Armed hold up leaves trail

By Susan Buck
staff writer

Two armed robbers demanded money from a McDonald's restaurant manager and his employee Saturday night and ordered the other four employees to the back of the store, according to Canton police.

The two men, wearing factory-type clothes, entered the McDonald's restaurant at 40241 Michigan Avenue near I-275 about 10:40 p.m. on Oct. 13, shortly before closing. No customers were present and no one was injured, police said.

"The first suspect went behind the counter and ordered the manager to open up the safe," Canton Detective Davey LeBlanc said. "He was armed with a large butcher knife."

The manager placed an undisclosed amount of money from the safe into a canvas bag.

That suspect is described as black, 6-foot to 6-foot 2-inches in height, 175 pounds and in his late 20s to early 30s, LeBlanc said.

"The second suspect wore dark sunglasses, and was armed with a handgun, possibly a blue steel semi-automatic," LeBlanc said. "He stayed in front of the counter and ordered the employee to remove an undisclosed amount of money from the cash register and place it in a McDonald's bag."

That suspect is described as black, 5-foot 7-inches tall, 140 pounds and between 20 to 30 years old.

"We came up with a pretty good composite," LeBlanc said of the suspect.

After the robbery, the suspects fled on foot to their car which was parked in the Super 8 Motel parking lot, across from the restaurant, LeBlanc said.

Police have recovered the cash register money placed in the McDonald's bag which exploded in a dye pack in the parking lot as the suspects fled, LeBlanc said. They have not recovered the money from the safe which was also in a dye pack.

Although police have no vehicle description, the dye pack has probably left its evidence, LeBlanc said.

Also, some coins with dye on them were found on Michigan near Lotz, LeBlanc said.

Duane Bordine takes a break to talk about the farm he predicts will be wiped away in five years.

Get them while you can

Development threatens to squash field of pumpkins

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Plymouth and Canton pumpkin farmers are predicting that their acres of orange squash that each year mark the onset of fall will be devoured by developers within the next five years.

"We're hoping to get it (the land) next year and probably that will be the last year," said Louann Hamblin. Her father, Okie Hamblin, has been growing pumpkins for more than 35 years. The North Territorial and Ridge road property is owned by developers.

"I feel like a dying breed out here, because I know it (the pumpkin field) won't be out here," she said.

Canton farmer Duane Bordine faces the same situation with the land he farms on Ridge and Ford roads.

"In less than five years I'll have to move," he said. "A lot of people don't know that I rent" from a developer.

"It's another era and another field of pumpkins," Bordine said. "The bottom line is that you can't eat cars, buildings and asphalt. How are we going to get it? Get fresh vegetables out of tubes? People have started to wake up to the environment, and now they have to wake up to farm land, too."

Bordine predicts that the farm will be replaced with shopping malls or houses likely.

THIS YEAR, however, Bordine and Hamblin will be selling their Halloween specials as usual.

You've heard about guarantees for washing machines and other appliances? Well, Bordine puts a twist on the idea by guaranteeing his pumpkins.

Each pumpkin he sells comes with a guarantee that says: "If by some prank of Mother Nature I collapse, please scrape me up, put me in a plastic bag, and present me with this piece of paper to my farmer friend, Mr. Bordine at Bordine's Farm Market before Halloween and you will receive at no additional charge one of my brothers or sisters."

Bordine tells a story of a woman who didn't believe the guarantee. She drove up, looked irritated and said: "Is this damn thing any good?"

"I said ma'am go and get another pumpkin and come right back in line and you'll get a guarantee for that one too."

"People just can't believe it," said Bordine, 47, who describes himself as a lifelong farmer.

This year, Bordine planted five pumpkin varieties on 29 acres. Pumpkin sizes range from a handful to 400 pounds with price tags going from 75 cents to $150.

"We've had a couple of hundred out already," said Louann Hamblin before the you-pick season opened.

Rep. race gets heated

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

Until lately, this race was a snoozer.

But now, incumbent Republican 36th state House Rep. Gerald Law and Democratic challenger Dennis F. Shrewsbury are trading charges, over campaign-related literature.

"It's garbage, simple sleazeball stuff," said Law, as he tossed a Shrewsbury newspaper campaign ad on his desk in the state Capitol in Lansing on Thursday.

Meanwhile, Shrewsbury questioned a flier detailing work on legislation sent by Law to district voters "just two or three days before the absentee ballots go out — That seems to be more than just a coincidence," he said.

"Let him contact them like I did and spend $2,000 of his own money like I did. We never seem to hear from him at any other time than just before election time," Shrewsbury said.

The district includes Plymouth, Plymouth Township and northeast Canton.

Law said he was angered by the Shrewsbury newspaper ad. The ad suggested that Law supports a plan whereby the federal and state governments would use tax money to buy Mettetal Airport and turn operation over to an airport authority.

Transplant saved man's life, now he's trying to help others

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Ron Hawkins was on a golf course when his heart stopped beating in 1988. This month he was on a golf course to celebrate techniques that saved his life.

Hawkins was one of 12 Michigan residents involved in the 1990 U.S. Transplant Games Oct. 5-8 in Indianapolis, Ind. The Canton man spent his time golfing and mingling.

"It was a chance to get together with people who are all in the same boat and it was really very friendly," said Hawkins, who was 45 when he received a heart transplant in 1988.

AS A volunteer with the Organ Procurement Agency of Michigan, Hawkins has devoted two years promoting the need for organ donations.

"The bottom line is that we can't bury organs," Hawkins said. "We have to recycle them for people who need them for life. We can't just throw them away."

The transplant games came on the heels of the announcement of two Americans winning the 1990 Nobel Prize in medicine and physiology.

Joseph E. Murray, 71, discovered how to solve the problem of tissue rejection when organs are transplanted and E. Donald Thomas, 70, diminished the severe reaction that grafts cause in recipients.

Hawkins' medical worries weren't over when doctors gave him a heart from an 18-year-old Grand Rapids accident victim. He planned to go to the hospital last week for what he referred to as his "10,000 mile checkup," he said.

Although he jokes about his condition, Hawkins counts himself lucky to have received an organ that saved his life. And he wants others to have the same chance.

THAT'S WHERE the procurement agency comes in. Workers go to hospitals and provide medical personnel with information on how to identify organ and tissue donors. They review medical charts, evaluate donors, explain the procedure to families and stay until the organs are taken.

Finding donors "really remains quite a problem," said Gerda Lipcman, Organ Procurement Agency of Michigan executive director.

"Forty percent of the families that are asked don't donate and we feel

White state Rep. Gerald Law charges that Democrat challenger Dennis Shrewsbury is lying about Law's position on Mettetal Airport, Shrewsbury says Law should pay for literature he's mailing to constituents — even though the state pays for such mailings for legislators up to a pre-election deadline.

Rep. race heats up

The newspaper ad reads, "Gerald Law says, 'Yes, let's do it.' Let's pay $4 million of your money to his friends who bought it for $2 million."
Law responded, "He says, 'His friends.' I don't even know the people who run the airport, and I haven't taken a position on it."
Law said he's not been involved in the airport issue, because supervisors of the respective townships included in his district — Plymouth Township and Canton Township — are at odds over the issue.
Law suggested that he's leaning toward the Canton position — that no authority be created to save the airport — because Canton should have the main say on what happens regarding the airport in its borders.

Bill Bresler/staff photographer
Gerald Law: "It's garbage."

Dennis Shrewsbury: "More than... coincidence."

Suicide suspected in death at motel

A 30-year-old Ypsilanti man was found dead Oct. 11 in a Barbu Motel room on Michigan Avenue.
The manager went to the man's room to say it was check-out time, she knocked on the door and when she didn't get a response got help from another man who kicked in the door.
They found the Ypsilanti man dead. He had a gunshot wound in his chest. Police say it was an apparent suicide.
And when Canton police arrived they learned that there was a Livonia police department warrant out for the arrest of the man who kicked in the door. Canton police, who reported that the man appeared to be drunk, arrested him.

CLOSE TO HOME: A 34-year-old Manton Road resident told police that when she returned to her home at 5:30 p.m. Oct. 11 she saw a figure behind the front door.
She went to her neighbor to call police. However, later that night she received a call from the neighbor, who said that her son had admitted to taking a key that she hidden outside the house in case she was ever locked out.
The boy told his mother that when he saw the woman return he left the house from another exit. He reportedly took a $5 pair of underwear, a $5 pajama bottom and a $5 pair of pantyhose.

HOME BREAK-IN: A Village Squire apartment unit was reportedly broken into Oct. 11.

crime watch

The apartment dweller reported three rings, that she valued together at $1,100, had been stolen.

AUTO BREAK-INS: A 1985 Pontiac was broken into sometime late Oct. 10 or Oct. 11 on Woodmont Court. An $800 radio was reported stolen. Damage to the dashboard was valued at $400.

In another case, a 1987 Bronco was reported broken into sometime Oct. 9 or Oct. 10. More than $800 worth of audio equipment was reported stolen. Damage to the window was valued at $165.

The owner of a 1990 Jeep told police the vehicle was broken into sometime Oct. 9 or Oct. 10.

Stolen goods included $40 of cassette tapes and a radio valued at $50. Damage to the door was estimated at $50.

The helicopter leaves for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Worker loses leg in accident at job

A man working for a steel fabricating firm in Plymouth lost a leg in an industrial accident Friday, the Plymouth Fire Department reported.

Police and firefighters were called at 9:19 a.m. to BMC Manufacturing Inc., 100 S. Mill, after eighth-inch sheets of metal 2 feet wide and 8 feet long pinned the man's leg against a press, just above his right ankle.

Besides the injured man, "There were no eyewitnesses, it's still under investigation," said plant manager Bob Butler, of the incident.

Plymouth Fire Chief Al Matthews said another worker was able to attach a chain to the fallen sheets of metal, and lift them by using a crane.

Police officials called in a helicopter to transport the man to St. Joseph's hospital. Officials selected an open portion of parking lot about 200 yards away from the scene of the accident, and lit it with flares to await the helicopter's arrival.

Meanwhile, police radioed Mettetal Airport, asking that flights be held for a time as the helicopter would travel in the flight path used by the nearby airport.

The victim, 32, of Westland, is transported from the factory to the parking lot where the chopper landed.

The man injured in the industrial accident is loaded aboard a chopper.

Police and firefighters scout a location for the helicopter to land.

Education at 'top of my list,' Engler tells Close Up class

By M.B. Dillon, staff writer
Republican gubernatorial hopeful John Engler addressed several hundred students in the country's largest Close Up class at Plymouth-Salem High School Friday.
Close Up government classes emphasize hands-on learning and feature an annual trip to Washington, D.C.

Benefit to aid Close Up students

By Diane Gale, staff writer
A government program that includes a costly trip to Washington, D.C., is too expensive for some Plymouth-Canton students.
So a cocktail party is being thrown to defray costs.
Bill Joyner and Cindy Burgess, of the Canton Community Foundation, said the idea was born out of empathy for young people who wouldn't otherwise have enough money to take part in the $852 one-week Close Up seminar in Washington, D.C., during March.

DURING THE year, high school students in Close Up study politics and government at the state, local and federal levels, with the Washington trip as the highlight.
In the nation's capital, students have a chance to meet their U.S. representatives, senators, Pentagon officials and other notable figures. Last year they met Barbara Bush, Oliver North and Sen. Paul Simon.

It is hoped more students will have the same chance this year, said Bill Gretzinger, a Close Up coordinator.
A $20,000 GOAL has been set for the $100 a person fund-raiser.
"What we would like to see is the average-income student take the trip," said Mike McCauley, a Close Up coordinator.

Students are also encouraged to raise money from a car wash, selling candy and soliciting corporate donations.
"We rely a lot upon donations from local business people," Gretzinger said.

THE COCKTAIL party is a new fund-raiser idea and the first Canton Community Foundation event that will benefit people outside Canton limits.
"But it promotes citizen involvement and that's what the foundation is all about," Burgess said.

Firm gets tax break despite relocation

By Joe Bauman, staff writer
Thanks to a change of heart by a Livonia City Council member, Ventura Industries will receive a tax abatement when it relocates to Five Mile and M-14 in Plymouth Township.

Councilman Gerald Taylor cast the key vote Wednesday when the council gave its blessing to the company's plans to shut down its Globe Road operations and head west to Plymouth with the benefit of a tax break for its new headquarters.

Under state law, a company must get permission from the community it's leaving to seek an abatement from another in-state municipality. Without the approval, an abatement can't be granted.

TAYLOR SPOKE against the request at a recent study session on the issue, saying he believed the Act 198 abatement law was not intended to pit one community against another in seeking tax breaks.
On Thursday, Taylor said he changed his position — and joined council members Robert Bishop, Fernon Feenstra and Dale Jurcin in approving the request — because the aerospace supplier did not plan to abandon its Livonia site.

Ventura has been a good corporate citizen in Livonia for 15 years, and plans to continue that commitment. The company plans to maintain ownership of the building and find a new tenant, which will keep jobs in the community.
Taylor said he also was swayed by a report compiled by Feenstra that showed the city historically has approved such requests.
"Of the 17 requests we've had, only three were not OK'd and in those cases the company was leasing property in Livonia. I think this move will be good for the company, this city and Plymouth."
COUNCIL MEMBERS Joan McCotter, Laura Toy and Ron Ochsala continued their opposition to the request by casting dissenting votes. Livonia Mayor Robert Bennett also opposed allowing an abatement because he said he did not believe the company made a full-fledged effort to find a suitable Livonia site to relocate its operations.
Appearing at a Oct. 1 study session, Ventura controller Steven Murray said the move to Plymouth was necessary because the company had no room to expand at its current site, and that an "exhaustive search" found no suitable sites in Livonia.
He said the company plans to build a 25,000-square-foot building, doubling the size of its current operation, and had found a piece of property that would allow it to further expand in the future.
Ochsala at the study session called the so-called exhaustive search a "smoke screen," noting that the real estate agent hired to conduct the search is the same person who has exclusive rights to market the technological park in Plymouth Township where Ventura is moving into.
Murray did not indicate when the company would close the Livonia plant, which employs about 50 people.

Engler: Education is a priority was piqued when he was attending high school in rural Isabella County, he said.

"We didn't have Close Up, but we had a program that gave us intensive experience with a mock legislature. We were able to see how government worked," Engler said.

A paper he wrote in school on how to unseat an incumbent became his political blueprint, he said.

Engler, a graduate of Michigan State University and Cooley Law School, was elected to the state House in 1970 and Senate in 1978.

THE SENATE majority leader said he wants to be governor because he sees the job as an opportunity with tremendous challenges.

"We've lost ground economically. We have a comeback story we can tell, but there's room for substantial improvement. In the 1980s, we only came back to last place. We lead all states in unemployment, and we've lost population."

"In the area of income, we've also lost ground. Michigan, historically, was considered a wealthy state. We no longer have the income to support that contention. If we shift the economy in Michigan, we must be sensitive to where jobs will be."

EDUCATION IS "at the top of my list," Engler said.

"The burden of funding has been pushed onto taxpayers. We've become reliant on property taxes, and because of that we get tremendous variations in per-pupil funding."

Engler supports a 20-percent across-the-board tax cut and the replacement of that financing on a "dollar for dollar basis."

Senior citizens deserve tax relief, he said.

"We should draw the line at age 65 and say to every senior, 'You're done funding schools.'"

Engler would earmark a fixed percentage of financing for schools, he said.

The state also must examine "What we are doing in a quality sense. What impact do dollars have in terms of education?"

Problems that need solving include the high dropout rate and the fact that "up to 40 percent of teachers in the Detroit school system need to be retrained."

ROADS IN this area deserve attention, Engler said.

"I happened to drive down Beck Road. We do need some road work."

In response to students' questions, Engler said he opposes abortion on demand, but favors exceptions for difficult cases, including rape and incest.

The candidate favors granting prosecutors the same writtap authority federal officials have, he said.

"I'd appoint judges who would not become criminal defendants themselves; a problem we've seen with the present administration."

Crack babies, whose care is costing up to half a million dollars apiece, is a problem that should be tackled by dealing first with women on welfare, Engler said.

"Why spend half a million when $30,000 might have done the job for the mother?"

BY STATE law, the DDA can only contribute DDA money by amending its budget, City Manager Gordon Jaeger said. And if the city commission must also approve amending the DBA budget.

Jaeger suggested another way to raise the money.

"I have discussed this with the mayor," he said. "You could ask the city commission to provide $5,000 from the publicity budget."

That amount is available, he said.

"We could have the entire proposal on the agenda of the commission next week (tonight)," he said.

"It seems to be the cleanest route is to look into the city publicity fund," DDA chairman Greg Goodman said.

DDA MEMBER Fred Hill, another downtown business owner who is helping organize the event, told DDA members.

"It would be a nice time for everybody and a very family-oriented event."

Rex Tubbs, another downtown business owner and member of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce board of directors, agreed.

"I really feel that the DDA needs to look at more than just bricks and mortar downtown," he said.

Those promoting the first-time event plan to run 30 advertisements for it on WJR Radio, he said.

City's help sought for holiday event

By Kevin Brown staff writer

To help pay for the Plymouth Thanksgiving celebration, backers plan to ask Plymouth's city commission for $5,000 tonight.

Thursday, backers of the event planned for Nov. 23-24 turned out before the Downtown Development Authority to ask for money to help promote the event and buy supplies.

One purpose of the celebration is "to contrast our style with competing shopping malls," Sharon Fugh, a downtown business owner who is helping organize the event, told DDA members.

"It would be a nice time for everybody and a very family-oriented event."

Rex Tubbs, another downtown business owner and member of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce board of directors, agreed.

"I really feel that the DDA needs to look at more than just bricks and mortar downtown," he said.

Those promoting the first-time event plan to run 30 advertisements for it on WJR Radio, he said.

Boo! Haunted houses offer thrills, chills

Jaycee Haunted Houses will be springing up throughout the western Wayne and southern Oakland counties this fall, with Livonia, Farmington, Plymouth/Canton, Redford and Westland sites among those planned.

The Livonia haunted house opened Friday at the Sheldon Shopping Center, near the Farmington Road/Plymouth Road intersection. It runs through Tuesday, Oct. 30. Hours are 7-11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, 7 p.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday. The haunted house won't be open Tuesday, Oct. 16. Call Jim Gerhardt, 525-3657 for information.

Other area haunted houses include:

• Farmington — At the northwest corner of Freedom and Orchard Lake roads. The house will be open from Oct. 18-31, though won't be open Oct. 22-24. Hours are 7-10:30 p.m. Kids' day will be 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20. Admission is $4, though $1 discounts are available by listening to WRIF-FM. Call 441-5669 for additional information.

• Plymouth/Canton — On the north side of the Ford Motor Co. Sheldon Road plant, across from the Sheldon Road exit on M-14, the house will be open Oct. 19-30. Tours will be given every 20 minutes, beginning 8:30 p.m. Admission is $4; $3 in advance. Children under 5 are admitted free. Reservations can be made by calling Plymouth Parks and Recreation, 455-6620 weekdays 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The house includes an outdoor wood chip trail, sturdy walking shoes are recommended.

• Redford — At Claude Allison Park, Beech Daly, between Six and Seven Mile roads. The house will be open Oct. 19-31. Hours are 8-11 p.m.

National charities supported by the Jaycees include the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital and Muscular Dystrophy Association. Jaycee Haunted Houses operate nationally.

Jaycees is a leadership training program for young people, 21-39. Information on any Jaycee Haunted House is available by calling 517-487-6077.

Monsters like these await youngsters at Jaycees Haunted Houses throughout the metro area. Most houses will remain open through Oct. 30. Several have special days set aside for young children. Haunted houses support Jaycees charities, both locally and nationally.

Class seeks to help female cocaine abusers

By Janice Brunson
 staff writer

What makes women who abuse cocaine different from men? The question is of paramount importance to a handful of suburban women participating in a state-funded pilot program and who hope to gain a better understanding of dependence upon cocaine, the illicit drug ruining their lives.

"Identifying women's issues which are barriers to treatment," is the question at hand according to Rosalie Schwartz of Eastwood Clinic. Schwartz conceived the clinic's new program - Choosing Healthy Options: Investing in Cocaine Elimination, dubbed CHOICE.

Gathering in a small, inviting office on Woodward Avenue near Birmingham, a dozen women from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties ponder their additions in the arduous task of recovery. Child care and transportation are provided.

Joan, a 35-year-old mother of two who lost custody of her children, has also damaged her health by wandering the streets for extended periods during harsh winter months while in a drug stupor.

Patty, a 42-year-old grandmother, and her husband of 25 years have lost everything they own and now live in a motel where they pay for a room by the week.

Kathy, 28, fears a similar fate. A mother of three, she has been married nine years to the man who first sold her drugs in high school 13 years ago.

Paula, an attractive 28-year-old insurance sales agent, recently lost a good job earning $34,000 a year. She has been in two major auto accidents and is currently recovering from injuries received in a hit and run accident.

Shelly, 24, now attending Oakland County Community College, has used drugs half her life.

"MEN ARE OFFENTIMES forced into treatment. Just the opposite is true of women," Schwartz said, because society tends to "sweep the issue of female addiction under the carpet."

In addition, Schwartz added, women are primary care-givers and the remainder of their lives are spent in treatment. Sixteen never returned after initial acceptance. Half of the women who remain in treatment are in treatment because of continued drug abuse. Urine samples are taken during the session.

Twenty women have been referred to the program by court order, 10 for criminal charges and another 10 by child protective services.

Pam, a young mother of two, is under house arrest for writing bad checks and wears an ankle tether. She is released for CHOICE participation, including counseling, aerobic exercise and evening meetings of alcoholics and narcotics anonymous or church. Three evening meetings are required weekly. When gone from home, her children attend nursery school paid for by CHOICE.

In spite of such supportive services, dropout from the program is high because women too often feel powerless over addiction, according to CHOICE counselor Linda Stadler of Birmingham. Their feelings often reflect actual roles in society and drugs compound the feeling, she said.

Sherry, who the others describe as most likely to remain drug free, said "using drugs makes me powerless. I have no manageability over my life or my mind. I pray I get through this program." She has had no relapses in 35 days.

BY OUTWARD APPEARANCES, Iris, 36, is independent and capable. Recently divorced, she has a good job as a cashier for a major grocery chain. But all is not well.

"I need drugs so I can go to work, so I can get paid, so I can get drugs," she said. Cross is addicted to alcohol and cocaine, she spent $3,000 on a binge five days ago.

Patty, a catering assistant who became a grandmother two months ago, is also familiar with the high cost of drugs. After nearly two decades of drinking with her alcoholic husband of 25 years, the couple started using cocaine.

"I was the mother of the universe (two adult children). I had to take care of everyone. I had to take something to be able to do it," she said in explanation of the drug use. She dislikes alcohol and is not cross addicted.

The couple has since lost their home and most other material possessions. Patty is on probation for drug-related criminal charges. Her son is showing signs of substance abuse.

For full recovery, Patty will have to examine her 25-year marriage and the relationship with her husband, a frightening prospect for any woman and especially so for Patty, who married at age 17.

Eastwood, a Detroit-based mental health and substance abuse facility affiliated with Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills, has centers in Livonia, Redford and Troy. For more information on CHOICE, call 773-2300.

Keep in touch with yourself

Your health is important to you. It can be especially important to the people close to you. That's why it's so vital to keep in touch with yourself with a breast self-examination every month. And, if you are over 40, your health can depend on a mammogram. A mammogram is a simple x-ray examination that detects breast lumps long before you or your doctor will notice them.

St. Mary Hospital offers two opportunities this fall to help you keep in touch with yourself:

BREAST AND SKIN CLINIC - WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 3-5 P.M.
 October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Join the fight against breast cancer with a complete breast exam by a physician and instruction on self-examination. The cost is $10.*

FALL WOMEN'S MONTH - During the month of NOVEMBER, St. Mary Health Care Center-Northville will offer a complete gynecological exam and cancer screening. The cost is $45.*

*If necessary, a mammogram will be done, usually covered by insurance.
 Appointments are necessary. Please call 591-2913 for more information or to make an appointment. Your health may depend on it.

Train police to be better with pistols

To the editor: This letter is submitted in response to a recent article in the Canton Observer titled "Police Opt For More Firepower..."

Whereas the armed criminal on the street can fire at will with no personal concern, the law enforcement officer is both responsible and his department liable for each and every round fired in defense of his life or the life of another.

Rather than more firepower, law enforcement should train to obtain expert marksmanship, in stressful and adrenaline-filled situations on the range as often as practical.

In summary, improved and realistic training not subsonic rounds should be considered.

Psychology better than taking aim

In reply to headline article, "Police opt for more firepower" - a humanistic response and approach. It is truly a sad reality when I read about the local "Peace Officers" opting to increase their arsenal of deadly force.

involved a psychiatrically disturbed individual. Psychology 101 denotes that a psychologically disturbed or threatening individual will interpret advances made toward him/her while in a state of psychosis as a threat, thus explaining the lunging behavior toward the authority figures in Blue.

The psychotic patient was shot three times. A psychotic individual can be so separated from any feeling state, that nothing short of a cannon could have disarmed or disoriented the untrained psychotic individual.

Post examination of the Vachser shooting indicates three of 14 shots fired struck the target. My suggestion is rather than upgrade the police department's ammunition the agency should examine and upgrade its firearms training program for all personnel.

my various occupational placements, I would be standing in defense against at least one hundred counts of murder in self-defense.

A practical solution is not to be found in the degree of firepower in this case, but perceptibility along psychological grounds to effect the most humane intervention applicable towards the given situation.

Animal traps can be used inhumanely

To the editor: Are small animal traps in residential subdivisions really necessary? It has come to my attention that anybody can go to the local police department and get issued a small animal trap to use on their property simply by stating that there is a nuisance or pest in or about their property.

At least the police will come out and release the trapped animal (pet) when the people doing the trapping aren't monitoring their trap - but what a waste of police time and manpower because of misuse of a trap.

If traps are going to be set in subdivisions, shouldn't the residents be informed that they are setting the trap? Who do these people think they are when by setting the trap they are indirectly stating, "We can have our pets, but you can't have yours?"

Maybe the police should require signatures from neighbors living around the trap settlers stating that they are aware of a trap being used before that trap is issued.

Live animal traps have their own set of problems. They are not humane uses and are not meant to harm animals (unless, of course, they are not checked regularly).

When they are used in a devious and cunning way, they become not only harmful to the wild animals, but also to people's pets and to people.

Thank God for peer pressure - those that don't, won't, but those that do, will. The missing words are: "care" and "get involved."

Nina Wiswell, Canton

Context of animal rights the issue

To the editor: I read with great interest the recent banter regarding animal rights. As a hunter and an environmentalist (they are not mutually exclusive), I have recognized animal rights for a long time.

There are religions of the east that sweep the ground as they walk so as to prevent stepping on insects. Obviously for them, insects have rights.

As to the use of animals and animal products, it would seem to be one of attitude. For example, leather is a much better choice than a synthetic fiber; it is degradable in the environment.

The root of the issue is in the fact that the use of animals necessarily involves the death of many of them. Those who are the most distant from nature and her use of resources tend to find the process repugnant.

We are part of nature, we do not sit in the stands watching "wild kingdom" unfold before you.

protests or vegetarianism. Enough for now, my venison is almost done.

Ed Catenacci, Canton

'Animal nut' is proud of it

To the editor: I would like to respond to the Jeff Counts article, "Focus on real animal rights," that appeared in the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, Oct. 1.

He states we "animal nuts" want to change laws and he is right! The few laws they have that protect our domestic animals are not enforced.

My next point to this matter is that President Bush cannot operate at all with the degree of competence necessary for this matter when he's got a war going on in his own country.

Jeffrey Hayes, Canton to send U.S. military troops has received attacks by many people.

Other comments have been that the U.S. has no business being in Saudi Arabia, we are being the aggressors here. When I hear these opinions I have to stop myself from blowing up. First off, I'd like to say that the U.S. is definitely not the aggressor here, it's Saddam Hussein who's the aggressor.

The president had one idea in mind when he sent military troops, to protect the interests of the United States and to protect the interests of Democracy.

Column sad display of ignorance

To the editor: We are shocked. Your editorial on animals rights was a sad display of the type of ignorance that has historically kept humans from progressing to a state of higher conscience.

We will not leave Plymouth, but we will take our exit as customers of your newspaper. We do not wish to learn about our community from a source who stereotypes groups of people so easily.

Instead, we will find another information source, and we will continue to form our opinions about rights on writings of humans like Nobel Peace Prize recipient Dr. Albert Schweitzer, who wrote, "Until he extends the circle of his compassion to all living things, man will not himself find peace."

Friends remember ex-SC veep McNally

It was dedication to students that distinguished former Schoolcraft College vice president Edward McNally.

McNally, 72, died Oct. 7 in Livonia.

Serving in various administrative offices - including interim college president - the former Livonia resident is credited with many Schoolcraft firsts.

McNally's achievements include securing Schoolcraft's initial accreditation, opening the college's renowned culinary arts program and even selecting the school colors, blue and gold.

He served as assistant dean, dean and, ultimately, vice president of student affairs at the Livonia-based community college.

McNally was a graduate of Seton Hall University, South Orange, N.J. He was an academic adviser at Delta Community College, near Saginaw, before coming to Schoolcraft.

The family requests memorial contributions be made to the Schoolcraft College Foundation.

Clinic seeking foster parents for impaired children, adults

A Garden City guidance clinic is seeking foster parents to participate in a program with a unique aim - caring for severely disabled children 17 or younger who live at home and whose families need temporary relief from the continuing responsibility.

The program, called respite care, is sponsored by the Northwestern Guidance Clinic. It provides families in need with temporary foster parents who, in their own homes, care for youths who are mentally retarded, autistic or suffer from cerebral palsy, epilepsy or other neurological and muscular impairments.

Though visits may be as long as two weeks each, most spell overnight or weekend relief for family members in need of a rest from daily duties.

These are people with a special place in their heart for developmentally disabled kids," said Mary Rievart of the foster parents. Rievart is program director for Northwestern Guidance Clinic.

"This is their way of reaching out to the community, offering their love and support," Rievart said.

Foster parents are accepted into the program upon completion of home study and Michigan Department of Social Services licensing. They are paid $30 daily and may request training in caring for the disabled.

PETROLA CARTER is a 72-year-old Wayne County great-grandmother who occasionally cares for a severely retarded 12-year-old whose parents do not live together. The child's mother is required to travel on her job. She relies on Carter for the special child care that is needed.

Carter, Rievart said, possesses a great capacity for sharing love with others. In addition to serving as a temporary foster parent for the disabled, she also volunteers as a foster grandparent.

Sheila Wolfane, a young Westland mother who was a temporary foster parent to the disabled for two years, entered the program after giving birth to her own son. He was born mentally retarded, is blind and has epilepsy and cerebral palsy.

Betty Kline, a downriver mother of two adopted daughters, both mentally impaired, is considering entering the program. Many volunteers, according to Rievart, are interested because of personal experience. They have family members who are physically or mentally handicapped.

"They are particularly sensitive to the stress caused by day after day after day of care. Parents just need a break once in a while," Rievart said. Temporary foster parents are also used if parents want to take a vacation, are ill or otherwise need time away.

ONCE A VOLUNTEER is accepted into the program, Northwestern staff carefully matches children and foster parents who have already met the family's family. The final decision rests with foster parents and the family.

Other services provided by the clinic's Respite Care program are sitter service and summer-camp experience. The program also coordinates skilled nursing care and overnight stays at four regional respite centers, including the Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy Respite Center in Westland.

DRY MOUTH & ARTHRITIS If you have rheumatoid arthritis, you may recall your physician breaking off inquiries concerning your joint pain to ask if you noted a dry mouth or gritty eyes. If you said no, he likely went back to asking you about joint pain or difficulty walking.

However, dryness of the mouth and eyes is part of arthritis, and cannot be blamed on your medicine or explained as the result of your not taking enough fluids. Rheumatoid arthritis is considered a condition of disordered antibody production. In some cases, the antibodies that attack the joints also infiltrate the glands that make saliva and tears. The inflammation that ensues causes these glands to lose their capability to supply the fluid constituents that make up normal saliva and tears.

You notice these changes as a loss of taste, food seems dull and dry. Or, your eyes feel like sand in them every morning and appear red, as if you have pink eye. Treatment for dry mouth consists of sucking on hard candy to stimulate the saliva glands to work. You can counter the dry eyes with daily installation of artificial tears. If the eye dryness is profound, you may need a sophisticated delivery system that permits automatic delivery of a liquid film.

A honey of a gift from bees

"My son, eat thou honey because it is good; and the honeycomb, which is sweet to thy taste."

— Proverbs 24:13

Ever since man discovered honey, this delectable product made by bees from flower nectar has been the standard for judging one of the most pleasant human sensations — the taste of sweetness.

Since ancient times, the words "honey" and "honey-sweet" have been used as terms of endearment.

In cooking, honey can replace white or brown sugar in most circumstances. Because honey contains 80 percent sugar and 20 percent water, some adjustments must be made.

For baking, use about 25 percent more honey than sugar by weight and reduce the amount of other liquids accordingly.

When a recipe calls for sugar, start by replacing honey for half the amount of sugar, and experiment from there.

AS A seasoning, honey helps bring out hidden flavors.

Root vegetables like carrots and rutabagas will always profit from a touch of honey.

In rural parts of America, home-grown tomatoes still are eaten with a sprinkle of sugar or sparingly spread with honey — the sweetening bringing out the flavor better than salt.

Most of us are used to the multitude of plastic and glass jars of honey available locally in our grocery stores.

But honey comes in an infinite variety of flavors, each taking credit from the assortment of nectar gathered by the bees.

SINGLE-SOURCE HONEY is produced in regions where a crop that is a good honey plant — apple trees, alfalfa and clover, for instance — is grown over a large area. Hives of bees are brought into the area for the flowering period of the crop, usually several weeks.

(By the way, bees are seldom left permanently as they would have no food for the rest of the year.)

Bees tend to gather nectar from one kind of blossom, if possible, and they fill their combs in orderly fashion.

Smaller-scale beekeepers, by keeping track of blooming times of the flowers in their vicinities, are quite accurate in naming the dominant flower sources and tastes of their honey.

BALDUCCI'S IN New York City, one of the largest food shops in the country, offers 34 kinds of honey, including Tasmanian leatherwood, and Italian chestnut honey that is so thick it must be gouged from the jar with a spoon.

More locally, Zingerman's Deli in Ann Arbor's Kerrytown has just as impressive a list of honeys from which to choose.

Janet Mason, in retail sales at Zingerman's, said their biggest sellers are the Petosky-based American Spoon Foods assortment of Blueberry Blossom and Northern Wild Flower honeys.

Both sell for $4.49 for 11 ounces and have equally impressive flavors to match the prices.

They also feature an unheated, creamed honey with pollen and an Oregon Apiaries line of apricot, strawberry, blueberry and raspberry-flavored honey, which she said is outstanding on waffles and French toast and while cooking wild game.

Their prices are comparatively a little higher than the $4.50 I paid recently at the Eastern Market for a 4-pound jar of pure Michigan honey from the T.M. Klein and Sons farm, but if you have a discerning palate for intriguing flavors, the extra cost might just be worth it.

What it takes to make school lunches for four Boedigheimer youngsters.

Brown baggers off to school

'Mr. Mom' helps to pack nutritious lunches for kids

By Larry Janes
special writer

THIRTY-ONE YEARS AGO today, I was walking to what used to be St. Joe's School in Wyandotte, one hand grasping a blue-corduroy school bag while the other held firmly to my Larry, Moe and Curly (the Three Stooges) lunch pail.

The old thermos, which according to Momma must have been designed by one of the Stooges, had long since been replaced by ones with Felix the Cat, Dick Tracy or the omnipotent Shadow.

The contents of the lunch pail consisted of a baloney sandwich — plain, of course; a double bonus pack of Twinkies (see, I'm not that old) and a rust-spotted apple. The sandwich was wrapped in waxed paper (plastic wrap and Baggies hadn't been invented yet).

Whenever the thermos broke or the lid couldn't be found in time, a nickle was securely taped to the lid of the lunch pail with Scotch tape for a one-pint glass bottle of Wilson milk. There was always a paper napkin, folded into a triangle, that was used only rarely and then only to wipe the blood from a scraped knee or elbow.

Times have changed and now lunch boxes are adorned with New Kids on the Block, the same old Twinkies, but this time single-wrapped, not doubled; apples that could make any art teacher sigh with envy, and, in most instances, a disposable juice box with flexible straw.

THE NAPKIN MIGHT possibly be a single sheet of paper towel, made of recycled fibers, or maybe even a Handi-Wipe individually secured in its own wrapper. Milk is 35 cents.

But things are just a little different at the Boedigheimer house in Livonia. Momma Boedigheimer (Charlotte) owns Around the World Travel in Farmington Hills, and when she goes off to work in the morning, Papa Boedigheimer (Jim), a self-proclaimed "Mr. Mom," has everything sitting out on the kitchen counters, waiting for all the Boedigheimer children to pack their own brown bags.

With Sheri, 13, an eighth grader at Holmes Middle School; Marti, 15, a 10th grader at Stevenson High School; Ben, 16, an 11th grader at Stevenson, and Nathan, 18, an Oakland Community College student, Bart Simpson lunch pails are out and paper bags filled with baloney (some things never change), chicken sandwiches, plenty of fresh fruits and an occasional granola bar is what's "in."

This writer made a few random calls to other parents of school-age children and was somewhat surprised to find:

• Healthy-for-you breads like wheat and rye don't get eaten, so more than 80 percent of the households polled still use plain old Wonder (60 percent say they still remove crusts, however).

• Fruits of some sort are always packed in more than 95 percent of the lunches, with most relying on apples, pears and an occasional banana. Fruit roll-up and fruit leathers are gaining in popularity but less than 10 percent will pack cut-up fruits.

• Vegetables are still used for squirrel food. The broccoli and carrot sticks just aren't eaten unless accompanied with a ranch-type dip.

Eye-appealing Food is as good as the view

At R.I.K.'s, diners are greeted by a view into the restaurant's kitchen where the staff industriously stirs up the regional Italian specialties. It's a silent scene, since the vista is through a homey, arched frame of windows decorated with utensils and sprigs of herbs.

Bistro under glass, we call it. And R.I.K.'s is an intriguing blend of styles in a clearly superior restaurant.

The restaurant's two long, rectangular dining rooms are separated by a beautiful wall of arches and the lace blinds on the front windows let natural light stream in.

A bar area is more stark, with more contemporary black-and-white flooring and subdued lighting. Live jazz is performed Wednesday-Saturday nights.

R.I.K.'s new fall menu allows for plenty of innovation from the kitchen. Most weekends, guests will be given the standard, extensive menu; a list of evening specials, and an oral presentation of items added as recently as that day.

Many of the specials are fish entrees, such as the superb scallop dinner we enjoyed, with its rosemary-tarragon sauce with shiitake mushrooms. Quail also was special that evening, two birds tenderly prepared and jazzed up with spices.

The health-conscious diner will find lots of appropriate entrees designated on the menu by hearts — and can order the fresh fish entrees cooked as desired.

There's even a low-fat beef entree, beef tenderloin grilled and served with mushrooms, shallots, garlic and potatoes.

BUT LET'S NOT forget this is an Italian restaurant, and authentic Italian dishes here have a flair.

Like the gemelli, a pasta tossed with wild mushrooms, herbs and walnut pesto, or the farfalle — bowtie pasta with shrimp or grilled chicken, peppers and broccoli in a mustard sauce.

Risotto, a delicious Italian treatment of rice, offers endless possibilities. R.I.K.'s apparently intends to try them all. A new risotto dish is prepared daily.

We tried a version with diced vegetables and were thoroughly pleased. Good risotto is cooked slowly, resulting in a creamy consistency. This was good risotto, though pricey at $9 for an appetizer.

Another nice Italian appetizer is the focaccia — Italian bread with red onion and sage served with a roasted garlic. It looks, smells and tastes wonderful.

FOR SOUP, a tomato-based "zuppe" with mussels, calamari and clams is an excellent chowder-type selection. Those who can't tolerate squid have another good alternative in the traditional vegetable soup.

Dinner salads can get pretty routine; a little lettuce, a couple of wedges of tomatoes, maybe a cucumber or croutons, all tossed with a vinaigrette of sorts.

Not so at R.I.K.'s, where the house salad is superb. It features bibb lettuce and spinach tossed with the restaurant's delicious tomato Caesar Italian dressing.

THOUGH NOT enough can be said about the food; all is not perfect.

We found eating at R.I.K.'s is like being in a rugby scrimmage. Maybe it's bistro out of control. Tables are jammed dangerously close to each other, and those unfortunate enough to be seated in an aisle are apt to be bumped constantly by the steady stream of attendants. One in our party counted six such bumps.

Details: R.I.K.'s, the Restaurant, 6303 Orchard Lake Road north of Maple Road in Orchard Mall, West Bloomfield. 855-9889.

Hours: Lunch Monday-Friday 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., dinner Monday-Thursday 5-10 p.m., Friday-Saturday 5-11 p.m., Sunday 5-9 p.m.

Reservations accepted for lunch, parties of five or more, and dinner.

Prices: Lunch $3.50-$9.50, dinner $6.95-$19.95. All credit cards.

Value: Good for the food and price range, but the seating needs to be aired out.

 • Lunches are still the most popular, with peanut butter running a close third right behind bologna and bologna.
 • Juice boxes are as popular as Reeboks. Sorry, Ellie, milk just isn't as "cool" as it once was. Lower elementary students drink more milk, probably because Mom and Dad say so.
 • School lunch programs are the pits. Surprising? Not really, especially when you talk with the Boedigheimers about their home-packed lunches.

Looking for something just a little different to pack in the kids' lunch boxes and bags? Try these fifty ideas.

CRUNCHY APPLE DIPS
 1 medium apple
 3 tablespoons peanut butter
 3 tablespoons crisp cereal

Core the apple and cut into 8 slices. Spread peanut butter onto each slice. Roll in cereal. Wrap.

GRAPE MEATBALLS IN A PITA
 1 pound hamburger or ground turkey

Invite family, friends for ghostly fun

Plan to turn Oct. 31 into an evening filled with thrills, chills, tasty treats and harmless fun. Organize a family fun fest or neighborhood masquerade party. Invite family and friends to arrive in costume and ready to have a ghostly good time.

Decorating can become festive with carved pumpkins, candies, Indian corn and squash from the fall harvest. Keep your efforts for the evening simple by following a few favorite Halloween rituals. Bob for pumpkins. Play spooky music or dance to the "Monster Mash." You might also want to consider storytelling or creating a "haunted house."

With all the activities you will need to provide healthy refreshments for your guests. Offer handmade treats that are frightfully good, such as Party Popcorn Snacks. For the younger gobins, Gelatin Critters are a finger food they are sure to enjoy. To satisfy a sweet tooth, enchant your guests with Pumpkin Cheesecakes or Pumpkin Chiffon Pie.

These recipes, along with your own creative thinking, can provide a Halloween full of traditional, healthy, old-fashioned fun.

PARTY POPCORN SNACK
 4 cups plain prepared popcorn
 8 dried apricot halves, diced
 2 tablespoons each dark and golden raisins

1 tablespoon sunflower seed
 1/4 cup light corn syrup
 3 tablespoons firmly packed light brown sugar
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

In large mixing bowl combine

GELATIN CRITTERS
 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
 1 package (four 1/4-cup servings) sugar-free strawberry-banana flavor gelatin
 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1 1/2 cups boiling water

In a medium bowl, stir gelatin together with a fork. Stir cinnamon into boiling water until dissolved. Add water to gelatin and stir until completely dissolved. Pour into an 8-9-inch square pan. Chill about 2 hours, until firm. Using 2-3-inch animal cookie cutters (such as cat, owl, bat), cut out shapes. (These little critters do not melt at room temperature.) Makes 8 servings.

Each serving provides: 10 calories. Exchange, 1/2 Vegetable Exchange, 60 Optional Calories Exchange.

Note: To make pumpkin shapes, substitute sugar-free orange gelatin in recipe above.

WE FEATURE USDA CHOICE MEATS

Spice up meals with tasty dishes

By Marty Figley
 special writer

Here are some recipes using popular spices

POACHED FISH
 These may be served hot with a sauce or cold with a salad dressing.

POACHED FISH
 3-5 peppercorns
 1 or 2 cloves
 1 bay leaf
 1 small sliced onion
 1 chopped carrot
 1/4 rib chopped celery
 1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar
 1 to 1 1/2 pound fish steaks or fillets

Wrap securely.

PECAN CHICKEN BALLS AND CRACKERS
 What a great way to use up leftover chicken
 1 cup pecans, finely chopped
 1 cup cooked chicken, finely chopped
 8 ounces cream cheese
 Salt and pepper to taste
 Crackers

Combine all ingredients except pecans and crackers in a food processor and process until well mixed, about 10 seconds. Chill. Form mix-

HERB WINE SAUCE
 This yummy sauce with capers will go well with the poached fish... or those cooked any other way.

1 tablespoon capers
 1 cup mayonnaise
 10 stuffed olives, chopped
 1/4 cup olive wine
 1 tablespoon minced parsley
 1 tablespoon grated onion, or dried onion flakes
 1/4 teaspoon white pepper

Blend all ingredients into a microwave-safe dish. Cover. Heat for 2 minutes on 1/2 power, stir and repeat until heated through. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

MULLING MIX
 Good for cider or red wine. One-eighth cup of the mixture bundled in a pretty bag and tied to a bottle of red wine or apple cider, with the instructions included, would make a unique gift... and the aroma will be a reminder of your thoughtfulness.

CASSIA BUD PICKLES
 A friend gave me this delicious recipe many years ago... makes 14 pints.

75 cucumbers, each measuring 2-3 inches
 4 quarts water
 2 cups kosher salt
 1 teaspoon powdered alum
 5 cups cider vinegar
 6 cups white sugar
 1 ounce celery seed (4 tablespoons)
 1 ounce Cassia buds (4 tablespoons)

HERB BASTE AND MARINADE
 1 pint red wine vinegar
 1 teaspoon cloves, crushed

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. To prepare crust, in food processor fitted with steel blade, finely grind graham crackers. Add sugar and cocoa; process briefly to combine. Add margarine; pulse to combine. Press mixture into a 9-inch pie plate; bake 5 minutes, until firm; let cool on rack. Set aside.

To prepare filling, in medium saucepan, combine sugar substitute, gelatin, spices, and salt; add 1/4 cup boiling water, stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in pumpkin and vanilla extract; cook over medium heat until boiling and thickened, about 15 minutes, stirring frequently.

She hates to cook but comes up with winner

Admittedly, there are people who love to cook. Whole industries have been developed around cooking supplies and gadgets, books, magazines and fancy gourmet foods which all enhance and promote cooking. And yet, there are also people who learned everything they know about cooking from Peg Bracken's "I Hate to Cook" cookbook.

This week's Winner Dinner Winner, Sue Scerbo, makes no bones about cooking being one of her least favorite things to do. With five children, though, cooking is a daily necessity and she jokingly admits that if she could go to the grocery store and buy food pills, she would.

family-tested winner dinner
Betsy Brethen

With four children playing soccer and two playing hockey this fall, Scerbo and her husband spend a lot of time shuttling from one sporting event to another. A very supportive and involved mom, she helps out in her children's schools by being a room mother and participating in the various fund-raising events that take place throughout the year.

FOR SIX YEARS, she has volunteered her time teaching students at Quanton School how to make and decorate panoramic eggs at a series of classes called Fabulous Fridays. The eggs are made out of molded sugar and decorated on the inside as well as on the outside with frosting. The students learned, in the space of three different Fridays, how to write with frosting as well as how to make flowers, bunnies and little chicks for their individual eggs.

Presently, Scerbo is eagerly anticipating a trip to Spain, to visit her daughter who is studying in Madrid, as well as the prospect of not having to cook for the two weeks she will be gone - a fact that would, give any woman cause to celebrate, Spain or no Spain.

Thank you, Sue Scerbo, for supporting this column and congratulations on being this week's Winner Dinner Winner. Wishing you a safe and happy trip, and until next week, hasta la vista!

One last note, please don't forget to take a minute of your time and send in your family's favorite stew or soup recipe.

SWEET AND SOUR HAM OVER RICE
SALAD GREENS WITH MACHUS DRESSING
CARAMEL SAUCE WITH APPLES
Recipes

SWEET AND SOUR HAM OVER RICE
 The subtle sweet and sour flavors of this dish offer a nice change of pace for your taste buds. Colorful and easy to make, this recipe makes enough to feed six. It can be made in advance and reheated just before serving.

2 1/2 cups precooked rice
 1 can apricot halves, 16-ounce size
 1 1/2 pounds cooked ham, cut into strips (3 cups). Turkey ham works well and is lower in salt and calories.
 2 green peppers, cut into 1-inch pieces
 1 cup chicken broth
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/4 cup vinegar
 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
 3 tablespoons soy sauce
 4 tablespoons cornstarch

CARAMEL SAUCE WITH APPLES
 Good for dessert as well as for a snack, this recipe for caramel sauce is quick and easy to make. Once made, place in a bowl with sliced apples surrounding it. Let everyone dip his or her own apple slice in the yummy sauce. This sauce is also wonderful served over vanilla ice cream or yogurt.

1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
 1/4 cup butter
 1/4 cup whipping cream

SALAD GREENS WITH MACHUS DRESSING
 Mix together your choice of salad greens and add 1 can of mandarin oranges and some sliced beets. Dress with Machus Salad Dressing, available in all Machus restaurants and bakeries, and toss well.

Combine sugar, butter and cream in a heavy-bottomed pan over low heat. Cook, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat and whisk for 1 minute. Store in a jar. Serve warm in a bowl surrounded by crisp apples.

Notes

1 small piece of cooked ham, weighing approximately 1 1/2 pounds, or use leftover ham (turkey ham works well, too)

Barolos distinguished by 2 methods of aging focus on wine

Eleanor and Ray Heald

Producers of Italian barolos may be divided into two classes: traditionalists and modernists. Simply put, traditionalists use time-tested methods and age the wine in large, upright wooden casks that are frequently 50 years old and older. Those who employ more modern production methods with shortened aging time in wood, and employ small French oak "barriques," are called modernists. Pio Boffa, the young, energetic administrator of the century-old winery, Pio Cesare, gave us his views of the classification, traditional vs. modern. Although this is one producer's viewpoint, it is one that is either shared or being grappled with today in making barolo, one of Italy's renowned wines. "When we purchased stainless steel tanks for fermentation and small French barrels for aging some of our wines, people began to label as new wave," Boffa claims. "But we have not broken with our traditional taste and quality. Our vinification methods have been altered in order to maintain our identified style." Boffa believes that through the 100 years of Pio Cesare's existence, spring and fall seasons in the Barolo and Barbaresco regions have become shorter. Summers are longer and hotter and clones of the nebbiolo grape have been altered by changes in the microclimate. "IT HAS BEEN necessary for our vinification of barolo to change with the times in order to maintain the style identified as Pio Cesare," Boffa contends. Boffa has an advantage only granted to well-established producers. He has the opportunity to taste very old barolos from the family

WINE SELECTION OF THE WEEK
 1985 Pio Cesare Barolo Riserva DOGG ($31) is the crown jewel of this producer, deriving its structure from grapes originating in the Pio family vineyards. Grapes harvested from other small, well-positioned parcels in the Barolo zone, lend nuances and finesse to the wine. It exhibits vivid color, elegance, fruit, body, finesse and balance. With extraordinary aging potential, it will reward one's patience with an even more depthful bottle bouquet beginning in the mid 1990s.
WINE BULLETIN BOARD
 You can meet Pio Boffa and sample the wines of Pio Cesare at dinner at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 30, at the London Chop House in Detroit. Highlight of the evening will be matching Boffa's highly regarded barolos with rare Northern Italian white truffles, the mushroom-like "white diamond." All-inclusive cost is $95 per person. For reservations phone Jim Laffy at Cloverleaf Market, 357-0400, or the "Chop" at 962-0277.
 proprietary wines, we can prove that, with the same grapes that we are growing in the Piedmont, we can make totally different wines, in new styles, using innovative methods with absolutely no confusion or competition with the original, traditional wines."

APPLESAUCE HONEY MUFFINS
 —A good friend, Trisha Albers of Northville, recently presented me with a batch of these great muffins made with whole wheat flour. Instead of being heavy, the muffins are almost cupcake-like.
 1/4 cup light olive oil
 1/4 cup brown sugar
 1/4 cup honey
 1 cup applesauce
 2 eggs
 1 1/2 cups whole wheat flour
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 Cream together the oil with the brown sugar and honey. Mix in applesauce and eggs. Sift together the dry ingredients and fold in liquid mixture with the vanilla. Pour into lightly greased and floured muffin pans and bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes.
HONEY DIJON-MUSTARD CHICKEN

Great on all poultry
 4 chicken breasts, skinned
 1/4 cup honey
 2 tablespoons Dijon-style mustard
 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 Wash chicken and pat dry. Combine honey with mustard and lemon juice. Mix well. Brush over chicken and baste while baking, broiling or barbecuing.
HONEY CREAM DRESSING
 Outstanding over fresh fruit
 2 eggs
 1/2 cup honey
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 1/4 cup orange juice
 1/2 cup whipped topping
 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
 Beat eggs in a small saucepan and stir in the honey, lemon juice and orange juice. Cook, stirring over low heat until the mixture coats the back of a spoon, about 4 minutes. Cool thoroughly. Fold in the whipped topping and orange rind.

Wash chicken and pat dry. Combine honey with mustard and lemon juice. Mix well.

Salem star says 'yes' to C. Michigan

Jake Baker commits to CMU

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

The first time Central Michigan assistant basketball coach Bob Sippell talked to Jake Baker, he said something that intrigued the Plymouth Salem star.

"He told me I reminded him of (former CMU great) Dan Majerle," Baker said. "Dan was a hard worker. They like people who work hard. Hopefully, if I work hard enough I can come close to being as good as him."

That first conversation must have meant a lot to Baker, who last Monday verbally committed to attend CMU.

Baker, who last year averaged 18 points and 12 rebounds a game in earning All-Observer first-team honors, said he will sign a letter of intent next month with the Chippewas. Majerle, a 6-foot-8, 220-pound guard/forward, led CMU to one Mid-

American Conference championship and played on the 1988 bronze-medal winning U.S. Olympic team. He is in his third year with the Phoenix Suns of the National Basketball Association.

WHEN SIPPPELL called Baker again at home Monday, the 6-5, 205-pound swingman told him of his intentions to attend CMU. Baker said Friday that he's relieved the recruiting process is over, so he can get back to his normal routine in the fall of going to school and playing full-back on the Salem soccer team.

"I was planning on calling them after our soccer game (against Walled Lake Western), but he called five minutes before I was leaving," Baker said. "Instead of telling people I'm leaning toward Central, I wanted to tell them I'm going there. I told him then and they said I was making the right decision. They were excited I was going there."

basketball

"Getting recruited is kind of fun, but it's hard to tell schools I'm not interested. It's hard to get your school work done when they're calling you."

CMU finished with a below .500 record a year ago but lost in the MAC tournament championship game to Ball State University, a "Sweet 16" team in the NCAA tournament.

Baker made college scouts take notice late last winter when he averaged 26 points per game during the Class A playoffs and led the Rocks to the quarterfinals.

He scored a career-high 32 points and made three shots from three-point range in a Class A regional win over Ann Arbor Huron. For the season, Baker made 53 percent (146-278) of his shots from the field and 71 percent (115-161) from the free throw line.

"I'M HAPPY he's going to CMU and I think he can play at that level," said Salem coach Bob Brodie, who graduated from Central. "He's nice he's going into his senior year by getting (the decision) off his shoulders early so he can concentrate on academics and get on with high school ball."

Baker made an official visit last month to the Mount Pleasant campus, where he stayed with Dennis Kann and Sander Scott, a pair of sophomores. Baker has much in common with Scott, a guard who also was an all-state soccer player at Northport High School.

Baker, a sound student who plans to major in biology, was impressed with the campus and CMU's academic standing.

"I didn't know much before my visit, but I hear of all the Division I schools in Michigan it graduates the highest number of players," Baker said. "They suggest that their players go to school in the summer to lessen the load. And coach (Charlie) Coles, he's a little different than other coaches in that he likes to be around the players more."

Baker, who played last summer with the Super Friends, the top 17-Under AAU team in the state, said he needs to show improvement in three areas before making the transition to college.

"Defense is my No. 1 priority, then my jump shot and dribbling; they're the top three things I need to work on," he said. "I'd like to improve enough so that when I go to CMU I can get playing time as a freshman and we can go as far as we can."

Late field goal lifts Chiefs past N'ville

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Plymouth Canton pulled out all the stops Friday night to provide an exciting finish to a wild football game.

The desperate measure — a variation of the run-and-shoot offense — led to Jeff Nafe's field goal with 11 seconds remaining, lifting the Chiefs to a 24-21 victory over visiting Northville.

Canton clinched second place in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association but more importantly kept alive its post-season aspirations.

The Chiefs, who finish 4-1 in the division and stand 6-1 overall, will play North Farmington in a WLAA crossover game Friday night before meeting Plymouth Salem in the season finale Oct. 26.

Northville, which saw its playoff hopes fade with the defeat, is 3-2 and 5-2.

"WE PLAYED the 10th-ranked (Class A) team in the state and knocked them off," Canton tri-captain Wayne Robinson said. "This will bring our confidence up and get us ready for the playoff and Salem."

"A lot of people had been talking about us having a cakewalk and we couldn't pull it out in the end," the 6-foot-1, 230-pound center added. "Pulling it out with 2:20 left shows

we can do it against any team we play."

With that much time on the fourth-quarter clock and having been stung by a quick Northville touchdown, the Chiefs resorted to their radical offensive formation at their own 30-yard line.

Canton put five receivers on the left side and two on the right with quarterback Karl Wukie, protected only by a center and two guards, taking the snap in shotgun formation.

"We had it last year and only used it once, but we scored a touchdown against Monroe," Wukie said. "We used it once this year, and I threw an interception. I guess (Canton coach Bob Khoenle) thought it was the right time for it."

"The key was to be calm and relaxed. I knew I wouldn't get much pressure, and somebody would get open. As it turned out, it was C.J."

FOLLOWING A pass interference call against the Mustangs, Wukie passed 19 yards to Jason Riggs and ran 6 yards for another first down at the Northville 26 with 29 seconds to play.

Then came the big play. Wukie passed over the middle to Chris James, who turned up field to the 1, setting up Nafe's game-winning field goal.

"I missed a lot of catches this year, and I just concentrated real hard," James said. "I was in the end zone, but they called me down because my knee hit."

Khoenle didn't hesitate to opt for the field goal on first down instead of the touchdown.

"We didn't have any timeouts left, the ball was on the 1," Khoenle said. "What if we don't make it? If we had a timeout left, we would have gone for it."

The game-winning drive was a quick response to Northville's game-tying TD with 2:20 remaining.

CANTON HAD forced the Mustangs to punt, but the receiver bobbled the ball. Northville's Bob Holloway scooped up the live ball and rambled 36 yards for the score.

Following a long discussion between game officials and Canton coaches, Brandon Hayes booted the extra point that made it 21-21.

"What we were questioning was one of the officials threw his marker," Khoenle said. "One said (the Canton player) didn't touch it, but the one in the back said he did and that was the call that prevailed."

"In view of the fact he threw his marker, we thought that meant the ball was dead."

Salem topples Raiders, captures 2nd in Lakes

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

For a football team that was beat up, Plymouth Salem delivered a few blows and withstood some hard knocks Saturday afternoon.

The Rocks capitalized on prime opportunities offensively and bent but didn't break defensively to spoil favored North Farmington's homecoming 20-14.

Salem finishes second in the Lakes Division with a 4-1 record and stays in the playoff picture at 5-2 overall. The Raiders slip to 3-2 and 4-3.

Since the Rocks play Plymouth Canton, the Western Division runner-up, in the ninth week, Salem will visit Northville in the WLAA crossover Friday and North will travel to Canton.

With many of its skilled players injured, Salem began the game Saturday with quarterback Chris Tebben as the only regular player in its offensive backfield.

BUT THE Rocks got big plays from backup tight end Kevin Craggs, who replaced starter Al Hysko, and tailback Leon Hister, who was held out until the second quarter because of an injury.

Craggs caught touchdown passes covering 13 and 50 yards, and Hister, who carried only twice the previous week against Walled Lake Central, dashed 59 yards for the middle score, finishing with 103 yards on nine carries.

"We were going to go without (Hister) until we absolutely had to," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "He played hurt and he showed what a great back he is. Craggs made two beautiful catches — and he's an outside linebacker. He's not a part of our regular offense."

For the Raiders, it was a matter of bad field position, bad luck and untimely errors.

North began its first three possessions inside its 10-yard line, twice because the deep receiver slipped. Then a high punt snap set up Salem's first touchdown, and a tipped pass landed in the arms of Craggs, leading to his second score.

"WE SHOT ourselves in the foot too many times," North coach Jim O'Leary said. "The kids played hard. I just thought we made too many critical mistakes."

Still, the Raiders had a chance to win the game at the end, but Salem's defense came up with a big play on two of North's last three possessions.

"We had the whole fourth quarter to do it," O'Leary said. "It's not like they drove the ball on us. We destroyed ourselves with field position and the things we gave them."

With six minutes left and the Rocks leading 20-7, the Raiders drove to the Salem 3, but a fourth-down pass was deflected by a lineman's raised hand.

North got the ball again with 4:10 remaining and needed two plays to score. Brian Temple passed twice to Dave Rankin (six catches for 90 yards), the second covering 20 yards to make it 20-14 with Mike Ober's extra-point kick.

The Raiders forced another Salem punt and took over at their 34 with 1:43 on the clock. A pass interference penalty, Matt Mummert's 21-yard run and Temple's 19-yard pass to Rankin gave North a first down at the Salem 15 with :55 remaining. But the suspense ended with Ed Gundry's end-zone interception.

"We stretched and stretched but held when we had to," Moshimer said. "(Gundry) laid off (the receiver) earlier and we got on him about playing too loose. But when it came time to make the play he was there."

O'LEARY BLAMED himself for the call at the goal line. He wanted receiver Chris White to go in motion, but there was a breakdown in communication between the bench and Temple, who hit 11 of 26 passes for 154 yards.

Miller plays major role as Rocks rout Spartans

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Darcie Miller, wearing only her basketball shorts and a sweat shirt, stepped off the Plymouth Salem bus to talk to a reporter Thursday night.

"Don't stand out here too long, you'll catch a cold," assistant coach Ray Franzen told her.

Franzen was concerned about Salem's junior center, and well he should be, considering she had just pumped in a team-high 15 points in Salem's 62-42 girls' basketball win over host Livonia Stevenson.

Miller has become a contributing factor for Salem, but she's not the only reason the Rocks are 11-2 overall and in first place in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association at 3-0. Overall, the Rocks are 6-0 in the WLAA.

Nine players saw action and seven scored for the Rocks, including senior guard Sarah Ruete, who contributed 10 points. Cyndi Platter added nine points and Yolanda Jackson and Martha Bol scored eight apiece in the Rocks attack.

COME TO THINK of it, with all that depth, maybe Miller could afford to get sick and miss a game.

"We want everyone to contribute and be the best they can every chance they get," Salem coach Fred Thomann said. "I'm very pleased with our teamwork tonight. We did a nice job of sharing the ball and really work hard on giving the ball up if girls basketball

the next player is in a better position to score. We're getting better at it.

"For all intents and purposes this game guarantees at least a share of the division title for us (with only Farmington and North Farmington left on the Lakes schedule)."

Stevenson, playing its fifth straight game without injured junior center Teresa Sarno, fell to 9-3 overall and 2-1 in the Lakes Division. The Spartans are 5-1 in the WLAA overall.

Sarno's absence was evident as Salem was able to control the boards and get several second and third shot opportunities. Miller made her most important contribution in the second quarter, scoring five of her team's last seven points as the Rocks opened up a 29-19 halftime lead.

The Rocks took a 42-29 lead after three quarters and put the game away by scoring the first 12 points of the fourth quarter to lead, 54-29. Miller scored six straight points during the fourth-quarter run and left the game along with Ruete and senior co-captain Betsy McAllister with 3:13 left and the game all but tucked away in the win column.

MILLER SAID SHE doesn't feel any pressure in the paint, despite being the Rocks tallest player at 6-foot.

"We have Yolanda, who can jump real high and Emily (Giuliani) who boxes out real well and that takes the pressure off me," she said. "Coach just tells me to do my best. We're communicating better."

Sarno, who has missed the last five Stevenson games with an ankle injury, might return Tuesday at home against Livonia Franklin, coach Chuck Hebestreit said. Hebestreit can't wait.

"One of the secrets tonight was rebounding," Hebestreit said. "They're second and third shots and size really paid off. We didn't box them out and were sluggish in working the ball around the perimeter. Our guards, except for Jenny Audet, were content to stay out there and didn't make things happen offensively."

Sophomore forward Karen Groulx led Stevenson with 18 points, but she was the only Spartan in double figures. Laura Zatorski added seven, while Audet and Lori Shingledecker scored six apiece. This was the sixth game Groulx has scored in double figures.

"I thought we would get more out of her defensively, because she's a soccer player and can intercept passes," Hebestreit said. "But she's been a pleasant surprise on offense. She's a nice, coachable girl."

Marian denies coach 300th win

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

"Time isn't a major concern for Farmington Hills Mercy basketball coach Larry Baker at this point.

Birmingham Marian prevented Baker from getting his 300th victory Thursday night, but Baker knows the Marlins still have at least five games to play this season.

"I don't think I'm in Cecil Fielder's position," said Baker, making reference to the Detroit Tigers first baseman who didn't hit his 50th home run until the last game. "I hope it happens this season."

But this night the Mustangs were at center stage, improving to 6-0 in the Central Division of the Catholic League and 13-0 overall. Mercy is 3-3 and 9-4.

Senior forward Trina Govan scored a game-high 19 points to lead the Mustangs and combined with fellow senior Carmie Garofalo for a two-point play that turned the game in Marian's favor in the last quarter.

GOVAN'S FAST-break basket gave the Mustangs a 46-43 lead, and she made the first of two free throws with 3:54 remaining. Garofalo grabbed the miss, scored the layup and converted the three-point play that extended Marian's lead to 50-43.

"We started pulling together and we had a stretch where we looked like we knew what we were doing," Marian coach Mary Lillie-Clerone said.

"We were so concerned about reversing the ball and didn't see that if we attacked (the defense) we could get a 3-on-2. We were able to work on second and third shots, because we got them so spread out they were not able to rebound it."

Garofalo was instrumental in the Mustangs pulling away from a 30-30 halftime stalemate, scoring 10 of her 13 points in the second half, which included another three-point early in the fourth period.

"In the first half, I wasn't playing too well," Garofalo said. "Coach got me at halftime, and I guess it fired me up."

Stephanie Storen chipped in 10 points and senior Jamie Racine nine, but Marian had to play much of the last quarter without Racine, its point guard, after she was hit in the eye with an elbow.

MAUREEN PAULIN scored 13 points, including nine in the first half, to lead the Marlins, who shot 28 percent from the floor, hitting 14 of 33 shots. Marian was 20-of-36 from the field for 36 percent.

Carrie Walton added 10 points for Mercy and Laure DeMatia, who fouled out while sending Garofalo to the line for her second three-point play, finished with seven.

While everyone agreed the sequence of events that put Marian on top 50-43 was critical to the outcome, Mercy still had a chance to win the game at the end.

Walton made a basket and three free throws to keep the Marlins within 52-48 with under a minute to play. The Mustangs missed three straight 1-and-1 free throw chances, but Mercy players also failed to convert any of three wide-open layups.

Govan, who was not the player fouled either of the three previous times, finally made two free throws with 15 seconds left to give Marian a 6-0 overall. The Chiefs are 3-1 and 4-1 running at Walled Lake. We only see (the course) once every two years.

Bill Crosby and Jeff Grosso paced the Warriors with sub-17 minute times of 16:18 and 16:49, respectively.

Mike Ream was the only Canton runner to crack the top eight, finishing third in 17:13.

Western's Chris Crosby was fourth (17:26) followed by teammates Jim Sweetman (17:32), Brandon Keeney (17:36), Matt Wright (17:47) and Art Schuetzler (18:09).

Dave Yack was the only Canton runner in the top 10, taking ninth place at 18:21.

"We had some things we wanted to do, but they ran a good race," Canton coach Jim Hayes said. "It's tough running at Walled Lake. We only see (the course) once every two years.

Central's Jack Calcutt interrupted Salem's string of runners, taking sixth place in 18:48. The Vikings had only one other in the top 10 — Kirk Black, who was eighth at 18:59.

For the Rocks, Matt Erickson took seventh place (18:49), Jamie Miller ninth (19:27) and John Mickiewicz 10th (19:31).

Also scoring for Central were Joe Styra (20:16), Jamie Kinchular (21:06) and Chris Kurmanak (21:14).

PLYMOUTH CANTON lost its showdown with Walled Lake Western in first place in the Western Division boys cross country standings.

The Warriors captured seven of the top eight places to dominate the meet 18-45 at Gilbert Willis Park.

Western is 4-0 in the division and

Chiefs blast Hawks

The Plymouth Canton girls basketball team, thanks to 19 points from sophomore Stephanie Gray, coasted to a 74-25 win Thursday over visiting Farmington Hills Harrison.

The Chiefs improve their record to 7-5 overall and 5-3 in the Western Lakes Activities Association. Harrison is 3-11 and 1-4.

Britta Anderson contributed 14 points for the Canton, Mary Barna chipped in 10.

"Heather Hopkins carried the bulk of the offensive load for Harrison, shooting 11-of-13," said Gray. "This is the best Harrison team I've seen since about 1979-80," Canton coach Bob Blohm said. "Heather Hopkins is really a fine player."

NORTH FARMINGTON cruised to a 26-15 halftime lead Thursday en route to a 50-32 victory over host Farmington.

North, 5-6 overall and 2-4 in the Western Lakes Activities Association, was sparked offensively by senior guard Eve Claar's 22 points. Dana Botwick added 10.

Kerri Owczarzak scored 12 points in a losing cause for the Falcons, 2-11 and 1-5.

"We fell apart in the third quarter (when Farmington was outscored 13-2)," Farmington coach Diana Fair said. "We couldn't put the ball in the basket. Eve Claar created things and we couldn't stop her."

PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN 47, MACOMB CHRISTIAN 24: Tamara Tilly scored 15 points and Kristin Thomson added 13 Thursday as both Plymouth Christian rolled to the easy Michigan Independent Athletic Conference win.

The Plymouth team is 8-2 overall and 2-1 in the MIAC. Pam Wilson had eight points to lead Macomb.

MAUREEN PAULIN scored 13 points, including nine in the first half, to lead the Marlins, who shot 28 percent from the floor, hitting 14 of 33 shots. Marian was 20-of-36 from the field for 36 percent.

Western is 4-0 in the division and

Salem swimmers defeat Stevenson

Plymouth Salem made a statement with its latest victory in girls swimming Thursday.

The Rocks passed a major test by defeating Livonia Stevenson 100-88, supplying further proof that coach Chuck Olson has molded Salem into a first-rate outfit.

Salem is 9-0 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association and 6-1 overall. The Spartans are 1-1 in the division.

Stevenson won seven events, including two apiece by Jamie Anderson and Jennifer Knapp, but the host Rocks had better depth, which included seven seconds.

Salem's Kristin Stackpole swam part of the winning 300-yard medley relay and won the backstroke in 1:05.59. Stackpole, Candl Bosse, Amy Austin and Mandi Ras won the relay with a 1:59.3 time.

The Rocks got first place in the 100 freestyle with Nicole Bosse swimming 54.18 and diving in which Alysa Sofos accumulated 182.1 points.

Ras had a pair of second-place swims, finishing the 50 freestyle in 28.08 and the 100 freestyle in 59.11. Kim McCormick was runner-up in diving with 175.4 points.

Other individual seconds for Salem came from Julie Hickey in the 500 freestyle (5:47.58) and Carrie Vanderweele in the backstroke.

Salem's 200 freestyle relay team of Ras, Stephanie Long, Hayley Meik and Nicole Bosse was second in 1:48.97, and the 400 freestyle unit of Candl and Nicole Bosse, Hickey and Stackpole swam second in 3:57.81.

On the Stevenson side, Anderson had winning times of 2:02.8 in the 200 freestyle and 5:24.78 in the 500 freestyle. Knapp swam 2:21.37 in the individual medley and 1:11.04 in the breast stroke.

The Spartans won the 200 freestyle relay (Jill Knapp, Holly Palmeri, Heather White and Anderson) in 1:47.43 and the 400 freestyle relay (Nancy Warner, Anderson, Palmeri and Knapp) in 3:55.86. Warner also won the 500 freestyle in 26.96.

IN THE WESTERN Division of the WLA, Livonia Churchill won a showdown Thursday with visiting Plymouth Canton.

The Chargers are 2-0 in the division and 5-2 overall. The Chiefs are 1-1. Canton had three first places, beginning with Amy Kodrik's 207.4 points in diving. Janet Roberts won the backstroke in 1:06.0 and joined Chris Lang, Jeni Cooper and Pam Pritchard to win the 400 freestyle relay in 3:57.94.

Churchill had three double winners: Tara Ditchoff, 200 freestyle (2:00.71) and 500 freestyle (5:14.05); Liz Sorokak, individual medley (2:19.76) and breast stroke (1:15.4); and Ellen Lessig, 50 freestyle (24.0) and 100 freestyle (54.9).

Sorokak's time in the IM was a state-qualifying time. Churchill's Katie Hamann won the butterfly with a 1:05.41 swim.

In the relays, Amy Kalinowski, Sorokak, Hamann and Lessig captured the medley relay in 2:00.7, and Hamann, Sorokak, Lessig and Ditchoff prevailed in the 200 freestyle relay with a 1:45.4 time.

Canton poised for repeat

Plymouth Canton virtually locked up its fifth consecutive Western Division championship in girls cross country Thursday.

The Chiefs had to overcome a fast start by a pair of Walled Lake Western runners to defeat the Warriors 27-30 at Gilbert Willis Park.

Jennifer Hay and Wendy Froot took first and second places for the host team, running 19:51 and 21:33, respectively.

But Canton, 4-0 in the division and 5-0 overall, captured the next three positions and five of the next six to win the meet.

Amy Smith led the Chiefs with a third-place finish at 21:52. Heather Meyer was fourth (21:59) and Lana Boroditsch fifth (22:44).

After Colleen Ortwine took sixth place (22:23) for the Warriors, Canton's Kim Gudeth and Anne Dibble placed seventh and eighth to complete the scoring for the Chiefs. Gudeth ran 22:56 and Dibble 22:59.

Rounding out the top 10 were Western's Stacey Duff (23:10) and Canton's Liza Antczak (23:37).

"We knew Western had two outstanding runners, and it's hard to come back when they're giving up first and second places," Canton coach George Przygodski said.

"It was a really hard course, one of the toughest we've had to run on," he added. "We're trying to taper down for the conference and state meets. I've got to start giving the girls a rest."

"When we came in the locker room, we were 14 up," Khoelne said. "But it's human nature, you could sense that for the conference and state meets. I've got to start giving the girls a rest."

"THE NEXT thing you know they're in the end zone. But the kids hung in there and came back, and that's a good sign."

Wukie also led Canton with 66 yards rushing. James added 48 in 12 carries. Howell's two receptions covered 74 yards. Huzjak was 9-of-17 passing for 118 yards.

Canton faces tough opponents in its last two games, but the significance of Friday's win is that it keeps the Chiefs on track for a Class AA playoff berth.

The short-term objective was second place in the division, the long-range goal to stay in the playoff picture.

"You can't divorce one from the other," Khoelne said, "but looking at it realistically (the playoff perspective) was more important."

The Livonia Blue Racer swim team extends an invitation to anyone who wants to swim competitively. The team practices at the Livonia Y on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday 5:45-7:30 p.m. The team is offering a free night of practice to any interested party. For information call the Y at 261-2161.

WOMEN'S HOOP The City of Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department will offer a women's basketball league this year. The entry fee is $300 for a 12-game schedule, plus $5 per non-resident. Each team is allowed up to 10 non-residents on its roster.

Big dollars await top amateur bowlers

THEY ARE ALWAYS coming up with bigger and better ways for bowlers to win money. Three promotions are currently taking place in which somebody somewhere is going to win a lot of cash. All of the promotions are for amateurs only — professionals are not eligible to enter.

The second annual Super Bowl High Roller Tournament in Las Vegas features an abundance of cashing big in this rich megalopolis event. Top prizes are $150,000, $75,000, $40,000 and $20,000. A field of approximately 856 bowlers start out in quest of the money.

A $1,000 entry fee assures that anyone who wins two matches will receive a prize of $1,000 or more in this scratch, single-game elimination tournament. For details, call 1-800-237-4178.

In the Cambridge Pro-Am, $250,000 in prizes will be awarded. Competition is open to all amateur bowlers who are at least 21 years old and bowl in an established league at a BPAA Bowling Center. Bowlers can qualify during regular league play at participating centers.

The MEMBER of each league with the highest score automatically advances to the next round of competition — in-house championship. From there, the winners advance to the state/regional finals, Nov. 10-11, before moving on to the Cambridge Pro-Am, Dec. 4-7, in Reno, Nev. The local participating centers are West Bloomfield Lanes, Bel Aire Lanes, Mayflower Lanes and Woodland Lanes.

Dunkin' Donuts sponsors the National Bowling Challenge where the object is to bowl your average — EXACTLY. A $5 entry fee is stipulated when you bowl in regular league competition or open bowling play. It is possible to win a trip to Reno to compete in the national finals. First place prize is $50,000, second place receives $25,000, and from there, the prize decreases. If you win by howling your average at the nationally televised finals, you take home a cool $1 million.

Lionita's Wonderlan Lanes is one of the participating bowling centers for this event. Her 748 series last season placed her fourth nationally.

'Teddy Bear' no softie on gridiron

By Ray Setlock
staff writer

You don't have to talk to University of Toledo football standout Nick Varajon long to know that he's a little offbeat.

In the Toledo media guide there's a section which asks players what their goals are after football. Most said they wanted to pursue careers in medicine or business. Not Varajon, the former Redford Catholic Central player says he aspires to be an actor in the movies.

"I changed my major from drama to criminal justice, but that doesn't mean I don't want to act," Varajon said. "I would love to be an actor."

Ken Wandzel, who also prepped at CC and went on to play at Michigan State, says Varajon would be a good actor.

"That kid can act," said the former high school teammate. "He's good at that kind of stuff. He was a singer in the CC choir. Let me tell you that he is one of the toughest guys on the football field, but when the final whistle blows, Nick is soft. We used to call him the 'Big Teddy Bear' at CC."

WHILE AT CC, Varajon earned extra money selling Avon. He would often be seen in the hall carrying his books in one hand and a sack full of cologne and body lotion in the other.

Varajon's off-the-field personality didn't take away from his performance on the field.

Varajon was a two-time all-stater in football and standout wrestler for the Shamrocks. He was also a member of the lacrosse team.

CC wrestling coach Mike Rodriguez says Varajon was one of the most powerful guys he's ever coached.

Rodriguez recalls a time when Varajon, a heavyweight did a carry move (flipping another wrestler over your shoulder).

"I STOOD there in amazement," Rodriguez said. "I've had some good heavyweight wrestlers, but none of them could do a carry. Nick was just so powerful."

"I play hard. I work hard. And I expect the same kind of effort from my health plan."

"I want a health plan that's on the job when I'm sick or when I'm well. Everyone expects to be covered when they're sick, right? And it only makes sense to be covered when you're well, for things like checkups, lab tests, x-rays. That's why I signed up for Care Choices HMO."

"Care Choices is everything I bargained for. I'm covered for preventive care for only a small co-pay. I can go to some of the best doctors and hospitals around for my care. And I even get discounts on certain programs that promote a healthy lifestyle. Naturally, I'm covered for hospitalization and emergency care worldwide."

"Another thing is, with Care Choices, I save money over my old plan. And I save aggravation."

There's not much paperwork. And if I have questions, I can call my local representative and get the answers.

"So, if you were to ask me why I have Care Choices Health Plans, I'd say 'Because it's health coverage that works.'"

Talk to your benefits representative to make sure Care Choices is offered where you work. Or call Member Services at (313) 489-8200 or 800-852-9780 for more information.

WE'RE CONCERNED ABOUT YESTERDAY'S NEWS.
News can appear one day and be gone the next. But the paper news is printed on can and should live on.
Last year, more than one third of all U.S. newspaper was recycled. And that number is growing every day.
Recycling is the one way we can all give something back. Then Recycle.

Beginning October 18, you must dial "1-313" or your long distance call will not go through.

As of October 18, if the first three digits of your phone number are listed below, you must dial "1-313" when dialing long distance within the 313 area. Otherwise, your call won't be connected. Because that's when final conversion of your neighborhood to "1-313" long distance dialing will be complete. So if you haven't already reprogrammed your speed calling, call forwarding, modem communications software and automatic dialers, you should do so immediately.

And remember, local and zone calls are still seven digits. Not sure what's long distance and what's not? Just check the front of your Ameritech PagesPlus® White Pages directory.

Thanks for dialing "1-313" because by doing it you're helping to create 1.5 million new phone numbers for our area. And a completed call for yourself.

Beginning October 18, if the first three digits of your phone number are listed here, you must dial "1-313" for long distance calls in the 313 area.

Black cherries: Primary fuel for cedar waxwings

Several people have noted the black cherry berries that are very common this year. Ground beneath many trees is littered with round, deep purple fruits that were not eaten by invading cedar waxwings. Many trees are visited by marauding waxwings that travel in groups and consume the berries in a couple days, and then leave. Black cherry fruit is eaten by birds for the fleshy pulp of the berry. But if we took the position of the tree, that is exactly what it wants to happen to its fruit. Some plants want animals to eat the fruit so that the seed inside will be distributed to places suitable for germination.

After a black cherry berry is eaten by a bird, the hard pit with the seed enclosed passes through the digestive system unharmed. When it is voided, it may land on soil and grow into a young tree next spring. Young trees would not be able to survive well if they all grew under their parents.

mice rely on seeds for a major portion of their diet. Anyone who has a bird feeding station knows the importance of black sunflower seeds in attracting birds. In fields, seeds of many wildflowers are exploited by birds and mammals as a winter source of food. Not all seeds are consumed, many escape detection, which is why we have lush fields of wildflowers each year.

Squirrels harvest hickory nuts and acorns in the fall and bury them in the ground. During the winter, when food sources become scarce, the squirrels return to the burial ground and remember where to dig up their stored food.

Experienced squirrels even know the difference between red and white oak acorns and will treat them differently before storage. Since white oak acorns start to germinate in the fall, squirrels will deftly remove the embryo of the seed so it does not germinate and become useless as a food source.

Man also uses seeds as a food source. Corn is one of our most important crops and is used for a multitude of reasons. Wheat, rye, oats, poppy seeds, celery seed, beans and peas are just some of the nutritious seeds used by man.

When seed producing plants developed, they developed with close relationships between insects, birds and mammals. Ultimately, a balance of benefits occurred for all.

RECYCLING IS GOOD

NEWS:

Overcrowded landfills. Garbage barges no one wants to deal with. Terminal trash. News. Bad news. The good news? More and more people, businesses and industries are finding ways to recycle.

It takes more than 6,000 tons of newsprint each year to print The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers plus a number of other publications, so we're doing a number of things to help the solid waste situation:

1. For years we've sold our waste newsprint to a recycling firm.
2. 25% of the newsprint we print on is recycled and we're increasing this amount by another 25% this year.

3. Our employees have begun to routinely put officer paper (memos, computer paper, waste copy paper) in recycle bins instead of waste baskets. Of course, we still deliver thousands of newspapers twice each week. It's our business to bring you news of your local government, schools, sports scene and community events; the news you need to know.

Here is a list of recycling centers in or near The Observer & Eccentric circulation area. Please call the center nearest you for guidance in preparing your recyclables

What do an apple, a cow, and a car door have in common?
Recycled newspapers play a role in all three. Apple growers in the northwest use recycled newsprint for packing, farmers use it for bedding instead of straw and auto manufacturers use it in car doors. There are many uses for your used newspapers, why not start saving them today?

Forget the mild-mannered stuff, the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles — Leonardo, Raphael, Michaelangelo and Donatello — are using music licks and karate kicks to fight crime.

'Cowabunga, dudes!'

By Sue Mason
staff writer

And my mother thought Alice Cooper was a freak. Wait'll she gets a load of these guys.

There's not much you can do with the color green, so that tortoise shell accent and colored high tops are nice touches. But guys, what's with the colored masks and matching knee and elbow pads?

And that "valley" talk. Didn't "awesome, dude" go out with Ronald Reagan? And I thought Bart Simpson's "Don't have a cow, man," had replaced "Cowabunga, dude."

Unless you live in a cave or lack basic television service, you've heard of them — the lean, mean, crime-fighting, pizza-chomping, sewer-dwelling superheroes. What Superman was to the '70s and Batman was to the '80s, the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles are to the '90s.

They've graced the pages of comic books (haven't all the superheroes of the past) and made it to the big screen (ditto on the comment), but what sets this group apart is their music. Yep, the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles can sing as well as they fight crime.

Or should I say, "Awesome, dude." Yep, these guys have talent. Their first album, "Coming Out of Their Shells," went double platinum last week. (New Kids on the Block take heed.) But don't rush out to your nearest record store to buy it. You have to shell out cold hard cash for pizza and the cassette at a Pizza Hut Restaurant. Get it?

"IT'S WHAT'S happening, dude," says Michaelangelo, TMNT's party turtle. "We try to keep our fingers on the pulse of America." (Yes, I interviewed a turtle. My mother warned me about the weirdness of this profession, but she never said anything about turtles.)

Seems with the inspiration of rockers Eric Clapton and Bruce Springsteen and rapper Fresh Prince, they've come up with a collection of songs like "Pizza Power," a tribute to their favorite food, "Tubin," an ode to subterranean skateboarding, and "Walk Straight," hyped as the next anti-drug anthem.

Well, to say the least, the boys' recording success has been so phenomenal that they teamed up with two "cool dudes" — Steve Leber who did "Beatlemania," and Bob Bejan who came up with some of the tunes — to create a $3 million, 40-city road show, aptly named the "Coming Out of Their Shells" Tour.

The boys have swapped karate kicks for guitar licks and are taking the country by storm.

"It's totally cool to have people screaming and yelling for you," Mich says. "It's been awesome. We've never really been able to meet people until now."

Before we go any farther, let's get one thing straight. What New Kids on the Block is to the pre-teen set, TMNT is to the elementary school crowd. We're talking rock stars for the post-diaper set.

AND WHILE grown women might dress like Madonna for her concerts, we have small fry showing up at Radio City Music Hall looking like a TMNT.

"It's really cool some of the clothes they wear," Mich says. "I signed some kid's shell the other night."

Now, if I got the story right, TMNT started into music while waiting around in the sewer for a pizza delivery. Supposedly, "the bodacious appetite of Michaelangelo began to erupt in a spontaneous rap, 'Pizza Power.' Raphael seized his tenor saxophone and began riffing on Mich's ode to pepperoni. Donatello and Leonardo churumphed in with some ersatz doo-wop a capella."

Well, Splinter, a rat who taught the boys their crime-fighting ninja tricks, encourage the quartet to pursue their music. A year of subterranean work on the album and creating custom instruments — hey, it's not easy playing a guitar with three fingers — TMNT were ready for the big time.

"Splinter said we could do more with our music than our nunchuks," Mich recalls.

Splinter is joining the boys on their 40-week tour. He even jams with them as does their friend, April O'Neil. (Why do these superheroes all have media types as their compatriots. There was Superman and Lois Lane, Batman and Viki Vale and now it's TMNT and April O'Neil.) When not jamming, April is doing news reports on the boys' travels.

Michaelangelo, who plays a three-string guitar, got the crime fighters into music with a "Pizza Power" rap song composed while waiting for a subterranean pizza delivery.

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

'Henry' leaves a cold feeling

By John Monaghan
special writer

I'm one of the few people I know who wasn't completely swept away by Philip Kaufman's "The Unbearable Lightness of Being." It should come as no surprise then that the director's latest film, "Henry and June," should leave me similarly cold.

Based on the life of Henry Miller, the film depicts the author in Paris in the early '30s during the writing of his infamous book, "The Tropic of Cancer." The novel's frank depiction of sex kept it out of bookstores for almost three decades.

The story is seen through the eyes of Anais Nin, also a real-life writer, who falls in love with both Miller and his beautiful, free-spirited wife, June. The aristocratic Nin finds the couple a ripe source in her "search for sensual pleasure."

Unfortunately, the pleasures of "Henry and June" are solely on the surface. Writer/director Kaufman has an extraordinary eye for visuals and fills his film with memorable images.

away at his typewriter while composing his book, Kaufman uses dramatic changes in light and shadow to process in fluid shots.

In another striking sequence, Miller balances precariously on a New York City apartment ledge, spying on his wife. Since the scene is imagined by Nin from Miller's description, it's a surreal blend of brownstone, snow and electric flashes from the subway.

Crusty character actor Fred Ward has his best role to date as Miller. He grunts and snores a lot, has a dome-

More good news for Chaplin fans. Media Home Entertainment will quench your thirst for comedy with its Chaplin six-pack — six tapes at $19.98 each, or the entire set for the price of five.

The collection very nicely complements the three 55-minute "Unknown Chaplin" tapes released in August. That footage demonstrated Chaplin's technique: "Unknown Chaplin" contains extensive sequences of Chaplin's experiments in developing comic routines for "The Cure" — one of the selections in this new set, available Oct. 17.

Running from 60 to 100 minutes each, these six programs contain just over 8 1/2 hours of early Chaplin, 25 of the 62 films he made for Keystone Studios, which includes four more of the 35 films Chaplin made for Keystone that year.

So SUCCESSFUL were those 35 films that Chaplin was lured away from Keystone by Essanay, for $1,250 per week, more than eight times his $150 weekly Keystone salary. The second and third tapes in this set present eight of the 15 films Chaplin made for Essanay from January 1915 through April 1916.

Good old days' cliches put 'Belle' in a tail spin

There's a reason they don't make movies like they used to. Simply enough, the styles, values and popular cliches of the good old days have passed into history and have little or no meaning for contemporary audiences.

the movies

But whoever was responsible for "Memphis Belle" (D-, PG-13, 140 minutes) ignored that simple fact and turned out a World War II bomber film with enough cliches for a dozen old-time war movies.

Despite an authentic B-17 plane, the support of the Yankee Air Museum at Willow Run Airport and the impact of "based on a true story," "Memphis Belle" is trite by any standard.

Try this list of World War II film cliches:

The crew of the "Memphis Belle" has one more mission to complete their tour of duty. A public relations officer (John Lithgow) wants to make the most of this PR-photo opportunity. Of course, he's at odds with the tough commanding colonel (David Strathairn) who is concerned only with his men's well-being and the success of their mission.

The "Memphis Belle" has the obligatory diverse crew headed by a very straight captain (Matthew Modine) — his family manufactured furniture. There's the dark, romantic type, Val (Billy Zane), who supposedly completed medical school before the war.

Naturally, there's a farm boy, a coward and a hot-shot — about the only missing cliché was the Jewish kid from Brooklyn, a World War II necessity when it was important to prove that all the population was united by their need to defeat the Axis Powers.

When Granfalloon couldn't find a local record label exactly right for them, they did the next best thing. They formed their own label, Pho-Nef-ic Records in Detroit.

On their own — Granfalloon charts own musical success

By Jill Hamilton
special writer

What is a band to do when they can't find a local record label that's exactly right for them? Why, start their own, of course. At least that's what Granfalloon did.

"The only thing we could do was form our own label," said Ernie Douglas, guitarist and singer for Granfalloon.

Their tiny label is called Pho-Nef-ic Records and is based in Detroit. Granfalloon's label mate are Burr, Weenie Sandwich, an outfit fronted by Granfalloon bassist Curt Setzino, and Su-Gey-Gun.

"Having our own label is one of the little tricks in getting signed by a major label. If you have a lot of good bands, they have to pay attention," Douglas said. "Our bands now are hand-picked from the same genre."

So far, the strategy seems to be working. Granfalloon latest self-itled release has been added to radio playlists from Washington to California to Pennsylvania.

The band has headlined at practically every major club in the Detroit area and has played gigs in Ohio, West Virginia and Windsor.

DOUGLAS SAID Granfalloon's success has come in spite of the lack of support from local media. He said local clubs like Lili's, Paycheck's and Alvin's are helpful because the crowd is "real tough" so bands have to play their best.

But as far as the local media goes, Douglas' feelings could be best summed up as "thanks for nothing."

"We get no support from the media, especially radio," he said. "No one wants to play anything that's produced in Detroit."

And the local newspapers? "We don't get a lot of help around here," Douglas said.

He said that the band's name has been misspelled so often in local papers' concert listings that it has become a joke with the band.

Their album makes light of this with several examples of the creative spelling of the band's name that have appeared in local papers pictured on the cover — everything from "Gransalloon" to "Crabmalloon."

The band, whose name comes from a Kurt Vonnegut novel, means "a proud but meaningless association."

"All of us read Vonnegut, but Curt came up with the idea," Douglas said. "I guess when you look at us it applies."

GRANFALLOON plays sort of an experimental, progressive variety of rock. Chris Malliere's creative drumming can give Granfalloon's songs anything from a vaguely reggae feel to a nervous "new wave" sound.

Dieter Juncal's guitar swirls insistently around the vocals. Off-kilter rhythms and jolting instrumental breaks make the band's music sound a bit like King Crimson. The band lists their influences as asking Crimson as well as XTC, Frank Zappa and Gentle Giant.

"I'm the only one who listens to Gentle Giant," conceded Douglas. "Chris and Kurt are heavily into Zappa."

Because the band's music is so quirky and experimental, it would seem as though there were some sort of jazz training involved.

"Not really," said Douglas. "Until finally I could make my hands do what my ears heard."

He says that Granfalloon's unusual sound "almost falls into place naturally."

FOR NOW, the band is putting their hopes on a new CD which they just finished recording. Douglas said that it should be out by November.

Mould doesn't break mold with 'Rain'

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

The voice on the phone belies the one on the record. The Bob Mould in conversation is thoughtful and quite friendly. The Bob Mould on "Black Sheets of Rain" is angry, sulen and driven.

To fans of the 1980s hardcore outfit Husker Du, the latter description of Mould is more familiar to them. Husker Du's music was raw, immediate and surging.

The band is gone, but its founder is still the same. Mould writes songs not so much out of pleasure, but necessity.

"I mean it's the way I learn about myself and the situations I go through and my friends go through," said Mould, who performs Monday, Oct. 15, at the Nectarine Ballroom in Ann Arbor.

Songs on "Black Sheets of Rain" speak of the disintegration of relationships in the most bleakest of terms. Mould scornsfully on the emotionally strewn "Out of Your Life." "If you gotta do it, tell me I ain't got a life of my own and the one

I got with you could kill me."

The incendiary nature of the lyrics are fueled by a jagged, highly-charged sound provided by Mould and his two-man band featuring Golden Palominos drummer Anton Fier and bassist Tony Maimone of Pere Ubu.

UNLIKE HIS first solo album, "Workbook," in which Mould was content to vent on an acoustic guitar, he picked up the electric one this time. The end result is forceful.

OTIS — Mojo Nixon

Expect the unexpected. Mojo Nixon's uncanny style is something only Weird Al himself could love. In fact, Mojo is best described as Weird Al Yankovic, with one exception, he writes his own stuff.

With titles like "Don Henley Must Die," "Put a Sex Mo-sheen in the Whitehouse," and "Destroy All Lawyers," you kind of get the just of what I mean.

In "Don Henley Must Die" he sings "Don Henley must die/don't let him get back together with Glenn Frey! Put a sharp stick in his eye." He also refers to him as a "bloated hairy thing." Near the end of the song he includes Sting in on his death wish. I am not sure what he has against Don Henley. Could it be because he has got some talent?

Enigma Records originally wanted to put a warning sticker on all promotional albums stating: "Please Don't Play 'Don Henley Must Die.' It Might Upset Him!" This was discovered to be a cheap ploy to secure

BOSSANOVA — The Pixies

No one makes music to feed your psychoses to quite like the Pixies.

The minimalist thrash of this Boston quartet emanates from just the other side of reality. Their latest release, "Bossanova," stacks up well against their major-label debut, "Doolittle," the 1989 critics' darling. On "Bossanova," the Pixies are slightly more contained, but by no means are they tame or on the music.

The emphasis here is on the music. Not all of it is exactly ear-piercing, either. The single, "Velouria," sounds like the musical equivalent of an upset stomach — a painful, pounding, pulsing cramp that gets worse before it gets better.

"Rock Music" is an intense sound headrush with vocalist Bob Francis screaming indecipherable lyrics in a shrill voice that's a cross between a rabid Rottweiler and the guy from A.C.D.C.

Plenty of highlights tip the album to the good side of the scales. "Is She Weird," "All Over the World," and the driving "Stormy Weather" are all solid songs with a strong rhythm from Kim Deal's persistent bass and David Lovering's popping drum hit topped by the frenetic lead guitar of Joey Santiago.

"Dig for Fire," with its weaving guitar lines and catchy chorus, is as

UNDER THE RED SKY — Bob Dylan

The World's Greatest Songwriter has slipped back into mediocrity. Coming on the heels of last year's fabulous "Oh Mercy," the lameness of Bob Dylan's latest release, "Under the Red Sky," is doubly disappointing. Failure to hit the musical mark can be traced directly to the production to the songs themselves.

There is precious little poetry on the latest album from rock's poet laureate. Dylan spins some good lines, as usual, particularly on the clever "T.V. Talkin' Song." But much of the lyrical work ranges from force rhyme to tired cliches, like "They said it was the land of milk and honey/Now they say it's the land of money."

Francis' own word is the best possible to describe "Bossanova." Derangement. A one-word review.

— John Cortez

good a tune as they've done to date. And the edgy, erotic "Down to the Well" also scores, a powerful piece of writing by Francis.

Francis' lyrics are, as usual, sometimes humorous, sometimes incomprehensible, always off the wall. But who can argue with the philosophy found in "All Over the World?" "Time is an arrangement/Time is an 'arranger' I am a derangement."

Francis' own word is the best possible to describe "Bossanova." Derangement. A one-word review.

— John Cortez

Dylan's words have always been dark and unattractive. But instead of cloaking them in "Leopardskin Pillbox Hat," he's now hiding behind the songs like "Wiggle Wiggle" and "Hardy Dandy."

Some of these songs can't even be salvaged by a true all-star cast that includes George Harrison, David Crosby, Elton John, Stevie Ray and Jimmie Vaughan, Bruce Hornsby and Al Kooper. (Oh yeah, and Slash from Guns N' Roses — how's that for cool?)

All of these names provide great music especially the guitar work by the Vaughan Brothers, but perhaps as a result, the album suffers from its overproduction.

One of the major reasons for the success of "Oh Mercy" was the slick production of Daniel Lanois, who enhanced Dylan's songs both with the sound he recorded and the sounds he left out.

But Dylan abandoned Lanois' airy, stark sound to jump on the Don Was bandwagon. Was, who has recently resurrected the commercial careers of Bonnie Raitt and Iggy Pop, among others, produced "Under the Red Sky" with David Was and Jack Frost. The result is this record full of syrupy ballads and pseudo-blues.

"It's a never-ending well," he said. "That's not that has been a result of tumultuous years in Mould's life. He won't elaborate in detail, only to say some relationships have gone sour recently." Also, he attributes the tone of the album to being uprooted. He moved from the placid, Lake-Wobegon territory of Minnesota to the snarled, electric nature of Manhattan. He likes it there, adding an edge to his already prolific songwriting talents.

WHEREAS RELATIONSHIPS are at the core of his writing, references to the environment in the album's title "Black Sheets of Rain" and in songs such as in "One Good Reason" ("In the forest all the trees are turning black...") leaves listeners to wonder if Mould has his own green agenda.

For Bob Mould, songwriting is the way he learns about himself and the situations he goes through.

A 'dawgone' way to 'pamper' pets

By Charlene Mitchell
special writer

Call it snooty... Call it crazy... Label it anything you "dawgone" please. As far as some pet owners are concerned, nothing is too costly when it comes to their dog or cat.

Just as fashions for people set trends, the look of the '90s for household pets is starting to become designer oriented. Pet boutiques, usually found in a pet grooming salon, carry everything from silk nighties to mink-trimmed winter overcoats.

There are pet umbrellas and rubber boots, rain bonnets, and argyle sweaters, swimwear, Halloween costumes and Santa Claus suits. There are even christening gowns and tuxedos made for pets.

A wedding coming up? No problem, made to order or off-the-rack bride and groom attire is available. And as ridiculous as it may sound, there are even burial clothes for pets whose owners opt for fancy funerals at pet cemeteries.

Ahhh... What ever happened to the dog or cat who was happy in his birthday suit?

"People like to buy nice things for their pets, especially dog owners," said Marcey Weisberg, owner of Marcey's Groom-A-Pet in Royal Oak. "The big thing now are fancy cuts with lots of bows and ribbons with cute outfits for special occasions. Like when people give a big party and everyone's all dressed up, they'll have their Bichon Frise in ruffles too!"

FOR LARGER dogs, less frilly clothes are the look, and most cat owners say a glittery collar is enough because the felines tend to get a little irritated when the owner tries to get them to wear clothes.

One of the newest pet pampering centers is Groomingtails in West Bloomfield. The salon caters to pooches who expect nothing but the best. No matter how grubby Fifi may look when she comes in, she leaves fluffed up and fragranced to the hilt!

The owners, David Munson and Jeffrey Jucewicz, both licensed hairdressers, consider grooming dogs a natural extension of their work in the beauty business.

"Doing a dog's hair is certainly a lot different than doing a lady," said Munson. "The dogs don't complain, but they squirm around a lot... especially the little dogs which we do a lot of."

It's the owners who are particular about the final touches on their pet's cut and style. One of the more exciting clients was a 180-pound Great Pyrenees who came in for a bath, brush out, pedicure and ear cleaning.

"He got the works!" said Munson, adding that sometimes the large animals aren't as difficult as the little Yorkies.

THERE'S NO limit as to how much you can spend pampering your prized pet. Most basic grooming jobs range between $10-$30, but the price goes up for the really fancy styles.

Cats, too, are part of the beauty trend among upscale pet owners. Long haired cats need a lot more grooming than the typical house cat, plus the owners admit that cats keep pretty clean on their own, unlike dogs who often like to get in the dirt, if allowed to play outdoors.

Once your dog or cat is styled, perfumed, and dressed in the latest animal attire, they're ready to have a gourmet dinner served up in genuine crystal, or sterling silver dishes.

No... the buck does not stop here.

The food, too, must be the best. A local butcher confided that one of his best customers is a Bloomfield Township woman who buys freshly ground liver for her cat, and ground sirloin for her two dogs. None of that canned or dried stuff for her pets.

No wonder so many businesses catering to pets are opening up in Metro Detroit. What with the pet motels, boarding schools, training centers and even a psychologist for animals, it kind of makes even a pet owner wonder whether the world is going to the dogs!

Whoopie, a three-month-old Portuguese water dog, sits patiently while being trimmed by stylist Monica Berens at Groomingtails in West Bloomfield.

Comic book parody turns into a 'gold mine'

There's more to the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles' persona than you might think.

They got their start in 1983, when New England artists Kevin Eastman and Peter Laird sketched the turtles as a superhero parody.

As the story goes, the four discarded pet turtles, all named after great Italian Renaissance artists, were dumped in the sewers, where they were transformed into oversized reptiles after being exposed to radioactive material.

Three hundred licensing agreements, a syndicated television cartoon series and feature-length motion picture later, classify the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles as nothing less than a gold mine.

There's TMNT T-shirts, shoelaces, Halloween costumes and the like to entice the good ol' greenbacks out of parents' wallets. And mega-businesses like Burger King, K mart and Pizza Hut have gotten on the TMNT bandwagon.

On the best seller list of toys,

TMNT products rank third behind Barbie and Nintendo. Not bad for a bunch of smart-mouthed turtles who live in sewers.

As for their music, Pizza Hut may have pulled off the coup with its offer of a 10-song cassette, "Coming Out of Their Shells," for $3.99.

Within four days of its release,

250,000 copies were sold, representing about $1 million in sales. Who cares if the pizza they chomped on in their movie came from the competition — Domino's.

Now it's the 40-city rock concert/theatrical production. Rock impresario Steve Leber and creative wiz Bob Bejan are the brains behind the extravaganza

And while the sewer-dwelling, pizza addicts are dethroning the likes of G.I. Joe and Cabbage Patch Kids from the hearts of America's kids, there's word of a movie sequel.

As for the talk show circuit, can you imagine Oprah interviewing Michaelangelo? Awesome, dude.

Getting tuned by those TMNT

IF YOU'RE into TMNT, you also know about the evil Shredder. For the uneducated, he's the bad guy. Well, according to Mich, Shredder has been trying to sabotage the rock tour.

"Shredder followed us to New York and rewired our stuff so it would blow up on stage," Mich blurts out. "I think he's going to follow us all over. I think he's jealous because we're making music; I guess because we're taking away the spotlight."

And while we're on the subject of travel, don't be looking for the boys at the Westin or other such fancy hotels while in Detroit this week. According to Mich, they have a special motor home with a shoot in the floor that gives them direct access to where they feel most at home, the sewers. They leave the hotels to their roadies.

TRAVELING FROM from one city's sewer system to another does have its downside.

Mich admits the troupe was psyched out about Milwaukee, worrying about "wheels of cheese floating by." No word on what they expect to find in Detroit, but you guys in the pizza delivery business listen up. They do expect to have room service.

The Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles will be at Masonic Auditorium Wednesday-Sunday, Oct. 17-21. Tickets cost $16.50 and are available the Masonic box office or TicketMaster outlets. For information, call 832-2232.

Leonardo plays a mean one-string base, but his shrewd no-nonsense business approach took the TMNT from screen idols to rock stars.

Strands of history

Beads form delicate, but direct, link to past

By Virginia Lee Clark
special writer

The italicized quotes are from Robert K. Liu's forward to "The History of Beads" by Lois Sherr Dublin.

"Beads were probably the first durable ornaments humans possessed."

THE OLDEST BEADS found thus far have been associated with the Neanderthal Man dating back to 38,000 B.C. and were excavated at an archeological site in La Quina, France. They were made of bones and animal teeth and worn as pendants.

We don't have to dig too far in our area to unearth what has to be the most complete selection of beads available anywhere in the country. They come from all parts of the globe and may be found in a number of shops.

Beads are more decorative than baubles. They represent social mores; portable wealth, politics, status symbols, trading power, monetary units, religious beliefs and superstitions.

And you thought beads were just items to string and wear around your neck.

"Pleasing to look at and touch, colors and materials that almost compel one to handle them and sort them."

BEADS ARE microcosms of every art and craft form. They are made from different techniques using glass, wood, metal, ceramics, bone and natural materials such as stones (precious and semi-precious) and shells. They come in every semi-precious stone as well as coral and pearls. Let's not forget the shapes: round, melon, fluted, drop, ring, cone, lentil, cylindrical and many more.

Deciding which ones to use and putting the right ones together in order to design something pleasing is another whole discipline. Fortunately, there are local shops with knowledgeable owners who are ready to help.

Working with beads is something everyone can do regardless of experience or age. The results become a wearable art form.

"Today, beads are being combined and shaped into aesthetically dynamic jewelry."

IDA JOYRICH and Ghinda Mar-rich own Bead Works Inc. at 32751 Franklin Road in Franklin. They carry beads from all over the world as well as the material needed to make jewelry.

"We travel a lot independently of each other and everywhere we go we hunt for beads," Joyrich said. "It is a fascinating hobby as well as a business."

They have multi-colored Austrian crystals and tourmalines. Included in a large selection of stone beads are Nevada lapis and tree agate, which are new and just being mined.

There are handblown glass beads from China, with cats painted on the inside through the hole with a single-haired brush.

"Ethnic jewelry is popular right now, especially African. We carry a good selection of beads from there made of all kinds of materials," Mar-rich said.

THEIR PENDANTS are conversation pieces. One type, made of silver, is a toiletry cache disguised as jewelry with tiny grooming aids dangling from it. It is worn by nomads in Baluchistan.

"People buy our beads to be used for everything from architectural miniatures to dog collars," Joyrich said.

The Bead Works is open Tuesday through Saturday. The owners will help their customers design and make jewelry or make it for them.

"As was the case in so many ancient and tribal cultures, the ordinary is again being used in extraordinary ways by artists and craftsmen."

SHELL OR BEAT IT of Plymouth is owned and operated by the mother/daughter team of Helen Ferguson and Dana Wasson. They do a lot of custom designing, using "strictly natural stones," Wasson said.

"We specialize in weddings," She and her mother do a lot with cultured and freshwater pearls, in addition to running a mail-order service, Wasson said.

"Everybody's into the natural stones."

Many people bring in a family heirloom and ask to have a necklace designed using the old piece, she said. Shell or Bead It customers are interested in natural stones from black onyx, Austrian crystal, rose quartz, tiger's eye and lapis to pearls of all kinds.

THE ROYAL catfish is the logo at Beada Beada Inc. in north Royal Oak.

It is a mythological symbol whose movements are supposed to control earthquakes and thus pearl prices. High readings on the Richter scale play havoc with oyster beds.

Kris Castleberry and Beth Wilusz carry an array of cultured pearls from Japan and freshwater pearls from China in their store as part of a complete assortment of every type of bead imaginable.

They stock cornaline d'Aleppo made of red Venetian glass with a white core. Supposedly, $24 worth of this particular bead bought Peter Minuit the bargain of a lifetime — Manhattan Island.

Venetians were glass makers as well as aggressive traders and their beads are found worldwide.

Silver earrings produced by a cottage industry on Bali are a new item at Beada Beada. Each pair is special and many are set with garnets and amethysts.

BOTH Castleberry and Wilusz have strong feelings about the correct method to string beads.

"It is a real mathematical challenge. We feel it takes at least two years to train our personnel and five years until they are really qualified," Wilusz said.

The hole size varies with different starting to give those from other countries some serious competition.

beads. Because the proper weight string or cord should fill up the hole, beads that differ in hole diameters can't be used successfully together. The necklace simply won't hang right.

For example, lapis with very large holes cannot be strung with small-holed pearls. Flat surface beads don't work when placed side by side. They need a round bead between them to act as a ball joint.

CASTLEBERRY AND WILUZ, as well as members of their staff, work with customers on a one-to-one basis in the selection and designing of their beads. They publish two monthly flyers, a smaller one for their retail customers and a larger one for their thriving mail-order business.

"Our inventory turns over about every six weeks," Castleberry said.

To get on their mailing list, stop in their store at 4262 North Woodward just north of 13 1/4 Mile and fill out a form.

"... Beads are being made of materials and techniques that are in themselves expressing new artistic and technological dimensions."

A VISIT to a bead store in San Francisco and the encouragement of a young daughter inspired Ariene Green to open the Birmingham Bead Store 16 years ago.

The oldest bead store in the metro area, it is on the ground floor of the Great American Building, 280 North Woodward in downtown Birmingham, next door to Crowley's.

Because this shop is inside an office building with no windows, it depends on creative lighting to show off its treasures. The result is dramatic, and the seductive sparkle and soft glimmer of the crystals, pearls and chalcedony draw one into the fascinating world of beadery.

"One facet of our business is catering to brides by helping them design jewelry for themselves and their wedding party," Green said. "We also carry a large inventory of decorative beads for application on wedding dresses and other clothing."

MANY WOMEN come in with items from their wardrobe so they can create coordinating pieces from the shop's diversified collection, Green said. Fishermen even buy beads for their lures.

The store offers sterling silver antique reproductions and bone beads that have replaced forbidden ivory.

Green and her daughter, Benita, an innovative designer in her own right, work closely with their customers. They offer a concise pamphlet called the Primer, which they wrote and illustrated, explaining some of the basics of stringing beads.

"Beads possess the desirable characteristics of every collectible: They are durable, portable, available in an infinite variety and often valuable..."

THE NEW KID on the block in bead stores is The Thomas Company, on the lower level of 742 North Woodward in Birmingham, two doors from The Claymore Shops.

The 18-year-old company is a large supplier of tools and equipment for metalsmithing and jewelry making and handles both mail order and walk-in.

It began carrying beads three years ago. While its stock may be smaller than that of other stores, it has a good selection of semi-precious stones, sterling silver, gold-filled, bone and lead crystal. It also carries cabachons.

Thomas is the only store that offers classes. Besides regular sessions in metalsmithing, it conducts one or two classes in bead stringing. Pam Eisen, one of the owners, also teaches pearl knotting and a braid class at the Birmingham Community Center.

"It is very gratifying to watch someone with a handicap or arthritis succeed in making jewelry. They begin by thinking they can't do it and are elated when they can," Eisen said.

The metalsmithing classes meet for eight weeks at three-hour sessions and are offered day or evening. The business repairs jewelry, including soldering.

PUBLICATIONS ARE available to learn more about the world of beads including: "Ornament," a quarterly magazine published by Robert K. Liu; "The History of Beads," by Lois Sherr Dublin; Harry N. Abrams Inc. 1987, a large, coffee table book filled with extraordinary photographs of beads and jewelry through the ages; "The Book of Beads," by Janet Coles and Robert Budwig, with many pictures and pages of design ideas and instructed methods.

The second annual bead conference is in Washington, D.C., this fall.

There is definitely a tactile allure to beads as well as an appeal to all the senses. They represent history and different cultures and evoke a strong desire to learn more about their origins. They really are, as Liu said, "miniature bundles of secrets waiting to be revealed."

Site plans: 1 part art, 1 part science

By Gerald Frawley
staff writer

The best-designed sites are those that don't interfere with the natural conditions of the property. And some say you can go nature one step better. Defining a good site is difficult because it's hard to quantify many of the intangibles that are the site's makeup: individual site shapes, the layout of the roads, the preservation of indigenous flora and fauna, the subtlety with which the lots blend with the natural setting. A good development site is part science, part art.

They have what the French call — a certain "je ne sais quoi."

Gary Shapiro, president of the Ivanhoe Companies in West Bloomfield, said he looks for the difficult, yet interesting sites others may have passed up: those that have environmental assets and natural amenities.

Shapiro developed Mission Springs on Darb Lake, a single-family residential project in West Bloomfield, which was chosen by the American Planning Association Michigan Chapter as the best-designed development of 1989.

Shapiro is also developing Woodland Ridge, another single-family development, and The Pointe on Pleasant Lake, a condominium development, also in West Bloomfield.

"Good development," he said, "means individualized balanced lots and a balanced development site." Excavations of each site should be limited, using excavated soil for basements or foundations on the site.

Wetlands are built around, rather destroyed; mature trees are saved; roads and house sites are put in with little grading; the natural topography is used to enhance developments; and when it comes to utilities, the distance between two points need not be a straight line.

"Sometimes there has to be some mitigation of one to help the others," he said.

Shapiro said many good sites are ruined because they are overdeveloped. "Not every square foot needs to be developed."

In the past, builders would squeeze an extra home on a development, but builders have discovered a nicer, less cramped site will sell for more and make up for the lost home sale.

Robert Leighton, president of Robert C. Leighton Associates Inc. in Ann Arbor, said good site development involves looking beyond the boundaries of the property to be developed. Open spaces between two properties should match up and complement each other, and nearby architectural or natural characteristics should blend smoothly from one area to the next.

Robert C. Leighton Associates designed the site plans for Blue Heron Pointe — which was chosen by the American Planning Association Michigan Chapter as the best-designed development of 1990 — and Huntington Falls, the multi-use Northville Township development being put together by a team headed by the Robert A. DeMattia Co. in Plymouth.

"We like to start out with a site inventory," Leighton said. Existing slopes and topography are measured, vegetation and soil types are catalogued, and views and even solar orientation are noted.

Every effort is made to preserve natural open areas when designing quality developments. Oddly shaped lots designed to preserve trees, rolling streets located to match the topography, and wetlands retention to enhance the natural environment help separate the cookie-cutter, rectangle projects from developments like Woodland Ridge, developed by the Ivanhoe Cos. in West Bloomfield.

"Any constraints or any features you might want to consider are taken down at this point," he said. "The site sets the stage for the design."

Although the site's existing characteristics largely determine the end design, there are still alternatives, Leighton said. "There are going to be tradeoffs."

For example, it may be necessary to cut down some trees to preserve some wetlands, he said. "You try to balance everything out." Leighton said the problem with many sites is they lack sound design principles. For example, repeating landscaping treatment and the placement of buildings gives a site a sense of order, but then the developer must be careful not to be too repetitious, which makes a site monotonous.

"It's very subtle — there's a symmetry and rhythm to good site development," Leighton said. Good sites have balance, they harmonize with their surroundings, and they have focal points that emphasize site characteristics.

"And a good site should have a little mystery as well," Leighton added, saying not everything should be revealed at first glance.

Dennis Dickstein, chairman and chief executive officer of Ralph Manual and Associates in Birmingham, said good sites start with good land.

Dickstein is managing the lot sales for the Pine Creek Ridge subdivision in Brighton, developed by Abbey Homes in Birmingham, which is the site of the Builders Association of Southeast Michigan Homearama.

Control of the site, from the first walk over until turning over the keys on the last homes or structure, is paramount for the success of the project, he said.

The way land is developed today has matured within the past decade. In the past, the developer would bend the land to his will, bulldozing trees, excavating tons of dirt and filling wetlands with little thought.

But today developers work with the land, using the rolling topography, natural and mature landscape, and even saving and preserving wetlands as water retention and natural areas.

Why? "Because that's what people want," Dickstein said. Developers are in business to make a profit and the best way to stay in business, he said, is to make sure people get what they want.

And that means going that extra step. "People don't want straight streets with similar homes in rows." In some (developments) you can take a piece of string and run it down the street and some part of each house will touch it — you won't see that (in good developments)."

Dickstein said sometimes a developer just knows when a site is going to be special, but potential and realization are not the same thing. Good sites may start with a good piece of land, but ecologists, landscape architects, planners quickly are worked into the equation.

Dickstein said Abbey Homes president Robert Katzman set out with the intention of preserving the individual sites by maintaining a supervisory role throughout the construction.

Diversity is important, Dickstein said, not only in home styles, but in lot shape, size and layout. There's nothing worse, he said, than a row of homes that are positioned on a straight line.

"It's boring," he said. "We don't care if a house is set back (from the road) 50 feet or 75 feet — we're going to look for a natural clearing and put the house there — that's how you get good developments."

"As much as they're frustrating, they have forced us into doing more things."

But the pendulum has swung too far, he said. Since communities began looking at protecting natural areas, restrictions have multiplied to the point where they add significantly to housing costs.

Leighton said communities need to realize that controlled development is better than no development at all. "They're going to have to let (the experts do their) jobs."

"No one wants to cut down trees (capriciously)," he said. But stopping development, he said, will hurt the economy.

to the extent possible before breaking in, assuming the association has the right to do so.

If possible, the resolution should provide that the police should be called to obtain access to the unit, for obvious reasons, on behalf of the association.

Public pressure vs. development

By Gerald Frawley
staff writer

The distressing truth about good sites, developers say, is they are getting harder and more expensive to develop because public pressures have strangled growth.

Gary Shapiro, of the Ivanhoe Cos. in West Bloomfield, said good sites are not limited to half million dollar homes, but it is becoming increasingly difficult to do sites justice because of restrictions placed on developers by government regulations and slow-growth pressure groups.

By working with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, local interest groups and township boards and staff, Shapiro says he has been able to accomplish what are generally considered to be superior site developments. But increasingly complex and restrictive ordinances are pushing costs up beyond the ability of people to pay for them, Shapiro said.

"On one hand, I can understand people who move in and say, 'I'm here, I don't want anyone to move here now.' But housing is one of the country's biggest industries and restricting it will be bad in the long run, he said.

When developed correctly, no one has to be the loser, he said. Shapiro allowed not all land developers do quality developments, but ordinances should be written to restrict poor builders, but be flexible enough to allow proven developers to follow their instincts and do something truly special with their property.

Builders and developers have become better at determining what people want from sites, and they have learned how to better develop sites without disrupting the existing natural amenities, said Robert Leighton of Robert Leighton Associates in Ann Arbor.

Leighton allowed that many of the ordinances and restrictions applied by local communities to protect wetlands and woodlands have sped up the education process.

rectors should have a policy regarding emergency procedures, presumably with respect to gaining access to a unit when an emergency arises, such as a flood, fire, sewer backup or the like.

To the extent that you can think of any other situations in which the association might find itself in an emergency wherein it affects the members of the association, a similar procedure should be established by way of a board resolution setting forth the steps that will be taken by the association to deal with emergencies.

In the case of access to a unit, some attempt to give notice to the affected owner should be made to

Manager's contract benefits both parties

We have resident managers. Some people on the board think that we don't need a contract with them. Do you have any recommendations?

Resident managers, as with the retention of a professional management company, should have certain responsibilities and obligations set forth in writing.

It is important to have such an understanding stated to ensure that there is no ambiguity regarding the rights and responsibilities of the resident manager.

Good practice requires that such an agreement be in the form of an employment agreement for the benefit of both parties.

condo queries

Robert M. Meisner

Our condominium documents give us the right to gain access to a condominium unit in the event of an emergency. But our board really doesn't know how to proceed in that regard. Do you have any suggestions?

The Cast of
"Dear John"

Monday - Sunday October 15 - October 21

HOROSCOPE

October 14 through October 20

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
Manage your funds wisely, and take a hard look at finances to begin planning for the future. Travel can give you a new outlook on life.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
Your job sector experiences a trend toward organization. Take a chance and talk with that person you have been dying to meet.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
Relationships are strong for you. The best way to spend your time is with those you love and to share in their happiness. Don't be judgmental.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Your creative powers will surprise even you: A specific situation will make you incredibly angry, but a great good comes from your anger.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
Seek a quiet place to find inner peace this week. Your life isn't quite what you would like it to be, and often that is because of your selfishness.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
A new person in your life will send you in search of better horizons. Spending time with young adults and children can be very rewarding.

By C.C. Clark

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Home and family will provide a great comfort to you this week. Visiting friends or family will help your spirits rise. Watch finances closely.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
It will seem that your emotions are taking a roller coaster ride. Talking out your frustrations with someone close eases the problem.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
You will accomplish much more than usual this week. Be diligent where finances are concerned and pay off debts as quickly as possible.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Straighten out problems between you and a mate or close friend. The arguments you've been involved in are caused by miscommunication.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Now is a good time to take risks and look toward new horizons. This is a very successful cycle for you if you apply yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Show patience toward loved ones. While you think you are going through a lucky phase, remember that you make your own luck.

Author Danielle Steel's novels come to television

Family life important to stars of melodramas

By Amy Schmidt

NBC hopes its made-for-TV movies will attract female viewers who won't want to watch the World Series on CBS. Accordingly, the network is throwing two of its best movies, Danielle Steel's Kaleidoscope and Fine Things into the ratings ring, Monday and Tuesday.

Both movies are based on author Danielle Steel's best-selling melodramatic novels. Jaclyn Smith and Perry King will star in Kaleidoscope, while Cloris Leachman, Tracy Pollan and D.W. Moffett line up for Fine Things. "Put everything aside sit down and just enjoy this thing. It's totally entertaining ... absolutely feature film time," said Leachman of her project. Smith had no less raves for her film and role. "I love Danielle Steel. She's just so popular world-wide, and I see why."

In Kaleidoscope, Smith plays a network news executive separated from her two childhood sisters by the death of their parents. When a private detective (King) locates her sisters, Smith's character hesitates at the prospect of a reunion. Rightly so, for the meeting uncovers old secrets which could potentially destroy them all. In Fine Things, actor D.W. Moffett plays a wealthy bachelor charmed by the wiles of a little girl. He subsequently falls in love with her mother, played by Tracy Pollan. After Pollan's character dies, he and his doting, Jewish mother (Cloris Leachman) are left to care for the girl.

A parallel between Kaleidoscope, and Fine Things is that both movies involve familial separation. Amazingly, Danielle Steel is the mother of nine children, herself. If anyone understands families, she does. "She writes all those books, and has all those babies," said Smith of Steel. Said Leachman, "Danielle has a way of getting her finger on the pulse. She's caught the human condition. It's real life."

Both Smith and Leachman, the big names in Steel's productions, understand families and that split families are real life, too. This undoubtedly gives them greater perspective and sensitivity to their roles. Both are divorced, and both are very dedicated moms.

Smith is divorced three times. But it is apparent that family is the most important thing to her in the world. Her children (Gaston and Spencer Margaret) travel everywhere with her when she does a shoot. "I don't do well without them. So we stick together," she said. Smith has been trying to get her Houston-based parents to move to Los Angeles for a long time. "I believe in families being together. It's just that Daddy loves Houston." When asked, Smith said she still believes in marriage. "I haven't been through what the tabloids say I've been through," she retorted.

After 23 years of marriage, Leachman and her husband, producer/director George England, divorced. "Family life has always been very important to me," said Leachman. "Of all the gifts in life, my family has given me the greatest satisfaction. My children have been my greatest joy because they are all so unique and so special."

Cable Comments

Executive Director,
SW Oakland Cable Comm.

Politics and elections pose an interesting challenge for Community Access Television as the standards are left to individual discretion. Most access centers base their policies upon first come first serve. The very premise of freedom of expression encourages those of opposing views to come forward. But these candidates need a forum in which to express their views and these forums must be put together by the people who come together to staff local access TV. If you stop and think about the fact that the general public's contribution to the television process has been as an observer you can understand why most people are at sea when they realize that the local opportunity is there and yet how do they access it?

We, as television staffs, may encourage and listen without taking a stand. We must take this posture to remain detached enough to serve the general public. (Personally, I have found this reserve to afford plenty of opportunity to gather much needed information and put it into the proper perspective to enable me to enter the voting booth and cast my ballot with confidence.) Neutrality of the TV staff is a crucial component to candidates and leaders of an issue or cause. This staffing posture goes a long way to insure an accomplishment of objectivity.

In the months leading up to an election there is a flurry of activity. Remember, community television be it public, education or government is non-commercial. This means we may not advertise. Or in other words may not send out "a call for action." There are Broadcast and Cable companies and advertising firms, along with independent production houses, that are available for hire to produce a commercial to say "VOTE FOR ME."

A smart candidate is involved with television 12 months a year by providing and sponsoring "informational" programming. For example many State Senators and Congressmen and County Commissioners host their own shows to keep everyone informed. A talk show or new format is most common.

Others are guests on shows that feature consumer concerns. A candidate or established office-holder would be wise to send out a press release to all community television studios in their districts to advise local producers of the subject matters on which they are proficient. Mentioning their schedule is also helpful.

Candidates can also participate in public service announcements. These are non-commercial commercials. This keeps them in the public eye.

The League of Women Voters as well as the Republican and Democratic factions host candidate debates as well as issue forums. Most communities are comfortable with this type of format. Once again it reinforces the concept of fairness. All candidates and/or all sides of an issue are invited. The show goes on with those who agree to participate.

There are also Committees to Increase Voter Participation. In Farmington Hills this group has designed and is presenting a television series entitled "MY VOTE COUNTS." Resident Julieann Hovanessian is chairperson and has earnestly encouraged the entire committee to get involved with the media options.

Dan Potter, the Director of the Department of Special Services, encouraged Cable Coordinator David Tietmeyer to lend technical support and guidance. The purpose of the show is to directly increase voter participation, increasing the quality and quantity of publicity and information regarding local elections. The Committee members will take turns as interviewers and encourage guests from the public at large. Messages will be from "citizen to citizen" to get out the vote. The program "MY VOTE COUNTS" may be seen on Tuesdays at 8:00 p.m. in Farmington, Novi and Farmington Hills. Plymouth, Canton and Northville may request to see the program through Omnicom.

Subjects which will be covered are Insights from a naturalized American voter from Hungary, Ideas on "How to Judge a Candidate," the November Ballot, etc. Suggested topics will include interviews with experienced voters as well as those who never have voted. The Committee to Increase Voter Participation is proud to present this program because the concept speaks to the public in terms of voter to voter and not as an elected or appointed official to the public.

Your vote does count and the Community Service of Community Television stresses this truth. Contact your local cable company to understand the guidelines which they have pertaining to local election coverage.

NBC's comedy 'Dear John' persists in its third season

Judd Hirsch plays 'Taxi'-like role

By AMY SCHMIDT

Two Emmy Awards, a Golden Globe Award, Obie Award, Tony Award and an Oscar nomination. These are the impressive credits of Judd Hirsch, star of NBC's half-hour comedy series "Dear John," airing Wednesdays.

Not bad for a guy who plays everyman. "John is typical of the characters I play on TV," says Hirsch of John Lacey, the title character on the show. "My character is always the normal, believable person."

Born into a working-class family, it seemed like Hirsch was destined not to play the part of a regular guy, but to become a regular guy. By the time Hirsch was in the second grade his family had moved 13 times. He remembers compulsively combing his hair and worrying about his looks as a kid.

"The first thing I was given to know was that I wasn't going to amount to much. But I was lucky to grow up where I did, because eventually I found the theater," says the actor.

But not before he was to embark upon an everyman career. Hirsch did a stint in the military, studied engineering and architecture, graduated with a degree in physics, and got married.

A scheduling error at City College of New York landed Hirsch in a humanities class in which the teacher had students act out scenes from plays. Hirsch was hooked. He enrolled in three different acting schools simultaneously. His parents had a bit of trouble understanding their son's aspirations. "It wasn't a happy time for them," he reflects.

In the summer of 1962 Hirsch got his first professional acting role in the back room of a restaurant, in Estes Park, Colo. In 1974, he landed his first TV role in the movie "The Law."

Hirsch's two Emmys came from playing Alex Rieger on "Taxi." Like "Taxi," it is Hirsch's role which is the foundation for "Dear John." It's a crazy world, as evidenced by the nutty One-Two-One Club, the singles support group around which "Dear John" centers. But down-to-earth John Lacey (Hirsch) holds things together.

Hirsch is not necessarily satisfied with that. "The whole time we did 'Taxi' I was jealous of Chris Lloyd because his character could do anything... I want to play the crazy man, get in a funny wagon," he says.

"Dear John" is not the hit "Taxi" was, though. The show, in its third season, managed to stay near the top 15 partly due to its powerhouse positioning between "Cheers" and "L.A. Law."

Hirsch is still eager to see "Dear John" do well. For one thing, it supports his expensive hobby of house building. ("It's no good for me to buy houses," he says.) It also allows him to maintain residences both in California and New York. And Hirsch can't complain too loudly about being typecast. He has played a wide variety of roles in his career. Recently, he portrayed a villain in the TV movie "She Said No" co-starring Veronica Hamel. Everyman could do worse.

STAR NOTES

Heather Locklear staying busy

By Anne Wheeler

Heather Locklear, who plays bright, determined Alexandra Burton on ABC's Going Places, has had an acting career many only dream of.

At age 20, Locklear had little more than Tame Creme Rinse and Sea and Ski lip balm commercials to her credit. Yet she managed to beat out 450 hopefuls for the part of Krystle's niece Sammy Jo' on Dynasty. Her storyline initially ran only 13 weeks, so she auditioned for and promptly won the part of policewoman Stacy Sheridan on T.J. Hooker. Soon her Dynasty character was resurrected, and Locklear found herself on both shows simultaneously, a pace she continued for four years until T.J. Hooker ended.

She interspersed three more years on Dynasty with guest spots on series and roles in TV movies and feature films, including her debut in Firestarter.

The 29-year-old actress' success continues. In addition to Going Places, Locklear will be seen this fall in the TV movie Dangerous Woman, and in the feature film The Big Slice. This month Locklear, a six-year spokesperson for the Health & Tennis Corporation of America, will release her MCA home video, Heather Locklear Presents Your Personal Workout. But the actress has not always been so fitness minded. "I'd eat M&Ms for breakfast," she confessed. She is married to Tommy Lee, the drummer for the group Motley Crue.

TIME OUT

NFL not upstaged by World Series

By Steve Paschal

The 86th World Series may be the most precious jewel in the CBS sports crown this week, but the network isn't about to forget its legions of football fans.

On Sunday, Oct. 14, NFL Today kicks off a full day of football featuring a doubleheader of regional telecasts. First, viewers will see either Detroit at Kansas City, Green Bay at Tampa Bay or San Francisco at Atlanta. Then, the majority of the country will see the New York Giants clash with the Washington Redskins while the rest will see the Dallas Cowboys take on the Phoenix Cardinals.

The fans have their hopes high in Kansas City, where the Chiefs showed glimpses of playoff potential last year and finished the season winning five of their last eight.

The battle in the NFC East lead between the Redskins and Giants is even more significant because both teams have something to prove. The Giants nosed out Philadelphia for the conference title with a 12-4 record last year, but suffered a frustrating 19-13 overtime loss to the Los Angeles Rams in their first playoff game. Washington struggled to a mediocre 5-5 record through the first two-thirds of their NFL schedule but caught fire to win their last five. Redskin fans think a 13-3 loss to a 1-15 Dallas team kept them out of the playoffs.

CABLE NEWS

TNT drama profiles Jackie Robinson

By Amy Schmidt

The Court-Martial of Jackie Robinson, an original TNT movie, premieres Monday, Oct. 15. Before he broke the color line in baseball, Jackie Robinson fought for racial equality on an Army base in Texas. Andre Braugher of Glory plays one of the 20th century's greatest heroes.

Gene Hackman stars in the critically acclaimed political thriller The Package Sunday, Oct. 14, on Showtime. Hackman uncovers a right wing plot to end an American-Russian nuclear disarmament treaty, and, himself, becomes an assassin's target.

There's never been anything like it, so say the promoters of the five-part TBS environmental special Voice of the Planet, beginning Monday, Oct. 15. William Shatner portrays a disillusioned author/ecologist who retreats to a Buddhist monastery. There, the voice of Gaia (Faye Dunaway), the spirit of the Earth, teaches him the wonders of the Earth.

Gunplay: The Last Day in the Life of Brian Darling is a dramatization of the real-life accidental shooting of 10-year-old Brian Darling, and airs on HBO Monday, Oct. 15. The special delineates safety measures which should be taken by parents and children. Brian's parents helped produce this special, which is tastefully and provocatively done. Watch it with your kids. You can't afford not to.

Nicollette Sheridan stars as Knot's Landing's Paige, broadcast on CBS Thursdays.

Sylvester Stallone muscles his way up and Over the Top, on "The CBS Late Movie," Friday.

Dana Delany and Robert Picardo star in ABC's Vietnam War saga China Beach, Saturdays.

BITS AND PIECES

Rick Dees will continue hosting 'Into the Night'

The ABC late night entertainment series Into the Night starring Rick Dees has been renewed for an additional 13 weeks. In making the announcement, Michael Brockman, President, Daytime, Children's and Late Night Entertainment, ABC Network Group, commented, "We're extremely pleased with the creative growth of the program during its first seven weeks on the air. We're hopeful that viewership will continue to grow in the ensuing months as we carve out our niche."

Ahmad Rashad, a popular and versatile broadcaster for NBC Sports, has been named one of NBC's court-side reporters for National Basketball Association (NBA) coverage beginning this fall.

You can look for ABC's long, long, long-running Scooby Doo series to soon come to the end of its line. After 20 years, TV's longest-running cartoon show is about to bite the dust.

Helen Hayes, who celebrates her 90th birthday this year, has just completed taping 26 shows for a new syndicated series, Canterbury Cinema Classics, produced by White Mountain Entertainment. Each of the two-hour programs features a film classic from the 1930s, '40s or '50s.

TV viewers have "an appalling lack of knowledge about geography," says Jack Reilly, executive producer of ABC's Good Morning America, so he's named Georgetown University Professor Harm de Blij as geography editor to help inform viewers on how geography affects world events.

Dana Delany and Robert Picardo star in ABC's Vietnam War saga China Beach, Saturdays.

SOAP TALK

Too much time spent on storyline

By Candace Havens

Dear Candace: My question is about The Young and the Restless, concerning the Katherine Chancellor kidnapping and attempted murder of Cassandra. The crimes were committed, but there was nothing in the news or on television about the trial, especially on the Chancellor kidnapping. There was absolutely nothing about the effects on Esther or Katherine. Rex didn't even admit Katherine was a victim of a cruel hoax. We saw no one pay for the crime. The storyline showed empathy for Gina, but it was as if everything else was left in the air.

It appears to me that a lot could have been brought out about victims coping afterward and people really caring. Rex was supposedly in love with Katherine, yet he acts as though she was at fault. Katherine told the law enforcement officers who should be jailed and which ones should be free. I realize this is not real, but I just felt it was ridiculous to set it up and then leave it hanging. —Alice, Big Spring, Texas

Dear Alice: The only answers I can give you are, maybe the writers were just as happy as we were that these long, drawn-out storylines were over. The other answer is, you only go to trial on a soap if you are really innocent. While I'm glad the storylines are over, I have to admit that the writers are sadly lacking in following up on these stories. Look how quickly Danny has gone to trial. We must remember that consistency is not one of Y&R's better traits.

Dear Candace: In reading your column and what others are writing you, I decided to get my 2 cents in.

I've been watching Days of Our Lives since my son was 12 years old, and he is nearly 50. I've never been so sick to death of a soap as I am right now with this one. I turn off the TV after Generations. I've had enough of all the deaths on the show. The storyline stinks of death. I want to see someone happy for a change. —Thelma Robinson, Los Angeles, Calif.

I want to hear from you! If you have a favorite soap scenario you would like to sound off about, or a question about the soaps, write to Candace Havens, Soap Talk, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, TX 76102-0748.

'21 Jumpstreet' still going, but without Johnny Depp

By Polly Vonetes

Q: Could you tell me what other films besides Cry Baby that John Waters directed? Would you also tell me what Nightmare film got Johnny Depp started acting? How about an address and the date of his birthday? Is 21 Jumpstreet still on television? —Dawne Brado, Malta, Idaho

A: I am not sure I have a complete list of John Waters' films, but he did direct Pink Flamingos, Desperate Living and Hairspray. Johnny Depp's first movie was A Nightmare on Elm Street, followed by Private Resort. Depp was born on June 9, 1963, in Owensboro, Ky. 21 Jumpstreet, is now in production for syndication this fall, however actor Michael Bendetti has replaced Depp on the series. Write to Johnny Depp, c/o ICM, 8899 Beverly Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90048.

Q: Very recently we watched a movie on TV starring Patty Duke as a licensed practical nurse. She was accused of giving overdoses of morphine to a terminally ill woman. I think the movie was called Fatal Justice or something like that. She was found "not guilty," but the rest of the explanation of the results wasn't on the screen long enough to read. Since I am a retired registered nurse with over 30 years service, I am interested in the results of this case. Can you help me? —Betty Howe, Rapid City, S.D.

A: The film you are referring to was called Fatal Judgment, and it was based on the book Fatal Dosage, a true story by Gary Provost. Anne Capute (Patty Duke) was suspended and stood trial on an indictment of murder one. She was found "not guilty," however, she was suspended from nursing for a period of four years. She is currently working again in her chosen profession.

Q: I heard that Nathan Cook, who played on Hotel, was dead. What happened to him and where is his family now? —Mrs. E. Williams, Vidalia, Ga.

A: Nathan Cook died on June 11, 1988, from an allergic reaction. No other details were given. He is survived by his wife, actress Kara Grannum, and two sons, Cameron, born Sept. 17, 1984, and Jordan, Dec. 4, 1986. The family has their home in Malibu, Calif.

Q: I'm so disgusted with the so-called entertainment on TV — movies, serials, etc., etc. To whom can I write about this? Please reply! —Mrs. Percy Peterson, Ellison Bay, Wis.

A: The new fall programming is now in the process of premiering, perhaps there will be something on now that may entertain you. If you still disagree with the networks' choices, I suggest you write to the presidents of entertainment, whose job at each of the networks is to select the programs their network will air. Write to: Mr. Jeff Sagansky, President, CBS Entertainment, Television City, 7800 Beverly Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90036; Mr. Warren Littlefield, President, NBC Entertainment, 3000 W. Hamedia Ave., Burbank, CA 91523; Mr. Robert Iger, President, ABC Entertainment, 2040 Avenue of the Stars, Century City, CA 90067.
