Business study yields sketchy solutions to woes

Members of a five-month-old task force on local business problems hesitate to call efforts of the group a failure.

But chairman Bob Czerniak and Trustee Stephen Larson admit disappointment on their success in meeting the Township Board's charge.

The task force was established in September by the previous Township Board in an effort to heal a long-standing rift between local government and the business community. The committee was directed to hold public hearings on business problems and submit recommended solutions to the Township Board.

Czerniak plans to submit a handful of suggestions to Supervisor James Poole this week along with records of the group's meeting and other materials.

"But there's not a whole lot of meat," said Larson of the committee's findings. "We just didn't come up with anything that's new or different."

CZERNIAK ATTRIBUTES the group's shortcomings to a sparsely attended public hearing held Nov. 13. The task force sent notices of the hearing to 200 businesses and planned to hold additional sessions.

But plans for more hearings were ended after only 20 business persons showed up for the initial hearing.

"I was under the assumption that there many, many businesses that were very frustrated," said Czerniak. "Then to have 20 people show up was kind of a disaster."

He called the task force "really a bomb."

Former chamber of commerce president Frank McMurray had suggested formation of the group to give businesses an opportunity to air their grievances against the township government.

MANY GRIPES aired by business persons at the Nov. 13 hearing had been leveled against township government for years.

Many complaints centered on Canton's strict sign ordinance. Shop owners who had constructed their own buildings complained of inaccurate information on building regulations, occupancy requirements and other matters.

Recommendations of the seven-person task force included:

- The designation of one township employee as an "ombudsman," who would help business persons with township regulations and construction requirements.
- A "shop Canton" campaign to give identity to the township's business community.
- An endorsement of a planning commission review of the sign ordinance.

"It was very difficult to come to any definite conclusions when only 20 people attended the hearing," said Czerniak.

"But if we had had 50 or 60 people, the problems voiced by the 20 may not have been any different."

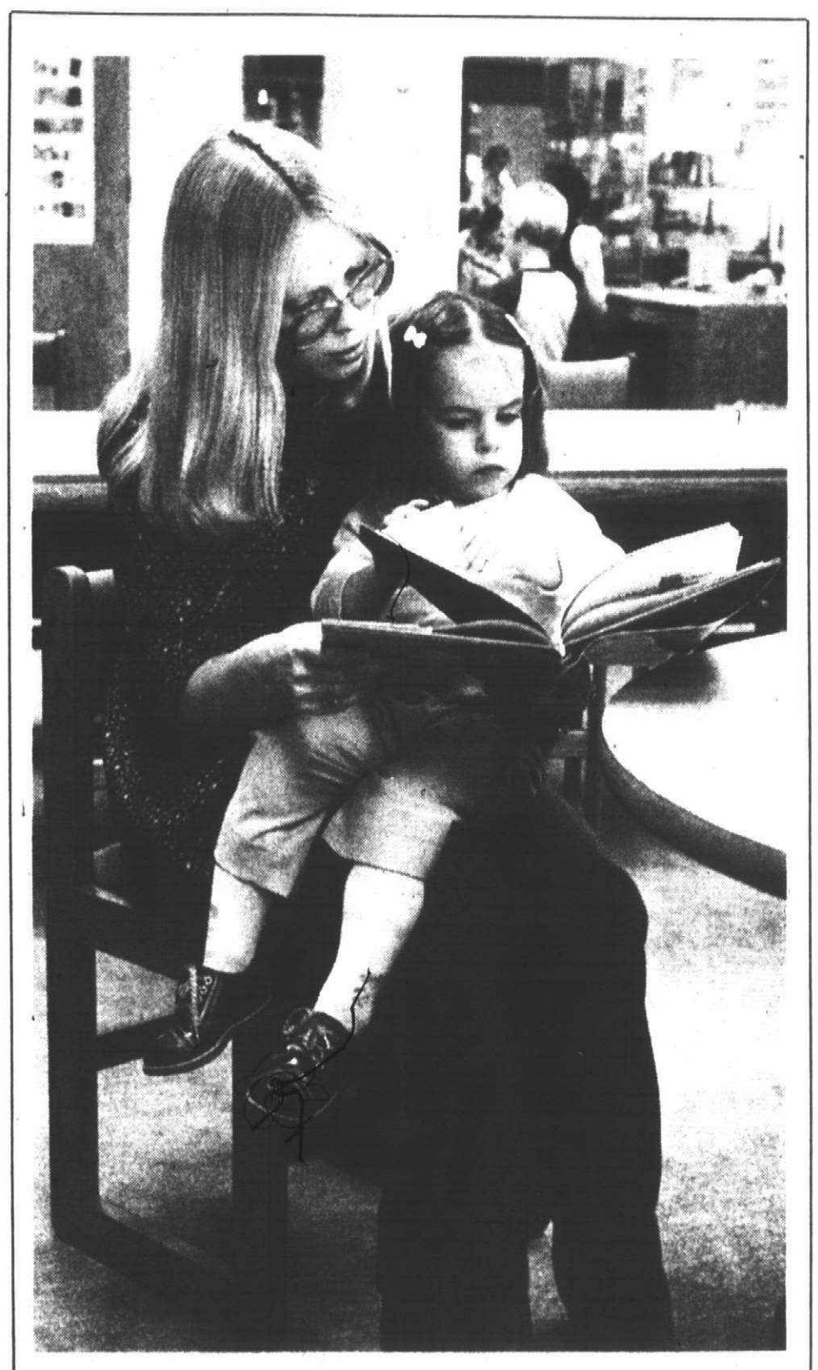

AMONG THE MATERIALS that will be submitted to Poole this week are results of an informal Canton Observer survey on residents' shopping habits.

Many of the 104 people who responded to the Observer questionnaire voiced dislike of the "strip" nature of Canton's shopping plazas. Many said they forego local shopping in favor of malls in other communities.

The task force helped compile questions for the survey form after residents failed to attend the group's public hearing. In general, residents gave high marks to marketing techniques in local stores and downplayed the impact of the sign ordinance on their shopping habits.

Czerniak said the task force decided not to submit recommendations, based on the survey results. Some residents suggested a change in the focus of business development to include a mall or downtown commercial district.

Schools examine public comments on boundary plan

Tentative school board plans call for a final public hearing on boundary changes, grade re-alignment and expanded use of year-round school for March 12.

The board has not yet chosen a site for the hearing but it likely will be either in the cafeteria of Plymouth Canton High School or in the gym of Pioneer Middle School.

Carol Davis, school board president, said Monday night the board would hold the hearing in the largest facility available that night to accommodate the expected crowds.

On March 3, the school board will have a workshop study session in the board offices to discuss suggestions from residents given during the four open forums held last week.

On Tuesday night the board is likely to decide on the location and time for the March 12 public hearing.

At Monday night's regular board meeting Mrs. Davis stressed that the March 3 workshop was not for public input but was scheduled so the trustees would have the chance to discuss among themselves suggestions made by the public.

The board has invited to the workshop Mike Terza of Ecosystems to get an idea how much earlier computer simulations can be changed and still allow the needed time to make decisions on staffing for the coming school year.

MRS. DAVIS said Monday night that the public had made excellent presentations to the board at the forums last week.

"The board members now have a complete set of minutes of those forums in their possession. And tapes of those meetings are available if trustees wish to listen to them. We also have a set of letters from residents."

All this material will be considered by individual trustees before the March 3 workshop session, she said, and then the board "will look at the implications of making some changes" which would then be presented at the final March 12 hearing.

At Monday night's meeting, a resident urged the board to consider split sessions at the high schools as an alternative to grade re-alignment and expanded use of Extended School Year (ESY).

The spokesperson also said that several years ago a committee at Bird Elementary spoke out against ESY as a way of absorbing student growth.

Mrs. Davis said the board had looked at split sessions at the high schools as an option. Even if split sessions were used, she added, there still would be a need to expand use of ESY at the elementary level.

IN A STATEMENT distributed at the four open forums last week, the school board defined its student population crunch problem as follows:

"We are faced with the fact that the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools are not presently able to house the number of students who will be coming to Centennial Educational Park (CEP), the middle schools, and specific elementary schools within the next two years.

"The problem is districtwide, affecting all levels from preschool through high school.

"We are currently housing students in buildings outside their attendance area because of the overflow in some grades. This points out that some school buildings are filled beyond capacity."

Board explores lunch options

A group of administrators are undertaking a study on how best to provide student lunches on a cost-effective basis.

The committee hopes to have a report back to the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education by the middle of April.

As part of that study the administration already has asked four food service companies to submit bids on running the cafeteria program of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

The school district also will explore hiring a fulltime food director in-house rather than contracting out to a company to provide the food program.

Those revelations were made to the school board Monday night by Dan White, director of finance, after a member of the parent food advisory committee complained to trustees about how ARA was operating the district's food program.

ARA is the private firm which has contracted with the district to provide meals to students and staff members.

The problem for the district is that the first year ARA took over the cafeteria accounts ran a deficit of $120,000 and is running a deficit to date in its second year of about $62,000.

The parent suggested that the best action to take now is to give notice to ARA of an intent to cancel the contract between the firm and the district.

Trustee Tom Yack pointed out that not all of the deficit can be blamed on ARA as the federal government has decreased its subsidy payments and foods costs have increased.

Because of these two factors, Yack

Security guard faces B&E rap

A former Honeytree apartment complex security guard faces a preliminary examination on a charge that he broke into an apartment at that complex.

Police have linked jewelry and other items found in the suspect's apartment to 15 break-ins at the Honeytree complex, off Joy Road near Haggerty, in the past six weeks.

Gary Powell, 29, of Honeytree Blvd. was arrested and arraigned last Saturday at the out-county branch of the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office.

On Monday, Powell was arraigned in 35th District Court on a separate charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He stood mute on both charges, and pleas of innocent were entered in his behalf.

A preliminary examinations have been set for March 2 in 35th District Court. Powell currently is out on bond.

Investigating the case were Canton Police Cpl. Rob Cripe and Officer John MacDiarmid. The chain of events are described by police as follows:

POLICE late last week obtained a search warrant and checked Powell's Honeytree apartment. Earlier, officers had received a tip that a gun and "boxes and boxes of jewelry" were in the suspect's apartment.

Some of the jewelry found there matched items reported stolen from the complex, said MacDiarmid.

Under further investigation, officers found a set of Honeytree pass keys and a loaded, .38-caliber handgun in Powell's car, said MacDiarmid.

Powell had been fired from his job as a security guard at the complex in December, MacDiarmid added.

Group taps buildings as historical sites

By ARLENE FUNKE

A 100 year-old church building on Ridge Road in Canton soon may have official recognition as a historical structure. Canton's historical commission Monday will give the Cherry Hill United Methodist Church that designation. Also slated to be named a historical building is a former one-room schoolhouse dating back to the 1880s.

The schoolhouse building, on Canton Center Road at Proctor, is being developed as a historical museum.

If the Township Board later approves those designations, the historical commission will have the authority to review site plans for any future exterior changes.

"There isn't any intent to gain control over the site," explained Township Planner Jim Kosteva, who works with the historical commission.

"It's just so that the building can be recognized as a local historical site," he added. "Most often you don't take this action unless you have the permission of the property owner."

Lillian Hauk, president of the historical commission, said this is the first group of designations. She expects the naming of other individual buildings and, perhaps, the creation of a historical district.

THE PRESENT Cherry Hill United Methodist Church building was erected in 1882 to serve the small, thriving community of farmers and merchants clustered along Cherry Hill and Ridge roads.

It replaced a frame structure that had been built in 1850, according to Dorothy West, a member of the historical commission and a long-time area resident.

The Rev. Bert Hosking, pastor of the 166-member church, expressed "delight" with the historical designation.

"Beyond the building, the congregation will be 150 years old in 1985," said Hosking.

"Everyone is very excited," he added. "Even if we expand, the original building will be left intact."

A TOWNSHIP ordinance adopted a few years ago established the seven-member historical commission to identify and preserve early structures and historical sites in Canton.

Current members, besides Mrs. Hauk and Mrs. West, are Ruth Wiles, Mary Hauk and Bart Berg. Others are attorney Eldon Johnson, who provides legal counsel, and Tivador Balogh, a Plymouth architect with a special interest in history.

According to Kosteva, a check is being made to see if the Cherry Hill church is listed on the state register of historical buildings.

If it is, a marker could be purchased, said Kosteva. The cost would range from $600 to 1,200.

In the meantime, a complete list of all historical buildings in Canton is expected to be compiled by April or May, said Kosteva.

Last fall, members of the historical commission and the historical society began working on a survey to catalog houses in Canton dating back to 1930 and earlier.

The survey was intended to be the first step in a process that would lead to historical designations of buildings at the township and state levels, with an eye toward future state grants for restoration.

Since then, funds for restoration have been "dramatically" cut back, said Kosteva. "(But) I don't think that hinders the intent of preservation at all."

The survey has included taking pictures of some 300 pre-1930 homes and buildings. That number will be pared to a somewhat smaller group of historically and architecturally significant buildings, said Kosteva.

correction

Some incorrect information was contained in an article in the Feb. 23 edition concerning the reprimand of a middle school principal.

The article suggests problems at two separate meetings — an administrative meeting and a cabinet meeting — while the incident really involved a single meeting.

At an administrative meeting, says Superintendent John M. Hoben, West Principal Robert Smith had made inappropriate and unprofessional remarks about a fellow principal. Hoben said Smith's language was "inappropriate" and not "abusive" as reported.

Hoben also denied saying he has been working with Smith for the past three years with little success. That sentence also was incorrect, said Hoben.

A judicial microcosm

How the 35th District Court operates

Second of two articles on the 35th District Court.

By ARLENE FUNKE

It's mid-morning, and the hallway outside the district court facility in Canton Township is teeming with people.

Blue-uniformed police officers from several communities wait their turn to testify. Attorneys examine case files and talk with clients.

Defendants range from the young dressed in blue jeans and T-shirts to business-types wearing three-piece suits. Most are men.

A young woman carefully combs her boyfriend's hair into place before he goes into the courtroom for his hearing. He is charged with possession of marijuana.

THE 35TH judicial district takes in Canton, the cities of Plymouth and Northville and Plymouth Township and Northville Township.

Records show that last year the district processed 25,000 cases — more than half for alcohol-related traffic violations, said Court Administrator George Wiland.

Wiland describes the district court as a "microcosm" of the Wayne County Circuit Court — easing the burden of that larger judicial body.

Penalties at the district court level usually are small fines. The case load runs the gamut from local ordinance violations, small claims and civil suits, infractions of some state laws, and arraignments and preliminary examinations on felony cases.

"In effect, we're culling a lot of cases out of the system that never get to circuit court," said Wiland. "It allows the circuit court to be a pure trial court."

ON THIS DAY, a docket of more than 100 cases will be considered. Mostly traffic violations, the include such things as drunk or impaired driving, driving with alcohol in the car and driving with a license suspended.

Two men who got into a fight at a Canton White Castle restaurant are tried on charges of being disorderly persons. There is also a marijuana case. The afternoon is devoted to hearings on felony cases.

Currently, there are three separate court facilities serving the district — in Plymouth, Canton and Northville. Chief Judge James Garber splits his time between Canton and Northville.

Judge Dunbar Davis works out of the courthouse in the Plymouth city hall. A new courthouse is being built in the city of Plymouth which will consolidate the district's activities in one building.

Canton is considering the possibility of joining that project, which will be completed in the fall. The other four communities already have agreed to go in.

Consolidation can only lead to increased efficiency in the court in terms of people as well as expenses," Wiland said.

As court goes into session, Garber explains that defendants have the right to plead guilty or to stand mute. By standing mute, an automatic plea of innocent will be entered, and a trial date set for a later time.

"If you plead guilty, you are saying to me that you're giving up those rights," said Garber. "Some folks tell me they want to tell me their side of the story, hoping it will (get them off),

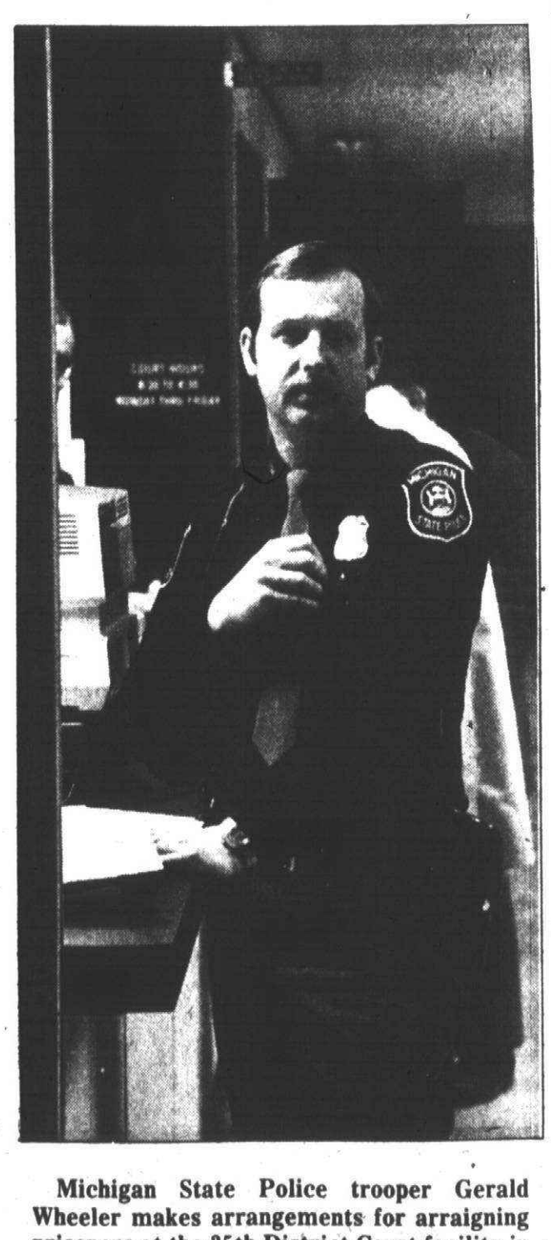

"But that doesn't happen too often," said Garber. "It doesn't explain away the guilt. It may reduce the sentence."

Garber's friendly, folksy manner and comments evoke chuckles from the audience as he goes through a dozen or so alcohol-related traffic cases.

"Your Honor, I had just finished signing on a new house," said the clean-cut man in his 20s. "I was celebrating. I guess I had a few beers.

"Maybe more than a few," responds Garber. He peers over his eyeglasses at the report indicating the defendant's blood-alcohol level at the time of arrest.

The defendant — who had been arrested for drunk driving — pleads guilty to a reduced plea of impaired driving. That may be appealed.

The plea carries a mandatory assignment of four points to the defendant's driving record. He is sentenced to six months' probation and, by court policy, he must attend several sessions of an alcohol awareness program.

The man receives a fine of $250 plus $5 court costs. A $20 probation fee will be refunded upon completion of the alcohol awareness program, said Garber.

DURING THE afternoon session, Garber binds over to circuit court several cases following preliminary examinations. The defendants are charged with escape from custody, braking and entering and arson. The judge also dismisses a felonious assault charge. The complaining witness charged that a former employee had pointed a gun at him and made threats.

Garber, referring to a recent Supreme Court Decision, said there was insufficient evidence to prove that the threat was meant to be carried out immediately.

Later, Garber told the prosecuting attorney that the man should have been charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

"Under the existing law, that's what he should have been charged with," said Garber.

A VISIT to the courthouse facility in Plymouth found Judge Dunbar Davis selecting jurors for a later trials.

According to Connie Brown, chief court clerk in Plymouth, jurors are selected at random among persons who live in the judicial district. Names are supplied from voter records through the Wayne County Jury Commission.

Jurors are paid $15 per day, plus 15 cents a mile. Once empaneled, they will serve for the duration of the trial. Jurors who aren't selected are excused.

The soft-spoken Davis announces the names of prospective jurors as he picks them by lot from a box.

Davis emphasizes that "the cards aren't stacked against" those who come into court.

"You lay aside your own feelings of what may be right and wrong," said Davis. "You decide the case purely on its merits. You go by the law and the evidence."

Library slates new story hour for 2-year-olds

When should you start reading to children?

Children's librarian Clara Bohrer says as early as possible. Starting next month, she will host a story hour for 2-year-olds and their parents.

Although the Canton Public Library sponsors reading programs for pre-schoolers, the sessions have been limited to 3- to 5-year-olds in the past. Parents sit on the sidelines while Ms. Bohrer conducts those sessions.

The program for 2-year-olds will be different. Participation by Mom, Dad, a grandmother or babysitter is required.

"This is probably the first time (these) children will be in a group together. It's not only a way for the child to be amused, but a learning experience for the parent," she said.

During the first 20 minutes of the half-hour sessions, Ms. Bohrer will read stories to children and their parents. Finger puppets and felt boards will be used to illustrate the story line. During the last 10 minutes, parents will be asked to individually read stories to their kids from a selection of books for 2-year-olds.

Registration for the free sessions begins at 10 a.m. March 2 in the library on the third floor of Township Hall.

The series of reading sessions will be held on four consecutive Mondays, begining March 9. One series will be held at 10:30 a.m. The other is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

Ms. Bohrer plans to hold more reading sessions for 2-year-olds throughout the year. She believes the program is the first of its kind in the Canton-Plymouth area.

Task force fizzles

"WE FELT it was outside the scope of our charge to make that kind of recommendation," said Larson. Larson also served as the Township Board's representative on the task force.

"It may well be that Canton one day could have a huge shopping center. But if you put a Fairlane in Canton, you could put a lot of current business people out."

Czerniak said he will present the task force findings to the Township Board, if requested by Poole.

Lunch ideas probed

added, the board at its last meeting increased student lunch prices by 10 cents.

Yack said the food operation in the district was so complicated that it would be very difficult to change vendors in mid-stream.

Yack said the district could run its own food program, as it has in the past, but it also could lose money as it did in earlier years.

WHITE THEN indicated that he had sent out invitations to bid for the cafeteria program to ARA and to three other companies.

While waiting for the bids, White said the administration also will explore the pros and cons of having an in-house director to run the cafeteria program.

White said the administration hoped to have a recommendation by the end of March so it would meet with the school board, along with vendors wanting to make proposals, at a workshop session in mid-April.

To help the food program improve its financial position cafeterias are now offering low-cost items which are more popular with students, such as tacos and hot dogs, to help increase sales while keeping expenses down.

In recent weeks the food services staff also has been experimenting with the use of pork as a substitute for beef, such as using pork with spaghetti.

Man charged in break-in

Maximum penalty for breaking-and-entering is 15 years in prison upon conviction. Carrying a concealed weapon carries a penalty of five years in prison.

IN A SEPARATE breaking-and-entering case, two men Monday were bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court after waiving preliminary examination in the district court.

Bound over were Leland Grayson, 18, of Canterbury Circle in Canton, and Vincent McClure, 19, of St. Marys in Detroit.

Grayson faces two counts of breaking-and-entering a Canton home and one count of escaping police custody. McClure faces one breaking-and-entering charge.

Lawmakers see 'holes' in Reagan budget message

By TIM RICHARD

The speech was stirring. Now bring on the details.

That is how three suburban Wayne County congressmen reacted to President Ronald Reagan's revised budget message for fiscal 1982.

"All we have is generalizations thrown out for public consumption," said U.S. Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor, a nine-term veteran from the 15th District, which includes Garden City, Westland and Canton. He predicts hard times for laid-off workers.

"No question, there are some holes," said Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, a third-termer whose district includes Livonia and Northville. "But the overall thrust was excellent."

"I thought the general thrust was one I certainly would agree with," said Rep. William Brodhead, D-Detroit, a fourth-termer whose district includes Redford. "But there is some question whether in Michigan these cuts will affect the needy."

REAGAN LAST week proposed $41.4 billion in spending cuts and $44.2 billion in tax cuts, promising the cuts would not hurt the "deserving needy."

The president asked huge reductions in such programs as:

- Food stamps, $1.8 billion.
- Medicaid, $1.2 billion.
- Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, $3.5 billion.
- Extended unemployment benefits, $3.5 billion.
- Aid to families with dependent children, $520 million.

'I've looked at the figures on education. Michigan would get its education aid cut an estimated $216 million. I haven't seen the formulas. But we can't swallow a $216 million loss, no matter how you cut it. The state budget is cut to the bone; school districts are not about to get new millages.'
— U.S. Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor

- Extended unemployment benefits, $1.2 billion.
- Trade Readjustment Act benefits to workers whose jobs are displaced by imports, $1.1 billion, among others.

The full budget message is due March 10. Before his address to Congress, Reagan fully briefed newspeople and congressional leaders. It led Pursell to remark there's a "world of difference" between Reagan and Jimmy Carter, in 1977. "Tip O'Neill (House speaker) and Jim Wright (Democratic floor leader) were absolutely floored. He (Reagan) knows it's a partnership."

FORD, WHO votes close to organized labor's line, thinks Michigan will be hurt, from what he has been able to piece together.

"I've looked at the figures on education. Michigan would get its education aid cut an estimated $216 million. I haven't seen the formulas. But we can't swallow a $216 million loss, no matter how you cut it. The state budget is cut to the bone; school districts are not about to get (voter approval of) new millages.

"Michigan requires a school lunch program, they (Reagan administrators) pull $50 million from the program."

Jobless benefits particularly concern Ford and his blue-collar district.

"With continued unemployment, many workers have exhausted their eligibility for unemployment benefits. In December of 1979 we (15th District) had $1 million in extended benefits; by December 1980 we had $1.588 million paid into the district.

"If you pull federal extended unemployment benfits in a district like the 15th, you have an impact. If you pull out the federal benefits, you maximize the number of people going on welfare."

IN 1979 the 15th District had 400 workers running through their unemployment benfits; by the end of 1980, it had 1,300 or three times as many.

For the state as a whole, the numbers were 9,000 at the end of 1979 and 19,800 by the end of 1980.

"We have three times as many people running out of unemployment benefits in 1979 as in '80. It shows you what prolonged unemployment is doing to us," said Ford.

"When Jerry Ford was president, we had 52 weeks of unemployment benefits in Michigan. When Carter ran for reelection, we had 39 weeks. Now we have Reagan trying to cut back to 26 weeks.

"We are the Appalachia of the 1980s," said Ford.

PURSELL CALLED the CETA cuts "a good case" where harm will come to Michigan, which stands to lose funding for 300,000 public service jobs.

Some states may be able to absorb those employees with state and local funds, "but it won't happen in Michigan," the Republican congressman said.

"I want to work with middle-sized business to offer tax incentives to pick up (hire) individuals who are structurally unemployed. If every medium-sized company took just one, it would mean 60,000 jobs.

"His overall thrust was excellent. But it's hard to convince some people who are unemployed," said Pursell, who points to high jobless rates in the Monroe and Ypsilanti areas of his sprawling district.

"But this is an attempt to reduce the rate of federal spending to 6 percent. The rate has been 12 percent," he said.

BRODHEAD FOUND "the general thrust one I certainly could agree with: a cut in the growht of federal spending, and a tax cut for individuals and especially for business to encourage new technology."

Brodhead, recently elected head of the Democratic Study Group, composed of liberal congressmen, added, however, "there is some question whether in Michigan these cuts will affect the needy. The TRA cut will be a hardship for some auto workers. CETA.

"His 30 percent tax cut? There's agreement we need a good, healthy tax cut, but 30 percent over three years strikes a lot of economists and a lot of us as inflationary.

"I hope we won't got the full 30 percent — (just) a healthy one off the bat.

"Their supply side theory is that if you cut taxes, it will generate so much economic activity that tax revenue won't fall," said Brodhead.

Will Reagan doom rapid transit?

By TIM RICHARD

Many government leaders have predicted that President Reagan's budget-cutting measures will squelch development of rapid transit in southeastern Michigan but friends of rapid transit say it's too early to sound the death knell.

They are looking to two key Republicans — Gov. William G. Milliken and U.S. Transportation Secretary Drew Lewis — to maintain a flow of federal transit aid.

Marvin Meltzer, who handles intergovernmental relations for the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA), believes there are "indications, both yea and nay." "There's no reason to believe the ball game is over. I'm optimistic," he said.

SEMTA's $1.4 billion 1990 transportation plan is aimed at commuter rail and buses. Its most publicized feature, however, is a proposed light rail rapid transit line along Woodward from downtown Detroit to 11 Mile in Royal Oak including a planned underground segment (read subway) from downtown to McNichols Road in Detroit.

PRESIDENT REAGAN's budget message proposes to reduce federal expenditures by $41.4 billion for fiscal 1982, in part by delaying rapid transit projects.

"I disagree with the Reagan people," said U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, whose 2nd District includes Livonia. "It (rapid transit) is an investment in the broad sense.

"Toronto, BART (San Francisco) — every area where I've seen rapid transit, it has an enormous impact on jobs. It was bad taste (for Detroit Mayor Coleman Young) to call it (opposition) racist. Rapid transit would be partnership of suburbs and city and business."

Pursell, who in his third term has just won a seat on the transportation appropriations subcommittee, is cultivating Drew Lewis, a Pennsylvanian rather than a Westerner. Pursell calls him "a bright, shining star; pragmatic; specific; rational; reasonable.

PURSELL MET with Lewis during the Reagan Administration's budget briefings and worked to put Lewis in contact with Gov. Milliken, a booster of rapid transit.

"I suggested to the governor's office that we meet over the weekend," Pursell said last week.

Milliken has made a slowdown in "urban sprawl" and preservation of cities key elements in his administration's policy. Milliken is widely expected to carry SEMTA's ball on rapid transit, especially after the defeat of President Jimmy Carter left Mayor Young without a White House connection.

In Detroit last week, Lewis said the rapid transit line and downtown people-mover face some delay, but held out strong hope the Reagan Administration would honor the $600 million commitment to SEMTA made in the closing days of the Ford Administration in 1976.

REP. WILLIAM Brodhead, D-Detroit, whose 17th District includes Redford, Farmington and Southfield, said halting rapid transit construction "is a short-signed policy because, as petroleum becomes more expensive, people will be ever more dependent on mass transit."

"I hope that (Reagan's proposed slowdown) will be an area where Congress will take a look. If Congress cuts it, it won't matter what decision the Reagan Administration makes because there won't be enough money," Brodhead said.

During budget briefings with the Capitol Hill press corps, a Reagan official remarked that "people in Sioux Falls don't want to pay for rapid transit so that people in Los Angeles can get to work faster."

It underscored Reagan's campaign strategy, which was to target cities of 40,000 or less population. Small cities don't have the interest in public transportation that large cities have.

To this Brodhead replied: "People from Sioux Falls benefit from agricultural subsidies and irrigation projects that all taxpayers pay for.

Cooler heads prevail; Sanders' stays open

Phantoms of the hot fudge fix, do not fret or fear.

Sanders, the confectioner of fun and fattening foods, will continue normal operations in its bakery and 50 metro area retail stores despite reorganization under Chapter 11 of the U.S. bankruptcy code in Bankruptcy Court in Detroit.

"The store goes on as if nothing ever happened," said one Sanders' manager.

Reorganization under Chapter 11 was announced last week by Fred Sanders, company owner.

The court order permits Sanders to operate as a debtor in possession and to continue the operation of its business. The company has a total of 734 creditors with unsecured debt of $4 million.

"The company's results of operations for the year ended May 31, 1980, were at a break-even level which was a substantial improvement over the previous year," said Stephen A. Horn, president and chief executive officer.

The company expected to return to profitability for the current fiscal year, but the expectations fell short. Michigan's recession was blamed.

"THROUGH IMPROVED sales and marketing programs, and hopefully a modest recovery of the Detroit economy, we expect to generate the revenue necessary for profitable operations," Horn said.

Established in 1875, Sanders is a steadfast tradition in the Detroit area, credited with the invention of the ice cream soda and most famous for its hot fudge sundaes.

Sanders manufactures a broad line of retail treats at its Highland Park plant including Vernors ginger ale flavored ice cream and double cream chocolate layer cakes.

'Hooker bar' closing touches home

Alan Papineau, a resident of the Cass Corridor neighborhood, says he doubts that closing Anderson's Garden will reduce prostitution in the area. (Staff photo by Craig Piechura)

By CRAIG PIECHURA

When someone says "suburban businessman," the image of a lawyer, accountant or comptroller probably comes to mind. What doesn't come to mind is the owner of a "hooker bar" in the Cass Corridor.

But suburbanite Harry Levenburg, 65, owns such an establishment — Anderson's Garden — a bar that, after 25 years of police investigations, has become synonymous with the prostitution trade in Detroit.

After a protracted, five-year legal struggle, Levenburg's bar was padlocked Monday morning by Wayne County Prosecutor William L. Cahalan and Detroit Police Chief William L. Hart under terms of a consent judgment entered by Wayne County Circuit Judge Patrick J. Duggan on Jan. 23. In exchange for the settlement the prosecutor has dropped criminal charges against Levenburg of Southfield.

The court order stipulates that the bar "constitutes a public nuisance" and forbids Levenburg from ever engaging in the liquor business again in Michigan.

The bar will be closed for a minimum of four months. After that it may reopen under new ownership and a new name.

While Levenburg is allowed to sell the bar and transfer his liquor license, any new owner must first be approved by the prosecutor, the Detroit police chief and the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. The buyer also must agree to exclude known prostitutes from the premises.

THE PERSON who buys Levenburg's liquor license must agree not to use the name "Anderson's Garden," or anything similiar, at any location in the city under terms of the agreement.

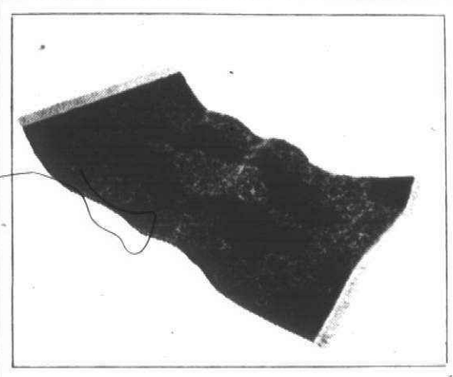

At the padlock ceremony Monday morning Prosecutor Cahalan called the closing of Anderson's Garden bar the final step "in closing the triangle" of businesses in the area that allegedly aided and abetted prostitutes.

Levenburg's attorney, Jack Schon, was unavailable for comment on the court settlement or the padlock action. A woman answering the phone at the Levenburg home said she doubted if he would talk to the Observer & Eccentric because "your coverage of Anderson's Garden was very unfavorable."

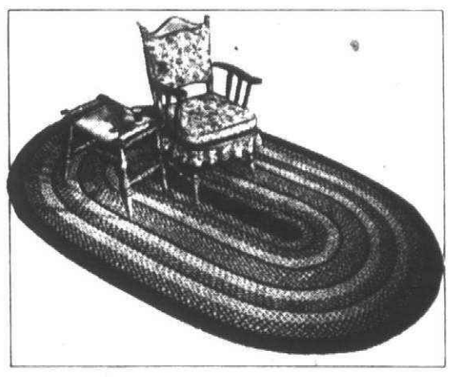

Originally, the owners of three businesses in the area — Anderson's Garden, the Wilcrest Hotel and the Fourth-Willis Hotel — were indicted in February 1980 by a Wayne County citizen's grand jury investigating prostitution activity. Also indicted was Ronald Share, identified as the owner of the Last Chance Bar at the southeast corner of Eight Mile Road and Woodward.

Five Southfield residents indicted were Harry Levenburg and son Eugene Levenburg, 27, — named in the 1980 indictment as the owners of Anderson's Garden — Aram Jurjurian, 76, former owner of the Wilcrest Hotel; Louis Jonas, and son, Walter Jonas, 52, named as partners in the Wilcrest Hotel.

Jurjurian sold the hotel after he was sentenced on a felony charge of "conspiracy to pander" and placed on two years' probation.

Alter tanker design, U-M study suggests

In place of the double fuel tanker trucks now being phased out in Michigan because of their poor safety record, a University of Michigan study recommends use of single tanker trailers that are larger and wider than the conventional 9,000-gallon capaicty tankers now slated for widespread use.

The recommendation is presented in the final report submitted by researchers at the U-M's Highway Safety Research Institute (HSRI) to the Michigan Department of Transportation, which sponsored the study.

Robert D. Ervin, who directed the U-M research, says the larger "Advanced Michigan Tankers" which meet stringent safety requirements should be safer and more economical than conventioanal tankers and also allow industry to compensate for the loss of use of the 17,000-gallon double tankers being phased out by 1983.

The new single "Advanced Michigan Tankers" proposed in the study would be larger than those in use elsewhere in the nation and wider than presently permitted under Michigan law, Ervin said.

The report recommends legislation permitting operation of tankers carrying unpressurized flammable liquid with tank capacities as high as 10,200 to 13,200 gallons. This is an increase over the 9,000-gallon limit imposed under a Michigan law to take effect by 1983.

Another of the HSRI recommendations is to increase the width of the tankers from the presently allowable 96 inches to 102 inches, in order to increase rollover stability. Such a measure, coupled with height limits on the trailers," would improve the trailers' roll stability and could reduce rollovers by as much as 48 percent," the researchers emphasized.

The report also recommends improvement of tanker "manhole" covers or inspection ports to withstand up to 50 pounds per square inch of internal pressure. This would significantly reduce the chances of fuel spills and fires in the event of tanker accidents, said the U-M researchers.

Is your car deductible?

Taxpayers filing 1980 federal income tax forms can claim a number of deductions for business or personal use of their motor vehicles.

According to the Automobile Club of Michigan, there are two ways to figure the deductible cost of operating a vehicle for business purposes: taking a standard deduction of 20 cents per mile for the first 15,000 miles and 11 cents per mile thereafter, or maininting detailed records of actual expenses.

Taxpayers who choose to maintain records can deduct the following expenses relative to their business use of the car:

- Insurance premiums, license and title fees and insurance club membership dues.
- Gas, oil, lubrication, washing, parking, tolls and repair costs.
- Depreciation: any reasonable method may be used if consistently applied.
- Monthly car lease payments including additional operating costs. Rental costs are in lieu of depreciation.

There are deductions that motorists can take regardless of whether the car is used for business or personal use. They include:

- Sales tax paid on the purchase of an automobile, motorcycle, motor home or truck.
- Interest on auto loans.
- Casualty or theft losses in excess of the amount covered by insurance. The first $100 is not deductible.
- Nine cents per mile for medical or charitable trips.
- Nine cents per mile for moving expenses for those who qualify as specified in tax form 3903 or in lieu or actual expenses.

Dear Jo: I am a professional woman in my late 60s. My facial skin is beginning to sag. I am considering having a facelift but I am not quite sure where to start. Could you give me some information on this.

The best place to start is to make an appointment with a qualified plastic surgeon for an evaluation, after which you can make more definite decisions. In many instances a complete facelift is not necessary.

Plastic surgeons are listed under physicians and surgeons in the Yellow Pages of your telephone directory.

Dear Jo: For quite some time now I have noticved that when I go to a movie theater it takes me longer to get used to the darkness. Sometimes this is quite embarrassing. I feel helpless and am afraid that I might bump into someone or possibly have a fall. Does this happen to people my age?

As we grow older sight recovery is delayed when moving from a light to dark area and vice versa. This is considered to be a part of the normal process of aging.

To adjust to this the best thing to do is to remain at the back of the theater for a few minutes until your eyes adjust to the change, then proceed to find a seat.

No local police for Hines Park patrol

Chances are slim there will be police patrols in the 17.5-mile Edward Hines Parkway in western Wayne County this spring.

A special Wayne County Park Task Force, chaired by Commissioner Clemens E. Bykowski of Detroit, learned last week that local police agencies cannot help if they wanted to.

The reason: They abdicated responsibility for the park to the Sheriff's Department in a 1955 written contract.

PLYMOUTH Police Chief Tim Ford told the task force that all communities bordering the park had signed an agreement with the sheriff and board of commissioners in 1955 and had been paid $1 a year each to clinch the deal.

"Even so," said Ford, "none of the communities has the manpower or training to cope with the huge crowd that reach 40,000 per day during spring and summer seasons.

"We have a mutual aid group of 16 community police agencies, but we haven't had an occasion to form for the past 10 years.

"Crowd control requires especially trained police, and most agencies are having problems with cutbacks due to the economy," Ford added.

LETTERS FROM Plymouth, Dearborn and Westland police departments all agreed there will be an urgent need for park patrols this year, but denied they had staff to contribute beyond what they already do.

Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara questioned whether the county has a right to close county parks.

Westland Chief William L. Rechlin said his city has taken the position it can close any area open to the public which may pose a threat to members of the community.

Communities bordering the park are the Northville city and township, Plymouth city and township, Livonia, Garden City, Westland, Dearborn Heights, Redford Township, Dearborn and Detroit.

A TASK force resolution, introduced by Commissioners R.William Joyner, D-Plymouth, and William Runco, R-Dearborn, seeks approval from the Michigan Legislature to use $1.2 million in secondary road funds to provide park patrols.

But the resolution became bogged down during a full session of the board of commissioners last week. Eventually it was referred to the public safety committee.

Bykowski argued the funds could only be used for roads and parks, but others feared they could be used for the county jail.

Followup meetings await additional communications from police agencies bordering the park and information from Genesee County on its recent use of secondary road funds.

COMMISSIONER Thomas Presnell, D-Westland, said he planned to introduce a resolution supporting the plan of state Rep. Richard A. Young, D-Dearborn Heights, that Hines Parkway become a state park.

U-M hikes room rates

University of Michigan Regents, at their Feb. 19-20 meeting, approved a rate increase of 9.8 percent for the traditional residence halls and an increase of 9.95 percent for the family housing units on the Ann Arbor campus for next year.

"Although virtually all Housing Division expenses are expected to increase by more than 10 percent during the 1981-82 budgetary year, implementation of significant cost savings measures as well as notable increases in summer housing revenues will soften the anticipated inflationary impact," said Robert C. Hughes, director of housing, and Henry Johnson, vice president for student services.

The basic rate for a double room in the traditional residence halls, which is now $2,077.05 for two terms, will be $2,281.29 next year. The rate includes room, seven dinners and six lunches weekly.

Other rates will range from $871.93 (now $744.56) for a room-only triple unit in the Fletcher Hall to $2,704.99 (now $2,462.95) for a single room in the traditional residence hall.

The new rates for student tenants in family housing units, effective July 1, will range from $179 (now $166) a month for a furnished efficiency apartment in Universtiy Terrace to $329 (now $299) for a furnished three-bedroom unit in Northwood IV. These rents include utility charges.

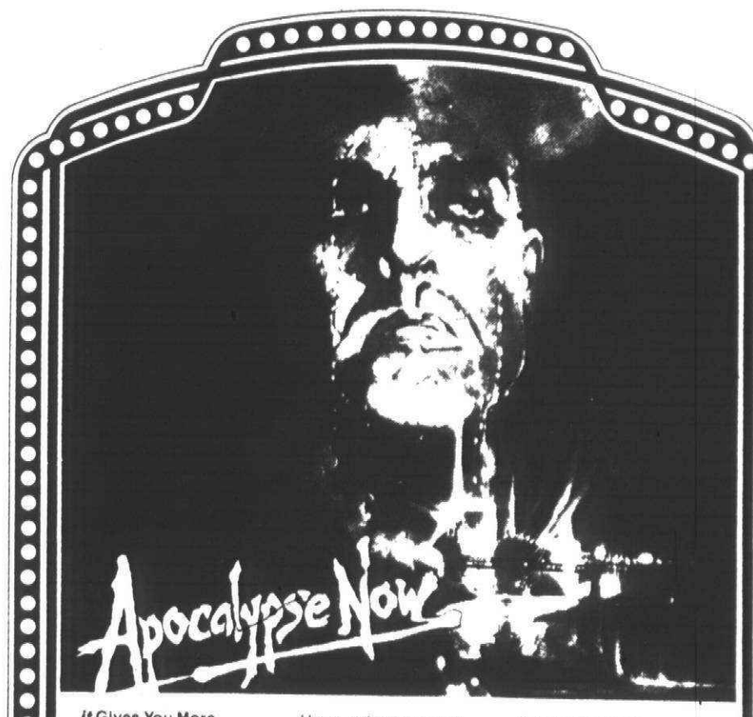

Faculty-staff tenants in family housing units pay 10 percent more in rents.

CUT DOWN MICHIGAN'S UNEMPLOYMENT. CUT OUT THIS COUPON.
Michigan's unemployment rate is the highest in the country. At Michigan National Corporation Banks, we're trying to do something about it. We believe you should receive a $500 federal tax credit for the purchase of a 1981 American-built automobile. Let's all help reduce unemployment and get Michigan's economy rolling again. Fill out the coupon and send it to your senator.
To start things rolling, we've lowered our prime interest rate. Again.
While other banks in this area are keeping their prime rate high, at Michigan National we're lowering ours. In fact, at the time of this writing, we have the lowest prime rate in the country. If you like our attitude, make your voice heard. Move your checking and savings accounts to Michigan National.
DEAR SENATOR RIEGLE:
We think you should propose legislation which would allow a $500 federal tax credit for the purchase of a 1981 American-built automobile.

Club lays bait for family fishing class

By LEM MESEE
Outdoors Writer

Crochety ol' Clare Hoffman came to mind as I looked over the letter from the Four Seasons Fishing Club.

Hoffman was a colorful congressman from the 4th District on the west side of the state — a predecessor of Dave Stockman, the ax-minded budget director. Hoffman was colorful and quotable but deadset against the federal budget.

A fisherman himself, he used to catch nightcrawlers on the Capitol lawn. He once cussed out the University of Michigan for teaching fly-casting. The charge turned out to be false, but in my book, I state it would be better if colleges taught fly-casting instead of some other sports.

I mean, you teach a kid football in school and one out of 1,000 will make it to the big time, and then only until he's about 28. But if you teach a kid fly-casting, he has a skill that will take him out into nature and keep him fit until he's 84, which was how old Hoffman was when he departed Congress, his favorite fishing holes, and this Earth.

It's nonsense to say, "Let fathers teach 'em." What if the father was a Detroit River nightcrawler fisherman, or an emigre from salt water, or didn't fish at all? What if there's no father in the house?

FOUR SEASONS Fishing Club has a program at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday, March 4, which many fathers and sons, mothers and daughters may want to take in.

The "see-and-do" activities will consist of making crawler harnesses, spinner-type lures, tying flies, making leaders, rigging trolling shanks and so on.

Tony Brehler, who keeps us informed on this family club's doings, said there will be a mounted salmon on display. That ought to give everyone fishing fever.

The meeting is in Room 15 of Jackson Community Center, Lyndon between Farmington and Merriman, south of Five Mile. Refreshments will be served.

Later this season there will be a smelt fishing trip, a perch outing, a bass and pike tournament and a walleye tournament.

As long as the U-M doesn't really teach fly-tying, Four Seasons is the place to learn.

EASTERN Michigan University will host a bass fishing institute on the Ypsilanti campus April 25-26.

Six instructors will teach tips on landing northern pike, bluegill, crappie, striper, walleye and muskie as well.

Registration is $40 for an adult. If the wife enrolls for the full price, the husband can get in for $20, and vice-versa. Children ages 10-15 will be admitted free when accompanied by one paid adult.

Pre-registration is going on now. Don't get confused. The institute is at EMU, but registration forms should be sent to: Bass Fishing Institutes, Indiana State University, Terre Haute, Ind. 47809.

For a brochure, contact Patrick Barley at EMU's Division of Continuing Education, Ypsilanti 48197 or buzz him at 487-0312.

Area courthouse plan deserves another look

Last March 25, Canton Township Board members sent a political shock wave through the 35th judicial district.

They refused to join a cooperative effort of the district's four other communities in the construction of a regional courthouse in the city of Plymouth.

In refusing to participate, Canton officials objected to the increased driving time that the regional courthouse would require of their township police officers. Because Canton is the largest community in the district and supplies 40 percent of the court's caseload, township officials maintained that the regional courthouse should be located in Canton.

Their stand held some merit.

But, unfortunately, emotionalism and the need to flex their own political muscles contibuted to the decision more than any other factor.

Board members even threatened to secede from the district and form a judicial unit of their own as an alternative to transferring their own courtroom in the basement of Township Hall to another municipality.

ALMOST A YEAR has passed since that decision was made. The courthouse now is under construction in Plymouth with the backing of that city, Plymouth Township, the city of Northville and Northville Township.

New Canton board members — in office since Nov. 20 — now appear willing to reconsider the decision of their predecessors.

Hopefully, their study will focus on the economics of the matter and leave out the emotionalism which contributed heavily to the previous board's decision.

The regional courthouse idea is worth reconsideration.

Judge James Garber believes that Canton will save $25,000 to $60,000 a year by joining the consolidation plan.

The judicial district, which now holds court in Canton, the city of Plymouth and the city of Northville, is characterized by duplication in work efforts, utility bills and other matters.

It only makes sense that "economy of scale" would cut court costs for Canton as well as the district's other municipalities.

IN SOME RESPECTS, the previous board's rejection of the regional courthouse proposal was understandable.

The idea solved space-crunch problems for Plymouth and Northville city halls. Officials in Plymouth and Northville townships indicated a desire for their own courtrooms — requests which would have pushed the number of courtrooms in the district to five.

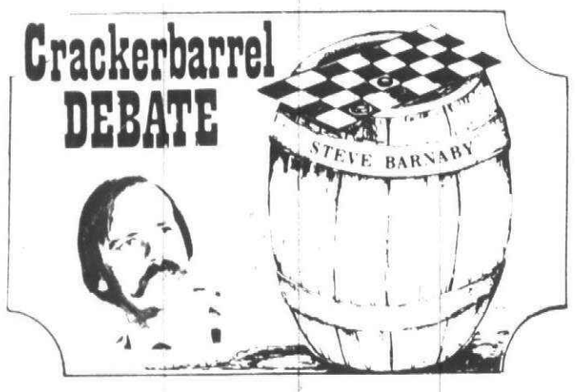

Canton officials, on the other hand, had opened their courtroom in the basement of Township Hall the previous year. The facility there was suffering no space problems.

The proposal simply rubbed board members the wrong way. They saw the proposal as an attempt "to bail out" other municipalities and an opportunity to establish a community identity for Canton.

"I think it's time that we stop acting like the stepchild of this area and start acting our size," said former Trustee Robert Greenstein when the proposal was rejected.

The point already has been made. Canton is not part of Plymouth — or Plymouth Township — or Northville.

It's now time to forget the emotional aspects of the issue and start considering more important matters — such as possible ways to cut costs.

Which oil firm shall we boycott?

OK brother and sister oil boycotters, you asked for it, so fasten your seat belts and let's go.

A few weeks back, I penned a column suggesting it was about time we stopped bankrolling the good life for Arab sheiks and oil barons.

Let's start a selective boycott of gasoline companies, I said, to bring down the price of the black gold.

Since that time, readers from Rochester to Canton Township have deluged this office with phone calls wanting to know where they could sign up.

Never have I received so many phone calls about a column. Frankly, I was astounded.

So now is your chance to fight back. Let's see what we can do about this ludicrous oil rip-off.

All you have to do is drop us a note saying you want to give the greedy bums a drubbing. Tell us which company you believe deserves our attention (or lack thereof) and by how much you would like to bring down the price.

MAIL THAT PROTEST to Steve Barnaby, Farmington Observer, 23352 Farmington Road, Farmington 48024.

Don't hesitate. With the way gas prices are zooming out of control, we've got to move fast — faster than you can say Shell, Exxon, Mobil or Gulf.

And forget all those preconceived notions about the free enterprise system. Today's oil prices have nothing to do with that. Despite what Ronald Reagan says about letting oil prices rise to their natural levels, you and I know the "natural level" is what the Arabs and oil barons say it is.

Forget all this nonsense about the oil companies using the increased profits to search for more oil. That's bunk. They're taking your hard-earned bucks to buy hotels, restaurants and department stores.

No sense waiting for the politicos in Lansing or Washington to take action. That won't happen until we let them know we mean business.

WE'RE GOING to let them know how we feel. Every card and letter we get is going to be sent off to President Reagan and Gov. Milliken.

But that's only the first step. This game is called "power in numbers" and to be effective we need every last one of you to respond.

Tell your friends, tell your neighbors, tell your mother-in-law to drop us a letter of protest.

Imagine, maybe right here in the Motor City we can start a movement to call the oil tycoons' bluff.

If we have enough responses, we can start our own movement to fight back.

NEVER UNDERESTIMATE the effort which could be made. Too much is at stake. Our homegrown auto industry will never have a chance to get back on its feet until we get those gasoline prices down.

Our highways will decay and our tourist industry will disintegrate.

This month we'll send them a message. Next month, we'll let them know we mean business.

Reagan's economics has drawl

Conservative? The Reagan federal budget is Western and Sun Belt-oriented. That explanation makes more sense than ideology if one wants to understand the new president's fiscal policies.

Suburban congressmen provided these examples.

Defense — "The defense boys were in total glee," said Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, after Reagan's address last week. "His budget will be a big bonanza to defense contractors in the Sun Belt and Southwest. We have to consider, how can Michigan impact on that? I'm going to watch the Pentagon like a hawk."

Pursell wants to repeal the so-called Maybank Amendment so that defense contracts need not necessarily be awarded to the low bidder if another (northern) bidder is within 5 percent of the lowest price.

Public works — "The public works area was left untouched," said Rep. Bill Brodhead, D-Detroit. "Large numbers of those projects are not meritorious. Their (western states') biggest problem is water. Much money is spent in damming and rerouting rivers. Three-fourths of all the rainfall in the U.S. is east of the Mississippi. These projects are hugely expensive and benefit big landowners, particularly in California and Arizona.

"Many of those projects are boondoggles, which can't stand on their own merits. (President) Carter made an effort to go after some of that (by vetoing many public works rivers projects). Reagan is apparently not going to cut it at all," said Brodhead.

Speed limit — "Many western state politicians, in the Administration and Congress, want to raise the 55 mph speed limit back to 70," said Rep. David Bonior, D-Mount Clemens, adding, "it's the most ludicrous thing I've ever heard of."

Foreign policy — "The whole western thought in (Reagan's) foreign policy," said Bonior, "is the concept of manifest destiny, which was the moving foreign policy thought at the turn of the century. Reagan speaks of God and This Country in the same breath, and he parades it in front of foreign ministers in a way that is not very diplomatic. He's got the John Wayne mentality about foreign policy."

Chrysler — Reagan once remarked he would have let the ailing automaker go bankrupt, and Budget Director Dave Stockman was the only Michigan congressman to vote against the federal aid package last year. Rep. Jim Blanchard, D-Pleasant Ridge, wonders what the "conservative ideologues" will do not only with Chrysler but with such other ailing northeastern and midwestern industries as rubber, steel and glass. "Will they wake up?" Blanchard asks.

Business taxes — Some economists say the Reagan proposal to allow new factories to be depreciated in 10 years instead of 25 benefits the West, where such new construction is going on. The Northeast and Midwest, they say, would be better helped by policies that reward rehabilitation of existing plants.

Synthetic fuels — Reagan's proposed cuts in this area hurt the energy-short Northeast and Midwest.

Oil price decontrols — The policy is aimed at encouraging oil production in the U.S., most of which occurs in western states. Montana and Wyoming, as Sen. Carl Levin, D-Michigan, points out, tax the living daylights out of oil and gas. They cut their own sales and income taxes (New Mexico), which makes them more attractive to business and raises energy costs to the Northeast and Midwest.

The Reagan program isn't Adam Smith conservatism. It's cowboy conservativism, podnuh.

Dull times in national sports

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

In all the years he traveled along the sports trail, The Stroller has had a dislike for only two assignments — the 500-mile auto race at Indianapolis and the first two weeks of the Tigers spring training camp in Florida.

The remainder of the year was just a series of enjoyable times as he followed golfers up and down the fairways of the land, sat at ringside of world championship fights and watched in the press boxes of college football stadiums from coast to coast.

These were enjoyable times. The traveling up and down the land might have tired most fellows, but The Stroller thrived. When it came to the Indy 500 and the early days of the baseball training camps it was another matter.

WHAT WAS WRONG with the "500"?

To most folks, the big auto race is a thrilling affair. But The Stroller's assignment was to get to the track two weeks early and write daily comments on the trials before the big race. This sounded swell. But it was boring because that event attracts a different following than the other games.

At Indianapolis, the followers in those days before the race talk about nothing but tire fabrics, gas consumption and gear ratios. These things interested The Stroller not a bit. He was eager to know who would cross the line first — and that was all.

Strange as it may seem to the uninitiated the early days at the Tiger camp are dull. The athletes do nothing but jog around the park and play one ol' cat. There sure is nothing exciting about them. It is difficult for a fellow to get material for his daily tasks.

So, in cases like this, a fellow must use a bit of imagination and contrive with the managers and coaches to get them to talk. More often than not there are weird stories coming out of camp, stories that confirm the old adage that the sports world is the haven of wonderful nonsense.

The Stroller was reminded of this the other morning when he read in his morning paper that the Tigers were coming up with a novel idea this year. The pitching coach, Roger Craig, was going to call the pitches from the dugout.

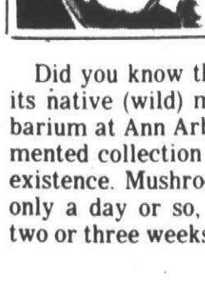

What a laugh.

FROM THE TIME that Abner Doubleday invented baseball it has been the catcher's duty to call the pitches. Oftimes the pitcher would shake his head while standing on the mound and refuse the signals, until he got the one he liked. And when things went wrong he could blame the catcher for calling the wrong pitch.

But now things will be different — if the Tigers are serious. No pitcher is going to second guess his coach, so the burden falls to the masterminds in the dugout.

Can you imagine the pitcher refusing his coach's signal in the closing innings of a tight game? And what happens to the catcher? How is he going to know what is coming his way if he doesn't see the signal?

Such ideas as these often are the products of the writer's imagination and that's why The Stroller always frowned on the early weeks of the training camp. Things were so dull that stories had to be invented — and ofttimes they were wieder than some of Grimm's Fairy Tales. No wonder he disliked those two assignments.

discover Michigan

Bill Stockwell

Did you know that Michigan is widely famed for its native (wild) mushrooms? The University Herbarium at Ann Arbor has the largest and best documented collection of North American specimens in existence. Mushrooms are mostly water; some last only a day or so, but hardier specimens may last two or three weeks.

Infrared film sees invisible light rays

There's a time in your photographic growth when you may not always want to "see the light" (pun intended).

Infrared film is sensitive to some visible wavelengths of light seen by the human eye, but it also can "see" the invisible infrared wavelengths. When recorded in a photograph, these invisible wavelengths produce hauntingly beautiful and very dramatic pictures.

Infrared film will render blue skies black, clouds brilliantly white, and green grass and foliage luminescent, as if covered with snow.

THESE EFFECTS are attained because infrared wavelengths of light are not always absorbed or reflected in the same way as visible light.

When a deep red filter (such as No. 25) is used to block visible wavelengths so that the infrared light is produced in the negative, the special effects become evident.

Here is what happens: Chlorophyll in green foliage absorbs most of the visible light waves that fall upon it; at the same time, chlorophyll reflects most of the infrared light.

The reflected infrared radiation, coming from subsurface layers of foliage, shows up as white in the finished print. Because blue light from the sky is blocked by the red filter, infrared film will render the sky a dramatic black.

Through-the-lens camera meters will not function properly with infrared film. The solution to exposure is easy.

Simply set your camera to 1/25th sec. at f/11. With a red filter and a blue sky day, perfect exposures will be yours.

INFRARED film must be loaded and unloaded in total darkness.

When you open a fresh film box, you'll see that the film cassette is enclosed in a special opaque container. When you're ready to load your camera, turn off all room lights, open the special container, place the cassette in the camera, and close the camera back.

Practice loading with a regular roll of film until you can do it handily in the dadrk. When you've finished with a roll, repeat the process in reverse. Don't turn on the lights until the cassette is safely back in the special container.

MOST BLACK-and-white developers such as D-76 and HC-110 work well with infrared film. D-19 will add a bit more contrast.

Stop, fix and wash in the normal manner.

You'll notice that while prints will have more grain and contrast than normal, these qualities actually add to the impact and special mood achieved by using infrared film.

So "see" the invisible light — infrared light — and add impact to your pictures.

Director is well met

Ed Horner of Cargill Productions, who will direct the arts council's two-act musical revue, "Shenanigans," arrived at Metro Airport Monday evening. On hand to meet him was a motley group which attracted a good deal of attention. They were Kenny Vogras, a pillar of the community, (above, left) Dave Sibbold, Janet Brass, Jan Gattoni, the overwhelmed director, Joan Gerigk, Jan Sibbold, and Gary Leavenworth with Larry Janes in Viking gear in the backgound. Jan Sibbold (right) was bedecked in fruit and nuts. The welcoming committee met at the John Smith Store to prepare their act before departing for the airport. The community turned out Tuesday night for the official Meet the Director party at Pioneer Middle School. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

Fasching celebration is Saturday night

The Plymouth Cultural Center will resound Saturday night with the sounds of German music and voices raised in song. The German-American Club of Plymouth will have its seventh annual fasching party with German food and specially imported German beer and wine.

Festivities will begin at 8 p.m. with the Melodias providing music for dancing. Although costumes are not required, they add to the evening's fun. There will be a grand march with prizes awarded for best costumes.

In Germany, the fasching celebration actually begins in November — the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month. Communities and organizations choose a prince and princess to reign over the festivities.

Activities fade into the background during the Christmas season but are revived after the the beginning of the new year. The celebration reaches its peak the Sunday, Monday and Tuesday before Ash Wednesday. The grand finale is the Faschnacht Ball.

BECAUSE FASCHING is a time of spoofing politicians and government officials, lederhosen and Bavarian dirndls are not worn to the ball. Some of the more elaborate masks and costumes worn in Germany are handed down from generation to generation. And everyone is in costume for the Faschnacht Ball.

At midnight, the celebrants either unmask or leave without revealing their identity. In some towns in Germany, a person in a clown costume is placed in a coffin and carried from the hall to mark the end of the celebration.

Over the years, the Plymouth club's fasching party has attracted a variety of costumed participants. There have been werewolves, Spanish dancers, Chinese mandarins, ladybugs, clowns, colonial couples, animal trainers and animals.

Food and drink are available throughout the evening and persons of all ethnic backgrounds join in singing the old beer hall songs and the general spirit of fasching.

Admission is $3.50 per person. Tickets may be purchased in advance by calling Edith Scherer at 453-8000, or Maria Mulzer at 453-5839. Tickets also are available at the door but as the party always is a sell-out, it is advisable to call one of the above before Saturday evening.

Any day's a party day in Canton

Canton Chatter

By KATHY FREECE 981-2027

The beginning of the Chinese New Year was celebrated in an unusual way by Leola and Martin Hogan. It seems that Martin's birthday falls a few days after the start of the special day. His wife decided to surprise him with a birthday party at his favorite restaurant with a few of their friends and neighbors.

The Mayflower in Ypsilanti is their favorite place. Each place setting was enhanced by a placecard with a couplet in reference to the year the guests were born. There were a few dogs, sheep and a tiger or two. An eight-course dinner was prepared by John Tam, the owner, who has cooked in distinguished hotels in Hong Kong and San Francisco.

This enjoyable dinner was shared by Marge and Ed Robert, Helen and Howard Studemann along with Dick and Pat Gallagher on Friday the 13th.

KAREN AND DAMON Welling always have a Groundhog Day party. This year the date came a little too early for them so it ended up on Valentine's Day. Plenty of their friends were expected to come and somehow some guests were unable to bring the sweetheart of the day.

Shirley Zurmulhen, Sharon Zimmerman, Ralph Leone, Sue Smith, Tom Cummings and Mike Keller were a few of the guests who had a super time getting together.

Carol and Ron Rice, Mary and Ron Cundiff, Christy and Tom Skorka, Pat and John Ruen, Jane and Don Finkel, Bev and Bob Blakney also shared in the eievening's fun, along with several other couples.

CANTON NEWCOMERS shared the same idea of this special day by having dinner at Bob's Hideway. It has a country-western atmosphere with great food and good entertainment.

The chairman of the couple's activities for the club is Char Towne. Marge and John Mogelnicki hosted a cocktail party for all Newcomers who decided to share the evening. Then on to a lovely sit-down dinner which included four entrees.

There was plenty of foot-stompin', circle dances and do-si-do throughout the hall. Not knowing the proper steps, some of us were a little reluctant to get out on the dance floor. The caller for the night made it seem easy and fun was had by all.

STONEGATE subdivision has a recreation committee that put together a Valentine's dance at Canton Recreation Center. It was the brainstorm of Steve and Linda Cunningham. They decided to undertake this in January and they pulled off a super party with 37 couples in attendance. Tom Bolter, T.J. Rivard, Dave Palmer, Noreen Royer, Chuck Mills, Cindy Stemmer and Nancy Platter all helped to put their neighborhood back in the swing of things.

The food was catered for the convenience of all the guests. Roast beef, kielbasa with sauerkraut, various salads and delicious pastries were on the menu.

An interesting part of the dance was the music. Pop Music Productions was asked to organize the sounds and vibrations. Steve and Sam were the DJs for the night. They came across loud and strong, and there was a feeling of having a personal touch just for that evening. It was a different way to have music and a little less expensive than a band. The speakers, records and microphones were included with the price.

The reason for the party was to develop funds for equipment to be placed in the subdivision park. Prizes were awarded to stimulate interest during the evening. Prizes were donated by Kroger's, House of Woo, Bob Evans, Oakview Meat Market, Dino's, Walls, Windows and Whatnots, Canton Beauty School and Oakview Party Store to keep the costs down for the park project.

AS I WAS walking into the township building last week, a man I knew asked me to take a ride with him.

We proceeded to drive up to Warren Road between Canton Center and Sheldon. I couldn't believe my eyes. My first reaction was that the Rouge River had been rerouted. The water swelled above the wheels of the car.

This matter is under serious consideration by several township people to take immediate action. Jim Poole is the man that offered me the enlightening ride.

Newcomers plan fashion extravaganza

The Plymouth Newcomers Club has dubbed its spring luncheon and style show a "fashion extravaganza." The cooperation of 45 local merchants is being given to "A Fashion Extravaganza — Night & Day."

Club members Karen Mueller and Janice Paulsen are coordinating the event which will be March 5 in the Mayflower Meeting House. Hospitality will begin at 11:30 a.m. with lunch served at noon. The parade of fashions will begin at 1:15 p.m.

The six merchants giving the show are Sacks of Forest Avenue, Geneva's of Plymouth, Van Dams, The Shoe Attic, Delta Diamond Setters and Jewelers, and the Mayflower Beauty Salon.

Cameo presentations will be provided by Sportventure, The Sophisticats, the Before and After Shoppe and a "surprise" by John Smith of Plymouth men's wear.

The merchants also have donated prizes which extend to the latest in automobile fashions.

THREE OF THE guests will win the use of Cadillacs for extended weekends. Don Massey says he's "flexible" as to the dates. Leo Calhoun will provide two Escorts for weekend use.

Dick Scott's donation to the prize list is a tune-up or rust-proofing at Scott Buick. George Kolb of Hines Park Lincoln Mercury is offering two automatic computerized diagnostic tests. Bob Jeanotte Pontiac will provide a facial to a winner's car — a Blue Coral Wax job.

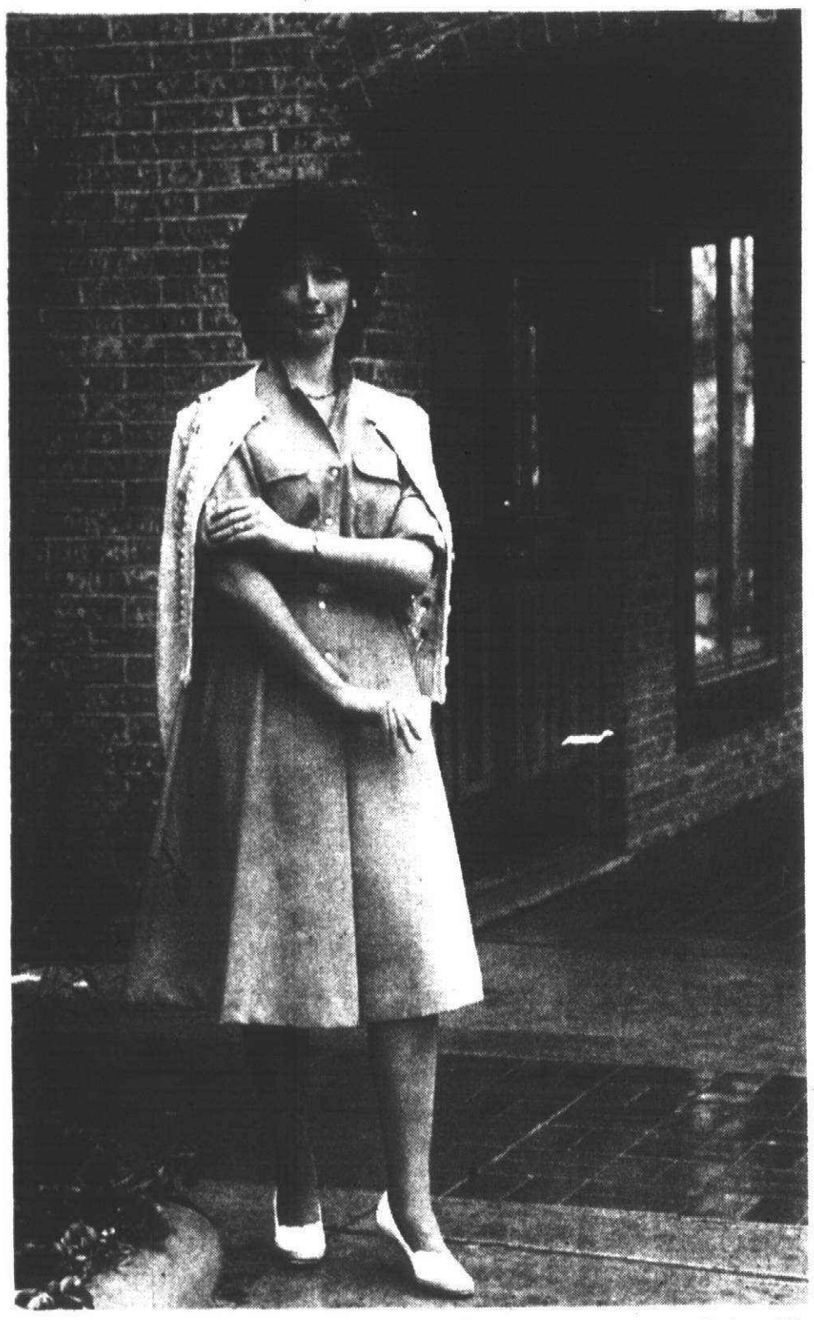

Additional prizes range from an aerobic dance course to a "two-night freewheeling weekend" at the Plymouth Hilton. There will be facials, permanents, jewelry, leather goods, services, gift certificates, clothing, jackets, dinners and many other gifts.

Luncheon menu chosen by the coordinators for the show includes pineapple boat, ham and fresh asparagus rolls with cheese sauce, broiled tomatoes, rolls and beverage with a daiquiri ice in a chocolate cup for dessert.

All tickets must be ordered in advance. Admission is $10 per person and tickets are on sale at all six of the stores participating in the show. Persons wishing more information about tickets can call Ginger Kruger, 459-0289.

Those wishing to make reservations for nursery care during the show may call Judi Clemens, 453-3615.

Proceeds from the show will be donated to the Dunning-Hough Library for community programs.

Carol Townsend, president of the Plymouth Newcomers Club, will model a pink summery dress from Sacks of Forest Avenue. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

Flowery Swedish love knots will be place favors for guests at the luncheon and fashion show.

Working on favors for the extravaganza were Sheryl Osmun, (left) Joann Bogard, Lora Keaton; Toni Edwards, Lynda Stahl and Cindy Modras.

DAR meets

Good citizens honored

The Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution honored a group of oustanding high school students at its annual Good Citizen Luncheon. The students were selected by the senior class and the faculty of their area high schools.

Winners and their mothers were invited to join chapter members at the luncheon in the Kings Mill Clubhouse in Northville. During the awards ceremony, the students received certificates and pins presented by Mrs. Bill Sheets, state and national good citizen chairwoman for the DAR.

Laura Baumhart, chapter regent, introduced the honored guests. She said their selection had been based on qualities of leadership — personality, self control and the ability to assume responsibility; dependability — truthfulness, loyalty and punctuality; service — cooperation, courtesy and consideration of others; and patriotism — unselfish interest in family, school, community and nation.

SHARON PERSICA was named good citizen at Plymouth Salem High School and Kimberly Massey was named from Plymouth Canton high.

Others were Jennifer Eichorn, Livonia Bentley; Donna Richard, Livonia Churchill; Sheryl Modnalek, Livonia Franklin; Kathleen McIntyre, Livonia Stevenson; Sherri Rauch, Garden City East; Deanne Rohrscheib, Garden City West; Karen Mysliqiec, Ladywood; Cynthia Phillips, Northville; Snajiv Sanghvi, Novi; and Denise Geiger, South Lyon.

Following the presentations and the luncheon, the Urquhart Family Singers of Albion entertained club members and quests.

Tickets for the lecture series, sponsored by the YWCA of Western Wayne County, are $20. They may be obtained at the circulation desk of the Henry Ford Centennial Library.

An optional afterglow in the Golden Eagle Lounge in the Dearborn Inn has been planned to give participants a chance to chat with each celebrity speaker.

Use the north entrance to the auditorium at Ford World Headquarters. There are no reserved seats. Doors will open at 3 p.m.

Family Dentistry
Orangelawn Professional Center

Dear Dr. Forrest:
I brush my teeth often and am still troubled with bad breath. How can I remedy this problem?
Close But Cautious

Bad breath can be caused by poor hygiene but it is not the only reason for it. Other factors that might contribute to bad breath include diet, medication, or systemic disorders.
Brushing the tongue gently as part of your hygiene regime, and of course using a mouthwash or breath freshener will help.
If the condition is chronic or persistant discuss it with your dentist.
Sincerely,

Berean Baptist plans family film series

A new film series featuring family specialist James Dobson, Ph.D., will be shown at Berean Bible Church, 35375 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia.

The seven-part series will be shown at 6 p.m. Sundays starting March 8. Called "Focus on the Family," the film take up such subjects as the strong-will child, shaping the will without breaking the spirit and Christian fathering.

Adolescence will be covered in two sessions, one titled "The Origins of Self-Doubt;" the other "Peer Pressure and Sexuality."

"What Wives Wish their Husbands Knew about Women" will also be explored in two classes. One is "The Lonely Housewife," the other "Money, Sex and Children."

Dobson is associate clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of Southern California School of Medicine and author of several best-selling books including "Dare to Discipline" and "Hide or Seek."

The American ambassador meets the prime minister of Lichtenburg in the musical "Call Me Madam," to be presented at Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church this weekend. Playing the ambassador is Helen Thomas, and the prime minister is Bill Dunphy. (Staff photo Bill Bresler)

Call her madam ambassador

A The witty, political musical about the leading Washington hostess who is named to an ambassadorial post will be presented Friday through Sunday in Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, Hubbard and West Chicago in Livonia.

"Call Me Madam" is the 10th in a series of musical comedies offered in recent years by church members. It stars Helen Thomas, who has appeared in other Rosedale plays including the role of the mother in "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

Appearing opposite her as the prime minister of the country of Lichtenburg is Bill Dunphy. In the American tradition, ambassador Sally Adams offers a loan to his country. When he refuses it, she is so shocked, the only thing for her to do is to fall in love with him.

A second love story unfolds between Kenneth Gibson, a member of her staff, and Princess Maria of Lichtenburg. They are portrayed by Hank Fuchs and Sheila Jonasson.

"Call Me Madam" was written by Harold Crouse and Howard Lindsay with music by Irving Berlin. The hit songs are "It's a Lovely Day Today," "You're Just in Love" and "The Best Thing for You Would be Me."

The play is a take-off on the real Washington hostess, Merle Mesta, who was named ambassador to Luxemburg by President Harry Truman, whose name is often mentioned in the play. Ethel Merman played the title role on Broadway and in the film.

As the play moves along, the heroine is tricked into believing that Constantine, the prime minister, really wants the loan. She arranges it, only to have him become so angry they split up.

Later, when he goes to the U.S., a committee is so impressed with him for refusing the loan that they offer him $200 million instead of a mere $100 million. Will the two every get together?

Tickets are $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. To reserve them, call the church at GA2-0494. The curtain goes up at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 4 p.m. Sunday.

Supporting the principals in the show are Steve Peterson, George Jewel, John Hirtzel, Sue Trisch, David Cullers, Kevin Cullers, Millie Everson and John Ameser. Also in the cast are Merrill Thomas, Clarence Benton and Rick Porteus.

Directing the production is Martha Kuykendall, music teacher at Holmes Junior High School in Livonia. Caroline Dunphy is in charge of scenery, Marilyn Hirtzel handles costumes, and Joanne Peithman was the rehearsal accompanist.

A chorus of 25 will be augmented by a 20-piece orchestra led by Lannie Swanson.

church bulletin

WARD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Six Mile and Farmington Road in Livonia, will present "A Place of Beginning Again," a Ken Medema musical, at 7 p.m. Sunday. To be offered by the Teen Ensemble, the musical is the story of Mary Magdalene. It includes accusations from the public for her wayward lifestyle and Christ's forgiveness of her sins.

The styles of the musical range from Bach to rock and blues. The 18-member ensemble is under the direction of Gordon Bleich, assistant director of music at Ward.

Following the 30-minute performance, the Rev. Wallace Hostetter, minister of evangelism, will speak on "Old Time Religion: Noah."

At the 8:30, 10 and 11:30 a.m. services, Dr. Bartlett Hess will preach on "God's Plenty and Our Poverty." The Chancel Choir will sing the classic anthem, "Beautiful Savior."

ST. AIDAN CHURCH, 17500 Farmington Road, Livonia, has scheduled a concert at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 27. The musicians are Fontaine Laing, pianist; Pamela Hill, flutist, and Karen Wingert, cellist. The concert will be followed by a receptions and refreshments. Tickets at $2.50 will be available at the door.

ROSEDALE GARDENS UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Hubbard and West Chicago in Livonia, will start a series of Lenten celebrations with a pancake supper and hymn sing on Ash Wednesday, March 4, at 5:30 p.m. It will be hosted by the Rosedale Sociables. Sunday snack suppers will be held March 8, 15 and 22 for member and friends. They will be followed by worship led by the pastor, the Rev. Gerald Cobleigh. They will be focused on "Dialogues with the Carpenter," which are conversations between Jesus and his disciples.

On the same days, children in sixth grade and under will gather in fellowship hall for a Lenten festival of film, art and music. Child care will be provided for preschoolers.

Graham to be missionary

Richard B. Graham of Redford Township is soon to leave for the mission training center in Salt Lake City, the first step in eventually becoming a missionary for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Graham, 25, will be trained at the center and be taught Spanish for nine weeks. He will then spend two years at the Spanish-speaking California-Ventura mission in southern California. He will be a missionary elder instructing people interested in learning about the Mormon Church.

A member of the Livonia Ward of the Westland Michigan Stake, and later a member of the Livonia Ward, Graham worked for the Owl Printing Co. for five years. Upon his return he plans to attend photography school in Rochester, N.Y.

moral perspectives

Rev. Charles Erickson

Frustrated? Tackle one problem

"I get so frustrated with all these world problems and I am only one person in one town in Michigan."

Yes, the complainer has a point: We are bombarded by issues too big for us. My answer is to find a bite-size morsel and start chewing.

We are easily overwhelmed by such a massive concern as the International Year of the Disabled. Apathy includes the rationalization that it is not our problem to build ramps, widen doors, improve rest rooms and designate parking space for the handicapped.

Specific problems of specific friends move me into awareness of responsibility toward the disabled. One of the least noticed disabilities is hearing loss. And there are things most of us can do quite simply.

MORE THAN 15 percent of Americans have hearing problems serious enough to require assistance. A few are helped by surgery. Less than 2 percent of those with serious loss actually wear hearing aids. Taking notice of even those few would motivate new concern in us.

Professionals, called audiologists, find the number of people with hearing problems is increasing each year. Furthermore, the age of those in trouble is steadily lowering. The major reason is damage from loud music. One is tempted to go around asking if there was music before there was electricity.

One helpful thing we can do is join the effort to lower the volume of the electronic music equipment in our homes and places of entertainment. Persistence is required but repeated requests usually get response.

A second step is to cut down the clatter. People with hearing aids are preplexed because the rest of us don't know some sounds cause pain. Part of the problem is volume, part is audio frequency, and part is just the din created by the array of noises.

AND WE MIGHT help sensitize men who wear facial hair. Unless it is well trimmed, a moustache virtually prevents lip reading. Sopme of us are hard to understand at best so we don't want any extra obstacles.

Most of us are aided by lip reading without even knowing it. A few profoundly deaf are taught lip reading, but most with hearing loss just learn it on their own. Observe friends listening to a speech or just trying to keep up with a conversation. It is astounding to see how much some people maneuver to use eyes to aid hearing.

When I talk to public speakers about responsibility to lip readers, they say they never knew. Awareness is most of the way home in this game. Some can trim facial hair but all of us can participate in increasing sensitivity.

Hearing-impaired people want to enjoy sounds and words often denied them. Involvement in this one problem can propel us into participation in other aspects of the Year of the Disabled. The disabled don't want indifferent pity. They want simple assistance in functioning in the normal activities of society.

THE DOUBLE EAGLE restaurant at Sylvan Glen in Troy has started a Sunday brunch, which features more than the usual brunch fare. On a recent Sunday, award-winning chef Kevin Enright included such dishes as veal with raisin and chutney sauce, and chicken teriyaki.

The dishes vary each week, but one of the specialties is Chicken Brennan, New Orleans style, with chicken breasts sauteed in heavy cream. Another is fish, smoked or poached.

The menu also includes four types of fresh salads such as mixed greens and marinated vegetable salads. Blueberry muffins, American cornbread and American fries are some of the home-style offerings.

Of course, sausage, bacon and eggs, as well as eggs benedict, are on the brunch buffet. Dessert favorites are fresh strawberies with whipped cream, and rice pudding.

There's lots more, and brunch hours are 11:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. In winter weather, the main dining room looks out on the golf course where cross-country skiers glide, and in warmer weather, diners may see golf games in progress.

To start out the Sunday brunch, a "mimosa lady" goes from table to table, selling a mimosa cocktail, which combines champagne and fresh-squeezed orange juice.

AT MERIWETHER'S in Southfield, it's time to celebrate with fresh asparagus and spring wine. Fresh asparagus stalks with tips are on the menu in 14 variations from soup to stir fry.

The Fresh Asparagus and Spring Wine Festival continues through March 17 at Meriwether's. Asparagus entrees are Imperial Asparagus Stir Fry, Filet of Sole Hollandaise with Fresh Asparagus, Steak and Aspargus Stir Fry and Fresh Asparagus Quiche.

Special lunches and dinners rotate daily and range from $4.50-$5.95 at lunch and $6.50-$7.50 at dinner. These meals include a fresh green salad and Meriwether's Teacup Bread, fresh baked and served in a teacup.

The "spring wine" complementing the asparagus dishes is an Inglenook from the Napa Valley region of California. Prices are $1.30 per glass; half and full carafes also are available.

Restaurant hours are 11 a.m. to midnight Monday-Thursday, 11 a.m. to 1 a.mm. Friday-Saturday and 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday.

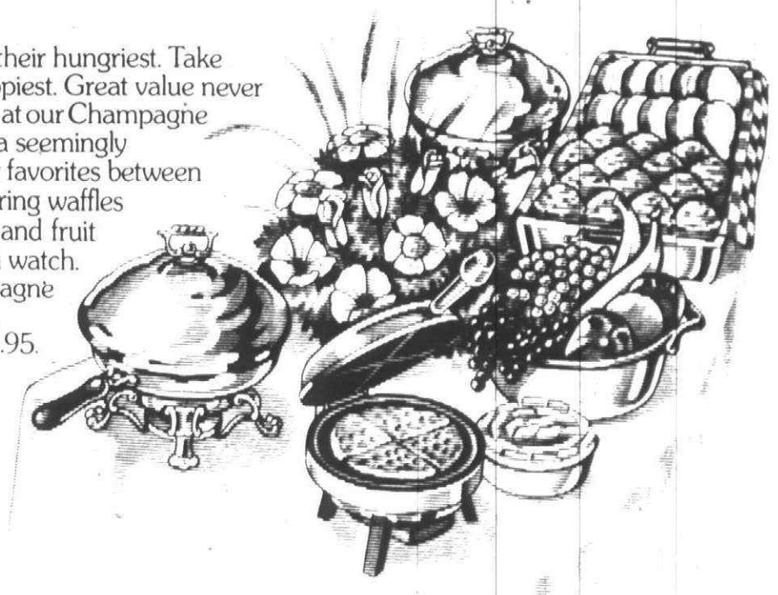

CRAB LEGS and other house specialties are part of the dinner and show package at Roberto's in Berkley, where the musical revue "Oscar" is playing Sundays. "Oscar" covers 54 years of award-winning music.

The dinner-theater production is presented by West Bloomfield resident Michael J. Klier, producer of Theatre of the Arts Productions Ltd.

The revue and original material was written by Robert S. Leider, Risa J. Sears, and Laurie R. Sears who also resides in West Bloomfield. The cast includes Laurie Meeker of Bloomfield Hills, Tom Steward of Detroit, Beth Fieger of Southfield and Brian Courtade of Dearborn.

For reservations call the TAP Reservation Center at 288-0450.

backgammon

Michael Klolan
of the American Backgammon Club

● PLAYING SAFE

In this position, white rolls a 5-5. What is your recommended move?

Most people probably would move all three checkers from the 12 point to the 8, and the 9 point blot to the 4.

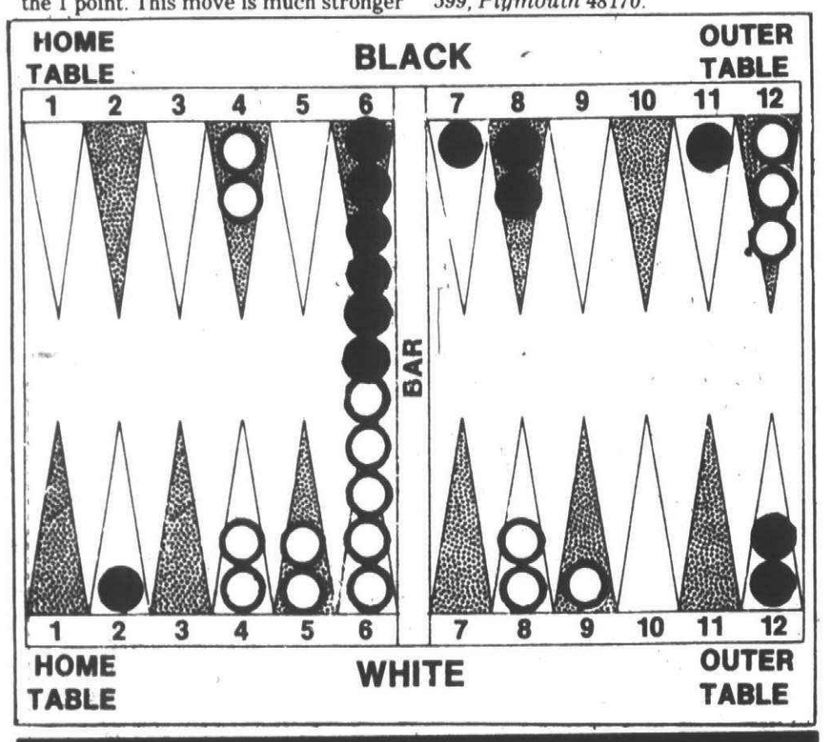

This play is certainly safe and sound, but hardly excites the intellect. White shouldn't be in such a hurry to "safely" get home. There could be difficulty on the next roll or two that would result in awkward positioning.

A much more diversified play is to move one checker from the 12 to the 8 point, one checker from the 9 to the 4 point and two checkers from the 6 to the 1 point. This move is much stronger than the previous possibility.

White has closed the 1 point and has created the same three builders needed to land on black or close the 3 point. With this play, black will certainly flee for his life if he rolls a 5-2, 5-3, 5-4, 5-5 or 1-6.

Since black does not have a strong home board, white should play for strong position. With the doubling cube "neutral" (in the middle), white could easily force black out before his next roll.

For more information on the game, contact the American Backgammon Club at 459-5776 or Box 599, Plymouth 48170.

"L'Avventura" (1959), 8 p.m. Friday at the Liberal Arts Theater, Schoolcraft College, phone 591-6400, free.

The films of director Michelangelo Antonioni rarely subscribe to the standard rules of narration and plot. "Blow Up" (1966) and "The Passenger" (1973) have basic plot lines, but both place greater emphasis on people reacting to interpersonal conflicts than on the telling of a coherent story. "L'Avventura" is in the same vein and, for that reason, may prove boring for some viewers. Monica Vitti stars as a girl lost on an island and sought by rescuers who become physcologically and symbolically lost in their own problems. Unrated.

"The Old Dark House" (1932), 7 and 9:30 p.m. Saturday at the Detroit Film Theatre, Detroit Institute of Arts, 832-2730, $2. Running time 75 minutes.

When director James Whale made "The Old Dark House," he'd already done "Frankenstein" (1931), which takes itself quite seriously, but he'd yet to do "Bride of Frankenstein" (1935), which satirizes horror films. "Old Dark House" is a little of both — horror and satire.

All the gothic horror elements, beginning with an old dark house, are apparent: a bedridden patriarch, pyromaniac son, crazed daughter, butler who shuffles about with a deathly stare on his face. You can't help but laugh at such manifestations, yet you never know when they're going to shock you.

The DIT claims "Old Dark House" hasn't been seen in 20 years. Yes or no, the film boasts a wonderfully eerie cast — Boris Karloff, Charles Laughton, Raymond Massey, Melvyn Douglas and Ernst Thesiger among them — and one of the best directors of early talking films. Rating: $3.05.

"The Wizard of Oz" (1939), 8 p.m. Friday on Ch. 2. Originally 101 minutes.

The sets are as gaudy as Hollywood itself and the special effects among the most surreal ever filmed. Nathanael West and Salvador Dali couldn't have improved upon director Victor Fleming's work. Judy Garland will remain forever young; Ray Bolger, Jack Haley and Bert Lahr will always be the scarecrow, tin man and cowardly lion. The songs are delightful, and don't sell the dialogue short. For example: "Scarecrow, there are lots of people in this world with less brains than you; but they have one thing you don't have — a diploma." Frank Morgan, Billie Burke, Margaret Hamilton, Toto and the Singer Midgets also star. Rating: $3.85.

Coach fumes at MHSAA mat policy

Rock grapplers 2nd

Ron Krueger is "very pleased" and at the same time unhappy at the way things have been going at the state Class A wrestling tournament in recent weeks.

The Plymouth Salem coach is not being contradictory. He's points proudly of his team's pair of second place finishes in the district (Feb. 14) and regional (Feb. 21).

Krueger, whose team scored 79 points last weekend to finish behind Belleville for the second straight week, dislikes the new format for the state wrestling tournament.

Fewer qualifiers are allowed for the regional and state meets. Only the top three district finishers in each weight class advanced to the regional.

In previous years, four moved on. Only the top two regional wrestlers in each division qualified for the state meet Friday at Crisler Arena in Ann Arbor as opposed to three last year.

"The regionals were a joke," said the Salem coach. "This is a makeshift kind of deal.

"This is the first time they've run it this way. It's a condensed version. They've cut corners, and it has hurt the kids."

Class A, B, C and D tournies will all be held at Crisler for the first time. In the past, each class had a separate tournament site.

For the first time under a complicated formula, regional wrestlers seeking a berth in the state meet were not under the jurisdiction of a strict double-elimination format.

For instance, Salem's 167-pounder, senior Steve Szilagyi, won his first regional match, but then was decisioned by Farmington's Jim Steiner, 15-5. Szilagyi, who owns one of area's best records, never got a second chance because the man he beat, Steiner, lost in the finals to Walled Lake Western's Angelo Buttazzoni, 4-1. So Szilagyi didn't get a second chance.

"THE COACHES wanted to have the tournament all at one site," said Krueger, "but not under this proposal.

"The MHSAA (Michigan High School Athletic Association) shoved this back at us. I haven't talked to one coach who goes along with this plan. Everyone is totally against it."

Krueger said Crisler Arena is unable to provide enough lockerroom facilities. Finding the money to rent a motel room is difficult, he said. The motel room is necessary so his three state qualifiers can have access to shower and bathroom facilities.

Marty Piper (heavyweight), Jeff Vojcek (98 pounds) and Billy Ward (119) will represent Salem tomorrow.

Piper, a junior, won the regional crown Saturday by pinning Pontiac Northern's Daryl Simpson in the final (5:35). It was Piper's 29th pin of the year, which ties the school mark set last season by Jeff Powers.

VOJCEK, JUST a sophomore, qualified for the second spot by pinning Stevenson's Jim Cousins. John Andrews, who beat the Salem grappler in the final, 5-0, was the first qualifier.

Ward took the second spot at 119 with a 10-0 decision over Dave Segula of Bloomfield Hills Lahser. Aaron Logan of Northern, the eventual champ, beat Ward in the final, 3-1.

Plymouth Canton, champs of the Western Six League, failed to qualify a wrestler for the regional. Brett Haarala (126) fought his way back to gain third place. Bob Mullen (155) and Todd Bartlett (98) were ousted early.

"We didn't have a real good day," said Canton coach Dan Chrenko.

"But it was a good year for us. I'm proud of the kids."

Fast Franklin trips Salem cagers by 9

By BRAD EMONS

It has been a long time since Livonia Franklin has beaten Plymouth Salem on the basketball floor.

You have to go all the way back to 1974 when Kevin Kaseta and company beat the Rocks in the first round of the Class A regional.

The 1981 edition of Franklin, however, snapped the long drought with a hard-fought, 66-57 triumph Tuesday night with the former Patriot great sitting in the stands.

It was also coach Jim McIntyre's first win over the Rocks since he took over the Franklin job four years ago.

"It's a nice win and hopefully it will give us some confidence for the districts next week," said McIntyre, whose team upped its overall record to 12-6.

The Patriots employed a fast-break offensive attack, coupled with a full-court pressure defense, to stymie the Rocks (11-8).

Franklin was able to weather a late Salem charge in the final minutes with some timely shooting, mainly from the foul line.

The Rocks overcame a 10-point deficit in the second half and came as close as two points in the late going.

Things really got frantic when Salem's John Cohen, a sophomore forward, scored on a short jumper to pull his team to within two, 57-55, with only 1:01 remaining.

Ten seconds later, Franklin's Ron Lohman was fouled and went to the line. He missed his attempt. The rebound was promptly snared by teammate Dave Folsom who converted a short bank shot to give the Patriots a four-point cushion.

Salem followed by making two costly turnovers and Franklin's Mike Williamson capitalized by hitting all four of his foul shots to put the game away.

"FOLSOM'S REBOUND was a jolt," said McIntyre. "It was a big basket and forced them into a foul situation.

"This was a solid game for the kids because we were able to withstand their run."

Jeff Wojcik of Franklin led all scorers with 25 points. He hit 13 of 16 free throws to keep the Rocks at arm's length. The 6-1 senior sharpshooter hit four crucial free throws down the stretch.

He got plenty of help from 6-4 junior Terry Buchanan, who enjoyed his best game of the year by hitting 18 points and grabbing 18 rebounds.

He scored 14 of those points in the first half as Franklin jumped out to a 32-28 advantage.

Sophomore center Bob Stebbins added seven points and 11 rebounds for the winners.

Cohen had 14 to pace the Rocks. Mike McBride added 12 points and 10 rebounds. David Miller had eight points and six assists.

"We handled their pressure well, but didn't hit the open man enough," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "Jimmy (McIntyre) had a good game plan.

"They come at you with constant pressure. It took us 10 minutes to make an adjustment on the court. Their quick-up (fast break) hurt us more than their defense."

Canton game lost

District tournaments all set

By DOUG FUNKE

The "second" basketball season, which begins Monday, will be quite short for most area teams. However, if a team performs well and Dame Fortune smiles, a state championship could be won.

Observer-area squads will be competing in six districts, the first rung in the climb for a state title.

All of the Class A teams will duel at either Livonia Churchill, Detroit Catholic Central or Plymouth Salem High Schools.

All four Redford schools — Thurston, Redford Union, Bishop Borgess and Catholic Central — have been assisgned to CC, 14200 Breakfast Drive.

Thurston and RU, each contending for the Northwest Suburban League championship, will meet again in the state tourney. The two split two games during the regular season.

CC qualified for the Catholic League playoffs this season. Borgess, rebuilding this winter, failed to win in the strong Catholic League Central Division but has forged a good non-league ledger.

Detroit Redford is the fifth team assigned to CC.

All four Livonia District schools — Bentley, Franklin, Stevenson and Churchill — have been assigned to the same district site for the first time in years. Churchill, 8900 Newburgh Road, will be the host.

Only Churchill, which belongs to the Western Six League, has any hope yet among the four of winning a conference championship.

Stevenson has been in a tailspin lately and hasn't really matched its early-season success since Rich Sanders, a starter, moved out of state.

Franklin and Bentley have both been in and out of form most of the campaign.

Farmington High will also compete at Churchill.

Garden City East and Westland John Glenn will join Plymouth Canton, Wayne and Plymouth Salem at Salem.

Glenn has experienced tremendous success against non-league competition all season long. A couple of disappointments in the conference have prevented the Rockets from wearing a championship crown.

East, rebuilding with first-year coach Rick Brewis, has struggled virtually all season long.

East and Glenn, which will meet tomorrow in their regular-season finales, will also tip-off against each other in the district.

Canton, which has been hampered by injuries, has faded badly during the second half of the season. Salem, without a senior in the starting lineup, has been involved in a host of close games this winter.

Garden City West will compete in the Class B tournament this year at the Dearborn Heights Robichaud District.

The Tigers will be up against such teams as Dearborn Divine Child, Tri-River League titlist Inkster Cherry Hill, and Inkster.

Robichaud is located at 3601 Janet.

Clarenceville, assigned to a Class B district at Novi, has the unenviable task of playing Detroit U-D High in its first tourney outing.

U-D took Birmingham Brother Rice to overtime in the finals of the Catholic League playoffs before losing.

Novi High is located at 24062 Taft.

Redford St. Agatha, which has won more games in the last three weeks than it had up until then, has been assigned to a Class C district at Detroit Lutheran West.

Same old scenario: Wayne tops Bentley

Everything — the stage, cast and script — remained the same last weekend as the previous year for the finals of the Schoolcraft Volleyball Invitational.

Wayne, once again, upended Livonia Bentley, 15-9 and 15-8 for the championship. The same two squads clashed for the title last year with the same result.

Dana Hardwidge, coach of the Bulldogs, was not all that disappointed having to settle for second place again. After all, 30 teams competed.

"It's nice to be in that position (second)," she said. "Wayne is a smart, well-coached team. It was really tough for us to defense their varied attack. Our blocking was ineffective."

Bentley, Livonia Stevenson and Farmington High were the only Observer & Eccentric-area teams to survive pool play and reach the elimination rounds.

Other O&E teams which competed but failed to advance were Plymouth Salem, Plymouth Canton, Southfield, Southfield-Lathrup, Livonia Franklin, Livonia Churchill, Clarenceville, Garden City West, Redford Union, Redford Thurston and West Bloomfield.

Although not qualifying, Canton won five of eight games, including a 15-8 triumph over Wayne.

"That was a real high point," said Canton coach Cyndi Burnstein. "We had them psyched. We were screaming, cheering and going wild.

"Everything went right for us and things went wrong for them."

Wayne, however, recovered in the second game to post a 15-4 triumph over the Chiefs.

CANTON OPENED play by splitting with Franklin (15-13, 12-15). The Chiefs then drubbed Hazel Park (15-9, 15-8) and spilt with Redford Union (15-10, 15-17).

"We were ahead 14-10 against RU," said Burnstein. "Then everyone all at once went flat. We had the serve several times."

The Canton coach saluted the play of senior Marianne Pink, who was highly instrumental in the win over Wayne.

Burnstein remains optimistic for the district tournament, which begins March 7 at Ann Arbor Huron. The Chiefs will meet Ann Arbor Pioneer.

"This tells me once again we can play and beat the best teams," she said, "even though we didn't get out of our pool. Wayne is a good team. They were second in the state last year."

The early morning starting time seemed to have an effect on Salem's performance, according to coach Cathy Himes.

"The girls were just not up to playing," Himes said, after her team opened with lopsided losses to Livonia Clarenceville. "I felt they stayed up too late the night before.

"But as the day went on, the kids seemed to do a lot better."

The Rocks rebounded to beat Walled Lake Central (15-4, 15-10) and then split with Flint Atherton (15-13, 10-15) and downed North Farmington (15-12, 19-17).

"The North Farmington coach and I agreed after it was over that it wasn't very good volleyball," said Himes.

"It was bump, set and spike most of the time. The rallies were unreal. It was just an endurance match."

Canton, Salem to tangle

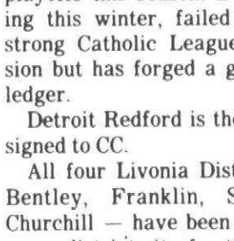

Because of a scheduling conflict, Plymouth Canton's basketball game at Dearborn slated for Tuesday, Feb. 24, has been cancelled.

That game was originally scheduled for Feb. 10, but was called off because of snow.

The Deaborn-Belleville game (Feb. 13) was also postponed due to bad weather. That game was played Tuesday night because it had a bearing on the outcome of the Suburban Eight League basketball race. The game took precedence over the Dearborn-Canton non-league battle.

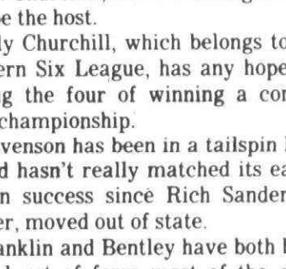

Canton will close out its regular season schedule Friday at home against Walled Lake Western in a Western Six League game. Rival Plymouth Salem will close out against Suburban Eight foe Trenton, also Friday at home.

District tournament action begins Tuesday at Plymouth Salem. Canton and Salem will meet at 7:30 p.m.

On Saturday, May 10, 1975 Fred Crissey's Canton Chief baseball squad pounded out a 9-5 victory over the Catholic Central Shamrocks. The non-league victory gave the Chiefs a 13-2 won-lost record. Paul Major led the chief hitting assault with 3 hits and 3 runs batted in. John Young's key hit in the 3rd inning which produced 2 runs was the beginning of the end for C.C. Mike Verduce and Dave Pink contributed run scoring singles to ice the triumph. Mark Perkins started on the mound and Bill Parson recorded the save for the state's #1 ranked baseball club.

Chief swimmers splash Northville

Plymouth Canton made it a clean sweep this season in the Western Six League with a 106-62 boys' swim victory over Northville Tuesday night.

The Chiefs, coached by Bill McCord, head into next week's league meet with a perfect 6-0 slate. Canton is 8-2 overall in dual meets.

Bob Simrak paced the Chiefs with victories in the 200-yard individual medley (2:13.5) and 500 freestyle (5:12.4).

He was also a member of Canton's victorious 200 medley relay squad which posted a time of 1:52.65. Other members included Greg Schnurstein, Pete Stern and Ron Hurley.

Canton also captured first in the 400 freestyle relay with a clocking of 3:43.2. That team consisted of Hurley, Tom McKercher, Joe Gibbons and John Simone.

Other Canton individual first-place finishers included Simone, 200 freestyle, 1:58.5; Steve Gaggi, diving, 153.35 points; Hurley, 100 butterfly, 1:00.5; and Gibbons, 100 backstroke, 1:07.8.

The Chiefs, winners of eight straight duals, will host Livonia Stevenson Thursday in the final regular season meet.

Christian cagers end season strong

By THOMAS ZAIBEK

Plymouth Christian Academy posted two non-league basketball wins last week to wind up the regular season with a record of 12-4.

The Eagles, coached by Butch DeRenzo, downed Detroit Bethesda Saturday night, 40-30, as junior forward John Koss had 16 points and 13 rebounds to pace the winners.

DeRenzo's squad pounded Fowlerville Christian last Thursday, 55-47.

"It was a horrendous night for both teams," said DeRenzo following the Bethesda win. "Both teams were really cold, but John (Koss) had an exceptional night. That was the difference."

Koss led a 17-8 surge in the final quarter as Plymouth pulled away for the victory.

Despite the win, Plymouth hit just 13 of 36 shots from the floor for 36 percent.

In the victory over Fowlerville, Mike Routledge and Koss each pumped in 14 points to lead the Eagle attack. Steve Kiser, a 6-foot-2 junior center, added 11 rebounds.

Plymouth Christian hit 27 of 53 from the field for 51 percent.

"They (Fowlerville) just didn't have any size," DeRenzo said. "We controlled the boards and got the break going."

The Eagles put the game away with a 34-21 scoring outburst in the first half. Fowlerville outscored Plymouth 26-23 in the final two quarters.

ROCK RESERVES WIN

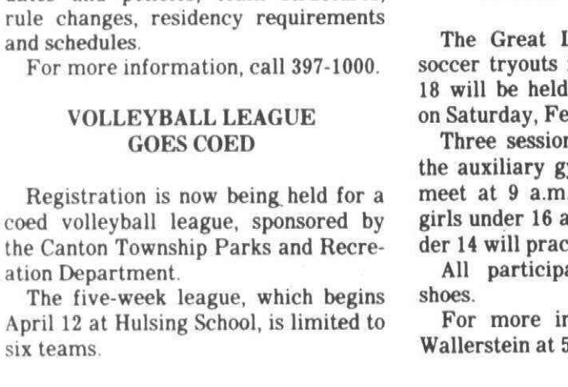

Plymouth Salem's junior varsity basketball squad ripped visiting Lincoln Park last Thursday night, 67-35.

The win brings Salem's overall record to 16-2. The Rocks will seek revenge Friday against Trenton at home. The Trojans and Canton are the only two teams to beat the Rocks.

Coach Bob Blohm's cagers did a complete turnabout in the easy win over Lincoln Park. In an earlier meeting between the two schools, Salem came away with a hard-fought 41-39 triumph.

Defense was the difference in the second meeting as Salem held Lincoln Park to just 18 points in first three periods of play.

Forward Marvin Zurék scored 16 points to lead the winners. Jim Sinclair added 10 and Glenn Medalle chipped in with eight.

Women break 700 barrier

in the pocket/W.W. Edgar

There is a general belief that the automatic pinsetter brought about the popularity in bowling, but that is only a half-truth, at least as far as the women are concerned.

What helped the women to enjoy the game was the insertion of the arrows on the lanes showing where to aim their ball.

The arrows also aided the men, but the women fared best. The men used to count the boards from the gutter, but the arrows did away with that kind of figuring. This made bowling easier for the less-frequent bowler.

THE 700 CLUB took in two new women members during the past week.

Jan Smith, bowling with the Bonanza team in the Bowlerettes Monday night at Luxury Lanes, turned in a 745 on games of 258, 213 and 256. It was the second-highest series of the year in the league.

Over at Garden Lanes, Mae Lackey broke the barrier with a 724 that helped her pace the Ladies Classic. Mae had games of 256, 246 and 222 for her big count.

THE MEN also produced a pair of 700-barrier-busting scores in a week of haavy firing.

At Westland Bowl, Bob Grenier, bowling in the Monday Men's League, opened with 246, followed with 235 and closed with 219 for 700.

The other one came in the Pin Busters loop at Plaza Lanes. Here, Mark Abele posted a 706 on 232, 232 and 238.

SCORES IN the Westland Classic dipped again, and Randy Pierde won the pace-setting role with a 686. It was one the few weeks there was no 700 series.

Behind Randy came Bob Albright and Al Starts with 659s.

In the Monday League, where Bob Grenier had his 700, Wally Badysz wound up in the second place with 660, made possible by a 244 opener.

THE ANNUAL Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's Bowl for Breath tournament is set for all the bowling establishments in the area for March 8. The event is opwn to all youngsters, bowlers and non bowlers alike. Last year's event raised more than a quarter million dollars.

OAK LANES, which opened more than a year ago, had its first perfect game rolled Saturday in the Mixers League.

Kurt J. Onderko accomplished the feat after games of 142 and 222 for a 644 series. On the women's side, Lynn Jones showed the way with a 222 in 585.

IN THE Suburban Travelling League at Garden Lanes, Sandy Waters turned in a 640, and Clinton Green paced the men with a 670. That gave him an 11 pin-edge on Larry Franz.

In the St. Linus league, Ed Kujawa was high with 653.

Ron La Montanne had an odd experience at Woodland Lanes. Bowling in the Midniters League, he opened with 10 strikes in a row and then left up the 1-5-6 on his 11th ball.

In the Kings and Queens Loop, Jan Pewowar, a 163-average bowler, posted a 252.

Rose Aprahanian found the winner's circle again in the Invitational Doubles at Merri-Bowl with a 621. Orrie Demsky was next with 576 and Ruth Kenjorski tied Gloriz Mertz for third place with 574.

Manage your money better with

ULTRA-CHECK NOW:

THE CHECKING ACCOUNT THAT PAYS YOU INTEREST.

Now there is a new way to manage your money better at DETROITBANK Corporation Banks. It's called ULTRA-CHECK NOW, and it's the checking account that pays you interest.

It works like a checking account, earns interest like a savings account.

With a new ULTRA-CHECK NOW account, your checking account balance earns an annual interest rate of 5.25% compounded continuously and paid monthly. The effective annual yield is 5.467%, and that's the highest rate available from any bank or savings and loan association on checking accounts that pay interest.

Here's how you can enjoy a no-charge ULTRA-CHECK NOW account.

As long as you maintain $2,000 or more in any savings account (including certificates) at your DETROITBANK Corporation Bank, there will be no service charges on your ULTRA-CHECK NOW account. Or you can avoid service charges by maintaining a $1,500 minimum or a $3,000 average balance in your ULTRA-CHECK NOW account.

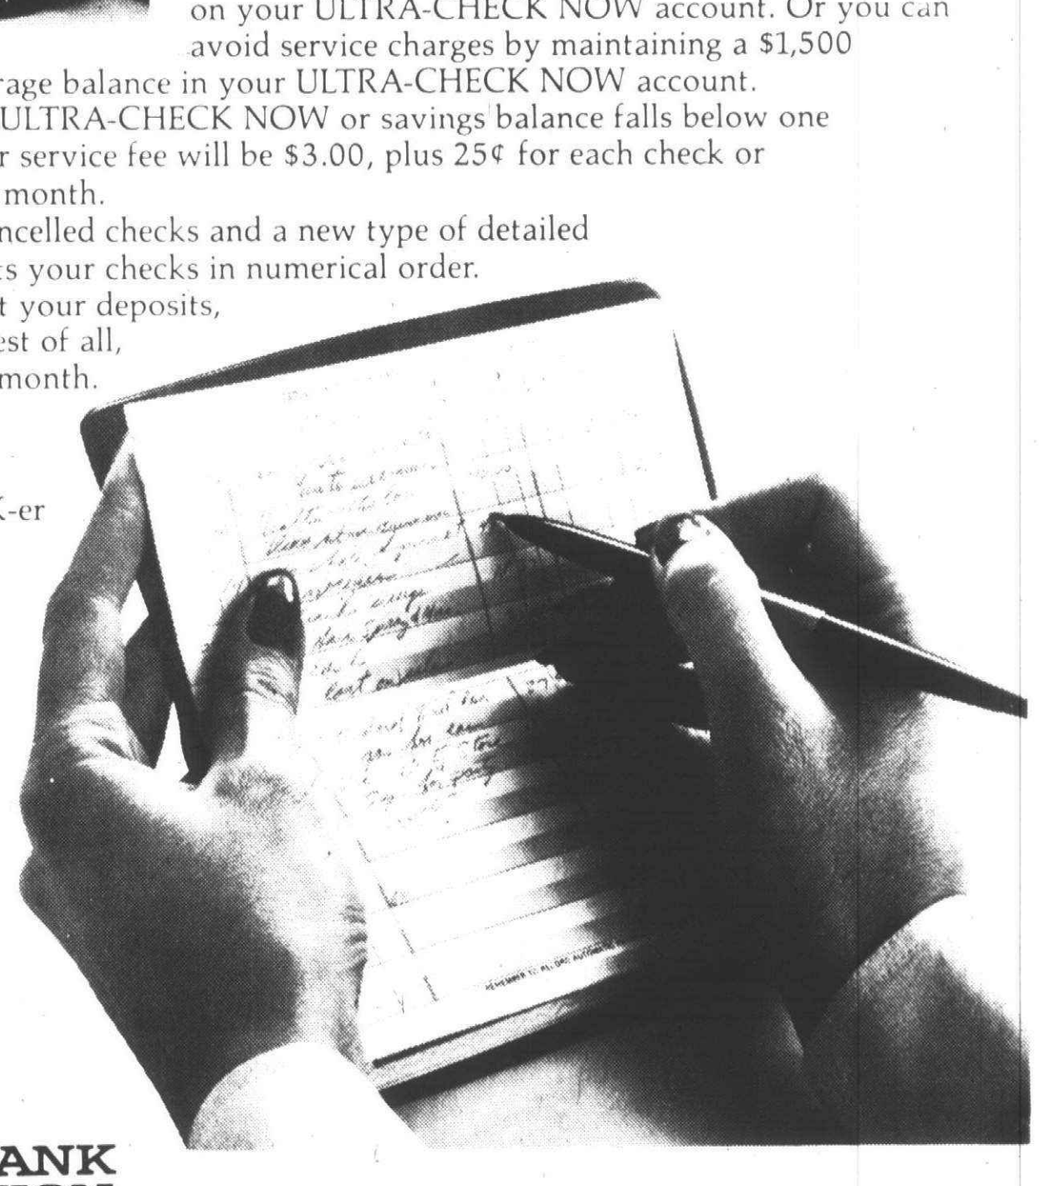

In any month that your ULTRA-CHECK NOW or savings balance falls below one of these requirements, your service fee will be $3.00, plus 25¢ for each check or debit to your account that month.

You will receive your cancelled checks and a new type of detailed monthly statement that lists your checks in numerical order. This statement will also list your deposits, service fees (if any) and, best of all, the interest earned for the month.

It's easy to sign up for ULTRA-CHECK NOW.

See your DETROIT BANK-er today and sign up for ULTRA-CHECK NOW—the checking account that pays you interest.

If you want to manage your money better, you ought to know a DETROIT BANK-er.

Athletic den

Former Red Wing goalie ices the beer

By BILL CASPER

Recognized by area hockey fans as old number 31 on a Detroit Red Wing jersey, Bloomfield Township resident Eddie Giacomin has hung up his skates in a Redford Township bar.

But, then, he can hang anything he wants there. He owns it.

Giacomin recently purchased the Nashua bar Telegraph just north of Plymouth Road. He's changed the name of the bar to Eddie Giacomin's Sports Den, and he intends to make a go of it. But he admits that his former vocation could drag him away.

"Hockey has been been my life," said the former hockey player. "All I ever wanted to do when I was growing up in Sudbury, Ontario, was to play hockey. And if some professional team calls me and offers me a coaching job, I think I'd accept if I could get a good contract."

He got his first break in the sport during his late teens.

"WHEN I WAS 18 and 19, my only love was hockey, but I couldn't make any of the junior teams, but I never said die." said Giacomin. "Then one day, my brother had a try-out with the Washington Presidents of the old Eastern Hockey League. But he couldn't get off work in time to make the try-out, so I went in his place and made the team."

He later played with the Providence (Rhode Island) Reds of the American Hockey League from 1961 to 1965 when he was purchased by the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League — the big leagues at last.

"Playing professional hockey with the Rangers in the NHL fulfilled a dream for me," Giacomin said.

His brilliant career in New York spanned 10 years, highlighted by five all-star appearances and a share (with teammate goal tender Giles Villemure) of the coveted Vezina Trophy, which goes each year to the goalie or goalies who allow the fewest goals during a season.

IN THE FALL of 1975, the Detroit Red Wings acquired Giacomin and two years later he retired at age 38.

"I wish I had played in Detroit longer because Olympia Stadium was made for me," he said. "The design of the corners are such that it made it easier for me to get to the puck and that fit my style of play because I liked to roam in the net and handle the puck."

Following his playing days, Giacomin landed a broadcasting job, doing the color commentary for the New York Islanders. He was then hired as an assistant coach for the Islanders, but says "things didn't work out."

Giacomin also worked for two months as an assistant coach in charge of the goalies for the New York Rangers, but as with the Islanders, no one offered him a contract to continue, he said.

He ran into the same situation last March when Red Wings owner Bruce Norris was looking for a new coach with 10 games left in the season.

"He approached me about taking the job and I threw my name in," said Giacomin. "He (Norris) called me with five games left and asked if I take the coaching job, but he didn't offer me a contract beyond the the last five games.

"THE WINGS were still in contention for a playoff spot and if I would've gotten them in the playoffs, I would have been the hero and probably gotten a contract for the next season. But if I failed, it would've looked bad for me and may have damaged any future coaching prospect."

After his negotiations with the Wings' management broke down, Giacomin turned to some business connections he had made in Detroit during his playing days, leading him to the former Nashua bar, which was up for sale.

"The place was going down, but I thought it could be a good business because of its location at an active intersection," said the 41-year-old Giacomin.

"This is my first business venture and I'm still learning," he continued."I got some experience by managing the bar for three months before I took ownership Feb. 2 as part of the purchase agreement while waiting for the liquor transfer.

"It took a lot of work to get the place cleaned up and I have plans to expand the interior along with a lot of other ideas which I hope will increase business.

"I WANT to put a little of me in the bar such as photographs of me in hockey action and a showcase where I plan to display some of my equipment I wore as a player, like my mask, jerseys and goalie stick."

As the sign in front indicates, Giacomin intends to create an sports atmosphere in the bar where people can come to view and discuss sports events.

"I plan to have three televisions placed in different areas of the bar so people can come in and watch whatever sport they're most interested in," Giacomin said. "I want to create a section of the bar, similar to a small den, where sports enthusiasts can sit comfortably and talk sports.

"And I intend to have the kind of place where families can bring their children," he added.

HE HAS closed the bar on several Saturday nights to host private parties for a number of area little league hockey teams.

"I've done that to introduce people to the bar and give the kids a chance to talk to me and other Wings players," said Giacomin. "I hope to continue these kinds of events."

So after spending his whole life attempting to stop goals, Giacomin is now trying to score some points in the business world and his Sports Den represents his first shot.

It he scores a success, Giacomin said he may open other bars, but for now, he's taking it one bar at a time.

THE BMW 320i. AN EFFICIENT LUXURY CAR WITH 36 MPG.

If the words "fuel efficient" conjure up images of small, practical cars hopelessly encumbered by their own virtues, we suggest you consider the BMW 320i.

For, while the 320i (with standard transmission) delivers an impressive 25 EPA estimated mpg, 36 estimated highway mileage and, based on these figures, an estimated mpg range of 383 miles and a highway range of 551 miles, it also delivers the sort of performance one associates only with a sports car. (Naturally our fuel efficiency figures are for comparison purposes only. Your actual mileage and range may vary, depending on speed, weather and trip length. Your actual highway mileage and highway range will most probably be lower.)

If you'd care to judge the 320i for yourself, phone us and we'll arrange a thorough test drive.

Robin Cool grabs state's longest cross-country race

With more than enough snow to make a Nordic skier's dream come true, 300 cross-country enthusiasts from Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Ontario and Michigan began the White Pine Stampede — Michigan's longest cross-country ski race — two weeks ago at the Mancelona Airport in the northwest quadrant of the Lower Peninsula.

Reminiscent of Norway, the country where downhill and cross-country skiing was born 2,500 years ago, temperatures hovered in the high teens while snow squalls and strong winds added some unnecessary flavor. The racers braved these adverse conditions for both the 20-kilometer and 50-kilometer races.

The winner of the 50-kilometer event was Robin Cool of Grand Rapids with a time of three hours, 47 minutes. Cool beat previous two-time-Stampede-winner Bob Kemp of Prudenville who finished with a 3:54.22 mark.

On the distaff side, Barb Drake of Chicago completed the 50-kilometer course in 5:30.02 and was the first of five women to complete the strenuous course.

A PHOTO FINISH climaxed the 20-kilometer competition with two outstate skiers from Grand Rapids and Higgins Lake crossing the finish line simultaneously at 1:33.25. The first woman to finish the short course was Lansing's Lynn Capen in 1:42.38.

This year's race was the fifth annual White Pine Stampede and featured several returning competitors.

The most remarkable of these was Traverse City's George Wurtzel who is legally blind and competed in the first event five years ago. Skiing with a guide who talked him through the entire 50-kilometer course, Wurtzel finished in a rugged 6:00.26.

Milford's Dick Thompson and Gerald Beers completed the 50-kilometer run for the fifth time, a feat attempted by only five and equalled by only two other skiers.

Since cross-country skiers receive relatively little recognition, it's comforting to know that even in harsh weather, happenings such as the White Pine Stampede are able to draw gifted skiers to fierce competition.

Thinking of spring skiing in the Rockies? Next week we'll gaze at the skies and see if the western snows will remain long enough for cloud-weary Michigan skiers to enjoy the sun and snow sensations of skiing's best season.

Ocelots grab 2 hoop triumphs

Schoolcraft College men's basketball team believes in quitting while it's ahead. The Ocelots completed the regular season with a pair of away victories last week to boost their record to 17-10.

The Ocelots came from behind Saturday to nip Oakland Community College, 73-71. Schoolcraft trailed the entire game before Jim Harkrader made it 71-all with 47 seconds remaining.

Dennis Freeman, who led the Ocelots with 19 points, canned the winning bucket from the top of the key just before the buzzer.

Phil Blevins scored 18 for the Ocelots, Mike Williams chipped in 16 and Harkrader tossed in 10.

Earlier, Mike Williams' 31 points and 13 rebounds led the Ocelots past the University of Windsor, 112-72.

Schoolcraft took command early in the game and never looked back. Phil Blevins scored 18 points, Freeman and Harkrader contributed 14 each, Manual Smith chipped in 12 and Darren St. Ledger pumped in 10.

The 10-8 Ocelots claimed third place in the conference and will compete in the state tournament in Jackson.

LADY OCELOTS

Despite Sherri Sikes' 13 points, the Lady Ocelots just couldn't get untracked during a recent 100-34 loss to Henry Ford Community College.

The Schoolcraft cagers fared no better against Highland Park Community College. The Lady Ocelots fell, 82-48.

Val Harben led all Schoolcraft scorers with 12 points against the Highland Parkers.

Coach Karen Beers' squad finishes the season with an away game against Madonna College at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Schoolcraft sports

GYMNASTICS

Schoolcraft's Kevin Watson set a school record in floor exercise with an 8.6, pacing the Ocelots to second place in a tri-meet at Central Michigan University.

Notre Dame University's club squad placed third with 113.3 points behind Central's 194.3 points and Schoolcraft's 162.85-point performance.

Watson also took first place in pommel horse, 7.05, and tied for second in vaulting with 8.7.

Teammate Chuck Clifford placed fourth in vaulting, 8.2.

Hockey regional set

Hockey Night in Canada may be exciting, but it will be Hockey Week in Livonia March 2-6 at the Edgar Arena.

That's when seven high-school teams will skate, check, pass and shoot in an effort to survive in the Livonia Regional of the state hockey tournament.

In years past, area teams competed as far away as Ann Arbor and Wyandotte in the opening round of the tourney. Now hockey fans in the area won't have to drive nearly as far to watch their favorite teams.

Edgar Arena, at Lyndon and Stark roads in the Ford Field complex, has a seating capacity of 1,200.

Jim Brown, manager at Edgar Arena, said that he expects every game to be a sellout. Tickets will cost $1.50 per game.

All four Livonia District schools plus Detroit Catholic Central will compete. Trenton, the defending state champ, has also been assigned to the Livonia Regional.

Case 81-4 American Fidelity Properties, 515 Forest, requesting permission to erect a real estate sign, 32 sq. feet (4'x8') at 409 Plymouth Road, located in an 0-2 Office zone, which is in conflict with Section 5.202 (2)(g) of Chapter 52, Zoning, of the Plymouth City Code.

All interested parties will be given an ample opportunity to participate in the hearing and, at the close of said hearing, all comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Zoning Board of Appeals prior to rendering its decision.

Auschwitz—reminder of brutal inhumanity

The barracks and grounds at Auschwitz, the largest of the Nazi concentration camps, are maintained as a memorial to the 4 million who were killed inside the camp's barbed wire perimeter. It is a reminder that man's barbaric past is not so long behind him. The sign in the foreground: "VORSICHT Hochspannung Lebengefahr." Caution: High tension, danger to life. (Photos by Micky Jones)

Ask it beforehand or bump and grind later

Cruises are very popular among retirees — especially among single women.

But older adults are often concerned about the lifestyle they will find aboard a cruise ship and whether they can handle the physical requirements of the trip.

Smart travelers ask such questions in advance, as many of our readers have done. I talked about this recently to Al Wolfe of the Cruise Lines International Association, which represents 27 cruise lines sailing out of North American ports.

Here are the questions he advises you to ask:

1. How many tender ports are on the cruise schedule. A tender port is not a place for love and kisses at dockside, but a port in which the cruise ship must transfer passengers to a smaller boat instead of tying up at a dock. The smaller boat is called a tender.

The transfer from ship to tender can be precarious. I made such a transfer when the Oceanic Independence stopped a mile from shore when we disembarked for Kona, on the island of Hawaii. The cruise ship was lurching. The tender was lurching. Each of us leaped, with the help of a crew member, from one bouncing vessel to the other.

That kind of travel requires agility and sure footing. If you don't have it, be sure you sign up for a cruise ship which makes all its stops at dockside. Many do.

2. Do you want to avoid discos? On some ships you can ignore them if you don't like them, but on some cruise ships the disco is the center of social life. Ask before you sail, unless you like to bump and grind.

3. What is the cruise ship policy towards children? Do they encourage or discourage them? Older adults will divide either way on this one. Many enjoy being with children. Many don't. Choose what suits you.

4. What is the nature of the ports where your ship will call? You may want to avoid the sidetrip where passengers ride a mule, or go deep sea diving, and stick with ports designed for shopping and sightseeing.

5. Do you need any special facilities for the handicapped? Many cruise ships have their own wheelchairs, for example, designed for their own doorways and staterooms. If you can fit in one of those wheelchairs, you are probably all right. If you must bring your own wheelchair, you may be in trouble.

6. Do you like to travel exclusively with other people your age? Holland American cruises and those which go to Alaska are more heavily populated by middle-aged and older travelers. If you prefer a mix of younger and older, check that out too. Your travel agent knows a lot about cruises.

TWO READERS asked more specific questions: Q. How do I find a freighter that has most of the amenities of a cruise ship? A. Delta Steamship Lines, one of CLIA's member cruise lines, has four ships carrying 100 passengers each and offers reasonable comfort on a freighter cruise.

Q. How do I get a job on a cruise ship? A: Most cruise ships are of foreign registry and hire employees from their own countries. The only American registry at the moment is the Oceanic Independence named above, or the Delta Queen, which sails the Mississippi River.

By IRIS SANDERSON JONES

I am as loathe to write about Auschwitz as I was to visit it. A Nazi concentration camp in which 4 million people were murdered hardly fits the pattern of pleasure usually associated with either travel or a travel story.

But people travel for more than pleasure. Auschwitz is on the itinerary of thousands of Americans who visit Poland. Others visit Dachau, near Munich, in Germany. Both are museum memorials to the people who died in concentration camps. The camps are kept intact so that the Holocaust is not forgotten.

Most adults remember their first sight of the photographs taken when Allied soldiers freed the concentration camps in 1945. Men, women and children, most of them Jews, had been hauled in boxcars to this remote area of Poland, where 20 percent were chosen for hard labor and the rest sent to their deaths in the gas chambers.

Four million died here, among them 2½ million Jews and more than a million Poles. Only a few hundred inmates survived. Recent television programs have shown us the horror of the hunger and desolation in which they lived.

AUSCHWITZ IS a different pilgrimage for each person who goes there. I was a young girl when those film clips first appeared, and I read about the concentration camps for years in a vain attempt to understand. I was terrified at the idea of visiting Auschwitz.

If you are considering such a visit, you might like to know that, although the real-life stories remain terrifying, it was not as bad a visit as I had expected it to be.

I would like to share with you some impressions from my notebook about that visit:

OSWIECIM is the Polish name for the town the Germans called Auschwitz. From the tour bus window, I see men and women walking back and forth between the small-town shops, and glimpses down a side street of a steepled brick church that rises above the town.

There are ice cream trucks and tour buses in the parking lot at the camp, just outside of town. Brick barracks, barbed wire and guard towers stretch ominously away behind.

A film made up of old German and Allied army film clips is shown in the large brick administration building. Older travelers have seen many of these pictures before, but younger travelers see them for the first time.

Men and women, grandmothers and toddlers, driven by Nazi soldiers to railway stations throughout Europe. Thousands shot and buried in mass graves. Lineups for the showers, the gas chambers at Auschwitz. Piles of naked bodies waiting for the crematorium. Skeletal survivors in striped prison garb clawing the fence as Allied soldiers arrive.

THERE IS A STRANGE sense of unreality among the sea of tourist raincoats as we walk through the barbed wire into the camp, under an ironic sign that reads "Arbiet Macht Frei." Work Makes Free.

These two-story red brick buildings, which were built as military barracks, are not what I expected to see. The long, low wooden and concrete buildings, which look like horse barns, are in an adjacent camp called Birkenau, built later in the war to make extermination more efficient.

Each of these red brick buildings is now a museum, showing photographs and the conditions of living and dying in Auschwitz. In one, simply marked "Extermination," there is a simple shrine where fresh flowers are placed daily.

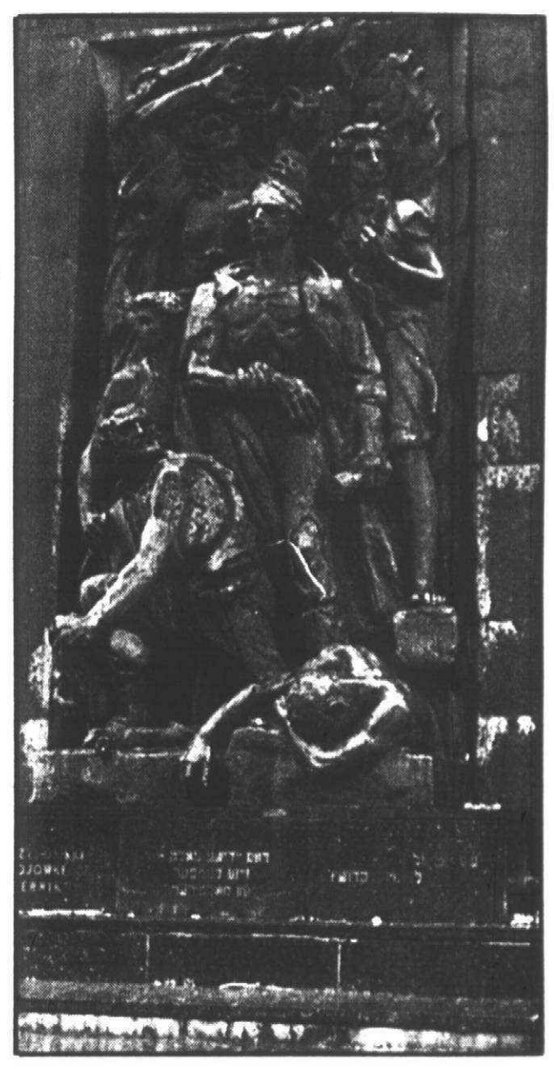

Each of us had our own thoughts, but we nod our heads when a woman says: 'I had to go. I only had to walk through that camp, but all those prisoners had to live and die there.'

The shrine is a simple, lighted archway near a huge photograph of a woman and child being driven down a winter street by soldiers. A large black marble pedestal holds the official bouquet of flowers. At the base of the pedestal, in small, drying clusters that have clearly been clutched by loving hands, visitors leave their own memorial flowers every day.

WE WALK THROUGH the buildings in a blur of images. The women's quarters. The men's quaters. Photos of tiny children. Here, 1,000 Polish boys from Zamojszczyny were exterminated in one day. Drawings of the gas chambers. The ovens. The shock of seeing huge glass cases full of the spectacles, the shoes and the hair taken from the dead. A display of German suits lined with that hair.

No travel story can detail life in Auschwitz. Even a visit doesn't tell it all. Some is too terrible to tell. The final story is Block Smierci — the Block of Death — built next to the Wall of Death. Today, 36 years after liberation, the length of the wall blooms with fresh flowers set amid the flickering candles lit every single day by visiting travelers.

IT IS A STRANGE feeling to be a tourist in such a place. The tour group moves silently under red and blue umbrellas in the rain, towards the tour buses. Each of us had our own thoughts, but we nod our heads when a woman says: "I had to go. I only had to walk through that camp, but all those prisoners had to live and die there."

Black marble for a statue of Hitler became a monument marking the Jewish ghetto of Warsaw.

FAIRMONT PARK

GRAND OPENING
You can get into Muirwood for $350 a month.
But only through the 24-hour, manned gatehouse.

The peace and security of a round-the-clock manned gatehouse and electronic door entries are unheard of in apartments priced this reasonably.
But then, Muirwood has so many creature comforts you just won't find anywhere else for the money.
So much light, so many windows, so much room. Covered attached parking. Windows in most kitchens. (Eating space, too!) Lots of storage, huge closets. Incredible pool and clubhouse. A balcony or patio in each residence. Great architecture, great setting: ponds, rolling hills, even a private 12-acre nature trail.
Starting at $350 a month for a one-bedroom. And — amazingly — just $455 a month for our two-bedroom apartments.
