Board designates land as future park site

By DARLENE STINSON

A 45-acre parcel behind Township Hall has been designated as Canton's third community park.

The designation, authorized by the Canton Board last week, will make the township-owned site eligible for federal development funds, according to grant coordinator Terry Carroll.

In March, Carroll will submit a grant application to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) in hopes of snaring matching monies from the federal Land and Water Conservation Fund.

Recreation superintendent Mike Gouin has proposed the development of lighted softball fields, soccer fields and tennis courts on the site.

THE PARCEL is the third site considered by township officials during the last month for purchase or development with federal matching funds.

Last fall, the DNR tentatively committed up to $75,000 in matching federal funds for the purchase of a 40-acre site in rural northwest Canton which would have been used as a winter recreation area.

The Township Board rejected that commitment in January after residents of the area vehemently protested.

Carroll had hoped to transfer the DNR's commitment to a 15-acre site behind Township Hall properties. When that site was deemed ineligible because of its ownership by the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, the Township Board relinquished its hold on this year's grant. The recreational advisory committee (RAC) was asked to select alternative sites for possible acquisition.

Instead, the RAC pegged a higher priority on the development of existing township-owned land and suggested the 45-acre parcel behind Township Hall for the grant application.

The decision was based on the shortage of sites for organized team sports, Gouin explained.

"There's a tremendous number of people who haven't been able to participate in soccer, baseball and softball, because we don't have fields available. When you purchase land, it often takes five to six years more to develop it," he said.

In the past, township officials have placed a greater emphasis on the purchase of park land. That view was triggered by Canton's housing-start boom and the rapid disappearance of available land.

"But development pressures have slowed down. We can feel a little more comfortable that land will be there tomorrow," said Gouin.

"You can't just look to the future when Canton already is far behind in providing recreational services."

ALTHOUGH THE DNR looks most favorably on grant applications for the acquisition of land, Carroll believes Canton's development proposal will stand a fair chance of approval.

"The competition, no doubt, will be stronger for development applications. However, we're a community of approximately 50,000 people and we have limited recreational facilities," Carroll said.

Officers arrest escaped suspect

By ARLENE FUNKE

A Canton man was back in custody last week after leading police officers to a pile of stolen property on Feb. 2 and then slipping away.

Leland Grayson, 18, of Canterbury Circle in Canton, was expected to be taken to Wayne County Jail today. He was arrested Wednesday outside a house on Ford Road near Beck, and is implicated in several Canton break-ins.

Also arrested at that location was Vincent McClure, 19, of St. Marys in Detroit.

"Officer Fred Pytell was driving along Ford Road and heard an alarm (from a house) near Beck," said Lt. Larry Stewart.

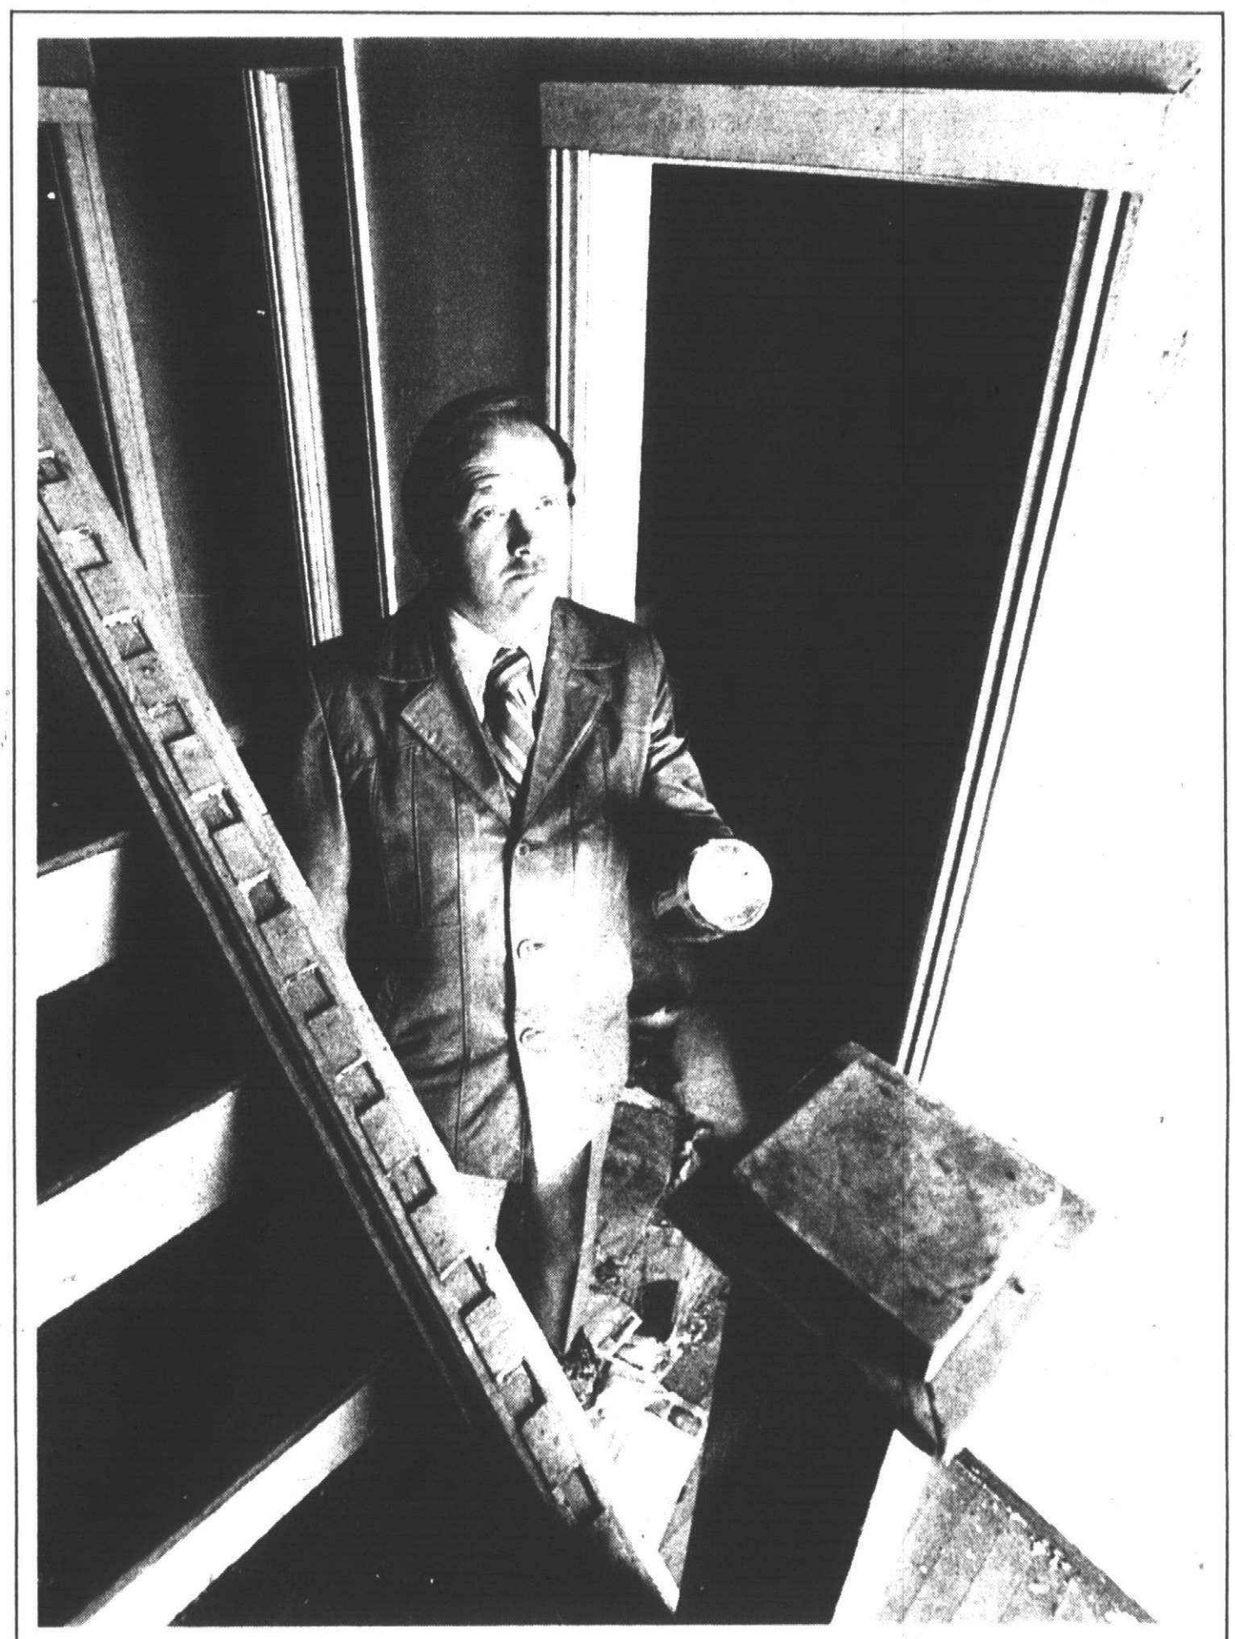

"They (Grayson and McClure) ran away, and got a couple hundred feet" before being arrested, said Stewart.

Both Grayson and McClure face preliminary examinations in 35th District Court on Feb. 23.

They stood mute at their arraignments Thursday in the outcounty branch of the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office. Pleas of innocent were entered in their behalf.

Grayson was charged with two counts of breaking and entering and one count of escaping police custody. McClure faces one count of breaking and entering.

— Checkup routine

This may look like a scene from a horror film. But to Fred Baker, inspecting old abandoned houses is only part of his job as a Canton Township ordinance officer. The work sparks both anger and thanks from residents. For the story and more pictures, turn to Page 3A. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Schools, Canton will share cost of safety signal

A long fight for traffic signals near Eriksson Elementary School appears almost over.

School and township officials have agreed for months that safety devices are needed near the school on Haggerty between Ford and Cherry Hill.

But the refusal of the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) to finance the $5,000 cost has held up installation of the school warning signs.

Last Wednesday night, however, the Canton Township board swallowed its concerns about setting a bad precedent by financing items under the road commission's jurisdiction.

Board members voted to pay half the $5,000 cost — provided the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools would pay the rest.

"We accept," said Ray Hoedel, the school's assistant superintendent for business, after learning of Canton's offer. "That's good news."

Hoedel said an administrative recommendation to purchase the warning signs with school district money will go before the safety committee Thursday night. Under the recommendation, the schools will seek reimbursement for half the cost from Canton Township.

Hoedel said WCRC workers will install the warning signs — hopefully, in about 30 days. The signs will flash immediately before and after school to warn Haggerty motorists of the school-crossing area.

At the current time, school crossing guards must stop Haggerty traffic with only portable stop signs.

Parents of Eriksson children and principal William Lutz have lobbied for safety improvements near the school for months.

Last Wednesday night, Marilyn Rickard appeared before the Canton Township Board to plea for action. She is a member of the schools' safety committee and the mother of two Eriksson students.

"We can make this a bureaucratic process and say we won't set precedent," said Mrs. Rickard. "I understand that. But I don't want to see someone get killed before we get a flashing light."

Fears of setting a bad precedent permeated the board's discussion of the issue.

"I don't like the road commission attitude," said Trustee Stephen Larson. "But the thing that scares me is the thought of facing a parent whose child has been killed."

Kirchgatter gets planner board seat

A former member of the Canton Planning Commission has won another appointment to the seven-person body.

Richard Kirchgatter, a planning commissioner from 1976-78, will replace Frank McMurray, whose term expired on Dec. 31. He was nominated by Supervisor James Poole and approved for the post by a 6-1 vote of the Township Board last week.

Trustee Carol Bodenmiller, the lone dissenter in the vote, objected to the manner in which Kirchgatter's nomination was submitted. Although Poole received several applications for the job, he submitted only Kirchgatter's resume to the Township Board.

Mrs. Bodenmiller maintains that other resumes should have been submitted to the board "as a courtesy."

"I asked for the resumes," said Poole. "That doesn't mean they have to be public information."

Kirchgatter's term on the planning commission will expire on Dec. 31, 1984. The commission submits recom-

Kids drill Dallas Cowboy QB

By TERI BANAS

When TAG kids meet with a visiting professional football player, they make a reporter's job easy . . .

. . . just sit back, take notes, and let the kids ask all the questions.

That's just about what happened when Dallas Cowboy Gary Hogeboom met nine students of the district's Talented and Gifted program (TAG) in their gym at Isbister Elementary recently.

The students, third-, fourth- and fifth-graders, wanted to know it all. What are his career goals? Has he ever been injured? How does this back-up quarterback feel about sitting the bench? And how does he feel about his coach, Tom Landry?

But first, how did this 22-year-old ballplayer on "America's Favorite Team" find his way to the Plymouth-Canton School District during the off-season.

Hogeboom was actually in town for a wedding — his own. He married former Central Michigan University sweetheart Christie Summerville, a teacher and Plymouth resident.

Cheryl Johnson, in charge of the district's TAG program, decided to take a shot and call Hogeboom about stopping in for a short visit. Her family is acquainted to the Hogeboom family of Grand Rapids and working on that contact she was successful in persuading Hogeboom to drop by the school.

BESIDES, said Ms. Summerville, "Gary likes to do things like this. He's good with kids."

So, Hogeboom became the center of attention, fielding rapid-fire questions from some small but knowledgable sports fans.

Teacher Glenn Breuhan said these nine boys were selected to meet with Hogeboom because of a special assignment on sports that they're working on.

Based on the types of questions asked, it was apparent they had done their homework. In fact, each boy had a list of previously prepared questions.

Take this one, for example.

"Gary, I read in a book that uniforms cost about $2,000. Is that right? "

"Well, shoes cost about $980 and pants cost about $100. So, I guess the average is between $700-$800, though it could be higher."

Some of the more popular questions focused on injuries.

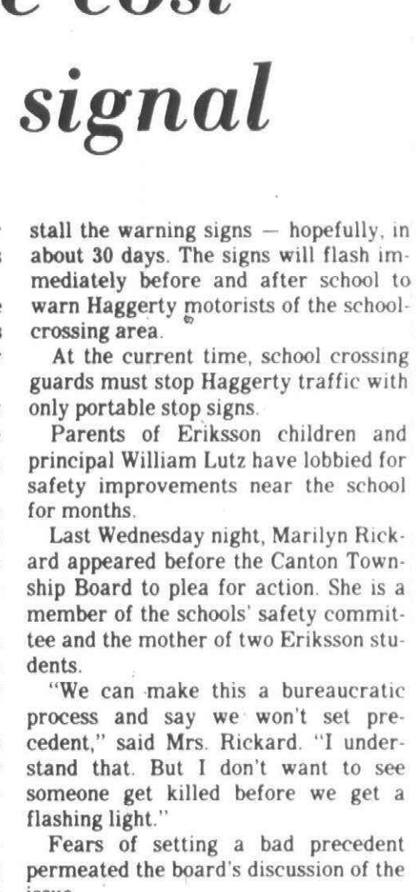

"If you don't get seriously hurt, do you think you'll be an average quarterback when you grow up?" asked one boy.

Hogeboom admitted to breaking a finger during his college career, but later said "the best way to get injured is to worry about it."

MOST WANTED to know who his favorite professional teams and players were, asking also what he thought of particular matches.

Hogeboom gave a safe reply.

Township slates meeting on court

The Canton Township Board of Trustees will meet in a special session Tuesday to discuss a unified courthouse for the 35th District and police department matters.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in Township Hall at Canton Center and Proctor.

The first item on the agenda is discussion of the unified courthouse with 35th District Judge James Garber.

Last year, the former Township Board refused to join a venture with four other communities in the 35th District to build a regional courthouse. The courthouse is now under construction in the city of Plymouth.

The regional courthouse was proposed to cut the district's costs and consolidate several municipal courtrooms under one roof. Canton's courtroom currently is located in the basement of Township Hall.

In refusing to join the regional courthouse project, the former Township Board maintained that the court's proposed location in Plymouth would increase travel time for Canton police officers, who must appear in court.

Members of the new Township Board now appear willing to reconsider that decision.

"I would go with the consolidation," said one member of the board — Clerk John Flodin. "I think it's in our best interests economically."

Other items on Tuesday's agenda include the purchase of a computer for the police department and the hiring of cadets.

Champion of elderly dies

Funeral services for a woman who "gave hours and hours of time" to helping senior citizens were held Feb. 12 at St. Theodore Catholic Church in Westland.

Irene Murphy, 67, of Canton, died Feb. 8 in Sinai Hospital, Detroit, of cardio-pulmonary arrest.

She had been a program director for Canton's senior citizen activities, said Dolores Edwards, head of the program.

Mrs. Murphy also had been honored as Michigan Senior Citizen of the Year in 1978, added Mrs. Edwards. The award was given through the auspices of the state Office on Services to Aging.

"SHE GAVE hours and hours of time," added Mrs. Edwards. "She always had a pleasant disposition and something nice to say to everyone. And that smile!

"She and husband Tim used to take seniors to the doctor and shopping," continued Mrs. Edwards.

Mrs. Murphy, who lived in the Royal Holiday mobile home park, helped many of her neighbors fill out state property tax rebate forms, according to Mrs. Edwards.

And she also wrote a regular column in "Conquest," a newspaper aimed at senior citizens and handicapped persons.

The column, called "Through My Bifocals," was about persons who overcame adversity or gave special service, said Mrs. Edwards.

Mrs. Murphy is survived by her husband, Timothy; children, Carl Mitchell and Dorothy Laatz; brother, Donald Lake; and sisters, Mabel Waller and Callie Richardson.

Anger, praise greet officers on rounds

By ARLENE FUNKE

Lloyd Young, the "hero," has just put pressure on a landlord to fix a faulty furnace and broken toilet in a rental unit on Haggerty Road.

"I know he wouldn't have fixed it if you hadn't called," said the grateful woman who lives there with her husband and three small children.

Lloyd Young, the "bum," dodges cans and pieces of wood as he explains to an angry, middle-aged woman that her rundown Canton house is an unsafe dwelling.

Good-guy Fred Baker takes a box of canned goods to a frail, elderly diabetic woman living alone in a Canton apartment complex.

Bad-guy Baker has the task of notifying business persons when they're violating an unpopular sign ordinance.

Young and Baker, both Garden City residents, are employed as Canton Township ordinance officers. As such, they are a combination of quasi-policemen, building inspectors, ticket-writers and public relations persons.

THE ORDINANCE officers enforce more than 100 Township ordinances, housing code and zoning regulations and certain state laws. They do a lot of legwork for the police and building departments.

They also walk a thin line between praise and abuse. Over the last couple of years, both Young and Baker have found their car tires flattened.

Baker has been attacked by knife- and monkey wrench-wielding assailants who became angry when the officers issued tickets or arrived on the scene with a search warrant.

Bruce Phillips, director of the ordinance department, frequently is criticized by audiences and officials at meetings of the Township Board. One unsuccessful candidate for a trustee's position allegedly threatened to "smash Phillips' face" over a sign ordinance dispute.

Bruce Phillips is director of Canton's three-person ordinance department.

"A LOT OF people think we're harassing them," said Young, 28. "We're just trying to maintain the property values."

"People that scream or yell are a small percentage," added Phillips, 32. "Unfortunately, we have political involvement."

Canton's ordinance department has been in operation for a little more than two years. Records show there have been about 3,300 cases investigated during that time. Most are blight problems such as junk cars and appliances, litter and trash, etc.

A few of the more dramatic cases have included helping persons living in homes without running water, heat, etc., as well as the following:

- Going to court to try to force a slaughterhouse to stop dumping carcasses of cows outdoors.
- Catching men illegally cutting down more than 200 full-grown trees.
- Citing a family which had been living in a tent following a fire in their house.

"They couldn't live like that," explained Phillips. "They had children. I got a lot of bad press on that one."

Police Lt. Larry Stewart said the ordinance officers are especially helpful in bringing illegal incidents to the attention of the police department.

"If it wasn't for that department, everything they do would be our responsibility," said Stewart. "There are a lot of things we just don't have time for."

Phillips says each officer has about 300 cases, both new and old. There's now a delay of about a month for routine complaints.

The officers observe some of the violations as they make rounds throughout the township. Others are reported by residents or neighbors.

ALL THREE of the men have received police and ordinance training. Still, they don't have the power to make arrests, and they don't wear uniforms.

They prepare search warrants, but the document must be served by a police officer. The officers previously carried handguns, but the Township Board last November voted to take away their authority to carry weapons.

All three believe their job would be easier if they were permitted to carry a gun.

"We're half police and half not," said Baker, 36. "A lot of times we run across things we didn't know about until we get into the situation."

"This is my personal opinion," continued Baker. "If we were in uniform, our job would be easier."

But Phillips disagrees.

"It (uniforms) has been discussed," said Phillips. "The board feels it may hinder community service."

Young and Baker both worked previously in Garden City. Young was an ordinance officer there for 4½ years, also providing police backup when necessary.

Baker was a police reserve officer in Garden City and a park ranger at Stony Creek Metropark.

Phillips, who has a bachelor's degree in fine arts, was a reserve police officer in Canton and has been involved in ordinance work since 1974.

"I find that my degree helps," Phillips said. "I can read site plans and blueprints. Were concerned about aesthetics."

All the ordinance officers are graduates of a 12-week police training course given by the Wayne County Sheriff's department. In addition they often attend seminars and workshops.

ISSUING A violation is the last resort," said Baker. "Our purpose is to get the situation corrected."

Usually violators are given a warning and told to come into compliance within a time period ranging from days to weeks.

Later, if the situation hasn'been resolved, a ticket will be issued.

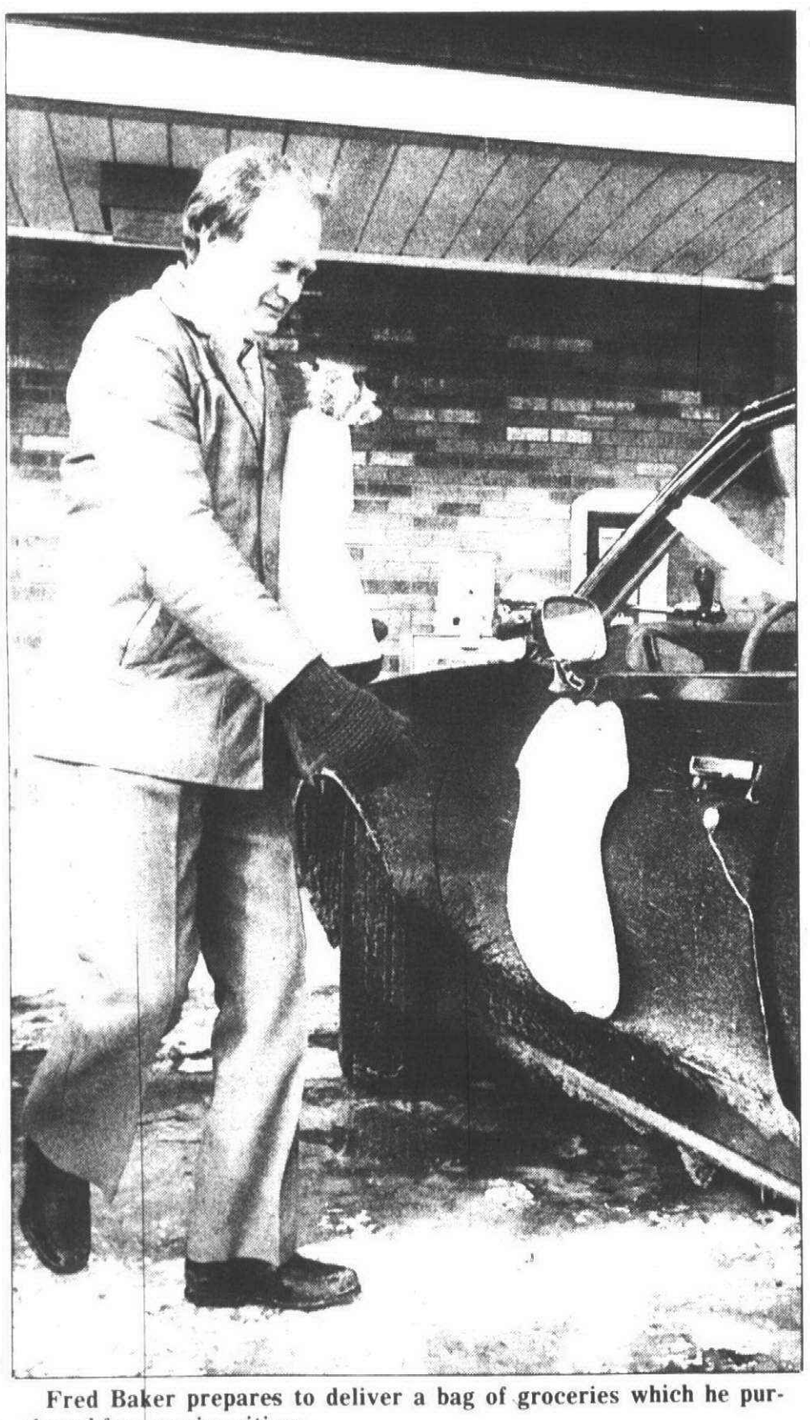

Baker finds great satisfaction in distributing food boxes. Young enjoys helping people who are afraid to make landlord complaints.

"People are so glad to get into housing that they are afraid to complain," said Young.

"I love fighting for the underdog," he added. "They just don't know where to turn."

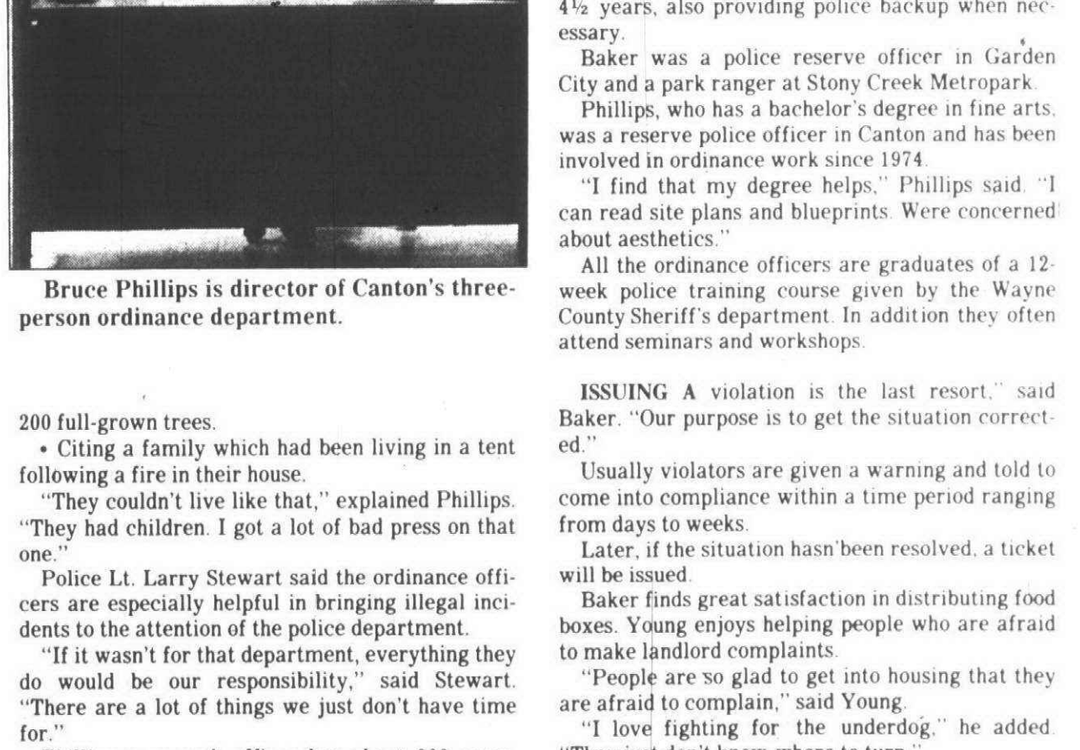

As for the verbal abuse, they must take it.

"I try not to dwell on that," says Young.

Fred Baker prepares to deliver a bag of groceries which he purchased for a senior citizen.

Checking access points to abandoned buildings is one of Fred Baker's duties.

Lloyd Young, a member of the ordinance department, checks an industrial area for a possible violation of the blight ordinance.

Colleges must help area recovery

A closer working relationship between town and gown is needed to help Michigan's economy recover in the 1980s.

A call for university research teams to join hands with industrial engineers was issued recently by Dr. Harold T. Shapiro, president of the University of Michigan.

Shapiro met with business, industrial, community and governmental leaders from Canton, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Livonia, Northville and Northville Township at the Hillside Inn in Plymouth Township.

The new U-M president was recently appointed by Gov. Milliken to a commission charged with bringing high technology industry to the state.

The message Shapiro brought to the Hillside was very similar to a call made by U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, for business and community leaders to join in a team approach to search for solutions to the region's economic problems.

Shapiro, 45, is a professor of economics who had served as vice-president for academic affairs before being elevated to the presidency of U-M in 1980 to replace Dr. Robben Fleming.

THE PROBLEMS now facing southeastern Michigan, Shapiro said, is related to much broader shifts in the world economy.

"In the '80s there will be a growing interdependence of world economies, and centers of production will be distributed throughout the world which will be very disruptive to former monopoly centers such as our region," said Shapiro, whose academic expertise in economic forecasting has been sought and valued by U.S. Presidents of both parties.

"The disruption which has come to southeastern Michigan must result in diversification, but there are also other possible solutions.

"In search of remedies we should be aware that our problems in the '80s will be the same as in the recent past. What is happening is that the U.S. is re-positioning itself in the world economy and that will require our best minds working together to find new solutions."

Shapiro said that as a research institution supported with public funds, U-M should assist in meeting the state's technological problems of the future.

"A research university, in my opinion, is an essential ingredient for Michigan to develop into a high technology economy. It certainly is not the only ingredient, but is an essential one."

The role of the university, he said, is to link up its best research persons with industrial leaders in the area. While the university can offer its resources to industry, he added, the private sector also has technological resources which could be shared with research teams for the advantage of the region at-large.

"High technology won't solve the unemployment problem we have today, but it is an important element in economic recovery."

Promising fields which Shapiro mentioned were micro-electronics and robotics (the use of mechanical robots in industry).

STRESSING THAT diversification is not the only solution for southeastern Michigan, Shapiro said the region should take the high technology now being developed for the production of automobiles and apply it to other industries in the area.

Michigan cannot abandon the auto industry, Shapiro stressed, because the technology now being developed in the auto field may be an important part of the region's salvation economically.

"The university is not looking for a quick fix but is asking for the chance to participate in an effort which will last the entire decade to offer what we can to help meet the state's needs."

Shapiro stressed that some types of technological research cannot be handled by universities and must be done by the engineering staffs of industrial corporations.

"Not all research can be done on campus. But we do have an international network of academic scholars engaged in research who share with each other, and this international connection can help us all."

SHAPIRO EARNED his undergraduate degree in 1956 from McGill University, Montreal, and earned an M.A. and Ph.D. in economics from Princeton University in 1964. His fields of study are econometrics, mathematical economics, money and banking.

He first joined U-M in 1964 as an assistant professor of economics, became a full professor in 1970, chaired the economics department from 1974-77, and was named vice-president for academic affairs in 1977. That same year he was named vice-chairman of the executive board of University of Michigan Hospital.

In the 1960s Shapiro served as a research advisor for the Bank of Canada, a forecasting consultant to the U.S. Treasury, and a research consultant for the Economic Council of Canada.

Township designates land as park location

Griffin Park near Canton Center and Cherry Hill currently offers the only facilities in the township for organized team sports. Flodin Park on Saltz west of Lilley is Canton's only other park. But authorized development at the current time includes only grading and seeding of Flodin Park's front portion.

Gouin maintains that the township-owned parcel behind the Canton administration building would be an ideal location for a park.

The land is located at the geographic center of the township. No residential developments are located nearby. Gouin said the absence of housing near the park site would allow lighting of ball diamonds late at night. Vacant lands are located near the park site to accomodate eventual expansion.

The parcel is part of the 69-acre site of the Canton administration building. Planner Jim Kosteva said development of the rear 45 acres as a park would not interfere with eventual plans of the township for other government buildings, such as police station or post office, on the site.

To meet federal eligibility grants for recreational development grants, a site must be owned by a municipality. Gouin said the township has made all payments for the site behind Township Hall.

Gouin expects to submit cost estimates for the park's development to the Township Board by the end of this month. He guessed that development will cost about $200,000 to $250,000.

If Canton's grant application is approved, the township would be obligated to pay half the development costs.

Trustee Loren Bennett has cautioned the board that uses at the proposed park should be compatible with the agricultural use of surrounding lands.

Trustee Loren Bennet cautioned the board that uses at the proposed park should be compatible with the agricultural use of surrounding lands.

"We have to take into consideration somne kind of buffering, so crops aren't destroyed," he said.

Kids punt questions to Dallas quarterback

The Cowboys, he said, were his favorite team.

Agreeing with some of the youths, he said the last Superbowl was "boring to watch," and yes, he had hoped that the Detroit Lions hadn't fizzled out after a good start to the season.

About Hogeboom, the player, he hold the audience he plans to compete for at least eight more years, after which time he'll probably go into business for himself. With a license to practice real estate in Michigan, he hopes to soon secure one in Texas, as well.

The Central Michigan University graduate also talked about the role of a back-up quarterback, waiting on the sidelines for a chance to play.

"Hopefully, it won't be too much longer. Coach Landry likes to give his quarterbacks a lot of practice before going into a game. Hopefully, I'll get some playing time next season.

"Sitting on the bench is not fun, but you can't expect to play right when you get into the league."

And when asked "Is Coach Landry a nice guy when you lose," he responded:

"He's not a screamer. When it comes to halftime, he gets in and explains what we did wrong. He doesn't get too close with players, but everyone has a lot of respect for him."

AND THEN there was the obligatory question from teacher Breuhan.

"Do you think you could talk to the boys about how important exercise is for them?"

"When I was your age I was small and really skinny," Hogeboom said. "But now's not the time to lift weights. You should exercise and eat well."

Even assistant principal Dale Andrew managed to slide in a question.

"All I want to know is, where's the chearleaders?" -3?-okmb

Cops arrest escaped suspect in B&E cases

Bond was set at $30,000 cash for Grayson, who then was turned over to police in Inkster, where he faces charges of receiving and concealing stolen goods.

McClure was taken to the Wayne County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

CANTON POLICE had been looking for Grayson since Feb. 2 when he escaped custody after leading police to a cache of stolen goods in Wayne.

Office John MacDiarmid said Grayson — who had been arrested earlier in Inkster — had offered to take police to a Wayne townhouse. There, Grayson escaped through a second-story window and ran away, said MacDiarmid.

FREE CONTOUR ANALYSIS EXAMINATION FOR VICTIMS OF CHRONIC OR ACUTE PAIN

A free Contour Analysis examination is being offered for people with acute or chronic pain by the chiropractic office listed below. People who suffer with backache, bursitis, arthritis, neuralgia, nerve pain, neck pain, muscle pain, bone pain, etc...are invited to receive this free examination.

Contour Analysis enables taking a three-dimensional picture (called Moire photography) of the topography of the surface of the spine to detect spinal stress deviations. This analysis will be correlated with leg deficiency, patient symptomatology, and levels of spinal tenderness. An analysis of this type can reveal such things as normal and abnormal stress patterns, spinal curvature, muscle spasms, muscle imbalance, spinal distortion, and scoliosis. This analysis, including consultation with the doctor is being offered to the public at no charge for the next 30 days. Anyone wishing to receive this free examination may telephone for information or an appointment.

Dear Dr. Forrest:
I just had a silver filling put in a tooth. I never had any pain before my dentist filled it, but now whenever I chew on that side, or drink anything hot or cold, it is very sensitive. Do you think there's something wrong?
Fulla Silver

Dear Ms. Silver:
Often times when amalgam (silver) fillings are very large or deep (close to the nerve), they may be sensitive for a short time after the filling has been done.
Your symptoms also indicate that the filling may be a little high. This means you are touching this tooth before any of your other teeth. Your dentist can adjust the bite in just a few minutes at the office by having you bite on a piece of articulating paper which indicates where on the tooth's surface you are hitting prematurely.
Sincerely,

"BUT MY BACK DOESN'T HURT!"

People often give this excuse when it is suggested that they seek a Chiropractor for their health care needs.

Many times people try Chiropractic after they have tried everything else. They have looked and wished for the "Miracle Cure," trying everything under the sun, and they are still bothered by the nagging problem. The solution can be found right in your own body.

Your Doctor of Chiropractic deals with the fundamental laws of nature that are within each one of us. First he finds the CAUSE of your problems and then with profound knowledge and skill, very gently adjusts your spine to relieve nerve pressure and allow normal nerve energy to flow. With normal nerve energy flowing as it should, your body will naturally return to normal health.

If Chiropractic is new to you, don't expect miracles overnight. It took time for your problem to become a noticeable one, and it will take your Chiropractor some time to correct the cause of your problem.

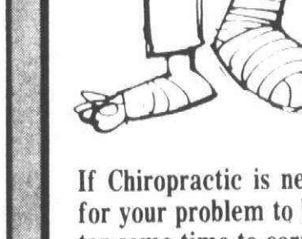

Right now is the time to get yourself back to what you should be, healthy, naturally, and that means Chiropractic care.

Your Health is as Simple as ABC.

Most insurance plans cover Chiropractic services including Blue Shield, Auto insurance, Workmen's Compensation, Medicare, Medicaid, Aetna, Metropolitan and Teamsters Insurance.

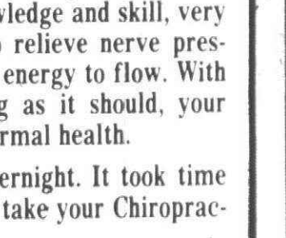

No coupon necessary! The following initial services offered at no charge: consultation, range of motion studies, chiropractic leg checks, instrumentation, spinal analysis.

Views on Dental Health

By Philip Meizels, D.D.S.

FETUS FACTS

If you are a typical mother, don't ask where you went wrong if your infant is a thumbsucker. You are completely innocent. Thumbsuckers are born, not made. Medical pictures of the fetus show that many babies are already well into the habit of thumbsucking by the seventh month in the uterus. In fact, all kinds of preparations are going on before birth to get baby's mouth ready for its complex tasks.

Did you know that teeth are already beginning to form in the growing fetus just three months after conception? Indeed, some parts of the 20 primary teeth, (also called baby teeth) can be recognized at this early stage. Even tiny pieces of the first permanent molars are growing. The rest of the permanent teeth wait until right after birth to start forming inside the gums.

Sometimes, shortly after birth, parents or physicians may notice little white spots on the upper palate (roof of the mouth). These are little keratinized structures (keratine is a tough, fibrous protein found in nails, hair and teeth). They are not significant and normally will disappear in 10 to 14 days.

Middle-aged skier builds courage to hit slopes

Sherry Kahan

About three years ago I drove my sons and their friends for a evening of skiing at Alpine Valley.

It was a birthday outing. I considered donning the skis myself, but the hills were crowded with school kids who had been bused in. Anyway, I wasn't sure I could control my skis, especially in the moon boots skiers now wear. Back in ancient times we had small boots with heels that could be raised off the ski. And, incidentally, we found no problem in using the same boots, skis and outfit for both down hill and cross country skiing.

Also, I hadn't forgotten my last ski outing in New Hampshire at 20 when I took a submarine fall and broke a ski. I use the term submarine because I swear I slid many yards under the snow, emerging puffing and blowing.

After that, I moved to urban centers, had kids and gave up the sport.

So at Alpine Valley, 35 years later, I decided to read while I waited. But the light was bad, and there were no cozy nooks for talking with other spaced-out parents about how boring it was to wait for kids.

BUT THEN I began to hear public address announcements like: "Will all students from Maud T. Coldbody High School please meet at their bus," and I noticed the slopes were less crowded. It was time for an act of courage.

I fumbled along the unfamiliar path of renting ski gear, then worked myself in an overheated frenzy of frustration trying to fasten boot to ski. But when I finished, the night was mine.

Awkward, tentative turns on the novice slope became more daring sweeps right and left. I didn't run flat out because I had heard that once you fall, it is difficult with these new boots to get up.

Anyway, after sharpening earlier skills I was one exhilerated kid. I returned my skis and went to find my group. Going into the lodge I walked tall. Was it imagination, or was that the dramatic music from "Lawrence of Arabia" coming through the public address system? Maybe it was the trumpet flourishes to greet a king and queen in Handel's "Water Music?"

With pity I surveyed those poor wretches with their glazed eyes waiting for their kids. My tow badge was shining like a medal on my ski jacket as I stepped around them and made my way to the car.

LAST WEEK it was Alpine Valley revisited. With two friends of roughly similar vintage, I headed for what is called the bunny or novice hill. We practiced our turns and tuned up our psyches for the next step. We decided to take on bigger stuff. No more bunny hills for us. We decided to head for Hare Country and the Rabbit Run.

Up I went on a chair lift, a new experience to someone used to '30s and '40s sking when rope tows were just coming in. We usually climbed up doing a herringbone. All the way up we congratulated ourselves on our consummate skill and bravery.

It was great, not too crowded but really neat. My only falls came when I feared a collision, and even those taught me it was, indeed, possible to get up.

Afterwards we toasted ourselves and giggled a little in the lodge. Of course, I am never one to brag, but I plan to wear my tow badge until spring.

President should direct ire at junk mail business

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

Now that the national government is embarked on a campaign to fight inflation by reducing government spending, even to the pint of eliminating some programs and limiting the activities of others, it might be well to take a good look at the country's mail boxes.

In his drive to "turn the country around," President Reagan has hinted it may be necessary to eliminate Saturday delivery of mail. He pointed out that this move would save millions of dollars.

Maybe so. But a greater savings would be possible if he declared war on "junk" mail. It has reached heights heretore unkown in the remotest areas.

Scarcely a day goes by that The Stroller's mail box at home isn't loaded with all kinds of literature (if you can call it that) that is either telling the wisdom of buying all leather shoes at the most ridiculous prices in today's market or flyers from Realtors telling of their success in selling homes and asking if your home can be listed.

These parcels find their way in to the garbage can as soon as The Stroller can walk from the mail box. It has gotten to the the point where he no longer looks at these bits of mail, let alone read them.

EACH TIME he goes to the mail box and sees it loaded he becomes aggravated.

Just think of the money that is being wasted on such things, he mutters and wonders how long it will continue if the government really is going to wage a real war on waste.

Another item that irks The Stroller is constant requests for donations "worthy" causes. There was a time when these pleadings were heeded.

In the not too long ago we were accustomed to getting a plea for the purchase of Christmas seals, Easter seals, Father Flanagan's Boys Town, the Salvation Army and The March of Dimes. That list has now grown to surprising proportions and, of late, the pleas are met with anything but sympathy or a financial response.

Just the other day The Stroller received six requests in one mail, and thus far this year the list has gone well above 20 - some of which he never heard of before.

Much of this mail can be traced to the permission given to the Secretary of State to sell mailing lists that once were considered almost sacred. But no more.

Now, along with the pleas come all sorts of stamps, return address stickers, midget calendars, post cards and special cards for the holidays. They are accompanied by a note that one does not have to purchase the cards, but a donation would be appreciated.

The highlight of The Stroller's aggravation came during the Christmas holidays when he found a plea from the Easter Seal group. To him it was galling that a group would make an attempt to cut in on the Christmas holidays.

Another came from an association which said that no financial return had been received for the cards sent to him and asked for a payment by return mail. Imgaine that.

Well, The Stroller has started his own war on this waste of manhours and materials. From now he is limiting his responses to those groups that furnish financial statements at the close of the year.

He'll keep the Red Cross, the Slvation Army, and the Old Newsboys Goodfellow and the beautiful cards from the national wild life society.

Other than that, no. And if the government would ban "junk," mail there would be no need to consider reducing mail deliveries.

In the shadow on Brotherhood

Birds of a feather are resting together

Craig Piechura

Last November I eulogized my parakeet Buddy after he died a violent death at the hands, or claws, of my wife's Abysinnian cat, Scooter. The column told how we came home one day only to discover feathers, a tiny talon and a well-fed feline in our living room.

Public reaction to that column made me consider taking future pieces I write to a notary public to be sworn, stamped and notarized as bona fide fact.

More than a few persons figured I made the grisly story up. Just as they thought I was using an expired poetic license when I told readers earlier the same cat was poisoned after eating the gladioli off our floral wedding centerpiece.

Do people think I invent such scenarios to titillate the public? Must I bring in Polaroid photos of the carnage as proof positive?

At least Mrs. William T. Griffith of Redford Township believes me. She was so touched by the bird obit she took time out to send me a six-page hand-written letter of condolence after reading about the loss of my Buddy.

But even Mrs. Griffith had a nagging doubt about my journalistic integrity. She added this postscript as an afterthought at the end of her letter: "I hope you just didn't think that story up because we felt real grief for you."

MRS. WILLIAM T. Griffith of Redford Township, I assure you I was not lying, or even exaggerating a little bit, about my bird's untimely death by ingestion. In fact, there's more to tell.

After the column ran my brother-in-law thought it'd be clever to give the cat a toy bird to bat around. The cat showed his appreciation by immediately ripping the stuffing out of the toy. He carried the toy remains around in his mouth, creeped into the bedroom and dropped it on the pillow next to my head where I lay sleeping.

Awakening from my slumber to observe a blurry bird-like visage an inch from my eye sent a jolt down my spine. To this day I remain convinced this was a cruel message from the cat. Anybody out there know the name of a good animal exorcist?

But enough of my pet peeves. I'm not alone. Listen to what happened to "Tweetie Boy," also known as "Chester," loyal parakeet to the William T. Griffith family for eight years. Here's Mrs. Griffith's letter, sans the aforementioned skeptical postscript.

Dear Craig:

Thank you for writing about your parakeet Buddy. My husband and I sympathize with you so very much. In fact, we could not read your article without the tears flowing.

For you see what happened to Buddy is almost identical to what happened to Tweetie Boy, our parakeet of eight years. All except that he met his fate with Charlie, our daughter's dog, while they were vacationing and we were keeping Charlie for them.

What memories we still hold of Tweetie. The time he almost swooped down over a pot of soup and scared him to death and me too. Tweetie was a good traveler and always kept us company on the road because we spent the winter in Florida and he just loved it there.

He could talk in sentences and always assured me that he was a good boy and that he loved me and 'How are you?' and 'Where have you been?' etc. etc.

We cannot bring ourselves to part with his cage, as you did. Tweetie was not just a bird to us. He was one of the family.

When my husband was making (apartment) reservations for us one time he was asked, 'How many in the family?' My husband said three. 'My wife, myself and Chester.'

'Who is Chester?' she asked.
'Oh, he is the bird.'
'But you can't have a bird in this apartment.'

'Well, if we can't we won't come,' he answered.

Anyway, we got the apartment and the landlady just fell in love with Tweetie. You see, my husband never called him Tweetie. He named him Chester. But Tweetie never answered to Chester. He knew Tweetie Boy only. (I named him after the cartoon of Sylvester and Tweetie Boy.)

He was given to us by our son-in-law and their kids for Christmas 1971. Tweetie has been gone now the 21st of last July. There will never be another Tweetie Boy.

We have a new bird now — a female — and you never saw such a dumb bird. In fact, I am trying to find a new home for her. Though she is a beautiful bird, she is oh, so dumb.

Hope this letter makes you feel better about Buddy. Just to know you are not alone in your grief.

MRS. W. GRIFFITH

THANKS, Mrs. Griffith. I needed that. But don't be so down-in-the-mouth about Tweetie Boy's demise. No mean old dog can take away those good times you had down in Florida.

Who knows, maybe your Tweetie Boy, your husband's Chester, and my Buddy are perched in a better place for eternity. A place without predators. A cage without bars. Close your eyes and listen closely. Hear that sound? Those are wings flapping and a choir whistling way off in the distance.

Autonomy?

Hospital officials want to run their own operation

Wayne County General Hospital officials want the Board of Commissioners to give them more operating control of the 340-bed hospital in Westland.

The hospital administration and the Board of County Institutions want authority to negotiate union contracts, determine personnel policies and control all purchasing.

Hospital contracts are now negotiated by the Labor Relations Board, an arm of the Board of Commissioners. Personnel policies are determined by the Civil Service Commission, and the Board of Auditors oversees purchasing.

The Board of County Institutions is the governing board of the hospital. County General's budget — $59.4 million this year — is set by the Board of Auditors and Board of Commissioners.

GEORGE CROSS, the county's chief lawyer, said it's doubtful the board of institutions could be given more control over the hospital without the board's being changed to an independent authority separate from general county government. Such a change would require the state law creating the board of institutions to be changed.

County General, the only publicly owned hospital in Wayne County, has repeatedly lost money. Last year's operating deficit was $6.5 million, according to the administration. This year's deficit is expected to be $6 million.

Hospital officials say they could reduce the deficit and operate the hospital more efficiently if they were freed from the county's "maze of bureaucratic red tape."

The county board's Human Resources Committee last week endorsed the so-called autonomy request "in concept" and asked the board of institutions to provide the details.

THE MOVE FOR autonomy is the hospital administrators' response to a county board-authorized study that recommends County General be sold, via a lease/purchase agreement, to any interested private hospital group in the out-county area. Such a sale would also require the Michigan Legislature's approval.

The recommendation, made last fall by the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council (GDAHC) as part of a $25,000 study, was referred to the board of institutions, which strongly opposes it.

GDAHC Executive Director Symond Gottlieb called the referral "delaying tactics" by the commissioners but said his group's recommendation is not dead.

"Obviously, the political process was in the works," said Gottlieb who attended the committee meeting.

"I would guess a big part of it is the concern of the employees and the unions. There's almost no place else where they would get the same level of salary and benefits."

The other major issue over control of County General is care of indigent patients — those who have no medical insurance. According to hospital officials, 24 percent of County General's clinic patients and 13 percent of admitted patients aren't covered by insurance.

GOTTLIEB SAYS the county is not obliged to provide care for indigents through its own hospital and could purchase care for less money from private hospitals.

Hospital administrators and the board of institutions disagree. They maintain the cost of indigent care would increase if the county paid private hospital providers. And they doubt the amount of care County General provides the poor would be maintained.

"The special needs of the kinds of patients seen at Wayne County General are not now being met by the general hospital community," states a hospital response to the GDAHC report.

What to do with the hospital, first established in 1832 as the "Wayne County Poor House," has been at issue before the county board for years.

Gottlieb said studies recommending changes at the hospital date back to 1953.

Bell seeks new billing methods for businesses

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is seeking state Public Service Commission (PSC) approval of a new charging method for local business calls.

Bell has proposed a charge of 6.8 cents for calls that last less than five minutes, with an added charge of 1.2 cents for each additional minute. Local business calls are now 7.3 cents each, regardless of length.

The new charging plan, which would not effect residence customers, was filed with the PSC last month. A commission spokesman said public hearings may be held in April.

Bell said the new charging method would not increase the company's total revenues. Bell was granted an inflation-based rate increase of 8 percent last fall and is expected to seek another increase of at least 7.5 percent this year, the PSC spokesman said.

The PSC has granted Bell three inflation-based "rate reopeners," with an option to seek a fourth. This year's increase would be the second of the three.

Most of its business customers would benefit from the new charging method, according to a Bell statement, which says 85 percent of all local business calls last less than five minutes. The average local business call lasts about three minutes, according to Bell.

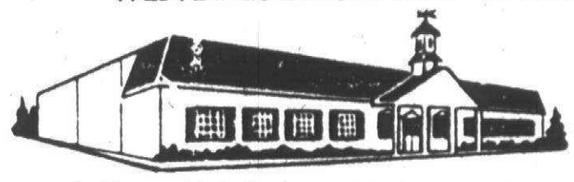

The company estimates 70 percent of the businesses affected by the new method would save money, 10 percent would break even, and 20 percent would pay more.

The Bell plan also includes a 50 percent discount for local business calls made anytime on a Saturday, before 5 p.m. Sundays and after 11 p.m. daily.

SHOULD THE PSC approve Bell's new charging method, the company, within a month, would begin timing local calls made by some 190,000 Detroit metropolitan area businesses, including those in Birmingham, Farmington, Livonia, Plymouth, Rochester, Southfield, Troy and other suburbs.

Bell offices in Detroit and other Michigan cities have switching equipment that can time local business calls as well as register the number of calls and time of day they are made.

TAKE A NEW LOOK AT OLD-FASHIONED COOKING

Traditional American cooking is coming into its own as the latest cuisine to attract the interest and approval of the food establishment.

Anyone who makes a study of American or regional cooking soon realizes that it has always differed significantly from most foreign cuisines. Although the recipes are basically simple and uncomplicated, home cooking in this country has always been extraordinarily innovative. Instead of slavishly following classic recipes, the best cooks have added personal touches and have constantly updated traditional recipes to suit the times.

Today, when time for preparing meals frequently is at a premium, contemporary cooks are learning to save minutes — even hours — by combining fresh foods with a few high quality convenience foods. They do this even in heritage recipes, if the results are just as good.

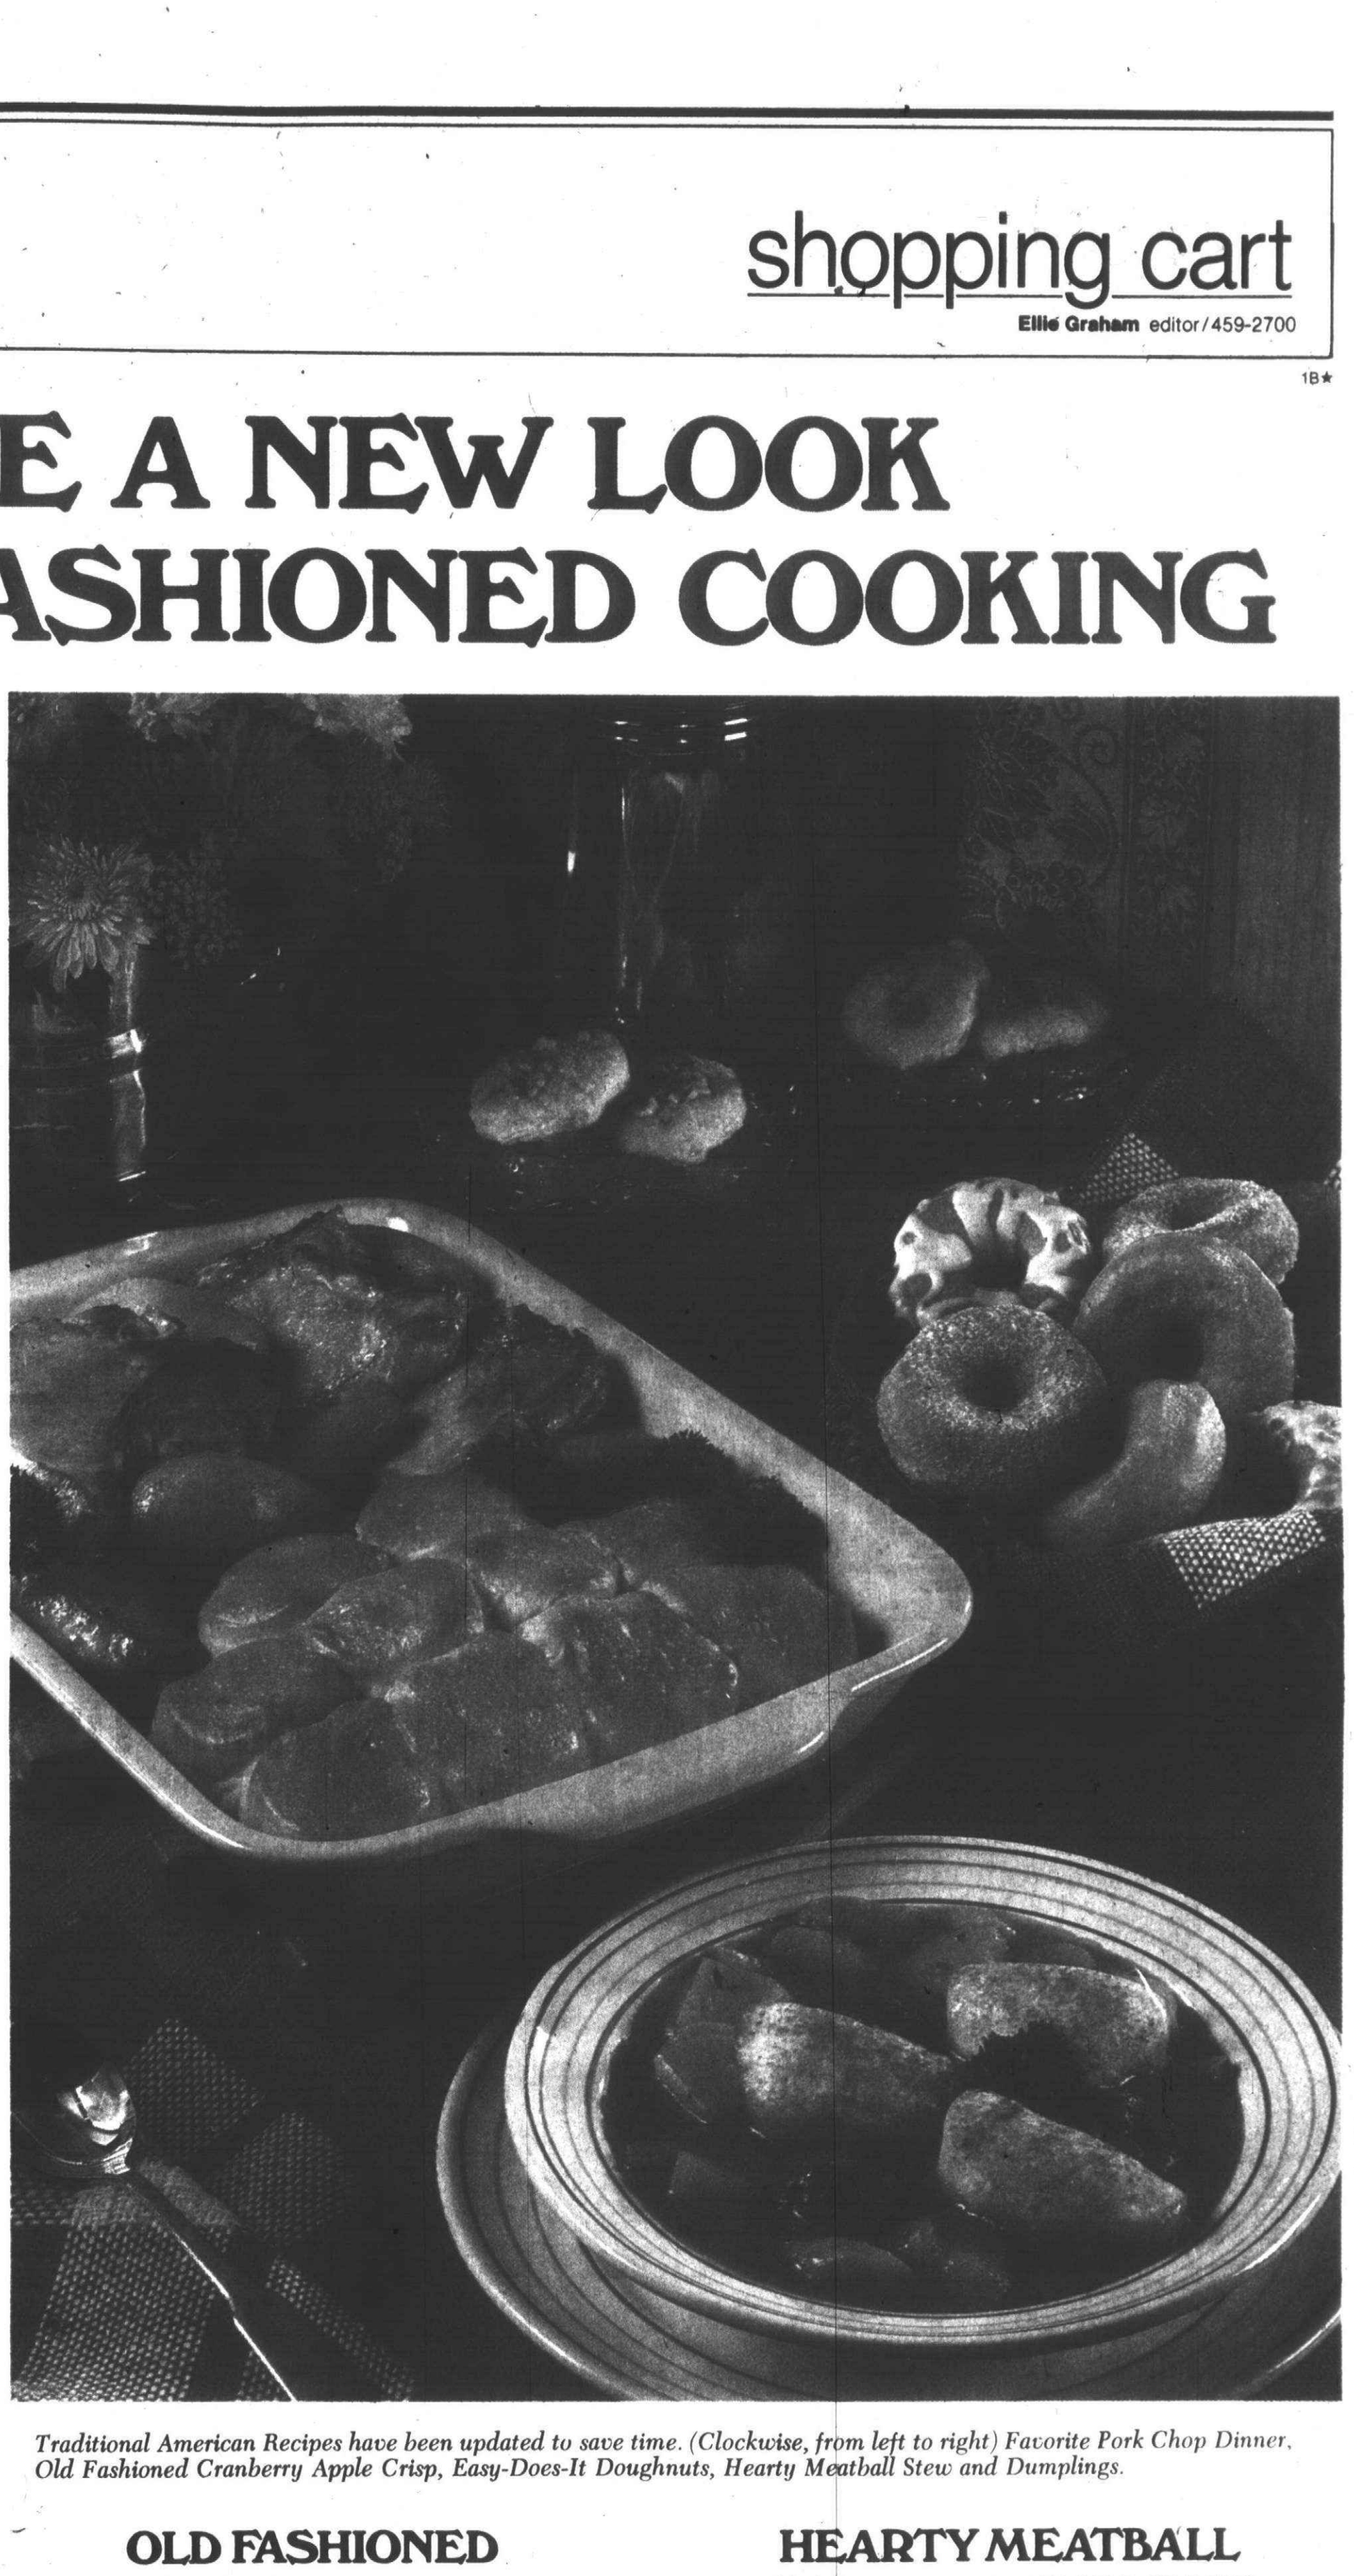

This idea actually is not as new as it might seem. For nearly 50 years some of the best Southern cooks have used refrigerated biscuits in recipes. One innovative person discovered that the inexpensive buttermilk or country style biscuits could be turned into light dumplings for hearty meat and vegetable stews. Another person tried baking the biscuits in the same pan with maple flavored sweet potatoes and pork chops to produce a delectable, slightly sweet dinner bread.

All doughnut lovers should cheer the first experimenter who tried cutting holes in these refrigerated biscuits and frying them in deep fat. The result rivals good raised doughnuts. The big difference is hours of time saved. Doughnuts from biscuits are ready to fry just as soon as the fat is hot, making them quick enough to serve for a weekend breakfast.

Even the kuchen which usually starts with a yeast dough can be made with these inexpensive biscuits. As another time saver, Apricot Cream Kuchen calls for fruit jam as a delicious, always-available substitute for the fresh fruit topping. The kuchen is partially baked, then the traditional egg and sour cream custard mixture is poured over it and baked until set. From start to finish, this coffeecake is ready to serve in less than an hour.

Because the various kinds of refrigerated biscuits are made with different amounts of shortening, it helps to know that the least expensive country style biscuit is the most versatile for recipe use.

Choose them for topping cobblers and other homey fresh fruit desserts like Old Fashioned Cranberry Apple Crisp. Now that fresh cranberries and apples are at their peak, this is a perfect ending for a fall dinner. To speed preparation, the fruit starts cooking on top of the range, and the dessert needs to be baked only enough to brown the flaky biscuit topping.

FAVORITE PORK CHOP DINNER

5 (3/4-inch thick) pork chops
Salt
Pepper
23-oz. can sweet potatoes, drained
3/4 cup maple-flavored syrup
1 can (10 biscuits) Refrigerated Buttermilk or Country Style Biscuits

Heat oven to 375°F. In skillet, brown pork chops. Place chops in ungreased 13x9-inch (3-quart) baking dish. Season with salt and pepper. Cover; bake at 375°F. for 20 minutes.

Remove pan from oven; drain off liquid. Move chops to one side of pan. Arrange sweet potatoes around chops. Pour syrup over chops, potatoes and in bottom of pan. Separate biscuit dough into 10 biscuits; arrange in pan next to chops and potatoes. Return to oven and bake, uncovered, an additional 20 to 25 minutes or until biscuits are golden brown and chops are tender. 5 servings.

OLD FASHIONED CRANBERRY APPLE CRISP

5 cups (5 medium) peeled, chopped apples
*2 cups fresh or frozen cranberries
1 cup water
1-1/4 cups sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts, if desired
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

TOPPING
10-oz. can Refrigerated Flaky Biscuits
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons margarine or butter, melted
1/4 cup chopped nuts

Heat oven to 375°F. In saucepan, combine first 3 ingredients; cook over medium heat 5 minutes. Blend remaining ingredients except Topping; stir into apple mixture. Cook 2 minutes until thickened; pour into 13x9-inch pan. Separate dough into 10 biscuits; separate each biscuit into 2 layers. Blend sugar and cinnamon. Dip 1 side of each biscuit in margarine, then in sugar mixture. Arrange biscuits, sugared-side-up, over hot apple mixture, overlapping to make 2 rows; sprinkle with nuts. Bake at 375°F. for 20 to 25 minutes or until deep golden brown. If desired, serve warm with cream or ice cream. 8 to 10 servings.

TIP: *16-oz. can whole cranberry sauce can be substituted for cranberries; reduce water to 1/2 cup and sugar to 1/2 cup.

EASY-DOES-IT DOUGHNUTS

Oil for deep frying
1 can (10 biscuits) Refrigerated Buttermilk or Country Style Biscuits
Sugar, cinnamon-sugar mixture or glaze

In deep fat fryer or heavy saucepan, heat about 1 quart oil to 350°F. Separate dough into 10 biscuits. Cut holes in center of biscuits. Fry cut biscuits and holes in oil at 350°F. about 1-1/2 minutes on each side or until golden brown. Drain. If desired, roll doughnuts and holes in sugar, cinnamon-sugar mixture or drizzle with glaze. Serve warm. 10 doughnuts.

HEARTY MEATBALL STEW and DUMPLINGS

1 lb. ground beef
1 egg
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 beef bouillon cube or 1 level teaspoon beef instant bouillon
1-1/2 cups boiling water
10-3/4-oz. can condensed tomato soup
3 carrots, cut into 1/2-inch pieces, about 1 cup
2 medium potatoes, cut into 1-inch pieces, about 1 cup
1 medium onion, sliced
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 can (10 biscuits) Refrigerated Buttermilk or Country Style Biscuits
Paprika
Parsley

In medium bowl, combine ground beef, egg, chopped onion, salt and pepper; mix well. Shape into 1-1/2 to 2-inch balls. In Dutch oven, brown meatballs; drain off excess fat. Dissolve bouillon in boiling water. Add water, tomato soup, carrots, potatoes, sliced onion and thyme; stir gently. Bring to a boil; reduce heat, cover and simmer 15 minutes.

Separate dough into 10 biscuits; cut each in half. Place biscuit halves on hot stew mixture. Sprinkle with paprika and parsley. Simmer uncovered for 10 minutes; cover tightly and simmer 20 minutes longer. Serve immediately. 5 to 6 servings.

APRICOT CREAM KUCHEN

2 tablespoons margarine or butter
8-oz. can Refrigerated Buttermilk or Country Style Biscuits
1/3 cup apricot jam
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup dairy sour cream
3 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

In oven, melt margarine in 8-inch square pan while preheating oven to 450°F. Separate dough into 10 biscuits. Coat each with melted margarine; arrange in pan. Spoon 1 teaspoon jam on each biscuit (reserve remaining jam for topping). Bake 5 minutes. Combine egg, sour cream, sugar and vanilla; blend well. Spoon over partially baked biscuits. Reduce oven to 350°F.; bake 25 to 30 minutes longer or until custard is set. Spread with remaining jam. Cut into squares. Serve warm. Refrigerate leftovers. 9 servings.

Low cholesterol foods can be high in flavor

A Question of Taste

By Hilary Keating Callaghan

St. Valentine's Day 1981 has passed. The hearts that have been coming to my mind this year remain. They are not those adorning valentine cards but are multicolored and appear on bright signs with the names of different cities.

These signs line the hallways of the seventh floor of Detroit's Harper-Grace Hospital. Their purpose is two-fold: to brighten what would otherwise be long, unbroken stretches of corridor and to orient the patients who take their walks there, regaining strength after surgery. The surgery from which they are recuperating is open-heart. The prognosis for most is excellent.

Within a relatively short time these patients are encouraged to resume normal activities — housekeeping, sports, work. Except for an impressive scar, some lingering chest and back aches and a lifetime dependency on blood-thinning medication, life can go on as before.

My mother underwent open-heart surgery at Harper-Grace this past year which accounts for my unusual association with the heart this St. Valentine's Day. Apparently, an undiagnosed case of rheumatic fever during childhood had permanently damaged her heart. Her father, having experienced similar heart damage, had died at the age of 55. The last five years of his life were spent as an invalid.

THE VAST difference in the prognosis for the two is the good news, demonstrating how far medical science has come in treating heart disease. From being virtual death sentences a few years ago, many heart disorders now respond to what is becoming common, albeit dramatic, surgery.

This leaves the bad news. Cardiovascular disease has reached epidemic proportions in this country. Hundreds of thousands of people annually die of heart disease. Particularly hard hit are males between 40 and 45 years of age.

Compounding the tragedy of these premature deaths is the fact that so much heart disease is preventable. It springs not from congenital disorders or from childhood diseases, but from lifestyle.

Most of us can readily recite the factors that contribute to heart problems: consuming excessive salt, saturated fats and cholesterol, being overweight, smoking, and failing to exercise sufficiently. Few of us act on what we know. The reason is often simply habit.

We are accustomed to a diet high in saturated fats, which are primarily those which are solid at room temperature such as meat fats, butter, hydrogenated vegetable fats, and coconut oil. We are unwilling to trade marbled beef for poultry and fish, butter for corn oil margarine, salt for herbs.

WHAT IS NEEDED here, as when trying to break any habit, is a new pattern to fill the void. The emphasis should be less on sacrifice and more on the pleasures of the new habit. Fortunately, this is easy to achieve in changing to a healthier diet. As the link between diet and heart disease becomes more firmly established, more and more cookbooks are appearing which offer tempting menus and recipes for low cholesterol dishes.

One such book is Carol Cutler's "Haute Cuisine for your Heart's Delight." Having asked for the heart of your valentine, this is the perfect guide for the care and feeding of that heart.

The recipes in "Haute Cuisine" include many classic French dishes (traditionally rich with butter, cream, fats, oils, and eggs), revamped in order to drastically reduce their cholesterol content. The results are still delicious with the bonus of being a much lighter cuisine than the original.

Aesthetics aside, a shift to low-cholesterol cooking certainly is more a gift of love and concern than boxes of chocolates or special meals of steak, lobster, potato with sour cream and cheesecake.

The shift would represent, not an isolated special meal, but a lifetime commitment. This gift might very well be one of life for your "heart's delight."

ROLLED FILETS OF SOLE

2 tbsp. polyunsaturated margarine
1 tbsp. minced shallots
¼ lb. mushrooms, thinly sliced
salt and pepper
3 tbsp. polyunsaturated margarine
1 tsp. parsley
½ tsp. tarragon
6 filets of sole
½ lemon
salt and pepper
¼ cup vermouth
¼ cup dry white wine

Melt 2 tbsp. of margarine in a small skillet, add the shallots, and simmer gently for about a minute. Add the sliced mushrooms, mixing them well with the shallots. Sprinkle with a little salt and pepper, cover the skillet, and simmer gently for about 3 minutes.

In a small bowl, cream together the 3 tbsp. of margarine, the parsley, and tarragon. Rinse the sole filets and dry and paper towels. Rub each filet on both sides with the lemon half. Lay them on the counter skin side up (this is the darker side). Sprinkle each filet lightly with salt and pepper. Spread some of the herb-flavored margarine over the entire length of each filet, then spread the mushrooms. Do not extend the mushrooms to the very ends. Roll the filet and secure the closing with a toothpick.

Select a heavy nonaluminum pan that will hold the 6 rolled filets snugly. Stand the "turbans" in the pan and pour the wines over them. Put a piece of aluminum foil directly over the filets, tucking the foil down inside the pan, then place a lid on the pan. The turbans can be prepared ahead and kept in the refrigerator for a few hours; the liquid should not be added, however, until just before cooking. About 20 minutes before serving, place the pan of "turbans" on a very low fire and heat the wines gently. As they warm up they will begin poaching the filets. Check from time to time to make certain that the wines are not boiling, for that toughens the fish. The wine should be kept just below a simmer. The filets will be poached in about 10 minutes, depending on the size and thickness of the fish. Fifteen minutes should be the maximum. They are done when the flesh is white and flakes if pierced with a toothpick.

Carefully remove the "turbans" to a serving platter, take out the toothpicks, and spoon some sauce over each one. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

ARTICHOKE HEARTS AND PEAS

1 10-oz. pkg. frozen artichoke hearts
2 tbsp. polyunsaturated oil
1 tbsp. finely chopped shallots
2 10-oz. pkgs. frozen peas
1 cup water
½ tsp. sugar
¼ tsp. fresh or dried tarragon
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. polyunsaturated margarine
herb bouquet (4 parsley sprigs tied around 1 bay leaf)

Thaw the artichoke hearts. If they are whole cut them in half, lengthwise, then dry them on a towel. Heat the oil in a heavy skillet and add the artichoke hearts to brown quickly, turning them often so they brown evenly. Reduce the flame, add the chopped shallots, cover, and simmer for 1 minute, just to soften the shallots without browning them. Add the frozen peas, water, sugar, tarragon, salt, pepper, margarine, and the herb bouquet.

Cover the skillet and simmer very slowly for about 25 minutes, or until the peas are tender. If you are making this dish in advance, simmer for 20 minutes and finish cooking at serving time. Discard the herb bouquet and spoon into a deep serving bowl. Makes 6 servings.

Vets make use of GI benefits

Seventy-four percent of the 369,000 Vietnam veterans who live in Michigan have taken some form of training under the GI Bill.

Statistics show that 271,302 veterans used their educational benefits and that of those 164,548 attended college.

Veterans have 10 years from their date of discharge to complete training under the GI Bill. Veterans discharged in 1971 have only one more year of training remaining in which they can draw a monthly check to help them defray educational costs.

Training is not restricted to college; programs are available for on-the-job training and other residential schools providing technical training.

Battleship crew plans reunion

Crew members of the USS Indiana, a battleship which participated in 12 major campaigns in the Pacific Threater during World War II, will hold a reunion July 17, 18 and 19 aboard its sister ship the USS Massachusetts in Fall River, Mass.

Many of the crew members were from Michigan. For more details about the event, contact Tom Ruff at Box 357, Troy, N.Y., or call him at 1-518-274-2887. Also call Mac Goodell, president of the organization, at 1-603-352-6174.

The VIEW from CANTON CENTER

REMEMBER THE "Wind in the Willows" window at Emma's Restaurant?

Garey Beglinger, Hazel Gibson and Marian Gotshall had decorated the window with Badger, Rat, Mole and Mr. Toad to represent a scene from Kenneth Graham's book, "Wind in the Willows." The display was an entry in a contest sponsored by Holt, Rhinehart and Winston, publisher of a new edition of the 70-year-old book.

It was so great (the window), we were sure Hazel would win the grand prize which was a trip to England. The window came in second with an entry in Ohio coming in first. If the judges had been able to personally visit all the entries, I think we would have had a winner right here.

TOMORROW NIGHT is the last chance for singers to join the Plymouth Community Chorus before the spring concert. The chorus rehearses each Tuesday from 8-10 p.m. in East Middle School, Mill Street between Ann Arbor Road and Ann Arbor Trail.

The chorus could use more male voices and auditions are not necessary, — just show up at East and join the group. Women must audition. Anyone wishing more information can call Joe Hopersberger, 464-1372, after 5 p.m.

Because people had to be turned away from the Christmas concert, the spring concert will repeated. It is scheduled for May 16 and 17 in Plymouth Salem High School. There were 1,100 persons in the audience for their Christmas concert.

Mike Gross, chorus director, and Carol Chen, accompanist and assistant director, are going to Pennsylvania this summer to the Fred Waring Choral Workshop. The two-week seminar in August features round-the-clock classes with Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians there each evening to demonstrate what has been covered during the day.

Chorus members are enthused about the opportunity. The board voted to finance the trip after Mike and Carol had been accepted. Evidently, the people running the workshop found it hard to believe that a community chorus could grow from less than 40 voices to more than 125 and sell out a 1,100-seat auditorium for a concert.

When they discovered a tape of the Christmas concert was available, Mike and Carol were asked to please take it along to Pennsylvania — they want to hear this group.

THE PLYMOUTH Jaycees' Sweetheart Appreciation Night for the Jaycettes will be Feb. 28, not Valentine's Day as planned.

And, because of the storm last Tuesday, the Jaycette general membership meeting had to be canceled. It has been rescheduled for March 10 at Pioneer Middle School with Laura Callow as guest speaker.

EDITH HERBST kept her promise. For many years, Ralph Lorenz tried to get her apple pie recipe. She always said, "I'll give it to you some day."

Last week, her niece walked into the Mayflower and handed Ralph a small piece of paper. "My Aunt Edith asked me to give you this." Her aunt, a who spent the last years of her life as a resident of West Trail Nursing Home, died recently. And she hadn't forgotten.

Ralph's love affair with Edith Herbst's apple pie began many years ago, when he was student at what is now Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti. She was baker for McKinny Hall, the student Union building.

"She made the best apple pie I ever tasted," Ralph recalled. "I'd watch her make it, but I couldn't figure out how she did it. I worked with her in the kitchen."

Over the years, it became a standing request. Whenever they met, it was, "When are you going to tell me how you make your apple pie?"

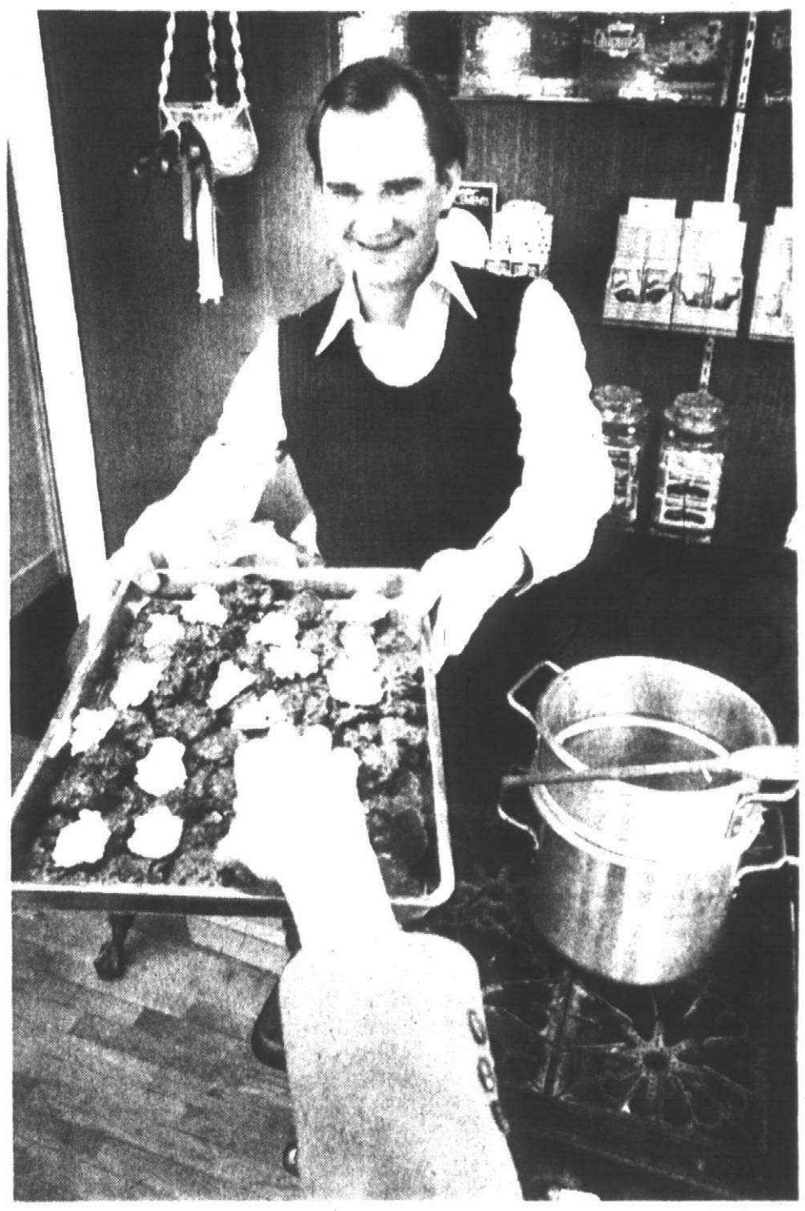

When she moved to the nursing home in Plymouth, it must have been a warming thought to be reminded that someone still considered her the best apple pie baker in the whole world.

"Last time I had her here (the hotel) for lunch, she said again someday she'd give me the recipe. We've been making it all week, but it isn't quite right yet."

Denise Burkhart, a food service graduate of Plymouth High School, has been experimenting with different varieties of apples in the Mayflower kitchens. Her pastry is beautiful and so is the filling, but it won't be on the menu until it's Edith's apple pie.

Shirley Cowie and her husband make candy in the kitchen of their Old Village shop.

Jim Cowie offers a sample of homemade candy.

by ELLIE GRAHAM

They revived the old art of candy-making at home

'Our emphasis is on an old-fashioned candy store. The only thing that is not old in this shop is the candy. When it gets old, we toss it out.

—Jim Cowie

In this age of preservatives and plastics, the old-fashioned candy store has become almost obsolete, replaced by sections of plastic-bagged sweets in super markets and drug stores.

Kemnitz Candies on Ann Arbor Trail with its hand-dipped chocolates, molded chocolate Easter eggs, chicks and rabbits, was the lone survivor in this area.

Now, with Jim and Shirley Cowie making their own candy in Sweets-N-Treats in Old Village, Plymouth could be touted as the homemade candy center of Wayne County — perhaps the whole metropolitan area.

A visit to the old store on the corner of Mill and Spring streets is like walk back in time. Antique counters, a wood floor and Tiffany-style lamps provide the perfect settingr the vast array of sweets sold in the shops.

Yet, it is more than just the amosphere that lures customers to Sweets-N-Treats. Behind the glass showcases are row upon row of fresh homemade candy — everything from chocolate covered pretzels to coconut clusters.

IMPORTED CANDY, such as Toberlone, Lindt and Droste,also is sold along with marzipan.

For those who thought penny candy went out with skate keys, there is a surprise. Baskets filled with one-cent candy are lined along a wall, a source of great decision-making for the small fry.

In addition to candy, soft drinks can be purchased to go along with a box of popcorn from the popcorn machine.

And if that isn't enough, the Cowie's sell Ghirardelli's All-Purpose Ground Chocolate and boxed candies. Ghirandelli, based in California, is "one of the best chocolates you can buy" according to Jim Cowie. The groound chocolate is the only product of its kind that contains chocolate in addition to cocoa, He says there are only four stores in Michigan that sell the products, two of them are in Northville and Plymouth.

Jim and Shirley Cowie, who also own Genetti's on Main Street in Northville, recently added a candy counter to their Northville store. It is an expansion of their Old Village shop.

THE COWIES bought the Plymouth shop last May and business has been "doing really well."

Jim operates Sweets-N-Treats and Shirley handles the business end of the operation as well as the Northville specialty shop. Both make the candy in the kitchen of the Plymouth store and transport it to the Northville shop. They explained that candy is made every day and that freshness is essential.

"Our emphasis is on an old-fashioned candy store," said Cowie. "The only thing that is not old in this shop is the candy. When it gets old, we toss it out."

For the Cowies, the candy-making business is somewhat of a new-found vocation. Though Cowie admits that he has been cooking all his life and "really enjoys it," the candy business is a far cry from his old profession.

He grew up in Northville and holds a doctorate degree in social psychology. He has been an instructor at a variety of colleges and universities including the University of Wisconsin, Indiana University and Mississippi State.

"I've been away from Northville a long time," said Cowie. "I came back when I decided I liked cooking more than teaching." Mrs. Cowie, who has been a Northvile resident for about 11 years, was a doll designer for a Northville shop. They were married two years ago and are expecting their first child at the end of the month. He has two children from a previous marriage and she has three children from a previous marriage.

"ONE OF THE advantages of a family owned operation is being able to get the children involved in the business," explained Shirley Cowie. And with the two shops in operation, she said they really can use the help.

Both are "very particular" about the candy they make.

"I don't sell anything in here that I don't like myself," said Cowie. He explained that many of the candy recipes they use are traditional and have been passed down through generations.

He added, "We invent about half of the candies we make." His wife said that there is a lot of time spent in the kitchen, experimenting and researching.

The specialty at Sweets-N-Treats is the homemade chocolate and the homemade candy sells better than anything else.

However, he said one of the hottest selling candies lately has been Jelly Bellys, the gourmet jelly bean recently popularized by President Reagan.

"I've gone through five cases of Jelly Bellys in six days," he explained.

There are more than 30 different Jelly Belly flavors including varieties such as chocolate pudding, cotton candy, jalapeno, pina coloda and peanut butter. Creative fans mix the jelly beans to get different tastes. For example, by mixing two lemon-flavored Jelly Bellys with two coconuts, the result is lemon meringue pie. By combining two peanut butter with two grape — a peanut butter and jelly sandwich.

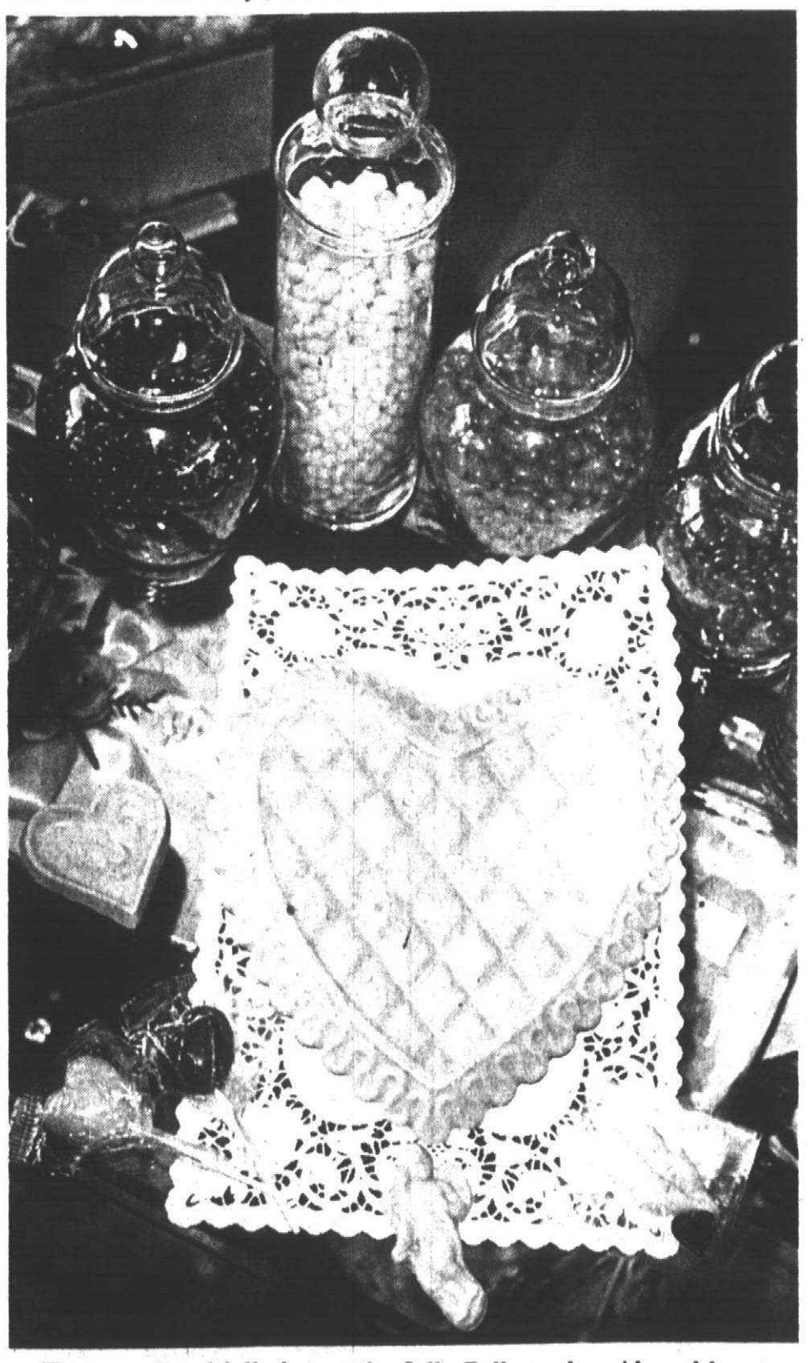

Another fast-selling item at both stores is "Hulk Feet," named appropriately after the television character, "The Incredible Hulk." They are green chocolate-molded feet on a stick.

"We sell about 50 of theses a week," said Cowie.

THEY MAKE a dietetic chocolate with fructose, and a sweet sugar from fruit and honey.

Mrs. Cowie said that making candy "is certainly a creative outlet" and added that sometime they would like to open a small department in the store

"The blood coagulated immediately," testified Dr. Kirkland, played by Dick Merrill of Plymouth. The Plymouth Theatre Guild performances of Ayn Rand's murder trial mystery has been held over for an extra performance at 7 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 22. Curtaintime Friday and Saturday will be 8 p.m. in the courthouse in Plymouth City Hall. Members of the audience, chosen to serve on the 12-man jury, decide the verdict at each performance. Ice is for curling and skating at Y federation winter campout

They practiced curling on the frozen lake's surface, using plastic gallon milk jugs full of ice for stones.

There was a frisbee throw, a soccer kick, saucer pull, magic show, sledding, horseback riding, skating and tobogganing.

The 180 maidens and braves who attended the Indian winter campout at Camp Storer, near Jackson, agreed it was the best campout ever.

The Tonquish Creek Indian Federation is sponsored by the local YMCA, with Cathy Fillion and Richard Messerly serving as federation chiefs. Camp Storer is a YMCA camp which provides heated cabins with names such as "Bison," "Turtle," and "Badger." Each houses 10 to 14 persons.

There also is a complex called "The Fort," which can accommodate larger tribes.

Meals are provided for visiting federations, and the Tonquish Creek tribes said it was very good. Camp directors are available for services or questions. Members of the staff are on hand for horseback riding, cross country skiing, BB shoot and general guidance for other camp activities.

WITH THE TEMPERATURE in the 40s and the sun shining on the snow and frozen lake, weather conditions were deemed perfect for outdoor activities.

The Pawnee maidens were the best overall in tribe games and were awarded a gold cup.

Chief Fillion described the crafts activities available in the lodge.

Peace pipes were made from straws, Dixie cups and feathers; boomerangs "that really worked if you knew the old Indian secret" were made of cardboard; breastplates from straws, leather strips, beads and string; and noise sticks from bottle caps, sticks, feathers and string.

"Cases to carry the headbands and feathers of the braves and maidens were made from posterboard, paint and lots of imagination," said Chief Fillion.

Magician Mark Renfrow of Wayne provided Saturday evening entertainment. During his one-hour show, he made doves and a pheasant disappear, tied and untied mystifying knots, made his assistant disappear in a large basket and reappear again with another girl in the same basket.

Popcorn and soft drinks were consumed before weary braves and maidens called it a day.

The federation welcomes new members and persons wishing more information can call Rick Messerly, 459-2098, or Cathy Fillion, 455-7181.

for selling candy making supplies.

The Cowies spent extra hours in the kitchen preparing for Valentine's Day. They made solid chocolate hearts in a variety of sizes and flavors — milk, dark, white or pink. Some of the pink chocolate hearts had cupids on them. Mrs. Cowie explained that the pink chocolate is a little sweeter than white chocolate. They also stocked up on the traditional heart-shaped boxes, embossed and adorned with ribbons and flowers. Samll or large boxes could be filled with candied of the customer's choice.

Their holiday business has exceeded expections, said the Cowies. For Christmas, they created a peppermint chocolate which became a customer favorite.

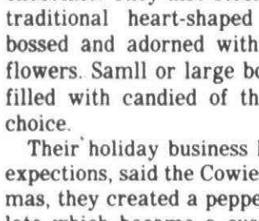

Jim had a suggestion for keeping their chocolate.

"The best way to preserve it is to hide it."

Rock cagers rip Allen Park

Plymouth Salem kept it flickering hopes alive in the Suburban Eight League basketball chase Friday night by trimming Allen Park, 56-41.

The Rocks sport a 7-3 league mark. Dearborn leads the league with a 9-1 record. Dearborn Edsel Ford rests in second place at 8-2.

Salem, which hosts Dearborn Tuesday, raced to a 29-12 halftime lead against the Jaguars, who suffered their ninth consecutive league defeat.

Coach Fred Thomann cleared his bench in the second half as 10 players scored.

"Defensively, we were real good in the first half," said the Salem coach. "We didn't give up many second shots."

Norm Haygood, a 6-7 junior, led all scorers with 17 points. The Salem center scored at will in the second half.

Sophomore David Houle and junior guard Scott Bublin added nine and eight, respectively. Junior guard Mike McBride led the Salem rebounders with eight grabs.

"Offensively, Haygood getting 17 points was a real plus," Thomann said. "Our team play was good. It was a little ragged early, but we wore them down defensively."

Tim Nirdorf had 15 points to lead the Jaguars. Tom Bowdell added seven.

Salem took a 9-5 advantage after one quarter and then scored 20 points in the second period to take a commanding lead.

The Rocks, 11-5 overall, will take on Great Lakes Eight Conference leader Lincoln Park Thursday at home. Salem won an earlier meeting at the Railsplitters' gym.

Ann Arbor Huron rules own meet

The host team had its way Friday night.

Ann Arbor Huron won its own girls' gymnastics invitational by scoring 159.25 points in a meet which drew 11 of the state's top-ranked teams.

Plymouth Canton settled for ninth place at 126.30. The Chiefs, however, went without their top gymnast, Laurie Beale, who missed the event due to illness.

Troy High finished second overall (156.10) followed by Ludington, third, 155.80; North Farmington, fourth, 155.00; Ann Arbor Pioneer, fifth, 154.34; East Kentwood, sixth, 151.05; East Lansing, seventh, 146.35; Birmingham Seaholm, eighth, point total unavailable; Canton, ninth, 126.30; Alpena, 10th, 122.20; Troy Athens, 11th, 121.65.

East Kentwood's Jody Thompson was the all-around champion with a score of 34.10. She edged North's Kathy Temple who scored 34.00.

Canton's Laura Michalik was 10th overall at 31.8. She placed eighth in the balance beam (7.6) and 10th in both vault (8.3) and floor exercise (8.05).

LINDA BEALE of Canton, a freshman, finished 11th in uneven parallel bars with a score of 7.95.

"Huron has a superior team when it comes to depth," said Canton coach John Cunningham. "This meet was a gage of team depth.

"Because of that, there were a lot stronger teams than I expected. North Farmington showed me a lot."

Cunningham's team will face stiff competition in seeking the top two spots at the upcoming Class A regional. The Chiefs will face Huron, Pioneer and North.

Salem tankers lose

Trenton upended Plymouth Salem, 95-77, in a Suburban Eight League swim meet Thursday night.

It was only the Rocks' second loss of the year.

"Trenton swam real well," said Salem coach Chuck Olson. "There were some good races, but we couldn't quite pull them out."

The Rocks, 8-2-1 overall, captured just four of 11 events.

The Salem quartet of Bruce Harwood, Gary Workman, Jeff Kleinsmith and Paul Perkowski won the 200-yard medley relay with a time of 1:46.72. Teammates Paul Neschich, Ashley Long, Scott Stinebaugh and Bob Bowling finished third (1:52.23).

Other Salem first-place finishers included Tim Harwood, 200 individual medley, 2:09.50; Joe Rudelic, diving, 227.05 points and Workman, 100 breaststroke, 1:06.45.

Salem led in the meet until the halfway point, the 100 freestyle.

"We were all right," said Olson, "but Trenton had a lot of freestyle depth. They had good numbers and were able to move around some people I didn't expect."

The Rocks settled for second place in the 400 freestyle relay. The team of John Thompson, Tim Harwood, Doug Kleinsmith and Russ Shaffer posted a time of 3:29.09.

OTHER second-place finishers for Salem included Shaffer, 200 IM, 2:09.53; Perkowski, 50 freestyle, 23.9; Jeff Kleinsmith, 100 butterfly, 58.8; Doug Kleinsmith, 100 freestyle, 51.74; Neschich, 100 backstroke, 1:01.98.

Salem swimmers placing third included Doug Kleinsmith, 200 freestyle, 1:57.28; Jeff Kleinsmith, 50 freestyle, 24.01; Todd Riedel, diving, 182.20; Tim Harwood, 100 butterfly, 59.18; Shaffer, 500 freestyle, 5:14.82; Bruce Parwood, 100 backstroke, 1:02.32.

Mid-winter vacation needed?

Brad Emons

Thoughts while starting my car.

I got to work, why aren't the kids in school?

Was the storm that bad?

It was sure smart to schedule a snow date (Feb. 24). At least the athletes won't be cheated out of an event.

You got to believe Chuck Olson's Plymouth Salem swim team has a legitimate shot at winning the Suburban Eight League meet. Belleville is the main stumbling block.

Congratulations to Dan Chrenko and his wrestlers on winning the Western Six League title. It couldn't have happened to a nicer guy.

March Madness, indeed, does begin in March this year.

I've got to get over and see a Plymouth Christian basketball game. The Eagles are soaring right now. A potential Class D power?

What ever happened to Plymouth Salem gymnastics?

Why is Birmingham Brother Rice being boycotted on scheduling? I suspect it has to do with unlimited boundaries from which they can draw from. Is that fair? Everyone should be on equal footing.

I suspect the other reason is that most AD's don't get along with Brother Rice's Bill Norton.

WHEN is the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) going to tackle the problem? Are you listening Vern Norris?

Did you know that Chris and Wendy Gilles of Plymouth are practice partners for recent local Avon Tennis Qualifier Lisa Bonder of Ann Arbor. May see Chris and Wendy playing down at Cobo some day.

Some basketball coaches I've talked to want to do away with summer programs.

Jim Ellinghausen spent the holidays playing basketball on the sands of the Riveria. His brother, Tom, shoots hoops for UM-Dearborn.

I understand Rich Hewlett, John Wangler and Dave Hall have formed an intramural basketball team at UM. Not bad for a bunch of football players.

When does baseball season start? I can't wait to hear the sound of aluminum bats.

Max Sommerville, Plymouth Canton softball coach, has a new son-in-law. He's Gary Hogeboom, quarterback for the Dallas Cowboys.

Some Olympic weightlifters will be in town during April for the AAU state championships. That event will be held at Canton. How about bringing in Alexeyev?

Any word on high school soccer yet for next year?

CATCH Dave Visser and Howard Monk at a Wayne State University basketball game. They're doing just fine. Monk is averaging 13 points per game and Visser is the team's top rebounder. Both are freshman starters.

I've heard a lot of bad language on the basketball courts this year. Not just coaches, either.

Brian Stemberger (Canton grad) should be going down to spring training pretty soon. Why can't I be a baseball player, too?

Our all-area wrestling meeting should be a humdinger. Maybe we ought to call in the National Guard to insure peace and order.

Something is wrong with the transmission. Maybe the kids deserved a break today.

SHARON ROSS
Sets school marks

Ross shatters Oberlin marks

Carol Ross, a graduate of Plymouth Salem, is enjoying a record-setting swim season at Oberlin College (Ohio).

The Canton Township freshman recently set a school mark in the 200-yard butterfly with a time of 2:21.928 against Wittenberg (Ohio) in a dual meet.

She was also a member of the record-setting 400 freestyle relay team which clinched the meet. She teamed with Alison Greer (Gainesville, Fla.), Ruth Berggren (Newton Highlands, Ma.) and Carol Wigley (Camarillo, Ca.) to post a time of 4:04.675. That broke the team's previous mark set a week earlier in an 81-47 loss to Wooster (Ohio).

Mott rally sinks Canton

Plymouth Canton squandered a fourth-quarter lead and blew a chance to win its third straight Western Six League basketball title Friday night, losing at Waterford Mott, 50-44.

The loss drops Canton to 4-4 in league play and 9-7 overall.

Mott, behind Eric Struble's seven points, overhauled the Chiefs in the final quarter.

Farmington Harrison and Northville share the top spot at 6-2. Livonia Churchill is in third place all alone at 5-3.

The Corsairs, who lost earlier in the season to Canton (29-28), used a half-court press to bottle up their opponents.

Canton held the lead until midway through the final period.

"They went with a half-court trap," explained Canton coach Craig Bell, "and we just broke down. We made some key turnovers and momentum went on their side.

"We were in control. The game was ours. They created chaos and we didn't recognize it."

Mott also benefitted from some timely foul shooting. The Corsairs it nine of 15 free throws down the stretch.

Christian triumphs

Jim Koss pumped in 20 points, and Mike Routledge added 12 to lift Plymouth Christian to a 53-43 basketball win over Clawson Zion Temple Friday.

Steve Kiser hauled down 12 rebounds for the winners, now 10-3 overall.

Christian will travel Tuesday to face Troy Calvary.

Women's soccer league set

Registration is now being held for the Great Lakes Women's Soccer League's (GLWSL) summer season.

The GLWSL is a senior women's league. It's the only women's soccer league in the state to be affiliated with the Michigan Soccer Association (MSA) and the United States Soccer Federation (USSF).

Each team is limited to 18 players. Only seven names, however, are needed to register. Women 18 and over are encouraged to form a team. Each squad, however, is allowed to sign up three players under 18 years.

The league will be divided into two divisions: A (experienced teams) and B (new teams).

Registration packets may be obtained by calling or writing: Sheri Lynn Takacs, GLWSL Secretary, 263 Landon, East Lansing 48825. Phone: (517) 355-7400. Or Paula Hockswter, GLWSL Vice President, 8892 Cooley Lake Road, Union Lake 48085. Phone: 360-1099.

Twelve teams from across the state competed in last year's program, which ran from Memorial Day through Labor Day.

The GLWSL was represented by two teams last year in the Women's Washington D.C. Soccer Tournament. Those teams placed fifth and 13th, respectively, out of 24 entrants.

Another Western 6 title near

Canton swimmers cruise

BILL McCORD
Has reason to smile

It's almost academic.

Only a catastrophe can prevent Plymouth Canton from winning its third straight Western Six League swim crown.

The Chiefs dunked Livonia Churchill Thursday night, 112-59, for their sixth straight dual meet triumph.

It was also Canton's fourth consecutive league victory without a loss. Coach Bill McCord's swimmers have yet to be tested in the Western Six. Canton can wrap up another crown March 6 in the league meet at Churchill.

"The first time we swam Churchill we missed a couple of swimmers: (Ron) Hurley and (Pete) Stern," said McCord. "It was easier this time — with all due respect to Churchill.

"And it was a lot nicer doing it in our home pool."

Stern, a junior, led a Canton sweep in the 100-yard freestyle. He recorded a first-place time of 52.6. Teammates Greg Schnurstein and Joe Krawzak finished second and third, respectively, with clockings of 58.5 and 58.8.

Hurley captured the 50 freestyle with a time of 23.5. Jim Luce of Canton gained third (26.6).

The team of Luce, Hurley, Stern and Joe Gibbons won the 200 medley relay with a time of 1:50.9.

BOB SIMRAK, Tom McKercher, John Simone and Stern grabbed first spot in the 400 freestyle relay (3:41.6). Teammates Joe McBratnie, Jeff Dubois, Bob Lewelling and Krawzak finished second (4:04.5).

Simrak, also a junior, won both the 200- and 500-freestyle events with times of 1:57.4 and 5:13.2, respectively.

Churchill's Mike Stetz was also a double victor. He took first in the 100 butterfly (1:00.0) and 100 backstroke (1:02.5).

Other Canton firsts were recorded by Simone, 200 individual medley, 2:16.2; and Luce, 100 breaststroke, 1:02.5.

Gaining second place finishes for the Chiefs were McKercher, 200 freestyle, 2:03.4; McBratnie, 200 IM, 2:22.8; Steve Gaggi, diving; Simone, 500 freestyle, 5:27.2; Hurley, 100 backstroke, 1:04.5; Greg Schnurstein, 100 breaststroke, 1:11.5; Gibbons, 100 butterfly, 1:03.9.

'And it was a lot nicer doing it in our home pool.'
— Bill McCord, Canton coach

Third place Canton finishers included Scott Simmons, 200 freestyle, 2:12.4, and 500 freestyle, 5:53.1; and Gibbons, 100 backstroke, 1:06.8.

"Simrak did a real nice job," said McCord. "That's an excellent time for his first time out in the 500 (freestyle).

"I thought Joe Gibbons also had some good times. They were all his personal bests."

The Chiefs will travel Thursday to Farmington Harrison. That meet gets underway at 7 p.m.

Women's bowling booster dies

in the pocket/W.W. Edgar

It seems rather strange that bowling, an indoor sport, could be called off because of snow. But that's what happened last week when a 10-inch white blanket covered the highways and made it almost impossible for the bowlers to keep their league engagements.

It was the first time in years that bowling has been postponed, but most leagues suspended operations on Tuesday night and the lanes were idle most of Wednesday.

THE DEEP concern being shown about high scores around the country is nothing new in the Detroit area.

For years, when the all-star leagues were being formed, the Garden Lanes on Woodward Avenue were the object of debate and it was said that the late Irv Gies "fixed" the lanes. When he left the Garden and opened the Olympic, high scores followed him. Later the now-long-gone Crest Lanes also were looked upon with concern. But nothing illegal ever was found.

BOWLING LOST one of its biggest boosters this week with the death of Margaret De Loof, sister of Agnes Ekstrom, president of the Detroit Women's Bowling Association. Marge was active among the old timers for years, and until recently always was seen at the women's functions.

"IT SEEMS more like old times," George Bashara said at Wonderland Lanes.

He was talking of the all-star classic that now has boosted its average to 199. "We used to average that figure some years ago. Then it fell off. But now the newcomers are improving and we are back to what we consider "old times."

CLOSE FINISHES are becoming the rule at Garden Lanes.

Only five pins seperated the two leaders in the women's morning league when Rose Said posted a 590 to beat Pat Pippel who closed with a 585.

In the County Road League only 11 pins settled the top three places. Marv Newton finally landed on top with 633. Tom Senne was next with 624 and Ken McLenon landed third with 622.

In the Vinco League, Al Kowalski won a close one when he found the range for a 658 and beat out Jerry Ohl by 13 pins. Al Webber was right behind with 636.

THE PIN BUSTERS had another high scoring spree at Plaza Lanes. When the last pin fell Ron Aman was leading the parade with a middle game of 268 in 679. Mike Switzier was only five pins behind with closing games of 237 and 233 in his 674. Dave Clark was in the third spot with 635 and Don Rousseau had a 631.

SEVERAL NEW NAMES popped among the leaders at Westland Bowl.

Jerry Segal topped the list with 626. Eddie Kort was his closest rival. He rolled a 232 in 603 and Roger Simonds wound up in third place with a 250 in 576.

AT SUPER BOWL Jean Simons had an unusual series in the Lucky Ladies League. She rolled a 224 game but wound up with a 594 series. Meanwhile Elaine Perkowski joined the 200 club with a game of 211.

FRED RINGROSE moved into the winner's circle again when he paced the Bel-Aire Classic with a 721. He posted counts of 232, 268 and 221. Meanwhile Cory Nesser missed breaking the 700 barrier by a single pin. He sandwiched a 255 middle game between counts of 214 and 230.

PISTONS HOLD PREP BASKETBALL SEMINAR

The Detroit Pistons will hold their first annual Boys High School Basketball Seminar prior to the Pistons' 8:05 p.m. game with the Boston Celtics, Saturday, Feb. 21 at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Among the speakers scheduled to appear include Piston center Kent Benson, forward Terry Tyler, assistant coach Don Chaney and Bob Samaras, who formerly coached at the University of Windsor.

The seminar will start at 5:45 p.m. with a tour of the Pistons' lockerroom. That will be followed by discussion with trainer Mike Abdenour on training techniques and conditioning.

The Pistons are offering specially-priced tickets for the game. All $7 seats will go on sale for a group rate of $3.50 per person.

For more information, call 338-HOOP.

SLOW-PITCH SOFTBALL MEETING SCHEDULED

An organizational managers meeting for the 1981 slow pitch softball season, sponsored by the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department, will be held at the end of the month.

The Men's Class A, B, C managers will meet at 10 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 28 at the Canton Recreation Center, 44237 Michigan Ave. at Sheldon. The women's meeting will be held at 1 p.m.

Among the topics to be discussed at the meeting are entry fees, registration dates and policies, team structures, rule changes, residency requirements and schedules.

For more information, call 397-1000.

SPRING HOCKEY LEAGUE TEAMS WANTED

The Garden City, Plymouth and Redford recreation departments have combined to offer a variety of spring hockey leagues for interested teams.

Among the classifications offered include Open, and Class A and B (Mite through Bantam). Garden City and Plymouth will offer Midget and Senior classes.

The entry fee is $117.50 for Mite through Midget division teams and $90 for Senior. All applications must be submitted by March 13.

Interested teams should contact Tim Whitson at 261-3491.

VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE GOES COED

Registration is now being held for a coed volleyball league, sponsored by the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department.

The five-week league, which begins April 12 at Hulsing School, is limited to six teams.

League play will be held 7-10 p.m. each Thursday. There will be no playoffs. Trophies will not be awarded.

The registration fee is $20 per team.

Registrations can be delivered in person or by mail to Canton Parks and Recreation Department, 1150 S. Canton Center Road, Canton 48188.

Cummins corners gold

Cummins is a name associated with high-powered machinery, mostly combines and tractors.

But for 8-year-old Cassie Cummins of Plymouth, she gets her power from a different source.

A student at Plymouth Christian Academy, Cummins made her own waves a week ago in the 32nd AAU Glass City Swim Invitational held at the West Toledo Y.

Representing the Livonia Spartan Aquatic Club, Cummins won five gold medals.

She set a meet record in the 25-yard backstroke with a time of 18.8.

The young swimmer also won the 100 individual medley (1:27.4), 100 freestyle (1:19.5), 50 freestyle (35.1) and 25 freestyle (16.6).

She is coached by Bill Dicks and Patti Poirier.

'Flatlanders' can boast respected downhill skiers

Skiers who read The Obsever & Eccentric Newspapers are not only called "Michiganders" or "Michiganians" — they are also unceremoniuosly called "flatlanders."

That's what midwesterners are often called to skiing inhabitants west of Denver, Colo., or east of Albany, N.Y.

But to the ski-wise anywhere, "flatlanders" also are respected as some of the best downhill skiers in the United States.

Boyne City, for example, boasts former Olympic contender and current pro-tour racer Cary Adgate.

Wisconsin has Scott Brooksback, who captured several prestigious freestyle trophies in the early and mid-1970's when freestyle skiing was still referred to as "hot dog."

FOREIGN ALPINE experts also have found enjoyment on the smaller midwest hills. Norway's Olympian Stein Eriksen spent some of his early years at Pine Knob and Boyne Mountain.

Sigi Grottendorfer, who now splits his time by directing ski activities at Portillo, Chile and Sugarbush, Vt., also instructed at Boyne.

And nearly every racer of merit, from Jean-Claude Killy to the late Spider Sabich to Billy Kidd, has emerged from "flatland" tours with the same enthusiasm displayed in Rockies races.

Kidd claims he could train any U.S. Olympic team on the Michigan hills of Brighton, Pine Knob, Holly or Alpine.

And he insists he isn't being solicitous.

"Midwest icing conditions are the best training surfaces for downhill racers," Kidd says.

WHILE SKIING on icing isn't a piece of cake, racing hopefuls know it as the "frosting" which can determine whether a skier can handle the most slippery conditions.

"Flatlanders" are a determined lot as demonstrated by the persistent efforts which led to the founding of the National Ski Hall of Fame in the Upper Peninsula community of Ishpeming.

Harold Grinden of Duluth, Minn., proposed the establishment of the hall when he was president of The National Ski Association (NSA) in the 1940s.

The NSA (now called the U.S. Ski Association) decided in 1944 that a permanent structure to house the facility should be in Ishpeming, birthplace of the NSA. In 1947, efforts to construct the facility began in earnest. Uncountable number of "flatlanders" solicited contributions from anyone remotely interested in the development and history of U.S. skiing.

The completed structure was dedicated Feb. 21, 1954.

NUMEROUS "FLATLANDERS" also have been among those receiving the Bronze Plaque Award — the Hall of Fame's highest honor.

These recepients include: Conrad Thompson, a Michigan native who won the first U.S. National Ski Jumping Championship in 1904 in Ishpeming; Iron Mountain's Walter Bietila, jumper on the 1936 U.S. Olympic team and captain of the 1948 team; Farmington's Henry Hall, the first American to establish world ski jumping distance marks and a national champion in 1916; and Julius Blegan of Minneapolis, Minn., national cross-country champion in 1911 and 1912 as well as 1932's Olympic team coach.

This year's atmosphere has cooperated enough to allow a real beginning, middle and end to the 1980-81 ski season, and because of it, metropolitan Detroit's 250,000 flatland skiers can be proud to ski on the little hills which have helped create some of the ski world's big champions.

THE BMW 320i. AN EFFICIENT LUXURY CAR WITH 36 MPG.
If the words "fuel efficient" conjure up images of small, practical cars hopelessly encumbered by their own virtues, we suggest you consider the BMW 320i.
For, while the 320i (with standard transmission) delivers an impressive 25 EPA estimated mpg, 36 estimated highway mileage and, based on these figures, an estimated mpg range of 383 miles and a highway range of 551 miles, it also delivers the sort of performance one associates only with a sports car.
(Naturally our fuel efficiency figures are for comparison purposes only. Your actual mileage and range may vary, depending on speed, weather and trip length. Your actual highway mileage and highway range will most probably be lower.)
If you'd care to judge the 320i for yourself, phone us and we'll arrange a thorough test drive.

William Hurt portrays a scientist who conducts a sensory deprivation experiment in "Altered States."

the movies

Louise Snider

'Altered States' moves dizzily through past eons

If you are goirg to see "Altered States" (R), better wear your rubber-soled sneakers as a precaution. This movie can zap you with its electrifying energy.

Ken Russell, no conservative when it come to striving for spectacular, nerve-shattering effects, directed this unusual sci-fi thriller.

It's unusual because the suspense and terror don't arise from the rampages of demented killers or monsters from outer space but from the evocation of mythic memories lying dormant within us.

That's what makes "Altered States" so interesting. For all its abounding silliness, there is a fascinating premise supporting the barrage of optical and electronic stimuli. Locked within every cell it postulates is the whole marvelous, painful, chancy history of human evolution. To tap these ancient memories is to relive that history.

WILLIAM HURT is the scientist (and the term must be regarded loosely in view of his conduct) who gets himself involved in a sensory deprivation experiment and can't quit.

Sealed in an ominous-looking metal tank, he experiences stange visions. First they are personal recollections and fears. Then when he intensifies the experience by taking a hallucinogenic drug, they become increasingly more bizarre.

His states of expanded consciousness rush beyond individual history to events from a biblical and scientific genesis. The viewer is hurtled along in the journey through time, space and evolutionary memory.

The psychedelic trip goes back to primordial man and, by kaleidoscopic suggestions, beyond that to the creation of the earth and even of the universe.

Unfortunately, this magic carpet ride ends in a crash landing. Specifically, this is where the movie goes ape. The scientist undergoes a temporary physical transformation in which he regresses to a simian-like creature. He bounds out of the tank and ends up spending an active night at the zoo.

THE SEISMIC swing in mood, from the exhilarating imaginary landscape to the real world with a ridiculous looking man-ape who resembles a discarded extra from "The Island of Dr. Moreau," is this movie's most disastrous episode.

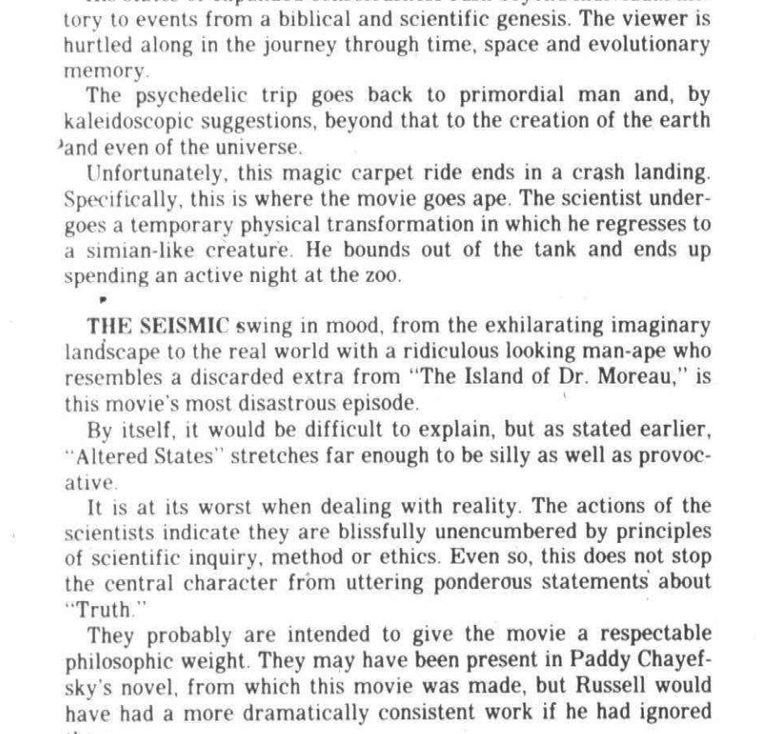

By itself, it would be difficult to explain, but as stated earlier, "Altered States" stretches far enough to be silly as well as provocative.

It is at its worst when dealing with reality. The actions of the scientists indicate they are blissfully unencumbered by principles of scientific inquiry, method or ethics. Even so, this does not stop the central character from uttering ponderous statements about "Truth."

They probably are intended to give the movie a respectable philosophic weight. They may have been present in Paddy Chayefsky's novel, from which this movie was made, but Russell would have had a more dramatically consistent work if he had ignored them.

Why not just admit the so-called scientist enjoys the extraordinary experience and forget the puffery and explanation?

No apology is needed for exploring a question that always has been with us. Not, "Where are we going?" which some generation or other will discern, but "Where did we come from?"

Blair Brown and Hurt appear in a scene from the film with bizarre special effects.

NEW RELEASES

A CHANGE OF SEASONS. (R). Superfluous film about "changing values in adult relationships," but nothing about this is very adult.

THE ELEPHANT MAN (PG). Largely true story of grossly deformed man rescued from sordid life by compassionate doctor. Fine acting by John Hurt, Anthony Hopkins and John Gielgud balances out directorial shortcomings.

FIRST FAMILY (R). Bob Newhart, Madeline Kahn and Gilda Radner in offbeat satire about White House residents and politics in general. Strong cast of character actors in comic roles.

THE JAZZ SINGER (PG). Ridiculous remake magnifies all the faults of the first talking motion picture made in 1927. The story doesn't get any better. The songs get worse.

KAGEMUSHA (The Shadow Warrior) (PG). Director Akira Kurosawa's spectacular epic of the struggle for power among rival clans in 16th century Japan told through the story of a thief who takes the places of a dying warlord he resembles.

NINE TO FIVE (PG). Comedy with Jane Fonda, Lily Tomlin and Dolly Parton as three secretaries who scheme to get rid of their boss.

ORDINARY PEOPLE (R). Robert Redford's directorial debut is a smash in this extraordinarily well-acted, moving film about a "perfect" family trying to cope with a son's mental illness.

POPEYE (PG). It will take more than spinach to save this "Popeye" from defeat brought on by slack direction, a highly forgettable musical score, and a generally mean conception of characters and situation.

RAGING BULL (R). Top performance by Robert De Niro in brutally realistic film about boxer Jake La Motta. Two-plus hours highlighing the life of a loathsome person.

SEEMS LIKE OLD TIMES (PG). Goldie Hawn, Charles Grodin and Chevy Chase in comedy about a lawyer, her ex-husband who robs a bank, and her current husband, the district attorney.

STIR CRAZY (R). Comedy with Richard Pryor and Gene Wilder as a couple of stranded show biz types who get framed for a bank robbery.

Where's Big Bird?

Super Grover discloses his Super Plan to Inspecter Farquar of the New York City Department of Missing Birds as they seek to discover the whereabouts of a missing, large, yellow bird in the new musical stage production "Sesame Street Live." The show, continuing through Sunday at the Masonic Temple in Detroit, is produced by Bob Shipstad and features Jim Henson's Sesame Street Muppets. For ticket information and show times call 832-2232.

Benefit concert stars Bill Cosby

Comedian-actor Bill Cosby will headline the entertainment at Hillel Day School's 12th annual concert at 8:30 p.m. March 14 at Ford Auditorium in Detroit.

The concert, which is the Farmington Hills school's main fund raiser, generates all its income from ticket and ad book sales.

Tickets are available on an advance basis only. Further information may be obtained by calling 851-2398 or 851-2394.

Bill Cosby's career started whenhe was doing part-time night club work while attending Philadelphia's Temple University.

Comedian Carl Reiner saw his act and was instrumental in Cosby's being signed to appear with actor Robert Culp in the pilot for the TV series "'I Spy." Cosby's performance in the series, about two spies disguised as tennis bums, won him three Emmy Awards and international recognition.

HE SUBSEQUENTLY starred in several weekly television shows including "The Bill Cosby Show" on NBC and CBS, and finally in an ABC show called "Cos." He also has written, produced, directed and starred in numerous television specials — both live and animated productions.

For years he has been a key participant in PBS TV's "The Electric Company" and more recently he has appeared regularly on "Captain Kangaroo."

To date, Cosby has released 26 record albums. He has received the Grammy Award for the best comedy album four times and has seven gold and six platinum records.

Cosby has starred in several films including "Hickey and Boggs," "Uptown Saturday Night," "Mother, Jugs and Speed" and "A Piece of the Action." His latest, "The Devil and Max Devlin," has just been released.

As a child, Cosby attended Philadelphia's Wister Elementary School which — along with his friends Fat Albert, Old Weird Harold, Dumb Donald, Rudy, Nolan and Weasel — was later immortalized by Cosby's comedy routines.

THROUGHOUT public school and later in the Navy, he participated in competitive sports, especially track and football. After his discharge, he enrolled at Temple on an athletic scholarship. While giving live concerts, recording, appearing on television and making films, Cosby earned his master's and doctoral degrees in education from the University of Massachusetts.

His doctoral thesis was entitled "The Integration of Visual Media via Fat Albert and the Cosby Kids into the Elementary Schools Culminating as a Teacher Aide to Achieve Increased Learning."

Cosby also has been involved in charitable and humanitarian work, having served as a member of the Carnegie Commission for the Future of Public Broadcasting and a director on the National Council of Crime and Delinquency.

1955 THUNDERBIRD

1982 FORD EXP

New 2-seater

Ford will revive the two-seater passenger car in April when it introduces the 1982 Ford EXP (bottom). The car's size and appeal are similar to the classic two-seater Thunderbird produced 1955-57. But unlike the 1955 Thunderbird, which was powered by a fuel-thirsty 4.8-liter V-8, the EXP will be powered by Ford's more fuel-efficient 1.6-liter four-cylinder CVH engine.

A less than willing bridegroom gets some encouragement from Wilton Enterprises. (Staff photos by David Frank)

Top it all off

Does your bridegroom have a mustache or is he balding a bit? Do you wear spectacles or are you just a little chubbier than those willowy brides gracing most wedding cake tops?

If your vows, music and wedding attire can reflect the two of you, so can the top of that wedding carrot or cheesecake.

Wilton Enterprises supplies a line of whimsical cake tops guaranteed to bring a smile to wedding guests. This year the do-it-yourself cake makers have added a portly bride and bridegroom kissing. And there's a bride pulling her bridegroom back by his coatails.

If you want those folks on the cake to look even more like you, a Troy woman handcrafts them to specifications.

Phyllis Styrk fashions cake tops and dolls for bridal tables from dip and drape material, which she paints with acrylic.

Using dip and drape material, Phyllis Styrk fashions cake top people to order.

Almost anything goes

For the sophisticate, an ivory two-piece dress in matinee length can be worn after the wedding as well. (Staff photo by David Frank)

By KATHY PARRISH

Planning a wedding has never been easy. There used to be a lot more rules, though, to guide engaged couples.

In today's wedding almost anything goes. Not merely a blueprint, each one reflects — through music, vows or bridal wear — a very special event.

Spring 1981 brides will walk down the aisle wearing everything from high-neck Victorian styles to strapless and off-shoulder dresses. Some will surround themselves with heavy veiling, while others will simply arrange flowers in their hair or pop on a picture hat.

"There's much more choice today; less rights and wrongs," said Carol Loudon, bridal buyer for Saks Fifth Ave. nationally.

"Brides are using their imagination. Just about everything goes this year — as long as its tasteful."

Fashion has relaxed generally over the past few years. But wedding styles have also changed with the brides. Bridal salons are seeing fewer 21-year-olds and more customers in their late 20s and early 30s.

"There aren't many young brides these days," said Sue Lepler, bridal consultant for Saks in Troy. "Career girls are taking the step later in life. They're more sophisticated and bringing more fashion to bridal."

"BRIDES TODAY want a more sophisticated look," said Marybelle Meyer, Troy manager for Kitty Kelly Bridal Salons.

Also changing the bridal industry is the growing number of second- and third-time brides. "There must be something good about marriage. They certainly remarry," said one bridal consultant.

"Second weddings have become a whole big business," said Maria Farrugia, general manager of Only You, Livonia.

1981 brides have for marriage

But while she stocks some informal gowns for the second-time-around, many remarrying brides now prefer formal dresses.

"They're really going in for second weddings in a big way," she said, noting that white is even desired by some. "They're not toning it down at all."

New York bridal designer Ron LoVece this year added a line for the second and third wedding. The dresses have a little more sophistication and often have jackets for coverup during the ceremony and a dress for partying after.

"She doesn't want to look like a 20-year-old, but wants to feel like a bride," said LoVece, showing his new line at Sue Gordon Bridal Salon, Birmingham.

"And too, maybe this is a first marriage for her husband. He wants her to look like a bride."

WHILE THERE are many options in 1981, looking like a bride seems to be important.

A very traditional look is in this spring. And designers are accommodating with fuller skirts and more lace and embroidery. Most brides are choosing long gowns, some with trains, but tea-length is increasingly popular.

Jacobson's Rochester bridal show was a dream-themed affair of very romantic dresses, including a Southern Belle gown and turn of the century dress.

Bridal consultant Susan Shade said two big changes this year are full skirts with layers of netting underneath "like a hoop" and more embroidery than applique.

"So far this year, brides have been looking at old-fashioned styles, with hoops, ribbons and bows," said Only You's Ms. Farrugia. "I think they want to be feminine again."

Mrs. Meyer is just one bridal consultant who is relieved that couples are returning to tradition. "It used to be field and bare feet. That's passe now, thank goodness," laire of Engaged Encounter, modeled after Marriage Encounter.

"Except it's based on the 60 or so years after the wedding."

Engaged Encounter, which will hold Christian-based marriage preparation seminars during 17 weekends this year, already is booked to July 11-12.

THE NON-DENOMINATIONAL organization holds seminars in four suburban Detroit locations, including St. John's Seminary in Plymouth and St. Basil's Center in Pontiac. It generally accommodates 30 couples a weekend.

Mary Bennett, who leads marriage preparation seminars for Convergence, Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit program, has noticed today's brides and bridegrooms are already settled in careers, making them better prepared for marriage and the financial obligations that come with running a household.

"A lot more of them are waiting until they get their individual selves settled," said the 23-year-old computer operator.

Both Engaged Encounter and Convergence, which holds weekend marriage preparation seminars four times a year at Mercy Center in Farmington Hills, stress communication.

"The basic goal is communication," Bellaire says. "It's what we stress from 'Hello, How are you?' Saturday morning to 'Bye, Hope you have a nice wedding' Sunday night."

"If you can communicate, you can discuss problems and come up with solutions."

Troy marriage counselor and clinical psychologist Alfred Cavaiani projects a decrease in the divorce rate during the 1980s.

MORE AND MORE couples want to work on their marriages, rather than end them, says Cavaiani whose practice at Marriage Growth Center in Troy has grown in recent years.

Cavaiani attributes this reversed trend to a "coming together" of the past two decades and the now-popular return to basic values.

The 1960s was the You Decade, Cavaiani says. "Everyone was out to do something for someone else. If you didn't have a cause, you weren't with it."

Conversely, the 1970s was the Me Decade. "It was an introspective age." Self-help books topped the best-seller lists.

The 1980s, Cavaiani predicts, will be the We Decade. With the uncertainty of the economy and world affairs, people will return to the values held aloft in the 1950s — intimacy and security.

"More people will want to make a commitment. Living together already is on the way out."

Getting ready

By KAREN SUE HERMES

Marriage in the 1980s will be challenging. Inflation and increasing unemployment will put added pressures on couples as they try to meet household expenses.

Yet, this decade's brides and bridegrooms will be better prepared than those of previous decades for that and other challenges of marriage, say people involved in pre-marriage counseling.

They'll also be more willing to work at improving their marriages, as they return to basic values such as intimacy and security, they add.

Today's couples are preparing for marriage, just as they prepare for their weddings. Along with hiring bands and securing halls, they're enrolling in marriage preparation seminars.

The Roman Catholic Church now requires engaged couples to take pre-marriage instruction before allowing the pair to be married in church.

"Marriage preparation is getting like every other wedding plan," says Mike Bel-

Reflecting your own style

They may wear blue jeans the rest of the time, but brides want to look feminine. This white chiffon gown with high embroidered neckline and pleated front panel fills the bill. (Staff photo by Art Emanuele) said the Kitty Kelly manager.

"I think girls want to look pretty again and want beautiful weddings."

Geneva Salyer has seen her Geneva's of Plymouth customers move away from simple lines. "I think kids are getting more sentimental; getting more into their heritage," she said, noting women are returning to buttons and loops rather than zippers covered with buttons.

SHE BELIEVES women are seeking an heirloom look, as well as something that will be stylish when their daughters marry.

"When the dollar is tight brides move away from trendy. They prefer a traditional style which will store well and maintain the look so they can hand it down."

But feminine and frilly does not necessarily mean prim in 1981. Many of the new gowns are cut low — often with a sheer lace between the neck and bodice. Designers have also made available strapless and off-shoulder gowns, which were popular with pioneer women.

"Off-shoulder isn't new," said Mrs. Loudon. "In pioneer days they wore much more decollete than now."

NOT AS LAVISH, bridesmaid dresses are more romantic looking this spring. Victorian and full hooped a la "Gone with the Wind" styles are available as well as traditional blouson and spaghetti strap dresses.

Pastels haven't lost their popularity, with apricot, peach, mauve and lavendar very strong.

Accessories go along with the new looks, making 1981 brides look like they stepped out of tintypes. Popular are gauntlets (partial gloves of the dress material), crocheted or lace gloves, parasols and fans.

"It's a very special occasion and girls want that special kind of look," said Ms. Lepler. "They're looking to be soft and feminine, even if they come in in bluejeans."

Accessories are also very romantic this year. A bridesmaid dressed in a high-neck grown with Brussels embroidery carries an old-fashioned parasol during Jacobson's Rochester bridal show. (Staff photo by David Frank)
