The Canton Connection

CANTON POLICE reported a quiet Halloween this year with very few problems outside of a slight increase in pranks and destruction of property. Devil's Night activities were limited to childish pranks, and the annual metal detection of Halloween candy revealed no cases of tainted sweets, officers said.

THE AMERICAN Red Cross is sponsoring its annual blood donor battle between the University of Michigan and Ohio State University. The contest will be today through Nov. 16 and pits the two schools in a friendly competition to collect blood to be distributed by the Red Cross in southeastern Michigan and Columbus to meet community blood needs.

Fans of either school can donate blood at any community blood drive or at the nearest American Red Cross donor center. Donors must specify the school of their choice at the time of donation in order for the school to get credit.

Students, friends and alumni of the maize and blue donated 6,828 units of blood in 1983's contest to beat the scarlet and gray's collection of 6,175 units.

The winner of the "Blood Drop" trophy will be announced during ceremonies at the Michigan/Ohio State football game on Saturday, Nov. 17, in Columbus.

For an appointment to donate, call 494-2800.

PIZZA HUT INC. and WJBK-TV have started their Thanksgiving Can Drive that will share the horn of plenty with needy families during the holiday season. Until Nov. 19, all customers who donate standard-size canned goods to their local Pizza Hut will receive $2 off a large or $1 off a medium pizza.

On Nov. 20, Gleaners Community Food Bank, a non-profit agency, will distribute the collected canned goods to area residents in need.

The Pizza Hut restaurant on Ford Road in Canton Township is participating in the can drive.

THE CANTON SENIOR citizens and township employees will be holding a retirement party in honor of Alex Michalak from noon to 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Canton Recreation Center.

According to Dianne Neihengen, senior citizen coordinator, following his retirement from Awrey Bakeries, Michalak worked for eight years in the police department and recreation department doing maintenance, delivering lunches to homebound seniors and generally taking care of everyone.

THE PLYMOUTH-Canton Lions Junior football team is sponsoring its after-the-season hotcakes and sausage brunch from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday at the McDonald's restaurant on Ford Road in Canton Township. Tickets, which are $2.25 for adults and $2 for children and seniors, will be on sale Saturday at McDonald's or can be obtained by calling 455-8306.

ANNAPOLIS HOSPITAL in Wayne is offering two-part Red Cross first-aid courses this month.

The day course will be from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday and Nov. 14 and the evening course 6-10:30 p.m. Thursday and Nov. 15.

The $10 fee includes a workbook. To register, call 467-4570 between 7 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Dion wins reprieve Purchase, improvements in works

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

Dion Nursing Home residents and staffers, who for months faced the prospect of losing their homes or jobs, are in better spirits these days. Ordered to close Oct. 26 by Ingham Circuit Judge Thomas L. Brown for violating numerous patient care regulations, the Canton home has obtained an 11th-hour stay of proceedings, enabling it to operate for 40 more days.

The stay — granted by Judge Brown Oct. 24 after the state Department of Public Health documented "many improvements" — is intended to provide time for Dion administrator Brian Suter to purchase the home.

A consent order expected to be filed this week in circuit court will schedule plans for remedying 13 remaining deficiencies, according to Paul Phelps, health department director of licensing and certification. Inspectors' reports due today will detail those deficiencies, Phelps added.

Dion, whose license renewals have been denied since 1980 for failure to meet state codes, had "treated residents contrary to the way you would want to treat fellow human beings," said Ron Styka, state assistant attorney general.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT officials have reported as many as 60 violations at Dion in the past, including the alleged abandoning for extended periods of persons sitting in their own feces and urine. Owners and administrators of the 91-bed facility have appealed. That action has kept the home open.

Four health department "surveyors" who visited Dion Oct. 22-23 "noted improvements in nursing, the physical plant, patient care, housekeeping and maintenance," said Phelps. "All the dietary problems have been corrected with the exception of one minor violation having to do with the stacking of wet dishes. Based on reports we had in August 1984, there was no way the department was going to be receptive to a change of ownership.

But the facility really turned around."

Gone are Department of Social Services workers who for several weeks took over the Dion nursing director's office to evaluate patients, inform them they'd have to move, and find new homes for them.

"THE EMPLOYEES threw a party last night (Nov. 1) at a restaurant next door," said Suter, who has spent nearly $6,000 on recent improvements at Dion.

"There was a lot of celebrating when we got the word."

While "everyone's been totally elated," Suter says only time will tell how traumatized some residents have been.

"DSS workers kept going around with a negative attitude, telling residents, 'You have to move.' Right away patients experienced mild states of depression. They were not talkative, not socializing — some were totally withdrawn from their environment. In all sincerity, the effects on some of the patients won't Oklahoma native Marie Cumby lived at Dion until relatives transferred her to a home in Inkster recently. Mrs. Cumby was quite outgoing when introduced to a couple visitors one day last month. "These people (Dion staffers) here are lovely. They all seems to like me — they call me 'Grama' and 'Mama.' I like both names," she said.

Plymouth stalks phantom panther

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

One of the two phantom panthers sighted in southeastern Michigan may be in Plymouth Township.

Police and U.S. Fish and Wildlife officials believe the animal was encountered by a township woman and her dog last week.

"We received a report of a strange animal in the western portion of the township," said Don Burger, a Fish and Wildlife special agent.

"There's no cause for alarm but parents should be aware of the fact that the leopard may be in the area," Burger said.

Although earlier reports of sightings referred to the animals as panthers, Burger said they are black leopards.

The first sighting was reported in late May in Manchester, while the other cat was first reported in July in Wixom.

Burger, who has seen the Manchester cat twice, said it is a smaller female. The Wixom cat is believed to be a 140-pound male.

After being sighted in Wixom, the male also has been spotted in Northville Township. Burger believes the male now has moved into Plymouth Township, based on the incident in a field west of Ridge Road and north of M-14.

"The report involves a woman who heard it and the reaction of her dog," Burger said.

"The actions of the dog lead us to believe that the animal is not indigenous to the area. The dog's actions are very similar to the behavior of other dogs who saw the panther and the owner also saw the animal," he said.

"We have some unusual tracks and are trying to determine what they are," said Carl Berry, township police chief.

BLACK LEOPARDS are known to travel a range of 40 to 60 miles in hunting for food.

"It could just be passing through this area, but there's a good possibility it will stay — there doesn't appear to be any reason for it to move," Burger said.

"Once it establishes itself in an area, more bonafide sightings start coming in," he said.

If someone encounters the animal, Burger said they should leave the area immediately and notify Plymouth police at 453-8600.

Cleanly venture profitable

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Starting a business is always a risky proposition, but it's even dicier when there's a recession, such as the one that the Detroit area has been enduring for the last three years.

Yet for Elaine Ravidia of Canton Township the time seemed right for the kind of product that everybody needs, recession or no recession.

Ravidia began Buy-Rite Products, which distributes commercial rest-room supplies and equipment about 3 1/2 years ago, when it appeared the real estate market, where she was employed as a broker, was entering a period of stagnation.

Her hunch proved right. Buy-Rite Products Inc. is one of the fastest-growing businesses in the Detroit area, according to Ravidia's figures.

From $60,000 in sales the first year, Buy-Rite grew to $195,000 in 1983. For 1984, Ravidia expects to have sales of $2.5 to $2.8 million. With a healthy economy, Buy-Rite could be looking at a $3.5-million year in 1985.

Ravidia, at 39 the president and owner of Buy Rite, began her company the way most successful businesses succeed. She saw a need and filled it.

"I saw a need to service small companies. Most large companies don't have the time for little companies, with 10 or 20 employees. So I thought I'd try it. I did my own selling and office work."

BUY-RITE PROVIDES products to commercial cleaning companies and to restaurants, hotels, stores, offices and municipal buildings in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Washtenaw counties.

"It was a big gamble," said Ravidia. "But I knew that if I could make it when the economy was bad, I'd probably do very well when it improved."

She is one of only three women in the state in her line of work. "It's rare to find women in this business," said Ravidia. "But the reception has been very good. I've always loved Plymouth and Canton."

Buy-Rite is truly a female-owned and operated company, which can be an advantage in bidding for jobs. Government agencies often give the nod to female, minority or small companies, all other things being equal.

Though Ravidia holds a majority share, two other women are part-owners of the company.

Jo-An Frent is in charge of inventory control. Donna Dunn seeks new accounts for the company products and its new service — programmed maintenance.

"People asked me if I knew of a good commercial cleaning company," said Ravidia. "So I began performing maintenance, which gives us even more contact with our customers."

Poll shows high voter interest

By Mary Klemic
staff writer

Tuesday's balloting may meet expectations of a large voter turnout, if an informal survey of shoppers at the Westland Center is any indication.

All shoppers who gave opinions in last week's survey said they would vote in the election, many for President Reagan. But which party they would support, and how they would go on the ballot proposals, weren't always as clear.

"I always vote," said Romulus resident Barbara Harrison, who added that she wasn't sure how she would cast her ballot. "I think it's going to be more of a race between (Sen. Carl) Levin and (Jack) Loumsa than the presidential (race). I think Levin's going to get it."

PAM FORD of Livonia is going to vote, but said she is "still undecided" about the candidates. "I can find good and bad in them all," she said.

Bill Stubblefield was definite about how he would vote: for President Reagan rather than former vice president Walter Mondale.

Why? "I like him," the Westland resident said.

"I'll vote Republican because of the issues they stand for," said Linda Set-terlund, also of Westland. "Prayer in schools, they're for it. They're against taxpayers paying for abortion, and that's good. I think Reagan's done a pretty good job, even though I didn't vote for him (in 1980)."

"I'LL PROBABLY vote for Reagan," said Jane Ferguson of Livonia. "I just think he's done a good job."

"I think that the way Reagan has started to improve the economy, he should have the chance to continue," Westland resident Richard Ward said.

There may be a lot of split votes this election, with votes going to candidates on different sides of the political fence, the sampling suggests.

Jim Witmer of Plymouth said he will vote for Republican Reagan and Democrat Levin for the same reason — because he thinks they did a "good job" in office.

"ANY WAY you look at it, the economy's stronger," Witmer said. "Mondale is trying to bank on (the deficit). I think that's secondary. The 'warmonger' thing, I don't think I accept that."

"Loumsa is really wishy-washy on the tax issue. It might be brainwashing by the media, but I have a real identity problem with Loumsa. I don't know where he stands. Levin is right up

Hotline Call us for late results

The Observer Newspapers once again will be operating its Election Hotline to give out local vote results.

The news staffs of Canton and Plymouth Observer Newspapers will be collecting election results for Canton Township local offices, the 35th District Court, the 10th and 11th districts of the Wayne County Commission, the 36th and 37th districts of the Michigan House, and the 2nd and 15th districts of U.S. Congress. (Complete congressional results aren't expected to be known Tuesday night, however).

Canton and Plymouth residents may call 459-2700 beginning at 9 p.m. until 11:30 p.m.

Because of the volume of calls anticipated, only the names of winners or losers will be reported and not vote totals or results of individual precincts. Complete election coverage will be reported in Thursday's Observer.

Clerk's office set for large turnout

By Diane Free

With The Big Day less than 24 hours away, Canton Township election officials are gearing up for a better than 70 percent voter turnout.

Doris Kelley, secretary to the township clerk's office, said the large numbers of phone calls, voter registrations and absentee ballots all are good indicators that the turnout on election day will be higher than the original prediction of 70 percent of registered voters.

The clerk's office has been averaging at least 100 telephone calls a day, Kelley said. Absentee voters had until 4 p.m. today to cast their ballots at township hall. Outstanding absentee ballots must be returned to township hall no later than 8 p.m., although as early as possible would be appreciated, Kelley said.

Canton Township's ballots had not been printed at the time of Clerk John Flodin's death last month or the selection of Mary Dingeldey as his replacement as the Democratic candidate in the election, Kelley said. The name substitution was made before the ballots were printed. The clerk's office was issued printed stickers of the name change to use on the already printed absentee ballots.

KELLEY REMINDED voters to be sure they go to the correct precinct location. She said it is inevitable that some voters turn up to vote at their school election voting location instead of their designated polling place.

"We're bound to have some people waiting in the wrong lines," Kelley said, even though precinct workers do make periodic checks to make sure voters are where they're supposed to be.

Kelley suggested that any voter who has doubts about the precinct location call the clerk's office for the information. Anyone who is unfamiliar with using a voting machine is encouraged to use the machine set up in the township hall lobby for a demonstration; instructions are available at the booth.

ALSO INEVITABLE are the lines of people waiting to vote, Kelley said. "The lines are going to be long but there are only so many facilities available," she said. One solution to the waiting may be to vote during off-peak hours such as mid-morning or mid-afternoon, Kelley said.

The 22 precinct locations will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday, Kelley said. Absentee voters had until 4 p.m. today to cast their ballots at township hall. Outstanding absentee ballots must be returned to township hall no later than 8 p.m., although as early as possible would be appreciated, Kelley said.

GENEVA FORD, a retired clerk from Wayne, has been serving as acting clerk for the final two weeks of the election following the death of Flodin.

Ford, who conducted 50 elections in her 23 years as clerk, was the personal selection of Flodin when he entered the hospital, Kelley said. She will serve as acting clerk until the local election results are certified on Thursday.

Ford said she expects the final election results to be later than expected because the "processing of absentee ballots will be considerably slower." The absentee ballots will have to be sorted and run through the computer separately, Ford said, due to the name change in the clerk's race.

be known for years. We're working with them to ease the trauma they've gone through," said Suter.

While DSS workers never actually transferred anyone, 17 of Dion's 80-plus patients were removed from Dion by relatives. DSS staffers "made them feel there was no option," he said.

Seven patients have returned, and "10 are gone for good," added Suter, who expects to hear "any day" whether the health department has approved his bid to purchase Dion.

Improvements Suter, the only prospective buyer, knows he'll have to make within eight months include the $18,000 restructuring of a steep ramp and remodeling to accommodate it, and the construction of a room for soiled linen. Suter recently authorized $3,000 for the nearly completed overhaul of the home's ventilation system.

Should the sale go through, Suter will be licensed to operate Dion for a six-month "probationary period."

"It won't be harassment — but the facility will be placed on a monitoring program so that we can make sure the management plan is being followed," Phelps said. The plan will stipulate what the department's expectations are, and what the facility must provide.

Canton carrier honored

Hopper, the son of Lawrence and Anne Hopper, received the trophy during the 14th annual Carrier of the Year Night Oct. 23.

Hopper is a junior at Plymouth Salem High School and has been delivering the Canton Observer to Holiday Park residents since June of 1978. He lists his favorite subjects as math and automotive and enjoys bowling as a hobby.

The selection of Carrier of the Year is based on the length of service, amount of collections, prompt settling of accounts, neat organization of route books, up-to-date record-keeping and previous selection as Carrier of the Month.

DR. WEISS WHEN YOU ACHE AND NOTHING SHOWS You may experience aching in your joints, which lasts for days. You feel fatigued and can't move with the ease with which you are accustomed. Yet when the doctor examines you, he leaves you with the impression that "everything is alright." Later the ache may leave, only to return again. Your discontent is compounded because there is no swelling or redness to explain your pain. Rheumatologists believe that you have incurred an insult to your body that has resulted in arthritis. That no joint swelling is present shows that your body is winning the fight. That you ache indicates that the irritation remains. In such cases rheumatologists are reluctant to use drugs that may interfere with your body's partially successful response. Experience has shown that such aches rarely lead to a crippling arthritis, in time the body will return to its former state. Thus the doctor sees that it is his role to provide reassurance and recommend conservative measures.

On winning with grace

FOR YEARS, we have been taught to be good losers. It was stressed to us from childhood that we never should make alibis in defeat, but to take it gracefully with the pledge to do better next time.

There are several great examples that come to mind. For instance, on the rainy night in Philadelphia when Jack Dempsey lost his heavyweight title to Gene Tunney, he was asked what had gone wrong. It was an opportunity to make a good excuse. Instead, Dempsey just shook his head and very seriously said:

"I just forgot to duck."

No excuses. No alibis. Just the reaction of a good loser.

It was much the same when Joe Louis recovered from his knock-out at the fists of Max Schmeling. When he reported the morning after with a swollen face, puffed eyes and the other marks of a beating, Louis was asked what in the world had happened. He answered simply:

"He fight me sideways."

You see, Louis never had fought a fellow who boxed from a crouch, and this puzzled Joe. But it was no alibi.

FOR YEARS on the football fields of the country's leading universities, where things should be at their peak, came the first signs that we should learn how to act in victory.

It became the fashion that, as soon as the game had ended, the students and folks in the stands would race for the goal posts and tear them down.

In an effort to stop this — and to save money — the universities installed steel goalposts. Furthermore, they put up screens behind them to keep kicked footballs from going into the crowds.

AND NOW THAT the fans have gone berserk when the Detroit Tigers won not only the American League pennant but the World Series, it is time to start re-teaching "How to Win Gracefully."

Pat, who has known me and my stubbornness for years, just laughed and wisely changed the subject.

All, but not I have come to eat my words — and I owe it all to my mother. Dear, sweet mother.

Last week, due to a family emergency, my mother did some of our laundry. This was very, very nice of her (you can always count on your mother to come through for you when the going gets tough).

Later, as my husband was putting on one of his freshly laundered white shirts, he exclaimed, "Look how white this shirt is! And it's ironed, too. It looks fantastic!"

First I looked around the room for any TV cameras just to make sure we weren't making a commercial that someone had forgotten to tell me about. Then I suddenly muttered, "Yeah, it does look nice."

So, naturally, after having been exposed to an ironed shirt, and taking a normal amount of pride in appearance, hubby wants all of his shirts ironed.

Golly, gee, ain't that swell.

I found my ironing board and my iron, neither of which have been used since the invention of Permanent Press, set them up in front of the television and tackled those shirts with a gusto I didn't know I possessed.

I stopped by Pat's yesterday for tea and confession. "I've started doing ironing," I said under my breath. After she stopped laughing and wiping the tears from her eyes, she went on to give me some advice. She told me to watch out for the "trickle down effect."

According to Pat, I might find myself ironing my own blouses or even the kids' shirts. She said that if I found myself ironing the bedsheets, it would be a definite sign that I was in trouble.

I had to admit to her that I had already given consideration to ironing my new Levi shirt before I came to visit her (and it's supposed to look semi-wrinkled).

Do you suppose there's a "Hot Line" I can call before it's too late?

Canton: pleasant relief

To the editor:

My husband and I went to a World Series game and on the way to Detroit on I-275 we remarked on how terrible the roadside looked with all its huge billboards. Then when we reached Canton Township it was such a pleasant relief to be able to see the countryside with no unsightly billboards. Whoever is responsible for this is to be commended.

While Detroit now should be hailed as the home of the baseball champions, it is being looked upon across the country as the home of riots — even in victory.

Thousands gathered there without tickets before the game, just to wait for the finish. What prompted the great clash at Michigan and Trumbull after the game is still a mystery.

Who were they? Where did they come from? There is an old saying that an idle brain is the devil's workshop. Maybe the cause lies in that direction. There are many unemployed in Detroit and the suburbs. Maybe this is where the idea was born.

First, the fans inside the stadium tore up the sod in the outfield, for what reason no one knows.

Next, according to police, three women were raped, a man was killed and several automobiles were overturned and set afire right next to the stadium.

The time has come when we must teach not only how to be a good loser but also how to accept victory with respect instead of with riotous parties.

Now that this horrible acceptance of the Tigers' victory has come to light, it is time that we start teaching "the respect of winning."

You work hard all your life and what do you get? Well, depending on where you work, you could get cancer. Asbestos has been proven to cause cancer. Certain toxic chemicals like formaldehyde and freon are being investigated. If you've worked with radioactive particles or even worked near them, your risk is greater.

And even if you've worked nowhere hazardous, it wouldn't hurt to get a checkup. Because the incidence of cancer after the age of 45 to 50 increases rapidly.

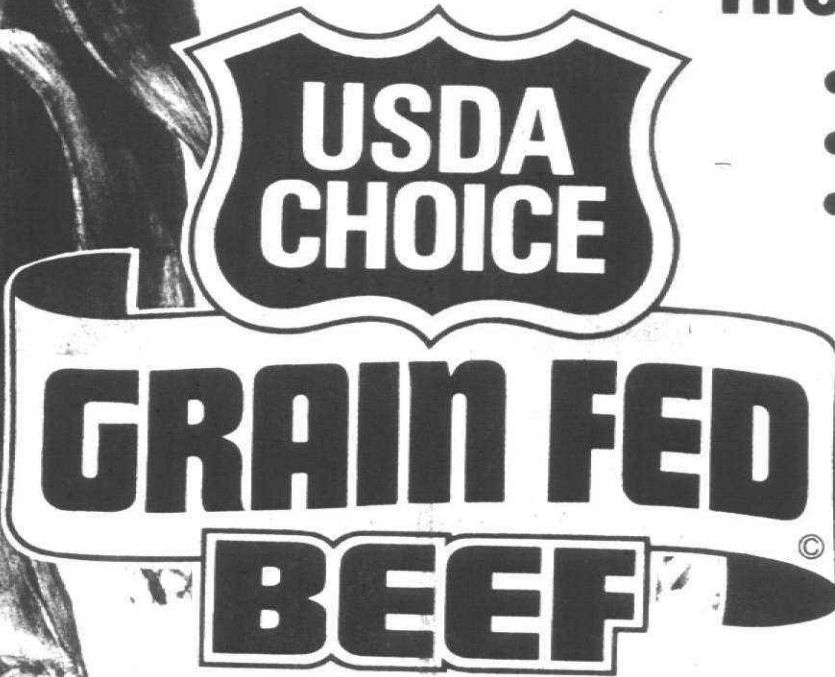

Over the next several years the American Cancer Society will be conducting more research into certain lifestyles and exposures which could increase cancer mortality.

So know the risks. Don't smoke. Watch what you eat and drink. Look for the warning signs of

CARAMEL APPLES

It wouldn't be autumn without 'em

When the night air adds a crispness and the scents of fall return, farm stands and supermarket produce sections abound with fresh, juicy apples peaking in flavor. For many, the advent of the apple season triggers fond memories of a tart, juicy apple tucked inside some chewy caramel.

Not too many years ago, making caramel apples from fruit picked in the family orchard was an annual ritual looked forward to by everyone—grandparents, parents, aunts, uncles and children of all ages. After the fruit was hand-picked, the bushels were culled for the best apples while the kids unwrapped the caramels. Melting, stirring, dipping and coating followed. Finally, it was time for munching and crunching.

Although times have changed today, family orchards are few and far between. Making caramel apples is still an activity family, friends and especially the kids will find fun. Whether you begin in the orchard or at the produce department in your favorite supermarket, now is a good time to celebrate the caramel apple season.

Possibilities for homemade caramel apples are nearly limitless. Recipes can range from the old-fashioned, traditional favorite to these new variations just developed by the Kraft Kitchens: chocolate fudge, peanut butter, cinnamon, and laced with liqueur. But before you plunge right in, here are a few hints for choosing and preparing your caramel apples.

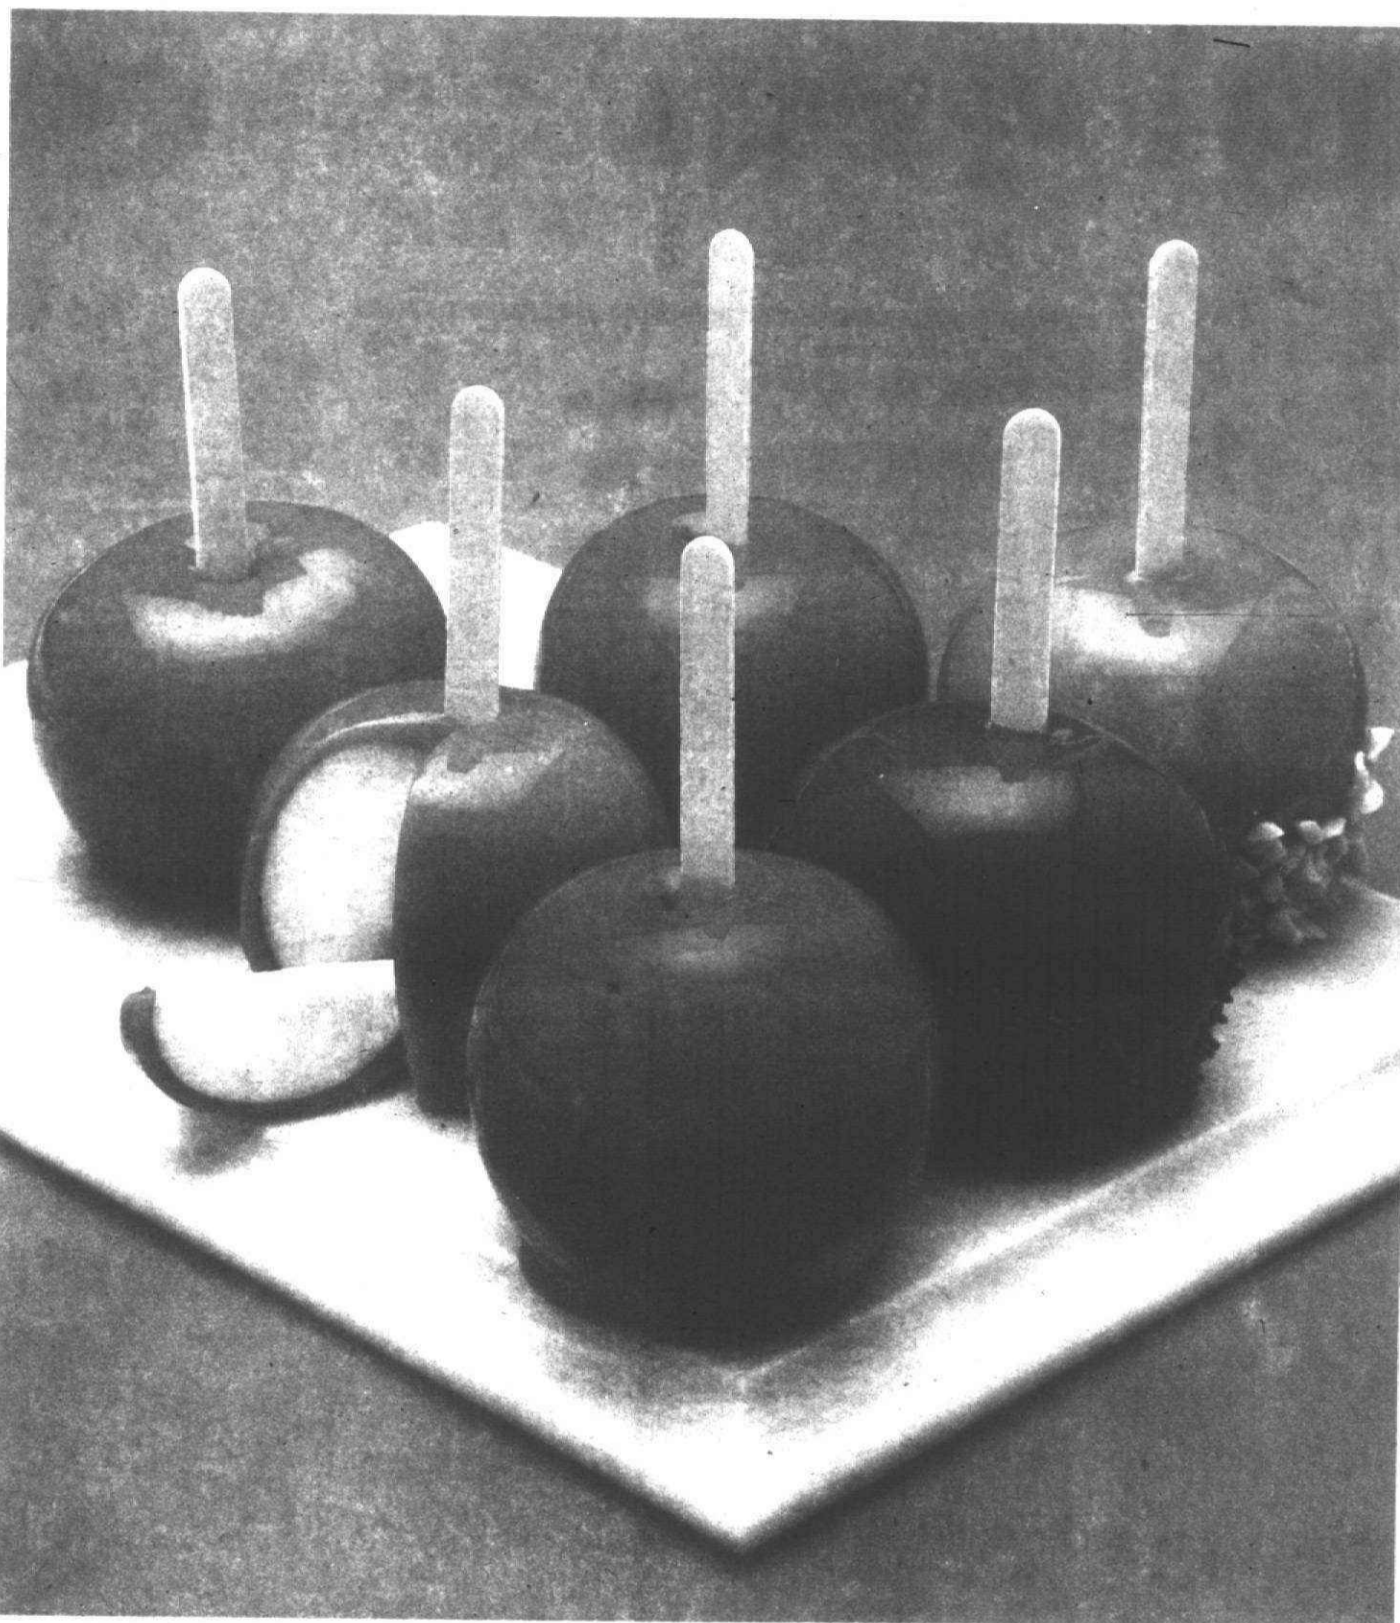

When picking the apple of your eye, you may be confused by the numerous varieties available. One rule of thumb is that tart and tender apples are the best for caramel apple making. The tartness complements the rich, sweet flavor of the caramel, while the tenderness makes it easier to take a big bite.

Two common apple varieties, McIntosh and Jonathans, are among the Kraft Kitchen's favorites for caramel apple making. First grown in Ontario, Canada, around 1800, the McIntosh is now widely produced in many areas throughout the country. Jonathans are a native American variety best known for their brilliant red color, excellent flavor and fragrance. Other popular choices for caramel apple making are Delicious apples, red or yellow.

When selecting your apples for caramel apple making, remember that bigger is not always better. Medium sized apples, which are about 2-1/2 inches in diameter, are the best for dipping. Another guide to follow is that there are about 3 medium apples per pound. The famous proverb, "Beauty is more than skin deep," also applies to apples. Choose apples with a smooth skin and without any soft spots which will turn into brown bruises inside the apple. Once you've picked the apples and brought them home, handle them with care so you don't create any bruises yourself.

Before you actually begin preparations it's important to wash and dry the apples in a mild soap solution to remove their natural waxy coating. This process cannot be skipped or when you begin dipping, the caramel will slide off the apple.

Now you're ready to begin! Assemble the everyday kitchen utensils you will need: heavy 1-1/2 quart saucepan, spatula, wooden spoon, wax paper, and cookie sheet.

HOMEMADE CARAMEL APPLES

1 14-oz. bag caramels
2 tablespoons water
4 or 5 medium size apples
Wooden sticks

- 1) Unwrap caramels.
- 2) Place caramels and water in heavy 1-1/2 quart saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently until caramels are melted and sauce is smooth.
- 3) Place sheet of wax paper on cookie sheet. Lightly grease wax paper with margarine. Wash and dry apples. Insert a wooden stick into stem end of each apple. During autumn, wooden sticks are included in bags of Kraft caramels which are specially marked.
- 4) Holding stick, dip apples, one at a time, into hot caramel sauce, tilting sauce pan and turning until well coated. Scrape off extra sauce from bottom of apple with spatula.

- Place apples on greased wax paper.
- 4) Store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow caramel to soften.

To Microwave:

- Place unwrapped caramels in a small, deep, glass bowl.
- Add water.
- Microwave on high for 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 minutes, or until sauce is smooth, stirring after each minute. Continue with Step 2 as directed.
- If caramel sauce is too thin, let stand about 2 minutes before dipping apples.

CHOCOLATE FUDGE APPLES

Just one taste of this rich and creamy coating will confirm why chocolate sauce has long been renowned as a flavorful dipper for fruit.

1 14-oz. bag chocolate fudgies

1 tablespoon milk
4 or 5 medium size apples
Wooden sticks
Chocolate shots

Melt fudgies with milk in heavy 1-1/2 quart saucepan over low heat, stirring frequently until smooth. Wash and dry apples; insert stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot fudge sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apples; dip in chocolate shots. Place on greased wax paper. Store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow caramel to soften.

Variation: Mocha: Dissolve 2 teaspoons instant coffee granules in 1 tablespoon hot water. Substitute for milk. Continue as directed above.

To Microwave: Microwave chocolate fudgies and milk in small, deep, glass bowl on High 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 minutes, or until sauce is smooth, stirring after each minute. Continue as directed above. (If caramel sauce is too thin, let stand about 2 minutes before dipping apples.)

PEANUT BUTTER CARAMEL APPLES

Two of America's favorite flavors—peanut butter and caramel—unite to provide this tempting apple wrap. Chopped peanuts add extra crunch!

1 14-oz. bag caramels
2 tablespoons creamy peanut butter
2 tablespoons water
4 or 5 medium size apples
Wooden sticks
Chopped peanuts

Melt caramels, peanut butter and water in heavy 1-1/2 quart saucepan over low heat, stirring frequently until smooth. Wash and dry apples; insert stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot caramel sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apples. Dip in nuts. Place on greased wax paper. Store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow caramel to soften.

To Microwave: Microwave caramels, peanut butter and water in small, deep, glass bowl on High for 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 minutes, stirring after each minute or until sauce is smooth. Continue as directed above. (If caramel sauce is too thin, let stand about 2 minutes before dipping apples.)

CINNAMON CARAMEL APPLES

Just as cinnamon enhances the flavor of apples in pies, cobblers and applesauce, cinnamon candies add spark to caramel apples.

1/4 cup cinnamon candies
3 tablespoons water
1 14-oz. bag caramels
4 or 5 medium size apples
Wooden sticks

Melt cinnamon candies with 1 tablespoon water in heavy 1-1/2 quart saucepan over low heat, stirring frequently until melted. Add remaining water and caramels, stirring frequently until smooth. Stir in few drops red food coloring. Wash and dry apples; insert stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot cinnamon caramel sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apples. Place on greased wax paper. Store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow caramel mixture to soften.

To Microwave: Microwave cinnamon candies and 1 tablespoon water in small, deep, glass bowl on High 2 minutes; stir. Add caramels and 2 tablespoons water. Microwave on High 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 minutes, or until sauce is smooth, stirring after each minute. Continue as directed above. (If caramel sauce is too thin, let stand about 2 minutes before dipping apples.)

SPIKED CARAMEL APPLES

Caramel apples, spiked with a liqueur of almost any flavor, are a new way for adults to enjoy this seasonal favorite. Experiment with your favorite liqueur or try these suggestions from the Kraft Kitchens.

1 14-oz. bag caramels
2 tablespoons orange or almond flavor liqueur
4 or 5 medium size apples
Wooden sticks

Melt caramels with liqueur in heavy 1-1/2 quart saucepan over low heat, stirring frequently until smooth. Wash and dry apples; insert stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot caramel sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apples. Place on greased wax paper. Store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow caramel to soften.

To Microwave: Microwave caramels and liqueur in small, deep, glass bowl on High 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 minutes, or until sauce is smooth, stirring after each minute. Continue as directed above. (If caramel sauce is too thin, let stand about 2 minutes before dipping apples.)

Delicious on a stick, these adult treats are even easier to eat when cut into bite-size wedges. Just remove the sticks and slice into eight pieces. Serve with ice cream, if desired.

HINTS FOR A PERFECT CARAMEL APPLE

- Wash and dry the apples before dipping to remove their natural waxy coating and ensure that the caramel will stick.
- If the apples are extra juicy, be sure to dry them again after inserting the sticks.

- When preparing the caramel or fudge based sauce, be sure to measure the liquid exactly with a measuring spoon.
- Sweet treats may scorch easily. When melting caramels be sure to use a heavy saucepan over low heat.
- Once the caramels begin to melt, stir them gently with a wooden spoon to prevent - scorching and air bubbles from forming.

- Allow about 20 minutes to melt caramels in a heavy 1-1/2 quart saucepan on a conventional range top.
- Tilt the pan to evenly coat the apples. If necessary, spoon on the caramel sauce to completely cover the last apple.
- After dipping each apple the excess caramel

- should be scraped off the bottom with a spatula before setting on the wax paper.
- Be sure to store your apples in the refrigerator to prevent the caramel from slipping off.
- After storing caramel apples in the refrigerator let them stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow the caramel to soften.

Marinated steak can spice up tailgate picnic

Tailgate picnics have become football season classics, combining good food, friends and game enthusiasm. To plan a winning stadium-side celebration or backyard pregame party, here are some tips.

- Plan menus with easy-to-serve recipes that can be prepared ahead. Add zest to beef sandwiches by marinating steaks in a spicy herb sauce for up to 24 hours before serving. Cover the marinated mixture securely with plastic wrap to retain flavor.
- Broil steak and thinly slice (just before departing for the picnic site). Package meat in plastic wrap and place in an insulated thermal container.
- Bring along a creative array of fresh fruits and cheeses or try a winning combination of favorites. Core and cut a pear in half, dipping in lemon juice to prevent browning. Fill the pear cavity with soft Brie cheese, sprinkle with chopped pecans. Pears can be wrapped individually in plastic wrap and fastened with ribbons of team colors. These pears can be prepared ahead, wrapped as described, and frozen.
- Clean and slice crisp vegetables, wrapping in plastic wrap and neatly tucking into a picnic basket. Take along a simple dip to complete the course.
- Transport hot soups, stews and sauces in vacuum containers. Hot foods such as casseroles will stay warm in thermal units or cardboard boxes lined with newspaper for insulation. Keep foods cold in an insulated ice chest.
- Roll individual sets of silver or plasticware in plastic wrap or colorful napkins. Place in a basket on a picnic table extended from station-wagon tailgate or a van. Additional napkins can cushion glasses or jars of mustard and jams for travel.
- Consider packaging individual meals in colorful lunch boxes or small shopping bags. Wrap sandwiches, fruits, cheeses and desserts in individual servings with plastic wrap. Include utensils and napkins in the portable picnic pack.
- Line picnic baskets and boxes with plastic wrap to protect from spills and to make clean up easy. Don't forget to pack garbage bags and damp cloths wrapped in plastic wrap for clean up.

To help plan creative tailgate picnics, the makers of Saran Wrap have prepared the following recipe suggestions.

MARINATED SIRLOIN STEAK SANDWICHES

Steak Marinade:

- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1/4 red wine vinegar
- 2 tbs. soy sauce
- 1 tsp. minced fresh ginger root
- 1 clove garlic, sliced
- 2 green onions, chopped

1 sirloin steak, 1 1/4 inches thick, approximately 3 lbs., marinated overnight.

Whisk together oil, red wine vinegar and soy sauce. Stir in ginger, garlic and onions. Place marinated steak on broiler pan 5 inches from heat source. Broil 8 minutes in each side. Let stand 5 minutes. Slice very thin for sandwiches.

Assemble on pita or pumpernickel bread, or hard rolls, with Bleu Cheese Spread for added zest. Sandwiches can be topped with sliced onion rings, tomato and avocado slices. Wrap sandwiches individually.

BLEU CHEESE SPREAD

3 oz. cream cheese
1 tbs. bleu cheese

1/4 tsp. hot sauce

Soften the cream cheese, stir in bleu cheese and hot sauce. Mix to spreading consistency. Makes about 1/4 cup.

PEARS WITH BRIE

4 Bartlett pears, halved and cored
Lemon juice
4 oz. Brie, room temperature
Chopped pecans

Cut pears in half, lengthwise, and core. Dip cut edges in lemon juice to prevent browning. Fill cavity with soft Brie; sprinkle with pecans. Wrap halves individually. Chill until ready to pack in picnic lunch. Makes 8 one-half-pear servings.

At last, a recipe just especially for chicken thighs

Herbert Hoover wasn't completely wrong — he was just ahead of his time. Today, there are almost two cars in every garage and, without qualification, a chicken in every pot.

Chicken is served in 96 percent of U.S. households. Nearly 70 percent of American families eat the bird or parts thereof at least once a week. That adds up to about 50 pounds per person each year.

The most popular parts of the chicken appear to be the breast and drumsticks. I believe I have more recipes for chicken breasts than Carter used to have liver pills. Since I'm a kid at heart, I still love drumsticks.

Chicken wings have become more popular although I can't understand why — all that work for so little meat.

My wife has joined the I-love-them-barbecued-with-hot-sauce crowd, but I prefer to remain in the wings.

Even the chicken's back and neck come in for special mention. The back flavors soups while the neck is used in gravy.

Alas, the poor thigh is left out in the cold. When's the last time you tried a recipe with that portion of the chicken's anatomy?

I hadn't thought about chicken thighs until I found a bargain in the supermarket.

When I found them selling for about the same price as wings and less than drumsticks, I didn't need the sky to fall on me. That's why I'm making a clean break of it to you.

TACO CHICKEN THIGHS

1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 tsp. garlic salt
1 1/2 cups finely crushed taco-flavored tortilla chips

1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup cooking oil
12 chicken thighs, rinsed and pat dry

In shallow bowl, slightly beat egg with fork, beat in milk and stir in salt.

Don't let kitchen traffic jams spoil your day

A school day signals the start of morning rush hour in many households. The kitchen is often the scene of family traffic jams as household members prepare on-the-run breakfasts and hastily pack bag lunches.

To put an end to some of the morning confusion and to help provide more creative, nutritious take-along lunches, here are some suggestions:

- Create a bag lunch menu that allows you to shop and plan ahead for supplies.
- Keep utensils, countertops and cutting boards clean.
- Spread butter, margarine or mayonnaise right up to the edges on both sides of bread to prevent sandwich fillings from seeping through and jellies and jams from "weeping."
- Spread bread slices or hamburger buns out and, using an ice cream scoop, fill sandwiches assembly line fashion.
- Stack several sandwiches together and cut all at once.
- Cut sandwiches for youngsters in small, fun shapes — hamburger buns into pie-wedge quarters or bread into diagonal strips.
- For dieters, put sandwich filling into a scooped-out tomato or roll up in a lettuce leaf. Seal into a sandwich bag.

- Use salad dressings such as thousand island or creamy garlic to make excellent spreads for meat sandwiches.
- Keep foods hot by boiling soups and stews or chili, then pouring into vacuum containers.
- Keep foods cold by packing into lunch bags or boxes along with a chilled can of juice, frozen sandwich or cookies. Frozen items will thaw in time for lunch.
- Pack fragile items such as potato chips, pretzels or cookies with a cushion of air before sealing bag.
- Pack separate bags of sandwich garnishes such as lettuce, tomato and green pepper slices and celery sticks. Salad greens stay especially crisp if first wrapped in a damp paper towel.
- Pack a sandwich bag with crisp raw vegetables and another with a delicious dip as an afternoon snack.
- Pack a mixture of sunflower seeds, raisins and nuts to keep energy level high at the work place or during breaks.
- Pack a creative mixture of cheeses in one bag and a variety of crackers and breads in another.

- Save money by purchasing larger containers of chips, cookies and other snack items. Portion-pack them in sandwich bags and seal tightly to preserve freshness.

Following are some ideas for creative take-along lunches.

BANANA QUICK BREAD SANDWICH WITH PEANUT BUTTER-BACON FILLING

Filling:
1 loaf Banana Quick Bread (recipe below)
1 tsp. peanut butter per sandwich
1 slice crumbled bacon per sandwich

BANANA QUICK BREAD
1 1/2 cup flour
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. baking soda
1/4 tsp. salt

Pre-heat oven to 350 degrees. Mix together the flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Set aside.

Using an electric mixer, cream sugar and shortening until light, scraping sides of bowl often. Add eggs, one at a time, and the milk, beating until smooth after each addition. Fold in nuts. Pour batter into a lightly greased 8x12-inch loaf pan. Bake for 60-65 minutes. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove from pan, cool.

CHICKEN SALAD SANDWICH IN HARD ROLL

Van serves seniors' transportation needs

By Dennis Coffman staff writer

Senior residents of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township don't have to be home-bound, even if they don't have a ready means of transportation, thanks to the area's Senior Van program.

Any person 62 and older qualifies for door-to-door service, which can be arranged with a phone call to the city's housing office, 455-3670.

The van program, originally begun to transport seniors to the Tonquish Creek Manor Center for hot meals, has been expanded to include service to doctors' and dentists' offices, supermarkets, department stores and beauty shops.

The van also makes regularly scheduled trips to the local K mart store. But seniors can go anywhere they want, within the city and the township. An exception to the rule is Oakwood

Van stops at Tonquish Creek Manor to pick up residents for shopping or an appointment.

Senior citizens may use van for a shopping trip to K mart or downtown Plymouth stores. Only out-of-town service is to Oakwood Hospital Center in Canton.

Offer this dessert for a delicious, light change

"Ambrosia," in the food sense, generally refers to a compote of oranges, coconut and pineapple.

According to the dictionary, "ambrosia" can be anything with especially delicious flavor or fragrance. The word originated in days of mythology, when ambrosia meant "food of the gods" and was thought to impart immortality. Hence, an "ambrosial offering" has come to be something magnificent, supremely good or simply divine.

This delicious dessert could refer to any of those definitions, except for the immortality claim. Della Robbia Ambrosia is a refrigerator dessert molded in a springform pan lined with ladyfingers. The filling is a creamy combination of canned vanilla pudding, gelatin and fruits.

This refreshing, light dessert is the perfect grand finale to a company meal.

Line bottom and sides of 9-inch springform pan with ladyfingers. Pile gelatin mixture into mold. Chill for several hours until firm. Before serving, garnish with reserved orange sections and toasted coconut. To serve, remove sides of pan and slice into slim wedges. Yield: 12-14 servings.

DELLA ROBBIA AMBROSIA
1 pkg. (3-oz.) orange-pineapple gelatin
1 can (11 oz.) Mandarin oranges
1 can (17 1/2 oz.) vanilla pudding
1 can (8 1/2 oz.) crushed pineapple
1 carton (8 oz.) frozen whipped topping, thawed
1 1/2 pkg. ladyfingers
Toasted coconut

Drain Mandarin oranges; reserve liquid. Add water to make 1 cup. Heat juice/water to boiling, then add gelatin, stirring to dissolve. Cool and refrigerate just until the thickness of unbeaten egg white. Blend in pudding until smooth. Add drained Mandarin oranges (save a few for garnish) and undrained pineapple. Gently fold in whipped topping.

This tostada is meal by itself

Tonight give your family a treat with a taste of sunny Mexico. This colorful chicken tostada is a nutritious "meal-on-a-tortilla."

Spread refried beans on a tortilla, top with chicken and crunchy ripe olives from California. Then heap grated cheese, lettuce, tomatoes and avocado slices on top with a generous dollop of sour cream. Garnish with green onion and sliced ripe olives. Serve with green or red chili salsa and — ole.

RIPE OLIVE 'N' CHICKEN TOSTADAS
1 (1 1/2 oz.) pkg. taco seasoning mix
1 cup water
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 1/2 cups sliced California ripe olives
6 flour tortillas
1 (20 1/2 oz.) can refried beans
1 cup grated cheddar or Jack cheese
3 cups shredded lettuce
2 tomatoes, chopped
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
2 tsp. sliced green onions
1 avocado, peeled and sliced
Oil

In saucepan, combine taco mix with water; stir until dissolved. Simmer 5 minutes. Add cooked chicken and 1 cup ripe olives; simmer 5 minutes. Add cooked chicken and 1 cup ripe olives; simmer another 2 or 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, in medium skillet, fry tortillas in oil until crisp and golden brown on both sides; drain on paper towels. Heat refried beans in small saucepan. Place each crisp tortilla on individual plate. Spread beans over tortilla. Then spoon chicken-olive mixture over beans. Top with cheese, lettuce and tomatoes. For a final touch, add sour cream, onions and 1/4 cup ripe olives. Arrange avocado slices around base. Serve with taco sauce or green chili salsa, if desired. Serves 6.

BEV SCHMITT, who is in charge of the archives at the Plymouth Historical Museum, had a suggestion in the Plymouth Historical Society's November newsletter.

"Some cold and dreary winter day, when you wish you had something fun to do, come into the Museum Archives. Look through some of our old scrapbooks. You'll be surprised at what people used to put in scrapbooks.

"Spent some time looking at old newspapers on our reader. Did you know that we have all the old Plymouth Mail (forerunner of the Plymouth Observer) on microfilm? Or look through boxes of pictures. Maybe you could help me identify someone in one of these pictures.

"We just had some old pictures given to us and among them is a picture of the people who worked at the Ford Plant in 1939. Is there anyone out there who might be able to tell us who they were?"

The museum is open 1-4 p.m. Thursday, Saturday and Sunday.

TIM ALONZO of Canton Township sings the part of Max Detweiler in the Celebrants' production of "The Sound of Music."

More than 100 people auditioned for parts in the musical.

Thirty-eight singers, dancers and actors, ranging in age from 5 to 66, are in the cast. They will be backed by a 30-piece orchestra and 30 members of the Ypsilanti Community Chorus.

The Celebrants is a non-denominational theater group sponsored by Holy Trinity Chapel on Eastern Michigan University campus, Ypsilanti.

The show opened this past weekend in the old Ypsilanti High School, 210 W. Cross Street. Additional performances are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Nov. 9, 11, 16, 17 and 18. Admission is $5 for adults and $4 for students, senior citizens and children under 12. Group rates are available by calling 668-4000.

"Can you believe 'Sound of Music' opened for the first time 25 years ago on Nov. 16?"

THE THURSDAY afternoon party bridge players at the Plymouth Cultural Center will have their annual harvest luncheon this week. They are expecting about 60 regulars and guests for the bountiful buffet.

Vicky Whipple, with 6,960 points, was last Thursday's winner. Martha Sachanski came in second.

Rocks finish year with win

Forget the 3-6 record. Forget that this has been the worst football season at Plymouth Salem since 1967. Forget it.

The man has won his 100th football game.

Tom Moshimer, the man who brought the wishbone and winning football to Plymouth Salem, reached the century mark against his old buddy Harvey Heitman and Redford Union Friday night, taking a 35-22 decision.

And it was fitting that the vehicle that brought Moshimer many of his wins, the running game, brought him his 100th victory.

The Rocks used a delicate blend of off tackle runs and sweeps to offset Redford Union's massive defensive line.

Kevin Riley had a big day. He carried the ball 26 times and gained 180 yards. Brian Tiller chipped in with 66 yards in nine carries.

Riley gave the Rocks a swift 14-0 lead with touchdown runs of 24 and 20 yards in the first quarter. Both were inside runs.

Don Angel, who has shattered all rushing records at RU, kept the Panthers in contention. He scored three touchdowns on runs of 71, 21 and 69 yards. He also ran in a two-point conversion and caught a pass for another two-pointer.

RU gained 332 total yards on the night, 284 of those yards were gained on the ground by Angel. Angel has gained 1,408 yards this season, breaking Brian Macek's 1976 record of 1,260.

Leading 14-6 after a quarter, Salem scored two more before the half. Quarterback Steve Sobditch, scored from the 1 and Tiller from the 16 on an option pitch.

Angel scored in the third quarter to make it 28-14.

Then Tiller, Mr. Outside, ran around right end for 14 yards and the clinching score.

Mark Dixon was a perfect five for five on extra point tries.

The Rocks' wishbone amassed 403 total yards.

It's was a nice way to wrap up a frustrating season for the Rocks.

trating seasons... how about by winning two straight.

The Chiefs, really, were facing disaster coming into their season finale. Dennis Harvey, Rod Boyd, Mike Johnson and Scott Campbell — three running backs and a linebacker — were all out of the lineup.

Coach Rich Barr had to make some rash adjustments. He started Tony Aiken at quarterback. Dave Knapp, who had been the Chiefs' quarterback all season, got the start at halfback.

Ironically, it was Aiken who had the big day carrying the ball. The talented junior got the Chiefs on the board first with a 69-yard run.

Canton botched the snap on the extra point try, but kicker Dave Liuzzo scooped up the ball and ran it into the end zone for two points. It was going to be the Chiefs' night.

The Chiefs scored again in the first quarter on a 55-yard run by Matt Flower.

It was all the scoring the Chiefs would do. It was all they would need.

Belleville's lone score came on a 54-yard run by Bill Armstrong in the third quarter.

Canton's defense, led by Jeff Rummel, Dan Olsewski, Dwayne Bennett and Steve Boyd, kept the clamps tight on the Belleville offense.

"This could have been a much better year for us," said Barr. "A few badly-timed fumbles cost us. There were three games that I felt we definitely should have won that we lost. But, that's the way it goes. I'll say this, the kids never quit. They hung in there all year under a lot of adversity."

And the future looks bright. Aiken, who will be the Chiefs' No. 1 quarterback next year, ran for 92 of Canton's 180 total yards against Belleville. He also intercepted a pass.

"We've got a good start for next year," Barr said. "We've got a lot of players coming back and our junior varsity team went 7-2."

The Chiefs end their season with a 4-5 record.

Rocks 'D'-stroy Bentley

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Kendra Hostynski (32) muscles off a pass despite being badgered by a pair of Bulldogs, Kelly Kowalski and Michelle Schneider (on floor), Thursday night.

It was not your typical Plymouth Salem-Livonia Bentley girls basketball battle. It was more like two teams headed in opposite directions.

With the Western Lakes Conference playoffs and state tournament coming up, Salem appears to be the team peaking after pounding the slumping Bulldogs Thursday night, 50-31.

Even though Salem clinched the Lakes Division crown last week, many in the crowd expected to see another classic confrontation.

It never materialized. Bentley, which lost for the fourth straight time, was limited to a meager seven field goals by Salem's choking man-to-man defense.

"As far as this point and time of the season, the defense was sensational," said Salem coach Fred Thomann, whose team is 15-2 overall. "I thought it was a good team defensive effort."

"WE'RE RIGHT about where we want to be as far as the league (playoffs) and district championships are concerned. The mental hardness and toughness are there right now."

The Rocks also appear to be on track offensively, especially Dena Head.

The 5-foot-10 freshman led all scorers with 19 points. She netted six of her points in the second quarter as Salem opened up a 17-5 halftime lead. In the third quarter, Head notched nine points on a series of nifty drives to the hoop, giving the Rocks a commanding 31-15 advantage.

"Dena's no longer a freshman — now she's playing as a sophomore," Thomann said. "She plays with the confidence that she can score."

"But one of the neat things is that her teammates recognize when she's open."

The Rocks, thanks to the ball handling of Reggie Rojas, Fran Whitaker and Mary Beth Weast, had little trouble with Bentley's full-court press.

MEANWHILE, the team on the other side of the floor was searching for answers.

"I think the problem is that we played in a couple of tough losses and their self-confidence has gone kaput," said Bentley coach Tom Lang, whose team is 9-6 overall. "We're struggling offensively because we're not doing the things we're supposed to do. They all want to do what's right, but they're forcing up bad shots and not keeping their heads."

Senior point-guard Lonnie Payne was Bentley's only offensive threat.

girls basketball

She finished with 18 points, 12 coming from free throw line.

"I was a little surprised because I thought they (Bentley) would score a little more," Thomann said. "Maybe the one player (Marianne Bragiel) not being there hurt. They may have missed her ability to rebound."

Bragiel, the Bulldogs' center, has been out three consecutive games with the flu, according to Lang.

"We can't use that as an excuse," said the Bentley coach. "We had opportunities to score, but did not do it."

"WE WORKED very hard yesterday (in practice), but the result was not good. Something good has to happen in the next game (Tuesday at home versus Trenton). I'm as frustrated as the girls. If we could get it back together, we could go for a league title."

That's where Salem appears headed, but Thomann remains cautious.

"We're getting ready to make a run," he said. "But we're only as good as the next game."

PLY. CANTON 47, HARRISON 17: The Chiefs survived a frigid first quarter Thursday on their way to handing Farmington Harrison its 16th straight loss of the season and its 38th straight since 1983.

While Canton was hitting just three of its 14 first-quarter shots, Harrison could put up no more than two points.

The Chiefs proceeded to run away from the Hawks with a 16-4 spurt in the second quarter.

The surge was led by reserve Penny Piggott. Piggott came off the bench to score eight of her game-high 10 points in the second quarter. Beth Frigge, who scored eight on the night, added six in the second quarter.

Kathy Ross scored eight also for Canton while Lori Schauder pulled down 13 rebounds.

Jennifer Hughes and Michelle Wise each scored five for the Hawks.

The Chiefs, who have been one of the better teams in the Western Lakes the last three weeks, will open the Western Lakes league tournament against Livonia Bentley Thursday.

The Chiefs finished second in the Western Division behind Walled Lake Western with a 7-6 mark. They are 9-7 overall.

Give Troy Athens 'A' for title

Chris Bologna of Troy Athens (left) goes for the ball against Livonia Stevenson's John Drouillard during Saturday's Class A state boys soccer championship at Flint's Atwood Stadium. Athens won its second consecutive title, third in the last four years, with a 3-2 victory over the previously unbeaten Spartans. The total attendance for the Class A, B-C and D championship games was 2,401, a record. Okemos won the Class B-C crown and Allen Park Inter-City Baptist took the 'D' title.

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Bus No. 22 was a sign of good tidings as far as Tim Storch was concerned.

When the Troy Athens boys soccer coach stepped off the bus in front of Flint's Atwood Stadium, he predicted his team would get their 22nd victory of the season in the most important game of the year — the state Class A championship.

History repeated itself Saturday as the Red Hawks retained their title with a come-from-behind, 3-2 win over No. 1-ranked and previously unbeaten Livonia Stevenson.

"All year its been an uphill battle," Storch said. "We lost eight starters and everybody was bad-mouthing us. They picked us to finish third in our league before the season started."

"You don't bad-mouth the state champs."

STORCH and his title-hungry team felt they had been slighted by one of Detroit's major daily newspapers during the past week, despite the fact the Red Hawks had won two of the previous three state titles, both against Stevenson, and had carved a 78-6-3 record over the past four years.

"We likened ourselves to Rodney Dangerfield," said the Athens coach. "We wanted some respect."

The astroturf field was definitely dangerous in the early going for Athens as Stevenson bolted to an early 2-0 lead.

The Spartans' Jim Carney headed in a shot past Athens goalie Nick DiCosmo on a beautifully timed sideline throw-in from Chris Gembs.

It was less than six minutes later when Stevenson's John Gelmsi notched his 35th goal of the season, a 30-yard boot into the left-hand corner.

But Athens regrouped with 17:47 to play in the half when Mark Noffert slid a shot past Stevenson goalie Dan Millner off an indirect touch from Tony Alati.

THE RED HAWKS then knotted the count at 2 just four minutes later when sophomore Bill Smarsty poked the ball into the net on a pass from George Hagen.

The momentum gradually began to swing in Athens' favor as the second half unraveled.

With 17:20 left in the game, sweeper back Jamie Stewart saved a ball from going out of bounds in front of the Athens bench, sent a gorgeous long pass to Noffert, who crossed the ball to Hagen for what proved to be the game-winning goal.

"To be two goals down and come back was really something," said Storch. "You've got to withstand the first 20 to 25 minutes against Stevenson."

"I was definitely concerned when it was 2-0, but I was happy it was 2-2 at the half."

Stevenson coach Pete Scerri, meanwhile, felt his team let one get away. The Spartans outshot Athens, 31-16.

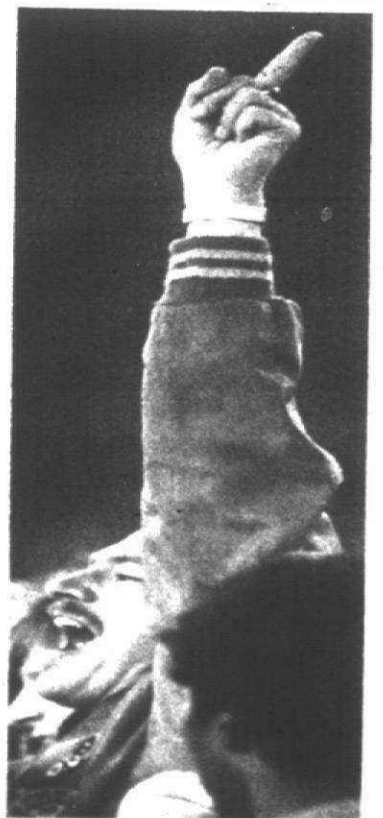

"We just couldn't make it," said the Stevenson coach. "The only trouble we have year-in and year-out is with them (Athens) and (Livonia) Churchill."

"They were beating us in the air (to the ball), and we kept the ball in the air. I don't know why. Our fullbacks weren't one step ahead."

"MAYBE WE were more fit," said Storch. "That's why we were able to beat them to the ball. We were hungry. I knew we wouldn't give it up with 20 minutes to play."

Stevenson pressured the Red Hawks in the closing minutes, but simply had too little, too late.

"I'll tell you we win with dignity and lose with honor," said Scerri, whose team finished with a 20-1-1 record. "I like the class this team has — the way they played and behaved. We dominated, but we just came up empty. What counts is the final whistle."

Athens coach Tim Storch lets the fans know who is No. 1 after his team beat Livonia Stevenson for the championship.

With several underclassmen in the starting lineup, Storch believes the Red Hawks "will always be a team to be reckoned with."

"This is definitely the most pleasing win of all," he said. "I'm keyed up." Athens' final record was 22-2-1.

Deborah Shelton and Craig Wasson become involved in a murder mystery in "Body Double."

the movies
Dan Greenberg

Macabre it is, but suspenseful it's not

Brian DePalma has a long road to go before he achieves the dramatic intensity characteristic of Hitchcock's best efforts in the macabre. If "Body Double" is any indication, he's having a bad trip and getting there was definitely not half the fun.

The basic plot idea is OK, an upbeat, updated version of the old switch-the-performer, set-up-the-witness routine, but its potential is never achieved. The bottom line is two hours of hokum interspersed with occasional fleshy sequences, one gross and gory murder and, when the audience is too bored to care, some closing excitement spoiled by nonsensical treatment.

"Body Double" never really has a chance when you consider that the hero, Jake Scully (Craig Wasson), is a B (minus) movie actor playing vampire roles, with claustrophobia no less! Makes it tough in the coffin, Bela.

Sent home early because he clutched in the coffin at a photographically crucial moment, Jake finds live-in girlfriend Carol (Barbara Crampton) in bed with we-never-learn-whom.

HIM WE DON'T even see (probably just as well) and the brief shot of Carol moaning in what is later described as "glowing" or "lustrous" makes one long for the grainy old black-and-white stag movies — at least something happened and there was a reason for feeling unclear, something "Body Double" does not provide.

Nothing much happens after Carol glows as Jake wanders through the maudlin byways of the rejected lover and unemployed actor for 30 or 40 minutes of filmtime.

To Jake's rescue, not the audience's, comes Sam (Gregg Henry) a "truly sympathetic" actor. Henceforth we'll be suspicious of helpful strangers. Sam is house-sitting in a place you wouldn't believe.

As an extra, added attraction, Sam has to go on the road and leaves Jake in charge of this incredible spaceship-like modular home straight from Alpha Centauri — or southern California. The place is large enough to accommodate Jake's claustrophobia and features a high-powered telescope so Jake becomes a Peeping Jake to watch a wealthy young beauty, Gloria (Deborah Shelton), masturbate. For a while this keeps Jake off the streets.

But not for long. Someone else is watching Gloria, an evil-looking Indian with stainless steel teeth. Although this is supposed to be at the heart of the mystery, it's mostly confusing and the mystery, once solved, is simple-minded.

WELL, ENOUGH of the plot. I don't want to tell the whole thing and be accused of ruining the story — besides DePalma, who co-authored the screenplay and wrote the story, did that some time ago.

Somewhere deep in the recesses of his mind, DePalma seems bored and determined to abuse women: Angie Dickinson in "Dressed to Kill," Sissy Spacek in "Carrie," "Body Double" is a good example of that twisted objective.

Recently DePalma was quoted to the effect that sex is terrifying. Apparently he's out to punish women for being the other party to his own psychological difficulties.

Not only does this trashy epic demean women, it's boring, too.

Diners nigrate across the river

Of the many migratory sets around here, such as Canada geese, Kirtland's warblers, various ducks and more, none is more peculiar than the early evening cross of the Detroit River to Windsor for people seeking unusual dining experiences. The phenomenon, usual a week-end affair, has been going for years and seems to be increasing in popularity.

The near-collapse of the Canadian dollar has encouraged this, of course, but no more than the excellent and varied cuisine to be found there.

There is a catch, however. Dine in Canada is not one of a diner's greatest joys. The governments adopted a protectionist attitude toward its local vinticulture and imposed taxes that drive the prices well beyond what we can get wines for in the U.S.

This is true for European wines, while California wines are so far as to be almost wholly unavailable. The poor imported fare costs high, as at many restaurants, and aird growth is much more, often in 10-40 range.

So, traditionally one goes to Canada to eat, but not to drink well.

WELL, HAPPILY, not entirely. Things are looking up lately. Recent forays into Canada have enabled me to discover two wineries, both from the Niagara-on-the-Lake area, that seem to be producing excellent wines, both from hybrid grapes but also from vinifera as well. I know nothing about these wineries except their products and the things told me by knowledgeable Canadians.

I strongly endorse what I have drunk and would try anything, within reason, they put in the bottle. Of the two, Inniskillin seems to have the better local reputation, and my contacts with the winery (wholly in the Stratford area) have been favorable, especially a 1980 gamay noir.

But by far the best bottle I have had is by the other winery, Chateau de Charmes. That was its 1983 chardonnay, a most attractive issue for which I paid $18 in Windsor (translate that to less than $14 American). Steely and wine

crisp (one does not look for fat, ripe grapes of any kind in Canada), it had delicious chardonnay character with only a hint of wood. A delightful find! And now back to Windsor dining.

Everyone who goes there, it would seem, has a favorite or two restaurants to recommend. My most recent "discovery" is Chez Vins, only a couple of blocks from the tunnel at 26 Chatham Street. Host and proprietor Mike Plunkett and his wife Karen preside over a modest storefront property that can seat no more than 50 comfortably.

STYLISH and elegant the decor is not, but it is certainly adequate, dominated as it is by a central bar. Chez Vins offers a diverse wine list, among other potables. My Chateau de Charmes was not on the list but was readily secured from Mike's private collection when he noted my interest.

The standard menu contains some eight to 10 items in the $8-$13 range, and the chalkboard specials are somewhat higher. The West Coast salmon (board special) was excellent, and the standard spinach-chicken was most memorable. Good bread and a salad of little distinction preceded the entree.

This column has strayed from wine to food as it rarely does, but the cause is a good one for those who like the feel of Windsor. Before I quote the price of a Beefsteak martini, I shall close it.
