Jury rejects Yazaki discrimination lawsuit

By Diane Gale
staff writer

A Wayne County jury recently rejected a lawsuit charging American Yazaki Corp. of Canton with discrimination against handicapped people.

Kathleen Michelle Boyd, a Plymouth resident, alleged that the company fired her because she was restricted from performing certain duties due to a congenital heart condition.

SHE ALSO charged that she suffered emotional distress.

The proceedings in Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Lucile Watts' courtroom began May 15 and ended May 23.

The two-female and five-male jury deliberated an hour before turning Boyd, 23, away with nothing.

Boyd's attorney Bob Logeman said his client hasn't decided whether to appeal the verdict.

"We were very disappointed with the jury's results," Logeman said. "Juries are funny. You get some funny answers sometimes."

American Yazaki human resource manager Kathy Korreck said: "We are very pleased. We never did discriminate, and the court found in our favor."

American Yazaki is an international car component distributor with headquarters at I-275 and Haggerty in Canton.

Court documents show that Boyd was transferred to a receptionist position because her heart problem prevented her from working as a parts controller.

She started working at American Yazaki in January 1986. She was fired in July 1987.

BOYD ALLEGED in the lawsuit that while she worked as a receptionist, a supervisor ignored medical restrictions and assigned her to duties she was unable to perform.

However, Yazaki's Chicago-based attorney, Nancy Sasamoto, said the company tried to resolve problems with her work and after there was no improvement decided to fire her.

Yazaki didn't know about her health problems when Boyd started as a parts controller, Sasamoto said.

"She said she was unable to complete the job and thought about quitting," Sasamoto said.

Yazaki sought out a job that would be less stressful, she added.

"Our main argument was how can someone comply when they don't have the limitations," Sasamoto said.

The jury heard testimony from Boyd, Boyd's parents, Yazaki employees and Yazaki president, Masayuki Yamamoto.

"American Yazaki, as an employer in Canton, has always tried to treat its employees fairly, and I think that came across in the trial," Sasamoto said.

"We're certainly glad we got the right result, and it restored our faith in juries," she said. "American Yazaki felt strongly about not having done anything wrong and was willing to take it all the way."

Missing woman linked to park

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Police say Griffin Park in Canton Township is a common link between a woman who has been missing since May 24 and a 1989 unsolved murder.

Paige Renkoski, 30, was reported missing May 24 while she was visiting with a friend and her two children in the park, between Sheldon and Canton Center and Ford and Cherry Hill.

The Okemos woman went to her friend's house in Canton and left at 2:30 p.m. That was the last time family and friends saw her.

THE PARK also was a clue in the 1989 murder of a 30-year-old Canton woman. Beverly Wivell's car was found there after police discovered her body next to Gottfredson Road, south of M-14 in Superior Township.

Wivell was reportedly on her way to Griffin Park before she was fatally shot, according to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

"They both came from the park in Canton Township and both are approximately the same age," said Livingston County Sheriff's Lt. Larry Kelly, who is handling the Renkoski case.

"We're at a loss because we haven't gotten anything here," Kelly said. "We don't know if we have a missing person, abduction, homicide or what."

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Detective Lt. Craig Swenson said he hopes clues from the Renkoski case will help crack the year-old Wivell murder case.

A murder suspect is described as a white male, in his 20s or 30s with scraggly brown hair. Police believe he was driving a full-size, white and blue car in the mid-1970s, possibly a Chrysler New Yorker.

"Both victims were 30 years old, one had brown hair and the other had blond hair," Swenson said. "That's how information on open murder cases are solved. Maybe a piece of the puzzle we need is sitting up there (Livingston County)."

Big spenders

School board race costly for hopefuls

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

Expenditures by Plymouth-Canton school board candidates are making this year's school election one of the most costly in district history.

Thus far, with gross receipts of $5,353, candidate Carl Battishill leads the big spenders in the quest for two four-year terms on the school board. The election is June 11.

Candidates are required by law to file campaign finance statements with the state Bureau of Elections.

Candidate K.C. Mueller ranks second with receipts of $3,780, followed by Robert Anderson, who's raised $3,074. Anderson raised $5,458 in an unsuccessful election try last year.

Les Walker reported receipts of $2,897.

Diane Stamp has raised $2,465.

Candidates Richard Sumpter, Toni Hartke and John Engdahl, who is not campaigning, plan to spend under $1,000. Candidates who raise under that amount are eligible to receive waivers and don't have to report contributions.

School board members are paid $30 per meeting, and earn a maximum of $1,500 annually.

Battishill, who spent about $900 in last year's election bid, raised $1,303 at a back yard fund-raiser for 100 people May 20. He's spent $1,000 of his own money.

The Plymouth-Canton Education Association Political Action Committee contributed $550. The Lakes Area Educators Political Action Committee gave $500. Battishill is director of bands for West Bloomfield Public Schools.

Forty-two individuals funded Battishill's campaign, including Kathy Harenda, $150; George Croll, $100; Mark and Lee Stamper, $100; Marilyn Stemberger, $100; Sharon Belobraidich, $100; Tom and Anita Hinks, $75; Sue and Andy Scott, $50; David Philip Rodgers Magee, $25; and Doug and Sandra McClennen, $25.

MUELLER HAS FUNDED her own campaign. The Plymouth realtor reported loans to herself of $3,630. Carol Anderson of Plymouth donated $100 to Mueller, and John Dempsey of Plymouth contributed $50.

Mueller was fined $25 for filing statements a day late. She said she planned to drive downtown to file Thursday, the deadline, but couldn't get away from work.

ANDERSON, SUPPORTED by Citizens for Better Education, was loaned $2,400 by Diane Daskalakis. CBE is a conservative Christian group that claims membership of more than 2,500. Daskalakis, originator of CBE, also is campaigning for Stamp.

School board member Barbara Graham paid $41 for flowers she purchased at a CBE flower sale. The fund-raiser grossed $214.

Other Anderson supporters include Mary Raymond, $68; Jerry Raymond, $25; and Betty Cole, $50.

WALKER HAS loaned his campaign account $500. Board president Dean Swartzweiler gave $500, and Roger Penske of Red Bank New Jersey contributed $200. Marguerite Volirath, president of the PCEA, donated $100 to the Walker for School Board Committee.

The PCEA contributed $1,050. Barbara Shobe contributed $100. John Farrow, who filed to run for school board but later withdrew, gave $10. Other contributors were Charles Ten Broeck, Jr., $50; Carol Davis, $25; Joyce Harrington, $25; Carole Rundio, $20; Cynthia Tattan $10 and Barbara Masters, $10.

FORTY PEOPLE contributed to Stamp's campaign, including school board member Barbara Graham, who gave $64.

Stamp raised $2,821 at a craft show attended by 500 people.

Her backers included May McKeown, $109; Janet Lyons, $80; Elaine Attridge, $75; Betty Cole, $70; Mary Hehir, $68; Mary Parson, $64; Pat Moore, $55; Wilma Arnold, $51; Sandra Wagenschutz, $50; Pat Conzelman, $47; Norma LaVallee, $46; Mary Mitsch, $39; Gloria Tachuk, $38; Sandra Rummel, $37; Beverly Holly, $35; Marcia Bellard, $30; Marie Eddy, $28; Jerry Hartland, $28; Karen Wagner, $27; Beth Walch, $27; Barbara Shelton, $27; Diane Neal, $25; Normie Brazier, $25; Penelope Nowicki, $25; Eleanor Shevlin, $25; Marilyn Olszewski, $24; Karen Ganzak, $22; Georgia Notabaert, $22; Benjie Fontana, $22; Diane Catlin, $22; Gayle Franks, $22; Annette Sanchangrin, $22; Marie Vellardita, $22; Mary Parviainen, $21; Sharon Kozub, $20; and Sandra Apap, $20.

Man held in shooting death

A 36-year-old Westland man was fatally shot early Sunday morning in Canton Commons Apartments.

Terry Serman was shot in the abdomen and taken to Annapolis Hospital, Wayne, where he died at 6:45 a.m.

A 27-year-old Van Buren Township man was arrested at his home later in the day, said Pat Nemecek, Canton police official. The suspect is expected to be arraigned this afternoon.

Serman was the guest of Kimberly Ann Boland, 24, who lives in the apartment complex, when the shooting took place at 5 a.m.

They apparently heard the suspect riding his motorcycle around the apartment complex. The suspect kicked in the front door, went upstairs and found the couple in bed, Nemecek said.

Police said that two shots were fired, one in the floor and the other into Serman. When police arrived the Westland man was conscious and complained of extreme pain, Nemecek said.

The woman gave police the name and address of the suspect whom she dated for eight years. She broke off the relationship one month ago, police said.

"He came walking out with his brother and sister who talked him into giving himself up," Nemecek said.

Proms, graduation parties signal alarm for authorities

By Peggy Aulino
staff writer

Just as April showers mean May flowers, June also brings the inevitable: Graduation parties.

And the prospect of raucous parties is a cause for concern among parents, school administrators and law enforcement officials.

That's because graduation parties sometimes involve alcohol or drug use, and some young people drive after consuming those substances. When that happens, it's a good bet that tragedy will follow.

"You've got to somehow, without preaching, let them know that the alcohol and so forth can cause a lot of problems," said Gerald Ostoin, principal of Plymouth Salem High school.

'You've got to somehow, without preaching, let them know that the alcohol and so forth can cause a lot of problems.'

— Gerald Ostoin

OSTOIN AND OTHER school officials held a press conference recently to outline the school district's strategy for minimizing problems associated with the prom and graduation season.

The Plymouth-Canton School district has started a number of programs in the last several years to promote safety. Officials said their goal is to get parents involved so that young people don't attend unsupervised parties.

"Parents really need to be reminded that this isn't the time of year to let your guard down," said Ken Jacobs, an area coordinator at Plymouth Canton High School.

Parents are organizing the senior party that begins on graduation night and runs through the early hours of the following morning.

And there's a Contract for Life being sent home to parents via the students. It's an agreement that says teens will phone home for a ride if they've been drinking, and parents will pick them up or send a cab — no questions asked.

There is also a joint effort by school administrators and local police agencies to remind young drivers that alcohol-related laws will be strictly enforced.

"Fun is one thing, but we want it to be safe fun," said Pat Nemecek, the Canton police department's public information officer.

neous goods were stolen.

The value of the stolen goods were about $250, police said.

The apartment complex is on Ford Road east of I-275.

Another home, on Woodmere, was reportedly broken into last week.

The homeowner told police five ladies rings were stolen and together they were valued at $4,300. A lady's necklace, valued at $150, also was reported stolen.

Police responded to reports of disturbances on two consecutive nights at Club Ferrari on Ford Road last weekend.

HEADS UP: A 30-year-old Inlander woman was seen stuffing film, cigarettes and razor blades into a large duffel bag last week while "shopping" at Great Scott's supermarket on Ford Road, police said.

Employees watched the woman from a second floor lunch room.

The would-be thief tried to get away with 14 packs of Kodak film worth $58; cigarettes valued at $66 and $70 worth of razor blades.

PARTY POOPS: A hostess on Lombardy told police she had a party a few days before her home was robbed. She suspects that one of her guests lifted some of her things, police said.

On Friday, an Ypsilanti man told police he got into a fight with a group of men and someone removed his $100 jacket and a $500 gold chain that was around his neck.

The victim also told police someone pointed a handgun at his head during the fight. Police stopped a car fitting the description of that driven by one of the suspects, but neither a gun nor the victim's property was found, police said.

The 20-year-old victim was treated for injuries that included a chipped tooth, police said.

On Saturday night, police were summoned to the club on a report of a trespasser. When officers arrived, a suspect was seen throwing a rock at a club employee. The employee chased the suspect into a wooded area. When the two emerged, the suspect had a cut on his head.

The suspect told police the employee had hit him with a flashlight. The employee told police the suspect had taken a swing and the employee was protecting himself with a swing of his own. He said the cut was caused by the employee's pinky ring.

GARAGE LARCENY: A Peters Road man told Canton police someone removed items valued at more than $6,000 from his garage recently. The victim said the door to the building was pried open sometime between May 14 and 21. A set of hand tools worth $6,000 and a $350 set of golf clubs were stolen, police said.

Authorities brace for prom season

"I think Michigan law says no one is to be drinking in a vehicle, whether it's chauffeur-driven or not," said Denise Crawford, a dispatcher at Treasures Limousine Service in Canton. "We don't want to run into any problems, so we don't let them drink in the vehicles."

A spokesman at Incognito, a Plymouth limousine service, said minors who hire a car there must sign a contract indicating there will be no drinking on board. He said if a young person was found with alcohol, "I guess we would have to take them back to the home we picked them up at."

Ostoin said he believes the attitudes students hold about using alcohol and drugs has changed over the past few years, but he refused to give the credit for that change to educators.

"I think they (students) just realized themselves it was something they didn't want to get involved in," Ostoin said.

Plymouth Township Police Chief Carl Berry said his department will also be on the lookout for graduates driving under the influence of alcohol.

"We try to keep a close check on house parties," said Berry. "Parents should be very cautious about allowing people to drink and drive. They could be held responsible both civilly and criminally."

Some young people hire limousines to cart them to the prom, but that doesn't mean they can drink and leave the driving to someone else.

LOCAL LIMOUSINE SERVICES forbid minors from consuming alcohol in the cars.

Profiling on candidates for Plymouth-Canton school board in last week's Observer should have said Robert Anderson does not favor a $30 million to $50 million bond issue to finance new school construction. Anderson said the school board hasn't done a good job of handling complaints over the last few years.

Candidate Diane Stamp said $1 million has been spent on capital improvements at Central Middle School. What it would cost to renovate Central for use as a high school isn't known.

The senior party begins that evening at 9 p.m. and runs until 4 a.m. It will be held in the Plymouth Salem High School.

The prom is Saturday, June 2, at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn. The last day of school for seniors is Wednesday, June 6. The rest of the high school student body gets out on Thursday, June 14.

Fishing lures 800 kids to Canton Fest

By Diane Gale staff writer

Courtney Armstrong, 11, caught her dinner Saturday behind Canton Township Hall.

The Canton resident, who caught a 12-inch rainbow trout, was among about 800 children who signed up for the Fishing Derby, one of the biggest draws to the nine-day Canton Challenge Fest, which ended Sunday.

But the fishing didn't end with the festival, said Bob Dates of the Canton parks and recreation department. Fishermen of all ages can try their luck at the pond free of charge this week, he said.

There was more than fishing. Festival events included everything from kite flying to tennis, golf and soccer tournaments and a bowl-off to an ice cream social, a gospel songfest and a chili cook-off.

ENTERTAINMENT was everywhere: Miniature race car drivers, firefighters from five communities competing to see who could best move a suspended ball with a fire hose and kite flyers, who speckled the sky with multi-colored kites, some made by hand.

"Kites are coming from the beach side to the suburbs," said Mike Mulroy of Wayne.

Young broadcaster making own news on student station

By Michelle Johnson staff writer

Sarah Kuhaneck has broken a lot of rules.

However, the Plymouth-Canton High School sophomore has won awards for breaking them.

Kuhaneck, sports director, news anchor, and play-by-play announcer at WSDP FM 88.1, the Centennial Educational Park radio station, recently became the first person to win two first-place awards in the Michigan Association of Broadcasters' high school competition.

She was also the first female to win a sports play-by-play award.

Last year, she took third place in the newscast category. It was a notable achievement because, according to station manager David Snyder, WSDP accepts few freshmen.

Kuhaneck's sister worked at WSDP before her. She said she came to visit her sister at the station and liked what she saw.

"Even the equipment," she said. "I thought, this is sharp."

So Kuhaneck auditioned for the staff at the end of her eighth grade year — and made it.

THE NEXT YEAR, after winning a third-place award for newscast, Kuhaneck was appointed sports director, a position usually reserved for juniors and seniors.

Besides doing newscasts, Kuhaneck broadcast men's and women's basketball games.

"Basketball's my baby," Kuhaneck said. "It's what I enjoy the most."

Kuhaneck used to play basketball. She said this helps her announcing. "I know how it feels to be the first second stringer," she said.

She said she misses playing sometimes, but broadcasting is her true calling.

"Once in a while you're sitting there, and you see some guy line up for a shot," she said. "You think, I could take that shot. But then you think, I'm in a broadcasting booth. Why am I here? Because I didn't make that shot."

In the middle of the season, Kuhaneck entered the state high school broadcast news competition. She said she didn't enter the sports competition because she didn't have time to prepare a tape.

Kuhaneck was notified of her newscast award before she went to the broadcast association banquet.

"I had this all figured out," Kuhaneck said. "I was going to be Miss Cool, Calm, and Collected. I was going to walk up there and be very majestic when I picked it up. So I did that for the news one."

Right before the first-place sports-cast award was announced, Snyder passed her a note saying he had entered her in the competition.

"The man announced first place sports broadcasting," Sarah Kuhaneck, she said. "And my eyes bugged out. And I must have been drooling while I ran to the podium. So there goes Miss Cool, Calm, and Collected."

Snyder said if anyone deserved two first-place awards, it was Kuhaneck. He described her as intelligent, reliable, and focused. He rated her play-by-play announcing ability at beyond the college level.

Besides working at WSDP, Kuhaneck writes for the Perspective, the Centennial Educational Park newspaper. She also recently qualified as a CEF candidate for the State Student Congress. Kuhaneck admits to being a workaholic but says being busy is good for her.

"I manage time better," she said. For next year, she has applied for a Perspective editorship and the position of programming director at WSDP. She said she would like to do a broadcasting internship after her senior year. Then she plans on going to college and pursuing a career in broadcasting.

MEANWHILE, PASSERSBY viewed the Medflight helicopter, based out of St. Joseph Hospital in Ypsilanti, to get a first-hand look at the emergency medical vehicle, used most often to transport accident victims to hospitals.

"Adults use their kids as an excuse to ask questions," said Canton fire Sgt. Mike Rorabacher.

Stephanie and Steve Potocki, of Plymouth, inspected the helicopter Saturday with their three children, Shae, 7, Jocelyn, 6 and Paul, 5.

"You don't get to walk next to a helicopter everyday," Stephanie Potocki said.

The helicopter is used to capture the precious moments in the "golden hour" after traumatic accidents and other emergencies when seconds save lives, said Gemine Helms, a flight nurse.

The helicopter was available during the festival to let residents know about its services, she said. "And to let them know that we're here to help them."

The family, fun and fitness theme of the second Canton Challenge Fest replaces the community's Canton County Festival.

"This year represents an expansion of an idea that will in one year firmly take hold," said Bill Joyner, festival organizer.

John Kozleski of Canton helps grandson, Brian Dorogi, 7, of Canton ready his fishing pole for the fishing contest.

During his short legal career, Myers served as a Washtenaw County Community College law instructor and as a special adviser to an undercover law enforcement squad.

THE MASSP award was in the form of a certificate presented by association officer Robert Schramke, Redford Union High School principal.

The award is no surprise to some of Myers' students. "He is not only a principal, but a friend to everyone who walks the halls of our building," said senior Angela Jackson.

Myers, 44, had his own professional success to share recently when he was named Wayne County's top secondary school principal for the 1989-1990 school year.

He was picked by an executive board committee of the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals for his leadership, initiative, student involvement, community relations, and participation in local, state, and national education committees.

He switched careers because "I like kids and I wanted to get back with them," said Myers, who earned his degree at the Duke University law school.

to the success and pride found in John Glenn High. He is also someone who makes you feel as part of the team and equally belong."

MYERS, A native of suburban Cleveland, attended Miami (Ohio) University, graduating in 1967 with an education degree, and was in the school's education and math honorary fraternities. He later won a tuition scholarship to the Duke law school, graduating in 1968.

He began his teaching career in 1968, serving as a math and science teacher at Stevenson Junior High School, and promoted to math department chairman in 1970.

In 1974, he switched careers to join the Washtenaw County prosecuting attorney's staff, but decided a year later to return to education.

IF KOSTEVA'S bill becomes law, Michigan would more than meet its state goal of composting 10 percent of its solid waste stream by 2005.

"It's estimated that 20 percent of landfill space is yard clippings," said Kosteva. Michigan United Conservation Clubs' estimate is even higher — 25 percent.

Bill would ban yard waste from incinerators

By Tim Richard staff writer

Homeowners would have to stop putting their yard clippings in the trash and burning them beginning in 1994 under two bills that cleared the Michigan House of Representatives and are on their way to the Senate.

"It doesn't make economic sense to spend $30 a ton to put yard clippings in valuable landfill space," said Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, sponsor of House Bill 4872 that passed 77-10 Thursday.

In other action, the House gave final passage to three Senate bills aimed at recycling old motor oil and sent them to Gov. James Blanchard for his signature.

IP KOSTEVA'S bill becomes law, Michigan would more than meet its state goal of composting 10 percent of its solid waste stream by 2005.

THE ONLY area lawmaker voting no was Rep. Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion.

"We've gotten away from the garden ethic, though it's still very much the European ethic," Kosteva said. Homeowners could leave grass clippings on their lawns.

He said many cities, townships and villages already are setting up programs of composting, a process of naturally converting dead plants into fertilizer. He cited a 14-community group in southeastern Oakland County and the western Wayne County communities of Canton, Plymouth and Northville.

"Composting does not emit an odor. Only if there are food or animal wastes will there be any odor," Kosteva said.

In committee, the bill was amended to define yard clippings to include tree trimmings less than four feet long and under two inches in diameter. Clippings which are diseased or infested would be exempt and could be disposed of in landfills.

THE HOUSE gave 91-0 final approval to three regulatory bills which Kosteva said will help keep oil out of underground water supplies.

Primary target is do-it-yourself oil changers, according to a House staff analysis.

"It's estimated that 11-plus million gallons of oil are improperly disposed of in the state of Michigan each year. That's more than the Exxon Valdez spill off Alaska," said Kosteva.

There is a market for used oil to be re-refined and sold. There is a hope this will stimulate recycling. In Canada, you can purchase recycled motor oil that meets the standards suggested by auto manufacturers.

THE BILLS, sponsored by Sen. Vern Ehlers, R-Grand Rapids, would:

'It doesn't make economic sense to spend $30 a ton to put yard clippings in valuable landfill space.'

- Prohibit dumping of used oil on the ground or into sewers after July 1, 1991. The state Department of Natural Resources is to publicize a network of collection facilities. (SB 454)
- Prohibit incineration of used oil in 1993. (SB 692)
- Prohibit spreading used oil on roads and other driving areas for dust control. (SB 693)

Facts should back editorial

To the editor: If you feel no apology is needed for your editorial about backroom politics, then how about some facts. On what street can I get the word about the two school board members who are going to resign this year? If you know please tell us.

However if your "rumor" is just that, then I wonder why a community newspaper would write such an editorial. Rumors will mar both the community and your newspaper. Facts will strengthen our community and your newspaper. The community has the right to know the truth and you have the responsibility to tell it.

I agree one of your major missions should be to take public bodies to task. But do so by telling the community that the "word on the street" has been verified, or at least questioned. Tell the community who you talked to and what they said. Then we can formulate our opinions based on the facts you gave us.

You have the power to influence our community. Please do it with fairness to all. If you do have some facts, I think the community would like to read them in your next editorial, and if you don't have any facts maybe an apology is in order. As you said, "That's the way things should be."

CBE claims attack at league forum

To the editor: On Tuesday, May 29, the League of Women Voters held a forum for the Plymouth-Canton school board candidates. Having participated in three of these forums, I can say with some experience that this year's was probably the most intellectual and the one most attended. Also, the emotionally charged attacks common in the past seem to have subsided - almost. Almost, that is, except for the twisted misrepresentation made by one candidate referring to an alleged statement made by a "CBE candidate."

According to this candidate, a "CBE candidate" said that it is acceptable to harass, intimidate, and threaten supporters of other candidates. Since I was participating in the discussion where this statement was supposedly made, I can tell with certainty words were twisted and fabricated to the point that the meaning was changed by 180 degrees. Since I am considered a "CBE candidate" I am calling for public retraction and apology. It is naive to expect anyone would approve of such tactics, and make such a statement. Hopefully this candidate will give greater regard to the truth in the future. The public has a difficult enough time discerning the truth without blatant untruths being spouted.

It's time to say no to smoking

To the editor: Everyone is always telling kids to "Just say no." But what kind of a place is it when students can go to school and smoke, often in the presence of security guards and teachers? Such is the case at CEP. In my opinion the same people that teach kids to say "no," should be the same ones to enforce it.

Where's FDR now?

The only thing we have to fear is fear itself.

— Franklin Delano Roosevelt March 4, 1933

Jack Gladden

OH, FDR, where are you now? When Eleanor's husband spoke those words during his first inaugural address more than 50 years ago, he was trying to reassure a country locked in the middle of a Great Depression that everything would be all right - if we just didn't succumb to our fears.

And there was plenty to be afraid of. The economy was in a shambles. Being unemployed was a way of life. Bread lines and soup lines were part of the scenery and so were the apple vendors standing on the street corner.

In the first 100 days of his administration, Roosevelt pushed his New Deal legislation through the Congress - the most sweeping social and economic reform measures the country had ever seen.

I DON'T MEAN to belittle concerns over food safety (or drugs or alcohol abuse or radon or any of the "dangers" that we read about every time we pick up a newspaper).

But our concerns are a far cry from those of the apple sellers of Roosevelt's day who didn't give a hoot about what kind of pesticides were used on the apples they were trying to sell for a penny so that maybe they could earn enough to buy a loaf of bread.

They are nothing compared with the terror that most of the world, including the United States, lived through during the years of World War II.

And they tend to pale when viewed alongside those fears being experienced by residents of Eastern Europe who are witnessing monumental changes in the structure of their various governments and who have no idea what those changes will mean to them.

Back when FDR told this country that our fears - no matter how justified they were - were not nearly as dangerous as the fear itself, most of the country trusted him and believed him. And we survived.

I think it's time somebody delivered the message again.

Municipal residency rules may be outlawed

By Darrell Pressley
staff writer

A bill under consideration by the House Oversight Committee may remove the residency requirement law which prevents employees from living outside the city boundaries.

In western Wayne County only Livonia and Garden City have a residency requirement law in effect for their employees.

Plymouth, Redford and Canton do not require their employees to live in the city they work. Westland requires residency only for department heads.

The sponsor of the bill, Rep. Debbie Stabenow, D-Lansing said residency requirements are outdated because they were developed when city officials were concerned about response time of safety officers.

In Livonia and Garden City, those applying for a job do not have to live in the area. They do however have to move into the city within six months.

The residency issue rouses tension in some legislators, primarily those from Detroit and Flint, who say they envision further white flight and urban blight if city workers are given the freedom to choose to live elsewhere.

"It wouldn't have an effect on our department," said Chief Barney Knorp of the Livonia Fire Department. "We could still operate in the same manner as we do now."

Livonia or Garden City workers may get an exemption to live outside the city from the civil service commission for financial or other reasons.

Knorp said it is fairly easy to obtain a resident waiver for those who choose not to live in Livonia.

"Our residency requirement isn't that rigidly enforced," said Knorp. Firefighters, however, would probably be in favor of the bill that would give them the option to live outside the city, said Knorp. "I think the majority would like to have the choice."

Though it would be good to have the option, Knorp said he would rather have employees live in the city that they work in.

"If you work in the city you should live in the city," the chief said. Employees living in the city, "would more or less be right on the scene," he said.

The Michigan State Firefighters Union supports the bill.

"Each of these laws constrict firefighters and their families in making financial and family-related decision commonly enjoyed by other Michigan citizens," said Larry McColl, president of the state firefighters union.

Garden City would prefer to have its employees live in the area, said Ronald Showalter, city clerk and treasurer.

"People with a good job ought to be living here and be a part of the city," said Showalter.

Someone who lives 20 miles away might take a little longer in responding, the city clerk said.

"A person living in the city may be able to make a quicker response in an emergency."

Police officers often have been concerned about living in the same community because many fear retribution against their families, said Showalter.

But he doubts that even if the bill becomes law that most officers would move from the area.

"I don't think you'd see police moving out of town."

The freedom to choose where you want to live would be a nice thing, said James Frank, acting Garden City police chief.

With the transportation and the mobility of society as a whole, the response time for those living out of the city wouldn't be affected, the chief said.

New treat is dairy product

First there was milk, a traditional dairy product found on every table in America. Then in the '70s, a French staple was imported for American markets and the yogurt boom began. Last year, puddings began popping up in the dairy case, trying to give yogurt a run for its money.

Watch out, America, here comes Pouden Vla! Just beginning to hit the dairy case in metro Detroit, this new dairy product imported straight from the Netherlands is trying to find a niche in your shopping cart and refrigerator shelves, and judging from advance tastings, Vla may become a household word.

So what is it, you ask? It's not ice cream, it's not yogurt, it's not pudding but it is a low-calorie, light, creamy dairy treat that can be eaten any time of the day over fruit, as a parfait, as a topping over cakes or simply by itself.

You can purchase this real dairy treat in the dairy case somewhere between the milk and the yogurt.

Pouden Vla is made with a "secret" compound imported directly from the Netherlands. Seems this stuff is such a hit over there per capita consumption in the Netherlands stands at more than 14 quarts annually, actually out-selling ice cream.

IN ALL HONESTY, however, I can't imagine this product taking the place of my favorite Haagen-Dazs, but I will say that it's trendy, has a great taste, is lower in calories than most yogurts and when poured over a bowl of fresh strawberries, sets this food writer's taste buds aflutter.

The product itself is imported in a dry form because import regulations prohibit dairy product transfers. The product is then mixed with good old-fashioned Michigan milk in Grand Rapids at the Country Fresh Dairy, packaged into pourable quart containers and shipped to local markets with a dated stamp for optimum freshness.

Pouden Vla is available in metro Detroit at all Kroger, Great Scott! and Shopping Center markets. It is rumored that within the month, Farmer Jack and A&P stores will have the product, but for the time being, if you are looking for an interesting twist to the dairy scene, pick up a quart and try it for yourself.

By the way, Pouden Vla can be used in many recipes. It can be heated, served right from the fridge or even frozen as a take-along in your picnic cooler. And if you're curious as to the health benefits of eating Vla, it has no preservatives, is low in cholesterol (only 13 mg. per four-ounce serving) and half the fat of ice cream. Coming in at just 100 calories per serving, Pouden Vla has far less than yogurt, ice cream or pudding.

Look for Pouden Vla in your grocer's dairy case and if you haven't seen it, ask them why. It's new products like this, made in Michigan with high standards and great taste appeal, that make our dairy industry one of the most successful in the country. Try it. You won't be disappointed.

Don't get in a jam

Michigan's crop of strawberries usually arrives the first week in June.

If you buy or gather more berries than you can consume, you may want to freeze some or make up homemade jam. Strawberries can be frozen for later use in freezer jam, says Sylvia Treitman, home economist of the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

Tasting panel agrees on Vegetable Casserole

By Ethel Simmons
Staff writer

A VEGETABLE CASSEROLE recipe, submitted by Becky MacIntyre of Troy, took first prize in the Taste section's contest for a reader's favorite vegetable dish.

Second prize went to Linda Ann Chomin of Canton for Vegetarian Stuffed Green Peppers. Third place was Artichoke Vegetable Melange, submitted by Marian A. Bliznik of Farmington.

The first-prize winner will receive a $25 gift certificate, and because she lives in Troy, we have chosen a certificate from Williams-Sonoma cooks' shop at Somerset Mall. The other two winners will receive cookbooks.

After three judges, myself included, chose finalists, Taste Buds chief-columnist Larry Janes prepared each of the three final recipes. The order of winners was arrived at by votes from a taste-testing panel — the newsroom staff at the Observer & Eccentric office in Livonia.

TASTERS VOTED overwhelmingly for the Vegetable Casserole as their favorite. "I've had the recipe for some years. It was given to me by a friend," said Becky MacIntyre, of her crunchy casserole.

MacIntyre's two step-children are "grown and gone," and she and husband Bill have two grandchildren. "I make the casserole for special occasions or groups things, or a large family gathering," she said.

Describing herself as a compulsive recipe-clipper, she declared, "At last count I have about 170 cookbooks." She particularly enjoys using a series of Southern Living cookbooks for inspiration. "I like Southern cooking. I'm from Kentucky originally," she said.

What makes her Vegetable Casserole unusual? "I think it's the walnuts and the topping," MacIntyre said. The topping combines butter, crumbs, cheese and walnuts. Vegetables inside the casserole include both zucchini and carrots. "I'm not that fond of zucchini," she said. "I think it's tasteless. My husband does like carrots." But the combination of all ingredients is delicious.

When she serves this recipe at potluck suppers and New Year's Eve parties, "Without fail every woman there wants the recipe."

THE TASTY Vegetarian Stuffed Peppers recipe was a natural for Linda Ann Chomin, who said, "I've been a vegetarian for 17 years. We first started — my mother, sister and I — when my mother had a heart attack and the doctor said to cut out meat. It was my mom's recipe. I got rid of the meat and substituted the protein — the cashews and Parmesan."

She points out that when you are a vegetarian, people assume you have a limited menu. "It's not true. Basically, it's the whole world cuisine. They don't eat a lot of meat because they don't have it available."

'I make the casserole for special occasions or groups things, or a large family gathering.'

— Becky MacIntyre
first-prize winner

Chomin said when she goes shopping, people often are curious about vegetables or grains she has in her grocery cart. "They will ask, 'What is that thing?'" she said, "and they will ask how to cook it."

One of the ingredients in her stuffed peppers recipe is quinoa. She said she usually buys quinoa at the Good Food Company in Livonia (which also has a new location in Troy). "It's a real good, expensive supermarket for grains."

She said even her girlfriends don't know much about cooking with the different grains. "The girls at work will say, 'Can I go shopping with you?'" Chomin finds it's becoming more common to cook with grains, although actually, "The grains are ancient."

She works as a freelance copywriter for A.R. Brasch in Southfield. By working at home, she was able to care for her mother, who died in March of Alzheimer's. The recipe was her mom's. "It was a little silly, but I just wanted to submit the recipe for her," she said.

MARIAN BLIZNIK of Farmington Hills, who offers the third-prize-winning recipe, for Artichoke Vegetable Melange, was also one of four equal prize-winners in the Taste contest held last year for Comfort Foods. She called that recipe "The Best Rice Pudding."

Bliznik teaches third grade in Milford and has been a teacher for 19 years. "I go to Kitchen Glamour a lot and participate there," she said about her abilities as a cook. "I would like to teach cooking and nutrition classes sometime in the future."

Coming up with good vegetable dish recipes is easy for her because, "At least four days a week at our house we have meatless meals. I'm always looking for alternatives to meat."

"I found this recipe on one of my husband's travels on one of our trips to California. Artichokes are plentiful there." She said her husband liked the recipe because, "It had a combination of vegetables, yet everything was distinct in flavor."

Each cooked artichoke has a colorful filling of zucchini, bell pepper, carrots and tomatoes. "It's light and low-calorie," she said of the dish, which is served with a refreshing dressing that pairs mayonnaise and yogurt, for dipping the leaves.

"It's always a hit when we entertain. A lot of people we've not tried fresh artichokes before," Bliznik said.

VEGETABLE CASSEROLE Becky MacIntyre Troy

Dinner guests always ask for this recipe whenever I serve it. It can easily be doubled to serve 12-15 people.

- 2 cups small carrot sticks
- 2 cups zucchini, sliced 1/4-inch thick
- 6 tablespoons butter, divided
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 cups half and half
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes, crumbled
- 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon dill weed, divided
- Dash of nutmeg and pepper
- 1 jar tiny onions, drained
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese

1/2 cup walnuts, coarsely chopped

Steam cook carrots and zucchini until almost tender. Set aside. Melt 2 tablespoons butter, stir in flour. Stir in half and half. Add bouillon, mustard, 1/4 teaspoon dill, nutmeg and pepper. Cook, stirring, until it comes to a boil. Remove from heat. Add carrots, zucchini and drained onions. Turn mixture into shallow baking dish. Melt remaining butter, toss with crumbs, cheese, walnuts and 1/4 teaspoon dill. Heap over vegetables. Bake uncovered at 375 degrees for 25-30 minutes — until topping is browned and sauce is bubbling.

VEGETARIAN STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS Linda Ann Chomin Canton

- 4-6 large green peppers
- 2 cups brown rice, cooked
- 1 cup quinoa, cooked (available at specialty markets; also see Note below)
- 1 medium onion, chopped and sauteed
- 10-12 mushrooms, sliced and sauteed
- 1/2 cup currants
- 1/2 cup cashews, chopped
- 1 cup Parmesan cheese, freshly grated
- Twist of freshly ground black peppercorns

ing. Stand peppers upright in 3-quart casserole.

Make tomato sauce by heating together: one 12-ounce can tomato paste and enough water to thin, approximately 4 cups. Then add 1/4 teaspoon crushed red peppers and 1 tablespoon honey. Simmer sauce for 5 minutes. Cover the stuffed peppers with tops, then ladle the entire amount of tomato sauce over the peppers. The peppers should be swimming in about 3 inches of tomato sauce. Cover casserole. Bake till steaming hot, about 45 minutes. Enjoy.

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Place green peppers in a large pot and cover with cold water. Slowly, bring to a boil. Turn off heat. Remove peppers and place them in a strainer to drain. Mix together the brown rice, quinoa, sauteed onion and mushrooms, currants, cashews, Parmesan and black pepper for stuffing the peppers. Cut off the tops of the peppers or if you prefer you can slice the peppers lengthwise into halves. Stuff peppers with the fill-

NOTE: Quinoa (keen-wa) is an ancient whole grain that dates back to the Incas. The Incas called it the mother grain. Quinoa was one of the three staple foods of the Inca civilization, along with corn and potatoes. It is grown 9,500 feet high in the Andes mountains of South America. Quinoa contains more high-quality protein than any other grain. It is light and delightfully delicious.

Shiitake mushrooms and nori add variety

AP - Shiitake mushrooms from the forests of Japan and nutrient-rich nori from the depths of the sea are delicious ingredients for a variety of dishes. Both products can be found at Oriental food shops and gourmet specialty stores.

Dried shiitake, the most available form from Japan, is considered by many to be more flavorful and aromatic than the fresh varieties.

Shiitake (pronounced shii-ta-ky) are large cap mushrooms found on trees in Japan's moist, shady forests. These mushrooms, which are meaty and rich in flavor, can be served with steaks, chicken and pasta; in salads, soups and casseroles. Dried shiitake, the most available form from Japan, is considered by many to be more flavorful and aromatic than the fresh varieties. Shiitake is an excellent source of vitamin D.

Nori is a sea vegetable that has been a delicacy in the Orient since about 800 B.C. These thin sheets of dried algae are most familiar to Americans as the outside wrapper of sushi. However, nori is also used as a garnish and a seasoning. Nori provides protein, minerals and significant amounts of vitamin A, vitamin C and B-complex vitamins.

The following recipes for Fragile Salty Shrimp and Sweet Potato and Shiitake Pancakes were developed by food stylists Deborah Custer and Mariann Savion. This delicate dish of sweet, salty flavors can be served as an appetizer or light entree.

Ground turkey and taco fixings combine for Mexican Fiesta Pie, created by Sally Versaci of Bloomfield Hills.

Mexican Fiesta Pie was last-minute meal

June, a month traditionally favored by brides, students and I dare say, teachers as well, is finally here. And what a joyful month it is, as the leaves on the trees are finally unfurled and able to wave freely in the soft breezes of early summer.

It is as if all of nature has joined in together to celebrate its triumph over the dark and oftentimes harsh months that precede it, by hosting a spectacular party for us to enjoy. The fresh colors, scents and sounds of the season are nature's gifts to us, and remind us, as in the immortal words of James Russell Lowell, that there is nothing "so rare as a day in June."

Because the warm weather beckons us outside, it has also been said, at least at our house, "What is so rare as a decent dinner in June?" After all, who really wants to be stuck in a hot, stuffy kitchen when there is so much to do outside? But, thanks to Sally Versaci of Bloomfield Hills, this week's delicious Winner Dinner can be quickly prepared and still leave you with plenty of time to enjoy the beauty of the season.

Versaci created this recipe for Mexican Fiesta Pie one night in desperation when she had a package of ground turkey defrosting in the sink, a cupboard full of taco fixings and practically nothing else on hand. Her innovative dish was a hit with her three children and husband, and they all came back for seconds. Versaci serves the pie with carrot and celery sticks. She likes to end this meal with a fabulous-tasting dessert called Mountain Mama's Mudslide.

Betsy Brethen

With a name like that, you know it is going to be terrific.

ALTHOUGH HER LIFE is very busy keeping up with her three teenagers, Versaci also works part-time as a restaurant interior designer. Her husband owns 15 Burger King restaurants in the Chicago and suburban Detroit area and, for the last 10 years, she has been in charge of all the decorating and remodeling projects that have been periodically undertaken at each restaurant.

An avid tennis player, she also has enjoyed taking painting classes at the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association. Versaci has a college degree in home economics but is planning to go back to school this fall and take classes, specializing in interior design. She looks toward the future and hopes to expand her decorating career once her children are fully grown and off on their own.

Thank you, Sally Versaci, for sharing your recipes with us and congratulations on being this week's Winner Dinner Winner. I wish you continued good luck with your career and family and hope you will keep this column in mind if you create any more new recipes.

And, as we begin a new week, isn't it nice to know that it isn't necessary to RSVP to Mother Nature's garden party. The only hostess gift she asks of us is that we simply open our eyes and enjoy the magnificent beauty she has created for us. After all, no one can top her when it comes to setting a beautiful "tableau."

Menu

- MEXICAN FIESTA PIE
- CARROT AND CELERY STICKS
- MOUNTAIN MAMA'S MUDSLIDE

Recipes

MEXICAN FIESTA PIE
Quick and easy to assemble, this dish serves 4-6 people. It can be made early in the day and refrigerated until dinnertime.

1 onion, chopped
1 1/2 pounds ground beef or turkey
1 package taco seasoning mix
1 package medium-sized flour tortillas
1 can refried beans, 16-ounce size
1 can peeled and chopped green chilies, 4-ounce size
2 cups shredded taco cheese (Colby and Monterey Jack)
2 cups crushed tortilla chips
2 medium tomatoes, chopped
Taco sauce

Saute onion in small amount of oil until tender. Add ground meat and brown, stirring. Drain the grease off the meat and add the taco seasoning packet along with 1/2 cup of water. Simmer, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, place 3 flour tortillas on the bottom of a 9-inch pie pan, spreading the tortillas out to cover the entire bottom of the pan. Spread 1/2 of the refried beans over the tortillas. Add 1/2 of the green chilies. Cover with half the meat mixture and 1 cup of the cheese. Repeat the layers and top with crushed tortilla chips. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Top with chopped tomatoes and serve with taco sauce, if desired.

CARROT AND CELERY STICKS
So simple to make, just grate some carrots and wash some celery stalks and serve them any length you want. Kids love to help make these. "MOUNTAIN MAMA'S MUDSLIDE"

This yummy dessert was invented by Fran Cooper. She is happy to share the recipe as long as you and whomever you should pass it on to don't change the name. With a name like that, though, who would want to change it.

Stick softened margarine in a cup flour
1 1/2 cup chopped pecans
4-ounce package of cream cheese
1 cup confectioner's sugar
1 medium-sized Cool Whip container
2 cups cold milk
1 small package vanilla instant pudding
1 small package chocolate instant pudding
1 chocolate Hershey bar

Mix well: 1 stick softened margarine, 1 cup flour and 1 cup chopped pecans. Press in the bottom of a 9-by-13-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Cool completely.

Beat till fluffy: 4 ounces cream cheese and 1 cup confectioner's sugar.

Fold in: 1 cup Cool Whip from medium container. Spread over cooled crust. Mix 2 cups cold milk, 1 small package vanilla instant pudding and 1 small package chocolate instant pudding.

Most of Muscadets from Sevres-et-Maine

The environs of the city of Nantes in France's Loire Valley is home for Muscadet.

From the mouth of the Loire River on the Atlantic Ocean, the vineyards spread inland along 72 miles of the river's length and encompass three appellations: Muscadet, Muscadet de Sevre-et-Maine and Muscadet des Coteaux de la Loire.

Eighty-five percent of all Muscadets, originating from about 30,000 vineyard acres, are from the best appellation, Sevre-et-Maine. The origin of the name is two small rivers, the Sevre and the Maine, southeast of Nantes.

Research for the name "Muscadet" reveals both lore and half truth. Some authorities say that the wine took its name from the muscadet de Bourgoine grape variety. Others say that the wine is called Muscadet because it can have a musky aroma.

We don't believe either of these is correct. The grape variety for Muscadet production is the melon de Bourgoine, called pinot blanc in the United States. The wines of the region are definitely not musky.

In the region, wines are fermented and aged in large concrete vats or stainless steel tanks — that's correct, no wood. Once fermentation completes, the wine is left sur lie (on the lees) during the fall and winter months until it is bottled in early April.

THE LEES ARE the precipitates resulting from fermentation. They are composed principally of dead yeast cells. Wine in contact with the lees remains fresh and unoxidized while gaining body. This is similar to the way champagne gains its character by remaining in contact with the

WINE SELECTION OF THE WEEK

1987 Cuvee "LM." Louis Metairieau ($10.50). LM stands for Louis Metairieau and his personal selection which is unique to this day in Muscadet and in all of France. Yes, in a sense, it's a cooperative, but one with self-imposed discipline to bottle and sell only the best wine from its members.

The sur lie bottle bouquet is evident over pear-like and citrusy fruit. The oak nuances are from the sur lie aging because the wine saw no oak. Superbly elegant and complex, this wine will make you a fan of Muscadet with fresh, poached salmon and a light, freshly prepared mayonnaise.

BEFORE GOING to market, the wines of the associate members and the Grand Mouton estate are blind tasted and ranked in January after the harvest and again in September, a year after harvest. "Poor wines are KO'd by the group," contends Metairieau. "Each group accepts the collective verdict."

KO'd wines go anonymously to a negotiator for blending. This selection process is the key to Metairieau's fame. "It gives each vigneron (vinegrower) the incentive to make the best possible Muscadet," maintains the energetic Metairieau. Wines that pass the selection process are bottled by the individual vigneron and sold under the Metairieau label. Each vigneron indicates which wines come from the art of his hand by stamping his initials on the cork.

Three Louis Metairieau wines are currently available in the Detroit area. They are wines to accompany seafood, shellfish or seafood terrines.

The 1988 Cuvee "One" is the best cuvee from the 1988 rigorous vigneron blind tasting. At $12.25 per bottle, it is probably at least twice the price of some other Muscadets you can find. But remember, these lower-end wines might contain a few of Metairieau's KO'd cuvees.

It showcases pear and apple fruit aromas and flavors. With full palate expression, it is clean, crisp, refreshing and elegant. Serve it well chilled as an appetizer with a cold crab dish and watch the crispness excite your palate.

THE 1986 GRAND MOUTON ($9) will disprove those who say that Muscadet does not age. This wine is made from 60-year-old vines. As it matures, it lost some of its fresh, exuberant fruit, but it has built an appealing, finesseful bottle bouquet. Its broad palate impression created by the sur lie aging technique remains fresh and alive. The vibrant acidity makes it a superb match for scallops in a light cream sauce accented with curry.

For all the Metairieau wines, a cream base for warm cuisine, or mayonnaise — plain or dill — for a cold shellfish presentation takes the edge off the nervy acidity. Either cream or mayonnaise allows the wine to show its softer qualities, while remaining crisp and palate-cleansing.

Santa Fe sandwiches have hot pepper sauce

AP — This sandwich will bring your taste buds to attention. Hot pepper sauce and cilantro, a fresh herb popular in Southwestern cooking, add snap to plain mayonnaise.

SANTA FE SUBS

Pack love in picnic baskets, moving day baskets

Picnic baskets filled with lots of goodies and packed with love can make a big hit with family and friends. For the gourmet eaters, a beautifully packed picnic basket can be a tasters' delight.

Stores are filled with lots of colorful picnic baskets, or be creative — make up your own picnic baskets using round, oval or any shape and all different sizes. These baskets also can be used as serving pieces for breads, fruits, crackers, utensils, whatever. Splashes of colorful napkins, plates or silverware add to the eye appeal.

Moving day baskets for friends or family moving to another city or across town are indeed a welcome sight. Give them a break from running to the local fast food restaurant. Pack a basket filled with homemade

home economist, Cooperative Extension Service

goodies that can be a real "moving feast."

Make a hectic, difficult day very festive and fun. Don't plan on electricity for your meal or even furniture. Take along some blankets or folding chairs to sit and relax. Any box can be used as a table.

PITA BREAD sandwiches, fruit kabobs, tossed salad, fresh veggies with dip and cookies can be a welcome meal. If it's easier to take a brunch-type meal, consider bagels, muffins, fruits, cheeses, assorted crackers, French bread and popcorn for snacking during the afternoon.

Don't forget to pack beverages in an ice-filled cooler or a thermos of hot coffee. It's also a good idea to take along a couple of trash bags since these may already be packed. If you are taking along a bottle of wine, champagne or sparkling juice, bring a corkscrew and/or a bottle opener. On moving day, who can find anything!

Chicken, shrimp or tuna salad, either for sandwiches or on a bed of lettuce, can be easy to pack. Keep in mind food safety. You don't want friends or family to get food poisoning from your good deed. Salads with meat, eggs or fish need to be kept in a cooler with lots of ice to ensure food safety. Cold foods must be kept below 40 degrees, hot foods above 140 degrees and, of course, keep foods clean.

For a real touch of class, purchase some inexpensive wine glasses or tumblers. Paper cups set many teeth on edge. Use colorful cloth napkins or terrycloth finger towels instead of paper. Decorate a pop bottle with sparkly paper and add a fresh flower for the centerpiece. Make moving day fun and festive for your friends or family.

Picnic baskets are also fun for Meadow Brook or Pine Knob or any outdoor activity. Instead of stopping for a fast food box or bag dinner, try something exciting. Use a large thermos for chilled soups such as gazpacho, vichyssoise, spinach or fruit soup. Serve with breadsticks, crackers, French bread, muffins or a varied selection of quick breads. Make mini-loaves of different kinds of breads like banana, cranberry, nut, lemon or zucchini ahead of time and freeze. These always are a hit with friends.

FINGER FOOD suggestions are guacamole and chips; cantaloupe wrapped with prosciutto; and kabobs of cheese, pickles, olives and small onions. Tidbits of shrimp, salmon and crab, and pate are easy to serve, but remember these must be kept cold. Fresh vegetable/relish trays should be kept cold, not for safety reasons but so they look fresh.

Marinate a melee of fresh vegetables in Italian salad dressing overnight to develop their flavor. This can be used as a main dish or side dish. A homemade taco salad (minus the big shell) or a combination pasta and vegetable salad are all meals themselves. On a hot night, how about a tomato stuffed with a cold shrimp salad? Luckily, these can all be transported easily.

Fresh fruits in the summer are always a big hit with picnic-goers who have a sweet tooth. Pound cake or angel food cake cut into cubes, served with fresh berries or a praline sauce, give an interesting twist to a picnic. Cookies or brownies are also favorite finger food desserts.

Whether your picnic is at the home of a friend who is moving, or in the backyard, around the pool, at the local park or at a concert, food safety is the most important consideration when deciding what foods to take along. Look at your picnic equipment to make sure cold foods stay cold and hot foods stay hot.

A picnic should be special, festive, fun and, most of all, it should be safe and easy to manage. And when the compliments roll in, you can say, "It wasn't any trouble at all."

TREATING GOUT

The treatment of gout may seem confusing. When you have an acute attack, you may take colchicine one tablet an hour until either the attack clears or you have taken 12 tablets. Or, you may take a capsule (indomethacin or phenylbutazone) up to six a day for 3-5 days. Alternatively, your physician may treat by removing fluid from the swollen joint and injecting corticosteroid. When you are between attacks, your treatment is much different. You may take colchicine, but only two or three tablets a day. Your doctor does not recommend phenylbutazone at all, prescribes indomethacin sparingly, and likely has you use another medication, benemid, one or two tablets a day. Why choose so many drugs? During an acute attack, the goal is to keep the uric acid in the blood, which caused the flare, at as low a level as possible. At the same time your doctor wants to treat the ensuing inflammation vigorously. Between attacks the aim is to mobilize uric acid stores and then remove them from the body. Thus, the medications used for gout are tailored either to treat the acute episode or to prevent a flare. Physicians use another medicine, allopurinol, when decreasing the uric acid that the body makes, is of paramount importance.

Operate home as summer B&B

Q: We have two students who are coming home again for the summer. I love them very much, but they don't cooperate very well and create so much clutter that, frankly, I dread it. Do you have any suggestions?

A: I asked Dolores Lamping, M.A., C.S.W. of Farmington Hills Counseling Services, and here are her comments. Extensive studies have been done to understand both human and animal relationships to space or "territory." As with animals who routinely mark their territories with scents, humans have a strong need for territory or ownership of space. People who work in shared offices, for instance, often go to great lengths to distinguish their areas with plants, pictures or other ways to show ownership of their domain.

Ms. Lamping has counseled many families whose students have become accustomed to having their own spaces at college while their parents have also gotten used to spreading out at home. Standards have been different, with parents' standards usually higher (although this sometimes reverses, with the students insisting on more neatness and cleanliness.) Just as it was an adjustment when they went away, now there must be another adaptation on their return.

The thought of home has served as an anchor of security while your students were away, and it is important to reaffirm a sense of welcome and belonging to re-establish strong bonds. If you have had negative experiences in the past, think of creative ways to deal with the situation now.

When your children were small there was no question about who was "in charge," but that has changed now that they are young adults. You can no longer relate to them as children, so perhaps you can consider your young adult to be a guest for 10 weeks. This would not be a parent/child relationship, but an adult/adult one.

If you ran a bread and breakfast (B&B) inn what would you expect of a guest? Which rooms could guests use and which would be off limits? Would pets be allowed? Smoking? Alcohol? What would the guest's responsibilities be? While staying in a hotel is an impersonal experience, a B&B is personal — you are sharing a family's space on a temporary basis. Behavior at a B&B isn't negotiable. You respect the surroundings and stay on a pre-accepted basis or you go elsewhere.

Pretend your students are guests at your own B&B. If you establish ahead of time in a cordial and friendly manner what you will and will not do organizing

and what is expected of your students (recognizing that both sides will have to give a little), being together can be a joy this summer.

I want to pay special tribute to my fine editor, Marie McGee, who passed away recently. Marie was always congenial to work with and I will forever have a warm place in my heart for her. My deepest sympathy to her family.

Gallery to look at co-op idea

Route 10 Gallery of Farmington Hills is looking for artists who would like to explore a new format to establish the gallery as an artists' cooperative.

The gallery, formerly the Homestead Gallery of Walled Lake, has represented 200 mostly Michigan artists in a wide variety of fine arts and crafts.

Incentives to artists include Corporate Sales Service.

Direct slides or inquiries to: Terri Shapiro, director, Route 10 Gallery, 32430 Northwestern, Farmington Hills, 48018 or call 932-4160.

Indian Village homes open

On Saturday, June 9, Indian Village will host its 18th consecutive home and garden tour. Through the tour, the community seeks to share the rich history and architectural wonders of this turn-of-the-century neighborhood.

Historical Indian Village consists of about 350 homes, built mostly between 1895 and the late 1920s, in a residential neighborhood three miles east of downtown Detroit, bounded by East Jefferson on the South, Mack Avenue on the north, and Seminole and Burns on the West and East (respectively).

Illustrious past residents of the village include Edsel Ford (Henry Ford II and Benson Ford were born here); Ernest Kanzler; Hiram Walker II; George Pierrot, and Joseph Muer (grandfather of restaurateur Joe Muer).

This year's tour will feature nine homes, five gardens, three churches and a school. Snacks and lunches will be offered at Village churches, and there will be bake sales, as well, for those who like to munch on a cookie while they walk.

Tickets for the tour are $10 per person, and may be purchased at Christ Lutheran Church, 2411 Iroquois at Vernor; Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church at Burns; and Waldorf School, 2555 Burns at Charlevoix.

Ticket price includes a tour book featuring a map of the area and description of the tour homes and gardens. A guided walking tour is available for $3 additional per person.

For information, call the tour hotline number 499-0537.

Rocks in familiar role: district champs

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

If it's the month of June, one can safely assume Plymouth Salem is doing well on the baseball diamond.

The Rocks won their third district championship in the last four years Saturday, holding off Adrian 3-1 in the final at Westland John Glenn High School.

Salem cleared a major hurdle in its first game when it eliminated Ypsilanti 8-6, but the Rocks had to rally with four runs in the top of the seventh to do it.

"We know when we're pitching well, we can play with anybody," Salem coach John Gravlín said. "I think we prepared well for Ypsilanti."

"They're known to have a hard-throwing staff, and we made some adjustments in practice this week and I think it paid off. We prepared specially to face hard throwers."

JEFF PALUK won the first game in relief of starter Rob Kowalski, and the Ypsilanti pitchers didn't like what they saw from the Salem batters.

Scott Rodgers and Dave Makowiec were 4-for-4 and did most of the damage for the Rocks, who will play league rival Farmington in the first round of the regional tournament Saturday at Wyandotte Roosevelt High School. The Falcons rallied from a 7-1 deficit to beat Redford Catholic Central at Southfield.

Rodgers hit two home runs and had four RBI, and Makowiec started Salem rallies in the fifth and seventh innings with a triple and double, respectively. Tracey Ewald chipped in two hits, including a bunt single to keep the seventh-inning rally alive.

Kowalski worked the first 5½ innings and allowed six runs on 10 hits and two walks. But he also struck out nine and batted throughout, according to Gravlín. Paluk pitched a scoreless 1½ innings to get the win.

"It's usually the other way around," Gravlín said. "Paluk is the one who usually starts and Robbie who relieves. We last used Paluk in relief in the big Taylor Center game. So we knew we could use him — and we had to."

Rodgers hit solo homers in the fourth and fifth innings, and Tom Noonan and Brian Rudolph also had RBI to give Salem a 4-2 lead, but the Braves went ahead 6-4 after six.

IN THE SEVENTH, Makowiec hit a lead-off double and scored on Noonan's single. Rodgers ripped a two-run double, and Eric Nielson hit into a double play but still drove in the fourth run.

"It was do-or-die time for us, and they never quit," Gravlín said. "We've become a lot closer-knit bunch in the last few weeks."

Salem has won 13 of its last 17 games and is 17-10 overall after beginning the season 4-

The Rocks beat Adrian 7-1 two weeks ago, but the Maples saved their ace, left-handed Dave Lock for the final after brushing aside Ann Arbor Huron, winner of only four games, in the first round.

The championship game was suspended because of rain with two out in the sixth and Salem leading 3-1. After a 15-minute delay, the game was completed with Adrian adding a run in the seventh.

Rodgers was the winning pitcher, going the distance. He had a no-hitter until the fifth and had allowed only two hits until the stoppage in play.

Kevin Craggs walked and scored Salem's first run on the second baseman's error in the second inning. In the third, Makowiec had an RBI groundout and Rodgers a run-producing single.

Kelly Holmes pitched 21 innings, striking out 22 batters, to keep Canton in the game at the John Glenn district tournament.

Canton marathoners bow out

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Plymouth Canton coach Dave Racer suspected early in Saturday's Class A regional softball tournament that a long afternoon awaited the Chiefs.

Not because his team was over-matched, but because it was so evenly matched with first-round opponent Belleville at Westland John Glenn High School.

And, for that reason, it was a long afternoon for all involved. Oh, how long it was!

"About the 12th or 14th inning, something went through my mind that said 'This game is going to end in the 21st inning,'" Racer said after the Tigers claimed an 8-2 victory over Canton in exactly that many innings.

After an exchange of runs in the 20th, Belleville finally got to Canton pitcher Kelly Holmes in the 21st, scoring six runs on four hits and two errors.

"I WAS HOPING someone would win the game on a hit," Belleville coach Peggy Curtis said, "instead of an error or passed ball and have some kid think she cost her team the ballgame."

The Chiefs (24-4) and Belleville (19-10) took nearly five hours to play their marathon contest, but it never lacked for suspense.

And a patient Ann Arbor Pioneer team had a keen interest in the outcome. After blanking Adrian 5-0 in the first game, the Pioneers waited until 5:10 p.m. to find out who they would play for the championship game. But the final had to be postponed until today because of rain.

Though there was a total of 27 hits in the Canton-Belleville game, it was dominated by the two pitchers, Holmes and Dawn Rochowiak, who also went the distance.

Holmes, a freshman, faced 95 batters and allowed 17 hits, but she also struck out 22 and walked only eight. Two of Canton's nine errors were costly, however.

"She just pitched a super game," Racer said. "She didn't give many walks today, and that's one of her faults. She threw one of the best games she's thrown."

"SHE WAS tired (in the final inning). Twenty-one innings — who wouldn't be. She pitched a hell of a game, but it should have been done in seven innings."

The Chiefs scored in the opening inning when Jennifer Vanootigheim drew a lead-off walk and came home on Stacey Thompson's RBI single. But the Tigers pulled even in the third when Marcy Korgal singled to right field but the ball was booted, enabling Karrie Gebhardt to score from second.

Rochowiak pitched 18 scoreless innings after the first, holding the Chiefs to 10 hits and five walks. She also struck out 10 and hit three batters.

Belleville's defense made only three errors, but the offense failed to give her support in clutch situations, leaving 23 runners on base. Belleville left 15 stranded — at least one per inning — from the 10th through the 20th.

"I was so excited by the way our defense played," Curtis said. "We're a young team with only one senior, and we'd been giving up a lot of runs."

Coincidentally, both teams took advantage of the other's error in the 20th inning to extend their at-bats and keep the game tied at 2-2.

HOLMES MISHANDLED Tanya Kjellin's ground ball with two out, and the next batter, Korgal, singled to drive in Gebhardt from second again.

Pioneer hurried to begin its pregame warm-ups, but the final was further delayed when Canton tied in the bottom of the 20th.

With two outs, Vanootigheim was caught stealing at second, but shortstop Linda Pasek dropped the ball. Kris Ford walked, bringing Thompson, the team's best hitter, to the plate with Vanootigheim now on third. Thompson's single to right field guaranteed another inning.

"Thompson had a chance to swing the bat," Racer said. "She was afraid I was going to pull a first and third steal. She asked me to give her a chance to swing the bat. You couldn't have a better hitter up there, and she came up with a hit."

"They've got a great shortstop, and any other shortstop wouldn't have made a play on (Jenny) Sekovich — and we win the game," he added. Pasek had to make a difficult play to throw Sekovich out at first and end Canton's half of the 20th inning.

Belleville loaded the bases with one out in the 21st. Three runs scored on two errors, and Kjellin, Kelly Rochon and Pasek had RBI singles. Rochon finished with five hits and Pasek three. Thompson had three hits, Bridget DeRosa and April Galici two each.

"In my estimation, I've never seen a Canton team play any harder than it did today," said Racer, who coached his last Canton softball game. He will coach the Madonna College team next year.

K'zoo Central topples Chiefs in regional final

Plymouth Canton had far more opportunities to score Saturday, but Kalamazoo Central only had to be right once.

The Maroon Giants' Kim Hermsberg squibbled a left-footed shot that tumbled past the Chiefs' netminder, Jori Welchans, in the fifth minute of the match. No. 1-ranked Canton (13-3-2) never recovered, losing 1-0 to Kalamazoo Central (17-1-1) in a girls Class A soccer regional championship game at Okemos High School.

A bit of deja vu, perhaps: Two years ago, almost to the day, No. 1-ranked Kalamazoo Central was upset by Canton 4-1 at Okemos. Canton went on to win the Class A championship that year.

The Chiefs weren't interested in reminiscing of past glories afterward. The team promptly filed on the bus and headed east on I-96. The loss was difficult, especially in light of the many opportunities Canton had at equalizing.

Hermsberg's goal was not a thing of beauty. But, nonetheless, it was unsettling to the Chiefs. Canton never seemed to find its form, playing like a team with something to lose.

The Chiefs came into the match on the heels of being ranked No. 1 in the state in the final poll. Smith didn't feel the ranking had any effect on his team Saturday.

"What does the rankings have to do with it?" he said.

BUT THE Kalamazoo Central tally only five minutes into the match had everything to do with the loss.

"We stood back and watched the ball being kicked down the field," said Smith, describing the goal. "We never got into the ballgame. Maybe they duffed us. . . I don't know. We didn't play our best soccer, that's for sure."

"The girls worked hard, but something was missing." Yeah, like a Canton goal. The Chiefs' scoreless state wasn't from a lack of effort. In the second half, the Chiefs did everything but wrap the ball and have it shipped by U.P.S. into the back of the net.

Shots flew high and wide as Canton peppered the goal continually with no luck. Ironically, the Maroon Giants' goalkeeper Emily Horvath earned the shutout but made few saves.

Senior forward Jenny Russell and junior forward Lynn Nichols cranked a few shots towards the goal as did freshman Colleen Connell.

Otherwise, Kalamazoo Central's backline of Anna Sylwan and Julie Anderson kept the Canton forwards bottled up.

"We knew about Russell; it's Jenny Russell, right?" Kalamazoo Central coach George VanLinder said. "When we played them three years ago (actually two years ago), she killed us."

"We knew they play with two forwards. We figured if we could stop those two forwards and hold on, we had a good chance of winning."

LIKE MOST, VanLinder waited for the other soccer shoe to drop. Canton, an explosive offensive team, went into the second half with the wind at its back and certainly a higher skill level on its side.

The Chiefs carried the shot for the opening 15 minutes of the second half. Shot after shot was unleashed, but nothing.

"We were panicking, I guess," Smith said. "Sometimes you shoot close, sometimes you shoot wide. Today, we weren't close."

Except for a wind-blown boot from midfield that hit the crossbar, he was right.

After the initial flurry, the Chiefs had to contend with the Maroon Giants' counter attack. Alicia Webster and Nikki Johnson both broke in alone but sent shots over the net.

From there, legs grew a little heavy and the ball became as elusive as a balloon on a windy day.

Despite the loss, Canton concluded one of its finest seasons. The team had only three seniors, defenders Erin Morgan and Becky Shankie and Russell.

"We had a very good season, no doubt for a young team," Smith said. "We just didn't want to end it like this."

Oh Boy! Racing for gold

By Pat Schutte
staff writer

Mark Tate of Canton Township has finally made it. Like a baseball player patiently moving up through the minor leagues and finally getting that chance to play in the "big show," Tate has earned the right to sit on the porch with the big dogs of his sport.

Since age 13, Tate has been racing power boats... with a well-documented level of success.

From a $1,500, nine-foot long, five-horsepower, J-Stock Outboard Hydroplane, capable of speeds around 30 mph, Tate, under the careful tutelage of his racing family — father Joe Tate Jr. and grandfather Joe Tate Sr. — began weaving his way up through the ranks, leaving shattered records and opposing boats in his wake.

In 1979, Tate was voted the Marine Prop "Rider of the Year." In 1981, Tate broke the 850 cc five-mile competition record in St. Petersburg, Fla., by two mph.

That year he was also elected to the American Power Boat Association Inboard Hall of Fame. The following year he set another record in the five-mile competition record in the 1200 cc class.

And his most impressive record to date, in 1988 Tate was the first driver ever to qualify for the national finals in four different classes.

Yet, with all of his trophies, titles and records, Tate had not reached his goal, a goal that he has always had in the back of his mind — to drive one of those big guns, to race an unlimited hydroplane.

WELL, WHAT a coincidence. As the Detroit APBA Budweiser Gold Cup gets ready to celebrate 75 years of racing on the Detroit River this weekend, guess who's entered as the driver of the Oh Boy! Oberto unlimited hydroplane?

Here's a hint. Last year's Oh Boy! Oberto driver, George Woods, has since taken the helm of the Mr. Pringles boat. One guess, please.

Nice choice! Mark Tate, all of 30 years old, but having raced for 17 of those 30 years, will pilot the 6,000-pound, twin WWII aircraft engine, 2,600-horsepower, 200 mph-plus, Oh Boy! Oberto hydroplane on the APBA unlimited hydroplane circuit this summer.

And oh boy, is this self-employed industrial coatings expert fired up about it!

"I'm excited, but not very nervous... yet," said Tate a week before the first race of the season in Miami. "This is a goal that I have worked many, many years for."

The jump from the Grand Prix boats that Tate has driven, off and on since 1983, to the unlimited boats should be as natural as the progression from the little outboards he used to drive before he got into the in-board classes. Should be...

"We're talking about a boat that weighs almost two tons more, generates 1,400 more horses, and travels on the average of 60 mph faster," said Tate on the difference between a Grand Prix hydroplane and an unlimited hydroplane. "The trick will be to just relate to this and drive the horse to weight ratio accordingly."

THE GRAND Prix boats that race in the Detroit River run for the Silver Cup title, versus the unlimiteds that run for the Gold Cup title.

Tate's ready. The owner of Oh Boy! Oberto, Jim Harvey, chose Tate out of a field of other drivers with more unlimited experience (Tate has yet to drive one).

In what has come to be known as the "Superbowl" of hydroplane racing, Detroit is set to host its 75th anniversary Detroit American Power Boat Association Budweiser Gold Cup hydroplane race Thursday-Sunday, June 7-10, on the Detroit River — off Jefferson Avenue between Burns and Marquette Drive.

To be or not be: Dave Barry at 40

WACKY DADS STOP AT NOTHING TO GET THEIR FAMILY ON SUBURBIA'S FAVORITE HOME VIDEOS

By Jill Hamilton
special writer

Pulitzer Prize winning humorist Dave Barry was at Borders Book Shop in Novi recently to sign his latest book, "Dave Barry Turns 40."

When he got to the store, he was the subject of immediate attention. A few clerks fawned over him, a couple of patrons shyly introduced themselves and legions of the press hounded him — the Observer & Eccentric and the Novi News, at least.

Barry managed to break away for a few minutes to talk about his job as what he calls "a writer of sophomoric humor."

Q How do you react to all this attention?

Barry: Where people recognize me in Miami because my picture's in the paper. When we go out to dinner, sometimes people will come over or buy me a beer — which is the real reason I got into journalism in the first place.

The absolute height of wilderness for an author on a book tour is equivalent to what would happen if you parachuted a reasonably low level rock star into a nearly vacant Alaskan village. Really famous writer — I'm not saying I'm one because I'm not — but a really, really famous writer would usually get a lot less attention walking through an airport than the local weather person would.

Newspaper fame is a low-level kind of fame — not that I'm complaining. I can't imagine what it would be like to be really, really well-known and have people saying, "Look! He's having creamy Italian dressing!"

FEAR & LOAFING

Twin peaks

She's beautiful. She's talented. And she's got a handlebar mustache.

According to a recent survey, Michigan high school students are gulping steroids at an alarming rate.

Traditionally, male athletes like wrestlers and football players use anabolic steroids to increase muscle bulk and intimidate their opponents.

Now, teenage girls are using the drugs as a shortcut to a slimmer figure. Starting as early as junior high, co-eds take steroids to achieve the wasp waist and narrow hips so often associated with fashion models and famine victims.

Unfortunately, their suppliers fail to mention what steroids are — synthetic forms of the male hormone testosterone. So, as an unexpected bonus, the petite miss also gains a deep voice, facial hair and a powerful handshake.

But don't panic. Just because your teenage daughter looks like a man doesn't mean she won't be popular. In fact, some of our most popular leading men (Mel Gibson, Bruce Willis, Pee-wee Herman, etc.) started out as pompadour girls who dabbled in steroids.

Speaking of the gender confusion, if you've ever seen female body-builders on TV, you already know two important facts:

(1) Never watch this kind of program without an air sickness bag on your lap.

(2) Steroids cause a woman's breast to disappear.

I'M NOT QUITE sure how they judge these freak shows, but it looks like the gal voted "least likely to need both pieces of her two-piece swimsuit" wins the trophy.

We're not just talking fried eggs here. We're talking Flat Earth Society. Total mammary inversion.

How things have changed! Back when I went to high school, girls took pills to get larger breasts, not smaller. Reputable magazines, like "Teen" ran dozens of ads for pumps, exercisers and vacuum devices to increase bust size.

Right there, beside the gizmo to remove nose hair safely, were products guaranteed to produce tripe D torpedoes or you money back.

And if you doubted the written claims, there was always undeniable, un-retouched photographic proof to convince you.

The "BEFORE" picture showed some sunken-chested waif slaving over a hot typewriter while her better endowed co-worker was being chased around the desk by three handsome men.

same girl two months later, balancing five martinis on her giant, thrusting bosom. The handsome men from scene one are now kneeling before her, simultaneously drooling over her humungous hooters and proposing marriage.

Eventually, the Food and Drug Administration was forced to ban these advertisements. Apparently, while most of the gimmicks were outright frauds, some of them actually worked — too well in some cases.

PARENTS in Southfield were awakened one night when their 13-year-old daughter complained she couldn't turn over in bed.

Switching on her bedroom light, they were shocked to discover that the girl's breasts had grown to an astonishing seven feet in length, literally pinning her between the mattress and ceiling.

Shortly after this incident, Royal Jelly Enlarging Cream was taken off the market, forcing girls whose cups runneth under to carry vast amounts of Kleenex in places other than their purses.

While my generation worked on adding curves, today's teens are obsessed with removing them. Those physical features that make men and women so different (and puberty so difficult) are now casualties in the all-out war against body fat that begins far too early in life.

Q: What do you want to be when you grow up?

A: Like the people on cigarette billboards — happy, androgynous, emaciated.

Q: How old are you?

A: I'm not sure, but my cholesterol is down to 127.

I noticed your birthday cake.

A: It's HIGH high-fiber, psyllium husks.

Q: What gifts do you want?

A: A masticating juicer, a treadmill and a high colonic.

Q: Any plans for summer vacation?

A: I'm opening a lemonade stand to pay for my liposuction. Most of the kids in my pre-school have already had a tummy tuck. When kindergarten starts, I'll be selling fruit-flavored, chewable steroids shaped like little dinosaurs.

Q: Why dinosaurs?

A: As a warning — if you get too fat, you become extinct.

STREET SENSE

Don't make waves with him

Dear Barbara, I've never written a letter like this before. I guess you hear that often. Obviously, I am troubled or I would not be writing to you. I hope you can shed some insight.

This week I received a letter with a hand-cancelled postmark. It was done in such a way that I could not recognize the city that it was coming from. Inside it was a cartoon strip.

The strip had two women talking to each other and one is saying to the other, "Alan is having an affair." A note was enclosed that said, "We thought you ought to know."

This is not the first time I have been told that my husband was having an affair. About a year ago, my oldest and dearest friend told me that he was, too. I didn't really believe her and have not spoken to her since.

I confronted my husband, who firmly denied it. I still don't believe he is seeing other women, but he does do suspicious things. He travels on business and he doesn't know where he is staying. Often I don't know how to find him. I also travel often. We have both always had a lot of freedom. Our kids are grown and there isn't a lot of responsibility at home.

I do care if he is having an affair. I love him very much. I do not want my marriage to end.

Barbara

Dear Barbara, There has been so much in your column recently about smoking. I am 28 and quit smoking one year ago. It was hard, but I do feel better. I smoked for 15 years before I quit. (I started early.) Will the bad effects of smoking ever be gone? Will I have negative health effects for the rest of my life?

Ex-smoker

Dear Ex-smoker, I don't know if you are a man or a woman, and in this situation, it does matter. Some research indicates that ex-smokers re-enter the normal mortality curve after five years. Other research indicates that it takes two years for men and three to four years for women. Congratulations on quitting!

STREET CRACKS

His 'low-key' humor keeps 'em laughing

By Loraine McClish staff writer

Ted Norkey is no stranger to Joey's Comedy Club in Livonia; he has performed there "a couple of times." That's why he can say he and the audience he meets in Livonia "get along just fine."

Norkey has an off-the-wall comedy style that is difficult to categorize and, much to his chagrin, has shot over some audience's heads.

"There are nights everything works and there are nights when you die, but the Livonia crowds like all of my jokes, or at least most of them. My comedy is low-key, subtle, straight stand up, but not that much intellectual. I disclaim being an intellectual.

"I just think differently than most people and my comedy comes from that. I guess not thinking like most people is what led to the show business career."

Thinking differently from most people has also led to his being described as "the comic's comic."

Norkey got his start about 12 years ago at Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle. For the next few years he worked as manager of a supply warehouse, plumber and comedian.

"I turned professional about eight years ago when the comedy boom blossomed — when comedy was snowballing in towns that didn't have a club opened several clubs."

NONETHELESS, "nobody wants to be a road comic all of their lives and never see the kids."

"When I'm gone it's from two to eight weeks at a time. The goal for all us (comedians) is to break into the big time and when you do that you are probably going to have to make the move to Los Angeles."

"That's when you are in a new town and starting all over again. That's another fantasy to live and turn into reality."

Ted Norkey will perform at Joey's Comedy Club, Plymouth Road east of Levan, Livonia, Wednesday-Saturday, June 6-9. Show time is 9 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, 8:30 and 10:45 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

this week, do a bit about whales."

BORN AND raised in Jackson, Norkey said he got a late start on his career as a professional comedian, but is now playing his trade coast to coast.

"I have admired comedians ever since I can remember, and now I'm living out my fantasy. Not many can say that."

Dave Barry: Doing 'homework' pays off

Q: YOUR COLUMN is syndicated through the Miami Herald. Do you work from the Herald's office?

Barry: I work at home mostly. Papers are designed not to work in, as far as I can tell. Too many people, too much stuff to do that's entertaining as opposed to writing which I've never found entertaining.

Where I work at the Herald, the Sunday magazine is called Tropic. There's a conference room which is funny because, well, if you knew the staff at Tropic, the idea of them having a conference room is funny. These are people who can't even have conversations... so they set up a ping pong table. So when I go to the Tropic, that's really what goes on — ping pong.

Q: You don't like writing?

Barry: No! Does anyone? People who have to do it never like it — that's been my experience. Which isn't to say that I don't like being a writer — I would much rather be a writer than have a job. But the actual part of sitting down in front of a screen and thinking "Well, now what?" — I don't care for that. Especially because I never have anything to say.

If I had some strong feelings about world events or some coherent political philosophy or even just unusually interesting experiences to relate, I think I would have much more confidence. But I know for a fact that I have nothing to say. For years, I haven't and for the foreseeable future I don't expect to.

Q: How do you come up with ideas then?

Barry: Yeah, pretty close. In fact,

Barry: There's a building/garage/office at the end of my yard. I go in there with my coffee and my two dogs and the three of us sit there and try to have ideas. Quite frankly, they're not holding up their end. Over the years, I've had a much larger share of the ideas than either of them. I just sit there — that's mostly what it is — sitting there and thinking "Hmmm, this sucks."

Q: How about fan mail?

Barry: Most of it's nice, some of it's weird — just mail from Mars — and some of it's from what I call the "humor impaired" — people who read what I wrote and because it's in the newspaper take it to be literally true and are alarmed if it's not.

Q: You do sometimes seem like you're getting away with something — and in so many major newspapers?

Barry: Well, it wasn't like that right away. I wasn't accepted by very big papers at the beginning. When I first started syndication, I would talk to editors and they would often say, "Well, we like your column, but don't think our readers are really ready for it." Editors, I think, generally have a very low opinion of the IQ's of the reader because the ones who call in often are stupid.

Slowly, some of the larger papers started to run my column, then editors decided that it was OK. I don't think my column has changed much over the years. It didn't get any more tasteful, at least I hope not.

Q: So if we looked at one of your earlier columns, it would be pretty much the same style?

Barry: Yeah, pretty close. In fact, it's the same column actually — about every two years I just start running them all over again. So far no one's picked up on it because I think a lot of my readers are heavy drinkers.

Q: How do you feel about your earlier columns?

Barry: The further back I go, the less likely I am to like what I wrote. I think I could have done better. But, I'm always thinking that. I think that's why I'm a columnist instead of a novelist — because I don't care that much. I don't want to keep looking back. I want to get on with something else.

Q: Right after college, you were hired by the Daily Local News?

Barry: Actually, right after college I was a conscientious objector for two years. But, then I got hired by the News.

Q: Before that?

Barry: When I was young, I did write what I thought were hilarious essays for the high school and college papers. But I certainly wasn't a legendary standout in that field.

Q: What happened after your stint with the Daily Local News?

Barry: I went to the Associated Press which does not encourage humor writing. Sometimes, I wonder if it even encouraged brain wave activity. Then I left the Associated Press to teach effective writing seminars to chemists and engineers around the country.

While I was doing that, I started writing a column for the Daily Local News. I started showing people my column and more and more papers started expressing an interest. By 1983, the Miami Herald was really interested and offered me a job.

I said no because I didn't want to get shot — not that everyone who moves to Miami gets shot, some of them get stabbed. So, I worked for the Herald but lived in Pennsylvania. In '86, we finally moved to Miami because we had come to really like it from traveling there, plus, by that time, we wanted to get shot and stabbed.

MUCH OF Norkey's act is ad lib. Many of those ad libs get incorporated into the act. And many one-liners have built on themselves to the point where they turn into bits.

He gave an example: "I put a dollar into a change machine and I haven't been the same since. That led to all over the place. But I'm all over the place anyway."

"I do some stuff that's self-deprecating, take some stuff from what ever Newsweek or Omni has to say

The world stands still for this 'cup'

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

World Cup, you say?

Yes, that's right. Maradona, Gullit, van Basten, Robson — they all will be there representing their respective countries in what is the grand international showcase for the game of soccer.

Who, you say?

Maradona, Gullit, Van Bas. . . Uh, we'll get to that later. Here are some facts.

The World Cup takes place every four years, this year starting Friday, June 8, in Italy. Some 24 countries will be represented, having spent the past two years qualifying, some as small as Costa Rica and others as large as the Soviet Union.

For the first time in 40 years, the United States will be there. Though playing against the likes of Italy, Czechoslovakia and Austria, the upstart U.S. contingent has been given about as much a chance as a six-pack staying cold on a foundry plate.

Favorites in the monthlong round-robin tournament include host Italy, Holland, Brazil and West Germany. Teams to watch out for are England and Argentina.

Whew. Got all that? Good, because this World Cup thing is big potatoes.

"THE REST of the world stands still when football matches are played," said Roger Faulkner, a longtime promoter of soccer in the area.

Faulkner will be in Rome and Florence, Italy, watching the American side. He's on the U.S. Soccer Federation's National Budget Committee, which oversees the financial affairs of the national team.

Faulkner will also provide radio reports to WJR-AM's J.P. McCarthy in the morning during his two-week stay.

Some of us, though, won't be as lucky. Fortunately, Turner Network Television plans to carry a package of games, including the final match at 2 p.m. Sunday, July 8.

PREVIOUS FINALS have been classics. One such match was the 1966 final, in which host England beat West Germany, 4-2, in extra time thanks to a three-goal performance by Geoff Hurst.

Faulkner remembers listening with glee to the match on Canadian radio on his way to Niagara Falls. But the World Cup that followed four years later really sticks out in his mind.

In 1970, Faulkner helped put together closed-circuit telecast at the Masonic Temple of the final from Mexico. Advance tickets didn't sell because no one knew who would be in the final.

When Brazil and Italy made it, twice as many people showed up as there were tickets available. Added to the hysteria was the television feed from Mexico that went out a minute to kick-off.

"I thought we were going to have a riot," Faulkner said. "Fortunately, the picture came back on."

When Brazil won 4-1, fans danced in the streets outside the Masonic.

Nick O'Shea, owner of Soccer Store & More in Livonia and a former professional player, is pulling for Ireland in the 1990 World Cup competition.

ART EMANUELE/staff photographer

SOME 20 years later, the number of Americans playing the game has exploded. They are only starting to get the fever of the world game.

Places such as the Soccer Locker in Farmington Hills and Soccer Store & More in Livonia are well-stocked with 1990 World Cup memorabilia, such as T-shirts, shorts and soccer balls.

"Interest in their favorite country picks up," said Nick O'Shea, who is owner of Soccer Store & More and is a former professional player. "We'll get people coming in asking for T-shirts for Ireland, England or whoever they're rooting for."

O'Shea is pulling for Ireland, which is in the same group as arch-rival England. He also hopes the United States does well, as does Sal Malek, owner of the Soccer Locker.

BOTH SEE this year's World Cup — not to mention the fact the United States hosts the international spectacle in 1994 — as a great boost for the game here.

"What it will do is give the game recognition," Malek said. "Without the U.S., the only people watching would be soccer people. Kids are becoming more aware of it. We need American heroes to promote the game."

American heroes who, it is hoped, will become as synonymous with the sport as Argentina's Diego Maradona, Holland's Ruud Gullit and Marco van Basten and England's Bryan Robson.

U.S. players such as goalkeeper Tony Meola and forward Paul Caligiuri are starting to get recognition. Bob Gansler's team is also charged up by a 3-1 win over Poland in a recent World Cup warm-up match.

"Obviously I'm not picking the United States to win it all," Faulkner said, "but they'll do better than expected."

Facts from the far post

Did you know:

- India qualified for the World Cup in 1950, but withdrew after the team wasn't granted permission to play in bare feet.

- Pope John Paul was a goalkeeper with the Polish amateur team Wostyla, singer Julio Iglesias played for Real Madrid's youth team, tennis standout Boris Becker for Bayern Munich's reserves and rock star Rod Stewart for Dundee United.

- The head of state for Liberia threatened members of his national team with execution if they didn't perform well against Gambia in an African Cup match Nov. 9, 1980. The game ended in a scoreless draw and the players lived to tell about it.

- A dog named Pickles sniffed out the original World Cup prize, the Jules Rimet Trophy, after it was stolen from an exhibit window in Westminster, England. The persistent pooch found the hardware under a bush in south London. Dog and owner collected a 6,000-pound reward.

- In the 1930 World Cup, a trainer for the USA ran out on the pitch to tend to an injured player when he tripped. A bottle of chloroform broke in his bag and knocked him cold. He was carried off the field while the injured player went untreated.

Tate makes life's dream into a reality

Tate's been around boats since before he could talk and was cleaning them and learning about them before he could drive them. And along with all of his driving accomplishments, he's paid his dues . . . paid the reaper his dues, if you catch the drift.

"I've blown over four times, been spit out, barrel rolled, and I stuffed it once," said Tate as he hit the slow-motion button on his VCR remote and reviewed a crash in which he was attempting to set an outboard speed record (112 mph in a 13-foot boat).

Tate's boat took off out of the water like a jet lifting off a runway. But instead of soaring off into the sky, the boat violently flipped over 2 1/2 times in the air, sending Tate skipping across the water, before it smashed itself into several large pieces.

"Look, I was making bigger splashes than the boat," he said, reliving the moment for the umpteenth time on video tape. "When it was over (he had skipped like a stone) four to five times across the water, it felt like somebody had kicked the living 'you know what' out of me.

"I'D HAVE demolished that record if I could have made it."

Now, in the driver's eye (and stomach), what's it like to ride in one of these things. For the average "Recreation Joe," 40 mph in a boat is something to remember. But 150 mph?

"I'd have to say that it kind of feels like that first big hill on a roller coaster in your stomach . . . but without a bar to hold on to," said Tate. "Then things happen so fast that you don't even have time to relate to them . . . you just have to react."

This one time, Tate can still relate to a particular reaction, when he "stuffed it" (nose dived) at 110 mph. "I went right through the dashboard," he said. "I didn't think I was hurt that bad until I was eating dinner that night and lost control of my esophagus and couldn't swallow the food that was in my throat. That's the worst I've ever been injured. I had to go back to the hospital that night."

The Oh Boy! Oberto hydroplane dangles precariously from a hoist as it's lowered into the water in the pit area.

Less than two weeks later he was back at it.

ONE OF THE many witnesses at most of Tate's high-speed mishaps was his wife Sandy. A power boat driver herself when she met Mark, Sandy has since put the prop into neutral and focused her energy towards their 9-month old son Andrew. Does she still have the desire to get behind the wheel of a racing boat?

"I enjoy going to the races, but I'm dedicated to the baby," she said. "Anyway, Mark does enough racing for all of us."

Graduating in 1978 from Westland John Glenn High School, Tate's driving skills on the water sometimes carried over to the road and his fondness for cars.

"I guess I was just as reckless as any other guy my age," he said. "I definitely had my share of tickets."

Tate did manage to attend a car-racing school to legally quench his thirst for motorized excitement, and he still follows NASCAR and CART racing ("It would be neat to drive an Indy car someday," he admitted). But it's the water and the hydroplanes that keep calling his number.

"I'm quite young for the sport of unlimited racing, so I'll have the ability to do it for the next 10 years," Tate said. "This was a big year for shake-ups with unlimited owners and their drivers. I was fortunate enough to get one of the rides."

Gold Cup race draws a crowd

The Spirit of Detroit Association, the organization that stages the race, expects at least 12 unlimited class "thunderboats" for this year's Gold Cup race. And around two dozen Grand Prix boats are expected for the Silver Cup event.

Originating in 1915, the Gold Cup race exists much in the same way today as it did 75 years ago. Boats still travel clockwise around the course's 2.5-mile loop.

JUST FOR your memory banks, a hydroplane boat rides on three points. Two points are known as the "sponsons," which look like pontoons underneath the boat. The other point is the propeller.

So, "hydroplane" actually means that the boat is riding on a cushion of air above the water . . . really fast.

OPENING THE show for the unlimited hydroplanes will be the Grand Prix hydroplanes.

Powered by 500-cubic inch, supercharged Ford and Chevrolet engines, the Grand Prix hydroplanes will reach speeds in the ballpark of 150 mph on the shorter 1 1/4-mile course.

And in the past two years, the Grand Prix race was decided on the final lap. Race experts this year predict that there won't be a 5-mph difference separating the finalists.

Michigan will be well represented in both the Gold and Silver Cup races. In the Gold Cup, keep an eye on veteran driver Tom D'Eath, Fairhaven, two-time winner of the Gold Cup, piloting the Miss Budweiser unlimited entry. And rookie Tate.

THE GRAND PRIX class will showcase a father/son battle, as Bob and Jimmy King go at it with their boats, Alternative Glass Block. Defending national champion Jimmy will drive against his dad, Bob, in another King boat called Defiance.

West Bloomfield driver Paul Smith also will be right in the middle of the hunt for the Silver Cup title, with his boat, Square Wall Construction.

Tickets for the event range from $5 to $90 and are available at TicketMaster outlets (Hudson's and Harmony House) and most Manufacturer's Bank outlets. For more information, call 331-3672.

The first of a planned 17 condominiums on an Otter Lake peninsula, all designed by architect Irving Tobocman, has been constructed. The sales price of this unit is $545,000.

Contemporary look for detached condos

A subdivision of 17 different detached condominium units custom designed by the same architect? Unheard of, you say?

Raj Bothra, 45, a Bloomfield Hills resident and chief of surgery at Holy Cross Hospital, and Irving Tobocman, 57, a Birmingham architect, intend to do just that in Waterford.

"It started out as a hobby," Bothra said. "I built my own house designed by Tobocman 12-13 years ago. I worked with him on the design and enjoyed it. My office building was done by Tobocman."

A second Tobocman house for Bothra followed on Gilbert Lake.

The doctor, who admires Tobocman's contemporary style, decided to take his hobby one step further and get into the development business, albeit on a small scale.

A Realtor found the site — about six acres on a peninsula at the end of Otter Lake not far from the juncture of Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads. Bothra calls the development Beverly Estates.

The project had to go condo because the road that services the subdivision couldn't meet county specifications due to soil conditions.

"WE'VE DONE thousands of apartments, townhouses, high rises, low rises," Tobocman said. "This is the first time anyone came to us and asked us to design a series of individual houses.

"It was a tremendous opportunity and we grabbed it."

The condos will range from 2,500 to 5,000 square feet. Starting prices will range from $375,000 to $600,000.

"The remarkable element is the mix (of housing) on water," Tobocman said. "That's the reason for large glass areas on the water. Sides of houses are not glassy mostly for privacy and for contrast, also."

All condos will be two stories on the waterfront. Options include 3-4 bedrooms, 2½-3½ baths and exteriors of brick, Dryvit or wood.

The model on the site has glass across all three lower-level rooms overlooking Otter Lake — family room, kitchen/dining room, living room — and the three upstairs bedrooms.

The utility room is the first level, along with a half-bath and a fireplace in the living room.

THE UPSTAIRS also has a den or fourth bedroom, two full baths and lots of closet space.

Contemporary design touches include floor-to-ceiling doors, white oak trim and moldings and silk wall covering in the downstairs bath.

Kapila Contracting of Farmington Hills built the model.

None of the 17 condos, to be built on pilings, will have basements due to nearness to the lake and the low water table.

The subdivision will be directly marketed to doctors and other professionals.

"It's not an easy sell at this point, but it's a good value," said Joseph Nahat, an agent with Re/Max. "These are much better homes than in the area. They will command a higher price so we have to have quality-minded people. To buy this kind of house will take an upper echelon person," Nahat said.

THE TOBOCMAN reputation and the water will draw buyers, Bothra said. Buyers must go with a Tobocman design but are allowed more leeway on a builder.

"It's very challenging," Tobocman said. "Whenever you do a group of anything, you don't want it to get boring.

"The configuration of lots — I don't know if any are rectangular — makes you think and usually leads to solutions you wouldn't normally come up with if you had a cookie-cutter subdivision," he said.

Tobocman said he's prepared about a half dozen designs for the subdivision. "They're subject to modifications. If they (buyers) want changes inside, no problem — room sizes, shapes, additions, deletions.

Bothra's detached condo project was better accepted by neighbors and township officials than previous cluster housing proposals submitted by other developers, said Ed Fisch, Waterford's planning director.
