CAC appointments made

By DARLENE STINSON

The Canton Board of Trustees has finally pushed the township's Citizens Advisory Council (CAC) off the ground—with fewer than half the members originally proposed for the group.

Board members Tuesday appointed 10 persons nominated to the posts by their subdivisions or organizations, despite the 23 township-issued invitations, asking organizations to nominate persons to the CAC.

The CAC, as approved by township board members last May, is charged with the study of township problems and issues assigned to it by the board.

Although the s original membership is primarily composed of representatives from organized homeowner and condominium groups and the Chamber of Commerce, members will determine areas of the township not represented on the CAC and recommend additional representation to the board.

CAC appointments have been stalled since last spring for lack of nominations to the group.

Despite numerous letters stressing the urgency of the CAC's establishment and asking 23 organizations to nominate persons to the group, township officials have received only 11 replies since the first letter was issued last May.

All but one of the 11 organizations which responded to the township's letters submitted nominations to the CAC. Carriage Hills Subdivision declined, citing a conflict with its constitution.

Persons appointed Tuesday night represent Royal Holiday Park, the Canton Chamber of Commerce, Northwest Homeowners, Plymouth Landing Condominiums, Nottingham Forest, Windsor Park, Camelot, Pickwick, Holiday Park and Canterbury Mews.

The CAC's first charge, according to township Supervisor Robert Greenstein, will be the study of a township fire millage.

"Many months ago, the board established the CAC to study the problems and hopes of the township," Greenstein said. "But, because of the summer, we've not had as good a response from the 23 organizations as we had hoped. We hope we'll establish the CAC tonight and have them get together and make a recommendation on the fire millage."

Questions concerning rules of order and the legality of an abstention dominated the board's discussion of the CAC Tuesday night.

Trustee James Poole abstained from the roll call which approved the CAC appointments by a six-man majority. That action prompted instructions, issued by Greenstein to Clerk John Flodin, to amend Poole's abstention to a "no" vote.

Township board members, Greenstein maintained, can legally abstain from voting only when financial interests are involved. Greenstein instructed Flodin to change Poole's vote, when the trustee refused to vote "yes" or "no."

"I never saw the names before," Poole explained. "I don't know half the people."

The agenda for Tuesday's board meeting was available one week before the meeting, the subervisor noted.

"Mr. Poole could have trotted down to the township hall, dug out the nominations list and studied it 'til the cows come home," Greenstein said. "Mr. Poole did not do that."

In objecting to Greenstein's action, Trustee Brian Schwall requested an opinion from the township attorney regarding the legality of Poole's abstention and the supervisor's action.

"I seriously question the legality of you changing a vote," Schwall told Greenstein. "I want to know what rules we're operating under. I don't think we should change the rules in the middle of the ball game."

Township Treasurer Carl Parsell commented, "Everyone on this board has a right to vote yes or no. The easiest thing to do on a touchy issue is to abstain.

"If the board member on the other end of the table would like a few minutes to look at the list, we'll give him a few minutes. Many things come before this board that I'd like to wait and see how other members vote and how the people feel too, but I don't."

Board members unanimously approved Schwall's motion calling for a legal opinion.

Greenstein added, "I think we should get the township attorney's opinion. Mr. Schwall loves to spend the township's money. We might as well give him another try at it.

"If the township attorney says Mr. Poole's abstention is OK, then I plan to introduce a motion, saying no ab-

Cafeteria contract stalled

Ratification of a contract with the Plymouth Schools' cafeteria employes has been stalled by the two women members of the school board.

Stating that beginning wages of $2 per hour were too low for the employes—all women— who work in the cafeterias, President Marda Benson and Vice President Marcia Borowski voted "no" on ratification of a one-year contract with the employes, with only five board members present. The 3-2 vote was not sufficient to approve the measure, and the contract will be placed before the board again on Sept. 22.

Ms. Benson said her "no" vote was to show "women all over that there are women concerned about other women."

Ms. Borowski said she hoped "other board members will have pangs of conscience and reconsider this contract before the next board meeting."

Both women board members said the effect of granting a greater increase to the cafeteria workers would have a minimal impact upon the budget.

"I can't see it waiting until next year," Ms. Benson said.

The one-year contract with the 64 employes calls for an average increase of seven per cent, according to personnel director Norm Kee. He said the new contract has no provisions for increasing wages for new employes, but said the wage structure rises quickly and cafeteria aides with two years of service will make $2.70 per hour.

When both dissenting board members complained about the current $2 per hour wage for substitute help, Kee said "There is no one at that level now."

"I can't ask anyone to work for me for slave wages," Ms. Borowski replied.

Ms. Borowski said she was also concerned that other employe groups had been given eight per cent salary increases and cost of living adjustments.

"Talk to me about those who the increased cost of living really affects. The people who need to get eight per cent raises are not those with other goodies built into their contracts.

"They (cafeteria employes) don't have fringes, and they need them."

The contract calls for wages of $2 per hour for substitute help with cafeteria aides earning from $2.10 to $2.70 during a 24-month period.

Cafeteria assistants are scheduled to receive from $2.65 per hour up to $3.96, while wages for assistant high school managers are set at $2.76 to $3.96 per hour.

Cafeteria managers at elementary schools range from $3.15 to $4.46. For middle school managers, the range is $3.18 to $4.49, and for high school managers, the wages run from $3.21 to $4.55 per hour. A high school supervisor position pays $3.89 to $5.12 per hour.

Hockey faces budget scrutiny

The fate of high school hockey, girls' golf and gymnastics and an intramural physical education program is in question by the Plymouth School Board.

Hearing a report on reductions in state aid money by Supt. John M. Hoben Monday night, the board voted to delay implementation of the programs until more complete budget reviews have taken place.

The district has just learned it will lose another one per cent of the state aid allocation in reductions imposed by the state budget director. The one per cent will be placed into a contingency fund at the state level, according to Hoben.

The superintendent pointed out that three years ago the state adopted a three per cent contingency fund for state aid to education, which was never returned to local school districts.

"With the one per cent contingency and other mandated reductions in state aid, the school distrct has lost between $370,000 and $380,000 since Feb. 4 of this year."

The board will consider cutting the athletic and intramural programs at a special budget workshop scheduled for Sept. 15.

Board members all took a cautious posture on the programs when Hoben said reductions look more severe than anticipated 90 days ago.

"I have no reservations about the value of these kinds of programs," said Trustee E.J. McLendon, "but now

Argardy to stay at Canton

Wayne County Circuit Judge Roman S. Gribbs has ruled that David Agardy cannot transfer to Plymouth Salem High School, upholding the same decision reached by the Plymouth School Board on Sept. 1.

David is the brother of last year's Plymouth Salem basketball star Eric Agardy.

The suit, filed by David's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Agardy, sought an injunction against the school district in placing David at Canton until a full hearing could be held.

He was destined to go to Canton High three years ago when the attendance boundary areas were switched for Pioneer Middle School. He was transferred to East Middle School, which is a feeder school to Canton High, at the time of the boundary change.

The Agardys requested the transfer last year, while David was still a student at East.

The board considered the transfer at several times throughout the current year, each time tabling the issue, until the board's Sept. 1 decision.

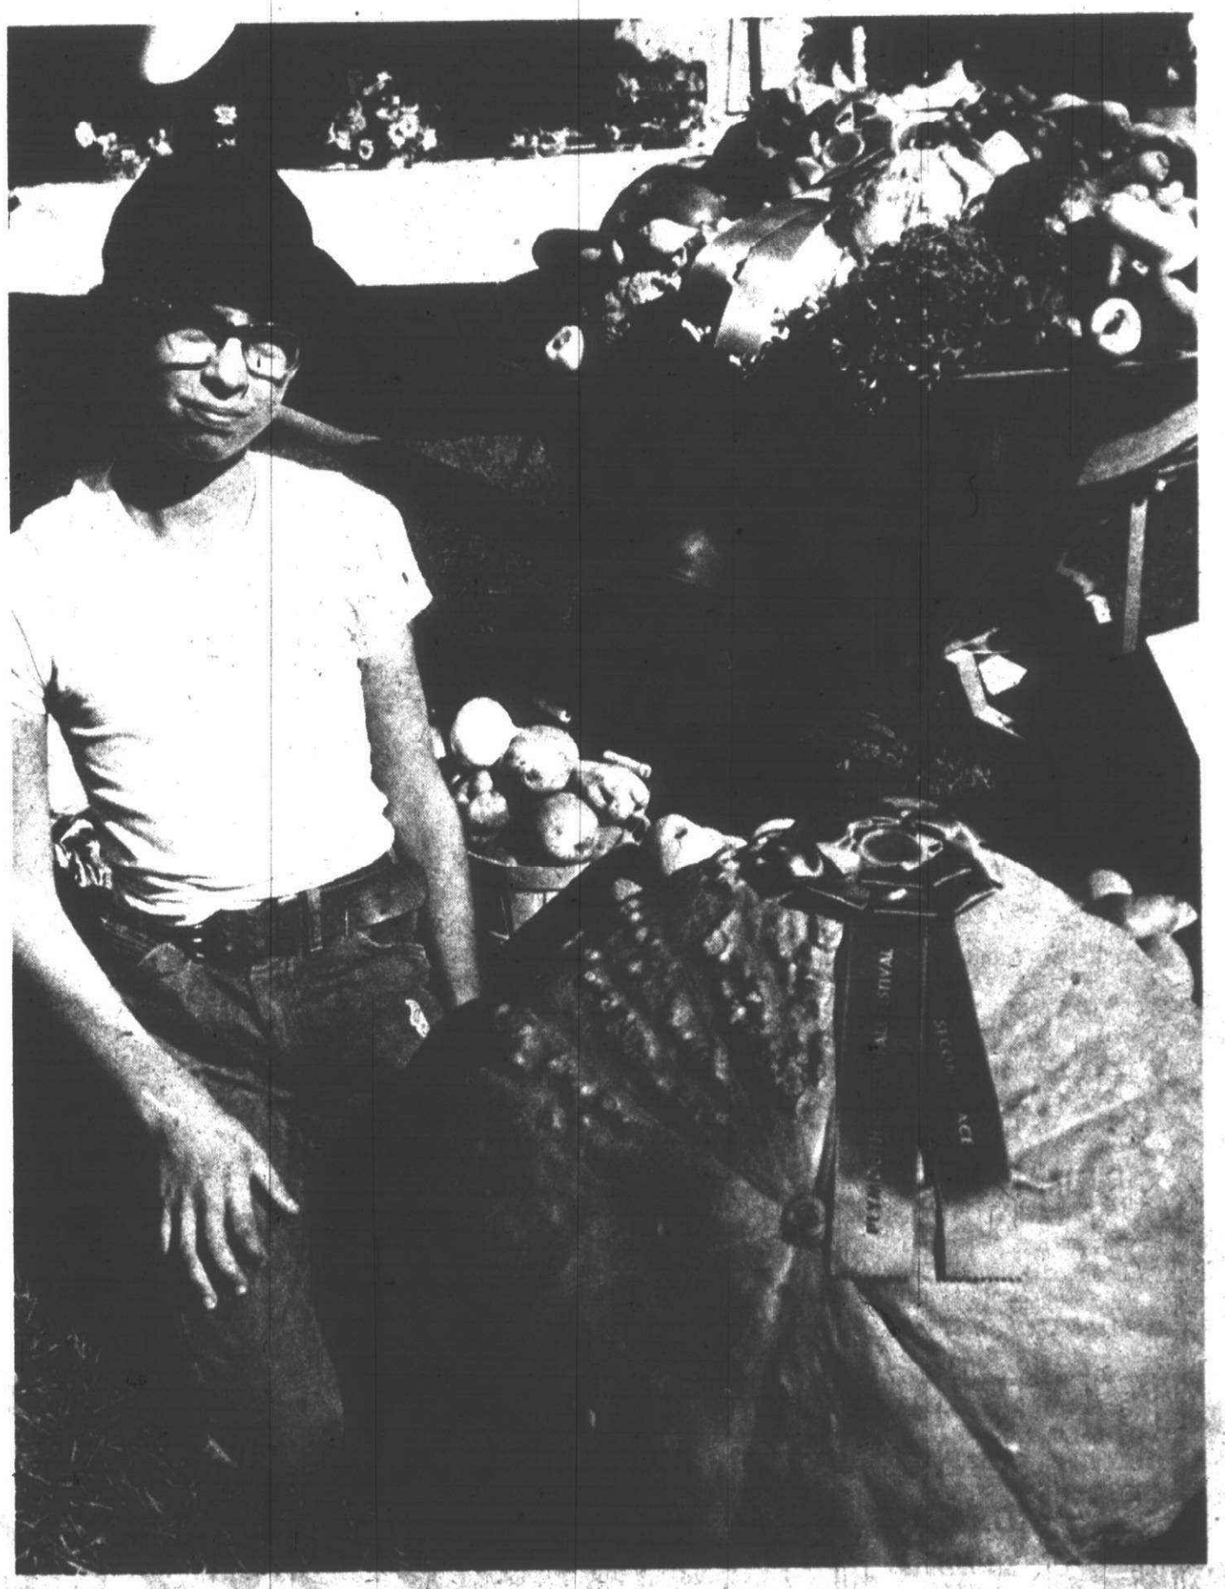

At that time the board voted 6-0 against the transfer, and the Agardys took the issue to court.

According to school district attorney John Thomas, the court found the school district had the right to change attendance areas. Thomas said the court ruling also showed the district did not act in an "arbitrary or capricious" manner and did not abuse its power in keeping David at Canton High.

David's brother, Eric, led the Plymouth Salem Rocks to the state basketball semifinals last year and attends North Carolina State University on a basketball scholarship.

David's older sister, Linda, is a senior at Salem.

The Agardys had argued that one of the main reasons they purchsed their home in the Plymouth School District was because of Salem basketball coach Fred Thomann and they had been led to believe all their children would be attending Salem High.

NIPPING THE BUDS of some things produce some spectacular results as Keith Hesse learned when raising this second place, 85-pound pumpkin for Plymouth's Fall Festival produce competition. Keith said he used "lots of fertilizer and manure" and "pinched all the other buds off the plant" to get this king size jack-o-lantern. (Doug Johnson photo)

Defense begins Monday

Prosecution rests in Umney trial

The first degree murder trial of Robert Umney for the Jan. 28 shooting death of Terry Buchman will continue Monday, Sept. 15, before Circuit Court Judge Horace Gilmore.

Umney is the third member of the trio charged in the slaying. Barry Provow awaits a decision in his trial before Judge Thomas Roumell which will be revealed after the jury's verdict in Umney's trial. Provow's wife, Leslie, pleaded guilty to manslaughter and awaits sentencing later this month.,

The prosecution completed its case against Umney on Tuesday.

Attorney Robert B. Delaney will open his defense on Monday.

CROSS-EXAMINATION of Lloyd Cash was completed Monday morning.

Cassandra Field, who shared a Canton Township apartment with Cash at the time of the death, described the events of the evening preceding Buchman's death.

She said she had heard a shot from a gun in the apartment while Provow, Umney and Buchman were there. She said there was a hole in a cupboard door apparently caused by the shot, but she did not find other evidence of the firing.

She said she watched from her bedroom window as Umney, Provow, Buchman and Cash left the apartment. She said Umney and Provow had guns, and when the car stalled and would not start, Provow came back and, pointing a rifle at her, asked for her car keys to jump Umney's car.

According to Miss Field, she brushed the gun aside and refused to give him the keys. She also said no one had ever pointed a gun at her before.

Asked why she did not call the police after they left the apartment, she said, "I didn't think anyone was going to hurt anyone."

She also testified that she had heard of the use of acid that evening but did not see it.

CHERYL VOSS, under direct examination, said the Provows and Umney had come to the home of Terry Buchman's parents early in the evening of Monday, Jan. 27., Cash arrived a short time later. After a while they went in two cars, to Cash's apartment, stopping for beer along the way.

She said she and Terry knew Provow wanted his money and ring or something of equal value from Gywn Kirley.

Miss Voss testified she drove Terry over to Randy Gladstone's that same evening and "Terry gave Gladstone a long gun."

She and Buchman returned to the Buchman's and Terry later returned to the Cash apartment about 1 a.m.

RANDY GLADSTONE was next on the stand. He said he had known Umney about eight years. He said Umney and Provow came to his grandmother's house the evening of Jan. 27. He said Umney came in first and they went into the bedroom to talk.

He said he gave them a Marlin .22 rifle and a Winchester 16 gauge shotgun. He identified the shotgun that had been introduced as people's evidence as the one he had given Provow and Umney. He refused to say where he got the shotgun but did admit he knew it was "hot."

Rod Burrell was called as a witness for the prosecution. He said Umney and Provow had borrowed some 16 gauge shotgun shells and "five or six" .22 rifle bullets from him later that evening. He said he had known Umney for some time and no reason was given why Umney wanted the shells.

Tim Buchman, brother of the deceased, was on the stand briefly. He described driving over to Cash's apartment earlier the same evening for an unrelated reason.

GWYN KIRLEY testified that when Provow borrowed $50 from him, the understanding had been that if he did not pay the loan within 30 days, the ring was his.

He said Cash came over early in the evening, about 9:30, with Provow and Umney who remained in the car. Cash arranged a meeting at his apartment. He said he was apprehensive about the meeting and talked to Cash about 12:30 a.m. and told him he would be over with his uncle.

He revealed that he had seen Umney and the Provows at Joel Hall's house earlier in the evening, about 7:30, and they "almost had a fight on the porch because Barry wanted his money."

Under cross-examination, Kirley's evidence at the Provow trial was read to him: "Me and Barry were about to get into it."

He had gone on to say, "Bob and his wife (Provow's) Leslie were inside and they came out and urged Barry to go."

Det. Robert Pond of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department was the last witness Monday. He described his findings at the scene of the shooting. The deceased was lying face down in a field at the southeast corner of the intersection of Joy and Ridge roads. . lood six feet west of where

He said there were traces of blood leading to the body and a pool of blood six feet from the west edge of Ridge Road which was not examined to discover if it belonged to anyone other than the deceased.

As his cross-examination continued Tuesday morning, he said he did not examine the clothing carefully. The deceased was wearing a T-shirt and he saw one bullet hole in the leather jacket.

HERBERT LUTZ, evidence technician with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, said he arrived at the scene of the shooting at 3:45 a.m. and it was very cold. He took two pictures of the body but the negatives were so blurred he did not print the pictures. Judge Gilmore ordered the negatives printed.

David E. Balash of the Michigan State Police crime lab in Plymouth said he had done a comparative test with two sample firings of the shotgun that was found with the trio when they were apprehended in Wyoming, and by the markings on the casing, it was the same gun used in the shooting.

He said there were no powder burns near the wounds which would occur from a distance of up to seven feet.

Dewey Burrell identified the shotgun as one which had been stolen from his home while he was vacationing in Florida during the 1974 Christmas season. Under cross-examination he said he knew the deceased was one of the thieves who had broken into his house.

State Police Trooper Robert Kraft testified that he had filed the robbery report of the Burrell home on Jan. 9. He said the articles had been returned by Gladstone, and Rod Burrell and the pair had not been prosecuted.

Patrolman Robert Ankany of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department said he had had gone to the Cash apartment shortly after the shooting. He said there was a hole in a kitchen cupboard that looked like a bullet hole, but he did not find a bullet.

Det. Lawerence Patterson of the Sheriff's Department said he arrived at scene of the shooting at 3:10 a.m. Jan. 28.

He said he spoke to Cash briefly and later took a written statement at the sheriff's office.

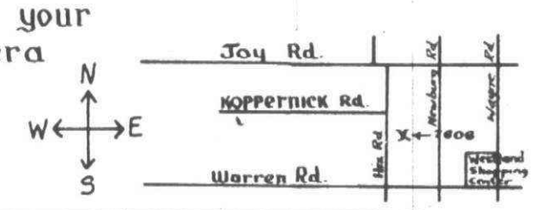

Under cross-examination he said he did not know of the two bullet holes in the jacket of the deceased until the conclusion of the Provow trial.

He said when he first spoke to Cash and in a later statement, Cash said Provow shot at Buchman as he ran away (from the car) on Ridge Road.

The original police report was read stating, "Provow shot Buchman in the back as he was running away from the vehicle."

Asked "if the gun had been inadvertently discharged while jammed up the right sleeve of Buchman" would his investigation have changed, he said it would have made no change in the investigation.

WHEREVER YOU LOOKED, from any vantage point, there was something interesting going on at the Plymouth Fall Festival.

Another Fall Festival success

ELDON MARTIN (right), president of the Plymouth Fall Festival Board, discusses festival doings with John Reddy, executive editor of the Observer & Eccentric newspapers, and Fred DeLano, O&E assignments editor.

Plymouth's 20th Fall Festival will go down in history as the year of the big rain. But, in spite of Friday's deluge, most non-profit organizations reported it was the best festival to date.

The exception was the Lions Club fish dinner. Robert Erdelyi, chairman of the dinner, had planned on serving 3,600 diners. They served 1,700 and even those who ate in the pelting rain said it was delicious.

The Jaycees bought 50 dozen of their rolls and surplus coffee. The fish was in a refrigerated trailer and the supplier took back what was left. Club President Bruce Richard hopes, when all the figures are in, that the Lions will at least break even.

THE KIWANIS CLUB pancake feast on Saturday was a success as usual. The Kiwanians served 2,556 dinners.

Brian Kidston, chairman of the dinner, said they were very pleased with the turnout.

"We had two more grills this year," he said. "We cooked sausages on one and pancakes on the other, which helped us handle a larger crowd than ever before.

"We used more milk, more butter, more sausages, more everything. We're just very grateful to the community for giving us its support."

THE JAYCEES sold out their rib dinners Saturday night when they ran out of rolls and corn. They continued to serve two ribs and cole slaw to hungry festival goers.

Don McDurmon and Scott Anders were co-chairmen of the dinner and they estimate they had corn and rolls for 2,500 servings.

Club president Doug Hinckner didn't have a complete financial wrapup at press time but everything pointed to a very successful project.

PLYMOUTH ROTARY CLUB served 16,000 barbecued chicken dinners on Sunday. The carry-out station at Mill and Ann Arbor Road handled 1,500 of these.

A minor catastrophe was averted Sunday morning when a vat in which the corn is cooked began to leak. A welder came to the rescue. After the hot water was drawn into plastic containers, the welder repaired the hole and the water was replaced.

Dr. Richard Kirchgatter was chairman of the dinner. Although they ran out of sweet corn at about 6 p.m. the chicken sales continued until almost 7 p.m. And the sun shone all day long.

THE ARTS AND CRAFTS show sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council attracted about 8,000 adult visitors.

The two-day show in Central Middle School drew 800 more than last year according to Esther Hulsing, chairman of the event.

Craftsmen displayed their wares in the gymnasium and the cafetorium and on the lawns outside the school. There were 82 exhibitors. The opening of the cafetorium this year made booth-space for 16 more dealers.

"Despite its size, the show is manageable because of the framework that has been set up over the years," said Mrs. Hulsing.

The main criteria of a show of that kind is whether the dealers are pleased. One dealer was so happy with the response to his booth that he gave the council a donation to show his appreciation.

THE DEALERS WERE happy at the Plymouth Symphony League's antique mart in the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The 22 dealers at the three-day show had 3,400 prospective buyers viewing their treasures. Chairman Linda Leavitt reported sales were particularly brisk in furniture, jewelry, trunks and clocks.

The attendance was well above last year's and plans already are under way for next year, with Dorothy Dean as general chairman of the mart.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP Fire Department lost $250 on its ballgame with the Northville firemen. They also lost the game 19-9.

Coach Bob Caloia and pitcher Charlie VanVleck blamed the score on the fact that this was only the second time the team had played together. One practice just wasn't enough.

Clayton Miller, chairman of the game, said winners of the color television set and other awards would be announced later this week.

PLYMOUTH ATHLETIC Boosters Club reported attendance at their second annual fall dance slightly higher than last year. The Boosters, in cooperation with Ralph Lorenz, had a 16-piece band for their Saturday night dance in the Mayflower Meeting House.

TONY FLUM, most familiar to festival crowds in the bright orange vest of festival manager which he wore for so many years, appears concerned over the threat of rain.

THE COUNTRY STORE booth manned by members of the Plymouth Drop-in nursery in the Salvation Army building was one of the most attractive at the festival. Their bags of apples were ripened especially for the festival.

MEMBERS OF THE Tolksdorf family of Detroit visited the festival. They were with the Michigan Travel Trailer Club which had 70 trailers set up on the grounds of Middle School West for a return visit to the festival.

Plymouth taxi fares hiked

Taxicab meters in the Plymouth-Canton area are ticking away higher rates per mile these days.

The Plymouth City Commission Monday unanimously approved a 33 per cent rate increase for Star Cab Co., the only taxicab company which holds an operating license in the city.

The new rates, effective immediately, will hike costs of taxicab travel from 60 to 80 cents a mile. The cost of obtaining a cabdriver's service and starting the taxi's motor will also jump from 60 to 80 cents. The current waiting-time rate of $8 an hour will not change.

Thomas Macaluso, owner of Star Cab Co., said the rate hike will apply to Canton and Plymouth townships. Taxicab companies are not required to obtain permission from township governments to raise their rates.

"Due to the price rise of everything, we can't continue to operate the way we have been doing," Macaluso told commission members. "If we don't get the rate increase, I don't know what we're going to do. The price raise of our expenditures is terrific."

Since the company's last price increase, which hiked rates from 50 to 60 cents a mile in February, 1974, costs of gasoline, labor, repairs, tires and insurance have multiplied.

Macaluso said his Novi-based company has hiked its rates in Detroit. City councils of Garden City, Northville and Livonia were expected to approve the price increases this week.

"I don't think we can do without cabs for our elderly," said Commissioner Joseph Bida. "I don't think the increase is really that much. I paid 69.9 cents a gallon for gasoline up north."

Commissioner John Moehle questioned the 33 per cent rate hike.

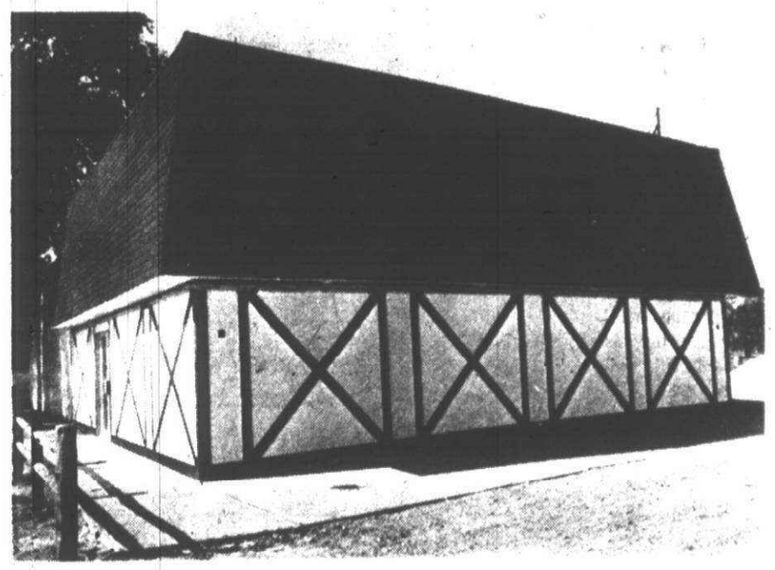

"We know gas has gone up," he said, "but I'm trying to relate the costs to a 20-cent-a-mile increase."

Responded Commissioner Norbert Battermann, "When they got their 60 cents in February 1974, they were on top of the situation. But within six months, they were behind. I think the same thing will happen now."

City Manager Fred Yockey agreed.

"If we're going to have a cab company in this town, I really don't think we have a choice but to grant the rate increase."

Macaluso said his company services an average of 200 persons a day in the City of Plymouth alone. Requests for taxicab services increase during winter months. Most of the company's riders are senior citizens.

THE EXTERIOR of Canton's new recreation center, located at the corner of Michigan and Sheldon, has taken on a Tudor-style appearance with renovation of the former auction hall.

is not a good time to initiate new programs until we see whether we are placing an undue hardship on programs that are already in operation."

At the same time the board could not agree on the intent of the intramural program included in the motion which brought both the hockey and girls' gymnastics and golf under consideration last spring.

A study session between the board, athletic director John Sandmann and elementary building principals, will be scheduled later this month to attempt to define the purpose of the intramural program and the developmental physical education program which the board approved.

The board approved a four-point program which included hockey at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools; a girls' gymnastics and golf program at both high schools; an intramural program for grades K-12; and a developmental physical education program at the elementary schools.

The total cost of all four items was not to exceed $36,000 and the cost of the varsity programs could not be more than half of that figure, leaving the other half for the intramural program and the physical education program.

Indian Guides seek support

Members of the Indian Guides, sponsored by the Canton-Plymouth-Northville YMCA, will knock on doors in the Plymouth-Canton area this Friday and Saturday in efforts to raise funds for the YMCA and the Indian Guide program.

Supervised by adults, the Indian Guides will ask residents to purchase bumper stickers, promoting their cause.

Under the Indian Guide program, boys and their fathers participate in outdoor and other activities.

McKinney, Dumas on youth board

Two area officials have been appointed to a new advisory body which will establish policy for the county youth services program.

Wayne County Commissioner Mary Dumas (R-Livonia) and Westland Mayor Eugene McKinney have been appointed by county board Chairman Roscoe L. Bobo, who also asked Detroit Mayor Coleman Young to designate four representatives.

The commissione will develop overall policy for the county Juvenile Facilities Network (JFN), a nearly $3 million program that gives money for 31 private and public agencies providing services to combat juvenile delinquency.

JFN PROGRAMS include neighborhood-community projects, YMCA functions, public school activities, and law enforcement, public safety and criminal justice programs.

Among the programs involved are recreation activities, advanced training for social service and law enforcement and court officers, and remedial education for disadvantaged youth.

MRS. DUMAS noted that one of the JFN programs is the Livonia public school project "Early," and said plans are under way to create two new juvenile service centers, one of which will be in western Wayne County.

"Today, we already have three juvenile service centers in operation and we are serving some 3,400 youngsters," she said.

JFN is prepared to accept a proposal from Livonia for a runaway shelter and counseling program, to be financed with new money available under the Juvenile Delinquency Act of 1974, she said.

Mrs. Dumas also said future successful juvenile programs may be eligible for extended LEAA federal money under the act, rather than being phased down or becoming strictly a local responsiblity after three years, as is current policy.

In addition to programs dealing with juveile criminal charges, Mrs. Dumas said she would also like to see an allocation of federal money for handling non-violent offenses such as home and school truancies and disobedience.

MAYOR EUGENE McKINNEY

State approves special ed

Special education plans submitted by the Wayne Intermediate School District for the 1975-76 school year were approved by the State Board of Education.

Under Michigan's Mandatory Special Education Act, each of the state's 58 intermediate school districts are required to submit special education plans to the state board each school year, according to State Superintendent of Public Instruction John W. Porter. The state board approved the special education plans on Sept. 3.

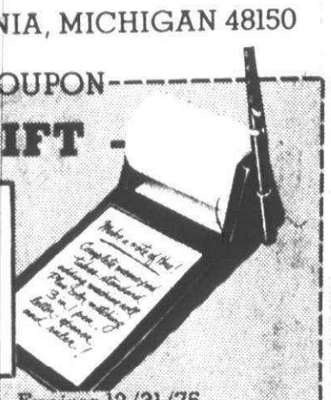

The Wayne Intermediate School District, with 50,000 handicapped students, accounts for 20 per cent of all children to be enrolled in Michigan special education programs this school year, Dr. Porter said.

The Stroller

Unusual traditions

By W. W. EDGAR

When Noah Webster wrote his dictionary he defined the word "tradition" as something, or a custom, handed down from one generation to another. He didn't say anything about those who established the customs and made traditions possible.

That's why he would have enjoyed being with The Stroller while making the rounds and going behind the scenes at the Fall Festival in Plymouth last weekend.

The Stroller is certain Noah would have enjoyed meeting Don Lightfoot, the balding, outspoken gent, who started it all way back in 1956. Don hasn't missed a festival since then even though he retired from his well established produce stand and hiked himself to the north country.

Knowing he had retired the Stroller was surprised to see Don in a cook's uniform, seated at the edge of the boiler supervising the preparation of the corn on the cob—a job he has done for years.

"What are you doing away down here?" The Stroller asked.

"JUST CARRYINGon an old tradition," he replied, "and I wouldn't miss it no matter how far I had to come."

Don is one of the dedicated men involved in these Fall Festivals and he would have given Noah a real example of tradition.

Unusual as it seems—that Don would travel hundreds of miles from the north country just to sit in the sun all day to make certain the corn was prepared properly—his custom is just one of the many traditions that have become part of our lives. In many cases we continue them, just as a matter of course, never paying any attention that the custom has become a tradition.

When The Stroller was a mere youth—younger than school age— he was told that we had a tradition in the Edgar family that had to be continued. And he was told that he never should break it.

The tradition was a simple one. It was attending Sunday School each Sabbath morning— regardless of ice, snow, sleet or rain.

The leader of our clan in carrying out this tradition was Uncle Pete. And as unbelievable as it seems, he hadn't missed one session of Sunday School in 65 years before being struck with a fatal illness. His record still stands and it is doubtful if any family ever will equal it, let alone surpass it.

The Stroller tried to keep the pace and was doing well with 20 years of perfect attendance before leaving for Detroit and the uncertainties of the journalism profession that governs a fellow's time.

While he didn't continue the Sunday School tradition, The Stroller innocently started a few. He never realized as a young sports writer, trying to make good in the big city, that when he saw the Detroit Tigers' opening game in 1924, he was starting an unusual tradition.

You see, he hasn't missed a Tiger opener in all the years since then, and, God willing, when he goes to the Tiger opener next April, it will be his 53rd opener.

It will be the same when he witnesses University of Michigan's opening football game at home on Sept. 20. It will be his 53rd season of writing about the Wolverines.

These are unusual traditions, but not nearly as unusual as some of our every day customs that have been handed down from one generation to another with no one ever revealing who started them.

For instance, it is traditional that Monday, the second day of the week, is wash day in the American household. Likewise, Tuesday is set apart for ironing and Wednesday, in the old days, for cleaning the house. And way back before we had indoor plumbing the bath was taken in a wooden tub in the kitchen on Saturday. It was set aside as bath day.

Unusual. Sure. But you can add Don Lightfoot's custom to the long list. Who else would drive hundreds of miles just to supervise the preparation of thousands of ears of corn for someone else's enjoyment?

Noah Webster would have enjoyed meeting him.

Salem golfers take third at Brighton

Junior Mike Mullen shot an 82 to lead the Plymouth Salem Rocks to a third place finish Monday in the five team Brighton invitational golf match played at Burroughs Farms Golf Course. Plymouth finished with a team score of 341.

Medalist in the match was Dearborn High's Dan Bonamic with a 75. Teammate Tom Fortuna finished with a 77 to pace Dearborn's 316 total.

Jackson Lumen Christi finished second with a 337, followed by Plymouth, Dearborn Riverside, 375, and home team Brighton, 379.

Salem coach Bob Waters later commented that he was satisfied with his team's performance, adding they would be a "slow starting" team.

Plymouth Historical Society founded in 1948

The maxim, "a community which does not know its own history is like a man who has lost his memory," may have been on the minds of some of the 18 local citizens who met in the Dunning Library on a sunny day in June 1948, three years after the end of World War II.

They may have wanted to prevent "virtuous actions from being forgotten." Some may simply have been inspired by a desire to exercise their intellectual curiosity. Whatever their motives, they gathered on that day form the Plymouth Historical Society.

The idea of forming a society had been discussed before 1948, but the catalysts who called the meeting were Mrs. Phila Underwood, a practical nurse proud of having assisted at the birth of more than 500 babies, and Warren C. Hull, a retired educator from Lansing and a member of the State Historical Society.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. Maude Bennett, Mrs. George Burr, Mrs. Norma Cassady, Mrs. Mary K. Hillmer, Warren C. Hull, Miss Eleanor Klix, Mrs. Ellen Laible, Arthur L. Mills, Mrs. Jennie Mills, Mrs. Hazel Moon, Mrs. Ada Murray, Miss Pauline Peck, Mrs. Mary Starkweather, Mrs. Phila Underwood, Mrs. Avis Waldecker, Mrs. Lucy Ware, Mrs. Ruth

Huston Whipple and Mrs. Harriet Wilcox.

MRS. WHIPPLE, the former mayor, was appointed temporary chairman, and Mrs. Jennie Mills was named temporary secretary. Five years after the meeting, Mrs. Mills, then first vice president, wrote an account of what took place.

Dr. Lewis Beeson, secretary of the State Historical Society at Lansing, explained the benefits of having a local historical society and a museum within the city. He suggested that the group organize and hold at least three yearly meetings.

The constitution of the society was adopted on Oct. 12, 1948. "The objects of this society," read one of the articles, "are to encourage historical study and research, to collect and preserve historical material connected with Plymouth and its vicinity, and to house such material where it may be adequately displayed and accessible to the citizens of Plymouth. It shall also be the purpose of this society to establish an historical museum in Plymouth."

The first permanent officers were elected Nov. 16, 1948. Mrs. Phila Underwood was the first president, and Mrs. Bessie Dunning, the first curator.

THE SOCIETY was soon holding 10 meetings a year, usually at the homes of members. Musical entertainment, by local amateurs, was provided at many of the meetings. Austin Whipple led the group singing.

The charter was not closed until the annual meeting on June 14, 1949, at which time there were 51 charter members, including three junior members, Linden F. Mills, Nancy Worth, and Carl Pursell (now a member of the Michigan Senate).

In February 1951, Clarence Stevens, a charter member who lived to be the oldest man in Plymouth, conducted a singing school, patterned after those held in Plymouth in the 1880s by Prof. Foote of Ypsilanti Normal School (now Eastern Michigan University).

By May 1953, some 32 papers about Plymouth of the past had been prepared and read by members. These were compiled into Volume I of the Plymouth Pioneer Days and given to the Dunning Library. A copy was also sent to the Burton Historical Society in Detroit.

ERNEST HENRY, who was president in 1956 and 1959, instituted the society's monthly newsletter. Henry also devoted much time toward the establishment of the organization's first museum. Henry, Frank Henderson, and other members, appeared before the City Commission, during Henderson's term of office (1960-61), and were successful in obtaining rent-free use of a city-owned house at 157 Main, next door to the City Hall. It was in this eight-room, white frame house that the society's first museum was opened.

In the 1870s, the house, which the city had acquired on Aug. 31, 1942, from Mary C. and Regina Polley, had been the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Polley. Polley operated a blacksmith shop next door to his home, on the site of the present City Hall.

The society opened the doors of this first museum on May 25, 1962, during Michigan Week. Mrs. Norma Cassady, a charter member and curator of the society for many years, said 14,000 objects had been catalogued up to that time. These historical items, collected since the founding of the society in 1948, had been stored in attics and basements of members waiting for a museum building. At the time the museum opened, the society had 170 members.

AMONG THE rooms in the museum were the Victorian room, set up in the Polley parlor on the ground floor, and the map room on the second floor. The latter was known among members as the Sid Strong room. Strong, a former village manager, and president of the Historical Society in 1963, had once roomed at the Polley house.

The Polley house served its purpose as the first rallying point for museum objects, but it was an old frame building in need of repair and highly susceptible to fire. For that reason, the Historical Society was fortunate to acquire in 1973, through the generosity of Margaret Dunning, a fine new brick museum building. Miss Dunning, a long-time resident and businesswoman in the city, donated the structure in memory of her parents, Charles A. and Bessie I. Dunning (the society's first curator.)

Groundbreaking for the new building took place in the spring of 1972, when George Burr was president of the society.

The presentation of the building was made on May 20, 1973. Clarence Moore, chariman of the finance committee, 1970-73, and president of the society in 1973, when the building was presented, has worked untiringly to obtain contributions for site money, furnishings and operating expenses. Moore and other members have devoted many voluntary hours building the attractive settings which house the items displayed in the museum.

In May 1975, the museum acquired its first director, Phillip Mroczkowski. As this is written, the work of cataloging and displaying is still proceeding and the building has not yet been opened to the public. When it is, the people of Plymouth will have reason to be proud of the community's newest cultural asset.

They can also be proud of the members of the Plymouth Historical Society, living and dead, whose long hours, donated as a labor of love, have preserved for us, and for generations to come, many remembrances of things past in the life of Plymouth, Michigan.

Plymouth's Dunning-Hough offers story hour

CHESTER LIPA, manager of the new Michigan National Bank-West Metro branch at 34000 Seven Mile near Farmington Road, is proud of the building and its landscaping. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

Bank opens new branch

Officials of Michigan National Bank-West Metro hope that the openings of their next two branches, to be completed within three months, don't have the problem experienced with the start of a new branch at 34000 Seven Mile, west of Farmington Road.

Everything for the Monday opening was proceeding according to schedule—with one minor exception.

That exception was that the furniture ordered in May didn't arrive until last Friday, and then it was discovered that legs were broken on three desks.

BUT BANK officials were happy nothing else marred the grand opening, attended by Livonia city officials and new customers.

The branch, ninth in the firm's Livonia chain, is managed by Chester Lipa, 54, of Northville, who has a varied background in banking, mortgage sales and real estate-construction.

Lipa, whose assistant is William Yule, was in the real estate- building business for seven years before joining Metropolitan Federal Savings and Loan for two years. He was promoted to manager of a branch and then joined Advance Mortgage Co. as a mortgage salesman.

Three years later, in 1967, Lipa joined his current employer as an assistant manager of the Middle Belt-Seven Mile branch opposite Livonia Mall. He was promoted to the managership of the branch opposite Livonia City Hall in 1969 and the next year was moved to the same position in the new branch at Six Mile and Newburgh.

Lipa was then given the assignment of opening the new branch on Seven Mile west of Farmington in June 1974, when the bank was operating out of a mobile home while the permanent building was under construction.

THE NEW branch represents an investment of $272,000, of which $142,000 is the building, $40,000 is in site improvements and $90,000 in land.

Lipa; Ed Lueke, assistant vice president; and Tom Lassaling, senior vice president, were happy to talk about the new branch, which has 3,000 square feet of floor space, eight teller cages and two drive-in lanes with two more to be opened in the future.

The bank offers "101 services," the officials said. Its drive-in windows open at 9 a.m.—a half-hour before any other banks in Livonia—and are open until 4:30 p.m Monday through Saturday.

The drive-in branch on the northeast corner of Five Mile and Farmington Road has hours of 8 a.m.-8 p.m., the bank officials said.

Lassaling, a Livonia resident, said a bank is required to make an extensive market study and get U.S. government agency approval before building a new branch.

The market study of the northwest corner of Livonia showed that there was a need for another bank branch, he said.

THE OTHER two MNB branches under construction and expected to be completed in the near future are at Schoolcraft and Surrey and Middle Belt at Puritan.

Lueck, who went through his first bank opening with the Seven Mile-Farmington Road branch, said he will make sure that the openings for the two new branches go just as smoothly.

One thing he will do is get a new company to furnish the desks.

New arson control unit offers $1,000 rewards

Maximum $1,000 rewards for information aiding the arrest and- or conviction of arsonists are now being offered by Arson Control, a new unit of the state's public and private arson investigation agencies.

Information may be given anonymously by writing to Arson Control, Box 23, Holt 48842. Identity of the informant and the information will be given the fullest possible protection.

Designed to encourage reporting information which could prevent a fire, or aid in catching a person who sets one, the program is an outgrowth of the Michgian Fair Plan Arson Committee.

This committee includes representatives of the State Police arson division, the Detroit Fire Department Arson Division, Michigan Prosecutors Association, Michigan Bureau of Insurance, International Association of Arson Investigators and the Michigan fire insurance industry.

Reward, based on the degree of assistance provided, will be determined by a panel of specialists. Program funds will be provided by a grant from the Michigan Association of Insurance Companies.

State police estimate the cost of arson, with the highest crime growth rate, at nearly $40 million for the state last year.

LIVONIA HARDWARE
ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS ON FALL FERTILIZING

WHY THE FALL? Lawn experts agree, feeding your lawn in the fall provides more lasting benefits than any other time of year. Cooler nights and shorter days encourage the growth and thickening of grass. Lawns fed in the fall stay greener longer despite cold weather.

WHAT ABOUT RE-SEEDING? Fall's the best time to seed, as the warm soil temperature stimulates germination. Before or after you seed, apply Winter Green® to help get the new grass off to a fast, strong start!

WHY PAY FOR "SPRINGTIME" LEVELS OF NITROGEN? Spring products with high-nitrogen formulas encourage blade growth. In the fall, your lawn needs a stronger root system...to insure an early spring green. Winter Green's special 10-18-10 formula provides added phosphorous and potash to build up roots and provide protection against disease and cold temperatures.

NEED TO KILL STUBBORN FALL WEEDS? Use Two-Way Winter Green®, kills dandelions, chickweed and most broadleaf weeds while it fertilizes! $13.95, covers 10,000 sq. ft.

the one fertilizer your lawn needs now!

Treasure club booms in Plymouth

By MAURIE WALKER

Treasure hunting, a fast growing and fairly inexpensive hobby is sweeping the county these days, and explorers in the Plymouth area are not being left behind.

Proof of this can be found in the rapid growth of a recently formed club called the Michigan Treasure Hunters. Further proof of the popularity of treasure hunting is confirmed by Bill Kennedy, owner of Plymouth Metal Detectors, an interesting and popular establishment located at 578 Starkweather.

"We sell and rent various metal detectors, prices for purchasing one ranging from $59 to $300. To rent a detector the cost is only $8 a day or $15 for the weekend," Kennedy said.

His shop contains trays of treasures found by various members of the Treasure Hunters Club and by Kennedy himself.

"This has become a popular hobby, one in which a person may not get rich but can have a lot of fun," Kennedy explained.

He became interested in the metal detector business while a student at Western Michigan University. Following graduation in 1973, Kennedy taught shop courses in Battle Creek.

"I had a metal detector at that time and realized the potential of its popularity so decided to go into the business of selling and renting them," he said.

He explained that metal detectors, depending upon the price, can pick up metal from depths of six inches to six feet below the earth's surface.

"Coins have been located six to 12 feet below the surface of the ground. A cash box was found three feet below the surface," he said.

Weights of detectors run from two to four pounds. They are operated with batteries from the penlight type to a nine volt.

Vern Rowe, a member of the local treasure club, said he took it up as a hobby after he had undergone open heart surgery.

"I found it to be great therapy. Rather than just walk, I used the detector to create interest in my exercise," Rowe said.

During one of his trips to upper Michigan, Rowe discovered a 530-pound piece of copper which is on display at Kennedy's store.

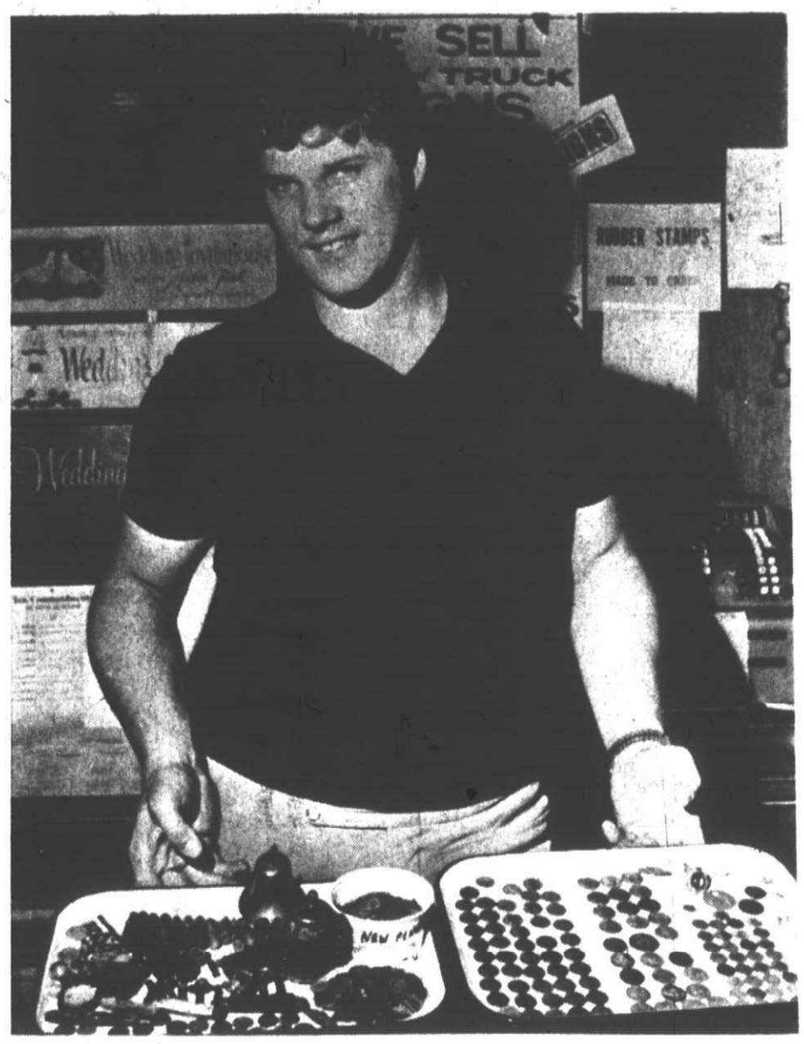

Rare bottles as well as coins have been uncovered by these detectors. The detector locates a bottle cap below the surface which in many instances leads to a rare glass bottle.

Plymouth's treasure club was formed in October last year with meetings held in the East Middle School. The original membership was 12 persons. As interest in the club grew through planned treasurer hunts, membership increased.

Al Temple, president of the club, said that as the club grew a permanant place, large enough to hold the growing membership, became necessary.

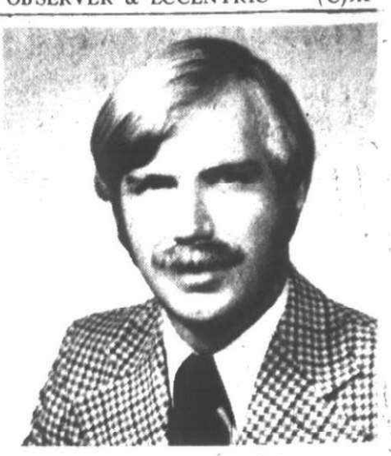

"The Livonia Parks and Recreation Department agreed to let us use the senior citizens building on Farmington Road near Five Mile for our monthly meetings. We now have 92 families in the club which costs only $5 a year in dues and includes an entire family."

The club meets the fourth Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m..

Weed control to take effect

Residents of subdivisions in Canton Township may no longer have to view weedy fields from their backyards and put up with hay fever attacks, caused by weeds in next-door lots.

Members of the Canton Board of Trustees Tuesday unanimously approved a weed control ordinance, designed to force subdivision developers to chop down the weeds in vacant lots.

The ordinance prohibits the growth of all "noxious weeds" which induce hay fever, rose fever or other diseases and cause the discomfot of neighbors within the township.

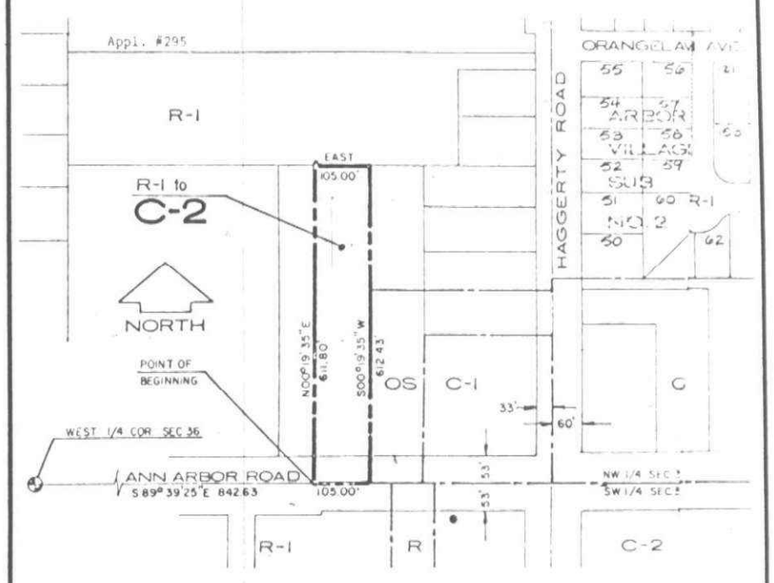

Under the ordinance, landowners must destroy all noxious weeds before the first day of June, the first day of July and the first day of August each year. Township workers will destroy weeds on vacant subdivision lots at the landowner's expense, if he/latter fails to destroy the weeds after a 10-day notice.

Violation of the ordinance is punishable by a maximum $100 fine and 90 days in jail.

Presidential security hinders only the press

Tim Richard writes

It's not nice to knock a hero—especially the man who saved our own President Gerald Ford—but the truth is that security around the chief executive is poor. The only thing the Secret Service protects him from is the press.

As a working newsman, I had that kind of experience last October when Mr. Ford was in Detroit's Cobo Hall for a Republican fund-raising dinner. I was appalled at how simple it would be to harm him, but refrained from writing about it at the time because I feared it would only encourage some nut.

Well, some nut figured it out for herself last Friday, so the story may as well come out.

TO GET PRESS credentials for the Ford banquet, you had to give your name, address and other data a couple of days in advance and pick up your pass several hours before the big show.

The press corps was relegated to a roped-off area where visibility and acoustics were less than desirable. Press photographers got to stand on a set of bleachers so far away that they couldn't use standard camera equipment; they had to use telephoto lenses.

Tracy Baker, star lensman from our Birmingham office, was doing the film honors that evening and came well-equipped, fortunately.

Myself, I don't care to sit with reporters at a political banquet, no matter what the seating arrangements are. Among themselves, newsmen brag horribly, and you can't get a good story out of them anyway.

Instead, I sat with the common ticket-buyers and had a much better time, not to mention a much better view. At my leisure, I strolled up to the head table to ask a local state education candidate to shake Mr. Ford's hand so we could get a picture.

THE CANDIDATE quickly agreed, and I walked back to the bleachers to tell Baker to get ready to shoot—er, snap.

A Secret Service man with one of those bland, unmemorable faces told me to vamoose because newsmen weren't allowed outside of the roped-off area. I tried to explain I was giving directions to a photographer, but the Secret Service man was insistent—back to the quarantined area.

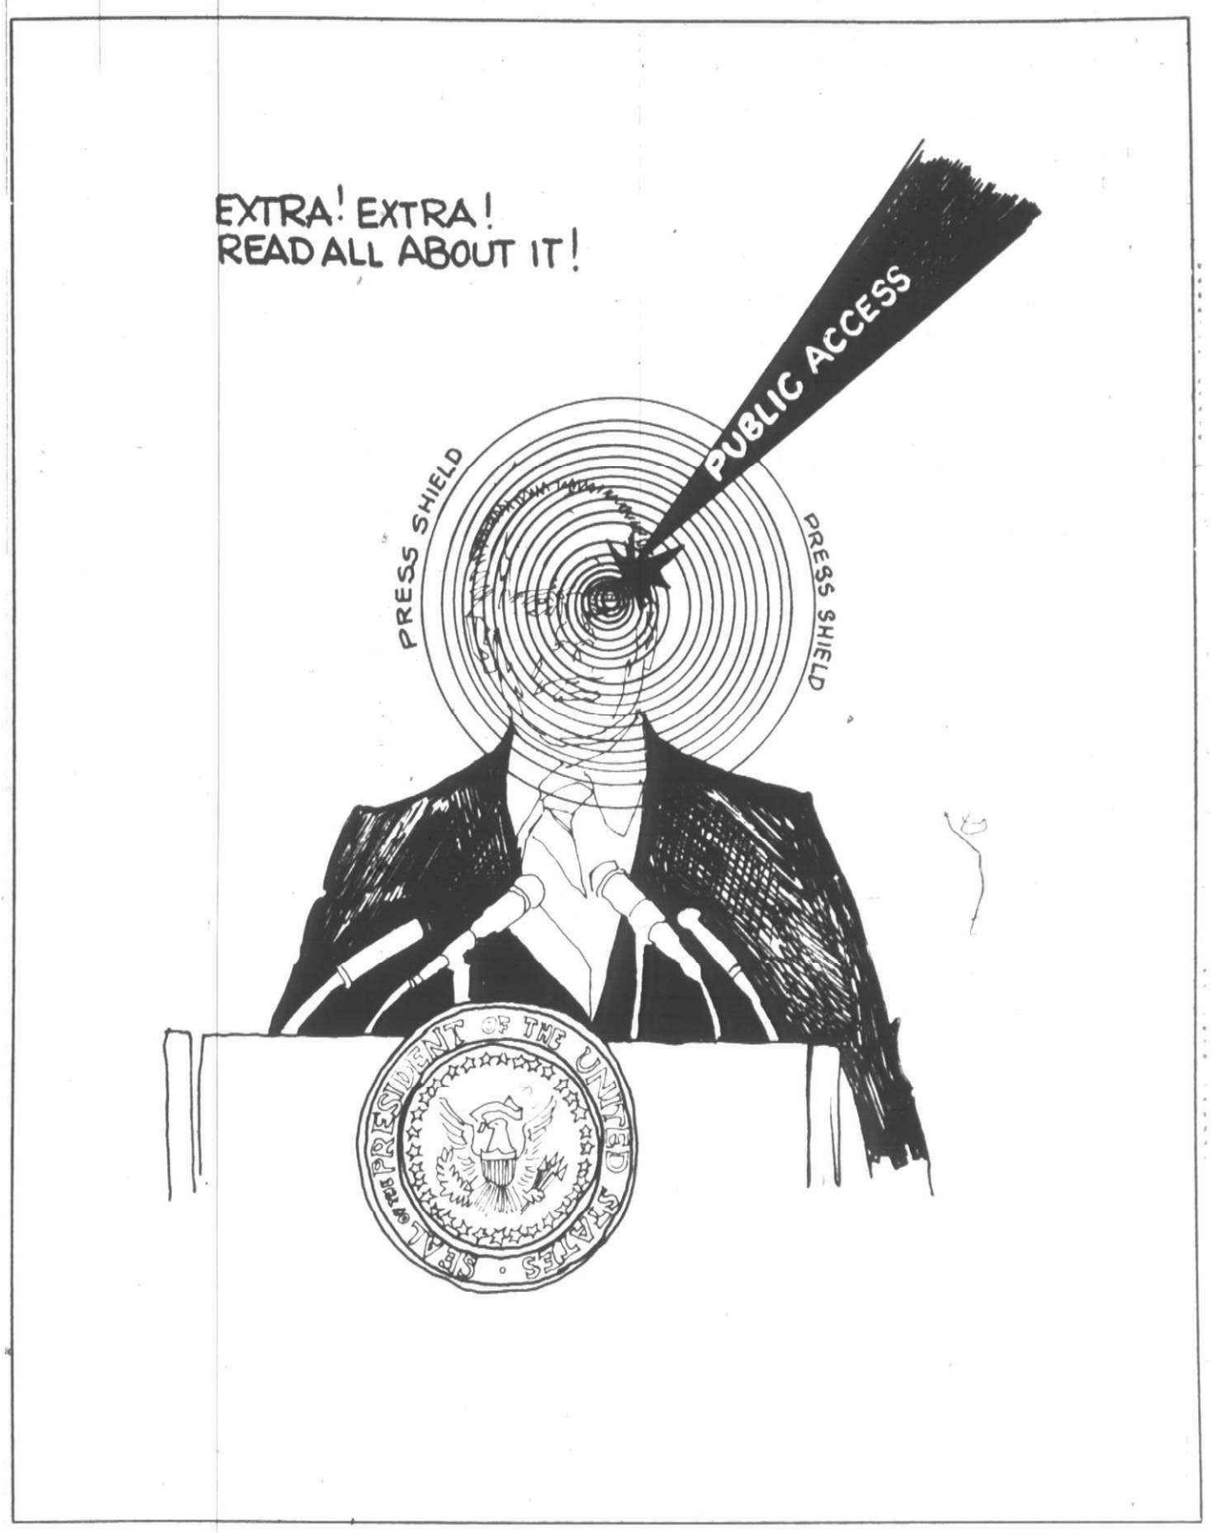

Stalling for time, I gave him some language out of "French Connection II" until I was sure Baker had photographed the right candidate with Mr. Ford; then I left.

THAT WASN'T the galling part. As an Archie Bunker-type lover of the good ol' U. S. of A., I respect the need for security and safety of the president.

The galling part was that common folks were leaving their tables and walking to within 15 feet of Mr. Ford and getting all kinds of pictures with their Instamatics and flash cubes. The Secret Service didn't do a blamed thing about it.

Anyone who bought a ticket to that dinner from the dozens of ticket sellers could have pulled out a pistol and very easily sent the president to the happy hunting ground.

Security around the president in Cobo Hall, as in Sacramento, Calif., was poor. The only thing the Secret Service protected him from was the press.

Grouchy public halts employe strikes

Observation Point

by PHILIP H. POWER

Fall's here, and to subvert the old song, where have all the teacher strikes gone?

As everybody all too clearly remembers, last fall saw a whole slew of teacher strikes. Some were short and some were very long, but the overall climate was hostile and bitter.

By contrast, this year saw only four teacher strikes in the metropolitan area; Livonia's lasted only three days, and now all teacher contracts in the state are either settled or under negotiation while teachers work.

All this happened after the State Legislature and the governor failed to construct a new law replacing the current shambling statute on teacher strikes.

OBVIOUS QUESTION is why so few strikes this time around?

One factor is the economy. With deep recession and high unemployment, nobody with any sense wants a strike.

Another factor is symbolized by the release of John Melchor, chief negotiator for the Garden City Education Association, from jail last week. He served a 13-day sentence for contempt of court. Melchor refused to apologize for not obeying Wayne County Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman's back-to-work order last year during the 42-day Garden City strike.

Melchor's experience in DeHoCo suggested that teachers violating court orders could expect trouble.

A third aspect is shifting attitudes of the teachers themselves. Teachers appear to have recognized the financial problems local school districts face during negotiations.

"We are generally pleased with the gains we made," said Troy Education Association spokesman Sid Dickstein after a ratification vote. "We're unhappy with the low salary adjustment, but we realize that there is just no more money available.

A similar point was made by James Matteson, executive director of the Avondale Education Association (AEA): "It's not the intent of the AEA to force the district into bankruptcy or deficit spending. We're not bargaining a budget—just a decent salary schedule."

PERHAPS MOST important is the public's increasingly grouchy attitude toward teacher strikes.

An eloquent letter to the editor from a Livonia mother makes the representative point: "The school board that has had my support of millage for years, even when we didn't have children in school, has let me down. These are the same people that I supported by addressing envelopes, counting and distributing literature and making phone calls to get support for millage issues.

"Teachers: how do I tell my child to respect you and your authority when you have no respect for his right to go to school? The same teachers who ask me as a mother to donate my time to type, run off stencils and help in class are now telling my child to wait, perhaps ruin next summer's vacation, but still have respect for them when they finally get ready to teach."

It is the public who in the end will determine the extent to which teachers can strike or negotiate expensive settlements. There are clear indications the public has had enough of strikes, and this certainly helped moderate teacher demands and reduce bargaining intransigency on both sides.

THE REAL ISSUE behind discussions of teacher strikes is, of course, the overall question of how to deal equitably with the problems posed by growing unionization of public employes.

School boards and mayors are ill-equipped in collective bargaining experience and face political problems if they depend on the votes of the members of the union with which they bargain. Public employe unions are tough and aggressive, and they sense that local governments—in theory—can always tax enough to pay for any settlement. Yet the public which consumes and pays for public employe services is not represented at the bargaining table.

National awareness of this problem has dramatically increased in recent months, mostly because the national media are run parochially from New York, which is in the worst shape. But in this case a serious defect in our national media system may have worked to the advantage of all, since New York merely may be further along the road to trouble than other cities.

And it might well prove that the case of public employe negotiations, as in so many other broad and important issues in our history, will ultimately be settled by the attitude of an aroused public. Alexander Hamilton said in 1788, "In whatever direction popular weight leans, the current of power will flow," and I can only hope that in this case he was right.

Soothing consciences causes problems

Eccentricities

by HANK HOGAN

Over the last four decades our social consciences have been tweaked to the point where we feel impelled to help certain social causes without looking at the long-run implications of our actions. The following are a few examples.

•THE GOAL IS integration.

Some psychologist decided that the way to solve the problem was by busing school children.

The results now indicate that busing dilutes the available dollars for education and that, in fact, the total educational level of students goes down. While some blacks improve their educational level, they don't improve it as much as the level of education drops for the whites who are bused.

On top of that, busing encourages whites to move to the suburbs, out of the bused area, which increases the chance of a black ghetto in the core city. This, in fact, encourages segregation.

INGLEWOOD, CALIF. was one of the first cities ordered to use forced busing as a means of integrating its schools. A federal court has just ruled that Inglewood no longer has to bus, since its school population over the years has gone from 50 per cent black to 92 percent black and busing is no longer necessary to achieve integration.

It is obvious, also, that busing is an emotional thing that leads to racial tensions instead of solving the goal of integration.

•THE GOAL IS a healthy economy.

Economists tell us that when the economy turns sour, the government should spend more money than it takes in to create federal jobs to soak up the unemployed.

While this may work on a temporary basis, once a federal employe is hired, the position becomes perpetual.

We have done so much deficit spending over the last 10 years that today the Treasury Department is having difficulty funding our national debt.

This difficulty has raised the interest rate of treasury bills to the point where it is attracting money out of savings accounts at banks and decreasing the amount of money available for businesses to borrow for expansion.

If businesses can't expand, they can't possibly create new jobs.

In addition, the debt service for these borrowings has become so gigantic that it takes away from other social programs that Congress should initiate.

Lastly, when the government borrows money it, in fact, creates money and as the money supply is increased without a corresponding increase in production by the private sector, prices go up and inflation is caused.

•THE GOAL IS fair employment practices.

To make sure that state, county and municipal employes are treated fairly, many politicians have attempted to change the law to allow these employes to strike if they are not satisfied with their wages and working conditions.

In the past, the price of working for government with the security that it gives, was the prohibition against strikes, because they disrupt health, education and public welfare.

Today, teachers' strikes, police strikes, garbage collectors' strikes and transportation worker strikes are rampant.

Because of the sensitivity of their jobs, these people are in a position, by striking, to demand far more than their jobs ordinarily would command in the private sector.

The end result is poorer education, suspicion on the part of the citizens as to the motives of public employes and a lowering of the respect of the public for people who should be doing a professional job.

THE CONCLUSION has to be that when we take action to solve a problem, we must be aware of what the problem really is, not its symptoms.

How Gundella handles problems of alcoholism

Dear Gundella,

My husband is a wonderful man with one very bad habit. He drinks. He is an alcoholic, but will not even admit it to himself. He is a good person, and isn't mean, even when he drinks. But he is a lawyer and has a responsible position. I am afraid that his drinking will begin to affect his career.

Not only that, but he drives while intoxicated, and I am afraid he will kill himself, or someone else, with the car.

Moreover, my husband is becoming impotent. He has not seen a doctor, but I'm sure it is a result of his drinking.

Can you help him?

Mrs. F.F.L

Alcoholism is often a symptom of another problem, a deep-seated emotional disorder, or perhaps a feeling of insecurity and a lack of self-confidence.

Your husband's work undoubtedly puts a great deal of pressure upon him, and this may be why he started drinking. Alcohol does temporarily help a person to forget his problems, but in the end it really intensifies them, and gives him some new ones to add to those he already has.

An alcoholic must want to stop drinking before anyone can help him.

You may wish to try the following spell on your husband to give him the motivation to seek help. If you work it with enough emotion, imagination, and faith, you can send this thought to his mind and he will become ill each time he indulges in alcohol.

If he is at all sensible, this should make him join AA or seek the professional help he needs to stop drinking.

Wax Doll Spell to Work on an Alcoholic

Get a piece of beeswax and melt it down. Add to this something from the alcoholic's body, a piece of hair, nail clippings, or what-have-you. As soon as the wax cools, mold it into a little doll to represent the person upon whom you are casting the spell.

Using a clean, new steel needle, write that person's name on the doll. Then once a day, each day, for nine days, pour alcohol into the doll's mouth and jab the steel needle into the doll's stomach several times as you repeat the following verse:

From alcohol you must abstain,
Or, henceforth, you will suffer pain.
Each time a glass of it you take,
You'll have a terrible stomachache.
You'll find that when you drink the booze,
All your dinner you will lose.
Each time you drink even a drop,
The pain will grow and will not stop.

Then, put the doll in a safe place for one week. Repeat this procedure until the pain becomes so great the victim will no longer wish to drink.

When he finally admits that he must stop drinking, there are many agencies that will help him, Alcoholics Anonymous being, of course, one of the best. He may also find the following recipe of help to him.

This old folk remedy is used to help prevent the complete and severe mental and physical breakdown that sometimes occurs during the withdrawal from alcohol. The recipe is as follows:

Place 11 drams of peppermint drops and one dram of oil of nutmeg in one quart of water. Drink a glass of this two or three times a day.

I would suggest that you ask your doctor about this, however, before using it.

You may write Gundella at Box 434, Garden City, Mich. 48135. For a personal reply, please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Success spoils college

Editor:

Recently, all I've been reading about is how Schoolcraft College enrollment has been going up. I think the success is beginning to go to their heads.

I was admitted to the college in the middle of July. I was told a letter would be sent to me in a couple of weeks, telling me when to come in and select my classes. Three weeks passed so I decided to call up and find out what the delay was.

I was told it would take a little longer than expected because of the so-called "increased enrollment." Another three weeks passed so I called again. This time they said I must have got mixed up because I wasn't supposed to get a letter.

They told me to come in Tuesday. I don't know what kind of office they're trying to run, but whatever it is, it's very disorganized. If I was on the board of trustees, I'd look into this matter.

If the employes don't know what's going on, why don't they say so, instead of giving people the runaround. If it wasn't so late I'd probably be going to another college, one that's organized.

Commission's cup runs over

Editor:

I was so touched by your very kind and most sensitive remarks in the recent editorial on the arts commission that it is difficult to express my feelings. I can only say that all of us on the commission sincerely appreciate your recognition of our efforts.

We are all trying very hard to fulfill the cultural needs of our community. It is indeed very rewarding when we have a capacity crowd at Music Under the Stars or at "Barber of Seville."

When public recognition such as yours is rendered, our cup runneth over.

Does 'women's year' pay for facilities?

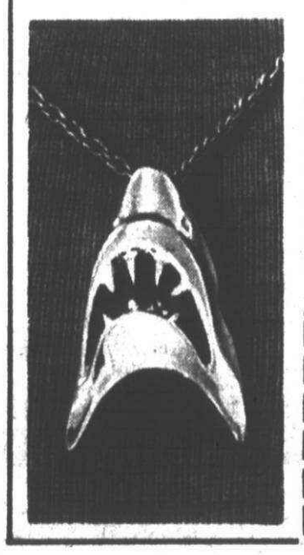

Editor:

It was with utter disgust that I read in your suburban life Observer & Eccentric Newspaper's Sept. 4 issue a full page of free advertisement to the liberal International Womens' Year Festival which is scheduled for Sept. 17 on the campus of Schoolcraft College, a public-supported school.

Do these organizations such as NOW (National Organization for Women) and League of Women Voters pay for this political promotion of their views, pay for the use of the public facilities of which I help to pay taxes on.

I for one am vehemently opposed to their radical views on many issues. Would the John Birch Society be able to get equal space on this college campus and in your paper? (I am not a Birch member).

Deadline nears for scholarships

Madonna College in Livonia has 20 scholarship grants available for sophomore students in "Right to Read," a federally funded program offered through the U.S. Office of Education.

Madonna will provide one-half the tuition cost for students who qualify for financial assistance. Classes start Monday, Sept. 15, and the deadline for application is Friday, Sept. 13.

"Special emphasis will be placed on instructing and understanding pupils with emotional, social and managerial behavioral needs resulting from poor success in reading," said Sister Martina, director of the program and professor of educational psychology at Madonna.

Students will diagnose, plan and prescribe individually designed lessons for teaching reading, coordinating reading instruction into mathematics, science and social studies.

Students, including transfers, who wish to be considered for admission should call Sr. Martina. Those selected should have one year of college or experience which would serve in lieu of such credit.

Since the program is based on competencies, the maturity of the applicants and his interest in children will be significant factors in the selection process. There are no age or sex restrictions.

THOR J. SKAAR of 26291 Pillsbury, Farmington Hills, has been promoted to president of Allied Supermarkets, Inc. in Livonia. Earlier this year, Skaar was promoted to executive vice president and elected to Allied's board of directors. The firm operates stores under the names of Wrigley and Humpty supermarkets and Ideal and K Mart food stores.

5 complete training class

Five membership representatives from Automobile Club of Michigan's Livonia office have complete phase one of a two-year national life insurance program conducted by the Life Underwriting Training Council.

Receiving certificates were John A. Coxford Jr. of 1445 Penniman, Plymouth; Gerald H. Makowski of 14110 Brantwood, Livonia; Paul Salamy of 8929 Seminole, Redford; Gerald N. Fitzgerald of 28614 Oak Pointe, Farmington; and Arnold Kresch of Oak Park.

The program consists of two separate 25-week sessions plus a final exam designed to provide practical on-the-job sales training in life insurance. The second part of the program will be next year.

Sister Emeline Bash to work on committee

Sister Emeline Bash, director of student development at Madonna College, has been named to the 34-member Bicentennial Advisory Committee for the Michigan Department of Education.

She will serve as reprsentative of the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities of Michigan.

The committee will advise State Supt. of Public Instruction John W. Porter and his staff on all bicentennial matters during the 1975-76 school year.

SC receives science grant

Schoolcraft College has received a grant for nearly $110,000 from the National Science Foundation (NSF).

The money will support a project to develop an associate degree program in petroleum technology. It was proposed and developed by Schoolcraft geology instructors John Bedford and William Ryan.

The program is designed to train petroleum geology technicians and will enable graduates to transfer to baccalaureate programs in petroleum engineering or petroleum geology.

Heritage show set in Livonia

By MARGARET MILLER

Pointing toward future involvement with the landscaping of Livonia's Quaker Acres Heritage Village, the Federated Garden Club of Livonia will stage a get-acquainted flower show in the area Friday and Saturday, Sept. 19 and 20.

"A Time to Remember" is the theme for the show that will have a nostalgic and bicentennial flavor.

Althogh only club members may compete for ribbons in the artistic and horticultural classes, the public is invited to attend the show.

There is no charge.

ARTISTIC DISPLAYS in seven classes will be located all through the old Quaker meeting place that has been the central building for the new Heritage Village on Seven Mile just west of Farmington Road.

Visitors will be able to see entries in the "All Through The Night" category in the bedroom with its pink flowered wallpaper, or "Long, Long Ago" arrangements on mantles in the parlor and dining rooms.

Other categories that will enhance the heritage building are "Farewell to Summer," "Stars and Stripes Forever," "We Gather Together," "Memories" and "Sweet and Low."

HORTICULTURE displays will be centered in the Shaw House, the area's oldest residence that recently was moved to its village site.

"It's completely unfurnished and no work has been done inside," said Mrs. Edward Trembath, president of the club, "so we'll set up tables for our display."

There are hopes, however, that doors will be hung in time to replace the plywood now covering the doorways.

Classes in the horticultural division include marigold, petunia, zinnia, snapdragon, coleus, geranium, rose, chrysanthemum, dahlia, houseplants and cacti, so visitors will be able to view top specimins of a big variety of annuals and perennials.

Also in that section will be entries of lava rocks, hanging planters, terrariums and dish gardens.

THREE OTHER features are planned for the show.

Sue Wion is handling an educational exhibit titled "Nature's Discards are Treasures in Disguise." She will show craft ideas on the use of pine cones and other natural materials.

There will also will be a junior division in both artistic and horticultural areas, and a Girl Scout troop led by garden club members Mary Pulick and Rose Grovig is planning entries from the garden plot they have tended all summer.

A sale of houseplants, all from clippings nurtured by members of the garden club, will complete the offerings.

FEDERATED Garden Club members view the show as a kind of preview to work they hope to get underway soon—making the Quaker Acres Heritage Village look as much as possible the way it might have appeared when pioneering was the way of life in this area.

"We've been studying the kind of plants they had then, and hope to get some plantings this fall and next spring, Mrs. Trembath said.

"What they planted was a lot different from what we use today. They used a lot of low shrubbery. And their flowers were more the useful kind instead of those grown just for show.

"They grew things they could use for food, or as herbs, or maybe for dyes. Flowers like larkspur, day lilies, digitalis or tansy."

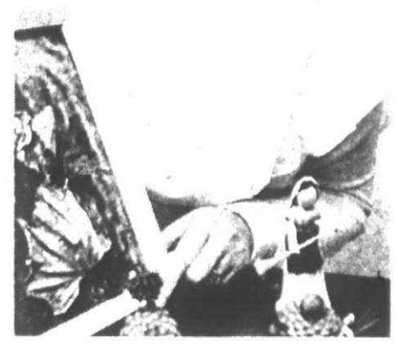

GENERAL CHAIRPERSON for the flower show is Mrs. James Wilkinson and the show consultant is Mrs. John King of the Hill and Dale Garden Club in Farmington.

Mrs. Howard Schweppe, vice president of the Livonia group, and Mrs. Trembath are serving as consultants for the horticulture and artistic displays.

Other committee heads include Mrs. Kenneth Brown, Mrs. Donald Huth, Mrs. Glenn Knight, Mrs. Robert Bresnahan and Mrs. Albert Marshall.

The list also includes Mrs. Wion, Mrs. Pulick, Mrs. Govig, Mrs. Kenneth Gage, and Mrs. Wayne Hastings.

DECORATIVE ITEMS made from natural materials like leaves and pine cones are displayed by Sue Wion, heading the show's educational division.

Youngsters add whimsical touch in Garden City

Norma Jonas of Garden City remembers that one the the most fun things she did in elementary school was join in an annual science class project.

In it, the children were asked to take the firm vegetables available at this time of year and let imaginations run riot—fashioning them into animals or people or scenes or "just about anything we wanted."

"It was about the most popular thing we did in the class all year," she remembers.

"Everyone looked forward to it."

SO MRS. JONAS, now a member of the Federated Garden Club of Garden City, suggested the project as a special feature for her group's upcoming flower show, scheduled Sept. 27 and 28 in the Log Cabin in the Garden City Park.

"We're inviting the science classes in all the schools and also youth clubs and Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops here to participate," she said.

There will be a special display of the kids' vegetable creations and special ribbons for those judged best.

The hours for the show will be noon to 8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 27, and noon to 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 28. There will be no admission charge.

Besides the children's displays, there will be many flower arrangements and specimens of plants—roses, mums, dahlias, flowering vines, foliage house plants, flowering house plants, cacti and succulents, bonsai and vegetables.

The show will feature also a display on conservation and wild flowers and plants protected by law.

It is not necessary to be a member of the club to enter the show, and those interested may get particulars by calling Mrs. William Haydon, 29002 Alvin Court, Garden City.

MEMBERS WILL BE on hand throughout the show hours to share plant knowledge with visitors.

"If you have wondered about a plant you have in your home, the name of it, the care of it, or how to start others for friends, you will be able to find out at the show," Mrs. Jonas said.

Lynda Webber, Ladywood grad, dies of Hodgkins

A valiant, four-year battle against Hodgkin's disease is over for a young woman who lived in Livonia most of her 23 years.

Mrs. Lynda Ellis Webber's funeral services were held yesterday in St. Mary's Catholic Church of Wayne, the same church where she was married nearly three years ago.

She died Saturday in a hospital in Chicago, where she and her husband, Thomas, had gone to live because of a job transfer for him.

Mrs. Webber was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Ellis of Livonia. She graduated from Ladywood High School in 1969.

"She was a person who loved living so much she never thought of dying," said her mother, Vel, a member of the Observer & Eccentric advertising staff.

"Even in the hospital, her room was a pretty, gay place, full of posters and plants. She loved growing things and animals—all of God's world."

Mrs. Ellis said Lynda met Tom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Webber of Livonia, after graduating from high school. It was in August of 1971 that she learned she had Hodgkin's, a fatal disease that affects the liver and kidneys.

She said the young couple decided to get married despite Lynda's illness and "they fought this thing together."

"They gave each other so much," she added. "I think in the 2½ years they were married, they had more than many people have in 25 years."

Lynda and Tom had bought a house in Chicago and "they had so many plans for fixing it up," Mrs. Ellis said. She added that her daughter worked until last June at Irving Federal Savings and Loan.

She went into the hospital for a time then, but was absolutely determined, her mother said, to be a bridesmaid in the wedding of Christine Kramp, who had been her maid of honor. She took part in that wedding but was back in the hospital shortly after her return to Chicago.

LYNDA AND TOM WEBBER

Mrs. Ellis said Lynda also had signed up this spring to play on a woman's softball team. "She was too weak to play, but she went to some her their games," she added.

Mrs. Ellis was high in praise of the Children's Leukemia Foundation of Detroit and its executive director, Mrs. Sylvia Brown of Farmington.

"The foundation did so much to help, both financially and in giving moral support," she said. "And after Lynda and Tom moved to Chicago Mrs. Brown spent a lot of time trying to find a supportive group for them there."

Besides her husband and parents, Lynda leaves a brother, Bruce.

The family has asked that any contributions be sent to the Children's Leukemia Foundation.

Parliamentary law institute Sept. 12

Club officers who are a little shaky on their knowledge of parliamentary law may attend an institute on the subject Friday, Sept. 12, in the Ramada Inn, Telegraph and Twelve Mile, Southfield.

The institute, sponsored by the Michigan State Association of Parliamentarians who will hold their eighth annual convention the following day, will begin at 2 p.m.

A skit spoofing parliamentary procedures will be presented by the Kenwood Women's Club to get the institute started.

Following the skit, there will be two hours of instruction on "How to Use Ranking Motions to Conduct Business." The instructor will be Mrs. Tom Buckley, first vice-president of the National Association of Parliamentarians (NAP) and a resident of Independence, Mo.

Mrs. Buckley also will be speaker for the 6 p.m. banquet. Her topic will be "Enlarge the Place of Your Tent."

The Kenwood club first presented its skit for last spring's Program Planning Institute, for which Mrs. Nathaniel Banks, a Kenwood member, was program chairman.

Mrs. Banks also is recording secretary of the State Association of Parliamentarians and vice president of the Detroit unit. She is assisting Mrs. Clyde Kell, president of the Detroit NAP unit, in making arrangements for the convention.

Mrs. John Schramek of Kalamazoo, state president, will preside over convention business sessions, beginning at 9:30 a.m. Sept. 13.

Speakers will include Mrs. John Griffin of Detroit discussing "The Measure of a Parliamentarian" and Mrs. H.H. Wright of Milwaukee talking about "Ritual."

Mrs. William Hermann, 9898 Tecumseh, Redford Township, is accepting reservations for the leadership institute.

Anti-smoking clinic set

A five-day anti-smoking clinic will be conducted by Dr. Arthur Weaver, a Harper Hospital thoracic surgeon, Sept. 15-19 from 4-5:30 p.m. in the hospital's Webber Auditorium.

It has been estimated that 80-90 per cent of those who have attended his clinic have quit smoking by the end of five sessions.

Cost of the clinic is $1.

Livonia group sets Lamaze classes

The Livonia Lamaze Association will hold a series of Lamaze childbirth classes during the fall at five different area locations.

During the six-week classes, couples learn comfort measures for pregnancy, labor and delivery as well as relaxation and breathing techniques for all stages of labor and delivery. Classes should be taken in the last trimester of pregnancy.

Five different series will be held from 7-9 p.m. in Henry Ford Junior High School, 8075 Ritz, Westland. A Monday series will begin Sept. 15, Oct. 27 and Dec. 8. Friday classes will start Sept. 26 and Nov. 7.

Classes will begin Sept. 24 and Nov. 5 at Oakland Community College Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington. At the Novi Middle School, a series will start Wednesday, Oct. 8.

A series will begin in St. Mary Hospital Thursday, Oct. 23, and Tuesday, Nov. 11. Schoolcraft College will host a Saturday morning series starting Oct. 18.

Romance flowers in St. Damian club for senior citizens

Mrs. Georgette Seguin, a Westland resident for six years, is a great booster of senior citizens' clubs.

She's been a regular attender of meetings for retirees at St. Damian and St. Bernardine Catholic parishes and in the Wayne Civic Center, and not too long ago enjoyed a senior citizens' tour to Spain.

Now Mrs. Seguin, a widow, has another reason for her enthusiasm.

She'll be married Oct. 11 to Mathew Murphy, a Westland widower she met through activities at St. Damian.

The families of both are delighted, said Mrs. Jeannette Bouregard, Mrs. Seguin's daughter. "Both of them have been widowed about a year and a half, so they've both been lonely. But my mother always has said lonely people should get into such groups and make new contacts."

She said her mother had attended the St. Damian meetings with her first husband, Oliva Seguin, before his death.

The couple will be married in the Bloomfield Hills home of Murphy's daughter-in-law. Witnesses for the ceremony will be their 19-year-old grandchildren.

Theresa Beauregard will take a break from her studies at Mercy School of Nursing in Grand Rapids to attend her grandmother, and Danny Martel of Detroit will be witness for his grandfather.

The couple plans to live in Murphy's home on Gladys Street in Westland.

New marker for grave

Newburg to honor founding pastor

By MARGARET MILLER

The Rev. Marcus Swift, one of this area's earliest preachers and one of his country's first anti-slavery voices, will be honored Sunday, Sept. 14, in the 141-year-old Livonia church he founded.

The congregation of Newburg United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia, not only will trace the story of this pioneer who was territorial official and judge as well as preacher, but will visit his grave in the nearby Newburgh cemetery and place a new headstone there.

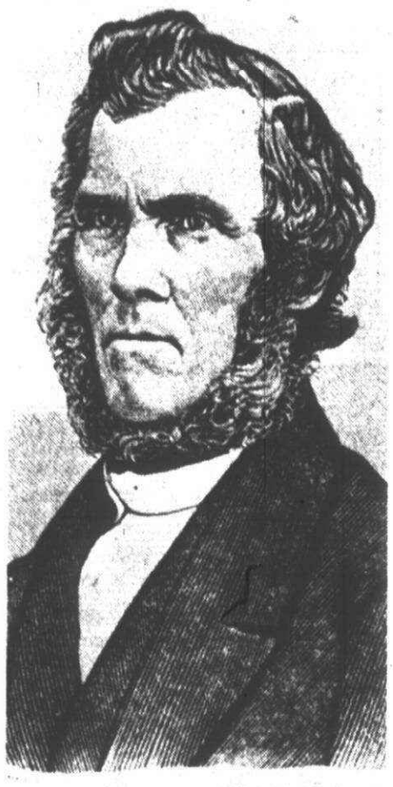

"The headstone placed on his grave when he died in 1865 has fallen down and its letters are hard to read," said the Rev. William A. Ritter, present pastor of Newburg. "We'll give him a new one." He added that the marker that has stood on the grave for 110 years will be taken over by the Livonia Historical Society.

The Rev. Ritter, who first learned about his long-ago counterpart while planning a 140th anniversary Heritage Sunday a year ago, said he later discovered the grave of the Rev. Swift and several other members of the Swift family while out jogging with his son.

HE SAID THE PLANS for sharing the preacher's story in Sunday's 9:30 and 11 a.m. services and the congregational visit to the cemetery following the second service came because "In this bicentennial year, I think those of us who have close links with the past should make the effort to learn more of our heritage."

Knowledge of the life and doctrine of Marcus Swift was gained largely from "The Peninsula State, a General History of the State of Michigan."

That volume, published in 1873, is the property of Mrs. Gladys Ryder, longtime member of Newburg Church and Livonia's Historical Commission.

REV. MARCUS SWIFT

MARCUS SWIFT was described by the Rev. Ritter as a "gifted individual, skilled orator, a mature kind of guy who drew people to him."

Born in in Palmyra, N.Y., he came with his family to Michigan in 1825 after the family suffered financial reverses due to the drowning of an older brother. The spot they picked to settle was in Bucklin Township, which later was divided into Redford, Dearborn, Livonia and Nankin townships, and their home-site was listed by the history book as "18 miles west of Detroit."

Swift was elected territorial supervisor two years after his arrival, and was re-elected to the post nine times. Then he was appointed a circuit-riding justice of the peace by President Andrew Jackson.

"But he had been licensed to preach in the Methodist church, and his real interest was the ministry of little churches," the Rev. Ritter said.

He was appointed in 1833 by the newly organized Detroit conference of the Methodist church to take charge of its 125-mile Oakland circuit, and a year later he moved to the smaller Plymouth circuit so that he could continue his governmental and judicial work, the history book records.

"Newburg was one point on that circuit," the Rev. Ritter said, "and he was the first to establish a church here."

BUT THE PREACHER didn't stay long with the church in this area.

"The slavery issue was coming to the fore," the Rev. Ritter went on, "and Marcus swift began anti-slavery agitation. He believed strongly that slave-holding and any complicity with this practice was totally against the Christian gospel."

The Methodist church at that time, he said, was "lukewarm on the issue, and Swift's view was not a popular one, so he faced threat of property damage and mob violence as well as all kinds of malicious gossip and innuendo."

The Detroit conference then acted, the Rev. Ritter related, ordering the young preacher to stop his anti-slavery agitation and offering him ordination and "one of the leading pulpits in the conference" if he would do so.

"He had great incentive to keep his mouth shut, but he believed strongly in the principle involved and his favorite phrase at that time was 'No peace without purity,'" the Rev. Ritter said.

MARCUS SWIFT left both the church and the State of Michigan and later founded the Wesleyan Methodist Church, which had the anti-slavery position as one of its principal tenets.

A convention of that denomination in 1843 in Utica, N.Y., drew representatives of nine states, and the Wesleyan Methodist Connection of America was listed about that time as having 170 preachers and 8,000 adherents.

The Rev. Swift authored a "Book of Doctrine and Discipline" during his ministry. At the end of his life, he returned to Michigan, and he died in the home of a son, Dr. J.M. Swift of Northville.

THE REV. WILLIAM RITTER, pastor of Newburg United Methodist Church of Livonia, checks the markings on the crumbling grave marker of the Rev. Marcus Swift (insert) who founded the Livonia church 141 years ago. The present congregation will erect a new marker after special commemorative services Sept. 14. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

Yom Kippur is day of fasting, prayer

Yom Kippur on Monday, Sept. 15, will be the religious climax of a 10-day period of repentence observed by Jews.

The period was ushered in last Saturday and Sunday by the festival of Rosh Hashanah which marks the begining of a new year, 5736, with the date going back to creation as recorded in the Bible.

The origin of Yom Kippur dates back to the time when the Jews received the 10 commandments from God. When Moses descended from the mountain with the two tablets on which the commandments were written, he found the Jews worshiping the golden calf.

In anger Moses broke the tablets.

Later Moses took new tablets to the mountain and God declared his forgiveness for the sin of the golden calf. The day became known as Yom Kippur, the day of atonement.

It is both a fast day and a day spent in prayer in the synagogue.

Rosh Hashanah, which proceeds it, is a more festive occasion. To honor the beginning of a new year, children in Beth Yehudah afternoon school made New Year's cards.

Families, such as that of Aaron Engel of Livonia, enjoyed a festive meal which included the ceremonial eating of apples dipped in honey and the saying of a prayer that God grant them a good and sweet year.

Ordinarily, the shofar (ram's horn) is blown to start the ceremonial occasion in the synagogue. But because Saturday is the Jewish sabbath, this event was held on Sunday.

Spartans gear up for title defense

By JIM BRADLEY

Livonia Stevenson has a lot of holes to fill if it hopes to repeat as Inter-Lakes League football champ again this year.

"We lost seven all-league players who went both ways," points out Spartan head coach Jack Reardon, who is entering his 11th grid season at the school.

"But we have a great group of kids who work hard and have a lot of pride. If they continue to improve and stay healthy, we should do all right."

Stevenson has won the league title four of the last seven years, in 1968, 1969, 1972 and 1974, and will carry five sophomores on its 35-man squad. The Spartans were 5-0 in league play and 7-2 overall.

"We're not as big as in former years," says Reardon, "but we're quick and we'll be in good shape."

Five returning starters are among only nine returning lettermen, but Reardon thinks they'll provide the leadership for a successful season.

Pacing the returning nine are co-captains John Lokar, a 5-10, 170 pound senior tailback and defensive halfback, and senior Randy Saie, a rugged 6-1, 201-pound two-way tackle. Two-way tackle Mike Medved (6-foot, 206), end Mike Gallagher (6-1, 170) and Bob Mays, a 5-9, 167-pound back, who will probably also start at linebacker, are the others.

"We don't like to do it, but it looks like several boys will be going both ways," Reardon admits.

Included in that group is a number of backs which will play either or both ways. Among these are tailback Lokar, whose brother, Paul, was an outstanding player with Stevenson last year before an injury cut his season four games short; Chuck DeMarco, Ron Colone, Bill Parks, Bill Rowley and sophomore Jim Spala, who is coming along very fast, according to the coaching staff.

In the offensive line, Gallagher and Pat Altenberger, a 6-2, 157-pound sophomore, have the inside track for starting ends, but are getting competition from Mike Sims, Steve Taylor and Bill Mikkelsen, all juniors. Dave Mueller (6-1, 184) and Tom Canty, a 6-1, 165-pounder, should start at guard, but Jim Wilkinson and Mark Lokar (both about 5-10, 160) are coming on strong, with Lokar also vying for a linebacker spot.

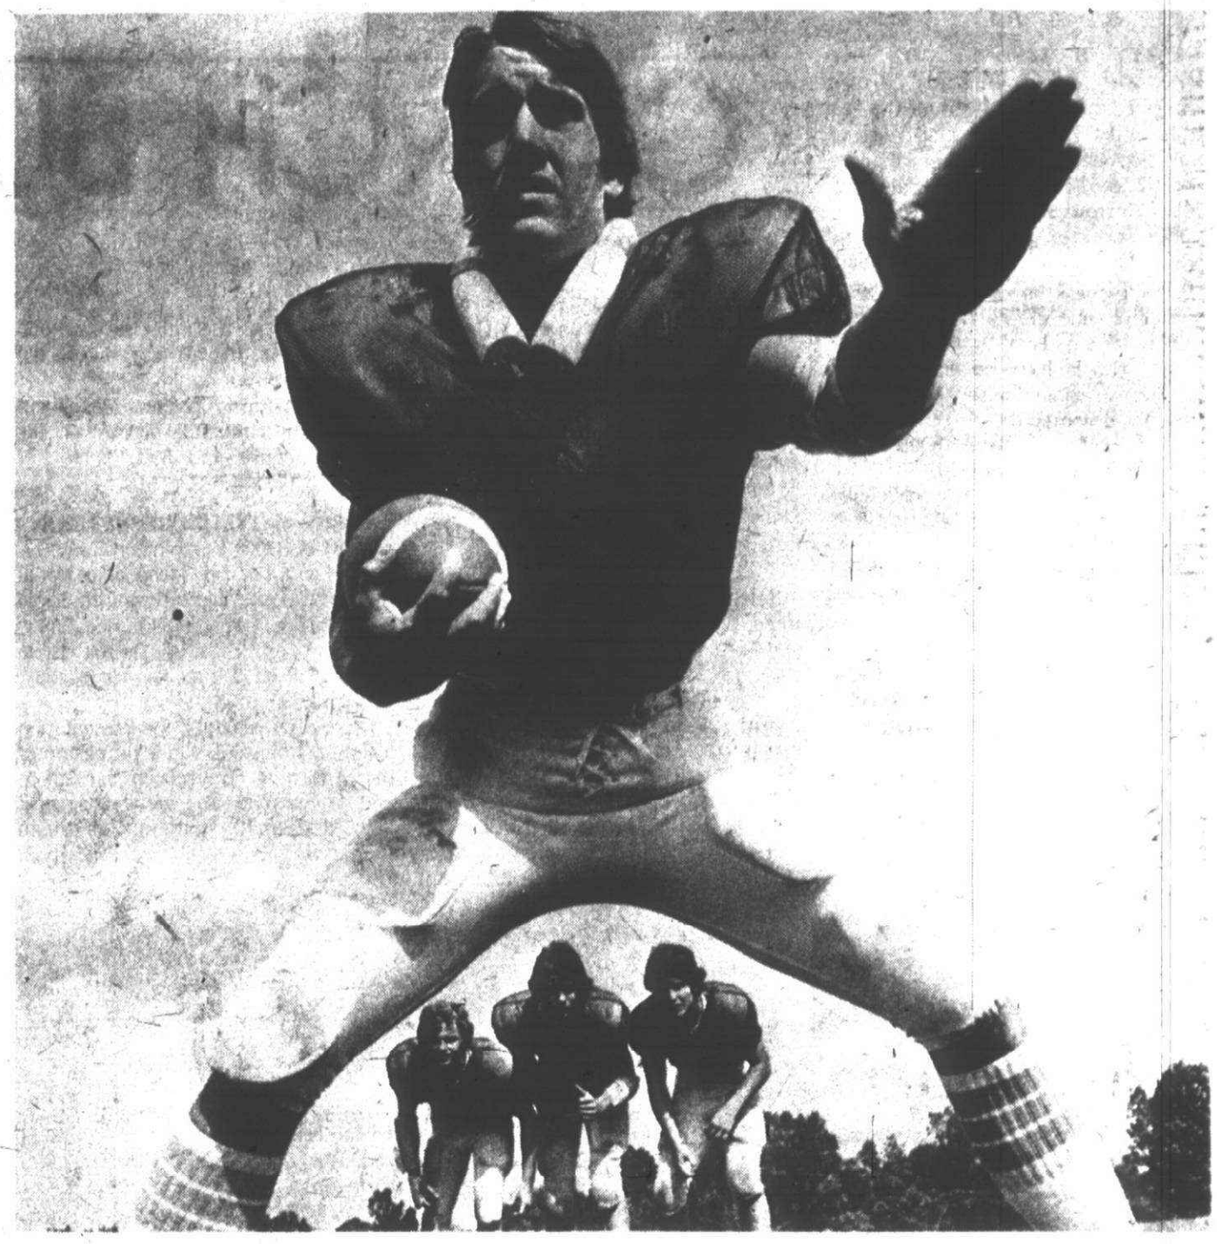

Anchoring the line will be big, burly two-way tackles, Mike Medved and Randy Saie, who will be spelled by junior Bill Gardner, a 6-0, 173-pound junior, and sophomore Larry Burdiss, a solid 182 pounds. Craig Barton (6-1, 176) at center will snap the ball to 6-1, 180, Jim Dolmetsch, a junior who played about half of each game last year.

Others showing well so far, according to Reardon, are Brian Murphy and Fred Ritz at noseguard, Mike Lynett and Bill Finn as linebackers, and junior John Massab at defensive halfback. Massab is also second-string quarterback behind Dolmetsch.

Stevenson participated in a four-way scrimmage last week and Reardon had mixed reactions. "On the whole, I thought we did okay. We were stronger defensively than offensively, but the pass blocking was very good against some pretty good schools."

Reardon looks for Pontiac Northern, Farmington and Milford Lakeland to give his Spartans the toughest time this season as they try to repeat as Inter-Lakes champs.

Other coaches feel Stevenson will do okay even though they lost those seven two-way all-league players. Reardon, who is entering his 19th year as a high school coach, said confidently, "I just know we're gonna play good football."

JOHN LOKAR WILL be carrying the ball for this year's Livonia Stevenson grid team as the Spartans try to repeat in the Inter-Lakes Conference. Backing up Lokar with big contributions will be Bob Mays, Craig Barton and Chuck DeMarco. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

'Lean and mean' Borgess ready for new league

By JIM BRADLEY

"We're lean and mean!"

That's the way coach Fred Mushinski describes this year's edition of Bishop Borgess' football squad. And it'll have to be when it tackles the likes of Dearborn Divine Child, Birmingham Brother Rice, Catholic Central and several other grid powers.

The senior-oriented Spartans have six offensive and six defensive starters back from last year's 6-2 season in which Borgess placed second to Divine Child with a 4-1 record in the Double A bracket of the Catholic League.

That slim, 14-10 loss to Divine Child last year, along with an equally frustrating 12-7 setback at the Falcons' hands in '73, will strongly motivate Borgess as it tackles the Dearborn school this Saturday night.

"It's tough playing our first game against a team which could be a state champion in Class B," shrugged Mushinski, "but every one of our eight season games will be tough and I think we'll do all right."

That "lean and mean" statement must be explored, because Mushinski, who has a 27-14 won-lost five year record at Borgess, has a few players with real heft.

The brawn begins with senior John Wedesky, a 6-2, 234-pound center who will double as a defensive tackle. Many will go both ways.

Offensive guards will be Dave Smith (5-10, 185) and Chris Priebe, 6-foot, 190, who will also be a linebacker. Offensive tackles are Mike Ostach (6-2, 193) and Dave Brand, a 5-11, 187-pound senior who will go both ways. Tight end Kevin McKee, who started last year as a sophomore, will also play defensive end at 6-0, 190.

In the pro-style backfield, All-Observer and Eccentric tailback Jim Kozlowski should again dazzle opponents with his acceleration and balance. Last year he churned out 1,600 yards and scored 17 touchdowns. Teaming with Kozlowski in the backfield will be sophomore quarterback Steve Michuta (6-2, 172), Keith Kleinsmith, a 5-10, 175-pound senior fullback and flanker Chuck Westphal, a 5-8, 160 pound junior.

At split end for the Spartans will be senior Doug Kelley and junior Paul Sugars, who will alternate each down as they carry in the plays from the coach.

"Michuta has a very accurate throwing arm," Mushinski says, "and he's shown real poise and leadership for a sophomore. Of course, Kozlowski is the key to our offense and if we can get some good passing, he'll be alf the more effective."

Shoring up the Borgess defensive 5-2 unit will be McKee, Brand and Wedesky along with end Mike Farley (6-0, 180) and noseman Tom Budd at 5-9, 175.

Chris Priebe and Joe Dudzinski, whom Mushinski calls "two of the finest linebackers ever to play for Bishop Borgess," will key the defense. Dudzinski stands 6-1 and weighs 175.

Kozlowski will handle the defensive safety slot where he earned all-state honors last year and Kleinsmith will man a halfback position. At the cornerback spots will be a pair of seniors, Keith Studzinski, (6-1, 180) and 5-11, 170-pound Mark Koltunchik.

Borgess was moved from the Double A bracket to the Central Bracket this year and has a very rugged schedule. After opening with Divine Child and Garden City East in non-league encounters, the Spartans meet Detroit Catholic Central, De La Salle, U-D High, Brother Rice and ends the regular season against Notre Dame High.

"We feel we have the best overall team speed ever, are as strong defensively as ever and we feel we can move the ball," Mushinski says optimistically. "The boys have great spirit, believe in themselves and have made many sacrifices and strong commitments for a successful season."

Salem game to be televised

The traditional opening high school football game between Plymouth Salem and Bloomfield Hills Andover, slated for 8 p.m., Friday at Andover, will be carried via delayed tape over Channel 56 in the Detroit area.

The delayed telecast will begin at 10 p.m.

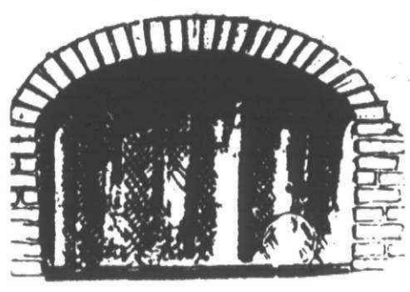

"TWO OF THE BEST linebackers Bishop Borgess has ever had." So says Borgess Coach Fred Mushinsi of the diving pair, Mike Fairly and Joe Dudzinski. Borgess has a new division and a rough enough schedule to test any defense. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

Preps launch new season Friday

By TOM SCHRAM
Sports Editor

A crispness has returned to the fall air. Bats and gloves have been stored in favor of pads and pigskins and area high schools have been rife with the sounds of shoulders hitting sleds, unison conditioning drills and coaches deleting explitives under their breathes for three weeks now.

No doubt about it. The high school football season is ready to get under way.

All area high schools cross the line of scrimmage this weekend with seven games slated for Friday and three for Saturday.

Here's a rundown of this weekend's action. Games at 8 p.m. unless noted.

FRANLKIN AT FORDSON

The Patriots, who will be gunning for a third consecutive Northwest Suburban League title are as powerful as ever and should plow past the Tractors to give new coach Armand Vigna an initial win in this 3:30 p.m. affair.

JOHN GLENN at GARDEN CITY WEST

Glenn has a spirited outlook, a knowlegable coach and a big following. Garden City West has the horses. With 26 lettermen back, the Tigers will roll. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

STEVENSON at REDFORD UNION

A long season starts for Redford Union Friday night. Stevenson is not real big but overshadow an RU team that lacks anyone over 200 pounds.

RIVERSIDE at GARDEN CITY EAST

East will be in for a battle Friday. Riverside should win that battle. The Panthers will improve but a a victory here will be very tough.

SALEM at BLOOMFIELD HILLS ANDOVER

For four years Plymouth Salem has worked over the rich kids in this traditional opener. This time, it will be a long busride back back to Plymouth. Andover breaks the spell.

BENTLEY at CANTON

The Chiefs take it on the chin. Bentley rolls.

ROBICHAUD at CLARENCEVILLE

Robichaud expects to have a winning season this year. They should at least start out on the plus side of that endeavor.

Saturday's games

ST. AGATHA at DETROIT COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL

Both teams experienced winning campaigns last season. Both have enough people coming back to warrant similar expectations this year. A little added experience may pull the Aggies through.

CHURCHILL at THURSTON

A lot of questions about a pair of question-mark teams will be answered Saturday afternoon in this 2 p.m. clash. In the end, Thurston's size should prove out.

BISHOP BORGESS at DIVINE CHILD

This game has been a decisive factor in the Catholic League playoffs for the past two years. Now Bishop Borgess has switched divisions. But revenge lies with the Spartans who have been beaten closely each of the last two encounters. That revenge factor should be enough.

Chris Boring shoots for sulky driving title

Chris Boring, the pride of Adrian, Mich., doesn't have too many frustrations left as far as the sport of harness racing is concerned. At age 34 the handsome trainer-driver has just about done it all.

Just about, that is. But not quite. One of the few really important things that has eluded Boring is a season's driving championship at his favorite race track, Wolverine Raceway. It gets even more irritating when you finish a red hot second in the driver race, such as Chris did last year to the Canadian star Greg Wright.

As far back as 10 years ago Boring made national headlines with his homebred pacer True Duane, reaching the pinnacle of that episode when he upset the super harness horse Bret Hanover in the final race of Bret's brilliant career.

Since that time Boring's accumulation of the sport's magic 2-minute miles has reached 37, his total victories are approaching the 2,000 mark and the horses in front of his sulky have amassed earnings of more than $4½ million.

But the exciting thing to the legion of Boring fans right now, not to mention Chris himself, is that he is entering the last month of the Wolverine season perched on top of the driver standings. Even though he has started more horses than anyone else in camp except Wright, he has the best percentage of first, second and third place finishes.

Wolverine presents trophies and two handsome color television sets to the drivers who have the top percentage of in-the-money finishes, and the most victories.

East field may cause switch

Due to the condition of the Garden City East field, which has suffered fertilizer damage, the scheduled game between East and Riverside, slated for 8 p.m. Friday at East, may be moved to a different location.

Fans should check with the school for the change.

Improving Chiefs hope to vie for Western Six title honors

By BILL COLLINS

In the brief two-season span of the Plymouth Canton Chiefs' existence improvement has come in small measures.

Last fall's 3-6 record was only a slight improvement from the previous 2-7 mark turned in by the initial Canton squad in 1973.

"We were tough in the Western Six last year (3-2), but we did'nt play worth two cents against non-league opponents," said head coach Jim Muneio.

As Plymouth Canton gets better, so does the caliber of play in the Western Six.

Muneio evaluated Chiefs' counterparts in the conference: "Northville and Livonia Churchill will be the primary contenders. Farmington Harrison should hold their own and Waterford Mott will have to come back after last year's season.

"I've seen Walled Lake Western scrimmage and they look good at times. It's very difficult to say how everyone will finish."

On offense, the Chiefs boast nine returning lettermen led by quarterback Tom Close.

"Close is an excellent all-around athlete and he can throw the ball," stated Muneio.

Starting with Close in the backfield will be seniors Jim Tiller and Steve Harris at halfback, along with fullback Mike Ogden. Dave Pink and Keith Hammonds will be the target of Close's passes, at offensive ends.

Junior John Young will center the ball while being flanked by Kevin Parmenter and Mike Nyhus at the guards.

All-League guard Randy Urban will return to action soon as he is recovering from pneunomia.

Steve Salyer and Jim Williams, both senior letterwinners, are the tackles.

Improvements on offense don't vary from those on defense as Muneio points out. "We'll have seven or eight players going both ways, and these players are in good physical shape. That's why our overall quickness and defensive pursuit is better."

Canton will employ a monster defense with the 5-2 setup. Pink and Ron Craig are at corners on the defensive line.

Williams and Salyer will switch sides and double as defensive tackles.

Tom Rudolph and Urban will alternate at noseguard.

Linebackers are junior John Young and sophomore Jerry Simon, while juniors Mark Hutton and Marquis Perkins will see playing time at the monsterback.

In the secondary, Close is at safety with Tiller and Ogden at the corners.

Plymouth Canton does not have any significant size besides co-captain Pink (6-3, 200) and Steve Salyer (6-6, 200). As a relatively small team, the Chiefs will have to utilize their quickness, experience, and overall balance to contend with Northville and Churchill for the league title.

"This year's team has a different attitude toward work. They know it takes time and work to be good, and they've shown me they have the desire to win," said coach Muneio.

Plymouth Canton's gradual improvement should continue this fall. Whether the Chiefs make short strides or leaping bounds in their rise to the top remains to be seen.

Bentley to shoot for Sub 8 title

"They're talking state championship down at Trenton but I never bet against myself."

Thus Livonia Bentley coach Glen Goode describes the upcoming Suburban Eight football race.

Goode has power in numbers at Bentley where 107 candidates turned out for the football program. That number has been trimmed considerably of late, and the Bulldogs will field a strong, primarily senior squad.

The leader of the pack is captain Dan Tabaczynski, a three-year veteran who will play offensive guard and noseguard. At 5-10 and 175, Tabaczynski will have to rely on strength and quickness—and he has plenty of both.

The show will be run by quarterback Russ Hodges.

"He understands the game as well as anyone I've ever coached," said Goode, who is in his seventh year at the helm at Bentley after serving 10 years in the Catholic League.

Goode lists quickness and brains as Hodges' main attributes.

TIM OAKLEY, A 5-8, 195-pound senior is back for his second year as starting fullback. Oakley, who can block as well as run, will be switched to the linebacker spot on defense and will also handle the placekicking chores.

Dave Marconi, a 6-0, 195 lineman, will be asked to make a big contribution also.

"We're not a big team at all. But this the most enjoyable team I've ever coached. It has a very unselfish attitude," said Goode.

The entire defensive secondary on the team will be back, cutting down the Bulldogs' vulnerability through the air.

"And the way this coaching game has been going lately, I think that's really important. Anything can happen on any down," Goode said.

The big problem for Bentley will be getting through the Suburban Eight schedule unscathed to set up what might be a dramatic final league game against Trenton on the final Sub-8 weekend of league play, Oct. 31.

That will be a tough order in the Suburban Eight League.

"I'll tell you, There are a lot of good leagues around. And the Suburban Eight is one of them. I think we'll be competitive," Goode said.

U-M's Lewis knocked out for season

Not only is the University of Michigan football team going to miss the strong line play of Kirk Lewis , the Garden City West star, who suffered a double fracture of his right arm in practice last week, but loss of his leadership on the field makes it a double blow.

This was the word from the Wolverines' practice sessions as they prepared for the opener at Wisconsin Saturday .

When the mishap occurred in practice, it was thought that Lewis, the high ranking senior, would be lost for the first month. Now, after further examination, little hope is held out for him appearing at all.

"This is an awful price to pay, " Coach Bo Schembechler stated, "and I don't think any practice is worth it."

Lewis was expeted to be one of the key men on the front line and his experience was considered one of the team's assets.

With Kirk on the sidelines his position may go to Walt Downey, a sophomore, who has shown well in the early scrimmages.

Other possible replacements include Mark Donohue, Greg Bartneck and Les Miles, all sophomores.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

In an effort to eliminate the charges and counter charges regarding the "blocking" and "fixing" of lanes to produce high scores across the country, the American Bowling Congress is studying a request to institute a program of sanctioning and certifying equipment used on the lanes.

The request was made by a special committee following a meeting with proprietors, along with manufacturers and experts in lane maintenance.

The committee recommended that the ABC establish specifications for the automatic machines. These machines would be certified for use when delivered by the manufacturers and be inspected for re-certification each year.

The committee also suggested that the ABC commission the development of a device to measure the amount of dressing on a bowling lane and its distribution over the lane.

The action came about when there was an unrealistic number of high scores and high averages—many of which were rejected.

MARY MOHACSI, the Livonia school teacher and former bowling queen, didn't wait long to make her presence felt again in the women's doubles at Merr-Bowl. She started the season with a 246, the highest game rolled in the house during the week.

With his big game she beat out Al Tilley, of the midnite league by a single pin, and Tom Gow, of the junior house league,by two.

THE WOMEN ALSO HELD the spotlight at Country Lanes when Sharon Wiser paced the Queen Bees with a 246 in 573 and Bobbie Gooding showed the way in the mixed league with a 540 series.

ELLIE WILKINS started the new season where she left off last spring in the Livonia Lanes Ladies classic. She posted a 529-48--577 series that included a high single of 202-16-218.

In the other games Pat Coombes won the opener with a 198-23--221 and Ruby Johnson won the other with 171-40--211.

THE TEEN-AGERS again are hitting in high gear in the Teen Classic at Farmington Lanes. This week it was Jim Hamlin who set the pace with a 564.

In the Ladies Friday noon classic a new name popped up when Myrna Hille took top honors with a 221 in 623.

THOUGH HER TEAM won only one game against Jac-Ro, one of the favorites to win the Bowlerettes title, Marge Kropacek is certain the Shirey Trailers of Plymouth will be heard from.

The Shirey team rolled 2641 and lost total pins by only 23 sticks. "And some of our girls were nervous," Marge addded.

Kathy Springs, one of the rising young stars, was high for the night when she counted a 595 by converting the 4-7-9-10 split.

ONLY FOUR PINS separated the top four bowlers as the Friday Women's Classic got under way at Garden Lanes.

Lois Hamel led the parade with a 582, while Sue Sternett and Rose Aprehemian tied for second at 581 and Kap Coppola was fourth with 577.

BOB GARRET narrowly missed breaking the 700 barrier in the Westland senior house league Friday night. He put together games of 238, 232 and 223 for 693 to finish 26 pins in front of Bert Newby and Don Emmett who tied at 670. Newby had a 267 for the night's high game.

IN THE LADIES CLASSIC Plymouth Bowl, Alida De Gebbler showed the way with a 189 in 491 . Meanwhile, Gil Purault set the pace for the Ford midnite loop with a 245 in 563.

ANOTHER LEAGUE for the blind bowlers has been organized. It holds forth every Saturday morning at Lucky Strike Lanes at Grand River and the Boulevard. All blind persons are welcome.

Celebrities highlight new Oakway season

Ballet, an American opera, chorale music, solo performances by several distinguished musicians and local television personalities are all part of Oakway Symphony Orchestra's 1975-76 season.

The orchestra, conducted by Francesco DiBlasi, has increased its schedule to 12 concerts, and most performances will take place in larger auditoriums, affording residents an even greater opportunity to hear Oakway.

The orchestra, composed of 90 musicians from throughout Wayne and Oakland counties, will play a pre-season concert Sept. 21 sponsored by the Southfield Arts Council. The 4 p.m. concert at Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington Hills is free to the public. The Oakway will play a tribute to John Philip Sousa.

THE SEASON opener Saturday, Sept. 27 at 8 p.m. in the Redford Theater will be introduced by television personality Rita Bell. Weathercaster Sonny Eliot will be featured with the Oakway in Allan Sherman's comedy "Peter and the Commisar."

This parody of "Peter and the Wolf" will be conducted by Ernest A. Jones of Bloomfield Hills. Jones has appeared with Oakway several times and also has conducted the University of Michigan Symphony Band at Carnegie Hall at the Royal College of Music in London. Soprano Rosemary Jackson of Livonia also will perform.

On Sunday, Nov. 30 at 4 p.m. violinist Ida Kavafian will perform with Oakway in Tchaikovsky's violin concerto. Miss Kavafian is a soloist with Tashi, a select group of musicians which includes pianist Peter Serkin. The program, presented in Southfield-Lathrup High School, also features Medelssohn's symphony No. 5 ("Reformation").

THE KENNETH JEWELL Chorale joins the Oakway in January in Mercy High School in Farmington Hills. For this performance the newly organized Oakway Symphonic Choir will sing with the chorale. Those interested in joining the Oakway choir should write to Oakway Symphony Orchestra, Box 171, Farmington, 48024. About 20 voices are needed. Auditions will be scheduled at a later date.

The Jan 25 program will feature "Verdi Requium."

On Feb. 15 the Livonia Civic Ballet and Oakway join forces to present "Rodeo" by Aaron Copland. The first half of the show will feature the orchestra playing Beethoven's symphony No. 5.

MICHIGAN OPERA Theater and Oakway combine talents in March to present Copland's "This Tender Land," an opera about family life in the midwest during the 1930s. Dr. David Di Chiera, director of MOT, chose the opera in commemoration of this nation's bicentennial.

The opera will be March 6 at 8 p.m. in Groves High School, Thirteen Mile Road and Evergreen, Birmingham. The opera is being staged with the cooperation of Arts Council Triangle (Birmingham- Bloomfield Hills-Troy).

The final subscription concert in April will find the Oakway collaborating with Dance Detroit and The Theater (dance and theater departments of the University of Detroit-Marygrove College) in an evening of music by George and Ira Gershwin. Ruth Burcyzk, Detroit pianist, will play "Rhapsody in Blue." The production will be staged by Yacob Lascu.

Soloists also scheduled to perform are Lynn Popoff of Livonia and John Gwynn, director of music at Marygrove.

OTHER OAKWAY performances are slated in Mercy High in May. Di Blasi says several children's concerts in Oakland and Wayne county communities also are being planned for later this year. The orchestra's annual pops concert will be in May.

Season tickets for six Oakway concerts is $15 general admission, and $6 for student and senior citizens. For four concerts the cost is $10 general and $4 for others.

Single admission tickets are $3 general admission and $1.50 for students and senior citizens. Single tickets for the opera must be ordered by Jan. 1, 1976.

Chorale needs Area singers

Community singers are being invited to join the Madonna Chorale, a mixed chorus of some 50 voices at Madonna College in Livonia.

Under the direction of John Redmon, the chorale will begin rehearsals on Sept. 17 for an annual Christmas program. Singers may walk in for auditioning Wednesday, Sept. 17 from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. Weekly rehearsals are held on Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m.

Redmon, who has recently joined the Madonna faculty as instructor of music, has a bachelor or arts degree from San Fernando State College and a master's from California State University, Northridge. He is a native Californian who likes to perform opera.

Audition appointments may also be made by calling Redmon at the college, 36600 Schoolcraft.

Botsford Inn will present Simon play

In dinner theater format, the Botsford Inn will present Neil Simon's "Last of the Red Hot Lovers" opening 8:45 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 18 in the Inn, 28000 Grand River, Farmington Hills.

The three-act play will be performed on the Botsford stage after a 7:30 p.m. buffet dinner in the new Coach House, adjacent to the original Inn. Cost is $12.50 per person for dinner and show, or $6.50 for the show only.

Directed by Edgar A. Guest III, the play will star Pierre Turgeon, who has appeared in "Star Spangled Girl," "Cactus Flower," "Once Upon a Mattress," and most recently appeared as a 250 lb. pigeon with Andy Williams on Detroit television.

Guest is a theatre major and graduate of Denison University. He performed in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" on a U.S. State Department tour of Japan, Korea and Okinawa. He later toured Michigan, Ohio and New York as a one-man show on "American Humor."

He has directed for Port Huron Community Theater, Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild, Lafayette Park Players, Franklin Village Players, Jewish Community Center-Detroit and St. Dunstan's Theatre Guild.

CREDITS FOR MARY Geiger, who will play Elaine, include "Thurber Carnival," "A Delicate Balance," and Private Lives." She was an assistant director for "A Streetcar Named Desire" and "Bye Bye Birdie."

Nancy Gurwin will play Bobbie Michelle. After appearing in several off-Broadway plays, she had leading roles in "Oklahoma," "Damn Yankees," and Guys and Dolls." She has just completed three months' performance of "Facades" at the Botsford Inn.

Fran Hayes, who will play Jeanette, has sung in the chorus of "Boys from Syracuse," "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," "South Pacific" and "Kismet." She played the lead in "Fiorello" and "Marie."

Arab festival opens Sept. 12

The Arab ethnic festival, second to last in the bicentennial series of summer events, will be Sept. 12, 13 and 14 on Detroit's riverfront.

The opening ceremony on Friday will feature the crowning of Queen Maha Elias. Visitors to the festival will have a chance to sample the culture and products of the Arab countries.

Five dance groups will perform Arabic folk dances in costume. The groups are the Jordanian Club of Detroit, Arab World Festival Dancers, Cedar Folklore Troupe, Ramallah Young Teens, and the Palestinian All Male Dubke Dance Team sponsored by the World Lebanese Cultural Union. The Arabic Sword Dance will be performed by Alec Ecie.

The Arab World Festival Orchestra will provide continuous Arabic entertainment featuring Jalil Azzouz, Easa Martha and Nadim Olaikan.

Folk dancers and professional belly dancers will make regular appearances during the weekend.

Musicial presentations will be presented on Arabic instruments such as the oud, half-pear shaped 12 double-stringed instrument, the predecessor of the guitar; the nye, flute; the rebaba, combination stringed and drum instrument; shebabi, reed flute used by ancient shepherd boys for more than 3,000 years, and the derbuckee, Arabic drum.

Other entertainment will include an Arabic fashion show and demonstrations in the occult by astrologists and fortune tellers. A backgammon demonstration and lessons will be given by Salamah Khoury on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Twenty-eight Arab-American Clubs' food booths will offer such Arabic fare as tabbooley (finely ground salad), hommous bitahini (ground chick peas), jubban (cheeses), khobbaz (Syrian bread), kibbee neeya (raw lamb with cracked wheat or burghol), yabrak (stuffedgrape leaves), shish kebab, rice pilaf and koosa (stuffed squash). Desserts served will be baklava (struden with crushed pistachios), knafee (stuffed shredded wheat with nuts and syrup) and ma'mool (walnut filled cakes).

More than 85,000 persons of Arabic extraction live in the metropolitan area, the largest such concentration in the nation.

Festival hours are 6 to 11 p.m. Friday and noon to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The free festival is six blocks west of Cobo Hall.

The department of transportation will operate an ethnic festival shuttle between Cadillac Square and the festival site through Sept. 21.

Jazz ensemble sets auditions

Auditions for the Schoolcraft College Jazz Ensemble are scheduled today (Thursday) and Sept. 18 on campus.

Auditions, which are open to the public as well as students, will be in Room 310 of the Forum Building from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Rehearsals will be held on Thursdays.

The jazz ensemble is a big band comprised of 22 pieces. It plays contemporary jazz in the style of Maynard Ferguson, Don Ellis and Woody Herman.

Beginning its sixth year, the jazz ensemble will be under the direction of Jack Pierson. Pierson lives in Livonia and is band and orchestra director for Dearborn Public Schools. He had has an extensive background as a musician with nationally known bands and is recognized as one of the foremost educators in Michigan.

In the past, the ensemble has shared the spotlight with many well-known jazz bands and artists and performed in more than 50 concerts. An extensive concert schedule is planned for winter semester.

Those interested in auditioning need not have jazz ensemble experience but must be able to read music proficiently. Some ability to improvise would be beneficial but not necessary.

RADIO PERSONALITY Deano Day will emcee the rodeo Sunday, Sept. 14 sponsored by the Livonia Jaycees at 2 p.m. on Merriman Road between Plymouth and Schoolcraft roads. The rodeo features calf roping, bucking broncos, country and western entertainment and brahma bull riding. Advance tickets are $3 for adults and $1.75 for children under 12. Tickets purchased at the gate are $3.50 and $2.25. Tickets are available at Grinnell's in Livonia Mall, Hudson's at Westland Mall, Livonia City Hall, and Wonderland Shopping Center management office.

Emil Raab returns as Plymouth conductor

Emil Raab, who conducted the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra while Conductor Wayne Dunlap was in Vienna on a Fulbright Scholarship in 1954-55, will return to the orchestra this fall.

Dunlap asked Raab to fill in for him while he is convalescing from a heart attack at his home in Grand Rapids. Dunlap, who had programmed and arranged rehearsal times for his 25th season with the orchestra, suffered a heart attack Aug. 10.

Dunlap and Raab are old friends, having met while both were in the U.S. Army and stationed in Europe. Dunlap persuaded Raab to attend the University of Michigan.

Raab was concertmaster of the U-M orchestra when Dunlap was conductor. Raab is a violinist and was a member of the Stanley Quartet while in Ann Arbor. He returns to the U-M orchestra as a guest soloist.

He is assistant professor of music and conductor of the orchestra at Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio. The 1½ hour drive from his home in Ohio for rehearsals and concerts is less driving time for Dunlap than when he commutes from Grand Rapids.

Rehearsals will start as scheduled at 8 p.m. Sept. 15 and auditions for new orchestra members will begin at 7 p.m. Strings are especially needed as are oboes and bassoons.

The first concert of the 30th season of the orchestra will be at 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 12 in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium.

The annual membership drive is under way and Board President Jane Moehle will welcome any persons who can contribute time to the drive. A call to her home on Ann Arbor Trail after 7 p.m. would be appreciated.

School suspensions doing harm

Suspending children from school for truancy is like giving alcohol to an alcoholic, said children's rights advocate Marian Wright Edelman at Michigan State University.

Ms. Edelman, an attorney and director of the Children's Defense Fund (CDF), said more than two million children between 7 and 17 have been systematically excluded from attending school in the U.S. because school administrators have decided "certain groups of children are beyond their responsibility."

Arbitrary suspensions and other devices, she said, have been used to deny children an education, and there are as many suspension policies as there are school principals.

A STUDY completed by CDF, a private, nonprofit child advocacy group, showed that only three per cent of the children surveyed had been suspended for committing criminal offenses.

"Schools should not be permitted to suspend kids except for endangering life and property," Ms. Edelman stated.

She said children and their families cannot be blamed for a child who does not attend school, and cited broad institutional failure as the reason.

Sometimes, she said, children are not in school because they lack proper clothing, cannot meet school expenses, are unable to speak English, or because of pregnancy or health reasons.

"I don't think anyone can justify keeping a child out of school because he has lice," she maintained.

Although minority youngsters are suspended in disproportionate numbers, the attorney said, three-fourths of all children out of school are white; far more come from families with incomes over $10,000; and more come from families with 12 years or more schooling.

"Poor children and minority children are the harbingers of what will happen to all of us sooner or later," Ms. Edelman said.

THE MOTHER of three children said the U.S. is not a child-oriented country.

"Most people love their own children, but do not extend that love and sense of responsibility to other people's children," Ms. Edelman said.

She urged that more attention be paid to children's rights. As an example, she told of places where a 12-year-old truant can be institutionalized without due process until he is 21 for an offense that an adult could not be charged with.

Ms. Edelman also criticized courts that placed children in jail for truancy. "Children are put in jail and are beaten, raped, and otherwise abused," she said. "This is a costly price to pay for a 15, 16, or 17 year old truant."

Emphysema toll climbs

When federal statisticians announced recently that deaths from emphysema and other chronic lung diseases had reached an all-time high, physicians, nurses, and therapists specializing in these diseases nodded their heads.

Their own experience convinced these concerned health professionals that lung diseases were on the increase, even though earlier mortality figures indicated a decline since 1968.

Because death figures are one indication of the extent of these diseases, the National Center for Health Statistics was asked to take a closer look at the data. They discovered that a downward trend in the mortality curve actually was a continuing climb upward.

An unusual shift in physicans listed a specific disease such as emphysema on death was responsible. Before 1969, most physicans listed a specific disease such as emphysema on death certificates.

After that, more and more began using a general term, "chronic obstructive lung disease." So, while death rates for emphysema, asthma and bronchitis were dipping, death from chronic obstructive lung disease rose sharply—from a rate of 1.3 per 100,000 in 1969 to 5.4 in 1973.

When the figures were combined and corrected, it was clear that deaths from this disease complex had increased 10 per cent from 1969 to 1973. Together, these diseases claimed 41,042 persons in 1973, for a rate of 19.6

County chief executive needed, Taylor declares

An Observer & Eccentric series profiling five of the six western Wayne County commissioners will be presented weekly during the next month. Commissioners Tom F. Taylor, Mary E. Dumas, Royce Smith and John Barr were interviewed by staff reporter Martha Mahan. Commissioner Richard E. Manning refused to return Mrs. Mahan's telephone calls during a two-month period.

TOM F. TAYLOR

When Commissioner Tom F. Taylor (D-Westland) took his seat on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, he was assigned to the committee on public health.

It was like a boy meeting his dog.

"Some people go into office with an already established No. 1 interest," Taylor said. "In my case it was the committee assignment which grabbed my interest."

Since that time, when he was liaison between Wayne County General Hospital and the board of commissioners, he has worked on a set of management systems to help the hospital regain its accreditation, and has been a member of the hospital's governing board, the Detroit-Wayne County Mental Health Board and chairman of the board of commissioners's human resources committee.

Now, Taylor would like to see the county get out of the public health field entirely.

"Actually, we're just the landlord," he said. "A lot of people don't seem to realize that the county is obligated only to provide a facility and its maintenance for social services. The state is responsible for manpower and funds.

"I'm trying to get the state to take over all operations and let the county get away from Medicaid and food stamps and all the other programs."

THE WESTLAND Democrat sees as "the ideal way" a decentralization proposal by Dr. John Dempsey, director of the State Department of Social Services.

Taylor concedes decentralization "cost would be exhorbitant" if all services were offered at all centers and "control would be more difficult from a management standpoint."

"On the other hand, service would be more personalized and humanized and brought closer to those in need."

THREE CONCERNS badger Taylor as he begins his second term: board failure to curb spending, "power wielded over political figures by certain pressure groups," and lack of a chief executive to head county government.

"As a group, the board continues to spend for new programs even though there is certainty of a deficit at the end of the year, and the only way to meet a deficit is with layoff of personnel."

Although it is "not as true for the suburbs," Taylor said he also resents the "power over politicians or political figures wielded by certain groups in certain situations."

There is "crying need," Taylor said, for Wayne County to have an "identifiable executive" to be spokesman for the county and an administrator who would define a philosophy of government, outline goals and remind the board of need for speedy action.

"Now, no one person is identifiable as having sole responsibility for keeping the budget in balance. No one can be charged with a success or failure. The commission is at the mercy of department heads."

Moreover, it is "difficult for a board or board committee to deal on a one-to-one basis with Mayor (Coleman) Young or the governor or even the federal government."

WHAT USED TO frustrate Taylor most, he said, was the lack of speed with which decisions were made and action taken.

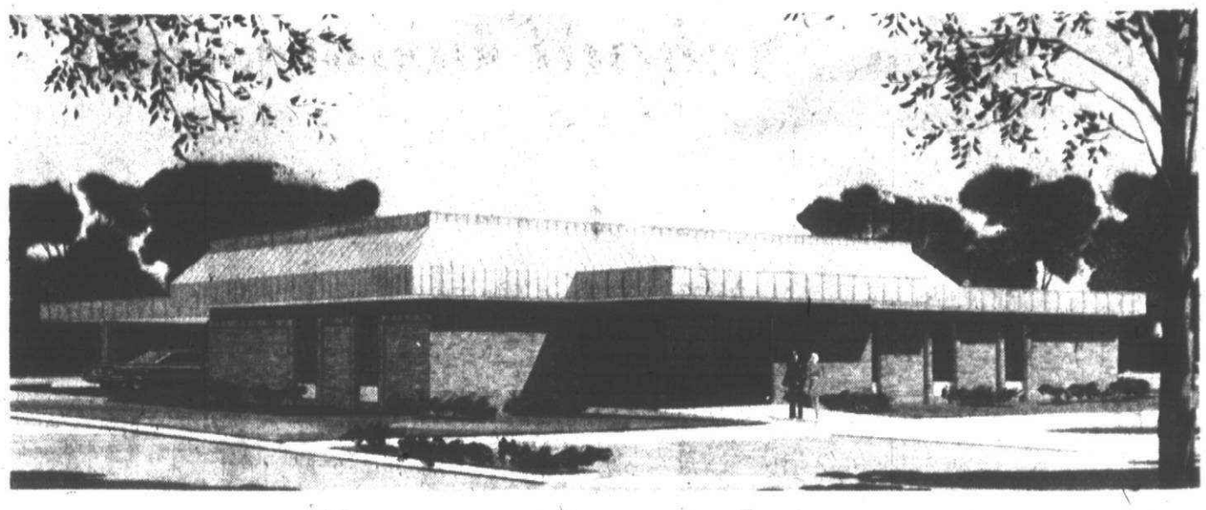

Since then "I've acquired great respect for that slowness," he said. "I've seen occasions when my legislative body and others have been stampeded on an emotional issue and come out with a quick solution to a highly sensitive problem.

"Every time that happens, someone comes up later with a better solution and it is found that certain ramifications have been overlooked.

"Government decisions are made by common people, just like me. They may be dedicated and concerned and act, for the most part, in good faith. But they are susceptible to error.

"Slowness allows the input of everyone affected.

"And that's one good reason for meetings to be open to the public."

Construction under way

A LATE AUTUMN opening is planned for the third full-service permanent office of Manufacturers Bank of Livonia. The facility, now under construction at Five Mile and Newburgh, was designed in brick with a metal mansard roof by Lindhout Associates Architects and is being built by Sund Construction Co. It will feature five teller windows, safe deposit boxes and private booths for handling their contents, a night depository, conference room and facilities for drive-up banking.

Hines Drive to close at 10 p.m.

Recreation facilities along Edward Hines Drive in western Wayne County are closing earlier now—at 10 p.m. instead of 11:30 p.m.—because of vandalism and littering.

Wayne County Board of Commissioners Sept. 4 authorized the earlier closing on the scenic drive, also known as the Middle Rouge Parkway.

The board also authorized the county road commission, which operates the county park system, to impose the earlier closing at other parks.

JOHN LESKINSKI, chairman of the board's public works committee, described the new closing hour as "an initial reasonable and effective measure" to lessen vandalism and littering in the parks."

Area commissioners on the committee include Royce Smith (D-Belleville), whose district includes Plymouth and Canton Township, and Tom F. Taylor (D-Westland), whose district includes Garden City and part of Westland.

"We agree the best deterrent would be greater surveillance of the parks by additional personnel and sheriff's deputies, and better illumination at comfort stations and other buildings," Lesinski said. "But the money isn't available at the present time. We plan to apply for federal public works funds for a lighting program."

County parks open at 5 a.m.

HCMA public hearing set

A special House committee created to study the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) will hold a public hearing on Thursday, Sept. 18, at 1:30 p.m. in the T.K. Gruber Auditorium, Wayne County General Hospital, Westland.

At the hearing, the public will be given an opportunity to testify or comment on the recent plans of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority to develop new metroparks and on the authority itself. There are currently nine recreational sites in use with a 10th to open in mid-1975.

Rep. Thomas H. Brown (D-WestaInd) is a member of the special committee.

The next hearing will be Monday, Sept. 22, at 1:30 p.m. in the 13th floor auditorium of the City-County Building in Detroit.

TOPLESS

Yes, it's hard to top our commissions paid our top sales persons. Both men and women earn top commissions selling prime suburban homes in Livonia and adjacent communities.

You'll enjoy being part of this fast-paced, creative and congenial environment, watching your income grow, and working in a first class, convenient building and area. You have a stimulating, non-routine challenge to your professional and people-handling skills with this growing, progressive, MULTI-LIST REALTOR.

If you're the exceptional person we need, arrange for your interview at once. Experience preferred, or we will train you. Dial 464-1800 today, ask for Ed Tobatto now. Norwood #4, Inc.

THE problem in attracting persons into real estate is that they can't see themselves selling! Selling, for most persons, is an unattractive business. - - "Hard pressure, fast moving, Cadillac driving, hot breathing - push people are salesmen" - Naturally the average person doesn't want to see themselves in that role in life. That's understandable - - really!

THE truth of course is that professional, effective persons in real estate can not be picked out from a crowd of normal people! You see - it's what a person has inside that is important plus knowledge! Norwood Co. - Realtors - turns you on to what you have inside - - We don't teach selling because we have removed that aspect from your job. We don't teach, we don't train - - We don't ask you to change - - We DO hire you if you can identify with your job with us! Our total person development programs are conducted by a staff of highly professional persons, including a full time psychologist; and persons with an in-depth understanding of learning and work sciences. If you have ever been curious just where your "Niche" in Life is -- better contact the Norwood Company for a unique, refreshing experience. We believe in pressure free, systematic work programs with "together" people and that is probably you! Call us for an appointment - - come in and find out about yourself - - and us! 525-7615, Doug Morris.

People who buy and people who sell get together in the Observer&Eccentric Newspapers

Buyers and sellers are "strange" people. Strange to each other, that is. People with lots of different needs and wants, people who need to get together. They need to get together in the quickest, least expensive and most effective way possible—the Observer & Eccentric Want Ads.

Say you need a buyer for a bunch of baby basset hounds, or a really good home for a litter of antiques...How do you meet those unknown admirers with an eye for your special goods? How do you keep track of sellers with garage sales, and owners of autos and pets to trade? It's easy -- when you know where buyers and sellers get together best—the Observer & Eccentric Classifieds.

It's easy to get double buying and selling results, too. Double-Action Ads bring people together from all over Wayne and Oakland Counties. These suburban communities include: Birmingham, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Farmington, Farmington Hills, Rochester, Avon Twp., Southfield and Troy in Oakland County; Livonia, Garden City, Plymouth, Plymouth Twp., Canton Twp., Redford Twp., and Westland in Wayne County. Smart buyers and sellers place a Double Action Family Want Ad (non business) of 15 words or less in two consecutive issues, with no changes in copy and no cancellations -- and they pay only $6. That's a savings of $2.00 off the regular cost of placing an ad in two issues.

When you have something to sell...when you have something to buy...you've got a lot in common in the Observer & Eccentric Classified Want Ads.
