MTA opinion rules out slash in Poole's pay

By ARLENE FUNKE

Supervisor James Poole soon may become the second Canton official in recent months to donate part of his salary to the new township library.

Poole said he plans to make an undetermined donation to the library and, perhaps, to charitable or church groups. The supervisor — who believes his $32,500 salary is too high — earlier had hoped to slash his pay by 20 percent.

But an attorney for the Michigan Townships Association recently informed Poole that officials of charter townships can neither hike nor cut their salaries during the same term of office.

Canton is a charter township and subject to the guidelines of the state Charter Township Act.

In a similar situation last fall, former township treasurer James Donahue donated some $900 of his salary to the library after illness forced him to relinquish some of his duties.

POOLE in December had asked finance director Mike Gorman to seek opinions from the Michigan Attorney General's Office and the Michigan Townships Association concerning his bid to cut his salary to $26,000 a year.

As a retired Air Force major, Poole collects an annual pension of $15,000. He said he can afford to hold office at a lower salary.

In a Jan. 22 letter to Poole, Kalamazoo attorney James Bauckham noted that the salary "belongs to the office without regard for the services performed."

The letter added that any attempt to either decline portions of salary or raises "would amount to a purchase of the office and accordingly (be) against public policy." Poole said he hasn't decided how much of his salary he will donate, and to whom. He said any discussion of specifics would "open a can of worms.

"The library is certainly one of them," said Poole. "I don't know how much.

"I'm certainly not going to go to court and sue," Poole added. "I've been ruled out of order."

POOLE has been stumping for a slash in the supervisor's pay since last fall, when he was campaigning for the top elective post in Canton.

Salaries for trustees — set by the old Township Board about a year ago — were boosted in December.

The treasurer and clerk were raised from $27,500 to $30,000, and the supervisor's pay from $30,000 to $32,500.

Poole had tried in November to have the supervisor's salary reduced. But under a procedural error, he attempted to add the pay issue to the meeting's agenda after all issues had been discussed or decided.

A board rule requires officials to add items at the beginning of the meeting.

Some trustees indicated opposition to Poole's plan. A few said it might place the chief administrator's salary below that of other officials.

Others felt it might limit the number of persons interested in seeking office.

Township absorbs bulk of water fee spurt

By DARLENE STINSON

For residents, the cost of water will jump two percent after March 1.

But for township officials, who buy water first from the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department, the cost already has jumped 28 percent as a result of a Dec. 1 hike in the price charged to municipalities.

Last week, the the Township Board voted to absorb most of price increase as recommended by finance director Mike Gorman and accountant John Sobleskie.

"If these times were good, we probably would have made a different recommendation," said Gorman. "We don't want to make things harder for people than they already are."

The board's action will hike the residential price tag for water to 87 cents per 1,000 gallons — two cents more than the current price — starting March 1.

That increase and a proposed 4-cent hike in the cost of sewer services will raise the average residential bill for water and sewer by $5 a year, Gorman said. The proposed 4-cent increase would not take effect until next July.

Gorman is proposing the hike in customer sewer costs because of a proposed 23 percent increase in the price charged to municipalities.

Canton currently pays 48 cents per 1,000 gallons for water, a fee which includes a 10-cent increase implemented Dec. 1. The township now pays 48 cents per 1,000 gallons for sewage service and charges 98 cents.

LAST TUESDAY'S decision to absorb most of the Dec. 1 rate comes at a time when some water department revenues have dipped to the lowest point in years.

In the past, township officials have used money from tap-in fees to make annual payments on a $7 million water and sewer debt. According to Gorman, builders pay approximately $1,100 per project to hook their developments to water and sewer lines.

Gorman said 400 housing starts are needed each year to cover those payments. In 1980, only 50 housing starts were reported by the building department. Township officials plan to use customer water and sewer payments to cover those bills this year.

To cut the bite of that impact, Gorman has proposed a moratorium on the use of township monies for the extension of water and sewer lines. In the past, the township has financed several line extensions in order to serve existing homes and businesses.

In the future, property owners may have to finance such projects through special assessment taxes.

"It's not a hard and fast rule. It's only caution that the board has to analyze the money that's there," said Gorman.

According to the finance director, the township's water and sewer fund currently shows a surplus of $3 million.

'But that's a cushion to ensure that we can make our bond payments. That money is also there in case of emergencies, such a main break," Gorman said. "You never know what's going to happen."

Surplus monies recently were used to build a $1 million DPW building and a

Police close in on B&E cases

By ARLENE FUNKE

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of an 18-year-old Canton man who escaped police custody last week after leading officers to a cache of stolen goods in Wayne.

Police have linked the stolen items — including stereo equipment, appliances, televisions and guns — to nine Canton break-ins since November.

Sought by police is escapee Leland Grayson, 18, of Canterbury Circle in Canton. The Wayne County Prosecutor's Office last Tuesday approved warrants for his arrest on two counts of breaking and entering and a charge of escaping custody of a police officer..

Already arraigned on one charge of breaking and entering was James Earl Wynn, 18, of Hickory Hollow in Wayne. He stood mute at his arraignment last Thursday before 35th District Court Judge James Garber.

A plea of innocent was entered in Wynn's behalf, and he was sent to Wayne County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Garber has disqualified himself from hearing the preliminary exam on Wynn because the case involves the home of his former law partner, according to police.

Wynn's preliminary examination will be Feb. 11 in 22nd District Court in Inkster, where he also faces a charge of receiving and concealing stolen goods.

THE INVESTIGATION — which includes the Canton, Inkster and Wayne police departments — has been highlighted by what police describe as bizarre aspects.

One unusual twist is Garber's acquaintance with one of the break-in victims. Another is that an Inkster police officer recognized his own stolen TV among the pile of goods.

The complicated set of circumstances began Jan. 31. Explaining the chain of events were Lt. Larry Stewart and Officer John MacDiarmid of the Canton police, and Det. Capt. Dean Smith of the Inkster department.

Inkster police say they pulled over a car Jan. 31 containing three men, including Grayson and Wynn. A routine check indicated the car, a 1977 Oldsmobile Cutlass, had been reported stolen a week earlier from the Center Stage club on Ford Road in Canton,

In the car were two television sets, one reported stolen from a Canton home. The men were arrested by Inkster police and charged with receiving and concealing stolen property and they were kept in custody over the weekend.

ON FEB.2, Canton police picked up Grayson from Inkster. Grayson was due in 35th District Court that day for an examination on a separate charge of breaking and entering a car.

The charge was brought by the Michigan State Police.

MacDiarmid said a handcuffed Grayson offered to show him some goods which were being kept in a townhouse at the Hickory Hollow complex off Van Born, between Merriman and Venoy, in Wayne.

The two men — accompanied by Canton Cpl. Rob Cripe and a Wayne po-

Officials petition for tax law delay

Township administrators will travel to Lansing Tuesday to protest implementation of a new state law on property assessments.

The law, which takes effect this year, assesses property by four classifications — residential, agricultural, commercial and industrial. In the past, all property assessments within a community were increased by an equal amount.

In Canton, residential property assessments will increase by 19 percent this year as a result of the law's implementation. Industrial assessments will increase only seven percent; commercial assessments will drop three percent; and agricultural assessments will drop 18 percent.

Canton administrators will accompany officials from other Wayne County communities on Tuesday, when they push for a delay in the law's implementation before the Michigan Senate Finance Committee.

Township Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz said she has received a flurry of calls from irate residents since news of the residential tax hike was publicized.

She hopes to bring a stack of written citizen protests to the Senate Finance Committee on Tuesday. She encourages residents to submit written protests to the treasurer's office in Canton Township Hall at Canton Center and Proctor by 11:30 a.m. on Tuesday.

House Bill 4044, introduced by State Rep. John Bennett, D-Redford, would delay implementation of the assessment law for three years.

The new law sharply raises residential assessments in many communities. Housing assessments are expected to leap 49 percent in Dearborn, 30 percent in Redford and more than 26 percent in Westland.

According to Mrs. Falkiewicz, Tuesday's meeting with the Michigan Senate Finance Committee was initiated by Westland assessor, Glenn Shaw.

Here's how new law hikes residential tax

Here is an oversimplified but fair example of how the equalization process works under Michigan's old property tax law and how it would change under PA 114 which takes effect this year.

OLD LAW: Suppose Communityville has a property tax base of $2 million in the Year I. It has a factory assessed at $1 million and houses assessed at $1 million.

In the Year II, the state determines that Communityville's total valuation has risen 10 percent to $2.2 million. So assessments must be multiplied by a 10 percent factor.

Under equalization by community, all assessments are multiplied by 10 percent. The factory is now valued at $1.1 million and the houses at $1.1 million.

NEW LAW: In the Year I, Communityville still has a tax base of $2 million, half in the factory and half in houses.

But inflation has occurred which affects different classes of property differently. The factory's valuation increase has been zero. Houses, however, have risen 20 percent.

The state determines Communityville's total valuation has risen 10 percent to $2.2 million.

But under equalization by class of property, the factory's assessment will not rise and remains at $1 million. Housing has risen, and so its equalized valuation is lifted to $1.2 million, or 20 percent.

Communtiyville's total valuation for property tax purposes is $2.2 million under either method. But under PA 114, inflation in housing is fully shown in housing assessments, and there has been a shift in the property tax burden toward homeowners.

Residents ask charter officials for farmland help

By TIM RICHARD

Save the farmland, and make Wayne County government responsive.

Rural and suburban residents of western Wayne County gave those messages to the 27-member County Charter Commission Thursday when it held a public hearing in Canton Township Hall.

But some charter unit members, including Chairman George Ward of Detroit, left the three-hour session wondering whether Michigan's first county charter, when written, could legally address an issue like farmland preservation.

"Could we have a copy of that farmland preservation plan Canton tried?" Ward asked former Canton Supervisor Noel Culbert, who noted the plan was defeated at the polls in 1978.

"We might write in something about bonding capacity for puchasing development rights," Ward added.

LT. GOV. James Brickley, a former Wayne County supervisor and promoter of county reform from his No. 2 position in Lansing, urged the charter commission to "concentrate authority in the right places" so that problems can be resolved.

"We as a society have lost our capacity to resolve problems. The courts are running things like prisons, hospitals, building authorities, because you can get an answer in a court.

"Design a unit of government that is able to make decisions and give answers," said Brickley.

Current Canton Supervisor Jim Poole said there is wide agreement on the need for farmland preservation but not on who pays for buying up farmers' development rights.

"Wayne County says 'Save the farmlands, baby, but you pay for it.' If this farmland is preserved, it's not going to be for Canton alone but for all the county," said Poole.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP Supervisor Maurice Breen complained about county bureaucracy.

"Every mail, I get 25 pieces from the county — surveys, new policies they want us to implement and pay for, another new committee. If the county is going to have home rule, cut a path through the bureaucracy.

"I'll be frank," said Breen. "I'm a pessimist."

Nevertheless, he asked the charter commission to "Give us elected officials that we can get to, not appointed officials who ignore us."

Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper said that on a recent trip to New York to work on a bond issue, he spent "one hour answering questions on the state economy, one hour on the county and 15 minutes on Plymouth."

The result, he said, was that state and county fiscal problems dragged down Plymouth's bond safety rating from AAA to A.

"I hope the problems of the county can be resolved," Draper said.

"YOU'RE ARMED with a popular vote for reorganization," said W. Edward Wendover, Plymouth publisher, referring to the Aug. 4 county vote to set up the charter commission.

"But the law (limiting the charter commission's powers) may restrict you. Go to Lansing and ask for changes . . . . Either change it or throw in the towel," said Wendover.

"I know it sounds petty," said Cliff Johnson of Wayne, who complained of "unqualified people" and "poor public relations" in the sheriff's department.

Sharon Pokerwinski of Sumpter Township said the county has failed to establish a ditching system in an area with the highest water table.

"Between the road commission and the drain commission, we can't get anything done," she said.

JIM KOSTEVA, Canton Township planner, said Canton's 6,000 acres of farmland are under "tremendous taxation pressure."

Subic tells of torture

Joseph Subic Jr. of Redford Townsip, one of three Michigan men to be held hostage by the Iranians, has refused to be interviewed by the press concerning his life as a hostage. But on Thursday reporter Bill Casper was on hand when Subic told an assembly of elementary school children what it was like. Subic said he attempted twice to escape, was beaten for his efforts and said he suffered emotional and pyschological torture and lived in constant fear. For details, see Page 5A.

For school lunches

Board weighs price hike

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education will be asked to increase the price of student lunches at tonight's meeting.

Most of the price increases will be for five cents.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the board room at 454 S. Harvey, Plymouth.

The price increases are being recommended by the Food Service Parent Advisory Committee to help offset a deficit in the district's food operation.

Dr. John M. Hoben, superintendent of schools, said he also recommends the increased prices in light of a potential deficit of $88,000 in the cafeteria fund.

THE INCREASE won't offset the deficit, but the additional revenue will be $25,200, said Dan White, executive director of finance.

Some thought had been given to asking for a 15-cent increase in lunch prices, but that idea was rejected because of the current economic conditions in the Plymouth-Canton community, White said.

The administration is recommending the following increases: elementary lunches, from 75 to 80 cents; middle school, 80 to 85 cents; high school, 90 to 95 cents; adult lunches, $1.45 to $1.50; and reduced lunches from 10 cents to 20 cents.

Reduced-price lunches are for students coming from low- and moderate-income families in the district who cannot afford full price for lunches. The school district is reimbursed by the federal government for the free and reduced-price lunches it serves.

The reduced-price lunches are being doubled in price because the U.S. Department of Agriculture is reducing its reimbursement for student lunches from 18.5 to 16 cents per meal, White said.

The reduced-price increase from 10 to 20 cents is set by government regulation, he said.

The cafeteria program is administered under a contractual arrangement with the ARA Co.

In other action Monday night, the school board will be receiving a report from administrator Dave Rodwell on the statewide Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) tests conducted each year.

'Shadowing'

CEP students observe world of work

National Vocational Education Week is being observed this week throughout the nation by business, industry, teachers and students.

The theme of the week, "Knowhow for the Jobs of the '80s," relates to the importance of the programs offered and the dedication of the instructors and administrators.

In the Plymouth-Canton Community School District vocational education week is being observed, in part, by a shadowing project involving Rotarians and students at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP).

Another activity is an open house at the CEP so residents may view the vocational education facilities at the high schools.

IN RECENT YEARS the Rotary Club of Plymouth has worked actively to support vocational education programs in the Plymouth-Canton area.

A few years ago Plymouth Rotarians worked with the Rotary Club of Canton, Plymouth and Canton chambers of commerce, and the school district to sponsor a Business-Education Forum.

Out of that forum grew the concept of "shadowing" and plans to use that technique in the school district.

Under the program, Rotarians have volunteered to take a vocational student under their wing on a day's visitation to accompany them through a daily work schedule.

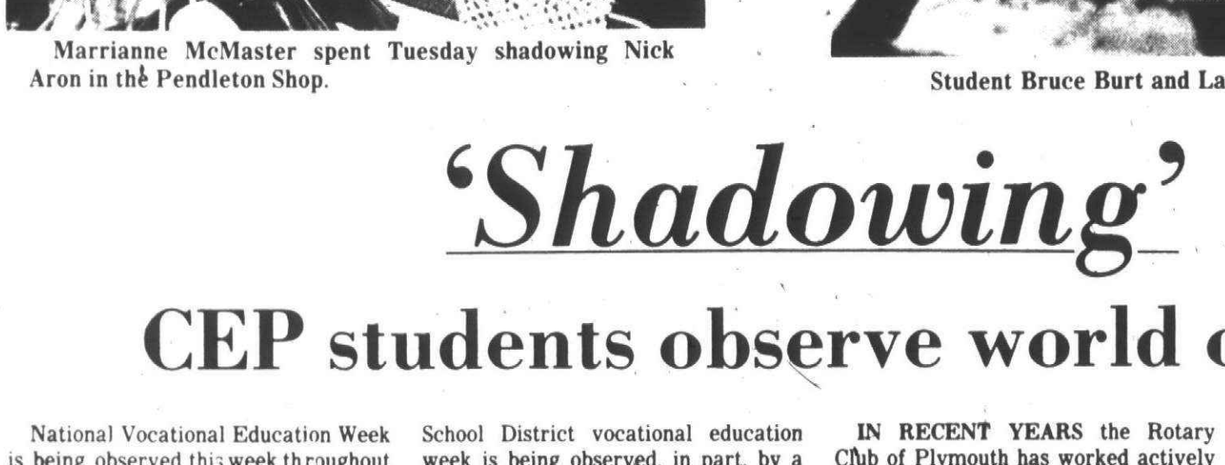

The students spend the day "shadowing" a sponsor and learn firsthand what it is like to live a day in the life of a business person in the world of work.

Some of the participants are: Larry Shaffer of Pacer Manufacturing in Canton with student Bruce Bart; Doug Swatosh of Doug's Plymouth Standard, with students Howard Brassfield and Jody Rice; Victor Vojcek of Loc Performance Co. in Plymouth Township with student Dan Elmore; Joe Tate of Canton and Beverly McAllister with Sun Plastic Coating in Plymouth with student Kim Mendenhall; Dick Kirchgatter of Parkway Veterinary Clinic in Canton with student Gaye Kindred; and Nick Aron of the Pendleton Shop in Plymouth with student Marrianne McMaster.

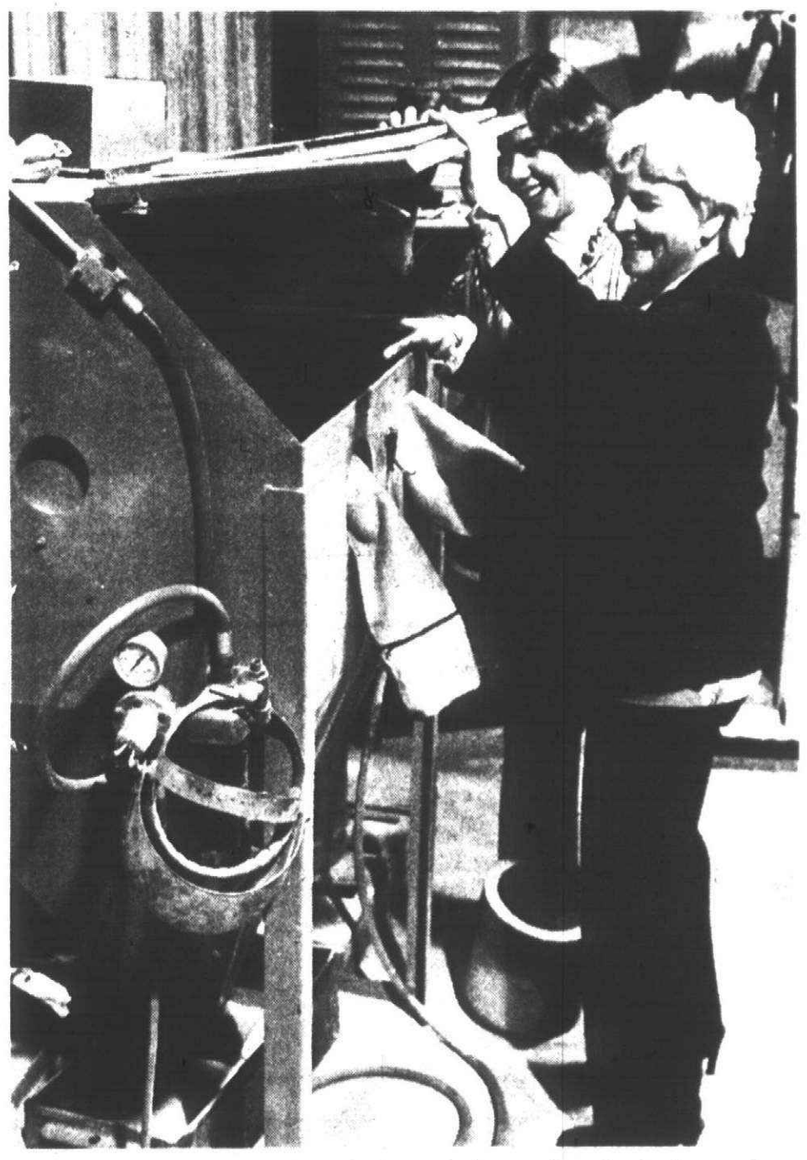

Harold Gaertner, director of vocational education for the school district, said the purpose of the week's observance and of the open house is to bring attention to the merits and accomplishments of vocational education.

He encourages residents to visit the school this week to view ongoing projects and programs. The schools are open from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. weekdays.

Plymouth Salem High is located at 46181 Joy west of Canton Center Road and Plymouth Canton High is located at 8415 Canton Center Road south of Joy.

Jody Rice and Doug Swatosh of Doug's Standard at Main and Ann Arbor Trail discuss records a business must keep.

Kim Mendenhall, student, looks at an inspection site in the production area as Beverly McAllister explains the process.

Past officials honored

Citizens blast Poole for ceremony

Supervisor James Poole will continue to honor past officials for their service to Canton — but he'll do it in private.

Since presenting plaques to a number of former officials at a public meeting last month, Poole has received nothing but complaints and criticism from residents.

They have called Poole to hurl political accusations and disagreements at all but two of the nine persons who were publicly honored.

They included four previous occupants of the supervisor's office — Noel Culbert, Harold Stein, Robert Greenstein and Phil Dingeldey; former Treasurer James Donahue; former Trustee Eugene Daley; and former planning commissioner Bart Berg.

Current Trustee Robert Padget received plaques for his past service on the planning commission and Economic Development Corporation. Building official Aaron Machnik was awarded a plaque for his work on the township's new computer system.

"We do nice things for people, and I get chewed out," Poole told the Township Board last week. "I received nothing but bad words from people. I didn't even think people could talk like that."

In the past, some retired officials received a resolution from the township in recognition of their services.

Last month's ceremony was the idea of Poole and Trustee Robert Padget. Poole had planned to hold additional ceremonies in honor of other persons who have held elective and appointed office.

"But maybe we should just do it in private," Poole said.

Charter commission hears gripes

land on which they can no longer afford to grow crops. Kosteva urged "use value taxation," so that farmland can be taxed on the basis of its use, not the basis of its potential development.

A charter commission member, former state Sen. William Copeland of Wyandotte, asked why Canton farmers couldn't use a state Farmland and Open Spaces Preservation Act.

Kosteva replied, "PA 116 works in an area that is all farmland or where there's no population pressure, like Lenawee County or the Thumb. But where you have development pressure, as in Canton, there is no incentive for a farmer to enter the act."

The law allows farmland to be "banked" for 10 years in return for property tax breaks, but Kosteva said the 10-year period "is not a permanent solution."

Asked what kind of charter powers would help Canton with its road problems, Kosteva quipped, "Probably a gift of $15 million." It brought the only laughter of the evening.

Then he added more seriously, "I don't know that a charter could help us."

"MY SORROW" was how Noel Culbert, supervisor of Canton from 1978-80, described his dealings with the Wayne County drain commissioner.

"Many developers complain it costs too much to deal with Wayne County," he said. "That entire department should be abolished.

"One man holds more power than the governor. You have to play ball the way he says to play ball."

Culbert said county drains in Canton were so badly neglected that the township used $50,000 of its own money to clean drains "that the county should have cleaned."

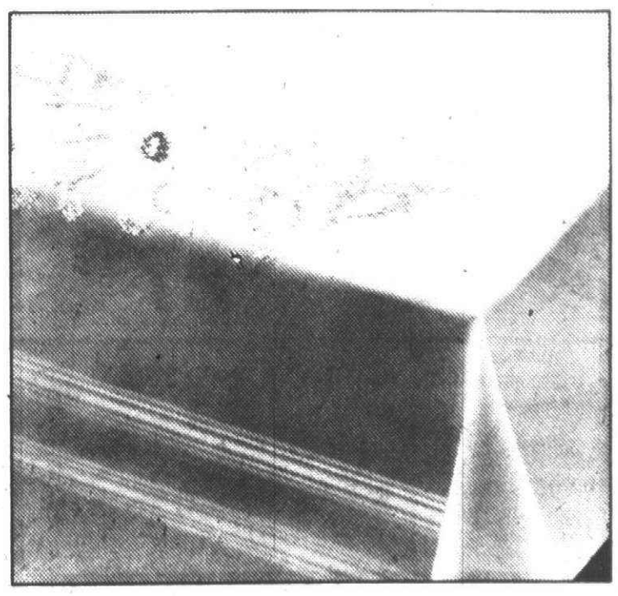

MICHELLE HOWARD, representing seven chapters of the League of Women Voters, urged a strong county executive and a county commission with a maximum of 15 members. Currently, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has 27 members.

Tim Orbecke of Canton complained of a lack of recreation, particularly with the county sanding down Hines Park's hills to prevent sledding because it lacked the money to supervise the hills' use.

Maria Falkiewicz, Canton Township treasurer, said the county is losing money by failing to invest its cash in interest-earning accounts.

"All money should be kept in a savings account," she said.

She said Canton in a year earned $2 million on its invested money, a practice which, applied at the county level, could wipe out its $19 million deficit.

Stand up, seniors; get tax help

By ARLENE FUNKE

A free service to help Canton seniors prepare their tax forms is off and walking.

As of Friday, only 16 residents had taken advantage of a volunteer program to help seniors with their property tax rebate and home heating credit forms.

Eligible are residents aged 65 or older, or disabled persons (see separate eligibility guidelines).

But Dolores Edwards, coordinator of senior citizen activities, said she is looking forward to more participation as the tax-preparation season continues.

The project started last week. Appointments are available between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, with the work being done at the recreation center on Michigan Avenue and Sheldon. To make an appointment, call 397-1000 ext. 278.

During February, appointments will be taken for work at the Michigan Avenue Rec Center on Tuesdays and Wednesdays only.

The volunteers will be serving residents of the Royal Holiday Park mobile home complex on West Warren Road from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Feb. 19 and 26. Participants must register in advance through the recreation center.

"THIS HELP is available to people, and they should take advantage of it," said Ms. Edwards. "We need to spread the word as much as we can."

This is the first year Canton has offered this service, said Ms. Edwards. It is limited to residents, but they needn't be members of a senior citizen club to qualify, she added.

Ms. Edwards emphasizes that the volunteers don't make out state and federal income tax forms — just the property tax rebate and home heating credit forms.

However, referrals can be made to a person who prepares those other forms for a nominal fee, said Ms. Edwards.

Volunteers in the program are: Judy Bond, Fred Umbrasas, Maude Truesdell, Milt Roettger, Isabel Hale and Harold Beattie. All six have had about 10 hours of training through the Michigan Treasury Department.

"This is a challenge," said Umbrasas, who retired last year from Ford Motor Company, where he was a machine operator.

Umbrasas noted that clients should come armed with information about total income, including pension, Social Security, interest on stocks, rents and royalties.

OTHER IMPORTANT things to have on hand during the appointment are copies of tax bills or rent receipts.

"This is a must," agreed Ms. Hale, who is active in senior activities and a kazoo player in the seniors' Kitchen Band. "They (also) have to have a good estimate of their home heating bills."

Praising the project is John Flodin, Township Clerk, who helps seniors prepare forms but disdains publicity.

"I've been doing this for years — subject to the time constraints," said Flodin. "I just do it. People come to the counter (at Township Hall).

"Those of us in-between people, and young, can look out for ourselves," added Flodin. "I think we have an obligation to help older people. We get busy and forget about it."

For information about the tax preparation service, call 397-1000, Ext. 278.

Free Contour Analysis Helps Determine If You Really Have To!

In a recent research program . . . Contour Analysis screening tests disclosed 94% of the scoliosis cases found to be positive by x-ray examination.

Contour Analysis involves taking a "three dimensional" picture (Called Moire photography) of the surface of the back to help detect postural distortions. This analysis will be correlated with leg deficiency, patient symptomotology, and levels of spinal tenderness. Such composite examinations may indicate such things as normal and abnormal stress patterns, spinal curvature, muscle spasms, muscle imbalance, spinal distortion and scoliosis.

A free Contour Analysis screening test is also being offered for people with acute or chronic pain by the chiropractic office listed below. People who suffer with backache, bursitis, arthritis, neuralgia, nerve pain, neck pain, muscle pain, bone pain, etc. are also invited to receive this free examination.

These tests, including consultation with the doctor, are being offered to the public at no charge, or obligation, for the next 30 days. Anyone wishing to receive this free examination may telephone the participating office directly for information or an appointment. If treatment, or additional examination, is indicated, almost all health insurance policies cover chiropractic care. All fees thoroughly explained prior to any additional service being rendered.

Dear Dr. Forrest:

My daughter is 2 years old. How old should she be before her first dental check-up?

DEE CIDUOUS

Dear Dee:

Our suggestion for your daughters first dental exam is 3 to 4 years of age. Our goal is to make the first visit a fun experience. A ride in the dental chair, an educational cartoon, and a friendly check by the dentist, should be all that's necessary on the first visit.

"BUT MY BACK DOESN'T HURT!"

People often give this excuse when it is suggested that they seek a Chiropractor for their health care needs.

Many times people try Chiropractic after they have tried everything else. They have looked and wished for the "Miracle Cure," trying everything under the sun, and they are still bothered by the nagging problem. The solution can be found right in your own body.

Your Doctor of Chiropractic deals with the fundamental laws of nature that are within each one of us. First he finds the CAUSE of your problems and then with profound knowledge and skill, very gently adjusts your spine to relieve nerve pressure and allow normal nerve energy to flow. With normal nerve energy flowing as it should, your body will naturally return to normal health.

If Chiropractic is new to you, don't expect miracles overnight. It took time for your problem to become a noticeable one, and it will take your Chiropractor some time to correct the cause of your problem.

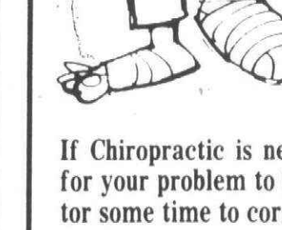

Right now is the time to get yourself back to what you should be, healthy, naturally, and that means Chiropractic care.

Your Health is as Simple as ABC.

Most insurance plans cover Chiropractic services including Blue Shield, Auto insurance, Workmen's Compensation, Medicare, Medicaid, Aetna, Metropolitan and Teamsters Insurance.

No coupon necessary! The following initial services offered at no charge: consultation, range of motion studies, chiropractic leg checks, instrumentation, spinal analysis.

Former hostage, Joe Subic, tells of torture

By BILL CASPER

Details of Joseph Subic Jr.'s life as a hostage, including two attempted escapes, came out for the first time last Thursday before an audience of mostly elementary school children at St. Valentine School in Redford Township.

Subic, who was greeted with cheers, flowers, yellow ribbons and banners saying, "Welcome home," and "We love you," in his hometown parish, revealed these details:

- He twice attempted to escape and was beaten for his efforts.
- He "lived in constant fear" and sometimes cried at night.
- He slept on a foam mattress which at times was taken away, lived on a montonous diet of soup, partially cooked chicken and sandwiches on Iranian bread, and spent one third of his 444-day confinement alone in a room with no sunlight. He kept track of the days by counting the daily servings of soup.
- He was "mentally and emotionally tortured, but not physically." Subic said he did not want to give details to his audience.
- The Iranians treated the prisoners with contempt and even beat one of his colleagues on the way to the airport the day they were released.
- He and fellow prisoners had to beg the Iranians for "everything," including such things as walks to a bathroom — blindfolded — and reading material.

SUBIC IS one of three men with primarily Michigan backgrounds to be taken hostage by the Iranians. Subic, a staff sergeant in the U.S. Army, was raised in Livonia and Garden City and enlisted in the Army when his family lived in Ohio. His parents moved to Redford three years ago while he was the service and he has become a "hometown hero" to Redford Township.

A reporter and photographer from the Redford Observer were the only media representatives allowed to attend the St. Valentine assembly at the request of Subic, who said he still does not want to answer in detail press questions about his captivity. Subic has been the subject of speculative reports that his conduct as prisoner is being investigated. Such reports have been denied by the U.S. Department of Defense.

In speaking to an audience of some 300 elementary school pupils, teachers and administrators and some parents, Subic revealed much about the way he was treated during his confinement.

"IT'S GREAT to be back in a parochial school since I was educated through the eighth grade in Catholic schools," Subic said. "I want to talk informally with you, but there are some things I can't talk about," he said.

The majority of his comments were elicited by questions from the students.

"My first reaction to the takeover was that it was going to be another sit-in and last a couple of hours. But after a while, we knew we were going to be there a long time.

"Our diet basically consisted of flat Iranian bread with butter and jelly in the morning. For lunch, we usually had chicken and rice, which were not cooked too good. We always had soup for dinner. They had plenty of Campbell's soup. I got tired of the soup, but that's how we kept track of the approximate date.

"With no sunlight, there was no other way to note each passing day except to count each bowl of soup as one day.

"I was kept alone the first couple of months after the takeover. I was the only American I knew who was still alive. They tried to keep us separated so we had no communication with our fellow Americans.

"I SPENT one-third of my time in captivity alone in a room with no sunlight. I never had more than one roommate except for the day before we were released when there were five other hostages in my room.

"We knew something was going on the day before our release because there were several Algerian doctors examining us. We hadn't seen many doctors before that. I was sick often during captivity, but their medical treatment was not up to our standards.

"We were told we were candidates for release and we stayed up all night praying we'd leave. But the next day passed into the night and we thought it was just another trick.

"The militants told us to 'pack up, you're leaving' about one hour before we boarded the plane. One of my colleagues was beaten on the way to the airport, the last beating of our captivity.

"The treatment we received from the militants varied with each hostage. I was beat up, mentally and emotionally tortured, but not physically tortured. They weren't very humane, but I can't go into detail now.

"I WAS in constant fear during captivity, my knees shook and I cried a lot at night. I tried escaping a couple of times in January and April. After being caught, I was beat up, handcuffed to a chair and blindfolded with an electrical cord wrapped around me for eight days.

"It was difficult for me to escape because I couldn't blend into the population and I don't speak the Iranian language very fluently. Now that I look back, it was kind of dumb to try escaping, but I felt I had to try at the time.

"We had to beg the militants for everything, for reading materials, for them to lead us blindfolded to the bathroom. We were lucky to be located near the Tehran-American High School because we used the library to get reading material. I spent a lot of time reading to exercise my mind and I would walk around in my room for physical exercise.

"I kept a diary the first couple of months of captivity, but the militants took the pens and papers from those of us they suspected as being spies because they thought we were trying to send out secret messages. But my experiences are in my memory and I've had offers to write a book on my time in captivity. I haven't made a decision, but I will consider all offers.

"MY FREEDOM really didn't hit me immediately and I really never felt free until we landed on American soil. I still find it hard to believe I'm free and I don't have to beg for a glass of water.

"One of the first things I wanted when I got back was a good old American hamburger."

Subic said he plans to schedule a press conference to answer media questions after another debriefing session with the U.S. Army.

The sheriff and his constitutional arrogance

Tim Richard

In part it is simple arrogance which made Sheriff William Lucas defy the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and Circuit Court by mulishly refusing to lay off 250 or so of his staff.

But only in part.

The county board, in its legislative capacity, sought to obey the Michigan Constitution by eliminating a $20 million deficit and balancing its budget.

To do so, our 27 legislators, for better or worse, sought to cut about one-third of the sheriff's staff. That was their decision. If we don't like it, we can elect new commissioners in two years, but meanwhile it's their decision.

The modern scientific cop is not above playing politics and using the courts, so two unions of sheriff's employees asked Judge Victor Baum for a court order barring the layoffs. Baum agonized but finally ruled the county board "had the right to dissolve the road patrol and investigation division through budgetary means — without collective bargaining."

LUCAS KEPT his troops on the job with this curious reasoning:

● "The sheriff is the executive officer of the Sheriff's Department, and it's up to him to decide how much manpower he needs," in the words of his attorney, Dennis Nystrom.

• At one point in the controversy, Lucas himself said, "I am a constitutional officer."

And that is why I say Lucas is arrogant only in part. The Michigan Constitution, sad to say, has provisions which empire builders can point to when they want to do something outlandish.

You have to understand that Lucas is a lawyer by training, and lawyers have a principle called stare decisis — literally, adhere to the decisions. In political English, if someone in the past has done something outlandish and was able to find a judge dumb enough to let him get away with it, then you can behave outlandishly, too.

MY OWN BELOVED University of Michigan — cultural center of the universe, Athens of the midwest — has been guilty of legal arrogance in the past. U-M practiced constitutional arrogance generations before a cow college jock teacher coined the term "arrogant asses from Ann Arbor."

Let me illustrate.

A Detroit News reporter once told me that as a practical joke an editor would send a cub reporter to Ann Arbor to cover a meeting of the U-M Board of Regents (this was back in the 1940s and '50s). The reporter couldn't get into the meeting, however, because U-M, which was mentioned in the constitution, claimed to be a co-equal branch of government, a kind of separate legislature and executive, and chose not to meet in public.

I recall a newspaper story in the '60s about U-M refusing to let its faculty organize a union because, as a constitutional institution, it felt state labor laws didn't apply to U-M.

And I recall legislators, snorting in anger, cussing the U-M for refusing to justify its state appropriation request by showing its budget and revealing how it intended to spend the dough. U-M's reply was that, as a constitutional body, it didn't have to deal that way. U-M would decide its own budget, tell Lansing how much it needed and expect the state to write out a check.

Fortunately, those days are over. But you get the point: By claiming constitutional status, U-M considered itself a law unto itself.

AND NOW WE have Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas saying he's a constitutional officer, and damned if he'll lay off one-third of his smokies just because a board of commissioners tells him there isn't any money.

The Michigan Constitution of 1964 repeated a mistake made by earlier constitutions dating from the Jacksonian era of unsavory politics, Art. VII, Sec. 4, provides: "There shall be elected for four-year terms in each organized county a sheriff, a county clerk, a county treasurer, a register of deeds and a prosecuting attorney, whose duties and powers shall be provided by law."

Other sections say the sheriff's office must be in the county seat and that the sheriff must post security. "The county shall never be responsible for his acts, except that the board of supervisors (sic) may protect him against claims by prisoners for unintentional injuries received while in his custody. He shall not hold any other office except in civil defense."

Thus saith the Michigan Constitution about the sheriff.

JUST HOW Sheriff Lucas reasons that such a shaky constitutional status gives him the budget-busting right to employ all the personnel his heart desires escapes me.

Lucas and other "constitutional" county officers need to be cut down to size, just as the arrogant asses from Ann Arbor were finally brought under control.

Ideally, the constitution should be amended so that counties could have true home rule. Counties could then eliminate the sheriff, clerk and other functionaries as elected, constitutional officers and appoint them the way cities appoint public safety directors, the state appoints the director of state police, and the president appoints the attorney general and director of the FBI.

Times are tough. Populations and revenues are declining. Corporations and entrepreneurs are tightening their belts, and so are most governments. Bill Lucas has got to get it through his head that he must do the same.

We can no longer afford constitutional arrogance.

They'll get no valentine

Making out a valentine list can be a sensitive matter.

It can be the highlight of an otherwise glum month. What's cheerful about a 9-degree Tuesday, wind chill minus 40 degrees and a groundhog who has to be hauled kicking and screaming out of his hole?

A valentine, after all, can be a powerful thing. It can warm a heart, ease a pain, tickle a funnybone or start a new tradition.

It's one of the few things you always buy for someone else, hoping someone will remember you the same way.

Valentine's Day may mean tummy aches, homemade hearts, sticky hands and a start on new cavities — but mostly it means love.

This year I decided I'm going to have two lists for Valentine's Day — one for those who deserve my love and kind thoughts; and one for those who on my list who shall remain "heart-less."

Top of the heartless list will be Defense Secretary Caspar Weingarten, who sees nothing amiss in resurrecting the neutron bomb.

FOR THOSE who may have forgotten, the neutron bombed nixed in 1978 by the Carter administration, is the enhanced radiation weapon designed to kill people without destroying property.

"I have seen little to indicate in my mind that that is wrong," Weinberger is quoted as saying.

As for our new president and his wife, let them enjoy their heraldic trumpets, ostentatious wardrobes and elite cabinet of millionaires if all this is pleasurable.

Seems pretty callous while some suffer unemployment (many from his hiring freeze) and all suffer price raises, not to mention chillblains, from his decontrol of fuel prices.

Can't warm up to that, so let them eat jellybeans.

And the tug at my heartstrings isn't a warm feeling for Budget Director David Stockman, just disgust.

With his cohort, Treasury Secretary Donald Regan, he has lobbied the Congress to approve a $50 billion increase in the national debt ceiling on one hand while masterminding program slashes with the other.

Stockman would decrease funding for some Social Security programs: Medicaid, CETA jobs, food stamps, child nutrition programs and projects in the arts and humanities.

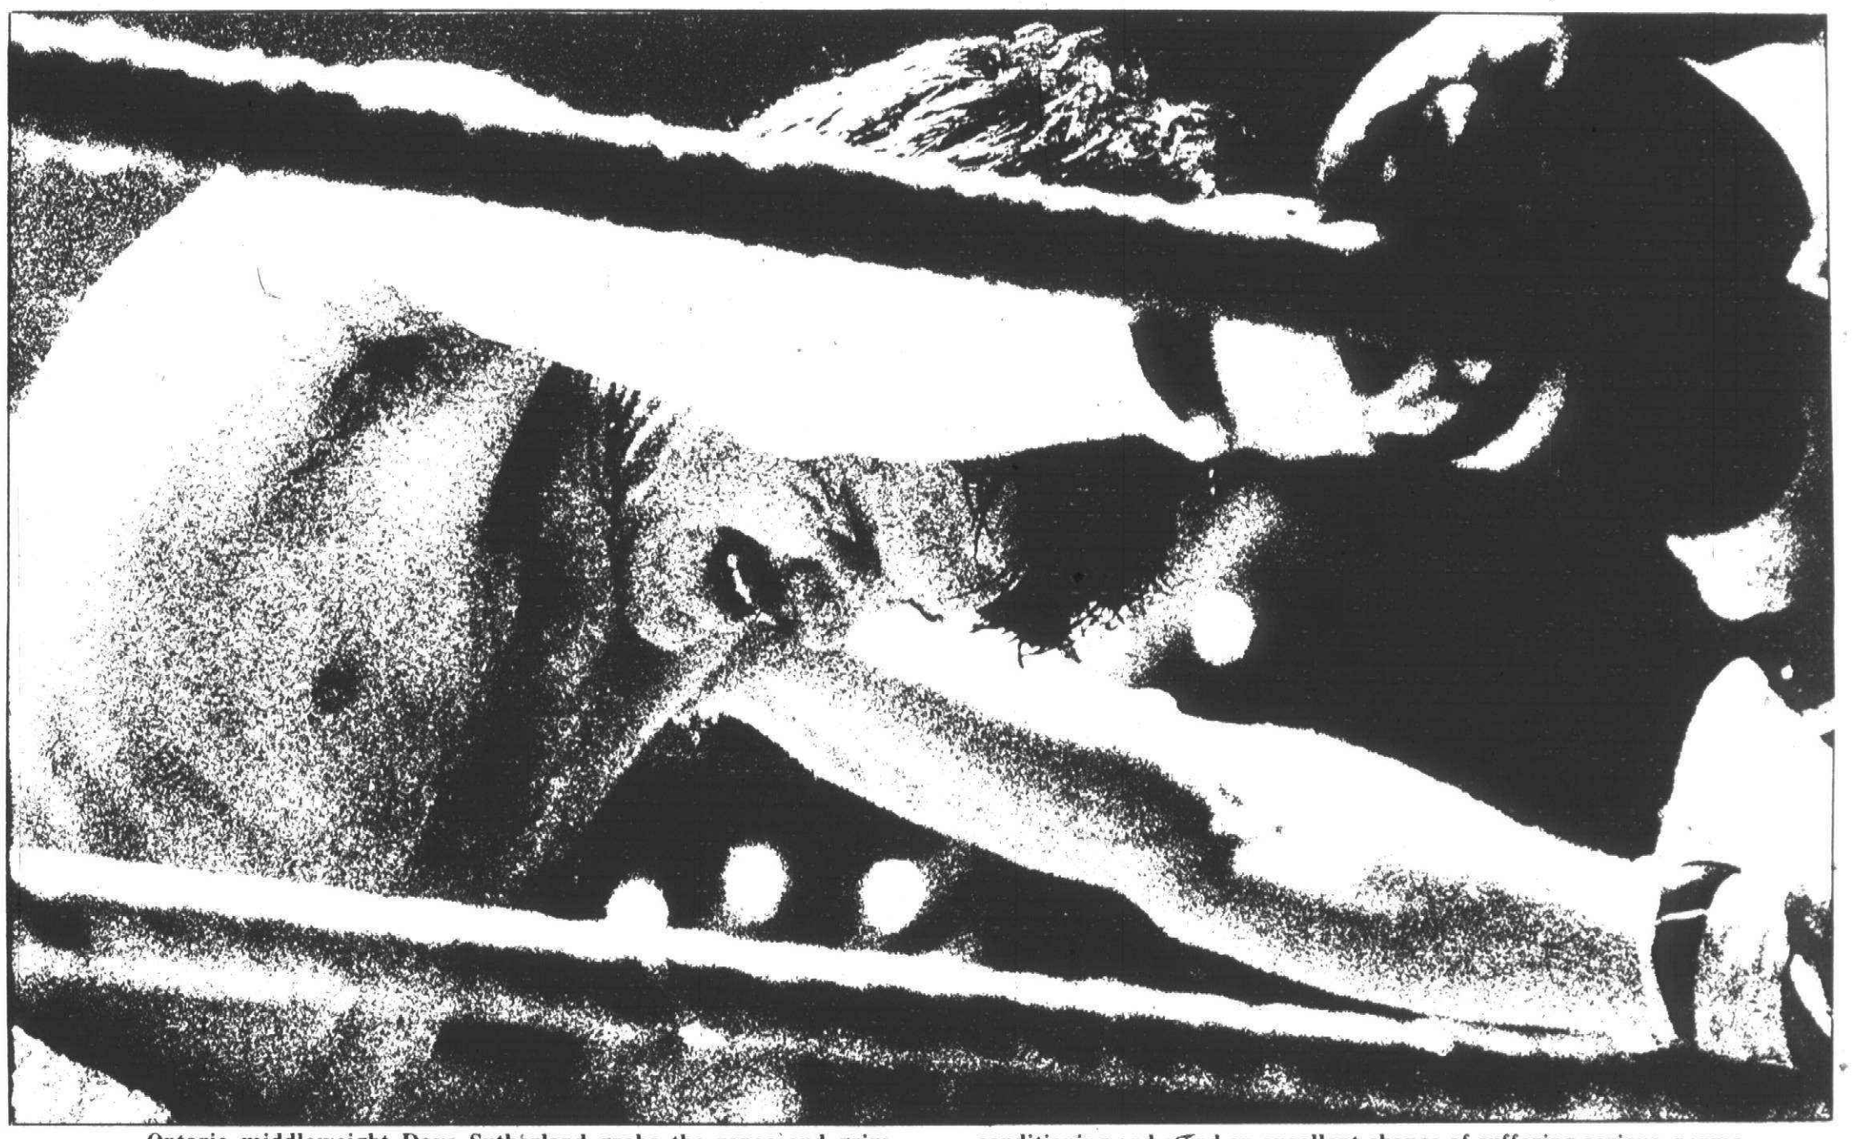

A QUICK perusal will reveal they are all human programs that help people make it and help life have meaning. Stockman will have to look elsewhere for hearts and flowers — from me he'll get the thorns rather than the roses.

No love message from me to the guv, this year.

While the legislature cuts school aid to the bone, even considering shortening the school year, Bill Milliken champions an unconscienable give-away of big bucks to non-public colleges for several years. Where's the logic?

And I'll not send valentines to the families of the 52 returned hostages. Heck, they don't need my offering; they have their Valentines at home with them. All I wish them is privacy and anonymity.

I'll keep my valentine list short but special with love messages from the heart to my darling husband Jack; my supportive parents; my daughter Tzviah, whose heart belongs to the horses; my brother, Gene, all good things; my son Bruce, who shall love more than the law; and Alex, Elaine, Arik and Maya whom I couldn't love more if they lived right next door.

Ontario middleweight Dave Sutherland grabs the ropes and grimaces after being KO'd in the fourth round of a regulation match. "Toughman" fighters have it even rougher. Most have no training, no conditioning and stand an excellent chance of suffering serious, permanent injury.

Hang up 'Toughman' gloves for good

Craig Piechura

This is one of those told-you-so columns that newspaper people usually love to write. Except this time there's little satisfaction in reporting that a prediction made last May about the popular "Toughman" contests has come true.

An aging amateur boxer has been seriously injured in this so-called sport. For the last 15 days his family has kept a vigil outside his room in Lansing's Sparrow Hospital.

Kenneth Meylan, a 41-year-old Auburn farmer and father of six suffered a reported brain hemorrhage after the bell sounded to end the second round of his third fight of the night in the Jan. 24 Toughman Contest in Lansing's Civic Center.

Dean Oswald, a partner of Art Dore in the Bay City-based Ardore Ltd. amatuer boxing organization, is a long-time friend of Meylan. He's been at the hospital periodically to check on Meylan's slow progress.

But the inevitable disabling injury hasn't soured Oswald on the sport. Oswald says injuries happen in every sport despite every conceivable precaution to prevent them.

Meylan's father, Werner Meylan, who runs a farm in Auburn, 10 miles west of Bay City, didn't need to see his son injured to be opposed to the Toughman contests. He says he was against it from the start and adds, "anything I can do I will do to stop these events."

MEYLAN KNOWS his son was a strong supporter of the Toughman fights and had fought in 50 previous bouts without incident.

Prior to that, son Kenneth was active in Golden Gloves boxing competition. Meylan didn't like to see his son boxing in Golden Gloves either, but says those fights were safer because the boxers were young, in top physical condition, and being tutored by coaches with ring experience.

"There was always an opportunity for young men to box in Golden Gloves," said the senior Meylan. "It was really controlled and regulated. As far as I can tell this Toughman deal was rotten right from the start. Why, they put a 175-pound man against a man twice his size. They let 'em drink (beer) before they fight."

The promoters can argue, and they do, that Kenneth Meylan was not a rank amateur when it comes to boxing. He won the amateur Golden Gloves state boxing champion in 1962. But that was 19 years ago when Meylan was 19 years old.

His brother, Bill, also boxed in Golden Gloves competition. Contacted by phone outside the intensive care unit of the hospital, Bill wasn't about to criticize the Toughman bouts just because his brother was injured.

"Nobody twisted his arm to get in there into the ring," said Bill Meylan.

Promoter Oswald says ther's an ironic twist to Meylan's injury.

"This whole (Toughman) thing started out five years ago after a gym workout by Ken. We were thirsty and went to a bar to put together a tournament of this type. We werer going to call it a "Roughman" contest because Ken had just been through a rough workout."

BUT JUST because there are men like Ken Meylan eager to endanger their lives should the state of Michigan help them?

All Toughman bouts in Michigan are sanctioned by the state boxing commission. The Michigan Board of Athletic Control even ruled on Oct. 17, 1979 that Toughman fighters could compete in any number of bouts in a 48-hour period, provided that each bout consists of no more than three two-minute rounds.

This exemption excuses Toughman promoters from a 1939 state law which prhobits boxers in bouts lasting up to four rounds from fighting more than once in a 48-hour period. Consequently it's not unusual for winning Toughman contestants to fight as many as four times in one night.

State Boxing Commissioner Hiawatha Knight says in light of Meylan's injury there will be a hearing to review state regulations governing Toughman promotions. The meeting is tentatively scheduled for 10 a.m. Wednesday, in Lansing.

Judging from Mrs Knight's previous support for the Toughman fights, don't expect tough action. The wet noodle probably is already soaking in anticipation of gentle application to Ardore Ltd. promoters' wrists...

IN THE week following the accident, with Meylan still in a coma, Mrs. Knight pointed out that promoters were following state boxing law which allows Toughman fighters to fight as many times as they wish in a day. She went on to defend the practice of allowing amateurs older than 40 to climb into the ring to slug it out.

"There is a possibility of danger but we'd be denying a man his rights if we set an age limit," said Mrs. Knight, a gym teacher in the Detroit school system.

To qualify to compete in the Toughman fights is simple. A man must weigh at least 175 pounds, have never boxed professionally, and sign a waiver stating that he's completed a minimum of 30 hours training.

Everyone, including promoter Oswald, concedes it's impossible to tell if the fighter has actually trained 30 hours before he fights.

Last May I talked to fighters who had worked at the factory hours before they competed. Others admitted lying about their training. I talked to Emmanuel Steward, who manages welterweight champion Tommy Hearns, and trained a Toughman who has sinced turned pro, Biff Humphrey of Southfield.

"We trained Biff like a fighter but he was a freak on that program," Steward said. "When I was wrapping (Biff's) hands, the guy next to me said, 'I don't know what I'm doing here. I should be home with my grandchild.'

"I asked him what kind of training he did to get in shape. He said he'd go downstairs and start punching a pillow and when he was through he'd come up for a beer."

THE IDEA of allowing untrained, out-of-shape boxers in a ring, is "kind of frightening," admits Commissioner Knight. She says she is personally "very upset" about Meylan's injury but adds that there are no plans to withhold state sanction for upcoming Toughman events.

"Think of everyone who's fighting in the state and we've had one aceident," Mrs. Knight said. "It could have happened with Hearns in the ring. It's not restricted totally to the Toughman events."

Crocodile tears shed by Mrs. Knight must be a real comfort to Werner Meylan as he spends another day in Sparrow Hospital at his son's bedside.

About the prediction made on these pages last May. I said that when a tough man is injured "all this talk will sound like so much swill."

You didn't need to be a clairvoyant to predict the future back then. And you don't need to be a garbage man to know when something stinks.

This barbarism belongs in the Roman Coliseum. It's about time it's banned.

Bills for water inch upward

$1 million water main on Morton Taylor, which, when completed, will improve water pressure.

Gorman said financing those projects through bond issues would have tripled the cost because of interest costs.

TOWNSHIP PAYMENTS for water and sewer services have leaped during the last few years. According to Gorman, officials last passed on an increase to residents in June 1979.

According to Supervisor James Poole, sewer fees charged to Canton by the Wayne County Board of Public Works have jumped 203 percent since April 1977. A proposed July 1 increase would lift the four-year rise to 275 percent.

Sewer charges are passed through three governmental untis units before they reach residents. The Detroit Water and Sewerage Department sets rates for the county; the county Board of Public Works sets rates for municipalities; and the Canton Board of Trustees determines rates for local customers.

Poole recently protested the proposed July 1 hike in sewer rates through a letter to Charles Beckham, director of the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department.

"While it may be true that the rate of inflation over the past 3½ years has caused prices to skyrocket, we feel 203 percent is far above any increase caused by inflation and is absolutely irresponsible. Thp current proposed increase of 23 percent is exorbitant and reprehensible.

"Some communities are ostensibly paying rates below their costs, thus being subsidized by Canton and other communities," Poole said.

"It is hoped that you will rectify this unfair rate structure and illogical increases immediately. Continued pillaging of out-county pocket books will lead only to further polarization and wasted expenses."

lice officer — went to the house and obtained permission to go inside.

"HE (Grayson) went upstairs ahead of me," explained MacDiarmid. "I was stopped on the stairway to talk (by the woman who lived there).

"I could feel cold air coming down," he added. "I saw him going out a rear bedroom window. He ran south. We followed the footsteps, but didn't find him."

Det. Capt. Dean Smith said the Wayne police department is considering filing a misdemeanor charge against the woman for receiving and concealing stolen property under $100 — a TV set missing from the home of an Inkster police officer.

"This officer spotted his own TV," said Smith. "He recognized a mark on (the set)."

IN THE MEANTIME, Canton officers with search warrants have checked three houses in the Hickory Hollow complex, turning up some 10 televisions, numerous pieces of stereo equipment, electric mixers and guns, according to Canton Police Lt. Stewart.

In addition to these latest charges, Grayson also is awaiting trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on an earlier charge of breaking and entering and car theft at a Haggerty Road house in Canton.

Breaking and entering a house carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison upon conviction. Car theft and receiving stolen property over $100 each carry maximum penalties of five years in prison.

separate pay issue, attorney Bauckham said trustees could be paid on a per diem monthly, quarterly or annual fee basis. The decision rest with the board.

Currently, trustees receive $75 per meeting. Trustee Robert Padget, who had requested the opinion, endorses a monthly salary for trustees, with a pay deduction for missed meetings.

Padget said a pay plan other than per meeting might encourage more study sessions. When the current term began last November, there were discussions of holding study sessions on Saturday.

Bauckham said trustees could attend meetings without compensation, provided it was determined before the current term of office.

Cheese & Wine Anytime

Cheese and wine have been natural partners for centuries, but they've never been more "in" than now! With today's time schedules, friends often gather informally for an evening of wine and cheese tasting, which may include cheese hors d'oeuvres and snacks to fill out a light repast.

The choice of wines for a tasting is important, but spend just as much time on the selection of cheeses to have a basis for tasting and comparison.

Your cheese tray could feature an array of the classic types of cheeses produced in this country – monterey jack, muenster, brick, blue, Swiss, and colby. To show the increasing development of flavor which results from aging, you could offer a sampling of natural cheddar cheeses ranging from mild to extra sharp.

When you select wines to accompany cheeses, the basic principle is that the flavors should enhance, not overpower each other. A mild cheese will be accented by a light Chablis or fresh rosé, while a flavorful cheese such as sharp cheddar calls for a full-bodied Burgundy or California pinot noir.

To save last-minute duties, your cheese tray may be assembled ahead of time, wrapped tightly in moisture-proof wrap to prevent drying, and refrigerated. For eye appeal, cut the cheeses in different ways. Cheddar adapts well to slicing; Swiss cheese may be cut in cubes or sticks; and the cylindrical colby midget longhorn may be cut to form an attractive, easily-served spiral. Since cheese should usually be served at room temperature for maximum flavor, remove the cheese tray from the refrigerator at least an hour before sampling time, and uncover just before serving.

In planning quantities, remember that the greater variety of cheese and wine you serve, the more you'll need to allow each guest an adequate sampling. For the wines, a tasting portion is about one to two ounces, so estimate 12-15 servings per bottle and at least one-half bottle per person, depending on the number of wines. If you were serving four wines to twelve people, you would probably need two bottles of each.

For the cheese, estimate between a quarter and a half pound per person – again, the greater the variety of cheeses you offer, the more you'll need. Feel free to be generous – leftover cheese keeps well and can be used in a number of ways.

Light cheese dishes are the perfect way to cap an evening of cheese and wine tasting. Serve a beautiful layered spread of grated cheddar cheese, cranberry-orange relish, whipped cream and cream cheese, with glasses of a light rosé or riesling. A California-style fondue made with natural monterey jack cheese might call for a fruity Gamay Beaujolais. Experiment with new flavor combinations, but most of all – have fun!

MONTEREY FONDUE

2 cups (8 ozs.) shredded natural monterey jack cheese
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup white wine
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Vegetables for dipping

Toss cheese with flour. Heat wine in fondue pot or saucepan until bubbles rise to the surface. Do not boil. Add cheese mixture, 1/2 cup at a time. Stir constantly, letting cheese melt completely before adding more. Continue stirring until mixture bubbles lightly. Stir in parsley. Keep fondue bubbling gently while serving. Serve with raw vegetables.

LACY CHEESE DISCS

Cut cheese horizontally into 1/4-inch slices. Turn upright; cut vertically into quarters. Place cheese quarters 2 to 3 inches apart on Teflon-lined cookie sheet. Bake at 350°, 10 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet immediately; drain on absorbent paper.

Variation: To make curled cheese appetizers; prepare as directed. Remove from cookie sheet by rolling disc around handle of wooden spoon. Drain on absorbent paper.

LAYERED CRANBERRY CHEDDAR SPREAD

1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
2 tablespoons sherry
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 10-oz. pkg. frozen cranberry-orange relish, thawed
3 cups (12 oz.) shredded sharp natural cheddar cheese

Combine softened cream cheese and sherry; fold in whipped cream. Layer relish, cheddar cheese and cream cheese mixture in 1-1/2-quart clear glass container. Garnish with additional cheddar cheese, if desired. Serve with crackers or fruit wedges.

CHEESE OPORTO

1 cup (4 ozs.) shredded sharp natural cheddar cheese
1 cup (4 ozs.) shredded natural Swiss cheese
2 tablespoons soft margarine
2 tablespoons port

Combine all ingredients, mixing until smooth and well blended. Press into 10-ounce custard cup lined with plastic wrap. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with chopped nuts, if desired. Serve as a spread for crackers, bread or fruit.

COLBY SPIRAL

1. Cut a 16-ounce midget longhorn style natural colby cheese crosswise into 8 slices.

2. Turn upright and cut vertically into quarters.

3. Serve with party picks.

Sumptuous!

Citron chartreuse souffle

A wonderful way to end a very good beginning could be a delicious dessert souffle - served buffet.

One way to give your buffet table a breathtaking focal point is with a sumptuous Citron Chartreuse Souffle. This cold European dessert takes its name from two of the favorite flavors of France: piquant lemon (citron in French) and the warmth of Green Chartreuse, an unusual liqueur made by the Carthusian monks who reside in the French province of Dauphine.

Fortunately, the recipe is relatively simple, so the souffle can rise to this occasion with style without your having to spend hours preparing it.

Souffle dessert is delectable.

CITRON CHARTREUSE SOUFFLE

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
6 eggs
⅔ cup sugar
Pinch salt
1 tbsp. grated lemon peel
⅔ cup lemon juice
3 tbsp. Green Chartreuse
2 cups heavy cream
¼ cup coarsely chopped pistachio nuts
Lemon pinwheel

Prepare 1½ quart souffle dish with 4-inch foil collar.

In small saucepan, sprinkle gelatin over water; let stand 1? minutes to soften. Place saucepan over low heat until gelatin dissolves. Remove from heat; cool.

In a large mixing bowl, beat eggs, sugar and salt until thick and light (about 8 minutes).

To cooled gelatin mixture add lemon peel, lemon juice and Green Chartreuse. Pour into egg mixture; fold until well-blended. Refrigerate 5-10 minutes until mixture begins to mound.

Beat 1½ cups cream until stiff peaks form. Fold into lemon mixture until no white streaks are left. Pour mixture into prepared souffle dish. Refrigerate at least 3 hours.

When ready to serve, carefully remove foil collar. Beat remaining cream. Decorate top of souffle with additional whipped cream and lemon pinwheel. Lightly press chopped pistachio nuts around sides. Makes 8 servings.

Perfect dish for a party

Grapefruit-Broccoli Orientale contrasts tender-crisp, green broccoli with succulent, fresh grapefruit sections to make a dish that is party perfect but wonderfully appropriate for any family meal.

GRAPEFRUIT-BROCCOLI ORIENTALE

2 pkgs. (10 oz. each) frozen broccoli spears, thawed
1 head romaine
2 tbsp. sesame seeds
⅓ cup vegetable oil
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. monosodium glutamate, optional
2 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned

Cut broccoli spears in half lengthwise; cut any long spears in half crosswise. Wash romaine leaves; break into bite-size pieces. Brown sesame seeds in large skillet or wok over medium heat; remove to bowl; reserve.

Heat oil in same pan. Add broccoli. Cook, stirring quickly and often, until tender. Add romaine, salt and monosodium glutamate. Cook, stirring constantly, 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in sesame seeds and grapefruit sections. Serves 8.

REMOVE cigarette and cigar smoke from a room by placing a basin of water in the room overnight. Turn "don't needs" into closet space and cash with an Observer & Eccentric Classified Ad.

A Question of Taste

By Hilary Keating Callaghan

Fluff up the pillows and rest

"What the mind conceives, the body achieves."

This optimistic statement expresses the philosophy of the current power-of-positive-thinking school of self-improvement.

The goal of this movement is to harness and direct the immense, untapped potential of the human mind. The power of the mind to effect physical change has been the subject of a great deal of interest and study in recent years although this is an ancient phenomenon.

An indication of popular fascination with this mental-physical connection was the sequence in "The Empire Strikes Back" in which Luke Skywalker, under the tutelage of the ancient Yoda, learns to move physical objects through mental concentration.

The mind, however, works on the subconscious as well as the conscious level, and our subconscious may desire what the conscious mind would reject. There are those, for example, who would hold that succumbing to a cold or flu may not be entirely a physical occurrence.

The subconscious may wish to be sick. Illness may offer a chance to rest, to escape responsibility, to obtain sympathy.

COLD AND FLU germs surround us. Why, at a particular time, do we fall victim? Why will one person pick up a bug while someone else, similarly exposed, will not? The intervention of the subconscious offers an intriguing possibility.

Taking sensible preventative measures is beneficial whether one subscribes to this theory of the subconscious or to a pure germ theory. Simply focusing one's conscious thoughts on remaining healthy should help the body achieve that end.

Dressing and eating right should enable the body to carry out the mind's bidding.

Eating to ward off colds or flu means basically following a normal, prudent diet, with attention to obtaining adequate amounts of vitamin C. Good winter sources of vitamin C are citrus fruits, tomatoes, cabbage and Brussels sprouts.

If these precautions fail and you do succumb, give in and pamper yourself.

FLUFF UP the pillows and take to your bed for the duration, armed with mountains of light reading and tissues. Plan to drink plenty of fluids — preferably hot and loaded with vitamin C. Meals should be light. The body is too busy repairing itself to be digesting heavy meals.

Fortunately, appetites usually wane when one is ill. The problem is more likely to be working up some interest in eating anything when food can't be tasted due to congestion.

If this is a problem, try Breakfast Tortillas from "The Sunset Book of Breakfasts and Brunches."

As the name of the book indicates, this can be served for the first meal of the day. It is equally good, however, at any other time of the day. If you are able to taste anything at all, the flavors of these tortillas should come through loud and clear.

The hot peppers in the sauce might even clear your nose and sinuses and incinerate a few germs along the way. The tomatoes in the sauce should provide a vitamin C boost.

Folk wisdom has long held — and medical science is now concurring — that you should eat hot soup (traditionally chicken) when you are sick. Soup provides the extra liquid your body requires and at the same time imparts a beautifully warm sensation.

In keeping with this eminently sensible tradition, then, you should have soup. Why not a traditionla Greek soup — Lemon Rice? Not too heavy or rich and with the Vitamin C of the lemon, this is a perfect meal for convalescing.

BREAKFAST TORTILLAS

12 to 16 strips bacon, crisply cooked, drained, crumbled (or substitute imitation bacon bits)
2 cups (8 oz.) shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
8 green onions, thickly sliced
1 can (about 7 oz.) red chile salsa
2 firm, ripe avocados
1 tbsp. lemon juice
4 eggs
1 tsp. salt
1 tbsp. milk
about 2 tbsp. butter or margarine
8 flour tortillas

Place bacon, cheese, onions and salsa in individual bowls. Dice avocados; coat with lemon juice and place in a bowl.

In a pie pan, beat together eggs, salt and milk. In a wide frying pan over medium heat, melt 1 tsp. of the butter. Dip a tortilla in egg mixture, drain briefly over dish, then fry in butter for about 1 minute on each side or until golden brown. Repeat for all tortillas.

Serve tortillas hot at table; pass condiments to spoon onto them. Roll up to eat. Makes 4 servings of 2 each.

EGG LEMON SOUP

7 cups strong vegetable stock or chicken broth
salt and pepper
3 eggs
1 lemon
1½ cups cooked long-grain rice
lemon slices

Season broth to taste with salt and pepper, adding a little strained potato pulp if you wish. Beat the eggs with the juice of one lemon. About 5 to 10 minutes before you serve the soup, add some of the hot broth to the beaten eggs — stirring vigorously — then return it to the pot, still stirring, and heat for a few minutes this way until the egg mixture is smoothly bound into the broth. Add the cooked rice and serve at once, garnishing each bowl with a paperthin slice of lemon.

This will serve 6 and goes nicely with slices of black bread spread with dill butter. The bread and butter should be chilled. (adapted from "The Vegetarian Epicure" by Anna Thomas).

Pork chops with carrots

From an old-fashioned country kitchen comes a recipe for today — with pork chops and carrots — country style. Thyme-seasoned pork chops are arranged on carrot strips in a baking dish, then are topped with onion slices. The chop and vegetable combo is easily assembled and bakes unattended.

For the best buys, try shopping the sales and stocking the freezer with pork chops and other favorite pork cuts when they are featured on special.

PORK CHOPS AND CARROTS COUNTRY STYLE

8 pork chops, cut ½ to ¾ inch thick
3 medium carrots
1 large onion, cut in 8 slices
¼ cup flour
1½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. thyme
⅛ tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. lard or drippings
⅓ cup water

Cut carrots in half crosswise; then slice each portion in quarters or halves lengthwise (depending on size) and arrange in bottom of baking dish (13x9x2 inches) or pan. Combine flour, salt, thyme and pepper. Dredge chops in seasoned flour, brown in lard or drippings and arrange in pan over carrots. Place onion slice on each chop. Pour water over chops, cover pan tightly with foil and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until meat and carrots are done, 40 to 50 minutes. Serves 4.

Say it with hearts, flowers or a planked sirloin steak

"Be my Valentine" can be said in many ways — with a card, flowers, a box of candy, a phone call, a thoughtful gift. It can also be said with a Valentine's Day meal.

Those who gather around your table will be able to read your Valentine's message loud and clear when you treat them to planked sirloin steak. A broiled top sirloin steak is especially impressive when surrounded with a ruffle of potatoes and garnished with fluted mushrooms.

Preparation begins with the steak being broiled as usual. Then, shortly before it is done, the steak is transferred to an oiled wooden plank.

Mashed potatoes, combined with egg yolks and chopped chives, are tubed or spooned around the steak, extending to the edge of the plank. Decorative mushrooms are added to fill any spaces between steak and potatoes.

Then the plank is placed under the broiler just long enough to complete cooking the steak and for the potatoes to be tipped a golden brown.

Because sirloin, especially the boneless top sirloin, is a prestigious steak, it is important that steps be taken to protect and promote its outstanding eating quality. The steak should be cooked at a moderate temperature with careful attention given to distance from heat and cooking time.

These factors will vary depending on the thickness of the steak and the doneness desired. Cooking at a high temperature and overcooking should be avoided, for it will cause excessive shrinkage and less tender, less flavorful results.

Proper storage is also important to protect your steak investment. The steak should be placed immediately in the coldest part of the refrigerator upon returning home from the supermarket.

If it is not to be prepared within two to three days, it should be wrapped and placed in the freezer.

PLANKED TOP SIRLOIN STEAK

1 beef top sirloin steak, cut 1 to 1½ inches thick
Salt and pepper
3 to 4 cups hot seasoned mashed potatoes
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 tbsp. chopped chives
8 mushrooms, fluted, if desired
2 tbsp. melted butter

Place steak on rack in broiler pan (1-inch steak, 2 to 3 inches from heat; 1½-inch steak, 3 to 4 inches from heat). Broil at moderate temperature.

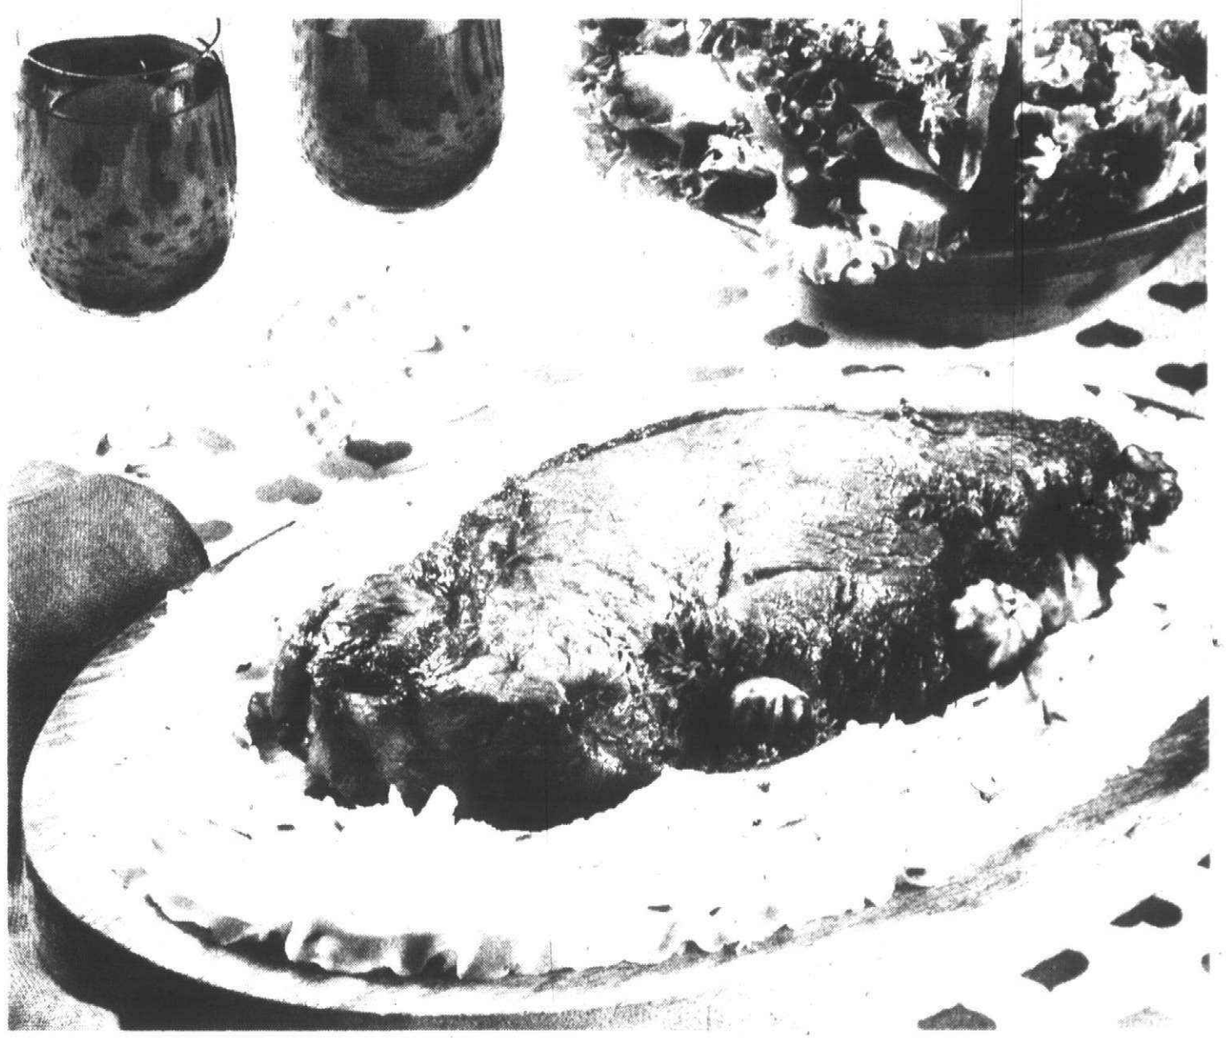

When first side is browned, turn, season with salt and pepper and finish cooking second side. A steak cut 1-inch thick requires 12 to 15 minutes for rare and 18 to 20 minutes for medium. A steak cut 1½ inches thick requires 22 to 25 minutes for rare and 28 to 30 minutes for medium.

Combine seasoned potatoes, egg yolks and chives. About 5 minutes before end of broiling time, transfer steak to an oiled wooden plank. Tube or spoon potatoes around edge of plank.

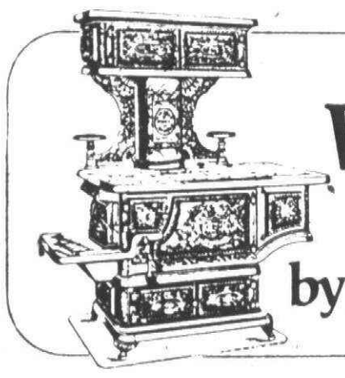

Brush mushrooms with butter and arrange around steak. Season steak with salt and pepper. Return to broiler.

The special steak-and-potatoes menu can be completed easily with green beans flecked with toasted almonds and a vegetable salad made with mixed greens and a variety of crisp vegetables.

Sure to win hearts will be strawberry and ice cream parfaits and heart-shaped butter cookies.

A planked sirloin steak surrounded by a ruffle of mashed potatoes and garnished with fluted mushrooms says, "Be My Valentine."

The Warming Oven
by Emily Watson

Two potted pink geraniums, just a little scraggly, have been blooming away on a kitchen windowsill. They were the only ones brought in last fall because I couldn't bear to let them freeze after their valiant efforts during the summer and on into autumn.

The pinks had out-bloomed the reds by far.

In the midst of these good feelings about pink geraniums, along comes a booklet from Fox Hill Farms, the geranium people in Parma, Mich. The publication deals with scented geraniums, complete with recipes for geranium jelly, rose cake, bath bags and pot pourris.

Fifteen varieties of rose-scented geraniums are listed with the sugesstion: "Use the rose geraniums where you want that haunting rose fragrance. Rose geranium jelly and rose geranium cake are classics, and you can candy the flowers and use the leaves for tea. Tuck packets of dried rose geranium leaves in linen and lingerie drawers."

ome of the varieties — old fashion rose, Rober's lemon rose, Dr. Livingston and Arrar of roses are grown as field crops and their essential oils distilled for use in perfumes, cosmetics and toiletries in place of the more expensive rose oil.

THE CITRUS scented group has 11 varieties characterized by the clear scents of lemons, limes and oranges.

Leaves, flowers and soft stems can be used in molded and tossed salads, in desserts, and as garnishes for fish dishes. Cocktails can be garnished with scented geraniums in place of lemon or lime slices. Lemon geranium tea is suggested.

"And, of course, no formal dinner is complete without a couple of sprigs of Fingerbowl geranium floating in fingerbowls at the table."

here actually is a Fingerbowl geranium. It is a small, firm, compact plant with crinkled leaves, strong lemon scent and lavender flowers.

e fruit and spice group is edible but the varieties are used for potpourri, sachets, bath bags and fresh or dried bouquets. Most distinctive fragrances are apple, nutmeg, old spice and coconut.

All varieties in the mint-scented group have marked fragrances and strong growth.

"Eat them, drink them, make jelly and cake with them. Use them for mint juleps. they also make good bookmarks," advises the booklet.

e pungent group tends to have a musky rather than a sweet and tangy aroma. Fair Ellen, fern leaf, Mrs. Taylor, oak, sharp-toothed oak and southernwood are pungent.

CORRECTION: There was a line left out of the recipe for Lemon Cream Cheesecake in the Jan. 26 Shopping Cart section. The second layer calls for ⅔ cups of sugar. The recipe says to add ½ cup to the cornstarch but doesn't tell what to do with the other ⅓ cup of sugar. This is to be added to the egg white and cream of tartar gradually, after the frothy stage has been reached.

Good news for crowning glory

Georgia Gebhard of Livonia is heading arrangements for the North America Beauty and Fashion Show coming to the Hyatt Regency Feb. 14-16. (Staff photo by Art Emanuele)

By MARGARET MILLER

Georgia Gebhard's big party should make a lot of hairdressers more skilled. And that should make a lot of heads look better.

That's the idea behind the 42nd annual North American Beauty and Fashion Show, scheduled Feb. 14-16 at the Hyatt Regency and chaired by Ms. Gebhard, a Livonia resident who has been in cosmetology for 32 years.

The show sponsored by the Michigan Cosmetology Association will bring in top stylists and innovators to impart their knowledge to some 6,000 hairdressers expected to gather.

"We try once a year to give our members a chance to meet really top national educators from all over the country," said Ms. Gebhard, who has been working on the show for nearly a year and is now winding up final details.

She considers the project of great importance in her ever-changing profession.

"Furthering our education is what we all have to keep doing," she said. "Everything we do toward education comes back tenfold. And it's so rewarding to seem the younger cosmetologists learning at the big shows.

"They get so excited, it makes up for a the work it takes to put this thing together."

HEADLINERS for the weekend of learning that begins Saturday evening and runs through Monday include Doris Williams of Statesville, N.C., national stylesdirector for the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association; Charles Watkins of the Wolverine State Association, an expert on styling hair of blacks and orientals, and the Americoif group, local stylists.

"We are fortunate to have all of them," said the show chairman. "Doris Williams is a gracious southern lady, and she has to have great ability to have been selected top national styling director.

"Watkins will do a guest spot that should teach us all a lot. And the members of Americoif all have special skills. All of them, Anthony Marsalese, Jacqueline Robinson, Douglas J. Weaver, Felicia Palazzolo Shaw and Peter Scaglione, have educated themselves to the point where they are able to give the education they possess.

"A lot of people can do these various stylings, but to be able to give as they can is a talent." In addition to the presentations by special guests, there will be some 50 exhibitors on hand, showing the latest in equipment and teaching particular skills. Ms. Gebhard said their classes and demonstartions will run Sunday and Monday to give all participants a chance to attend several.

"What is offered," she added, "is probably more than any of us can assimilate. I know I have to go home and do a lot of studying of my notes when it's all over."

COMPETITIONS also will add interest to the event. One is the Master Award competition, established for years and offering a $500 prize and a large trophy.

"And this year we are adding a Novice Total Look contest for those who never have entered one of our competitions, said Ms. Gebhard. "Each entrant will do amodel from head to toe — hair style, makeup, outfit."

The prize for that competition, she noted, will be two days of study with a noted Windsor stylist, Ezio of Canada.

Ms. Gebhard, until recently owner of the Merre Belles Salon in Livonia, serves with the community's advisory council for career education, giving advice when needed on cosmetology instruction in Livonia schools.

Her work attracts larger and larger numbers of young people, she noted, and a big share of salons are continuing to do well despite difficult economic times.

"I have faith in this country and in the cosmetology business," she said. "I keep remembering President Gerald Ford when he spoke to our association last July.

"He noted that our is one of the largest industries in the world and one that has never asked for any kind of federal assistance.

"Ours is a strong industry. Even through the depression it survived."

GEORGIA GEBHARD is in charge of the North America show for the first time. Last year she was exhibits chairman, and twice she has headed arrangements for her organization's service award workshop in Lansing.

It is a major job which requires a great deal of donated effort from many people, she noted.

As the show gets bigger, she added, "it probably will reach the point where we will have to pay someone to handled it."

"But as of now everyone is volunteering," she said.

Cosmetologists who attend the show may take advantage of a special rate and spend the weeking at the Hyatt, she said. Those interested may call Mrs. Gebhard, 261-2414, for information.

Jaycettes tell parents: It's kiss-your-baby week

It's national Jaycette Week and 45,000 young women between the ages of 18 and 35 are celebrating Feb. 8-14 with special projects and meetings.

Canton Township Jaycettes are joining chapters across the state in participating in the "Kiss Your Baby Week" project. It involves taking cystic fibrosis literature to stores and asking them to include the flyers in shopping bags when they pack merchandise.

The local Jaycettes have distributed posters and flyers to Meijer Thrifty Acres and other stores as well as to the Canton Library.

The purpose of the statewide project is to alert parents to the symptoms of cystic fibrosis and other children's lung diseases. They hope that early diagnosis and prompt treatment — an essential element in lengthening the lifespan of children with CF — will result.

One of the symptoms of cystic fibrosis is an extremely salty taste to the child's perspiration which can be detected by kissing or tasting them on the forehead.

OTHER SYMPTOMS are: recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing and excess mucus, pneumonia more than once during childhood, excessive appetite with poor weight gain, and clubbing (enlargement) of fingertips. Suspecting parents are directed to call their physician.

"It is estimated that respiratory problems in children take up to 70 per cent of a pediatrician's time and are the leading cause of chronic absenteeism from school," said Sue Jagoda, president of the Canton Jaycettes. "Furthermore, cystic fibrosis is second only to cancer in the number of young lives it takes. One third of the victims of this disease are not yet diagnosed.

"Because early diagnosis of CF is essential to longer life for these children, we have joined in the campaign to spread the word to residents of our community."

Cystic fibrosis is an inherited disease for which there is neither cure nor control. In CF a thick, sticky mucus clogs the lungs and airways creating breathing difficulties, high susceptibility to infection, and lung disease. The mucus also may interfere with digestion by preventing the flow of enzymes into the small intestine, causing malabsorption of food. Though both parents must be carriers of the CF gene, according to medical authorities, one in 20 persons in the U.S. is a carrier. In Michigan alone, they estimate that there are nearly 500,000 such carriers.

At present, there is no definitive test to determine a carrier of the CF gene.

SERVING WITH Sue Jagoda on the Canton Jaycette board of directors are: Shirley Mudri, internal vice president; Sandy Meigel, external vice president; Marlene McCune, treasurer; and Lee Ann Farrell secretary. Directors are Lana Olson, Debbie Haller and Pat Bardel.

The Jaycettes work closely with the Jaycees and already are planning the annual Walk for Mankind. The two groups cooperated in their Halloween project, the haunted house, and the Christmas project, a Santa's workshop at Meijer's.

They prepared Christmas food baskets for needy families for Christmas. The women put on a special Christmas party for the residents of Whispering Willows Nursing Home. Each residents received a personal gift from the Jaycettes and there was the actual party with punch, cookies and the singing of Christmas carols.

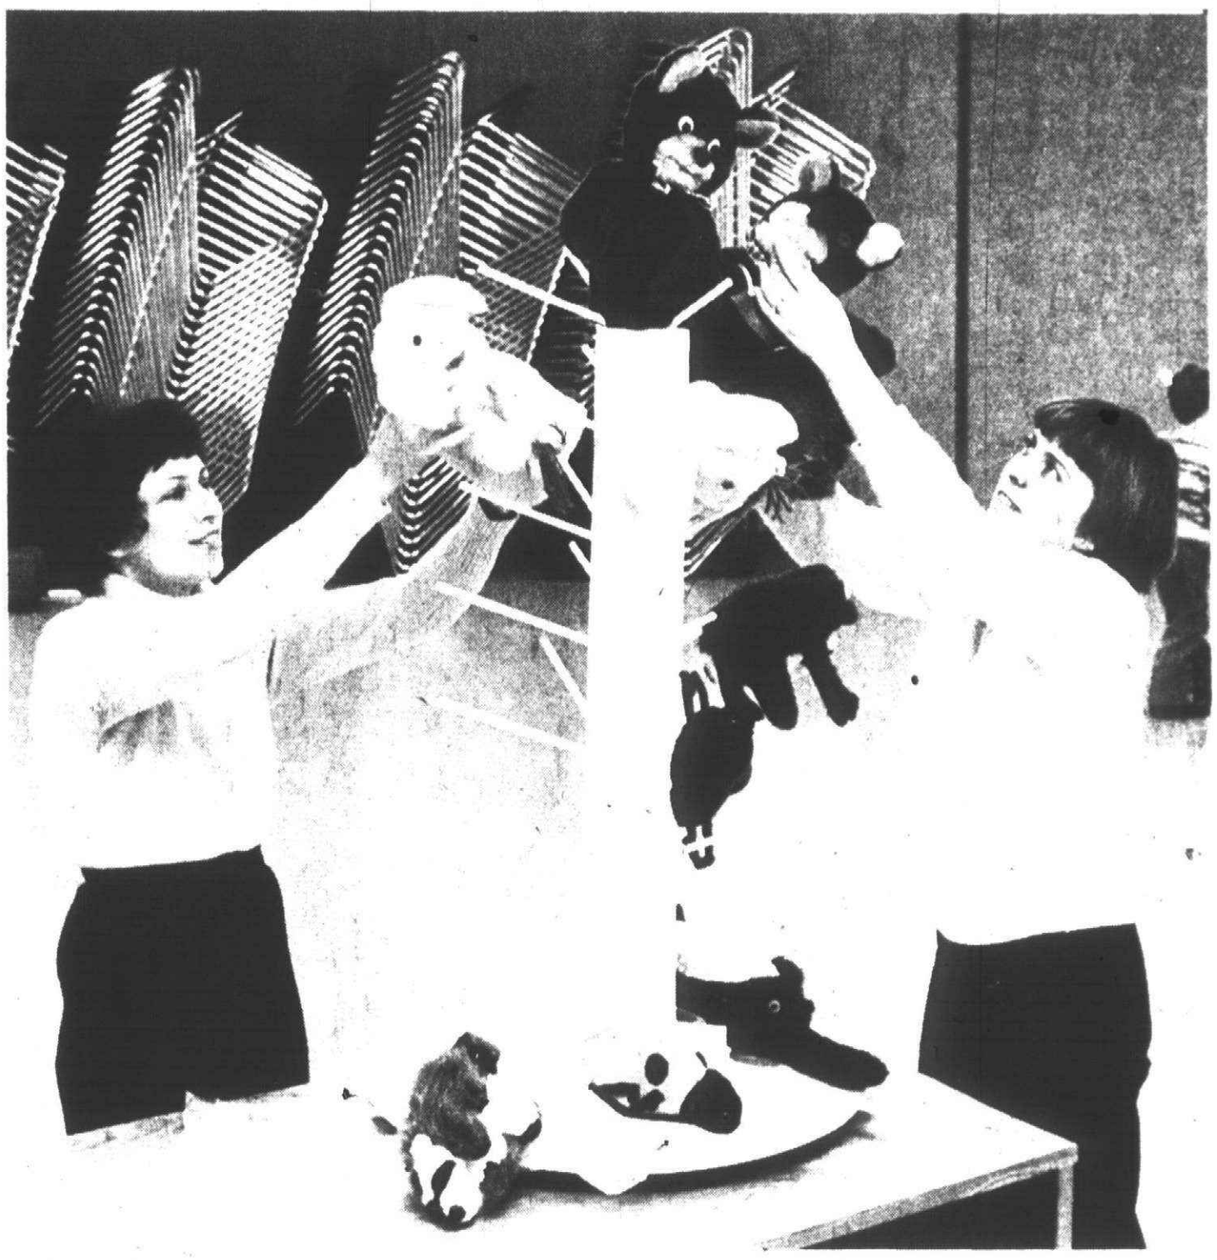

The Jaycees and Jaycettes have taken a special interest in the new Canton Library. The men built a puppet stage and the women made the curtains, sewing more than 10 yards of material.

They plan to make duffle bags for the toy section at the library. Children will be able to check out toys as well as books.

The Jaycees built a puppet tree for the library and the women made and dressed puppets for the tree. The puppet stage is collapsible and can be stored easily when not in use.

Jaycettes welcome new members between ages 18-25. Single and married women are eligible for membership. A member does not have to be married to a Jaycee.

Women interested in joining can call Shirley Mudri, 981-1896, for information.

'Snow White' tickets are now on sale

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" has been chosen by the American Association of University Women as its 21st annual children's play.

The play will be presented at 7 p.m. Feb. 27; at 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Feb. 28, and at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. March 1 in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium. A benefit performance will be presented at 7 p.m. Feb. 26.

Tickets at $1 each will be on sale at extended school year (ESY) schools in the Plymouth-Canton District Feb. 13 and 17, and in the traditional school year schools, Feb. 16 and 17. Beginning Feb. 18 tickets will be on sale at Del's shoes on both Plymouth's and Northville's Main Streets and at Book Break in the New Towne Plaza, Canton. Tickets also may be purchased by mail, but orders should be received before Feb. 13. Check, choice of performance and self-addressed, stamped envelope should be mailed to: Plymouth AAUW, 14720 Thornridge, Plymouth 48170.

SKITS WILL be presented in the Plymouth-Canton elementary schools Feb. 12 and 13 which will give the children a brief preview of the play.

Co-directors Sue Siletti and Bev Brooks are giving the cast the benefit of their combined expertise. Children will be caught up in the excitement of the familiar story: Can seven little men save the beautiful princess from her wicked stepmother? The audience knows that Doc, Sneezy, Grumpy and their friends will bring about about a happy ending.

Seminars for wood owners

Michigan residents are fortunate to live in a state blessed with abundant natural resources. The challenge is to manage these resources wisely so we can continue to enjoy their economic benefits and beauty.

Because woodlands will continue to be an important renewable source of energy, recreation and forest products, Michigan State University Extension Service is offering a series of woodland owners seminars.

These seminars will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Van Hoosen Junior High School on Adams Road, just north of Tienken Road in Rochester:

- Feb. 11 — Christmas trees and firewood production
- Feb. 18 — Wildlife management, selling timber
- Feb. 25 — Property laws, vandalism and protection

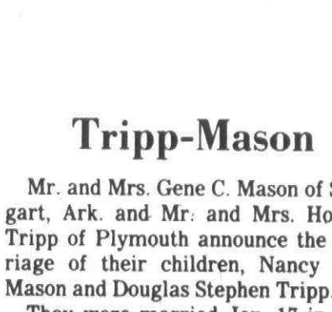

Oestreicher-Rey

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Oestreicher of Pembroke Street, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter Lori to Joseph Andrew Rey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Andrew Rey of Mona Court, Plymouth.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Stevenson High School and a nursing student at Eastern Michigan University. She works as a nurse assistant at Sinai Hospital. Her fiance graduated from Plymouth Canton High School and is a vocational education major at EMU. He is employed by the Romulus school district as a parap-professional.

They plan a June 20 wedding in Ward Presbyterian Church, Livonia.

Canton cagers ignite; loop leaders fall

By BRAD EMONS

Don't count Plymouth Canton out of the Western Six League basketball race just yet.

The Chiefs won a vital game Friday night by beating league leader Northville, 46-38.

The Canton victory has caused a logjam at the top as Northville, Farmington Harrison and Livonia Churchill all share first place with 5-2 records. Canton is one game behind at 4-3.

Northville certainly did not look like a league leader, but the Chiefs' mixture of man-to-man and zone defenses had something to do with it.

Sean Houle, Canton's 6-foot-5 senior center, once again controlled the inside play. He led all scorers with 21 points and hauled down eight rebounds.

The Canton center also did a yeoman's job on Northville's 6-7 center Dave Ward, who was held to eight points, all in the third quarter.

"The last time we played them we picked up a lot of fouls," said Canton coach Craig Bell, "but today, to our benefit, they (officials) let us play.

"Our enthusiasm and picking up the loose balls was good to see. Sean did an exceptional job on the boards.

"We didn't want Ward getting any offensive rebounds. We felt how Ward would play, Northville would play."

Canton also got a solid game from 6-1 senior guard Dave Malek, who poured in 13 points. He made four critical free throws down the stretch to stop a Northville comeback.

CANTON DOMINATED the first half as Ward, who averages 18 points per game, missed all 10 field goal tries.

The Chiefs led 12-6 after one quarter and took a 14-point advantage midway through the second quarter.

"How can you have a big game like this and play like that," said Northville coach Tim Lutes. "The way we played in the first half, we beat ourselves.

"But give Plymouth Canton credit — they played well. Houle is a fine, fine player and Malek hurt us, too."

Northville had a hard time matching up with Houle, who plays effectively both inside and outside. Lutes did not want to put his big man (Ward) on the Canton center.

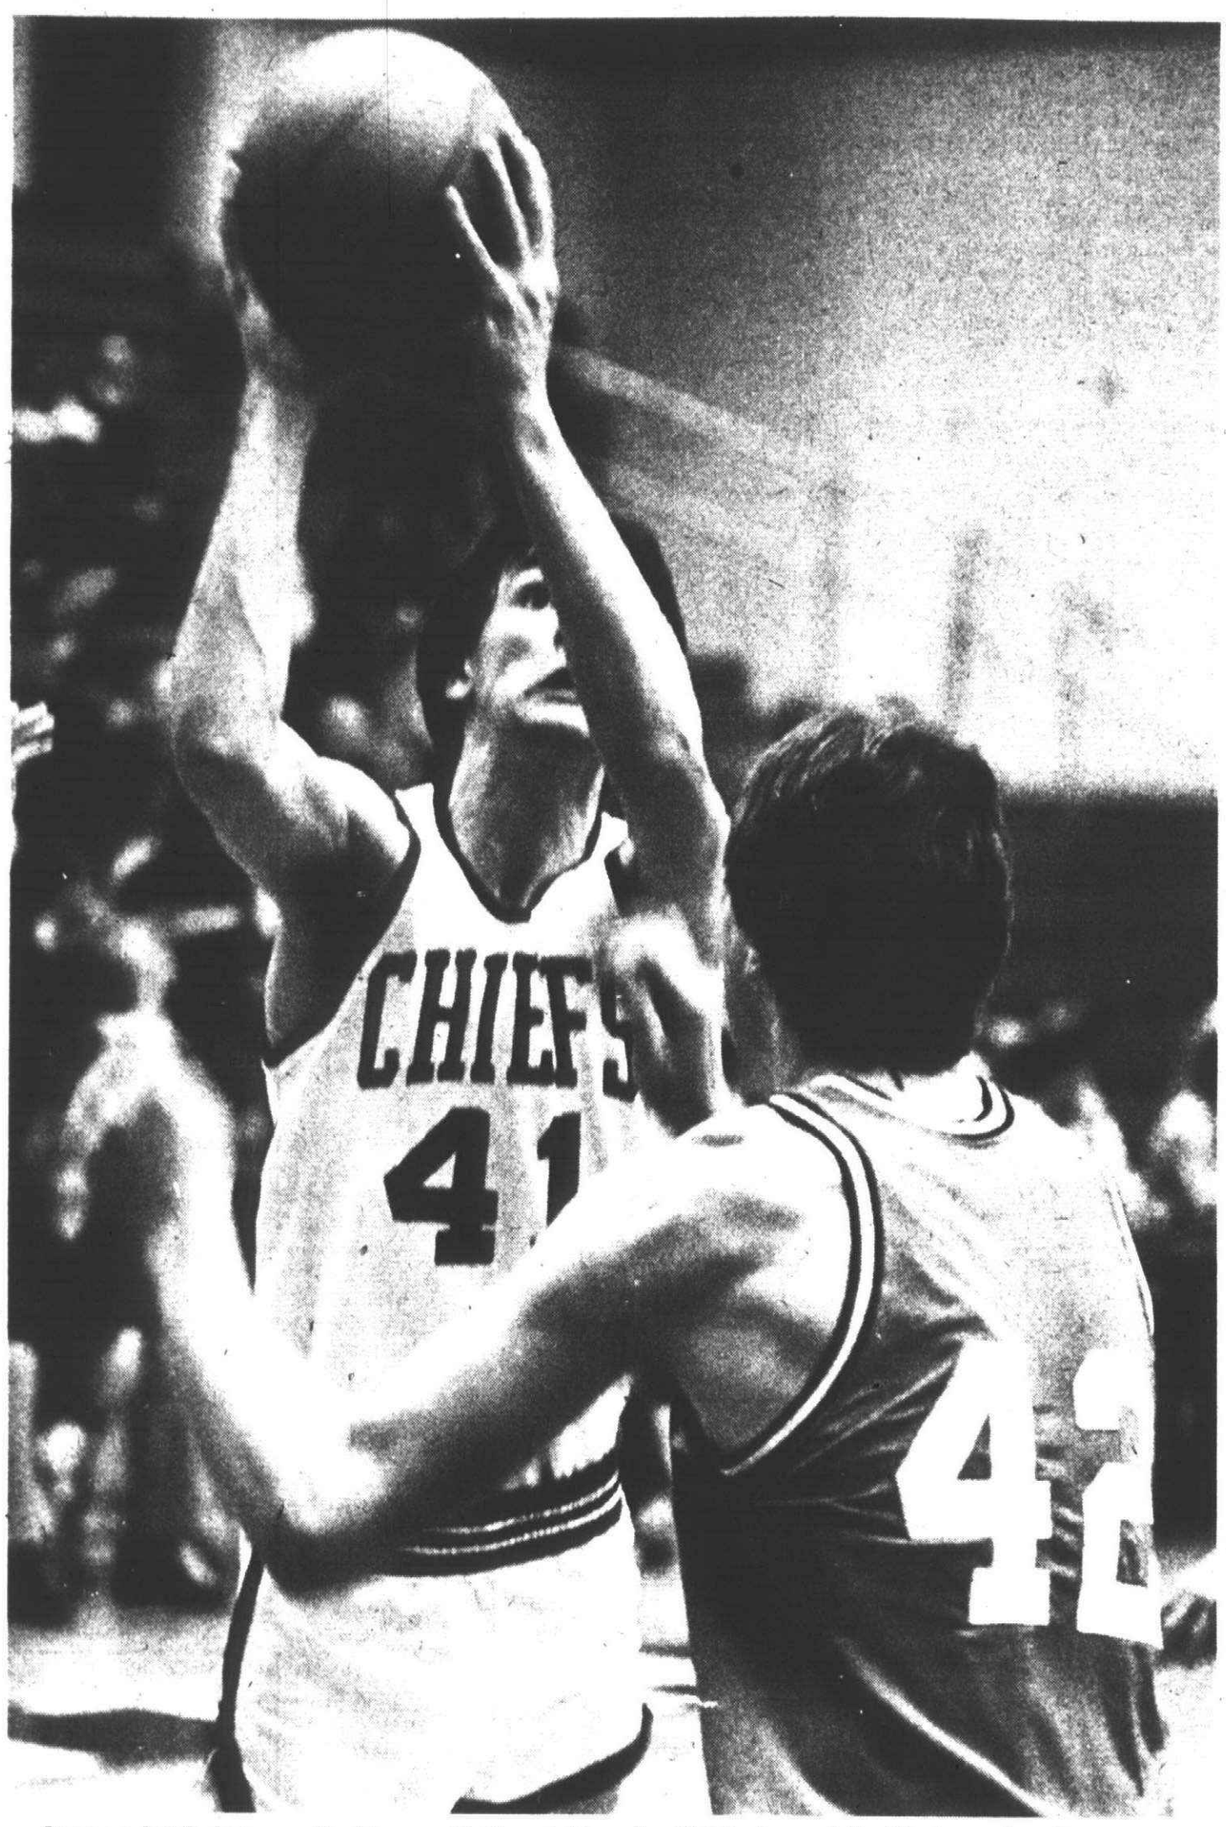

"Houle is a tough player to defense one on one," explained the Northville coach. "We don't have a forward with enough experience to match up with him."

Lutes said his team got plenty of good shots in the first half, but "we just couldn't get them to go."

"Our total strategy was destroyed by getting behind so much," Lutes said.

In the second half, Northville made a charge. The Mustangs cut Canton's lead to 32-30 early in the final period when Dave Greer scored two of his 12

Chief swimmers win big again

Plymouth Canton won its fifth straight swim meet Thursday with a 96-72 triumph at home over Ypsilanti.

The Chiefs, coached by Bill McCord, are now 5-2 in dual meets.

Juniors Pete Stern and and Ron Hurley each won two events for Canton.

Hurley captured the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 23.6. He came back to win the 100 freestyle with a clocking of 54.4. He was also a member of Canton's first place 200 medley relay team (1:50.4). He was joined by John Simone, Bob Simrak and Jim Luce.

John Simone, a sophomore, placed second in the 200 individual medley (2:15.0) and first in the 500 freestyle (5:20.5). Stern took firsts in the 200 freestyle (1:56.5) and 100 butterfly (59.8).

Luce broke his own freshman record in winning the 100 breaststroke (1:08.0). Simrak, meanwhile, finished first in the 100 backstroke (1:02.0) and grabbed second behind Hurley in the 50 freestyle (25.4).

"I'm encouraged right now," said McCord. "We've had some open dates and we've been swimming real hard. Our times have been going down.

"When we taper down, our times should really drop. We're keying for our meet with Livonia Stevenson (Feb. 26).

Against Ypsi, the Chiefs' Joe Gibbons, Tom McKercher, Matt Krawzak and Stern finished second in the 400 freestyle relay with a time of 3:43.6.

Gibbons also placed second in the 100 butterfly (1:05.4).

Canton swimmers placing third included McKercher, 200 freestyle, 2:03.3, and 100 butterfly, 1:11.7; Pete Sickels, 200 IM, 2:17.7, and 100 breaststroke, 1:07.8; Steve Gaggi, diving, 178.25 points (season high); Joe McBratnie, 500 freestyle, 5:35.0.

CANTON-THURSTON

The Chiefs pounded Redford Thurston last Tuesday, 104-71.

The two-time defending Western Six League champs won five of 11 events.

Simrak, Luce, Stern and Hurley combined to win the 200 medley relay in 1:59.0.

Simone was a double winner — 200 and 500 freestyles. Gaggi won diving (154.15) while Luce place first in the 100 breaststroke (1:08.7).

Christian downs Bethesda quintet

Plymouth Christian raised its basketball record to 9-3 Friday with a 58-46 victory over Detroit Bethesda Temple.

Jim Koss led the Eagles with 14 points. John Koss contributed 12 points. Both are forwards and both snared six rebounds during the contest.

Mike Routledge, a guard, added 11 points.

Steve Bauslaugh, assistant coach at Plymouth, said the Eagles were prepared to deal with Bethesda's speed game.

"They tried to run us out, but we took it away from them," Bauslaugh said. "As soon as we took up a shot, we dropped a few guys back."

Plymouth's JV lost to Southfield Christian, 45-22.

Salem's Sub 8 title dream fades

Plymouth Salem's seven-year reign on Suburban Eight League basketball appears to be coming to an end.

The Rocks lost a heartbreaker Friday night at home to Dearborn Edsel Ford, 62-57. The loss virtually eliminates them from title contention although they still mathematically have a chance for their eighth consecutive crown.

With three games to go Dearborn has the inside track, sporting a first-place mark to 8-1. Edsel Ford moves into second spot all alone with a 7-2 record. Salem occupies third at 6-3.

Edsel Ford won the game by outscoring Salem 13-8 in the decisive third quarter.

The Thunderbirds jumped out to a 16-12 first quarter advantage, but Salem rallied to knot the game at 30-all at intermission.

Edsel Ford benefitted from the foul line, canning 24 of 38 shots for 63 percent. Salem hit seven of 15 for 46 percent.

Toby Puffer led all scorers with 19 points. The Edsel Ford sharpshooter hit nine of 14 from the line. Teammates Dave Smith and Rick Wyka chipped in with 13 and 11 points, respectively.

JUNIOR GUARD Mike McBride led Salem with 15. Scott Bublin added 10. Sophomore forwards John Cohen and Dave Houle scored nine and eight, respectivley.

"I was disappointed in that there were three loose balls to get and we didn't come up with anything," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "But we played hard and intense.

"We played good basketball. I felt as good about this game as any we've played this year."

Salem, 10-5 overall, will travel Tuesday to Livonia Franklin (9-6). The game will be broadcast on student radio station WSDP-88.1 FM. Ross Rhinehart and Jim Heller will provide the play-by-play coverage.

Rock tankers splash Bentley

Successful season continues

Plymouth Salem, enjoying one of its best boys' swim seasons ever, continued to roll Thursday night with a 101-71 victory at Livonia Bentley.

The Rocks are now 8-1-1 overall in dual meets.

Salem coach Chuck Olson thinks of his team as a "dark horse" for the Suburban Eight League title, but Bentley coach Keith Wright thinks otherwise.

"He (Chuck) has a real solid team," said Wright. "He's got a lot of good kids. It's going to be an interesting league meet.

"We hope to be a factor. I won't say we'll win it, but we're not going to open the door for anybody."

Salem won seven of 11 events.

Bentley senior Brett Lemon, however, was the meet's only double winner. He captured first place in the 50- and 100-yard freestyles with times of 23.3 and 52.8, respectively.

In one of the top races of the night, Salem junior Russ Shaffer edged Paul Dudley, a two-time league champ, in the 200 freestyle. Shaffer's time was 1:56.6.

In the 200 medley relay, Salem finished first as Paul Neschich, Doug Kleinsmith, Gary Workman and Jeff Kleinsmith posted a winning time of 1:46.9.

Workman, Doug Kleinsmith, Bruce Harwood and Jim Kindree combined to win the 400 freestyle relay with a clocking of 3:37.6.

OTHER SALEM first-place finishes were recorded by Tim Harwood, 200 individual medley, 2:12.2; Joe Rudelic, diving, 250.9 points; Jeff Kleinsmith, 500 freestyle, 5:21.2; Neschich, 100 backstroke, 1:02.3.

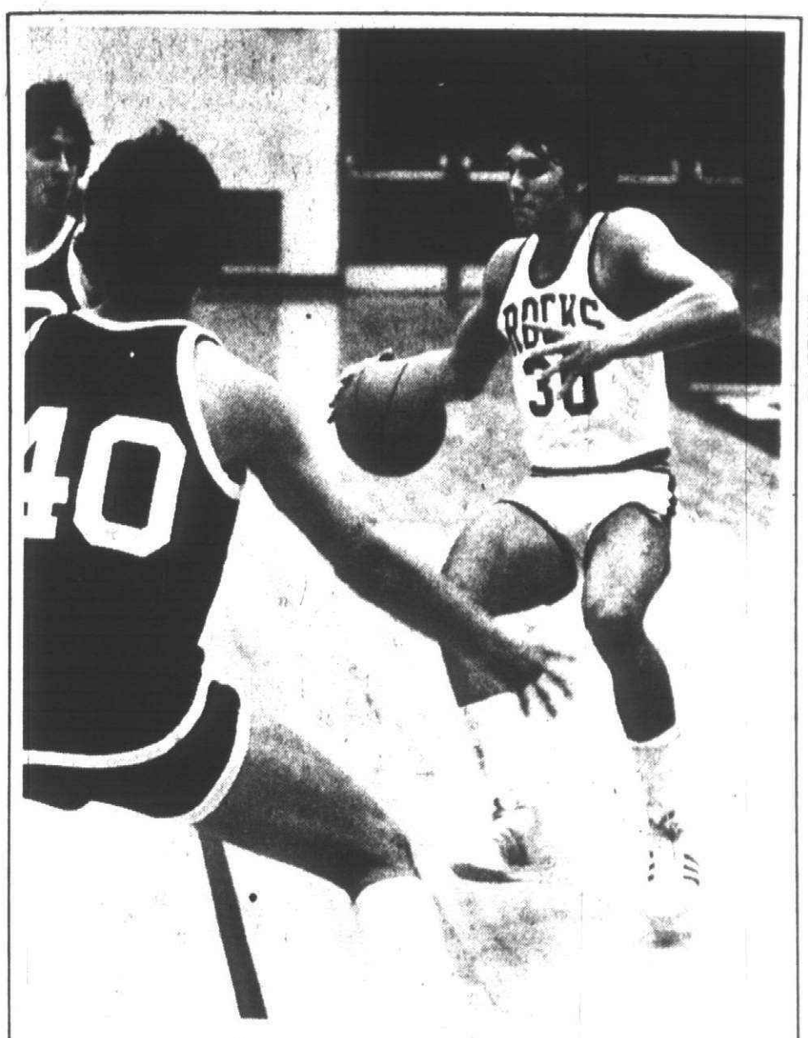

Gary Pomeroy of Bentley won the 100 butterfly with a time of 58.3. Shaffer was second (59.7).

Bentley's other first was garnered by Phil Wojcik in the 100 breaststroke (1:05.3).

Rock swimmers gaining second place finishes included Paul Perkowski, 50 freestyle, 23.5, and 100 freestyle, 53.0; John Thompson, 500 freestyle, 5:25.72; Ashley Long, 100 breaststroke, 1:07.4; Todd Riedel, diving, 194.25.

Gaining third place spots for Salem were Bruce Harwood, 200 IM, no time available; Bob Bowling, 50 freestyle, 24.89; John Henry, diving, 142.25; Tim Harwood, 100 butterfly, 59.96; Scott Stinebaugh, 54.66; Brian McAninch, 100 breaststroke, 1:10.19.

The Rocks also took third in the 200 medley relay with a time of 1:50.3. That team consisted of Bruce and Tim Harwood, Long and Perkowski. Teammates John Smith, Pat McMann, Mike Anderson and Bowling finished third in the 400 freestyle relay with a time of 3:50.9.

Rich tournaments here at home

No longer will the Detroit area bowlers have to galivant around the country in search of rich tournaments. They are going to find them at home.

The latest is the team tournament in progress at Royal Oak Bowl and carries a top prize of $10,000. This is one of the richest in the area and is being sponsored by the Detroit News.

Not alone is the tournament a rich one, but it will establish new interest in team competition, and it is going to run weekends until June.

Along with this team event, the Detroit City tournament also is carrying a richer prize list than ever, and the Proprietors Charity Tournament, now in progress, adds to the rich stakes available. All of which shows that the real competition can be found without too much traveling.

WHEN JIM LEZOTTE rolled a 739 series recently at Town and Country Lanes in the K. of C. League, he established two "firsts." It was the first 700 series bowled in the league that has been active for the past 22 years. And it was the first 700-barrier-breaking count of the year at Town and Country. To get the big total, Jim linked games of 235, 226 and 278.

NO LONGER is it any surprise when 700 series are rolled in the classic at Wonderland Lanes. Two more of them were posted this this week.

Showing the way to all of his rivals, Dave Karaska had counts of 268, 259 and 242 for 769. The other was the work of Larry Franz, who had a consistent series of 258, 259 and 258 for 729.

In the ladies competition, Lillan Buczkowski closed with 236 for 635. Dorothy Pashenee was next in line with an opening 234 in 603.

JIM GAGNON suffered one of the most humiliating moments of his bowling career at Woodland Lanes.

Bowling with the Mixers, he ran up nine strikes and, in the 10th, he fouled to end his dream of a perfect game. With the move over the foul line, he had to be content with a 280, which isn't bad for a 175-average bowler.

KEEN COMPETITION rather than high scores marked the activity at Westland Bowl during the week. The keenest was found in the men's house league, where Mitch Wasenko landed on top with a 235 in 604 to beat Fred Dixon by three pins.

THE VINCO LEAGUE at Garden Lanesalso offered some rousing competition when only nine pins seperated the top three scorers. Rick Winters showed the way with 654. Right behind him came Jack Hynes with 649 and Jim Mazei with 645. Behind this trio, Frank Cernik and Pete Brevick were tied at 619.

In the ladies top league, Kay Bulgarella and Lynn Maybred were tied at 584.

BOBBY ROBERTSON set something of a record at Merri-Bowl when he rolled two all-spare games. It was the first time he had done that in his 22 years of bowling.

In the Donut League, Bertha Fandell had a 236 in 523, and Sylvia Darby closed with a 233 for 612.

Canton gymnasts flip Harrison squad

Records are made to be broken — just ask the Plymouth Canton gymnastics team.

In a victory over Ann Arbor Pioneer last week, the Chiefs set one team and three individual marks.

Laurie Beale, a junior, set another all-around school record with a score of 33.20, breaking teammate Laura Michalik's old mark of 33.15 set in the Pioneer meet.

Beale won all four events Wednesday as Canton drubbed Farmington Harrison, 94.00-75.15.

She captured first in vault (8.2), balance beam (8.45), uneven parallel bars (7.95) and floor exercise (8.6).

"She (Laura) did a really exceptional job," said Canton coach John Cunningham, whose team increased its dual meet mark to 6-2 overall. "It was a nice balanced meet."

Michalik, also a junior, took second place in all-around with a score of 30.65. Her best finish came in vault, where she grabbed second spot (8.15). She gained third in both balance beam (7.45) and uneven bars (7.7).

Linda Beale, a freshman, was third in all-around (30.20).

She was second in both uneven bars (7.75) and floor exercise (7.85).

The Chiefs, who travel to Westland John Glenn tonight, also are beginning to show some depth.

MICHALIK, who took fifth in floor exercise (7.3), was just ahead of freshman teammate Lisa Lovich, who qualified for the upcoming Class A regional with a sixth-place score of 7.2.

Other Canton gymnasts to place included Dana Wasiak, vault, sixth (tie), 6.1, and uneven bars, seventh, 4.35; Kris Kobman, uneven bars, sixth, 4.4, and balance beam, eighth, 6.05; and Amy Albaugh, vault, sixth (tie), 6.1.

"I'm pleased to see all the kids getting near the top six," said Cunningham. "It was a meet with no real pressure or strain."

points on a 15-foot jumper.

NORTHVILLE tried pressuring the Canton backcourt, but Malek and running mate Tommie Harris were up to the task.

A basket by Steve Tuttle, on an impossible angle from the baseline, gave Canton an insurmountable 40-34 advantage with 2:31 remaining.

Northville was then forced to foul.

basketball

Houle and Malek then connected on six straight free throws in the final 1:15 to give Canton the win.

"We've shot free throws the last few games to win for us," said the Canton coach. "We're playing for a co-championship. I just hope somebody beats Northville."

Bell, whose team upped their overall record to 9-6, will travel Tuesday to face Suburban Eight League leader Dearborn.

Michigan Fitness climbed out of the cellar of the Plymouth Recreation Adult Basketball League by winning two games last week.

Puckett Heating let a 12-point advantage slip away as Michigan Fitness made a rousing comeback in the second half.

Fitness then prevailed, 49-46.

Mike Stolkey led the winners with 12, sharing high game honors with Puckett's Rob Willette.

Rob Hollandsworth hit for 12 points as Michigan Fitness defeated Baseline, 63-58. Butch King, the coach, had 14 points for Baseline.

Salem posts 10-3 dual mark

Rock wrestlers pin Bentley

Plymouth Salem's 1980-81 wrestling season couldn't compare to last year's, but the Rocks can still be considered a good team.

Although the Rocks didn't match last season's 13-0 dual-meet mark, coach Ron Krueger's squad ended their regular campaign on a high note Thursday with a 60-6 win over Livonia Bentley.

Salem concluded the year with a 10-3 record — all losses coming at the hands of three of the state's top-ranked teams.

Injuries have beset the Rocks most of the year. Regulars Steve Szilagyi (167 pounds) and Billy Ward (119) did not compete against Bentley. Szilagyi, a senior tri-captain, was out with a bothersome knee. Ward failed to make weight.

As it turned out, their absence had little bearing on the final outcome.

"We haven't put our whole team on the mat and I don't know if we ever will," said Krueger, who led Salem to a fourth-place finish in Class A a year ago. "It used to be 10 guys out, now it's only two."

Bentley coach Bill Riddle, in his third season, is trying to bring the school's program back to respectability.

"We had five kids the first year, 18 last year and 20 now," he said. "Once we get the experience, we'll have some champions. Right now I'm trying to get a junior high program going."

Bentley was also without two of its better wrestlers — 112-pounder Ron Rothley and heavyweight Steve Kempfer.

"Right now we're working for depth," Riddle said. "This is the first time we've even had a junior varsity and varsity team."

KRUEGER'S MATMEN recorded seven pins out of 11 bouts.

Joe Ward, filling in for Szilagyi, had the fastest pin of the night. He took just 43 seconds to down Bentley's Jamie Garrison.

Other Salem wrestlers winning by pins included Dave Lucas (112 pounds), Dave Leist (119), Randy Beaudoin (138), Rob Price (155), Adam Golchuck (185), Scott Wickens (198) and Ward.

Jeff Vojcek, wrestling at 98 pounds, scored an impressive 20-1 decision over John Danielski of Bentley. Rock teammate Bruce Bachman downed Bentley's Al Porter, 7-2, at 145 pounds.

In the 132-pound match, Salem's Rob McDonald beat Bruce Young handily, 10-2.

Bentley's lone winners were Curt Boyea (126) and Bill Novak (105).

"Bill (Riddle) is a nice guy who does a good job with his kids," said Krueger. "He loves the sport and hopefully they'll come. They're more competitive in that have more people on the mat and not as many voids. Their good people were also out."

The only default came at heavyweight as junior Marty Piper of Salem was awarded the decision.

"Bentley will be back soon," predicted Krueger. "I just hope they don't make it to the point like the rivarly we have with them in basketball."

Canton 'spike game' kills Mott

Plymouth Canton downed Waterford Mott for the second straight time, 15-9 and 15-6, in a Western Six League volleyball match held Wednesday.

The Chiefs, now 3-3 in the league and 4-4 overall, had little trouble besting the last-place Corsairs.

In meeting earlier this year, Canton won in three games.

"It was a very different game," said Canton coach Cyndi Burnstein. "Our spikers played well. They depressed and discouraged Mott. When we hit some good, hard spikes — they were through."

Leading the spikers brigade were 5-foot-11 Debbie Dickinson, Mary Reardon and Marianne Pink.

Burnstein praised their play along with 6-0 junior Robyn Hudgins, who alternated with backcourt defensive specialist Renee Edwards.

"Robyn has been helping us out more and more each match," said Burnstein. "The front row is her strong suit. Renee (Edwards) played a very good game.

"She's a good defensive player from the back row."

BURNSTEIN is hoping her team can make a run at the end of the season.

"The league situation is not good for us," she said. "I'm trying to be hopeful. I'm not settled on this team as being mediocre.

"We still have the makings of a good team."

Burnstein is trying to remedy Canton's lack of quickness.

"We're trying to get the girls to play faster," said the Canton coach. "We're doing it in our practice drills."

The Chiefs will meet Northville Monday at home. Canton will then host league leader Livonia Churchill Wednesday.

RU, Eagles head toward hoop battle

Redford Union coach Bill Foley said his basketball team turned in its finest performance of the season Friday in beating Livonia Franklin, 85-62.

"That's the best we looked all year," Foley said. "We fast broke very well. We played very good defense. That was definitely the key and we're not making fouls. We had a good passing game and we out-rebounded them."

Jerry Burk, RU's 6-3 center, scored 27 points, grabbed 18 rebounds and blocked six shots. Rocco Rucinski produced 15 points, Todd Hillis 14 and Mike Lowney 10.

Three Franklin players were in double figures. Mike Williamson scored 20 points, Terry Buchanan 14 and Jeff Wojcik 10.

RU, now with a 7-0 Northwest Suburban League record, travels to Redford Thurston, 6-1, Friday in a battle that will go a long way in deciding the conference championship.

The Panthers nipped Franklin in the JV game, 65-64.

THURSTON — GC EAST

Thurston remained one step behind RU in the conference race by pounding Garden City East, 65-38.

"Our goal was to play 32 minutes of good, hard basketball and get the subs in the beginning of the third quarter," said Gary Fralick, coach of the Eagles. "We accomplished it. The subs played very well."

Picking the best and the worst of 1980's films

Believing that recognition should be more definitive than 10 best or 10 worst of anything, I've listed some specific awards I would like to bestow on movies of this past year.

Most disgusting horror movie: "I Spit on Your Grave," selected for reasons too disgusting to elaborate.

Funniest movie: "Airplane," a nutty spoof with splendid casting; it maintained its goofy vitality from beginning to end.

Technological breakthrough: black and white photography. You think color is something? Wait until you see the most recent discovery — black and white. Catch it in "Raging Bull." "The Elephant Man" or "Stardust Memories." Before you know it they'll make movies without sound.

FLATTEST COMEDIES of the year: all those mate-switching movies that seem to have Shirley MacLaine in them.

Most energetic and successful film debut: Dolly Parton, who did more than manage against tough competition in "Nine to Five."

The Sam Peckinpah "violence is beautiful" award: to Martin Scorsese for the boxing ring bloodletting in "Raging Bull."

Best music: "The Competition." How can you beat a score by Beethoven, Prokofiev, Brahms, Chopin and Liszt?

Unsung heros: Daniel Pollock, Eduardo Delgado, Ralph Grierson, Lincoln Mayorga and Chester Swiatowski — the pianists who made Richard Dreyfuss, Amy Irving and the other finalists in "The Competition" sound great.

Best animal actor: Clyde, the orangutan, in "Any Which Way You Can." Watch out when he learns to sing and dance.

Most misleading title: "The Great Santini," an exceptionally good film about family relationships with a title that made everyone think it was about a circus act.

BEST YOUNG ACTOR: a draw between Timothy Hutton, who played the tormented son in "Ordinary People," and Michael O'Keefe, who played the angry son in "The Great Santini."

Most disappointing film: "Popeye," for neutering the hero and overworking the social situation in order to make "a statement."

Most frustrating title: "The Big Red One." You have to see the movie to figure out which words get the accent and what the title means, then you have to ask yourself if it was worth it.

Best Taste: "The Stunt Man," for location shooting at Hotel del Coronado in San Diego.

Most damaging to a profession: "The Awakening." Lops 30 points off the IQ of every archaeologist.

Most confusing title: "Gates of Heaven," the documentary about pet cemeteries, which is not to be confused with "Heaven's Gate," "Days of Heaven," or for that matter, "Gate of Hell."

TURNABOUT AWARD: to Tommy Lee Jones, who was such a dolt in "The Betsy" and so surprisingly good as Sissy Spacek's (Loretta Lynn's) husband in "Coal Miner's Daughter."

Once is enough: to any movie with a "2," "II" or "Two" in the title.

Most successful film debut was made by Dolly Parton as executive secretary to lecherous Dabney Coleman in "Nine to Five."

what's at the movies

ALTERED STATES (R). Ken Russell sci-fi film about a man's exploration of altered states of consciousness. From novel by Paddy Chayefsky.

ANY WHICH WAY YOU CAN (PG). Clint Eastwood, Clyde (the orangutan) and team of "Every Which Way But Loose," united for more comic mayhem.

THE ELEPHANT MAN (PG). Largely true story of grossly deformed man rescued from sordid life by compassionate doctor. Fine acting by John Hurt, Anthony Hopkins and John Gielgud balances out directorial shortcomings.

FORT APACHE, THE BRONX (R). Paul Newman and Edward Asner in powerful drama about embattled police precinct in New York's violent and devastated South Bronx.

THE INCREDIBLE SHRINKING WOMAN (PG). Lily Tomlin is happy suburban housewife who faces big problems when she finds she is growing smaller every day.

THE JAZZ SINGER (PG). Ridiculous remake magnifies all the faults of the first talking motion picture made in 1927. The story doesn't get any better. The songs get worse.

KAGEMUSHA (The Shadow Warrior) (PG). Director Akira Kurosawa's spectacular epic of the struggle for power among rival clans in 16th century Japan told through the story of a thief who takes the places of a dying warlord he resembles.

THE MIRROR CRACK'D (PG). Aged but glamorous stars populate film based on Agatha Christie novel with spinster sleuth, Miss Jane Marple.

NINE TO FIVE (PG). Comedy with Jane Fonda, Lily Tomlin and Dolly Parton as three secretaries who scheme to get rid of their boss.

ORDINARY PEOPLE (R). Robert Redford's directorial debut is a smash in this extraordinarily well-acted, moving film about a "perfect" family trying to cope with a son's mental illness.

POPEYE (PG). It will take more than spinach to save this "Popeye" from defeat brought on by slack direction, a highly forgettable musical score and a generally mean conception of characters and situation.

Class teaches Piano Readiness to kindergarteners

A nine-week Piano Readiness class for kindergarten children will be offered beginning Thursday at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

It also serves as preparation for future music study, either with piano or another instrument. No instrument or outside practice is required.

Classes will meet from 1-2 p.m. in Room 301 of the Forum Building. A second section will be offered beginning April 16. The course fee is $55

Area music teachers are being invited to audit the course to receive instruction for teaching music to this age group.

SPEEDWAGON DOES IT AGAIN.

To a generation raised on rock, the spirit of stereo is a band called REO Speedwagon. After a decade on the road, on the radio, on TV and on the turntable, after the years of platinum and gold, this classic band has busted out with its biggest hit ever. It should come as no surprise. Hi Infidelity is in the great tradition of REO Speedwagon. A well-earned name in the best game there is.
