A courthouse for all?

Board reconsiders decision to opt out of plan

First of two articles on the 35th District Court.

By ARLENE FUNKE

Canton officials are taking a second look at joining a plan for a single courthouse to serve the five communities that make up the 35th judicial district.

About a year ago, Canton's Township Board voted against taking part in the project. The board opted to continue using a courthouse facility which had been set up in the basement of Township Hall.

An advisory group of representatives from each of the five communities had recommended the construction of a single courthouse on the basis of efficiency.

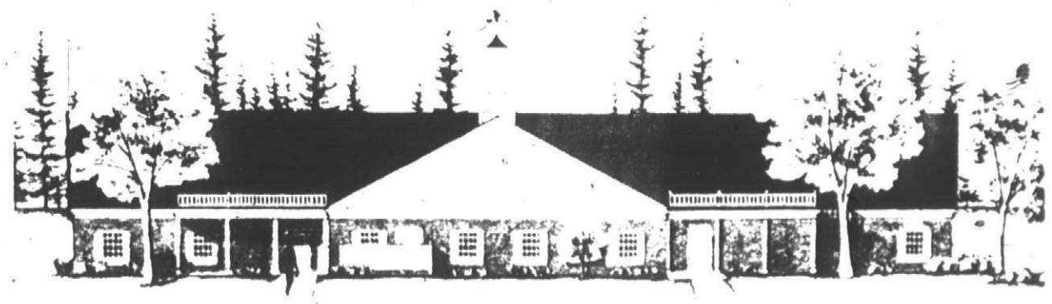

Going ahead with the plan were the four other communities in the district: The cities of Plymouth and Northville, Plymouth Township and Northville Township. A new courthouse is being erected on land owned by the city of Plymouth, located on Plymouth Road near Haggerty.

WHEN A NEW Canton Township Board was sworn in last November, talks were revived about joining the consolidation plan. Chief Judge James Garber has been meeting with members of the new board.

Garber estimates that Canton would save from $25,000-$60,000 a year by joining the consolidation plan.

"From a selfish point of view, we (judges) want to be in that (new) building," said Garber. "In the new court building we could consolidate tasks. We aren't taking the full advantage that there are two judges in this district."

Currently, Garber spends part of each week hearing cases in Canton and Northville. Judge Dunbar Davis works out of the courthouse in the Plymouth City Hall.

The Township's attorneys and finance director are reviewing projected costs. And the Township Board has the item set for its March 3 agenda. The matter was discussed at a special meeting of the board last Tuesday.

Earlier, some board members had expressed concerns about funds which had been spent in furnishing the current court facility in the basement of Township Hall.

Several talked about possibly forming a separate judicial district just for Canton. Others said they needed more time to review the plan.

Under terms of the agreement — which has been signed by the other four communities — the city of Plymouth will lease the building to the court for about $150,000 a year.

That cost — plus staffing, supplies, etc. — will be shared by the communities based on the percentage how much many court cases they generate. Currently, Canton accounts for 42 percent of the district's caseload.

If Canton joins the plan, it will carry its full share, said Garber. If the Township keeps its own branch open, it will still have to pay a portion of the operating expenses.

"If Canton comes in, they'll close down the branch (at Township Hall)," said Garber. "If they don't, a new agreement will have to be drawn up. A new formula for funding the courthouse would have to be negotiated."

Under state law, Canton could demand that ordinance violation cases and felony cases be heard in the Township's existing courtroom. However, Garber said that service probably would be cut back to perhaps only one day a week.

"THAT DOESN'T MEAN that Canton would be absolved from the (new courthouse) costs," said Garber. "They would be deriving benefit from the new building.

"Some of the cases would have to be arraigned at the new location" because defendants have a right to speedy action, said Garber.

Some members of the Township Board have discussed the possibility of Canton's forming a new district, a process that would involve action by the state legislature.

According to Garber, that could take three to five years, and "the trend is toward consolidation," rather than separation.

"The identity of Canton Township is something to consider," said Garber. "But is it worth that (much)?"

Next: A look at arraignments, jury selection and civil cases in the 35th District Court.

Police turn to grant to nail reckless drivers

Drivers, beware!

More stringent enforcement of traffic laws is headed for Canton's roads and highways if a grant application for $59,000 in federal funds is approved.

The money would be used to fund overtime costs of police officers for specific assignments at traffic trouble spots.

Police Chief Jerry Cox has admitted that current traffic enforcement in Canton is lax. He attributes sporadic enforcment to the growing number of criminal complaints handled by the young department.

At the same time, Cox notes a dramatic increase in the number of traffic accidents and injuries — particularly on Ford, Michigan, Cherry Hill, Lilley and Canton Center.

If approved, the $59,000 federal grant would fund $2,000 in radar equipment, 56 hours in weekly overtime for patrol officers and additional gasoline for traffic patrol cars.

LAST WEEK, the Township Board authorized submission of the grant application to the Office of Highway Safety and Planning, a state agency which administers the federal grant program.

Clerk John Flodin, who dissented in the 5-2 vote along with Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz, expressed concern about funding the program following expiration of the one-year grant.

"This worries me," said Flodin after the meeting. "It (more stringent traffic enforcement) is a good idea. But I think it may well be that we can't afford it."

The grant application, as approved by the Township Board, will contain a notation that the traffic program could be discontinued if local funds are unavailable.

Police Lt. Larry Stewart said $2,000 of the federal grant may have to be returned if the program is discontinued. Grant coordinator Terry Carroll said he could not assess the impact of the board's notation on the application's chance for approval.

At last week's meeting, board members also objected to a statement in the grant application draft which pegged a 25 percent increase in the number of traffic tickets as a goal of the proposed program.

"I hope that's not the purpose of any police agency," said Supervisor James Poole in reference to a ticket quota. "That's not a policy of this township, as far as I'm concerned.

But according to Stewart, the Office of Highway Safety and Planning — a division of the Michigan State Police — measures the success of traffic grant programs by the number of citations issued.

"(Canton police) are going to be looking for traffic violations that cause accidents. That may well result in a 25 percent increase in tickets," he said.

But Stewart insisted that quotas for traffic tickets will not be imposed.

"Certainly, this will make police more visible. Knowing that there are traffic officers out there may make people more careful. And that's super," he said.

The board's vote to submit the grant application included a directive to delete the ticket quota as a program goal.

THE GRANT APPLICATION attributes an increasing number of traffic accidents in Canton to a 352 percent population increase since 1970, drinking drivers and excessive speed.

"Obviously, the task of protecting 50,000 people and patrolling 183 miles of roadway leaves little time for a concerted effort toward reducing accidents and enforcing traffic laws," the application states.

The document notes that full-time police operations in Canton began in June 1978.

"There is insufficient manpower and equipment with the police department to cope with the traffic accident and traffic violation problems that currently exist."

Statistics pointed out in the application include:

• In 1977, there were 792 traffic acci-

For criticism of realignment

School principal gets reprimand

Word spread throughout the school district last week that a middle school principal had been disciplined for speaking out in public against the grade realignment and redistricting plans.

Bob Smith, principal of West Middle School, did in fact receive two written reprimands last week in the midst of the open forums on redistricting.

Smith announced to his staff, and publicly at an open forum Thursday night, that he was reprimanded because he had the fortitude to speak out in public against the so-called Plan III.

The rumors already had began to spread before Thursday night's forum that Smith had been disciplined by the school superintendent for speaking out.

Dr. John Hoben, superintendent, on Friday pointed out that Smith was not reprimanded by him but by John Telford, executive director of secondary education.

And Hoben denied that Smith was reprimanded for speaking out in public against the redistricting plan.

Because there was no school on Friday, neither Smith nor Telford could be reached for comment.

Thursday night, though, Smith announced publicly he had received a written reprimand for having the "fortitude" to speak out against the plan.

Hoben stressed the reprimands had nothing to do with anything Smith said at the open forums but was for things the principal said at administrative meetings and for things he said about peer administrators which were unprofessional.

Hoben said Smith has not worked through regular administrative channels and had circumvented the cabinet by appealing directly to the school board. At one cabinet meeting last week, Hoben added, Smith's language was abusive and the principal had made charges against another principal which was not correct.

The written reprimands from Telford reportedly were issued last Tuesday and Wednesday. The hearing at West was Thursday night.

The superintendent said he had been working with Smith for three years, with little success, trying to get him to work within the system.

Hoben added that Smith is a member of the principal's union and had the right to file a grievance if he felt the reprimands were unjust.

Smith's wife is a second-grade teacher at Bird Elementary and a member of the executive board of the teachers' union — the Plymouth-Canton Education Association (PCEA).

Smith was among the leaders opposing the grade realignment plan when it first was revealed last June, and West and Bird Schools have been in the forefront of opposing the current plan.

Hoben added that the school board was not impressed with the so-called West plan which Smith pushed, because it was aimed only at halting grade realignment and did nothing to solve the growth problems of the district.

If the West plan were implemented, added Hoben, the student population at the high schools would grow from 4,400 to 6,000 within five years.

He described the West plan as "a small bandaid for a very large sore."

Spat on highway triggers arrest

A Canton man and his companion face a March 2 preliminary examination in 35th District Court on charges of firing shots at a Garden City man after an argument.

Canton Police Lt. Larry Stewart said the incident — which took place during a chase through Canton and Westland — was "like cops and robbers."

Arraigned Thursday on charges of felonious assault and possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony were Daniel Fox, 22, of Lotzford in Canton. Also arraigned was Noah Ross, 24, of Howe in Wayne.

THE PAIR stood mute and District Judge James Garber entered a plea of innocent in their behalf. Each was released on $5,000 personal bond.

Stewart said Fox and Ross were riding in a Datsun pickup truck early Thursday morning when they became involved in a "verbal altercation" with another driver on Ford Road in Westland.

The other motorist — Robert Ross, 30, of Harrison in Garden City — also was traveling in a pickup truck.

"He (Robert Ross) followed them to a house on Lotzford," explained Stewart. "One (of the other men) went into the house and came back with a shotgun."

Stewart said Robert Ross fled in his truck, with the other two following. The chase finally ended in Westland when an officer from that city pulled over the trucks near Wildwood and Marquette.

Two shots fired from a 16-gauge shotgun hit the roof and tailgate of Robert Ross' truck, Stewart said.

Felonious assault carries a maximum penalty of four years in prison upon conviction. The possession of a firearms charge carries a penalty of at least two years.

State addresses foster home issue

Want to know more about state guidelines on group homes for the retarded?

A representative from the state Department of Social Services (DSS) will be at the Township Board meeting Tuesday to answer questions about group homes.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m., and is held in Township Hall on Canton Center Road.

Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz said Tom Kennedy, director of the licensing division of the DSS, was invited to attend the meeting. Group homes must be licensed by that agency.

SEVERAL PERSONS have asked how they can find out about guidelines and how to express concerns, said Ms. Falkiewicz.

"It isn't that we want to open a can of worms. Residents felt we approved it."

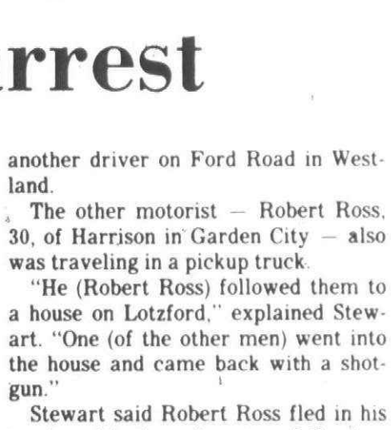

A state law designed to get mentally retarded persons a less restricted lifestyle removes control from the municipality.

Under the law, group homes for six persons or less may be located in residential areas. They cannot be within 1,500 feet of an existing facility.

Several group homes have opened in Canton, and licenses are pending for others, said Ms. Falkiewicz.

Board praised for listening

Editor:

As one of the many Plymouth-Canton parents concerned with ESY shifts and redistricting, I was one of the thundering herd that took the school board to task, questioned current plans, presented alternative proposals and generally demanded responses and answers.

In retrospect, whether or not I agreed with the board's responses, I must admit that answers were provided. The school board and administration can not be accused of operating in a vacuum on the current redistricting problem.

After the dust has settled and the final plan is formulated, the board should be given credit for squarely facing the public and providing open forums for interested groups and individuals to air their grievances.

Several local sessions were attended, upon request, by board and administration members prior to the full-blown middle school open forums held last week. At these meetings, it was announced that one all-encompassing final public forum will be held to receive input to the board's final plan prior to its actual implementation.

Obviously, the final solution to the student housing problem will not satisfy everyone. Placing students in facilities lacking adequate capacity presents the board with a real challenge.

However, although at odds with certain portions of the board's plan, I personally feel the public was given a fair opportunity at understanding the problem and providing input.

As an aside, certain recent editorials and letters to the editor castigating various citizen interest groups as "disgusting" and "self-centered" seems to me to deny the democratic process, which inherently gives people the right to express their views (whether they are popular or not).

Aren't these self-appointed critics really saying, "You are dead wrong because you don't think exactly as I do?" Certainly, we can all recognize this logic as something other than democratic.

Finally, the success of the middle school open forums was material enhanced by the excellent job CEP FM Station WSDP did in its broadcast coverage. The student operating and broadcast crew successfully participated in an execution of public service broadcasting at its finest and should be applauded for their efforts.

Canton remains part of district

Editor:

I am writing to voice my concern about the proposed boundary changes occurring this year in our school district.

First of all, this is the Plymouth-Canton school district. It is unfortunate, but several of the people in Plymouth seem to forget that Canton is part of their school system.

They are wasting so much time and energy bickering about whose school is better, whose house is bigger, whose property values are more, that they are losing their perspective in this issue.

The should be working with, not against, the people in Canton towards a common goal — having the best school system we possible can.

Nobody likes change. The Canton people didn't like it years ago when they first heard about ESY. But they accepted it. They learned to live with it.

Several have lived for years with one child on TSY, and one child on ESY. They survived well. It did not break up family unity. It did not mean never again taking a family vacation together. It did not mean the working mothers would have to quit work because they would never be able to find a sitter willing to work only three weeks out of 12.

Mothers in Canton hve been working for years with no sitter problem. These are not the problems the Plymouth people are suggesting that they are.

It is not the school district's responsibility to provide teachers to babysit for the convenience of the parents. It is the school district's responsibility to provide the best education possible for all students in the district on an equal basis.

The people in Canton have been living with ESY for several years. It is about time the people in Plymouth share the program!

If the people in Plymouth think ESY is so inferior, why didn't they say so years ago when Canton was introduced to it? Why have the people in Plymouth defeated millages and bond issues, when the people in Canton have generally passed them?

Will the people in Plymouth support a bond issue so we can build enough schools so that every school in the district can be a TSY school, if TSY is so superior?

Plymouth-Canton's problem does not have an easy solution. We must try to remember the primary function of the school is to give every child the equal opportunity to be educated to their maximum potential.

Thanks given for rescue

Editor:

I would like to give a big word of thanks to the Plymouth Township Rescue Squad men. For many years my husband has had heart trouble and over those years we have had to call on them to take him to the hospital. They are fast to get here and are very, very well trained. And they are very kind and gentle to my husband and me, too.

When I need help, I know the best place in the world to get it!

Again, thank you very very much for your wonderful help for this time, and all the other times, Plymouth Township rescue squad men!

Skate-a-thon is set for burn institute

A skate-a-thon is being planned for March 4 by the Plymouth Jaycees to raise funds for the National Institute for Burn Medicine in Ann Arbor.

The skate-a-thon will be held from 7 to 10:30 p.m. on Wednesday, March 4, at the Riverside Arena, which is near the point where Plymouth Road and Ann Arbor Road meet in Livonia.

Skaters will be checking in at the arena at 6:30 p.m. on March 4. For each skater there will be an entry fee of $2.75 and skate rental of 75 cents.

Each skater is asked to sign up sponsors and to urge each to pledge a minimum of $1 per hour. Because the skate-a-thon only lasts 3½ hours, explains project chairman Lloyd Ingram, the minimum donation would be $3.50.

Sponsor sign-up sheets may be obtained through March 4 at the First National Bank of Plymouth on Main Street just south of Ann Arbor Trail.

The Plymouth Jaycees, who support the burn institute financially each year, have pledged for the 1980-81 year to raise $1,500 for the center.

The Jaycees already have raised $1,000 for the burn institute, primarily from cannisters and its Red Ball project last summer.

Ingram hopes to raise at least $500 from the skate-a-thon to complete the Jaycees' obligation.

"The dollars raised by the Jaycees this year will make it possible to continue the fight against the very serious burn problem here in Michigan," said Michael James, director of program development at the institute.

"This year more than 100,000 individuals will suffer burns requiring some form of medical attention, more than 3,000 will be hospitalized, and about 400 will die.

"Burns remain the third leading cause of accidental death in the U.S. and the leading killer of children in the home."

Volunteer trainers wanted for CPR

A call has been put out for residents willing to volunteer as instructors of the life-saving cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) technique.

Free instruction to qualify a person as a CPR instructor is being offered by the American Red Cross in cooperation with the continuing education division of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

When the lessons were offered last year some 30 residents qualified as trainers, says Dave Dursum, community education coordinator.

But now only 15 of that original group of trainers still are available on a regular basis to offer CPR instruction.

Because of the need for more instructors, the Red Cross has agreed to train up to 40 residents during the month of March.

To make it easier to sign up, the community education department is scheduling morning, evening and Saturday classes.

The morning classes will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on March 4, 5 and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on March 10, 12.

LEARN HOW TO SAVE A LIFE!

As a community service, Botsford General Hospital will be offering a free training program for area citizens in cardiopulmonary resusitation (CPR). The ultimate purpose is to enable citizens to perform CPR for heart attack victims until emergency medical personnel arrive. Certified instructors will teach the course.

The one session, 3 hour "Heart Saver" course will be offered Thursday, March 5 at 7 p.m. in Classroom 203 on the second floor of the Botsford Professional Building which is located in front of the hospital. The CPR course will resume its regularly scheduled monthly meeting on the first Thursday of each month thereafter.

To pre-register, please call 476-7600, Ext. 444 on Monday thru Friday from 8:30 AM-4:30 PM. Class size is limited so please register early. Botsford General Hospital is located at 28050 Grand River Avenue, Farmington Hills, 48024 (north of 8 Mile Rd., behind the Botsford Inn.)

Communities prepare for property tax appeals

Taxpayers next week will begin making official appeals that their property is worth less money than claimed.

Tax boards of review will begin meeting March 3 in Canton, Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

And in 1981 the review boards may be hearing many more appeals than in earlier years because of a state law enacted two years ago.

That law requires each class of property — residential, commercial, industrial, agriculture — to be separately equalized at 50 percent of true market value as required by the Michigan Constitution.

In the past whenever local assessors valued land at less than 50 percent of market value, the state would apply a state equalized value (SEV) multiplier factor against all property classes as a whole so that the entire municipality's tax base would be at 50 percent of market value.

The law (Public Act 114) requiring equalization by class was introduced by Rep. Roy Smith, R-Saline, whose 52nd District includes Plymouth and part of Plymouth Township.

Smith said the bill was needed because most municipalities in Wayne County, for political reasons, under-assess homeowners' property and over-assess commercial and industrial.

An SEV factor does bring the municipality's total tax base up to 50 percent, Smith argued, but it also increases the inequity between industrial/commercial and residential as the multiplier increases the disparity.

Smith particularly was upset with practices in Dearborn where Ford Motor Co. and other corporations paid relatively high property tax bills and homeowners paid relatively little.

This year, because of PA 114, Dearborn homeowners will receive a 50 percent increase in assessments. Of that increase, one-third is caused by malpractice in assessments and one-sixth is caused by inflation.

In Plymouth Township, residential property is locally assessed at only 24.77 percent of market value and so an SEV factor of 2.0186 is being applied this year. (24.77 x 2.0186 is 50 percent).

In contrast, commercial property which is assessed at 34.97 percent of market value is receiving an SEV multiplier this year of 1.4299.

For Plymouth Township homeowners, property assessments are increasing this year by 29.96 percent. Of this amount 8.3 percent is caused by the new law while 18.66 percent is caused by inflation.

In Canton Township, homeowners will receive a property assessment increase of 18.88 percent of which only 1 percent is caused by the new law and 17.8 percent by inflation.

The city of Plymouth anticipated the effects of the law and last year made a major increase in residential value to bring the classes close together.

As a result, city of Plymouth homeowners will face an increase in assessed values of some 20 percent but less than one-fourth of 1 percent is caused by the new law.

IN THE LAW, Smith provided for a two-year delay so that local assessors could gradually make the change to produce less of a shock against homeowners.

Most municipalities in Wayne County, however, did not take advantage of that two-year period.

Because most cities and townships didn't adjust since 1979 there presently is a "shock wave" sweeping through Wayne County as homeowners learn of the SEV increases.

That reac?tion has resulted in a number of pleas for help being made to state lawmakers, with most suburbs lining up behind a measure which would further delay implementation of PA 114.

State Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, was among those lawmakers urging the legislature to repal the law. Geake's district includes Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

State Rep. Thomas Brown, D-Westland, whose district includes Canton and part of Plymouth Township, says that local government and school district resolutions on PA 114 may mislead the taxpayers.

"The use of 31 percent increases and 26 percent increases in stating the effect PA 114 will have upon a tax bill is erroneous. The 31 percent and 26 percent increases include the normal economic effect of inflation, high market value and low local assessments."

'I do not believe that totally proper assessing is carried out in any of the assessing units of this state for the reason that it is not politically advisable to be responsible for assessments on a person's property.'

— State Rep. Tom Brown

Brown also pointed out that the real increase in assessments is the difference between the 1981 SEV factor and the 1980 SEV factor.

Thus, added Brown, the factor increase for Canton is really 14 percent and for Plymouth Township 17.10 percent. And these increases will remain in effect, claims Brown, even if the legislature delays, phases in or abolishes PA 114.

GEAKE SAYS he was opposed the the bill in 1979 and believes implementation this year is untimely.

Geake claimed that in some areas farmers and homeowners are experiencing tax increases of 30-50 percent because of the law.

"Residents cannot afford these increases in the midst of our severest recession," says Geake, "They know that property tax reform is likely to come to something this year anyway to help create a better system, and they realize that the Headlee Amendment is not going to help them out in this case.

"We have to realize that property owners classified 'residential' go to the polls," Geake warned fellow senators, leaving the implication clear that businesses and industries cannot vote.

Geake urged the Senate to repeal the law or at least delay its implementation or phase in the change.

"We cannot begin to relieve the commercial and industrial classifications at the expense of the residential and agricultural in one fell swoop."

BROWN POINTS out that implementation now also is untimely because it comes at a time when market values are the highest they've been in history based on residential sales of the last three years.

The equalization by class concept should have been implemented in 1966, he added.

"I do not believe that totally proper assessing is carried out in any of the assessing units of this state for the reason that it is not politically advisable to be responsible for assessments on a person's property. It is a lot easier and more acceptable to be accorded a way out by placing the blame for high taxes on someone else. . . ."

Brown added that all local units of government can offset the impact of the higher SEV by lowering the millage rate. Keeping the same millage rate when SEV goes up, adds Brown, without regard to taxpayers' ability to pay, "is highly irresponsible on the part of local units of government."

If local assessment of a house is $6,000, explained Brown, and the SEV is $12,000, than the local unit should reduce its millage by 50 percent if it wants fair taxation.

"However, it has been the practice, and from all indications will continue to be the practice, of local units of government to use the constitutionally demanded statewide equalization they claim they do not support."

Last year, continued Brown, State Sen. William Faust, D-Westland (whose district includes Canton), urged a one-year moratorium on tax equalization by freezing assessments.

The Legislature received a deluge of protest, added Brown, from local governments because they have become accustomed to "the no-fault tax raise known as state equalization."

"Raising your taxes through this method, the local officials hold themselves blameless and tell you, the taxpayer, that the state raised your taxes. The state does not spread millage against your home. The state does not collect any property tax."

Brown charged that inequities in assessment practices have occurred because of "the political misunderstanding of whose responsibility it is to establish fair assessments. It is really a local issue, but the assessors are not equipped or properly staffed to do their job."

Brown said he personally would back delaying implementation of PA 114 until tax year 1984 so that a complete study of taxation and assessment could be made.

Boards of review to meet

Local tax boards of review will begin meeting nex week.

In Canton the board of review will begin meeting on March 3 and continue in session until all appeals have been heard.

The Canton board will meet from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and on March 9 will hear cases from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 3-9 p.m.

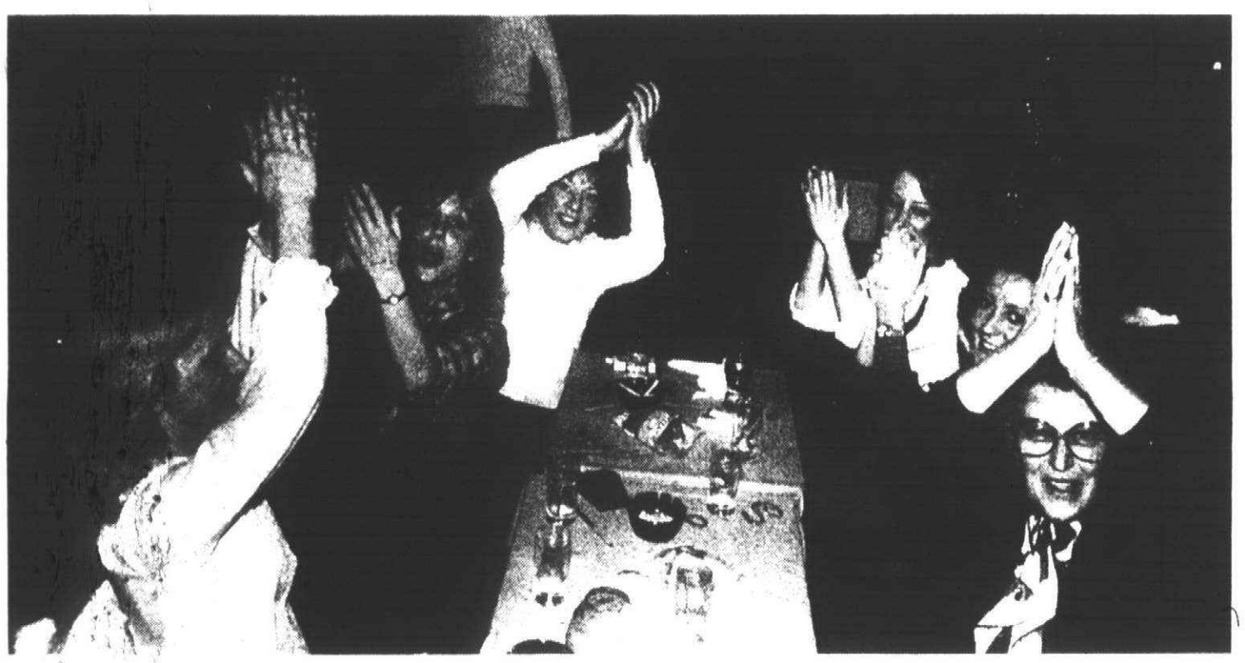

The Plymouth Township Board of Review will meet from 9 a.m. to noon and from 2-5 p.m. March 3 and 10 and from 2-5 p.m. and 6-9 p.m. on March 9.

Commercial, multiple and industrial owners may make an appeal by making an appointment from 9 a.m. to noon and from 2-5 p.m. on March 19.

In the city of Plymouth, the board of review will meet from noon to 6 p.m. March 3 and from 3-9 p.m. on March 4.

Property owners wanting to protest their tax assessments should obtain a petition from city or township hall. Presentation of the petition will allow an appearance before the board of review.

The decisions of the local boards of review also may be appealed up to the Michigan Taxation Commission.

Clapping their hands to show their appreciation of male go-go dancers at the Players Lounge are five sisters, Patricia Grams, Christine Kozub, Mary Weber, all of Canton Township, Jan Sirwaitis of Southfield; Barbara Bugg of Taylor, and their mother, Fran Sirwaitis of Detroit. They were holding a bachelorette party for Jan, who was married Saturday. (Staff photo)

Ladies' night out

Up front with Donnie 'Hot Buns'

By LEONARD POGER

Young women and a few grandmother-types last Wednesday made it perfectly clear they like Donnie "Hot Buns," Mack the Hammer, Sexy Eyes, and Alex "The Ultimate."

They cheered, clapped and took photos. Also enjoying the fun were five sisters and their mother who held a bachelorette party for a Southfield woman who was married Saturday night.

The scene of the fun was Players Lounge, on Ford near Merriman, which is also the scene of a legal controversy.

The Garden City police department feels the male go-go dancers who perform at the Wednesday "Ladies' Night Out" violate Michigan Liquor Control Commission rules which prohibit disorderly conduct and nudity.

The department's recommendation is based on the report of Margaret Smith, a police officer, who sat in for three shows on a recent Wednesday night.

Ms. Smith reported that the male dancers stripped down to their G-strings and during a "wet-down" of the garment, the genitals of one dancer were exposed.

The Garden City Council will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. tomorrow in City Hall on the department's request to recommend suspension or revocation of the lounge's entertainment license. The state LCC will later decide if the license should be pulled.

In any case, the license granted last Oct. 20 expires April 30.

BUT BACK AT the lounge during "Ladies' Night Out," emcee Mark Anthony makes clear that the dancers and the management are aware of the publicity generated by the police department's visit.

At several points, he asked the estimated 80 women in the audience:

"Did we do anything indecent?"

He seemed more offended that Feb. 16 Garden City Observer story on the dispute didn't include his name.

Later he said, "If we don't get busted (by the police) we're going to go crazy in the second set."

He also said there would be no illegal dancing of the performers on patrons' tables.

But he questioned: "Who voted for that law?"

During the routine of "Magic Mike," the emcee urges his audience to give him a loud "ya hoo!" — which they did.

THE FIVE DANCERS start out with their dress outfits on and quickly strip down to their patterned or colored G-strings to the sound of go-go music.

All the while, the young women in the audience are cheering them on, taking photos with pocket Instamatics, and obviously enjoying every minute.

According to the promotional ads, men are prohibited from entering the lounge until after the dance routines are over.

How do the women feel about the new entertainment craze?

Of eight questioned, there was a unanimous feeling that the male dancers are fun to watch and some said they would take their mothers to see them.

And one group of five sisters did just that Wednesday night.

THE FIVE and mom were holding a bachelorette party for the sister who was scheduled to be married Saturday night.

The new bride is Jan Sirwaitis, 31, of Southfield.

She said the suggestion to go to a male go-go party came from her sister, Patricia Grams, 27, of Canton Township.

Pat wanted her sister to have "one last fling."

Would Jan come back after her honeymoon to see Donnie "Hot Buns" and his dancing partners?

"Yes — if my husband doesn't see me," she said.

How does mom feel about it.

Mrs. Fran Sirwaitis, of Detroit, said that the entertainment "is a little unusual" but feels that Donnie "Hot Buns" is "pretty good — but don't quote me."

Mrs. Sirwiatis' other three daughters at the party also expressed support for the male go-go dancers. They are Christine Kozub, 37, of Canton Township; Mary Weber, 34, of Canton, and Barbara Bugg, 23, of Taylor.

Other young women in the crowd also made it clear they see nothing wrong with the male dancers.

"This is my first time at a go-go," said Diane Dubicki, 25, of Dearborn, "and I'm having a great time.

"Women are entitled to have a good time.

"Donnie 'Hot Buns' is great. I'm going to tell my mother to come next time."

Chiming in with similar comments was Suzanne Jean, 24, also of Dearborn, who was at her first male go-go performance.

"I'm definitely having a great time.

"I wish my mom would come, but my grandmother wouldn't believe her eyes."

ON THE POLITICAL side of the dispute, Ted Miedlar, a partner who owns the lounge, doesn't understand why the police department is giving him a hard time.

He pointed out that Ramie's Lounge in Garden City had "male exotic dancers" last fall and the police didn't bother the owner.

The dispute over dancers Donnie, Alex, Mack and the issue of male go-go dancers is now up to the Garden City Council.

While the council won't have the last word, it will have a key role in deciding the recommendation to be sent to the state LCC.

For shopping center

Developer wins site OK

Site plans have been approved for a 70,000-square-foot shopping center on Lilley south of Joy.

The Golden Gate Center will include grocery, drug and hardware stores as well as a variety of other retail outlets, according to a spokesperson for developers Nick and Ed Tufenkjian of Novi.

Planner Jim Kosteva said the Golden Gate will equal approxiately half the size of Harvard Square shopping center at Ford and Sheldon.

The plans were approved recently by a 5-2 vote of the Canton Township Board despite Kosteva's concerns that another shopping center is not needed in Canton.

Kosteva recommended tabling the developers' request for special use approval. The approval is needed in order to build shopping centers in a C-3 zoning district. To win a special-use permit, developers must demonstrate a need for the project and its non-harmful impact on the surrounding area.

"The township has several large shopping facilities with a problem of holding onto tenants," said Kosteva. "You have the discretion of determining whether the community needs this (development)."

The board, however, voted to grant the special use permit — as well as site plan approval — after a representative of the developer noted the number of housing units near the proposed development and the absence of a shopping center in the immediate area.

Voting no on both the site plan and special use permit were Supervisor James Poole and Trustee Carol Bodenmiller.

In other action last week, the board approved site plans for a professional office complex at the southwest corner of Cherry Hill and Haggerty. Poole cast the only dissenting vote in the 6-1 decision to approve the project.

Cops arrest man with hubs

Livonia police are seeking a warrant against a 33-year-old Canton Township man who they say had 29 hubcaps in his car when he was arrested Thursday.

Police withheld the man's name pending approval of a warrant.

The man was arrested about 8:30 p.m. Thursday on Plymouth east of Middlebelt by police responding to a telephoned complaint about a man stealing hubcaps in the parking lot of the Terrace Theater.

The man's 1972 Chevrolet matched witness descriptions of the vehicle involved in the hubcap theft.

Police found four hubcaps on the floor of the car and, after placing the man under arrest and impounding his car, found 25 more in the trunk.

Dyer wins high grades from board

Timothy Dyer, Wayne-Westland Community Schools' superintendent for 7½ years, isn't perfect.

But his seven bosses, the Board of Education, think he comes pretty close.

In a twice-a-year performance review and evaluation, the board Saturday gave Dyer a 4.7 rating out of a maximum of 5.0.

The evaluation covered professional and leadership qualities, curriculum, student relations, adult and community education, community and public relations, business and finance, employee relations, management skills, and relations with local, state, and federal governments.

Dyer said the board met in a special session Saturday morning because of scheduling problems of board members. State law requires they be held in open session.

Wayne-Westland schools

The district serves southeast Canton.

THE BOARD will formally adopt the evaluation and act on his new contract with improved salary in a business meeting to start at 7 p.m. Monday.

The superintendent, 42, is now paid $56,000 a year, plus fringe benefits. Last summer he received a 7 percent pay hike.

Dyer said the board is expected Monday to approve a raise in the form an annuity as a tax shelter. The annuity, expected to take effect July 1, would represent $4,480.

Dyer said his current four-year contract, due to expire June 30, 1983, will be replaced a new three-year contract with the option for an additional year.

The superintendent, appointed to the post in mid-June, 1973 when he was Stevenson Junior High School principal, has the third longest tenure of Wayne County superintendents.

The administration disclosed the details of his evaluation in a Friday afternoon interview.

The board's evaluation included 37 "outstanding' references in the highest ranking and 15 in the next highest, "above average." None were in the next three lower categories.

One area in which Dyer was graded relatively low (3.95 out of a maximum of 5.0) was in accepting "suggestions or criticism intelligently and in the spirit of mutual goodwill."

BUT DYER in his own self-evaluation noted that his "forcefulness" is "misunderstood."

He added:

"I consider myself to be a forceful and effective leader. Being Irish and sensitive, I do have a tendency to lose my temper and be more forceful and graphic than is necessary in order to explain what I consider to be so obvious. It is a shortcoming that I must always work on."

In specific areas on the evaluation, here is how Dyer was rated on a scale of one to five:

Personal and professional qualities, 4.5; Instruction (curriculum, student relations, adult and community education), 4.7; community and public relations, 4.3; business and finance, 4.8; employee relations, 4.5; management skills, R W 4.3; business and finance, 4.8; employee relations, 4.5; management skills, 4.6; intergovernmental relations, 4.9; and overall evaluation, 4.7.

IN HIS OWN self-evaluation, Dyer said that his biggest disappointment is the "inability to convince appropriate authorities at the state and national level that they must abandon a reliance on property taxes to support the most important function of an orderly society — education.

"Last June, we did propose to MAISL (Michigan Association for Improved School Legislation — a special interest group of western Wayne County school districts) — that a coalition be established to study the question of a more equitable method for funding education in Michigan.

"This coalition is now under way and hopefully in subsequent evaluation sessions we will find this shortcoming erased."

The superintendent pointed out that under his administration, students' achievement scores have increased, a new vocational technical center is nearly complete, the administration has been reorganized, five-year goals established and labor peace with the district's employees' unions has been gained without "labor unrest."

Foster home site selected

Plans have been announced to locate an adult foster care home in the city of Plymouth.

The home, to be used as a dwelling place for six or fewer mentally retarded adults, is at 741 Beech Court.

The home was owned by Dr. Arthur Gulick, a retired medical doctor who lived in Plymouth for many years and now is spending most of his time in Florida.

An application to license the building as an adult foster care home for six adults has been filed by the owner with the Michigan Department of Social Services.

Earlier this month, the city of Plymouth sent out letters to homeowners within 1,500 feet of the building informing them of the proposed change in use.

Residents with questions, or with opinions they wish to express may contact Marjorie Murrell or Thomas Stark at the Michigan Department of Social Services area office at 41001 W. 7 Mile, Northville, or by calling their office at 349-8000.

Residents also may ask questions to Edgar Talbot, chief building inspector, city of Plymouth, by calling 453-1234, ext. 45.

The licensing of single-family homes as adult foster care homes is part of a statewide effort to reduce the number of mentally retarded adults confined to large institutions by placing them in homes.

The city of Plymouth presently has a larger facility, Opportunity House at Wing and Deer, for mentally retarded adults.

Carrie's one of us . . . almost

Carrie Maier, who becomes a U.S. citizen March 9.

By MARY GNIEWEK

When 9-year-old Carrie Maier becomes a U.S. citizen on March 9 she'll have plenty of friends to congratulate her — all of her third-grade classmates.

Teacher Arlene Scheiber and 28 classmates from the Larkshire elementary school in Farmington will witness the naturalization proceedings in the U.S. District courtroom of Judge Patricia Boyle in downtown Detroit.

Carrie's quest for citizenship began more than a year ago, according to her mother, Maureen Maier.

Mrs. Maier and her husband, Alan, adopted their youngest daughter in October 1979 from an orphaange in Bogota, Columbia.

Citizenship proceedings began almost immediately. Finally given the green light from the U.S. Department of Immigration and Naturalization, Mrs. Maier asked the court for a date convenient for Carrie's class to attend.

A flag will fly over the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C., in Carrie's name March 9, and she'll be presented with it at a later date.

That's a lot of excitement generated for a pretty, long-haired girl who spent her preschool years in a Colombian orphanage. The only reprieve came when she was 5 and lived with a Colombian family for seven months.

But when a social worker found Carrie working in the family's store, she moved the child back to the orphanage.

THE MAIERS, who have two older children, Vicki, 13, and Ted, 11, have an affinity for Colombian children. The family is the sponsor of three Colombian children through an organization called World Vision International.

"My husband wanted to adopt one of the little girls, but we couldn't," Mrs. Maier explained. Although the sponsor family helps out financially, the children live with their natural parents.

So the Maiers contacted Colombian American Friends, an Ann Arbor-based agency which acts as liaison with Social Services Inter Country Adoptions.

"They make it very hard (to adopt) because they want to make sure you really want to go through with it," Mrs. Maier said.

The family passed the roadblocks and in October 1979 the Maiers traveled to Bogota to meet their daughter, a veteran of orphanage life since age 1.

"The children were convinced she couldn't talk," Mrs. Maier recalled. "It took her three days."

After three weeks in the South American sun, the family returned to Farmington Hills with Carrie.

"She needed a birthday within two weeks of the time she got home. we gave her one — Nov. 18."

To Carrie, everything in her new home was "bonita" (pretty) and she had a hard time believing the new material possessions were hers. She's still possessive of her bedroom.

"I THINK she used to put a matchstick in the door to see if anyone was in her room while she was gone," Mrs. Maier said.

Adds Ted, a fifth-grader at Larkshire: "She can come into our rooms whenever she wants, but we can't go into her room."

Carrie is very quiet about her past. Her teacher says she's starting to lose comprehension of Spanish, though she's helping a classmate who came from Argentina just a month ago.

Four months into her new life, the family took a winter cruise of the Caribbean Sea, and Puerto Rico was one of the ports of call.

"Carrie didn't want to speak Spanish there," Mrs. Maier said. "She just refused."

Carrie speaks English like a midwesterner. She gets help from a bilingual aid in school but her classroom teacher says her progress is "right along with the other children. She's very good."

Her favorite subjects are math and gym.

CUT DOWN MICHIGAN'S UNEMPLOYMENT.
CUT OUT THIS COUPON.

Michigan's unemployment rate is the highest in the country. At Michigan National Corporation Banks, we're trying to do something about it. We believe you should receive a $500 federal tax credit for the purchase of a 1981 American-built automobile. Let's all help reduce unemployment and get Michigan's economy rolling again. Fill out the coupon and send it to your senator.

To start things rolling, we've lowered our prime interest rate. Again.

While other banks in this area are keeping their prime rate high, at Michigan National we're lowering ours. In fact, at the time of this writing, we have the lowest prime rate in the country. If you like our attitude, make your voice heard. Move your checking and savings accounts to Michigan National.

New firm offers home energy audit

A new business in the energy conservation field has opened to serve the needs of residents in the Plymouth-Canton community.

The new energy services are being offered by the Energy Connection of Plymouth.

Brenda Croteau of Canton, Curt Powers and Jeffrey Powers of Southfield have developed a concept geared toward cutting home utility bills and conserving natural resources.

The method is an in-home energy audit.

Teams of home consultants are dispatched by appointment to a particular home for the purpose of determining areas of home heat loss and to detect areas of excessive energy consumption.

The resident is interviewed and offered some complimentary suggestions that should save the average homeowners at least 10 percent of their annual home energy costs, according to Croteau.

Lifestyles and preferred home comfort levels are considered, she adds, and interior and exterior home structure, insulating factors, appliances, plus present fuel/utility costs are analyzed and an indepth audit checklist completed by the consultant.

During a pre-arranged follow-up visit, the homeowner receives a pamphlet of general energy-saving tips plus a written and graphic presentation outlining specific energy-saving recommendations (including many do-it-yourself projects), approximate cost factors and calculated savings projections.

The cost of the audit is $35.

Additional information can be obtained from the Energy Connection of Plymouth by calling 453-6471 or 354-4285.

Discussions of the new unemployment compensation law, effective March 1, will highlight the new maximum levels, voluntary quits, qualifying weeks, redefinition of unsuitable work, and student qualifications.

Discussions of the new workers comp law, effective January 1982, will highlight maximum benefit levels and retiree qualifications.

The charge is $5 and reservations may be made with the Livonia Chamber of Commerce by calling 427-2122. Registration at the Plymouth Hilton Inn, 14707 Northville Road at 5 Mile, will begin 9:30 a.m. March 6.

HEAR McCRACKEN

A group of Junior Achievement students from this area recenlty were guests of American Airlines Inc. at a luncheon meeting of the Economic Club of Detroit.

The JA students had the chance to meet and ask questions of Dr. Paul McCracken, the speaker.

McCracken is professor of business administration at University of Michigan and former chairman of the President's Council on Economic Advisers.

The students from JA Center on Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth were: Monica Farhat, Brenda Reeck, Pam Beeler and Andrienne Placido from Plymouth Salem High School; and Annette Markovits from Plymouth Canton High School.

Hosting the students was Richard Hoerner, vice-president of Detroit's American Airlines and a member of the JA board of directors.

Volunteer trainers wanted for CPR

A call has been put out for residents willing to volunteer as instructors of the life-saving cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) technique.

Free instruction to qualify a person as a CPR instructor is being offered by the American Red Cross in cooperation with the continuing education division of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

When the lessons were offered last year some 30 residents qualified as trainers, says Dave Dursum, community education coordinator.

But now only 15 of that original group of trainers still are available on a regular basis to offer CPR instruction.

Because of the need for more instructors, the Red Cross has agreed to train up to 40 residents during the month of March.

To make it easier to sign up, the community education department is scheduling morning, evening and Saturday classes.

The morning classes will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on March 4, 5 and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on March 10, 12.

The Saturday session will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on March 21 and the evening classes will be from 6-10 p.m. on March 24, 26, 31.

All classes will be in the American Red Cross center on Middlebelt Road in Livonia. The classes are being offered free of charge.

Residents may register or arrange to carpool to the site by calling Dursum at the community education office at 459-1180 on weekdays.

The school district's goal is to have every resident Plymouth and Canton knowledgeable of CPR and know how to apply it in a life-saving situation.

The program was initiated through a contribution from the Plymouth Rotary Foundation.

Dear Dr. Forrest
Should I use a toothbrush with hard to soft bristles?
Smiley Brite

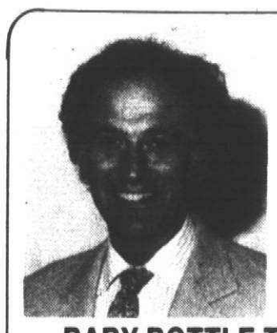

Dear Smiley
Hard bristles have been found to cause abrasion (wearing away of the enamel of the tooth) we therefore recommend soft bristle toothbrushes.
In our practice we provide a toothbrush, dental floss, and dental mirror to encourage thorough dental hygiene at the time of each 6 month check-up. However, it is most beneficial for adult patients to change toothbrushes every few months to avoid the breakdown of bristles.

BABY BOTTLE TOOTH DECAY
From a dental point of view, nursing babies from bottles can cause problems. Dentally-speaking - what's the worst thing you can do to a baby? Stick him in his crib with a bottle at nap time and let him fall asleep with the bottle in his mouth. Milk or juice in the mouth and on the teeth turns to acid and causes teeth to break down rapidly. Many babies who sleep with a baby bottle develop severe tooth decay, often in their front teeth. The problem is not the bottle but what's in it. The sugar in the milk, formula, or fruit juices causes the decay. Sometimes, these teeth become so decayed they cause severe pain and may break off or have to be pulled.
During the day, the baby swallows these drinks quickly, so there is no damage to the teeth. But during sleep, the liquid pools behind the baby's teeth and keeps them bathed in sugar for hours.
One solution is to give the last feeding before bedtime. If your baby is still using a bottle when his teeth begin to appear, let him use it for short periods of time awake or sitting up. If he is using a bottle as a pacifier, put water in the bottle.

Sheriff's layoffs up in the air

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners is waiting to see how sheriff's deputies vote this week on a contract compromise to keep the out-county road patrol operating.

But Donald Cox, president of the deputies union, Local 502 of the National Union of Police Officers, said Friday, "In all reality, the (compromise) is dead."

The county board approved a tentative agreement Feb. 5, negotiated with leaders of two deputies' unions. The deal would continue the sheriff's Westland-based Patrol and Investigation Division until mid-May in return for wage concessions from deputies and command officers.

However, the county's refusal to pay 250 deputies and 43 lieutenants, sergeants and inspectors for the first week of February has apparently scuttled the compromise.

"I'M NOT going to promote it one way or the other," said Cox. "The odds of it passing are slim."

The deputies will vote Thursday. The union has sued the county for the unpaid workweek and will be in circuit court on that issue Friday.

Last Wednesday, command officers voted 57-0 to reject the Feb. 5 compromise. They are members of Local 1917 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME).

County officials maintain the deputies and command officers would be paid retroactive to Feb. 1, if they approved the compromise. And they say that was understood when the tentative agreement was negotiated.

Union officials disagree. "We weren't under that understanding," said Cox.

Lt. Dale Orth, president of Local 1917, says the county had been enforcing some parts of the compromise, specifically time-and-a-half for overtime rather than double or triple time, before the ratification votes.

"As far as we're concerned, it (the compromise) has gone down the drain," he said. "We're willing to sit down and negotiate."

Orth said the county has been withholding the command officers' cost-of-living checks for the final quarter (October-December) of 1980. A county budget official could not be reached for comment on the issue Friday.

THE COUNTY board funded the Patrol & Investigation Division only through Jan. 31 in the 1981 budget.

Sheriff William Lucas, the unions and two communities which purchase police services opposed the road patrol elimination and challenged the cuts in court.

However, a ruling by Wayne Circuit Court Judge Victor J. Baum was interpreted as a victory by each side. Lucas ordered the deputies to remain working. The county didn't rescind the layoffs.

The compromise was then offered by the unions which proposed wage concessions totalling $1.7 million in return for keeping the road patrol operating until May 19, the date Baum ruled the county was required to comply with a police services contract with Romulus.

Among the concessions were a $1-an-hour cap on cost-of-living-allowances for the year, no cost of living based on overtime and a lower overtime pay rate. The county board approved the tentative agreement, 21-2.

HOWEVER, THE county's Labor Relations Board, shortly after the county board action, rejected a tentative contract with Local 502 because of other issues.

James Bishop, the labor board director, said Friday the agreement was rejected because it included a several-year-old arbitration decision on promotion policies and cost-of-living raises for retirees which the county has appealed to the state Supreme Court. The county maintains the arbitrator overstepped his authority in these areas, Bishop said.

Cox said the labor board's rejection of the contract ruined the Feb. 5 compromise.

Alcohol, widow frequent friends in nursing home

Elderly alcoholic women, mostly widows, make up a significant proportion of patients in the nation's nursing homes, a University of Michigan researcher says, but their condition often remains unacknowledged and untreated.

"In Michigan and many states, it is technically illegal to admit an alcoholic or other chemically addicted person to a nursing home," said Richard Douglass of the Institute of Gerontology at U-M.

"Many admitting physicians list alcohol-related disorders near the bottom of their diagnoses so that the condition is not readily apparent.

"The wisdom of these outdated laws should be challenged. Obviously, if the alcohol-related problems of these patients are not even acknowledged, they cannot be given proper personal and medical care."

Douglass studied the records of 236 elderly persons, 50 percent of the patients who were admitted to nursing homes under Medicare in Oakland County in 1977.

SEVENTY-FIVE PERCENT were women, and all but 15 were widows, consistent with the higher life expectancy of women. Among the 188 for whom he obtained complete research data, 22 had medical diagnoses that listed conditions related to alcohol abuse. Twenty of these patients were women.

"The conditions were rarely listed among one of the top three diagnoses but were readily apparent among the fourth through eighth. If medical care plans for these patients were based principally on the first three diagnoses, the care could well be in conflict with that recommended for alcoholic patients," he said.

"We found the alcoholics were much more likely to be living in another institution or with an adult child before admission to the nursing home, while the non-alcoholics were more likely to have been living with a spouse, a sibling, or independently in their own homes.

"This suggests a higher level of dependency among the alcoholics.

"THE RECORDS also reveal that the alcoholic patients were much more isolated from their extended families, receiving far fewer visits from children and other relatives than their non-alcoholic peers. It is not clear whether they were drinking because of loneliness and alienation from the family, or whether other circumstances precipitated the drinking problem and that hurt the family relationships.

"One factor in the increase of alcoholic nursing home patients is the trend to deinstitutionalize mental hospital patients in Michigan and other states.

"Elderly mental patients are too frail for such alternatives as adult foster care. Thus, they are usually moved to nursing homes.

"If the laws forbidding admission of alcohol-addicted patients to nursing homes were strictly upheld, these patients would have nowhere to go."

Road funds reduced for most local units

Gasoline and weight tax revenues, the main funding source for state and local highway and transportation systems, declined again in the last quarter of 1980 compared with the same period in 1979, according to the Michigan Department of Transportation.

The 83 county road commissions collected about 8 percent less for the October-December period in 1980 than the previous year.

The Wayne County Road Commission received a little more than $7 million last quarter, about $779,000 less than the same period in 1979.

Statewide, gasoline tax proceeds decreased 9 percent for the period. Weight taxes, or license plate fees, were down 7.5 percent.

Net income for distribution to the state, counties, local governments and public transportation systems was down 9 percent last quarter, a slight improvement from an 11 percent decline in the previous quarter.

The majority of the money is spent for highway maintenance.

THE 11 CENTS per gallon gas tax brought in $108 million during the final three months of last year, a $10.9 million drop from 1979.

Weight taxes produced $32.6 million, down $2.6 million.

Here are fourth quarter receipts for cities in western Wayne County (followed by 1979 fourth quarter figures in parentheses):

Garden City $151,295 (177,965).
Livonia $482,686 (517,541).
Plymouth $42,293 (50,045).
Westland $344,353 (360,456).

GAS AND weight tax monies have declined due to fewer total miles traveled by state drivers, use of more fuel efficient cars and the state's 55 miles per hour speed limit.

The revenue shrinkage has caused the state's road lobbyists to seek a percentage motor fuel tax solely for road needs.

The Michigan Road Builders Association wants the state to convert its cents-per gallon gas tax to a percentage of motor-fuel price.

The tax would thus be linked to rapidly increasing fuel prices for cars and trucks.

"We need a motor-fuel tax that is flexible enough to keep pace with inflation so that road agencies can plan work effectively from year to year — otherwise we'll neer catch up," said Lawrence W. Martin, executive director of the road builders.

Cable TV falls short of promises

Nancy Austin

Cable TV is the stuff pipe dreams are made of.

After three months of being a paid subscriber in Plymouth, I'm disappointed.

Disregard all of the rhetoric regarding political pay-offs. Disregard which company claims to be best. Disregard the fact that the local government, not the subscriber, has the choice in companies.

But don't disregard all the company's promises. These are the pipe dreams.

Cable TV has been around for 30 years. To date, 4,200 cable systems serve 44 million Americans in 20 percent of all homes, including Plymouth and Redford Township. It is predicted this number will double in the next 15 years; and much of that expansion will be in the rest of suburbia.

BUT WHAT, you in other communities are asking, does the system deliver today?

I listened eagerly to the sales pitch. No question in my mind that I was willing to shell out $6.95 per month for the 36-channel capacity. This capacity was due to increase to 52 in spring. The potential viewing possibilities for the family were exciting. Capacity and potential are the key words.

The salesperson pointed out that independent networks — including those from Atlanta and Chicago along with the famous Ted Turner Cable Network News — would add a variety of programs. A children's channel would broadcast "Sesame Street" and "Electric Company"-type programs. Live sports would be telecast 24 hours a day.

And my political curiosity would be satisfied by gavel-to-gavel coverage of the U.S. House of Representatives.

Community access channels would be particularly valuable. Channels have been leased by the public library, Schoolcraft College, the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township. We would be able to watch events going on near home. And we could "get religion," if we wished, because one channel is devoted exclusively to Christian programming.

First-run movies would be available if we were willing to pay additional money for any one of several movie channels. They would carry "10," "The Black Hole," "Being There," and "Willie Wonka and the Chocolate Factory."

OTHER EXCITING advantages were yet to come.

We could be wired for a security system, enabling us to have our home monitored for fire, burgulary and medical emergencies. Eventually, home banking and shopping would be an added feature. A two-way response system known as QUBE, already in effect in Columbus, Ohio, would also be possible.

Following the sales talk, I had visions of being able to keep a vigilant watch on the city government from my living room, and maybe even be able to respond to questions and issues. We had visions of instant police and fire protection while away from the house. And maybe I could even take a class or two conducted by the local community college.

If I felt programs were objectionable for my children, I could buy a key for $1 to lock out that particular channel.

NOW THE REALITY.

Once we began watching, we learned that many of the local access channels would present printed messages only. That hadn't been explained by the salesperson.

The Schoolcraft College channel says we can buy tickets to its cultural events. Plymouth Township flashes a printed message saying the channel will print important messages. The city of Plymouth reminds senior citizens of the nutrition program available to them, and Plymouth-Canton Community Schools flash messages of meetings.

There is no chance to take a college class. City government meetings are not televised, and there is no way to respond to issues.

The security system is still under study as is the possibility of shopping at home, banking, traffic control and the QUBE.

There is no program guide for the independent network program. It is, therefore, impossible to know which sports programs are on, which programs come to us from Chicago or Atlanta, or which religious program may hold interest. Children have no idea what is coming their way, either.

One must channel-hop and hope to strike it rich.

The much-touted lock-out key is not available.

A CALL TO the cable company went like this:

Q. "Can I buy a lock-out key?

A. "Well, Mrs. Austin, that (lock-out key) didn't turn out to be very much in demand. And I only had a minimum number of keys in stock. I am out of stock now."

Q. "Are you going to order more keys?"

A. "Not right now. We are reorganizing now, and it will take a special device added to the TV set that might prove to be very costly. So we may not provide you with that key."

Q. "By the way, what about the home security system and the QUBE system?"

A. "That is under consideration, but not available now. We have to study these things carefully. Sometimes, they aren't profitable. We have to determine demand. We may even take some surveys."

Q. "What about a program guide?"

A. "That's not available yet, but all you have to do is watch channel 8, and it will tell you what's on."

I TURN TO channel 8. It tells me what movies will be on HBO. I already know that from the TV book that comes with my daily paper.

Channel 31 has begun broadcasting from Ann Arbor. I'm locked out of that choice. I have to wait for the cable company to tune in before I can.

Community programs will be available in the future, after enough people are trained to produce them.

There are technical difficulties. The signal is frequently interrupted. Programming might be interrupted for long periods during repair. An irritating interrupted signal causes the picture to flash on and off the screen. It is hard on the eyes.

Channels are scrambled. For example, what you know as channel 56 has been assigned to channel 21 on the cable converter. When the system is upgraded to 52 channels, all channels will be re-assigned. A card is the only way to decode the system. It is easily misplaced.

I inquired about the potential 52-channel capacity. A company spokesman would not say what will be available. "I don't want to let the cat out of the bag," he said.

No matter. The cat is supposedly out of the bag for the first 36 channels, and I still don't know what is on many.

I once thought cable TV is in its infancy. Someone else said it must be in its embryonic stage. That's probably more accurate.

Pipe dreams. I should say!

Lynn Orr

Fear stalks the suburbs

Fear is often a simple story.

Terry, 18, of Redford Township, and his girlfriend walked into a Grand River party store the weekend after Thanksgiving last year. Terry picked up a can of soda pop, paid for it and went to leave. The door was locked.

He asked the clerk to unlock the door. The clerk asked him to step into the back room. Terry did, only to discover another clerk, a 19-year-old from Southfield, brandishing a revolver.

The two clerks accused Terry of breaking into the store a few days earlier.

Terry denied the accusation and tried to leave. The other clerk had picked up a baseball bat and was holding Terry's girlfriend.

All Terry could think about was the fact that two teenagers had been found beaten to death on Thanksgiving Day less than a mile from the store.

HE TRIED to reason with the clerks and finally asked to talk to the owner. The clerks called him and Terry again denied the accusation over the phone to the owner.

The clerks finally allowed Terry and his girlfriend to leave. To this day, Terry is convinced that the presence of two kids out in the parking lot were his only protection from some kind of assault.

With the encouragement of his mother, Terry decided to go to the Redford police with his story. As he tells it, the police discouraged him from pressing charges. "You don't want some kid to have that kind of thing on his record," the officer said about the possible prosecution of the store clerk.

When Terry relayed the officer's lack of interest to his mother, she was angry and accompanied Terry to the police station for a second visit.

This time, police agreed to seek a warrant. Last week, the 19-year-old clerk pleaded nolo contendre (no contest) to a misdeamnor charge of pointing a firearm without malice.

District Court Judge Robert Brang accepted the plea on the condition that the clerk would not enter the store before 1982 and that the charge could be dismissed at the end of one year, if no other cases were pending.

Terry never had a chance to testify in court about the incident — or the fear he had that day in the store.

But he remembers it.

THE CLERK, who believed Terry was somehow involved in an earlier break-in, may not know what he did wrong.

The clerk, like many others, perhaps, didn't believe the police could protect his store from robbery. Perhaps someone has confronted him with a gun before.

Chaldean clerks and storeowners, many new to the suburbs, tend to be very independent and want to use their own resources rather than rely on police for protection.

Storeowners work in fear that they will be killed in a robbery. They keep guns in the store, legally, for their own protection, just as homeowners who once left their doors unlocked now use burglar alarms and double locks to try to keep out intruders.

But nothing keeps out the fear.

The statistics are alarming.

Burglaries, larcenies, robberies — crime is accelerating in the suburbs. Last year, serious crime rose 11 percent in Redford Township and Southfield.

Robberies increased 8 percent in Canton Township. Home burglaries jumped 20 percent in Livonia, 49 percent in Farmington Hills and an amazing 88 percent in Southfield.

The human statistics are less tidy but not invisible — crowded court dockets and crowded prisons, testimony to the walking wounded. Grieving families and friends of the victims who aren't alive to tell their stories.

And a gray veil of fear to match the winter landscape.

This kind of fear is scary, because it induces irrational actions and tragedy.

Once suburbanites thought they had escaped inner city crime by moving to the suburbs. We've since discovered that crime cannot be contained in geographical boundaries.

The economy dips, crime soars. There's nothing new about the cycle.

But with no escape in sight, perhaps it's time to look deeper at the source.

Riegle rolls up his sleeves to battle the 'new wave'

Shirlee Iden

No one ever promised Donald Riegle Jr. a rose garden, but Michigan's born again Democratic senator is beginning to feel like he's being ganged up on.

If only he hadn't changed parties back in 1973, he'd be part of the majority now, not the Moral Majority, the Senate majority.

But that's all water under the bridge, anyhow. With the Senate roster reading 53 Republicans to 47 Democrats, Riegle is like a sailor on a ship with a new captain.

It's one thing being in the minority, but it's quite another being on a hit list. It's the Moral Majority, those upright people with all the questions as well as the answers, who are picking on him.

Riegle says he doesn't like making their hit list a bit.

"I see great dangers in their definitions," he told about 150 persons at Congregation B'nai David recently. One of the senator's nine Michigan offices is in Southfield, so the talk at the synagogue was home ground for him.

"The Moral Majority is about religious intolerance — that's against what the United States is all about," he told the audience.

Riegle said his Moral Majority report card gave him a zero. What's more, Father Robert Drinan, longtime liberal member of Congress, also got a zero.

BUT RICHARD KELLY of Abscam fame, who was convicted for taking thousands of dollars and videotaped doing it, got 100 percent, Riegle said.

"And Congressman Robert Bowman, indicted for soliciting minors, got good grades from them also. We have to take a good look at the yardsticks being used."

Riegle charges that Moral Majority people are extremely well organized and well funded. He said his 1976 campaign cost $900,000, but the one to win back his seat in 1982 will cost upwards of $2 million. The problem is where to get that kind of funding.

A member of Congress since he was 28, the Flint native was graduated from the University of Michigan, got a master's of business administration at Michigan State and did doctoral work at Harvard.

In the Senate, he's on committees that deal with human resources and budget. "Reagan's first statement that the budget will be balanced in 1982 now have been shifted to 1984," he said.

One of Riegle's chief concerns is defense spending, which he is prepared to do. "What I'm not prepared to do is sign any blank check for exotic weapon systems."

"WE HAVE 9,000 nuclear war heads — bombs so destructive that it's inconceivable what they do when they go off.

"We can blow the world up any number of times over and have lots of ammunition left. But we don't have helicopters capable of landing in Iran to rescue American hostages. We need basic nuts and bolts weapons."

And, the senator said we provide disaster relief for nature's hurricanes, but not for "economic hurricanes."

Riegle contends we need import limitations for a time and points out that other industrialized countries limit Japanese imports.

"Recent editorials say don't jeopardize free trade. I have a Detroit auto dealer who wants to operate a dealership in Tokyo — but Ambassador Mike Mansfield says it's not possible," he said. "What free trade?"

Riegle doesn't like the U.S. being second in auto production any more than he likes being in the Senate minority.

"But we're second place, and those are the new realities," he said. "The Japanese will send 2.2 million cars here this year and will take back 20,000. And we're sending billions out of the country for oil."

AS LONG as our economic problems are not addressed, Riegle doesn't believe we can expect to exert world leadership.

Michigan's future looks very dark to him as the Reagan cutbacks are put on the table.

"If the cuts are implemented, the state's problems will get worst fast," he says. "I'm worried about the assault on our domestic economic problems."

In 1982, 32 Senate seats will be up for election, including the one held by Riegle. Twenty-two of them are held by Democrats, a situation the senator called "tough."

For a quarter of a century, the Democrats controlled the Senate, but now, Riegel says, they have little practical chance to regain control in the foreseeable future.

Smoking ban bill introduced

Noting that smoking is the single most preventable cause of illness and death in the U.S. today, State Sen. Robert Geake has introduced legislation in the Michigan Senate to ban smoking by both minors and adults in the public schools.

"A ban on all smoking in public schools in our state would go a long way toward eliminating the temptation among young people to start smoking and to reduce the peer pressure to take up the habit," said Geake, R-Northville, whose district includes Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Livonia and Redford.

Geake pointed that statistics compiled by the American Cancer Society indicate that some 4,000 children become smokers each day of the year in the U.S.

Under the proposed legislation, pupils, teachers, school officials, school employees, and any other persons would be prohibited from using tobacco in public schools, except in the course of public instruction. Violators could be fined between $25 and $100.

The Geake bill is more stringent than the present non-smoking policy in most schools in that it includes a total ban on smoking by all persons while on school property.

"The time has come for the Legislature to take what steps it can toward eliminating from our schools the unconscious example to children that smoking is okay."

Geake, who holds a Ph.D. in educational psychology, says he is convinced students of all ages look to their teachers and school administrators as role models.

"That role model should be a positive one, and not smoking on school property is one sacrifice I believe anyone who really cares about kids should be willing to make."

In 1980, Geake introduced a similar bill, but it died in committee.

Heritage Foods Star on Today's Table

Sausage, Apples and Corn Meal Contribute To Appetizing Menus

Americans are turning back the clock at the dinner table. They're baking bread, "starting from scratch" and preparing old-fashioned favorites with Early American foods. Especially popular for winter meals are hearty and homey foods from yesteryear.

Corn, one of our country's oldest foods, comes to today's table as it did in colonial times in corn bread, muffins and piecrust and in new-fashioned creations such as flavorful crusts for meat loaves.

A wide variety of pork sausages—fresh and smoked—is also deeply rooted in American culinary history as are appetizing ways to prepare and serve this popular meat. Today there are hundreds of different sausages from which to choose for 'round-the-clock meals.

Apples date back to the trees planted by the colonists, and to the seeds scattered by Johnny Appleseed on his travels through mid-America. Today's luscious, carefully-nurtured all-purpose Golden Delicious apples are used in these recipes.

Inspired by the past, but created for today, is the Double Sausage Loaf that's impressive enough for a company menu and satisfying enough for even the heartiest appetites. Shredded apple, oats, and a medley of seasonings combine with fresh pork sausage in this loaf that's centered with a large smoked sausage link. The corn meal pastry strips are placed over the loaf for the crowning touch.

Another hearty winter favorite, combining these American heritage foods and sure to please wind-whipped appetites, is Sausage and Apple-Cabbage Medley, a savory entree of three different sausages, shredded apple, red cabbage and carrots and a marvelous sweet 'n sour sauce. The accompanying Yogurt 'n Corn Muffins, another corn meal favorite, give a different twist to this traditional quick bread.

Among the traditional desserts, apple pie surely rates high with all ages. The naturally-sweet, mellow flavor of Golden Delicious apples stands out in Golden Apple Corn Meal Pie. Goldens are a preferred apple for baking, because they retain their shape during cooking. The corn meal crust of this pie and the rich corn meal streusel topping, crunchy with nuts and redolent with spices, make a dessert even better than yesteryear's.

Double Sausage Loaf

- 2 pounds fresh pork sausage
- 1 piece (8 inches long) "fully-cooked" smoked pork link sausage
- 1 medium Golden Delicious apple, shredded
- 3/4 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
- 2 tablespoons catsup
- 2 tablespoons instant minced onion
- 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 teaspoons water
- Corn Meal Crust*

Combine fresh pork sausage, apple, oats, catsup, onion, horseradish and mustard. Reserve 1 tablespoon beaten egg; add remainder to sausage mixture. Mix lightly but thoroughly. Place 1/2 of meat mixture in 8-1/2 x 4-1/2 inch loaf pan; press lightly. Place smoked sausage link lengthwise on top of fresh pork sausage mixture; top with remaining meat mixture and press lightly to form loaf. Chill in refrigerator while preparing pastry.

In the meantime, heat oven to 375°F. Prepare pastry according to directions. Roll out pastry on a lightly floured board into a rectangle 8 x 10 inches. Cut 8 strips 3/4 inch wide and 7 to 8 inches long. Turn loaf out of pan onto rack in roasting pan. Place pastry strips crosswise over loaf to cover top and sides, spacing evenly. (Leave ends open.) Combine reserved egg with water; brush pastry with egg mixture. Use remaining pastry to decorate loaf. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 1 hour. 8 servings.

*Corn Meal Crust

- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 2 tablespoons enriched corn meal
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons lard
- 2 to 3 tablespoons cold water

Combine flour, corn meal and salt. Cut in lard until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water, 1 tablespoon at a time, stirring lightly until mixture forms a ball.

Sausage and Apple-Cabbage Medley

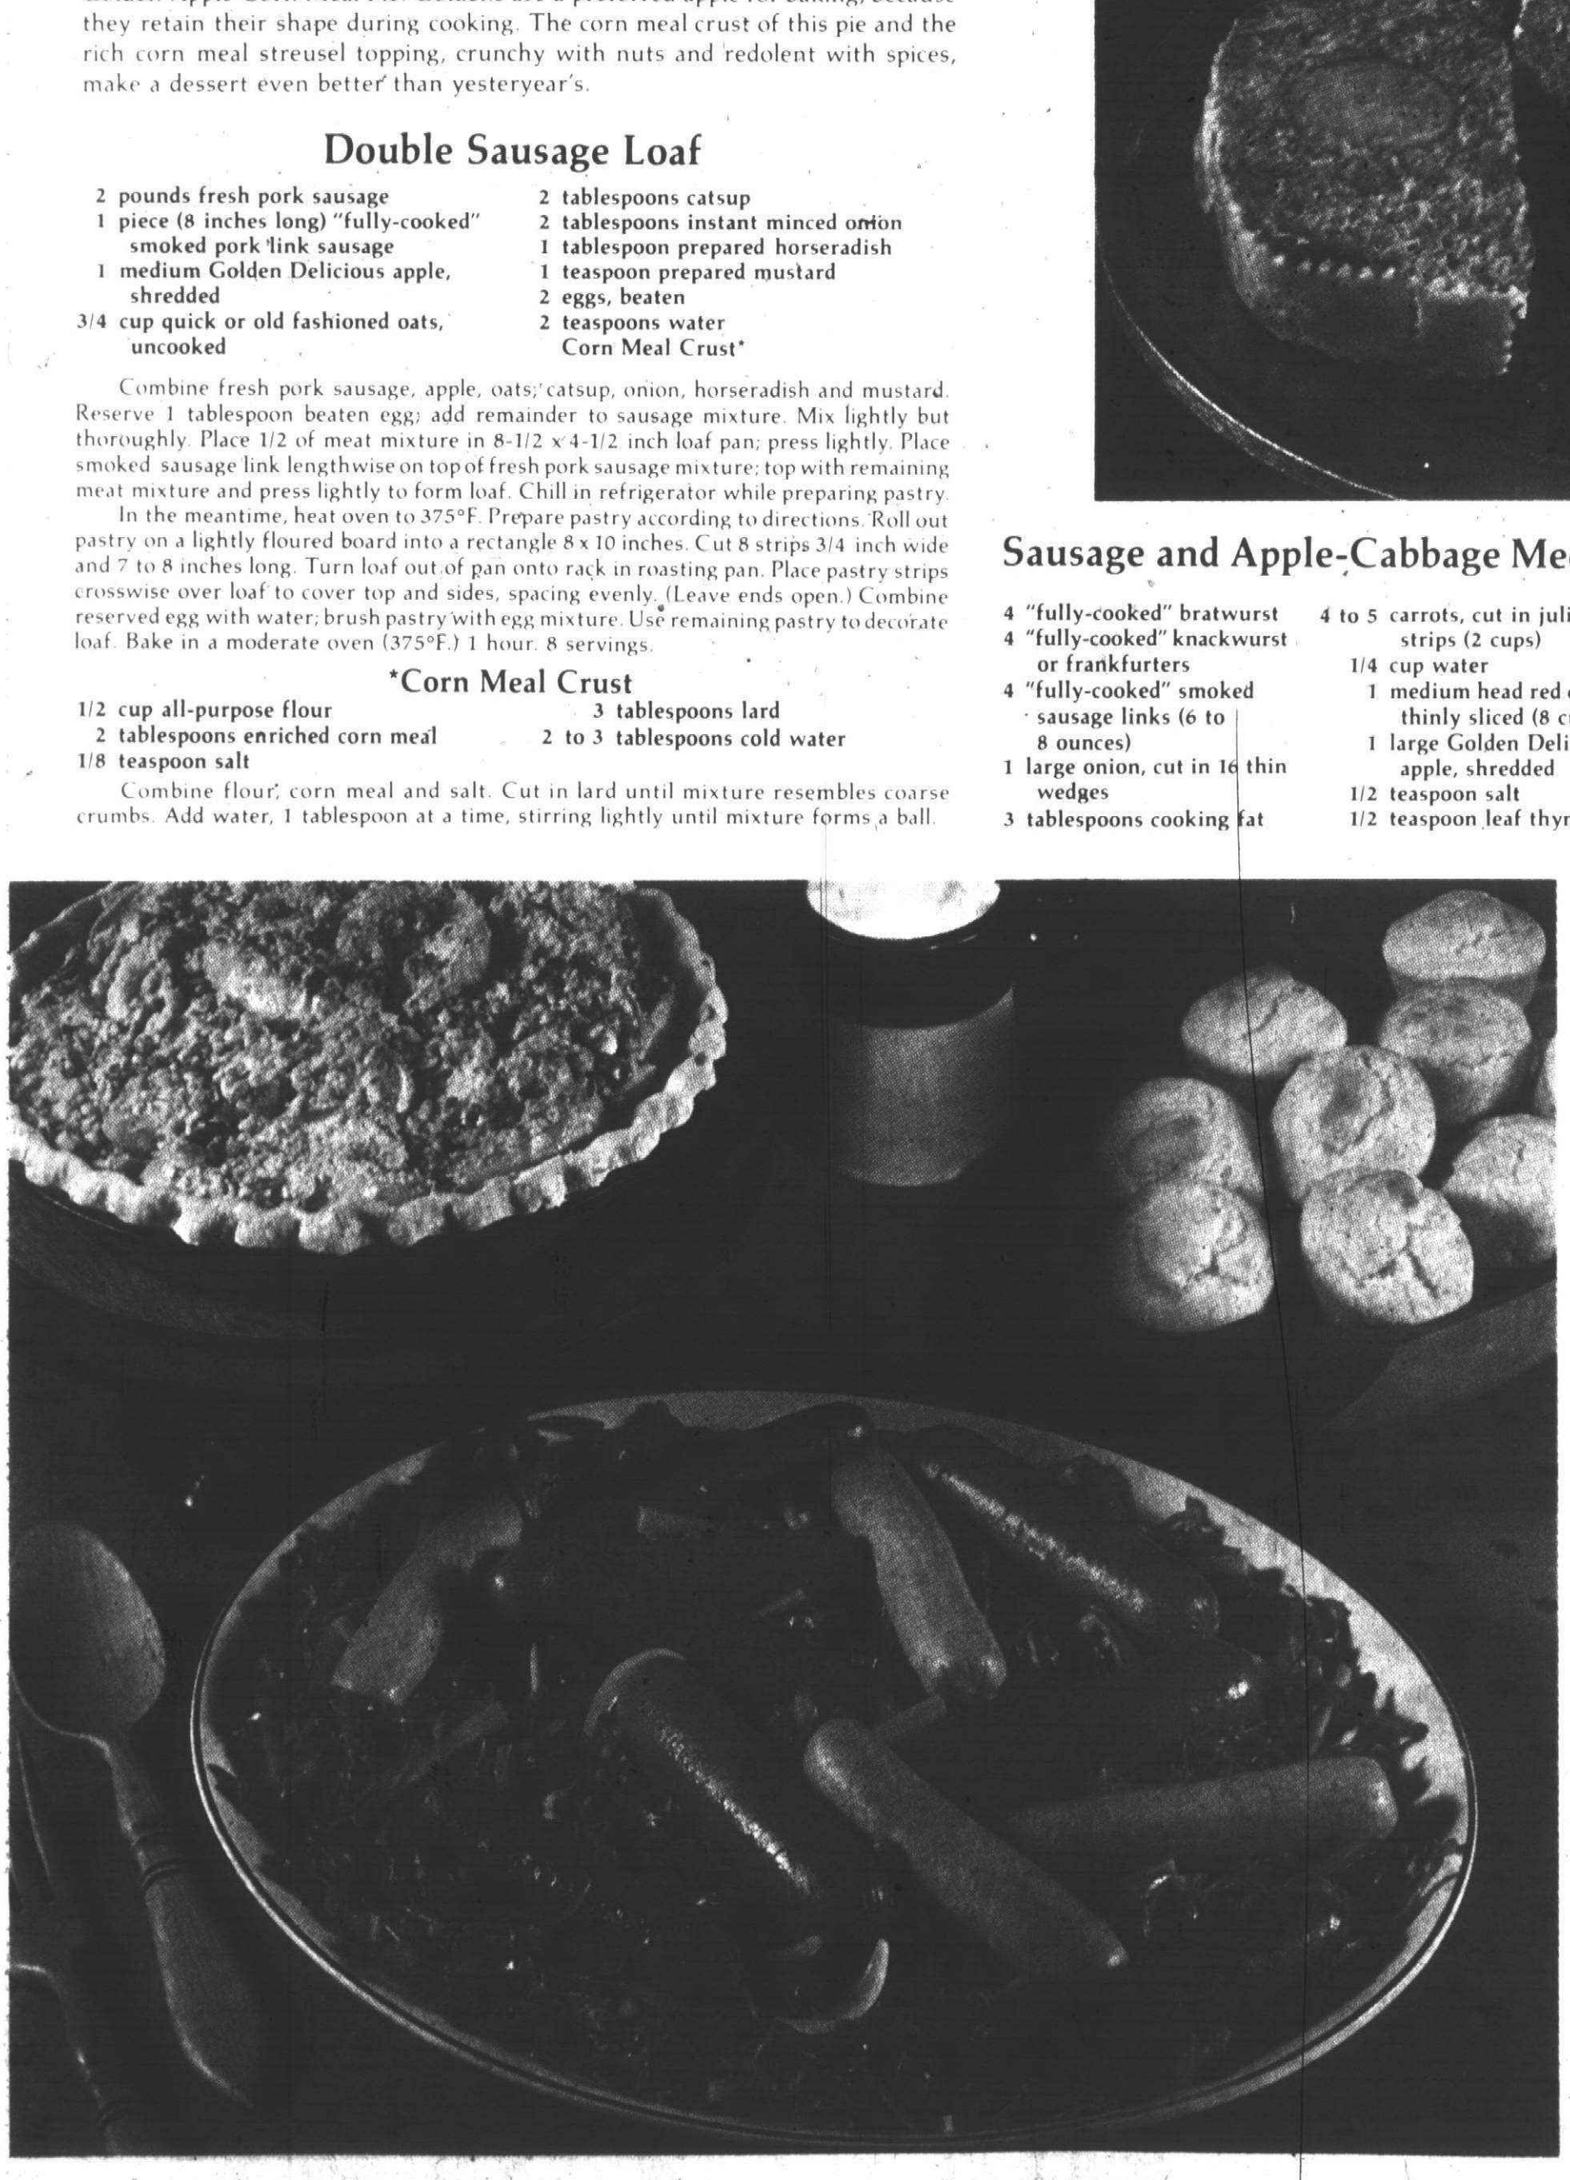

- 4 "fully-cooked" bratwurst
- 4 "fully-cooked" knackwurst or frankfurters
- 4 "fully-cooked" smoked sausage links (6 to 8 ounces)
- 1 large onion, cut in 16 thin wedges
- 3 tablespoons cooking fat
- 4 to 5 carrots, cut in julienne strips (2 cups)
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 medium head red cabbage, thinly sliced (8 cups)
- 1 large Golden Delicious apple, shredded

- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1/4 cup cider vinegar

Cook onion in cooking fat in large frying pan 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in carrots and water, cover tightly and cook slowly 10 minutes. Add cabbage, apple, salt, thyme and pepper, stirring lightly until cabbage is coated with cooking liquid and continue cooking, covered, 5 minutes. Combine brown sugar and cornstarch with vinegar; pour over vegetables and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Combine sugar, flour, cinnamon and salt; add to apples, tossing lightly. Place apple mixture in prepared Corn Meal Pie Crust. Sprinkle Streusel Topping over apple mixture. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 45 to 55 minutes, covering with foil partway through baking to prevent overbrowning. Cool completely before serving. Yield: one 9-inch pie.

*Corn Meal Pie Crust

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup enriched corn meal
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/3 cup lard

- 1/4 cup chopped pecans

Combine flour, sugar, corn meal, cinnamon and nutmeg. Cut in butter until mixture is crumbly; add pecans.

Note: For richer pie, double recipe for Streusel Topping and omit cinnamon in apple filling.

A Question of Taste

By Hilary Keating Callaghan

Those parsnips can be delectable

Despite improved methods of storing and transporting foods, certain foods remain closely associated with particular seasons.

Those foods may be available fresh only periodically, may be affordable only at those times, or may be at their best in season. Beyond these practical considerations, a particular food may capture the mood, the spirit of a season. The plump, sweet strawberry is summer, the crisp apple is autumn, the tender green asparagus is spring and, I have decided, the parsnip is late winter. This is hot as desperate as it may sound.

The parsnip has actually been much maligned — when not totally ignored. One woman told me of the ecstacy of her greengrocer when she purchased some parsnips. He was thrilled that someone under the age of 75 would recognize, much less buy, this neglected vegetable. (For anyone who wouldn't recognize them, they look like bleached carrots.)

Older, cannier cooks knew their value in turning out a delectable spring vegetable soup. For a generation raised on Campbell's, however, they have become an anomaly.

THIS IS unfortunate because they are actually a tasty, versatile vegetable. The English, in particular, have always been fond of parsnips. It is said that when the sweet potato was first introduced in England, it met with acceptance because of its resemblance to parsnips.

Perhaps it is the English who are partially to blame for the decline in popularity of the parsnip. The English tend to do unnatural things with vegetables — things which do not always enhance their best characteristics. (The best characteristics of the vegetables, that is. The characteristics of the English go back for generations and are, presumably, unaffected by the preparation of parsnips.)

There are methods of preparing parsnips which are best avoided. Included here are steaming, mashing, and glazing with sugar. On the other hand, sauteed in butter until just crisp-tender, sliced raw into salads, or added to soups, parsnips are delicious and distinctive.

Unlike carrots and celery, which belong to the same family, parsnips benefit from extreme cold. They should not be harvested until after the first hard frost since the freezing cold converts their starch into sugar, making them delectably sweet.

The home gardener, in fact, can leave his crop in the ground all winter, pulling up a supply each time the ground thaws sufficiently Once harvested, parsnips not only tolerate long storage in a root cellar or refrigerator, they actually improve in flavor if kept for a period of time rather than being served immediately after harvest.

THE FLAVOR of the parsnip is, in fact, so sweet that it benefits from a contrasting tartness such as the lemon juice in Lemon Parsnips. Even with the added lemon, the parsnips in this dish were mistaken for banana slices when I served it recently.

The sweetness of the parsnip, together with its lack of color, has even led to its appearance in an English dish called Poor Maan's Lobster Salad. In this salad, parsnips were steamed, chilled, dressed with mayonnaise and then counterfeited for the equally sweet, white flesh of the lobster. In the recipe given below, it is crab which is replaced by the parsnips.

Although such substitutions might be economical, they are not likely to actually fool anyone. They are interesting to experiment with, however, providing much-needed intellectual diversion during the winter months.

Equally welcome on frigid winter days are bowls of thick, steaming soup. Combining parsnips with fresh spinach (another cool weather crop) results in an unusually good winter soup which may be enjoyed hot or cold.

Since parsnips are at their peak from January through April, you will have to hurry in order to try the recipes suggested here. If time gets away from you, you will face a long stretch of such foods as asparagus, strawberries, cherries, and melons before you can again enjoy this cold weather delight.

LEMON PARSNIPS

1 lb. parsnips
4 tbsp. butter
6 tbsp. vegetable stock
2 tbsp. lemon juice
Salt and pepper

Cut off ends of parsnips and peel with a swivel peeler. Cut into ¼-inch crosswise slices. In a medium-sized skillet with a lid, melt butter over moderately high heat. Add parsnips and toss to coat with butter. Pour in stock. Cover, bring to a boil and steam about 7 minutes, stirring once or twice, or shaking pan to keep parsnips from sticking.

Just before serving, stir in lemon juice, season with salt and pepper and toss over high heat for a few minutes until piping hot. Serves 4.
(From "The Quick and Easy Vegetarian Cookbook" by Ruth Ann Manners and William.)

MOCK CRABMEAT SALAD

2 cups shredded, raw parsnips
1 cup finely chopped celery
1 tbsp. chopped pimento
½ cup quartered ripe olives
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tbsp. lemon juice
2 tsp. thinly sliced green onion
¾ tsp. salt or kelp powder
Shredded salad greens

Combine parsnips, celery, pimento and olives. In a separate bowl, blend mayonnaise, lemon juice, onion, and salt. Add to parsnip mixture and toss lightly. Serve over shredded greens. Makes 4 to 5 servings.
(From "The Green Thumb Cookbook" by the editors of Organic Gardening and Farming)

PARSNIP SPINACH SOUP

1 lb. parsnips, trimmed and peeled
1 large Spanish onion (7 oz.), peeled and cut into wedges
1 rib celery with leaves
5 to 6 cups chicken broth
¼ lb. fresh spinach
½ tsp. freshly ground nutmeg
Salt and freshly ground black pepper

Slice the parsnips, onion and celery about ¼-inch thick. Place in a 4-quart pot with 5 cups of the chicken broth. Cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 25 minutes. Remove vegetables from the pot with a slotted spoon. Place in a blender or food processor. Add ½ cup of the cooking liquid. Blend until smooth. Add the spinach and continue blending another 30 seconds. Return the mixture to the pot. Season to taste and reheat, adding remaining cup of broth if soup is too thick. Makes about 6 cups.

Nutmeg adds subtle flavor to California stroganoff

Here's a delicious version of the popular stroganoff. This recipe makes use of budget flank steak and ripe olive slices or wedges to serve eight.

There's a slight touch of nutmeg in the sauce to accent the onions and sour cream and give an interesting subtle flavor. Serve California stroganoff with bulgar pilaf and a colorful vegetable relish tray. Dessert can be as simple as an assortment of cheese and fruit.

CALIFORNIA STROGANOFF

1 cup pitted ripe olives
1 flank steak, about 2 pounds
2 cups sliced onions
¼ cup cooking oil
1½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
½ cup water
2 beef bouillon cubes, crumbled
¼ tsp. nutmeg
1 tbsp. cornstarch
1 pint dairy sour cream

Cut olives in slices or wedges. Cut meat diagonally into ⅛-inch strips. Brown meat and onions quickly in hot oil. Add salt, pepper, ½ cup water, bouillon cubes and nutmeg. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Add cornstarch mixed with additional 2 tablespoons water. Continue cooking, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in ripe olives. Blend in sour cream. Heat through but do not allow to boil. Makes 8 servings.

Potato meatballs are one-dish meal

Saucy potato meatballs combine shredded hash browns and ground chuck in one delicious dish. Only a salad and rolls are required fill out the bill of fare.

SAUCY POTATO MEATBALLS

1 pkg. (12-ounce) shredded hash browns
1½ lb. ground chuck
½ cup chopped onions
1 large egg, beaten
1 can (10½ ounces) beef broth
1¾ tsp. salt
1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
¾ tsp. dill weed
¼ tsp. garlic powder
⅛ tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. oil
2 tbsp. vinegar
2 tbsp. capers or chopped sour pickle
1 tbsp. cornstarch

Thaw hash browns; separate and chop coarsely. Combine with ground chuck, onions, egg, ¾ cup beef broth, salt, Worcestershire sauce, dill weed, garlic and pepper and mix well. Shape into 24 balls about 1½ inches in diameter.

In a large skillet, brown meatballs slowly on all sides, using half the oil and half the meatballs each time. Remove meatballs from the skillet. Combine remaining broth, vinegar, capers (or pickle) and cornstarch. Add to skillet and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until sauce boils and thickens. Return meat balls to sauce. Turn heat low and simmer five minutes until meatballs are completely cooked. Makes 6-8 servings.

Byrd's Kitchen

by Vivian Byrd

California chicken—a dinner on a platter

The recipes below have little in common beyond the fact that they were served at our house over recent weeks and are all quite tasty. Plus, they are all made with chicken.

The recipe for Carolina Chicken arrived in a letter from my mother, sent because she knows of my appreciation of asparagus. It had been copied from a friend of hers. Recipes frequently travel such pathways.

So far, at our table, broccoli has been substituted for the fresh asparagus. Fresh asparagus has started to appear in the stores (a possible sign that it was television camera lights and not the sun that sent Punxatawny Phil, that famous groundhog, back into his hole), but is yet a ways from being of an irresistible quality.

It could be called dinner-on-a-platter. The chicken pieces are arranged on a bed of Tomato Rice. Steamed vegetables, bright green asparagus or broccoli and julienned carrots, are heaped around the chicken. Try it with some good hot muffins or small soft rolls, topped with a bit of butter or margarine.

The recipe for Chicken Livers with Basil and Tomato is scaled to one portion. The reason for that is that no one at my house will touch liver except me. In fact, one might get the impression from their reactions on being served liver that my family had instead been offered a plateful of poison. If your family is not so finicky, just multiply to get the appropriate amounts. The basil, however, should be adjusted to your taste, rather than multiplied.

Chicken with Kumquats is tangy with citrus flavor, sweetened with honey and spicy with hot chili peppers. Thin slices of orange cut in half decorate the serving platter, adding to the all-over golden appearance of a dish to perk up even the worst day of winter with a taste of sun. Now there's taste we can all use these cold days!

CAROLINA CHICKEN

Serves 4

8 fresh large asparagus spears or 8 stalks broccoli
3 medium sized carrots
2 skinless, boneless chicken breasts split in half (about 1½ lbs. ready to cook weight, or 4 pieces)
Black pepper and salt to taste
¼ cup flour
3 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 tbsp. finely chopped onion
½ cup dry white wine
1 tbsp. tomato paste
½ cup fresh or canned chicken broth
2 tbsp. heavy cream
Tomato Rice

Cut off the tough ends of the asparagus and cut into three-inch lengths. Or, if using broccoli, trim the lower stem and cut into appropriately sized pieces. Clean and scrape carrots and cut into strips like small french fries. Steam vegetables in vegetable steamer until tender done. Meanwhile, salt and pepper chicken to taste. Dredge lightly in flour and shake off excess. Brown chicken in butter or margarine until golden on both sides. Cover and cook until tender. Transfer the pieces to a warm platter, arranging them neatly. Saute the onions in drippings in skillet. Stir and cook for 1 minute. Add the wine and cook until reduced by half. Add the tomato paste, stir and add the chicken broth. Stir in the cream. Arrange vegetables on platter around chicken and pour sauce over chicken. Serve with Tomato Rice.

TOMATO RICE

Cook 1 cup of rice according to package directions. Core and peel 1 large, ripe tomato and cut it into half-inch cubes. Heat 1 tablespoon butter or margarine in skillet and add the tomato, salt and pepper to taste. Saute about one minute, stirring occasionally. Arrange rice on serving platter and spoon tomato on top. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese, grated.

CHICKEN LIVERS WITH BASIL AND TOMATO

Serves 1

4-6 oz. chicken livers
1 tsp. oil
2 tbsp. shallots, thinly sliced
2 tbsp. tomato paste, thinned with ¼ cup water, or 3 tbsp. tomato paste
½ tsp. dried sweet basil
Coarsely ground black pepper
salt

Remove any membrane from the livers. Pat dry with paper towels. Heat oil in a skillet. Cook the livers and shallots over medium high heat until the livers are done through, approximately 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add pepper, salt to taste, and the tomato paste or the tomato paste thinned with water. With tomato paste and water, there will be a slight amount of sauce. With the tomato paste only, the livers will be coated with the tomato and will have a slightly stronger tomato flavor. Continue cooking and stirring until all the livers are coated with the tomato. Serve alone or over a bed of white rice.

CHICKEN WITH KUMQUATS

Serves 4

2½ to 3-lb. chicken, cut into 6 to 8 serving pieces
Salt
1 cup fresh orange juice
2 tbsp. fresh lemon juice
¼ cup honey
2 tbsp. drained, rinsed, seeded and finely chopped canned or bottled hot chili peppers
10 preserved kumquats
Orange slices (3 or 4)

Preheat the oven to 375 degrees. Pat the pieces of chicken completely dry with paper towels, sprinkle liberally with salt, and arrange them side by side in a baking dish large enough to hold them in one layer. Mix the orange juice, lemon juice and honey together and pour it over the chicken, turning the pieces about in the mixture until they are well moistened.

Rearrange the chicken pieces skin side down in the baking dish and scatter the chopped peppers over them. Bake uncovered and undisturbed in the middle of the oven for 15 minutes. Turn the pieces over, add the kumquats and baste thoroughly with the pan liquid. Basting occasionally, bake the chicken 30 minutes longer, or until the leg or thigh shows no resistance when pierced with a fork.

To serve, arrange the chicken and kumquats attractively on a heated platter, pour the pan juices over them and garnish with the orange slices.

Almond streudel coffee cake melts in your mouth

This melt-in-your-mouth streudel coffee cake features toasted almonds, old-fashioned oats, yogurt and spices.

ALMOND STREUDEL COFFEE CAKE

¾ cup margarine
1½ cups granulated sugar
3 eggs
1½ tsp. vanilla
½ tsp. almond extract
2½ cups flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. salt
1 cup plain yogurt or dairy sour cream

½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup packed brown sugar
¼ cup flour
4 tsp. cinnamon
½ cup margarine or butter
1 cup old fashioned or quick oats, uncooked
¼ cup chopped almonds, toasted

Cream margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Blend in vanilla and almond extract. Add combined dry ingredients alternately with yogurt, mixing well after each addition.

Combine sugars, flour and cinnamon; cut in margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add oats and nuts; toss lightly. Pour half of batter into greased 13x9-inch baking pan; sprinkle with half the topping. Repeat layers. Bake in 350-degree oven for 45 to 50 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean.

Pecan coating adds new texture to pound cake

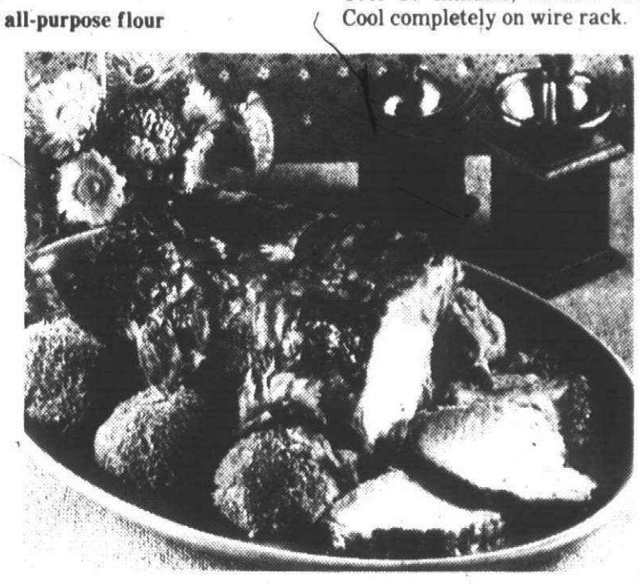

Freshly baked pound cake is a delicious dessert any time of the year. This version of Homespun Pound Cake features enriched corn meal, chopped pecans and lemon juice. The corn meal contributes a hearty taste and texture while the lemon juice adds to its tart flavor. The pecan coating enhances the heartiness of this cake.

Serve pound cake with fruit or fruit sauce spooned over each slice. With a slice of ice cream between two thin slices of cake, and topped with fresh fruit, it will star at a bridge luncheon or dinner.

HOMESPUN POUND CAKE

1 tbsp. vegetable shortening
1 cup finely chopped pecans
1 cup butter or margarine
1¼ cups sugar
3 eggs
3 cups all-purpose flour
½ cup enriched corn meal
1 tbsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
⅔ cup milk
½ cup lemon juice
2 tsp. grated lemon peel (if desired)

Generously grease 9-x-5-inch loaf pan with shortening; coat pan with ¾ cup nuts. Beat together butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add combined flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt alternately with milk and juice, mixing at low speed on electric mixer just until dry ingredients are moistened and well blended. Stir in peel. Pour into prepared pan; sprinkle with remaining nuts. Bake at 350 degrees about one hour and 20 minutes or until a wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan. Cool completely on wire rack.

Sweet potato balls are served with this crispy pork loin roast.

Avoid over-cooking a pork loin roast

Perfect for one of your table tributes to the cold weather season is a pork loin roast.

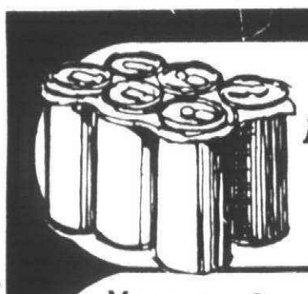

No matter what part of the loin the roast comes from, it will be tender, juicy and flavorful when correctly prepared. Be sure to avoid overcooking.

For a tasty seasonal accompaniment, serve the roast with sweet potato balls made with mashed sweet potatoes spiced with cinnamon and coated with graham cracker crumbs.

PORK LOIN ROAST

Place a 4- to 6-pound pork loin roast, fat side up, on rack in open roasting pan. Insert roast meat thermometer so the bulb is centered in the thickest part and not resting in fat or on bone. Do not add water; do not cover.

Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees) to an internal temperature of 170 degrees. Allow 30 to 35 minutes per pound for a center loin roast; 35 to 40 minutes per pound for a half loin; 40 to 45 minutes per pound for a smaller blade or sirloin roast.

Jessie Squires, sunshine lady, retires

Jessie Squires retired last fall as Sunshine Lady for First United Methodist Church. For almost 50 years, she was one of the greeting card companies' best customers.

Shut-ins, the sick and ailing, new parents and the newly bereaved were cheered, congratulated or consoled by the cards they received from Mrs. Squires. Most importantly, they were remembered.

Jessie and William Squires and their two daughters moved to Plymouth from Detroit in 1928. Her father was an engineer at the Detroit House of Correction and her husband was his assistant. Once they settled into their new home, they began to attend the Methodist Church and Mrs. Squires joined the Women's Society.

Her suggestion that cards be sent to members who were sick did not meet with much enthusiasm — at first. So she bought the cards and stamps with her own money and mailed them out.

"When I gave my first report — I had mailed either 12 or 15 cards to members in the hospital or their homes — the president of the society was shocked. At that meeting they voted to take up a collection at each monthly meeting to pay for the cards and stamps."

HER PROGRAM continued from the time of two-cent stamps to the time of 15-cent stamps. And her responsibilities increased. Not only did she send greeting cards, she mailed church bulletins to members who moved away and requested them.

"And I sent Upper Rooms (a church publication) to shut-ins."

Arthritis and her approaching 90th birthday contributed to her decision to resign. The responsibility and the hours of addressing envelopes and writing notes were just too much.

Snug in her apartment in Tonquish Creek Manor, Jessie Squires considers herself a very fortunate person. Her 90th birthday party Jan. 31 was a gala celebration. Family and friends attended from Marquette, Ohio, Maryland, Florida, Redford Township Detroit and Plymouth.

Her daughter, Marion Creith of Redford Township, is a regular visitor. She comes to see her mother once or twice a week, does her shopping, waters her plants and runs her errands. Grace Orr, the other daughter, lives in Marquette. Mrs. Squires has five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

SHE DOES NOT go down to the manor dining room for the senior citizen lunch program. She follows her low-sugar diet carefully and prepares her own meals.

Her days are spent taking care of her apartment, reading and watching television. "I go through the television guide and mark the programs I want to see. Sometimes I doze off in the middle of one and when I wake up I wonder what I've missed."

She watches football — "I don't know all the rules but I enjoy it." She also likes to watch golf matches and basaeball games.

"Sometimes I just turn it on because it is company."

Her neighbors drop in to visit and daughter Marion calls on the telephone a couple of times a day for a chat. She used to do a lot of and embroidery work.

"AND I sewed for the youngsters when they were young."

She recalls her years in Plymouth and the places they lived.

When her husband retired from DeHoCo, she and her husband were custodians of the Canton Township Fire Station. They lived in an apartment in the building. When there was a fire, her husband would drive the fire truck to the fire while Mrs. Squires telephoned all the volunteer firefighters to rush to the scene.

She remembers the house they rented from Fred Schrader at 597 Ann Street. And there was the house on the corner of Harvey and Farmer, "it was a stucco house then. We had a big Victory Garden in the vacant lot across the street."

WILLIAM SQUIRES died in 1960. "I lived in the apartment in the Terry house on Union Street until I moved here."

She was the first resident of her apartment in Tonquish Creek Manor, moving in when it first opened.

Through all the moves, the Sunshine Lady kept the cards flowing. She started out as sunshine chairman of the Women's Society (which became United Methodist Women) in 1932. Later she was appointed sunshine chairman for the whole church. All told, Jessie Squires held the post more than 48 years.

by ELLIE GRAHAM

THE INTERNATIONAL Day celebration the other Sunday at the Dion Nursing Home in Canton was a big success. Members of the Dion Nursing Home Community Council, who planned the event, credit the success to the volunteers who baked, served, performed and made other donations to the party.

Nine members of the Plymouth Community Junior Civitans, including club president, Beth Greenleaf, were there. The young people brought along candy and baked goods, helped serve the refreshments to the residents, and also entertained them.

Girl Scout Cadette Troop 346, which meets in the Honeytree Clubhouse, was represented. Ruby Monk, leader, and six of her scouts came in uniform. They helped serve refreshments to the residents at the party and the room-bound patients.

MIKE AND JOAN Ygeal of the Polish National Alliance were there. Their five children — Juli, Karla, Elaine, Michele and Roger — representing the Centennial Dance Group, performed a series of Polish dances. Their colorful costumes and lively dances brought appreciative response from the audience.

And when Mike Ygeal spoke to one of the residents in Polish, she positively glowed.

"Mary gets so frustrated sometimes when she can't make herself understood," said Pat North, a member of the council. "I have never seen her so happy. Mike said he'd come back again and talk to her."

Seven dancers from the Janice Burkhardt Highland Dancing Studio in Northville were in costume for their contribution to the program. They danced the Highland Fling, the Sailor's Hornpipe, the Sword Dance, the Flora MacDonald and the Scottish/Irish Jig.

The O'Hare School of Irish Dancing of Plymouth was represented by six dancers. Tim O'Hare's dancers ranged in age from 9-12.

The Toni Lewis Dance Studio of Wesland sent nine dancers who performed everthing from the Bunny to tap-dancing.

Donations from Jack Romeo, manager of the Canton Kroger store, and soft drinks from the Canton Party Store were welcome additions to the party.

The Canton Pioneer Seniors Club, headed by Delores Edwards, provided food and tray favors. They also helped set up the tables and serve.

THE DION Nursing Home council has 15 members, two of whom are residents of the home. The residents made the maps and paper flags that added to the international atmosphere.

Mary Martin coordinated the party and arranged for the entertainment. Flossie Tonda was in charge of refreshments.

Carol Santure and Sally Levay handled the invitations, and Carol made the colorful pinata. Diane Romain and Pat North collaborated on the decorations.

Pam Pilecky, activities director at the home and a member of the council, coordinated party planning with the home.

"Not only are we grateful to those who gave up their Sunday afternoon to contribute to the party. The dancers' parents should be mentioned, too. They drove their children out there, helped them with their costumes, and spent the whole afternoon," said Mrs. North. "The residents of the home really enjoyed it. We were worried about not having enough food, and here we had some left over.

"I just hope some of them come back. The residents love to see the children. So many of them have no family of their own to visit them."

LUELLA COOK and Howard Griffore had high scores at Thursday's party bridge games in the Plymouth Cultural Center. Attendance hit an all-time high with 10 tables in play. With several of the regulars in the south, the turn-out was a surprise.

The Feb. 12 games were cancelled because of icy road conditions.

WINNERS IN the America & Me Essay Contest, sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group, have been announced. All three winners are students at Our Lady of Good Counsel School.

Kathy Lawrenz, first; Kathleen Ervin, second; and Mary Ellen Hogg, third, all received award certificates.

Local history class added to spring education class

Spring will come early to Northville Mill Race Historical Village as the Northville Historical Society-sponsored spring education program begins March 1.

A full curriculum of eight classes and five workshops will be offered, including some classes being repeated for the second and third times by request.

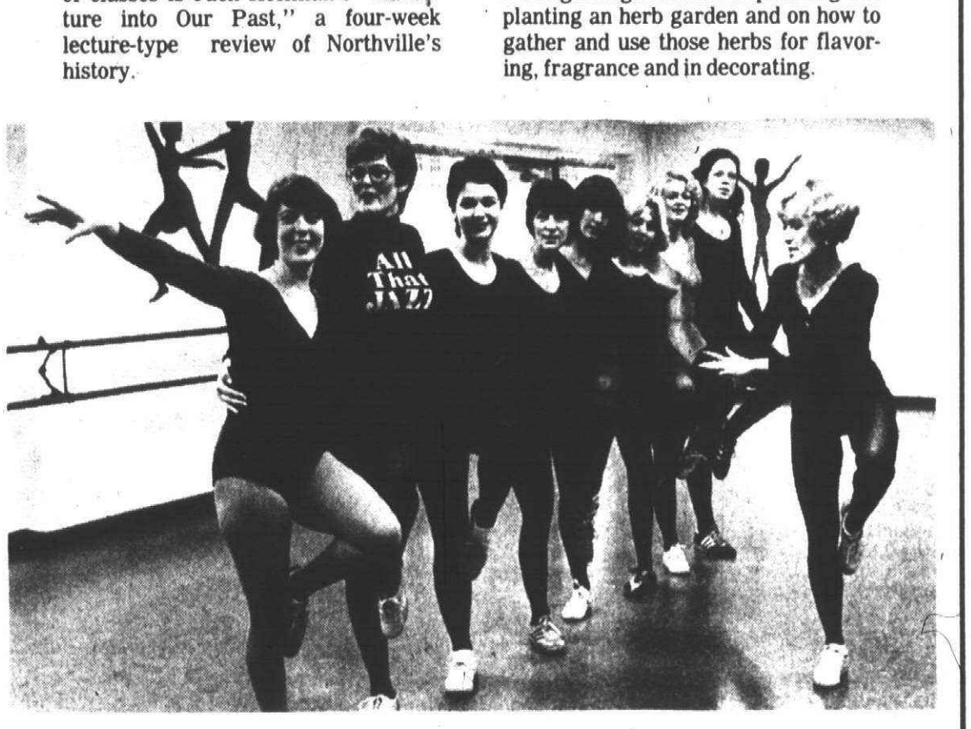

New this season are a course in local history, an all-day workshop on herbs, one on edible wild plants, drawing for children, plantings for the older home and rug braiding.

The society announces that "a new and exciting addition" to the schedule of classes is Jack Hoffman's "Adventure into Our Past," a four-week lecture-type review of Northville's history.

"It promises a fascinating look into our past for newcomers and old-timers alike," comments Lucia Danes in announcing the new schedule. Students who sign for the lectures are asked to read Hoffman's book, "Northville — the First 100 Years." The class will run for four Monday evenings, from 8-10 p.m.

Hoffman, publisher of The Northville Record, is known for his research and interest in local history.

Sandy Hicks, noted Ann Arbor herb consultant, will present an all-day workshop on "Herbs for Flavor, Fragrance and Fun." She will advise the beginning herbalist on planning and planting an herb garden and on how to gather and use those herbs for flavoring, fragrance and in decorating.

Shenanigans

The director arrives this evening and everyone is invited to the Meet the Director party at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Pioneer Middle School. It's follies year for the Plymouth Community Arts Council and the whole community gets involved. Over at Toni Grimm's Curtain Call studio, she is putting the dancers through their paces. From left are Terry Swierb and Kris Caira, both of Plymouth; Katie Wilson of Canton; Klo Phillippi of Plymouth; Jeannine Coughlin and Colleen Carter of Canton; Annette Stutrud of Plymouth; and Bonnie Coughlin of Canton. Railsplitters edge Salem in 2 OT's

Lincoln Park averts defeat

But the Salem coach experienced another heartbreaking loss Thursday night at the hands of Great Lakes Eight Conference leader Lincoln Park, 56-55, in double overtime.

The defeat dropped Salem to 11-7 overall. Lincoln Park is 13-5.

"We never stopped playing through all of it," said Thomann. "We played hard and with a lot of intensity.

"Both teams were a little tired with only one day's rest. But as the game went on we got going."

The Rocks suffered a last-second defeat Tuesday against Dearborn. Salem held a two-point lead with 4:02 to play in regulation time but did not score again.

"We were holding the ball," Thomann explained, "and we made some critical turnovers and missed some free throws.

A basket by John Skinner tied it up at 41-all with 22 seconds to go. Salem then worked the ball for a last shot. Mike Sharp's attempt with just two seconds remaining rimmed off.

"It was just a quarter-inch too long," said Thomann. "We made the right play. Pretty soon it's going to start falling for us."

In the first overtime, Lincoln Park jumped out in front, but a rebound basket by David Houle forced another special three-minute period.

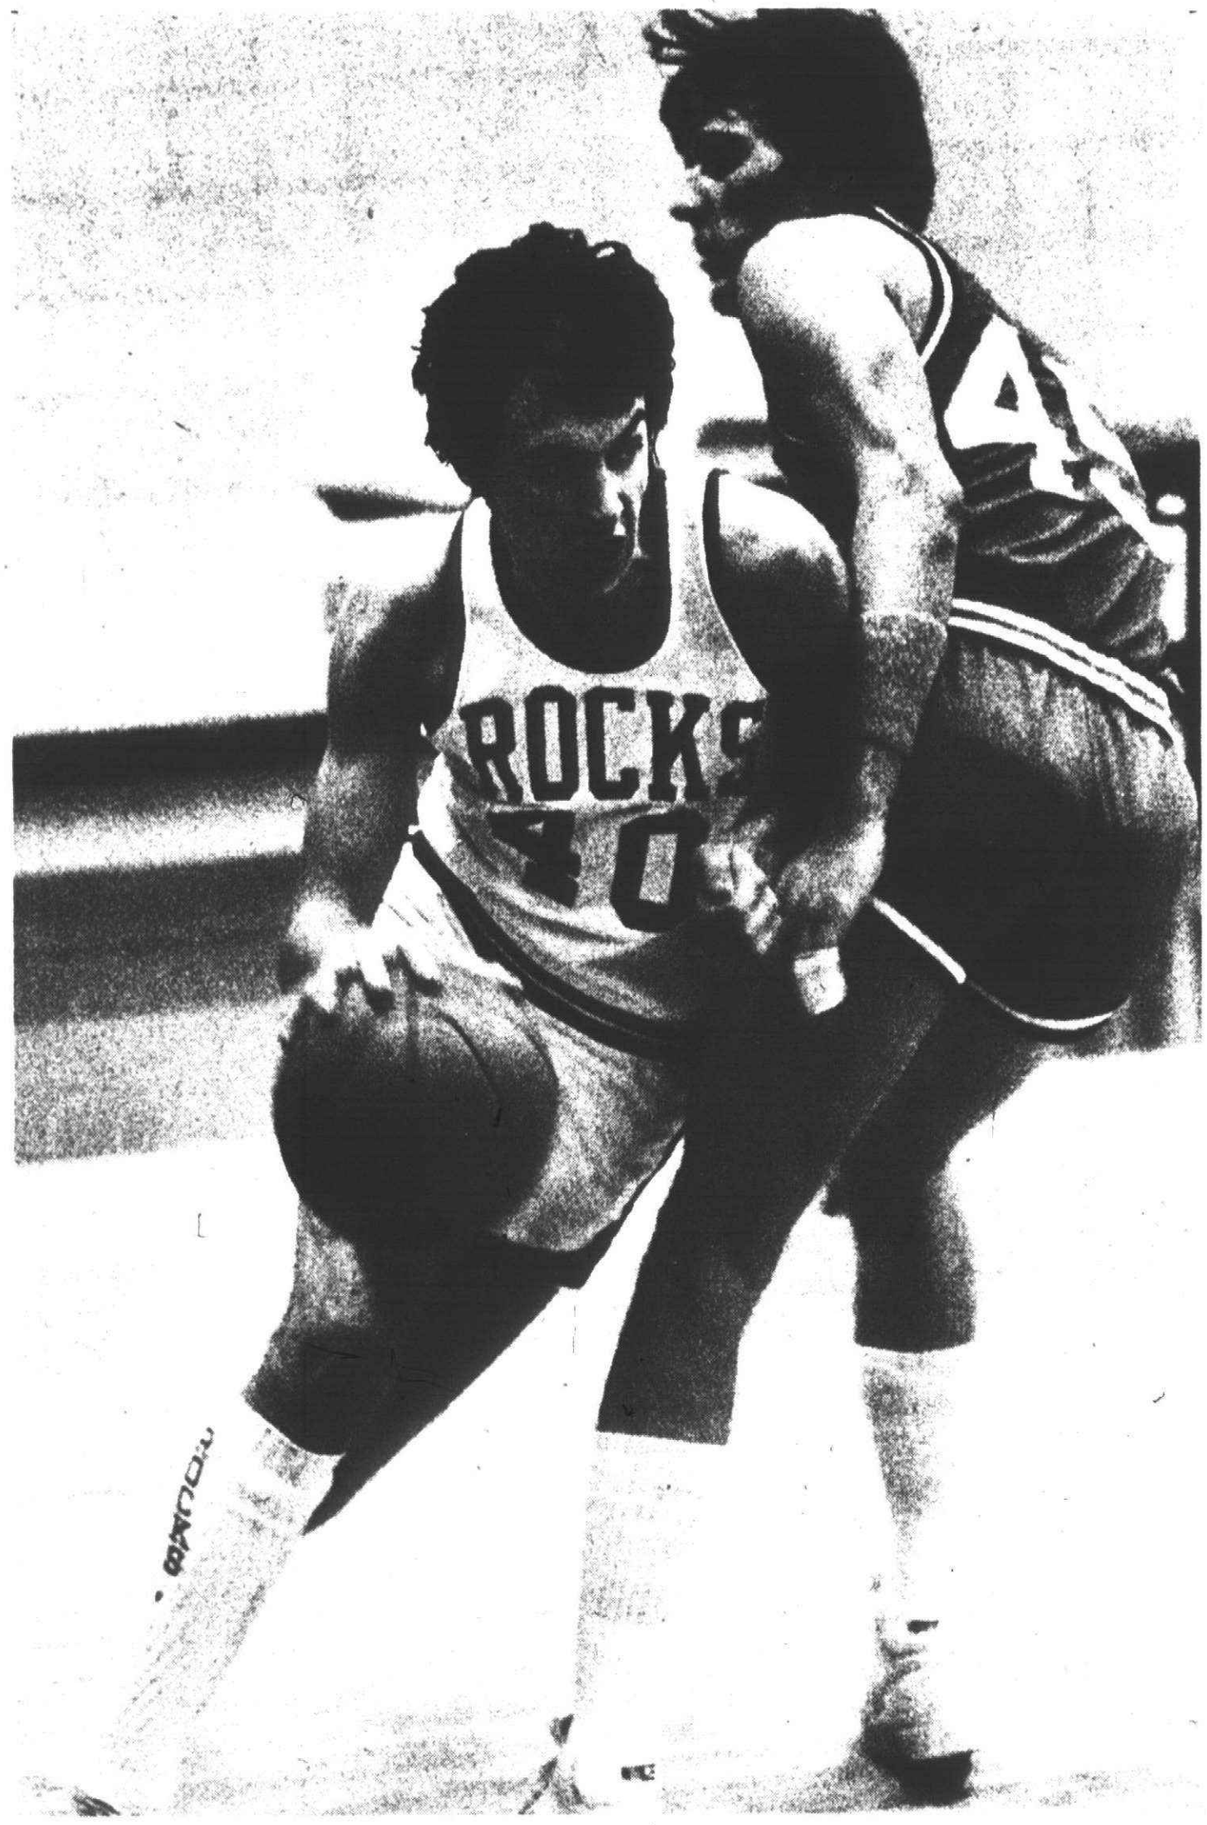

In the second overtime, the Railsplitters hit eight straight free throws to escape with the one-point win.

FOR THE GAME, Lincoln Park hit 20 of 26 free throws for 76 percent. Salem hit nine of 15.

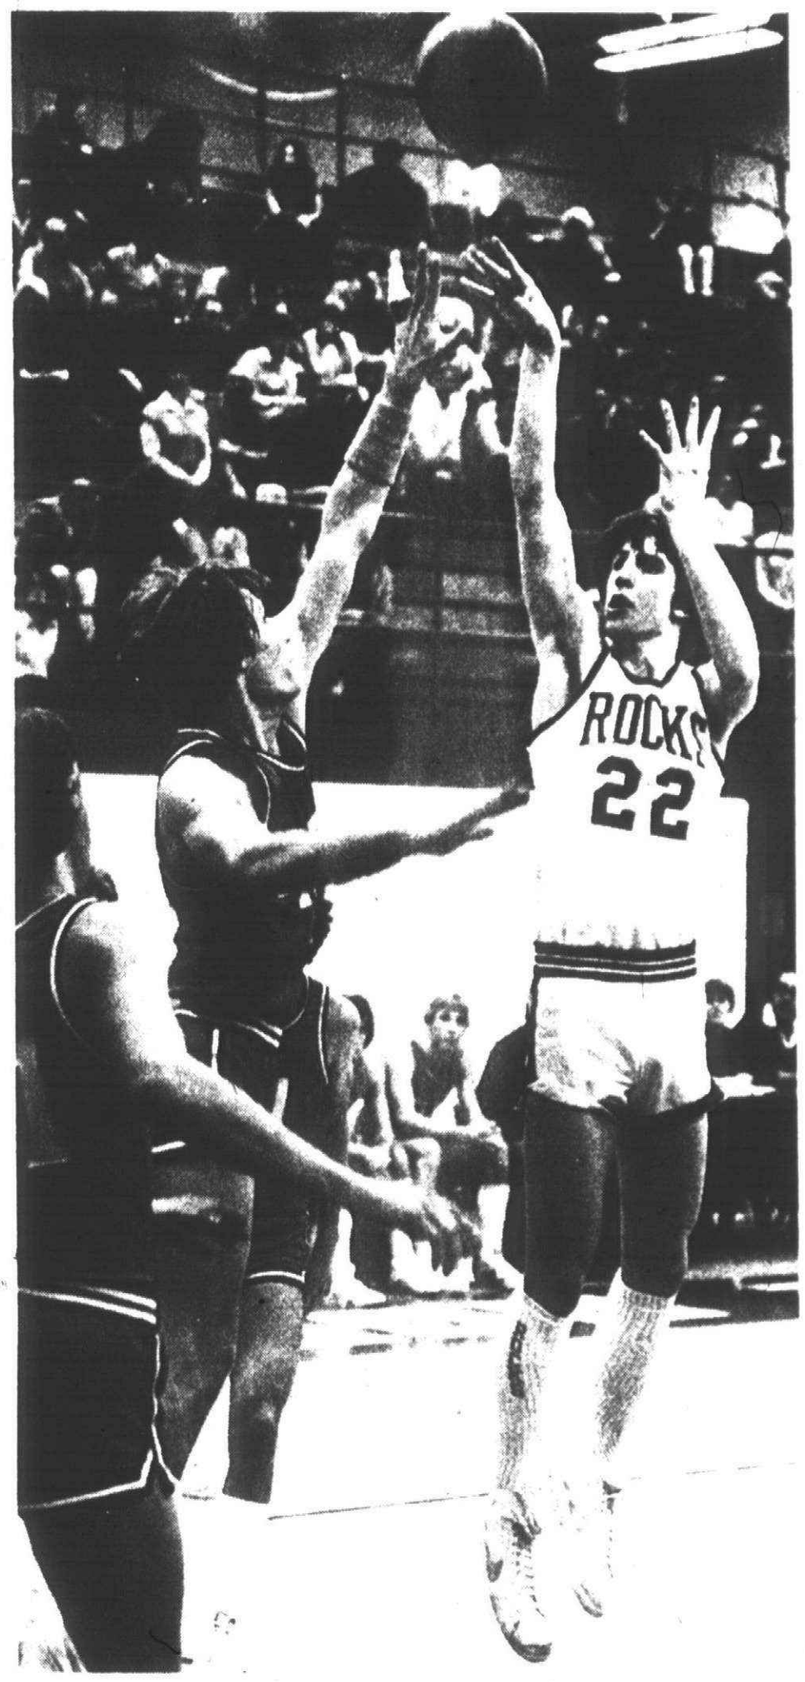

Lincoln Park's 6-foot-8 center Vince Ford led all scorers with 16 points. Skinner added 14.

Houle, a sophomore, had 12 to lead Salem. He also pulled down eight rebounds. Teammate Mike McBride had 11 points and seven boards. Bublin, who cut the Railsplitters' deficit to one point on a basket with eight seconds left in the second overtime, finished with nine points and six rebounds.

The Rocks will travel Tuesday to Livonia Franklin (12-6) for a non-league game. The game will be broadcast beginning at 7:50 p.m. on student radio station WSDP (88.1 FM) via a new portable transmitter.

Crazy cage year winds up

One of the wackiest and most confusing high school basketball seasons is winding down this week.

All the speculating will end abruptly next week when the state tournament, better known as March Madness in Michigan, begins.

With the exception of Detroit Catholic Central (they're in another class) and forward Greg Wendt leading the way, not one area team has risen to the forefront. A power team, with potential to reach the quarterfinals, has not emerged.

It's one of the most balanced seasons in years. And I can go back all the way to the mid-1960s when Bill Bollin was the star of Livonia Bentley.

On any given night, one team can certainly beat another. It's been proved time and time again.

The team with one of the best area marks, Redford Thurston, currently leading the Northwest Suburban League, is a prime example of this year's craziness.

The Eagles came off an impressive victory a week ago Friday over rival RU in a league showdown. On Monday night, without explanation, Thurston was upset by 4-13 Redford St. Agatha, a Class C school.

It must be pointed out, however, that St. Agatha was the same club which ended Redford Temple Christian's 17-game winning streak and a spot in the Free Press' top 10 (Class D).

Thurston's loss should not be taken too seriously. The Eagles own victories over Livonia Franklin, Westland John Glenn and Dearborn — all teams with impressive non-league records.

NO, I can't explain why Livonia Stevenson has RU's number or why Plymouth Salem, a loser to Stevenson in the Christmas Holiday Classic, can beat RU on the road. I can't explain why Farmington Harrison won at RU but couldn't win at Franklin, who couldn't win at Canton. Or how come RU drilled Canton the other night by 21 points?

The list goes on and on. If you'd dig out the records, you could present a good case on why six or seven teams could be No. 1 in the area.

Last week the upsets continued, John Glenn over RU, and winless Southgate Schafer over Garden City West.

Maybe those aren't upsets anymore.

Maybe you could rate the teams by city. Franklin is the best in Livonia after wins over Churchill and Bentley. CC, a loser the other night to U-D High, the best in Redford. I'm sure Canton would demand another rematch with rival Salem after a triple overtime defeat in the Holiday Basketball Classic.

GARDEN CITY EAST is the best in Garden City right now, since the Panthers beat West. That was the Panthers' last victory, back on Jan. 6.

Bob Blohm, the girls' basketball coach and assistant boys' coach at Salem, told me two years ago when I came to Plymouth that his main goal was preparing his team for the state tournament. Being from Indiana, I can understand where Bob is coming from. Hoosier Hysteria takes precedence over everything else in prep basketball.

He obviously practices what he preaches. His girls' team failed to win the Suburban Eight League but went all the way to the Class A semifinals. The year before he took his team to the regional finals.

Maybe next week we can get this all sorted out once and for all when district action starts. I've got a feeling a lot of league champs will fall like dominos.

Maybe we can judge this year's top team (other than CC) strictly by which one makes the longest tournament run.

It shouldn't be any other way.

Chief girls set dual gym mark

Plymouth Canton ran into one of the state's premier gymnasts and the result was a dual meet defeat.

Celeste Harrington, a senior, vaulted Walled Lake Central to a 99.0-95.85 victory over the Chiefs.

Bound next fall for the University of Utah, the nation's No. 1 ranked collegiate women's team, Harrington won all four events.

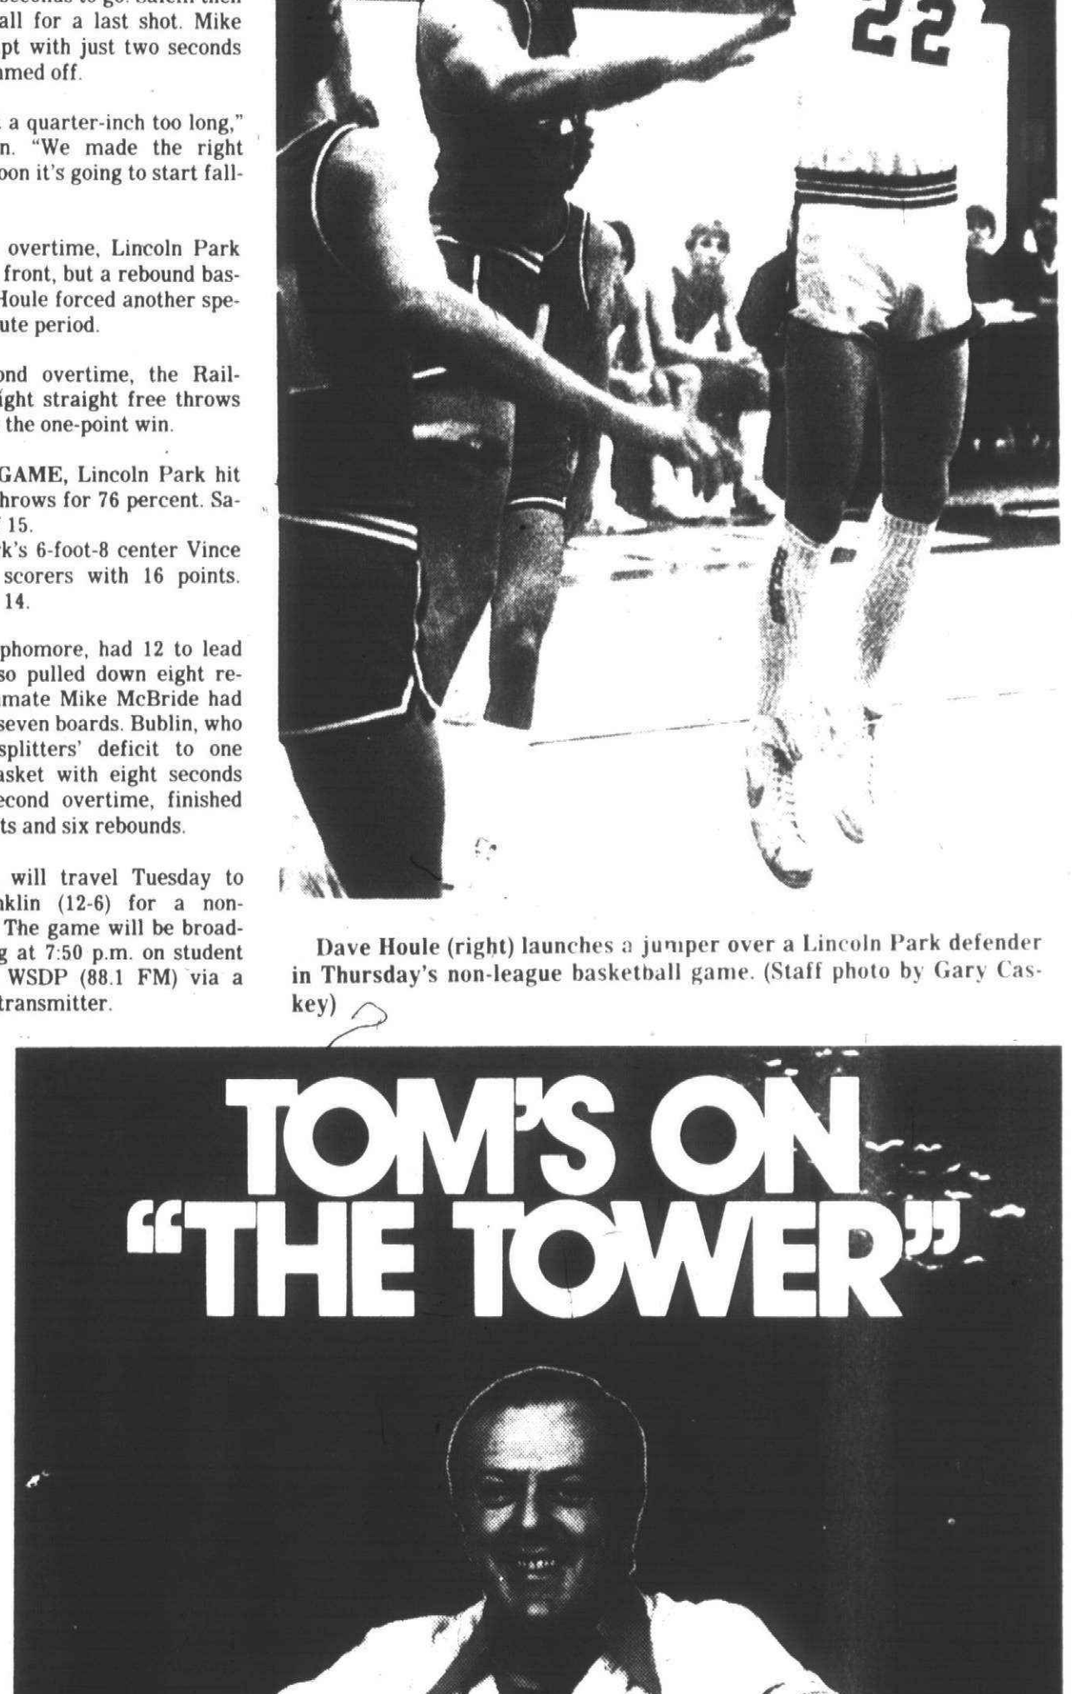

She was first in vault (9.1), balance beam (8.9), floor exercise (9.1) and uneven parallel bars (9.3) for a total of 36.4, good enough for the top all-around spot.

"We ran into a buzzsaw," said Canton coach John Cunningham, whose team slipped to an 8-3 dual-meet record. "Walled Lake had an exceptional night.

"They had good balance. I expected us to do well, but we couldn't overtake Celeste's performance. They were just a little better all day long.

Canton's top two gymnasts once again were Laura Michalik and Laurie Beale, both juniors.

Michalik finished second in vault (8.9) and uneven bars (8.15). She was third in balance beam (7.7) and fourth in floor exercise (8.35). Her score in the vault was a school record.

Beale finished second in floor (8.6) and beam (8.1). The Canton standout was third in uneven bars (8.0) and fourth in vault (7.9).

Linda Beale, a freshman, recorded a fourth-place finish in uneven bars (7.65). She was also fifth in beam (7.45) and seventh in vault (6.95).

Amy Albaugh, another Canton freshman, took seventh in floor (7.3) and eighth in both vault (6.8) and balance beam (5.55). Teammate Lisa Lovich finished eight in floor (7.05).

THE CHIEFS set a school record for most points in a dual meet by beating Northville Wednesday night, 96.55-91.45.

Northville's Paula Broderick was the all-around-champ (33.15), followed by Michalik and Beale in second spot at 32.9. Linda Beale grabbed fourth overall (30.9).

Laurie Beale finished first in both vault and uneven bars with identical scores of 8.4. Michalik, meanwhile, captured first in beam (8.45) and floor exercise (8.7). Linda Beale managed a pair of third-place finishes in floor and uneven bars.

"We knew we had to have a very good meet to beat Northville," Cunningham said. "We did well, but two meets in two nights made us tired.

"I'm not displeased at all."

Canton will travel Tuesday to Walled Lake Western.

Canton, Salem swimmers post easy meet wins

Ron Hurley tied a school record in the 50-yard freestyle as Plymouth Canton drenched Farmington Harrison in a Western Six League swim meet Thursday, 116-52.

Canton concluded its league swim season at 5-0. The Chiefs are 8-2 overall.

Hurley, a junior, posted a time of 23.1 to tie a varsity record. He also won the 100 butterfly with a clocking of 59.6 and teamed up with Bob Simrak, Greg Schnurstein and Pete Stern to claim first in the 200 medley relay with a time of 1:50.4.

Other Canton firsts were recorded by John Simone, 200 freestyle, 1:57.5; Steve Gaggi, diving, 170.3 points; and Stern, 100 freestyle, 52.5.

The Canton quartet of Joe Gibbons, Matt Krawzak, Stern and Simone garnered first in the 400 freestyle relay with a time of 3:41.7.

Jim Luce led a Canton sweep in the 100 breaststroke. He posted a time of 1:09.6 and was followed by Schnurstein (1:11.7) and Joe McBratnie (1:12.9).

Canton swimmers gaining second places included Simrak, 200 individual medley, 2:14.5, and 100 backstroke, 1:08.1; Craig Vanderburg, diving, 70.6; and Simone, 500 freestyle, 5:22.7.

Canton's 200 medley relay team of Jim Luce, John Luce, McBratnie and Krawzak took second with a clocking of 1:58.9.

"We're right where we should be," said McCord. "This was a gruelling week. We really worked hard.

"We'll start tapering off this week. We're looking forward to Stevenson and then roll into the league meet.

SALEM-ALLEN PARK

Plymouth Salem won 10 of 11 events Thursday to beat Allen Park, 61-18, in a Suburban Eight League duel.

The Rocks ended the regular season at 9-2-1.

John Thompson of Salem was the meet's only double winner. He finished first in the 100- and 200-yard freestyle events with times of 54.8 and 2:02.2, respectively.

Other Salem swimmers taking first included Russ Shaffer, 200 IM, 2:10.2; Paul Perkowski, 50 freestyle, 23.6; Jeff Kleinsmith, 100 butterfly, 57.8; Joe Rudelic, diving, 179.9; Jim Kindree, 500 freestyle, 5:27.6; Paul Neschich, 100 backstroke, 1:02.2; Gary Workman, 100 breaststroke, 1:06.5.

The team of Neschich, Workman, Perkowski and Kleinsmith captured first in the 200 medley relay with a time of 1:48.4. Teammates Bruce Harwood, Kindree, Brian McAninch and Doug Kleinsmith finished second for the Rocks (1:55.7).

Both Salem relay squads were disqualified for jumping the gun in the 400 freestyle event.

"I didn't see it," said Salem coach Chuck Olson. "The referee said we jumped. I was yelling that we got off the block late."

The Rocks also had a host of second-place finishers.

Among those included Tim Smith, 200 freestyle, 2:05.0, and 500 freestyle, 5:32.2; Doug Kleinsmith, 50 freestyle, 23.9; Todd Riedel, diving, 170.75; Tim Harwood, 100 butterfly, 1:01.1; Scott Anderson, 100 freestyle, 56.2; and Bruce Harwood, 100 backstroke, 1:02.0; McAninch, 1:10.3.

Erik Kleinsmith took third in the 200 IM (2:30.5) for the Rocks.

Olson will now prepare his team for the league meet, which will be held at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

"I think we're capable of winning," he said. "If we get pumped up and have some decent drops, we could be right there.

"I'd say Dearborn is the favorite. They have the most quality swimmers. Trenton has depth and Belleville has a history of swimming well in the league meets."

Preliminary heats begin at 3 p.m. Thursday. The finals are slated for 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Harrison cagers close to title

By BRAD EMONS

Like the song proclaimed out of the large stereophonic speakers at halftime, Farmington Harrison's basketball team wants a "Celebration."

Only one opponent stands in the way of the Hawks' first Western Six League title. That was made possible Thursday night as Harrison ripped Plymouth Canton, 62-42, to raise its league mark to 7-2, identical to Northville's.

Harrison, coached by Mike Teachman, can claim a share of the title Friday at Waterford Mott.

The Hawks simply overpowered the outmanned Chiefs in the second half with a 41-20 outburst. Canton had led at halftime, 23-21.

"The key was that we hit 10 of 12 shots from the floor in the third quarter," said Teachman, whose team upped their overall season mark to 12-5.

"We made a comeback by playing hard. It was the last home game for the seniors. They knew. I told them at halftime we had to play together more on offense. We also had to locate (Sean) Houle and give up only one shot."

The Hawks' zone defense bottled up Canton (9-9) and forced Houle, Canton's 6-foot-5 forward and best shooter, to play on the perimeter.

Harrison's win was highlighted by a balanced scoring attack. Center Steve Hollatz and guard Goran Vasovski each had 16 points. Dale Sklar and Steve Shanbom added 14 and 13, respectively.

Houle paced Canton with 16. Guard Dave Malek added 14.

CANTON WAS somewhat at a disadvantage as starter Matt Thomas sat out the game with an ankle injury. Reverse guard Jim Mills, also injured, did not play.

"I think he (Canton coach Craig Bell) ran out of players," said Teachman. "And the foul situation didn't help.

"They had a pretty good game plan."

With only nine able bodies, Bell had to rely on his inexperienced bench. To make matters worse, Steve Tuttle and Malek, both starters, got into foul trouble.

In the second half, Harrison controlled the boards and tore up the Chiefs inside.

The 6-5 Hollatz, who found his shooting touch in the second half, hauled down 10 rebounds. Shanbom added seven.

A three-point play by Vasovski with only three seconds remaining in the third quarter gave the Hawks a commanding 43-32 advantage.

In the final quarter, Harrison employed its delay game, forcing the Chiefs to foul. The hosts capitalized by hitting six of seven free throws.

The stereos will probably not be blaring Friday at Mott. The Hawks, however, hope to take another cue from the group "Kool and the Gang" with cause for "Celebration."

Pro nears million

For the first time in its long history, bowling is well on its way to boasting the first man to reach the $1 million mark in prize money.

When Earl Anthony, of the west coast, won the weekly event on the pro tour last weekend, he picked up a first place check of $16,000, which brought his lifetime total on the tour to $814,071. At that figure, he has a chance to pass the $1 million mark before the pro season ends in the $150,000 Firestone tournament in May.

WONDERLAND LANES enjoyed one of the highest scoring nights in recent memory Tuesday night when six members of the classic broke the 700 barrier.

Dave Karaska set the pace for the sharpshooters with a 742 made possible with games of 279, 205 and 258. Joe Bogden was next with a 734 that included the second perfect game bowled in the classic this year. The perfect game came after counts of 197 and 237.

The others who broke the barrier were Chuck Mahoney with 723, Fred Ringrose with 704, Dave Kaliszewski with 703 and Apron Lipshy with 700.

The ladies also did well when Debbie Ansara rolled a 601, Chris Fischer a 622 and Alexa Kassel a 628.

THE 700 CLUB at Plaza Lanes got another member this week when Mike Schweizer rolled a 736 in the Pinbuster loop.

Volleyball triumphs come as no surprise

Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem posted easy league volleyball wins last week.

The Rocks of Salem raised their Suburban Eight League and overall record to 5-4 with a 15-5, 15-6 triumph over Allen Park.

Canton, meanwhile, avenged an earlier loss to Farmington Harrison, 15-0, 15-6, to raise its season mark to 6-5 overall and 5-3 in the Western Six League.

Salem's victory was highlighted by some strong serving on the part of Mary Van Dusen, Kelly Tucker and Jacque Merrifield, the latter whom drilled an ace to wrap up the match.

Rock coach Cathy Himes also praised the play of setter Lisa Granger.

Canton, mathematically, still has a chance to share the league crown. The Chiefs host second-place Walled Lake Western Wednesday and then take on leader Livonia Churchill next Monday, also at home.

"It's still a possibility three teams could have three losses," reminded Canton coach Cyndi Burnstein. "We've been working hard lately on defense."

The Chiefs' defense was solid in the first game, forcing the Hawks (2-6) into setting and service errors.

(F) "Variance" means a grant of relief from the requirements of this Ordinance which permits construction in a manner that would otherwise be prohibited by this Ordinance.

Amy Irving co-stars with Richard Dreyfuss in "The Competition."

Piano soloists show their stuff in 'Competition'

For a few years we have had a run of sports-oriented movies, movies in which the leading characters battle for first place. Now we have a welcome and classy addition to those ranks, "The Competition" (PG).

It's not about football players or hockey players or basketball players. It's about piano players.

Richard Dreyfuss and Amy Irving are two pianists who fall in love while vying with four other finalists for top honors in a prestigious competition.

The group of finalists must have been cast by the same person who casts all those cross-section-of-the-population squads we see in war movies.

BESIDES THE WEALTHY, well-bred Ms. Irving and the frenetic Dreyfuss, whose parents have struggled to pay for his music lessons, there is a cold, withdrawn-artist type, Adam Stern; a flashy, aggressive pianist from an Italian family, Joseph Cali; a cool, laid-back black virtuoso, Ty Henderson; and a competent but colorless Russian, Vicki Kriegler.

In contrast to the use of this old movie cliche, the representative group, director and writer Joel Oliansky has treated the music competition in a fresh and discerning manner.

He has caught the tenseness of the participants and the backstage drama as they deal with troublesome pianos, argue with the conductor about orchestral interpretations and anguish over their own musical selections, wondering if they made the best choice.

"The Competition" also conveys a greater sense of authenticity than that found in other movies about classical musicians. The correlations between the motions of the actors and the musical sounds of the pianos, particularly when Irving is playing, is very convincing.

(We should note that Daniel Pollack is the concert pianist who plays the Prokofiev Piano Concerto No. 3 for Irving, and Chester B. Swiatowski plays the Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 5, the Emperor, for Dreyfuss.)

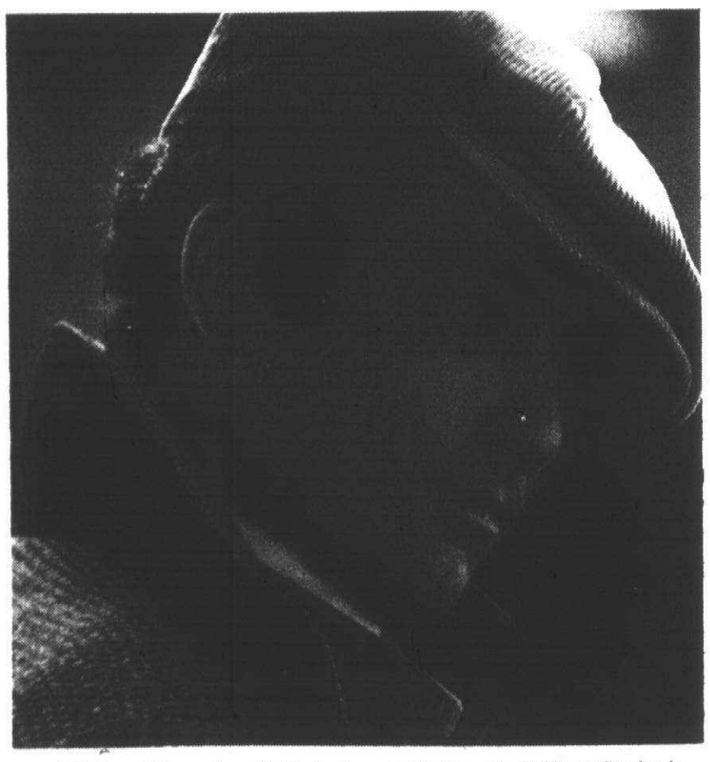

THE LOVE STORY fares less well than the story of the contest, but it is tolerable. Dreyfuss' abrupt changes in mood and emotion might be expected to try a woman's patience, but they don't faze Ms. Irving, who is willing to accept his boorishness.

This makes it more of a truly old-fashioned love story, though the end does hold some promise.

Oliansky, however, must have thought audiences couldn't handle a heavy dose of classical music, even spiced up with romance, because he tacked on a silly subplot involving a Russian defector. Ignore this and enjoy the music and whatever you can of the Irving-Dreyfuss affair. It does have some redeeming features.

In one scene, after the couple check into a motel, Dreyfuss tells Ms. Irving he doesn't want to make love, he just wants to be near her. "Does that infuriate you?" he asks. "No," she replies, "it comes as a great relief."

Adding to the overall entertainment is the crisp performance by Lee Remick as Irving's worldly and demanding teacher and an amusing performance by Sam Waterston as a suave, smug symphony conductor who could double, at least in appearance, for Leonard Bernstein.

THE 10% CASH SAVINGS PLAN

We know it's tough to buy a new car these days. That's why we've just done something about it.
It's called the 10% Cash Savings Plan. And here's what it gives you.

You can get a check for $675 to $693 on Capri, $617 to $658 on Zephyr, $654 to $767 on Cougar, $801 to $872 on Cougar XR-7. You can even get back $1403 to $1443 on Lincoln and $1724 to $1769 on Mark VI, including the Signature Series.

First, get your Stu Evans' best price on the selected new 1981 model you want...Then your 10% Savings Plan check will come direct from Lincoln-Mercury Division. Or you can use your Savings Plan check amount toward your down payment.

These cash savings are on top of your already low prices. And are based on 10% of the sticker price of the base vehicle. Take delivery or order now through March 21. Limit of one per customer.
