Officer gets credited for saving life

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

A Canton police officer is credited with saving the life of a second officer in the shooting of a man who has been charged with armed robbery, according to an internal investigation by Canton police.

Officer David Boljesic, who returned to regular patrol duties in mid-August after three years as a community relations officer, is credited with saving the life of officer Joseph Bippus, who was rushed by a knife-wielding assailant following the robbery of a convenience store in Canton on Sunday, Sept. 10.

"There was no question in his mind he was going to be stabbed. He believed the assailant was going to kill him," said John Santomauro, public safety director, in releasing results of the investigation that includes accounts from both officers and five witnesses.

Jeffrey Bushbacher, 31, of Westland, is in stable condition in the Westland Medical Center with bullet wounds to the left elbow, left thigh and stomach. He was arraigned Tuesday in the hospital on armed robbery charges stemming from an incident at the Dairy Mart on Warren Road.

The shooting of Bushbacher by the Canton officers was also investigated by the State Police, who concluded both officers acted in self defense, according to Detective Sgt. Greg Leech, who submitted findings to the Wayne County prosecutor Friday.

Bippus

Boljesic

"THERE IS NO question about it. We have a situation where one officer was saved by another," Santomauro said, adding both officers "exhibited exemplary restraint and courage in an adverse situation."

Boljesic, a four-year veteran of the force, and Bippus, hired last year, returned to work today from temporary paid leaves.

Acting on tips supplied by two youths at the scene of the holdup, Boljesic and Bippus stopped Bushbacher, who was driving east on Joy Road shortly after the robbery. Police say Bushbacher emerged from his vehicle and, brandishing a knife overhead, rushed Bippus, ignoring repeated orders to halt.

When he was four feet from Bippus, Boljesic fired two shots, followed by a single shot from Bippus. The knife was retrieved at the scene.

Parents get calls on youth curfew

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

The parents of two 16-year-old youths were abruptly roused from deep sleep early Sunday morning when Canton police called to say both boys had been cited for violating the township's curfew.

Would parents please come and collect their teens, police asked.

The boys, one from Farmington Hills and the other from Traverse City, were spotted driving in what police called an aimless manner on Brookshire and Wickfield roads shortly after 3 a.m..

When stopped, they told police they were on their way to the Pickwick subdivision to collect a friend for an early morning ride.

Police rejected the plans and cited both boys with curfew violation, holding them at the police station until parents arrived.

"FOR SOME PARENTS, the phone call is quite a surprise. Sometimes they don't even know their kids have been out for the evening," Canton public information office Patrick Nemecek said.

In this instance, both sets of parents fetched the youths who must now appear in Wayne County juvenile court and face punishment.

Sunday's incident is one of a handful this year in Canton Township. Since January, police have cited youths in a dozen instances who have violated a township ordinance which sets the curfew for 11- and 12-year olds at 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. and for 13- to 16-year-olds at midnight to 6 a.m.

"The point of the curfew law is to take juveniles off the street and take away the temptation of misbehavior," Nemecek said, adding the law is applied with restraint.

If a youngster is on the street after curfew but is thought to be on his or her way home, officers will call the parents but will not write citations.

Those who are cited face punishments that include performing community service work or, in extreme instances, being placed under court supervision or on probation.

Trash dumping costs on rise

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

The cost to get rid of your trash is going up.

Dumping fees this year will be more than Plymouth city officials planned, and will likely spark a 5-percent cut in the city's 1989-90 fiscal year budget.

This 1989-90 fiscal year, the city may have to pay as much as $300,000 more than anticipated in dumping fees to the firm operating the dump used by all three communities, said William Graham, acting city manager.

Next week, Canton Township trustees will also take up the issue, as the township will pay $295,000 more this year to dump trash than last year.

In Plymouth Township, officials anticipated continued rate increases, and more than doubled the fee charged to residents to pick up trash — from $4 to $11 per month, announced earlier this year.

THE ARBOR HILLS Landfill, at Six Mile and Napier in Salem Township, is raising its rates Oct. 1.

The rate increases are needed to pay for environmental improvements to the site, company officials said. Those improvements include a new leak system and liner, said landfill manager Dan Nelson.

The landfill's rate for accepting compacted trash is rising from $6.50 per cubic yard to $9.90 Oct. 1, Nelson said.

IN DECIDING where to find the money to pay for the increase, "We'll look through the budget in its entirety," rather than cut one area, Graham said.

Graham plans to schedule a meeting of city department heads on the matter, he said.

"We'll say, 'We need 5 percent out of your budget,'" he said.

"You have some department heads who run a very tight budget, and it can be very hard to find it," Graham said.

"Some may have a lot of discretionary income. (In those departments) they may have to put off buying a piece of equipment until next year," he said.

The city wouldn't save money by trucking its trash to a dump with cheaper rates but farther away, Graham said. That's because costs to haul it farther would push total costs too high.

Severing ties:

Canton will pay some legal fees for Chuhran

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

Canton Township trustees closed another chapter in what is described as the community's lowest political point by agreeing to pay attorney fees for a former township clerk who sued the board four years ago.

"A resolution to this matter would put the township one step closer to severing all ties with Linda Chuhran," said Thomas Yack, township supervisor, in presenting the item during a regular meeting last week.

Chuhran, elected to a single four-year term as clerk in 1984, sued then-supervisor James Poole in 1985, claiming he interfered with her duties. She later sued trustees. The suit is no longer active.

Trustee John Preniczky, who was in office when the suit was filed, moved to pay attorney Alan Helmkamp $6,299, half of the total due for services rendered Chuhran and her husband, Terry.

Another $19,348 remains outstanding to attorney P. Kelly O'Dea, who also represented the Chuhrans while she was clerk.

"THE LAW SAYS if she filed suit in her role as clerk, the township is liable (for attorney fees). The debate is whether the suit is frivolous, which I think it was. But a judge may look upon it differently," Preniczky said in recommending payment.

'The debate is whether the suit is frivolous, which I think it was. But a judge may look upon it differently.'
— Trustee John Preniczky

Helmkemp, whose bill is $12,927, agreed to partial payment. If the suit were found valid in court, the township would be liable for the entire amount.

Full liability is a possibility, according to township treasurer Jerry Brown who also served as a trustee during Chuhran's tenure.

"There is just enough meat, just enough fringe areas to give the suit validity," Brown said. "The people are really going to scream about payment, but there's no way out of this."

Trustee Elaine Kirchgatter, who opposed payment, said taxpayers should not foot legal services that

Convenience store robbed

The Hop-In Convenience Store on Michigan Avenue was robbed early Friday morning by three unarmed assailants who knocked one clerk unconscious with a pot of scalding coffee and threatened another with a coke bottle.

Three men entered the store at 3 a.m. and demanded money of the clerk behind the counter. The second clerk was in the back room. The men escaped on foot with an undisclosed sum of cash. The injured clerk was treated for cuts and burns at Annapolis Hospital in Garden City and released.

The assailants were described as slim black males in their early 20s, ranging in height from 5-feet, 8-inches to 5-feet 11-inches. One had N'a shaved in his closely cropped hair. Men of the same description were reported cruising the Hop-In parking lot in Ypsilanti, driving a Le Sabre Buick with an Alabama license plate.

This is the second township robbery in a week. There were a total of 47 robberies in Canton last year.

BLAZING CAR: A Canton man was charged with arson Wednesday in the fire of a former roommate's 1975 Nova Chevrolet. The victim, also a Canton resident, told police this is the second car that has burned since he asked the former roommate to move. The victim also said there was an earlier fire in his home.

The Nova blaze was reported early Wednesday morning by a passing motorist who also witnessed the suspect running from the fire. The car was a total loss. The victim said he had purchased the car one month ago and carries only only liability insurance.

NAKED MOTORIST: Two 14-year-old girls walking home from the Willow Creek Party Store on Michigan Avenue were accosted Saturday by a naked man driving a black Chevrolet Blazar. The girls, one from Canton and the other from Belleville, told police the man drove past them three times. He then stopped the car, made sexual comments and got out of the car totally naked, police records said.

The girls ran to a nearby home and called police. The man was described as in his mid- to late 40s, 5 feet, 9 inches tall and weighing about 165 pounds. He has moustache, a full beard and brown hair.

NOISY PROBLEM: A Canton man who lives directly behind the Great Scott! store on Ford Road filed a noise complaint against the store Friday. He said he has been regularly awakened very early in the morning for two months, by engine noise from a refrigerated semi-trailer parked behind the store and close to the man's bedroom window. The man said he has discussed the problem with the manager of Great Scott but there has been no resolution.

Township noise ordinances prohibit "the prolonged idling, excessive running or revving of an engine that causes an unusual disturbance or excessive noise."

DOG BITES: In three unrelated incidents last week, Canton residents received medical care for dog bites. On Wednesday, a 14-year-old girl was bitten by a male boxer owned by a sister-in-law. The girl, whose finger was broken, told police the attack was unprovoked. She was not playing with or bothering the dog at the time of the incident.

In an unrelated incident on the same day, a 29-year-old man was bit in the upper left arm by a mixed labrador-shepherd male dog that jumped a fence at a home in the 44000 block of Whitman.

On Monday, a large black dog bit a 15-year-old boy in the right shoulder. The youth was treated at the Westland Medical Center and released.

Contractors are fined in collapse of building

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

'When you take braces off a building before structural integrity is achieved, it's going to come down.'
— Joseph Wrzesinski
state labor department

Carmelo Naccarto, a Dearborn Heights developer whose office building in Canton Township collapsed and injured two while it was under construction, has been fined $2,000 by the state Department of Labor for violation of state law.

A subcontractor on the job, Steve O'Guin Construction of Taylor, whose owner was injured in the collapse, was fined $200 by the labor department.

Both fines are for "placing employees in conditions with recognized hazards likely to cause harm," according to Joseph Wrzesinski, chief of construction safety for the state labor department.

O'Guin received four broken ribs when an estimated 180 feet of the building collapsed Aug. 4. Another employee, Jeff Schaffer of Canton, suffered a broken foot.

Both men were installing roofing tresses when the partially completed structure collapsed after support bracing had been removed.

"WHEN YOU TAKE braces off a building before structural integrity is achieved, it's going to come down," Wrzesinski said, adding the bracing had been removed for use elsewhere on the project.

Naccarto, whose first name was previously identified by the labor department as Carmen, owns and was developing the property on Lilley Road in Canton where the incident occured.

Naccarto and O'Guin were cited Sept. 2 and have 15 working days to appeal. If an appeal has not been filed by Sept. 22, the fines are due and payable, according to Wrzesinski.

Labor department officials were notified of a problem at the site after the building had collapsed. The department has no power to revoke licensing but may shut down jobs if sites are investigated and found to pose imminent danger, Wrzesinski said.

New foundation moving ahead

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

A new day is dawning in Canton Township, as dedicated activists move forward in realizing ambitious goals set by the Canton Community Foundation.

Formation of a scholarship program chaired by school board trustee David Artley and an arts council were announced late last week, in addition to business donations and individual pledges amounting to approximately $60,000 for foundation efforts.

"We're legitimate," William Joyner said.

Joyner and township Supervisor Thomas Yack conceived and implemented the concept of a community foundation that deputy Wayne County executive Michael Duggan has characterized as "unparalleled" in scope and vision.

The organization, aimed at renewed community vitality, will sponsor community services and activities, with events coordinated by Joyner and Cynthia Burgess, both of the Public Administration Research Group.

"One person with one idea can go a long way," said the foundation's founding president, Canton businessman Dan Heskett. "Imagine where 100 people with 100 ideas can go."

BORN OF AN unusual idea, foundation members seem bent on promoting creativity.

Scholarship program committee members will concern themselves not only "with A students, who always get considered (for scholarships), but with B students who do very well but don't often get considered," said Artley, founding chairperson.

Using money raised from such events as the Canton Football Night scheduled in mid-October, scholarships will likely be available to students considering college education by the 1990 school year. Athletic director Eugene Smith of Eastern Michigan University and Michael Gaubatz are assisting Artley.

Other immediate plans include providing cardiopulmnary resuscitation training for community restaurant owners and employees, and appointing a service club council to coordinate and promote community activities and membership.

FINANICAL DONORS include such varied contributors as community businesses (such as Tyrrell Electric and Greenfield Die and Machine), the Sunflower Homeowners Association and individuals (Norman and Janice Cepela).

"Canton Community Foundation. Has a good sound to it, huh?" Burgess said during kickoff ceremonies last week.

Doctor adds world view to state council

By M.B. Dillon

people

A retired Plymouth Township physician who once ministered to the children of the ruling families of Kuwait has been appointed to the state Mental Health Advisory Council-by Gov. James Blanchard.

Jamil Kheder, 71, brings a wealth of experience to the 12-member council, which attempts to improve mental health programs by making recommendations to the governor, legislators and the Department of Mental Health.

A native of Iraq, Kheder has lived in the Plymouth community since 1963, when he was recruited by the state to direct the outpatient department of the Plymouth State Home and Training School, which is now closed.

CURRENTLY, KHEDER is program chairperson for the Arab-Chaldean Social Services Council, a post that has helped prepare him for his new role.

"We started nine years ago to take care of recent immigrants from the Arab countries, basically from the Middle East, and particularly Lebanon and Syria," said Kheder, whose son, Noble, preceded Agnes Mansour as director of the state Department of Social Services.

"We help them to get established, and guide them to whatever they need."

Immigrants may avail themselves of services dealing with mental health, social adjustment, substance abuse, job training, child care and transportation.

"IT IS helping the whole system by assisting people who have a language barrier or a lack of training in certain things," said Kheder, who before his retirement in 1982 served on the staffs of Wayne State University and Wyandotte General Hospital.

"This gets them into the mainstream, eliminating them from dependence on financial support. It decreases the reliance on public assistance, which is demeaning."

Given the size of the Detroit-area's Arab population, that's not a small undertaking.

"The largest grouping of Middle Easterners outside the Middle East, better than a quarter million," resides in metropolitan Detroit, Kheder said.

KHEDER CAME TO Michigan from Ohio State University, where he served as medical director of the Birth Defects Clinical Study Center of Children's Hospital, affiliated with Ohio State.

Kheder moved from Iraq to Columbus in 1948 to accept a medical scholarship. The pediatrician was one of just seven candidates from all over the world to receive an American Academy of Pediatric Research fellowship.

He received his medical degree from Baghdad University in 1943. From 1943-48, Kheder worked as a medical officer with Baghdad University, with the Iraqi army as a reserve medical officer and for the government's Venereal Diseases Outpatient Clinic.

Having raised two daughters and two sons in Buckeye country before moving to Wolverine territory makes for interesting football Saturdays, Kheder said.

"My kids (Noble, Niran Mary, Susan and Joseph) know Columbus is their home. But I say whoever wins, I am a winner," said Kheder, who holds a master of public health degree from the University of Michigan.

IN THE 1960s, Kheder was among a small group of area health professionals who revolutionized the mental health system.

Mentally impaired individuals "were being warehoused all over the country," Kheder said.

"When I came here, patients who were mentally retarded were institutionalized by the court. It was a very inefficient way to choose patients for admission.

"The thing I did immediately was to get an extensive assessment of that patient, regardless of the court order," said Kheder, who involved psychologists, social workers, nurses and other medical professionals in the process.

In 1965, "we were able to convince the court not to commit until we evaluated the patient. That very much affected the incidence of unnecessary commitment to the state."

Kheder also was instrumental in "eliminating the so-called treatment of applying straitjackets for the convenience of staff."

KHEDER HAS fond memories of working with a "brilliant psychologist" who served as director of programs at the Plymouth State home, or Plymouth Center for Human Development. The psychologist, Bob Geake, is now a Republican state senator.

Hotel is asked to drop contamination suit

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

'We want the thing to receive top priority, just like the spill up in Alaska. It's not moving along as quickly as I'd like it to, but at the same time, we're sort of at their mercy in a sense.'
—Michael Southerland
attorney

Amoco Oil Co. is asking the Mayflower Hotel to drop its suit over underground contamination in downtown Plymouth, and to instead take the matter to arbitration.

Michael Southerland, attorney for Ralph Lorenz of the Mayflower Hotel, has rejected the idea.

"Before we even consider something like that, we want to see some good-faith as far as them acknowledging responsibility" for the underground oil spill, said Southerland.

While Amoco has agreed to clean up the contamination, "they are not admitting as a matter of law that they were the causative agent," said Southerland.

"If they're going to have us jump through scientific and legal hoops to prove that they're the cause of the problem, my feeling is they probably are not going to be as cooperative as I would have hoped. I will be happy remaining in federal court contending unwarranted denial of responsibility."

For years, fuel from underground tanks at the Amoco service station at Ann Arbor Trail and Main Street seeped into soil and groundwater. The area has been on a Michigan Department of Natural Resources list of contaminated sites since 1979.

The DNR and the state attorney general's office recently launched an investigation of Amoco after learning that no other company operating in Michigan has more contaminated sites.

AMOCO'S LEGAL department referred calls to its public affairs department.

Walt Brown of Amoco's public affairs office said he was unable to get any information concerning the arbitration request.

"I can't get anybody who can answer that. But in general, we are interested in resolving the matter short of court action," he said.

Brown said a cleanup plan has been submitted to Amoco by its consultant, Neyer, Tiseo & Hindo Ltd. of Farmington Hills, and is being reviewed now by Amoco. Amoco won't divulge details of the cleanup proposal until it is submitted to the affected property owners — Lorenz, the city of Plymouth, and the Box Bar and Grill — and the DNR.

A cleanup plan must be accepted by all affected property owners before the DNR will review it, according to David Rymph, DNR environmental quality manager.

Southerland and Lorenz are growing increasingly frustrated with Amoco's lack of progress.

"We want the thing to receive top priority, just like the spill up in Alaska. It's not moving along as quickly as I'd like it to, but at the same time, we're sort of at their mercy in a sense," said Southerland.

Southerland would like the state "rather than even worrying about Amoco's additional sites, to jump on ours and say this has been around long enough; this is your responsibility. Let's do something about that.

"When Amoco is owed money, I don't think they want to wait around like we have done," said Southerland.

Brown said Amoco "is committed to cleaning it up in a manner that will be satisfactory. It isn't as if we have ben sitting on our hands not trying to do this. We submitted something that we thought was OK. Others said it wasn't."

That initial cleanup plan, presented last March, was rejected by the city of Plymouth and Lorenz. Ron Lowe, Plymouth city attorney, discounted it because while it would have withdrawn underground air and organic vapors, it didn't address the removal of loose product.

Rescue switch expected

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

In an effort to quicken the time emergency medical crews respond to citizen calls for help, Plymouth city officials Monday are scheduled to consider changing carriers.

The city administration is recommending that the Plymouth City Commission switch from CEMS of Novi — which has performed the service for the city for five years — to Huron Valley Ambulance of Ann Arbor.

The commission meeting is at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Should the commission vote to switch carriers, "It won't cost us a dime (extra)," said Paul Sincock, assistant city manager.

THE RECOMMENDED switch in report prepared by the city fire department for May through mid-August.

The report showed that CEMS averaged nine minutes to get to the site of an emergency medical call.

Fire Chief Alan Matthews has cited studies that show heart attack victims' survival rates increase dramatically if an emergency unit arrives and treatment begins within eight minutes.

CEMS officials question how the city has calculated and evaluated the company's response times, Sincock said.

"THE CEMS representatives indicated that they would like an opportunity to submit a proposal to the city to continue to provide a higher level of advanced life support ambulance service," Sincock wrote in a letter to William Graham, acting city manager.

The commission was scheduled to take up this issue at the Sept. 4 commission meeting.

But because the CEMS proposal wasn't relayed to individual commissioners in sufficient time before that meeting — so commissioners could review it before voting — a vote was rescheduled for Monday.

Should the commission follow the recommendation of the city administration and hire Huron Valley Ambulance, Sincock said the company would begin providing the service on or before Jan. 1.

The city could continue to employ CEMS, or use Plymouth Fire Department emergency medical crews until the new company takes over, he said.

Tank removal costs jump

When Plymouth-Canton school officials decided to replace underground fuel tanks at the district's bus yard this summer, it was hoped costs wouldn't exceed $74,500.

But the total cost has jumped to more than $300,000, Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent for business, told board members at last week's meeting.

The added cost was incurred when soil contaminated with hydrocarbons was discovered in the area surrounding the tanks.

Approximately 2,200 cubic yards of contaminated soil was removed and taken to a dump at a cost of $65 per cubic yard, or $143,000, Hoedel said.

"We also have to have a ground water purging system. The remaining water has to be purified and returned to the ground. That could cost more than $100,000. So the total project including the original contract is about $387,000," Hoedel said.

District officials are hopeful the state will pick up most of the tab under the Michigan Underground Storage Tank Act.

"Potentially, the reimbursement to us could be about $300,000. There's a $10,000 deductible we know we won't get back," Hoedel said.

Asked by a board member how long it will take for the district to receive a clean bill of health, Hoedel said it depends.

"Under the basic process, we make application to the Department of Natural Resources. We're hoping that since this is on Plymouth-Canton property, and not residential, and because there's just borderline contamination, that they'll say we're fine. If we set up a ground water purging system, we would probably have a clean bill of health by spring."

Plymouth-Canton Schools

SQUIRREL POWER: Thousands of Plymouth-Canton students who enjoyed an extra day off Labor Day weekend because of a power outage have a sharp-toothed squirrel to thank.

Superintendent John Hoben updated school board members on the incident at last week's meeting.

"The feeling is the power failure was caused by a squirrel," he said. "The fences around Isbister were electrified at some point.

"This did highlight a number of things as it relates to emergencies," Hoben said. "There are limited windows at Salem, and it was completely dark. There are some windows at Canton, and Salem kids were sent to Canton."

The problem basically created a mess at the high schools and the affected elementaries, Hoben said.

BOARD OFFICE: School board members unanimously gave the go-ahead last week for Carse Associates Inc., a Plymouth architectural firm, to proceed with plans for the $925,000 expansion and renovation of the board office at 454 S. Harvey.

The money was approved by voters in a 1986 bond issue.

The expansion will entail the leveling of the two homes west of Bob Bake Realty to make room for parking. The project also entails a new federal colonial facade for the building.

The job is targeted for completion in September 1990.

"We look forward to working with the district," said Erick Carne of Carne Associates Inc.

"We hope this will be completed as expeditiously as other bond projects," president Dean Swartzwelter said.

Among those 17 projects were asbestos removal, the construction of Hoben Elementary and roof replacement.

PARENT MEETING: Parents of seventh graders may attend an evening orientation program at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 25, in the West Middle School cafeteria. Study skills, time management and curriculum issues will be discussed with parents. The presentations will be by the building counselor and administrators.

EXCHANGE STUDENT: Patricia Cooper of Canton recently returned from a Summer abroad as a Youth For Understanding (YFU) International Exchange student. Cooper lived with the Lecoffre family in France. She is the daughter of Lena and Joseph Cooper and attended Plymouth-Salem High School prior to her departure.

Bushbacher, who was previously convicted in 16th District Court of assault and battery, credit card misuse and disorderly conduct, is married to the daughter of an area police officer, police said. He is employed by a manufacturing firm in Livonia.

Bushbacher now faces an Oct. 13 district court preliminary hearing on charges he used an unidentified object described as a long screwdriver or an ice pick to rob the Dairy Mart of $350. The weapon has not been recovered. District Court Judge John MacDonald set bail at $500,000 cash.

FOLLOWING THE early evening robbery and shooting, it was erroneously reported in a television newscast that Canton police had shot an unarmed assailant.

"Such reporting is the source of great concern," Santomauro said. The station broadcast a clarification the following day, but it was also damaging because it implied officer misconduct, according to Santomauro.

Police shootings are automatically investigated by State Police, Leech said, especially when jurisdiction is unclear.

Bushbacher was shot on Joy near Haggerty. Joy is the dividing road between Plymouth and Canton townships.

Additional charges against Bushbacher are unlikely, according to Richard Padziesky, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, who reviewed findings of the state police investigation.

Trash dumping costs are going up

CANTON FINANCE director John Spencer said, "This is a horrendous increase," almost four times larger than previously announced increases.

While township trustees will take up the issue Sept. 26, Spencer said it's likely the rising costs will come out of the township's $4.3 million budget surplus.

"In general, we have been aware of public opinion on environmental issues as well as have all the politicians," Nelson said. "In the past we have tried to build our landfills to be environmentally sound."

Nelson said the public wants even more care taken in the construction of landfills, and Arbor Hills is meeting that wish.

Improvements to the dump also include a cover to keep rainfall out and a gas removal system.

Canton Library gets $2,000 gift

The Canton Public Library recently received a gift of $2,000 from the Detroit-based Herrick Foundation, Jean Tabor, library director has announced.

The library will use the funds to print sufficient quantities of its services brochure so that all Canton elementary school children can take a copy home.

The services brochure is a 10-page introduction to the library that describes materials and services available at the library. The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools are cooperating to distribute the brochures.

The Herrick Foundation in 1986 granted the library $5,000 toward the cost of constructing its new facility on Canton Center Road.

"were a matter of personal choice and completely unwarranted. It's a moral and ethical matter."

Preniczky agrees. "As a matter of principle, we shouldn't pay. The suit was so irresponsible. But let's get this behind us."

Chuhran, contacted by phone following the meeting, refused comment on the issue.

"I WAS RUN over the coals for a long time. I have nothing to say now," she said. Chuhran, now a part-time real estate agent for an area firm, also declined comment on her present activities.

"I'm no longer a public employee. It's nobody's business what I'm doing," she said.

Chuhran's tenure as clerk from 1984 to 1988 was controversial from the beginning. Within a year of election she sued Poole for interfering with her powers and duties. She soverran the budget for the clerk's office and was admonished by trustees for her general conduct.

Also, she was embroiled in allegations of misuse of a township vehicle, including an accident and a second incident in which she was accused of running another motorist off the road.

When a Wayne Circuit judge dismissed Chuhran's suit against Poole in early 1986, she filed suit against the township board, charging them with interfering with her state-mandated responsibilities.

Following the suit, a former township treasurer mounted an unsuccessful recall campaign against Chuhran.

By 1987, press accounts characterized her relationship with trustees as circus-like and by 1988 relations with township officials became so strained the township's Merit Commission, which represents election officials in the township, was asked to try resolving the disputes.

AMENDMENT TO SECTION 54.030 OF CHAPTER 54 OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCE OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 54.030 OF CHAPTER 54 OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH; PROVIDING FOR THE OBJECTIONS TO RENEWAL AND REQUEST FOR REVOCATION; ESTABLISHING THE PROCEDURE THEREFORE; ESTABLISHING THE CRITERIA FOR NON-RENEWAL AND REVOCATION AND PROVIDING THE DEFINITION OF NUISANCE; PROVIDING FOR THE SEVERABILITY OF THIS ORDINANCE; PROVIDING FOR THE REPEAL OF ALL OTHER INCONSISTENT ORDINANCES; PROVIDING FOR THE SAVINGS CLAUSE OF THIS ORDINANCE; AND PROVIDING FOR THE PUBLICATION AND EFFECTIVE DATE OF THE ORDINANCE.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1:

That Section 54.030 of Chapter 54 of the Code of Ordinances of the Charter Township of Plymouth is hereby amended to read as follows:

54.030. Objections to Renewal and Request for Revocation.

(A) Procedure.

Before filing an objection to renewal or request for revocation of a license with the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, the Township Board shall serve the license holder, by first class mail, mailed not less than ten (10) days prior to hearing, a Notice of Hearing, which notice shall contain the following:

1) Notice of proposed action;
2) Reasons for the proposed action;
3) Date, time and place of hearing;
4) A statement that the licensee may present evidence and testimony and confront adverse witnesses.

Following a hearing by the Board, the Township Board shall submit to the license holder and the commission a written statement of its findings and determination.

B) Criteria for Non-Renewal or Revocation.

The Township Board shall recommend by majority vote non-renewal or revocation of a license upon a determination by it that based upon competent, material and substantial evidence presented at a hearing either of the following exist:

1) Violation of any restrictions on licenses set forth in paragraph 54.020(B)(1) through (12) above; or
2) Maintenance of a nuisance upon the premises. A "nuisance" is defined as follows:
   a) Selling or furnishing alcoholic liquor, on at least three separate occasions in a single calendar year, to a person who is less than 21 years of age, provided that such sale and furnishing does not involve the use of falsified or fraudulent identification by the person who is less than 21 years of age;
   b) Allowing the premises to be used for the unlawful manufacturing, bartering, using or furnishing of any controlled substance as defined by the laws of the State of Michigan;
   c) Allowing the premises to be used for the purpose of lewdness, prostitution or gambling; or
   d) Any other acts or conduct which, by competent, material or substantial evidence, the Township Board declares to be a nuisance, PROVIDED, that such nuisance is subject to injunction and/or abatement as provided by the laws of the State of Michigan.

Section 2: Severability.

If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph, or part of this ordinance, or the application thereof to any person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstance, shall be for any reason adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, said judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of this ordinance and the application of such provision to other persons, firms, corporations, legal entities or circumstances by said judgment shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, section, paragraph, or part of this Ordinance thereof directly involved in the case of controversy in which said judgment shall have been rendered and to the person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstance then and there involved. It is hereby declared to be in the legislative intent of the body that the ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provision not been included in this ordinance.

Section 3: Repeal.

Section 54.030 of Chapter 54 of the Code of Ordinances of the Charter Township of Plymouth and all other ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance are, to the extent of such inconsistencies, hereby repealed.

Section 4: Savings Clause.

The balance of Chapter 54 of the Code of Ordinances of the Charter Township of Plymouth, except as herein amended, shall remain in full force and effect. The repeal provided herein shall not abrogate or affect any offense or act committed or done, or any penalty or forfeiture incurred, or any pending fees, assessments, litigation or prosecution of any right established, occurring prior to the effective date hereof.

Section 5: Publication.

This clerk shall cause this ordinance to be published in the manner required by law.

Section 6: Effective Date.

This ordinance shall become effective immediately upon publication.

This Ordinance was duly adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth at its regular meeting called and held on the 12th day of September, 1989, and was ordered to be given publication in the manner required by law.

Sheriff: Drivers will be stopped in drug fight

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

As soon as tomorrow, drivers in western Wayne County could be stopped at a police check point as part of a crackdown against illegal drugs.

An experimental check point will be established in an undisclosed western Wayne County community, Sheriff Robert Ficano said Friday.

All vehicles approaching the check point will be stopped. Drivers will be asked to show their license and registration.

Though he declined to name the site, Ficano said deputies are establishing the check point at the community's request.

The check point is being established in response to traffic complaints, the sheriff said, though a department release added that check points would target, "areas of narcotic activity"

"IF WE'RE going to put some teeth into what we're doing, we're going to have to take drastic steps," he said, pledging to "do everything legally possible" to fight the drug trade.

These are the first such check points authorized since he's been sheriff, Ficano said.

Though state police check lanes for suspected drunken drivers were deemed illegal, Ficano said he believed the new check lanes would pass judicial scrutiny.

"The big difference is that this is not a random search," he said.

Deputies will chase cars attempting to elude the check point by making a U-turn.

The first check lane represents a "pilot program," Ficano said. If successful, check lanes could be established in other suburban communities. At this point, there hasn't been discussion of check lanes in Detroit.

Local police officers may be used in the check points.

'If we're going to put some teeth into what we're doing, we're going to have to take drastic steps.'
— Robert Ficano, Wayne County Sheriff

The procedure follows guidelines set in a Washington, D.C., case decided earlier this year in U.S. Appeals Court. In the case, U.S. v. McFayden, the federal appeals court upheld traffic stops at routine check points.

"If there are valid, reported concerns over traffic then there should be no problem," said chief assistant Wayne County prosecutor George Ward, who advised the sheriff's department on the appeals court ruling. "But, of course, police can keep their eyes open for anything they see."

Signs will mark the check point area.

Rival tax plans aim for '90 ballot

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Anti-tax people can take their pick of two suburban groups working for 1990 ballot proposals to cut property taxes.

"It's better if we let everyone go their own way," said economist Patrick Anderson after the former CUT (Citizens Unfairly Taxed) split Sept. 9. He is allied with former Oakland prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson.

The rival group is keeping the old CUT name and is headed by William D. McMaster, Bloomfield Township public relations man.

"It was a rocky marriage," quipped Patterson, "and I thought it was better to split before we had kids."

HERE ARE the differences:

- The Patterson-Anderson group, which reorganized last weekend, advocates a complex amendment that concentrates on cutting school millage rates and allowing assessments to rise no faster than inflation.
- McMaster's group attacks assessments, the valuation local government puts on land and buildings for tax purposes. It rejected the Anderson-Patterson proposal.

After crediting Patterson and Anderson with much volunteer work, McMaster summed up their differences: "They concentrated their attention on changing the school millage rate that not only wouldn't cut property taxes, but contained provisions that would have guaranteed continued future increases in property tax assessments."

Countered Anderson: "We limit it (assessments) to the inflation rate and new construction."

JUST WHO HAS the right to use the CUT name is unsettled.

McMaster last week issued a statement on behalf of CUT, accusing Patterson and Anderson of "quitting and leaving the meeting. Upon their departure, the majority of the total board members of CUT voted to have McMaster serve as 'acting chairman of the CUT board of directors'."

Anderson's version: "We disbanded the group last Saturday morning (Sept. 9). We had four of the five officers — three there and a proxy.

"He (McMaster) used the name in the press release. But he's not going to be able to use it because we have it registered."

Anderson said a dozen of the 35 board members were with McMaster. Anderson and Patterson say the rest of the board members are with them.

Anderson said it's relatively unimportant who has the CUT name because the group has no treasury. "All the work, the people, the momentum — that comes with us," said Anderson, chief economist of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co. in Farmington Hills.

Each group will need 240,000 legal signatures to get its plan on the ballot — 320,000 actual names to allow a margin for errors.

THE POSITION of Richard Headlee, chief executive of Alexander Hamilton, was unclear.

"Dick was out of town and didn't participate (Sept. 9)," said Anderson. "I talked to him on the phone afterwards, and he didn't seem broken up.

"He has not taken a formal role in the group Patterson and I have. He's very much interested in opposing Proposals A and B on the Nov. 7 ballot. My guess is that he'll just work against A and B."

Headlee chaired the group that won voter approval of the 1978 tax limitation amendment — the so-called Headlee amendment.

Anderson said his group wants to strengthen the Headlee amendment by:

- Reducing school operating property taxes to a 30-mill limit, saving $600 million statewide.
- Allocating more of the state budget to K-12 education without compromising local control.
- Limiting assessment increases to the rate of inflation. Currently the Headlee amendment allows assessments to rise with the market but requires a corresponding tax rate cut if assessment hikes exceed the consumer price index of inflation.

Plymouth remains unchanged

To the editor:

It's pleasant to find unchanging things in a changing world. Plymouth and its Mayflower Hotel are two of these.

It was my custom in the years immediately before and after the Korean War to pause at the Mayflower for lunch two days a week while commuting to the University of Michigan from Detroit to work on my master's degree (eventually in, of all things, Laurel and Hardy.)

That led to bringing my children to the Mayflower for dinner where they could accumulate points as members of The Clean Plate Club. This eventually earned them a free birthday dinner at the Mayflower.

Four of the six (the last two were more Sault Ste. Marie, than Detroit, after I moved north) still have those cards in their scrap books. Including son Karl who lives in Belleville. I wonder if it still applies? He's about 28 now.

My last stay at the Mayflower was upon returning from Europe in 1978 with the Sault's World War I Drum and Bugle Corps who had been to London, Paris and ("Mademoiselle from. . . ") Armentiers to mark the 60th anniversary of the World War I armistice.

They were welcomed in grand style at the Mayflower by your youthful Fyfe and Drum Corps and many local residents, both distinguished and ordinary, friendly, warm-hearted Plymouth citizens.

Our 80-years-old-plus Drum Corps made music with the youngsters until long after their bedtimes (both bed times).

Those gentlemen, including Drum Corps Commander Oral "Moose" LaCombe, now 94, still talk fondly of that trip to Europe, and the wonderful welcome at Plymouth.

This morning (Thursday) I was wandering along Plymouth Road from Ann Arbor (practically bare of traffic, even at the rush hour), saw the Mayflower and stopped for breakfast. The same murals were on the wall and the same friendly, welcoming people. The same good food.

So, I brought my wife back for lunch. We recalled to each other all the silly and nice things our children said over meals at your wonderful hotel.

You have a treasure in the Mayflower. Long may it prevail.

Bus changes draw ire of parents

To the editor:

As the school year begins, parents are again concerned about children's safety. However, it seems the Plymouth-Canton transportation system is not as concerned. Last year bus 30 to Gallimore School stopped at a centrally located stop to pick up children in our addition (Claymore Court East and West). This was a good stop because the children waited at a little-traveled area and did not have to cross busy streets.

This year the transportation department moved these stops to Brunswick Drive and Charrington Drive. Several mothers called in to protest the change because these new stops are on heavier traveled streets and not visible to the parents. Also, most of the children live by the former stops. The transportation director, David Rocker, said these stops were "more efficient." How can the difference of two blocks be more efficient and more important safety-wise than the safe stops of the past few years? And time is certainly not a factor since Bus 30 arrives at school 20 minutes before school starts, which means the children are waiting outside.

Last Spring parents were called via the phones, the media, and children's schools to support Plymouth-Canton schools through higher taxes. We supported this call through volunteer work and voting. Now it seems our voices don't matter. The people paid by our taxes from this voting are turning a deaf ear, preferring to "listen to" a computer, in the (false) name of efficiency. If this is what "I care" and working together means to the school system, don't ask for our support in the future.

Teacher thankful for grants

To the editor:

As I open my classroom and prepare for the new school year I have many fond memories of last year and wish to thank four organizations: the Michigan Council for the Arts, the Plymouth Community Arts Council, the Excellence in Education Foundation, and the EMU Alumni Education Foundation.

I received generous grants from these sources to enhance classroom learning. Students and parents responded positively to the programs and I maintained great enthusiasm for my profession because creative ideas were realized — dreams became activity-based learning.

With the onset of the 1989-90 school year, I (and I'm sure many colleagues) are dreaming of new and different kinds of learning experiences for our students. These organizations and others like them will again receive numerous funding requests.

The members of this community deserve a hearty "thank you," and need to know teachers like me appreciate their generosity when they support the Arts Council, the Excellence in Education Foundation, and college alumni groups.

Your donations very often come back to serve your students and enhance their learning. Thank you for your continued support. Wishing you a grand school year!

Barnaby is way off base

To the editor:

Steve Barnaby is way off base in his column of Aug. 31 about police use of 9mm semiautomatic weapons.

First of all, he refers to the 9mm semiautomatics as "killer-type weapons." I would ask him to show me a revolver that does not fit into the same category.

Barnaby was upset because, an off-duty Livonia police officer "whipped" out his 9mm semiautomatic and "pumped off" seven rounds to stop two thieves from taking his car.

I am not familiar with the incident and I'm not in a position to question the officers judgment. However, I do not see how the incident relates to Barnaby's objection to police officers using 9mm semiautomatics.

The officer could have just as easily shot six times with a revolver.

Barnaby claims semiautomatic weapons are unnecessary and dangerous. If the criminals all carried slingshots, I might agree that they are unnecessary, but they don't.

As far as being dangerous, he is flat out wrong. They are no more dangerous than any other firearm in the hands of a qualified user.

Barnaby advises police officers to wise up and demand weapons, which will make a defense force, not an assault force, but fails to inform us of his weapon of choice. I would be interested to see what his choice would be.

Abortion sends wrong message

To the editor:

Kill it.

That's the message we send with the current attitude towards abortion. I don't care what anyone says, deep down everyone knows it's killing, plain and simple.

So our youth, fresh from the womb, get this distorted view of the value of life.

Measure life by things or by life? War, genocide, abortion, euthanasia, suicide, murder, all answers to problems.

Problem is by the time we notice that the solution is worse than the problem it's started a cycle of killing that's repeated itself throughout history.

I imagine we could solve all of life's problems by killing someone or everyone. Yeah we got some great bombs for that. What self-worth can someone have whose parents aborted their brother or sister. Is this true or untrue?

Truth rings like a bell!

You can call it anything you want, I call it selfish.

Support for homeless is needed now

To the editor:

As a concerned citizen about the problem of homelessness, I am writing about an important event that you will, no doubt, want to write about in your suburban papers. This event is Housing Now! A march on Washington scheduled Oct. 7 to bring pressure on our legislators to take action for affordable housing. As many as 3 million Americans are presently homeless, this is surely a national disgrace.

Last week I heard on the radio that the average cost of a house in this country just topped $100,000. Where will even a small portion of these new homeless save enough for a down payment or qualify for a mortgage. We cannot think it just for some of us to have everything, and others to have nothing.

Groups fighting cocooning trend

Jeff Counts

There were two events in Canton and Plymouth last week with the same message: Get out of your comfortable house and do something for your community.

I liked what I heard at both events.

The first was a kick-off breakfast for the Canton Community Foundation. There, Mike Duggan, the deputy Wayne County executive, talked about a lifestyle called cocooning. Cocooning is when everything is inside your house and you don't have to go outside for anything.

According to Duggan, first there was fast food, which reduced the need to coo, and then there was the microwave, which reduced the need to go out and buy fast food. That's cocooning.

But the folks at the foundation breakfast were doing anything but that. They were out getting involved.

Duggan said he was impressed.

We were too. The Foundation can be what Canton residents want it to be. It can be a catalyst for making things happen in Canton.

Because it's not part of government, it can move quickly on things it wants to do. Right now it's taking aim at encouraging the arts, scholarships and helping the needy.

Since the Foundation started earlier this summer, it has raised more than $50,000. But possibly more important is that it has gotten people involved. More than 100 people showed up at the kick off.

Also, the Foundation has a home. The Canton Historical Commission has provided office space in the recently renovated Cherry Hill School.

And now that the foundation has a lot going for it, I expect some great things from it.

Meanwhile in Plymouth, the United Way kicked off its annual fund-raising drive.

United Way Chairman Christopher Boyle was saying some of the same things as Duggan. Get out and get involved.

The annual drive provides money that agencies in the Plymouth community use to help the needy.

Boyle talked about an era long past during which people in villages would drop extra baked goods off at the homes of the hungry. But the world has changed, and now it's groups like the United Way that are dropping off the extra baked goods.

Both the United Way and the Canton Foundation are looking for commitments of money and time from people.

We just hope people can break out of their cocoons long enough to get the message from both groups and do something about it.

Cocooning may be nice for an evening, but it won't help solve the problems of a community.

We just hope both groups can buck the trend.

Rite stuff: downing an oyster

It used to be true that oysters should only be eaten in months that end with an "r." For all we cared, the months could end in "z," because swallowing one's first raw oyster is a rite of passage reserved for that minute classification of people who dared eat tripe, mountain oysters and snails.

Oysters are neither cute nor do they have a compelling aroma. One must work at loving oysters.

If memory serves me correctly, I was into the age of adulthood before I sampled my first raw oyster. It was somewhere between my second and third new car and well past the age when my driver's license was no longer required proof to enter a bar.

All oysters are considered "filter feeders," meaning that they do not necessarily move about to get their food but, instead, get nourishment by pumping hundreds of gallons of water a day through their valves and filtering out tiny larve and plankton for nourishment.

OYSTERS THRIVE on every coast and are categorized by that geographical definition. Domestically, there are Atlantic oysters, Pacific oysters and Gulf oysters.

In the last few years, an incredible amount of new classifications of oysters has sprung into prominence. What used to be simple groups like Bluepoints, Olympias and Cotuiuts have been integrated with the assorted tastes like Belons, Hog Island Sweetwaters and Portuguese, along with about a dozen or so other varieties. And that doesn't even begin counting the thousand or so varieties available from other worldwide coastal areas.

As stated earlier, it used to be written in seawater that oysters only be consumed during months that end with an "r:" namely, September, October, November and December.

Oysters reproduce during the summer and, as a result, most summer mainland oysters used to be unappealingly fat (about to spawn) or have a strange texture (just spawned). However, oyster harvesters now say that oysters can be perfectly acceptable in summer, especially if you order some of the colder-climate varieties like those from Washington State, British Columbia or Nova Scotia.

Because oysters are filter feeders, they are continuously exposed to infectious bacteria and viruses that get pumped through their bodies along with the food supply. These bacteria and viruses are usually found in waters polluted by industrial wastes and sewage. Periodically, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration issues advisories warning consumers not to eat raw shellfish, including oysters.

BUT THE FDA has never really come forward and said that eating raw oysters is harmful. If it's any consolation, all oyster harvesters and distributors must use a detailed system of tagging every box of oysters that reveals the exact date of harvesting, including the specific oyster bed and the date received by the distributor and the date received by the restaurant. Restaurants are supposed to keep the tags on hand for 60 days, ensuring that any resulting health problem could be traced quickly.

Judging from oyster sales, safety is not weighing on most oyster-lovers' minds. Oysters have become so popular that for several years they have been over-harvested. As a result, there are fewer and fewer oysters, and they cost more and more.

According to data from the National Marine Fisheries, on the East Coast alone, 48 million pounds of oyster meat valued at $46 million were sold in 1976. By contrast, in 1986 only 35 million pounds were sold, valued at $72 million. That's a 27 percent decline in production and a 57 percent increase in price.

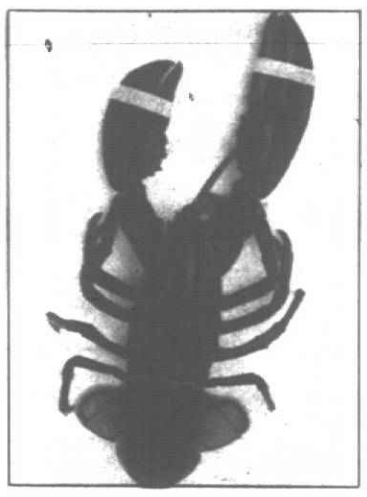
Lobster

Crustacean stars at ultimate bash



Its claws taped, a live lobster awaits its fate.

By Larry Janes
special writer

IF YOU REMEMBER correctly, it was just a few short months ago when a story was run on a Livonia firefighter's quest to throw the ultimate backyard barbecue — a pig and lamb roast for about 150 close friends, neighbors and fellow firefighters.

Watch out, Livonia, because vying for a little friendly one-upmanship are Keith and Louise Malinowski and the firefighters from Redford.

Right after the last story ran, this reporter received an invitation to a backyard lobster bake and I've got to admit, it was quite a party.

It never ceases to amaze me how folks can throw parties for between 125-150 friends, with ease. Simple get-togethers at Chateau Janes for six people send me over the proverbial fire hydrant, and thoughts of multiplying the guest list 20-fold sends shivers down my spine.

So what's the secret to these ultimate backyard bashes? The Malinowskis and their kids from Redford have been doing this for the last seven years, and the only time I noticed firefighter Malinowski slightly flustered was when he was told by another firefighter that they were having trouble with the beer tap.

BEFORE MALINOWSKI could utter an, "Oh no, what next?" his friend volunteered to head to the nearest party store and get another tapper. Ah, the secret has been revealed. It isn't enough that these guys trust their lives with each other every day. They all seem to band together and help each other when the need arises.

To pull off a party of this magnitude, however, a few months of solid planning are de rigeur. So what if the weekend weather bantered back and forth with intermittent showers and sunshine? After successfully throwing parties like this for the last seven years, a little experience never hurt anyone.

The reason for the ultimate lobster bake came up many moons ago when the Malinowskis discovered their taste for fresh Maine lobsters. After many pilgrimages to the East Coast, they found themselves carrying back requests from firefighters and other friends for fresh, live Maine lobsters and clams.

Fortunately, with today's jet-fresh transport services just a short drive away at Metro Airport, it seemed like a piece of cake to request 12 dozen lobsters and 50 pounds of clams to be packed, wrapped and sent via air cargo. Malinowski claims his East Coast supplier-wholesaler said the lobsters were still swimming in the ocean Friday morning, and after being caught Friday afternoon, they were immediately boxed, topped with seaweed and put on a plane for the Motor City.

Unlike the Livonia firefighter's, pig roast where a straw hat was passed at the end of the soiree to help defray expenses, the Malinowskis send out a flyer every summer asking guests to r.s.v.p., along with a check to secure their requests. For those attending the party who chose not to indulge in live lobsters, New York strip steaks prepared just the way you like them also were handled on a large, portable grill.

FIREFIGHTER Jim Gomulka and Malinowski's brother, Mark, were in charge of grilling while the big boss man and compadres Gary Burke and Ed Leonard assisted the chef himself with the "exactly 13 minutes in rapidly boiling, lightly salted water" for the lobsters.

In addition to the hardy surf-and-turf fare, Malinowski included fresh, boiled, corn on the cob and what I thought were the best-tasting onions I had ever sunk my teeth into. A side trip to the Detroit Eastern Market at 5 a.m. the day of the party had the Redford fireman slinging 50-pound sacks of corn and onions over his shoulder for the hungry guests. The onions were boiled in their skins till tender, again for about 13 minutes.

Immediately upon their removal from the steaming, institutional-sized cauldron, the root ends were sliced off, and tender, juicy, tasty onions were squeezed out by hand. I could have a dinner just on the onions, but I chose to indulge in the other culinary fantasies in order to save my breath from sheer disaster.

Tucked away in the tidy Malinowski kitchen was Bob Thomas, president of the firefighter union lo-

TO COOK FRESH LOBSTERs

Use a very large pot and fill with water ¾ full. Use about 1 cup of kosher salt to 5 gallons of water. Bring salted water to a boil and drop live lobsters into water and when the water returns to a full boil, cook lobster for 13 minutes exactly. Serve with melted butter.

BOILED ONIONS

Drop whole small cooking onions into boiling water with a little salt in it and boil for 13 minutes or until tender. Remove from water and drain. Cut onion on the root end and squeeze onion out of skin. Best if served warm or hot.

NEW ENGLAND CLAM CHOWDER

2½ pounds butter
3 pounds salt pork, diced into ½ inch cubes
7 pounds onions, chopped medium
10 pounds potatoes diced medium
2½ gallons water
10 cans clams (51-ounce can)
10 quarts cream, scalded pepper, thyme and cayenne pepper to taste pork cracklings

Cook salt pork in butter over medium heat until pork is golden brown. Remove cracklings and reserve for garnish. Saute onions in

Love that pizza — from wood-burning oven

Its doors opened just a few weeks ago, but America's Pizza Cafe is having no trouble finding customers. It seems like everyone who loves pizza (and that's everyone, right?) is rushing to try out Mike Ilitch's newest venture, a diner-like gourmet pizza place in Southfield.

And the response is just about as enthusiastic as the staff that serves you: good and excitingly different pizzas, modest prices and a fun atmosphere. The pizzas are definitely terrific — familiar enough to be comfortable, yet different enough to inject a whole new enthusiasm for pizza.

The setting is upbeat too. White-painted brick walls, turquoise vinyl booths, formica-topped tables, copper-trimmed counter, ceiling fans and a wonderful, lifelike sculpture of two waitresses sharing a smoke.

The standard pepperoni et al pizza is all but gone from this menu. Here you can select from a dozen variations including Mexican burrito style with chicken, Italian and cheddar cheeses, as well as mild salsa, pinto beans, onions and tomatoes; a teriyaki chicken version with chicken in an orange teriyaki sauce, onions and red and yellow peppers; or Greek style with lamb sausage, grape leaves, red onions, tomatoes, olives, green peppers and, of course, feta cheese.

THE NEW-YORK-style cheese and garlic pizza features a great combination of Italian cheeses and is very heavy on the garlic. The light, crisp crust and touch of tomato sauce are gentle reminders that this is, indeed, a pizza.

Another wonderful selection is the "Polynesian" pizza featuring pineapple, Canadian bacon, ground cashews and tomato sauce. It has a refreshingly sweet taste. One of the most popular selections is the "traditional bar-b-que chicken" with a sweet sauce, red onion and cilantro.

JERRY ZOLYNSKY/staff photographer

Brian Freshwater, vice president of restaurant concepts for Little Caesars, tends the pizza oven at America's Pizza Cafe in Southfield.

All the pizzas are cooked, in full view of the diners, inside a wood-fired oven which brings a little different taste to the food. Each pizza is small, designed for one person. Most customers order at least one pizza per person and then share. It seemed everyone was leaving with a "carryout."

There are six salads to choose from, including an excellent romaine and watercress salad ($4.75), with apples, onions, walnuts, gruyere cheese and a sweet parisienne dressing. This was easily shared before the main entree. Other selections include an antipasto or a Caesar salad.

The menu isn't exclusively pizza. There are 12 pasta dishes, some of which are similar to the pizzas offered — like the lemon-garlic pasta or the garden vegetable marinara. The pastas also are moderately priced ($4.25-$7.95), though they definitely play second to the pizzas.

You can finish your meal with a dessert, like harvest apple cobbler pie or caramel praline cheesecake. Beverages range from standard soft drinks, California wines, wine coolers and beer to Kaliber, a non-alcoholic Guiness beer, and Perrier. Expresso and cappuccino are also available.

BECAUSE THIS restaurant is taking off like a rocket, allow time for standing in line — especially on weekends. We waited nearly an hour, but the amazingly upbeat staff made the wait as pleasant as possible. We were constantly reassured that we would be seated as quickly as possible — and we were. The instant a table was vacated, it was prepared for the next customers.

Even though the strain of the steady stream of traffic was showing on some faces (there was still a line at 9:45 p.m. on a recent weekend), the staff was exceedingly friendly. They seem to share the exuberance of the place. Or maybe they sense they are onto something big.

Details: America's Pizza Cafe, 24659 Telegraph Road, Southfield, 352-5588. No reservations. Carryout available.

Hours: Monday-Thursday, 10:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.; Friday 10:30 a.m. to midnight; Saturday 11:30 a.m. to midnight; Sunday 11:30 a.m. to 11 p.m..

Prices: Pizzas and pastas $4.25-$7.95, salads $1.95-$4.75. MasterCard, Visa.

Value: Terrific. Innovative pizza, modest prices — how could you lose?

It's the rite stuff: downing an oyster

A call to a few of the local area's major seafood retail outlets has found an interesting assortments of oysters for sale. Some, like the Belons, are definitely for discerning palates, but for the most part, a basic supply of the top flavor-getters are available, for a price.

Expect to pay anywhere from 39 cents to about $1.50 each, depending on where they came from and their size. All the retailers polled stressed that they can special-order just about any type of oyster. Some of the selections available locally include:

● Belon. Used to hail from Brittany, France, but is now grown on both coasts. It has round, flat shells, with a pronounced metallic flavor, especially iron.

Bluepoint. Originally from Blue Point, Long Island, this oyster is no longer harvested. Bluepoint is a generic term for a mild Atlantic oyster.

Cotuit. From Cape Cod, Mass., medium-to-large size, with a plump body and salty flavor.

Hot Island Sweetwater. From Tomales Bay, Calif., small-to-medium sized, with a deep shell. Plump, creamy and sweet, with a light, smoky flavor.

Louisiana Gulf. Found in the bayous of the Mississippi Delta. Thick shell and soft fatty texture, slightly salty, with a light metallic flavor.

Malpeque. From Prince Edward Island, Canada, this small oyster has a light bitter, lettucelike flavor with a clean aftertaste.

Chincoteague. From Maryland and Virginia, small-to-medium sized, with a flat, round shell. Sweet with a distinctive aftertaste.

Olympia. From Puget Sound, Wash., and Humbolt Bay, Calif., round and flat shell, with a robust flavor and a mid-coppery aftertaste.

Pacific Jumbo. From Fanny Bay, British Columbia, large, oblong and grayish, about 5 minches long. Has a mild flavor and firm texture.

Quilcene. From Quilcene Bay, Wash., tastes fairly briny, with a cucumber flavor and strong aftertaste.

OYSTER BISQUE
1 pint oysters, in liquid, 4 cups milk
¼ onion, sliced
4 sprigs parsley
1 bay leaf
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup flour
1½ teaspoons salt
dash fresh ground pepper, preferably white

Drain oysters; reserve liquid. Chop oysters, set aside. Combine milk, onion, parsley and bay leaf in a saucepan. Scald milk. Cook celery in a small amount of butter or margarine until tender. Add to milk mixture. Melt butter or margarine in a second saucepan. Blend in flour, salt and pepper and make roux. Strain milk mixture through a sieve and stir into flour mixture. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add oysters with liquid. Heat through but do not boil. Serves 6-8.

OYSTERS ROCKEFELLER
18 large raw oysters
2 cups spinach, cooked and well drained
½ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon celery salt dash salt and pepper
3 drops Tobasco
¼ cup soft breadcrumbs
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Open oysters; remove from shells. Place shell halves on a bed of rock salt in a large, oblong baking dish. Place an oyster or half of one in each shell. Put spinach, onion, parsley, salt, pepper, tobasco in a food processor or blender and blend until well chopped. Stir in bread crumbs and saute in butter or margarine for 5 minutes. Spoon over oysters. Bake at 400 degrees for 10 minutes or until oysters are heated throughout and hot. Serve with lemon slices.

OYSTER STUFFING
4 quarts toasted bread cubes, about 32 slices
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup chopped celery
1½ cups chopped onion
1 quart oysters with liquid
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon powdered sage
1 teaspoons salt and dash pepper

Measure breadcrumbs into a dry, large bowl. Melt ½ cup of the butter or margarine and cook celery and onions over medium heat until soft and tender. Pour over bread cubes. Heat remaining butter and margarine in a large skillet and add oysters with liquid. Heat for one minute, remove oysters and pour liquid from skillet over bread-cube mixture. Chop oysters coarsley, combine with bread-cube mixture, along with sage, milk, salt and pepper. Mix well. Stuff lightly into turkey, cornish hen or chicken. Bake until cooked throughout, depending on size of bird used.

cal 1206. His job was to prepare the 10 gallons of steaming clam chowder that served as a welcome accompaniment during a sudden downpour, as guests huddled under a miniature circus tent set up between the volley ball net and horseshoe pit. Both Malinowski and Thomas laid claim to the recipe, with Thomas calling most of the shots and offering piping hot bowls to guests who had to cut through the kitchen to use the facilities.

When asked his secret, the chowder chef (with beer mug in hand) seemed proud of his accomplishment, with only one regret. "Next year I'm bring my special secret jar of Tabasco to give it a little more oomph" was his reply.

APPETIZERS AND munchies were about as hard to find as Thomas' secret jar of tabasco, with the hosts offering not one but two steaming lobsters to each guest. Needless to say, no complaints were heard from the masses.

And if all that wasn't enough, all you had to do was look around to find a 25-pound bowl of fresh coleslaw on the service table, not to mention the numerous kegs of beer, wine and soft drinks.

I wandered through the crowd, trying to spot the experienced lobster eater going after what I consider to be one of the most tasty parts of the crustacean next to the tail, those tiny little legs. I wonder if the guests minded me suggesting they snap off the little beauties and treating them like Slurpee straws, getting small succulent shots of tender lobster meat down their gullets with a swift enough slurp.

When it came time to depart, I noticed a few of the guests wrapping what was left of their orangey-red treats for take home, surely to be enjoyed the next day in a salad or stuffed into pita with some ripe tomatos and crispy lettuce.

And to top it all off, if a guest worked up a little hunger on the horseshoe pits or volleyball field, giant platters of Louise Malinowski's "Down East Blueberry Cake" was brought out to satiate any remaining hunger pangs. This recipe was purportedly gleaned from an old fisherman-type restaurant that was a favorite of the host and hostess.

WHEN ASKED for a bit of advice to someone like you or me who might consider throwing a lobster bake of this magnitude, Malinowski said, "It just gets more fun and bigger every year." A word to the wise, be careful or this might turn into a yearly event at your house, especially if your friends had as much fun and great food as the Malinowskis.

As I was driving home with the sweet taste of lobster still clinging to my tastebuds I couldn't help but think, "If Livonia firemen throw pig and lamb roasts and Redford firefighters go for lobster bakes, what do the other suburban firemen do for a great party?"

pork fat till golden brown. Add potatoes, boiling water and clam juice (reserved from clams) and bring mixture to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer for 15-20 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Add clams and bring to a boil. Remove from heat, cool. Before serving, reheat the soup and stir in scalded cream and butter. Season to taste with pepper, thyme and cayenne. Garnish with pork cracklings. Makes enough to serve about 125, 6 ounces each.

LOUISE MALINOWSKI'S COLE SLAW
6 large heads of green cabbage
2 pounds carrots
6 large green peppers
1 gallon cole slaw dressing

Shred cabbage, carrots and green peppers in food processor. Toss with cole slaw dressing. Refrigerate. Serves about 100 people.

LOUISE'S DOWN EAST BLUEBERRY CAKE
2 boxes yellow cake mixes (preferrably Duncan Hines)
7 eggs
1 cup butter or margarine
1½ cups water
1 cup fresh or frozen blueberries

Blend all ingredients except blueberries on low speed of mixer until well moistened. Mix at high speed for 5 minutes. Pour into a 13-by-18-inch greased pan. Sprinkle blueberries on top and bake at 375 degrees for 40 minutes. Cool cake and sprinkle with powdered sugar, if desired. Recipe can easily be cut in half.

Look for mushrooms with the veil attached

AP — Mushrooms grow in the dark. But you needn't be in the dark when it comes to buying, storing and preparing fresh mushrooms. Follow these simple tips to add their special elegance to everyday meals.

● Look for smooth, firm mushrooms with the veil — the membrane between the stem and cap — still attached. Those with open veils are still delicious, just more mature.

● Mushrooms are marketed in three general sizes: small (button), medium and large. Size is a matter of preference, not quality or age. Choose the size most appropriate for your recipe.

● Store fresh mushrooms, unwashed, in the refrigerator. Store pre-packaged mushrooms in the package.

● Loose mushrooms or those in an opened package should be stored in a paper bag or a damp cloth bag in the refrigerator. This allows them to breathe so they stay firmer longer.

● Do not store in plastic bags; this causes mushrooms to deteriorate more quickly.

● Stored properly, mushrooms will keep for several days.

● Do not wash mushrooms or soak them in water. Instead, wipe gently with a damp cloth or special mushroom brush. Because they're porous, mushrooms absorb water like a sponge, softening the texture and causing a loss of nutrients.

● Store-bought mushrooms never need peeling.

● Choose button or medium mushrooms for slicing in salads or sauteing in butter or wine. Large mushrooms are best for stuffing as appetizers, broiling, or in stews or soups.

● Cook mushrooms covered and avoid overcooking. Sauteed mushrooms require 3-5 minutes cooking time. In soups and stews, they can be cooked 30 minutes or longer.

MEASURING MUSHROOMS

● One pound equals approximately 17 large, 34-40 medium, or 75-85 button mushrooms.

● One pound whole mushrooms equals about 5 cups sliced or 4 cups chopped mushrooms.

● One pound raw mushrooms equals 2 cups sliced and cooked.

● One pound raw mushrooms equals 1¾ cups diced and cooked.

Betsy Brethen

Here is the deal: send us your meal

The day is late, dinner time is here.
The kids are hungry, but I have no fear.

A tuna casserole is bubbling away.
Another dinner prepared for the day.

"What's this stuff?" the boys all say.
"We wouldn't touch this for pay!"

Alas, my efforts have been in vain.
Yet another mealtime starts in pain.

"Why do you make us eat this stuff?"
"It's GOOD for you," I reply in a huff.

"Why don't you just call Domino's."
"You know the number, 5-4-0-6-oh-oh-oh!"

As I clean the kitchen and scrub the sink,
I take a moment to reflect and think.

There MUST be a solution to this daily dilemma.
A steady diet of pizza does not make strong men-a!

If only I could find other children-tested dinners.
Surely among them I'd find a winner.

So please send in your family's favorite meal.
Recipes included is part of the deal.

We will swap these "Winner Dinners" so that as you read,
You'll soon have a collection of favorite recipes.

Hopefuls, this column will be a shot in the arm.
These "Winner Dinners" promise to work like a charm.

Dear Frustrated Mothers,

This bit of poetry was inspired by real-life experiences with my three boys. In conversations with other mothers, I realized I wasn't alone in the frustration of trying to plan and prepare dinners that my children and husband would eat.

So, in an attempt to improve the great "dinner dilemma," I offer you an opportunity to share your family's favorite Winner Dinner and explain why it works for you. As an added incentive, an apron printed with "Winner Dinner Winner" will be given.

Together we can work toward providing each other with an ongoing selection of tasty and nutritious family meals. As well as saving you time, these complete menus might even result in your hearing those yearned-for words, "Gee, Mom, that was great. May I have some more?"

Please include a complete dinner menu with recipes as needed. Submit your recipes, to be considered for publication in this column or elsewhere, to: Winner Dinner, P.O. Box 3503, Birmingham 48012.

clarification

There was an error in the recipe for Chicken and Shallots, in Betsy Brethen's column "Family-Tested Winner Dinners" that ran Sept. 11. The description should have read: Continue adding the broth as needed and cook until a light gravy has been formed.

PORK ORIENTAL
WHITE RICE
APPLE CRISP

PORK ORIENTAL

This was one of my favorite dinners growing up. You might not think that any child would like this, based on the ingredients, but everybody who has ever tried it loves it. It can be prepared in advance up to the last step, which should be done just before serving. It is served over white rice, cooked according to directions on the box. Serves 4-6.

2 tablespoons salad oil
1 pound of pork cut into cubes (pork chops work well)
½ cup chopped onions
1 cup celery
1 package frozen French-style green beans
1 tablespoon Accent (optional)
½ teaspoon salt
dash of pepper
¼ teaspoon powdered ginger
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 can mushrooms (undrained)
2 tablespoons corn starch
3 cups shredded lettuce
3 cups cooked white rice

Saute pork in oil for 2 minutes. Add onions and celery and continue cooking until onions are tender.

Add beans, spices, soy sauce and mushrooms. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer covered for 25 minutes.

In a small bowl, combine cornstarch with ¼ cup of water. Stir until smooth. Add cornstarch mixture and lettuce and stir to mix well. Bring to a boil stirring, and serve with hot rice.

APPLE CRISP

This is quick and easy to make and especially good in the fall served with vanilla ice cream or soft-serve vanilla yogurt.

7 medium-size tart apples (Jonathan), peeled and sliced
½ cup sugar
½ cup brown sugar
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1 egg beaten
⅓ cup melted butter or margarine
cinnamon

Place apples in a greased 8-inch-square baking dish. In a large bowl, mix dry ingredients together with a spoon. Add beaten egg and mix well. Spread crumbly mixture over apples. Drizzle melted butter over the top. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes.

Shopping List

Salad oil
1 pound of pork onions
celery
1 10-ounce package frozen French-style green beans lettuce
7 medium-sized apples
rice (I prefer Minute Rice)
1 can mushrooms
1 egg baking powder butter or margarine flour
corn starch
Accent salt pepper powdered ginger soy sauce sugar brown sugar
cinnamon

Notes

Potatoes, chicken mix well in microwave

AP — The potato is earning a reputation for being fast, thanks to the microwave oven.

A whole potato cooks in the microwave in about 6 minutes, a sliced potato in about 5, and you can have a meal-sized potato dish in 12 minutes.

Cook and serve this Southwestern-seasoned meal on the same microwave-safe platter. The secret is the arrangement of foods, with the slowest-cooking food placed on the outside, the fastest in the center.

You don't even peel the potato.

SOUTHWESTERN POTATO-CHICKEN PLATTER
1 pound potatoes, scrubbed and sliced crosswise into ⅛-inch-thick slices
1 pound boned and skinned chicken breasts, cut into 2-by-1-inch strips
2 cups fresh corn or one 10-ounce package frozen corn, thawed
Southwestern Chili Sauce (recipe follows)
2 green onions, sliced
8 flour tortillas (optional)

Arrange potato slices around edge of a 12-inch round microwave-safe platter or pizza dish. Place chicken pieces in a ring inside potatoes, overlapping about 1 inch. Combine corn and ½ cup of the Southwestern Chili Sauce; place in center of platter. Spoon remaining chili sauce in a 1-inch ribbon between potato and chicken pieces. Sprinkle green onions over corn. Cover tightly with clear plastic wrap, turning back one side slightly to vent steam. Cook on 100 percent power (high) for 12-14 minutes until chicken is no longer pink and vegetables are just tender, giving platter a half-turn after 6 minutes. Spoon mixture into warm tortillas, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Southwestern Chili Sauce: In a medium bowl stir together one 8-ounce can tomato sauce; one 4-ounce can chopped green chili peppers, drained; ½ teaspoon ground cumin; oregano, crushed; and ⅛ teaspoon ground red pepper.

Recipes in 'Food for Friends' stand the test of time

Geri Rinschler

By Geri Rinschler
special writer

"Food for Friends" by Barbara Kafka, Harper & Row, 1989, $10.95.

When I was first asked to review "Food for Friends," I thought the title sounded familiar. As it turns out, the original, cloth version was published in 1984.

Why reprint a paperback five years later? Well, first of all, "Food for Friends" received a prestigious Tastemaker award. That's a literary award given annually to a select number of cookbooks in a variety of categories such as best ethnic, international or basic.

Since 1984 Kafka has gone on to write two other award-winning books, "Microwave Gourmet" and "American Food and California Wine." Besides being the recipient of these distinguished awards, Kafka also writes a food column for the New York Times and teaches on a weekly Canadian television program.

I don't know why I didn't remember "Food for Friends" because the recipes do appeal to me. Although many of the recipes are basic and traditional, a number of them are healthy, easy to prepare and made with some unconventional ingredients.

FOR EXAMPLE, the first recipe I tested for a family dinner, Vegetable Pancakes, worked out nicely. It's prepared with the same technique you would use for making potato pancakes but shredded zucchini and shredded carrots are added to the batter. I was disappointed there weren't any herbs included in the ingredients. So I improvised, which is just what the author encourages in her introduction.

There are a few other recipes I'd still like to try this summer, which sound appealing — Raspberry Bread Pudding, Curried Chicken Salad and Parsley Soup. Not all the recipes in "Food for Friends" are summer dishes but just the most appetizing ones.

My biggest disappointment with this cookbook is that there are no suggested menus or advice on dishes which specifically complement one another.

Some of the recipes are simple, others a bit complicated. The title suggests a collection of recipes for out-of-the-ordinary recipes — which is just what I look for when I entertain friends. Does the book meet with those expectations? On a scale of 1-10, I rate this one 7½, but that's just this cook's opinion.

VEGETABLE PANCAKES
(This is a sort of multi-colored potato pancake.)
1 medium onion, minced
1 pound carrots, scrubbed and shredded
1 pound zucchini, washed and shredded
1 pound potatoes, peeled and shredded
2 tablespoons minced parsley
½ cup all-purpose flour
2 large eggs
2 teaspoons kosher salt teaspoon freshly ground black pepper vegetable oil

Put the onion, carrots, zucchini, potatoes and parsley in a bowl. Stir in the flour, eggs, salt and pepper.

Heat about ¼-inch of vegetable oil in a 12-inch skillet until hot but not smoking. Take about 3 tablespoons of the mixture and put it into the skillet. With a spatula, immediately spread the mixture into a 4-inch circle. Cook for about 3 minutes; turn and cook for 3 minutes on the other side. You can cook about 3 at a time. Remove the cooked pancakes with a slotted spatula and drain on absorbent paper. Keep warm. Repeat until all the batter is cooked. Serve warm. Makes about 14 4-inch pancakes.

Area cooks take prizes with chili

Two local area teams placed in the Pepto-Bismol chili cook-off at the Michigan State Fair recently.

Second place and $150 went to Gary and Lauren Ray of Livonia for their Old No. Seven Chili, which used a traditional chili recipe. Third place and $50 went to "Chili Joe TV Chili," which used a not-so-traditional chili recipe.

Contestants varied from the cultured cooking expert to the first-time novice.

"Chili" Joe Wnuck had a simplified version of his Guinness world-record chili, which contains 1,000 ingredients. Motor City Chili cookers Neil Michaels of Westland and Ken Kirkman of Livonia said their team's secret was sirloin marinated in wine and cooked in dry beer.

"It's one can of beer in the chili and six cans of beer in the cook," Kirkman joked.

Their strategy was to entertain as well as please the palate, so they greeted fairgoers in cowboy hats and rang cowbells. Michaels and Kirkman were awarded Best Booth for their unique chili display.

After the judges had their sampling cups filled, the chili makers served their leftovers to the hungry crowd of nearly 300 people.

Homemade pickles are tasty treats, fun to make

Gundella

The cucumbers are ripe and plentiful, and it's pickling time.

True, it takes a bit of work to make pickles. But they taste so much better than any you can buy that you won't ever be sorry you did it.

I've included some old-fashioned favorites here, as well as some very easy recipes. Even the more complicated ones are well worth the time it takes to prepare them, and I personally think it's rather fun.

The aroma of pickling spices in hot vinegar syrup makes your whole neighborhood smell good. Everyone who passes by will wish they lived at your house.

And those who do live there will be glad they do — especially next winter, when you open a jar of their favorites to accompany a Sunday dinner, or to turn a sandwich snack into a gourmet delight.

PICKLES ARE the "frosting on the cake" at any meal, but with a lot less calories. One whole dill pickle averages from one to seven calories. And even a whole ounce of the sweet varieties, such as crisp sweet gerkins; bread and butter pickles; slippery jacks, or candied types average only 18-40 calories.

Of the recipes I have included here, Mae Bullock's Sweet Relish is my favorite. Once you have tasted it, store-bought relish will never again satisfy you. You may never want to eat another hamburger without it as long as you live.

It does more to happily domesticate a man than anything else I can think of (with the possible exception of crown roast with cornbread stuffing and hot German potato salad, which is what I'm about to fix for supper tonight).

DILL PICKLES IN A CROCK

These may be eaten after a few days, as what we used to call "half-dones." Or, you may wait several weeks or several months, until they are completely pickled.

10 quarts of water
2 cups salt
1 quart vinegar
several cloves of garlic (optional)
4 tablespoons whole black peppers
1½ peck cucumbers
5 stalks fresh dill

Make a solution of the water, salt, vinegar and peppers, and bring it to a boil. Fill a crock with cucumbers, placing sliced garlic cloves and dill between the layers of cucumbers. Add the hot solution. Cover the crock for at least nine days before using.

MAE BULLOCK'S SWEET RELISH (absolutely the easiest and best pickle relish ever)

1½ quarts diced cucumbers
1 quart diced green tomatoes
2 quarts finely chopped cabbage
1 cup finely chopped celery
6 large onions, finely chopped
2 green peppers (ground)
2 red bell peppers (ground)
3 pounds light brown sugar
1 quart light cider vinegar
3 tablespoons salt
1 tablespoon celery seed
2 tablespoons mustard seeds
1 box pickling spices, sewn into a cheesecloth bag

Bring mixture to a boil, and simmer for 20-25 minutes.

SWEET DILL PICKLES (an unusual pickle you will either love or hate)

salt
dill
½ cup light corn syrup
½ cup sugar
2 cups water
onions
1 cup vinegar

Put a good sprig of dill in the bottom of each sterilized jar. Pak with cucumbers, then top with a small peeled onion and 2 teaspoons of salt to each quart jar of pickles. Boil the syrup, sugar, water and vinegar together. Pour over the cucumbers in jars, and seal.

REFRIGERATOR PICKLES I

8-12 cucumbers, unpeeled
1 medium onion per jar
4 cups sugar
1½ tablespoons mustard seed
½ cup salt
4 cups vinegar
1½ tablespoon celery seed
1½ teaspoon turmeric

Slice cucumbers into jars and add one sliced onion to each jar. Mix the remainder of the ingredients and pour over the cucumbers and onions, filling jar to ½-inch from the top, and screw lid on tightly. (No seal required.). Place in the refrigerator, and let stand for at least 5 days before serving. These will keep in the refrigerator for a year.

FREEZER PICKLES

2 quarts sliced cucumbers
1 sliced onion
2 tablespoon salt
4½ cups sugar
1½ cups vinegar

Combine cucumbers, onions and salt and let stand two hours. Drain. Cook sugar and vinegar until sugar dissolves. When mixture has cooled, pour over the pickles and mix well. Put in containers and freeze. Pickles are crisp and green.

COMPANY PICKLES (candied)

These pickles are very good but take lots of work. They got their name because they were saved only for special company dinners.

10 medium cucumbers
8 cups sugar
2 tablespoons pickling spices
5 teaspoons salt
4 cups cider vinegar

Cover whole cucumbers with boiling water, and allow to stand overnight. Drain. Repeat this procedure three more times. On the fifth day, drain, and slice into ½-inch pieces. Combine sugar, salt and vinegar. Bring to a boil and pour over the cucumbers. Let stand for two days. On the third day, bring to boiling again and seal in hot, sterilized jars. Makes seven pints.

HOW CAN YOU TELL IF A MEDICINE IS HELPING?

Imagine that your arthritis medicine is a complete success, and your arthritis leaves. Or assume the medicine is a thorough failure, and your arthritis becomes worse. In either case, you have no problem deciding whether or not to continue the therapy.

Unfortunately, most arthritis medicine rarely works so well or ill. Usually you must make a decision when it has helped in less than a perfect manner. How can you decide?

Ask yourself the following specific questions: Were you stiff for hours in the morning when you started the medication, and now the stiffness lasts only minutes? Or, has the duration of stiffness remained unchanged?

Did you formerly awaken 3-4 times a night, and now only 1-2 times? Or, are you still repeatedly disturbed from sleep? Finally, how many joints are swollen today as compared with the past and how long do they now stay swollen?

Changing medication is fraught with hazards of side effects and unexpected interactions. However, reliance on a medicine that isn't helping is foolish. The guidelines described above allow you to decide whether it is appropriate to continue present medications or to consider other choices.

Give yourself a hand against breast cancer

Breast self-examination is easy, takes only a few minutes and can be performed in the privacy of your own home. It's an important way you can detect early and highly curable breast cancer. Through monthly breast self-examinations, you will learn how your normal breast tissue feels and will be able to recognize a change if one occurs. In fact, most breast lumps are found by women themselves.

Take control of your body and your life.

Make breast self-examination a part of your monthly routine. And see your doctor regularly for clinical exams and advice on mammography.

For a free pamphlet about breast self-examination, call your local American Cancer Society.

Exotic vegetables can liven up an ordinary meal

Lois Thieleke
home economist, Cooperative Extension Service

For health reasons, there has been a renewed interest in vegetables. Many grocers are carrying some very foreign looking vegetables right alongside the familiar carrots and broccoli.

For variety as well as nutrition and good taste, these vegetables are worth trying. Some of these vegetables may even come with a label that offers tips on handling and cooking. Many can be eaten raw and are easy to cook, low in calories and relatively high in vitamins, minerals and fiber. Perfect for everyone.

Daikon is a white carrot-shaped root known as a Japanese radish. It is crisp and spicy. Serve raw in salads or use for dipping. Add to soups, stews and stir-fry. A half cup has about 10 calories and has some vitamin C and potassium Fennel is common in Italian cooking. It has a mild licorice or anise flavor. This is a feathery-topped vegetable resembling celery. Trim, slice and serve raw in salads or as a dipping vegetable. Add to soups and stir-fry. A half cup serving has about 15 calories, plus beta carotene and calcium.

JERUSALEM ARTICHOKES are also called "sunchokes" or "sun roots." Raw chokes are crispy and crunch with a nutty flavor something like a water chestnut. Peel, slice and serve raw in salads or team with or substitute for potatoes. A half-cup serving has 57 calories, plus some calcium, iron and phosphorus.

Salsify is an oyster plant that's carrot-shaped with a black or white skin. It has a mild flavor somewhat like asparagus. Steam whole. Then peel and slice for a side dish or addition to soup. (It darkens like potatoes very quickly when peeled.) A half-cup serving has 35 calories, plus some calcium and iron.

Select a hard, glossy, yellow or cream-colored spaghetti squash. Cut the squash in half, lengthwise, and steam until tender. Then use a fork to shred the pulp into "spaghetti" strands. Spaghetti squash can be served plain or with pasta sauce or tossed with a small amount of olive oil and grated cheese. Cooked and cooled it can be added to salads. The stringy but flavorful yellow flesh supplies vitamin B6. Best of all, spaghetti squash has only 22 calories in a one-half-cup serving.

Chayote squash is a dark green zucchini-like flavored vegetable, sometimes called mango squash. Peel, boil, bake or stir-fry like any other squash. The large seeds are also edible. Unpeeled halves can be stuffed and then baked. A half-cup serving has 19 calories, plus beta caratene, vitamin C and potassium.

A Mexican potato is called a jicama. It is light-skinned, round but slightly flat, with crisp, sweet and white flesh. Peel before using in salads or dips. A half-cup serving has 25 calories and loaded with vitamin C.

CELERIAC IS celery root that can be peeled, sliced and eaten raw or cooked in soup and tastes like celery. Peel and slice or julienne. Good raw if marinated in lemon juice or a flavorful dressing. A half-cup serving has 20 calories, plus small amounts of beta carotene, iron and calcium.

Bok choy or Chinese mustard cabbage is probably very familiar. Choose large white stems that have dark green leaves, mild flavor and are shaped like a head of celery. It can be stir-fried, added to soups or eaten raw in coleslaw or salad like any cabbage. Half-cup serving (cooked) has 10 calories, some calcium, vitamin C and beta carotene.

You can add lots of variety and lots of nutritional value to dull meals by trying a vegetable that is new to you. If you tried a half cup of each of these I have listed you would have 4½ cups with only 213 calories — unbelievable, not to mention the vitamins and minerals. Widen your choice of vegetables, try them. I'm sure you will like them.

GIVE BLOOD, PLEASE.

WINNERS CIRCLE

BY LAURIE KIPP

In August, the Michigan Lottery reported that Jackpot prizes won in Lotto games had passed $1 billion. This column responds to recent reader questions on Lotto Jackpots.

Q. How long has Michigan had Lotto games?

A. Advance of Jackpot prizes past $1 billion in the August 23 drawing occurred just two days short of the fifth anniversary of the first drawing on August 25, 1984.

Q. How many players have been jackpot winners?

A. The August 23 winner was the 378th to win or share a Jackpot prize. Of these, 85 won Jackpot shares of less than $1 million and 107 others won between $1 million and $2 million. Ten have won prizes of more than $10 million.

Q. What's been the average won?

A. Wins have averaged just over $2,645,000 to provide annual pre-tax payments of about $132,000 for 20 years.

Q. What's been Michigan's biggest jackpot?

A. The largest Jackpot, $33.5 million came in September, 1988, after seven consecutive rollovers. It was shared by two winners. This followed a $28.9 million jackpot shared by five winners after six rollovers in January, 1988.

Q. Why doesn't Michigan have more big jackpots like those we hear about in other states?

A. These high jackpots usually occur in more populous states with higher odds games where more frequent rollovers keep the Jackpot growing along with player interest.

Q. Are Michigan's Lotto sales declining?

A. Through the first ten months of the current fiscal year, Lotto sales were down some 7 percent compared to the previous fiscal year because of fewer rollovers. Introduction of the "Fame & Fortune" instant game, and features such as Zinger, are helping keep total Lottery sales near the record levels of last year.

Q. What's caused the drop in Lotto sales?

A. Experience here and in other states shows that many players only try for big Jackpots. Many do not buy tickets until the top prize grows to $10 million or more. Last year the jackpot reached $10 million or more 14 different times. This level was reached only four times in Michigan in the first 10 months of this fiscal year.

Q. Will Michigan change its Lotto game?

A. To provide more net revenues for support of K-12 schools, Michigan constantly evaluates all its games and attempts to make changes necessary to keep Lottery products fresh and exciting to players.

For submitting the first question leading to this column, Louis LaLonde of Cedarville will receive 50 "Fame & Fortune" tickets. Note: When duplicate questions are received, that with the earliest date stamp upon arrival at Lottery Central wins. In case of a tie, the winner is selected by random drawing.

If you have a question not yet covered in these monthly columns, send it to "Winners Circle," Michigan Lottery, P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48909.

Chiefs zap Franklin for best football start

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Plymouth Canton's football team broke new ground Saturday in a 21-0 victory at Livonia Franklin.

The Chiefs, who have never had a winning season in the school's 18-year history, ran their overall record to 3-0 with the Western Lake Activities Association (Western Division) triumph.

It was also Canton's fourth straight win dating back to a victory over rival Plymouth Salem in the 1988 season finale.

"I'm not over-excited about this because you have to keep things in perspective," said Canton coach Bob Khoenle, whose Chiefs are off to their best start ever.

"IT'S NICE, but what we have to do is keep it going. I still see a lot of room for improvement."

A steady rain made playing conditions treacherous, but Canton was able to come up with the key plays and stay away from costly mistakes.

AND WHILE Canton's offense sputtered at times, the defense was rock-solid.

Four Chiefs picked off passes: Brian Riggs, Jason Lee, Dave Cessante and Jason Riggs. Craig Piwko and Liam Rentz also recovered a fumbles.

The score remained 7-0 until the final quarter when Rentz pounced on a loose ball off a punt at the Franklin 18.

Six plays later, Wukie scored on a 4-yard keeper, and Mike Krejcar kicked the second of his three extra points to make it 14-0 with 9:19 left to go.

WUKIE, WHO passed for 119 yards (seven of 18), then added another TD via the run, running by a blitzing Patriot defense on an option keeper for a 73-yard TD run with 1:23 to play.

"Our defense held us in," Khoenle said. "But we have some kids who can make the big play. He (Wukie) has been through this, and he knows.

"Franklin was big and strong up front, a lot stronger than we were, so we had to do some of the other things that we do best offensively to try and get them going."

THE PATRIOTS, who were outgained 235-204 in total offense, could only point to the six turnovers, untimely penalties and fumbled snaps for their demise.

"We were embarrassed by mental mistakes," said Franklin coach Armand Vigna, whose team fell to 1-2 overall.

"Not that they didn't hit us and play a good football game, they're a good football club. They kept making the big plays. Their quarterback (Wukie) did a great job under the conditions. We couldn't throw the ball as well.

"We dug our own grave, and they kicked us in it. The defense played very well, but they were on the field too long.

"WE COULDN'T generate any offense. I don't know what was wrong. I thought we were ready to go."

A win next week by the Chiefs against Livonia Churchill would match the highest victory total ever by a Canton team.

Khoenle, however, remains cautiously optimistic.

"We had a lot of opportunities to score today, and we didn't take advantage," he said. "We made some mistakes out there, too. The offense has to catch up with the defense."

Ironic, isn't it? A Canton football coach guarding against complacency.

Kowalski carries out Rock grid plan, 41-0

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Plymouth Salem football coach Tom Moshimer ventured above the playing field Friday night, but quarterback Rob Kowalski was staying down to earth.

For the first time in his 31-year career, Moshimer was calling plays from the press box instead of walking the sidelines. He made the right choices often enough as the undefeated Rocks (3-0) handed winless Farmington a 41-0 defeat at Salem.

"I wanted to go up there and see if I could do a better job of calling the ballgame," Moshimer said. "It's a different experience up there, and it worked out pretty well. You see more and get a little better feel."

What Moshimer saw was a lot of Kowalski making the big plays. The senior passed for one touchdown and rushed for two others.

Kowalski finished the night with 133 yards on nine carries, including an 86-yarder that set up his second TD, and completed four of 11 passes for 64 yards.

DESPITE THE big numbers, Kowalski was keeping things in perspective and talking about the team instead of himself.

"On the passes, I got the blocking from the line," he said. "On the runs, I got the blocking from my backs. That's the difference between other teams and this team. We play as a team.

"I'm not going to overglorify (the individual results). I'll get compliments, but once Monday rolls around it's back to work."

The Rocks, who turned three Farmington turnovers into first-half touchdowns and a 22-0 halftime lead, are a team off the field, too, according to Kowalski.

"We get together and do things as a team," he said. "In school, we eat lunch together. Thursday nights we get together for dinner. We care about each other and, on the field, we protect each other."

The Falcons stopped Salem on its first two possessions and looked up to giving the Rocks a struggle, but back-to-back fumbles started Farmington on its way down the slide.

"ONCE WE MAKE a mistake we seem to lose confidence," Farmington coach Rick Milhizer said. "They outplayed us, no doubt about it, but we seem to make a mistake and get down.

"We stopped their inside run early, and they went to the air and picked us apart. When they beat you because they're better that's something you can live with, but the mistakes you can't."

Scott Austin scooped up a loose ball and raced 37 yards for Salem's first TD. On the ensuing kickoff, Brian Vicchio was stripped of the ball, and it took the Rocks three plays to score again — Kowalski passing 35 yards to Bryan Schultz.

Salem's third TD of the first half was set up by Ryan Johnson's 49-yard halfback pass to Austin, and Kowalski ran 10 yards untouched around end on the next play for the TD.

"Our kids played great once we got going," Moshimer said. "These are terrible playing conditions (muddy, chewed-up field), but it helped us a little more because we're a little stronger.

St. Joe's team effort knocks down Canton

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Tracey Bloodworth is the star of St. Joseph's girls basketball team, but it was the way the Bears played as a unit that proved successful Thursday night.

St. Joseph used a tight-knit defense and a hustling offense to upset Plymouth Canton 43-41 in the first round of the Mercy Hoops Classic.

The Bears played host Farmington Hills Mercy for the tournament championship Saturday night, and the Chiefs had a rematch with Trenton in the consolation game.

"We're not a one-person team," St. Joseph coach and Tracey's father, Rick Bloodworth, said. "We have to make the passes, give the ball up and make good decisions, and then we become a good basketball team."

Tracey Bloodworth, a 5-foot-9 forward, scored a game-high 16 points, guard Liz Vernasco 11 and forward Allison Remble nine, but defense was more important than offense on this night.

THE SMALLER Bears (2-0) managed to deny Canton (1-2) access to the lane and, shutting off the pass into the low post, held 5-11 center Susan Ferko to 14 points. Stacey Thompson added 11, but nobody else had more than four.

St. Joseph didn't have the height to dominate on defense but made up for that with its scrappy, aggressive play.

"They took away our inside game," Canton coach Bob Blohm said. "We had some easy hoops early when they were in a man, but they went to a 2-3 zone and it was hard to get Susan in there. We didn't recognize our opportunities."

The Chiefs jumped in front 6-0, but St. Joseph responded right away and was within two at the end of the quarter, 10-8. The Bears went on a 13-2 run in the second quarter (21-12) and led 23-16 at halftime.

Bloodworth capped the run of points with a triple and sank a layup with three seconds left in the half.

"Ferko is a good player," Rick Bloodworth said. "We have nobody who can really play in there, but I think we made it tough.

"WE TRIED TO really pinch down. We don't have people who can guard those people, and I think the zone gave them problems."

St. Joseph was able to work the Canton defense for passes inside that resulted in easy scores — again an example of the team's cohesive play — and frustration for the Chiefs.

"The game can be summarized by lack of recognition offensively and not being able to adjust to what they were trying to do," Blohm said. "(St. Joseph) did a great job of controlling the tempo."

The Bears scored the last seven points of the third quarter to lead 34-20, which was a score more indicative of the game than the two-point final. Bloodworth again made a last-second layup.

Canton, however, made a strong, fourth-quarter bid to salvage a win, and when the Chiefs got it down to 41-36 with under two minutes left it was still possible.

Jenny Russell's rebound basket made it a three-point game, and Christyn Halliday grabbed a key defensive rebound. Bloodworth sank two free throws with :05 remaining before Russell hit a triple at the buzzer.

"I thought we did a real nice job defensively until late," Rick Bloodworth said. "Our guards got too cautious and let them sneak between in there.

"They were smart. They didn't foul Tracey (an excellent free throw shooter) until they had to."

Stacey Thompson scored 11 points for the Chiefs.

S'craft challenge to repeat '88 feat

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Now the impossible begins.

Or so it seems. How does one follow up a national championship season? The best to be hoped for is matching the previous success. And when three of six starters are graduated, that task seems insurmountable.

But it's nothing new for Tom Teeters, to whom the unlikely seems an everyday chore. Remember, a week after guiding Schoolcraft College to the National Junior College Athletic Association volleyball championship, he was back at the controls as Livonia Ladywood's coach. Two months later, he took the Blazers to their second-consecutive Class A state title.

Can Teeters do it again? Can he reconstruct SC's team and have the Lady Ocelots in contention for another NJCAA crown by November?

PREDICTIONS AT this time are pointless. A year ago, no one could have anticipated SC would win the national championship. This year's team can be viewed in the same light.

The Lady Ocelots aren't that big — they're tallest starter is Tricia Lukas at 6 feet. But they were no bigger a year ago.

Last year, however, they had a proven setter in Chris Paciero and a pair of top-quality hitters in Maria Evans and Nikki Stubbs. All three have gone on to four-year schools; their replacements will be the key to SC's season.

"I never used height as a judge for hitting," said Teeters. That belief was proven a year ago when Teeters installed a new-volleyball

comer who measured a mere 5 feet as right-side hitter. Alisha Love proved to be outstanding; she was named to the NJCAA all-tournament team.

LOVE IS back for her sophomore season, and this year Teeters hails her as "our top returning player." Her value is evident, according to her coach.

"She's what we call our bait on the right side," he explained. "She baits the other team into coming her way. They feel they can take advantage of her size.

"But Alisha can get up there with the best of them. She plays the best defense on our right side, and she's probably the best server in the country."

That is something that must be understood about Teeters' teams: If you don't play all facets of the game, you don't play much. Returnee JoAnn Kolnitys is an example. Although Kolnitys, a 5-9 sophomore from Wayne Memorial, was an outstanding blocker a year ago, her hitting wasn't what Teeters had hoped for.

Kolnitys has improved, said Teeters. "She still has to learn to hit different kinds of sets," he said. "The more kinds of sets she can hit, the better team we'll be."

TWO NEWCOMERS Teeters is expecting major contributions from are Elena Oparka and Angellette Love, Alisha's younger — but not littler — sister. Angellette stands a whopping 5-6 and possesses the same kind of leaping ability her sister has.

"Angellette is our top hitter," said Teeters, who has inserted the younger Love on the left side. Oparka ("She's the strongest, the hardest hitter on our team") and Lukas also expect to see playing time in hitting roles.

Anjanette Lankford, from Garden City, was slated to be a starting middle blocker until she wrecked an ankle at Michigan Tech's Husky Invitational a week ago. SC lost its first two matches at the tournament while Teeters tinkered with the lineup, then won its final two to capture the title. Lankford could be back within a week.

Shamrocks pop Pioneers

By Brad Emons
staff writer

For Whom the Bell Tolls?

It wasn't exactly out of Hemingway, but it was darn close Friday as a sturdy Redford Catholic Catholic defense, led by 6-foot-3, 245-pound tackle Ryan Bell, limited usually high-scoring Ann Arbor Pioneer to only 94 yards total offense in authoring up an impressive 13-0 victory.

It was the Shamrocks' third straight shutout in 1989, but more importantly, it signaled that CC is a team to be reckoned with again this season.

In past years Pioneer has tormented a perennially sound CC defense with short passes and gimmick plays, but on this night in a battle of state-ranked teams, it was all Shamrocks.

On Pioneer's first play, junior tailback Damon Jacobs literally had his Bell rung as the massive CC tackle threw him to the ground for a 1-yard loss.

Bell also ended his evening of terror by throwing Pioneer quarterback Kevin Meyer for a 10-yard loss, stopping Ann Arbor's only real scoring threat.

"IT KIND OF set the tone," said CC coach Tom Mach of the game's opening series. "That first hit is what we needed. We came in as a young team trying to find ourselves. We had not played up to this level until this point.

"A guy like Ryan Bell, who is playing well both ways, provided the senior leadership we were looking for. I'd say he's got to be one of the best lineman in the state."

Pioneer coach Chuck Lori, who has led Ann Arbor to a pair of state Class A championships, including two wins over CC en route to the coveted title in 1987, pinned the loss on himself.

"When you're playing a good team you've got to control the ball, but they did things defensively that we weren't prepared to face," he said. "We adjusted too late and part of that is my fault. They came at us with an eight-man front with their tackle over our tight end. It created a mismatch.

"And there is Bell knocking the crap out of our 180-pound tight end. We needed more time to change our offensive line schemes."

Mach called the early going "a chess game."

NEITHER TEAM could sustain a lengthy drive until CC marched 75 yards in nine plays, capped by Jason Carr's 4-yard touchdown pass to Arshon Stewart with just 44 seconds left in the half.

Ironically, Carr was trying to kill the clock when he suddenly found Stewart open just crossing the goal line.

"He (Carr) is improving every game and showing tremendous strides," said the CC coach. "He does not make mistakes and that's a key ingredient. He's showing poise and he's gaining more confidence in himself, and the team is gaining more and more confidence in him."

Carr finished the night hitting seven of 15 passes for 80 yards, but the bulk of the Shamrocks' offensive came from 5-7, 165-pound tailback David Owens, who led all rushers with 128 yards in 27 carries.

Owens made a nifty 13-yard run to set up CC's other TD in the third quarter, a 1-yard sneak by Carr with 5:06 to play.

"THIS IS WHAT it's all about, beating a great team like Pioneer," said Owens. "Our offensive line did a great job and I think everybody wanted it a little bit more. It was the most intense week of practice I've ever seen.

"Our demonstration squad gave me all I could handle in practice. They're one of the toughest defenses I face, even though they don't get to play. They play so hard. I had to be physically ready to go. Give them credit"

Mach, meanwhile, put a heavy emphasis during the week on. "Play like you practice."

"We had very good practices all week and we told them the mental part of the game is 4-to-1 to the physical part," said the CC coach. "We stressed that all week."

The Shamrock coach said the victory over previously unbeaten Pioneer will serve as a springboard to the tough Catholic League Central Division schedule.

Rocks roll to big win

"We started substituting early. We spotted it here and there, but we did start substituting. When you're better than somebody, you can't yank kids out right away because you score."

On the first play of the second half, Kowalski ran nearly the length of the field to Farmington's 2, and he got the TD two plays later on a 1-yard sneak.

"I had to give Kowalski that one after he ran it all the way down there," Moshimer said.

KOWALSKI, WHO had a similar run last year, said he got bogged down in the thick mud and didn't simply run out of gas. Farmington's Tom Economy caught Kowalski from behind and prevented him from scoring on the play.

"I got down here to the 20-yard line and hit a mud spot, and that slowed me down," Kowalski said.

Johnson made it 35-0 with a 3-yard run late in the third quarter, and reserve quarterback Chris Teppen ran 49 yards on an option play midway in the fourth.

Teppen rushed for 67 yards, Steve Burlison 48, Pat Bowie 22 and Johnson 16. Austin caught two passes for 62 yards. While the Rocks had 286 of their 339 yards in total offense on the ground, Farmington was held to 58 yards, of which 53 was passing.

"Everybody got to play quite a bit," Moshimer said. "We're a 40-man squad, and everybody got a couple snaps. We gained the opportunity to play some kids who might not have in a 20-0 game, and they did well."

Schoolcraft soccer settles for 1-1 draw

A seesaw battle turned into a slugfest and ended in a 1-1 tie Tuesday when Schoolcraft College's womens soccer team visited Siena Heights.

Siena finished fourth in the NAIA a year ago, so the tie was encouraging to SC coach Nick O'Shea. The Saints scored first and, according to O'Shea, they "dominated the first half."

That changed in the second. The Lady Ocelots came alive and took the match to Siena. Joan Arndt converted a Cindy Bowman pass into the game-tying goal for SC.

The back-and-forth complexion continued into the two overtimes, with Siena exerting great pressure in the first with some good crossing passes and SC taking command in the second.

With three minutes remaining in the second OT, SC sophomore defender Rosemary Hally and a Saint player started exchanging punches as both benches cleared. After the teams were separated, Siena's Lisa Broccardo (from Livonia Stevenson) and Hally (Livonia Churchill) went at it again, according to reports from the SC side.

Hally and Broccardo were given red cards. Hally hurt her knee in the melee, but the injury was not expected to be serious.

SC plays again 4 p.m. Wednesday at the University of Michigan.

fall practice has become a pleasant surprise. Teeters decided to switch Jennifer Sproul, an outside hitter at Livonia Churchill, to setter. "She's 5-8, she had nice hands, and she was a good hitter," he said.

Sproul also lacked experience, having never played the position before. Wasn't that a problem? "No, it hasn't been," claimed Teeters. "She has strong athletic ability and she's putting it all together."

Indeed, Sproul has progressed so surprisingly well that Christy Clark, who last year at Churchill was setting for Sproul, has become the backup setter to Sproul. Clark, in true Teeters style, has excelled elsewhere. "She's very good at all three back row positions," he said.

Questions still remain. How will Sproul stand up under the pressure of a four-day tournament? Will the Lady Ocelots all-around ability and scrappy style of play be good enough to carry them to the NJCAA tournament?

Teeters has managed to blend his past teams into contenders before. He's been challenged again.

Salem swimmers close

Plymouth Salem gave a good account of itself in girls swimming Thursday, but North had the final say in the dual meet.

The visiting Mustangs, defending Western Lakes Activities Association champs, won most of the events and the meet 91-81.

"We swam pretty well; we just didn't get enough first places," Salem coach Chuck Olson said. "It was a good meet for us."

Salem's Cherie Vincent was a double winner, setting a varsity record in the 100-yard backstroke in which she swam 1:05.0. Vincent also won the 50 freestyle in 26.6.

The other victory for the Rocks occurred in the freestyle relay in which Megan Andrews, Jane Seidelman, Julie Hickey and Nicole Bosse posted a time of 4:02.4.

Salem is 1-1, Northville 1-0.

Mercy cagers handcuff Trojans

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Farmington Hills Mercy emerged from its "offensive funk" for one quarter Thursday night, and it was enough to put the Marlins in the championship game of their own basketball tournament.

Mercy (2-2) raced to a 16-0 lead against Trenton in the second game of a double-header and snapped a two-game losing streak with a 35-22 victory.

The Marlins played St. Joseph, which defeated Plymouth Canton 43-38 in the first game, for the Mercy Hoops Classic title Saturday night.

"You have to look at that as a real key," Mercy coach Larry Baker said of the fast start, "given where we've been for the last week — which has been a giant offensive funk."

Joanne Stephens sank back-to-back triples to begin the game and, judging by the reaction of the Mercy players when Trenton called a timeout, one would have thought the Marlins had won.

ACTUALLY, MERCY did as it turned out, with Carrie Walton adding a couple baskets and point guard Jenny Clinton an additional four points to fuel the Marlins' momentum. After a couple more timeouts, Katie Mans finally erased the goose egg from the Trenton side of the scoreboard with 35 seconds left in the quarter.

"We had seven field goals (in a 42-28 loss to Plymouth Salem) and became incredibly cautious," Baker said. "The three-point shooting at the start told everybody it was OK. Jo got us started, and the defense was great the rest of the way."

The offensive flare left Mercy in the second and third quarters. The score was stuck on 18-2 for the longest time, and the Marlins led 21-8 at halftime and 23-14 after three quarters.

"Jo shot them out of the zone," Baker said. "They matched up and we isolated Jenny, but they radically shifted into the lane to stop her penetration. It took a while for our offensive players to be aware of who they were cheating on.

"Jenny played a tremendous floor game," he added. "They trapped us and still never took us out of our offense."

Another flurry early in the fourth period — Lee Albrecht's four free throws and three straight field goals by Stephens, who scored a game-high 14 points — boosted Mercy into a 33-16 lead. Walton finished with nine points and Clinton six.

BUT IT WAS the defense that limited Trenton to 25 shots overall and the visitor's poor shooting (36 percent) that enabled the Marlins to survive the middle quarters.

Mans and Kim Hoppes, both 6-foot seniors, were ineffective in the middle. Mans had three field goals and 10 points, Hoppes four points. Trenton also made 14 turnovers in the first half and 21 for the game.

"Joanne and Maureen (Paulin) kept things sealed tight on the baseline, and Lee and Laure (DeMattia) took care of the middle against Mans," Baker said.

"He's just beat a Class A semifinalist. With all due credit to South Lyon and Salem, we beat ourselves the last two games by not playing aggressively and letting some pressure take us out of our offense."

The Trojans, who were 25-2 and one game from the state championship last year, have been struggling this season and are 1-2.

"We're not playing together as a team," Trenton coach John Biedenbach said. "We've got some talent. Mans and Hoppes are very good players.

"The frustrating thing is these kids have been around for three years and should know what the beck is going on. Defense kept us in the game; the offense stunk up the place."

Raiders suffer first loss

Clarkston won the battle of unbeaten teams Thursday night, downing North Farmington 57-41 in girls basketball.

The Wolves, who led by 10 after one quarter and 34-16 at halftime are 6-0, the Raiders 3-1.

Kim Gurecki scored 19 points for North and shared game-high honors with Clarkston's Rhonda Jokisch. Susan KcKoin added 16 for the winners.

"We just didn't match up," said North coach Greg Capling, whose teams faced a height disadvantage.

The Raiders outscored Clarkston 25-23 in the second half.

FARMINGTON 53, CHURCHILL 37: Mandy Cannon scored 17 points and pulled down eight rebounds Thursday night as the visiting Falcons evened their record at 2-2. The Chargers remained winless at 0-4.

Cannon, a senior guard, also had six assists, and her sister, Rachael, tallied eight points and passed for five assists.

Al Harrison

THE LEAGUE openers have come along with some outstanding efforts showing up on the scoreboards all around town.

One of the better "Classic" Leagues has undergone a slight change.

The Miller Lite Classic League bowls each Friday, in two shifts, at Plum Hollow Lanes. The name is different, but most of the faces and high shooters are the same, since this had formerly been the Budweiser Classic.

Many of the area's finest bowlers compete here, with a 300 game by league secretary Dick Lang highlighting the opening night. This was the 10th perfect game for Lang.

Lang has had a lot of highlights in his career as a bowler, including several berths on the All-City team and a first-place finish in the GDBA Masters Tournament.

Other recognizable names competing at Plum Hollow include Eddie Lubanski, Billy Golembewski, Dave Tulak, Mike Samardija and Randy Pierce.

Other highlights from opening night included a 755 series by Eric Tulley of Livonia, a 748 series by Jeff Lillard and a 289 game by Amos Mathis. Tulley and Mathis are fresh from the ranks of youth leagues.

Anyone who is interested in watching some of the best bowling in the area should get over to Plum Hollow Lanes at Nine Mile road and Lasher any Friday night.

● Not to be overlooked, the women are starting the season with some nice scoring in the Ladies Classic League at Country Lanes on Nine Mile road in Farmington Hills.

This group hits the lanes at 9:15 p.m. on Tuesdays.

Last week's opener featured Chris Chism tallying a 269 game in a 617 set, while Sandi Weed rolled up a 257 game, and Joan Schmid came in with a 602 series.

In the Greenfield Mixed League, Jim Waldrep started the season with a 265 game and a 616 series, Katie Szonye bowled a 607 series and Billy Franklin rolled a 615 series. This was Franklin's first-ever 600 series.

Bel Aire Lanes in Farmington had Janelle Jamerson recording a 232 game in a 569 series while rolling in the Friday mixed league.

Julie Willis led the "Funtimers" league with a 203 game, remarkable since it was exactly 104 pins over her average. The Men's Senior House League started out with a bang, as recent Hall-of-Fame inductee Fred Vitale fired a 696 series with a 255 game.

Also, Dave Halstead scored a 671 series. Jim McPhail Jr. rolled up a 668 with a 253, Tom Johnston added a 656 and John Robertson came in with a 255 game.

● Not to be out-done, senior citizens can still show the youngsters a thing or two when it comes to bowling.

This was demonstrated by Paul Putz, who bowled a 256 game and 600 series in the "Senior Wings Leftovers" League at Merri-Bowl Lanes in Livonia. Arthur Lyons also contributed a 244 game in this senior's competition.

In other action at Merri-Bowl, the Men's Senior House League had a "head start"on August 30th, with Jim McPhail leading the scoring with a 735.

Other top series were bowled by John Watkins (717), Mickey Przytulski (712), Howard Davis (679) and Garrett Nagle (658). Additionally, John Bryngelson rolled a 267 game.

On Sept. 6, the group was again led by Jim McPhail with a 672 series, while Pat Frasier totaled 666, and Fred Young shot a 290 game.

In the newly formed "Right Approach Scratch Trio League," Garrett Nagle topped the scorers with a 268 game and a 671 series.

Other top rollers included Charlie Riffle with a 243 game and a 671 series, Rick Iashetta with a 254, Steve Pauls with a 257 and Mary Mohacsi with a 248.

● At Mayflower Lanes in Redford Township, "That Old Gang of Mine" Mixed League action featured a 275 game from John Maddison.

In the "Harried Housewives" League, Brenda Korp fired a 219 game.

The "Tuesday Nite Men's League" had Marty Radtka hitting a 233 and a 607. Tom Ellington rolled a 223, Kari Reel spun a 212, and Dave Schoeninger bowled a 210.

In the Wednesday AM'ers, Elaine Klopcic had a 211 and Debbie Wood a 221.

● Westland Bowl did not have a lot of high scoring to open the season, but one young lady did come through in a big way. Lona Palise, a 17-year old, picked up where she left off last year with a 748 series on a block of 220-269-259.

● Super Bowl in Canton has a senior citizen's league called the "Double Nickle-Plus," which saw senior bowler Robert Morin open with a 255 game. In the "Super Bowlers," Rick Patterson cranked out a 288 game. The Canton Little League featured Gary Pemberton with a 192 game, Jim Weber a 562 series and Marsha Baron a 500 series.

● Woodland Lanes in Livonia is the site of the Ford Parts League, had Tom Reno kicking off the season with a 789 series, including a 289 game. In the "Morning Glories," Kathy Sherry rolled games of 234 and 200.

The Senior House League action featured Craig Demeo at 692, Tim Grates at 681 with a 279 game, Dave Wisniewski at 698, Art Kapetansky at 692, Kevin Borg at 694, Dave Gignac at 713 with a 289 game and Jerry Tomczak at 691 with a 275 game.

The "Midnighters" had Gary De Mea score a 278 game in his 685 series.

In the "Strikers," Ed Winters fired a 268 game.

In the Grandace League, Bud LeBlanc Jr. shot a 709 series with a 257 game.

The "Kings and Queens" featured Tom Elsey with a 727 series and Walt Smith at 714.

Mike Kosiowski shot a 277 game in the Allied Men's League.

The Thursday AM Ladies saw two bowlers roll their first 200 game. Terri Griffin shot a 200 even, and Jan Deane bowled a 203.

In the Morning Stars League, Judy McDonald rolled a 234 game.

Marilyn Vaughn hit a 521 set and Becky Teeter roll a 517 series in the "Flyers" circuit.

● At Clover Lanes in Livonia, the Moslem Shrine Bowling League started its 57th year with 22 teams in action. They will be holding a "Head Pin" tournament, 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 29. (It is open to the public.) The league bowls at 6:30 p.m.

Gentile provides Churchill spark

John Gentile's hat trick sparked unbeaten Livonia Churchill to a 5-0 boys soccer victory Wednesday over visiting Walled Lake Western.

The Chargers (5-0) travel tonight to face city rival Stevenson (2-0-1) in a big Livonia battle. (Game time is 7.)

Dominic Vella assisted on goals by Gentile and Brady Ericson to give Churchill a 2-0 halftime cushion.

Ericson added a goal and two assists in the second half as the Chargers pulled away.

Jovan Trpovski earned the shutout in goal for Churchill.

"My fullbacks played very well," said Churchill coach John Neff. "We pretty well shut the field down. We maintained a large territorial advantage."

STEVENSON 3, GARDEN CITY 0: Shane Millner scored one of three goals Friday as the Spartans rebounded from Wednesday's 1-1 tie with Farmington.

Garden City fell to 1-2-1.

Mike Shelton's goal gave the underdog Falcons a standoff against the defending state Class A champions.

REDFORD UNION 2, THURSTON 1: On Friday, the Panthers (3-0) are off to their best-ever varsity start as they defeated host Thurston (3-4-1).

After a scoreless half, goalie Derek Shuk was awarded a penalty kick and put it through.

Steve Nowak then put it out of reach later in the half on an assist from Shannon O'Neil.

Thurston outshot RU, 17-13.

GARDEN CITY 3, CRESTWOOD 1: In a non-league encounter Wednesday at Garden City Junior High, the host team got the game-winning goal from Jason Lilnangi (from Chad Jishi) with five minutes left in the half.

GC's Carlos Barzerelli tallied the first goal from Sama Jishi, but Dearborn Heights Crestwood's Derek Langlois tied it 1-all.

Pete Gallo tallied a second-half goal from Lilnangi to put the game out of reach for GC.

Defensively, Jim Horvath played well, while goalie Greg Dahn made 11 saves.

THURSTON 5, ALLEN PARK 0: Senior Jason Muller scored three times, and teammates Mike Steagall and Jamie Zalewski added one apiece as Redford Thurston thumped the visiting Jaguars.

Jim Marunich collected a pair of assists, while goalie Roy Neal made nine saves in posting the shutout.

On Tuesday, Thurston fell to visiting Dearborn Edsel Ford, 4-2, despite a pair of goals, including a penalty shot, by Brazilian exchange student Leonardo Moriedа.

Earlier in the week, Thurston was edged by visiting Monroe Catholic Central, 3-2. Jeff Gariepy tallied both goals for the Eagles.

TEMPLE 2, FAIRLANE 1: Redford Temple Christian evened its overall record at 3-3-1 with a Michigan Independent Athletic Association victory over host Dearborn Fairlane Christian (1-4).

Temple led 1-0 at the half on a goal by Kraig Dalton with Kevin DeMoss drawing the assist. Dave Schalte then made it 2-0 early at the 15-minute mark of the second half from Sean Coglin.

Fairlane ruined Temple goaltender Daryl Pauley's shutout bid on a penalty kick with two minutes to go.

Defensive standouts include middleback Joey Mullins, who turned in an outstanding first half before leaving with an injured toe, and fullback Curtis Johnson.

Health and Fitness

● ADULT DAY CARE

Wednesday, Sept. 20 — The Plymouth Adult Day Care at St. John's Episcopal Church, 574 S. Sheldon just south of Ann Arbor Trail, has opened its support group to the community for anyone in need of talking over stress or problems they may be experiencing in coping with caring for an older family member. Meeting time is 10-11:30 a.m. the third Wednesday of each month. Call 451-1455 for more information or if you plan on attending.

● ABORTION

Wednesday, Sept. 20 — "Abortion and the Press" will be addressed at the Detroit Press Club, 516 Howard St. in downtown Detroit. Sponsored by the Detroit Chapter of The Society of Professional Journalists (SPJ), featured guests will be Barbara Listing, president, Right to Life; and Douglas Fraser, former UAW president, representing the Michigan Citizens for Personal Freedom. The price is $13 for SPJ members, $15 for non-members and $10 for students. The evening will begin with cocktails at 6:15 p.m. and dinner at 6:45 p.m., followed by the program. For reservations, call (313) 336-1500.

● AEROBIC EXERCISE

Beginning Sept. 11 — The Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department, in conjunction with the Fitness Factory, is offering 10-week classes each of a combination of high ow impact (9:30-10:30 a.m.) and low impact (10:30-11:30 a.m.) on Tuesdays and Thursdays. These fun-filled classes offer a vigorous aerobic workout and muscle toning. The program is designed to improve your overall fitness level. Classes are held in the Lower Level of the Canton Township Administration Building, 1150 S. Canton Center Road, Canton. The price is $45 for two days a week. For further information, call 397-5110 Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.. In-person registration may be made at Canton Parks and Recreation Department, 1150 S. Canton Center Road, Canton. Babysitting services are also available for a minimal charge.

Beginning Oct. 3 — Adult Education at Geneva Presbyterian Church is offering aerobic classes Tuesday and Friday at 6 p.m. and Saturday at 9 a.m. Come and exercise and see what it's like! For more information, call the church at 459-0013 or David Bastine at 397-0870.

● MEDICAL COURSE

Beginning Thursday, Sept. 7 — Huron Valley Ambulance will offer an 180-hour emergency medical technician course through 6-10 p.m. January 25 Tuesday and Thursday evenings at HVA headquarters, 2215 Hogback Road, Ann Arbor. Students who successfully complete the course will be eligible to take the Michigan Department of Public Health exam for licensing as emergency medical technicians. For more information, call 971-7760.

● RIGHT TO LIFE-LIFESPAN

Thursday, Sept. 21 — Right to Life-Lifespan will host an important discussion on "Treating Victims of Rape and Incest — A Religious View — A Medical View." Two clergy and a nurse will be leading the discussion to be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 150 Fair St., Plymouth (off Lilley Road, near Ann Arbor Trail). The public is cordially invited. Refreshments will be served.

They named a street after Budget Rent a Truck.

"You know, I've had to send a lot of players packing in my time. So I always try to soften the blow by suggesting that they look into a Budget One-Way Truck. Budget Rent a Truck has a special fleet of 15- and 24-foot diesels and cargo vans that are priced just right for that one-way move to Miami or San Francisco. And they come equipped with automatic transmission, power steering, AM/FM stereo and air conditioning. Like I tell my players: there's only one way to go—my way. Budget rent a truck."

'Hey, buddy, will you sell that guitar?'

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

If you're a big fan of Bruce Springsteen, you probably know he plays a Fender Telecaster guitar on stage.

That's because fans who closely follow the top-name artists of the rock'n'roll age often know the top-name guitars played by the stars.

To many rock fans, a mention of Fender guitars sparks images of Keith Richard flailing away on his Telecaster, or Eric Alapton bending strings on his Stratocaster.

Say Gibson guitars, and it calls to mind Chuck Berry duck-walking with his ES-335 model, or Guns 'n' Roses cranking out power chords on their Gibson Les Pauls.

As rock enters its fifth decade, musicians have come to treasure vintage Fenders, Gibsons and other select guitars as fans treasure vintage recordings.

And that's where Doug Wasserman of Southfield comes in.

He's one of a half-dozen or so guitar brokers nationwide who searches out the vintage guitars prized by top artists.

Wasserman, 35, has sold guitars to name players including Graham Nash and Earl Klugh, and to amateurs and semiprofessionals who seek top-quality instruments.

"I've been playing for 29 years," Wasserman said. "I had a large collection of instruments I had amassed over a period of years and I didn't realize how valuable these instruments had become."

"I HAD A friend stop over one day and he offered me a large sum of money for these instruments. The light bulb went on in my head — I know where some more of these are," he said, recalling how he entered the business seven years ago.

To find vintage instruments, Wasserman travels to cities around the country, making stops at certain music stores. He's a friendly guy, but don't ask what cities and which music stores.

"I don't want to give away trade secrets," he said.

But the popular models are no secret to guitarists, as the vintage guitar market has taken off in the '80s.

Players into Fender guitars prize pre-CBS models — those made before CBS bought the company in 1965.

"Pre-CBS guitars have a whole different feel and sound to them," Wasserman explained. "The woods are generally lighter in weight. (Fender used ash in the early '50s, then alder.)

"And their pickups were different too, they seemed to have a more open sound, what we term now that classic Fender sound."

When talking vintage guitars in general, "what seems to cause the prices to go up is a great number of rock'n'roll stars use these vintage guitars," Wasserman said. "And of course every kid who sees MTV wants what their favorite rock stars play."

While Fender guitars have been hot in recent years — Springsteen plays a vintage Telecaster — Wasserman said Gibson Les Paul guitars are currently the hottest, possibly because the popular band Guns 'n' Roses plays Les Pauls.

THE TOP ON a Les Paul is maple, a dense wood which allows a player to sustain a note longer, Wasserman said.

"Different types of woods will produce different types of resonances," he explained. "The Les Paul electric guitar has always been the consummate rock'n'roll guitar, ever since the late '50s."

The Les Paul — named for the popular '50s performer who designed it — is prized in part for its style of construction, Wasserman said.

"It's a set-in neck that is glued to the body rather than bolted on (like a Fender)," he added. "They're just excellent playing and excellent sounding guitars and they're extremely durable.

"You're a cool guy if you have a good guitar, and they've always been considered a good guitar."

Particular players who seek out the Gibson ES-335 model — B.B. King plays his on a current McDonald's commercial — are going for ones made between 1958-63, Wasserman said. In this period, the guitar featured PAF (patent applied for) pickups and mahogany necks, among other features.

While Gibson and Fender guitars are the most popular, Wasserman said vintage Rickenbacker guitars — played by John Lennon and Roger McGuinn of the Byrds — and Gretsch guitars — played by George Harrison with the early Beatles — are extremely popular. And in certain models, bringing extreme prices.

"And there are more, of course," he said.

When you're talking vintage acoustic guitars, "Martins are certainly the most coveted. Gibson J-200s (a big, rounded body acoustic with flowered pick-guard) have always been popular," Wasserman said. Old Guild and Epiphone guitars are also valued.

Settling in at Michigamme lodge

By Iris Sanderson Jones
contributing travel editor

Travelers love to discover new places, especially off-the-road accommodations that nobody else knows about. I found such a place and you could probably still get in for the color season this year, if you want to drive as far as the Upper Peninsula.

Michigamme Lake Lodge, a log cabin lodge set in the trees above Lake Michigamme, 33 miles west of Marquette on U.S. 41, isn't even known to most Yoopers although it's been open since May.

Linda and Frank Stabile are part of a family of hotel owners that is slowly creating a dynasty of hotels in the U.P. None of them had been in the hospitality industry when Frank and Linda left the Detroit area to move north a dozen years ago to replace city streets with a world of lakes and trees.

Frank and Linda bought, and still own, the Bay View Motel in Escanaba and later the Westwood, now the Days Inn, in Marquette. In the meantime, two other Stabile brothers emigrated to the U.P. Ralph bought a hotel in Curtis. Jim and Shirley bought the Cedar Lodge, a roadside motel with adjacent log cabin accommodations in Paradise.

They were all enjoying Upper Peninsula life, their fortunes rising and falling with the tourist cycles in the U.P., when the lodge on Lake Michigamme came on the market a couple of years ago.

MICKY JONES

Linda and Frank Stabile (at right) talk with guests in front of the Michigamme Lake Lodge on Lake Michigamme in the Upper Peninsula.

The lodge was built by a local financier, Sam Cohodas, in 1934 as a private retreat for family, friends and business associates. Cohodas entertained a lot of important people there over the years.

THERE'S NO way to make a totally logical decision about a place like this, so Frank and Linda Stabile took a plunge and bought the lodge when Sam died.

There is a certain mood to any lake in the north country of Michigan, where glaciers carved lake beds out of ancient rock eons ago. Gleaming water, surrounded by low treed hills. Water slapping against boat docks and boat houses. Occasional houses and cottages peek out through trees to the lake.

It's what most of us think of as cottage country, but most cottages don't look like this. Nobody used the word atrium when this place was built, but the word describes "The Two-Headed, Schizoid Scenario From Hell" is not the latest low-budget, sci-fi epic — it's a plague striking screenwriters and this week's two major releases, "Cookie" and "Sea of Love," are perfect examples of films that haven't decided what they want to be when they grow up.

"Cookie" (C+, R, 90 minutes), under Susan Seidelman's ("Desperately Seeking Susan") direction was written by Nora Ephron ("When Harry Met Sally . . . .") and Alice Arlen ("Alamo Bay").

One would expect such a talented crew could do a lot with a clever idea and a good cast. Not so, however, as "Cookie" crumbles under the slow-paced weight of a romantic comedy about reconciliation and bonding interwoven with a double-scam D.A./Mafia movie.

Big-time mobster, Dino Capisco (Peter Falk), is paroled after 13 years. Under the terms of parole, he must go home to his wife, Bunny (Brenda Vaccaro) — she grooms dogs — even though his heart belongs to Lenore (Dianne West) with whom he had a daughter, Cookie (Emily Lloyd), about 18 years ago. Cookie is a tough, streetwise chick, long since alienated from her father.

Meanwhile, Dino learns from big-time developer Arnold Ross (Jerry Lewis) that his mob partner, Carmine Tarantino (Michael V. Gazzo), defrauded Dino of big bucks while Dino was in the slammer. As Dino takes action to get his due, mob warfare spreads, complicated by pressure from a federal attorney trying for headlines to bolster his run for governor.

Well, what will it be? Will Dino and his estranged daughter reconcile? Will Carmine's heavies hit Dino? Will the Feds nab somebody?

The slow-paced, domestic comedy of Dino and Cookie learning to love each other gets in the way of the fast-paced mob action and the double-scam whereby Dino and Cookie outwit cops and robbers alike.

Part of the fun in such films is watching the hero/heroine outwit the bad guys, but "Cookie" has too many loose ends and the hoax here is never clearly presented.

The other problem with "Cookie" is heavy-handed stereotypes. While the acting is good — Peter Falk does an excellent Peter Falk and Emily Lloyd is a very talented young lady — the gravelly wheezing of mobsters and Brenda Vaccaro's semihysterical, "Brooklyn-broad" gets old pretty quick.

Al Pacino may not drown in a "Sea of Love" (C, R, 110 minutes), but somebody better throw screenwriter Richard Price ("The Color of Money") a life preserver before he goes down for the third time in a sea of maudlin confusion.

Billed as an "erotic suspense thriller," "Sea of Love" has Pacino as New York detective Frank Keller alternately pining and slobbering over Helen (Ellen Barkin). She returns those sentiments which are mostly erratic than erotic.

There isn't a great deal of suspense either as Keller tracks down a psychotic, serial killer. First, Keller teams with Detective Gruber (Richard Jenkins) who is married to Keller's ex-wife. Then detective Sherman Touhey (John Goodman) joins up with Keller.

If Pacino and Goodman generated more charisma, had better lines and more screen time together, they might have pulled it off as a duo in the ever-popular buddy genre.

As it is, "Sea of Lion" flounders badly in Keller's maudlin cynicism. He's just another divorced, burnt-out detective waiting for a good woman to save him from himself. That cliche needs buddy-buddy charisma, a meaningful love story, real suspense, or a script without loose ends and unexplained plot elements.

Try all of the above, they're mostly missing in a "Sea of Love."

"Vital Signs" (*) is a romantic drama about five medical students who, rest assured, have all the usual problems of growing up and learning how to doctor people.

"Heart of Dixie" (*) (PG) features Ally Sheedy and Phoeby Cates in a story of Southern gentility in the late '50s as times began to change.

STILL PLAYING:

"The Abyss" (D-) (PG-13) 135 minutes.
Despite excellent underwater sequences, this muddled and murky sci-fi sea saga sinks.

"Batman" (C+) (PG-13) 120 minutes.
Michael Keaton is a dud in the title role but Jack Nicholson's Joker is terrific.

"Casualities of War" (B+) (R) 105 minutes.
Grim, gripping and graphically violent story of Vienam war.

"Cheetah" (D-) (G) 75 minutes.
Slow, cliched Disney in Africa epic that left its excitement at the airport.

"Dead Poets Society" (A+) (PG) 124 minutes.
Robin Williams' sensitive portrait of a fine teacher is complimented by excellent young actors as his students.

"Eddie and the Cruisers II: Eddie Lives" (PG-13).
They're still looking for Eddie's body.

"Honey, I Shrunk the Kids" (B+) (PG) 105 minutes.
It's fun but it ain't easy to be small.

"Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade" (B+) (PG-13) 120 minutes.
Good entertainment, but enough already.

"Kickboxer" (*) (R).
Vengeance and rescue are in order as an American kickboxer travels to Thailand.

"Lethal Weapon II" (B+) (R) 115 minutes. Glover and Gibson do it again in high, albeit violent, style.

"Licence to Kill" (B+) (R) 105 minutes.
Number 16 in the 007 series with Carey Lowell as Dalton's lovely lady. Outrageous but entertaining.

"Lock-up" (R).
Stallone's in jail and Donald Sutherland is the warden. Best wishes to the latter.

"Millenium" (PG-13).
Sci-fi thriller features Kris Kristofferson as government investigator who finds strange clues at airline disaster site.

"Nightmare on Elm Street: V" (R)
Freddie's back.

"Parenthood" (A-) (R) 120 minutes.
Large, talented cast in complex, but entertaining story about a family which includes Jason Robards, Steve Martin, Tom Hulce, Martha Plimpton and Diane Wiest, among others.

"Peter Pan" (A) (G) 77 minutes.
Disney's classic animation of Sir James Barrie's story.

"The Package" (R).
Gene Hackman and Joanna Cassidy in story of deceit on the international scene as career military man escorts prisoner back from Russia.

"Relentless" (*) (R).
Judd Nelson, Robert Loggia, Leo Rossi and Meg Foster in story of driven young man who becomes a killer.

"Romero" (A) (PG-13) 105 minutes.
Disturbing, frightening but provocative story of El Salvadoran Archbishop Oscar Romero and the events leading to his assassination. Superb performance by Raul Julia in title role.

"Sex, Lies, and Videotape" (R).
Everyone's talking about this romantic comedy with James Spader.

"Time Trackers" (*) (PG) 105 minutes.
Follow that mad scientist in a stolen time machine.

"Turner & Hooch" (D) (PG) 95 minutes.
Man and slobbery dog bonding against background of confused — and confusing — murder investigation.

Peter Falk and Emily Lloyd star as a hot-tempered father-daughter duo who manage to outsmart both the mob and the law in "Cookie."

Film pays tribute to comics

By John Monaghan
special writer

Documentary filmmaker Ron Mann was reading a comic book in an airport lounge when he noticed people around him giving strange looks. He saw his mission — to convince people that comic books are an art form, not just junk culture.

His resulting film, "Comic Book Confidential," traces the history and future of comics, and it's as entertaining and offbeat as the works themselves. The award-winning film screens this Friday and Saturday at the Detroit Film Theatre.

Faster than a speeding bullet, "Comic Book Confidential" breezes over the creation of superheroes like Superman, Batman and Captain America. Artist Jack Kirby discusses the patriotic role of comic books in Battling the Nazis.

After the war, comic books had other battles to fight. William M. Gaines, publisher of the gruesome "Tales from the Crypt" and "Weird Science," is grilled during Senate subcommittee hearings on juvenile delinquency — a forerunner of the anti-Communist inquisition of Joseph McCarthy.

And in another amazing piece of archival footage, a TV show preaches the evils of comic books on modern youth. Glassy-eyed children look on while a narrator warns that comics promote "sexual perversion" and the most despicable of crimes."

INTERVIEWED today, Gaines says censorship had a "chilling effect on the art of the business." Artistic freedom in mainstream comic books didn't really return until the 1980s.

There were, however, mavericks working outside the superhero realm. Robert Crumb, for instance, relates in the film how he quit his job at a Cleveland greeting card company to create the drug-inspired "Mr. Natural" and "Keep on Truckin.' "

Director Mann understands that kind of passion. To get the film he wanted, the Toronto-based filmmaker scraped together $325,000 in funding, "borrowed" spare film stock from other projects and talked technician friends into working for part of the profits.

For Mann, "Comic Book Confidential" is the third in a trilogy of documentaries about artists. The others, "Imagine the Sound" (1980) and "Poetry in Motion" (1984), dealt with experimental jazz and poets respectively.

In each film, he has steered clear of the dry documentary style. Instead of simply interviewing the artists, he asks them to narrate stories while he pans back and forth across their panels. Although some are self-conscious, Will Eisner, creator of The Spirit, confesses that "most of us in the field are closet actors anyway."

IN THE '80S section, he talks with Lynda Barry, Art Spiegelman and Bill Griffith, whose Zippy The Pinhead may soon have his own feature film.

"If you can't say something nice," Griffith comments on the clown's success, "say something surrealistic."

The film is only slightly marred by its noble concept. A decade ago, comics were indeed outcasts — and failing financially. Today, they are a billion dollar industry, more respected than ever and read by as many intellectual adults as children.

Anyone paying to see a movie called "Comic Book Confidential" already realizes the power of the art.

In the '50s, Hollywood box office suffered as everyone stayed home to watch television. The movies retaliated with the slogan, "Movies are better than ever!"

While that wasn't necessarily true, films in those days certainly grew bigger, longer and more extravagant as Hollywood offered what black-and-white TV on small home screens couldn't — wide-screen, technicolor extravaganzas.

CBS-Fox Home Video has just released four of those blockbusters in a package called "Swords and Sandals." All are unrated and in color. Each may be rented separately. While there's plenty of cleavage and epic battles, it's pretty much G or PG stuff by today's standards.

"Swords and Sandals" includes "Demetrius and the Gladiators" (1954, 101 minutes) with Victor Mature and Susan Hayward. Mature also stars in "The Egyptian" (1954, 139 minutes) with Jean Simmons, Gene Tierny and Peter Ustinov.

Susan Hayward and Gregory Peck headline "David and Bathsheba" (1951, 116 minutes) while Stewart Granger, Pier Angeli and Anouk Aimee star in "Sodom and Gomorrah" (1963, 148 minutes). That's almost 8¼ hours of "big-budget, biblical blockbusters with casts of thousands."

If you watch them all, you'll overdose on moral rectitude, sword fighting and chariot racing, but at least one or two are worthwhile. Even on your small home screen, they are pretty spectacular.

STUDENTS OF "Genesis" may be surprised how Hollywood rearranged biblical history but then the movies always favored spectacle over accuracy. Along with "The Robe," these Twentieth Century Fox spectaculars were the product of Darryl F. Zanuck out-DeMilling Cecille B.

"Sodom and Gomorrah" is the lone exception. An Italian production filmed in Morocco, a Joseph E. Levine film directed by Robert Aldrich with Stewart Granger as Lot, Pier Angeli as his wife, Ildith, the pillar-of-salt-to-be.

Stanley Baker is Prince Astaroth, scheming with the Helamite tribesman to take over Sodom and Gomorrah from his sister, Queen Bera (Anouk Aimee). She's particularly good, albeit the stereotypical evil queen. Rossana Podesta is Lot's daughter, Shuoh. The music was by Miklos Rozsa.

Despite all that talent, the plot — besides differing radically from the Old Testament — is pretty stodgy and leaden. Lot shows up with his portion of the Hebrew people after he and Abraham split. His arrival is manipulated for their own ends by the various forces in Sodom.

There's a pretty obvious moral lesson with soft and sexy living in Sodom representing the seductive evils of materialism.

Sodom's wealth was founded on its control of salt mines and the original film had graphic sequences of slaves working in those mines, but that footage is missing in the current video that runs six minutes shorter than the original film.

THE SALT MINE sequences, like much of the film's violence, are pretty tame. It's a puzzle why that footage was excised. What's six minutes more when you've passed two hours?

In those days, cameras had the good grace to avert their eyes at particularly unpleasant moments. Now, of course, the lens zooms in and rubs our noses in the gore.

All this notwithstanding, "Sodom and Gomorrah" is worth watching, over and above its historical stature and position. There's lots of singing and dancing — the Hebrew children doing what we might term folk music while the Queen of Sodom has some suggestive court dancers doing some pretty slick dancing.

There's also lots of Helamite cavalry trotting around and if you watch closely, you'll be able to count a "cast of thousands." That was not an idle boast. The battle scenes are expansive and quite impressive.

"Sodom and Gomorrah" is the longest and least successful of the "Swords and Sandals" package, but any of the four are worthwhile. Of course, if you like one, try the others.

Susans strum way to success

By Larry O'Connor

Susans might be increasingly difficult to come by, but Band of Susans has never been short on guitars.

The New York-based coed group entered personnel changes that included two of the three Susans leaving and has released what some say is its best album to date, "Love Agenda" (Blast First/Restless).

The LP is a brick wall of guitar noise with no less than three axe masters at the helm.

Now before the comparisons start, let's get a few things straight. Yes, Band of Susans are from New York and, indeed, the group is on the same label.

But Sonic Youth they're not. Band members will be the first to say so.

Nonetheless, it doesn't prevent people from putting two and two together and coming up with 17.

"I think people are just trying find a reference point," said Susan Stenger who is the last remaining Susan it the band. "It's not justified, really."

"The guitar on Sonic Youth records are more far back," added Robert Poss, who performs in the dual role of guitarist and producer for the band. "There seems to be more of an emphasis on vocals and almost as ethereal kind of murky guitar sound where it's almost acoustic sounding.

"OUR STUFF has the guitars right up in your face."

Poss joins two new guitarists, Libby Flynt and Mark Lonergan, on this current tour that stops Tuesday at the Blind Pig in Ann Arbor. Susan Tallman and Susan Lyall left the band in January 1988 to pursue other interests.

All the founding members had performed with such avant-garde guitar composers as Glenn Branco and Rhys Chatham. Thus their love of Fenders is exposed.

Although Band of Susans places a heavy emphasis on guitar sound, there is a bonding agent that draws the shrills into one stream of consciousness. The glue that holds it together is "the stuff we smirk before we go on stage," Poss said jokingly.

On a serious note, Poss believes the homogeneous nature of the music is due to the fact the Susans are less random than other bands of its ilk.

"We're not a jammy band," Stenger said. "We do deliberately limit ourselves in certain ways to the kind of songs we play to even the way we tune our guitars."

People here are just tuning into the Band of Susans. The group formed in 1986 in New York City, but has toured primarily in the East Coast.

In the United Kingdom, it's a different story. The British music press has been fawning over American guitar bands, such as Sonic Youth and Dinosaur Junior, with the journalistic vigor usually left for Lady Di and Prince Chuck.

BAND OF SUSANS has enjoyed the exposure. "Love Agenda" debuted No. 4 on New Musical Express' independent chart and received thumbs-up reviews on a recent UK tour as a support act for Throwing Muses.

Any premature inflated egos don't seem present, however. Band members are not about to quit their day jobs to support their guitar habit, which for Spenger and Poss included working as clerks in a New York law firm. (Spenger worked on an investigation looking into the financial holdings of deposed Haiti leader "Baby Doc" Duvalier.)

Such work keeps them grounded in reality. Any success stateside will definitely have to be earned the hard way. Touring is a major component of that.

"We don't plan to change what we are doing," Stenger said. "So whether or not we appeal to mainstream tastes is not our worry."

Band of Susans will perform Tuesday, Sept. 19, at the Blind Pig, 208 S. First, Ann Arbor. For information, call 996-8555.

Don't look for everyone to be named Susan in the band of Susans. The New York-based group includes Susan Stenger, Robert Poss, Libby Flynt and Mark Lonergan.

STRANGE BEDFELLOWS — U-Club, Ann Arbor

Ah, it all comes back — red brick institutions of learning, the kiosk announcing the next frat party, a bit of nip in the air. Yes, returning to a life of academe in the fall, there's a certain amount of excitement.

Especially when a band like Strange Bedfellows help bring in the new school year. The five-member group performed a 22-song set Tuesday to a small but enthusiastic crowd at the University of Michigan U-Club.

Up front, let's level a nebulous criticism. At times, lead singer Missy Gibson looks like her body's possessed by R.E.M.'s Michael Stipe. Too much straddling the microphone stand and endless gesturing (including kneeling), especially at the start.

OK. Feel much better now that that's out of the way.

Such distractions didn't overshadow an enjoyable show where one could help but become a bit carried away. The Strange Bedfellows have come a long way from the last time we watched them perform 10 months ago (and we thought they were better than the average band then). Since that time, there have been lineup changes and Beth Yates of Birmingham has added keyboards to her duties as backup vocalist.

In that time, Gibson has gone from a whimsical frontwoman, singing about such things as sugar doughnuts, to a self-assured performer who dominates the stage with her vocals and presence. Her voice has grown even more forceful.

So, too, has Yates'. Her role is not limited to the shadows. She picked up the harmonica on one number and was able to display her vocal ability with a poignant solo version of "Bobby McGee."

Though, it was the two-part harmonies Yates and Gibson mastered on many of the Strange Bedfellow songs that provided some of the better moments.

The band itself is tight. Credit goes to bassist George Stasiw, drummer Jim Faulkner and guitarists Kenny Tudrick and Bill Tudrick for that.

The musicianship allows Strange Bedfellows to switch gears from ya-ya rock numbers to bluesy tunes like "Green Eyed Kitty" without a glitch.

Strange Bedfellows gained momentum as they proceeded to burn through the set. Just when it looked like the band was ready to call it a night, it did one better. Things ended on a bang with the rousing guitar infested "Prayers." Even solo performances didn't hinder the flow of the show.

The original purpose of the trip was to see the opening band, Shouting Club, with new lead singer Walter Babinski. Plans were to be back home before midnight (you know, having to go to work in the morning), but midnight became 12:30 a.m. and then 1 a.m. and then 1:30 a.m.

Strange Bedfellows' music wouldn't let us go home.

MUSIC NOTES

LETTERS FROM HOME: A rather disturbing note passed by our desk recently. Sensitive Big Guys say they will be calling it quits after a pair of "farewell shows" Friday, Sept. 29, at Paycheck's Lounge in Hamtramck and Saturday, Sept. 30, at Club Heidelberg in Ann Arbor. The Big Guys will open for the Junk Monkeys for both shows.

According to the Sensitive Big Guy newsletter, issue No. 5, the four members are leaving to pursue outside interests.

Guitarist and vocalist Brian Ressel will become the "oldest and first non-hispanic member of Menudo." Bass player Steve Bauer will resume his teaching career at the Dale Carnegie School. Rob Paul has been asked to play keyboards on an upcoming Bon Jovi tour.

That didn't arouse our suspicions so much as the line about guitarist and vocalist Rob Varney devoting his time to knitting and pottery. C'mon, Varney probably doesn't know the difference between a pair of knitting needles and a pair of chopsticks.

"Let's just say it's true, for now" said Varney, trying to lodge his tongue in his cheek without choking. "Let's just say there will probably be a reunion tour in a couple of months."

During the layoff, the band plans to write some new material. So not to worry. The Sensitive Big Guys will ride again.

Another band on hiatus for awhile is World State, which is looking for a new drummer after Todd Kulman left recently. The band is also busy writing some new songs, according to singer Rachel Sinnott.

Incidently, World State and Sensitive Big Guys are both featured on the compilation CD release "Detroit Underground, Vol. 1," which is available at finer record stores in the area.

RELEASES AND OTHER PIECES: The "Underground Detroit" CD is one of several releases from bands in the area. The Civilains, Opossums, Figure 4, No Right No Wrong and Gangster Fun all have products in record stores.

All of them avoid the the R.E.M./U2/Iggy of the Stooges/Cure rehash some bands are particularly fond of playing.

Glynn Scanlan of the Idiots sent along his band's recently released tape. The raucous brand of Livonia punk has been getting regular air play on Scott Campbell's "Detroit Music Scene" radio show that is heard on WDTR-FM.

CLUBBED: The club scene picking up again after the August doldrums. Roland Diazis booking several acts from this area Wednesday through Saturday at Club Heidelberg in Ann Arbor and Todd's has started Monday music series featuring local bands.

Gene 24, a national act, will perform a special show tonight at Todd's. No cover until 10 p.m. After that, it costs $3.

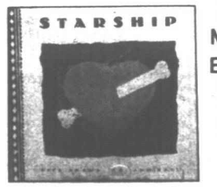
REVIEWS

LOVE AMONG THE CANNIBALS — Starship



There are times when it's just not worth it — writing these reviews I mean. OK, so I get to hear a lot of the latest releases, and usually that's not too bad. It can be enjoyable.

But then along comes that one day when it's time to pay the ferryman. That one day the editor has been relishing. He's a gentle soul beneath it all, but it's the evil malicious side that comes out after a late Sunday night's indulgences. Monday morning has arrived a bit too quickly. Everything is colored bloodshot.

The Monday morning Mr. Hyde glares in my direction and sees the innocent, blameless child who slaves so selflessly to make him happy. A cracked Freddy Krueger grin breaks across his face. He kicks a passing messenger boy and launches an LP, Frisbee-style, toward me. Upon extracting the sharpened corner from my eye, and in an immense philosophical moment, I comprehend the heavy toll to be paid for the decadent life led by all record reviewers.

But my sadness runs deeper than that. It is a heartfelt devastation for the whole of humanity. It is a slap in the face of Glamcot. It is an aberration that strikes against East, West, black, white, Arab, Jew, Catholic and Protestant. It is a crime to be treated with the same contempt reserved for the evil of the Holocaust.

Jefferson Starship has released a new album.

Burn as many copies as you can. We have got to work together to save the world. Greenpeace will forgive for you damaging the ozone layer for this one cause.

Please God, be merciful in our hour of need.

— Cormac Wright

MARSUPIAL ERUPTIS — Opossums

The Opossums don't put a headlock on the music listener and whip them into submission. Instead, this Ann Arbor-based foursome plays an endearing brand of a rock'n'roll that invites you to sit down and enjoy a tall cool one.

The Opossums make it sound so simple on their 11-song debut LP on the independent label Picnic Horn Records.

An easy backwoods beat, snappy lyrics and effortless vocals are the hallmarks of "Marsupial Eruptis." What's remarkable is that this disc was knocked off in two days' time in the studio, providing not only a live feel but a cohesiveness as well.

Whether it's the Byrd's-like guitar lines provided by Mark Neff and Marty Fletcher on numbers such as "Hearts Run Wild" and "Roll River" to the rock'n'roll free-for-all "Alphabet Roadway," a tightness prevails. The Opossums are definitely charting their own course.

Fletcher does a good portion of the songwriting. His country/bluegrass influences can be heard in bits and pieces of each song without sounding like somebody on some revivalist trip.

Neff is the other half of Opossums songwriting tandem. He's no slouch either, contributing two excellent numbers in "In and Out" and "Something's Here." The latter pulls you by a lasso of some great guitar hooks.

Also, aside from the music, the Opossums have a first-rate package. The cover is sharp and the liner notes are easy to read.

If you've never bought an album by a local band, there's no better place to start than here.

— Larry O'Connor

PEACE AND LOVE —The Pogues

Oliver Cromwell's name is not often mentioned in rock and roll lyrics. But the English lord protector is cursed on The Pogues fifth recording, in a song that sent listeners scurrying to their World Books. Cromwell bandits ravaged Ireland in 1649, and on "Young Ned of the Hill" he is damned "to burn in hell tonight."

Title notwithstanding, "Peace and Love" is as spirited (is that the word?) as past recordings. The band that made its name setting Celtic sounds to a thump-thump-thump beat continues to expand. Songwriting credits are spread more evenly. Strains of pop music appear via catchy electric guitar riffs and melodies — 14 big songs in all.

Phillip Chevron has written two of the best, "Lorelei," a love song with a mythical bent, and "Blue Heaven," a raucous ride through fantasy land.

Singer Shane McGowan brings us back to reality, of course. He sports a beard on the album cover, but has not mellowed. His "Boat Train" takes us on an entirely different ride and he spews words like vomit.

"Down All the Day" tells the story of "Christy Brown, a clown around town/ now a man of renown from Dingle to Down."

Tribute is paid to London, the band's collective hometown, with two songs. One is an embarrassing Kid Creole pastiche. The other, "The Jem Finer love song set on Albert Bridge, is more evocative: "I dreamt we were standing/ By the banks of the Thames/ Where the cold gray waters ripple/ in the misty morning light . . ."

The mix on "Peace and Love" seems a bit heavy-handed at times. The sound is sometimes too layered for a band that sounds best relishing on a live stage.

Two final notes: The album is dedicated to the 95 victims of an English football stadium disaster, and the fellow on the cover has six fingers. Peace and Love.

— Brian Lysaght

FEAR AND LOAFING

Liver pate, lush lawns and Arnie

Karl Nilsson

Believe me, life in the suburbs is not as safe as it looks. Sure, the inner city has crime, drugs and poverty. But living in suburbia poses its own special dangers.

Consider this case in point:

According to eye witnesses, a recent DSO concert at Meadowbrook was interrupted by a near-tragic accident. Sometime during the overture to Mozart's "Magic Flute," a concert goer stood up and headed for the restrooms, cautiously tip-toeing his way between the checkerboard of picnic baskets, he squinted in the fading light.

Suddenly, his right Gucci slipped on a loaf of French bread. Groping for balance, his left foot came down on a liver pate. Lurching into the air, his body flew upward, landing heavily on a platter of clams casino. Greased by a superb bernaise sauce, he began to roll wildly down the grassy hillside, his linen Perry Ellis picking up bits and pieces of gourmet food as he went.

Seconds before catapulting into the covered seating, he was finally stopped by a gooey mocha torte.

Although the unidentified man was unhurt by his fall, 13 spectators were injured by attorneys rushing to represent him.

AS DEADLY as classical music can be, there's an even worse threat in suburbia that can't be seen or heard. Of course, I'm referring to "immaculate lawn syndrome" — the new religion of the '80s.

Ironically, the reason many folks moved to the suburbs in the first place was to escape the pollution of the city. Out in the new frontier, a man could stand tall in his wife's slippers and smoke a cigarette in fresh, clean air.

You see, out here, we don't tolerate factories covering our homes with soot. No incinerators. No hazardous waste dumps. Even our rivers don't catch fire.

In fact, we're so environmentally conscious, we passed ordinances making it illegal to burn our leaves. A permit to roast hot dogs must be obtained two weeks in advance. Aerosal deodorants can only be applied on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

And yet, all is not well.

In our escalating quest for landscape perfection, we voluntarily spray millions of gallons of deadly poisons, weed killers and pesticides on our lawns, shrubs and slow-moving pets.

Try to follow the logic here: We give up red meat. We eat more oat bran than Mr. Ed. We insist our rice cubes be made from Perrier to avoid contamination. All in the name of good health. Then we shell out big bucks to soak our lawns with known carcinogens. Does this make sense to you?

NO ONE fully knows what the long-term side effects of lawn chemicals will be. However, preliminary reports trickling in may be worth noting:

● In Southfield, a prominent newscaster accidentally dropped his toupee on the freshly sprayed lawn. The next morning his hairpiece had grown to the size of a Quonset hut and a family of four squatters had moved inside.

● In what is perhaps the strangest development yet, certain hardy species of weeds have actually developed a resistance to the poisons. Instead of keeling over as planned, they have miraculously developed the powers of speech and have been overheard ordering hundreds of anchovy pizzas to punish the homeowners.

Concerned that the lush, green lawns surrounding my home represent an ecological time bomb, I began a door-to-door campaign, urging people to switch from toxins to salad dressing.

"Couldn't you just spray the weeds with oil and vinegar? I mean it always makes my salad go limp . . . "

Yesterday, my speech was interrupted by a sports-minded neighbor who helped me put the whole lawn care issue into proper perspective:

"Look, on one hand, it's a definite health hazard. But on the other hand, it's a welcome mat for any pro golfer in the area. Suppose Arnold Palmer drives by. If my lawn's up to snuff, he might pull over and practice putting. You don't expect me to pass up a free lesson like that?"

STREET SENSE

No love? Better forget marriage

Barbara Schiff

Dear Barbara,

"Gilda" (let's call her that) and I met about 18 months ago and waited 3½ months to begin making love. That has been the most positive area of our relationship.

In general, I can only describe the overall relationship as pleasant because the lows are as frequent and as exaggerated as the highs. We seem to meet verbally in our goals, but in living, we diverge rather quickly.

I prefer the simple life, generally happy with who I am and what I do. She prefers the night life, always desiring the new stimulus, the new band, the new place to hang out. Money is important to her; my work is important to me.

I am not afraid of the time and effort required to obtain the Ph.D. that I want, but "Gilda" is. The question that I strive to answer is whether or not I'm being too selfish.

What should love feel like? Is it all-consuming or is it simply pleasant? How would you feel if you never saw your loved one again? It scares me that "Gilda" says that she would "die" if she lost me, that she would be heart broken. I, on the other hand, don't even think I would be fazed in the slightest, if I never saw her again. That scares me because it just doesn't seem right.

Is this normal? In many ways I want to be married. I am not kidding when I state that the most noble thing a person can do in this world is live life with another person, raise a family and remain together in our ever-macho society.

There is another factor which makes the marriage question so pressing. "Gilda" has a condition which will make child-bearing dangerous as she grows older, so I feel guilty in asking her to wait. That's what I would like to do. Also, my desire to start and raise a family is starting to increases and that plays a factor in my confusion.

I am looking for some telltale signs that would help indicate whether or not we have a chance or whether it would be best for both of us to exit the relationship right now.

Guilty Lover

Dear Guilty Lover,

In reading your lengthy letter, which I have condensed here for publication purposes, you have told me you don't love her, that you want to get your Ph.D. and that you are being pressured by her to make a move to marriage at this inopportune time.

In other words, you are painting a picture of not loving her and then asking if you should marry her.

The only conclusion that follows from the data as you have presented it is, "no." Marriage with such reservations as you present starts out with two strikes against it (if not three.)

I receive letters from others and I see many people in my practice who are trying to put "round pegs into square holes." They want to get married or have a baby so they pretend that the fit with another person is a good one. After the marriage and parenthood, when the romance is gone and the reality bleak, they wonder how they didn't see the poor fit.

If you do not like yourself as you are because you feel incapable of loving deeply, you would be better off with competent professional help than with the pretense of a loveless marriage.

Barbara

Dear Barbara,

I saw "When Harry Met Sally" this week. I loved it. I feel so uplifted and optimistic.

My problem is that I am dating a man with problems similar to Harry's. He was divorced about a year ago by his wife and now seems fearful of another committed relationship. He says he feels he must protect himself from ever suffering similar pain again.

Our relationship is different than Harry's and Sally's because "George" and I are physically involved.

My question is how long do I wait? My friends have told me to break up with him or at least start dating other people. I really don't want to. He says that if he could love someone it would be me.

Linda

Dear Linda,

I, too, very much enjoyed 'When Harry Met Sally." Can we use the last few sentences of your letter to show you that you have answered your own question. One, your friends have given you good advice. Two, this man tells you that he can't love. What better answer do you want?

Lodge maintains its 1930s charm

A narrow gallery on the second floor leads in either direction to the eight upstairs bedrooms.

They are small upscale "cottage" rooms — varnished log walls with windows overlooking either the lake or forest. Three have in-room baths, the rest have sinks in the room and bathrooms next door or down the hall. All have chenille spreads and Linda's homey Victorian touches.

Most of the rooms cost $75 for two, including a continental breakfast in the dining room or on the glassed-in porch. The exception is Sam's room on the main floor, overlooking the lake, which is slightly larger, has its own bathroom and costs $100.

The grounds also include a caretaker's cottage, which can be rented on a housekeeping basis. The rates are $60 a night or $350 a week for four people.

MICHIGAMME Lake Lodge lists itself as a bed-and-breakfast, so there are no other eating or drinking services available unless you ask them to cater meals for groups.

There are a few eating places within an easy drive of the lodge. Mt. Shasta, five miles west on U.S. 41, serves casual meals and cocktails. There is a cafe — no cocktails — about two miles and another food-and-drink place three miles beyond that.

The town of Michigamme has a couple of interesting craft shops. You can walk or drive the mile along the lake to Van Ryper State Park, named for the doctor who treated mining families for $1 a month, including pulling teeth.

The park has a great little sand beach, playground, campground and camper's store that sells Moosetrack ice cream.

The best thing in the park is a tiny building with a moose head mounted behind a glass and a plaque commemorating the moose lift. Twenty-nine moose were carried from Algonquin Park in northern Ontario to Marquette County in 1985 and another 30 in 1987. There are now 116 moose re-establishing a herd in the forests near the Lake Superior shoreline.

Michigamme Lake Lodge probably won't stay open beyond Nov. 1, although it will be a year-round lodge once people have heard about it and they have a full house. For reservations, call (906) 225-1392 or (906) 339-4400.

You can write to Michigamme Lake Lodge, Michigamme, Mich., but you might be better to send mail to Frank Stabile at the Days Inn, 2403 U.S. 41 West, Marquette, Mich. 48955.

TYPICALLY, prime vintage guitars range in price from around $1,000 to "many thousands of dollars," Wasserman said.

To point up the current popularity of vintage guitars, both Fender and Gibson have in recent years been manufacturing re-issues of their earlier models — '52 and '62 Telecaster and Stratocaster and a '59 Les Paul, among others.

What does the future hold for the vintage guitar market?

"The type of instruments that I see from the collectability standpoint in the future are going to be the genuine luthier-made type instruments," Wasserman said.

Comic gears his act for TV

By Bob Sadler
special writer

Just when you thought all the comics in the world came from New York, here comes Wayne Cotter.

Oops. He's from New York, too.

But he was born there, not just transplanted by the necessities of comedic big time. Still, a lot of the comics roaming the American club circuit happen to be from the city that doesn't sleep, the Big Apple. Cotter just thinks the comedy factor is a matter of percentages.

"There's a lot of people living in New York," Cotter said.

BORN IN the Bronx, Cotter shuns any comparison with that Brooklyn bad boy whose career has taken off like a rocket recently — Andrew "Dice" Clay. "That act of his . . . well never mind. I forgot for a minute that this is print," Cotter said.

Cotter has maintained a commitment to clean material through the years, and it has earned him regular status on "Late Night with Letterman" and appearances on the Showtime Comedy All-Stars and "The Tonight Show." He believes the television work has been a natural outgrowth of his approach to comedy.

"I'VE ALWAYS done my act like I was working on television," Cotter said. He mentioned how he leaves the microphone on the stand (something only a fellow comic would pick up on) and keeps the comedy squeaky clean.

He started developing the comedy technique at an early age, making an impression on family, friends and others.

"In fourth grade, my teacher called my mother in for a conference. I was terrified. I didn't know what I was doing wrong.

"My mom came home all excited because what he'd wanted to discuss was her kid's exceptional sense of humor."

By Cotter's teen years years, his zeal for comedy became even more apparent.

"ALL THE kids back then were getting into Iron Butterfly and Mountain. I had comedy albums. I had a big clunky tape recorder that was my dad's.

"I used to hold the microphone to the TV and record the comedians, then listen to them over and over again. I had all of them memorized."

Among his favorite comics of that time were Robert Klein, Bob Newhart, Shelly Berman, Albert Brooks, Mel Brooks and Alan King. "If I could turn into another comedian, Alan King would be the guy."

When Cotter finished high school, an electrical engineering scholarship put him in Philadelphia — at the University of Pennsylvania.

He never got his degree but managed to get a day job in engineering. At night he performed at Philly's Comedy Works, on of the first places on the infant club circuit.

BY 1981, Cotter quit his day job.

The turning point of Cotter's career came in 1987, when "Late Night with David Letterman" left a message on his answering machine. He was on the show the next day and has become a regular.

Those appearances on "The Tonight Show" and Showtime (with Birmingham's own Tim Allen) also increased recognition of him.

Like all the comics around today, Cotter is riding the crest of the comedy boom, which has seen clubs spring up just about everywhere.

However, Cotter knows all good things must come to an end, and that eventually the club circuit will shrink, with just the better-run places surviving.

He's determined to still be standing on his comedic feet.

"There were comedians before (the boom), and there'll be comedians after it. I'm just trying to make sure I'm one of the guys still there."

Wayne Cotter will appear Friday and Saturday at Main Street Comedy Showcase in Ann Arbor. Call 996-9080 for information and reservations.

Hemingway's Traverse — 'No place more beautiful'

By Roberta Schwartz
special writer

As Ernest Hemingway and his first bride, Hadley Richardson, reached the crest of the biggest hill overlooking Petoskey and Little Traverse Bay, the groom asked his driver, Earl Bacon, to stop the car.

"See all that. Talk about the beauty of the Bay of Naples. I've seen them both and no place is more beautiful than Little Traverse in its autumn colors," Heminguay exclaimed.

Today, Bacon, a retired farmer of 84, and a handful of his contemporaries still recall their famous neighbor whom they call Ernie.

Forty years after the Nobel Prize winning novelist last visited Michigan, Hemingway's memory lives on in the northern woods that became the settings for his comic novel, "The Torrents of Spring" and the Nick Adams stories. Memories of 21 Michigan summers gave Hemingway the people and places from which he forged his fiction.

The novelist's favorite sister, Madelaine, nicknamed Sunny, still spends her summers in the family's cottage on Walloon Lake. The 83-year-old Sunny Miller seeks to preserve her privacy, but Windemere, a national historic landmark, attracts Hemingway buffs from all over the world.

Bacon's grandfather, sold Dr. Clarence Hemingway of Oak Park the property on which he built the summer place for his wife and their six children in 1898.

The two families became lifelong friends and when the Bacons were ill, Dr. Hemingway attended them. In turn, the Bacons supplied produce to the Hemingways on a regular basis and Ernie came for milk every day. Bacon's brother Carl became a good friend of Ernie.

Shangri-La is one of two cabins in Horton Bay that were prominent both in Hemingway's life and literature. The cabins were where Liz Dilworth, a friend of the Hemingway family, prepared chicken for the author's wedding.

EARL ENJOYS showing a snapshot of the two teenagers pitching hay. Bacon also proudly displays an oil painting of his family homestead by Grace Hall Hemingway, the exact landscape which her son described in "Ten Indians" and "Fathers and Sons."

Carl, who was four years older than Earl, appears as Carl Garner in the stories and teases Nick Adams about his Indian girlfriend, Prudence Mitchell.

Although Hemingway's stormy relationship with his mother is well known, Earl perceived Grace Hall as a great lady.

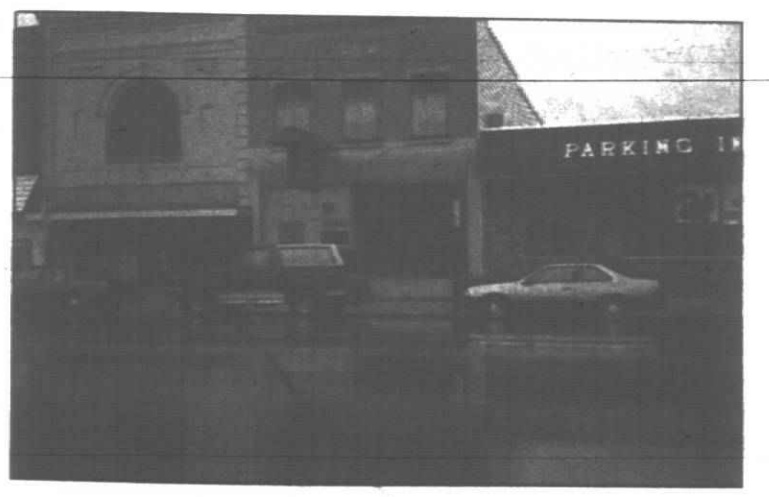
"She was stern, autocratic and very aristocratic, a very proper person," he said. "When you were around her, you were courteous.

"Mrs. Hemingway was a wonderful person who gave me books to read about young folks growing up. She is partly responsible for my being what I am tody."

He recalls Hadley Richardson of St. Louis as an attractive woman of 30, eight years older that her husband.

"I took an instant liking to her. She was friendly, courteous and magnanimous. What Ernie wanted, she got for him and she looked after Ernie as well as she could."

Although the Bacon farm has long since been torn down, the home where Irene Gordon first met her date, Ernest Hemingway, in 1919 still stands across from the Bay View Post Office. Gordon, who was Irene Goldstein then, was exactly Ernie's age and they played tennis together. In later years, the writer sent copies of his poems and even a love letter on their 50th birthday in 1949.



The Kal-Ho Bar in Kalkaska where, in Hemingway's "The Light of the World," Nick Adams and his friend quaffed a few drinks.

Among Ernest Hemingway's friends was Marion Smith's late husband, Bill, who first met the author in 1916.

Built around 1875 by A.J. Stroud, the Horton Bay General Store still carries the groceries and hardware items popular in Hemingway's day.

"Horton's Bay, the town, was only five houses on the main road between Boyne City and Charlevoix," Hemingway wrote in "Up in Michigan." "There was a general store and a post office with a high false front and maybe a wagon hitched out front."

Except for a few photographs left by a TV crew, the locals maintain that the store has remained unchanged since Nick Adams described it.

Almost directly across the highway stand the Dilworth cottages, Pinehurst and Shangri-La, both important locations in Hemingway's life and literature. He returned to the cottages with friends for fishing trips.

William Ohle, 77, recalls the wedding guests assembling beside the store before Hemingway's nuptials in 1921. The wooden Methodist Church, bedecked that day with wild flowers, has long since been torn down.

Ohle, who lives across from the cottage where Liz Dilworth, a friend of the Hemingway family, proudly exhibits Hemingway's helmet and canteen from World War I, which the young soldier had given to his friend, Wesley Dilworth, at Horton Bay's Fourth of July celebration.

Ohle said his first cousin, Marjorie Bump, was hurt by her portrayal as the character of Marjorie in the stories, "The End of Something" and "The Three Day Blow." She died last year and was buried in Petoskey, but in 1981 wrote a letter acknowledging that she knew Hemingway when she had a summer job as a waitress at the Dilworth cottages.

"SHE ALWAYS kept her friendship with him in the background," Ohle recalled. "She wrote that her relationship with him was not romantic, but that 'he was like a brother and good to me who was so much younger and afraid of boys.' "

Bump was in high school when she knew the young soldier who had come back to Michigan to heal his wounds.

Ernest first met Bill Smith in Horton Bay in 1916 and they remained lifetime friends. Smith later stayed in the Hemingways' apartment in Paris and traveled to Spain with them.

Smith appears as Bill in "Three Day Blow" and "The End of Something," companion tales of a broken love affair.

"Bill's only rupture with Hem came when Ernest wanted to tell his brother, Y.K., that his wife Doodles was having an affair," said Smith's widow, Marion. "There was some drifting apart. Bill wrote him that blood was thicker than water and he sided with his brother. He cried a lot when Hemingway shot himself in 1961."

THE PETOSKEY library on Mitchell Street, where young Hemingway exhibited his bullet riddled breeches to the ladies auxiliary, still attracts fans of the writer.

So does the Potter rooming house at 602 State St., where Hazel Potter remembers th boarder in the top front bedroom forever banging out stories on the typewriter.

The Nativity window, dedicated to the memory of Ernest by his sister Sunny, in the Emmanuel Episcopal Church also draws visitors.

Not everyone is touched by Hemingway fever, however.

In Kalkaska, the scene of one of Hemingway's most famous stories about a homosexual cook and two obese prostitutes, neither the ladies in the museum, which was the railroad station where the prostitutes argued, or the Kal-Ho Bar, where Nick Adams and his friend drank, know that Hemingway wrote about the town.

The small town inspired the story, "The Light of the World."

After he was married in Horton Bay, Hemingway never returned to Petoskey for a long stay. In 1947, Gordon saw him on his last visit to Michigan.

"He came into the store with a great deal of gusto," she said. "I remember he grabbed me and kissed me and I said, 'Ernest, why haven't you been up here before?'

"He said, 'Irene, I've always been disappointed in places where I've returned. I have such loving memories of northern Michigan that I didn't want them interrupted.' "

Roberta Schwartz is a free lance writer and photographer and also teaches journalism at Oakland University. She has visited some 50 countries in search of Heminway's friends and haunts.

Just shooting 'craps' the Lelanau Sands way

By Corinne Abatt
staff writer

Forget the neon lights and naughty shows, Frank Sinatra and Wayne Newton. If you want straight up, no frills, blackjack and craps, the Leelanau Sands Casino is fair game.

Not only is it the only game in the state, outside of New Jersey and Nevada, it's one of a very few in the entire country.

The casino, set back off Route 22 in a rather unobtrusive enclave of cedar finished one-story buildings, just north of Suttons Bay on the Leelanau Peninsula, has been in existence since 1984.

It is operated by the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians as a fund-raiser for the Indians who live on the Federal Indian Reservation there. As such, it succeeds far beyond what any number of highly influential rain gods and sun gods could ever have done.

Indian bands in Mt. Pleasant and the Upper Peninsula and in other states run bingo games regulated by the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act passed by Congress Oct. 17, 1988. The card and dice games, which were taking place at the Leelanau Sands Casino before the act was passed, were grandfathered in.

That cleared the way for the bigger action on the Leelanau Peninsula, seven nights a week during July and August and Wednesday-Sunday the rest of the year. Video poker is available 2-6 p.m. when the casino is open.

"THE VIDEO poker machines are real popular," said Greg Bailey, casino general manager. "We have 15 (lined along the back wall of the casino's main room) we could easily have 50-60."

There's a $2 minimum at the blackjack table and a $100 limit, but you can play two hands. Bets at the craps table are $1-25. And if there's a pause while you wait for a place at blackjack or video poker, there's something called pull-tabs for light amusement, not unlike the $1 state lotto games.

On a week night summer evening, Bailey said there will be 125-250 people in and out and more than double that on weekends.

Dress is informal; the decor is clean, tidy, bunkhouse modern, the atmosphere is quiet, relatively businesslike; and the employees are pleasant, but not effusive. Not a single dealer looked up and said, "Good evening, my name is Ellen and I'm going to be your croupier this evening."

The security guard by the door is moderately friendly — pay your $2 entry fee and choose your game. Drinks, for players, are on the house.

Just east of the casino, a long wooden outdoor stairway, with half a dozen or so landings for quick R and R, leads to the Indian-owned and operated GTB Motel. At night, it's dramatically accented by tall globe lights every few feet — the only concession to the nighttime drama of Monte Carlo or Reno.

THE ATTRACTIVE, 28-unit motel, built last year, is surrounded by tall trees and woods. The $1.1 million price tag was completely covered with proceeds from the casino and Super-Bingo.

Rates are modest by area standards — $45 for two people September-April; $55, May-June; and $65 July-August. And that comes with a $5 complimentary gambling chit for the casino.

Rooms are attractively furnished, with two double beds and a VCR. There's a VCR library behind the lobby. Continental breakfast is included in the room rate. No pool, restaurant or bar, but it is handy to gambling, if you don't mind a hundred or so stairs.

"Everything's cash, but we do take Visa or Mastercard," said Bailey.

The casino, Super Bingo, the Peshawbestown Indian Art Store, the motel and all other enterprises on the Reservation are under the direction of a Tribal Council, the elected governing board of the tribe. As such, they are really community property. The council, in turn, appoints the board of directors of the Economic Development Authority, EDA, which acts as the administrative manager of these and other enterprises.

WHILE THE Leelanau Sands isn't into bringing in plane loads of gamblers at bargain air rates a la Las Vegas and Atlantic City, there are bus loads of optimists arriving regularly at the GTB Motel's door from downstate, arranged by the bus transport companies.

Nobody says you have to gamble if you stay at the GTB Motel, but if you do, be assured your picture won't show up on the pages of People Magazine, GQ, or the daily papers.

Indians cash in with casino

By Corinne Abatt
staff writer

The Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians, like its counterparts around the United States, is really a nation within a nation.

According to an annual report published by the Economic Development Authority (EDA) of the tribe, "The modern day era of the Grand Traverse Band began on May 27, 1980, when the federal government acknowledged its historical and legal obligations to the Tribe."

This included, according to the Tribe, a complex status as a sovereign "domestic dependent nation" within the federal and state system of government.

JOHN PETOSKY, EDA director, tribal member and attorney, first reminds his listener that the 2,000 members of the Grand Traverse Band are the "children of the people who signed treaties with the federal government in 1836, 1855 and 1856."

"The Indians believe the non-Indians stole their lands," he said quietly, alluding briefly to these treaties.

He also mentions modern day animosity left from the fights over fishing rights.

He is business-like, but not secretive about the financial situation of the Grand Traverse Band. Casino gambling nets approximately $1 million a year and Super-Bingo $500,000 — that's above the cost of doing business and beyond what is funneled back into tribal programs. That's pure profit, money in the bank, so to speak.

ACTUALLY, IT'S becoming a trust fund. As stated in the annual report, "This trust fund is the beginnings of a permanent fund for tribal programs and purposes that will benefit the Tribe."

The jobs that the gambling provides for the 350 people presently living on the reservation is important, but obviously, secondary.

"There are 125 employees in the summer, 60 percent are Indian and all the management is Indian," said Greg Bailey, casino general manager.

Training programs for dealers are every spring for both Indians and non-Indians, Petoskey said. Many of the dealers are college students who took the course, passed and return for several summers to be dealers. Current pay for dealers is approximately $9 an hour.

No question about it, gambling proceeds are helping raise the standard of living for these Indians. The stated long-term goal is to raise it to that of the non-Indian population.

Granted the quality of life is gradually improving. Indian young people can now think in terms of college and careers. Yet, Petosky and Bailey are keenly aware that their house of cards and dice could collapse at any time.

They know laws can be amended, restrictions imposed, promises broken. This time, they want an ace in the hole — if and when the casino folds.

Neatnik 'myths' clarified

Q: I just don't understand people who are poorly organized. Tell me about those people who come to you for help.

A: I'm always amused when "neatniks" question "those people" who need organizational help. A number of people have made similar statements and I welcome the opportunity to clear up some myths.

MYTH 1: Only terribly disorganized people take organizing classes. Of all stigmas, this one needs eradicating most. My students represent a healthy cross section of society. Many have good jobs and beautiful homes but feel weighed down with too many time commitments or need help with filing. Many highly organized people take time management classes. Because society is becoming more and more complex, they re constantly striving for better ways to control their lives. Of the innumerable consulting jobs I've done, only one or two were truly cluttered. More often they were neat and tidy but the client just needed help in refining a few specific areas.

MYTH 2: Disorganized people are "losers." Not true! Many highly successful executives are poorly organized. (Of course, their secretaries help!) It is more difficult to be successful without order but certainly not impossible. They just have to work harder.

MYTH 3: "I'm the only one who's disorganized." It's fun watching some of my new students arrive at classes with a little anxiety and then seeing them relax as they realize there's a whole room full of people there just like them.

MYTH 4: Being disorganized means you are dirty and lazy. Actually, many people who live in disarray are not only very clean but are hard workers, too. They have just never learned how to systemize. Depression may be a factor for some, while others may just be "creative."

5 IS NOT A MYTH: Organizing students do tend to sign up late for classes and arrive late for the first sessions. Procrastination does seem to be a hallmark of those who need help. By the end of the series, however, that changes.

6 IS NOT A MYTH, EITHER: Being a saver causes disorder. About 95 percent of my students admit they are savers. I help them understand their affinity for saving and teach them how to overcome that tendency.

Dorothy Lehmkuhl's classes will begin the week of Oct. 2. Daytime "Organizing For Success": Tuesdays — Birmingham Community House (644-5832); Wednesdays — Schoolcraft College (462-4448). New pilot course, "Organizing Your Business Life": Thursday evenings — Troy Adult Education (879-7582). Call those centers to enroll.

WHAT'S NEW ON THE MARKET

THE PRODUCT — A transparent tape for tough projects.

Manufacturer's claim — That this tape is durable, water resistant and virtually invisible . . . that it easily conforms to almost any surface . . . that it can be used for mending torn pages and sealing envelopes . . . that it will handle vinyl and plastic jobs outside the house, such as a child's pool or beach balls . . . that it is good for book spines and board games . . . that it will come in handy when moving, especially for sealing boxes . . . that its uses include weathersealing window cracks, gaps and other openings . . . and that it is available in a new dispenser which cuts the tape when the cover is closed with a downward motion.

THE PRODUCT — A steam wallpaper stripper.

Manufacturer's claim — That it is faster and easier than the wet-and-scrape method and far less costly than renting a steamer for every project . . . that it uses directed-steam to loosen wallpaper adhesive . . . that the steamer is held against the wallpaper for 10 to 15 seconds to loosen the adhesive . . . that the product is lightweight and easy to control . . . that a special design allows the operator to work in any position, from narrow spots in the bathroom or kitchen to ceilings and other out-of-the-way places . . . and that it has a durable, easy-to-clean plastic housing.

THE PRODUCT — A primer coating to control bleeding from certain woods.

Manufacturer's claim — That this product is fortified with polyurethane to prevent the passage of wood stains into the final coat . . . that it will not mask the texture of the wood's natural grain . . . that it is highly resistant to blistering and peeling . . . that it contains a special fungicide to make the dry film resistant to mildew . . . that it is environmentally safe and conforms to all government specifications . . . and that it is also recommended as the first coat under all custom colors using light and medium light bases.

THE PRODUCT — A tape measure with a digital display and memory.

Manufactur's claim — That, even if you are on a ladder, precise measurements can be saved, with the product's digital memory storing them until they can be written down . . . that the 16-foot tape, besides the digital conveniences, has all standard features including a 3½-inch metal blade, 16-inch markings, an automatic lock and a power retract . . . that it is made of durable plastic . . . and that it operates for up to a year on two standard triple-A batteries.

THE PRODUCT — A water filter that requires no installation.

Manufacturer's claim — That it can be mounted on a cabinet, countertop or wall . . . that it removes lead and other contaminants from drinking water . . . that it requires no electricity to use . . . that it has clean simple lines that blend with any kitchen or bath decor . . . that the conventional aerator is replaced with a special diverter-aerator . . . that tubes from the aerator carry the water to and from a pre-filter for maximum filtration of rust and sediment in the water . . . and that the water goes through two other filters that reduce organic chemicals, lead and other heavy metals.

(The tape is manufactured by the 3M Stationery Division, 3M Center, St. Paul, Minn. 55144; the wallpaper stripper by Black and Decker, U.S. Power Tools Group, Box 798 Hunt Valley, Md. 21030; the primer coating by United Gilsonite Laboratories, P.O. Cranbrook Guild

Violin prodigy highlights 38th season

FOR ITS new season, starting next month, Cranbrook Music Guild is presenting a roster of artists from as far away as Poland, Germany and Bulgaria and as close as Chicago and Bloomfield Hills.

As in other years, the chamber music series offers a variety of artists, and music ranging from early works through the romantic era to the 20th century. All concerts are held in library of Cranbrook House, former home of George and Ellen Scripps Booth, founders of the Cranbrook complex, internationally recognized for the beauty of the grounds and architecture. Afterglow receptions are held in the Oak Room.

The Penderecki String Quartet of Poland will be the guests for the season's opener at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 11. The group, named for Polish composer, Krzysztof Penderecki, was singled out by Musical America as "young artists to watch in 1989." The Quartet made its American debut in 1988.

Trio Fontenay (piano, violin, cello) of Hamburg, Germany, will give the concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 7. Their recordings of the complete Mozart trios will be released on the Teldec-Decca label in 1991.

THE ALWAYS POPULAR Christmas concert, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 5, will feature the Ashbury Brass Quintet of Chicago which won two prestigious music competitions in one year. The repertoire ranges from jazz, spirituals and rag to folk and musical theater selections. The Cranbrook student brass choir will return by popular demand to perform ancient carols at the front door of Cranbrook House to set a holiday mood for the evening ahead.

Bulgarian pianist, Pavlina Dokovska, will be featured for the concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 27. She studied in Paris and at the Juilliard School on a Fulbright. She placed first in the Debussy competition in France and at the International Piano competition in Senigalia, Italy. She was a guest artist at the Festival of Two Worlds in Spoleto, Italy, the Mai Musical in Bordeaux, France and the Interforum Festival in Hungary.

One of the highlights of the season will be the return to the Cranbrook Music Guild series of Corey Cerovsek, violinist. The 17-year old musical and mathametical prodigy is in doctoral programs in math and music at Indiana University where he studies violin with Josef Gingold.

Pavlina Dokouska pianist is guest artist

Corey Cerovsek, soloist

He will be accompanied by his sister, Katja, who is also a highly regarded artist and student at Indiana University.

HE HAS PERFORMED with the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra, Zubin Mehta conducting, the Montreal Symphony with Charles Dutoit and last summer at the opening concerts of the new Opera de la Bastille in Paris as part of the French Bicentennial celebration.

The April concert will be given by Frederick Weldy, pianist, winner of the Guild's Betty Brewster Scholarship. The annual award is given to an outstanding graduate student at University of Michigan School of Music in an effort to promote and support outstanding student talent.

Season tickets are $65. For brochure and information, call 751-2435.

Cranbrook House is on Lone Pine, just west of Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills. Parking is in the Christ Church Cranbrook lot across the street with shuttle bus service to Cranbrook House.

$600 OFF.
Cut $600 off your one or two-bedroom apartment's rent! Keep it. Spend it on new furniture, or a trip, or whatever you like. And enjoy the pleasures of spring-fed Scenic Lake. The cool turquoise pool. The green tennis courts. The location that puts you in the pink, halfway between U of M and EMU, and on the AATA bus line. And you'll love being in the black–with $600 in your pocket. But hurry before someone else gets your new apartment. Select 1 and 2-bedrooms only.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

James S. Bonadeo, president of the Builders Association of Southeast Michigan and owner of a building company that bears his name says, "You would be amazed at young couples under 40 moving into houses at anywhere from $300,000 to $600,000. It's amazing." One such subdivision is Beacon Meadows in Plymouth Township.

There's no predicting building hot spots

By Doug Funke
staff writer

A bank robber when asked years ago why he robbed banks reportedly answered, "Because that's where the money is."

Developers who build residential subdivisions, shopping centers and office buildings think along similar lines. They go where the vacant land is.

But it's much more complicated than that.

Land seems to be available in metropolitan Detroit. The trick is to build not necessarily where people and their money are now, but where they want to be in the years ahead.

"What makes for a hot spot — I don't think anyone knows," said James S. Bonadeo, president of the Builders Association of Southeast Michigan and owner of a building company that bears his name.

"I don't think there's any simple answer to that question," said Bud Kasselman, vice president and branch manager for the real estate firm of Cushman & Wakefield of Michigan.

BUILDING PERMITS were issued for more residential units in Farmington Hills (565), Novi (434) and Rochester Hills (315) for the first six months of 1989 than any other community in Oakland or Wayne counties.

Those preliminary figures were provided by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

Southfield and Troy continue to show the highest volume of office construction, according to a mid-year market report prepared by Coldwell Banker Commercial Real Estate Services.

That report said 1.6 million square feet are under construction in Southfield, 1.1 million in Troy.

Chrysler Corp. expects to move some people into the first phase of a 3.3 million-square-foot corporate headquarters under construction in Auburn Hills later this fall.

Construction of other speculative office buildings in Auburn Hills likely will follow.

The suburban office market, with a vacancy rate of just over 17 percent, may be approaching the saturation point, said Scott Elliott, vice president and resident manager for Coldwell Banker.

Nationally, the suburban vacancy rate is 21.4 percent, he said.

"It seems like most new projects going on have been on the drawing board for a long time," Elliott said.

"In the I-696, I-275 corridors, there's still some things happening in Southfield, Novi, Farmington Hills and Livonia primarily being finished up, but not much new stuff is starting now," he said.

"WE'VE CERTAINLY had five, six, seven years of the biggest boom we've ever had," said Dick Roeser, president of Beachum and Roeser Development Corp. and president of the Building Owners and Management Association.

"I don't think any of us seasoned players would suggest it would continue ad infinitum," he said.

Elliott said he believes lenders are hesitant to release money for office construction until demand catches up with supply.

Commercial construction seems to be sprouting everywhere.

"We've been in a period of relatively inexpensive money," Kasselman said. "It encourages development. It encourages people maybe new to development. Building strip centers is one of the easiest ways to get into the development business."

He especially notices commercial hot spots along Haggerty Road in Wayne County and along M-59 in Oakland.

OTHER FACTORS come into play, at least where residential is concerned, Bonadeo said.

Buyers of detached homes today seem to prefer large houses on large lots with a rolling terrain and streams in places like Rochester Hills, Plymouth and Novi, he said.

"The school system is very important," Bonadeo said. "You would be amazed at young couples under 40 moving into houses at anywhere from $300,000 to $600,000. It's amazing."

Another big factor, regardless of kind of development, is cooperation of local government officials to expedite paperwork approvals so a developer can get going.

It generally takes 18 months to two years from when property is acquired to when work begins with the construction of utilities on a project, Bonadeo said.

"Cooperation or accessibility to a community's agencies — inspection department, building department, zoning — a harmonious working relationship obviously prevails in hot areas," Richards said.

TO OVERSIMPLIFY, development of residential, commercial and office tends to stimulate each other, real-estate experts said.

A desirable housing stock will draw commercial. Office development shifts to where clients are in business and where employees live.

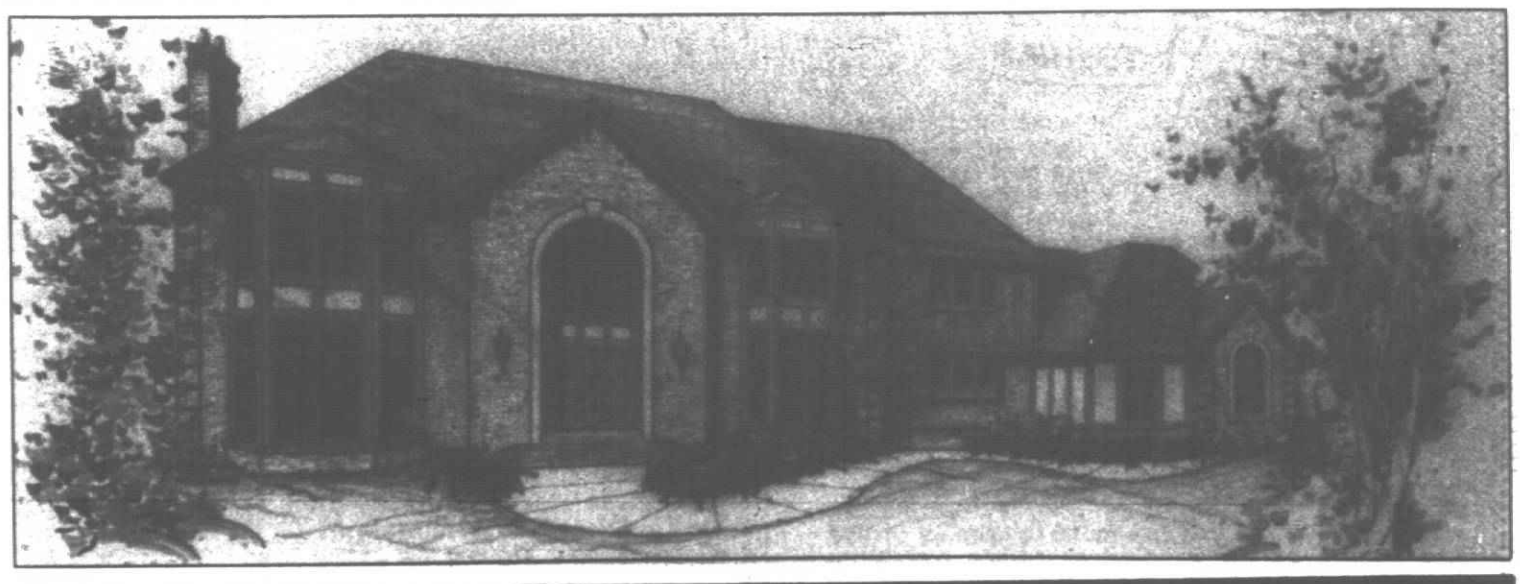
There's no magic formula to determine whether a given area will become hot. Demographic studies don't always accurately forecast what area will hit or miss.

Bonadeo has been in the residential development business for 42 years.

"It's a matter of touch and experience," he said. "I look at it, drive around. I'm familiar with communities.

"I fly by the seat of my pants. I think you'll find a lot of builders feel the same way. It's a gut feeling," Bonadeo said.

And the winner is . . .



A traditional colonial's floor plan was the feature that convinced Homearama visitors to vote the Bayview the favorite house of the annual showcase of idea homes.

The Bayview, also cited for its woodwork, took 23 percent of the vote, beating out the Brookshire with 20 percent and the Jacquelynn Maria with 16 percent, in a poll taken the weekend of Sept. 9 at the Oakland Township site.

Built by Palazzolo Brothers Construction Co. of Utica, the Bayview was designed by architect Ron Meyers & Associates of Plymouth.

WITH 4,400 square feet, its price range is $390,000-$550,000. It features an open foyer with an oak circular staircase, four bedrooms plus a 300-square foot "bonus room" off the master suite, six bay windows, three fireplaces, four full and two half baths, and a finished walk-out basement with kitchen/bar area.

Homearama will close Sunday, Sept. 24, with a sale of furniture and accessories from most of the houses. The houses, in the $375,000-$675,000 price range, will be for sale after the show closes and can be bought with furnishings included.

Homearama is in the Hills of Oakland subdivision, developed by Moceri Development of Grand Blanc, on Adams Road north of Dutton Road, which is north of Rochester. Hours are 3-11 p.m. Monday through Friday and noon to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is $5.

'In-house' attorney a bad idea

condo queries

Robert M. Meisner

Our board of directors insists upon using an attorney who lives in the condominium project to assist in drafting contracts for the site. Some people are concerned because the attorney is a personal injury lawyer and has no experience in real estate. Others have claimed that there may well be a conflict of interest particularly if the attorney "screws up." How can we convince the board that this action is not proper?

Tell the board to exercise common sense and think the matter through. If a co-owner is also the attorney for the association, how can he exercise independent judgment with respect to advising the board? He may also become involved in the political process to keep the present board in power so as to preserve his position as attorney for the association. If a problem arises either in regard to his competence, performance or billings, the fact that he is co-owner at the condominium makes things even worse. It can create potential divisiveness in the condominium that would not ordinarily be there. Finally, he may actually be in a conflict of interest in performing his duties for the association while being a co-owner there. Show the board this column, and perhaps they'll be persuaded to obtain independent counsel. Let me know the results.

The best insurance for the board of directors is to run the association in a prudent fashion.

Is there a law protecting homeowner association boards in the event of a lawsuit? We are a new subdivision checking into the necessity of liability insurance. Our research shows such rates to be astronomical, thus prompting the above question.

An amendment to the Nonprofit Corporation act of 1988 basically limits director liability in certain instances if the amendment has been approved and passed to the articles of incorporation. But it does not totally eliminate director responsibility. Moreover, while there should be provisions in the association bylaws providing for indemnification for the directors, that too may not be foolproof, particularly if the association does not have the funds to satisfy the requirements of indemnification.

Obviously there are ways of drafting your homeowner association documents to insulate certain liability of the board, but the best insurance for the board of directors is to run the association in a prudent fashion, to get good advice and to have adequate insurance to protect the interests of the board of directors as well as the association.

Would you please describe the benefits of incorporation as opposed to operating as an individual? I am buying a home and wish to rent it out and wonder whether it would be advisable to incorporate.

Putting aside consideration of the tax ramifications of operating as a corporation as opposed to an individual, when one incorporates that means the person is not personally responsible for the debts of a shareholder in the corporation.

Generally speaking, in a small, closely held corporation, the investor will be liable only to the extent of his investment in the corporation. The obligations of the corporation must be satisfied from the assets of the corporation. Therefore, it may be advisable for you to own the home as a corporation so long as the tax ramifications are not detrimental to you. You should consult with your tax adviser in that regard.

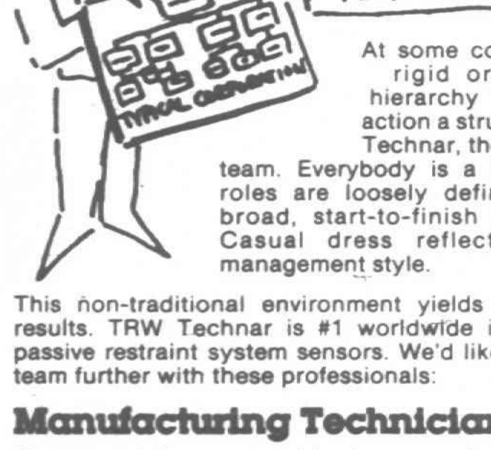
TECHNICIANS:
THE TEAM CONCEPT YOU CAN LIVE WITH.



At some corporations, a rigid organizational hierarchy makes interaction a struggle. At TRW Technar, there's only one team. Everybody is a member. Job roles are loosely defined to allow broad, start-to-finish involvement. Casual dress reflects a casual management style.

This non-traditional environment yields leading-edge results. TRW Technar is #1 worldwide in automotive passive restraint system sensors. We'd like to build our team further with these professionals:

Manufacturing Technician
Use your skills as a trouble-shooter to keep us on line and ensure quality product assembly. You'll be responsible for keeping us up and running working closely with manufacturing engineers and production personnel to maintain and repair our automated process line.

Mechanical Technician
While working closely with the mechanical engineer, you will solve design and fabrication issues and debug component selections. In addition, you will participate in machine setup with possible opportunities for component design.

To qualify for either position, you need:
- Mechanical/electrical training
- Experience in troubleshooting, maintaining and repairing automated machinery/technical equipment
- Ability to maintain positive attitude in a fast-paced environment
- Good communication skills, common sense and analytical ability
- Ability to work first or second shift and overtime as required
- Quality control/SPC knowledge and computer skills a plus

If our informal style and aggressive results are the combination you're looking for, please send resume and salary history in confidence to: TRW Technar Inc., 3011 Research Dr., Rochester Hills, MI 48309, Attn: Human Resource Dept. An equal opportunity employer M/F.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, You make me see everything and show me the way to reach my ideals. You give me the Divine Gift to forgive and forget the wrongs that are done to me and You are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank You for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from You no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with You, my loved One, in your Perpetual Glory. Amen. Persons must pray this prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish. After 3 days your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Then, promise to publish this dialogue as soon as the favor has been granted. Thanks, St. Jude, for favors received.
