RECYCLE OIL: The Rouge River Watershed Council continues to encourage residents who change their own oil to recycle used motor oil instead of dumping it down sewers, on empty lots, in holes on the ground, on weeds or in landfills.

Motor oil contains toxic substances that contaminate ground and surface water, enter the food chain at many points, and can be carried in the food we eat. One quart of oil will foul the taste of 250,000 gallons of water, according to the council, while one pint of used oil can create an acre-sized slick on surface water.

To recycle oil, drain it into a reusable sealable container, such as a milk container or cider jug, and take it to a participating service station who will direct you where to deposit the oil. In this area, oil will be accepted for recycling at: March Tire, 767 S. Main, Plymouth; R.C.M. Service, 27366 Plymouth Road, Plymouth Township; Canton Shell, 5640 Haggerty at Ford; K Mart, Sheldon at Ford, Canton; Meijer, Ford Road at Canton Center Road; Warren and Sheldon Mobil, Canton.

BIG CRAYON: Kim Larsen of Forrest Trail, Canton, is the proud owner of a five-foot plastic Crayola crayon.

Kim received the large crayon in recognition of her winning first prize in the Crayola National Coloring Contest. Thousands of entries representing each state in the country were submitted and judged on the criterion of creativity. "The entries reflected each child's interpretation of the contest theme, 'My Vision of the Future,'" explained Dean Rodenbough of Binney & Smith, makers of Crayola products.

Kim and other state winners remain eligible to participate in the 1988 national contest, which will award two $50,000 scholarships to grand prize winners.

TAX COUNSELING: Beginning this month Canton residents 55 and older can receive help filling out their local, state and federal tax forms as well as home heating credit and property tax rebate forms (renters also may be eligible).

Those receiving help should bring with them a copy of tax forms filled out in 1986 (if available), all statements of interest, pensions and dividends received in 1987, the total amount of Social Security received in 1987 (or the amount of your last check), amount of payments toward hospitalization other than Medicare, how much rent paid in 1987 or your 1987 tax bills, total amount of heating bills for 1987, and any tax forms which have been mailed to you.

Tax counseling will be done by appointment. To schedule an appointment, call Canton Seniors at 397-1000, Ext. 278.

NEWLY ELECTED: Kenneth Dividock of Century 21 Hartford in Canton is the 1988 treasurer of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors and Metro Multiple Listing Service. Jerome A. Delaney of Weir, Manuel, Snyder & Ranke in Plymouth will serve as immediate past president. Darlene Shemanski of Schweitzer Real Estate in Plymouth will serve as director.

CANTON VFW: Canton VFW Post 6967 meets the first Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in the Canton Township Police Station, 1120 Canton Center Road between Michigan Avenue and Cherry Hill. Anyone interested in joining should call post Quartermaster John Spencer, 397-1000.

New firefighters to cut overtime

By Diane Gale
staff writer

The hiring of six firefighters should reduce overtime payments in Canton this year.

Canton firefighters clocked 10,730 hours overtime last year costing the township $162,130.

That's why firefighters were the top four wage earners in the township in 1987.

Overtime is expected to be "cut drastically" this year by phasing in six firefighters, said Susan Kopinski, Canton deputy finance director.

Wages and fringe benefits for the six firefighters amount to $145,753. The township hired four firefighters last year.

"If they hire more people it will cut on overtime," said firefighter Harry Harrison, Canton Township Firefighter Union Local 2289.

"I haven't heard anyone complaining," he said.

A MAJOR REASON for the overtime is a minimum staffing clause in the firefighter's union contract mandating nine or more employees on duty at Canton's two fire stations.

Firefighters on sick leave are another leading reason for the excessive overtime. Because they work 24-hour shifts, any time someone is called in as a replacement, the substitute is paid time and a half.

Overtime among firefighters also was necessary because the department hasn't added a firefighter position since 1975, said John Santomauro, Canton public safety director.

Santomauro took charge of the department last year when the police and fire departments fell under the domain of the newly created public safety department.

Including the fire chief and fire captain — whose jobs are administrative and fire prevention — the department has 33 firefighters.

HARRISON SAID the union is in favor of the township hiring more firefighters and a larger department will offer more safety to the community.

"It's a benefit for the township if we have more people on duty," Harrison said. "Should a situation arise, we'll have more manpower to respond properly."

Santomauro said that the fire department provides more than fire suppression services. "We're also talking in terms of emergency medical services and ambulance services."

The second highest Canton employee wage earners last year were police officers. Overtime again boosted their salaries.

Police officers worked 1,686 hours overtime in 1987 and that time cost the township $36,627. The township expects to hire four officers this year.

Schools' staff development: '5-fold return'

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

On Feb. 19, Plymouth-Canton Superintendent John Hoben and school trustee E.J. McClendon will fly to Las Vegas for a four-day conference. McClendon is presenting a paper and speech to the American Association of School Administrators.

The district will pick up the $1,922 tab.

From March 8-14, Shirley Spaniel, executive director of elementary education, will attend a conference in Boston. Her plane ticket, lodging, meals and registration fee will total $970.

Norm Kee, assistant superintendent for employee relations, recently returned tanned and refreshed from a weeklong seminar in San Diego.

Michael Homes, assistant superintendent for instruction, has attended seven-day conferences at colleges in Colorado, California and Missouri.

CONTINUING EDUCATION is offered to teachers, also. But seldom are the programs they attend out of state.

Teachers are required to spend six hours a year at "in-service" workshops or seminars designed to enhance job skills.

Last year, the school district spent $87,592 in general fund monies for staff development. Government grants raised the total to roughly $130,000.

From July 1, 1987 through Jan. 21 of this year, the district has spent about $53,000 on staff development, said Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent for business.

Hoben estimates the district will spend about $260,000 on staff development next year. It's money well spent, in the superintendent's view.

"The positive gains are enormous in terms of attitude and achievement. It has opened a vista," said Hoben.

Hoben often brings educational consultants into the district rather than sending teachers to conferences.

"It's an attempt to bring in the best we can find in an area . . . to impact as many people as possible, as opposed to them coming back to

Board solves parents' busdriver problem

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

It took three weeks of wrangling with school officials, but Doug and Gayle Wright no longer are fearing for the safety of their 9- and 10-year-old daughters.

The Wrights told Plymouth-Canton school board members last week that their children's bus driver was forcing the girls to cross North Territorial Road before traffic came to a complete stop.

The speed limit on the two-lane highway is 50 mph.

THE WRIGHTS live on top of a hill near Weed Road and North Territorial, just west of Fox Hills Country Club.

Earlier this year, two neighbor girls were hit waiting on their driveway for their bus off North Territorial.

The accident was serious enough that both students had to be taken to the hospital, said school transportation officials.

The Wrights have told Tiffany and Kristi to wait for cars to stop before crossing the highway.

The driver insisted that they cross after it appeared that cars were slowing down and under control.

Things deteriorated to the point where "my children were crying, upset and refusing to go to school," Doug Wright told trustees.

The driver has intimidated the girls, yelling at them and making snide remarks, Wright added.

THE THREE weeks the Wrights spent trying to work out a solution with administrators were to no avail, he said.

The Wrights' requests that the driver pick up the children on their side of the road or that the driver be changed were rejected.

"I don't want one of my kids to be a statistic. It's gotten to the point where my wife is driving the girls to school, and they're ducking in the seat because they're afraid of the bus driver. Now that is ridiculous," Wright said.

The Wrights, school officials and the bus driver reached an agreement after the school board meeting.

"The driver is picking up the children on our side of the street," Gayle Wright said.

"I think she's concerned about the kids' safety. I just think she was a victim of her superiors mishandling the whole situation."

The Wrights are relieved but worried about other children for whom policy isn't being changed.

"The squeaky wheel gets oiled. Unfortunately, it's going to take more parents going through the same runaround I did to get any results. That's the bad part," said Gayle Wright.

"We were very nervous and intimidated. It was truly through frustration that we went to the board."

Spring start targeted for local $60 million complex

By Diane Gale
staff writer

A spring construction start is targeted for a 94-acre, campus-like development including offices, a hotel and a high tech research complex in Canton.

Market value of the completed project — to be developed by Frankel Associates in Troy — is tagged in excess of $60 million, said Michael Prochaska, Frankel Associates vice president of development.

The complex is on Haggerty north of Michigan Avenue and will be patterned after the acclaimed Oakland Technology Park in Oakland County.

"It's a concept with open space, roadways running throughout and preserving nature," Prochaska said. "The whole idea is basic."

Frankel offered CANTON about $8,200 an acre or $165,000 to buy 19 acres east of Haggerty between Palmer and Michigan, said Dave Nicholson, Canton's community and economic development director. The added land would be included in the project.

FRANKEL ASSOCIATES hopes to operate the proposed 200-room-plus hotel, Prochaska said. If not, the developer will sell to a major hotel chain. Frankel Associates operates Somerset Inn in Troy and the Holiday Inn Hotel in Knoxville, Tenn.

The project is still in the preliminary stages, Prochaska said, and the high tech research center will include "several buildings one or two stories high."

3 local residents lauded for special spirit

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Lessons of courage and tenacity are taught on a daily basis by three Canton residents who refuse to accept defeat despite physical handicaps.

The three were named Canton's 1987 Winners of the Year for proving that no matter how difficult one's life may seem there's no limit to goals and accomplishments.

They were honored by Supervisor James Baskie at Tuesday's board of trustees meeting for their contributions to the betterment of the community.

Home, shared home

Plan offers housing solutions

By Diane Gale
staff writer

You're tired of living alone and need help making mortgage payments but you don't want to open your doors to a stranger? Maybe you can't afford rent payments and you want to do house chores to defray costs. The Home Share program introduces people in both situations and eliminates the problem.

It works like this: Providers are people willing to share their homes. Seekers need a place to live at a reasonable rate.

COUNSELORS at the Information Center Inc., a non-profit private organization, screen providers and seekers to match similar interests, life styles and needs. The service is free. And rent arrangements are agreed upon by the individuals.

An 80-year-old Redford woman was matched with a 20-year-old student doing research work at Sinai Hospital. He moved out and a 23-year-old woman referred to by Home Share plans to move in next month, said Audrey Bliski, Home Share counselor.

Another success story Bliski cites is a woman, 74, who is renting to a 23-year-old woman who vacuums in lieu of lower rent payments. Applicants must pass rigorous personal, business and health checks, said Kay Ikola, executive director of Information Center Inc. The background investigation even includes a written statement from a physician verifying the applicant doesn't have a contagious disease.

APPLICANTS MUST be an adult and emotionally and physically able to live independently. Home Services counselors don't relate the information collected to the individuals they believe would make a good match. Instead they contact the parties and say they know of someone with whom they might comfortably live. Typical providers are widowed, female, senior citizens between ages 70 and 80. Ikola said. Typical seekers are females between ages 35 to 55.

People who have been matched say the greatest benefit is the companionship. Ikola said. "Initially they may go into it for financial reasons but a real benefit is the companionship and the secure feeling that someone is there. Or that someone knows that you're going out and will wonder if you have returned."

Bliski said she recently interviewed a 68-year-old woman, who said she was tired of working. "She feels that she could quit if someone shares her home. Sometimes it's a young mother with a child and they've just gone through a divorce and they'd like to bring someone in who can help. Many people call who are in their 70s and would like companionship and maybe a little financial aid."

For more information about the program call 282-7171.

Home program faces closing of its doors

The Information Center Inc. serves Livonia, Canton, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Redford, Westland and Garden City, as well as downriver communities.

The program could shut down by September for lack of money, according to Kay Ikola, executive director of The Information Center. Ikola is appealing to municipal officials for support. She suggests the money come from federal block grants allocated to local governments. Ikola is requesting annual payments of $725 from communities with 10,000 to 25,000 residents; $975 from communities with 25,000 to 50,000 residents and $1,225 from communities with more than 50,000 residents. The goal is to raise $27,000 annually for the program that costs $35,000 to run.

Kids learn to reach out, touch someone for help

Special training on the use of the telephone during an emergency was given to Plymouth-Canton elementary pupils last week.

A team of trainers from AT&T presented the special program, "Teach-a-Child," Thursday at Fiegel Elementary School on Joy east of I-275.

Telephone operators often hear children on the line crying or screaming hysterically, not knowing what to say or do because they are so frightened, explained Paula Wentzel, operators group manager at the AT&T long-distance operators services center on Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth.

Valerie Ernst, an operator for AT&T, works with Michelle Anger on how to use the telephone if a real emergency occurred.

point, will be adjacent to Canton Hill's subdivision. The offices will act as a buffer between the subdivision and other developments in the complex, Prochaska said.

"We want to keep a low profile back here," said Prochaska, who last year talked to homeowners who said they were opposed to an apartment complex. The subdivision has single-family homes mostly on one-acre lots and valued in excess of $150,000, Nicholson said. "Frankel assured them he didn't want to build an apartment complex."

important to instruct these young children on the proper use of the telephone, especially when there would be a need for an emergency agency," said Wentzel. "Therefore, the 'Teach-a-Child' program came into effect."

WHEN THE IDEA of "Teach-a-Child" was first introduced AT&T invited kindergarten and first grade classes to visit its office to observe the operators at work, after which the presentation was made.

"However, after divestiture our format changed," said Anna Gabriel of the public relations office of AT&T. "We now respond only to requests from the schools in the area to visit the classrooms and do our "Teach-a-Child" program there." The team generally works in groups of two or three, depending on the size of the class. The operators bring along headsets and telephones. "We try to have a rotary type phone and also touch tone and push button sets to acquaint the youngsters with the different type of telephones they might use," said Wentzel.

"After introducing ourselves to the children and teachers we were ready to start the program. 'We began by asking the children if they knew what an emergency was. To help them understand we related stories of situations that might come up in their day to day activities. We wanted them to be aware of what could happen and how they could help. We instructed them on what information the operator would need such as name, address, street name, type of emergency and so on.' THE CHILDREN then role play some emergency situations with the operators. Each child was asked to come up and dial or press '0' to reach the operator. They then were asked to relate their emergency and the operator responded just as she would in a real situation. 'The children were very enthusiastic and imaginative,' said Wentzel. Before ending the program, the operators cautioned the children about the importance of not playing on the phone or reporting false emergencies. All children were given grab bags containing AT&T promotional items such as coloring books depicting some emergency situations, crayons, pencils, stickers, etc. Also included were some pamphlets supplied by Childrens Hospital Poison Control Center and a newsletter on child protection.

O'Neill irked by proposed adult ed fund cuts

By Leonard Poger
Staff writer

The Wayne Westland school superintendent is upset that Gov. James Blanchard is planning to restrict state funds for local adult education programs without looking at other areas of public education support.

"I object to the governor taking one segment out of the education budget that is cost-effective and pulling it out," said Dennis O'Neill, superintendent of Wayne Westland Community Schools, which includes a portion of Canton.

At the same time, Blanchard leaves the "very expensive" special education programs alone, the superintendent said.

O'Neill stressed that he objects to the governor taking one segment out and not addressing other areas.

Blanchard said last week that he wants state funding of adult education programs in local school districts tied to job training.

His aides said the governor is concerned that the state is paying out $200 million a year and that the additional adult education enrollment linked with the job training program Blanchard announced in his State of the State address nearly two weeks ago.

The governor's comments come after Wayne Westland and many other suburban school districts aggressively stepped up their adult education recruitment and expanded their programs to get more state aid, partly based on the number of students in a district.

In SOME suburban districts, the additional adult education enrollment helped offset K-12 enrollment losses. Without those extra students, the districts would have lost millions of dollars in state aid.

In reacting to Blanchard's comments on adult education, O'Neill added that he also objects to the governor discussing more restrictive controls on state aid when it fails to pay a full cost of mandated programs as required by the Headlee Amendment to the state constitution.

"There is no doubt that the Wayne Westland adult education program is cost effective and provides educational benefits," he added and even less costly than some senior high school programs.

O'Neill added that he also objects to the governor discussing more restrictive controls on state aid when it fails to pay the full cost of mandated programs as required by the Headlee Amendment to the state constitution.

While O'Neill doesn't think Blanchard's latest proposal "will fly," he insists that there is still an educational need for adults enrolling in classes to get their high school diplomas.

A Wayne County citizens grand jury agreed to hear testimony in that dispute to determine if any laws were broken.

disseminate the information," said Hoben.

IN SERVICE PROGRAMS are chosen only if they're "steeped in research," Hoben added.

Of late, in services have dealt with thinking skills, intelligence, how students learn and the psychology of performance.

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools is presenting a reading symposium March 6-7 in the Novi Hilton Hotel. Expected to attend are representatives from school districts all over the state.

Plymouth-Canton staffers regularly are asked to speak at programs sponsored by others, Hoben said.

"I've tried to expose my people to these areas so that they can develop their own teaching style and strategies of thinking," Hoben said.

"The reason I'm so hot on this is because we can infuse these things into the teaching program without changing our curriculum."

TOM COTNER, computer teacher at Plymouth Salem High School, said Hoben "is right, if you look at the results we've got."

"Overall, they certainly have spent a considerable amount of money on staff development," said Cotner, who coached Salem's computer team to second place in state competition last fall.

"Certainly part of that success is due to the district's support of the whole program."

Cotner has been a speaker at conferences hosted by the Michigan Association of Computer Users in Learning.

Ron Carlson, computer instructor at Canton, just completed a term as president of MACUL.

"The district made it possible for me to attend a large number of conferences throughout the state. It helped to get Plymouth's name around the state and boost morale."

Cotner was an officer with the teachers' union in the early 1980s when the Plymouth-Canton Education Association went on strike.

Teachers have to keep current if they're going to be any good in an awful lot of areas," Cotner said.

The district allows teachers a lot of flexibility in choosing the in-services they attend, "and I think it's made a lot of difference in skills and morale."

"Their attitude towards people wasn't always the best but things have changed for the better."

ONLY FOR the last two years has the district budgeted funds for staff development, Homes said. He says it was a positive step.

Teaching is a very lonely occupation. Close the door and you're on your own. There's little time available for professionals to spend with each other. You have to make time for that to happen, to share successes, failures, and dialogue somewhere in the day.

"For the money given, you get a five-fold return," said Homes.

"If you look at the money they put into personnel, we don't come anywhere near it."

State job training aid to be 'market driven'

Educational level of Michigan's workforce is not keeping pace

By Tim Richard
Staff writer

Three dozen men and women with black TAW jackets shook the rotunda of the State Capitol in Lansing with their chant: "We want jobs — NOW!"

They're mad. The governor's just announced that he got no notice from GM about the plant layoffs, said Joe Forbes last week as people waited for the State of the State address.

Now director of Gov. James Blanchard's job training programs, Forbes, a former state representative from Southfield and Oak Park, was planning to hear the speech from his old floor leader's desk in the House chamber although he already knew what was in the 23-minute address.

"WE'RE WORKING on a $100-million revolving fund," Forbes said. "Banks would make loans to business for job training. The state would process the loans and pay the interest."

Elizabeth Howe — one-time Birmingham Executive reporter — Benav personal executive and Democratic publicist and now director of the state Labor Department — joined the conversation.

"It's market-driven. Your boss,"

Phil Power, had a lot to say about it. "Howe said Power is chairman of Suburban Communications Corp. and a member of the governor's advisory group on job training.

By "market-driven," Howe meant that training needs would be decided by the ultimate users — "It's up to the employers who do the hiring."

BLANCHARD'S speech called the skills fund "the largest state initiative in America to help our businesses provide Michigan workers with new skills."

The reasoning, according to a briefing paper, goes like this: "Some 90 percent of people who will be in Michigan's work force by the year 2000 already are in jobs. Improving public education won't help this 'already working majority.'"

Current state efforts led by Forbes, Howe and the Department of Education can assist only 200 to 300 firms a year.

The skills fund will offer interest-free loans to Michigan businesses to retrain their employees for new technology. Estimated capacity: 250,000 workers in state-funded training over the next five years.

Established businesses will be able to borrow up to $1,000 for each worker to be retrained. A firm would be limited to $100,000.

The companies could use whatever training providers they deem appropriate, but it's expected they will contract through public education institutions, particularly community colleges.

"I APPLAUD the job training program he's proposed," said Republican state Sen. R. Robert Geake of Northville.

"We're going to have to look carefully at the details, but this kind of with the elimination of the confusion in current job-training programs is just what we need to get people and our state — back on their feet," Geake said in a news statement.

Republican lawmakers applauded many ideas in Blanchard's blueprint for 1988, particularly ones which used private resources and responded to the market.

THE ADMINISTRATION'S effort had been more than a year in the works.

Other items in the job skills chapter:

- Blanchard's office of job training (Forbes) will join GM and the L'AW in funding retraining programs, particularly in the I-75 corridor communities.
- Forbes' office will "launch a new rapid response approach to assist when auto plants are shut down or downsized — to help workers move rapidly toward new employment — based on our current pilot efforts which used plant-based labor-management committees to organize the response."
- The state will "promote employee ownership by providing firms and workers with information they need to decide whether employee ownership will work for them."

Drug unit targets 'untouchable' dealers

By Wayne Peal
Staff writer

Call them the new Untouchables. A 12-member undercover police unit will soon begin bringing the metropolitan area to bring down Michigan's drug kingpins.

Based in Livonia, the law enforcement team will step up the war on drug dealers in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Livingston, Monroe and Wash-tawen counties.

The group's official name is SEMCO — Southeast Michigan Conspiracy Investigative Organization. But it has much in common with the Untouchables, famous crime-busters of 1920s Chicago.

"It's a new effort to get drug kingpins, the people who never get their hands dirty," Gov. James Blanchard said Thursday in announcing the group's formation.

LIKE THE Untouchables, the goal is to bring down big-time racketeers, not street dealers.

Also like the real Untouchables — not the glamorized movie and television versions — the group will rely on careful investigation rather than gun-blazing car chases to bring in its prey.

It will investigate "big-time importers with no visible means of legal incomes," Blanchard said.

MEMBERS will begin pouring over suspected dealers' tax and financial records, keeping in mind that notorious 1920s mobster Al Capone was brought to justice on tax evasion charges.

"There's going to be a lot of flat-foot gumshoe police work," State Police Capt. Richard Meloche said.

Meloche is commanding officer of the state police Livonia Criminal Investigation Section, the unit's home base.

SEMCO is the brainchild of the Southeast Michigan Chiefs of Police. The chief suggested the unit's creation last spring.

SEMCO will receive a $748,584 federal grant to finance its operations. Officers will be drawn from state police posts, as well as local and county departments.

AREA LAW enforcement officials said they backed the new unit.

"I think (drug dealing) is a bigger problem than we realize," Oakland County Sheriff John Nichols said. "Part of the problem is that we don't have enough operatives in the field."

Suburban drug dealers and users are particularly difficult to arrest, Nichols said.

"Our people (in Oakland County) can get narcotics without having to steal to get them," Nichols said. "That makes it that much harder to get arrests."

Detroit's success in closing its crack houses could inadvertently increase the drug problem in the suburbs, Livonia Police Chief William Crayk said.

"We've seen drugs coming out into the suburbs, we've seen arrests in Sterling Heights," Crayk said. "We have to be alert. As Detroit closes its crack houses, they could be coming out here. I suppose it's just a matter of time before the manufacturing comes out here too."

Local investigations will continue, Crayk said. Livonia's eight-officer investigative unit is one of the area's largest.

The problem is, we haven't had the ability to go after the high-level dealers," Crayk said.

Until now, police said those criminals have been untouchable.

"It's a new effort to get drug kingpins."

— Gov. James Blanchard

Suburban judges help Detroit

Each day one or two suburban district judges travel to Detroit to help the city with its crack cocaine case-load.

"The visitors hear general docket cases so Detroit district judges can hear the drug docket," said Herbert D. Levitt, regional administrator of the state Supreme Court.

"The drug docket is up 130 percent since May," he said. Chief Judge Adam Shakoor of the 36th District Court instituted a judicial awareness program when Wayne County Prosecutor John O'Hair asked for more judges.

Area judges from Oakland County and their assigned dates in Detroit are: Gus Cifelli of the 48th Birmingham-Bloomfield District, Jan. 28; Bernard Friedman, 48th, March 29; Edward Sosnick, 48th, April 7; Michael Hand, 47th (Farmington) District, March 8 and April 5; Margaret Schaeffer, 47th, March 15; Susan Moiseev, 46th (Southfield) District, April 6; Stephen Cooper, 46th, April 27; and Bryan Levy, 46th, March 22.

Western Wayne County judges include: Robert Brzezinski, 16th (Livonia) District, Feb. 19; March 4 and April 8; Gail McKnight, 18th (Westland) District, Richard Hammer, 21st (Garden City) District, Feb. 5, March 17 and April 20; John MacDonald, 35th (Plymouth-Canton) District, Jan. 28 and April 19; and James Garber, 35th, Feb. 12 and March 1.

District courts handle pre-trial examinations in criminal cases, minor criminal cases, traffic cases and minor civil lawsuits.

ARE THERE EXERCISES TO HELP ARTHRITIS?

In arthritis, physical activity is limited because attempts at sustained effort bring on intolerable joint pain. Your muscles may be weak because you cannot give them the activity and stress that they need to become vigorous.

Furthermore, arthritis can involve muscle tendons. In such instances, attempts to engage inflamed tendons in energetic activity can lead to harm. Rupture of the tendon at its point of attachment to bone may occur, resulting in loss of use, or impaired mobility, of the nearby joint.

However, there is possibly a greater danger to your health by limiting activity. The expectation that extensive rest will allow painful joints and muscles to heal has no support from experience. Too little activity causes muscle fibers to shrink, and joints to lose their mobility.

What the body needs is repetitive and slow stretching of muscles, ideally done when you are warm. This activity promotes the vitality of muscles while avoiding undue strain, and permits joints to move without increasing pressure on their inflamed surfaces.

Diet Pills Sweeping U.S.

Doctors Invent 'Lazy Way' to Lose Weight

New 'Fat Magnet' Diet Pill Guarantees Fast Weight Loss

BEVERLY HILLS, CA (Special)—An amazing new weight loss pill called "fat magnet" has recently been developed and perfected by two prominent doctors at a world famous hospital in Los Angeles that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose fat by simply taking their tested and proven new pill.

No Dieting—Eat Normally

Best of all, "you can continue to eat all of your favorite foods and you don't have to change your normal eating habits. You will start losing fat from the very first day, until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

There has never been anything like it before. It is a totally new major medical breakthrough for weight loss (worldwide patent pending).

Flushes Fat Out of Body

The new pill is appropriately called the "fat magnet" because it breaks into thousands of particles, each acting like a tiny magnet, "attracting" and trapping many times its size in fat particles. Then, all that trapped fat is naturally "flushed" right out of your body because it cannot be digested.

Within 2 days you will notice a change in the color of your stool as the fat particles are being eliminated.

"Pills Do All the Work"

According to the doctors, the fat magnet pills do all the work while you quickly lose fat with no starvation diet menus to follow, no calorie counting, no exercising, and no hunger pangs. It is 100% safe. You simply take the pills with a glass of water before meals.

The fat-magnet pills have just been offered to the American public and are already sweeping the country with record sales and reports of dramatic weight loss. It's the "lazy way" to lose weight for people who enjoy eating.

Now Available to Public

If you need to lose 20, 50, 100 pounds or more, you can order your supply of these new highly successful fat-magnet pills (now available from the doctor's exclusive manufacturer by sending $20 for a 90 pill supply (+$2 handling), or $35 for a 180 pill supply (+$3 handling), cash, check or money order to: Fat-Magnet, 9016 Wilshire Blvd., Dept. W 24, Beverly Hills, CA 90211. (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not 100% satisfied.) Visa, MasterCard and American Express OK. (Send card number, expire date, and signature.) Michigan's health care industry is "retooling" to meet changing consumer demand but problems could make health care more difficult to obtain, a key industry spokesman said.

"We're in a situation now that I call hospitals at risk," Spencer Johnson, Michigan Hospital Association president, said Thursday in a forum before Observer/Eccentric editors.

A lack of consensus on where the industry should be headed could make health care more difficult to obtain for many state residents, Johnson said.

Reorganizing hospital services by region, Johnson said, is the best way to assure Michigan residents receive adequate medical care into the next century and beyond.

HOSPITAL MERGERS and consolidations could become more commonplace, Johnson predicted, as health care providers seek more cost-efficient services.

Retooling, Johnson said, would bring about "a new product." That product, he speculated, could involve community or regional health-care agencies that would provide emergency services, long-term care, nursing homes and a preferred physicians organization or health maintenance organization under one banner.

For that to become a reality, he added, the industry needs major changes in the way hospital services are regulated throughout Michigan.

The state's certificate-of-need system, which regulates hospital expansion, is too restrictive and needs replacement, Johnson said.

Currently, hospitals must seek Michigan Department of Health approval for new equipment or construction projects costing more than $150,000. That figure, Johnson said, is far too low. In most other states, government regulates only projects of $1 million or more, according to the MHA.

Other problems Michigan hospitals face, according to Johnson, include:

- Heavy malpractice damage judgments, particularly in Southeastern Michigan.
- A nursing shortage.
- A lack of hospital insurance agencies willing to do business in Michigan, due in part to high malpractice awards.

Disagreement among hospital and government officials and consumers contributes to the problems, Johnson said.

"Everyone is one-dimensional," he said. "If I'm a consumer, cost is my problem. If I'm a doctor, malpractice is my problem. If I'm a public official, it's something else."

Rather than being isolated instances, Johnson said, Michigan's health care problems are interrelated.

Hospitals have entered into a new age of price competition, prompted by cutbacks in government health-care programs and price-shopping by industrial providers.

"WE HAVE a competitive environment brought about by the fact that everyone who reimburses for health care is trying to cut back on their costs," Johnson said.

Major industrial providers, like the Big 3 automakers, are only interested in meeting their workers' medical needs, he added.

"They don't want to pay for indigent care," Johnson said. "They don't want to pay for medical education."

At the same time, he added, hospitals are finding it increasingly difficult to swallow health-care costs for uninsured patients.

Because of increased competition, Johnson said, hospitals are hesitant to raise costs for insured patients to meet the needs of indigents and other uninsured patients.

The days of "frying the fat to cook the lean" could soon be over, Johnson said.

The MHA is a lobbying organization that represents 200 hospitals statewide, Johnson said. Of member hospitals, 95 contain 100 beds or more, while 105 are small, primarily rural, hospitals with under 100 beds.

Schoolcraft to honor distinguished alumni

Schoolcraft College seeks nominees for its 1988 distinguished Alumni Award.

Schoolcraft honors alumni who have distinguished themselves in personal, professional or community activities. The award is presented during spring commencement ceremonies.

Last year's co-recipients were banker Daniel Wollschlager and physician Steven Niergarth.

Nominees must have earned at least 30 credit hours at Schoolcraft.

The nominating deadline is Friday, Feb. 26. Nomination forms are available at the college Office of Institutional Advancement, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. Additional information is available by calling 591-6400.

The only thing a kid should be getting in school is smarter.

Unfortunately, what too many of them are getting instead is drugs. With your help, it doesn't have to be this way.

There is a program called "Schools Without Drugs: The Challenge" that can help you deal with the drug problem in your community or school.

Find out about it. The smarter you are about what works against drugs, the better chance our kids will understand how dumb it is to take them.

The Lifetime Convertible ARM

Standard Federal Bank introduces the Adjustable Rate Mortgage that lets you convert to a Fixed-Rate Loan anytime during the life of the loan.

A convertible adjustable rate mortgage provides a great way to get low initial interest rates and low initial monthly payments when buying a home. And if there comes a time you'd like to convert to a fixed-rate mortgage, you can. Other convertible ARMs put time limitations on when you can convert to fixed rates. What is unique about all our Lifetime Convertible ARMs is that you can convert anytime during the life of the loan!

What's more, with our Lifetime Convertible ARM, as with all of our mortgage loan programs, you can use our ExpressLoan® service to process and close your loan within 15 days.

So, contact any Standard Federal branch office and learn more about our exclusive Lifetime Convertible ARM.

15-Year ARM
7.50%
Annual Interest

9.94%
Annual Percentage Rate*

* All annual percentage rates are calculated based on a 2% loan discount for a loan amount of $50,000, a 20% downpayment, and monthly payments and interest payments of $461.51 for the 15 year loan. The estimated annual percentage rate is subject to increase or decrease on an annual basis after the loan is closed based on the formula set forth in the loan contract. The initial interest rate may not correspond to the formula. There is a 2% annual and 6% lifetime interest rate cap on all adjustable rate mortgage loans. Conversion is subject to certain conditions provided in the loan contract.

Dorm cooking quells hunger

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Frying an egg on a hot iron is one of the innovative ways for a college student to prepare a snack without violating house rules about cooking meals in the dormitory. Here a student tries out the technique in his dorm on the Oakland University campus in Rochester Hills.

Beluga caviar is the finest

With all the recent hoopla about Soviet-American arms reduction and treaties, did you read an interesting tidbit about the case of caviar Gorbachev gave Reagan?

True Caspian Sea caviar with the Russian moniker sells in the United States for more than $290 per pound, and a case of caviar comes in at more than 10 pounds. That totals about $3,000 worth of fish eggs, a whopping $4 per teaspoon. Of the caviar that arrives in North America, 95 percent is Iranian, and a mere five percent is Russian.

With all due respect to the up-and-coming American caviar market, anyone who has sampled true Sevruga or Beluga caviar has, to put it simply, indulged in one of life's better moments.

Ah, but with the Caspian Sea evaporating at an alarming rate and forming vast salt plains, the troubled Caspian sturgeons are disappearing faster than ice cream cones in July.

STURGEON ARE generous, with the female fish providing a full 20 percent of her weight in precious roe, and both sexes offering flesh that, when smoked, is sought after throughout the world. The sturgeon are then taken to a processing plant. There the roe (eggs) are removed rapidly, from belly to tin, in a series of delicate operations that takes 20 minutes.

After the fish is opened, the roe is removed and washed carefully in salt water. Ideally, caviar should contain little salt but without it, the caviar would go bad before reaching the market place.

Malassol caviar (the name indicates that a minimum of salt has been added) contains 4-5-percent salt. For the North American market, salt is the only preservative allowed. Caviar prepared for European markets may taste sweeter because borax can be substituted for a portion of the salt as a preservative.

UNFORTUNATELY, EVEN the most ardent devotee may never have the opportunity to taste the rarest of all caviar, the golden roe of the sterlet sturgeon, said to be reserved for the Kremlin. Only about 40 pounds of sterlet is produced annually, and it, of course, is priceless.

Yours truly has sampled fresh caviar twice in my career, and both times it was unadorned and downed with a simple jolt of icy-cold vodka. Of course, this procedure has a tendency to mask the taste buds after a few tries.

Once opened, caviar should be consumed immediately or kept tightly sealed for at most two days in the fridge. Try it mixed into a baked potato or swirled into cream cheese and spread on a plain bagel. Tossed with fresh steamed pasta and a light cream sauce, it is sheer delight.

CAVIAR THIMBLES

- 1 loaf unsliced white bread
- ½ cup margarine, melted
- 8 oz. swiss cheese
- 6 oz. caviar

Trim all crusts from the bread and cut into 1-inch cubes. Hollow out the center of the cubes and brush or dip all surfaces in melted margarine. Fill cavity with tiny snips of swiss cheese. Arrange on a cookie sheet and bake at 325° until golden brown, about 10 minutes. Cool, then just before serving, top each with a tiny spoonful of caviar.

CAVIAR A LA SCALORA

- 1 large cucumber
- 8 oz. cream cheese
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 tbsp. Worcestershire
- 3 tbsp. chopped chives
- 2 hard cooked eggs, seived
- 1 large jar caviar

Cut cucumber in half. Remove the skin and seeds from half and chop fine. Set other half aside. Combine cream cheese, sour cream, Worcestershire sauce and 1 teaspoon of lemon juice. Mix well. Place in a serving dish 9 inches wide and at least 1 inch deep. Slice the other half of the cucumber, unpeeled and scored with fork tines. Arrange the slices around the edge of the serving dish, standing if possible. Sprinkle chives around the edges of the serving dish close to the sliced cucumber. Place a small strip of sieved eggs next to the chives. In the center, spread a jar of caviar and sprinkle with 1 tablespoon of lemon juice. Serve with crackers or cucumber slices.

Be creative with use of kitchen appliances

By Carolyn DeMarco
staff writer

Lois Thieleke starts every talk on cooking in dormitory rooms with this disclaimer, "Don't do it."

- Don't cook in your dorm room unless:
- You're already using your meal ticket to the fullest.
 - Burger King and Taco Bell are not within walking distance.
 - Your money and your stomach are both on low.
 - You're sick of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches.
 - You don't have a snack bar or community kitchen available.
 - Your handbook and/or resident adviser approve.

Thieleke, a home economist with the Michigan State University extension service in Pontiac, spends most of her time showing food stamp recipients how to get the most from their food budget and maximize their skills by cooking from scratch.

She also gives lectures to groups on request. In her repertoire of topics: "Little Meals for Little Kids," "Nutrition in the Fast Lane," "Healthy Eating After the Holidays," and "Cooking in the Dorm."

She recently spoke about dorm cooking to a West Bloomfield High School group of predominantly male juniors and seniors in a Survival Skills class aimed at those who will be living on their own after graduation.

While she advised against turning the dorm room into a kitchen, as the mother of four who attended college, she recognizes that it's done anyway and it might as well be done right.

Remember, she told the class, there are four parts to the process — grocery shopping, preparation, cooking and cleaning. "This is not just fun and games, especially when it comes to the cleanup. Maybe you ought to stick with crackers and cheese, the kind of cheese that can be kept on a shelf."

It helps if you have a compact refrigerator, and many dorms now rent them to students. When it comes to other equipment, she said, remember the six "somethings."

- something to cook on,
- something to cook in,
- something to cook with,
- something to put it in,
- something to eat it with,
- something to clean with.

Your cooking plans will fit the appliance on hand, Thieleke said. Microwave ovens are usually no-nos in dorms, so you'll have to improvise and be creative with those approved in your dorm.

Got a toaster oven? You can make pizzas or at least a reasonable facsimile using bagels, refrigerator biscuits or English muffins — or in desperation even soda crackers — as a crust.

Less creative? Make yourself some toast. More adventurous? Make a meal in a peel kind of a deal, with a baked potato and toppings. Foods can be baked in a toaster oven just as they can in a regular oven.

You can make a baked casserole in a toaster oven by combining only four ingredients — meat or fish; noodles, rice or macaroni; a vegetable, and a can of soup.

If you have no toaster oven but do have a

— Lois Thieleke
home economist

hot plate, you can still create the four-ingredient meal in a saucepan.

Other saucepan/hot plate suggestions: heat hot dogs, warm soups and other canned foods, make hot cereals, and cook spaghetti, macaroni or rice. You can also use the appliance combination for melting cheese sauce, poaching or hardboiling eggs.

Use a hotplate and skillet for preparing tacos, French toast, omelets, grilled cheese sandwiches, pancakes and fried potatoes.

If you're lucky enough to have an electric skillet — approved, of course — you can adapt all the above ideas, and add chop suey, sloppy joes, hamburgers and biscuits.

Stuck with just a hot pot? It's no surprise that you can still enjoy some instant drinks as hot chocolate, coffee, tea and soups, but you can also cook hot dogs or make hot cereal.

Everyone knows the value of an electric popcorn popper in creating a filling, nutritious — and, not to mention, delicious — popcorn snack. Sprinkle on Parmesan cheese or chili seasoning for a different taste. But did you know the base of a dome popper (not the hot air cooker) can also be used to fry an egg or grill a cheese sandwich. Be careful, though, there is no heat control.

Now for the bad news. Closet cookers also must be cleaners. There is no mom in the dorm to clean up after mess makers and mold grows quickly. "Cooking time after time on leftover crud is not healthy," Thieleke said.

To minimize the cleaning chores, use a minimum of equipment — eat from the pan or use paper plates. You'll still need a basic supply of utensils. Among them:

- can opener,
- pancake turner or spatula,
- large mixing spoon,
- sharp knife,
- flatware,
- paper plates,
- mugs,
- aluminum foil,
- measuring cups,
- dishwashing detergent.

In addition, you may want an empty quart-size mayonnaise jar to shake/mix pancake batter and prepare instant drinks, milk shakes and fruit juices from frozen concentrate.

Fertile minds will come up with their own creative ideas and substitutions, Thieleke said. She has heard of students frying eggs on steam irons and cooking bacon with curling irons.

These recipes may provide student aid

Survival means adapting special skills and equipment for existence. It is no different when it comes to survival cooking in the dormitory, said MSU extension home economist Lois Thieleke. She offers these recipe adaptations:

TOASTER OVEN PIZZA SNACKS

- 1 can pizza sauce or tomato sauce
- 1 can refrigerator biscuits, English muffins, bagels or soda crackers
- shredded cheese, sliced hot dogs or other toppings
- oregano, garlic salt

Spoon sauce on baked biscuits or other "crust." Sprinkle with cheese. Top with spices. Place in toaster oven until cheese melts. Watch closely so they don't burn.

FOUR INGREDIENT CASSEROLE

- Rice, noodles or macaroni cooked according to package directions
- 1 can tuna, chicken or luncheon meat or 1 pound browned ground beef
- 1 can, drained, or 1 small box, frozen, of green beans, lima beans, peas, corn, carrots or broccoli
- ½ cup milk with 1 can cream of tomato, mushroom, celery or chicken soup
- 1 teaspoon salt

Mix all ingredients in a saucepan and heat on a hot plate. Or bake in a greased oven dish in toaster oven. Top with cracker or toast crumbs, dry cereal or crushed potato chips.

CHILI

- 1 pound hamburger or ground turkey
- 2 small onions, chopped
- 2 tablespoons chili powder
- 1 cup water
- 2½ cups canned tomatoes
- 1½ cups canned kidney beans
- salt and pepper to taste

Cook hamburger, onion, chili powder and salt until meat is brown. Add tomatoes, beans and water. Cook on low for one hour. Makes approximately seven cups.

MAYONNAISE JAR ORANGE JULIUS

- 1 small can frozen orange juice
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup water
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 8 ice cubes

Pour all ingredients into mayonnaise jar. Store in refrigerator.

CHEESE SAUCE

- 4 tablespoons margarine
- ¼ cup flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1½ cups processed cheese, cut into cubes

Melt margarine in a saucepan. Remove from hot plate. Add flour, stir until smooth. Add milk to flour mixture a little at a time. Stir until there are no lumps. Cook sauce over medium heat until thick, stirring constantly. Cut cheese in small pieces and add to sauce. Stir until cheese is melted. Pour over baked potatoes, rice, spaghetti, broccoli or nacho chips.

Italian Bean and Sausage Soup may be made quickly in the microwave oven. Canned beans, Italian sausage and colorful vegetables combine for an easily prepared meal-in-a-bowl.

Quick-fix soups feature beans

The microwave oven is today's kitchen essential. Now in nearly 70 percent of American homes, it's no longer just a gadget for reheating. Today's time-pressed cooks find it irreplaceable for streamlining long-cooking favorites.

Soups that once took hours to simmer now reach the table in minutes. By combining convenience foods with microwave speed, these full-flavored favorites can be ready to serve in short order.

The following quick-fix soups team fresh, frozen and canned ingredients with vivid seasonings for simmered-all-day flavor.

- ITALIAN BEAN AND SAUSAGE SOUP
 3/4 lb. Italian sausage, casing removed, finely crumbled
 2 cups beef broth
 1 1/2 oz. can tomatoes, cut into pieces
 1 green bell pepper, cut into 1 inch strips
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1/2 teaspoon Italian seasoning
 1 1/2 oz. can pork and beans, drained
 1/2 lb. pasteurized process cheese spread, cubed

Place sausage in 3-quart microwaveable casserole, cover with waxed paper. Microwave at High for 3 minutes, stirring halfway through cooking. Drain drippings, set sausage aside. Using same casserole, combine beef broth, tomatoes, green pepper, onion, garlic and Italian seasoning. Cover, microwave at High for 15-17 minutes, stirring every 5 minutes. Add reserved sausage and beans. Microwave at High for 4-5 minutes, or until vegetables are tender, add parsley. Serve with grated parmesan cheese, if desired.

- CHEESY BEAN AND VEGETABLE CHOWDER
 3 cups frozen vegetable medley of broccoli, cauliflower and carrots
 1 teaspoon onion powder
 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
 2 cups milk
 1 1/2 oz. can pork and beans, drained
 1/2 lb. pasteurized process cheese spread, cubed

Combine vegetables, seasonings and milk in a 2-quart microwaveable casserole. Microwave at High 7 minutes, stirring once after 4 minutes. Stir in beans and cheese. Microwave at High for 5-6 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Stir halfway through cooking and again before serving. Six 1 cup servings.

Which choice is best for light, low-fat food?

AP — The calories in fat count up fast because there are twice as many in a gram of fat as in a gram of protein or carbohydrate. In addition to its effect on weight control, high fat consumption also increases the risk of heart disease.

In each of these food pairs, see if you can pick the light, low-fat choice.

- Turkey sandwich or chef's salad?
- A chef's salad with cheese, ham, turkey and half an egg dolloped with blue cheese dressing has 700 calories and 58 grams of fat. For less than half the calories and 10 percent of the fat you can have a turkey sandwich made with two slices of whole wheat bread, lettuce and tomato.

2. Lasagna or spaghetti with meat sauce?
 Fish has fewer calories per ounce than beef, but a sandwich made with deep-fried, breaded fish contains 70 percent more calories than a single hamburger and twice as much fat.

- Blueberry muffin or bagel with jelly?
- The bagel contains as many calories as the muffin but no fat. The calories in a bagel come from carbohydrates rather than fat.

5. Oatmeal cookie or granola bar?
 Go for the cookie. It has half the calories and 60 percent less fat than the granola bar. Although they are touted as healthy and natural, granola bars contain large amounts of sugar and fat.

- Broccoli with cheese sauce or vegetable medley containing broccoli?

Broccoli is a healthy food, low in calories and high in vitamins A and C and fiber. But be careful what you add to it. A 1/2-cup serving of frozen broccoli with cheese sauce has the equivalent of 2 teaspoons of fat. Broccoli spears or cuts without sauce or one of the frozen combinations of broccoli and other vegetables is a fat-free choice.

 1 cup chopped hazelnuts (filberts) or pecans, toasted
 1/4 cup sugar
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 beaten egg
 3/4 cup milk
 1/2 cup cooking oil

In a large mixing bowl stir together flour, 3/4 cup of the nuts, sugar, baking powder and salt. Make a well in center. In a small mixing bowl combine egg, milk and oil; add all at once to dry ingredients, stirring just until moistened. Grease muffin cups or line with paper cake cups; fill two-thirds full. Sprinkle with remaining nuts. Bake in a 400° oven 18-20 minutes or until golden. Makes 12.

"Supreme Chocolate Cheesecake" and "Southwest Appetizer Cheesecake" won the "Philly" Hall of Fame competition.

Cheesecake recipes are original, versatile

Two original recipes judged grand prize winners in the 1987 "Philly" Hall of Fame recipe contest proved once again that there is no end to the versatility and variety of one of America's favorite indulgences — the cheesecake.

The winning entries of the Philadelphia Brand cream cheese sponsored competition were submitted by Debbie Vanni from Libertyville, Ill., who won the appetizer and snacks category for "Southwest Appetizer Cheesecake" and Kim Marsden from Renton, Wash., grand prize winner in the cheesecake category for "Supreme Chocolate Cheesecake."

 Sour cream

SUPREME CHOCOLATE CHEESECAKE
 1 1/2 cups (16) crushed creme-filled chocolate cookies
 1/4 cup margarine, melted
 3 8-oz. pkgs. cream cheese, softened
 1 1/4 oz. can sweetened condensed milk
 3 EGGS
 1 12-oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces, melted
 2 tsp. vanilla
 1/2 cup margarine
 1/2 cup powdered sugar
 1 6-oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces, melted, cooled
 2 tbsps. orange-flavored liqueur

Combine crumb and margarine, press onto bottom of 9-inch spring-form pan. Bake at 325°, 15 minutes.

Place cottage cheese in blender container. Cover, process on high speed until smooth. In large mixing bowl of electric mixer, combine cottage cheese and cream cheese, mixing at medium speed until well blended. Add eggs, one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Blend in cheddar cheese and chilies, pour over crust. Bake at 325°, 1 hour.

Combine sour cream and dip, mix well. Spread over cheesecake; continue baking 10 minutes. Loosen cake from rim of pan, cool before removing rim of pan. Chill. Top with tomatoes, green onions, olives and sour cream. To serve, cut into wedges or spread on crackers. 16-20 servings.

Salt's long history: once was medicine

The Bible speaks of the "salt of the earth" and the Greeks said a slave was "worth his weight in salt."

Salt has been used for bartering as well as for curing meat and fish. It has been fought over, taxed and used as one of the first medicines. Despite salt's colorful history, recent research has linked excessive salt consumption to hypertension.

Salt is sodium chloride. Common table salt is a chemical compound of 40 percent sodium and 60 percent chlorine. It's the sodium in the salt that causes health problems for some people.

Sodium plays a major role in maintaining blood volume and pressure by attracting and holding water in the blood vessels. Sodium also plays a role in the transmission of nerve impulses and the contraction of muscles. It is essential for the absorption of glucose into cells and the transport of other nutrients across the cell membrane.

As valuable as sodium is, your body needs very little. It's not uncommon for people to consume as much as four teaspoons of salt daily, when only one teaspoon is needed. About one teaspoon each day, the teaspoon of salt contains about two-thousand milligrams of sodium. The National Research Council indicates that a "safe and adequate" sodium intake per day is about 1,100 to 3,300 mg for an adult.

About one-fourth of the sodium in take comes from salt added to food. The rest comes from "hidden sources" — sodium that has been added to products during processing to help preserve or flavor them. Learn to read the labels on food to identify words that mean salt or sources of sodium. These include leavening agents, baking powder and baking soda, monosodium glutamate (MSG), sodium ascorbate, soy sauce and monosodium glutamate (MSG), just to name a few. Avoid these products.

THE SALT SHAKER and seasoned salt are a main source of salt in our diets. These are probably the most obvious and overused sources. Many people develop a taste for salt when they are young. This is particularly true if children's foods are salted to adult's tastes. Our salty appetite is so ingrained that many people find unsalted food tasteless. The desire for salt is a learned taste and therefore, one that can be unlearned.

Salt is second only to sugar as a food additive. Salt is added to many canned vegetables for flavor. You enjoy canned foods, look for brands without added salt or try fresh or plain frozen vegetables. For example, one raw carrot contains 34 milligrams of sodium.

UNFORTUNATELY, SIGNS OF DRUG USE AREN'T THIS OBVIOUS.

Fortunately, they're not invisible, either. That's why it's so important that parents know what these signs are.

The problem is that most parents don't know. And, as so often happens, their child's drug problem goes undetected.

It's senseless. Especially when the signs of drug use are right in front of the parent's eyes. Signs such as excessive secrecy, fewer visits home from college or a drop in school performance.

Other signs are irritability, weight loss, pupil dilation, and heavy usage of eye drops or nasal sprays.

These are only a few. There are many others. If you're a parent, you must get involved. You can learn more about the signs of drug use by contacting your local agency on drug abuse.

Knowing these signs isn't a cure. But at least it's a start.

Chiefs get by Hawks

Plymouth Canton didn't perform up to coach Allie Suffety's standards Wednesday at home, but the Chiefs still prevailed over Farmington Harrison in volleyball, 14-16, 15-11 and 15-9.

The Chiefs are 3-2 overall, 3-1 in the Western Division.

"They were three of our poorest games, to be honest," Suffety said. "We got just enough to get by."

"We made a lot of mistakes. But we came back. In past years, we'd have given up."

Suffety said he'd like to see a better hitting percentage. In the first game, Canton converted six of 13 attacks. The Chiefs had eight kills in 21 attacks in the second game and nine out of 27 in the final game.

WESTLAND JOHN Glenn coach Wendy Bostwick enjoyed her volleyball team's results Thursday, but didn't like the way the Rockets achieved them.

Glenn defeated Plymouth Salem, 8-15, 15-10 and 15-1 but Bostwick said the Rockets lacked intensity throughout the match. Still, John Glenn raised its record to 12-7 overall, 3-0 in the Western Division.

"I wasn't real happy with our play," Bostwick said. "They're not as intense as they must be. Our fundamentals need to be stressed more. We need to work on our consistency. Tonight, we missed eight serves."

Senior middle hitters Denise Gumke and Becky Wilson recorded three kills each for Glenn. In the serving department, Christina Hoffman and Colleen O'Brien collected four aces apiece.

JG plays tonight at North Farmington.

FARMINGTON faced a tall order Wednesday at home, falling to Livonia Stevenson by identical 15-7 scores.

The Falcons are 0-6 overall, 0-3 in the Lakes Division. Stevenson, No. 3 in Class A, raised its mark to 17-1, 3-1 in Lakes play.

Farmington, with no one taller than 5-foot-8 in its lineup, could not contain Stevenson's 5-11 Sue Zatorski at the net. Zatorski had 10 kills in 17 attacks. Laura Brown collected four kills in 11 attacks.

"We were prepared to attack at the net," Stevenson coach Lee Cagle said. "Farmington is a small team that's forced to play defense and block all the time."

Despite the outcome, Farmington coach Maureen McNabb praised the play of her team and Kelli Koss and Dawn Montrose in particular.

"Stevenson was not as dominant as I thought it would be," McNabb said. "The score didn't show how well the girls played. There were a lot of side-outs."

NORTH FARMINGTON played a near flawless volleyball match Thursday at Walled Lake Central, downing the Vikings 15-9 and 15-5.

The Raiders, who missed only one hit all night, are 17-3 overall and tied for first in the Lakes Division with Livonia Stevenson at 4-1. Central falls to 15-4 overall.

Stephanie Knapp was 11-of-12 serving, including six aces for North. Debbie Weintraub had two service aces and was 12-of-14 in serves.

Pam Konjarevich had four aces and was 10-of-10 in the hitting department. Suzi Butcher was 3-of-3 hitting with two kills and three blocks.

Ron Orris churns through the water Thursday to capture first place in the butterfly. The Plymouth Salem sophomore also anchored victories in both relay as the Rocks defeated arch-rival Canton in the sport, swam well but were overpowered by a superior performance by the host team.

Rocks make strong impression

Mike Helmstadter watches for his time to be posted on the scoreboard after completing the 100-yard freestyle. The Canton swimmer was third in the event with a 51.94 time.

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Plymouth Canton swim coach Hooker Wellman thought he had walked into a hornets' nest instead of the natatorium at Plymouth Salem High School.

As individual performers, the Chiefs made a good showing, but those deeds were overshadowed by an even better night by Salem, which won every event to post a 113-59 victory.

The Rocks, ranked among the best in Class A and 5-2 overall, were coming off a 101-71 loss Tuesday to another highly regarded team, Ann Arbor Huron. Unfortunately, the Chiefs felt the ire of Salem's discontent.

"It's as if they took a hornets' nest over to Huron and turned them loose," Wellman said. "And we got stung."

"Our kids didn't swim bad; Salem swam outstanding. I'll bet 95 percent of their kids swam best times."

"THEY NOW look like a team ranked seventh in the state," he added.

Jeff Musson, Geoff Taylor and Mike Hill won two individual events each to spearhead the Rocks' effort. Sophomore sensation Ron Orris, who won the 100-yard butterfly, was on both relays, Taylor and Hill one apiece.

Musson's times of 1:53.59 and 5:13.5 in the 200 and 500 freestyles, respectively, were his best of the season, as were those turned in by Taylor in the individual medley (2:11.75) and Hill in the 50 freestyle (23.04).

Salem coach Chuck Olson was impressed by the personal-best time of 53.8 Orris had in the butterfly, and he was especially pleased by the efforts put forth by his relay teams.

"This is the best we swam, from top to bottom, all year," he said. "We were really flat on Tuesday at Huron."

"WE HAD A little discussion," he continued. "Plus, it doesn't take an awful lot of motivation when you're swimming against the school from across the creek."

A key objective for the Rocks in Thursday's meet was to qualify their relay teams for the state meet. They did so with times of 1:43.44 in the medley and 3:22.18 in the freestyle. The state cuts are 1:43.99 and 3:22.39.

Dave Miller, Taylor, Fred Seidelman and Orris comprised Salem's medley foursome, and John Irvine, swimming

Hill, Seidelman and Orris teamed up in the freestyle. "We're going to have a bunch going (to state)," Olson said, "but we have to start qualifying more individuals to go along with Ron Orris."

Besides the relays, Orris also has met the qualifying standards in Class A in six individual events.

"I THINK WE could put him in any event at state and he'd place," Olson said. "He's a great competitor; he has great strokes."

"We had a few All-Americans back at Plymouth High and some All-Staters at Salem. He certainly has all the tools and desire to maybe be one of the best."

"Plus, he's a good student, too," he added. Perhaps the most impressive aspect of Salem's performance was the fact it soundly beat a good team in the Chiefs, who are in the driver's seat to repeat as Western Division champions. The list of Canton swimmers with best times was impressive, also.

Mike Helmstadter swam his fastest time of the season in the 200 free (1:58.44, third) and 100 free (51.95, third) as did Bryce Anderson in the butterfly (56.09, second) and backstroke (1:01.38, second) and Mike Lustig in the individual medley (2:14.02, second) and butterfly (59.76, fourth).

OTHERS ON that list included Jeff Homan in the medley (2:13.08, second), Jim Hartnett in the medley (2:16.29, fifth), Tom Hone in the 100 free (52.49, fourth), Shawn MacInnis in the breaststroke (1:14.43) and Steve Geddes in the 500 free (5:27.0, third).

"They're probably the third-best dual-meet team in the conference," Olson said. "We definitely couldn't take them lightly and play around with them."

Wellman couldn't be disappointed with his swimmers, but it was ironic the Chiefs were excluded from the winner's circle despite having so many good times.

"It takes away some of the oomph," Wellman said. "We'll go back, get the kids together and regroup."

All-Star Iafrate shines for slumping Leafs

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

When he found out he was selected to play in the National Hockey League All Star Game, Al Iafrate reacted the way any 21-year-old defenseman with the Toronto Maple Leafs from Livonia would.

"I was shocked," said Iafrate, sounding about as excited as a 16-year-old who's going to the prom with his sister. "I didn't expect to be selected. I guess they had to pick someone from every team. It's a great honor."

- Geez, Al, perk up, buddy. When they said you were going to the All Star game, they meant the one in St. Louis, not Siberia.

Iafrate certainly has earned All Star status. He'll play for the Campbell Conference squad Tuesday, Feb. 9, in St. Louis.

LEAF COACH John Brophy certainly thinks he belongs amongst NHL's elite.

"He really played well during the first half of the season," said Brophy. "He's in a bad spot right now, as is the rest of the team."

"When he turns it on, he's one of the best defensemen in the National Hockey League."

Iafrate leads Leaf defensemen in scoring with 16 goals and 20 assists for 36 points. And he's been carrying and passing with the care and precision of gemologist.

If anything, the talented defenseman has been one of the few bright spots, as the Leafs have slumbered through a 15-game winless streak.

Iafrate has arrived. At times, it's been a difficult ride.

"DURING THE last half of my second year is when I started to turn it on and come on strong," he said. "I felt things were coming together.

hockey

"It seems like each year, I get a little better. Hopefully, I will continue to get better." Iafrate said he isn't doing anything different. He's rushing the puck with the same brilliance as he always has.

Except now he's able to finish off the play on more occasions. Perhaps it's the savvy of a four-year veteran defenseman showing through.

In fact, one could wonder if Iafrate would have more points and notoriety if he wasn't on a cellar-dweller in the Norris Division. Brophy feels he already has the talent to be in the same class of Pittsburgh's Paul Coffey.

"Last year, I'd rush the puck and get in there and panic," Iafrate said. "I would throw the puck away or waste a shot. Now it seems I have more patience."

Iafrate's also developed a scoring touch. His 16 goals already this season passes his previous season-high of nine goals last year. He should easily double that.

ONE REASON Iafrate hasn't been Mr. Happy Go Lucky of late is that he played the last three weeks with an injured left foot. He took a shot in the skate during a game against the Minnesota North Stars.

Iafrate was sat out of Friday's game against the Detroit Red Wings. He didn't find out he was scratched from the lineup until right before game time.

Leaf assistant coach Gary Lariviere said the defenseman has only been at 70 percent because of a sore back.

"I don't know," said Iafrate, who watched the 3-3 tie with Detroit from the press box at

Joe Louis Arena. "Maybe it was for a rest."

Also, the frustration of the Leafs' winless binge hasn't exactly left Iafrate chipper. Despite the slump, Toronto is still in the hunt of a playoff berth, only three points behind fourth-place Minnesota in the Norris Division.

Still, it hasn't been an enjoyable experience.

"You look at your forwards buzzing around in the other team's zone. Their defensemen make mistake after mistake, and your forwards can't put it in."

"Then they come down in your end and you make one mistake and bang."

But things haven't been so tight around the Leafs' dressing room that there isn't any kidding. Iafrate's All Star selection makes him a target.

"When you say something smart alecky, they say, 'Oh, leave him alone. He's an All Star.'"

Mike Nettie of Stevenson and Bill Anderson of Salem lock horns Thursday in a battle for a loose ball. The 1-on-1 match pitted a pair of heavyweights since Nettie, a Central Michigan football recruit, goes 6-4 and 240 and Anderson 6-5, 205.

Salem rally nets victory

Plymouth Salem waited until the fourth quarter to go on the offensive in Thursday night's basketball game at Livonia Stevenson.

basketball

When the Rocks did so it spelled the difference in the game. They rallied from a 10-point deficit to beat the Spartans, 53-51.
It was Salem's second victory in as many games and improved the team's records to 3-2 in the Lakes Division and 5-6 overall. Stevenson fell to 0-5 and 3-7.
Despite taking a 15-8 lead in the opening period, the Rocks struggled to find their game through three quarters.
Dennis Nazelli scored 15 of his game-high 22 points in the first half to help the Spartans score 24 second-quarter points and take the lead at halftime.
THE ROCKS allowed themselves to be lulled into a state of lethargy when Stevenson dictated a controlled, half-court game.
They packed in their zone and worked the ball around, and our kids played the same way," Salem coach Bob Brodie said.
"I couldn't get my players to play with much intensity in the first half.

Churchill upsets Canton

Livonia Churchill pulled off a mild upset Friday in boys basketball, defeating host Plymouth Canton, 57-55.
The win brings the Chargers to within a game of the first-place Chiefs at 3-2 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Athletic Association. Churchill is 6-5 overall and Canton falls to 4-1, 9-2.
Two free throws by senior Kyle Percin gave Churchill a 57-52 lead and the Chargers held on from there.
Churchill shot 69 percent from the field, converting 23-of-32 shots. Three players scored in double figures for Churchill, led by Brad Wylie with 14 points. Jason Belaire added 13 points and Nels Thorderson had 10 points and six assists.
Mitch Fyke scored 18 points to pace Canton.
"It was a well-played game by both teams," said Churchill coach Don Albertson. "It was a slow-tempo game."

PLY. CHRISTIAN 72, TROY ZION 41: The Eagles opened up a 28-17 halftime lead and breezed from there Friday night.

Outmanned Schoolcraft College got stairway performances from Ladon Tait, Steve Hawley, Brad Ridgeway and Andy Stephens Wednesday — and it still wasn't enough. Not against the Eastern Conference basketball leaders, Highland Park CC, which whipped the Ocelots 109-83 at Highland Park.
Tait scored 24 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. Hawley netted 16 points. Brad Ridgeway collected 11 points and nine boards and Stephens had 11 points and 11 rebounds, connecting on all five of his floor shots.
But 35 turnovers doomed SC, which fell to 1-9 in the conference and 7-14 overall. Hersey Otis topped the Panthers (10-1 in the conference) with 22 points. Tony Racka, from Farmington Hills, scored 21 points — all on three-pointers. Highland Park CC made 11-of-21 from three-point range.
Hawley, the conference's leading scorer, was plagued with foul trouble. He fouled out with 15 minutes left in the game and was whistled for three offensive charges.
SC'S WOMENS TEAM fared no better against their counterparts at Highland Park CC Wednesday, losing 86-58. The defeat just about ended any hopes the Lady Ocelots had of winning the Eastern Conference title, dropping them to 5-3 in the league (13-6 overall).
Highland Park went to 8-1 (19-2 overall), trailing unbeaten Oakland CC (8-0) by a half-game.
SC's slide against the Lady Panthers came quickly. Before the game was five minutes old, Highland Park CC led 13-2. SC never got closer than 10 to the rest of the way.
"We were intimidated, there's no question about it," said Lady Ocelot coach Jack Gre-

Raiders to remember teammate

The black bands North Farmington's basketball players wore on their uniforms Friday night were a symbol of mourning.

Dan O'Meara

They also were a reminder of the traumatic event that resulted in the death of a teammate earlier in the week.
When the players voted to play their game with cross-town rival Farmington as scheduled, they elected to honor the memory of Matthew Leiter for the duration of the season.
Leiter, a 17-year-old junior, collapsed in the locker room after Tuesday's game with Westland John Glenn and died a short time later at Botsford Hospital of apparent cardiac arrest.
On Wednesday, his coaches and teammates, as well as the entire North Farmington community, tried to cope with the shock of such a sudden loss.
ON FRIDAY, the Raiders returned to the basketball court for the first time since Leiter's death.
A day after burying a teammate, the North Farmington players — young men in the fullness of life whom reason says should be free of such a burden — were compelled by the ongoing demands of time to resume day-to-day activities, to attempt to regain a sense of normalcy.
"I'm not even worried about the games," coach Tom Negoshian said of the half season yet to be played.
"I'm worried about the emotional stability of the rest of the kids, that they're able to carry on with the rest of life. I think that's what we all should care about."

Playing the game Friday night was probably best for the well being of the players. Psychologists and counselors who consoled students and staff members at North Farmington last week said a resumption of daily routines would help them work through the grieving period.
NEGOSHIAN, WHO is recognized for his concern and fatherly approach he demonstrates in dealing with his players, took pains to make sure on all players were included and made to feel a part of the team at the point of great crisis late Tuesday night.
Leiter had just exchanged warm-up suits with another teammate and was talking with fellow players when he was struck. His teammates were the ones who summoned help.
Leiter had an asthmatic condition, and his collapse, at first, was attributed to it. But the other players quickly sensed the gravity of the situation.

"ALL OF THEM wanted to go to the hospital," Negoshian said. "I told them they couldn't go, and I promised them I would call them."
Though it was past midnight, Negoshian telephoned each player and each time repeated the difficult task of relating the somber news.
The team met early Wednesday morning and stayed together much of the day. Their teachers, who were "understanding and felt some empathy toward the kids and what they were going through," Negoshian said, released them from their classroom responsibilities.
Forgoing a regular practice session Wednesday, the team had an informal shoot-around, a casual practice where players shoot baskets on their own or organize small pick-up games.
Such practices are usually filled with laughter, a laid-back atmosphere and plenty of verbal and physical jostling.
IT WAS JUST the opposite Wednesday at North Farmington. Some players sat on the sideline, appearing to be in trance-like thought. Others were active, shooting repeatedly at the basket, but were probably concentrating more on the last 24 hours than putting the ball in the net.
"We tried to talk about it as best we could," Negoshian said. "They were just kind of quiet, sad."
"Hopefully, with me being their coach, we'll be able to keep things out in the open and discuss things."
Negoshian fought back tears Wednesday afternoon, pausing to regain his composure, as he recalled how Leiter, a 6-foot-1, 145-pound reserve forward, got into his first game of the season and scored his first basket.

Though the Raiders lost their game with John Glenn, 55-42, and tragedy befell them afterward, Negoshian viewed Leiter's accomplishments in that game as a triumph.

"I THINK IF there's something to be said, Matt was the victor," he said. "He got into the game, scored his first basket, and he was smiling and happy as can be, with all of his goals still ahead of him. Because of that, I can say he was the victor."
Actually, Leiter had realized a personal goal when he made the North Farmington varsity team. Cowan said he had "found his niche with basketball." Leiter planned to continue his devotion to the sport in hopes of becoming a starter next year as a senior.
"He was just a gym rat," said Negoshian, using a sports euphemism that is invoked with a sense of endearment to reflect an individual's commitment.
"If you talked to Ralph Temby, our phys-ed man, he'd tell you (Leiter) was always around in the summer. The custodians — they knew who he was. He just loved basketball."

Leiter went to a prestigious basketball camp in Indiana last summer to improve his skills. The best high school players in the Midwest usually attend the camp since many college scouts can see them play. Leiter had simpler motives.
HE WANTED TO become a better player "just so he would have a chance to make the varsity," Negoshian said. "That said something about his love for the game."
Negoshian, who teaches at Warner Middle School, first met Leiter when he transferred from the Southfield school district and became one of his students.
Negoshian recalled a good-natured exchange he had with Leiter when North Farmington was to play Southfield, then a state-ranked team, for a district championship.
"Matt was still a Southfield fan even though he attended North Farmington," he said. "I told him we were going to beat Southfield, and he said 'no way'."
But we upset them, and Matt came back and shook my hand and said 'Some day I'm going to play basketball for you!'"
At that point, Matt quit being a Southfield fan and became a North Farmington fan."

Spartans take rare win

Livonia Stevenson posted one of its biggest wrestling wins ever Thursday, surprising reigning Western Lakes Activities Association champion Plymouth Salem in a dual meet, 47-18.

wrestling

The Stevenson win forces a three-way tie in the Lakes Division of the W.L.A.A. Stevenson, Salem and Westland John Glenn all have 4-1 dual records.
"This is the first time we've beaten Salem since I've been here," said Stevenson's sixth-year coach Don Berg. "I'm really pleased because these kids have worked hard."

Salem was missing two key wrestlers: 198-pounder Chuck Graczyk and 112-pounder Jeff Delbeck. The visiting Spartans swept the final seven matches to rack up the impressive win.
With the score tied at 18-all, Kurt Zebras jumped out to a 25-11 first quarter advantage and never looked back to gain an easy Wolverine A League triumph.
Neil Jacuk scored 14 for Southgate, which slipped to 2-10 overall and 1-8 in the league.

OTHER STEVENSON winners included Brandon Mardossian (98), a 4-3 decision over Matt Konenski; Dave Wojciechowski (105), who pinned Ron Fontaine in 1:48; Mike Schrock (126), a 24-7 decision over Scott Conti; Paul Gedeist (138), a 5-0 decision over Ed Barlage; Mike Farr

They got the snowball going and kept it rolling," said Salem coach Ron Krueger.
The only Salem winners were Dave Mang (112), a 16-0 technical fall against Randy Davis; Todd Bourlier (119), a 19-3 triumph over Tony Fsadni; and Mike Shumate (132), a pin against Attila Omer in 1:32.
Stevenson travels Thursday to Westland John Glenn. Salem travels to Walled Lake Central.

Gymnasts place in Bay City meet

Palstra Gymnastics, a class II gymnastics team from Westland, won earned two first-place finishes at a compulsory meet Saturday Jan. 23 in Bay City.
The two victories came in the children's division. Palstra's Katie Gilles finished first on the balance beam and third on the uneven bars.
Kimberly Berres received the other first in the all-around competition. She also scored 8.4 on the uneven bars to win second place.
In the junior division, Courtney Gonyea placed second on the balance beam and all-around competition and third on the uneven bars and floor exercise. Teammate Kimberly Miller finished second on the uneven bars and third on the vault.
All four girls are from Canton.

COLLEGE TENNIS

Lisa Belsky, a 1987 graduate of Plymouth Salem, is a freshman member of the Ball State University women's tennis team.
The Cardinals from Muncie, Ind., open their 1988 season Friday when they travel to Eastern Kentucky. Belsky, who captained the Salem team during her junior and senior years, was a two-time most valuable player for the Rocks and an All-Western Lakes selection.
Belsky, the daughter of Donald and Georgianna Belsky, is looking to help Ball State improve upon last season's 5-11 mark and sixth-place finish in the Mid-American Conference.

SKI TRIP

The Canton Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring another teen ski trip Friday, Feb. 5 to Alpine Valley Ski Area.
All transportation and supervision is provided by the recreation department staff. Teens without their own equipment are welcome, as Alpine Valley has rental equipment available.
The fee is $10 with your own equipment, $17 without. All fees must be paid upon registration and space is limited. The group will leave at 5 p.m. and return at 12:15 a.m.
Individuals must register in person at the recreation department at 1150 S. Canton Center, Canton, Call 397-5110 for further information.

BADMINTON

A group of recreational badminton players have resumed competition at Plymouth West Middle School 7:30-10 p.m. every Tuesday night.
The standard of play varies from intermediate through advanced levels. Some ex-national champions participate, but beginners who previously have only played the game in their backyards are welcome since coaching is available.
Anyone interested in playing should call Kit Henderson at 474-4992 during office hours or make an appearance at the school gymnasium any Tuesday night. Players should have their own rackets.

SALEM SOCCER

Plymouth Salem girls in grades 9-12 who are interested in playing on the school's soccer teams this spring should attend a meeting and sign-up period at 4 p.m. Monday, Feb. 8, in Room 2703. The meeting will last 30 minutes.
The Rocks, who are the defending Class A champions, begin preseason practice Monday, March 14.

ROCKS REBOUND TO DEFEAT CHIEFS

"We have some good things coming up — the division championship, the league meet and, hopefully, qualifying some kids for state."

OLSON WOULD have liked to see his team do as well Tuesday against the No. 4-rated River Rats as it did Thursday against its cross-campus rival. Salem's other winners were Kevin Koiacki in diving with 223.25 points and Dave Miller in the backstroke (59:94). Hill also won the 100 free with a 51:57 time and Taylor the breaststroke with a 1:05:58 clocking.
Olson said, "We had hoped to go over there and swim well against Huron with both of us being rated in the state.
If we had swam the times we did Tuesday, this meet with Canton would have been very close. And, if we had swam the times we did here on Tuesday, that meet would have been very close. I'm pleased to see we snapped back."

Downhill run

From the Canadian Rockies to the Swiss, Austrian and Italian Alps, skiers still take to the slopes for a week's worth of downhill. But the difference between North American and European ski vacations may not be as big as you think. See Page 6B.

Renee Honeycut of Rochester takes her time traversing the slopes, while skiing under the lights at Pine Knob in Clarkston.

By Bill Parker
staff writer

Ski vacations to Vail, Colo., or Lake Placid, N.Y., are great, if you have the time and money.

But let's face it, ski vacations aren't cheap. They usually require months of saving. So what does the avid skier do in the meantime? How about night skiing at one of the local resorts?

Since most skiers work or go to school during the day, the only alternative is skiing at night. Most area resorts are booming with nighttime business.

So what if the vertical drop doesn't exceed 400 feet?

So what if you have to stand in line for a few minutes?

So what if there isn't a foot of powder?

The bottom line is, the opportunity to ski exists, so why not take advantage of it?

"People seem to want to stay and ski longer at night," said Simone Prince, a manager at Pine Knob in Clarkston. "Maybe they stay longer because it relaxes them after a long day at work or school."

Mary Gabriel has been skiing for better than 15 years. The Farmington Hills resident learned to ski at Mount Holly, but since then has skied on some of the finer mountains in Colorado and Montana.

DESPITE HER exposure to western skiing, Gabriel still enjoys a night on the slopes at one of the smaller ski resorts in southeastern Michigan.

"I guess the main reason I go is the proximity," said Gabriel, who usually skis at Pine Knob, Alpine Valley in Milford or Mount Holly. "You can go with a group of friends and really have a good time."

Downhill enthusiasts enjoy NIGHT SKIING

5 resorts attractive for skiers

By Bill Parker
staff writer

There are more than 50 downhill ski resorts in Michigan, some offering more than 30 runs and others limited to just one trail.

Southeastern Michigan features five downhill resorts, all of which are open during the week and on weekends. Each resort also is equipped with snow making equipment and a full line of rental equipment.

• Mt. Brighton is the closest resort to Observerland at 4141

Bauer Road, Brighton. It has a vertical drop of 234 feet and features seven chair lifts and 10 rope tows to transport skiers to 25 runs.

The resort is open daily and evenings and includes two cafeterias and two lounges. A daytime lift ticket costs $16.50, while evening lift tickets go for $13.50.

For more information, call 229-8592. For snow conditions, call 227-1451.

• Alpine Valley is at 6775 E.

"It's a good way to get out during the week without going to the bar. It's also a good way to enjoy the winter."

KIM KIMBALL of Rochester has been skiing for seven years and enjoys the atmosphere of night skiing.

"It seems to be more exciting at night," Kimball said. "The trails stand out more from the artificial light. It's also fun to socialize in the lounges, since some resorts have entertainment at night."

"Another reason I like to ski at night is that night skiing is cheaper at some resorts."

Most local resorts offer group rates on weeknights, which help boost skiing activity. Schools, church groups, community organizations and Scouting organizations account for the majority of the groups.

"Weekday evenings seem to attract bigger crowds than during the day," said Mary Gillespie, manager of Mount Brighton. "With schools, churches and other groups coming in, we have much more business at night."

Mount Brighton and Alpine Valley also offer midnight skiing on Saturday nights. Midnight hours are 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. at Brighton and 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. at Alpine Valley.

"The midnight skiing is really exciting," Gillespie said. "We usually have a decent amount of people come out. It offers them something different than going to the bar on Saturday night."

Midnight skiing is a new feature this year at Alpine, but so far the results are impressive.

Clubs' vacations on the slopes cost less than a king's ransom

Editor's note: The Metro Detroit Ski Council is an umbrella organization for ski clubs throughout the metropolitan area. The Livonia Ski Club and Ski Skule are just two of its members and illustrate the services available with such memberships. For information on area ski club trips call the ski council's hotline at 593-1188.

Special Writer

The ski season is in full swing, and you've been meaning to hit the slopes.

But finding an uncrowded resort or a ski companion, when you finally have the time, can prove to be an uphill climb.

That is unless you're a member of a ski club.

When members of the Livonia Ski Skule and the Livonia Ski Club want

'Let's face it, Michigan's got little hills; Europe's got mountains.'

— Norbert Kopekin

to try the slopes they head en masse for the more popular areas — Pine Knob, Mount Brighton or Boyne Mountain.

When they want to test their skill and endurance, however, they head for Colorado, Vermont, Europe or Canada.

In either case, sometimes it pays to be a member of a group all headed in the same direction.

One amenity skiers consider a must is a way up the slopes. The preferred method is by chairlift, but rope tows do in a pinch.

Ski and stay at Boyne, just $45.

Boyne Mountain has slashed the cost of lodging and skiing for midweek guests.

Just $45 per person per day, double occupancy, covers lodging and area lift ticket (any Sunday-Thursday lodging, Monday-Friday skiing).

Stay and ski when the slopes are uncrowded. And enjoy use of Boyne's special amenities, including a heated outdoor pool, sauna, whirlpool and more at no extra cost.

This $45 midweek rate is for Boyne Mountain, the cost for Boyne Highlands for lodging and lift is $60 per person per day.

Norman Prochaska, president of the Livonia Ski Club, said the club "caters to all kinds" of skiers.

"We take them all," he said. "We have folks who join the club and have never put on a pair of skis in their lives, and we have folks who've been skiing for years. Inevitably, you'll find those who know how spending part of their skiing time teaching those who don't."

According to Prochaska, the arrangement works well.

 Maudlin teenage romance goes nowhere very slowly. Parents will be offended, decent people appalled and long events nor does it hold regular meetings.

Its meeting place is on the slopes, said member Kathy Pearce.

Just back from her third ski trip with the group, Mount Sutton in southern Quebec, Pearce, 36, said she signed up for one of next year's excursions already.

"I love it, I absolutely love it," she said. "It's a great way to meet other people."

The Livonia Ski Skule boasts a membership spreading from Livonia to Ann Arbor. Currently, at 175 members, the 25-year-old club has hosted trips to the ski villages of Innsbruck, Kitzbuhel and St. Anton in Austria and Vipiteno, Italy.

"We've skied under the autobahn in Italy and through tunnels in mountains in Austria," said Norbert Kopekin, president. "Let's face it, Michigan's got little hills, Europe's got mountains."

Kopekin said members were so pleased with the trip to Mount Sutton that he had people trying to put deposits down on the '89 ski season while they were still in Canada.

"I had to tell them to wait until we got home and then they could make the deposit," Kopekin said. "It's fairer that way."

Because the American dollar took a nose dive, there were no trips to Europe this year. Instead, the group headed to the Canadian Rockies, he said.

In March, members will ski Whistler Mountain, on the coast of British Columbia.

THE BIGGEST complex in the northern hemisphere, skiers will have the benefit of a good dollar exchange as well as some of the longest ski runs on the continent.

John Junguen, a skule member, prefers Canadian skiing because of the ski conditions and the slope lengths. He just returned from Mount Sutton and said the skiing was "breathtaking."

"I'm going again next year, too," he added.

After years of "mounting my own efforts," he joined a club because family ski packages were increasingly harder to reserve.

Most ski clubs in the Metro Detroit ski council are easy to join and have virtually no restrictions on where members live.

Some do have requirements pertaining to age, marital status or company affiliation, but in many cases membership is not required to accompany a club on an excursion.

The council operates a hotline detailing upcoming trips that have spaces available. For more information, call 593-1188.

SCG: The stage is its 'laboratory'

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

The stage is their laboratory, and their instruments are their fretboards.

The Scott Campbell Group seem more like chemists than the average rock 'n' roll musicians. And they certainly like "experimentation."

Dress these mid-mannered aeds in lab coats and put them to work, and the end result is some rather quirky yet clever numbers.

"I'm Saving Myself For Angela Cartwright" and the "Lost In Space" suite, and "The Waitresses" legs are probably two of the band's more well-known compositions.

In a recent 3 1/2 min. clip on a discussion on music at the Clock Restaurant, John Rocco of Redford Township explained the process involved.

"I usually take notes things put a little imagination to them, take a writer's liberties to make them trip and come up with the lyrics," said Finan, guitar player and co-songwriter of the group.

Don't misunderstand.

On stage, the Scott Campbell Group doesn't get bogged down in scientific minutiae. Let it be said this group can rock.

Let it also be said that Scott Campbell is a group, not just an individual.

Scott Campbell, the individual, is an accomplished songwriter and one of the deans of the Detroit new music scene (Campbell, who used to

WRIF earns kudos for no heavy metal

Kudos kudos kudos to you WRIF. Of course, there are already some people who feel the station should be nominated for a Nobel Peace Prize for recently dumping heavy metal music in its rotation.

The station's lighter venture also is worthy of praise. The week in 1988 radio station now has a show at 11 p.m. weekdays showcasing some Detroit musical talent.

Finally, somebody in the Detroit radio market is taking some initiative. Local Hits features three new bands Monday through Thursday evenings. They judge by us, not by us. You bands are picked to be broadcast again on Fridays.

Greg St. James, who hosts the show and was one of the driving forces behind the concept, likes what he's heard locally.

He's impressed. St. James said it's only difficult to decide which to play. The staff is overwhelmed by the talent.

Local music shows such as this are nothing new just James. The WRIF DJ was involved with WABA's "Dangerous Exposure" program as well as WAAA's "Homegrown" column.

When he talks to the staff with Pat Still, program director at WHEP, he says he's been asked for a signature on "Local Hits."

He's going to say he's going to get advice a record contract. St. James said, "But after a while, it will be somebody else."

One of the group's proficiencies with local music seems to be a lack of local support. As a result, a lot of local bands aren't getting the attention they deserve.

There's one band, and it gives the local music scene a little more life. It's called "Local Hits" and it's called "Local Hits."

Three separate times the band I was supposed to go to New York, Campbell said. "Each time, one of the members failed to go for whatever reasons — rattled out, chickened out what have you."

Blues time

Everyone was singing the blues at the Martin Luther King Commemorative Blues Jubilee recently at Moby Dick's in Dearborn. Harmonica Shah, Robert Knoll and the Blues Mission, Johnny "Yard Dog" Jones, Willie D. Warren, The Living Room Blues Band and Billy Davis all performed at the gala event. The Famous Coachman from WDET-FM emceed the show.

Another show is planned for Saturday Feb. 13 at Moby Dick's on Schaefer between Ford Road and Michigan Avenue.

Some 250 people attended the MLK Jubilee that came on the heels of a record release party in December for "Detroit Blues Factory Vol. 1" and that had 400 people at the event. The album features many of the artists who appeared at the jubilee and already is in its second printing.

DIRTY DANCING SOUNDTRACK
 — various artists

— catchy in a bland kind of way. Does anyone remember when this guy was considered the next McCartney?

"She's Like the Wind" on the other hand, proves that, as a singer/dancer/actor, Patrick Swayze is a pretty fair dirty dancer. But the little girls understand.

The real highlights here are the titles, especially the Ronettes' "Be My Baby," which makes its first digital appearance on the CD.

Now that that does it make one hungry for the CD release of Phil Spector's greatest hits, containing not only the Ronettes best, but those of the Crystals, Darlene Love and, yes, the Righteous Brothers, too.

Now there's a soundtrack that could inspire some serious dirty dancing.

THE NO COMPRENDO
 — Les Rita Mitsouko

So this is the state of pop music in France? If so, maybe another revolution is overdue.

Currently, Les Rita Mitsouko is the big pop novelty in France. Les Rita Mitsouko is not an individual, but rather a pair of Parisian beatniks.

Some have gone as far as to label the group the French Eurythmics. Yes, like Annie Lennox, Les Rita Mitsouka lead singer Catherine Ringer is a female. And much like Dave Stewart, Fred Chichin is male.

But all comparisons should cease right there.

The Eurythmics are not a dance group. Les Rita Mitsouko are "The No Comprendo" is chock full of dance tracks. "C'est Comme Ça," a track off the album, already is a favorite on many a glittery floor.

Ringer screams Ringer yells. One in awhile, she actually gets around to singing. And she's really quite good when taking the opportunity.

Fuji price increase: The first indication of dollar's decline

By Sandy Colton

The first indication I've seen of increased prices on foreign products due to the devalued dollar just crossed my desk...

The Consumer Products Division of Fuji Photo Film USA Inc. has announced an across-the-board price increase on its professional film products effective Feb. 1...

The increases, which vary according to product type and size, range from 3 to 9 percent.

A Fuji division vice president and general manager said every effort has been made to minimize these price increases.

However, current international exchange rates plus increased operating costs have made price changes on our professional film products necessary...

That means you can probably expect price increases on amateur films, cameras and lenses shortly, and not just from Fuji but other foreign manufacturers as well.

Two major photographic events this year should be an indication of just how much the dollar's decline will hit the photo enthusiast who is dependent on foreign equipment.

The Photo Marketing Association convention to be held in Chicago shortly and Photokina, the World's Fair of Photography, to be held in Cologne, Germany, later in the year, are used by manufacturers to announce and show new products to buyers.

You can expect a hefty increase in prices reflected in the foreign products shown at these conventions. There should be some interesting new products unveiled, but the prices will have to reflect the decreased value of the dollar overseas.

So if you plan on buying a new camera or lenses, now is the time to do it - before the price increases take effect.

Speaking of new items, Kodak has a new experimental black-and-white film designated SO 675 that is currently being tested by a few newspapers around the country.

Whistler Village looks like an Alpine storybook town from the slopes of the Blackcomb Mountains in British Columbia, Canada.

MICKY JONES

Whistler Village may be in British Columbia, but its architecture is reminiscent of popular Alpine resorts.

Whistler, B.C.: Skiing's most beautiful place

By Iris Jones
Special writer

Q: The Livonia Ski Skule is going to Whistler, British Columbia, in western Canada Mar. 6-13. What's so great about Whistler and Blackcomb mountains and what else is there to do while you're there?

C.R.,
Livonia.

A: The Whistler/Blackcomb resort is in one of the most beautiful settings in the world. You can walk 100 yards from your hotel or condo in Whistler Village to lifts that access 133 ski runs on two huge mountains. Whatever your level of expertise, there are runs for you among an incredible variety of ski conditions.

There are the usual fun things to do in the pedestrian-only village. You can heli-ski, snowmobile, snow-shoe or enjoy other winter activities on nearby mountains. And when you tire of the slopes you can travel one way into the glorious mountain scenery of the interior or go 72 miles south other way through magnificent coastal scenery to Vancouver, the San Francisco of Canada, in either case by car or train. You will fly, train or drive into Vancouver on your way in and out of B.C.

I visited the Whistler/Blackcomb area last year with several local travel agents. One didn't ski. I stayed on the bunny slope. Another was an eager beginner. The rest ranged from average to good. We all loved it.

LET ME give you a picture of the place: From the top of Blackcomb, the Mile High Mountain, you can look across mountain peaks folding away in snow and stone under a blue Canadian sky. The Pacific Ocean is there, just out of sight through the trees, beyond the foot of the slopes.

They call Blackcomb the Mile High Mountain because it is 7,494 feet above sea level and has a vertical rise of 5,280 feet. Fifty ski runs twist down the giant's sides. It is nearly a mile straight up, which makes it the highest ski mountain in North America. That doesn't seem to stop the little kids from swooping and snowplowing their way down from the top.

From Rendezvous Ridge, or the bowl of the glacier at Seventh Heaven, the second highest ski mountain in North America with a vertical rise of 5,006 feet.

WHISTLER AND Blackcomb are joined at their bases like Siamese twins, with the lodges, restaurants and shops of Whistler Village nestled in the valley between.

The giant billboards at the base of the mountains give weather conditions for the lower, middle and upper slopes. This west coast is warmed by the Japanese current so Vancouver is typically warm and a little rainy; that same humidity gives the town of Whistler a lot of snow, helped when necessary by snowmaking. Conditions may vary greatly between the bottom and top of the mountains.

Last year, it took 45 minutes on four chairs to reach the lodge at Rendezvous Ridge and an Alpine T-Bar to cross the glacier into Seventh Heaven for bowl skiing. The longest run on Blackcomb was five miles from the Seventh Heaven to Haul Back at the base of the mountain.

THIS YEAR, three high-speed quadruple chair lifts and a new glacier t-bar have been added, whizzing you to the lodge in 15 minutes on the Wizard and Solar Coaster chairs and up the glacier on Seventh Heaven Express. Wizard, the lower lift, has a clear lexan weatherproof cover.

A new glacier t-bar allows you to ski down the other side of the glacier and ride back without connecting with lower lift chairs. The towers are fixed to rock at the top and bottom of the run, while towers between float on glacial ice.

Skiing in Europe

It can be reasonable or expensive . . . take your pick

By Chris Ryzk
Special writer

Whether you like powder or hard-packed, the east or the west; and if you are a confirmed skier, one of these days you'll want to go where skiing was invented — Europe.

It's a given, like having to drive a Lamborghini, if you're a car buff, or visiting the Louvre, if you're into art.

According to travel agents, and much to the surprise of skiers who thought they were confined to North America because of the price, skiing Europe is as feasible as a weeklong trip to Colorado.

The trick is to book in advance, catch the low season (which isn't in February) and travel with a group, according to Diane Seghi, Elkin Travel's vacation department manager.

"There is bargain skiing in Europe," Seghi said. "You just look for tour operators that offer pre-planned packages."

Seghi said tours are offered to Austria, Switzerland, the Italian Alps and Germany and "a lot of other little cities."

One reason many skiers at first shy away from Europe is that they don't understand Europeans.

"We're not educated to European skiing," Seghi said. "We don't understand that in Europe, people grew up on the slopes. We watch the Olympics and the 'Wide World of Sports,' but we don't know any more about it than that."

BASICALLY, skiing Europe requires two things — the desire to try some of the best slopes in the world and wanting something different culturally.

After skiing, Seghi said, "you've got the best of two worlds."

When you're not skiing, you can take in the sights. Normally, the low season falls at the beginning of

"Bargain skiing can be found, but it's a matter of what you look for."

— Diana Kryszak
AAA travel executive

January and in April. Prime time — February through March — has the coldest temperatures and the best snow.

If cheap is what you want, then the time to start planning is now, even for next year. (Actually, we should stress "cheaper." Unless you've read "Europe on a Shoestring," even the cheap rates during the off-season can cause heart palpitations.)

DIANA KRYSZAK, a travel executive for the Automobile Association of America, compared a six-day ski trip to Colorado to one to the Italian Alps.

The difference was a mere $48 and the more expensive trip was to Colorado, she said.

It offered a double room for $581 and no meals were included. Air fare from Detroit to Denver came in at $238. Lift tickets for six days was another $30 a day for a total of $999.

A trip to Bormio, Italy, would cost $669 in air fare from Detroit to Milan. Hotel accommodations, including six days of lift tickets and breakfast and dinner daily, totaled $282.

While lodging wasn't deluxe accommodations, it wasn't "dumpy," Kryszak said.

"Bargain skiing can be found, but it's a matter of what you look for," she said.

IF YOU'RE looking for a little more fun and a lot more popular resorts — like Zell am See and Innsbruck, Austria, or Saas-Fee and Interlaken, Switzerland — a major vacation still can fall within the same range as a trip out east or west, Seghi said.

Passage Tours, in conjunction with KLM Dutch Airlines, flies skiers to Austria, Switzerland, France and Italy for as little as $829.

An "escorted" tour is one in which a native of the country hosts you while you visit. A nine-day escorted tour, including air fare, seven nights' hotel accommodations, a farewell dinner, breakfast and dinner daily and land transportation, will cost:

- $829 to $959 to Innsbruck, Austria. Rates apply in January and April and are slightly higher in February during the peak times.

- $819 to $1,009 to Zell am See, Austria.

- $899 to $1,099 to Interlaken, Switzerland. Again, seasonal variables apply.

- $1,099 to $1,149 for Villars-le-Terroir, the French-speaking region of Switzerland.

- $829 to $1,079 to Saas-Fee, Switzerland.

- $769 to $1,139 to Chamonix, France.

Not included in the packages are lift tickets, which range from $30 per day in each tour except for Villars, which is $20. Also optional are excursions to various sights in the countries.

Some packages, according to Seghi, can be arranged so that skiers can ski at one resort for part of the time and another for the remainder of the tour.

OTHER PACKAGES offered by Elkin Travel is SAS — Scandinavian Airlines with Crown Line Tours.

Skiers can enjoy a 10-day vacation with departures from Chicago for as little as $719. Cheap domestic flights to Chicago or New York can cost as little as $50, Seghi said.

SAS prices include round-trip air fare from Chicago, one night in Copenhagen, a Scandinavian breakfast, transfers in Copenhagen to Munich, Germany, transportation to the airport to the hotel and seven nights in the ski area. Breakfast or breakfast and dinner daily, depending on the hotel, are included. The cost will be:

- $719 to $1,149 to Innsbruck, Austria. Lift tickets are additional and cost $46 for three days or $75 for six days.

- $999 to $1,249 in February and $899 to $1,049 March 4-11 for Saalbach or Hinterglewm, Austria. Visitors fly from Copenhagen to Salzburg. Lift tickets are $115 for six days.

- $814 to $1,264 to Interlaken, Switzerland. Skiers fly first to Zurich and have a choice of four different hotels.

- $999 to $1,249 in February and $899 to $1,049 in March for Zell am See, Austria. Lift tickets are $115 for six days.

- $1,049 to $1,149 in February and $949 to $1,049 in March for Canazei in the Italian Alps. Lift tickets are $115 for six days. Flight is first to Verona, Italy, from Copenhagen.

Can Am Travel in Southfield offers similar tours with slightly lower rates, according to travel agent Frank Roye.

CAN AM HAS nine-day escorted packages, with air fare from Chicago, New York or Boston and six-night accommodations for $699 three weekends in March.

The package includes trips to Switzerland or Austria. Other packages to Interlaken, Switzerland, cost $929 to $1,009 for better accommodations and include air fare from Detroit.

Skiers can visit Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, for $849 to $1,079, including air fare out of Detroit.

Most packages, according to travel agents, do not include lift tickets. So plan on adding another $120 or more to the cost.

Agents suggest that individuals book their reservations with a travel agency for overseas travel.

Unless they are familiar with the terrain and the culture, skiers may find themselves spending more than they planned once they arrive, Seghi said.

"My saying is it's never too early to start planning, only too late," Seghi said. "If you know where you want to go and you know what you want, get started."

A flowing color scheme works best

A LETTER from a reader: Because of major purchases, such as a rust-colored couch and a home with a brick fireplace, I feel stuck with earth tones. To update the look, I have played up peach and blue accent colors with some success. My question: Can I switch color schemes to pink, rose mauve combinations in rooms not part of the downstairs flow? I'm thinking of the downstairs powder room and the upstairs bath (main) and master bedroom with tan carpet. What do you suggest?

A. I like to see a color scheme in a house that flows. Why not take your accent colors and use them. The pink and blue will work well with your tan carpet.

LOST AND FOUND: Decorative Interiors, a design studio known for carrying the unusual in accessories.

I admired the window display when they were on the Boardwalk on Orchard Lake Road. Then suddenly, it seems, they disappeared. Not so, however — they're alive and well and still carrying the same wonderful appointments — such things as fancy glass, Ve-Art pieces, wall hangings of silver and gold lame. Not only are these items on the floor, but upholstered pieces and case goods from major manufacturers of designer furniture as well.

The new location is the Southfield Tech Center, 21767 Melrose, Southfield.

IF YOU ARE UNHAPPY about the space your ironing board is occupying, I have discovered a perfect solution.

Farmington Kitchen Cabinets have a drop-in ironing board which can be set into the space of a kitchen drawer.

You will, of course, lose the drawer space, but think of never having to drag your out ironing board and regain the room it takes propped up against a wall in a closet. The installation, by the way, is simple and one you can do yourself.

Been running late? allow extra time

Q. I am frustrated because I am always running late. How can I be prompt more of the time?

A. Not only is it frustrating to you; what consistently late people may not realize is that their tardiness not only affects themselves negatively, it usually perturbs others even more. When you are late with assignments, the boss is upset; "grand entrances" at dinner annoy the hostess and leave guests with growling stomachs; being late for meetings or appointments wastes others' time, arriving late at church or a movie distracts others; etc. None of these actions seem very endearing.

Arising: some people "just can't get up" when the alarm goes off. "I've always been that way", they explain. Humbug! You can do whatever you decide to do. If you decide you can't get up, you can't. If you decide you can, you can. Most of those people simply do not want to face the day (perhaps with good reason . . .)

Unrealistic expectations: Maybe you really can't get everything done that you think you can. Try saying no more often.

Power: Even children learn a false sense of power by dragging their feet. No one is more powerful than the 3-year-old who has to potty just as the family is trying to get off to a movie. While most people don't do this consciously, some continue to practice the mismanagement of time into adulthood.

Attention-getting: All of the above scenarios definitely command attention; not positive or desirable — but attention just the same. Surely the mature individual would be better off with a more successful way of gaining attention.

Importance: Some purposely run late to impress others with how busy they are, equating "busyness" with success. What they do not understand is that successful people usually have things under control, while unsuccessful ones don't.

Timing tasks: One of my students timed how long it took to apply makeup and found it took exactly twice as long as she thought. "No wonder I'm always late", she exclaimed.

Always allow at least five or 10 minutes extra when preparing for anything. Then if you are early you can utilize that time by doing one extra thing you wished you had time for, relaxing with the newspaper or driving slower with less tension. Try it; you'll like it.

A selection of eight one and two-bedroom floor plans offers interiors designed with a wide choice of luxurious features at the Village Green on Franklin. Interior amenities include cathedral ceilings, window seats and oversized windows and decorator window treatments throughout.

Classic look

New Village Green is more traditional

DESIGNER DECORATED model residences now are open for private preview at the Village Green of Franklin, the luxury community of 216 garden apartments currently nearing completion at the corner of Franklin and 11 Mile roads in Southfield.

Set on 14 gently sloping acres dotted with mature trees, the Village Green on Franklin's classic architecture blends white brick and siding with green shingle roofs and trim in two- and three-story traditionally-styled buildings. A selection of eight one- and two-bedroom apartment floor plans offers interiors designed with a wide choice of features.

The apartments include such amenities as: cathedral ceilings, wood-burning fireplaces, custom-style kitchens with pantries, microwave ovens, oversized windows, window seats, decorator window treatments throughout, individual intrusion alarms, large private balconies or patios, choice of two decorator color schemes, walk-in closets, individually controlled heating and air conditioning, washer-dryer connections (washer-dryers optional), private first-floor town-house style entrances, energy efficient and sound conditioned construction.

ALSO NEARING COMPLETION is the private Village Green on Franklin clubhouse. Residents will be able to take advantage of the 3,500-square-foot facility boasting a two-story great room with fireplace, an elegant entrance foyer and a dramatic spiral staircase, loft area and outdoor balcony.

Also offered in the clubhouse will be a gourmet kitchen, large screen television, billiards, men's and women's locker rooms with showers, social sauna, full-circuit weight room and aerobic studio.

The exterior amenities will include a swimming pool accented by a cascading waterfall, gazebo, multilevel trellised sun decks, all-season heated whirlpool-hot tub and sand volleyball court.

A brick-paved boulevard entrance with a card-key security entry system welcomes guests and residents. A blend of naturally wooded and extensively landscaped terrain provides an ideal setting for the reflecting pond's picturesque fountain, jogging, tennis court and children's tot-

lot. Adjacent to the Village Green on Franklin is the city of Southfield's Optimist Park with five acres of recreational facilities, including baseball diamonds.

Developer is the third-generation real estate development firm of Holtzman and Silverman, headquartered in Farmington Hills. The Village Green on Franklin is a sister development to the 434-apartment community, the Village Green of Southfield, completed in the summer of 1987, on 12 Mile Road between Telegraph and Northwestern roads.

Overwhelming success of that community prompted the firm to introduce the more intimately-scaled, classically designed Village Green on Franklin, according to a company spokesman.

The success could be repeated. In the short time of its availability, the Village Green on Franklin has enjoyed highly favorable public response from the beginning of preleasing activity in mid-September 1987, according to a Holtzman-Silverman spokesman. With preleasing exceeding projections, the community will be more than 50 percent preleased upon first resident occupancy at the end of this month. In the coming months, leasing is expected to continue at a brisk pace. The apartments should be fully leased when construction finishes in May of this year, a spokesman added.

Leasing hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Private appointments may be arranged by calling Bari Berkowitz at 746-0020.
