Parents favor Catholic school

Parents from Plymouth, Canton and surrounding communities are exploring the possibility of opening a parochial elementary school somewhere in western Wayne County. An informational meeting will be held Sept. 27.

Frustrated with long waiting lists at Catholic elementary schools, a group of parents from Plymouth, Canton, Livonia, Novi and Northville is exploring the possibility of opening a parochial school somewhere in western Wayne County.

An informational meeting of the Action Committee for Catholic Educational School Systems (ACCESS) is set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 27, at St. Kenneth's Catholic Church, 14951 Haggerty Road in Plymouth Township.

Organizers Kathryn Kristoff and her husband Mike Mitchell of Plymouth Township say families and parishes from throughout the Detroit archdiocese's western-Wayne vicariate are looking to pool their resources and brainstorm solutions.

"This is our second meeting. We're tying to drum up more support and let people know about us. One of our major goals will be assessing the need and seeing who would be willing to pay tuition," said Kristoff, a member of St. Kenneth's who has two young children.

"The access problem is just tremendous. People are having more children now, and western Wayne County is among the areas of highest growth."

ACCESS has a committee of 22 thus far. For more information on ACCESS or the meeting, call (313) 420-2784.

In the past 30 years, a number of Catholic parishes have been established in the area, but none have constructed schools. Our Lady of Good Counsel in Plymouth and Our Lady

Police officer remembered as a caring man

BY M.B. DILLON

When Livonia Police Lt. Douglas Pederson of Plymouth was a youngster, he was hospitalized after a mishap with a wild cat he adopted. Because there was no space in pediatrics, he was placed in a room with four elderly men.

One patient was so ill he was not expected to live. "Doug was not about to give up on anyone," said Livonia Police Chaplain Sister Ann Stamm at Pederson's funeral Thursday at L.J. Griffin Funeral Home in Canton.

"Doug began talking and laughing. It wasn't too long before everyone started laughing. By the end of the week, everyone in the room went home; even the man who was dying.

"Doug always felt responsible for other people and their happiness," she said.

Pederson, 44, died of a viral infection of the liver Monday, Aug. 22, at his Plymouth home.

His brother Todd said Pederson "cared about others at times when most would care only about themselves. Doug was a doer, a leader, a rugged individualist and a born adventurer.

"I was blessed and very lucky to know him and to have him as a brother," he said. Pederson thanked the caregivers who made "Doug's final days the absolute best they could be."

Canton Clerk Loren Bennett said Pederson was his best friend.

He praised his "many-faceted" friend before a gathering of 150 officers from nine police and fire departments, relatives and friends that filled two rooms and overflowed into the hallway.

"In the movie Auntie Mame, Auntie Mame said 'Life is a banquet, but most poor bastards are starving to death,'" Bennett said. Doug feasted at the banquet of life, Bennett said. He navigated the Amazon, sailed to the Virgin Islands, climbed Mt. Kilimanjaro, houseboated in Tennessee, went hot air ballooning in Australia and scuba diving in the Caribbean.

Improvements being made to Mettetal Airport

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

If you drive by the Canton-Plymouth Mettetal Airport and wonder what's going on, a new parking lot and sidewalks are under construction.

"It will make it look great," said Doug Kitze of Kitze Aviation, who is the airport's new fixed base operator and manager. "I remember it 25 years ago; you almost needed a four-wheeler to get in."

Construction on the gravel parking lot began Aug. 10, with completion expected by Sept. 6. The work is being completed in phases. The price tag is about $160,000, which is more than originally expected, but the project now includes more work than originally expected, said Jerry Kirkland, Michigan Department of Transportation project engineer.

That additional work includes, for example, utilities that are being put underground. "We're doing a lot of underground work," said Randy Coller, Michigan Bureau of Aeronautics licensing and enforcement manager. "We're setting it up to bring power to the hangars."

Despite concern among some residents, the area does not contain underground storage tanks. "The fuel tanks were removed years ago," Coller said. "We did an environmental assessment before we bought the airport." Canton Fire Chief Mike Rors-

Pasta dinner

The Knights of Columbus-Monsignor Clement H. Kern Council 8284 will sponsor a pasta dinner at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 8, at the St. Thomas A Becket Center, 555 Lilley Road, south of Cherry Hill.

The dinner is to raise money for a number of organizations that help mentally retarded people. The council also will present checks to the directors of these facilities. Store managers from the Canton Kmart, Kroger and Meijer stores will be recognized for their help.

The public is invited to the all-you-can-eat pasta dinner. Admission is $4 for adults, $1 for children 12 years and younger. For tickets and reservations call Chico Rodriquez, 459-6026, Chuck Chidsey, 459-1270, Marv Schulz, 397-1359, or the church office, 981-1333.

Seeking donations

The Canton Business and Professional Women are seeking donations of gifts to be used in the nonprofit organization's Fifth Annual Chinese Auction Oct. 1 at the Canton Public Library.

The organization is committed to helping local women further their educations. Money is raised throughout the year to be awarded as scholarships for women who need financial help.

The group is looking for items such as clocks, radios, flowers, baked goods, and household items. In the past the group also has received certificates for gifts, services, meals or trips for the auction.

If you wish to make a cash donation, please designate whether it should be used to buy a gift for the auction, to be used in the auction or be placed directly in the scholarship fund.

Gift donors will be acknowledged on posters on site, and individual donor placards will be displayed next to each item.

Reappointment

The Canton Township Board of Trustees reappointed Daksha Pandit to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a three-year term, expiring Aug. 31, 1997. Pandit was first appointed in 1993 to fill a vacancy on the appeals board.

Canton police respond to report of domestic assault

Canton police responded at 1:30 a.m. Aug. 21 to a report of a domestic assault at a South Honey tree residence. A 22 year-old Canton woman said her 24-year-old live-in boyfriend hit her in the face 10 times with a pillow, bruising and bloodying her lips after the woman called him a loser.

The man also hit her in the face, giving her two black eyes. He then held a knife to her throat and asked, "You going to call me a loser again?"

The woman said she "could only call him what he was" and left.

The victim doesn't want to prosecute, but understands it may not be her decision. The suspect has battered his girlfriend several times in the past year, but no reports were filed, said police.

Larceny

A couple residing on Kings bridge took a trip Aug. 18-21, leaving their 20-year-old daughter and 22-year-old son in charge. When the couple returned, they found three rings missing. The jewelry was hidden on top of a microwave oven. Taken were a gold diamond ring valued at $400 and a two-ring set with a ruby worth $600.

Several young people were in the house over the weekend. A complete list is being furnished to police.

Harassment

A 23-year-old Canton woman told police that her 22-year-old ex-boyfriend has been harassing her for the past several weeks. She changed her phone number but the Plymouth man continues to call, frequently hanging up without saying anything.

The victim plans to contact Ameritech for a line tap.

Car keyed

A Jan Court resident told police that sometime Aug. 21-22, someone keyed the passenger door and rear fender of his 1993 blue Ford Escort. Damage is estimated at $150.

Her job shows page of history

By Joanne Maliszewski
Staff Writer

For Amy Sinclair, watching the U.S. Congress in action is about 10 times more powerful than watching a good and hearty football game.

"The most exciting thing was the ban on assault weapons," said Sinclair, who served as a congressional page from Jan. 31-June 11.

The Canton High School senior is convinced the public has a wrong idea about politics and politicians. It and they aren't as bad as they seem. She admits, though, that her experience in Washington taught her that if there is any flaw in the system, it's the partisan politics.

"When a bill is brought to the floor, they really work to get it worked out," said Sinclair, who worked in the House of Representatives. "The people are straightforward. I think they do care about their constituents."

Though she had heard that sometimes legislators make deals on votes, she saw one congressman refuse to change his vote at another's urging. "I think people have the worst idea about politics."

Sinclair learned about the page program through the high school Close Up program. "I love politics. It has always interested me. My teacher (Mike McCauley) got me involved in the political happenings in the community."

She was sponsored by U.S. Rep. Bill Ford. But it took some work getting into the page program. There was the application, autobiography, transcripts, and a physical exam. She also found out she was 10 days too young for the fall term. In November 1993, she got a call that Ford would sponsor her and she was in Washington, D.C. beginning Jan. 31, 1994.

Her duties as a page included delivering reports. "We were delivering all their mail and everything else they needed." That included getting a legislator a glass of water if that's what was required.

"I learned a lot. Just being able to sit on the floor, I learned a ton about how Congress really works," said Sinclair, daughter of Pam and Scott Bufe.

Her day began at page school at 6:45 a.m. There she studied the same courses she would have if she had been back at Canton High School. "There were 63 House pages. It was a big change from the 5,000 people I'm used to going to school with."

Sinclair said she now has really been bitten by the political bug. She found it amazing to watch discussions on President Bill Clinton's crime bill, an example, Sinclair said, of incredible partisanship. "I really thought it would be passed by the time I left. They're still debating it."

In her first week in Washington, Sinclair saw Congress pass a relief bill for California, which was hit by an earthquake.

While in Washington, Sinclair met Hillary Clinton, Al Gore, and even Ross Perot - she was surprised how short he is. "She was really nice. She just came right over to us and asked how we liked being pages," Sinclair said of Hillary Clinton.

But she never met Bill Clinton. "I think he was hiding from me," she said, adding she saw his limo and even the security guards who check out Congress before he enters.

In fact, Sinclair learned that every morning special dogs are brought into Congress to sniff for bombs. That's not to mention the security guards who also check for potential problems.

Her plans include Michigan State University, where she wants to study government and politics. "I love seeing how government works. I really got bit by the bug to go back. I want to help."

Beyer Drugs earns plaudits for length of service

■ Records suggest that Otto Beyer bought the first store in Old Village in 1907. Plymouth historian Sam Hudson wrote that from then until 1941, Otto Beyer was to be found behind the counter of the store at 165 Liberty Street every day of the year except three - Christmas, Easter and Plymouth Day at the Northville Fair.

By Kevin Brown
Staff Writer

Beyer Drugs with two locations in Plymouth has been honored by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce as one of the city's oldest continuous running businesses.

The chamber this summer sought to honor the city's oldest business. Historical records suggest the store was founded in 1865, which probably makes it the oldest, according to chamber volunteers who researched the topic.

The two businesses - Beyer Friendly Drugs on Ann Arbor Road and Beyer Drug Store on Main Street - survive even though chain stores such and Perry and Arbor Drugs have driven many independents out of business.

"I think the biggest change has been within the past five years," said Art Harvey, who operates the pharmacy at the Main Street store.

"Insurance companies have been freezing out the independent drug store, they're being closed left and right because they're showing preference to the chain stores, they have central billing," he said.

Harvey bought both locations in 1972. At the Main Street store he moved the pharmacy counter from the front to the rear of the store and replaced the soda fountain with coolers. The soda fountain, he said, "took up too much room."

Harvey sold the Main Street store to Terry Yaldo six years ago but leases the pharmacy. Harvey sold the Ann Arbor Road location to Bill McMullen in 1987.

"It's a niche business," McMullen said. "You find out what a particular community needs and you fill that need."

He delivers to retirement homes and services nearby prisons when their pharmacies are closed weekends.

Records suggest that Otto Beyer bought the first store in Old Village in 1907. Plymouth historian Sam Hudson wrote that from then until 1941, Otto Beyer was to be found behind the counter of the store at 165 Liberty Street every day of the year except three - Christmas, Easter and Plymouth Day at the Northville Fair.

Other locations were opened on Forest Avenue and at Mill and Main. His son Bob Beyer, who served as a Plymouth city commissioner, operated the stores before selling the two remaining stores on Main and Ann Arbor Road to Harvey.

As to the chamber award, "I was delighted for that kind of recognition," Harvey said. "We have attempted ever since we had the store to carry on the tradition, it was a great honor."

Symphony League cancels annual fall antique show

By Linda Ann Chomin
Staff Writer

After 31 years, the Plymouth Symphony League has canceled its fall antique show due to a lack of volunteers and a location. The annual two-day sale and preview reception, coinciding with the Plymouth Fall Festival, raises funds for the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

In recent years, the show's location had moved from the Plymouth Cultural Center to a series of different rental halls. Earlier this year, the League let a local church out of a contract to rent them its hall because they were uncomfortable with the idea of using their church to make money. By that time, the Cultural Center was booked, leaving the show - featuring more than two dozen dealers specializing in a variety of antiques - out in the cold.

"There was no one to run it since I stepped down," said Peggy Blaisdell, former show chairwoman.

"Hopefully, we're going to have one in January if we get a place to hold it."

The League's fall antique show raised around $4,000 after expenses for the symphony's general operations last year. A winter version of the show netted an additional $4,000. Since the orchestra's budget for the 1994-95 season is around $100,000 plus, outgoing Plymouth Symphony Society president Linda Alvarado is not especially concerned about the loss of revenue.

"We're having a variety of fund-raisers. We're becoming more involved with individual and corporate campaign funding," said Alvarado.

The Plymouth Symphony League is a fund-raising arm of the PSO, which kicks off its 49th season Saturday, Oct. 15, with pianist Pauline Martin. The League contributes about 25 percent of the symphony's budget with an additional 30 percent grossed from concert ticket sales. Corporate and individual donations make up the rest.

Versatility is key to attracting patrons in this era of budget-cutting of the arts when a bevy of benefits besiege the community. Plymouth Symphony League president Mary Thomas said plans are in the works to vary the types of fund-raising events from those held in the past.

"We're looking at a lot of creative fund-raisers. We're a little worried with having to cancel the fall antique show, but we're hopeful that we'll get the winter one going."

One of the new ways the League raised money for the symphony was by manning the concession stands at the orchestra's pre-season concert Aug. 25 at Heritage Park in Canton.

"We're also planning a much larger auction for the pops concert in April, and possibly a fashion show again. Also, we do the luminaries every year around Christmas," said Thomas.

The League hosts its biennial home tour in May 1995, always a successful fund-raiser. Other tried-and-true functions reaping revenue in the past are also being looked at. A garage sale held at the home of a League member several years ago was very successful, so the idea is being revitalized this fall. A Super Garage Sale will take place 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 22, and 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday, Sept. 23, at 46040 Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth. Items are still being sought for drop-off day 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 17. If you're interested in making a donation, call the League at 453-3016.

"The League is always looking for new members and volunteers to help," said Thomas.

"The concert in Heritage Park is free. I hope people will come out and enjoy it, then buy season tickets. This year there's a great program."

Northville hosts Victorian fest

Northville's sixth annual Victorian Festival will be Sept. 16-18.

The Victorian Festival, sponsored by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, celebrates the town's heritage. Northville, founded in the early 1800s, came of age during the Victorian period. The community retains much of the flavor of that period today. Historic homes and a renovated downtown welcome visitors and festival-goers.

The festival begins with a kickoff parade 6:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 16. For the next two days, the streets will be closed to automobile traffic as townspeople, artists and business owners turn back the clock and transform the community into a turn-of-the-century festival complete with period costumes, free horse and carriage rides, storytellers, medicine man shows, strolling musicians and more.

Visitors can enjoy shopping, old-fashioned games and food booths. Activities and events take place 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

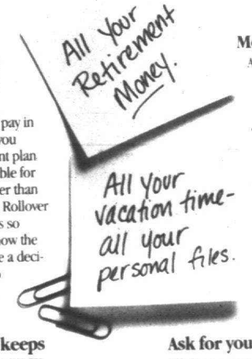
An Art Market, sponsored by the Northville Arts Commission, features more than 50 fine artists. Historic Mill Race Village, nestled between a town green and Mill Race Pond, will be open for tours during the festival. All festival events are free and open to the public except for Saturday evening's costume Victorian Ball and the Sunday afternoon Victorian Tea. Reservations for these events can be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, (810) 349-7640.

The festival has grown in popularity each year. More than 10,000 people attended last year's festival and the same turnout is expected this year.

Leaving Your Job? Don't Forget To Take:

You could lose 46% or more of your retirement savings[1]

That's what you could pay in taxes and penalties if you receive your retirement plan assets, which are eligible for rollover, directly rather than rolling them over to a Rollover IRA. And that's why it's so important that you know the facts before you make a decision about what to do with your retirement plan distribution.



More choices, lower costs

A Fidelity Rollover IRA also helps you invest more for your retirement because our No-Load, No-Fee IRA means:

- No sales charge when you select from more than 50 Fidelity funds for IRA investing.[2]
- No annual IRA fee on mutual fund accounts with a balance of $5,000 or more held in your Fidelity IRA.[3]
- No annual Brokerage IRA fee if you make two trades or more each year in a Fidelity Brokerage IRA.[4]

A Rollover IRA keeps 100% of your money working for you

When you open a Fidelity Rollover IRA, all your eligible retirement money goes to work for you instead of going to penalties and taxes.

of Victory in Northville both have waiting lists.

The archdiocese supports ACCESS, but isn't in a position to fund the effort.

Monsignor John Quinn, director of education for the archdiocese, has worked with ACCESS since June. "The possibilty of a new school in the western Wayne vicariate is being explored. It's very much in the primary grass roots stages," he said. "The archdiocese is very supportive and hopes ACCESS will be able to find a way either to expand an existing school or to start a new one. Right now it's too soon to say what will happen."

ACCESS will explore both the conversion of existing properties and new construction. "It shouldn't be real costly if people are willing to put their money where their mouths are," said Kristoff, a graduate of Lumen Christi, a regional Catholic high school in Jackson.

OLGC associate pastor the Rev. John Ortman and principal Ted Behn can attest to the need.

"The area is growing unbelievably," said Ortman. "We are registering new families as parishioners daily. A lot of them are young people with families moving here from other places. The other day, two families came in. Both the women were pregnant, asking if there will be room in school by the time their children reach school age. We hope there will be."

OLGC purchased 39 acres at Beck and North Territorial where the parish plans to build a church, parish hall, school and rectory.

Said Behn: "We have over 30 people on the waiting list just for first grade. When people from other parishes call and we tell them over 30 people (from OLGC) are on the list, a lot of them don't even fill out an application. So there could be more out there."

OLGC already has 36 students in a class, "which is the maximum recommended by the diocese" added Behn.

friend, he added. "He taught by both knowledge and example. There's not a mechanical device he couldn't handle. He instructed others in ethics, integrity and compassion. Doug would give of himself without hesitation, whether it meant cooking for 100 people or designing a police firing range.

"I thank God for 26 years of a most perfect friendship."

Sister Stamm praised her former student as a mentor, helper, counselor and gourmet chef who cherished his family, was kind to the elderly, "and was almost bigger than life.

Capt. Al Wilson of the Canton Police Department played the bagpipes at the funeral, opening the service with "Going Home," and concluding it with "Amazing Grace." Pederson's colleagues honored him with a police honor guard.

Farewell: A police honor guard representing numerous Wayne County police and fire departments paid tribute to Livonia police Lt. Douglas Pederson, son of Dorothy and Robert Pederson of Plymouth.

Born June 21, 1950 in Milwaukee, Wis., Pederson graduated from Plymouth High School and Schoolcraft College. He received his bachelor's and a master's degree in criminal justice from Madonna University and the University of Detroit, respectively. Pederson graduated from the FBI Academy in McClean, Va.

Pederson served as assistant coordinator and an instructor for the Wayne County Regional Police Training Center at Schoolcraft College. He is survived by his parents, Dorothy and Robert Pederson; sisters Robin and Penelope; and his brother, Todd.

Pederson was cremated. Memorials may be sent to the Hospice of Washtenaw, 806 Airport Blvd., Ann Arbor, Mich. 48108-1642.

bacher confirmed the absence of underground tanks.

The project also includes installation of 8-and 6-inch water mains, as well as a fire hydrant, which is being completed in conjunction with Canton Township. "There was intergovernmental cooperation there. They have been super," Coller said. Canton Township provided the necessary water taps.

The project also includes a new gravel base, 3 inches of asphalt, and new sidewalks. The parking lot will reach to the administration and maintenance buildings.

"It's going to make the actual parking area smaller than it is now," Kirkland said. Twenty-eight parking spaces and two spaces for handicapped motorists will be available.

Sewers were not extended as part of the project. "It probably would be cheaper to go to another location," Coller said, adding that bringing it in across the road would be an additional $20,000-$30,000.

The project also will include a small water detention area, as well as landscaping and a berm with a sign at the airport entrance. "It will be like an entrance drive coming in," Kitze said.

Commission okays taxing ballot proposal

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Wayne County commissioners voted 10-5 Friday to place a proposal on the Nov. 8 ballot requesting a 1-mill tax for 20 years to create an environmental cleanup program and to support county parks.

Area commissioners voting yes were Michelle Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, who also represents Redford Township; Kay Beard, D-Westland, who also represents Garden City; and Bryan Amann, D-Wayne, who also represents Canton Township.

Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, who also represents Plymouth and Plymouth Township, voted no.

If approved by voters, the tax would raise about $29 million a year and be distributed in the following manner each year:

- $4 million off the top for environmental cleanup.
- The remaining money would be divided in half.
- One half would be returned to each city and township from which it was taken to be used for parks.
- The other half would be put into the county parks budget, except for $1 million, which would be used for upkeep on Belle Isle.

Deputy County Executive Michael Duggan told commissioners Friday that tough financial times have necessitated parks budget cuts, and there will be more cuts in the future if voters don't approve this new tax.

"If we don't do it now, you basically can expect severe parks cuts," he said.

'I can't vote for this. It takes 100 percent of your money and gives less than 50 percent back.'
Thaddeus McCotter
county commissioner

Duggan estimated that Observer communities would receive the following amounts of money per year for parks spending if the proposal passes: Livonia, $1.3 million; Westland, $527,000; Canton Township, $520,000; Plymouth Township, $381,000; Redford Township, $376,000; Garden City, $185,000; and Plymouth, $113,000.

McCotter spoke against the proposal Friday. "I can't vote for this," he said. "It takes 100 percent of your money and gives less than 50 percent back."

Beard said she wished the ballot proposal could be divided in two so that one might address the parks issue and the other environmental cleanup.

But Beard voted to put the proposal on the ballot because "both issues are important enough for us to learn from the people."

Amann said the commission wasn't given "nearly enough information to make an informed decision of what's involved here," but voters should be given the chance to decide for themselves. "I'd rather trust the voters than 15 elected officials," he said.

Plawecki issued a written statement on the proposal. "I supported putting the 1-mill increase on the ballot simply because it is the fundamental right of each citizen in Wayne County to decide for themselves if such a program warrants the collection of additional tax dollars," she wrote.

Commissioner William O'Neil, D-Allen Park, opposed the ballot proposal and suspected some political maneuvering in the timing of its presentation. "Why didn't this come up in May and June and get on the August ballot?" he asked. "I've got to believe there was something political involved."

Commissioner Edward Boike, D-Taylor, opposed the proposal, too. "It looks like we're trying to be Big Brother," he said, "that we know what's good for (local) parks departments. I think I'd like to handle my own funding on this."

Glamour calls: get ready for fall

Have you looked at recent fashion trends and thought, "Where is the allure." What happened to glamour?" Camouflaged by combat boots, ripped jeans and nose rings at one extreme, and the plastic Barbie-doll look at the other, glamour was certainly not seen on the runways.

Finally, a compromise. Glamour is back. But you don't have to look like a starlet or a femme fatale, nor do you need to aspire to the flawless elegance of Grace Kelly or Audrey Hepburn. The glamour of the '90s is an attitude that defines a woman, allowing her the flexibility to express her femininity any way she wants.

It's stiletto heels and velvet high-tops, faux fur collars and flowing scarves, feathers and gloves and frills. At the same time, glamour is a beautiful fabric, a soft line and impeccable tailoring. It's the perfect suit or the sexiest dress. Ultimately, your take on glamour is the panache with which you combine all of these elements into you own personal style statement.

"It's about time women started dressing up more and stopped looking like men," says Karen Broker of Rochester. Karen was acting as fashion director for her friend Kristen Schank who found the ideal suit for a wedding at The Icing in the Somerset Collection, Troy. Kristen's new suit is winter white with gold braiding ($336) and she added a touch of glamour with a metallic top ($58) and the surprise of a gold-studded white cowboy hat ($60).

The Icing specializes in glamorous accessories. I spotted a '40s lampshade hat with feathers ($99) and an elegant veiled hat with soutache trim ($86). They also display faux-leopard pillboxes ($96), beaded and sequined collars ($86) and ruffled gloves ($35). The ultimate evening wrap is a translucent pewter cape, its ends tied in huge bows ($75).

Couture designers introduce glamour this fall with modern classics in luxe fabrics with rich details. At Jacobson's in Birmingham, Escada reinterpreta the riding ensemble with an equestrian-look burgundy velvet jacket ($980), a white pleated blouse with lace-trimmed collar and bow tie ($590), a foulard print vest ($600) and stretch gabardine riding panta ($480). Complete the look with black leather gloves ($220).

Chanel's raspberry chenille jacket with faux fur collar, cuffs and pockets is a head-turner ($3,260), as is Badgley Mischka's stretch boucle gown with a cast gold collar ($1,465). The standout dinner suit is a black wool crepe by Rena Lange. This feminine take on tuzedo syling features a pink satin collar and powder blue cuffs with tiny bows at the wrists ($1,595).

If you dare, accent these ensembles with Karl Lagerfeld's 4-inch steel-shaft stiletto heels in black suede ($275), or just for fun and the shock effect, enter the gala in Anne Klein's black velvet high-top sneakers ($65) or Chanel's black rubber boots ($275). All from Neiman Marcus at the Somerset Collection.

It would be impossible to write of glamour without visiting the avant-garde, ultra-glamorous West Bloomfield boutique called Patricia Miles at 6519 Orchard Lake Rd. on The Boardwalk. Hints of Tinsel Town include ceilings rimmed in neon, golden stars, pink and black netting and sparkling glitter. The clothing echoes the Hollywood feel.

"I love it. Everything's so gorgeous," says Sarah Goldon of Walled Lake. Glamour was never missing here.

Check out the legendary Janet Jackson Choker, a silver Navajo design. Black jeans embellished with netting, beads and satin rosettes ($150) take you to a black-tie bash when paired with a beaded lace bodysuit ($150) or a hand-painted leather vest ($350) and jeweled bustier.

Go for the glitz ... and the glamour.

Disney debuts keep cash registers ringing

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Two new Disney Stores are coming to town, bringing Mickey Mouse, The Lion King and Aladdin merchandise closer to your front door.

Laurel Park Place in Livonia and the Oakland Mall in Troy are ready ing the magic kingdoms for a Sept. 3 opening in Livonia and October opening in Troy.

These stores bring the total of metro-Detroit Disney Store locations to five. The others are at the Fairlane Town Center in Dearborn, Lakeside in Sterling Heights, and Twelve Oaks in Novi. There are more than 290 Disney stores worldwide and expansion will continue, according to Debbie Bohnett, vice president of publicity and promotions. The first Disney Store opened in Glendale, Calif. in 1987.

"The Disney Stores combine retail and entertainment in an environment that rekindles Disney memories," Bohnett said. "Lively animation displays capture the imagination, setting the stage for sights and sounds of classic Disney movies and videos."

Nancy McFee, a mother of three, and Disney-devotee, said the stores "are just plain fun."

"I like to shop at Disney Stores because although the same merchandise is cheaper at Target or Kmart, the Disney Stores have more complete selections and more unusual items — great for birthday party gifts," she said. "The challenge to shopping there, is getting out without spending more than you planned, especially with the kids in tow."

Marilee Post, 6, of Farmington Hills, was buying a Lion King charm bracelet with her favorite movie characters mugging for each charm. She is a regular Disney customer, she said, "because I always find what I want here."

"Guests" to the Disney Store are greeted upon entrance and exit by "cast members" who welcome, and "thank you for stopping in." In addition to clothing, toys, stuffed animals, video and cassette tapes, cartoon cels and jewelry, "guests" can buy Disney theme park tickets, Disney Dollars and Disney Store Gift Certificates.

A Video Newsstand offers information about other units of The Walt Disney Company. Bohnett said most Disney Stores produce sales per square foot "two times the national average."

Animation Emporium: Shoppers at The Disney Stores are greeted by cast members who are prepared to answer questions and point out the latest promotions. Children love the store where their favorite movies play on a big screen in the rear, and characters like Jasmine, Aladdin, Snow White and Simba appear on T-shirts, jackets and pajamas.

Retail businesses in suburban Malls & Main Streets are invited to submit announcements of upcoming special events and promotions for Added Attractions. Send announcements to Malls & Mainstreets, 805 E. Maple. Birmingham. 48009 or fax them to (810) 644-1314.

The California Air Perm has been added to the specialities of the house at Total Phases Salon in Rochester. Owner Dan Asam said the perm, "is the easiest and most natural way to solve permed hair problems." The salon also perms eye lashes. For more information, call (810) 656-8608.

The highlight of the opening will be a retrospective of Brooks Brothers memorabilia including Abraham Lincoln's great coat, Franklin Delano Roosevelt's legendary cape, an 1800's military uniform and portraits of famous customers.

The store will be the second in metro Detroit for the 175-year-old clothier. The Brooks Brothers store at the Somerset Collection in Troy (currently being remodeled from top to bottom) has been open since 1982. The downtown Detroit store, located in the Penobscot Building, was closed in 1987.

Last November, the company's Grosse Pointe store on Kercheval became a Brooks Brothers Outlet Shop. Here, Brooks Brothers bargain hunters can purchase over stocks and season-old merchandise at 25 to 30 percent below retail price according to sales associate Joann Moore.

Edward Turco, a Brooks Brothers executive vice-president, said the company's plans to open a Novi store is part of its strategy to locate in every major market across the country.

"We are also studying the demographics of the Ann Arbor area," Turco said. "The metro Detroit market is making a comeback and it's tied to the auto industry. Our tailored clothing sales are strong in both the men's and women's departments."

Turco said sales are picking up as well for sport coats, blazers and slacks because more and more companies are instituting casual dress days.

"The truth is, dressing down is a long-term trend," Turco said. "And at Brooks Brothers, we can teach customers how to do it right."

Historically correct

Brooks Brothers has been dressing presidents and financiers for generations, dropping names like Lincoln, Roosevelt, Kennedy, Astor, Rockefeller and Morgan when reviewing its client roster. Despite its reputation for conservatism, Brooks Brothers has also attracted the more stylish Hollywood crowd, including Clark Gable, Fred Astaire, Cary Grant, John Barrymore, Rudolph Valentino and Errol Flynn.

Spokeswoman Geri Corrigan said "tradition" describes the retailer's fashion philosophy. This tradition comes across in the company's trademark, a sheep suspended by a ribbon, adopted in 1850. The label was formerly the symbol of British wool merchants, dating back to the 15th century when it was the emblem of the Knights of the Golden Fleece, founded by Philip the Good, Duke of Burgundy. The symbol, worn over each knight's heart, expressed the sentiment that the knights were "Lambs of God."

Over the years Brooks Brothers created many firsts that became classic styles of American dress. These include the button-down shirt, 650,000 sold annually) the sack suit, madras summer jackets, silk foulard neckties, argyle-patterned socks and polo shirts.

Other Brooks Brothers creations include the Brooksweave wash-and-wear suit introduced in 1953, made from a blend of dacron and polyester; the classic pink shirt for women which premiered in 1949 became a must-have all along the east coast; and the polo coat, introduced in 1919, fashioned after British design.

The impact of the sack suit, introduced in 1895, revolutionized the clothing industry. Up until then, suits were sewn at home or tailor made. Men's silhouettes were tubular with padded shoulders. The sack suit was designed to fit all body types offering soft, natural shoulders, a single breasted jacket of straight lines and full, plain front trousers. It is regarded as the first genuinely American suit.

The suits have gone from $75 to today's price range of between $395 to $695 for a fall suit.

Flagship sails

The Brooks Clothing Co. was opened in 1818 on the corner of Catharine and Cherry Streets in New York by Henry Sands Brooks, a grocer who brought together a group of visionary merchants to create new, practical clothing designs.

A guy, Bill Rudnicki, and a girl —Karen Green, met through his ad in Personal Scene.

He placed a Personal Scene ad just last spring and she summoned the courage to give him a ring.

The call was a first for Karen, it seems, Would this—could this— be the man of her dreams?

"It was worth every penny," she reportedly said. And of course she is right; she and Bill plan to wed!

Yes, in mid-September they'll both say, "I do." Personal Scene newlyweds—it could happen to you!

No Shoes, Shirt, Exceptions — The Exceptions

The Exceptions give new breadth to the term eclectic. Metal, jazz and hip-hop (to name a few) make cameo appearances throughout "No Shoes, No Shirt, No Exceptions," (Icon/Moon Records) with a bizarre ska/reggae/zydeco fusion mutation holding the album together. Arrangements are entirely non-linear, with no attempt at the cohesiveness invariably found in pop rock.

Lyrics are cleverly written and generally tongue-in-cheek. Song titles, such as "I Hate Mornings," "Coney Dog City," "I Hate You" and its sequel, "I Hate You II," are indicative of the group's sense of humor. The serious subject of bigotry is broached, albeit sardonically, with "Illiterate White Trash."

The album also contains a couple of instrumentals which showcase the band's impressive musicianship. The horn section, composed of trombonist Jim Hofer, saxophonist Gene Corwin, and trumpet player/organist Todd Bolton, displays an aptitude for smooth, melodic, "pop" style harmony with the song "Dear Diary." More often, though, they churn out complex, syncopated and sometimes dissonant riffs. Perhaps there's a Miles Davis influence amidst the myriad of styles?

The rhythm section is Chuck Bartels and Tony Barragan on bass and drums, respectively, with Ryan Reeves on guitar. Keeping up with the chaotic changes in meter and style is their primary job, and they do it admirably. Singer Johnny Williams presents a quirky vocal style with more personality than virtuosity, but entirely fitting for the band.

The Exceptions' ethnicity is as diverse as its music. Mexican, African and Native Americans — along with a few Caucasians — round out the lineup. There are, however, no females.

According to their press release The Exceptions have worked with such reggae/ska and underground luminaries as Bim Skala Bim, The Dead Milkmen and Murphy's Law. They are also endorsed by The Mighty Mighty Bosstones' mighty mighty singer, Dicky Barret.

"No Shoes, No Shirt, No Exceptions," The Exceptions first full-length release, is a strong, tightly produced effort in the manic world of alternative rock.

(The Exceptions play the Falcon Club, 3515 Caniff, Hamtramck, on Sunday, Sept. 4, with the Skeletones (313) 368-6010.)

G. Love and Special Sauce — G. Love and Special Sauce

The recipe for this sauce is a blend of blues, hip-hop, funk and jazz. It doesn't sound like a very appealing meal, but G. Love and Special Sauce's self-titled debut (Epic Records) makes for a tasty treat.

With his slicked back curly black locks, G. Love and his laid-back rapping over bluesy jazz riffs could replace Harry Connick Jr. as crooner de jour. In the slow groovy "Baby's Got Sauce," G. Love portrays the man that every woman dreams of: "I'll always stop by, if you like me, too. I'll do anything that you could ever want for me to do. A kiss for some of this. A smile and it's done."

He shares it with a little apprehension: "Please don't tell my friends about the situation. They think I'm on some extended vacation. I don't get out to see my boys anymore. Only time I leave the house is to go to the store for what she wants."

In the Beck-like rap "Cold Beverage" G. Love sings the praises of A&W root beer floats, lemonade, Sprite and Kool-Aid.

By far, the most revealing track is "Blues Music" where they offer a quickie lesson into the mind of G. Love and Special Sauce: "Me and my band all must agree we like to get groovy with the sounds of the old time . . . Going way back from where the music really started."

The music is so eclectic on this record that radio stations and MTV, unfortunately, probably won't pick up on it. Nonetheless, this is one of the best albums to be released so far this year.

Ain't Enough Comin' In — Otis Rush

Outside of, perhaps, Buddy Guy, there is no more revered a torchbearer of the classic Chicago blues tradition than the estimable Otis Rush. His Mercury Records debut, in addition to being the first studio album he's released stateside in 16 years, stands as near equal to his legendary Cobra and later Delmark recordings, which is to say that, at 60, he's just as impressive as he was nearly 40 years ago.

From the opening guitar lines of Albert King's "Don't Burn Down the Bridge," it's obvious that Otis Rush came here to make a few points. That legendary guitar playing prowess has only improved to the point of being unbelievably brilliant over the years. Vocally, he's kept pace.

Unlike his Chicago brethren, Rush has always been known as both one of the finest guitarists to ever strike a note and as one of the classic vocalists of all time. The fact that he sounds so sharp here comes as no surprise.

Bloodline: It's all in the genes

■ Any band whose members are children of classic rock legends is bound to get a lot of attention. But Bloodline is hoping to rest on their laurels with the release of their self-titled debut CD.

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

In the blood: Partially comprised of sons of pop and jazz legends, Bloodline includes Waylon Krieger, Erin Davis, Smokin' Joe Bonamassa, Lou Segreti and Berry Oakley Jr.

Bloodline is a marketing person's dream. Comprised of the offspring of musicians Berry Oakley, Miles Davis and Robbie Krieger, it sounds like one of those bands created by money- and publicity-hungry producers.

But there's nothing contrived about Bloodline, said Berry Oakley Jr., the band's lead singer/bassist and son of the late Allman Brothers bass player.

He and guitarist Waylon Krieger, son of the Doors' Robbie Krieger, are childhood friends who founded Bloodline with 17-year-old guitarace "Smokin' Joe" Bonamassa after they met at a show. Drummer Erin Davis, the 23-year-old son of jazz legend Miles Davis, was brought into the band by original Bloodline singer Aaron Hagar, whose dad Sammy is Van Halen's lead singer. The band is rounded out by keyboardist Lou Segreti, 40.

"I grew up mostly around Waylon's house," said Oakley about his long-time friendship with Krieger. "We just kind of learned to play together."

Since forming three years ago, Bloodline has been touring while working on a record deal and building a following. With the novelty of their family history behind them, Bloodline is hoping to prove that they're a genuine talent. The band's self-titled debut album was released on EMI Records last week.

"We took three years to get ready for it; we're happy with what came out," Oakley said. "All of us are really different. We're into really wacky stuff. A lot of us are into the hardcore blues . . . there's a lot of diversity."

Influences show

The band members' wide range of musical influences is reflected on their CD, which was produced by Joe Hardy (ZZ Top, Steve Earle, Jeff Healey). Oakley's growling, bluesy voice possesses a hint of Jim Morrison. Bonamassa — who has opened for B.B. King, Buddy Guy, John Lee Hooker, Danny Gatton and Robert Cray — seems to have patterned his style after late guitar great Stevie Ray Vaughan.

Their music — a mix of Southern rock, funk and straight-ahead rock'n'roll — isn't what is topping the charts now but Oakley said he's still optimistic about Bloodline's success.

"It's not the type of music that's out there today. If it's not alternative or pop nobody wants to hear it," said the 21-year-old Oakley.

It's only natural that Oakley and the 20-year-old Krieger bring a bit of their fathers' legacies into Bloodline. Oakley's father was killed in a motorcycle accident before he was born. Having formerly been married to Doors drummer John Densmore, Oakley's mother and ex-Doors guitarist Robbie Krieger remained close friends.

As a consequence, Oakley and Waylon Krieger were "thrown together" by their parents from an early age. When the duo was in their teens, Robbie Krieger invited them to play in and eventually tour with his band. Oakley assumed lead vocals during Doors tunes like "Love Me Two Times." It was there that he picked up on the Jim Morrison influence — and imitation.

"I got to fake being Jim Morrison. After two years, I had it down," he said. "Actually, one time at a club in New York City people were calling me Jim. I was really into it. It was my mistake . . . wearing all black."

Sometimes, he admitted, he prompted the comments — "We'd walk around and tell people that Jim is alive . . . weird stuff like that."

Regardless, it proved to be a "good lesson in life. I got to see a lot in that two years."

Impressive performance

One person they saw was Bonamassa, then about 15 years old, playing at a Leon Fender tribute concert. Already a seven-year veteran of the blues scene, Bonamassa impressed Waylon and Krieger.

"My father had a band. What I would do is sit in with his band and basically took it from there," Bonamassa said. "One thing lead to another."

Although a few magazines have lauded him as "the next Stevie Ray Vaughan," Bonamassa said he takes all the attention in stride.

"I just didn't expect it," Bonamassa said about the attention. "It just came out of no where. I take it for what it is."

The Utica, N.Y., native doesn't regret giving up his school years for the attention.

"Hey, you got to take success when you can get it. Lucky is the person whoever gets the opportunity to be in the position where I am now. I put those things aside. This is my time."

Oakley said he realizes that a lot of people come out just to get a peek at the music legends' kids.

"It goes both ways. You get a lot of people who are just hecklers, and scream 'Play 'Whipping Post'' throughout the whole set," he said. "We also get a lot of really cool people who come out because they're curious. We're a real Southern rock/blues type of band. We turn them into Bloodline fans."

Bloodline plays The Ritz, 17580 Frazho, Roseville, at 9 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 1. Tickets are $5. For more information, call (810) 778-6404.

Funked up: General Clusterfunk includes Tom Wilber, Mark Anderson, Jason Van Doorn, Russ Epker and Joey Bowen.

Clusterfunk strong on 'Starin'

BY MATTHEW DELEZENNE
SPECIAL WRITER

The play on words from which General Clusterfunk derives its name is indicative of the spirit of the band's debut CD "Starin' Straight at the Sun." A sense of spontaneity, sadly lacking in so many bands, flows throughout the 14-song effort. Even the ballad "In My Heart," dedicated to the memory of guitar legend Stevie Ray Vaughan, sounds as if it were written on the day he died.

General Clusterfunk could be described as a Motown version of the Red Hot Chili Peppers — with fewer tattoos and more soul. In fact, Chili Pepper drummer and former Birmingham resident Chad Smith played some of the drums on the disc.

"Chad just did it out of the kindness of his heart 'cuz (guitarist Russ Epker) has known him forever," said singer Joey Bowen of Smith, the ex-drummer for Detroit's Toby Redd.

Musically, General Clusterfunk simply has no weak points. Epker and Bowen, along with guitarist Jason Van Doorn, are backed up by drummer Mark Anderson and bassist Tom Wilber. Bowen also plays harmonica and keyboards.

Blending R&B, blues and rock into an electric funk, "Starin' Straight at the Sun" is the perfect soundtrack for a mid-summer's night bash.

The disc kicks off with "Never Goin' Back," an in-your-face rock'n'roller which decries substance abuse in no uncertain terms. Consciousness of societal decay can be found in the funky groove of "Fire in the House" while the previously mentioned "In My Heart" demonstrates a sensitivity in the band.

The overall message, however, is clearly defined in such tunes as "Celebrate Good Lovin'," "Sweet Thang," "Live" and the title track. The music is blue-eyed party funk at its finest.

Lyrically, General Clusterfunk isn't exactly the Leonard Cohen of rock, but, then again, one doesn't go to a party to ponder the future of democracy.

The band was formed in June 1993 when Bowen and Epker began writing songs together. They asked Wilber, a former bandmate of Bowen's, to play bass on an informal 8-track recording they were doing and ended up with Chili Pepper Smith laying down the drum tracks.

"So it was like we were just writing songs," Bowen said. "We'd not even thought about the band thing."

Clusterfunk

All five members of the finished group had known each other through previous projects, including such well-known area acts as DC Drive, Skeleton Crew and Bittersweet Alley. But General Clusterfunk doesn't want to be known for "what was," they're too busy working on what could be.

Bowen thinks it's just "classier" for the band to stand or fall on its own merits.

"Mark is a great drummer," Bowen said with his seemingly endless enthusiasm. "With two great guitarists and a funky bass player it just fit the bill. It's perfect."

After completing the songwriting and recording, the daunting task of distributing and marketing the disc was turned over to band manager Chris Smith.

Getting established as a "live" act can be just as frustrating as the "radio wars." Detroit's concert club scene has been in a period of slow but steady decline for at least 10 years. Even the best, most accessible acts aren't able to draw crowds the way they used to, and clubs are going out of business faster than new ones are opening.

"Most places will put the band in there to make the cash register jingle," Smith said. "They don't wanna build up to where there might be a following of local music. They're in the beer business, we're in the music business."

The music business has been pretty good to General Clusterfunk, all things considered. Within the first six months after its formation one of the band's songs, "In Your Mouth," was selected as "Ward Cleaver's Wuzzy Whippin' Meat Grinder Pick of the Week" on the nationally syndicated radio station Z-Rock (102.7 FM). They then won the "Michigan's Best Band" competition and spent December 1993 opening Ted Nugent's Whiplash Bash shows in Michigan and Ohio.

This year General Clusterfunk has been concentrating on "shopping" their CD to major labels and putting their show on the road.

And who knows what the future holds?

General Clusterfunk plays the Wagon Wheel, 102 S. Broadway, Lake Orion, Thursday-Saturday, Sept. 1-3. Call (810) 693-6789 for more information. They also perform Sept. 10 at The Ritz, 17580 Frazho, Roseville, (810) 778-6404; Sept. 22-Sept. 24 at the Avon Bar, 3982 W. Auburn Road, Rochester Hills, (810) 852-2707.

Otis

With the rediscovery of Bonnie Raitt and Buddy Guy, the blues received its biggest booster shot in many years. Certainly, that has opened the door for Rush to finally step into the spotlight that he so surely deserves. This is not an album that will do; this is the one that he's had bottled up inside for years.

His takes on Percy Mayfield's "My Jug and I," and Ray Charles' "A Fool for You" show off the best blues chops recorded in the past couple of years. His reprise of "Homework," here credited to Dave Clark and Al Perkins, but traditionally called his own, is nearly as good as the version he cut 30 years ago. His versions of Sam Cooke's "Ain't That Good News" and "Somebody Have Mercy," rousing gospel-flavored cuts, shows a diversity that wasn't so conspicuous in his early days.

The same praise is appropriately applicable to every song, to every note on this masterpiece. Rush is one of the reasons a lot of blues fans started paying attention in the first place. The fact that he's back with such a gem after all these years is an aural lollipop that we'll savor for many years to come.

Schoolcraft board ends independent study program

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Schoolcraft College officials axed a program of weekend, independent study last Wednesday despite the entreaties of 26 supporters who tried in vain to sway trustees.

The Academic Options program, said board Chairman Steve Ragan, "simply was not working. By every standard we used to look at it, there were real problems with the program."

Academic Options students (27 were enrolled last winter) attended class 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. every Saturday during fall and winter semesters.

Each student could take up to 12 credit hours of instruction in any discipline Schoolcraft offers. Most of the students are women in their 30s. Most of them are part-time students, averaging about 5.5 credit hours each last winter.

Since its inception in 1975, Academic Options has attracted 278 students and produced 90 graduates. Ragan cites these numbers as indicative of poor performance.

"I have a hard time considering that a success," he said.

Yet last Wednesday 26 people, mostly Academic Options students, packed the small meeting room at Schoolcraft to defend their program.

"If student enrollment is the only criteria, then we could fill up U-M stadium with bodies, turn on the TV monitors and say, 'Our numbers are terrific. Look how many people we've enrolled,' " said AO student Shirley Wold.

Rosemary Doyle, a 1978 Schoolcraft graduate, said the multidisciplinary approach, independent study nature, and emphasis on teamwork in Academic Options produce self-confident graduates capable of excelling in their chosen fields.

"What the work force seems to be demanding is the kind of people who can complete an Academic Options program," she said. "We need to look at ways to enhance this kind of learning. Schoolcraft ought to be very, very proud that they have this."

Schoolcraft English teacher Dick Gordon also spoke in support of the program. "Every so often I get a (very good) 4.0 student who can go nowhere at Schoolcraft," he said. "When I find such a student, I send them to (Academic Options) because there's no place else to go."

The Academic Options teacher, Suzanne Kaplan, who did not attend the meeting, said the Schoolcraft administrators have a "personal vendetta" against her and deliberately kept Academic Options enrollment low by not publicizing the program or adding a second instructor.

"There's kind of a Catch-22 there," she said. "First they make it small, then they say it's too small."

The board voted unanimously to end Academic Options when it approved the new labor contract for teachers.

Trustee John Walsh said administrators made a good case in a closed session of the board for the demise of Academic Options.

"It just wasn't generating enough enrollment," Walsh said. "I did not see evidence of a personal vendetta (against Kaplan) in the administration's presentation. I'm comfortable that they were acting in a professional manner."

Ragan said the students' comments were appreciated and "will have a long-term effect on what we do with independent study."

College faculty union gets 4-year contract

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Schoolcraft College trustees unanimously approved a four-year contract with the 128-member faculty union Aug. 24.

Teachers ratified the contract earlier in the week 89-33.

"Is it a great contract? No," said Ron Rogowski, the chief negotiator for the Schoolcraft College Faculty Forum. "(But) it's one we can live with."

The teachers will get a 3.5-percent wage increase in each year of the contract. This compares to raises of 5.9 percent, 5 percent and 4.6 percent in their last contract.

In contrast, teachers at Oakland Community College got 5 percent a year for three years in their last contract, which expires next year.

The four-year length of the contract is somewhat unusual; most are for three years. "It's good that it's four years," said trustee John Walsh. "That definitely breeds stability for the college and the union."

Rogowski said a four-year contract is "a risky thing for both sides" because "You never know what the cost of living will be or what the governor will do."

Teachers made a concession on health insurance. The new contract says teachers must pay a portion of any increase in health insurance cost above 6 percent in the fourth year of the contract.

Edison planning area tree trimming

Detroit Edison tree-trimming crews have scheduled work in Canton Township, Garden City, Livonia and Westland in September and October as part of the utility's $236 million service reliability improvement plan.

The accelerated tree-trimming portion of the program has helped to bring about a reduction in power outages.

During the past year, Edison has reduced the number of outages by 36 percent and shortened the length of those outages by 73 percent, compared with the average of the previous three years.

Line clearance crews trim trees to provide clearance from electric wires, helping to reduce the impact of storms on the utility's electrical system.

Trees that touch energized lines can carry electricity and pose safety hazards.

In addition, interference from just one tree can cause outages that affect hundreds of customers served by the same electrical circuit.

In a company survey of the 25 largest U.S. electric utilities, Edison tied for second in the fewest number of outages customers experienced last year.

Edison customers had an average of 0.53 outages in 1993, topped only by Wisconsin Electric Power, whose customers averaged 0.44 outages.

Fall color tour travel guide available

The Michigan Travel Bureau's 1994 fall travel guide and calendar of events have been combined with the state highway map in one publication.

One side is a state highway map enhanced with fall-color information and more than a dozen highlighted fall-color tours.

The flip side is the 1994 "Michigan Fall Travel Calendar of Events," with more than 500 autumn and harvest-time fairs and festivals, as well as a listing of additional sources of Michigan travel information.

Momma shares secrets for delectable biscuits

Many thanks to all of you who leave questions and comments on my voice mail. Your calls keep me on my toes, and each week I find myself digging through my cookbook collection looking for answers to your questions.

Every now and then, I get questions about "Momma." She hasn't been mentioned much this summer. For the curious, Momma's doing just fine, and has been on a bingo kick lately. As a matter of fact, she has been pretty lucky playing at an obscure hall somewhere in Flat Rock.

Last week, on one of my visits, Momma was pulling a batch of her famed bran muffins from her oven. Momma says, they're "guaranteed to start movin' your system." Momma never was much of a baker, and her claim to fame for the bran muffins comes right from the box of Nabisco All Bran cereal.

Buttermilk biscuits

Every now and then, sometimes with the help of a box of Jiffy mix, a batch of blueberry muffins would grace the breakfast table. But what we kids really remember and crave, especially with the abundance of fresh summer fruits, was her famed biscuits.

The ingredients for Momma's delicious buttermilk biscuits were not measured with measuring cups and spoons. Momma scooped the flour with her hand, and sprinkled in just the right amount of baking powder. She rolled out the dough, and cut out the biscuits with a Detroit Lions glass she got about 20 years ago at a gas station. The glass holds a revered place in the top kitchen cabinet, out of reach of the grandkids careless arms. It is used just for cutting out rolled biscuit dough.

When I asked Momma if she had any great secrets she wished to share, she smiled, took a long swig of her microwaved coffee and thought for a few seconds.

Her first secret for delectable biscuits is that after you work the fat into the flour, you need to move quickly because too much handling makes a tough product.

Momma claims that the first pan of biscuits is "always the best," based simply on the fact that they are the first rolled, cut, and baked biscuits, and the dough hasn't been handled twice, cut twice and rolled twice. Little does Momma realize that she took those words right out of Pillsbury's mouth. In their "The Complete Book of Baking," (copyright 1993, Viking, $25.00), the folks at Pillsbury say that baking soda and baking powder begin to interact immediately with liquids and that any product with baking soda and/or powder should be baked immediately for optimum results.

Momma then went on to say that was the only real "secret" to her best biscuits and muffins. Having made biscuits and muffins that never had the lightness and great taste of Momma's, I knew there had to be more information than what she was offering.

I asked when she was leaving for her next bingo session, and when the response was "not until tonight," I walked to the sink and found the big crockery bowl that is a staple in the kitchen of everyone over the age of 75. Then I culled the necessary ingredients from her pantry cabinet for a "hand's on" personal demonstration.

Her recipe was simple enough: flour, salt, baking powder, Crisco and milk. Momma sifted the dry ingredients with a wire mesh strainer (not unlike the battery-operated sifter I use). As mentioned earlier, she uses her fingers to mash in the shortening, similar, I assume, to that stainless pastry cutter I use.

Secret revealed

She scoffed when I mentioned using a food processor to mix the ingredients. But what was this next step? She reached into the freezer for the quart of milk. "How did that get in there?" I asked. "When you were on your hands and knees searching for the bowl, I put the milk in the freezer to get it good and chilled," she responded. Ah ha! Secret number two revealed: the colder the liquid, the better the biscuit.

She also scoffed when I asked if skim or low-fat milk could be used. She scraped the sides of the bowl with a wooden spoon for 30 seconds, plopped the mixture onto the lightly floured table. Could her secret to the best biscuits be her old Formica-covered table? I use a solid maple pastry board. She kneaded the dough, just for a minute, then made four quick swipes with the rolling pin, reached for her Detroit Lions glass, and cut out a baker's dozen of biscuits, leaving just a tad of dough that she claimed "wasn't worth playing with."

She placed the biscuits on an ungreased cookie sheet and into the preheated 450 degree oven. About 12 minutes later, Dad grabbed the margarine and joined us. The three of us ate nine biscuits, I left two, and ate two in the car on the way home.

I don't know: I went home and did exactly what she did and mine couldn't even begin to compare. Anyone know where I can pick up a 20-year-old Detroit Lions glass?

Pack school lunches your kids will eat

Back-to-school bells will soon be ringing. It's time to get ready for the morning rush, and brown bag lunch brigade. Moms share tips for packing good, wholesome foods that won't be tossed in the garbage can.

SANDRA DALKA-PRYSBY

While many parents are elated about having their children return to school, some are worried about what they'll eat for lunch.

"I'm not always sure that my kids eat well when they buy their lunches at school, so most of the time I make them at home," said Cindy Cares, a Southfield mother of three. "Although I pack some nutritious things that the kids like, I still have no guarantee that they'll eat them."

Cares, a youth services librarian at the Southfield Public Library, has experienced school lunches from two sides. One as the mother of Steven, 16, Katherine, 13, and Jonathon, 11, and also as a former lunchroom supervisor for Birmingham Public Schools.

"As a 'lunch lady,' I learned real fast what kids eat and what they throw away. Unfortunately, most don't eat fruit and vegetables."

She added parents would be shocked at the amount of food kids throw away. "It makes no difference if lunches are brought from home or bought at school. There is a great deal of waste."

According to Cares, the waste is a result of visually unappealing or "boring" food, too little time for younger kids to eat, and too much food - especially when it comes to home-packed lunches.

"Boring food was the excuse 13-year-old Kim Hack of Troy gave her mother, Margaret for why she didn't like lunches from home. Margaret got creative.

"When Kim first started school, I would just throw together lunches without putting much thought into them," Hack said. "Sometimes, I'd put in leftovers, but most of the time I'd make the same lunch meat sandwiches and use the same fruit, day in and day out."

She added that, over the years, and with input from her daughter, she added variety by making sandwiches on bagels or in pita bread. She also made healthier lunches by including more vegetables and her own no-fat vegetable dip. Kim, a Smith Middle School student, buys lunch at school more often now.

"It's a peer pressure thing. It's uncool to bring lunch from home," Hack said.

"When Kim first started buying lunch at school, I worried she would make poor food choices, especially with all the junk food vending machines. But she seems to do OK. Also, I am reassured because school officials are attempting to improve the quality and nutritional level of the foods served in schools. (See related story)

Challah is crown jewel of Jewish New Year

Holiday breads: Dena Sanders of Zeman's Bakery with a tray of freshly baked challah. Besides shaping these cake-like breads in unique ways, extra honey and white raisins are often added.

Of all the special foods which grace the Rosh Hashana (Jewish New Year) table, there is none more common yet distinctive than the traditional loaf of egg bread known as challah. Its familiarity stems from it being a year-round favorite, served weekly as part of the special Sabbath meals. It is especially unique during the High Holidays, because the traditional twisted shape gives way to rounded loaves, many of which are laced with extra honey and white raisins.

Most people view the rounded loaves as a symbol of the cyclical nature of life. But according to Rabbi Elimeilech Silberberg of Sarah Tugman Bais Chabad Torah Center in West Bloomfield, "there are many themes to Rosh Hashana. The primary theme, however, is that it is coronation day when Jewish people resolve to accept G-d as the sovereign ruler of the universe. The round shaped challahs are reminiscent of the crown of royalty."

Although the rounded challah is most commonly known and used, there are those who shape the loaves in unusual ways to recall the significance of the holiday. Some fashion their dough in the

Debbie Bruening of Plymouth Township has observed firsthand the nutritional improvements in her district's school lunch program.

The mother of five girls, including 8-year-old twins, Trisha and Ashley, she has been making or buying school lunches ever since her 24-year-old daughter, Dawn, was in elementary school.

"Over the years, lunches served at school seem to have improved," said Bruening. "They're healthier and, more appealing, although they still have some high fat items like pizza and tacos, I occasionally let the girls buy these popular foods at school, but at home and in the lunches I make, they have low-fat and healthy foods."

Bruening said she didn't think of the nutritional value when preparing lunches for her older girls, including Anji, 21 and Candi, 19. She just wanted them to eat.

"When I made lunches 15 years ago, I'd throw in some cookies, a candy bar, some potato chips and lunch meat sandwiches with margarine and mayonnaise."

Bruening said newly available nutritional information, and her husband's heart attack a few years ago made her more conscious of what she feeds her family.

"Now I add more fruit and vegetables to the girls' lunches, and I have replaced bags of potato chips with pretzels, which have less fat," she said.

To make things interesting and nutritious, she cuts sandwiches with cookie cutters, cuts oranges into wedges she labels smiles, and adds vegetable dips or salad dressing for carrot and green pepper sticks.

She often replaces sandwiches with banana nut bread (minus the nuts) and yogurt. She said her girls' Plymouth elementary school offers students a fruit break in the morning, and encourages young sters to bring fresh, not processed fruit.

Giving their children the "proper fuel" to concentrate and achieve in school is the goal of all mothers. Another goal, Cares said, is to teach children to make good food choices.

Cares gives her kids nutritional and health information so they can make better food choices. She has taught them the importance of reading food labels.

No Fat Vegetable Dip

1 cup no-fat sour cream
1 teaspoon dried dill weed
½ teaspoon (or to taste) garlic powder
1 teaspoon Beau Monde seasoning (in the spice section of your favorite grocery store. Brand name is Spice Islands)

Mix ingredients together. Refrigerate for one hour. Serve with cut vegetables.

Recipe submitted by Margaret Hack.

Apple Pie Square

Crust: 1 cup shortening
2½ cups flour
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg yolk (save egg white to brush on top of apple pie squares); add milk to egg yolk to make ⅔ cup liquid

Filling:
10 to 12 sliced and peeled apples
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup corn flakes crumbs

To make crust: combine flour, sugar and salt. Cut in shortening. Slowly add liquid and mix until ingredients are moistened and dough almost cleans side of bowl.

Gather in a ball, then roll ⅓ of dough to the size of a 10 by 15-inch cookie sheet (jelly roll pan). Place on cookie sheet and cover with filling.

To make filling: Mix apples, sugar and cinnamon together and spread on crust. Sprinkle corn flake crumbs on apples.

Roll out remaining ⅓ of dough to fit cookie sheet. Place on top of apple filling. Pinch bottom and top crusts together to seal. Beat egg white until stiff and spread on crust.

Bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes, then at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

To make icing: Mix 1 cup powdered sugar with 1 tablespoon milk. Drizzle on top of Apple Pie Square while it's hot. Let pie square cool before serving.

Recipe submitted by Cindy Cares.

Banana Nut Bread

2½ cups all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
3½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
¾ cup milk
1 egg
1 cup (2-3 medium) mashed ripe bananas
1 cup finely chopped nuts

Mix ingredients together and beat for ½ minute on medium, scraping sides of bowl. Pour into a greased, floured loaf pan.

Bake at 350 degrees for 55 to 65 minutes or until toothpick stuck in center comes out clean.

Cooking tip. If your kids don't like nuts, leave them out or use walnut halves which can be easily picked out of bread.

shape of a ladder or bird. The ladder expresses the understanding of what the holiday is really about, according to "Rosh Hashana Laws and Customs, An Abridged Version of The New Rosh Hashana Anthology," by Rabbi Aaron Levine. "On Rosh Hashana G-d will decide who will ascend the ladder of success and who shall descend that ladder to less success," he said.

Additionally, the bird shaped loaf illustrates the wish that our prayers, like a bird, will soar heavenward and be heard. Besides shaping these cake-like breads in unique ways, extra honey and white raisins are often added, illustrating the hope for a sweet and blessed year.

Rosh Hashana is celebrated for 10 days beginning at sunset on Monday, Sept. 5, and ending with Yom Kippur services on Thursday, Sept. 15.

"The challah produced at this time of year is special," said Dena Sanders of Zeman's Bakery. Throughout the year the kosher bake shop at 25258 Greenfield, sells 1,000 loaves of challah per week. But before the holidays, according to Sanders, the ovens are going around the clock in order to provide the 4,000 loaves sold per day.

"For weeks ahead, people come from all over the state, and from as far away as Ohio, to buy our challahs. It's one time of year that people put their freezers to good use," she said.

Still, there are many people who especially at this time of year, choose to bake their own challah. According to Marge Burstyn of Southfield, baking challah is her way of starting off the year with a mitzvah, "a good or praiseworthy deed."

For Burstyn, the mother of five, making challah is a family activity. "Everyone takes part in some aspect of making the challah whether it's kneading, rolling or shaping the dough," she said. "But the best part is sitting at the Rosh Hashana table where we share blessings and enjoy eating what we all baked together."

Challah makes a New Year treat

Basic Challah

2 packages dry yeast
2½ cups warm water
½ cup honey
1 tablespoon salt
¾ cup oil
4 eggs
9 cups flour

Glaze:
1 egg yolk, beaten
1 teaspoon water
Poppy seeds

Dissolve yeast in water in a large bowl. Add honey and let stand 2 minutes until yeast foams. Add salt, oil and eggs and milk well.

Gradually add flour, 2 cups at a time, mixing after each addition. As mixture gets stiff, use floured hands and begin kneading. Knead for 7 minutes, turning dough over often.

Let rise in greased bowl until doubled in size, approximately 1 hour. Punch down dough.

Divide dough into thirds, shape as desired, and place in greased pans or on baking sheet. Let rise again until doubled in size.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Brush with glaze. Bake for 45 minute to 1 hour or until brown. Remove from pans and cool on racks. Yield 3 loaves.

Legislators proposing food program changes

By Sandra Dalka-Prysby
Special Writer

Parents aren't the only ones concerned about proper nutrition for school children. There are a number of others who take school food programs seriously.

Among the concerned are U.S. senators and congressmen and women, who periodically review and amend the national School Lunch Act and the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 (both foundations of school lunch, breakfast and milk programs). Currently there are three proposed bills (two in the House and one in the Senate) to amend these laws.

The goals of the proposed amendments include:

- To assist schools in offering greater quantities of fresh fruits and vegetables under the school lunch program;
- To extend the school breakfast program;
- To further promote healthy eating for children;
- To reduce fat and saturated fat and to assure compliance for fat, fiber, sodium and other guidelines;
- To establish more stringent rules to minimize the sale of junk food on school campuses.

The reason for the changes, according to the Federal Register, is that the U.S. Department of Agriculture studies consistently shows that children's diets, including meals served in schools, do not conform to dietary guidelines established by the USDA and the U.S Health and Human Services Department.

"While lawmakers and the Federal government are charged with making and reviewing the Dietary Guidelines, it's up to the states to see that school districts follow the recommendations," said Susan Anderson, supervisor, Child Nutrition Program, Michigan Department of Education.

Anderson said that her office yearly reviews at least a quarter of the state's school districts to assure that their breakfast and lunch programs meet federal guidelines.

"In addition, we hold training sessions for staff members of all the state's schools to help them plan and prepare healthy and nutritious food programs."

How's your school district doing? Are you happy with the quality of your child's school lunch program? Let us know. After the school year begins, we'll feature schools which are doing an outstanding job serving tasty and nutritious lunches. Send school lunch menus and lunch program recommendations to Keely Wygonik: Taste Editor, Observer and Eccentric Newspapers, Inc., 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI, 48150. Or call 1-313-953-2105.

Healthy lunch

Dietitian offers tips to moms

Moms want to pack healthy foods. Kids want to eat junk food. But what's at stake is more than just lunch — it's a lifetime of eating patterns.

"Even though kids want candy and pop for lunch, it's important that they eat a balanced diet to help with their rapid growth and development," said Roxolana Karanec, a dietitian with the Henry Ford Heart and Vascular Institute.

"Good eating habits start in childhood. That's why it's important for parents to find nutritious and delicious foods that kids will eat."

One of the best ways to get kids to buy into a healthier lunch program, according to Karanec, is to include them in the selection and preparation of their school lunches.

For example, offer kids several healthy food choices and allow them to make their final selection. Let them create their own sandwich by offering a choice of skinless turkey, chicken, water-packed tuna or lean roast beef. They can also decide on mustard, ketchup or low-fat mayonnaise and a variety of vegetables like tomatoes, lettuce or alfalfa sprouts.

- Make the foods more fun and colorful. Pack a variety of colorful raw vegetables cut into fun shapes such as cherry tomatoes, carrot sticks, celery with low-fat cream cheese, sliced red and green peppers or other favorite veggies. Include nonfat dressing as a dip.
- Alternate different low-fat cheese cubes with fresh vegetables. The cheese should contain no more than 2-3 grams of fat per ounce serving.
- Include colorful napkins and plasticware to make lunches more appealing.
- Always use an insulated lunch bag or container to keep cold foods cold.

Sandwich, snacks so good kids will gobble them up

Recipes from Roxolana Karanec, a dietitian with the Henry Ford Heart and Vascular Institute.

Chicken-in-a-Pocket Sandwich

2 ounces Neufchatel cheese, cut into chunks
1 green pepper, seeded and diced
4 to 5 green onions, diced, including green tops
2 to 3 stalks celery, diced
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder (optional)
12 ounces cooked, skinless, boneless chicken breast, diced
2 tablespoons reduced-calorie ranch dressing
2 rounds of pita bread, cut in halves crosswise to form 4 pocket sandwiches
1 cup shredded lettuce or spinach leaves
½ cup alfalfa sprouts
1 to 2 carrots, finely shredded
1 ounce cheddar cheese, shredded

In a 1-quart microwave-safe dish, combine Neufchatel cheese, green pepper, green onions, celery and garlic powder. Microwave on low just until cheese softens, about 1 minute. If you don't have a microwave, heat in the top of a gently simmering double boiler until cheese softens.

Stir cooked chicken and ranch dressing into microwave dish or double boiler. In microwave oven, cook on low 1 more minute. In double boiler, stir and cook until heated through, about 3 or 4 minutes. Cool.

Line each pita half with ¼ of the shredded lettuce or spinach and sprouts. Add ¼ of the chicken mixture to each. Sprinkle each sandwich with ¼ of the shredded carrots and cheddar cheese. Yield 4 sandwiches.

Granola Bars

Vegetable or cooking spray
3½ cups quick-cooking rolled oats
1 cup raisins
¼ cup dry apricots, chopped
¼ cup nuts, shelled, chopped
2 egg whites
½ cup margarine, melted
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ cup honey
½ teaspoon vanilla

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Spray a 15 by 10-inch jelly roll pan with vegetable cooking spray. Place oats on jelly roll pan. Bake 15 to 20 minutes or until light golden brown. Remove from oven and set aside on rack to cool.

In a large bowl, combine baked oats, raisins, apricots and nuts; mix well. In a separate medium bowl, place egg whites and beat slightly. Add margarine, brown sugar, honey and vanilla. Add egg mixture to oats mixture and mix well.

Firmly press oats mixture into prepared jelly roll pan. Bake 20 minutes. Remove from oven and set aside to cool. When completely cooled, cut into bars or break into pieces. Store bars in a tightly covered container in a cool, dry place or refrigerate. Yield 30 bars.

Praline Popcorn

10 cups popped popcorn
¼ cup pecan halves
¾ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup vegetable oil
2 tablespoons reduced calorie maple syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla

In large bowl combine popcorn and pecan halves.

In 1-quart microwave-safe bowl, combine brown sugar, oil and maple syrup. Microwave on high for 1½ to 2 minutes or until mixture comes to a boil, stirring occasionally. Stir in vanilla.

Quickly pour syrup over popcorn mixture; toss until evenly coated.

Transfer half of mixture to 12 by 8-inch (2-quart) microwave-safe dish sprayed with vegetable cooking spray. Microwave on high for 2 to 3 minutes or until popcorn is evenly coated and glazed, stirring every minute. Popcorn will become crisp as it cools. Using same dish, repeat with remaining popcorn mixture. Store in tightly covered container. Yield: 11 cups.

your HEALTH
by Sandra John

EAT YOUR VEGETABLES!

Eating vegetables pays greater health dividends than even your mother might have imagined. Only recently, researchers from the Harvard Nurses' Study found that women who consumed five or more servings of carrots weekly had a 68 percent lower risk of stroke, compared with women who only ate one serving a month. As for women who reported eating spinach rich in beta-carotene, they had a 43 percent risk reduction over women who ate spinach only once monthly. There is also evidence (from other studies) which indicates that beta-carotene may also be linked to a lower cancer risk. Because precancerous changes often occur decades before cancer manifests itself, it is never too early to get into the habit of eating vegetables.

September is National Cholesterol Education and Awareness Month. The month is dedicated to increase the public's consciousness of the dangers of elevated levels of cholesterol and develop public awareness of the beneficial role of proper nutrition, exercise, stopping smoking, and prescribed medical treatment in the control of cholesterol. The GOOD FOOD CO. urges you to start eating healthy; stop by our bulletin board and pick up some great low fat and low cholesterol recipes. We are conveniently located at 42615 Ford Rd. Please call us with your questions at 981-6100. We are open Monday through Saturday from 9-9 and Sundays from 10-6. Happy Labor Day!

P.S. Beta-carotene is also available in supplemental form for those who do not eat enough vegetables.

New label makes it easy to choose healthy foods

LOIS THIELEKE

You don't need a magnifying glass anymore to read the label on a food package. The new "Nutrition Facts" makes it easy. The label includes information about saturated fat, cholesterol, fibers, sugars, calories from fat, and other dietary components that are important to consumers. This new label, intended for ages four and up, quickly tells you how a food item fulfills your nutrition needs.

Health claims on labels have to be based on science and approved by the Food and Drug Administration.

Claims like "fat-free," "low," "reduced," or "less," fat now mean the same thing from one product to another. There are strict definitions for these words.

Fat-free means less than 0.5 grams of fat per serving. Low-fat is three grams or less per serving. Reduced or less fat means there is at least 25 percent less fat per serving. For someone watching their fat grams, the nutrition label can be really helpful.

The new label will also help dieters counting calories. A calorie-free claim has less than five calories per serving while sugar-free is less than 0.5 grams per serving. Other frequent claims are "no added sugar," or "without added sugar." This now means that no sugar or ingredient containing sugars was added during processing or packing.

Foods making claims about increased fiber must also conform to standards. High fiber is five grams or more per serving. More or added fiber has to have at least 2.5 grams more per serving. Fiber is important to aid weight maintenance and helps make you feel full.

The new label contains a new nutritional reference tool called the percent Daily Value that tells whether a food is high or low in a nutrient like fat, sodium or cholesterol. A simple rule of thumb to follow is that if the percent Daily Value is 5 percent or less for a particular nutrient, that food is low in that nutrient. This makes it easy to compare different foods without a calculator.

The new food label is based on 2,000 calories a day, and naturally not everyone eats this amount. A 2,000 calorie diet is about right for most moderately active women, teenage girls and sedentary men. Many older adults, children and sedentary women need fewer calories. Active men, women or teenage boys need more calories.

The nutrition information label law required that almost all foods carry the new labels after May 8, 1994. Foods that are exempt include plain coffee and tea, some spices, flavorings and foods containing no significant amounts of nutrients, ready-to-eat deli and bakery items prepared on-site, restaurant food, bulk food that is not resold, and food produced by small businesses. Foods in small packages such as Lifesavers are not required to carry the new label.

Voluntary nutrition labeling may be found on some raw meat and poultry products or this information may be on a poster nearby. The food and nutrition information for 20 of the most commonly eaten raw fruits, vegetables, and fish is also available to consumers, but you'll need to ask in some stores.

Biscuits, muffins are fine

See Larry Janes' Taste Buds column on Taste front.

MOMMA'S BISCUITS

1¾ cups all purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon double acting baking powder
5 tablespoons Crisco
¾ cup well chilled milk

Sift together the dry ingredients. Cut the Crisco in with your fingers until mixture is mealy, for no more than a minute.

Dump in the well chilled milk all at once, stir with a spoon for 30 seconds. Turn the dough onto a lightly floured table and knead for 8-10 folds. Roll out with a lightly floured rolling pin to about ½-inch thick.

Cut with a cutter and place on an ungreased cookie sheet. Brush tops of biscuits with a little milk. Bake at 450 degrees for 12-15 minutes or until lightly golden. Makes about 20 biscuits.

Mommas Secret: She uses the same dough but adds a tablespoon of sugar when making biscuits for strawberry shortcake.

MOMMA'S BRAN MUFFINS

2 cups all bran cereal
1¼ cups milk
1 cup all purpose flour
⅓ cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ cup margarine (melted)
1 egg, beaten

Combine bran and milk. Allow to stand for 5 minutes. Combine next four ingredients; set aside.

Mix margarine (melted) and egg into bran mixture. Stir in the flour mixture until just barely blended. Spoon into 12 lightly greased muffin cups and bake at 400 degrees for 18 minutes or until done.

Recipe compliments of Nabisco.

Living on a cheaper diet can lead to a healthier life

Many people believe that changing to a more healthful diet will be expensive.

But according to Brenda L. Thomas, registered dietitian and staff nutritionist for Total cereals, such a diet actually can save you money.

A study by Pennsylvania State University shows that adoptign a low-fat diet can result in cost savings — an average of $1.10 a day. That's about $400 per year.

For example, six vanilla wafers, an 8-ounce container of orange juice and a banana cost about 83 cents and contribute 5 grams of fat.

In contrast, a bag of chips and small candy bar cost about $1.52 and give you 22 grams of fat.

Here are some tips for calorie and cost-cutting.

■ Prepare your own tuna sandwiches using water-packed tuna and light mayonnaise.

■ Buy fruits and vegetables at the grocery store. For example a 2-ounce order of French fries costs about $1 and has 10 g of fat. A 2-pound bag of carrots costs about 89 cents.

■ Substitute low cost beans for meat in soups and stews.

■ Eat lots of foods made with grains including pasta, rice, bread and cereal.

These may battle cancer

While there are no magical anti-cancer foods, a diet low in fat and rich in fiber may provide some protection. Changing one's eating habits to reduce the risk of developing some types of cancer can be fairly easy when following the recommendations of the USDA Food Guide Pyramid, according to The American Dietetic Association.

For example, eating foods that are low in fat and high in fiber, vitamin A and vitamin C may reduce the risk of some cancers. One of the easiest ways to get enough vitamin C is to eat oranges, grapefruit and other citrus fruits and juices.

Just one eight-ounce glass of orange juice provides at least 100 percent of your daily vitamin C needs. Other good sources of vitamin C include tomatoes, potatoes, greens, melons and berries.

These enchiladas are prize-winners

Enchiladas Fantasticas, a crowd-pleasing main dish with zesty fiesta flavors, has garnered Grand Prize honors in the 1994 Pace Picante Sauce "Pick Up The Pace" recipe contest.

The enchiladas' savory filling combines ground turkey, spinach and cream cheese with Pace Picante Sauce. Brightly topped Wth tomatoes, the enchiladas bake to flavor perfection in short order.

A last-minute sprinkling of cheese completes the festive dish. To serve, embellish the enchiladas with the desired optional garnishes, or pass the toppings and let everyone "customize" their own according to personal preference.

The best-of-contest prize goes to Roz Keimig, a 29-year-old dental office coordinator from Guymon, Okla., for her winning way with enchiladas.

ENCHILADAS FANTASTICAS

1 pound ground turkey
2 cups Pace Picante Sauce
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, thawed, squeezed dry and chopped
2 teaspoons ground cumin
½ teaspoon salt
1 package (8 ounces) regular or light cream cheese, cubed

MAIN DISH

12 flour tortillas (7-inch), warmed
1 can (14½ ounces) diced tomatoes in juice
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded cheddar cheese
Optional toppings: Shredded lettuce, ripe olive slices, avocado slices, sour cream.

In 10-inch non-stick skillet, cook turkey until it loses its pink color, breaking into small pieces with spoon. Add 1 cup of the picante sauce, spinach, 1½ teaspoons of the cumin and salt. Cook and stir 5 minutes or until most of liquid has evaporated. Add cream cheese, stirring just until melted; remove from heat.

Spoon about ⅓ cup filling down center of each tortilla; roll up and place seam side down in lightly greased 13 by 9-inch baking dish. Combine tomatoes, remaining 1 cup picante sauce and remaining ½ teaspoon cumin; mix well. Spoon over enchiladas.

Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until hot. Sprinkle with cheddar cheese; return to oven 2 minutes to melt cheese. Top as desired and serve with additional picante sauce. Makes 6 servings.

CANTON SPORTS SCENE

Youth prevails — barely

Scott Blanchard nearly got what he wanted. But his chance to teach the reigning king of Madonna University sports — Jerry Abraham, who coached both the volleyball and softball teams to outstanding finishes at their respective NAIA national tournaments — a lesson slipped away.

Blanchard is Abraham's assistant volleyball coach, but on Thursday he drew a different assignment: Blanchard guided the Madonna alumni against the Abraham-coached varsity in the annual season-opening scrimmage.

Only this was not the normal Geritol-slurpers against the creme-de-la-creme kind of match. This alumni team included NAIA All-Americans and all-stars like Mazie Pilut, Tonia Smith, Kari VanDeusen, Elena Oparka, Melissa Mars, Kristy McFadden and Jenny Sladewski.

"We coulda finished it in three," said Blanchard. Unfortunately, the alums didn't, and it cost them: The varsity prevailed in five games, 12-15, 8-15, 15-13, 15-8, 15-12.

What made it hard for Blanchard to swallow was that the alums were up 12-5 in the third game. But it was all in fun; now the season starts in earnest.

The Lady Crusaders, ranked fourth in the NAIA pre-season coaches' poll, travel to the Mesa State (Grand Junction, Colo.) College Tournament this Friday and Saturday.

Academic Ocelots

The awards for last year's academic achievement were presented Wednesday during the Schoolcraft College athlete orientation at Waterman Campus Center, and the list of those earning awards was lengthy.

First, the most academically improved female athlete: From winter 1993 to fall 1993, women's basketball player Angela Cerne; from fall 1993 to winter 1994, women's volleyball player Margaret Heddle.

The most academically improved male athlete: From winter 1993 to fall 1993, men's soccer player Matt Lividini; from fall 1993 to winter 1994, men's basketball player Todd McNeil.

Academic excellence awards, presented to those with a 3.6-to-4.0 grade-point average for a semester, with 12 credit hours: Women's soccer — Jenny Berggren, fall '93, winter '94; Karyn Price, fall '93; Tara Shook, fall '93, winter '94; Andrea Zawislak, fall '93, winter '94. Men's soccer — Andy Cosenza, winter '94; Bill Lanspeary, fall '93, winter '94; Tim McCarley, fall '93, winter '94; Volleyball — Tricia Kazyaka (also women's basketball), fall '93, winter '94; Danielle Sheehy, fall '93, winter '94; Sharla Yaklin, women's volleyball, winter '94. Men's basketball — Mark Cady, fall, '93; Todd McNeil, winter '94. Women's basketball — Dawn Newlin, fall '93. Golf — Greg Goga, winter '94; Kimberly Wallace, winter '94.

Academic achievement awards, presented to those with a 3.0 to 3.59 GPA with at least 12 credit hours: Women's soccer — Tiffany Graves (also basketball), fall '93, winter '94; Marianna Kissinger, fall '93, winter '94; Danielle Priebe, fall '93, winter '94; Cynthia Tolstedt, winter '94. Men's soccer — Bill Binkiewicz, fall '93, winter '94; Gordon Collins, fall '93, winter '94; Andy Cosenza, fall '93; Tom Kuzak, fall '93, winter '94; Matt Lividini, fall '93, winter '94; Matt Stabile, winter '94. Volleyball — Julie Campau, fall '93, winter '94; Shannon Capstick, fall '93; Tracia Clendenen, fall '93, winter '94; Janine Sproul, fall '93, winter '94; Sharla Yaklin, fall '93. Men's basketball — Todd McNeil, fall '93; Dan Perttula, winter '94. Women's basketball — Angela Cerne, fall '93, winter '94; Jodi Graham, fall '93, winter '94; Julie Klos, fall '93, winter '94; Cindy Muha, fall '93, winter '94; Dawn Newlin, winter '94; Jennifer Samson, fall '93, winter '94; Alisa Wechter, fall '93, winter '94.

Parks and Rec news

A 10-game, five-week fall softball league, hosted by the Canton Parks and Recreation services, starts Sept. 6. Each team will play one doubleheader per week. Cost is $200 per team, plus a $28 umpire fee per doubleheader and a refundable $28 forfeit fee. No residency requirements. For information, call 397-5110.

Swim coach wanted

Redford Catholic Central is seeking a varsity swim coach for the upcoming season.

Those interested should call Bob Santello, athletic director, at (313-534-2798).

Cage coaches clinic

Wayne State University will hold an open clinic for basketball coaches of all levels on Sunday, Oct. 2, at the Matthei Building.

The cost is $30 per person or $70 per staff (limit of four). Registration at the door is $40 (individual) and $90 (staff).

For more information, call (313) 577-7515.

New coach faces a numbers crunch

By C.J. Risak
Staff Writer

■ SOCCER

There's really been no time for Nikki Johnson to prepare for her first season of coaching. She was named coach of Schoolcraft College's women's soccer team Aug. 16 — just six days before practice started.

And during her first week of practice, she couldn't run two-a-days because she was working a soccer camp, from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. So she ran double-sessions in the afternoons, from 4:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Maybe that's good. Because there's just no way she could properly prepare for the onslaught facing her team to start the season.

It starts with a trip to Monroe Community College in New York for a two-game tournament this weekend, against teams always ranked among the top 10 in the NJCAA. Then there's two more road games, to Bluffton College in Ohio and the College of DuPage outside Chicago.

By the time Johnson's Lady Ocelots take the field for their first home game — Sept. 13 against the team she played for the last two years, Siena Heights — she should know just how good they are.

In case some doubt remains, former coach Nick O'Shea (who left to coach Oakland University's new varsity women's team) made certain to include a few reminders in the remainder of the schedule.

Like trips to play at Anderson (S. Carolina) and Brevard (N. Carolina), followed by a home meeting with DuPage, then a trip to the DuPage Tournament with games against Florissant Valley and Meramec.

Then there's Lewis and Clark, two meetings with O'Shea's OU team, St. Louis CC, Northwood University, Eastern Michigan, Central Michigan — all prior to the NJCAA playoffs.

Final appraisel: It won't be easy, especially for a team short in numbers. Johnson, a Livonia Churchill graduate, lost a few players in the transition time between O'Shea's departure and Johnson's taking over.

Then she found out last Thursday that Amanda Thomas, Schoolcraft's starting center-midfielder last year, could not return due to a lack of credits.

That leaves Johnson with 13 on the roster.

"I'm just worried the girls will lose confidence because we don't have enough players," Johnson said, noting Thomas' loss. "I'm frustrated about that."

Still, even though the numbers are low, the talent is there. Back from last year's disappointing team (a 4-7-3 record) are two of the best players: Danielle Priebe, who was the sweeper, and Andrea Zawislak, a forward. Both are Churchill graduates. Also back are forward Karyn Price (Farmington Harrison) and keeper Stephanie Sutton (Walled Lake Western).

As one might expect, nothing is truly set position-wise. Johnson said

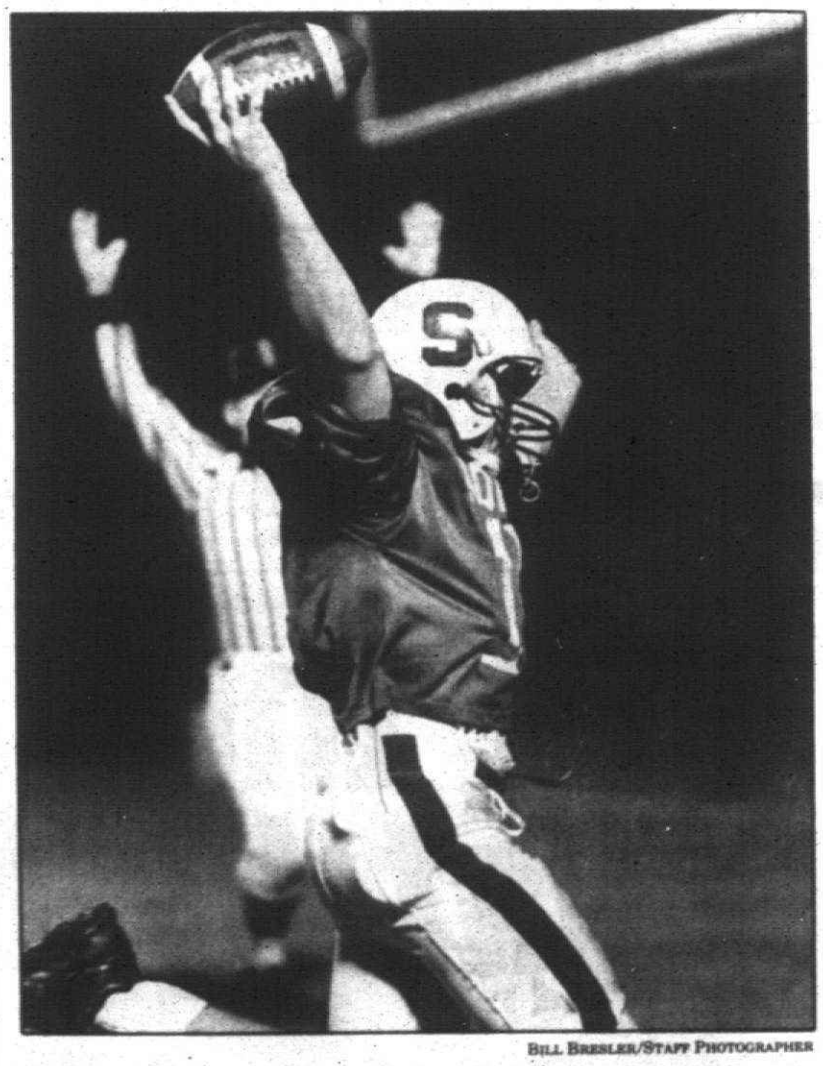
Offensive balance could transform Rocks



Bill Bresler/Staff Photographer

Big score: Salem quarterback Brad Lear had a fairly successful season running the Rocks' triple-option offense in '93, but an improved passing attack could make it even more potent in '94.

Football season begins Friday, and it will herald something new at Plymouth Salem — a passing attack. Coach Tom Moshimer is determined to find balance in his offense; with an experienced quarterback returning, he is confident he will.

By C.J. Risak
Staff Writer

There are a few things Plymouth Salem's football team has going for it entering the 1994 season.

The schedule is not one of them. But more on that later.

The bad news is that three of four starters in the offensive backfield have graduated. The good news is that quarterback Brad Lear, who started every game in the Rocks' 5-4 campaign last season, is the lone returnee.

And Salem coach Tom Moshimer is glad to have the 6-foot, 190 pound senior, even if he struggled at times in '93.

"He's made tremendous improvement overall," claimed Moshimer. "Especially throwing the football. He made a lot of improvement last year from the start of the season to the end, and he's made even more since then."

What spurred Lear on? "He knew what he had to do," answered Moshimer.

Lear was more effective running the football (252 yards) last year than passing, but that's not unusual. Moshimer figures his teams runs at least 80 percent of the time.

That, however, will change. "I think we're really balanced on offense this year," he said. "When you run the triple-option, with three backs in the backfield, people know you won't throw much.

"But this year I feel very confident we can throw the football, because we have someone who can throw the ball and we have people who can catch it."

Of course, Moshimer realizes the reaction such a statement will receive. "I know people are going to laugh, but we are going to throw the ball this year. We'll throw on first down, we'll throw on second down, we'll throw on third down. Our major emphasis will still be option football, but we do feel confident we can throw the ball."

Lear will have all sorts of targets to toss to. Split end possibilities start with seniors Rushi Amin (5-10, 165), Dan McKian (6-7, 185) and Terrance Reese (5-11, 180), and junior Sean Alsobrooks (6-0, 155).

Then there's wingbacks Dirk Schmiedel (5-11, 165), Jason Hoban (5-10, 170) and Adam Dialide (5-10, 145), all juniors, and Romeo Cairo (5-8, 153), a senior — all of whom should make the graduation of Jay Perko easier to handle.

At tight end, junior Kirk Craggs (6-2, 177) will start, with seniors Jeff McClure (5-10, 185) and Glen Parks (5-9, 170) also playing.

Senior Mike Brannan (5-11, 192), who backed up Perko at wingback last season, moves into the starting slot at tailback for the graduated Brian Neal. Ashraf Youssef (5-11, 170) and Jason Hoban (5-10, 170), both juniors, will also get into the fray.

The Rocks' biggest loss to graduation was linebacker/fullback Rob Shepley, a four-year starter. Junior Kevin Grimm (5-8, 176) is slated to start at fullback, with senior Rich

CC must face tough league, lineup holes

But Gary Galvin, who will start Saturday's season opener against London, Ontario, Catholic Central at the Pontiac Silverdome, plans to look over center instead of over his shoulder.

Galvin, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound senior, takes over for last year's starter Barry Lingelbach, who graduated. Galvin, a backup last season, likes the competition Call offers.

"I feel pretty comfortable right now, but there's still a lot of work to get done," said Galvin, who didn't throw a pass last year in about eight quarters of work. "Competition gives us a chance to keep focused week to week. Call's a great athlete and makes me not lazy."

The coaches have shown enough confidence in the speedy Call to put him at strong safety on defense.

"Both will see some time (at quarterback)," CC coach Tom Mach said. "Every job we have is up for grabs every week. Right now I'm happy with both quarterbacks. Both showed the ability to run yesterday (during a four-way scrimmage). Gary, right now in my mind, is going to start."

Quarterback isn't the only position up for grabs with the Shamrocks, who lost eight starters on offense and several more on defense to graduation.

CC, which missed the Class AA playoffs last season by percentage points despite winning the Catholic League championship and finishing 8-1 overall, won't have as much talent and isn't as big as last season.

The Shamrocks are the third-best team in the Catholic League Central Division behind favorites Warren DeLaSalle and Birmingham Brother Rice, according to most observers.

CC graduated all-state two-way linemen Nick Brzezinski and Nick Kallas, along with offensive guard Chris Pratt. Brzezinski is at Boston College while Kallas attends Michigan State University.

Also graduated is tailback Freddie Taylor, who according to Mach was the second best tailback ever at CC behind the late Aaron Roberts. Taylor, who gained 951 yards on 126 carries and scored 11 touchdowns, signed with Illinois State.

Other All-Area players who need to be replaced are lineman Joe Pongracz, linebacker Tate Dobbs and cornerback Dave Morelli.

"It's the second year in a row, we've had to replace almost everybody," Mach said. "It's hard to rebuild the line because they haven't had all the reps, but I've been happy with the line for the most part."

The Shamrocks' leading returnee is junior fullback/linebacker John Spolsky, who can bench press an eye-popping 405 pounds. To get an idea of how good that is, Mach said he's happy when his linemen are benching 300 pounds.

Spolsky figures to get the ball a lot and the coaches expect him to open as many holes as any of the linemen. Spolsky also anchors the defense, which starts seven juniors and one sophomore.

"Spolsky ran and blocked like a sophomore last year, he was a little hesitant and made sophomore mistakes," Mach said. "He's like a seasoned veteran this year and came in with real good confidence."

The tailback job will be shared by senior Paul Tibaldi (5-9, 185), sophomore Milam Brooks (6-0, 200) and senior John McHale (5-9, 180).

The pass catchers include 6-2, 180-pound senior Gabriel O'Keefe and 6-4, 225-pound senior tight end Brad Rainko.

The lone holdover on the offensive line is center Dan Liebau (6-0, 215), who started half of the 1993 season. The guards will be seniors Andy Short (6-0, 220) and Jack Watkins (6-0, 205).

Junior tackles Matt Byl (6-2, 260) and Jeff Monette (6-2, 205) will get challenged by senior Rob Rivera (6-3, 225) and junior Nick Lachapelle (6-1, 265).

Short and Lachapelle will line up as tackles on defense, flanking senior nose guard Bryan Lennert (6-0, 235).

Ranko and junior Mike Smiley (6-0, 205) are the ends.

Junior Tom Smiley (6-0, 190) will line up at linebacker with Spolsky. Returning as a starter at cornerback is senior Ken Marzec (5-10, 185), and senior Jeff Gajewski (5-9, 178) is the other corner.

Call and junior Juda May (5-10, 165) have earned the starting safety spots.

Top reserves include Ryan Kato, Rivera and O'Keefe on defense and junior Eric Gilbo (6-6, 240), a converted quarterback, as a tight end on offense.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Pair of Chiefs rank with the best

The following is the Observer-land's list of top 20 girls basketball players. The top 10 are listed in order, followed by the next 10, in alphabetical order.

1. Maxann Reese, junior guard, Redford Bishop Borgess: I call her 'Mad Max' for the way she reacts to the basketball.

Reese, who averaged 15.5 points, six rebounds and four assists per game as a sophomore, is at her best in the open floor. But Reese has shown she's capable outside the three-point arc as well, making a record six three-point shots in the 1993 Class D state championship game won by Borgess' Catholic rivals.

If she continues her progress, Reese should be the favorite for next year's Miss Basketball award.

Maxann continues to get better taking the ball to the basket, and she has unbelievable body control, coach Dave Mann said. She also makes herself a great shot blocker with the angles she takes. Very much the way Michael Jordan will go up, she figures out a way to get it with either hand.

2. Adriane Bryant, junior guard, Redford Bishop Borgess: The 5-8 Bryant averaged 9.5 points per game as a sophomore earning All Observer first team honors. Her quickness also makes her a solid defender on the perimeter.

Adriane's a lot like Joe Dumars showing no emotions on the court. Right or lousy, Mann said. She's always steady. Doesn't do the flashy things, but she's just very quick. Makes good decisions all the time.

3. Julie Angeli, senior center, Farmington Hills Mercy: The three year starter averaged 13 points per game and was the co-leader for the Mercy line in rebounds with 9.5 per game. Angeli was an All Catholic player the last two years, earned second team All Area recognition last year and should be up for all state honors in '94.

She made the top 10 list of players at the Michigan All State Camp in Traverse City.

Julie has really improved her shooting, Mercy coach Larry Baker said. Most all of it was around the basket last year, but now she's a good, consistent shooter inside the basket.

4. Amicie Crayton, senior guard, Plymouth Canton: Crayton averaged about five points and four rebounds last year for Canton's senior dominated team. Crayton had a productive summer making the second 20 last of top players at the Michigan All-State camp in Traverse City.

She had a great summer and has done a terrific job in the preseason, coach Bob Blohm said. She's an explosive player, great in the open court, taking the ball to the rim and scoring. She's starting to develop the 15-foot shot which makes her even faster.

5. Melissa Campeau, senior guard, Livonia Ladywood: Campeau made second team All Observer last season, scoring much of her points getting the ball to the low post. Her outside shot should be more effective this season with the Blazers losing near to half of their scoring because of transfers.

6. Alisha Gordon, senior guard, North Farmington: Gordon is a three-year starter who averaged 16 points and six rebounds per game last season, earning All Western Lakes Activities Association honors.

For three years, she's been putting the pieces together, coach Lance Davis said. She's developed the body, rebounding as a freshman and last year became a good scorer for us. In the off season, she put the whole package together and finally has arrived as a complete player.

7. Sarah Burke, junior forward, Plymouth Canton: Warnke's effectiveness around the basket is enhanced by her outstanding vertical leap. She was the Chiefs only legitimate inside player last year and averaged seven points and about five rebounds per game. She made the all-star team for underclass players at the All State Camp and was a member of the Wildcats the 15-and-old AAU team that made it to the national tournament.

Sarah is quick for an inside player and makes strong moves to the basket, Blohm said. She's a good jumper.

8. Glenda Lee, senior guard, Farmington Hills Mercy: Lee averaged about 10 points per game last year for the Marlins, who rallied from a tough regular season to win the Class A district and surprise Plymouth Canton in the Class A regional semifinal at Southfield Lathrup. Lee showed great improvement over the summer, according to Baker.

She really helps our fast break and makes us go," Baker said. "I expect a little more scoring from her this year. She has the capability to knock down threes, particularly in bunches."

9. Anne Puglits, senior center, Livonia Ladywood: The 6-foot-4 pivot player is attracting interest from a number of schools.

Puglits already possesses good shot blocking ability, but needs to get more aggressive around the basket.

She should thrive, however, in first year coach Lisa McPhee's offensive sets.

Last season, Puglits was the fifth option in Ladywood's offense, but will find herself getting the ball a lot more this year.

10. Stacey Nichols, junior center, Livonia Stevenson: Nichols averaged 10.1 points and six rebounds per game in making third team All-Observer for the Spartans. Nichols has some good low post moves, even against players taller, but needs to add quickness up and down the floor.

Anne Marie Aquino, senior forward, Livonia Stevenson: Aquino shows an uncanny ability to get rebounds against taller players despite being only 5-9 and a forward. She was third team All Observer, averaging 7.0 points and 6.6 rebounds per game.

Felicia Brooks, junior forward, Farmington Mercy: The athletic Brooks made an impact as a sophomore, scoring about five points per game and showing her athletics at both ends of the court.

Marrie Dubose, 5-9 senior center, Redford Bishop Borgess: DuBose might be the most athletic big player in Observerland. Still learning the offensive game, she averaged 8.5 points, 7.5 rebounds and two blocks per game.

She can get up on the rim to her wrist," Mann said of DuBose's leaping ability. "Her offensive skills are a lot better this year than in the past. She's not going to be an exceptionally good shooter but is looking pretty solid. She has a great first step."

Kelly Lukasik, senior guard, Plymouth Salem: One of the best perimeter defenders in the area, Lukasik also ran the Salem offense with precision with more than six assists per game.

Yvonne Malewski, senior guard, Redford Thurston: A 5-10 guard, Malewski improved her shooting range last season and averaged 12 points per game for the Eagles, the co-champions of the Mega Conference Blue Division. Malewski is a good athlete who can run the floor and shoot from a spot on the floor.

Jenny Markham, senior guard, Redford Union: Markham probably has the best shooting range of anyone in Observerland. She averaged 9.5 points per game as a junior for the Panthers, who had four starting seniors.

She should thrive, however, in first year coach Lisa McPhee's offensive sets.

Last season, Puglits was the fifth option in Ladywood's offense, but will find herself getting the ball a lot more this year.

"Carrie is undersized in the post but put her on the perimeter, and she has an advantage. She becomes a more dominant player, especially on defense," coach Lance Davis said.

Andrea Salyer, senior guard-forward, Farmington: Salyer's overall skills improved last year when she was forced to bring the ball up court against pressure. She averaged 11 points and nine rebounds per game for the Falcons as a junior.

"I think she's been more focused on some of the finer points of the game instead of trying to do it all herself," coach Jodi Verbrugge said.

Shellye Sills, junior center, Plymouth Salem: The Rocks center was second on the team in scoring with 10 points per game.

Krista Snow, senior forward, Farmington Hills Harrison: The 5-9 forward is a three year starter and averaged nine points and seven rebounds last year. She has played every position at Harrison.

"I've been able to count on Krista game after game for points, rebounds, hustle and effort," coach Pete Mantyla said.

OTHERS TO WATCH: Jaclyne Deane, Tracy Rynkiewicz, Franklin, Karen Gundry, Salem; Rica Barge, Wayne, Erin LaCoste, Kelly LaCoste, Farmington Harrison; Christie Glover, Garden City; Kristi Engle, Jean Herron, Redford Thurston.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL

Head coach: Dave Balog, second season.
League affiliation: Western Lakes Activities Association (Western Division).
Season opener: 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 30 at home vs. Southfield-Lathrup.
Last year's overall record: 3-18.
Notable losses to graduation: Jenny Jenkins, Rachel Mohr and Melissa Sochacki.
Leading returnees: Mary Daly, 5-foot-5 senior guard; Patti Maldonado, 5-8 senior guard/forward; Alica December, 5-5 junior guard; Jaimie Clark, 5-8 senior forward; Kelly Ashworth, 5-10 junior center; Anne Ruolo, 5-4 senior guard; Sarah Blech, 5-3 senior guard; Kristin Sattler, 5-5 senior guard; Zira Vassallo, 5-8 senior forward.
Promising newcomers: Kathy Stein, 5-10 junior center/forward; Jessie Ierkens, 5-9 sophomore forward; Jenny Clulow, 5-6 junior guard.
Balog's '94 outlook: "If my kids play the way we're capable of, we should stay with anybody. rebounding-wise. But we need scorers. If we don't get points off the transition game, we'll be hurting. If we can get a couple double-figure scorers, we'll be a team to contend with.
We'll press, try to come out and get some easy baskets.
We have a nucleus of seniors who have played together three years. They work hard.
A finish in the top eight in our league would be real good for us.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN

Head coach: Mary Jarvis, third season.
League affiliation: WLAA (Western Division).
Season opener: 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 30 at Livonia Stevenson.
Last year's overall record: 12-13.
Titles won last year: Class A district champs.
Notable losses to graduation: Jaclyn Deane, 6-1 senior center (eight points, nine rebounds per game); Sarah Camp, 5-5 senior guard; Mary Bagdzinski, 5-7 senior guard/forward; Tracy Rynkiewicz, 5-5 junior guard (10 points per game); Kellie Main, 5-10 junior forward (six rebounds per game); Ann Bagdzinski, 5-5 senior guard; Sherri Newland, 5-8 senior forward; Aimee Parenti, 5-6 junior guard.
Promising newcomers: Jenny Atanasian, 5-6 junior forward; Kristy Hawley, 5-7 junior forward; Julie Warner, 5-1 freshman guard.
Jarvis' '94 outlook: We'll try to be flexible this year with an inside and outside game. We'll run and gun, but if we need to, we'll slow it down. We're starting to be more fundamentally sound.
Sarah Camp has really worked hard. She'll be a dribbling guard. She's built up her confidence and she understands her role.
Tracy Rynkiewicz also continues to improve.
We hope not to be plagued by injuries like last year.

LIVONIA STEVENSON

Head coach: Wayne Henry, third season (second stint).
League affiliation: WLAA (Lakes Division).
Season opener: 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 1 at Southfield-Lathrup.
Last year's overall record: 19-4.
Titles won last year: Class A district champs and WLAA-Lakes Division.
Notable losses to graduation: Mo Drabicki (first-team All-Area guard); Kim Olszewski and Lori Arney.
Leading returnees: Stacey Nichols, 5-11 senior center (10.1 points, six rebounds per game/third-team All-Area); Ann Marie Aquino, 5-9 senior (7.0 points, 6.6 rebounds per game/third-team All-Area); Jill Van Tiem, 5-11 senior guard (6.5 points per game); Claire Schrader, 5-9 senior guard; Katie Groure, 5-7 senior guard; Katie Downiarowicz, 5-3 junior point guard; Jenny Dutz, 5-11 junior center; Jenny Smith, 5-10 senior forward.
Promising newcomer: Julie Courtright, 5-7 junior guard.
Henry's '94 outlook: "I think our front line has picked it up. They're playing with more aggressiveness and more confidence. Ann Marie and Stacey have added a couple of moves.
We played (Detroit) Martin Luther King three times this summer. I think we're more physical and not as intimidated. Each girl has been through a year of that.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN

Head coach: Pat Bennett, 10th season.
League affiliation: WLAA (Lakes Division).
Season opener: 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 1 at Troy High.
Last year's overall record: 3-14.
Notable losses to graduation: Shawn Krause, Barbi Kellner, Amy Feldman.
Leading returnees: Kelly Kiene, 5-10 senior center; Janaya Smith, 5-7 senior forward; Jami Grigaz, 5-7 junior point guard; Katy Duncan, 5-7 junior guard; Rosie Schwartz, 5-7 junior center; Nicole Harris, 5-3 junior guard; Nykiya Lee, 5-6 junior guard.
Promising newcomers: Angie Gorecki, 5-6 sophomore guard; Kathy Suda, 5-7 sophomore forward; Randi Wolfe, 5-6 sophomore point guard.
Bennett's '94 outlook: We'll rely on the fastbreak. We'll run and press until we pass out. Our guards have got to get up and down the floor. We're pretty good speed, especially Grigaz. She may be our best overall athlete. She plays three sports.
We're kind of behind right now. We're struggling with numbers to build a varsity and JV team.
We don't want to be known as a rebuilding team like we have the last two seasons.
We have to really work together as a unit. We can't point any fingers. We have to keep positive because we start out with four tough league games.

LIVONIA LADYWOOD

Head coach: Lisa McPhee, first season.
League affiliation: Catholic League (Central Division).
Season opener: 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. at home vs. Dearborn Edsel Ford.
Last year's overall record: 14-4.
Titles won last year: Central Division co-champs.
Notable losses to graduation: Tara Wasiak and Katie McDonough. (Note: first team All Area forward Tara Overaitis, who averaged 18 points, eight rebounds per game, transferred to Dearborn Divine Child. Kelly and Maura Duggan both transferred to Birmingham Detroit Country Day.)
Leading returnees: Melissa Campeau, 5-8 senior guard (second-team All-Area); Becky Bilicki, 5-8 senior point guard; Anne Puglits, 6-4 senior center; Kathy Dankert, 5-11 junior forward; Erin Jeffrey, 5-7 senior guard.
Promising newcomers: Erin LaSage, 5-8 junior guard/forward; Stacey Judd, 5-10 junior forward/center; Kara Walter, 5-8 junior forward; Kattie Law, 5-6 junior guard; Melissa Poma, 5-11 sophomore center.

Giddings (5-11, 170) backing him up and filling Shepley's vacated slot at middle linebacker.

The offensive line features new tackles in senior Mike Stankiewicz (5-11, 205) and junior Tom Hish (6-4, 220), and veteran guards in seniors Nate Morland (5-9, 210) and Paul Tebben (5-11, 215). Jeremy Haynes (6-0, 196), who missed all last season after major knee surgery in the pre-season, is back and will start.

The Rocks have an additional weapon in the form of senior placekicker Mike Kley. A second-team All-Area soccer player last fall, Kley is gifted enough to score consistently from 30 yards and in, according to Moshimer.

The defensive line has experienced players, but at new positions. Only junior defensive end Jeremy Eaton (6-2, 197) returns to his starting position. Defensive tackles Rockland Johnson (6-2, 220) and Brian Halstead (6-0, 202) saw some action on the defensive line last season, but not extensive; Johnson started at offensive tackle.

Senior Johnny Little (5-11, 207) will fill the other defensive end spot. Flanking Giddings at outside linebacker will be senior Dave Bracht (6-2, 193), a Tabernacle Christian transfer who is the defensive signal caller. Joining Zawislak and Price at forward are Erin Stacherski (Churchill) and Amy Marcoe (Stevenson), with Nelson also a possibility.

It's an intriguing lineup that could may yet be altered. Johnson admitted she had not yet decided what set-up to use.

"We have a lot of strong players, I know we could do well," she said.

A neck/shoulder injury suffered by senior cornerback Matt Foley (6-1, 165) has caused some shuffling in the secondary. Schmiedel will probably fill Foley's spot, with Reese — who transferred in from Romeoville, Ill., last winter — playing the other corner. McKian is slated for duty at free safety, and Youssef will be at strong safety.

More shuffling may occur before a lineup is set, particularly if there are additional injuries. But Moshimer is confident in his team's depth, enough so that he thinks this team could stay in contention for the Western Lakes Activities Association crown — if it survives a September schedule that includes trips to Belleville and Farmington, followed by a home game against Livonia Stevenson.

"Everybody's saying Stevenson, but I think (defending WLAA champ and Class AA finalist Westland) John Glenn is right in there, too," the Salem coach said. "And (in the Lakes Division) Farmington, Walled Lake Central and us all can contend with them.

"I'm not going to go out on a limb and say we'll be better than John Glenn or Stevenson, but I think we'll be right there."

Where is there? Playoffs perhaps?

probable defenders would be Maggie Frump (Farmington) and Jamie Whisner (Garden City), with Kelley Noles (Dearborn) at stopper. Sutton or Jennifer Mansfield (Redford Union) will be in goal.

Midfield candidates are Holly Kimble (Livonia Stevenson), Colleen Connell (Plymouth Canton) and perhaps Kim Nelson (Dearborn Edsel Ford) or Noles.

Gavie Invitational opens season

TEN-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

The bowling season officially opened last week with the 58th annual John Gavie Invitational Tournament at Thunderbowl Lanes.

One of the highlights was the previously-unbeaten "Press Corps" team of Detroit area bowling writers.

Even though the Detroit Free Press' Matt Fiorito filled in with a 200 game for Rick Strobl of the Bowler's Digest, and even with the addition to the team of Sandy Boulton from this paper and the enthusiasm she brought to our team, we lost.

This year's event was dedicated to Fiorito and Deb Blakely who serves as president of both Ladies All-Star leagues at Thunderbowl on Wednesdays and Cloverlanes on Mondays.

The program opened with a great rendition of the national anthem sung by Harvey Thompson, a bowler on the Thursday Traveling All-Stars.

The men's winning team was Super Bowl I from Canton which was led by Gerald Brown of Farmington Hills with a set of 240-297-215/752.

The second place team was Ansara's Big Boy I, led by Canton's Ken Kossick with a 248-258-279/785.

The top spot among the women went to "Contour Grips," featured by Aleta Sill's 268-239-247/754. The Marilyn Lueck team took second place led by newcomer Marianne DiRuppo's 243 game.

The ladies high series was bowled by Kari Murph, who came up from Ohio just to fill in.

■ The following night was the opening of the men's all-stars, the Les Stanford Chevrolet Hall of Fame Classic which bowls at Thunderbowl on Tuesday nights and the Turbo 2-'N-1 Grips Thursday Traveling All-Star Classic which competes in a different house every Thursday nigth.

This season marks the 60th year of the Hall of Fame Classic League which began in 1935 with Joe Norris and his Stroh's bunch that was so strong that the local leagues discouraged them from joining.

Turned down by the News and Free Press for sponsorship, they turned to the Detroit Times and it was the Times Classic until that paper went under in 1960.

No less than 25 current and former league members are now in the American Bowling Congress Hall of Fame, while 51 more reside in the Greater Detroit Hall of Fame including newly named Robert Goike and Mitch Jabczynski.

■ The next night was the opener for the Arena Pro Shop Ladies Classic which takes to the lanes at Thunderbowl on Wednesday Nights. They also have the most powerful group of women bowlers anywhere in the country.

The newest addition to the ladies roster is a young woman by the name of Marianne DiRuppo. You will hear a lot about her throughout the season. She has had recent success on the ladies Pro Bowlers Tour and New Jersey's loss is our area's gain.

For me, the season has really started with a bang, as I had an accident with my car. If not for the seat belts, you would not be reading this now. So all you bowlers, buckle up before you go.

Buying a Used Car Can Be Risky.
Blackwell Ford can help minimize the risk you take when purchasing a used vehicle. Every used vehicle sold by Blackwell Ford undergoes extensive reconditioning and safety inspection before it is offered for sale. If the vehicle does not meet our high standards, it will never be displayed on our lot. In the unlikely event that something does go wrong with your vehicle during the first 30 days or 2,000 miles, whichever occurs first, we will stand behind it 100% and repair it free of charge. It's that simple. We offer new car peace of mind with your used vehicle purchase. Stop in today to see our large selection of quality used vehicles, all priced to sell. And please remember...

HOROSCOPE

By C. C. Clark

Aries (March 21 - April 20)
There is a good chance you will not be able to move forward on a project until you make some attitude changes. Stop trying to find the easy way out.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)
You may find that those closest to you do not agree with your views. Being rebellious will not solve anything and could cause big problems.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)
It may be necessary to temporarily delay plans for right now. There are other people who need your attention. Try harder to understand others.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)
You must learn to control your temper and/or jealousies. If you force the issue now, you could conceivably lose everything.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)
The results and rewards for your hard work will be more than you anticipated. The time is coming when you will celebrate your good fortune.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)
More than ever you need to put the past behind you and get on with the task of living today. You could be disappointed by something you receive.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)
The funds may not be available at this time to begin a new project, or for personal needs. Health problems need immediate attention.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)
Many of the obstacles you have been facing will be removed and you will see things in a new light. Do not dwell on yesterday.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)
You need to stop what you are doing and take some time to plan for the future. Do not cut yourself off from others. You must communicate.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)
There is a wonderful opportunity on the way and you should embrace it. New ventures will prosper and you will experience a great deal of satisfaction.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
A young person may be willing to help you more than you expected. An overbearing attitude could cause you some difficulties.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)
There could be a severe break in a relationship, possibly a marriage or friendship. You must take stock of what has happened and make a decision.

Frisky foursome sows some 'Wild Oats' Sunday on Fox

By JOHN CROOK

Four twentysomethings explore what cast member Tim Conlon calls "that five-year stretch of open road between the end of college and the beginning of a mortgage" in "Wild Oats."

The new sitcom premieres Sunday, Sept. 4, on Fox.

Conlon plays Jack Slayton, a brash and frequently shallow photographer who likes his life the way he likes his women: uncomplicated.

Too bad. In the opening episode, he clashes, then clinches, with his beautiful and brainy old flame, Shelly Thomas (Paula Marshall), and struggles to do the right thing as he sees his sensitive best buddy, Brian Grant (Paul Stephen Rudd), falling in love with her.

This opening half hour is rife with some of the raucous sex jokes ever heard in a Fox sitcom (which is saying something), but Conlon tells a fretful interviewer not to worry.

"I don't think that taking about sex is 'stooping' to anything," he says firmly. "I mean, it's one of the things we do in life. But yes, we definitely will be doing shows about other things."

Occasionally gamy dialogue aside, "Oats" does boast an immensely likeable quartet of principals.

The Ontario-born Conlon, a 27-year-old former stand-up comic, was the first signed for the show and seems a likely candidate to be its first breakout star. He honed his craft in Second City workshops in Toronto, and was one of the youngest headliners on the Canadian comedy circuit. His feature film credits include "Angels in the Outfield" and "Revenge of the Nerds III."

"I've always wanted to have something to do with entertainment," he says. "I started out doing stand-up, which I really, really wanted to do. And I always wanted to act, and I always wanted to do good comedy on television. I think it was more of a goal than a dream I had, and I was lucky to get where I am now with these people," he says of his castmates.

With so many of his scenes played opposite the comedically cutting Conlon, Rudd acknowledges that he will have his work cut out for him if he doesn't want Brian to turn as bland as oatmeal.

"On my part I try to show a roguish side," says the stage-trained actor, who had a recurring role on NBC's "Sisters." "Not so much like Jack's, but an air of stability or confidence."

Jana Marie Hupp rounds out the main foursome as Liz Bradford, Shelly's best friend. Although she isn't an active part of the principal romantic triangle, she serves a valid dramatic purpose, says executive producer Lon Diamond.

"Jana's a really good way, if we're talking about this triangle, to reach out to the other single world and comment, bring in guys," he says. "(Liz is) in that dating hell. She's the smart woman, foolish choices gal."

Hupp and Marshall, both married in real life (Conlon and Rudd are single), say they are glad to be out of the maddening singles scene where "Wild Oats" takes place.

"When I was dating, I had a lot of insecurities about my looks and personality, and sort of throwing myself out there," Hupp recalls, "almost like I had... no inhibitory neurons or something like that... And then going 'Oh, my God, reel back! Reel back! You shouldn't have said that!'"

"As far as dating," Marshall adds, "I think it's hard (in Los Angeles) to find out who are the real people. But we're all looking for love. And I think that's what (the show) is really about."

Footnote for "Seinfeld" buffs: If both Huff and Marshall look familiar, there's a good reason.

Huff played the young woman who had George Costanza (Jason Alexander) so lovestruck that he converted to the Latvian Orthodox faith.

Marshall had a prominent role in an even more famous "Seinfeld" episode, playing a young college reporter who erroneously "outed" Jerry and George as gay lovers ("not that there's anything wrong with that").

Paul Frees supplied the voices of J.B. Tipton in "The Millionaire" and Boris Badenov in "The Bullwinkle Show."

Fox to football fans: Start salivating!

BY JEFF PLASS

Now that football mavens have had their appetites whetted with a few NFL preseason games, Fox rings the proverbial Pavlovian dinner bell with two one-hour NFL specials, airing this week.

"NFL All-Access," on Monday, Aug. 29, takes a behind-the-scenes look at the training camps of the Arizona Cardinals, the Minnesota Vikings and the two time defending Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys.

Host John Madden takes viewers through scrimmages, practices, meetings, meals, bed checks and even a couple of musical revues. Rookie players serenade the veterans in a custom as old as the league itself.

"NFL Preview" on Saturday, Sept. 3, explores some of the biggest questions facing the league on the eve of the regular season. Questions like: How will Barry Switzer fare in his new job as head coach of the Dallas Cowboys? Which teams benefited the most from free agency? How will rule changes designed to add offense actually affect the game?

In the show's final segment, host James Brown leads a round-table discussion with NFL analysts Terry Bradshaw, Jerry Glanville, Jimmy Johnson, Howie Long, John Madden and Matt Millen. Brown pins down the participants on specific predictions for the coming season.

All's fair in "Love & War," starring Jay Thomas and Annie Potts, Mondays on CBS.

HIGHLIGHTS

Gere plays street police officer Dennis Peck, a smooth, savvy manipulator. Garcia portrays persistent Internal Affairs Detective Raymond Avila.

Raymond becomes convinced that Dennis is involved in criminal activities and begins an investigation that makes the two men bitter adversaries.

Laurie Metcalf ("Roseanne") stars as Raymond's partner, Amy Wallace.

Time for Nikki to grow up on 'Y&R'

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Dear Candace: I am a fan of "The Young and the Restless," but I am really getting tired of Nikki Newman Abbott's (Melody Thomas Scott) intrusions into everyone else's lives. Why doesn't she grow up and get a life of her own? She has been divorced from Victor for years, and now all of the sudden she just can't live without him? Why doesn't she do something useful besides causing trouble for Victor and Hope? Victor doesn't want her, and she should just accept that. -J.L. in Idaho

Dear Reader: It is kind of strange how everything has worked out for Nikki on "Y&R." After she came out of her alcoholic daze, she didn't want any men in her life. She told both Victor and Jack to take a hike, and they did. Now both men are involved with someone else, and Nikki doesn't understand why she is suddenly all alone in the world.

The worst part is that she is still pining after her daughter Victoria's (Heather Tom) husband, Cole (J. Eddie Peck). While Nikki has always been a manipulative character, now she is mean and vindictive. To wish harm on your own child is going a bit too far.

And after all of this, what happened to Jed Sanders (Josh Taylor)? It looked like he was going to be Nikki's last hope, but we haven't seen much of him around either.

There doesn't seem to be much continuity with the Nikki character, and the writers need to take a second look at her past. Nikki has overcome a great deal of adversity. Her father molested her, she became a stripper at a very young age, and she married one of the most powerful and difficult men in Genoa City, Victor.

Nikki worked hard after becoming Victor's wife to be the woman that she was expected to be. The one factor that has carried through all of these trying times is that she always cared for her children. They meant the world to her.

It doesn't make sense that she would turn on her daughter the way she has, even though Victoria is a spoiled brat. The Nikki of the past would have loved her children no matter what.
