The Canton Connection

TWO WARNING signs soon will be installed on Joy near the Mettetal Airport, according the Wayne County Road Commission. The signs will warn residents of low-flying aircraft coming near the road. The signs will read "CAUTION — Low Flying Aircraft."

CHILDREN AT Field Elementary School in Canton soon will begin a nine-day Read-a-thon to help earn money for the children of the world through United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF). More than 700 children, kindergarten through fifth grade, will begin silent reading on Oct. 19 at Field School's media center. Children will collect donations for the books they read through Oct. 30.

An all-school celebration assembly will mark the end of this event from 1:45-3 p.m. on Halloween Day, Oct. 31, at Field's gym. The children will come to this assembly with Halloween costumes. Halloween is the national holiday for UNICEF.

PETER NEWELL, president of Omnicom of Michigan, the company that has the cable franchise in Canton, says he knows nothing about a study that says local government meetings drag on — longer and longer — when televised on a cable station.

Canton Supervisor Jim Poole made Newell aware of this study at last week's regular board meeting.

Can you imagine that? If the study is correct, some may hope the local Plymouth-Canton station never comes to a Canton Township board meeting.

Some meetings, and discussions, are long enough right now. If the cameras emerge on Township Hall, the meeting may not end until 3 a.m.

SPEAKING OF Township Hall, the wise, old stork has spread its wings on one of the township employees and spouse. Yes, a new addition to the world is coming soon to a township worker and spouse. Can you guess which one?

Our question is simple — doesn't this new pregnancy go against the philosophy of township officials when they say Canton is a "planned community?"

CHILDREN BEWARE. A Halloween program for school-age children, kindergarten and older, will be sponsored by the Canton Library from 10:30-11:30 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 24. No advanced registration is required.

The program, called "Witches, Goblins and Sometimes Ghosts," features scary stories, films, games and treats.

THE REGULAR meeting for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools begins at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the school administration, 454 S. Harvey, Plymouth — south of Ann Arbor Trail. Revision on policies concerning the Open Meetings Act is one of the school agenda items. The school board regularly meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

Canton's Board of Trustees will hold its regular meeting at 7 p.m. tomorrow night at Township Hall, on Canton Center south of Cherry Hill. The question of whether to pave Haggerty, somewhere between Joy and Ford roads, will be the main agenda item.

The public is invited to attend both meetings.

Anyone interested in submitting information about Canton Township for "The Canton Connection" column may send his item to Canton editor Dennis O'Connor, 461 S. Main, Plymouth 48170. We ask that you type or print the information and include your name and phone number in case we have any questions. Column items should be received at least seven days before publication date. The column runs every Monday.

WSDP feels financial pinch

By Dennis O'Connor
staff writer

The future of this community's radio station is in limbo.

WSDP-FM, the student-operated radio station of the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, may be a victim of financial cuts of the school district.

Extensive budget cuts have limited WSDP's services this year, and the future remains uncertain.

"It doesn't look very good," said WSDP administrative coordinator Jeff Cardinal. "We just don't know where things are going or where we are going to end up."

But the radio station, at 88.1 on the FM dial, isn't about to give up without a fight.

Cardinal is forming an advisory committee to look at alternative methods for financing the 200-watt station at the Centennial Educational Park (CEP). The committee will consist of invited residents from the Plymouth-Canton community. The first meeting is at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 22, at Plymouth Salem High School.

WSDP ALREADY has cut some of its programming this year. The budget was cut $2,500 for the 1981-82 school year, Cardinal said. Kathie Allen, a staff adviser, was laid off. John Seidelman, a long-time radio-staff adviser, lost his release time to aid students with on-the-air programming. He now is in the classroom full time, teaching both radio and writing classes.

WSDP has reduced its sports programming, as well — one of the more popular features of the station over the years. The station will not broadcast away games during girls' and boys' state tournament basketball action this season, Cardinal said.

ALTHOUGH CARDINAL admits the situation is frustrating, he hopes the advisory committee will come up with ideas for raising money for the station.

"We want to get fresh ideas for the station from community members," Cardinal said. "I would hope that there are some sources for alternative funding — if not, the picture is awfully dark.

"If we don't find some type of alternative funding, there might not be a radio station — which is frightening from any standpoint."

Phew!

Residents battle invading skunks

By Teri Banas
staff writer

Area resident Genny Steakley says she has learned more about skunks in the past six months than she ever really wanted to know.

And no wonder.

Mrs. Steakley, as well as her next-door neighbor Micki Rainaldi, have had a skunk problem extraordinaire. Collectively, they trapped seven of the pesky varmints in their backyards this fall and past summer.

Their trapping efforts in the Plymouth-Canton area were not successful initially, however. It took several months, and a trip to the local library for reading material on skunks before the woman found the best bait for the job.

Naturalists attribute the population increase to a series of mild Michigan winters which have allowed skunks and other wildlife to survive longer than expected.

In residential areas, the nocturnal animals may be found in garages, in small burrows, under bushes, in abandoned buildings and sheds and under house crawl spaces, says wildlife specialist Glenn Dudderar, who works for the Wayne County Extension Service.

Dudderar says studies show that a skunk can find its way back to its nest if it's not removed far enough away from it.

HE SAYS there's a 50 percent chance that a skunk will return if it is only moved five miles away.

He suggests that the animal be moved up to 10 miles away, or to the opposite side of a natural barrier such as a river or freeway.

Skunks, which are docile by nature, can be unpleasant to humans in several ways, he says. The most serious concern is that the animals frequently carry rabbies, which can be deadly.

The animals can also cause extensive lawn damage in their search for insects.

"Your lawn could look like a mad golfer attacked it," he says.

But Dudderar is quick to dispel myths about skunks' spraying performance.

He says they will only use their "weapon" if provoked.

"The skunk has the ultimate weapon, and he knows it," Dudderar adds. "But he's reluctant to use it."

The naturalist made several suggestions on how to eliminate the odor from clothing. The spray is made up of a oil base and therefore any detergent that works best on oil stains should work.

Suggested commercial products for clothing include Lestoil, Pine Sol and Mr. Clean. He further suggests using bleach along with the detergent.

A strong soap and strong shampoo should be used on the body. Hair may need several applications of shampoo. He stresses that the eyes should immediately be flushed with water.

For household pets, veterinarians often carry strong commercial products for riding the skunk odor and stain. A commercial product called Skunk-off is often effective, he says.

But a pet owner can find some household items that often work. Among them are acid-based liquids such as lemon and tomato juice as well as vinegar. "If you work it through your dog's hair, massage it in, and let him soak, it will remove 99 percent of the odor," he adds.

Waste permits under investigation

Two applications to operate hazardous waste disposal sites at Woodland Meadows in southeast Canton still are under investigation by the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) in Lansing.

Michigan Waste Systems, which operates Woodland Meadows landfill, has asked the state for hazardous-waste permits on two sites, in accordance with Public Act 64 — the Hazardous Waste Act.

The company wants a permit for its existing site — Woodland Meadows North — a 97-acre landfill which already contains 5 percent hazardous material. The Hazardous Waste Act is a new law which attempts to regulate hazardous-waste management at all sites in the state.

It also wants a permit for a proposed expanded site — Woodland Meadows South — a 105-acre site bounded by Hannan, Lotz and Van Born roads and the Conrail railroad right-of-way, adjacent to the existing site.

AL HOWARD, chief of the office of hazardous waste for the DNR in Lansing, said Michigan Waste Systems was notified that its application for the expanded site was administratively complete. His office now is conducting a "technical review" to measure the environmental and technical aspects of operating hazardous waste at Woodland Meadows.

The application on the existing site still is being reviewed for adminstrative completeness, Howard said.

If the application for the expanded site is approved, DNR may recommend a construction permit for Woodland Meadows South, Howard said. The recommendation then would go before a site-approval board of local and state officials. The site-approval board has the final say in approving the construction permit to be followed by seeking an operator permit.

The entire approval process for the expanded site takes nearly six months, according to Howard.

MICHIGAN WASTE Systems also has applied for a solid-waste operating permit for the expanded site, in accor-

Canton's queen

It was a night to celebrate at Plymouth Canton Friday. A new homecoming queen was crowned — Pearly Cunningham. To make homecoming festivities more enjoyable, Canton pulled out a 14-13 win over Walled Lake Western in double overtime. For more on the game, turn to Page 1C.

Schools study public forum

Changes in policy about how residents are to address the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education will be considered at tonight's school board meeting.

Some of the limitations already have been in effect but will now be officially reduced to writing in the board's book of policies and bylaws.

The rules governing "citizens comments" portion of school board meetings have been criticized during the recent public meetings concerning busing safety, last spring during meetings on redistricting and grade grade re-alignments, and at sessions dealing with budget cuts.

The administration reports the proposed changes are being asked for to update board bylaws on meetings and bring them into compliance with the latest interpretations by the attorney general and state department of education of the Michigan Freedom of Information (FOI) and Open Meetings acts.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the upstairs conference meeting room of the central office at 454 S. Harvey, Plymouth.

The proposed changes will be presented for a first reading tonight.

AMONG THE proposed procedures to be added to the bylaws are the following:

- Persons wanting to address the board should fill out a request form prior to the beginning of the citizens' comments portion of the meeting.
- The public participation part of the meeting shall be limited to 30 minutes unless extended by the chairperson to allow every person with a viewpoint to have the chance to express it.
- Each presentation will be limited to five minutes unless the number of speakers would result in the 30 minute time limit being exceeded. In such a case, the chairperson may reduce the time limit at the beginning of the citzens comments portion of the meeting. At no time, though, may a presentation be limited to less than three minutes.
- An individual may not address the board more than once at each meeting during citizens' comments except at the request of the board.
- When more than three persons representing a single organization or consortium, the presentation shall be limited to one spokesperson with 10 minutes, or up to three presenters with three minutes each.
- All written statements should be given to the superintendent, when possible in advance of meetings, so they may be made available to all trustees. Lengthy written statements which may not have been completely presented within the time limits of citizens comments will be reproduced for the information of trustees. All documents distributed during board meetings become public documents.
- Items which are not on the agenda, but which come up during citizens' comments, may be considered later in the same meeting under "board comments."

Firefighter Paul Rainey of the Plymouth Township department explains the technical equipment used on an ambulance-rescue vehicle.

No fires, please!

Get 'em while they're young — before bad habits set in.

Fire Prevention Week, which ended Saturday, gave local fire department officials a chance to expound on their favorite subject: "Prevent fires before they happen."

Fire departments in Plymouth and Canton held open houses and scheduled visits to schools for talks with students. There were fire-prevention poster contests among elementary age children.

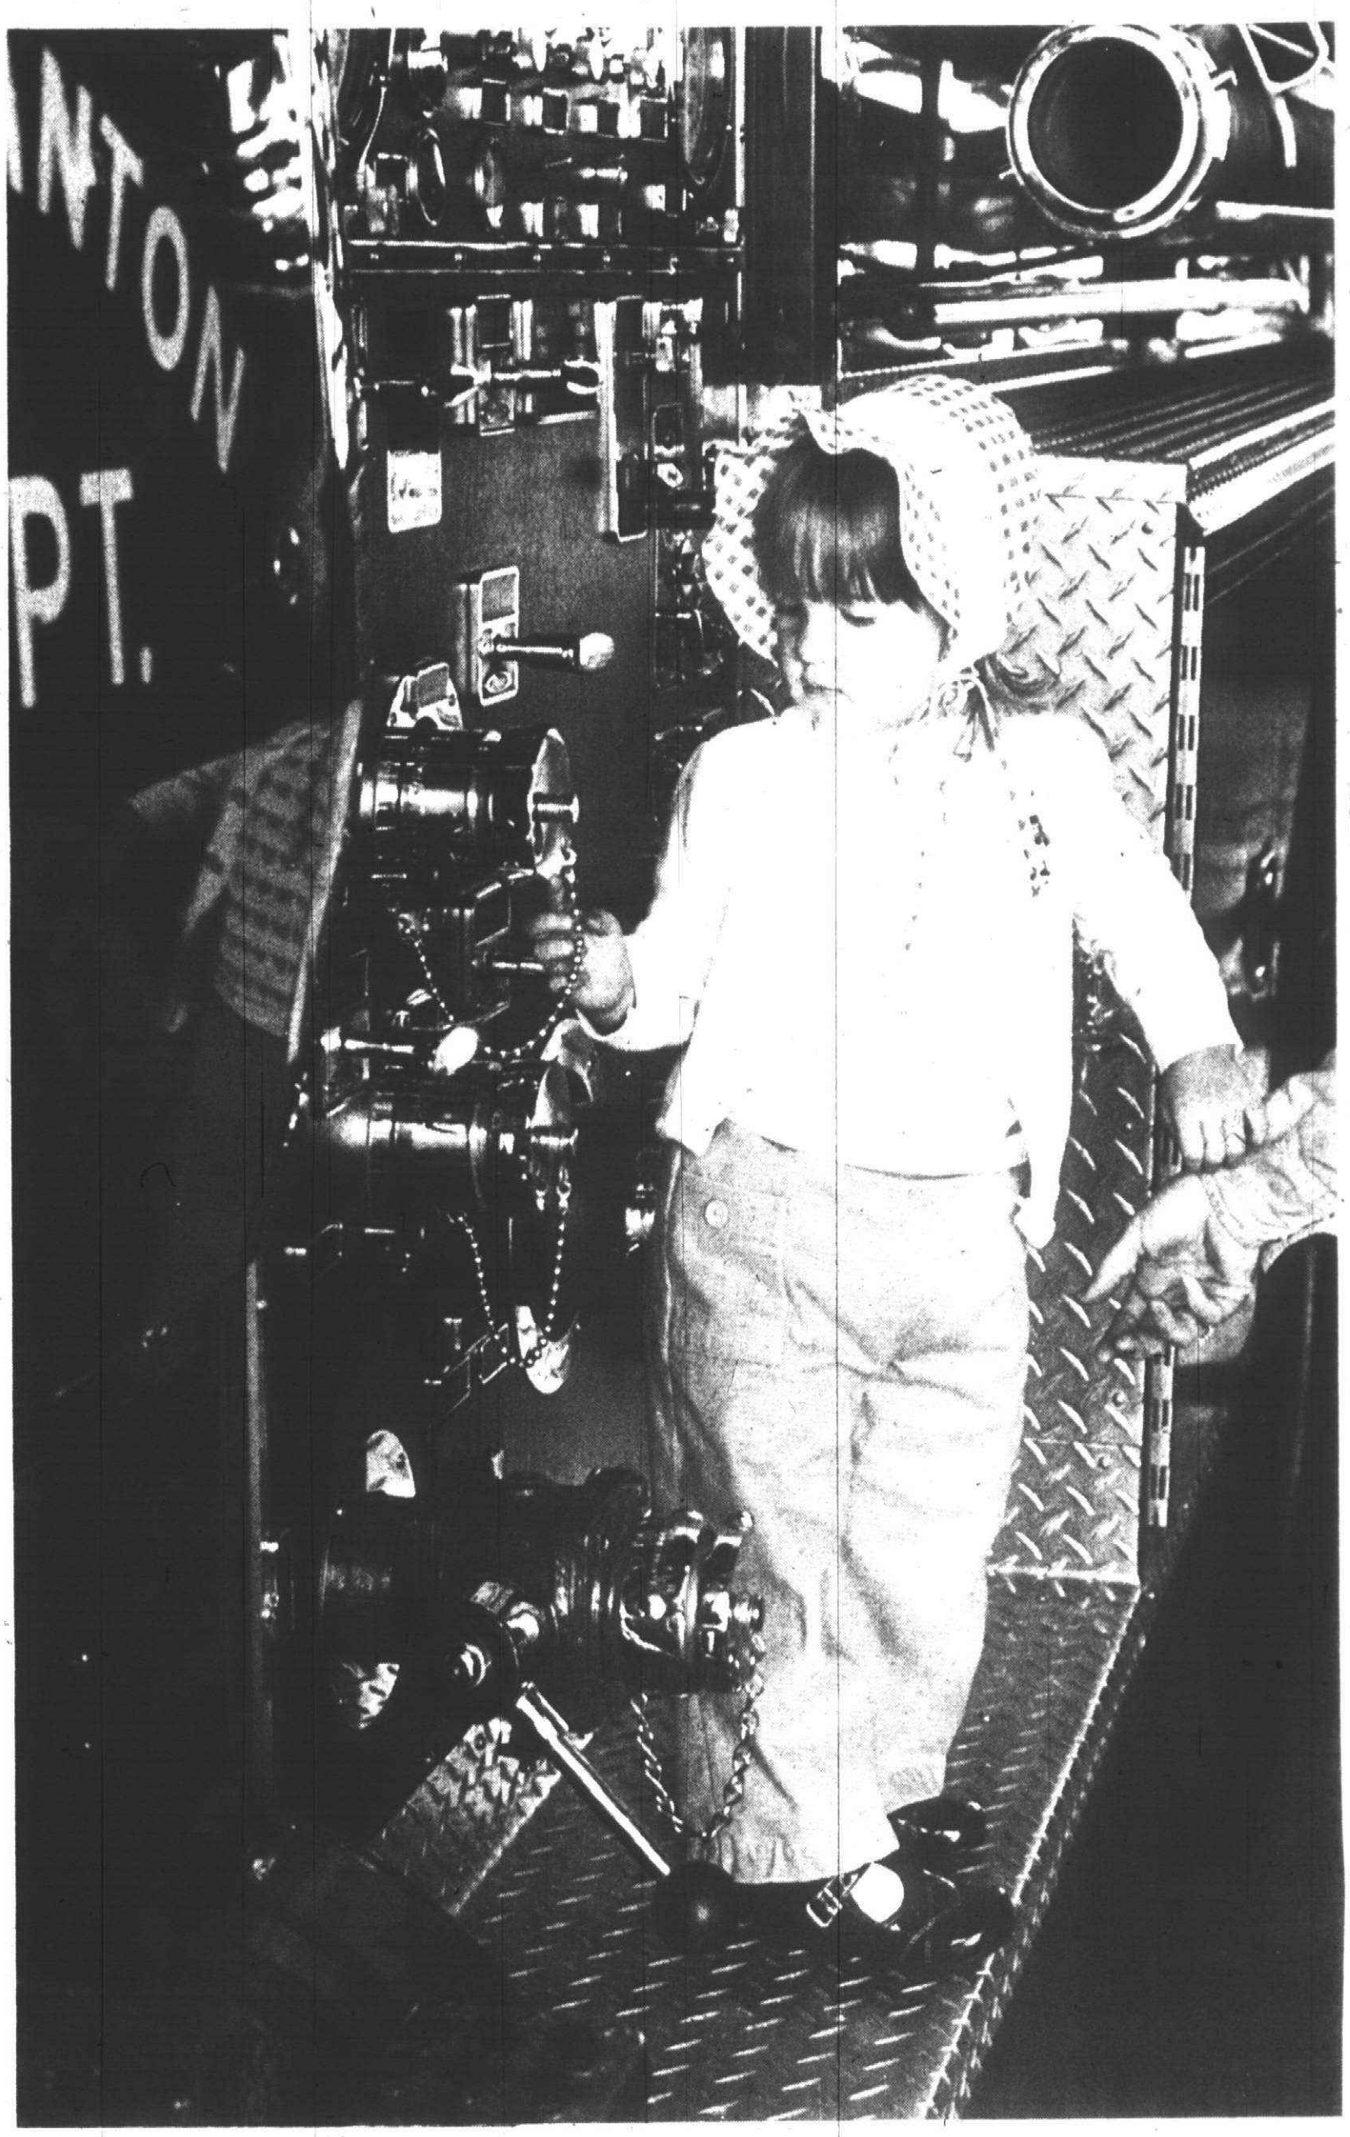

FAMILIES were encouraged to tour their local stations to see fire-fighting apparatus. Fire prevention movies were shown.

Pamphlets were (and are) available which give ways to plan an escape route from a burning house.

Staff photos by Gary Caskey

Officials believe educational campaigns are important. After all, there were more than 20,000 residential fires in Michigan last year.

"Kids are really picking up on this," commented Canton Fire Marshal Arthur Winkel. "They know what to do."

Sindy Jessick, 22 months, holds her mother's hand as she looks at pumper gauges and dials on a Canton fire engine.

Canton firefighter Dennis Draplin shows two films at fire-prevention-week open house at Canton Fire Station No. 1.

One of the many activities during Fire Prevention Week included going out to Plymouth-Canton schools to educate students on fire safety. Here, the children at Bird Elementary School mob firefighter Paul Rainey of Plymouth Township's department. Uncle Paul, as Rainey calls himself, taught the children one very important lesson — "I will never play with matches, or anything else, that would hurt me or any of my friends."

Radio station faces financial problems

PAUL SINCOCK, the assistant parks and recreation director for the city of Plymouth, will serve as chairman of the advisory committee. Sincock, a 1975 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, has an extensive background in broadcasting.

He studied recreation and broadcasting at Central Michigan University after serving as station manager at WSDP his senior year at Salem.

Sincock, 24, also has had professional experience working for MacDonald Broadcasting Co. in Saginaw during his college years.

It is a committee goal to try to find some type of alternative source of money for WSDP, he said.

Sincock also thinks, however, that the station must examine its current programming to help develop a community awareness and identity with residents of Plymouth and Canton in order to be successful.

"I DON'T THINK a lot of people realize what kind of facility the community has. They aren't aware of what a great thing it is to have a community radio station.

"The advisory committee can advise the station on some things we feel we can do, program-wise, to use it (the station) to its full potential."

The committee has the potential to give WSDP a needed "shot in the arm," Sincock believes. If the radio station can reach more persons in the community, then it will become easier to raise the money needed to survive, he said.

"The school district, like any other governmental municipality, is having its financial problems. And if there are other ways of funding, let's look at it now before they pull the plug."

WSDP STARTED in the 1970-71 school year — the first year students attended Centennial Educational Park at the corner of Joy and Canton Center. The station is based in Salem, although students from both Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools are on the radio staff.

It started as a 10-watt station, but increased its power to 200 watts in 1979. The station now can reach listeners as far as downtown Detroit or Ann Arbor.

dance with Public Act 641, the Solid-Waste Management Act.

The Wayne County Health Department has found the application free of any violation of the law.

But Michigan Waste Systems still must get township approval, before beginning a solid-waste operation on Woodland Meadows South.

Canton's Planning Commission recently denied the request for the expanded site because of various violations of local township landfill ordinances. The Township Board is expected to make a decision on the issue later this month.

Residents in Canton, Wayne and Van Buren Township, the three communities which border the site, object to the expansion. They have voiced objection to the operation and odor coming from the current site.

Citizens comments changes?

The proposed bylaw changes includes a philosophical statement of the purpose of public participation in meetings:

"The purpose of citizens' comments at a meeting of the board is to permit the board to understand a point of view and to have that point of view become a matter of public record. The goal of the public speaking portion of the program is to share information, not to debate with the board. The presenter is responsible that all statements are accurate and based on fact."

Political statements need defining

Bob Wisler

'Tis the season to be inundated with all manner of political literature and statements.

Long-lost and never-seen-before candidates appear to announce that they will run for governor or senator. Local politicians greet each other three nights a week at candidates night meetings.

Mailboxes are bulging with the latest in political promises and proposals.

If citizens don't need a scorecard to keep track of the candidates, they at least need a political reference book to interepret what the candidates are saying.

Political statements are often concocted to say as much as possible without saying anything at all. Some are repeats of the concoctions of previous officeholders or office challengers.

To help cut through the fog, I have fashioned my handy-dandy political interpretation guide. Using it will enable the reader to determine the meanings behind the political statements.

Following are examples:

Statement: "The time has come for new people with new ideas."

Meaning: "I don't hold political office but I want to."

"I have demonstrated my commitment to the people."

Meaning: "I hold office and I want to stay."

"We've suffered too long with a sterile leadership — It's time for a change."

Meaning: "I don't hold political office but I want to."

"I have a history of community concern and activity."

Meaning: "I've lived here a long time."

"We need a fresh approach to our problems."

Meaning: "I haven't lived here a long time."

"We need to get out from under the narrow segment of labor leaderhip."

Meaning: "The UAW isn't backing me this time."

"Our candidacy has received a warm reception throughout the state."

Meaning: "My friends have gotten together over coffee and convinced me that I am a great guy."

"I am an independent thinker and doer beholden to no one."

Meaning: "I have no endorsements."

"I have worked with all segments of the community and have earned the support of community leaders."

Meaning: "I have endorsments."

"It's time to stop the extravagance."

Meaning: "It sounds like extravagance now. I'll have to take another look when I'm elected."

"We have a record of efficiency and economy in government."

Meaning: "I dont' think anyone knows about our mistakes."

"We will have to take a long, hard look," or, "We will have to conduct a careful evaluation of all programs."

Meaning: "I'm not sure which way to go — give me a clue."

"I'm fighting the machine."

Meaning: "I have no endorsements."

"We have maintained a quality of life for all of our citizens."

Meaning: "I'm part of the machine."

"This is an issue which will have to be considered in all of its ramifications."

Meaning: "Give me some time, maybe this thing will go away."

"I am aware of the unique needs of senior citizens."

Meaning: "I am aware of the growing number of senior citizen voters."

Leonard Poger

School closings are losing impact

Community newspapers specialize in covering local institutions, such as City or Township Hall, boards of education and community colleges.

Anyone who has had any interest in public education realizes that the biggest problem facing local school boards, administrators and employees is declining student enrollments.

In the past few years, most school boards have faced crowds of angry parents and students who object to their neighborhood school being closed.

At first, the opposition was more emotional than factual and civilized.

Homeowners and students said they like their school, their principal, teachers, custodian, and educational programs.

Fine.

School leaders spent a lot of time and money over the years building up that loyalty to the neighborhood school.

But the community residents failed to recognize their own conflicts in fighting school closings.

MANY OF the same people who fought the potential closings also got excited during school tax elections about the perceived "waste and mismanagement" in the school system.

Voters then marched out to the polling precincts to vote against a tax increase because of the alleged "waste of taxpayers' money."

But the public's contradiction in the issue of closing buildings is that the school administration was making the maximum use of tax revenues in running the district.

One school superintendent several years ago compared the closing conflicts with the auto companies shutting down assembly plants when there was a drop in car sales and production.

In a school setting, the question became:

"Does it make sense from a business-management point of view to reduce our buildings by the same proportion of the student enrollment loss?"

Most persons would answer "yes."

But they still don't want their neighborhood school closed.

IN MORE RECENT years, opponents and school officials have been more sophisticated.

School closings are now "consolidations."

Homeowners no longer fight the basic concept of "consolidations." They, instead, focus on the statistics on why School A (their school) is being picked for closing instead of School B.

They now nit-pick about how much notice the community should receive on a recommended consolidation, classroom sizes, parking lots, utility bills and other comparative details.

Fortunately, the political heat has died down.

Most adults have accepted the ongoing school consolidations, even if they don't like them.

One suburb, Garden City, showed the ultimate in how to handle a consolidation.

The school board closed one of two remaining junior highs last June with only six weeks notice.

It also acted in late June to consolidate the two senior high schools, effective next June.

In both cases, there was no serious opposition to the concept of closing a junior and senior high.

Surprisingly, there was no backlash on the decision on which building to close.

Other school districts are still fighting the old battles.

But there is substantial evidence to conclude that the communities — parents and school officials — are becoming more educated about the student enrollment decline and its impact on people.

New Detroit's mysterious moves

Tim Richard

New Detroit, Inc. can be more befuddling than some of the exotic puzzles the game manufacturers are marketing.

The self-described "urban coalition" is officially neutral on whether voters should adopt the proposed Wayne County charters on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Instead, New Detroit says it will conduct an information program to educate voters, giving the pros and cons of county reform.

That's like Nancy Reagan saying she is neutral on whether Ron should be president and will give voters all his good points and bad points, without a recommendation.

Or perhaps it's like a Realtor giving the pros and cons of owning a house.

And yet that is precisely what New Detroit President Walter Douglas says the group is — neutral on the charter.

LAST YEAR New Detroit was the prime mover behind the scenes in getting a special enabling bill for a vote on calling a county charter commission.

Remember that battle? Suburban legislators cried foul because the act used 1970 districts for the election of charter commissioners. The situation was loaded in favor of Detroit.

Suburban politicos wanted to use 1980 census figures because of the heavy drain of people out of Detroit during the last decade. Their numbers showed Bill Joyner's county commissioner district on the west rim of Wayne County had more than twice as many residents as an east side Detroit district.

A new Detroit vice-president, Larry Horowitz asked to meet with some of the suburban politicos. I received an invitation, too. It was very revealing.

FOR MORE than an hour, Horwitz pleaded, begged, wheedled, cajoled and pressured the group to back away from the lawsuit.

The most the suburbs could gain, he argued, was one seat on the charter commission. On the other hand, if the charter seats were redistricted, blacks would feel left out of the game and would be very unhappy and oppose the charter.

We honkey suburbanites replied: Redistricting would shift not one county seat but two; the shift of two seats would actually change four votes — two less for Detroit, two more for the suburbs; and the suburbs weren't out to screw Detroit, just to get proportional representation.

Only one suburbanite was impressed by New Detroit's arguments. The rest were, if anything, angrier than ever about the 1970 districts. Horwitz refused to recognize he had actually alienated his audience. He kept arguing, wheedling, pleading, cajoling.

WELL, THE SUIT failed. Use of 1970 districts may have been a disgusting political sham, but it was legal. And so our charter commissioners who served in 1981 were elected from 1970 districts.

New Detroit should have been elated.

Despite the malapportionment, the Wayne County Charter Commission wrote a couple of beautiful charters. My editorial board colleagues and I will expand on this point in the coming weeks before the election.

And where is New Detroit? Officially neutral. Conducting an educational campaign. Giving the pros and cons of whether we should reform fragmented government and $20 million deficits. Disowning its own baby.

Some "urban coalition!"

You ask if I like bowling? Let's say I've got a ways to go

Nancy Walls Smith

Just because some friends, in this case Gail and Tony Mesner, have talked you and your husband into joining a mixed bowling league doesn't mean you're a bowler.

Oh, sure, you buy a new pair of bowling shoes and strawberry shortcake footies with red pom-pons on the heal. And you show up at the bowling alley every other Sunday. But that doesn't mean you look — or perform — like a real bowler.

I'm living proof of that.

BOWLING, I have found, is not as easy as it looks. Now that I think about it, it doesn't even look easy.

I mean those pins are so very far away. I suspect there must be some sort of magic involved in getting that heavy ball to go all the way down that skinny alley without swerving, curving and finally ending up in the gutter.

Even though I'm five feet, nine inches tall, and weigh — well, I won't tell you what I weigh (but it's a hefty sum) — I still find I can't use anything heavier than a nine-pound ball. Maybe it has something to do with muscle tone.

I don't have any.

I'VE FOUND that a nine-pound ball, given the tenuous thrust that I can manage, doesn't do all that much damage to the pins even if it does go down the middle of the alley.

I've tried using a heavier ball, but it's so embarrassing when it drops with a loud boom just before it starts its casual roll into the gutter.

In the last 15 years, I think I've gone bowling three times; and since memory is kind, I'd forgotten what a really wretched bowler I am.

I opened this season with an incredible 72 average — geeze! Since the rest of my team is composed of good friends, and my ever lovin' spouse, they've decided to let me play out the season. It has something to do with me giving our team a great "handicap" — whatever that means.

I've heard rumors that, when it comes to bowling, there's such a thing as good "form." I don't know what that is, but I do know that I don't have it.

IT HAS something to do with the way you walk up to that little line that buzzes if you accidentally step on it (like I've done), and the way you bend over and hold your hand and arm as you release the ball.

Personally, that's just too much for me to think about.

If I don't fall down, I'm happy. I've done that too.

The only real technique I use is to talk to the ball. Fortunately, it's always so noisy that no one else can hear me when I'm muttering constantly, "Alright, you &%#!&% ball, go down the middle of the #%$%&!/# alley."

I don't usually swear, but the occasion just seems to call for it.

I have found that if you have a few drinks, it helps. You don't bowl any better, but you don't care as much.

The other day I was telling my friend, Pat Reid, of my new adventures with Jack & Jill Bowling League.

"I've joined another league myself this year," she said, "but I bowled over my head the first time out."

"What does that mean?," I inquired.

"I bowled seven strikes in one game."

"Oh," I replied softly.

"By the way," she went on, "how are you doing?"

"Never mind," was all I could say. "Never mind."

Trickle-down theory needs work; benefits are now trickling upward

Today's guest column is by Rich Perlberg, editor of the Brighton Argus.

Who says the trickle-down theory doesn't work? Ten years ago, an obscure former football player named Gerald Ford was struggling to make ends meet on a paltry $50,000 or so a year paid to congressmen.

Then, presto. The nation elects a president who is soft on the military, tough on welfare and sympathetic to the much-maligned big busines interests. Now, according to reports, Ford is making about $750,000 a year.

Those of you who make Fords, or used to make them before you were laid off, will have to be patient. Rome didn't trickle down in a day.

The trickle-down theory is one of the great concepts in American comedy since Costello asked Abbott, "Who's on first?"

Can you imagine this scene?

"Look," says the guy from the Madison Avenue public relations firm. "We can't tell everybody that the best way to help the poor is to give even more money to the wealthy."

"Don't you think that's going too far?" wonders the representative from Acme Coal and Amalgamated Zinc, Inc.

"Listen," snaps the Madison Avenue hotshot. "We are only limited by our own imagination. We told them they would get better shaves if they put two blades on the same side of the razor; they believed it.

Guest columnist

We told then that blue jeans were worth more money with some designer's name stitched on the rear end; they believed it. We told them that Spiro Agnew was their friend; they believed.

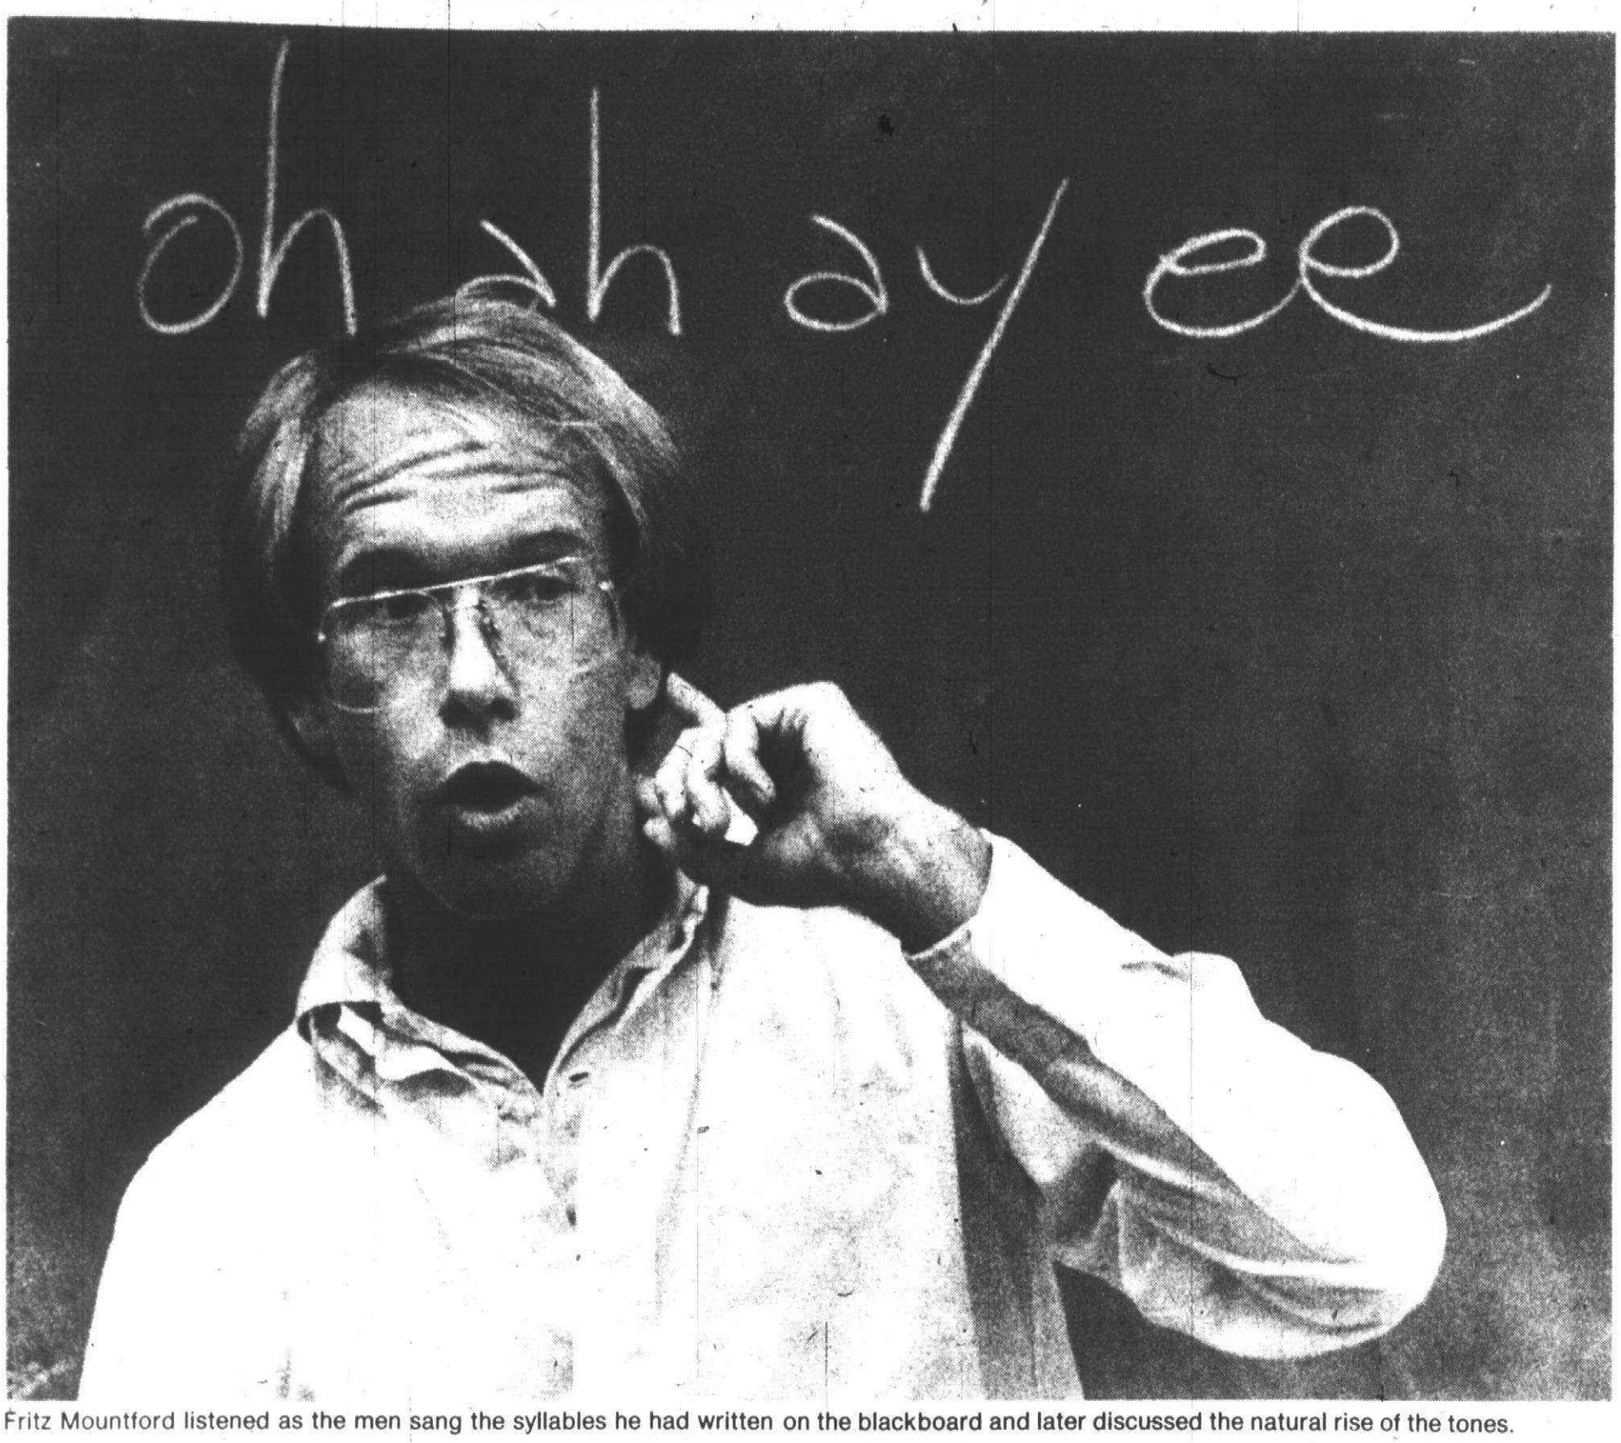

"As Charles Colson used to say, no one ever went broke underestimating the intelligence of the American public."

"I thought P.T. Barnum said that."

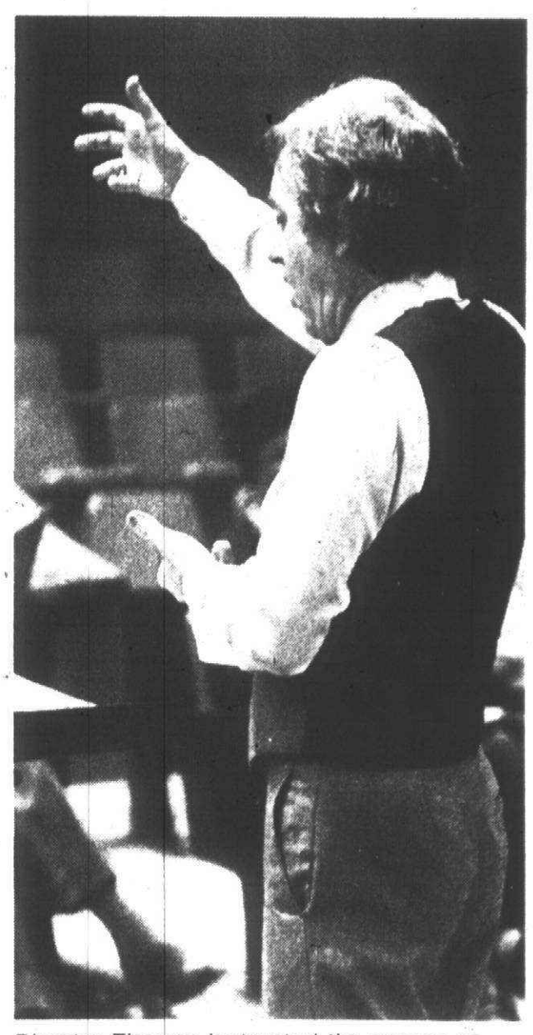

"Not if we don't want him to."

Obviously, social problems don't get solved just because some liberals throw money at them. But the double standards imposed by Reaganomics is staggering. Giving food stamps to low income people is disdained. But entire industries are built on half-free lunches and business deductions given to business people who earn more in one year than food stamp recipients would get in 10.

Middle-income Americans take their fair share of the brunt, but they also may be the dumbest of the lot. They truly believe that they are being bilked out of their hard-earned income to pay taxes for the undeserving poor. They are really paying taxes for the deserving rich.

Fritz Mountford listened as the men sang the syllables he had written on the blackboard and later discussed the natural rise of the tones.

Director Thomas instructed the women vocalists. Later they brought male and female singers together to sing in concert.

Making music the Waring way

Two of the country's leading choral directors came to town to conduct a workshop. They left the workshop participants singing with new-found enthusiasm and skill. And the directors, Len Thomas and Fritz Mountford, left singing praises of the community.

The Plymouth Community Chorus invited the duo after director, Mike Gross, and assistant director and accompanist, Carol Chen, attended the Fred Waring Choral Workshop in Pennsylvania in August. Although the turnout for the Plymouth workshop was not as great as the chorus members had hoped for, everyone said it was a wonderful experience.

"It was great. We learned so much," was the general response. Results already were obvious when the chorus performed for the Plymouth Hilton Inn anniversary party Sunday night. The men's voices came through rich and strong. The group, which would like to increase its ratio of male singers, got applause for the added volume.

The chorus greeted the directors at the airport in a Don Massey limousine. They stayed at the Mayflower, lunched at the Hilton and were feted at a Friday-night reception by chorus-board members. The Saturday-night reception was at St. John's Episcopal Church, where they were officially greeted by Plymouth Mayor Mary Childs, who presented them with "I love Plymouth" buttons and souvenir coffee mugs. The chorus gave them Plymouth Community T-shirts and an etching of the Mayflower Hotel. Chorus members provided the food, and Len Thomas played the piano and sang for them. Fritz Mountford did a song and dance number.

Singers from Battle Creek, Lansing and Farmington Hills and teachers from the area joined 84 members of the chorus in the weekend workshop and the gala reception.

The men in the music room of the Phase III building at Plymouth Centennial Educational Park learned about vocal resonance by closing their nasal passages.

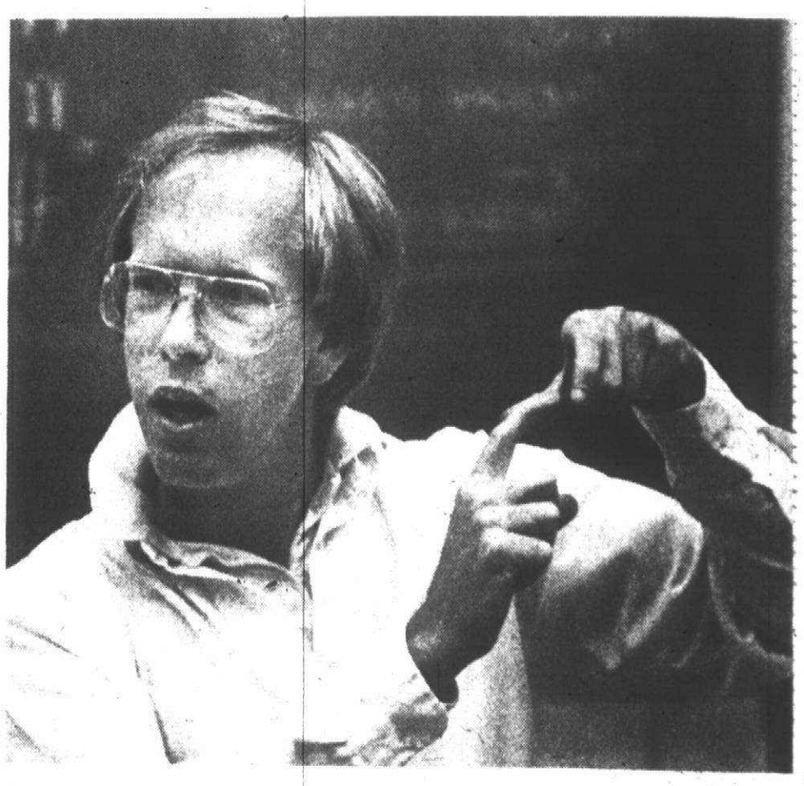

Staff photos by Gary Caskey.

Len Thomas, with great patience, starts another vocal exercise.

Thomas brought the women's session to full voice during a session in the Little Theater at Plymouth Canton High School.

Mountford demonstrated a rubber band's sound and vibration. Later he put the band over a cup to produce a fulier sound.

Band invitational opens

The second annual Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP) Marching Band Invitational will be held Saturday at the CEP football field.

The opening ceremony at 6:30 p.m. will feature the playing of the national anthem by band members from East, West, Lowell, Pioneer and Central middle schools under the direction of Linda Mapes Calzone.

Marching bands competing in the 1981 invitational will be the highly regarded Flushing Raiders, the Durand Railroaders, Clarkston Blue Crew, Montrose High School, Lakeview High from St. Clair Shores, Washington Eisenhower, Royal Oak Dondero, Westland John Glenn Rockets, Flint Powers Chargers, Leslie High and Oxford High.

Performing in the exhibition will be the CEP Marching Band, directed by James R. Griffith and Carl Battisbill.

Tickets now are on sale at the Trading Post on Ann Arbor Road, Sideways on Forest, the Health Shoppe, Wiltsie's Pharmacy on Main, Arnoldt Williams music store at Canton Center and Ford roads, and at Milt Wilcox's Runners Unlimited shop on Lilley at Warren.

Presale tickets are $2.50 each. Tickets bought at the gate will be $3 per person.

Airport runway to be safer

Oakland-Pontiac Airport will get $756,000 in safety improvements with a grant from the Federal Aviation Administration.

County Executive Daniel T. Murphy and the board of commissioners' airport committee said improvements would include:

- Widening and resurfacing the northeast-southwest runway.
- Installing runway and taxiway guidance signs.

"THESE improvements will enable smaller craft to use the northeast-southwest runway at night," Murphy said. "Presently, these craft must use the east-west runway, even on nights when crosswinds make such use difficult. The more often small planes can avoid crosswinds during takeoff and landing, the safer it is."

Construction will start in spring of 1982.

The county's share will be 28 acres of land, which were purchased for $219,000 several years ago to protect the east approach to the airport.

The grant also will be used to replace the aging main beacon atop the control tower and to install a visual-approach slope indicator on the NE/SW runway. The indicator is a series of lights arranged so that when a pilot visually lines them up he is assured his aircraft is ascending at the proper angle.

In addition, the indicator helps pilots approach the airport at higher elevations, abating noise in surrounding neighborhoods.

JA campaign opening

A membership recruiting drive is under way for the Junior Achivement Center serving students in Canton and Plymouth.

JA is a high school program for grades 9-12 in which volunteer adult advisers from the business community help students establish and operate their own businesses.

This year, the advisers will be provided from Burroughs, Western Electric and the Automobile Club of Michigan.

High school students are encouraged to visit the JA location in Plymouth Salem High School, Joy just west of Canton Center Road, tomorrow and Wednesday.

The program will operate from 7-9 p.m.

Additional opportunities offered by JA this year are college scholarships and Dale Carnegie public speaking grants.

For the second year in a row, the local JA business manager will be Donald Wisniewski, a teacher at Central Middle School.

"To find our future leaders," he said, "we help them find themselves."

Through JA, young people learn how our economic system works and learn how to:

- Determine goals for the future by getting ideas of what they might like to do, and learning how to accomplish what they want in life.
- Assume responsibility and leadership by seeing a project through from beginning to end, which also will help develop self-confidence and pride through accomplishment.
- Explore a variety of career opportunities by sampling different positions and duties in their JA companies.

Most JA companies are manufacturing companies, producing products such as jumper cables, silk-screened T-shirts, table lamps and automobile trouble lights.

During the 1981-82 program year, 33 student business locations will be serving the southeastern Michigan communities. Student companies will meet once a week from 7-9 p.m.

Students interested in signing up may contact Wisniewski from 7-9 tomorrow and Wednesday nights at Salem High.

Sherman H. Kane, D.D.S., P.C.

WHY REMOVE IMPACTED TEETH?
An impacted tooth is one that has not erupted through the gum (or only partly through the gum.) More often than not, the honors go to "wisdom teeth". These third molars generally erupt during the teen years. They often grow forward and push against the adjacent molars causing pain and damage. The pressure may also crowd the front teeth.
Aside from possibly damaging other teeth, impacted third molars can cause other problems. A cyst can grow, possibly unnoticed, and damaAe adjacent teeth, the jaw bone and nerves.
Your dentist can study x-rays of the teeth and jaws, and can frequently tell by the teen years if the wisdom teeth are going to be impacted. At this stage, the wisdom teeth are less complicated to remove and healing is generally faster.
Unfortunately, impacted teeth can be "dormant" for years, but then cause trouble and pain at an unexpected or inconvenient time. That's why most dentists recommend their removal, even if they aren't causing trouble now. Removal of impacted teeth is considered preventive dentistry.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

CITY OF PLYMOUTH
MICHIGAN

At a meeting of the Zoning Board of Appeals to be held in the Commission Chamber of the City Hall on Thursday, October 15, 1981 at 7:30 P.M., a public hearing will be held to consider the following:

Appeal Case No. Z-81-17 City of Plymouth, requesting Ten (10) parking credits necessary for new use of building as on-site parking deficiencey exists. Location is at 960 Ann Arbor Trail (Vest Pocket Park), in a B-3 General Business district, which is in conflict with Section 5.195 (9) (a), Article XV of Chapter 52, Zoning, of the Plymouth City Code.

Section 5.195, (9) (a) states that "The owner or owners of new or expanded use of property in the City of Plymouth, which has been declared deficient in parking by the Building Inspector and/or City of Plymouth Planning Commission, may make application to the Zoning Board of Appeals for an exception for the option of paying an amount, plus interest, as established by resolution of the City Commission, and reviewed annually in March, per required parking space in lieu of providing said required spaces as per the provisions and requirements set forth in Section 5.196."

All interested parties will be given an ample opportunity to participate in the hearing and, at the close of said hearing, all comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Zoning Board of Appeals, prior to rendering its decision.

ENTERTAINING TIP: MAKE IT BRUNCH!

It's easy to understand why a Saturday or Sunday brunch has become such a popular way to entertain. With a little planning, you can add the final touches to a meal and then spend a lazy afternoon with good friends and good food.

The theme here is casual and inexpensive. Brunch should be more economical as well as more relaxed than dinner. These special but easy recipes can also be prepared ahead of time, allowing a hostess to feel like a guest!

Festive Cocoa-Almond Filled Braid makes a showpiece dessert bread. The chocolate ricotta filling is extra rich since it's made with unsweetened cocoa — the most concentrated form of chocolate. Cocoa blends readily with other ingredients, so consistency will be creamy smooth.

Colorful Glazed Sausage and Fruit Compote is quick to prepare, and takes just 30 minutes to heat before serving. Using fully cooked brown 'n' serve sausage means there's no need to precook the links — and no guesswork about when sausages are sufficiently cooked. The warm and spicy sausage and sweetened fruit make a pleasing combination of flavors and textures that's especially appealing on a cool day.

Mix up Apple Surprise Muffins in just a few minutes. They're fragrant with cinnamon and crunchy with nuts. With cocoa as a base, there's no need to pre-melt baking chocolate squares — saving both steps and mess.

"Finger foods" like Brown 'N Serve Sausage Bites En Croute are always popular at parties. These precooked sausage links, with just the right seasoning, are cut into bite-sized pieces and wrapped in a rich, flaky pastry. The sausage bites can be prepared ahead of time and frozen. Then pop them in the oven about 20 minutes before serving.

To take the chill off an autumn day, serve Perked Mocha Cocoa. For a sophisticated accent, try adding a dash of rum or brandy to the brew.

FESTIVE COCOA-ALMOND FILLED BRAID

Yield: 1 braided loaf (8 to 10 servings)

- Ricotta Cheese Filling (recipe below)
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon water
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 2-1/4 to 2-1/2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 envelope active dry yeast
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon margarine, melted
- Vanilla Glaze (recipe below)
- Sliced almonds for garnish (optional)

Prepare filling; set aside to chill.

Heat milk, water and margarine over low heat until very warm (120° to 130°F); margarine does not need to melt. In large bowl stir together 1 cup flour, sugar, salt and yeast; add warm milk mixture and beat at medium speed 2 minutes. Add egg and 1 cup flour; stir by hand until smooth. Sprinkle 1/4 cup flour onto kneading surface; turn out dough onto flour. Knead dough, adding additional flour as needed, until soft, smooth and elastic, about 5 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top; allow to rise, covered, in warm place until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Roll dough on lightly floured surface into a rectangle measuring 12 by 15 inches; move rectangle onto lightly greased baking sheet. Spread filling in center third of rectangle up to 3/4-inch of top and bottom edges; make eight diagonal cuts on each side of filling to within one inch of filling. Braid strips around filling; pinch ends to seal. Cover; allow to rise in warm place until almost doubled, about 1 hour. Bake in 350°F oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until golden brown; remove from sheet. Brush with melted margarine; allow to cool 20 minutes. Drizzle with Vanilla Glaze; garnish with sliced almonds. Serve warm or cool.

Ricotta Cheese Filling

- 1/2 cup ricotta cheese
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup unsweetened cocoa
- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- 1/2 cup slivered almonds

Combine ricotta cheese, sugar, cocoa, flour, vanilla and almond extract in medium bowl; stir in almonds. Chill.

Vanilla Glaze

Blend 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar with 1 tablespoon milk until smooth.

GLAZED SAUSAGE AND FRUIT COMPOTE

Yield: 5 servings (4 cups fruit)

- 8 ounce package brown 'n serve sausage links, original variety
- 16-ounce can sliced pears
- 16-ounce can sliced cling peaches
- 16-ounce can apricot halves
- 8-ounce can pineapple chunks
- 10 maraschino cherries
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- 1/3 cup packed brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger

Drain fruit well. Arrange fruit and sausage links in a single layer in shallow baking dish. Combine butter, sugar, lemon juice and ginger. Mix well. Spoon butter-sugar mixture over fruit and sausages. Bake in 350°F oven for 30 minutes. Serve warm.

APPLE SURPRISE MUFFINS

Yield: 12 muffins

- 2 medium apples, peeled, cored and diced
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1/4 cup unsweetened cocoa
- 3/4 cup applesauce
- 1-1/4 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 3/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg, slightly beaten

Combine diced apples, cinnamon, sugar and nuts in small bowl; blend well. Thoroughly combine melted butter and cocoa; add applesauce. Combine flour, 1/2 cup sugar, baking soda and salt in medium bowl; stir in cocoa mixture and egg just until moistened. Place 1 tablespoon batter in each of 12 well-greased or paper-lined (2-1/2 inch diameter) muffin cups; spoon 1 heaping tablespoon apple mixture into each cup, pressing into batter. Cover each cup with 1 tablespoon batter. Bake in 375°F oven for 20 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from pan and cool on wire rack.

BROWN 'N SERVE SAUSAGE BITES EN CROUTE

Yield: 60 pieces

- 2 packages (8 ounces each) brown 'n serve sausage links
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup shortening
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/4 cup cold water
- Dijon mustard
- Egg glaze (1 egg beaten with 1 teaspoon water)

To make dough, combine flour and salt in large bowl. Cut in shortening until the consistency of cornmeal. Combine lemon juice and water; add liquid to flour mixture. Mix until a solid mass forms.

On a floured surface roll dough into a 12 by 14 inch rectangle. Fold into thirds. Give folded pastry a half turn. Repeat rolling and folding procedure twice. Then roll pastry into a 12 by 14 inch rectangle. Cover dough with plastic wrap and let rest 1 hour at room temperature.

While dough rests, brown sausages according to package directions. Drain and cut each link into thirds. Cool.

Cut pastry into 60 strips each 3/4 by 3-1/2 inches. Spread strips with mustard. Roll a strip around each sausage piece, mustard inside. To seal, brush ends of dough with egg glaze and press together. Brush pastry with egg glaze and place pieces 1 inch apart on greased baking sheet, seam down. Bake in 400°F oven 20 to 25 minutes or until golden brown.

Note: Brown 'N Serve Sausage Bites En Croute may be assembled, brushed with egg glaze and then frozen in a single layer. Once firmly frozen, pieces may be transferred to plastic bag or freezer container. To bake, preheat oven to 400°F. Place frozen sausage en croute on greased baking sheet. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until golden brown.

PERKED MOCHA COCOA

Yield: Four 8-ounce servings

- 2-1/2 cups cold water
- 1/4 cup unsweetened cocoa
- 1/3 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons ground coffee
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 1-1/3 cups milk
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Reserve 1 cup water; pour remaining water into percolator. Thoroughly combine cocoa, sugar, coffee and salt in small bowl; pour into percolator basket. Assemble percolator; pour reserved water over cocoa mixture in basket. Stir until all water passes through; plug in percolator. Allow to perk completely and finish dripping.

Meanwhile, heat milk in small saucepan over medium heat; stir in vanilla. Pour 1/3 cup warm milk into each serving mug; fill with mocha cocoa. If desired, garnish each mug with a dollop of whipped topping and a light sprinkling of cocoa.

Bill Ross

Beyond fried eggs: start the day with a good meal

MORNINGS AT our home during the week are usually a combination of confusion and hysteria. One of my favorite games to play is seeing how long I can stay in bed and still make it to work on time. I deliberately set my alarm earlier than necessary just so I can have the pleasure of hitting the "snooze button" several times before rising for another day at the races.

Unlike some TV commercials you may have seen, I have yet to find a soap that will turn me into a world-beater after showering.

I gauge my morning based on how many minutes I have before my ride arrives. With one eye on the digital readout of my clock radio (no music please, it might wake me up too fast), I will tell myself: 15 minutes to shower, five minutes to trim my beard, three minutes to brush my teeth and comb my hair, 10 minutes to get dressed, and 15 minutes to eat breakfast and read the paper.

Fifteen minutes later, as I again open one eye to read the time, I quickly reduce my get dressed time to five minutes and breakfast turns into juice and a vitamin on the way out the door.

Try as I might, I cannot break myself on the self-indulgent habit of staying in bed too long.

THIS IS REALLY quite a shame because I do enjoy a good breakfast almost as much as a good dinner. After five days of no breakfast, I am usually ready to spend some time in the kitchen on Saturday or Sunday morning preparing a breakfast feast.

Who among us has not marveled at the almost indescribable aroma of a basic bacon and eggs breakfast? The smell quickly permeates the entire house, giving you a lift that even beats that shower-in-the-morning feeling. Fresh-perked coffee, even if you are not a coffee drinker, has that special get-you-going aroma.

A good Saturday morning breakfast gets my weekend off to a great start. It even makes me want to get up early during the week (a feeling that is shortlived and lasts until 6:30 a.m. Monday).

While growing up, my taste for eggs was limited to scrambled. I honestly did not enjoy eggs any other way. Whenever fried eggs were served at home, I would trade my yoke to my older sister for her white. The thought of eating the yoke was enough to make me lose my appetite.

WHILE I STILL savor good scrambled eggs, my wife has expanded my breakfast horizons to "once over lightly." I have actually acquired a taste for the yoke I always traded away.

This was all well and good, until I tried to cook fried eggs once over lightly. I do not consider myself a clumsy person, but put a spatula in my hand a fried egg in a frying pan and I'll find a way to make scrambled eggs out of it. I either break it while flipping it over or break it while transferring it from the pan to the plate.

If I let it cook a few extra seconds in an effort to make the flipping easier, I invariably will end up with a hardened yellow lump in the center instead of the smooth runny yoke that is so much fun to dip my toast into. I have tried everything, from different frying pans to new spatulas.

Nothing seems to work for me. Maybe my subconscious is telling me I still prefer my eggs scrambled.

IN ANY CASE, Kathe and I have come to an understanding about preparing breakfast. We share cooking the pancakes, waffles and omelets, but she always flips the fried eggs.

Breakfast for two usually presents no major preparation problems. Having a larger group for breakfast or brunch can be a real chore. It is often difficult to cook enough eggs and bacon or sausage at one time and serve it while it is still hot. While few people have guests in for breakfast, this type of party can be unusual and enjoyable.

EGG-SAUSAGE CASSEROLE

6 eggs slightly beaten
6 slices of bread
1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
2 cups milk
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 lb. loose sausage

Brown sausage and drain well. Remove crust from bread and cut into small cubes. Combine all ingredients in a large mixing bowl, adding sausage last.

Pout into an ungreased 9-by-13-inch baking dish. Refrigerate for 12 hours. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until firm. Serves 9.

CANADIAN BACON SOUFFLE

6 egg yokes
6 egg whites
8 oz. Canadian Bacon cut in ½-inch squares
8 oz. cream cheese, softened
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese
½ cup dairy sour cream
3 tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese
2 tbsp. chopped pimento
2 tbsp. snipped chives
1 tsp. dry mustard
butter or margarine

Butter bottom and sides of a 2-quart dish. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored, about 5 minutes. Beat in cream cheese, cheddar cheese, sour cream, pimento, chives and mustard.

Wash and dry beaters thoroughly Beat egg whites to stiff peaks. Fold into egg mixture. Fold in bacon. Put into souffle dish and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour (until knife in center comes out clean). Serves 6.

Whenever fried eggs were served at home, I would trade my yoke to my older sister for her white. The thought of eating the yoke was enough to make me lose my appetite.

Canned salmon meets bread in spicy sandwich

Hearty and scrumptious describe these Scandinavian Salmon Club Sandwiches, easily prepared with a unique selection of ingredients typifying the cuisine of the Scandinavian countries.

Slices of pumpernickel bread are layered with crisp lettuce, a colorful canned salmon filling, thinly sliced onion, canned beets and hard-cooked egg. For a great luncheon or supper, the delicious flavor of Scandinavian Salmon Club Sandwiches is complemented with crisp dill pickles and mugs of hot potato soup.

Hot or cold, dainty or hero-sized, there is no end to the variety of sandwiches which can be made with versatile and convenient canned salmon. Besides being an excellent sandwich filling, nutritious canned salmon is delicious served alone or combined with other foods in appealing casseroles, salads and soups.

SCANDINAVIAN SALMON CLUB SANDWICHES

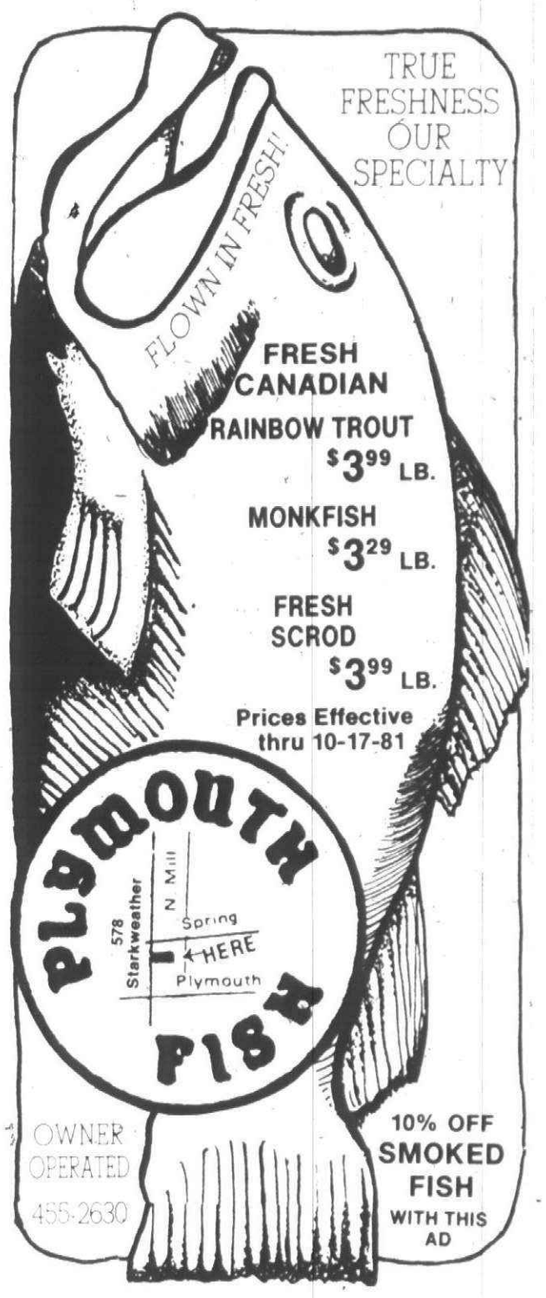

9 slices pumpernickel rye bread, buttered
3 lettuce leaves
Salmon filling
3 thin onion slices
1 can (8 oz.) sliced beets, well-drained
Mayonnaise
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
Salt and pepper
Dill pickles

To assemble sandwich, layer ingredients as follows: Top each of 3 slices of bread with 1 lettuce leaf, ⅓ of salmon filling, 1 slice onion, another slice bread, ⅓ of beets, mayonnaise to taste, ⅓ of egg slices, salt and pepper to taste and remaining slice of bread. Cut each sandwich diagonally into 4 triangles; spear each section with toothpick to hold sandwich together. Serve with dill pickles. Makes 3 sandwiches.

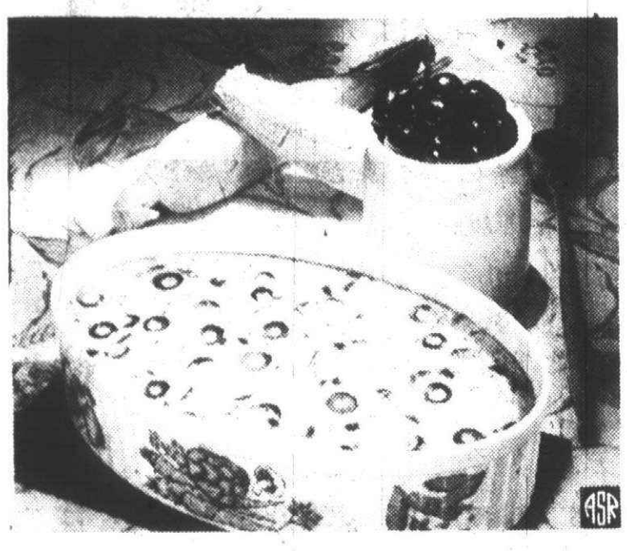

SALMON FILLING

Drain and flake 1 can (7¾ oz.) salmon; combine with 2 to 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1 finely chopped dill pickle and ¼ cup chopped celery.

Corn teams up with olives for powerful hot pudding

Corn comes off the cob to join canned California ripe olives in a delicious meatless entree for a late summer meal. The dark ripe olives add color for appetite appeal, as well as a satisfying chewiness, often missing in meatless dishes.

A protein packed combination of eggs, milk and cheese serves as a nutritious base for this handsome vegetable dish. It is easy to prepare. A white sauce is enriched with eggs and cheese. Sliced ripe olives, fresh corn cut from the cobs, bright chopped parsley, soft bread crumbs and seasonings are stirred in. The pudding is then baked slowly.

Ripe olive corn pudding is also an inviting side dish served with grilled chicken or sausages.

RIPE OLIVE CORN PUDDING

5 to 7 ears fresh corn
1½ cups pitted California ripe olives
½ cup finely chopped green onion
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
2 tbsp. flour
2½ cups milk
4 large eggs
2 tsp. salt
2 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. dry mustard
¼ tsp. white pepper
1½ cups soft fine bread crumbs
1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
¼ cup chopped parsley

Oil a 2½ quart baking dish, 2½ inches deep. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Cut corn from ears to measure 4 cups. Slice ripe olives. Melt butter. Add onions and ripe olives and cook slowly for 5 minutes. Stir in flour. Slowly stir in milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Beat eggs well. Add salt, sugar, mustard and pepper to eggs and beat again to blend.

Add bread crumbs, cheese, parsley, corn and cooked ripe olive mixture to egg mixture and mix well. Turn into oiled baking dish. Set in pan of hot water. Bake in preheated oven 1 hour and 10 minutes, until mixture is set in center, and point of small knife inserted in pudding comes out clean. Serve hot. Makes 8 servings.

Creole tomato sauced dish is well-seasoned

A city rich with tradition and fine cuisine, New Orleans, the true melting pot of the best of French, Spanish and American cooking, is famous for its Creole dishes.

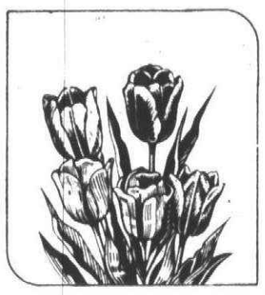

Creole-Style Blackeyes, a spicy, tomato-sauced dish features California blackeye beans. Distinctive in their look, blackeye beans have a mellow flavor that combines well with many other ingredients. The blackeyes are simmered in a well-seasoned sauce of onion, green pepper, stewed tomatoes and chicken broth.

CREOLE-STYLE BLACKEYES

½ cup chopped onion
⅓ cup chopped green pepper
1 tbsp. butter
1⅔ cups drained, cooked or canned blackeye beans
1 can (8 oz.) stewed tomatoes
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
2 tbsp. chopped parsley
1 bay leaf
½ tsp. chicken bouillon granules
¼ tsp. celery seed
⅛ tsp. each salt and pepper

Saute onion and green pepper in butter several minutes. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer, covered, 20-30 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Makes 4 servings. Serve with rice and chicken, ribs or fish.

I JUST SPENT three weeks in the British Isles, and until I can get back into the swing of things I will pass on some excerpts from the journal kept during the 2,660-mile tour and our few days in London. Some days were so full Marian and I were tempted to merely write "see brochure." But we persevered.

SEPT. 15 & 16: Janet and Jude delivered us to Metro for 4:10 p.m. takeoff. 379 persons on board 747 from Boston to Gatwick. Holdover in Boston passed quickly — took off almost one hour late but made up for it and landed at Gatwick on time. Delivered to Plaza Hotel. Went for walk; ate at Greek place; signed up for Cockney-pub tour; slept for three hours; left on tour. Very enjoyable. Dinner at Henneky's on Piccadilly Circus; Samuel Pepy's bar for Irish coffee. Good tour of city, St. Paul's and around London. Back to Plaza, met Grace from Denver who was going to Greece. Had drink in Plaza pub with Marion of Grand Forks, N.D., who was going to Europe.

SEPT. 17: Planned to get up early but slept in until after 11. Had lunch and went on bus and boat tour to the Tower of London — very good —, saw where Sir Walter Raleigh was imprisoned and the royal jewels. Lots of walking — feet great!!! Went downtown on underground at night to Trafalgar Square (with Marion from North Dakota) and walked the mall to Buckingham Palace and back. Warm and pleasant evening. Had drink at Admiral Nelson pub, which is almost a museum.

SEPT. 18: Started tour at 8:30 a.m. Clive, guide, and Ken, driver. Hampton Court gardens beautiful. Built by Woolsey, Henry VIII lived there. Jane Seymour gave birth to Henry's only son there and died shortly after. On to Salisbury, tallest cathedral in U.K. Lunch in Burke's (a pub); had chicken curry and chutney — delicious. On to Stonehenge through beautiful patchwork countryside. Hedgerows trimmed, rolling dairy country. Tea at Exeter, scones and raspberry jam. On to Plymouth, Continental Hotel, good dinner including steak and kidney pie. (Called Collinses but they were on holiday.)

SEPT. 19: Full English breakfast. Drove around Hoe, stopping at dock where Mayflower sailed. Into Cornwall and north to Tintagel, climbed up and down in rain and wind to ruins of Arthur's Castle. Tin and slate mines in area. Pastie for lunch. Clive thinks village of Camelford was original Camelot. Tea at Bideford — clotted cream, raspberry jam and scones. Town had been planning annual festival with floats but rain spoiled it. Stayed at Valley of Rocks Hotel in Lynton. Hotel was built in 1840s. Great Victorian Hotel, dinner served by uniformed waiters. No bathroom and we haven't had a washcloth provided yet. View of shoreline and and gorgeous gardens from our window. Entertainment at night by organist-singer. Excellent dinner. It was Mr. Yaitman's 66th birthday (Australian gentleman on tour.) Lower city was wiped out in flash flood in 1952. Ken said he drove lorry there for weeks, taking supplies for survivors.

SEPT. 20 (Sunday): Continental breakfast — late start. Drove through north Devon and Sommerset. Across moors with gorse still in bloom, sheep pasturing on common with splashes of dye on backs to identify ownership. They sit at roadside and wander down middle of road. First stop for tea and restroom at Taunton. Lunch in Gastonbury — avocado and prawns — saw abbey ruins and tor where first Christian church on Great Britain was built by Joseph of Arithmathea. They say Jesus visited this area several times with his Uncle Joseph on tin-buying trips. Area was then islands with houses built on stilts; now drained and fertile. On to Bath and then to Limpley-Stoke where hotel was built in 1700s as a private dwelling, converted to hotel in 1860 with addition. In-room coffee pot, full bath, good dinner.

SEPT. 21: After continental breakfast, headed NE through Avon, across Severn River bridge into Gloucestershire. West through south Wales to Fishguard, where we boarded ferry for Ireland. Calm passage on 3½-hour crossing. Restaurants, duty-free store and bar on board. Four young Welshmen started singing in Welsh (they corrected us when we suggested it was Gaelic) and soon had everyone singing. They said there was 45-percent unemployment in their town and they were just taking the ferry over and back as an outing.

They said all Welshmen can sing, and they were great. Ferry landed at Wexford and we proceded to New Ross past JFK memorial. Room with private bath in new addition to an old house. Discovered Irish police are called guarders. "Brits must go" signs spray-painted here and there. Discovered Marian had left two pairs of shoes at Limpley-Stoke. I got a bug in my ear in the middle of the night — sounded like a bumblebee.

SEPT. 22: First morning stop Waterford crystal plant — film and showroom — no salesroom there. Through Cork to Blarney, where we had tremendous tea at Mrs. Mackey's. (Clive had called in advance to make reservation.) Another tour group came in, and we dried dishes so they could get ready for them. Ken and Clive helped too. Clive said it was the first time a Cosmos tour had prepared lunch for a Caravan tour. Spent so much time drying dishes didn't see Blarney Castle or kiss stone. Did go shopping at woolen mill where they also sell Waterford, Beleek and Hummels. Hedges of fuschia in bloom line roadsides, stone fences and some wood. Went through town of 4,000 people which had a pub for Edward Kingins has had leading tenor roles in many operatic productions.

Soprano Earnestine Nimmons will sing an aria from "Manon Lescault."

Steven Henrikson, bass-baritone, is familiar to opera fans in Europe and Canada.

Elsie Inselman, mezzo-soprano, has performed many times with the Detroit Symphony.

Opera gala opens symphony season

Conductor Johan van der Merwe's fondness for opera will be evident when the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra opens its 36th season.

The opening concert at 4 p.m. Sunday in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium is entitled "An Opera Gala."

Music from operas by Puccini, Wagner, Verdi and Mascagni, concluding with an hour-long presentation of highlights from Bizet's "Carmen," will be featured.

Van der Merwe sees the opening program as an innovation with the Plymouth Symphony and expresses confidence the all-opera event will be enthusiastically received by concert-goers.

"I think this is the first time it has been done in Plymouth," said van der Merwe.

"I have a particular love for opera and have wanted to do more. And I particularly wanted to do a gala of opera for an opening program because it is such a tremendous draw and can be a great success with audiences."

APPEARING WITH the orchestra will be four vocal soloists familiar to concert, recital and opera audiences. They are Earnestine Nimmons, soprano; Elsie Inselman, mezzo-soprano; Edward Kingins, tenor; and Steven Henrikson, bass-baritone.

The Oct. 18 concert will open with the overture to Verdi's opera, "La Forza del Destino" (The Force of Destiny), which the conductor describes as one of the most popular concert overtures from the operas. Written in 1862, the opening three hammer-like blows, repeated, constitute a fate motive and theme that recurs in the course of the overture.

Soprano Earnestine Nimmons will be featured in the second number, the aria "Sola Perduta Abbandonnata" (Alone and Abandoned) from Puccini's opera, "Manon Lescault," composed in 1893. The aria is from the opera's third act, in the scene just before Manon's death.

Ms. Nimmons has appeared with numerous American orchestras. A veteran of the Michigan Opera Theatre, she has sung with the company since its inception. Most recently, she sang the role of Serena in MOT's production of "Porgy and Bess" and the role of Micaela in "Carmen."

A graduate of Wayne State University, she teaches for the Detroit Board of Education.

THE PRELUDE to the third act of Wagner's "Lohengrin," an orchestral introduction descriptive of wedding festivities, will continue the program.

Steven Hendrikson will sing with "O, du mein holder Abendstern" from Wagner's "Tannhauser," a romantic opera composed in 1845. Hendrikson, a resident of Windsor, has been heard frequently on Canadian radio and television and has appeared extensively in oratorio, concert and opera. This past August, he played Bartolo in Rossini's "Barber of Seville" at Detroit's Meadow Brook festival.

He is principal voice instructor at the University of Windsor and is founder of the university's new opera program.

The first part of the program will conclude with the orchestra playing the intermezzo from Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" and all four guest artists presenting the quartet from Verdi's "Rigoletto."

Elsie Inselman has performed many times with the Detroit Symphony at Ford Auditorium, Meadow Brook, in New York and in Washington, D.C. Her operatic performances include leading roles with Michigan Opera Theatre, the Opera Association of Western Michigan, Michigan Lyric and Piccolo Opera Company. She is an adjunct professor of voice at Wayne State University.

EDWARD KINGINS has appeared with equal success in concert, opera and oratorio.

A former Belle Isle Auditions winner, he has sung with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the Detroit Chamber Orchestra, the Detroit Concert Band and the Buffalo Philharmonic. He has sung with symphony orchestras in Flint, Saginaw and Kalamazoo and had leading tenor roles in many Michigan Opera Theatre productions.

All four vocalists will join the Plymouth Symphony after intermission for highlights from Bizet's "Carmen."

Van der Merwe, in selecting the opera excerpts, has endeavored to keep the story of "Carmen" intact.

"Of course, we have no chorus," he said, "and we have had to leave out some of the music. But we have tried to keep the thread of the story, so the main things happening in the story are there."

The maestro begins his second season with the Plymouth Symphony with a new concertmaster. Tapani Yrola, a Finnish violinist, is working on his doctorate at the University of Michigan. Yrjola studied at U-M a few years ago and has returned, hoping to remain in the United States.

New principal in the cello section is Douglas Marsh, who was with the symphony some years ago. Of Marsh, the conductor said, "The position was open, and we were fortunate to get him. He is a superb musician and a wonderful person."

Victor Hickman is the new assistant to viola section leader, Jean Braun. In the second violins, van der Merwe has promoted Gayle Zirk as leader, and Sylvia Warnock. They replace two students who graduated.

TICKETS FOR the concert are available the day of the concert at the box office of the auditorium on Joy west of Canton Center Road.

Regular season single concert tickets are $5 for adults and $2.50 for senior citizens and full-time college students. Students 12th grade and under are admitted free.

Single and season concert tickets may be bought in Plymouth at Beitner Jewelry on Ann Arbor Trail, Heide's Flowers on Ann Arbor Trail at Harvey, and Plymouth Book World in Forest Place Mall. Arnoldt Williams Music on Canton Center Road in Canton Township, and Four Seasons Floers on Main Street, Northville, also sell tickets.

Free transportation for senior citizens is provided from Tonquish Creek Manor at 3:15 p.m. the afternoon of the concert. Baby-sitting for preschoolers will be provided during the concert by Girl Scout Senior Troop 501.

The Plymouth Symphony League will sponsor a reception in the commons area of the high school for all those attending the concert. It will be an opportunity for concert-goers to meet and visit with the conductor, guest solists and members of the orchestra.

The concert is made possible with the support of the State of Michigan through a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts, the City of Plymouth and the Plymouth Symphony League.

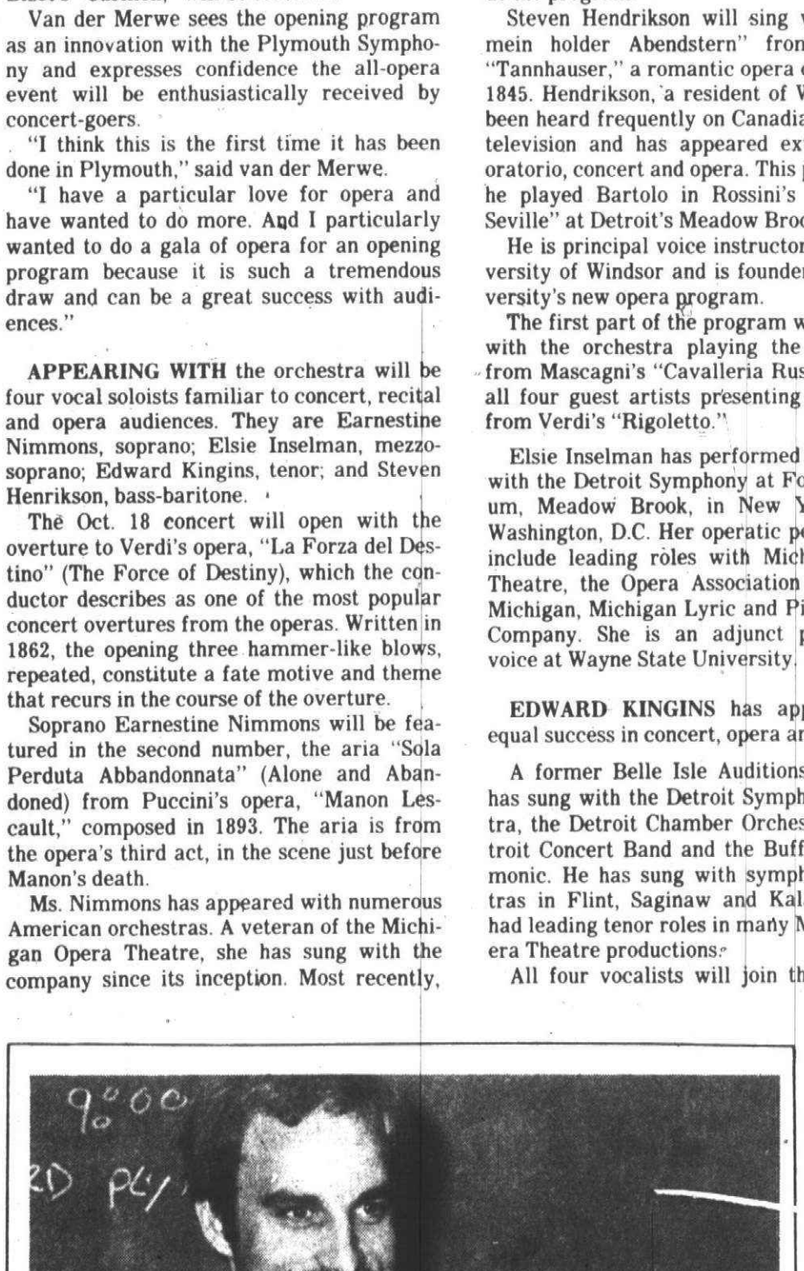

Oakway open Young Artist Competition

For the fourth year the Oakway Symphony is sponsoring a Young Artist Competition for musicians interested in solo performing. The 1982 competition is for instrumentalists under 25 years of age before Feb. 14.

Competitions are open to residents and students of Oakland, Wayne, Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair and Washtenaw counties. Next year the competition will be for voice and piano students.

Auditions will be held at Madonna College, Livonia, in January. Winners will appear as soloists with the Oakway Symphony on Feb. 14.

To obtain competition rules and application forms, write to Oakway Symphony, P.O. Box 171, Farmington 48024 or call 476-6544 or 522-7846.

Radionoff-Richardson

Sherilyn Ruth Richardson wore her mother's homemade crocheted wedding gown when she exchanged marriage vows with David John Radionoff Oct. 3. Dr. William Stahl and the Rev. John Elliott officiated for the ceremony in The First Baptist Church, Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Richardson of South Mill Street, Plymouth, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Radionoff of Sheridan Street, Plymouth.

The bride's hand-crocheted lace and chiffon gown had a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white silk roses. Cindy Medbury was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Belinda Brockwell, Tami Epperson, Sharon Radionoff and Tonya Becker. They wore apricot gowns and carried white lace fans with peach and apricot silk flowers. Following a reception at the Plymouth Cultural Center, the couple honeymooned in Ontario.

The bride is a 1977 graduate of Plymouth Canton High School. She is employed at Kmart Corp.'s Central Regional Office. She attends Schoolcraft College. Her spouse is a 1976 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School. He is employed at Kmart Corporation and attends Eastern Michigan University.

Borton-Rochon

Lynn Marie Rochon and Michael Lawrence Borton exchanged marriage vows Sept. 12 in St. Kenneth Catholic Church, Plymouth. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Rochon of Northville. Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Borton of Garden City are the bridegroom's parents.

Deborah Macurak of Wanaque, N.J., was her sister's matron of honor. The bride's other sister, Lorraine Rochon of Memphis, Tenn., gave the scripture reading during the ceremony. The Rev. William J. Pettit officiated.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Livonia Stevenson High School and is employed at Electrodynamics in Farmington Hills. The bridegroom graduated from Garden City East High School in 1977. He is employed at the General Motors assembly division in Ypsilanti.

Following a wedding trip to Florida the couple will live in Westland.

Broderick-Elster

Mr. and Mrs. John Broderick of Plymouth announce the engagement of their daughter, Bridget, to Robert Elster of Dearborn Heights. The bride-to-be is a 1975 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School. She graduated from Michigan State University in 1979. She now works as an assistant editor of the Contemporary Literary Criticism Series published by Gale Research Co. of Detroit. Her fiance will receive a master's degree in library science from Wayne State University in May. He is now research coordinator of the 19th-century, 20th-century and Contemporary Literary Series published by Gale. A June wedding is planned.

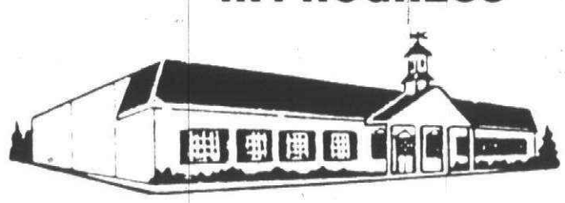

new voices

Scott and Cindy Ferriman of Parkview Drive, Plymouth, announce the birth of their son, Brandon Scott, Oct. 1, 1981, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. The Ferrimans moved to the community from Ohio in August.

Greg and Jean Stachura of Courtland Drive, Canton Township, announce the birth of their son, Matthew John, Oct. 1, 1981, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. They have a daughter, Emily Jean, who is 2.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. Stachura of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pettit of Naples, Fla.

every 43 residents. Also a town where the majority of the houses had keys hanging in their front doors. Stayed at Continental Hotel in Killarney. Bathroom had warming bars for towels which were great for drying clothes.

SEPT. 23: Ring of Kerry tour began after continental breakfast. Clive said "kil" prefix in names of Irish towns and cities denotes monastic beginnings. Went past bogs where peat was drying, rocks, old hills, long-haired sheep and cattle grazing. Through Waterville where Clive pointed out Richard Nixon's Irish estate on coast with all buildings painted green. Bob Hope and others come there to play golf. Charles De Gaulle laid a cornerstone there which the natives now call "de gaulle's stone." Charlie Chaplin used to vacation there. Beautiful countryside. Went through Castleford where Clive said "they don't park their cars, they abandon them." Cars on high street were angle-parked, from every angle imaginable, parallel parked and double and triple parked — what a mess! On to Ennis through rush-hour traffic in Limerick. Because we were missing dinner to go to a medieval banquet at Knappogue Castle, they fed us anyway and called it high tea. Left at 8 for castle. Place was packed with groups from all over Europe and America. Harpists, singers, young drama students from "the university" performed. Mead and wine were served along with another steak dinner. There was a peat fire burning in the entry-hall fireplace. Castle built in 14th century is owned by Texan whose wife is an architect. They spotted it one day when they were flying over. He bought it from the farmer who owned it, and he and his wife have been restoring it. When the Irish gained their independence in 1921, the farmers got the castles on their farmland.

OT win for Chiefs

Plymouth Canton quarterback Pat Murphy raced three yards for the winning two-point conversion in double overtime to lift the Chiefs to a 14-13 homecoming win over Walled Lake Western Friday.

While Murphy accounted for the winning points, it was running back Chuck Davis who got Canton there. Davis scored both Canton touchdowns in the two overtimes on 1-yard runs and carried five times in the extra periods for 14 yards. He finished the contest with 50 yards on the ground in 12 tries.

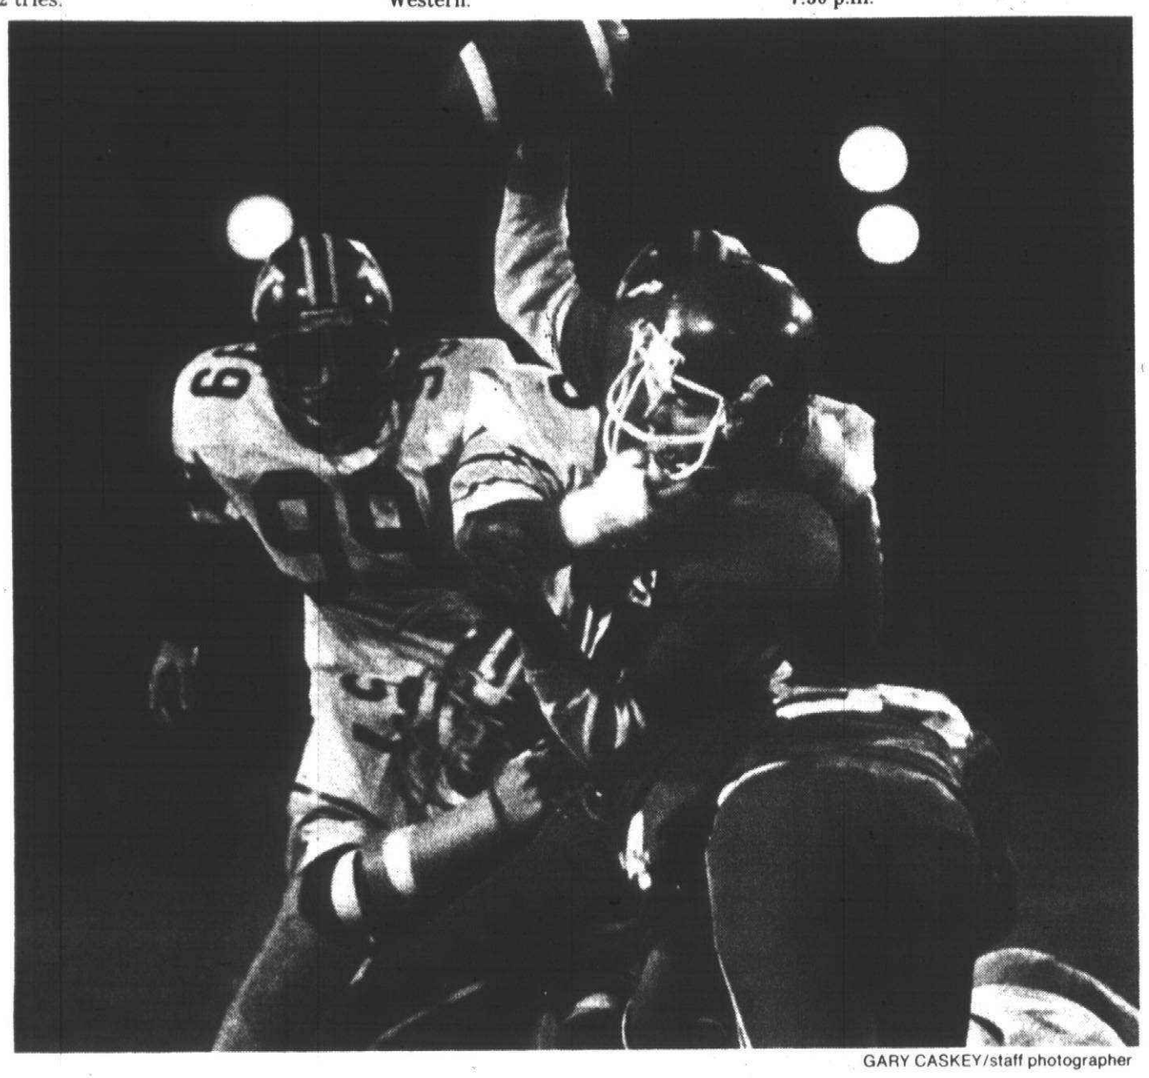

Western, led by running back Paul Imms' 163 rushing yards (37 attempts), outgained Canton but couldn't come up with the big play. The Warriors had the only scoring chance in regulation time but missed a 32-yard field goal just before halftime.

Western's overtime touchdowns were both scored by Imms. The Warriors gained 258 yards in 68 plays, while Canton was limited to 35 plays and 102 yards. The Chiefs were hurt by six fumbles, four recovered by Western.

But the big play belonged to Canton. A second-quarter Warrior drive was halted by Chief Jamie Chillcoff's interception at the Canton 20. The second half was played between the 30-yard lines, neither team mounting a threat.

The win boosted Canton to 2-3 overall and 1-1 in the Western Six League. Western is 1-3, 0-2 in the league.

Dave Sims topped Canton ball carriers with 54 yards on 12 carries. The Chiefs play at Northville Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Dearborn grinds Rocks

By Jim Hughes
staff writer

Plymouth Salem picked the wrong date to schedule Dearborn High. But that's the kind of season it's been for the Rocks.

Salem has had the bad luck of playing some of the toughest teams in the state this season. Earlier Dearborn Edsel Ford and Trenton whipped the Rocks, and Friday, Dearborn utilized three touchdown passes by Kevin Palko to whip them 28-14.

The Pioneers were picked by many prognosticators to capture the Suburban Eight League football championship this year. But after winning their first two non-league games, the talent-laden Pioneers met the same fate as Salem and suffered back-to-back losses to Trenton and Edsel Ford.

So Dearborn was an angry team, and it used the Salem game to vent its frustrations. The loss dropped the Rocks to 1-3 in the Suburban Eight and 2-3 overall.

It was Dearborn's explosive aerial attack — generated by Palko — that offset an early 7-0 Salem lead. The Rocks put the first seven points on the board on their second possession. After Dearborn took possession on its 6-yard line, running back Steve Movsesian coughed up the football into the waiting arms of Salem's Dave Slavin.

ON THE FIRST play, Jeff Arnold bolted over from four yards out and, following Mark Blaesser's conversion, the Rocks held a 7-0 lead.

The Pioneers turned the tide in the last three minutes of the half. With the ball resting on its own 10-yard line, Dearborn marched 90 yards in six plays to tie the game.

Salem attempted to battle back in the closing minute but was forced to punt. The kick was blocked and recovered on the Rocks' 17-yard line, and the Pioneers were back in business. On the very first play, Palko hit Jim Harrison on a sideline pattern to put the Pioneers ahead, 14-7, at the half.

"We should have ran the clock out," Salem coach Tom Moshimer analyzed afterward. "At that point, we should have been happy with a 7-7 tie. I take full blame for that."

The Pioneers extended their lead to 21-7 midway through the third quarter when they marched 29 yards in six plays, capped by an 18-yard touchdown pass from Palko to Dave Mifsud.

The Rocks will try for their third win when Allen Park pays them a visit at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Salem nets 5th title

Plymouth Salem notched its fifth straight Suburban Eight League girls' tennis title last week at Dearborn, but the margin of victory was closer than expected.

The Rocks won the league meet Wednesday with a total of 13 points, one point better than surprising Livonia Bentley, which settled for runner-up honors.

It was only a day earlier that Salem had downed Bentley (5-2) to go unbeaten in league duals.

Chris Gilles, Salem's standout sophomore, holds the distinction as the league's No. 1 singles player for the second consecutive year. She turned back Bentley's Jennifer Reault in the final, 6-1, 6-1.

Salem's other champion was Lisa Maggio, who defeated Bentley's Catia Monforton for the No. 4 singles crown.

Bentley's Sue Scrutton and Audrey Devon both seized their first league singles titles. Scrutton defeated Salem's Carol Hathaway in a third-set tiebreaker for the No. 2 flight championship. Devon turned back Carol Gillespie in straight sets for No. 3 honors.

The Bulldogs had a shot at first place tie in the league meet only to have the No. 3 team of Patty Dwyer and Amy Eichhorn bested in three sets by a Dearborn pair in the final match of the day. The Bentley duo, however, avenged an earlier dual meet loss by eliminating Salem's Kathy Pursell and Kathy Graham.

"I DON'T think we've peaked yet," said Salem coach Judy Braun, who wasn't bothered by the tight duel with Bentley. "Hopefully we'll be ready for the regionals (Friday at Ann Arbor Huron).

"All of our doubles need more work. They've only played two or three big matches together. Basically I'm pretty pleased. If they had played together all year, I might feel different. It's kind of hard to be disappointed."

Bentley coach Larry Dove was pleased with his team's showing.

"We played very well," he said. "We faced Salem five times and beat them in three."

Salem's also reached the finals at No. 1 doubles as Kristy Brandenburg and Beth Miller were eliminated by Dearborn's Karyn Kunzelman and Lisa Clark, 6-1, 6-3.

Salem will go after its 24th consecutive dual match victory (dating back to 1979) against tough Birmingham Groves Monday at home. It's the Rocks' final regular season dual meet.

Salem outlasts Edsel Ford

By Jay Keenan
special writer

Plymouth Salem, refusing to panic under pressure, mowed down Dearborn Edsel Ford 50-41 in a Suburban Eight League girls's basketball game Thursday.

The Thunderbirds stayed within striking range throughout the game, but the stubborn Rocks maintained their composure and conquered Edsel Ford's tight zone defense enroute to the victory.

"I thought our players held them off well," said Salem coach Bob Blohm. "Edsel kept the game close all the way. The girls could have panicked, but they didn't.

"They played with a lot of intensity tonight, and I think that was the key."

The Rocks opened up a 10-2 first-quarter lead and were in command, 17-6, midway through the second quarter. But Salem ran into foul trouble, and the Thunderbirds charged back, making seven free throws to slice the Rocks advantage to 20-15 at the intermission.

STILL, EDSEL FORD missed nine of 16 chances from the free throw line in the first half, prompting Thunderbird coach Jack Swank to say, "I think the missed free throws early in the game was the difference.

"In a close contest, free throws are the name of the game," Swank added. "You just can't miss those shots against a good team like Salem."

Early in the third quarter, Edsel Ford's zone defense and fast break bedevilled the Rocks, as the Thunderbirds closed to within one point, 24-23, on Julie Geyer's basket.

"We had some trouble against their zone defense, but at other times we were able to overcome it," Blohm said. "The girls were a bit hesitant to get the ball to the open player for a while. But our team shoots well from the outside."

SALEM REGROUPED and rocketed to a 36-24 lead at the end of the period. Jan MacKenzie, Eileen Moore and sub Ann Glomski sparked the surge. MacKenzie scored 10 points in the second half from long range, before fouling out late in the final quarter. She finished with 12 points.

Moore netted 13 points to pace Salem's attack and "did good on both offense and defense," said Blohm. Glomski contributed six points for Salem.

The Thunderbirds pulled to within five, 46-41, with 1:09 remaining in the game, but the Rocks went into their customary semi-stall. Jacque Merrifield put the contest away with a basket with 35 seconds left. Merrifield chipped in 11 points for Salem.

Edsel Ford was led by Geyer and Laura Walker with 15 points each.

Salem, now 9-1 overall, takes on one of the area's tallest squads, Livonia Franklin, Tuesday at Salem (7:30 p.m.).

Chiefs conquer

Pearly Cunningham and Sue Gerke combined for 26 points as Plymouth Canton won its 45th straight Western Six League girls' basketball game Thursday over Walled Lake Western, 61-44.

The Chiefs, now 8-1 overall, raced to a 34-20 halftime lead and never looked back.

Cunningham, a senior forward, scored 14 points. Gerke, a guard, added 12. Center Robyn Hudgins scored nine points, and sophomore Marie Krashovetz chipped in with eight.

Canton also had a good night at the free throw line, connecting on 17 of 20 for 85 percent.

The Chiefs will host Garden City East (5-2) at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

N'ville netters can Canton

Plymouth Canton girls' tennis team suffered its first league loss, bowing to Northville, 5-2, Friday.

Canton's Lisa Schlotz defeated Holly Hubbard of Northville, 6-4, 6-3, to take No. 4 singles honors.

In No. 2 doubles, Julie Gustafson and Jane McKinstry beat the opposition, 7-6, 3-6, 6-2.

The Chiefs rose to 6-4 overall and 5-1 in Western Six competition. They host Livonia Churchill at 3:30 p.m. today and travel to Farmington Harrison at 4 p.m. on Thursday.

CANTON 9
LIVONIA STEVENSON 2

The Chiefs avenged an earlier season loss by whipping Livonia Stevenson in a girls' tennis match Thursday afternoon, 9-2.

Canton won all six singles matches counted in the final team scoring.

In those matches, Kris Harrison (No. 1) defeated Beth Tatigian, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5; Lori Smith (No. 2) drilled Angie Martin, 6-0, 6-3; Julie Swain (No. 3) beat Sue Gjernes, 6-2, 6-1; Lisa Schlotz (No. 4) bested Sandy Williams, 6-2, 6-1; Amy Norton (No. 5) crushed Michelle Dubuque, 6-0, 6-0; and Jean Fryover (No. 6) disposed of Laura Blackwell, 6-0, 6-2.

Canton's No. 1 doubles team of Julie Lloyd and Sheryl Smith turned back Terri Ramsey and Julie Urbonas, 6-4, 6-7, 6-4.

Lisa Egan and Sarah Watt, Canton's No. 4 duo, followed suit with a 1-6, 6-3, 6-3 triumph over Georgia Kapsalis and Kathy Skaisgir. Pam Anderson and Pam Kang outlasted Debbie Rosochacki and Sue Tatigian at No. 5 doubles, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

Stevenson's Gilda Kleer and Margaret Trimer won their No. 2 doubles match with a straight-set victory over Julie Gustafsen and Jane McKinstry.

The Spartans also won at No. 3 doubles when Silvia Kleer and Karen Lutkewillink beat their opponents, 7-6, 6-4.

Canton's Sun Woo Kang won an exhibition pro-set, 8-4.

Chiefs routed by Churchill

Dearborn outspeeds Salem

Dearborn, defending Suburban Eight League boys' cross country champs, handed Plymouth Salem a 16-48 defeat Thursday at Cass Benton Park.

Shannon Archer was the first of four Dearborn runners to cross the finish line. He posted a time of 16:13.

Frank Brosnan, a junior, finished fifth for Salem in 16:47.

Other Salem finishers included Brad Haertel, eighth, 17:00; Skip Whittaker, ninth, 17:19; Leland Chang, 12th, 17:50; Paul Mills, 15th, 18:10, and Mike McBride, 17th, 18:30.

The loss dropped Salem to 1-4 in league dual meets and 2-6 overall.

Salem will compete Tuesday in the Redford Union Invitational at Cass Benton. The race begins at 4 p.m.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL 15
PLYMOUTH CANTON 48

Livonia Churchill swept the first six places en route to a 15-48 boys' cross country victory Thursday afternoon at Plymouth Canton's brand new course.

Gaining the first six spots for the Chargers were Bill Dobson, first, 16:33; Al Clemens, second, 17:02; Don Miller, third, 17:09; Mike Blaies, fourth, 17:12; Paul Schwartz, fifth, 17:13, and Paul Anderson, sixth, 17:21.

Dan Henry was Canton's top performer with a seventh place finish (17:34). He was followed by teammates Tim Collins, eighth, 17:40, and Tom Pasley, 10th, 17:48.

Other Canton finishers included Todd Gattoni, 17:54, Brian Lee, 17:53, and Chris Albaugh, 18:30. Sophomore Brian Jones, back in the lineup for the first time after suffering a stress fracture of the leg, was clocked in 18:08.

Leading the Canton girls in the exhibition race was Maureen Brophy (21:59). She was followed by teammates Ruth Trout (22:03), Charlotte Thomas (22:12), Patty Rising (24:30) and Liz Joubert (32:48).

Canton, now 1-6 overall in dual meets, will also compete Tuesday in the RU Invitational.

Churchill boots Salem

Paul Fairman scored in the final minute of play to give Livonia Churchill a thrilling 3-2 non-league boys' soccer victory over upstart Plymouth Salem.

The game Thursday pitted a pair of unbeatens. The victory gives Churchill an 8-0-1 overall mark. Salem, in its first season of interscholastic competition, slipped to 6-1.

Fairman opened the scoring early in the first half, but Salem came back to lead 2-1 at intermission on goals by senior striker John Molyneaux and Keith Reynolds, also a senior striker. Reynolds and Mark Kivisto earned the respective assists.

Fairman, who accounted for all of Churchill's scoring, added the equalizer in the second half and then got the game winner as his shot beat Salem goalie, Todd Chatman.

"It was a seesaw battle," said Salem coach Ken Johnson. "Either team deserved to win.

"I was happy with my team's work against such tough opposition. It was a good result."

Johnson was particularly pleased with right fullback Ashley Long who shut down Churchill's top goal scorer, Paul Newstead.

Churchill will host Northville Monday while Salem and rival Plymouth Canton tangle, also on Monday.

Baughman boots Rice to 3-0 win over CC

By MARTY BUDNER
staff writer

Mike Boughman of Brother Rice probably didn't figure on playing too much this season. But for the second straight week, Rice's reserve quarterback played a key role for the Warriors.

Two games ago, Baughman subbed for starting quaterback Dave Yarema and led Rice to an easy victory over Bishop Gallagher in a Cathloic League Central Division game.

Saturday night, Baughman kicked a 27-yard fourth quarter field goal in Rice's 3-0 victory over Catholic Central in the 37th annual Boys' Bowl played at Pontiac Wisner Stadium before some 10,000 spectators.

Early in the fourth quarter, Baughman missed a 25-yard field goal as the kick sailed wide to the left.

The game's deciding play was set up by a controversial 35-yard pass from Yarema to wide receiver Paul Jokish.

The reception gave Rice the ball at the Shamrock's six yard line.

Jokish, 6-6 All-American, leaped high into the air along with Catholic Central defensive halfback John Elwell. Both players came down with the ball, but Jokish wrestled it out of Elwell's grasp.

The referees immediately ruled that Jokish had possession.

"We thought we had the pass intercepted," said Catholic Central coach Tom Mach. "Our player thought he had it. But I was just too far away to see it."

The victory was Rice's fourth straight after an opening season loss to Youngstown Cardinal Mooney of Ohio. It was CC's third straight loss, Giving them a 2-3 season record.

It's the second straight year and the fourth time in the past six years that Rice has beaten Catholic Central.

"It's always been a low-scoring game and twice they beat us in overtime," said Rice coach Al Fracassa. "It's nice to win one like this.

"Give both teams credit, especially the defensive teams.

"The last couple weeks we threw short passes, and this week we thought we'd try long passes to open up the game.

"But they have a stubborn defense," said Fracassa.

RICE, WHICH is 2-0 in the Catholic League Central Division, had a balanced attack and gained 165 total yards. The Warriors had 80 yards rushing and 85 yards passing.

Yarema, who missed last week's game due to an elbow injury, completed four passes, three of which went to Jokish for 85 yards.

Catholic Central, which never got closer than the Brother Rice 29 yard line, gained 129 total yards — all by rushing. Michael Varajon led the Catholic Central ground game with 63 yards.

THERE WAS one good scoring opportunity in a scoreless first half. Rice recovered a Catholic Central fumble at the Shamrock 38 yard line.

On a second down play, Yerama completed a delayed pass to Pat Moore that advanced the ball to the 12 yard line. However, Rice gained only two more yards in three downs.

The Warriors then lined up for a 27-yard field goal attempt. But it was a fake and Rice squandered an opportunity to score first by throwing an incomplete pass to give Catholic Central the ball.

Outside of that threat the teams played tug-of-war between the 20 yard lines. The longest play of the first half was a 45-yard first down pass from Yerama to Jokish.

Canton golfers edged by Churchill

Livonia Churchill edged Plymouth Canton Thursday in a Western Six League boys' golf match, 213-215, at Hilltop.

The loss dropped Canton to 2-6-1 overall in dual meets.

"I'm not displeased," said Canton coach Casey Cavell. "It was our second lowest score of the year and it was at an away course. We're starting to get a little more consistent."

Four players, two from each team, tied for medalist honors.

Tim McManaman and Tim Crowder each shot a 41 to lead Canton. Both Joe Lack and Larry White also had 41 for Churchill.

Other Canton scorers included Paul Phillips, 42; Ken Morton, 45, and Eric Popp, 46.

Canton will travel Monday to play Northville at Meadowbrook Country Club. The Chiefs will close out their regular season Thursday against Walled Lake Western at Bay Pointe.

The Western Six League meet will be played Monday at Goodwin Glen in Farmington Hills.

Rock tan league wi

Plymouth Salem opened its Suburban Eight League girls' swim campaign with a 104-67 triumph Thursday at Dearborn Edsel Ford.

The victory increases the Rocks' overall dual meet record to 3-3.

Salem, which hosts rival Plymouth Canton Tuesday, won 10 of 11 events.

Showing the way was senior Terri Eudy, who captured first in the 200-yard freestyle (2:04.9) and 100 butterfly (1:04.6).

She was also a member of the winning 400 freestyle relay quartet along with Corinne Cabadas, Kelly Brandt and Amy Dunn. They posted a time of 4:02.4. Teammates Kelly Urban, Renee Rudin, Kris Graham and Shelly Mullen gained third place with a time of 4:33.2.

The Rocks' foursome of Debbie Darlington, B.J. Bing, Cabadas and Dunn won the 200 medley relay in 2:03.5.

Gaining third places for the Rocks were Kathy LaVoie, diving, 138.0; Ettinger, 100 butterfly, 1:19.3; Kim Leesch, 500 freestyle, 6:29.2; and Weimer, 100 backstroke, 1:14.9.

'Prince of the City' boldly examines police corruption

There have been any number of films that have dealt with police corruption. "Serpico," an earlier film by Sidney Lumet, who directed "Prince of the City," immediately comes to mind.

None of them, however, dealt with the moral issues so strongly or developed the principal character so fully as "Prince of the City" (R) does.

The movie is based on the true story of a New York City detective, Bob Leuci, who went undercover for the Knapp Commission to expose police corruption.

The experience of the central character in the movie, Danny Ciello, are based on those of Leuci. Ciello heads a team of the Special Investigative Unit, an elite group of police detectives referred to as "princes" because of their free rein.

THEY OPERATE as they see fit. They pick their own targets, usually major drug busts involving a lot of cash and a lot of valuable narcotics.

It becomes clear that the rewards of their jobs aren't simply commendations from the department. Some of the detectives skim from the top on the cash and dope they bring in. Many provide narcotics to informants; some make deals with underworld figures.

The Special Investigative Unit detectives, it would seem, are an integral part of the underworld they are trying to clean up.

When a major commission is installed to investigate police involvement in crime, Danny, after several false starts, goes to see them.

Treat Williams, who plays Danny Ciello, is a major reason for this film's effectiveness. With his soft, young baby face, he redefines the image of the tough cop.

He can be explosive one minute, compassionate the next. He can be the swaggering cop and the emotionally drained informant. Danny is a complex and tragic character whose motivation for cooperating with the commission seems to spring from a religious core.

DANNY NEEDS confession; he is searching for absolution. There is a longing in him to purge himself and start fresh. He cooperates with the commission in the belief that he can control the situation and that he will never betray his partners.

Yet, once he agrees to being "wired" so he can collect evidence, the scope of the investigation grows to include even the people closest to him.

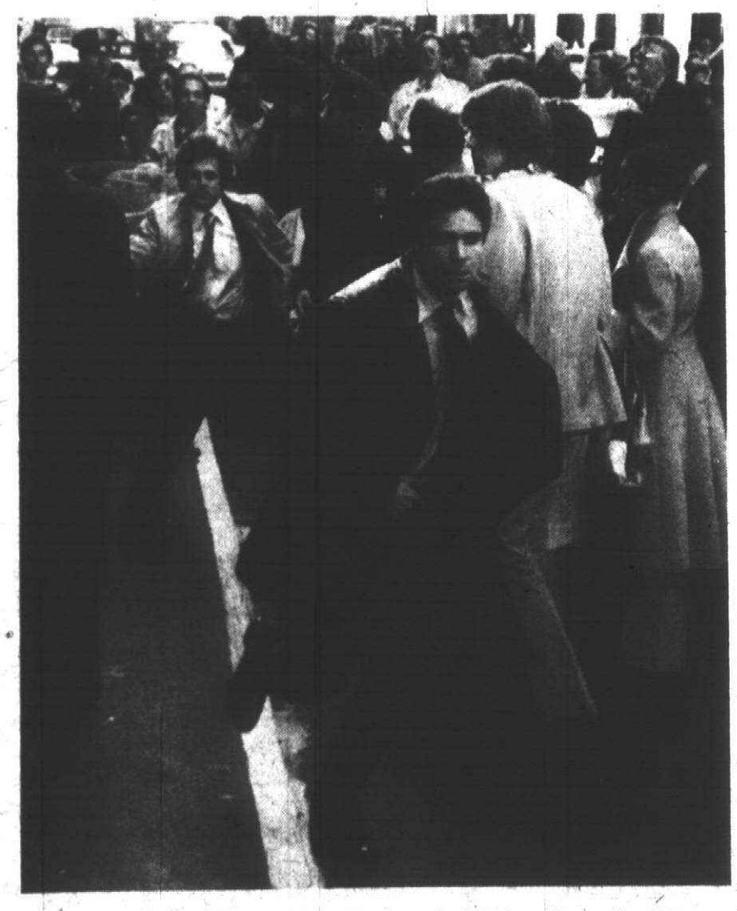

For nearly two years, Danny and his family have no life of their own. Teams of Federal agents guard them around the clock, while Danny cooperates with one prosecuting attorney after another in one trial after another.

The movie itself is nearly three hours long, as Lumet keeps piling up details in a long string of scenes that reveal the grueling and agonizing train of events for Danny and his family.

The prince of the city loses his power, but whether that is desirable is left unanswered. Lumet's film shows the policeman as both enforcer and victim.

He operates, according to Danny, in a jungle, and in order to survive in that jungle he has to follow its rules, use its methods. That's the dilemma he faces.

Lumet and Williams do an outstanding job of dramatizing it.

Detective Danny Ciello runs aimlessly through the streets, pursued by his bodyguard, in film about a New York detective who turns state's evidence.

O&E

what's at the movies

AMERICAN WEREWOLF IN LONDON (R). Strange happenings in London and on the moors in this macabre spoof of horror flicks.

ARTHUR (PG). Dudley Moore is a playboy millionaire in love with Liza Minnelli in this contemporary comedy.

BLOWOUT (R). John Travolta and Nancy Allen star in Brian DePalma's murder mystery centering around the accidental recording of a murder and the cover-up attempts that follow.

COMIN' AT YA (R). A Western with a new-old twist — 3-D. Put on the specs and have flaming arrows, bats and rats comin' at ya.

EYE OF THE NEEDLE (R). Adapted from the best-selling novel, this suspense thriller and love story stars Donald Sutherland as "the Needle," the code name for Hitler's top agent in England.

FIRST MONDAY IN OCTOBER (R). Jill Clayburgh is the first woman appointed to the Supreme Court and Walter Matthau her most persistent adversary in this bright comedy-drama.

FOR YOUR EYES ONLY (PG). Roger Moore is back in this latest James Bond film as agent 007 once again thwarts the evil schemes of Spectre.

MOSCOW DOES NOT BELIEVE IN TEARS. Sentimental romance focuses on three Russian women and looks at their expectations in the 1950s and their lives 20 years later. Won the Academy Award as Best Foreign Film.

RAIDERS OF THE LOST ARK (PG). Produced by George Lucas and directed by Steven Spielberg, this action-packed adventure pits Americans against Nazi agents in a race to acquire a sacred artifact that gives its possessor invincible power.

STRIPES (R). "Private Benjamin" from a different perspective. Bill Murray is an Army recruit in this military comedy about the rigors of basic training and woman chasing.

SUPERMAN II (PG). The story continues as Superman struggles to save the earth from criminals who survived Krypton's extinction.

Theatre Company opens with pre-Broadway play

theater

The Theatre Company of the University of Detroit has planned its 1981-82 theater season with one pre-Broadway premiere, two Michigan premieres, a classic romance and a comedy.

"Terra Nova" by Ted Tally is the pre-Broadway premiere. It is the story of five Englishmen who raced a Norwegian team in a fatal attempt to claim the South Pole, under the leadership of the legendary Capt. Scott. It is scheduled for Oct. 16-17, 23-24 and 30-31.

"Arms and the Man" by George Bernard Shaw is one of Shaw's best-loved comedies, about Raina and her "Chocolate Cream Soldier." It will be presented Nov. 27-28, Dec. 4-5, 11-12.

"Home" by Samm-Art Williams is a Michigan premiere. The play deals with the coming of age of a young black man in rural South Carolina. It is slated Feb. 12-14, 19-21.

"Philemon" is by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt. The authors of "The Fantasticks" and "I Do, I Do" offer another musical journey into adventures and heros on March 19-20, 26-27, April 2-3.

"Lady from Dubuque" by Edward Albee is a Michigan premiere. Albee's latest work is an examination of death and loss. It will be presented April 23-25 and 30, May 1-2.

Season tickets are available at $24 regular and $16 for any student or senior citizen. For more information, tickets or brochures, call 927-1130 during regular business hours.

Symphony opens competition

For the fourth year the Oakway Symphony is sponsoring a Young Artist Competition for musicians interested in solo performing. The 1982 Competition is for instrumentalists under 25 years of age before Feb. 14.

Prizes are awarded by the Michigan Foundation of the Arts: first prize: $1,000; second and third prizes: $750; fourth prize: $500. The J.L. Hudson Co. and the Ford Fund make this competition possible by grants which help to cover the many expenses involved.

Competitions are open to residents and students of Oakland, Wayne, Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair and Washtenaw counties. Next year the competition will be for voice and piano students.

Auditions will be held at Madonna College, Livonia, in January. Winners will appear as soloists with the Oakway Symphony on Feb. 14.

To obtain competition rules and application forms, write to Oakway Symphony, P.O. Box 171, Farmington 48024 or call 476-6544 or 522-7846.

'Candide' staged as arena theater

Leonard Berstein's musical "Candide" opens Oct. 24 in the Studio Theatre of Varner Hall on the Oakland University campus near Rochester.

The fantasy-satire is presented under auspices of the School of Performing Arts. Virtually the entire interior of the theater is being redesigned for this production.

Director James Hatfield is presenting "Candide" in arena style with six staging areas. Some members of the cast will be sprinkled throughout the audience, and some members of the audience will be seated on one or more of the staging areas.

The "participation theater" effect is similar to that used for "Candide" when it reopened in New York in 1974 to rave reviews. An earlier, more serious approach to the musical had been disappointing.

Tickets are $3.50 general admission and $3 for OU students and senior citizens. For information, call 377-2000.

BUDD ON THE MOVE!

Join Us At Our New Engineering And Sales Facility In Rochester, MI.

There's a reason behind our company slogan: we're growing to meet the challenges of a changing technology in the automotive, trucking and railway industries. Right now we have excellent, ground-floor opportunities for the following professionals:

General Supervisor — Plant Engineering

An opportunity exists for a degreed mechanical or electrical engineer, or equivalent, to function as General Supervisor — Plant Engineering.

You must be a self-starter with heavy experience in plant layout, equipment for presses and assembly, conveyor systems, material handling, building equipment and plant construction. You must also have at least three years supervisory experience — including recent experience as a supervisor in plant engineering for automotive body and frame manufacturing operations — and knowledge of electrical, welding and hydraulic systems.

Fab. & Ass'y Plant Tool Engineers

As a well-seasoned Tool Engineer with extensive fab. and ass'y plant tool experience related to automotive stamping, you'll be responsible for • developing concepts for design of tools, automation and special equipment for automotive assembly and stamping plant • preparing sketches of those concepts to guide designers making finished designs • following progress of actual design and coordinating design operation with Process Department in solving manufacturing procedure problems • participating in solving tool construction and model start-up problems • and helping coordinate work with customer and suppliers. An engineering degree preferred, but not required.

In addition to an excellent salary and comprehensive automotive fringe benefit program, you'll enjoy opportunity, challenge, growth and reward — the cornerstones of a stimulating career. Please forward resume and salary history to:
