Schools reopen as unions end walkout

The school strike in Plymouth-Canton came to an end this week as all striking unions returned to work yesterday.

A tentative agreement was reached late Monday afternoon by all units at the bargaining table.

The next day the leadership of the six unions met with their members and after some discussion all units voted to return to work the next day.

The contract changes will now be put into writing and formally ratified by all involved groups within the next month.

The economic settlement for all six groups involves a 3-percent increase the first year and a 6-percent increase the second year.

In addition, teachers at the top of the wage scale will receive an additional 1-percent increase the second semester of the second year.

THE AGREEMENT ends the strike for some 1,200 striking employees — teachers, teacher aides, bus drivers, food service employees, maintenance personnel and secretaries.

The verbal tentative agreement was reached at the table at about 6:30 p.m. Monday — an hour before the school board met a jam-packed audience (see related story) in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High.

The tentative agreement was announced at that meeting by Tom Cotner, chief negotiator for the teachers, and confirmed by Norm Kee, assistant superintendent for personnel.

Kee said then that school would be in session Wednesday if the union membership ratified the tentative agreement on the next day.

After the central administration received news of the votes Tuesday afternoon, plans proceeded to open school yesterday.

Word got out to parents using a fan-out phone system at the middle school and elementary levels, using the school's cable television channel and the board's hotline phone reberding (453-0271).

COTNER EXPLAINED that the vote taken actually was to decide whether to return to work under the tentative agreement subject to formal ratification, a condition acceptable to the school board and administration.

The teachers union voted by a margin of about 2-1 to accept the economic settlement. The union for transportation workers initially voted against the agreement but revoted after learning that the other five groups accepted and agreed to accept the tentative contract offer.

For the teachers the two-year agreement in effect extends their existing contract another year. They were in the first year of a two-year pact and were negotiating a wage reopener.

The other five groups have a new two-year contract which will run through June 1985.

The school calendar will be changed as a result of the strike. At press-time the calendar changes were reported to be a reduction of days off during the Christmas holiday vacation period, loss of a week off in February and extension of the school year by one week in June.

As part of the agreement the school board has agreed to dismiss its lawsuit against the teachers' union, and the union has dropped its unfair labor practices suit. The board also has dropped its lawsuit against the state Department of Labor and Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC).

In all, the schools were closed 13 school days because of the strike.

Strike ends, but not its bitterness

By Emory Daniels
staff writer

Announcement of the tentative agreement at Monday night's school board meeting was not sufficient to calm the emotions of many in the audience.

Despite the news that the strike apparently was over, there still remained feelings of anger, bitterness and frustration which resulted in criticisms of the teachers union and personal attacks on administrators and board members.

The school board had convened Monday night to hold an executive session to discuss negotiations. The board held an open meeting first, however, to receive citizen comments before adjourning into the secret session.

The tentative agreement had been reached with the teachers union about an hour before the 7:30 p.m. meeting began Monday.

The auditorium of Plymouth Salem High was packed by residents, employees and teachers who moments earlier were picketing along Joy Road in front of the school.

There were reports that many people were stranded outside, unable to get inside because the parking areas were filled. A board member had heard an unofficial report that as many as 100 persons were unable to get inside.

THE MEETING began with an emotional charge as teachers and other employees gave Tom Cotner, chief bargaining agent for the teachers union, a standing ovation as he walked across the front of the auditorium. Many of the teachers present booed and hissed as the board arrived at its table on stage.

Throughout the meeting there were catcalls and shouts aimed at the board and speakers from teachers and employees to express disagreement at statements made by others.

Although many speakers expressed their views calmly, some showed anger and bitterness as they shouted their views at either the teachers union or at the board.

After Cotner announced the reaching of the tentative agreement, the first speaker was a parent who expressed her desire that there never be another teachers' strike — a sentiment repeated by most of the speakers to follow.

The next parent to step up to the microphone commented that there were no winners but only losers because of the strike and hoped both sides could overcome the animosity built up during the strike — another opinion often repeated by others.

James Stark criticized those teachers who voted to go on strike which he said was in clear violation of the law.

Les Walker criticized the board for poor public relations during the strike, for not informing the public, and for seemingly avoiding public meetings where strike issues could be aired.

MEMBERS OF the senior class stepped up to the mike to express their chagrin that the strike might result in their graduating late which would hurt their chances to get summer jobs and that it interfered with the timetable to apply for college scholarships.

Susan Lewke of Canton chastized teachers for wasting 19 days of her child's education and pledged it would never happen again, saying she would mobilize 1,900 parents who wouldn't allow "you to pussyfoot with our kids."

Some speakers criticized the board for hiring an attorney to conduct the negotiations with the unions, suggesting it would be better if the board conducted its own negotiations. This criticism has been made during past negotiating sessions, although the board has

Teen dies after car mishap

Services were held Tuesday for a 15-year-old Canton youth who died after a communications mixup with his brother.

Robert Cifaldi, 15, a sophomore at Plymouth Canton High School, died Sunday afternoon after being struck by a car driven by his 17-year-old brother, Christopher. Services were at Lambert-Lozniskar and Vermeulen Funeral Home in Plymouth.

ACCORDING TO police, the mishap occurred around 1:40 p.m. Sunday on Hanford west of Beck. The youths had been playing football with friends shortly before the accident, said Canton Police Lt. Larry Stewart.

Robert was standing in the roadway, playfully "giving his brother a hard time" by dodging in front of the car, Stewart said. Christopher, a senior at Plymouth Canton High, drove forward, assuming his brother would swerve in the opposite direction, Stewart said. But Robert moved into the path of the car and was hit, Stewart said.

"They both, at the same moment, took evasive action," Stewart said. "Both went into each other's path. That's all it was — a misdirection."

A rescue unit took Robert to Oakwood Hospital. He was immediately transferred to St. Joseph Hospital, Ypsilanti, Stewart said. The youth died at 3:55 p.m.

There were no other injuries. Two 15-year-old youths were passengers in the car at the time of the incident, Stewart said.

Police are continuing their investigation.

Robert is survived by his parents, David and Gloria, and brothers Christopher, Daniel and Matthew.

"This has been a tragic year," said Stewart, noting this was Canton's 12th fatality for 1983, compared to three for the entire previous year.

Bands to compete Saturday

The state championship competition for high school marching bands will be held this Saturday at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP).

Some 28 marching bands will be competing Saturday afternoon and evening at the CEP athletic field on Canton Center Road just south of the parking lot of Plymouth Canton High.

This is the second year in a row that Plymouth-Canton has hosted the Michigan Competing Band Directors Associations high school championship competition.

The afternoon competition will begin at 11 a.m. and the evening competition will begin at 5:30 p.m.

The advance ticket price is $3.50 per person with tickets purchased on Saturday selling for $4 each. The afternoon and evening shows each require a separate ticket.

ADVANCE TICKETS may be purchased at the Sideways shop on Forest Avenue in Plymouth, at Hammell's music store on N. Main, Plymouth, and at Mary's Mix-N-Match florist on Joy Road in Canton Township. Anyone needing a large quantity of advance tickets may phone 459-1352.

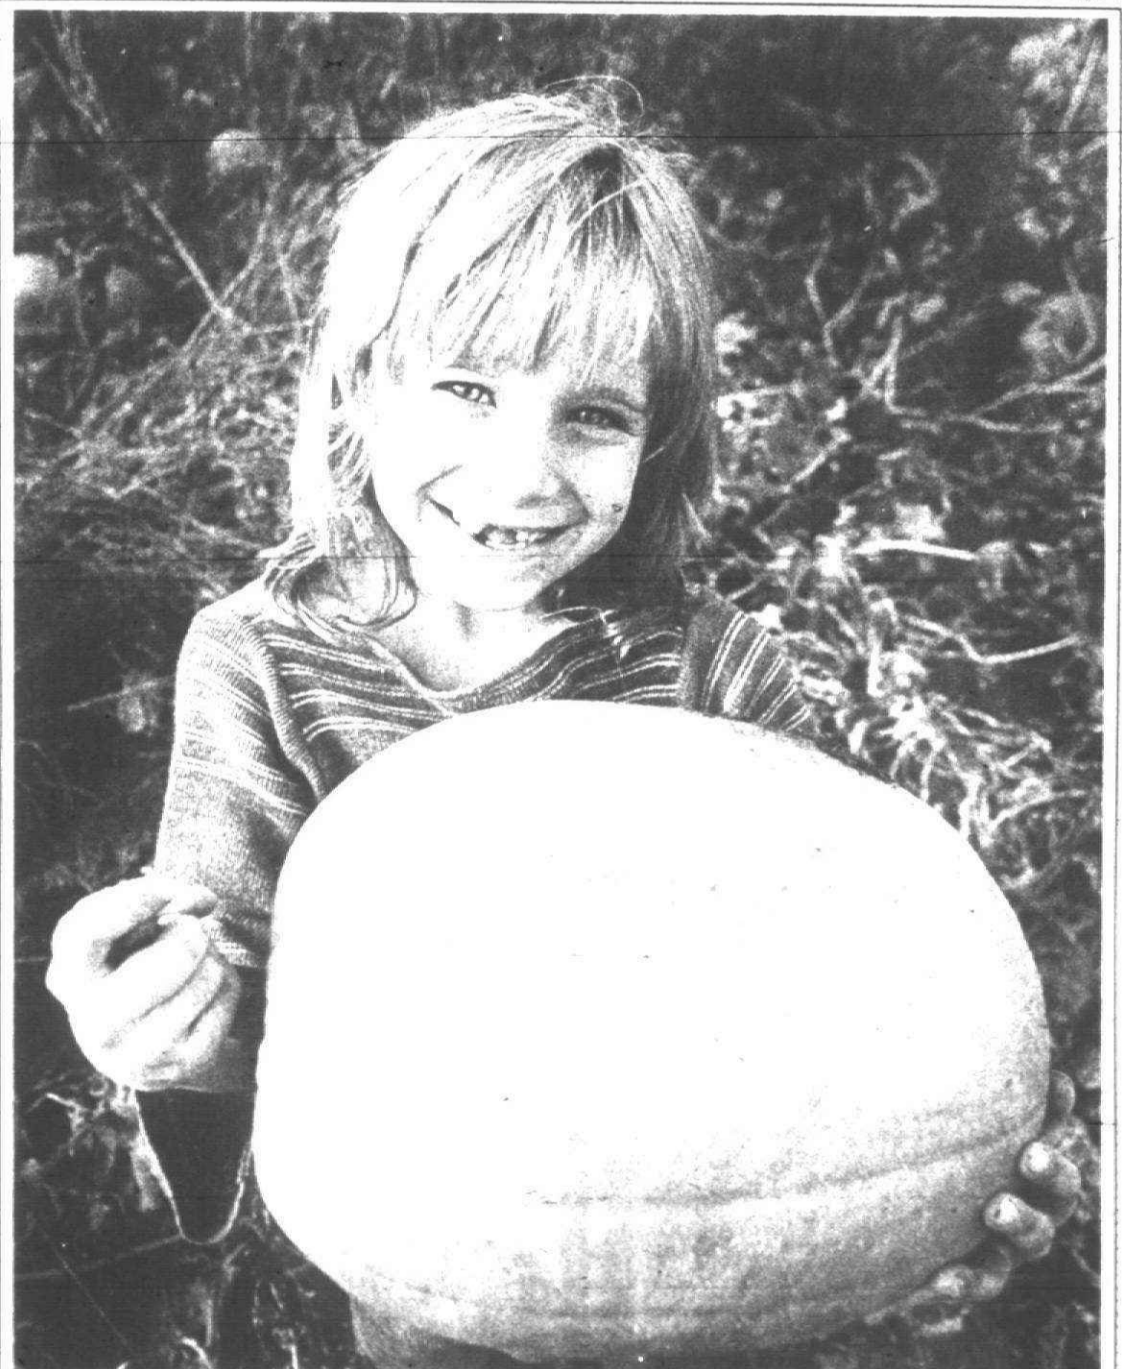

For those who never attended a band competition, the shows include stirring music, sharp marching and maneuvering, colorful auxiliary rifle and flag lines, and uniforms of all types.

The Plymouth CEP Marching Band will be competing in the evening portion. In all some 3,000 band members will be on the field Saturday.

Other participants include Flushing, Bishop Foley, Westland John Glenn, Southfield, Bridgeport, Lakeview, Durand, the Scarlet Brigade from Windsor, Andover, Dohdoro, Flint Powers, Montrose, West Bloomfield, Clarkston, Utica Eisenhower, Ithaca, St. Charles, Flint Bentley, Bad Axe, Tawas, Oxford, Petosky, Trenton, Flint Southwestern, Linden, Clio, and Wyoming Park.

In recognition of the event, the Canton Township Board of Trustees has declared Oct. 16-22 to be High School Band Week.

Canton Supervisor James Poole, who attended last year's state competition in Canton, commented, "If you watch their maneuvers, marching and salutes, and don't get warm, you're not paying attention."

Suburbs win water rate case appeal

The Michigan Court of Appeals has unanimously upheld the challenge of 77 suburban communities to water rates charged by the city of Detroit during 1976-81.

The state's second highest court has reversed an earlier Circuit Court ruling that the return on investment exacted by those rates was "not unreasonable."

This is a landmark decision for the suburban customers of the water system," said Edward H. McNamara, chairman of the Suburban Association of Detroit Water Customers, which in 1976 challenged a 39 percent water rate increase.

"This is the first time water customers ever won an action against the water department. You could say we have been successful."

"Detroit's liability to these communities under this ruling could be in excess of $35 million," said McNamara, mayor of Livonia. "There is also a 12 percent per year interest on the total."

But residents of Plymouth and Plymouth Township shouldn't watch their mailboxes for refund checks. Officials from both communities said the anticipated refunds won't be passed on because the increases - which caused the overcharges - were absorbed by the municipalities.

Plymouth Township hasn't passed on a water charge increase since 1976, according to Supervisor Maurice Breen. Likewise, Plymouth didn't start passing on water increases until after 1981, according to City Manager Henry Draper.

Instead, both communities used working capital to absorb the increase and now plan to return the refunds to those accounts. In Plymouth Township, the refund probably will bolster the working capital enough to guard against increases for two years, Breen said.

DETROIT'S WATER department now has three options, McNamara said. It could appeal the court of appeals decision. It could let the case go back to circuit court and let the court decide the amount of damages. Or it could negotiate an amount to be returned to the suburban communities.

"I think they might negotiate because that liability keeps climbing at 12 percent," McNamara said. THE CASE has been sent back to Circuit Court to determine the amount of the credit that should be granted to the suburban communities against their future water bills.

Paul Clymer adds straw to the wagon for an old-fashioned hay ride.

Area pumpkin patches provide a whole peck of pickin' pleasure

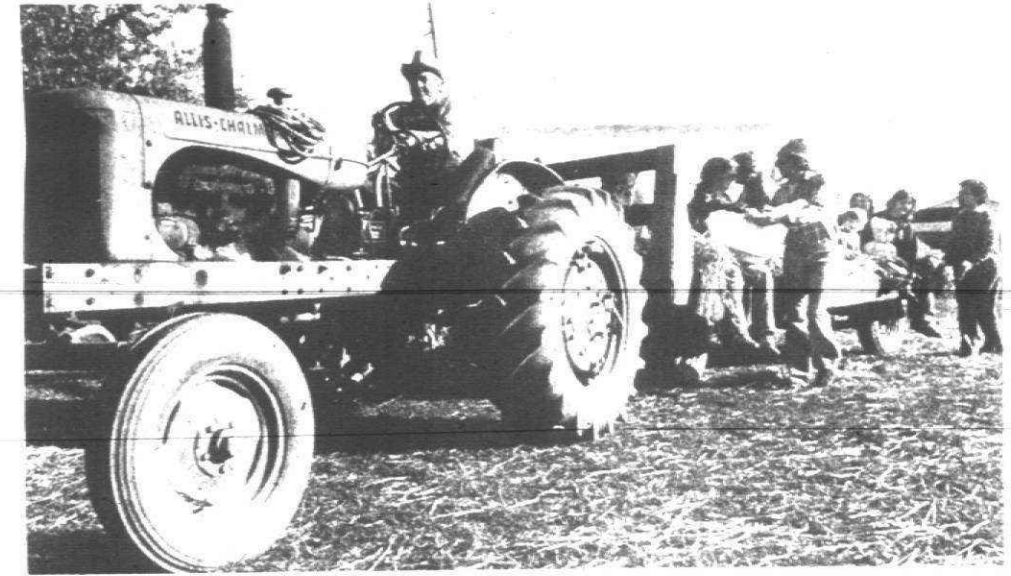

With Halloween fast approaching, many children are making their annual trek to farms and haunted houses. The Clymer farm is located between Lotz and Hix roads on Cherry Hill. The farm features some three acres of pumpkins and hay ride paths. Farms which feature pick-your-own pumpkins are always a favorite with the youngsters (not to mention moms and dads). Betty and Paul Clymer, 39740 Cherry Hill in Canton, own a U-pick pumpkin farm and, as can be expected, their place is always full of visitors this time of year.

Helping Michele Metzger choose a pumpkin to take home for Halloween is farm owner Paul Clymer. Picking pumpkins is almost as much fun as carving them when you visit the Clymer farm.

Troop 56, Field Elementary School Brownies, arrive at the Clymer's farm and are greeted by Mopsy the dog. (Below) A group piles onto the wagon as Paul Clymer prepares to take them on a hay ride.

Crime show debuts

Residents can watch their TV Thursday night and learn how to protect it against theft, as well as other belongings and property.

A two-hour crime prevention program, sponsored by Plymouth Township, will be shown on cable channel 16 starting at 7 p.m.

The Thursday night cable cast will be the kickoff for a 14-part series promoting Neighborhood Watch and Citizens' Band Patrols awareness programs which help residents protect themselves against crime.

The series was made possible through the combined efforts of the Detroit Police Department, Schoolcraft College, and Omnicon Cablevision.

One hour of the program will be a live cablecast from Plymouth Township Hall, where police officers, Neighborhood Watch volunteers, members of the Plymouth Area Citizens' Teams (PACT), and homeowners discuss two videotaped introductions to the crime prevention programs.

This kickoff showing is possibly the first of its kind since it combines videotape with live cable coverage, according to Township Police Chief Carl Berry.

The videotapes, produced by the Detroit Police and Schoolcraft College, are a new concept in training residents for crime prevention, he said.

"The Detroit Police are experts in the Neighborhood Watch field. They have successfully put together Neighborhood Watch programs which have earned national recognition."

THE TOWNSHIP HAS invited representatives from the various homeowners associations to take part in the live discussions of the tapes.

Berry encourages other homeowners to watch the program, with the anticipation that Neighborhood Watch groups will be formed. Currently Plymouth Township has 6 such groups, with the potential for 31.

"We want people to recognize that we do have crime and we want people to be aware of it and we need their help," he said.

Since Jan. 1 some 184 homes in the Plymouth community have been burglarized, according to Berry.

Another 57 businesses have been broken into, while 81 vehicles — 11 in the month of September.

"This series will educate people in what to report, so that we can better prevent crime around their homes. It's what you can do for your own neighborhood," he said.

Although participation in the live discussion Thursday night is by invitation only, a limited amount of seats still are available to the general public, he said.

Anyone interested in sitting in on the program should call the township supervisor's office at 453-2671. Showings of the subsequent series parts will be announced in the future.

Deputies examine goodies

Using metal detectors, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department will assist residents this Halloween between 7 and 10 p.m., Sheriff Robert A. Ficano announced.

Officers will be stationed in the Sheriff's Park Station, Hines Park west of Newburgh, and McDonald's Restaurant, 5235 Merriman, Westland.

The sheriff also urged children and parents to heed these safety recommendations:

- Wear light-colored clothing bright enough to be seen from a distance.
- Make sure children can see well through face masks.
- Accompany young children.
- Go out in daylight and carry a flashlight in case of a delay.
- Stay within the neighborhood and visit only homes you know.
- Examine candy before allowing children to eat it.

Strike ends, anger doesn't

never bargained directly with any union in the history of the district.

Raymond Masters urged the board not to increase class size. "Remember as you increase production the quality of the product will suffer."

Tricia Enoch, speaking for an ad hoc group calling themselves "concerned parents" in Canton, told the board they had collected 1,900 signatures in a day and a half and presented them to Ingham County Circuit Judge Robert Bell. "We want the board, the unions, and Judge Bell to know we will not let our children be used as pawns in labor negotiations. A factory can go on strike and the machinery is idled, but we are not talking here of machinery being idle but about young minds being idle."

A reconciliatory note was struck by Dean Swartzel who commented, "I hope instead of brandishing swords we will now bury the hatchet."

Other speakers also commented that the strike resulted in wounds which will be festering long after the proposed agreement is ratified and urged both sides work on improving their communication skills.

Retailers will boost Community Fund campaign

Some 48 Plymouth area merchants will be participating in the Plymouth Community Fund United Way Day on Saturday, Oct. 22.

On Saturday the 48 merchants will be donating 10 percent of their sales to the United Way fund campaign.

October is kind of a slow month and this is one way that we can boost sales and give something back into our community," said Fred Hill of John Smith's clothes.

Paul J. Sincok, chairman of the business division of the local United Way Drive, noted "this is something really unique that was totally developed by the merchants in cooperation with the Plymouth Community Chamber. This shows that the merchants are involved in their community."

Plymouth Mayor Eldon W. Martin has declared October as Plymouth Community Fund United Way month and is urging residents to support the merchants on this worthy cause on United Way Day on Oct. 22, 1983.

Participating merchants include: Sacks of Forest Avenue, Tadmore's of Plymouth, Andy's Hallmark, Sportventure, Salt Box, Beautiful People Hair Forum, Nawrot Pendleton Shop; Put up on Shop, Bed 'n' Stead, Baskets and Bows, Enchanté, All by Hand.

Rally protests moving

A group of Northville Township homeowners are seeking public support at a rally to protest the moving of a state prison site.

The Michigan Department of Corrections recently announced its intention to move a new prison site from Five Mile Road and Beck to Five Mile and Sheldon.

The move, according to the corrections department, will save some $20 million — even though preliminary construction work has been completed at the original site.

The Northville group, Concerned Citizens for Western Wayne County, scheduled the Saturday morning rally in anticipation of raising funds to pay for its lobbyist, Jim Karub.

The group reportedly has raised $14,000 of the needed $20,000 for Karub's services.

In addition to raising funds, the rally is being held to inform residents about the effects of moving the site.

Residents petition against MX

A petition containing some 10,000 names protesting development of the MX missile was presented last week to the local office of U.S. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth.

The 10,000 signatures on petitions against the MX were collected from Livonia, Jackson, Northville, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Hillsdale, and Adrian by residents of the 2nd Congressional District.

When the petitions were presented by the 2nd District Emergency Campaign to Stop the MX, some 70 balloons were released from a model MX missile at Pursell's Plymouth office at 134 N. Main.

The 70 balloons symbolize the $70.2 million Pursell's District will lose in taxes if the first strike MX is built, says JoAnne Fechter of the Peace Resource Center of Western Wayne County.

"Congressman Pursell needs to know that many constituents in the district are very seriously opposed to him voting for the MX," said Helene Ellis of the Hillsdale Center for Peace Awareness.

Residents petition against MX

"WE USED to be pleased that we were represented by a man who saw the MX for what it is, a first strike, destabilizing, and utterly useless weapon, and we hope these petitions will demonstrate to Congressman Pursell that he has a great deal of support if he again votes his conscience against MX funding."

Larry Hutchinson of Adrian stated: "I can't believe that Pursell, who has been so opposed to the MX in the past, really feels comfortable supporting the MX using the false logic of its usefulness as a bargaining chip."

Fechter, a Plymouth resident, said she regretted the petition drive didn't get under way earlier but she was encouraged by the favorable response from residents of the 2nd district.

Tom Hayes of the Interfaith Council for Peace in Ann Arbor claims that 60 to 70 percent of the people who have been questioned on the issue have expressed opposition to the vulnerable hand-based missile in the form of a signature on a petition or letter to Pursell.

Board avoids communication

To the editor: When I cast my vote for a school board member, I expect to elect someone who will represent my interests as a taxpayer and parent in the management of the school district's affairs.

fundamental, underlying issues are more those of mutual respect, fairness and trust. There obviously is a strong and virtually unanimous feeling among employees of having been treated unfairly and with little human concern or dignity by their administrators and board for a long time.

executive session with no public attendance and the total absence of cooperation with the League of Women Voters' efforts to set up an open public forum, seems calculated to keep the board totally insulated from the public they represent.

GOP SEEKS showdown Allo defends his comp board role

By Tim Richard staff writer

Republican state senators today headed for a showdown vote on Gov. James Blanchard's choice to head a major state agency.

"I've been turned into a symbol, and I don't believe there's any reality to it," said Allo, who will serve 3 1/2 years on the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board unless 20 senators vote to reject him.

The 38-year-old former Bloomfield Township resident faced during two hours of grilling in a Senate committee Wednesday. The former University of Detroit law professor sought to portray himself as "a neutral working in a Republican administration."

SENATE MAJORITY Leader William Faust, D-Westland, sought to keep the appointment from going to the Senate floor by not reporting Allo and five other appointees out of his Senate Administration Committee.

The six are automatically confirmed 60 days after their appointments unless 20 senators vote to reject them. By Republican calculations, Allo's 60 days expire Monday. Thus, today is the final working day for Republicans to force Senate action.

Sen. Doug Cruce, R-Troy, said he would seek full Senate approval today of a discharge petition, a parliamentary maneuver which would bring the matter immediately before the Senate.

Senate Minority Leader John Engler, R-Mt. Pleasant, said the appointment would be decided by "one vote, either way." He was confident all 18 Republicans would vote to reject. The tactical question was whether he could pick off two of the 20 Democratic senators to block the appointment.

"I DON'T think the business community is against me — just one organization," Allo told senators.

He meant the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, which conducted a letter writing campaign and organized members to appear at the confirmation hearing wearing "Stop Allo" buttons. Allo said the Michigan Manufacturers Association and Big Three automakers "have dealt with me first-hand and know what I am. A lot of people in the room have been genuinely misled."

When Sen. Nick Smith, R-Hillsdale County, asked what he would "overcome the anti-business symbolism," Allo replied: "As chairman of the 15-member appeals board, he has instituted a system of 'blind draw' assignment of workers comp appeals cases, rotating three-member panels and assigning cases at random, reducing chances of bias."

on members' interests and had not set productivity standards, as Allo said he plans to do.

"I hope this hearing gets out better information than has been put out," he said, again pointing to the state chamber campaign against him.

"I will go back and meet with any (complaining) chamber and let them get to know me. I will be as available as much as possible. I've always respected the businessman as one who looks at costs."

DESPITE REPUBLICAN grilling, some questions were easy. Democrat Gary Corbin of Clio asked if Allo were a "UAW puppet."

"I reject it flatly, totally, unequivocally," said Allo. He related an incident in which he advised a UAW leader to "do something about retirees." The reference was to the way some UAW retirees would collect pensions, then file workers comp claims for vague injuries — a practice which business and Republicans blistered as double-dipping.

Water ruling overturned

No date has been set for further trial court proceedings. The appeals court ruled that Wexford County Circuit Judge William Peterson erred in accepting the rate formula set by Detroit. The case was shifted to the Westford judge in a change of venue.

George E. Ward, attorney for the suburban communities, explained how Detroit was found to have overcharged suburban customers $7.4 million a year and $37.1 million over five years.

The trial court was held to have misapplied the 'cost of capital' method in finding 'not unreasonable' Detroit's practice of making a charge for return on investment amounting to 9 percent of the value of all capital plant and equipment used in serving the suburbs, Ward said.

"ONLY 35 percent of the suburban-plant is owned by Detroit free and clear. The remaining 65 percent is financed by existing mortgages bearing an average interest of only 4.5 percent."

on the share of plant owned by it free and clear was not 9 percent, but approximately 17.6 percent. "If 9 percent is deemed to be a fair annual return, then the approximate 17.6 percent actually charged each year on Detroit's equity in the suburban-plant includes an overcharge of 8.6 percent per year. The dollar value of Detroit's equity in the suburban-plant is approximately $86.4 million, taken from Detroit's own financial records.

"In collecting an excessive 8.6 percent of that value, Detroit overcharged the suburbs $7.4 million each year, a total of $37.1 million over five years."

MEANWHILE, Oakland County Drain Commissioner George Kuhn announced a new package of bills would be introduced in the Michigan Senate giving suburbs a voice on a regional water board.

All seven members of the Detroit Water Board — four city residents and three suburbanites — are selected by Mayor Coleman Young and can be dismissed at any time.

The stakes are high
Searching for normalcy now that strike's over

THERE WAS good news Tuesday afternoon as word spread throughout the community that schools would be open the next day. Most of us welcomed the news that the strike was over. We can begin to hope for a return to normal — although some taxpayers likely breathed a sign of relief with their fingers crossed and hands on their wallets.

Although there was no financial analysis immediately available on the tentative agreement, it doesn't seem likely that the economic settlement will result directly in a request for a property tax increase.

All striking employees will receive a 3 percent increase the first year (from June 1983 to June 1984) and a 6 percent increase the second year. In addition, those employees at the top of the wage scale will receive an additional 1 percent for the second semester of the second year.

We think that amounts to a pay increase of 6.5 percent the second year for those at the top, a six percent hike for all others.

The school board, before the strike, had offered three percent the first year and 6 percent the second year. The difference of 1 or 5 percent is not so great that a tax hike will result. Likely the difference can be made up in fund equity or in sounder state financing. There may be reasons for all to keep their fingers crossed.

Some may wonder aloud whether a two-week-plus strike was worth an extra percent. We need to realize that employees walked out expecting more than a 1 percent increase above what was on the table at that time. What the unions really decided, quite reluctantly apparently, was that the added 1 or 1.5 percent was worth putting a stop to the strike. Thus, that was the price of returning to work, not the price of striking.

In any event, all parties involved can breathe a sigh of relief that the strike is over and the business of education once again is under way.

Hopefully, the community can find a way to set aside feelings of anger, bitterness, frustration and hopelessness which surfaced during the past couple weeks. Certainly people on both sides, and those caught in the middle, still hold some very negative opinions of the parties involved. We need to weigh the price of hanging onto those opinions now that the battle has ended.

Feelings got out of hand and emotions ran far too high. The reasons are understandable as the stakes were high. But now we need to seek a return to normal for the same reason — the stakes are far too high to do otherwise.

High tech magazines
give latest information

Regular readers of this column have asked me where I get my information on high technology. Basically I use the three R's — research, reading and reflection.

Research includes library references as well as interviews with key informants. Reading is probably my greatest resource because I always seem to have my nose in a book or magazine which addresses some aspect of high technology. Lastly, reflection is what I do when I am preparing myself to write the column.

NUMEROUS SCIENCE and tech oriented magazines are on the newsstand. I have found several to be invaluable with up to date information. These include: High Technology, Technology Illustrated, Science 83 and Discover.

Changes in science and technology are coming faster and faster these days. Science news is outdated almost as soon as it is reported. If you want to keep up with newest developments, you may want to subscribe to one or more of these magazines. In most cases, local libraries also subscribe to these periodicals.

All four magazines are less than three years old. They were published during a boom in the magazine industry when many new periodicals hit the newsstand in an attempt to offer science and technical information to the general public. Not all survived.

ONE OF THE first to appear was Discover. This Time-Life publication is billed as "America's leading science magazine." The writing is down-to-earth and jargon-free, similar to Time magazine.

Discover has regular departments on personalities, news items, essays and profiles of science people. In addition, each issue has reviews of books and exhibitions.

Recent articles include a feature on acid rain, super antibodies, the computer as scientist and high-tech wine making. Subscription price for 12 issues is $22 per year, or $2 per issue at the newsstand. Send subscriptions to Discover, Time-Life Bldg., 541 N. Fairbanks Ct., Chicago, IL 60611.

SCIENCE 83, also first appearing in 1980, is published by the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The magazine is geared toward a college-educated lay audience. Science 83 includes material on developments in science and their impact on people.

Each issue describes important and exciting developments in all the sciences, medicine and technology. The magazine also profiles scientists and high tech

their work, as well as reviews of books, movies and television programs.

Recent feature articles appeared on such widely diverse topics as Margaret Mead, "friendly robots" and a special report on the Pentagon's next super weapon.

For a subscription, write: Science 83, Subscription Dept., PO Box 10778, Des Moines, IA, 50347. Subscription price for 10 issues is $15, or $2 per issue at the newsstand.

ARTICLES ON technology for educated but scientifically untrained readers appear in Technology Illustrated. Articles explore the how of innovation and interventions without scientific jargon.

Recent issues included articles on the process to change classic black and white films to color, bringing sunlight to underground living and working spaces, a profile of Atari's chief scientist of video games, and robots with a sense of touch.

Subscription price for 12 issues is $18 per year, or $2 per issue at the newsstand. Subscriptions should be sent to: Technology Illustrated, P.O. Box 2804, Boulder, CO, 80521.

THE PREMIER magazine, High Technology, has taken the lead as the most sophisticated among the four leading science and technology journals.

On occasion, articles are somewhat overly technical, but the magazine is liberally sprinkled with vivid graphics which assist the reader in comprehending the article's main points.

High Technology appeals to a wide readership made up of businesspeople, scientists, industrialists, educators and consumers. Regular departments include business, microcomputers, book reviews, resources, stocks and investments.

Recent feature articles have appeared on optical communication, commercial enterprises in space, genetic engineering and earth-scanning satellites.

Subscription price for 12 issues is $21 per year, or $2 per issue at the news stand. Send subscriptions to: High Technology, P.O. Box 2808, Boulder, CO, 80521.

Dr. Watcke is a dean at Wayne County Community College.

Kids are afraid to tell when a man accosts them

A LITTLE GIRL looked up as the woman put ink on the child's hands. "Why do I have to do this?" The slightly flustered woman responded, "Because if you get lost, we will need your fingerprints."

Left unaided was that of the little girl were ever abducted and murdered, her fingerprints may be the only means to identify her body.

School districts in suburban Detroit have been fingerprinting children throughout this year. For example, Livonia schools will take part in the program through December.

It's a simple procedure. Parents must sign permission slips before a child is fingerprinted. "Let me be fingerprinted if necessary, the only way to prove I am the parent or guardian, but no prints are made for any governmental agency."

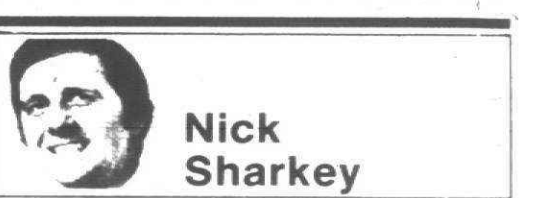

The fingerprinting takes a few minutes and is no discomfort with a minimum of inconvenience.

A WARNING child is perhaps a parent's greatest fear. The statistics are grim. An estimated 50,000 children disappear in the United States every year. About 1,000 children are found murdered. Of those, 2,000 are never identified.

The child fingerprint identification program is an attempt to change these statistics, said Carol Strom, president of the Livonia Board of Education.

Anyone who lived in the metropolitan Detroit area in 1976-77 needs no reminder of what can happen to missing children. During a 13-month period, four Oakland County children were abducted and murdered.

Those murders focused national attention on this area. The killer or killers were never found. What the subsequent investigation uncovered was almost more disturbing than the murders. During that time, school officials in six Oakland communities asked children if a man had tried to pick them up during the previous year. Elementary and junior high children reported 700 abduction attempts.

Nick Sharkey
Most attempts were not reported to parents because children feared their parents would restrict their freedom.

INTEREST IN the abduction of children was heightened last week by a television special about missing children since the showing of "Adam." This show depicted the frustrating attempts by the John Walsh family to find their son, Adam, when he was abducted and murdered in 1981.

Jerry Tobias, the youth officer for Southfield Township, said he has received several inquiries about missing children since the showing of "Adam." Tobias was a member of the Oakland County Homicide Task Force — the official name of the group that investigated the four killings.

Tobias didn't know of any abductions of children in this area during the past year, he said.

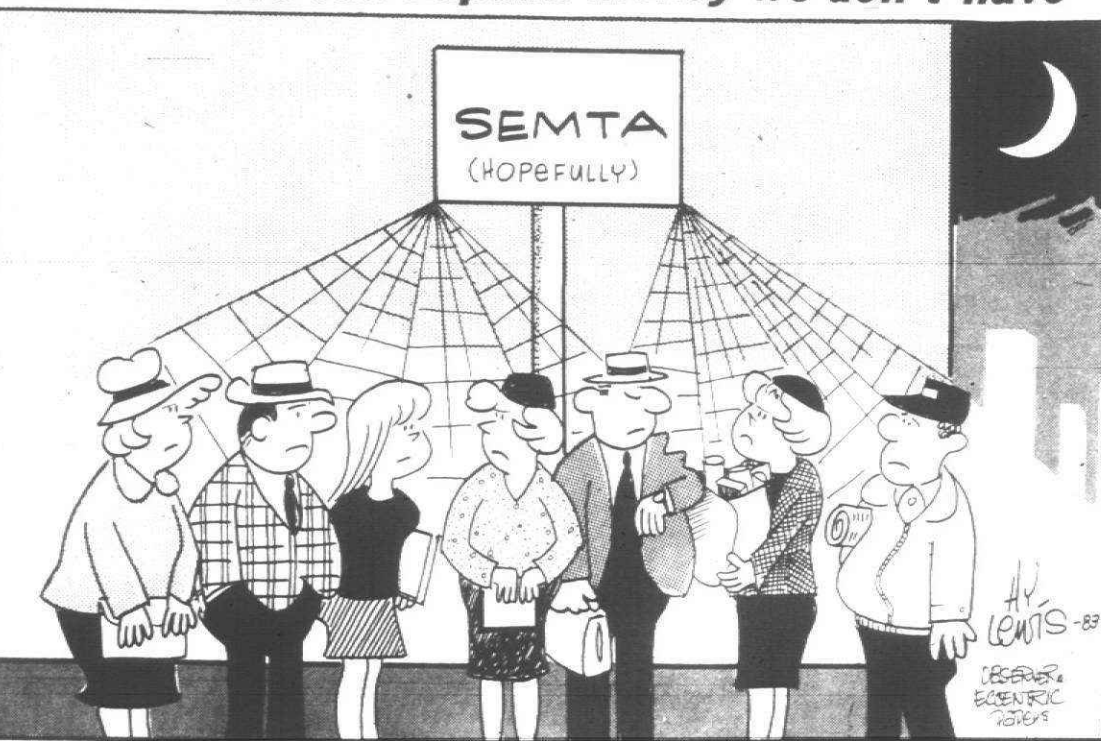

"It has not been a problem, lately. But the danger is always there."

Educating children about abduction poses a dilemma for parents. On the one hand, they teach children to be polite and friendly to all persons. At the same time, parents preach, "Don't talk to strangers."

What's Tobias' advice? "The goal of parents should be not to teach fear, but to educate. Kids understand a lot more than we give them credit for."

"Parents must keep the doors to communication open so they can freely discuss this subject with their children."

Power at Schoolcraft
Phys ed fans come on strong

THE REACTION of the physical education fans was excessive, almost shrill. Even before the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees had scheduled a special meeting on the campus master plan, 922 people were signing petitions saying "Keep your hands off the auxiliary gym in the Physical Education Building."

Even before the board could hear a presentation on the master plan from two vice presidents, athletic director Marvin Gans was making his pitch for keeping the gym. Prudence suggests you let the VPs present the overall plan before attacking one part of it.

Gans and his supporters came on so strong that, at one point, trustee Paul Y. Kadish glared directly at him and said, "What I hear from you, Marv, is Look at all alternatives except the auxiliary gym." Well I'm going to look at all the alternatives.

Wow! It's strong stuff when a trustee who has made a 10-year avocation of serving the college, publicly rebukes an administrator like that.

GOOD OL' DICK McDowell, Schoolcraft's president for the last two years, put the matter in context.

The community college, which serves northwest Wayne County, is almost a victim of its own success. The college in the 1960s and '70s added programs even before it had adequate space to house them all.

Tim Richard
INSTEAD, THE ISSUE degenerated into a question of whether the auxiliary gym, which is allegedly receiving less use as phys ed credit hours decline, should be converted into a data processing lab and business offices.

Actually, Gans and his fans have a pretty good case. Phys ed strikes me as one of the properly housed programs on campus. To take over the auxiliary gym for a much-needed data lab is like robbing Peter to pay Paul.

The ideal answer is new construction — either a brand new building or an addition to something like Applied Sciences.

That would likely require a public vote, to which two trustees say nay — Kadish, because he chaired three other such campaigns and is tired of getting his very useful brains beat in, and Rosina Raymond, who cites 13 percent unemployment out there.

Well, if the other five board members decide to vote to the voters, no one would be better to run the millage campaign than Marv Gans. Seriously, the AD is one heckuva fund-raiser, has wide community contacts, has demonstrated he can play hardball politics and whip up the sports warriors.

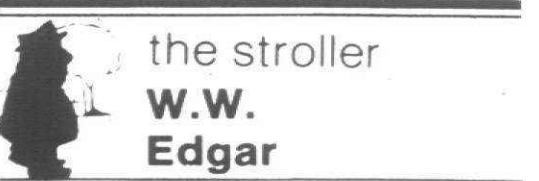

Old-time dances
— country style and ballroom

EVERY YEAR about this time, when the frost is on the pumpkin and the corn is in the shock, The Stroller contracts a spell of homesickness.

He'd like to turn back the pages and live again in the era when hayrides out to the country hotels for a good chicken dinner and an evening of all sorts of dancing were the vogue.

There was nothing like the old-fashioned square dances for an evening of fun. And as he sits in front of his television these evenings and watches some of the outlandish performances of what they call modern dancing, he can almost hear the "caller" bellow out, "Swing your partner — turn to the left — turn to the right," concluding with "All hands round."

They were evenings of great fun, but they have become only memories. Now, in some places, there is a move to bring those days back by teaching square dancing at some of the municipal recreation centers.

the stroller
W.W. Edgar
Who could forget the Graystone, the Grande, Oriole Terrace or Webster Hall — the latter now one of the main buildings of Wayne State University?

The major hotels sponsored dancing with the country's leading bands — Guy Lombardo, Ted Lewis, Henry Mancini, Bob Chester, Gene Goldkette and Lawrence Welk.

These dances always were treats, and even when the Huck family owned Westwood Gardens on Michigan Avenue, it was a real treat just to sit and watch the two-steppers and waltzers dance to the strains of big name bands.

THERE WERE other outstanding dances besides the waltz. The two-step was the favorite of the younger folks because it was faster. Another favorite was the schottische, where you took three steps and then kicked.

The real fun was to attend Hungarian weddings. At these functions, the bride always returned to the hall wearing an apron and accepted gifts of money when you danced with her. It was the rule in those days that the dancers helped set up the young couples in housekeeping.

These dances were typically called "hoe-downs" and were real fun. They are gone, possibly never to return.

There are others that are only memories. There are the tap dancing in singles and soft shoe dancing, still a treat when you watch Gene Kelly dancing to the strains of "Singin' in the Rain."

What a pleasure it would be to have those days back again.

DID YOU KNOW that Lake Superior — the deepest, largest, clearest and, many believe, the most beautiful of all the Great Lakes — has been a "trapped" lake? Geological shifting and upheavals caused by early glaciers held it back behind the St. Mary's River rapids at the Soo, and it has remained static, cold and isolated to this day.

from our readers

Disurbed by the shorter day

To the editor:
I am disturbed by the change in the middle school day being negotiated by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education and the Plymouth-Canton Education Association.
If class periods are now too short, why not schedule each class fewer times per week for a longer time, instead of eliminating one period, i.e. one subject?
I hope that my student will not be faced with having to choose between a foreign language and band when he is a ninth grader. I don't consider a foreign language an elective for a college-bound ninth grader. And his musical education is equally important.
The board and the PCEA should carefully consider the impact of the proposal on students.

Alayne Gelletly
Plymouth

Questions asked of both sides

To the editor:
An open letter to the Plymouth-Canton teachers and school board.
After listening to all the emotionalism being displayed by both sides over the question once again of teacher and school system employee compensation, I find myself once again feeling like the proverbial rope in a tug of war, being tugged at from both sides.
Since it's always easy to be critical from a distance and since I really don't know enough about the facts from either side, I'll refrain from compounding the situation with more childlike rhetoric.

However, I will share some thoughts from the parent corner of this situation.
• Why is it that neither side ever communicates with the parent group at-large until they are in a state of crisis?
• Why is it that neither side ever communicates with the parent group at-large on anything other than compensation? (i.e., quality of education)

• Why is it that the facts regarding the results or accomplishments of this school system are never published... are there none? How do our children rank in college entrance scores after 12 years here? How well do they do in college-comparably to other systems?
• This community is paying for the best in education... are they getting the best?
• Do teachers get a formal annual written appraisal... if so, what are the results?
• Why do you both continue to use my children as "pawns" in your "game"? I don't want them in school next summer!
• What is the educational truth about this class size? How do teaching aids affect this size? Are teachers provided modern teaching aids like computers?
• What are the facts on maintenance personnel and administrator numbers and salaries? (i.e., is too much money going for wages rather than educational "tools?")
• How many class hours a day do middle school and high school teachers actually teach?

Finally, a note of personal emotion — please don't waste any more of your breath telling me about your workload and work burden... you all chose your profession like we parents and I don't get home at 3:30 in the afternoon nor have three "mental health" months off each year. To all of you... get your act together and earn parental support through communication and results. I want my kids back in school!

Maybe we parents should keep our kids home on all the official state "count" days besides voting down additional millage until we see some of the fiscal responsibility and professionalism you all profess so strongly.
In conclusion, to the Plymouth-Canton Employees Coalition... what do you mean in your flyer $1.6 million extra dollars? You insult my intelligence.

Robert E. Berg
Plymouth

Students think teachers unfair

To the editor:
We think the teachers are being unfair to the kids by striking. We have a right to an education!
We don't want to be held back because of the teachers! The teachers might not care about our education but we do. It's absolutely against the law, and it's interfering with our education.

Charity... in the cards

Just as it's better to give than receive, it's satisfying to greet friends and loved ones with a card bought from a charitable organization. Whether you choose a stylized Christmas tree, a whimsical Santa Claus or an artist's rendition of the nativity scene, the choosing and the sending are gestures full of love and charity.

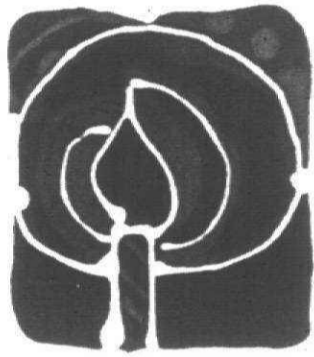

Use cards sold by organizations help battle disease, support mentally retarded and physically handicapped persons, and make life less mean and more meaningful for people who need help.

Anxiety has been called "the disease of our age." No wonder! The desire for success, popularity, and status can become an inner ache. Questions about society, values, and our threatened world can turn into a gnawing helplessness. Day after day it chips at us. What can be done? Is there any antidote for anxiety? Life isn't always easy or pleasant. No one told us it would be. When Jesus said, "I'll never leave you or forsake you." He's recognizing the presence of anxiety. But he helps us face squarely, deal with it, and move beyond its power. He offers Himself and His resources to sustain us, and help us grow in every situation of life.

Historic St. Joseph's celebrates 127 years

Historic St. Joseph's Church in downtown Detroit will celebrate 127 years with a commemorative dinner Nov. 6. The celebration coincides with the 150th anniversary of the Archdiocese of Detroit.

Beginning as a German parish in 1856, St. Joseph's still has strong ties to its ancestry. Every fourth Sunday of the month there is a German Mass. Accorded both city and state landmark designations, its distinctively central European Gothic structure was built in 1863. During its long history, St. Joseph operated a grade and high school across from the Eastern Market.

Featured speaker will be Magr. Francis X. Canfield, pastor of St. Paul's in Grosse Pointe Farms. Canfield, an archdiocesan historian, will talk on "150 Years... and More."

The dinner will take place at the Sentinel Center, 2215 E. Jefferson at Chene in Detroit. $45 p.m. Tickets are $15 per person. For information, call 393-8212.

new voices

Samuel and Cynthia Mazzara announce the birth of a son, Christopher Michael, born Sept. 19 in Ann Arbor Hospital. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Mazzara of Livonia and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Prange of Roseville.

A daughter, Melissa Lynn, was born Sept. 10 in Garden City Osteopathic Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. William E. Scott Jr. of Garden City. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerard R. Beer of Ormond Beach, Fla., and William E. Scott Sr. of Greensburg, Pa. and Jacqueline Shaker of Miami, Fla.

Former Redford residents Mark and Judith Burgess, who now live in Quincy, Mich., announce the birth of a son, Evan Mark on Aug. 25. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Mahmeister of Redford and Mrs. Reinhold G. Kitzmann of Redford and Mark E. Burgess of Pleasant Ridge.

Joline and Donald Nalepa of Whitmore Lake have a new son, Gregory Alan, born Sept 9 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gary Verellen of Hamburg, and Jean Moore of Livonia and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nalepa of Livonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Cook of Redford Township announced the birth of a son, Jeffrey Alan on Sept. 9. Jeffrey has three sisters, Amy, Melissa and Sarah.

William and Janice Higgins are the parents of a daughter, Sara Marie, born Sept. 26. Paternal grandparents are William and Rosemary Higgins of Northville; maternal grandparents are Armando and Elvera Polidori of Tawas City, formerly of Livonia; and great-grandparents are Filomena Polidoro of Dearborn.

Episcopals, Lutherans participate Joint worship expresses closer unity

Two Livonia churches — one Lutheran and the other Episcopal — will hold joint worship and communion celebrations Sunday in accordance with a mutual agreement declared last year that marks the interim communion agreement between the two main church bodies.

The Rev. Kenneth Davis of St. Andrew's will preach at the 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. services at Holy Trinity and he will assist Pastor James Spilos in the celebration of the eucharist in the last service.

In addition to an exchange of pastors, some lay people from both churches will also take part in the celebration.

SIMILARLY, PASTOR Robert Seitz of Holy Trinity will preach at the 7:45 a.m. and 10 a.m. services at St. Andrew's and assist the Rev. Gary Seay in the last service at St. Andrew's. Several lay persons from each congregation will visit the other, participating in adult discussion groups and communion services.

Participating are Holy Trinity Lutheran and St. Andrew Episcopal churches.

Just over a year ago, the Episcopal Holy Trinity is at 39020 Five Mile. St. Andrew's is at 16360 Hubbard.

ADK is AOK with them

Ask the residents of the Livonia Opportunity House what the initials ADK stand for and they're liable to respond: apples, doughnuts and (candy) kisses. That's because members of the educational sorority Alpha Delta Kappa presented the residents with those items in honor of national Alpha Delta Kappa Week. The presentation was made by Joan Ponnars (second from left), Garnetta Vaughn and Emily Stankus, Tau chapter members and teachers in the Livonia school district. At the receiving end of the goodies are Donald Lowry (left) and Dorothy Grunst (right), Alpha Delta Kappa is an international honorary professional sorority of women educators with chapters in all 50 states and five other countries.

church bulletin

● ST. THEODORE CATHOLIC
The Rev. Joe Mitchell, a member of the Passionist Fathers, will conduct a Mission starting Sunday at St. Theodore Catholic Church 8200 Wayne Road, Westland. It will continue through Thursday, Oct. 27.

A Mission is a five-day retreat conducted in the parish church. Following a tradition that is more than 300 years old, St. Theodore has set aside this week as a time of intensive prayer and listening to God's word. The public is invited.

The heart of the Mission is the evening service. Each evening from Sunday through Thursday, a Mission service will be conducted at 7 p.m. The services include hymns, scripture readings, prayer and a sermon, which each evening will be on a theme prominent in Holy Scripture. Wednesday evening will be youth night.

In addition to the evening services, the Passionist missionaries will offer Mass each morning Monday through Thursday at 10 a.m. The sermons will be different from the evening ones.

Mitchell is a native of Kentucky and is now stationed in Louisville. He was trained in psychology at Bellarmine College and completed his studies in theology at the Catholic Theological Union in Chicago.

● Both Mitchell and the Rev. Jack Conely will be available during the five days for personal counseling on sacramental matters. Those who desire sacramental reconciliation may go to confession after any of the Mission services.

● GARDEN CITY PRESBYTERIAN
Dr. Johanna Bos, associate professor of the Old Testament at the Louisville Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., will lead a Bible study from 3-4:30 p.m. Sunday in Garden City Presbyterian Church, 1841 Middlebelt.

Bos was the Bible study leader at the national meeting of United Presbyterian women at Purdue University in 1982, and has been commissioned to write the study for 1984-85 for Presbyterian Women.

She will use as her study "The Kingdom of God is Taking Responsibility."

● PLYMOUTH FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN
Dr. Kenneth Kettlewell, minister of First Presbyterian Church of Detroit, will preach at 9:15 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday in First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, 701 Church.

He will be speaking as part of an urban/suburban friendship pulp exchange between the Detroit church, the oldest Protestant congregation in Michigan, and the Plymouth Church. His topic will be "When Bad Things Happen to Good People."

● WAYNE FIRST BAPTIST
"Strengthening Your Grip," a film series by Charles Swindoll will be presented six Sunday evenings starting Oct. 23 at First Baptist Church of Wayne, 38125 Glenwood. The showings start at 6 p.m.

"Priorities: Freedom from the Tyranny of the Urgent" is the title of the first film. Subsequent movies will deal with aging, leisure, godliness, attitudes and authority.

Golden anniversary for Plymouth Nazarene

Special homecoming ceremonies this weekend will mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Plymouth Church of the Nazarene, 41550 Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

Services will be at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Oct. 21-22 and 10 a.m., 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday. A fellowship dinner will be at 1 p.m. Sunday at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

Speaker will be Dr. Charles Strickland, one of six general superintendents of the Church of the Nazarene, with offices at the International Center of the denomination at Kansas City, Mo.

Dr. Strickland served as the first president of the Nazarene Bible College in Colorado Springs, Colo., which opened in the fall of 1967. Before that he was superintendent of the Nazarene work among the Europeans in South Africa from 1948 to 1965. He is the author of a book "Africa Adventure," published in 1958. He also has written numerous articles for church periodicals.

SPECIAL MUSIC will be provided by Brothers III of Plymouth on Friday and Saturday, and Jim Bohl and Co. of Olathe, Kan. on Saturday and Sunday.

The Plymouth church was organized in 1933 at the conclusion of a nine-week tent crusade at the corner of Starkweather and Spring streets. Starting with a nucleus of 20 people, the membership now stands at 435.

After several temporary sites, a lot at the corner of Holbrook Avenue and Pearl streets was given to the church in 1936 and a new building was erected. Additions over the years include a basement unit, parsonage and educational facilities known as New Horizons. Total acreage is now 15.9 acres.

The Rev. Carl H. Allen has been pastor since July 1976.

Nation needs a peace academy

Conflict is inevitable. It arises despite mutual interest, unity of purpose or shared goals. It is most intense and destructive when aims are the most noble.

Many of us ignore tension or run away from conflict in a desire for peace at any price. Just as often we turn conflict into a fight we hope to win. Everyone needs skills for coping with conflict. With methods of coping comes confidence the parties and the situation will be improved by honestly facing facts.

Several colleges and universities have programs in conflict resolution and management. Wisdom has accumulated in response to industrial tensions, international problems, and more ordinary human relations in family life. In addition to academic centers there are programs such as training people for diplomatic service.

OUR WORLD can no longer afford to let insights about conflict management lie hidden in filing cabinets and dusty reports. Historians will be years finding out what really worked to end the Iranian hostage crisis or to bring Egypt and Israel to the conclusion of the Camp David accords. Is there any way to get practical use from the scattered libraries, research, skills and programs?

Yes. A national peace academy was proposed 28 years ago and stands a good chance of actually being born this year. Both Michigan senators and seven of our U.S. representatives are among 153 cosponsors.

A peace academy can become a highly respected center for scholarship and training. People involved in peace learning can be both a symbol and national purpose and a practical asset all through society. Imagine the visibility of peace if the academy had the finest facilities of any educational enterprise in the country.

IMAGINE alumni holding important positions all through government and business of those from the war college for high ranking military officers? Teachers in all the social sciences could study at the center for wisdom about human relations.

Dreams diminish during the legislative process. Amendments reflect shortsighted concerns of current fears. In the long perspective, the peace academy could lead us beyond mere hand wringing when conventional weapons result in downing a civilian airliner and beyond standoffs regarding chemical and nuclear weaponry.

Legislators need to know our feelings when it comes to crucial funding decisions. More than that, we need to converse with each other to create a national climate giving prestige to people and programs pursuing peace. Conflict resolution and management deserves the highest priority for the sake of all aspects of our society. A national peace academy can help us live productively with inevitable conflict.

moral perspectives Rev. Charles Erickson

Conflict is inevitable. It arises despite mutual interest, unity of purpose or shared goals. It is most intense and destructive when aims are the most noble.

Many of us ignore tension or run away from conflict in a desire for peace at any price. Just as often we turn conflict into a fight we hope to win. Everyone needs skills for coping with conflict. With methods of coping comes confidence the parties and the situation will be improved by honestly facing facts.

Several colleges and universities have programs in conflict resolution and management. Wisdom has accumulated in response to industrial tensions, international problems, and more ordinary human relations in family life. In addition to academic centers there are programs such as training people for diplomatic service.

OUR WORLD can no longer afford to let insights about conflict management lie hidden in filing cabinets and dusty reports. Historians will be years finding out what really worked to end the Iranian hostage crisis or to bring Egypt and Israel to the conclusion of the Camp David accords. Is there any way to get practical use from the scattered libraries, research, skills and programs?

Yes. A national peace academy was proposed 28 years ago and stands a good chance of actually being born this year. Both Michigan senators and seven of our U.S. representatives are among 153 cosponsors.

A peace academy can become a highly respected center for scholarship and training. People involved in peace learning can be both a symbol and national purpose and a practical asset all through society. Imagine the visibility of peace if the academy had the finest facilities of any educational enterprise in the country.

How a lady alone does it

At the Fontainebleau (sigh!) and dining alone (gasp!)

It's 8 p.m. at the Fontainebleau Hotel, a glamorous hotel on Miami Beach, but it could be any hotel anywhere in the world. If you are a vacationer or a business traveler who travels alone, you will recognize this moment, especially if you are a woman. It is time for dinner, but the dining rooms of the world don't seem to be set up for people traveling alone.

There are several eating areas in this beautiful renovated hotel — on the terrace, around the pool, in the lower lobby, discos, lobby bars, coffee shops, dining rooms. The outdoor eating places are closed now, so I really have four choices: the dining room, the disco-cum-steak house, the coffee shop, or my room.

Many single women eat alone in their room because they feel uncomfortable dining alone, but in most cases that is a mistake — an expensive lonely mistake. The coffee shop is always safe, of course, but what if you want a nice dinner with the wine and ambience that only comes with an elegant dining room?

Most of us are experienced enough when it comes to visiting an expensive restaurant with a man or with a group of people. A thousand fears interfere when we think of going to such a place alone. Will I feel out of place? Will I be lonely? Am I dressed right? Is

1-of-a-kind traveler
Iris Jones
contributing travel editor

too expensive? Will I know how to order from the wine list, how to tip... how to handle the maitre d'... etc.

Most of these are small surface details, meaningless fears. Get over them and you will be able to enjoy the food, music, ambience, wine, service — all the things that you deserve as much as any couple or group enjoying a dining room.

HERE ARE A FEW TIPS. Dress up a little, in something simple enough to make you feel comfortable and dressy enough to make you feel part of the ambience of the room. A skirt and blouse, or a simple dress, with high heels.

Don't say, "Oh well, it doesn't matter and go in your slacks. Your goal should be to make yourself as comfortable psychologically as possible. This probably doesn't mean "dressing up to the nine's." It is only a dinner, after all, not a wedding.

Check out all the choices. The Fontainebleau has a steak-cum-bar room with booths and mirrored walls. Later in the night it will be a disco. I look in there, but I decide that I will feel more alone in that intimate, dark atmosphere than somewhere else. I can always come back if there is nothing better.

The lobby has an open bar area where you can drink and order small fast-food meals or appetizers while looking out the window at the view. Very tempting, but I don't really want to be alone in a lobby bar. It feels too lonely. The Dining Galleries, visible through a glass wall, tempt me, but will I be comfortable in there?

I can see the room through the glass in a flicker of lights. One step takes me to the door, where a menu is posted so I know what I am in for financially. Two steps take me to the reservation desk. I ask if I can take another four steps and see the dining room itself.

THE MAIN GALLERY is a gallery of lights, crystal chandeliers, gleaming glasses and mirrors, flowers and fruit piled high on a table, lighted busts of marble and fake bronze, soft music and the quiet rumble of voices over the sound of forks and china.

Many single women eat alone in their room because they feel uncomfortable dining out alone, but in most cases that is an expensive lonely mistake.

What's really involved at this moment for most women is this: If I go in there alone, will I feel like a fool? One thing I learned long ago is that feeling like a fool, like any other minor failure, is the most painful but at least important thing that can ever happen to you in your life.

I ask for a table. One will not be available for half an hour. I sit down and order a glass of wine. That is a good idea, because suddenly I feel very comfortable and at home in this elegant dining room.

Life has so many times when you don't feel good about yourself, and a few well-deserved moments when you feel just fine. For all those moments when we are too old or too young, too fat, too unfashionable, there is another moment on the edge of a beautiful dining room, waiting to be seated.
I FEEL perfectly at home and comfortable, knowing that I am dressed appropriately in my simple dress and high-heeled shoes, that I know how to order from both the menu and the wine list and that I can enjoy and be amused by the ambience created to impress me, as well as by the black tie maitre d' hotel pacing pompously with their hands behind their backs.

I sign for the wine and leave a dollar tip as the maitre d' leads me to a table up a few stairs behind the piano and violin. At that moment, the almost predictable feeling of deflation arrives.

I am alone, a woman, and I am seated at a table for two on the narrow raised gallery next to the service table. I try not to look at the crumbs on the floor, to look instead at the violins, but I am a little angry, the glorious moment of self-esteem dulled even as I look around and realize that in this dining room there is really no other place for me.

SINGLES are a minority. Dining rooms are set up for couples and groups. Maitre d's and waiters are trained to be courteous and obliging, but they are also used to couples, groups, and men. Should I ask for another table? I decide that I am being paranoid and that I will enjoy my dinner.

Like many women, I don't always feel like a heavy meal on the road, so I order two appetizers, a dessert and half a bottle of wine. A good dining room is a sensory experience, not just the taste, but the dull roar of diners' voices, the sound of music and laughter. I was given a single rose as I entered the room, and I enjoy the texture of the rose between my fingers.

When dinner is over, I pause briefly at the lounge which is now a disco. Once again, uncertainty overcomes me. I am older than the other people in the room. Will I be out of place, uncomfortable? Being socially brave is something that grows on you, however, so I sit at the bar and order a drink, just to get the feel of it.

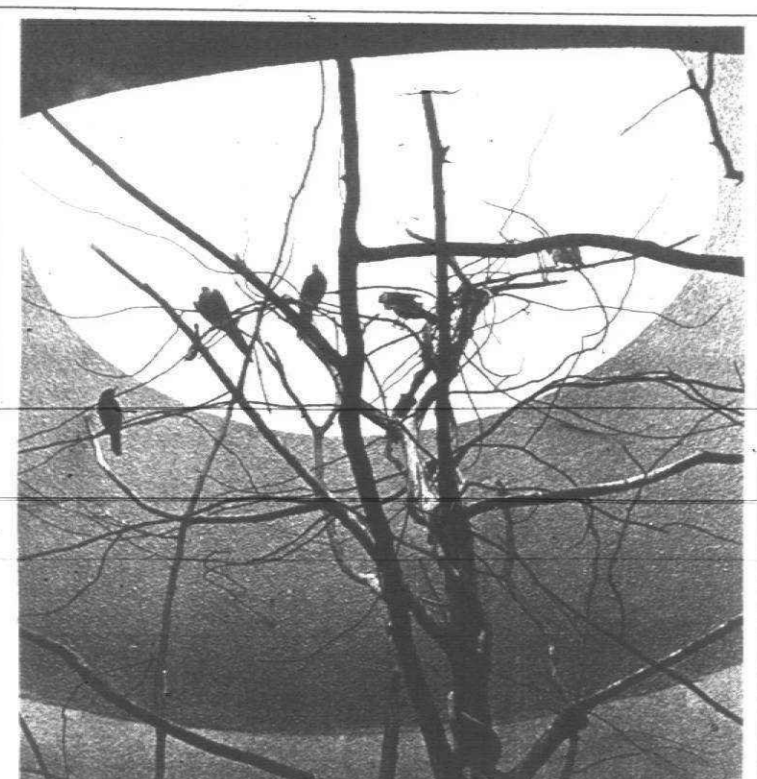

There may still be times when I will settle for the coffee shop or room service, but my general philosophy is this: Why hide in your room and let the couples have all the fun. A hotel is your home, and you can get up and go back to your bed-book-and-television set anytime you feel like it.

Close to home
This is the time of year when conservatories all over the country are in their blooming glory. But one doesn't have to go far to visit one of the best — the Belle Isle Conservatory in Detroit. While on Belle Isle, the visitor should also drop in on the bird display in the Nature Center which has many species such as this one on the right.

Michigan travel tips

Leaf line: for fall colors

The Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association has reinstated its "Leaf Line" telephone service which carries information on fall color changes and tours.

By calling 885-7233, travelers can secure "up-to-date information on the changing pattern of leaves in our area," said Sidney Baker, association president.

"We will have reports from key chamber of commerce stations around the region including Brighton, Hillsdale, Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe, Port Huron and Ypsilanti," Baker said.
"Fall is a beautiful time to travel — the pace is often hurried and the air fresh and invigorating."

Free events book is available

The Travel and Tourist Association of Southeast Michigan has for distribution a "Fall/Winter Calendar of Events."

The 12-panel folder depicts many of the events scheduled to take place in the 11-county region from October through March.

To obtain a free copy, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to "Fall/Winter Calendar," Travel and Tourist Association, P.O. Box 1590, Troy, MI 48069.

6 students commended
Six students at Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP) have been designated as commended students in the 1984 National Merit Scholarship program. The announcement was made recently by principals Bill Brown and Kent Buikema. The students are in the top 5 percent of more than one million participants in the 29th annual merit program. Although commended students will not receive further consideration for Merit Scholarships, each has demonstrated unusual academic promise and will be honored with a Letter of Commendation. The six are: David Brown, Sunwoo Kang, Carolyn Kinsler, Jeffrey Stillson, Kim Towseley, and Sundee Desai. Of the million-plus students who took the qualifying exams in the fall of 1982, some 35,000 were commended students while another 15,000 qualified as semi-finalists and will have the chance to compete for 5,300 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the spring of 1984.

Rotary honors fest chairman
The Rotary Club of Plymouth has presented its "Plymouth Pilgrim" award to Eleanor Shevlin, president of the Fall Festival Board of Directors. Shevlin was named recipient of the award by Rotary's Board of Directors which wanted to identify the individual who has demonstrated continuous leadership consistent with the goals of the Fall Festival. For the past two years, Shevlin has directed the Plymouth Fall Festival as board president. She is the first recipient of the award given by Plymouth Rotary. The metal figurine is a 4 1/2-inch tall sculpture of "Festival Johnny." The Rotary Club commissioned Plymouth artist Earl Lundine and sculptor Glenn Meadows of Art Jewellers to do the figurine. The presentation was made at the Fall Festival Board's meeting earlier this month in Plymouth City Hall.

School strike clearly illegal

To the editor:
As a parent with two children in the Plymouth-Canton school district, please allow me to present my views regarding the current strike.

First, I have no quarrel with the bus drivers, maintenance workers, secretaries and cafeteria workers. They have been working without a contract and may have valid justification for a wage increase.

This is not the case, however, with the teachers. It is my opinion that they already are being handsomely paid for their services. Please consider the following facts. Should the teachers accept the board's offer, the average teacher salary at the end of the contract would be $30,669. This translates into $22.47 per hour. At the top end of the scale, this would jump to $25.15 for teachers making the maximum salary of $34,338.

These excessive salaries, combined with a health care package that most people can only dream of, clearly dispels the myth of teachers being underpaid. Also, I suspect most readers would agree that the 455 minutes a day and 182 days per year — not including sick days and personal days — required of teachers in the Plymouth-Canton school district is far from being a rigorous schedule.

Furthermore, wise people long ago recognized the need to protect the rights of the citizenry and prohibit public employees from striking. This basic tenet "Protection of the Public" is embodied both in law and in the teachers' contracts. It appears patently obvious that the teachers who voted to strike have an extremely callous disregard for the law and the parents of school children and children whose lives they are disrupting.

Clearly the intent of the teachers' union is obvious — if you can't get what you want legally, it's alright to put yourself above the law to get what you want. Is this a lesson that we really want our children to learn from the teachers?

The big mess at John Glenn

WHILE WESTLAND JOHN GLENN marches toward a Northwest Suburban League football title tomorrow night, its boys' basketball program continues to be mired in turmoil.

A labor grievance was filed last week with the Wayne-Westland School District on behalf of Dan Henry, who was dismissed from his coaching position earlier this month.

Henry, despite a 40-19 record during the past three years, was recommended not to be retained by a committee of four Wayne-Westland administrators.

The committee, which interviewed three candidates including Henry, consisted of Glenn principal Tom Svitkovich, assistant principal Jim Myers, athletic director Jerry Szukaitis and Dan Slee, executive director of student relations for the Wayne-Westland schools.

A new twist to the situation cropped up Tuesday when Svitkovich, despite a pending arbitration case, said that "Mr. Gordon Davis announced to the students he will take the basketball position."

DAVIS coached Glenn for 11 seasons before retiring in 1980. Henry, who served under Davis as JV coach, was hired for the varsity coaching job by then Glenn principal John Harrison, now executive director of Adult/Community Education.

Henry, who was termed "not the best man qualified for the job," has been in the news frequently during the past few years.

He was fired in 1980 for what was termed "personality differences" at the time. He appealed the decision to arbitration and won, giving him immediate reinstatement.

A physical education teacher at Stevenson Junior High School, the 30-year-old Henry was acquitted in August of criminal sexual misconduct charges involving a 14-year-old student. A Wayne County Circuit Court jury took only 15 minutes to return a verdict.

The charges were filed against Henry in April, but he was suspended with pay. The school board lifted his suspension after he was found innocent.

HENRY was hired as Redford Thurston's head football coach in 1980, but shortly after reneged because of "personal reasons." He served last year as an assistant coach at Garden City.

The committee decided to review Henry's contract and conduct interviews for the varsity basketball job after the 1982-83 school term.

"I had to interview for my job, which is against past practice," Henry said. "I told the union (Wayne-Westland Education Association) that it was wrong."

"I went through it and I shouldn't have."

Although the WWEA recommended that Henry be interviewed, without representation, union president Bill Reece said, "It's our belief that the interview committee is not standard practice."

"The issue here is reasonable just-cause of not giving Dan the job," Reece added.

SVITKOVICH contends that "all decisions on coaching contracts are handled a little bit different. We hired a swim coach with a similar committee," he said. "The coaching positions are open each year and Mr. Henry is aware of it."

"This is not a personal issue with me — it's not a grudge under any circumstances. I categorically deny that it's a personal thing."

But Henry cannot accept Svitkovich's explanation "that he's not the best qualified man for the job."

"Apparently they don't know what the word acquittal means," Henry said. "If it wasn't for the trial this wouldn't have happened."

"He tried once, and he's trying it again. Obviously I get tired of all the battles. If you're right, you better stand up and be counted. I'm right for the job."

SVITKOVICH said he didn't want to get into the specific reasons for Henry's firing because of the pending arbitration case.

"It was a unanimous decision," Svitkovich said. "There were no dissenters. It was a committee decision."

Svitkovich said he has discussed the situation with Superintendent Dr. Tim Dyer.

But why hasn't Dyer stepped forward to clear the air?

Until we know the reasons behind Henry's dismissal, whether personal or professional, then I have to assume that Henry is still the right man for the job.

The community and faculty remain tight-lipped about the case.

What I know about Henry from my dealings is that he knows the game of basketball and appears to get the most out of his players. He's an intense competitor and wins.

You have to wonder why he's been reinstated as a teacher and not as a coach.

AND ALTHOUGH Davis is a proven and qualified coach, his hiring seems to be ill-timed pending an arbitrator's decision.

Reece said this case is somewhat different than 1980.

Cheryl Truskowski swam the second leg of Salem's winning 200-medley relay team against Walled Lake Central Tuesday.

Truskowski also earned a second place in the 50-freestyle.

Canton nips Bentley Rocks sink Central

Splash, splash, Central took a bath. Plymouth Salem won its third straight dual meet Tuesday, defeating Walled Lake Central, 114-57.

Just about every Rock swimmer contributed to the victory. In addition to the two relay victories, seven different swimmers took firsts.

Amy Dunn, Cheryl Truskowski, Laura Shaffer, and Kristal Taylor formed Salem's 200-yard medley relay and swam a 2:03.3 to win the event.

The 400-freestyle relay team — Shaffer, Taylor, B.J. Bing and Cindy Elliott — won with a 4:04.7.

Bing won the 200-individual medley with a 2:32.9. Taylor won the 50-free in 27.1. Elliott won the 100-free with a 1:02.1. Dunn won the 100-backstroke with a 1:10.2.

Renee Rudin was victorious in the 500-free with a 8:11.2 and Sue Bonnett won the 100-breaststroke in 1:19.0. Cory Silver was the diving champ, amassing 170.5 points.

Theresa Shaffer (200-IM), Truskowski (50-free), Laura Shaffer (100-butterfly), Shannon Murphy (500-free), Lindsay Olson (100-backstroke), Leeann Becker (100-breaststroke), and the 200-medley relay team of Olson, Bonnett, Chrissy Kirk and Kris Graham, all took second place for Salem.

The win improves the Rocks' record to 5-4. Salem has an important meet at Livonia Bentley Thursday.

PLYMOUTH CANTON won a thriller against Livonia Bentley Monday, 88-84, in the annual "pine tar meet." It was the first time a Canton swim team has defeated Bentley.

The Chiefs won four events and Margaret Gilligan captured two important seconds to help earn the victory.

Ginny Johnson had a big night. She won the 200-yard individual medley with a 2:22.41 and she won the 100-butterfly in 1:03.64.

Lynn Massey swam a 26.7 to win the 50-freestyle and Kelly Kirk won the 100-backstroke with a 1:10.66.

Gilligan swam a 2:11.51 to finish second in the 200-free and she swam a 1:00.49 in the 100-free, also second place.

The win puts the Chiefs at 3-1 in league meets and 5-2 overall. Canton swims at home against Harrison Thursday.

Chiefs get their kicks

By Paul King special writer

Plymouth Canton's soccer team is on a roll. It started Monday as the Chiefs advanced in the Class A prerregional with a 4-1 victory over visiting Dearborn Edsel Ford.

Edsel got the first goal, but Canton countered with the final four as Tom Wright scored in each half.

Steve Morell and Brian Whiteley had the other Canton goals.

And on Tuesday, Canton evened its overall record at 6-6 with an upset 4-3 triumph over visiting Churchill.

It was Canton's first win over the Chargers in two years.

Morell led the way with two goals and an assist. Brad Neville and Tim Mueller rounded out the scoring.

Ray Galasso scored twice for Churchill (7-4-2), and Phil Lussier made it close with a penalty kick with four minutes to play.

But the Chiefs held on behind the goaltending of Dave Hawkins, who made nine saves.

STEVENSON 1, BENTLEY 0: The Spartans' defense proved strong Tuesday as backers Dan Divens and Chris Gembis were outstanding, giving goalie Terry Harshfield his eighth shutout.

Stevenson (14-2-1) got its lone goal in the first half on a Dave Wiegel penalty kick from 12 yards out.

Goalie Jeff Wilkinson was the hard-luck loser, making 10 saves.

Maggio wins region medal

The Plymouth Salem girls' tennis team made a strong showing at last weekend's regional tournament.

The Rocks placed fourth behind Ann Arbor Pioneer, Ann Arbor Huron and Northville.

"I thought it was a good standing," said Rock coach Judy Braun. "We played a lot better than a lot of people thought we could do."

Lisa Maggio took home a regional medal by placing first in No. 1 singles. She defeated Huron's No. 2 player in the final match.

Barb Hanosh also won a medal placing second in No. 4 singles. She was defeated by the No. 4 singles player from regional champion Pioneer in the finals.

Bentley (8-3-4), however, is still in the state tournament picture. The Bulldogs beat Edsel last week 8-0 as Dennis Patchett (two), Bill Rowan, Jeff McLeod, Tony Pulice, Abe Yaffai, Brad Mahalak and Rich Gregor scored for the winners.

Rocks, Chiefs win big

Defense. It's the one characteristic common to Fred Thomann-coached basketball teams — regardless of gender.

Thomann's Plymouth Salem girls basketball team demonstrated that defensive characteristic and took the game away from Farmington, 43-25, Tuesday night.

"The 'D' was very good tonight," Thomann said. "They got only nine points in the first half and two in the third quarter."

Farmington coach Bruce Brown was a bit more emphatic.

"Their defense just ate us up," he said. "We couldn't get into our offense at all."

Salem raced to a 16-3 first-quarter lead and extended that to 26-9 by half-time.

Pam McBride, 12, and Dawn Johnson, 10, led the Rocks. Freshman Kristen Hostynski came off the bench to contribute seven points for the Rocks.

Defensively, Salem held the Falcon's two top scorers in check. Alyse Fortune, averaging better than 18 points per game, scored 11, and Rhonda Lancaster, averaging 11, got just two.

Salem is 10-3 overall this season, 7-3 in the Western Lakes Athletic Association. Salem will host Livonia Churchill Thursday.

CANTON 60, CHURCHILL 47: Laura Darby finally exploded.

Darby, a second-team performer for most of the season, came off the bench to score 18 points and grab six rebounds to ignite the Chiefs.

"She played just as good as me," said Canton coach Phyllis Cunningham Mulroy. "I worked with her all week showing her how to post up on the big girls. And that's what she did tonight."

girls basketball

The win is the second in a row for the Chiefs, who suddenly find themselves at 500 (5-5) in WLAA play.

"The team felt real good after this one. Everybody played, everybody contributed. The players on the bench generated a lot of team spirit. And, the good thing was, they executed a game plan. They didn't panic and play helter-skelter. They played smart basketball," Mulroy said.

Churchill jumped ahead 16-12 in the first quarter, but Canton outscored them 13-3 in the second to assume command.

"Churchill shot, I think, just 27 percent from the floor," Mulroy said. "We broke down their fastbreak and that frustrated them. They like to run and we played a slow, controlled ballgame."

Lou Ann Hamblin added 13 for the Chiefs. Canton shot a superb 14 for 19 from the free throw line.

Canton, 5-7 overall this season, travels to Livonia Bentley Thursday.

SOUTHFIELD CHRISTIAN 41, PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN 27: Southfield broke open a close game with a 12-6 spurt in the third quarter. Debbie VanHoose had 10 points for the Eagles.

Plymouth Christian is 5-6 on the season, 3-4 in the league.

Rock runners win, set for showdown

The Plymouth Salem boys cross country team primed for its Lakes Division showdown Thursday with an exciting 28-29 victory over talent-laden Trenton Tuesday night.

Trenton's Rich Galka won the meet with a time of 16:38 and his teammate Bob Shenton followed with a 16:54.

Salem's Scott Steiner (17:08) and Eric Pedersen (17:34) placed third and fourth respectively.

SALEM TOOK sixth, seventh and eighth places with Bill Morely (17:43), Tony Atwell (17:44) and Rick Routson (17:45).

But the meet was decided in places 10 and 11. John Keros's 18:07 and Phil Madis's 18:14 allowed the Rocks a one-point win.

On Thursday, the Rocks and Farmington tangle for the Lakes Division championship. Both teams are 4-0 going into the meet. The meet will be run at Oakland Community College.

Salem is 7-2 overall this season

Selectors learn from mistakes

By Brad Emons and Chris McCoaky staff writers

Two valuable lessons were learned last weekend.

One prep football prognosticator knows better. He'll never bet against Farmington Harrison again. Was the score really 31-0?

The other guy, meanwhile, must go with his head instead of his heart. Emons, despite the Harrison debacle, went 10-2 to increase his season record to 52-22.

McCoaky was 7-5 and now trails by six games with a 46-28 mark.

This week there are several key games, including the Redford Bishop Borgess-Warren DeLaSalle and Plymouth Salem-Walled Lake Central clashes.

We promise to learn our lessons well this week.

FARMINGTON AT LIVONIA BENTLEY (7:30 p.m. Friday). Both teams, beaten soundly last week, are trying to keep out of the basement of the Lakes Division.

Is the home field an advantage? PICKS — It's a unanimous choice here — Bentley wins.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN AT WESTLAND JOHN GLENN (7:30 p.m. Friday). Glenn's defense saved the day in a 6-0 win last week over North Farmington.

Franklin, meanwhile, is struggling both offensively and defensively.

The Rockets can win the league outright. PICKS — Congratulations Glenn.

LIVONIA STEVENSON AT PLYMOUTH CATHOLIC (7:30 p.m. Friday). The Spartans' Dan Gilmartin is closing in on the 1,000-yard passing mark. His receiver, Rick Rozman, is closer than expected. RU likes only to run and that should give Thurston's secondary a break. PICKS — RU makes it three straight.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL AT FARMINGTON HARRISON (2 p.m. Saturday). The Hawks are hurting with John Miller (knee) and Bob Wasczenko (ribs) nursing injuries.

Coach John Herrington said Wasczenko is likely to play, but Miller's status will be determined on game day.

Can Churchill come up with another performance like it did against Salem? Junior quarterback John Stotsiadis is the key. PICKS — Harrison makes it 30 straight, both agree.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL AT HARPER WOODS NOTRE DAME (2 p.m. Saturday). The Shamrocks lost a heartbreaker last week to Rice, but should raise its record to 4-3 this week. PICKS — CC takes a joy ride.

BISHOP BORGESS VS. WARREN DELASALLE (2 p.m. Saturday at Roseville Memorial). Another acid test for the unbeaten Spartans, who came up flat last week despite a 16-0 victory over Gallagher.

Borgess must eliminate the mistakes, keep its opponent honest by passing and move the ball. DeLaSalle, 5-1, is long on defense, but short on offense. PICKS — Emons likes Borgess in overtime, while McCoaky takes DeLaSalle.

ST. AGATHA VS. ORCHARD LAKE ST. MARY'S (7:30 p.m. Saturday at RU's Kraft Field). The young Aggies play in one of the toughest C-D leagues in the state.

Orchard Lake is hot and going for the Catholic League's C Bracket title after scoring a victory two weeks ago over Pontiac Catholic. PICKS — OLSM takes another step toward the playoffs.

REDFORD UNION AT REDFORD THURSTON (2 p.m. Saturday). RU seems to be getting untracked finally, while Thurston continues to amaze the skeptics.

This backyard rivalry could be closer than ever.

Warrants can enlarge your profits — and losses

The topic of warrants became popular when the U.S. Treasury put up 14.4 million Chrysler Corp. warrants for a specified number of shares of stock of the issuing company at a stated price for a given period of time, usually several years.

In the case of Chrysler, each warrant being auctioned entitles the holder to buy one share of Chrysler common stock for $13 until 1990. In addition, Chrysler has outstanding warrants exercisable at $13 per share until Dec. 1, 1983.

SINCE CHRYSLER common stock was trading at around $30 and the war-arrants at around $17 when the warrants were issued in September, it would appear to make little difference whether an investor bought the stock or paid $17 for the warrants. But the consequences could be quite different because the warrants offer leverage.

If an investor thought Chrysler shares would go up, he or she might speculate by buying the warrants. Because of the conversion feature, the warrants will go up more or less dollar for dollar with the stock prices, but the warrants, on average, would cost $13 less.

Thus, if Chrysler stock were to rise again to its 1983 high of 35%, the warrants likely would go up to their high of 23%. In this case, stock acquired at 30 likely would see their investment go down by at least 5 points from the price of $17, giving owners a paper loss of 29 percent. And the decline might be even greater, since warrants usually sell at a discount from conversion value in falling markets.

There are other speculative elements in owning warrants. They pay no dividends. Furthermore, they usually come into being when a firm is in some kind of financial trouble.

Typically, a company in disfavor, and selling stock or bonds to raise capital might give prospective buyers warrants as a sweetener on the deal.

So the main thing to remember about warrants is that they are more speculative than stocks, which, in these days of finances and you

would show a paper gain of nearly 19 percent. But warrants bought at 17 might show a gain of 38 percent — or perhaps more — since warrants tend to go to premium over conversion value in rising markets.

However, the owners of the warrants should, however, not be lost sight of.

For example, if Chrysler stock were to go down, the leverage would work the other way. If the stock declined from 30 to 25, shareholders would have a paper loss of 17 percent.

Mealtimes bargain is Sunday brunch

By Ethel Simmons staff writer

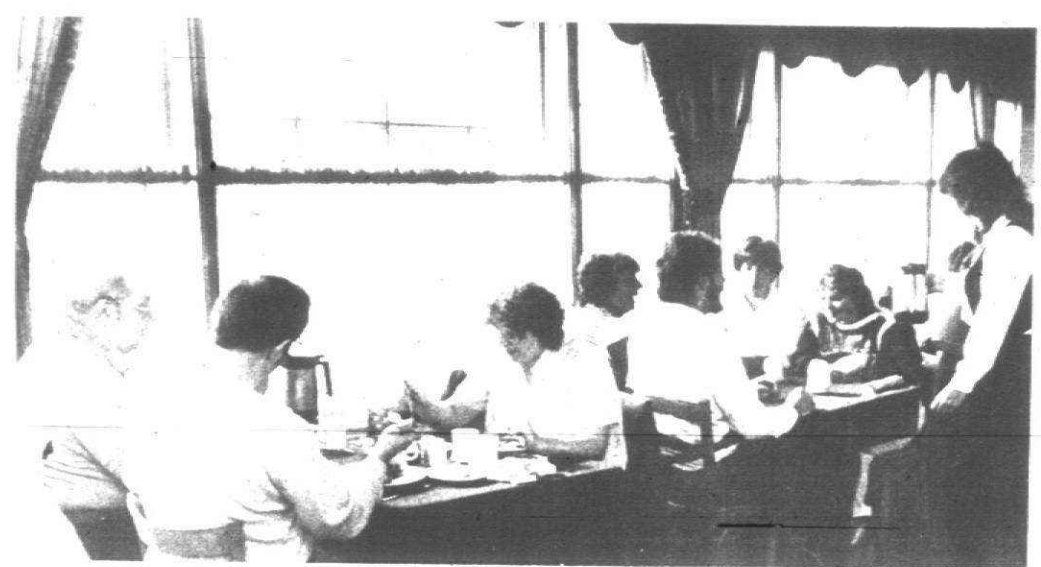

ONE OF THE BEST bargains around when it comes to restaurant meals is Sunday brunch, that big glorious feast often combining breakfast specialties, drinks and desserts.

BRUNCH DEVOTEES rate the spread according to its complexity, as well as taste. A brunch leaning heavily on sausage, scrambled eggs, hash browns, muffins and toast can best be described as basic.

Besides the food, other touches are important. An extra attraction like entertainment turns the brunch into a party.

Here are just a few of the places where Sunday brunch is served. Most require reservations.

Brunch is offered each Sunday in two upstairs banquet rooms at Westworld family recreation center in Westland.

Polish sausage, sauerkraut, corn bread, fried potatoes, mashed potatoes, vegetables and gravy. The menu varies weekly with such selections as spaghetti pie.

THE RHINOCEROS, 265 Ripelle at Franklin, Detroit. Phone 259-2208. Restaurant with New York elegance backdrops this brunch, which offers one of six entrees, served from the menu.

HOTEL ST. REGIS, 3071 W. Grand Blvd., Detroit. Phone 873-3000. New "English Hunt Club Sunday Brunch" in European hotel atmosphere offers omelettes to order.

THE INCREDIBLE EDIBLES Food and Spruce, 31231 Southfield north of 13 Mile, Beverly Hills. Informal shopping-center restaurant has 40-foot-long buffet table for Sunday brunch.

HOLIDAY INN - Livonia West, Six Mile and 1475 Phone 464-1300. Free champagne is served from noon to 2 p.m. along with brunch at this striking contemporary-exterior inn.

Among dishes are eggs benedict, seafood newburg, beef tips, a side of beef and sliced ham. Hours 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Prices $9.25 for adults, $8.25 for senior citizens, $3.95 for children under 12.

ALDEN'S ALLEY, 312 S. Main, Royal Oak Phone 545-5000. Salmon, shrimp, herring, mussels, oysters and clams are some of the delights at the seafood bar.

KINGSLY INN, 1475 Woodward, Bloomfield Hills. Phone 644-1400. Brunch served in the inn's elegant dining rooms has been around a long time.

Newcomers show impressive skills

By Avigdor Zaromp
special writer

A recent program of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra featured Hungarian-born conductor Ivan Fischer and German-born pianist Heidrun Holtmann. Both of them made their debut in this country last Thursday. At least, this is true if one doesn't count Fischer's unscheduled and unexpected role in the opening concert of the Renaissance Concerts series (see separate review).

Maestro Fischer, 32, is having an active conducting career in England and is currently one of the joint directors of the Northern Sinfonia Orchestra.

Holtmann, 22, won the Geza Anda competition in Zurich last year. One of the judges on the panel was Maestro Antal Dorati.

The talent exhibited by both artists was very impressive, and not without some controversial elements, at least on the part of the conductor.

The program consisted of works by Webern, Mozart and Mendelssohn. The short opening selection was Webern's composition, Six Pieces for Orchestra. Webern, who was a disciple of Schoenberg, was one of the pioneers of atonality and the twelve-tone system.

THESE SHORT pieces are characterized by tone-color sequences, rather than melodic lines. Here, Fischer demonstrated great skill and ability in mastering the complicated combinations of sound and involved rhythms. This composition was composed in 1909, when Mahler was still alive, but is considered very modern even by today's standards. It is still beyond my understanding and acceptance, however.

Holtmann rendered a remarkable performance of Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 22, K. 482 in E Flat Major. Her passages were elegant and clear for the most part. One of the few exceptions was the first movement in which the bars tended to run into one another.

The one aspect which I found disturbing, however, was the use of the full orchestra. That, in my view, was tantamount to letting a bull loose in a china shop. Authenticity, of course, is a ## review

touchy issue. Some compromises are inevitable.

The type of piano known to Mozart was a rather weak instrument and would be inadequate in a modern concert hall. However, even without reading Mozart's mind, orchestral dimensions of the type used in this performance were unknown during his time.

While the K. 482 is one of Mozart's more forceful works, it shouldn't sound like Beethoven's Emperor Concerto. The orchestral forces were managed with skill and expertise, but the net effect still undermined severely the fine structure of this composition. In particular, the ending of the second movement, which is one of Mozart's most intimate passages, evoked the feeling of gross intrusion.

THE MOST satisfying performance was that of Mendelssohn's Italian Symphony (No. 4). Some reduction of the orchestra was definitely a step in the right direction. While I still found the first movement somewhat overblown, the rest was a good reflection of Mendelssohn's style, in particular the last two movements.

The lyric third movement portrayed the rare singing quality, and the fanfares in the Trio were superb. The final movement was sparkling and shining, without compromising its cheerful characteristic.

In this evening's performance, Maestro Fischer displayed an impressive ability for mastering the orchestral forces and molding them according to his will, even though the ends might not be always agreeable.

Fischer is scheduled to be the guest conductor this week as well. The program consists of works by Schubert, Grieg, Stravinsky and Kodaly. The rarely performed horn concerto by Grieg will have its premier with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra on this program.

"Hollywood Out-Takes" (1983), 7:40 and 10:20 p.m. Friday through Thursday, Oct. 27 (and midnight Friday and Saturday only), at the Punch & Judy, 21 Kercheval, Grosse Pointe Farms, phone 882-7363, $3. Running time 84 minutes.

"Out-Takes," a hodgepodge of clips of our favorite movie stars, makes its Detroit premiere at the Punch this week. Filmmakers Ron Blackman and Bruce Goldstein have compiled footage of Joan "Mommie Dearest" Crawford at home, Ronald Reagan hosting Mickey Rooney and Jayne Mansfield, and other bits that sound too good to be true. Look for Marilyn Monroe, Judy Garland, Bette Davis, W.C. Fields, Frank Sinatra, Humphrey Bogart and others.

Unrated.

Cass City Cinema, 4605 Cass, Detroit, $2.50, phone 832-6309. Running time 88 minutes.

Borrowing from newsreel footage and U.S. government archives, "Atomic Cafe" presents the nuclear age much as it was packaged and sold to Americans in the 1950s. The film is sometimes funny, sometimes dark as it exposes the nuclear sales pitch Washington fed a naive public.

Rating: $3.20.

"The Quiet Man" (1952), 8 p.m. Friday at Livonia City Hall Auditorium, $1.50, phone 421-2000, ext. 353. Running time 129 minutes.

John Ford's "Quiet Man" is the director's most sentimental work. John Wayne stars as an American who returns to his homeland and there meets the quintessential Irishman, Barry Fitzgerald, a bonnie lass, Maureen O'Hara, and the bonnie lass' brutish brother, Victor McLaglen. Ford's not at his best in the realm of light comedy, but the stars and the scenery carry the day in this film that was made to be seen on a big screen.

Rating: $2.95.

"W.C. Fields and Me" (1976), 12:30 tonight on Ch. 7. Originally 111 minutes.

A loving, respectful portrait of a great comedian is the best way to describe this much-overlooked picture that stars Rod Steiger (in an excellent performance), Billy Barty and Valerie Perrine. Fields' career is traced from his vaudeville days to the height of his popularity in Hollywood. Look for Jack Cassidy in a memorable role as John Barrymore, Fields' drinking companion.
Rating: $3.10.

Greek soprano Drivala sings a lively Violetta

By Mary Jane Doerr
special writer

The best thing about Friday night's opener "La Traviata" by the Michigan Opera Theater (MOT) at Music Hall Center was that I had tickets for Saturday evening also.

MOT's cast of Metropolitan Opera star Benita Valente as Violetta and Rico Serbo as Alfredo turned out to be a stalwart performance by two "indisposed" singers.

MOT General Director David DiChiera announced that fact after the second act, over the objections of both.

Valente's voice had clarity, grace and solid control but no height, depth, power or enthusiasm. She barely sang over a loud pianissimo all evening.

At first I thought I had seats in an acoustically dead section of the hall. But when her "Sempre libera" solo failed to draw an enthusiastic response from the audience, I knew there had to be some other explanation. Throughout the evening we had only glimpses of vocal grandeur.

Though her voice retained an elegance and held out for a magnificent "Addio del Passato" in the Fourth Act, Valente's acting was sluggish and unexciting.

Serbo's voice deteriorated as the evening went along but his acting became more spontaneous and exciting. He has a youthfulness that makes his characterization of Alfredo believable.

THE SUBDUED acting of the lead carried over into chorus and orchestra which couldn't make up for a stodgy performance.

The stage is set for theater workshops

By Mary Klemic
staff writer

With the pulling of a curtain or the switching on of a light, Robert Oris can put you on a busy city street in the United States, or in a professor's library in England.

Oris isn't a magician but an instructor of technical theater at Dearborn's Henry Ford Community College. And he has helped many a community theater group with their productions of almost anything from "West Side Story" to "Chicago."

Theater groups often think their sets have to be realistic in every detail, said Oris, a Dearborn Heights resident.

"People too often tend to take a very literal approach to it," Oris said. "They think they have to have an actual window or actual doors on stage. Our approach is how much you can fake on stage."

ORIS WILL teach at a free set construction workshop, to be presented by the Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford, starting Monday through Saturday, Nov. 12. The workshop will include set construction Oct. 24-29, and set painting and decorating Nov. 10-12. It will feature basic techniques in cutting corners in scenery construction, such as measuring, cutting and fitting.

Theater sets can be constructed to resemble real life, or they can suggest a different time and place, according to Oris.

For a local production of the play "Chicago," set in that city some 60 years ago, Oris is preparing a backdrop that consists of enlargements of photos from the 1920s that were given an antique, sepia tint.

"It will be a collage of photographs across the back," Oris said. "It will give the atmosphere of Chicago in the '20s."

The Broadway musical "Evita" used a similar technique, he explained. In "Evita," a collage of pictures from Evita Peron's life served as a backdrop.

SCENERY CHANGES can be made quickly through the use of "revolves," in which wagons bring the scenes on stage. While the actors perform on the set facing the audience, stagehands prepare the next scene behind it. The set is then turned so the second scene faces the audience.

Henry Ford Community College instructor Robert Oris (right) says theater sets can be imaginative, as the set he designed for a production of "Man of La Mancha" (top right), or realistic. Oris, an instructor of technical theater, will conduct a free set construction workshop at the Theater Guild Playhouse in Redford starting Monday.

"Flippers" can change a set by adding or removing an object. For example, Oris said that productions of "The Sound of Music" have turned a ballroom into a bedroom just by bringing a bed on stage.

"You can go toward the symbolic," he said. "If you have something that gives you the feeling of a kitchen, you don't need the whole kitchen."

The amount of money a local theater group spends on its sets can vary according to the theater and the budget, Oris said.

"You can do shows on very, very small budgets," he said. "It depends on what you're doing with the sets. The average show usually spends $150 on materials for the set. There have been shows that spent as much as $5,000 on the set."

ORIS HAS noticed changes in theater sets in the 28 years he has been teaching and the 30 years he has been directing productions.

"They're much less literal," he said. "You used to have four, six, seven big sets for a play. Now you might have a curtain thrown across."

"There have been big musicals that had a single set," he said. "For 'Pippin' there was almost a bare stage throughout. More and more, they're using actors to decorate the set and are keeping away from walls."

A PLAY may not need elaborate scenery if the story itself is strong enough to carry the audience, Oris said. He cites the recent play "Agnes of God," which took place in the anteroom of a convent, as an example. The set for this play consisted of a plain wooden desk chair, a metal ashtray, a table and a beige backdrop.

"That's all you needed," Oris said. "There were no walls or windows, and it didn't bother the audience."

The sets for the different scenes in a play should be consistent, Oris advised.

"If you have one elaborate scene, you can't skimp on the others," he said.

Local productions have to watch costs and deadlines.

"With professionals, it's no problem," Oris said. "You say, 'I need that set at this time' and it's there. But here (locally), you're dealing with people who work days or nights. They might be able to make a meeting one day but not another."

Participants in Oris' upcoming workshop won't have to attend every session. The classes will be held at the Theater Guild Playhouse, 15138 Beech Daly, just south of Five Mile in Redford. For registration information call 522-0718.

Airbrush spits, clogs and fascinates

By David Messing
special writer

My left hand is over my heart and I promise to end my coverage of airbrushing this week.

There is much you can say about any media, but with airbrush there is a certain fascination. Plus many people are interested in airbrushing even if they couldn't tell an airbrush from a ratchet screwdriver.

Fascinating is a good word. Did you ever enjoy standing at a state fair or mall show and watch an artist draw another person's portrait? Well, it is just about the same with the airbrush.

You rarely touch the board or canvas you are working on and it seems as if you are merely watching as you, the artist, airbrush in subtle shades, colors and tints. Nothing can compare to the effects and sheer pleasure one can gain from a good airbrush in competent hands.

You can't enjoy winning unless you occasionally fail, and you can't enjoy an airbrush unless it occasionally backs up on you. When your airbrush is working well and everything seems to be going along fine, you are probably singing to yourself "Stranger in Paradise."

But when it spits and glogs, quits and salvos out a gush of paint all over, then you might be singing "What Kind of Fool Am I."

Painting is an outward expression of your inner most feelings and when that expression is interrupted, it is truly upsetting. I think I am paranoid about inanimate objects. If I try to touch an extension cord, I know that it will coil like a snake, and interweave like a bird's nest.

I also project feelings into things. I might say to my clogged airbrush, "You knew I had to do this job today, so now you decide to break down!" I'm too frugal (borderline cheap) to throw my airbrush down. But apparently cost hasn't stopped some more violent than myself.

I have repaired some that were supposedly "dropped." But if they truly were dropped, it must have been from a 10-story building. Let me share my most violent moment with you.

ALL I WANTED to do was spray a little black paint on a piece of plexiglas. So instead of thinning black paint for my airbrush I figured I would just use a can of black spray paint. Sounds easy, huh?

Well, first the tip clogged (of course) so I patiently sprayed the can upside down to clear the tip of the spray head as not recommended on the label. Upon pulling the pin out, a long squirt of paint shot across my shirt and unto our new washer, dryer and white tile floor.

In frustration I threw the can on the back porch and would you believe it hit down on the spray head and shot black on our then-yellow siding on the house. I then picked up that can of paint and threw it in the garage to get rid of it and it came to rest on my sister-in-law's pecan table that was in storage. There it silently oozed paint. So much for violence.

A clogged airbrush tip should be cleared instantly with a reamer. A reamer is a needle which is ground flat on one side. This flat side produces two sharp cutting edges. With any dual action airbrush, simply remove the needle from the airbrush and insert the reamer.

Artifacts

Lightly push it forward as you spin the reamer between your finger tips. Be careful to keep your airbrush right-side up or the finger button will fall out. Usually this one-minute cleaning will return your airbrush to working order. But be sure to give it a good cleaning before it's next use.

Here are some basic tips I have learned over the past few years. Remember there are two ways to learn lessons. The hard way is to make mistakes yourself, and the easy way is to learn from the mistakes of others.

ALWAYS REMEMBER to use a hanger to hold your airbrush. This will prevent damage from the airbrush hitting the floor. Also be sure to check the stipple adjusting screw - often it works it's way loose. Located under the finger button, it's purpose is to restrict you from fully depressing the button which reduces the air pressure.

The loss in air pressure causes the paint to spray out in large and irregular dot patterns. When turned down (so that it will not touch the finger button) you should have a full air pressure, which is about 30 psi. If your spray still has large dot patterns, then your paint needs to be thinned.

If you still have large dot patterns then your tip is dirty and needs a reamer or a good cleaning. One very common problem with dual action airbrushes is when you have paint spraying without pulling the button back

First you should check the adjusting wheel (or screw) in front of the finger button.

Often this has worked its way around a few times in handling and has forced the finger button back. This in turn allows paint to come out even when you are not pulling the button back. This little wheel (or screw) can however be your best friend.

If you are trying to paint a small restricted area or a straight line and have a fear of pulling the button back too much, simply adjust for the line width with this adjustment and merely depress the button. The other reason for paint without pulling the button back is the compression nut, which is inside the handle has loosened.

With all the backward and forward motion, it is understandable that this nut could loosen slightly enough to allow the needle to back up which, in turn, allows the flow of paint. To fix this merely loosen the compression nut, then push the needle forward till it fits snugly into the tip.

ANOTHER PROBLEM is the tip can become out of the round so much so that it does not seal properly around the needle. This allows paint to seep out and form on the tip. Then when you depress the button you are surprised to see paint spitting off the tip of your airbrush.

Another big problem is that people forget to check the color cup, which often works it's way loose and falls off the airbrush. This messy accident can be remedied by simply twisting a rubberband around the tip and around the bottom of the cup.

A few weeks ago, I had my new jeans and my new, white glow-in-the-dark canvas shoes on, all ready to go teach my class. Then I said to one of my students, "Here, Mike, let me show you how to airbrush that," and as soon as the brush was in my hand, the color cup, full of black ink, fell off the airbrush and onto me.

Mike insisted it was my fault and I insisted it was his. But since I am the one writing this column, I would like to officially state that without a doubt it was Mike's fault. So there.

Just as I promised I will end this brief rundown on airbrushing but there is so much to cover that I will continue this in some future Artifacts installations.

Remember also that my recommendation on Paasche was based on performance, availability and economy. All "slow feed" fine airbrushes are great, as are multipurpose and bottom line models. It is my opinion, however, that the same quality is sweeter if it is at an affordable price. With the money I saved, I can buy another pair of jeans and white canvas shoes.

ARTFULL HINT: For the best results always airbrush at a perpendicular to your artwork. This reduces over spray and shows less of the tooth of the board.

Q: How do you cut smooth friskets? Mine look like I cut them out with scissors.

A: Their are very affordable swivel razor knives by Nacto which reduce the angular look to the cut edge. But I am used to merely rotating the knife between the thumb and fingers.

Simply rotate the knife in the direction you would like to cut and you will be surprised how smooth your edge will become. It takes practice, like anything else.
