, bodice and collar. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and heather.

Patricia McAlpine was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included the bride's sister, Janet McAlpine of Plymouth, the bridegroom's sister, Melissa Hamp of Durham, N.C. and Teresa Bond of Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom's brother, Steven Hamp of Indiana, served as best man. Groomsmen included the bridegroom's brother, Philip Hamp, the bride's brother, Robert McAlpine of Plymouth and Dr. Steven Johnson of Warr, W. Va.

The bride's mother selected a mint green crepe gown. The bridegroom's mother wore a deep pink chiffon gown.

The couple received 200 guests in the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth. They honeymooned at Crystal Lake, and will make their home in Portland, Ore.

The bride attended Washtenaw Community College, and worked for the University of Michigan. Her husband is a graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School and interned at St. Joseph Hospital.

Open house marks 50th anniversary

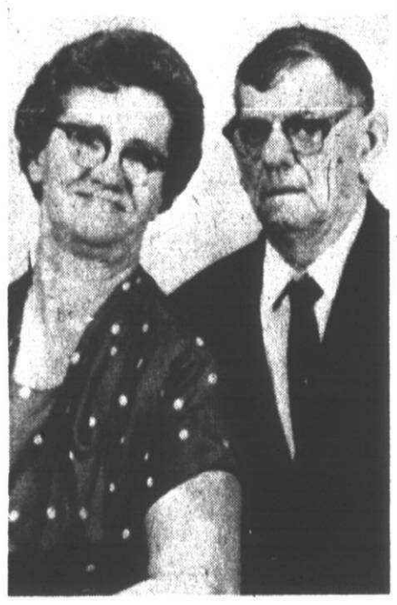

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burden will mark their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house for friends and relatives Sunday, June 29 from 2 to 5 p.m. in their home at 14656 Garland, Plymouth.

The Burdens were married June 26, 1925 in the Plymouth home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burden. The Rev. Howard Burden was the officiating clergyman, and their attendants were Lester Burden and Stella Stoops.

They have lived in Plymouth most of their married life, moving for several years to Rogers, Ark., so Mr. Burden could continue working for Daisy Air Rifle when the former Plymouth firm relocated there. They returned to this area after he retired.

Their two sons, Franklin Burden and Marvin E. Burden, both of Westland, and their daughter, Mrs. George Montague of Holly, will be present with their families for the open house.

The Burdens have 11 grandchildren.

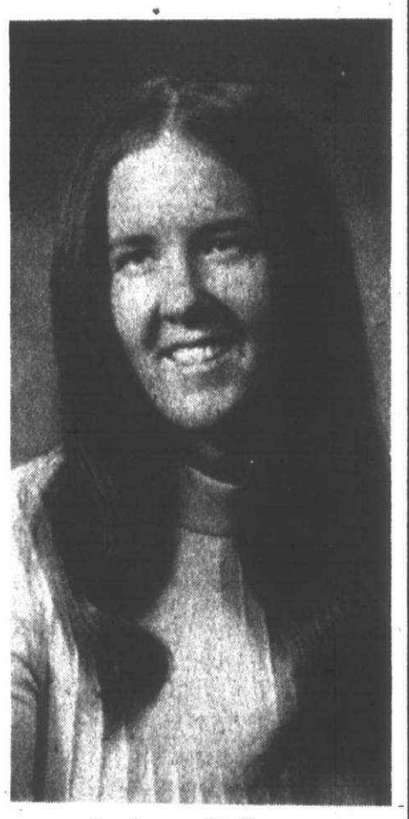

MR. AND MRS. FRANK BURDEN

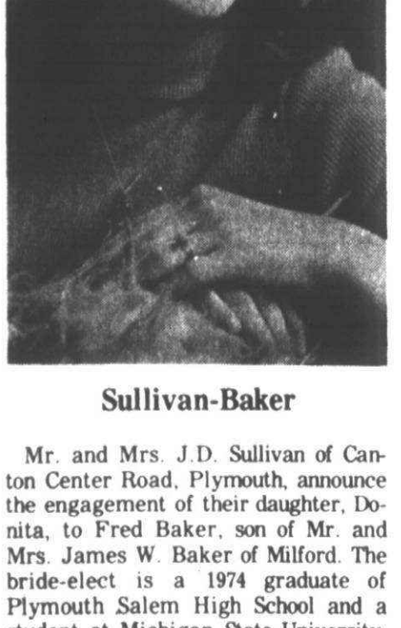

Sullivan-Baker

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Sullivan of Canton Center Road, Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Donita, to Fred Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Baker of Milford. The bride-elect is a 1974 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School and a student at Michigan State University. Her fiance, also an MSU student, is employed by WSMK radio station in East Lansing. Their wedding date is Sept. 5.

Jackson-Heilman

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Jackson of Berrien Springs announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jane, of Columbus, Wis., to Randall Heilman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Heilman of Plymouth. The bride-elect is a graduate of Andrews University at Berrien Springs, where she earned a bachelor of science degree in business education. She is employed by Wisconsin Academy in Columbus. Her fiance is studying biology at Andrews. A Sept. 14 wedding is planned.

Sneddon-Kopriva

Mr. and Mrs. John Sneddon of Brady Street, Westland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Michelle Georgina, to Benjamin Charles Kopriva Jr. of Fawn Circle, Plymouth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Kopriva Sr. of Mt. Prospect, Ill. The bride-elect is a 1973 graduate of Franklin High School. Her fiance graduated in 1973 from Bradley University in Peoria, Ill., and is employed as a marketing representative by A.C. Neilson. They plan to be married Oct. 18 in St. Richard Catholic Church, Westland.

Take the Chatham Challenge...

Your weekly food bill should be less at Chatham.

The experts* proved it... these housewives proved it.

These women took the Chatham Challenge. June 11-15, 1975, they did their weekly shopping at Chatham, then bought the same or comparable brands and items at a competitive market of their choice.
Here are the results:

Mrs. Matilda Bishop;
Retail store department manager.
Birmingham. Four in household.
Average weekly food bill: $80-$120.

"I found that the overall prices were lower in the shopping I did at Chatham."

"Really, I do feel that what we experienced proved that the overall cost is lower and that's where I'll shop."

Mrs. Janet Kelly; Housewife.
Hazel Park.
Five in household.
Average weekly food bill: $45-$50.

"...The biggest I've saved is at Chatham."

"The other stores will run specials and they get you to the store. But, on the whole, the biggest I've saved is at Chatham."

Mrs. Sandra Kanerva;
Beautician, Grosse Ile.
Four in household.
Average weekly food bill: $50-$60.

"It proved the feeling that I'd always had. That I was saving money by going to Chatham."

"I wasn't sure until I checked one item against the other and saw the actual outcome...I definitely noticed that Chatham was (lower) on quite a few of the name-brand items... and I was really shocked at that."

Mrs. Willie May Washington;
Housewife. Ferndale.
Six in household.
Average weekly food bill: $40-$50.

"Chatham was really lower than the other store."

"Chatham is lower and I was really shocked. I always knew that they were a little less than the other stores, but I never knew how much, exactly, I'm saving...I can truthfully say that they are lower."

Mrs. Jeny Klain;
Professional hobbyist.
Birmingham.
Four in household.
Average weekly food bill: $50-$60.

"There really was a difference."

"If you look at it in a year...$65 would make enough difference to make it worth my while. They (Chatham) have a bigger selection, too. That makes a lot of difference."

Mrs. Judy Barker;
Real estate sales associate.
Birmingham. Six in household.
Average weekly food bill: $60-$70.

"If your wife doesn't shop at Chatham, she's not saving you enough money."

"We're having a dinner party Saturday night and I'll tell all the husbands: If your wife doesn't shop at Chatham, she's not saving you enough money."

Women taking part in the Chatham Challenge were selected at random by National Marketing Surveys, Inc. These women provided their own shopping lists. Testing supervised by National Marketing Surveys, Inc., 127 Townsend St., Midland, Michigan 48640.

The Chatham Challenge: How does your weekly food bill stack up against ours?

With what you save at Chatham, you could buy a friend something nice.

A recent 8-week price test proved what Chatham shoppers knew all along. Week in, week out, your total food bill should be less at Chatham. A comforting thought in these tough times. Comforting too, for some lucky friend who might get a present with what you save.

WOODVIEW
A PERFECT APARTMENT IN A PERFECT NATURAL SETTING...
Surrounded almost entirely by natural forest area, WOODVIEW is just 100 yards from the entrance to famous Holliday Park. Secluded and quiet are the two best words to describe WOODVIEW. When you desire the services of one of Michigan's prestige shopping areas, it's just a 10 minute walk to Hudson's Westland or the new Kroger Center. You'll choose to live in Westland, because of Edward Hines Park, many nearby golf courses, the schools, public and private, places of worship and the expressways. Like living in-town, but bathed in the beauty of natural woods and scenery. WOODVIEW apartments are new, stunning in appearance inside and out. The rooms are extra large. Here are some of the many wonderful features in wonderful WOODVIEW . . .
■ Fully Carpeted ■ Air Conditioned ■ Refrigerator/Freezer ■ Self/Cleaning Range & Oven ■ Automatic Dishwasher ■ Carports ■ Private Balconies and patios with landscaped terraces ■ Double sliding glass doors ■ Magnificent WOODVIEW CLUB, one of the largest and most complete with private swimming pool, locker rooms, saunas and meeting rooms ■ Nature trails and Hiking Paths ■ No doubt about it, wonderful WOODVIEW in Westland is a natural place for you . . . and your family!
ONE BEDROOM FROM $230
TWO BEDROOM FROM $250

GARAGE SALE

Here's a handy sign for your garage sale!

And here are some helpful hints for holding a successful sale:

1. When you're rounding up those usuable but no-longer-used items for your sale, be sure to check all the storage areas in your home—the basement, garage, attic, closets, seldom used cupboards.

2. Saleable items include outgrown bicycles, lawn and patio furniture, small appliances, dishes, kitchen utensils, toys, golf clubs and other sports equipment, lawn mowers, decorator items, books, records, musical instruments—your "extras" may be "extra-special" to someone else!

3. Visit a few garage sales before you hold your own. You'll get great ideas, and maybe pick up a treasure or two.

4. Once you've picked the date for your sale, call The Observer & Eccentric Classified Department and place your Garage Sale Want ad. (O&E Want Ads reach more than 155,500 households every Monday and Thursday!) And remember, Double Action Family Want Ads—same ad, two consecutive issues—save you $2.00 off the regular Want Ad rates.

5. When you'r clearing out your garage, you'll probably discover that some of the items in there will have to stay there—even though you won't be selling them. Try to cover these "not-for-sales" or push them out of the way.

6. Use tables to display as many of the sale items as possible. Items on the floor of the garage, especially small items, may be overlooked by prospective buyers.

7. Make sure there is enough walking space through the garage, and that sale items are easy to reach.

8. PUT A PRICE TAG ON EVERYTHING! Prospective buyers will appreciate it, and you'll find it makes things easier for you.

9. Before your sale begins, be sure you have change and some sort of cash box on hand. Set up a "check-out" table just outside the garage.

10. Be ready for a rush at opening time—garage sale shoppers like to come early, and with your ad in The Observer & Eccentric, you'll have plenty of shoppers!

(And don't forget to use the sign above. Just paste it on heavy cardboard and post it by your house. It will help people locate your sale.)
