The Canton Connection

WHILE DISCUSSING the upcoming Canton Country Festival and the purchase of fireworks at Tuesday's board meeting, Canton trustees were told the cost of an appropriate show would be about $3,900. Said Supervisor James Poole, "I know we've all been talking about it, but have we done anything to confiscate any money for it? Wait a minute," he added, correcting himself. "Is that right? Have we appropriated any money for it?"

The answer was no.

POOLE took a bit of a blast from Trustee Carol Bodenmiller the same evening. On a couple of occasions, he brought up matters that had been settled the meeting before, a session Poole missed because he was vacationing. Finally he said, "I should miss more meetings," noting progress made in his absence. "And we got done before 10 p.m., too," said Bodenmiller, drawing unanimous laughter.

"FIX-UP WEEK," May 18-24, is almost here. Canton's Beautification Committee is asking home and business owners to lend to "easily postponed, around-the-place repair projects, and to mend the many fences recently damaged by wind."

WOULD A touch of spring cheer you up? The Canton Historical Society is staging its 3rd annual Flower and Rotary Rummage Sale May 19-20 on museum grounds on Canton Center Road near Proctor Road. The sale is intended to raise funds and to beautify Canton.

FOR JUST $2, you can learn cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) 7-10 p.m. tonight at Oakwood Hospital Canton Center. To register, call 459-7039. Also, volunteers offer free blood-pressure checks 6-8 p.m. every Tuesday at Oakwood Hospital Canton Center. At 7 p.m. May 22, a lecture and reading material on the causes, effects and treatment for blood pressure will be offered. Call to register.

CANTON SENIORS are invited to the Bi-annual 8-Ball tournament at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday, May 23. A $1 fee includes at least two games and a photograph. Awards will be given. Cantonites ages 55 and over are invited. For more information, call 397-1000, Ext. 278.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER Mitt Mack has good news for those who navigate dusty roads in the township. Mack said the Wayne County Road Commission will chloride roads a minimum of five times this year, and allocated funds have been increased from $300,000 to $1 million. It also was revealed that the county is dropping its appeal of a recent verdict. Several townships, including Canton, recently won a lawsuit challenging the legality of the county's decision not to chloride roads. "This represents a significant victory for the townships and the citizens of western Wayne County," he said. It demonstrates the success of the new charter in making county government responsive to the needs of the citizens.

Board, teachers extend contract 1-year extension called historic

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

Teachers will be voting tomorrow on an historic wage agreement that, if signed, heralds labor peace among teachers in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools until 1986.

A tentative one-year extension of the present two-year contract was reached Wednesday between the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education and the Plymouth-Canton Education Association (PCEA).

The two sides negotiated one week before reaching the tentative agreement, which extends the teachers' contract through the 1985-86 school year.

The agreement includes all provisions of the present two-year contract and a school calendar similar to the 1984-85 school year.

The quick, quiet negotiations and agreement contrast sharply with talks which took place last October between the board, teachers and districtwide support personnel. Wage negotiations for six school unions broke down Sept. 30, leading to a divisive 21-day strike in Wayne County's fourth largest school district.

WEDNESDAY'S agreement is for PCEA members only.

Superintendent John Hoben said the board is now in the process of opening talks with the other five unions.

"We anticipate doing this with the other unions and are now starting negotiations with them," Hoben said. "We assume there's an interest on their part to have a contract extension."

Thomas Cotner, PCEA chief negotiator, called the tentative agreement historic.

"This is the first time in the history of bargaining in our district where both sides have been able to reach agreement this early," Cotner said. "We would like to give credit to both the administration and the Board of Education for their foresight in reaching an equitable agreement at this time."

Board President Glenn Schroeder said he was pleased with the tentative agreement.

"It is a tribute to both our teacher negotiators and our administrative negotiators that the agreement was reached at this time," he said. "We are pleased to be able to look forward to this longer period of continued labor peace and cooperation."

Hoben said the board "expedited bargaining" because it didn't want to go through another strike such as the district experienced last fall. He said the board made the first move toward extending the present teachers' contract.

The superintendent also said the early extension agreement had "nothing whatsoever" to do with the district's proposed 1.74-millage increase before voters in the June 11 election. The request for a millage hike, designed to eliminate a current $200,000 shortfall and a potential $2-million deficit in the school district, would run for seven years.

The strike settlement reached in October gave teachers a 3-percent wage hike in 1983-84 and a 6-percent wage hike in 1984-85. Teachers at the top of the wage scale also received an additional 1-percent increase the second semester of the 1984-85 year.

The school board is expected to give a formal vote of approval once the teachers union votes to ratify tomorrow.

Canine goes to court

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

On a recent day in 35th District Court, young Ginger Belrose was sandwiched in among the usual string of drunk drivers, burglars and traffic offenders appearing before judges Dunbar Davis and James Garber.

Several females were having their day in court, but this one happened to be a 16-month-old golden retriever. After about two hours of proceedings, she and her owner, Teresa Belrose of Canton, headed home with a victory, of sorts.

The facts, according to Belrose: "A police officer came to my door (about two months ago) and stated my dog was going to the bathroom in my neighbor's yard," said Belrose, 32, who lives on Foxhorn Street off Lilley between Warren and Ford.

"That couldn't have been the case because I am at work at the times she's saying this is happening, and there was no way the dog can get out of the house."

Belrose was paid a second visit shortly thereafter and was ticketed by

Deputy seeks seat on board

Edwin Rasmussen, a Canton resident and an executive staffer for Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano, has announced his candidacy for Canton Township trustee.

It is the 37-year-old Democrat's first bid for township office.

Since moving to the township in 1977, "I've continually worked on different projects and committees through the Jaycees," said Rasmussen.

"Several of my friends asked me why don't I run for office since I have such an interest in the community. I have put that off and kept looking around at what's happening in the township, and whether I can afford to put forth the time and effort."

"The only thing I have to offer is dedication to the community. I'm not going anywhere — I have six years to go before retirement."

A supporter of former Canton Supervisor Harold Stein (who is seeking a second term), Rasmussen said that he, along with Stein, was "one of the ones that got the Canton library going by running a benefit basketball game with a radio station. We contributed the first $300 (toward its establishment)," he said.

As a sheriff's deputy on Ficano's executive staff, Rasmussen lobbies on behalf of the department in Lansing, works with the Secret Service providing protection for public figures, performs community-relations work and makes appearances for the sheriff at club meetings and parades. Before accepting the appointment about a year ago, Rasmussen put in five years as a motorcycle traffic officer with the department and two years routine patrol work.

Of late, Rasmussen has lobbied legislators in an effort to have passed a bill that would allow double-bunking at the newly constructed county jail. (The bill, which would provide capacity for an additional 450 inmates, was approved by the Michigan House Thursday.)

Dunn takes verbal jabs at Lousma, Levin

By Tom Beer and
M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writers

Jim Dunn's gloves came off at a recent Canton Chamber of Commerce meeting, and they're likely to stay off through Nov. 6 — election day.

Dunn, a maverick Republican who'd like a seat in the U.S. Senate, came to the Roman Forum restaurant equipped with a blue and white "Reagan-Dunn" button on the lapel of his business suit, a Merit cigarette between his fingers and plenty of tough talk for his opponents.

Dunn, who addressed the Farmington Lions Club at a Novi restaurant the night before, took a few verbal jabs at political foes Jack Lousma, a fellow Republican and former astronaut, and incumbent Democratic Sen. Carl Levin.

"I have the utmost respect for Lousma as an astronaut," said Dunn of the man he'll face in the Aug. 7 primary. The winner will run against the popular Levin in the Nov. 6 general election.

"My problem with him (Lousma) is that he doesn't know the issues," said Dunn, a wealthy East Lansing builder who's attempting to re-enter politics after losing his seat in Congress in 1982.

The Michigan-born Lousma, who spent 17 years in America's space program and gained hero status after participating in two missions, returned to the Wolverine State in January after a long absence to announce that he intended to take on Dunn and Levin in the Senate race.

"I don't know why he's involved in politics," said Dunn, who served a term in Congress from the Sixth District before losing in 1982 to the same man he beat in 1980 — Bob Carr. "He (Lousma) just doesn't know the issues."

"He said in Ann Arbor, quote, 'You can teach an average high school boy all he'd need to know about the issues in Michigan,' unquote."

WHILE DUNN isn't taking Lousma lightly, he admits that "my battle's with Levin."

A Dunn-Levin contest, if it happens, will be "an issue-oriented race," ac-ording to the challenger, who mentioned the following issues:

• Taxes — "Would you want your- raised 25 percent?" Dunn asked. "If Carl Levin had his way, they would be."

• A balanced budget — "Do you think that Washington should have to behave like you and I do and balance the checkbook every month? I certainly do. Carl Levin has continually voted against a balanced budget."

• Crime — "Should we get tougher on criminals? Carl Levin has always voted against capital punishment. I'm

A tale of attempted robbery may result in charges of filing a false police report against a Haitian national who was treated last week at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne for a gunshot wound to his knee.

By law, hospitals must report all gunshot wounds to local police. When asked about his wounds, police say the Haitian, Raymond Alfredo Chico, 20, reported the following:

He was drinking in Lucille's, a tavern in Canton, early Wednesday evening. He had a couple of Scotches, then walked out. Two motorcyclists drove up, tried to rob him and shot him. Chico says they fled and he hitchhiked to the hospital.

Chico said he was staying with a friend in Inkster, but couldn't remember his name or address. He gave his last address as Hialeah, Fla.

Canton police investigated the report and, according to Sgt. Alex Wilson, found several discrepancies.

The barmaid at Lucille's said there were only three customers in the bar when Chico alleges he was there. None of them matched his description. None of them drank Scotch.

The bouncer at Lucille's says he didn't see Chico or any motorcyclists. No one heard any gun shots.

"I can only speculate as to the cause of his wound," said Wilson. "Maybe it happened as he said, but somewhere else, out of our venue. Maybe he was involved in some crime somewhere. . . . The information leads us to have serious reservations that the offense occurred."

"If we can prove that what he has done is file a false police report, then we will charge him. The next step is to go back to the victim and ask him to clarify the discrepancies. If he cannot accurately do that, then we'll probably offer him a polygraph."

Defense leads to deficit — McCauley

Mike McCauley of Plymouth, a Democrat running for Congress in the 2nd Congressional District, said he is surprised at the incumbent Congressman's inability to see the economy's pertinent issues.

In reacting to a recent statement made by Rep. Carl Pursell, a Plymouth resident, McCauley said it is imperative the 2nd District representative realize the adverse effect the huge federal deficit is having on the nation's economy.

Speaking to the Jackson Association of Life Underwriters, Pursell had said it was the high cost of entitlement programs and not the defense spending that has pushed the federal deficits to an all-time high.

McCauley disagreed. "The excessive growth of the deficit since 1980 can be attributed to three factors: increased military spending, huge tax cuts and higher interest rates on the national debt," he said.

McCauley pointed to a recent study done by the Congressional Budget Office, a bipartisan group, which states that the percentage of money allocated to entitlement programs will drop 6 percent (from 43 percent to 37 percent) through 1989. Defense spending, on the other hand, will increase 25 percent up to 33 percent from 24 percent in 1981.

THE NEXT interest on the national debt, he added, is expected to be 15 percent of the federal budget by 1989. "If no changes had been made in the military budget, taxes, interest on the public debt or low-income programs since 1981, the 1989 budget would probably be in balance."

What needs to be done is to eliminate Pentagon waste. We can actually decrease Pentagon spending without weakening defense by eliminating inefficiencies in the budget.

McCauley claimed that a recent study showed that the Pentagon paid more than $21,000 for tools which would have cost the average consumer only 31 cents.

"We need to increase competition for the goods and services the Pentagon purchases from the private sector. This type of procurement reform legislation will mean billions of dollars in annual savings for the Pentagon and new opportunities for small businesses."

QUESTION: Last year my husband turned sixty-five and retired. He complains all the time about his feet, but he won't do anything about them. We don't get to half the things we planned on. What can I say to him to get him to seek treatment?

ANSWER: Your husband is not unusual. There are a lot of people who don't seek treatment for their "tired" and "old" feet. While it is true that older people have a greater instance of foot problems than younger people, that's no reason to suffer in silence.

Though common, many of these problems are neither normal nor acceptable. Podiatrists can prescribe special appliances and shoes that reduce stress on the feet. Therapy may also be appropriate to strengthen muscles used in walking.

Winners celebrate the thrill of victory

The thrill of victory was felt this past week by youngsters who don't always have the opportunity.

The Special Olympics for handicapped youngsters throughout western Wayne County were concluded with track and field events at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP).

The event is sponsored each spring by Civic Clubs in western Wayne County, and each year a community takes turn hosting the event. This year it was the turn for the Plymouth-Canton Civitans to play host.

Hundreds gathered for the opening ceremony Friday morning, which featured the traditional lighting of the "eternal" torch to be carried by an athlete down the track, and for a massive balloon launch.

The bowling and gymnastic competition was held the previous weekend.

Students from private and public schools throughout the area were among the institutions sending athletes to compete in the Olympics in which participation is given the highest priority. There also were a number of volunteers from the community who were on hand to encourage participants to try their best, to serve as timers, measurers, judges, and award presenters.

Manoah Harman was one Special Olympics athlete who found the balloon launch great fun.

Rasmussen's past lobbying efforts have included the fight for a secondary road-patrol grant — a venture that succeeded in securing state aid for Wayne County.

"I've been lobbying for four years now, so I know the ins and outs in Lansing, who to contact and who not to contact on certain issues that might ultimately affect Canton," said Rasmussen, who is married and has five children ranging in age from 9 to 17.

TOWNSHIP ISSUES Rasmussen would focus on involve board meetings and the business community.

Looking at the make-up of the board, they do a lot of bickering and in-house fighting. It tells me maybe they don't do their homework beforehand. I'm not sure how much time it would entail, but it seems to me a lot of things should have been discussed prior to board meetings. I could be wrong, but they're using a lot of unnecessary time," Rasmussen said.

A graduate of Clarenceville High School in Livonia who attended Schoolcraft college, Rasmussen said he's interested in "small business in general."

"After attending the last Canton Chamber of Commerce (Small Business Person of the Year) awards dinner, I was really astounded. I thought it was a low turn out. No. 1, I really was surprised none of the Canton Board of Trustees were there. After all, they're the business people in their community. The only one who showed up was the supervisor (James Poole). There seems to be a lot of concern on the part of business people," he added.

The fact there are vacancies in Canton shopping centers "tells me there's definitely something wrong."

CANTON'S ROADS, particularly Haggerty, Palmer and Lilley in the southern part of the township, need to be paved, Rasmussen said.

Rasmussen serves as executive director of the Deputy Sheriffs Association of Michigan, comprised of about 2,500 sheriff's deputies. He helped establish the Canton Democratic party and has served for two years as both precinct delegate and sergeant of arms in the 15th Congressional District, he said.

Rasmussen worked to elect Wayne County Executive William Lucas.

Dog has day in court

The officer after a flurry of warm weather.

"He came over and said my yard was a mess. Well, in an area such as this with so many dogs running around unchained, there's dog poop in every yard, even in yards of people who don't have dogs," said Belrose, a GM Hydramatic employee.

"My yard was flooded ankle-deep with water, and it was impossible to clean up. But our lawn was cleaned up twice before the officer handed me this ticket," she added.

Belrose was cited under township ordinance 42-1-1a and charged with a misdemeanor. The statute says "it is unlawful for any person to permit any dog harbored by him to deposit fecal matter in any place other than the premises where the dog is kept, unless such fecal matter is immediately removed and disposed of on the premises where the dog is kept."

DEFENSE ATTORNEY Peter Bundarin of Canton — whose exhibits included, believe it or not, a sampling of ginger's feces and that of several of her friends — argued Belrose wasn't guilty under the ordinance. Belrose's neighbor, who since has moved, complained about waste in Belrose's yard, not her own, he said.

Bundarin maintained Belrose would be innocent even if she'd been cited under Section 2 of the ordinance, which says dog owners "shall maintain the premises on which their animals have access in a sanitary condition that will not create a health hazard or cause odors that will offend neighbors or persons that may pass in the street."

"You'd have to prove the doggie poo was her dog's, that her dog had access to the property, and that the poo caused an odor or a health hazard in the summertime, with mold and flies. I'll buy the contention it's a health hazard but not at (winter) temperatures," Bundarin said.

"Poo, per se, is not a health hazard. I've seen farmers deposit a ton of deodorized manure in fields."

Judge Davis reduced the issue down to two questions: Was the dog waste

7 students picked for state institutes

Seven outstanding Plymouth-Canton students have been selected for the Michigan State Board of Education Summer Institutes for the Arts and Sciences.

The institutes are two-week programs for highly talented tenth and eleventh graders held at various state universities. They are sponsored by the Michigan State Board of Education, intermediate school districts and cooperating Michigan colleges and universities.

Those selected from Plymouth-Canton High School are: Janine Bologna, junior, Eastern Michigan University, forensics, debate, theater, Noelle Torrance, sophomore, Eastern Michigan University, theater arts and visual arts; Katherine Downes, sophomore, Michigan State University, engineering and math.

From Plymouth-Canton High are: Lisa Ann Roberts, junior, Eastern Michigan University, theater arts; Marie Jarosz, sophomore, Northern Michigan University, math; Mary Lynn Massey, sophomore, Northern Michigan University, math; Daniel B. Howe, sophomore, Grand Valley State College, sciences.

Cheryl Johnson, coordinator of the Talented and Gifted program for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, said, "It's remarkable to have seven students chosen from a single district."

As I reviewed applications it was apparent that our students were of the highest caliber of excellence as required by the institutes."

STUDENTS AND faculty who have attended previous institutes have praised the program for accomplishing a number of worthwhile goals. The institutes bring together highly talented students and top-notch professionals to share intensive and exploratory work and discussions in the arts and sciences.

The institutes provide high-level experiences for students in a setting not available in school districts. They encourage a climate for questioning and exploration of ideas.

During the two-week period, students are scheduled to attend intensive sessions in an area of high interest. Sessions are at either awareness or advanced levels. Interdisciplinary sessions explore how and where the disciplines of art and science merge and overlap.

Time also is provided for field trips, recreation, project work, discussions with community leaders and social events.

Students are nominated and selected first by their high school and then by their intermediate school district. Final selection and assignment is done at the state level.

ACTIVITIES AND ARTHRITIS

Often, people with arthritis want to know "What exercises should I do to help my arthritis?"

The answer is that exercises aren't important, what you need is regular activity. There are no exercises that will strengthen inflamed joints, furthermore, exercises are difficult to keep up over time.

However, activity is necessary. It helps you maintain the tone of your heart, lungs and muscles, walking, swimming and biking are good examples. The program you choose should allow you to increase your effort in small amounts and permit you to stop whenever your joints have taken enough strain.

If the pace is too strenuous for your joints, you will feel pain. Be assured that you will receive that message long before you cause any irreversible harm to your joints or muscles.

If you feel that you can't undertake an activity program, you should discuss the matter with your doctor. The two of you should try to work out an alternative that will be in the best interests of your health.

Cliches take over in baseball story

Audiences are asked to pay good money to sit still for 2 1/2 hours of confusing cliches in the screen version of Bernard Malamud's first novel, "The Natural." No matter how handsome Robert Redford, no matter how attractively the movie was photographed, "The Natural" can't be saved. It all starts with middle-aged Roy Hobbs (Redford) boarding a train for we-know-not-where, which is exactly where the movie went. He flashes back to his childhood (young Hobbs is played by Paul Sullivan Jr.). His father, Ted Hobbs (Robert Rich III), teaches him everything about baseball because young Roy is a "natural." Father Hobbs dies and a bolt of lightning (a different bolt than when he is homerun) strikes a big old oak on the farm. Roy crafts a marvelous bat from the tree and inscribes it "Wonder Boy." SEGUE TO REDFORD as young Roy Hobbs the night before he leaves the farm for a tryout with the Chicago Cubs. He proposes to the girl next door - Iris Gaines (Glenn Close) - if a farm can be next door. Much later you'll discover what happened that night, so don't forget about Iris, she'll be back to save the day. The Chicago train stops at a carnival and Roy strikes out the Whammer, Joe Don Baker, in a two-bit imitation of Babe Ruth. This diversionary sequence introduces the world's nastiest sports writer, Max Mercy (Robert Duvall), and Harriet Bird (Barbara Hershey). She's a lunatic who shoots people with silver bullets. She lures Roy to her room, shoots him and then commits suicide. I was convinced that she shot him in his pitching shoulder, but the bullet was removed from his stomach 16 years later. Although Roy Hobbs' great passion was baseball, he restrained himself for an unexplained 16 years. Then he turns up as an unwanted player on the New York Knights, managed by Pop Fisher (Wilford Brimley) and coached by Red Blow (Richard Farnsworth). Pop doesn't want a middle-aged, never-has-been and benches Hobbs before he plays. Hobbs gets to play when star rightfielder Bump Bailey (Michael Madsen) is benched for a slump and later dies crashing through the rightfield fence trying too hard, when it is too late. His ashes are scattered from a plane flying over the Knights' home field. WITH HOBBS and "Wonder Boy" at the plate, the Knights near the top. But wait, don't forget cliché No. 17: Gamblers with a fix trying to take over the team. If Pop wins the pennant, he gets control of the team. If he loses, the nasty Judge (Robert Prosky) takes all. Working with Gus the Gambler (Daren McGavin), Pop's niece, Memo (really, that's her name - played by sexy Kim Basinger), corrupts Hobbs, now starting in rightfield. Of course, the Knights tie for the pennant. At their victory celebration, Memo slips Roy something that puts him in the maternity ward. This is not a perverted sex scene. It's just that the maternity hospital was the closest emergency room. Without Roy, the Knights lose three straight, but he gets up from his death bed and leads them to victory. The victory blow hits the light tower and blows out all the lights in a Fourth of July fireworks display that strains credulity beyond all previous limits. THE FILM ENDS with a fully recovered, young Hobbs playing catch with his son. (Remember that one night with Iris?) You never do learn which Redford got on the train 2 1/2 hours ago. Redford plays the true-blue Hobbs to the hilt. No dirty gamblers will corrupt him. Hobbs will never throw the game. Too bad somebody got to Redford. He sure threw the movie.

He remembers Mother

W.W. Edgar

Another Mother's Day has come and gone and what a day it was for The Stroller.

From early morning until dusk fell she seemed to be at his side as he relived all the fond memories he has of her — even though she has been gone for more than three decades.

Never will be forget the morning she took us all — my four sisters and myself — into a little room in our small frame house in an alley back home in the Dutch country.

She had been left a widow and had served The Stroller's father faithfully through a long illness before he went on to the great beyond.

Now she faced the task of raising the family, and The Stroller, the oldest of the five, was only 10 years old.

When she got us seated in the little room she stood up and, weighing every word, she told us that with our father gone we could not have what other children have. She looked at us as she spoke and then added, "But there will be a lot of happiness in your lives if you will make the most of what you have."

SHE LET this thought sink in our childish minds, then went on, "And don't look over the fence. Never mind what the neighbors have — just enjoy what you have."

It was a lesson The Stroller never has forgotten and is always one of the fondest memories of her.

When the time came for The Stroller to leave school — even though at the head of his class, she took him aside and calmly told him that just because he no longer could go to school it didn't mean that he had to stop learning.

"Learn a trade," she said, "and what you have in your head no one will steal from you. And I don't care what trade you choose. But always try to be the best."

Then came the night when Grandmother Edgar came to visit Mother and her family. "I will help to ease the load on you," she advised Mother. "I will take one of the girls and raise her and support her through school."

Mother looked at her and sharply answered, "You will do no such thing. We are all in this boat together. If we reach shore we will all be there and if we go down, we'll go down together."

WHAT A brave soul she was, and The Stroller never will forget that moment. He relives it every Mother's Day.

And on the night he left for Detroit to continue his stroll along the river of printer's ink, he never will forget the farewell she gave. Placing her arm around his shoulders, she said as her parting shot, "If you ever want your watch fixed don't take it to a blacksmith. He wouldn't know what to do with it."

And sitting there in his easy chair reliving some of the fond memories came the scene of the evening when he made his first visit back home.

As he walked up toward the door where she was standing, he expected an embrace. Instead, she took one look at him and almost shouted, "Good God, he's got a top coat. He always wanted one."

She didn't ask how he was getting along. The sight of the top coat told its own story.

What a Mother she was, and The Stroller enjoys every moment he spends with her — even if it is only in a memory.

Chuck the chip on your shoulder

Canton Capt. Art Winkel asks, Are you missing out in life? Do you feel that all your friends are passing you by?

Winkel may have the panacea for your problems. Canton's Country Festival arrives June 10, and once again, a Cow Chip Queen will be elected. Along with other contestants, including — Winkel hopes — President Ronald Reagan and Gov. James Blanchard (see below), the queen will test her prowess hurling a hunk of dried manure.

The athlete who tosses his or her chip the farthest will reign on the Canton Country Festival parade and ride a manure spreader June 10.

Sound irresistible? Write in 25 words or less why you should be queen. You must be at least 18 years old and live or work in Canton. Waste no time sending your reply to Captain Art Winkel, Cow Chip Fling Chairman, 128 N. Canton Center Road, Canton, 48187.

Canton Country Festival

The Honorable Ronald Reagan
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

The Great State of Michigan will be celebrating an event that the whole State of Michigan anxiously awaits every year. This event is a classic. It's a pageant that is parallel to none. The highlight of this area treats this event as the highlight of our social season.

Now that your interest is at its peak, the event is the 4th Annual Cow Chip Fling. You are hereby invited to participate in our contest.

Again this year our chips are bio-degradable and made in America. Not everyone will be able to participate since this contest is an invitational. Multitude of masses are turned away every year.

This contest will take place on June 17, 1984. This should be a must on your calendar of events.

If you want to practice, an object not unlike a Frisbee can be used. I am sure you realize by now that our contest involves organic projectiles.

Please inform your staff to keep this date open on your calendar of events.

Anxiously awaiting your affirmative reply.

Canton Country Festival

The Honorable Governor James Blanchard
Office of the Governor
State Capital
Lansing, Michigan 48903

Dear Governor Blanchard:

Again the great State of Michigan will be celebrating an annual event that everyone looks forward to. This great occasion will take place in Canton, Michigan on June 17, 1984.

Now you ask, what great event takes place in Canton that I would want to attend? It's the 4th Annual Cow Chip Fling. From the event title, I am sure you can guess what the contest is about.

The Community of Canton will be celebrating their annual Country Festival starting from June 9, thru June 17, 1984. The Cow Chip Fling will bring to a conclusion, a very eventful, colorful week that all of Canton and surrounding communities look forward to and participate in.

Since you are the Governor of the Great State of Michigan, I am sure you will want to represent our fine State by participating in this contest.

Anxiously awaiting your affirmative reply.

Dunn on offense

for it for those convicted of the most serious crimes."

Levin, Dunn claimed, also has been "ineffective in getting defense contracts to Michigan."

Dunn said he had a three-point program to solve what he said was the "No. 1 problem — the economy and the size of the federal deficit." His plan includes:

- A Constitutional amendment requiring a balanced budget.
- Two-year budgeting instead of the present one-year system. "That would take some of the politics out of it."
- A freeze of the federal budget at the 1984 rate — $855 billion.

BUT IF DUNN has what he thinks is a winning program to go with his one election success, then why have some of the big GOP money men in Michigan deserted him in favor of Loumsa?

"No. 1, I'm too independent for some of them," answered Dunn, who claims to have statewide support on the county level. "In 1980, they ignored me because they thought no one could beat Bob Carr."

"Pete Secchia (a national committeeman from Grand Rapids who supports Loumsa) and his Arway boys want their own man in there. And Loumsa has said, 'I'm trainable. I know how to take orders.' I've never been like that. I'm independent."

GM has an idea that may save your life.

Or pay $10,000.

Seat belts help save lives and reduce injuries.

Yet seat belt usage is only about 15 percent.

General Motors thinks this too often results in tragedy. We want to do something to encourage more people to wear their seat belts.

This may help.

Effective April 16, 1984, every new GM car and light truck delivered by a GM dealer in the United States comes with a one-year insurance certificate from MIC General Insurance Corporation, the insurance people from GM.

The certificate will be provided without additional charge, and every occupant wearing a seat belt in these cars and trucks will be covered by this protection. $10,000 will be paid to the estate of any occupant who suffers fatal injuries while wearing a GM seat belt.

Now there is even more reason to buckle up.

MATCHMATE FRUITS IN FREEZER JAMS

Today's approach to "putting up" jams and jellies would be the envy of previous generations of jellymakers. No longer do you have to work over a hot stove. Delicious preserves can be made the quick, no-cook way, stored in the freezer and enjoyed year round.

Play matchmaker with different fruits to produce a delectable marriage of flavors and textures—peaches with blueberries, oranges or strawberries, strawberries alone or in combination with rhubarb as well as peaches. Our five tasty recipes—Strawberry Rhubarb Jelly, Strawberry Butter, Peach Orange Conserve, Strawberry Peach Jam and Peach Blueberry Jam—are all "freezer" jams which can be whipped up in no time at all.

Each recipe will be outstanding whether you serve it at breakfast, morning coffee or afternoon tea. Spread your jam on toast, biscuits, muffins, croissants or bagels, or serve it with waffles and pancakes. You can also add a little excitement to desserts by including jam in fruit tarts, cakes or tortes.

The key to making "freezer" jams is commercial fruit pectin—Certo liquid fruit pectin and Sure-Jell powdered fruit pectin. Both products supplement the natural pectin in fruit that tends to decrease as fruit ripens. Pectin assures a good set and helps fruit retain its natural fresh flavor and bright color. Sure-Jell fruit pectin is found in easy-to-open packages which include simple directions for use. Certo fruit pectin comes in pre-measured foil pouches, which makes your job even easier. Be sure to use the type of fruit pectin recommended in your recipe because they are not interchangeable.

To make your jam, start with the freshest, ripest fruit—juicy, red strawberries (green caps intact, please), plump blueberries, smooth and rosy peaches, crisp red or pink rhubarb and tangy, firm oranges. Wash the fruit and discard anything you don't want in the jam, like caps, stems, skins, pits or seeds. Then, check each recipe for the how-to's of preparing and mixing the fruit you'll use.

Next, you'll need some supplies and equipment. Make sure you have all the ingredients listed in the recipe, including the Certo or Sure-Jell fruit pectin. Gather together two bowls (small and large), a paring knife, a sturdy mixing spoon, measuring cups, a ladle and, of course, 1- or 2-cup freezer containers with tight-fitting covers or lids. Don't forget to get some labels so you can mark the jams for the future.

Scald the freezer containers and then mix the jam according to the directions in any one of the scrumptious recipes. Pour immediately into the containers and let them stand at room temperature for 24 hours. You can keep most of the jam fresh and available for up to six months by storing it in the freezer. The jam you and your family want to dip into right away will stay fresh in the refrigerator for three weeks.

Once you've made one of these easy, taste-pleasing jams, we're sure you'll want to make all five. Your family will love you for it and so will any special friends who are treated to your homemade jams.

Family (friends, too) will love you when you serve these easy freezer jams and jellies: Peach Orange Conserve, Strawberry Butter, Strawberry Peach Jam, Strawberry Rhubarb Jelly and Peach Blueberry Jam.

Strawberry Butter

- 2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 qt. fully ripe strawberries)
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 4 cups (1-3/4 lb.) sugar
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 pouch Certo fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Stem about 1 quart strawberries and place a few pieces at a time in electric blender container so blades are just covered. Cover container, and turn control from off to low several times until fruit is chopped. (Do not puree.) Measure 2 cups into large bowl or pan. Add lemon rind and nutmeg.

Then make the butter. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in a small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Quickly ladle into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 4 cups or about 5 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Strawberry Rhubarb Jelly

- 2 cups prepared juice (about 1 qt. fully ripe strawberries and 1/2 lb. rhubarb)
- 4-1/2 cups (2 lb.) sugar
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 pouch Certo fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 quart strawberries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and let drip. When dripping has almost ceased, press gently. Measure 1-1/2 cups into large bowl or pan. Finely grind (do not peel) about 1/2 pound rhubarb. Place in jelly cloth or bag and let drip. When dripping has almost ceased, press gently. Measure 1/2 cup and add to strawberry juice.

Then make the jelly. Thoroughly mix sugar into juice; let stand 10 minutes. Mix lemon juice and fruit pectin in small bowl; stir into juice. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Pour quickly into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 5-1/2 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Strawberry Peach Jam

- 1-3/4 cups prepared fruit (about 1 pt. fully ripe strawberries and 3/4 lb. fully ripe peaches)
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 4 cups (1-3/4 lb.) sugar
- 3/4 cup water
- 1 box Sure-Jell fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 pint strawberries. Measure 1 cup into large bowl or pan. Peel, pit and grind or finely chop about 3/4 pound peaches. Measure 3/4 cup and add to strawberries; add lemon juice.

Then make the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in small saucepan. Bring to a full boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 4-3/4 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Peach Blueberry Jam

- 1-3/4 cups prepared fruit (about 1/2 pt. fully ripe blueberries and 1 lb. fully ripe peaches)
- 4 cups (1-3/4 lb.) sugar
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 pouch Certo fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Finely chop or grind about 1/2 pint blueberries. Measure 1/2 cup into large bowl or pan. Peel, pit and finely chop or grind about 1 pound peaches. Measure 1-1/4 cups and add to blueberries.

Then prepare the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 5 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Peach Orange Conserve

- 1 orange
- 1-1/2 cups prepared peaches (1-1/4 lb. fully ripe peaches)
- 3 tablespoons finely chopped nuts
- 3 tablespoons chopped maraschino cherries
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 4-1/4 cups (1 lb. 14 oz.) sugar
- 3/4 cup water
- 1 box Sure-Jell fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Grate 2 teaspoons rind from 1 orange. Section orange, dice the sections and measure 1/4 cup. Peel, pit and grind or finely chop about 1-1/4 pounds peaches. Measure 1-1/2 cups into large bowl or pan. Add orange rind and sections, nuts, cherries and lemon juice.

Then make the conserve. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit mixture; let stand 10 minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in small saucepan. Bring to a full boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 5-1/2 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Pepperoni makes this spaghetti sauce nearly perfect

When I got hold of a good recipe, I don't let go — I try to improve it. My daughter-in-law's spaghetti sauce needed little improvement, but I recalled that Mike occasionally sliced up some pepperoni and let it cook with the meatballs and sausage. She said it was optional.

After preparing the sauce numerous times, I decided the pepperoni was a key ingredient. It gave the sauce that tiny boost to perfection.

Coincidentally, while working on this column, I received a phone call from Darlene Hopkins of La Habra, Calif., who felt Mike's creation is the perfect spaghetti sauce. She clipped the original recipe last year, but lost it.

"It is so good," she said, "I can't believe it. I've made it a dozen times."

The first time Darlene prepared it, she used too much garlic. "I'm not the best cook," she confessed. She uses fenel seed to make the sauce sweeter and sometimes combines ground beef and pork sausage for the meatballs.

Darlene needed the recipe in a hurry. She invited a date for dinner. It was a week away. I didn't let her down.

MIKIE'S MOST PERFECT SPAGHETTI SAUCE

2 cans (1 lb. 12 oz.) crushed plum tomatoes
1 tsp. garlic salt
1 1/4 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. onion salt
1 tsp. dried oregano leaves
1 bay leaf

In 8-quart pot, combine tomatoes and tomato sauce, stir in 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, sugar, onion salt, 1/4 teaspoon oregano and bay leaf, bring to boil, reduce heat to low, cover and simmer 2 1/2 hours, occasionally stirring. Refrigerate covered overnight.

In large bowl, combine ground beef, 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, 1/2 teaspoon oregano, Parmesan cheese, bread crumbs and eggs, shape into 20 meatballs and refrigerate 30 minutes. Reheat sauce on low, covered, and add

1/4 of pepperoni. In large skillet, heat oil on medium, add onion and garlic, lightly brown meatballs and remove with slotted spoon to sauce, reheated about 1 hour. Brown sausage in skillet and add to sauce with rest of pepperoni. Drain most of grease, stir in tomato paste, mixing with onion and garlic, cook until bubbly and stir into sauce. Cover and cook 2 1/2 hours, occasionally stirring. Remove meatballs and sausage to serving bowl. Spoon sauce over pasta. Serves a crowd.

Small-scale dining can be economical if you plan ahead

Cooking for one or two usually means leftovers for the next three nights or single-serving frozen dinners that could break a bank. But not always. Small-scale dining can be creative, satisfying and above all economical.

Most foods are packaged for four or more. While it is becoming easier to find smaller cans and boxes, the price per serving generally is higher. Thus, the small-quantity cook on a budget will come out ahead by buying the larger size and using the product in several different ways.

For maximum savings, nutrition and variety, plan a week's worth of menus around two or three supermarket specials. Two frequent specials — chicken and ground beef — are particularly good choices. They can be frozen in individual portions. They thaw quickly and can be paired with staple ingredients for quick, easy main dishes.

Take ground beef for example. It can be shaped into meatballs, patties and individual meat loaves or crumbled and used in casseroles, skillet dishes, even main-dish salads. When this versatile meat is on special, buy in quantity. At home, divide large packages into two-serving, half-pound portions. When wrapped in moisture-vaporproof wrap, ground beef can be frozen up to four months. And a half-pound package will thaw overnight in the refrigerator.

Pair the ground beef with staple ingredients. Versatile rolled oats, for example, aren't just for breakfast and cookie-making. When added to ground meat, oats contribute important vitamins, minerals and dietary fiber as well as moistness and tenderness. For individual meat loaves with a south-of-the-border flavor, use three other kitchen staples — catsup, instant minced onion and canned chilies — to flavor the meat mixture and create a spicy topping.

MEXICAN MEAT LOAVES

1/2 lb ground beef
1/4 cup quick or old-fashioned uncooked oats
1 egg
1/2 cup catsup or tomato sauce
2 tsp canned, chopped green chilies, drained
2 tsp instant minced onion
1/2 tsp chili powder
Dash of garlic powder
1/4 cup (1 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese

Heat oven to 375°. Combine meat, oats, egg, 2 tsp catsup, 1 tsp green chilies, 1 tsp onion and chili powder, mix well. Shape to form two 4-x-2-inch loaves; place in 8-inch-square baking dish or 9-inch glass pie plate. Bake 20 to 25 minutes.

In small sauceron combine remaining catsup, green chilies, onion and garlic powder, cook over low heat 3 to 5 minutes or until hot. Spoon sauce over meat loaves, sprinkle with cheese and return to oven for 2 minutes, or until cheese is melted. 2 loaves.

Microwave directions: Microwave meat loaves at HIGH 5 to 6 minutes or until desired doneness, rotating 1/4 turn after each 2 minutes of cooking. In glass measuring cup combine remaining catsup, green chilies, onion and garlic powder, microwave at HIGH 1 minute. Spoon sauce over meat loaves, sprinkle with cheese. Microwave at HIGH 15 seconds, or until cheese is melted.

Five Mexican Meat Loaves with a favorite fresh or frozen vegetable and warm corn bread. Corn bread uses ingredients you're apt to have on hand, takes minutes to prepare, and can be frozen in individual portions for quick reheating. Frozen vegetables packaged in resealable bags make it easy to remove one or two servings. And, if you ask, many supermarkets will split large packages of fresh produce.

Other kitchen staples which can be both time- and money-savers for the small-quantity cook include bouillon granules, bottled lemon juice, catsup and chili sauce, spice mixes and herb blends, quick barley, instant rice, grated, parmesan cheese and small packages of pudding mix and fruit-flavored gelatin. (The latter can be divided in half easily to create dessert for two.) Keep bread in the freezer for quick croutons and crumbs.

While most main dishes and salads can be easily scaled down for two, cookies, cakes and other sweet treats can be tricky. For best results when dividing a recipe in half:

- Select a recipe with easily divisible quantities.
- When adding flavorings such as vanilla and cinnamon, do so gradually.
- Divide an egg in half by first breaking it into a custard cup. Beat egg lightly with a fork before measuring. One large egg yields about 3 table-spoons.
- Loaf pans, 8-inch layer-cake pans and 6-cup muffin pans work well for small recipes.
- To freeze baked products, cool completely, then wrap tightly in moisture-vaporproof wrap. Use within one month.

Favorite cookie recipes usually are a good choice for the small-quantity cook. Chocolate Raisin Chippers, a small-scale variation of the popular oatmeal cookie, yields just two-dozen cookies.

CHOCOLATE RAISIN CHIPPERS

1/2 cup margarine, softened
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 tsp water
1/2 tsp vanilla
1/2 cup all-purpose flour

1/4 tsp baking soda
1/4 tsp salt (optional)
1 1/4 cups quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked
1/2 cup semisweet chocolate pieces

Call attention to the strawberries

At the peak of the strawberry season, the luscious red berries are especially spectacular in desserts that call attention to their color and freshness. Since ripe, well-formed strawberries are important in recipe uses, keep in mind the following tips when handling fresh berries.

- Select fully ripened, bright red strawberries, since they do not continue to ripen after being picked. Choose berries with a natural shine and bright green, fresh-looking caps.
- After buying, remove the strawberries from containers and arrange in a single layer on a cookie sheet or other shallow pan and refrigerate.
- Do not wash strawberries until just before using. Remove caps after washing the berries, since the caps prevent water from diluting the flavor and changing the texture of the fruit.

To show off fresh strawberries, look for recipes that help enhance their flavor without changing their delicate texture. Strawberry Brownie Cheesecake and Baked Brownie Alaska are two impressive-looking desserts featuring the popular combination of strawberries and chocolate. Although both prepared desserts look complicated, they are easy to prepare with refrigerated fudge brownie dough.

TO MAKE Strawberry Brownie Cheesecake, the first step is to prepare the rich brownie layer by spreading the refrigerated dough in a pan and baking. The cooled brownie is then topped with a no-knead cream-cheese mixture. Fresh strawberry halves and a strawberry preserve glaze.

Baked Brownie Alaska is a simplified version of the showy Baked Alaska made especially attractive with a topping of fresh strawberries. Instead of the usual cake layer to insulate the ice cream while the meringue is browning, the recipe calls for a brownie layer made from refrigerated brownie dough.

An advantage to this adaptation is that the whole dessert, including the meringue, can be prepared hours or even days in advance then frozen. This helps remove the fear usually associated with the last-minute preparation of traditional Baked Alaska.

Since the Baked Brownie Alaska recipe calls for only one-half of the baked pan of brownies, you can enjoy the re-

TOPPING
8-oz pkg cream cheese, softened
2 tbsp sugar
2 tbsp milk
2 cups halved strawberries
GLAZE
½ cup strawberry preserves

Heat oven to 350°. Grease 10-inch springform pan or two 8-inch round cake pans. Spread brownie dough into prepared pan. Bake at 350° 10-inch springform, 36 to 42 minutes; 8-inch rounds, 24 to 30 minutes. Cool completely, remove ring from pan.

In medium bowl, combine cream cheese, sugar and milk, beat until smooth. Spread evenly over top of cooled brownie. Arrange strawberry halves on top of cream cheese mixture.

In small saucepan, heat strawberry preserves to drizzle consistency. Pour over strawberries. Chill at least one hour. Refrigerate leftovers 20 servings.

BAKED BROWNIE ALASKA
29-oz pkg refrigerated fudge brownies
1 qt ice cream, softened
3 egg whites
Dash salt
1 cup marshmallow creme
1 cup halved strawberries

Heat oven to 350°. Foil line and grease 13x9-inch pan. Prepare dough according to package directions. Cool completely.

Heat oven to 500°. Cover cookie sheet with aluminum foil. Remove brownie from pan, cut in half crosswise. Place one-half of brownie on foil-lined cookie sheet. (Use remaining half of brownie as desired.) Spoon or scoop ice cream on top of brownie. Freeze while preparing meringue.

In medium bowl, beat egg whites and salt until soft peaks form. Gradually add marshmallow creme, beating until stiff peaks form. Spread meringue evenly, completely covering ice cream and brownie, sealing to foil-covered cookie sheet. Bake at 500° on lowest rack of oven for 3 to 5 minutes or until delicately browned. Freeze several hours or overnight. When ready to serve, transfer to serving plate. Top with strawberries. Let stand 3 to 5 minutes before cutting. 6-8 servings.

Vegetable soup is fortified with tuna

Here's a recipe for a quick version of vegetable soup, fortified with tuna — the high-quality albacore variety.

TUNA VEGETABLE SOUP

1 can (13 oz) solid white tuna in water
1 clove garlic, pressed
2 cups sliced celery
1/2 cup chopped green onion
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1 tbsp butter
3 cans (14 1/2 oz each) chicken broth
1 cup frozen peas
1 cup broken spaghetti
1/2 cup diced carrots

Drain tuna. Sauté garlic, celery, green onion and parsley in butter one minute. Add chicken broth, peas, spaghetti and carrots. Simmer, uncovered, 10 minutes. Remove from heat, add tuna, breaking into bite size pieces. Makes 2 generous quarts.

Local tuxedo designer earns national acclaim

By Elinor Graham staff writer

All the new fashions aren't coming out of New York and Paris.

According to an announcement from veteran fashion designer Bill Blass, there's an up and coming designer right here in Canton Township.

Matthew Papa, a junior at Plymouth Canton High School, has been awarded a one-year, $2,500 scholarship to the Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science for his entry in the After Six Design-a-Tuxedo contest.

Matt is the son of Peter and Margaret Papa of Willow Creek, Canton Township.

Blass was one of the judges in the competition developed to provide high-school juniors and seniors from the United States and abroad the opportunity to be recognized and rewarded for their talents in the field of fashion design.

Creativity of design and the entrant's interest in pursuing a career in the apparel industry were the contest criteria.

Matt, who will be 17 in June, learned of the contest last October.

"There was a paragraph on the fashion page of the Detroit News. I sent in my entry at the end of November," he said. In February, he received a letter with the news that he was a finalist.

"They said the winners would be announced in a couple of weeks. I didn't hear any more and thought I was out of it. Then the letter came April 20."

His design had been selected from more than 90 entries representing high-school students from across the United States, as well as Canada, Austria, the Bahamas and South America.

Each entrant had submitted a tuxedo design appropriate for proms and weddings, along with an essay expressing the student's ambitions and career goals.

MATT'S WINNING design was created for "a man with daring."

Contest sponsors, After Six and Philadelphia Textile, described his entry: "His linen design features a long, baggy-fit jacket that buttons four times at the waist and plunges in the back until leveling off at the back of the thigh. The pants, also loose-fitting, feature an eye-catching band that runs the length of the pant, as well as a slim taper at the calf. An elegant, simple white linen shirt and contrasting bow-tie complete this daring ensemble."

Matt said he sent along swatches of fabrics with his sketches. The materials were a slub-weave linen flecked with burgundy, navy or gold. The band on the pants and tie were the solid color of the fleck.

THOSE WHO attended the all-school musical, "No, No, Nanette," may have noted that Matt Papa was head of the costume crew for the production.

He makes some of his own clothes — shirts, pants and jackets. He said his first exposure to working on a sewing machine was in a sixth-grade clothing-construction class. Now, his mother is his mentor on the machine.

Dick Saunders has been his teacher in drawing and sketching and vocational-design classes in high school. Matt wishes he were heading for Philadelphia this fall, but he will complete his senior year at high school. He hopes to visit the campus during summer vacation.

His whole attitude reflects all the things he doesn't know and all the skills he wants to learn.

"I can't make patterns. I have to alter existing patterns. That's one of the things I'll learn," he said in anticipating his year at the Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science.

Four scholarships were awarded in the contest. The other three winners were high-school students from New Jersey, Mississippi and Nebraska.

Matthew Papa of Canton, a junior at Plymouth Canton High School, has been awarded a scholarship in textile design.

LASER BEAM FOOT SURGERY

Industry is among the most medical fields to incorporate the use of lasers as surgical instruments. Dr. Charles Dittich, M.D., uses among the first products in the state of Michigan to incorporate Laser Beam Foot Surgery in an OFFICE BASED SETTING.

Laser Applications

Among the foot problems that can be effectively treated with Lasers are:

INGROWN TOENAILS Laser vaporizes nail growth centers preventing recurrences

WARTS & GROWTHS The Laser beam vaporizes the growth instead of cutting thus giving relief and helping to prevent recurrences

FUNGUS NAILS Destroys fungus while stimulating tissue

With Laser surgery danger of infection and scarring is minimized and healing time is reduced. For further information As To How Laser Surgery Can Help You:

Canton clips Salem, 5-4

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Maybe we're spoiled. Maybe we expect too much.

When it comes to high school baseball, Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem usually mean excellence. The fans have come to expect excellence.

Well, the Rocks and Chiefs met for keeps on Canton's turf Wednesday, and the game was anything but excellent.

In a word, it was ugly — with two exceptions.

Canton's Jeff Olson ripped three hits, including a long opposite-field home run, and pitcher Mark Bennett came on in the seventh inning to strike out a pair of Rocks and preserve the Chiefs' 5-4 win.

"We didn't play well," acknowledged Canton coach Fred Crissey.

"I don't know. They weren't very aware, they weren't very smart baseball players out there today," Salem coach John Gravin said.

BOTH COACHES were being kind.

The game, played on a chilly, damp afternoon, featured 15 walks and a hit batsman, six physical errors and an uncountable number of mental misques.

To give you an idea how bad things were for the Rocks, they trailed 5-0 late in the game and had a runner picked off first.

"I had just told him to watch out for a fake throw to third (the Rocks had runners on first and third). He nodded his head and then proceeded to get picked off," Gravin said.

IN ANOTHER instance, the Rocks, with runners on second and third and one out, tried a suicide squeeze. The batter, Pat Walsh, is one of Salem's best bunters, having laid down four bunt singles so far this season. This time he missed, and Darryl Brees was tagged out at the plate.

The Chiefs were not without mistakes either. Shortstop John Longridge, normally as sure-handed a fielder as you could want, made three errors. Catcher Tim Collins, a fine defensive catcher, misplayed a foul pop.

The Chiefs carried a 5-0 lead into the top of the sixth. Starting Chief pitcher Scott Ford had been in and out of trouble the entire game and had pitched on Monday. Crissey decided to pull him in favor of Buckey Blake. Blake pitched Saturday in the non-league doubleheader against the Rocks and walked 11.

Blake, a fire-baller, couldn't find the plate again.

"IT WAS my fault," Crissey said. "I took a chance on Buckey and didn't have to. I wanted to get him some work to try and straighten out his control problems. Buckey is probably our best pitcher when he's on. He'll be all right."

He walked the bases full in the sixth, then walked in two runs and gave up an RBI single to Mike McKenney — one of just four Rock hits.

Crissey brought on Mike Clark who walked Chris Belhart to make it 5-4. The bases were still loaded, there was one out, and hot-hitting Mike Cindrich was up.

"No way does Mike hit into a double play," Gravin said. "He's one of the fastest runners on the team. He never gets doubled up."

CINDRICH HIT a one-hopper to Clark, who turned it into a fast double-play.

"He hits it any other place, and we have a tie game. He's never done that," Gravin said.

Salem started its ace, Rick Berberet, but the Chiefs didn't have a lot of problems with him. Berberet walked six, hit one and allowed seven hits in six innings.

Olson's home run put the Chiefs on top in the first. His single in the third, following walks to Longridge and Jeff Wittner, made it 2-0. Berberet, after intentionally walking Bennett to load the bases with two outs, walked Jim Dillon to make it 3-0.

CANTON TOOK advantage of some more Rock mistakes in the fourth. With one on and two out, Olson ripped his third hit, sending Longridge to third. With Jim Dillon up, Crissey sent Olson from first base.

Salem catcher Scott Anderson faked a throw to second and threw instead to shortstop Ken Harmon. Longridge broke for the plate and would have been an easy out, except Anderson's throw dribbled out to Harmon, allowing Longridge to score.

"I couldn't believe that, either. Scotty stepped on the plate when he made his throw (and slipped)," Gravin said.

Collins followed with a double to score Olson with what turned out to be the winning run.

CLARK GOT the first Rock batter out in the seventh. Then Brees hit a shot that Longridge couldn't handle, and Salem had the tying run on. Crissey didn't hesitate. He brought in his ace, Bennett.

Bennett, who is 5-1 on the season, struck out Harmon and Chris Mowers to end the game and save a win for Ford.

The win leaves the Chiefs with a 9-1 record. Salem is now 7-6, after winning six of its first seven games. Salem has now lost five straight. The Rocks have not beaten the Chiefs since 1978.

Hartnett takes hoop talents to Concordia

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Erich Hartnett, a much sought-after basketball prospect, will take his share and bake, his shuffle step, and his dippy-do to Concordia College near Ann Arbor next fall.

Hartnett, a crowd-pleasing player with his creative drives to the hoop and his fondness of the slam dunk, was an All-Area performer for Plymouth Salem last season, averaging 12 points, nine rebounds and six assists per game. He was selected first team All-Western Lakes and third team Metro West. He shared the Rocks' Most Valuable Player honors with Rick Berberet.

"Erich was the key to our whole recruiting year, he was the one we really wanted," said Richard Zalenski, assistant coach and head of recruiting at Concordia. "He's a fine player and will be a tremendous asset to our program."

The book on Hartnett, according to many college coaches, was that with one or two years of college maturity under his belt, he could be a contributing Division I player.

That's why it came as bit of a surprise when he chose Concordia, an independent Division III school.

"ONE OF THE biggest factors was the money," Hartnett said. "I didn't have a lot of money and they are giving me a full-ride scholarship."

Hartnett was also considering Schoolcraft Community College, Henry Ford Community College and, especially, Highland Park Community College. Those schools could offer just tuition and fees.

"There were a couple of reasons I think Erich chose us," Zalenski said. "Academically, we are a lot stronger than the other schools. We have a lot to offer in that area. And being close to home helped. He's only 15 minutes away. Plus, he liked the campus a lot."

There was a time, though, when the last place Hartnett was thinking about was Concordia.

"At first I didn't want to play Division III," Hartnett said. "After our district game against John Glenn, he (Zalenski) came and talked to me. He asked me, if I had to choose now, which school would I attend? I told him Highland Park. I told him I didn't really want to go to Concordia, but that I'd leave it open in case he could change my mind. And he did."

Hartnett hasn't given up on his dream of becoming a Division I player. Zalenski's most effective recruiting tool was telling Hartnett he could transfer to a Division I school after a year or two, and not have to sit out a year. In fact, Zalenski even went through the trouble of sending video tapes of Hartnett to George Mason University in West Virginia.

"GEORGE MASON is really interested in me," Hartnett said. "They have two senior guards this year and are going to need help next year. They said they were going to come up and see me play next year."

Another factor swaying Hartnett to Concordia was Zalenski's signing of Wayne Memorial star Anthony Strickland. In fact, Zalenski has been scouring this area for its basketball talent. Others apparently close to committing to Concordia are Keith Strickland (Wayne), William Clark (Detroit Southeastern), Steve Juodawikis (Livonia Churchill), Scott McCloskey (Garden City) and sharp-shooter Gary Thomas (Plymouth Canton).

But, to Zalenski, the No. 1 recruit was Hartnett.

"Erich will start at point guard for us. We feel he will adapt to the college game very well. I feel his talent wasn't fully used in high school. He's the type of player that will keep getting better and better," Zalenski said.

Hartnett, once skeptical, is anxious to get to Concordia.

"I can't wait," he said. "I'm supposed to be the man. I feel great. I'm really looking forward to it. I want all the responsibility to rest on my shoulders."

Concordia was a pathetic 4-27 last year, but Zalenski, in his first full recruiting year, is out to change the image of his school. He couldn't have picked a better player to start a winning tradition with. In Hartnett's two years as a starter, Salem had a 41-7 record.

Erich Hartnett helped make Salem basketball a success last season.

Harrison star too much for Canton

Lauri Runk won four events and scored 20 points for her Farmington Harrison girls track team Thursday.

The final score of the Hawks' meet against a vastly-improved Plymouth Canton team: 74-54.

How important is Lauri Runk? "She's really something," said coach Mark Babcock.

Is she ever. The junior won the high jump with a 4-10 leap, and the long jump with a 15 1/4. Then on the track, Runk won both distance races: the 1,600 meters (5:58.0) and the 3,200 (13:22.0).

"Her times in the distance events haven't been as good as she can do. She's really improved her jumping and I think that's had an effect on her running," Babcock said.

Hollie Ivey and Kim Bennett were the big point-getters for the Chiefs. Ivey won the shot put (31-4 1/2) and the discus (94-1), while Bennett won the 100 dash (13.25) and the 200 dash (27.8).

Carolyn Nagy was the only other

girls track

Chief individual winner. She took the 400 dash in 1:04.7. The Chiefs only won one relay — the 3,200 in 10:56.0.

Jill Birska and Jamie Holcomb were hurdle winners for the Hawks. Birska won the 100 hurdles in 17.3 and Holcomb took the 300 in 49.6.

Jenny Anderson captured the 800 run in 2:36.6.

Harrison's powerful sprint relay team — Birska, Carol Kopko, Holcomb and Carla Primo — won the 400-meter (53.4) and the 800-meter (1:52.7). Beth Christie, Jamie Lyons, Holcomb and Kopko teamed on a 4:24.0 to win the 1,600-meter relay.

The Hawks, ranked No. 5, are 4-1 overall, 2-1 in the Western Lakes. Canton is 3-2 overall, 1-1 in the league.

Salem can't stop fleet Farmington

Plymouth Salem nudged ahead of Farmington in the Observerland boys track rankings last week with its strong showing at the Observer Relays.

Seems the young men at Farmington weren't at all pleased by that and took it out on the Rocks Thursday in their dual-meet encounter.

The Falcons overwhelmed Salem in the field events taking four of five firsts, and winning the 440-yard dash, the 800 run, the mile and the two-mile on their way to a 78 1/2-60 1/2 win.

Salem took three of the four relays but it didn't matter. The damage had been done.

"We are a great dual-meet team," said Farmington coach Dave Catherman, as his 7-0 dual-meet mark would attest. "We tried to rely on our depth and not triple-event anyone. In the past we've been a good weekend team (good in relay meets) and weak in duals. This year it's reversed."

Greg Copial was the meet's lone double-event winner. The Falcon won both hurdle events: the 120-yard highs in 15.3 and the 330 lows in 40.1.

Craig Petersmark won the shot put from improving sophomore Bryan Waldron who leaped 19-5 in the long jump.

The only other Salem individual firsts came from Jeff Arnold in the 100 dash (10.7) and freshman Brian Neuhardt in the 220 (23.6). Salem captured

Floorcoverings lay flowers at your feet

Americans' growing preference for more color and decoration in home furnishings may be the tip-off to a new mood of national optimism, according to one expert. Wendy Claussen, head flooring stylist at Armstrong.

Claussen commented on the current decorating scene as the latest floor-coverings fashions debuted in January showings in major U.S. cities.

For the past few years, Claussen related, the Natural Look has dominated home furnishings. In vinyl flooring, that translates into patterns that look like wood, quarry tile, brick or stone and into neutral colors like beige and almond.

While neutrals and naturals continue strong, there's a definite swing to decorative flooring patterns and away from bland hues to pastel colors like creamy yellow, teal green and even lilac. Other colors on the rise are dusty rose and seafoam blue.

"The economic outlook is brighter and so are home furnishings," observed Claussen. "They often mirror larger social trends, which isn't surprising since they don't exist in isolation from the rest of our culture."

AMONG TYPES of decor, the Country Look and Victoriana each still has a large following, but now Art Deco, the sleek, streamlined look of the '20s and '30s, is emerging as a factor.

Hallmarks of Art Deco are lacquered wood, rounded-off furniture and color schemes that tend to run to mixtures like plum, peach and gray. Good examples of pure Art Deco design are New York's Radio City Music Hall and the Chrysler Building.

"It's appropriate to mention Chrysler," Claussen said. "That company has come roaring back — just like the economy."

"Americans by and large have put self-doubt behind them, and our country is beginning to take a leadership role in the world again. I think that's what we're seeing in today's more assertive home-furnishings styles."

That assertiveness conspicuously includes what the Armstrong executive terms "the return of decoration." For example, in vinyl flooring, quarry tile patterns used to be just that: Reproductions of plain unadorned quarry tile.

Now the same tile patterns are showing up decorated with — of all things — flowers. In fact, florals are the hottest decorating motif today for all sorts of furnishings, not just floors.

Consumers won't go from plain to highly decorated home furnishings overnight, though.

"This is an evolutionary, not revolutionary, process," asserts Claussen. "Right now people prefer patterns that aren't too busy."

A craft room invites togetherness

Everybody's heard about those old-fashioned quilting bees where pioneer women got together for a few hours of socializing and work. Togetherness: that's the spirit of crafts.

These days, though, you're more likely to find the typical craftsman (or woman) holed up by himself (or herself) in a solitary workroom in some distant corner of the house. The "crafty" person has been practically banished from mainstream family life.

That's usually unnecessary. With careful planning, many family rooms can serve as craft workshops too. A recent issue of "Decorating & Craft Ideas" magazine shows how.

The first step is to set aside separate areas for craft and non-craft activities. The second is to draw them together again through certain decorating tricks that give a room unity of design.

The magazine's family room is intended for a quilter and a miniaturist (someone who makes dollhouse furniture and scale models), although it can be adapted to other uses. The larger portion of space is devoted to a craft area and the remainder is taken up by a "conversation alcove," with plushy love seats.

There's lots of storage; a must for stowing tools and materials. It's ranged along the walls, leaving the center of the room clear. Why? So there's plenty of space to operate the 8-foot-long solid maple quilt frame. When the frame is not being employed, the quilting surface tilts up vertically and the whole apparatus fits flat against the wall.

THE STORAGE includes a closet for compact power tools, complete with work platform and a fan to suction off sawdust.

The Armstrong Solarian no-wax floor in a small tile pattern is a good "thread hider." The color is called "toast." And unlike carpet (installed only in the alcove) no-wax floors don't lend themselves to pins finding their way beneath the surface, perhaps to pop out later as a painful surprise. Also an important consideration for a craft (or indeed any) area — no-wax floors are easy to clean and don't need much care.

The unification of the decor — the drawing together of all elements of the room into a harmonious whole began with the choice of wallpaper. It's a crisp, neat windowpane check (cream-colored stripes on a hunter-green field) which provides a nice contrast to the clutter in the craft area.

The love seats in the conversation alcove are upholstered in a fabric color-coordinated to the wallpaper. This establishes a strong visual link between and craft and non-craft areas. The wallpaper and fabric are from the same source.

The visual link is further strengthened by framing the arch between the alcove and the craft area in bands of the pastel colors found in the alcove furnishings. It's such simple touches as these that give the entire space the unity it enjoys.

Decorating accessories are completed crafts and works in progress.

Before buying siding, do your homework

You've finally decided it's time to stop painting the house and look for a better solution to exterior maintenance. What's best — aluminum or vinyl siding? How can you get the most value for your money? Before you spend thousands of dollars on your home's exterior, begin by getting the facts both from manufacturers and from people who've bought siding. You can find magazines that list siding manufacturers' names and addresses. Write to them for literature.

Ask reputable siding contractors to give you the names and addresses of homeowners who have siding. Try to get a variety of types of siding. And ask for homeowners whose siding is several years old. They can tell you more about how the products hold up and what maintenance has been needed, if any.

Buying siding is like most purchases. You can always find a cheaper grade at a lower price. It isn't the lowest price in the long run, however, if it doesn't hold up. Buying brand-name siding made by a reputable company is your best investment for long-term satisfaction.

● Appearance. You'll be considering several factors. Of course appearance is important. Does the siding look good not only when it's installed but for years thereafter?

SIDING COMES in a variety of styles and colors that look like 4-inch, 5-inch or 8-inch clapboards and also in a more contemporary-looking vertical style.

● Maintenance. What are the physical properties of the siding? One that is solid color clear through, such as vinyl, has no painted surface to scratch or wear off, so it will provide low maintenance for many years.

● Accessories. You may want to consider which companies have special decorator accessories to match their siding. The accent of a door surround or wide fluted corner posts, for example, now can be had in low-maintenance materials.

● Warranty. Consider the manufacturer's warranty. Some sidings have up to 50-year warranties that even include hail damage. Has the manufacturer been around long enough to justify giving such a long warranty? Is it a well-established company that will be around to fulfill that warranty, should you ever need it?

Equally important, look at the contractor's reputation and stability. Check references before signing that contract.

One source for free vinyl-siding literature is the Mastic Information Center, Dept. F83NS, P.O. Box F, Berrien Springs, Mich. 49103. Mastic is a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel.

For consumers who want to test actual siding samples personally, Mastic offers a Tough Customer Kit for $5. It includes a complete testing kit with samples of aluminum and vinyl siding so you can test them yourself, plus literature, color swatches and "A Guide to Designing Your Home's Exterior." Send a check or money order to Mastic Information Center at the address shown above.

Do-it-yourself privacy

It is now possible to have a distinctive beautiful basket-weave design privacy fence that will require no maintenance. The massive anodized aluminum extrusions combine with double-thick baked enamel aluminum panels give lasting protection that withstands weather and use. It is available in a variety of heights and colors that never need painting. The construction makes it an easy do-it-yourself installation. For additional information, write to Jerith Mfg. Co. Inc., 2716 Salmon St., Philadelphia, Pa. 19134.

Costly carpet needs regular maintenance

Today's homeowner is faced with many decisions concerning purchase and care of carpet. How then does one become a smart shopper and decide on the right color, pile height, pattern and carpet texture that is affordable and meets lifestyle needs of the home?

It doesn't matter if you are buying a new home or decorating the old, carpet represents a long-term, major investment. This investment is judged by the cost of the carpet and the length of its service.

After making the investment in carpet, homeowners should understand that carpet needs to be maintained on a regular basis to look good consistently and thereby get the most out of the investment.

Carpet manufacturers recommend frequent, planned maintenance which includes two basic steps: Frequent vacuuming and carpet dry cleaning.

Over the years, mothers and grandmothers have taught us to clean the carpet when it looks "bad." For some, this may be every three or four months; for others, once a year or less.

However, by the time dirt and spots begin to show, carpet is usually matted and some degree of damage is done. This usually results in a complete "restoration" cleaning to refurbish the life of the carpet.

CARPETS OF the '80s combine good looks with inherent properties that help carpet to wear and look better longer. Colors, patterns and textures are designed to disguise and resist soil and stains better than ever.

New fibers make the cleaning process easier. However, fiber producers and carpet manufacturers alike tell us that carpet must be maintained as the dirt shows up in the traffic lanes.

Be aware that even soil hiding and anti-soil treated carpets aren't a guarantee against dirt.

As with any carpet, the same cleaning habits should be established for maintaining treated carpets. The dirt is still there — it's just hidden.

Regular cleaning for all carpet is important not only for appearance's sake, but will, over a period of time, extend the life of the carpet.

Using a pretreatment cleaning technique not only works for rings around collars and cuffs, but also for carpeting.

Use of a pre-clean mist before drycleaning makes cleaning process easier and loosens soil from the carpet fiber. Pre-cleaning is especially effective on tough stains such as coffee, blood or ground-in dirt.

Down memory lane

Peace, harmony and a continuity with the past are being revived in America's romance with old and cherished looks. Here in a remodeled barn, the American Oak Collection looks like a nostalgic picture of familiar serenity. The split-pedestal table in a pickled finish is a democratic gathering place for a family meal, and American Windsor chairs are comfortable for a convivial game with friends. The geometrical pattern of the wood fretwork on the Looking Glass Cabinet extends to its sides, and behind the doors are glass shelves, interior lights and a mirror that illuminates cherished china and crystal.

Adding counters?
Consider needs

If you're thinking about remodeling your kitchen, one of the most important areas to consider is your counter space. Just think about all the kitchen activities that require counter space: assembling your family's favorite casserole, cooling fresh-baked chocolate chip cookies, storing flour, sugar, coffee and your collection of best-loved recipes so you can get them easily. Counters are among the busiest parts of your house. Before you plan your remodeling, think about what your needs are. Here are a few hints from design consultants at Du Pont's "Corian" building materials division to help you get started.

- FIRST, THINK about your special space requirements.
- Do you do a lot of baking or food preparation that needs one large work area? If so, you may want to plan a wide-open counter area, with cabinets for bowls, cookware and frequently used ingredients located conveniently above and below the area.
  - Do you use small appliances like coffee makers, toasters, blenders and food processors often? Plan extra space, especially back toward the wall, for these appliances, so that you don't have to take them out of the cabinet every time you want to use them.
  - You may also want to allot extra counter space for a dish drain, a cutting board, cookbooks — anything you want to be easily accessible. Probably, most of your kitchen activities will take place in the "work triangle," with the sink, refrigerator and range marking the points. Plenty of counter space inside this triangle will make each step of your food preparation simpler. FOR INSTANCE, a counter next to the refrigerator allows you to load and unload foods easily. Space on both sides of the sink leaves you plenty of room to wash and drain dishes; and a counter, with a cooling rack, next to the stove is a convenient place to cool hot dishes. One popular way to create more counter space, without doing a major remodeling job, is to install an "island."

This extra storage center can provide a large, open work space — perfect if you enjoy preparing dishes with lots of ingredients or baking double batches of cookies. Equip your island with an extra sink, a range and/or electrical outlets and it becomes a "mini-kitchen" just right for all your needs. One small warning: you can have too much counter space as well as too little. If you plan too many large counter areas in your kitchen, you may find yourself running five miles a day — just between the refrigerator and the sink!

History repeats itself as bold colors return

A new trend in decorating sees history repeated as the bold, vibrant hues reminiscent of the Victorian era come to life once more for use in contemporary homes, apartments and offices.

Victorian colors are becoming more popular due to a growing romantic trend in decorating. The bright pastels such as peach and turquoise, which were seen in home furnishings in the past few years, are giving way to rich but low-key shades washed with light.

Furnishings with sensuous, curved designs and delicate, lacy fabrics complement these romantic colors, one interior decorator noted.

The average homeowner doesn't need to spend thousands of dollars to bring the subdued, classic look of the Victorian era into his own home. A few accessories, the right draperies, a throw pillow and perhaps a new stain added to existing wood furniture can give a Victorian aura to any home. And the right wall color is essential to pulling together any look.

The Victorian era saw bold, intense colors with a large amount of pigment being used. But the colors were slightly cooler, more ash-toned instead of bright, noted a color expert at Fuller-O'Brien Paints, originators of The Cape May Victorian Colors Palette, a 70-color spectrum that faithfully reproduces the beautiful hues of the late 19th century.

In contemporary homes, the colors work especially well because they offer a perfect "canvas" for the decorator, enhancing, without overpowering, the decor. The subdued quality of these colors makes them an ideal choice for use with nearly any style of contemporary furnishings.

So go ahead — experiment. Whether the look you want is 19th century or modern, a few simple touches, with the right wall color as a backdrop, can add elegance to any room.

Mini blinds are easy to install, care for

Quality isn't cheap. But that doesn't mean it need be expensive. The quality of life, for instance, doesn't cost a penny, nor does a glorious sunset.

A home improvement needn't be all that expensive either. Mini blinds, updated versions of venetian blinds, are an excellent example of how to get maximum style with minimum expense. They add color, texture and dimension to rooms, yet are easy to install and need but minimum care.

No matter what your budget, says the U.S. Venetian Blind Association, there's a style of mini blind suited to fit it. Manufacturers offer a wide selection of blinds in more than 100 decorator colors.

To create the look of understated elegance, begin with a careful study of the room you want to improve. Determine what items you want to keep. Things of value or items in style consistent with what you have in mind should be kept. Next, consider how the room will be used and what furniture and accessories are needed to create the image you have in mind.

If you plan to install wallcoverings or apply a fresh coat of paint, use the mini blind as decorative accents. Remember that lighting affects color so choose colors wisely. Examine them in the natural tone of daylight, if possible. Since mini blinds are also available in stripes and handsome wood-like materials, consider how the blinds might be used to contrast or complement surrounding colors.

Highlight the important or distinctive features of a room, advises USVBA. Wood beams or moulding, trim around doors and windows and other detailing that serve to give a room character should be emphasized rather than hidden by the color scheme.

More information on the art of decorating with mini blinds is in "Thoroughly Modern Minis: Decorating With Venetian Blinds." To get a copy of this booklet, send 50 cents to USVBA, 355 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

New wallcoverings designed for kids

Though consumers have more choices in wallcoverings than ever, certain trends in styles, colors and materials are developing, says the Wallcovering Information Bureau. To find out what they are, WIB interviewed several experts whose publications cover the wallcovering industry.

One development in wallcovering fashion is the popularity of wallcoverings in children's rooms, now that the kitchen and bath have been done. To sell this market, manufacturers are introducing lines "that contain more patterns and borders," says Janet Verdegue, editor of "The Wall Paper" magazine. "In many cases, the borders are available in many widths and styles and are coordinated with fabrics for a total look."

She adds that in the area of style, "manufacturers are offering a more elegant look with moires, pearlescents and lustre prints in which the metallic element becomes the accent rather than the dominant feature."

"CORRELATION OF fabrics, rather than matching fabrics, will have the real impact. It will be color and motif that help tie the fabrics and wallcoverings together."

Forman says there will be an increase in the use of borders because they "make a very important design statement. The trend towards romantic embellishment will influence the use of borders and those with swags, stencils and other strong motifs. In the contemporary areas, consumers will want 'painting technique' looks, including drop cloth and brush stroke. Colors will range from pastels to bold primaries with a heavy emphasis on the desert colors."

According to Rick Hirsch, editor of "Decorative Products World," color trends this year will move "toward

Wallcoverings for kids

brighter pastels and brighter colors generally. Earthtones are pretty much out of fashion, while grays are taking over the spotlight as neutrals, replacing beige and camel. Though blues remain important, there's a shift toward red, including mauves and dusty rose."

The managing editor of Decorating Retailer Magazine agrees that the wallcovering public is tiring of earthtones.

"LIVELIER HUES that appear in spring flowers will be seen more and more. Decorating is expected to become more formal with colors becoming increasingly softer and more subtle. Popular colors are expected to include pale yellow, apricot, aqua, dusty rose, mint green and plum.

Anyone who would like to see examples of the latest trends in wallcovering colors, styles and material can get a look at them in local decorating stores, home centers or department stores.

And for more information on how to use wallcoverings to make your own fashion statement, write to Wallcovering Information Bureau, Dept. HP, 66 Morris Ave., Springfield, N.J. 07081, for a free copy of "The Wallcovering How-To-Handbook."
