Agoing fishing

Winding his way from Canton on a long trek down Main Street in Plymouth on his way to Phoenix Lake is Karl Paulun, 76, the father of Canton Fire Chief Mel Paulun. Ready for an afternoon of angling, the retiree says he uses worms for bait and so far this spring, the fishing has been good. "I'll be there in 45 minutes," he added, "there's trout in that lake." Recording tapes under fire

By RICHARD GOLD

How damning are tape recordings?

In the wake of Watergate, and in the mind of Canton Township Supervisor Robert Greenstein, they are quite damning.

Once a proponent of taping township meetings, Greenstein recently reversed his stand; and at the last board meeting Tuesday, Greenstein asked other members of the board to repeal a concensus decision to tape meetings.

"It's a bad idea," he said. "That's what the attorneys have told me—just look at Nixon.

"You say things and they get distorted in ways that you never meant them to be and then you get taken to court."

But Trustee Jim Poole, one of three board members who was against not taping and defeated the motion, said, "Nixon was a crook, He had something to hide, we don't."

Greenstein replied, "It's just idiocy to tape meetings and store them for everyone else's benefit but our own. Bert Burgoyne told me he thought it was foolish and if you like I can get him down here to tell you."

Burgoyne is the township's trial attorney.

'I urge you to consider this motion favorably, because as sure as you're breathing you'll get these tapes rammed down your throats.'
—Supervisor Robert Greenstein

"IT'S NOT A question of secrecy or of open meetings," the supervisor continued, "it's a question of law.

"Even Dick Lewiston (the township's biggest land developer) can't believe we did it. The tapes are subject to immediate subpoena.

"Every lawsuit always starts with someone said something or this or that, why furnish them the opportunity?"

Greenstein said that with respect to zoning matters, the law was changing so fast, it was hard to keep abreast of the latest decisions. He said somethings were said in "the heat of debate" and could be later improperly interpreted or taken out of context.

"You could say something and later when it is interpreted by a third party, it could come out to be just the opposite of what you intended. A developer could prove you were discriminatory by alluding to some remark you just made offhand," he told other board members.

It was only recently that microphones and the taping system were installed at township hall to record meetings.

The decision to tape was made by consensus because board members wanted more complete records of the meetings.

And at least three (Treasurer Carl Parsell was absent at the last meeting) still want to tape.

TRUSTEE BRIAN Schwall, who along with Trustee Bob Myers voted to continue recording the meetings, commented, "I'm willing and I think we all should be to stand by what we say. We've had problems in the past with the minutes and the tapes will take care of that."

Myers added, "My own experience is that other communities tape their meetings and I tend to agree that we should be accountable for what we say. I've been on TV, radio, and in the papers and anything I say can be used against me. I haven't been sued yet."

Greenstein responded to Schwall's comments by saying he'd rather have confusion over the minutes than hand over tapes to a lawyer "and cut our own throats.

"We're one of the few jurisdictions to tape our meetings and I think it may hurt us."

Trustee Gerald Cheske, who voted to discontinue taping said he thought taping was a good idea originally. But with Greenstein's comments he added, "If we are giving anyone an open challenge to take us to court, then I think we should consider not taping."

Schwall and Poole commented that board members should be aware of the tape recorder and talk as if a court reporter were present.

"WE SHOULD be more deliberate in our deliberations," Schwall said. Poole commented, "Why can't we be the way we are when a court reporter is here. We don't need the red flag to watch what we say."

Greenstein replied, "I urge you to consider this motion favorably, because as sure as you are breathing, you'll get these tapes rammed down your throats."

But Greenstein failed to sway the trustees and the motion failed.

Locally, Plymouth Township and the Plymouth Community School Board tape meetings.

According to Treasurer Joe West of Plymouth Township, the taping has resulted in few problems. "It's strictly so the girls can get the minutes straight," he said. "It's never worked against us."

Superintendent of Plymouth Schools, John M. Hoben said, "We've taped better than two years and it helps us to review our meetings. We have them in store and the public can come in and listen to the meetings if they like.

"SO FAR, WE'VE had no adverse effects, although it does get to be an expense

Canton resident wounded

She recounts horror of shooting

By DARLENE STINSON

A relaxing trip to Florida turned into a nightmare for two Plymouth and Canton residents last week, as the two stepped into a television-like drama complete with hostages, policemen and bullets.

Linda Wallace, 26, a biology teacher at Plymouth Salem High and a resident of Canton's Stoneybrooke Apartments, returned home with two bullet wounds as souvenirs, while her friend and co-traveler, Linda Marie Aluia of Plymouth, holds a bullet-riddled purse as a reminder of the trip.

"The whole thing was a shock," said Ms. Aluia, 26, an employee of Plymouth dentist Gary Hall. "I can't believe Lynn was shot, but I just feel lucky we came back alive."

IT ALL BEGAN late Saturday night on April 24, when the two entered a restaurant off I-75 in Cordele, Ga., for a cup of coffee and brief respite from the journey back home.

The travelers did not know police were coming to apprehend an alleged kidnapper seated a few tables away, when a voice on the restaurant's intercom asked customers to leave their seats and enter the lobby.

"I had no idea why we were supposed to leave," Ms. Aluia recalled. "Everyone was chuckling and everything. I heard a policeman ask this man if he could speak to him, and then I saw the gun.

"He started firing," Ms. Aluia recalled. "I was shocked. I couldn't move or anything. I couldn't believe it was happening. He was about four feet from me, when he pointed the gun at me. I was in a corner, and I couldn't run anywhere.

"I thought that was it. But then he fired, and the bullet went through my purse. I couldn't believe he had missed."

MS. WALLACE was not so lucky. As she darted for an escape through an open doorway, the gunman shot two bullets through her upper and lower right arm.

"My first reaction was that I was going to die," recalled Ms. Wallace. "I was bleeding all over, and I was just really scared. It was one of the worst experiences you'd ever want to go through."

The man, who escaped from the restaurant with a hostage, allegedly shot 14 persons and killed three more by the time the night's events were through.

After the shooting and gunman's exit, Ms. Wallace was transported to a nearby hospital where she learned the bullets hadn't broken any bones. The next day she flew home, while Ms. Aluia drove Ms. Wallace's car to Michigan alone.

ALTHOUGH THE shooting extended Ms. Wallace's Easter vacation a week, the biology teacher hopes to return to her Plymouth Salem classroom sometime this week.

"My arm's still really painful," she said. "I can hardly move it all. I have a student teacher—maybe she can be my hands for awhile."

Although Ms. Wallace's arm will eventually heal, the memories of that night probably will never fade.

"The trip was exciting," she admits, "but I don't think I ever want to drive to Florida again."

Canton Center residents fight zoning, hire planner

By RICHARD GOLD

There are more than a few people in Canton Township dissatisfied with the new master land use plan, but perhaps the strongest pocket of resistance is on Canton Center Road between Ford and Warren.

There, residents and businessmen have joined forces to fight the plan.

"We'd like just to be left alone," said businessman George Bradley, "but I guess that isn't possible."

They have gone further than most who oppose the plan. Not only have they retained the services of a lawyer, but a professional planner as well.

While the property owners on Canton Center cite financial loss as one of the primary reasons to fight the plan, they are also confused by what they believe to be inconsistency on the part of the township's planners and board members.

Presently, their land is zoned commercial, but if a new zoning ordinance complies with the master plan, their property for the most part will become residential.

SOME EXISTING businesses will become nonconforming uses while others who have been sitting on property in the hope that it will used or sold as commercial will lose that investment.

This is not round one for most of opponents. Soon after the new administration took office, an attempt was made to decrease the depth of their commercial property from 600 feet to 400 feet.

That attempt was rejected by the planning commission. When the new plan came out, almost all commercial between Ford and Warren on both sides of the Canton Center was erased.

"I JUST don't understand," said Jim Fulkerson, who owns a trailer storage and landscape business on Canton Center. "First, 600 feet of commercial is acceptable, then 400 feet. Now, no commercial is good planning. They just don't seem to be consistent."

Residents on Canton Center had their most recent run in with the planning commission three weeks ago, when Republic Development asked that 40 acres of their Planned Unit Development at the corner of Warren and Canton Center be changed from regional shopping to single-family residential. After Canton Center residents fought the change, it was tabled until May 4.

According to Fulkerson and Bradley, who owns a tractor sales business, almost all the property owners from Ford to Warren on Canton Center are against the plan and have contributed to paying the planner and lawyers.

"What's funny about the plan is that it is contradictory. Every description they give for commercial property fits our situation, yet they want to make us residential. It makes no sense," Bradley said.

THE PLANNER Canton Center residents hired, Carl V. Schmult of Ann Arbor, found much more wrong with the new plan.

In a critique of the plan, which cost Canton Center residents $240, Schmult found many problems with the changing zoning from commercial to residential.

In his 16-page report, he cited financial reasons, market problems and inconsistencies in the reasoning of the plan.

Schmult said the lots affected were small and owned by different interests. Even if a developer could buy them all, he would be forced to offer lower-cost housing because the lots are on Canton Center.

"We have a combination in this instance of high improved land costs on a per lot basis and low price single-family homes. This does not appear to be a feasible market situation," Schmult said.

"The plan recognizes the present importance of Canton Center Road as the major north-south thoroughfare in the township. Further, the plan proposes to increase its importance by realigning the road at both ends of the township to improve continuity through the urban area.

"The proposed plan is arbitrary with respect to the subject parcels. No data is provided to show that the need for highway-oriented or arterial-commercial uses has been met, although unsubstantiated claims occur in the report that the total need for all commercial land use has been met by the plan."

SCHMULT ADDED that the policy to rezone Canton Center was made "without recognition of the monumental problems involved in assembling and platting small, long, narrow parcels.

"This plan does not provide a reasonable future use for these parcels of land."

In his critique of the plan, Schmult noted several passages where the importance of Canton Center is emphasized as a north-south road in the township.

He added with emphasis that the plan said "housing should not have direct access onto major highways."

One of the primary reasons Canton planners wanted to rezone Canton Center was to avoid strip zoning and all the curb cuts that entails.

But Schmult suggested that a frontage road could be used to avoid the curb cuts, or several businesses could use a common service drive.

Schmult also attacked the extension of Hanford Road. If the plan is implemented, Hanford will eventually be extended to Canton Center, and Schmult said that would result in "a shortcut through the residential areas to the east without having to use the Warren or Ford road arterials.

"THIS WOULD introduce through traffic into a clearly residential area and would be undesirable."

"Canton Center is going to be a five-lane road some day," Fulkerson said. "It's the only class A, frost-free road in the township going north-south. All the criteria for commercial fit this area. They don't seem to know what they're doing."

Fulkerson said about seven businesses would become nonconforming if the plan is implemented. According to expert opinions, property values on the affected parcels would be halved, he said.

Fulkerson said all the residents and businessmen on Canton Center in the affected area were willing to pay another $750 to their planner for an alternate plan. But when the planning commission approved the new master plan, it seemed a waste of money.

"All we can do now is wait and see what the board does on the zoning ordinance. If they implement the plan as it is now, I imagine we'll take action in court when the time is right."

McClendon earns national acclaim

By EMORY DANIELS

Dr. E.J. McClendon, member of the Plymouth Board of Education, in recent weeks has received two special honors—one national and one a state recognition.

McClendon, a Plymouth Township resident and president of the school board last year, is an associate professor of health education, School of Public Health, University of Michigan.

The state honor is a health education distinguished service award from the health education department of Central Michigan University.

The national recognition occurred when he was named by President Gerald Ford to a 12-member advisory council on substance abuse under the wings of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW).

DR. E.J. McCLENDON

THE CMU citation honors McClendon for his contributions to the field of health, which has included national presidency of the 25,000-member American School Health Association, national board membership on the American Cancer Society, and involvement in curriculum development and school administration on both the national and state level.

Before joining UM, he was special assistant to the superintendent, Michigan Department of Education, for drug education and critical health problems. His latest publication, "A Concept Approach to Drug Education," is currently in press.

THE APPOINTMENT to the advisory council was made by the HEW secretary and confirmed by Ford. McClendon received notification of the confirmation on April 22.

He will serve from May 1 of this year through April 30, 1980, on the National Advisory Council on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism of the Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration.

The council consists of 12 members who are leaders in the fields of fundamental sciences, medical sciences or public affairs. Six of the 12 are leading medical or scientific authorities in the study, diagnosis or treatment of alcohol abuse and alcoholism. Members were appointed for overlapping terms of four years. The council will meet

Lions Club auction

Plymouth Lions Club members say Saturday's auction sale in the lot next to the Masonic Temple was such a success they will start collecting items now for its second annual auction. In spite of cold, damp weather they netted $4,000 from the sale of 560 items to offset their rained-out fish dinner at the Fall Festival. Chairman Bill Fehlig says the proceeds will help continue their sight-saving program in the Plymouth schools, the leader dog, eye bank, and other sight conservation aids. (Staff photo)

Board to meet May 10 to discuss procedures

Meetings that end early in the morning, procedural arguments and bickering over guidelines may become a historical footnote in the history of Supervisor Robert Greenstein's administration if the township board is able to adopt new meeting procedures.

At the request of Trustee Brian Schwall, the board has set a special meeting to consider the problem of meeting procedure, something that has become more troublesome recently.

On May 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the township hall at Cherry Hill and Canton Center, the board will attempt to codify a set of guidelines for future meetings.

Board members are expected to discuss not only parliamentary procedure, but spending limits and bidding procedures at the meeting.

About two months ago at a study session, Schwall introduced a set of guidelines to board members, but they were rejected with Treasurer Carl Parsell claiming that the procedural rules were an attempt by Schwall "to hamstring the administration."

Schwall replied that the board wasn't operating under a set of rules but rather "Robert's rules of order—Robert Greenstein's that is."

SCHWALL ARGUED that any organization should have a set of formalized guidelines so that all board members and the public know the rules. He added that he didn't care if the board approved his suggestions or someone else's.

Greenstein, however, said a codified set of rules would only serve to tie the board in procedural red tape.

He said it would be better to make rules when there were problems over procedure and not to come with a set of guidelines in anticipation of problems.

He argued that township government is the last remaining form of responsive, grass-roots government and that strict rules would only serve to lessen the public's involvement.

He particularly opposed one of Schwall's requests—that new business not be acted on, but introduced and placed on the bottom of the agenda at the start of the meeting.

GREENSTEIN and Parsell argued that such a rule would affect the board's ability to take quick action on matters of urgency.

"We're up there trying to meet the needs of the people. There are everyday problems that need action and when someone comes up in the public forum part of the meeting or in the correspondence part of the meeting, we should be able to act on it. That's why we're here," Parsell argued.

"People come in here in the public forum and they want action on their problems. They don't want to wait around until 1 or 2 a.m.

"They don't want red tape, they want action."

At the special meeting, board members will also consider a new engineering fee schedule to charge developers and builders.

Teachers, students approve

WSU survey indicates modular schedule support

The survey of students and staff at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP) not only showed a general support for modular scheduling but provided a variety of opinions, which was useful to the research team.

The opinion surveys were conducted by Dr. John Childs and Dr. Roger DeMont of Wayne State University who were contracted by the Plymouth Board of Education to evaluate the effectiveness of modular scheduling at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools.

Some 143 teachers responded to the survey, and a total of 1,862 of the 3,714 students at the CEP answered questionnaires. In commenting on the student survey, the research team said it considered this data as the opinions of student resondents rather than the opinions of the student body because of the 50 per cent return.

OF THE STUDENTS responding, 40 per cent were from Plymouth Canton and 60 per cent from Plymouth Salem. Broken down by grade level, 38 per cent were freshmen, 30 per cent sophomores, 20 per cent juniors, and 13 per cent seniors.

Of the respondents, 22 per cent were on traditional scheduling and 78 per cent on modular scheduling. About 49 per cent were males and 51 per cent females. The largest cluster of respondents were 15, 16, and 17 years old. Some 57 per cent of the respondents were on a college prep program, 19 per cent on vocational-job market curricula, and 25 per cent undecided.

The researchers found the breakdown on number of credits taken by the student respondents as differing greatly from a traditionally scheduled high school where six credits are usually the maximum allowed for a six-period day, and five is more usual. More than 15 per cent reported having more than six credits.

The credit load of respondents included: 46 per cent taking 5-5½ credits; 46 per cent taking 6-6½ credits; almost eight per cent taking 7-7½ credits. Twenty students (1.1 per cent) were taking eight credits, four 8½, and five nine-plus credits.

MOST STUDENTS reported that they used their unstructured time to study most or all of the time (47 per cent), although 34 per cent said they used it once in a while or almost never.

On availability of teachers for extra help in the two schools, more than 73 per cent indicated teachers are available most or almost all the time and only 11 per cent reported real difficulty in getting additional help from teachers.

"Students are less complementary, however, about their own behavior in availing themselves of the opportunity to get extra help," the report points out. "Students reported teachers are available for help, but they don't take full advantage of the opportunity."

Most students viewed modular scheduling as being highly effective and saw their parents as being more negative about the program than themselves. Some 30 per cent felt the school program was very effective, 47 per cent effective, and 17 per cent either neutral or undecided. Four per cent felt it was ineffective and almost two per cent very ineffective. Asked for their parents' belief, nine per cent felt their parents viewed the program as very ineffective, 12 per cent as ineffective, and only 18 per cent as very effective.

Some 82 per cent felt they had enough responsibility to function well under modular scheduling. When asked about student behavior, about 23 per cent responded fair or poor, 45 per cent average, and 30 per cent good.

Almost half thought their instructional experiences were somewhat exciting, nine per cent very exciting, 33 per cent neutral, seven per cent somewhat boring, and 1½ per cent very boring.

On areas used during unstructured time, these were the responses: a teacher, three per cent; area resource center or open lab, 28 per cent; the commons, 16 per cent; the library or learning resource center, 33 per cent; and other, 20 per cent.

WHEN ASKED what was the best feature of modular scheduling, half answered "Study what I want," 15 per cent "Be with friends," eight per cent "Get help from teachers," 15 per cent "Take more subjects," and 12 per cent other.

When asked reasons for failing last semester, 15 per cent didn't study enough, six per cent didn't attend class enough, and two per cent didn't attend class at all.

On questions about attendance, the researchers said the data indicated that some students obviously feel less pressure to go to class than in a traditional setting.

In correlating survey results, the report states that students who spend most of their unstructured time doing school work reported, in comparision to other students, that they: got more extra help from teachers; believed the program more effective; accepted more responsibility; had more exciting experiences in school; went to different learning areas; had similar or higher grades than the last school attended; and had higher attendance in class.

OF THE TEACHERS responding, about two per cent taught on a traditional schedule, 47 per cent on modular, and 50 per cent mixed. There was an almost even split of the number of respondents from both high schools.

The survey indicated 66 per cent of the teachers' time is in classroom instruction, 29 per cent for conferences and open labs, and five per cent for supervising duties.

Most of the teachers (85 per cent) reported students study some or most of their unstructured time and they indicated students can get help from teachers most or all of the time. Teacher and student respondents generally agreed on availability of extra help and how often students took advantage of this chance.

Of the faculty respondents, 64 per cent felt the program effective, 13 per cent neutral or undecided, 14 per cent ineffective, eight per cent very effective, and less than one per cent very ineffective.

About 54 per cent of the teachers felt modular scheduling was effective, 18 per cent neutral or undecided, 15 per cent ineffective, 11 per cent very effective, and two per cent very ineffective.

About 93 per cent of the faculty respondents said student behavior ranged from fair to good, with almost half reporting behavior good.

The best features of modular scheduling for teachers were: prepares for classes more effectively, 12 per cent; helps students individually, 53 per cent; plan and work better with other staff, 11 per cent; and offer more subjects, 21 per cent.

Fourteen per cent of the teachers reported students attended their classes more than 95 per cent of the time, 37 per cent reported attendance between 90-95 per cent of the time, 40 per cent between 80-90 per cent, and six per cent between 70-80 per cent.

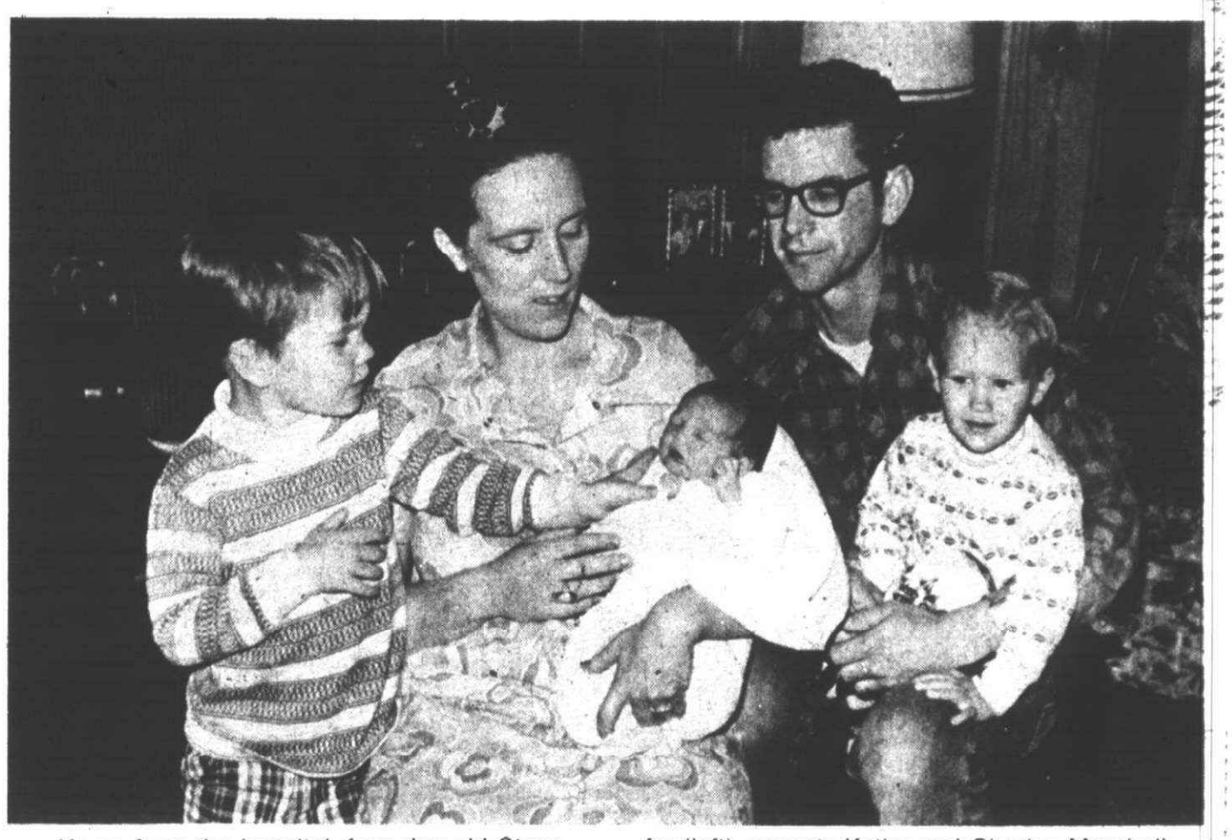

Of significance is that 43 per cent of faculty respondents felt the area coordinator plan was either a problem or a great problem with only 22 per cent seeing area coordinators as an asset. Some 35 per cent were neutral or undecided on this issue.

More than half of the teachers felt discipline procedures were a problem, with another 30 per cent seeing discipline procedures as a great problem.

When asked which were the most effective teaching styles, 36 per cent opted for small groups, 28 per cent for regular classes, 16 per cent for individual instruction, and 17 per cent opting for large groups.

On teachers, the report states: "Generally, the respondents strongly supported the concept of modular scheduling. None suggested that a traditional approach would be preferred. They cited the variety in the types of instruction and the opportunity for individual help as very important.

"Some suggested a modification of modular scheduling was needed to be more effective. Also, some suggested that the implementation of modular scheduling shouldn't be attempted without sufficient training and preparation."

Stacey Marshall debuts in front seat of family car

Stacy Lee Marshall wasn't expected to join her family until after Mothers Day, but she surprised them. She arrived at 1:35 a.m. Saturday, April 24 in the family car, 7½ miles west of Plymouth on the way to St. Josephs Hospital in Ann Arbor.

She gave her parents, Kathy and Charles Marshall of 11848 Morgan, Plymouth Township, about 15 minutes notice. When Kathy told her husband they weren't going to make it to St. Joes, he pulled the car off the road and in less than five minutes they were on their way again. Seven-pound Stacy was wrapped snuggly in her mother's housecoat. Her parents, to their own amazement, had remained perfectly calm and done all the right things.

"The doctor said he couldn't have done a better job himself," said Kathy. "We tied the cord, cleaned out her mouth—there was no labor at all."

CHARLES MARSHALL said he was a little gory when he arrived at the hospital. "They thought I had been in an accident. When I told them I had my wife and baby in the car they asked, 'How old is the baby?' I said, 'About four minutes.'"

Because the baby was not born in the hospital, she was taken to pediatrics where she was judged to be in perfect health. Mrs. Marshall was admitted to the seventh floor.

"I was up later Saturday morning and took the elevator down to see her," said Mrs. Marshall. "People would say, 'Are you the one who had her baby in the car?' The news traveled fast around the hospital."

"The doctors congratulated us on the way we handled things. It must just come natural—we didn't know what to do."

Her doctor decided she would get more rest at home—the trips from the seventh floor down to pediatrics were tiring. They came home Tuesday morning where Tracy was welcomed by two excited brothers, Jeffrey, 4, and Craig, 2.

Tax campaign planning begins

Planning for the campaign to pass the Plymouth Community Schools millage issue on the June 14 ballot has moved into full swing with the first meeting of the Citizens Election Committee.

Some difficult questions must be answered for committee members and the community to gain acceptance by voters of the need for 4.75 mills ($4.75 per $1,000 state equalized valuation) additional operating fund for the district in the 1976-77 school year, says Florence Beier, community relations director.

CO-CHAIRPERSONS of the committee, elected by the 14 persons attending the meeting, are Plymouth City Treasurer Kenneth E. Way and Nancy White. They will coordinate the efforts of parents, residents, teachers and administrators in a team approach.

Samuel Ulsaker, administrative assistant, and Mrs. Beier explained to the group the status of this year's budget, the alternative budgets before the school board for next year, and the tax deduction factor which lessens the effect of increased millage. They assured the group that publications and presentations will be available to make these complex factors as clear as possible.

The next meeting of the Citizens Election Committee will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 5, in the board room of the Administration Building, 454 S. Harvey in Plymouth. It is open to the public and any resident is welcome to attend.

Those attending the first meeting in addition to the chairpersons were: Melvin I. Blunk, Arelen A. Callahan, Barbara Castrodale, Stephen G. Harper, Peggy Fisher, Rosina S. Kaza, Alice E. Horstead, Judith A. Utermark, Lee Fidge, and Betty Hamann.

LWV hosts watershed show

On May 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the Canton Township firehall, Canton Center and Cherry Hill, the Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi chapter of the League of Women Voters will host a slide presentation entitled "The River Rouge, a Natural Resource."

The presentation will be for the benefit of the Canton Township board, planning commission, and Wayne County commissioner Royce Smith.

The public is also invited to attend.

Four years ago the league formed a Rouge Basin Committee comprised of representatives from league membership within the Rouge basin.

The league, a strong supporter of preserving the natural state of the river, is opposing channelization as a method of solving area water and sewage problems.

Towards that end, the league's Rouge Basin Committee is urging municipalities within the Rouge basin to form a watershed council, because any action taken on any part of the river affects all communities that comprise the basin.

Although a watershed council is a voluntary association of governments and has no powers to act by itself, it can be instrumental in gathering information and serving in an advisory capacity, furnishing membership municipalities with information about planned changes to the basin.

Among the points to be discussed on May 4, will be the benefits provided by a natural river, the role of a flood plain, channelization and other alterations of the Rouge, and the proposed channelization and extension of the Edward Hines portion of the basin in Dearborn.

Other groups, organizations, churches and individuals interested in viewing the slide show in the future should contact Lynne Goldsmith, Environmental Quality Chairperson of the league at 453-1664.

W-W kids improve in 2 areas

Results from the 1975-76 state assessment tests indicate that Wayne-Westland students are improving in reading and math skills.

"The percentage of youngsters achieving individual objectives on each test in both grades show a definite increase over last year," said a state assessment report written Wayne-Westland administrators.

The test, which is required for districts for special state funding, was administered to fourth and seventh graders in the district. All but nine students in the two grades were tested.

A summary of the test results shows fourth grade students scored higher this year than last on 18 reading objectives. There was a decrease on one objective.

In math, fourth grade students scored higher this year on 22 objectives and decreased in five objectives.

Seventh grade readers scored higher on 16 objectives this year and decreased in three.

In math, seventh graders scored higher this year on 33 objectives while declining on six objectives.

IN A DISCUSSION at last week's board meeting, Wayne-Westland administrators pointed out that the test performance is not compared or equated with the performance of other students. On the state test, pupils must answer correctly at least four of five test items to receive credit for the mastery of the objective.

While trustee William White said he felt a good number of students were doing well on the test, he also believed the district was "missing a significant portion" of students.

His remarks spurred rebuttal by reading coordinator Ron Somers and board president Thomas Barrett.

"In a way, students are getting the wrong test," Somers said. "The students may be performing well but at lower levels than this test demands."

"On this test we're saying it takes 80 per cent to pass. In my book, it takes a heckuva lot less to pass," Barrett said.

Cheske awarded 'outstanding' prize

The name of Canton resident Gerald Cheske has been selected for inclusion in the 1976 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America."

The program, sponsored by the United States Jaycees and other men's civic and service organizations, honors men between the ages of 21 and 36 for outstanding civic and professional contributions to their communities, state and nation.

Cheske, 35, of 43971 Arlington, has served on the Canton Board of Trustees for two years. He is chairman of the township's civil defense committee and a member of the township election committee. He currently represents Canton on the Intergovernmental Committee.

A graduate of Wayne State University with a bachelor's degree in mass communication, Cheske has served as contributing editor of AAA Motor News for the past seven years. He previously served as regional editor of the Muskegon Chronicle.

A resident of Canton for four years, Cheske and his wife, Cheryl, have one 2-year-old daughter, Christina.

item after a while. It's done mostly as a convenience for record keeping, and I think it's a good practice. We should be willing to stand by what we say, although I can understand in the case of a municipality or a township the incident of risk is higher."

Fred Yockey, City Manager of Plymouth said the commission didn't tape, but that when he worked in Midland, Michigan it did.

"It was piped right into the tape system and as far as I know they still do it. I guess the tapes become controversial when you have distrust of council or you have a lot of rezonings or you're part of a growing area."

McClendon honored

annually with special meetings called when needed.

DR. McCLENDON, born and raised in Oklahoma, earned a BS in physiology, speech and social studies from Oklahoma East Central State College and a master's in guidance and counseling and school health from University of Oklahoma.

His doctorate in curriculum development with a cognate in health education was earned from Wayne State University.

"Mac," as he is known to friends, has been a teacher, high school principal, director of secondary education, a curriculum director and deputy superintendent of schools.

He has directed a joint school health project for a state department of education and a state department of health. McClendon has been director of state health education, director of a tuberculosis association and an intermediate school district, and has taught teacher education classes in health and curriculum development at WSU, Eastern Michigan University, UM, Michigan State University, University of Wisconsin, and University of Oklahoma.

Besides membership in several state and national organizations, McClendon is involved in many church and civic groups. Among his professional activities has been membership on the Whitehouse Conference on Children, Governor's Comprehensive Health Planning Council, Governor's Task Force on Youth and Drugs.

He has authored or co-authored more than 30 articles plus contributing to more than 10 specific research studies. McClendon currently is directing research work at the master's and doctoral level at the University of Michigan.

The award presented by CMU cited McClendon "for his tremendous contributions to the total areas of health, which in turn have enriched the lives of school-age youngsters, parents, graduate students and faculty colleeagues within and without the State of Michigan."

Illegal dumping?

A Milford truck driver tried an unorthodox method of dumping a load of dirt when his truck collided with a vehicle driven by a Plymouth motorist. Wayne County Sheriff reported that about 4:05 p.m. Wednesday, April 28, William S. Slavens of Milford failed to stop while turning right unto Ann Arbor Road from southbound Beck in Plymouth Township. The Oldsmobile driven by Jane E. Finley of Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, struck the truck which rolled over ending up at the southwest shoulder of Ann Arbor Road. Slavens was injured slightly but declined treatment. (Photo by Kevin Miller)

SC millage needed to back operation of new buildings

By TIM RICHARD

Schoolcraft College's open admissions policy would be endangered and classroom supplies would continue to be under-funded unless voters June 14 approve a 0.53-mill property tax increase, say college trustees.

The board last week passed, by a 7-0 voice vote, a formal statement telling voters why it is seeking its second millage increase since the two-year community college was founded in 1964.

Treasurer Nancie Blatt said the millage is essentially for operating and not formally tied to a $10 million bond issue and construction program the board approved a month ago.

"We do not need this millage to build the buildings, but we would be foolish to build them if we didn't have the money to operate them," Mrs. Blatt said.

BOARD CHAIRMAN Paul Kadish said the full levy (equal to 53 cents per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) wouldn't be needed for operations immediately.

"But by 1980-81 we'll need every bit of this millage to operate these buildings," Kadish said. Meanwhile, the portion unneeded for operations will be used for debt retirement.

Voters in the Schoolcraft district approved one mill when the college was founded and raised the limitation to 1.77 mills in 1966. A millage proposal was defeated in 1971.

Trustee Gerald Cox called for "an aggressive campaign" to secure passage. A steering committee had met earlier in the week to map its plan for brochures, speakers and poll workers.

"THERE ARE REALLY 100 areas where we need money," said Kadish, "but these are the top 11," he said, referring to the text of the resolution. It said the increased funds would:

"1) Permit the continuation of present admissions policies and reduce the probability of further curtailment in enrollment." Schoolcraft admits any high school graduate, and a curtailment in enrollment could take such forms as early cutoff dates, fewer offerings or waiting lists.

"2) Restore classroom supplies and materials to the level essential for a quality instructional program.

"3) Allocate funds to replace original classroom and laboratory equipment as well as general equipment, thereby avoiding technological obsolescence.

"4) Purchase teaching aids and instructional equipment that has been deferred due to financial cutbacks.

"5) Enable the college to continue to allocate funds for the specific purpose of maintaining buildings and facilities to protect the taxpayers' investment.

"6) Permit the college to continue special services such as the Women's Resource Center, Child Care Center, Senior Adult Services and the Cultural and Public Affairs Series.

"7) Allow the college to keep its facilities such as the Physical Education Building, available for specialized community programs at nights and on weekends.

"8) Enable the college to fill current faculty and staff vacancies.

"9) Permit the continued use of off-campus instructional centers which have proven to be a convenience to many people.

"10) Insure the continuation of planned growth and expansion of programs and services to meet the needs of a rapidly growing student body and community.

"11) Maintain present tuition rates unless legislative action requies an increase."

BEGINNING THIS semester, Schoolcraft's tuition went up to $13 a credit hour for college district residents, $26 for other Michiganians and $39 for out-of-state students. Previous levels had been $11, $22 and $33.

Kadish said the tuition increases showed the board was using every possible means to raise revenue before going to property owners for more funds. While theoretically the board of trustees sets the tuition level, the legislature's manipulation of the state aid bill practically dictates tuition rates.

In related action, the board passed a resolution to borrow $600,000 in tax anticipato meet current expenses until state appropriations are received.

Chief reason: The state has changed the beginning of its fiscal year from July 1 to Oct. 1, and Schoolcraft's appropriation from July through September will be kept at the lower rate of the current fiscal year and not increased until October.

President C. Nelson Grote noted the college's cash flow position is declining steadily. The college was borrowing $300,000 in tax anticipation notes when he became president five years ago, and the amount is up $100,000 in just the last year.

Benefit book offered to vets

A 57-page booklet describing all of the federal benefits available to eligible veterans was issued this week by the government printing office in Washington, D.C.

Benefits listed include:

- Education.
- Pensions.
- Compensation.
- Widow's and children's benefits.
- Home loans.
- Burial benefits.
- Hospital usage.

Benefits, which vary for veterans who served in different wars, are explained in easy-to-read language.

Copies of the booklet are available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Veterans and other interested persons desiring to order the 95 cents booklet should order "Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents," stock number 051-000-00087-1.

CEP WATER WAVES

May 6, 7, 8—The Plymouth Centennial Educational Park's Water Waves production of "Give Our Regards to Broadway" will begin 8 p.m. May 6, 7, 8 in the Plymouth Salem High pool. Advance tickets from Water Waves members and from the high school athletic office at $1, or $1.25 at the door.

Tax campaign plan begins

Planning for the campaign to pass the Plymouth Community Schools millage issue on the June 14 ballot has moved into full swing with the first meeting of the Citizens Election Committee.

Some difficult questions must be answered for committee members and the community to gain acceptance by voters of the need for 4.75 mills ($4.75 per $1,000 state equalized valuation) additional operating fund for the district in the 1976-77 school year, says Florence Beier, community relations director.

CO-CHAIRPERSONS of the committee, elected by the 14 persons attending the meeting, are Plymouth City Treasurer Kenneth E. Way and Nancy White. They will coordinate the efforts of parents, residents, teachers and administrators in a team approach.

Samuel Ulsaker, administrative assistant, and Mrs. Beier explained to the group the status of this year's budget, the alternative budgets before the school board for next year, and the tax deduction factor which lessens the effect of increased millage. They assured the group that publications and presentations will be available to make these complex factors as clear as possible.

The next meeting of the Citizens Election Committee will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 5, in the board room of the Administration Building, 454 S. Harvey in Plymouth. It is open to the public and any resident is welcome to attend.

Those attending the first meeting in addition to the chairpersons were: Melvin I. Blunk, Arelen A. Callahan, Barbara Castrodale, Stephen G. Harper, Peggy Fisher, Rosina S. Kaza, Alice E. Horstead, Judith A. Utermark, Lee Fidge, and Betty Hamann.

Sandbox Fill is on May 15

If you have pulled your child's sandbox out of winter storage and haven't gotten it filled yet, circle May 15 on your calendar and place your orders now.

The Plymouth Area Jaycees is conducting its fourth annual Sandbox Fill on that date and will deliver to your home as much sand as you need.

Orders are now being taken for sand at $1 a wheelbarrow. The sand, pronounced safe for a child's sandbox, may also be used for other purposes such as filling in around a swimming pool, mixing with hard clay for gardening purposes, or other landscaping functions.

Whatever use you may have for sand, the $1 a wheelbarrow is probably the cheapest buy you can find anyplace—especially with free delivery as a bonus. To place your order before May 15 call either of the cochairmen—Don McDurmon at 453-0277 or Scott Nairn at 453-1228.

The Jaycees will deliver anywhere in the Plymouth-Canton-Livonia area. They have made arrangements for 75 tons of sand but can get more if the demand is there. There is no limit on the amount of sand ordered.

Proceeds from Sandbox Fill will be used by the Jaycees to finance community projects, such as the upcoming Bicentennial Fourth of July Parade.

SPECIAL CEP HOMEROOM

May 6—A special homeroom for CEP students at 10:30 a.m. will give students an opportunity to collect supplemental registration information and indicate added course selections available if the July 14 millage passes.

FIFE & DRUM CORPS

May 7—Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps will present a performance beginning at 8 p.m. in Redford Presbyterian Church, 17226 Redford Ave., one block west of Lahser and one block south of Grand River. Refreshments to be served. Reservations due by May 4 by calling KE5-2392.

BICENTENNIAL FAIR

May 7—The Bicentennial Fun Fair at Gallimore Elementary will be held from 5-9 p.m. There will be a spook house, cake walk, and other games and prizes for children. Other booths include a bake sale, plants, arts and crafts, old jewelry, a toy sale and a food booth.

CHURCH SALE

May 7, 8—The women of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church plan a rummage-bake sale from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Features include a snack bar and a $1 bag sale on Saturday from 2-4 p.m. Church is at 39020 Five Mile between Newburgh and Haggerty.

POPS CONCERT

May 8—Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's annual Pops Concert will begin at 8:30 p.m. in Pioneer Middle School. Tickets, priced at $3 for adults and $1.50 for students, include refreshments. Tickets are available at the Bed'N Stead in the Forest Mall in downtown Plymouth.

ALCOHOL AWARENESS

May 12—The second session in the Alcohol Awareness Program will begin at 8 p.m. in the 35th District Court, second floor of Plymouth City Hall, 201 S. Main. Dr. Frank Hollingsworth will speak on "Progression of Alcohol—Disease Concept." The program is sponsored by the 35th District Court and the Northville Jaycees.

TRASH & TREASURES

May 15—The Royaq Senior Citizens of Canton Township will hold a trash and treasurer rummage sale in observance of May, clean-up month. From 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. in Canton Recreation Center, corner of Sheldon and Michigan Avenue.

2 attending LWV confab

Two members of the League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novi are attending the national convention of the League now through May 7 in the New York Hilton Hotel in New York City.

Representing the local League are Annalee Mathes of Northville and Sally Posthill of Plymouth. Mrs. Mathews, League president, says the convention will not only include the selection of national officers and the two-year national program, but there also will be a number of special events, including a bylaw discussion on whether to change the League of Women Voters name in response to the 1974 convention decision to provide men with full voting membership in the League, discussions and speeches on International Women's Year, women's issues, the United Nations and problems of the cities.

'School is no place for discipline,' says UM psychologist

"The real crisis in our schools is not in reading or other academic skills," says a University of Michigan psychologist.

"The crisis is in attitudes, social relationships and our concern for each other."

According to Prof. William C. Morse, the schools' role has changed drastically.

"Traditionally, schools were seen as the source of all important learning, the gateway to a good future. These beliefs allowed schools to become alienated from the students and often arrogant in function."

Morse says the mass media teaches children as much, or more than school. The schools' new key function is to help youths become part of a productive society, contends Morse.

Morse's essay on school discipline is featured in a new book, "Student Behavior: Rights and Responsibilities and the Fair Administration of Discipline," available from the UM Program for Educational Opportunity (PEO), 1046 School of Education Building, Ann Arbor 48109.

"There is no place for the term 'discipline' in schools in the traditional use of the word," contends Morse. "We interpret 'fair discipline' as a high quality process of socialization.

"This function is now shared by the school. Schools sometimes act as if they believe in the death penalty. They expel and punish. Exclusion is seldom an effective learning experience."

Morse says teachers are the only trained professionals with whom the child may interact, since no training is required for parenthood.

"We must be aware of conditions in each classroom and in each whole school," says Morse. "In general, 85 per cent of our children should move along with normal growth patterns; 12 per cent will have crises with various complications and three per cent will need intensive support," he said.

Morse said that the basic right of students and teachers is the right to rescue. Special services must be re-aligned to take care of both chronic problems and crises.

He recommended the explicit development of the affective aspects of the curriculum, especially to fortify the 85 per cent who are making normal progress.

"Beyond the legal question of rules and due process is the psychological question of how we can better learn to live together, no matter what our age," said Morse. "That is the real interpretation of the fair administration of discipline."

Fisher, McKeon serve Realtors

Harold Fisher and Jim McKeon, two local Realtors, are serving in leadership positions for the United Northwest Realtors Association (UNRA).

Fisher is co-chairman of the program committee which is responsible for keeping real estate brokers and sales associates abreast of the latest events in the real estate field.

McKeon is chairman of the education committee and also a director of the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors. He is responsible for the continuing education of brokers and sales associates.

MERIT!

'Enriched Flavor'™ process prompts unprecedented response to taste of new low tar MERIT.

Smokers are talking about a new kind of cigarette.

It's MERIT. The remarkable new low tar cigarette made with the 'Enriched Flavor.'™ process.

MERIT has only 9 mg. tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today. Yet, taste tests proved that MERIT delivers as much—or more—flavor than cigarettes having up to 60% more tar.

If you smoke, you'll be interested in what people like yourself are writing to us about MERIT.

"You can be proud of your new Merit cigarettes. They are the first and only low tar brand that doesn't taste like so much hot air."

—Burl Barer
Bellevue, Washington

"Merit is the best yet—it hit my taste buds perfectly!"

—Ernest Walters
Lutherville, Maryland

"Whoever finally came up with the cigarette is a genius. Thanks again, all your effort was worth it!!!!!!"

—Mrs. Christine Buczak
New York, New York

"Try a Merit and you'll want to share it."

—Mrs. Sue Theriot
Indianapolis, Indiana

"Thanks to all of you for discovering 'enriched flavor!"

—Sheldon M. Weisman
Dallas, Texas

"As far as I'm concerned, Merit has them all beat for taste and flavor....It puts all other low tar and nicotine cigarettes to shame."

—Nicholas J. Materia
Newark, New Jersey

"It's very seldom that a product really impresses me, but Merit filters are great."

—Skip Anderson
Millstadt, Illinois

"The eight friends I have introduced to MERIT have asked me to include their thanks for your new product."

—Paul J. Weiss
Long Island City, New York

"Merit should be called the T.T.T. Cigarette (True Tobacco Taste)."

—J. W. McLeod
Manning, South Carolina

"Low tar cigarettes were out of the question, had tried 'em, and, as far as I was concerned, they were a smoker's joke. And along came Merit."

—Ms. Christie Pavoni
Memphis, Tennessee

"Today a friend handed me a complimentary pack of Merit. I'm delighted!"

—Carolyn Perdue
North Miami Beach, Florida

"I've tried all the low tar and nicotine cigarettes without finding a winner, until now....MERIT is definitely a winner."

—Mr. Raymond L. Rubin
Milwaukee, Wisconsin

"Finally, a good tasting cigarette low in tar and nicotine. And you feel like you're smoking something besides air."

—Susan Wilmington
Chicago, Illinois

"Finally someone has made a low tar and nicotine cigarette that is really good."

—Ms. Joan Connelly
Livonia, Michigan

"MERIT Menthols provide a very satisfying taste and I am sure I will be smoking this brand from now on."

—Mrs. Margaret Hargan
Memphis, Tennessee

"Three cheers for Merit! I don't know how you did it, but congratulations."

—Mrs. Samuel Garre III
Barrington, Illinois

"I've tried other low tar brands as they came on the market, but they all lacked something. Merit has that something the others lacked."

—G. E. Noble
Orlando, Florida

"Keep up the good work. A good slogan for MERIT might be 'do yourself a favor while lighting up enriched flavor'."

—Norris E. Rawhouser
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Pierce wants more for women workers

Ed Pierce, MD, Democratic candidate for 2d District congressman, told voters in Livonia last week that "a lack of earning power is the toughest problem faced by women today."

He said that the federal census study of women's salaries showed that in 1974 the median earning power for women was $6,772 compared to $11,835 for men.

"The fact that the median earning power of women was only 56 per cent of that for men reinforces my belief that this is the most important issue which the women's movement has raised in this country," Pierce said in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Douglas of 9818 Shadyside, Livonia.

"In my own family medical practice, I have found that women who are heads of single-parent households are the persons hardest hit by the inflation and economic slump of the past few years because of their very low level of earning power," he said.

Pierce operates the Summit Medical Center in Ann Arbor, a facility serving low-income families.

He said the current administration hasn't been sensitive to the economic needs of women.

"The key area in which the federal government needs to become more responsive to the problems of women is in enforcement of programs that insure that women have equal economic opportunity and equal pay for the work they do," Pierce said. "I will work in Congress to see that such programs are given more than mere lip service."

MARTIN'S

Your baby's first shoes are very important.
At Stride Rite, we've developed Progression Fitting® to provide children with shoes designed for different stages of foot development and walking ability.
We begin with Stride Rite Firsties® for babies who are just learning to stand. These are followed by Intermediates® for babies who are beginning to walk by themselves. Then, Advanced Walkers® for children, who are actively walking. Each Stride Rite shoe provides the right blend of support and flexibility to help children learn to walk.
And each pair of Stride Rite shoes is carefully fitted by a children's shoe specialist. What's more, your Stride Rite store keeps records of your child's foot measurements and notifies you when it's time for a size check-up.
Start your baby off right with Progression Fitting® by Stride Rite.
"I really feel confident that with Stride Rite shoes my children are getting the proper fit and the support they need from the beginning."

In The Pocket

By W. W. EDGAR

THESE ARE WILD days along the entire bowling front, as the all-star teams are in the open market, seeking talent to improve their ratings for next season.

This is especially true in the All-Star Classic in the "home" and "traveling" sections, as both are in a dither to make stronger bids for the title.

In the women's leagues, much of the talent hunt has been brought about by the Ladies Major League switch of "home" lanes from Pine Tree Bowl on the west side to Luxury Lanes on the east side.

The girls claim that the 9:30 p.m. starting is much too late and the west siders—among them Ann Setlock, the former bowling queen—are leaving the league.

Among the new women's teams will be one being put together by Mary Mohacsi, another former queen, and Bonnie Barnes, and they hope to make a strong bid for the title.

On the men's side, the Stroh team, the top squad for years, had a rather poor season and now is undergoing rebuilding. The brewers picked up Bob Chamberlain and Rocky Graziano to bolster the lineup and the Bonanza team, Mike Samaradja and Ted Bakatelos.

HANK GNIEWEK, who recently was named Bowling's Man of the Year in the metropolitan Detroit area, now is starting to collect rewards for sponsoring so many teams in the area.

The most recent came in the Wonderland Classic where his team, captained by Marty Nadler, averaged 960 and captured the title in some of the stiffest competition in the area.

Jerry Horlstedt topped the individual averages with a 207, but the real story of the average-battle concerns two old timers—Dick Preston and Fred Ringrose. They tied for second place with averages of 206.

ANOTHER CLOSE race for averages came in the Bowlerettes, where Penny Behn and Kathy Haislip, two of the youngest members, were less than one pin apart after 81 games. Penny was out in front with 195.49 and Kathy was proud of her mark of 195.41. This is one of the closest races in the history of the league.

THEY'RE WRITING a new page in the history of women's bowling at Westland Bowl where 40 teams already have signed for a Wednesday night league during the summer. Still looking for teams, this circuit could be the largest of its kind in the state.

IN THE LATEST issue of the ABC magazine, one of the best oddities of the year was told. It concerned a bowler in Ohio who finished the season with a 208 average—and had not bowled a 600 series.

How could he do it?

According to the ABC he had a half dozen series above 700 and was in the high 190's the rest of the way.

BOB CRAWFORD was the man of the week at Plaza Lanes—and for a good reason. Bowling with the senior citizens, where he carries a 126 average, he put together games of 188, 165 and 146 for a 499 series which is 121 pins over his average.

THE SENIOR CITIZENS are planning big things at Plymouth Bowl for the coming season. Already they have plans for a 16-team league and may go even higher.

AND AT MAYFLOER LANES, the mixed leagues already are filled for the summer. So, it looks like a great summer.

THE LARGEST WOMEN'S tournament, aside from that sponsored by the Detroit Women's Bowling Association, got under way at Fred Wolf's Eastland Bowl last Saturday. It will run through June 27. It annually attracts a large field. It is a five-game competition with a 70 per cent handicap and was won last year by Helen Clark, of Inkster with a 1093 total. That gave her the pace making role in a field of 1,600 ladies.

THE DOORS to the 700 club at Garden Lanes were opened this week to admit two new members.

Bill Mull was the first with a 709 to lead the Classic and Al Mc Neal, of the Wayne County League, posted a 703.

In the Classic, others with high series included Gordy Cantwell with 698, Jim Mazie with 691, Ed Margaolski with 669 and Al Massecar with 646.

RON MARGOSIAVI was the big gun in the Classic at Bel-Aire.

He linked games of 237, 214 and 212 for a 663. His closest rivals were George Simmers with 639, Craig Tircott with 630 and Chuck Berger had a 255 for high single-game honors.

Canton's Steve Dugan, a fine bunter, ripped a triple to aid the cause Friday.

Behind Perkins, Parson

Chiefs nip Mott, Mustangs

By BILL COLLINS

Plymouth Canton began its Western Six Conference title defense last week by squeezing out a pair of one-run victories over Northville and Waterford Mott, thanks to masterful pitching by Bill Parson and Mark Perkins who allowed six hits in the two contests and no earned runs.

On Wednesday afternoon Bill Parson moved back into what looked to be midseason form as the senior right hander struckout 14, and was reached for only three singles in the Chiefs 2-1 nine-innings victory over Waterford Mott.

Canton scored its first run in the top half of the first inning when Scott Collins singled, Dave Ost grounded into a fielders choice, and John Young brought home Ost on a base hit.

While Parson was sending frustrated Mott hitters back to the bench, Canton's bats remained silent as Parson labored with the precarious lead until the fourth inning.

The Corsairs evened the score on an unearned run in the fourth frame.

TIM MIKAL reached base on a throwing error and two pitches later stole second base. Ted Conarty made it 1-1 with a single to centerfield as Mikal scored what was Mott's only run of the game.

After the battle had gone one extra frame, Canton produced a run in the ninth inning when they parlayed a walk to Steve Morman, a sacrifice by Dave Pink and a clutch single by Kevin Randazzo into their first league triumph.

"Bill threw the ball like he knows he can. He did an excellent job and I was pleased with his poise under the circumstances," commented a Canton coach.

"I was not pleased about the fact that we are not hitting the ball the way we should be, but at least we're not striking out many times. If we keep making contact at the plate the ball is going to drop sooner or later," he added.

Friday afternoon the Chiefs needed every inning of the shutout baseball hulred by Mark Perkins as Canton notched an unearned run in the sixth inning to nip Northville 1-0.

Five new faces appeared in the Chief lineup.

"We have 18 players on our team and they all have to be able to play. They all must develop confidence of being able to play early in the season," said a coach.

The Chiefs were guilty of three errors in the game but had no trouble making the key defensive play when it was needed.

Rob Mandle threw out a runner with a man on third base in the first inning by going deep into the hole at shortstop.

With two men on base in the sixth inning, centerfielder Mike Sochacki made a fine catch on a sinking line drive.

Mandle and Morman drew back-to-back walks. On a wild pitch the Mustang catcher Larry Patey threw wide of the bag at third in trying to erase Mandle. When the ball rolled past the left fielder, Mandle trotted home with the Chiefs winning run.

Perkins won his second game in two starts and lowered his earned run average to 1.65 while striking out seven and walking one.

"Mark pitched an excellent game, he kept the ball down and around the plate," said a coach.

Canton is now 2-0 in conference action, and 7-2 overall pending the outcome of its scheduled double header with Livonia Franklin Saturday afternoon.

Starting designated hitter John Young was on crutches Friday with the torn cartilage in his knee. It is uncertain how long he'll be able to play before undergoing surgery for removal of the cartilage. He is expected to be able to hit, but will be unable to work his spot in the pitching rotation which is a severe blow to the Canton cause considering that Young was 2-0 before his injury.

Canton takes to its home field once again this afternoon at 4 p.m. against Livonia Churchill in a Western Six conference game.

Rock bats light up Dearborn, 9-2

By BILL COLLINS

Plymouth Salem ran its Suburban Eight baseball record to 5-0 Friday afternoon by walloping Dearborn High 9-2 as the state's top-ranked ball club wrapped out 10 hit to continuing their torrid batting.

Salem used the combined pitching of John DenHouter and Brian Wolcott to push its overall record to 8-2 on the eve of a league showdown tomorrow with Livonia Bentley which is also 5-0.

"Up to this point in the season we've really been hitting the ball," said Salem Coach Brian Gilles. The Rocks are hitting .331 as a team through 10 games and have averaged six runs per game, in addition to having several hitters on the club with .300 batting averages.

The Rocks constructed a huge lead in the first three innings that the Pioneers were unable to tear down as Salem tallied eight runs before Dearborn was able to score.

Brian Wolcott got things underway in the first inning by reaching first on a fielder's choice, stealing second base and scoring on a single by Charlie Johnson. Johnson entered the game with a sizzling .457 batting mark and a slugging percentage over .900. His single in the first inning brought home his 11th run batted in of the season.

Salem struck for three more in the following frame. The Rocks loaded the bases on a single by Bob Smith and walks to Bruce Gerish and Pat McKendrie.

Dave Pierce singled home two runs and Wolcott made it 5-0 with a sacrifice fly that scored McKendrie. Pierce, a senior second basemen, upped his average over the .350 mark with a pair of hits, three rbi's and he also scored three runs. Wolcott, another .300 hitter, also batted home three runs.

Salem increased its margin by three runs in the third inning. Mitch Symons and Gerish drew walks while Smith reached base on a error by the shrtstop.

McKendrie made it 6-0 with an infield single, Pierce moved the count to 7-0 on a fielder's choice, and Wolcott hit into another fielder's choice to score Gerish concluding the scoring in that frame.

Dearborn scored one run off of Wolcott in the fourth winning when Steve McDonald tripled to right field and scored when the relay throw to third base was wild. McDonald also singled home the Pioneers other run in the sixth after a walk and a single.

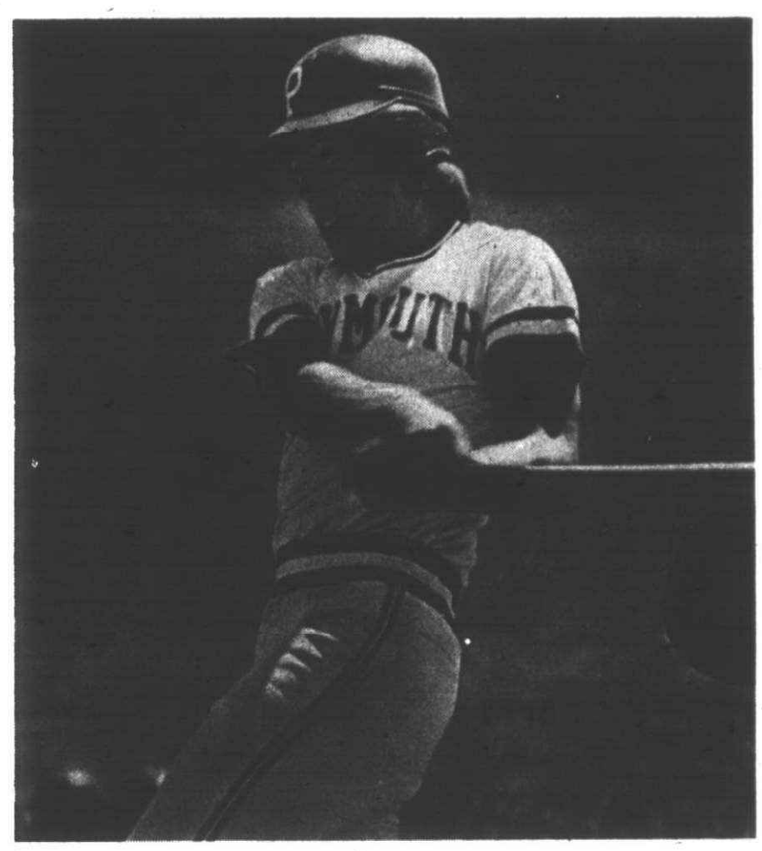

Wolcott pitched four innings Friday and was given credit for another victory as he upped his record to 7-0, the best of any pitcher in the state. He struck out three walked one and limited Dearborn to three hits.

John DenHouter appeared in relief and in the words of coach Gilles performed splendidly.

"I'm not going to hesitate to use him at all. He puts the ball over the plate, and when we get a four or five run lead he's always good for a few innings," said Gilles.

DenHouter threw 38 pitches in the three innings he worked and 29 of those tosses were strikes. He also struck out five and allowed only two hits.

Salem has been searching for a consistent starting pitcher besides Wolcott and Gilles was encouraged by DenHouter's showing.

Rocks edged by Pioneer netmen

Unable to snap their nagging four-match losing streak, the racquetmen of Plymouth Salem fell to Dearborn Thursday, 4-3. The Rocks now stand at 1-5.

At first singles for Salem, Ken Bloom shut out his rival, 6-0, 6-0. Coach Jim Stevens commented, "Kenny was incredibly consistent and with his constantly deep, baseline drives, he played flawless tennis. It was definitely his finest match in four years at Salem."

Returning to the lineup successfully, Curt Schultz downed his second singles rival in straight sets, 6-0, 6-3.

Rounding out Salem's winners was the "consistently strong" third doubles duo of Curt Lewis and Craig Stevens, 6-2, 6-4.

Dropping to 2-4, Bill Cook could not overcome this third singles opponent, losing 6-2, 6-3. Still striving for this first win, Steve Nickoloff lost at fourth singles, 6-0, 6-3.

The first doubles combination of Jeff Bearup and Chris Saxton were also double set victims, 6-4, 6-1. After two season-opening triumphs, the freshman combination of Ed Thomas and Bob Braun dropped its fourth consecutive duel, 6-2, 6-4.

Hoping to rebound into the victory column and rearrange its luck, Salem heads into three matches this week, at home on Monday and Thursday against Novi and Allen Park.

Chiefs squeak by Northville, 12-11

Canton girls' softball team came from behind to grab its first league victory Thursday, a 12-11 win over Northville.

Stolen bases dominated the Chiefs' action in the second inning. Kathy Sochacki singled and stole second. Lucy Howe walked to first, stole second forcing Sochacki to steal third. Sochacki was the first to cross the plate, scoring on a passed ball.

Sue Lindsay singled in a run, Kathy Peck walked and Jan Haarer singled in two runs.

In the third inning Kim Zoladz doubled and Sochacki singled, bringing in Zoladz to score.

After trailing by three runs, in the fourth inning the Chiefs closed the gap to one. Kathy Verduce singled, stole second and scored on Cingdy Krieg's single. Krieg followed Verduce's lead by stealing second and scoring on Zoladz's single.

In the fifth, both teams scored twice.

With runners at second and third, Verduce blasted a single driving in Sochacki and Kim Clarke to score.

The Chiefs' threat became real in the bottom of the sixth when Canton overtook Northville to grab a one-run advantage and win the game.

Errors betrayed the Mustangs and enabled the Chiefs' runners to jam the bases. Canton pinchhitter Laurie Beck ripped a double, driving in two additional runs for the win.

Canton's Lucy Howe was the winning pitcher, her first win of the season. The Chiefs totaled 12 hits to Northville Mustangs 15.

"The girls stayed in there until the end to come from behind and win the game," Chiefs' coach, Joan Ryan said.

Despite cold weather last Tuesday, the Chiefs played their first league game against Waterford Mott losing in a 15-7 contest.

Rocks' track girls overrun Dearborn

A powerful exhibition of depth and blossoming talent propelled Plymouth Salem's girls track team to a runaway 68-46 triumph over Dearborn Wednesday, as the lady Rocks evened their dual meet record at 1-1.

"Our runners were awfully good and did an excellent job fighting off Dearborn's best," said winning coach Fred Thomann.

The Rocks swept the first three positions in the mile and 880-yard runs and the 440-yard dash, while capturing first places in four of the other seven running events.

The standout Salem trio running the 440 included Polly Richards in the winning time of 1:07, Linda Agardy finishing second and Julie Milz copping third place.

Knocking Dearborn out of the points in the 880 and separated by only 3.5 seconds were Sandy Ezzo, Sue Stanwood and Laura Atwood. Ezzo's time was 2:44.5.

Accomplishing the identical triple sweep for the Rocks in the mile event were winner Carol Crissey, clocked in 6:17.9, Sara Marks and Cheri Leville.

Jean Sellman, a second-place finisher in the 220-yard dash in Salem's opening meet, improved her time to 28.0 seconds and her position to first against Dearborn. Dana Worsnop, at 29.2 placed third for the Rocks.

JoAnn Langkable ran well in the 100-yard dash, placing first in 12.1 seconds.

Salem's 880-and mile-relay teams remained upbeaten, dropping Dearborn. The 880-relay, composed of Carol Simonetti, Richards, Sellman and Langkable broke the tape in 1:53.5. The Rocks' mile quartet of Simonetti, Langkable, Ezzo and Milz won in 4:36.4.

"Without a couple of bad exchanges, we would have also won the 440-yard relay," lamented coach Thomann; but Worsnop, Sellman, Richards and Agardy placed second in 55.0 seconds.

Salem's Patrice Cunningham and Clarisse Hartnett ranked second and third in the 110-yard hurdles event.

Placing third, Sue Busha was the Rocks' highest finisher in the two-mile event.

Indicative of Salem's "great improvement in the field events," Agardy high jumped four feet six inches to capture that event. Sellman tied for second.

Deadlocked in third place for Salem but eclipsing the 15-foot mark for the first time in the long jump were Lisa Morris and Langkable at 15 feet ¾ inch.

Salem's Clarisse Hartnett and Sharon Radionoff placed second and third in the shotput and Marks copped a runner-up spot in the discus event.

Possibly downplaying the victory in an effort to avoid the encroachment of overconfidence, Thomann stated, "I'm real pleased with our team, but remember, Dearborn is a first-year squad and this was its first meet.

Canton girls fall to GC East

Improving rapidly but falling short of victory, Plymouth Canton's girls track team dropped a narrow 61½-52½ decision Thursday to Garden City East.

"Our times are coming down consistently," Canton coach Barbara Winn said. We juggled our lineup to our advantage in this meet, but we drastically messed up the field events and I think that was the difference in the meet."

Highlighting the Chiefs' fortunes against Garden City were first-place sweep of the 880-yard, the 440-yard and the mile relays. With a winning time of 1:54.4, the quartet of Meaghan Ford, Lynne Bigelow, Robin Radoye and Veronica Gray outdistanced its 880-yard relay opponent.

Duplicating the feat of victory for Canton in the 440-yard relay, in 54.5 seconds, were Ford, Radoye, Gray and freshman Jennifer Tregembo. Crossing the finish line first in the mile relay, the Canton contingent of Bigelow, Karen Sweeney, Sherry Gates and Beth Richardson, clocked a 4:45.1.

Running the 440-yard dash for the first time in competition, Tregembo won a superb race in 1:05.7. Richardson captured second in 1:06.5.

The versatile Gray finished first in the 220 yard dash in 27.3 seconds and fashioned a first place in the high jump, leaping four feet eight inches.

In the 880-yard run, Sherry Gates, who is "doing a sensational job" and Sweeney finished second and third, Kathy Gladden and Lynne Rudolph mimicked these placements in the mile run, as did Anne Lattin and Linda Thomas in the two-mile run.

Besides Gray's high jump victory, Salem collapsed in the field events, capturing only two third places in the four events, Liz Norton long jumped 14 feet four inches for third place and Bigelow grabbed a third in the high jump, clearing four feet two inches.

Dawn Oakley created a school record in the shotput with a toss of 28 feet 5½ inches, but did not place.

The Chiefs, now 0-2, continue their quest for victory number one Wednesday at home against Northville.

Canton netters nicked by Mott

Opening its Western-6 conference schedule with another agonizingly close defeat, Plymouth Canton's tennis squad, now 0-4, tumbled Wednesday to Waterford Mott, 4-3½. Three of Canton's four losses have been by one point or less.

Habitual as night and day, Steve Prueter triumphed over his first singles opponent, 5-7, 6-0, 75.

"Steve played a bit inconsistently, but with the velocity of his shots and his devastating serve, he didn't allow his opponent much room for error," analyzed Canton coach Jim Hayes.

The Chiefs' first doubles team of Paul Ardonowski and Tim Wise mechanically disposed of its foe, 6-3, 6-1, improving its season record to 2-2.

Don Faulkerson and Dan Schmidt surrendered only three games for Canton in cruising to a 6-2, 6-1 third doubles victory.

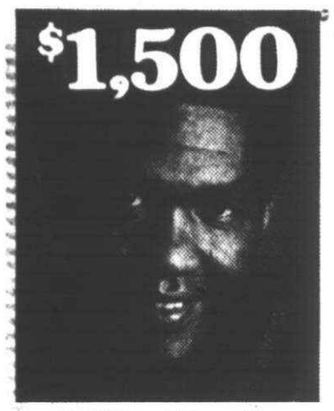

Now 1-3 for the season, Canton's Steve Pasley dropped a 6-2, 6-0 decision to Leif Nelson at second singles. John Herron, even at 2-2 at third singles, followed in defeat, 6-4, 6-1.

Stuart Sobczynski rounded out Canton's singles efforts, losing to Tim Keys, 6-4, 6-1.

At second doubles, Don Perchard and Matt Norris encountered an unsuccessful debut on the varsity level, falling 7-5, 6-2. Hayes continues experimenting in the doubles category, searching for a profitable combination.

Canton's racquetmen resume conference activity at home Friday against Northville. As Hayes said, "We're going to continue to show up in a competing mood for our matches."

FOR THOSE WHO asked, here is the recipe for the punch served at the 30th anniversary reception of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra: two cans of pineapple juice, three bottles of ginger ale, topped by scoops of lime sherbet.

Fran Lang says you can replace part of the ginger ale with some other beverage, depending on the age and tastes of your guests.

THREE SESSIONS concerning "How to Survive Being a Parent" are being led by the Rev. Fred Prezioso, of Epiphany Lutheran Church in Northville Township. Discussion series will focus on the issues the participants bring to the group. For information call Pastor Prezioso at his home, 41339 Greenbriar Lane (453-1191) or at the church, 41390 Five Mile Road (453-8807).

WHEN KEUM JA KIM auditioned for Conductor Wayne Dunlap a month ago, the conductor of the Plymouth Symphony was immediately impressed. In fact she hadn't completed her performance when he asked, "Are you available May 8?"

She was engaged, on the spot, as guest soloist for the annual pops concert.

ANN ARBOR WOMEN'S City Club will sponsor its 24th annual home tour from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, May 7.

No reservations are necessary and lunch will be available at the City Club on the day of the tour. Tickets at $3 may be purchased at the homes on the day of the tour. For information call Mrs. Otto Haisley, 662-0405.

Homes included on the tour are a second and third floor apartment in the rejuvenated Haarer building; two modern townhouse apartments above the law offices of Meade, McGill, Rumsey & DeLoof, another example of downtown revitalization; identical condominiums on a lake with different treatments; and a home on a scenic strip of Huron River property with hanging plants and a fine collection of contemporary paintings, graphics, kinetic sculpture and aesthetic objects from many lands.

Guests will visit a townhouse in which three rooms adjoin an atrium and features a wide use of velvet in draperies, bedspread and upholstery. There also is a home designed to meet the needs of an active family with antique furniture and a cherry-paneled den which opens into a greenhouse.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for Ilse Reichle who graduated from Schoolcraft Community College with an associate degree in nursing. Few graduates have so many friends sharing their joy.

Those who have known and grown to love Ilse since she came to this country in 1958, unable to speak one word of English, took personal satisfaction and pride in her accomplishment.

CARLA J. UPTON, a sophomore at University of Michigan School of Music, was recognized at a recent honors assembly where she was awarded a Pi Kappa Lamba certificate of honor and a Mu Phi Epsilon Scholarship.

Parents of the young pianist are Mr. and Mrs. William Upton of Carol Street in Plymouth.

POLICING a city like Plymouth in the late 20th century involves coping with everything from first degree murder to parking tickets. But then there are the sensitive handlings of situations which could happen only in a community which retains its respect for the individual.

An elderly gentleman, confused, disoriented, with his car parked too far from the curb, could be exposed to unpleasant treatment in some districts. Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson and a young patrolman solved the problem with dignity and perceptiveness when they arranged to have him driven home in his own car.

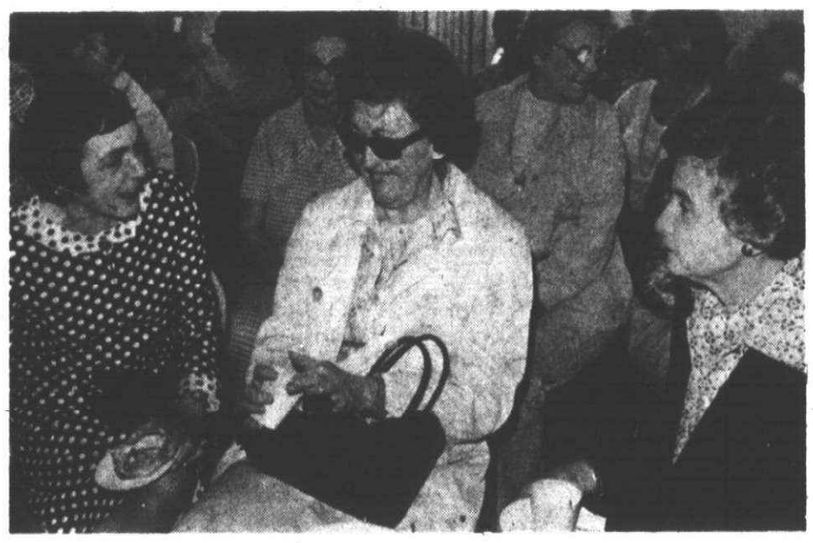

This is just one isolated incident—there are many more that no one ever hears about unless they are personally involved, or read the police log.

THE 30TH ANNUAL water color exhibition of the Michigan Water Color Society opened April 21 in the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Igor Beginin of Plymouth is chairman of the board of directors of the society. Johnnie Crosby's "Homage to American Indians" was accepted for the exhibit which will run until May 23.

Annual cabaret concert May 8

Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's annual pop concert will salute Spirit '76 Saturday, May 8 at 8:30 p.m. in Pioneer Middle School on Ann Arbor Road.

Conductor Wayne Dunlap has planned the program to include selections from Strauss, Victor Herbert, "Fiddler on the Roof," "Civil War Fantasy," "Boston Pops March," "Blue Hawaii," and "Holiday for Trombones." The concert will conclude with a Gay '90s singalong.

Soloist for the evening will be Keum Ja Kim, former soloist with the Korean Children's Choir, who is a graduate of Interlochen Arts Academy, and has bachelors and masters degrees from the University of Michigan School of Music.

The lyric coloratura sang the lead in many opera productions at UM. Her roles included Monica in Menotti's "The Medium," Lauretta in Puccini's "Giani Schichi," Papagena in Mozart's "The Magic Flute," Genevieve in Puccini's "Sister Angelica," Constanza in Mozart's "The Abduction of Seraglio," Olympia in Offenbach's "The Tales of Hoffman," and Susana in Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro."

She was second-place winner in Grinnells' operatic competition of 1975.

MEMBERS OF the Crescendo group of the Plymouth Symphony League are planning the event under the chairmanship of Linda Leavitt who has been assisted by Arlene Campbell.

Guests will be seated cabaret-style at tables for groups of four to eight. Refreshments will be provided.

Reservations are available at Bed 'N Stead in the Forest Place Mall. Tickets are $3 for adults and $1.50 for students.

The pop concert is the final performance of the symphony for the 1975-76 season. Members of the orchestra traditionally wear costumes they deem appropriate for the theme of the concert. Over the years they have switched from formal concert attire to everything from gypsies, sailors and sea captains to clowns.

KEUM JA KIM

Plymouth Symphony League members Arlene Campbell (left) and Linda Leavitt finalize plans for the annual pop concert Saturday, May 8 at 8:30 p.m. in Pioneer Middle School. Theme for the concert, which tradionally marks the end of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's season, is Spirit '76.

Kay Wood, president of the Plymouth Woman's Club, welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Earl West to the continental breakfast in the Masonic Temple.

Ladies (and men) enjoy club's breakfast theater

The Plymouth Woman's Club annual breakfast theater last Thursday morning attracted several hundred women and about two dozen men. After a continental breakfast in the Masonic Temple on Penniman Avenue, "Singin' in the Rain," a musical from the 40s, was shown in the Penn Theater.

Club President Kay Wood said proceeds of the benefit would fund two scholarships for high school senior girls, sponsor a student at girls' state, and assist local service organizations and projects.

Betty Koch, first vice-president of the club, was chairperson of the event and, according to tradition, first-year members served on her committee.

They were Gladys Harper, Julie McGuire, Emma May Philips, Dorothy McGettigan, Joyce Dunn, Leone Bennett, Rita Tuohy, Martha Dixon, Mae Lundin, Audrey Cunningham and Dottie McIntyre.

Winners of the scholarships and girls' state candidate will be announced at the club's salad luncheon Friday, May 7 in St. John Episcopal Church.

Scout leaders need uniforms

Leaders of Senior Girl Scout Troop 501 are in need of adult dress uniforms for an international scouting event this summer, June 16 to July 6, when they travel to the Chalet in Switzerland. Used uniforms, sizes 12, 14 and 16, are needed. Anyone with an available uniform is asked to call Lorraine Hurtik, 1366 Hartsough, 453-7595.

The members of the troop are earning their own money to finance the trip. They are willing to help with babysitting, spring cleaning, window washing or any kind of yard work. Those having work for the girls should call Mrs. Haurtik.

Mother-daughter banquet

Janet Thomas and daughter Joette.

Grandmothers, mothers, daughters and granddaughters were guests of honor at the recent mother-daughter banquet in First United Methodist Church of Plymouth on North Territorial Road. Their waiters and cooks were beaming fathers and grandfathers who served the family-style chicken dinner. Happy clown centerpieces were made by a crafts group chaired by Janet Thomas and Dorothy Oyen. Melba Barker was chairperson of the event. Betty McCully, president of United Methodist Women, had her own three-generation group. They were (from left, standing) Mrs. McCully, daughters Leah McCully and Janet Haarbauer holding granddaughter Megan; seated are granddaughter and daughter, Sue and Jennifer Christenson. Free cancer forum at Schoolcraft

Many things you should know about breast cancer and maybe even a few you've been afraid to ask about will be included in a three-part cancer forum beginning Tuesday, May 4 in Schoolcraft College's Waterman Campus Center.

The free public series, which includes films and lectures at 8 p.m. May 4 and 11, and a teach-in on self examination of breasts for three hours, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, May 15, is being coordinated by Sylvia Larkin of the Northwest County chapter, National Organization for Women (NOW).

Sharing the NOW unit sponsorship of the detailed forum will be Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center and the American Cancer Society.

Two physicians who work with the society, Dr. Susan Harold of Ann Arbor and Dr. Vincent Gallant of Detroit, will lecture and comment on new films on cancer during the first two sessions. Question-and-answer periods are planned for both evenings.

The third, to be held on the lower level at Waterman, will involve individual breast examinations by physicians from the staff of Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills. The examinations will be free.

Women will be asked at the second session to sign up for Saturday appointments.

"We hope women will sign up or telephone for an appointment," said Mrs. Karkin. "We want to reach as many as possible, but with the facilities we have, we can't accommodate more than 200."

Appointments also can be made by calling S.M. Stuart, 38670 Silken Glen, Northville.

Schoenheide-Ranier

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Schoenheide Sr. of Joy Road, Westland, announce the engagement of their daughter Cheryl Ann to David John Ranier, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ranier of Milburn Street, Westland.

The bride-elect is a junior at Franklin High School. Her fiance is a Franklin graduate now serving in the U.S. Navy.

No wedding date has been set.

Egan-Jarrell

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Egan of Burroughs Street, Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter Kara Jean to Roy C. Jarrell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Jarrell Sr. of Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

The bride-elect is a 1975 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School and employed by ITT in Plymouth. Her fiance graduated from [illegible] in 1974 and works for Hydramatic division of General Motors Corp. in Ypsilanti.

They plan to be married Oct. 16 in the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth.

St. Richard is setting for rites

Therese M. Durecki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex C. Durecki of Westland, became the bride of Joseph R. Trimai in a ceremony in St. Richard Catholic Church of Westland.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trimai of Lincoln Park.

The Rev. Marvin Rybinski officiated, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin with a lace overlay and an ivory lace veil.

Her attendants, maid of honor Colleen M. Durecki and bridesmaid Sheree Trimai Swanson, wore dresses of pink chiffon over peau de soie and carried bouquets arranged by Benedict P. Theison of Dearborn.

Robert Trimai Jr. was best man and the guests were seated by Joseph Durecki. Music for the mass was provided by a choir known as the Gate-Keepers, and Joseph Bergeron was at the organ.

The new Mrs. Trimai is a 1973 graduate of Franklin High School and her husband graduated from Eastern Michigan University. After a Florida honeymoon, they will make their home in Ypsilanti.

Low sodium diet is class topic

Low-sodium diets are the class topic set for Tuesday, May 11, in Botsford General Hospital, 28050 Grand River. This is the sixth topic in a series of classes on nutrition and diet therapy, under the direction of the hospital's staff of five registered therapeutic dietitians.

The upcoming class will cover foods high in sodium, low-sodium recipes and low-sodium foods.

The class will be held from 2-3 p.m. in classrooms 103-104. There is no charge.

Read these letters before you buy any home...

.....We were both very pleased with the work that was done here. The men were very polite and tried to install the furnace as quickly as possible, as a matter of fact we were never without heat, except for the time it took to connect the furnace, and thanks to RESIDENTIAL SERVICES, WE DIDN'T HAVE TO PAY ANYTHING.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Michens

.....We had a new gas furnace installed in November, 1975. We were very pleased with the service we got from Residential Services. It is the BEST SOLUTION to new homeowners of older homes with problems such as ours.

Mrs. B. P. Van Wasshnova

.....The first thing we had fixed and replaced was the toilet. Then the kitchen faucet and two basement faucets. The third thing that was fixed was our furnace. We were very pleased with the work and Residential Services, Inc.

Mr. & Mrs. V. Martinez

.....Since we were buying an older home, we were concerned that we might have problems with the furnace. When we woke to find the furnace off one cold morning, we contacted Residential Services. I was pleased with the prompt, courteous service we received.

C. Kluiber

Dear Mr. Sobel:

I am writing to express my satisfaction with the quality of the service I have received from your firm.

My wife and I purchased our large old home in December, 1974, through REAL ESTATE ONE, and received our Home Service Contract as an "extra." It sounded like a good deal, but I didn't realize how good until we had leaking pipes replaced with new copper plumbing, a new doorbell and wiring, leaks in faucets, toilets, etc., fixed, and various other small electrical repair jobs done.

Then the furnace went; it had sprung a leak, overheated and finally burst. After a thorough examination, we were told that Residential Services would replace the old furnace with a large (320,000 BTU) new gas boiler. For two and a half days, 2-man crews tore out the old furnace and installed a new one. I need not mention how deeply relieved we were to know that we would not have to pay out $2500-3000 for a new furnace!

Once more, sincere thanks from our family to you and REAL ESTATE ONE.

Cordially,
C. Rooney

Used car buyer's tips

Selecting a good used car requires something more than walking around kicking tires.

This list provides 10 basic rules for the shopper to consider when buying a used car.

In the order of importance, here are ten basic rules:

1. Do some homework before you get to the car lot. Buyers can do this by studying used car advertisements to get an idea of price ranges for particular models and year. Most buyers underestimate costs by several hundreds of dollars, dealers say.

2. Select a used car according to your means and requirements. Some buyers over-buy because they let emotions rule their judgment. Intermediate and compact cars are ideal transportation for city dwellers who use a car mostly in urban areas and only occasionally for highway travel. For sure users, the added low cost of operation is a plus in the budget. Small imports may be their answer or late model domestic mid-sized cars.

3. Be prepared to pay more than you expect. Steals are hard to find and are usually off-year or off-model items. Popular brands and models are always priced according to the market and generally are priced higher than the buyer would expect.

4. Know the price of the used car you buy. The windshield price is not the total price. Buyers also must consider additionals such as state sales tax, title transfer fee, finance charges (if any), down payment, and insurance costs. Know what you are buying and what it will cost you, down to the last penny.

5. Check the seller on used car warranty guarantees. Usually dealers will give valuable warranty provisions on late model cars but it is up to the buyer to seek out the dealer whose guarantees are provided with the purchase. Get the guarantees in writing.

6. Shop for your purchase where the volume of business gives you the greatest selection. Normally, new car dealers provide this luxury because they take in the best used cars as trade-ins on new models. They keep only those units which are suitable for quick sale, and they want to win you as a new car customer some day.

7. Stay away from police and government public auctions. Unless you are an automotive expert, you can get badly stung bidding on old police and government vehicles that have high mileage and rough use. Auctions are not place for a neophyte. Bidding can get you into paying several hundred dollars more than the vehicle is worth. What looks like a bargain can be a headache later, in many such cases. Besides, cash only is the rule at such sales, and you have no recourse if you make a bad buy.

8. Be extremely careful of buying used cars advertised by strangers. Lots of folks find a perfect bargain, pass the money and discover they have a stolen car on their hands. The hot car racket is wide-open today, with sharpies offering sad stories to support bargain prices. In some cases, people have bought such cars only to have them stolen the following day for another sale elsewhere.

9. Buy from a place that has a good reputation in the community. If you have trouble with a used car after purchase, the dealer is subject to all kinds of local pressures to make good the purchase, thereby protecting the buyer. No dealer with heavy investment in a business can afford to ignore adverse customer relations and bad press.

10. Be sure what you are buying is what you really want. Don't buy in a hurry or without sufficient information as to price, costs, finance charges and monthly payments. It is too easy to get in over your head on monthly payments unless you exercise self discipline beforehand and know your financial limits. Think before you act and act according to your means.

No dealer likes to have an unhappy customer. A frequent cause of buyer remorse is the size of monthly payments. One guide for monthly payments is no more than one-week's salary out of each month's pay.

The greater the amount of the down payment, the less the monthly payment and final cost of financing. A few hundred dollars extra added to the down payment can mean considerable savings to the buyer.

Race named for oil

The first NASCAR race of the Michigan International Speedway's 1976 season will be wearing a new name — the CAM2 Motor Oil 400. The June 20 NASCAR stock car race was formerly known as the Motor State 400.

CAM2 Motor Oil is the trade name for a new line of motor oil produced and marketed by the Sun Oil Co.

The CAM2 Motor Oil 400, part of the NASCAR Winston cup series, will feature Bobby Allison in the CAM2 Motor Oil Special, cosponsored by First National City Travelers Checks. Richard Petty, David Pearson, Benny Parsons, Buddy Baker, Cale Yarborough and the rest of the "good ole boys" of NASCAR will be on hand.

Ticket orders are already being accepted for the CAM2 Motor Oil 400.

For more information, write Michigan International Speedway, 12626 U.S. 12, Brooklyn, Michigan, 49230, or telephone 1-517-592-6671.

HOT DOG?

SKATEBOARDING is an exciting sport. Skateboarding can also be a lot of fun. HAVE FUN, AND BE SAFE!

FOLLOW THESE skateboard safety rules and you will have hours of enjoyment with your skateboard.

(1) Always wear tennis shoes, long-sleeved shirts and long pants.

(2) Ride defensively. Watch the road, watch for cars and pedestrians, and always think ahead.

(3) Check your equipment. For safe, smooth skateboarding, always check and tune all parts of your skateboard before riding.

(4) Ride only where legal and safe. Avoid steep inclines where high speed could develop.

(5) Never skateboard at night.

(6) Be sure the road surface is smooth, clean and dry. Always avoid rocks, sand, cracks and debris (loose particles may stop the wheels).

(7) Inexperienced riders should use a railing (or a wall, or another person) for support while getting the "feel" of the skateboard, and while attempting unfamiliar maneuvers. Beginners should place one foot over the rear wheels and slowly push away with the other foot to develop proper balance.

(8) Never stand on the extreme front or rear of the board, which will cause the board to tip.

(9) Never attempt tricks or stunts until you are an experienced, confident rider with good balance.

WE AT MEIJER are looking forward to a safe skateboarding season and invite you to visit our SKATEBOARD DEPARTMENT (inside the Toy Department) at all Meijer Thrifty Acres.

HISTORICAL FLAG COLLECTION

YOUR HERITAGE IS WORTH KNOWING ABOUT... AND TELLING YOUR CHILDREN ABOUT..

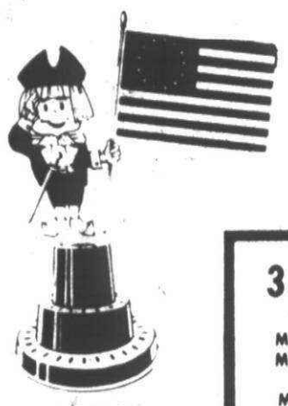

Get the Spirit...The Spirit of '76 comes alive at all Meijer stores. For the first time Meijer is presenting an original collection of miniature flags from our American Hertiage. Flags with such great historical significance as the Green Mountain Boys; The bucks of America; The Know Nothing Flag; The Flag of the Union; The Bennington Flag , and many more. Each has its own story of how it presents a part of our history.
