The Canton Connection

A HALLOWEEN Party will be held Saturday for children ages 3 to 12. Sponsored by the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department, the party will take place at the recreation center on Michigan Avenue at Sheldon Road. Three-to-7-year-olds are invited to attend 9:30-10:30 a.m., and 8-to-12-year-olds 10:45-11:45 a.m. Children should come in costume for the costume-judging contest. A cartoon carnival, refreshments and more surprises are planned. There is no charge to participate, but reservations must be made in advance by calling 397-1000 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

JAKE DINGELDEY, director of the Department of Public Works, reminds Canton Township residents that household rubbish should be placed in 20 or 30 gallon cans, vis-queen or plastic bags of a minimum of two-mill quality at the curbside before 6 a.m. on their scheduled day. Residents should not use cardboard boxes or paper bags, Dingeldey said. Bulk items, such as furniture, appliances, television sets, and water heaters, will be collected on the normal pickup day. Refrigerator doors must be completely removed, and all loose rubbish, such as brush and newspapers, must be securely bundled and tied with heavy cord with the weight not to exceed 50 pounds. Twigs and branches should not be greater than three inches in diameter and no longer than three feet. A maximum of four bundles will be collected per weekly pick-up. Construction items will not be collected, Dingeldey said. These items should be disposed of at the Woodland Meadows Landfill, located on Van Born Road between Hannan and Lotz roads, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays. Homeowners must pay the dumping costs at the landfill, Dingeldey said.

JUDITH KRONBERG, director of the Center for Eating Disorders, will lecture and offer a slide presentation on Eating Disorders: Anorexia and Bulimia at the Canton Public Library 7-8 Tuesday. Adults and young adults 12 and older are invited to attend and learn about these problems.

THE WINNERS in the Canton Fire Prevention Poster Contest have been selected. Valerie Edick, a third grader at Miller Elementary School, and Danielle Douglas, a second grader at Hulsing Elementary School received first and second place in the grades 1 through 3 category. Jason Kamin and Mitch MacDonald, both fifth graders at Hulsing, received first and second place honors in the grades 4 through 6 category. All four first and second place winners will receive a $50 savings bond. Receiving honorable mentions were Matt Globke and Mindy Adams, both fifth graders at Hulsing, Mike Duffy, a sixth grader at Hulsing and Chris Baker, a fifth grader at Gallimore Elementary School. All honorable mention winners will receive a gift from the Canton McDonald's restaurant. Presentations will be made at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the fire hall on Canton Center and Cherry Hill roads. Coffee and orange drinks will be served.

I-275 rest stop arrests continue

Michigan State Police arrested seven men Thursday night in a continuing undercover crackdown on homosexual activities at a freeway rest stop in Canton Township.

The names of the men, who were charged with indecent exposure and disorderly conduct, will not be released until later this week when authorization and warrants are issued by the prosecutor's office, said Lt. John Shewell of the Ypsilanti state police post. One of the seven men was a retired school teacher, Shewell said. Another was the retired superintendent of a downriver school district. The men have 30 days to appear for arraignment in 35th District Court in Plymouth.

IN SIMILAR operations Sept. 20 and 24 at the rest stop at I-275 and Cherry Hill Road, police arrested 24 men. The arrests included five men employed in the education field.

Among them were Richard G. Buerk, 41, principal of Stevenson Junior High School in Westland; Richard Arnold Goode, 50, principal of Wick Elementary School in Romulus; Phillip T. Jenkins, 36, of Bloomfield Hills, vice president of the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit; Gene L. Myers, 47, a media specialist with Livonia Public Schools; and Dennis A. May, 32, a school bus driver for Plymouth-Canton Schools.

The men arrested in the September operations will appear in 35th District Court this week for preliminary examination on the misdemeanor charges, which carry a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and $100 fine.

THE ATTORNEY for one of the men has said "Each case has to be looked at differently."

"The treatment in the press and on TV has been outrageous," said Charles Bokos, Buerk's attorney. "He's been tried and convicted, and he hasn't even set foot in a courtroom."

"Somewhere along the line, the presumption of innocence has been lost."

Bokos insisted that the "facts are different in Mr. Buerk's case, but in the meantime, he's got to suffer an unfortunate set of circumstances."

BUERK WAS suspended with pay Wednesday morning after the story appeared in the Westland Eagle, said Dennis O'Neill, Wayne-Westland superintendent. That's normal procedure, he said.

The suspension was "based on the fact that (Buerk) was issued a citation," O'Neill said. Buerk "deserves his day in court," O'Neill said. In the meantime, the district has received telephone calls, "some very supportive" of Buerk.

REACTION BY other school districts employing the men has varied. A spokesman for the Center for Creative Studies would only say that "all the proper people have been notified (of Jenkins' arrest). They are aware of the situation. That's all the information I have for you."

An official for the Detroit Community Music School confirmed that Jenkins was a previous director there. He reportedly left several years ago to work for the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, returning later to the Center for Creative Studies.

The Plymouth-Canton School District suspended May without pay, however, the Livonia district has taken no disciplinary action against Myers.

"Until we get more information, we're not going to take an accusatory position," said Roy Montambeau, assistant superintendent for personnel.

The other educator, Goode, resigned as principal in Romulus.

Arrests continue to be made at the I-275 rest stop in Canton Township following complaints from several motorists about indecent and obscene activities taking place in the men's room. The arrests are part of Michigan State Police undercover efforts.

Status report delivered Consultant finds police young, eager

By Diane Free
staff writer

Preliminary observations by Roderick J. Bartell, whose Pennsylvania consulting firm is conducting a study of the Canton Township Police Department, indicate that the department is "young, excited, resilient and turned-on by their jobs."

Bartell, who made a three-day visit to Canton Township recently to verify statistics and deliver an interim status report to township officials, said the final report should be completed by late November.

At that time, a 10-15 page executive summary will be available as well as the complete report containing the statistics, graphs and charts, which will enable people to "reconstruct why we came to a certain conclusion." The township board hired Bartell and Bartell Ltd. in June to conduct the study at a cost of $16,862. Although they are about a month behind their proposed time frame because "it's more complicated than we anticipated," Bartell said the township's fee will remain the same.

In November, Bartell will make a presentation to the township board and make recommendations, one being the appointment of an implementation committee. "The recommendations go beyond do this and do that," Bartell said. They address treatment strategy, both rehabilitative and developmental in nature, he said.

Canton staggered by John Flodin's death

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

With Canton still reeling with the news of Clerk John Flodin's death, the township's Democratic committee met Thursday night to appoint a candidate to run in his place in the Nov. 6 general election.

Flodin, 63, elected clerk in 1956 and to successive terms ever since, died early Thursday in St. Joseph Flodin celebrates an 88-foot loss of a cow chip at the 1980 Canton Country Festival.

Mercy Hospital in Ypsilanti. He was diagnosed with Hodgkin's disease last May and had been undergoing radiation treatments.

Community leader Mary Dingeldey — an unsuccessful candidate for township trustee in 1980, former Canton Historical Society secretary and Canton Sesquicentennial chairwoman — was selected to run for clerk based on her "qualifications, capability to do the job, and proven record of service and interest in the community," said James Kosteva, co-vice chairman of the Canton committee of the 15th Congressional District executive board.

In tribute to Flodin, Dingeldey refrained from discussing her appointment Friday. She was preparing to call a press conference for today, however. "I don't expect to fill John's shoes, because I don't think anyone could. I loved him and thought a lot of him," Dingeldey said.

Throughout Wayne County Friday, Flodin was saluted as flags in townships and several cities flew at half-mast.

Flodin's death came as a shock to many of his colleagues and friends. The lifelong Canton resident learned recently his cancer was cured, and expected to fully regain his health after completing his treatments. Until his hospitalization Oct. 6, Flodin had been spending his days making outpatient visits to the hospital and working, despite extreme fatigue and susceptibility to infection. From his hospital bed, Flodin kept in touch via telephone with his staffers, completed election questionnaires and signed documents.

FUNERAL SERVICES, with an honor guard presiding, were held for Flodin at Uht Funeral Home Saturday in Westland. Police escorted a lengthy motorcade to Sheldon Cemetery in Canton. Flodin is survived by his wife Bernice, daughter Mary Jo Marsh of Belleville, son-in-law Richard Marsh and three grandchildren. Memorial contributions may be made to the charity of the donor's choice.

There was an outpouring Friday of sorrow and deep affection for Flodin as his countless friends and colleagues eulogized him.

One of Flodin's oldest associates, former Canton Supervisor Phil Dingeldey, christened a friendship with the future clerk decades ago when Flodin landed a job as Canton dog catcher.

"I don't know how I can tell you enough of the good things about him," said Dingeldey in a phone interview from his Englewood, Fla. retirement home.

"John was always willing to do anything he could for the people. He did it without looking for any reimbursement of any kind, other than a thank you or something."

"I sure would like everyone to know that John helped Canton grow to where it is," said Dingeldey.

U.S. Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor — who presented Flodin with an American flag during the Sesquicentennial Time Capsule burial last month — said Flodin gave "matchless dedication to his very important and key responsibilities in township government. It is a tribute to both John and the community that his services were retained year after year, and he will be missed by all who appreciate competence and dedication in public office."

"WHAT DO YOU say about an institution when it passes?" asked Supervisor James Poole. "It's the ending of an era. And whenever there's an ending there's a beginning. Even though it's the beginning of a new era, it will never be as bright, nor as positive, nor as gentle because John was a man for all people.

"He will not be replaced. Ever. And anyone who tries to replace John is a fool."

"Tact is the ability to tell someone to go to hell and have them look forward to the trip," Poole added. "He never did that very often, but when he gave you advice, you often thought it was your own idea, and you looked forward to implementing it."

The greatest asset in Canton is the untapped talents of the residents.

4. I can't see any changes in the police and fire departments, unless it would be to add more staff, if necessary.

5. At this time, I would have to believe that the channels of communication are open to our surrounding units of government. I know with my experience in different organizations I have met and know several of the leaders on the local, state, and national levels.

1. Canton most certainly has an identity crisis, however, in addition, it also has an image crisis. The planning as it presently exists will not solve the problem. Simply put, it allows for heavy residential development and falls short in the development of major shopping areas.

2. Yes, I believe we will be forced to become far more responsible for our roads and public services.

3. Insufficient tax base to provide quality services to its residents.

4. Yes.

5. Yes, however, there is always room for improvement.

Trustee

FRANK A. McMURRAY

1. No, Canton does not have an identity crisis. What we need is to consider other ways to market what we already have developed to this point. I do not believe the proposed master plan has anything to do with identity as stated in the question.

2. Canton's government is composed of four trustees, a clerk, a treasurer and a supervisor. I do not see any changes in this form of government. If you want to talk about part-time elected officials or management type of government, then that's a different subject.

3. Canton's largest problem is taxes. There is a great imbalance between the residential and commercial revenues. Unless more commerce is located in this community soon, the residents will have to pay a higher portion of taxes.

1. Any identity which "may" exist will be overcome as the people who live in Canton develop a sense of pride in their community. Participation and volunteerism (as demonstrated at the Country Festival) build community spirit and identity.

2. I support the continuation of the township form of government. The taxes levied for police, fire and general funds are 9.15 miles (December 1983) or approximately $275 per homeowner ($60,000 market value home). I believe the taxes would increase substantially if we became a city, with little improvement in services delivered to the community.

3. Canton's largest problem is its tax base. Our goal is to achieve a tax base of 50 percent commercial/industrial. At present, it is 75 percent/25 percent which places too great a tax burden on the home owners. Our greatest asset is our open spaces and undeveloped lands. I provided we have the foresight to manage the township's future growth.

4. I expect no change while I am open to combining police and fire into one department (public safety), the cost to the township appears prohibitive in the early years and it usually involves renegotiation of employee contracts with possible court battles.

1. Canton does not have an identity crisis. Canton has had a master plan for 20 years. It is updated every few years and does not have an impact on Canton's identity.

2. No.

3. Canton's largest problem is the potential for landfills located in the southern part of the township. The location of this in Canton could cause problems in the future that we cannot even dream of today. Canton's greatest asset is its people. A community is nothing without a good direction. Canton has what it takes to be great.

4. I do not see a great deal of change in the fire department. The police department is still growing. As it gets older I see improvements from the township board, management, and officers in dealing with police problems. I believe we will go to a joint dispatch for fire and police.

1. Canton has no identity crisis. Canton is an exciting place to live. Within our borders is a golf course, terrific soccer fields, a variety of restaurants, the second largest milk-producing farm in Michigan; many sweet corn farms; a light aircraft airport, subdivision or farm-style living, plus full-time police and fire departments. The proposed master plan will have very little impact on Canton's image at this time.

2. Hopefully, Canton will not change its form of government. Township government - supervisor, clerk, treasurer and four trustees - is still one of the purest forms of government and most accountable to the people.

3. If the electorate is not satisfied with the direction of certain officials, then that direction can be changed by a vote of the people.

4. Unpaved roads for the residents who travel them are a horrendous problem. Our limited industrial tax base has township-wide implications. Both are on their way to being resolved in the near future.

5. Our greatest asset is location with its proximity to major airports, railroads, and I-275 expressway.

6. The greatest change will take place when the new police building is occupied and Central Dispatch is operational. We will see an increase of more policemen on patrol. Another fire station may be needed as population increases.

Helping people who want to change their lives

Canton reeling in aftermath of Flodin's death

"It's going to be a little bleak driving in here each day without that brown car out there."
A short eulogy for Flodin will be given at tomorrow night's board meeting, Poole said. A memorial fund to be established in Flodin's name may be used to erect a statue or fountain in front of township hall, and/or install playground equipment in Flodin Park. Plans are to be made this week.

TRUSTEE ROBERT PADGET feared whatever he said might sound trite or insincere something he would hate "because of all the respect, love and loyalty I have for that man," said Padget.
"If you were to measure the significance of a person's life based upon the number of other lives they've affected in a positive, quiet, subtle and unassuming way, John Flodin may well be the greatest person many of us will ever have the privilege of knowing in our lives. He is a tremendous loss, because the true care and love he had for the community he takes with him," said Padget.

The coming days as we reflect on John Flodin are like it is because of a little more of ourselves to live for the public good. He had tremendous love and respect for good, old-fashioned values, like family, people and community."

TRUSTEE STEVE LARSON felt a deep personal loss.
"It was as devastated when John passed away as I was when my grandfather did," Larson said.

"I had the same kind of respect and admiration for them both. To the community, it's a terrible loss. One of the reasons Canton is like it is because of John Flodin's contributions. You can credit John's foresight and leadership for the planning of this community. He is one of the people who made the decision to put sewers in, which enabled subdivisions to be built and for the township to develop," said Larson.

"The vast majority of people who knew him had an instinctively good feeling from him. That's why he had so many friends and was so effective in government. He was as different as night and day from some of the people in township government, but he was able to work with them all."

Flodin would have been pleased with the Dingeldey selection, added Larson.
"I think (her appointment) is quite a tribute to John, and to Mary. I John had to pick anyone at the 11th hour, I am pretty sure it would be Mary."

Kosteva, Canton's consultant planner, considered Flodin "a major guidepost on Canton Township's road to common sense and responsive government service."
"I don't know necessarily who the father of Canton is, but I certainly consider John Flodin the grandfather of Canton," Kosteva said.
"He was the type of individual anyone would love to have as a grandfather. He was wise in a grandfatherly way. He had a deep sensitivity for people in the community."

POLICE CHIEF Jerry Cox respected Flodin as having been "one of the most stabilizing forces in the community for the last 20 or 30 years. I am sure we'll feel the loss in the immediate future and for many years to come."

"John was down to earth and had common sense, and a lot of love for this community and for the people in it," said Cox. "You could always go talk to him. He had so much wisdom — not just the knowledge he gained through experience, but he was one of the few people that had real wisdom."

"He was of the philosophy that, 'if it ain't broke, don't fix it,'" added Cox. "He was a major influence, and I don't think officials, employees and the citizenry really appreciated that influence. He was a very sincere, dedicated man who spent his life in an effort to serve people with tact and an great deal of credibility."

RADAR DETECTORS have been hot items in Canton Township recently, with at least three incidents of detectors being stolen from parked cars.
A side window of a 1984 Ford LTD was smashed with a brick Oct. 7 while it was parked in the 300 block of Robyn Drive overnight. Thieves tied a radio worth $120, two tennis rackets valued at $105, a 35mm Minolta camera, and a radar detector worth $250.
A witness apprehended 4-year-old Canton youth the night of Oct. 10 after seeing him try to steal a radar detector from a friend Firebird parked in the 7300 block Windsor Woods.
A radar detector valued $280 was stolen from a car parked at Knights Inn on Ford Road the evening Oct. 2.

A BAR on a lower-level now prevented thieves from gaining access to the screen and glass window d been pried from the opening.

Moore required mouth-to-mouth resuscitation Ray-Moore, also present at the home, did not require treatment.

Rest-stop arrests continue

OTHERS ARRESTED include Bobby Joe Thomas, 39, of Canton, director of Uniserve for the Michigan Education Association; Tommy Moore Jr., 33, of Canton; Daniel N. Dunn, 36, of Westland; William A. Luallen, 55, of Livonia; and Ronald C. Rice, 43, of Westland.

Also arrested were Edwin R. Armstrong, 50, of Romulus; Frank F. Buchannon, 43, of Inkster; Ernest L. Quinn, 59, of Ann Arbor; Scott M. Smith, 26, of Novi; William A. Murphy Jr., 51, of Grosse Pointe Park; John M. Tate, 43, of Dearborn; Daniel G. Toro, 37, of Harrison; Phillip W. Chilson, 29, of Clarkston; Rick A. Saterham, 23, of Belleville; Jeffrey J. Olyars, 24, of Detroit; Dale L. Summers, 25, of Elk Rapids; Paul H. Rufus, 21, of East Lansing; Robert D. Christian, 46, of Wayne; and Steven C. Luma, 22, of Taylor.

The state police "attempt to enforce the law at all times, with uniformed police officers" routinely patrolling the rest stop, and "once or twice a year with undercover officers," Shewell said.

Shewell expects homosexual activity at the rest stop will slow down "for about a week" after the extensive media coverage the arrests have received, he said.

"We can't stop it. We just try to keep it in check."

Flodin "for a lot of good advice. He helped me run this campaign."

He told me to run my own campaign and remain independent. I've tried to adopt the open door policy he was famous for."

"I can remember him at our (court advisory board) meetings. John was so vital and enthusiastic, and a good steady influence on all the people he worked with. I think he was one super guy," Willard said.

Wayne County Clerk James Killen set in motion Thursday the appointment of a replacement for Flodin and the reprinting of Canton Township ballots.

"The law says that in the case of a candidate's death, the party committee for that area must select a candidate. We notified 15th Congressional District chairman Tom Anderson to get a hold of the people from Canton, and instruct them to move forthwith," Killen said.

Thursday evening, Kosteva, and 15th Congressional District executive board members Larry Bowerman, Ed Rasmussen, Rick Hammer and Maria Pettito met.

"We discussed a number of individuals who'd indicated varying degrees of interest. After some discussion we reached a consensus that Mary Dingeldey deserved our support," said Kosteva, who informed Dingeldey of the decision late Thursday night. "Having to deal with our sadness and feelings of loss with such expediency, it was a very difficult decision," he added.

The committee, which must notify the county in writing of its choice, moved quickly enough so that Killen will be able to issue new ballots. Had Flodin's name remained on the ballot, votes cast for him would have been ruled invalid.

Absentee voters who already have voted for Flodin will have their votes — for clerk only — ruled invalid. All mailing of absentee ballots was halted Thursday so that the change could be made. Voters who currently have absentee ballots may write in candidates' names, said Orville Tungate, deputy Wayne County clerk.

Both Killen and Tungate said they were saddened by the news of Flodin's death and that they will miss him.

The Radar Teddy Bear has become the unofficial PVA mascot, and is being promoted with the help of MASH actor Gary "Radar" Burghoff.

Director ignored his own advice

"The Little Drummer Girl" director, George Roy Hill, appeared some years ago in one of the best documentaries about film-making, an hour-long production "The Making of Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid."

In that documentary, Hill made three important points: (1) Directors are in trouble when they become enamored of ideas that don't play well. (2) There are certain emotions that can't be acted, and (3) Girls slow up the pace in action movies.

Unfortunately, Hill failed to take his own advice in "The Little Drummer Girl" and what could have been an exciting espionage film turns out to be slow, unconvincing, unmotivated, uneven and overly long.

It is true that both sides lose their humanity when violence is a tool of political effort. But it turns out to be difficult to film such an idea in the action, espionage and double-agent genre.

BACKDROPPED by the Arab-Israeli conflict, "The Little Drummer Girl" is a major production based on John Le Carré's bestseller, but the effort only shows on the surface. Visually the film looks very convincing, but the story and characterization of the star, Diane Keaton, leave much to be desired.

Charlie (Keaton) is the lead in an English repertory company and an actress on the lookout for television commercial assignments. She becomes involved with the Palestinian refugee cause through her attraction for a masked terrorist speaker, Michael (Moti Shurin), brother of terrorist leader Khalil (Sami Frey).

Charlie, in all her charming naïveté, then becomes an Israeli double agent after she mistakes Israeli agent Joseph (Yorgo Voyagis) for her would-be lover, Michel.

Now there is that plot summary lies the fatal flaw in Hill's direction of "The Little Drummer Girl." Keaton, for all her talent, never makes it as a politically astute British actress reminiscent of Vanessa Redgrave.

Her performance in the play within the film, as Joan Arc, falls far short of the British theatrical standards and is characteristic of her entire role — never truly committed to the Palestinian cause and confused in her conversion to the Israeli cause. The confusion is the audience's as well as hers.

IT'S HARD TO KNOW whether the problem is the girl slowing up the action or poor direction. Certainly Hill falls far short of his usual stylish, upbeat production.

The film looks very well, with extensive, and probably expensive, location shooting in West Germany, Greece, Lebanon, Israel and England. The Greek location included the first filming allowed in 20 years at the Acropolis and the first ever at night.

The effort was attractive but wasted. With the exception of Keaton's work (suffering from Hill's direction rather than her acting), the company performs extremely well. A wide array of multinational actors — many of whom though unknown in the United States have had major European careers — see their talent misused.

Klaus Kinski as Kurtz, a leader of the Israeli counterintelligence unit, plays a minor role — minor in the story, in screen time and in characterization. Truly a waste for the star of "Fitzcarraldo," "Aguirre, the Wrath of God" and "Nosferatu, the Vampire."

Finally, the film's flawed construction includes two Hollywood endings, in the worst sense of the term, a John-Wayne-shoot-'em-up and the lovers walking off into the sunset. Hardly consistent with the subject or with earlier attempts at realism.

Visually, the film looks very convincing, but the story and characterization of the star, Diane Keaton, leave much to be desired.

"The Little Drummer Girl" rolls on for 130 minutes. You should roll off by the theater and save your time.

Telephone seminar set

Long-distance phone service will be the subject of a Thursday seminar sponsored by the Lakepointe Home-owners Association.

"In the next six to 15 months every one will be deciding who they want to handle their long-distance service," said John O'Riley, Lakepointe president.

"We thought it might be useful to hear what they have to say rather than listening to a 60-second spot on TV," O'Riley said.

As a result of the recent AT&T breakup, phone customers will have to declare in the future which company they want for long-distance service.

BRACES AND SPLINTS IN ARTHRITIS
— If you have arthritis in the knees, you may have encountered an occasion when you started to take a step, but your leg "gave out," and you fell. You may have wondered why your doctor didn't order a brace to prevent a recurrence.
— The reason that your knee gave way was because your body anticipated that the next step would cause pain. A reflex over which you have no control took over, and would not permit that next step to happen. The appropriate treatment is to stop joint irritation, not support a knee which is basically sound.
— One instance where a brace-like device is appropriate is in the use of a night splint to keep the wrist in a cock-up position. The arthritic wrist tends to assume a drooped and flexed position below the forearm, wrist splints which hold the wrist in an up-position, preserve function of the hand.

Judge, representative candidates respond

ROBERT E. GREENSTEIN 46, Canton, 23-year law practice, elected supervisor, trustee, Canton, judge, Canton, chief court probation officer, founded Canton Police Department, first police chief, state-certified police officer, board member, First Step, county spouse abuse prevention program.

1. A district court, because of its local and neighborhood nature, should offer night court to provide the working person with a judicial hearing without losing a full day's pay; the judge should take the bench, and cases should be scheduled on a staggered basis.

2. The closing of a courtroom to the public or the suppression of a case, given the constitutional protections which are enjoyed in this country, can only be accomplished in the rarest of cases, perhaps when dealing with juveniles as witnesses in cases of a sexual nature.

3. As a judge, I believe there is a great importance in establishing and maintaining regular working hours which should be minimally those working hours that the court itself is open. Beyond that normal time, a district judge must be available to perform weddings, address organizations, schools and other gatherings.

4. Sentencing guidelines are helpful both to the court and to attorneys. However strict the guidelines might be drawn, it is imperative that those

2. I support a Republican proposal called "Excellence in Education." It proposes an excellent evaluation system for teachers and students and a mandatory curriculum for all grade levels in all Michigan school districts. Education funds should come from the state budget instead of our property taxes.

3. Budget priorities for Michigan, as indicated by the needs of my district, would be education, job development and training and environment.

4. My district has school funding causing extremely high property taxes and an increase of environmental pollution. Michigan needs to prioritize spending, taking back the responsibility of funding education. Recycling, resource recovery and complete combustion incineration for toxic, hazardous and solid waste are vital.

1. Michigan can deal with the growing crisis in solid waste by encouraging recycling, resource recovery and complete combustion, modular incineration (that would also generate energy). All these processes were neglected by the Wayne County Solid Waste Planning Commission in its 20-year plan.

Following implementation, Bartell said, it may take as long as four years to internalize and institutionalize the changes. Some changes may be noticed as early as six months later, but it will take a while for people to experience significant and lasting change," he said.

for paper handling become redundant and "waste" tax dollars.

3. Canton's largest problem: the "Hostile Environment" created toward small businesses. Don Massey is an example. Canton's greatest assets: the residents and the vast land size.

4. I expect the fire and police departments equipped with adequate necessary equipment such as fire-proofed coats and police vests. Advancements need to be made in technology to compare to surrounding communities and have both departments as cost efficient as possible. Additional personnel is needed in both departments as indicated by the number of overtime hours each works. An incentive program established to encourage both departments to continue education in their respective fields.

5. Improvements could be made by a continual exchange of information with surrounding communities.

1. A creditable organization such as a "Four Bears Amusement Park" into Canton. Being accessible by expressways, an attraction to tourists and surrounding communities is feasible. This would relieve the tax burden, encourage new businesses with the anticipation of additional spending in the community, provide additional jobs for residents, and "put Canton on the map."

2. If the existing board is allowed to continue, I foresee little change. In the clerk's position, modern technology and educational background will play an important factor in the taxpayers' decision of selecting the qualified professional for the office. No longer can self-taught procedures be considered cost efficient in opposition of experience with advanced technology and applied procedures. Without modern methods and applications, procedures

Beyond that normal time, a district judge must be available to perform weddings, address organizations, schools and other gatherings.

4. Sentencing guidelines are helpful both to the court and to attorneys. However strict the guidelines might be drawn, it is imperative that those guidelines remain only guidelines and not mandatory with certain exceptions. The human element must not be lost in the sentencing process.

1. I cannot think of any circumstances where I would close a courtroom to the public and/or suppress a case unless the administration of justice was being hindered.

3. The working hours I would keep are those maintained currently by the court, which are from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., with the understanding, of course, that if a trial runs beyond 4:30 p.m. we would keep the trial going a reasonable length of time.

4. I would make the sentencing guidelines somewhat more restrictive than those currently mandated by the Supreme Court. However, you must give judges some latitude in making sentence as no two individuals can be treated quite the same.

1. Burning waste to create energy (resource recovery) and providing immediate response to existing problem sites are two steps in dealing with waste problems. Only environmentally superior sites in sparsely populated areas should be utilized to provide short-term landfill needs.

2. Enactment of a minimum mandatory curriculum statewide would reduce the disparities in educational quality between districts. Additionally, state resources could be directed to improve quality following property tax reform. Research is required to develop objective evaluations of student, teacher and administrative performance.

3. My budget priorities include: a) increasing aid to education. b) reducing role of property tax for local revenues. c) developing incentives for small business expansion. d) insuring natural resource protection. e) enhancing Michigan's agricultural and tourist industries. f) expand prisons to eliminate early release and reduce probationary sentences. g) Reforming the confusing and cumbersome tax structure is necessary. The property tax is unfair and should be replaced with simplified graduated taxation which is reflective of income. The need for educational excellence was mentioned earlier. Finally, health care providers need competition to reduce rising costs.

District Court judge

The following Voters Guide on the 35th District Court has been provided by the League of Women Voters. District courts have exclusive jurisdiction over civil cases up to $10,000 and minor criminal cases. A district court may cover one to a dozen communities. The 35th covers five municipalities. Candidates were asked to submit their biographies in 35 words or less and to answer the following questions in 50 words or less:

1. What practical and specific ideas do you have for improving the flow of work through the court?
2. Under what circumstances would you ever close a courtroom to the public and/or suppress a case?
3. As a judge, what working hours would you keep on a daily, weekly and monthly basis?
4. Should the state Legislature adopt more restrictive sentences guidelines by statute?

37th District

The League of Women Voters asked candidates for state representative in the 37th District to respond to the following questions:

1. How can Michigan deal with the growing crisis in solid waste management?
2. How would you improve a) the quality and b) the equality of public education in Michigan?
3. What are your budget priorities for Michigan?
4. What do you consider to be the two major problems facing the state? What would you propose as solutions?

The 37th District encompasses a portion of Canton Township, Wayne, Romulus, Belleville and Van Buren Township.

Changing of the guard in front of Amalienborg Palace, from Ed Lark's film "Discover Denmark."

Lark's Denmark opens travelogue Wednesday

Denmark will be the featured country Wednesday when the Plymouth Kiwanis Foundation opens its annual travelogue series at Plymouth Salem High School.

Ed Lark will present "Another Scandinavian Experience: Denmark" at 8:10 p.m. in the auditorium of Salem High on Joy Road just west of Canton Center Road.

The travel series is sponsored by the Kiwanis Foundation, a joint fund-raising arm of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club and the Kiwanis Club of Colonial Plymouth.

Denmark, the gateway to Scandinavia, is the oldest kingdom in the world. It was the first among Scandinavian countries to be influenced by European culture.

Lark, himself a Scandinavian, features in the film Tivoli Amusement Park in the spring and the famous Tivoli Marching Band. He shows Strøget, Copenhagen's main shopping street where automobiles aren't permitted.

Viewers will see Danish wares at Illum Department Store, watch porcelain being made at the Bing and Grøndahl Factory and learn how Danish pastries are made.

CEP Band to march at WMU

The Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP) Marching Band will be one of 12 to compete Saturday, Nov. 3, in the Cavalcade of Bands at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo.

The CEP Band, directed by James Griffith, will compete with five other bands in the Open Division while six other bands will be performing earlier in the day in Class A Division.

The Plymouth-Canton musicians will perform at 3 p.m. after the Flushing and Durand bands are finished. Following the CEP will be Lakeview High, the Trojan Guard from Chestertown, Ind., and Wyoming Park.

The 11th annual Cavalcade of Bands is the equivalent of a three-hour half-time show by 12 high schools bands.

The performances will be at Waldo Stadium, Western Michigan University. General admission tickets of $3 may be purchased at the stadium beginning at 11:30 a.m. on the day of the contest. Group rate tickets also are available.

The bands with extensive experience are the ones invited to enter the Open Division while all other bands compete in the Class A Division.

Trophies are awarded in each division, and a traveling flag is presented to the grand champion (the band with the highest point total). Additional trophies are awarded to the best individual units, such as drum major, horn line, color guard, rifle lines, and flag corps.

At the end of the contest, while final scores are being tallied by the judges, the WMU Bronco Marching Band will give an exhibition performance.

GREAT PUMPKIN COOKIE CAPERS

...Bake Up a Batch of Halloween Fun

Giant pumpkins, hootwits and funny-face goblins—they're all cookies, all wholesome—all part of a safe and happy Halloween. The enticing cookie recipes that follow make bewitching party fare for Halloween celebrations at home or at school—a popular safe alternative to "trick or treats" on the streets. Each is prepared with flavorful solid pack canned pumpkin, notable for its generous content of Vitamin A, plus iron, Vitamin C and other valuable nutrients.

This year, why not let the young folk share in some cookie-making capers for a fun-filled Halloween? Inexperienced youngsters will need supervision when taking cookie sheets in or out of a hot oven. But even if children are too young to bake, they can still share the fun of decorating a gigantic pumpkin cookie, shaping CANDIED PUMPKIN DANDIES into balls or using cookie cutters for PUMPKIN COOKIE MONSTERS.

The GREAT PUMPKIN PAN COOKIE, freckled with real chocolate morsels, is a delectable 14-inch specialty designed to treat a whole gathering of pals. The cookie dough (or the baked, cooled cookie) can be frozen ahead, a time-saver for busy party planners. Let the youngsters frost the pumpkin in a jack-o'-lantern motif. It's easy to slice, so guests can carve their own serving in any shape they like.

PUMPKIN COOKIE MONSTERS, cut from a roll-out dough are easily transformed into owls, ghosts, goblins and funny faces with cookie cutters or cardboard patterns. With a few pokes and pinches to the basic cut-out shapes, the children's own imaginative creations can emerge. Have a variety of packaged frostings, tubes of icing, small hard candies, raisins and nuts on hand to decorate the "monsters" in Halloween style. Peanut butter is a tasty way to attach cookie decorations.

For a bite of pleasure and look of adventure, bake a batch of SCRUMPTIOUS PUMPKIN BROWNIES. Butterscotch flavored morsels, sprinkled over the brownies while they're still warm, melt to spreadable consistency for a quick 'n easy frosting, decorated with a spider web of chocolate.

Pumpkin cookie capers will help make the celebration remembered—long after Halloween.

|---|---|
| 2 cups flour | 1 cup granulated sugar |
| 1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked | 1 egg |
| 1 teaspoon baking soda | 1 teaspoon vanilla extract |
| 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon | 1 cup solid pack pumpkin |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 cup semi-sweet real chocolate morsels |
| 1 cup butter or margarine, softened | Assorted icing or peanut butter |
| 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar | Assorted candies, raisins or nuts |

Preheat oven to 350°F. Combine flour, oats, baking soda, cinnamon and salt. Cream butter, gradually add sugars, beating until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla; mix well. Alternate additions of dry ingredients and pumpkin, mixing well after each addition. Stir in morsels. Spread dough into greased and floured 14-inch deep dish pizza pan. Bake 35 to 40 minutes, until wooden pick inserted near center comes out clean. Cool on rack 15 minutes. Remove cookie from pan. Cool completely. Decorate using icing or peanut butter to affix assorted candies, raisins or nuts. Cut into squares or wedges to serve. Yields about 24 servings.

Variation: Substitute 1 cup raisins for morsels.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened | 2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice |
| 2 cups firmly packed brown sugar | 1 teaspoon baking powder |
| 1 cup solid pack pumpkin | 1/2 teaspoon baking soda |
| 2 eggs, slightly beaten | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla extract | 1/2 cup chopped walnuts (optional) |
| 1-1/2 cups flour | 2 cups butterscotch flavored morsels |
| 1-1/2 cups quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked | 1/2 cup semi-sweet real chocolate morsels |

Preheat oven to 350°F. In large bowl, cream butter and sugar; add pumpkin, eggs and vanilla. Stir in flour, oats, spice, baking powder, baking soda, salt, and walnuts. Spread batter into greased and floured 15-1/2 x 10-1/2-inch jelly roll pan (or two 8-inch square baking pans). Bake 25 to 30 minutes, (30 to 35 minutes for 8-inch pans). Immediately sprinkle butterscotch morsels on brownies; let stand 5 minutes. To frost, gently spread butterscotch morsels to cover brownies. In small saucepan, melt chocolate morsels over low heat. Drizzle over frosted brownie in a spiral design. While still warm, lightly drag the edge of a knife or thin metal spatula from the center of the spiral to the edge of the pan. Repeat motion at spaced intervals to make a spider web pattern. Cool completely before slicing. Yields about 3 dozen bars.

| 1/4 cup shortening | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 2/3 cup firmly packed brown sugar | 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger |
| 1/2 cup solid pack pumpkin | 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon |
| 3/4 cup light molasses | 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg |
| 3 cups sifted flour | 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice |

Cream shortening and sugar; stir in pumpkin and molasses. Sift together flour, baking soda, salt and spices. Add to pumpkin mixture, one-third at a time, mixing thoroughly after each addition. Cover, chill 2 to 3 hours. Preheat oven to 375°F. On well-floured surface, roll out dough to 1/8-inch thickness. Cut with assorted floured cookie cutters (or cut around floured cardboard patterns). Gently place on greased baking sheets. Bake 8 to 10 minutes or until firm to the touch. Remove from baking sheets, cool on wire racks. Decorate with icing, raisins and candies. Yields 2 dozen (3-inch) cookies.

CANDIED PUMPKIN DANDIES

(not illustrated)

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 cup solid pack pumpkin | 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg |
| 1 cup sugar | Finely chopped walnuts or peanuts |
| 1-1/4 cups flaked coconut, lightly packed | Red and green candied cherries (optional) |
| 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon | |

In large heavy saucepan, combine pumpkin, sugar, coconut and spices; mix well. Cook over medium-high heat, stirring constantly, about 15 to 20 minutes. Candy is done when it becomes very thick and leaves the side of pan, forming a ball in center when stirred. Turn mixture out onto a buttered baking sheet; cover loosely with foil or plastic wrap. Cool completely. Lightly butter hands and shape candy into balls; roll in chopped nuts. Top each with a candied cherry half, if desired. Cover and store in refrigerator. Yields about 2-1/2 dozen candies.

VARIATION: For a crunchier candy, stir 1 cup crushed granola into cooked candy before cooling and shaping.

Fall is time to take advantage of pork specials

It traditionally has been a fact that retail pork supplies increase in the fall so it's not surprising the National Pork Producers Council recognizes the month of October as National Pork Month. The shift of seasons from summer to fall is a clear sign that hogs will be going to market.

Plentiful supplies no doubt will prompt many retailers to feature pork specials thus assuring attractive prices for consumers. Indeed, prices are expected to average around $1.60 per pound compared to $1.65 in 1983. And pork should remain comparatively inexpensive this winter with prices averaging around $1.64 compared to $1.60 last year.

Shoppers with an eye for value may want to consider buying a whole pork loin rather than the individual cuts it yields — chops, ribs and roast. And there's no better time to consider buying pork for the freezer.

Fresh pork's color ranges from grayish pink to delicate rose. Some cuts, particularly those from the loin, may be slightly two-toned in color. A firm texture with moderate marbling characterizes pork's fine quality.

In addition to being inexpensive, pork is remarkably versatile. The following recipes should go a long way toward illustrating pork's variety.

KIELBASA AND CHICKEN GUMBO

6 slices bacon
1 lb. kielbasa or smoked sausage, cut into 1-inch slices
1/2 lb. boneless chicken, cut into 1-inch chunks
1/4 cup all-purpose flour
1 1/2-oz. can tomato juice
1 cup water
1 28-oz. can whole tomatoes, cut up
2 chicken bouillon cubes
1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
1/4 cup sliced okra or 1 10-oz. pkg. frozen cut okra, thawed
1 medium onion, coarsely chopped
1 medium green pepper, coarsely chopped
2 bay leaves
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. ground red pepper
1/2 tsp. ground allspice
1 lb. medium shrimp, peeled and deveined
1 tsp. file powder (optional)
Hot cooked rice

In a Dutch oven cook bacon till crisp; remove. Drain and crumble on paper toweling; set aside. Cook kielbasa and chicken in hot bacon drippings till chicken is browned. Remove kielbasa and chicken, reserving 3 tablespoons drippings in Dutch oven.

Add flour to drippings; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, for 12 to 15 minutes or till a reddish brown roux forms. Gradually stir in tomato juice and water. Add tomatoes and bouillon, stirring well. Add kielbasa, chicken, tomato sauce, okra, onion, green pepper, bay leaves, salt, red pepper and allspice; mix well. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 1 hour, stirring occasionally. Add shrimp and simmer, covered, for 30 minutes. Remove and discard bay leaves. Stir in file powder and bacon; mix well. Serve over hot cooked rice. Makes 10 servings.

SHERRED PORK ON BROCHIE

1/2 to 1 lb. boneless pork
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1/4 cup sliced green onion
4 tsp. cooking oil
1/4 tsp. salt
Dash white pepper
2 tsp. water
1 tsp. butter or margarine
1 tsp. all-purpose flour
1/4 cup milk
1/2 cup finely shredded Gruyere or Swiss Cheese
2 tsp. dry sherry
2 individual Brochies

Partially freeze pork, slice thinly into bite-size strips; set aside.

In a large skillet cook mushrooms and green onion in 1 teaspoon hot oil for 2 to 3 minutes or till tender. Remove mushrooms and onion; set aside.

Add the remaining oil to skillet; cook pork till brown. Pour off drippings. Sprinkle pork with salt and pepper. Add water, cover and simmer about 15 minutes. Remove from heat and bubble, stirring constantly. Add cheese and sherry; cook, stirring constantly, till cheese is melted. Stir in mushrooms, onion, and pork; cook till heated through.

Cut tops from Brochie about 1 inch below topknot. Spoon pork mixture over brochies; replace tops. Makes 2 servings.

MARINATED PORK SALAD

1 cup salad oil
1 cup white wine vinegar
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. fresh basil, snipped
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. salt
1 lb. cooked pork, cut into 1/2-inch thick strips
1/4 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
1 bunch leaf lettuce
2 tomatoes, sliced
2 hard-cooked eggs, cut into eighths
1/4 cup capers

In a screw-top jar combine oil, vinegar, wine, sugar, basil, dry mustard, salt, and capers; cover and shake well. Arrange pork strips and mushrooms in a 11-by-7-by-2-inch baking dish. Pour dressing over pork and mushrooms. Cover and marinate 8 hours or overnight.

Arrange leaf lettuce among 4 serving plates. Top with tomatoes. Drain pork and mushrooms, reserving marinade. Arrange pork, mushrooms, and eggs over tomatoes. Top with capers. Drizzle with reserved marinade. Makes 4 servings.

PORK TENDERLOIN IN WINE SAUCE

1 lb. whole pork tenderloin
Freshly ground pepper
1 tsp. butter or margarine
1 tsp. cooking oil
1/4 cup dry red wine
1/4 cup water
1/4 tsp. dried basil, crushed
1/4 cup dry red wine
1 tsp. cornstarch
1 tsp. water

Rub the pork tenderloin with pepper. Melt butter or margarine in a large skillet with cooking oil. Add tenderloin and quickly brown on all sides. Remove from heat and carefully add 1/4 cup wine, 1/4 cup water, and basil. Cover and cook over low heat for 30 to 45 minutes or till pork is done. Remove tenderloin and keep warm. Drain the pan drippings, reserving 1/2 cup.

For sauce, in a small saucepan combine 1/4 cup wine, cornstarch and 3 tablespoons water; mix with a wire whisk till cornstarch is dissolved. Stir in the reserved drippings; cook over medium heat till thickened and bubbly, stirring constantly. Slice the tenderloin and serve with sauce. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

PORK CHOPS FLAMBE

6 pork loin butterfly chops, cut 1/2 inch thick
2 tsp. olive oil
1/4 cup sliced green onion
1 tsp. orange peel
1/2 cup orange liqueur
1/4 cup orange juice
1/4 tsp. dried basil, crushed

Heat olive oil in a large skillet. Add green onion and orange peel; saute 3 to 4 minutes or till onion is almost tender. Remove onion and orange peel; set aside. Add pork chops and brown on both sides over medium heat, return onion and orange peel to skillet.

Add half of the orange liqueur, the orange juice, and basil. Cover and simmer for 10 to 15 minutes or till chops are done. Transfer the pork chops to a chafing dish, if desired.

In a small saucepan gently heat the remaining orange liqueur. (Do not boil.) Ignite with a long match and pour over chops. Makes 6 servings.

HONEY-ORANGE-GLAZED HAM

1 8- to 10-lb. fully cooked whole boneless ham
1 orange
1 cup honey

1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
1/4 tsp. ground cloves
Fresh watercress (optional)

Carefully remove peel from orange in long strips. Squeeze the orange, reserving juice. For glaze, in a small bowl combine 2 tablespoons of the orange juice, the honey, cinnamon, and cloves; mix well.

Place ham on rack in a shallow roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer in thickest part of ham, not touching fat. Bake, uncovered, in a 325 degree oven for 2 to 2 1/2 hours or till meat thermometer registers 135 degrees to 140 degrees, basting with the honey glaze during the last 45 minutes of baking. Garnish with the orange peel and watercress, if desired. Makes 24 to 30 servings.

QUICHE PASTRY

1 cup all-purpose flour
1/4 tsp. salt
3 tsp. butter or margarine
3 to 4 tablespoons cold water

In a mixing bowl stir together flour and salt. Cut in butter or margarine till mixture resembles coarse peas. Add cold water, 1 tablespoon at a time, till moistened. Shape dough into a ball; cover and refrigerate 1 to 2 hours.

On a lightly floured surface flatten dough into a circle; roll from center to edge forming a circle about 12 inches in diameter. Fit dough into a 9-inch quiche dish; trim edges. Line pastry with foil and cover with a layer of dried beans. Bake in a 450 degree oven for 10 to 12 minutes or till nearly done.

Sculptor Steve Wrobleski is able to work full time at the job he loves, now that the Plymouth artist has been selected to create a statue of LaSalle, the famous French explorer. At right is a half-size prototype of the statue. Wrobleski will make a mold from the wire mesh base.

Sculptor builds future on past

By Dennis Coffman staff writer

Wrought-iron artist Stephen Wrobleski can thank a 17th Century French explorer for helping him take a giant step forward professionally.

His interest in history combined with his love for sculpture were just what the City of Belleville was looking for, when it decided to commission him to create a statue of Rene-Robert Cavalier, sieur de LaSalle.

Create is the right word, because no one really knows what LaSalle looks like, though his name is a household word, on everything from wines to streets in the Detroit area.

Though Wrobleski would be paid $17,000 to sculpt LaSalle, the Belleville Park Commission thinks it got a bargain; the cost of the same work in bronze would have run $25,000 and marble probably more.

"It would have cost $10,000 just to ship the statue from Italy, which is the only place where a marble statue could have been made," said Wrobleski.

His materials will cost Wrobleski $2,000-3,000, providing him with a nice net profit, so that everybody — Belleville and Wrobleski — come out ahead.

Wrobleski uses Design Cast, a synthetic material that was chosen by Wrobleski for its durability.

The sculptor began his work by building a half-size model that was presented to the Park Commission for approval. He then placed chicken-coop wire around a wood base and will coat the wire with cloth and then paint the cloth with liquid wax.

Wrobleski has a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree from Michigan State University, with a minor in history.

"I like sculpting historical subjects," he said. "Especially the Middle Ages. I'm kind of a romantic. I look for heroes and like to do research. I try to be as accurate as I can on the details."

He also likes to do large projects, especially for municipal display.

"This is my biggest project," he said. Wrobleski points out that he is not a carver. A carver takes a chisel and chips away at stone or uses a knife on wood or other materials.

"I don't do that much carving," he said. "I prefer to start with detail. To carve, you cut away the detail. One is positive and the other is negative."

In his new home, he is a few blocks from Old Village, a good environment for an artist. "I like Plymouth," he said. "I like the atmosphere."

Wrobleski said he will work in his garage, unless it gets too cold, because the statue won't fit anywhere else. But it will fit perfectly in Victory Park, Belleville, across from City Hall, where it will rest for centuries, if Wrobleski gets his wish.

Tiger fan hits century mark

By Dennis Coffman staff writer

While the Detroit Tigers were celebrating their once-in-a-generation World Series victory last week, Plymouth's Harry Norris celebrated an once-in-a-lifetime achievement of his own — he reached the century mark.

Like the Tigers, Norris was congratulated by President Ronald Reagan as his 100th birthday arrived Oct. 17, although the message came by mail and not by phone.

But he's sorry to see the World Series end — not because he didn't want Detroit to win, but because he'll miss watching them on TV.

Though his favorite Tiger is Kirk Gibson, Norris concedes, "They're all good boys." But their living habits are far different from those of the centennarian.

Norris doesn't smoke, chew tobacco or drink, but he's not a health freak either. He eats just about anything his mild diabetes allows him to eat, with a special fondness for ham and an aversion to fish.

HE REPRESENTS a strong argument that longevity is hereditary; his mother lived to be 96.

Norris was born in Lapeer in 1884. He grew up on a farm and was himself a farmer, but later became a carpenter. "I gave up that old farm to drive nails," he said.

He remembers "Old Blackie," one of his cows on the farm and he remembers his first car, a 1921 Ford. Blackie gave him "a lot of good milk," but his long-running Ford was equally productive, especially for its purchase price of $750.

The only dietary quirk Norris abides by is a glass of hot water with all of his meals. He has coffee in the morning and bread and milk before bedtime.

He takes two walks a day, straying about 100 yards from his apartment to watch the traffic on Sheldon Road.

Norris shares his apartment with his daughter, Wilva Markham, but prepares his own meals and does his own cleaning.

A granddaughter, Irene Carson, lives in Canton Township.

NORRIS HAS outlived two wives, but with four great-grandchildren, plenty of company when birthdays arrive.

About 60 people attended his birthday party last week in Clinton.

Norris has no complaints about modern technology. His television set brought him the Tigers and brings him "Jeopardy" and "Wheel of Fortune" game shows nightly.

"I'm glad the horse and buggies are gone," he said. "They used to stop along in the mud."

Norris, who enjoys watching an occasional harvest, finds that farming is one of the things that have changed the most. The combines are air-conditioned now. "Everything (on the farm) is done so much differently. One (implement) does everything," he said.

"One thing about grandpa," said Carson, "he still has a sense of humor. You still run the ship, don't you?" she asked him.

NORRIS PROBABLY will cancel his regular winter visit to Florida this year. Last year, he was struck by a car in New Port Richey, but recovered quickly and completely.

He recalls the time when he was just a kid of 90, he drove his Chevy — the last car he would ever own — from Florida to Michigan so he could get a better price for it.

But even at 100, Norris hasn't done everything. What is the one thing he would like to do?

"I'd like to take a trip to Mexico," he said. "I'd do that right now."

Though he's slightly hard of hearing and his vision blurs when he reads the Bible, Norris has a ready explanation for his long and healthy life: "Help from the good old Lord."

Harry Norris, who turned 100 last week, chats with his granddaughter, Irene Carson. The Plymouth resident has been in nearly perfect health, although he was struck by a car in Florida last year. Norris received a greeting card from President Ronald Reagan.

Retired teachers Nancy Tanger and Ed Brown socialize, during the Alpha Delta Kappa appreciation meeting held last week in the Plymouth Historical Museum. The annual event recognizes the contributions made by the retirees to the community.

Alpha Delta Kappa honors retired teachers

Forty retired teachers from the Plymouth-Canton School District were honored Monday by 35 members of Alpha Delta Kappa sorority in the Plymouth Historical Museum.

The "Appreciation Day" will become an annual event in Plymouth during ADR Week. The sorority provided coffee, tea and cakes — but mainly their company — during the fifth annual get-together.

"We hold the event to honor the retired teachers in the area," said Sharon Belobraidich, ADK president.

As the high school orchestra prepared for a mini concert for the retirees, Belobraidich explained that ADK members were interested in providing enlightenment to children and senior citizens in the Plymouth area.

"We do many charitable things for senior citizens," she said. "We also provide an Opportunity House for mentally handicapped young adults, a kidney drive, diabetes camp and educational sessions on blood pressure."

Local attorney named BPW Woman of Year

By Ariene Funke special writer

These days women are attending law school in record numbers. That wasn't the case three decades ago when Jean Wagner of Livonia fought prejudice to win her degree and set up a law practice. Today, Wagner is a well-known and respected attorney in Plymouth, a community activist and role model for other women.

She is one of eight local women recognized by clubs belonging to District 9 of the Business and Professional Women (BPW). She was honored by the Plymouth BPW chapter, of which she is a member.

Each year the BPW clubs give an Outstanding Woman award to a woman who makes substantial contributions to their careers and in the community. The award certificates were presented at a dinner recently at LeRight's restaurant in Westland.

Jean Wagner, Plymouth attorney, has been named Woman of the Year by the Business and Professional Women's organization.

There are still a lot of barriers to be broken down," said Wagner, who expressed gratitude to other women who have fought to have restrictions toppled. "That was the key thing, for women who were competent to be considered."

HONORED BY THE Garden City chapter was Evelyn Fitzpatrick, a pediatric nurse at Garden City Medical Center. Fitzpatrick was active in scouting, is a former member of the Garden City Youth Commission and has served on a citizens advisory council for the Garden City School District.

Fitzpatrick is a eucharistic minister at St. Raphael Catholic Church, has served as a poll worker and is past president of the Garden City BPW.

"It just seemed there was always something to do," Fitzpatrick said. "I have always been busy, active and involved, and it just comes naturally."

"When I was starting out, women either became nurses or teachers," Fitzpatrick added. "It's different now. Women should set their sights on a career choice, get the education or training and go ahead and be what they want to be."

Deborah O'Connor, director of the Canton Public Library, was honored by the Canton BPW. O'Connor has served in several leadership positions in her club, is past director of District 9 and has helped organize the Canton Country Festival, an annual parade and fair in Canton Township.

THE WAYNE BPW selected Lettie Gilooley, vice president of the Wayne Bank. She was cited for her efforts to help women customers with their banking needs.

Kathy Crawford was saluted by the Novi BPW. Crawford, a recreation coordinator for the Novi Parks and Recreation Department, works with senior citizens and handicapped youths. She also has been active in her community's schools and with the Michigan Jaycee Women.

Harriet Welland, a nursing instructor and historical activist, was honored by the Northville club. The Farmington BPW selected TV newswoman Robbie Timmons, winner of two Emmy awards for her reporting.

Detroit Business-Professional Women selected Carol King, active at the local, state and national levels for the National Organization for Women (NOW) since 1973. King is a regional director for NOW and is an administrative assistant for Detroit Councilwoman Maryanne Mahaffey.

District 9 clubs are located in Garden City, Plymouth, Canton, Wayne, Westland, Detroit, Northville, Farmington and Novi.

Having a Ball

Sue Decker, left, and Judy Lore are co-chairwomen for this year's Plymouth Symphony League Victorian Christmas Ball, to be held Dec. 1 in the Plymouth Hilton. Members of the league got together last week to make decorations for the ball.

Canton woman honored for sales achievements

Jeanette Pflug of Canton earned top honors for her sales and recruiting success with Jafra Cosmetics Inc., a producer of skin-care products sold in the home by independent consultants.

Pflug, a Jafra manager, was flown by the company to its Westlake Village, Calif., headquarters, then to San Diego to take part in Jafra's California Leadership Adventure where she received recognition for her achievements.

"Jeanette is a glowing example of a person who not only sets her goals, but achieves them," said Jafra chairman Jan Day. "As an independent Jafra consultant, Pflug earned the all-expense-paid trip through a combination of her personal sales and sponsorship of others starting their own businesses."

"Jafra has given me the chance to be in business for myself, and I love it," said Pflug.

A full-time consultant with Jafra for 10 years, Pflug lives in Canton with her husband, Milton. They have two sons.

Jafra, a subsidiary of The Gillette Co. since 1973, has a sales force of 60,000 consultants.

CC's muscle overwhelms Canton, 3-0

Canton's Rob Opatrny collars, literally, Catholic Central scoring ace Andy Rama. Rama didn't score a goal but he more than made his presence felt in the Shamrocks' 3-0 state tourney win Friday.

It's Shamrocks vs. Rocks Thursday

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

The Redford Catholic Central soccer team sent a little message to the cynics who would believe that it is a one-man team, dominating a weak Catholic League.

To those who think that CC cannot match up with teams from the powerful Western Lakes Soccer League, read this next line carefully: the Shamrocks not only beat Plymouth Canton 3-0 Friday in a state district tournament game, they dominated, frustrated and humbled them.

"We weren't out here to prove anything," said CC coach Paul Scicluna. "Mike Morgan is a fine man and a good coach and he has a good team. Unfortunately, there are those who have underestimated our team. So, we are in a position to prove ourselves. All we proved here today is that we can play soccer."

That's for sure. And they proved there was more to CC soccer than Andy Rama — although Rama, the state's premier goal scorer with 61 goals this season, is a threat anytime he's within 40 yards of the goal.

"LET ME be the first to say that they (CC) are more than a one-man team," said Morgan.

The Shamrocks dominated the game from the outset. John Rehm was all over Canton's outstanding goalie Brian Gavigan — literally, all over him. Gavigan, feeling he was bumped, let his feelings be known to the referee who promptly gave him a yellow card.

The ensuing indirect kick was blocked, then Rehm fired a shot over the net.

The pressure stayed in the Canton end. Rama and Dave Niebrzydowski just missed on a pretty passing play. Then Gavigan made a sterling save on a blistering kick from Rama.

Then it happened. Just 13:45 into the game, Rehm sent a corner kick in front of the net and Niebrzydowski headed it over Gavigan's outstretched arms: 1-0.

Soon after, CC threatened to score again. Rama was robbed twice in a row, neither time by Gavigan. Rama faked Gavigan out of the goal and let go a shot. Canton defenseman Rob Opatrny, however, got back to deflect it away.

Then Rama sent a slicing shot toward the far corner of the Canton goal. It beat Gavigan, but halfback Steve Morell was there to clear the ball out of the goal mouth.

THE ACTION was in the Canton zone for nearly all of the first half. Only once were the Chiefs dangerous. Late in the half, Tim Mueller got free down the left sideline. He blasted a shot at CC goalie Pat Stocker, who was equal to the task. Seconds later, Mueller took a sweet pass from Brad Neville and clearly had Stocker beat. His kick, however, sailed high.

It was as close as Canton would ever come to scoring on CC.

"We got beat in the midfield," said Morgan. "CC controlled the midfield. They were really charged up. I guess they wanted this game more than we did."

"Their size seemed to intimidate us. I really don't know why. The fast team will usually beat the big and slower team."

Not this time. No matter what Canton tried to, CC rejected it. If they tried to move through the middle, CC stuffed them. If they tried to attack the wings, CC turned them inside. It was a frustrating experience for the normally potent Canton offense.

The CC defense, namely Tom Godwin, Jeff Kuzma, Brent Wasik and Billy Wilson — and later in the game

Rama — were simply unpenetrable. The same can be said about midfielders Craig Thiel, C.J. Wendt, Brian Raftery, Tim Cotter and Niebrzydowski.

"I THINK we showed that CC was a team. Not just one guy. We are an 11-man team," Scicluna said.

Catholic Central, specifically Rehm, put the contest in the bag in the second half.

Just seven minutes into the second half, Rehm took advantage of a mistake in the Canton defense to up CC's lead to 2-0. Cotter bounced a pass toward the Chief goal. The ball somehow eluded a Chief defender. Rehm was there to drill it into the net.

Rehm scored the third goal of the game unassisted with just over 20 min-

Miller goes beyond 1,000 yards as Harrison romps past Canton

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

It was an afternoon of milestones. It was an afternoon of friendship and reunions. It was homecoming day for the No. 1-ranked Farmington Harrison football team and the Hawks treated the large and enthusiastic crowd to a 40-7 drubbing of Plymouth Canton.

But above the celebration hovered a pall, a sense of impending despair.

The players weren't cognizant of it. The coaches did their best to put it out of their minds. But it was there. It was the main topic of conversation among the fans. It has been the main topic of conversation in prep football this year.

Harrison, clearly the best prep football team in the state and ranked among the top 20 in the nation, will very likely miss out on a chance to win the state championship.

Because of a terminally unfair playoff system devised by an ingenious bunch of bureaucrats that call themselves the Michigan High School Athletic Association, Harrison needs a miracle to make the playoffs — despite its 7-0 record and despite averaging more than 40 points per game and yielding less than seven.

TO GET IN the playoffs, at least two of the following teams must lose: DeLaSalle, Sterling Heights Stevenson or Birmingham Seaholm.

"That'll never happen," said Harrison coach John Herrington, who is trying like the dickens to remain optimistic.

"Obviously, it would be a big disappointment if we didn't make it," he said. "We are not just a good team. We are a great team."

"But I still feel that we'll get in. We have the best team and somehow, something is going to happen to get us in. I really believe that."

Herrington will be on the state's playoff committee next year. He said that he is certain the playoff format will be changed.

Hopefully, it won't be a year late for Harrison.

"Right now," said Harrison's All-American back John Miller, "I'm not even thinking about the playoffs. I'd be bummed out if we didn't make it. But I'm having the time of my life playing with this football team. I've been here for four years now and I have never had more fun than I am this year."

IT WAS A hallmark day for the amazing senior. He gained 186 yards in 20 carries and scored three touchdowns. He has gained more than 1,000 yards rushing this year and over 4,000 in his career.

"I really wanted to get that. I have been looking forward to it," he said.

The Chiefs were simply no match for Harrison and coach Rich Barr extended his own feelings about the playoff system.

"It would just be a shame if that football team doesn't make it," he said. "Anytime something like that happens, it just cheats the kids. If the playoffs are supposed to represent the true champions of this state, then it would be unfair if Harrison's not there."

The Hawks scored on their first four possessions of the game.

The first scoring drive was all Miller. The drive went 71 yards in 10 plays. Miller carried on all 10 and scored from the 7.

Canton quarterback Dave Knapp fumbled on the next possession and Jason Talbert was there to pounce on it. The biggest cheer of the day came when it was announced that Talbert recovered. He had many relatives in from out of town to see him play — it was a nice moment for a hard-working young man.

TWO PLAYS later, quarterback Vince Enright hit his favorite target, Brian Smolinski, for a 36-yard TD.

Enright had another huge day. He completed seven of 10 passes (including his first five in succession), for 158 yards and two TDs. He had one pass picked off by Knapp in the third quarter.

Smolinski caught four passes for 91 yards.

The Hawks' third score was vintage Miller. He busted through the Canton line, made a nifty fake on a linebacker then cut back across the field outrunning the secondary. The play covered 54 yards.

The Hawks fourth possession looked like a Vince Enright highlight film. First he hit Smolinski for 15 yards. Then Miller for 10. Then Smolinski again for 21. On the fourth play he rested. He handed to Miller, who took it in from the 13.

In the third quarter receiver Jeff Shottroff ran the wrong pattern but still scored on a 39-yard pass from Enright. When things are going good, even busted routes turn into scores.

The Harrison second team finished the scoring. Scott Bissell scored on a 2-yard run.

THE CHIEFS got on the board early in the fourth quarter. A questionable pass interference call put the Chiefs deep in Harrison territory. Two plays later Knapp hit Matt Flower on a pretty 19-yard pass play. Dave Liuzzo added the point.

The Chiefs gained just 123 yards in total offense and Knapp accounted for 80 of them. He ran for 42 and passed for 38 more. Sean Budlong caught two passes for 27 yards.

Ken Hixon, Miller, Smolinski, Dave Delekta, Ben Chen and George Sarcevic were punishing on defense for the Hawks.

Harrison's offense accrued 408 yards on the day.

"You can't get let the players get down about the playoff thing," Herrington said. "If they do, then this won't be any fun for them. And if you can't have fun on this team, something's really wrong."

Northville pounds hapless Rocks

By Kevin Byrnes
special writer

The Northville High running game was in overdrive Friday night, as the Mustangs ran through, over and around Plymouth Salem racing to a 52-14 Western Lakes Activities Association win.

The culprit as far as the small Salem faithful were concerned, was Mustang senior Rick Van Buren. He rushed for 227 yards while backfield mate Doug Hartman added 174 on 16 carries. The tandem combined for five of the eight TD's by Northville.

"They ran their entire offense from tackle to tackle," said Salem Coach Tom Moshimer. "We knew what they were running. We just didn't tackle and didn't stop it."

The Mustangs (6-1 overall and 4-1 in the Western Division) scored before the Salem fans had a chance to sit down. Hartman capped a five-play, 64-yard drive with a 16-yard burst for a TD. Jack Sylvestre failed on the conversion attempt leaving the score 6-0.

SALEM'S PROBLEMS began on their opening drive. The Rocks failed on fourth and 1 at the Mustang 10. Before one could spell Van Buren, the burly senior blasted 50 yards for score right through the middle of the Rock defense. A bid for two failed, making the score 12-0 at the two minute mark.
