Cost debate stalls traffic light near school

By ARLENE FUNKE

Children cross busy Haggerty Road, aided by crossing guards who halt cars with portable stop signs.

Drivers zip along that same road, between Ford and Cherry Hill, often unaware that Eriksson School is nearby. There are no traffic lights to break the flow of traffic.

Talk to almost any official and he will agree that children and crossing guards would be safer if there were some sort of traffic device.

Canton Police Chief Jerry Cox agrees. He made a survey of the location between Jan. 5-12.

What the officials can't agree on is who should pay the estimated $5,000 for signs with warning lights. Involved in discussions have been the Plymouth Canton School District, Canton Township officials, and the Wayne County Road Commission.

The cost estimate comes from the road commission. A school district safety committee recommended that the cost be split between those three administrative bodies.

"The school district isn't responsible for the roads," said Dale Goby, director of the school district's transportation department and head of the safety committee.

"Quite frankly, our real feeling is that either the county or the township should pay for the sign," he added.

"But we're willing to compromise," he continued. "We're concerned about the safety of the children."

THE ROAD COMMISSION has said it doesn't have the money to participate. Canton's Township Board will consider the issue at its Jan. 27 meeting.

William Lutz, principal of Eriksson, says he has been fighting for a warning light since the county paved Haggerty Road about 1½ years ago.

"Traffic very quickly reached the point that I suspect that many cars are traveling 50-60 miles per hour," said Lutz. "All you have is an adult woman (crossing guard) holding a sign.

"She's hard to see," he added. "Politics is one thing, but a child's life is another. I want something done before somebody gets hurt."

> 'I know some kid is going to get creamed — it's just a matter of time.'
> — Marilyn Rickard

CURRENTLY, the speed limit in that area is 40 miles per hour. Local officials favor a erecting a sign with a flashing light timed for hours when children are traveling to and from school.

During those times, the speed limit would be 30 mph.

Marilyn Rickard of Hystone Drive in Canton expressed fears to the Canton Observer about a child becoming injured. Mrs. Rickard is a member of the Eriksson PTO group and of the school district's safety committee.

"It's a straight shot (on Haggerty) and I find myself picking up speed," said Mrs. Rickard. "I know some kid is going to get creamed — it's just a matter of time. The guards have been very frightened about the speed."

ANY ALLOCATION of funds would have to be approved by the respective governing boards of Canton Township, school district and road commission.

The road commission doesn't have funds to pay for the traffic device, said public information spokesman Lou Sugo.

"Most school boards have paid for it," said Sugo. "We will be glad to install it (but) we don't have the funds to pay for it.

"It sounds like the school board has a good deal with the township willing to pay for it," Sugo added.

But that point hasn't been decided.

As township clerk John Flodin put it, "this hasn't been a function of the township.

"Should we set a precedent?" said Flodin. "There is no question there is a need. The cause certainly is worthwhile."

'Glad it's over,' rejoices hostage kin

By TERI BANAS

By Tuesday morning, Dave Ode felt "positive" that the Americans held captive in Iran would be released in "the next few days."

But, still, he refused to let his hopes soar. There had been too many conflicting news reports, too many disappointments in the past 14 months.

Then came word that his uncle was on board a flight out of Tehran, bound for Algiers. At that moment, the computer programmer for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools let his hair down.

Ode's uncle, Robert C. Ode, was at age 65 the oldest American among the 52 held captive.

Ironically, Robert Ode may never have been involved in the seizure of the American Embassy in Iran had he refused a "special assignment" just a few days before its take-over. He was a retired member of the foreign service, and along with his wife, Rita, another veteran of the American foreign service, was building a retirement home in Sun City, Ariz.

"I never entertained the thought that they would never come back," said Dave Ode. "But by Christmas time, my patience was pretty well gone. I was beginning to feel the negotiations were going nowhere and that something drastic was needed.

"I'M JUST glad it's over."

Robert Ode, who grew up in Manistee, has been a member of the foreign service since 1947. He has two immediate family members in Michigan — his brother, Howard of Midland, and a sister, Marjorie Keon of St. Louis. Howard has three children, Dave of South Lyon, Steve of Ann Arbor and Chris of Texas.

Dave said late Tuesday that it still was too early to speculate on his uncle's homecoming wishes. He said he wasn't sure if his uncle would be ready to greet the entire family at once or would prefer time alone with his wife first.

"If he wants us, definitely we'll go to Arizona," said Dave.

In the past 14 months, Ode family members have received some personal letter from Robert and have sent many. Mrs. Keon, says Dave, wrote almost every day. Many of the letters, however, were intercepted.

"We wrote normal type stuff about what was happening in our lives. We just wanted to keep his spirits up and tell him that he was not abandoned."

"SOME OF the letters took six weeks, even three months, to arrive. He couldn't understand why his sister wasn't writing more often, and she wrote almost every day."

Dave says the letters received showed that Robert still "maintained a sense of humor." Although it was not stated directly in the letters, family members were left with the impression that he was under "constant surveillance."

Dave believes his uncle will return home in "good mental and physical condition." He does not believe Robert will suffer the "re-entry" problems expected by some psychologists.

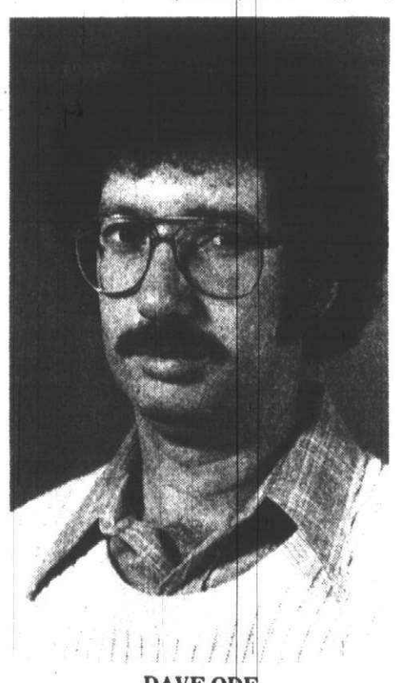

"I'm sure we'll find he has aged a great deal during his experience, because he was under a lot of stress. But he'll get back into shape pretty well in Arizona.

"I wouldn't be a bit suprised if we got a call from him right before he leaves the hospital in Wiesbaden. I tell you now, my uncle will be one of the first ones to leave the hospital."

Dave believes Robert's longtime association in foreign service has given him the ability to understand all that's happened to him, as well as the ability to cope with it.

Past war prisoner shoots up residence

By ARLENE FUNKE

A Canton veteran who allegedly fired shots Tuesday because "he thought he was in Vietnam" has been hospitalized for psychiatric evaluation.

The unidentified man, said to be in his 30s, surrendered quietly to police about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, outside his mobile home on Poplar Street in Holiday Estates park, said Police Lt. Dennis Joker. The park is off Geddes, west of Canton Center Road.

TWO HOURS EARLIER, the man's wife had gone to the Canton police station to report that her husband had fired shots in the house and that "he thought he was in Vietnam." She said her husband had been a prisoner of war in Vietnam, and that he thought someone was trying to hurt him, said Joker.

On the scene at the mobile home park were officers from Canton and Van Buren Township. Police evacuated several nearby homes and told other residents to seek cover, added Joker.

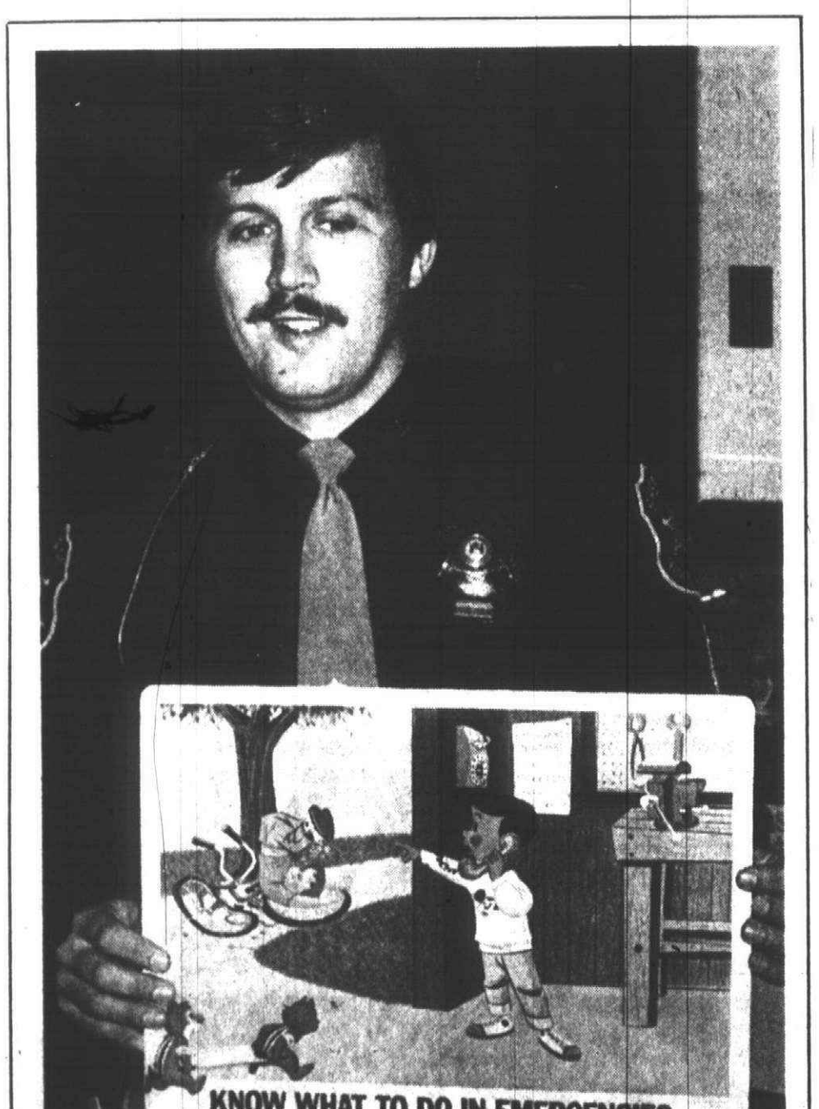

They then asked a neighbor to phone the man and "invite him over for a drink."

"He walked out and (officers) began talking to him on a pretext of looking for an address," said Joker. "He was calm — like a guy taking a walk. He said he would like to go to a hospital.

Canton police are considering pressing charges against the man, who was taken to a branch of Northville State Hospital on Wayne County property off Michigan Avenue and Merriman in Westland.

No one was injured in the incident.

Officers recovered a rifle with three spent shells and a handgun which had been hidden in a ceiling panel at the mobile home.

New park site eyed for team sports

A site behind Township Hall on Canton Center Road may be the second choice for a park for some officials.

But it is sure to whet the appetites of sports-hungry residents who are clamoring for more fields and ball diamonds.

The township will seek a grant through the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) for half the purchase price of 15 acres of land now owned by the Plymouth Canton School District.

Under grant guidelines, the DNR would pay half the purchase price of the land, with funds coming from the U.S. Department of Interior. Canton would have to pay the remainder, probably from revenue-sharing monies already earmarked for recreation.

The site, near Canton Center and Proctor roads, was the second choice of the township's recreation advisory committee. The group had favored a 40-acre site near Ann Arbor Road and Napier for development of winter sports such as sledding and cross country skiing.

The Ann Arbor Road-Napier site was scrapped recently after residents of nearby Pilgrim Hills subdivision voiced stiff opposition at Township Board meetings.

MIKE GOUIN, supervisor of Canton's Parks and Recreation Department, said the site near Township Hall is flat, making it well-suited for ball diamonds, football, soccer and "passive" activities such as picnicking.

The 15-acre parcel adjoins a 65-acre piece now owned by the township. Gouin said the additional land would satisfy the growing demand for organized sports.

Griffin Park, on Canton Center Road at Cherry Hill, is the township's largest existing park at 37 acres. The 17-acre Flodin Park, being developed on Saltz Road, will be limited to youth activities, Gouin said.

"The trouble is, there are 50,000 people in Canton," he said. "Griffin Park isn't big enough to accommodate the people we now have.

"There are people who want to take part in sports," he added. "It isn't as though we're going to build something that won't be utilized."

A POSSIBLE added feature at the site near Township Hall would be lighted fields for evening activities, Gouin said. He noted that the surrounding area is zoned agricultural, reducing the likelihood of park activities annoying large numbers of subdivision residents.

The deadline for submitting a grant proposal is Monday, Gouin said. The DNR will review the plan and reply to the township, probably in March, he added.

The Township Board would have to formally agree to accept the grant and hold a public hearing on the proposal.

Gouin said the purchase price — which now is unspecified — probably will be less costly than the larger site originally planned for the winter park. The DNR earlier had committed up to $75,000 in federal funds toward the purchase price of the 40-acre parcel.

Police warn about snowblower thefts

Police officials are warning residents to be especially watchful during this time of year for thieves who specialize in theft of snowblowers.

These laborsaving and backsaving devices are being filched in record numbers.

Snowblowers are in big demand, according to police, because of their high cash value, the eagerness of people who are willing to buy goods without questions, if the price is right, and the relative ease with which snowblowers can be taken.

Township police say that thieves prey on affluent areas because they figure that most homes have a snowblower and most snowblowers are kept in garages, which are fairly easy to break into.

In addition, most families have all their members out working or at school during the day and are not diligent about keeping their garages locked at night.

In nearby Livonia, police are having a particularly tough time this year.

Ray Gagnon, a police officer in charge of investigating snow blower thefts, said about 130 of them have been reported taken since June and about 30

Congressmen Ford and Pursell given committee assignments

Western Wayne County's congressmen, all re-elected last Nov. 4, this year are looking to climb the seniority ladder in Washington.

U.S. Rep. William D. Ford, D-Taylor, is the new chairman of the House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service. His 15th District includes Garden City, Westland, Canton Township and part of Livonia.

Beginning his ninth term in Congress, Ford will lead the 24-member committee, which oversees a federal civilian payroll of $63 billion, the U.S. Postal Service's budget of $39.5 billion and has jurisdiction over nearly three million federal civil service and postal workers.

AMONG WESTERN Wayne County's other congressmen, U.S. Rep. William Brodhead, D-Detroit, will retain his seat on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, and U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, will keep his spot on Appropriations but may shift subcommitee assignments.

Ford will continue to serve on the House Committee on Education and Labor where he is the second ranking Democrat.

Ford and U.S. Rep. John Dingell, D-Dearborn, are the only full committee chairmen among Michigan's 19-member congressional delegation in the 97th Congress. Dingell chairs the House Committee on Energy and Power.

The Post Office and Civil Service committee also reviews recommendations of the President's Quadrennial Pay Committee on government employee pay scales and oversees the Hatch Act, which prohibits civil service workers from participating in partisan politics.

BRODHEAD, WHOSE 17th District includes Redford Township and northwest Detroit, will begin his fifth year on the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee. The thrid-term congressman will likely be on two subcommittees — trade and public assistance and unemployment compensation.

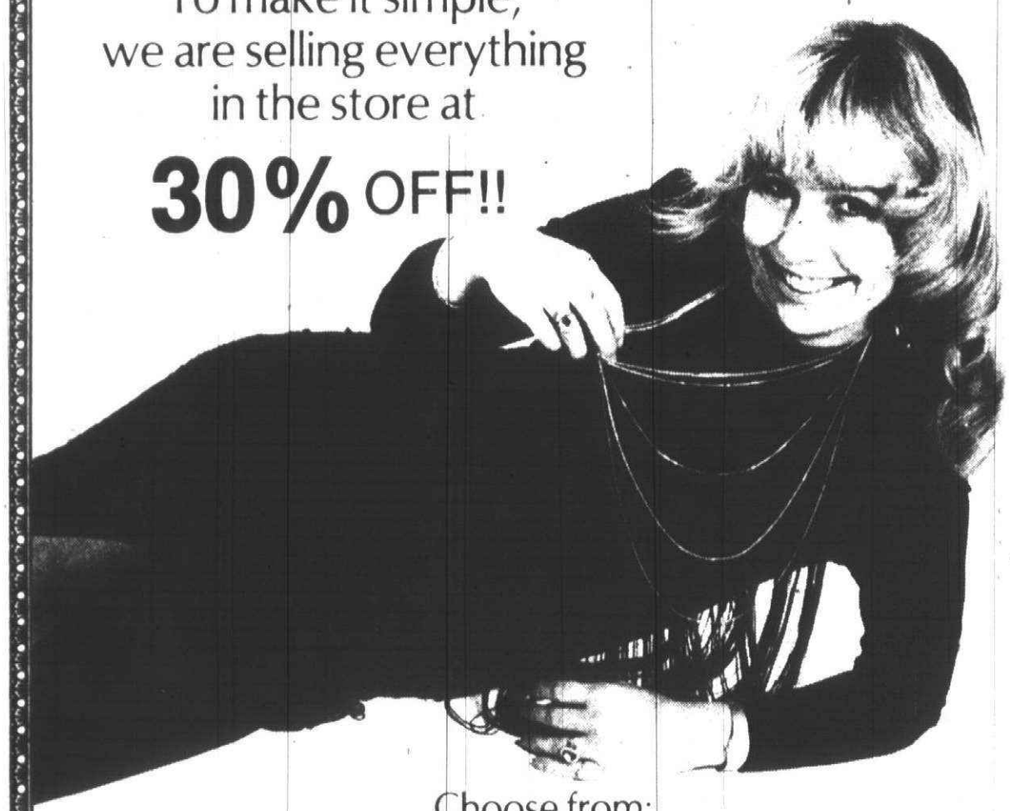

Members of the Ways and Means, Appropriations and Rules committees — considered the three most important in the House — serve on that committee only and have no other committee assignments.

Pursell last term served on the Appropriations subcommittees dealing with health and human services (HHS) and the District of Columbia (DC). The HHS and defense subcommittees control more the two biggest chunks of the federal budget.

Pursell, whose district includes Livonia and Northville, is also interested in a spot on the transportation subcommittee. Members are jockeying for those assignments this week.

In the House Republican leadership battle, Pursell supported Rep. Bob Michel of Illinois for minority leader over Rep. Guy VanderJagt of Michigan. Pursell said he has status as part of Michle's "inner circle" of House GOP leaders.

'Officer Ollie' collars kids on safety habits

By ARLENE FUNKE

When Officer Ollie speaks, children giggle. But they also listen.

For example, Ollie says you don't sit around toasting marshmallows when there's a fire at your house — you get out, fast.

Ollie is a fuzzy-haired puppet dressed in uniform who gives safety tips to elementary-age students in the Plymouth Canton School District.

The puppet is one of the main characters in a pilot program launched last week by the traffic safety and enforcement division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol. (See related story this page.)

SPECIFIC programs are geared to different age levels, with the puppets used only in grades kindergarten through sixth.

Topics include what to do in an emergency, bike and skateboard safety, vandalism, shoplifting, hitchhiking, substance abuse and stranger safety.

On their first official visit last Friday, Sgt. Dan Kerber and Deputy Edwin Rasmussen Jr. entertained and educated about 22 children in Ann Debien's second-grade class at Hulsing School. The topic was handling emergencies.

During the brief, 20-minute program, the students define an emergency (fire, getting lost, somebody trying to break into the house.).

While one officer stays behind the scenes manipulating the puppets, the other is out front with the giggling students. Other puppet characters are a girl with pigtails and a boy with a shock of bright, yellow hair.

Either the puppet's recorded script or one of the officers gives simple tips on knowing one's address and phone number and how to call for help.

The pilot program is designed to continue for the remainder of the school year, Kerber said. Other sessions are scheduled with other classes in the Plymouth Canton district.

"IF IT WORKS out really well, we would like to assign an officer to each school district in the outcounty area," Kerber said.

Some $2,100 worth of films and cassettes were purchased through donations from community groups and businesses, Rasmussen said.

Chipping in were Jaycees and Rotary clubs from both Plymouth and Canton, Meijer's Thrifty Acres store in Canton and six Plymouth car dealerships.

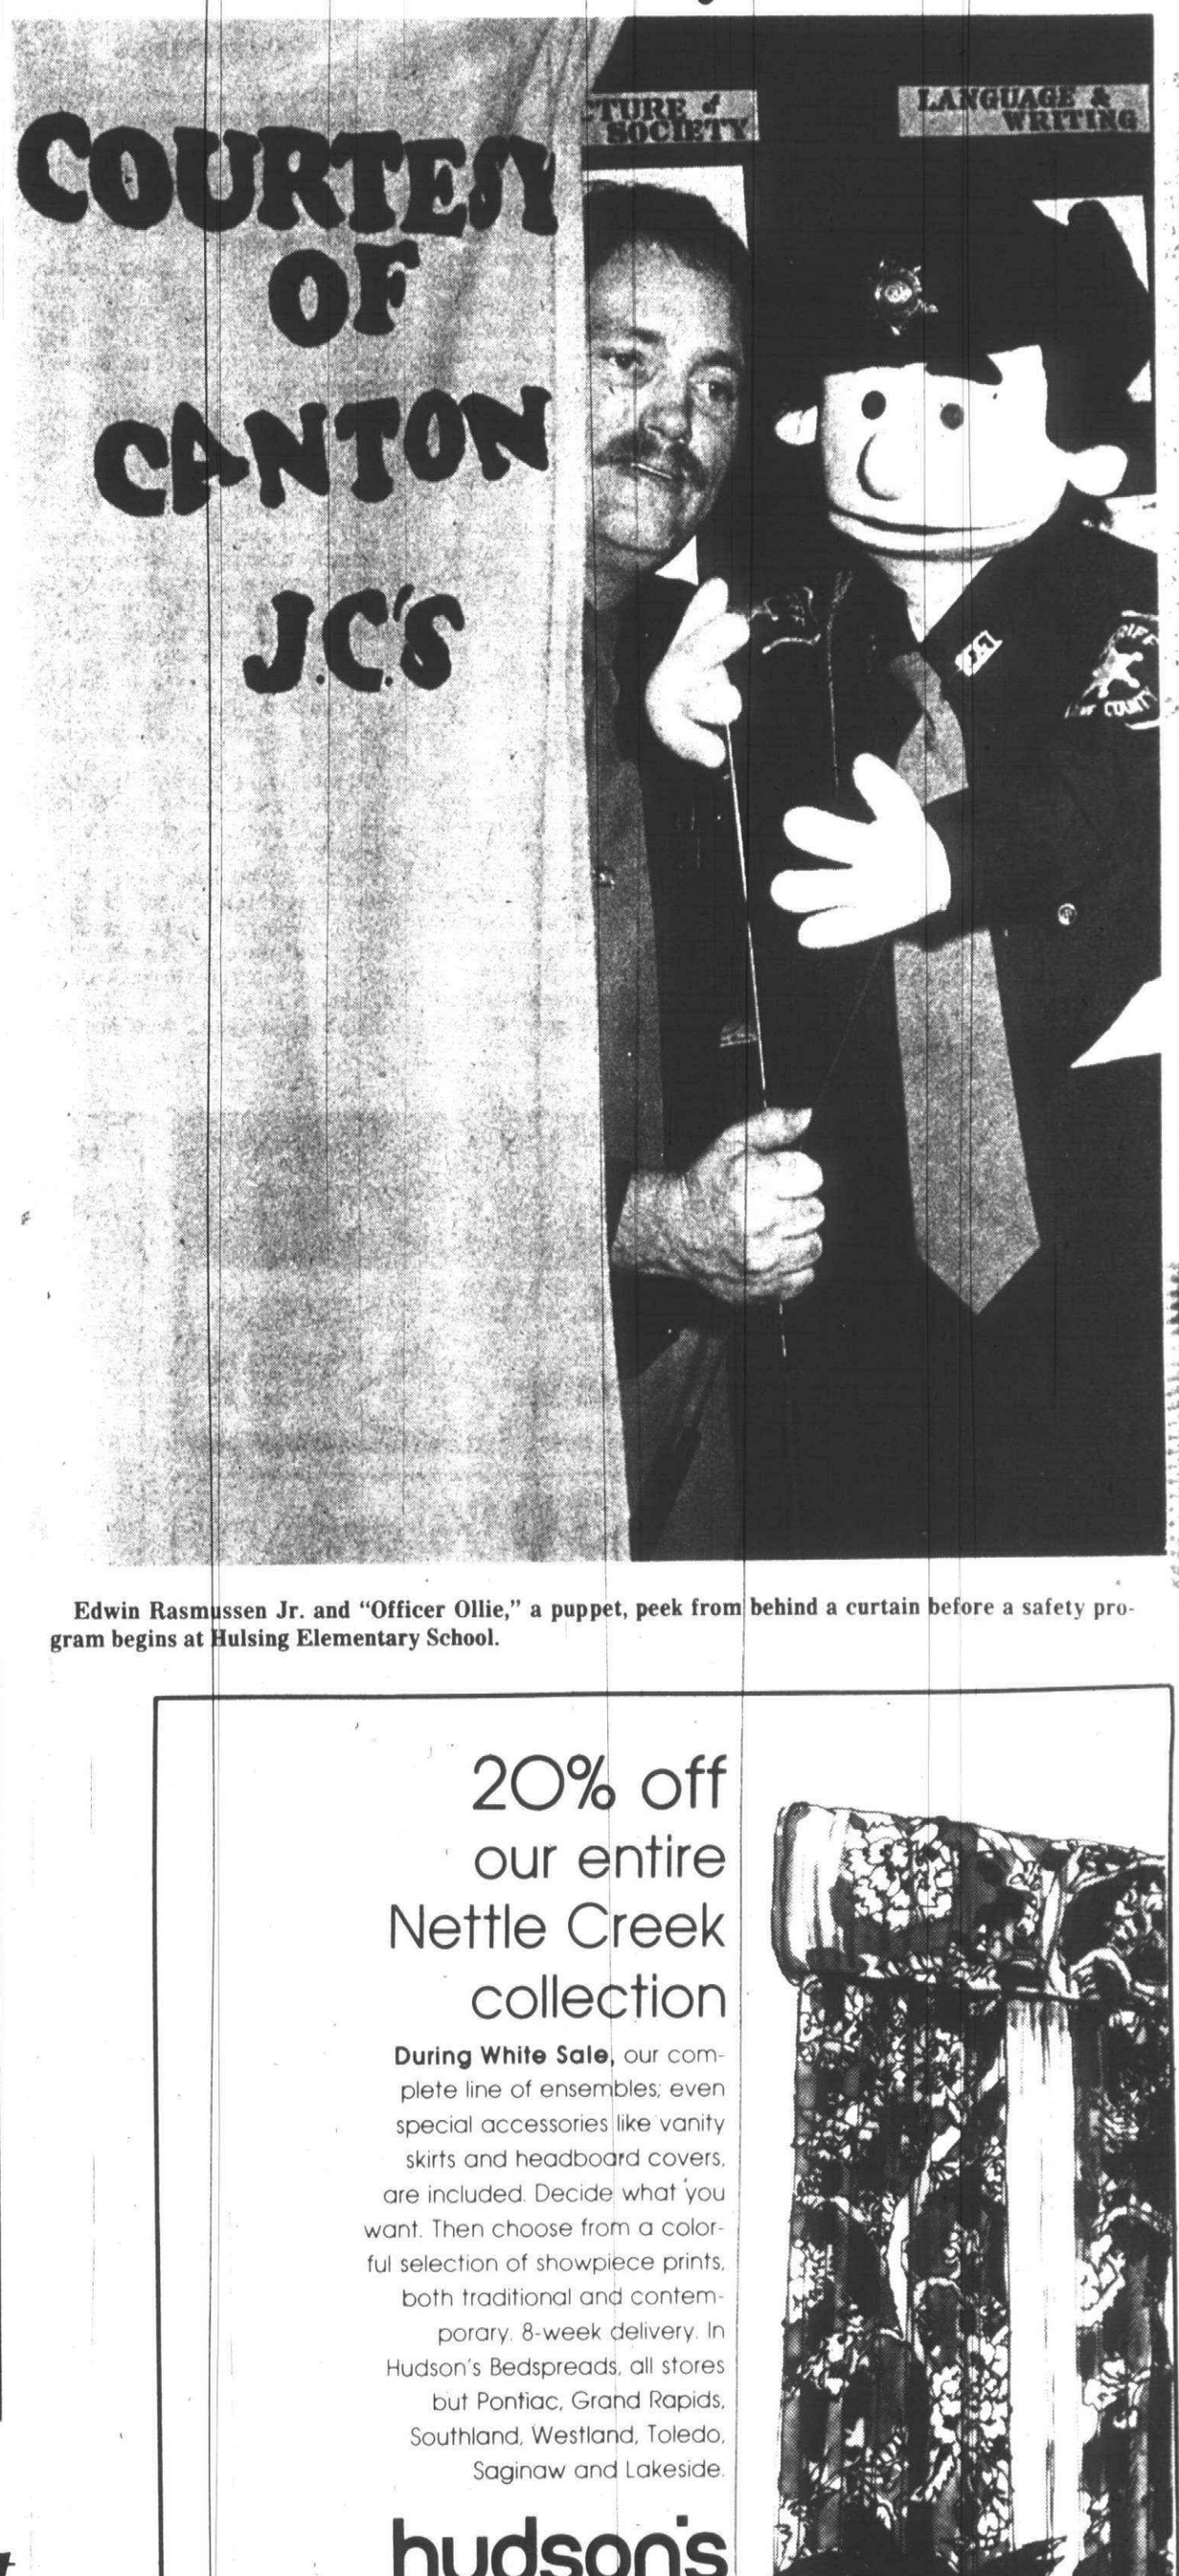

Kerber said he enjoys talking with the children.

"It's interesting," he said. "You never know what question a kid is going to ask."

Road patrol seeks support

By TERI BANAS

As the Feb. 1 deadline nears for the elimination of the Wayne County Sheriff's road patrol in western Wayne County, some officers of the sheriff's deputies union are counting on public support to avert that measure.

They say that "political" action is necessary to stop the layoffs of some 280 deputies and civilians in the sheriff's department. Those layoffs and the end to the road patrol were ordered by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners in an announced money-saving move.

The commissioners said reducing the sheriff's department and restricting service to the guarding of courtrooms and the county jail would save $5 million a year.

Don Cox, president of the of the deputies union, Local 502, believes that public support from elected officials in Wayne County and from county commissioners is still a viable tool to stop the layoffs.

Recently, he said he and other Local 502 union leaders would campaign to reach these officials. One of their objectives, he said, would be to show the community leaders that the deputies union is a "reasonable union."

"Hopefully, what we'd like to accomplish is to have all local officials recognize our abilities and the type of department we are," said Bob Sheldon, Local 502 vice-president.

The union officers believe that Sheriff William Lucas is partially to blame for lack of "outspokeness" in "promoting" the department's image.

THEY PLAN to make their appeal by making "personal contacts" with county commissioners, local officials and local community leaders, they said.

They admit that in doing so, they are "playing politics."

"We have no business in politics but we have to do it to accomplish what we believe in," said Sheldon.

Cox said he believes some county commissioners acted on the cutbacks without understanding the problems of the communities that would be affected.

"I imagine some commissioners feel that Plymouth and Canton is an area of nothing but farmland and they picture a sheriff sitting under a tree while a rabbit nibbles on a carrot nearby. I bet some haven't even been this far," he said.

Of immediate interest and bearing on the matter will be the result of a hearing before Wayne County Circuit Judge Victor Baum Friday.

BAUM IS expected to review lawsuits filed against the county board's action by six separate parties including Sheriff Lucas, three deputy organizations and the townships of Romulus and Brownstown. Both townships are patrolled by the sheriff's road patrol under contracts with the Sheriff's office.

Baum has been asked by the unions to delay the Feb. 1 layoffs until the entire matter can be decided in court.

Regardless of the outcome of the lawsuits, Plymouth Township, a community that has relied on the department for patrol, appears to be calling it quits.

On Tuesday, the township is expected to act on another offer for patrol service from the city of Plymouth's Police Department.

TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS have been adament in their quest to find another police provider before the proposed Feb. 1 cutoff. The general concensus is that while the township is generally satisfied with the sheriff's service it can't rely on the financially-troubled county for services.

Although the layoffs are expected to take effect Feb. 1, county board of commissioners chairman Samuel Turner, (D-Detroit), expects that communities which have private contracts with the sheriff's department will have that service continued through February. Two months notice must be given, he said.

Turner also doubts that any officers receiving layoff notices will be without jobs as manpower will be shifted to the county jail annex "where conditions again are becoming overcrowded.

Meanwhile sheriff's deputies talked of their feelings of "rejection" after years spent patroling the roads and streets and taking part in crime prevention projects in schools and neighborhoods.

"We've developed strong feelings of attachment," said Cox. "We've seen these communities grow. I remember when there were no homes on Sheldon Road."

SOME OFFICERS have said that they haven't cut back on special projects, such as puppet shows that teach kids how to respond in emergencies

Hostage kin jubilant as his uncle returns day morning, Ode, arriving in West Germany, was easily recognized as the man puffing on a cigar. He wore a light-colored jacket in Algiers.

At Christmas time, family members received their first peek at the oldest hostage and said he appeared very thin on television then.

DAVE SAYS his aunt, Rita, meanwhile, was "prepared for months and months of waiting.

"She's just a very strong person and is aware of the slow pace in Iran. She understood that and accepted it, something that I could not comprehend right off the bat."

The waiting has had an effect on Howard Ode, Dave's father. Howard suffered a heart attack last October that was thought to be caused by his brother's captivity.

Dave also responded to a letter written by his uncle to a fourth-grade class in New Jersey. It was dated Dec. 26, 1979, and was received sometime in January. He wrote: "We feel we have been abandoned by our government and the American people."

Dave acknowledged that his uncle knew nothing of attempts to free the hostages made by the government at that time.

"He has been in the foreign service a long time, all his life, and has traveled to many countries. He probably thought, in comparison to other countries, that if anyone ever got in trouble, America would bail you out. He was probably distressed over what was happening."

Lice health problem is coming to a head

By ARLENE FUNKE

Plymouth and Canton school officials are scratching their heads over a ticklish health problem.

It seems that lice — those tiny insects which feed and lay eggs in the hair and scalp — are digging in at some area schools.

"Flu isn't as bad as it has been in past years," said Patrick O'Donnell, head of pupil personnel, "but a bigger problem has been head lice. This has been the preponderance of our medical problems this year."

Richard Egli, administrative assistant for community relations, said lice infestation can occur at any time. It ususally runs in cycles, and the lice are easily transmitted, he said.

Egli added that head lice are most commonly transmitted during winter months, when children are likely to borrow each other's hats, scarves or combs. Most frequent targets are elementary-age students, he stressed.

"THE LAST (spurt) was in December," said Egli. "But it can happen in January or February, (and) can come back at any time.

"It used to be thought that there were dirty or unclean kids in the district," he added. "No district is immune to it."

Virginia Gibson, head nurse for the school district, says it's hard to come up with numbers of cases. Usually a teacher will discover infestation and call in the school nurse to check all the children.

"Anybody can get it," added Ms. Gibson. "Good hygiene is the only way we're going to lick it."

The head nurse added that teachers or parents should watch for children who appear to be scratching their heads.

Lice are small, visible insects which live on the human head, feeding on the scalp and laying eggs (nits) at the hair base.

According to O'Donnell, the nits hatch in about a week and mature in 1½ weeks, when they begin to lay eggs (up to 10 a day). The insects are transmitted mostly on combs, brushes, hats, scarves or upholstered seats in theaters, cars, etc.

OTHER SIGNS are "little white particles that won't brush out," added Ms. Gibson.

"They're so minute," she continued. "They don't jump from one (person) to another. It has to be closer than that."

How can infestation be avoided?

Ms. Gibson said children should be instructed to avoid using other persons' headgear or clothing. Once lice are found, a physician should be contacted.

A special, lice-killing shampoo will eliminate the lice from the hair.

"I suggest that people talk to their pharmacist," said Ms. Gibson.

Other family members should be inspected. And there should be frequent vacuuming of floors, upholstered furniture, mattresses and car seats to eliminate loose hairs which have a louse egg attached.

In addition, sheets and pillow cases should be washed in hot, soapy water.

Watch snowblowers

of these were stolen this month.

"They're so easy to get rid of," said Gagnon. "I don't know many people who wouldn't buy a Toro for $50 or $60."

"The theives are hitting us to the tune of about $10,000 (worth) a month," Gagnon said.

Particularly popular are Toro-brand snowblowers. Since Christmas Day, every snowblower stolen in the city except two has been a Toro.

Over the year, "it's about solid Toro, better than 80 percent," Gagnon said.

"We had a string of them last week, we were able to follow the footprints in the snow. These guys were going door-to-door, looking in garages, and they didn't steal some other kinds of snowblowers that were sitting in unlocked garages," said Gagnon.

Gagnon said basic precautions by snowblower owners and residents generally could cut the number of snowblower thefts, or at least increase the number of snowblower theft arrests.

Snowblower owners themselves can also increase the chances of having their goods returned, and lessen the odds on having them stolen in the first place, by taking a few elementary precautions.

Graper traces progress made by the city in 1980

City Manager Henry Graper delivered a "state of the city" address Monday night at the Plymouth City Commission meeting.

Graper used the address to recite the goals set by the city for 1980 and then review progress made.

The city manager listed as goals to be addressed in 1980 as: personnel and management; economic development; Cultural Center operation; parking; flood problems; unification of services; union contracts; refuse contract; city hall expansion; Old Village redevelopment; street and traffic improvements; completion of the television screening of all sanitary sewers; and disposition of surplus city-owned properties.

THE FIRST SUCCESS came in February 1980, said Graper, with the formation of a personnel and merit program for non-union city employees and formation of a personnel department.

Another achievement early in 1980 was attendance of a township board meeting by members of the city commission, said Graper, and their pledge to drop all annexations.

Three-year contracts were negotiated with the police and fire departments, said Graper, and the personnel department worked to settle 10 of 15 grievances, which saved the city $1,000-plus per month in legal fees.

The city established a drop-in center in Tonquish Creek Manor for a six-month trial. It now plans to extend that trial for another six months.

Early in 1980, said Graper, the city commission began microfilming city records.

And in March 1980, the commission agreed to host the Massachusetts delegation to the Republican National Convention.

"We proved that by working together we could make new friends and acquaintances who would carry good feelings about Plymouth back to Massachusetts.

"WE CERTAINLY proved to doubters in the community that Plymouth can be a major part of anything going on in the metropolitan area."

In the spring and summer months, the administration worked on finding money to expand city hall and for a new court building for the 35th District Court. Both programs are now under construction.

"The Cultural Center problems were addressed and the deficit for 1980 was lowered from about $39,000 to a little over $10,000.

"About $250,000 worth of improvements were put into the Cultural Center through Community Development Block Grant program funds. We now have a notable facility which I feel we can be proud of."

THE MANAGER THEN referred to a parking plan that calls for removal of parking meters on the streets by 1982 and installation of angular parking on Ann Arbor Trail, Penniman Avenue and Forest Street.

The housing commission undertook the development of 48 units at Tonquish Creek Manor, said Graper, and worked out a Section 8 low-to-moderate income rental housing program.

An alarm system was bought for Tonquish Creek to serve as an early warning and prevent blockages that would cause a flood, he said.

"The unification of services became a topic of discussion, and by late 1980 one contract with the city of Northville had been signed for the city of Plymouth to perform all of the building inspections for the city of Northville.

A contract with Plymouth Township to provide police services was being planned for presentation to the township when it thought it could afford to buy the police service, he said.

During the year, more than 100 trees were planted throughout the city, said Graper. These were additional trees and replacements for some that had died.

THE COMMISSION approved a downtown lighting program that should result in 345 colonial-type light fixtures being placed throughout the downtown district.

Improvements in Old Village included the conversion of Liberty Street into a parking mall, tree plantings and new lights.

The city considered adding a paramedic program but decided not to because it cost too much. However, the city decided to add a new rescue truck to the fire department.

As the year drew to an end, Plymouth and surrounding communities organized Force Five — an anti-arson squad.

The year also saw development of the Plymouth Energy Program (PEP), the first of its kind in the United States. The energy program identifies the energy-saving needs of individual households in the city through infra-red photography equipment in a mobile van.

The Economic Development Corporation (EDC) gave its blessings to the addition to the Mayflower Hotel, a project expected to become a reality in 1981.

THE CITY clerk ran a pilot program of using punch card ballots for absentee voters in the general election and will expand use of punch cards.

"With the department heads reporting to the city manager, and with the city manager responding to the priorities established by the mayor and city commission, the city of Plymouth has experienced a most successful year.

Band variety show opens Friday

By BETTY DeLANO

The 16th annual "Variety Is . . ." band show will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday on the stage of the Plymouth Salem High School auditorium.

As in other years, the variety show will turn its spotlight on the bands at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP).

Musicians featured in "Variety Is . . ." are members of one or more of the bands at the CEP.

For many of the students the program will feature them as anything from members of a barbershop quartet to guitarist and composer.

Some students involved in the in-between-band acts include a joint effort by the trombone sections from both the CEP symphony and concert bands in "T-Bone Party," the "Blues Brothers" singing "Messin' With the Kid" and "B Movie Box Car" accompanied by members of the CEP Jazz Ensemble, and "Michael Jackson and the Lovely Ones" including Kim Peterson, Gretchen Snyder, Shari Adams and Michele Adams.

Featured as guitar soloist, Laurie Jarski will perform and sing her own composition, "Useless to Sail Away," and Mark Krug, Sue Coll and Jeanne Adams will perform "Clarinet Polka."

A TRUMPET FANFARE by the trumpeters from the concert band and a barbershop quartet composed of Glen Adsit, Brian Azelborn, Ken Jennison and Pat Collins also will be part of the two hours of family entertainment.

Masters of ceremonies for the musical extravanganza will be seniors Pat Collins and Bret Julyk.

The CEP Symphony Band, under the direction of James R. Griffith, will be the first group to perform.

In addition to many CEP students, "Variety Is . . ." also will feature four professionals from the Plymouth-Canton area.

The band will present the fourth movement from "Scottish Dances" by Malcomb Arnold, "Fandango" by Frank Perkins and "The Three Trumpeters" by Agostni, the latter featuring Sharon Waldenmeyer (band director at Central Middle School), Bill Beitner (Beitner Jewelry) and Carl Battishill (associate band director at CEP) on trumpet.

Also featured with the symphony band as guest conductor will be Fred DeLano (past Observer & Eccentric managing editor).

Under Delano's direction, the band will perform Sousa's "Royal Welsh Fusilliers."

BATTISHILL WILL conduct "Emperata Overture" by Claud Smith, "Yesterday" arranged by Giovannini and "Barnum and Bailey's Favorites" by Karl King.

Other bands on the concert program will be the second hour varsity band, also under Battishill's direction, and the fourth hour varsity band directed by Griffith.

The CEP Jazz Band, the kick-off group of past years, will provide mid-program music with selections which include the 1950s hit "Mack the Knife" by Curt Weill, "Esperanza" by John LaBarbara and "Touch Down" by Bob James.

Concluding the program will be this year's award-winning, 134-member CEP Marching Band under the direction of both Griffith and Battishill and under the student direction of Plymouth Canton High senior Jeanne Adams and Plymouth Salem High senior Curt Schubert.

In addition to the Salem and Canton fight songs, the marching band will present the competition music that resulted in the band taking championship honors at the Michigan Open, finalist positions at the Marching Bands of America Regional competition and Western Michigan University's Cavalcade of Bands and honors at the Durand Invitational.

Those selections include "Carmina Burana," selections from "West Side Story" and "Buckeroo Holiday."

Tickets may be purchased from any band member or at the door at both performances for $2 per person or $6 for a family ticket.

Proceeds will go into the band account which helps finance all six bands at the CEP.

Festival finances improving

The cash reserve of the Plymouth Fall Festival is on the rise.

The Fall Festival Board started 1980 with a fund balance of $10,825 and started 1981 with a balance of $12,435.

One reason for the favorable balance was the festival board's collection of $1,130 more in income then it had budgeted.

Most of the increased income was realized by more money collected for concession insurance fees, concession entry fees and concession commissions.

The concession commissions tripled from 1979, although the largest increase in revenue was an additonal $750 from insurance fees collected from those renting booths.

While more income was collected than planned, the festival board also spent less than it budgeted for in 1980 — almost $500 less.

Among the savings on the expense side was $790 less in payments to the city of Plymouth and an $1,800 savings for rubbish removal. Other areas of expense savings included outside labor, publicity, and entertainment.

Joyner asks government to call out National Guard for Hines Park

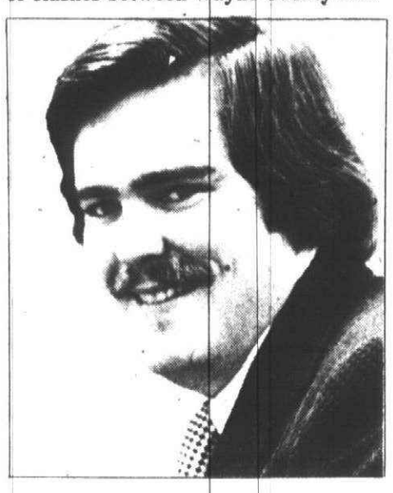

By TOM LONERGAN

The National Guard in Hines Park?

To Wayne County Commissioner R. William Joyner, D-Plymouth, that's a possibility if the 17-mile parkway between Dearborn Heights and Northville isn't patrolled by a special police unit this year.

Joyner last week asked Gov. William Milliken about "the availability of the National Guard to protect the residents along Hines Park during the summer."

The park, a popular, warm-weather gathering spot for metropolitan-area youths, has occasionally been the scene of clashes between Wayne County sheriff's deputies and the youths.

. . . 'there is a need for a policing force.'
— Wayne County Commissioner R. William Joyner

A 39-man sheriff's department patrol unit which policed the park last year has been eliminated by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners. But Sheriff William Lucas and unions representating deputies and other officers are hoping to overturn the layoffs in court.

Joyner said Tuesday he wrote Milliken to make the state aware "that there is a need for a policing force."

"I AM VERY seriously suggesting that the National Guard be made available," Joyner wrote. "I make this suggestion recognizing the laughter that it may very well generate . . . ."

Whether laughter was the response in Milliken's Lansing office isn't known. The governor had left for the presidential inauguration before receiving Joyner's letter.

However, a Milliken press aide said Tuesday that the National Guard isn't available.

"They're just not unless a state of emergency is declared," said Al Sandner. "He (the governor) can't use them in a routine fashion."

The guard, said Sandner, is part of the federal military reserve and doesn't come under the governor's jurisdiction unless he declares a state of emergency.

"LET'S FACE IT, Joyner said Tuesday. "You know and I know that the National Guard isn't going to be called up."

But the second-term county commissioner insists his request had a serious purpose.

"I wanted to let the governor know that it's a very real problem," said Joyner. "What policing agency is going to take care of Hines Park this summer? The Board of Commissioners has said, 'We will not.' The local communities (which border Edward Hines Drive) have said the last two years, 'We will not.' "

Lt. Thomas Harrett, commander of the sheriff's Hines Park patrol, downplayed the park's "rowdy" image. "On a given day" — police have estimated some summer Hines crowds of up to 40,000 — "the crowd could become unruly," said Harrett.

But he added: "It's a phenomenon that occurs each spring, generally the first hot day in April."

Last year, said Harrett, the park "was peaceful, right up to the fall," except for six weeks between late April and June.

During that period, he said the sheriff's patrol "put pressure on" the park's young patrons in an attempt to curtail drinking and drug use, and to keep traffic moving.

An estimated 3,500 people were arrested during that period, but overall park arrests last year, according to Harrett, were the same as in 1979.

"I WOULD hate to see the day we would have to bring in soldiers with bayonets and rifles to maintain order," Harrett said.

The elimination of the Hines Park patrol is part of the larger cutting of the sheriff's Westland-based Patrol and Investigation (P&I) Unit. The county board funded the unit only through January, when it adopted the 1981 budget in November. The cut is expected to save the deficit-ridden county $5 million this year.

But whether the cut will stick may be determined Friday by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Victor J. Baum. Sheriff Lucas is seeking a court order to prevent the Feb. 1 layoff of 280 department employees, including 230 deputies and 40 command officers.

Ready for dinner

Donald Rodriguez, 11 (left rear) is wearing a smile because he's ready for an ethnic dinner at Eriksson School at 6 p.m. Thursday. Donald is flanked by principal Bill Lutz. In front are Lori Stoecklein, 10, holding school mascot (Erik the Frog) and Vikki Dhingra, 7.

Van Roekel to head road builders

Paul Van Roekel, Oakland County highway engineer, will be installed Friday as president of the Transportation Officials Division of the American Road and Transportation Builders Association (ARTBA) in Houston, Texas.

The Waterford Township resident will be the leading national spokesman for 1,400 state, county and local highway engineers and public transit, airport and railraod officials during 1981.

Van Roekel, 55, has been the road commission's chief operating officer for 24 years. During that time he also has been a leader in several national and state professional organizations.

ARTBA, oldest group of its kind, was founded in 1880 as the League of American Wheelmen by bicyclists seeking to improve the then-muddy roads between communities.

ARTBA efforts have led to creation of state highway commissions, the first federal matching funds for roads (in 1916) and federal and state highway user trust funds.

He has been a member of the Waterford Township Planning Commission since 1961 and was its chairman in 1969-70.

A native of Iowa, Van Roekel earned his general engineering degree at Iowa State University after serving from 1943-45 as a first lieutenant in the U.S. Air Corps, during which he flew 35 B-17 missions over Europe.

Bowling tourney slated Feb. 18

The Canton Township parks and recreation department is signing up children for a singles bowling tournament.

The tournament will be held on a staggered schedule at SuperBowl on Ford Road between Sheldon and Canton Center roads.

Children on Track C school schedule will bowl Jan. 28, followed by Track D on Feb. 18 and Track A on March 11. Check-in time is noon.

There will be separate divisions for boys and girls and a handicap system will be used to equalize the competition. Winners will bowl in a playoff with other track winners.

Age classifications are 8 years and under; ages 9-11; and 12-14.

Fees are $2.75 for the youngest group, who will play two games, and $3.25 for the older groups, who will bowl three games.

Entry fees are available at SuperBowl or at the parks and recreation department in Township Hall on Canton Center Road.

For further information, call the Canton recreation department at 397-1000.

County studies pension raise

Without any expense to the county general fund, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners is considering from 1 to 25 percent for former workers under the employee pension plan, effective April 1.

Affecting about 4000 retirants, the raise and funding was achieved through gains from pension-fund investments, which have been aided by inflation-fueled high interest rates.

The commissioners approved the raise Jan. 15 while sitting as the Ways and Means Committee, consisting of all 27 members of the board. Their action followed that recommendation a day earlier by the Board's General Government Committee and the Board of Trustees of the County retirement system.

The full board will consider the pension increase at its Thursday meeting.

The highest raise, the 25 percent, will apply only to 150 former employees retired before federal social security coverage. An additional 1,200 ineligible for the 25 percent increase but who retired before the present method of compensation will receive 15 percent more.

The Baker House has been designated as an official historical site by the state of Michigan. (Staff photo)

Victorian house on Main designated a historical site

By W.W. EDGAR

The Baker House on Main Street, more commonly known as the "Pink House," is going to be given a complete facelift to help celebrate its being named by the Michigan Historical Commission as an official historical site.

Built in 1875 by Henry Baker, who was the chairman of the board and president of the Daisy Air Rifle firm, it is one of the rare Victorian designs left in the city.

Now owned by attorney David Frost, it will take its place as one of the historic attractions in the state and will be designated by an official marker.

Frost learned of the honor being paid by the Historical Commission while planning work on the exterior of the famed building and immediately began plans for the erection of the marker and the celebration that will go with it.

When the official marker is placed it will be a companion to the marker only a few feet away that officially recognizes the "bit of rock" that was taken from the dock at Plymouth, England, from which the Mayflower sailed in 1620 and presented to the City of Plymouth during its centennial in 1967.

Shortly after he purchased the building a year ago Frost had the entire interior redone as closely to the Victorian days as possible.

Now he plans to follow suit on the exterior.

"According to our plans, the entire exterior will be sandblasted and the building will be restored to its original brick. So the "Pink House" will be gone forever."

Along with that major change, plans call for restoring the seven-foot peak on the corner that made the old house stand out among the others on Main Street.

"I think the people in Plymouth are going to like the change," Frost said enthusiastically, as he painted a word picture of the finished product.

When the work is finished sometime during the summer, there will be office space available in the rear and on the upper floor.

The old home has an intersting history. Built by Baker, who was an uncle to Norma Cassady, it later came into the possession of Claude Buzzard, an attorney for the railroad. When he died, his wife, Mrs. Lucille Buzzard, sold it to Rockwell Smith. Smith later sold it to Tom Lee.

Frost came upon the building by accident. Following his graduation from the University of Michigan, he opened an office in Farmington. Then, one day while driving he spotted the pink house and admits, "I fell in love with it."

A confirmed lover of antiques and the restoration of old buildings as a hobby, he envisioned great things for the old house. He now has completed the interior.

The exterior — and the passing of the pink — is now underway and he has promised that when completed, wiht historical marker installed, it will be one of the most picturesque of all the old homes in Plymouth.

In fact, he still may not be satisfied, as he is planning to apply for recognition from the National Historical Society as the crowning touch to his hobby and ambition.

1st ice fishing derby is planned for Feb. 1

By LEM MESEE
Outdoors writer

You don't believe this column's fish stories about Newburgh Lake?

Take a look at the photo of Charles Pressoto and his northern pike on this page and decide if you want to compete.

The first ice fishing derby will be held on Newburgh Lake from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Feb. 1. It's open to anglers of all ages.

Co-sponsors are the Kiwanis Club of Livonia and the Western Wayne County Conservation Association of Plymouth Township. They will get an assist from the Metro-West Steelheaders.

To compete, you must register before fishing. The booth will be on Sumac Drive, which is just north of Hines Drive and a short distance west of Newburgh Road in Livonia.

Co-chairmen John Nichols of Kiwanis and Hank Chruscial of the conservation club have lined up prizes for six categories of the contest.

Largest northern pike will be worth a Swedish ice auger, donated by the conservation club; largest bluegill, a two-burner propane lantern from Kiwanis; largest sunfish, a Daiwa rod and reel from Jim's Rod & Reel of Plymouth.

Largest crappie will earn the angler a single mantle propane lantern from Gell's Sporting Goods of Livonia; largest fish of the day, a three-burner propane stove from Livonia Tackle Supply; and the largest fish caught by a woman age 17 or older, 20 visits to the Suntree Suntanning Center, Livonia.

Newburgh Lake, an impoundment of the Middle Rouge RiYer, has been producing great numbers of gamefish in recent years after suffering a reputation as a mudhole.

Entries in the early summer Tom Sawyer-Becky Thatcher kids' fishing derby have multiplied in size in the last two years. The lake now gets a lot of attention from adult anglers.

The addition of a women's category to this contest is part of the conservation clubs' movement to bring entire families into outdoor activities.

THE 1981 fishing licenses go on sale at the end of March or early in April. Ordinarily they would have been on sale last December.

Meanwhile, continue to use your 1980 license or 1979 sportsman's license.

This has happened in past years, and it's a sure sign the state plans to raise license fees but can't agree on how much to raise them.

As this newspaper pointed out, the Headlee tax limitation amendment doesn't control licenses because they're not taxes. The state is free to raise licenses and fees faster than the rate of inflation.

HURON-CLINTON Metroparks have three programs near by this weekend.

A quilting demonstration will be given by interpreter Ann Wiersman at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Farm Center of Kensington Metropark near Milford. She will discuss the history of the craft, some common patterns and easy projects for the novice quilter. Meet at the Farm Center restaurant. Register in advance for the 90-minute program by calling 685-9105.

Kensington naturalist Bob Hotaling will talk about bird feeding — what kind of feed and feeding stations to use — at 1 p.m. Sunday. The nature center is on the west side of the park; use the Kensington Road exit from I-96. Register in advance by calling 685-1561.

At Oakwoods Metropark, naturalist Glenn Dent will lead a family nature walk entitled "Stories in the Snow" beginning at 2 p.m. Sunday. He will identify animal tracks and reconstruct the stories of their travels through the nature study area. Oakwoods' number is 782-1255.

Metroparks' programs are nearly all free, but there is a vehicle admission charge of $2 per visit or $7 for the year.

SLOBS ON snowmobiles are the targets of three new laws signed recently by Gov. William G. Milliken. The new laws:

- Prohibit operation of a snowmobile while under the influence of liquor or controlled substances. It also authorizes warrantless arrests at the scene of an accident where it is reasonable to believe a violation has occurred (HB 5041).
- Make the person in control of an off-road recreational vehicle responsible for preventing its operation by a person under 12 or a person under the influence of liquor or a controlled substance (HB 5042).
- Broaden the power of police officers to arrest, without warrants, persons driving snowmobiles or off-road vehicles on highways and parking lots when it is reasonable to believe the driver is under the influence of liquor or a controlled substance.

Charles Pressoto of Livonia used a shiner minnow to lure this 11-pound, six-ounce northern pike last week from Newburgh Lake. He got an assist from Glen Matulevich, a Livonian who has taken a 10-pound pike from the Middle Rouge impoundment. (Staff photo by Bill Bresler)

Science fiction to reign here

Area science fiction enthusiasts are getting ready for the seventh annual science fiction convention to be held at the Plymouth Hilton this weekend.

ConFusion, one of the midwest's major regional science fiction conventions, will be staged Friday through Sunday at the Plymouth Hilton at 14707 Northville Road at Five Mile.

More than 600 persons are expected to attend the gathering.

Co-sponsors are the University of Michigan science fiction club, The Stilyagi Air Corps and the Ann Arbor Science Fiction Association.

The event will feature fantasy films, a masquerade ball, a science fiction art show, a book dealers' room and the appearance of many well-known science fiction writers. The conference is open to the public.

Activities will begin about 5 p.m. Friday and continue around-the-clock until 3 p.m. Sunday.

Among the events planned are a snow creature contest (weather permitting), panel discussions and a special series of workshops on writing science fiction.

Science fiction writers scheduled to attend ConFusion include Joe Haldeman, Wilson Tucker, Robert Asprin, Lynn Abbey, Lloyd Biggle Jr., Ted Reynolds and special guest Barry B. Longyear, winner of the 1980 Hugo, Nebula and John W. Campbell awards.

Longyear, Halderman and Tucker also will appear at a special autograph party from 5-7 p.m. Thursday at Community Newscenter, 1301 S. University, Ann Arbor.

The convention met for the first time last year at the Plymouth Hilton.

Help for aged

In-home services are available to senior citizens 60 and older living in Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Northville and Northville Township.

The chore services include snow removal, lawn care and minor repairs.

Homemaking services include light housekeeping and laundry help.

The services, subsidized by Title III-B of the Older Americans Act, are designed to assist senior citizens who without the help would be unable to remain in their own home.

Medic!

Nearly one third of the nation's medical students each year receive some of their clinical training in Veterans Administration medical centers, thanks to educational partnerships between VA and 2,000 educational institutions.

Meets chief

Army ROTC cadet 1st Sgt. Paul A. Fogarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Fogarty of Caprice Drive, Plymouth, was one of hundreds of future officers who had the chance recently to meet Gen. Edward C. Meyer, Army chief of staff. Fogarty was a guest at the 26th annual meeting of the Association of the United States Army (AUSA) at Washington, D.C. The AUSA is a lobbying organization for the Army. Fogarty, 20, is a 1978 graduate of Plymouth Salem High who now is attending Northern Michigan University.

DWSD eyes 24% hike

Increase proposed in sewage rates

By TOM LONERGAN

A 24 percent increase in sewage treatment rates, effective July 1, has been proposed for most southern Oakland and western Wayne County communities by the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department (DWSD).

Suburban Wayne County is expected to fight it.

The new rates include charges for an estimated $19.5 million in repairs to a cracked Macomb County sewer which nearly collapsed a year ago.

The wholesale rate for most cities in south Oakland and western Wayne would increase from $3.40 per 1,000 cubic feet of water to $4.23. The increase is usually passed on to residential customers. In addition, counties and communities may add service charges.

An additional 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet is included in the new wholesale rates for DWSD's 75 suburban community sewage treatment customers and the city of Detroit. The added charge may be assessed during the next 30 years, the time DWSD estimates it will take to pay off revenue bonds that will be sold to raise the repair funds.

IN SOUTH OAKLAND County, the new rates will likely add at least $10-$13 annually to a homeowner's water bill, according to Donald Ringler of the county Department of Public Works. His estimate is based on households which use from 12,000-16,000 cubic feet of water a year for sewage.

In western Wayne County, the increase could range from $16-$30 annually, according to a DPW official.

The rates will be considered Feb. 4 by the seven-member Detroit Board of Water Commissioners. If the water board approves them, the proposal goes to the Detroit City Council, which has set a 10:30 a.m. Feb. 17 public hearing.

DWSD has asked for council approval of the new rates by March 1.

THE WAYNE County DPW objects to the system-wide added charge for last year's sewer mishap in Sterling Heights and plans to ask Federal Judge John Feikens to review the rates.

"We see no reason why communities outside (northeastern Oakland and western Macomb counties, the areas affected by the break) should pay," said John Breen, Wayne DPW attorney.

Feikens monitors a consent agreement between DWSD and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) which sets pollution control deadlines for the DWSD sewage treatment plant. The plant serves an estimated 3.2 million people in the three-county metropolitan area.

Breen said Oakland and Macomb officials "made a political deal with Detroit" to have the repairs for last year's sewer line break charged system wide.

The bulk of a $15 million repair bill from a July 1978 sewer line collapse, also in Macomb County, was charged only to Macomb users as part of rates that took effect in January 1980.

OAKLAND COUNTY Drain Commissioner George Kuhn was out of the state this week and couldn't be reached for comment. But DWSD Director Charles Beckham denied a deal was made between city and suburban officials on the sewer repair bill.

"If you can imagine myself, George Kuhn and (Macomb Public Works Commissioner) Tom Welsh making a deal, that amounts to pretty good fiction," Beckham said. Kuhn and Welsh have been the most outspoken suburban critics of DWSD.

Beckham said the system-wide charges for last year's near-sewer line collapse is a new policy adopted by the water board in December. He said the 1978 sewer break was due to man-made causes, so was charged primarily to Macomb, while the latest damage was due to natural causes as determined by an Army Corps of Engineers investigation.

Free Contour Analysis Helps Determine If You Really Have To!

In a recent research program Contour Analysis screening tests disclosed 94% of the scoliosis cases found to be positive by x-ray examination.

Contour Analysis involves taking a "three dimensional" picture (Called Moire photography) of the surface of the back to help detect postural distortions. This analysis will be correlated with leg deficiency, patient symptomotology, and levels of spinal tenderness. Such composite examinations may indicate such things as normal and abnormal stress patterns, spinal curvature, muscle spasms, muscle imbalance, spinal distortion and scoliosis.

A free Contour Analysis screening test is also being offered for people with acute or chronic pain by the chiropractic office listed below. People who suffer with backache, bursitis, arthritis, neuralgia, nerve pain, neck pain, muscle pain, bone pain, etc. . . are also invited to receive this free examination.

These tests, including consultation with the doctor, are being offered to the public at no charge, or obligation, for the next 30 days. Anyone wishing to receive this free examination may telephone the participating office directly for information or an appointment. If treatment, or additional examination, is indicated, almost all health insurance policies cover chiropractic care. All fees thoroughly explained prior to any additional service being rendered.

Ordeal of waiting ends for Subic family

By BILL CASPER and LYNN ORR

The telephone call came at 3:50 a.m. Wednesday, less than 16 hours after the American hostages left Tehran.

For the first time in 14½ months, Joseph and Helen Subic of Redford Township were talking to their son, Joseph Subic Jr., one of the 52 hostages released Tuesday.

"He took a shower, then he called us," said Mrs. Subic in a statement released through a public affairs officer.

"We talked for about 55 minutes. He sounds great. Joe says he was only given one hour notice that it was over and he was being flown out. Physically and emotionally, he knows he's going to require time to adjust and to fully grasp what has happened.

"He is exhausted. He sounded completely tired. But as tired as he was, he tells us they had a champagne flight from Algiers to Germany. He says he will be calling us again today (Wednesday) after he gets some rest."

The Subics admitted they were up all night but are awaiting word from the U.S. State Department on their trip to Washington, D.C. to meet with their son, possibly at an undisclosed location.

"We will not be going to Wiesbaden (German)," she added.

THE SUBICS plan to make a brief statement at Metropolitan Airport when they return to Detroit with their son and to hold a more extensive news conference the next day, possibly at the Detroit Press Club, said a source close to the family.

Newspersons who mobbed the Subics' home on Royal Grand for hours Tuesday morning finally drifted away after the family issued a statement through a Redford police officer.

The Subics declined to make a public statement themselves until they are "arm-in-arm" with their son, according to the police officer.

JOSEPH SUBIC SR., a retired Army sergeant, did release several statements through Frank Gaal, a government public affairs officer, Monday when the release of the hostages appeared imminent.

"It finally seems real," Subic said, according to Gaal. "We feel that the money is theirs (the Iranians) and that we are giving back to them that which is theirs.

"We feel that the Carter administration handled as best they could an unprecedented and difficult situation. They worked long and hard at it, and we won't quarrel with the results so far.

"We are just so relieved, happy and thankful that the ordeal appears to be over."

The Subics also said they received a letter from their son, an Army staff sergeant and member of the U.S. Embassy staff in Tehran, shortly after Christmas in which the younger Subic talked about the future and his confidence that he'd be coming home soon.

"It was a very high-keyed letter, very optimistic in tone."

REDFORD POLICE guarded the Subics' home Tuesday, carrying out their orders to prevent the press from harassing the family or shooting photographs through the windows. They said that they had no problems with the press — estimated to number about 30 newspersons at one stage — and that they were very cooperative.

The family's reluctance to talk directly with the press may have been reinforced when Joseph Subic Jr. confessed to engaging in espionage activities on a film released by his captors last April.

The film depicted the young defense attache in an embassy room which he said housed electronic espionage equipment. Subic also charged embassy officials were conspiring to topple the Islamic regime in Iran.

Friends of the family discounted the film as propaganda because of the younger Subic's background. He was an Eagle Scout and called "GI Joe" because of his interest in military and police work.

Subic dropped out of his junior year in high school in Bowling Green, Ohio, to join the Army. He was known as a patriotic young man who rode in squad cars with the police and cleaned rifles at the National Guard Armory.

NEIGHBORS OF the Subic family interviewed Tuesday afternoon were without exception listening to and watching news reports of the hostage situation as the stories unfolded Tuesday. All expressed relief and elation with news of the hostages' freedom.

"We're all sitting here and chewing our nails," said Maryann Capman, who lives two houses away from the Subic home. "We're listening, watching and waiting. And we're excited for the Subic family. I have some understanding of how they must feel, because I have a boy who was stationed overseas in the service."

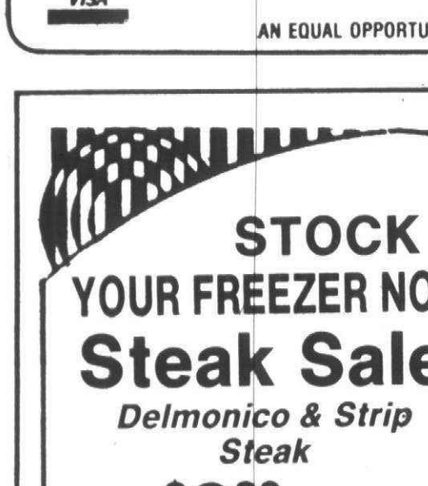

Another neighbor, John Dybas, said he was happy for the Subic family but expressed anger over the hostage ordeal.

"It think it was a tragic, crummy situation," he said. "I spent three years overseas in the Air Force and I wouldn't have appreciated the lack of support by our government had I been held over there against my will. I think our government should have jumped hard on the Iranians, not militarily, but financially, and cut off food.

"We're the only country that plays by the rules, and it wasn't pleasant to see our people held against their will when we're the most powerful country on earth."

You and your friends can enjoy the convenience of a professional and complete hypnosis program in your own home.

Sessions are approximately 2 hours long. Choose from the following classes:

STOP SMOKING
One group session is equal to 8 office visits to eliminate smoking.
Literature, Cassette Tapes, Group Inductions and Individual Demonstrations are a part of this highly successful program.

The Self Psych method used by the American Lung Association in six states has helped over 60,000 stop.

The Self Psych Stop Smoking program is the best in existence! It has a very high percentage of success and smokers stop permanently without weight gain, nervous tension, or irritability.

A minimum of 8, maximum of 20 persons at $35 per person is required to conduct a STOP SMOKING clinic.

WEIGHT CONTROL
Self Psych also has an outstanding history of weight control success. Often in one session, a person can be motivated and mentally conditioned to lose many pounds permanently. Habit pattern changes, motivation, self image, and why people are overweight will be discussed. I will also do three group inductions along with selecting individuals for demonstrations.

Finally, the group will be taught how to apply hypnosis for proper eating habits and at the same time, feel fulfilled on less quantity of food.

A minimum of 8, maximum of 20 persons at $35 per person is required for a Weight Control and personal tape are included.

Taxpayers should decide fate of farmland issue

It would be easy to sweep funding questions concerning Canton's farmland preservation program under the rug.

Federal or private foundation funding of the $16 million development rights program almost certainly is unavailable. The old Township Board researched the possibilities of non-local funding for the last two years.

In the present state of the economy, voters generally aren't in the mood to grant a government request for additional property tax millage. Voter defeat of another millage request (a four-mill issue narrowly was defeated in 1978) would mean almost certain death of the program.

Scrapping Canton's farmland preservation plan would be a shame. The program promises many benefit for township residents, including the aesthetics of a green belt, the availability of fresh fruits and vegetables close to home, and the promise of lower taxes in the long run because of a need for fewer municipal services in western Canton.

But at the same time, questions surrounding the program should not be allowed to dangle indefinitely. The people who own land in western Canton deserve to know the fate of the program, which has cast uncertainty in their lives for at least the last five years.

THE NEW TOWNSHIP board, in office now for less than two months, has taken the first steps to attack those problems.

This month the board charged the farmland preservation committee with preparatory work on a second ballot request for an undetermined millage amount.

It took a lot of courage to make that charge.

For one thing, the majority of the board supports farmland preservation in Canton. Officials are fully aware that defeat of a millage request could mean an end to the entire program.

The willingness to hold a development rights election sometime this year places the board in the middle of a political controversy.

Many advocates of the program have expressed opposition to holding another election for fear that a millage request will fail. They argue that western Canton will not develop at the present time, anyway, because of the absence of water and sewer facilities and the sluggish construction climate.

Their arguments hold little water with owners of land in the farmland preservation district, who wish to map out a course for their future lives.

Opponents of the program argue that a millage request for development rights already has been defeated by voters.

But the Observer backs those who believe that the 1978 4-mill request ($4 per $1,000 assessed property valuation) specifically was designed for voter defeat by an administration opposed to the program. Approximately 47 percent of the electorate supported the millage request, despite the widespread claim that the amount was excessive.

We believe that farmland preservation — a program with many merits for Canton — deserves another chance.

THE TOWNSHIP BOARD deserves credit for addressing the problems surrounding the program. Hopefully, the farmland preservation committee — a group of farmers, residents and officials — can formulate a reasonble millage request to launch the program off the ground.

The final decision on farmland preservation in Canton then will lie with taxpayers. That's where the program's fate should be resolved.

'Look what I cooked up for you!'

It's different when it happens to you

I'm not one much for blathering about personal matters.

Journalists, I believe, should make a strong habit of isolating their professional pursuits from their personal feelings.

But in this week's column I'm breaking that self-inflicted rule.

Let me tell you why.

Last September, I found an envelope on my desk. Enclosed was a poem from Chuck Moran of Farmington. Last July Chuck lost his brother, David, who had been involved in an auto accident.

Chuck wanted to tell the world how he felt about his brother's death.

Last year at this time, I couldn't have really related to that situation very well. But on Jan. 28, 1980, that all changed. Brent Barnaby, my youngest brother, a member of the U.S. Coast Guard, died after his ship, the Blackthorne, was struck by an oil tanker in Tampa Bay, Fla.

Throughout my life I've seen a lot of persons die — friends, grandparents, professional colleagues.

But brothers are something special. When they die, a part of you goes with them.

Next week, the Coast Guard will dedicate a memorial in Tampa Bay to those who died in the shipping accident.

So to all of those who lost brothers last year, Farmington's Chuck Moran's poem is dedicated.

My brother, to whom I love,
went to see the good Lord above,
And for this my heart is in pain
when will I see you again?

I feel a great emptiness inside my emotions
I try so hard to hide, but cannot do but hurt me more.
Some day I'll see you on that sandy shore.
When will I see you again?

So, I must live with your memory and a thousand unshed tears.
So a single day may seem as if a thousand years.
When will I see you again?

I will see you when I am an old man, old before my time (your image I guess I pantomime)
For your death was not at all late and closed to debate.

My death and thousands of tears will come in years
That's when I'll see you again.

'Til then God only knows when I will see you again.
I'll do my best and comfort the rest to remember you, as I hold so true.
For you are a part of me.

Today I feel so alone and my heart filled with pain until the day
I see you again.

Charter unit, Ward earn our distrust

Honestly, my Jan. 12 column was written before Chairman George Ward made a fool of himself down at the Wayne County Charter Commission meeting.

The column was on the Open Meetings Act and how boards are unwise to listen to an attorney when they can read the act for themselves. I said:

"You must understand the nature of an attorney. An attorney is not God. An attorney is not an archangel or a saint. An attorney is not even a dispassionate legal scholar.

"An attorney is a hired gun. An attorney tries to find a way to do what the board wants to do.

"Rarely do attorneys know much about the Open Meetings Act. Attorneys know contracts and bonds and liability because that's where the money is . . . ."

ALMOST AS I was writing, the Charter Commission was holding a two-hour closed session to interview candidates for executive director, its chief staff post. Tom Lonergan was covering it for us and reported:

"Charter Commission President George Ward, D-Detroit, said Thursday that none of the applicants . . . had requested that the group close its meeting.

"However, Ward, an attorney, said a discussion of the candidates' qualifications may be done in "executive" session.'

"During a break in the closed session, Ward admitted to reporters that the group had 'no (copy of the Open Meetings) statute in front of us.'"

Ward was dead wrong. He was wrong in his recollection of the Open Meetings Act. He was wrong to lead the charter commission in such a closed session. He was wrong not to consult the act when challenged — and five commissioners did indeed challenge him by voting against closing the doors.

BUT YOU, as readers and voters, can make up your own minds. Don't consult an attorney. The Open Meetings Act is so plainly written that a person of average intelligence can understand it readily.

"Sec. 3. (1) All meetings of a public body shall be open to the public and shall be held in a place available to the general public. All persons shall be permitted to attend any meeting except as otherwise provided in this act . . . .

"Sec. 8. A public body may meet in closed session only for the following purposes:

"(f) To review the specific contents of an application for employment or appointment to a public office when the candidate requests that the application remain confidential. However, all interviews by a public body for employment or appointment to a public office shall be held in an open meeting pursuant to this act."

Those are the relevant portions of the law. What do you think?

WARD COMPOUNDED the error by leading two hours of closed-door discussion of the candidates after the interviews.

When the doors were finally opened, the commissioners conducted three ballots before eventually picking William H. O'Brien as executive director.

There was no public interviewing of the candidates. There was no public discussion of the candidates. The only thing done in public was voting.

Let us move on to another portion of the act which says:

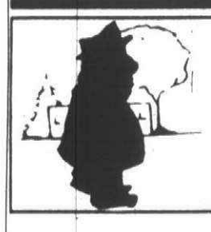

"Sec. 12. (1) A public official who intentionally violates this act is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000."

If he does it a second time, the fine is up to $2,000 or up to a year in prison.

I would suggest an even worse punishment for attorney Ward and the other 18 charter commissioners who voted to close the doors.

I suggest public distrust of them.

Fascinating number: $1 million

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

From the days of his childhood The Stroller always has been fascinated by numbers. As a youngster in the early grades of his education, he was constantly delving into arithmetic — adding, subtracting and multiplying until he had his problems mastered.

But never have numbers fascinated him more than they do now when he reads the sports pages and finds himself gasping at the demands being made by athletes.

Whoever would have dreamed that a baseball player would value his services at $1 million a year — especially a player who had the role of a designated hitter. This is the hitter who goes to the plate three or four times each game and does nothing else.

Try breaking that down and see how much he would be getting paid for each time he picked up a bat and strode to the plate. The figures become more fascinating when you figure that he managed to get a hit only about once in each three trips to the batter's box.

Try it and you'll find out how fascinating numbers can become.

YET STRANGE as it seems, the $1-million-a-year demand is being made by Steve Kemp, Tiger left fielder, who is only a mediocre catcher of fly balls.

Then there is the case of Auriello Lopez, the pot-bellied relief pitcher who is asking for a one-year contract calling for $250,000. Fascinating. When you realize that he makes an average of 25 winning appearances a year he would collect $10,00 for every game he won or saved.

Every time The Stroller reads of these demands, his thoughts go back to his younger days and the wages he received for working the long night shifts at such places like Bethlehem Steel.

When he had finished his apprenticeship with the Atlas Portland Cement Co. the going rate of pay was 22½ cents an hour. On the night shift, it was boosted to 25 cents. For a 13-hour night, he would draw $3.25.

Later, as a full fledged machinist, he was proud to be given the top rate of 48 cents an hour at Bethlehem Steel. Just imagine how the young folks of today would holler and yelp at such wages.

AND THE STROLLER now is forced to smile when he recalls that he never took more than $5 a week as spending money.

Of course he worked five nights each week and had only Saturday and Sunday nights to himself. Pennsylvania has blue laws that closed most business places on the Sabbath, so there was little chance to spend any money.

It is the memory of such things that makes The Stroller smile when he reads of such salary demands as $1 million a year for playing baseball.

They just rekindle his fascination for numbers.

Type A's 'hurry sickness' leads to heart trouble

fitness

Barry Franklin

Question: My doctor says I am a prime candidate for a heart attack. He points out my high blood pressure, cigarette smoking (two packs per day), elevated blood cholesterol, and "Type A" personality.

What constitutes the Type A personality, and how is it related to the development of heart disease?

K.O., Livonia

Drs. Meyer Friedman and Ray H. Rosenman have documented a complex personality pattern characteristic of the coronary prone individual — designated the Type A behavior pattern.

The Type A person is characterized as being extremely competitive, aggressive and ambitious. Overwhelmingly, his most significant trait is a chronic sense of time urgency, or "hurry sickness."

Type A persons strive "to accomplish too much or schedule too many commitments" and are unable to relax, hence are prone to coronary attacks.

He incessantly strives to accomplish too much or schedule too many commitments in a limited amount of time. Furthermore, he is often unable to relax during leisure hours because of guilt feelings.

THE PERSON with the Type B behavior pattern is the exact opposite of the Type A personality. The Type B is seldom obsessed by desires to accomplish an increasing number of tasks in an ever-decreasing-period of time.

Type B persons, who are equally capable, are more easy-going and do not appear to constantly "race the clock."

Interestingly, Type A persons are not always found where people expect them to be. They are not all top executives, company presidents or managers.

Many are frequently found in the lower employee ranks. Hence, socioeconomic position and occupational status do not necessarily determine the personality type.

It is not clear just how the Type A behavior pattern may encourage the development of heart disease. Proponents of this concept contend that stress, inappropriately managed, can produce increases in heart rate, blood pressure, serum cholesterol and blood clotting.

These increases are attributed to stimulation of the sympathetic nervous system, and to the release of adrenal hormones. Such physiological changes continued over extended periods may adversely affect the heart and blood vessels.

TO EVALUATE whether you are a Type A personality, answer the following questionnaire. Persons who respond often with "yes" to the questions should relize their tendency toward the Type A behavioral profile.

These individuals can alter this pattern to some degree by awareness and conscious attention to these behavior traits.

Answer "yes" or "no":

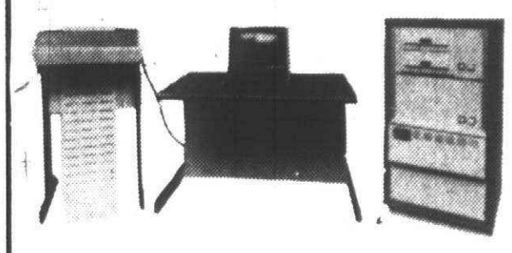

1. I have an intense sustained drive to get ahead.
2. I'm anxious to reach my goals, but I'm uncertain what those goals are.
3. I feel a neeed to compete and win.
4. I always seem to be involved in too many things at once.
5. I'm always racing the clock, constantly on edge about meeting deadlines.
6. I have a persistent desire for recognition.
7. I have an inner drive to speed things up, get things done faster.
8. I'm extraordinarily alert mentally and physically.

O'Brien heads charter staff

Civic Searchlight Inc. has granted William H. O'Brien a leave of absence so he can assume a one-year tenure as executive director of the Wayne County Charter Commission.

O'Brien was a narrow choice of the 27-member commission earlier this month for the $42,000 full-time administrative job.

The commission has until mid-June to draft a reorganization plan for county general government.

As executive director, O'Brien, 60, will hire a 10-person staff which will research and prepare materials for the charter commission.

O'BRIEN, A Detroit attorney, has been executive secretary of Civic Searchlight since 1957. The non-partisan Detroit-based citizens group rates candidates for local elections and monitors local government at the city, county and school district levels.

The charter commission's offices are in the Veterans Memorial Building in downtown Detroit.

The group meets regularly at 10 a.m. Tuesdays and 6 p.m. Thursdays. Beginning Feb. 5, the commission will hold its Thursday evening meetings in various Wayne County locations.

BEFORE YOU OPEN AN INTEREST-EARNING CHECKING ACCOUNT...

COUNT TO TEN.

If you think all interest-earning checking accounts are the same, you haven't been reading the fine print. Just one example. Major financial institutions in this area require minimum balances ranging from $500 to $2000 for such an account, in order to avoid monthly service charges. First Federal Savings of Detroit requires only $300.

So if you're about to open an interest-earning checking account, count the advantages you get at First Federal. You may get some of them elsewhere. But only at First Federal do you get all ten. Count 'em.

1. Your First Federal interest-earning checking account earns 5¼% annual interest.

2. First Federal compounds this interest continuously and pays it monthly, providing an effective annual yield of 5.467%.

3. There is no monthly service charge as long as you maintain a minimum balance of just $300.

4. First Federal offers overdraft protection. (You must apply for this benefit separately.)

5. First Federal gives you your first 50 personalized checks free. No strings attached.

6. First Federal returns your cancelled checks with each monthly statement. Free.

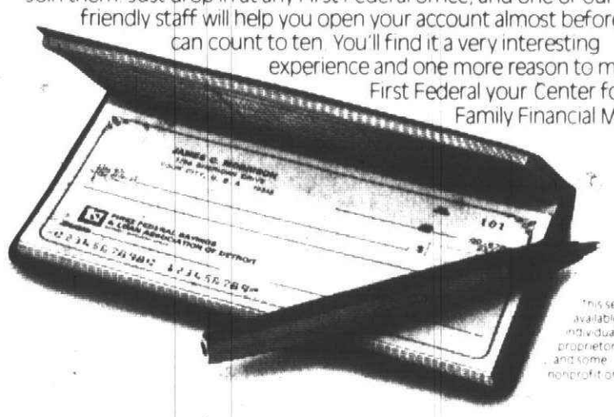

7. First Federal has over 60 offices conveniently located near where you live, work or shop. You can transact your First Federal business at any one of them.

8. First Federal provides fifteen 24-hour Night Owl Windows (automatic teller machines).

9. First Federal's Prestige* Emergency Cash feature entitles you to nationwide, out-of-town emergency cash withdrawals from your interest-earning checking account.

10. If you're at least 62 years old and sign up for direct deposit of your Social Security or other retirement benefit, you can have an interest-earning checking account at First Federal free of monthly service charges and with no minimum balance requirement.

Ten advantages that explain why thousands upon thousands have already opened their interest-earning checking accounts at First Federal. Join them. Just drop in at any First Federal office, and one of our friendly staff will help you open your account almost before you can count to ten. You'll find it a very interesting experience and one more reason to make First Federal your Center for Family Financial Matters.

*This service is available for individuals, sole proprietorships and some nonprofit organizations.

They recall when $10 bought month's groceries

Norma Cassady and attorney Perry Richwine took a stroll down memory lane Monday evening at the dinner meeting of the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club. The two lifetime Plymouth residents were featured in the program, "I Remember When."

Mrs. Cassady told of her father coming from New York State in 1837 and building a home at Beck and North Territorial roads. Her father, William Baker, was 60 years old and her mother, 29. Both had had been widowed. Norma was their first-born. Many of her stories of early Plymouth come from conversations overheard as a child, when her family spent Sunday afternoons at her Uncle Henry Baker's house. He built the frame house which still stands beside Dunning-Hough Library on Main Street.

"Sometimes I'd get tired of listening to the same old stories and would be so happy when they'd bring out the crock of molasses taffy from the closet under the stairs."

She recalled some of the first families in the area. There were the Starkweathers, who lived in a cabin where the Mayflower Hotel stands. "The Starkweathers moved to Oak Street when the railroads came." Oak Street was later changed to Starkweather Street. The Kelloggs lived in a house where the Christian Science Church now stands. The family gave the triangle of land now known as Kellogg Park to the village. At that time it was cleared of trees and was called The Commons.

It was there that youths chased greased pigs and attempted to climb a greased pole "with a dollar bill at the top as a grand prize."

And Mrs. Cassady explained how Deer Street got its name. "In the evening, the deer would come to a salt lick which was just about where Deer and Wing streets meet."

THE ECONOMY of the times was revealed during the conversation.

Mrs. Cassady said her father put $10 on a cupboard shelf. "And my mother bought groceries for a whole month with that $10. We had a crock of butter delivered each week by a man from the country." The William Baker family also lived on Main Street.

Perry Richwine was born in a building on the corner of Main and Sutton (now Penniman) streets, where the First Federal Savings building now stands.

"We had four bedrooms, a living room, a parlor and a kitchen. The rent was $8 a month and I remember that it was terrible when they raised it to $10."

When he got his Detroit News paper route, he was supposed to be bonded for $100. Nobody would bond him, so they gave him the route without a bond. He recalled the joy of receiving a 10-cent Christmas present from one of his customers — the first he had received on his route.

The barber shop below the Richwine apartment had a bath tub.

"Both barber shops in town had bath tubs," recalled Richwine. "For 25 cents you could have heated water, soap and a towel. We kept the stove and the water hot on the weekends in return for the use of the tub." He shivered as he recalled the trip from the hot bath, outside and back to their apartment.

THE ATTORNEY took his listeners on a stroll down Main Street, as he remembered it, starting at the hotel on the corner of Main and Ann Arbor Trail, where the Detroit Edison office is now.

The old merchants and stores were named with comments and stories about each: "Charlie and Wyn Hubbell, the Detroit Edison agents — lived over on the corner of Harvey and William; Riggs Men's Clothing Store; A.H. Dibble & Son, the son was Fred; Gidding's Grocery Store — the sixth and seventh grades had classes above there after the school burned down; and John Gale's store — he sold everything."

Mrs. Cassady joined in recalling Gale's. "He had groceries and vegetables."

"And he put all his vegetables and fruit in the windows and those two old cats were always making their way through them."

"And he had dishes, sets of china . . ."

"And drugs and meat."

"Remember Zayda that worked there?"

"Yes, she married a Gottschalk; just died a year ago."

Their reminiscing led them around the corner and west on Penniman Avenue, past Pinckney's Drug Store ("Lawrence became a state representative"); Huston's Hardware, and George Taylor's Bakery and Ice Cream Store.

One of Perry Richwine's first jobs had been working for George Taylor.

"HE BOUGHT a pacer, one of the best around," said Richwine, recalling that her name was Ida Dillard. Part of his jib job included exercising the horses and driving his employer to poker games. Once Taylor tried to cure his appetite for ice cream, the young Perry was evidently eating up the profits. He made him eat an enormous dish of ice cream but his taste continued, unabated.

Another of his duties at Taylor's was selling off the leftover baked goods on a Saturday night. He did a land-office business one night when he lowered the price of doughnuts to 10 cents a dozen. Taylor did not approve of his merchandising method.

"George Taylor changed a lot in his later years," mused Richwine. "He became real good. He was a baker out at the House of Correction."

The stroll continued past Schrader's Furniture Store and Funeral home, Frank Rambo's meat market, the bank, Huston's, which sold wagons, wheels and spare parts; the Samsen Building, home of the Plymouth Mail and print shop; and Harry Robinson's, which later became the Penniman Allen Theater.

"I WAS 10 years old wen we moved next to Markham's," Richwine said. "The fourth boy in our family was born there."

"I remember when he was born," said Mrs. Cassady. "Your father said, 'It's another boy and I wouldn't take $1

Bake's photos capture the 14 southern states

"Mr. President, the photography by William A. Bake is stupendous." This statement by Sen. Jennings Randolph (D. West Virginia) is in the Congressional Record. He was referring to Bake's photographs in "The American South: Four Seasons of the Land."

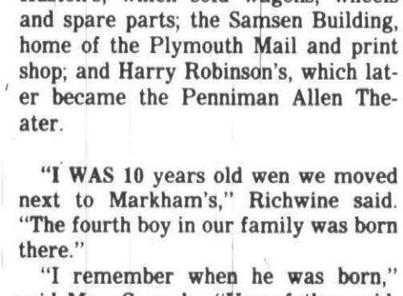

The former Plymouth resident collaborated on the book with James J. Kilpatrick, who wrote the manuscript for the volume, which was commissioned by Southern Living Gallery.

Bake is a disciple of Western photographer Ansel Adams. He is artist-in-residence at Appalachian State University, Boone, N.C. and photographer-editor for National Park Service, Division of Publications. His photographs have appeared in Reader's Digest, Life, Geo, National Geographic books, Southern Living books, Audubon Society books and Sierra Club calendars.

It is the first time a photographic study of the 14 southern states — all in full color — has been published. The collection is the result of more than eight years of work by Dr. Bake.

Dr. William A. Bake spent eight years photographing the 14 southern states for the new book.

James J. Kilpatrick, who was born in the South, provided the manuscript.

WITH TRIPOD and camera, Bake sweated and shivered his way across the South for some 32 seasons in his effort to capture on film the region's moods and spirit.

There are 187 photographs in the book. The rivers — Shenandoah Mississippi, Potomac, Buffalo, Red River and Rio Grande — are in full color. The Blue Ridge Mountains, the Smokies and the Appalachians appear in fall and winter hues. The old cities of Williamsburg, Charlestown, Savannah, St. Augustine, New Orleans and San Antonio are there.

And the ranches of the Texas Panhandle, tobacco farms of North Carolina, Georgia pecan groves, the coastlines, the islands and the foothills make it a book of the land. Man appears incidentally and unposed — the hand on a plow, at a taxi stand in a small town or fishing along great marshes.

JAMES KILPATRICK's syndicated newspaper column on politics has the largest circulation of any in the world. His books include "A Political Bestiary," "The Smut Peddlers," "The Sovereign States" and "The Foxes Union."

He has contributed to National Review, Reader's Digest, Nation's Business and Saturday Review. A native southerner, winner of the William Allen White medal, he was only the third columnist (after Walter Lippman and David Lawrence) to be honored as a fellow Sigma Delta Chi.

His manuscript is the result of motor trips across the 14 Southern states, which allowed him to confirm earlier impressions and gain new ones.

The book is available in area book stores. Plymouth Book World sold its first shipment but is expecting another. William Bake is the brother of Plymouth realtor Robert Bake. The brothers attended Plymouth elementary schools until the family moved to Northville when William was in seventh grade. Both graduated from Northville High School.

NOW to hear Dell Warner

Dell Warner, author, talk show host and columnist, will speak at the January meeting of the Northwest Wayne County Chapter of the National Organization of Women.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the little theater of Hoover Elementary School on Levan Road between Five and Six Mile roads. Following a business meeting, Ms. Warner will speak at 8:15 p.m.

Ms. Warner is host of the show "Woman to Woman" on WXYZ and a columnist for the Detroit News. She also is known for her work in alcoholism and drug abuse centers.

In collaboration with Joan Israel, Marilyn Poland and Nancy Reaume, Ms. Warner is author of the book, "Surviving the Change — A Practical Guide to Menopause." She will use the book as the basis for her talk to the NOW group.

The meeting is open to the public. Anyone needing more information or transportation to the meeting may call Janet Evans, 476-3352, or Betty Kelley, 453-2141.

Tax break for seniors

Persons 65 and older with incomes of $8,000 or less now qualify for deferral of special assessments on their property.

The deferral is provided for in legislation sponsored by State Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, and signed into law (PA 403) recently by Gov. William Milliken.

Geake represents the 14th District which includes Livonia, Plymouth, Redford and Northville.

The $8,000 annual income ceiling for deferments of special assessments will go up to $10,000 in 1982, and will rise with inflation after 1984.

Previous law limited the deferral to senior citizens with incomes of $6,000 or lower.

Senior citizens are busiest people in town

Canton Chatter

By KATHY FREECE 981-2027

Who are the busiest people in town? The answer is the Senior Citizens. Are you surprised?

Delores Edwards is coordinator for the three active groups which consist of 400 energetic individuals. Irene Murphy is the program director who assists all active members with bringing timely information into focus.

The Royals Club members meet in the Holiday Mobile Home Park Clubhouse every Tuesday at 1 p.m. This group is for residents of the park itself. The Zesters group meets at St. Michael's Lutheran Church on Sheldon Road near Warren at 12:30 p.m. every Thursday. The Pioneer group has its weekly session at 12:30 p.m. on Fridays.

Although the membership seems high, there are several hundred more residents who do not take advantage of this motivated congregation of go-getters.

Bea Stanley is the head of the federally-funded hot lunch program. Nutritious hot meals are served daily to Cantonites, age 60 and over, at the recreation center on Michigan Avenue.

It is a plus for many residents to share companionship, memories, meals and the many ongoing activites Monday through Friday. A non-mandatory donation of 50 cents is accepted.

MANY CLASSES are offered free of charge to all club members through Plymouth-Canton and Wayne-Westland Continuing Education departments.

A few of the classes being offered are ceramics, oil and acrylic painting, sewing, arts and crafts, woodcarving, swimming and Expression in Dance.

No wonder they are never home. There is something happening every day in the lives of these senior citizens .

Irene McKaig is responsible for the tele-care program in the area. For lonely residents unable to leave their homes, and others who live alone, there is daily telephone reassurance, an ever-rewarding job for McKaig.

With the cut-backs in county government this service may come to an end for those who are shut out from the mainstream of society.

Transportation is available to seniors and handicapped for shopping, day trips and doctor's appointments. Legal assistance also is provided through the Legal Aid of Wayne County. Many health services and medical equipment loans are available to all who elect to use them.

THE OFFICE is always swamped with calls for information and active members volunteer daily to man the phones so no question is left unanswered.

Michael Gouin and Bob Dates are a backbone of the many recreational programs. Delores Edwards is in charge of the senior citizen program. Three years ago she decided to get some music into the organization. The Senior Citizens Kitchen Band was formed and today has 36 members, all with a homemade instruments except for a couple of banjoes. They have been highly publicized and widely acclaimed.

Nominal fee is $100 for each appearance but they do not charge for performances at nursing homes or senior citizen centers.

Paul Kitti, a wood carver, is one of the talented seniors in the group. A display of his works is in the Canton Library during the month of January.

A MONTHLY newsletter, "Silver Threads," goes into the homes of Canton seniors. The events listed are mainly in the daytime. Bingo, cards, singalongs, potlucks and monthly business meetings are scheduled. There is one piece of equipment that these people are lacking. They have no means of transportation for residents who want to be able to socialize from time to time with others. A van of some sort is needed. It would be helpful if one of the local community service organizations would take this senior project under its wing.

Daytime excursions are planned monthly for the regular membership. Every three months there are three or four trips organized for members and friends.

For information, reservations or a friendly hello, call 397-1000 extension 278.

Leola Hogan wins award for article

Leola Hogan, an assistant professor in the Department of Nursing Education at Eastern Michigan University, has won the Michigan Nurses Association 1980 award for excellence in writing.

Hogan, a Canton Township resident, coordinates Eastern's registered-nurse-degree-completion program. She won the award for an article she co-wrote with Joan Opiela titled, "Violet: A Case of Sensory Deprivation." It will be published in the January issue of The Michigan Nurse, a publication distributed to 9,000 nurses in Michigan.

The writing award is given annually to encourage members of the Michigan Nurses Association to write for the publication. Articles submitted for the competition are written for nurses, members of other scientific disciplines and the general public on all aspects of the nursing profession.

Hogan, a native of New Orleans, La., earned her bachelor's degree from Northwestern State College and a master's degree from Catholic University. She is a candidate for a doctoral degree at the University of Michigan, specializing in adult continuing education.

Merchants to meet

The recently formed Canton Merchants Association will unveil its promotional plans for 1981 at a Jan. 29 meeting at Cyprus Gardens restaurant.

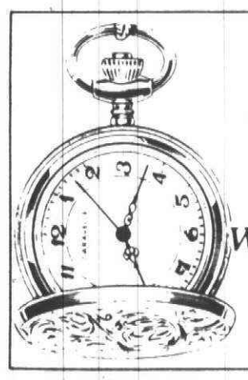

Kicking off the meeting will be free snacks and a cash bar at 8:30 p.m. followed by the business portion at 9:30 p.m. The restaurant is in the Harvard Square shopping center at Sheldon and Ford roads.

The merchants association was formed last summer to focus on promoting special sales and events of Canton businesses.

The meeting is open to all Canton merchants. For additional information, call 453-2105.

Board members Carl Glass (left), fall festival manager, Eleanor Shevlin, Hazel Gibson and Erick Carne arranged clues for the presidential game at the wine and cheese party which preceded the annual meeting.

Fall festival adds 'touch of class' to its annual meeting

The annual meeting of the Fall Festival Board of Directors Monday evening in Emma's Restaurant set a precedent.

At least, board members and service club representives are hoping it will become a traditional form of wrapping up the old year and looking ahead to the next festival.

The business of electing a new board was conducted in the pleasant atmosphere of Emma's. The first part of the gathering was purely social as 35 persons talked and drank a wine cup and ate an assortment of cheeses.

Frank Kern, chef at the restaurant, Eleanor Shevlin, Audrey McClear and Gary Beglinger were responsible for the party. There were brie, Swiss, cheddar and Lorraine cheeses and a fondue pot surrounded by chunks of sourdough bread. Fresh fruits were also on the table.

A marimba and flute provided background music. The musicians, both graduates of Wayne State University, were Dorie Speers on marimba and Marian Craig on flute.

THE 1981 BOARD of directors for the Plymouth Fall Festival includes: Fred Eisenlord, president; Eleanor Shevlin, first vice president; Jim Anuelweicz, second vice president; Jean Harsha, secretary; and Grace Light, treasurer.

Retiring president of the festival board, Gene Kafila, gave a brief summation of the 1980 festival. He said the festival was a success and all particpating groups made money.

Kafila received a plaque from the board in appreciation of his work and leadership. The presentation also included a coffee cup that stood in for an engraved punch cup. The punch cup was not ready.

Kafila had headed the move by the board to show its appreciation to the city of Plymouth for its part in the fall festival. Their gratitude was in the form of a silver punch bowl presented to the city.

Punch cups were not included in the gift. The hope was expressed that service organizations and clubs would donate cups to complete the set. The one engraved with Gene Kafila's name will be the first.

Anyone wishing to donate engraved cups honoring a person or group may call Hazel Gibson, 455-6660, for more information.

Fred Eisenlord was elected president of the 1981 Plymouth Fall Festival Board of Directors.

The new fall festival president, Fred Eisenlord (left), presented a plaque of appreciation to retiring board president, Gene Kafila.

Tim Doyle considered the clues in a presidential contest during the social time that preceded the annual meeting. Each person had the name of an American president pinned to his back and he had to deduct who it was. Carl Glass (in background) considered his own clues.

O&E

These juniors are called achievers

They're called achievers.

And several hundred young people in this area live up to their name with hard work and dedication in programs sponsored by Junior Achievement in Livonia, Redford, Plymouth and Wayne.

The achievers, mostly in their teens, make and sell products through their own companies that operate out of these centers. Businesses in the area sponsor the companies and supply advisors.

Last weekend 29 JA companies filled the Livonia Mall and did business to the tune of $1,500, selling items like T-shirts, lamps, clocks, flower arrangements and auto emergency products like trouble lights and flare kits.

The New Wheels company of Livonia won the prize judges awarded for the best display in that event. New Wheels produces T-shirts and lamps in the JA center located in Livonia's Whitman Center. Its advisors come from the Ford Motor Co. Dearborn Stamping Plant.

And on Jan. 30, Livonian Marty Steven will compete for the honor of being Junior Achievement's Businessman of the Year. Businesswoman of the Year and a Product of the Year also will be chosen that night in a gala at Mercy College sponsored by the seven-county Junior Acievement of Southeastern Michigan.

A PROGRAM that gets impetus and active sponsorship from about 250 southeastern Michigan businesses, Junior Achievement is in its 31st year in the Detroit area and still burgeoning.

The Livonia center at Whitman now is home to 16 companies operated by some 300 young business people, and its growth is rivaling the longer-established center on Telegraph in Detroit where 25 companies base their production.

A Redford center on Grand River near Inkster hosts 12 companies and some 200 young achievers, and new centers are growing at Plymouth-Salem High School and Adams Junior High in Wayne.

The achievers' products are mostly created in these centers.

"We encourage them to start from scratch and make things to market," said Richard Maladecki, planning and development director for the JA program in Southeastern Michigan.

"The products are sold in events like the one at the Livonia Mall, or from door to door, or to friends and relatives."

SINCE ITS beginnings in the metropolitan area in 1949, Junior Achievement has seen growth and changes.

The aim was, and still is, a program sponsored by business and industry, to give young people understanding of business methods and procedures.

"We have about 1,000 advisors from the business community involved," said Maladecki. "There is no assistance from the United Foundation, and no grants. This program is operated by the advisors and achievers."

Recently, however, there has been increased emphasis on making saleable items, and centers are shifting more and more to school locations.

"The gasoline situation is making it more difficult for the young people to get to central locations," said Maladecki, "so we're bringing Junior Achievement to them.

"The school centers are equipped with power tools. The advisors give safety instruction and the young people go from there. Girls use them as much as boys — it's whoever wants to participate."

Another change of recent years is the establishment of a JA area center where Maladecki presides. It is located at 21720 Grand River in northwest Detroit.

'I remember when'

million for him — but I wouldn't give a nickel for another one.' "

They recalled a 35-year courtship — a clerk sound asleep on the counter who let a little Norma Baker find her own tea. "And he turned out to be Judge Henry Valentine," added Mrs. Cassady.

Maples arched over Main Street. Farm horses frightened by train whistles reared in the muddy streets, forcing young girls in pinafores from the boardwalks to front lawns. The interurban waiting room was between Lent's and Growthworks.

The adventures of Jim Eddy, who owned the lumber yard by the railroad tracks, and Mr. Samsen of the Plymouth Mail, brought laughs from the audience.

"I Remember When" was a hit with the BPW members and their guests. Grace Rix taped the conversations for posterity and those members who missed the meeting.

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF FREE HOSPITAL CARE

Botsford General Hospital (Osteopathic) located at 28050 Grand River Ave., Farmington Hills, will make $139,000 of uncompensated services available during 1981 to eligible patients unable to pay.

The Hill-Burton free care will be granted on an individual eligibility, first-requested basis within the $139,000 limit. Eligibility will be limited to those unable to pay whose total gross family income is not more than twice the current poverty income guidelines as defined by the Community Services Administration.

Pastor rejoices at non-violent settlement of hostage crisis

By MARGARET MILLER

The Rev. John Ferris, minister of Rice Memorial United Methodist Church in Redford, has an extra reason for rejoicing over the release of the American hostages.

It is that their release was negotiated by non-violent means.

"It took a long time and there was much frustration," said the clergyman who has, through long self-searching, come to the conviction that non-violence is the only way for an individual or a nation.

"But it's a good illustration of the position that non-violent means can get results. All 52 are getting back safely. In fact, the military action was the only one that took lives."

Ferris is committed to non-violence to the extent of preparing himself to serve as a counselor in this area for young people uncertain about the Selective Service registration now required of 18-year-olds.

He received such counseling 10 years ago, he said, and it not only helped him sort out personal confusion but also pointed him in the direction of the Christian ministry. He was granted legal status as a consciencious objector in 1971.

"I see the role of a counselor as one of helping young people who are confused understand what their legal options are and helping them make a choice as to what is right for them. It's not a matter of finding loopholes or getting people off, and I certainly don't see myself going out to urge people to resist registration.

"I just want to be available for those who have the problems I once did with understanding the whole question of pacifism."

THE REDFORD PASTOR, who will work through the peace center of the Wesley Foundation at Wayne State University, outlined his plans in his church's regular bulletin and encountered some concern on the part of his parishoners.

"It's an issue that stirs emotions," he said. "It has started people talking and thinking about the matter, and I think that is good. I realize not all Christians have the same ideas with regard to military service, and I emphasize that I feel it's OK that there should be disagreements."

Ferris said he had told those in his congregation worried about the time he would spend that any counseling of persons other than Rice members would be done in his home and on his own time. He added that in general he sees "the time commitment as small."

He noted that the United Methodist Church "has been increasingly taking stands against war as a means for solving disputes."

"The Detroit Conference has taken a stand against reinstating the draft while at the same time supporting the idea of volunteering for military service on a personal basis," Ferris said. "I agree with that position."

HIS OWN QUEST for understanding he described as a slow and sometimes painful one.

"Back in the '60s and early '70s I was in high school, and at that time I pretty much decided then that if someone were to put a gun in my hand and say it was a kill-or-be-killed situation I would rather suffer the pain than inflict it on another," he recalled.

He attended college for four years on a student deferment.

"But the Vietnam war dragged on, and I realized I would have to make a decision, so I started going to draft counseling," he said.

"It was a deeply religious experience. I realized I would have to take a long, hard look at my own faith and the model of Jesus, and I came to the conclusion that he was a model of non-violent action.

"I also came to realize that the religion I had been brought up in was one of love and caring for others and could not be described as giving approval to violence."

He added that the counseling led him to think about the ministry, a career he pursued through seminary, then three years as associate minister at Newburg United Methodist of Livonia and appointment nearly two years ago to the Redford Church.

"I now feel that Christianity and pacifism are inseparable," he said, "but in stating that belief I realize many people disagree with me."

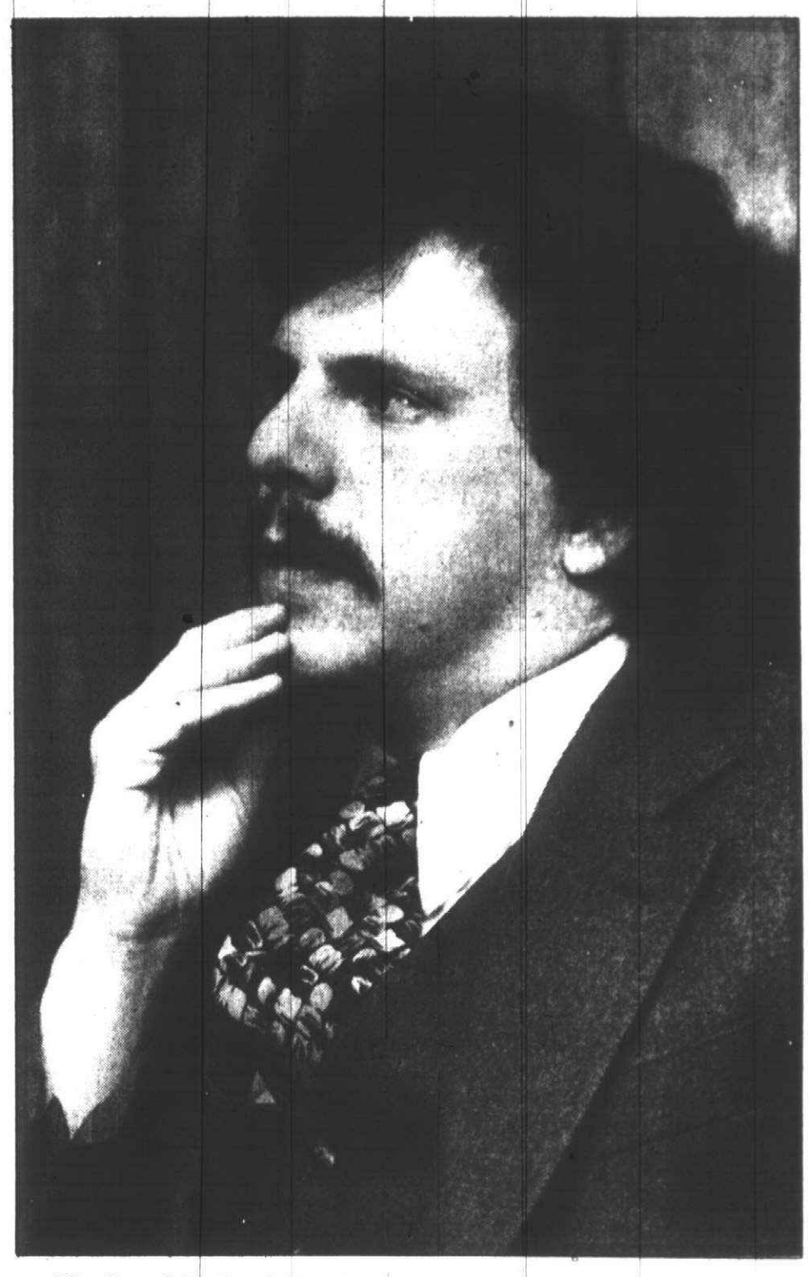

FERRIS ADDED a couple of beliefs about patriotism and Christianity.

"It's my contention that pacifism is patriotic," he said. "I don't think it's disloyal to be concerned for the future of our country, especially when it runs the risk of collision with a nuclear holocaust. I see my allegiance to the church and my responsibility as a minister as one of being concerned with higher questions and higher loyalties."

And the Christian church, he stated, "affirms that our basic oneness in Christ is more important than differences in political or social beliefs."

"We can disagree, even strongly, and still love each other in Christ."

Those interested in registration counseling, Ferris said, can call the Wayne State Wesley Foundation peace center at 577-3451.

The Rev. John Ferris has thought through carefully his position as a pacifist and his decision to offer counsel in connection with Selective Service registration. (Staff photo by Bill Bresler) church bulletin

RIVERSIDE PARK CHURCH OF GOD, 11771 Newburgh, Livonia, has called the Rev. Herbert W. Thompson as minister. He will begin his ministry at the 10:45 a.m. worship service on Sunday.

Rev. Thompson has been a soloist and pastor in the Church of God for many years. In addition to his pastoral ministry he traveled as a song leader with the late E. Stanley Jones. In several cities where he has ministered he has appeared as guest soloist in Handel's "Messiah."

COVENANT COMMUNITY CHURCH, Beech Daly north of Five Mile, Redford Township, has scheduled a Christian sports rally at 7 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 24. Appearing at the events will be evangelist John Canine, former all-American basketball player with the Phoenix Suns and chaplain to the Detroit Tigers.

Other guests will be baseball players Mark Wagner of the Texas Rangers and Jim Essian of the Chicago White Sox. Music will be supplied by Gary Sinclair, church member and faculty member of the Southfield Christian School.

Canine will also speak at the chuch at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Sunday. For more information, call the church at 535-3100.

NATIVITY CHURCH, 9435 Henry Ruff, Livonia, will install its newly elected officers at Sunday's service. President is Walter Doelp, vice-president is Bob Bloss, and treasurer is Elaine Small. Jack Burchard is financial secretary, Karen Grzywacz is secretary, and Jack Glassford and Curly Flummerfelt are envelope secretaries.

ST. PAUL UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Five Mile and Inkster, Livonia, will hold the annual meeting of the congregation at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 23 in the social hall.

ST. PRISCILLA CATHOLIC CHURCH, 19120 Purlingbrook, Livonia, will be the scene of a Mr. and Mrs. card party at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 30. Donation is $3. Tickets are available at the door. For more information contact Patricia Garbacz on Tuesday or Thursday at 591-5937.

moral perspectives

Rev. Charles Erickson

Religious language issue is not a fad

Here comes a scolding to people who do not know what they are talking about regarding feminists and the Bible. While I scold, I laugh at myself with the help of the slogan: "Those who think they know everything are exasperating to those of us who do."

We who work every day in religion need a sense of humor about the "Catch-22" trap we are in. We receive bemused smiles because we seem so antiquated and the next moment sneers because we try too hard to be up-to-date. Most of the time we take our lumps and pursue a course which seems wise and helpful to people.

The issue of religious language is not a fad. In the long run it is the crucial issue. Consider that Martin Luther's Bible translations created the German language as it is used yet today by literate people. Much of the tone and phrasing of the English we speak was molded by Bible translators and writers of prayers and hymns 400 years ago.

Language carries culture. Attitudes follow our habits of speech. Cultural customs and personal attitudes need the challenge of powerful language. Prejudice in culture and attitudes of superiority in persons depend on speech patterns for their continued harmful impact. The easy way is the lazy way of using words which communicate narrowness, littlenss, meanness and bigotry.

WE NEED LANGUAGE which relates us to others, which includes all listeners, and which soars above classification by color, religion, place or origin or gender. The moral issue is to promote language which moves relationships toward peace and individuals toward dignity. Language which divides and degrades is obscene and should be regarded as filthy.

Yes, the Bible was written in a patriarchal age when women were not even reckoned in religious institutions. The amazing thing is how often the Bible "goes out of its way" to give prominence to women. Female servants of God are identified often. Initiative by women is clearly portrayed. More important, equality of all people before God dominates the pages.

I consult 13 translations of the Bible nearly every week. I often find old standard translations using inclusive language where modern work slips into a masculine pronoun. The problem is not accuracy of original texts but translators whose habits of speech come from modern time.

The burden on religious communication is to convey truth which is so universal that no human is omitted. What the Bible is all about is informing humanity that there is one God whose children all belong to one family. To convey this revelation, language must be specific about people while including all of us in the audience.

The transforming step for any of us is to develop sensitivity. What truth was meant and how does it feel to all different kinds of readers? Singing "Till sons of men shall learn thy love" is not a prayer of females about themselves. They may wish it for males but we worship for ourselves, not for those beside us. Try singing "Rise up o girls of God" and sensitivity will come quickly.

THE BIBLE CONTAINS blatant exclusiveness in spots and that should remain. It usually shows us that when people try to exclude others they violate the harmony the Lord was trying to proclaim and give.

Changing language habits is a revolution. We need memories filled with phrases which do not encourage egotism. Any revolution worthy of joining aims to free the oppressor from attitudes of superiority. Then the freedom of the oppressed comes in a hurry.

The writers who are so angry about the quest for inclusive language all seem to be male. Shame. The least an oppressor can do is to shut up about offenses.

We look pretty stupid trying to defend the notion that one gender includes two. All of us pass culture along in word and deed. Every day is a new day so we are all revolutionaries trying to get out of yesterday. Join the revolution by loving language which shows male and female as equals in the presence of God.

Sex education class offered by church

Youngsters of junior high school age are being offered a class on sex education by Christus Victor Lutheran Church, 25535 Ford, Dearborn Heights.

Subjects to be dealt with include emotions and sexuality, reproduction, physiology of men and women, moral responsibility in sex, birth control, the Bible's teaching on sexuality and marriage and the family in God's plan.

The course will be based on the American Lutheran Church's teachings on sexuality which are rooted in the Biblical witness, and its high commitment to marriage and the family.

The instructors will be two Lutherans and one Roman Catholic. They are Karen Lehman, RN, mother of two children who is a member of the Board of Christian Education of Christus Victor. She is experienced in teaching this age group.

Also teaching is Dr. Michael Rothaar, pastor of the church, who has a master's degree in clinical psychology. He has done course work in the ethics of sexuality. He is married and the father of three.

The third teacher is Mary Beth Jaroscz, RN, an instructor for the Childbirth Preparation Association for four years, who has taught sexuality at the high school and junior high level. She is also a mother.

Classes will take place from 7:30-8:30 p.m. Wednesdays from Feb. 4-25. Registration is $5. Registration and parent orientation will be held in the church at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 28. For more information call the church at 278-8878.

Tarot cards combine many cultures' symbols

I am frequently asked why I so avidly recommend the Ryder-Waite tarot deck to my students. Since there are so many decks to choose from, why this particular one?

Tarot cards are made up of symbols. Symbols are different for people in different cultures. Our own society is made up of people from all over the world and has been influenced by all of them — Egyptian, Oriental, European.

Buddhism, Hinduism, witchcraft, Judaism and Christianity, as well as many other forces, have played a part in our development.

Therefore, I feel that the Ryder-Waite deck, which uses symbols from all of these, suits our purposes better than a deck from any one particular locality.

EACH CARD in this deck is rich in detail. So much so in fact, that it is easy for a person seeing them for the first time to overlook some of the symbolism there.

That is why I often provide my students with black and white reproductions of the cards, and ask them to color them with felt pens. Then they are apt to be more aware of the minute details.

The cosmic lemiscate, shaped like a figure 8 on its side, is one such symbol. It appears on the magician card (the first card in the Major Arcana), on the strength card (the eighth card in the Major Arcana), and again on the two of pentacles.

It is an Egyptian symbol representing eternal life, and the harmonious interaction of man's spiritual and physical nature.

The ankh is found on the Emperor's card (Major Arcana card IV). This figure combines the masculine and feminine symbols and is the oldest known amuletic sign of the ancient Egyptians.

It represents immortality. Every Egyptian god and goddess carries an ankh. For some reason, ankhs were never worn, but all of the deities were pictured carrying them in their right hands, just as the emperor is in the tarot.

THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE from the book of Genesis appears, complete with a serpent entwining its trunk, on card VI, the Lovers.

Yods, drops of light or dew, are Hebrew images representing the spiritual life force descending from heaven to earth. They are pictured on cards XVI, the Tower; XVIII, the Moon; and on the aces of swords, cups and wands.

The fish, an early symbol of Christ, appears again and again in the taro, representing the springing up of new ideas, the evolution of the body and soul.

The Jewish Torah, the Christian cross, the pentacles of witchcraft, Chinese pomegranates, Mercury's caduceus (a snake-wreathed staff), Saint Peter's keys to the gates of heaven, and Gabriel blowing his horn are openly a few of the numerous symbols that Ryder and Waite incorporate into their deck of tarot.

I DO NOT WISH to belittle any of the more than 3,000 decks listed in the Encyclopedia of Tarot, by Stuart R. Kaplan, published in 1978 by Noble Offset Printers of New York.

In fact, one of the decks pictured there was created by my own daughter, in collaboration with a friend of African descent (the May-Mulleague African deck).

I collect tarot decks of all types. But when it comes to the best card for the serious American student, I will continue to recommend the Ryder-Waite deck.

Big victory at RU lifts Salem cagers

By BRAD EMONS

Redford Union's home basketball court is no jinx as far as Plymouth Salem's concerned.

The Rocks raised their overall season record to 8-3 with a come-from-behind 61-54 victory over the Panthers.

It was Salem's eighth straight triumph on the Panthers' home floor, a haunt for many area teams.

"We've played well the last two ball games," said Salem coach Fred Thomann, whose team has knocked off two league leaders in succession.

"I feel we accomplished something here. We were really digging out there."

The loss dropped Redford Union to 7-3 overall. The Northwest Suburban leaders ran into foul problems early and faded down the stretch.

"We ended up playing their game," said RU coach Bill Foley. "We wanted our press to bother them, but they did a good job beating it. The big difference was that their bench was stronger."

Salem presented a balanced attack with 6-foot-3 sophomore forward John Cohen scoring 13 points and grabbing nine rebounds.

Paul Horton, a 6-9 senior center, added eight points and 12 rebounds.

Also in double figures for the Rocks were Mike Sharp, David Houle and Scott Bublin. Each tallied 10 points.

Senior Jerry Burk of RU led all scorers with 17. Guard Rocco Rucinski chipped in with 15 before fouling out.

"Their height was a factor," said Foley. "Salem looked a lot better tonight than when I scouted them.

FIRST HALF action was dominated by the toot of referee's whistles. RU starter Todd Hillis had four personal fouls even before the first quarter had expired. In all, 27 fouls were called in the first half.

RU took command late in the half when Rucinski made it 25-19 on a free throw. Salem, however, cut the margin to 27-25 at intermission when Houle, a burly 6-3 sophomore, scored a layup with 12 seconds remaining.

In the second half, Salem, employing solid man-to-man defense, overhauled the Panthers on a free throw by Houle with 6:44 left, 42-41.

Salem never reliquished that advantage and added to their own lead by netting six straight free throws in the final four minutes.

"Coming down the stretch we made every free throw," said Thomann, "and our bench played super. The game was won off our bench."

Thomann also praised the inside play of his two sophomore standouts — Cohen and Houle. He also said "our guard play was better."

Bublin, a 6-2 junior, has been moved from forward to guard. He missed all last week with the flu.

"I like where we are right now," said the Salem coach. "We're dealing with pressure and hitting the boards better. Maybe we can get a run going."

RU, which fell to 7-3, will travel Friday to North Farmington.

"Our team will come back," predicted Foley. "Because of the fouls, we had to change some things. You can't blame it on the refs. I thought they did a nice job."

Livonia Bentley cools off Canton

A fourth quarter blitz enabled Livonia Bentley to upset Plymouth Canton 53-43 in a non-league basketball game Tuesday night.

Sean Houle of Canton goes up for two of his game-high 22 points against Livonia Bentley. The Chiefs, however, lost the game, 53-43.

Guard Mike Cavicchio paced the winners with 17 points. Jon Kilger, a 6-foot-5 senior center, added 12.

Sean Houle, Canton's senior center, led all scorers with 22 points. Junior forward Matt Thomas added 10.

Canton, now 5-5 overall, held a one-point lead going into the final quarter. The Bulldogs put it away, however, in the final quarter with a 16-5 scoring outburst. The Chiefs held a 25-22 lead at halftime.

"We had too many turnovers in last quarter," said Canton coach Craig Bell. "We didn't handle their pressure and our key kids made some key errors.

"It can't explain why. What we're going to have to do is go back to the basics. We're going back and starting all over again.

"Maybe we'll have to evaluate some of our roles."

The victory increases Bentley's overall mark to 4-5.

In the junior varsity game, Bentley prevailed 49-33. Canton's freshmen also lost 41-38 to North Farmington.

Canton's varsity will swing back into action Friday at Walled Lake Western in a Western Six League duel.

Chief gymnasts hold own in Dearborn Invitational

Gymnastics scores keep getting better at Plymouth Canton High School.

Coach John Cunningham's girls posted a season high Monday in beating Belleville, 92.60-85.35.

"This is our best so far this year," said Cunningham, now in his second season as Canton coach. "We sat back and were not pressured. It was a comfortable meet. I expected it to be a lot closer."

Cunningham, whose team is 2-1 in dual meets, was particularly pleased with results in floor exercise.

Junior Laurie Beale won the event with an 8.2 from the judges. Teammates Laura Michalik and Linda Beale were second and third respectively, with scores of 8.0 and 7.8. Canton's Amy Albaugh was seventh at 6.8 followed by Lisa Lovich at 6.75.

"We had some nice floor scores," said the Canton coach, "but in other areas there's room for lots of improvement."

Beale also won the uneven parallel bars (7.9) and balance beam (7.7). She was second to Michalik's 8.15 in the vault.

Linda Beale, only a freshman, grabbed third in the uneven bars (7.1) and fifth in balance beam (7.15).

Michalik, a junior, took second in both the uneven bars (7.8) and beam (7.3).

DEARBORN INVITATIONAL

In a preview Saturday of the state championships, Canton finished seventh out of 20 teams in the tough Dearborn Invitational.

North Farmington, led by all-around champ Kathy Temple, won the team title with 96.20 points.

Beale was a runaway winner in the balance beam with score of 8.5. She was third all-around with a total of 32.7. Temple finished first overall at 34.85.

"This was an appropriate score for our performance," said Cunningham. "They had some really good judges for this meet.

"I thought Laurie (Beale) had a tremendous day. Her 8.5 on the beam is a school record.

"This meet was a sampling of the state finals."

Beale also gained seventh in floor exercise (8.3) and eighth in vault (8.1).

SALEM-TRENTON

Trenton handed an inexperienced Plymouth Salem team its third straight loss Monday night, 80.25-46.80.

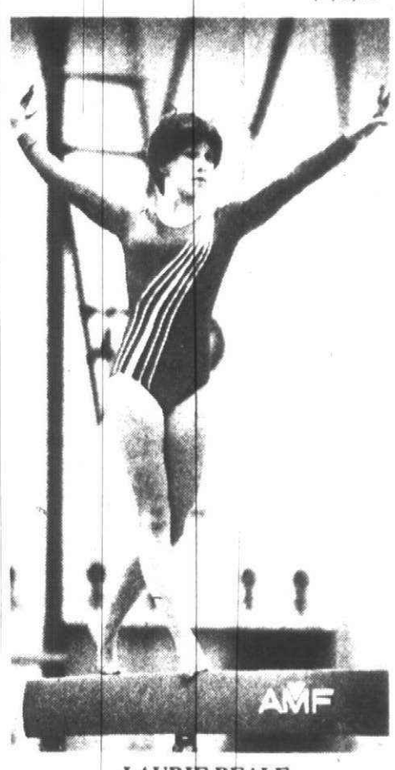

Salem's Mary Cooney recorded scores of 4.85 and 3.95 and the vault and floor exercise, respectively, but did not place.

In uneven bars, Sarah Rubadue finished with a 3.40 while teammate Darla Doumanian had a 4.55 on balance beam. Beth Sieracki tied Cooney with a 4.85 on vault.

Rock wrestlers gain 1st victory crown

Plymouth Salem won its first wrestling tournament of the year Saturday at North Farmington.

The Rocks piled up 121 points in the 10-team event. Host North Farmington finished second with 104.

"This really felt good," said Salem coach Ron Krueger, whose team won seven titles and finished fourth in the state Class A tourney a year ago.

"At full strength I thought we could win this," he said. "Well, we had a lot of people out. We still were finally able to win. It's good for us. We needed it."

Salem captured the crown despite regulars Jeff Vojcek (98 pounds), Chuck Garber (112), Billy Ward (119) and Randy Beaudoin (132) out because of sickness or injury.

The Rocks claimed three individual titles.

The biggest suprise came at 198 when Salem's Scott Wickens decisioned Wayne Memorial's Daryl Brook's in the championship final, 10-9.

"Scott did a real nice job," said Krueger. "He beat some good people."

John Beaudoin won the 126-pound title for the Rocks. He decisioned Farmington's Bill Anglin in the final, 8-7.

Salem heavyweight Marty Piper continued to roll. The junior standout continued to inch toward the school record for pins when he downed Dearborn Heights Annapolis' Steve Fisher in 4:38 to claim the title.

IN PROBABLY the toughest division, Walled Lake Western's Angelo Buttazoni, a Western Six League champ, captured the 167-pound weight class when Farmington's Jim Steiner defaulted.

Buttazoni had earlier defeated Salem senior Steve Szilagyi, who settled for third place with a victory over North's Steve Magyari.

Salem's Rob Price, a senior, also gained third place at 155 with a 8-7 triumph over Western's Aldo Buttazoni in the consolation final.

At 185 pounds, Salem's Adam Golchuck downed Joe Bauer of Western to grab third spot.

Salem 145-pounder Bruce Bachman made a serious run for first place. He was pinned by Wayne's Joe Samples (3:19) in the final match. Bachman appears to be fully recovered from an early season injury which has hampered his progress.

Salem will travel to No. 3 ranked Belleville Thursday in a Suburban Eight League dual.

Marti unit airs game

WSDP will broadcast live the Plymouth Canton-Walled Lake Western basketball game this Friday.

That wouldn't be that big of a deal — except the game won't be played in the Canton gym.

WSDP unveils its new remote broadcast Marti unit this Friday.

"It is a transmitter and receiver which enables us to travel within approximately a 20 mile radius," said Jeffrey Cardinal, administrative coordinator for WSDP. "It (the transmitter) sends a signal back here to the studio and then it can be aired live."

The remote unit transmits a 25 Watt signal to the 20-foot remote receiver tower on the Plymouth Salem roof. This signal is then broadcast on 88.1

Junior pucksters advance to finale

Ten young hockey players advanced to the championship round of the "Hockey Hat Trick" skill competition last weekend.

Two players in each of five age groups, ages 7-16, won their respective divisions in semifinal action Saturday night at Southfield's Beech Woods Ice Arena.

Those players now battle head-to-head for the age-group championship before Saturday afternoon's Detroit Red Wings-Colorado Rockies hockey game at Joe Louis Arena in Detroit.

Keith Bozyk of Canton and Matt Jones of Brighton, both 8-year-olds, represent the 7-8-year-old age division. Jones won the semifinal competition with 190 points, while Bozyk scored 166.

Bill Flaherty of St. Clair Shores and Steve Green of Troy advanced in the 9-10 compeition. Flaherty and Green, both 10-years old, scored 220 and 200 points, respectively.

RON JONES, 11, of Detroit and Rick Abbo, 12, of Oak Park will battle for 11-12 honors. Both pucksters finished with 216 points each.

Southgate's Ed Sauer, 13, and Fenton's Marc Bolen, 14, scored 240 and 218 points, respectively, in the 13-14 competition. Sauer's 240 points was a new record for the two-year event.

Jeff Buck of St. Clair Shores and Mark Blaze of Bloomfield Hills, both 15, round out the finalists as representatives in the 15-16 division. Buck scored 196 and Blaze had 176.

Players are tested on their skating, shooting and passing techniques and acuracy.

The event is sponsored by the Southfield Parks & Recreation department.

Belleville poses threat tonight

Rock tankers stay unbeaten

The day of the week doesn't really matter to the Plymouth Salem boys' swim team.

Salem, competing in a rare Monday meet, dunked Northville on the road 60-23 to stay unbeaten in duals.

"It was a little bit different on Monday," said Salem coach Chuck Olson, whose team is 5-0-1 in duals. "We had Sunday off. We finished well where we had to. I think some of the kids were looking down the road to Belleville."

The unbeaten Rocks travel Thursday to Belleville for an important Suburban Eight League meet.

"I enjoy swimming against Northville," said Olson. "They're good competition. They're a little bit down so it's nice to get the wins when you can."

The Rocks dominated almost every event.

Jeff Kleinsmith powered Salem with a first place finish in the 100 butterfly with a time of 52.5. He was also second in the 50 freestyle (24.3) and was a member of Salem's winning 200 medley relay squad along with Gary Workman, Paul Perkowski and Paul Neschich. The winning foursome posted a time of 1:51.0. Teammates Bruce Harwood, Ashley Long, Russ Shaffer and Tim Harwood were close behind with a time of 1:51.9.

Northville's Charles Ramsey was the meet's only double winner. He captured the 200 and 500 freestyle events with times of 1:54.6 and 5:24.5, respectively.

In the 400 freestyle, Salem finished first with a clocking of 3:51.6. That quartet consisted of Duncan Moshimer, John Thompson, Scott Stinebaugh and John Smith.

Teammates Chuck Eudy, Erik Kleinsmith, Bob Bowling and Jeff Walker finished third (4:02.9).

ROCK SWIMMERS gaining firsts included Shaffer, 200 individual medley, 2:10.4; Perkowski, 50 freestyle, 23.9; Joe Rudelic, diving, 231.55; Doug Kleinsmith, 100 freestyle, 52.5; Bruce Harwood, 100 backstroke, 1:02.9.

Other Salem tankers placing second included Tim Harwood, 200 IM, 2:13.2; Todd Riedel, diving, 171.15; Shaffer, 100 freestyle, 53.6; Neschich, 100 backstroke, 1:03.9; and Workman, 100 breaststroke, 1:07.2.

Jim Kindree finished third in the 200 freestyle (2:04.6). Other Salem tankers recording third places were Stinebaugh, 100 butterfly, 1:10.3; Tim Smith, 500 freestyle, 5:37.5; and Long, 100 breaststroke, 1:09.2.

Reserve quintet cruises

By BRAD EMONS

The Plymouth Salem reserve basketball team rallied in the fourth quarter to beat Lincoln Park 41-39 Friday night.

The junior Rocks trailed most of the way until Marvin Zurek's jumper tied the score at 36 with 4:45 to go.

A basket by center Rick Berberet then put the Rocks ahead 38-36 with 47 seconds left.

Jim Sinclair followed with a steal and passed to teammate Dave Slavin for a layup to give Salem its final field goal.

Rocks serve up victory; Thurston whips Canton

Diving to save the ball is Salem's Mary Van Dusen. She and her Rock teammates handled Belleville easily Monday night in two games. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Plymouth Salem earned its first volleyball victory of the season Monday night at the expense of Suburban Eight League foe Belleville by winning 15-3, 15-4.

All 10 players got into the act as Salem evened its league mark at 1-1.

"It was really nice to get in all 10 players," said Salem coach Cathy Himes. "Everybody did an excellent job."

The Rocks wore down Belleville with some timely serves. Junior Kelly Tucker, a setter, set the pace in the first game.

Cheryl Sobkow, a 5-foot-9 senior, also contributed heavily to Salem's first-game win with five spikes and five blocks.

In the second game, Sobkow continued her stellar play along with Mary Van Dusen. Sobkow was credited with four spikes while teammates Carol Ross and Jacque Merrifield, a pair of juniors, added three spikes each.

"We did not have to be as aggressive as we were against Dearborn," said Himes. "Our service carried the team most of the night. The kids were very, very strong."

CANTON-THURSTON

Things went from bad to worse for Canton Monday in a non-league match against Redford Thurston.

The Chiefs blew a 12-7 first-game lead and eventually lost the match, 17-15, 15-4, to the dismay of coach Cyndi Burnstein.

"We blew it," she said. "We had a substantial lead in the first game. We missed millions of chances and did not take control of the game."

Led by Mary Reardon and Debbie Dickinson, Canton enjoyed a comfortable advantage early. Senior Marianne Pink, who scored several points for the Chiefs on her booming serves, was also applauded by Burnstein.

"We were really working together well at the beginning," said the Canton coach. "It looked liked we knew what we were doing. Offense is our strength because we have some powerful hitters.

"We simply did not take advantage of the opportunities we had. We have to show more initiative."

A breakdown defensively in the second game led to Canton's undoing.

Both teams are now 2-2 overall.

Clarkston showing buoys mat mentor

Results from the Clarkston Wrestling Invitational have brightened Dan Chrenko's outlook for the remainder of the year.

The Plymouth Canton coach was simply ecstatic after his grapplers finished fifth last weekend in the 10-team event.

State-ranked Trenton and Lake Orion, a Class B power, tied for first place with 173½ points each. Fenton gained third at 124 followed by Clarkston at 114½. Canton totaled 106½.

Rounding out the rest of the field was Grand Blanc, sixth, 86; Walled Lake Central, seventh, 44½; Waterford Mott, eighth, 34; South Lake, ninth, 23; Waterford Kettering, 10th, 22.

"We placed in eight of 11 weight classes," said Chrenko. "I was pleased. We did a real nice job.

"You're in good company when you score 100 points. Overall this is a real good step for us. We beat some people to be in this thing. It's a sign that we're back on track."

The Chiefs, who finished a disappointing 14th in the Plymouth Salem Invitational two weeks ago, placed three wrestlers in the finals at Clarkston.

At 98 pounds, the Chiefs' Todd Bartlett was decisioned by Fenton's Dave Wohlford, 4-2, in the championship match. The Canton wrestler won three bouts enroute to the finals.

Canton freshman Tim Collins (112) was also a finalist. He lost to Fenton's Rod Schoals, 11-1, after winning two matches.

"Tim's record is only 10-11," said Chrenko, "but that's because he's been wrestling some tough people.

"HE WAS just super for us in this tournament. Tim's getting better all the time."

Canton's Steve Hamblin (145) lost in the final against Clarkston's Mike Ogans, 10-5. Hamblin, a junior, went 2-1 on the day.

Gaining third places for Canton were Kevin Decker (119) and Kevin Santilli (138).

Decker, a junior, won three of four matches and downed Pete Shaw of Fenton in the consolation final, 11-4. Santilli, a senior, lost to Trenton's Tom Tarjeft, 5-0, but came back to defeat Lake Orion's Fred Valente, 6-4.

"Santilli had a real good week," Chrenko said. "He went 7-1 and has 17 wins."

Brett Haarala (128) and Brian Lee (134) each placed fourth.

Lee, a senior, decisioned Oakland County champ Bob Horton of Lake Orion, 7-2, but lost to Brett Bainbridge of Fenton in the consolation final, 3-2.

Haarala, a junior, lost to the tournament MVP Mel Peterson in the consolation final.

At 155 pounds, Canton's Bob Mullen placed fifth after losing his first round match. Mullen, a senior, then won three straight and decisioned Trenton's Kevin Heaney, 5-1.

New lanes lift scores

If you listen to the old-time bowlers, they will tell you that the recent wave of high scoring is due entirely to the change in equipment and the conditioning of the lanes.

In the old days, they point out, the pins were solid maple and were kept in play even when they were of various heights. And in the old days, the lanes were conditioned with shellac.

Then came the shortage of maple and the pins were laminated and given a plastic coating. This made for better conditions as the pins were the same heights at all times.

The new material that replaced shellac brought about better control of the ball. Aside from that, the old timers tell you, there are arrows on the lanes now showing just where to drop your ball.

At least the explanation sounds reasonable.

BEL-AIRE LANES in Farmington is taking its place among the high scoring lanes in the area.

A fine example of this was shown last week when four members of the Classic broke the 700 barrier and Eddie Lubanski was among them for the second time in recent weeks.

This time Neil Beckman showed the way with a closing 278 in 748. Then came Lubanski with 262 in 714. He was followed by Jeff Anderson with 709 and Steve Walker with a 704.

WHEN IT COMES to favorite houses, Ron Mathison has a good reason to like Country Lanes. He has scored high on eight of the 32 lanes.

He bowls on Monday in the Ever-7 League and recently rolled a 706 series on lanes 1 and 2. He followed with a 717 on lanes 3 and 4. Then he came back with a 296 game on lanes 5 and 6 and topped his efforts with a 747 series on lanes 7 and 8.

DAVE SILL joined the ranks of those who have rolled perfect games when he turned the trick with a 300 final game in a 688 series in the Mixed Classic at Westland Bowl.

Prior to the big game, he had counts of 197 and 191. Despite the 300, he didn't take top scoring honors.

Randy Oncza set the pace with a 264 opener and a 694 series, three pins more than Charles Staggs. Two women — Denise Rathbun and Leandra Stawski — tied for the role of pacesetter in their group with 572.

THE WOMEN did some fancy shooting during the Invitational Doubles at Merri-Bowl. At the finish, Lottie Geary was high with 637 and Rese Aprahamian was next in line with 634 and Linda Henderson landed third with a 613.

In the Singles League, Kevin O'Beirne rolled a 636 to land on top.

MARY LOU SCHNEIDER found her way to the top in the Ladies Classic at Farmington Lanes when she fired a 225 in a 626 series. Behind her came Jean Bombeck with 604 and Brandy Bassett with 602.

In the Mixed Classic, Barb Jawor was high with a 248 in 616.

DOT FULTON walked off with top honors in the Ladies Classic at Livonia Lanes. She won the first game with 180-35-215 and then took the series with 526-105-631.

In the other games, Teresa Derus won the second with 187-39-226 and Madeline Donehue captured the third with 180-39-219.

IN OTHER GOOD performances, Bob Johnson paced the Pile Drivers League at Plaza Lanes with 635 and Jay Urban rolled a 673 to show the way in the St. Linus league at Garden Lanes. His closest rival was Jim Kowalksi with 640.

In the Moose League, John Hockstadt was the big gunner with a 666. In the Ladies Classic, Barbara Smith fired a 665, while Marge Weurth had a 592 and Marge Porter a 583.

Carol Gutowski earned a place on the honor roll at Super Bowl with a 279 game. It came in a 554 series in the St. John Neumann league.

George Gundlack went 57 pins over his average with a 512 series in the Senior Citizens League at Woodland Lanes and Jack Barnes had a 147 triplicate.

Meanwhile, Carol Towne posted a 642 series in the Junior House League.

Avon tennis spot goes to teenager

Lisa Bonder of Saline lived up to her No. 1 seeding by winning the Avon Qualifier last weekend at Fairlane Tennis Club of Dearborn.

Bonder, 15, won the title Sunday with a 6-4, 6-1 victory over Meghan McMahon of Grosse Pointe Park.

A sophomore at Ann Arbor Huron, Bonder, will meet an Avon Futures player in a preliminary match on opening day of the Detroit Avon Championships, Feb. 2 at Cobo Arena. The winner of that match will enter first-round play with the world's leading women pros in the $150,000 tournament.

In a semifinal match, Bonder, who won the USTA National Girls 14's title last summer in Birmingham, Ala., ousted Southfield's Megan Foster, 6-3, 6-1. Bonder opened play Friday with an opening round win over Troy's Mary Jo Colonna.

Foster, a junior Bloomfield Hills Kingswood, upset No. 2 seed Margaret Mayer of Grosse Pointe Park in the round of 16, 7-5, 7-6. Foster then won her quartefinal match over West Bloomfield's Tracy Balagna, 6-1, 6-3.

Plymouth's Chris Gilles, a freshman at Salem High School, reached the quarterfinals of the 32-player tournament before she was eliminated by McMahon, 6-4, 6-1. McMahon then won her semifinal match by defeating No. 3 seed Renee Krickstein of Grosse Pointe Woods, 6-4, 6-3.

Bonder succeeds touring pro Susan Mascarin as the Avon Qualier champ. Bonder was a finalist in the USTA Girls 14's Indoor, Hard Court and Clay Court tournaments last year.

She won the Class A No. 1 singles title last fall.

Area prepares for Avon Championships

By M.B. DILLON

With the Motor City put-putting along at a porcupine's pace, the Avon Tennis Championships' pitstop in Detroit Feb. 2-8 promises to provide a "fun injection" for metro-Detroit's sputtering economy.

Tracy Austin, defending champion Billie Jean King, Pam Shriver, Hana Mandlikova and Barbara Potter will comprise part of the 32-woman field of internationally-known professionals competing in the $150,000 event at Cobo Arena.

The tournament is locally-sponsored by the Birmingham Junior League for the 11th straight year.

Austin, the teenage queen of women's tennis, won more than $400,000 in prize money in her first year of professional competition. The 18-year-old became the youngest winner ever of the U.S. Open in 1979 and this year captured the $300,000 New York Avon Championship title from Martina Navratilova.

King, tennis' unsinkable Molly Brown, captured the Motor City title in 1971 and 1974 prior to last year's victory. The 37-year-old teamed with Navratilova to win the 1979 Wimbledon doubles title and the 1980 U.S. Open doubles crown.

Shriver will make her first appearance in Detroit. As a rookie in 1978, 5-foot-11 Shriver stunned the tennis world by reaching the quarterfinals of the U.S. Open. With partner Betty Stove, Shriver met King/Navratilova in the doubles finals of last year's U.S. Open.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA'S Hana Mandlikova realized colossal success in 1980.

The 18-year-old gained a sensational win over Navratilova in the quarterfinals of the 1980 U.S. Open and reached the finals of that tournament against four-time champion Chris Evert Lloyd.

Last month the fifth-ranked Mandlikova won the singles title at the Australian Open.

Potter, winner of the 1980 Boston Avon Championships and the 1980 Amsterdam International Indoor Championships, is excited about her Detroit sojourn.

"I competed in Detroit's Avon two years ago and loved it," said the 19-year-old who turned pro a month after graduating from high school in Connecticut.

"The arena was super and the people were friendly. Of the tournaments I've played, Detroit's sticks out in my mind.

"In other cities, professional promoters put on the tournament," the 5-foot-9 southpaw said. "But businessmen really don't realize what players need.

"In Detroit, it was very personal. I was so impressed with (Birmingham's) Junior League. They made the whole tournament."

THE 290-MEMBER women's volunteer organization brought the event to Detroit 11 years ago and has witnessed women's tennis sprout from the woodwork.

"When we staged our first tournament in 1971, women's tennis was just getting off the ground," said Nancy Sellers, tournament public relations director.

"I can remember Billie Jean King playing for a crowd of about 20 people in Oakland University's gym."

But the handful of fans was the least of the League's worries. The court, enroute from Kentucky, got lost. Truck routes had to be traced to track it down.

King, an originator of the women's professional tennis circuit, eventually overcame the odds to win the tournament, then termed the $10,000 Kmart Invitational.

Things improved in 1972.

The purse was raised to $12,500 and the finals made ABC's news.

Still, there were kinks on the court. The net fell down and nervous husbands were forced to come to the rescue, serving as linesmen.

Later years brought the move to Cobo; the ousting of wrestlers from Cobo to accommodate network TV's schedule; volunteer 'goon squads' to deliver Chris Evert Lloyd from groupies, (Lloyd, by the way, is taking a rest from the winter circuit again this year); Martina Navratilova's participation, and a $136,000 profit in 1978 — the League's largest ever.

THIS YEAR'S TWIST is the advent of the computer ticketing age.

"The ticket committee had to take a course in computer training," said Sellers. "It's the first time the tickets have been run off a computer and we had lots to learn."

And plenty to do.

Immediately following last year's Avon Championship of Detroit, Niki Gallaudet was appointed the tournament director and women volunteers formed committees ranging from advertising to special events to begin 4,500 hours worth of preparation.

Dollar power is coming from the Greater Detroit Oldsmobile Dealers Association, Inc., which for the second consecutive year is presenting the event.

"We budget annually for community involvement," said David Fischer of Suburban Oldsmobile in Troy.

"It's good for our people here and the community to know that.

"We all live and work in this community. It's important that we be sure to return something to it."

THAT SOMETHING is $20,000 — according to Gallaudet — and the use of company cars to transport players.

A small portion of the $150,000 purse is furnished by the League and the remainder by Avon.

Over the past 10 years, the Junior League has netted a total of $800,000 — all of which has been channeled back into the community.

Sellers said current projects include alcohol abuse community education, the preservation and protection of Belle Isle, child advocacy and family services, Cass Corridor youth advocates, adolescent foster care, the Birmingham Community Women's Center and youth living centers.

Gallaudet expects both players and fans to enjoy this year's Avon.

"The fans should be happy because Cobo's layout is very well-suited for watching tennis," she said. "We're expecting a sell out.

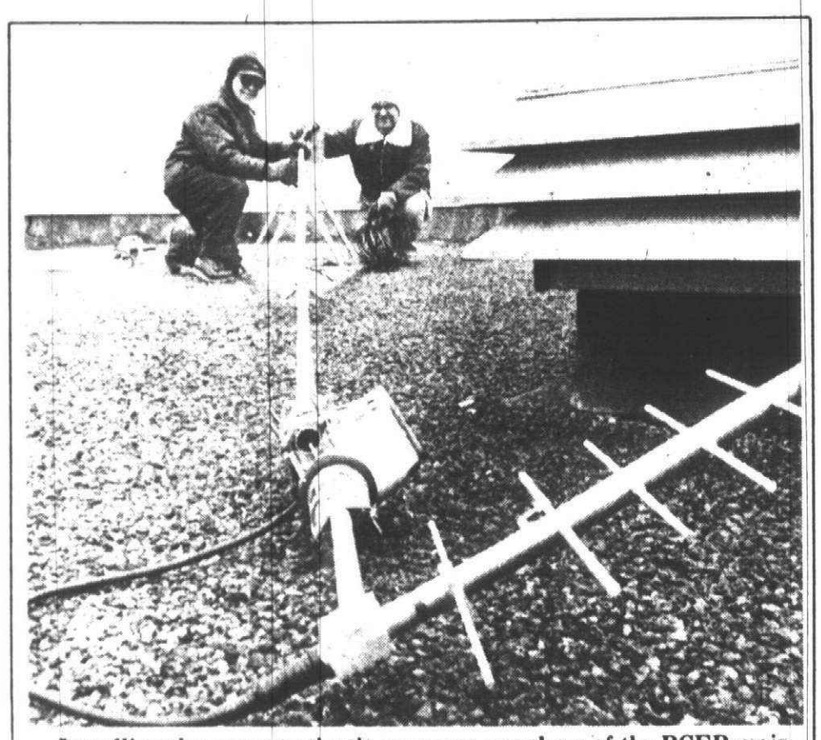

"And the pros like playing here," she continued, "because there's proper lighting and good locker room facilities, easy access to the hotels and lots of community support."

And a highlight awaits fans in 16-year-old Susan Mascarin, a Grosse Pointe University-Liggett student who recently turned pro. Ranked No. 37 in the world, Mascarin will make her Detroit debut as a pro in the Avon.

Tickets for the tourney range from $4-12 and are available at the Joe Louis Arena Box Office, the Junior League office in Birmingham, Hudson's and all C.T.C. outlets.

They may be ordered by mail from TENNIS, 123 W. Brown, Birmingham, Mich. 48011.

FM at WSDP's operational power of 200 Watts.

The broadcast equipment was purchased with the funds raised through last year's WSDP radio auction. It can be set up in five to 10 minutes.

The equipment will be used to increase WSDP program capability, to add a dimension to sports and news coverage, and to cut back on annual phone line expenses.

The Marti unit will enable WSDP to cover breaking news stories in the community as well as away athletic events. Other possible uses include coverage of school board meetings and the Fall Festival.

backgammon

Michael Kiolan
of the American Backgammon Club

HIT OR MISS

During the bear-off, if your opponent is holding onto one of your key points (1 or 2 point), you will probably be forced to leave a shot sooner or later.

Often, the correct move is misplayed or overlooked if you fail to consider both your opponent's home board position and who owns the doubling cube.

In the example, white has to play a 2-1. What would you do with the 2-1 roll?

There are several considerations with this move. Most often, clearing the furthest point is usually (not always) the top priority. Normally, you don't want to leave open gaps between your checkers and the point your opponent is on.

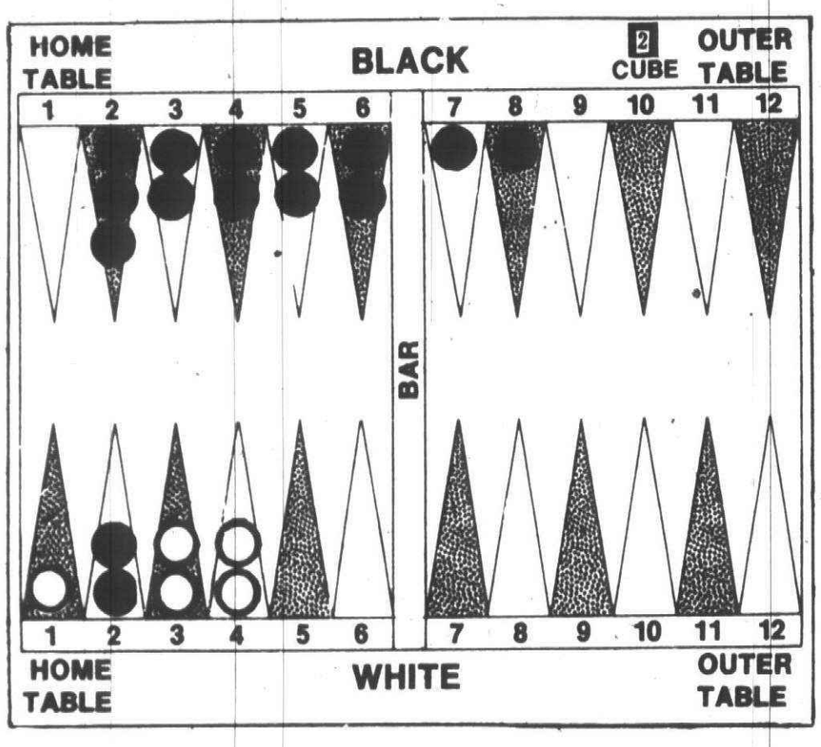

The most misplayed move with a position similar to this would be to move a checker off the 4 to the 1 point, seemingly to protect the open checker on the 1 point. Leaving the direct 2 shot is not too bad with only 11 out of 36 numbers working to hit.

But what is wrong with bearing off a checker from the 3 point? White is still leaving the same 11 out of 36 rolls to be hit. It is clearly a hit or miss situation. If black hits, white will have a tough road ahead. But if black misses the shot, white could roll a lucky double and backgammon black for a triple win.

Leaving the one shot conveniently duplicates the number one black would need to hit and cover the 7 point. Although the "duplication principle" plays an important role in backgammon, it does not reflect in my decision to bear off a checker. I like to think if my opponent should miss, I will have a slice for the backgammon.

Moving the checker from the 4 to the 1 point is not important. White would be a favorite to leave another shot on his next roll anyway.

If you have a backgammon problem you'd like explained, contact the American Backgammon Club at Box 599, Plymouth 48170, or call 459-5776.

Tom Panzenhagen

"The 39 Steps" (1935), 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the Redford Theatre, 17360 Lahser at Grand River, phone 537-2560, $2. Running time 80 minutes.

Hitchcock's "39 Steps" starts with the wrong-man theme that's at the center of so many of his films but expands about the relationship of its two principal characters, Robert Donat and Madeleine Carroll. Many of their encounters are pure screwball comedy and the film places as much emphasis on witty dialogue as on style and plot.

There's dance hall music, humor and plenty of action, making "39 Steps" one of Hitchcock's more widely appealing films. Rating: $3.15.

WHAT'S IT WORTH?
A ratings guide to the movies

Bad	$1
Fair	$2
Good	$3
Excellent	$4

"The Wild One" (1953), 12:30 Friday night on Ch. 50. Originally 79 minutes.

Incredibly, this vintage Marlon Brando motorcycle film was banned in England until 1967. Stanley Kramer produced the picture, which also stars Lee Marvin and Mary Murphy.

Brando and his gang "terrorize" a small, western town, but their actions are mild-mannered compared to what we've seen Clint Eastwood do. Some of Brando's gang would later make appearances in TV situation comedies of the '50s and '60s, also diminishing their credibility just a tad. Look for one famous line: Brando's response to the question "What are you rebelling against?" Rating: $2.65.

"Seven Days in May" (1964), 1 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 50. Originally 118 minutes.

The time is May 1981. Ronald Reagan is sleeping. Secretary of State Alexander Haig convinces the Joint Chiefs of Staff to overthrow the country by military coup. Burt Lancaster stars as Haig and Fredric March plays Reagan. Kirk Douglas, Ava Gardner and Edmund O'Brien also star in this gripping John Frankenheimer film that was way ahead of its time. Rating: $3.35

"The Big Country" (1958), 11:30 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 2. Originally 166 minutes.

William Wyler directed this beautiful western film about two feuding families. Remeniscent of John Ford (some might say "stealing from"), Wyler presents a laconic, dreamy picture of the west and of the men who fought over it. Gregory Peck, Jean Simmons, Charleton Heston, Burl Ives and Charles Bickford star. Musical score by Jerome Moross. Rating: $3.70.

things to do

THE SEVENTH annual ConFusion, one of the Midwest's major regional science fiction conventions, is expected to attract more than 600 SF enthusiasts Friday-Sunday at the Plymouth Hilton Hotel.

Prominent science fiction writers, SF and fantasy films, a masquerade ball, a science fiction art show and a book dealers' room highlight the convention.

The event is co-sponsored by the University of Michigan science fiction club, "The Stilgagi Air Corps," and the Ann Arbor Science Fiction Association, Inc. Activities begin about 5 p.m. Friday and continue round the clock until 3 p.m. Sunday.

THE THEATRE GUILD of Livonia-Redford has cast its next production, the Bernard Slade play "Tribute," which received rave reviews on Broadway. The play was made into a movie of the same name.

Theater guild regulars Howard Egan, Sandi Martin and Carol McNulty head the cast. Marc McCDolloch is directing "Tribute," and Tony Mattar is producer. Performance dates are Feb. 13-14, 20-22 and 27-28.

For reservations call 422-3664.

STATE-WIDE dance adjudications for the Michigan Youth Arts Festival are scheduled for Feb. 28 at John Glenn High School in Westland and March 1 at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

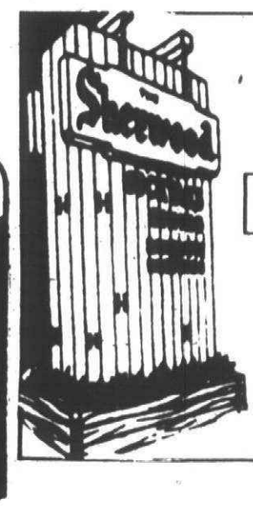

Any dance group which is a sponsored organization of a Michigan high school, community program or private studio, whose dance members are students in grades 9-12, is eligible for adjudication.

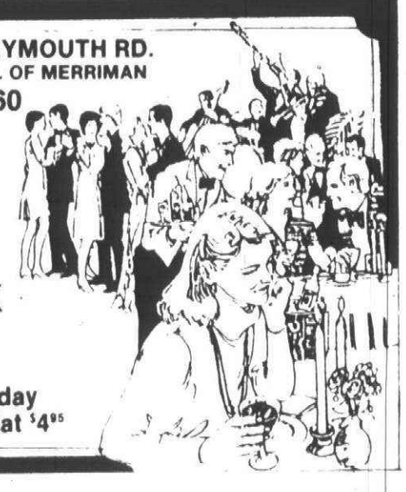

Selected dancers will be presented in a formal public concert during the festival May 15-16 at Central Michigan University. To apply for the dance adjudication process, or to nominate Dance Teachers of the Year, contact Bonnie Larson, phone 517-832-8786 by Jan. 31.

movies

FRI., JAN. 23

9-10PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain) NERO WOLFE. William Conrad stars as Rex Stout's hefty, sedentary sleuth, whose brilliant solutions to mind boggling crimes owe much to the leg work of his hustling assistant, Archie Goodwin (Lee Horsley).

This episode is called "The Golden Spiders" and will have you wriggling in suspense.

9-11PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain) THE OKLAHOMA CITY DOLLS. Susan Blakely is the ringleader of a group of frustrated women who, trying to prove to their men that they don't just belong in the kitchens and the bedroom, form a football team.

10-11PM CBS (9 Central/Mountain) DALLAS. Wedding bells! Lucy Ewing (Charlene Tilton) and Mitch Cooper (Leigh McClosky) tie the knot in the conclusion of a two-part episode. But it's only the beginning for them.

SUN., JAN. 25

4-5PM CBS (3 Central/Mountain) LOST IN DEATH VALLEY. An afternoon adventure drama that explores survival and leadership. Five young folks, members of a school band, suffer a plane crash and are stranded in soaring heat with death at their finger tips. Rubbing two sticks together won't work for this one.

9-11PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain) MURDER ON THE ORIENT EXPRESS. Agatha Christie's classic murder mystery with Albert Finney, Lauren Bacall, Martin Balsam, Ingrid Bergman (an Oscar!), Michael York, Jacqueline Bisset, Sean Connery, Vanessa Redgrave, Richard Widmark and Anthony Perkins.
A winner!

MON., JAN. 26

10-11PM ABC (9 Central/Mountain) FOUL PLAY. A new series starring Deborah Raffin and Barry Bostwick as a TV personality and a detective, respectively. Action, adventure and high comedy.

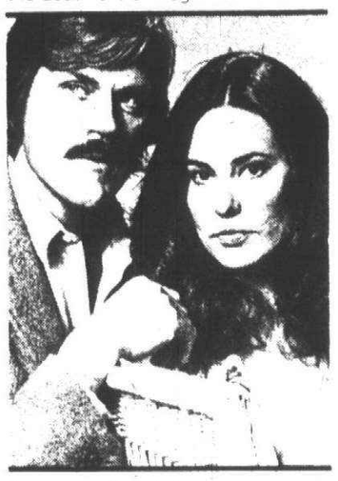

TUES., JAN. 27

8-11PM CBS (7 Central/Mountain) THE BUNKER. A three hour special, starring Anthony Hopkins, depicting the events in and around Adolf Hitler's underground Berlin hideout during the final, harrowing days before the collapse of the Third Reich.

The deterioration of der Fuhrer.

10-11PM NBC (9 Central/Mountain) FLAMINGO ROAD. "A Mother's Revenge" An angry, grieving mother (Alice Hirson) learns the facts behind the death of her illegitimate child.

Suspicion! Threats!
John Beck and Cristina Raines also star.

WED., JAN. 28

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain) THORNWELL. Glynn Turman and Vincent Gardenia star in this drama of the United States Army's use of LSD on an enlisted man.

A powerful film and an eye opener on tending to close an eye to people in authority.

THUR., JAN. 29

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain) JOE DANCER. Robert Blake stars as a rugged private investigator in part one of a three-part, World Premiere drama, so stay tuned for murder.

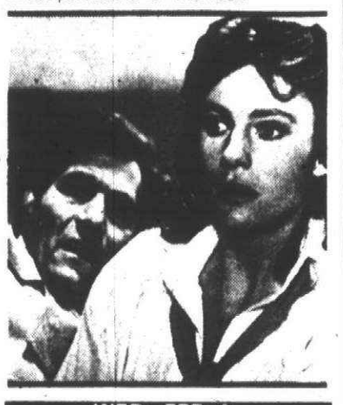

SUN., FEB. 1

8-11PM NBC (7 Central/Mountain) THE DAY THE BUBBLE BURST. Stars Richard Crenna, Robert Vaughn, Donna Pescow, Robert Hays and David Ogden Stiers.
About the 1929 stock market crash.

8-11PM ABC (7 Central/Mountain) A WHALE FOR THE KILLING. Peter Strauss stars as a sophisticated New Yorker stranded with his family on the barren coast of Newfoundland, who is caught up in an incredible adventure when he fights an entire community to prevent the slaughter of a trapped whale.

TUES., FEB. 3

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain) WHO'S KILLING THE GREAT CHEF'S OF EUROPE? They all got "killed off" their time slots last month due to a schedule change but they are back tonight (we can but hope) in this comic mystery tale of murder and mayhem in the International Culinary World. Pull up a chair and enjoy this lavish feast with George Segal and Jacqueline Bisset while co-star Robert Morley garnishes this spoofery exquisitely. A gastronomic romp for whodunit gourmets and most palatable for the rest.

WED., FEB. 4

8:30-11PM CBS (7:30 Cent./Mt.) CRISIS AT CENTRAL HIGH. Joanne Woodward stars as Elizabeth Huckaby, a teacher and girls' vice-principal embroiled in the 1957 federal-state controversy over integration at Central High School in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Troops... frightened parents and students... hostile crowds... and the eyes of the nation.

specials

HOUSE-HUNTING HEADACHES?. . .THOMPSON-BROWN HAS THE CURE!

Our exclusive Homes For Living magazine can be a sure cure for your house-hunting headaches

It shows pictures, prices and descriptions of homes currently for sale throughout this area, so you can tell at a glance which homes may be of interest to you

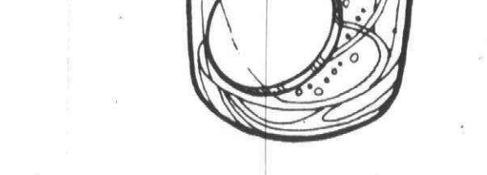

And, if you're moving out of town, we have hundreds of different Homes For Living magazines, showing current listings in thousands of communities throughout the United States, Canada and the Caribbean.

And this magazine is just as valuable when you want to sell your home, because it reaches buyers right here, and those who are moving here from out of town. (Did you know they account for more than one third of all sales?)

So when you feel a house-hunting headache coming on, call us

"ASSUMPTION BUYERS." We have funds to help you assume mortgages that may be too far to reach. Call for details.

LIVINGSTON COUNTY ESTATE
A SPREAD so beautiful, a home so perfect, it rivals that of the Ewings of Dallas. Like new sprawling southern colonial surveys the beauty of 120 acres of tilled land, trees and superb steel horse barn. From the indoor pool area, and immense flag stone terrace, family and guests can enjoy the seemingly limitless view of country side. Besides having space for it's own air strip, this estate is just 6 miles frrom Linden Airport, and a half hour from Bishop. With extensive frontage on 2 county maintained roads, land has great potential for split and development.
