The Canton Connection

HAVE YOU EVER seen a fawn in your garden? Chances are that subdivision owners in Canton never get a chance to see the graceful animal in their backyards — no matter how close they live to the farmland in the township.

Well, that all changed Thursday morning, according Lt. Larry Stewart of the Canton Police Department. The police got a call from a resident in the Stonegate Subdivision early Thursday morning who reported a fawn in the middle of her garden.

"It's a little unusual because we see deer, but never fawn," Stewart said. "This was in the middle of the subdivision (east of Lilley and north of Palmer). It came from the west, I presume, and it must have crossed Canton Center, Sheldon and Lilley."

Stewart added the animal was apprehended by police with no problem.

"The animal was very tame," he said.

Canton police called officials from the state Department of Natural Resources who picked up the animal from the police and arranged for its release, Stewart said.

WANTED — MONSTERS. The Canton Jaycees are in need of monsters for their haunted house, on Ford Road east of the I-275 expressway. The haunted house is open from 7:30-11 p.m. daily until Oct. 30. For more information, contact Jim Frusti at 453-5937.

SUPERVISOR JAMES Poole jokingly pointed the finger at long-time Township Clerk John Flodin when trying to guess which township employee and spouse were expecting a baby. Poole's guess was incorrect, however.

Grant Coordinator Terry Carroll and wife Sue are expecting their first child — sometime in May. Carroll made the announcement at Tuesday's board meeting after his contract with the township was renewed for another year by a unanimous vote of the township board.

"That let's me off the hook," said Flodin, with a heavy sigh of relief.

AFTER FIVE rain postponements and six long weeks, the first-ever BMX motocross race made its debut at the Woodland Meadows landfill site in southeast Canton last Sunday. There were 46 raiders at this inaugural event, according to Gordon Wrenbeck of the Easy Rider Bike Shop in Canton — a co-sponsor of the activity.

"We would have liked a couple of hundred people, but we've postponed so many times," Wrenbeck said. "It's going to take two or three races to get people out here."

There also was a major motocross race at the Pontiac Silverdome the same day as Canton's race — adding to the low turnout.

Wrenbeck added there will be two or three more races, weather permitting, this season before closing the site for the winter. He said the track will reopen for a full season of racing in late April or early May on next year.

THE LEAGUE of Women Voters for Plymouth-Canton-Northville will sponsor an educational forum on two issues concerning Canton residents at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Township Hall, on Canton Center south of Cherry Hill.

Farmland Preservation and the Wayne County Charter will be discussed at this time. Both issues will be on the Nov. 3 ballot. The public is invited to attend.

Bart Berg (pro charter), Darneau V. Stewart (con charter), Gary Sands (pro farmland) and Robert Shefferly (con farmland) will be the guest speakers.

CANTON'S TOWNSHIP Board will conduct a public hearing and consider the special land-use approval and site-plan approval for Woodland Meadows Landfill expansion at its next regular meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 27. The public is invited to attend.

Flood woes frustrate irate citizens

By Nancy Ferguson
staff writer

"The smell was quite disgusting," said Lynda Galbraith, a Brookside Subdivision resident who was referring to the condition of her basement.

She was one of many residents in the Canton Township subdivision who were victims of recent heavy rains and flooded basements.

Mrs. Galbraith's father, who happens to be a plumber, was visiting from Scotland at the time of the flooding. She said "he was astounded that we could have a sewer system in this country that would backup into our homes."

With the help of her father, the Galbraiths put in a pipe as an extension to their basement drain. Although they did get a small amount of water after the pipe was installed, she believes it would have been much worse without the extension.

Sally Papler, another resident of Brookside, was irate over the water problem in her basement.

"I'VE LIVED in Canton Township for the last six years, and every place I've lived has had flooding problems," said Mrs. Papler.

She said she was upset because she would like to finish off her basement and put in a pool table. But is afraid to because the basement might flood again.

Natalie Ripple, a neighbor of Lynda Galbraith, said she didn't get much water because her husband had installed an adapter pipe on their drain.

"It's still unpleasant having water in your basement when your house is barely a year old. I think part of the reason so many people are moving out of Canton is because of the flooding problem," said Mrs. Ripple.

In an effort to avoid future flooding, township officials recently purchased a pump system. The first pump is now being installed at Haggerty and Cherry Hill. It is expected to be completed within two weeks.

It will take another 14-16 weeks to install the other three pumps, which have been ordered but haven't arrived. The total cost for the pump system is around $50,000, according to Gary Barnett, township inventory supervisor.

JOHN FLODIN, township clerk, explained how the system will work.

During heavy rains, when the water reaches a certain level, an alarm will sound in the fire station. At that point, a supervisor from the water department will go out and check the pump. If it is determined that the water is going to continue to rise, the pump will be activated.

Flodin admitted the township had received a number of complaints from residents.

"I can understand if someone has a flooded basement they are going to be angry," said Flodin.

"Basically, flooding can happen in any area. Our sewer system is capable of handling the water during periods of normal rainfall.

"When the rainfall is extremely heavy, the basements flood. With the new pumps, the water will be pumped out of the sewers, preventing it from backing up into residents' basements.

"I don't know if I can promise there won't be any more flooded basements, but I believe the pumps will give us a 90 percent capability of handling the flooding problem," Flodin added.

Flodin said the township is basing its beliefs on technical information researched by its engineers.

"But only time will tell," said Flodin.

Schools face more budget cuts

The future for public education in Michigan is bleak.

That prognosis was given Monday night to the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education by Superintendent John M. Hoben.

Hoben cautioned school trustees that large revenue losses were on the horizon for the 1981-82 budget year and that further cuts between now and January were very likely.

The school district expects to get hit on two fronts — reduced state funding because of Michigan's floundering economy, and lost revenue from passage of some kind of property tax reform measure by the Michigan Legislature.

A third pressure point, only further removed, is that the school board this spring must begin negotiating contracts with seven labor unions.

Dr. Hoben told trustees Monday night that the district's financial outlook is very bleak, a message he recently shared with the administrative cabinet and president of the teachers' union.

THE STATE'S fiscal year ends Oct. 1, Hoben commented, and to balance the state's 1980-81 budget the governor recently cut out payments earlier promised to local governmental units.

For Plymouth-Canton Community Schools the loss represented a reduction of $64,000 in state membership aid. Schools are hit harder by executive order cutbacks, Hoben added, because they receive less of their total funding from the state and so less remains proportionately when a cut is made.

On the average, Hoben said, counties get 40 percent of all their funds from the state, townships get 44 percent and cities get 42 percent. But school districts get only 32 percent of their total income from state sources.

Between this year and last, he added, Plymouth-Canton had its state funding reduced by $3.5 million — not counting the recent $64,000 cutback. Because of a decline in enrollment of some 800, the district now is looking at another loss of $700,000 in state membership aid.

The state budget now is facing an imbalance of $250 million for the current 1981-82 fiscal year which will result in an upcoming executive order cutback much larger than this month's loss, Hoben said.

On top of that, the loss in revenues to school districts from the various tax reform proposals range from $100 million to $700 million statewide.

The superintendent noted that if the state reduced its funding to all local units of government the savings would only be $35 million and so major cuts are on the horizon if $250 million is to be made up.

The revenue losses from the state in the near future could result in Plymouth-Canton losing from $800,000 to $2 million, Hoben stressed.

Current projections are that the administration will be reducing the instructional faculty by 12 positions at the end of the current semester. Hoben said he hopes that can be done by attrition — not replacing persons who retire, resign, or go on a leave.

Hoben said the district at the beginning of the fiscal year had a fund balance of $1.9 million but had budgeted expenses which exceeded revenue by $3.5 million.

The board authorized the spending of $1.5 million from fund equity and approved cuts of $2 million. Those decisions reduced the fund equity to about $465,000.

On the positive side, reported Hoben, the district has earned $250,000 more in interest than budgeted and has saved $100,000 in worker's compensation expenses by reducing the number of persons expected to be laid off last April.

Responding to criticism of the board for spending $7,000 on soccer and $150,000 on textbooks, Hoben added that the board also voted to restore $1.5 million in the budget which reduced the number of teachers laid off and resulted in more supplies being available for students.

This $1.5 million restoration by the board, he said, was $500,000 more than recommended by administration.

Hoben commented that the state should revaluate all the mandated programs it has placed on local districts such as drivers' education, bilingual language programs, hot lunch and special education.

"We might have to begin zero basing on curriculum and determine what is basic to this district and budget accordingly."

Park's opening a reality?

By Dennis O'Connor
editor

Flodin Park finally may be open for public use next spring.

The long-awaited opening now can become a reality after the Township Board unanimously authorized Canton Parks and Recreation Supervisor Mike Gouin to change contractors to help prepare the park for seeding.

Township officials were not happy with the work of Joseph Chie Contracting, Inc. of York Township near Ann Arbor. Chie was hired by the township to construct the initial phase of the park in the fall of 1979. The job included installation of storm sewers and a parking lot and grading the land, according ot Gouin.

The grading job on 17 acres of the 28.4-acre park on Saltz between Lilley and Sheldon was unacceptable, according to township officials.

Dennis Crimboli Landscaping in Canton now is completing the grading process. Recreation officials hope to begin spreading $3,500 of seed on 17 acres of the park this week. The township has not made final payments to Chie.

GOUIN TOLD the Observer he wanted to begin seeding the park last spring, but couldn't because of the incomplete job.

"We had hoped to be in the park by this fall, so we are a year behind," Gouin said.

"We were not happy with the final grading of the park. There was a big quesion of how the grading was finished. With heavy rains there was huge ponding (this summer), which confirmed the fact that the grading was not done properly — and we have pictures to prove it."

Aaron Machnik, of the Canton building department, which inspected the park in July, confirmed Gouin's concern. He added the decision to change contractors was important so the park could be open to residents as soon as possible.

"The condition of the park was questionable," Machnik said. "The contractor (Chie) did come back and made some adjustments. We went out again, but it wasn't what we had hoped it would be."

Machnik felt there was "miscommunication or misunderstanding with the finishing conditions of the park" with Chie Contracting.

Officials from Chie were not available for comment.

Gouin said he hopes the park will be open this spring. Additional phases of the park development include purchasing play equipment and developing ball diamonds, Gouin said.

The park is named after long-time Canton Township clerk John Flodin.

Carroll's pact renewed

The Canton Township Board unanimously renewed the contract for Grants Coordinator Terry Carroll for one year at Tuesday night's Canton Township Board meeting.

Carroll, 31, has worked for the township since August 1978. He earns $25,000 annually.

Carroll's contract renewal was postponed for two months by the township board because of the uncertainty about federal funds and grants coming to the township and the board's desire to reorganize township hall functions.

Carroll, a graduate of Wayne State University, was the senior citizens coordinator for the city of Plymouth for two years before coming to Canton. He currently is working on his masters degree in public administration at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Accountant promoted

John Sobleskie was promoted to Deputy Finance Director by a unanimous vote of the Canton Township Board last week.

Sobleskie, 34, was the township accountant for almost 1½ years before gaining the promotion. He joined the Canton staff in August, 1980.

Mike Gorman, Finance Director, had high praise for the effort Sobleskie has given to the township.

"I think John is well deserving, and he's been doing the job (of Deputy Finance Director)," Gorman said. "The board recognized his efforts."

Sobleskie will be the front-line manager of the finance department, Gorman said. He also will continue to work with the computer system in the finance department.

Sobleskie received a raise of more than $4,000 annually with the new position. He earned $19,235 as the acountant. He now earns $23,966 as the Deputy Finance Director, effective two weeks ago.

The board voted 4-3 against giving Sobleskie retroactive pay to June 1 of this year for his new position. The four trustees, Robert Padget, Carol Bodenmiller, Loren Bennett and Steve Larson, voted against the retroactive pay. Township officials James Poole, John Flodin and Maria Falkiewitz voted in favor of the retroactive pay.

Sobleskie's accountant position was eliminated by the board.

Happy Birthday, library

Staff Photos by Gary Caskey

The Canton Public Library will celebrate its first birthday on Tuesday.

In honor the occasion, the Friends of the Canton Public Library will sponsor a birthday party and membership tea from 7-9 p.m. in the library, on the third floor of Township Hall, on Canton Center, south of Cherry Hill. Coffee, tea and birthday cake donated by Create-a-Cake in Canton will be served and tours of the library will be available.

The Friends, a non-profit organization founded to help the library, was successful during its first year. A pre-Christmas new book sale last winter was a popular activity.

And, the used book sale during National Library Week in April of this year was so successful that the Friends donated several costly and useful items to the library. Among these gifts are a community-information and referral file, a freestanding globe and an extensive set of reference books on World War II.

The Friends plan to repeat this sale next April and are soliciting used books for the event. Persons are encouraged to bring their used books to the library for the Friends' sale.

Future plans of the Friends include assisting the library in a volunteer capacity, fund raising and coordinating a project to assist handicapped library users. Persons interested in becoming Friends of the Library are invited to attend the birthday party Tuesday.

THERE ARE many reasons to celebrate the library's birthday. The popularity of the Canton Public Library is apparent by circulation figures and response to the library-sponsored programs.

More than 240,000 items were borrowed from the Canton Public Library during its first year. This makes the library the sixth most popular library in the 60 member Wayne Oakland Library Federation.

More than 800 children participated in the Summer Program. And, throughout the year, more than 100 preschoolers are involved in different story time sessions.

When the library first opened its doors in October 1980, it was stocked with approximately 20,000 books. This month, the total book collection exceeds 47,000 volumes and more books will be added.

The library subscribes to 200 magazines including adult, juvenile and professional titles. Many magazines are available on microfilm covering several years of back issues.

In addition, the library subscribes to current reference sources, including "Standard and Poors," "Value Line," "National Business Employment Weekly," "Dun and Bradstreet" and Congressional Quarterly's governmental service.

THE CHILDREN'S collection features cassettes, records, book/cassette combinations, filmstrip/cassette combinations, puppets and comic books in addition to its extensive book collection.

Special services of the library include telephone and in-person reference service, outreach programs for senior citizens and extensive in-library programs.

A very active children's department staff sponsors the whole gamut of library programs geared to youth. These programs include the popular story times throughout the year for 2-year-olds and for older preschoolers.

Events take place during Children's Book Week held annually in November, including activities for preschoolers

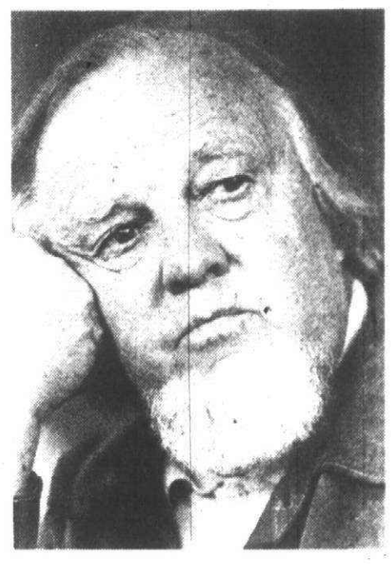
Theologian urges challenge to humanism

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

If the trend toward humanism continues, Christians will be forced to disobey the government, said Dr. Francis Schaeffer.

Schaeffer, philosopher, theologian, author, speaker and founder of L'Abri Fellowship (a spiritual retreat) in Switzerland was the keynote speaker recently at the First General Assembly of the Evangelical Presbyterian Church (EPC). The assembly was held in the Ward Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

More than 12,000 members attended the EPC's first convention. Fifteen churches, including Ward, are members of the new group which left the United Presbyteran Church last April because of differences in interpretation over the diety of Christ, a controversy over the ownership of local church properties and the issue of having women serve as elders on local boards.



Francis Schaeffer
philosopher

"THERE COMES a place where it is our duty to disobey the government," said Schaeffer, who traveled from Switzerland to address the new denomination, despite his battle with cancer.

More than 12,000 members of the EPC attended the first convention.

"I still don't see Christians being stirred about what is going on," the gray-haired, goateed speaker said. Schaeffer's film series, "What Ever Happened to the Human Race?" deals with some of the issues he addressed including abortion, euthanasia, infanticide and the treatment of the elderly.

Recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions and current practices at large hospitals reflect the trend toward humanism, according to Schaeffer, speaking to a crowd of more than 1,700, some of who had to watch the speaker on closed circuit television.

THE DECISION to have abortion on demand, and medical practices which allow "undesirable" infants to die are humanistic decisions and practices, not biblically founded, said Schaeffer, who was received by the assembly with a standing ovation.

"Anyone who holds an office, and goes against the law of God, aggregates his authority. It is your responsiblity to disobey someone who has aggregated his authority," said Schaeffer, who is a member of Reformed Presbyterian Evangelical Synod. He illustrated this by pointing to the recent departure from the United Presbyterian Church by many of the congregations now in the EPC, including Ward.

"God does not give us his laws to limit us. He give us his laws out of his character that means that the law is for our good," he said.

"In this country the battle for the next 10 to 15 years is going to be in law," Schaeffer said, because of the nature of law and current accepted beliefs.

SCHAEFFER contends law is based on moral judgements (murder is against the law because killing is bad), yet without God or the Bible there is no basis for moral judgements.

"Without it (the Bible) there is no basis for law. Modern man, who has turned away from the Bible, has found no basis for these things (law, beauty and ugliness, nature, cruelty or goodness and personal relationships)," Schaeffer said.

"The Bible is God's written communication to man, and tells us the solution to man's moral guilt. Without this communication, man would not have answers to the great questions of life. That is what this generation is finding out," Schaeffer said.

Schaeffer also said the Christian population has failed to educate its children about what the rest of the world believes. Something that is necessary if they are to communicate with other members of society.

"Existential philosophy is dead, but the existential mentality continues on everywere," he said, claiming existentialism is a form of humanism once it's understood the proudness of humankind won't work.

"There is a world spirit of the creature (man) trying to become autonomous of God," he said.

Existentialism is a philosophical and literary movement based on the doctrine that existence takes precedence over essence. It holds that man is totally free and responsible for his acts, and that this responsiblity is the source of anguish.

Schaeffer's latest work "Christian Manifesto" contains many of the thoughts he presented at Ward. The book will be available later this year.

and school-aged children. Magic shows, puppet shows, storytelling programs, drama shows, craft workshops and film programs are just a few of the programs offered to children.

A Summer Reading Club for school children attracts hundreds of readers who participate in reading and library programs. Free Reading is Fundamental (RIF) book distributions accompany library organized activites throughout the year.

Children's librarians visit schools and other community groups promoting reading and the use of libraries. Clara Bohrer, head librarian in the children's department, recently was elected chairman-elect of the Michigan Library Association's Children's Services Caucus.

The adult's department offers programs of interest to adults such as recent seminars on wills and trusts, resume writing and employment interviewing techniques.

In addition, a wide range of current best sellers are available at the library. Young adult programs, sponsored by the department, include the very popular babysitting workshops leading to Red Cross certification, given by Rebecca Havenstein-Coughlin, head librarian in the adult's department.

The library's membership in the Wayne-Oakland Library Federation entitles library users to request materials through inter-library loan. If the Canton Public Library does not own a particular book, then the staff will be happy to request it from another library.

If the Canton Library owns the book, but it has already been borrowed by another patron, a reserve will be placed on the book and it will be held when it is returned.

Natural face lifter coming to town

Beauty consultant Marylou Bloch wants to lift some faces when she comes to town.

She has developed an aloe-based natural facial lift, a product she claims works.

Ms. Bloch, who owned and operated a makeup salon in Birmingham, will appear at Beautiful People Hair Forum in Plymouth, 550 Forest, from 10-4 p.m., Oct. 22-23.

Traveling to many cities, she promotes her line of cosmetics, including a premakeup base, a lipstick fixative and waterproof eyeliner.

Since image is important, Ms. Bloch said, she thinks women should make themselves look good, pay particular attention to their makeup and learn ways to enhance their beauty.

Home base is the Marylou Bloch Institut de Beaute, a penthouse in Palm Beach, Fla., where she teaches classes, works with private clients and gives lectures.

At the age of 3, she won a baby contest and went on to a career as one of the busiest models in the Detroit area.

As a teen, she did catalog work for Hudson's and was a staff model as well as serving on the high school teen board.

Under contract with 20th Century Fox, she did bit parts and attended drama school with Hollywood's Ann Margaret.

After marrying her childhood sweetheart, Sonny Bloch, she moved to Tampa, where she became Florida's first female weather reporter on television.

She has written beauty columns for the Detroit Metro News and Detroit Monitor. She has also appeared regularly on television shows like WWJ-TV's "Good Morning."

Inspections of car free

Free vehicle inspections are being offered to help motorists prepare their cars for winter driving.

The inspections will be performed by the Automobile Club of Michigan for Plymouth area residents from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Oct. 22 at Albert's Automotive station at 990 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

The auto club will perform and demonstrate a 12-point maintenance check which can be performed by anyone in less than a half hour in a motorist's own driveway.

Motorists also will be shown the correct way to jump start a car and what items to carry in the trunk for winter emergencies.

"We will demonstrate how easy it is for motorists to properly maintain their vehicles to ensure trouble-free starts this winter," said Heniz Topol, manager of the Auto Club branch at Ann Arbor Road and Sheldon in Plymouth.

"The 12 items can be checked by any motorist in less than 30 minutes with minimal effort."

The list includes a check of six fluid levels — oil, antifreeze, transmission, power steering, brake and windshield solvent — plus battery terminals, air filters, belts and hoses, tire pressure, lights and wiper blades.

Every motorist participating will receive a written assessment of the checkup and two car-care booklets.

Mormons plan fireside chat

A fireside chat scheduled for the end of this month will feature as speakers George Romney, Richard Headlee and a leader of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 30 in the Westland Latter-Day Saints Stake Center at 7575 N. Hix Road in Westland.

Featured will be Elder Marvin J. Ashton, a member of the Council of Twelve Apostles of the church.

Former Michigan governor Romney and tax reformer Headlee also will speak at the meeting. Both are leaders in the Mormon church.

It is believed Ashton will speak on youth because he has traveled worldwide as a youth conference, fireside and youth leadership director and speaker.

A former Utah state senator, Ashton will spend all day in conference with some 340 missionaries assigned to the Dearborn Michigan Mission in Farmington.

Student FM radio changes are made

A number of changes in broadcast format have been made by WSDP (88.1 FM), the student radio station at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP).

From 4-5 p.m., WSDP will present "The Afternoon Edition," with the first half-hour being local, national and international news, sports, weather and a traffic report from Plymouth citizen's band radio.

From 4:30-4:40 p.m., WSDP will offer a number of programs designed to meet the needs of listeners.

On Monday and Wednesday, the Community Notes show will be presented to air information about what is going on in Plymouth, Canton and surrounding communities.

On Tuesday and Thursday, it will be CEP News, which is information directed toward Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high school students and parents.

Each Friday at 4:30 p.m. "Entertainment Update" will provide information on having a fun night out.

Each weekday at 4:50 p.m. WSDP presents a new program called "The Financial Update." Phyllis Shank and Tim White from the Plymouth office of Prescott Ball and Turben will report the closing Dow Jones averages along with the most active stocks and other financial news.

Preceding the Financial Update each Friday at 4:40 p.m. will be "Sports Weekly," which will review the week in CEP sports with interviews and feature reports.

At 4:55 p.m., wrapping up the Afternoon Edition, there will be a five-minute recap of the latest news, sports, weather and traffic conditions.

From 5-6 p.m. weekday will be the Contemporary Show. This show also will be aired on Tuesdays from 5-7 p.m. and on Thursdays and Fridays until 9 p.m.

The Tuesday Country Show was moved from 7-9 p.m., and on Wednesdays at 7 p.m. "Best of Broadway" will feature broadway musicals with host Lisa Rohde.

The Classical Show will be each Wedensday at 7 p.m. Fridays at 6 p.m. will be "Album Playback," a concert of classic albums played in their entirety without interruptions.

WSDP now broadcasts Monday-Friday from noon to 9 p.m. but starting Monday, Oct. 19, the station will begin its broadcast day at 9:30 a.m.

Skating pond hours are set

Flexible winter hours have been set for Plymouth Park, which soon may be better lit.

"I'd rather not have set hours," said Supervisor Maurice Breen at last Tuesday's board meeting.

"We need to have discretion in setting the hours," Breen said, "because the ice skating pond seems to get little use in the mornings and more use during vacations and weekends."

Although the set hours recommended by Parks and Recreation Superintendent Gene Hood were generally approved, the board left room for changes to meet the township's needs.

Until weather conditions permit ice skating and cross-country skiing, the park will open at 8 a.m. and close Monday through Thursday at 8 p.m. and Friday through Sunday at 9 p.m.

To light the area for night activities, Chief Building Official Joe Attard has been asked by the board to draw up specifications.

"We need to cut down on vandalism in the area," Attard said. "Kids are breaking picnic tables and tearing out trees."

Attard said he will recommend, at an approximate cost of $5,000, six additional lights in the area — two by the skating rink, one by the shelter, two by the pavillion, and one by the maintenance shed.

"Lights are the greatest deterent to vandalism," said Attard, who proposes protecting the lights with plastic, shatter-proof lenses.

Although the board agreed that lights were needed in the park, the number of lights was the issue.

Homer airs on Tuesday

Terror, romance, high drama — all will travel over the radio waves of student-run WSDP.

To catch the first episode of "The Odyssey of Homer," tune in at 6 p.m. Tuesday to WSDP (88.1 on the FM dial), the student-operated radio station at the Plymouth Centennial Education Park.

The next seven episodes of "The Odyssey" and classics like "Tale of Two Cities," "Cyrano de Bergerac," and "The Adding Machine" will be aired at 6 p.m. every Monday.

These dramas are produced by the Peabody Award winning National Radio Theater of Chicago. The WSDP has 26 of these plays.

"The Odyssey" is hosted by Emmy Award Winner Edward Asner and stars stage actress Irene Worth.

The cast also features veteran stage actor Shepperd Strudwick, Barry Morse who played Inspector Guard on television's long-running "The Fugitive" and John Glover, winner of the New York Drama Desk Award.

The story centers on Odysseus, wily king of Ithaca, famous for his resourcefulness in the Trojan War. Returning home after the war, his ships are blown off-course and all his men are lost.

Odysseus himself is detained for 20 years. Finally, he returns home to rid his palace of unscupulous young princes who are trying to force his faithful wife to marry one of them.

A brief documentary follows each play. Ed Asner interviews knowledgeable scholars about topics brought out in the plays,

We're fortunate to have Ross

To the editor:

Your recent story on the management team of the Fellows Creek Golf Course was a job well done.

When the (Canton) Township first purchased the golf course in 1978, it was a controversial topic battered around by the political process. There was a lot of flak given to the recreation committee for its recommendations. But time has proven it was a good buy for the citizens of Canton.

Where else could you get such a fine family that has kept its word and continues to provide a profit to the township treasury? We were fortunate to have Dan Ross as the manager for the golf course.

Additional suggestions were to add a banquet room, tennis courts and even purchase more acreage to enlarge the number of holes. With the energy situation the way it is, why travel anywhere else to play, but in your own community?

Former chairman
Recreation commission

Golf benefit was a success

To the editor:

Our family moved to Plymouth seven years ago and have always felt the warmth and generosity of wonderful neighbors and friends concerning our retarded and handicapped little daughter, Jennie.

Last week was no exception. In fact, it probably was the nicest gesture of concern and help we have ever felt.

We were presented with a check from the Randy Williams golf benefit to pay for Jennie's much needed toilet chair and new stroller. We never had the pleasure of knowning Randy but have gotten to know many of the wonderful men he grew up with.

We especially want to thank the board members, Mike Patrick, Mike Kisabeth, John Gillis, John Bida, Larry Olson, Joe Humphries and Jim Elias, and everyone who participated in the yearly benefit. Thank you for helping us after a financially burdened year. We never will forget your kindness to our little daughter.

Every year when you have your golf benefit we are sure Randy smiles down admiringly at the wonderful men he knew as friends and is so very proud of each one of you. God bless you. Thank you again.

Many helped City of Hope

To the editor:

On behalf of the staff and management of the Plymouth Hilton Inn, it gives us great pleasure to extend our heartfelt appreciation to the people of our community who made the Plymouth Hilton Entertainment Festival '81 such a fantastic success for the City of Hope.

The months and hours of preparation by our employes, the assistance of state and local officials, and the support of the media were instrumental to this effort.

Of course, without the support of our community merchants and individuals, the donation to the City of Hope would not have been possible.

Hundreds of individuals and organizations who participated this year have expressed the desire to repeat in the Plymouth Hilton Entertainment Festival '82. We welcome their involvement and look forward to working together again for this worthy cause.

Politicos ponder the Tisch, Milliken candidacies

Bob Wisler

Attending a social gathering a few days back, I shook hands with no less than one U.S. senator, one U.S. representative running for governor, one Oakland county prosecutor aiming to be governor and one former U.S. representative running for the U.S. Senate.

Campaigning has begun, and election '82 in Michigan promises to have the most interesting political campaigns in years.

The biggest question marks concern Gov. Bill Milliken's eventual stand and anti-tax crusader Robert Tisch's vote-getting abilities.

Will Milliken be a candidate for re-election as governor, run for the U.S. Senate against Don Riegle or bow out of Michigan politics?

Will Tisch have enough vote-getting ability to take advantage of a crowded Democratic gubnatorial field?

Although Tisch is discounted as a major threat, Democratic leaders don't like Tisch in the race. One concern is the fear that even with predictably limited support, he could still slip through a crowded primary field and become the Democratic nominee.

MILLIKEN'S reticence to reveal his plans or his leanings is making Republican leaders nervous.

Take the recent social gathering. Introducing Phil Ruppe — the upper peninsula Republican businessman now running for the U.S. Senate — to many persons in the hall was a state representative.

Ruppe can probably count on this legislator's support up to the minute Milliken declares himself a candidate for the Senate. Then it will be goodbye Phil, let's go, Bill.

On the other hand, some local leaders now starting to help Ruppe might be reluctant to cut him loose later should Bill decide to embark on a senatorial career.

Millkien could dispel the confusion by indicating his desire to run for the senate. But to announce senatorial ambitions now would tremendously decrease Milliken's authority and effectivness as governor.

No matter how he feels, Milliken will come under heavy pressure to become the Republican senatorial candidate.

MICHIGAN IS one of the few big states which has two Democratic senators. Republicans see Riegle as vulnerable. The Republican hierarchy nationally wants to get Riegle out and put a Republican in and will allocate plenty of money and effort to the campaign. The hierarchy also wants the strongest possible candidate. Three guesses as to who gets that billing, and Ruppe and Ballenger don't count.

The Milliken-Brickley ticket has been discussed ever since Jim Brickley resigned as president of Eastern Michigan Unversity to become the 1978 lieutenant governor candidate. Speculators think Brickley took the job he once had no use for in 1974 because he was promised a shot at running for governor in '82.

The scenario once evisioned would have had Milliken resigning before his term is up and Brickley taking over the governor's job for a year or more to give him a leg up on the Democratic challengers.

The flaw is that with all the problems Michigan has endured, inheriting the governor's office in the last part of Milliken's term isn't the edge it was once thought to be.

Milliken's strength as a vote-getter, in fact, may be significantly diminished by the state's recent problems. The ticket of Milliken for senate and Brickley for governor doesn't look nearly as strong as it once did.

DEMOCRATIC candidates are presuming there is a good chance Milliken will depart, and this causes even more eagerness to run than is normal.

Many party big guns despaired of going through another election with Fitzgerald as the Democratic standard bearer. They looked around for a candidate who get put on a stronger challenge than Fitzgerald did in '78. Lo and behold, there was Jim Blanchard. Blanchard, the 39-year-old U.S. rep from Pleasant Ridge, has personal charisma and a good record. He gained exposure in the federal bailout of Chrysler Corp. He rates a 10 out of 10 on how a candidate should look. He was drafted and has become a front-runner.

With Tisch now an announced candidate, some Democratic leaders will start pressuring other announced Democratic candidates for governor to reconsider their candidacies.

With six or seven Democrats splitting the primary votes, Tisch could conceivably become the Democratic nominee with less than a plurality.

The push will be on to get the Democrats to back one strong candidate in the Democratic primary next year. This would help eliminate the divisiveness that has hampered Democratic efforts in election years past.

And it would make Tisch less of a threat.

The problem will be convincing the Democrats who don't have a strong chance that they don't have a strong chance.

World's livingest gerbil isn't living any more

Craig Piechura

This is the story of a geriatric gerbil and the boy who loved her.

Even if you never got the chance to view the world's oldest gerbil when it was living, you still have a chance to see Sahara in all her glory.

Through the efforts of Tom Kurtz, owner of the American Taxidermy shop in Madison Heights, Sahara will be spared the usual shoebox burial in the backyard.

Thanks to the foresight of Sahara's owner, 12-year-old Aaron Milstone of Lathrup Village, thousands of persons will soon be able to see a stuffed Sahara on display at the Guinness Book of World Records Museum in Niagara Falls, Ont.

TAXIDERMIST Kurtz is hard at work trying to capture the correct pose and personality of Aaron's pet, which died Oct. 4 at the age of 8 years, 4½ months. Sahara lived 7 months longer than Squirt, the previous record holder for gerbil longevity.

"Aaron wanted it mounted in a typical gerbil pose," Kurtz explained. "This I'll have to research at a pet store. It'll probably be a pose with all four feet on the ground. A typical mouse or rodent-like posture."

Realizing Sahara's time was near — one month before her death — Aaron began contacting area taxidermists to see if they would stuff the celebrated gerbil and how much they would charge.

"Near the end she was all hunched over and really skinny," he said. "I don't think the cat did anything to her but when we woke up that morning she was dead. I think she just died in her sleep. My mom said she thinks Sahara died of all the publicity.

"I was pretty sad," Aaron said when he learned Sahara gave up the ghost. "To think of it, she had lived over three-fourths of my life."

RECOVERING from his grief, Aaron remembered the taxidermist's advice to keep the carcass in the refrigerator to prevent rigor mortis from setting in. After taking the frozen remains to the taxidermist, Aaron contacted the curator of the official Guinness Book of World Records Museum in Niagara Falls, Ont. — one of seven such museums authorized by the makers of the book and Guinness stout.

Art Gilewski, assistant museuem manager, said negotiations with Aaron regarding display of the World's Oldest Gerbil are underway. It seems curators would like to have the gerbil displayed permanently.

It goes without saying that this Aaron is a human dynamo. He makes the calls to newspapers and he writes the letters to Guinness that resulted in the recognition of his pet on page 683 of the latest edition of the record book.

Instead of being egged on by pushy parents, Aaron's father, Leonard, notes that his son "is the kind of kid you have to slow down some times."

COLIN SMITH, correspondence editor of the magazine in Enfield, England said in a telephone interview that Aaron made the book by verifying his claim with a written logbook entitled, "My Wonderful School Years."

The entry in the book, penned by his mother, marked the birth of two gerbils, Sahara and Enchilada, three weeks after their gerbil mother, Alberta, was purchased at a pet store in April 1973. So, even by the most conservative estimate, Sahara had to be born on or before May 21, 1973 and that is the date Guinness recognized as the gerbils birthday.

Aaron Milstone and his pet gerbil Sahara. The pet died recently.

"You say, unfortunately, Sahara is now deceased," Smith said when I called him. "We'll have to carry that forward in our 1983 edition. I'm sorry to hear that. She was the record holder."

Sahara still is the record holder. Aaron is quick to point out, until some other older gerbil lives longer than 8 years, 4 months and 2 weeks.

Should Sahara's longevity record eventually fall, so be it, says Aaron. Sahara left her mark on the world.

For that reason, Aaron doesn't plan on purchasing another gerbil.

"Like my dad says, Sahara was one gerbil in a million or maybe more," says the young Milstone.

Even after the gerbil's death, there's still quite a menagerie at the Milstone household. Members of the 4-H Club, Aaron and his family are raising a dog, a cat, some quail and at least a dozen giant South American cockroaches named Blaberus giganteus.

For the sake of the taxidermist and the museum curator, let's hope the cockroaches don't live too long.

How does a totalitarian group take over? Easily

Sandra Armbruster

Sometimes parents can learn a lot by watching programs specifically dramatized for their youngsters. One such case was the recent televised showing of "The Wave."

A compelling drama, "The Wave" documented what happened to a California high school teacher and his class during a social experiment that was designed to show how people can be conditioned to accept a totalitarian society.

The program, a feature of the ABC Theater for Young Americans, began with a young girl's questions:

"How could the Germans not know what Hitler was doing? How could they ignore what was happening?"

Like many of us who have asked those same questions, the teacher had no answer. But he was determined to find one.

The teacher began an experiment. Control through discipline was his first objective.

Students were taught a motto and a salute: "Strength through discipline, strength through community, strength through action," they chanted as they struck their breasts with clenched fists which were then raised to shoulder level.

TO ENSURE conformity, student spies were appointed to monitor the growing community of students involved. Dissenters were silenced, sometimes violently. Others simply gave up the right to think and make decisions for themselves.

They became conditioned to act on every command of the teacher.

The experiment continued with breathing and posture exercises. For the first time the class became quiet and attentive.

The students were told to leave their seats and mill around the room. They were timed on how long it took them to return to their seats. Now, the teacher said, do the same thing, but without talking.

The students returned to their seats 15 seconds sooner.

The next day the teacher was stunned upon entering the classroom. The experiment had taken on a new dimension. He found the students seated silently, in a disciplined posture. They stood when spoken to and addressed him formally before speaking.

The experiment continued. Students became absorbed with following ther rules of the "Wave," the name of the organization. Even the teacher found himself obsessed. He began wearing clothes of authority — suits, ties and white shirts — and became preoccupied with the experiment.

At the end, the teacher called the students together for a meeting outside of school for an address by a national leader. No leader appeared. The students realize they had been duped — all the discipline and solidarity were for naught.

THE TEACHER warned the students to remember the experiment, to remember how close they had come to accepting totalitarian organization.

Then the teacher failed by giving the students the wrong reason for obsession with The Wave.

"You all wanted to be superior to everyone else," he told them.

But he was wrong. The students wanted to feel special, but the desire was based on acceptance by other members of the group and by their leader. They were no longer alienated. Someone cared and they finally had a reason for being.

Here is the lesson for parents: Discipline, a sense of common purpose and action and a sense of being an important part of a strong unit are needed.

How else can you explain the success of such groups as an outstanding concert choir or a successful football team?

And how else can you explain such traditional groups as the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts where young boys are taught to follow Akila and to "obey the law of the Pack?"

ERIC FROMM wrote about it 25 years ago in his book, "The Art of Loving." Separatness, he said, is the source of all anxiety, the driving force behind formation of community groups.

He points out there are ways of channeling the drive for discipline and need for expression of one's own will by forming community goals that are followed by action.

Parallel groups can be found on an adult level — corporate and religious organizations, for example. When people can't find this sense of identity, purpose, belongingness and security in normal channels, they seek refuge in such organizations as the Rev. Jim Jones' People's Temple.

In writing the True Believer in 1951, Eric Hoffer noted that the rise and spread of mass movements comes from a general frustration and implies blind faith and allegiance to a single purpose. Causes differ and so to, Hoffer noted, do the poisonous or beneficial nature of the results.

So the story of the teacher in California is one that we must all study. Anything carried to extreme is harmful, but there is nothing inherently wrong with discipline, community and action.

Discipline provides structure for learning and living. It provides a system to disagree with your wife without shooting her, like one unfortunate man in Canton Township did recently.

Community teaches values and helps set goals that will benefit the whole. Action on those goals is based on the faith that we have a future to work toward.

That future begins today at home.

If the next generation fails to end the violence and to prevent another holocaust, it's because we, the parents, have failed to teach them how.

Michigan's good news stories abound

Rich Perlberg

This is National Newspaper Week or something like that, and normally it is time for an obligatory column telling what fine people we are and extolling the virtues of the First Amendment.

Worthy topics, to be sure, especially the reminder about how wonderful we are (some people tend to forget), but en route to this standard piece, my normally pleasant demeanor was marred by a small news item.

THE STATE Department of Commerce has paid $140,000 to a Washington, D.C., consulting firm to design a PR campaign to improve Michigan's image. The firm that will do the work says the state suffers from inflation, umemployment, unions, recessions, workers' compensation and the media's failure to play up the state's positive aspects.

Boy that grinds me. First of all, by that firm's admission, there are problems in the state. I'm not quite sure how to write upbeat stories about the nation's highest unemployment rate or the fact that what cost $1 last year costs $1.15 this year. How do you write a positive story about 'the worst housing slump since World War II? Perhaps if someone gave me a $140,000 consulting contract I could figure out a way.

Second, to say that newspapers don't play up the positive aspects of the state is pure horsefeathers. Every year, there are hundreds and hundreds of stories about the good things happening in Michigan.

THERE ARE stories about the glories of Lake Michigan, the wonders of the Detroit renewal efforts, the shining revival of Grand Rapids, the outstanding hunting and fishing of the north, and, of course, the people — interesting, talented, prosperous, determined, striving, dynamic or hopeful.

Heck, some papers even print positive stories about the Detroit Red Wings. That takes effort.

Finally, when it comes to giving Michigan a black eye, newspapers take a back seat to business people, especially those who scream about what a rotten place that state is.

Talk with the folks at the state chamber of commerce or some Republican lawmakers, and they will quote you chapter and verse about a poll that says Michigan is the very worst state in the nation to run a company.

I've seen one of those polls. The No. 1 ranking went to Mississippi. I ask you, how much faith can you put in a survey that says the best place to be is Mississippi?

SEAL OUT DENTAL DECAY
Dental decay is the most prevalent disease in the world. It occurs most frequently on the chewing surfaces of teeth. Rarely does a person go through childhood without cavities and fillings in these areas. Now, there is a way to avoid much of this damage and repair.
Plastic film, known as sealant, can be applied by the dentist to these chewing surfaces to seal vunerable pits and grooves in which decay-causing bacteria can be trapped. The sealant prevents the plaque and acid from attacking the tooth surface. Sealants for tooth surfaces are already past the experimental stage and are in use, especially for the biting surfaces of molars.
The sealant protects teeth as long as it is retained. In studies of several thousand children, the material was retained from a few months to several years. If lost, the sealant can be reapplied.
Adhesive sealant can also be used to repair broken edges of front teeth. They can match tooth color, are economical and easy to handle.

Pumpkin Baking for a Memory Making FAMILY REUNION

Soon the clans will be gathering – grandparents, nieces and cousins by the dozens. Added to family holiday celebrations, there'll be other get togethers as well, with "families" of office friends, schoolmates, committees and clubs. Tantalizing home-baked desserts, served with coffee or milk, mingled with talk and laughter, can help to make happy reunions, large or small.

Pumpkin is especially prized at holiday time, for the traditional pies that stir up memories of delicious tastes. Endowed with a generous bonus of Vitamin A, plus lesser amounts of iron, Vitamin C and other nutrients, it can also be turned into a delectable variety of holiday specialties to delight any "family," at home or away. With a supply of solid-pack canned pumpkin and these creative ideas on hand, you can "bake a memory" for many reunions to come.

BAKE AND TAKE A PUMPKIN CAKE to work and get set for raves at coffee time. Easily toted in its bundt-type pan, this moist golden cake that begins with a mix, serves pals aplenty. A small resealable container of rum or vanilla icing is perfect for freshly-frosting this luscious cake on site.

YESTERYEAR PUMPKIN PUDDING recalls the era of homespun desserts sometimes called the "comfort foods." Few but grandma will guess that leftover bread is the economical base for this tender pudding, subtly flavored with pumpkin, raisins and spice. For a simple topping, use stirred vanilla ice cream; a cool contrast to this warm dessert that's both nostalgic and new.

Silky, smooth and glamorous PARTY PLEASING PUMPKIN CHEESECAKE is sure to sustain a festive mood as a dessert for New Year's Eve or any gala evening. Gently spiced pumpkin, swirled with an unabashedly rich almond cream makes a luxurious bake-ahead showpiece, nestled in an almond and graham cracker crust.

Gentlemen take note – the superb pumpkin pie you're so very fond of can now be your very own creation! BACHELOR-EASY PUMPKIN PIE is a speedy version of a favorite recipe. Preparation is extra easy, even for the novice chef, with its no-roll pastry crust and one-bowl pumpkin filling. The spoon-on garnish of whipped topping with a spirited touch of orange liqueur or brandy is an added elegance that's failure-proof, too.

When hours are scarce and the crowd is abundant, PUMPKIN BLONDE BROWNIES are a sweet surprise for school or club reunions. Butterscotch pieces, melting over these pumpkin-walnut bars as they cool make a creamy no-fuss frosting with the greatest of ease. Bake a 3-dozen batch in a jelly roll pan or use the 2-pan method for "one batch to savor and one to save."

Another guest pleaser that's bound to capture compliments is a hearty PUMPKIN RIBBON BREAD, baked with good-for-you ingredients such as pumpkin, orange juice and whole wheat flour. The loaf, when sliced, reveals its built-in ribbon of creamy citrus spread. Wrapped and be-ribboned as a hostess gift, this would make an appealing addition to any holiday brunch.

Young-at-heart cookie monster gets just desserts

Kathe Ross

He's 80-plus and very dear to me. His mannerisms and his personal characteristics remind me of Maurice Chevalier. He does not have gray hair, but white. As I conjure an image of him, I invision him dressed immaculately and formally in a three-piece suit.

His idea of casual is combining a short-sleeve shirt with a tie and a cardigan, the type that Ozzie Nelson always wore.

He is my mother's father — my granddad.

Ever since I graduated from U-M, granddad has teased me about his lack of a higher education. His schooling was interrupted by the necessity to help support his family. However, unlike myself, he can discuss forcefully the merits or faults of any governmental system or any notable politician and his platform or either viewpoint of a two-sided issue.

NOWADAYS, after a big family meal, his great-grandchildren scurry to find their jackets so they can join Great Papa on his evening stroll.

If, at family gatherings, granddad disappears shortly after arriving, I know where to find him. He's sure to have made a beeline to the kitchen and is noiselessly discovering what there is to snack on prior to dinnertime.

On being discovered, he denies vehemently to having sampled any tidbits and rejoins the family. Later when gifts are being opened, he again finds the time to sneak off to nibble on any leftover goodies, especially if those include any homemade cookies.

So when his birthday rolled around this year, I had a solution as to what to buy him for a gift.

Every year, my family struggles to search for the perfect gift that seems to go unappreciated. Ingeniously, this year my brother gave him numerous free passes to a nearby automatic car wash for his treasured car. These, along with the accompanying letter, were given to granddad at his outdoor barbecue party that my parents arranged for his friends and family.

WHAT A marvelous answer to this year's dilemma! The letterhead consisted of a colorful sketch of a cookie monster stuffing his mouth with a handfull of cookies. The closure was strategically dirtied with chocolate-smudged fingerprints.

My grandfather seemed extremely pleased. He seemed excited of the prospect of being visited by me monthly and receiving homemade goodies to boot. He loved all of his gifts and truly felt loved by all of his family. Indeed, he is!

ROSS' CHERRY COOKIES

1 large can of cherry pie filling
(Any other fruit pie filling may be substituted)
4 cups flour
¾ tsp. salt
¾ tsp. baking powder
4 eggs
1 cup shortening
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups sugar

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder; set aside. Mix the remaining ingredients in a large mixing bowl until creamy. Add the dry ingredients to the bowl. Put half of the mixture on a greased cookie sheet. (Spread dough by flattening as if it were pizza dough.) Spread with a spoon the selected pie filling on top of the dough in the cookie sheet. Add the rest of the dough on the fruit filling by flattening small amounts of the dough between floured fingertips. (It does not have to be smooth or even.)

TOPPING

2 tbsp. cinnamon
2 tbsp. sugar
2 tbsp. flour
Butter to make crumbly

With a pastry blender or two knives, mix ingredients to form a crumbly mixture. Sprinkle on top of the dough. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Dear Mr. Gogolin:

We have just been informed by confidential sources that you are a unique character and a very special man that is loved by many. Also it has been brought to our attention that you often exhibit an uncontrollable craving for sweet homemade goodies. These three qualities are needed to be considered for honorary membership to our club. You have been chosen by popular vote to be initiated into our newly formed, highly prestigious group — the Cookie Monster's Dream-Come-True Club. Congratulations!

Every month you will be receiving, hand-delivered by special loving carriers, a freshly baked batch of delectable cookies direct from the gourmet kitchen of the infamous William A. Rosses (and their son and chief cookie-taster Brent) who were featured in the May issue of Redbook. The cookies are created of 100 percent natural ingredients and fortified with love (necessary for the health and well-being of every 83-year-old granddad).

Just a sneak preview to get those salivary juices flowing — in July, a batch of scrumptious chocolate-coconut morsels to whet your tastebuds. Shortly you will delight in finger-licking, fruit-filled cookies (your choice of apple, peach, cherry or blueberry filling), lip-smacking oatmeal raisin in September, yummy old-fashioned snickerdoodles in October, wonderfully tasting ginger snaps in November, splended Italian pizelle in December, and finally, to start the new year right, Grandma Gogolin's delicious peanut butter cookies.

We hope you are looking forward to your monthly, mouth-watering delights (as any Cookie Monster would be!) As an honorary member, you will receive my 'bible,' a storybook of my tales and a special tin to hold fresh the heavenly morsels coming your way.

Until our next snacking,
yours truly,
A Fellow cookie monster

GRANDMA'S PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 cup brown sugar, tightly packed
1 cup smooth peanut butter
2 eggs, beaten
2 tbsp. water
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder
Pinch of salt

Cream together in a large mixing bowl the first four ingredients. Then add the remaining ingredients, one by one, to the mixing bowl until all have been added. Blend well.

Make balls from the mixture as large as walnuts. Place on an ungreased, unfloured cookie sheet. Press down with a large serving fork that has been dipped in flour.

Bake in 350 degree oven for about 6 minutes.

SPICED RAISIN OATMEAL COOKIES

1 cup sugar
1 cup shortening
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking soda
2 cups flour
¾ tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. ground allspice
¼ tsp. ground cloves
2 eggs
2 cups oatmeal
5 tbsp. sour milk
(If sour milk is unavailable, add approximately 1 cup milk and 1 tsp. vinegar to make it.)
1 cup halved raisins

Sift together flour, salt, soda, cinnamon, allspice and cloves; set aside. Cream together in a large mixing bowl the sugar and shortening; then add eggs. Add the sifted ingredients in small amounts alternately with a tablespoon of sour milk until all has been added. Add the oatmeal and raisins last. Drop by heaping teaspoons about 2½ inches apart on greased cookies sheet.

Bake in preheated 350 degree oven 10-12 minutes or until golden around edges. Remove to rack to cool.

Venison

The hunter bags the prize, but then what to do with it?

Once you've shot your deer, what do you plan to do with it?

Venison is a highly prized game meat that can be made into mincemeat, jerky or summer sausage. You can also freeze it for use in your favorite dishes.

You can cure the venison to make a produce like corned beef, according to Al Booren, Wayne County extension meat specialist. You can then use the cured venison in a New England boiled dinner, reuben sandwiches or hash. Cured venison can also be cooked or dried in a smokehouse to give it a smoked flavor.

Aging, the first process in handling most meats, is not essential for venison, according to Booren.

Aging, also called seasoning, ripening or conditioning, involves holding the properly dressed carcass at 34-38 degrees for several days.

The aim is to make the meat more tender and flavorful, but this does not always happen with venison for these reasons:

First, venisons carcasses, which have little or no fat cover, lose moisture rapidly, and the surface of the meat may discolor because of drying out or microbial growth during the aging process. Therefore, when venison is aged, it is aged "hog style" — with the skin on — to prevent moisture loss and microbial growth.

Second, grinding or chopping tenderizes the meat, so venison carcasses that will be ground or made into sausage do no require aging.

Finally, the temperature is often above 40 degrees during deer hunting season, and at these temperatures, meat tends to spoil rapdily. Deer killed in warm weather should be processed without aging.

Once you've decided whether to age your venison, process it in one of the following ways.

FREEZING: An excellent and easy way to preserve venison. Prompt freezing preserves the meat at its best, so freeze the meet soon after cutting and wrapping it.

To prepare venison for the frezer, trim away connective tissue and fat, the source of strong, gamey flavors. The meat will then be pan ready when you open the frozen package for cooking.

Proper packaging keeps meat from drying out during freezer storage and prevents air form entering the package and causing oxidation, which results in loss of quality. Use wraps made especially for freezing, including heavyweight aluminum foil, laminated freezer papers, thick plastic freezer bags and polyethylene films. Package the venison in quantities your family will eat in one meal and label each with the date and cut of meat.

Freeze quickly at 0 degrees or lower. For quickest freezing, place packages — in single layer — against freezing plates or coils, leaving a little space between packages so cold air can circulate freely. Remember that overloading the freezer slows down the speed of freezing. Food that freezes too slowly may lose quality or spoil, so freeze venison, a little at a time, in quantities that about to about two pounds per cubic foot of total freezer storage space.

Once the packages of venison are frozen, they may be stacked in the freezer. Keep the freezer at 0 degrees or colder.

For best earing quality, use frozen ground venison within two to three months. Frozen venison steaks or roasts should be used within eight to 12 months.

CANNING: Venison, like other meats, is a low-acid food that must be canned in a pressure canner, according to the extension service. For instructions, contact the county center at 721-6550 and ask for the USDA bulletin "Home Canning of Meat and Poultry." Follow the directions carefully.

VENISON MINCEMEAT

5 cups ground, cooked, lean venison
1 qt. ground beef suet — about 1 pound
3 qts. chopped, pared tart apples — about 12 medium
⅓ cups finely chopped orange peel
1½ cups chopped orange pulp — about 2 large oranges
¼ cup lemon juice
33 oz. currants
3 lbs seedless raisins — mixture of dark and light
8 ozs. chopped candied citron
2 lbs. brown sugar — 4½ cups, packed
1 tbls. salt,
1 tlbs. cinnamon
1 tbls. allspice
2 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. cloves
¼ tsp ginger
1 qt. sweet cider or apple juice

In a large kettle, mix together all ingredients. Simmer one hour, stirring frequently to prevent sticking. Pack, hot, into hot jars, leaving once inch headspace. Adjust caps. Process pints and quarts in pressure canner for 20 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. Yield: about 6 quarts.

VENISON SUMMER SAUSAGE

A popular recipe for making summer sausage at home calls for 5 pounds of hamburger. Venison may be subsituted for half of the hamburger, or a mixture of lean venison and beef fat may be used.

Combine 2½ pounds of lean ground venison with 2½ pounds of hamburger that contains 30 percent fat or grind together 4 pounds of lean venison and 1 pound of beef fat. Fat trim is preferable to suet for sausage making.

For 5 pounds of ground meat, use the following ingredients: 5 teaspoons Tender Quick curing salt with contains 0.5 percent sodium nitrate; 5 teaspoons salt, 2½ teaspoons garlic powder, 2½ teaspoons ground black pepper, and, if desired, a few drops of liquid smoke.

Combine all ingredients in a large bowl. Mix thoroughly with a spoon. Using a piece of waxed paper or plastic wrap, shape the misture into 5 one-pound rolls — each no larger than 1½ inches in diameter. Refrigerate the wrapped rolls for 24 to 36 hours. Unwrap. Place on a broiler rack in an over set at 175 degrees and bak for 4 hours.

Store summer sausage up to three weeks in the refrigerator. For longer storage, wrap in moisture-vapor-resistant wrap and freeze. Because its saltiness promotes the developement of rancidity, frozen sausage should be use within two months.

CURING VENISON

Vension, like other meats, may be cured at home. Cured venison will be similar to corned beef.

The best cut of venison to cure is the upper portion of the round, because it contains alsmost no fat and can be fairly easily separated into pieces. If a commercial curing preparation like Sugar Cure or Tender Quick is used, followed the manufacturer's directions.

If making your own brine, use the following sweet pickle solution, which will cure 50 pounds of venison:

To 5 gallons of cold waerr, add 7 pounds salt, 2 pounds sugar and 1½ pounds cure which contains 6.25 percent sodium nitrate. Cures like Modern Cure or Prague Powder can be purchased from small commercial sausage makers. Stir until the indgredients dissolve.

Keep the meat and brine at temperatures between 34 and 40 degrees throughout the curing process. Higher temperatures will cause spoilage; lower temperatures will retard the curing process.

To prepare the venison, chill the meat to a temrpeature between 34 and 40 degrees. Cut the meat into fairly big pieces all about the same size. Put the meat pieces into a container made of a salt-resistant material — ceramic, crockery or food-grade plastic.

SOMETIMES I wish I had never started this review of our tour of the British Isles. Really thought it all would fit into a single column.

OCT. 1: Rainy and cold in the old city of Edingurgh which was named after King Edwin. Tour of city in a.m. with kilted Scottish guide, Archie Roy. Clive said he was good, and he was. A big, bearded Scot who had almost drunk Clive under the table the night before. First stop was Edinburgh Castle in driving rain. War memorial room most impressive, listed casualties of Scottish ancestry in W.W. I and II. Always thought "Tunes of Glory" was filmed there but was told it was made at Stirling Castle. Saw Robert Louis Stevenson's home and park where he made first sketch of small island (it's still there), which was basis of "Treasure Island." Saw Lister's house, Simpson's (inventor of chloroform) house; hospitals, home of lady who started making poppies for Veteran's Day sales. Toured Holyrood Palace with its paintings, tapestries, and furniture, and its Mary Queen of Scots tales. Love Edinburgh.

Came back to hotel, warmed up, put on loads of clothes and walked up Princess Street to shop. Found kilt pins. Dinner at hotel then boarded bus for "Taste of Scotland" evening which we enjoyed. Finale of "Auld Lang Syne" followed by "Amazing Grace" on the bagpipes was a real tear-jerker.

OCT. 2: Up early and headed south through rolling farmland to Abbotsford, home of Sir Walter Scott on the Tweed River, which we paralled. It was in flood after heavy rains. Scott's great-great-great-granddaughter lives there. He was 6-4 and had 25 dogs; died at 61 in his bed, which had been set up in dining room so he could see the Tweed. Death brought on by a prodigious two-year writing effort to pay off debt in a business venture which failed. Across Cheviot Hills, which form natural border between Scotland and England; through Newcastle, a very modern city with new high-rises and office buildings which replaced large areas bombed out in W.W. II.

Stopped at York for brief tour of Yorkminster and shops. City had marked its 1900th anniversary in 1967. Would like to go back there. On to Harrogate and the Prospect Hotel, where a long hot soak in the bathtub did not cure cold but sure felt good. Nice dinner as usual. British food is tremendous.

OCT. 3: Croissants for breakfast delicious. Continue to eat with good appetite in spite of colds or whatever they are — also sleep well every night. Eat butter, cream, whipped cream and custards in amounts that must startle our digestive systems.

Early start through Herriot country; a Herriot tour was posted in our hotel last night. It was a long and busy day. Clive said it was one of those days that nothing seemed to go right. Gertie French got sick, and they had to call London for a different bus, which meant transferring all the luggage. It didn't interrupt our touring; Clive and Ken just showed up at Coventry with a new bus.

South bypassing Leeds and Sheffield through Nottingham, which has the oldest pub in Britain, the "Trip to Jerusalem." Rich farm country and very neat. Liked the way cities and villages end abruptly with farm land — no straggle of used car lots and fast food places. Lunch in Coventry. Central city all new after 1940 bombing. Visited old and new Coventry Cathedrals; one, an empty shell of sandstone with tower still standing. The other, very modern and beautiful, built with the aid of German students. Toured Warwick Castle and Stratford, church where Shakespeare was married and buried, and Ann Hatjaway's Cottage. Lovely private homes in Stratford. Clive pointed out one with a thatched roof and a for sale sign. Asking price was 125,000 pounds. Roofs have to be rethatched every 20 years. Present cost is 7,000 pounds.

Long day and we were delighted with our room at the Regent Hotel in Royal Leamington Spa. Large room with loads of closet space, two overstuffed chairs, color TV, and private bath. Nicest wall paper yet. We've had a great assortment of dining rooms, high-ceilinged, with loads of silverware and dishes. Again fresh flowers on the table. Dinner was at 7.

'Let's plant'

Joyce Foust attends PEO International

Joyce Foust of Plymouth was a delegate to the convention of International Chapter of the PEO Sisterhood in Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Foust, a member of EA chapter, is a past president of the Michigan State chapter and a former chairman of the International Peace Scholarship Board of Directors.

She was among 1,200 delegates representing 215,000 PEO members in United States and Canada.

The sisterhood is a philanthropic organization whose interests are directed to education for women. It was founded as a college sorority at Iowa Wesleyan College at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa in 1869. Today it is an international community organization with 5,014 local chapters.

A special feature of the convention was a day trip to Cottey College, Nevada, Mo., a liberal arts junior college for women owned by PEO. Delegates participated in the rededication of the renovated main hall and toured the campus.

PEO has owned and supported the college since 1929. Cottey is a fully accreditied two-year liberal arts junior college with an enrollment of about 350 students.

THE SISTERHOOD'S educational fund was created to assist qualified women in attaining educational goals. Since its inception in 1907, an aggregate in excess of $16.5 million has been used by more than 21,700 students.

The International Peace Scholarship Fund is an expresiion of PEO belief that education is fundamental to world peace and understanding. Through voluntary contributions, 133 scholarships were awarded during the 1980 academic year to foreign women to study in the United States and Canada. Since 1949, approximately $2.6 million has been granted in assistance to 1,807 students representing more than 100 countries. These students return to their native countries to work with their own people.

The program for continuing education established in 1973 provides scholarships for women in fields of their interest. More than 3,300 scholarships have been granted to date in an amount of more than $1 million.

Convention speakers included Dr. Frances B. Kinne, president of Jacksonville University and noted academic leader in the fine arts.

The Rev. Dr. Margaret Crockett also spoke. She is a minister and writer. Her husband was the late James Crockett of television's Crockett's Victory Garden on the Public Braodcasting System.

A banquet program featured music of the Missouri Showboat era.

'Meals on Wheels' volunteers needed

Volunteers are needed to help continue the meals on wheels program in the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Sharon Thomas, director of housing for the city, has issued an appeal for persons who are willing to deliver hot meals to shut-ins one day a week. The meals can be picked up at Tonquish Creek Manor on Sheridan in Plymouth. Delivery time is estimated at about one hour.

Volunteers can be reimbursed for their mileage. The meals on wheels assures city and township senior citizens of one nourishing meal each day. These are delivered to seniors and shut-ins who are unable to go to Tonquish Creek Manor for the noon meal.

Persons wishing more information about volunteering to deliver meals one day a week can call Margaret Foster, 453-9703, between 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Friday. Or, they may call the manor, 455-3670.

Ms. Thomas said, "Volunteers enjoy a good association with the homebound they deliver to — they have established lasting friendships." She added that in some communities, church groups have taken on meals on wheels deliveries as a community service. This way, the volunteers are responsible for just one day every two weeks.

St. Johns League to host lunch

Members of the League of St. John's Episcopal Church will host a salad luncheon and card party Wednesday, Oct. 21. Lunch will be served at noon followed by card playing of the guest's choice.

He began his musical studies at West Middle School in 1973. He was a member of the Michigan Youth Band and was a winner of the Michigan Youth Arts Festival.

Diabetes group cites Alpha Delta Beta

Beta Xi chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta received a certificate of achievement award from the American Diabetes Association. The award was presented to the honorary teachers' sorority by the Michigan Affiliate of the Diabetes Association at its annual meeting in the Ramada Inn of Southfield.

Sharon Belobraidich, a Plymouth teacher, received the award on behalf of her sorority. Mrs. Belobraidich and her husband, Frank, serve on the association's board of directors.

The American Diabetes Association is a voluntary non-profit health agency serving diabetics and their families in Michigan.

Beta Xi gives financial support to the agency, which provides patient, public and professional programs, and contributes to diabetes research. It also provides statewide diabetes testing during November, which is Diabetes Month, and runs a summer camp for children with diabetes.

Church bells mark Yorktown Bicentennial

Church bells rang out at noon today to mark the bicentennial of the Battle of Yorktown, the final and decisive battle that marked the end of the Revolutionary War.

Commemorative observances of the 200th anniversary of Yorktown were spearheaded by the Daughters of the American Revolution. Michigan Governor William Milliken named Oct. 19, 1981 Yorktown Bicentennial Day. He called upon all citizens in Michigan "to remember this significant date in our nation's history," — the day the British army surrendered to General George Washington.

The Yorktown Spirit was the theme at the recent DAR 81st State Conference at the Troy Hilton.

Members of the local Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter DAR who attended the meet were Doris Richard, regent; Maxine Willoughby, vice regent; and delegates Gladys Deyo and Virginia Simpson. Mrs. Willoughby was hostess of the noon meeting of the chapter in St. John's Episcopal Church on Monday.

Area residents flew their flags in memory of Yorktown and church bells rang in Plymouth.

Salem takes bite out of ranking

Bulldog girls stunned, 45-38

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Somehow, the Plymouth Salem girls' basketball team seems to find a way.

The underdog Rocks capped an incredible week of play Thursday night with a stunning 45-38 victory over the state's No. 1 rated Class A team, Livonia Bentley.

It was Salem's second straight victory over a top-10 team with imposing physical size and strength (the Rocks also beat Livonia Franklin Tuesday 41-38).

Flawless ball control and deadly outside shooting carried the Rocks to their 11th victory in 12 starts.

"Those are two good basketball teams we beat this week," said Salem coach Bob Blohm, who continues to perform Houdini-like acts. "The key tonight is that we got off to a good start and were able to capitalize. The kids were then able to hang on.

"We rebounded the ball awfully well both offensively and defensively and our team defense couldn't be better." The Rocks, also ranked in the top 10 and certain to move up, took a 12-10 first quarter advantage and then outscored the Bulldogs 13-4 in the second quarter to take a commanding 11-point lead at intermission.

Forward Jan MacKenzie, whose feathery long-range shooting touch accounted for eight first-quarter points, hit another bomb with 3:32 left in the half to give the Rocks a 10-point bulge.

SALEM'S SECOND quarter surge was sparked by reserve Ann Glomski, a junior forward with an extraordinary 27-inch vertical jump. Using her blazing speed, Glomski jetted by the Bentley defense for four points.

And aided by the board play of Eileen Moore and sophomore Pam McBride, Salem kept Bentley's towering front-line off the boards.

Yet another halftime statistic revealed that the Rocks committed only one turnover in the second period as Carol Ross and Moore, both seniors, ran the offense to perfection. Salem's stingy defense also contained Bentley's top scorer, Kim Archer, who went without a point in the first half.

At 6:37 of the third quarter, Moore's basket gave the Rocks a 15-point lead. Bentley, however, with Archer getting untracked, cut the margin five, but had trouble closing the gap the rest of the way.

Salem wrapped it up with its semidelay game in the final quarter. Controlling the ball during one stretch for almost three minutes, the Rocks sealed it on a Moore free throw with 1:37 to go. By that time, Archer, a 5-foot-10 junior forward, and guard Tina Ostach, were both sitting on the bench with five fouls each.

"We had too many turnovers," said a dejected Bentley coach Tom Lang. "We didn't move well and made some dumb fouls. But I can't blame the foul trouble."

Regional golfers advance

O & E readers may not recognize the names of many high school golfers playing in the next week's state meet in Marshall.

Dearborn, Adrian and Temperance Bedford took the top three spots in the recent regional golf tournament at Rolling Meadows with 314, 328, and 330 points respectively. Only the top three teams advance to state competition.

Ypsilanti placed fourth followed by Plymouth Salem, Trenton, Dearborn Edsel Ford, Churchill, Canton, Monroe, Franklin, Southgate, Wyandotte, Detroit Cass Technical, John Glenn, Garden City East, Wayne Memorial and Detroit Western, 456.

Tim McManaman took the medalist spot for Canton (2-7-1 overall and 1-7 in the league) with 84. Teammate Paul Phillips shot 86 followed by Tim Crowder at 90 and Dave Musch at 96.

Rob Rowland paced Salem with an 80, while three teammates shot in the 80s and another in the low 90s.

Canton will compete in the Western Five league meet at 9 a.m. today at Godwin Glen while Salem tries to defend its Suburban Eight League title at 9 a.m. today at Salem Hills.

Rock gridders blast Allen Park

It wasn't quite New Year's Rockin' Eve, but it was pretty close.

Plymouth Salem made at lot of noise on a brisk October Friday with a 49-14 Suburban Eight League football victory over hapless Allen Park.

The win evened Salem's overall record at 3-3. The Rocks are 2-3 in league play. Allen Park is winless in six tries.

Salem, a team comprised mainly of underclassmen, scored almost at will.

Salem's first tally came just 55 seconds into the game as senior fullback Darrel Bartkowiak scored on a two-yard plunge, capping an 88-yard drive in just three plays.

The Rocks scored again with 7:14 to go in the first quarter when junior Mickey Madsen picked off a pass and raced 80 yards for a score. Four minutes later Bartkowiak tallied his second TD on a one-yard run. Mark Blaesser's third straight extra point made it 21-0.

In the second quarter, Scott Jurek scored on a two-yard run. John Blanchard followed with another TD with 9:13 to play in the half on a 25-yard jaunt. Blaesser's extra point gave Salem a 35-0 bulge.

BLANCHARD had a big night, rushing for 111 yards in eight carries.

The Rocks added two more TDs in the third quarter.

Senior quarterback Jeff Hubert scored Salem's sixth TD on a seven-yard run with 7:45 remaining in the period after directing a 45-yard drive.

2nd quarter surge lifts Northville

Chief football bid falls short

By Brad Emons
staff writer

A gallant fourth quarter comeback fell painfully short Friday as Northville hung on to beat Plymouth Canton, 20-15, in a Western Six League football game.

The loss dropped Canton to 2-4 overall and 1-2 in the league. Northville evened its record at 3-3. The Mustangs finished Western Six play at 2-2.

Northville delighted a sizeable homecoming crowd by jumping out to a 20-0 first-half lead. All 20 points came in the second quarter.

Northville quarterback Tim McLaughlin provided the major impetus as he threw for one touchdown and ran for another.

McLaughlin got Northville on the board with 11:55 left in the first half when he found split end Tom Hanson on an 8-yard scoring strike.

On Northville's very next possession, McLaughlin directed a 45-yard scoring drive capped by his own two-yard scoring run. He hit Hanson with the two-point conversion pass to make it 14-0.

Helped by a pass interference call, Northville scored again with 1:18 left when tailback Scott Spaman plunged into the endzone from two yards out.

CANTON, however, came out in the second half like a different team, containing Northville's running attack and the throwing of McLaughlin, who had riddled the Chiefs' secondary in the first half by hitting eight of 12 passes for 81 yards.

"We played well in the first, third and fourth quarters," said Canton coach Richard Barr. "The time we had the ball, we moved it, but a penalty stopped us.

"The second quarter was disastrous. I don't know if we let down. It looked like our feet were in cement.

"We talked at half and the kids came out and decided to play."

Despite its dismal first-half showing, Canton managed to make things interesting right down to the bitter end.

Northville, which racked up over 250 yards total offense in the first half, had trouble moving the ball against a fired up Canton defense in the final two quarters.

"If it would have gone another quarter we would have been in trouble," said Northville coach Dennis Colligan. "Our defense fell apart. I don't what it was. We just went flat.

"Canton made some adjustments at halftime. They put more pressure on McLaughlin and they started sending people in on blitzes. I think their coaching staff is doing one helluva job."

CANTON DROVE down to the Northville 17 on its first possession of the second half, but got stopped on fourth down and four.

The Chiefs got on the board with 5:34 remaining in the game when Chuck Davis threw a 59-yard halfback option pass to Jamie Chilcoff, who made a nifty cut through the Mustang defense for the TD.

Junior quarterback Pat Murphy, who looked sharp running Canton's wishbone attack in the first quarter, pitched to senior David Simms for the two-point conversion to cut Northville's advantage to 20-8.

On the ensuing play, kicker Matt Santilli recovered his own onside kick at the Canton 49 to put the Chiefs in scoring position.

Murphy hit Davis with a key 19-yard screen pass down to the Northville 18. Four plays later, Murphy pitched to Simms, who raced into the end zone from eight yards out with 2:38 to go. Santill's extra point kick trimmed what proved to be the final margin, 20-15.

Having exhausted its three timeouts, Canton was never able to regain possession as the clock wound down.

"We didn't do anything different in the second half," explained Barr. "We just came out with a little more intensity."

Spaman was the game's leading ball carrier. He had 85 yards in 13 carries. Teammate Andy Dimitroff added 79 yards in 13 attempts.

DAVIS, who also hit tight end Bob Wasczenski with a 32-yard halfback option pass midway through the third quarter, rushed for 24 yards in eight carries. Simms had 30 yards and Claude Davis added 22 yards in five tries.

"One of our bright spots was that we got some points on the board," said Barr. "We haven't used it (halfback option pass) at all this season."

Canton will travel Friday to meet Livonia Churchill.

Canton swimmers edge Harrison

Plymouth Canton "touched out" girls' swim foe Farmington Harrison Thursday night, 86-85, in a Western Six League dual meet.

"This was really an important meet because Harrison was picked to be one of the league powers," said Canton first-year coach Hooker Wellman, whose team boosted its overall record to 5-4.

The Chiefs, 1-1 in league duals, wrapped up the victory by gaining second and third, respectively, in the final event — the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Denise DeBell, Noelle Murphy, Julie Silber and Missy McMurray placed second with a time of 4:26.10. Teammates Karyen Stetz, Kelly Salyer and Heather Crain finished third in 4:58.89.

Canton also captured first in the 200 medley as Kris Burns, Kim Elliott, Kathy Stern and Murphy combined for a clocking of 2:10.5.

McMurray, a senior, won two individual events for the Chiefs — 200 freestyle (2:11.93) and 500 freestyle (5:59.06).

PAULA KING of Harrison was also a double winner (100 freestyle and 100 backstroke).

Other Canton individual firsts were garnered by Stern, 100 butterfly, 1:09.10, and Elliott, 100 breaststroke, 1:17.62.

Gaining second place spots for the Chiefs were Elliott, 200 individual medley, 2:37.01; Stern, 50 freestyle, 28.98; Shawn Neville, diving, 170.60 points; Burns, 100 backstroke, 1:16.17, and Bronwyn Fitzgerald, 100 breaststroke, 1:21.32.

Recording third place finishes for Canton were DeBell, 200 freestyle, 2:27.30; Burns, 50 freestyle, 28.98; Cindy Sherwood, diving, 150.00; Fitzgerald, 100 freestyle, 1:06.82, and Neville, 100 backstroke, 1:24.89.

SALEM 52
ALLEN PARK 27

Plymouth Salem won its second straight Suburban Eight League dual meet Thursday by defeating Allen Park, 52-27.

The Rocks, now 5-3 overall, garnered eight first-place finishes in the Jaguars' five-lane pool.

Salem senior Terri Eudy won both the 200 IM (2:20.6) and 100 freestyle (57.1).

Other Salem first place finishes were recorded by Amy Dunn, 50 freestyle, 27.0; Cindy McSurely, diving, 201.2 points; Robin Cummings, 500 freestyle, 6:27.9; Debbie Darlington, 100 backstroke, 1:10.1, and Corinne Cabadas, 100 breaststroke, 1:16.0.

Salem also captured first in the 400 freestyle as Cheryl Truskowski, Sallie Weimer, B.J. Bing and Dunn were clocked in 4:18.7. Teammates Shelly Mullen, Kris Graham, Beth Bargande, and Nancy Workman took third in 4:43.4.

Individual second place finishers for Canton included Kelly Brandt, 200 freestyle, 2:17.3; Weimer, 200 IM, 2:38.4; Bing, 100 butterfly, 1:07.8; Renee Rudin, 500 freestyle, 6:46.4; Kim Nelson, 100 breaststroke, 1:20.6; and Kathy Lavoie, diving, 141.6.

Salem third place spots were gained by Kim Leesch, 200 freestyle, 2:25.3; Lisa Trahey, 100 freestyle, 1:06.4, and Ruth Ettinger, 1:20.0.

Salem will go after its third consecutive league victory Thursday at home against tough Trenton.

points. Moore and Glomski added 11 and eight, respectively. Jacque Merrifield and Ross chipped in with six each.

Archer led all scorers with 13 points (all in the second half) and Ann Roy had nine for Bentley, which dropped to 10-1 on the season.

"Handling their defensive pressure was another key to the game," said Blohm. "We're not as big so we had to take away their quickness by controlling the ball."

Lang cited his team's cold second quarter as the turning point.

"Give Plymouth Salem credit," he said. "They played perfect ball. It seemed that we were stuck on 14 (points) forever."

Fired-up Chief soccer team nips Livonia Franklin, 4-3

Center-forward Tom Wright scored the winning goal with only two minutes remaining in the match to give Plymouth Canton a come-from-behind 4-3 boys' soccer victory over Livonia Franklin.

The victory evens the Chiefs' overall record at 3-3.

Wright's second goal, which provided the margin of victory, drew an assist from Mike Grady.

Canton took a quick 2-0 lead in the first half. Wright tallied the first goal with Bob Brusa gaining the assist. Teammate Scott Cherry followed with Canton's second goal on a great individual effort.

Franklin, however, scored two late first-half goals to knot the count at intermission.

The Patriots, who slipped to 4-5-2, scored a disputed goal midway through the final half.

"Our goalie (Eric Becker) asked the referee to give him 10 yards in the penalty area," explained Canton coach Tony Lonigro. "While he was talking to the referee, they pushed the ball behind him and scored.

"I think it made our players mad. They knew they could take Franklin, but we were out there losing."

The fired-up Chiefs dominated the final 10 minutes of play as forward Eddie Hinz tallied the equalizer unassisted.

"MY DEFENSE, especially in the second half, is to be congratulated," said Lonigro. "Franklin had a good, strong forward front line. They were very fast. We put Scott Cherry on defense because we needed a fast person to chase them."

Canton will travel Tuesday to meet Northville. Game time is 4 p.m.

Michigan Soccer Weekly recently released its top-10 rankings. Several area teams, including Salem, are included in the list.

Bloomfield Hills Lahser holds down the No. 1 spot, followed by Flint Carmen, second; Brighton, third; Livonia Churchill and Grosse Pointe North, fourth; Livonia Stevenson and Plymouth Salem, fifth; Detroit Catholic Central, sixth; Harper Woods Notre Dame, seventh; East Lansing, eighth; Birmingham Groves, ninth, and Troy Athens, 10th.

Canton girls romp, 59-43

Western 6 cage string continues

By Jay Keenan
special writer

It was a tedious Tuesday night for Plymouth Canton's girls basketball team.

The Chiefs, who have not been seriously tested since the second week of the season, played with a minimum of momentum but managed to get the job done, downing Western Six League rival Farmington Harrison 59-43, at the Canton gym.

"Our tempo was a bit slow tonight," said Canton coach Mike McCauley.

"The girls just didn't play that sharp. We made too many turnovers and committed 11 fouls in the first half. Sometimes we have the tendency to hack the opposing team when we shouldn't.

"Sometimes we just don't get fired up against some of the easier teams," McCauley continued. "I've tried for years to get some good non-league competition added to our schedule, but they haven't given us that much."

THE CHIEFS SPRINTED out to a 14-6 first quarter lead, thanks to good shooting from Sue Gerke and hard-nosed board play from Robyn Hudgins.

Canton padded its margin to 21-11 on a basket by Marie Krashovetz at the outset of the second period. But then the Chiefs got lethargic on defense as the Hawks canned five straight free throws to pull within three, 21-18, with 3:15 left to play in the half.

Canton got it together just before the intermission, rattling off five straight points to grab a 26-18 halftime lead.

McCauley said that his team would have played better in the first half had he left his starting lineup play longer.

"I think the main problem was the fact that I rotated my players at the wrong time," the Canton mentor said. "I should have kept the first team in when they were hot because it takes our momentum away.

"That was probably why the score was a lot closer than I would have liked it to have been."

IN THE THIRD quarter, Pearly Cunningham, Reggie Ruggiero and Gerke did all the scoring for the Chiefs and provided some breathing room, 43-30, going into the final period.

League net crown up for grabs Tuesday

Plymouth Canton's girls tennis team lost a cliffhanger to Farmington Harrison Thursday afternoon, 4-3.

The loss toppled the Chiefs to 7-5 overall and 6-2 in Western Six League play.

In No. 1 singles action, Canton's Kris Harrison was defeated by Harrison's state-ranked Kelly Davidson, 6-0, 6-0.

Chief Lori Smith suffered a No. 2 singles loss, as Joelle Lukasiewicz of Harrison won, 6-0, 6-0.

Canton's Julie Swain was upended in No. 3 singles, 6-1, 6-1, by Hawk Sharisse Berk.

CANTON pulled out a win in No. 4 singles as Lisa Schlotz defeated Theresa Moehlman of Harrison, 6-3, 7-6.

In the absence of Canton No. 1 doubles player Sheryl Smith who was ill, Chiefs Julie Lloyd and Jean Fryover were edged by Harrison's Lisa Berk and Jill Bersa, 6-3, 6-4.

In No. 2 doubles competition, Jane McKinstry and Julie Gustafsen of Canton took three sets to defeat Amy Harris and Dawn Shalawed, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Canton's Nancy Warkentin and Kristin Smith took No. 3 doubles honors, downing Maria Greglio and Nancy Wingblad, 6-1, 6-1.

The Chiefs are now tied for first place in the Western Six with Harrison.

That sets the stage for the tie breaker, scheduled for 9 a.m. Tuesday as Canton hosts a five-team league meet.

Thoroughbred race dates set

Detroit Race Course (DRC) officials couldn't have been happier when the 1982 thoroughbred racing dates were announced by state racing commissioner Frederick Van Tiem recently.

DRC got exactly the dates requested.

The season will open at DRC Tuesday, July 13, and continue with 108 racing dates until Sunday, Nov. 14. Hazel Park will have 110 racing dates, starting Friday, March 5, and ending Saturday, July 10.

Jacqueline Bisset is a successful novelist who reassesses her career and personal goals in "Rich and Famous."

Louise Snider

Remake doesn't have the strength of Davis' original

Somewhat trashy but entertaining, that's "Rich and Famous" (R). If it had been made back in the '40s with Bette Davis, a reviewer might have treated it more respectfully. Indeed, reviewers did.

As it happens, the script by Gerald Ayres is based on a play, "Old Acquaintance," by John Van Druten which was shaped into a movie with Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins.

That explains some of the odd factors that come together in this movie. The treatment of sex is decidedly contemporary, but the dialogue, with references to Freudian analysts and a reverential intoning of the name Algonquin (the New York hotel where literary luminaries of the '30s used to meet), seems to suggest a different time frame.

We also have a chancy but clever choice for a director, George Cukor, now celebrating his 50th year in films. Cukor has been dubbed a "women's director" for his outstanding work with such actresses as Hepburn, Garbo, Bergman and others. He responds by pointing out the strong performances he's obtained from male stars. He could never prove it with "Rich and Famous."

THE MALE characters are undeveloped, dimensionless and lack credibility. The worst of them is Hart Bochner, who plays a Rolling Stone reporter and Jacqueline Bisset's young lover. He delivers his lines in such a dull, flat, colorless manner that he makes information operators sound like drama coaches.

Since Bisset supposedly is searching for a lover who is articulate and intellectual as well as prodigious, it makes her relationship with him absurd.

Bisset's character, generally, is a difficult one to cope with. She is a serious writer-thinker who won the National Book Award with her first novel. Since then, she has been struggling with her writing, which makes you wonder how she can afford that Connecticut farmhouse.

Her motivations and character remain a mystery. Aside from her intelligence, all we know is that she drinks excessively, engages in one-night stands and has writer's block.

The real surprise of the film and an absolute delight is Candice Bergen and her fine sense of comedy. What a juicy scene-stealing performance she gives. She switches easily from the sweet little housewife with granny glasses, sitting and sewing, to the celebrity author courting critics.

SHE IS a Southern belle with plenty of grit, and we notice that her Southern accent gets more pronounced the farther away she is from Atlanta.

Bisset and Bergen are cast as two contentious, loyal and competitive friends. They were roommates at Smith College in the late '50s.

Bisset went on to pursue a career as an author. She made waves in the literary world with her first novel and has stirred a few ripples since then.

Bergen married, moved to California, had a daughter and applauded her old roommmate's success. The irony is that Bergen, the uncomplicated one, decides to pour out all her shallow thoughts and gossipy revelations in a novel of her own, and she winds up with a best seller.

Can their friendship stand this test? Well it's lasted 20 years and stood a lot. "Rich and Famous" isn't as classy as other movies on the theme of friendship between women, but like Bergen's novel it's got a lot of popular appeal.

Candice Bergen portrays a housewife who writes a best-seller and competes with her former college roommate, now a famous author.

Pub Crawl goes to 25 night spots

Twenty-five night spots in Detroit will participate in the sixth Michigan Opera Theatre Pub Crawl from 6 p.m. to midnight Thursday.

The MOT Guild, which sponsors the event, calls the Pub Crawl "Detroit's most popular fund-raiser."

Norman Smith, MOT Guild president, said, "Each participating pub will be decorated for Halloween, and if last year is any indication, many of the participants will come outrageously costumed for the holiday."

Costumes are not necessary to join in the fun, Smith said. "Some of our most enthusiastic repeat customers don't even drink, but they love meeting people, enjoying great entertainment and finding exciting new restaurants."

ANYONE CAN join the Pub Crawl by purchasing a $6 button — on sale now at the Music Hall box office, the MOT Guild Boutique in Renaissance Center and all participating pubs.
