Salary hike hinted by administration

Canton Township's elected administrators are contemplating setting up a compensation commission that would determine whether they should receive a pay hike.

The issue was brought up at the last board meeting and tabled for further discussion at tomorrow's meeting.

Following the directions of Michigan Public Act 176, a local official's compensation commission would consist of five members who are registered voters in Canton appointed by the supervisor and subject to confirmation by the entire board.

Only elected officials who are paid on a salary basis would be evaluated by the compensation commission. In Canton this would mean that the supervisor, clerk and treasurer's salaries would be set by the board.

Clerk John Flodin introduced the agenda item saying that Canton officials might be overdue for a raise and a commission might be a fairer way to approach the matter than letting the elected officials decide for themselves.

At last Monday's special meeting Trustee Robert Myers said he would not accept a pay hike during his term of office.

But Flodin said that Canton admimistrators haven't received a pay hike since January of 1975.

Supervisor Harold Stein presently earns $19,488 per year; Flodin receives an annual salary of $18,288 and (part-time) Treasurer Anne Bradley is paid $7,500.

CANTON TRUSTEES are paid $40 per meeting. That cost will increase due to the fact that a study meeting on the first Monday of each month has been added effective Jan. 3.

Once the compensation commission makes its salary recommendation that salary becomes effective in 30 days unless rejected by the township board. If rejected, the existing salary is continued.

"If a wage adjustment is necessary, then this is something the board should address itself to," Flodin said. "I feel that a compensation commission would be a lot better than letting the officials do it. Always in the past it was the township board and we received a lot of criticism for adjusting our own raises."

Stein said that the commission members would have "to make sure the raises are commensurate with the obligations, liabilities and responsibilities of the office."

Flodin said the study would have to compare Canton official's pay scales with that of corresponding communities.

"But just looking at the figures doesn't tell the whole story," said Flodin. "To do it you have to know what kinf of job is being done by Supervisor Joe Podunk or Emily Clerk in that township. Some of these people don't do a thing and others are running the whole thing."

Once established, a compensation commission has 45 days to make its determination on salaries.

Midway Frame's safe stolen

By CRAIG PIECHURA

A 300-pound safe containing more than $2,000 was stolen from Midway Frame and Body Service at 43511 Michigan Ave. early Thursday morning.

The safe also contained car titles, a check book and papers, according to Det. Frank Harvey of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department. Harvey said the theft was discovered by the bump shop's owner, Rodrick T. McNeil, at 7 a.m. when he opened.

There were no signs of forced entry at the front door of the business where Harvey said "at least two theives" entered "between the hours of 2-7 a.m. with a key.

Patricia McNeil, co-owner, believes one of her employees lent the keys to his car to an acquaintance and that the individual made a duplicate.

"All employees volunteered to take a lie detector test if necessary," said Mrs. McNeil. "I don't think any of our employees was involved in this but I suspect it was an acquaintance of one."

Eight people employed at Midway Frame have access to the building, according to Det. Harvey, and six have keys. There is an alarm system in the shop. It was not turned on when McNeil arrived at work, said Harvey.

Word has gone out to area law enforcement agencies to detain one suspect for questioning in the robbery, the detective said. That suspect is reportedly an ex-roommate of one of the shop's employees.

A neighbor said he heard something at 2 a.m. and again at 5:30 a.m. coming from the vicinity of the frame shop. Det. Harvey explained that a woman who lives behind the business owns three German shepherds that normally bark at strange intruders. She told police that the dogs were quiet that morning.

"Possibly it was someone the dogs knew or someone who frequents the place," Harvey said. "But, again, we have made no final determination in this case."

Due to the fact that the safe weighed more than 300 pounds, Harvey said it is believed that more than one person took part in the break-in.

Mrs. McNeil said the company carries insurance on the building and the cars it repairs but she said Thursday night's loss was not covered by insurance.

'Master' of puppeteers moves

The adage that a prophet is without honor in his own country aptly describes Raymond Masters of Plymouth, puppeteer, actor, mime and director who has accepted a position with Theatre Arts of West Virginia, Inc.

Masters, a graduate of Bentley High School and Schoolcraft College in Livonia, will tour West Virginia and neighboring states with a marionette production of "The Emperor's New Clothes."

Masters, who lives on Union Street near Penniman Avenue, reports that of the more than one million children for whom he has performed with marionettes, none have been Plymouth children.

"Communities everywhere seem to believe that talent from elsewhere is better than local talent. If it is only elsewhere that I can perform, it's to elsewhere I'll go," Masters laments.

MASTERS, who has a BFA in theatre from Marygrove College, has performed many roles in local university theater.

He also has performed and directed in professional mime, musical, and marionette productions. He has been involved in workshops dealing with artistic interpreting for the deaf at Madonna and Marygrove Colleges.

Masters presently is constructing the intricate travelling stage on which the marionettes will perform in West Virginia. The puppets were constructed by Bert Merriam, former tour manager for Theatre West Virginia who now is an instructor at Michigan State University.

THE STAGE DECOR is being designed and built by Masters in Plymouth.

"My workshop on Union Street in downtown Plymouth has become a combination of Santa's workshop and the Bauhaus of Germany in the 1920s," says Masters. "The design and construction at Union Street are based on practicality but are tempered by fantasy."

The proscenium curtain for the West Virginia production was designed by Daniel R. Hershberger of Plymouth Township who shares Masters' studio.

Chief designer for Theatre West Virginia, Mike Hotopp, a leading New York scenic specialist, described the curtain as "dynamite," says Masters.

"He's right. It is superb. Yet he finds our artistic demands financially prohibitive for New York's union scene shops. The curtain may yet be executed in Plymouth.

"For me and my associates in Plymouth, commitment to the medium comes first. Money comes later. We may suffer financially because of this attitude, but we win aesthetically."

"The Emperor's New Clothes" will take Masters away from Plymouth through next June. He reports that he has no wish to leave Plymouth permanently.

Earlier this year, Masters had signed an option to sell his home and property to Forest City-Dillon if the senior citizen housing project was approved by voters in the November election. Another condition of that option was that Forest Dillon find Masters a new residence in Plymouth which would include space for his workshop.

But with defeat of the housing referendum, Masters now has full title to his property and is looking with excitement towards the tour of West Virginia.

Theatre West Virginia also produces two outdoor drams in Beckley, W. Va., and has several acting companies on tour concurrenlty with the marionette production.

Cemetery hearing delayed

A formal hearing to discuss equity problems in the Knollwood Cemetery's trust fund has been postponed until Jan. 18.

Knollwood Treasurer Gary Eppolito he will submit to the Michigan Cemetery Commission receipts that show final cash transfers of $70,030 to replace "non-liquid" assets of property which are presently being used as collateral.

George L. Bruce, of the cemetery commission, said last week that two of Knollwood's accounts were deficient in liquid assets (cash).

The Endowed Care Trust Fund is deficient by $952 and the Merchandise Trust Fund is deficient by $69,077, according to Bruce. He said it is because 61 acres of land in Clinton Township had been posted as collateral on the funds. Cemeteries are required by law to maintain trust funds in "pre-need" sales of crypts, mausoleums, graves and markers.

Ninety-five per cent of Knollwood Cemetery's business is done "pre-need," according to Eppolito, as an inevitable investment by many married couples.

Eppolito said that because the property which was placed as collateral is allegedly worth $150,000, Knollwood officials felt they were keeping more than a 2-1 equity in the fund. But the cemetery commission indicated that they want to see cash equity rather than real estate.

"I'VE ALREADY sent them receipts and commitment of cash funds," Eppolito claimed. "All we'll do is transfer equities. It's a simple process of correcting a technicality. It will be cash in 30 days. This whole thing has been blown out of proportion."

Eppolito said he is concerned about the effects of "bad publicity" on his cemetery's business.

"We are absolutely solvent," he said.

Half of the 61 acre parcel of land used as equity belongs to Sam Tocco of Mount Clemens—the principal owner of Knollwood Cemetery. The other half is owned by the Knollwood Memorial Park Merchandise Trust Fund.

The entire parcel is worth $300,000, according to Eppolito. He said half of its worth—which is twice the equity required in the merchandise fund—was in the fund.

"But they want it liquid and we'll make it cash," said Eppolito. It's foolish when you realize that the money will only earn 5½ per cent interest all those years. But we'll abide by their ruling. It's not good business."

He said the cemetery plans to build another mausoleum on the 100-acre grounds next year.

A total of 187 people are now buried at Knollwood, but Eppolito said the cemetery could accomodate 120,000 people in the future.

"We've only been in business seven years," Eppolito said. "It takes years to develop a nucleus of families who have your trust. Financial returns really are insignificant the first 20 years."

Attorneys are kept on

After considering hiring one official township attorney to sit in on board meetings, the Canton board of trustees instead voted last week to keep the present two law firms on in a contractual arrangment.

The firms of Travis, Warren, Nayer and Burgoyne; and Sempliner, Thomas and Guth do legal work for the township and were officially named by the board as attorneys of record.

But Supervisor Harold Stein indicated that other law firms would be hired periodically for individual cases if they are recognized "as experts in particular points of law."

"Some attorneys are better versed in certain areas and we would hire the best counsel for the particular situation," said Stein.

"We would pick the proper attorney when the case comes up and the firm would serve at the pleasure of the board," he said.

Homosexual rape at Dehoco is grim reality

By PATRICK TOUHEY

The Michigan State Police are currently investigating a criminal sexual assault charge at the Men' Division of the Detroit House of Corrections (DeHoCo). Perhaps the only thing unusual about it is that it was reported.

According to William Rucks, director of DeHoCo, there are no accurate figures on the number of forced sexual acts committed there because those involved fear reprisal or are too embarrassed to tell prison officials.

Homosexuality, despite the wide exposure it has received lately, is still a touchy subject. Homosexual rape in jails is even more touchy. Nobody is overly anxious to talk about it.

Prison officials fear scandal and bad publicity. The general public keeps itself in ignorance or takes the attitude that people in jail get what they deserve.

And besides that, after you've acknowledged the existence of the problem, what is there to do? There is no simple answer.

"Any time you have uni-sex populations, you are going to have homosexuality," stated T.K. Nelder, staff psychologist at DeHoCo. "That is just the way it is."

THE PROBLEM as Nelder sees it is not homosexuality itself but the possibility of violence that can be in any sexual relationship. He makes the distinction between those who voluntarily chose a homosexual adjustment and those who are forced into it against their will.

"Sexual assault in men's prisons is much different than it is in women's institutions," said Nelder, who spent 10 years as the psychologist at the Women's Division of DeHoCo.

"For men, it can be nothing more than sexual release. With women, it is more of an attempt to humiliate and demean the victim. In both cases, though, iy is a violent and aggressive means of assertion."

Nelder said the psychological damage done to male victims of homosexual rape is usually greater than that done to females. This is because the male victim is made to feel less masculine.

"If some guy is forced to become a passive sexual object for some other guy, he is made to feel that he has lost his masculinity. But if a woman is raped by another woman, she doesn't necessarily feel less feminine," he remarked.

IN LINE WITH Nelder's view that homosexual rape in prisons is a violent means of assertion is his statement that cases of sexual assualt have gone up in proportion to the number of inmates who are locked up for violent crimes.

"Up until five years ago sexual assualt in the women's jail was very rare," he said, "but as the inmates arrested for assault related crimes increased, the incidence of sexual attacks did also.

"Society is becoming more violent, so prison populations are becoming more violent."

Nelder said attacks on inmates could be cut down if there were more staff available to watch them. He also said that the use of closed circuit TV might help in providing protection.

FROM THE ADMINISTRATIVE standpoint a number of policies are followed to minimize the chances of sexual attacks ocurring.

Rucks said it is a general practice to put young, long-haired offenders in a barracks with older inmates where their chances of being assaulted are not as great.

"We check out the young guys," he said, "and if they look a little feminine, we try and keep them out of the general wards. You know, if someone comes in here with shoulder-length hair, some inmates are going to press him, and we would like to avoid that."

According to Rucks, there have been a number of times when third parties have reported cases of sexual assaults to prison officials even when the individual involved did not.

"Just because a person is in jail doesn't mean he has lost his moral values. Some guys will see someone being assaulted, and they don't like it. So they let us know."

However, Rucks said that in such situations it is not uncommon for the alleged victim to deny that anything happened, leaving officials with little recourse.

But Rucks emphasized that whenever there is a firm casee, the people involved are separated from the general inmate population, and the State Police are called in to conduct an investigation.

MARTHA WHEELER, superintendent of the Women's Division of DeHoCo, the only prison for women in the state, agrees with Nelder's belief that homosexual rape for women is of a much different character than it is for men.

She said as a general rule violent types of rape don't apply to women prison populations, but there were exceptions.

"Most of our women have had a very traditional rearing in terms of the female role," she said, "and that means they are more passive and less likely to be forcibly aggressive.

"There might be certain instances where there is strong-arming but not the kind that men can and do to each other."

She said that the only recourse the prison staff had was to watch inmates closely and punish those involved in infractions. But she felt these were only temporary measures.

"I suppose that the long-range solution would be to lock up as few people as possible," stated Ms. Wheeler. "But in that view I am swimming against the tide.

"The community seems to be telling us that it doesn't care what kind of impact a jail term has on the inmate. We are being told to lock them up for a long time."

She said that until society resolves its conflicts about what a prison is and what it is supposed to do, all the problems will remain.

Antique car shop hit by fire

The Plymouth and Plymouth Township fire departments battled flames for 3½ hours Thursday at the Antique Auto Restoration Service at 331 N. Main Street. Injured in the blaze was Edward Dittner, 20, of Livonia.

Dittner, an employee of the company, was taken to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia by the city rescue unit. A hospital spokesperson said his condition was good. He is suffering from first, second, and third degree burns on his legs and first degree burns on his hands.

ACCORDING TO Fire Chief George Schoenneman, the fire was the result of an explosion that ocurred when fumes from a can of paint thinner Dittner was using drifted toward the boiler room and ignited.

Schoenneman said the fire department responded to an alarm at about 6 p.m. When firefighters arrived on the scene, entire building was engulfed in smoke, and fire consumed a great portion of the downstairs, he said.

The township's snorkle unit was called in as it was feared flames would break through the roof of the building and set nearby structures on fire.

The fire was under control by 9:30 p.m., Schoenneman said.

He said two cars were damaged by flames and others may have suffered smoke and water damage. Total amount of damage is not known.

The building is owned by Ernest Zack of Livonia.

Some of the antique autos suffered smoke damage but the exact dollar loss from the fire was unknown at press time. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Blight fight sure ain't hay, it's last straw for farmer

By DARLENE STINSON

A court battle over an alleged violation of Canton's blight ordinance may be the last straw for long-time township farmer Roger Bordine.

The 54-year-old farmer, who owns a 50-acre centennial farm on Saltz, says he is nearing a decision to sell the land that has been in his family since 1835.

A pending court battle with the township over storage of wood and metal scraps on his farmland "is the straw that broke the camel's back," the long-time Canton resident admits.

Bordine and his brother, Duane, are charged with storing junk cars and "cast-off" materials on their farm in violation of the township's blight ordinance. The ordinace requires all persons to store inoperable equipment in sheds or another type of enclosure.

The Bordines have requested a jury trial in Judge Dunbar Davis' 35th District courtroom. Davis, who Wednesday held a pretrial hearing on the case, said he probably will schedule the trial for late January or early February.

But Bordine says the outcome of the trial probably will not influence his decision to sell his land.

Unlike his brother, Duane, who worked in Supervisor Harold Stein's election campaign and attributes the violation notice to political tricks of the former administration, Bordine attributes the court battle to Canton's growing urban community.

"The whole problem in a nutshell is that Canton is transferring from a farm community to a city," he says. "People move out to the township because they want to be in the country. But the minute they get here, they want everything the way they had it in the city."

Bordine says his father and his grandfather always stored farm machinery on their land. No one ever complained, he said, because storage of machinery in open fields was always viewed as part of the farmer's lifestyle.

"Over the years, we had no problems with anyone," Bordine said. "We don't even have any close neighbors. I wasn't even aware of that (blight) ordinance, until we were issued the violation.

"I can understand why they have to have a blight ordinance in a subdivision," he admitted, "but when you own a farm without any close neighbors, it seems they're trying to make a farm conform to subdivision property."

Since Canton's population began to grow in leaps and bounds a few years ago, Bordine says he has encountered all sorts of problems with subdivision residents.

He claims they've torn up his fields riding horses and snowmobiles, and vandalized his property.

"The court case is just one of the things that is making me think this is no longer a farminf community," he said, "and it's the last straw. People just don't realize that storing machinery is part of the country."

After selling his Canton property, Bordine says he may purchase "some small acreage away from the city and away from the hustle and bustle of the people."

Bordine says he has not discussed his decision to sell with his brother, Duane, who owns 10 acres adjoining his property.

School board could OK hiring of 4 supervisors

Filling of key positions is on the Plymouth Board of Education agenda tonight.

The board, at a 6:30 session, might approve hiring of persons to serve as supervisor of the school farm, as an attendance supervisor at the high schools, a representative on the Natural Areas Council, and an area coordinator for the Centennial Educational Park (CEP).

The board also might take action on new contracts for the central administration, and could vote to ratify a master agreement with maintenance and custodial workers.

On the agenda for discussion are a proposal to rename the school district to the Plymouth-Canton Community School District, proposed policy change on senior citizens admission to school activities, and proposed board bylaw changes to meet requirements of the new open meeting law to be effective April 1, 1977.

THE AREA COORDINATOR for the CEP being recommended by Supt. John M. Hoben is currently employed with the Garden City School District.

A farm supervisor is to be hired to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Danny Sandmann who had been serving as manager of the Rotary School Farm on Joy west of Plymouth Salem High.

The administration is recommending the apbointment of Sally DeRoo as the school representative on the Natural Areas Council, replacing Herb Conant.

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m., instead of the regular starting time of 7:30 p.m., because of a private tenure hearing scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Monday. The board meeting will be in the cafetorium of Plymouth Canton High on Canton Center Road, south of Joy.

THE SUGGESTION to change the name of the school district to include the name of Canton was made a few weeks ago but was tabled by the board to gain more community input.

Since then a survey has been taken by the School Communicators which the board will consider before making a decision.

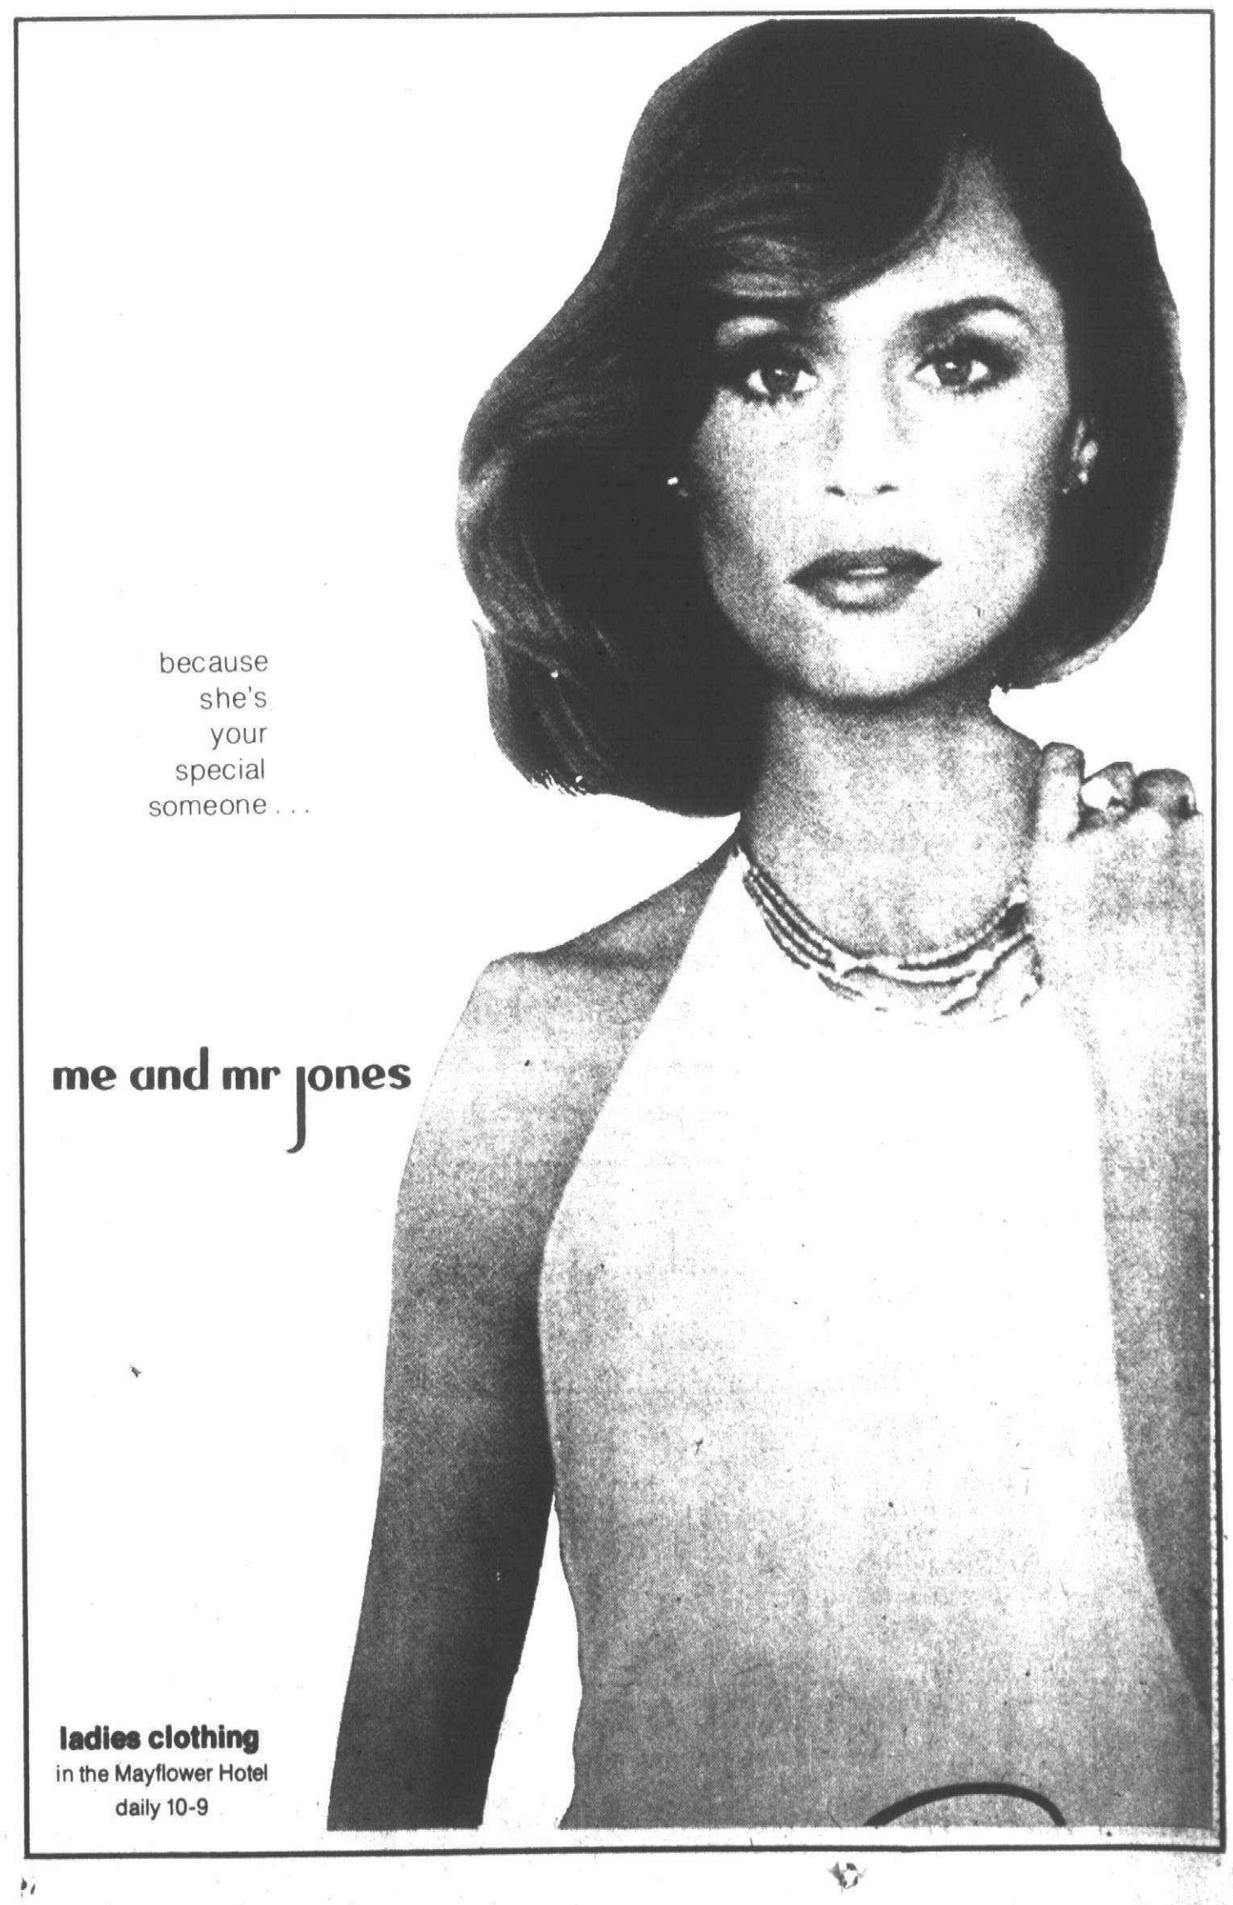

The policy change for senior citizens is intended to give persons 62 or older free admission to school activities, including adult education classes.

Other items on the board's agenda include: awarding of bid for fences and gates for Eriksson and Miller schools; acceptance of resignations and approval of new hires for the instructional staff; a decision to cancel the regularly-scheduled Dec. 27 meeting for expected lack of a quorum; and awarding of piano bid for Canton Phase III and the three new elementary schools.

The Stroller

A kingdom for a hat

By W.W. EDGAR

There is nothing more frustrating than to look for something you know must exist and not be able to find it.

That's the unenviable position The Stroller finds himself these days as he looks in vain for the one thing that would make his Christmas complete.

Ever since the last leaf fell and the cold blasts of winter swept over the landscape, he has been anxious to get a new hat to replace the old checkered chapeau that has been his trademark for some years.

At first thought, one might think it rather easy to satisfy the desire for a new hat. But when was the last time you saw one displayed in a shop window?

Even when you step inside a men's apparel shop and ask to look at men's hats you are apt to be greeted with a sort of sarcastic grin. More likely you'll meet the same fate as The Stroller did when the man behind the counter, after asking size regret answered, "we don't stock hats any more. And the few we have left over are the small sizes."

AFTER MAKING the rounds of the stores The Stroller sat back and watched the TV commercials feeling certain that his wants would be satisfied. For the better part of two weeks he has kept his eye glued to the screen— and has yet to see a hat od any kind displayed.

Sitting there in his easy chair in the evening The Stroller is "treated" to all sorts of commercials. They run the gamut from new style women's panty hose to the latest and easiest ways to bake pies. He even has sat through dozens of commercials telling the value of dog foods. But no hats.

There was a spark of hope the other evening when a gentleman walked on the screen wearing the latest model business clothes imported directly from England. The commercial stressed the cut of the trousers and the fit of the coat and the "class" of the vests that have now returned to style.

And if the vests catch on, there is little doubt that John Cameron Swayze, who has been sellind Timex watches on the screen for years, will turn back the clock and offer us the old-fahioned open face watch and chain.

But in all the commercials there was nary a hat.

"We don't stock men's hats any more," one clothing store operator explained, "there was not enough call for them."

Isn't that frustrating— men's hats going out of style?

IN HIS FRUSTRATION The Stroller sat there and wondered just what happened.

Suddenly, the reason came to him. The passing of men's hats can be blamed on the White House. Sure, the President has many problems on his mind— the economy, unemployment, foreign policy and the energy condition. These things should be enough of a burden.

But who was the last president you know who wore a hat?

Jimmy Carter, the incoming chief executive, hasn't worn a hat on any of his TV appearances. President Jerry Ford also has frowned on wearing a hat unless he goes skiing. Then he wears a knitted cap.

Before him Nixon was a proponent of the bare headed ranks and John Kennedy before him wouldn't look the part if he ever was seen wearing a hat. His locks were always flaunting in the wind.

One has to go back to good old "Ike"— President Eisenhower— to find a hat-wearing executive. And he even caused a rift when he chose to wear a homburg even in the Inaugural Parade.

efers a cap.

Mike Hoben the superintendent of schools, braves the weather bare-headed. So do the other officials. And The Stroller never has seen Livinia Mayor Mc Namara or any of the city councilmen wearing a hat.

Undaunte, however, The Stroller is going to keep watching the tube and the latest style magazines. Somewhere along the way his hunt should be rewarded— hopefully in time for Christmas.

"My kingdom for a hat."

Maps priced two-thirds less

The Plymouth Community Maps being sold are a greater bargain than previously reported.

In fact, the maps are being sold for two-thirds less than reported in the Dec. 9 edition of the Observer. The maps produced by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce are being sold at 50 cents each, not $1.50 as reported.

Maps may be obtained from the chamber office in the Colony Plaza Center at Forest and Wing or from any of the 86 local merchants whose advertisements appear on the map.

Anyone wanting flat maps for framing, however, must purchase them at the chamber office.

BRIAN GOLTZ

Airman Brian D. Goltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goltz of McClumpha, Plymouth, has been assigned to Wurtsmith AFB, Mich., after graduation from the jet engine mechanic course at Chanute AFB, Ill.

Goltz, a 1974 graduate of Plymouth Salem, was trained to inspect and repair turbojet and gas turbine engines and now will serve with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

SC registers for winter

Early registration for the winter semester at Schoolcraft College will be in Garden City and on the Livonia campus in December.

Students who plan to attend classes at the Harrison Center or the Industrial Complex in Garden City can register at the Harrison gym from 1-8 p.m. Dec. 13. The center is at 6701 Harrison, three blocks east of Garden City East High School.

New non-resident students planning to attend Harrison can register from 7-8 p.m. Further information is available at 425-3380.

Advance registration for students planning to attend on-campus classes has been scheduled for Dec. 14-16. Students should register according to student number sequenece between 10 a.m and 7 p.m. in the Waterman Campus Center. This registration is not open to new winter students who are non-residents.

Questions or problems in regard to registration will be answered by the registrar's office at 591-6400, ex. 225.

State in wrong direction

Attorneys kept

If a matter involving zoning became the subject of a legal dispute, Stein said the township would probably contact Bert Burgoyne.

"Burgoyne is an expprt on condemnation and zoning. I would assume he will continue to handle all condemnation proceedings," Stein said.

The Sempliner law firm would handle al cases in the 35th District Court and, according to Clerk John Flodin, would be tapped to represent the township in the area of land use.

There had been previous board discussion about whether the board should hire an attorney to sit at official meetings to give advice. This idea was rejected by the board last week.

"From what I gather speaking to various attorneys, I find that they don't want to subject the township to a $75 an hour expense to attend the meetings," Flodin said.

While emphasizing the fact that other law firms will be hired for special cases, Stein said it would be "a tremendous mistake" to remove Sempliner or Burgoyne from any case that is pending.

According to the supervisor any time a lawyer is taken off a case, expense incurred by a new lawyer is high because he must repeat legal research.

Congress wastes energy

Editor:

The organization of Congress has sometimes been compared to that of a medieval state. Altough the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946 greatly reduced the number of standing committees of Congress and streamlined their operations, the legislative topics which are prevalent in today's society were only dimly perceived in 1946. It is not surprising that some of the committees established 30 years ago have little or nothing to do, while others are overburdened.

Perhaps the most obvious illustration of the problem with the present alignment of committee jurisdiction would be energy.

There are 14 standing committees, two select committees, 30 subcommittees and one panel that share jurisdiction over the Energy Research and Development Administration. If there were not such a myriad of committees and subcommittees in the Senate with responsibility for some aspect of energy legislation, the Senate would have been better equipped to forcefully and proficiently deal with the formidable problems involved in the energy crisis that arose in the fall of 1973.

In an effort to move towards a consolidated reorganization of the Senate, Senators Adlai Stevenson (D-Ill.) and Bill Brock (R-Tenn.), as co-chairman of the temporary select committee to study the senate committee system, are chiefly responsible for getting committee reorganization to the action level.

The Stevenson-Brock plan does not meddle with the major committees (appropriations, armed services, finance, foreign relations, and judiciary). It does call for for a substantial realignment and consolidation of committee jurisdictions in areas of energy policy, international economics and human resources.

The provisional plan will abolish 17 of the existing 31 committees (standing, select and joint) and reduce subcommittees from 174 to approximately 100.

The reorganization plan will perpetuate a rational and more proficient committee process.

The plan would permit senators to serve on only two standing committees, one select or temporary committee, and on only five subcommitees. Presently, some senators occupy 30 committee posts.

Thus the reorganization plan's clearest gains would be in clarifying committee responsibilities and reduction of senator's assignments. Hence, the plan would allow senators to be far more effective in their assigned duties.

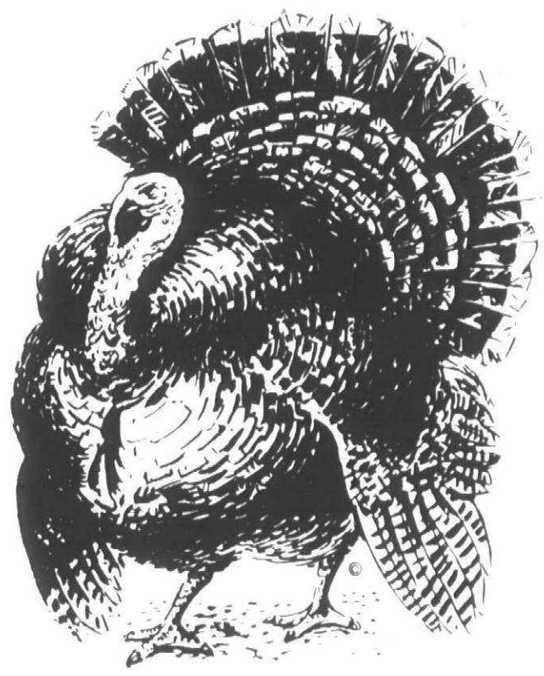

There is a myth that the U.S. Senate is unable to alter its traditional practices and procedures. This myth can be overcome! We, the citizens, must gear up for a massive letter-writing campaign to Senators Don Riegle and Robert Griffin. Urge their support for the committee reorganization plan.

The address for letters is: U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510. As citizens in a democratic society we must take heed of the fact that this is our county, right or wrong. When right, to be kept right; when wrong, to be put right.

Bertha Wummell is missing this year as a Salvation Army bell-ringer and salesman of the War Cry. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Salvation Army veteran missing this Christmas

By W.W. EDGAR

For more than 13 years, Bertha Wummel has been walking up and down Main Street attired in her blue uniform of the Salvation Army. But she isn't braving the ice and snow this year. She has retired.

Though she won't be seen, Bertha still is filled with the spirit of the holidays and spends these wintery afternoons in her apartment in Tonquish Creek Manor making wall decorations out of plastic and paper to use as gifts.

"I just couldn't walk the streets any more," the 74-year-old Salvation Army veteran confided. "I enjoyed every minute of my travels, but I finally told them that they should get someone else."

Asked how many miles she figured she walked during the 13 years, she leaned back in her chair, raised a hand in puzzlement and answered. "Only God knows. I'm sure I don't, though it was a good many."

Some of her paper and plastic creations are masterpieces. They range from simple wall decorations made from the folded pages of the TV guide to complex floral arrangements.

Sitting in her favorite chair, Bertha recalled that she had watched many of the business grow up. "About the oldest business," she said, "I guess it would have to be the old Beyer Drug Store at Main Street and Mill.

"I got to know all the merchants—they sort of looked for me—and I always have been treated fine."

She confided she will miss many of these businessmen now that she is not making the rounds anymore with the latest copies of "The War Cry."

"But I go up to the dime store (Kresge's) and meet a lot of my old friends up there. We have some great visits."

Bertha wasn't awlways confined to the Plymouth area. When she came out here from Highland Park in 1959, she covered the entire west side suburbs—Garden City, Westland and Wayne. She moved, she said, "because there are too many steps at the homes in Highland Park. I found them too difficult and now I find it too difficult to walk the distances I used to walk out here."

Several years ago, she pointed out, the Salvation Army policy changed and each corps had to confine itself to its own area. That cut her territory to Plymouth and made her a familiar sight and a pleasant person to meet each week downtown.

"I'll be around for quite a while," she said as she displayed a floral piece fitted into a salad dressing bottle. "I like Plymouth. I have watched the business-men grow and I have watched the children grow up. And I have seen many changes. But it has been great.

Too many persons, these cold gray days would be monotonous. But not for Bertha. She keeps busy with pasting the TV guide pages, making floral pieces out of plastic.

"I can't work on these things as much I used to because my arthritis bothers me. But I manage to get quite a bit done."

Blood donor need is topic

Two representatives from the American Red Cross will speak on the need for blood donors when they appear before the Kiwanis Club of Colonial Plymouth Dec. 16.

The Kiwanis luncheon begins at noon in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel. Luncheon is $4. Those wanting to hear the program but miss lunch may attend at 12:45 p.m.

Speaking will be Richard K. O'Neil, regional representative for the American Red Cross, and Robert Ayotte, Wayne County regional manager.

They will speak about the need for blood donations, particularly during the holiday season, and the various services and programs provided by the Red Cross.

Ayotte has four years of Red Cross experience encompassing areas of service to military families, disaster services, and special projects coordinator with the office of volunteers.

O'Neil, who has been with the Red Cross eight years in both part-time and staff positions, has worked with the blood center in areas of collections, processing, distribution, data retrieval, maintenanace and donor resources.

Salem's 4th quarter burst tames Panthers

Rock roundballers rip Redford Union

By FRED DeLANO

Fred Thomann is apt to age visibly ere this winter is over, but he won't be alone. Many more nights of watching Thomann's Plymouth Salem basketball team playing possibly their worst and then one of their best quarters back to back and we'll have a host of Rock rooters calling for canes, crutches and wheelchairs.

For the record, Salem disposed of Suburban Eight rival Redford Union Friday night, 64-45. This was the Rocks' 31st victory in their last 32 home games, putting them at 4-0 for the season and keeping them in a first place Sub 8 tie at 2-0 as they keep grasping for an unprecedented fourth straight title.

In retrospect, the victory was an easy one over the winless and far less aggressive than usual Panthers from RU, for after the Rocks broke a 2-2 tie on a Tom Ellinghausen corner shot two minutes and 20 seconds into the first period they never were behind.

But it wasn't that simple.

THE 12-POINT LEAD that Plymouth had built up at 25-13 on a scoring spree sponsored by Rich Hewlett, Chris DeBear, Doug Agnew, John Broderick and Ellinghausen early in the second period faded to a nine-point margin by halftime and then to only six (41-35) moments into the fourth period.

Impatience in attacking RU's zone defense led to a Plymouth production of only eight points in the third stanza. It's the worst the Rocks have done on the scoreboard in any given quarter this season. It included lone field goals by Ellinghausen, Hewlett and Bruce Gerish, plus two Ellinghausen free throws.

Countering that, however, was a Salem defense which saved the day with clawing ball-hawking tactics and jumping jack agility which eventually led to Salem's 34-19 edge in rebounds.

Observer SPORTS

8A (P.C) Monday, December 13, 1976

WITH 7:23 REMAINING, and Plymouth nursing that slim six-point lead, Hewlett—who just might be the best sophomore guard in the state—touched off the fuse by successfully converting two free throw chances.

Ellinghausen picked up another charity toss a few seconds later and all of a sudden the whirlwind was roaring. When it was over Salem had poured in 14 straight points to zero for RU, vaulting Salem from that risky 41-35 lead to a mother-comforting 55-35 edge. From then on it was like shooting fish in a barrel.

Coupled with last week's come-from-behind overtime triumph over Dearborn, however, this nervous approach to keeping the victory skein going isn't doing much good for spectator nerves. They won't get much better this week either when the Rocks invade the lair of the sharp-fanged, potent Trenton Tigers.

OF NOTE is the fact that Mike Christie, who had won a starting berth at guard off performances in earlier games, did not even suit up against RU because of a sprained ankle. In his absence Agnew filled in admirably as a running mate for Hewlett.

Top scorers for the Rocks in a so-so 44 per cent shooting performance were Ellinghausen and Hewlett, each with 19 points. In double figures for Redford Union were Jim Grimwade with 14 and Mike Petsch with 10.

Thomann used all 12 of his players, and all except Bob Hissom put points on the board. The scorebook indicates that Salem's defense was outstanding, for the Panthers hit only 32 per cent of their shots from the floor, making only seven field goals in the last three periods. However, Trenton will answer the question of whether it really was RU's ineptness or Plymouth's prowess that made the statistics so one-sided.

Late rally falls short

Chiefs blitzed by Western

By DENNIS O'CONNOR
Sports Editor

Walled Lake Western's basketball team can no longer be considered the laughing stock of the Western Six League—and Plymouth Canton can vouch for that.

The Warriors and the Chiefs opened the Western Six schedule Friday night in Walled Lake and the home team edged out a 74-71 victory.

Western had the upper hand most of the game, leading by as many as 12 points with six-and-one-half minutes left in the contest. Only a late surge by the Chiefs made the game close but Canton never had the lead after the first three minutes of play.

"Obviously, we underestimated them," said Canton coach Casey Cavell. "You can't win a game playing only the last three minutes.

"They (the Canton players) know they can beat Western and they rely on that. They were lying back and waiting for the score to go down.

"They didn't play a team game. We have to play like a team to do anything.

"I knew Western was better than last year. They played better than we did tonight."

THE CHIEFS entered the fourth period trailing 56-49 and promptly saw that margin extend to 11 points when the Warriors sunk the first two baskets of the quarter.

Western's lead grew to 70-58 with six minutes left when Canton began its late rally. Canton converted Warrior turnovers into five quick baskets to bring them within two points with 2:40 remaining. Randy Rienas and Mike Albright led the Chiefs' surge with the only offensive penetration the squad could muster all night.

Canton had a chance to tie the score with 1:43 remaining but a turnover gave Western the ball with that slim two-point margin which was never threatened after that.

CANTON FELL behind early in the contest when the Warriors scored six straight points to gain a 13-7 advantage. The Chiefs played slowly in the first half, not reacting well on defense and failing to work for the good shot on offense.

Western combined its excellent outside shooting with timely offensive rebounds to jump into a 21-12 lead after the first eight minutes of play.

Senior guard Dave Wallace gave the fans a glimps of what he was capable of doing with a respectable eight-point performance in that first quarter. Wallace displayed torrid shooting in that first quarter by sinking four baskets, all on 15-foot jumpers. He continued shooting at an unbelievable percentage throughout the game, totaling his game-high 22 points.

Backcourt mate Louis Soma also joined the act with 17 points most of which came from the outside. In fact, in that final quarter, when the Chiefs frantically tried to get back into the game, Wallace and Soma would consistantly pop in 20-footers that swished the nets while their teammates stood around watching.

Canton's Randy Rienas and Mike Ley were inserted into the line up in the second period and began controlling the boards. The Chiefs scored 21 points in that period to close the gap to four, 37-33, at halftime. Rienas scored his first eight points in that span.

Canton once again fell behind by a 13-point margin at one time in the third quarter before a late rally narrowed the margin to seven going into those final eight minutes. Rienas continued his fine inside play with another eight points in that quarter. He finished the game as Canton's leading point producer with 21.

Albright's late scoring resulted in his 14 point total. Butch King added 11. Rob Mandle finished with nine and Keith Fuelling chipped in with eight.

Western's Marty Kaszubowski finished with 12 and Floyd Victery added 11.

THE CANTON JUNIOR varsity won its second game of the season with a 58-46 victory over the Warriors in the preliminary game. Canton JV is 2-2 for the season.

Plymouth Canton (71): Rob Mandle 4, 1-1, 9, Albright 5, 4-5, 14, King 5, 1-2, 11, Fuelling 2, 4-10, 8, Russ Mandle 0, 2-2, 2, Rienas 9, 3-4, 21, Lev 1, 0-0, 2, Randazzo 2, 0-0, 4. Totals: 28, 13-29, 71.

Northville's next

Rock tankers win easily

The Plymouth Salem boys swim team won its second meet of the season Thursday night with an easy 97-74 non-league victory over Livonia Stevenson at the Plymouth pool.

Salem's record is a perfect 2-0 but the Rocks have yet to be tested. The other Rock victory came last week over a young Thurston team.

"The meet (against Stevenson) wasn't that close," Salem coach Byron Williams said. "It could have been worse but I did a lot of experimenting."

Salem's times improved overall, but many of the swimmers were not tested in their races.

THE ROCKS first big meet of the season is tomorrow night when they face rival Northville which always sports a strong team.

"We have a shot at beating them in the five-lane pool," Williams said. "We don't have too much depth but at Northville you enter only two swimmers for each event."

The only Salem swimmer who tangled with strong competition was senior star Ron Finley who swam against Stevenson's best tanker Tom Smith.

Finley battle Smith in the 200 and 500 freestyle races and came out with sparkling results. The Rock tanker qualified for the season-ending state meet in both these events. It was the third and fourth race Finley has swam for qualification.

Smith likewise qualified for state but all he could muster was a tie in the 500 free.

Finley won the 200 race with a 1:48.3, only one-tenth of a second away from a school record. Smith was second at 1:48.5.

Both tankers tied in the 500 with a 4:53.1 clocking. Salem's Tim Ying finished third in both races.

Salem's Tom Rubadue and Mike Etienne dominated the sprint races with first and second place finishes in the 50 and 100 freestyle races.

The Rocks took eight of the 11 first place finishes and won both relays.

Grapplers square off at CEP

Wrestling fans from around the area will be treated to a double dual meet tomorrow night at the Plymouth Centennial Education Park on Joy and Canton Center Roads.

Plymouth Canton, Plymouth Salem, Livonia Franklin and Clarenceville will tangle in varsity competition beginning at 6 p.m. at the Salem High School gym.

Salem and Canton will not face each other but each will battle Franklin and Clarenceville in two dual meets.

Chiefs crush Southfield

Plymouth Canton's wrestling team won its third dual meet of the young season Thursday night with a 63-8 shellacking of Southfield High School The victory boosted the Chiefs' record to 3-0 for the year.

Senior captain Bill Heeedum led the Canton charges with a 2:39 pin in the 105 weight class. That victory boosted Heedum's record to 11-1 including nine pins.

Canton's Craig Lee recorded the fastest pin of the meet with a :21 triumph over his opponent.

Scott Collins won his 145-pound match with the slowest pin of the night, waiting until three seconds were left in the match. Collins was ahead 13-3 at the time of the pin.

The lone Southfield winner was Steve Kendler at 178 pounds. He pinned Canton's Rich Burger at 1:55.

Southfield's Jeff Armsmen and Canton's Greg Procter battled to a 6-6 tie in the 132 match. The Chiefs' Kyle Heaton beat Eugene Zakzrowski 10-1 in the 155 class. Heaton lost to this Southfield opponent last season 2-1.

The most exciting match of the night was the 165 battle between Dennis Howell of Canton and Pete Gafton of Southfield. They battled to a 6-6 standoff with 20 seconds remaining in when Gafton bit Howell and was penalized the deciding point.

"That's the way things have been going for us this year," said Canton coach Dan Chrenko. "Last year we would have lost this match.

"I'm looking forward to wrestling some tough people," the Canton mentor said. "We've got something going and we're going to fight for every win."

The Chiefs recorded seven more pins in this Southfield match which gives them a total of 46. Canton totaled 49 pins as a team for the entire season last year.

PLYMOUTH CANTON—SOUTHFIELD

98 pounds— Danny March (Canton) won by forfeit.

105 pounds— Heedum (Canton) pinned Stone (South), 2:39.

112 pounds— Lee (Canton) pinned Van Conant (South), :21.

119 pounds— Bartlett (Canton) pinned Kanaby (South), 1:40.

126 pounds— Rey (Canton) pinned Deitrich (South), 1:41.

132 pounds— Procter (Canton) and Armsmer (South) tied 6-6.

138 pounds— Cliffton (Canton) pinned Klein (South), 1:35.

145 pounds— Collins (Canton) pinned Gragner (South), 5:57.

155 pounds— Heaton (Canton) major decisioned Zakzrowski (South), 10-1.

165 pounds— Howell (Canton) dec. Gafton (South), 7-6.

178 pounds— Kendler (South) pinned Burger (Canton), 1:55.

191 pounds— Caudwell (Canton) pinned Allan (South), :47.

Heavyweight— Walker (Canton) won by forfeit.

Surprising Belleville wins

Rocks fall to Tigers

The Plymouth Salem wrestling team was shocked by an upstart Belleville squad 32-22 in the opening Suburban Eight League meet at Belleville Thursday night.

While Salem coach Ron Krueger expected the conference race to be tough, he didn't expect the young Tiger team to figure in the outcome.

"They are awesome," Krueger said. "I couldn't believe it. They had four strong 10th graders and good ninth graders.

"I thought we had a good lineup and I can't take anthing away from Belleville. Right now they are the team to beat.

"We would have to win the rest of our dual meets and take the league meet to share the title (if Belleville goes undefeated)," Krueger said.

"This might be the finest Belleville team ever; they won the league two years ago.

"We walked into this meet not knowing what to expect. They had everybody cut down and they were ready.

"I'd like to wrestle them later in the year when we were ready."

The Tigers topped Salem in seven of the 13 weight classes, but the Belleville pins proved the difference.

Randy Vipperman started the Rocks' night with an easy 9-0 win over John Chapman, but Belleville's Joe Justin pinned Terry Ward at 5:16 in the 105 match. It was the first competition Ward has had since he was injured two weeks ago.

Rene Leist of Salem wrestled a good match against respected Scott Harsh and beat the Belleville opponent 3-2. Steve Ernst lost a decision to one of the Tigers top wrestlers Mark Ford 9-1.

Rich Saunders rebounded the Rocks' chances at 126 with another tough 1-0 victory over Mike Melzna. The Rocks' Jim Ross followed with a 10-0 loss to highly-rated Carl Winkoff.

Steve Scruggs and Carl McNulty lost match decisions to Belleville's Brent Verot and Stan Johnson before Jeff Fidge beat sophomore Tom Mumering 5-3.

The Tigers followed with two more victories over Matt Wilkins and Jerry Ottenhoff. Don Woodbe beat Wilkins 7-0 and Rick Briggs pinned Ottenhoff at 4:28.

The Rocks finished the night on a winning note with victories by Dave Champion (191) and Bob Dasher (heavyweight).

Canton swimmers win opener, 94-78

By BILL COLLINS

You have to begin a swimming season sometime, and contrary to recognized belief, the season opener may not give an accurate indication of what to expect during the following months. Thursday evening, Plymouth Canton christened its winter campaign in fine fashion by carving a 94-78 win over Walled Lake Western.

"When you take everything into consideration, we did fairly well," said Canton coach William Faunce. "Without our number two all-around swimmer, it is difficult to tell how we're going to go from here," he added, referring to the injured Dave Tanner.

Senior Kevin Harris received the plaudits of coach Faunce for his efforts in swimming more than his share of events. "It was Harris' versatility that saved the day," said Faunce.

Harris set a new school record in the 200-yard freestyle. His 1:54.7 finish lowered the previous standard by eight-tenths of a second. Harris cruised to victory in the 500-freestyle, unaware that he could have easily broken the school mark in that event.

Another double-winner was senior Jamie Greenwood, who claimed victories in the 50-yard free (24.7), and the 100-free (57.0).

Other winners included Steve Wood in the 100-butterfly (1:01.7). "Steve is starting better than last year," said Faunce. Bob Klein lowered a personal best in winning the 100-backstroke in 1:04.2. "Bob got beat in the I-M race, but used excellent strategy in the backstroke by moving out in front and staying there," said Faunce.

Terry Sullivan swam a similiar pattern when he copped the top spot in the 100-breaststroke in 1:14.3. Scott Wales won the diving competition (188.9), with boardmate Scott Gray placing fourth.

The 400-yard freestyle relay quartet of Mike Gaab, Tom Simrak, Harris and Wood sped to victory in 3:44.8. Sullivan, Retting, Wood, and Greenwood cemented the win by taking the individual medley relay in 1:56.0.

Men's cage results

The undefeated Side Street Pub handed Wagenshutz its second defeat of the young basketball season with a 78-72 victory in the Plymouth Men's Basketball League.

Side Street couldn't mount more than an eight point lead in the tough, up and down battle. Side Street was led by Mark Reed and Bob Blohm with 18 points each and Don Gullekson with 17.

Game-scoring honors went to Mark Falvo and Brent Boegler of Wagenschutz with 22 points each.

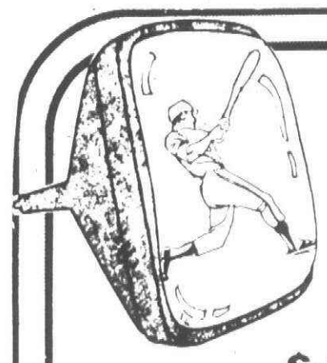

The second Monday night game featured Century 21 drubbing Richardson's 74-30. Century lead all the way in a convincing performance against the outmanned Richardson club. Pacing the Century scoring attack was Bob Kellman with 22. Tom Davis added 21 and Dan Moore chipped in with 19.

On Wednesday night, Little Caesar evened its record at 1-1 by stopping Morrell's Builder's 65-61. Mary Blemly of Morrell was a one-man scoring machine hitting 16 of his game-high 25 points in the fourth quarter.

Jim Silva of Caesar contributed 11 of his 17 points in the fourth quarter as well. Caesar's Erickson added 19 points while Jim Szchzechowski of Morrell pumped in 19.

Side Street built up an 18-0 lead and coasted to a 72-61 triumph over Air Tito Insulator in a battle of the undefeated.

Side Street 'guard Rick Neu found the bucket for 21 points and back court mate Bob Blohm hit for 14. Casey Jones led Air Tite with 14.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

WITH THE increased interest in mixed bowling throughout the entire metropolitan area, a movement is now underway to develop an all-star mixed league.

Monte Oncza, a former all-star bowler, conceived the idea and now is sending out "feelers" to many of the teams to learn whether they would join the organization.

If plans materialize, the league will bowl at Westland Bowl on Wayne Road. The one big question is the make-up of the teams.

" At the moment," Oncza said, "we don't know whether to have mixed teams or ladies teams bowling against the men's teams. Either way it should be interesting."

Any interested bowlers may contact Monte at Westland Bowl.

MARGE KROPACEK, the Plymouth housewife who captains the Mr. F. team in the ladies all-star leagues, called the other morning to tell of an unusual incident.

At the sound of her voice, it was felt that she was reporting the scores of her team—as she usually does—but instead, she revealed something really different.0

"Would you believe it," she said in a very excited voice, "I just heard from a man whom I gave a bowling lesson in my kitchen a week ago—and he bowled a 260 game in a 697 series.

"His name is Bob Bewbough and he was having a terrible time.

"I watched him and then called him into the kitchen and showed him that his timing was off. In a short time, he was straightened out—and can you imagine that score." Marge, who took up bowling to help remedy an ailing back, is a keen student of the game and Bob Newbough is not the first to be given a lesson in her kitchen.

THE 700 BARRIER finally was broken again in the Wonderland Classic this week.

After an absence of the big series for several weeks, Hugh O'Neil, of the Roma Hall team, posted a 704 to help his mates post a 3,223 series to pace the entire league.

George Bashara always has been proud of the juniors being developed at Wonderland and this week he really got a thrill when one of teams rolled a 1,019 game. Tim Wilson paced the team with a 245 and Anita Luka showed the way for the girls with a 221 game.

AT GARDEN LANES the chief topic of discussion this week is the performance of Al Crawford, an 82-year-old kegler.

Taking his regular turn in the senior citizens league, he rolled a 218 game that helped to post a 531 series. It was one of the best of the year.

In the Classic, Al Massacar moved to the head of the parade with a 624. At this figure, he had a lead of four pins over George Hollabaugh.

In the ladies league, May Lackey was the pacemaker with a 623—the only double century of the day. Behind her came Jean Thomas with 591 and Gloria Howell with 557.

A passing tip to a bowler proved just enough to help him take top place in the 700-800 league at Westland.

"I was walking by," Midge Poshka said, "and I noticed his elbow was out too far. I told him. And all he did was roll games of 205, 225 and 183 for a 608. And that's not bad for a 159-average bowler."

The high man for the night in the men's league was Dan Rousseau who had a 266 game in a 554 series.

In the ladies circuit, Del McCallum had a 218 in a 581 series.

SCORING SOARED in the senior house at Merri-Bowl, where Chuck Newburg fashioned a 269 in 671 and John Watkins had a 256 in 646.

KAREN DELAZZER joined the select group of bowlers who have converted the almost "impossible" 7-10 split at Bel-Aire Lanes.

Carrying a 110-average in the Independence Green League, she looked at the two standing pins, stepped to the line and let go. Now she's among the most select group in the art of toppling tenpins.

FRANK PENDOLA had an unusal experience in the Junior House league at Cloverlanes. At the ripe old age of 66, he fashioned a 250 and then wound up with a 605 serirs.

Meanwhile, Jim Jaffee is on his best scoring spree of the season. He rolled a 654, his sixth double century series in the past 12 weeks.

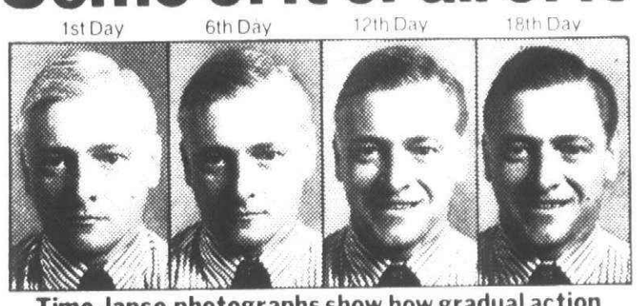

Carl Watkins paced the circuit with a 279 in 662, with Doc Holloday next in line with a 236 in 656. Chuck Wendt landed third with 235 in 655.

Get Rid of Gray Hair Some of it or all of it

Time-lapse photographs show how gradual action of Grecian Formula 16 lets you control just how much gray you slowly get rid of - some of it or all of it.

White Plains, N.Y. — Hundreds of thousands of men all over the country are now using a remarkable product to control just how much gray they slowly get rid of. It is called Grecian Formula 16 and the results are simply amazing. Grecian Formula 16 is a practically clear liquid, as easy to use as hair tonic. This remarkable formula works for any color hair because it combines with the natural chemistry of the hair to recreate natural-looking color. There is no mess and no rub-off. You simply use it every day for two or three weeks until you slowly get rid of just as much gray as you want. Some of it, most of it or all of it. You can stop where you like. You are in complete control of how much gray goes or stays. Once you get rid of as much gray as you want, simply use Grecian Formula once a week or so to keep it that way. Since Grecian Formula 16 works gradually over a period of time, even close friends won't notice the change happening. The resulting color is so completely natural that the hair definitely does not have a dyed look. Grecian Formula 16 is available at

City protests suburb's share of road funding

By TIM RICHARD

Detroit Mayor Coleman Young threw a hitch into the Wayne County Road Commission's effort to fund a long list of road, bridge and airport projects in the western suburbs of the county.

Detroit Friday got the executive committee of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) to reject, 9-8, the road commission's so-called "annual element" in the amended 1976-77 transportation improvement program.

SEMCOG approval is virtually a necessity for the disbursement of federal funds because the federal government requires regional planning agency approval before money flows in.

THE DETROIT objection was that the road commission "totally ignored everything in Wayne County east of the Rouge River," in the words of William Ciluffo.

Ciluffo is administrative aide to Mayor Young. Young is a member of SEMCOG's executive committee but has never attended a SEMCOG meeting in the three years he has been mayor of Detroit. Instead, he sends Ciluffo, who speaks with all the authority of the mayor.

"The road commission went ahead and made application for federal public works funding but didn't check with anybody" in local governments, Ciluffo complained. He said the objection applied not only on behalf of Detroit but also Hamtramck, Highland Park, the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods.

"Out of $44 million in projects, only $600,000 worth are in the City of Detroit, and we have 60 per cent of the population," Ciluffo said.

REDFORD TOWNSHIP Supervisor Patrick McDonald, attending his first meeting as an executive committee member, voted with the minority for approval of the road commission's proposal.

Even if the road commission had been "high-handed" in dealing with local governments, McDonald said, "it was no remedy to eliminate all those projects.

"There was nothing in it for Redford Township, so I don't have any conflict of interest," McDonald said.

Ciluffo cited the example of Outer Drive, a county road which winds through Detroit and into the western suburbs. "There are potholes all over. It needs new lighting," the mayor's aide said.

AMONG PROJECTS in the western suburbs that went down with the disapproval were:

•Resurfacing of 1.91 miles of Six Mile from Northville Road to Haggerty.

•Bridge repair on Northville Road over the Middle Rouge River.

•Bridge replacement on Ridge Road at the Lower Rouge River.

Other projects included resurfacing for parts of Miller and Pennsylvania roads; bridge repairs or replacements at Miller Road, Waltz Road, W. Jefferson and Willow roads; and some $580,000 in work at Detroit Metropolitan-Wayne County Airport in Taylor.

No one from the Wayne County Road Commission was present at the SEMCOG meeting, and it was impossible to get a road commission comment by press time.

POLK DIRECTORY

R.L. Polk & Co. of Taylor has completed delivery of the 1976 special bicentennial edition of the Plymouth and Northville City Directory.

The directory, delivered to local subscribers, contains four major departments along with an introduction and statistical and general review of the communities.

The classified section is a list of names and addresses of business and professional concerns arranged in alphabetical order under their appropriate classified headings. The alphabetical section, in addition to showing the name, marital status, occupation and address of each resident of Plymouth-Northville, shows telephone numbers provided by residents. Husband and wife are counted as one and 18 is still the minimum age limit of individuals listed.

The third section is the directory of householders, including a street and avenue guide. This section lists the numbered streets in numerical order followed by the named streets in alphabetical order. Residents on every street are listed along with the phone number at each address. New neighbors are identified by a star appearing between street number and name of occupant.

The numerical telephone directory is the last major section of the book and it lists telephones in numerical order with the individual or business who has the number listed alongside. The first and last names appearing in the aphabetical section of the directory are Carl J. Aardal and Edmund J. Zyromski. L. RICHARD LaMIRAND

L. Richard LaMirand, 47, of Plymouth has been named sales manager, Wheel Covers, for the Ornamentation Division of Rockwell International Corp. in Troy.

A native of Detroit, LaMirand has been a Rockwell employee since 1963. He began as a sales representative and advanced through a number of sales and sales management positions. He managed the sales of automotive bumpers before his recent appointment.

LaMirand started his business career with Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, in 1952 and has worked for Rheem Manufacturing Co., and Anderson Co. He earned a BS in business administration in 1952 from Wayne State University.

MARK'S SMALL ENGINE

Mark's Small Engine of Northville has been awarded the designation of McCulloch authorized service center, making it a small group of U.S. chain saw dealers singled out to provide the service. Mark L. King says complete product service including tune up, chain sharpening and warranty service, is available to owners of McCulloch chain saws and other products.

AND WHEREAS, at a hearing held on said dates, the Township Board did all remain in session for two (2) hours and among other things heard all objections to petition and did determine said petition to be in proper form and to be executed by the proper number of property owners, as required by the provisions of Act 264, Public Acts of Michigan, 1917, as amended:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT

1. The Township Board hereby determines to install street lighting systems and to maintain and operate the same in the following described area

CARRIAGE HILLS SUBDIVISION
Phase No. 4 Lots No. 496-666 inclusive
WILLOW CREEK SUBDIVISION
Phase No. 3 Lots No. 200-331 inclusive
Phase No. 4 Lots No. 332-465 inclusive
CHERRY HILL PINES SUBDIVISION
Phase No. 1 Lots No. 1-120 inclusive

2. The Township Board approved the plans and estimates of cost in the amount of $373.92 per month for Carriage Hills Subdivision No. 4, Lots No. 496-666 inclusive and $389.50 per month for Willow Creek Subdivision Phase No. 3, Lots No. 200-331 inclusive; and $343.76 per month for Willow Creek Subdivision, Phase No. 4, Lots No. 332-465 inclusive, and $311.60 per month for Cherry Hill Pines Subdivision, Phase No. 1, Lots No. 1-120 inclusive, as prepared by the Detroit Edison Company, a public utility which said sum includes an amortization of the cost of installation and a charge for electric current finished, and hereby determines that said cost of $373.92 per month and $389.50 per month and $343.76 per month and $311.60 per month shall be paid by Special Assessments against the benefited properties.
3. The Township Board finally determines that the Special Assessment district shall consist of each of the lots and parcels of land of Carriage Hills Subdivision, Phase No. 4, Lots No. 496-666 inclusive, Willow Creek Subdivision Phase No. 3, Lots No. 200-331 inclusive, Willow Creek Subdivision, Phase No. 4, Lots No. 332-465 inclusive, and Cherry Hill Pines Subdivision, Phase No. 1, Lots No. 1-120 inclusive.
4. The Supervisor is hereby directed to make a Special Assessment Roll in which shall be described all the parcels of land to be assessed as above set forth with the names of the owners thereof, if known, and the total amount to be assessed against each parcel of land for a full year's operation which amount shall be such relative portion of the whole sum to be levied against all parcels of land in the assessment district as the benefit to such parcel of land bears to the total benefit of all parcels of land in the Special Assessment district which benefit shall include the amortization of the cost to the Township plus administrative costs.
5. When the Supervisor shall have completed his Special Assessment Roll, he shall affix thereto his certificate stating that the roll was made for the year of 1977 pursuant to resolution of the Township Board of the Charter Township of Canton adopted November 10, 1976, and that in making the Assessment Roll he has, according to his best judgement, confirmed in all respects to the directioons contained in the said resolution and the statutes of the State of Michigan, and the Supervisor shall then report the Special Assessment Roll with his certificate attached thereto to the Township Board.
6. That annually hereafter the Supervisor shall present the matter to the Township Board and the Township Board shall, by resolution determine the cost of amortizing the installation of the street lighting system and the cost of operating the same, and shall annually direct the Supervisor to make a Special Assessment Roll in which shall be described all of the parcels of land to be assessed as set forth in paragraph 3 hereof, with the names of the owners thereof, if known, and the total amount to be assessed against each such parcel for the current year's operation, which amount shall be such relative portion of the whole sum to be levied against all of the parcels of land in the assessment district as the benefit to such parcel of land in the Special Assessment District. Thereafter, the Supervisor shall annually affix his certificate stating that the roll was made pursuant to a resolution of the Township Board adopted November 10, 1976, and that in making the Assessment Roll he has, according to his best judgement, conformed in all respects to the directions contained in said resolution and the statutues of the State of Michigan, and shall report the Special Assessment Roll, with his certificate attached thereto, to the Township Board.

State sees Jeffries freeway as opening in summer of '77

The state highway department has projected August as the opening of the Jeffries (Schoolcraft) Freeway through western Wayne County.

The new date for opening I-96 through Redford Township, Livonia, and Plymouth came in a letter last week from John P. Woodford, department director, to Livonia City Councilman Robert Bennett who has been campaigning to speed the construction schedule.

Woodford, who said earlier this year that the freeway would be open in late summer but changed that estimate to next fall, went back to the summer opening date.

"It is expected that all of I-96 will be opened to traffic in August of 1977," he said. "We are sorry for all the delays and inconveniences that have been caused to the people of the I-96 corridor area.

"Fortunately, the end is near and within a few months we will be enjoying this new, safe, modern and efficent facility."

BENNETT QUESTIONED Woodford's description of the freeway, particularly in the Grand River and Southfield Freeway area in Detroit as being efficient.

He has drafted a lengthy statement blasting the state's sluggish progress in getting the freeway in western Wayne County started and close to completion. The Woodford letter outlining the new opening date came just as Bennett was about to release his own version of what happened over the years.

Bennett has criticized the state for putting a higher priority on the recently-opened I-275 freeway, which parrelels Haggerty from Ford in Canton Township, north to the I-96 and I-696 interchange in Farmington Hills and also for building the Jeffries Freeway at its east and west ends but not in the middle.

Woodford wrote the councilman that those portions, which Bennett previously described as "missing links," are either under contract or will be next month.

He said the paving contracts were approved Oct. 20 for a 3.6 mile stretch of freeway from Newburgh to east of Merriman and one mile from west of Evergreen to west of M-39 (the Southfield Freeway) in Detroit.

Another contract for the traffic signs is scheduled to be approved Jan. 19 for the stretch east of Merriman in Livonia to west of Evergreen in Detroit. That section has been paved and is substantially completed.

The Jeffries is now open from the Detroit Windsor bridge on Detroit's southwest side to M-39 on the northwest side of Detroit.

BENNETT FEELS the freeway "will go down in Michigan history as a botched job."

He asked that the following points be considered: the freeway will have been 15 years in the making when it opens next summer.

"It will have more dangerous configurations than any Detroit expressway; its cost will boggle the mind and its snake-like path wil be a source of mystification for years," he said.

He said that the road is the only expressway link from downtown Detroit and Windsor to the western suburbs of Livonia, Redford, Plymouth and Northville.

But the design of the road is difficult for drivers, he added.

Starting from the City County Building, a driver crosses Grand River three times—and there is a fourth crossing if the motorist goes from the Jeffries to the Southfield freeway enroute to Birmingham.

Bennett criticized the merging traffic lines of cars coming from the Fisher freeway (I-75) onto the Jeffries and said that "if you examined the interchange at Southfield and the Jeffries, you would say the designer was nuts. I predict that the intersection will be a bottleneck and a killer forevermore. If you think the signs are confusing, try the interchange."

ANOTHER PROBLEM cited by the councilman is that the designers located the Jeffries to preserve existing Grand River businesses. But there are only 120 foot lot depths on adjacent parcels, which he believes will frustrate redevelopment of Grand River.

The Livonia section of Jeffries was first scheduled to open in 1972. The design was completed in 1968 with construction beginning in 1970.

"If the highway department meets its current goal of completion in 1977, it will have taken longer to build six miles of highway than it took the Americans to build the Panama Canal.

"But there is great doubt that the department will make its goal in 1977," Bennett said.

The reason, he feels,is that the contractors who are responsible for the bridges, drainage and grading have 150 days to complete their work. That puts the completion of that portion into May, to be followed by paving, lighting and signing to follow.

"All of this, weather permitting," Bennett said.

ON THE I-275 freeway, of which more than 23 miles are now open, Bennet said theroad serves "only those who wish to bypass Detroit and its suburbs and is not a roadway that serves Detroiters and suburbanites. It is a highway that somehow always gets a higher priority than the Jeffries," Bennett said.

"I have accused Woodford and the highway commission of concerning themselves, in this instance, not on people served but on miles of highway built, an accusation which he denies but which, I submit, based on the history of the Jeffries and I-275, must be true," Bennett said.

The councilman added that Woodford and the highway department have been "beseeched" by him for more than a year to get the Jeffries freeway completed but all he got was excuses and "vailed promises." Until the latest letter telling of the new scheduled opening, Woodford didn't respond to Bennett's letters, the councilman said.

"The real crime of all of this is the tremendous waste of taxpayer money," Bennett said.

He cited the western portion of I-96 in Livonia, east of I-275, was paved and completed nearly three years before it was opened to traffic last month.

He said another section of I-96, between Grand River near Schaefer and Southfield, was paved and completed two years before it was opened to cars about two weeks ago.

A third section, between Southfield and Evergreen, is still closed although it has been completed for two years. A fourth strip, between Evergreen and Telegraph is also closed to traffic although it has been completed for nearly two years.

Bennet said the millions of dollars that "lie in completed but unused roadway are tantamount to putting millions of dollars in a mattress rather than a bank. No interest is earned."

Other problems created by the unfinished freeway are wasted fuel consumed in traffic jams and time wasted by drivers.

"It's time it was completed in its entire length, if for no other reason than to afford the opportunity to begin to correct the many mistakes in its design," Bennett concluded.

City never provided housing alternatives

Editor:

If you need a new suit, and the salesman presents you with only one, which you don't like, should you buy it simply because it is the only one offered? If not, must you then describe exactly what you do want? Perhaps any of several colors or fabrics would do, but the salesman insists the one he presented is the best and pushes you to tell him especifically what you want. Such a situation would indeed prove frustrating.

That appears to be what is happening in Plymouth. After almost buying our suit for us, in the form of the Forest City-Dillon high-rise, five of our commissioners took the voters' rejection of that plan and challenged citizens to tell them exactly what they do want. Couldn't they suggest alternatives? If not, given all the knowledge they have about MSHDA's regulations, past studies, etc., how can they be critical of other citizens who aren't able, in the three weeks provided, to give specific alternatives? They even wanted feasibility studies in that length of time.

If we had been presented with several senior housing plans originally and could have selected the best one, the situation now would be very different. But because the Forest City high-rise was the only plan offered, those who opposed it cannot be fairly criticized for not knowing just what the best alternative is. It is obvious from CORP's proposal that it is anxious to join with any interested citizens in finding viable alternatives soon. I can only hope our city commission will decide to let such a task force proceed. If it doesn't, then certainly it is obligated to give us some alternatives.

Theatre guild presents 'Ransom of Red Chief'

Members of the Plymouth Theatre Guild have dusted off the stage props, brought out the cue-cards and grease paint and are almost ready to perform their Christmas offering to the Plymouth community.

The play, "The Ransom of Red Chief," will be presented on Dec. 18 in the Plymouth Cultural Center on Farmer Street. Performance times are 11 a.m., 1:30 p.m., and 3:30 p.m.

Ann Coulter Marten adapted O. Henry's children story for stage production.

The story is about a rather troublesome young boy who is kidnapped and held for ransom, but in true O. Henry fashion, things don't go exactly according to plan.

Johnny Dorsett, who insists that he be called Red Chief, is chosen as the kidnap victim because his uncle, Ebenezer, is one of the wealthiest men in town.

The two hapless kidnappers, Bill and Sam, who are more inept than menacing, want to use the ransom money so that they can start a real estate swindle in another town.

After the two cons bumble through the kidnapping and have Red Chief stashed away in a remote woods on the outskirts of town, there is a question about who is the victim.

While Sam, the brains of the outfit, arranges the details of the ransom payment, Bill is left to guard the hostage, a task for which he is not prepared.

During the period of his captivity, Red Chief shoots Bill with an arrow, puts a hot potato in his shirt, pours sand in his mouth, and rides him around like a horse.

Just about the time the blistered, bedraggled, and beaten Bill is begging his partner to give up the kidnapping scheme and turn Red Chief loose, they get a response from Uncle Ebenezer.

But instead of the expected ransom payment, Ebenezer informs the kidnappers that he will take Johnny off their hands for the sum of $200.

THE PLAY IS directed by Clemie Cyburt and produced by Patricia Troth. Cyburt has been a member of the guild for 10 years and has performed in "Dark at the Top of the Stairs" and "Blythe Spirit."

Ms. Troth has been a PTG member for two years and acted in "All My Sons." She was the assistant director for "Under the Yum-Yum Tree."

Red Chief is played by Rod Morey, who is making his acting debut with the PTG, although he has performed in school plays. He is a student at St. Peter's Lutheran Day School and a Plymouth resident.

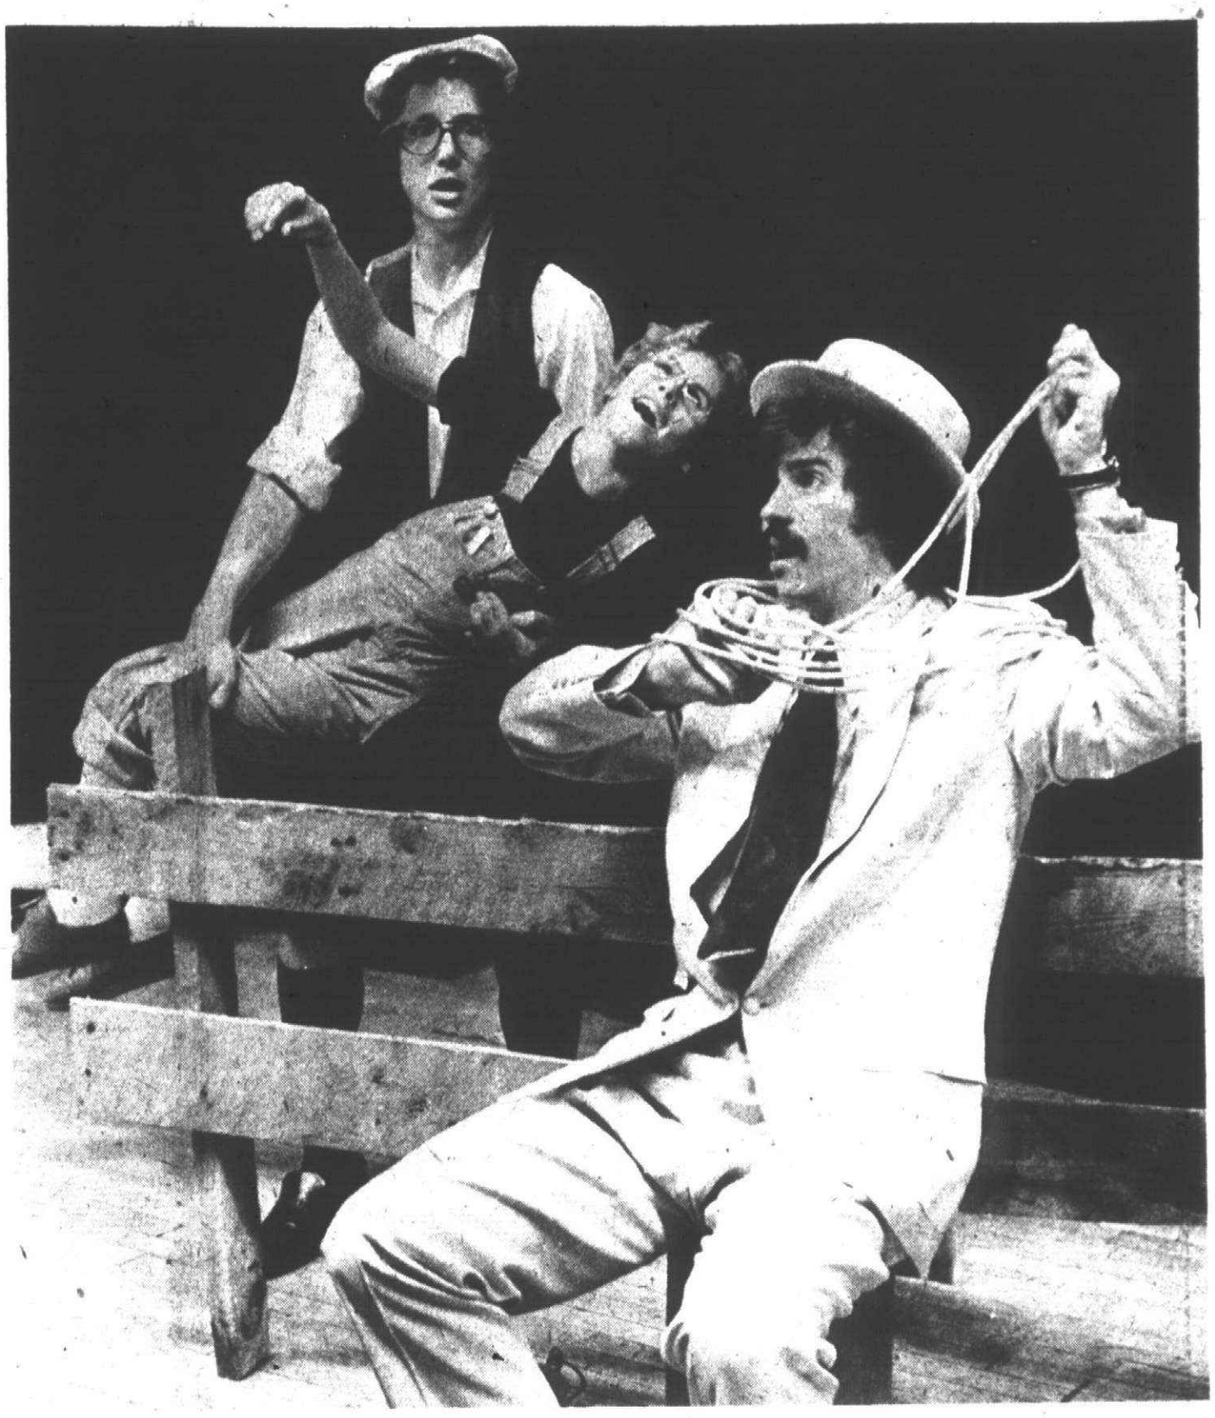

Brad Werner plays Sam the kidnapper. This is the Canton resident's second year with the PTG. Last season he performed in "Portrait In Black."

The second kidnapper is played by Eugene Rabassa, a Northville High School student. This is his first play with the PTG.

The miserly Ebenezer is played by Tom Hinks, a Plymouth Township resident who has a long association with the guild. His most recent performance was in the guild's production of "Pursuit of Happiness." He is currently serving on the board of directors.

OTHER MEMBERS of the cast include: Nancy Spreen, Fran Cyburt, Marcy Granger, Jennifer Walker, Irene Troth, Pat Bray, Larry Cook, Carole McNulty, Robyn Gallagher, and Mary Beth Wrubel.

Tickets are available in advance at the Cultural Center and Merritt Insurance Companye or purchased at the door. The charge is 75 cents.

Area feminists protest Supreme Court ruling

BY SHERRY KAHAN

The hackles of area feminists were raised by the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision excluding pregnancy from disability insurance plans.

The court ruled that maternity leave need not be paid under a company weekly sick and accident benefit plan. In many such insurance programs, disability pay amounts to about 60 per cent of the employee's regular weekly take home pay.

This ruling would not affect disability plans included under company-union contracts.

"It was a very unfortunate decision," declared Jean Wagner, a lawyer whose firm, Millar, Weinberg, Necker and Johnson has a branch in Plymouth.

"It seems that while Americans glorify motherhood, some of them give it little support. Women having children are not being given the recognition they should be given.

"THe court referred to pregnancy as a voluntary condition, but a number of injuries such as those received in a voluntary fight are covered."

Outspoken Livonia feminist Laura Callow said she agreed with Karen DeCrow, president of the National Organization of Women, that the decision was "an insult to all women."

She, too, was angered by the the court's action excluding pregnancy from Genral Electric Co. disability plans because it is a voluntary condition. She indicated that the GE plan covered such other voluntary conditions as alcoholism, drug addiction, self-inflicted injuries, injuries sustained in sports or fights and voluntary medical procedures.

"The only exception in the plan related to pregnancy," she noted.

She also wonderd why pro-life groups were not on hand as friend of the court to support the claim of the GE women employees.

"THEY SHOULD have been there pressuring to have women given pregnancy coverage," she stated. "The decision will mean that fewer women will have babies. Many abortions are economic."

Like Mrs. Wagner she referred to the pedestal on which maternity is supposedly placed.

"In reality motherhood is treated harshly if it costs any money," she concluded.

Irene Piccone, an attorney in the Plymouth firm of Draugelis, Ashton and Scully, claimed that the court opinion is "a continuation of the concept that only men have the basic natural right to be employed outside the home."

She added: "The decision is based on the idea that women work only for pin money and luxuries. The reason for having this insurance is to guarantee earnings during a time when the worker is physically unable to work.

"Therefore, if during pregnancy women are unable to work they should be paid as men are. An opinion like this is the result of having a Supreme Court with a majority of old men, many of whom are behind the times.

"This case illustrates why we need the Equal Rights Amendment.

THE PRESIDENT of the Midwest Wayne County NOW, Diane Volponi of Dearborn, was "disappointed" by the court ruling.

"It is a real loss for the women's movement, in fact for all women," she claimed. "It's a blow to working women and puts us back where we were."

She added: "Women are the only ones who get pregnant. The decision will affect women who want children and also want to work. I think it will also bother husbands because if the women does not get her weekly disability check, the family income will be lower."

Looking toward future action on the subject, Mrs. Wagner saw the possibility of a legislative amendment to the present civil rights law to include pregnancy protection.

Miss Piccone believes that union negotiators should insist on making pregnancy pay a part of future company-union insurance programs.

"It is not against public policy, so it could be the subject for bargaining," she pointed out.

Garden club's Christmas walk 'terrific' success

"Terrific! We couldn't be more pleased," was the reaction of Juanita Fenkell and Hilda Wonn who co-chaired Friday's Christmas Walk sponsored by members of the Plymouth branch Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

A steady stream of "walkers" toured the five homes and the Plymouth Historical Museum which were opened for the occasion.

"There must have been more than 900," said Doris Richard, president of the club. "I know we had to scrounge for tickets."

Mrs. Richard added that the five hostesses had been most cooperative and the proceeds of the walk would be used for local scholarships and projects after the museum received its share.

A preview tour of the walk was taken Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirchhoff, Dr. and Mrs. John Stathakis, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Musch, Mr. and Mrs. Clark McKelvey, Mrs. D.A. Haibeck, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Fenkell, Mr. and Mrs. Quinby Wonn, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bilyea, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Richard.

The group returned to the Richards' for punch, black forest torte and coffee after the tour.

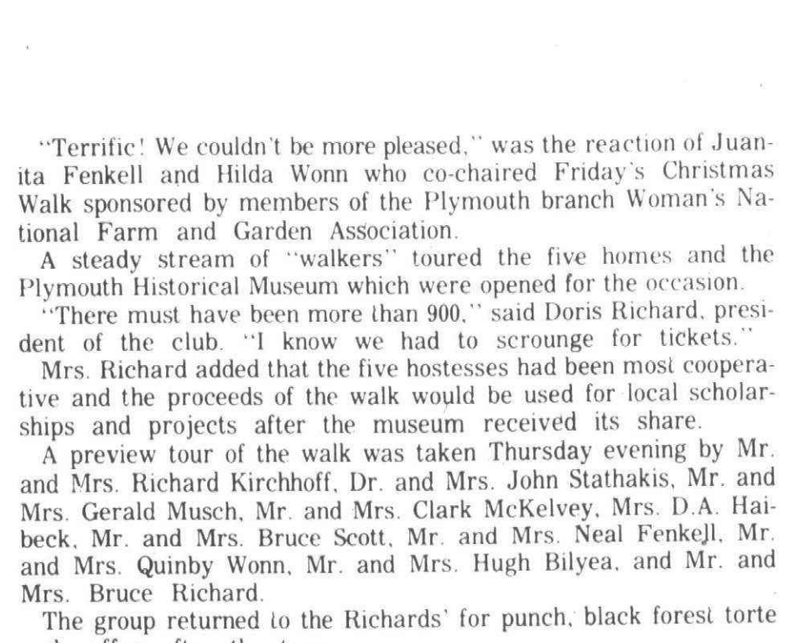

Juanita Fenkell (left) and Hilda Wonn, co-chairwomen of the Christmas Walk, were out early Friday morning putting up signs in front of the houses on the tour. Later they were back at work, serving their stint as hostess.

By 10 a.m. the lines of walkers had begun to form.

Fine food, music combine for club Christmas party

The bridge games were late in starting Thursday afternoon at the Plymouth Cultural Center. They didn't start dealing the cards until after the Christmas buffet luncheon and a session of carol singing around the old upright in the multi-purpose room at the center.

The party bridge group was originated by Margaret Swartz several years ago. In the beginning, there were only two tables.

Forty-eight persons were there for the Christmas party and many stayed to play bridge.

Many of the members of the club are retirees—not only from from the Plymouth-Canton area but also from Livonia. The majority are husbands and wives but there are more women than men. When the top scorers are both women, it is because there weren't enough men to go around and the ladies played as couples.

"WE HAVE MET so many nice people here," said Mrs. Howard Griffore. "Many have become close personal friends."

The smorgasbord table was piled high with an appetizing array of foods. As they filed by, plates in hand, it was a time of decisions.

There were baked beans, fried chicken, ham, kielbasa, potatoes au gratin, relish trays, salads, hot rolls and German chocolate cake for dessert.

A brief business meeting followed the luncheon.

Mrs. Swartz welcomed the members with a special word for some who had returned after an absence of some time.

Pete Peterson, official pencil sharpener, and Floyd Swartz, official scorekeeper, were recognized and thanked for their contributions to the group.

In turn, the bridge players had surprise Christmas gifts for their leader and her husband—a gold pendant for Margaret and a pen and pencil set for Floyd.

The question of whether the holiday season would interrupt their Thursday afternoon schedule was discussed. A majority wanted to play so the games will go on Dec. 23 and 30.

The song sheets were handed out and those in good voice joined Josephine Fountain at the piano for a sing-a-long.

Others headed for the card room to put up the tables and arrange the chairs. It wasn't too long until the bidding was underway.

Clubs in Action

ST. KENNETH SENIORS

The annual Christmas party for senior citizens from St. Kenneth Catholic Church on Haggerty Road will be at 8 p.m. Dec. 11. Those wishing further information can call 455-4435 or 453-4262.

MOTHERS OF TWINS

Plymouth-Northville Mothers of Twins Club will meet for a Christmas party in the home of Barbara Brooks, 14929 Country Club, Livonia at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 13. Any non-members interested in attending can call Karen Schorrenberg, 522-2889.

AAUW CHRISTMAS MEETING

Members of the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women will meet at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 16 in West Middle School for an "Old-Fashioned Christmas."

Songs of the season will be presented by the chorus directed by Faith Schweiss. Laura Badendieck and Doretta Adcock will present readings in the spirit of Christmas. Members then will make ornaments and Christmas items for inmates at the Detroit House of Correction.

GIRL SCOUT CHRISTMAS SING

A girl scout Christmas sing, sponsored by Senior Troop 501, will begin at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 13. Girl Scouts of all ages from Plymouth and Canton Township will gather round the Christmas Tree in Kellogg Park and sing Christmas carols. Troops wishing further information should call Moira Foley, 453-6878.

PLYMOUTH-CANTON PWP

Plymouth-Canton Parents Without Partners will meet at 8 p.m. Dec. 16 in the American Legion Hall, 888 N. Sheldon Road.

After the regular business meeting there will be a "deck the halls" party when everyone will join in decorating the Christmas tree.

Willow Creek nursery revamped

The Willow Creek Co-op Nursery, after weeks of deliberation, has chosen two new teachers. The instructors are Norma Scovill and Mary Zagorski.

The group reorganized in Canton, last September. During the ensuing three months, new guidelines were established to fit the needs of their growing program.

Due to the loss of the original teaching staff, parents were enlisted to evaluate and interview new personnel. Committee participants Patti Adams, Jan Knecht and Carol White helped formulate criteria based on input from the members. Along with Mary Foust, Peggie Purdon and Cheryl Schemers, the committee spoke with a host of applicants who had responded to their Observer Newpapers advertisement.

Mrs. Schemers said, "All those who applied were well qualified for the job. The deciding factor was their compatibility with our philosophy.

"Our most important concern is that the children have a good feeling of self-worth. The two teachers we decided on held this as their first objective."

NORMA SCOVILL was hired for the morning session which is composed of tots 2½ to 4 years of age.

Originally from northern Michigan, she earned her BS in elementary education at Northern Michigan University in Marquette.

Mrs. Scovill taught second grade in the Menominee School District and third grade in the Ewen Trout system. After moving to Canton in 1972, she worked at Red Bell Nursery on Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth Township.

For a short time, Mrs. Scovill assisted elementary consultants of the Clarenceville schools in developing instructional aids for teachers.

During a meeting with Willow Creek Nursery parents, she expressed her enthusiasm. "I'm excited about this new opportunity and am really looking forward to working with the youngsters."

MARY ZAGORSKI now is working with four and five-year-olds in the afternoon session.

She is a graduate of Madonna College. Her student teaching was in Miller School in Canton Township. At present, advanced studies concerning learning disabilities keep her busy in the evenings.

Mrs. Zagorski was a teacher of gifted children in Emerson School in Ann Arbor before accepting her new position.

The children had an opportunity to meet with her before her official duties began. To no one's surprise, she made a hit with the little ones and was readily accepted.

As one tot put it, "She even sat on the floor with us."

What more could you ask?

981-0237

THE ROYAL HOLIDAY Park Senior Citizens also were on the lookout for new leadership. Their annual election was last Tuesday in the park's clubhouse.

The newly-elected president of the group is Irene Simmons. She is the first woman to hold the organization's top office. Having worked on committees over the past several years, and having the duties of kitchen chairman, Mrs. Simmons is well qualified for her current role.

Wilmarth Morris was unopposed for the vice-presidency as was Helen Monks for the position of treasurer.

Mary Woods is secretary. She is the former president of Royal Holiday's ladies auxiliary. She also is editor of "Newsmobile," the group's monthly newsletter.

The Sunshine Lady spreads a little light through the dreary days of those who are ill. The new ray of sunshine is Dorothy La Forrest. Her responsibilities for the next 12 months include sending cards and gifts to members who have been hospitalized.

Where would the club be without someone to take charge of the menus?

Marie Fiselski, kitchen chairman for 1977, will be organizing the preparation of gourmet delights for meetings and social gatherings.

Inauguration ceremonies for the new officers will be the first Tuesday in January during the club's regular business meeting.

COLD WINDS and snow-covered roads did not deter the brave hearts of Ann Wisniewski and Ruth Clemens.

Along with Marilyn Dwyer, Cecily Molyneaux and Pat O'Reiley, the ladies gathered for their monthly literature group meeting. Hostess for the evening was Gail Conte of Arlington Road in Canton.

These devotees of literature are members of the American Association of University Women.

The reading selection for December was a light biography, "The Moon's a Balloon," by David Niven. Most members agreed that although parts of the book could be called entertaining, it would not be heralded as their finest selection of the year.

Far more praise was given to the appetizing dessert served by Mrs. Conte. Her guests also were well fortified with hot coffee in preparation for the cold journey home.

ARE YOU PLANNING to celebrate the holidays with family and friends at home?

Possibly you have decided to travel and visit relatives in other cities.

However you arrange the celebrations from your house, pass the word along.

We'll share the excitement here.

Museum to open for holiday visitors

The Plymouth Historical Museum's Christmas decorations will be kept intact until after New Year's to allow residents to take holiday guests on a tour of the building.

The museum will be open from 1-4 p.m. Dec. 26 and Jan. 2 but will be closed Christmas and New Year's days.

Regular visiting hours are 1-4 p.m. Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

The Street of Shops in the museum was decorated by the Plymouth branch Woman's National Farm and Garden Association with the theme "Great Expectations." The lobby displays include dollhouses, old toys and collections of nutcrackers, doll houses, and Christmas books.

The Victorian rooms depict Christmas in the late 19th century. A religious display of nativity scenes and madonnas is on the lower level. Some of the valuable pieces date back to the 16th century and were loaned just for the Christmas season.

The museum gift shop also will be open.

Charge It!

Now it is even easier to advertise in the Observer & Eccentric Classified Section. Just dial our classified department, tell us what you would like to advertise and charge it, to your Bank Americard or Master Charge account.

Whenever you call, be sure to have your Bank Americard or Master Charge ready and give us the account number and expiration date directly from the card. Then the total cost of your ad will be billed directly to your monthly statement, simplifying your record keeping while earning money for you and your family.

You can benefit twice from this bonus by placing a Double Action Family Want Ad. Double Action ads run two consecutive issues for one low price of $6.00, with no changes or cancellations in the second ad. These 15 word ads save you $2.00 off the regular cost of placing an ad in two issues and are so easy to place now that you can charge them.

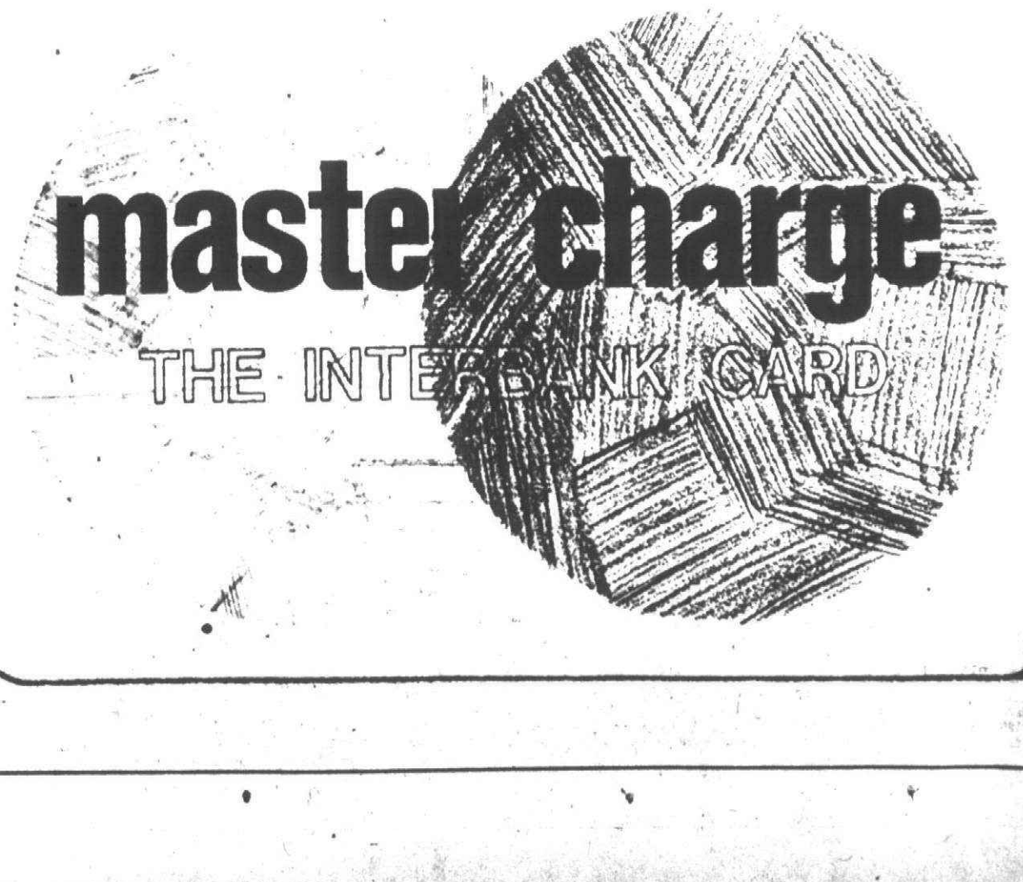

So arm yourself with a list of unwanted items and your favorite bank card and strike a blow against inflation by calling us today.

Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corp. turned 65 this year. Chevy was born Nov. 8, 1911, when Louis Chevrolet started turning out cars in a building on West Grand Boulevard in Detroit. Chevrolet, a race driver and engine designer, appears at the wheel of one of the first cars at top left. Chevrolet's first truck (top right) came out in 1918 to meet military needs. During the 1920s, Chevrolet nearly died as GM conspired dropping it. The 1977 Chevrolet (lower left) is one of the biggest changes in the division's history while the 1977 Bison (lower right) is the largest truck ever built by Chevrolet.

'Prints may open doors

Your fingerprints may well be the car keys of the future. It could be the ultimate in personalized transportation, said a Troy man.

The idea isn't as far fetched as it may seem. Computers that read finger and hand prints already are being used as door openers at some Chrylser Corp. installations.

Electronics systems and computers to control your vehicle's operation, tires that never wear out, powerplants with great range—are some of the exotic ideas from the industry's planners and designers.

Such exotic systems are not on the drawing boards yet, but, said George F. Butts, vice-president of product planning and development for Chrysler Corp., they are a hint of what's to come.

Trying to predict what transportation in the next 100 years is fun, even if it's next to impossible, Butts said.

"BUT THERE'S one thing we can count on—because of the nature of the job the vehicle is required to do—the automobile will still be a unit capable of carrying a small number of people, in maximum comfort under independent power.

"While I'm not really certain what 1980 or 1981 will be like, some trends are evident," Butts said.

"Cars are already getting smaller—at least in exterior dimensions. As we design small cars today for the next few years, interior dimensions are increasing, because people are larger and are demanding more usuable space.

"So the shape of the car-to-come will change. The overall length will shrink without shortening the passenger compartment. People will sit somewhat higher off the floor, and the car height may become slightly greater. Cars will become more straight up and down—more slab-sided.

"WE ALSO HAVE to think smaller and lighter because of the demands for more fuel efficient vehicles," Butts said.

"Studies show that in order to meet the fuel economy law, which will require a fleet average of 27.5 mpg by 1985, we're committed to cars weighing about 3,300 pounds. That's lighter (or smaller) than our present new generation Aspen-Volare compacts.

"And we anticipate we'll still need a family-size, six-passenger vehicle. So, if we get the maximum interior space and we keep exteriors small, that leaves only a couple of alternatives to keep the weight down—lightweight and high-strength materials, and—if possibe—smaller components such as powerplant, air conditioning, and the like, which give equal or better performance than their present-day counterparts."

Butts said that electronics is a proven way to reduce size without sacrificing capability. Chrysler has already given the industry other examples: Electronic ignition, electronic lean-burn engine systems and the digital clock.

POISONINGS DON'T TAKE HOLIDAYS!

POISON! It comes in many forms -- such as cleansers, detergents, cosmetics, pills, automotive products, paints, garden sprays, etc.

HELP ARREST poisons and make your home a safe place for children. Keep poisons out of reach or locked up.

DID YOU KNOW that most poisonings take place during disruptive times in a household -- such as moving, traveling, and illness. Another such disruptive time can be a party or a holiday. It's a time when the general household routine is upset.

Western Michigan Poison Center, which opened in March, 1975, was founded on the premise that any substance, no matter how life-saving or beneficial it is, becomes a poison if taken in excessive quantity. The center is a regional information and education emergency medical service funded by HEW through the West Michigan Health Systems Agency.

Residents of Michigan can call the center toll free by dialing their long distance access code, then 800-632-2727 for information on and the emergency treatment of poisonous materials. (Residents in the 616 area should dial their access code, then 800-442-4571.) Help from a professionally trained staff is available any time, day or night.

WESTERN MICHIGAN
POISON CENTER
1-800-442-4571

"Officer Ugg" is their poison prevention symbol designed especially to aid in the reduction of accidental poisonings in children. The hands across his face are a warning to children not to TOUCH, TASTE, or SMELL.

Things you should keep on hand are the Western Michigan Poison Center phone number and a poison treatment kit (containing syrup of ipecac and activated charcoal) and epsom salts, but do not use unless instructed by your doctor or poison center.

In case of a poisoning or for more information on Officer Ugg's Poison Prevention Program dial your long distance ACCESS code, then:
