Township staffers get pay hike

Canton Township non-union employees will receive a 3.5 percent raise. That's less than the 4 percent recommended by the township Merit Commission.

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

Non-union Canton Township employees will see more dollars in their paychecks this year.

Despite a recommendation from the township Merit Commission to give the 30-some non-union classified employees a 4-percent raise, township trustees settled on 3.5 percent.

"I think that's a reasonable increase," said Supervisor Tom Yack, who suggested the smaller increase. "This is a great place to work. There are benefits beyond compensation."

Others agreed with Yack. "We're in a pretty competitive position with the salaries we pay our people," said trustee Phil LaJoy.

The base increase, retroactive to Jan. 1, will cost the township $45,324, excluding the costs of fringe benefits.

Trustees also increased salary grade ranges 3.5 percent, also a decrease from the Merit Commission's 4-percent recommendation. Salary grades are incremental increases employees receive from the minimum levels at which most employees are hired. The next step, which takes about four to five years to reach, is the midpoint level.

Of the approximately 30 employees in the non-union classified group, only 10-12 are not at midpoint, said Dan Durack, administrative services director. "Most people have been here awhile," Durack said.

Those who are not yet at the midpoint range could receive up to a 7-percent salary increase as long as they are not above the midpoint. "Those who are close (to midpoint) go up minimally," Durack said.

In 1993, non-union employees received a 4-percent increase. In 1992

Canton teen channels talents into 'Jeopardy'

E.J. Sieracki is bringing some TV fame to Canton Township.

If you were tuned in to WDIV-TV at 7:30 p.m. Friday, you saw the Plymouth Salem High School senior in "Jeopardy Teen Tournament," filmed recently in NBC's Burbank, Calif., studios.

Sieracki, who competes on his high school Quiz Bowl team, survived the quarterfinals and made it to the semifinals, to be televised locally at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on Channel 4 (Channel 23 on Omnicom).

Sieracki and several of his fellow Quiz Bowl team members filled out postcards and sent them in to the game show, hoping to be chosen for consideration as a contestant.

"Some of them sent in 10 to 50 postcards, and none of them got picked," said Sieracki. He sent in a single postcard. "Karma is karma," he said.

Sieracki and a handful of high school sophomores, juniors and seniors from New York, California, Iowa, Missouri, Connecticut, Georgia, Florida and Kentucky qualified at tryouts last fall.

Of the group of 175 in preliminary competition, just Sieracki and one other teen passed the written test and received a ticket to Hollywood.

"Everyone there was really nice," said Sieracki, who's also participated in the Science Olympiad and the Social Studies Olympiad at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park.

"Alex Trebek (host of 'Jeopardy') is really intelligent," said Sieracki, who was accompanied to California by his parents, Ed and Rosemary. "He's loose with everyone and relaxes people. Just by his nature, he makes everyone feel welcome."

Sieracki enjoyed the contestants as well. "A big part of it was their personality. Everyone there was open and very friendly."

Sieracki and his fellow contestants fielded questions on non-fiction; anagrams; Euro Disney; state flags; transportation; and dogs. "The questions weren't that hard, but the pressure was. The TV cameras got to me at first. At the beginning of each show, the pressure got to me a lot and I couldn't concentrate. Consequently, I missed the first two questions. After a minute or two, it was easier."

The answer to one of the first questions Sieracki fielded was "Experts now say it was traveling too fast for the ice in 1912 when it had its first accident."

"As soon as I said the automobile, I cringed; it was bad. The answer was the Titanic." Sieracki correctly answered a Euro Disney question about a ride called "Le Monde Est Petit." "I'm taking French, so I knew it was 'It's a Small World,'" he said.

Sieracki said Quiz Bowl questions actually are tougher. "They're extremely more difficult; the questions get a lot more in-depth," said Sieracki, who coaches the junior varsity Quiz Bowl team.

Sieracki celebrated Friday with a small gathering at his home, but wasn't divulging — NBC rules — how he did in the semifinals. He did say he walked away with cash and gifts including "Hooked on Phonics," hair care products, throat lozenges and a copy of the "Jeopardy" home game.

Salem history teacher and Quiz Bowl coach William Beaman encouraged Sieracki to compete, even accompanying him to the travel agency to buy his ticket to Omaha, Neb., for the preliminaries. "I really had no doubts, once he sent the card in and was accepted as an interviewee, that he would be accepted for the TV program. I knew he had the knowledge, and he has a great personality," said Beaman, who taught Sieracki in an advanced placement history class. "I was pleased, but not really surprised, to tell you the truth (that Sieracki did well)," he said.

"He's a delight to work with and one of the finest young people I've ever worked with."

Sieracki was grateful for Beaman's support. "I can't stress enough how much he helped me and encouraged me to go," said Sieracki, who's also competed in soccer.

Sieracki, who plans to become a physical therapist, said his family made a mini-vacation out of their trip to Hollywood. They toured the West Coast, stopping at the Hearst Castle and the Mount Palomar Observatory, and visiting relatives.

Sieracki plans to go back. "Teen competitors aren't allowed into the college 'Jeopardy,' but they'll let you enter the adult competition. Just about all of us will try."

Notices out soon

Assessment notices to all property owners in Canton Township should be mailed out Feb. 25-26, said Canton assessor John McLenaghan. According to the Wayne County Equalization Division, the township is expected to receive an average 3.6 percent increase.

Geologist to speak

Canton resident Dave Thomas, a geologist who teaches at Washtenaw Community College, will speak about his experiences excavating the bones of an ancient mastodon and discovering a nearby mastodon trail at 7 tonight in the Canton Public Library, 1200 S. Canton Center Road.

Thomas will present a slide show and samples of excavated bones. He will also speak about dinosaurs.

Political party

An old-fashioned political party is scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 27, at Genitti's Hole-in-the-Wall restaurant in downtown Northville, sponsored by the Canton Democratic Club.

The party will give voters a chance to mix and mingle with Democratic candidates Howard Wolpe, Lynn Johndahl and Debbie Stabenow, as well as Lana Pollack and Bryan Amann. Candidates for the 35th District Court Tom Hartnett and Dennis Shrewsbury also will be there.

Candidates will not make presentations but will be available to answer questions. For reservations call the restaurant, 349-0522, or Bill Joyner, 455-6921.

Ice carving winner

Ted Wakar of Canton and a fellow team member took first place in the State of Michigan Ice Carving Competition in Frankenmuth in early February.

The team's sculpture was "Seahorse with Mermaid." The competition included the use of 10 tons of glacier water shipped uncarved from Alaska.

Canton attorney to run for county commission

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

Bruce Patterson, a candidate for the Wayne County Commission, believes the 11th District, which includes Canton, needs more continuing attention.

"This area has tremendous potential. But if the potential doesn't get full attention, it will not be realized or it will be realized in the wrong direction," said Patterson, a Canton attorney and director of planned giving at Eastern Michigan University's Development Office.

Patterson, a Republican, is seeking the seat now held by Democratic Commissioner Bryan Amann, who is seeking the seat held by retiring U.S. Democratic Rep. Bill Ford.

"I'm from Canton but that's not exclusive to anywhere else. There are needs out there," said Patterson, who joined EMU in 1991. He was president of the law firm McCabe, Middleton and Patterson since 1982.

The 11th District also includes Belleville, Huron, Romulus, Sumpter, Van Buren and Wayne.

Among the needs Patterson sees in the 11th District is an ear and a voice for the rural and agricultural lands in the area. "The one constant is there needs to be a quality of life," said Patterson, 47, who with his wife, Phyllis, has three children.

Landfills are another issue, particularly with the number located in the district. "I don't want the 11th District seen as an exclusive dumping ground of the universe.

While acknowledging potential economic growth of an improved Detroit Metropolitan Airport, and consideration of an off-site reservation casino and new stadium, Patterson wants to see that needs of residents are considered. For example, wetlands from the airport may have to be mitigated or replaced elsewhere in the district.

"I think I have a fairly good-sized number of contacts. But I'm not one of these inside hacks who will be a good old boy," Patterson said.

His job as a fund-raising executive with EMU requires public involvement. Patterson says that he is accessible and knows how to reach others.

Patterson said he decided to run for county commission rather than the 35th District Court because he wants to continue working in education and prefers serving in a legislative capacity on the commission.

"I think I'm rendering a valuable service," Patterson said, referring to his EMU work.

County commissioners serve two-year terms and are able to continue with their professions while serving. Amann, for example, is also in a private law practice.

Patterson's law career began in 1972 when he joined McCabe and Middleton as a trial attorney. He was also appointed to serve as a special magistrate to the 17th and 25th District Courts and served on the mediation panel of the Third Judicial Circuit Tribunal Association of Michigan.

Patterson unsuccessfully sought election to the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees and the 35th District Court in 1984.

Patterson is well-known in the area for his community involvement. In March 1992, he was inducted into the Canton Township Hall of Fame in recognition of his community service.

His involvement includes the presidency of the Canton Economic Club in 1991-92, director of the Plymouth-Canton Schools Education Excellence Foundation and director and vice president of the Canton Community Foundation. He is an honorary chair of the Western Wayne County Salvation Army's 1994 Capital Campaign.

Patterson has served on the Canton Merit Commission and the Plymouth-Canton School Board's Vision 2010 Select Committee.

He is the past chairman of the American Arbitration Association Panel on personal injury and commercial matters, past co-chair of the Michigan Department of Transportation Mettetal Airport study committee; Community Bank board director, member of the Wayne Out-County Mediation Service; the Huron Valley Visiting Nurses Fund Board; and chambers of commerce in several communities.

Meetings on ballot proposal set in Canton and Belleville

State Rep. Deborah Whyman of Canton will sponsor two informational meetings to answer questions and clear up confusion about the special March 15 school finance election.

She will meet with constituents at 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 28, in Canton Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road, and at 7 p.m. Thursday, March 3, in the Belleville High School cafeteria, 501 W. Columbia.

"The ballot proposal and legislative backup plan are complex, and it's understandable that people are a little confused about the details," said Whyman, a member of the House Taxation Committee. "My goal with these public forums is to ensure that everyone who attends clearly understands their options when the entering the voting booth."

Proposal A raises the sales tax from 4 percent to 6 percent and cuts the state income tax from 4.6 percent to 4.4 percent. It also slashes homestead property taxes to 6 mills and caps assessments to 5 percent or the rate of inflation, whichever is less.

If the ballot question fails, the state income tax automatically will be increased to 6 percent. The single business tax also will be raised and homesteads will be assessed 12 mills. Business property and second homes are assessed at 24 mills under both plans. In either case, the money generated is earmarked for education.

Fine arts competition in the works

Plymouth Community Arts Council will hold its 16th annual Damaris Student Fine Arts Awards on Thursday, Feb. 24, and Friday, Feb. 25, at the East Middle School cafetorium 4-7 p.m.

Fifty-three Plymouth-Canton middle school students have entered this year in creative writing, dance, drama, instrumental and vocal music, piano, and visual arts.

Students competing in dance, drama and instrumental and vocal music will perform Thursday; all piano entrants will perform Friday.

All visual art and creative writing entries will be on display in the cafetorium hall. Community residents as well as relatives and friends of the performers are invited to attend.

The Damaris competition has witnessed many budding stars. Chairwoman Beth Lurtz urges everyone to enjoy the talents of local students. Winning entrants will share a total of $1,500 in cash awards.

Deadline March 15 for scholarships

Seniors at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park and Plymouth Christian Academy have until March 15 to apply for $1,000 scholarships being awarded by the Mayflower-Lt. Gamble Post No. 6695 Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Four $1000 scholarships will be granted to four graduating seniors.

Applications are available through counselors at the high schools, and must be received by the post by March 15.

"This is double what we've done in the past," said Archie Bunch of the VFW, adding that the money was raised at Bingos and other fund-raisers.

Winners will be selected based primarily on academics, he said. "The top winner will go to state competition," Bunch said.

Kenneth Fisher, chairman of the scholarship program and past commander of the post, said the scholarships and Voice of Democracy honors will be awarded at a Loyalty Day Program at 7 p.m. Monday, April 25, at the VFW in Plymouth.

For more information, call Fisher at 728-7619.

Hearing planned on natural beauty road project

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

It's not a certainty yet. But a natural beauty road effort has a rosy prospect.

"As far as our office is concerned, we don't have anyone objecting and I haven't heard of anyone out there objecting," said Ed Siemart, Wayne County engineer.

Siemart's staff has been reviewing materials submitted for the natural beauty road designation by the Northwest Canton Homeowners Association, including Plymouth Township residents.

A required public hearing on the request - a first in Wayne County - is scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday, March 9, in Canton Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Before the public hearing, the affected townships - Canton, Plymouth and Superior - will be asked for comments, as will utility companies that service the area. Notices of the public hearing will be posted along the roadways in the last week of February, Siemart said.

The 3.25 miles targeted for natural beauty road designation includes Napier Road, from Ann Arbor Road south to Warren; Joy from Ann Arbor Road to Ridge; Ridge from Joy toward Warren; and Gyde going east from Ridge.

The primary intent of a natural beauty road designation is to preserve the native vegetation and scenic beauty of the area.

"I'm a little more optimistic than I was before," said Mike Olin, northwest homeowners association president.

The homeowners sent their proposal to Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara in, early December. The proposal included resolutions of support from Canton, Plymouth and Superior townships, each community's master land use plans and petitions boasting as many as 800 signatures from area residents.

"This is the first proposal we have ever had in Wayne County. That's why we are feeling our way through this process. We want to do it right," Siemart said.

Following the public hearing, county staff will prepare a report and recommendation and send it to McNamara. It's believed the designation can be made as an executive order rather than going through the county commission legislative process.

County officials also have to get Joy Road declassified as a primary road, which some believe cannot be designated as a natural beauty road, according to state law. But Siemart doesn't see that as a big obstacle.

"When we send in our annual report (to the state) we will ask them to reclassify it to local road," Siemart said.

Under Public Act 51, the state distributes a larger amount of money for primary roads, which are maintained at a higher level than are local roads. Siemart said he wants residents living in the area, particularly on Joy Road, to know that when it is declassified, the maintenance level will decrease.

Because the roads up for designation are gravel, speed limits are not posted and will not be under the designation. "You have to drive them at a safe speed up to 55 mph - but not over - as conditions permit," Siemart said.

Levin makes pitch for Clinton's health care plan

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

U.S. Sen. Carl Levin told Plymouth Rotarians and guests Friday at the Mayflower Meeting House that employers who now provide health care for employees could benefit from passage of the Clinton health care plan.

"There's a 50-50 chance that the small employer would be better off," Levin told the group of about 80, many of them Republicans and local Republican leaders.

"There's going to be a cap for small business. That is a heck of a lot better than what most are paying now," the Michigan Democrat said.

Those who favor universal coverage should support the plan, Levin said, because it is the only plan now proposed that offers such coverage.

Further, he said small employers who offer health care pay more per employee than big employers, and this would change if the Clinton plan passes.

"We're not going to give up quality, we're not going to give up choice," he said.

Turning to trade, Levin said he'd sent a letter Friday to the president encouraging him to impose equivalent restrictions on Japanese goods as are now placed on American goods intended for Japan.

"When the European community faced the same impenetrable Japanese automotive market that we are facing, it responded by limiting the sale of Japanese vehicles it its market.

"We should follow the European community model and impose limits on Japan's automotive imports into the United States," Levin said.

Levin also touted the Clinton administration's efforts backed by the Congress to trim the federal deficit.

"They were projecting a $300 billion deficit this year before steps were taken," he said. Now, the deficit is projected at $175 billion this year, Levin said.

"We're moving in the right direction. We're looking at three straight years of declining deficits for the first time since the 1940s," Levin said. He added that the economy is in relatively good shape, evidenced by creation of 2 million jobs last year and low interest rates that have enabled many to save money by refinancing homes.

Levin called for military intervention in Bosnia, saying history shows early intervention in European military conflicts is preferable to such conflicts spreading.

"We're on the verge of taking action in Bosnia, which is risky but it is right," Levin said. Action should be taken "against the artillery that is pounding a capital of Europe," he said.

"I was very much opposed to NAFTA," Levin said, not because it opened markets, but because trade restrictions on U.S. cars going into Mexico were retained.

The largely Republican audience listened respectfully through much of Levin's half-hour address, but a murmur went through the group when Levin proclaimed support for the Clinton health plan.

"He impressed me more than I thought he would," said Carrie Meier, who attended the program.

"I enjoyed listening to him," said Charles Olson, who said he supported aspects of the health plan backed by Levin.

A very special thanks also goes to the seniors at the Canton Recreation Center who, through donations and raffles, raised more than $800 for the Goodfellows. Also to be thanked are the Walker School students who donated almost 100 toys and the 10 Brownies of Troop 2051 who went door-to-door on a cold day and raised $100 selling Goodfellow papers, Spencer said.

Veterans seek military park

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

Thwarted in their effort to have a Civil War memorial moved from Riverside Cemetery to Kellogg Park, a group of veterans is seeking to have the statue moved to a park near Central Middle School.

The Plymouth Civil War Memorial Association, headed by John Pappas, plans to bring the move before the Plymouth city commission tonight.

The group is seeking the creation of a Plymouth Military Park near Church Street in front of the middle school, Pappas said.

"It's an absolute excellent area," Pappas said, as it's highly visible off of Main Street.

"It will be an area possibly for the other monuments later on down the road. It depends on the veterans and how they feel about that, that is strictly up to them," he said.

"The area we picked has access to the historical museum (across the street) and the school is very happy over it," Pappas said.

In a letter to the commission, school principal Patricia Moore said she supports the effort.

"We believe that having the memorial close to Central Middle School would be of benefit to our students in that they could readily see and visit it as part of their eighth-grade study of the Civil War," she said.

To win approval, the move of the "Our Lady" statue must be presented to the planning commission, cemetery board, school district and local veterans organization, by city policy.

The city administration would then review their comments before making a recommendation to city commissioners, who would vote on moving the statue.

Pappas has already presented the plan to the planning commission.

While he said he doesn't expect approval from the cemetery board, which opposed moving the monument to Kellogg Park, "It looks pretty good for going over there with everybody," he said.

Another board that rejected the move to Kellogg Park, the Downtown Development Authority, won't be asked to evaluate the plan as the new location is out of the downtown development district.

"You just can't find a more perfect place," Pappas said, adding that creating a military park "keeps with our conception of keeping it all one area."

William Hayes, president of the Vietnam Veterans Association 528, said in a letter to the city commission he also supports moving the statue and the creation of a military park.

"That area would provide the veterans groups in the Plymouth community an area (where) they could meet for ceremonies without having to crowd into an area as small as the present area.

"All of the war monuments may be moved over to that area in the future," Hayes said.

The veterans plan to ask the local garden clubs "to come in and help us beautify the area because they've done such a magnificent job," Pappas said.

The city commission meets at 7 p.m. today.

and 1991, they received 5-percent increases. Department heads received 4-percent increases in September 1993, retroactive to January 1993. At the time, it was decided that Yack and Durack would develop a package of alternative types of compensation for the four department heads that they could select from.

The Merit Commission, which recommends salaries, did a survey of salaries in other communities, including Westland, Farmington Hills, Clinton Township, Redford Township, Livonia, Shelby Township, Waterford Township and West Bloomfield Township to provide a representative sample.

"Again this year, instead of surveying all of the non-union classified positions, we surveyed a select sample of benchmark positions," according to the Merit Commission report.

Nutrition class offered

A nutrition clinic on "Make Your Cake and Eat it Too" has been rescheduled for 7-8 p.m. Tuesday in the first floor classroom of St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

This clinic, originally planned for Feb. 8, was rescheduled because of bad weather.

The clinic will feature Mary Denning from the Cake Shoppe Inc., on Wayne Road in Westland, who will teach the art of cake decorating, including recipe substitutions for lowering fat and sugar as part of a heart-healthy diet.

The charge is $8 per person or $12 per couple. Pre-registration is encouraged because seating is limited. To register, call 591-2983.

House Dems delay real estate tax cut

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Democrats hope they've stuck a poison pill into a cut in the real estate transfer tax sought by Gov. John Engler.

The House Wednesday passed the tax cut 76 to 28. But it failed to come up with the two-thirds majority (72) to give Senate Bill 999 immediate effect. The second vote was 68 to 32.

So if the Engler-backed Proposal A wins March 15 at the polls, the real estate transfer tax — a 2 percent sales tax on homes — can't be cut to 0.75 percent until about April 1, 1995.

Under the statutory plan, which takes effect if Proposal A loses, the real estate transfer tax starts at 1 percent on May 1 and drops to 0.75 percent in April of 1995.

"It will kill real estate sales," said Republicans like Rep. Willis Bullard of Milford and Sen. Michael Bouchard of Birmingham. Bouchard sponsored the bill.

They fear sellers will keep houses off the market until April of 1995 in order to avoid a tax of $200 per $100,000 of sale price.

Under Proposal A, the real estate transfer tax's yield will be cut by $266 million on a full-year basis, Bouchard said.

The Republican chieftains hope to try again for a two-thirds immediate effect vote — perhaps after the March 15 election, when the issue may be less partisan.

Engler called the plan a "poison pill" designed to damage Proposal A at the polls. The governor said he proposed it last October when it appeared home property taxes would be zeroed out completely, but he wanted to drop it after the residential property tax was revived. Engler said it was reinserted in the Dec. 23-24 marathon legislative session.

Four Democrats — including Rep. Justine Barns of Westland — voted both ways: for the tax cut but against giving it immediate effect.

Voting no both times were Democrats Maxine Berman of Southfield, David Gubow of Huntington Woods, William Keith of Garden City and Richard Young of Dearborn Heights.

Voting yes both times were Republicans Lyn Bankes of Redford, Penny Crissman of Rochester, Barbara Dobb of Union Lake, Jan Dolan of Farmington Hills, John Jamian of Bloomfield Township, Shirley Johnson of Royal Oak, Greg Kaza of Rochester Hills, Jerry Vorva of Plymouth and Deborah Whyman of Canton.

One Democrat, Howard Wetters of Bay County, denounced Engler and Republican senators as "willing to change this in mid-stream while the voters are watching . . . To give this bill immediate effect would only encourage and reward this behavior" and aid the GOP "in their headlong desire to appease the special interests."

House bill pits banks, insurers

Bankers and insurers — two groups politicians love to hate — are fighting in Lansing in what one lawmaker calls "a turf battle."

The House Insurance Committee is considering a bipartisan package of bills to prohibit banks, savings and loans, credit unions and other financial institutions from selling insurance.

On the bankers' side, opposing the bills, is Rep. William Keith, D-Garden City, a former banker. "The national banks can sell insurance," Keith said, citing a court opinion. "State-chartered banks can't compete on a level playing field."

Supporting the insurers' view is Rep. John Jamian, R-Bloomfield Township, a co-sponsor of the bills. "There are insurance agents all over the state. I don't know how allowing a bank (to sell insurance) is going to make much of a difference (in its availability)," said Jamian.

On the fence, but leaning toward the bankers, is Rep. Jerry Vorva, R-Plymouth. His view is that government shouldn't interfere in the marketplace, competition is good for consumers, and "that's the American way." Insurance agents who want Vorva's vote will have to convince him that there's something overwhelmingly evil in letting banks sell insurance.

Which is worse?

Detroit Democrats dislike both industries. They see insurance agents abandoning their city, Flint and Saginaw, leaving them without coverage.

"But at least with financial institutions," said Rep. Nelson Saunders, D-Detroit, "we have a hammer — the Community Reinvestment Act. They (banks) became much more diligent in complying (by making loans in the city). But we don't have that hammer with insurance companies."

Rep. Bill Martin, R-Battle Creek, sees banks as the greater evil. "You go to a bank and give them your life history, your next life's history, your children's history. It's these practices that make this (banks selling insurance) so difficult to swallow.

"Banks keep saying 'competition, competition, competition'," said Martin, noting that big banks are acquiring smaller banks and reducing competition.

Seven Democrats and three Republicans are sponsoring the bills. They would prohibit a financial institution from getting into "the insurance or surety business as a principal, underwriter, agent, broker, solicitor or insurance counselor." The bills also prohibit financial institutions from buying "shares of a corporation engaged (in) the insurance or surety business."

Insurers set rates

Don Anderson, who handles NBD Bancorp.'s South Bend insurance operation, said banks are good for the business. "We represent a number of insurance companies. We have contracts with 35 different insurance companies. We bring to the table access to all carriers."

Regarding questions about what banks would charge for insurance, Anderson replied, "Banks don't set the insurance rates. Banks distribute (sell) insurance. The insurance carrier sets the rates."

Banks, however, have seen their business shrink from 38 to 18 percent of deposits nationally as other institutions move in. Even Merrill Lynch, a name associated with Wall Street's stocks and bonds, is moving into mortgages. So banks now are trying to diversify by selling insurance and annuities.

Polly Reber, of the Small Business Association of Michigan, supported the ban because "lending institutions hold a great deal of power over small business."

Reber foresees banks using their lending power as a "subtle, coercive" influence to make borrowers buy their insurance from the bank, too. That would harm the 60,000 licensed insurance agents, many of whom serve rural communities that banks don't serve. "Insurance agents are at a competitive disadvantage," she said.

Supporting SBAM's view was Don Wilke, of Wilke Brothers Conveyors in Marysville. Wilke said he can pick and chose between insurance agents, "but the relationship changes with banks. It's not which bank I will accept. It's which bank will accept me."

Refer to House Bills 5281 to 5284 when writing to your state representative. The bills are still in the House Insurance Committee.

Fund-raiser aids leukemia research

The Leukemia, Research, Life, Inc. 13th annual "Evening of Hope" dinner dance begins 6:30 p.m. Saturday, March 5, in Burton Manor in Livonia.

Tickets are $50 per person ($75 for benefactors) and may be purchased by calling the development office at Children's Hospital of Michigan at 745-5373.

Proceeds will benefit LRL, a non-profit organization dedicated to the elimination of childhood cancers through research at Children's Hospital of Michigan.

This event features a dinner buffet, which includes a salad, fruit and dessert table. It is highlighted by an after-dinner auction and dancing to the music of the Take Five Band.

Since its inception in 1981, LRL has raised more than $1.2 million for childhood cancer research.

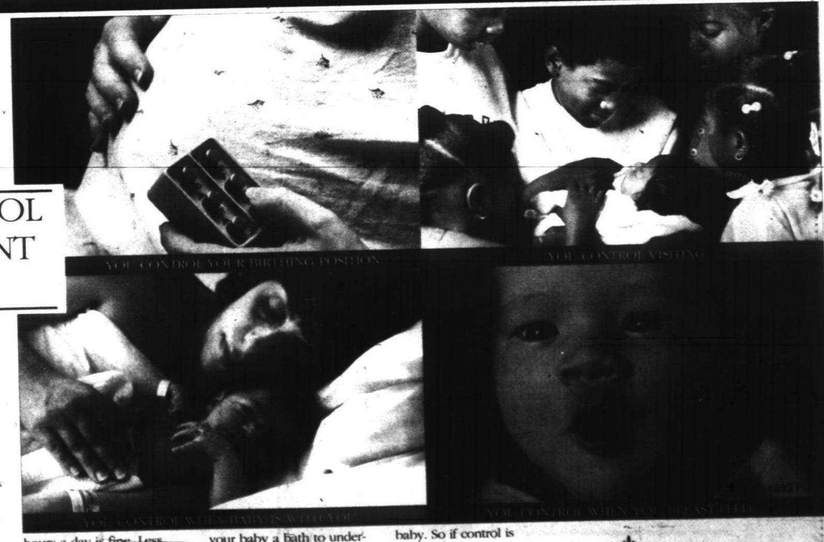
ST. MARY HOSPITAL



IS CONTROL IMPORTANT TO YOU?

For many women control during childbirth is very important. Of course, some things are out of your control, but many of the options surrounding childbirth don't have to be. At St. Mary Hospital we encourage you to make choices. To ask questions. To learn. To be in control.

More real choices

To control your position during labor. You're in charge of the electronic controls on our state-of-the-art birthing beds. So you can select the position that's most comfortable for you. Or, you can sit in your rocker and admire the view from your birthing room window.

To control when family and friends are with you. During and after the birth. On your schedule, not ours.

To control when your baby is with you. Twenty-four hours a day is fine. Less often if you wish. We bring services to you, so your baby only goes to the nursery when you decide.

To control what you need to learn. Our nurses can teach you everything from giving your baby a bath to understanding your baby's special ways of communicating. We'll ask what's tops on your list.

It's your baby

At St. Mary Hospital, we understand that it's your baby. So if control is important to you, give us a call. We're here to help you.

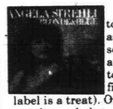
STREET SOUNDS

Blonde & Blue — Angela Strehli



One of the people who put Antone's Records on the map, both as an artist and behind-the-scenes wheel, it comes as a bit of a surprise to see her now signed to Rounder Records (although finding a new Strehli disc on any label is a treat). One of the most honest singers out there, she's turned her label debut into the best thing she's ever recorded, the closest to approximating the energy and grit of the live show.

Like her pal, and fellow Austin-ite, Lou Ann Barton, Strehli's got a delivery that comes from the toes and rumbles out, full bore, like a runaway soul train. Check out her take on Little Walter's "I'm Just Your Fool" for sanctified confirmation.

Loaded with treats from top to bottom, it's impossible to call out favorites here. Certainly, her duet with legendary soul man Don Covay on the Major Lance classic, "Um, Um, Um, Um, Um, Um," with Steve Cropper on guitar, is a first-rate stunner. The Sister O.M. Terrell gospel classic, "Going to that City," with Steve James sitting in on stunning National steel, is a shiver-sender, and give a wheelbarrel full of points for that amazing "Can't Stop These Teardrops" and equally hip "Say It's Not So," both from her own pen.

Versions of Little Walter's "You Don't Love Me" and the Booker T/Isaac Hayes composition "Never Like This Before" give an extra dose of sass and sway that fit Strehli to a Texas T, and what emerges is one of the sweetest treats of the year.

Darkness, Light & Everything — Spiral Dance

There is something about rock music which seems to attract and repel with no regret or prejudice.

That is what makes it so appealing.

Spiral Dance's "Darkness, Light & Everything" (Times Beach Records, 1993) offers heart and soul on a platter without making any judgments.

The easy-flowing 10-track CD grabs you by the throat, slaps you around and doesn't let go.

The three-piece act has produced a solid musical experience which is easy to get hooked on and dragged along behind. Each piece is a bit of ride with some offering a flashback to the 1970s funk-filled tracks and oth..s so concise and powerful that you cannot ignore them. Vocals are shared by Kevin Loucks and Ethan Davidson which adds grainy aspect to each track while concise riffs provided by guitarist Doug Kasischke contributes to the band's appeal.

Each track twists through such subject matter as love ("Everything"), disillusioned dream ("Land of the Free"), social dismay ("Cass Corridor Voodooo Mind Jelly Warp") and self-understanding ("Rain at Hovenweep").

"Darkness, Light & Everything" is packed with powerful and clear sounds with an essence of a fuller garage-based quality.

Spiral Dance may not be the next Nirvana, but who cares when one needs to strive for its own musical revelation.

Tool: a positive in a negative

■ Tool has been commonly referred to as a "disturbing" rock band. Members of the band think people who believe that are missing the point of Tool.

By Christina Fuoco
Staff Writer

"My hands bound and my head down and my eyes closed — eyes closed wide open. Do unto others what has been done to me. Do unto others what has been done to you."

Those troubling words, as sung by Tool's mohawked lead singer Maynard James Keenan, blares through the sound system at Industry nightclub in Pontiac.

The song has become a dance hit with twentysomethings at clubs like Industry and 3-D in Royal Oak. However, the lyrics seem more likely to provoke fear than fun. It tells a tale of a sexually abused man who, as an adult, is jailed for passing his misfortune along to youngsters. ("You're breathing so I guess you're still alive. Even the scent seems to tell me otherwise," Maynard, a Scottville native, continues singing.)

Drummer Danny Carey let out a hearty yet confused laugh upon hearing that the guitar-heavy, toe-tapable "Prison Sex," not even officially released yet as a single, has become a dance hit in Detroit.

"I think it's funny. It's the last thing I would expect. But that's our straightest song on the record, so I guess that would be the one they would play," he said from the offices of his record label, Zoo Entertainment, prior to the start of the tour.

Tom Zito, who DJs at Industry, said he started playing the song when Tool first released their album "Undertow" because it "fit in."

"That's the one I started playing first. I never played (the first single) 'Sober.' . . . I've been playing it since the CD came out, that's the song I picked, and it just fit in with the groove of one of my harder sets," Zito said.

Humor is alive

The entire album doesn't have a sobering effect, however. Although humor is hinted at in some of Tool's songs, they eventually return the band's trademark trembling undercurrent. For example, track No. 69, "Disgustipated," begins with a sermon ridiculing animal activists by telling the tale of a soon-to-be slaughtered family of carrots. "These are the cries of the carrots. The cries of the carrots. You see, Rev. Maynard tomorrow is harvest day and to them it is the holocaust." The 15-minute song turns serious just as tribal drums join in. "This is necessary. Life feeds on life, feeds on life, feeds on life, feeds on this is necessary. Life feeds on life, feeds on life, feeds on life." As the song continues, gunshots enhance the beats.

Telling lyrics and visuals

As with the rest of "Undertow," the lyrics are graphic without being unnecessarily obscene or violent. That's just part of the disturbing picture that completes Tool.

Inside of the CD book is a photo of a nude obese woman lovingly embracing a thin, equally clothed male — a vision by which some people may be put off. Flip the page and you'll see the members of Tool is various forms of facial torture. A blurred collage of Tool's lyrics run underneath. The stop-frame animation in the video for "Sober" is nightmarish but so intriguing that it's impossible to take your eyes off it.

"It's not like we're tormenters," Carey said with a laugh. "We're not out to torture people. We're trying to capture the image (of) the song the best way we know how," Carey said.

Visually it's through the talent of guitarist Adam Jones, who used stop-action animation to tell the story of "Sober." That video, which snagged two Billboard music video awards, was so successful that the group returned to the format for the "Prison Sex" video, which will be released shortly after Tool's sold-out show with Failure at the State Theatre on Saturday, Feb. 26.

"It's just such a great medium to work through. You can be really creative. Our guitarist Adam, he's the main guy behind the artwork and stuff. It's a good venue to express himself," said Carey, who previously played with Green Jelly and Carole King.

Both videos took about two months to finish, although the filming of the "Prison Sex" video and their headlining U.S. tour were held up due to the California earthquake in January.

Finally success

The "Sober" video may be intriguing, but it wasn't interesting enough for MTV to add it to its rotation soon after its release. The driving force behind Tool's popularity was their spot in the Lollapalooza tour, during which the band split time between the main stage and the side stage.

Even during the early part of the tour, it was obvious that something was brewing with the then-relatively unknown band. Although they played the same time as mainstagers Arrested Development, it was impossible to even see Tool because so many people were packed in front of the small area around the side stage.

"I was surprised when all of it started happened," Carey said in retrospect about Tool's success. "Everybody I talked to said how much they see our video on MTV. (But) It's a lot better than most of the other bands I've ever seen. That's the reason I play this music, I suppose. There's just not that much to choose from that's really valid. I don't like very many bands, so I'm glad I'm playing with something like Tool."

The band, he has said in previous interviews, is his and the rest of his band's tool for "digging within oneself and using the pain to the fullest extent." He just hopes that Tool fans see his band — which also includes bassist Paul D'Amour — for what it is.

"(It's about) changing, moving on and growing," Carey said.

As long as Tool is provoking some thought, Carey said it's OK. However, he hopes that people don't view his band as "negative."

"In some way I guess that's OK as long as the people don't dwell on it. . . . We're not out to disturb or depress people. Our band is a very positive thing. We're not a negative band. We don't put out a negative energy. We're dealing with things that a lot of people deal with."

Tool performs with special guest Failure on Saturday, Feb. 26, at the State Theatre, 2115 Woodward Ave., Detroit. Doors open at 7 p.m. for the all-ages show. The show is sold out. For more information, call 313-961-5451.

Meat Puppets strike low profile for 'High'

By Christina Fuoco
Staff Writer

The Meat Puppets have long been cited as a "major influence" by bands like Nirvana and Soul Asylum. That's become a great publicity tool for the Meat Puppets since their admirers have reached superstar status. The band is naive about why they are so inspirational to their peers.

"In the kingdom of the blind, the cyclops is king," the orange-haired bassist Cris Kirkwood said with a smirk while muttering other explanations.

"We just play our stuff and imitate our country and western forefathers," added his brother Curt, lead singer/guitarist.

Ryder and Davies face their realities

By JOHN MONAGHAN
SPECIAL WRITER

■ MOVIES

"Reality Bites," a new film aimed at the MTV audience, doesn't follow a script as much as run down a list of pop culture references. "Planet of the Apes," "Good Times," Big Gulps from 7-Eleven, Peter Frampton . . . These motivate the characters as they ponder life and love after college graduation.

While it ultimately has little to do with the real world it tries so hard to reflect, the movie is surprisingly engaging, thanks in part to a witty and talented cast.

Winona Ryder plays Lelaina, a communications graduate who now works on the set of "Good Morning Grant!" a geriatric morning talk show. On the side, she's making a video documentary comprised of candid interviews with her "twentysomething" friends.

Aside from life as a struggling artist, Lelaina also has boyfriend troubles. She meets and falls for a likable square young TV executive named Michael (Ben Stiller) who thinks her video might work on his MTV-style station. She's also involved in a love-hate relationship with Troy (Ethan Hawke), a college dropout and genius who plays in the local grunge band.

Though entertaining, "Reality Bites" irritates me in the same way that a recent "Time" magazine article did about Generation X, the media's label for post-"Baby Boomers." Its overgeneralized premise states that college graduates have the option of working at The Gap, in fast food, at MTV or simply slacking.

Actor/director Ben Stiller tries to hit every base of modern culture here, especially in the embarassingly "brilliant" video that Lelaina is compiling. We follow her best friend into an AIDS testing clinic, "a rite of passage for our generation," she comments cynically. We also have a token character "coming out" to his parents.

Stiller does infuse the movie with some clever moments, usually backed by an endless playlist of modern rock and vintage pop tunes so tacky that they're now hip. He follows a much-advertised gag in a gas station/food mart ("My Sharona") with a nicely-framed shot of the tiny building beneath a starry night.

The rest of the charm here comes from the cast, especially Ryder as the soul-searching heroine. When you really think about it, her career has almost moved backwards. She started out with directors like Coppola, Burton, Jarmusch and Scorsese. Now she's making the kind of "brat pack" movie that her contemporaries moved on from long ago.

The childhood memories of British director Terence Davies comprise "The Long Day Closes," which questions the nature of reality when viewed some 40 years later.

This stunning film, bumped from last season's schedule to this weekend at the Detroit Film Theatre, finds 11-year-old Bud (Leigh McCormack) plodding out an existence in post-war Liverpool not radically different from others of his generation. He helps his mother in the kitchen, gets thwacked across the hands at school, and lives for afternoons at the local movie palace.

What makes this boy's life so exceptional is that Davies picks up on every detail of a time and place long gone. As in his previous work (the black-and-white "Terence Davies Trilogy" and "Distant Voices, Still Lives"), the director has an unblinking eye when it comes to beautifully composed shots.

There can't be more than 100 images in the entire movie, but each comes suitable for framing.

The most-publicized of these shots finds Bud with his chin resting on his hands in the first row of the elaborately decorated movie house balcony. The light of the projector shines warmly behind him. Another, shot from above, shows the boy swinging on a pole as the camera moves slowly over meticulously recreated rows of narrow houses.

Behind these images are smatterings of dialogue and music from vintage movies, everything from "Tammy and the Bachelor" to "The Magnificent Ambersons." As in the old musicals, characters in Davies' films often break into song, long-forgotten ditties from the past, which, like these settings, the director feels are his calling to preserve.

If you have a comment for John Monaghan, call him at 953-2047, mailbox 1866, on a Touch-Tone phone, or write to him care of Street Scene, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI 48150.

Pornography causes crime: That's baloney

STREET SENSE

BARBARA SCHIFF

Voice mail message: Dear Barbara,

Shame on you, you must know better. Why did you let the woman who quotes Ted Bundy, blaming the media and pornographic pictures for his sex crimes, get away with it? That's like blaming the weatherman for earthquakes and hurricanes. Of course, Ted Bundy would pawn off responsibility on someone else or something else for what he alone did. Criminals in general, and sexual offenders especially, almost never blame themselves for their behavior. That doesn't mean we have to accept their sleazy scapegoating.

In the letter I just read, the woman who wrote it quotes Ted Bundy saying, "We (does he mean killers and sex offenders) are your sons and we are your husbands. And we grew up in regular families. And pornography can reach out and snatch a kid out of any house today."

I say baloney. Ted Bundy is not my son or my father, or anything like either one of them. The woman who wrote you implies that pornography could turn anyone into a beast like this serial killer. Ted Bundy would have liked to believe that lie but that doesn't mean anyone sane should believe it.

I do not believe in pornography for children. I also do not believe it has the enormous power to corrupt as your writer expressed. An adult's responsibility for his or her behavior can't be relinquished.

Dear caller,

I will say the same thing to you as I did to the woman who wrote the letter that offended you. Thank you for taking the time and trouble to express your opinion, which is also expressed succinctly. You, too, vent the feelings of many others along with yourself. They will appreciate the validation of seeing this opinion in print.

— Barbara

Voice mail message:
Barbara,

I'm commenting on the letter from the mother whose 12-year-old son wants a subscription to "Playboy" magazine. In handling that situation with our son, we decided that a subscription would not be appropriate. We did, however, purchase an individual magazine that he was able to look at and we also let him know that if he wanted to purchase another occasional magazine, we would not object.

I would agree with you that a "steady diet" each month is excessive and should not be allowed. But, for us at least, one magazine satisfied his curiosity and took the mystery out of the magazine.

After about six months, our son asked for another magazine, and again we allowed it. I don't know if this is the right thing, but it has worked for us.

Dear Caller,

Congratulations on your individuality, creative thinking and good taste in finding a solution to your son wanting a subscription to "Playboy."

Your son is lucky to have parents who are so sensible. Common sense is not so common.

■ DETROIT FILM THEATRE
Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward Ave., Detroit. Call 833-2323 for information. ($5)

"The Long Day Closes" (Britain — 1993), 7 and 9:30 p.m. Feb. 25-26; 4 and 7 p.m. Feb. 27. Terence Davies ("Distant Voices, Still Lives") directed this autobiographical account of his years growing up in post-World War II Liverpool. The camera lingers longingly on detailed, emotionally charged images.

■ KINOTEK
Capitol Theatre and Arts Centre, 121 University, Windsor. Call (519) 971-5160 for information. ($4.50)

"El Topo" (Mexico — 1971) and "The Holy Mountain" (USA/Mexico — 1973), Feb. 25-27 (call for show times). Two rare cult films by director Alejandro Jodorowsky. The first follows the title character, El Topo, through a series of surreal adventures across the Mexican desert. "The Holy Mountain" offers much of the same: repulsive images surrounding a paper-thin plot. Not for the squeamish.

■ MAGIC BAG THEATRE
22918 Woodward, Ferndale. Call 544-3030 for information. ($4)

"Dazed and Confused" (USA — 1993), 8 p.m. Feb. 23. It's the last day of school in 1976 as teenagers ponder the bigger issues in life, such as who will drive to get the Aerosmith tickets. Richard "Slacker" Linklater directed this subversive and entertaining comedy.

"Man with the Movie Camera" (USSR — 1928), 8 p.m. Feb. 24. The avant-garde musicians of DROP return, this time with Dziga Vertov's experimental Russian film where the camera careens around with a mind of its own. The musicians have also created their own video and slide show to present before the picture.

"We Think the World of You" (Britain — 1988), 1, 3:30, 6 and 8:30 p.m. Feb. 27. Alan Bates and Gary Oldman star in this oddball comedy about unrequited love. Shown with "Look," a short take on lesbian love and humor. Presented by South East Michigan Pride. ($8 this film only)

■ MAIN ART THEATER
118 N. Main St. at 11 Mile, Royal Oak. Films play through at least Thursday. Call 542-0180 for information and show times. ($6.50; $4 students; $3 twilight/matinee)

"Schindler's List" (USA — 1993). Stephen Spielberg may finally get his Academy Award for this story of Oskar Schindler (Liam Neeson), a war profiteer and Nazi crony who saved the lives of more than 1,000 Jews during the Holocaust.

"Six Degrees of Separation" (USA — 1994). Based on John Guare's award-winning play, a savvy young man (Will Smith) poses as Sidney Poitier's son to cajole his way into the home of a Fifth Avenue couple (Donald Sutherland and Stockard Channing).

"The War Room" (USA — 1993). A behind-the-scenes look at the 1992 Clinton campaign focuses not on the candidate but on his team of election advisors, led by the charismatic James Carvell and George Stephanopolous. Veteran documentary filmmakers D.A. Pennebaker ("Don't Look Back") and Chris Hegedus directed.

■ MAPLE THEATER
4135 W. Maple Road, Bloomfield. Call 855-9090 for information. ($5.75, $3.95 matinee, $2.95 twilight)

"The Snapper" (England/Ireland — 1993). When 20-year-old Sharon announces to her working-class parents that she's pregnant, her family and neighborhood react in some most surprising ways. The second film adaptation of a Roddy Doyle's trio of books about Dublin life ("The Commitments" was first) is a disarmingly funny movie highlighted by Colm Meaney's performance as Sharon's rambunctious father.

"In the Name of the Father" (Britain — 1994). In this true story, Daniel Day-Lewis plays an Irishman falsely accused of bombing a pub near London in 1975. The brilliant story of miscarriage of justice is co-written and directed by Jim Sheridan, who teamed with Day-Lewis on "My Left Foot."

"Schindler's List." See Main Art Theatre listing above.

■ MICHIGAN THEATRE
603 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor. Call 668-8397 for information. ($5; $4 students and senior citizens)

"Combination Platter" (USA — 1993), through Feb. 24 (call for show times). Recently arrived from Hong Kong, a young waiter tries to adapt to the strange ways of American society while working in a Chinese restaurant.

Puppets

you'd expect to see the underground rock legends. But the show was part of their low-profile "Munchies" tour, designed to introduce their new acoustic-tinged album "Too High to Die" to the music industry.

For this show they crammed their sparse equipment in a corner near a window facing Fourth Street. Drummer Derrick Bostrom, who rounds out the trio, pounded away on his drums with the tips of wooden kitchen utensils — while the Kirkwood brothers, whose father is a former Farmington resident, strummed on their bass and acoustic guitars.

The band was the first that R&J has hosted inside its restaurant. Kim Snell, the wife of an R&J owner, said she was surprised at how well it went.

"I think it went great; it went a lot smoother than I thought," she said. "We kind of thought we'd be mobbed with orders for cooking. The music was real good. We've got a small place and the music wasn't too loud."

Even though they have done plenty of promotional tours, the Meat Puppets prefer to play public shows for their fans, they said.

"It's different than playing to a regular audience. They (music industry executives) talk and jabber while you're playing," Curt said.

Detroit fans won't be able to see them anytime soon. After the quick "Munchies" tour, the band jetted off to Europe to open for longtime admirers Nirvana and Soul Asylum. Subsequent gigs will be with Blind Melon in the United States. (Their tenure stops short of the March 9 Blind Melon show scheduled at the State Theatre in Detroit, however.)

Meanwhile, "Backwater," the first single off "Too High to Die," has been added to Detroit rock stations' play lists. That's not surprising, considering the fact that most critics have said that the album will be the one to dig them out of the underground rock scene.

The album's quick success is due in part to the production work by the Butthole Surfers' Paul Leary, a longtime friend of the Kirkwood brothers.

"He's working to please," Cris said. "His only thing was to make it the best. He really wanted to make the album the best Meat Puppets album."

The brothers met Leary after he called Curt when his band stopped in their hometown of Phoenix, Ariz.

"He really wanted to meet me, so he looked me up in the phonebook," Curt said. "We became pretty fast friends."

And mutual admirers.

"He told us that there wouldn't have been a Butthole Surfers, if it wasn't for us," Cris said.

Retreating to modesty, Curt preferred the more biologically correct answer.

POINTS OF VIEW

In the name of their fathers, sons embrace politics

GUEST COLUMNIST

ALBERT HOLTZ

■ As the men parted, the writer thought of both their fathers and hoped, wherever they were, they were smiling as broadly as their sons.

Albert Holtz, a Bloomfield Hills attorney who practices family and real estate law, has been published in several legal periodicals. He is a member of the American, Michigan and Oakland County Trial Lawyers Associations, the Oakland County and Southfield Bar Associations, and chairs the district court mediation committee. A West Bloomfield Township resident, he recently was appointed by the Michigan Supreme Court to the attorney discipline board.

Peacemakers: James P. Hoffa, a Detroit-area lawyer and son of James R. Hoffa, who disappeared in Bloomfield Township in 1975, stands shoulder-to-shoulder with U.S. Rep. Joseph P. Kennedy, D-Mass., at the Oakland County Democrats' annual Phil Hart Dinner. The two shook hands vigorously, despite the past differences of their fathers.

A few days ago, the past met the future — and at a political fund-raiser no less!

As finance director of the Oakland County Democratic Party, I delivered U.S. Rep. Joseph P. Kennedy, II and his wife, Beth, from Metro Airport to the party's annual Phil Hart Dinner, last Sunday, Feb. 13.

Kennedy, D-Mass., the eldest son of the late senator Robert Kennedy, holds the same congressional seat once occupied by his uncle, President John F. Kennedy.

As the congressman moved through a throng of party stalwarts, all evidently Kennedy admirers, a familiar face approached to greet the handshaking politician.

When the man was but a few feet away, you could finally read the name written on his lapel: Jim Hoffa. The man, James P. Hoffa, a Detroit area lawyer, is the son of the late Teamster president James R. Hoffa, who disappeared without a trace near a Bloomfield Township restaurant in 1975. Both men's fathers were reputed to be mortal enemies.

When the two men were introduced, the congressman appeared to be startled for just a fraction of a second, but then he broke into a winning smile. Both men talked, shook hands vigorously, embraced and posed for a photograph.

According to Hoffa, as the picture was taken, Kennedy said, "I hope we don't screw this up like our fathers."

While straining to hear the conversation, the writer thought about their commonalities. Both are Democrats. Both had fathers who were killed because they were outspoken. Both, though from different backgrounds, received outstanding educations and opportunities. Both are famous in their own rights. Both might run for president one day — Hoffa for president of the Teamsters — Kennedy for president of the United States.

Hoffa was to say later, "I came there to meet him. I was touched. It was a wonderful meeting . . . I was very pleased by his friendliness.

"We both share the same commitment to working men and women," he added.

As the men parted, the writer thought of both their fathers and hoped, wherever they were, they were smiling as broadly as their sons.

And, the writer thought about Walt Whitman's words: "Political democracy . . . in America, with all of its evils, supplies the training school for first class men."

Respondents — sweet and cranky — are special

JUDITH DONER BERNE

■ I was struck that in this society we consider so mobile, more than half the students in the class raised their hands when asked if they had attended Clarenceville schools since kindergarten.

We get letters, stacks and stacks of letters responding to our stories, editorials and columns. And we get telephone calls and faxes as well.

Frankly most of the time, they are cranky — taking issue with something we have written. And that comes with the territory.

So I cherish some sweet responses, based on three recent columns.

■ Re: "This Sanders melts away after Valentine's Day"(Feb. 14 edition).

Mary Lou Alwood from Plymouth called to say the closing of yet another Sanders stirred up some memories for her and husband Richard.

"My husband and I met at Sanders — the one on the Boulevard," Alwood reports. "I was working at the GM Building; he was at Burroughs. He just struck my fancy. It ended up he knew my brother, so that made it OK."

It was April 1939. They were married the next year. And they'll soon celebrate 54 years together.

After seeing the column, they spent Valentine's Day poring over a box of antique Valentines — a legacy from Richard's mother.

"He's now legally blind; I've had hip surgery. We don't get out as much as we used to," Mary Lou confided. "It (the column) really made our Valentine's Day."

■ Re: "Grumpy old men move out to change the world" (Jan. 24 edition).

A small band of suburban dissidents who take pen in hand to write letters to the editor on various issues are now a somewhat larger body.

Organizer Tony Brehler of Livonia called to say 25 people contacted him after seeing the piece on the non-dues-paying, open-to-anyone fraternity they label A.D.C. — short for Another Disgusted Citizen.

And 18 showed up Feb. 9 at Bob Evans in Southfield, where the group holds monthly meetings to share views.

"I never expected anything like this," Brehler said. "We're going to have to find a bigger meeting place. We tripled in size overnight."

In addition, the grumpy old men were joined by two women (they had been an all-male group, not by choice) and one or two others who had a personal political agenda (who won't be invited back).

"We're not there for that purpose," Brehler said. "We're into government responsibility, government accountability. These are people who want to get at those issues — and see what we can do."

■ Re: "Improve education by merging school districts" (Jan. 3 edition).

Tiny Clarenceville that schools 1,700 kids from three communities — Redford Township, Livonia and Farmington Hills — was featured as a prime target for consolidation.

That got up the dander of some Clarenceville High School students. And their teacher, Micki Scarvi, asked me to come in and field their questions. Then, the journalism students among them had to write up the exchange.

According to a piece entitled "Burning over Berne," Marc Ferretti accurately reported: A handful of pupils agreed with Judith Berne, whereas the overwhelming majority were opposed.

In her story, "Fusing flowers," Tracy Holbrooks likened Clarenceville to an untended flower: "Standing tall through the years, enduring the cold, the tender rose flourished in the fading garden. Surrounded by overgrown dandelions, the flower grew strong. All it took was a little extra care to turn a dying bud into a cherished blossom."

For my part, I was struck that in this society we consider so mobile, more than half the students in the class raised their hands when asked if they had attended Clarenceville schools since kindergarten.

I was further impressed with their well-thought-out questions, yet capacity to listen; their passion for that school district, yet ability to remain polite.

In my head, I still believe in the need to consolidate districts. In my heart, maybe we could exempt Clarenceville!

Top your vanity with personality

If your bathroom seems to be the only place you can go to shut out hectic household demands and the pressures of the work day, why not turn it into your private inner sanctuary?

You don't need a huge space. Even a tiny bath like mine can harbor the essentials you need for a bit of self-indulgence. Turn an ordinary countertop into your own personal vanity. The only way to make your vanity special is to dress it with your favorite things, whether they be fragrances, a cherished collection, unusual apothecary bottles, crystal or flowers.

Rosemarie Karbal of Bloomfield Hills is fortunate to have a large marble bath in which she has created a personal haven filled with precious antiquities and cherished necessities. Her Lalique mirror reflects a sparkling collection of silver-topped crystal powder boxes and a gallery of silver frames containing family photos. Antique perfume bottles gather alongside a sterling hand mirror and a potpourri of bath oils, candles and fragrances. Daughter Lori owns Lori Karbal et al in downtown Birmingham and the shop provides Rosemarie with her favorite Comptoir Sud Pacifique scents and L'Artisan mimosa candle. "I'm a flower person and the mimosa is addicting," smiles Karbal.

Lori's boutique has a an array of vanity niceties, including bath salts and soaps by Nasturtia, packaged in white boxes and topped with satin roses and ribbons ($22.50-$32). Handblown glass bottles of bath oil by Apothecary Gardens ($60) grace a vintage table in the shop. Antique compacts, Victorian lipstick holders and silver mirrors add to the ambience.

Keepsake cases

A brocade love letter holder decorated with vintage photos, enameled trim and satin ribbons is a conversation piece for your vanity ($75). You didn't save those old love notes? Tuck stationery, makeup brushes or jewelry inside instead.

Judith Slotkin of Bloomfield Hills remembered a similar letter holder from her past and bought one for a friend.

To begin your own collection of crystal dressing table toppers, you need only visit Lord & Taylor at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi. Priced under $100, look for Waterford candlesticks, makeup brushes, heart-shaped boxes, clocks and vases. You may also want to enjoy The Smell of Spring in your bath. The new fragrance baskets by Aromatique contain candles, potpourri and sachets ($7.50-$25). Every well-dressed vanity begins with an exquisite tray. Caswell-Massey, 266 E. Maple in Birmingham, displays glass-topped trays lined with vintage lace ($250-$750). Some are embellished with gemstones and crystals. Peek into the antique cabinets for a glimpse of stunning silver-topped jars, lotion bottles, French perfume decanters and powder boxes ($100-$225). The box pictured is crafted of Dore bronze with a flowered porcelain top.

Hand mirrors in ornate silver ($200) and antique bonnet brushes capture the feel of a luxurious turn-of-the-century boudoir.

Mall 'grazin'' beats cabin fever

Most people agree that the best part of shopping is stopping for a snack. The malls and main street mavens know it, too. That's why there are pretzel stands, espresso bars, cookie shops, yogurt carts and frozen Coke dispensaries every few hundred feet!

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

The center court benches at Oakland Mall were all taken Sunday afternoon by people spooning frozen yogurt into their mouths — and the mouths of their stroller-bound toddlers.

Some benched folks sipped cappuccinos from The Coffee Beanery. Others drank Cokes from a nearby stand. The Kessler family of Hazel Park enjoyed a yogurt treat, tired from watching dad get fitted for a tuxedo and trying on new shoes.

"When we go shopping, we always have to stop and get a snack," Mrs. Kessler explained. "We head over to the frozen yogurt bar in the middle of the mall because yogurt is healthier for the kids than other snacks. Besides, I love the creamy, smooth texture."

Denise works the mall's snack counter near the center court. She said vanilla yogurt with strawberries is the best-selling item. On weekends she prepares 350 such treats for shoppers.

The Vella Family of Royal Oak stopped to buy two caramel cappuccinos from The Coffee Beanery and then some soft drinks for the kids. They were shopping for mom's cosmetics and just browsing for other items.

"Coming out to the mall is an inexpensive way to hang out, to get out of the house in the middle of a long winter," Jim Vella said. "You walk around and look at things, stop for a snack, and then go home. It's relaxing."

At the opposite end of the mall, a Haagen Dazs "Sweetery" sells ice cream and cool beverages in the front corner of the Burger King restaurant. It's hard to tell which counter was busier — the burgers or the ice cream.

"On weekends it's non-stop," one Haagen Dazs clerk sighed. "It seems like the mall's food counters are busier than the stores."

Chuck Johnson directs marketing at Troy-based Mr. Bulky's based. The company recently came to the attention of Forbes Magazine, which is planning to publish a story about the operation in a few weeks.

"We sell a wide variety of candy in bulk and gift items," he said. "Is business good? In two years we've gone from 40 stores to 120 stores and 90 franchises in 42 states. Our best seller is the Sour Patch Kids candy. We sell, on average, 70 pounds a week."

Shoppers also like Mr. Bulky's malt balls, which are made to the company's specifications in a triple dip of chocolate process.

"I load up on them whenever I'm out at the mall," said Jeannette Johnson of Troy. "I keep a jar of malt balls on my desk at work to get me through the day."

Cream vs. yogurt

Don Isenbarger of Troy has been dispensing ice cream at Antoine's in the Oakland Mall for nine years. He laughs at the thought of losing business to the frozen yogurt competition down the aisle. "Our Ashby's ice cream in a home-made waffle cone can't be beat," he said.

Neighbors Bonnie Voss and Sue Smith of Rochester stopped to buy a few fresh roasted almonds from a counter near the J.C. Penney store.

"The smell just grabs you," Voss insisted. "I always stop and buy a bag. They're delicious."

But the smell of cinnamon from the nuts counter can't compete with the wafts of cinnamon that fill an end of Lakeside Mall in Sterling Heights letting shoppers know The Cinnabon Store is coming up.

"My husband and I come in every Sunday after church when we visit the mall," said Diane Beard of Mount Clemens. "The cinnamon buns smell so good, and they taste good, too. It's one good reason I give my husband for going shopping."

Healthy treats

Specialty drinks, cookies, pretzels, confections, nuts and popcorn aren't for everyone. But even the eat-for-good-health folks can find snacks at the mall.

In Hudson stores with Marketplaces, sparkling waters, pasta salads and fresh fruits are now available. At the General Nutrition Centers in most malls, Tiger's Milk energy bars and Carboforce health drinks are bestsellers. Kelli Summers at the GNC in the Wonderland Mall in Livonia said it's not unusual for people heading to a mall movie to stop in for healthy snacks before showtime.

At Wonderland's Pretzel Peddler, Dawn will sell as many as 350-500 pretzels each Saturday. "Pretzels are a great snack. They're low in fat," she said.

But hot pretzel competition comes from the Frostyogurt counter where this cool treat has an endorsement from the Henry Ford Hospital Heart and Vascular Institute.

Punk Pop

Teens at Wonderland Mall are big on the "Punk Pop." This frozen beverage combines layers of Pepsi, Mountain Dew and strawberry pop for a drink that's "really cool and delicious," according to Molly Grant, 15, of Garden City.

Cafe caramels and cafe mochas are the best-sellers at Piccola's Cafe, also at Wonderland. Co-owner Don Salva said he enjoys a steady business as the mall's only specialty coffee counter.

"You can keep all those new fancy snacks," said Alice Bannon of Livonia. "When I go shopping, I always top off the day with a hot fudge cream puff from Sanders. It's tradition."

Her granddaughter, Tiffany, was sharing one with her, and she nodded in agreement.

"When shopping in downtown Detroit was popular, I always stopped into Sander's on Woodward before coming home. Almost everybody did. Then I enjoyed cream puffs at the Eastland Mall Sander's store in Harper Woods in the 1970s. Now, here in the '90s, you can still find Sander's cream puffs — but in the mall's food court."

Retirees Dick and Leslie Hamlin of Farmington enjoyed a cup of coffee from Gratzi's at Twelve Oaks in Novi.

"We like to stroll around the mall, you know, to get out of the house for a while, and then break for coffee," Dick said. "Maybe you can't afford all the beautiful things you see at the center. But you can always afford something to eat."

Elaine Kah, marketing director at Twelve Oaks, said the market drives the kind of eateries and snack counters that get space in the mall.

"Obviously if these businesses weren't prospering, they wouldn't be here," she said.

Malls are a destination for many a family outing, Kah said.

Firm makes loans available to individuals with troubled credit

There are many reasons why millions of Americans fall victim to credit problems every year. From maxing out credit cards to more sobering causes including loss of employment, family growth, medical emergencies and poor training in personal and household financial management.

Fortunately, there is now a local company making consolidation and new purchase loans available to people in these situations. We asked Bill Cunnington, Vice President of Security Home Loan...

Who is eligible for one of these loans?

We will work with individuals who have equity in their homes and have had debt problems of one type or another.

How does the loan work?

We take people who are living from paycheck to paycheck and consolidate all of their obligations into one lower payment. In fact, the average person will save from 30 to 40 percent a month with a consolidation of this type.

How can someone apply for one of these loans?

At Security, we pre-approve people over the phone at no charge. At that time, we also give the person an idea of how much money we can save them.

Call Bill Cunnigton at Security Home Loan (810) 669-4334 if you are interested in having a payment anaylsis done.

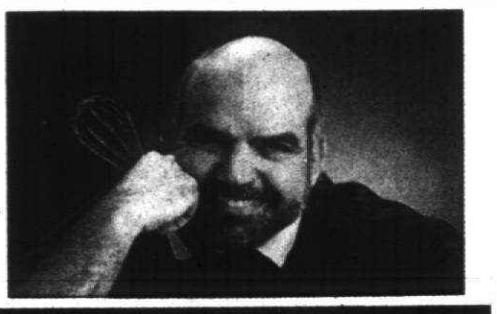
TASTE BUDS



CHEF LARRY JANES

How to pick and cook your catch of the day

Without a doubt, this is the time of year when retail fish sales escalate. In addition to the Lenten season, thoughts of spring and summer are on the minds of just about every dieter.

Hoping to shed unwanted pounds, hoards of health conscious cooks will resurrect any and all fish to new heights.

Unfortunately, in doing so, most fish will become the punching bag of the masses, due mainly to improper storage and over cooking.

Choosing fish

You've read it here once, and you'll read it here again, when it comes to choosing good fish you have to know a good fish (person). If have limited culinary skills, you shouldn't buy fish that's best broiled or poached. Likewise, if your skills were gleaned from the Johnny Kolakowski School of Culinary Arts in Wyandotte, you need to choose a fish more suited to frying than baking.

For the record, it doesn't matter how fresh the fish is, or if it's been sitting on a tray wrapped as tight as a drum in cellophane. Even deader-than-a-door-nail fish that have been beheaded, skinned and boned need to be well refrigerated (on ice) and ventilated to retain their freshness. So do your homework. Your responsibility doesn't end when the check-out cashier says "have a nice day."

Storage tips

When the you and the fish arrive home, as soon as possible, remove the fish from it's wrappings, fill a colander with ice and place the fish to rest in a free crisper drawer in the refrigerator.

Change the ice and/or drain the water daily and your fish should remain fairly viable for up to two days.

If your idea of learning all there is to know about fish is to read a book while peddling away excess pounds on a stationary bike or treadmill, one of the best books ever written is "Fish; The Basics" by Shirley King, (copyright 1990 published by Simon & Shuster, $24.95.) This book is an illustrated guide to selecting, storing and preparing all kinds of fresh seafood.

A little harder to secure but generally available at most public libraries is James Beard's "Fish Cookery" (copyright 1954 by Warner Books).

In typical Beardian style you relish his literary descriptions that include: "Fillets of sole should be fried at a temperature of only 365 degrees and Only until they are delicately brown. Otherwise you will have a dish that resembles sawdust and (one) that has no more flavor than the breading material that it surrounds."

Of course, you can skip both books and simply plop some frozen cod onto a pie plate and smother it in spaghetti sauce and bake it until it resembles nothing more than the sauce.

Cooking techniques

There are a few cooking techniques that rank as personal favorites when it comes to cooking fish.

First off, whenever the fishmonger suggests a firm fish like tuna, swordfish, marlin or halibut, the grill immediately gets fired up. If you don't have a grill, you can broil. No need to shake and bake, simply douse with a good Italian dressing or better yet, a homemade vinaigrette and four minutes on one side and three on the other over a hot fire is all it takes.

Anyone who has ever written or taught about proper fish cooking will suffice to say that the second biggest mistake most consumers make is that they cook the fish far to long. Sushi is not a family favorite but then neither is something dry and dilapidated. When the fishmonger points out thin fillets like yellow lake perch, rainbow trout, smelt or sole my favorite non-stick skillet gets a paper thin coating of butter or margarine while the fillets flip in a seasoned flour sprinkled with some pepper, paprika and salt. Nothing fancy and nothing as overpowering as a cajun seasoning for these tasty beauties and when they emerge from a fast pan-frying then need nothing more than a light shower of lemon juice. (Yes, fresh lemon juice).

When the soul and the waistband demand something lighter and healthier, I've been known to swath a fillet of salmon, cod, catfish or walleye in a few fronds of fresh dill and wrap it in parchment paper. Set it in a baking dish, and bake at 350 degrees for no less than 30 minutes. The fragrance of dill will fill the air.

COOKS FISH OUT RECIPES TO PLUNGE INTO LENT

■ If you're not a vegetarian, meatless Lenten meals can be blah. Don't feel like a fish out of water. Three area cooks offer options to macaroni and cheese.

BY SANDRA DALKA-PRYSBY
SPECIAL WRITER

With the arrival of the Lenten season comes, in many homes, the arrival of meatless meals, especially on Fridays. For many this means old standards - macaroni and cheese, a tuna casserole or cheese pizza.

This year you can forget blah meals. Three area cooks will help you escape from the ordinary and show you how to put a little zip into your meatless meals.

Brian Black is one cook who feels compelled to follow a meatless regime at certain times during Lent. His faith is one reason for this; his job is the other. He is a Roman Catholic deacon assigned to St. Ives Church in Southfield.

Deacon Black and his wife Lyn (unlike priests, deacons are allowed to be married) make seafood stir-frys during Lent.

"Stir-frys are healthy, taste good and are easy and fast to make," Black said. "Another great thing about stir-frys is that you can use almost any vegetable that you have in the refrigerator. I find that making stir-frys is relaxing and creative. I also like the fact that stir-frys can be low in fat, which is important because we are trying to stay fit," he said.

The Blacks, including Matthew, 9, and Rebecca, 6, don't limit their enjoyment of seafood and vegetable

New Italian wines, flavorful, affordable

FOCUS ON WINE

ELEANOR & RAY HEALD

It's inspiring to meet people who genuinely enjoy their work. When people are excited about their work, you detect it in their voice and the glint in their eyes. We have experienced more and more conversational competition over who works harder, who has the most problems or puts in longer hours. It's refreshing to find folks who admit they enjoy life or receive some pleasure from their job.

Eugenio Spinozzi likes his work and isn't afraid to tell his story. We have met many enthusiastic people who work in the wine industry, but Spinozzi's excitement is infectious. The bonus for you is that the wines he represents are now available in area restaurants and shops.

Spinozzi lives in central Italy's Abruzzi province and is in partnership with Sam Levitas, an American. Together they select quality Italian wines for import to the U.S. through their New York-based company Tricana Imports. They have a personal, sometimes familial relationship with each of the wine producers they represent. Each of Tricana's wines is produced by a family who is proud of the tradition and winemaking history of their region.

Spinozzi considers himself a vintner, even though he does not make the wines. He gives his clients advice on topics ranging from winemaking to label design,

"I have a little bit of me in each of the wines I sell," he says. "A successful winery is like a successful restaurant, it helps if it is family-owned. I try to become a part of that winemaking family. I am proud to have discovered each of the wines I represent and the contribution I've made to their continuing success."

Another important part of the good news about the Tricana wines is that many of them are affordable. Today, too many Italian wines come in fancy packaging with inflated prices so few can afford to drink them. We think you'll find value in many of Tricana's brands.

Vigna Del Re is a quality Tricana brand including a chardonnay, pinot grigio, cabernet sauvignon and merlot for $8. These are fresh and fragrant wines for everyday drinking. Especially flavorful whites include the 1992 Villa Frattina ($13), a single estate pinot grigio with elegant flavors and concentrated fruit. The 1991 Gavi Figini di Gavi ($14), grown in the Italian Piedmont, boasts a rich texture and pear and apple flavors characteristic of the cortese grape. The 1992 Illuminati Trebbiano d'Abruzzo "Costalupo" ($9) is grown in the state of Abruzzo between the Adriatic Sea to the east and the Appennine Mountains to the west. It is a wine particularly well-structured for country dishes such as pasta, polenta, and chicken.

The 1991 Illuminate "Ciafre" ($15) is a rich, textured wine made of trebbiano, malvasia, garganega and riesling. This is a white wine that will complement lamb and veal as well as fish and mushroom sauces. Arneis is a white grape of the Piedmont region. If you taste 10 different wines made from arneis, each will be different.

See WINES, 2B

Wine Selections of the Week

Two attractive zinfandels from the Dry Creek Valley are the 1991 Preston Zinfandel ($12.50) and the 1991 Dry Creek Vineyard Zinfandel ($14).

Merlot seems to be the darling of red wines right now. We have tasted a host of good ones:

- 1990 Chateau St. Jean Merlot ($17)
- 1991 Clos du Bois Merlot ($16)
- 1990 Kenwood Merlot ($16)
- 1991 Markham Merlot ($17.50)
- 1991 St. Clement Merlot ($20)

If you prefer cabernets, try:

- 1991 Clos du Bois Cabernet Sauvignon ($13)
- 1990 Kenwood Cabernet Sauvignon ($17)

The 1990 Clos du Bois Marlstone ($22) is a tasty blend of cabernet sauvignon, merlot, malbec, cabernet franc and petit verdot, the five Bordeaux varietals.

SWEET SHRIMP STIR-FRY

2 tablespoons peanut oil
1 pound thawed pre-cooked small shrimp
1 tablespoon mustard
2 tablespoons honey
Dash of cinnamon
1 cup chopped green pepper
½ cup chopped red pepper
½ cup pea pods
2-3 stalks celery, chopped
½ cup chopped broccoli
½ cup chopped cauliflower
¾ cup chopped walnuts

Heat peanut oil in a wok on high temperature. Add shrimp, stirring constantly. Add mustard, honey and cinnamon, stirring quickly. Almost immediately, add all the vegetables and walnuts. Continue stirring for approximately five minutes or until hot and crispy. Serve immediately over cooked rice. Serves 4.

Recipe submitted by Brian Black.

TUNA VEGETABLE GRATIN CASSEROLE

2 cans (6½ ounces each) white albacore tuna, water-packed, rinsed, drained and chunked
1 small eggplant halved lengthwise, then thinly sliced crosswise
2 small zucchini, thinly sliced crosswise
1 tablespoon salt
4 carrots, peeled and thinly sliced
1 medium onion, finely chopped
2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
1 teaspoon tomato paste
¼ cup white wine
1 medium tomato, thinly sliced
1 yellow sweet pepper, seeded and sliced into strips
1 bulb fennel, trimmed and quartered
1 red bell pepper, seeded and sliced into strips
1 teaspoon dried thyme
1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
½ tablespoon olive oil
6 sprigs parsley finely chopped

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Lightly cover eggplant and zucchini slices with salt and set aside for 30 minutes. Then rinse slices under cold water and pat dry.

Pat carrots, onion and garlic in a heavy Dutch oven or casserole. Dissolve tomato paste in white wine and pour over carrot mixture and stir to combine.

Arrange eggplant, tuna, tomato, yellow pepper, fennel, zucchini, and red pepper in that order in alternating layers on top of carrot mixture. Sprinkle on thyme and black pepper, then drizzle olive oil on top.

Cover pan and bake for 45 minutes. Remove cover and continue to bake for an additional 30 minutes. Garnish with parsley. Serves 4.

TUNA, RED PEPPER, RED APPLE AND RED ONION SALAD

2 cans (6½ ounces each) white albacore tuna, water-packed, washed, drained and chunked
1 red pepper, cut into strips
1 unpeeled red delicious apple, cubed
¼ cup red onion, coarsely diced
½ cup nonfat mayonnaise
2 tablespoons Dijon mustard
Garnish of lettuce leaves, red and green grapes

Combine nonfat mayonnaise and Dijon mustard. Add tuna, red peppers, red apples and red onions. Serve on lettuce leaves. Garnish with red and green grapes.

Recipe submitted by Muriel Wagner from "Tun. . .Ahhh".

ST. AGATHA'S NEW ENGLAND CLAM CHOWDER

4 dozen clams
5 cups of cold water
3 tablespoons of butter
1 large onion, chopped very fine
4 medium sized potatoes, diced
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
2 cups hot milk
1½ cups of heavy cream, hot

Wash clams thoroughly. Place them in a deep pan with 5 cups of cold water covering the clams. Bring to a boil, then reduce heat and simmer just until the shells open.

Strain the broth through cheesecloth and reserve. Remove the clams from their shells and chop into small pieces. Combine butter and onion in a saucepan, and cook gently over low heat for about 3 minutes; do not brown.

Add reserved broth and potatoes. Add salt and pepper to taste. Cook until potatoes are tender. Add clams. Remove from heat and slowly add heated milk and cream. Stir immediately. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

OVEN STEAMED FISH EN PAPILLOTE

2 tablespoons coarsely grated carrot
1 bunch green onions, chopped
1 celery stalk, cut into thin strips
8-10 ounces fish fillets (your choice of salmon, trout, cod, catfish, etc.)
1 teaspoon dried dill weed
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Parchment paper

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Cut parchment paper in a piece 16 inches by 12 inches.

Mix vegetables together with dill. Place fish in the center of the parchment paper. Top with vegetable mixture and sprinkle with lemon juice.

Wrap parchment to secure. Place on a baking sheet and bake at 400 degrees for 20-25 minutes. Serves 2.

STEAMED OCEAN PERCH

2 cups water
1 whole carrot, thinly sliced
2 celery stalks, thinly sliced
1 bunch green onions, chopped
2 large lettuce leaves
1 bay leaf
5 peppercorns
¾ pound fish fillets with skin (your choice of perch, salmon, grouper, or lemon sole)

In a medium saucepan, add water, vegetables, bay leaf and peppercorns. Cover and bring to a boil and boil for 5 minutes.

Reduce the heat to medium low. Insert a folding vegetable steamer or a small bamboo steamer. Place fish on top, cover and steam for 5 minutes.

Thicker fillets will require up to 9 minutes of cooking. Remove from heat. Remove lid, remove steamer and enjoy fish. Serves 2.

stir-frys solely to the Lenten season. Stir-frys are popular at the Black house thorughout the year.

"Stir-frys are our choice when we entertain guests. Everybody seems to enjoy this type of meal, and many times we invite our guests to help by chopping the vegetables. Our friends enjoy being personally involved in the meal."

Rice, homemade bread and a salad most often accompany the Blacks' stir-fry dinners. "A nice benefit to this meal is that while I make the stir-fry, Lyn makes the salad and we have the chance to talk and catch up with each other."

While the Blacks put seafood in stir-frys, the Rev. Thomas Flowinski, pastor of St. Agatha Church in Redford, uses seafood to attract hundreds of paying guests to his church. For the fourth year in a row, St. Agatha's is serving seafood dinners, ranging in price from $3.75 to $5 every Friday during Lent.

"The profits from these dinners go into our general fund for various projects," said Flowinski who does much of the cooking. "We offer such a variety of food including fish and chips, shrimp, baked cod and clam chowder, that our dinners have become very popular."

Flowinski said parishioners help him cook the dinners. "I really enjoy cooking these and other dinners. I find that cooking is creative and fun, as well as great therapy for shuffling papers and working at my desk all day."

Seafood dishes garner Flowinski's attention for 40 days a year, but Italian cuisine is his choice on the remaining days. "I like making Italian dishes because I like the taste of garlic — lots of garlic — and I like pasta."

Muriel G. Wagner, a registered dietitian who practices in Southfield, is busy creating recipes using tuna fish. She has been so successful in this mission that her first 50 recipes are found in a book entitled "Tun. . . Ahh: Smart Eating With Good Taste," which she coauthored with food writer Irene Burchard.

"My tuna recipes provide a nice change to the traditional tuna fish casserole recipes. And, in addition to tasting good, these recipes help to lower fat, cholesterol and weight," Wagner said.

"We wrote this book because tuna is one of the healthiest foods you can eat, as well as a real nutritional bargain. But most people only think of tuna as a salad that you put on a sandwich or on a plate. We wanted to introduce our readers to a variety of ways tuna fish can be served — all of which are delicious!"

For thsoe who would like to try some of these tuna recipes during Lent, you can order "Tun. . . Ahh" by sending a check or money order payable to W/B Press for $9.85 (includes postage, handling and Michigan sales tax) to Dr. Muriel Wagner, 24901 Northwestern Highway, Suite 613-C, Southfield, MI 48075.

St. Agatha's Church is at 19800 Beech Daly in Redford, between Eight Mile and Grand River. Dinners, including children's portions, are served 3-8 p.m. Fridays during Lent.

Arneis which translates "rascal" in Italian is appropriate for the wine because of its unpredictable behavior. The 1992 Cairel Arneis ($17) showcases the fresh aromas of a bosc pear and is made by Guiseppe and Luigi Rivetti.

In the region known as Marche, the Cifola brothers produce a single vineyard verdicchio that you must try for its rich fruit and attractive fruit aromas. The 1991 La Monacesca Verdicchio de Matelica ($14) represents one of the few wines available locally, produced in the Marche.

Italian red wines are abundant. The 1991 Illuminati "Riparosso" ($9) is made from the Montepulciano d'Abruzzo grape, but don't confuse it with the wine known as Vino Nobile de Montepulciano. It has delicious blackberry fruit and is one of the best red wine buys around. Flavors are magnified many times in the 1988 Illuminati Zanna Montepulciano d'Abruzzo Vecchio ($18). An incredible wine for the money, the Vecchio (old) shows a wonderfully mature nose with integrated oak and Intense fruit that is simply delicious — a wine worth a search.

Space will not allow a complete description, but we suggest that you taste the following: 1990 Francesco Sasso Aglianico del Vulture ($16), 1990 Querciavalle Chianti Classico, Paolo & Pietro Losi ($13), 1991 Rosso di Montalcino, Nardi ($13), 1988 Brunello di Montalcino, Nardi ($30), 1988 Barolo "Cascina Bruni," Pasquale Veglio ($35).

Purim merriment capped off with delicious hamantaschen

Masks, plays, merriment and hamantaschen make the Jewish celebration of Purim a delight for children, as well as adults.

The holiday, celebrated Feb. 25, marks a time in Jewish history without persecution. Believed to be taken from the Book of Esther, Purim is celebrated with customs from the Persian New Year dating back 2,000 years.

Persecution has been a part of the Hebrew-Jewish tradition since Joseph entered Egypt, but the Purim story talks of a time when a secular king ruled most of the known world and married a Jewess. The king turns the tables on those who persecuted the Jews and sets out to annihilate those who sought their destruction.

Preparation for Purim begins well in advance of the festival with families making masks and costumes and preparing the traditional hamantaschen. The treats are believed to have originated in Germany and are sometimes called mohntaschen.

A pre-Purim event with mask- and crown-making activites for children will be hosted locally by the Jewish Community Center in West Bloomfield at 10:30 a.m. Feb. 24. Grandparents are invited to bring their grandchildren dressed in Purim costumes to the center. Reservations can be made by calling Lorraine Morris at 661-7649. There is a fee for the event.

Purim itself is not a full holiday and children attend school as usual. Late in the afternoon, a special Purim meal is prepared and the actual celebration begins.

The traditional Purim Se'udah (festive meal) would have included 24 meat, poultry and pastry dishes, but the meal has been simplified for most modern-day Purim revelers. Families then visit their synagogue where the Purim traditions continue.

After a celebration of games, masquerading and a reinactment of the book of Esther, the costume-clad children venture off with baskets of hamantaschen to share with neighbors.

The traditional hamantaschen recipe is quite involved, but a simple children's version of the holiday treat will keep the celebration alive in Jewish households and allow maximum involvement for the entire family.

HAMANTASCHEN FOR KIDS

1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
1 Teaspoon vanilla
3 eggs
4 cups flour
½ Teaspoon salt
jam or jelly

Mix all ingredients together, except jelly. Roll into balls and then flatten out. Place a spoonful of jelly or jam in the center of each flattened circle of dough. Pinch the corners together to form a triangle. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 8 to 10 minutes or until golden brown. Recipe makes 12 servings.

Top chefs served up at seminar

An impressive slate of award-winning chefs will share their talents at a seminar hosted by Schoolcraft College. The sixth annual Chef's Seminar, March 7, will be just like "buying a cookbook," according to a spokesman for the college.

Included on the menu of chefs will be Peter Ashcraft, executive chef at Charley's Crab; Keith Josefiak, corporate chef for the Rattlesnake Club; Kevin Brennan, executive chef for Orchard Lake Country Club; and Peter Loren, executive chef for Opus One.

The chefs will prepare everything from alderwood planked New England shad and shad roe with leeks, anise and spinach stuffing; star-shaped pasta with tender rock shrimp and ginger; stuffed pork tenderloin with mushroom inlay; and Moscovy duck breast meat with straw vegetables and potatoes.

Class size is limited although open to anyone. The seminar will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 4:30 p.m. The fee for the seminar is $150 per person.

To register call 313-462-4400.

E FOR EXERCISE

Aerobic exercise improves the health and efficiency of the heart; however, it also produces "free radicals" as a by-product. These highly reactive, cell-destroying forms of oxygen increase along with metabolic rate. Fortunately, such antioxidants as vitamin C, beta-carotene, and vitamin E help block oxidative reactors and protect the body's cells from damage. A recent study from Tufts University in Boston suggests that those who engage in regular exercise might consider supplementing their diets with vitamin E. The RDA for vitamin E is 30 I.U.'s, but the study showed that ingesting 800 I.U.'s of vitamin E before vigorous exercise reduced free radical levels by a factor of more than four. The study suggests that active people take daily supplements of vitamin E at least 100 I.U.'s.

Vitamin and mineral supplements are a good idea for most of us — young and old. For instance, vitamin C, or golden seal, with echinacea are terrific for combatting the symptoms of flus and colds. At the GOOD FOOD CO., a natural food supermarket, we offer an amazing variety of vitamins, supplements, and whole food products. If you have any questions about the benefits of one product over another or about our column, please call us at 981-8100. We are located at 42615 Ford Rd. We are open Monday through Saturday from 9:00 to 9:00, and Sundays from 10:00 to 6:00.

P.S. The initials "I.U." stand for international units, a measurement of vitamin strength.

Celebrate spring that with lamb dish

Spring means many different taste treats to many different people, but for those of us who spent winters in the cold snowy parts of the country, fresh vegetables were a taste of heaven.

The tiny pink buds of rhubarb pushing through the ground, followed by the bright green heads of asparagus gave us a sure indication that spring and warm weather had arrived.

Even though American lamb is not seasonal as once thought, it still comes to mind as the spring holidays — St. Patrick's Day and Easter — near. St. Patrick's Day invites a hearty lamb stew, and Easter features a crusty brown, pink and tender roast perfect for a large family celebration.

American lamb is certainly more versatile than stew and leg of lamb, and many people who have not tried lamb before will find that stir-fry with simple ingredients will enhance their meals, both nutritionally and economically.

Lamb is characteristically tender so that cuts such as the arm chop or leg steaks makes an ideal cut for slicing into thin strips for stir-frying.

This asparagus lamb combination is a hit when it comes to nutrition. Both asparagus and lamb are sources of iron. Since American lamb is generally low in sodium, use the reduced sodium broth and soy sauce now found on grocers shelves to keep your stir-frying dishes in line with the guidelines suggested by the dietary guidelines. Additional good news about this recipe includes Vitamins A and C, fiber and less than 20 percent calories from fat.

Don't forget to cut your lamb in even strips so that it cooks evenly. Freezing also makes it easier to slice.

The asparagus needs to be well trimmed so that there are no tough stalks. If a knife does not cut the stalk easily, either peel the tough outside or discard the remaining piece. Try to use asparagus as soon after buying or cutting from the patch as it tends to toughen as it is stored.

Fresh mild green onions create a delightful background for the lamb, but any onion can be substituted. Make sure that you do not overcook the lamb to keep it at its tender best. And by keeping the other vegetables crisp tender, it will help retain the vitamins and minerals. Celebrate spring with fresh asparagus and American lamb.

LAMB ASPARAGUS STIR FRY

12 ounces boneless lean American lamb, leg or shoulder, cut in ⅛-inch strips
1 tablespoon oil
1 clove garlic, minced
2 teaspoons cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon ginger powder
1 tablespoon soy sauce, reduced sodium
1 cup chicken broth, reduced sodium
4 cups asparagus, trimmed and cut diagonally into ¾ inch pieces
1 large onion (1 cup), cut into ⅛ strips
½ cup carrots, thinly sliced
¼ cup slivered almonds or peanuts, optional

Mix cornstarch and ginger. Gradually add soy sauce and broth, blending well. Set aside. Heat oil to medium hot and add garlic and lamb strips to the skillet or wok. Stir-fry until the lamb is slightly pink. Remove the lamb from the skillet or wok. Add asparagus, onion, carrots and continue to stir-fry until crisp tender; 3 to 5 minutes.

Return lamb to the vegetable mixture. Stir in broth and continue cooking until the lamb vegetable mixture is glazed and heated thoroughly. Serve over rice or ramen noodles and top with nuts, if desired. Serves 4. Preparation time 15 minutes, cooking time 15 minutes.

Eggs: Handle carefully

Due to the possibility of contamination with salmonella, enteritids or other bacteria, it is important to handle all eggs and egg-rich foods properly. Here are some tips from the Oakland Cooperative Extension Service.

■ Wash hands, utensils, equipment and work areas with hot, soapy water before and after they come in contact with eggs and egg-rich foods (foods with eggs as the main ingredients: quiches and baked custards for example.)

■ Buy grade AA or A eggs with clean, uncracked and checked shells.

■ Do not buy unrefrigerated eggs.

■ Refrigerate eggs in the original carton.

■ Cook eggs thoroughly — until the yolk is not runny and the white is firm. Cook scrambled eggs until firm.

■ Avoid foods that contain raw eggs, such as Caesar salad or homemade mayonnaise, ice cream or eggnog. Commercial mayonnaise, ice cream and eggnog are safe, since they use pasteurized eggs and the pasteurization kills bacteria.

■ Avoid foods that contain lightly cooked eggs such as chilled chocolate mousse or soft meringues that are only slightly cooked.

■ Eggs and egg-rich foods should never be kept out of the refrigerator for more than 2 hours, including serving time.

■ To ensure safe Easter eggs, do not leave hard-cooked dyed eggs at room temperature for more than two hours. Hard cooking an egg destroys much of its natural protection and makes it more susceptible to bacterial growth.

■ When refrigerating a large amount of a hot egg-rich dish or leftovers, divide it into several shallow containers so it will cool quickly.

Health smorgasbord served up at Botsford Hospital

A smorgasbord of health screening opportunities, from medication counseling to blood analysis, will be served up March 2-4 by Botsford General Hospital at Project Health-O-Rama at Livonia Mall.

Botsford is joining the Blue Care Network, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, WXYZ-TV 7 and the United Health Organization in presenting Health-O-Rama, now in its 15th year.

Health care professionals will offer colo-rectal screening, a blood panel and prostate screening among the 20 displays of important health information and screenings in the midway of the mall.

Also included will be body fat analysis, nutrition information, hearing screening and sinus information, information on diabetes, speech, voice and language therapy, information on heart health and foot care. Health-O-Rama includes special information for women, children and older adults. Most of the screenings are free. There are minimal charges for the prostate screening, colo-rectal screening and a 22-test blood panel profile.

The program runs 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on all three days.

Vegetarian buffet is hosted for 'Meatout' campaign

Humanitarians for Animal Rights Education is hosting its second annual vegetarian buffet Saturday, March 19, at the Pleasant Ridge Community Center, 4 Ridge Road, Pleasant Ridge, from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This event is part of the national Great American Meatout campaign sponsored by Farm Animal Reform Movement. Adults will be charged $1; children eat for free.

More than 60 vegetarian entrees, salads, appetizers, drinks and desserts will be served to acquaint guests with modern meatless cooking. Recipes and vegetarian lifestyle information will be provided, and there will be demonstrations of cruelty-free make-up and household cleaning products.

The purpose of the Great American Meatout is to reduce the national consumption of meat and the raising of animals for food. Meat consumption has been linked to chronic diseases such as heart failure, stroke, cancer, and diabetes.

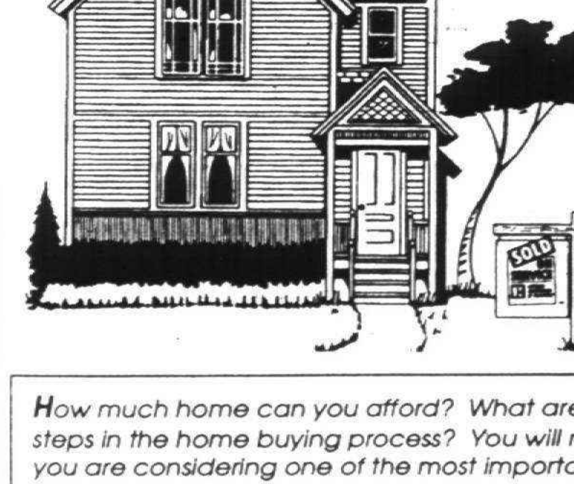
FREE SEMINAR



How to Buy a Home

How much home can you afford? What are your financing options? Do you know the basic steps in the home buying process? You will need the answers to these common questions if you are considering one of the most important purchases of your life - buying a home.

This free seminar is provided to you as a public service of the Western Wayne Oakland County Association of REALTORS®. No individual REALTORS® or real estate companies will be promoted, as this is a strictly informational program. You will receive an excellent packet of information and your questions will be fielded by the panel of speakers. Make your reservation today.

Canned good donations for the Salvation Army will be accepted at the door.

YOU'RE INVITED TO A FREE SEMINAR ON HOME BUYING ON

Tuesday, March 8 • 7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

Don't get mud on your shoes

. . .until you've called our new

BUILDERS HOT LINE DIRECTORY

It's worth a little mud to find the right new home, but why not check out what's happening in the new home construction business before you trek out into the building fields?

All you have to do is call our new Builders Hot Line Directory number from your touch-tone telephone and take a "talking" tour of what's being offered. A lot of builders plan to include their Hot Line numbers right in their ads, so if you should see an interesting advertisment in the Real Estate section of our classifieds look for the builder's Hot Line number there, too.

Remember, before you travel into unknown territory, check our new BUILDERS HOT LINE DIRECTORY by calling

Canton record falls

Another dual meet, another win.

Plymouth Canton's gymnastics team rolled to its ninth-consecutive victory Thursday, but it wasn't easy. The Chiefs edged Western Lakes Activities Association foe Westland John Glenn 129.2-128.5 at Canton.

Part of the reason for the closeness of the meet was the Chiefs' somewhat makeshift lineup. It didn't keep them from improving their record to 9-1, however.

And Kacey Gilles continued to excel. The freshman broke her own school record in the all-around, totaling 37.6. She won all four events: the vault (9.6), the uneven parallel bars (9.5), the balance beam (9.15) and the floor exercise (9.35).

In the vault, Canton's Kari Jackson was second (8.5), Adrienne Brenner was fourth (8.3) and Angie Lamerato was sixth (8.0). Brenner took sixth (6.95) in the bars and was fifth (7.65) in the beam, while Beth Muylaert took fourth in the beam (7.7). In floor, Lamerato placed fifth (8.35).

Kim Nowak (vacation) and Brie Wall (school trip), two of the Chiefs' top performers, did not compete.

The Chiefs' dual-meet win streak will be in jeopardy tonight when they go up against rival Plymouth Salem, the defending state champion, at 7 p.m.

Slow pitch registration

The Plymouth Parks and Recreation department will begin registration for its men's, women's and co-ed slow pitch softball leagues March 1.

All men's and women's teams may register starting March 1. Entry fee for men's teams is $460 ($70 of which is a refundable forfeit fee), plus $15 per non-Plymouth resident. Teams may have as many non-residents as they wish. Entry fee for women's teams is $340 (which includes a $50 refundable forfeit fee), plus $15 per non-Plymouth resident (limited to six per team).

Men's fees include an 18-game schedule, playoffs for the top 16 teams, awards and game balls. Each teams will pay a $14 umpire fee at the field. Play begins the first week of May.

Women's fees include a 14-game schedule, playoffs for the top four teams, awards and scorekeepers. The home team will pay a $16 umpire fee at the field. Each team will supply one new ball per game. Play begins the first week of May.

Returning teams in the co-ed leagues may register March 1, with new teams registering March 14; there is an 18-team limit to this league. Entry fee is $340 ($50 refundable forfeit fee included) plus $15 per non-Plymouth or Canton resident (limit of six per team).

Fee includes a 14-game schedule, awards and scorekeepers. The home team will pay a $16 umpire fee and will supply a new 11-inch and 12-inch ball every game. The visiting team will supply good used balls of the same dimensions each game. Play begins the first week in May.

For more information, call city of Plymouth recreation director Tom Willette at 455-6620.

Spring softball leagues

Canton Softball Center opens its 1994 season Early Bird Tournament, Friday through Sunday, April 15-17 (weather permitting). The open tournament guarantees four games. Cost is $125 plus umpire fees.

The 14-game season fee is $495 per team (plus $7 per game, per team umpire fee). Men's, women's and coed teams are welcome (no residency requirement). A weekday morning and 35-and-over leagues are also being formed.

Teams or people interested in getting on a mailing list should call 483-5600, Ext. 102 or 103 (ask for Bob Hope).

World Cup volunteers

The World Cup USA organizing committee is hosting a volunteer rally at Detroit Edison's Southfield Center (on Northwestern west of Lahser) 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. It will be the final opportunity for volunteers to get involved in staging the four World Cup matches at the Pontiac Silverdome June 18-28.

An estimated 2,000 volunteers will be needed to perform a variety of tasks. Those interested should attend the rally or call World Cup USA-Detroit at (810) 456-1994, Ext. 207, prior to the rally.

U-D baseball reunion

Calling all former University of Detroit baseball players.

A reunion will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, March 5, in the Titan Club Room at Calihan Hall.

The cost is $5 per person (includes snacks, beer, wine and soda).

For more information, call UD-Mercy coaches Bob Miller or Bob Atkins at 993-1700.

Filipino martial arts

Professor Remy Presas, 10th Degree Grand Master and a leading authority on Filipino Martial Arts, will hold a class 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, March 12, at the Defensive Tactics Center, 31134 Five Mile, Livonia.

The cost is $35 per person.

For more information, call 422-5000.

Salem stalls against Glenn

■ Westland John Glenn earned the top seed in the upcoming Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs with a 47-44 victory Friday over Plymouth Salem. Both teams finished 10-1 in the WLAA.

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Westland John Glenn executed its game plan with a guillotine Friday.

Off with James Head.

Glenn made a precision cut on the 6-foot-7 Iowa-bound center, holding him to a 11 points while ending the visiting Rocks' 14-game winning streak, 47-44.

Both teams finish 10-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and share the Lakes Division crown at 4-1, but Glenn is the No. 1 seed heading into the playoffs, which opens Thursday and Friday with first-round action.

Tony Goins, a 6-foot-5 senior forward, was most responsible for holding Head in check. He limited the Salem star, who was suffering from the flu, to three of 16 shooting from the floor.

And if Goins, whose big two free throws with eight seconds left ensured the win, didn't give Salem with a migraine, Excedrin No. 2 was provided by the Rockets' 6-9 junior center Guy Rucker, who proved to be the difference with 17 points, eight rebounds and six blocked shots.

"Tony had kind of a tentative game offensively, but defensively he just did a great job," said Glenn coach Mike Schuette, whose team is 13-3 overall. "Great ballplayers rise to the occasion, and when we needed it, he grabbed a big rebound.

"He wanted to play Head because Head is a great player. He's the best in western Wayne County and to hold him him to that (11 points) says something."

Head, limited to a mere two free throws over the first three quarters, came alive during the latter stages of the tightly contested game.

His rebound slam with only 59 seconds remaining gave the Rocks a 44-43 advantage.

Schuette then called timeout to settle his team down as the Glenn gym rocked to a deafening sound.

The Rockets composed themselves and scored when Goins hit a short shot with 46 seconds remaining to regain the lead at 45-44.

Head then missed a short baseline shot.

Rucker rebounded the ball and the Rockets whittled the clock down to 10 seconds before Albert Jones was fouled.

The sophomore guard missed both free throws, but Goins came up with the big rebound and got fouled on a put-back.

After a Salem timeout, he went to the line and calmly sank a pair.

"We talked about that very thing during the timeout, don't let them get the second or third shot," Salem coach Bob Brodie said. "But sure enough it happened."

The Rocks found themselves trapped after inbounding the ball in their backcourt, but the clock operator failed to turn on the switch.

With the ball in Salem's possession after being knocked out of bounds, officials huddled at the scorers table and took three seconds off.

Figures show Head has what is needed

■ PROFILE

When James Head checks out of Canton and heads west to Iowa City and the University of Iowa, he'll leave behind the expectations — gladly — others manufactured for him.

Don't misunderstand James Head. He's not bitter, by any means; nor is he unhappy. It's just that he's been subjected to four years of "how good he could be" criticisms.

He never asked for them. He never wanted them. Head just wanted to play basketball for Plymouth Salem, and play it well.

And he wanted to win.

He's done both, which is why Iowa signed him before his senior season. Recruiting pressures may have eased, but Head hasn't slowed: The 6-foot-6 senior has averaged 20 points, 13.6 rebounds, four assists, three steals and two blocked shots a game.

And the Rocks, who graduated four senior starters from last year's team, have continued to sparkle. Going into Friday's game at Westland John Glenn, they were 15-1. In Head's three-plus varsity seasons, they have won 77 games.

"He's just a complete ball player," said Salem coach Bob Brodie. "The expectations for him have been phenomenal, but that's good. All great players face that.

"I think he's fulfilled them."

There are those who would argue. Friday's Glenn game would provide a prime example: Head was 3-for-16 from the floor, scoring just 11 points. Salem lost, for the second time this season.

Never mind that he was trying to overcome the flu, which caused him

Canton can't counter Mustang size

BY C.J. RISAK
STAFF WRITER

■ BASKETBALL

On Thursday, the opening round of the Western Lakes Activities Association basketball tournament gets under way.

Perhaps it will be able to decide what 10 weeks of regular-season play has not. Such as — who the heck is best?

Case in point: Plymouth Canton was as hot as any team outside of Detroit. The Chiefs had won eight of their previous nine games, including a 105-39 romp over Livonia Stevenson three days before Friday's homecourt showdown with Northville.

It was a game that would decide the somewhat mythical (since it decides nothing in the WLAA standings) Western Division title.

Canton could clinch the No. 3 seed in the tournament. Northville was No. 8. Everything favored the Chiefs. So what happens? The Mustangs overpower them in the second half with their inside game and roll to a 70-56 triumph.

"Our kids gave it their best effort," said Canton coach Dave VanWagoner. "It just wasn't their night. The shots weren't dropping tonight. The bubble burst."

To understand somewhat this craziest of leagues, ponder some of Friday's results: Plymouth Salem, which had been unbeaten in the WLAA, tumbles to Westland John Glenn; North Farmington, searching for the No. 5 seed in the tournament, loses to the same Stevenson team Canton routed earlier in the week; and defending league champ Walled Lake Central gets clipped by Farmington.

Final analysis: It won't matter what team is seeded where in the tournament (homecourt advantage is pre-determined), because any of the top eight can win it.

The Canton-Northville contest provided adequate proof. At the start, it was all Chiefs; they forced 10 Northville turnovers in the first quarter, including eight in a row, a stretch during which the Mustangs never even got off a shot. Canton led 19-8 going into the second quarter.

But free throws started to take a toll. Northville canned 10-straight in the second quarter, enabling the Mustangs to narrow the gap to 31-29 by halftime.

Without doubt, fouls reversed the tempo. Canton's pressure was nullified by the whistle. Once back on their heels defensively, their quickness neutralized, the Mustangs could pound the ball inside to 6-foot-11 Josh Williams. Or 6-7 John Buser. Or 6-4 Marc Chiasson. Or 6-5 George Lemmon.

None of the Chiefs' top eight players is over 6-3.

Williams, Buser, Chiasson and Lemmon combined for 53 Northville points. "Their size," admitted VanWagoner, "was definitely a factor."

Canton's last real run ended midway through the third quarter, when Tadarius Rachal's three-pointer gave them a 40-33 lead with 3:26 left. The Mustangs controlled play after that; they outscored the Chiefs 11-3 in the rest of the period to carry a 44-43 lead into the fourth.

Which belonged to them — 26-13, with Chiasson scoring 10 of his game-high 18 points. Lemmon was also a key factor, coming off the bench to score 13 points, 11 in the second half.

"I thought we handled their pressure real well," said Northville coach Larry Taylor after his team had recorded its 11th win in 17 games (5-6 in the WLAA). "We got the ball down inside.

"We're much bigger than most teams, but that doesn't mean we always play that way. But I think we can play with anyone."

Buser finished with 12 points, and Williams and John Farrar each netted 10.

Canton, which had six players reach double figures against Stevenson, had just two against Northville's zone: Matt Paupore with 16 and Rachal with 14. The Mustangs' simple 2-3 zone was effective — Canton was 5-of-20 in the fourth quarter, although many shots were long-range triples.

After Northville opened the quarter with a 12-2 run, the Chiefs never got closer than five. Which means that if they plan to snare a share of the division title (they're 10-6 overall, 7-3 in the WLAA) and lay claim to the No. 3 seed, they'll have to beat Livonia Franklin Tuesday (at Canton).

That's certainly possible, of course. But in this league, anything is.

Win gives Rocks top seed

VOLLEYBALL

The opening game set the tone. Very clearly, Plymouth Salem's volleyball team meant business this night.

The Rocks, in pursuit of a Lakes Division championship and a No. 1 seed in the upcoming Western Lakes Activities Association tournament, earned both while making quick work of Farmington Wednesday, 15-2, 15-2, 15-13.

The win boosted Salem's record to 10-0 in the conference, 5-0 in the Lakes and 31-5-3 overall. The Rocks close out their WLAA regular season at home at 7 p.m. tonight against Livonia Churchill.

Allie Suffety, Salem's co-coach, admitted a certain amount of apprehension regarding his team's attitude going into the match. The Rocks had not played particularly well in their previous two WLAA matches.

"I've been worried about lulls," said Suffety. "(Farmington's) got a young team. I was concerned we'd have a letdown."

Which is why he and fellow coach Brian Gilles reiterated to the team what was at stake. "The division championship was a goal for us all season," he said. "The kids were really focused tonight."

In the opening game, Karen Gundry showed how focused by serving 14-straight points — four of them aces. The second game was nearly as lopsided. An abundance of substitution by Salem helped make the third game tighter.

Paula Dombrowski's nine kills and two blocks led the Rocks. Jamey Viau had six kills, Shellye Sills five and Gundry and Kelly Johnston added four kills and 13 digs apiece. Kim Sheldon paced the defense with 26 digs. Erin Koch, who had been sidelined with a strained Achilles tendon, returned at setter and had 17 assists to kills in two games.

Even though they are guaranteed the top seed in Saturday's WLAA Tournament (starting at 8:30 a.m. at Livonia Churchill), Suffety is hardly filled with confidence. "People are going to be after us," he said. "We'll have to remain focused if we're going to win the league."

Canton seeks turnaround

It was a tough week for Plymouth Canton's volleyball team.

In both of their matches, the Chiefs were within a point of winning. They ended up losing each in five games.

On Wednesday, it was Northville that bounced back from a 2-0 deficit in games to frustrate Canton 5-15, 9-15, 16-14, 15-12, 17-15. Last Monday, the Chiefs lost at Livonia Stevenson 15-5, 8-15, 9-15, 15-6, 15-6.

The defeats dropped Canton to 2-2 in the Western Division, 2-7 in the WLAA and 9-18-4 overall.

In the loss to Northville, the Chiefs had everything going their way in the first two games. "They couldn't stop Ndu," said coach Melinda Cain, referring to middle hitter Ndu Okumabua. "She was so hot. The Northville kids didn't know how to play her."

In the end, the Mustangs didn't need a formula to stop Okumabua. As Cain explained, "We shut ourselves down. Our passing and serve reception let us down."

Indeed, serve reception — which, Cain claimed, "has been our nemesis all year," — was an indication of the tide shift. The Chiefs had eight serve reception errors in the first two games; they made 22 in the last three.

Okumabua finished with 21 kills. Janet Zabivnik had six, five coming in the fifth game as Canton charged back from a 14-8 deficit to go up 15-14 (with Michelle Moreno serving), only to stumble. Setter Amber Wells had 32 assists to kills, and Amy Price, Shawn Champlin and Lis Layman provided solid defense.

The Chiefs had just nine players; two starters, Kristie Drinkhahn (school trip) and Katie Ray (family vacation), were absent.

In the loss to Stevenson Monday, Canton again aided its own demise by missing six serves in the fourth game, after they had bounced back from a lopsided loss in the first game to win two in a row.

Okumabua had six kills and four blocks; Zabivnik had six kills and two service aces; Wells collected four aces; and Layman had three kills and four blocks.

Canton closes out its WLAA season at North Farmington at 7 p.m. Monday and at Farmington Harrison at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Salem clips Falcons to stay league's best; Canton swamps Pats

SWIMMING

It turned out easier than expected for Plymouth Salem's swim team Thursday.

The Rocks utilized wins in all three relays plus two individual firsts from Fred Locke in subduing one of their top Western Lakes Activities Association rivals — Farmington — by a 106-79 score at Salem.

Locke had a hand in four of the Rocks' victories. He won both the 50-yard (22.55) and 100-yard (49.70) freestyle, and teamed with John McLenaghan, Andy Dettling and Aaron Berlin to capture the 200 medley relay (1:44.72) and with Joe Ervin, Dave Bracht and Eric Seidelman to win the 200 free relay (1:31.89).

Other individual firsts for Salem went to Woodie Thomas in diving (270.20 points) and Berlin in the 500 free (5:14.82). Berlin, Seidelman, Ervin and Bracht combined for a first in the 400 free relay (3:26.89).

Salem, now 8-2 overall in dual meets, 5-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 4-0 in the Lakes Division, hosts the WLAA meet starting with swim preliminaries Thursday. Diving will be Friday and the finals Saturday.

■ CANTON 135, FRANKLIN 51: Plymouth Canton tuned up for the WLAA meet by routing Livonia Franklin Thursday at Livonia Churchill.

Canton is 5-4 overall, 4-3 in WLAA duals.

Jeff Clark continued his season-long assault on the record books. He led off the 200-yard free relay — which the Chiefs won in 1:32.28 — with a 21.93 split, a Canton team record and the fastest time in the state thus far this season. Others on the relay were Jason McMann, John Mogelnicki and Mike Orris.

Other individual winners for Canton were McMann in the 50 free (24.29); Orris in the 200 free (1:46.93, a Churchill pool record); Jason Stirling in the 200 individual medley (2:26.25); Jason Fowler in diving (287.25 points); Tim Fanning in the 500 free (5:45.04); and Jason Lehn in the 100 breaststroke (1:11.04).

Both Fowler and Daryl Ballios, who placed second in diving with a 275.15 total, broke the Churchill pool record.

McMann, Lehn, Todd Gillihan and Mogelnicki teamed for a win in the 200 medley relay (1:53.15), and Orris, Stirling, Gillihan and David Berger were winners in the 400 free relay (3:36.90).

Rocks rip Chiefs, then fall in final

WRESTLING

The season ended for Plymouth Salem's wrestling team in the district final against Belleville Thursday at Ypsilanti.

It could have, and — according to Rocks' coach Ron Kreuger — should have been different. The Tigers beat Salem 36-26 to advance to the state regionals.

"It just wasn't to be," said Kreuger, whose team finished with a 6-2 dual-meet mark. "It makes me mad because we could have won nine weight classes. I think this was a meet we could have won."

Earlier in the district, Salem overpowered an undermanned Plymouth Canton team 66-12.

Salem winners against Belleville were Scott Hughes at 119-pounds, by a 10-6 margin; Aaron Lapinski (125), 8-0; Jeremy Breithaupt (145), a pin in 5:53; Steve Hughes (152), 5-4; John Svec (160), 10-4; and Clayton Walker (189), on a disqualification.

Two other Rocks, Dave Popeney (130) and David Craig (140), got pinned while they were leading their matches. Also, Phil Mitchell (135) dropped a 5-4 decision in a match he was expected to win.

Although Kreuger wasn't exactly happy with his wrestlers final performance as a team, he thinks several — both Scott and Steve Hughes, Lapinski, Mitchell, Breithaupt and Svec — could do well in the state individual meet.

He's passing the ball instead of the bottle.

"I felt confident with a three-point lead because the worst we could do was overtime if we played it smart," Schuette said. "But I couldn't help but think back to last year when Salem beat us at the buzzer on a long three-point shot."

Needing a three-pointer to tie, Salem's Justin Marcis took aim, but stepped inside the ring, failing to convert as time expired.

"We were pretty inept offensively," said Brodie, whose team shot 18 of 55 from the floor (32 percent). "We didn't have enough players who wanted to take charge. James forced some shots, but he was the only guy who wanted to take charge. Nobody else did."

Glenn led 17-14 after one quarter, but the Rocks pulled even at intermission, 24-all, as forward Dan McKian came off the bench to contribute two field goals, a steal and a blocked shot.

The Rockets outscored Salem 13-9 in the third period, hitting six of 12 shots from the floor to gain a 37-33 advantage.

But Head, who missed his first 10 shots and was held without a field goal over the opening 25 minutes, suddenly came alive with nine fourth-quarter points.

But it was Rucker, the intimidator inside, who proved to be the equalizer on the defensive end.

"He stood inside and didn't guard anybody," Brodie said. "He sat back there and blocked shots. He has a nice touch, too. He's a good player."

Sanj Seth added nine points for the Rocks (15-2 overall), all on threes, while senior guard Tariq Horne added 11 for Glenn.

"I thought our perimeter players — Albert, Tariq and Savon Hubbard — all played smart," Schuette said. "They didn't force the pass inside when it wasn't there.

"And Guy (Rucker) hit some nice jumpers in the first quarter. He has a soft touch. He took a couple out of his range, but he didn't get down on himself. Earlier in the year he would have held his head down."

Did somebody just say Head?

to miss Tuesday's game at Walled Lake Western. Never mind that all season long, Head faced teams with one goal in mind defensively: stopping him. And never mind that his teammates were mostly inexperienced.

He's a superstar, a Mr. Basketball candidate, a Big Ten-caliber talent. He should show it, all the time.

Such constant pressures have been largely ignored by Head. Friday's game, for instance: "I think of it as just another game," he said while Salem's junior varsity battled Glenn's. "If I thought of it as anything else, I'd put too much pressure on myself."

That's been a problem for Head, according to Brodie. "He tries to do too much," the Salem coach said, "and that's when he screws up sometimes."

His biggest improvements this season, said Brodie, are his leadership and inside game. The former is what can lead him into trouble; he starts taking things into his own, more-often-than-not-very-capable, hands.

It's something else Head's tried to adjust to: "Before I used to think, 'This is a big game, I've got to get up for it.' Now I try and treat every game the same.

"Now, if I make a mistake, I just try to forget about it."

Although he seems a worthy candidate for the state's Mr. Basketball Award — "I do think about it, if I got it it would be a great accomplishment, but I don't spend too much time on it," he said — he is a longshot. It doesn't matter. Right now, he only wants to help Salem get through both the Western Lakes Activities Association and the state tournaments.

Then he'll start shaping his game for the collegiate level, a step Brodie is confident he can make. "He's unselfish," Brodie said. "He'll step up to that competition. When he needs to, he can elevate his game. He plays better against tough competition."

Head knows what's ahead for him. "If I work hard, everything will work out," he said.

But, he added, "Right now, I'm not thinking about Iowa."

Right now, there's a few more high school games to play — perhaps even a rematch with Glenn. And another chance for Head to show how high he can elevate.

Eagles tumble to Oakland Christian

BASKETBALL

Junior forward Dan House scored a game-high 25 points Friday night for Plymouth Christian, but the Eagles lost at Oakland Christian in a Michigan Independent Athletic Conference basketball game, 84-56.

Oakland Christian, which improved to 14-2 overall and 10-0 in the MIAC, led 26-10 after one quarter.

Senior forward Matt Davis scored 20 for Oakland Christian and teammate Mike Carter scored 17 points and set a new school record for points in a career with 1,638.

Plymouth Christian fell to 8-9 overall, 4-7 in the MIAC.

Oakland led 44-27 at halftime and outscored Plymouth Christian 29-9 in the third quarter to build a 73-36 lead.

■ STEVENSON 53, N. FARMINGTON 52: Livonia Stevenson recovered from one of its most embarrassing defeats in a hurry.

The Spartans, who experienced a 66-point loss last Tuesday at Plymouth Canton, rallied on Friday to upset visiting North Farmington.

Eric Giovanni's three-point shot with nine seconds left put Stevenson ahead to stay. The Spartans, who trailed by five earlier in the fourth quarter, improved to 4-10 overall, 4-17 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

North fell to 7-10 overall, 5-6 in the WLAA.

Senior guard Kevin Szczembara led Stevenson with 17 points and senior forward Chris Chichila contributed 12 points.

Giovanni added nine points.

Senior forward Scot Lord led North with 19 points. Jon Pennala added 15 points.

Stevenson led 13-9 after one quarter and 26-24 at halftime. The Spartans enjoyed a 41-39 lead after three quarters.

■ LUTHERAN NORTH 83, LUTH. WESTLAND 78: Lutheran Westland scored 33 points in the fourth quarter Friday night and it still wasn't enough against host Mount Clemens Lutheran North.

The Warriors, who trailed 36-29 at halftime and 57-45 after three quarters, fell to 7-9 overall and 6-5 in the Metro Conference.

Lutheran Westland rallied behind junior guard Chris Tiernan and trailed by three with seven seconds left. North missed a front end of a one-and-one free throw attempt but Kevin Morowski scored on the rebound to provide the final margin.

North, 11-5 overall and 7-4 in the Metro, overcame Lutheran Westland's school-record of eight three-point shots.

"We shot well, they shot well and defense was atrocious," Lutheran Westland coach Scott Wiemer said.

Tiernan scored 31 points, making a school-record six three-pointers. Tiernan had 15 points in the fourth quarter.

Senior guard Andy Manthei scored 12 points, senior guard Jim Hoeft had 11 and senior forward Jeff Lichtner added eight points and 15 rebounds.

Morowski, a 6-6 junior forward, led North with 30 points and junior guard Kyle Simmons added 21.

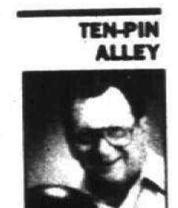
Madonna helps educate the bowling public

TEN-PIN ALLEY



AL HARRISON

Let me tell you about the time I went bowling with Madonna! No, not the famous entertainer, but that institution of higher learning: Madonna University.

It so happened that while I was at Cloverlanes in Livonia, the bowling class was under way. Titled "Bowling I, PED 119.4," the course runs for five weeks and earns one semester of credit. The instructor is Ray Summers, director of physical education at Madonna.

I sat in on the class and, hopefully, I learned a few things about the game of bowling. The students in this class were from all over the metropolitan area, including Chuck Arakelian of Livonia and Kiyonori Uemura of Westland. Most students were new to the game but were all doing quite well from what I could see.

The course includes a midterm and final exam. Grades are based on how the student progresses in getting to know the basic delivery, scoring, rules, etiquette and equipment. Every phase of the basic game is covered, and Summers, a fine bowler himself, gets the message across very well. For more information call 591-5138 Tuesdays or Thursdays from 1-3 p.m.

■ Woodland Lanes in Livonia has a ladies league called "Ladies Nite Out." This past week saw Mary Kress Cutting shoot a block of 217-277-265 for a series total of 759. That's the highest ever by a woman bowler in this house, which covers 20 years under current ownership. Mary is the daughter of Ted and Donna Kress, themselves avid bowlers from Redford Township.

■ In the Western Wayne Youth Travel Classic Scholarship Tournament last week, Nyla Kluska of Westland shot a 743 with handicap to win first place in the girls competition and $1,000 in scholarship money to help at Henry Ford Community College.

Cyndi Black took second with a 698 handicap good for $500. Misty Janis of Westland took third-place money with a 692. In the boys division, Ian Klosner rolled a 717 handicap for first and a $1,000 scholarship. Westland's Rocky Bateman took second and $500 with 713, and third place went to Guy Edwards with a 705. The tournament was sponsored by the Wayne-Westland Men's Bowling Association and the Tri-City Women's Association.

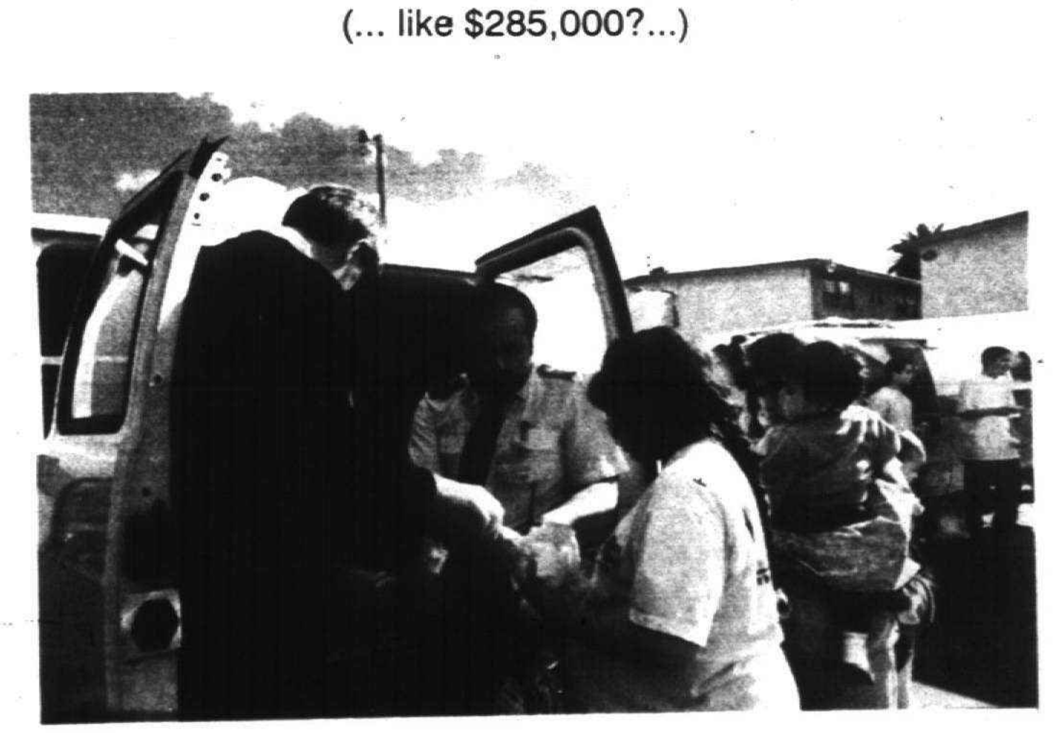
SOME DAYS COST MORE THAN OTHERS
(... like $285,000?...)



The Salvation Army is spending $285,000 EACH DAY for earthquake relief to give more than 210,000 people hot meals, personal care kits and blankets; to provide temporary shelter for nearly 7,000 people; to distribute mega-thousands of gallons of water... and the list is nearly endless.

Come on metro Detroit... let's pay for a couple of days of assistance for our friends in Los Angeles. What a difference a day can make!

The money you give to earthquake relief will go directly to providing disaster assistance throughout the area. Please send your gift today.

PRAYER TP THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, You make me see everything & show me the way to reach my ideals. You give me the Divine Gift to forgive & forget the wrongs that are done to me & You are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank You for everything & confirm once more that I never want to be separated from You, no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you, my Loved One, in Your perpetual glory. Amen. RMA

ST. JUDE, Thank you. BQ
