Sitters besiege her

Sitter-hunting mothers, rejoice!

There are teens in Canton Township just waiting for your call and a chance to earn a few extra dollars babysitting for your kids for an evening, afternoon or an entire weekend.

According to Val Gildo, president of Welcome Wagon Club, babysitters "crawled out of the woodwork" last week, after a story appeared in the Canton Observer & Eccentric describing parents' dire need for babysitters and the lack of teens to accommodate their needs.

In response to Mrs. Gildo's pleas for help, numerous job-hunting teenagers and adults began calling the club president to place their names and phone numbers on a list of babysitters.

"The response was tremendous," said Mrs. Gildo. "I had adults call me for babysitting jobs. I had teens. I had boys. I had everyone. My phone has been ringing from seven in the morning until midnight.

"I even had married women, who were interested in babysitting for working mothers on a permanent basis. I had two single women willing to babysit for an entire weekend.

"I had calls from all parts of Canton Township," Mrs. Gildo continued. "I even had someone call from Westland who lives near Wayne and Cherry Hill."

Mrs. Gildo will use her list of babysitters' names to bring sitters and the parents who need them together. The log currently includes about 50 babysitters' names, listed according to the sitter's name, subdivision, age, address, phone number, fee and times available.

As president of the Welcome Wagon Club, Mrs. Gildo regularly receives calls from sitter-hunting mothers, who received her name from the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

But until last week, Mrs. Gildo had no babysitters' names to give mothers. The club president even had difficulty locating sitters for her own children.

"But now I can at least suggest sitters' names to people," said Mrs. Gildo. "I've already referred five mothers to babysitters. The teens think the list idea is terrific. They said this is a great way for them to find jobs and make a little money."

Mothers hunting for babysitters and teens looking for jobs may call Mrs. Gildo at 981-1022.

"I really don't mind doing this," Mrs. Gildo said. "I get first crack at the babysitters, you see."

Petitioners want write-in

By CRAIG PIECHURA

The possibility of a write-in campaign for the defeated "Greenstein slate" is being bolstered by a group of citizens who are going door-to-door in Canton Township asking voters to sign a petition of support for the entire slate.

All but one of the persons running on the Greenstein slate were defeated in the Aug. 3 primary election. The slate consists of current supervisor Robert Greenstein, current treasurer Carl Parsell, trustee candidate Joyce Willis and current clerk John Flodin. Flodin was the lone primary survivor.

Greenstein and Parsell say they have no involvement with the write-in effort at this time.

"Our position has been from the start that we will run if it can be shown that enough people want us to run," Greenstein said last week.

"Enough people," according to Greenstein is 5,000. Canton has a slightly more than 11,000 registered voters.

Tom Carman, a board-watcher in the electronics business, is coordinator of the write-in effort. He was also involved in the community watch force which was formed in the Fellows Creek subdivision to combat vandalism and break-ins.

Carman could not be reached on how many signatures the group has gathered.

One of his neighbors, Diane Neihengen, was out soliciting signatures for the Greenstein slate on Friday morning.

She says people in her subdivision are urging a write-in campaign for the slate.

"We want the township to progress in certain ways," said Mrs. Neighengen. "We're extremely pleased with—and like the idea of—the police reserves. I like the land use ordinance, the berm ordinance and the sign ordinance. I'm afraid these things will all go down the drain without Greenstein.

"As a homeowner I'm impressed that when you call township hall, Greenstein takes the trouble to talk to you personally and will give you an honest answer."

Pam Phillips, Greenstein's personal secretary and vice-chairman of the Democratic Club of Canton (DCC) said recently while the club has no contact with Carman's group, she has heard they are "very near the goal" of 5,000 support signatures.

"My understanding is that it is still go," said Mrs. Phillips.

"I have nothing to do with these people's petition drive. I want you to understand that I do know that there is an active, avid campaign going. They're passing petitions around and getting thousands of signatures.

"How many? That's going to be a surprise."

Fund befuddlement ended?

By PAT TOUHEY

The lack of clarity which has plagued the Plymouth Community Fund and the residents of Canton Township may finally be cleared up by something as simple as the institution of a different zip code for the township.

Most of the confusion has centered on the question of whether Canton residents with Plymouth mailing addresses were covered by the Plymouth Community Fund, if they responded to mailed solicitations for money.

However, last year Canton was given its own zip code, and it is hoped this will help to alleviate what has been a dilemna.

THE PROBLEM goes way back to 1949 when the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township chose not to affiliate with the newly-established Detroit Metropolitan United Foundation, remaining instead an autonomous operation.

At that time, residents of Canton had four different mailing addresses: Ypsilanti, Belleville, Wayne, and Plymouth. As a result, when the postal zip code system was adopted, many people in Canton were assigned the same zip as Plymouth.

CONSEQUENTLY, WHEN, donation requests were mailed out by the Plymouth Community Fund, it was difficult to know which addresses were in Canton and which were not.

At the same time that Canton residents were receiving these requests, they were also being asked to contribute to the Detroit Metropolitan United Fund.

Questions began to arise about which fund was which, and which one covered the residents of Canton. It was conjectured that a Canton family with a Plymouth zip code could be solicited for and contribute money to the Plymouth Community Fund and not to the Metropolitan Fund.

THEN IF A situation should come about where that family needed the services of an organization, they could possibly find out they were ineligible for either.

And although the address confusion is ended, some questions remain.

"It is not clear if families in Canton are serviced by the Plymouth Community Fund," said Brian Schwall, Canton trustee. "If not, then they should not be solicited for donations."

VICE-PRESIDENT of the Plymouth Community Fund, Leonard Evans, acknowledged both the long standing complexity of the issue and the need for clarification.

"This is indeed a complicated subject, and I would like to see it cleared up," he said. "Our volunteers have been given specific instructions not to solicit donations from Canton residents for the last four or five years; and now that the zip codes are not the same, they should not receive any mail requests for money."

The Plymouth Community Fund does not solicit directly in Canton because that community is covered by the Detroit Metropolitan United Foundation. Some of the agencies given financial support by the Plymouth Community Fund do, however, provide service to Canton, an overlap which also contributes to the confusion.

Canton's the key

State office may go

By EMORY DANIELS

Lansing is studying the option of closing the Plymouth Secretary of State's branch and moving it to Northville, but is proceeding cautiously because of uncertainty in meeting the needs of Canton residents.

An official in the Michigan Secretary of State's office Friday told the Observer & Eccentric the closing of the Plymouth branch was being considered but no decision had been reached.

"Canton probably is a determining factor in whether the Plymouth office is moved," explained Thomas Kurkowski, an assistant Secretary of State. "We are having a meeting the middle of this week to study the caseload at the Plymouth branch and consider the alternatives."

THE NEWS THAT Lansing was considering closing the Plymouth branch was revealed last week to local officials by State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth).

Pursell contacted the Secretary of State's office Wednesday and again on Friday morning when he talked with Kurkowski. The senator is arranging a meeting for early this week between Secreatry of State Richard Austin, Plymouth City Manager Fred Yockey and others from the city.

"I have just learned about the possibility that the Plymouth branch might be closed," Yockey said, "and the city will send a delegation to Lansing to explain why the branch is needed and to present arguments against its being closed.

"I'm not arguing specifically against a need for a branch office in Northville, but I don't think Lansing can ignore the 12,000 residents of the city or 18,000 residents in Plymouth Township—let alone the 30,000 residents in Canton, many of whom use the branch in the city."

The Secretary of State presently leases its office at 821 Penniman from Jim Jabara. The present operation occupies about 2,200 square feet to service residents who wish to obtain vehicle license plates or tags, renew operator's licenses or obtain changes of adresses, or to register to vote.

It was reported Friday city officials will attempt to reach a compromise with the Secretary of State to keep a branch in the city. The compromise hoped for is to convince Lansing to maintain a branch in Plymouth, even if it's a smaller office than at present—possibly 800 square feet.

Pursell reports the office has some calculations now on the number of persons using the Plymouth branch, but those figures don't take into account the number of Canton residents using the office. The state is now calculating use of the branch by Cantonites.

KURKOWSKI STRESSED Friday no decision has been made but the option was being considered because of new branches opened in the general area and because the lease on the Plymouth branch expires Dec. 31.

"We are studying the workload of the Plymouth branch now, and the number and locations of branches in the surrounding area. The lease committee of our office will be meeting and reviewing workload figures.

"Our long-range plans call for relocating the Plymouth branch in Northville when the Plymouth lease expires to accomodate population growth in Novi and areas surrounding Northville," he continued.

"We are about ready to open a new branch in nothwest Livonia and this past year opened a new branch in Westland. Canton could be the determgning factor with what is done with Plymouth. We recognize that Canton has an explosive population—from 5,000 in 1970 to 11,000 two years later, about 30,000 now and expected to reach 100,000 sometime in the not too distant future." Residents in northwest Livonia have been using Plymouth branch because of geographical proximity, but Plymouth will soon be losing those coustomers. Livonia has two branches now in existence.

Handicapped hired here

Special training for handicapped young people in the Plymouth School District is being offered through the federally funded Individual Vocational Educational Program.

The program is under the direction of special education teacher Pafrick O'Donnell at Centennial Educational Park.

In order for a student to be eligible, he or she must be identified as mentally impaired, learning disabled or emotionally impaired.

O'DONNELL EMPHASIZED THAT this is an educational program, not just a way to keep kids busy. Students receive credits toward a regular high school diploma. A planning committee must approve the training plan and the amount of credit to be given.

O'Donnell is now seeking positions for as many as 30 students for the coming school year.

LAST YEAR the first for the program, 16 students were placed. They worked in areas such as auto mechanics, building repair, carpentry, child care, automotive assembly, and domestic cleaning.

Among the firms which trained students were Fisher Body, Mayflower Hotel, Red Roof Inn, Volk Corp. of Farmington, and Fishaw's Automotive Repair.

During the training period the student does not become a regular employee and does not receive a wage.

MATCHING A STUDENT with a community trainer is the key to a successful program.

If a trainer agrees to work with a student, a contract is drawn up specifying work hours and cooperative goals. During the training, O'Donnell works with the student and trainer, evaluating progress and solving problems that arise.

Handicapped students, like other young people, need to learn both job skills and how to be good employees, O'Donnell pointed out. Helping them learn, benefits the

Strikers enjoy free time

By GLENN BUNTING

Air-borne frisbees, ice coolers, vacant parking lots and rain were the ingredients affecting the third day of picketing at the Ford-Sheldon Plant in Plymouth Township Friday.

It's strike time again for some 1,200 Ford-Sheldon employees, and from the looks on the picketers' faces, most don't seem overly concerned about hurrying back to work.

DESPITE WARNINGS from United Auto Workers' (UAW) president Leonard Woodcock that the strike might not be a short one, local Ford employees aren't waving the poverty banner yet.

Because the strike is still in its early stages, the smaller paychecks have yet to take their toll on workers and their families. In fact, most are enjoying what little spare time they've had off.

Sleeping late in the morning, playing some golf and lounging around the house were the most popular activities being pursued by the striking employees during their free time.

WHILE CARRYING "UAW on strike for working conditions" signs on their backs in four hour shifts, the workers are finding the strike life boring.

"What are you going to do?" asked one picketer. "When the union tells you to go on strike, you just do it without asking any questions."

Despite instructions to have at least five picketers standing at each entrance, gates were sometimes vacated between shifts. At times one was enforcing strict attendance codes, as several workers strolled onto their posts 30 minutes late.

Barracades closing the entrances to the public were put up at the start of the strike, closing the lot to all but the few workers still on the job. Only 260 salaried workers remained, making up 18 per cent of Ford-Sheldon's work force.

Most workers here support the UAW. Without having detailed knowledge on the unresolved issues, the employees showed confidence in their union. Some admitted, though, that their support would diminish the longer the holdout.

WHILE MANNING the picket lines, one worker hopes an early retirement plan gets passed. "I'd like to see the union get us the 25 years and out clause. Me and my buddy want to retire while we're still young."

Another worker equated picketing with juror's duty. "I just got done serving two weeks on duty," he said, "and I'm finding it a lot like picketing—they both pay little."

The thought of a long holdout has yet to set in on the Ford-Sheldon workers, but the threat is real. They're hoping for a short walkout. This way, the strike will be sort of a mini-vacation without any serious financial woes affecting them.

Northville is new home

State Police outgrow post

By CRAIG PIECHURA

The Michigan State Police subpost and scientific laboratory on Mill Street in Plymouth left town today, but don't worry, they haven't relocated in the Renaissance Center of Detroit.

Boxes full of microscopes and analysis machines such as "gas chromatographs" and "infrared spectrophotometers" are being labeled and shipped to the new Northville state police complex located on 42145 W. Seven Mile, between Haggerty and Northville Road.

The new complex will house three wings: district headquarters, the Northville post and a considerably roomier scientific crime labororatory. It will open officially on Sept. 24.

"The new headquarters most immediate benefit is that we will have a larger facility to work in," said Lt. Eugene Weiler, head of the crime lab. "The crowded conditions at this office were hazardous.

"Safety procedures can't be adequately maintained when you've got six chemists working in a 300-square-foot area."

The new headquarters will more than double the space available to lab technicians and chemists—from 6,000 square feet to 15,000.

Nearly 50 police departments, several county sheriff's departments and six state police posts have brought their evidence to be analyzed at the Plymouth post in the four years it has been located at 1024 S. Mill. Detroit Police Department and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department operate their own labs, but virtually everyone else in the district is handled by the state police. Federal, and state agencies have also brought in items for analysis.

Weiler estimates that 75,000 pieces of evidence have passed through the lab and claims that not one piece of evidence has been lost or stolen from the laboratory.

Lab workers at the post are assigned to five different departments of evidence analysis. The first department is "narcotics and dangerous drugs," where five people are employed.

The second department, "trace evidence," employs four people who analyze blood, body fluids, hair, fibers and glass particles for distinguishing characterists.

Firearms and tool marks evidence is handled by two specialists at the lab. Six people's duty is latent fingerprints, while one person is in charge of examining questioned documents.

SGT. MARK SZUMLINSKI, who is in charge of the drug analysis department says the workload has increased substantially since he started back in 1967.

"Thirty-three per cent of the drugs we analyze are for cases the Michigan State Police is working on," Szumlinski said. "The other 66 per cent comes from the other police agencies we service."

Szumlinski was asked what the most commonly abused drugs are at the present time.

"Marijuana is still the most popular abused drug," he said. "Phencyclidine, or PCP, also called THC on the street, is probably the next most abused drug. It's far more dangerous than some of the other drugs because the level between the amount needed to get high and the level for a toxic dose is very close. We see it in all forms: powder, tablet, capsule and liquid."

PCP was used by veterinarians as an animal tranquilizer and produces hallucinations and loss of motor skills in humans. Blackouts are not uncommon, especially when PCP is taken in conjunction with alcohol.

In one of the laboratory tests for narcotic identification, a liquid solution of the drug is injected into a glass spiral column where the molecules are heatedd and separated. Various gasses injected into the other side of the gas chromatograph machine, effect the separation and aid in recording the results.

Lt. Weiler, a former fingerprint expert, no longer works in the lab due to his supervisory position.

"I don't work on prints any more," Weiler said. "I have enough confidence in my people that I know once they're trained they can do the job."

Weiler is extremely proud of the people under his command in the crime lab.

"Certain aspects of crime lab analysis aren't just a science but an art," Weiler said. "We've got artists in document examination, fire accelerants, and latent print work. No university can teach you those things.

"We've got four men with Ph.D's and it takes us a year to train one for police work. You have to teach them how to testify in court, teach them the value of evidence, and the importance of chain of custody when you're handling evidence.

"We are professional because we deal in a unbiased analysis of evidence," claimed Weiler. "I don't work on the street and the people in this lab don't work on the street. The two departments are kept separate for a purpose.

"I base my opinion on strict analysis of evidence, rather than my opinion of the policeman," Weiler said. "We don't lean toward the prosecution of suspects. All we look for is based on a search for the truth."

Weiler says many suspected drug samples go through as many as five different tests.

"When we're done, there isn't any doubt," Weiler said. "That's how careful we are about someone losing their liberty."

'The new headquarter's most immediate benefit is that we will have a larger facility to work in. . . . Safety procedures can't be adequately maintained when you've six chemists working in a 300-square-foot area.'

W-W superintendent stumping for 0.4 mills

Wayne-Westland School District will try for the third time for two bond issue approvals when the polls open Sept. 27.

To demonstrate the need for the scaled-down proposals, district officials took members of the press on a tour of several school buildings last week.

The first bond issue for $28 million was rejected by 400 votes in June 1975. It was prompted by a six-committee report of district needs to the board of education in March of that year.

That bond issue was scaled down and split into two proposals. In December 1975 voters rejected Proposal I for new construction and repairs by 89 votes and rejected Proposal II for junior high pools by a 2-1 margin.

NOW THE BOARD is asking for passage of two bond proposals which would add a 0.4-mill increase to tax bills in December 1977. It would be the first tax rate increase since March 1968.

Proposal I would provide $15.45 million for repair and renovation of school buildings for a school population of about 23,000, which district officials say has grown by 150 students since last year. They add enrollment should level off in about seven years.

The districts buildings have been maintained through what Supt. Timothy Dyer calls "crisis maintenance,"—reponding to needs as they arise which he says drains the district operating budget by 11 per cent yearly.

Dyer said the district doesn't have the operating capital to correct problems before they become crises, and that Proposal I would involve major renovations—not routine maintenance procedures.

"We're down to the bare bones—brick, mortar and prayers," said Dyer. "Quite frankly, some of these areas just are not safe places for kids."

ONE OF THE MAJOR renovations which Dyer said is needed is the complete rewiring of John Glenn High School. Glenn, built for a 1,600-student capacity, now houses 2,424 students, including some of the 300 students from the Canton area who live within district boundaries.

On a press tour of tunnels under the school, the Observer & Eccentric was shown how a chemical reaction is hardening conduits layed in the cement flooring and causing electrical outages.

The press also was shown makeshift rewiring for the fire alarm system and sump pumps which are needed to keep the school from flooding.

That day repairmen were servicing burned-out wiring which had left the science area and heating plants without power.

If the bond issue passes, Dyer said it will be six-nine months before work could begin. The school could be without heat during the winter if power is lost.

The roof and ceiling which are collapsing because of leakage were also viewed.

DYER EXPLAINED the district is unable to force the construction company to correct these defects because it went bankrupt two months before the school was completed and because the statute of limitations, which provides a time limit for pressing legal charges, has run out.

Electrical problems and leakages occur at numerous other district buildings, according to Dyer.

Physical education facilities are in need of renovation at John Glenn and Wayne Memorial high schools. Dyer contended. At Glenn students perform weight lifting exercises and play ping-pong in the hall ways.

Pool and locker areas at both high schools are "unsanitary" according to Dyer, because of poor ventilation. At Wayne Memorial, locker room facilities were built for nine teams. The school now has 24 teams. The girls' gym teacher said two lavatories in the girls' locker room are inadequate to service three classes of 30-42 students.

Both schools have been cited by the city fire departments for improper storage of flamable items, Dyer said.

CODE VIOLATIONS, lack of storage, electrical power and facilities plague industrial arts course offerings at Glenn, according to instructors. Dyer said Proposal II, which would provide $4.15 million, would be used to build a new vocational-technical center near Glenn.

That proposal also would be used to fund a new special education center to serve youngsters at the secondary level. Dyer explained special education students are required, by law, to be "mainstreamed" or integrated into classes with other youngsters whenever possible.

"We're not able to do vocational things on a large enough level," said Sue McBride, assistant principal at Roosevelt School where the McGrath special education center is located.

The center now serves 87 students, including the hearing impaired.

Does Plythean slight sports?

Editor:

(An open letter to editor and staff of Plythean yearbook, adult advisor Mark Even, Plymouth Canton principal Ken Buikema, and tennis coaches of both Salem and Canton high schools).

A student buys four yearbooks, pays in advance with assumption his or her team picture will be in the yearbook, so they can look back in years to come to see the school teams they played for, etc. But alas, no picture, nothing to show children or grandchildren. What is the idea of a Fall supplement if not to include and provide for Spring sports?

Granted, a time element is considered, but Spring teams are chosen several months before the end of school. Therefore, team pictures could be taken before the end of school and well in advance of the Fall Supplement. This should be on a priority list.

Our complaint is this: one son was on Salem varsity tennis for three years (1971-71-73)—not one team picture was in the yearbook. A second son was on the Canton varsity tennis team for four years (1973-73-75-76)—with only one team picture which we pushed on our own through the Booster Club which we were involved with as president for two years. (The Booster Club which incidentally furnishes many necessities and three trophies per each sport at the end of the year).

We personally checked with Kent Buikema the first week of June about tennis team pictures. After he apparently checked with Mark Even (advisor for the Plythean), he assured us everything would be taken care of and team pictures would be taken immediately. He said the coaches and team members would be contacted. This was never done.

We called again in July and asked to speak with Mr. Even to find out why it wasn't taken care of. We were informed he was out for the summer (with the assumption his duties were completed for the year). In desperation, we called Buikema's office again the latter part of July and his secretary returned our call with the following message: The Plythean Staff voted that due to "lack of space" no baseball or tennis pictures were taken.

Our question is this: Who is responsible for this lack of interest for these sports? Who is responsible for not seeing adequate space is allocated (in advance) for these sports?

An answer would be appreciated and please don't pass the buck. Our sons have now graduated, so this letter of complaint is to help the kids of the future who work hard at their sport, with no recognition of their dedication (both students and coaches), not to mention the parents who make sure the transportation is available for practice every night and late suppers are still hot when the child comes home late. They deserve recognition as well as football and basketball players, for they cannot help the fact that their spot falls in the Spring. If the kids on the staff cannot make a a correct decision, then the adult counselor should be responsible. We understand Mr. Buikema cannot possibly follow up on all committees, but this was brought to his personal attention before the close of school. So where does the blame fall? The administration? The Plythean Staff? The adult advisor? The coaches who don't make sure the team picture gets in? We aren't sure where the blame falls—therefore, an open letter to these people was our only answer.

We are anxious to see the Spring Supplement which will be issued this Fall—to see what took priority over tennis and baseball due to "lack of space."

Stein's for signs?

Editor:

I would like to thank Mr. Harold Stein for his position on the sign ordinance. Because of it, the obnoxious K-Mart and Meijer's signs will not be taken down next month as the Greenstein administration had persuaded them to. It now looks like Canton's portion of Ford Rd. will look like Garden City's, littered with neon signs. Is this truly what the residents want their township to look like?

'Check out all facts'

Editor:

This is in regard to the letter written to you by Martha Wiezbicki. Some or a lot of her article was not fact.

First of all I do not feel that the Canton Reserves are lacking leadership. If you call a lawyer, a veteran of the Detroit Police Force, a police officer of Inkster who has volunteered his time as an advisor, and a government agent who has also volunteered his time as an advisor, "lack of leadership," tell me what you expect—the President?

Also, I felt her statement that a reserve force has to be under the direction of the state or Sheriffs' Department was wrong. Other townships and cities have reserve units that are run independently and are not under the supervision of the state or Sheriffs' Department. Did you think that the men and women from Canton who went to Schoolcraft College for the training were the only ones? Then you're wrong again. There were 150 people, more or less, in the class and only 30 were from Canton.

You are making statements that Greenstein will make Canton's Reserve Force a regular police department without additional training. Well, has he personally told you that was what he planned to do? There you go again, putting words into print where he has not said anything.

I feel Carl Parsell, as you stated, who is an executive director for the POAM, would not have voted for them if he did not think they were well-trained and equipped and under good leadership.

Yes, the first night they were on the job there was a bad accident. I know for a fact that the Sheriffs' officer gave them a "job well done." They were directing traffic and had an ambulance on its way well before anyone else arrived. As for not using falsres, I feel that would have been a waste of money when the accident occured between 6 and 7 p.m. It was still daylight, and people could see them very well. The reserves left after they asked if they could be of any more assistance. They were not "run off" as you put it. I am not sure where you are getting your information, but I have found many things in your so called letter that were not "true facts." So I think before you go on writing to the editor again, you should check out all the facts.

Defense stars in victory

Rocks trip Barons

BY FRED DeLANO

An impressive debut by a sophomore quarterback, outstanding defensive play by a host of Rocks, and excellent execution of the option plays off the wishbone offense carried Plymouth Salem to a surprisingly easy 30-6 home victory over highly touted Bloomfield Hills Andover in the '76 football opener Friday night.

"It's too early to tell how good we are," said coach Tom Moshimer with obvious pride of a team that is labeled the dark-horse of the Suburban Eight League race which will start in earnest when Belleville invades Plymouth next Friday.

But in the minds of the followers who watched the Rocks mop up on an Andover club, which is rated a favorite for the Greater Oakland loop title, optimism runs high.

The poise displayed by sophomore Rich Hewlett in taking over the quarterback post is one good source for their fervor, backed up by Hewlett's two touchdowns against the Barons and his 64 yards on 14 carries.

Another stems from the smashing defensive tactics of such Rocks as Dave Champion, Tony Vitale, Dave Nidzgorski, Reid Albert and Kevin Kecskes—and even Hewlett.

Jointly these Plymouthites and their mates limited the Barons to 98 yards on the ground and proved they were unawed by quarterback Jim Breaugh's reputation as a prospective all-stater by sacking him four times, blocking one of his punts for a safety and limiting him to seven pass completions in 21 tries.

ADD TO ALL THAT the fact that Steve Maisner, who started the '75 campaign as No. 1 quarterback, turned up as a halfback Friday and led all the troops with 119 yards on 10 carries from scrimmage. His longest romp was for 53 yards, setting up a touchdown which he himself scored from 20 yards out.

Then there's Ben Wilcox, who took over as top quarterback last season after Maisner was injured and who twice broke away for long runs against Andover after relieving Hewlett in the fourth quarter.

Just for frosting on the cake, there's the statement from Andover coach Frank Buford, who noted that each team gave the ball away four times on fumbles: "Plymouth played over its errors, we didn't. Tonight, we were humiliated by a very good team."

AN INDICATOR of what was in store for the Barons came on their third play from scrimmage when Breaugh, who won all-league honors last fall, was thrown for a five-yard loss by Champion, Rock co-captain and defensive tackle who holds all-league credentials himself.

Recovery of a Breaugh fumble by Nidzgorski at the Andover 29-yard line gave Plymouth its first scoring opportunity early in the second quarter.

Although he has the pitch-out option, the gutsy Hewlett kept the ball five successive times, first scurrying for 16 yards and then successively smaller chunks until he put it across the goal line from a yard out. The first of Bob Waite's four conversions made it 7-0.

Only seconds later, Mark Vennel put Andover back in the ball game when he broke into the clear on the kickoff and raced 78 yards to make it 7-6. The try for the extra point by Alex Karras failed, but

Stumble and fumble

The first of four Baron fumbles cost Bloomfield Hills Andover the initial Salem touchdown of Friday's contest that the Rocks easily won 30-6. Rocks defensive tackle Tony Vitale causes this fumble by Andover quarterback Jim Breaugh (above) as Dave Nidzgorski (75) recovers the loose ball (below) in second quarter action. It was a hard night for Canton grid coach Dave Schuele, whose coaching debut for the Chiefs was spoiled by a loss to theBentley Bulldogs, 32-22. (Staff photo by Bob Woodring)

Chiefs lose opener, 32-22

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

The football coaching debut of Plymouth Canton's Dave Schuele turned into a sour one Friday night, when the Chiefs were upended by the Livonia Bentley Bulldogs 32-22 at the opponents' field.

The nonleague loss was the second in two years that Canton has suffered to Bentley.

The Bulldogs wasted no time in putting points on the scoreboard as they breezed to a 16-0 lead after the first six minutes of play. On the third play from scrimmage, senior captain Art Simpson raced 72 yards from his halfback position for the initial score. Simpson had 138 yards total for the contest.

After Canton had possession of the ball for three plays, Mark Perkins was forced to punt the ball away, but the kick went off the side of his foot, traveling only 20 yards. Five plays later, Bentley's Chuck Roy scored on a 31-yard gallop for the second touchdown of the game.

Both extra point conversions were run successfully and the Bulldogs had the quick 16-point margin.

Bentley scored another eight points before the first half was over, crossing the goal line with only 55 seconds remaining until halftime.

THE CLOSEST penetration the Chiefs offense had in the first half was a drive that moved down to the Bulldog 25, before a costly clipping penalty stalled the threat.

The Chiefs came out in the second half fired up, when co-captain Leo Durocher ran back the opening kickoff 81 yards for a touchdown. Durocher broke through the middle of the Canton blocking wedge, and raced toward the left sideline into the endzone. The extra point pass was incomplete, leaving the score at 24-6.

Bentley's next possession was stalled by the enthused Canton defensive charges, as after three plays, the Bulldogs were forced to punt. The kick went off the side of the Bulldog punter's foot, giving the Chiefs offense fantasic field position on the opponent's 20.

But the Chiefs offense couldn't capitilize on this opportunity as the Bulldog defense held. So it was up to the defensive unit of the Chiefs to get the ball back, and they responded by recovering a fumble on the second Bentley offensive play.

This time, the Chiefs did capitalize on the break, when senior halfback Jim Meadows scored on a 15-yard jaunt. Perkins passeed successfully to Mark Hutton for the two-point conversion, and with only four minutes gone in the second half, the Chiefs were within 10 points.

Any Chiefs' hopes for a victory were ended quickly on Bentley's next drive, as the Bulldogs regained their composure and manhandled the Chiefs on an 11-play, 71-yard drive which featured all running plays. The extra point pass was good, making the score 32-14 at the end of three quarters.

"Leo's (Durocher) run back helped us gain momentum, but we let down after that," Schuele said. They (Bentley) ran right back at us and we couldn't handle it. That's a helluva thing to say, but it was true."

Canton's only sustained scoring drive of the night came on the last score of the contest, when the Chiefs marched 68 yards for a final touchdown. With no time remaining on the clock, Meadows ran an end-around play on that final down, into the endzone from 10-yards out. Perkins completed another pass to Hutton for the conversion, making the final score a respectible 32-22.

"We were apprehensive at the start, and didn't come out hitting," Shuele said. "They scored those two quick ones on us, but after that it was an even game.

"We moved the ball well on offense at times, but we also had a lot of breakdowns.

"But I'll tell you this, we've got a ballclub and are not going to be 2-7."

Jerry Simons was the leading rusher for Canton, as the junior fullback raced for 94 yards in 15 carries. Meadows added 48 and Hutton contributed 30. The Chiefs totaled 165 yards rushing on 37 plays and converted six of 17 passes for 51 yards for a total offense of 216.

Conversely, the Bulldogs ground out 275 yards on the ground in 35 attempts while completing five of nine passes for 87 yards. Bentley's total offense was 362 yards in 40 plays.

Former Plymouth Salem cager Eric Agardy tranfered back home last week when he signed a letter of intent to play basketball for the University of Detroit Titans. Agardy had spent one year of a four-year scholarship at North Carolina State before the change. (Staff photo)

Agardy transfers

Eric Agardy, 1975 Plymouth Salem High School graduate and former record-holder of numerous Rock basketball records, has signed a letter of intend to play ball for the University of Detroit.

Agardy played for North Carolia State last season on the first of a four-year scholarship. Because of the transfer, he will have three years of eligibilty after sitting out the next season.

The 6-11, 220 pound center saw limited action last season in participating on the Tar Heels varsity.

"I had to wait in line down there," Agardy said. "They (North Carolina) play local boys first so I thaught I would come home and be a local boy, playing for people that know me."

Agardy feels he can make a major contribution to the U-D program and is anxious to begin.

"I was in touch with coach Vitale for a long time and I thaught this was this was the best thing to do. They need a big man back into the program mainly for rebounding. They need someone around the hole to knock them in."

Agardy moved into the Plymouth-Canton area during his junior year of high school. During his two-year career at Salem, he was a big factor in consecutive Suburban Eight League championships. He also led the Rocks to the semifinals of state tournament competition during his senior year.

At the end of his prep days, Agardy held Salem's season and career scoring and rebounding records, before Jim Ellinghausen shattered the marks the following year.

Chief cagers score 2 wins

A quick, aggressive Plymouth Canton girls basketball team easily won its opening two games of the season last week, defeating Ypsilanti 53-31, and Livonia Franklin 60-23, in non-league battles.

"We won the games on hustle," said coach Mike McCauley.

The home opener for the undefeated Chiefs was Thursday night against Livonia Frankin. All 13 girls played in the contest as the Chiefs roared to the easy 37-point victory.

The game was decided as early as the first quarter of play when the Chiefs came out pressing and could do no wrong in building an unstoppable 20-2 lead.

In that first eight minutes of action, Canton forced the Patriots into numerous turnovers because of the sticky press. Conversely, the Chiefs committed only two turnovers in that entire time span.

Canton extended its advantage to 29-9 at half, and mounted the margin to 51-15 after three quarters.

Senior Ellen Doran led the Chiefs in scoring with 14 followed by Kathy Sochacki's 12. Sophomore guard Kathy Peck was the Chiefs leading player in assists, and Kim Zoladz contributed five of six foul shots.

Canton opened its season at Ypsilanti with another convincing victory. Once again, hustle and the full court press proved to be the winning combination, as all buty two Chiefs reached the scoring column.

Canton built upon its early two-point first quarter lead, extending the margin to 24-16 at the half and 39-24 after three periods.

Ypsilanti turnovers resulted in the Chiefs ability to steal many passes throughout the contest.

Sophomore Evie Pasek led the Canton balanced scoring attack with 12 points. Doran added nine while Sue Rekuc and Sochacki scored seven each.

The Chiefs continued their non-league action tommorrow night when they travel to Westland to battle John Glenn.

Golfers victorious

By BETTY DeLANO

A new lineup didn't hurt the Plymouth Salem boys' golf team at all last Thursday when the Rocks played Clarenceville at Idyl Wylde Golf Club.

Junior Doug Holloway, new to the lineup last week, led the team to a 159-189 victory by shooting eight 4's and one 5 for a 37 total. Senior captain Mike Mullen was right behind with a 38 and sophomore Craig Stevens shot a 40.

Also new to the lineup, junior Ken Brudzinski, shot the par-36, 3,143-yard course in 44.

"I'm really pleased with the new people in the lineup," said coach Bob Waters. He then went on to say that he thought the team was maturing at what he considered "a pretty decent rate."

Clarenceville's Russ LaLonde led his squad with a 40, while Terry McCleery shot a 42, Bill Peterson 46 and Dave Wilson 51.

Salem, now standing at a 4-1 win-loss record, will play Edsel Ford this afternoon (Monday) at Edsel Ford, and Farmington Harrison at 3 p.m. Tuesday at Brae Burn Golf Club, Napier and Five Mile.

Rocks topple Ford

The Plymouth Salem girls basketball team started its defense of the Suburban Eight League title last Thurday night with an easy 53-28 victory over Dearborn Edsel Ford.

"They (Edsel Ford) were tall but its only their second year of basketball and they were inexperienced," said Rocks coach Debbie Hatcher. "They weren't too aggressive but were tough on the defensive boards."

The Rocks, despite giving away much height to the opponents, used quickness and pressure defense to win the game.

Salem jumped out to a quick 10-3 lead after the first period and extended the margin to 30-15 at halftime. With this comfrontable lead, Hatcher was able to use all 10 members of her squad as each cager reached the scoring column.

The Thunderbirds from Dearborn cut the margin to only eight points, 34-26, while the bench was playing in the third quarter.

But the Rocks rebounded in that final period, outscoring Edsel by the devasting margin of 19-2 to put the contest in the win column. Co-captain Kathy Dillon led all Salem scorers with 12 points as the Rocks attack showed much balance. Erin Moore and Doris Hoelscher followed with eight each, and senior Peg Moore added seven. The remaining girls contributed between four to two points while in action.

The Rocks shot 38 per cent from the field, converting 24 of 63,and added five of 10 shots at the foul line.

"We looked better this game than aganst Walled Lake Western," Hatcher said in comparing the team's performance in the season opener two days earlier. "But we still have to work on not committing a lot of bad passes."

The undefeated Rocks, 2-0, face Bentley tommorrow night (Tuesday) at home in their next battle.

"We didn't expect Bentley to be a problem last year but they gave us a lot of problems," Hatcher said. "They have a lot of potential and it should be a good game."

Chief runners crushed

By BILL COLLINS

Knowing that Plymouth Canton's cross country team has only two runners with previous experience in the sport, it wasn't hard for coaches Dick Goepp and Mike Spitz to be optimistic after their squad was outclassed by Livonia Bentley Thursday, 16-44.

"We told the team they have 14 meets in which to improve, and that the first few meets are going to be the most difficult," Goepp said.

"This was the first meet for almost everyone on the team, and not one member of the club wore spikes, even though it was raining."

Bentley's harriers finished first, second, third, fourth and sixth by position for a team total of 16.

The Bulldogs were paced by senior Doug Vorbeck who finished ahead of the pack in a 16:40 clocking over the three-mile course.

"On paper Bentley has to be one of the best teams in the area. Besides Vorbeck's time, they had three men finish under 17:10, and six men under 18 minutes," Goepp said.

Cnton was led by senior Bill Murphy who placed fifth in a time of 17:46. The Chiefs placed fifth, eighth, ninth, 11th, and 12th for a team score of 44.

Junior Dennis Hennells finished eighth in the meet in 19:02. He was followed by freshman Brian Olk who came in with a 19:10 time. Another freshman, Dan McGlinn, was Canton's fourth best (19:11), while junior Mark Zydek was last to score for the Chiefs (19:30).

Canton's number-two runner, Dave Fleischer, had difficulty in his initial meet, as he took a wrong turn on the course and got lost.

"All these kids are young and eager, they're also inexperienced. But as the year moves along they'll be cutting their times down left and right," Goepp said.

"Almost everyone has not missed a day of practice, and because of their inexperience we can't throw a rigorous training schedule at them, else they'd be recuperating for the rest of the season . . . . We're just going to have to give the program some time to develop," he adde.

Hill gets soccer job in Tampa Bay

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Gordon Hill is moving from his Plymouth residence to accept a new position in Florida as the director of youth and community development for one of the top soccer teams in America, the Tampa Bay Rowdies.

The Englishman Hill came to Plymouth last summer working on the now defunct CASTLES program for the Plymouth Community School District. During that time, he played a major role in the development of the Western Suburban Soccer League, the junior conference in the area. He also was a former English soccer referee, and became one of the top official in the United States.

This new position for Hill offers to him the two things he loves in life, soccer and education.

"My job is unique to the world," Hill said. "Hopefully we will spread the wings (of soccer) in Florida.

"My concern for soccer is more than just for the game but also in the educational aspects it gives."

Hill has been a firm believer in this sport becoming very popular in this country and thinks its just a matter of a few years before the interest becomes wide spread.

"My premise is simple," Hill said. "I'm convinced that Americans want to come and see individual merit on a team. I would think that coaches would like to teach these skills. When I see children starting to master the skills, and playing with the ball with coordination, I know they will be good.

"The English game is turning mundain and rigid. America is starting to attract the English stars to want to show their skills, and the Americans like this."

Hill believes that soccer started to quickly and with the wrong approach five years ago and that's why it started to flop. He feels that to make soccer attractive to people in America, people have to start at the "grass-roots" (the youth) to develop interest.

"If you drive along country roads in America, you see children playing soccer in the fields. A few years ago they weren't playing the game at all," he said.

With this belief, Hill became involved with the junior soccer league in this area as a coach of a team his sons, Matt and Martin, played on. He started as just a fan, last fall in the first season of the new league, but was compelled to get involved with the organization.

Hill had much praise for the efforts of Chuck Skene, acting director of the Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department and originator of the league soccer.

One of the final things that Hill offered to the parents in the Plymouth community was a weekend workshop where the rules and basic understanding of the game was taught and hopefully passed on to other interested persons.

With the tremendous impact Hill has made on soccer in Plymouth and the western suburbs, its hard to think that the interest will stop here, or in Tampa or in the the entire country.

The United States is quickly becoming competitive in this most popular sport of the world. Look ot World Cup, here we come!

Records broken

By BETTY DeLANO

Breaking the school record by 13 strokes and beating Walled Lake Western were the accomplishments of the Plymouth Canton boys' golf team, last week.

On Thursday, the Chiefs met up with Walled Lake Western on Canton's home course, Brae Burn Golf Club, and beat the Warriors 213-236.

John Pearson and Steve Morman from Canton were match medalists, both shooting the back nine at Brae Burn in 40. Scott McGlone cashed in with a 42 for the par-36 course. Craig Brass shot a 45 and Gary Seiber totaled 46.

Walled Lake's Doug Glenday gave his team a 44 and teammate Floyd Vickery tallied 45. Bill Aylswort had 46, Jack Rosemary 49 and Steve Dudek 52.

The Chiefs broke the previous school-team scoring record of 202 strokes against North Farmington when they totalled just 189 to North Farmington's 201, in a home match last Wednesday.

Medalist John Pearson led with a 36, one stroke short of a new single-player record for the school.

After receiving a triple bogie on the seventh hole, Steve Morman went on to par the last two holes to total a 37. Craig Brass matched Morman's score of 37 and Dave Visser shot a 38. Scott McGlone came in with a 41.

Rocks get 1st, 30-6

before the first half ended Plymouth had boosted its margin to 14-6.

MAISNER GOT the Rocks out of a hole when he scurried 53 yards from his own 12 to the Andover 47. Then, with only 1:35 left in the half, he went in from the 20 to cap a nine-play, 88-yard march.

The Barons staged a real surge at the beginning of the second half, moving from their own 25 to the Rock 24 in four plays.

At that point a fumble recovery by Vitale relieved the pressure on the Rocks and going into the fourth period the board still read 14-6.

Early in the quarter, Breaugh faded back to pass from his own 21 but the ball never reached its target. Reading the play perfectly, Hewlett came from his linebacking post to grab the ball from the hands of Steve Whitten at the 25 and he was home free for another touchdown.

Breaugh was victimized again minutes later when Dick Bradburn blocked the Andover star's punt at the goal line, resulting in a safety that gave the Rocks a 23-6 margin.

They wound up their 16-point fourth quarter assault with a 42-yard drive in the last three minutes that was climaxed by a four-yard touchdown smash by Chris Ritchey. The conversion closed the books at 30-6.

WITH MAISNER leading the way, the Rocks amassed 244 yards on the ground to take a commanding edge in the statistics even though they picked up only 28 yards in the air on one pass completion in three tries.

Moshimer hedged a bit when asked if Hewlett's performance had earned the youngster the starting quarterback spot for keeps.

"Both Hewlett and Wilcox will play a lot," said Moshimer. "Don't forget, Wilcox also runs well. Then we also have Maisner and Doug Agnew. It puts us in pretty good shape."

Rock netters rip

Plymouth Salem's girls' tennis team got its fall season off to a roaring start last week with three consecutive nonleague victories. Coach Jan Lawson's team upended Northville, John Glenn and Churchill by convincing margins.

Only the Rocks' 4-3 win over Glenn was close with the remaining triumphs coming via 5-2 scores.

In its season opener against Northville, Salem's number-one singles player Becky Crespo started the match off with an impressive win over her opponent. After number two and three singles Courtney Warwick and Nancy Grotz dropped close decisions, freshman Kathy Horton emerged victorious in her singles match to knot the score at 2-2.

The Rocks' doubles tandems of Lynne Stone and Tamie Crespo, Cindy Cindrich and Diane Miller and Clarise Hartnett and Laurene Kirchoff swept their respective matches to sew it up for Salem, 5-2. The doubles surge gave coach Lawson a thrilling opening win for the '76 campaign.

Against John Glenn, sophomore Becky Crespo continued her torrid pace on the courts with another win, getting the Rocks off to another successful start. Combined with her third straight personal win over a Churchill opponent, Becky boasts a 3-0 record thus far. "Only a sophomore, Becky's one of the more promising players on our squad," Lawson said.

Warwick, who dropped her second straight amtch to a John Glenn opponent, rebounded with a win in the Churchill match, is a freshman. "She's going to come along," Lawson said, referring to her number-two singles player. "With some experience, Courtney will be a real threat."

Senior co-captain Nancy Grotz also lost her first two matches, before breaking through with a win in number-three singles play agianst Churchill.

One of the more surprising performances were turned in by freshman singles ace Kathy Horton, who went unbeaten in the three meets "It's nice to finally have underclassmen playing on the varsity level," Lawson said of Horton, Warwick and the young doubles players.

The Rocks will open the Suburban Eight Monday against Trenton, and play nonleague foe Ann Arbor Pioneer on Thursday.

Netters lose 3 matches

Plymouth Canton is in its third season of girls' varsity tennis and despite the Chiefs' dismal showing in their first three matches, coach Cyndi Burnstein is beginning to see the light on the court.

After dropping consecutive 7-0 matches to nonleague opponelts Ypsilanti, John Glenn and Riverview, the Chiefs will be looking ahead to bigger and better things this week against Franklin and Waterford Mott.

One bright spot in the three defeats was the play of number four singles player Glenda Carney. She came the closest to winning a match, played aggressively and did a fine job against Riverview, according to coach Burnstein.

With a lot of freshmen on their roster, the Chiefs are gaining precious varsity experience with every match. Hopefully, by the season's end, the girls will have progressed enough to playcompetitively.

Daniels Den

By EMORY DANIELS

Wednesday night a group of Plymouth residents were in Ann Arbor for the kick off of President Ford's campaign at the University of Michigan.

Almost 25 local residents hopped aboard Frank Arlen's coach for the short ride to Crisler Arena which was jam packed for Ford's appearance.

The trip there and back was casual and enjoyable, but the real excitement was inside the arena where thousands had gathered for the main event.

PREPARATIONS WERE thorough and professional for the visit to Ann Arbor, which ended with the President's speech that evening.

The schedule was made out in advance and pretty much followed, except when Ford decided to visit the practice field to watch the Wolverines at work and throw a couple passes. That visit, though, was tied into his speech when he remarked that he'd rather run against Jimmy Carter any day than have to stop Harlan Huckleby.

For about a half an hour before the President's appearance, the waiting spectators were treated to a pep rally for the Wolverines. Michigan's band provided some spirited music to set the stage, and then the preliminary speaker took the mike to build up the enthusiasm of the crowd.

The pitch was how great Michigan teams have been over the years, how the Wolverines were number one in football and would keep that position, and how Woody would be buried come Nov. 20.

The remarks kept cross-referencing Jerry Ford and the bright future of the Mighty Blue with the pro-Ford remarks prompting boos from the upper gallery where the hecklers were organized. It was interesting to note, though, that when George Cavender raised his wand and struck up "The Victors," there was instant unity in the arena.

It mattered little that there was a group of students whose political views and aspirations differed from the President's. The fact that some of the students had come to heckle and shout down the President suddenly was forgotten. "The Victors" instantly united the audience and, for that moment, all differences dissipated and everyone reacted in unison. But, then again, what else could be expected when U-M students and alumni get together? Whatever other schism might exist, the loyalty to the Maize and Blue is a common denominator of which all factions stand behind.

ONE UGLY incident was when someone in the gallery set off a cherry bomb.

Almost everyone's initial thought was that a gun had been fired. Ford instantly flinched—like he was going to duck under the podium. But in a second or less he straightened up and picked up on the next word, in mid-sentence, and continued with his speech as if nothing happened. When the cherry bomb went off, the Secret Service men stationed around the stage rushed toward the podium but, when they saw Ford was unharmed, flared out to form a semi-circle in front of the podium while other agents ran up the aisles towards the rear isles of the upper gallery.

Although it turned out to be a minor incident, during those first few seconds, my mind had turned to the those ugly memories of the past—the assasinations of John and Robert Kennedy, Martin Luther King, Medger Evers, Malcolm X, and the attempted assasination of George Wallace. In those two or three seconds, I was permeated with overpowering feelings of fear and shame. Nothing happened, but it was a reminder that our presidents and candidates for office aren't by any means free of danger.

When the crowd gave Ford an ovation because he had continued his speech as if the incident never happened, I knew then that thousands of others in the arena had shared my thoughts during those two or three seconds.

Other than that incident, it was an exciting evening and a fine demonstration of how a band can be used for crowd control and incitement.

Chairman for the reception, to start at 8 p.m. in the Holiday Inn-West, Ann Arbor, is Al Wistert, former all-American football player at University of Michigan.

GRACE JARVIS, who still maintains her interest in the Plymouth schools, called from her home in West Bloomfield last week.

She wanted to know if the three new schools were completed and open for the fall term.

When we told her they had opened on schedule and Erikkson School had an enrollment of 690 students, she said, "Ruth will be interested to hear that."

She said the last time she visited Ruth Erikkson, after whom the school was named, they had talked about the school.

"She is holding her own," said Ms. Jarvis. "Although she is in a wheelchair, she knows everyone and is happy to see visitors. She hates to see them leave, too."

Miss Erikkson has been in Middlebelt Nursing Center in Livonia following a serious accident.

She was the first principal of Smith Elementary School and her years of service there resulted in the new school being named in her honor.

CANDI REECE, president of the Plymouth Education Association, was away from contract negotiations for five days.

Cause of her defection from duty was the birth of son, Jason.

Candi's husband Bill is president of the Wayne-Westland teachers' union.

VAL GILDO, president of Welcome Wagon Club which has members from the Plymouth-Canton area, caused quite a stir with her complaint about the lack of babysitters in her subdivision.

Not only did she discover a host of babysitters, the resulting telephone calls added 14 new members to her club.

PRESIDENT GERALD Ford's campaign kickoff in Ann Arbor last week was attended by by a good number of Plymouth residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arlen transported a group in their coach.

Among those who boarded the bus here were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Al Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Kidston and daughters Kathy and Suzann, Earl Lunden, Harry Greenleaf, Tony Licata, Jim Houk, State Sen. and Mrs. Carl Pursell, with son Mark and daughter Kathy.

WINNERS in the Thursday afternoon party bridge session in the Plymouth Cultural Center earlier this month were Hazel Rogers and Carl Peters.

There was no game the week of the fall festival because of dealers moving in for the Symphony League's antique mart.

ATTENDANTS at the Center for Human Development, Five Mile and Sheldon, would like to set up a canteen for the patients in the recreation building.

Peggy Pethers says they need an old juke box or a record player and records, lamps, coffee urn—furnishings to make a homelike setting for those who love music and others who enjoy dancing.

Anyone with suggestions or donations can call Peggy at 453-1500, ext. 364.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY members greeted an announcement by president Richard Gornick with applause.

Yearly membership dues have been increased from $5 to $10, but, members do not have to pay for admission to the museum.

Life memberships are $100.

WE HAD BEEN WONDERING about Anne Welch who resigned last year as principal of Farrand Elementary School.

Miss Welch wanted to get back to classroom teaching. Those who were in her classes at Starkweather will consider her new students most fortunate.

Well, Ann Welch is teaching first grade at Fiegel. We wonder if she'll reactivate that gold and red velvet throne.

Mural, mural, on the wall

Frank Henderson and Co. reminisce

By ELINOR GRAHAM

When Frank Henderson spoke to members of the Plymouth Historical Society at their September meeting, it turned out be be an audience participation affair. There were many chuckles from his listeners and he drew them into his reminiscences with questions and promptings.

Focus of his talk was the large mural presented to the Historical Museum by the Plymouth Rotary Club. Henderson told of his pleasure when the club chose a picture he had bought in 1909 when he was 13-years-old. Enlarged and framed, the 20-foot mural dominates the lower level meeting room in the museum.

It is a picture of Main Street at Penniman Avenue with Fourth of July crowds watching the Plymouth-Northville firefighters water fight.

Henderson recalled that the Northville team was at a definite disadvantage because its hose wouldn't work.

AT THE TIME, Henderson said, "I put on my best pants and worked in Dan Pettingill's ice cream store."

He pointed out the brick roadway, laid in 1908. "They voted it down. Then delivery wagons carried signs for paving and it finally passed.

"And here was the barber shop. When a white towel was hung in window, Mr. John Gale from the grocery store would go over for his morning shave. It cost 10 cents. "And does anyone remember the day the Rev. King came uptown with his shotgun and shot the dog—right in the park? And do you remember why he did it?

"The dog had killed his cat, right on his front porch."

There were many laughs as he remembered his younger brother coming home with a most unusual story. "It was a beastly hot day in July, and he had seen Charlie Fisher with his coat off. Of course he still wore his vest."

Full course roast beef dinners at the hotel were 50 or 75 cents. The Democrats gathered at Connors and Republicans down the street in the hardware store. "Sometimes the farmers stayed talking when they should have been plowing. But the talk was good."

There was the New Years Eve dance when Harry Robinson danced with an axe. It had been propped in the corner of the hall to chop firewood.

There was gingerale made in the alley back of the store where he worked. "It was 99 per cent water, and we shook the container until there were enough air bubbles." Then they dispensed it in the store.

COME UP HERE, GEORGE," invited Henderson, and George Burr joined him on the platform.

Burr pointed out the store where his father had a heart attack, turning the coffee grinder. "I ran home to tell my mother and they took him home in a buggy." The doctors didn't give much hope, but they moved to the country and he lived to a ripe old age.

They talked about the whole second-story front of a store collapsing into Main Street between 3:30 and 4 a.m.—with Tony McHale.

There were three saloons in town and Burr recalled, "I always went by on a run."

After two years of prohibition, the Rev. Hathaway preached a forceful sermon in the Presbyterian Church. He admonished his congregation not to "let the devil and three make a majority" in the upcoming vote to end prohibition.

The entire program was recorded on tape to become a valuable addition to the oral history library in the museum's archives.

Archie Stobie, (from left) Frank Henderson and Richard Gornick, president of the Plymouth Historical Society, played leading roles in the first regular meeting of the fall season.

Following a reception for museum director Archie Stobie, Plymouth Historical Society members and guests settled down for their regular business meeting. After the speaker, there were more refreshments. (Staff photos)

Dickens' Christmas planned for museum

"We have a marvelous building and cooperation from the community," said Plymouth Historical Museum Director Archie Stobie to the members of the Plymouth Historical Society.

Stobie was introduced to members of the society at a reception preceding last Thursday's meeting.

He reported a large attendance over the Fall Festival weekend and his interest in comments by the visitors: "We wondered what was inside, but we never expected this." and "It was worth waiting for."

Plans for the season include a "Treasures in our Midst" exhibit This will be a loaning or sharing show when members of the society exhibit their family heirlooms and collections.

There will be a preview reception for members of the Historical Society on Sunday, Oct. 3. The following Thursday, it will be open to 0the public.

The Christmas show will open the weekend before Thanksgiving with religious heritage as its theme.

On the upper level, the street of shops will take on the appearance of the Dickens era. The Victorian bedroom will be replaced by a dining room, decorated for the Christmas season.

In February, Evelyn Edgar, Pat Scott and Betty Zimmerman will cooperate in arranging a made-in-Plymouth show. Stobie suggested anyone with ideas or articles for the show get in touch with one of the women.

Margaret Mitchell and her educational cooperative committee are planning an "Indians of the area" display for October.

"The museum is as strong as you make it," Stobie concluded. "I am delighted to be here and hope to remain for a long time."

Elizabeth Holmes served punch to Louis Norman at the reception for the new director of the museum.

Facts and food served at lunch

School Supt. John M. Hoben munched on egg salad and tuna fish sandwiches as he fielded questions from a group of Plymouth community School District residents.

It was the fifth in a series of communicator lunches in the Board of Education Building. Guests were there at the invitation of Florence Beier, community relations director for the district.

The atmosphere was informal—paper plates and styrofoam cups. Everyone helped themselves to the coffee, sandwiches, pickles and coffee. Conversation had top priority.

Luncheon guests were Sue LaSota, Lois Gilmore, Douglas McLennon, Charlotte Petro, Steve Harper and Carol Davis. Number of persons is limited to encourage vocal participation.

PURPOSE OF THE gatherings, according to Mrs. Beier, is to brief persons interested in the schools who want to be more knowledgeable. These persons will be able to go back to their PTO, Newcomers, or neighborhood coffee get-togethers with straight information which could stop rumors before they they become widespread.

The recent millage vote, year-round school, state aid, and the teacher contract negotions were uppermost in the minds of the luncheon guests.

Hoben refused to discuss negotiations. He did explain the Wayne-Westland teacher settlement and admitted the district could not afford a similar three-year contract.

"What do you say to families who plan a five-week family vacation in the summer months?" asked Harper, referring to the 45-15 year-round school at Miller.

"Surveys show 90 per cent of the families don't take five-week continuous vacations in summer," said Hoben.

He explained there are 12 weeks vacation and seven of those weeks in the track system parallel traditional vacations—summer, Christmas and Easter. Five weeks are not the same.

In discussing the pros and cons of year-round school, Hoben quoted Shirley Spaniel, principal of Miller Elementary in Canton Township. Miller is the only year-round school in the district.

"Shirley Spaniel says the kids are getting six weeks additional instruction each year, because no time is spent on review.

"I BELIEVE reports that kids on the track system feel better about school." He added that he was not entirely convinced their achievement performance was improved as much as some surveys indicated.

"You know our present schedule is based on an agrarian society," said Hoben. "It accommodated the students who had to help plant the crops in the spring and stayed home to help with the harvest in the fall."

Hoben said that while Livonia lost another 2,000 students this year Plymouth has gone up at least 1,000.

Of the three new elementary schools opened this fall, Eriksson already has reached more than capacity with 690 students. Field has 650 and Hulsing, 534. Gallimore is filled to capacity with Isbister taking the overflow.

HOBEN SAID he had been in Lansing the day before the luncheon, attending the monthly meeting of the Coalition of School Superintendents. The organization includes 31 superintendents representing 541,000 students in the state.

Purpose of the coalition, formed a year ago is to give the school district heads an opportunity to have more input into state aid acts. Hoben was one of the two founders of the group.

One of the luncheon guests suggested many voters did not realize sports had received a big cut when the June millage did not pass.

"Sandmann's cut was the largest," said Hopen. "He was cut 47 per cent." John Sandmann is athletic director for the Plymouth Salem and Canton high schools.

The luncheon guests agreed many persons did not know sports had been taken out of the activity fund several years ago.

Sports is in the general operating fund with expenditures and revenues coming from the fund.

"AND LO AND BEHOLD we've reversed one situation," said Hoben. "We've reverted the pyramid. For the first time we're closer to parity with our teacher-student ratio."

He explained they had "locked ourselves in at the high school level." The result was no additional staff at the high schools, 17 new elementary teachers, eight in the middle schools, and eight special ed teachers.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES B. STEVENS

Mass of thanksgiving marks 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Stevens of Gloucester Avenue, Plymouth, were feted by family and friends on their golden wedding anniversary.

Following a mass of thanksgiving in Our Lady Of Good Counsel Church, almost 100 persons attended a dinner party in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel. The couple's 23 grandchildren presented them with a gold tea set and tray.

The tea set bore the Chinese engraving "Tin-gee-pu-ya" which means "God bless you."

"This (the inscription) was almost too much for grandma," said Mrs. Stevens with a smile.

She explained that when her children were young, a missionary visited their school. He wrote the phrase on the blackboard and it became a family expression, wishing the children, and later the grandchildren, well on their comings and goings.

MR. AND MRS. STEVENS were married Sept. 7, 1926, in Visitation Church, Detroit. They have lived in Plymouth for five years.

Mr. Stevens, who had his own business, now is retired. Mrs. Stevens' hobby is hand-painting china. "And I have painted the Chinese characters for tin-gee-pu-ya on pieces I've done for friends and family," she said.

The party was planned by their family. They are Mrs. John (Anna-Jo) Kenny of Plymouth, Mrs. Robert (Virginia) Meyers of Pinckney, James Stevens of Howell, Mrs. Ned (Mary Elizabeth) Pfieffer of Plymouth, John Stevens of Fairfield, Ohio, and Mrs. Ronald Sumner of Plymouth.

PARASOLS & Galoshes

By GAE McCORD

As childhood friends, Betsy O'Day and ex-Plymouthite Suzy Bellmore pledged that when they grew up and got married they would be in one anothers' wedding. The well-laid plans went astray, however, when Betsy joined her family in their move to Australia last February, and Suzy planned her marriage to Mike Mikall for Sept. 4. On Sept. 2 Betsy received a letter at the O'Day home in Melbourne stating that her presence at the festivities would be sorely missed.

"Not so," thought our lively heroine, "I shall just hop on a plane tomorrow, jet halfway around the world, and be there in time for the nuptials." And she did.

At 3:30 on the afternoon of the wedding she called Camille Zornow the bride's sister to announce her surprise arrival in Plymouth. After a joyous reunion, some quick persuasion, a dress fitting, and alot of tears, at 6:30 Maid of Honor Betsy preceeded her childhood friend down the aisle at Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville. As she danced to the strains of "Waltzing Matilda" at the reception, she vowed that even if she had to return to Australia that night the trip would have been worth the 32 hours of travel time.

Return she did not, however, as this column is being writtenMs. O'Day was having lunch with First Lady, Betty Ford, after which she planned to hit the compaign trail with the Marvin Esches for a few days before heading back to Melbourne.

Betsy brought good reports and lots of pictures of Bert, Jim, Peggy, Tim and Danny. She related that although July 4th was a rather nostalgic day for the O'Days, they all are enjoying their Australian expe-rience.

Speaking of Australia, isn't it lovely to see Carolyn Jacobs zipping around town once again? After three years down under, the Jacobs and their three children all will be on the same continent when John disembarks at Metro next Saturday. Jeff already has started his senior year at Dennison University, and Nancy is a freshman at the University of Michigan. But come Thanksgiving. Carolyn, John, and Plymouth Salem High junior Lynda will finally be under the Linden Street roof together.

Jo and Jack Wilson are also welcome returnees to the community orbit. Their return after over a year's residence in St Louis,Mo., came within days of daughter Shelly's wedding, and just in time to get settled in their new Colony Farms condominium before getting, Tom ready to head for Laurence Tech, and Brad enrolled at Plymouth Salem High School.

The magic magnet of Plymouth seems to be constantly at work; witness the many families who move away only to joyfully return to the fold. The Leonard Petzingers from Japan, the Fredrick Herrs from Philadelphia, the Smith Hortons from London, England, and the James Millers from Taiwan, all, have been welcomed home in the past months.

Flash... John and Margot Conn are absolutely ecstatic over the birth of their first grandchild. Young John William Waterston made Judy and Bill proud parents on Sept. 14 at University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

A tilt of the lace parasol to Mable Lorenz, that valiant lady, who, despite discomfort and difficulty in navigating, always has a smile, a cheery word and genuine concern for friends and acquaintances.

Ford Granada

The 1977 Granada has added styling flair to the sports coupe option on its base two-door models. A new seat trim and sports steering wheel are included with the outside dual color-keyed mirrors, style steel wheels with gold accents and trim rings, and the gold hood, bodyside and decklid paint stripes.

Automotive electronics doing more than ever

Electronics are increasingly taking over the operation of the automobile, the Automotive Informative Council reports.

There is plenty of evidence in current model vehicles like the electronic ignition system, computerized braking for heavy-duty trucks, constant temperature of interior air flow, digtal clocks, and—more recently—precise control of the firing of spark plugs.

That system that monitors the plugs is a development of Chryselr Corp. Called "lean burn," it permits a leaner fuel-air mixture that uses less gasoline and reduces emissions to a point where the catalytic converter is not needed under 1976 emission standards.

GENERAL MOTORS has announced an electronic system that automatically adjusts timing for optimum fuel economy, driveability and emission control. Called MISAR (Microprocessed Sensing and Automatic Regulation), it makes its debut on the 1977 Olds Toronado.

Upcoming from Chrysler is electronic fuel metering, a sophisticated feeding of gasoline to the engine through the carburetor. The goal of electronic fuel metering is better fuel economy. Ford Motor also is working on carburetor variation to produce more miles to the gallon.

WHAT WE HAVE at this point in automotive electronics history is impressive, but the future promises a whole lot more. Some of it is just around the corner.

One example is a mileage meter on the instrument panel that will tell the driver just how many miles to the gallon his engine is delivering. It even has a memory feature that retains the m.p.g. information and can produce it for comparison with a later mileage test on the car.

Perhaps, further down the road, electronics will take over the operation of the automatic transmission. Under computerized control of the shifting of gears, the driver won't notice any change or surge in power as the transmission moves into a higher gear. Just as important, the electronic transmission will reduce gas consumption.

And the day will come when digital callouts on the instrument panel will transmit information on virtually every working part of an automobile. By pressing a button and getting a readout, the driver of the future will be able to check on the oil pressure, the carburetor and even the water pump.

THANKS TO YOU IT WORKS... FOR ALL OF US

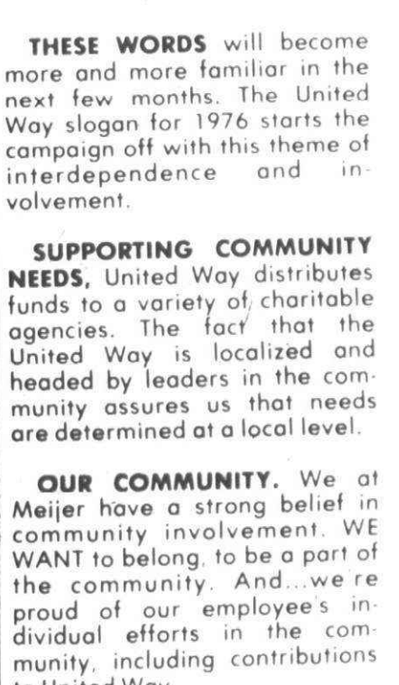
THESE WORDS will become more and more familiar in the next few months. The United Way slogan for 1976 starts the campaign off with this theme of interdependence and involvement.

SUPPORTING COMMUNITY NEEDS, United Way distributes funds to a variety of charitable agencies. The fact that the United Way is localized and headed by leaders in the community assures us that needs are determined at a local level.

OUR COMMUNITY. We at Meijer have a strong belief in community involvement. WE WANT to belong, to be a part of the community. And...we're proud of our employee's individual efforts in the community, including contributions to United Way.

ONE HOUR'S PAY PER MONTH is what it takes to help make it work -- for all of us. Because Meijer employees understand the needs and goals of the United Way, many have consistently given one hour's pay per month through payroll deduction.

PEOPLE HELPING PEOPLE. That's what the United Way is about. Meijer employees support the United Way...and we hope you will too.



Teresa Spyker was the chairperson in charge of the United Way Campaign at our Standale Store in 1975. Our Standale Store had 100% involvement. 55% gave one hour's pay per month and our other Standale employees gave varying amounts.

GET INVOLVED! It's your community. Show your community that someone cares. Thanks to you it works...for all of us!

MEIJER IS... HAPPY PEOPLE
