Man shoots wife, then kills self

Woman in hospital with gunshot wound

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

A 32-year-old Detroit man killed himself after shooting his wife Tuesday morning in a parking lot in the Honeytree Apartments complex off Joy and I-275, police reported.

Police say Thomas Campbell of Detroit shot and wounded his estranged wife Donna, 31, then shot and killed himself.

Mrs. Campbell had moved to Honeytree only 10 days before the incident.

The shooting took place in a parking lot in front of a clubhouse where school children were waiting for a bus. Police Lt. Larry Stewart credited Honeytree staff and residents with averting possible injuries to bystanders.

Stewart said Paul Anderson, a 21-year-old security supervisor, tried to intervene in the couple's argument in an effort to "maintain peace and order," said Stewart.

"THERE WERE a whole slew of school children waiting for a (school) bus," added Stewart. "They had been moved into the clubhouse by Honeytree personnel."

"The rest of (the pupils) scattered when the violence began," added Ben Lyons, vice president of Hall Management, the firm which manages Honeytree. There were no injuries to any of the witnesses

According to Stewart, Mrs. Campbell had been separated from her husband.

SHE WAS about to take the couple's 4-year-old daughter to nursery school, when she met her husband waiting in the parking lot, according to police.

An argument began, and all three family members went back into the apartment. A few moments later, according to the police report, Mrs. Campbell fled the apartment.

"He caught her in the parking lot and beat her face with his hands," continued Stewart. Campbell shot his wife in the face with a .22-caliber handgun, then walked a few feet away and shot himself in the head.

A Honeytree resident with nursing training assisted Mrs. Campbell and cared for the daughter until a rescue unit arrived, said Stewart.

Campbell was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. Mrs. Campbell was in serious condition in the intensive care ward Wednesday morning, said a hospital spokeswoman.

Her daughter is staying with a family friend.

Canton police enter a building at Honeytree Apartments to gather information about the shooting.

Schools eye new budget slash of $2 million

The long lines may never end.

All summer groups have appeared before the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education to protest part of a series of program cuts made this year which total some $2 million.

Now that those lines have almost come to an end (middle school sports were in line Monday night) the district faces the possibility of another $2 million in cuts this year.

In anticipation of those cuts, and in reaction to the latest student head counts, the district has laid off about five teachers during the past week in an attempt to bring the teacher/student ratio at all buildings to 24.75.

Monday night the board was asked to lend its support to formation of a middle school boosters club which would help fund sports programs for grades 7-9. The board decided to continue with its present intermural/extramural program at the middle school and not give its encouragement or blessing to a middle school athletic boosters group.

DR. JOHN M. HOBEN, superintendent of schools, noted that the board began the current fiscal year with a budget reduction of $3.5 million.

The board reduced its fund equity (contingency) by $1.5 million and then approved a list of 42 cuts which totalled some $2 million.

Hoben said the district presently is facing a $162,000 operating deficit and must lay off five to nine teachers to balance funds.

"This is strictly a dollar situation — we just don't have the funds."

Monday morning, Hoben added, the district learned the executive order cutback from the governor would result in Plymouth-Canton losing $42,900 in state funds in October.

The state is projecting at least one more executive order cut from the governor's office, said Hoben, and the district also will lose money this year from whatever tax relief proposal is approved.

The various tax relief proposals will result in Plymouth-Canton losing from 3-5 percent of its state funding.

The net effect, said Hoben, will be from $1.2 million to $2 million, which likely will have to be cut yet from the current budget.

"We are not yet out of the woods, by any means, just by getting the ratio up to 24.75."

LATER IN THE meeting, the board approved a resolution giving reluctant support to the Democratic plan for tax relief now before the Legislature.

The resolution states the district is against all of the proposed tax relief proposals, but if one has to be adopted the plan which hurts schools the least is the Democratic plan.

Basically, the Democratic plan "front-loads" the circuit-breaker by giving the tax credit before property taxes are paid instead of after the fact. The plan also increases the credit allowed senior citizens and handicapped persons.

Because the property tax relief given in the circuit breaker is based on personal income, trustee Tom Yack said, it is based on the ability to pay and has some equity built into it.

The superintendent noted that the governor's tax relief plan would result in a loss of income to Plymouth-Canton Schools of some $500,000, which would have devastating effects locally.

A tax relief proposal must be approved by Oct. 15, Hoben said, if it is to have any effect on this December's tax bills.

Because of that, Hoben urged the board to make its wishes known as soon as possible to the Legislature so that education's voice is heard.

Local lips like food harvested in Canton

On Nov. 3, Canton voters will be asked to authorize a bond issue to preserve existing farmland in the township. This second in a series of articles on the preservation issue focuses on the economic effects of farming.

What do Farmer Jack and Kroger have in common with Elias Brothers' Big Boy and Dino's Pizza?

Obviously, all sell and serve food. But more specifically, all tap into Canton's farming community for their stock of sweet corn, cantaloupes, strawberries, peppers and other assorted veggies.

"We supply to Farmer Jack," said Lillian Hauk, who has a family-run farm with husband Ross and several of their children. "The stands come here to buy from us. Sometimes they grow their own corn.

Canton man charged in traffic crash, death

A Canton man faces a negligent homicide charge following the traffic death of a Ypsilanti woman Saturday night.

Police Officer Davey LeBlanc said the accident occurred about 8:15 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of Geddes and Denton in the rural western area of Canton.

Merita Stratton, 30, of Harris Road in Ypsilanti, died in the accident.

Donald Sherman, 30, of Holiday Estates mobile home park on Geddes, was arraigned Wednesday in 35th District Court on a charge of negligent homi-

Forensic exam pending

Hartwig trial is postponed

Ronald J. Hartwig, 33, will undergo a forensic examination within the next two months to determine whether he is competent to stand trial for the Aug. 23 beating death of Stacey Ann Hurrelbrink.

Hartwig had been scheduled to stand trial on Oct. 13 in the slaying of the 21-year-old Plymouth woman found dead near the Old Village Inn.

The trial date has been postponed indefinitely. Hartwig has been charged with first degree murder, to which he pled innocent at his arraignment.

According to the prosecutor's office, Hartwig's attorney, Patrick Devine, had requested the forensic exam for his client. It is not known when Hartwig will be tested.

Meanwhile, he is being held without bond at the Wayne County Jail.

Devine was not available for comment by press time.

Plymouth Police received test results on another matter in the murder case recently. Results from Michigan State Police crime lab tests revealed that hair samples found on a claw hammer retrieved from Wilcox Lake matched those of Ms. Hurrelbrink. The medical examiner reported that Ms. Hurrelbrink had died of multiple blows to the head with a blunt instrument. The crime lab report said their were no fingerprints on the hammer.

Police would not say who tipped them to look for the hammer in the lake, which is only two blocks away from the inn.

Hartwig, a resident of the Old Village Inn and an acquaintance of Ms. Hurrelbrink's, was arrested by Plymouth Police Aug. 23, about six hours after Ms. Hurrelbrink's death. Police beleive she was slain in the basement of the inn.

Police arrested Hartwig on a tip supplied by a nearby Holbrook Street resident who was acquainted with both Hartwig and Ms. Hurrelbrink.

cide. He stood mute and the court entered a plea of innocent in his behalf.

He was released on $10,000 personal bond. Preliminary exam date in district court has been set for Oct. 8.

Negligent homicide is a misdemeanor carrying a penalty of up to two years in prison upon conviction.

ACCORDING TO LeBlanc, Sherman was driving a 1979 Chevrolet van northbound on Denton. Investigation indicated Sherman failed to observe a stop sign at Geddes.

The van collided with a 1978 Pontiac driven by Mrs. Stratton. She was westbound on Geddes with her daughters, Lisa, 11, and Sheila, 8.

LeBlanc said the impact of the collision flipped the van on top of the Pontiac, knocking it into a ditch. Mrs. Stratton was pronounced dead at 11:20 p.m. at Wayne County General Hospital.

Daughter Sheila was treated for injuries and released. Lisa was hospitalized for two days with a broken collarbone, broken jaw, cuts and bruises.

Sherman was hospitalized overnight and released the next day. A passenger in his car, Willard Eldred, 38, of Brickley in Ferndale, was treated and released.

brushing and flossing teeth is best!
Bacteria is the cause of tooth decay and gum disease. Daily brushing removes some of the bacteria, however, only flossing will clean between teeth, an area the toothbrush cannot reach, and where many dental problems also occur.
When brushing, it's the action of the toothbrush that cleans bacteria from teeth...with or without toothpaste!
Mouthwash or breath mints will not clean teeth... only daily brushing and flossing will do the job properly.

Hundreds run in YMCA event

Photos by RICK SMITH

More than 370 runners turn the corner into Emma's Restaurant's parking lot in downtown Plymouth during the second annual Fall Run, sponsored by the Plymouth Community Family YMCA.

East Middle School teacher Jennifer Melkvik has reason to be happy after learning she was the first woman to cross the finish line in the three-mile race.

About 370 runners participated in Saturday morning's second annual Fall Run sponsored as a fund-raiser by the Plymouth Community Family YMCA.

The major winners for the 5 Mile, 3 Mile and One Mile Fun Run were Peter Hallop of Ann Arbor, Karen Halappa of Plymouth, Frank Brosman of Plymouth, Jennifer Melkvik of South Lyon, Michael Jones of Kalamazoo, and Jamie Lamb of Canton.

Five Mile Run: first, Peter Hallop of Greenhills, Ann Arbor, with a time of 24:21; second, Gary Wolfram of Willow Creek, Canton, at 24:44; and third, Richard Wilson of Frankfort, Ill., at 25:30.

The female trophies for the Five Mile Run went to: first, Karen Halappa of Berry Road, Plymouth, with a time of 32:12; second, Kathleen Salomon of McIntyre, Ann Arbor, at 33:45; and third, Robin Austin of Centralia, Redford Township, at 34:51.

Three Mile Run: first, Frank Brosman of Elm, Plymouth, with a time of 15:39:5; second, Dave Ciaverella of Belleville, 16:17.7; and third, Bill Whitson of Union Lake with a time of 17:16.5.

Female winners for the Three Mile Run were: first, Jennifer Melkyik of South Lyon at 21:99, second, Rachelle Simons of Leighwood, Plymouth, at 21:40; and third place, Susan Balconi of Wildwind, Plymouth, at 22:07.

One Mile winners were: first, Michael Jones of Kalamazoo, 4:48; second, Bert Lopez of Ann Arbor, 4:48.8; and third, William Whitsen of Union Lake, at 5:13. (Whitsen was the only double-trophy winner with his third place in the one mile and three mile runs.)

Female winners in the one mile run were: first, Jamie Lamb of Holly Dr., Canton, with a time of 6:38; second, Hope Buchan of Charnwood, Plymouth, 6:39; and third, Karen Boluch of Trailwood, Plymouth, at 6:42.

Medals were awarded to the first place winners, male and female, for each age division. The division medal winners were:

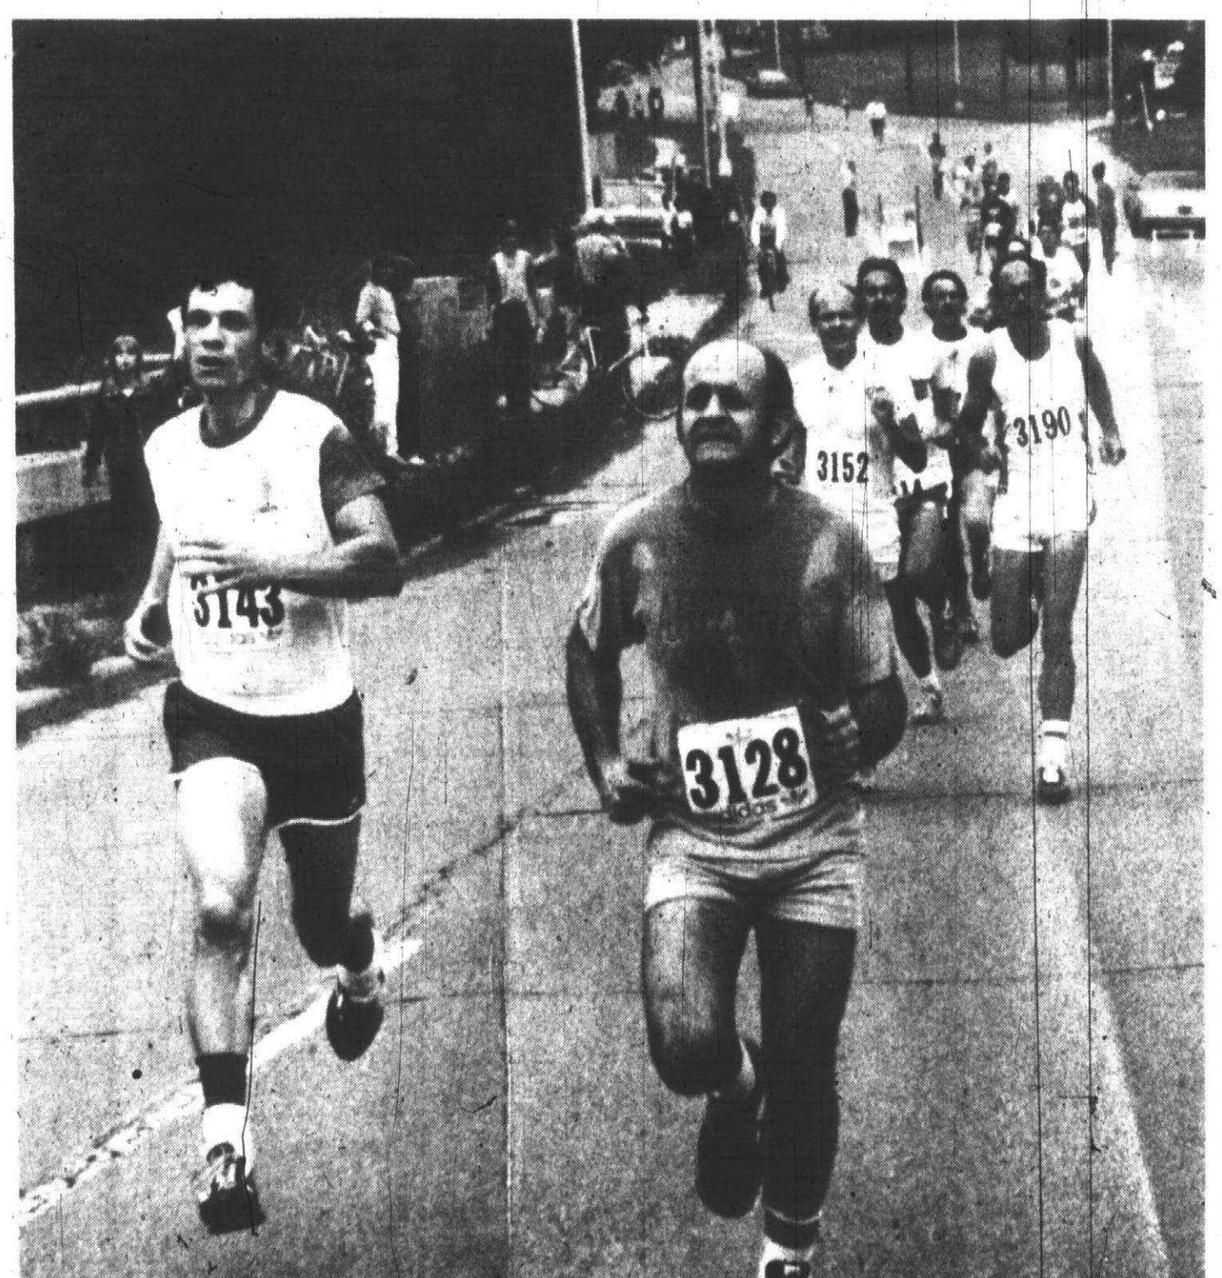

One Mile: 13 and younger, Kevin Jones of Plymouth and Robin Stuber of Canton; 14-16, Eric Pedersen of Plymouth; 16-20, no entry; 21-29, Peter Settles of Plymouth and Linda Bernhardt of Plymouth; 30-39, David Susman and Florence Banners of Plymouth; 40-49, Joseph Kafta of Northville and Harriet Kafta of Northville; 50 and older, June Byrne of Plymouth;

Five Mile: 13 and younger, Bill Boyd of Canton and Katie Vesnaugh of Canton; -16, Peter Ross of Ann Arbor and Tammy Cundarie of Canton; 17-20, Stephen Magee of Ann Arbor and Betsy McHugh of Ann Arbor; 21-29, Terry Elsey of Southfield and Susie Gray of Ypsilanti; 30-39, Michael Lutz of Ann Arbor and Renee Maranian of Saline; 40-49, Bill Boyd Sr. of Canton and Susan Clark of Livonia; 50 and older, no entries;

Three Mile medal winners were: 13 and younger, John Pustell and Jenny Kincer of Canton; 14-16, Karl Gansler of Plymouth and Laura MacIntyre of Plymouth; 17-20, Chris Albaugh of Plymouth and Lori Grissom of Plymouth; 21-29, Tom Truszkowski of Detroit and Linda Jones of Plymouth; 30-39, Bill Huppenbauer of Plymouth and Kathie Simmons of Livonia; 40-49, Larry Mishler of Plymouth and Pat Gretok of Livonia; 50 and older, Charlie Weimer of Westland and Rose Grisa of Livonia.

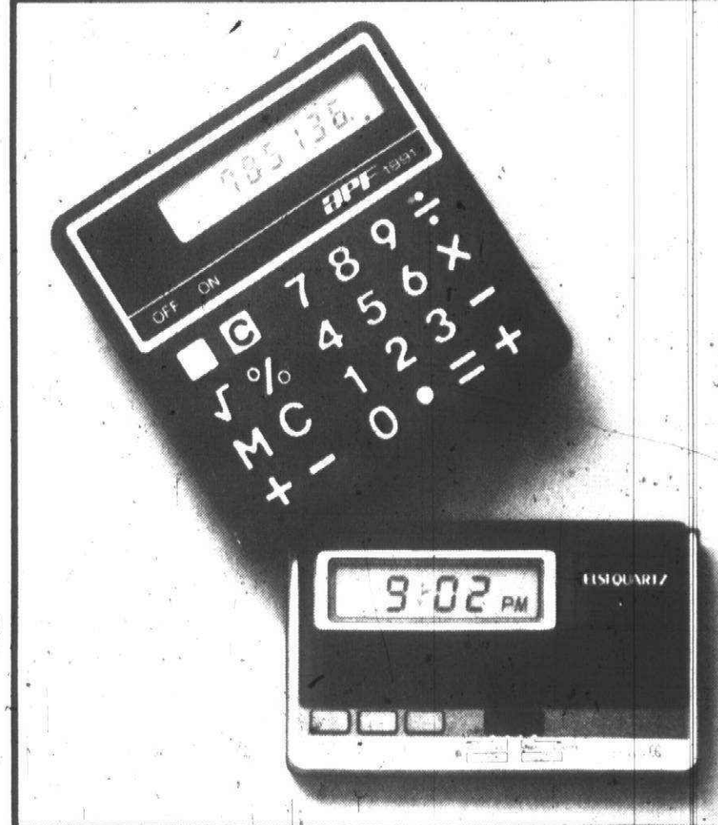

Other major sponsors of the Fall Run included the Hillside Inn, Penn Theatre, the Plymouth Community Credit Union, and the Big Red Quick Print Center.

ABOVE: Peter Hallopp of Greenhills, Ann Arbor, was the five-mile run winner with a time of 24 minutes, 21 seconds. RIGHT: The run wasn't as simple as people might think. Just look at these five mile runners grimace as they attempt to complete the five-mile event down Plymouth Road.

Township's corn is No. 1

Big businesses tap Canton's farmland

"If the stands run out, they come to us," added Mrs. Hauk. "They come from Whitmore Lake and way up north."

The Hauks own 760 acres — 330 in western Canton and 330 in Deerfield, northwest of Monroe. They supply sweet corn and cantaloupes to the grocery chains.

The family also grow soybeans and field corn, which is dried and shipped out of state for sale as livestock feed in the United States and abroad.

The Hauks sometimes rent additional land for agricultural use. At times, they employ up to 25 persons in their operation — especially when it's time to hand-pick the sweet corn.

THE 1,800-acre Gill Dairy Farm on Ridge Road produces 2,325 gallons of milk per day from its 425 cows. The operation supplies the Wilson Dairy Co.

A report prepared by Kathy Martin of Canton's planning department indicates agricultural products raised in the township gross more than $2 million annually.

Canton is especially known for its tender, melt-in-your-mouth sweet corn (the annual Canton Country Festival used to be known as the Sweet Corn Festival). Ms. Martin's report indicates about 550 acres of Canton soil are producing sweet corn.

"I think there is limited awareness that some Canton farming operations are substantial and are major suppliers to stores, restaurants and dairy companies," said James Kosteva, Canton's chief planner.

MOST OF Canton's farms are west of Canton Center Road. They range from small truck farms to larger, full-time operations such as the Hauks and the Gills.

There are U-pick strawberry farms. Some farmers sell strictly in roadside stands on their property, while others are regulars at farmers' markets in Canton and Ypsilanti, and at the Eastern Market in Detroit.

According to Ms. Martin's report, the Hauk family has been farming in Canton since 1919, and the Gills since 1884. The Padget family of Geddes Road has been farming in Canton for more than 100 years.

But the farmland is shrinking. About 5,500 acres west of Canton Center Road are zoned for agriculture, said Kosteva. About 4,400 acres of that are being cultivated.

In 1964, according to Ms. Martin, some 12,000 acres were being tilled. By 1972, development cut farming land to 8,000 acres.

ON NOV. 3, CANTON voters will be asked to give the township permission to issue and sell bonds to acquire development rights.

If the proposal gains approval, bonds not exceeding $7 million would be sold to raise funds. Those funds would be paid to farmers in western Canton the difference between the agricultural value of their property and the potential market value for development.

In exchange, the landowners would be required to preserve the land for farming — whether it's sold or kept.

BMX race delayed again

Sponsors of the first-ever BMX motocross race in Canton Township must be giving nasty signs to Mother Nature.

Last Sunday for the fourth time, weekend rains washed out a scheduled double-point race at a new track on the property owned by Woodland Meadows landfill in southeast Canton.

But workers at Easy Rider Bike Shop, sponsor of the event, won't give up yet.

A regular race is scheduled for this Saturday, and a double-point race is set for Sunday — weather permitting.

Racers may register their bikes in the morning. Race time will be noon on both days.

Blood shortage exists in southeastern Michigan

An increase in the use of blood and blood products by hospitals in southeastern Michigan has caused a critical blood shortage in the area, according to the Red Cross.

According to the Southeastern Michigan Red Cross, blood collections so far this year have met the projected goal. Blood collections are 9 percent ahead of last year. But because of the increased use of blood, the Red Cross has been unable to keep up with the demand.

Today, the Red Cross was able to fill only 10 percent of the hospital requests for Group O blood, the most widely used type.

Southeastern Michigan Red Cross blood services is experiencing a shortage of all blood types except AB. Some blood has been imported from other Red Cross regional blood centers. However, little blood is available from other sources.

The normal goal is collection of 900-1,000 units of blood a day in order to meet the needs of the more than 75 hospitals in southeastern Michigan. The Red Cross says it needs to collect at least 1,000 units more than the average daily need to eliminate the current shortage.

Additional staff has been assigned to the Red Cross blood donor sites in southeastern Michigan. Red Cross is urging the public to respond to the need for blood by calling 313-833-4440, or the number of the Red Cross donor center nearest them to make an appointment to give blood as soon as possible.

Liability against schools?

Future homecomings to be reviewed

By Emory Daniels
staff writer

See related editorial on Page 18A.

Future homecomings in Plymouth-Canton will be reviewed in the near future because of potential liability against the school district.

The school board's attorneys have issued advice to the district regarding homecoming activities because of a lawsuit filed against a school district.

That lawsuit results from the death of a girl who fell off a homecoming float being transported to school.

The legal advice to the school board was issued by the firm of Clark, Hardy, Lewis, Fine and Pollard of Birmingham.

DENNIS POLLARD, a member of the firm, recently wrote to Superintendent John M. Hoben of Plymouth-Canton Schools:

"In light of the death of a student during a homecoming parade in one of the area school districts last fall, we thought it would be timely to give you a current update relative to the district's exposure in connection with such an activity."

Hoben reports the legal position paper was sent out to all school districts who are clients of Clark, Hardy, et. al.

The opinion "does pose a very sticky question as to what extent the school should be involved in the construction of floats and the supervision of this activity," Hoben said.

Bill Brown, principal of Plymouth Salem High, which had its homecoming last Friday, said the opinion did not arrive in time for the school to consider changes in its homecoming activity.

"We have already taken some of the measures the attorneys advise, and have been taking steps to ensure safety in our observance of homecoming," said Brown.

"We no longer, for instance, have a homecoming parade in downtown Plymouth. And this year the homecoming floats will be pulled by students around the football field instead of being pulled by cars."

Brown said the advice will be reviewed and changes for next year might be considered.

IN LAST FALL'S incident in Madison Heights, Pollard said, the student was riding on what was alleged to have been a defectively designed and constructed homecoming float when she fell.

The float had been built at the home of one of the students and was being transported to the high school when the accident occurred.

As a result, the school district and individual board members are being sued for negligent supervision of the activity.

Governmental units can be immune from liability if engaged in activities that only government can provide, said Pollard, citing a 1978 court ruling.

But because many homecoming activities could be conducted without any school involvement, suggested Pollard, the immunity doctrine may not protect school districts from liability.

"Thus, it is apparent that the district faces a potential risk in sponsoring or, indeed, simply permitting a homecoming parade."

POLLARD ADVISED that districts should either continue to be involved with homecomings with more protective measures taken, or disassociate themselves from homecomings totally.

The only effective way to completely avoid the potential for liability, he stressed, would be an outright ban of a homecoming parade.

Because it may not be "practical" to cancel homecoming parades, Pollard adds, districts should make sure construction of floats is closely supervised and coordinated by employees or parents.

Guidelines also should be written, he added, which include specifications for float construction and which might prohibit students from riding on moving floats.

"In summary, it is our opinion that if the district continues to sponsor homecoming parades, it must actively take steps to ensure that they are conducted in a safe and prudent manner if exposure to liability for injuries and damages resulting there from is to be minimized," Pollard noted in his report to the superintendent.

In Plymouth the homecoming parade was held in the downtown area when the high school was located in the city (the building now occupied by Central Middle School).

SC bids as poetry leader with Gluck

Schoolcraft College is bidding to be in the "vanguard" of poetry by bringing in Louise Gluck for a reading at 8 this evening in the Waterman Campus Center.

Admission is free. The Waterman center is at the north end of the campus at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

"Although she isn't a household word yet, Gluck is a highly regarded poet, and this will be her first reading in Michigan," said Joanne Stein, Schoolcraft English instructor and advocate of poetry.

"Helen Vendler, whose book on poetry received a Pulitzer in the last round of prizes, devotes a chapter to her. She (Gluck) was read at Harvard, where her poetry was called 'unearthly.'"

Author of three volumes and recipient of many awards, Gluck, 38, lives in Vermont with her husband and young son. She has taught at Columbia University and the universities of Iowa, Virginia and North Carolina. She currently teaches at Goddard College.

Her appearance is sponsored by the college's Cultural and Public Affairs Series, of which Stein is a committee member.

"Poets were once the light-bearers of their civilizations," Stein argues. "They were not only heard, but highly esteemed."

"I'd like to establish a reputation for Schoolcrat for bringing in major poets, albeit once a year."

Twenty minutes now can save you valuable heating oil for years to come.

We know you've been working hard at saving heating oil. And doing a good job, too. But there's one more thing you can do. It's free.* And it'll pay off for years to come. Call us for the Fuel Saver Analysis. We're the Energy Experts, specially trained in the field of fuel efficiency. In just 20 minutes—without taking anything apart—we'll do a Mobil Fuel Saver Analysis. Free.* Even if you think your heating system is working fine, it may be failing in four key fuel efficiency tests. These tests will tell you if you're losing too much heat up the chimney, indicate the exact quality and efficiency of your fuel combustion, and evaluate your draft setting for maximum efficiency.
In short, the Mobil Fuel Saver Analysis will tell you if you're wasting valuable heating oil. And the analysis is free.* Those 20 minutes now could save you many gallons of fuel in the years to come. So add one more call to the list of things you're doing to conserve heating oil. Call the Energy Experts today for more information on the Mobil Fuel Saver Analysis.

Campaign opens here on Oct. 8

The campaign for Plymouth City Commission is expected to open next Thursday when the first candidates' night is held by the Plymouth Jaycees.

The Jaycees have scheduled the meet the candidates night to begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 8, in the in the Plymouth Cultural Center at Theodore and Farmer.

Because they Jaycees don't hold candidate forums each year, they are making special efforts to make residents aware of Thursday's session.

This weekend club members will be going door-to-door in the city's various neighborhoods distributing some 2,000 flyers.

William Joyner, a Wayne County Commissioner whose district includes Plymouth, is project chairman for the Jaycees for the candidates night.

Another candidates forum will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 20, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in commission chambers of Plymouth City Hall at Church and Main.

The Oct. 20 forum is sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Novi.

Seven persons are running for four seats on the commission. Three will be elected to four-year terms and one to a two-year term.

The candidates are commission incumbents Mark Wehmeyer, Jack Kenyon and David Pugh and challengers Marda Benson, Greg Green, Dorothy Frid and William Robinson.

Incumbents who are not up for election this year are Eldon Martin, Karl Gansler and Ron Loiselle.

The city commission will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

County auction to be Oct. 10 in Pontiac

What do Pontiac LeMans autos, GMC pickups, 60 pieces of office furniture and rowboats have in common?

All will be auctioned by Oakland County Oct. 10 at the County Service Center, 1200 N. Telegraph, Pontiac.

Some of the items are surplus county property. Others were stolen, recovered by the sheriff's department and never reclaimed.

Gates will open at 8 a.m. for viewing, and the sale begins at 10 a.m., according to Joseph Hylla of the purchasing division. The vehicles may be inspected Thursday and Friday preceding the auction.

The property includes: 37 late models autos, incuding the Lemans, Venturas, Catalinas and Chevrolet Impalas; several pickups and vans; such office furniture as desks, chairs and credenzas; more than 30 office machines, including typewriters and calculators; rowboats and pedal boats.

Revolution at work: All want greater choice

Editor's Note: This is the first of 15 articles on "Working: Changes and Choices." The series was written for Courses by Newspaper, a program of the University of California, San Diego, with funding from the National Endowment for the Humanities. © 1981 by the Regents of the University of California.

By James O'Toole
special writer

James O'Toole is associate professor of management in the Graduate School of Business at the University of Southern California, where he is also director of the Twenty Year Forecast Project in the Center for Futures Research. As special assistant to the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, he was principal author of the HEW Secretary's Task Force reprot, "Work in America."

When their alarms ring each weekday, 100 million American workers routinely answer the unwelcome call, drag themselves from bed, and prepare for eight hours of purposeful activity — activity that seem so natural that few workers bother to analyze it.

Working seems simply to be a necessary part of life, much like borning and dying, eating and sleeping. It all seems so natural: You spend the first five years of your life in play, the next 15 or so in formal schooling, all in preparation for 45 years of working, for which you are rewarded (if you are fortunate) with 10 to 15 healthy years of retirement.

Even the kind of work you do might appear part of the natural order of things.

Historically, middle-class sons went to college and pursued professional or managerial carreers, while their sisters stayed home and reared children, or worked as secretaries or teachers.

Working-class sons and daughters followed their parents into factories or onto the farms and construction sites.

And the children of the poor? They, too, were always with us, poor (and often unemployed) like their parents.

SUCH PATTERNS seemed so natural -- until recently.

Now, many Americans of both sexes and of every age, class, color, and occupation appear unwilling to accept 1) the historical divisions of labor in society, 2) the traditional divisions of the times of our lives and 3) the basic assumptions we have held about what is natural in the institution of work.

This "revolutionary" questioning is creating profound consequences for the economy and for the individuals who work in America.

What is most remarkable about this revolution in work attitudes is that it is non-ideological. It is a revolution that could occur only in a pluralistic, democratic, affluent, capitalist society It is a revolution whose only common denominator is the demand for greater choice.

AMERICAN WORKERS may not know what they want from work or life, but they are clear about what they do not want. They don't want to feel constrained by tradition, by the absence of alternatives, or by limitations on their exercise of options.

Consider some of the many ways Americans are attempting to exercise choice at work:

Greater numbers are working part-time, flextime, or at home in their spare time. Instead of staying in one job, many Americans are changing jobs in mid-career, and many more are punctuating work with periods of formal education.

Women are demanding "men's" jobs. Blacks want equal access to professions once reserved mainly for whites. Some people are refusing to retire at age 65, and others are choosing to retire before 65.

On the job, many young workers are demanding, and in some cases getting, participation in decision-making. Off the job, many poor people are choosing welfare checks over low-level employment.

EVERYWHERE there are change and flux in the world of work. Such a revolution is difficult to fathom, for it belies generalization and eludes the categorization with which social scientists attempt to make sense of social change.

Indeed, after 30 years of trying to develop a single theory to explain the values, needs and motivations of workers social scientists in the late 1970s admitted that what is important to understand about American workers is their diversity. There are many reasons why people work, many rewards they derive from working and many sources of discontent.

We can no longer agree with the ancient Greeks that work is unfit for free men and women, or with the Hebrews who saw work as Adam's curse, or with Luther who saw work s the best way of serving God, or with Marx who thought that workers would find utopia in work once they were freed from capitalistic "exploitation."

No, many Americans have now concluded that there is no intrinsic meaning to work. Rather, each worker attempts to infuse his or her own work with some personal meaning.

In effect, when the alarm sounds in the morning, each of us answers it (or fails to answer it) for a unique combination of reasons.

WE WORK for economic reasons: the poor to pay for the bare necessities of life, most Americans to pay their mortgages and to buy things for their kids, and the truly affluent to pay for tape decks, mineral water and the little luxuries of life as well.

And some people — such as amateur but skilled painters, playwrights, and artisans — take paid jobs to allow them to pursue their real vocations in their "leisure" time.

We work for social reasons. For most Americans, work is where we make friends. In a world where extended families, neighborhoods and churches are diminishing sources of community, workers look forward to socializing with their coworkers.

We work for psychological reasons. Workers often take their identities from jobs, saying, "I am a carpenter" or "I am a nurse." Many derive satisfaction and self-esteem from their work, particularly if it has some elements of creativity or autonomy.

Some people seek only security from work, while others seek self-realization. Some live for their families and use work only to support their spouses and children, while others use work to escape from upleasant domestic situations.

IN TRUTH, we all have our own complex of work values, attitudes, needs and desires. Moreover, these are likely to change over time.

For example, when Ted Kramer graduates form college, he may want an exciting, seven-day-a-week, 12-hour-a-day job — like managing a large advertising account. But 10 years later, Ted might be a divorced, single parent who wants to work six-hours-a-day, five-days-a-week in order to spend more time with his child.

Or take Ted's wife. At one stage in her life she may wish to pursue a career; later, she might wish to combine having a family with having a job — an increasingly frequent desidre in our brave new post-industrial world

INDEED, OURS is the first society ever to offer its members such a choice about when, where, how, with whom and under what conditions they will work.

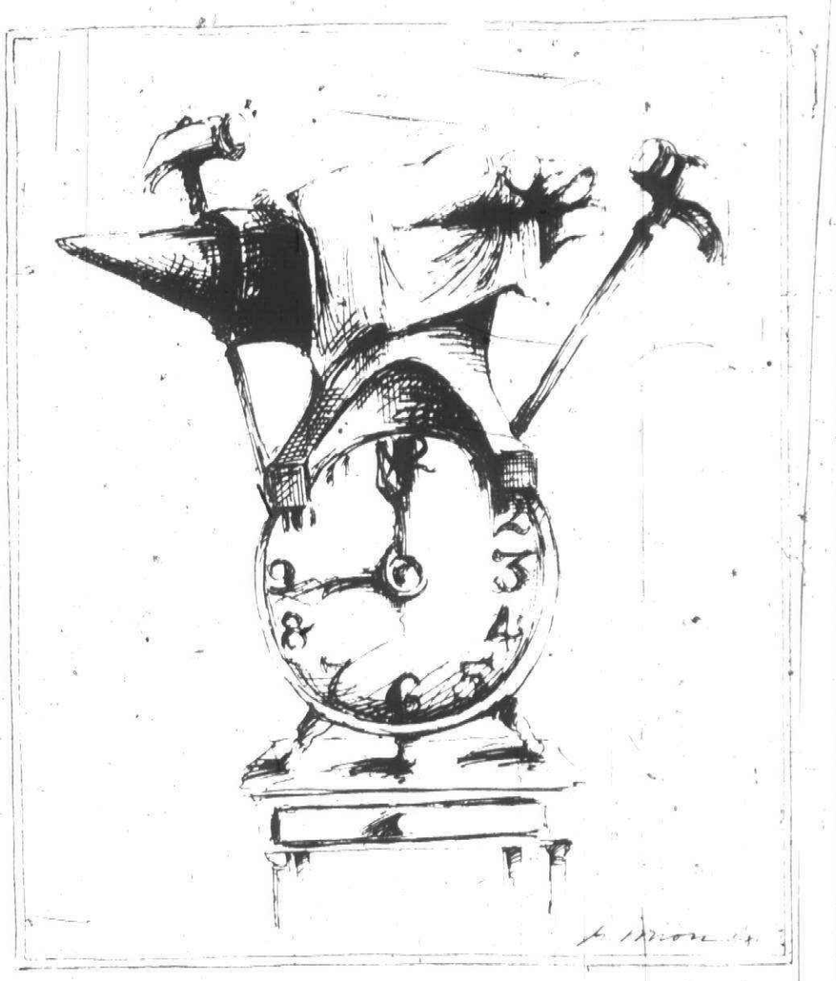

No society has ever been so affluent, so simultaneously committed to equality and freedom, and so concerned with fairness for individuals that it could or would seriously respond to the real differences in their wants and needs.

But as just and responsive as such a society may be, it is also replete with anxiety and conflict. Choice creates discontent, for example, when we must choose between two good things, such as work and family roles; or when we must choose between the security of our current but unfulfilling job and the risk of mid-career change.

In effect, American workers have traded the routine and predictable patterns of traditional worklife for a dynamic world of change and choice.

The views expressed in Courses by Newspaper are those of the authors, and do not necessarily reflect those of the University of California, the National Endowment for the Humanities, or this newspaper.

Next week: Robert Schrank, a Ford Foundation officer who was formerly a plumber and machinist, discusses "What Work Means to a Blue-Collar Worker."

Malpractice expert at Schoolcraft Oct. 6

Sol E. Goldberg, Southfield attorney who specializes in medical malpractice and injury law, will speak at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Schoolcraft College's Waterman Campus Center.

An attorney for 28 years, Goldberg was recently publicized for winning a jury award of $500,000 in the death of an unborn child.

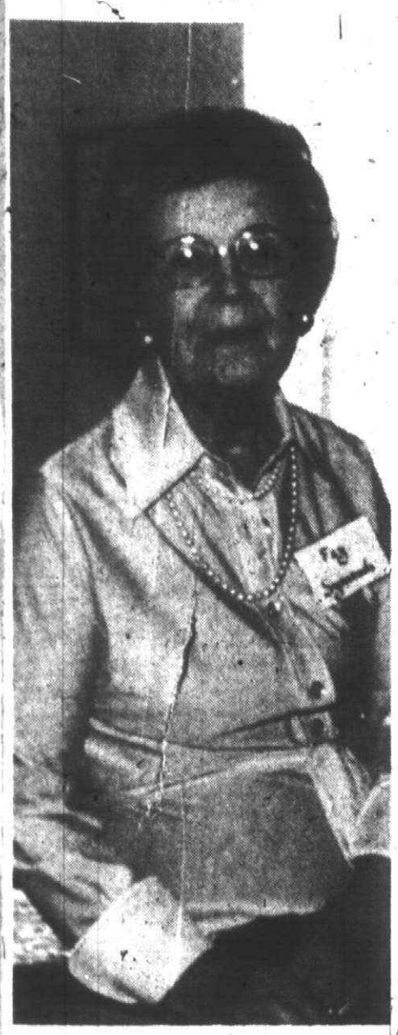

Although patients have rights, Goldberg contends many suits are filed which have no significant claim, and many are never filed which involve negligence on the parts of doctors and hospitals.

His lecture, part of the community college's Cultural and Public Affairs Series, is free. It will be followed by a question and answer session.

The Waterman center is at the north end of the campus at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. Persons attending the lecture are asked to park in the north lot and enter by the southeast door on Chippewa Drive.

Open house at the manor

About 500 persons attended the open house Sunday at Tonquish Creek Manor in Plymouth to officially dedicate the 48-unit addition to the senior citizen apartments. As part of the festivities, some senior citizens opened their apartments for public viewing. Ceremonies were held and refreshments were served. One of the hostesses was Fay Symonds (at left) who is a retired worker from AMC who moved in six weeks ago. Above Karen Govan (left) of Farmington has coffee and sweets with her mother, Rita Donnelly (standing), and her aunt, Mary McInerney.

"WE INVESTED IN THE ALL SAVERS CERTIFICATE AND WE'LL EARN UP TO $2,000 IN TAX-FREE INTEREST."

Now, you can keep the interest you earn! Thanks to the All Savers Act which is part of President Reagan's tax package, every American is now eligible for tax-free savings certificates.

RESERVE YOUR ONE YEAR ALL SAVERS TAX-FREE CERTIFICATE TODAY.

It will earn the highest rate of interest allowed by law on this type of account. It will yield an interest rate equal to 70% of the prevailing rate on one year Treasury Bills. (See below for current rate.) You start earning tax-free interest the day you buy the certificate.

YOU WONT HAVE TO PAY TAX ON UP TO $2000 OF INTEREST INCOME.

At last you're free from federal or state income taxes! The first $2,000 of interest you earn annually from the certificate is tax-free on a joint return. ($1,000 on an individual tax return.) These are once-in-a-lifetime exemptions, regardless of your total investment in the certificate or the amount earned.

THE ONE YEAR ALL SAVERS TAX-FREE CERTIFICATE IS AFFORDABLE FOR EVERYONE.

The certificates are available for as little as $500 or in any larger denomination of your choice. And, your money is safe. Certificates are insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC, a U.S. Government agency. Money Market Certificates may be converted into a All Savers Certificate without an early withdrawal penalty. Stop in at any Down River Federal Savings office and find out how to take full advantage of this new tax break.

The chart below shows how the All Savers Tax-Free Certificate will perform compared to ordinary taxable investments.

EQUIVALENT TAXABLE RATE FOR TAXABLE INCOME

The current All Savers Tax-Free yield is	TAXABLE INCOME SINGLE	TAXABLE INCOME JOINT	EQUIVALENT TAXABLE INTEREST RATE (%)
12.61* PERCENT	$10,000		15.96
		$20,000	16.59
	$20,000		19.11
		$40,000	22.12
	$30,000		22.52
	$40,000	$60,000	24.73
	$50,000		28.02

*Effective October 1 thru October 2, 1981
(New rate will be available on Monday, October 5, 1981)
Interest penalty and loss of tax exemption for early withdrawal of the All Savers Certificates.

To earn $2,000 of tax free interest at this rate, a couple filing a joint return would need a deposit of $15,860.43.
To earn $1,000 of tax free interest at this rate, an individual would need a deposit of $7,930.22.

Law seeks to shorten school busing yardstick

Special legislation has been introduced in Lansing concerning the measurements taken to determine whether students must be bused to school.

The legislation, House Bill 4978, would change the way the route to school is measured, said Plymouth Supt. of Schools Dr. John M. Hoben. The bill would allow sidewalks and public pathways to be included in the measurement.

State law provides that persons living 1.5 miles or more from school must be bused, while those living within that limit will walk.

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools makes certain exceptions (referred to as "safety busing") to the state limit, including that children in grades K-3 living one mile or more from school will be bused.

This year the determination of who should be bused has been changed by a state attorney general's ruling which stated the 1.5-mile distance should be measured from the front entrance of the school to the student's house.

In recent years Plymouth-Canton officials have not included in measuring the 1.5 miles the distance of paths or sidewalks leading from major roads or from subdivisions into a school site.

When the attorney general's office said pathways must be measured, Plymouth-Canton and other school districts asked the Michigan Legislature to amend current law to allow the distance of the path to be included.

Besides Plymouth-Canton, the change also was requested by the Livonia, Warren and Utica school districts.

The change was part of the proposed bill, which passed the House last week and is expected to come up on the floor of the Senate next week for a vote.

MONDAY NIGHT David Artley of Canton objected to the school board during citizens comments' that information on the House Bill was given to the trustees but not made public.

Artley complained the board was leaving the public in the dark and making decisions without giving residents a chance to make their views known before final recommendations come to the board for action.

Hoben said information on the bill was furnished to the board only for information, and no action would be taken by trustees. Anyone is entitled to a copy of the bill, he added.

Dennis Farkas of Canton, speaking for Parents After Safety for Students (PASS), informed the board that his group was planning on drafting a set of standards on safety busing so the same criteria is applied districtwide.

Business workshops at Rackham

Courses and workshops designed to develop business and administrative skills begin this month sponsored by University Courses in Adult Education (WSU and UM).

All courses and workshops meet at the Rackham Memorial in the Cultural Center, Woodward and Warren, Detroit. For a brochure detailing these and other career-related learning experiences in computers, public relations and effective interaction, call Wayne State University, 557-4665.

One-day workshops include "Time Management" (Oct. 10), a "Professional Secretarial Seminar (Oct. 10), "Telephone Communication" (Oct. 22) and a workshop in writing memos and letters (Nov. 14).

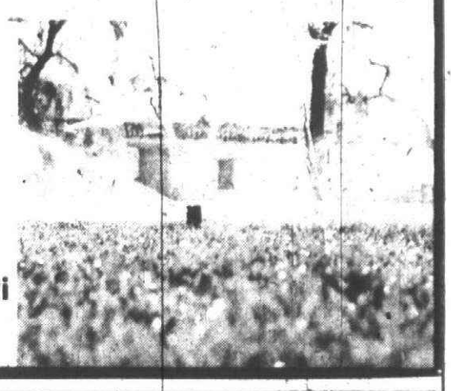

Workshops in Financial Analysis (Sept. 26) and Recordkeeping (Oct. 24) are designed for small business owners or managers and are co-sponsored by the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Courses in sentence structure and technical writing, as well as the workshops in letter/memo writing and telephone communication, are designed to improve the clarity, efficiency and effectiveness of written and spoken business communications.

has A FREE GIFT for You

8 x 10 Natural Color Portrait

At COMMUNITY Federal Credit Union WE TRY HARDER TO BE YOUR FINANCIAL FRIEND!
Quite often our certificate rates are substantially higher than those of our financial neighbors.
Example:
On Sept. 22-28, $10,000 earned 15.5% APR* at Community Federal Credit Union.
During that time, $10,000 earned 14.379% APR at S&Ls for the same term.
We'll pay you 6% APR on your checking account balances.

At the same time, COMMUNITY FEDERAL C.U. is busy making worthwhile loans to consumers and commerce in the Plymouth, Northville and Canton communities.
COMMUNITY Federal wants to be your financial friend.
Why not take advantage of our Free Gift to you and visit our main office at 500 South Harvey in Plymouth?
All savings and certificate deposits are federally insured to $100,000 by the National Credit Union Administration, a government agency.

This portrait offer is completely free. There are no hidden costs or conditions. You need not be a member to obtain your free portrait. Call 453-1200 on Oct. 7, 8, or 9 to make an appointment for your sitting. These sittings may be arranged for evenings or weekends, so that Dad can be there. (Limit one free portrait per family.)
In 30 days we may return for your free portrait. Your may purchase additional portraits at this time at special low prices, but there is no obligation to do so. All portraits will be ready in time for Christmas giving.

* Certificate penalties apply. Rate guaranteed for the term. Full disclosure presented prior to opening certificate.

Semifinalists for grants

Three students from Plymouth are among the nine seniors named as 1982 National Merit Corp. semifinalists at Catholic Central High School in Redford.

The semifinalists from Plymouth are: Thomas Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah HAyes, Michael Bahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bahn, and Paul Browne, son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard T. Browne of Plymouth.

National Merit semifinalists are picked on the basis of test scores from the previous fall and represent the top 15,000 scorers in the nation or the top one-half of 1 percent of the nation's senior class.

Students named semifinalists compete for about 5,000 scholarships to be awarded in the spring of 1982.

Save taxes, obtain a high yield with our new insured "All Savers" Account.

What is it?

It's a new way to save that offers "once-in-a-lifetime" tax benefits as well as high interest. What's more, you can open an account for just $500 minimum deposit and make additional deposits of $500 or more anytime.

The new "All Savers" Account will be offered by all of our banks between October 1, 1981, and December 31, 1982. Deposits are federally insured and have a maturity of one year.

How much interest does it pay?

Every four weeks the United States Treasury sells its 52-week (one-year) Treasury bills (T-Bills) at auction. "All Savers" Accounts pay a fixed rate equal to 70% of the average investment yield obtained at each auction. Thus the rate changes every four weeks. However, the rate in effect when you make each deposit is guaranteed for one year from the date of your deposit, and this same rate must be paid by all financial institutions. (For example, the annual interest rate through October 3 is 12.61%.)

Is all the interest tax exempt?

As an individual, up to $1,000 of your "All Savers" interest is exempt from federal income tax. And up to $2,000 if you file a joint return. These are "once-in-a-lifetime" exemptions, regardless of how much you invest or how much interest you earn. The tax benefit is available in any one year, or parts of it in different years through 1983 as interest is received.

Will an "All Savers" Account benefit me?

The tax exemption and the modest minimum deposit make the "All Savers" Account a profitable new way to save. However, the benefits are not the same for everyone. It's a matter of choice and an "All Savers" Account gives you another savings choice. We'll be glad to help you decide if it's the right choice for you.

There is a substantial penalty and loss of tax-exempt status for early withdrawals from any "All Savers" Account.

What if I already have a Money Market Certificate?

If you bank with us, you can convert the Money Market Certificate you have with us into an "All Savers" Account without any interest penalty anytime after October 1. Just bring in your certificate, and we'll handle everything for you. And remember, "All Savers" deposits are federally insured up to $100,000 and the "All Savers" interest rate is guaranteed for one year from the date each deposit is made.

Is it better than a Money Market Fund?

An "All Savers" Account offers many advantages no "investment fund" can match. The rate is guaranteed, your deposits are insured, and depending on your tax bracket, the after-tax yield could be better than any fund pays.

College considers tuition break for businesspeople

As Schoolcraft College reported a record enrollment, trustees are considering giving a tuition break to business people who own property in the college district but live outside it.

"We have competition from Henry Ford Community College and Wayne County Community College," said trustee Len Wozniak, who favored charging the lower resident tuition to non-residents who pay property taxes to the college district.

"It's discrimination against small business," he added.

"We have a big enrollment today," chimed in trustee Michael Burley, "but we might have to be more competitive later. At Wayne County Community College, their registration form asks only, 'Do you own property in Wayne County?'"

THE QUESTION arose last month when a non-resident professional with an office in the college district wondered why he had to pay non-resident tuition, which is almost double the tuition charged college district residents.

The Schoolcraft College District covers the K-12 districts of Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville, Plymouth-Canton and a corner of Novi.

Board Chairperson Harry Greenleaf referred the question to Interim President Edward V. McNally, whose administration recommended no change. Indeed, McNally saw some administrative problems with the proposed change.

"What do you do about the kids of (non-resident) property owners? How do you establish the principle source of income? What do you do about the absentee landlord?" McNally asked.

CURRENT COLLEGE policy is to charge local tuition to:

- "A resident student (who) is a bona fide, legal resident of the college district."
- Employees, no matter where there residence may be, whose tuition is paid by companies within the college district.

An administration survey showed that Henry Ford gave non-resident property owners "partial residential status" on tuition, and that WCCC charged resident tuition to any bona fide resident or property owner.

Police disarm man in family fight here

Plymouth police disarmed a Livonia man in his ex-wife's Hamilton Street home Monday afternoon where he threatened to kill her and himself.

Police spent almost two hours talking with the 41-year-old man, who police said was despondent over visitation rights involving his four children, now living in Plymouth with his ex-wife.

The man, who wielded a nine-inch kitchen knife in the assault, later was turned over to the Northville Regional Psychiatric Center for observation. He has been charged with felonious assault but no arraignment on the charge was planned until his release from the hospital.

HIS NAME was withheld pending the court hearing.

According to Lt. Henry Berghoff of the Plymouth police, the suspect, an unemployed carpenter, had his 38-year-old ex-wife cornered in the bathroom of the Hamilton Street apartment when police arrived about 2:30 p.m.

The couple had tussled in the presence of two of their children during an argument concerning custody of the children. The woman had been beaten and suffered a small cut to her left thumb.

During the fight, the woman had placed an aborted emergency phone call to police. The man had knocked the receiver out of her hand after she dialed the emergency number, said police.

POLICE WERE attempting to trace the call when the couple's 16-year-old daughter picked up the fallen receiver and completed the emergency call.

Upon police arrival, Berghoff attempted to calm the man and dissuade him from harming himself. Berghoff and Det.-Lt Ralph White talked with the man for almost two hours before White wrestled the knife from his hand.

Q&E

To see fall color best, get out of your car

By Lem Mesee

Where you take your fall color tour is less important than how you take it.

I feel sorry for the folks who rely on the Auto Club's fall color tour list: A 58-mile loop in the Keweenaw Peninsula, an 86-mile loop around Tagquamenon Falls, a 62-mile trek around Thunder Bay, a 58-mile jaunt toward Pinckney, 60 miles through the Irish Hills.

You get the feeling they're selling you on driving your car lots of miles rather than on seeing color.

THE BETTER way is to get out of your car and walk in the woods.

Look up. Look at light hitting the leaves, and then get underneath and look at light coming through the leaves. Smell the air and the dirt and the leaves.

Monte Nagler, our photo columnist, also believes in taking color tours close to home. Naturally, he takes a camera with him.

"I recommend Kodachrome 64 slide film," Monte told me as I prepared for a jaunt. "Remember, slides are viewed by transmitting light which will give you far more brilliant and vivid colors.

"Set the ASA dial at 80 or 100 to slightly deepend the colors," he added.

"Look for both the overall scene and the intimate closeup. An entire group of trees will present an overall interpretation of fall colors, but watch your backgrounds for tht telephone pole or other object that doesn't belong.

"Try shooting down from a high vantage point to capture patterns of colorful treetops."

Monte, too, likes closeup views.

"Try photographing an individual leaf against a blue sky background. Or, as the leaves begin to fall, look for patterns on the ground.

"That one brilliant yellow leaf standing out among the burnished orange and red leaves will make an exciting fall color picture.

"Use side lighting to maximize texture, and don't forget to set your camera at an aperture to give you enough depth-of-field. For closeups, your tripod will be invaluable."

FISHERMEN get some of the best views of fall colors.

The Four Seasons Family Fishing Club will hear Jim Moody talk about steelhead trout techniques at the next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 7 in the Concourse G community room of Livonia Mall, Seven Mile at Middlebelt.

The president of the Metro-West Steelheaders Club, Moody talk about stream fishin', tackle and tall tales, spiced with a little philosophy and humor.

Four Seasons is a family-oriented club and swaps information every meeting. Literature and refreshments are available if you drop in.

THE METROPARKS people say their nature centers have excellent trails on which to enjoy fall color. Usually there are groups of trails ranging in length from one-half mile to two miles.

Best spots, they say, are at Stony Creek northeast of Rochester, on the west side of Kensington south of Brighton, and in southern Wayne County at Oakwoods near Flat Rock.

Oakwoods Metropark has two nature center programs coming up:

"Basic Archeology" begins at 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 3. Naturalist Bob Wittersheim will highlight the 10,000-year Indian occupation of the Huron River Valley with an artifact collection. He will also demonstrate the principle of site exploration.

"Hello, Autumn" is a family nature walk beginning at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 4. Along the way, naturalist Gerry Wykes will talk about how Indians ground acorns and why some trees are red, yellow and gold instead of brown in fall.

Both programs are free, but you need to call the nature center at 697-8181 for a reservation. There's a park admission if you don't have an annual pass.

KENSINGTON nature center also has two fall programs this weekend:

"For Moms and Tots" starts at 10 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 3. Naturalist Julie Cerbus will take mothers and their 3- to 5-year-olds on a discovery trip through use of books, games and a short walk.

"Insect Preparation for Winter," a family nature walk, starts at 10 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 4. Ms. Cerbus will lead the 90-minute walk to search for insects and observe how they get ready for winter.

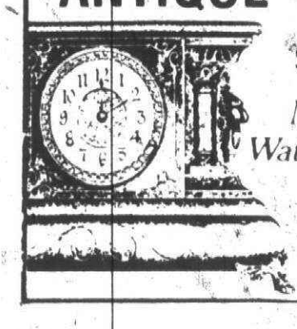

Both are free, but register in advance by calling the park office at 685-1561. There's a park admission if you don't have an annual metroparks pass.

Much as I like the metroparks, I don't use their nature trails often. Reason: Pets aren't permitted, and my black dog needs lots of exercise. We prefer the state forest land.

Which reminds me: This year's flea and tick population was the worst in recent memory, according to the Southeast Michigan Veterinary Medical Association.

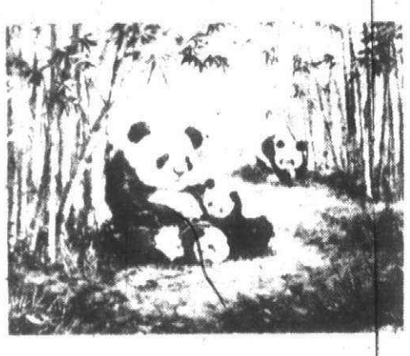

There are several steps you can take:

- Vacuum dog and cat bedding, doghouse cracks and rugs to remove flea eggs.
- Treat tick bite wounds with Bactine Merthiolate or Betadine solutions. Ticks are bloodsuckers and can make your pet weak. Pull off ticks by hand, slowly and steadily, so that mouth parts embedded in the skin aren't broken off.
- Use commercial flea powders, dips and sprays, and inspect your pet thoroughly.

Is purchasing 'farmland' good?

To the editor:

I was pleased to see the letter from Planning Commissioner Robert Shefferly in the papers recently, regarding the upcoming election on the purchase of "farmland" in Canton.

This issue has been around for several years now and only continues to cost us, the taxpayers, money. There are hidden tax dollars being used, because of all of the "small" studies conducted by the Township Board to see if it's "feasible" to purchase farmland.

Many, many hours have been spent on this topic. There was a deadline on May 31, 1981 that the people were supposed to give another indication (vote), which is now several months past this deadline. The Township Board is finally responsible for giving the people another chance.

Who wants another chance?

Why does the amount of farmland acreage keep changing? The first amount was over 7,000 acres. Then, 5,000 acres and now, who knows? The first cost determinations were over $20 million. Now we are down to $5 million.

When will the government wake up? It is sure nice to see open fields of corn and wheat. Many people moved here to share in the openness of Canton's natural surroundings. As long as someone else owns the property, we will look at its beauty. Is there a disguised plot here? Are you ready to pay to preserve these open areas?

This farmland issue started out as a means of growth control; many people will argue this point. Then, things were changed. The people involved disguised the issue as a means to help the farmer with his taxes and to insure no growth west of Canton Center Road. At the same time they are saying we, here in Canton, should be the pioneers in saving farmland.

Many Canton homeowners cannot sell their homes today if they wanted to. Inflation, high interest rates and an ever-increasing tax base face all of us. There will be very little building of homes west of Canton Center Road because of sewer capacity. We are limited. Just ask.

Just ask why the commercial and industrial tax base is not anywhere near 50 percent? An ideal split should be 50 percent residential, not 90 percent. Ask why your roads are not improved? Ask yourself if the government should be allowed to proceed with buying farmland?

An ad says, "Pay me now or pay me later" — it is my opinion that many other priorities should be considered first, and as much time and money should be spent on improving your tax base, not further spending.

What do you think?

Many came to dedication

To the editor:

It was not possible to thank each individual or group who contributed to the successful dedication of Tonquish Creek Manor on Sunday, Sept. 27.

During the course of construction and finalization of our new 48-unit addition many have given of their time, talents and support to allow us to realize the successful completion of our new senior housing.

To the more than 500 people who attended our dedication ceremonies we extend our sincerest thanks. This day would not have been complete without your participation.

Many helped Growth Works

To the editor:

I'm writing to express the sincere appreciation of Growth Works to the following area employers for their help in the vocational exploration (VEPS) component of our 1981 Title IV youth employment programs:

Frame Works; Jolex Boring; Plymouth Fire Department; Plymouth Community Crier; Gaffield Studio; Nawrot Pendleton Shop; Ford Motor Company, Sheldon Road Plant; Furniture Rejuvination; Northville State Police; Michigan Department of Agriculture; Michigan Department of Vocational Rehabilitation; and, Dr. Larry Sandler, D.D.S.

These employers have provided participants of our programs with work site visitations, which have gotten to be a very valuable supplement to our more academically oriented career education efforts.

Direct observation provides the students with a more realistic picture of the work environments that they hope to enter. The employers and their staff have been extremely helpful. Their knowledge and experience provide a welcome insight for the participants into their career interests.

Growth Works is a priyate, non-profit organization which provides, among other services, two youth employment programs. These programs are nine month efforts, focused on work experience, self-management, and employability skill development for 16- to 19-year-olds.

Once again, we would like to thank the employers mentioned above for their time and energy.

Forums say thanks a lot

To the editor:

This year, for the first time, the Plymouth Canton High and Plymouth Salem High executive forums had a booth at the Plymouth Fall Festival.

As this was our first year, we required a good deal of help. We would like to thank Joyce Tomlinson of Cloverdale Dairy. Her help and cooperation were of great assistance in making our booth a success. She took the time during the festival to assist us in whatever way she could.

We feel that we speak for the rest of the student council groups when we say how much we appreciate the merchants support during the Fall Festival. All of the classes have, to our knowledge, received tremendous help from local merchants. We would again like to thank Mrs. Tomlinson and all the local merchants who helped make this year's Fall Festival a success for us.

(Signed by Janet Markovits, David Callahan, Jill Wheaton and Ron King of Canton High's Executive Forum and by Paul Mills, Jim Armstrong, and Carla Jackson of Salem High's executive forum.)

Aid to exhibit

To the editor:

I wish to thank all for the splendid support given me by attending the Johnnie Crosby Watercolor Exhibit at the Frameworks. It was a wonderful vote of confidence, and I wish to express my appreciation.

Many of you have called to say you were sorry to miss the reception. The exhibit will continue through the month of October. All are invited.

Malpractice expert at SC

Sol E. Goldberg, Southfield attorney who specializes in medical malpractice and injury law, will speak at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Schoolcraft College's Waterman Campus Center.

An attorney for 28 years, Goldberg was recently publicized for winning a jury award of $500,000 in the death of an unborn child.

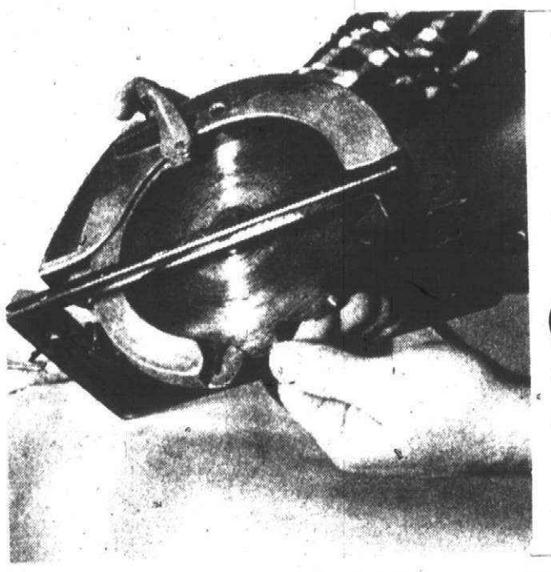

Although patients have rights, Goldberg contends many suits are filed which have no significant claim, and many are never filed which involve negligence on the parts of doctors and hospitals.

His lecture, part of the community college's Cultural and Public Affairs Series, is free. It will be followed by a question and answer session.

The Waterman center is at the north end of the campus at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. Persons attending the lecture are asked to park in the north lot and enter by the southeast door on Chippewa Drive.

Homecoming tradition should be reexamined

EVERY ONCE IN a while we need to examine our traditions to see if they still have merit.

One of the saddest justifications for anything is to say merely "that's the way it always has been done."

Tradition is the cement which holds societies together. But the continuation of tradition should be justified by the relevancy of the present age. At minimum, tradition should be measured up against the values of the present age to see if the original purposes are being met on whether they are even desired.

Consider the traditions of "homecoming" — the queen and her court, the floats and the parade, the clash of gridiron rivals, pep rallies, etc.

All these events had specific meanings shared by the majority of high school students and alumni during the 1950s. But what does homecoming mean to students and alumni in 1981?

THE QUESTION is asked because of a report from the school district's legal firm suggesting the legal liabilities were such that the school board should consider stopping the construction of homecoming floats.

The opinion results from a tragic in accident a year ago in which a student in Madison Heights was killed after falling off a float being transferred from someone's home to a school for the homecoming parade.

The school board, of course, does not have to stop the practice of building homecoming floats just because its attorneys are nervous about a potential for liability. But it is rough when a school board can be sued for negligence when it didn't have any involvement at all in the design, construction, or planning of a homecoming float.

The language of the attorney's advice (warning) is strong enough, though, that a review of homecoming floats probably will be made by the board.

And at that time, the board might well want to take a look at the entire homecoming event and decide if the queen and her court practice is relevant for the present age.

In fact, the board has appointed a citizens committee as part of its 12x12x12 advisory system to explore extra-curricular activities and make recommendations. A study of homecoming by that committee seems in order.

BEYOND THE narrow legal question of a district's liability in construction and transportation of floats, the committee should consider how important it is to have a queen "reign" at homecoming.

The feminist movement has drastically changed society's attitude since the 1950s, and the ideas of that movement certainly has influenced the classes of 1981, '82, '83, '84, etc.

Is it really that important to select the "prettiest, most beautiful, charming" girl in the senior class to be homecoming queen? Does anybody's heart throb anymore when the captain of the football team hands the queen a bouquet of roses and places a delicate kiss on her cheek?

In recent years we have observed a lessening of interest from the student body in selecting a queen and her court. A couple of years ago a message was sent out, but maybe not received, when the students nominated a male for homecoming queen.

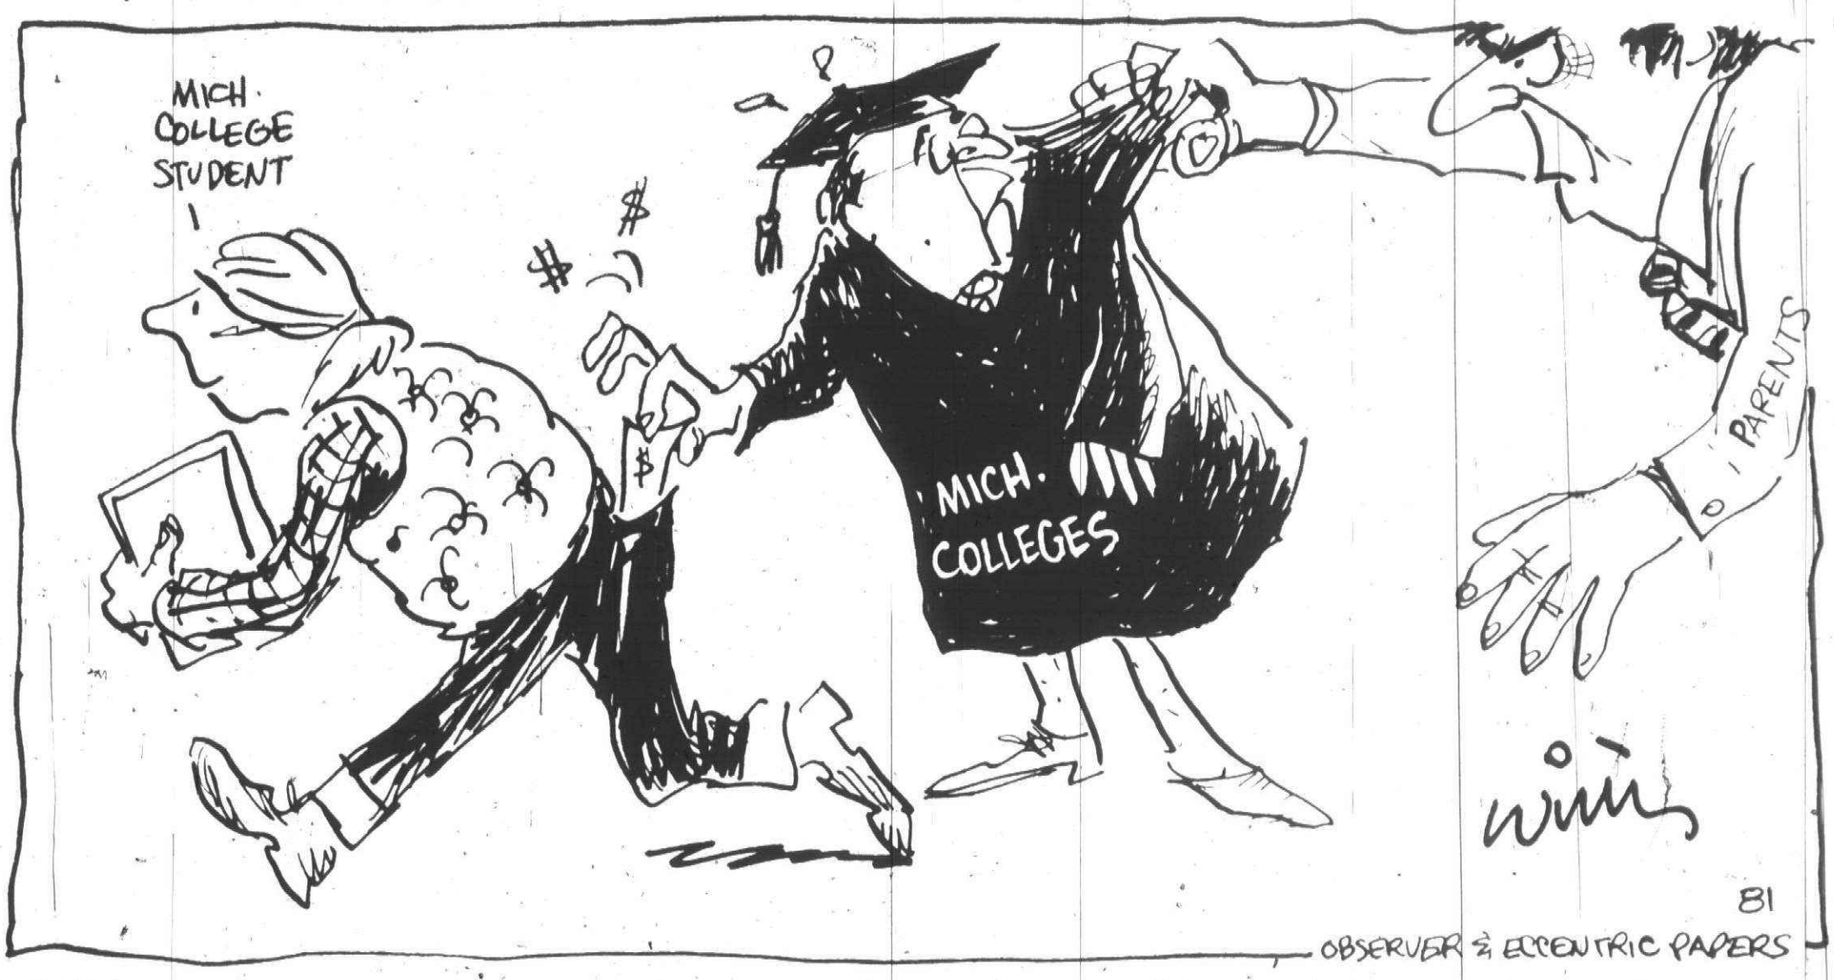

This year, and in recent years, only about 10 percent of the student body even bothers to vote for the queen and her court. That kind of participation indicates that interest is waning in this tradition.

There is nothing particularly wrong with stubbornly hanging onto all of the homecoming traditions if somebody wants to do that, but a re-examination of the whole scene would be healthy.

A couple of years ago homecoming was changed to introduce a field day concept featuring some games and rivalaries between the classes during the homecoming week. The activities involved large numbers of students and added a new flair to a dying tradition.

Maybe the idea of class rivalries, or silly games involving all the students, should be reintroduced. There probably are a number of other creative suggestions by the advisory committee which could be made to awaken an interest in homecoming.

Homecoming itself is great and should be continued. We might do better, though, with novel ways of celebrating homecoming. Let's take a look before the fall of 1982.

Tim Richard

Some good comes out of Tisch

My colleagues and I have never hesitated to kick around Bob Tisch when we thought he was wrong, which in 1978 and 1980 was most of the time. It was nothing personal. His Tisch I and Tisch II tax cut plans were just plain bad medicine for the state, and voters were wise to reject them.

Tisch III is something else.

The latest petition drive for a constitutional amendment is aimed not at taxes but at the body which levies the taxes and appropriates the money — the Michigan Legislature.

He proposes to make it a part-time legislature, as are the lawmaking bodies of 45 other states. He makes some good points.

Tisch's own name is not on a tax cut plan this year. That job has been picked up by an associate, Dick Jacobs. The Jacobs plan has one important merit. It would put a limitation on such fees as tuition and licenses which our leaders are raising skyhigh.

THE LEGISLATURE, under Tisch III, would be limited to 90 working days in a year. By his calculations, as revealed in a speech in Westland last week, that would run to about the third week of May.

It used to be that the Michigan Legislature passed the budget, its main reason for existence, by April. Today, the process drags out to summer or later. We have even pushed the beginning of the fiscal year back from July 1 to Oct. 1.

A lawmaker would be paid $100 a day, but only if he or she answered roll call. Here, even Tisch is going easy on them. I have watched one particular senator consistently answer roll and then disappear for two or three hours, returning only late in the session.

Even in a year-long session, the Legislature manages to let bills pile up and then push through dozens or even hundreds in the final few days. That, you'll recall, is how they slipped through those two amendments to gut the Open Meetings Act last December.

So it's not correct to counter-argue that the Legislature would be rushed if it had to do its work in 90 days instead of 364. The ramrod technique is already being used.

THE BIGGEST argument against Tisch III is that only well-to-do people and fellows like union business agents could afford to run.

Tisch thinks he has the answer. Service in the Michigan Legislature would be like service in the Michigan National Guard. Your employer would have to let you off, and he'd have to give you your old job back on five days' notice when the session is ended.

There's one other little gem Tisch has come up with. A legislator answering roll call 80 percent of the time would get a bonus of $90 a week for the remainder of the year.

The Shiawassee County drain commissioner has never himself served in the Legislature. In fact, he was defeated in a 1975 bid for his county board of commissioners. Thus, he may not know all the answers to what's wrong in Lansing. But at this point, his proposal seems to have merit.

TISCH III would cut the Legislature's operating funds by 40 percent. With that money, the lawmakers pay research staff and propagandists who crank out radio tapes, TV film clips and "newsletters" to send to the media back home.

Those newsletters wouldn't be so bad if the lawmakers ever told you how they voted. Most of the time, they use their propaganda to toot their own horns, not really to inform us of what they are doing.

The upshot is that many legislators have been using public money to campaign 52 weeks a year and cement themselves into office.

How state will survive the 'trickle'

Get out a pen and mark this day on your calendar.

Call it what you may — D-Day, Zero Hour, the Deliverance, Apocalypse, Now — but chances are you'll remember Oct. 1, 1981, as the first day of the "New Federalism."

No matter how you feel about Ronald Reagan's economic philosophy, his policies will change the way you live and, just as importantly, how you feel about government.

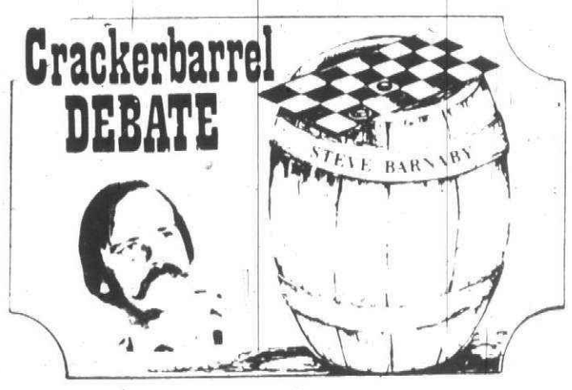

Actually, the president's brand of federalism is something more akin to states' rights Jeffersonianism than to Alexander Hamilton's central government federalism.

And the timing for such a rapid switch in government philosophy couldn't be worse for Michigan, which already is in bad economic shape.

In short, Reagan's policy would be grand if the state coffers were bulging, the auto industry was booming, unemployment was at 4 percent and Bob Tisch was not out drumming up support for a part-time state government.

For the first time in 50 years, state and local government, which a humble few understand, will have unprecedented power over how you will live.

Unfortunately, the "trickle-down" theory advocated by the new conservatism is heavy on promises and light on the money allowed to fulfill the promises.

SUBURBAN COMMUNITIES with populations of 50,000 or less will only be able to avail themselves of $1 billion in community development money only after meeting near impossible conditions.

First, the state must agree to pitch in 10 percent of their share in matching funds — an unlikely move for a state with few bucks to spare.

After conquering that unlikely barrier, the cities still would have to compete for the money. Only then could Mr. and Mrs. Local Councilmember use their "local initiative."

So count out that money for Michigan taxpayers.

Nearly $95 million for health preservation and services will be spread over nine programs, including those addressing such problems as rape crisis centers, hypertension, emergency medical services and rodent control.

Naturally, local governments who want to pay for these programs themselves always are welcome. Where that money will come from will remain a mystery.

Community health care centers will get a cut of federal money only if states agree to match 20 percent of the cost.

Forget that.

In education, 33 programs have been consolidated under one block grant, paid for with $589 million over which thousands of communities around the nation will be forced to fight.

SYMBOLICALLY, the last Johnson administration "war on poverty" program — the Community Services Administration — will be put to rest today. Its function has been to serve the poor. Its $354 million will be given to the states, which are required to pass 90 percent of that money to local governments.

For certain the New Deal, New Frontier and the Great Society are history — so is the country, which at one time cared enough to care for others.

'Tailgating' takes on new splendor

W.W. Edgar

Now that the sun has crossed the equator and we are in what the learned call the autumnal equinox, Mother Nature is preparing for her annual show of color and the leaves are turning to gold.

As the colorful spectacle takes place, folks are setting their minds on short trips to such places as the Irish Hills. Others with more time will head for northern Michigan, not satisfied until they reach Copper Harbor, the northernmost point in the state.

The Stroller admits to enjoying the beauty of it all. But while the color of the woods is something few artists could paint, it is not the most fascinating to him.

THE MOST unusual scene these autumn days is in Ann Arbor, where Michigan Stadium is the centerpiece of what has come to be a tradition.

The tradition is called "tailgating." The name is derived from the fact that years ago folks came to Michigan football games in small trucks and station wagons with tail gates and trunk covers which opened downward. These were used as tables or a shelf on which sandwiches were placed along with coffee urns and cups.

It started as a simple way to avoid patronizing crowded concessions around the stands and was a break from the traditional hot dog.

Today tailgating has grown to the point where it has become a real event preparatory to the football game.

No longer does one see the tail gate on small trucks. Instead folks have perfected tailgating to a science. It is not unusual to walk down the parking area in the rear of the Crisler Arena and see parties with small charcoal stoves, folding tables and all that goes with the old-fashioned picnic.

It is not uncommon to see middle-aged persons — old grads perhaps with maize and blue berets — sitting in chairs around the tables and feasting prior to kickoff.

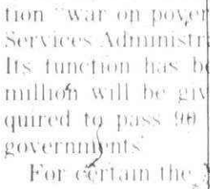

Unlike the old-time picnics, these scenes feature women cooking meals on charcoal stoves and setting up salad bars with delicacies that would do justice to many fine restaurants.

THE WALK offers you a chance to see many top executives of the auto industry; men of wealth and the top legal minds, munching sandwiches. It is common to see Lee Iacocca, chairman of Chrysler Corp., and his staff join in the fun.

Another favorite sight is to visit the Leo Calhoun van by Crisler Arena. Each Saturday, he plays host to about 300 people, and they are not all his Ford customers. In fact, his head waiter is Dick Wakefield, the former Tiger outfielder.

Not far away, you will find Mel Grozko, the big-time bowling proprietor with his van and a long table set up that would do justice to any eating establishment. You will be able to dine on fried chicken, hot baked beans and several other dishes while waiting to climb to your seat in the stands.

Nature has many wonderful color scenes in fall, but there is nothing more fascinating than the tailgating people scene around the rim of Michigan Stadium on a football Saturday.

discover Michigan

Bill Stockwell

Did you know you didn't have to be rich to be a landholder in Michigan in the last century? William Thurber came out N. Woodward in the early 1800s and purchased land which became the first recorded land entry in that area. He paid $1.25. You could be the owner of 5,000 to 6,000 acres of land for the price of a typical new car today.

Face to face with Thor in the Land of Thunder

Last of three articles on a trip to the Arctic Circle.

Monte Nagler

This was the day. I had been eagerly anticipating it for a long time. Today we would journey to Mount Thor.

Seven miles of some of the world's roughest terrain lay before us including steep sand dunes, boulder-filled moraines, glacial creeks and expanses of wet, mossy tundra.

Hastily we left camp, our footspteps keeping pace with the excited beating of our hearts. We reached a steep moraine and began to climb. Each upward step caused Thor to loom larger and closer.

Finally, we reached the top, rounded a large boulder pile, and stood facing Thor full length. There it was, six miles distant, fully exposed, formidable, awesome. No skyscraper man might ever erect could equal in stature this remarkable structure of nature. For millions of years Mount Thor has towered here, yet this moment, this meeting between Thor and me, frozen by my camera, will remain embedded in my mind forever.

FORWARD WE pushed, Thor always in view. Toward evening, the tip once again glowed gold, beckoning us like a lighthouse beacon. At its base, across the river, we made camp, weary from a long day's hike yet glad to have arrived safely.

We stayed at Thor for four days. There was much to see and photograph. We were situated deep in the valley at a wide bend in the river. Every day low clouds would sweep up the pass, pushed by constant winds. The clouds' shapes would change as they encased the mountains in a sharp contrast of billowy soft and granite hard.

Fortunately, the river was wide where it separated us from Thor's base. There were constant rockslides, day and night, each accompanied by the roar of thunder. It was as if Thor was challenging our right to be here.

The river, normally cold and inhospitable, served as a welcome barrier between us and the danger of these incessant avalanches.

IN SUCCEEDING days we covered a lot of territory and photographed a wide variety of subjects.

We shot many waterfalls in the area as they tumbled out of low hanging clouds and mist. Gathering momentum, they looked like gyrating ribbons in the wind as they plummeted into the waiting river below.

Frequent rains couldn't deter us. By shooting from the tent door or using a poncho as a protective cover over the camera, we obtained many dramatic photographs.

The abundance of plant growth was a pleasant surprise. Creeping willow and dwarf birch grew plentifully, hugging the ground, their roots penetrating only a few centimeters into the frozen earth.

Vast fields of soft tussock were like spongy, plush carpet and gave our feet temporary relief from the hard rock until an unfriendly patch decided to suck us in up to our knees.

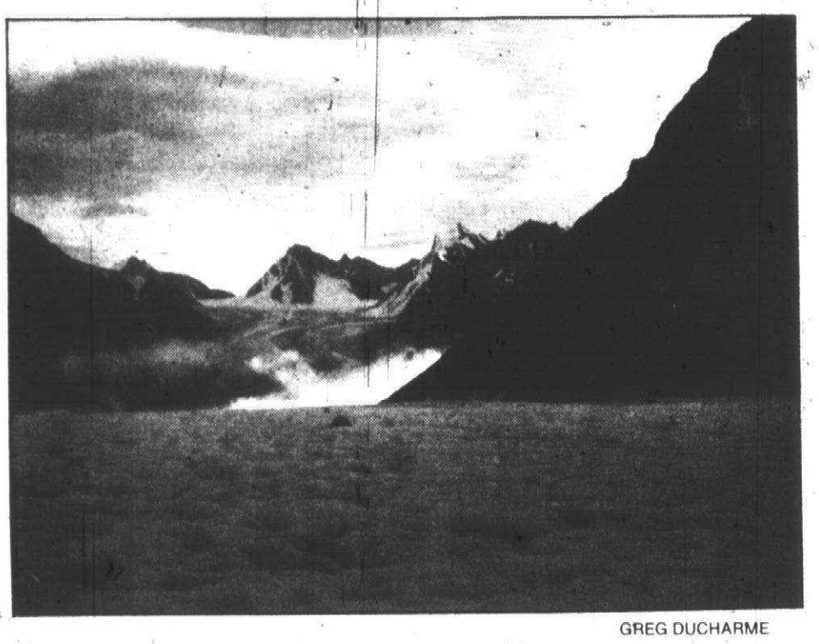

Flowers such as Arctic poppy, buttercups and winter green added a dash of color to the landscape. Sections of cotton grass seemed to defy the fact that we were really in the Arctic. Many Arctic plants demand summer's 24 hours of daylight throughout their reproductive cycle and will not flourish in a more southerly climate.

FINALLY, THE time came to head home. As we had entered this vast land, we retraced our steps, bodies weary, but minds and spirits enriched. Behind us, I oculd hear Thor thunder a farewell.

What great and lasting adventure I had experienced. Never before have I felt such such an awareness of the earth and its elements. Never have I experienced such a oneness with nature.

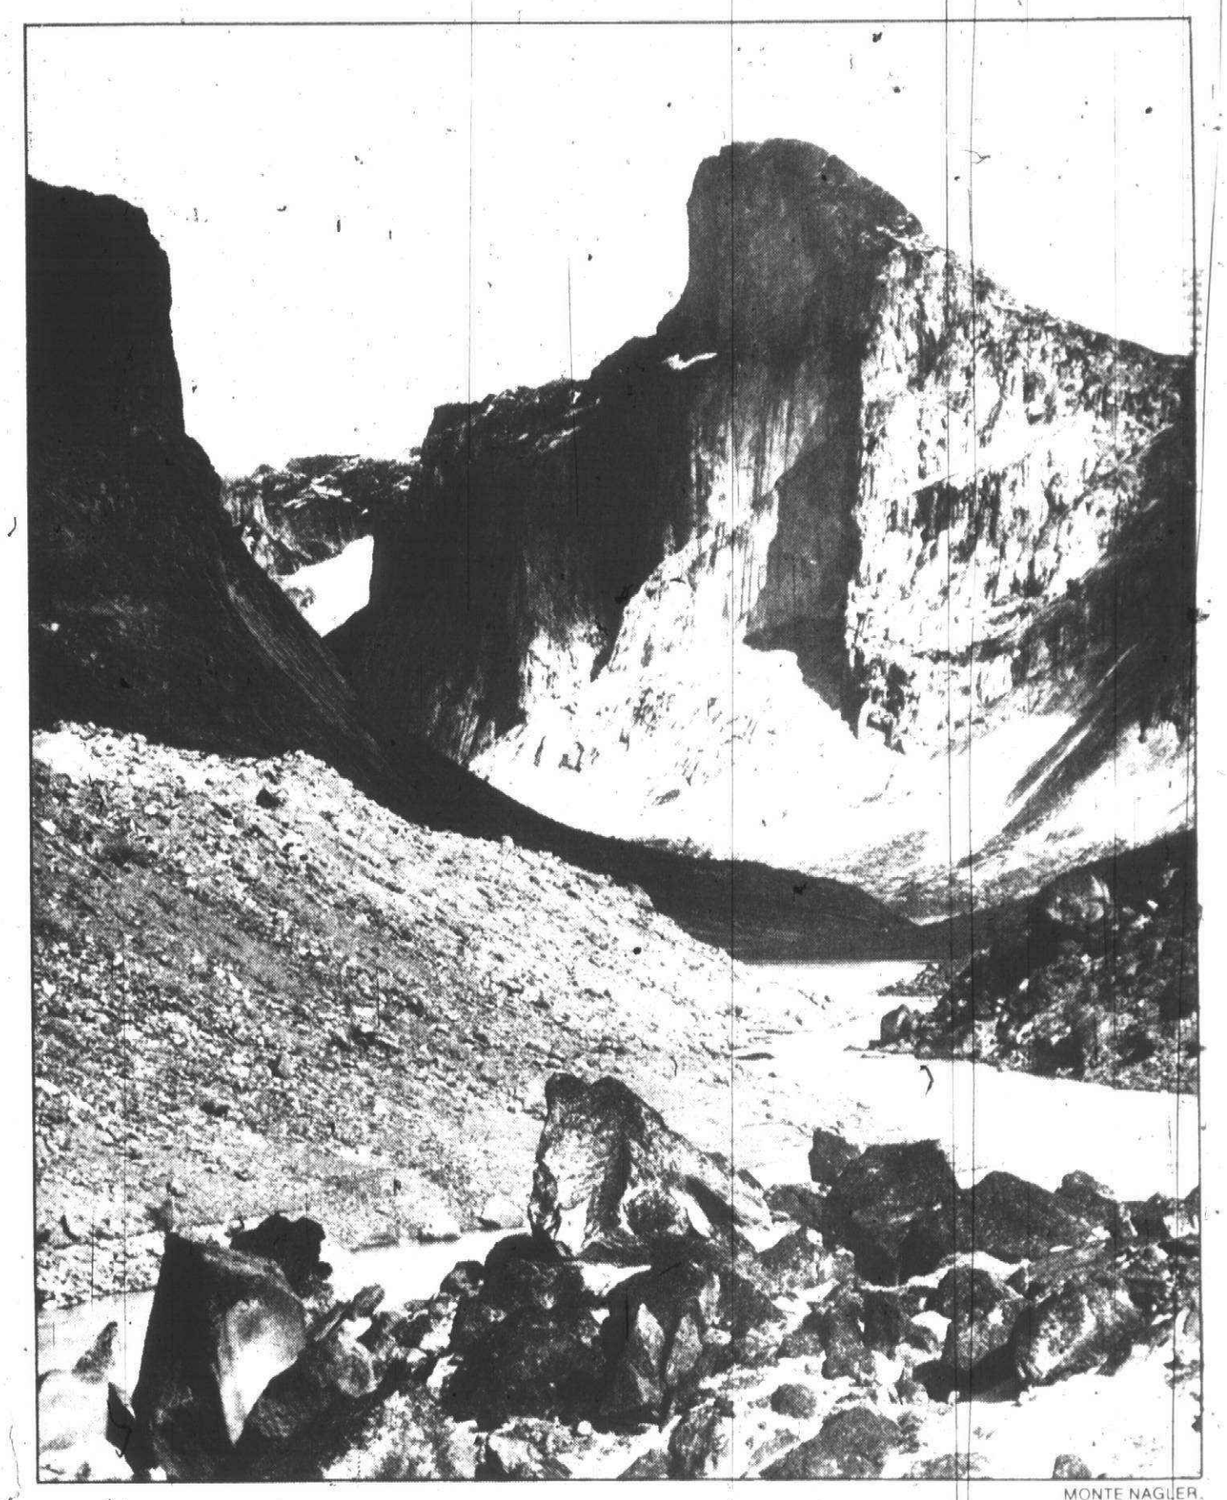

It made the ruggedness and danger of the trip worthwhile and pointed out to me the irony of all great adventures: The more difficult the environment, the more intense the thrill, the harder the challenge, and the more it means to be alive.

1981, Monte Nagler

SOME EXCITING NEWS FROM THE GRASSAM CHIROPRACTIC LIFE CENTER DURING THESE FINANCIALLY DIFFICULT TIMES

MEDICARE PATIENTS

For many of our patients 65 and over, it is a time of retirement they've looked forward to and dreamed about for years, and it is my opinion our senior folks have been left unprotected in many instances. What a poor way to treat the very people we should be thanking for their lifetime of contributions towards our country, schools and churches. The senior citizens I've come in contact with aren't looking for charity or some kind of hand out. They just want a chance to live a life of dignity and I certainly believe they've earned that right!
For the month of October, the Grassam Chiropractic Life Center will show its appreciation of today's senior citizens.

All Medicare Deductible Fees will be waived — both Annual and Regular Office Visits.

There will be
NO OUT OF POCKET EXPENSE TO OUR MEDICARE PATIENTS for the month of October

MEDICAID, GENERAL ASSISTANCE AND A.D.C. FAMILIES

The hard economic times, the jobless market, unemployment benefits and T.R.A. running out, these crisis conditions have forced many of our breadwinners and their families on General Assistance, Medicaid, and A.D.C.
This is a new problem for many of our patients and not so new for many others. I personally feel it's time to do something to help!
Although these state aid programs will pay for office visits and adjustments, there is one very important problem, they will NOT pay for examinations and necessary x-rays. How can you take advantage of the health care program if the family budget can't afford examination and x-rays? Doesn't make sense, does it? So, to remove this barrier and correct the problem, during the month of October we at the Grassam Chiropractic Life Center are going to

ELIMINATE
ALL EXAM and NECESSARY X-RAY FEES FOR OUR MEDICAID, GENERAL ASSISTANCE and A.D.C. FAMILIES
Program will start October 1st and end October 31st

Symphony league hosts show

Fall fashions revealed

The Plymouth Symphony League will sponsor a fall fashion show fundraiser at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 13, at the Plymouth Hilton, 14707 Northville Road.

Cost of the show will be $7, which includes chocolate torts, tea and coffee. A cash bar will be provided.

Tickets will be on sale at Beitner's Jewelry, Nawrot Inc. Pendleton Shop, Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and at the Before and After Shoppe.

Fashions will be presented by Sacks of Forest Ave., Nawrot Inc. Pendleton Shop, Geneva's of Plymouth, Tadmore's, Van Dam's Lingerie, Lent's, Armbruster Bootery, and Before and After Shoppes.

PRIZES OF ALL SORTS will be given out at the show.

Gift certificates, ranging from $10-$50, will be presented by Sacks, Geneva's, Sideways, Beitner Jewelry, Famous Men's Wear, Delta Diamond, Armbruster Bootery, Before and after Shoppes, The Corner Curtain Shoppe, Put up-on Shoppe, Lent's, and Tadmore's.

Other prizes will include a peach gown with jacket from Van Dam's Lingerie, a lamb wool jacket and blanket from Nawrot Inc. Pendleton Shop, a turtle neck pullover and matching shetland sweater from me and mr. Jones, an English shetland sweater from John Smith's, a brass bell from Heat and Sweep, Inc., a haircut and style from Beautiful People Hair Forum, a silk flower arrangement from LeGault's, a book from Little Professor, a table cloth from Bed 'n Stead, a bermuda bag from the Sophisticats, dinner for two from Plymouth Landing, dinner for one and brunch for two from Mayflower Hotel and large white salt and pepper shakers from The Early American Shop.

Proceeds will go towards the Plymouth Symphony Society's 1981-82 concert season which begins Sunday, Oct. 18. All of the Sunday concerts will be held at 4 p.m. in the Plymouth Salem High School auditorium at Joy and Canton Center roads.

An opera gala will open the first regular concert on Oct. 18. Guest soloists will appear with the orchestra in presenting vocal highlights from Puccini's "Manon Lescaut," Wagner's "Tannhauser" and "Lohengrin," Verdi's "Rigoletto," Pizet's "Carmen" and Cilea's "L'Arlesienne."

Reknowned conductor Johan Van Der Merwe from the University of Michigan will return for his second season with the Plymouth Symphony.

Symphony week held

The annual Michigan Orchestra Women's Association conference (MOWA) will be hosted by the Plymouth Symphony League from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 17, at the Mayflower Meeting House.

Symphony supporters from all over the state will gather to discuss and share ideas on fund raising and membership.

The conference will include panel sessions on education and promotion of the Symphony League, a boutique with displays and a question and answer period.

The Plymouth Symphony League also is sponsoring a Symphony Week honoring its orchestra, now in its 36th season. The first season concert on Oct. 18 and a reception afterward are just two of the activities planned to celebrate the week.

Yule card page is coming

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers will publish pictures of Christmas cards being sold by Detroit area charities in a full-page feature to be printed in the Suburban Life section of all its papers on Thursday, Oct. 15.

Cards that do not find space on that page will then be pictures as soon as possible following that date.

On that date also, O&E offices at 1225 Bowers, Birmingham, and 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, will have samples of the cards being offered available for viewing.

Organizations wishing to be included in the service should submit three samples of the same cards, together with price and other pertinent information and the name and telephone number or address of the individual accepting orders. These should be mailed as soon as possible to Margaret Miller, Observer & Eccentric, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, 48150.

Those organizations which are offering a selection of cards may send brochures to be included in the Birmingham and Livonia displays. However, individual cards are needed for publication, and only one card per organization can be printed.

Sex discrimination is attacked

By Sherry Kahan
staff writer

You'd never describe Mary Czarnowski of Livonia and Linda Gibson, a former Redford Township resident, as radicals or troublemakers.

But they were among the 4,000 area women angry enough about sex dicrimination on the job to bring suit successfully against the Automobile Club of Michigan. This class-action suit recently was won by the women to the tune of $3.75 million.

The settlement negotiated under U.S. District Court Chief Judge John Feikens also required a court-monitored affirmative-action program for 10 years to equalize employment opportunities at the insurance company.

"I'm the type of person who doesn't go in for verbal complaining," said Ms. Czarnowski, still an automobile club employee now that the legal fight is over.

"But I felt strongly that if someone was doing something wrong I would stick up for myself if I knew I was right. In this case I knew they were wrong."

"I AM ABSOLUTELY not a radical," insisted Ms. Gibson. "I'm very mild-mannered. But I was discriminated against. I wasn't compensated for the duties I had to perform.

"I tried for years to get better jobs such as data processing with no success. My present employer immedately advanced me to a programmer, and I'm doing well.

"The suit was a drain on me mentally and physically. It was tense. I'm glad I was able to help bring about change. But I won't be satisfied until I see the changes in effect, with the auto club really trying hard to be fair to women and all the people who work there.

"If that happens, the suit will be a useful thing. We set a national precedent with this case. It was necessary for a giant like that to be stopped in its tracks."

MS. CZARNOWSKI, terminated by the Automobile Club of Michigan because she was pregnant, had independently filed a suit against the company in 1973 through the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

"After that I learned a lot of women wanted to file suit on sex discrimination," she said. "So I joined with the people of Focus:HOPE to talk about a class-action suit, and I got in on that."

She also believed she was discriminated against in 1974 when denied the opportunity to become a sales representative. Today the salesmen hired in the early '70s are earning $70,000 yearly, she said.

"They wouldn't even accept my application," she said in a voice still angry. "They said there was no such thing as a woman salesman."

Even though the suit is settled, she wonders about its implementation. After applying recently for a supervisory position she was rejected "because I don't have the supervisory experience that was denied me in the past."

She added that the requirements are still the same for women as for men. Because women were treated unequally in the past, however, she wonders if this is fulfilling the spirit of the settlement.

"I feel the requirements should not be the same," she said.

She won't be able to complain until Judge Feikens issues the final determination, which is expected to be after an Oct. 7 hearing. When the suit is finalized the company will employ a compliance officer to whom a woman can appeal if she feels she has been discriminated against. If she is not satisfied she can take her case directly to attorneys. By terms of the settlement, the company must pay for this legal work.

FOCUS:HOPE, the Detroit-based civil- and human-rights organization known better for its supplementary food program for 40,000 malnourished mothers, infants and preschool children, became interested in the discrimination issue when six women asked for help in fighting the race and sex bias they said they found on the job.

In 1974, the federal court divided the issues into two cases, one on racisim and the other on sex discrimination.

Focus:HOPE lawyers pursued the case for nine years with a consent judgment coming this June. On Sept. 1, Focus:HOPE spokesman Ken Kudek said, the money went into escrow with interest going to the fund. It will be paid to the women after additional claims against it are settled.

In addition to money, the settlement also called for a 10-year program in which women working for the auto club will receive:

- 60-67 percent of all professional, technical and unit manger openings.
- 35-60 percent of all managerial openings.
- 42-48 percent of all commissioned sales openings.
- 20-25 percent of all top management openings.

Failure to fill openings with women at these rates in any year could result in additional openings and money going to women.

"It sends a message," Kudek said. "It tells corporations throughout the country the standard is that 50 percent of all positions should be held by women."

MS. CZARNOWSKI'S complaint against the auto company for not accepting her as a sales representative will bring her a settlement she says is tiny compared to the amount of money she lost by the rejection of her application.

"I had applied for the sales representative's job at the time I was an underwriter girl," she began. "I worked for five salesmen. I did the same work they did. I checked the policies before they were paid to see if they were done right. I had to check all the rules. Each of those men got five times more pay than I did."

Her pregnancy situation was filled with irony. She was fired for it, and the date was two weeks short for her to come under the time umbrella established by federal law in the class-action section involving women fired for pregnancy.

But while the company cut off all her auto and medical insurance after her termination, she nonetheless delivered her son two days before the medical insurance expired.

"I would like to say that I feel the amount of money paid back after all these years does not amount to anything compared to what they should have been paying these women," she said. "They had them working for such low pay for so many years."

If the company follows the terms of the settlement, "that would be the real benefit," she said.

Dancers raise funds

Centennial Dancers of Plymouth, sponsored by the Polish National Alliance performed at a Polish Solidarity Festival held recently in New Baltimore.

The festival was held to raise funds to send food and medical supplies to the people of Poland.

Plymouth dancers participating at the Polish festival were Kelly Arnaut, Denise Buda, James Buda, Jennifer Buda and Heather Lutes.

Participating Canton dancers were Katie Bloomquist, Mary Ann Gwozdek and Debra Pisarski.

The dancers have performed at several other spots this summer including Tiger Stadium, Hart Plaza, the Livonia International Festival, St. Sabina's Rainbow Festival and in the Plymouth, Canton and Hamtramck parades. For information on the group, call Joanne Ygeal at 464-1263.

Ex-teachers are honored

The International Alpha Delta Kappa honorary educational sorotity is hosting its annual tea at 4 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 5, at the East Middle School library.

The teais held each year as a salute to all retired school teachers who taught for at least three years in the Plymouth-Canton School system at the elementary and secondary levels.

Invitations have been sent out to retired Plymouth-Canton teachers living as far away as California, Florida, Texas and Arizona.

Committee members in charge of running the tea are Sharon Bellabraiditch, Jan Stafford, Adina Rice, Chloe West, Sara Haas and Helen Kelly.

Last year Plymouth Mayor Mary Childs attended the tea along with 20-25 former teachers from around the nation. Members gathered to reminisce about past educational experiences in a joyful reunion.

The Alpha Delta Kappa honorary sorority is well known in the community for its sponsoring of causes devoted to charity. In the past the sorority has been involved in aiding senior citizens, diabetics, the women's rights movement and exchange students. Each year the group holds a fashion show fundraiser at the Mayflower Meeting House and donates all proceeds to a worthy charity.

Canton Rotarians host zany follies

Canton Chatter

By KATHY FREECE 981-2027

It is that time of year for the annual Canton Rotary Club semi-professional talent show.

The event takes place at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Plymouth Salen High School auditorium. Tickets are $3 each.

There will be a fantastic-follies opening with plenty of ladies in lovely evening wear gracing the stage and a few imposters among the group.

The way the show begins this year is a little out of the ordinary, but it will have you begging for more.

Andy Henderson of Arnoldt Williams Piano Co. will conduct the orchestra for the evening. Donna Timberg of Northville and Ted Grayson will be the soloists. Ted is a stand-up comic who fashions his style after the Rodney Dangerfield-type of humor.

The Rotarians are grateful that Ted will fly in from Chicago specifically for the event and then return to that area for the many night club bookings that are part of his normal routine.

THE CANTON Seniors Kitchen Band is next on the lineup. The band always does its own special kind of entertainment.

Senior citizens will be the recipients of the profits from this show for a bus purchased through Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. The bus has a completely rebuilt engine with many miles ahead of it.

Richard Lee, the multi-talented recording artist, will appear again in the show. A virtuoso euphonium player by the name of Howard Mitchell also will bring excitement to the auditorium, followed by the Plymouth Canton Skyline Singers. These are boys and girls all 16 years and under with their rendition of several blue grass favorites.

The second act is full of surprises with the magic of Bob Schinker and Co. of Plymouth.

Bill Dumphy, Joyn Merrifield and Nancy O'Sullivan from Northville and Canton will dazzle you with a sneak preview of the musical "Monterey." Ed Draugelis from Plymouth is the lyricist collaborator with Andrew Henderson writing the score for the two songs from the musical making its premiere performance.

The Plymouth Community Chorus will top off the evening with "On Stage With Cole Porter." The show should be great so let's support the community by sharing our Saturday night with the Canton Rotary Club. For more information or tickets please call Dominic Cirino at 981-5279 for the Oct. 3 show.

SUE AND ART Lawrence, Jan and Darrell Brawn, Shannon and Jim Monro thrilled everyone with their fourth annual beef roast. Many Canton residents look forward to September just for this great party.

The 41-pound roast was purchased from the butcher shop in the Kings Row Center.

Bobbie and Mike Ryan, Mary and Sherm Moore, Dianne and Jim Webster, Mary Ellen and Bud Magaldi, Louise and Ron Hoge, Meg and John Montayne came early because the delicious hors d'ourves always have been a good start to the fun evening.

Janice Martti, Carolyn and Charlie Hannula, Carolyn and Jim Martin, Judy and Dominic Cirino, Nancy and Richard Hale, Judy and Bill Justice, Mary Jane and Mike Travis, Terry and Dick Cohen arrived by the time the first serving of savory beef was carved.

There are always a few people who show up late and miss out on some of the fun — Sandy and Hank Naasko, Helen and Mike Wesner, Sue and Rick Erickson, Jim and Sue Nomura, Linda Weiss, Roxanne and Al Edge and Kathy Spencer managed a few nibbles of vegetables, salads, casseroles and desserts.

Just about everyone showed up in their western garb, which made the evening seem like a barbecue at a dude ranch. It is hard to top such an evening like the one shared, but wait until next year to see what clever ideas the hosts have in store.

THE JUNIOR League of Detroit will have its 1982 Decorators show house planned for May 1-23, 1982. Many clubs in our area have requested information and advance tickets for this tour. Call Jane Barry at 886-5429 or Jan Dahl at 886-9234 for more information about this event.

Radio music highlighted

Nostalgic radio tunes from the past four decades will be showcased by the Ann Arbor Chapter of the Sweet Adelines at its fourth annual show at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9-10 at Pioneer High School auditorium in Ann Arbor.

The Sweet Adelines, a 64-member women's barbershop harmony chorus, will be featured under the direction of Jack Herr, director of vocal music at Mott High School in Warren.

Jeanne Lundberg, director of the We-Way-Co chapter of Plymouth, sings tenor for the group

The three-year-old chorus is the second place champion of Great Lakes Region 17.

Guest performers will entertain at both shows. "The Friars" from the University of Michigan Men's Glee Club will appear Friday. On Saturday, the 1979 Men's International Champion quartet "Grandma's Boys" will be featured.

Singer Bob Taylor will serve as master of ceremonies.

Tickets may be ordered from Ann Arbor chorus members, or by calling 485-7276.

How to submit items to paper

News of clubs, service organizations, engagements, weddings and wedding anniversaries are printed without cost in the Suburban Life section of the Plymouth Observer and Canton Observer newspapers.

News items may be dropped off or mailed to the office at 461 S. Main St., Plymouth 48170. Forms are available for club news, engagements, weddings and 50th wedding anniversary announcements.

Simpsons are wed 50 years

Charles and Elizabeth Simpson of Hammill Street, Plymouth, marked their 50th wedding anniversary on Sept. 15.

The couple have spent their entire married life in Plymouth and have three grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Their grandchildren are Karen Mettetal, LeAnne Booth and Marni Simpson. Their great-grandchild is Brandy Booth.

Simpson worked for the Wayne County Road Commission for 31 years and has been retired since July 1970.

A picnic-buffet attended by 75 relatives and friends was held on Sept. 13 at Wilcox Lake Pavilion on Edward Hines Drive to commemorate their anniversary.

Juenemann-O'Hara

Linda Marie O'Hara exchanged marriage vows with Jeffrey Guy Juenemann Aug. 22. The Rev. Bob Byrne officiated at the ceremony in Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Berardi of Brookside Drive, Plymouth. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy Juenemann of South Brys, Grosse Pointe Woods.

The bride was escorted by her father and wore a gown of English tool over taffeta with shiffli lace medallions. She carried a fresh bouquet of gardenias, baby pink roses and stephanotis. Cheryl Nelson of Arizona was maid of honor. Her bridesmaids were Cindy Berardi of Inkster, Julie Stanley of Lansing, Karen Harter of Connecticut and Margaret Wayne of St. Louis, Mo. They wore light pink floral prints with caplet shoulders and floor-length pleated skirts. They carried silk flowers of pink roses accented with tiger lileys. Following a reception at Bonnie Brook Country Club, the couple honeymooned at St. Martin island in the Caribbean. They are living in Harper Woods.

The bride is a 1980 graduate of Michigan State University and has a bachelor's degree in social work and psychology. Her spouse is a 1980 graduate of Michigan State University with a business degree. He is employed at Juenemann Insurance Agency in Harper Woods.

Len Thomas

Fritz Mountford

Choral workshop held

Two of America's leading choral directors will help area vocalists hone their lyrical skills at a special choral workshop Friday from 7-10 p.m. and Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Plymouth Salem High School.

Both choral directors, Len Thomas and Fritz Mountford, are members of the reknowned Fred Waring Choral Workshops.

Fred Waring, known as "the man who taught America how to sing," has developed techniques for learning and applying tone syllables, improving rhythmic accuracy and correcting vocal production.

The two-day workshop will be a working one designed to provide on-the-spot aid and training for music teachers, choir directors and singers alike.

Music ranging from sacred to secular, from show choir charts to all-American standards will be offered.

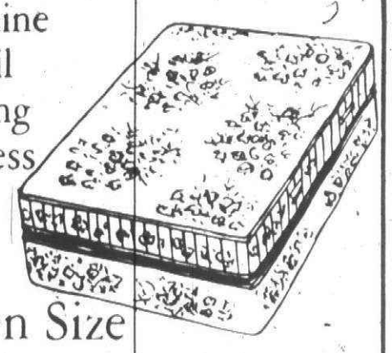

The workshop is being presented by the Plymouth Community Chorus and is open to all high school and college students and all church, school and community choral directors.

Due to time and space considerations, enrollment for the Plymouth Community Chorus Choral Workshop will be limited to the first 100 applicants. An immediate response will be necessary to reserve a spot for this weekend. For information call 453-3532.

Revolution at work: All want greater choice

Editor's Note: This is the first of 15 articles on "Working: Changes and Choices." The series was written for Courses by Newspaper, a program of the University of California, San Diego, with finding from the National Endowment for the Humanities. © 1981 by the Regents of the University of California.

By James O'Toole
special writer

When their alarms ring each weekday, 100 million American workers routinely answer the unwelcome call, drag themselves from bed, and prepare for eight hours of purposeful activity — activity that seem so natural that few workers bother to analyze it.

Working seems simply to be a necessary part of life, much like borning and dying, eating and sleeping. It all seems so natural: You spend the first five years of your life in play, the next 15 or so in formal schooling, all in preparation for 45 years of working, for which you are rewarded (if you are fortunate) with 10 to 15 healthy years of retirement.

Even the kind of work you do might appear part of the natural order of things.

Historically, middle-class sons went to college and pursued professional or managerial carreers, while their sisters stayed home and reared children, or worked as secretaries or teachers.

Working-class sons and daughters followed their parents into factories or onto the farms and construction sites.

And the children of the poor? They, too, were always with us, poor (and often unemployed) like their parents.

SUCH PATTERNS seemed so natural -- until recently.

Now, many Americans of both sexes and of every age, class, color, and occupation appear unwilling to accept 1) the historical divisions of labor in society, 2) the traditional divisions of the times of our lives and 3) the basic assumptions we have held about what is natural in the institution of work.

This "revolutionary" questioning is creating profound consequences for the economy and for the individuals who work in America.

What is most remarkable about this revolution in work attitudes is that it is non-ideological. It is a revolution that could occur only in a pluralistic, democratic, affluent, capitalist society It is a revolution whose only common denominator is the demand for greater choice.

AMERICAN WORKERS may not know what they want from work or life, but they are clear about what they do not want. They don't want to feel constrained by tradition, by the absence of alternatives, or by limitations on their exercise of options.

Consider some of the many ways Americans are attempting to exercise choice at work:

Greater numbers are working part-time, flextime, or at home in their spare time. Instead of staying in one job, many Americans are changing jobs in mid-career, and many more are punctuating work with periods of formal education.

Women are demanding "men's" jobs. Blacks want equal access to professions once reserved mainly for whites. Some people are refusing to retire at age 65, and others are choosing to retire before 65.

On the job, many young workers are demanding, and in some cases getting, participation in decision-making. Off the job, many poor people are choosing welfare checks over low-level employment.

EVERYWHERE there are change and flux in the world of work. Such a revolution is difficult to fathom, for it belies generalization and eludes the categorization with which social scientists attempt to make sense of social change.

Indeed, after 30 years of trying to develop a single theory to explain the values, needs and motivations of workers social scientists in the late 1970s admitted that what is important to understand about American workers is their diversity. There are many reasons why people work, many rewards they derive from working and many sources of discontent.

We can no longer agree with the ancient Greeks that work is unfit for free men and women, or with the Hebrews who saw work as Adam's curse, or with Luther who saw work s the best way of serving God, or with Marx who thought that workers would find utopia in work once they were freed from capitalistic "exploitation."

Geoffrey Moss – political illustrator syndicated with the Washington Post Writers Group

No, many Americans have now concluded that there is no intrinsic meaning to work. Rather, each worker attempts to infuse his or her own work with some personal meaning.

In effect, when the alarm sounds in the morning, each of us answers it (or fails to answer it) for a unique combination of reasons.

WE WORK for economic reasons: the poor to pay for the bare necessities of life, most Americans to pay their mortgages and to buy things for their kids, and the truly affluent to pay for tape decks, mineral water and the little luxuries of life as well.

We work for social reasons. For most Americans, work is where we make friends. In a world where extended families, neighborhoods and churches are diminishing sources of community, workers look forward to socializing with their coworkers.

We work for psychological reasons. Workers often take their identities from jobs, saying, "I am a carpenter" or "I am a nurse." Many derive satisfaction and self-esteem from their work, particularly if it has some elements of creativity or autonomy.

Some people seek only security from work, while others seek self-realization. Some live for their families and use work only to support their spouses and children, while others use work to escape from upleasant domestic situations.

IN TRUTH, we all have our own complex of work values, attitudes, needs and desires. Moreover, these are likely to change over time.

For example, when Ted Kramer graduates form college, he may want an exciting, seven-day-a-week, 12-hour-a-day job — like managing a large advertising account. But 10 years later, Ted might be a divorced, single parent who wants to work six-hours-a-day, five-days-a-week in order to spend more time with his child.

Or take Ted's wife. At one stage in her life she may wish to pursue a career; later, she might wish to combine having a family with having a job — an increasingly frequent desidre in our brave new post-industrial world

INDEED, OURS is the first society ever to offer its members such a choice about when, where, how, with whom and under what conditions they will work.

No society has ever been so affluent, so simultaneously committed to equality and freedom, and so concerned with fairness for individuals that it could or would seriously respond to the real differences in their wants and needs.

But as just and responsive as such a society may be, it is also replete with anxiety and conflict. Choice creates discontent, for example, when we must choose between two good things, such as work and family roles; or when we must choose between the security of our current but unfulfilling job and the risk of mid-career change.

In effect, American workers have traded the routine and predictable patterns of traditional worklife for a dynamic world of change and choice. The tensions in this new world are experienced not only by individuals, but by institutions — workplaces, families, schools — and the broader society as well.

In fact, the most difficult challenges are probably national in scope: how can the economy satisfy the personal desires of workers for more freedom and leisure and less hard work, and at the same time efficiently produce the goods and services required to maintain the high living standards demanded by those same workers?

The next 14 articles of this series explore some of the major changes that are occurring at work and some of the difficult personal and public choices Americans face as we try to meet both the desires of workers and the requirements of the economy.

Utility adds auditors

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. today announced that it is increasing the number of auditors conducting the Home Energy Analysis from 100 to more than 200 auditors.

The Home Energy Analysis is a statewide program designed to help customers reduce energy usage and control costs. An auditor inspects more than 90 energy-related checkpoints inside and outside the home, then reports recommendations on energy-saving home improvements to the customer.

"We're very pleased with the response to MichCon's Home Energy Analysis," said Alfred R. Glancy III, senior vice president for the gas utility. "We have received more than 40,000 requests from customers. Since the response has been so good, and because we want to reach as many customers as possible before winter, we have decided to double the force from 100 to 200 auditors."

The fee for a Home Energy Analysis is $10. The program is available by calling or writing Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

Dr. James Kennedy addressed the first general assembly of the Evangelical Presbyterian Church

Evangelical Presbyterians hold their first assembly

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Christians had better wake up and get involved in all aspects of the world, including politics. That's the word from Dr. James Kennedy, well-known evangelical pastor, to the first general assembly of the Evangelical Presbyterian Church.

Christians "have retreated into our little Christian ghetto" and accepted "shackles" that the nation's early leaders meant to place on government, said the pastor of Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church in Fort Lauderdale and the Evangelism Explosion program used for growth and outreach by many churches.

Instead "Christians need to let their voice be heard," he advised.

The assembly was held at Ward United Presbyterian Church of Livonia, one of the largest in the denomination formed earlier this year by churches that pulled out of the United Presbyterian Church.

Composed mainly of churches that split with the United Presbyterian Church over several issues, members insist doctrine must affirm the deity of Jesus Christ and that local churches should have full ownership of their property and authority to decide whether they want women on their boards of elders.

The assembly chose as moderator the Rev. Calvin Gray, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Trenton. It also selected a motto: "In essentials unity, in non-essentials liberty and in all things charity."

More than 800 heard Kennedy Tuesday. The Wednesday session featuring evangelist Dr. Francis Schaeffer drew 1,200.

KENNEDY said the First Amendment to the Constitution, which guarantees freedom of religion, speech and press, was meant as a control for government and should not keep Christians out of politics.

"The First Amendment does not teach the separation of church and state," he said. "Thomas Jefferson taught the idea in a private letter."

He added that today there is much distortion in people's minds about the meaning of the amendment. He called it a one-way street, written in fear of the government and intended to restrain government.

"If you don't believe this, look at the press," he said. The amendment puts limitations on the government, but doesn't say anything about limitations on the press.

"Likewise, the First Amendment doesn't say anything about what Christians should or shouldn't do. People who claim Christians should not be involved in politics have not read the First Amendment."

THE SPEAKER also told his listeners that Christians should have more to say in other areas.

Instead of venturing out into the world, he charged, "we have retreated into our little Christian ghettos."

"We have retreated in academics, music, arts, media and government," he added.

● PILGRIM'S MISSION

An Inter-church Holiness Convention to be held Oct. 6-8 in Pilgrim's Mission Church, 5737 Middlebelt, Garden City, will feature two speakers and two musicians. Speaking will be the Rev. L. Wayne States of Fort Wayne, Ind., and the Rev. Herman Noll of God's Bible School of Cincinnati. Performing will be the Edwards Family Singers of Ridgeville, Ind. Services will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 6, and at 10:30 a.m. and 2 and 7:30 p.m. Oct. 7 and 8.

● PLYMOUTH PRESBYTERIAN

The Rev. Thomas Cook, assistant minister at First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, 701 Church, will begin a study of the "Book of Revelations" 7-8:30 p.m. Sunday in the church dining room. The study will continue through Oct. 25. All are invited, and there is no charge.

● MERRIMAN ROAD BAPTIST

Several activities are scheduled to take place this fall in Merriman Road Baptist Church, 2055 Merriman, Garden City. The Ladies Bible Study, resuming Thursday meetings at 9 a.m. today, will focus this year on I Corinthians. Nursery care is provided for the sessions.

Dedication of the church's media center is planned at 8:15 p.m. Sunday, with refreshments following the service to be led by the Rev. Ray Babb, pastor. The center is in the charge of Betty Babb, the pastor's wife.

The church also is beginning Sunday Night Place, a program offering training for children, youth and adults, for an hour before 7 p.m. worship each Sunday through December. Children 4 and older may participate in classes, and a nursery will be available for younger children. Youth classes for ages 12-17 includes choir and a study of the church.

The Rev. L. Wayne States
Pilgrim speaker

Adults may select a class from four offerings. One of them involves discovering spiritual gifts, and will be taught by Babb. Joyce Martin will teach how to study the Bible, and Ruth Clark will lead "One Is a Whole Number." A discussion group will be directed by Jim Archer.

A class for the deaf will be led by Al and Edith Newman and Nora Durant.

● FOURTH CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

Christian Science lecturer Melvin Hurwick of San Francisco will speak on "God's Law and Man's Employment" at 8 p.m. Monday, Oct. 5, in Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist, 24400 Seven Mile, Detroit. Hurwick was a businessman until a few years ago when he began to devote full time to the "public practice of healing through prayer."

● FAIRLANE ASSEMBLY

Dr. E. Judson Cornwall, a frequent guest on the TV programs, "700 Club" and "PTL Club," will speak Oct. 4-7 in Fairlane Assembly, 2575 Ann Arbor Trail, Dearborn Heights. His talks will be given at the 8 and 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. services on Sunday and at 7 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Cornwall also is the author of three books, one of which, "Let Us Praise," has been translated into various languages including Spanish, Indonesian and Japanese.

● ST. MATTHEW UNITED METHODIST

Children will sing songs and hymns and perform dances at the Haiti-Hispanic Festival to be held from 7-8:30 p.m.Sunday, Oct. 4, in St. Matthew United Methodist Church, 30900 Six Mile, Livonia. The Rev. and Mrs. Eduardo Cartes of Preston United Methodist Church of Detroit will participate along with children of their church.

Henry and Shirley Chiles will show slides of their Haiti mission trip. Children of the St. Matthew Sunday school who have been studying Haiti will present several songs of that country. A few Caribbean foods will be served.

St. Matthew plans to aid the Preston congregation in fixing up its church, which was recently established at a new location.

● NEWBURG UNITED METHODIST

The fall rummage sale of the Newburg United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia, will be held Oct. 2 and 3. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

Visit the Old World Market Oct. 1-4

High-kicking ethnic dancing, exotic foods, music and crafts will be the highlights of the Old World Market to take place Oct. 1-4 in the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit, 111 E. Kirby, across from the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Old world craft demonstrations wil include Estonian woodburning, Japanese origami and flower arranging, English and Swedish wheatweaving and Polish, Belgian and French lacemaking. Other displays involve Polish papercutting called Wycinanki, Ukrainian egg coloring called Pysanky, Ukrainian cross stitching, old world leather carving, woodworking and glassblowing.

A special feature this year will be the demonstration of Vietnamese handicrafts by America's most recent immigrants. Some of this work is similar to American patchwork quilts but in distinctly Vietnamese motifs and color combinations.

Craft demonstrations will be scheduled each day of the market at 11:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Continuous entertainment is headlined by the Sarisan Slovakian Dancers, Wavel Polish Dancers and Galicia Polish Dancers.

Stephen Romanow will perform his Ukrainian sword dance. Other performances will be given by Flamenco dancer Maria Durante, the Saxonia German Chorus, Indian dancer Angeli Mital, bamboo jumping Philippine dancers and Akido Martial Arts demonstrations.

Ethnic cooking instruction will take place at 12:30 and 6:30 p.m. each day. The International Pastry Shop will offer 50 different international baked pastries.

An international costume fashion show will take place after the 11 a.m. opening ceremonies Thursday, Oct. 1. A swearing-in ceremony for newly naturalized citizens will be held at 11 a.m. Friday.

Market hours are 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Oct. 1,2 and 3; from noon to 6 p.m. Oct. 4. Admission is $2 for adults, 50 cents for children up to 17 years and $1 for senior citizens. Group rates are available. For more information call the institute at 871-8600.

Rural Catholic leaders gather

Catholic rural leaders from all over the country will gather Oct. 5-8 at St. John's Provincial Seminary in Plymouth, for the sixth annual National Consultation of Diocesan Rural Life Directors and Rural Ministers.

The our-day meeting, sponsored by the Des Moines-based National Catholic Rural Life Conference (NCRLC), will inlcude speakers and training sessions on how the use of natural resources affects rural communities. The group will look at how rural ministers can address these issues through education, liturgical celebration and social action.

Featured speakers for the opening day of the consultation include Detroit Auxiliary Bishop Thomas J. Gumbleton, Sister Mary Ann Smith, Mary Knoll research director; and Bishop Lawrence J. McNamara, conference president. The opening day program, which is open to the public for a $5 fee, also inlcudes mass at 4:30 p.m. celebrated by Detroit Archbishop Edmund Szoka.

Sr. Smith, in her 1:30 p.m. talk on "Resources and Community from a Global Prespective," is expected to stress the linkages between the use of natural resources in this country and the struggles of hungry people throughout the world. With 12 years experience as a missionary in the Philippines, she brings first-hand knowledge of the Third World to her present work in research and planning for the Maryknoll Order.

Top recording engineer makes song hits

GARY CASKEY/staff photographer

Jim Vitti of Canton puts in long hours at recording sessions for the stars, in the United Sound Systems Studio in Detroit.

By Nick Charles
special writer

There are some people who do things so they can say they did them, and then there are people who do things because it's what they love.

The thing about modest, creative people is you never know where they are because you can't hear them honking their own horn. What has to be done in this case is find someone to honk their horn for them.

One of these rare people is a talented yet humble recording engineer named Jim Vitti. He lives with his wife and two children in Canton while working in Detroit at United Sound Systems.

Vitti is the man responsible for countless hits to come out of Michigan. His title is chief engineer, which means he is responsible for selecting equipment, training engineers and, of course, engineering the recording sessions.

"I DON'T think there's any kind of music that we don't have fun recording," Vitti said. "But because it's Detroit, a lot of our recordings are rhythm and blues. We have done some rock groups such as The Rockets, Bob Seger, MC5, Frigid Pink and The Doobie Brothers."

Vitti has had a sincere interest in music since he was very young.

"When I was 6 years old, my dad made me take accordion lessons," he said. "When I got a little older, I joined a couple of bands playing keyboards on weekends."

Even though Vitti loves the musical end, he believes he has found his niche. "I like writing and producing songs more than being a musician. Although I've even got a chance to play on some of the albums that I've engineered."

One thing led to another, and before Vitti knew it he was churning out the hits. "I don't remember sitting down and thinking to myself, 'I want to be a recording engineer.' I wanted to be an electronic engineer but that sort of diminished. I loved music and electronics so it just seemed natural to put them both together."

In 1979, New York's Pro Sound magazine selected Vitti as the top rhythm and blues engineer in the country. Vitti has engineered such hits as "You Don't Have To Be a Star" by Billy Davis Jr. and Maralyn McCoo.

HE ALSO engineered Johnny Taylor's "Disco Lady," which was a No. 1 hit and broke all sales records at Columbia.

Vitti has many rare qualities. One of them is the reason for being in the business. He's not the kind of person who's in it just for the money.

"I could easily make two to three times more than I am. It doesn't take much to satisfy my material needs. The reason I'm doing this is because I enjoy seeing things going from nothing to a completed project. When it stops being fun, that's when I'll stop doing it."

'I don't think there's any kind of music that we don't have fun recording. But because it's Detroit, a lot of our recordings are rhythm and blues.'

— Jim Vitti
recording engineer

Garden City does 'Fiddler'

The Garden City Civic Theatre will present "Fiddler on the Roof." The widely acclaimed musical will be performed at 8 p.m. Oct. 16-17, 22-24 and at 2:30 p.m. Oct. 18.

Performances will take place at O'Leary Auditorium, 6500 Middlebelt Road, Garden City.

Tickets are priced at $5 for adults and $4 for senior citizens and students. Tickets may be ordered in advance or obtained at the door. Season tickets are available also.

For further information on advance tickets, season tickets and group sales, call 525-0715.

Tom Panzenhagen

"The 400 Blows" (1959), 8 p.m. Friday at the Liberal Arts Theater, Schoolcraft College, phone 591-6400, free. Running time 98 minutes.

Legend has it that caustic film critic Francois Truffaut was banned from the 1958 Cannes Film Festival, so he returned the next year as a caustic filmmaker and and won the Best Director Award. His "400 Blows" is a combination of "Public Enemy" and "To Kill a Mockingbird" — that is, it's the story of a young criminal-in-the-making told from the child's point of view. Subtitles will trip the viewer; but Truffaut is at his best when directing long, beautifully conceived sequences that have little or no dialogue. Rating: $2.90.

"MONTE WALSH" (1970), 1 p.m. today on Ch. 50. Originally 106 minutes.

"PAT GARRET AND BILL THE KID" (1973), 11:45 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 7. Originally 106 minutes.

"A MAN CALLED GANNON" (1969), noon Monday on Ch. 9. Originally 105 minutes.

"CAHILL, UNITED STATES MARSHALL" (1973), 4 p.m. Monday on Ch. 7. Originally 103 minutes.

"THE CENTURY TURNS" (1972), 8:30 a.m. Tuesday on Ch. 20. Originally 98 minutes.

"FIVE CARD STUD" (1968), 8 p.m. Tuesday on Ch. 50. Originally 103 mintues.

It's "Whatever Happened to the West Week?" on Detroit's commercial TV stations. (Subtitled: "They Don't Make 'em Like They Used To.") Six westerns, all made between 1968 and 1973 will be riding into town. And none will be confused with the vintage John Wayne or Randolph Scott variety.

WHAT'S IT WORTH?
A ratings guide to the movies

Bad	$1
Fair	$2
Good	$3
Excellent	$4

Actually, it's a 66-year-old Wayne who stars in one of the pictures, "Cahill, U.S. Marshall." Unfortunately, by 1973 the Duke had turned into a moralizing Spiro Agnew. "Cahill's" plot is interesting enough and Andrew McLaglen's direction is fine, but the movie was made 45 years too late. There's no Gabby Hayes.

Three other of the films — "Pat Garrett," "Gannon" and "Five Card Stud" — look and feel as much like the old West as a city slicker climbing off the Wells Fargo. Sam Peckinpah directed a cast of sleepwalkers (James Coburn, Kris Kristofferson, Jason Robards, Bob Dylan and Rita Collidge, no kidding) in "Garrett," which must have been the offshoot of a lost bet.

Tony Franciosa in "Gannon" and Dean Martin and Robert Mitchum in "Stud" waltz thorugh their roles. Franciosa looks more like he should be selling Tappan ranges.

Group ratings: "Cahill," "Pat," "Gannon" and "Stud" $1.25. "Monte" and Hec: $3.10.

Michael Kloian

of the American Backgammon Club

● BREAKING THE PRIME

Terri S. of Canton writes:

"Backgammon is fun, exciting and always full of surprises for me. I can't stop playing. I used to believe it was all luck until I read several recommended books and have faithfully followed the weekly example. Now I know the skill factor does greatly reduce the luck element, but how do you know what is the right move all the time?

For example, in this position I (white) rolled a 6-1, so I moved from the 11 to the 5 point and from the 9 to the 8 point. Now I have four builders pointing on black on the 3 point, or 16 ways to hit and close that point (according to world champion Paul Magriel in his book).

Now my opponent rolls a 2-6 and escapes me. Before that roll, she couldn't roll a 6 to hop out with the last six rolls of the dice. Did I miss something here?"

To answer your first questions, no one, not even a top-notch world backgammon expert, will always know what is correct in all situations. Aside from being a slightly controversial game, backgammon "experts" tend to lean on their own understanding and experience on game moves. Thus, you may get varied results.

Secondly, I'm glad to see that you've captured Paul Magriel's chapter on builders (using checkers effectively). But perhaps you should review priming, timing and bold play vs. safe play to see what you have missed.

You cannot expect to read any single book (or all of them) on backgammon and suddenly "know it all." Experience and game knowledge are the keys to knowing right from wrong in game situations.

For instance, in this position would it hurt white to slot-hit black on the 3 point? Absolutely not. It might even win the game.

Let's look at it this way: White is trapped behind black's six-point (full) prime and cannot escape until black opens up the 7 point. If white allows black to run out by rolling a 6 (11 out of 36 ways for a simple 6), white has automatically lost the game.

Now, on the other hand, if white slot-hits black on the 3 point, black must roll a 3-6 immediately (2 out of 36 chances) to escape. There are a total of 27 rolls that allow black off the bar, with 18 of those rolls forcing him to break his prime.

Coming off the bar on the 1 or 2 point is bad for black since he may get stuck there for the duration of the game, and this should be white's immediate objective for this position. Rather than throw in the towel and hope for the best, white would do best to fight.

Any questions regarding backgammon? Contact the American Backgammon Club at 459-5776 or write to Box 599, Plymouth MI 48170.

Five-foot-tall Ursula Bottcher dances with one of 10 towering polar bears in her act at the 110th Edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, which opens Tuesday at Joe Louis Arena in Detroit.

Oakway singer commutes from L.A.

Some members of the Oakway Symphony Orchestra drive across a county or two to attend rehearsals.

Baritone singer David Pulice has been flying in from Los Angeles. An architect, Pulice is working on a project there for his Detroit firm. The firm flies him back each week to rehearse for Oakway's first concert of the season, "An Evening on Broadway."

The cornucopia of Broadway tunes, singers, dancers and music will be staged twice this weekend in the auditorium of Harrison High School, on 12 Mile west of Middlebelt in Farmington Hills.

Performances will be at 8 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday. (All other Oakway subscription concerts are at 3 p.m. Sundays.)

Tickets may be purchased at the door at $5 general admission and $2.50 for students and senior citizens. Tickets and membership information are available in advance at Madonna College, Hammell Music, the Oakway office at 476-6544 and the Southfield Cultural Arts Division in the Civic Center at 26000 Evergreen.

SONGS AND dance numbers from "The King and I," "The Music Man," "South Pacific," "Man of LaMancha," "Jesus Christ Superstar," "My Fair Lady," "West Side Story" and "Oliver" will be performed by the Company Four Singers, the Kaleidoscope dancers and a choral group.

Conducting will be Francesco DiBlasi, Oakway's music director and conductor, and guest conductor Ernest A. Jones, board chairman of D'Arcy-MacManus & Masius, Inc., whose avocation is music.

Besides Pulice, a Dearborn resident, the Company Four singers include Marily Mercer Hedquist of Troy, a graduate student at Oakland University in music performance who is soloist at the Church of Christ Scientist; Barbara Scanlon of Detroit, who has a bachelor's degree in voice from Michigan State and has performed in local dinner and music theater; and Mark Vondrak of Royal Oak, a soloist with the Kenneth Jewell Chorale and at Temple Israel.

THE DANCERS will perform a selection from "Jesus Chrsist Superstar" directed by Dolores Graham Allison, founder and artistic director of the Metropolitan Ballet Company of Michigan.

Dance coordinator for the city of Southfield, Ms. Allison is a choreographer and master teacher. Dancers are Victoria Lundall, Joseph Neal and Richard Wilson.

A choral presentation will be directed by Margaret Koltz, choral and musical director of Harrison and Farmington high schools in the Farmington School District.

Demonstrations featured at show

Dazzling minerals from Africa and minerals in 3-D will be demonstaated at the Greater Detroit Gem and Mineral Show, Oct. 9-11 at the Detroit Light Guard Armory on E. Eight Mile Road.

The show will feature a special exhibit of minerals from Tsumeb, Namibia, on loan from the Smithsonian Institute. Visitors also will be shown how to make stone arrowheads.

There will be displays from Cranbrook Institute of Science, the Goddard collection of Wayne State University, the American Museum of Natural History and the Royal Ontario Museum.

A dozen museum displays and 175 varied exhibits will be featured.

THOMAS GIBALA of Livonia will demonstrate sphere making — turning rocks into round polished balls. There will also be demonstrations of faceting, micromounting, cabochon making, tumbling, wire wrapping and other phases of the lapidary arts.

David Lowrie of Wayne State University will be available to assist in mineral identification.

One of the principal objectives of the show is to offer the public, hobbyists and students information on rocks, minerals, fossils and gems. Special hours have been set aside for student groups. Hours of 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Oct. 9 are reserved for school groups with adult escorts to see the show for a minimal charge.

In 1979, 21 schools participated, with 46 class groups and a total of 1,425 students attending.

Forums, films and lectures are scheduled all three days. "Gems of the Americas," a new film covering many gem species and localities, will be narrated by Dr. Peter Keller, Gemological Institute of America, Santa Monica, Calif.

Dr. Wendell Wilson, editor of the Mineralogical Record, Tucson, Ariz., will lecture on "Beautiful Minerals in 3-D" using special equipment to present slides of minerals in three dimensions.

TAX-FREE

All Savers Certificate

Here's what the one-year All Savers Certificate can mean to you.

- You can exclude up to $2,000.00 interest from federal income tax on a joint return ($1,000.00 on an individual return). The amount excluded is also not taxed by the State of Michigan.
- Your All Savers Certificate is insured to $100,000.00 by the FSLIC.
- Your interest rate is guaranteed for the full term of the certificate, unlike other investments such as money market funds where rates fluctuate daily.
- You can participate with a deposit of $500.00 or more.
- Funds in your Standard Federal 26-Week Money Market Certificate can be transferred to an All Savers Certificate without any early withdrawal penalty on the transferred funds.

If you elect to receive interest at maturity there is no compounding and the interest rate on your All Savers Certificate will be 12.61%. If you wish to have interest payable monthly or quarterly, the annual simple interest rate on your All Savers Certificate will be 11.876% and interest retained in your All Savers Certificate will be continuously compounded for an effective annual yield of 12.61%. These rates are available for All Savers Certificates opened through October 2, 1981. Rates for accounts opened after October 2, 1981, will be announced later. However, the rate established at the time an All Savers Certificate is opened is the rate in effect for the full one-year term of the account. You should also know that in the event of early withdrawal from an All Savers Certificate federal law and regulations require a substantial early withdrawal penalty and loss of the interest exclusion for federal income tax purposes. The All Savers rate of 12.61% is equivalent to the yields for taxable investments shown in the table. This table demonstrates how the All Savers Certificates can provide you with a higher after-tax yield than you may be earning from a money market mutual fund or on other investments.

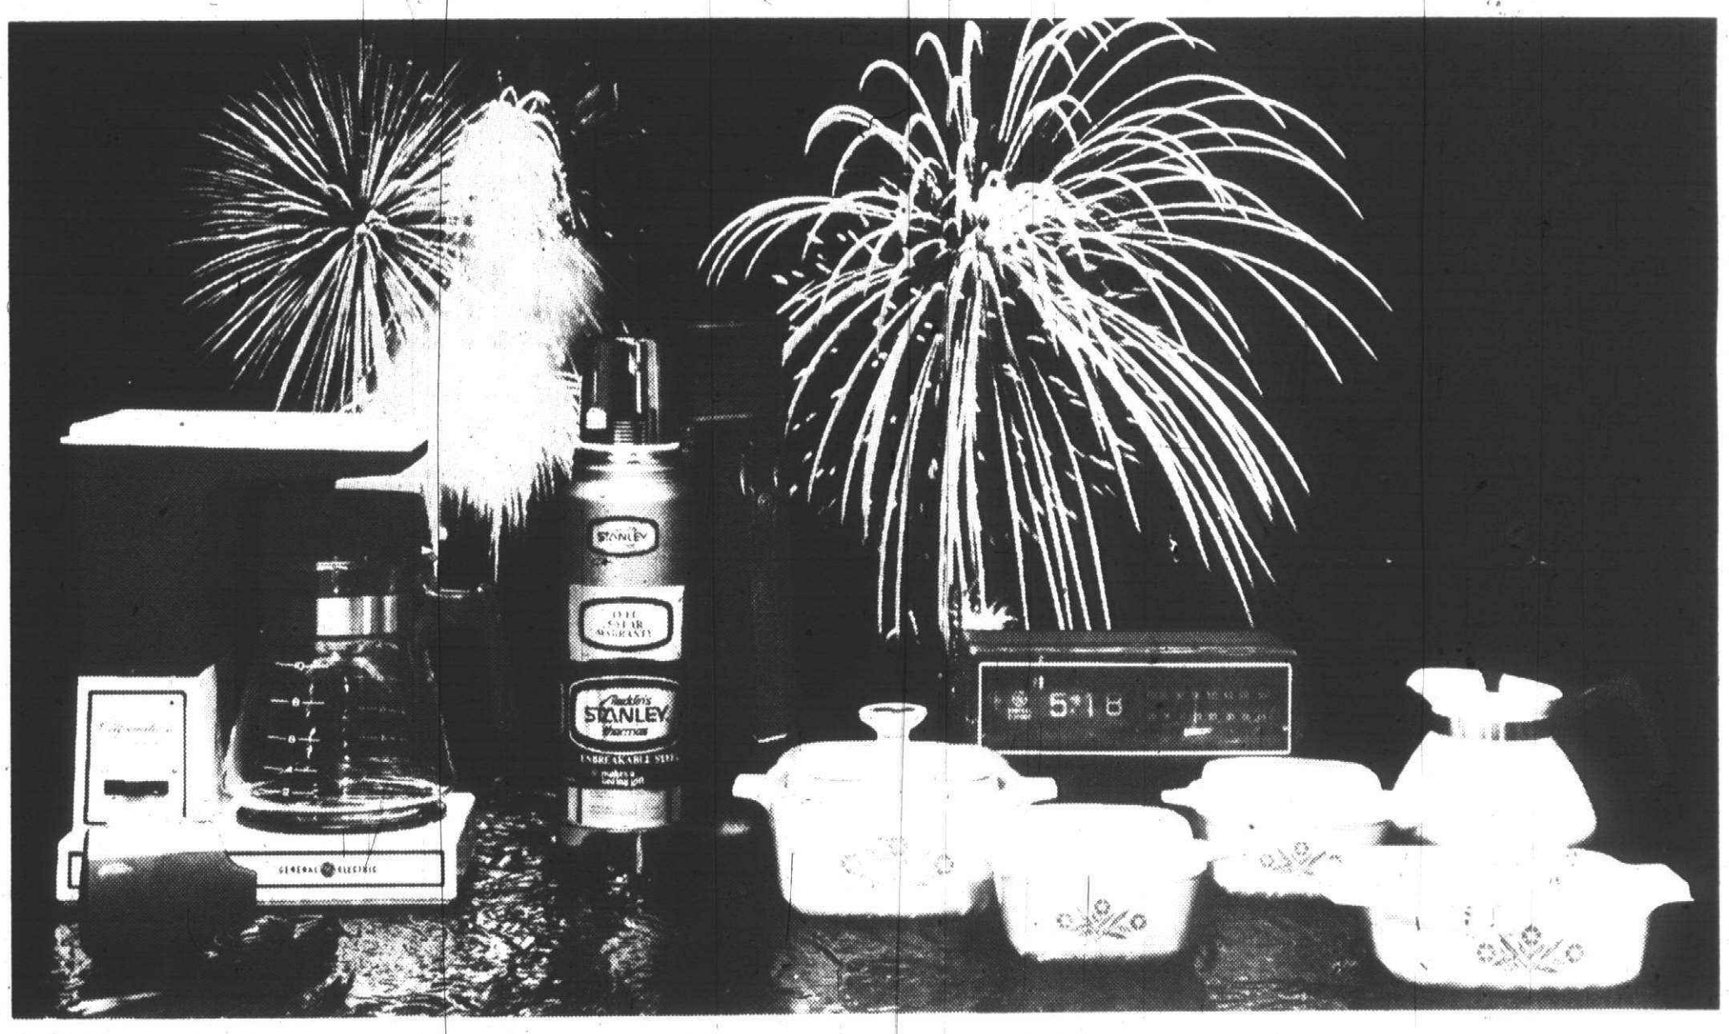

The deposit needed in your All Savers Certificate to achieve the maximum allowable deduction is $15,860.43 for a joint return and $7,930.21 for an individual return.

Compare the Tax-Free All Savers Rate of 12.61% with Yields on Taxable Investments.

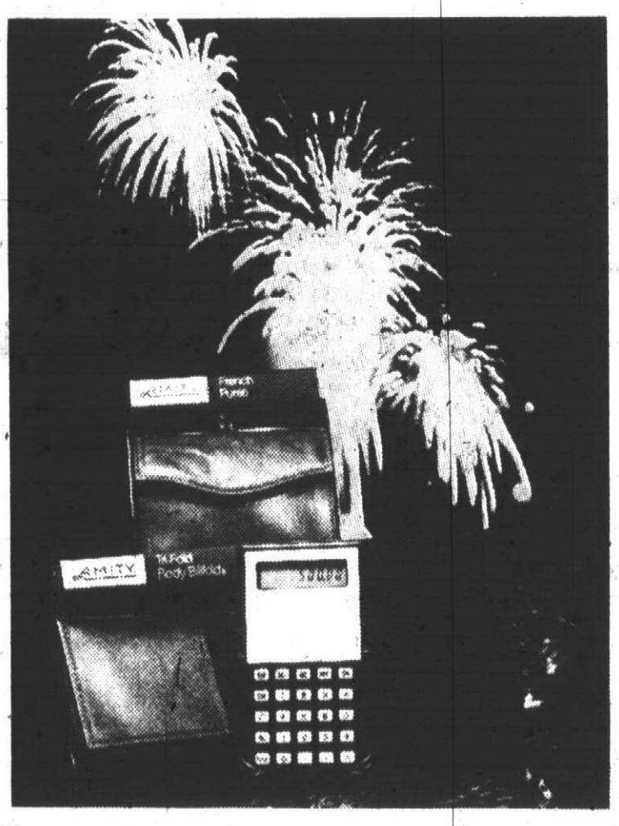

TAXABLE INCOME ON A JOINT RETURN	COMPARABLE YIELD ON TAXABLE INVESTMENTS	TAXABLE INCOME ON A JOINT RETURN	COMPARABLE YIELD ON TAXABLE INVESTMENTS
$10,000.00	15.38%	$ 70,000.00	27.41%
20,000.00	16.59%	80,000.00	27.41%
30,000.00	20.02%	90,000.00	30.76%
40,000.00	22.12%	100,000.00	30.76%
50,000.00	24.73%	110,000.00	35.03%
60,000.00	24.73%	120,000.00	35.03%

The yields shown in this table are based on 1981 tax rates but do not reflect the effects of any tax credits that may be available in 1981, nor do they take into account the 50% maximum tax rate on salary and wages. If tax-free interest is received in 1982, the comparable yield on taxable investments should be calculated using 1982 tax rates. In addition, the yield for the All Savers Certificate actually will be somewhat higher because the amount excluded from federal income tax is also not taxed by the State of Michigan.

Road leads to LA for marathon man

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Dave Hinz found out exactly why Chicago is called the "Windy City."

The 28-year-old Canton Township resident battled gale-force winds Sunday to place fifth in the America's Marathon, with a time of 2 hours, 18:03 minutes.

Phil Copess, a Clinton, Iowa, factory worker, won the grueling 26-mile, 375-yard event in 2:16.13. Frank Shorter, the 1972 Olympic champion, was third, and Gary Bjorklund, who has qualified for the last two U.S. Olympic teams, was eighth.

"It was unbelievable," said Hinz, who missed beating his best time by only 17 seconds. "I made the mistake to assume that the wind would sometime be at our backs. But we just kept running straight into a head wind."

The run took approximately 1,000 runners from Mayor Daly Plaza in downtown Chicago along Lake Shore Drive and through several ethnic neighborhoods. The event ended at a park back in the downtown area.

"I thought I was in shape to crank one," Hinz said. "I thought I could run a 2:14:0. Right now I'm in the best shape I've ever been, but I couldn't handle the wind.

"I feel I can run a better race, but I'm pleased, because it was almost a personal best. I set out and accomplished the goals I wanted to do. This set me up nicely for the New York City Marathon (Oct. 25)."

HINZ, who placed 35th in the U.S. Olympic Marathon trials last year in Niagara Falls, N.Y., was the leader along with Bjorklund for the first eight miles.

He was overhauled by the well-known Shorter on the 24th mile.

"When he (Shorter) passed me he offered words of encouragement," recalls Hinz. "He's one of the nicest gentleman you'll meet."

Hinz has his sights set on the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles.

"They say running gets better with age," said Hinz. "I've read where it takes 12 years to build up the cardiovascular system. Marathon runners usually come into their own in the late 20s to early 30s."

Hinz trains with members of Club Midwest, a group of runners from Ann Arbor and Lansing. He usually runs the hills of Ann Arbor or the flats of Canton.

"In the last five or six years I've been able to increase my mileage and workload and not get hurt," Hinz said. "It's a gradual process. I'm doing 110 to 120 miles a week now. Before, I couldn't maintain that without breaking down."

RECENTLY MARRIED, Hinz has worked an assortment of odd jobs in pursuit of an Olympic berth.

"I lived in a house with six other runners in Ann Arbor until a year ago," Hinz said. "I've had a lot of part-time jobs. While I was there I worked in the kitchen at Great Lakes Shipping with some of the other guys as I trained. This summer I worked for Vic Tanny.

"I've finally decided it's about time to get into a career."

Hinz, a 1975 graduate of Central Michigan University, is now training to be an insurance agent.

The 5-10, 142-pound long-distance man began running cross country as a junior at East Jackson High School. As a senior he was runner-up in the state Class C cross country meet and two-mile run in track.

He continued his running career at Central Michigan University, gaining all-Mid-American Conference honors.

Hinz, however, never won a league title.

"A guy named Wottle (Dave) beat me out," smiled Hinz, referring to the 800-meter champ in the 1972 Munich Olympics.

HINZ OFTEN trains indoors during the winter months with the Eastern Michigan University team.

"I've competed in a lot of road races," he said. "Most of my success is from 10 to 13 miles. I still like to run two to three miles to unwind."

Hinz, despite all his experience, has yet to run the famed Boston Marathon.

"That's one I haven't run," he said. "I was going to this year, but I came down with a virus and felt I wasn't ready. I won't go until I feel I can be in the top 20."

Although determined, Hinz shrugs off his chances of making the Olympic Games in Los Angeles.

"You have to realize how hard that is," he said. "Only three guys make it on one particular day. Everything has to be going right. Even the Gatorade has to be mixed right."

Marathon man

The Canton runner plans to compete this weekend in a 10,000 meter race at Northville. He'll then race in the Detroit Free Press Marathon the next week — breeze or no breeze.

Plymouth Salem cagers rip Fordson girls, 47-20

By Jay Keenan
special writer

Once again, Plymouth Salem took advantage of its strong perimeter shooting and coasted past Dearborn Fordson, 47-20, Tuesday night at the Salem gym.

The Rocks, known for their accurate long-range shooting, outsmarted Fordson's double-team strategy early in the game and passed to the open player near the top of the key when under pressure.

"I think a team makes a mistake when it tries to double-team us," Salem coach Bob Blohm said. "When a team does that, our players recognize it, and they throw it to the open person and we score.

"We're a pretty good perimeter-shooting team, so we pick up a lot of points when one of our girls gets an open shot out there."

Blohm was especially pleased with the play of guards Jacque Merrifield and Carol Ross, who both spearheaded the Rocks' passing game in the first half.

"Our passing was real good early in the game," Blohm said. "I thought our guards, Jacque and Carol, did a nice job making the cuts and getting the ball inside.

"We also played good defensively," Blohm continued. "Pam Hawkins is one of Fordson's top scorers, and we held her to just two points."

The Rocks, now 7-0 overall, leaped out to a commanding 14-1 first-quarter lead and waltzed the rest of the way. Salem increased its margin to 19-1 midway through the second period and took a 25-4 advantage into the locker room at the intermission.

"WE JUST let them be the aggressor," Fordson coach John Kreger said. "I think that set the text for them. I was impressed with the way they played, and I feel they deserve their state rating.

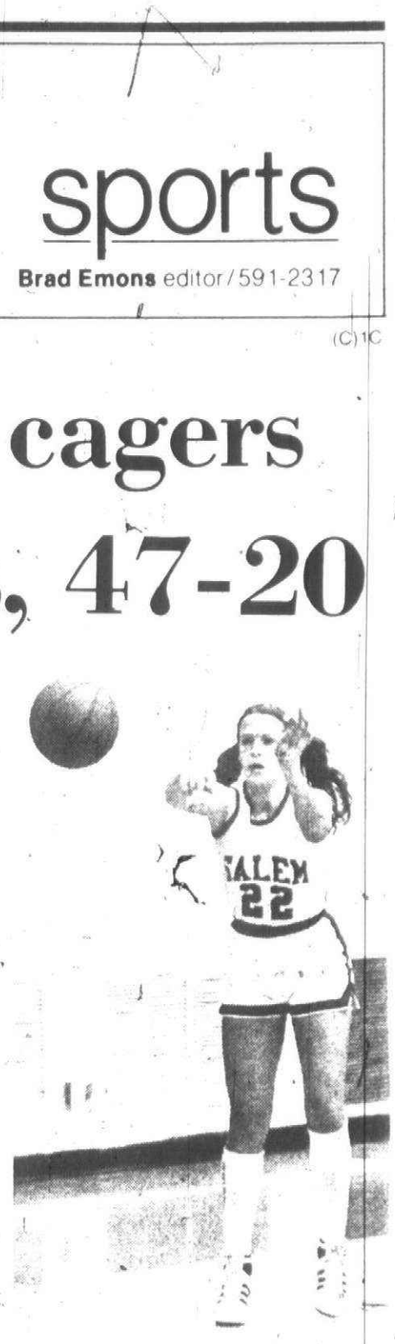

"But," Kreger continued, "I think the deceiving thing is that they've got four returning starters back and we only have one.

Kreger said he believes the Rocks, who are ranked sixth in the Class A by the Michigan High School Girls' Basketball Coaches Association, would be even stronger if they had a tall player on the team.

"The only thing that Salem lacks is a big girl," Kreger said. "I think they'd be even greater than they are now if they had a 6-footer on their team. That would probably help make them an even-better rebounding team.

Blohm also said he believed Salem's rebounding can be improved.

Jan MacKenzie, who shot well from the perimeter, led all scorers with 14 points, 12 in the first half. Eileen Moore added seven, and Ann Glomski chipped in with five.

C.J. Risak

"What a breakfast!"

I didn't have to ask my friend, Chuck Alug, what he meant. The food for consumption — stale doughnuts and coffee — wasn't nearly as scrumptious as the food for thought.

The sponsor of both entrees Monday at the Detroit Plaza Hotel was the Michigan Host Committee (MHC). And while the food they served appealed to few, what they said whetted many appetites — including Chuck's.

"I can't wait," he said as we listened to report after report on preparations for the Super Bowl, scheduled for Jan. 24 at the Pontiac Silverdome.

"I'm gonna take off from work the whole week before the game, then I'm gonna call in sick the week after," Chuck chuckled.

The reason was clear. Chuck Alug is a partier, a carouser, a womanizer, a drinker — he falls somewhere between Kenny Stabler and the Marquis de Sade. And there promised to be plenty of entertainment for both types of personalities during Michigan's Super Bowl.

"EVERYONE'S GOING to have a super time at this Super Bowl because Michigan's super!" the speaker at the microphone commanded.

Both Chuck and I were impressed by the organization of the MHC. The committee estimated some 70,000 fans would descend upon Michigan for the game and festivities, 3½ times more than the number that visited Detroit for the Republican National Convention last year.

The MHC is subdivided into 12 committees, each dealing with different aspects of the Super Bowl: transportation, airport, hotel, information booths, hospitality, decorations, retail, media, restaurant, finance, special events and, to oversee things, a steering committee.

"What are all these committees supposed to be doing?" someone standing nearby asked.

Chuck was only too eager to answer. "They have lunches. How else do you plan a social event as gigantic as this? You socialize."

The reason, Chuck explained, that so many people were involved in these committees was that everyone wanted, even insisted on being part of it.

"There's a lot of politicians and industrial leaders to please," Chuck said insightfully.

"SHHHHH!" Chuck hissed to the crowd. He whispered behind his hand to me, "This is the part I want to hear — more on the socializing."

"We want to make sure our super customers aren't cheated by bad service," a spokesman for the restaurant committee reported.

"And we want to include our local citizenry in this," he added. "We don't want to make that mistake again, like at the Republican Convention. We want to include them in the celebration."

And just what celebration was being planned?

"On Thursday, there will be a Super Pub-crawl, with Super Drinks, a Super Ball and Super Cheerleaders," another committee member said. "And on Friday . . ."

It was beginning to get too deep to fathom. A glance at Chuck revealed that his thoughts were in the future, drowning in a pool of alcoholic delirium.

MHC's objective was clear: Convince football's hierarchy that a great time could be had at a Super Bowl during a Detroit winter. If it took handing out the keys to the Stroh's Brewery to insure the fun, the MHC would do it.

'How else do you plan a social event as gigantic as this? You socialize.'

— Chuck Alug

"WHY?" I asked, almost to myself. Chuck, re-entering the present after his trip through time, overheard me and, of course, felt compelled to answer.

"I'll tell you why," he said. "Sixty million bucks — that's how much they figure to make on this. And to make sure they get a chance to make another sixty million in a few years with another Super Bowl, they'll do whatever they can to impress people this year."

That includes pub crawls throughout the metropolitan area; a winter festival at Pine Knob; a parade, snowmobile race and fireworks in Pontiac; an Oktoberfest in Frankenmuth; a winter carnival in Birmingham; even a dog-sled race in Flint.

"What's this going to cost?" I asked. Chuck handed me a sheet with the financial breakdown — a $439,000 budget, with $100,000 coming from Oakland County, $50,000 from hotel and restaurant contributions, $204,000 from corporate donations and the rest from fund-raisers.

AND WHERE does the money go? The biggest chunk goes to the MHC — $200,000 for a full-time staff and office in the Pontiac Silverdome. Another $120,000 will pay for stadium rental fees, with the remaining $119,000 for activities.

"That's a lot of money to spend just to butter people up," I remarked.

"What are you complaining about?" Chuck said defiantly. "Did you hear about this?"

He showed me a mimeographed sheet with activities on it. Included was a banquet honoring the sportswriters who have covered the 15 previous Super Bowls.

"You're a sportswriter," Chuck said. "Would you miss covering a Super Bowl if you had a choice?" I shook my head. "Then why do they honor guys for getting paid to go to an all-week party? Is that logical?"

With that, Chuck headed for the door. "I'm going home and start training for this," he answered me, anticipating my question. "I'll start with lifting weights — 12 ounce weights," he said with a grin as he headed out the door.

Plymouth Christian kickers roll

Salem wins despite injuries

Three starters went out with ankle injuries in the first half but that didn't stop Plymouth Salem from winning its fourth straight boys' soccer game Monday, 4-2, over Farmington Harrison.

"I'm pretty happy with it," said Salem coach Ken Johnson. "We had to used our bench and they all did a strong job."

John Moylneaux, Paul Weber and Keith Reynolds all left the game because of injuries. Moylneaux' injury was the most serious. He could be out of action for at least two games, said Johnson.

Picking up the slack were reserves Scott Schwartz (two goals), Chris Porter (one assist) and Dan Fisher.

Captain and center midfielder Paul Neschich, a senior, scored the other two goals. One came on a 30-yard free kick.

Brother Jeff Neschich, a sophomore midfielder, added two assists.

Vice-captain Bob Bowling, a centerfullback, and sophomore Matt Crook led a stiff Salem defense.

"A strong wind blowing made it difficult," said Johnson. "It made it tougher than I expected."

Salem jumped out to a 2-0 lead and never looked back in the match.

PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN 6
WIXOM CHRISTIAN 1

Darryl Wheeler and Brian Spicer each tallied two goals to lift Plymouth Christian Academy to a 6-1 boys' soccer win Tuesday over Wixom Christian.

Wheeler and Spicer did all their scoring in the first half. Jim Koss added another goal to make it 5-1 at halftime.

John Koss, who stopped seven shots, was the winning goaltender.

Younce auto on display

More than 75 antique, custom and specialty automobiles will be on display Sunday as part of the first-ever Plymouth Hilton Entertainment Festival to benefit the City of Hope National Medical Center.

The Festival, which will run from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m., will feature area race cars and special-interest vehicles.

A 1976 gull-winged Bricklin, produced in Canada and made of fiberglass, will be on display along with a 1948 Plymouth all-wood wagon, only one of four still shown in the United States.

Several area clubs also will display their vehicles. Among the clubs represented will be the Roadnights, Street Rods Limited, Michigan Street Rod Association, the Spark Plugs of South Lyon and the Michigan Hot Rod Association.

Plymouth Salem graduate Perry Younce, who was named 1980 Rookie of the Year at Flat Rock Speedway, will be on hand to discuss Super Modified stock-car racing. He will talk about his 1980 Ed Howe Camaro, which will be on display.

The 20-year-old Younce, who will be sponsored by the Plymouth Hilton, hopes to qualify next February for a NASCAR race in New Smyrna Beach, Fla.

Younce raced this past summer at Toledo and Checkered Flag in Windsor. He ranked sixth in points at Toledo.

Marino grabs 1st on golf links

Nunzio Marino fired a 36 as Plymouth Salem won a triangular golf match Tuesday afternoon at Brae Burn.

The Rocks, who have been struggling this season, edged rival Plymouth Canton and Redford Thurston by four strokes. Salem's five-player total was 207. Canton and Thurston had 211 each.

Backing up Marino's medalist performance were teammates Rob Ziegler, 39; Rob Rowland, 43; Todd Riedel, 44, and Pete Mitroff, 45.

Canton, which was blasted last Thursday by Farmington Harrison (208-231), bounced back with a respectable showing.

Junior Paul Phillips carded a 38 followed by sophomores Dave Musch and Eric Popp, 41 each; Tim McManaman, 42, and Glenn Forgie, 49.

"The kids are very, very happy with themselves," said Canton coach Casey Cavell. "They knew after Thursday they could play better golf."

John O'Leary of Thurston was second overall with a 38. Bob Proben shot a 38. Canton is now 1-5-1 overall in dual meets. Salem upped its record to 3-5.

Chief netters romp

Plymouth Canton, headed for a showdown Friday with Northville, won its third straight Western Six League girls' tennis match Monday with a 7-0 victory over Livonia Churchill.

The Chiefs, now 3-4 overall, will face Northville Friday. The match for first place starts at 4 p.m.

Against Churchill, the Chiefs won all seven matches in straight sets.

Kris Harrison, Canton's No. 1 singles player, coasted to a 6-1, 6-2 triumph over Julie Roman.

In other singles matches, Lori Smith (No. 2) defeated Elise Cameron, 6-2, 6-3; Julie Swain (No. 3) beat Abby Ahern, 6-2, 6-0; and Lisa Schlotz (No. 4) dismissed Kelly O'Shea, 6-0, 6-1.

In doubles, Julie Lloyd and Sheryl Smith (No. 1) cruised to a 6-4, 6-0 victory over Patty Mellon and Kathy Bowen.

600 series rare at local alleys

There was a time when a 600 series was considered tops among bowlers. But not any more. Things have changed to the extent that the double century figures are so common that nothing below the 600 score ever is reported.

Now, the big goal is a 700 series, and those too, have become more or less common. Four more were registered in the area during the past week, and two came at Westland Bowl.

They were registered in the mixed classic by John Wodarski, who set the pace with a 754, and Charles Riffle, who took the runner-up spot with 712.

At Mayflower Lanes, Chuck Apligian parlayed an opening 258 for a 715 and the fourth came in the Bowlerettes league at Luxury Lanes where Pat Russell used a 255 middle game for a 713.

TWO MEMBERS of the Bel-Aire classic narrowly missed the 700 goal last week when Freeman Wilson had a 264 in a 698 and Tony Stipcak had a 257 in 690.

There was a close race in the men's junior house league at Merri-Bowl and Ed Malinowski finally finished in the lead with a total of 658, three pins more than Rod Durham. Tim Pritchard landed third with a 636.

In the ladies' doubles, Kay Kanos earned a three-pin victory over Mary Topic with a 627.

THE TRAVELING LEAGUE had a big day at Garden Lanes, and, when the final pin fell, Bob Patterson was leading the parade with 670. Right behind him came Mike Noel with 660. Others who bettered the 600 mark were Ron Davis with 603, William Crawford with 602, and Ed Hasley with 601.

In the Vinco League, Jerry Ohl was high with 621 and in the ladies section, Alice Starr was the pacesetter with a 603.

CARL TOSHISZNY used a 258 opening game to win the top spot in the senior house league at Woodland Lanes with a final score of 662. This was 52 pins more than his closest rival, Tom Hudson, who had a 254 in a 610 series. In the Ford League, Bob Dalter was tops with a 245 in 596.

BILL TICKER stole the show in the strike and spare league at Super Bowl with a 681 gained on games of 225, 233 and 223. The high game of the week was registered in the St. John's league when Marlene Tippi registered a 254.

Cage victory streak on line

Plymouth Canton's girls basketball team tuned up for its Western Six League opener with a 53-38 victory over non-conference foe Walled Lake Central Tuesday night.

Canton will put its 5-1 overall record and league victory string of 43 games on the line tonight when the Chiefs travel to Northville for a 7:30 game against the Mustangs.

"We've won 43 straight in the league," Canton Head Coach Mike McCauley said, "and we're looking for 44. Hopefully, we'll get it."

Against Walled Lake Central, Canton turned an otherwise close ballgame into a rout with some solid defensive play in the second half. The Chiefs clung to a 20-18 lead at the half before putting the game out of reach with a 12-8 scoring advantage in the third quarter and a 21-12 outburst in the last period.

"I was really happy with our defense," McCauley noted. "The defense was good. We stole the ball more than 26 times, and that helped since we were lacking in the shooting department."

The Chiefs' 22 percent (eight-for-36) shooting in the first half attested to McCauley's concern, although his cagers hit a more respectable 12-for-25 in the final two quarters.

PEARLY CUNNINGHAM topped the Canton scorers with 14 points and Robyn Hudgins added a dozen. Cindy Sovine chipped in with seven points for the Chiefs.

HI-TECH SKIS. HI-PERFORMANCE DEALER.
ROSSIGNOL
No matter how fine a ski may be, it's important to shop for your ski store every bit as carefully as you shop for the ski itself. That's because even the finest skis won't perform to their fullest capacity unless they're properly fitted, and unless they've been well chosen to match the ski's technology to your own unique abilities, strength and style.
At Bavarian Village, you'll find the ski department manned by skiers who love the sport and who love helping people get the most out of it. The most fun. The most value for their equipment dollar. We're proud to have been chosen as an authorized Rossignol dealer. It's an honor that not everyone earns. And it's an honor that we'll do everything in our power to merit. Come in today. See the superb new Hi-Tech Rossignol skis. And ask our advice: it's free. Because we don't just want to sell you some skis. We want to make you a long-term customer.

Franklin defies grid predictions

C.J. Risak

So there's no such thing as an upset, eh, Mr. Emons, alias the "Expert Prognosticator"?

Well then how do you account for an 8-4 record last week?

Between the two of us, we have been consistent in one thing — being wrong about Livonia Franklin. When Franklin lost their starting quarterback, Chris Panzl, in the opening loss to Plymouth Salem, both Brad and I thought the Patriots were in for a long season.

So we picked Franklin to lose, not only because of the loss of Panzl, but also because the competition was so intense — Livonia Stevenson followed by North Farmington, both favorites in their respective leagues.

Of course, we looked pretty silly when the Patriots won both contests.

Now Franklin goes up against Redford Union. A victory would make the Patriots a serious contender for the Northwest Suburban League (NSL) title.

There's another important contest in the NSL, as unbeaten Westland John Glenn visits North Farmington. These two games will go a long way toward deciding the NSL.

Other major confrontations this week are in the Catholic League, which starts its league season this week. Here's how I see this weekend's prep games. Brad Emons record is 16-7 (69.5 percent), mine stands at 9-4 (69.3 percent).

REDFORD ST. AGATHA AT DETROIT BENEDICTINE — There are three important Catholic games this weekend, and this may be the most important concerning championships. The Aggies remained undefeated Sunday by routing Hamtramck St. Florian, 42-0. Mike Skiver and a tenacious defense made the difference for St. Agatha.

Skiver rambled for 210 yards on 20 carries, scored three touchdowns and booted four extra points. The defense limited St. Flo's to two first downs and 67 total yards.

Benedictine is 2-1, beating Pontiac Catholic 6-0 last weekend. The Ravens have won the Catholic C-D title the last two seasons and were preseason favorites to repeat. Benedictine's defense is tough, but so is the Aggie running attack. PICK — ST.AGATHA BY A POINT.

HARPER WOODS NOTRE DAME AT REDFORD BISHOP BORGESS — A more evenly matched contest could not be found. Both teams are 2-1, Borgess losing to Ypsilanti, 21-6, despite an outstanding performance by quarterback Rich Franz, who completed 21 of 30 passes for 251 yards. Borgess coach Gary Cook said his team beat itself. Notre Dame has had similiar problems, moving the ball but not scoring. The winner will have an important jump in the Central Division. PICK — BORGESS BY TWO.

DETROIT CATHOLIC CENTRAL AT SOUTHGATE AQUINAS — Central's running game went flat in its loss to Ann Arbor Pioneer. Aquinas buried Ecorse, 39-0, allowing only 14 yards on offense while gaining more than 300. The Raiders are 3-0, making this a test for Central. Still, the Shamrocks will be out for revenge. PICK — CC BY 10.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN AT REDFORD UNION — Franklin has been the surprise of the season, with two big wins in the last two weeks. Quarterback Richard Popp was outstanding in the 13-7 upset of North Farmington, completing nine of 14 passes for 148 yards and two touchdowns. Will Popp's passes stop RU, which shut out Garden City East, 21-0? I think the miracles are over for Franklin. PICK — RU BY A TOUCHDOWN.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN AT NORTH FARMINGTON — This game loomed as very important before North was upset by Franklin on Saturday. Before the season, North coach Ron Holland feared a lack of running backs might hamper his offense. It proved to be well-founded in Saturday's loss — the Raiders had only 70 yards rushing. That's not all that went wrong for North, which failed to stop Popp's passing. Glenn's Rick Wilson has quarterbacked the Rockets to a 3-0 record and has thrown six scoring passes. If North's pass defense is deficient, Wilson will beat it. I think North will be better prepared this week. PICK — NORTH BY THREE.

LIVONIA BENTLEY AT PLYMOUTH SALEM — Both teams are 1-2, but that's where the similarity ends. Salem has lost to two of the state's best teams, Trenton and Dearborn Edsel Ford. Bentley was embarrassed by Belleville last week, 21-3. It won't be any easier for Bentley this week against Salem. PICK — SALEM BY 14.

GARDEN CITY EAST AT REDFORD THURSTON — This will be a close contest, although neither team will win too many other games this year. Thurston had a bad first half Friday against John Glenn, while East had its hands full the entire time in its loss to RU. The loser will probably finish in the NSL cellar. PICK — THURSTON BY SIX.

CLARENCEVILLE AT DEARBORN HEIGHTS ANNAPOLIS — Clarenceville has a powerful set of running backs in Dennis Respecki and Rob Soop, but the Trojans have had a difficult time the past two weeks. Annapolis is 2-1, same as Clarenceville, but Clarenceville is the better team. PICK — CLARENCEVILLE BY 10.

LIVONIA STEVENSON AT FARMINGTON — Despite Farmington's poor records over the past few years, they always play Stevenson evenly but find a way to lose. The Falcons are 0-3 this year and should be easy pickin's for the Spartans. But I smell an upset. PICK — FARMINGTON BY TWO.

Lady Ocelots gain respect

The Schoolcraft College women's volleyball team took on senior colleges at the University of Michigan last Saturday, and earned a lot of respect, if not victories.

The Lady Ocelots beat George Williams College 15-9, 15-7 and then lost matches to Grand Valley 15-12, 13-15, 14-16; Indiana State 2-15 and 6-15 and host U-M 13-15, 15-12 and 8-15.

Coach Mike O'Toole was especially pleased with the play of Leigh Feenstra, Nancy Hughes and Kim O'Neill.

The week before, the Lady Ocelots defeated Lansing Community College and Nazareth College. O'Toole praised Karen Kelley as the team's most effective attacker, and O'Neill for her play on defense.

The Michigan High School Girls' Basketball Coaches Association (MHSGBCA) ranks three area teams No. 1 in their respective classes.

Livonia Bentley (Class A), Livonia Ladywood (Class B) and Redford St. Agatha (Class C) were all picked for the top slots.

Ladywood moved up from the No. 3 spot after lopsided victories over Detroit Dominican and Sarnia (Ont.) St. Patrick.

The Blazers, who earned runner-up honors last year in Class B, face a stiff test Tuesday at unbeaten Dearborn Divine Child, the state's No. 5 team.

Plymouth Salem tied for No. 6 in Class A with Marquette and Utica Eisenhower. Livonia Franklin, which posted a big victory Tuesday over Farmington, is ranked No. 10 in Class A.

Redford Union moved into the No. 8 spot in the Observer cage poll this week after beating Garden City East and Livonia Churchill.

RU, which won the Northwest Suburban League crown two years ago, will travel tonight to meet Franklin. RU's only losses this year are to Bentley and Farmington Hills Our Lady of Mercy (No. 2 in Class A).

THE BULLDOGS, who downed Redford Thurston Tuesday night, continue to march toward an Oct. 15 Suburban Eight League showdown with Plymouth Salem.

Last year Bentley won both regular season meetings enroute to its second straight league crown. Salem, however, beat the Bulldogs in overtime in the regional final at Southfield and advanced to the semifinals.

Bentley, also ranked No. 1 in the Detroit Free Press, meets Franklin again Oct. 27 and Salem on the road in its season finale Nov. 12.

In another interesting match-up, Franklin travels to Plymouth Salem Oct. 13.

Junior cage league begins sign-up

The Plymouth-Canton Junior Basketball Association (PCJBA) will hold registration for the upcoming season from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 3 and 10, at the Canton High School Phase III gym (Canton Center and Joy roads).

Youngsters in grades three through 12 are eligible to compete.

Leagues will be divided by grades as follows: C League, girls (grades three through four) and boys (third-graders); B League, boys (grades four-five) and girls (grades five-seven); A League, boys (grades six-seven); AA League, girls (grades eight-12); AAA League, boys (grades 11-12).

All registrants must be accompanied by a parent. The registration fees are as follows: C League, $15; B, A and AA leagues, $18, and AAA League, $23.

Each registrant is required to purchase $5 worth of raffle tickets to support the annual PCJBA fund-raiser. A family registration fee (including raffle tickets) is $70. An additional $5 will be charged to any persons registering after Oct. 10.

Those interesting in officiating also can register on the above-mentioned dates. Coaches also are needed. Inquire at registration.

PCJBA teams usually practice one to two evening sessions per week (1½ hours). C, B and A League games will be held on Saturdays beginning Oct. 15. The season will end March 6. AA and AAA League games will be held on weeknights.

TRYOUTS WILL be held in order to place players on teams. All players must play one quarter and not more than three per game. Third-grade leagues are instructional and youngsters must play at least one half of each contest.

Registration for the Plymouth-Canton Junior Basketball Association (PCJBA) will take place the next two Saturdays at Canton High School.

Chief swimmers splash non-league foe

Missy McMurray, Kris Burns and Kim Elliott each captured two events to power Plymouth Canton to a 100-59 non-league girls' swim victory over Dearborn Fordson Tuesday night.

The Chiefs, 2-2 overall, also won both relay events.

McMurray was victorious in the 200- and 500-yard freestyles with times of 2:15.3 and 6:10.7 minutes, respectively.

She also anchored Canton to a first-place triumph in the 400 freestyle relay. She teamed with Dennis DeBell Noelle Murphy and Julie Silber to post a time of 4:37.6.

Burns won the 50 freestyle (29.3 seconds) and 100 backstroke (1:14.6). She was the leadoff leg in the 200 medley relay, which hit the wall in first place with a clocking of 2:13.0. Other members of the team included Elliott, Kathy Stern and Bronwyn Fitzgerald.

Elliott, a sophomore, took first in the 200 individual medley (2:42.5) and 100 breaststroke (1:18.9).

Stern placed first in the 100 butterfly with a time of 1:10.2.

In diving, the Chiefs' Shawn Neville and Cindy Sherwood gained second and third, respectively.

Canton will travel Thursday to meet Northville in a Western Six League meet.

BRIGHTON 96
SALEM 76

Brighton, recent winner of the Plymouth Rotary Invitational, splashed Salem in a girls" swim meet Tuesday night, 96-76.

"We got touched out in a number of races," Salem coach Chuck Olson said. "It was one of those nights. Our times were a little bit off, and that's all it took.

"We swam all right, but I think we can do better."

Terri Eudy, a senior standout, was Salem's only double victor. She finished first in the 200 IM (2:20.0) and 500 freestyle (5:41.2).

Other Salem first-place finishers included Cindy Sherwood, who remained unbeaten in diving with 203.7 points; Debbie Darlington, 100 backstroke, 1:10.1, and Corinne Cabadas, 100 breaststroke, 1:15.6.

Second-place finishers for the Rocks included B.J. Bing, 100 butterfly, 1:08.8; Amy Dunn, 100 freestyle, 1:01.0; Kim Nelson, 100 breaststroke, 1:18.8.

Rock harriers lose; Canton course opens

Livonia Churchill defeated Plymouth Salem Tuesday in a non-league boys' cross country meet, 22-35, at Cass Benton Park.

The Rocks' Frank Brosnan, however, finished first in the three-mile event with a time of 16:43.

Churchill, 2-2 overall in dual meets, claimed the next three spots — Don Miller, second, 16:49; Mike Blaies, third, 16:56; and Al Clemens, fourth, 16:58.

Other Salem finishers included Skip Whittaker, eighth, 17:21; Mike McBride, ninth, 17:30; and Paul Mills, 12th, 18:05.

THURSTON 24
CANTON 32

Plymouth Canton opened its new course, located behind the school, by losing to Redford Thurston Tuesday afternoon, 22-34.

Robin Peters of Thurston, who finished first, became the course record holder with a time of 16:44. Teammates Ken Showich (17:10) and Kevin Swintek (17:13) placed second and third, respectively.

Dan Henry of Canton took fourth with a time of 17:32! He was followed by teammates Tim Collins, fifth, 17:32, and Tom Pasley, sixth, 17:36.

Other Canton finishers included Todd Gattoni, eighth, 17:56; Brian Lee 11th, 18:32; and Chris Albaugh, 14th, 18:43.

In the girls' race, Maureen Brophy, a sophomore, posted a time of 22:35.

Today is birthday day for Walt Disney World

By Iris Sanderson Jones
special writer

TODAY IS the 10th anniversary of Walt Disney World, which opened in a Florida cow patch on Oct. 1, 1971. Mickey Mouse, Pluto and friends are launching a year-long birthday party to celebrate the event.

More than 125 million people have visited the Magic Kingdom since it opened, making it the world's top tourist attraction — at least as far as the numbers are concerned. All of those millions have toured around Cinderella's Castle, but a much smaller number enjoy the facilities available outside the Kingdom.

The Disney staff calls it "the rest of the property," hundreds of acres of hotels, shopping villages, golf courses, townhouses, condominiums, and a large camping complex called Fort Wilderness.

FORT WILDERNESS is a 600-acre campground resort where families can park their tents, tent trailers and mobile homes in the midst of recreational facilities within sight of the Magic Kingdom.

A tent site costs $19 a day. But if you want to live it up, you can spend $75 a day to rent a luxurious Fleetwood Trailer that includes daily maid service and sleeps six.

Fort Wilderness, which is on Lake Buena Vista adjacent to River Country, includes 800 wooded campsites, two trading posts, riding stables, nature trails and a large dining and entertainment complex as well as a petting zoo.

The stables include both trail horses and the huge Belgian draft horses that regularly pull trams through the streets of the Magic Kingdom.

You can check into Fort Wilderness for one to seven days. Your $19 camping fee gives you access to all the transportation systems at Disney World, including an old-fashioned steam train that takes you around the campground area.

Nighttime activities include free campfires, movies and singalongs, a $15 dinner show called Hoop-de-Doo in Pioneer Hall and a kids-night-out called the Marshmallow March, a combination canoe-ride ghost-story entertainment.

RIVER COUNTRY, next door, offers a variety of water sports including an old swimming hole, white water rapids, an inner tube ride and lots of beach activities. A River Country day ticket costs $5.75 for adults and $3.50 for kids.

Regular free transportation is also available to the Magic Kingdom, where campers get a slight discount on admission fees.

Under the ticket system introduced this year, you can buy a one- or two-day passport that admits you to all of the 45 events in the Magic Kingdom. Costs are $13 for adults, $12 for juniors 12-17, $11 for children 3-11, for the one-day passport; $22.50 for adults, $20.50 for juniors and $18.50 for children, for a two-day passport.

Popular World Adventure Series branches out from Art Institute

THE WORLD Adventure Series is expanding all over town this year, from its regular stage at the Detroit Institute of Arts to screens in Westland, Ferndale and Ann Arbor.

These excellent travel films and lectures, founded by George Pierrot and conducted by him from 1933 until his death in 1979, are now coordinated and introduced by Ken Lawrence of Pontiac.

KEN WILL open the 1981-82 series when he presents Robin Williams and the Life of Rome Oct. 11 at the usual Sunday afternoon starting time, 2 p.m.

The 1981 program includes The Ancient World, Athens to Cairo, Oct. 18; Iceland, Oct. 25; Beyond the Zambezi, Nov. 1; the Inside Passage, Nov. 8; Sweden, Nov. 15; Orinoco River, Nov. 22; Ireland, Nov. 29; America's Secret Places, Dec. 6; and Tunisia, Dec. 13.

Lawrence is both filmmaker and lecturer, as well as master of ceremonies, for the Tunisia presentation.

Two other monthly series will continue this year. Small, Small World Adventure will be held at the Youtheatre on Saturdays at 2 p.m. Oct. 17 through May 29. Tickets are $2.50 ($1.75 for World Adventure Series season ticket holders).

SMALL, SMALL World Adventure schedule is Toronto, Oct. 17; Austria, Nov. 28; Michigan, Dec. 26; Disney World, Jan. 2; Africa, Feb. 27; Hawaii, March 20; Alaska, April 17; and Lake Superior, May 29.

The Thursday World of Adventure, at 10:30 a.m. Thursdays, offers five monthly shows for a total of $6. This series includes The New Holland, Oct. 29; Spain Ala Carte, Nov. 19; Incomparable Greece, Jan. 21; Britain, Feb. 18; Bible Lands, March 25.

The suburban showings of the World Adventure Series will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday nights in Ferndale, Monday nights in Trenton, and Thursday nights in Westland. All co-sponsored by the community departments of parks and recreation.

Linda Blom of Westland coordinates that series on behalf of the Wayne/Westland Arts Association, under the sponsorship of the Westland Department of Parks and Recreation, at the Bailey Recreation Center on Ford Road.

THE WESTLAND series includes Finland, Oct. 29; Germany, Nov. 19; Hawaii, Dec. 10; Spain, Jan. 21; Britain, Feb. 18; and Alaska, March 24.

Lawrence will also launch an Ann Arbor series on Thursday nights at the Mendelsohn Theatre in Ann Arbor, with ethnic dinners served before each show.

Season tickets for the World Adventure Series held on Sunday afternoons at the Detroit Institute of Arts are $43 for a full season; $23 for the fall season; $26 for the spring season and $3.25 for single tickets.

The 1981-82 Travel Film Series sponsored by the Community House in Birmingham has also been announced. It begins Nov. 6 with "Sweden" and runs on Friday and Saturday nights, two weekends a month, through April 3.

An ethnic dinner, featuring foods native to the country shown on film, is served before each film showing. Reservations are necessary. Season tickets are $32.50.

Florida's Disney World is still growing at 10 and his friends will stage a mammoth parade and birthday party every day at 1 and 6 p.m. in the Magic Kingdom. A new show has also been introduced into Tomorrowland.

THE BIG NEWS for 1982, however, is the scheduled opening of the EPCOT Center on Oct. 1, the 11th anniversary of Disney World.

The new center, about a mile east of the entrance to Disney World, will be a premanent international exhibition in two parts: Future World and World Showcase. It will show the history of western civilization, as well the technological changes we can expect in tomorrow's world.

Exhibits focused on such things as communications, and new ways to grow food on land and sea, will be offset by traditional Disney entertainment.

If you are interested in exploring Disney World from the campground at Fort Wilderness, make reservations by telephoning (305) 824-8000 or by writing to Walt Disney World Central Reservations Office, Box 78, Lake Buena Vista, Fla. 32830.

The easiest time to get reservations, and the best time to visit the park, is in fall or spring. You can expect long, long lines in the Magic Kingdom and a full house in the park during summer months, Christmas and Easter.

8-10PM NBC (7 Central/Mountain)
THE HARLEM GLOBETROTTERS ON GILLIGAN'S ISLAND
Several of the original castaways are joined by the famed hoopsters: Bob Denver, Alan Hale, Jr., Russell Johnson, Dawn Welles, Natalie Schafer and Jim Bacus. Fun on that ole South Pacific atoll.

9-11PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain)
THE MANIONS OF AMERICA. (Part 2) Saga of the immigrant generation that put down roots, that grew and flourished into what is today hailed as "the American spirit."

10-11PM NBC (9 Central/Mountain)
THE SOPHISTICATED GENTS. (Conclusion) A murder investigation threatens to mar the reunion of nine members of a black athletic-social club honoring the coach who inspired them as youths. A test of loyalty and comradeship.

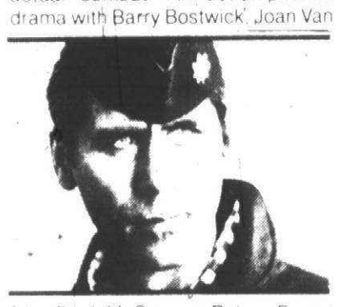

FRI., OCT. 2

9-11PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain)
THE MANIONS OF AMERICA. (Conclusion)

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain)
JET PILOT John Wayne and Janet Leigh as two military fliers... one American (guess which one) and one Russian... working to carry out espionage for their respective nations until they fall in love.

SAT., OCT. 3

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)
RED FLAG: THE ULTIMATE GAME
A fictional account of the incredibly realistic aerial war games routinely staged by the Air Force at Nellis Air Force Base in Nevada... the most realistic fighter-pilot training short of actual combat. An action-packed drama with Barry Bostwick, Joan Van Ark, Fred McCarren, Debra Feuer, George Coe, Linden Chiles, Arlen Dean Snyder and William Devane. Enemy tactics and combat lore.

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain)

Brooke Shields

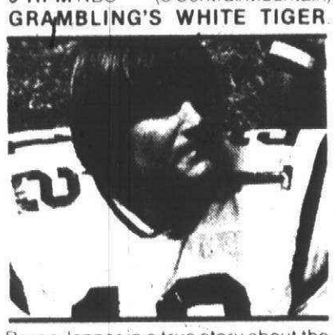

TILT Light-hearted adventure about a teen-age pinball whiz and her association with a struggling rock singer. Brooke Shields is the "whiz" nicknamed "Tilt" (hummm???) and Ken Marshall portrays the vocal entertainer. Charles Durning steals the show in this TV movie premiere.

SUN., OCT. 4

7-8PM ABC (6 Central/Mountain)
THE WAVE A chilling story of a teacher's experiment to prove that the horror of the Nazi youth movement could be spawned in this country.

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain)

MON., OCT. 5

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)
THE MIRACLE OF KATHY MILLER

Drama based on a true story about a courageous young lady who survives a near fatal accident and went on to run "miracle miles" (10 kilometers) and receive England's Victoria Award as the world's most courageous athlete. With Sharon Gless, Frank Converse, Helen Hunt and Bill Beyers in a tale of 6.2 miles of agony and ecstacy.

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain)
SIDNEY SHORR Tony Randall is a lonely artist who shares a loving but platonic relationship with a woman half his age... even raising her child as his own.

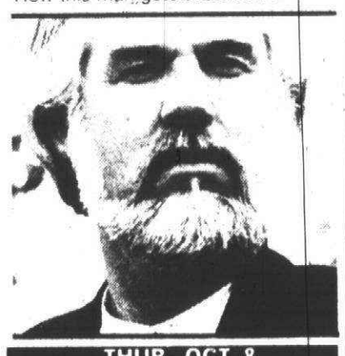

TUES., OCT. 6

Return of the Beverly Hillbillies

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)
RETURN OF THE BEVERLY HILLBILLIES The Clampetts and friends return in a new version of the long-running '60's hit, with a hilarious and improbable solution to the '80's energy crisis. Buddy Ebsen as "Jed", along with Nancy Culp, Donna Douglas and Imogene Coca debuting as "Granny's" hundred-year-old Maw.

WED., OCT. 7

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)
COWARD OF THE COUNTRY Drama set during World War II, starring Kenny Rogers as a flamboyant self-styled preacher. The script uses as its narrative springboard the lyrics from one of Rogers hit singles. How this man gets around!!!

THUR., OCT. 8

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)
CAGNEY & LACEY Loretta Swit and Tyne Daly as a couple of best friends and police officers who, while dealing with on-the-job sexism, outdistance their male peers by cracking a tough murder case.

HOUSE-HUNTING HEADACHES?. . . THOMPSON-BROWN HAS THE CURE!

Our exclusive Homes For Living magazine can be a sure cure for your house-hunting headaches.

It shows pictures, prices and descriptions of homes currently for sale throughout this area, so you can tell at a glance which homes may be of interest to you.

And, if you're moving out of town, we have hundreds of different Homes For Living magazines, showing current listings in thousands of communities throughout the United States, Canada and the Caribbean.

And this magazine is just as valuable when you want to sell your home, because it reaches buyers right here, and those who are moving here from out of town. (Did you know they account for more than one third of all sales?)

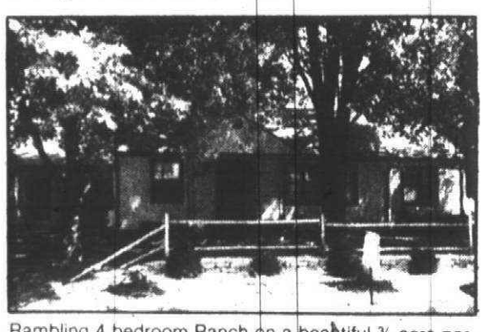

So when you feel a house-hunting headache coming on, call us.

"ASSUMPTION BUYERS." We have funds to help you assume mortgages that may be too far to reach. Call for details.

Portraying an ambitious southern belle in "Texas" is a pleasure for actress Pam Long, a former Miss Alabama who respects her southern roots.

Roping viewers takes some doing

By Kathy Parrish
staff writer

Texas is today's land of opportunity.

At least that's the way it looked to NBC, which counted on the Lone Star state's appeal to lure viewers away from the popular ABC daytime series "General Hospital." But corraling soap opera fans isn't easy.

"Daytime viewers are devoted," said Don May, a longtime soap star who recently joined the "Texas" cast as Grant Wheeler. "We're an integral part of the family. And they respond to us like that."

"Texas," which started its second year in August, is a departure from traditional daytime dramas. Billed as "southern-style entainment," it features tall actors in spacious settings, special warm lighting to represent southwest sun and country-western music.

It's setting isn't fictional, but like the successful nightime series "Dallas" takes place in lavish Texas mansions and ranches.

Handicaps explored

In the spirit of the United Nations' resolution proclaiming 1981 the International Year for Disabled Persons, WTVS/Channel 56 will feature a series of specials related to the topic of handicaps.

Upcoming specials include Fred Rogers of "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood" in an eight-part series "I Am, I Can, I Will." The specials dealing with children and disabilities air Sundays.

"Stepping Out," to be aired Oct. 7, is a film showing how a group of mentally handicapped persons form an acting company.

The Academy Award-winning drama "Board and Care" focuses on the relationship between a young man and a woman with Down's Syndrome. The lead actor and actress in the Oct. 14 show both have Down's Syndrome in real life.

In addition, Channel 56 regularly presents the "Captioned ABC News" Tuesdays through Saturdays. Other "closed captioned" programs include "Masterpiece Theatre," Sundays and Thursdays; "Nova" Tuesdays and Saturdays; and "Over Easy" weekdays.

Closed captions are coded signals visible with a special closed caption adapter sold at Sears.

Corraling soap fans isn't easy

"We're not in middle America, but Houston. I think there's real courage in stating that. We're not mythical," said May, who portrayed lawyer Adam Drake on the daytime drama "Edge of Night" for 10 years.

CONFIDENCE in the drawing power of the Lone Star state led to head-on scheduling with ABC's number one soap, "General Hospital."

"The movie 'Giant' said a lot about America," explained May, a former Houston resident who calls the city a place of "big bucks and big emotions."

"In this frame we can explore a lot about this country."

A spin-off of NBC's long-lived soap "Another World," "Texas" features one of daytime's most popular actresses. "AW's" Beverlee McKinsee plays the venemous Iris Carrington Wheeler in the newer show.

But all those winning ingredients didn't attract enough viewers to dent the ratings. So the show recently started its second year with a new executive producer, different writers, cast changes and an even fresher look.

"If you haven't seen 'Texas' lately, you haven't seen it," said actress Pam Long, appearing locally with May to promote the drama.

"When you turn on the TV, 'Texas' jumps out at you. There's a feeling of heat, weight, brightness and starkness that makes it different."

"One of our ambitions is to give the feeling of space," said May, who returned to daytime after several nighttime series, movies and theater stints.

"We have large people on the show and literally put space between actors. Most soap operas take place in the kitchen and bedroom."

A FORMER Miss Alabama, Ms. Long kids that the show "puts a lot of southerners to work." But in all seriousness, she's pleased to revert to a southern accent for her role as "steel magnolia" Ashley Linden.

"Southerners are a group of people I love and respect. They still speak softly and live with dignity," said the brunette, who lives in New York City where the show is produced by Proctor & Gamble.

Although it hasn't been easy breaking into the daytime market, the cast is feeling more confident these days. NBC officials say the daytime drama is now "holding its own."

"The first 18 months is traditionally rough for a daytime drama," said Gail Kobe, who replaced Paul Rauch as executive supervising producer.

"A serial like this becomes popular not only through exciting stories and characters, but because viewers feel that they actually know the characters. Our audience needs a certain amount of time just to familiarize themselves with the men and women of Texas."

An ex-actress and producer of soaps like "Return to Peyton Place" and "Days of Our Lives," she feels the show's period of adjustment is nearly over.

"We're really confident about what we're able to do now. And we're trying to take advantage of the uniqueness of our theme as much as we possibly can."

Actress Long, at 27 appearing in her first series, admits to "hating" Texas's underdog status. She's convinced, though, the show is a good one and people will "get tired of the fads going on. The cream always rises to the top."

May, 52 and in the business 30 years, is also philosophical about the show which brought him back to daytime TV. "We're up against the number one soap, but I think if what we do is of any worth we'll get our share of the audience. I feel if we deserve recognition, we'll get it."
