School budget sinks further into red

By RICHARD GOLD

Administrators in the Plymouth Community School District are seeing red—not only about state aid cuts, but on the financial ledger as well.

The district lost $96,000 in October because of a 0.6 state aid cut, and now it appears that further cuts are less than a week away.

"We expect an executive order from the governor this week telling us that we are going to lose 1.7 per cent in state aid," said Superintendent John M. Hoben.

The cut in dollar figures will amount to $270,000, the highest estimate yet provided by the superintendent.

Earlier figures had indicated the schools would be shortchanged anywhere from $175,000-$250,000 by the state for the balance of the fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1976.

ON MONDAY last week, Hoben told the school board he thought the cut would amount to $237,000, but his most recent information now indicates the cut will reach the $270,000 mark.

Plymouth schools are already suffering budgeting problems because utility costs are expected to exceed provisions in the budget by some $100,000.

Unless significant cuts are made in the $17 million operating budget, the schools stand a chance of ending up in the red by the end of the fiscal year, explained Assistant Superintendent of Business Ron Hoedel.

"We had an $83,000 contingency fund in the budget this year," said Hoedel, "but the utility costs will wipe that out. These additional cuts could, if no action were taken, deplete our entire fund equity."

THE FUND EQUITY, or overall surplus of the schools, is $359,000, but school administrators are quick to point out that it is not all money.

"That's not to be construed as cash," said Hoben. "It includes supplies, inventory and anticipated revenue. It is not just money."

Since there are laws stating that schools may not have a deficit budget, both Hoedel and Hoben agree that cuts are in order. "The wisest approach is to buckle your belt, not hope the state approves deficit financing," said Hoben.

"The ludicrous thing about these cuts is that they come halfway through the school year—the timing is ridiculous."

Hoedel explained that budget reduction committees have been established and all methods of cutting the budget are currently under examination.

"The problem is that there's no fat, we had $83,000 but the utility costs will erase that. The money saving will eventually have to come out of staffing. We can delay maintenance, cut supply budgets, cut out some services, and things like field trips, but the money is in salaries.

"We're going to look at manpower and different ways of staffing the schools. This doesn't necessarily mean lay offs, but as we experience turnover, we may not replace people.

"I think it can be done and still run a good program. I think we can run a solid program cheaper."

Part of the problem may be alleviated if the attorney general's office agrees the October cut was unconstitutional.

Plymouth schools joined hands earlier in the year with Wayne-Westland and Livonia school districts to recover money lost through cuts based on the state aid formula.

If the ruling, expected shortly from the attorney general, is not favorable, Hoben said the district will pursue the matter in court.

"We're waiting for the attorney general right now, but if the decision is against us, we will pursue the law suit if for no other reason than to let them know we're still here."

"The ludicrous thing about these cuts is that they come halfway through the school year — the timing is ridiculous."

— Supt John M. Hoben

The suit could regain about $70,000 of the $96,000 cut in October and substantially reduce the cut expected next week.

PROJECTIONS FOR the coming fiscal year are equally discouraging, although budget estimates are still sketchy and the state aid formula is not yet available for 1976-77.

Because of the change to the single business tax, and the resulting loss of personal property taxes (inventory), the district is expected to lose some $58 million in tax base next year.

That money will be recouped, ac-ording to preliminary estimates by an approximate $50 million growth in State Equalized Value (SEV) or tax-base.

Under the state aid act, state aid will be increased so that gross dollars per student (local revenue and state aid) will be increased to 106 per cent of this year's figure.

Each student will then be backed by $1,251 instead of this year's $1,180.

Although the result would be an increase of 11 per cent in gross revenue, Hoben expressed reservations for the coming year.

"With four new schools opening, the number of students expected to increase by 800, and with inflation, and contracts guaranteed to increase by five per cent, the picture is bleak.

"A LOT COULD change with the state aid formula, but if we're wrong on the student increase or the increase in SEV, we could get blown out of the water."

Hoben said a millage try would be pointless if expected costs exceeded expected revenue in 1976-77. It would be self-defeating because the first 8.8 mills of additional revenue would merely replace state aid under the current arrangement.

"We wouldn't see one additional penny until we levied 8.9 additional mills—all we would do would increase our local financing and decrease the state financing.

"There's just no incentive for local districts to increase their levies. Perhaps that will be legislated around in the future.

"I suppose the legislature's answer will be for us to live within our 11 per cent. But that's a decision that should be made locally."

Board wants easements

Sewer plan under fire

Residents of McIntyre Manor subdivision have been waiting a long time for sanitary sewers. It appears now they may have to wait even longer.

Although the township board approved installing sewers in the subdivision (bounded by Ford, Sheldon, Saltz, Oakview) in February, the board has indicated it may back out of the project.

Bids have received by the bonding unit, the Canton-Van Buren Sewer and Water Authority, and they are lower than anticipated—but the problem of easements in the subdivision remains.

The board approved the project on one condition—that all necessary easements in the subdivision be granted. Two homeowners have not been willing to grant those easements and they are stalling the project, say township officials.

"MY POSITION is that we don't intend to benefit some people in the subdivision and not others," said supervisor Robert Greenstein. "Let their neighbors go talk good old American turkey to them and apply some pressure. We did this in the spirit of cooperation, and now we can't get all the easements."

"We have to be fair to everyone in the subdivision, but how that can be accomplished I don't know. It's incumbent on those in the neighborhood to organize and convince their neighbors.

"We're trying to be good citizens by providing the sewers; they should try to be good citizens by helping us put in the sewers at the lowest cost."

If the township cannot get the easements, seven properties cannot be reached by the current sewer plan. For an additional $7,500 the township can service two more homes. But the cost of serving the last five is prohibitive, according to the township engineers.

Clayton Miller, a spokesman for the subdivision, said the two homeowners unwilling to grant easements are angry because they feel the township had lied to them.

Two easements are needed from one man who owns three lots in the subdivision. He was unwilling to grant both easements, and remains so, because he thought the township was only asking for one easement instead of two.

"He felt the township had misrepresented itself," said Miller.

RESIDENTS BEGAN petitioning the township board for sewers several years ago when effluence began to rise to the surface in the subdivision.

Platted in the late 20s or 30s, McIntyre sits in a flood plain.

Septic tanks and drain fields have been incapable of holding the waste underground, and residents of the 50-home subdivision began complaining several years ago that the smell of sewage was becoming unbearable in the neighborhood.

Some said they feared a hepatitis outbreak; all residents in the subdivision said they kept their windows closed during the summer months because of the stench.

Just prior to the township election in 1974, the previous township administration approved a $2.4 bond issue

Supervisor issues first year report

Canton Supervisor Robert Greenstein released a one-year progress report last week listing 63 accomplishments of the "new" administration.

The report centered on three areas, land use, safety and organizational improvements.

Plans to attract hospital discussed

Thomas Yack and Richard Gornick, Intergovernmental Committee members assigned to investigate the possibility of hospital facilities for the area, have come up with an amazing array of statistics in their search.

They told the intergovernmental group they planned to visit the Henry Ford Hospital branch clinic in West Bloomfield for first-hand information on the satellite-type facility.

Gornick said there are two agencies, Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council and the Comprehensive Health Care Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan.

Key agency has been the former which must give its recommendation to the state bureau of licensing for a new hospital. He said the agency had a complete reservoir of computerized data. They can tell what per cent of the population went to which hospital and why in any given year.

The Comprehensive Health Care group is a newer organization set up by the state as a local board of review. It covers medical care and nursing homes as well as hospitals and clinics.

Word of area interest in a hospital has spread to the extent that Gornick gent nuts and bolts problems of the community. We've been taking care of old lawsuits, and we've spent a lot of time trying to get township hall in working order."

Greenstein said the most significant and Yack have been contacted by hospital administrators wishing to discuss the project.

The investigators hoped to have a complete report, listing all the alternatives, ready for the January meeting of the Intergovernmental Committee.

Gornick is a Plymouth Township trustee. Yack, a Canton resident and Wayne-Westland school administrator, is a member of the Plymouth Board of Education.

Schools consider energy saving

The Plymouth Board of Education tonight (Monday) will be asked to approve purchase of an energy monitoring device for Plymouth Salem High School.

The monitor is a pilot program in which a remotely located computer controls the mechanical system to keep room temperatures through the school at an even level.

The Honeywell equipment will cost about $25,000 and is expected to reduce energy consumption enough the first year to recover that expenditure, and then save thousands of dollars annually thereafter.

The board meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Plymouth Canton High, 8415 Canton Center Road.

THE MONITORING system was recommended by the energy conservation committee formed during the recent budget proceedings of the Plymouth Community School District.

If successful, the system could be installed in other schools. The expense, however, might require an additional tax levy for maintenance.

Administrators studying the cost of energy savings measures report that if state aid formulas allow it, they might ask the school board to consider a one-mill levy for building renovations and repairs.

If collected, the revenue would be used to improve operating efficiency over the long haul and to save money in the immediate future by cutting utility expenses.

If the Honeywell monitor is installed at other schools, and boilers in poor conditions replaced at several elementary buildings, the cost is expected to be high enough to require additional millage.

ENERGY COSTS are expected to double by 1981.

Last year, the school district budgeted $545,000 for utilities but ended up spending $692,000. During 1976, utility bills might reach the $1 million mark with the possibility of more rate hikes and the opening of three new elementary buildings.

Besides looking at the monitoring system and need for boiler replacement, the energy committee already has instituted a number of steps to reduce energy use.

Watchdogs have been named for each school building to help make sure suggestions are being followed. A slide presentation to promote efficient energy use is being prepared by some high school students.

Many elementary buildings are keeping their room temperatures at 68 degrees with students being asked to dress warmer. At Salem, every other light bulb has been removed from the hallways. At each school, efforts are being made to keep lights turned off when not needed.

Pre-school program started for handicapped

Some $37,000 will be awarded in grants to the Plymouth Community School District for a special pre-school program for handicapped youngsters up to age five.

The money will be used to hire one staff psychologist who will then train and coordinate a group of paraprofessionals to conduct the program in the homes of the youngsters enrolled.

The district, through its present pre-school programs, has already identified 19 youngsters eligible for the comprehensive program for pre-school children.

During the next couple weeks, the district hopes to hire the staff psychologist and begin identifying other eligible children in the Plymouth-Canton community.

funds from its special education millage, and 26 per cent from the federal government under Title III of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act.

About the only cost to the local district, Page explains, is some transportation expense to get paraprofessionals into the homes of the handicapped youngsters in the program. The paraprofessionals will be working with parents to provide for training in the home.

The paraprofessionals will be trained by Wayne State University, Plymouth district psychologists. Page expects the training will begin in about a month, with use being made of the CASTLES center on Mill Street, Plymouth.

THE PROGRAM is actually a spin-off of the child FIND project, explains Dr. Ed Page, director of special education.

Of the $37,000, half will come from the state, 24 per cent from the Wayne County Intermediate District with

THE NEW program will be funded for two years. Page also expects to obtain an additional $2,500 in funding in a couple weeks.

The idea was originally funded and developed in Escanaba, in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, by Dr. Gene J. Schirmer. Dr. Schirmer will be helping Plymouth establish its program.

Gallimore pupils air 'radio' news

Each day at 9 a.m. a "radio" news program is broadcast over the public address system throughout Gallimore Elementary School.

Learning Consultant Sandy Schaldenbrand, Media Specialist Kathy Schmidt, and fifth grade teacher Mary Lou Kroes have involved an entire fifth grade class in collecting, writing, filing, editing, taping and broadcasting a daily radio program.

MAC McDONALD of CASTLES—the district's new inservice training center—gave the class pointers to get the radio station idea off the ground.

THE ACTUAL editing must be done between 8:30 and 8:55 a.m. each day, so the five students who are "broadcasters" for the month must hustle to meet the deadline.

The other 25 pupils in the class serve as reporters, gathering and filing the news in folders, ready for the broadcasters to revise and edit the following morning.

The reporters' beats cover classroom news, weather, menus, messages from the principal, announcements from the main office, special school events and human interest stories.

There is always a "Bicentennial Blurb"—such as, "Michigan's new license plates have four stars on the left side. Who do these four stars stand for? Listen to the end of this program to find out."

Then at the end of the broadcast, the announcer repeats the question and gives the answer: "The four stars stand for each country under which Michigan was controlled—France, Spain, Britain and the United States."

Creon Smith of the Mayflower Hotel found an old piano in the basement of the building. After a week's effort, Charlie Langell transformed it into an elegant blue, white and gold eye-catcher. (Staff photos by Maurie Walker)

Refinished piano a sight of beauty

The new pale blue piano with white and gold scrollwork is attracting quite a bit of attention in the lobby of the Mayflower Hotel.

"Creon found this old piano in the basement," said Charlie Langell of Canton Township. "He said, 'I'd like a Liberace piano.' I had it about three weeks, but I was doing other things, I worked on it about a week."

Langell had to rebuild the piano before he started painting it. He built new legs and extended the keyboard space to install a mirror.

He painted the ship on the front panel then framed it with a carved oval frame.

"I bought the frame," he said. "I could have carved it myself but it's cheaper to buy them."

Langell was a commercial artist and sign painter for Ford Motor Co. His talents range from wood carving and house building to fine lettering and oil painting.

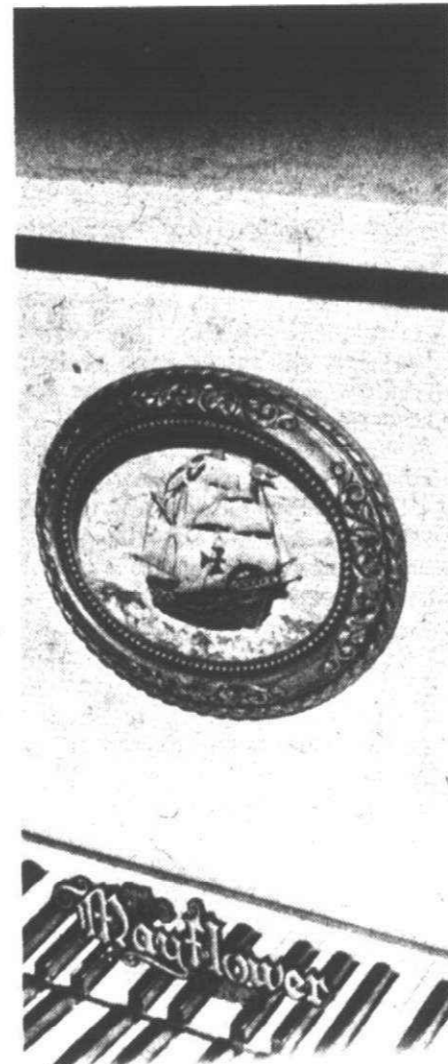

Two years ago he did a wood carving 40 inches long of six Indians on horseback raiding a wagon train. He has carved and rigged ship models. He rebuilt five houses, doing all the work himself.

"I'm retired now," said Langell,

"but I still do some things for Ralph. You learn by doing, and layout is important. You have to be able to visualize the finished product."

"Charlie's an artist—the last of his kind," said Ralph Lorenz, Mayflower owner. "Asking Charlie to paint a sign is like asking an opera star to go sign on the corner with the Salvation Army."

The piano is another example of his artistry.

Special Langell touch is the lettering on the mirror above the keyboard and the framed ship painting on the panel.

Even the end panels were given the Langell treatment.

Impressions of America are told by exchange students

The five foreign exchange students at Plymouth Salem High School react the same way to Thanksgiving, bread and modular scheduling.

After their first Thanksgiving in the United States they agree it is a day for family get-togethers with wonderful food. They miss the bread at home, although Oranne LeMasson says she misses the cheeses available at her home near Versailles, France. They like modular scheduling as opposed to traditional.

Maria Jensen of Sweden said, "I like the freedom and the resources for individual study."

After some discussion they admitted they must be reliable, mature students or they would not be this far away from home, so perhaps were not qualified judges of modular scheduling.

MONIKA ROTHE arrived at Metro Airport from her home in Bavaria on Aug. 15. She lives with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dean on Brandywyne.

Monika's father is a chemist in Germany; her English is excellent (all the Europeans said they had six years of English) and she is an enthusiastic sportswoman. She made the swim team and is going out for volleyball but doesn't think she will be on the varsity team. She plans to go to Aspen for skiing early in the new year.

"I like to work in oils and clay," she said. "I do have other hobbies besides sports."

She has been to Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum and spent Thanksgiving Day in Toledo "with the sister of my American mother. There were 24 for dinner."

NANCY VEGA'S home is in northern Chile where her father is a lawyer and an Army colonel. Nancy said things are better now under the military government. "We didn't like the socialist government," she added.

"I live in the desert and this is the first time I saw snow," she said.

Her American parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Maddick who live on Lexington. There were 20 persons for Thanksgiving dinner and "I ate so much, I guess I don't miss anything at home."

Nancy's hobbies are reading and music. She is a member of the senior class here and would also be in grade 12 at home where, she said, she would be wearing a uniform to school instead of slacks.

ROB BLEIJERVELD, whose home is in Zwolle, Holland, 17 miles east of Amsterdam, is spending the year with Mr. and Mrs. R. Blohm on Gregory Lane.

His father is manager in a plant which manufactures prefabricated houses. He says Zwolle is a historical city, built in the 1300s. It is the capital of the province.

Rob graduated from high school in June and would be a freshman in college if he were home. His family hosted an American exchange student last year and he spent Thanksgiving in Rochester, N.Y. with the student's family.

The 6-6 1/4 Hollander says he has been working out with the basketball

Growth works to survey needs

The Community Intervention Project (CIP) operated by Growth works is beginning a needs analysis for the Plymouth-Canton community.

The CIP survey will be conducted in selected residential areas of Plymouth-Canton and is intended to identify citizen's perceptions of how effectively human needs are met in the community.

Growth works is the parent organization of two youth-oriented groups locally—Youth Center at 271 S. Main and Our House at 185 S. Harvey.

VOLUNTEERS will circulate forms in seven analysis areas in Plymouth, Canton and Plymouth townships.

Contacts will be made between now and Dec. 19. The surveys will focus on personal needs and deficiencies at a neighborhood and community level.

The analysis will pinpoint people's perceptions of the needs for additional services, the effectiveness of existing services and the geographical areas where certain types of needs tend to be most evident.

The survey will cover seven areas: Lakepointe Village subdivision; Old Village; Church, Arthur, Junction and Adams Streets; Union, Deer, Maple, along the C&O Rail line and Adistra; Ann Arbor Road, Sheldon, Joy and Main Streets; the Canton Commons complex; and Fellows Creek complex.

The areas selected are sample areas where CIP organizers feel service needs tend to be more acute and people tend to have less individual resources.

While not all residents will be contacted, a statistically significant number will be randomly sampled. Out of a base of 2,000, about 500 or 25 per cent will be surveyed. Volunteers will come from community groups, the school district, and interested residents.

THE COMMUNITY survey will be followed by a survey of young people in January.

The results of these two efforts will be compiled and analyzed along with other data. The results and conclusions will be released to the public, as well as to any interested local government agency.

The information also will be shared with other community groups and service organizations to aid them in directing their efforts.

For CIP, the needs analysis begins with a three-phase process of identifying needed intervention efforts. In each phase community members will be involved in group tasks, providing the necessary input and exchanging information.

The needs analysis is intended to gain input from community segments—particularly those not normally included in the decision-making process.

Personal needs, neighborhood and community deficiencies and problems will be sought out. These perceptions will be analyzed along with a body of data relating to education, health, employment and law enforcement.

The outcome is expected to be an indication of people's expectations of quality of life in Plymouth-Canton and how they feel it is attained.

THE NEXT phase is the community forecast.

Potential future courses for the community will be determined by participants. Opportunities and risks will be outlined and their impacts discussed.

Alternatives will be developed, reflecting the impacts on the community and its current problems and deficiencies.

The inputs from the first two phases go into the final strategic planning phase. An optimal direction will be identified, long-range investments discussed, and critical short-range projects and interventions will be cited.

THE CIP effort is part of a grant for community development intervention and training received by Growthworks Inc. of Plymouth.

The $59,000 grant was from the U.S. Catholic Conference's Campaign for Human Development to fund a training program for community segments now lacking community organizing skills.

With Youth Inc. and Our House, Growthworks currently provides community services including youth activities and guidance, student assistance, drug abuse and crisis counseling, and health care assistance.

Oranne's father sends people to help in undeveloped countries. After some discussion with Fonda Markiewicz, who was an exchange student last year and has taken a special interest in the group, no one could come up with an American equivalent of Mr. LeMasson's job. It wasn't like the Peace Corps but he did send teachers and technicians.

Oranne spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Toledo with the traditional feast and a visit to the Toledo Art Museum.

and the acquisition of property for township use would be top priority items in the coming year for the administration. "Of course," he added, "we'll be trying to increase services to the community as well."

Although he listed the land use plan as probably the biggest achievement of the first year, Greenstein said the sign ordinances was "singularly important. I think that one ordinance has changed the face of the township. We removed signs in violation of the ordinance, and we made sure that the public would know about property under application to be rezoned by requiring a four by eight foot sign be posted on it."

Greenstein termed the Mocer settlement a great accomplishment and added it "took six months out my life." A lot of professionals said such a settlement would have been absolutely impossible to negotiate, but we got it and I think the township will be a better place to live because of it."

THE SUPERVISOR said the census, although not thoroughly tabulated, will be a big aid to the township. "Not only will we get more liquor licenses out of it, but our state tax rebates will be increased. Money that was going elsewhere will be coming to Canton—and the census only cost us $500. The rest of it was paid for with CETA money."

Greenstein devoted a full page in the report to office procedures which made the township "much more efficient." He said new billing systems, telephone systems, filing systems, and a computerized payroll eliminated many previous errors and speeded up the paperwork of the township offices.

Other accomplishments he considered important were a pair of lawsuits settled "that protected northwest Canton and prevented multiple zonings west of Canton Center," a tree ordinance, and the establishment of an ordinance department.

"There were a lot of township ordinances that were being violated habitually. The creation of the ordinance department has stopped that. I think that would have provided sewers to McIntyre among other projects.

Just after the election, the new board rejected that proposal and came up with a cheaper one, cutting estimated cost of the McIntyre project from $500,000 to $225,000.

The new plan was adopted. It provides service to all the homes presently occupied, but does not allow service to lots that cannot be built on because of flood plain restrictions.

The board will review the problem Tuesday night at its regularly scheduled meeting. "I hope by then, they'll come in with the easements," said Greenstein.

Gallimore pupils air 'radio' news

Each day at 9 a.m. a "radio" news program is broadcast over the public address system throughout Gallimore Elementary School.

Mary Lou Kroes have involved an entire fifth grade class in collecting, writing, filing, editing, taping and broadcasting a daily radio program.

Learning Consultant Sandy Schaldenbrand, Media Specialist Kathy Schmidt, and fifth grade teacher

THE ACTUAL editing must be done between 8:30 and 8:55 a.m. each day, so the five students who are "broadcasters" for the month must hustle to meet the deadline.

8 earn MSU degrees

Eight Plymouth residents are among 1,663 candidates for degrees for the fall term commencement at Michigan State University.

They are: Gary Buckberry of Beech Street, a BS in public affairs management; Gary F. Croskey of Provincial Court, with honors, a BS in civil engineering; Martin M. Eisenstein of Hanford, a BA in general business administration.

Also Donald M. Korte of Beck Road, a BS in resource development; Valda R. McClain of Ann Arbor Road, a BA in communications; Michael S. Meece of Marc Trail, with high honors, a BS in forestry; Diane S. Silver of Sheridan, with honors, a BA in journalism; and Barbara C. Werner of Aspen Drive, an MA in advertising.

The commencement address was given by Dr. Clark Kerr, former president of the University of California system. Honorary degrees were awarded to Kerr; Mrs. Coretta Scott King, widow of Dr. Martin Luther King; Dr. Grace Olivarez, state planning officer for New Mexico; and Dr. Eugene Parker, MSU alumnus and chairman of the department of astronomy and astrophysics at University of Chicago.

The other 25 pupils in the class serve as reporters, gathering and filing the news in folders, ready for the broadcasters to revise and edit the following morning.

The reporters' beats cover classroom news, weather, menus, messages from the principal, announcements from the main office, special school events and human interest stories.

There is always a "Bicentennial Blurb"—such as, "Michigan's new license plates have four stars on the left side. Who do these four stars stand for? Listen to the end of this program to find out."

Then at the end of the broadcast, the announcer repeats the question and gives the answer: "The four stars stand for each country under which Michigan was controlled—France, Spain, Britain and the United States."

MAC McDONALD of CASTLES—the district's new inservice training center—gave the class pointers to get the radio station idea off the ground.

Mrs. Schmidt and Mrs. Schaldenbrand met with the fifth graders in several sessions to discuss radio and broadcasting before the actual broadcast.

The project encompasses reading, public speaking, working under pressure, cooperation in group situations, operation of audio-visual equipment, editing, writing, and critical thinking.

Ellinghausen pours in 43 points

Hungry Rocks bounce RU

By FRED DeLANO

A record-shattering 43-point scoring binge by sharp-eyed Jim Ellinghausen carried Plymouth Salem to a 79-70 victory over Redford Union Friday in an intense, physically bruising Suburban Eight basketball battle.

The 6-8 senior center hit 18 of 29 field goal attempts (a 62 per cent shooting average) besides converting seven of nine foul shots in posting the highest point total of all time for a Plymouth player.

The old mark of 39 points was set by Tim Van Wagoner of the 1972-73 team, also against Redford Union.

It was the second time in four days that the unbeaten Rocks had rewritten a chapter of their school record book, Salem having registered an all-time team high of 94 points only last Tuesday in whipping Livonia Franklin.

As effective from the outside as on his layups, Ellinghausen had 31 points in the first two periods as the Rocks took a 48-32 edge into the locker room at halftime. He bagged four more buckets in the third quarter and clicked for another pair in the first two minutes of the fourth period to reach the 43 mark.

With Salem leading at that point 68-50 over the scrappy, ever-hustling Panthers of RU, Coach Fred Thomann of Plymouth yanked his regulars—and it was almost fatal.

Steve Schultz, Gary Stafford and Ted Ackerman led a comeback that put 26 points on the board for RU in the final period, cutting Salem's lead to nine points at 70-61 before the Rock regulars were sent back into the fray.

In the few remaining, frantic minutes four of the Plymouth club, including Ellinghausen, fouled out—and two of the Panthers met the same fate.

Plymouth's final nine points came the hard way, all at the foul line—four from Howard Inch, two from Mike Primeau, a pair by Tom Ellinghaussen—a sophomore and younger brother of Jim—and one by Chris DeBear.

Schultz was Redford Union's top scorer with 21 points, Stafford and Ackerman also getting into double figures with 14 and 11 respectively. Young Tom Ellinghausen, with 12, shared Rock scoring honors with his brother.

Salem, which is bidding for a third straight Suburban Eight title, is now 3-0 overall and 1-0 in the league. RU has a 1-2 overall mark and still is looking for the initial Sub 8 win.

Thomann, although elated at the brilliant performance of his scoring ace who now has tallied 24, 33 and 43 points in three starts for a total of 100, was disappointed in the Rocks' defensive play.

On the other hand, Carl Andrews, the RU mentor, saw a potentially fine season in the play of his Patriots. "We couldn't stop their cannon, but we fought right to the wire and really played a pretty good ball game. If we had shot more and hadn't had so many turnovers we'd have been right there. Schultz and Stafford were particularly outstanding."

Chiefs stall in third quarter, fall to Farmington

By BILL COLLINS

Both teams entered this nonleague affair without a victory to their credit, but a third quarter splurge by the Farmington Falcons enabled them to notch their first triumph by virtue of a 47-40 win over the Plymouth Canton Chiefs.

It was apparent from the outset that the contest would not be an artistic success, as the Canton Chiefs committed 31 turnovers before the night was through.

"We couldn't get our offense moving in the first half," stated Farmington coach Bruce Brown whose Falcons could muster a mere six field goals in the first half.

CANTON HELD a 14-8 lead after the opening period on the strength of the scoring of Tom Close and Keith Osborne.

Close, who was the Chief's leading scorer with 12 points, combined with Osborne for 10 in the first quarter to give Canton a six point margin.

The Chiefs maintained a four point lead at the half, 18-15, as both teams were unable to do any consistent scoring from the field.

After the intermission, Farmington took the lead on a basket by junior forward Richard Milhizer, who took game scoring honors with 19 points.

Milhizer led the Falcons during their third quarter surge pouring in 10 points. In a five minute span, Farmington tied the game at 22-22 and reeled off 11 unanswered points to take command of the contest.

"The press forced them (Canton) into quite a few turnovers, and our players never let down, they kept on coming," summarized coach Brown.

Canton was unable to narrow the gap within five points as both teams played evenly through the fourth quarter.

Plymouth outrebounded Farmington but did not dominate the boards. The key for both teams was their inability to shoot well. Both teams shot under 35 per cent for the game.

"We run a continuous flowing offense and tonight it broke down. Our rebounding was better than I expected, but I was still not impressed with our performance," said Canton coach Casey Cavell.

Farmington will take a 1-1 record into their Inter-Lakes opener with Livonia Stevenson this Friday while Canton visits Belleville next Tuesday.

Past Thurston, 108-64

Rock tankers romp

By BILL COLLINS

Led by senior co-captain Tom Smith and junior standout Ron Finley, Plymouth Salem varsity swimmers swept past the Thurston Eagles, 108-64, in a nonleague dual meet Thursday night at the Plymouth pool.

Salem won nine of 11 events en route to victory in the first meet of the season. "The times were pretty fast for this early in the season," commented Plymouth coach Byron Williams.

The 200-yard relay was won by Salem, as the foursome of Bill Chlopan, Craig Kohler, Craig Richter, and Brian Lazarus finished in a time of 1:49.3.

Tom Smith, a double winner in the meet, won his first race by coasting to an easy triumph in the 200-yard freestyle, beating his nearest competitor by six seconds in a time of 1:57.1. Smith came back to take another first in the 500-yard freestyle.

The Rocks other dual winner was Ron Finley, a junior who finished 13th in the state meet last season, and who will be one of the state's top tankers in the 100-yard freestyle.

Finley won the 200 IM in a clocking of 2:10.9, while also copping a first in the 100-yard freestyle in :52.4 seconds.

In the absence of graduates Billy Marks and Larry Henry, Salem diver Mike Stocker has picked up where they left off. Stocker won the diving competition, posting a score of 192.75.

Another of Salem's underclassmen with plenty of potential, according to coach Williams, is sophomore Tom Griffin. Griffin won the 50-yard freestyle in a time of :23.8 while also picking up a second place in the 100-yard freestyle.

The other senior co-captain is Bill Chlopan. After participating as a member of the winning 200-yard relay team, Chlopan won the only other event he swam in, the 100-yard backstroke in a time of 1:01.2.

Plymouth capped off its stellar evening by winning the 400-yard freestyle relay. The quartet of Brian Etienne, Craig Richter, Ron Finley, and Bob Robadue breezed to victory in 3:34.4.

"This is the best balanced team I've had in the last few years," said coach Williams. He added, "I feel we are better than most teams in our area."

Salem hosts Northville in a dual meet tomorrow (Tuesday) at 7 p.m.

Dearborn drops Bentley

Traditions, like fine wine, often improve with the passage of time.

But for Livonia Bentley coach Larry Jackson and his Bulldog team, there is one nearly annual occurrence that is beginning to take on nightmarish proportions.

"We just can't seem to win our second game of the season. Only once in the last seven years have we been able to win," Jackson said.

That one time was not last Friday night as Bentley blew a first quarter lead, rallied to tie the game after three quarters and eventually fell to Dearborn, 61-52.

Two cold quarters did the Bulldogs in.

Bentley was outscored 14-4 in the second quarter and 22-13 in the fourth quarter as its record was evened at 1-1.

More than poor shooting, it was a marked propensity to throw the ball into the bleachers that cost Bentley the game.

"WE DIDN'T play real good defense, but turnovers is what really cost us the game," said a deflated Jackson.

Not one to catch the silver linings, Jackson admitted that he could not single out one bright spot in the game save for the fact that the Bulldogs will see the inside of their own gym for the first time next Tuesday when Livonia Franklin moves in for a non-league affair.

Jim Rhodes was about the only thing the Bulldogs had going for them on offense. Rhodes collected 25 points on 12 field goals and a free throw.

Clay Carlson managed to sneak into double figures also with 10 points.

But two other Bentley starters were disappointing.

Ken Duckworth did not manage to break into the scoring book at all and Jim Weiss, who was expected to carry a significant portion of the offensive load, collected only four points.

"We just have to get more scoring out of Weiss," Jackson said.

Weiss was in foul trouble for most of the game and eventually fouled out.

Another problem stems from the fact that Bentley had significant

Chief swimmers fall

The Plymouth Canton Chiefs varsity swim team is in a rebuilding process.

With only three seniors returning from last year's squad and laden with many underclassmen Canton will be developing their program for the future throughout most of this season.

The Chief tankers opened up their season on a losing note by falling to the North Farmington Raiders, 120-51. Despite the defeat Canton could boast several fine performances.

"This is going to be a season of improvement for us, but I still maintain that we'll be competitive in the Western Six," said head coach William Faunce.

Canton grabbed three firsts during last Thursday evening's meet at the Farmington pool. Leading the way for the Chiefs was junior Kevin Harris.

Harris arrived ahead of the pack in the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 1:56.8. Harris' time was just over the school record which he holds. He also came back to win the 100-yard freestyle in :53.1 seconds.

"Kevin is one of our best swimmers. His times for the meet were about his best last year, I figure if a swimmer can hit his top time of a year ago in the first meet of the new season, he's doing an excellent job," appraised coach Faunce.

Canton's other first place finish was in the diving event where junior Scott Wales won with a score of 198.20. Coach Faunce was quite satisfied with Wales showing in the diving.

"Scott is another junior who will improve. A 198 is better than average for the first meet of the year, and I know he will come through for us throughout the season," said Faunce.

Besides the winners, there were several creditable efforts by the rest of the Chief swimmers. Freshman Tom Simrak took second place in the 500-yard freestyle in a time of 5:54.9.

Senior Tim Greenleaf gained runner-up honors in the 100-yard breaststroke in a clocking of 1:11.5, while sophomore Steve Wood was a third place finisher in the 100-yard butterfly at 1:03.8.

"We swam against a well-balanced team that was deep in talent from top to bottom," said coach Faunce. He added, "There are several things that we will overcome with experience as the season progresses."

Canton's next meet is this Saturday in a field of 13 teams at the Redford Union Relays beginning at 3 p.m. with the prelims.

Stevenson icers split pair

The Livonia Stevenson hockey team has opened its 1975-76 season on a couple of optimistic signs, blasting Taylor Center 17-1 and dropping a heartbreaking 6-5 decision to Ann Arbor Huron.

"We have a good skating team consisting of six seniors, six juniors and five sophomores who can all do a very good job," said Dave Felker, first-year coach of the Spartan icers.

Pacing the Stevenson attack in its rout of Taylor Center were Tom Bowie, with four goals and two assists, Frank Finn, three goals and four assists, Ken Morrell, two goals and three assists and Dave Stewart, who also connected for a pair of markers and three assists.

Additional players who contributed to the Spartans' scoring parade were Dennis Kobe and Gary Zilch, each with two goals, and Frank Lane and Kyle Krugl, who dented the Taylor Center net once each.

Tom Pacion and Dave Katz shared netminding duties for the Spartans and both were outstanding, allowing only a single shot to cross the Stevenson goal line during the contest.

Against Ann Arbor Huron, Stevenson twice held a two goal advantage but the River Rats fought back with a pair of third period goals to upend the Spartans in a tight, well-played game.

Ron Grollmus, Larry Mullin, Jack Sinks, Stewart and Kobe scored for Stevenson, while the Spartans' goalie, Katz, blocked 27 of the 33 Huron shots fired in his direction.

Salem JV wins again

The Plymouth Salem JV basketball team won its second consecutive non-league game by trouncing Franklin 68 to 45.

Salem started slow, leading at the end of the first period 13-12; picked up steam in the second period and led 31-20 by halftime.

Plymouth put the game away in the third as 13 players scored. Dan Brightbill led the way with 12 points, followed by Rich Hewlett and Mitch Haas each accounting for 9 points.

Haas and Brightbill also took rebound honors.

Time to turn in football equipment

Jim Sinclair of 1149 Terry has sent out a call to all players on the Plymouth Canton Lions or Panthers football teams in the Plymouth Junior Football League.

He is attempting to assemble all the equipment belonging to the league. Anyone with outstanding uniforms or other equipment is asked to call or return the items to Sinclair.

Leslie Provow: trying to pick up the pieces

During the few weeks she was out of jail, between the time she pleaded guilty to manslaughter until she was sentenced, 19-year-old Leslie Provow was trying to pick up the pieces.

"I'd like to go back and finish high school," she said.

"I look at the ads and think I'll apply for something; then I think I may be in jail." Her mood changed from hope to pessimism.

"I guess I want to do all the things I should have done a year ago."

Leslie is finishing her high school courses in the GED program at the Woman's Division of the Detroit House of Correction where she is serving a seven to 15-year sentence.

SHE WAS ONE of three persons charged with first degree murder for the Jan. 28 shooting death of Terry Buchman. Her husband, Barry Provow, was judged guilty. A jury found Robert Umney innocent. Leslie, in the vernacular, "copped a plea and got seven to 15."

Barry Provow, in a letter from Jackson Prison where he is serving a life sentence, writes: "I would also like to say I am sorry about Terry's death. It didn't mean to happen, even though the people think it did."

"I hope you can help Leslie; I would like to see her out. She didn't have anything to do with anything."

Umney returned to Scotland last weekend, a very thoughtful and saddened young man. He is going to live with his father's people and, at 23, start a new life.

Before he left he voiced his concern for Leslie. "She shouldn't be there," he said. "Leslie didn't hurt anyone. She didn't even know what was going on."

Leslie had no trial. She pleaded no contest.

From evidence produced during the trials of Barry Provow and Umney, it seemed Leslie's only crime was being there, with her husband and his friends. The prosecution's chief witness testified, "Leslie didn't do anything to harm me. She wanted me to stay down."

THE MURDER One charge shocked Leslie's grade school teachers and Girl Scout leader who remembered her as a good student, "very cooperative and a nice little girl."

The problems began during her high school years with drugs, low grades, runaways and finally dropout—a combination that led to the fatal night. Leslie was there, physically. But drugs and alcohol were responsible for her semi-comatose state. She was unaware of where she was or what was going on.

This was reiterated during the trials. Leslie was too drunk to drive. She tried, but she kept stalling the car, so Barry drove. Leslie took no part in the conversation—she was not quoted once.

A line from Morris West's novel, "Harlequin" (William Morrow & Company, Inc.), leaves the reader with an uneasy pang of conscience.

"I'd like to be an instrument of justice. I'm paid as an instrument of the law—which isn't the same thing at all, at all..."

Must there be a compromise between justice and the law?

The law has run its course and Leslie Provow will be in prison for a long time. She was a rebellious teenager who did many foolish things and caused her family, teachers and friends much worry and grief.

But we can't sweep Leslie under the carpet and forget about her unless we sincerely believe justice has been served.

Public should demand tougher meeting bill

Local public officials who like back-shop politics are scurrying around trying to kill or amend to death legislative bills requiring open meetings of county commissions, city councils, village, township, school and college boards.

The prevailing notion is that the public may know what the board has done after the board has voted, and that's all.

The nobler principle is that the public should be able to view a board's deliberations, know who's trying to influence the board, be fully informed of a board's amendatory machinations, and have a chance to comment, as well as see, the final voting. Many local officials are frankly hostile to such a "sunshine" policy.

THINGS ARE coming to a head in the Legislature. The House Towns and Counties Committee, the Hon. Thomas H. Brown (D-Westland) chairman, will hold public hearings on a pair of bills Wednesday (Dec. 10) at 7:30 p.m. in the Capitol in Lansing and next Monday (Dec. 15) at 10 a.m. in Livonia's Senior Citizens Center, 15218 Farmington (at Five Mile).

In the Senate, meanwhile, State Sen. David Plawecki (D-Dearborn Heights) this week is asking for reconsideration of a vote which robbed his open-meeting bill of all meaning. Other senators inserted language specifying that only "formal" meetings would have to be open to the public.

All three bills under consideration have strengths and shortcomings. If the public—common citizens, minority parties, Leagues of Women Voters, Jaycees, Common Cause and the rest—squawk loudly enough at the hearings, maybe a good bill can be written.

THE LAW should not contain such dishonest phrasing as "executive session" as does Plawecki's SB920. How in heaven, earth or hell a legislative body can hold an "executive" meeting is beyond comprehension. A good law shouldn't allow secret or sneak meetings, but if it does, they should be labeled "secret" or "sneak."

The law should contain the language of Rep. Perry Bullard's HB 5405 which says "the people retain the right to observe the deliberating and decision-making." None of this stuff about having a builder in for a quiet chat on a rezoning issue.

The law should provide for jail terms for public officials who violate it. Rep. David Hollister's HB5684 is the only one which does so. The language should be stronger, however, to make jail terms mandatory, even for first offenders, because judges are notoriously easy on fellow politicians. Besides, if we can jail a petty thief, we should certainly jail board members who deliberate behind closed doors the policy matters that affect our lives.

Except for emergency or disaster situations, boards should be allowed to set special meetings to start only between (say) 9 a.m. and 8:15 p.m., and perhaps only Monday through Friday. Once a board begins a meeting, it should never be allowed to interrupt it with an executive (secret) session and then to resume the public meeting at a late hour.

THE MOST IMPORTANT single thing a school board ever does is appoint or force the resignation of a superintendent. That should never be deliberated in secret. Yet Plawecki's SB 920 Sec. 9 (1) (a) allows precisely that.

There is some merit to allowing a school board to consider disciplining a juvenile behind closed doors, but Plawecki's bill goes too far by extending that right even to students age 18 or older.

Plawecki's bill is a farce when it allows secret meetings on collective bargaining strategy. Reason: The law still allows members of public employee unions to serve on those boards.

The bill properly provides for fining officials who hold secret meetings, but the language needs to be tightened to assure the official pays the fine from his own pocket, and not from public tax funds.

To paraphrase the late Harry Truman, if public officials can't stand the daylight, they should be forced into the dungeon.

READERS FORUM

Interrogation by board unjustified

Editor: At the meeting of the Canton Township Board on Nov. 11, a newly formed group, Total Citizens Power, requested recognition. Although this might seem an unnecessary request, it deserved a dignified response. Rather than responding briefly and to the point, Canton's supervisor chose to interrogate TCP representatives for over an hour (it was 11 p.m.). This was both unjustified and inappropriate, for it wasted the audience's time and the board's time.

For groups such as TCP who are making an honest attempt to involve people in their government, there should be encouragement and cooperation offered, not intimidation. Participatory government is important and necessary to make our democracy work.

ANNOUNCING A WATER QUALITY WORKSHOP

How often has somebody asked you for your opinion on a plan when it's really too late for your opinion to make a difference? The Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) is offering you an opportunity to do things a little differently.

On Tuesday, Dec. 9, SEMCOG will host a workshop to explain its two-year program to develop a water quality management plan for the seven counties of Southeast Michigan, which includes Wayne County.

The work is being carried out under Section 208 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act as amended in 1972. That act calls for clean water in every major metropolitan area, such as Southeast Michigan, by 1983.

The workshop is an opportunity to get in on the ground floor of the planning process. You can find out what a water quality management plan is. And find out what that plan will mean to you as a citizen of Southeast Michigan.

The workshop is free and will be held:

Thursday, December 11

1 p.m. - 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. - 9 p.m.

Plymouth City Hall
201 South Main Street
Plymouth, Michigan

Introducing the afternoon session will be Joseph Bida, mayor of Plymouth. The evening session will be introduced by Beverly McAninch, councilwoman for the city of Plymouth. Both sessions will include a visual presentation on the legislation, a verbal discussion of the planning process, and time for questions and comments.

This is an important effort because:

- it is a chance for you to get involved in the regional planning process,
- when completed, the plan will affect all citizens of Southeast Michigan over the next 20 years,
- you can let local elected officials know what you think should be included in a water quality management plan.

Once the plan is adopted, it will be implemented. Now is the time to learn what is being done in the area of wastewater management, to ask questions, and to comment on the water quality plan elements.

Plan to take advantage of this opportunity.

Teachers back smaller classes

America's teachers see smaller classes as the element which most would boost their morale, a survey by the National Education Association indicates.

More than 1,600 full-time classroom teachers, representing all 50 states, were included in the poll conducted by NEA Research.

They answered the question: "If you could make one change that you think would improve your own morale or professional satisfaction as a teacher, what would the change be?"

In order of frequency responses were: lower class size, 10.9 per cent; better curriculum; ability grouping, etc. 9.9 per cent; better or fewer administrators, 9.4 per cent; higher salary, 8.6 per cent; and improved discipline, 7.4 per cent.

Other choices, in order of frequency, included: better relationships within school, greater voice in policy determination, professional improvement, more planning time and leaves, more time to teach, support of parents and community, more status as a profession, job security and in-service workshops.

Skies display colorful Yule stars

December brings the official start of winter and also "some of the most beautiful and colorful stars of the whole year," according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

The winter of 1975-76 will begin at 6:46 a.m., Dec. 22, Prof. Losh says.

"At this time the sun arrives at the winter solstice, the most southerly point it reaches in its apparent yearly journey around the earth," she observes, adding that on this day there will be just 9 hours of daylight and 15 of darkness.

PROF. LOSH points out that in winter the sun is actually closer to the earth than in summer.

"The seasons depend mostly on the tilt of the earth's axis," she explains. "In winter the sun's rays strike our planet more obliquely, thereby lessening their intensity."

The stars on display in the night skies of December will be especially lovely, the U-M astronomer continues.

"The yellow star Capella may be found in the pentagon-shaped constellation Auriga, the orange Aldebaran in Taurus, the giant red Betelgeuse in the shoulder of Orion, and Rigel in his knee. All of these will be above the horizon before the brightest of them all, Sirius, the dog star, makes its appearance in the constellation Canis Major."

SIRIUS HAS been admired and revered since ancient times, she continues, rising as it does with such brilliance in the early evening around Christmas.

"It was the 'Star of the East' pointed to by the Three Wise Men," she says.

With the bright Sirius directly overhead in daytime, the ancients believed it added to the heat from the sun, hence one possible reason for the term "dog days," she comments.

Rising near the east point is Orion's other dog, Canis Minor, with the star Procyon. Rising about 20 minutes before Sirius, Procyon means "before the dog."

MOVING STEADILY toward the west is the Northern Cross, and Prof. Losh says it may be seen to "spend advantage" on Christmas Eve.

Venus will continue as the bright "morning star," rising in the east about two hours before the sun and being outshone by only the moon. On Dec. 29, Venus will be two degrees north of the waning crescent moon, forming a particularly pretty configuration.

Other planets adding luster to December will be Jupiter, high in the northeast at sunset, and Mars, coming up almost simultaneously with Orion. On Dec. 12, Jupiter will be five degrees south of the gibbous moon, and on the 18th, Mars will be five degrees north of the full moon.

Saturn rises at about the same time as Procyon, but farther north. On Dec. 21 Saturn is five degrees north of the gibbous moon.

Duns Scotus holds Bach for a Buck

Johann Sebastian Bach will be honored once again at the fifth annual festival devoted to his music, Bach for a Buck (actually $1.50). The all-Bach concert is sponsored by the Southfield Arts Council, the City of Southfield Parks and Recreation and the Chamber Music Society of Detroit with Duns Scotus as the host.

The three repeat concerts are scheduled for Dec. 26 and 27 at 8:30 p.m. and Dec. 28 at 4 p.m. The series will be performed in the Italian gothic chapel of Duns Scotus College, Nine Mile Road and Evergreen in Southfield.

The group performing, the Duns Scotus Chamber Players, will be joined by the Denby Festival Choir.

This year's soloist will be Joella Jones, Cleveland Orchestra's keyboard artist.

Tickets must be purchased in advance at Hudson's, Southfield Parks and Recreation on Evergreen Road, or Musical Heritage in Royal Oak. Tickets will not be available at Duns Scotus or at the door.

WCC ups tuition, fees

Wayne County Community College will up tuition from $11 to $13 per credit hour effective with the winter term and hike the registration fee from $1 to $5.

The actions result from a cut in state aid.

Other fee changes include a $2 per credit hour laboratory charge for certain science and technical courses and a $1 fee for transcripts and duplication of registration forms.

The laboratory fee had been a flat $5 per course. Transcripts previously were provided free.

The new fees will be payable during registration for the new term. In-person registration is Dec. 8-13 and Jan. 5-7. Registration by mail for previously enrolled students is now under way. Winter term classes begin Jan. 8.

Staff and faculty will contribute toward meeting the state aid cutback by accepting a freeze on filling vacant positions, increases in class size and taking on other cost-saving steps.

Children star in touring plays

The Orchard Ridge touring chamber theater for children announced an expansion of its repertoire for the fall and winter tour, for which they are now accepting bookings.

In addition to "The Brute Family" and "Frederick," the group will also perform "The Rooster That Set Out To See The World," "Alexander and the Wind-Up Mouse" and a fable about a fig tree which wants attention.

The Orchard Ridge theater workshop will perform at no charge for any non-profit group on either Tuesdays at 2 p.m. or Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. Saturday morning bookings are also available.

The players are under the direction of Wallace F. Smith, assistant professor of theater at the Orchard Ridge campus. Smith is also the faculty advisor for the Orchard Ridge campus.

For information on classes, participation in the theater guild or for booking the children's players contact the theater department.

How to make an addressing system out of your mailing mess.

You already have a typewriter.

The typewriter you're using now to type out all those envelopes starts a SCRIPTOMATIC Addressing System. You don't need a special printer to stamp out an indestructible metal plate that stands a 25% chance of being indestructibly incorrect within a year. You type names, addresses, and changes yourself, right now, right there, on your own typewriter.

Just add a low cost SCRIPTAMASTER® Card.

The SCRIPTAMASTER Card is what you put in your typewriter. After typing, it serves as an addressing master. It's the same size as a tabulating card. It's color-coded for easy filing, and files 120 to the inch.

Then add a SCRIPTOMATIC® Addressing Machine.

Frequency of mailings and the number of pieces mailed determine which of 9 different SCRIPTOMATIC Addressing Machines you'll need. The fastest gets out 6,850 pieces an hour. Even the slowest is 20 times faster than the best typist, typing addresses, over and over, every time you mail. You're already half-way toward having an addressing system: you have the typewriter.

Now send the coupon, or better yet, call Mike Kazmar at 313/557-6810. SCRIPTOMATIC, INC., Suite 119 & 120, 29350 Southfield Rd., Southfield, MI 48076

SCRIPTOMATIC

It pays to know a DETROIT BANK-er better.

"I can show you how $5,000 can grow to more than $7,800 in just 6 years"

For the saver with long-range investment goals, there's nothing safer than the high-interest, guaranteed savings of Investment Certificates at Detroit Bank & Trust. DETROIT BANK-er Dorothy Finzel, Officer-in-Charge of the Grand River-Redford office, can tell you about them.

I have $5,000 to invest. What's the best deal you can offer?
"Detroit Bank & Trust doesn't offer any 'get rich quick' schemes... but if you are willing to leave at least $1,000 untouched for a full six years in a 7-1/2% annual rate Investment Certificate, you will get the highest annual bank interest rate allowable under law. For example, if you invest $5,000, letting the interest accumulate — compounded quarterly — you'll get $7,808.96 back after 6 years. And, the safety of your funds is insured to $40,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, plus you have the security of knowing your bank has provided 126 years of continuous service.

Just what is an Investment Certificate?

"Rather than a passbook savings account which you may add to or withdraw from in any amount at any time, an Investment Certificate is a one-time purchase for a fixed amount of $1,000 or more, issued for a specific amount of time, from one to six years."

Will I get a good return for my investment?
"Definitely. Certificates are compounded quarterly and return annual interest rates from 6% to 7-1/2% depending on how long you hold them. For instance, a one-year savings certificate earns 6%, while a six-year investment certificate works for you at an annual rate of 7-1/2%."

What happens if the annual rate changes while I'm holding a certificate?
"All interest rates on certificates are guaranteed for the term of issue. So if you've purchased a 6-1/2% annual rate certificate, you'll get a return of 6-1/2% each year for the 2-1/2 years you hold that certificate. Certificates are not automatically renewable so any rate change will be reflected at the time you choose to renew it."

Suppose I have to cash in my certificate before it reaches maturity?
"You are free to cash in your certificates at any time prior to maturity; however, Federal regulations require us to reduce the rate on the entire certificate amount redeemed to the current regular passbook rate and deduct 3 months' interest. So, it's definitely to your advantage to fulfill the terms of the certificate."

I guess it really pays to get to know a DETROIT BANK-er better!
"Absolutely. We're here to give you reliable information on any financial matter... and we think we can help you build your savings wisely. Come in and see us. You'll find that the real difference in banks is the banker and that's why you ought to know a DETROIT BANK-er better."

Shimmering, natural look demonstrated

Canton Newcomers received first-hand information on the latest in hair styling at their Christmas luncheon in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel.

Hair stylists from the House of Glamour and Mayflower Beauty salons gave on-the-spot demonstrations of the new Oriental and halo coiffeurs. Makeup reflected the healthy, shiny look with color on cheeks used to add to the glow and aid contour lines of the cheeks. The apple-cheek look is not to be desired according to Pat Hahn, owner of the salons.

Eye-lining is out, says Mrs. Hahn. The soft, natural look is in. Art eye lashes can be applied which last about a month and require no mascara. Obvious eye makeup is shunned with the long, soft, pretty look.

Pat Beaty, her own hair styled in the new oriental style, combs out the tresses of a volunteer.

Phyllis Redfern and Dolly Hiatt (foreground) enjoy Canton Newcomers Club luncheon and makeup session in the Miles Standish Room.

Club member Yvonne Burdziak's too fuzzy permanent received special treatment from Kathy Beaty. First step was a new classic cut and relaxing treatment with protein and moisture conditioning.

Just the crown hair was highlighted for the young, iridescent appearance which goes with the shimmering, healthy look. There was no back-combing and previous frosting was toned down.

MRS. BUDZIAK'S makeup reflected the natural, healthy look with soft eye shadow and the addition of art lashes.

There were many volunteers among the audience for the hair styling demonstrations.

"We're still giving permanents," said Mrs. Hahn, "but for different reasons. The Oriental styling requires texture and a fuller look. It will probably be the most popular cut."

To show the versatility of the Oriental, operators worked on both light, Norwegian blond hair and red hair.

The "halo" frames the face with a circle of curls or waves, Mrs. Hahn says. "It is a good look and the lengths may vary with the features." Again, it achieves a picture of natural good health.

CANTON NEWCOMERS is the largest club of its kind in the area. President Sue O'Donnell says besides the regular monthly meetings there are 32 special interest groups. These include bowling tennis, bridge, crafts, gourmet dinners flower arranging and many others.

Newcomers to Canton Township may call Mrs. Thomas Ryan of 7233 Provincial Court for information about joining the group.

Hair styling begins on two Canton Newcomers Club members.

Yvonne Burdziak said she wore a wig most of the time to cover her too-fuzzy permanent. Her shining new hairdo and makeup (above) reflect desired natural glow of health.

Detroit Mormon Choir sings Christmas festival

The Detroit Mormon Concert Choir, built along the same pattern as the world famous Salt Lake City Mormon Tabernacle Choir, will give three concerts during the holiday season. "A Christmas Festival" is the program's title.

The first concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 9, in the Plymouth-Salem High School auditorium, 46181 Joy Road, west of Canton Center Road.

It will be a benefit concert, sponsored by the Plymouth Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, which is presided over by Bishop Glen L. Willardson.

The evening will include both classical and traditional Christmas Choral music. Tickets are $1.50 and are available at the door.

"The Christmas Festival" is repeated on Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 10-11, at 8 p.m. in The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 425 North Woodward, in Bloomfield Hills, and as the Easter concert last spring, is a community service with free admission.

The choir's president is Marsha Hanson, of 18250 New Jersey in Southfield, and it is conducted by Ed Yager of Pleasant Ridge. The group began as a Ward Choir in the Royal Oak Ward.

"ORDINARILY a Ward Choir will have 20 to 25 voices but this one grew to 40 and developed a repertoire and an expertise to go with it, so it was possible to begin giving public concerts," said Robert Kroepel, of Farmington, choir spokesman.

That was in January. Now it has reached 70 voices and is no longer a Ward Choir. Members come from "Flint, Plymouth, Wayne, East Detroit, Ferndale, Rochester, and in fact about all Detroit and all suburbs," he said.

Choir members are screened through auditions, and when all present commitments are filled this season, choir membership will expand to 100 voices for bookings already committed for next year.

THE TABERNACLE CHOIR is filled with many traditions and boasts the longest record of continuous weekly broadcasts of any group that has ever been on radio or television. "Music and the Spoken Word" is broadcast every Sunday morning on CBS.

Following in its pattern, the Detroit Mormon Concert Choir draws its members from all walks of life. In addition to daily occupations, many also hold church positions.

Kroepel said members "receive no compensation of any kind except the satisfaction derived from following our 13th article of faith which states in part: 'If there is anything virtuous, lovely, or of good report or praiseworthy, we seek after these things.'"

The first benefit scheduled for the spring of the year will be on behalf of the Livonia Ward of the church, presided over by Bishop Roger J. Browne, Jr. in March.

The choir also is booked to participate in Southfield's bicentennial celebration.

Choir president Hanson and her husband Bill, both members of the Bloomfield Hills Michigan State High Council, and Mark Bauer, regional music chairman for the church, are currently traveling to wards and branches on speaking assignments, bringing the message of music to the members.

Fiegel PTO bazaar

Parents, students and teachers will contribute items to the Fiegel Elementary School bazaar Saturday, Dec. 13, from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the school, 9750 Joy Road. Displaying some of the handcrafted works are (from left,

BRIDGE

Defensive card play is one of the more difficult phases of bridge. A new player quickly learns that he can discard a high card to indicate he wants his partner to lead a suit.

The more difficult aspect is the definition of a high card. Also it is not always clear when discarding whether partner or declarer gains the most.

West led the ace of spades. A ten can be a small card if all smaller cards are exposed. The queen is a high card, but when discarded it denies the holding of the king.

In the hand in the diagram, East demonstrated some lack of consideration of these facts.

The bidding warrants little comment. South chose to make the sacrifice early and East was more impressed with his five hearts than his partner's cue bid.

Declarer ruffed the opening lead and made a poor choice by winning the club ace to lead a second club in the hope of using the heart ten to ruff the third club.

This gave East his chance to error. On the second club, he discarded his "high" diamond eight to show the ace. When South finally led the diamond six, West could see all the smaller cards. He thought his partner's "low" card indicated he did not have the ace.

West played the king and the ace went on the same trick. One of declarer's losers had disappeared.

East made two mistakes. Obviously he thought the eight had to be a high card. More important, however, is the fact that he had no need to try to show the ace for the defense would have located the card in due course without the discard.

Recent party bridge winners in games at the Plymouth cultural Center were Lydia and Hubert Lear and Frances and Carl Peters.

High scorers in the duplicate games

By ERNEST and KAY CLINTON were Jack Paul and Robert Kinsler, M.J. Willette and Fran Lang, Mac Zivian and W. Filvif, and Ralph Conzelman and Rosemary Mantig.

Proceeds of the duplicate group's charity game were $40.

People who buy and people who sell get together in the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers
Buyers and sellers are "strange" people. Strange to each other, that is. People with lots of different needs and wants, people who need to get together. They need to get together in the quickest, least expensive and most effective way possible—the Observer & Eccentric Want Ads.
Say you need a buyer for a bunch of baby basset hounds, or a really good home for a litter of antiques...How do you meet those unknown admirers with an eye for your special goods? How do you keep track of sellers with garage sales, and owners of autos and pets to trade? It's easy -- when you know where buyers and sellers get together best—the Observer & Eccentric Classifieds.
It's easy to get double buying and selling results, too. Double-Action Ads bring people together from all over Wayne and Oakland Counties. These suburban communities include: Birmingham, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Farmington, Farmington Hills, Rochester, Avon Twp., Southfield and Troy in Oakland County; Livonia, Garden City, Plymouth, Plymouth Twp., Canton Twp., Redford Twp., and Westland in Wayne County. Smart buyers and sellers place a Double Action Family Want Ad (non business) of 15 words or less in two consecutive issues, with no changes in copy and no cancellations -- and they pay only $6. That's a savings of $2.00 off the regular cost of placing an ad in two issues.
When you have something to sell...when you have something to buy...you've got a lot in common in the Observer & Eccentric Classified Want Ads.

AMC unveils repair plan

Auto sales will continue to grow in the years ahead, but not at the post-World War II rate, and cars will probably be smaller.

"While it is true that consumers of late have been keeping their cars longer due to an uncertain economic climate, most new car dealers report an increasing number of high-mileage trade-ins and in poor condition."

"The average growth rate has been projected to be about 2 1/2 per cent a year for the automotive market over the next four years, down from the five-plus per cent annual growth rates we experienced in the late 1940s and early '50s," Brown said.

Imports will capture about 1.5 million unit sales, or 14 to 17 per cent of the market, down a little from the current 19-20 per cent, according to most economists.

BROWN PREDICTED a 20 per cent growth in auto sales for 1976 models over 1975—from 8.6 million units (including imports) to 10.3 million.

Besides keeping their love affair with autos, Americans will continue to buy more units because of family trends, Brown predicted.

He described the markets for such durable goods as autos, tires and housing as "highly elastic"—meaning the percentage drop is greater than the total economy in a slump with a greater increase during a recovery.

"Trends show that while the total population growth rate has slowed significantly, the size of today's average family has been dramatically reduced, too. That can only mean there will be more families requiring cars. With the trend to more working wives, those families will require more than one car in most cases."

Thus, he based his forecast of a 20 per cent increase in auto sales on economists' predictions of a four to six per cent growth in the gross national product.

Brown concluded: "The auto industry will recover (in 1976) as it has in the past and will go forward to new heights."

Auto sales will rebound

American Motors Corporation has anservice repairs on all AMC cars, regardless of model or year manufactured.

ice job proves defective, the car will be fixed free by any AMC dealer.

R. William McNealy, American Motors' vice chairman, described the new plan as "an extension of the company's consumer-orientation expressed in the buyer protection plan introduced in 1971."

Before repair work starts, the customer is given a free written estimate covering the work needed or a diagnostic check if necessary to determine the extent of the problem. That estimate will not be exceeded without the customer's prior approval and authorization. This is possible because dealers will have a newly-developed price estimator that calculates their most frequent repairs in a matter of seconds.

The plan covers three major service areas: Repair protection, a guarantee of labor and parts for three months or 3,000 miles on all customer-paid service; written estimate, a free cost estimate in writing before the repairs are made; and parts inspection, inspection by the customer of replaced service parts.

To show exactly what the problem was, the dealer will have the old parts on hand for the customer's inspection. Parts will be returned to the customer if he wants them.

McNealy said the service protection plan is good at any AMC dealership in the U.S. and Canada. It includes body and paint, sublet and insurance repairs—industry firsts.

The plan has been field tested in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area since June. It was introduced to all AMC dealers at a series of dealer announcement meetings in August and more than 1,000 have been certified as ready to operate on the plan. It is expected that all dealers will have the plan in operation when it is formally launched in January.
