Board vetoes landfill plan, fight persists

By Dennis O'Connor
editor

The request for Michigan Waste Systems' proposed expansion of Woodland Meadows landfill was unanimously denied by the Canton Board of Trustees Tuesday night.

But the fight has only just begun.

Ray Kellas, district landfill manager for Michigan Waste Systems, made it clear in a letter to Canton Supervisor James Poole that his company still wants to proceed with the landfill expansion.

The state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) recently approved Michigan Waste Systems' application for a construction permit of solid-waste management on the expanded site. An application for hazardous-waste management on this site still is under investigation.

"Based upon consultation with (legal) counsel," Kellas told Poole in an Oct. 12 letter, "we believe that this state action (approving the construction) totally pre-empts any contrary action which might be taken by Canton Township."

Currently, Michigan Waste Systems operates Woodland Meadows North, a 97-acre landfill which contains 5 percent hazardous material. The company wants to expand its site 105 acres, bounded by Hannan, Lotz and Van Born roads and the Conrail railroad right-of-way, adjacent to the existing site in the southeast corner of Canton. The expanded site is called Woodland Meadows South.

We're destined to become the garbage pit of Michigan because of our geological location. . . Lansing will ram it (the landfill) down our throats whether we like it or not.'

—Richard Anderson resident, engineer

JOHN ZECK, director of Community Development for the city of Wayne — one of the communities which border the expansion — said Wayne residents had endured the "noise, nuisance, dust, debris, mud on the roads and flooding yards" from the present site long enough.

"We feel, given the relatively small amount of land along this area, we would rather take a chance on being in industrial development than expand the present landfill," Zeck said.

Canton trustee Steve Larson said this land was one of the few "prime industrial development" areas in the township. He didn't feel the township could let the land be used for landfill purposes.

"We will be giving up one of the major pieces of real estate we have for industrial development because of the (proximity) of the railroad track," Larson said.

Tom Grazenmier, of Wayne, gave the Township Board 370 signatures of residents living in the area who are against the expansion. He said he hoped the existing landfill would be shut down someday.

"They are dumping garbage before the weekend and not covering it," Grazenmier said. "We smell this 24 hours a day."

RICHARD ANDERSON of Canton is an engineer who works with landfills on a weekly basis. Anderson, who said he has no connection with Michigan Waste Systems, felt landfills will come to this area — regardless of local opposition.

Canton voters will be asked on Tuesday to approve the township's selling up to $7 million in general obligation bonds to acquire development rights for approximately 5,100 acres of agricultural land in the western portion of the township.

The ballot question finalizes the work of the Farmland Retention Committee which was asked to develop the best possible plan to preserve farmland — one of the long-range goals of the township's Master Plan.

Currently, most land west of Canton Center Road is zoned for agricultural use, according to the Master Plan.

Under the proposed preservation plan, landowners in these agricultural areas (more than five acres) could sell development rights to the township, receiving the difference between the land's agricultural value and the value if sold for development. The land would have to be used for agriculture, whether sold or kept.

Canton voters will be asked on Tuesday to approve the township's selling up to $7 million in general obligation bonds to acquire development rights for approximately 5,100 acres of agricultural land in the western portion of the township.

One major complaint against this proposal is the complexity of the concept of devevelopmental rights — and the concept of buying and selling bonds.

The ballot question, itself, is poorly written and there is no mention of a millage increase — although taxpayers will be levied a fluctuating millage to help preserve farmland through the township's developmental rights, if the program is approved.

Under the plan, landowners in agricultural areas (more than five acres) could sell development rights to the township, receiving the difference between the land's agricultural value and the value if sold for development. The land would have to be used for agriculture, whether sold or kept.

Farm landowners sue township

By Arlene Funke
and Dennis O'Connor
staff writers

Two Canton landowners have filed suit against the township in an attenpt to stop Tuesday's farmland preservation vote.

Township officials learned of the lawsuit yesterday afternoon. It was filed by Dolores Wilson Sterling and Sara Campbell, relatives of Asa Wilson, a longtime owner of approximately 700 acres of farmland in western Canton.

The hearing was scheduled for 3 p.m. today before Wayne County Ciruit Court Judge Roman Gribbs. The suit was filed Tuesday.

The ballot question asks Canton residents for approval for the township to sell $7 million in bonds to purchase development rights to preserve farmland.

Wilson was out of town when the lawsuit was filed and unavailable for comment. Sterling and Campbell could not be reached for comment.

Frank Bennett, a spokesman for Wilson, told the Observer he has maintained close contact with Wilson, who is expected back from Florida Monday. Bennet has been hired by Wilson to direct the publicity campaign against the preservation ballot quesion.

"THE WHOLE THING is that the election isn't fair to the people I work for," Bennett said. "We're not looking to stop a vote on the issue, but let's present it fairly and then come back with it and fight it out."

Bennet contends the Notice of Election does not comply with election law.

"As I understand it, in talking to Mr. (John) Emery (the attorney for Campbell and Sterling) the notice of election was faulty because it didn't inform the public about the issue involved."

Bennett aded, "The definition of development rights is unclear to voters." He also said the educational brochure prepared by the township was illegally prepared and that statements in the brochure conflicted with the time frame of bond repayments as stated in the Notice of Election.

EMERY WAS NOT available for comment at press time.

Burt Burgoyne, a Southfield attorney who represents the township, said he thinks the "odds are fairly remote" that the election will be stopped.

"The township's position is they (the plaintiffs) shouldn't get the injunction. The purpose of the lawsuit is to prevent the citizens of Canton Township from expressing their wishes in a traditional way in an election."

Supervisor James Poole did not wish to comment on the lawsuit, but said he was upset it came so close to the elction.

Township planner James Kosteva, who was in charge of preparing the educational brochure, said the suit "should go nowhere. It's just a game."

The new Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) office in this area was very busy on its first day of business as evidenced by this line outside during Monday's rain.

Unemployment office finds new home here

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

The Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) office found a permanent home this week, following a short stay at the Plymouth Center for Human Development.

MESC branch manager Ed Dowling opened the doors Monday at 8775 Rhonda Drive at the corner of Joy Road (just west of Haggerty).

"We hope we've found our home here," Dowling said.

The MESC opened an office on Joy Road in 1975 (now the Plymouth Rock Bar). The lease expired in 1980 and due to the limitations of the building and number of clients, the MESC decided to move.

"There were only 68 parking slots there with almost 68 persons employed at the office. The people started disobeying no parking signs on the street and parked in the lots of adjacent businesses," Dowling said.

"The police would come in and tell the people to move their cars in five minutes or they would be ticketed. The people would then run out of line to move their cars. It was a real mess," he said.

After several plans for relocating fell through, and the current occupants pressed to move into the building, the MESC moved to temporary offices in the Plymouth Center for Human Development.

"We had a temporary lease with the center and it was bad news from the start. Nobody could find the place," Dowling said.

Construction of the brick, windowless building started in March.

Dowling speculates the windows are removed from MESC security reasons. "I must admit you do miss them. I think our people have been busy enough to not feel boxed in yet," he said.

"Hopefully this should be adequate for years to come. We're anxious to see how it works."

The new facility has 215 parking slots, which Dowling says should be sufficent.

"I would like to think our problems are solved. From the way things have been going, we should be all right," he said.

The Canton office handles some 8,000 to 9,000 employment claims a week, according to Dowling.

Persons needing directions or more information about the new MESC building should call Dowling or assistant manager Florence Price at 453-3520.

Police give tricky tips for safety

Plymouth and Canton police want to be sure there are more treats than tricks this Halloween weekend.

The police departments have a set of safety rules for Devil's Night on Friday — usually an evening of pranks — and for Halloween on Saturday.

"There is a difference between pranks and activities which result in the destruction or theft of property," according to Plymouth Police Lt. Daniel Carpenter.

"We are certain, however, that (residents) will avoid extending their activities to the point where it will be necessary for the police officers to intervene," he added.

TRICK-OR-TREAT activities should be confined to the hours of 6 to 8 p.m. on Saturday, say police. Treats shouldn't be consumed until they have been inspected.

Metal detectors provided by the Canton Kiwanis Club will be available between 6-9 p.m. Halloween at Canton's main fire station at Cherry Hill and Canton Center Road. Parents may bring treats to make sure there are no sharp metal objects in them — detectors won't pick up very small metal particles, wood, glass or drugs.

Detectors also will be at two McDonald's restaurants — on Michigan Avenue near the I-275 expressway, and on Ford Road west of Sheldon.

"The Canton Kiwanis Club will be assisting at each location," said Off. Leonard Schemanske of the Canton police department's crime prevention bureau. "Police will be at each location."

ADDITIONAL SAFETY TIPS include the following:

- An adult should accompany children on trick-or-treating excursions. Go to houses with illuminated porch lights.
- Dress children in light-colored clothing and eliminate masks. Cross streets only at the corner.
- Have children carry identification. Avoid taking candy or treats from strangers on the street.
- Don't drive children around in a car. If you do drive, maintain speeds less than 15 miles per hour.
- Keep parked cars off the street.
- Use battery-powered lights (no flame) in pumpkins.

Landfill fight persists

"We're destined to become the garbage pit of Michigan because of our geological location," Anderson said. "I know emotions are high on this issue, but Lansing will ram it down our throats whether we like it or not.

"My concern is that when they come out and do it (create a landfill) that they do it right — for me and my children. I have thoroughly reviewed the documents (of the Michigan Waste Systems' applications) and they have an excellent proposal and an excellent design."

THE TOWNSHIP Board denied three expansion requests — the site approval, the landfill and land use — based on three violations of the local landfill ordinance.

First, Michigan Waste Systems requested the expansion to be 60-70 feet in height. The ordinance states that landfills can't be higher than 10 feet.

Second, the proposed expansion is set back only 100 feet from the roadside. The ordinance calls for a 300-foot setback from the road.

Third, Michigan Waste Systems' plan does not include strips in the landfill for future industrial roadways, as stated in the ordinance.

Sheldon open next week?

GARY CASKEY/staff photographer

Workers continue to build on Sheldon Road. The road is being widened from its present two lanes to five lanes. The men above are working on a watergate and the reconstruction of a manhole at the intersection of Joy and Sheldon.

Many await completion of project

By Nancy Ferguson
staff writer

The widening of Sheldon between Joy and Ann Arbor Trail to five lanes will be completed by the end of the first week in November, according to Norbert Zelazny, county engineer in charge of the project.

The work, which was started in mid-April of this year, was originally expected to be completed by Nov. 1. A small portion of Joy at the Sheldon intersection also will be widened.

Due to the heavy rains in September and equipment breakdowns, construction has been delayed, Zelazny said.

Another problem that interfered with the project was the failure of drivers to obey the "road closed" signs. They would drive on the recently poured concrete, workmen said.

"PEOPLE ARE so inconsiderate. They'll just ignore the signs and drive over the wet concrete," said Vic Nickels, a paving foreman. He also said kids on bikes were a problem.

Area residents are understandably anxious for the road to be opened.

But they aren't the only ones eager to see the work completed.

Homer Sparks, a grade checker, also will be glad to see the project finished. Sparks wants to go home, and home for Sparks is Silver Springs, Fla., where he spends the winter months.

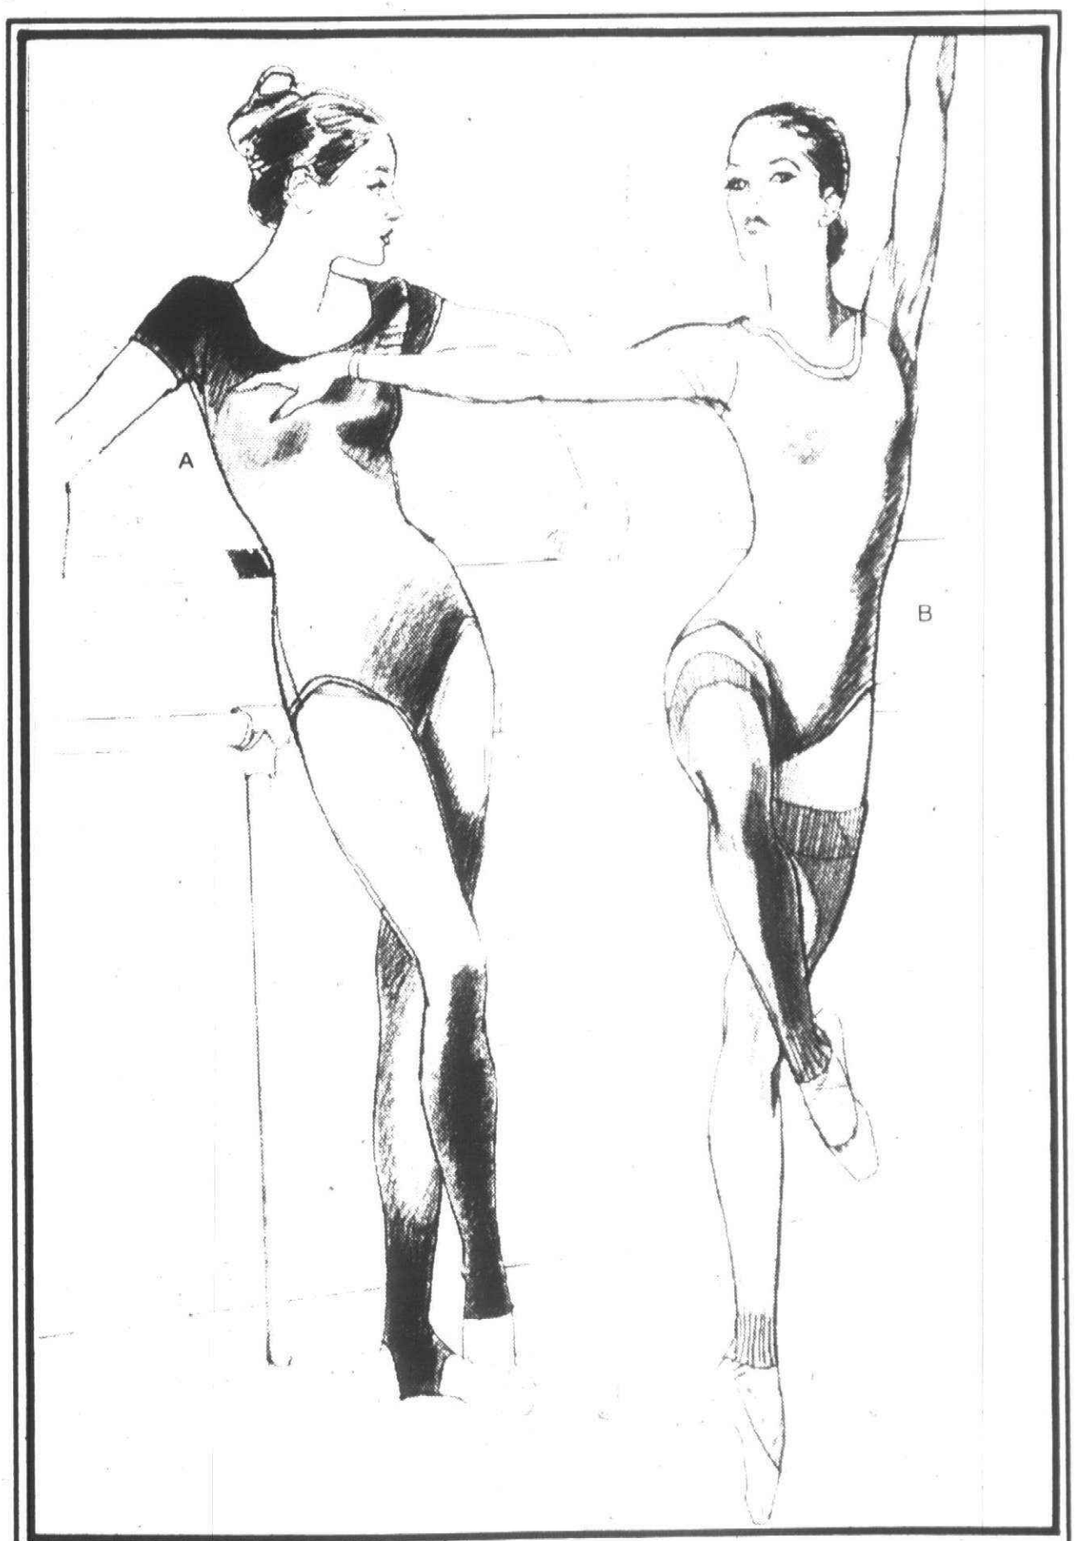

Although the completion date for the project is close to the original estimate, the cost is considerably more than anticipated.

THE INITIAL estimate for the construction was $1.7 million. It will actually cost $2.6 million to complete, said Dick Swanson, field engineer for Wayne County.

Part of the increase is due to a construction addition not originally included in the projected cost. A culvert (sewer) is being replaced north of Ann Arbor Trail.

Ken West, Plymouth city engineer, said he is pleased with the progress on the road. West said it is a county project. The city is only paying a small portion of the cost

West feels the road will open as scheduled, but adds "I'm just an observer on the project, like you."

Pro: Preserving farms is long-range goal

THIS PROPOSAL will mean a millage increase to the typical Canton homeowner of an average of $38 per year for 20 years of the program.

Many residents feel this is a small price to pay for farmland preservation. They think keeping Canton's farmland will reduce taxpayers' costs in the future. Preserving farmland will keep development out of the western Canton. It will reduce service costs such as schools, streets, sewers and police projection which are passed onto the taxpayer.

Many residents also wish to preserve the uniqueness of the township. Many people moved to Canton for its semirural atmosphere. They like the conveniences of shopping along Ford Road, but also like the openness and agricultural aspect of the western half of the township. They feel Canton is esthetically pleasing with this combination of land use, compared to other suburban communities.

THERE ALSO is a concern about helping preserve farming as a state industry at the local level. Farming is big business in Michigan. It is the state's second largest industry, with the auto industry heading the list.

Canton's remaining 5,000 acres of farmland can help make a contribution to saving this industry — and Michigan's dwindling farm acreage.

Besides, much of what Canton grows is consumed in the immediate area. Canton's fruits and vegetables supply local eating establishments and the Canton Farm Market.

Many residents feel it is important to keep the local food supply plentiful. And to have an established preservation program will insure a proper plan of action to grow food.

Canton also can look at the success of the Suffolk County, N.Y. farmland-preservation program. Canton's project is modeled after Suffolk's where residents are working to keep agriculture an important industry for the Long Island area and the state of New York.

Con: Farmland costs too much

The bottom line is an average millage increase of 1.16 mills ($1.16 per $1,000 of the assessed property valuation. The typical Canton homeowner, therefore, will pay an a average of $38 per year for the 20-year life of the program.

MANY RESIDENTS feel $38 is too much to ask in these hard, ecomonic times. Residents are tired of increased tax bills, and don't wish to pay for farmland preservation. Canton voters turned down a similar farmland preservation question in 1978 when they were asked to approve a four-mill increase for the project.

There is also is the question of growth in Canton. What lies ahead in the future growth of the township?

No one really knows.

There now are many homes up for sale in the township. If persons are interested in moving into Canton, there are homes available in the high residentially developed eastern-half of the township.

Many people feel growth in Canton can stay in the eastern half of the township. They think the growth will continue to be slow — and farmland will be maintained on the western side without implementing a costly preservation program.

THERE ALSO are many doubts about this program. Because of the uncertain gorwth in the township, the preservation project certainly is a gamble.

Residents are having a difficult time relating to this program. Despite an educational effort by township officials, people can't observe the project first hand.

Gridiron pumpkin

Talk about Detroit Lions fans — here's a pumpkin that any quarterback would love to have. Bobby Banks (left), Tom Busard (center) and Michael Banks (right), all Canton residents from Allen Elementary School, will have a happy Halloween with this unusually-carved pumpkin.

Police auction slated for Nov. 7

Canton Township will hold its annual police auction at 10 a.m. Nov. 7 at the old DPW yard next to the police station on Geddes, between Canton Center and Sheldon.

Most of the items on sale are unclaimed property confiscated by police. The list includes more than 40 bicycles, televisions, car radio, stereo cassette recorders, household items, sporting goods and assorted rifles and shotguns.

Terms of sale are cash. Public inspection of the merchandise will be from 8-10 a.m.

The Canton Lions Club will serve refreshments during the sale.

Pact settled early

Teachers, board extend contract

By Sandra Armbruster
staff writer

Wayne-Westland schools
The district serves southeast Canton.

Board members have given Wayne-Westland teachers a two-year extension of their current contract. The new pact raises salaries across-the-board by 7.14 to 9.14 percent, depending on the consumer price index.

This is the first time that an extension has been granted in the district, which includes students from Canton Township. The contract was set to expire at the start of school next September.

Officials for the district and the teachers' union said that the agreement was better than any that could have been reached if negotiations had been delayed until spring, the normal starting time.

"We considered the pros and cons. Given the economic times and situation of the environment, we thought about what would happen if we waited (to negotiate)," said Bob Kowalczyk, executive director of the Wayne-Westland Education Association. "It was in our best interests to present it to the teachers for consideration."

Superintendent Timothy Dyer said a possible upturn in the economy would have meant a settlement more costly to the district.

Maximum possible cost to the district of the two year extension is a 5.3-percent increase — $1.5 million.

DESPITE DENIALS in recent weeks by both the district and the union that negotiations were under way, terms of the extended agreement were presented to teachers Thursday. Board members met in a closed session Sunday.

Both sides ratified the extension on Monday. The Wayne-Westland Education Association approved the pact overwhelmingly by a 900-16 margin. The board gave its okay in a 5-2 vote, with members Fred Warmbier and Dave Moranty dissenting.

Terms of the extension called for an improved vision insurance plan and the hiring of an additional teacher once a class size reaches three students beyond its maximum. In the current three-year pact, the district and the union need only agree on whether to hire an aide or another teacher.

A salary improvement of 2 percent will be paid at the beginning of each year of the extended contract. The following summer, a cost-of-living allowance will be paid within a range of 5 to 7 percent. Compounding the improvement factor brings the total raise to the 7.14 to 9.14 percent figure.

Warmbier objected to the increase because he doesn't believe the value of property in the district will rise high enought to support it.

"The crux of my concern is not that we shouldn't give this type of raise," he explained. "But if I'm right, there is only one place this can come from — layoffs or by cutting the program."

If the money were available for that much of a raise, some of it should be returned to taxpayers, he said.

Administrators for the district said that other districts in Oakland and Macomb counties were settling for around 10 percent.

Dyer labeled comments by Moranty and Warmbier as "scare tacctics" and said that the district wouldn't benefit from any labor unrest.

ACCORDING TO Dyer, the union approached the district in late summer, expressing an interest in a contract session.

Agreement on the extension was reached within recent weeks, to the surprise of both the union and the district.

The contract extension was important to the district because its cost was below what had been anticipated, that it included major union concessions, and that it maintains the current contract's provisions for teacher evaluation, days and hours of instruction, Dyer said.

Rouge watershed elects leadership

The Rouge River Watershed Council (RRWC) has elected Lee Fidge of Plymouth as its chairman.

The council recently elected its leadership at its annual meeting in Canton.

The RRWC is a council of governments concerned with water resource management. Its executive committee consists of municipal officials.

Elected to that executive committee at the annual meeting were: Fidge, Plymouth Township trustee, chairman; Ed Siemert, Livonia city engineer, vice-chairman; Jim Kosteva, Canton planner, secretary; and Ken West, Plymouth city engineer, treasurer.

Elected to at-large positions on the committee were: Fred Hoffman, Jr., director of community improvement, Dearborn; A. Davanzo, assistant director for water operations, Detroit Water and Sewage Department; and Sidney Blitz, director of community development, Redford Township.

Planned activities include involvement in legislative revision of the Michigan Drain Code. Each community in the Rouge watershed is affected by this code when they have need for assistance in solving or preventing flooding problems, says Fidge.

An advisory committee will make recommendations to the Public Works Committee in Lansing on revision efforts.

The RRWC also will focus on hazardous waste management.

Michigan is eighth in the nation in the production of hazardous wastes. Some 40 percent of Michigan's wastes are produced and disposed of in its heavily populated southeast section.

The RRWC will follow the legislation which will manage these hazardous wastes and will sponsor a vigorous education effort to aid municipalities and citizens in meeting the needs of the area for hazardous waste management.

Under the guidance of its new executive committe, the RRWC will continue to monitor activities on or near the Rouge River which will affect water quality.

The council will continue to work for improved fishing and other recreational opportunities on the Rouge, and will remain active in overseeing efficent sewage treatment systems.

Factory killed 'work ethic,' spawned hedonism

This is the fifth of 15 articles on "Working: Changes and Choices." It was written for Courses by Newspaper, an extension program of the University of California, San Diego, with funding from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

1981, by the Regents of the University of California.

Daniel T. Rodgers is associate professor of history at Princeton University, having previously taught at the University of Wisconsin. He is the author of "The Work Ethic in Industrial America," which was awarded the Frederick Jackson Turner Prize of the Organization on American Historians.

By Daniel T. Rodges
special writer

"Why do they work so hard?"

That was one of the first questions to perplex sociologists Robert and Helen Lynd in the 1920s as they settled into the Indiana factory town they made famous in their study of "Middletown."

The Lynds were hardly the first to ask this question. For almost a century, European visitors had puzzled over what seemed to them the peculiarly hectic tempo of American life.

Why, indeed, have Americans worked so hard, produced so much, and even in their leisure talked so incessantly about work?

THE ANSWER begins with a dose of skepticism.

Most Americans, even in the 19th century heyday of work ethic, probably did not work with peculiar inner commitment — that is, harder than they had to.

Among slaves and masters in the pre-Civil War South, among servants and would-be aristocrats, among frontier settlers and urban factory employees, there was a strong current of resistance to unflagging, clock-disciplined work.

Even the idea that work-time and leisure-time should be neatly divided was not widely shared. Most Americans able to control their work mixed bouts of labor and bouts of recreation in an irregular pattern that was much older than Benjamin Franklin's notion that time was as precious as money.

If the work ethic meant the conviction that work was the main business of life, if it meant fear of the idle moment, then the resisters were — and are — legion.

WHO, THEN, believed so devoutly in work?

It was largely the subgroup of Americans for whom Benjamin Franklin spoke: Northern, Protestant members of the "middling," property-owning classes.

They might be merchants, small manufacturers, artisans or farmers, but they had two things in common: They were free men, who owned their own labor; and they were heirs to John Calvin's legacy from the Protestant Reformation.

The now-famous connection between the Reformation and work was suggested by the German sociologist Max Weber three-quarters of a century ago in "The Protestant Ethic and the Spirt of Capitalism." The rhythm of medieval church's cycle of sin, penance and forgiveness.

Calvinism, by contrast, stripping its followers of the shelter of a forgiving church, thrust them naked under the eye of God, and demanded that they so discipline their faith, time and work that they could withstand the scrutiny.

Few religions have so energized the worldly activities of their believers, Weber insisted. Despite the scholarly debate Weber's argument provoked, that basic contention remains convincing.

BUT FAITH alone did not make the work ethic.

What gave practical force to the belief in the morality of work was the huge amount of relatively open land in America, and the opportunities it released for certain kinds of labor.

Without the example of a leisured, European-style aristocracy, and with labor in short supply, the grandchildren of the Puritans pushed their way into occupations in which, to an unprecedented extent, they could be their own masters; in which there was room for independence and innovation; and in which hard work might pay off in social mobility — modest mobility as a rule, but perhaps (with the luck of a Franklin or a Carnegie) spectacular.

IT WAS where faith and occupation met — among the Yankee middle classes, so visible to visiting Europeans — that the work ethic took deepest root.

The subsequent history of that ethic was essentially the attempt of members of that peculiarly powerful minority to imbue a nation with their peculiar convictions.

They spread the work ethic through schools, through penny savings banks, through crusades against drink and for the "Americanization" of immigrants, and above all by changing work itself.

Helped by the social and economic promises of 19th-century America, their efforts won converts enough to leave the impression that there was no other "American dream" than theirs of hard work, self-discipline and economic success.

BUT FOR ALL the converts these efforts won, the hand of compulsion was never far away.

Moral and political battles over recreation — over the saloons, dance halls and Sunday excursion trains — were often fierce.

Fiercer still were the contests over work, which often pitted work-systematizing managers against resistant employees. From strikes over shorter hours to shop-level disputes over production levels, attendance and drinking, American industrial history is full of contention over what work should be and who should control its meaning.

In the end, those imbued with Franklin's faith in systematic work won the crucial battles.

In the name of morality — and of profits — they succeeded in remaking work, tightening its discipline, intensifying its pace, rationalizing its processes and squeezing its idle moments into a separate category of free time.

The factory was their triumph, and the big clock faces that many factories boasted were a fitting symbol of the revolution in the importance of time and in the nature of work that they embodied.

BUT THE VICTORY was an ironic one. The factory was a triumph of the systematizing deals unleashed by Calvinism; it produced goods in staggering volume.

But it did so only by undermining the social conditions in which they work ethic had taken root.

The most obvious clash was between the old work ideals and the new industrial work forms. The ideal of control of one's own work collided with sharply tightened work rules and machine-paced work. The dream of success through sheer hard work was eroded by the vast new scale of enterprise.

The result made many of those who preached the gospel of work increasingly nervous about what was happening to work, its incentives and, above all, its moral content.

BUT THE FLAW in the victory of the moralists ran deeper than the contradictions between work as it was and work as in moral theory it was supposed to be. The moralists and managers had hoped not only to change work but to convert a nation to their peculiar faith in work's moral supremacy. In this they failed.

Only a tiny handful of Middletown's rank-and-file workers, according to the Lynds, worked as hard as they did out of the inner compulsions of an ethic. More worked hard because they feared dismissal. But most, the Lynds reported, worked primarily for the money their labor brought.

Like 20th-century workers everywhere, Middletown blue-collar workers had made an economic bargain with the industrial cornucopia. They produced not as an act of faith, but in order to buy; and wanting much, they worked hard.

The mainspring of the industial machine was desire, assiduously fanned by the new managers of advertising.

THAT INSTRUMENTAL bargain between hard work and consumption is so familiar a part of 20th-century America that the defeat of the inner core of the work ethic is not always easy to see.

Nor has it been easy to see that a consumer-demand based, capitalist economy — which works by persuading its constituents to buy — is not particularly fertile soil for a revival of the self-denying injunctions of the work ethic.

Cultures and economies that fan the flames of hedonism with one hand do not easily get committed labor with the other.

But cultures hang on to old moral formulas. It is one of the ways they keep from disintegrating — even when history is more complex than the cliches, and its moral implications run much deeper.

Charters: 'pig in poke' or 'best compromise'

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

We're "getting a pig in a poke," said William Bledsoe, D-Highland Park, a Wayne County Charter Commission member from Highland Park.

"It's not a cure-all but a direction," said David Geiss, Charter Commission member from Taylor.

Two Wayne County Democrats put the two charter proposals under the spotlight last week and came up with opposite views.

Speaking before a 2nd District-Wayne Democratic Organization audience, both Bledsoe and Geiss agreed that Michigan law hampered the creation of a "true home rule" charter.

By state law, two proposals are on the Nov. 3 special county ballot.

Proposal 1 would create an elected chief executive officer (CEO). Proposal 2 is identical except for one provision which would create a chief executive appointed by the board of commissioners rather than an elected CEO.

If both pass, the one getting the most votes will take effect. If both fail, the charter commission is obliged to draft another proposed charter within 80 days to be presented to voters.

BLEDSOE proposed sending the charters back to the drawing board by voting against both.

Geiss called the charters on the Nov. 3 ballot the "best compromise possible."

Bledsoe said the proposed charters were a "Republican thing" from the start. He told the approximately 20 members in the audience he had run for the charter commission with an "adventuresome" attitude tempered by realism.

"I wanted to be there when the deal was cut so I would know what it was," said Bledsoe, who is Highland Park city attorney.

The number of board members was one of the few areas open to commission debate, and it was a debate left to the very end, Bledsoe said. "We recognized early-on this would be a divisive problem," he said.

Calling the proposed reduction from 27 to 15 members the charters' "fatal flaw," Bledsoe said county government would only get further away from the people.

GEISS, HOWEVER, said he was "satisfied" with the cut. "When you cut down on the number, you improve the quality," Geiss said.

"Size is not as important as quality. Incumbents running against each other will have to prove what they have done

"I can't say it's going to be cheaper. I would be lying. But you will have accountability through the chief elected officer."

Bledsoe said a "whole new tier of executives" would "certainly" cost the county more.

Final forum on 2 charters at SC

Schoolcraft College will host a Livonia League of Women Voters public forum on the Wayne County charter proposals at 8 p.m. today (Thursday).

Panel members will include Charter Commission members Lyn Bankes, R-Livonia; William Bledsoe, D-Highland Park; and Darneau Stewart, D-Detroit.

Also participating will be Diane Keller, president of Local 1659 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME).

The program, open to the public without charge, will be held in Room 530 of the Forum Building. There will be a question and answer period.

Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road between Six and Seven Mile Roads, Livonia.

Clara Hill (left) and Pat Viazanko, both employees of the Auto Club office at Sheldon and Ann Arbor Road and both residents of Plymouth, visited the PLUS program this week at Central Middle School.

Halloween tips given to preschool youngsters

Employees in the Plymouth office of The Automobile Club of Michigan dressed as witches and goblins this week and took Halloween to the PLUS preschool program at Central Middle School.

"We are continuing the 'Light Up A Life' tradition we started last Halloween as well as issuing our annual Halloween safety message," said Heinz Topol, Plymouth branch manager.

"Last year Auto Club employees across the state hosted Halloween parties for hospitalized youngsters and for the elderly in nursing homes as well," said Topol.

"The response was tremendous and we looked forward to repeating the effort this year."

Topol emphasized that Halloween can be a fun time of the year if some simple trick-or-treating rules are followed.

"One important rule is to avoid masks which obscure vision and use makeup to paint children's faces," Topol said.

HE LISTED the following tips for a safe Halloween night:

- Arm young trick-or-treaters with flashlights to make them more visible to motorists.
- Make costumes of bright colors so they can be seen in darkness and keep them short enough so they won't trip tiny feet.
- Apply luminous paint or tape to costumes to make them even more visible.
- Be sure that children are accompanied by a parent, or older brother or sister.
- Caution children to trick-or-treat only on streets which are well-lighted.
- Instruct youngsters to cross only at intersections, after looking both ways first, and to walk facing traffic if there is no sidewalk.
- Caution youngsters to wait until they get home to sort, check and eat their treats, allowing parents time to examine them carefully.

Kelly Lostutter gets her face painted by Ruth Wanserski who explains it's safer to use facial makeup than vision-obstructing masks.

Various activities are planned. Doughnuts and coffee are served.

New approach in middle-school sports

A new approach to middle-school athletics is taking place this year by the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

The new program concentrates on intramural and extramural activities. The intramural portion involves competition among teams organized by homerooms within a school building.

The extramural activities involve competition between buildings within the school district.

Sports scheduled for the year include soccer, September and October; volleyball, November, December and January; basketball, January, February, and March; softball, April, May and June; swimming, February, and track, May and June.

AS A result of the intramural competition, the winning homeroom teams at each grade level will move on to compete with other winning homeroom teams across the district.

This extramural competition will involve all five middle schools — Pioneer, East, West, Central and Lowell.

The programs will be scheduled to permit the greatest number of students to participate in both the intramural and extramural activities.

Intramural games will be played during the noon hour. Extramural games take place after school.

Due to budget cutbacks, funds are not available for transportation of students between schools. Student officials will be used for all intramural games, with staff members officiating only at the finals of extramural playoffs.

PLANS CALL for selected all-star teams from each school to play comparable all-star teams from other middle schools. A traveling trophy goes to the school earning the most points during the playoffs of both all-star and homerooms.

Dr. John Telford, executive director of secondary education, feels this program is beneficial for middle-school students.

"While not offering the same kinds of activities which have been provided in the past, such as football, the intramural-extramural program will still provide the physical activities and enjoyable competition needed by young people at this level.

Reading for UNICEF

Students at Field Elementary of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools have been conducting a read-a-thon to help raise money for UNICEF, the United Nations children's educational fund. The read-a-thon was organized by Luan Brownlee (left), learning specialist at Field, who is shown here with a volunteer mother, Greet Collins, at the registration desk where Field pupils sign up to take their turn in the continuous reading fund-raiser. Shown at left with Kermit the Frog resting on his knee is Matthew Lethbridge, 8, reading up on baseball strategy. Field School is one of the major participants in the UNICEF drive locally, last year raising some $400 with its read-a-thon. Cooperating in the project, and leading the UNICEF campaign throughout the Plymouth-Canton area, is the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW).

'Save the farmland' urges the LWV

To the editor:

The League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Novi supports the farmland retention proposal on the Nov. 3 Canton Township ballot.

Awareness of the value of agriculture has been increasing steadily over the past years. American cropland provides a source of food for its citizens as well as a much needed commodity for foreign trade.

In Michigan, agriculture is the second largest industry and, as such, is helping to stabilize the state's economy in this time of recession.

Locally, the amount of land devoted to farming has enabled Canton Township to provide residents with an economical and convenient source of produce while maintaining a semi-rural atmosphere.

Development of this acreage would increase the need for costly services such as fire and police protection, sewer extensions and classrooms.

Converting farmland to urban uses is an irreversible process. The League of Women Voters believes that implementation of this program would ensure the continuation of farming as a viable part of Canton's economy, would confine urban sprawl and could provide the impetus for other communities to begin their own agricultural retention program.

The purpose of the League of Women Voters is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government. The League supports or opposes selected governmental issues after study and consensus.

Save my home—not farmland

To the editor:

Save the farmland? How about preservation of the home front?

Can the average Canton Township homeowner afford the increased projected costs over the next 20-year period that the passage of the proposal could result in?

We are concerning ourselves with the future costs IF the western part of Canton Township should be developed.

It would be well if we let the developers handle this and address our concerns to the conditions around us — the partially developed subdivisions which have come to a standstill and are now becoming overgrown; the increased number of homeowners who are putting their homes up for sale and for months and months waiting for a buyer; and the already enormously high costs of owning and maintaining a home in Canton Township because of increasing taxes and insurance rates, along with rising utilities costs.

We might all take a real close look at the fine print of the Farmland Preservation Proposal and try to determine just how much it could really cost over the next 20-year period.

Since 1973 the State Equalized Value (S.E.V. the factor used for computing taxes) on my home has risen from $19,260 to $35,246 in 1981.

At this rate, how much will the S.E.V. factor be in 10 years? 20 years?

This is the blank check we are being asked to approve at the polls on Nov. 3rd?

I would like to see a full page blowup of the proposal as it will be presented to the voters on election day appear in your Canton Observer prior to Nov. 3rd so we all have time to read and understand what it is we are voting Yes or No to.

Rotten smell with farm vote

To the editor:

If I said, to you, "There is something rotten in Denmark," you would probably become suspicious, wary, and alert to trouble.

Now, let me try, "There is something rotten in Canton Township."

I hope the voters become wary, suspicious, and alert to trouble, because the rotten smell is coming from the so-called Farmland Preservation Ballot Proposal, and it's not from farm animals.

Let's look at the facts. Three years ago the voters turned down the same proposition. The cost then was pegged at $15 million. The cost now is set at $7 million. It doesn't make sense that the price of gasoline, milk, and bread have jumped due to inflation in three years, but land has decreased by roughly half.

In order to find out how this could be I asked the Township Planning Department how the $7 million figure was arrived at.

I was informed that the Township had retained an Ann Arbor appraisal firm and they had done the survey and the $7 million figure was based on this survey.

When I asked to see the survey I was told that it was confidential, and the property-owning taxpayers could not see it.

The last election on this same issue, which was defeated three years ago, carried a four-mill tax increase. This was spelled out on the ballot so the voters would be properly informed. This proposition does not mention a millage increase.

However, the farmland ballot resolution on 9/3/81 says, "The principal and interest on said general obligation bonds shall be payable from the general funds of the Township and the Township is required by law to levy sufficient ad valorem taxes, if necessary, for the payment there of upon all taxable property in the Township without limitation as to rate or amount."

Why doesn't the ballot mention the tax increase?

The official reason given is that they cannot do so, on advice of counsel (since the amount of tax increase is not specific), and therefore, they cannot tell the voters they are actually voting for increased taxes if they vote YES on November 3.

As a result they have prepared literature, at taxpayer expense, to be delivered to every door in Canton Township by hand. They say that this will satisfy the election law and cure the defective ballot.

Who is preparing the literature? The same people who pushed the farmland proposal. Who is paying for it — The Canton Township Taxpayer.

But Township Supervisor James Poole blew the whistle on this, and charged that their literature doesn't tell the whole story.

Mr. Poole said the $7 Million plus interest over the bonding period would come close to $19 million.

This is the figure arrived at by Stauder, Barch Associates, Municipal Bond Consultants, September 29, 1981.

He also asked for and received the legal opinion of Township Counsel, and a second counsel, who advised the Township that it was, in their opinion, improper to distribute this literature using public money.

What did the Board do? They voted (Supervisor Poole voting no) to ignore the legal opinion. This was the same body who refused to tell the voters the whole story, in the ballot language, because they were bound by legal opinion.

So there you have it. . .

Secret appraisals; a ballot proposition that increases taxes without telling the voter how much; literature, prepared at public expenses, distributed against the advice of counsel; and a $19 million tax increase being passed off as $7 million tax increase.

Adlai Stevenson, once said, "If the American People are told the truth they will usually bite the bullet and do what's right." But God help you if they catch you trying to put one over on them.

I urge the Canton Township voters to vote NO on Farmland on November 3, 1981. If you are in doubt be sure to vote NO, because they will be back again, and sooner or later, all the facts will be presented to you.

But, whatever you vote, be sure and vote.

This issue could double your millage rate.

Frank Bennett
Detroit

Farmland info very misleading

Attorney General Frank Kelly has just ruled that it is a violation of state law to use public money and employees to support a ballot referendum.

He said the 1976 statute prohibits Public Employees from engaging in campaign activities "during those hours when that person is being compensated for the performance of that person's duties as a public employee."

That is exactly what our Canton Township employees and officials are doing with the farmland brochure.

They are doing this despite advice to the contrary from Counsel and in direct opposition from Township Supervisor James Poole.

Further, the brochure is inaccurate and biased. Editor Dennis O'Connor stated in the Oct. 22 issue that "the repayment plan of the township will extend over a 20-year period at a 13-percent interest rate — boosting the actual cost of the project to approximately $18.5 million, according to township officials."

The brochure does not give this figure of $18.5 million. This is inaccurate and misleading.

They give the millage increase rate of 1.16 mills. This is an average, and it may go as high as a 1.85-mill increase. This is misleading.

Further, the Resolution allows millage increases "without limitation as the rate or amount."

If the legislature raises the interest celing in Michigan, as they are presently proposing in Lansing, the bonds could go for more than 13 percent interest, and as a result the millage could go through the roof.

The biased brochure does not mention this and is almost sure to bring a lawsuit which we, as Canton Township taxpayers, will have to pay for out of tax funds.

Farmland should be preserved

WHEN CANTON voters go to the polls Tuesday, they must decide whether to preserve more than 5,000 acres of farmland in the western portion of the township.

We feel preserving farmland is an important part of the long-term goals of the township, and we urge Canton residents to vote "yes" on the farmland-retention ballot question.

In these times of economic hardship, it is unfortunate that Canton voters are faced with a proposal that will cost taxpayers more money. In retrospect, this probably isn't the best time to ask voters about farmland west of Canton Center Road. There are more important concerns on residents' minds — such as a sagging economy and ever-increasing tax bills.

Canton residents must realize, however, that any kind of development in western Canton is going to cost them money.

We feel preserving farmland will be cheaper — in the long run — to Canton taxpayers.

PRESERVING AGRICULTURAL land has been part of the township's master plan for years. This ballot question simply finalizes implementation of the zoning plan.

Currently, most of the land west of Canton Center Road can only be used for agricultural purposes, according to the master plan.

In 1978, voters rejected a four-mill increase proposal to preserve farmland. This year, the proposal includes a bond issue that results in a fluctuating millage increase to preserve farmland.

We feel this should be the last time voters decide on farmland in Canton.

If this project is rejected, then it's time to re-evaluate the township's master plan. This may encourage additional development which could lead to providing more schools, roads and police services. These services would cost taxpayers more money than farmland preservation — in the long run.

THIS REALLY is a question of growth. If the ecomony ever turns around, how much growth will Canton experience in the western portion of the township? We feel preserving farmland is a smart way to control possible growth and reduce the eventual cost to taxpayers.

Actually, we wouldn't blame residents for voting against this issue if they don't plan on living in Canton in the future.

Many residents, however, moved into Canton because of its semirural flavor. Residents enjoy the uniqueness of Canton — the "city" conveniences in a suburban atmosphere combined with the openness of rural areas.

Just as voters were asked to increase millage for the library, police and fire protection, they now are being asked to increase millage for preserving farmland.

UNFORTUNATELY, Tuesday's ballot question is extemely confusing. It is a bond issue that asks for approval of the township to acquire development rights of the agricultural land to insure preservation.

If the proposal is approved, then it means homeowners will pay a fluctuating millage increase each year. Township officials estimate the increase will average 1.16 mills ($1.16 per $1,000 assessed property valuation). The millage increase will be higher in the early years of the preservation project.

This increase translates to an average of $38 per year for 20 years of the program for the typical Canton homeowner.

Is it worth $38 per year to keep farmland in Canton? That's what you will have to decide.

We don't like that $38 figure — that's a lot of money for taxpayers in these hard economic times.

But we think $38 is better than the higher price tag taxpayers may face if the western portion of the township is allowed to develop — without farmland.

Will voters ignore charter?

Third of a series.

The politics-as-usual gang in Wayne County hopes Canton Township voters will be asleep at the switch Nov. 3 when two home rule charters are on the ballot. The gang hopes township voters, with no regular election Tuesday, will ignore the special county election.

We urge Canton voters to vote to adopt Proposal 1, calling for an elected chief executive officer (CEO). Proposal 2 should not be ignored either, although its appointed CEO would lack the clout of an elected CEO.

The politics-as-usual gang is interested in perpetuating its own jobs, in creating jobs for pals and in spending all the money it can get its hands on — not in serving the public.

On Oct. 15, we cited the overwhelming case in favor of the elected CEO. On Oct. 22, we went over the pros and cons of the appointed manager.

What remains is a good look at how a home rule charter would give county government the tools to stop the $20 million deficits, the discord and the politics-as-usual.

AT PRESENT, Wayne County department heads jockey for the votes of 14 of the 27 county commissioners to get their power and money. No one looks at the big picture.

Both charters would give the CEO power to reorganize (subject to board of commissioners review) those departments not headed by an elected official. The CEO would appoint their directors and deputy directors, who are now picked by the board of commissioners.

The board would become a 15-member legislative body, as it naturally should be, instead of a 27-headed administrative mish-mash.

At present, the Wayne County Road Commission is an empire of its own, its three leaders being protected by long terms, effectively answering to no one and handling as much patronage as possible.

Both charters would give the CEO power to hire and fire the road commissioners, making them accountable to the CEO.

At present, the road commission builds on its merry way, the drain commissioner builds on his merry way, and the public works department builds on its merry way.

Both charters would require them to submit work plans to the CEO for coordination.

At present, some department heads, notably the sheriff, spend what they want and arrogantly tell the board to pick up the bill.

Both charters would make all department heads responsible for living within their budgets. The charters would grant the CEO power to make mid-year budget cuts when necessary. The politics-as-usual gang won't like that kind of discipline — but the public will.

AT PRESENT, county commissioners commonly resign in mid-term, and their political buddies appoint them to administrative jobs at double the pay.

Both charters would effectively halt this politics-as-usual practice, prohibiting an elected official from taking an appointive job until one year after his/her term is completed.

The charters would clean up civil service practices and provide for a professional auditor, which is what every government should have.

Can you see why the politics-as-usual gang opposes the charters with irrational arguments about "lack of representation" and "it could have been better"? Can you see why its leaders have resisted the process at every step?

Certainly the charters aren't perfect. But both — particularly Proposal 1 — are better than the medieval system we have, and that's the key point.

The charter version getting the most yes votes will be adopted. Proposal 1 deserves a definite yes vote. Proposal 2 is a toss-up.

But if you vote no, or if you forget the Nov. 3 Wayne County charter proposals, the result will be politics-as-usual. We can't afford that any more.

'Community' is a word of many meanings

Community is a word used so often and in so many different ways that it almost has been stripped of meaning.

In general, a community is a group of individuals who share a common interest. The most frequent use of "community" is to define a set of individuals who live within the same geographical boundary — i.e., a city, township or village.

In these parts, the meaning of "community" changes from one context to another so that it seldom means the same. Yet most residents understand the multitude of meanings community has, almost as if we were natives who understood a dialect strange to outsiders.

For instance, Dunning-Hough Memorial Library serves the Plymouth community, which everyone knows is the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

The Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC), however, encompasses the city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, and Canton Township.

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, on the other hand, includes the city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, two-thirds of Canton, and small slices of Salem, Superior and Northville townships.

In business, the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union defines a market area which covers the city and township of Plymouth, the city and township of Northville, and Canton.

The Plymouth Community Band is an organization for Plymouth Township, city of Plymouth, and Canton musicians known as is the Plymouth Community Chorus.

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, though, is obviously only for the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township as Canton and Northville have their own chambers.

The Plymouth Community Family YMCA at one time covered Canton, city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, city of Northville and Northville Township. However, Canton has aligned itself with the Livonia YMCA and so the exact territorial limits of this particular community remain in limbo.

(Another local colloquialism is to talk about the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township with the understanding that "Plymouth" used alone refers to the city of Plymouth. Oldtimers in the city also like to talk about "the township" and assume everyone understands they mean Plymouth Township, although people in Canton and Northville are never clear about that particular meaning of "the township."

The Plymouth Community Fall Festival generally is seen as a celebration of the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township although participants and spectators come from Canton, Northville and beyond.

The Plymouth Community Civitans is a civic club which includes city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, and Canton.

The Plymouth Community Fund clearly refers only to the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township because it is an affiliate of United Way of Michigan while Canton, Northville and Northville Township are all United Fund "communities."

Yes, community is a simple word understood by all except those outside the community.

Some of these local votes are a sick joke

What a sick little joke this "local initiative" politics has become.

For years we've listened to how the folks back home know better than the faceless bureaucrats in Washington and Lansing.

"We know what's best for our community. We know what kind of education we want our children to have," they said.

Now, because of a chronically ill economy and a change in the country's political atmosphere, the down-homers are getting their way.

Around this beautiful peninsula, the results are less than impressive.

THE DOWN-HOMERS have decided to take good government into their own hands. The result: Students are being kicked out on the street as districts begin to close their doors.

And much to many persons' surprise, the districts being shut down aren't the much maligned, large city districts.

Just this week, voters in western Michigan's Harper Creek School District in Calhoun County with 3,000 students rejected a tax increase.

In northeastern lower Michigan, Alpena closed its doors on Oct. 16 after three defeats of tax-increase proposals. The 6,000 Alpena students' fates will be left up to the down-homers once again tomorrow when they go to the polls.

Closer to home, 16,000 students will get an early Christmas vacation beginning Nov. 13 in the Taylor district.

EACH ONE OF THESE districts is in hock, over its head in debt. Many other districts around the state are barely hanging on to solvency.

Certainly, voters are disgusted and, in some districts where schools are closing, they have good cause.

But, ironically, many persons in years past haven't voted — a strange phenomenon in a country where voting is as easy as walking to the local neighborhood school.

Just once check out the voting percentages over the last six or eight years in your local school district election. Certainly, you'll find it appalling.

Next week, local elections will be conducted throughout the state. And once again the percentages will be low. Voters will be apathetic toward the issues and candidates.

Our lack of willingness to participate fully is bringing on this crisis. Don't get too comfortable about it, either. What has happened in Alpena or Taylor or quaint little Harper Creek could happen in your home town.

The worst part is that disgruntled taxpayers are taking it out on defenseless children who, by law, are forbidden to fight back at the ballot box.

Just a few years ago, we took it for granted that our parents would support us. Certainly we weren't guaranteed a job. That we had to go out and find for ourselves.

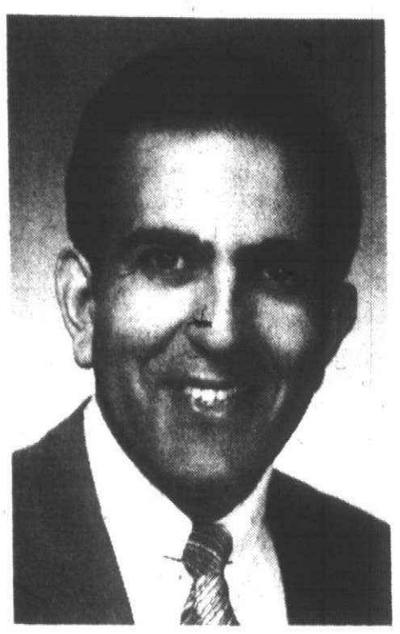

BUT AN EDUCATION, we knew, was available. All we had to do was show up. As a matter of fact, according to state law, we had to show up until we were 16 years old.

Back then, the truant officer would come and get you for breaking the law.

Now, for a growing number of students, the school door is locked. Who now is breaking the spirit of the law?

Foresees more car sales

Ford auto veep oozes optimism

'I'm not for split marriages. I'm just telling you it's good for the car business.'
— Louis Lataif
Ford Motor VP

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Are you one of those who thinks "things will never be the same" for the auto industry?

Don't bother telling it to Louis Lataif. Despite the auto industry's gargantuan problems of the last two years, Lataif, a vice president of Ford Motor Co. and general manager of the Ford Division, will argue hard that the long-range prospect is good.

"One can be an expert in the long term, but don't ask me what's going to happen later this afternoon," quipped Lataif, 42, when he spoke recently to a Republican women's club luncheon in Birmingham.

"PRICES ARE too high," say the auto's critics.

Not so, argued Lataif. The average price in 10 years has risen from $3,828 to $8,853, keeping pace with inflation. Car payments continue to take a steady 10 percent of personal disposable income.

Paying off the loan takes longer, the Ford executive conceded, with repayment time increasing from 34.6 months to 45 months in that period.

But that, he said, was a trend which had been in operation for a long time.

"PEOPLE WILL hold onto their cars longer," say the auto's critics.

True, said the Bloomfield Hills executive, but this too had been going on a long time and is a tribute to better construction of cars.

Autos are being kept an average of 4.6 years today by their original owners, compared to 3.6 years a decade ago.

But sales will increase because the number of households is increasing. The housing industry has found a market in widows and single persons who set up or maintain their own households, and the same phenomenon helps sell cars. When a couple gets a divorce, said Lataif, there's a car sale for the industry.

"I'm not for split marriages," he said. "I'm just telling you it's good for the car business."

"GAS PRICES will curtail use of the auto," say the auto's critics, and the nation will move toward rapid transit.

While pump prices are up, constant prices, adjusted for inflation, aren't, Lataif argued.

Besides, America's "fleet" of autos "is not being very well maintained," according to a national compilation of maintenance records. "The pent-up demand will explode one o these days," the optimistic Ford general manager said.

He also aruged there is "no alternative to private transportation. Mass transportation has not been developed in all the years it has been talked about. People are not willing to give up their personal freedom. And people are not willing to live in close-enough clusters to make mass transit pay," he said.

FOR THE SHORT run, Lataif, a marketing man with a master of business administration degree from Harvard, saw "another six months in a bad two-year period.

"It probably sobered us up more than anything but a war."

He pointed to two key indicators:

- Gross national product. Auto industry sales are tied to the GNP over the long haul. A recovery and a steady growth in GNP would mean the same thing for auto sales.
- The prime rate of interest. Historically, the prime rate, which the best corporations pay, has been 1-3 percent higher than the increase in the consumer price index (inflation). Today prime is 8.2 percent higher, an unusual occurence. "Once the country believes inflation is single-digit," he said, "the prime rate will drop rather precipitously."

Ford anticipates a 15 percent prime rate in the year ahead compared to 20 percent today.

Save taxes, obtain a high yield with our new insured "All Savers" Account.

What is it?
It's a new way to save that offers "once-in-a-lifetime" tax benefits as well as high interest. What's more, you can open an account for just $500 minimum deposit and make additional deposits of $500 or more anytime.
The new "All Savers" Account will be offered by all of our banks between October 1, 1981, and December 31, 1982. Deposits are federally insured and have a maturity of one year.

How much interest does it pay?
Every four weeks the United States Treasury sells its 52-week (one-year) Treasury bills (T-Bills) at auction. "All Savers" Accounts pay a fixed rate equal to 70% of the average investment yield obtained at each auction. Thus the rate changes every four weeks. However, the rate in effect when you make each deposit is guaranteed for one year from the date of your deposit, and this same rate must be paid by all financial institutions. (For example, the annual interest rate through October 31, is 12.14%.)

Is all the interest tax exempt?
As an individual, up to $1,000 of your "All Savers" interest is exempt from federal income tax. And up to $2,000 if you file a joint return. These are "once-in-a-lifetime" exemptions, regardless of how much you invest or how much interest you earn. The tax benefit is available in any one year, or parts of it in different years through 1983 as interest is received.

Will an "All Savers" Account benefit me?
The tax exemption and the modest minimum deposit make the "All Savers" Account a profitable new way to save. However, the benefits are not the same for everyone. It's a matter of choice and an "All Savers" Account gives you another savings choice. We'll be glad to help you decide if it's the right choice for you.

There is a substantial penalty and loss of tax-exempt status for early withdrawals from any "All Savers" Account.

What if I already have a Money Market Certificate?
If you bank with us, you can convert the Money Market Certificate you have with us into an "All Savers" Account without any interest penalty anytime after October 1. Just bring in your certificate, and we'll handle everything for you. And remember, "All Savers" deposits are federally insured up to $100,000 and the "All Savers" interest rate is guaranteed for one year from the date each deposit is made.

Is it better than a Money Market Fund?
An "All Savers" Account offers many advantages no "investment fund" can match. The rate is guaranteed, your deposits are insured, and depending on your tax bracket, the after-tax yield could be better than any fund pays.

LWV supports county reform

To the editor:

The seven Leagues of Women Voters in Wayne County urge a "yes" vote for a county charter on Nov. 3 to improve our county government. The charter provides a badly needed executive, a streamlined and truly legislative board of commissioners and strong financial controls.

Wayne County has long needed an executive. The one provided in the charter would give leadership to draw up and carry out the budget, and appoint the heads of all departments not directed by an elected department head.

There would be a streamlined legislative body — the commission — with only 15 instead of the present 27 members. Its powers would include budget approval, confirmation of most appointments and approval of all contracts — thus setting up a check and balance system we do not now have.

The current $20 million deficit proves the need for financial controls. Charter requirements include a balanced budget, an annual audit by an outside CPA and the use of "generally accepted accounting practices."

County tax increases without a vote of the people are forbidden.

State law requires that two charter proposals face the voters on Nov. 3. They are identical except that one provides for a county executive elected by the people, the other for a chief administrative officer chosen by the board of commissioners.

The proposals are presented as two separate ballot questions. You can vote "yes" or "no," or abstain from voting on either or both. If both proposals pass, the one with the larger number of "yes" votes is adopted.

The League of Women Voters has no position as to whether an elected or appointed exectuve would be better. Members believe that either is a vast improvement over the present system.

CEP students set an example

To the editor:

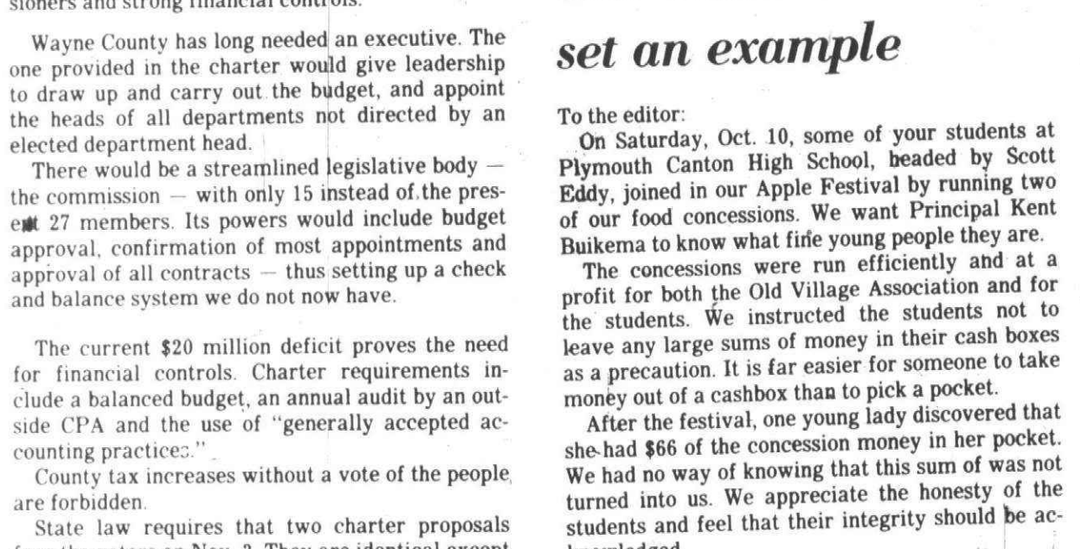

On Saturday, Oct. 10, some of your students at Plymouth Canton High School, headed by Scott Eddy, joined in our Apple Festival by running two of our food concessions. We want Principal Kent Buikema to know what fine young people they are.

The concessions were run efficiently and at a profit for both the Old Village Association and for the students. We instructed the students not to leave any large sums of money in their cash boxes as a precaution. It is far easier for someone to take money out of a cashbox than to pick a pocket.

After the festival, one young lady discovered that she had $66 of the concession money in her pocket. We had no way of knowing that this sum of was not turned into us. We appreciate the honesty of the students and feel that their integrity should be acknowledged.

If these find young people are an example of the Plymouth Canton High student body, then Principal Buikema should be proud. The Old Village Association welcomes the students of Plymouth Canton High to join in the festivals of 1982.

THE SAD NEWS of Bob Ufer's death prompted a call to Fred Delano — the local resident who knew him best and who was responsible for starting Bob on his broadcasting career.

Fred recalled the day.

The year was 1940. It was Tom Harmon's senior year at University of Michigan. The Wolverines were in Evanston, Ill. for the Northwestern game in an era when Northwestern was a power in the Big 10. Fred was sports publicity director for U-M, a post he held from 1940 to 1944 when he went to work for the Chicago Tribune.

"We were in the lobby of the Orrington Hotel in Evanstan," said Fred. "Bill Stern was doing the national broadcast on NBC radio and he needed a spotter from each camp. They would sit on either side of him in the broadcast booth with the charts and point out the names of the players in on the plays.

"Bob was in the lobby and I asked him if he would spot for Stern. It was his first time in a radio booth and he caught the bug right then. In fact, his style was like Bill Stern's."

BOB UFER was a sophomore at U-M in 1940.

"He had a standing invitation from Fielding Yost to try out for the football team. He had set a scoring record as a halfback during his high school days in Mt. Lebanon, Pa.," said Fred. "But he also held the world indoor record for the 440 and was looking forward to being on the 1944 Olympic track team."

The 1944 Olympics were cancelled because of World War II.

"Ufer was 4F because of his eyesight and he was looking for employment after graduation. He coached sports at Ann Arbor High School — all sports, not just track — led his team to the state golf championship," Fred continued. "He started broadcasting the Michigan games over WPAG in 1945, while he was coaching.

"He was a fine human being — like that thing of auctioning a day with him in the press box during a game (for St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor). When our son Bob was involved in radio at high school, he invited him to spend an afternoon in the broadcast booth. He was that kind of a guy."

Wilma Newton of Plymouth was top bidder for the afternoon with Ufer during his broadcast and she said it was one of the greatest experiences of her lifetime.

Fred and Bob Ufer shared something else — along with Bo Schembechler and Steve Redfern. They all were born on Feb. 1.

YOU KNOW the ladies auxiliary puts on a pancake breakfast the first Sunday of each month in the Mayflower VFW post on Mill Street. But did you know that they have special guests at these breakfasts?

They invite the residents of Plymouth Opportunity House and usually 15 or more come, by van. The Opportunity House people love the food and the outing.

Lisa Andres of Plymouth plays Susy Hendrix, the lead. The blind woman smells the cigarette and knows she is not alone. Tani Secunda plays Gloria, the child who adds to Susy's terror. David Ide of Plymouth is Sam Hendrix, Susy's husband, whose business trips leave the heroine alone and threatened.

Mystery thriller opens PTG season

The Plymouth Theatre Guild's choice for its opening show of the 1981-81 season, "Wait Unitl Dark," is in keeping with Halloween weekend.

The play, by Frederick Knott, is a mystery drama about a blind woman involved in a terrorizing situation. Curtain time for the opening performance will be 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 30, in Central Middle School auditorium, Church Street at Main.

It will be repeated Saturday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 6, 7, 13 and 14. Tickets at $4 for adults and $3.50 for students and senior citizens are available at the door.

Lisa Andres of Plymouth has the role of Susy Hendrix, the blind woman. Although this is her first PTG part, Andres is no stranger to theatre.

She played Liesl in "Sound of Music" with Dearborn Civic Theatre. She was Dainty June in the Players Guild of Dearborn production of "Gypsy." She also dances with the Sara Paull Dance Company of Dearborn.

TOBIN A. HISSONG portrays Mike Talman. A graduate of Inkster Cherry Hill High School, he is employed by the hydra-matic division of General Motors.

"Wait Until Dark" marks Hissong's debut with the PTG. He has been very active in the Wayne-Westland and Civic Theatre groups. His most recent role was that of Count Dracula in "Dracula." He was Kilroy in Woody Allen's "Don't Drink the Water." Last summer, Hissong was busy acting in Dearborn. He was in "H.M.S. Pinafore with the Civic Theatre and "The Apple Tree" with the Players Guild.

Hissong is 23 and lives in Canton Township.

Jerry Billingsley, a former theater major at Western Kentucky University, is making his Michigan acting debut as Sgt. Carlino in "Wait Until Dark." He has worked in dinner theaters and summer stock throughout the South.

His credits include Pseudolis in "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," Von Tropp in "The Sound of Music." and Captain Jim in "Little Mary Sunshine."

Billingsley is employed by Wendy's International but says his first love is theatre. He is single and lives in Detroit.

MASTER VILLAIN in the drama is Henry Roat, played by Vestus J. Spindler III of Northville.

Spindler earned his bachelor's degree in theater at Michigan State University and his master's degree at Eastern Michigan University. He has been an actor, director and designer in nearly 50 different productions in a span of 18 years.

While there have been many highlights in his stage experience, Spindler says that working with Sir Lawrence Olivier in several scenes in the film, "The Betsy," is tops so far. Among his favorite acting roles are Billy in "Carousel," Don Quixote in "Man of LaMancha" and Henry Roat.

Chairman of the Northville Arts Commission, Spindler and his wife, Georganne, have a son, Nicholas, 4.

DAVID IDE returns to the PTG stage in the mature role of Sam Hendrix; the heroine's husband. Ide has been an active member of the guild for three years and has worked in almost every aspect of theater from set construction and lighting to crew and directing. He was Schroeder in "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown." He danced, sang and acted in the Plymouth Community Arts Council's production, "Shenanigans."

A member of the guild's board of directors for three years, Ide has designed many of the posters and program covers. He received the drama key for his work in theater at Plymouth Salem High School and was president of the International Thespian Society.

Ide also works as a model. He is single and lives in Canton.

TONI SECUNDA, 13, as Gloria, is making her first appearance with the PTG. She has played in many school and church productions. While her hobbies include making rugs and acting, she hopes to become a full time actress.

Toni lives in Plymouth.

Janen Lisa Booth is directing her first PTG drama. She began her career on the stage when she was 11. She has worked professionally as a model, done some television commercials and appeared in many shows.

Most of her work has been associated with Dearborn theater groups. She has acted in and directed "The Sound of Music," "Cabaret," "George M," "Godspell" and many others.

Jan and her husband Tom Booth have a 2-year-old son Justin and live in Canton Township.

PATRICIA TROTH is assistant director and stage manager of "Wait until Dark." She has been an active member of the Plymouth Theatre Guild for six years and serves on its board as corresponding secretary.

Her previous credits as stage manager and assistant director include "Love Rides the Rails," "Play it Again, Sam" and "Under the Yum-Yum Tree." Also no stranger on stage, her most recent performance was as Nancy Lee Faulkner in "The Night of January 16th" for the PTG last season.

As producer, Clemie Cyburt is familiar to Plymouth and Canton audiences. The Canton Township resident has been involved in the guild for 14 years and is a lifetime member. She is on the board of directors and has served as president and vice president.

Her most recent credits include directing "Night of January 16th" and "Pale Pink Dragon," and acting in the Schoolcraft College production of "Agatha Christie Made Me Do It."

Group rates are available for the show. Persons wishing more ticket information can call Karen Groves, 420-2161, or Irene Troth, 453-4755.

Persons attending the opening weekend performances are encouraged to wear Halloween costumes — if they wish. The guild will present a prize each evening and only those in costume are eligible to win.

Janen Booth of Canton is directing the mystery thriller.

Fife and Drum Corps wins national acclaim

Members of the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps and their families wound up a successful season with a Sunday brunch at the Mayflower Hotel. The young fifers and drummers were the guests of the Lorenz family, owners of the Mayflower.

Jerry Brown, president of the board of directors, told the corps that it had done a fanastic job this year. Each member received a plaque inscribed with his or her name and the corps insignia.

The corps is made up of about 40 young musicians ranging in age from 12 to 18. They come from Canton, Plymouth, Northville and Livonia. Their director is Leonard Goren.

The corps took first place in almost every performance or parade where awards were given. The only reason they didn't bring home more awards was their limited budget. Because of finances, the corps is limited to one big tour each year.

THE CORPS has attained national recognition with its fine musicianship and natty uniforms which are authentic replicas of George Washington's Guard uniforms.

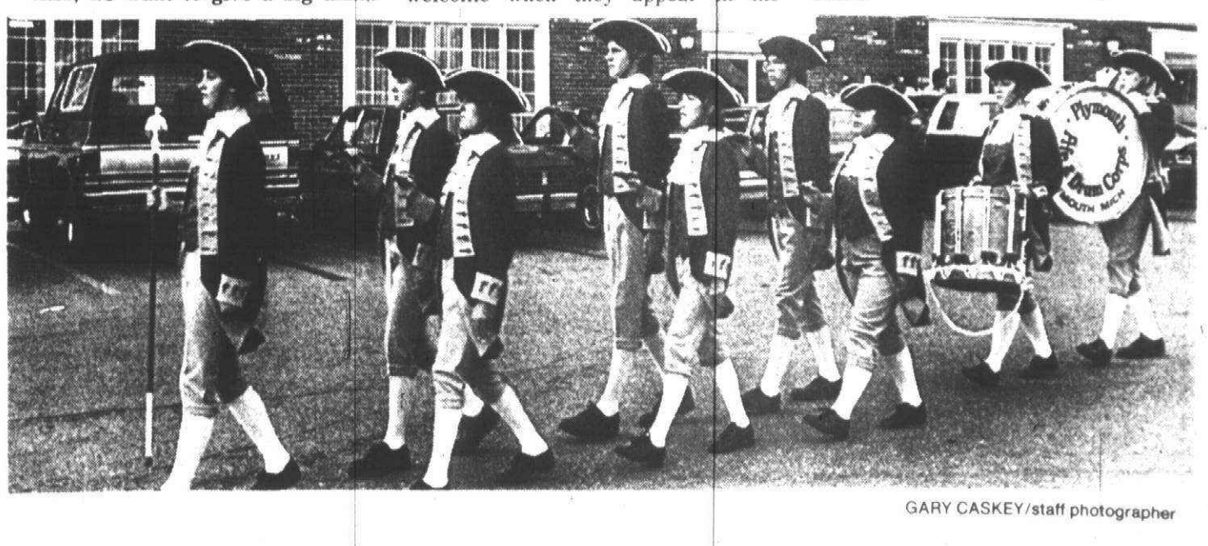

Many invitations have to be turned down because they can't afford the trip. Among those that could not be accepted and were refused with deepest regrets were the Fourth of July parade in Washington, D.C. and the Yorktown Bicentennial celebration earlier this month.

The group marched in various parades throughout the state of Michigan. It performed in the Music Muster at Greenfield Village.

On their one tour of the season, corps members went to New Jersey for the Ancient Fife and Drum Muster. While on tour, they revisited Old Fort Henry at Kingston, Ontario. The corps' reception at Fort Henry is always enthusiastic. Fort officials declare the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps's visit is one of the highlights of their year.

Corps members are especially appreciative of the hometown organizations and individuals who supported the group with donations.

"Also, we want to give a big thank you to the people of Canton and Plymouth who give the corps such a warm welcome when they appear in the Plymouth and Canton parades," said Brenda Norman, a member of the board.

Jokers have a wild time changing 'house rules'

Canton Chatter

By KATHY FREECE 981-2027

Revenge is sweet!

Several months ago a few of our local residents booby trapped a home of a vacationing friend.

Kathy and Tom Buchhop along with their three children trotted off to a dude ranch for a week of frolic. They returned home last Sunday to a barrel of laughs, but the joke was on them. Their kitchen table was in the family room, the family room furniture was in the bedroom, the bedroom furniture was in the living room, and the patio set complete with umbrella was in the kitchen. The umbrella was raised, and the table was set with knives, forks and spoons, all ready for an indoor picnic.

Every shoe has a mate, except in the Buchhop household these days. All of the light bulbs either were taken completely out or unscrewed just a little too far. As for the ceiling lights, the switches still worked but there were no electrical connections behind them. When Tom was in the process of replacing a few wires he probed the screwdriver once too often and blew a transformer in the basement.

There are tidy cabinets, and there are messy cabinets. Kathy prided herself on the neatest cupboards in Canton until she found most of her dishes turned upside down, and those not disturbed completely full of water.

While unloading some unused supplies from the trip she dumped the leftover sugar back into the canister without looking first. The sugar bin was full of flour, and the flour bin was full of sugar. Can you imagine how difficult it is to separate flour and sugar? The madness doesn't stop here but I really don't want to bore you any longer.

WHO ARE THE fanatical phantoms who celebrated devil's night two weeks early? Why of course — Tami and Gary Kistemaker, accompanied by Nancy and Dave Luik. Nice job, guys and gals. Be on your toes Cantonites, until the Addison Avenue Irregulars Strike Again!

IF ANYONE was caught speechless, I never thought it would happen to me.

While having an elegant, quiet Saturday evening dinner with Carol and Mike Dugan the doorbell rang. You probably would have said what I did, "Who could that be at this hour?" As I pulled the door open I stood staring at many of my friends and neighbors singing "Happy Birthday" to me, two weeks late.

Betty and Joe Hellmers, Tom and Carol Luelleman, along with Carol and Mike thought that my block was in need of another party and they were looking for a reason. I was it. My coat was pulled from the closet, and we all proceeded to Betty and Joe's house.

I was in the state of shock for a good 30 minutes. In most instances, my neighbors are a pretty chatty bunch, and there is always lots of communication between all of us, except in this case.

A keg of beer sat in the middle of the kitchen floor. The table was full of a tempting assortment of hors d'oeuvres, plenty of punch and a beautiful cake.

Bonnie and Mas Miyazaki, Sue and Jim Smith, Merrill and Nancy Neal, Judy and Dominic Cirino, Mary Ellen and Bud Magaldi, Marty and Pat Meininger, Larry Masteller, Sue O'Donnell, Cheryl and Mike Deitel came to enjoy this special evening with me.

Jan and Bob Knecht, Dave and Nancy Luik, Sue and Jim Crosby, Karen and Tom Braun, Tami and Gary Kistemaker, Helen and Mike Wesner, Bill and Judy Justice are my sneaky friends who made the party an evening to remember.

LYNN AND TED Porter are like so many couples in Canton, relocating from another state they have no family within hundreds of miles. Brandon Kyle Porter was born three weeks ago, on their anniversary, at St. Mary Hospital. Brian, 2½, was anxiously awaiting the new addition to the family to help fill the house with additional noise. Lynn's mother, Emgard Groenke, arrived none to soon for that needed extra pair of hands. Teri Kressaty, Lynn's neighbor, wanted to make her feel welcome in the area. To Lynn's delight, Teri planned the shower in her honor, Oct. 11. Everyone knows how much we need friends around to share the special things our new baby is doing.

Connie Tiano, Dawn Rienma, Sandy Carter, Kris Shull, Genene Moss, Kathy Darling, Kathy Cordon, Sharon Siddall and Cindy Doyle all had a wonderful afternoon sharing in Lynn's new joy.

Airman James Merriman and wife, Kathy, who live at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Bernadette Marie, Oct. 24.

Grandparents are Paul and Eleanor Carrier of Redford Township and Earl and Lois Merriman of Plymouth.

Runner-up

Karen Koster, a sophomore at Northern Michigan University, was third runner-up for the title of Homecoming Queen. The 1979 graduate of Plymouth Canton High School was one of 10 finalists. She was a member of the queen's court in homecoming festivities at the school in Marquette. An accounting major with a minor in pre-law, Miss Koster is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Koster of Five Mile Road, Plymouth.

Artwork originals on display

A collection of imported artworks and original interpretations by Plymouth artist Jessie Hudson will be shown from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The Travel Center on Wing Street and Jessie Hudson are arranging the exhibit in the ground-floor facility of the Mayflower Meeting House, 459 S. Main Street, Plymouth.

Trinity has 30 years in Redford

An act of faith that began a Redford church in 1951 will be celebrated Nov. 7 and 8 by members of Trinity Church of the Brethren in an anniversary program titled "Trinity — a Journey in Faith."

The congregation of about 150 is inviting six former pastors back to share in a 6:15 p.m. Saturday banquet at St. Matthew United Methodist Church, 30900 Six Mile, Livonia, and Sunday morning worship in Trinity Church, 27350 W. Chicago at Inkster.

The banquet, said member of the 30th anniversary committee, will be a time of memories for the small congregation, and the worship service a time of looking toward the future.

Dr. Paul W. Hoffman, pastor of Trinity from 1957 to 1962 and recently elected to the highest office in the Church of the Brethren denomination, will preach the sermon Sunday. His topic will be "The Brethren — Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

DR. HOFFMAN is president of McPherson College, a Church of the Brethren school at McPherson, Kan., and is moderator-elect of the denomination's annual conference.

Participating with him in the anniversary worship will be two predecessors, the Rev. David Schechter and the Rev. Fred Hollingshead, and three who followed him, the Rev. Harold Garner, the Rev. William Copenhaver and the Rev. Glen Taylor.

Schechter, who served from 1951 to 1955, is a retired South Redford school administrator and Hollingshead (1955-56) recently retired from active ministry after serving several Florida congregations. Garner (1962-67) is past presidentof a small community college in Illinois, Copenhaver (1967-77) is pastor of a Church of the Brethren in Virginia.

Taylor, who left Trinity in August after a four-year pastorate, is now an associate pastor for an Illinois church while his wife Mary attends seminary.

Also sharing in the service will be the Rev. Fred Taylor, currently serving as interim pastor. A resident of Plymouth, he has been trained in the Presbyterian denomination.

BEGINNINGS of the local congregation will be traced in the program that follows the Saturday banquet.

The first Detroit-area congregation of the Church of the Brethren, founded by Alexander Mack in Schwartzendau, Germany, early in the 18th century, was established in a store front in 1915.

As the fellowship grew, First Church of the Brethren was built at Lafayette and Seyburn in Detroit. In 1951 this building was sold and proceeds used to build a new church home in Harper Woods.

However, some members living on the west side of the metropolitan area pushed for establishing a Brethren church there. With the aid of realtor Theo Hoover, a member of the fellowship, the property at W. Chicago and Inkster was secured and the Trinity congregation established.

The congregation here, now number about 150, follows in the tradition of the early movement that came after the Reformation.

anniversary speaker

Because of their beliefs regarding separation of church and state, the Brethren migrated to eastern Pennsylvania. The Brethren are a peace-oriented denomination like the Quakers and Mennonites.

Memorial service planned

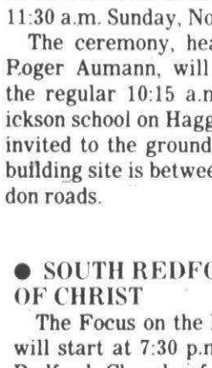

Far Eastern Gospel Crusade will sponsor a memorial service at 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 31 for five missionaries presumably killed last month in an airplane crash in Alaska.

The service will be at Calvary Baptist Church, 43065 Joy, Canton. Dr. Paul Rees, minister-at-large for World Vision, will give the memorial message.

Two Farmington Hills residents, Philip Armstrong and Paul Mortenson, were aboard the airplane which was lost in the Gulf of Alaska on Sept 13. Also aboard were Bill Ballou, treasurer, Central Alaskan Missions; Wanda Ediger, secretary, radio station KCAN and the pilot, Paul Backlund.

Before crashing, Backlund said via radio that the plane was running out of gas. No wreckage has yet been found.

The memorial service is open to the public.

moral perspectives

Rev. Charles Erickson

Local boundaries shouldn't limit ideas

Events in another community frequently spark more than casual interest. We are involved, but it is not considered polite for an outsider to meddle. Today this etiquette is under suspicion and probably wrong.

Suburbanites read metropolitan daily papers and watch TV focusing attention on the central city. A dramatic event in one suburb suddenly becomes important in a suburb on the far side of the metro area. We live with a curious mixture of feeling included and excluded at different times.

We need a new etiquette which is so serious that it is a new ethic. We all have friends and relatives who vote on issues which make a difference to us as well as to them. Interests are intertwined and we do influence decisions far from home.

The ethical demand is to think highly enough of ourselves to believe that what we think should be heard by our scattered loved ones. If they care about us, they care about our convictions. We should discuss issues with them.

EXAMPLE are plentiful. The Detroit Zoo is located in a suburb and there are serious questions about who should be paying bills and making policy. One zoo serves all of us and even people 60 or 80 miles away.

The same can be said about the Detroit Art Institute, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and numberless cultural and educational institutions. Sports events and business transactions have little to do with municipal boundaries. The whole network of transportation, including repair and patrol of roadways, exists for people who do not pay taxes in the place they happen to be in need.

Political issues sharpen the point. Michigan has voted that we want ERA. We have friends in states where ratification hangs in the balance. We not only have a right, but a duty to ask distant friends to exert influence where they live.

I HAVE a personal interest in the race for president of the Detroit City Council. Nick Hood and I have been friends for more than 20 years and I am quite outspoken in asking Detroit friends to vote for him.

As we discuss issues, I am always pleasantly surprised that he brings the conversation back to people. Abstract theories, slogans and political viewpoints are quite secondary to his concern for human values. He is the kind of politician I admire, so I tell friends how I think they should vote.

WHEN INVESTIGATING a major crime or when mother nature misbehaves, we are bound together seeking solutions. We need to be just as inter-meshed when we deal with policies to face problems which are not yet dramatic.

Preventive medicine doesn't get headlines, but it is more important for more of us than curing a disease which is already established. Policies which make an area a good place to live are voted in rather restricted geographical units. Voters need opinion and perspective from a wider area.

The essence of politics in America is the personal dimension. Leaders respond to voter sentiment. It is our civic duty to share our opinions with people who are in the place to vote on issues which shape life for all of us. Ethics for modern urban living urges us to meddle.

Halloween brings activities for all ages

The Lordz performs

Heavy-metal rock group The Lordz will entertain in a benefit concert at 2 p.m. on Halloween at the Sears wall by the fountain in the center of Livonia Mall. Donations will be accepted, with proceeds going to the Burned Children organization. Band members are Louis B. Wysocki Jr., bass guitar, of Detroit (left); Kevin (Fuzzy) Kuhlman, rhythm guitar, of Livonia (who works at Livonia Mall); Graham Strachan, lead vocals, of Livonia, originally from Scotland; Vic C. Spicer, drums, of Detroit; and Michael T. Martin, lead guitar, of Detroit. The group's debut single from its first album "The Lordz," was released late last summer. The song "So We Jam" from the single has been featured on "American Bandstand." Another single by the band will be released shortly. It's "Maggie T.," a revolution song about the street scene in England. The band records for World Sound Recording of Livonia, which has released its album in Detroit, New York and California. The Lordz records are available in the Detroit area at RPM Records (Livonia Mall), Harmony House, also at 7-11 and other party stores.

'Casper, Jasper' appearing

Celebrating Halloween during daylight for Detroit Youtheatre's Wiggle Club members, "Casper and Jasper, the Friendly Jugglers" will start off the Wiggle Club season at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday at the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium.

In their nonstop Halloween special, Casper and Jasper will display their virtuoso talents in black light juggling, mime, music, magic and unicycling. Audience members are being invited to wear Halloween costumes for the midday celebration.

Included in the Wiggle Club series will be:

Dec. 12. "Christmas All Over the Place" performed by New York's famed Paper Bag Players, with bags, cartons and boxes, in a musical look at winter holidays around the world.

Jan. 23. "Tom Glazer — Live!" the famous "On Top of Spaghetti" man and his faithful guitar Irving brings children's songs to young folk.

April 10. "Bunny Business" performed by Washington, D.C.'s Bob Brown Puppet Productions in a special salute to spring — with an annual visit from the Easter Bunny's mother.

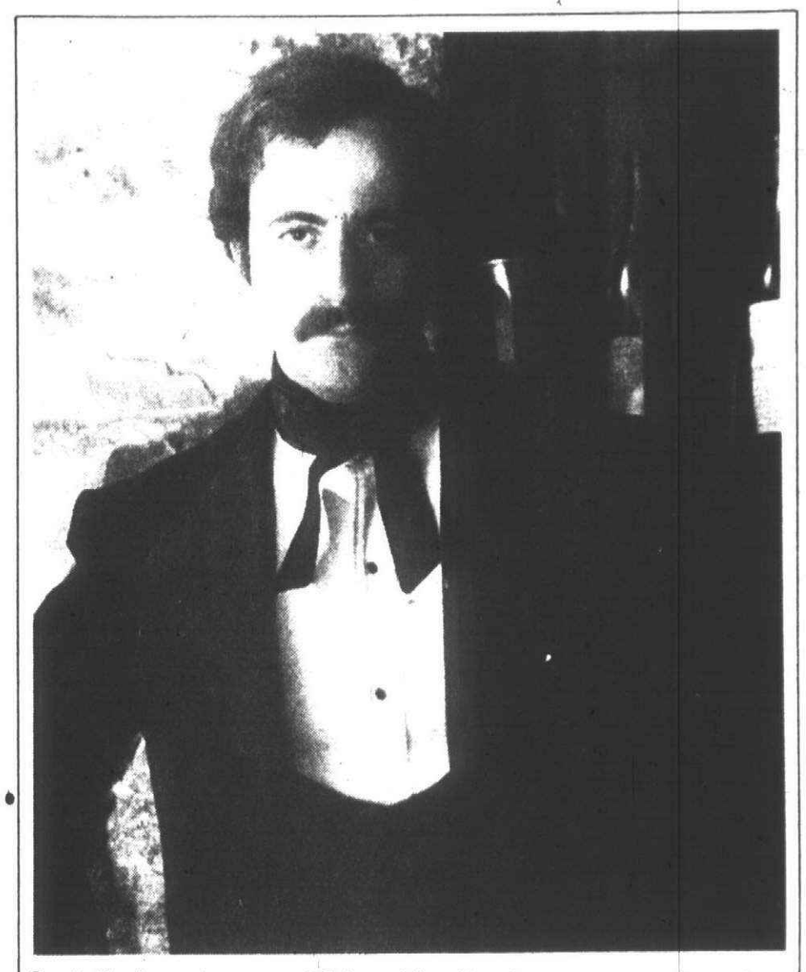

May 8. "Bo-Dino," the "Dean of Clowns," in a guided tour of Sawdust Land and Clown Alley.

YOUTHEATRE'S Wiggle Club provides an introduction to live theatergoing for young children, ages 3-8 years. Five presentations have been designated Wiggle Club shows throughout Youtheatre's 34-week, October-May season.

Especially designed to hold the younger child's attention, Wiggle Club presentations offer several short segments in the partially lighted theater.

Adult guests of Wiggle Club members are $10 for the five show series.

For Wiggle Club information and a free, detailed Detroit Youtheatre "Something Every Saturday" brochure, call the Detroit Institute of Arts ticket office at 832-2730.

Scott Keely portrays poet Edgar Allen Poe in a one-man show about the author's works and his mysterious death.

'Goodnight Mr. Poe' dramatizes macabre

Tales of the macabre by the poet Edgar Allen Poe will come to life Halloween weekend in a one-man show at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Student Activities Center at Madonna College in Livonia.

The college will present "Goodnight Mr. Poe" written by and starring Scott Keely. The show dramatizes the poet's mysterious death in 1849 and highlights excerpts from his many works.

Author of "The Raven," "Annabel Lee" and "The Conqueror Worm," Poe vanished aboard a steamer bound for New York on a misty September morning. Weeks later, the writer was recognized in a Baltimore tavern. He died, delirious and raving, in a nearby hospital.

According to Keely, Poe may have become an unwitting participant in a "cooping." The term refers to the practice by unscrupulous politicians who often used transients and alcoholics as voters in elections still conducted by a show of hands. The places where these unfortunates were kept, often sedated with drugs and against their will, were known as "coops."

Tickets for "Goodnight Mr. Poe" are $3.50 for adults and $2 for students and senior citizens. Tickets may be purchaed at the Madonna College Switchboard in the Administration Building or before the performance at the door. Madonna is off the I-96 expressway at Levan. For more information call Cultural Affairs at 591-5175.

Mystery-thriller

Reuben Lavender and Emily Schreiber appear in a scene from the classic 1922 mystery-thriller "The Cat and the Canary," playing at 8:30 p.m. Fridays-Saturdays through Nov. 14 at Henry Ford Museum Theater at Greenfield Village in Dearborn. For more information, including an optional dinner theater package, call 271-1976.

Terence Kilburn directs comedy 'On Golden Pond'

Terence Kiburn, artistic director of Meadow Brook Theatre, will stage Ernest Thompson's family comedy "On Golden Pond," opening a four-week run at 8:30 p.m. Nov. 5 on the Oakland University campus near Rochester.

The plays tells of Ethel and Norman Thayer, an older couple who have returned for the 48th consecutive year to their summer cottage on Golden Pond, somewhere in Maine. During the course of the play, their daughter, Chelsea, arrives for her father's 80th birthday celebration.

With her are her fiance and his 13-year-old son by a previous marriage. Chelsea asks her parents to keep her fiance's son for a few weeks while she and her fiance tour Europe. The Thayers agree, and the summer begins for all of them.

When it opened in Manhattan some of the critics wrote: " 'On Golden Pond' is a work of rare simplicity and beauty . . ." (Douglas Watt, New York Daily News); "Written with a certain sassy wit . . . it deserves to be a Broadway hit." (Clive Barnes, New York Post); "A funny, wonderful play!" (Glenne Currie, UPI).

Tickets for "On Golden Pond" may be reserved at the box office by calling 377-3300. The play will run from Nov. 5-29.

wine

Richard Watson

Crystals, sediment may not be 'flaws'

Two attributes of quality often bug the consumer. He sees them as flaws in the wine when, indeed, they are not. Actually, they are artifacts of the vinification process and reflect an attempt by the winemaker to make highly flavorful wines.

The first of these is the crystals that sometimes occur in white wines, collecting loosely at the base of the bottle or else affixing themselves to the cork. They are as harmless and innocent as they are clear and tasteless, potassium acid tartaric.

This normal constituent of grape juice is usually eliminated during the course of winemaking because Americans tend to prefer their whites crystal clear. Tartartes can be wholly eliminated through cold stabilization, a process that unfortunately reduces flavor somewhat.

Their presence, then, is often an attempt by the winemaker to maximize the flavor in the bottle, paying the price of leaving some crystals in and causing concern in the overly cautious customer.

THE SECOND "flaw" occurs in red wines. That is sediment, or small vegetative particles, that may collect at the base of a bottle. Oversimplifying a bit, there are essentially two causes of this.

The first has to do with the filtering and/or fining process through which all wines go. In the course of crushing grapes, pulp, skins, seeds and stems are all involved. Some of their elements break down into extremely fine particles, so fine that they escape some clarifying processes.

These particles are the source of tannins, acids and flavors. Their presence in a well-made wine often contributes to long life and large flavors. Most reds are clarified quite thoroughly, again in response to our demand for bright and clear wine.

The other occasion on which one finds sediment at the base of a bottle occurs when wines have attained great age. In time, all quality wines, those of Bordeaux and Burgundy especially, tend to "throw sediment," filling perhaps as much as an eighth of an inch in the base of the bottle.

As wine is poured, this gets into the glass as the bottle is used and produces a cloudy and somewhat unattractive effect. The only solution to this is to decant the wine into another bottle or container up to the point where the wine becomes cloudy. As much as two or three ounces can be sacrificed thus, sometimes more with special veterans.

THE WINE decanting can be closely monitored by pasing it in front of a strong light, or — if one is deep in one's musty cellar — a candle, more romantic but generally less effective.

Both circumstances, then, are not flaws but artifacts of the wine-making process. Wine is a living thing as it rests in the bottle, changing and evolving and aging even as you and I.

The better it has been bred, and as it matures, the greater respect should be shown it — again, hopefully, even as you and I.

Mickey Mouse escorts Minnie to a romantic Sweethearts' Ball in "Disney's World on Ice."

Disney characters skate in ice show

The world premiere edition of Disney's World on Ice will be presented in 11 performances, Nov. 17-22, at the Joe Louis Arena in Detroit.

Five decades of Disney fables are brought to life through world-class figure skating in World on Ice. Mickey Mouse, chosen from a host of Disney greats, stars along with Donald Duck, Goofy, Pinocchio and many more.

A myriad of fantasylands are accentuated by special effects, lighting, colorful props and lavish costumes. World on Ice relives a fairy tale when Pinocchio wanders through various adventures, each a recreation of a Disney tale.

FROM "THE Jungle Book," Baloo ice skates with Mowgli, the Jungle Boy, portrayed by Canadian skating ace Vern Taylor. Linda Fratianne displays her skating talents as the Indian Princess.

Mickey Mouse steps into the Center Ring to preside as ringmaster of Dumbo's Flying Circus. Featured Big Top stars include jazz skater Bruno Jerry as a fearless lion trainer; U.S. Olympic pair-skating duo Michael Botticelli and Sheryl Franks as skating trapeze artists; and the Canetrelli Family, performing death-defying feats on the trampoline over ice.

Tickets for World on Ice, produced by Irvin Feld and Kenneth Feld, are on sale at the Joe Louis Arena box office, Hudson's and all CTC outlets. Tickets are priced at $8.50, $7.50, $6.50 and $5.50.

ENERGY. We can't afford to waste it.

Dear John & Marsha,
I know, I know it's our third weekend in a row vacationing at the Michigan Inn! But like Harry keeps saying, "How can you pass up a deal like this?" Only $39 a night any Thursday through Sunday for our room and just $15 a night for the kid's room. What's extra nice is that Harry and I have so much time to ourselves (last night we danced up a storm in Dewey's!) because there's so much for the kids to do on their own (like swimming, playing tennis and challenging all of their favorite pinball machines). And it's a pleasure not having to worry about traffic or high gas prices for a change!
Having a marvelous time

"Beyond the Door" and "The Creeping Flesh" (1973), 8 p.m. Friday at the Liberal Afts Theater, Schoolcraft College, phone 591-6400, ext. 380, $1.50. Running times: 100 and 94 minutes.

Halloween weekend opens with a shriek with two imports from the Isles. Juliet Mills and Richard Johnson star in "Door," another of those tales of demoniac possession. Veteran bogeymen Christorpher Lee and Peter Cushing materialize in "Flesh," a sort of regurgitated "Night of the Living Dead." The Brits have been eating up horror films, so to speak, for decades. The British Hammer Studios is to gore what Walt Disney is to mirth. Lee and Cushing have been teeming with terror for 25 years. Hemo-goblins will want to not that British frights of fancy are rarely as realistically blood-curdling as their American counterparts, which isn't all bad. Rating: $2.50.

"Halloween" (1978), 9 p.m. Friday on Ch. 4. Originally 105 minutes.

Here's the three-year-old granddaddy of such schlock screen screamers as "He Knows You're Alone On Friday the 13th" and "It's Friday the 13th II, Don't Answer the Phone." John Carpenter's "Halloween" deserves slightly better than to be grouped with its host of imitators. It's not Jamie Lee Curtis' fault that she, or look-alikes, have been maniacally pursued by Soledad dropouts ever since. "Halloween" rightfully fits the category of good, pulp filmmaking. Too bad Carpenter's been in a "Fog" of late. "Halloween" remains his first and last goodie. Since it's sure to be mangled for TV . . . Rating: $2.50.

"Halloween with the Addams Family" (1977), 1:30 Friday night on Ch. 7. Originally 90 minutes.

Ah, who'll ever forget Morticia and Gomez, little Pugsley and adorable Wednesday, Uncle Fenster and grandmama, Lurch, cousin It, Thing, "Tich, that's French." and "You rang?"? Back again by popular demand, and just in time for the Halloween days. Unrated.

"Frankenstein — The True Story" (1973), 12:30 Saturday night on Ch. 4. Originally 200 minutes.

More like "Frankenstein — The Dull Story." Michael Sarrazin can't pump any life into this Frankenstein's monster. It's a sluggish, uninspired, overly long film. Quite a cast — James Mason, David McCallum and Agnes Moorehead among them — can't put a spark into this made-for-TV creation. Rating: $1.98.

"Bells of St. Mary's" (1945), 11:45 p.m. Thursday on Ch. 9. Originally 126 minutes.

Imagine Bing Crosby as a priest (that's not hard) and Ingrid Bergman as a nun (that's hard) almost falling in love. No, this isn't a film about monastic infidelity, but pit the charismatic Bing and Ingrid, even in clerical garb, and sacraments corrode before your eyes. Leo McCarey's deft directorial touch keeps this a lighthearted story. Rating: $3.10.

backgammon

Michael Kloian

● BACK GAME STRATEGY

White, on roll, has double ones to play.

Understanding the strategy to the back game is essential before acknowledging the proper move in this situation.

Most players would probably hit black on the 5 point with two 6 point checkers and possibly move both checkers to the 7 point from the 8 (thus creating a prime) or move to the black 3 point from the 2.

Hitting black and capturing the 5 point is incorrect only because part of the back game strategy is not to slow down your opponent, but to slow yourself.

Judging by black's overall position and timing (timing is the advancement of your checkers versus that of your opponent) in this example, white could succeed with his back game only by slowing himself down. This is done by leaving open blots spread out in such a fashion that your opponent can't help but hit one or two.

The purpose of being deliberately hit is to give you a chance to hold whatever points you may be holding in your opponent's home board and in your own home board without fear or worry that your position will crumble before that of your opponent while you are recirculating the hit checker(s). I'm sure this advise seems bizarre to the average player, but you must realize it is sound back game theory.

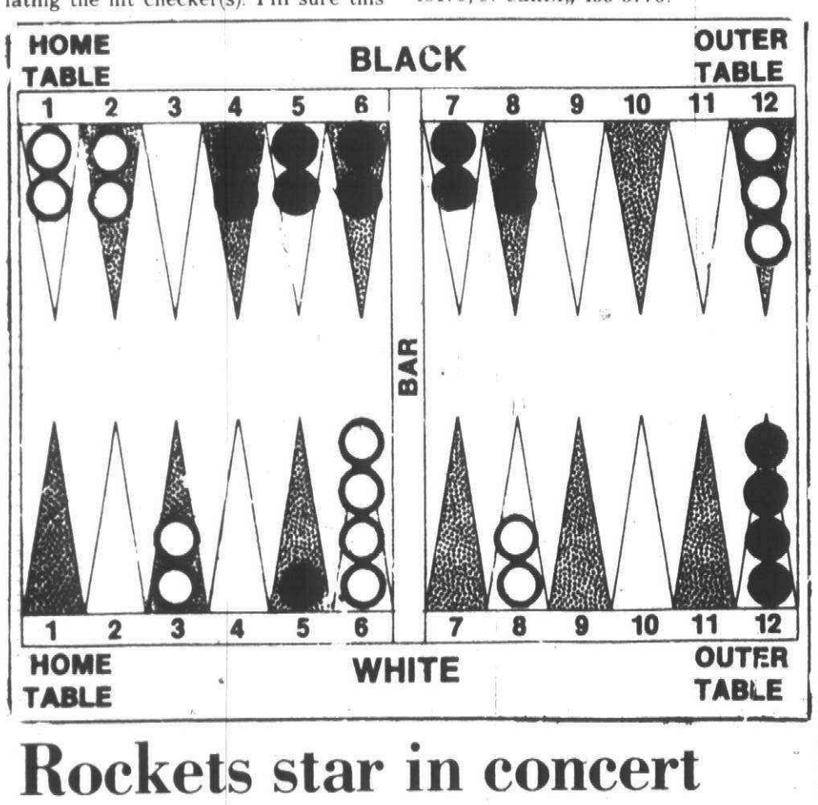

In other words, in the example, if white were to slot-hit black on the 5 point with one checker from the 6 and split to the 7 point from the 8 and move both checkers from the black 2 to the 3 point, he has excellent back game potential.

Black now has 22 ways to hit white. And if white is hit, he now owns the 1-3 points in black's home board so white may escape from the 3 point and recirculate the hit checkers. The 1-3 back game position is very strong and comes second only to the 2-3 holding position.

Of course, if black were to coincidentally stay on the bar, white's timing would be further jeopardized, so white would be advised to leave more blots open by slotting the 2 and 4 point in white's home board.

The important thing to learn when playing a back game is timing. If after waiting patiently for a shot and you hit your opponent and in the interim you were forced to move all your checkers to your 1, 2 or 3 point, what good was it?

Questions or comments concerning backgammon can be directed to the American Backgammon Club by writing Box 599, Plymouth, MI 48170, or calling 459-5776.

Kronk amateurs on Center Stage

Boxing will return 8 p.m. Monday to the Center Stage in Canton Township after a two-year absence.

A stable of Detroit Kronk Center's top amateurs will be featured on the eight-bout card.

The top attraction will pit Kronk boxer Frank Tate, a 147-pounder and ranked No. 4 in the United States, against Ohio's Tony Biseno.

Also featured on the card is Jamie Ramos of Toledo, national Golden Gloves champ at 132 pounds. He will meet Detroit's Richard Bibbs.

Six other bouts will top off the card.

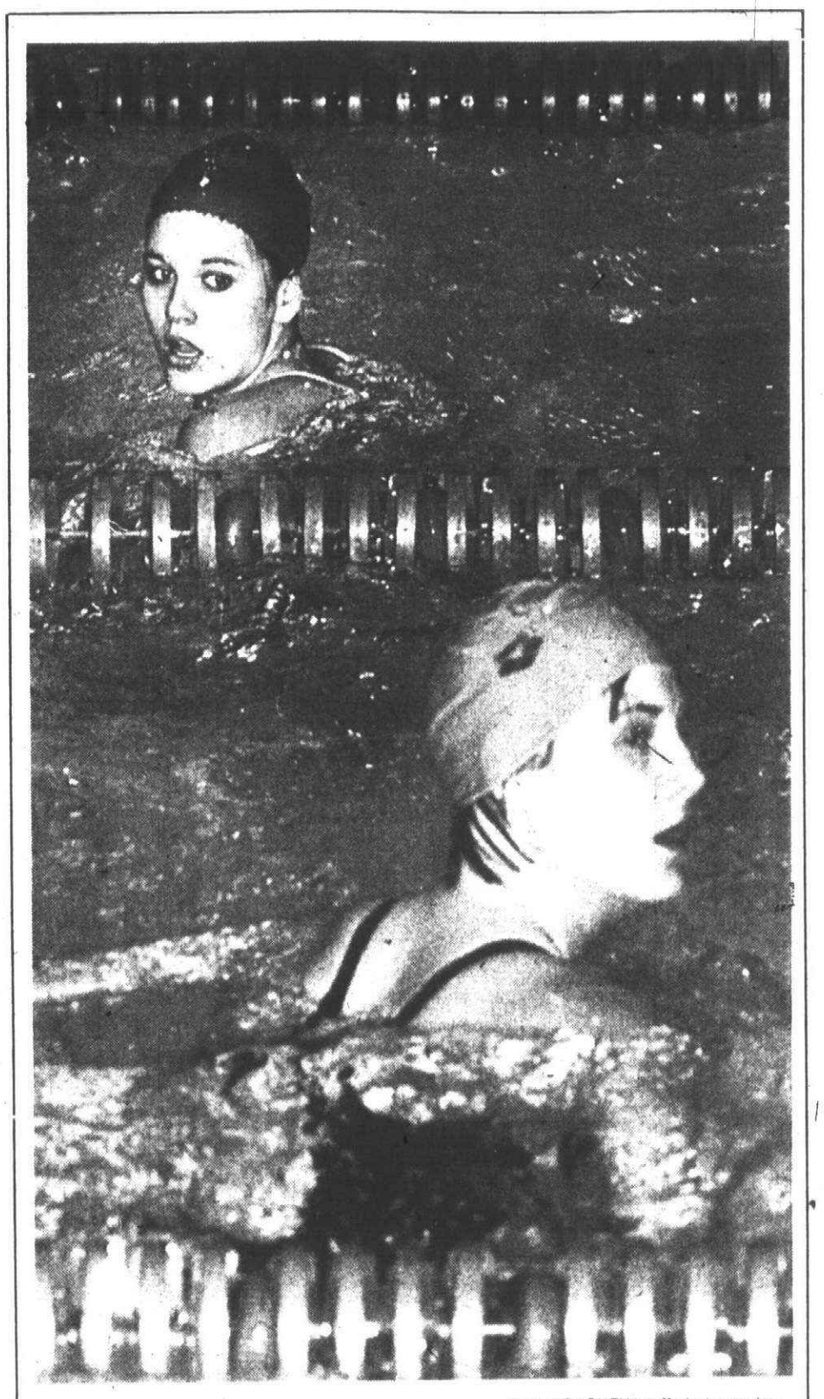

"We're bringing boxing back to the suburbs," said Kronk promoter Frank Allen. "These are Kronk's best amateurs.

"We're expecting close to a sellout. And if it's successful, we hope to put on these bouts every month."

TICKETS are $8.50 at ringside and $5.50 for general admission. Advance tickets are on sale at Center Stage, located on Ford Road just east of I-275. Other ticket locations include Record Plus (Seven Mile and Farmington roads), RPM Records (Livonia Mall) and Recordland (Westland Mall).

Allen said some of Kronk's top celebrities also will be on hand for the bout.

"Mickey Goodwin will appear, and we're almost certain Thomas Hearns will be there," Allen said. "Whenever Kronk has a card, Thomas usually shows up."

Anxious moment

Canton swimmer Missy McMurray (top) glances sharply at her competitor Kim Bainbridge of Northville after touching the wall in a close 50-yard freestyle race. McMurray was victorious along with her Chief teammates Tuesday night. For the story, turn to page 3C.

RU harriers rule Class A regional at Cass Benton

Redford Union girls' cross country coach Jim Gibbons expected to do well at last Saturday's state regional competition, but even he was surprised by the turn of events.

The RU girls' performance was "beyond what we had hoped for," Gibbons said. His team snared five of the top six spots to dominate completely the Section II girls' Cass Benton regional.

But there was more good news for RU cross country fans, as the boys' team also qualified for the state meet by placing second in its competition Saturday at Cass Benton. Livonia Churchill's girls' team placed third and also will travel to Oxford for the state finals Saturday.

Brighton (80 points), RU (96) and Howell (135) will advance to the boys' state meet, and RU (16), Brighton (70) and Churchill (88) will advance to the girls' meet Saturday.

Overall meet winner for the girls was RU's Angie Mogielski, 19 minutes, 58 seconds. She was followed by three other Panthers: Cathy Koski (20:15), Kami Laird (20:28) and Nancy Adams (20:30).

CHURCHILL'S JULIE Recla prevented a clean sweep by RU runners by placing fifth (20:41), ahead of the Panther's final qualifier, Leanne McCarthy (20:54).

"That's unbelievable for Class A," Gibbons said of his team's accomplishment. But the RU mentor did not get carried away by his team's success, calling them "underdogs, rated fourth or fifth" in the state.

Still, some of RU's toughest competition will be eliminated in a regional that included Clio, Davison, Flushing, Flint Northern and Flint Kearsley. Those five, all legitimate state contenders, competed in the same regional and only two teams advance to the state meet.

Gibbons refused to underestimate his girls' chances.

"They're tough kids," he said. "I wouldn't put anything past them. They've been goal-orientated all year.

"We'll run our best race at the state meet and hope it's good enough to win."

Mike White of Livonia Franklin was the surprise individual winner in the boys' meet, beating out favorite Clark Couyoumjian of Northville, who placed second, and Ken Dubios of Livonia Stevenson, who was a disappointing 14th.

WHITE WAS clocked at 16:39 with Couyoumjian finishing in 16:53. Dubois, Stevenson coach Paul Holmberg said, was ill and had to struggle to qualify individually for the state meet.

Redford Union's John Thrash placed third (17:02), Ken Showich of Redford Thurston finished sixth (17:10), Paul Buchanan of Detroit Catholic Central was seventh (17:13), and Chris Zimmer of Franklin grabbed eighth (17:14).

Neither Plymouth Salem or Plymouth Canton fared well in the regional. Salem's top boy finisher was Frank Brosnan in 33rd position (18:04), while the top Canton boy was Dan Henry, who placed 59th (18:30).

Salem's Ruth Sample was 31st in the girls' competition (22:27) and Maureen Brophy placed 42nd for Canton (22:52).

All runners from the top three teams qualify for state. The top 10 runners not competing for one of the qualifying teams also qualify for state.

In the Section I regional Saturday at Cass Benton, Westland John Glenn's boys narrowly missed qualifying for state, finishing fourth (111 points) behind Dearborn Edsel Ford (55), Wayne Memorial (66) and Temperance Bedford (100).

Several Rocket runners did qualify for state on an individual basis. Tom Gibson was ninth overall (16:47), Randy Frank captured 17th (17:16), and Paul Davis finished 22nd (17:23), taking the 10th and final individual qualifying position.

LINDEN REGIONAL

Livonia Ladywood captured a spot in the Class B girls' cross country regional by finishing third as a team at Saturday's Linden regional.

Jennifer Rioux paced the Blazers over the five-kilometer course with a first-place individual finish (19:08). Kelly Champagne took fifth (19:59), Colleen Lee 14th (20:33), Jenny Duckworth 26th (21:42) and Marlana Nagy 51st (23:22) to round out Ladywood's scoring.

Rioux, Champagne and Lee each were named to the All-Regional team.

The Class B state meet will start at 1:30 p.m. at Oxford Saturday.

Salem sophomore earns spot in final 8

Chris Gilles reaches quarters

Chris Gilles, Plymouth Salem's No. 1 singles player, gained the quarterfinals in the state Class A tennis championships last weekend at Holland before being ousted by Erin Ashare of Bloomfield Hills Lahser, the eventual winner.

Ashare, the No. 1 seed, defeated Portage Northern's Diane Donnelly in the final, 6-1, 6-4, to complete a perfect 20-0 season.

Grosse Pointe South won the team championship.

Gilles reached the quarterfinals last year before she was eliminated by state champ Lias Bonder.

The Salem sophomore won two matches en route to her meeting with Ashare, who came away with a 6-1, 6-4 victory.

Gilles finished the year with a 17-2 record.

Rock cagers topple GC East

Plymouth Salem used its patented man-to-man defense to defeat Garden City East in a non-league girls' basketball game Tuesday night, 34-21.

The Rocks held East to two points in the fourth quarter to chalk up its 13th victory in 15 starts. The Panthers slipped to 7-5 overall.

"We rebounded the ball well and I thought our defense was pretty good," said Salem coach Bob Blohm. "Overall we played a pretty nice ballgame. I'm pleased with our effort. We played hard."

Blohm, however, was not happy with his team's free-throw shooting. The Rocks made just eight of 21 for 38 percent. "We're usually better than that," said the Salem coach. "We've been usually shooting around 60 percent."

CAROL ROSS and Jan MacKenzie each had eight points for Salem. Yvonne Muglia led East with six.

"We turned the ball over too many times," said East coach Jan Moore. "Five times in a row we turned it over in the fourth quarter."

"Give East credit," added Blohm. "Their kids really played hard for 32 minutes. They played a zone and did a nice job."

The Rocks, tied for first place in the Suburban Eight League with Livonia Bentley at 6-1, travels Thursday to meet Dearborn.

O&E realigns sports department

The Observer & Eccentric's sports staff has entered the fall football season with a new lineup.

We've shifted around some assignments, added a couple of new staffers and polished our approach to presenting sports.

Our major changes are in staff alignment.

- C.J. Risak returns to the sports staff after a one-year stint on the news side. Risak switched positions with former Livonia sports editor Doug Funke, who now is a reporter for the Westland Observer. Funke was Livonia sports editor for six years. Risak has been on the staff for three years in various reporting capacities.
- Brad Emons, former Plymouth-Canton sports editor, assumes expanded responsibilities along with Risak in coordinating our six Wayne County sports sections — the Livonia, Westland, Redford, Garden City, Plymouth and Canton Observers. Emons started working in sports for the O&E almost four years ago at our Birmingham office.
- Marty Budner takes over the reins as Birmingham-Bloomfield and West Bloomfield sports editor. Budner, a five-year veteran on the O&E sports staff, was Rochester-Troy sports editor. He fills a vacancy created by the promotion of Dennis O'Connor this summer. O'Connor, who started his career with the O&E as Plymouth-Canton sports editor in 1976, returned to that community as editor of the Canton Observer, one of the 12 twice-weekly O&E publications.
- Nine-year O&E staffer Tom Baer resumes coordinating both the Farmington and Southfield sports sections. Baer has been Farmington-Southfield sports editor for most of his tenure at O&E, but his duties were revised when we made several changes in our editorial department last year.
- Newcomer Jim Hughes assumes the duties vacated by Budner's shift to Birmingham-Bloomfield and West Bloomfield. Hughes, sports editor of the Dearborn Press and Guide for the past two years, handles the Rochester-Troy editions.

Hughes, Baer and Budner work together in producing our six Oakland County sports sections appearing in the Farmington Observer and the Rochester, Troy, West Bloomfield, Southfield, and Birmingham-Bloomfield Eccentrics.

- M.B. Dillon Ward, a sports writer for more than a year at O&E, moves to our Farmington edition as a staff writer.
- Replacing Ms. Dillon Ward on a temporary basis is Tom Henderson, a former sports writer with the Detroit Free Press.

Budner, Baer and Hughes are based in our Birmingham office. The address is 1225 Bowers, Birmingham 48012. The telephone number is 644-1100. All coaches or readers calling after 5:30 p.m. should use the night line number, 644-1101.

Emons and Risak work out of our main office at 36251 Schoolcraft in Livonia. Their telephone number is 591-2300 during the day and 591-2305 or 591-2317 at night.

Tom Henderson handles duties at both offices.

WE'VE ALSO expanded the scope of sports coverage.

By offering a wider assortment of issue and trend stories, off-beat features, personality profiles, game results, personal and advice columns, detailed statistics, team rankings and standings, commentaries, adult and recreational sports, we hope to give our readers a better picture of what's happening on the local sports scene.

On the front page of the sports section every Thursday, for example, readers will find a personal column written by one of the five sports editors on a rotating basis. These will be offered in addition to the writer's regular weekly column.

Also in Thursday's paper, you'll find more preview stories of upcoming prep games to help you plan for the weekend.

We'll still be your best bet when it comes to high school and local sports, but our coverage expands with more recreational and adult offerings, features and in-depth articles.

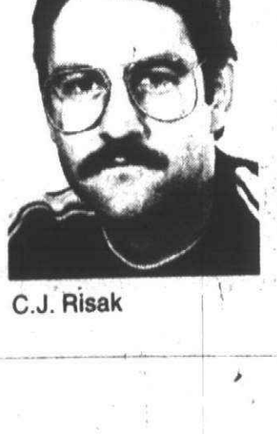

Jogging, skiing, bowling, tennis and racquetball will be some of the column topics you'll be reading about in the weeks ahead.

This is just part of the game plan to improve your O&E sports package by offering better balance and more variety.

Records set in Pass, Punt & Kick

Junior gridders enjoy success

Five of six Plymouth-Canton Football League (PCJFL) teams won games during weekend action.

The PCJFL Lions made a clean sweep against the Westland Comets.

Paul Makara's two touchdowns and one-point conversion pass to Rich Wisniewski propelled the varsity, now 5-1, to a 13-7 victory.

The Lion JV squad, also 5-1, got two touchdowns from Ricky Genrich and a one-point conversion run from Dave Harman to post an identical 13-7 victory.

In the freshman game, Brad Wright scored a TD to lead the Lion freshmen to a 6-2 win, raising their season record to 5-1.

The Lions will travel Sunday to meet the Romulus Flyers. The first game will begin at noon.

THE STEELERS captured two of three games last week against the Ann Arbor Rams.

Bob Powell scored one TD and kicked a rare extra point as the varsity scored a 19-7 victory. Jeff Brand added another six points, and teammate Jim Cerretani hauled in a 55-yard scoring pass.

Joe Jouppi found the end zone twice, and John Zdeb added six more points as the JV squad rolled to a 19-2 win.

The only blemish on the day was the freshman team's loss to Ann Arbor, 36-14. John McEwan accounted for all of the Steelers' points.

PASS, PUNT & KICK WINNERS CROWNED

Numerous records were set Saturday in the annual Canton Township Park and Recreation Pass, Punt and Kick contest at Griffin Park.

Dave Zdeb set three new marks in winning the 12-13-year-old age group.

He established records for punting (89 feet, 1 inch), kicking (94-6) and total offense (276-0).

Jim Cerretani, who finished second with a total of 264-0, set a record for passing (96-9). Bob Powell was third with 262-0 overall.

In the 10-11-year-old division, Greg Darby came away with the first-place plaque with a total of 199, edging out LaMarchal Crayton, who totaled 195. Troy Lowenstein was third with 169.

Darby also set an age-group mark in kicking (86-6), bettering the old standard by 15-6.

Mike Krejcar took first place in the 8-9 age division and tied the record for total offense (192-2).

Ryan Johnson, who finished second with 183-3, set an age-group passing mark with a heave of 72-8. Derick Knapp was third overall with 151-6.

Champions crowned in Canton Cup finals

Three champions were crowned last weekend in the annual Canton Soccer Cup matches.

The Johnson Cup (boys 10 and under) was won by the Golden Streakers, coached by Jerry Gibbons.

Greg Christensen, Greg Oszust and Rich McFeely all scored as the Streakers defeated the Kickers, 3-0.

Gibbons' squad outscored their opponents 22-0 in four playoff games.

In the Monk Cup (boys 12 an under) final, coach Joe Kuchmay's Chargers won the title for the second year in a row with a 2-1 win over the Torpedoes.

Craig Powers scored the Chargers' first goal in the second quarter. Kevin Hahn, with an assist from Jason Kuchmay, tallied the game-winner in the fourth quarter.

The Canton Cowboys captured the Liuzzo Cup (boys 14 and under) with a 3-0 triumph over the Cougars.

Joe Mullins, David Mac and Ed Ramirez scored for the winners.

Chief swimmers' depth sinks Northville, 86-85

Plymouth Canton came through in the final event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, to score an 86-85 girls' swim triumph Tuesday over Western Six League foe Northville.

Canton, now 3-1 in the league, 6-4 overall, avenged a 51-31 loss earlier in the year at the Mustangs' five-lane pool.

"An outstanding meet," said Canton first-year coach Hooker Wellman. "It came down the last relay. We didn't have to win it, but we had to take second and third, and that's a lot of pressure."

Denise DeBell, Noelle Murphy, Sue Sawyer and Kelly Salyer combined for the important second-place finish with a time of 4 minutes, 49.14 seconds. Teammates Karyn Stetz, Heather Crain, Darlene Egbert and Shawn Neville were third in 5:08.27.

Missy McMurray won both the 50 freestyle (27.58) and 100 freestyle (1:00.75). She hooked up with teammates Kris Burns, Kim Elliott and Kathy Stern to gain second in the 200 medley relay (2:05.50).

"Missy just touched out two girls to win twice," Wellman said. "She was just super."

ANN SETTLES won two events for Northville — 200 individual medley (2:27.78) and 500 freestyle (5:40.10).

Other Canton individual firsts were recorded by Shawn Neville, diving, 169.85 points, and Elliott, who set a school record in the 100 breaststroke, 1:17.31.

Gaining second-place spots for the Chiefs were Cindy Sherwood, diving, 143.20, and Bronwyn Fitzgerald, 100 breaststroke, 1:23.50.

Carrie Lewis, a junior, back competing after a two-year absence, made it a clean sweep for Canton in diving with a third-place finish (121.00).

"Superior depth and a bigger pool made the difference," added Wellman. "We're looking good for the Western Six League meet."

LIVONIA BENTLEY 123
SALEM 56

Cindy McSurely was Salem's only winner as she set a school record in diving Tuesday night with 230 points.

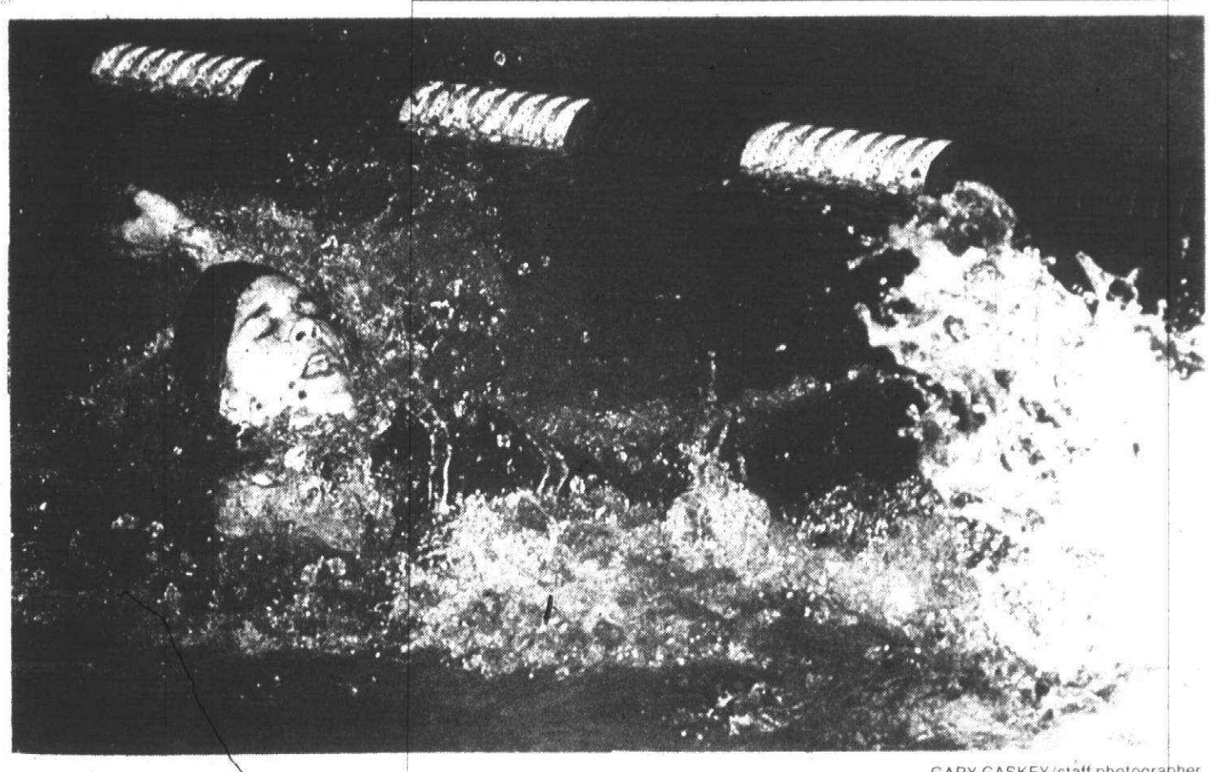

Bentley, sporting a 14-1 overall record, handed the Rocks their first league dual meet loss of the year, 123-56.

Jenny Fedor led the Bentley assault with victories in the 200 IM (2:19.1) and 100 backstroke (1:05.4). Teammate Chris Westhaus was also a double winner as she recorded firsts in the 500 freestyle (5:33.8), a school record, and 100 breaststroke (1:15.9).

Gaining second-place spots for Salem, now 3-1 in the league and 6-4 overall, were Terri Eudy, 200 IM, 2:19.9, and 100 backstroke, 1:05.9; Kathy LaVoie, diving, 171.00; B.J. Bing, 100 butterfly, 1:09.0, and Corinne Cabadas, 1:16.1.

The team of Eudy, Cabadas, Bing and Amy Dunn combined for a second-place finish in the 200 medley relay (2:01.5).

Salem travels Thursday to meet Livonia Churchill in a non-league meet.

GARY CASKEY/staff photographer

Kris Burns leads with the backstroke leg for Canton in the 200-yard medley relay. The Chiefs settled for second place in the event, but first in overall team points.

Hudgins leads Canton cage romp

The Plymouth Canton girls' basketball team will try to extend their Western Six League winning streak to 48 tonight when they host Northville.

The Chiefs recorded their 13th straight victory Tuesday with a lopsided 69-28 victory over non-league foe Allen Park as 6-foot senior center Robyn Hudgins led the way with 16 points and 13 rebounds. Teammates Pearly Cunningham and Sue Gerke each chipped in with 10 points.

"It should be a good game," said McCauley, looking ahead to tonight's match-up. "It's the best Northville team they've had in years. We really played well when we beat them the first time (58-37)."

McCauley, who will retire at the end of the season after nine years of coaching, said the Chiefs must stop all-Western Six League guard Jacque Nixon.

"She's tough," he said. "They also have some decent forwards. We can't take them lightly."

"WE RAN them a little bit," said McCauley. "We had pressure on them in the first half, but we took it off at halftime."

District pairings have familiar ring

Approximately 700 schools will enter girls' basketball teams in 126 district tournaments across the state beginning Nov. 19.

The event is now known as "December Delirium," the counterpart to the boys' "March Madness."

The finals in all four classes will be held Saturday, Dec. 12, at the University of Detroit's Calihan Hall. The semifinals will be held there the night before.

The Class B semifinals are scheduled for Friday, Dec. 11, at Southfield-Lathrup. The Class C semis, also that day, have been scheduled for Farmington Harrison while North Farmington will host the Class D final four.

With the strength in the area, a look at what lurks ahead in district play might prove interesting.

Livonia Bentley, sporting a 13-1 record and currently ranked high in Class A, posted an important win Tuesday over rival Livonia Franklin (12-3). The Bulldogs have beaten Franklin twice, but may have to face the tough Patriots a third time at the Northville district, which also includes Stevenson, Churchill and the host Mustangs.

The winner of that district earns a trip to the Redford Thurston regional to meet the Detroit Northwestern district champ.

REDFORD UNION also will host a district which includes Detroit Redford, Garden City East, Thurston and Bishop Borgess. The RU district champ advances to the Thurston regional to face the Plymouth Canton district champ.

Host Canton (13-1) must contend with perennial district rival Plymouth Salem (13-2), ranked in the top 10, Ann Arbor Huron (an upset victor over Salem earlier in the year), Westland John Glenn, Wayne Memorial and Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Livonia Ladywood, ranked No. 1 in Class B with a 14-0 record, will compete in the district tourney at Novi along with Farmington Harrison, Livonia Clarenceville, Oak Park, South Lyon and the host Wildcats. The winner advances to Hartland to meet the Linden district champ.

Garden City West, another area Class B team, will travel to the Dearborn Heights Crestwood district, facing the likes of Dearborn Divine Child, Robichaud, Inkster and Cherry Hill. The winner advances to Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard.

Redford St. Agatha, ranked No. 1 in Class C with a 14-0 mark, has been placed in the Redford St. Mary district along with Detroit Country Day, Benedictine, Immaculata, Hamtramck St. Lad's and the host Rustics. The regional will be held at Harper Woods Lutheran East.

A few changes occurred in this week's Observer rankings. Both Ladywood and St. Agatha each moved up a notch, displacing Franklin and Canton.

OBSERVER CAGE RANKINGS

1. Plymouth Salem	13-2
2. Livonia Bentley	13-1
3. Livonia Ladywood	14-0
4. Livonia Franklin	12-3
5. Redford St. Agatha	14-0
6. Plymouth Canton	13-1
7. Westland John Glenn	8-5

Coaches' cooperation is needed to make this a success. So coaches, make your call FRIDAY.

Ocelot spikers improve rating

Schoolcraft's volleyball team, ranked fourth nationally among junior colleges, captured four of five matches last week, raising its season record to 21-6.

Ferris State won its own invitational Saturday by beating the Ocelots in the final, 15-5, 15-7.

Coach Mike O'Toole praised the play of Leight Feenstra (Livonia Churchill graduate), Chris Stellberger (Livonia Clarenceville), Nancy Hughes and Miki Truchan (Livonia Bentley) as Schoolcraft beat George Williams College twice and Grand Rapids JC.

Earlier in the week, Schoolcraft downed Mott Community College, 15-3, 15-3, 16-14.

Salem takes aim at Fordson

C.J. Risak

The prep football regular season will then be over. This weekend's contests will produce typical results — some close games, a few that are of consequence and a smattering of lopsided routs.

Only Westland John Glenn has any chance of continuing the season past the regular phase. The Rockets clinched a share of the Northwest Suburban League (NSL) championship Friday by ripping Garden City East, 24-3. Glenn and North Farmington are co-champs with 4-1 records (North beat Glenn earlier).

Glenn has a 6-1 overall mark. The Rockets face a big challenge this week with a game against Livonia Stevenson. Should they win, it will give them a big boost in state playoff bonus points because of Stevenson's 5-2 record.

It's a long shot maybe, but at least there is a chance. Glenn has to beat Stevenson and Wayne Memorial in its final contests, however.

The battle for the overall prognosticating championship continues. My fellow editor, Brad Emons, had a fine week, correctly predicting nine of 11 games. His misses are interesting, though — he chose Harper Woods Notre Dame to beat Detroit Catholic Central by three.

He didn't miss by much. Final score: Central 28, Notre Dame 0.

Brad is 33-14 (just over 70 percent correct), while I'm 24-14 (63 percent right). I'll need a big week to get back into the race.

DETROIT CATHOLIC CENTRAL VS. REDFORD BISHOP BORGESS, 2 p.m. Saturday at Clarenceville High School — Despite three straight losses in a midseason slump, Catholic Central is still in the hunt for a Catholic League playoff berth as a wild card team. Central destroyed Notre Dame's title dreams Saturday and routed Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher the week before.

Borgess got back on the winning side of the ledger by ripping Gallagher Saturday, 19-0. CC has the size and will probably use it to overpower Borgess on the ground, with Mike Varajon and Tom Elwell the top rushers. Borgess will counter with a passing attack spearheaded by quarterbacks Rick Franz and Dave Piligian. PICK — CC RUNS TO AN EIGHT-POINT WIN.

DEARBORN FORDSON AT PLYMOUTH SALEM, 7:30 p.m. Saturday — This game is typical of Salem's schedule. It probably won't be that close — Fordson is unbeaten and in search of a post-season playoff berth. Salem is 4-3 overall, with losses to Dearborn Edsel Ford (7-0 record), Trenton (6-1) and Dearborn (5-2). In a mild upset, Salem whipped Belleville, 16-0, Friday. There will be no upset this time. PICK — FORDSON BY 12.

STEVENSON AT JOHN GLENN, 8 p.m. Friday — Stevenson is on a five-game win streak and reigns as the Inter-Lakes League champion (again). Glenn needs to win to keep its shot at a state playoff berth alive. The playoff berth, combined with the home crowd advantage and a very quick team, gives Glenn the advantage. PICK — GLENN IN A SQUEAKER (THREE POINTS).

LIVONIA FRANKLIN AT LIVONIA CHURCHILL, 7:30 p.m. Friday — Franklin finally quit beating itself and defeated an opponent Saturday, ripping Redford Thurston, 21-7. Churchill has been on a roll lately, winning its last two contests. But the Charger offensive and defensive lines have trouble handling big linemen, evident in losses to Flint Southwestern and Farmington Harrison. They can't spring John Bielis for those big runs if there's no hole to run through. Churchill has more talent in key positions — quarterback, receiver, running back — but Franklin's size will enable the Patriots to control the ball. PICK — IN AN UPSET, FRANKLIN BY SEVEN.

LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE AT INKSTER, 3:30 p.m. Friday — Clarenceville sparkled against undefeated Willow Run Friday before losing by four points. What might hurt the Trojans more is the loss of quarterback Dale Vaquera, who injured a knee Friday's loss. If Vacquera can play, the Trojans roll over Inkster. If not, it could be close. PICK — CLARENCEVILLE BY SIX.

GARDEN CITY WEST AT SOUTHGATE, 3:30 p.m. Friday — West has been surprisingly strong this season, winning five of seven games. The Tigers still have a shot at a Tri-River League co-championship, should Taylor Kennedy falter. PICK — WEST BY SEVEN.

GARDEN CITY EAST AT PLYMOUTH CANTON, 7:30 p.m. Friday — Both teams were beaten last week, East to Glenn and Canton to Churchill. Both teams are 2-5 overall. It'll be close, but Canton plays well at home, and that should make the difference. PICK — CANTON BY FOUR.

REDFORD ST. AGATHA VS.HAMTRAMCK, 7:30 p.m. at Keyworth Stadium — The Aggies overran Pontiac Catholic Saturday, 15-0, while Hamtramck fell to Harper Woods, 7-6. St. Agatha will squeeze out its sixth win. PICK — ST. AGATHA BY SIX.

FARMINGTON AT REDFORD UNION, 7:30 p.m. Friday — Redford Union seems to give up about this time each year. The only thing the Falcons get revved for is their season-ending games against city rivals North and Harrison. RU, needing one win in its last two games to share in the NSL title, lost both. RU takes its frustrations out on Farmington. PICK — RU BY LOTS (20 or more).

LIVONIA BENTLEY AT ALLEN PARK, 8 p.m. Friday — Bentley is on a six-game downer but Allen Park is even worse, losing all seven of its games. The loser is relegated to the Suburban Eight basement. The Bulldogs get back some respect. BENTLEY BY SEVEN.

Wright, Hinz power Canton soccer win

Tom Wright scored two goals to power Plymouth Canton to a 4-0 triumph over at Northville club team Monday afternoon at Schoolcraft College.

The victory evens Canton's overall record at 4-4.

The Chiefs concluded their season yesterday at Farmington Harrison. Complete results of that game will appear in Monday's Observer.

Eddie Hinz opened the scoring 15 minutes into the game on a pass from Bob Brusa.

Wright followed with another goal 15 minutes later, with Mike Jennings getting the assist.

Wright connected again just before intermission to make it 3-0. Mike Battaglia drew the assist.

Ryad Taila, who recently joined the Canton squad, ended the scoring with his first marker of the season on an assist from Hinz.

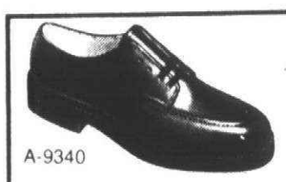

ERIC BECKER, the starting goalie, and teammate Mike Grady combined for the shutout.

Becker played the front line during the second half.

'Tis the season to be sailing into the tropical sun

Ah, this is the cruising life

travel

Iris Jones

MIAMI — We are not sailing anywhere, just using a five-hour layover in Miami to check out the cruise ship scene. The bus to the Port of Miami follows the road from the airport into town, past Miami's Orange Bowl and the canal full of sailboats and yachts.

Miami is deserted on Saturday afternoon, when many of the cruise ships are boarded for a Saturday night departure.

We begin to see the white prows and the masts of ships between high-rise buildings and palm trees, and then we are crossing famous Biscayne Boulevard towards the port.

The bus passes through a gatehouse and crosses a bridge. We pass marinas, with wake lines pointing across the inland waterway to Miami Beach. A tall roster of ships leads us to the docks, past a skyline of masts and flags against a blue Florida sky.

The bus stops beside a blue forklift truck stacked with luggage, and excited passengers cross the road to a sign reading "Carnivale, Festivale, Mardi Gras." The red-white-and-blue stack of the Festivale rises above the shed.

This is the Carnival lines, focused especially on younger travelers. It will add a new $100 million ship, the Tropicale, in January; it is the first built-from-scratch new ship added here since 1974. The Tropicale will carry 1,022 passengers on seven-day cruises out of Miami.

The second stop on our bus trip is "Southward, Southward, everybody off for the Southward." The Southward is one of five Norwegian Caribbean Lines cruise ships; it leaves Saturdays along with the Skyward and the Starwood. The Sunward Two does three-day trips starting every Friday and the huge, elegant Norway, formerly the trans-Atlantic luxury liner France sails out every Sunday.

The Southward is one of the few ships that still has an open-visitor policy on Saturday. This was once a regular custom, but too many Miamians come aboard to eat and drink the afternoon away, so now visitor passes are more grudgingly given.

You can still get them, though. Go to the counter and ask for a Saturday guest pass. Touring the Norway takes a little more advance preparation; write ahead.

Royal Caribbean operates three almost-identical ships. The Song of Norway leaves every Saturday; the Sun Viking leaves Sundays for seven-day cruises; and the Nordic Prince sails every other Saturday on 14-day runs.

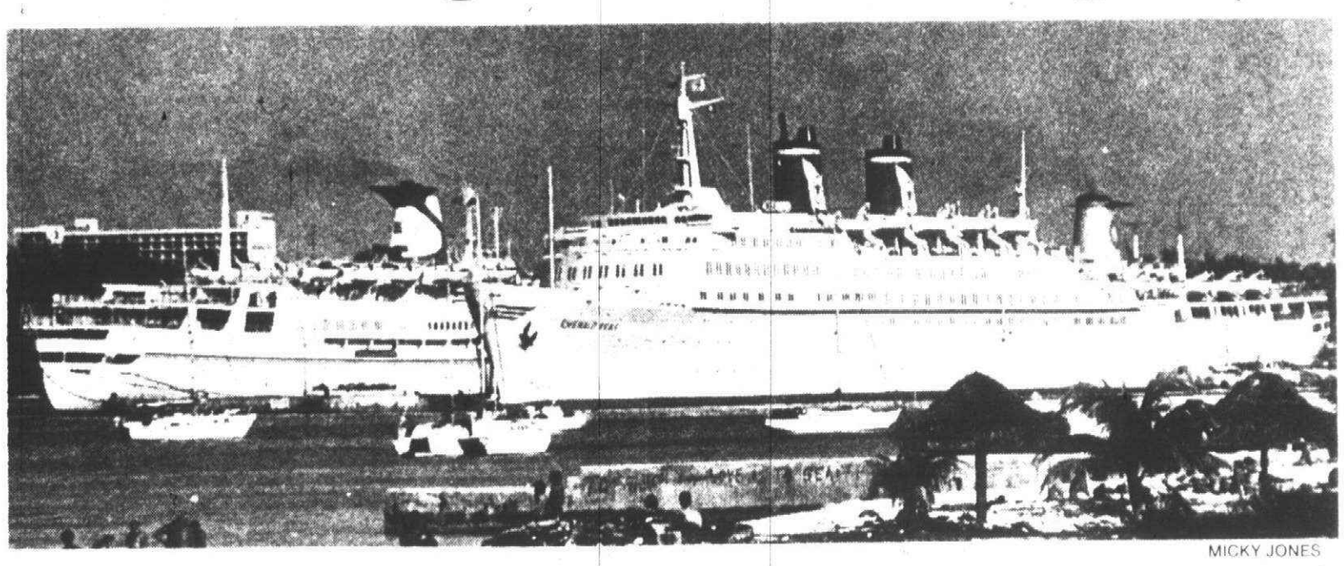

These are only three of the cruise lines that sail out of Miami for the Caribbean. I haven't even mentioned March, Holland America, Scandinavian, Commodore, Royal Viking, Sitmar, Eastern, Paquet or Costa, nor lines like Cunard, Home and Norwegian American, which sail only out of Fort Lauderdale.

Nor have I even hinted at cruise ships sailing out of Louisiana, Texas, California, New York and other places to exotic destinations like the Panama Canal, Mexico, Alaska or the South Pacific.

You could sail nearly 5,000 trips on 50 cruise lines if you wanted to spend your life doing it.

Some people say the luxure liners are heavily overbuilt now for a recession market, but the resultant competition is good for the consumer and doesn't seem to stop prices rising for 1982 sailings.

Cruise costs range from $150 to $200 a day per person on most lines.

MICKY JONES

Two Caribbean cruise ships dock in Nassau. You could sail nearly 5,000 trips on 50 cruise lines if you wanted to spend your life doing it.

What's new in the cruise biz?

Several new cruise ships will be launched in 1982. The $100 million Tropicale will be launched Jan. 16 from Miami by Carnival Cruise Lines, which presently sails the Festivale, Carnivale and Mardi Gras.

The Tropicale will sail every seven days to the western Caribbean.

The $100 million Atlantic, owned by Home Lines Cruises, will sail out of New York for the first time April 17. Its New York-to-Bahamas cruise itinerary will replace that of the Doric, which is being moved to the Mediterranean and renamed Royal Odyssey.

American Cruise Lines will launch the 89-passenger coastal ship American on April 10, joining her sister ship, the Independence, for cruises along the Intracoastal waterways and into New England.

Royal Caribbean is sending out excited announcements about their new cruise ship, the Song of America, which will hit the warm seas late in 1982.

Meantime, other people are overhauling, refurbishing and cutting ships in half so that they can make them longer. Royal Viking has lengthened the Royal Viking Star, which re-enters service Dec. 5 out of Fort Lauderdale. The newly rebuilt Sagafjord re-entered earlier in 1981, and its sister ship Vistafjord will go in for a facelift Dec. 11.

Next fall, Scandinavian World Cruises will get into the act, with weekly service from New York to the Bahamas, and a new idea: the Scandinavian, a new ship, will carry 1,600 passengers and 400 cars so you can connect with the Scandinavian Sun, which will operate daily between Grand Bahama and Miami starting Feb. 20. The Scandinavian Sun will also ferry cars, allowing you to drive home from Florida.

Scandinavian Star (formerly the Caribe), third ship in the Scandinavian World Cruise line, will offer three- and four-night cruises from Miami to the Bahamas starting in June 1982. The fourth ship, Scandinavian Sea, starts daily "Cruises to Nowhere" from Port Canaveral, Fla., this Dec. 12.

Theme cruises, sometimes with lecturers or entertainers aboard, have been getting more and more popular. For example, Royal Viking Lines brings pianist Oscar Peterson aborad the Royal Viking Star for a two-week cruise out of Fort Lauderdale Dec. 5-19, although his Oscar Peterson Trio makes only two guest appearances.

You can choose tours themed to fitness, finance, film festivals, country-and-western music, snorkeling, etc. You can also explore the Nile or the Amazon, or even the Chang Jiang (used to be the Yangtse). Ask about Lindblad tours, Society Expeditions and others.

The biggest news however is fly-sail, especially "fly free." Prices will go up in 1982, so the best prices are right now, before Christmas. For example, Royal Caribbean will fly you free from Detroit to Miami for the two-week Nordic Prince through next June, and fly you for $50 after Jan. 1 for the seven-day Song of Norway and Sun Viking.

Many lines doing the same. Ask your travel agent.

blazing saddles

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain) BLAZING SADDLES Mel Brooks' third screen comedy-a hilarious, outrageous sendup of the American film western in which a black sheriff sets out to mop up a shoot-em-up town. With Cleavon Little, Harvey Korman, Slim Pickens, Madelaine Kahn (doing Marlene Dietrich to a fare-thee-well), Alex Karras and Gene Wilder as "The Waco Kid". Brooks himself plays a woman-hungry governor and an indian chief. A romp with a light-hearted brigade that ends up in an unlikely battle royal involving, among others, Dom DeLuise and a mountain of beefcake.

FRI., OCT. 30

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain) HALLOWEEN Terror! Terror! Terror! With Donald Pleasence and Jamie Lee Curtis. Whatever happened to bobbing for apples and trick or treat? Oh. This film contains elements of shock and suspense. Parental discretion is advised. Cost/earnings-wise, it is the most successful film ever made; stylistically, it's the one that all the others have since tried to emulate.

SAT., OCT. 31

8-9PM CBS (7 Central/Mountain) DISNEY'S "THE LAST FLIGHT OF NOAH'S ARK" (1) Ricky Schroder and Elliott Gould star in this delightful film that sees an intrepid and unlikely band of castaways turn an old B-29 bomber into a modern Ark to escape from an unmapped tropical isle.

Genevieve Bujold, Tammy Lauren and Vincent Gardenia co-star. Conclusion next week at same time.

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain) KILLING AT HELL'S GATE Filmed along the Rogue River in Oregon, this gripping tale is about a party of river rafters whose pleasure trip turns into a whitewater nightmare. Stars Robert Urich, Deborah Raffin, Lee Purcell and Paul Burke. Rapids, whirlpools, chutes, cataracts and terror.

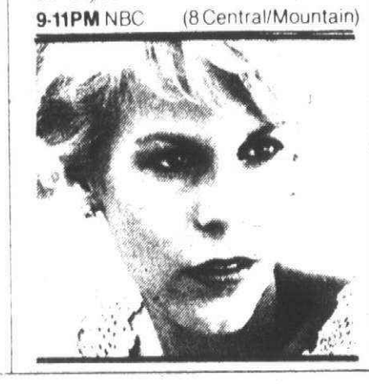

SUN., NOV. 1

Clint Eastwood

8-10:30PM CBS (7 Central/Mountain) EVERY WHICH WAY BUT LOOSE Clint Eastwood is an easy-going truck driver who always keeps his eyes open and his fists clenched as he defends his reputation as the best barroom brawler in southern California. With Sondra Locke, Geoffrey Lewis, Beverly D'Angelo, Ruth Gordon and 165-pound Southeast Asian orangutan "Popi", herein known as "Clyde".

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain)

DEATH OF A CENTERFOLD: THE DOROTHY STRATTEN STORY. A hard-hitting drama based on the true-life experiences of a Cinderella-like Canadian teenager who goes to Hollywood to find fame, fortune... and tragedy. 9-11:18PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain)

The Goodbye Girl

THE GOODBYE GIRL. Hello, hello! Neil Simon's multi-Academy Award-nominated hit comedy about an ambitious young actor who solves his housing problem by sharing an apartment with a beautiful gal who is stubbornly certain that their inevitable romance would be disastrous. Stars Richard Dreyfuss and Marsha Mason'll give you softening of the hearteries!

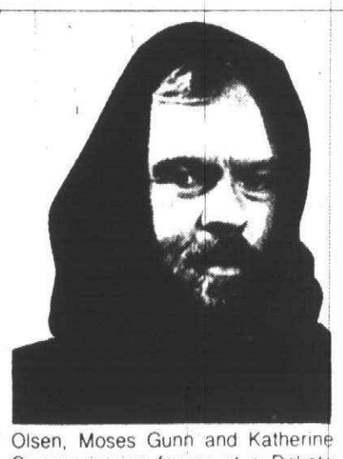

MON., NOV. 2

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain) BORN TO BE SOLD Lynda Carter portrays a social worker who attempts to expose a baby-selling operation even though it involves great personal danger. FRI., NOV. 6

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain) THE LEGACY OF MAGGIE WALSH

Katherine Ross, Sam Elliott and Roger Daltry in an eerie drama about a series of sinister events in an English mansion controlled by evil spirits. Better draw the blinds this October eve. (Released theatrically as just plain ole The Legacy.)

SAT., NOV. 7

8-9PM CBS (7 Central/Mountain) DISNEY'S "THE LAST FLIGHT OF NOAH'S ARK." (2) Conclusion.

SUN., NOV. 8

5-6PM CBS (4 Central/Mountain) A TALE OF FOUR WISHES Singer-actor Rick (second son of O.&H.) Nelson is a friendly stranger who helps a bewildered 13-year-old girl learn the secrets of making wishes come true. No mere wishing on a star, salt over your shoulder or pulling at a turkey bone. A Sunday special.

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain) THE GAUNTLET Clint Eastwood is a harried city detective who runs into ferocious opposition attempting to transport a key witness (Sondra Locke, of course) to a mob trial. Eastwood also directed this absurd action drama.

9-11:15PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain)

JOHN TRAVOLTA GREASE

GREASE John Travolta and Olivia Newton-John at Frankie Avalon High. The '50's were never like this but who cares. Watch Stockard Channing steal the show, though a little long of tooth to be playing a teenager, she gets a lot of mileage out of this one.

MON., NOV. 9

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain) FOR LADIES ONLY An aspiring young actor fails to find work in Big Apple show biz until a friend introduces him to the world of male exotic dancing, where he's a whipper as a stripper! 502 Help Wanted Dental-Medical

Why the eyes of the medical world are focused on the heart of Detroit.

How can we provide the finest, most comprehensive medical care possible, and yet somehow hold the line on soaring medical costs?

This is the critical question facing every major health care facility in the country and the world today.

The answer is best exemplified by the innovative, unique complex in the heart of the Renaissance City: The Detroit Medical Center.

Through a cooperative effort, each member institution has immediate access to the newest, most technically advanced diagnostic and treatment facilities. By sharing personnel and sharing services, each institution can concentrate on its specialties–without having to make major capital expenditures for auxiliary equipment and resources.

Each institution maintains its own character. Each institution continues to perform important clinical research in its fields.

But each institution is committed. To each other. And to the finest medical care possible.
