Salary plan would fund activities

A booster-club plan to raise nearly $2 million to pay for extracurricular activities was approved by the Plymouth-Canton school administration, but needs approval from the board and agreement from teachers on a pay freeze. The board meets tonight at 7:30.

Plymouth-Canton students spent the weekend hoping against hope that a plan to salvage sports and extracurricular activities will be agreed to by administrators and union members. Athletics and co-curricular activities were cut by the board in the wake of voters' defeat of a 4-mill tax increase last week.

A booster club coalition headed by Jim Vassallo of the marching band boosters club devised a plan that would raise nearly $2 million, enough to reinstate athletics and extracurricular activities and rehire some pink-slipped librarians and counselors.

The needed funds could be raised if:

- teachers defer for a year their 3-percent raise;
- administrators defer 2 percent of their 5-percent raise (to which they're agreeable);
- booster club parents raise $270,000;
- transportation routes are extended to save $100,000;
- the board contributes the roughly $100,000 that paid Michael Homes' salary. Homes left to become a superintendent out-of-state.

Vassallo said he met Friday morning with administrators, who approved the plan.

School board president Roland Thomas spent much of Friday trying to reach board members. Thomas was seeking a response to several Plymouth-Canton Education Association concerns, and a consensus on whether to give the PCEA the go-ahead to ask its members for the deferral.

"I can't comment at this point," said Thomas, reached at work late

Pope lifts spirits of local flock

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI

Kevin Keil wouldn't mind if the world was filled with the kind of people who showed up in droves for the Catholic Church's World Youth Day celebrations in Denver little more than a week ago.

"All the people of other countries that were there were getting together and you could have lunch with them," said Keil, 13. "It gives me a thought that in the future it will be better because kids know what other kids are like."

Tim Buchanan agreed. "If all the world were like the people at Youth Day, it would be almost perfect."

Keil and Buchanan were among 10 teens and three chaperones from the Plymouth-Canton area — members of the Shining Halos Youth Group at Resurrection Parish Catholic Church, Canton — who made the more-than-20-hour bus trip to Denver to see Pope John Paul II.

"I just thought it was the chance of a lifetime. It would never happen to me again if I didn't go," said Matt Morse, 15, whose mother, Dorothy, helped chaperone the trip.

Jeremy Crosby, 14, felt the same. "I don't think words could express how I felt when the pope went around the stadium in his little car. Going to Denver to see the pope was an inspirational experience."

The trip, however, didn't come easy. There was money to be earned and money to be saved. The kids collected pop cans for deposits, raked leaves, sold cookbooks, had baked-goods sales, and did raps.

"We want to go see the pope. Going to the pope is what we're going to do. But we can't do it without you. So we need your change. We need your money, so give it up . . ." said Tim Ryan, reciting a rap the kids performed at church to raise money.

Finally, the $350 per person was raised. The Shining Halos boarded

Hearing to weigh .11-mill township tax hike

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

Something has to give. That pretty much sums up how Canton officials are looking at the proposed 1994 township budget's general fund and the increasing costs of refuse collection.

"Over the years, the general fund has simply absorbed the increase in sanitation," said Canton Supervisor Tom Yack.

Canton taxpayers may be faced with a slight tax increase to make up what amounts to about a $40,000 shortfall due to increased waste collection costs in a new waste disposal contract with Canton Waste Recycling. The increase in the contract from last year to this year tops about $380,000, Yack said.

Two weeks ago, township officials agreed to consider raising taxes a maximum .11 mill, from the current 1.11 for general operations to 1.22. A public hearing is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 14, to discuss the possible increase. The proposed increase does not affect millage rates levied for the police and fire funds, which are separate from the general fund. Rates for fire operations at 2.94 mills, and police at 4.96 mills, would remain the same.

Area residents in show

Canton and Plymouth residents are cast members in the production of "Pooh Visits Storyland," in the Cotton Candy Theatre Kids at Northville's historic Marquis Theatre, Aug. 13-28.

The production is a story about a bear named Pooh, who becomes lost looking for his pot of honey. During the search for his treat, Pooh gets magically swept away in a storm and ends up in Storyland.

Cast members from Canton are Carla Freshwater, Emily Zahm and Elizabeth Filios. Missy Willman and Kellie Drinkhahn are cast members from Plymouth.

"Pooh Visits Storyland" is directed by Cindy Zeitz of Canton and Jeffrey Weiner of Farmington Hills.

Performance times and dates are: 10:30 a.m. Monday-Friday, Aug. 23-27. Also at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 28. Tickets are $5.

He is survived by his wife, Betty Roberts of Plymouth; two sons, Kenneth N. Roberts Jr. of Livonia and Jeffrey Roberts of Macomb Township; four grandchildren; and one brother, Donald Roberts of Woodhaven.

Musty-water worries dry up

That mustiness Canton residents might have tasted in their tap water in the past week was real, all right. But it was harmless. "There is no safety concern," said Casey Hans, township municipal services information coordinator.

If township officials levy the maximum .11-mill increase, homeowners with a house worth $120,000 and assessed at $60,000, for example, would pay a tax increase of $6.60 annually. Under the current 1.11 mills for general operations, that taxpayer pays $66.60 compared to $73.20 under the proposed maximum increase.

Traditionally, we look at the charter millage (general operations) to cover trash and disposal," said John Spencer, township chief financial officer.

To date, the proposed general fund tops about $8.2 million. The majority of that fund is financed with revenue from property taxes, licenses and permits, state shared revenues and charges for other services, such as zoning applications, tree fees and sewer inspections.

The board has not seen the budgets yet. The increase is a recommendation from finance and the supervisor to balance the budget," township clerk Loren Bennett said. "When we get through the process, we may want to cut this or that and then cut the rate increase in half."

True, Canton officials recently approved another contract with Canton Waste Recycling even though it was not the lowest bidder. "There is an extreme satisfac-

one experienced it — was the result of a buildup of algae in the water that occasionally occurs when the weather gets hot, Hans said.

"The Detroit Water and Sewerage Department told me some people are more sensitive to it (musty taste) than others. It's the same taste as when you eat in-ground vegetables like beets," Hans said.

"It's supposed to work itself out of the system," said Hans, adding the problem was not limited to Canton.

Yack agreed. "We didn't want to grow government. We were frustrated for the residents. The feeling was that if the community and elected leaders got used to using that money to pay for public services, what happens when that money is no longer available?"

But the increase is still not a sure thing. Officials are looking at other options and departments heads have been asked to take another peek at their budgets and revenues, Yack said.

An item under review is curbside appliance pickup. Bennett received information that some non-residents have been dropping their appliances off at friends' and relatives' homes in Canton for free pickup. That costs Canton taxpayers.

If, for example, Canton required a $10 tag, that could raise $20,000 annually if 200 appliances are picked up curbside, Bennett said. "It would save us money by having people thinking twice about having neighbors, friends, sons and daughters, from dropping the stuff off here," Bennett added.

tion was made long ago that when that happened (free dumping), we would never, ever spend it on day-to-day operations in the community because the free tipping could go away," Bennett said.

It doesn't matter how old you are, the crack of the bat still sounds the same. "Congratulations, babe. I didn't know you're 83," Jim Martines of Eastpointe told a fellow player as he hit home plate. Martines and his teammates — members of the Huntington Bank White team — comprised one of many teams which converged at the Canton Softball Center on Thursday for the annual Senior Citizens open invitational, hosted by Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara.

"What we find happening — because it's a competition — is it's amazing how competitive these teams are. They pick their best players within the league," said Frank Rembisz, director of Wayne County's Office on Aging. The senior citizen tournament brings teams from around the Detroit metro area, the Flint area and as far away as Canada. Teams are divided into age categories: 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, and 70 and older. The oldest player in this tournament was 85. "The oldest player of all in the leagues didn't show up," Rembisz said.

'It's amazing how competitive these teams are.'

Frank Rembisz

Teams play a $75 entry fee and all other costs are picked up by the county executive. The annual invitational began four years ago when McNamara was asked to say a few words at the senior citizens annual awards picnic for the Suburban Softball League in Livonia.

"He was impressed with what he saw. He asked me if we could do something like that at the local level," Rembisz said. That was the beginning. Tournaments have been held since, except for last year, when McNamara hosted the Senior Citizens World Series.

"The county executive is really into physical fitness," Rembisz said. "This is one way to keep them healthy." Despite the heat Wednesday and Thursday, the senior ball players played like pros — with enthusiasm to match.

"You got to run when you hit it, babe," Martines shouted to a player, who shot back: "I'll hit it."

Watchful eye: John Pesta of Troy, manager of the Trowbridge senior citizens softball team, watches his team's performance as they play the Huntington Bank Green team at Canton Softball Center.

Model airplane fly-in to showcase big birds

BY KEVIN BROWN STAFF WRITER

Giant model airplanes — some with wingspans of nine feet or more — will have their day in an air show featuring Plymouth and Canton hobbyists. "We're not talking about little toys here; we're talking about a group of people dedicated to giant sized model aircraft," said event organizer Ed Douville of Northville.

He's put together the "First Annual Big Bird Fly In" Sept. 4 and 5 at the Midwest Radio Control Society Inc. flying field on Five Mile Road just west of Ridge Road. "I'm expecting a turnout of pilots somewhere between 50 to 100," said Douville, who is president of the Midwest Radio Control Society. Nearly 20 pilots are from Plymouth and Canton, and some will be coming from other states and Canada.

The airshow is scheduled for 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days and a food concession will operate during the show. Parking is $2 per car and there will be rest room facilities. Spectators are urged to bring folding chairs.

The event takes place on a manicured and maintained grass field with an 800-foot runway. A master of ceremonies will give a play-by-play of flight demonstrations, and as many as three aircraft will be airborne at one time. Some models reach speeds of 125 mph.

Also featured is Dr. Keith Shaw of Ann Arbor, an authority and leader in electric technology for model aircraft. Douville said that in modeler's language, giant aircraft mean those with a minimum 80-inch wingspan, or certifiable as a one-quarter scale model of the original full-size aircraft. Biplanes must have a 60-inch or greater wing span.

The airplanes can weigh as much as 55 pounds, and are powered by gasoline engines driving propellers up to 24 inches in diameter. The event is sanctioned by the Academy of Model Aeronautics, a non-profit organization dedicated to aero modelers. There are 2,500 chartered AMA clubs.

The Midwest Radio Control Society includes pilots ranging in age from 12 to retirement age. Students are trained before being designated as pilots, and the club has its own flight instruction program, training up to 20 new pilots a year.

At the meeting, trustee Charles Curmi commented that a potential lawsuit to get the drain covered could have cost ramifications on the township, adding, "Kids have grown up around creeks in this township for a long time."

"It is a very easy place for a small child to fall into, and because of the steep banks they can not crawl out," Anulewicz said. Township clerk Marilyn Massengill asked Anulewicz if the drain is currently dry. He said yes. "How does wildlife live in there? There's not a lot of logic," she said, on the DNR finding.

"I believe in their philosophy, but I think you have to use judgment," Anulewicz said.

At issue now is a drain running along Joy Road near Canton Center Road, in the proposed Trillium Woods development.

The DNR wants the drain uncovered. But Anulewicz said the drain is seven feet deep in some areas, and that could pose a danger to kids playing nearby. "I do believe we're talking about a safety issue here," Anulewicz said.

"I'm going to be hopeful here that we had a overzealous (DNR) individual attempt to do their job, but they didn't take a step back and look at the full (situation)," he said.

"On that basis I am confident the DNR must come to the same conclusion," he said, that the drain be covered.

"Their overall objective is an excellent one: the retention of wetlands, the cleaning of our storm waters, avoidance of downstream impact of large quantities a chartered bus with youth groups from other nearby parishes, and off they went. Altogether approximately 2,000 people from the Detroit Archdiocese went to Denver.

"The most touching moment was when he was sitting there holding back tears," Keil said of Pope John Paul II. "He looked so emotional and human."

Seeing the pope was undoubtedly the thrill of a lifetime for the kids and the chaperones. For Jason Leisner, 14, seeing the pope was a memorable event, even though he had a hard time hearing all the pope had to say.

"He really hit the respect of life," said chaperone Dorothy Morse. The pope's message to pastors was to allow children to question; the message to families was the need to maintain values; and the message to kids was that they must have a relationship with God, she added.

"It's kind of geeky to talk about the church here. Out there it was OK to talk about the church," said Monica Morse, 17, adding she came home realizing that when Jesus was a teenager, he was probably just like herself and other kids.

Dorothy Morse recalled the papal welcome at the start of Youth Day. It poured with rain, yet it didn't matter. "People were sharing umbrellas. Nobody moved. We got together and no one moved."

The camaraderie among the visitors and the camaraderie the kids and chaperones felt with the pope is something none of them will soon forget. "We felt connected. There was a lot of excitement and tears. This was really world peace," Dorothy Morse continued.

Chaperone Dolores Mulcahy recalled the 5.7-mile hike to the historic Cherry Creek Reservoir and the evening under the stars awaiting a papal Mass Sunday. "It was a pilgrimage. It wasn't a vacation. It was rough some times."

During a Mass, Justin Leisner, 15, walked up a steep grade for a drink of water. "We looked down and saw all the people. It was a multitude of people. There was standing room only," he said.

The kids and chaperones spoke of the variety of members in the Catholic Church. "Whether you agree with the pope or not, he does unite all the Catholics throughout the world. I felt very connected to the universal church," Dorothy Morse said.

Chaperone Maryann Keil couldn't disagree. "It gives us a picture of the whole Catholic Church of the world."

What struck with Monica Morse was the pope's message that they the kids in the stadium and their generation — are the future. "We have to bring everyone in."

No less impressive to the Plymouth-Canton group was Detroit Archbishop Adam Malda, who provided the 2,000 Youth Day visitors from Detroit with T-shirts.

"He's really a nice man. He was personable and warm. I was really just affected by him," Buchanan said.

Overwhelming was the word used most often by the kids and chaperones to describe their experience with the pope. Morse just called the rain and a blessing given by the pope. "A rainbow came out across the sky."

WHAT WORKS FOR HIM, MAY NOT DO FOR YOU

Take care when you compare your arthritis with the joint problems of another person. You may talk with someone who like you, has swollen hands or painful knees. That person, like you, may have difficulty arising in the morning, note undue fatigue during the day, and endure disrupted nights because of pain.

However, you cannot conclude that his arthritis is the same as yours, and that the therapy currently assisting that individual is what your doctor should try on you.

You are like someone with a flat tire. The cause could be a puncture in the tire itself or a defective valve. In both instances what you see is an airless tire low to the ground. The "cure" is quite different for each cause; a puncture requires a patch, a defective valve necessitates a new one.

There are arthritides that look like rheumatoid arthritis but treatment with gold or penicillamine, reasonable for rheumatoid disease, is wrong for these other conditions. There are joint swellings that look like gout, act like gout, but are not gout. In such instances, appropriate good medicine-cochicine, only leads to an upset stomach.

You should talk to other people with arthritis, they are a source of information and advice. However, stop short of comparing cures. Then you are exchanging gossip, not experience.

Huge holiday light show planned for Hines Park

By RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Wayne County Parks officials got a green light last week to set up a huge annual holiday light show in Hines Park this winter, but some county commissioners are seeing only red lights.

County Executive Edward McNamara and nine out of 15 county commissioners have agreed to borrow $250,000 from the county's Extended Lease Financing Program to buy lights and decorations from Bronners Christmas Decorations of Frankfort to adorn 4 1/2 miles of Hines Drive for 60 days from mid-November to mid-January.

They have amortized the loan over five years and expect to raise $300,000 in the first year alone by requesting a $5 voluntary donation from every carload of folks who show up to see the display.

Objecting commissioners included Bryan Amann, D-Wayne, who also represents Canton, and Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, who also represents Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Referring to himself as "the Grinch," McCotter said there's no way he could support such a thing. "With an $11.75 million deficit (so far), now is not the time to be purchasing Christmas lights."

McCotter also wondered about the cost of set-up, maintenance and storage of the decorations, not to mention the liability cost to the county if someone were to get hurt and sue.

Amann agreed. "It's the equivalent of buying a new pair of shoes, then you have to buy a new outfit to go with it," he said.

The original idea came from Hurley Coleman, the county parks director, who said he wants to generate revenue for the parks because the parks budget may be cut for 1994. "We've done enough research to know that it's not frivolous," Coleman said. "This is government trying to do something that makes good business sense."

Among the decorations the county will buy are four eight-foot elves, two waving snowmen, an 18-foot toy soldier, a 15-foot waving Santa Claus, two nine-foot golfers, 11 six-foot snowflakes and one seven-foot fishing penguin.

Similar projects have been launched in Ann Arbor, Flint, Ogleby Park, W.Va. and Decatur, Ill.

But McCotter said that "if this was such a clear-cut case of making money, some entrepreneur would have done it already."

Also opposing the light show were commissioners Susan Hubbard, D-Deerborn, and Andrew Richner, R-Grosse Pointe, who don't often find themselves on the same side of an issue.

Area commissioners who supported the light show are Michelle Plawewski, D-Deerborn Heights, who also represents Redford, and Kay Beard, D-Westland, who also represents Garden City.

In a written statement, Plawewski said she supports the light show because budget cuts are almost inevitable later this year. "It's very likely that we will be facing a deficit, and that some programs will suffer budget cuts as well as the possibility of elimination," she wrote. "Therefore, I supported the 'Festival of Lights' program because it is designed to be a revenue generator."

McCotter was mad enough to issue his own written statement in the form of a press release. "I've had residents of Northville and Plymouth Townships ask the county to improve public services, but never to install Christmas lights," he wrote. "This issue sends taxpayers the clear message that the county has seriously misplaced its priorities."

The parks department is also expecting to pay $60,000 for personnel and $5,000 for promotion of the light show. Detroit Edison has agreed to increase the electrical capacity of the park for free, a $40,000 value. Additional donations are being sought.

Among the decorations the county will buy are four 8-foot elves, two waving snowmen, a 20-foot ice fountain, an 18-foot toy soldier, a 15-foot waving Santa Claus, two 9-foot golfers, 11 6-foot snowflakes and one 7-foot fishing penguin.

Governor promises 'net tax cut'

By TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Gov. John Engler is determined that Michiganians will get a net tax cut, even after new taxes are imposed to pay for schools.

But Engler said he has seen nothing to "open the door" to raising the state personal income tax to pay for the $6 billion property tax cut he signed into law Thursday.

Asked if he had set a figure for a net tax cut, he said, "There will be a net tax cut, but no numbers have been set."

Meanwhile, the Michigan Federation of Teachers, representing Detroit and a few suburbs, filed suit in Wayne Circuit Court to halt the property tax cut because the state has found no replacement revenue.

State treasurer Doug Roberts, an Engler appointee, said the governor might seek again to have voters raise the 4 percent sales-use tax as a major replacement source. Polls have shown the sales-use tax is the least unpopular of all taxes in Michigan.

Engler went to Greenfield Village in Dearborn Thursday, to the 1861 Scotch Settlement School that Henry Ford attended, where he signed Senate Bill 1 to cheers from a mainly Republican audience. It repeals $6 billion in operating property taxes for public schools and intermediate (county) districts. The state still supplies $3.5 billion in school aid.

John Engler
Governor

Republicans talked of a net cut in taxes of $500 million to $2 billion.

Engler touted "schools of choice," in which parents would choose which public schools their kids would attend, although state grants for that program will be ended as of Oct. 1.

Many lawmakers are talking about restoring school districts' ability to levy "enrichment taxes." There was little agreement, however, on whether those would be a restoration of part of the property tax or a local income tax.

Engler and GOP lawmakers showed little interest in consolidating small, fiscally weak school districts. Michigan has 562 districts, many with only a few dozen pupils.

Despite stiff resistance from teachers unions, Republicans will seek "cost containment" laws to cut school costs.

"This fall I want to see significant reforms passed by the Legislature and on my desk," Engler said.

The audience cheered his references to "schools of choice" and "bureaucracy" out of education. Citing the $9 billion cost of Michigan public schools, Engler said, "We are already paying for a world class education. Now it's time to deliver one — to more applause."

Engler repeated his call for "schools of choice" within the public school system but wouldn't endorse consolidating other free local districts from dealing with finances and let them concentrate on teaching.

Last year the Legislature put up money for "choice" plans within counties, said Robert Schiller, superintendent of public instruction.

'This fall I want to see significant reforms passed by the Legislature and on my desk.'

Some cost cuts

Many legislators at the ceremony saw no need to replace all the lost $6 billion.

"There will be a net tax cut," said Rep. Willis Bullard, R-Milford, chair of the House Taxation Committee. "We'll eliminate some tax expenditures (tax breaks). We'll cut state spending. And we'll do cost containment."

"The governor seems to want to put a sales tax proposal on the ballot," added Bullard, whose panel would handle such a proposed constitutional amendment.

The Legislature's job is eased by the fact that the property tax cut law also eliminates an $850 million item from the budget — income tax rebates for homeowners who have paid property taxes beyond 3.5 percent of income.

"I don't see $6 billion in replacement taxes," said Rep. Jerry See TAXES, 12A

Folk art crafters delight collectors

Folk art collectors tend to be savvy shoppers. They must exhibit an uncanny knack for being the first with the hot idea, the first to discover the underappreciated and undervalued. Of course there's more to collecting than merely amassing a large number of reasonably priced items. True collectors only buy pieces that have meaning to them. They look for handcrafted quality, a sense of history and a personal connection. They fall in love first and worry about the financial value later. Often, the best pieces find them.

Kathy Bricker of Backdoor Gallery in Farmington defines folk art as something that is handcrafted and passed down from generation to generation. "It could have a functional use in addition to its art form," she says. With this in mind, she and her partner Kath Lathers opened a gallery of contemporary folk art. They exhibit non-traditional folk creations, each expressing a unique personality. The artists use fiber, wood, earth, metals and found objects to craft these extraordinary sculptures.

Personality plus

Lathers grew up in a small town and learned to sew at her grandmother's knee while the older woman spun memorable tales. Today, she imagines her own stories and expresses them through the dolls she makes. "I always leave room for the owner to personalize the doll," she says, explaining the simplicity of her storylines. Pictured is "Dreamsweep" — she sweeps away broken dreams to make room for new ones. Lathers' dolls are elf-like beings draped in exquisite fabrics. "They are crafted from the soul," she says, "very internal pieces."

Carol Styles of Jackson creates mythological figures, mostly goddesses woven of unusual, beautiful fibers. Grace Forrest's dolls feature plaster guaze heads and wisps of a spirit. "They're wisps of a spirit," says Bricker.

California artist Olga Cinnamon's dolls are designed so that every person sees something different in each one. They are richly embellished with beads, exemplifying the fact that we are all made of different colors and textures.

Bonnie Penet of Ypsilanti uses twigs, bones, shells, feathers and other found objects to create her papier mache "Black Madonna."

Legendary heroes

The work of Wendy Ellertson "inspires family legends," says Bricker. Her dolls are intricate, fantastical beings. And Marion Drougalis of Ypsilanti combines paper clay faces with painted fabrics to craft imaginative, legendary Native American figures. "A Light Heart" symbolizes the ancient adage that "to get to heaven, one's heart must be as light as a feather."

"We're really creating a new form of folk art," reasons Lathers. "It's the story aspect of our pieces that is so important to retain."

Visit this new and enchanting gallery at 37220 Eight Mile Road. Open Thursday and Friday, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Santa Fe is a mecca for folk art collectors and we can enjoy some of the best of the west at Mesa Arts Gallery, 32800 Franklin Road in Franklin. Folk artist Mark Kluck intricately carves Sioux warriors on horseback, complete with authentic tribal costumes ($2750). The gallery also features his whimsical weather-vane Noah's Ark inhabited by giraffes, bunnies, armadillo and elephants, among other creatures ($600).

Maria Cash carves colorful Hispanic religious figures. "Harvest Lady," dressed in a festive painted skirt, carries a basket of dried flowers ($925). The urban fetishes, worked in clay, of sculpture artist Alice Seely, depict Good Weather, Fertility and a Water Carrier, all in gorgeous Southwest colors. She also creates a collection of masks.

Follow your heart to the folk art collective of your choice. Linda Bachrack is a Birmingham resident. You can leave her column ideas at 953-2047, mailbox 1889, or fax them to her at 644-1314.

Fall fashion pays a tribute to the past

Fall fashions are inspired by history and the theater this season, making them classic purchases to be worn year after year. The dilemma for the shopper becomes: What era suits me?

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

After the shock wears off, you begin to realize that this year's fall fashions are really fun.

They are very definitely about "looks," attempting to replace the Corporate, Preppy, Grunge, and L.L. Bean looks of the '80s with '90s looks inspired by the classics of other eras like Indochine, Edwardian, Russian Immigrant, Medieval and Funky.

Indochine fashions mean beautiful, rich-hued sheaths that slit Suzy Wong-style as high as you dare to go. Indochine includes Nehru jackets over skinny pants and sarong skirts.

The Edwardian Look features romantic ruffled blouses with ruffled cuffs, patterned vests, jodhpurs, cutaway jackets trimmed with velvet or leather collars, slim-legged trousers and lace-up boots.

The Immigrant Look is upscale Russian, with wool coats trimmed in fur with fur hats and leather boots, "deconstructed" jackets and trousers, long slim skirts topped by oversized tunic sweaters and suspended trousers with peg-legged pants.

The Medieval Look translates into hooded capes and robes, empire-waisted dresses, jewel-toned velvet skirts, jackets and slacks, brocade vests, gowns in fluid crepes and chiffons.

The grand finale is the '60s-flavored Retro Look bringing back the platform shoes, granny glasses, fringed and crocheted vests, bell-bottom slacks and chain belts, shoppers may still have in the back of their closets.

Saks Fifth Avenue reports in its Fall Folio catalog that "The new rules are no rules. Be romantic one moment. Cutting edge the next. juxtapose day with night. One decade with another. Classicism with modernism. Let your personal style reign." Saks calls it "The New Realism." M. J. Burns, Hudson's fashion director, suggested that each beautiful piece aside, what's really important this season are the accessories that make each look definitive and special. "Chokers with pendants, pucci prints, tie-dye hosiery, hats, ankle boots, jewelry with peace signs, the short contrasted with the long, that's the key to fall dressing," she said. "Velvet is the essential fabric, whether it's crushed, soft or combined with lycra, or just used to trim jackets, or hats." Janice Hayes fashion director at Jacobson's stressed the architectural element in fall dressing. "Each look has an architectural quality to the style," she pointed out. "It's a very debonair season. From the beautiful simplicity of the monastic styles in black on black, to the long-over-long looks in ribbed knitwear. The new classics are inspired by the

Extra money needed

Dems say education should cost more

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Democratic legislators and their friends say improving public schools may take more money — not less, as Gov. John Engler and Republicans contend.

"Education is under-funded now, even in Southfield," Dr. Marlene Davis told a visiting House Democratic Task Force last week. She is superintendent of Southfield schools, third biggest spending district ($9,300 per pupil) in Michigan.

"Senate Bill 1 (which eliminates school property taxes) took away $6 billion," said Rep. Ted Wallace, D-Detroit. "Maybe we ought to decide what we need and then come up with the money, which, from my perspective, may be more than $6 billion."

"Michigan is obsessed with how cheap we can do it," said Penny Shanks, former president of the Rochester PTA Council, agreeing with Wallace that state school funding is "definitely inadequate."

Leonard Brozowski, a Farmington Hills resident who is president of Robotron Corp. in Southfield, said he has spent $250,000 in teaching many of his 130 employees basic skills. He said the manufacturer of electronic tools spend money on drug rehabilitation, employee turnover, and teaching math and problem solving.

Asked if he would be willing to spend more tax money on education, Brozowski said yes. "I'm paying 'em anyway. If I can spend more up front in taxes and less later, I'd be ahead," he told the task force.

State Rep. William Keith, D-Garden City, chaired a public hearing Thursday about what should be done to pay for schools now that the property tax has been wiped out.

Keith was elected when Southfield's Davis echoed some of his pet ideas on changing the curriculum. She advocated:

- Teaching reading, technical writing, speaking and listening with less emphasis on literature.
- Emphasizing "applied physics — where the jobs are." Currently Michigan schools teach biology, chemistry and physics, "but very few take physics."

New curriculum

Keith was elected when Southfield's Davis echoed some of his pet ideas on changing the curriculum. She advocated:

- Teaching reading, technical writing, speaking and listening with less emphasis on literature.
- Emphasizing "applied physics — where the jobs are." Currently Michigan schools teach biology, chemistry and physics, "but very few take physics."

Shifting the math curriculum to probabilities and statistics rather than traditional algebra, geometry, trigonometry and calculus.

Parents resist change, Davis said. "They'd just as soon do things the way they did so they can help their kids."

Shanks of the Rochester PTA blasted Gov. Engler's "schools of choice" plan. If it were adopted, she said, schools immediately would pour money into public relations and marketing to attract good students. "We don't need more overhead," she said.

"There would be no guarantee parents would have adequate information to make choices," Shanks said.

Job skills needed

Brozowski said he found local job applicants poorly prepared. "Seven out of 10 couldn't spot six and five-eighths inches on a tape measure," he said.

Although his business is international, Brozowski said just five of his 130 workers know a foreign language — three because they are immigrants who learned English as a second language.

Although Robotron has a computer for every two employees, he found that less than 25 percent of the workforce learned typig in school.

"Our culture focuses on individual performance instead of team performance. We (public schools) don't teach the skills of problems solving," he said.

Brozowski advocated a longer school day and year, noting foreign high school graduates have spent an average of 3.2 years more in class than Americans by the end of 12th grade.

Jim Warner, vice chancellor for curriculum of Oakland Community College, said 74 percent of U.S. colleges must offer remedial work because high school graduates are so poorly prepared for college.

Dearborn Heights mother Kathy Gross said her daughter learns more in a private school for $900 a year than in public schools funded at $4,200 per pupil a year.

"You've been putting in large numbers of tax dollars. But money doesn't solve it," she said. "Public schools take all comers," countered Rep. Maxine Berman of Southfield. "If you can't make it in private schools, you're out."

Added Rep. Wallace: "It's interesting everyone seems to feel that in government we can get more for less. But in every other part of life, we believe you pay for what you get."

trical and historical fashions." Hayes said she expected all forms of the white blouse to be a bestseller for Jacobson's this season. Whether tailored, ruffled or dandified, most looks are built around the white blouse.

Knitwear will also sell well, according to Hayes, whether it's sheer, flat knitwear or the bulkier ethnic handknits.

If there ever was a year to buy a new winter coat, it's this year all fashion leaders agreed. The coats have never been so highly styled, fancier buttoned or carefully trimmed. Patterned after military, equestrian and Edwardian looks of the past, the coats and hooded capes are sure to please and uplift many a dreary Michigan winter morning. Taylor Holiday of Troy was shopping at Hudson's in the Oakland Mall for something to wear to her husband's class reunion next month. She selected a black, Suzy Wong-styled sheath which she planned to rewear come New Year's Eve.

"I saw a movie on cable where the actresses all wore dresses like this," she said. "They looked so glamorous. I feel the same way. Can't gain a pound though, or the elusion is shattered."

This shopping season, when retailers don't expect too much because of the uncertain tax plans and slow-bounding economy, the designers have given shoppers something to think about.

Friday, Thomas added that he was still calling board members. "I don't want to duck the issue, but I've been going nuts."
Chuck Portelli, PCEA president, was awaiting a call from the administration of the board before proceeding, but said he was agreeable to pursuing the plan.
"The current leadership is willing to discuss and explore the possibilities of the 3 percent. But there are some PCEA concerns we need to discuss with the board team, and those haven't been addressed yet. That has to be taken care of before it can go back to our membership," he said.
Portelli said all the concerns may not be solvable in the short term, "but we need to know we're finding heart. Teachers are in some difficult situations right now."
"The teachers have a general membership meeting scheduled for 7 a.m. Aug. 30. A vote could be taken that day if rules requiring more time for a vote are suspended."
"Some teachers in the past have said they would agree to a pay deferral or freeze if that's a guarantee the money would be used to hire laid-off teachers."
"Portelli said it's difficult to say how teachers would vote."
"We don't know how our membership feels. We don't know where they sit. We'll try to see if it's workable."
Vassallo, who wrote the plan, said, "I don't care how it gets done. I'm not looking for credit or to run for anything. I just want kids to have what they're supposed to have."
The teachers' deferral would give us the status quo for one more year until the state decides what it wants to do (with school finance)," said Vassallo, who

Tax vote undergoes post-mortem

By M.B. DILLON STAFF WRITER
Kristin Young, a Plymouth Salem High School junior who worked at car washes this summer to try to pass a school tax increase, pleaded with her dad to move after voters rejected the tax increase Tuesday. The defeat meant the cancellation for the fall of all extracurricular activities.
Jay Young said Kristin, a class officer, said to him, "It's so important to my high school career. Why would I want to take choir as a class and not perform?"
A disheartened Young said at tax-increase campaign headquarters Tuesday, "She's devastated. When she asked me to move, my answer was, 'Where would we move? Who will buy a house here?'

"The first question buyers ask is, 'Do you have a quality school system?'"
"I really thought they might pull it off this time," added Young.
In the aftermath of voters' 9,238-8,294 defeat of the tax increase, observers offered post-mortems on the outcome.
"People have taxes on their minds," said Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent for business.
"Also, confusion exists in the State of Michigan. Right now, the state is in flux and is about to restructure K-12 education. My feel-

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SUBSECTION B OF SECTION 74.180 OF CHAPTER 74 OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH, PROVIDING THAT IN THE REGULATION OF RATES OR CHANGES ASSOCIATED WITH THE PROVIDING OF MULTI-CHANNEL SERVICE CLASSIFIED AS CABLE SERVICE THAT THE FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION'S RATES AND CHARGES REGULATIONS WILL BE APPLIED; PROVIDING FOR OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL INTERESTED PARTIES TO BE HEARD; AND PROVIDING FOR ADEQUATE PUBLIC NOTICE, PROVIDING FOR SAVINGS CLAUSE; PROVIDING FOR SEVERABILITY FOR VIOLATION THEREOF; PROVIDING FOR REPEAL OF INCONSISTENT ORDINANCES; PROVIDING FOR THE EFFECTIVE DATE.

SECTION 1: Amendments
This Ordinance amends Subsection B of Section 74.180 of Chapter 74 of the Ordinance of Charter Township of Plymouth. It provides that in regulation of rates or changes associated with the providing of multi-channel service classified as cable service that the Board/Franchising authority will follow the relevant regulations adopted by the Federal Communications Commission, all interested parties will be provided an opportunity to be heard and adequate public notice will be given.
SECTION 2: Violation and Penalty
This Section provides for penalties for violation of this Ordinance.
SECTION 3: Savings Clause
This Section provides that adoption of this Ordinance does not affect proceedings, prosecutions for violations of law, penalties, and matured rights and duties in effect before the effective date of this Ordinance.
SECTION 4: Severability
This Section provides that any unenforceable section can be severed from the rest of the Ordinance.
SECTION 5: Repeal of Inconsistent Ordinances
This Section provides that all Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are repealed to the extent of such conflict.
SECTION 6: Publication
The Clerk for the Charter Township of Plymouth shall cause this Ordinance to be published in the manner required by law.
SECTION 7: Effective Date
This Section provides that this Ordinance shall become effective upon its publication.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH
Ordinance No. C-93-03
AMENDMENT TO CHAPTER 51 CRIMINAL CODE

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH AMENDING CHAPTER 51, CRIMINAL CODE, ARTICLE II, BY ADDING SECTION 51.330 TO THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH CODE TO PROHIBIT STALKING; PROVIDING FOR THE DEFINITION OF TERMS IN THE ORDINANCE; PROVIDING FOR THE PENALTY THEREFOR; PROVIDING FOR THE TERMS OF PROBATION; PROVIDING FOR A REBUTTABLE PRESUMPTION THAT REPEATED STALKING CAUSES THE VICTIM TO FEEL TERRORIZED, FRIGHTENED, INTIMIDATED, THREATENED, HARASSED OR MOLESTED, AND PROVIDING THAT VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE MAY BE PENALIZED IN ADDITION TO CONTEMPT OF COURT ARISING FROM THE SAME CONDUCT, PROVIDING FOR SEVERABILITY; PROVIDING FOR A SAVINGS CLAUSE; AND PROVIDING FOR THE PUBLICATION AND EFFECTIVE DATE.

SECTION 1: Amendment to the Code
Sec. 51.330 is hereby added to Article II, Chapter 51 of the Code of Ordinances of the Charter Township of Plymouth:
SECTION 51.330: Stalking
Sec. 1. As used in this section:

(a) "Course of conduct" means a pattern of conduct composed of a series of 2 or more separate noncontinguous acts, evidencing a continuity of purpose.
(b) "Emotional distress" means significant mental suffering or distress that may, but does not necessarily require, medical or other professional treatment or counseling.
(c) "Harassment" means conduct directed toward a victim that includes, but is not limited to, repeated or continuing unwanted contact, that would cause a reasonable individual to suffer emotional distress, and that actually causes the victim to suffer emotional distress. Harassment does not include constitutionally protected activity or conduct that serves a legitimate purpose.
(d) "Stalking" means a willful course of conduct involving repeated or continuing harassment of another individual that would cause a reasonable person to feel terrorized, frightened, intimidated, threatened, harassed or molested, and that actually causes the victim to feel terrorized, frightened, intimidated, threatened, harassed or molested.
(e) "Unwanted contact" means any contact with another individual that is initiated or continued without that individual's expressed desire that the contact be avoided or discontinued. Unwanted contact includes, but is not limited to, any of the following:

(i) Following or appearing within the sight of that individual.
(ii) Approaching or confronting that individual in a public place or on private property.
(iii) Appearing at the workplace or residence of that individual.
(iv) Entering onto or remaining on property owned, leased, or occupied by that individual.
(v) Contacting that individual by telephone.
(vi) Sending mail or electronic communications to that individual.
(vii) Placing an object on, or delivering an object to, property owned, leased, or occupied by that individual.
(f) "Victim" means an individual who is the target of a willful course of conduct involving repeated or continuing harassment.
(2) An individual who engages in stalking is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for not more than 90 days or a fine of not more than $500, or both.
(3) The court may place an individual convicted of violating subsection (2) on probation for a term of not more than 1 year. If a term of probation is ordered, the court may, in addition to any other lawful condition of probation, order the defendant to do any of the following:
(a) Refrain from stalking any individual during the term of probation.
(b) Refrain from having any contact with the victim of the offense.
(c) Be evaluated to determine the need for psychiatric, psychological or social counseling and, if determined appropriate by the court, to receive psychiatric, psychological, or social counseling at his or her own expense.
(4) In a prosecution for a violation of this section, evidence that the defendant continued to engage in a course of conduct involving repeated unwanted contact with the victim after having been requested by the victim to discontinue the same or a different form of unwanted contact, and to refrain from any further unwanted contact with the victim, shall give rise to a rebuttable presumption that the continuation of the course of conduct caused the victim to feel terrorized, frightened, intimidated, threatened, harassed, or molested.
(5) A criminal penalty provided for under this section may be imposed in addition to any penalty that may be imposed for any other criminal offense arising from the same conduct or for any contempt of court arising from the same conduct.

SECTION 2: Severability
Should any section, clause or paragraph of this Ordinance be declared by a Court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the same will not affect the validity of the Ordinance as a whole or part thereof other than the part declared invalid.

SECTION 3: Violation and Penalty
Any person, corporation or partnership or other legal entity who violates the provisions of this Ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined not more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars or imprisoned not more than 90 days, or both, at the discretion of the Court. Every act or violation and every day upon which violation may occur shall be considered a separate offense.

SECTION 4: Repeal
All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are, to the extent of such conflict hereby repealed.

SECTION 5: Savings Clause
Rights and duties which have matured, penalties which have been incurred, proceedings which have begun and prosecution for violations of law occurring before the effective date of this ordinance are not affected or abated by this ordinance.

SECTION 6: Publication
The Township Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published in the manner required by law.

SECTION 7: Effective Date
This Ordinance shall become effective upon passage and publication.

CERTIFICATION
This Ordinance was duly adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth at its regular meeting called and held on the 17th day of August, 1993, and was ordered to be given publication in the manner required by law.

Introduced: July 30, 1993

Smoke-eater Bill gets fired up over assignment

It's about 7 p.m. and Lt. Tom Shurtleff is showing a group of mostly new volunteer firefighters the floor plan of a house that he's just sure will go up in flames this very evening.

BILL COUTANT

That's because Shurtleff will help make sure it does, so these paid-on-call firefighters can learn from one of only two "training burns" the department has been able to arrange this year.

"We used to have as many as 11 of these a year," Farmington Hills Fire Chief Richard Marinucci tells the group during the pre-fire briefing at Station 3 in the Olde Town section of the city. "We only have about two a year now. So pick up as much as you can."

Actually, many fire departments don't do training burns at all. There are just too many concerns about liability and safety.

Shurtleff tells the group to make sure and refill their air packs and to "rehydrate" or drink water as often as possible.

Within about a half hour, an old, abandoned house on property to be developed as a new subdivision on Nine Mile near Averhill, becomes the training subject for the firefighters. For some it is their first fire. For me it is.

Hot day; heavy clothes

The temperature is in the mid-80s and the air is as heavy as an overcoat. On go the boots, heavy protective pants, coat, hood, helmet with mask and an air pack — about 65 pounds that feels like a ton by the time it's on. "Is it (the air) on?" asks Lt. Mike Garr, a veteran firefighter who specializes in fire prevention and is my guide through this inferno. I can hear him through our two masks, but it's like we're in a fish tank. Garr says that when he first used an air pack, many of his fellow firefighters snickered, as if pallets meant to duplicate furnishings. Then the flames fan out over the ceiling, like outstretched fingers, greedily consuming all before them.

The new firefighters pull off their gloves to get an idea how hot the fire has already become. I do the same and lean against the wall to brace myself before realizing that protective clothing only goes so far — Ouch!

MIKE GARR

Smiling and sweating: Reporter Bill Coutant is happy that he's about to get out of some hot duds and take a cool shower after a recent training burn in Farmington Hills.

Watch that airpack!

Then a bell rings. Somebody's air pack is within five minutes of being empty so it must be refilled at one of the specially equipped fire trucks. But that is an improvement from a time when the air packs had to be refilled at the fire station.

After two upstairs fires, even the younger firefighters are feeling the heat and camping around the water, lemonade and Gatorade coolers between trips into the house.

Chad Lyon, one of the newer firefighters, grabs some water and admits that the heat has burned off any adrenaline he had going in, unlike his first fire — a real one in February, which claimed a resident's life and totally burned down a two-story house.

"I went through three tanks (30 minute air packs) before I even took a break at that one," he says. "I had so much adrenaline going."

We go back in the house to fight another fire when I come to another depressing realization — call it a lack of vision on my part. Garr had asked me if I would feel claustrophobic in all that gear. "No," I had told him. "Just as long as I can see what I'm doing."

Wrong answer! I quickly find that once the smoke gets going, I'm lucky to see anything. Then I remember deputy chief Pete Baldwin telling me about a time when he walked up stairs onto a landing and became disoriented.

"Every firefighter who does this very long has at least one of those type of experiences," he says.

House is a maze

There will be several more fires throughout the old house, which because of many additions, is like a maze, even though firefighters know the floor plan. Most times firefighters aren't that lucky.

"It would be like me taking you into my house blindfolded," Garr says. "You don't know where anything is and you can't see. And nowadays, the bedrooms in a house can be downstairs, or anywhere. So finding people inside can be tricky."

Garr tells me that people outside can often tell as much or more about where things are and what the fire is doing than those inside, which is why the officer in charge stays outside. "I was once going up some stairs," Garr says. "They (firefighters outside) told me not to, so I came back down. When I got outside, I could see that the stairs had been burned away. But because of the smoke, I couldn't see that."

I leave the scene before 9 p.m. to get a cold shower back at the station and head off to another assignment. The firefighters don't finish their training fires until about 10:30 p.m. Putting away the equipment and cleaning up the site takes them well past midnight.

There is another entire set of problems firefighters face in the winter months. But I try not to think of that now. Besides, I'm too hot and too tired.

Bill Coutant is a reporter for the Farmington Observer.

Vorva, R-Plymouth. "It will be significantly less. A $2 billion savings would be wonderful. It's possible, though I'm not overly optimistic."

"There will not be a (restoration of the) property tax for schools," said Rep. Penny Crissman, R-Rochester. "There will be restructuring of the budget."

"There will be a combination of taxes and reduction of costs," predicted Rep. Tom Middleton, R-Ortonville. "I see a half-billion to one-billion-dollar cost reduction." Middleton would like to see other local units of government allowed to collect more property taxes so that the state could get rid of its revenue-sharing program with cities, townships and counties.

Middleton said allowing schools to collect a local income tax was a possibility.

That made Wayne-Westland school board member Laurel Raisanen shudder. "Right now these local elections are tearing our districts apart. These millage elections are ugly," she said.

Dec. 31 deadline

One of the few Democrats attending was Sen. Debbie Stabenow, the only candidate for Engler's job who voted for the massive property tax cut.

"The schools will be funded in 1994," the senator from Lansing said. "We had to create a deadline."

Stabenow predicted the Legislature would enact replacement taxes by Dec. 31. If it fails to do so, any taxes enacted in 1994 would require a two-thirds majority, under the constitution, so they could take effect the same year.

As for intraparty criticism she has received, Stabenow wrote it off as "election year politics."

Sales tax base

One idea discussed very quietly in Lansing has been expanding the base of the sales tax — applying it to more items without raising the 4 percent rate.

"I don't think we're going to do that. I'd rather increase the rate (requiring voter approval). We also could eliminate exemptions on the income tax. That would raise $1 billion. Each 0.1 percent increase in the single business tax raises $85 million," Bullard said.

Protests

Teachers unionists picketed the entrance to Greenfield Village. One Detroit school activist shouted during the ceremony that "some of us aren't applauding you, governor."

In general, unionists would have preferred to levy replacement taxes before eliminating the property tax as the source of two-thirds of public school revenues. The Michigan Education Association called the bill signing ceremony "a day of catastrophic consequences."

Taxes drag down recovery - expert

The advance economic barometer, a Comerica Bank index that forecasts business activity six months into the future, rose to 2.4 in July, representing a 0.7 point improvement over a downward revised 1.7 level in June.

"These readings are not terribly impressive," said David L. Littman, first vice president and senior economist with the bank in Detroit.

Except in June, this bellwether index of economic direction has averaged 1.4 since March, suggesting real gross domestic product gains averaging 1.5 to 3.0 percent for the economy during the rest of 1993.

"During the economic recoveries of 1971-73, 1975-76 and 1983-84, the barometer registered levels of strength between 5.0 and 9.0 for protracted periods. In those instances, the economy followed suit within six to 12 months, exhibiting quarterly real growth rates between 5 and 10 percent," Littman said.

Littman blamed "the fiscal drag exerted by tax increases."

"The advance economic barometer is performing at levels nearly a full point lower than last fall, meaning that the Michigan business activity index will be less vigorous in January 1994 than it was at mid-year."

The advance economic barometer combines inflation-adjusted money growth, yield curve spread, and the Commerce Department's Index of Leading Indicators to produce an economic indicator.

I used to wear glasses and contacts...

until I had RK (Radial Keratotomy) at the Vision Institute of Michigan!

Meet Michelle of Lake Orion. Like many other people, Michelle used to wear glasses and contact lenses to correct her nearsightedness. Then she discovered RK -- a brief (3-5 minute) office surgery which permanently eliminated her dependence on corrective lenses. Michelle chose to have her RK at the Vision Institute of Michigan. She liked the success rate -- 96.4% of patients reach vision of 20/40 or better.* And she liked the fact that Dr. Novetsky, his wife, mother, brother, and many of the Vision Institute staff have all had RK.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Pig roast delicious way to feed a crowd

When the Janes Gang throws a party, watch out! Everyone loves a party, and as we near the traditional end of summer, the Janes Gang is no different.

Momma has a simple guideline that was instilled in all the kids — "when you throw a party, never run out of food."

So as Labor Day weekend fast approaches, and with its thoughts of ending the summer with a party to beat all parties, I thought it might be helpful to offer a few tips on how to roast a pig, kind of a "pig primer."

Folks who might attempt a pig roast have two things in common: They love good pork, and they have a multitude of friends. Roasting a whole pig to serve a large group can be done by several methods. It goes without saying, a pig roast should be well planned.

To achieve tasty results, it's best to keep several points in mind. First off, the party planner should have a good source for whole pigs, should know how to beg, borrow or steal a rotating spit device or have access to a good pit, and lastly and most importantly, should be aware of proper cooking procedures.

When it comes to locating a whole pig for roasting, your best bet is to contact a reputable butcher. Small suckling pigs, varying in weight from 12 to 35 pounds, and can be roasted in a standard oven or large covered grill with minimum fuss.

Larger pigs, escalating in weight to upwards of 125 pounds are fairly common, but need sophisticated equipment, and someone with a fairly good understanding of pig roasts.

There's nothing worse than having 75 of your closest friends stand around for hours waiting for the pig to graduate from rare to medium well done. If your butcher can't offer a good source, contact your local 4-H Club or call a large meat broker in the Eastern Market area of Detroit. (Yours truly gets his pigs from Allied Provision in the Eastern Market area.)

Expect to pay about $1.89 per pound for a whole dressed pig, with head intact. To ensure adequate portions, allow at least 2 pounds of dressed pig (head on) per person. If you don't know anyone with a pig roaster, your best bet is to rent one from an agency.

Motorized pig spits start at $75 to rent and escalate in price as the pig escalates in weight. If you have a big back yard, and don't mind digging a hole three feet deep, 30 inches wide, and of sufficient length to accommodate the pig (figure on at least 4 feet in length for a larger pig) you can pit roast.

To pit roast, the cook must build up hot coals at least 1 1/2 feet deep, and then cover them with pea gravel about 2 inches deep. The pig is placed on a grate of welded wire and then immediately covered with galvanized roofing and a foot or more of dirt.

Pit roasting is popular with cooks who want to entertain while the pig cooks because this method requires about 12 hours of cooking time for an 85-100 pound pig.

Both methods will require about 200 pounds of good hardwood or charcoal.

Lastly, anyone who knows about roasting pigs will tell you that a good chef always has a meat thermometer within arm's reach.

Whole dressed pigs require minimal additives to make the meat succulent and tasty. Speaking from experience, I have rubbed the entire pig, inside and out with grenadine, a sugary syrup available at party stores, that induces a subtle sweetness while the pig cooks.

Stuffing the cavity with bunches of fresh herbs — rosemary and sage — also offers a tasty alternative. Salt and pepper are de rigueur and other than that, the most important ingredient is time. Not the herb, but the hours needed to make for a memorable meal.

Having done both a rotating spit and a pit roast, I prefer the rotating spit method for cooking simply because the person in charge has more control over timing and doneness.

The only obstacles I can recall from spit roasting a pig include careful observation of the pig, especially during the last few hours. During the last few hours of cooking, the juices begin to run rampant and can turn a pig roast into a pig fire in seconds. Also, as the pig cooks, it must be securely fastened to the spit so that it will not flop around and possibly break.

A drip pan is a must to catch the drippings and after securely attaching the pig to the spit, I then wrap the pig in chicken wire so that it will not break apart.

If you have an oven thermometer, the roasting temperature should stay at a constant 200-250 degrees for optimum results.

A relatively enclosed spit will maintain this temperature and can cook a 125 pound pig in about 6 hours.

Tropical treat: The tangy taste of key lime pie is available in Michigan from many area bakeries and restaurants, including the Whistle Stop in Birmingham.

T H E P I E S H A V E I T : key lime's a slice above

Key lime pie is tangy and sweet at the same time. Most people sample it for the first time in Florida. But you don't have to wait. Whistle Stop, Key Largo and Baker's Loaf are known for their scrumptious Key lime pie. Find out why.

BY GERI RINSCHLER
SPECIAL WRITER

If you travel to the southernmost point of the continental United States, you will surely happen upon a most heavenly dessert. And once you taste this tropical delight, you'll undoubtedly return to Michigan craving more.

Why is it that most of us have to travel to the Florida Keys to discover a treat that's been here all along? I can't answer that question, but after sampling a few slices of Key lime pie from three local experts, I can say, there's no need to travel to the Keys for Key lime pie.

When John and Frank Camileri took over ownership of the Whistle Stop restaurant in Birmingham a few months ago, they didn't think Key lime pie would become one of their signature desserts. Whistle Stop provided the pie that was photographed in our Livonia studio for this story.

"Key lime pie was on the menu when we assumed ownership and has been on the menu for many years," said John Camileri.

"Many of the recipes we're following were established by the restaurant's founder Kathryn Griffith, and we're dedicated to maintaining the integrity she established, and the collection of her original recipes."

It's hard to say what the original Key lime pie recipe looked like when Floridians discovered the Key lime. If you travel throughout the Keys today, you'll encounter pies made mostly with a graham cracker crust, and a few made with a butter pastry crust.

Most recipes for the filling incorporate sweetened condensed milk, egg yolks or whole eggs, and lime juice. Some fillings are baked, others are thickened with gelatin and refrigerated. Some are topped with meringue.

Couple battles high cholesterol

LAURA LETOBAR

High fat diets have a definite relationship to certain kinds of cancer. One is breast cancer. This is what led Marie Schiete of Livonia to switch to low-fat cooking. Schiete who is recovering from breast cancer surgery, is "cleaning up her act."

Both she and her husband Richard are also battling high cholesterol.

They are keeping a careful watch on their daily fat intake by following low-fat diet recommendations by the American Cancer Society and American Heart Association. They've also begun walking daily.

Schiete said she believes that "life goes on" even after a bout with breast cancer. That is why she is taking an active role in modifying her family's diet. She submitted a recipe she obtained from her daughter's mother-in-law for Lentil Sausage Casserole and asked for a "makeover."

Marie and Richard said they enjoy the casserole because it is comfort food. But due to the pork sausage, it was extremely high in fat.

I replaced the pork sausage with ground turkey. If you notice, I also increased the amount of tomato sauce from 8 ounces to 15 ounces. This is due to the low moisture in ground turkey breast.

The pork sausage adds quite a large amount of liquid to this recipe. This is due to the fat from the sausage liquefying and mixing with the other ingredients.

A rule of thumb is to increase the liquids when replacing a high fat meat with a low-fat one. Otherwise, your recipe will be very dry.

The amount of liquid will be something you must adjust per recipe. Just remember that the lower the fat content of the replacement meat, the more liquid you will need to add. I usually choose a liquid that will also add flavor to the recipe. This is

RECIPE MAKE OVER

Lentil-Sausage Casserole ORIGINAL RECIPE

- 1/2 pound dried lentils, washed
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 pound ground pork sausage
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1/2 cup green pepper, chopped
- 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
- 1/4 cup molasses
- 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 cup (2 ounces) shredded cheddar cheese

Put lentils in a large saucepan with 2 1/2 cups water and salt. Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, for 30 minutes or until tender. Do not drain lentils. Brown meat and drain on paper toweling. Reserve one tablespoon meat drippings. Place sausage in a 2-quart casserole dish. Saute chopped onion and green pepper in reserved drippings. Add tomato sauce, molasses, Worcestershire sauce and dry mustard to cooked lentils and mix thoroughly. Add lentil mixture to casserole dish and mix thoroughly with meat. Bake, uncovered, in 350 degree oven on center rack for 1 hour. Sprinkle with cheese and bake, uncovered until cheese is melted (about 3 minutes). Makes 6 servings.

Lentil-Turkey Casserole REDUCED FAT RECIPE

- 1/2 pound dried lentils, washed
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 pound Turkey Store brand 100 percent ground breast meat
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1/2 cup green pepper, chopped
- 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce
- 1/4 cup molasses
- 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 cup (2 ounces) Kraft brand Healthy Favorites shredded cheddar cheese

Put lentils in a large saucepan with 2 1/2 cups water and salt. Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, for 30 minutes or until tender. Do not drain lentils. Brown the turkey and drain on paper toweling. Reserve one tablespoon meat drippings. Place turkey in a 2-quart casserole dish. Saute chopped onion and green pepper in reserved drippings. Add tomato sauce, molasses, Worcestershire sauce and dry mustard to cooked lentils and mix thoroughly. Add lentil mixture to casserole dish and mix thoroughly with meat. Bake uncovered in 350 degree oven on center rack for 1 hr. Sprinkle with cheese and bake, uncovered, until cheese is melted (about 3 minutes). Makes 6 servings.

KEY LARGO'S KEY LIME PIE
2 large eggs, separate yolks and whites
1/6 ounces condensed milk
2 ounces Key lime juice
1/2 ounce natural gelatin
1/2 ounce very hot water
1 9-inch graham cracker pie shell

Add yolks to mixer bowl. Using the whites, brush them lightly over the graham cracker crust shell. Bake crust in a 350 degree oven for 2 minutes or until golden brown. Set crust aside to cool while preparing the filling.
Whip the yolks until they are light and lemon in color. In a separate bowl, dissolve gelatin in the hot water. When dissolved very slowly add to mixing bowl. Then, slowly add condensed milk. Stir well blending in lime juice.
Pour filling into cooled crust and refrigerate for 4-6 hours. Serve chilled garnished with whipped cream and thin fresh lime slices.

KEY LIME PIE
1 9-inch graham cracker pie crust
1 14-ounce can sweetened condensed milk
8 ounces non-dairy topping (Cool Whip)
1/4 cup fresh lime juice
1/4 cup fresh lime juice
Mix condensed milk with non-dairy topping until blended. Add lime juice and lemon juice to mixture and blend well. Pour into graham cracker crust. Refrigerate 3 hours before serving. Top with whipped cream (optional).
Recipe from Eugene Bielski, "Amazing Taste," cookbook published by the Altar Guild of St. Hugo of the Hills Church, Bloomfield Hills.

In a large bowl, sprinkle unflavored gelatine over cold water; let stand 5 minutes. Stir in sugar until blended. Add boiling water; stir until gelatine is completely dissolved, about 3 minutes. Add lime peel and juice. Chill until slightly thickened, about 15 minutes.
In a medium bowl, beat egg whites until stiff. While beating, gradually add gelatine mixture; beat until soft peaks form. Spoon into 8 dessert cups or a serving bowl; chill until firm about 2 hours.
Garnish, if desired, with twisted lime peel. Makes about 8 servings.

because fat is a natural flavor enhancer. When you remove the fat, the flavor may also be decreased.

This recipe also calls for 1/2 cup of shredded cheddar cheese. It is a good habit to learn to visualize the amount of a package you will need before you start measuring. For example, with shredded cheese, 2 ounces is equal to 1/4 cup. But, if you pack the cheese into the cup you can actually have twice the amount the recipe calls for.

This is where "hidden fats" can ruin a good low-fat recipe. So always try to visualize the amount of the total product you will need. Cheese usually comes in an 8-ounce package, you would only need 1/4 of the package for this recipe.

Fat is a natural flavor enhancer. When you remove the fat, the flavor may also be decreased.

Here's a great barbecue sauce recipe. It makes enough for a crowd.

BARBECUE SAUCE
Two 15-ounce cans tomato juice
1 cup dill pickle juice
1 cup honey
1/2 bottle (about 1 cup) Worcestershire sauce

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Serve with a roasted pig. Makes 1 quart.

most are garnished with whipped cream.

At the Whistle Stop, John Camileri improvised the traditional graham cracker crust a bit by adding chopped pecans and walnuts. The nuts add a nice crunch to the crust texture, and also balance well with the tangy Key lime filling.

I guess you should really expect a restaurant named Key Largo to feature Key lime pie on its menu, and you're right. Not only is it on the menu, it's been the best-selling dessert since the Walled Lake restaurant opened in 1987.

The technique used for the Key Largo pie filling is very similar to many found in the Keys. The filling — whole eggs, lime juice and sweetened condensed milk — is thickened since natural gelatin. It's then poured into a baked graham cracker crust and refrigerated 4-6 hours before serving.

According to Chef Matthew Jaguch, the secret to Key Largo's success starts with the use of authentic Key West lime juice which is ordered in gallon containers from Key West.

"Not only do we use the lime juice in our pie filling, but we also use it in a number of our tropical seafood entrees and salsas," he said.

Chefs at Whistle Stop and Key Largo agree that Nellie and Joe's Key West lime juice makes all the difference in their Key lime pies.

If you read Key lime juice bottle labels carefully, you'll notice a variety of descriptions for what's inside the bottle. Nellie and Joe's product is labeled, Key West Lime Juice. Others call their product Key lime juice. If you travel to that southernmost part of Florida, you'll have difficulty finding an authentic Key lime tree.

And if you go to a produce market such as the Waterfront Market on Williams Street in Key West, they'll tell you that key limes are available only at certain times of the year. If you inquire further, they'll explain that it all depends on when natural gelatin is used. The name Joe (we think he's the same Joe as the founder of Nellie and Joe's) delivers them in a small basket.

According to Rod Millar, present owner of Nellie and Joe's, there has not been a commercial production of lime juice made exclusively with Key limes since 1946.

The Key lime trees which grow in Florida are very limited in number, "mostly because they're difficult to grow," he said. They grow on a small fragrant tree which is easily injured by the winds and needs to be in a well-drained location.

Nellie and Joe's Key West lime juice is a blend of limes grown in southern Florida. What makes their product different is in the percentage of acidity formulated or blended to resemble the flavor of an authentic Key lime.

Before you pass judgment on the Key Lime pies in Birmingham and Walled Lake, you should venture to Southfield and try the pie at the Baker's Loaf on Northwestern Highway.

Here you'll find yet another version made with a graham cracker crust and a filling of sweetened condensed milk, Rose's lime juice and egg yolks which is baked and then topped with meringue. This popular pie is made year-round.

Owners Duane and Paula Christ have been making Key lime pie since they first opened their shop in 1977 according to shop/restaurant vice president Chuck Christ. "They've always been a good seller," he said "but it's incredible how the interest in this dessert continues to grow."

So, if you've been looking for authentic Key limes to make a pie you should give up your search. But, when you're in the Florida Keys, look for Joe carrying a basket filled with limes that are a greenish-yellow in color and have a thin rind.

Now, if you want to take the easy way out, buy a bottle of Key West lime juice found at most gourmet shops including the Merchant of Vino in Birmingham, Southfield, and Troy, and in the Marketplace at Hudson's.

Rochester cook is runner-up in contest

Eleanor Froelich of Rochester, was named runner-up in the 1993 Bays English Muffins "High Tea on the High Seas" National Recipe Contest for her original creation, "Pepper Sauté with Grilled Cheese Muffins."

In this original snack recipe, Froelich's vegetarian melt sandwich combined a colorful array of sautéed peppers and was accented with fresh rosemary and balsamic vinegar.

Froelich's recipe was selected from more than 3,000 entries nationwide. She was awarded a gift pack of Bays English Muffins and a Bays gourmet apron in recognition of her delicious winning entry.

Winning recipe: "Bays Blueberry Crumb Cakes" placed first in the 1993 Bays English Muffins "High Tea on the High Seas" national recipe contest. Winner Karen Durrett used English muffin halves as the base for her blueberry cheesecake mixture, topped with a crunchy crumb topping and baked until golden brown.

Contest rules required entrants to develop an original dessert or snack recipe using English muffins. Judging was conducted on the basis of taste, imagination, appearance, practicality and appropriateness for the dessert theme by food editors from Lady's Circle, Chicago Magazine, Farner's Magazine and Redbook.

Karen Durrett of Portland, Oregon won first place for her original recipe, "Bays Blueberry Crumb Cakes."

Here are the winning recipes.

Smoothie appeals to kids

AP — Few kids would argue that a visit from the ice cream man is about as good as it gets on a hot summer day. But kids can enjoy making their own frosty treats at home.

Red, White & Blueberry Smoothies take advantage of summer's fresh strawberries blended with blueberry yogurt, ice cold milk and a dollop of honey. With a little help from mom or dad, youngsters of all ages can create their own frozen sweets.

Begin by filling an ice cube tray with milk. Place it in the freezer until solid. In a blender, combine six frozen milk cubes with the rest of the ingredients; mix until frothy and smooth. Garnish with a fresh strawberry, if desired.

To make frozen pops, pour the mixture into an ice cube tray and cover with plastic wrap. Stick a toothpick into each cube and freeze until solid.

RED, WHITE AND BLUEBERRY SMOOTHIES
6 milk cubes (recipe below)
1 cup low-fat blueberry yogurt
1 cup sliced strawberries
1 cup extra-light 1 percent milk
2 tablespoons honey

To make milk cubes, pour extra-light milk into ice cube trays; freeze. Remove cubes from trays. Store in a plastic freezer bag or covered freezer container.

For the smoothies, combine six milk cubes and the remaining ingredients in a blender. Blend on high until smooth. Pour mixture into four tall glasses. For ice pops, pour mixture into pop molds and freeze, or fill ice cube trays, cover tightly with plastic wrap, stick a toothpick into each cube and freeze. Make four 8-ounce smoothies or 30 ice cube tray pops.

Salsa cookbooks fiesta for the senses

AP — Salsas are virtually fat-free. Colorful and brightly flavored, a well-prepared salsa is a fiesta for the senses. And if you're ready to set aside that familiar bottle of ketchup for a flavorful new condiment, two new books offer a variety of recipes: "Salsas, Sambals, Chutneys & Chowchows" by Chris Schlesinger and John Willoughby (William Morrow, $20) and "Salsa" by P.J. Birosek (Collier Books, $10).

RED ONION RELISH IN THE LATIN STYLE
2 red onions, diced small
1 teaspoon minced garlic (about 2½ times)
1 jalapeno pepper, chopped, or 1 teaspoon dried red pepper flakes
1 teaspoon ground cumin
1 teaspoon chili powder
Salt and freshly cracked black pepper, to taste
2 tablespoons chopped cilantro

In a medium-sized bowl, combine all ingredients. Mix well. Cover and refrigerate, up to one week. Goes well with grilled pork chops, black beans and rice. Makes 1½ cups.

Recipe from "Salsas, Sambals, Chutneys & Chowchows" by Chris Schlesinger and John Willoughby. William Morrow, $20.

BANANA-LEMON-GINGER CHUTNEY
1 tablespoon peanut oil
1 onion, thinly sliced
1 tablespoon minced fresh ginger
4 almost-ripe (but not green) bananas, cut into 1-inch-thick rounds
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup fresh lemon juice (about 1 lemon)

DRUNKEN SALSA
6 fresh New Mexican long red chilies, roasted, peeled, seeded, cut into ¼-inch pieces
6 fresh New Mexican long green chilies, roasted, peeled, seeded, cut into ¼-inch pieces
4 green onions (scallions), diced
2 large tomatoes, seeded and cut into ½-inch cubes
½ small yellow onion, finely

In a large saute pan, heat the peanut oil over high heat until hot but not smoking. Add the onion slices and saute, stirring occasionally, until translucent, about 5 to 6 minutes. Lower the heat to medium, add the ginger, and saute an additional 1 minute. Add all the remaining ingredients, bring to a simmer, reduce heat to low and cook until the liquid is about as thick as ketchup, about 10 to 15 minutes.

This chutney will keep, covered and refrigerated, about 2 weeks. Goes well with roasted or grilled game such as rabbit, duck or quail.
Makes about 3 cups.
Recipe from "Salsas, Sambals, Chutneys & Chowchows" by Chris Schlesinger and John Willoughby. William Morrow, $20.

chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1½ ounces tequila
1 tablespoon fresh lime juice
½ teaspoon freshly ground pepper
½ teaspoon chili powder
Mix all ingredients well in a medium bowl; serve immediately. It can be stored for only one day in the refrigerator. Makes about 3 cups.
To roast chilies: Place one or more chilies, as needed, on a grilling rack and broil about 4 inches away from heat until the top side is toasty brown. Turn the pepper over and repeat the process; the skin will blister and split. Remove the roasted skin entirely before preparing salsa by peeling, using rubber gloves, under cold water. Some people prefer to place roasted chilies inside a sealed plastic bag or in a plastic-coated bowl and let them "sweat" for 15 to 20 minutes prior to remove the skins by hand. You can also roast chilies by spearing them on a metal skewer and exposing them to an open flame until the skin darkens, then peel as described above.
Recipe from "Salsa" by P.J. Birosek. Collier Books, $10.

Fuss-free blueberries summer treat

AP — One of the most uncomplicated fruits of summer, blueberries come in their own neat little package. No pitting, coring or peeling needed. They'll remain fresh 10 to 14 days if refrigerated at 32 degrees F to 35 degrees F. All you have to do is rinse them thoroughly just before eating or using as an ingredient in ice cream, chutney or sauce.

BLUEBERRY ICE CREAM
2 pints fresh blueberries
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup water
1 lemon, juice and zest
1 quart whole cream
2 egg yolks, beaten
Salt
Ice
Rock salt
Pick through blueberries to remove any stems; puree.
In a pan, heat sugar, water, lemon juice and zest to 125 degrees F to make a simple syrup. In another pan, heat the 1 quart whole cream to 100 degrees F.
Add the pureed berries to the syrup mixture while the syrup is still 125 degrees F. Continue to heat until the mixture is bright blue but not cooked.
In a large mixing bowl combine beaten egg yolks and a pinch of salt. Slowly add the heated cream mixture to the yolks, whisking constantly. Add the blueberries to the cream mixture. Place in the refrigerator about 45 minutes to chill. For best results, use a 5-quart ice cream maker with an electric motor top and a wooden bucket. Chill to about 45 degrees F with lots of ice and rock salt. Makes 12 half-cup servings.

BLUEBERRY SAUCE
2 cups fresh blueberries
¼ cup orange juice
¼ cup water
BLUEBERRY CHUTNEY
4 cups fresh blueberries
1 large yellow onion, finely chopped
¼ cup white-wine vinegar
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup raisins
2 tablespoons minced fresh ginger
2 tablespoons minced garlic
2 tablespoons Madras curry powder
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons chopped fresh mint
In a medium-size, noncorrosive saucepan, combine all chutney ingredients except the mint. Bring to boil over medium heat. Reduce the heat and cook gently until the onions are tender and the chutney has thickened, about 25 to 30 minutes. Stir often to avoid scorching. Remove from heat and allow to cool before adding the mint. Serve as a sauce over grilled fish, poultry or pork.

Nutrition information per 1-tablespoon serving: 17 cal., 0 g pro., 0 g fat, 4 g carbs., 15 mg sodium, 0 mg chol.

Flavorful no-cook pasta sauces simple

Discover one of the age-old culinary secrets of the Italians. For centuries, they have been tossing hot pasta with no-cook sauces of chopped raw ingredients, olive oil, herbs and seasonings.
"Uncooked tomato sauces, in Italian salsa di pomodoro crudo, are delicious and popular summer fare in Italy," said Marie Simmons, widely-known culinary expert, and author of "365 Ways to Cook Pasta."
"The concept of tossing hot pasta with a room-temperature sauce is fairly new to Americans, but these sauces are surprisingly simple, fresh-tasting and healthful."
If you are looking for suggestions for summer menus, what could be more appealing than chopped ripe tomatoes seasoned with ricotta, fresh basil, red onion, garlic and olive oil?
These sauces are another great idea from the Mediterranean area where people have long enjoyed the health and flavor benefits of olive oil.
In the following recipes from Marie Simmons' book, you can use any of the three varieties of olive oil available at supermarkets.
For full flavor, choose Filippo Berio Extra Virgin Olive Oil. If you prefer a more delicate olive oil taste, try Filippo Berio Pure — with a subtle flavor and golden color. And, for just a hint of olive oil taste, choose Filippo Berio Extra Mild, which, as its name implies, is very mild-flavored.

FRESH TOMATO, BASIL AND RICOTTA SAUCE
3 cups chopped ripe tomatoes
½ cup chopped fresh basil
2 tablespoons minced red onion
1 garlic clove, chopped
1 cup ricotta cheese
¼ cup olive oil
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
Combine the tomatoes, basil, onion, garlic, salt and pepper to taste. Toss hot pasta with the sauce and serve at once.
Yield — 3 cups, or enough for 1 pound pasta, such as rotelle, fusilli, ziti, penne or tubetti.
Another no-cook pasta sauce is the following variation of the proverbial favorite, pesto. This sauce freezes well if the cheese is left out, then added once the sauce has thawed and is ready to use.

WALNUT PESTO SAUCE
½ cup broken walnuts
1 large clove garlic, chopped
2 cups packed fresh basil leaves
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup packed Italian flat leaf parsley
¾ cup olive oil
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
Finely chop walnuts and garlic in a food processor; add half the basil and soft; coarsely chop. Add remaining basil and parsley.
With the processor running, add oil in a slow steady stream through the feed tube until mixture is thoroughly blended.
Yield — 1½ cups, or enough for 1½ pounds pasta
Transfer to a bowl; fold in cheese.

Make it simple: Toss hot pasta with a room-temperature sauce when it's too hot to cook.

Prevent accidental poisoning

With so many food items that look like other household products, cleaning supplies, cosmetics or even medicines, extreme care must be taken to prevent accidental poisoning.
So cautions Sylvia Treitman, home economist for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.
"One of the most dangerous things you can do is transfer household cleaners out of their original containers," she said. "Sometimes containers appear so similar in color or shape that they can be accidentally mistaken for one another. Food items should never be stored with household chemicals and medicines need to be either locked up or completely out of reach of young children.
Here are some tips to prevent poisoning by look-alike items:
■ Keep original labels on all foods, household medicines, cleaners and other items.
■ Never give or take medication in the dark.

CHEAP EATS

BY LISA RUDY
SPECIAL WRITER

The Allen Park Bar, at Allen Road and the Southfield Freeways, may look like your average beer and burger joint from the outside, but to anyone who's been there before, this little hole-in-the-wall eating and drinking establishment is anything but average.

As far as the outside appearances go, there's not much to comment about. It's...uh...brown. But inside, this place is jumping. During the day the clientele is made up mostly of business lunches and locals. At night, sports fanatics crowd in for a burger or sandwich and a beer and mainly just kind of hang out.

The long and narrow interior sports five TVs, a few pinball machines, a pool table that converts into a dining room table during peak times and an electric dart game. (Watch it! It's right by the front door.)

As far as entertainment goes, no pastime in this place could hold a candle to that magical and eventful moment when "first timers" are presented with their food order. It's a whole lot of fun to watch someone innocently order a Reuben sandwich. As a matter of fact, try to sit next to someone who does when the waitress gets to the table with the order.

The Reuben sandwich is big...huge...colossal...unbelievably awesome. It's what sandwich lovers would call a major "samwich," the kind that should be eaten over the kitchen sink.

Close to two pounds of corned beef (maybe more if the grill person has an audience), cheese, Russian dressing, sauerkraut and about six inches of pumpernickel bread make up this monstrous masterpiece. And somewhere next to it is a tasty kosher dill pickle.

So there you are, seated behind a 12-inch high Reuben. Your only ammunition — the ever increasing questionable size of your stomach, a stack of paper napkins and plastic fork and knife.

Hee, hee! I dare you...and so does everyone else. Go ahead, call home and tell 'em you're going to be a little late. This is going to take you awhile.

One of your first instincts might be to try and order something else. Don't bother. Everything the Allen Park Bar makes is big. Half-pound hamburgers are topped with cheese, huge amounts of ham and bacon, and the "Fat City" burger is smothered in chili, cheddar cheese and fresh cut pickles.

The Macho Nacho is offered on the menu with the warning "large portion" next to it. Take heed. The Italian Stallion is a foot-long Italian sausage smothered with sautéed onions, green peppers and tomato, and the giant stacked ham sandwich is a major feast for a mere $5.50. (Rumor has it that anyone who can eat three of these in a 45-minute time frame gets $1,000.)

Consider the benefits of some well-spent time at the Allen Park Bar — nothing on the menu exceeds $6.25, unbelievable amounts of great food, some unique entertainment and a shot at winning $1,000 for packing away six pounds of Virginia smoked ham.

If you're tired of the trendy restaurant/bar scene and find yourself hankering for a road trip, Waltz, Mich., is just the place to head for.

Waltz — population 600 (and that's pushing it) — offers one of the most quaint, down-home restaurants around. You can call for directions and when you do, you're liable to get something to the tune of "take 275 south, swerve to your right, scoot along, dip and then you're here, The Waltz Inn."

Located on Waltz Road (where else), the inn looks like a Cape Cod retreat. The outside features a large front porch, perfect for stargazing or lazing around in the afternoon.

Inside is a full service bar, plenty of booths and several old-fashioned wooden tables to accommodate families as well as a few romantic tables for two.

Homemade soups are offered daily for both lunch and dinner. Fried jumbo mushrooms the size of baseballs are also featured right along side escargot. Helen's Homemade Clam Chowder is served every Friday.

Daily specials include real down-home cooking — chicken ala King with fresh homemade biscuits, seafood in one form or another, steaks, chicken. It's always a surprise and it's always good. For a small town place, the Waltz Inn offers big town variety.

State Fair has star-studded lineup

If you're looking for stars, the place to be is the Michigan State Fair. The Ramones will be the opening act, a great lead-off for the likes of Kris Kross, Bim Skala Bim and plenty of other musicians.

The Ramones have played in many situations but gigging at this year's Michigan State Fair has Joey Ramone especially anxious to play. "I'm especially looking forward to the livestock area," he said from his New York home.

Although being facetious, Ramone enjoys playing fairs and has done plenty of them in the past. "I know in the past we've done Summerfest in Milwaukee; we've done state fairs from time to time," said Ramone who plays on Aug. 27. "We've done all kinds of situations. We just played four festivals in four separate countries in four days."

The fair will also give the Ramones a chance to play songs from their forthcoming album, "Acid Eaters," which includes covers of old '60s psychedelic tunes.

On it, the band courts special guests like Pete Townshend, who sings with Ramone on "Substitute," and Skid Row's Sebastian Bach on the Stones' "Out of Time." Labelmate Traci Lords harmonizes with the band on Jefferson Airplane's "Somebody to Love."

Playing with Townshend was exciting for him. "I've always been a big Who fan."

Joining the Ramones on the State Fair bandshell stage this year as headliners are Laughing Hyenas on Aug. 28, Bim Skala Bim on Sept. 3, Chaka Khan on Sept. 4, Kris Kross on Sept. 5, and Lorrie Morgan on Sept. 6.

Opposite to the Ramones, Kris Kross's U.S. tour is comprised mostly of fairs and state fairs because of their family appeal. Part of that is the reason the rappers "Acid Eaters," which includes covers of old '60s psychedelic tunes.

Sue might say that Andrei Codrescu already discovered a large chunk of the American dream before even pulling out of the driveway.

After all, the National Public Radio humorist and social commentator couldn't even drive when he was asked to make a movie about a cross-country road trip. And yet here he is, looking quite comfortable behind the wheel of an obscenely long, screaming red 1968 Cadillac convertible.

"Road Scholar" chronicles Codrescu's trip from New York's Ellis Island to San Francisco, with a lengthy stop in Detroit, and it's an engaging 82 minutes. Directed by Roger Weisberg, it plays this weekend at the Detroit Film Theatre.

A boy of few words, the 14-year-old Chris "Mac Daddy" Kelly has a keen business sense about all this. "We try to do all we can to get as much exposure as possible," Kelly said.

The duo — which also includes Chris "Daddy Mac" Smith — is touring to promote its latest album, "Da Bomb." Although they are tutored everyday 9 a.m.-noon, the duo is quite happy with their early teen lifestyle.

"I think we can get their attention. We have fun on stage and I think if they're (audience) in the right mood, they can hopefully pick up on that...especially the loud trombone that sort of sounds like fan fare."

"We're danceable to people in any mood."

Bim captured the essence of their live shows with the album "Live At The Paradise," which is due in stores on Aug. 31. It includes live hits as well as several rare and unreleased cuts. While they're in town, the group is doing three other shows: Sept. 4 at Rick's Cafe in Ann Arbor, Sept. 5 at Rick's Cafe in East Lansing and Sept. 6 at Rick's Cafe in Kalamazoo.

Percussionist Rick Barry explained why his band's live shows are legendary in their hometown of Boston.

"Most bands go at their live shows song by song," he said. "We start with a lot of pumped-up energy and squeeze several short songs out in quick succession. We try to create an ebb and flow that brings the crowd up and down, without ever stopping the music."

STREET BEATS

"What kid wouldn't be happy," Smith said. "Have your own tutor and just do interviews everyday and look at people and do shows and then have money, wouldn't you be happy?"

Somewhat older but also happy is the ska band Bim Skala Bim who headline the Ska Fest '93. Like Kris Kross, Bim has never played a state fair.

"I like the idea of the atmosphere at a fair," drummer Jim Arhelger. Plus, he said, their addictive music is also family fare.

Commentator goes on road in 'Scholar'

BY JOHN MONAGHAN
SPECIAL WRITER

Sue might say that Andrei Codrescu already discovered a large chunk of the American dream before even pulling out of the driveway.

After all, the National Public Radio humorist and social commentator couldn't even drive when he was asked to make a movie about a cross-country road trip. And yet here he is, looking quite comfortable behind the wheel of an obscenely long, screaming red 1968 Cadillac convertible.

"Road Scholar" chronicles Codrescu's trip from New York's Ellis Island to San Francisco, with a lengthy stop in Detroit, and it's an engaging 82 minutes. Directed by Roger Weisberg, it plays this weekend at the Detroit Film Theatre.

"All my life I had two claims to fame," Codrescu says. "I was born in Transylvania and I didn't drive a car. The first fact made people naturally assume that I didn't need to drive because I could always use a bat — like a vampire."

Codrescu emigrated to Detroit in 1966, where he resided in the artistic community around Cass Corridor. His return to the Motor City involves taking his steel and chrome tail-finned monster to its birthplace at a GM factory, where he wisely notes that they don't make Caddies like they used to.

Aside from touring the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Motown Museum, he also visits former neighbor and artist Tyree Guyton shortly after demolition of his controversial Heidelberg Project. He also stops by the Kowalski sausage factory in Hamtramck, which he calls "hell for vegetarians."

The trip takes him farther west, where "Road Scholar" begins its fascination with groups on the edge of the social fringe. He visits Chicago's Holy Rollers, for instance, which performs rousing gospel music while circling a local roller rink.

He sarcastically calls Santa Fe "the land of enchantment," where he is literally bombarded by crystals from a New Age healer and later tours what the proprietor calls "a spiritual supermarket."

MOVIES

"All my life I had two claims to fame. I was born in Transylvania and I didn't drive a car. The first fact made people naturally assume that I didn't need to drive because I could always use a bat — like a vampire."

Andrei Codrescu

Just as Michael Moore let Flint boosters show their inanity in "Roger and Me," the stone-faced Codrescu simply lets the camera roll as people ramble on about their bizarre interests. He doesn't flinch, for instance, when the crystal healer explains that a 10-foot blonde spirit named Ariel has joined them in the room.

Codrescu also makes this a thoughtful and sentimental journey. He visits Haitians squatting in New York City and talks about the ability to speak freely in America and not in his native land. He concludes that the country's diversity only adds to its unique spirit, leaving us with a more or less hopeful message.

For his part, director Weisberg keeps things simple behind the camera, though he does include in arty neon reflections off the Cadillac's glossy red finish. Don't expect the typical scenic montages, since much of the journey was filmed in the grayness of late winter.

In a nutshell, "Road Scholar" accomplishes exactly what the New Orleans-based Codrescu has done on radio for the past decade. It mixes the sentimental and sarcastic observations of an outsider both befuddled and fascinated by the ever-changing American landscape.

School board should save extracurricular

There is still hope for saving co-curricular activities in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, and that hope lies with the school board.

It has the power now to preserve that part of school life, and I believe it should act to do so when it meets tonight.

The call for such action is not done without regard for the complexity of the current situation, the many financial issues the board must tackle as it tries to manage one of the state's largest school districts.

For the record, taxpayers agreed to a millage renewal in June but twice defeated a proposed 4-mill increase. The outcome was to result in the elimination of 87 employees and co-curricular activities, the reduction of other programs and limited building use.

I don't believe people should have voted no, but I don't live in the district and can't condemn them for doing so.

Taxes always tough sell

You don't have to be a history major to know taxation was an issue in this country long before public education was institutionalized, and a lot of things have contributed to an ill mood among the electorate.

A lottery that was supposed to solve these problems but didn't, uncertainty over a new federal tax plan, high property taxes in Michigan, federal deficit spending, and a Social Security surplus that everyone knows doesn't exist have contributed to an erosion of public confidence in elected officials.

Apparently, the local school board is not exempt. The decision to ask for 4 mills — a chunk of which was to be used to build the reserve fund — in times of tight budgets was not a good political move.

The school district was a victim of circumstance, too. Between the millage votes, the state legislature took the bold action of eliminating property taxes as the means of funding public education.

Feeling like a burden had been lifted, taxpayers were not in the mood to accept more taxes, and the 4-mill increase then smacked of a last-chance money grab by the district.

The youth get overlooked

Having said all that, I'm beginning to lose sight of the purpose of all this, which is exactly what happens when the issue is funding public education: the youth who attend these schools.

Everyone says, "It's for the kids." But the kids are usually the ones most affected and sometimes least considered.

In making tough decisions, the board is to be commended for making scholastic skills a priority. But there are many other school functions that are important and beneficial to young people. These come under the heading of co-curricular activities, which schools have traditionally offered and made to be part of a vibrant school life.

Sports is a major part, but not the only one. Every other is just as important and meaningful to those who participate. Perhaps this part of the educational process won't be there a year from now.

But the issue is 1993-94. Now is when it's time for those concerned to do it for the kids. The school board, by its election to such high standing in the community, has been given that charge to the highest degree.

Politics must leave debate

The board said there would be no co-curricular activities if the millage failed. It was understandable and even OK to play politics with the taxpayers before the vote. But that game is over.

Those with the power to do so should do all they can to see the Plymouth-Canton youth, the powerless in this situation, are not denied. The noble action would be for the board to step down from its previous position and, for this year, until Michigan can get another system in place, preserve for the youth all that a school can offer.

The board has before it a plan that would accomplish this. Most of the money would come from a one-year deferral on wage increases for teachers and administrators. Administrators have agreed to the proposal, but the board must decide on the plan and give it to the Plymouth-Canton Education Association for a vote.

As a member of The Newspaper Guild, union concessions are not spoken of lightly. But my point again and the purpose in all this is that it's for the kids. Let the teachers vote, at least. If they agree, the board should not play politics any longer with the issue and enact the plan.

Soccer veteran: Aaron Jones is one of 10 returning players on the Plymouth Christian Academy boys soccer team. He started in the midfield last year, but has moved to stopper. The Eagles begin their season Tuesday.

Eagles count on soccer experience

Plymouth Christian Academy has 10 returning players on its 15-player boys soccer roster. The Eagles were 9-6 last year and hope to improve on that record and contend for a league championship this year.

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

Nobody should be fooled by the youthfulness of the Plymouth Christian Academy boys soccer team, because the Eagles are not inexperienced as well.

Ten players return from last year and not one is a senior. PCA was 7-5-2 (fourth place) in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference and with its added maturity hopes to be a serious contender.

"I think we'll definitely be better competition in the MIAC," coach Kyle Mavin said. "Hopefully, we'll be in good position to win it this year. We're young but we have great skill."

One of the top players is junior captain Ryan Thomason, who plays center halfback. He scored 10 goals and had four assists last year.

"He really carries the team," Mavin said. "He did well two years ago and led the team last year, and we hope he does that again."

"He fills the shoes of the other guys if they get caught out of position. He also has a lot of leadership qualities, and the guys respond to him. He can control the team in high-intensity games."

The Eagles return their leading scorer of a year ago in sophomore center-forward Garth Walker, a silent leader who scored 15 goals.

"He doesn't say much but sets an example with his play," Mavin said.

"He's determined to get to the ball and is a good hustler."

Junior forward Dan House (six goals/three assists) also returns. Mavin will use three forwards, with freshmen Chris DeRenzo and Shawn Munio figuring in the plans, also.

Junior sweeper Art Partain has recovered from a scary incident in the summer that threatened his future and returns to lead the defense.

Playing goalie for the Plymouth Kicks this summer, he landed on the back of his neck after being undercut while leaping for the ball. It was feared he had a broken neck at first, but it was a bad bruise, according to Mavin.

"We thought we were going to lose him, but he's as good if not better," Mavin said. "He bounced back well. It seems he has a better grasp on life. He has more spunk. He thought he was done with soccer, but he got a second chance and is taking it more seriously."

The Eagles have a quality stopper in junior Aaron Jones, who started in the midfield last year. He plays defense for his Novi-Kensington Little Caesars team, so Mavin put him there so PCA would have another good defender in back.

Rounding out the defense at the fullbacks are junior Chris McCoy and sophomore Dave Drake. Both are returning starters.

"Chris is our little powerhouse," Mavin said. "He's small but has strong legs and is quick. He can run through anybody and keep the ball. He doesn't knock over easily."

PCA has an experienced goalie in sophomore Jamie Neil, who started at that position all of last year.

"He stepped in as a freshman and has been there ever since," Mavin said. "He's another good leader, and he can read plays coming down field very well."

Company CEO takes hockey post at CC

BY STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

Redford Catholic Central has named Gordon St. John as its new hockey coach, CC athletic director Bob Santello said.

St. John replaces Jack Gumbleton, whose contract was not renewed after coaching the last 15 years. St. John, 56, was an assistant coach under Gumbleton for several years at CC (including 1991-92) and he also has been a head coach at Detroit Country Day and Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook.

St. John, born and raised in Hartford, Conn., won a state championship at Cranbrook in 1988. He started the Country Day program in 1961 and also has a wealth of experience as a of the Marine Corps. As CEO of a large corporation, organization also is a priority, he said.

Shortly after being offered the CC job, St. John said he wrote letters and sent an off-ice training program to all prospective CC players.

"I defined what I thought were reasonable goals," he said. "I'm highly disciplined and believe in developing the basic skills and capitalizing on our strengths. I'm death on dumb hockey. At the high school level, the lack of skills and not good thinking causes more losses than anything in the game."

CC reached the Class A final last year before losing to Alpena. The Shamrocks lose players most years but St. John said he already has gotten a commitment from star forward Jon Heady to return for his senior year.

He also is waiting to hear about forward Frank Novock's plans and whether goalkeeper Mike Brusseau will return after skipping last year to play Midget hockey.

"Change is difficult for some people," St. John said. "I just try to make it as positive and exciting as you can and hope you'll attract some players."

St. John said he has gotten to know a lot of college coaches over the years, including several on the East Coast, and while at Cranbrook he started a tradition of writing college coaches and encouraging them to come watch his players. He plans on doing the same at CC.

"Not everybody is able to play Division I, some will play Division III," he said. "It's real important to place a kid in a situation where he's capable of performing. That's a function of a coach and it's critical in helping a kid."

Sports funding subject of cable program

BY MARTY BUDNER
STAFF WRITER

If you're at all concerned about the state of high school financing — specifically regarding sports — stay tuned.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) is staging a town-hall type teleconference titled "Future Funding for School Athletics." The teleconference was set up to address questions regarding the growing financial problems facing state high school athletic programs.

The teleconference, which will be carried unscrambled on PASS by a number of cable stations throughout the state, airs from 1-4 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 24.

It is clearly a program that everyone — not just sports fans — should be aware of, according to Norm Quinn, director of health, education and athletics in Bloomfield Hills.

"Anyone who's interested in the financing and funding of public schools and the whole tax issue should be attuned to this program," said Quinn. "From my role as an administrator in athletics, this is a very significant issue right now."

"Anytime you can bring information in front of people so that they can make more intelligent decisions, it's important," he said.

The teleconference will originate from the studios of TCI Cablevision in East Lansing and will be divided into two segments.

The program's first two hours will involve a panel discussion in front of a small studio audience.

The panel members include Jack Roberts, executive director, MHSAA; Anne Johnson, consultant, physical education and athletics, Lansing Public Schools; Melvin Atkins, director of athletics, Grand Rapids Public Schools; John Fundukian, athletic director, Novi Community Schools; and Robert VaderLaan, chairman, Governmental Consultants Inc., Lansing.

Warren Reynolds, sports director, WOOD-TV, Grand Rapids, will be the moderator.

The second hour is a question-and-answer format where selected audience members will ask questions, and MHSAA member school administrators who have pre-registered for the conference will call in on a toll-free telephone number.

The audience will consist of various school administrators, coaches, booster club representatives and student/athletes. Quinn, along with Jim Feldkamp, director of athletics for Troy Public Schools, and Jerry Murphy, assistant football coach and boys tennis coach at Rochester High School, will be audience members from the Observer & Eccentric coverage area.

SOFTBALL CHAMPS

Demilio & Sons clinched the championship of the Plymouth Modified Men's Fast-Pitch Softball League with a 10-1 victory in its final game Wednesday.

Al White pitched a two-hitter, and Rick Sisler and Mike Culver had two hits each. Sisler hit a two-run double and Culver a triple.

Demilio also won the Bellaire Tournament in July and will compete in the Major Modified national tournament on Labor Day weekend in Marietta, Ga.

The team roster includes Jim Leukanech, Curt White, Bob Worden, Al Worden, Sal Demilio, Steve Dawson, Dave Welch, Chris Sisler, Ken Godard, Keith McManaway, Kevin O'Connor, Rodney Shellenberger and Eric Cunningham.

MEN'S RACQUETBALL

A men's racquetball league will begin Wednesday, Sept. 8, at Rose Shores of Canton. Court times are 7:30 and 8 p.m. The fee is $100 per person.

Players are divided into divisions based on ability levels. There is no residency requirement. For information, call the Canton Parks and Recreation office at 397-5110.

OVER-30 SOCCER

Men interested in playing in the Canton Soccer Club over-30 league should call Bob Dow at 981-1584 after 5 p.m. The season begins Monday, Sept. 13.

SOCCER TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the Plymouth Lightning '79 Little Caesars Premier girls soccer team will be 6-7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 24, and Thursday, Aug. 26, at Pioneer Middle School, Ann Arbor Road west of Sheldon. For information, call Gerry Deren (462-3608) or Julie Campbell (454-0466).

MEN'S SOFTBALL

The Canton Parks and Recreation Men's Fall Softball League starts Tuesday, Sept. 7. The fee is $200 per team, which includes a $28 refundable forfeit fee.

Each team must pay $14 per game for the umpire prior to each game. Each team plays a double-header once a week for a total of 10 games.

Teams that played in the Canton summer leagues can register Monday through Thursday, Aug. 23-26. New team sign-up starts Friday, Aug. 27. There are no residency requirements. For information, call 397-5110.

More to think about

There is something else to consider, too. It affects the pride and stability of the community, something that also should concern the board.

As stated here previously, the district arguably has the most successful high school sports program in the state, and the band is among the best there is. Trivial in terms of the big picture, you say? It's important to the youth and to them it's part of the total package.

Furthermore, many of the athletes who play a fall sport have been hard at work for more than a week, and much longer when you

Thomason will be joined in the midfield by sophomore and returning starter John Pungo and Munio when he is not playing forward.

"Thomason and Pungo work well together, and I'm finding out Munio has a good left foot," Marvin said. "He can cross the ball

The last returning player is sophomore halfback Jamie Wilson. First-year players are senior Mike Gonzales and sophomore John Holloway and Brian Fair.

The Eagles, who were 9-6 overall last year, begin the season Tuesday at Dexter.

More calls than metros

Hockey coach has years of experience

STEVE KOWALSKI

New Redford Catholic Central hockey coach Gordon St. John was talking the other day over the phone about his coaching career, which began, ironically enough, with another team called the Shamrocks.

Turns out that one of his players on the 1959 AAA Junior team which played in the old Detroit Olympia League was Matt Mulcahy, who currently coaches at Livonia Stevenson.

Wait a minute, I thought. Mulcahy is 49 years old. How old does that make St. John? About 70?

"No," laughed St. John. "Matt was about 17 and I was 23 or 24."

St. John recently turned 56, and after meeting him the other day over coffee and breakfast I found out he's as organized and full of energy as anyone half his age.

Mulcahy remembers St. John as an intense coach who rewarded those who worked the hardest.

He also rewarded those who skated the hardest.

Back then, ice time cost about $20 per practice, according to Mulcahy. St. John would collect

$1 per player prior to each practice; then, at the end of each session, those who won the last sprint race would get the dollar back.

Mulcahy usually went home with a dollar in his pocket. "Gordie would play those that worked the hardest, and I found that out early because I got a ton of ice time from him," remembers Mulcahy. "He's my kind of coach."

St. John had two stints as an assistant coach at CC under fired head coach Jack Gumbleton. In between, he coached at Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook, where he won a Class B championship.

St. John wasn't CC's first choice, but it's no shame to be second behind Birmingham Brother Rice coach Mike Brown, a CC graduate who chose to stay at Rice. Brown has won a Class A championship at Rice and was successful before that at South Lyon. Brown's practices also are as smooth as the ice they're held on — just ask some of the state's best coaches who walk into the Oak Park Arena on occasion to take notes on the way Brown runs a practice.

St. John will be a great addition at CC, and his job will be easier if some players would wake up and start playing high school hockey instead of seeking more games and competition in the Junior or Midget ranks.

It must have killed former CC goalie Mike Brusseau to watch the Shamrocks get the headlines and march to the Class A final last year when he was playing Midget hockey in a cold arena far away in front of a handful of fans.

Livonia schools don't lose as many players to Junior or Midget hockey, but it sure would be nice to see Mulcahy's best player, goalie Daryl Chamberlain, return as well.

If they even have sports in Livonia.

World Cup instruction

Players from the Michigan Hawks Girls Soccer Club were among great company last week.

About 70 Hawks spent every day at Livonia's Joyce Park getting instruction from former and current Women's National Team members, including camp director Linda Hamilton. It was appropriately called the Michigan Hawks World Cup Camp.

Hamilton, who lives in Farmington and plays currently for the Women's National Team, brought in retired teammate Car-olynna Jennings-Gabarra and current teammates Sarah Rafenelli and Saskia Webber.

Another featured instructor was Ragen Coyne, a Stevenson graduate and former Hawk who stars at Notre Dame.

Hamilton, who graduated from the University of North Carolina, had a couple noticeable wounds on her knees and got razed throughout the week about it by campers.

She got them while falling off in-line skates.

"It's amazing," said Hamilton, a Michigan Hawk coach. "I can play at the top level of the world in one sport and can't stand on my feet in something else. It's been the object of discussion many days."

Other discussion centered on fundamentals, 4-on-4 games played on smaller fields, and even a game of tag on Thursday night that amazingly got players from ages 11-17 happily involved.

Hamilton said 4-on-4 games are worthwhile because the players touch the ball more times than an average game of 11-on-11. It's been proven that some players touch the ball only a total of three to four minutes in a 90-minute game, she said.

"All the coaches make it fun," said Angie Sijia, who will be a freshman at Stevenson in the fall. "We're lucky to have them here."

"I just think this is an excellent idea. The objective is to attempt to communicate the various implications of future funding to the public," said Quinn. "This is important. The implications of this are broader than just athletics."

"I think the users know the value of high school sports, but the general populace doesn't know what the value really is. It's been proven that people involved in high school sports generally experience a high degree of success later in life.

"I don't feel that we've done a great job of selling our product (prep athletics) to the public," he said. "It's unfortunate that we have to do it under a crisis situation, but better late than never."

Interested viewers should call their local cable programmers to find out whether those companies intend to carry the program and/or unscramble their signals.

Westland 1-2 in World Series

The Westland America baseball team finished a banner season by going 1-2 at the Mickey Mantle World Series in Scottsdale, Az.

Westland was ousted from the double-elimination tournament on Saturday with an 8-0 loss to the Glendale (California) Bears, who were the eventual champions.

Mike Brusseau (Redford Catholic Central) led Westland's only two hits. Brian Berryman (Redford Union), the first of three pitchers, suffered the loss.

Westland started the tournament on Thursday with a 7-6 victory over the Springfield (Illinois) Pride. Westland trailed 6-3 after 5 1/2 innings before scoring three runs in the bottom of the sixth for the win.

Mark Taylor hit a two-run home run and Kevin Sullivan added an RBI double during the rally.

Westland used three pitchers, with Brusseau getting the victory after two innings of late relief work.

Westland fell into the loser's bracket after Friday's 3-2 loss to the host team, Scottsdale Fire Birds. Starting pitcher Brandon Robinette suffered the loss despite allowing only three runs in six innings. Robinette was relieved in the seventh by Mike Williams (Farmington) and the pair combined on a five hitter.

Westland managed only two hits — a double by Marcus Williams and an RBI double by Sullivan.

Westland finished the season with a 45-13 record.

Caesars news

Little Caesars, a member of the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League, bowed out of the National Amateur Baseball Federation Open Division Regional last weekend in Pontiac with a 2-2 record.

Caesars finished its season with a 25-13 overall record.

Caesars was eliminated from the tournament on Saturday with a 14-3 eight-inning mercy loss to Recter Rosin. In earlier games, Caesars beat the Bruins 7-6 and Gayle 3-2 and lost to eventual champion Jet Box 7-3.

Jerry Shippe (from Westland John Glenn) hit a solo home run in the fifth inning to highlight Caesars' scoring against Recter Rosin.

Mark Rutherford (Livonia Churchill), the first of three Caesars pitchers, suffered the loss.

Troy Jet Box beat the Chicago Badgers 7-2 to win the regional. Jet Box is one of nine teams that advanced to the NABF World Series in Louisville, Ky.

'Brisco County' hits target with Western adventure

BY JOHN COOK

What may very well emerge as the first big hit of the new fall TV season gallops into view. Friday, Aug. 23, as "The Legend of Brisco County, Jr." premieres on Fox with a special two-hour episode.

The action-adventure series, set in the Old West, follows the exploits of Brisco County Jr. (Bruce Campbell), an adventurer with a Harvard law degree. After his father, a revered marshal, is killed by John Bly (Billy Drago) and his band, Brisco is hired by five wealthy robber barons (one of them played by guest star Stuart Whitman) to round up several outlaws, including his father's murderers. He teams up with nervous attorney Socrates Poole (Christian Clemenson) and clashes with rival bounty hunter Lord Bowler (Julius Carry).

Other colorful characters crossing Brisco's path include Pete Hutter (John Pyper-Ferguson), a hysterically high-strung gunslinger with an unwholesome attachment to his pistol; Dixie Cousins (Kelly Rutherford), the well-known saloon singer and seductress; and eccentric Professor Wickwire (John Astin), an inventor who detects a kindred spirit in Brisco.

And then there's the Orb, a UFO (unearted foreign object) of immense and mysterious power, that will figure in a number of this year's episodes.

"Brisco" is Fox's best hope for a big breakout hit this year, and network executives are making no secret of the fact that they think the handsome Campbell (who starred in the "Evil Dead" horror movies) will be the Next Big Thing. While it remains to be seen how the series will hold up week after week, make no doubt about it: The opener is a stunning rollercoaster ride, with a climactic sequence aboard a runaway train that will have potatoes on the edge of their couches.

Given the series' Western setting, it's not hard to draw parallels to "The Wild, Wild West," the 1965-70 CBS series starring Robert Conrad and Ross Martin as agents James T. West and Artemus Gordon. In both tone and content, however, "Brisco" actually owes more to the "Indiana Jones" films: It's not a Western as much as an adventure series that just happens to take place in the Old West. And, unlike Conrad's cool-as-ice Agent West, Campbell's Brisco is resourceful but flawed: Tie him to a railroad track in front of an oncoming train and he'll break into a sweat every time.

In the premiere, all concerned go about their duties with cocky self-assurance. These are seasoned actors who are reveling in a snappy script and the first-rate production values surrounding them and their delight is tangible.

Drago's Bly is a villain of Shakespearean scale, while Pyper-Ferguson plays the hilariously unhinged Pete like a scrappy terrier on caffeine. Clemenson is an ice foil for Campbell, while Carry (who will continue to make guest appearances as Murphy Brown's boss on CBS this season) remains one of the best "reactors" in the business. Astin is, as always, a wiggy delight, but the show's major discovery next to its leading man, of course) is whiskey-voiced Rutherford, a knockout blonde who can push a seduction scene right up to the borderline of farce, then pull back just before it goes over the top.

"Brisco" may or may not be able to keep the magic flowing week in and week out. But man, oh man, anyone who loves cheeky, breezy entertainment delivered with style and wit won't want to miss Friday's debut.

One of the cleanest and well-maintained centers in the metro area.

HOROSCOPE

By C. C. Clark

Aries (March 21 - April 19)

Your family and friends have enough to deal with; don't nag at them about little things. If you are feeling insecure in a relationship, let the other person know.

Taurus (April 20 - May 20)

If you are feeling down and depressed, do something that will make you feel better. Make yourself get up and exercise or do something fun.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

Satisfaction and peace are finally on the way for you. You have done a good job, and now you will reap the rewards of your efforts.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

You may receive an important document or letter that will excite you. This could be the beginning of a prosperous venture for you.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

You will have to deal with a man who is very superficial. Try not to lose your temper in stressful situations. Use good sense when dealing with financial matters.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

There are happy times ahead for you and great enjoyment with family and friends. You will be recognized for efforts concerning something at work or school.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Easy does it. You need to keep your cool and think things through before taking action. Don't be afraid to request assistance, should you need it.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

Things will begin to move swiftly in your life, and you may have some trouble keeping up. There is a possibility of travel in your near future.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

It is probably best to keep your ideas or intentions to yourself at this time. Trust your instincts and have faith that all will work out in the end.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

You may feel like closing yourself off from those you love, but it is important that you do the opposite. You will be surprised by someone's caring attitude.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

You may have trouble making decisions, and you are feeling confused about life in general. Start small and tackle the things you know you can handle.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

You are well-blessed and you should take time to appreciate your life as it is. Make time to work on the spiritual side of your self.

LET'S TALK

Carradine must be contacted: 'Curves' returns to late night

BY TAYLOR MICHAELS

Q: Where may I write David Carradine? I need to contact him for very personal reasons. -K.L.R., Trail, British Columbia.

A: Write to David Carradine, C/O Cable & Association, Room 2000, 55 N. Bond St., Suite 100, Los Angeles, CA 90014.

Q: I'm very interested in obtaining some information on David Janssen of the TV series "The Fugitive." Could you please print something about him? I realize he has been gone for a long time, but it's hard to find anything on him now. -S. Burke, Truro, Nova Scotia.

A: Janssen's name is Dr. Richard Kimble. He is played by David Janssen in "The Fugitive" and the movie based on the name. But in "The Fugitive" he is called Dr. Kimble. Not Dr. Janssen. Most American viewers do not know his name.

Q: I have a question about the accident that killed David Carradine. He was in a car accident that killed him. I want to know more about it. I would like to see "Breezy" with William Holden, again. Is the movie available on video? -Pat Hilbert, Sacramento, Calif.

A: Unfortunately, this is Clint Eastwood's directorial debut. It is not available on video.

Fear? Janssen died suddenly of a heart attack on Oct. 28, 1980.

Q: What happened to Davey Allison was tragic. We enjoyed watching his racing career. Where can we write to send our condolences? -Ken and Nancy Humbert, Portland, Ore.

A: Allison's wife Winston Cup driver, died from injuries sustained in a helicopter accident July 12 at the Talladega Ala. Superspeedway. Will be appearing in the racing world. Condolences may be sent to the Allison family, P.O. Box 28, Huestown, Ala. 36122.

Q: Where can I write to Richard Dean Anderson? -Misha Billings, Cornelius, Okla.

A: Mr. Anderson may be sent to: W. J. Ketterer, 10133 Glendon Ave., Suite 208, Los Angeles, Calif. 90024.

Q: I would like to see "Breezy" with William Holden, again. Is the movie available on video? -Pat Hilbert, Sacramento, Calif.

A: Unfortunately, this is Clint Eastwood's directorial debut. It is not available on video.

SOAP WORLD

Viewers curious about Australian soap

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Many of you have written in concerning the new Australian soap "Paradise Beach," airing in syndication. The program focuses on the lives of some young adults who spend a great deal of time at the beach.

"PB" is shot on Australia's Gold Coast, and beautiful scenery accompanies the beautiful bodies featured on the show. One of the show's stars, Matt Lattanzi, who plays Cooper Hart, calls it "mind candy."

While the show is targeted toward a younger audience, the readers who wrote to ask questions about the show were of all ages.

Quite a few readers requested more information on how the characters are related to one another. Here is a breakdown on the "PB" characters:

Tom Barsby (Robert Coleby) is the "daddy who owns everything and everybody." He is ruthless and doesn't care whom he steps on. His children are Cassie and Kirk.

Cassie Barsby (Kimberly Joseph) is a "poor little rich girl" who tries to fix the many problems her brother and father cause.

Kirk Barsby (Jon Bennett) is a winner of the Iron Man competition and brother to Cassie. He steps on anyone who gets in his way.

Sean Hayden (Ingo Rademacher) is trying to find his way in life. He often tries to protect his sister, Tori, from the harsh realities of the real world. Sean likes Cassie.

Tori Hayden (Megan Connolly) is Cassie's best friend and she has an on-again, off-again crush on Kirk.

Roy McDermott (John Holding) is Sean's suburban best friend. Things never seem to go his way.

Lisa Whitman (Tiffany Lamb) is a former flight attendant who is engaged to Tom. She had an affair with Cooper.

Cooper Hart (Lattanzi) is a photographer who has achieved his career goals but feels he missed the boat as far as romance is concerned.
