Griffin Park eyed as postal site

The United States Postal Service is considering four acres of Griffin Park as the site of Canton's new post office. Two ball fields would be lost in the process.

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Canton officials are considering selling part of Griffin Park to the United States Postal Service for a new post office.

The USPS wants to buy property in Canton and design the building before September, then build the new post office in 1997. The building is expected to be a 29,000-square-foot, one story, $4 million branch of the Westland post office with 62 employees initially and 73 after 10 years.

USPS facilities specialist Mike Briscoe said the new post office will likely be built north of Palmer, south of Warren, west of Sheldon and east of a point 700 feet west of Canton Center.

USPS officials asked Canton officials if the township owns any suitable sites in that area.

Canton officials decided that four acres of the 37-acre Griffin Park on the east side of Canton Center Road north of Cherry Hill fit the description.

If USPS officials decide they want the Griffin Park property, township trustees would have to vote on whether or not to sell it.

Residents of subdivisions near the proposed site were invited to a meeting May 30 with township and USPS officials, but the general public and media were not notified of the meeting that included a quorum of the Canton Township Board of Trustees. Clerk Terry Bennett and trustees Melissa McLaughlin, John Burdziak and Bob Shefferly attended.

However, the Observer acquired a copy of the meeting summary as

It'll be anchors away this summer for Plymouth Salem High School graduate Pat Morgan.

The 18-year-old Canton man has been accepted into the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis and will start training in July.

"I want to be an officer and lead men," said Morgan. "I want to be on a boat."

He said he became interested in attending the academy through his father, Jim, who served in the navy for four years.

However, the road to gaining admission was a tough one. Morgan applied more than two years ago, and was finally notified in January that he had been accepted.

"The academy only accepts 10 percent of the 12,000 people who apply," said Ron Sparling, a Plymouth naval reserve officer who was involved in the process. "Only about 1,200 are accepted."

To get accepted, Morgan had to have good grades in high school. His grade point average was 3.9. Also, he was captain of the swimming team.

After applying and being accepted, he had to obtain an appointment from U.S. Rep. Lynn Rivers, who represents

Seniors to present petition to township board Tuesday

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

A group of Canton senior citizens are doing their part to minimize underemployment.

For the second time since December, the seniors are signing a petition to have Patricia Tanski, the township's assistant coordinator of senior programs, whose hours were cut last year, returned to full time.

Tanski and Dianne Neihengen, the chief coordinator, serve more than 1,000 seniors who participate to varying degrees in the township's senior citizen programs.

Led by Esther Sprengel, the seniors plan to attend Tuesday's township board meeting en masse, present the petition and speak on Tanski's behalf.

"To ask for two (full-time) people for the senior program is not too much," Sprengel said. "I think we're important, and I don't think our demands are unreasonable."

Excluding Neihengen and Tanski, the Summit employs 95 part-time people and eight full-timers.

Tanski's job has always been listed in the table of organization as part time, but for years the township permitted her to work 40 hours a week. Late last year she was cut back to 20 hours a week.

The rationale was that, once the senior center moved from a building at Sheldon and Michigan Avenue to the Summit Center, much of the clerical work Tanski was doing could be done by Summit staff.

Summit Manager Debbie Bilbrey-Honsowetz said that Summit staff are now handling the registration duties when seniors sign up for various programs.

Still, she said, some seniors insist on trying to register with Tanski and Neihengen. "It's difficult for them," she said. "They want to go back to a familiar face."

The seniors took up their first petition in December, and two of them, Flo Lorimer and Juanita Gurley, presented it to Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack.

They now consider this a tactical error because the township board never saw the petition.

"Mr. Yack doesn't really seem to feel kindly toward seniors," Sprengel said. "I don't know why."

"The seniors are getting a little upset," said Lorimer. "I've heard some of them say, 'They're trying to get rid of

Don't forget to cast your ballot today until 8

If you're a registered voter in the Plymouth-Canton school district, don't forget to cast your ballot today. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. - 8 p.m.

Questions about where to vote can be answered by district elections clerk Liz Adams at 416-3095.

Absentee ballots will be accepted until 8 pm. They can be delivered to the E.J. McClendon Educational Center, 454 S. Harvey in downtown Plymouth.

Voters will elect two school board members. Both will serve four-year terms.

The candidates are incumbent Jack Farrow of Plymouth, Elizabeth Givens of Canton, Jeffry Phillips of Plymouth and Paul Schrauben of Canton.

Trustee Barbara Graham is not seeking re-election.

No millage or bond proposals will be on the ballot.

Teddy bears tour the globe

By M.B. Dillon
Staff Writer

Sixth-graders at Central Middle School learned about Texas tuna jelly, Mexican furniture-making and Chinese customs from a group of unlikely teachers this semester — a bunch of backpacking teddy bears.

"I was looking for a project to work on with kids that would emphasize teamwork," said Central resource room teacher Roby Jarczewski. "Our librarian's mother learned of a teddy bear in Texas. With that program, one person takes a bear on a trip, and on the trip, he or she gives it to someone on that trip."

Jarczewski adapted the program for her geography unit. Students asked their parents, teachers and friends to take bears with them on vacation, and to make sure the bears kept a journal.

Keeping journals enabled the grizzlies to share their experiences once they returned home.

Local Meijer stores donated boxes of chocolate brown, chubby, six-inch tall teddy bears.

A big-hearted mom designed khaki backpacks just large enough to hold a notebook and pen. "We wanted the bears small and squishy for mailing," said Jarczewski.

Some bears returned to Plymouth-Canton from locales as distant as Korea with stamps, rocks, t-shirts, posters and blankets. One even returned from Mexico with a gift for Central of an ornately carved wooden chest.

"Kids really focus on places, studying where the bears have been," said Jarczewski. "We take in the five areas of geography — location, movement, people, regions and environment.

"When a bear came back from China, a student's mother came in with souvenirs and books and told students all about China. "One of the bears had gone to Texas with the librarian. Students learned all about cacti, plant life and tuna jelly."

Next year, the program will be expanded into social studies classes, even though misfortune followed one bear that disappeared in South Africa.

"I told the kids it was taken hostage, and that sometimes hostages come back, and sometimes they don't. But sure enough, a package arrived for one of the students from South Africa. With it was a letter from a hotel housekeeping staff, saying, 'Here he is; we're sorry it took so long to send him home.'

prepared by township communications director Ken Voyles.

The 30-35 residents who attended were nearly all from Pheasant Glen, a 62-unit condominium complex on Cherry Hill that abuts the proposed site.

"We were trying to get some assurance that the entire area would not become a major parking lot," said Pheasant Glen Association President Rose Lahiff. "Nobody seems to be able to give us a definite answer."

The residents' chief concerns, Lahiff said, were traffic and aesthetics. Even now, she said, it's "almost impossible" to turn left on Cherry Hill at 4-6:30 p.m. weekdays.

Briscoe told the residents that the USPS is "all for aesthetics," according to Voyles' account of the meeting, "when (it's) practical and we have the $$."

That's fine, said Lahiff, but "we also understand the federal government can do what it wants to when it buys the property.

"It's unfortunate they can't give us a commitment of what they're going to do until they purchase the property. And at that point it's too late for us."

Canton Clerk Terry Bennett said trustees must consider "what is in the best overall common good for the community."

Also of concern is that the new post office, if built in Griffin Park, would wipe out two softball diamonds and a gazebo.

Canton Parks and Recreation Superintendent Mike Gouin said the Plymouth Canton Junior Baseball Association uses those two fields among many others.

"There's a need for more ball diamonds generally, even if we have (the two in Griffin Park)," he said. Other ball fields are scheduled to be built in other township parks regardless of whether the Griffin park ball fields are razed.

"We enjoy watching the ball games," Lahiff said. "I'm not too sure we'll really enjoy watching postal traffic."

Canton investigator breaks big-time auto insurance scam

By Ralph R. Echtinaw
Staff Writer

The Help Eliminate Auto Thefts program is tooting the horn of a Canton resident whose investigation led to the apprehension of 23 individuals involved in an insurance scam that could have cost state banks and insurers up to $3 million.

William "Skip" Ward, while assigned to the Western Wayne Auto Theft Unit, went to work on the case in May 1994 after a call came in on the HEAT confidential tip line (800-242-HEAT).

The caller, a local salvage yard employee, has since been rewarded with $10,000 for his information. He said a customer had purchased a damaged 1988 Ford Mustang and paid extra to get a "Quick Title" on the car.

The customer, named MacAndrew Williams, was put under surveillance. Williams continued buying junk cars and getting Quick Titles, but made no attempt to remove the cars from the junk yard.

In June 1994, Ward discovered that Williams had sold the 1988 Mustang to a dealership, which sold the car to a private party the same day. These purchases occurred despite the fact that the vehicle remained unrepaired and in the junk yard.

Overall, Williams and his cohorts purchased 39 vehicles from the junk yard, including many late model luxury cars. Salesmen at two area auto dealers bought the cars from Williams and sold them to others.

Most of the purchasers, Ward said, were "pretty legitimate people" with jobs and good credit ratings. One was a Detroit police officer. Another was a retired Ecorse police officer. A third was a state corrections officer.

Ultimately, Ward counted 30 scrap vehicles that were purchased and titled by Williams, sold to one of the two dealerships, then financed through National Bank of Detroit, First of America Bank, or Ford Motor Credit by a private party.

Ultimately, Ward counted 30 scrap vehicles that were purchased and titled by Williams, sold to one of the two dealerships, then financed through National Bank of Detroit, First of America Bank, or Ford Motor Credit by a private party.

In September 1994, the people who bought the cars began to report them stolen to the Detroit Police Department. Often, Ward said, they also claimed that pricey items like Gucci suits and golf clubs had been in the trunk.

Working with two insurance companies, Ward arranged for them to pay off on two claims in order to establish intent.

Then 80 police officers executed 45 search warrants one day in November and arrested 23 people.

Williams pleaded guilty to two counts of "obtaining money under false pretences over $100" and was sentenced to five years of probation and ordered to pay about $30,000 in restitution.

The two salesmen involved, Mark Caldwell of Allen Ford in West Bloomfield and Art Wendt of Bob Saks Jeep-Eagle in Farmington Hills, pleaded guilty to one count each of the same offense and were sentenced to five years probation and ordered to pay restitution.

Two of the purchasers received the same sentence because they each bought more than one phantom car.

Eighteen other people were simply ordered to pay restitution for any money they obtained via their fraudulent claims.

Ward said that punishment could have been more severe if he had let all the fraudulent claims be paid, but then the insurance companies might not have received all their money back.

Besides, he added, "bear in mind that we're in Wayne County and this is auto theft."

The two salesmen, Ward said, are back to work, but at different car dealers.

Ward declined to name the junk yard from which the hotline tip originated. Employees of the yard have been helpful in providing tips leading to arrests, and he hopes they will continue to be. In many cases, that's the only way investigators will ever get wind of a scheme like this.

"This is only the tip of the iceberg," Ward said. "(Williams) could have run this scam for years and years and never been caught."

Ward worked on well-known Wayne County murder cases

By Ralph R. Echtinaw
Staff Writer

William "Skip" Ward is a second generation state police officer.

His father, William Ward, retired from the Michigan State Police in 1968, and Ward the younger joined up in 1970.

Ward "trooped" out of state police posts in Flint and Lapeer before taking a detective position at the Ypsilanti post in 1981.

In 10 years as a post detective, Ward helped get convictions in the 1985 murder of a state trooper in Hart Plaza, the 1987 murder of three Inkster police officers and the 1990 murder of a Milan police officer.

From 1991 to last April, Ward was assigned to the Western Wayne Auto Theft Unit. He was also assigned for one year as the chief investigator for former Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Michael Stacey's one-man grand jury.

Ward now works as a fraud investigator for the CNA Insurance Co. in Southfield.

Canton residents for 14 years, Ward and his wife Anne have four children. One just graduated from Michigan State University. One attends Eastern Michigan University. Another attends Schoolcraft College. And the youngest attends Plymouth Salem High School.

Ann Ward is a public safety service officer for the Canton Township Public Safety Department.

Candidate seeks answers

By M.B. Dillon
Staff Writer

Paul Schrauben of Canton, candidate for Plymouth-Canton school board, says he'd like to see a kinder, gentler, more frugal school board of education.

Schrauben is seeking one of two four-year terms in today's school election.

"I realize board members can't answer every question, but why can't they just say to someone addressing them, 'Tom Tattan or Pat O'Donnell will get back to you this week; if you don't get an appropriate response, come back.'

"I see people whose questions aren't answered. They just turn away, or it's a look of rage. They're thinking, 'Why do I waste my time?' If it's embarrassing for the district, maybe the situation shouldn't exist in the first place."

Schrauben touched on a wide array of other topics:

• "My strengths are my educational and financial background. I can look at the numbers and understand them. I understand how people came up with them. Beyond that, I can look at the numbers and run them out and say, 'This is a good idea; that's a bad idea.'

•On new schools: "It's one thing to say we need new schools. The question that comes to mind is how do you afford to run them?"

•On achievement: "One thing I think wold help us is to do a focused review of the various programs that we have to ensure consistency and relevance. By continually updating and improving programs, we can raise the bar on student achievement."

•On technology: "I've heard a lot about this technology and its potential. Well let's do it. Too many people are afraid if you write it down, you have to do it. No one wrote down in 1991 what they wanted to accomplish with technology.

•On class size: "I would like to see class sizes a lot smaller. It makes a huge difference." Schrauben supports a recommendation that would take half the money going to teacher raises and use it to hire new teachers. "If teachers get even a 3-percent raise, I will question it very hard and very long."

•On teachers, instructional tools and training - line items the failed enhancement millage would have funded: "If they were priorities last year, they are priorities this year. The enhancement millage was important until it failed. Then it was on to something else."

•On committees: "I would like to see better posting of committee meetings. I've never seen a comprehensive list. If people knew these things existed, they would get more involved."

He wants parents involved

By M.B. Dillon
Staff Writer

Jack Farrow of Plymouth is seeking a second term on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education in today's election.

He recently shared his views on a range of issues with the Observer.

•On student achievement: "I am never satisfied with the level of student achievement; it can always be better. Student achievement starts in the living room, not the classroom. A major part of improving achievement is to engage the parents in the education of their children."

•On priorities: "We have high expectations that we can't meet. You have to make the best set of compromises you can." Residents shouldn't necessarily bring their requests to the board. "People use the public comment portion of the agenda for the wrong thing. Call us. I'm surprised more people don't do that."

•New schools: "They're necessary, and I'd support a bond issue to build them. I think we have the population to justify it. We're gaining 300 students a year; that's about half an elementary school."

•On trust: "I think we are making progress. The new superintendent is a lot better at communicating. But no matter what we do, someone is going to be unhappy."

•On the apparent conflict of interest caused by administrators negotiating the teachers' contract, despite the fact they have wives or children teaching in the district: "Actually in negotiations, it's an advantage to have teachers in the family. It's useful to know what the other side is thinking. These guys know exactly what is important to them."

•On strengths and weaknesses: "I'm not a financial person; I'm an engineer. I understand technology. I know what's possible to do. We are going to see amazing changes in the way education is delivered.

"I tend to listen to people and take what they say at face value too much. I basically trust what people tell me, and you can't always do that. I may not always hear what people say, but I think I listen to people fairly well.

•Also, I can zero in on an issue."

•On class size: "That's a biggie, especially at the elementary level. We haven't made a dramatic difference, but we have made some progress. Three years ago, average class size was 30. Now it's 27. It's just the kind of thing you can't make a big dent in."

COP CALLS

Armed robbery

A Michigan Avenue Shell gas station attendant told police he was robbed just before midnight June 2 by an armed, but polite, shotgun-wielding, forty-something man.

The attendant said the man asked for a pack of Newport cigarettes, then produced a shotgun and asked for money. "(The) suspect remained calm and polite," according to the police report.

The attendant activated a silent alarm as he gathered $200 to $300 for the robber. He handed over the money, but the robber was gone before police arrived.

The robber was described as black, 5-feet, 11-inches tall, 175-200 pounds with a partly gray beard and mustache.

Break-in

At least two thieves are thought to have broken into Metro Sports, a Michigan Avenue motorcycle dealer, the night of June 2-3.

Police found that the building's alarm system had yet to be wired into a new phone system, explaining why it didn't alert the alarm company.

Police believe the thieves entered through a window above a set of double doors at the east side of the showroom that was already broken and covered with a banner.

Another window was broken from the inside out, and police believe this is where the loot was taken outside.

Reported missing was at least one motorcycle, a Honda F3, a large cast-iron safe and two racks of leather riding clothes. Five empty helmet boxes were found in the nearby parking lot of Bruce's Auto Sales.

Home invasion

A 45-year-old Lipka Court resident told police that someone tried to break into his house at 6:30 p.m. June 4.

The man said his 11-year-old son was home alone when he heard a noise downstairs and the dog barking.

He found that a screen on a living room window had been cut and pushed in.

The would-be thief or thieves apparently left. Lipka Court is just north of Saltz and west of Morton Taylor.

Break-in

A thief breaking into Henderson Glass on Canton Center Road the night of June 2-3 didn't get away with any more than five dummy cellular phones worth $10.

Police found that the cover plate of the rear door had been pried off and the front door window had been broken with a tire iron, which was lying on the floor.

Enforcement nets tickets, warnings

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Canton police officers wrote 137 tickets and warnings on Michigan Avenue and Ford Road May 19 through June 2 as part of a program to write a lot of failure to wear seat belt tickets.

Ninety-six of that number were tickets and 41 were warnings, said Sgt. Joe Bippus, who was in charge of scheduling the officers on seat belt patrol.

Of the tickets issued, 62 were for not wearing a seat belt, six were for speeding, five were for other moving violations and 23 were for non-moving violations such as improper equipment and expired registration.

The additional enforcement is part of a federal government program in which the Department of Transportation pays police departments for overtime expenses incurred while complying with the requirement to write a certain number of tickets and warnings.

The second enforcement period is June 27 to July 7. The third period is August 26 to Sept. 8.

Officers are expected to focus on alcohol violations in the second period, Bippus said.

Officers who volunteer for the extra duty are scheduled to work in four-hour blocks on what would otherwise be their days off.

Chamber hosts its annual 50/50 raffle

The Canton Chamber of Commerce is selling raffle tickets to raise money.

The money raised "goes for everything in the chamber," said chief ticket seller Bob Boyer of Boyers Meet Processing. "It all goes back in the community."

Boyer had 40,000 tickets printed, and if all of them are sold for $1 each, the prize will be $20,000. The guaranteed minimum prize is $2,000.

People interested in buying a ticket may do so from any chamber of commerce member.

Look for the 50/50 raffle posters in store windows.

The tickets will also be sold at the Belleville Strawberry Festival June 14-16 and at the Liberty Fest June 20-23.

The drawing will be at 3 p.m. June 23.

Senate ekes out win, sends court reform back to House

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Despite two defections, state Senate Republicans won a bare 19-18 victory on trial court reform and sent the bill back to the House for concurrence in amendments.

Big change: Detroit Recorder's Court isn't eliminated, but its state funding would be scaled down to zero over 10 years. Detroit and Wayne County could decide to fund it themselves or let the 139-year-old criminal court – the only one of its kind in Michigan _ become part of Wayne Circuit Court.

"There were many reasons to vote no," said Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, who nevertheless voted yes on the June 6 roll call. "I got what I wanted _ a change in the phase-out (originally at five years)."

But Geake said the race argument – that black Detroit candidates couldn't win in countywide races – "is absolutely not true." He cited William Lucas, who won races for sheriff and county executive; Teola Hunter, now county clerk; and six circuit judges, though some got on the bench by appointment.

Sen. Virgil Smith, D-Detroit, who led the opposition, emphasized decades of racial problems in an Us versus Them defense of Recorder's Court.

"Recorder's Court means a lot to us. A system was used against us. . . We've earned Recorder's Court. We worked your farms. We built your factories with our sweat," he said.

Republicans hold a 21-16 edge in the Senate with one seat still vacant. Two outstate Republicans -- John Schwarz of Battle Creek and Jon Cisky of Saginaw – voted no.

Area lawmakers stuck with their parties.

Voting yes were Republicans Geake of Northville and Loren Bennett of Canton.

Opposed were Democrats George Z. Hart of Dearborn and Alma Wheeler Smith of Salem.

Thrust of the trial court reform movement _ brewing for a decade _ is simplifying the lines between circuit and probate courts. The Senate GOP version, crafted by Judiciary Chair William VanRegenmorter, R-Jenison, strips 90 percent of the probate court's duties, takes circuit court's divorce area, and combines them into a new "family division" of circuit court.

The reform movement wanted to eliminate Recorder's Court and assign its criminal caseload to circuit court _ the same as in the other 82 counties.

Big issues in Democrats' minds were 1) state support of Recorder's Court and 2) the overall funding formula.

On the Recorder's Court issue, Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, a member of the House Judiciary Committee, told of the behind-the-scenes maneuvering in his chamber.

"We (Republican majority) offered them a deal: Recorder's Court would become the Detroit Criminal Division of Wayne Circuit Court. Same judges. Same criminal cases. Everything the same but the name.

"Ted Wallace (D-Detroit) took them the offer. They rejected it out of hand. We need Detroit votes to put the circuit-probate consolidation proposal on the ballot. We need a two-thirds vote to put it on the ballot (to amend the state constitution). But the Detroit sympathizers in the Democratic caucus would go with them (Detroiters).

"Detroit is relying on the chief justice (James Brickley, a Republican but a former Detroit councilman) to protect Recorder's Court," Law said. Other Republicans agreed that Brickley stands between Recorder's Court and extinction.

VanRegenmorter said Recorder's Court could become part of Wayne Circuit Court if Detroit and Wayne County agree. "There would be 64 judges. We (the state) would pay for it. Would we be picking on them? No, we'd be treating them exactly the same as every other circuit court," he said.

The two parties disagreed over the impact of VanRegenmorter's funding formula.

Democrats denounced the argument that the state was paying 100 percent of court costs for three Wayne County courts _ Circuit, Recorder's and 36th District Court.

They argued that the state also was collecting $35 million a year in court fees and fines, and that the net cost far less than 100 percent. Instead of getting a free state ride, Wayne County courts were "precisely in the middle of the pack," said Sen. Christopher Dingell, D-Trenton.

VanRegenmorter challenged the Democrats' figures, saying Wayne-generated revenues were in the formula. He argued that Recorder's Court is "an anachronism. It has a low caseload (per judge). It's very expensive _ more than $1 million per judge (versus $750,000 in other areas). It (state funding) rewards inefficiency."

Schwarz, as president pro tem, presided over the debate and didn't explain his votes with the Democrats until the end of the session.

"What good is created by making Recorder's Court judges run countywide for circuit court? Detroit is 80 percent Afro-American. If they have to run countywide, a good many won't be judges any more. . . It's an insult to Detroit."

VanRegenmorter's reply: The Commission on Courts in the 21st Century and the State Bar have been driving it since the mid-1980s. Chief Justice Brickley advocated reorganizing Michigan trial courts (though he held out for retaining Recorder's Court).

"There is a need for a user-friendly, accountable system with equitable funding. Family matters are heard in two different courts. Everywhere I go, I hear, 'Funding for the state court system is not fair.' Why is it fair for the taxpayers of other counties to pay for three expensive courts of one county?"

Ameritech's 16,000 service people know every little hole-in-the-wall in Detroit. Will AT&T's?

Our people not only know their way around digital multiplexers and PBXs, they also know their way around Detroit. Something you'll appreciate if some night your lines go down. But there are other good reasons to stick with Ameritech.

1. First of all, Ameritech is your next-door neighbor, not some gargantuan company from New Jersey like AT&T. When you think about it, how're they going to provide great service all the way from New Jersey?

2. We were the company that built this network. Who's better qualified to service it?

3. We've been providing local service to this region for over a century. We've put through virtually every call you've ever made to or from Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio, Michigan, and Indiana. That's a lot of calls.

7. Just one of our 60,000 employees.

4. In fact, we field some 2.6 million operator-assisted calls every day.

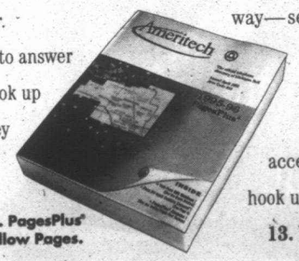
5. And they're all handily dispatched by 4,900 highly efficient operators who answer those calls in English and Spanish, as well as Polish.

6. Our directory assistance operators handle 531 calls a day each. And because these operators are local folks, they know your town and can help you find the number or address you're looking for better than anybody.

7. All told, there are 60,000 Ameritech employees in the Midwest working to make your next call go through.

8. And 93% of them are Ameritech shareholders—not just employees, but owners. Which means they have a vested interest in seeing that you are a happy customer.

9. 7,300 of them are technicians. All trained to answer the 3.9 million service calls we get every year to hook up new services or make installations. And because they know this town, they probably won't need a map to find your house, just a truck.



33. PagesPlus® Yellow Pages.

10. Which we have 19,000 of, by the way—service vehicles, on the street, ready to go.

11. We also maintain 600 permanent service facilities in the five-state region.

12. We provide service for more than 18 million access lines to homes and businesses. No wonder we can hook up a new line like we've done it a million times. We have.

13. We've installed enough copper wire in the Midwest to stretch to the sun and back. (That's 186 million miles. Can we make it all the way to your new house? Probably.)

14. We've put down over a million miles of fiber optic cable in the Midwest.

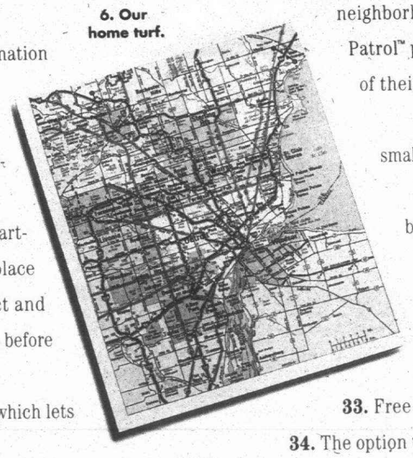
15. We've installed 242,000 pay telephones in our five-state area, so you can be sure there is always one nearby.

16. Overall, we invest $2 billion yearly, maintaining and upgrading the network in your area.

17. We spent $3.5 billion on equipment to improve the network. Billion, not million. (We spent that much to make sure that next 35¢ you drop in a pay phone gets a dial tone.)

18. And you get that tone better than 99.9% of the time. That's an independent measurement of the reliability of our network. That's not perfection, but we're working on it.

6. Our home turf.



19. We have expertise in complex information processing. We provide connectivity and software solutions for more than 3,500 libraries around the world, including the New York Public Library and the Library of Congress.

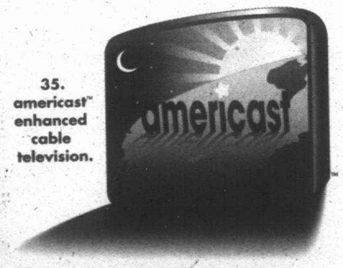
20. We maintain a Human Factors Department that uses what we call Test Towns—a place where we test every new Ameritech product and service to make sure it's simple and easy to use before we offer it on the market.

21. Products like Caller ID With Name, which lets you know who's calling before you answer.

22. Voice Mail. A service that works like an answering machine, but without the tapes.

23. Pay-per-use features that are built into your service free of charge and there when you need them. Like Automatic Callback and Repeat Dialing.

24. Ameritech cellular service for local and long distance calling.



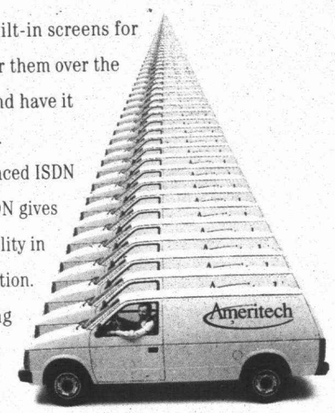
35. americast™ enhanced cable television.

25. VoiceSelect™. So Ameritech Cellular customers can dial by voice, and keep their eyes on the road.

26. Telephones. Yes, Ameritech actually sells phones, some with built-in screens for Caller ID. And you can order them over the phone (1-800-650-LINK) and have it charged to your phone bill.

27. The most experienced ISDN provider in the country. ISDN gives incredible speed and capability in voice/data/video communication.

28. Distance learning networks that serve nearly 400 local schools, colleges, and universities.



10. 19,000 service vehicles.

29. Free cellular phones, pagers, and airtime for eligible neighborhood watch groups. Through our Cellular Patrol™ program, we help people take back control of their neighborhoods.

30. We have over 1,000 employees serving small Midwestern business customers exclusively.

31. 1-800-TEAMDATA. For one-stop business communication shopping.

32. We maintain what we call Test Towns, places where people like you test every new Ameritech product to make sure it is simple and easy to use.

33. Free listing in the PagesPlus® directory.

34. The option to add e-mail addresses and World Wide Web URLs in some phone directories.

35. americast™ enhanced cable television service, which will soon be available featuring more programming choices and exciting new interactive capabilities.

That's the abbreviated list. There are more reasons for sticking with Ameritech, but they can wait till we can run a bigger ad.

Stick with the one that works.

Summer hat styles are playful protection

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
STAFF WRITER

It's time to top off those summer outfits with straw hats. Of course, not any old straw will do. This season big brims with head hugging crowns in natural as well as icy hues and sherbet colors are all the rage adding pizzazz to any outfit.

New York designer Eric Javits makes it simple to travel with straw hats introducing the Squishee ($150) available at Neiman Marcus at the Somerset Collection, Troy. This ultimate summer hat in sandstone or black is versatile. Wear it to a garden party or wedding or for running errands around town. Form it to fit your mood. Roll the brim up for a classic style. Turn the brim down to barely cover your eyes for a flirtatious, sophisticated look.

Best of all, Javits makes this chapeau chameleon durable. No clumsy hat boxes when traveling. Simply toss Squishee in a suitcase and you're off. This sewn braid hat made of cotton and viscose requires no special care except dry cleaning.

"It depends on the occasion, but it seems everybody wants a straw hat in the summer," said Neiman spokeswoman Marilyn Connor. Hats are that finishing detail. The wide, rolled-up brim is something new and a strong tend."

Wearing a hat in summer, especially one with a big brim, offers an extra benefit: it protects the skin from the aging effects of the sun. Neiman Marcus has great collection of styles from big floppy brims to a hot pink flapper number by Frank Olive. If small is more to your liking, hair adornments barely cover the crown. James Coviello adds butterflies, flowers and a big green ribbon to his little topper, $197.

Connor suggests hat wearers "be creative by tying a scarf to a brim. A scarf can change the personality of a hat."

Or you can add a big sunflower, said Jacobson 's area manager Carolyn Haun at the Birmingham store. "Some of our customers come in and design their own, buying simple styles and dressing them up any way they want to. There's a sense of adventure and fun when you add a big flower to your hat."

Animal prints are stronger than ever. The safari hat by Toucan is rimmed with wooden carvings of rhinoceros and zebra. Patterned after a hat worn by Australian children, designer Kaminiski combines a rolled brim with a wide black band in a natural straw ($125) for a school girl look.

The beret, usually considered a fall and winter accessory, is the surprise of the summer season, said Haun. For day wear, a white butter-soft leather beret by Heslip is priced at $125. Oscar de la Renta takes beaded white satin to create an elegant beret for evening.

"Hats help you make a statement when you walk into a room," said Haun. "With the dressier hats (recall Audrey Hepburn in Breakfast at Tiffany's) people are coming in and having fun with the tooling and netting. Black wide-brimmed hats trimmed with maribou roared into the summer. It's a very dramatic look."

Also new, is a straw baseball cap for the tennis court, golf course, or just for fun.

At JC Penney in the Westland Shopping Center, Mr. John jazzes up a navy wide-brim straw hat by adding a metallic gold band and flowers. It's on sale ($63) along with the rest of the summer hats including a blue straw with sequin crown by Whittall and Shon ($69.99) and simple navy straw by Street Smart ($22.40).

Wig hats: For humid, summer hair days - a fall is attached to the inside brim of this straw chapeau from Eric Javits. (Top): another stylish Javits original.

Retailers say competition is good

Like the '90s anthem beats, "You gotta be strong, You gottta be bold, You gotta be wiser." And that's the advice from Minnesota retailers battling the Mall of America for business.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Store owners: Get back to the basics of retailing.

Yes, it's obvious; it's simplistic, but the prescription for surviving and thriving with greater competition is: Do a better job of being a retailer.

Who says so? The Minnesota Retail Merchants Association. They shared their secrets with president Judy Cook, who presented these thoughts to Detroit merchants last week at a breakfast meeting at the Radisson Hotel in Southfield.

Citing the August opening of the Somerset Collection North, and the recent arrival of Best Buy, Circuit City, Home Quarters, Home Depot, Barnes & Noble Booksellers, catalog, television and computer shopping, established retailers said they are concerned about sales.

"Hey, we've been there," Minnesota's finest reported back, and they've lived to tell about it.

"When plans were announced for a Mall of America in Bloomington, it was estimated that 29-percent of the retail would be taken from the Twin Cities," Cook said. "The mall would need to generate $1.2 billion in sales each year to be successful. Community leaders argued it would fizzle and become a big, white elephant.

"Well, we were all wrong. The mall generates $1.4 billion annually for the state of Minnesota and downtown merchants saw their business grow by 6-percent the first year. If you want to learn about competition look at us."

(In 1995, Michigan earned $4.8 billion from its 6-percent retail sales tax. Minnesota has no sales tax on clothing purchases.)

Cook said retail in the state exploded between 1991 and 1995 when retail space grew by 40-percent. She acknowledged numerous casualties in the new marketplace, but had no figures on the number of retailers that closed their doors.

"For the most part, we figured out how to deal with it. We turned the problem into an opportunity," she said. "Those that went out were those who refused to change. They wanted to do things the way they always did. But the new show in town brought in traffic, business and an urgency to the rest of us to action. Increased competition forces you to do a better job of being a retailer."

She overhead-projected these six lessons:

1. Do what you do best, not what they do best. Understand the strengths of the competition; is it depth of inventory? service? Know who you are. Focus on what you do best - is it convenience? product knowledge? Constantly evolve, keep up appearances.

2. Know your customer. Provide what they want, evolve with them. Don't sell what you've always sold. Buy from different markets.

3. Enhance customer loyalty. Use technology to track and list sales. Maintain your store's comfort level for regulars. Keep communicating with customers through direct mail, coupons, special offers.

4. Focus on service and inventory. Provide expected level of service, train employees, back them up with product and selection. Offer fresh inventory. Be price sensitive.

5. Be unique. Develop a market niche. Set yourself apart with a look and an atmosphere.

6. Maintain employee loyalty. Offer flexible schedules and review your benefits before the competition arrives.

"Downtown Minneapolis knew they had to give their shoppers a reason to come downtown," Cook explained. "They knew they were not the Mall of America, but they needed to attract customers just the same. So they asked the city for $1 million for promotion. They got it through a public/private partnership.

"Next, they went to Disney for advice and came up with a super successful program. During peak business, the holidays, the city holds a half-hour parade downtown with 250 volunteers every night.

"People crowd the streets with their children and afterward, to escape the cold, head for the skywalks and restaurants and shopping. It's become a big event. A boon to business.

"And it's really an experience. Everyone is lit with battery packs. Dayton's has it's flagship store downtown and hosts its annual holiday exhibit in the auditorium. Dayton's decided against being in the Mall of America, but eventually modernized the downtown store with two new wings."

Cook said the Mall of America is now negotiating a Phase Two, with even more retailers, offices and hotels.

"The lesson is; times will change whether you change or not. You can do something about the situation or stick your head in the sand and blame "customers who aren't loyal anymore."

Mary Short of Coopers & Lybrand, a sponsor of the event, said Cook's Back to Basics message "was something we forget." But practical advice to "go back and implement."

Bob Benkert of the Claymore Shop in Birmingham said Cook's message was "right on."

"My staff and I have spent the past two years putting our arms around our customers," he said. "If we really take care of them, they'll keep doing business with us and we'll be fine in our downtown location."

Frank Belloli of Sibley Shoes, with 40 stores in metro Detroit, said he enjoyed Cook's presentation.

"Retail business changes by the month, by the week," he said. "To stay competitive you've got to keep up. You've got to change too."

Points of interest: Judy Cook, president of the Minnesota Retailers Association, told Michigan retailers that competition will make everyone stronger - if they prepare for it.

County board seeks input on court reform

BY BETH SUNDRLA JACHMAN
STAFF WRITER

Wayne County commissioners Thursday approved a resolution in hopes of entering the discussion on court reform, even though the state Senate had already approved a bill.

Several commissioners said they wanted to wait to see how much court reform would cost Wayne County.

The resolution urges discussion and input from local judges, elected officials and citizens.

Local commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, and Vice Chair Kay Beard, D-Westland, abstained, while Commissioner Michelle A. Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, voted in favor. Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, was out of the room and didn't vote, but said afterward he would have abstained.

Preliminary estimates are that the change could cost Wayne County $28 million annually, according to the resolution, which also points out that "contrary to popular belief" Wayne County already pays nearly 67 percent of the costs of operating Circuit and Recorder's Court and 97 percent of the costs of the Probate Court. The annual cost to Wayne County taxpayers is already $104 million, according to the resolution.

Plawecki, who also represents Redford Township and part of Livonia, said she voted in favor of the resolution because it encourages discussion. "I'm not in favor of reducing the revenue that comes to Wayne County," Plawecki said. "Our budget is certainly to the bone as it is."

She said the situation reminds her of when the state took the lion's share of the road funding earlier this year and many western Wayne County projects were on the chopping block.

"How would the cuts trickle down and affect the community?" she asked. "I think it would be negative," she said.

McCotter, whose district also includes Plymouth and Plymouth Township, also raised a concern about going back to the voters to ask for tax increases to cover services that would have to be cut to fund the court system.

He wants to see what impact the change would have on the county's general fund and whether it would mean more tax increases to pay for public services like the parks millage, he said.

He criticized legislators in Lansing, saying he wants to know "what they are going to do to get our money back." While some legislators "run around bragging" about the cuts made in Wayne County, McCotter said he wants to know what they are going to do about the cuts Wayne County constituents must now fund.

"We have not had near the input we should have had," Beard said. "Frankly, I don't think anything we do today will have any impact," she said, in explaining her abstention, adding she doesn't think many people understand the issues at stake.

Patterson said he agreed with Beard and McCotter on most points, but pointed out that there have been public hearings at the state level. "Any one of us could have gone there and perhaps should have gone there," Patterson said, adding that he would abstain until he knew what the impact would be.

Burton Manor to host metro expo

Entrepreneurs from throughout Metro Detroit will meet at the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce's Business-to-Business Expo '96 Celebration Reception, from 4-5 p.m. June 13 at Burton Manor, Livonia.

The reception will wrap up a mixed-industry expo, with more than 100 exhibits and nearly 2,000 attendees expected.

"People can leave work a little early, stop by on their way home and enjoy this hour packed with networking, opportunities to win prizes, food, drinks and fun," said expo committee member Alisha Weintraub. "We're advising guests to bring plenty of business cards to exchange with other business people."

Microsoft software and Northwest Airlines tickets will be among the prizes.

It is "always great" for entrepreneurs to have the opportunity to show what they have to sell, Betty Jean Awrey, vice president of public relations and government affairs at Awrey Bakeries Inc. in Livonia, said. Awrey is on the board of directors of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce.

She called the event "cross pollination" for businesses to see and show goods and services at the expo.

Among the local businesses that are participating as exhibitors are: Business Information International of Canton, Credit Reporting Information Services Inc. of Livonia, Graphic Visions Inc. of Plymouth, New Horizons Computer Learning Center of Livonia, and the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers of Livonia.

Burton Manor is at 2777 Schoolcraft Road in Livonia.

The expo is also offering workshops for small business representatives to introduce themselves and their products and services to corporate purchasing officers.

The Buyer/Supplier Connection workshops are scheduled at 9:30-10:30 a.m. and 2-3 p.m.

The 9:30 a.m. workshop will feature a presentation by Microsoft that will include learning what the Internet is all about and the software tools that can be used.

Each workshop will feature a short presentation by corporate buyers to help small businesses position themselves to attract larger contracts.

Gem is site of heart association fund-raiser

The American Heart Association will host "A Heart Felt Night of Shear Madness" at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 19, at the Gem Theater, 58 E. Columbia, Detroit.

WXYZ-TV Channel 7 anchor Diana Lewis will host a pre-performance party from 6-7 p.m.

Hors d'oeuvres will be provided by The Bloomfield Hills Country Club, Detroit Athletic Club, The Westin, Intermezzo, The Golden Mushroom, Birmingham Country Club, Oakland Community College Culinary Arts, The Renaissance Club, The Palace, Great Harvest Bread Company of Northville, Mary Denning Cakes, Joe's Produce, Leon's Family Dining and U-Take-The-Cake.

Tickets are $55 per person and include pre-performance party, show and parking pass.

Tickets are available at Orin Jewelers, corner of Ford and Middlebelt roads in downtown Garden City or by calling chairperson Debbie Ley at (313) 813-6646 or 453-6800 or Jodie Ramsdell, American Heart Association regional director at (800) 557-9501, Ext. 540.

Corporate sponsors donating $550 or more will receive 10 tickets and parking to the performance.

Sponsors also will receive their names in the program book.

Current sponsors include Garden City Hospital, St. Mary Hospital, Detroit Edison and Pacer Manufacturing in Plymouth.

Also sponsoring the event are: Merrill Lynch, Dearborn; Cam Mar's Salon in Novi; Mills and Motley, Attorneys at Law in Livonia and Grand Rapids; Feikens, Vander Male, Stephens, Bellamy and Gilchrist Law firm in Detroit; and Dr. and Mrs. Nick Sellas.

For more information on sponsorship call Ramsdell at (800) 557-9501.

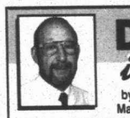
Dentistry in the 90s
by Herbert M. Gardner, D.D.S. & Martha P. Zinderman, R.N., D.D.S.



DENTAL IMPLANT HISTORY
The research that gave rise to dental implant technology was undertaken by Swedish physician Per-Ingvar Branemark nearly 40 years ago. While studying microcirculation of the bone and wound healing, he accidentally discovered osseointegration (the process by which bones adheres to metal implants). As he placed an implantable optical device into the bone of an animal to observe circulatory and cellular changes in the bone, he found that the bone adhered very strongly to the device's titanium housing over time. It is this information that dentists now rely on when implanting a metal cylinder into the jawbone of implant patients. Once the titanium cylinder is in place and gum tissue is closed over it, 3 to 6 months are allowed for the metal and bone to bond together. After that, an incision is made in the gums to uncover the cylinder and a fabricated crown is either screwed or cemented into the cylinder to create a replacement tooth.
Enjoy the simple pleasures you may be missing. Rediscover comfort and confidence. Dental implants offer a permanent solution to missing teeth. At LIVONIA DENTAL ASSOCIATES, 19171 Merriman Road, our practice includes implants, crowns & bridges, cosmetic treatment, as well as general dentistry for the entire family. Pig roast is tasty way to entertain

With summer looming just around the corner, I've already attended my first pig roast (Memorial Day Weekend) and there are three scheduled for the month of June.

I think it has something to do with the uniqueness of it all. Think about it, what better a reason to stand around in awe, than to watch a 150 pound roast pig twirl around on a rotisserie? It's a built in conversation starter, there's always someone who "knows" and has experienced it and the kids — well, what can I say — kids ask (and think of) the craziest questions. Of course, let's not forget the real reason for a pig roast.

There's nothing like fresh roasted pig; from the juiciest tenderloin to the most succulent roast fresh ham you've ever sunk your teeth into, it's a definite show stopper!

Getting ready

There are a few rules that should be strictly adhered to before the festivities begin.

You should not have a problem finding a pig. Most butcher shops can order one for you, but you'll get the best price at a wholesale market like Allied Provision in the Eastern Market. Expect the pig to weigh around 125 pounds (smaller pigs are available through your butcher and, as a general rule of thumb, you should allow at least 2 pounds of dressed pig (head on) per person. If you're planning on doing this during a major holiday or graduation weekend, you might have a problem locating a rotating spit device or a covered roaster. Contact your rental agency as soon as possible and expect to pay from $50 for a uncovered open pit barbecue to around $100 for a covered rotating spit. Of course, these prices are for charcoal type grills and rest assured, you'll need at least 100-120 pounds of good hardwood charcoal to do the job. Propane grills are also available at a much higher price.

The variance in thickness of muscle groups will certainly result in differences in speed of cooking. Loin and side areas will cook much faster than ham or shoulder areas. Cooks in the know have a much lower fire under the middle of the pig and elevate the coals to help insure proper cooking of the ham and shoulder areas. It is imperative that someone have an instant read thermometer and to be sure that the internal temperature reaches at least 170 degrees F. for fresh pork.

Cooking method

The last time I roasted a whole pig, I built the hot coals up on both ends of the grill and kept drip pans available for the center to catch dripping fat. This could result in a disaster as fat dripping into a hot fire can cause quite a burst of flame. On an open grill, I retained heat by constructing a reflecting hood using corrugated steel roofing material or heavy foil over chicken wire. Professional pig roasters keep an oven thermometer handy as the optimum roasting temperature should remain constant between 225-250 degrees F.

Because of variances in sizes, shapes, weights, methods of cooking and other factors, it is difficult to offer a rule of thumb for cooking times. Again, the experienced pig roaster will suggest that a 125 pound pig, kept roasting and turning at about 225 degrees F., will take about 7 hours to cook.

I can attest to the fact that sometimes it's taken much longer, (especially on colder, windier days) and wholeheartedly agree that dinner should not be a set, planned time, but approximated, giving at least a 2 hour time spread.

One may want to baste the roast during cooking, but a good sized pig during its cooking will char its skin, therefore holding in much of the juices basting would accommodate for. I find it necessary to baste only when a lean portion is exposed due to the skin cracking or breaking off.

Hosting a pig roast sounds difficult, but it really isn't, especially if you do it with friends, and family. I have in my possession a small packet of information from the National Pork Producers and would be happy to offer it to you.

Just send a self addressed stamped envelope to me, Chef Larry c/o Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, Inc., 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, 48150. Sorry, phone orders will not be accepted, and only self addressed stamped envelopes will be returned.

CANNED FRUIT PROMOTION SERVICE

Fruits & Vegetables inspire easy Mediterranean-style menus

The Mediterranean diet: You've probably heard about it, particularly with regards to its disease-preventative benefits. This eating style encompasses the cuisines of regions and countries as diverse as Spain, Israel, Southern France, Italy, Greece, and Morocco, to name a few. The diet is rich in grains, legumes, fruits and vegetables, as well as moderate amounts of fish, meat and poultry, nuts, olive oil, and wine. Researchers believe that a combination of low amounts of saturated fat, high fiber, plenty of antioxidants, such as vitamins C and E, and a wealth of potentially cancer-inhibiting substances known as phytochemicals make this one of the healthiest diets in the world.

Recent news stories have seized on wine consumption and olive oil as the keys to the healthfulness of the Mediterranean diet, but there is no consensus in the scientific community on either issue. Nearly all nutrition and medical authorities agree that the abundance of fruits and vegetables in the Mediterranean diet gives these cuisines of the sun a healthy edge. Reasons? Fruits and vegetables are both excellent sources of antioxidants and phytochemicals.

You don't have to spend hours in the kitchen or even be a particularly skillful cook to feed your family delicious and produce-rich Mediterranean-style food. If you use a few "value-added products," such as quick-cooking grains, pre-prepared doughs, pre-washed and pre-cut produce, and dried, frozen and canned fruits and vegetables, you can create tasty and even lowfat Mediterranean meals easily and quickly.

The ever-inventive cooks along the Mediterranean Sea often combine canned fruit with fresh and dried produce — that's one of the reasons the foods are so varied and plant-rich. Frozen produce is used less, only because refrigerators in most homes are quite small, and freezers minute to non-existent.

For a comforting family meal, try the One-Pot Lebanese Supper. This recipe features a base of easy-to-cook bulgur wheat, an ingredient in many Lebanese foods – including their famous Tabbouleh Salad. Frozen mixed vegetables, canned, chunky mixed fruit, and a hint of lemon give this casserole plenty of color and flavor.

Dates were a staple of ancient Mediterranean diets and remain favorites today. Bake up a batch of Moorish Fruit Baskets this weekend – the frozen dinner roll dough makes them a snap to prepare. The Moors were Islamic North Africans that invaded Spain in the eighth century; their influence is still evident in modern Spanish cuisine.

For a simple starter, toss together pre-washed and pre-cut romaine lettuce with canned pears and croutons for Provençal Pear Caesar Salad. Pears are a great favorite in Southern France, where the region of Provence is located. Romaine lettuce is a popular green throughout France and Italy (the caesar dressing is an American addition).

For a fabulous finale, you can't go wrong with a Catalonian Peach-Berry Tart. Strawberries are prized in this Spanish region that borders Southern France. Don't be put off by the inclusion of filo dough (another North African/Arab influence). It's readily available in most supermarket freezer sections, and it's quite easy to manage with a little practice.

So as they say in Marseilles, "Bon appétit!" You really can't go wrong with easy, healthy Mediterranean foods on the menu.

Balanced diet vital to good health

BY PEGGY MARTINELLI-EVERTS
SPECIAL WRITER

It happens every year about this time. As the warm weather approaches, new diet fads emerge. This year the big trend seems to be diets centered around protein foods. "The Zone," "The Carbohydrate Addict's Diet," "Dr. Atkins' New Diet Revolution," and "Protein Power," are a few of the books that have hit the best-seller lists of late. All these plans restrict the intake of carbohydrates and preach the benefits of protein. While this may work for a while, I still maintain that a balanced diet is vital to one's health.

The hallmark of a healthy lifestyle — specifically healthful eating, is based on three foundation principles: Balance, Variety, and Moderation. Upon reviewing these hot new diet books, I found that they miss the mark on one or all of these foundation principles.

BALANCE: is a state of harmony or proportion. A healthy diet does not focus on one specific nutrient, such as protein. Rather, a healthy diet contains reasonable amounts of all six required nutrients — protein, carbohydrates, fat, vitamins, minerals and water. These nutrients are balanced in quantities throughout the day to ensure the body has a steady supply. More importantly, the balance issue is addressed by focusing on foods rather than nutrients. We need to speak of a healthy diet in relation to the intake of grains, fruit, vegetables, dairy products, meat, poultry, seafood and fluids.

VARIETY: is the state of being diverse or different. Healthy eating habits require that we select multiple kinds of foods and prepare them in different ways. For example, rather than mandate that you eat only certain types of foods (high protein) at certain meals, variety allows you to include all types of foods at every meal. Additionally, diet books that require you to radically change your normal eating habits to conform to their meal plan are too extreme for most people to follow. This is not to say that some people really have lousy eating habits and need an overhaul. However, this overhaul comes through a personalized assessment of your current eating style and suggestions for step-wise changes to improve food choices.

MODERATION: is the avoidance of extremes or excesses. Remember, for most people, all foods can fit into a healthy diet. The key is understanding which foods to choose more often and which to choose less often. Any diet that proclaims you can "eat all you want" of certain foods but forbids others, is extreme. Plus, some diet books confuse the issue by using scientific sounding biochemical explanations for metabolic processes to support their theory of why you should or should not eat certain foods. They go on to "prove" these theories based on interviews or testimonials, often with only one "type" of people, rather than research.

It is important to remember that body weight maintenance is not just a simple, "calories in equals calories out" issue. Our bodies have a strong urge to maintain the status quo and, unless you are ill, pounds do not just "melt off." Body weight is influenced by numerous factors including genetic background, body frame size, percentage of lean muscle to fat tissue, body fat distribution patterns, socioeconomic conditions as well as food intake and exercise output.

The main point is that weight loss is not found by using a single diet approach. It is a multi-faceted, life long, body and soul issue. Many diet books proclaim, "this is it . . . this is the way." If this is true, why are there so many diet books out there? Remember, there are no "revolutionary secrets" or "amazingly simple guarantees" with weight control.

Being a registered dietitian, I will admit that nutrition research data is confusing. One day, the results show this, the next day, it is different. However, major shifts in the understanding of human nutrition have not occurred in several decades. Researchers still believe in the value of a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet for Americans. Research still shows evidence of the benefits of high fiber foods, lots of fluids and limited amounts of highly processed meats. And for those with certain diseases, such as high blood pressure, moderate salt intake and weight control is still advised.

Peggy Martinelli-Everts of Clarkston is a registered dietitian, and director of clinical operations for HDS Services, a Farmington Hills-based food service and hospitality company.

Foundation for a healthy lifestyle

- Focus on foods, not vitamins. Follow the Food Guide Pyramid for amounts and types of foods.
- Remember balance, variety and moderation.
- Enjoy movement in your day. Use your body and keep your muscles, joints, limbs and heart working.
- If you need help with weight control, seek out a registered dietitian (at your local hospital), for an individual nutrition prescription.

- 1/3 cup packed brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 can (16 oz.) California fruit cocktail, drained
- 1/4 cup diced dried dates
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Place 1 ball of dough in each of 18 oiled muffin cups; let stand at room temperature about 1 hour or until thawed. Combine brown sugar, flour, and spices. Combine fruit cocktail and dates; mix well. Make a deep indentation in the middle of each ball of dough. Fill indentation with 1 teaspoon brown sugar mixture and 1 rounded tablespoon fruit mixture. Sprinkle evenly with remaining brown sugar mixture. Top each with 1/2 teaspoon butter. Let dough rest 15 minutes. Bake at 350°F 15 minutes or until dough browns. Makes 18 servings.

Tip: To thaw, dinner roll dough may be placed in muffin cups, covered with wax paper, and refrigerated overnight.

CATALONIAN PEACH-BERRY TART

- 6 sheets (18x14-in. each) filo dough, thawed
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 can (16 oz.) California cling peach slices
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 2 cups frozen strawberries, sliced, thawed and divided
- 1 pint frozen or regular lowfat vanilla yogurt, optional

Stack sheets of filo dough and cut into 12 (4-in.) squares. Arrange each stack by rotating 3 layers in a stack to form a 4-pointed star. Press arranged stack into oiled muffin cups allowing points to fan like petals. Brush bottoms and sides of each stack with oil. Bake at 400°F 6 to 8 minutes or until crisp and lightly browned. Cool. Remove from muffin cups onto serving platter. Drain peaches; reserve 1/4 cup liquid. Dissolve cornstarch in reserved peach liquid in small saucepan. Cook and stir until mixture thickens and boils. Gently stir in peaches, 1 cup strawberries, and lemon juice into thickened mixture. Puree remaining strawberries. Spoon peach mixture into filo cups just before serving and drizzle with strawberry puree. Top each serving with a heaping tablespoon of yogurt, if desired. Makes 12 servings.

ONE-POT LEBANESE SUPPER

- 12 ounces skinless chicken or turkey breast strips (2x1/2x1/4-in.)
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- 1 can (16 oz.) California chunky mixed fruit
- 1 cup cracked wheat bulgur
- 1/4 teaspoon dried oregano, crushed
- 1 can (14-1/2 oz.)chicken broth
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 cup farm fresh or ranch-style mixed frozen vegetables
- 1/4 cup water
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel

Sauté chicken and onion in olive oil in medium saucepan; season with salt and pepper. Drain mixed fruit; reserve 1/4 cup liquid. Add bulgur, oregano, chicken broth, reserved mixed fruit liquid, and lemon juice; bring mixture to boil. Cover, reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes or until all liquid is absorbed. Combine mixed vegetables and water in small pot; bring to full boil and drain. Stir drained vegetables, parsley, and lemon peel into bulgur mixture; cover pan and let stand 5 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Zesty sauces enhance flavor of barbecued foods

Like fish on the grill? Try this:

LEMON CINNAMON SAUCE

- 1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
- 1/3 cup extra virgin olive oil
- 3 pinches ground cinnamon or 1 stick cinnamon, crushed
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh oregano
- 1 teaspoon minced garlic
- Salt and fresh ground pepper to taste

In a small bowl, combine all the ingredients, mix well and set aside.

Cook your fish as desired and serve with the sauce or for a more abundant taste and flavor. Lightly baste the fish during cooking. Makes a bit more than 1/2 cup.

Like something a little sweeter and hotter?

This is dynamite on grilled poultry (chicken, duck and turkey) and can also be used on fish and pork. Think of it as your Asian version of A-1!

SWEET AND HOT SAUCE

- 2 tablespoon sesame oil
- 1 tablespoon minced fresh ginger
- 1 teaspoon minced garlic
- 6 tablespoons cider vinegar
- 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup dark molasses
- 1 tablespoon dry sherry
- 2 tablespoons rice vinegar
- 1 tablespoon minced fresh green (mild) chile pepper
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 1/2 tablespoons cold water

In a saute pan, heat sesame oil, add the ginger and garlic and cook until barely golden, about 2 minutes.

Add remaining ingredients (except cornstarch and cold water) and bring the mixture to a boil. Lower to a simmer and simmer for 3 minutes. In a small bowl, combine cornstarch and water. Whisk cornstarch mixture in simmering sauce and simmer for 5 minutes, stirring frequently.

Remove from heat, allow to cool, cover and refrigerate until ready to use. Makes a bit more than 2 cups.

If you've ever enjoy a good Kansas City Barbecue sauce, this is it!(Good on chicken, beef or pork)

KANSAS CITY BARBECUE SAUCE

- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 6 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 large white onion, chopped fine
- 3 large ripe tomatoes, chopped
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh basil
- 3 tablespoons tomato paste
- 2/3 cup distilled white vinegar
- 2 tablespoons bourbon
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon Tabasco
- 2 shakes (about 1 teaspoon) cayenne pepper
- 2 cups water

One day ahead, or at least 2 hours ahead, heat a large pan with olive oil and saute the onion and garlic until translucent.

Add the remaining ingredients and bring to a boil.. Lower to a simmer and simmer for 2 hours, uncovered, adding a bit more water, if necessary. Makes about 3 cups.

Mixed grill combines pork, vegetables

See related story on Taste front.

Here is a fun and easy way to enjoy a healthy meal that is full of variety and falvor. You can change the recipe ingredients with the season, substituting redskin potatoes for sweet potatoes, changing your mushrooms or adding zucchini, cherry tomatoes, summer squash or eggplant. Be creative. Remember, variety is an important aspect of a healthy diet.

GINNY'S MIXED GRILL

Marinade:

- 1/4 cup Teriyaki Sauce
- 2/3 cup seasoned rice vinegar
- 1/3 cup olive oil

Kabobs

- 1 to 2 sweet potatotes (about 3/4 pound)
- 1 pound pork tenderloin
- 6 ounces Shiitake mushrooms (any large mushroom will do)
- 1 green pepper
- 1 red pepper
- 1 Vidalia onion
- 4 ears of corn

Combine marinade ingredients. Microwave sweet potatoes for 3 to 4 minutes on high, turning once, until slightly cooked but not soft. While potatoes are cooking, cut up the pork and all other vegetables into bite-size cunks. When potatoes are done, peel and cut into bite-size chunks.

Alternate vegetables and the pork on skewers (we like to put a piece of corn on the end of the skewer).

Place skewers in a shallow baking pan. (A broiler pan works well). Pour marinade over kabobs. Cover and refrigerate until ready to grill, turning occasionally.

Grill kabobs over medium to high heat, basting occasionally with marinade from pan. Time of grilling varies, but pork should be cooked until meat shows no pink when sliced into and vegetables and meat are charred on outside.

Serve with fresh, crispy, whole wheat bread, sliced tomatoes and cheve cheese. Serves 4.

Marinade nutrition per serving: Calories 202, Protein (g) 0, Fat (g) 22.28, Sodium (mg) 166, Carbohydrates (g) 0. Percent calories from fat 99. Note: Keep in mind that much of the marinade cooks off when it is on the grill reducing the calories, fat and sodium.

Fix light, lean Mexican dishes

AMERICAN INSTITUTE FOR CANCER RESEARCH

Jiffy Burritos: Roll up fat-free refried beans, cheese and salsa to make these quick Mexican Burritos.

Salsas may be the best low-fat dip around, and low-fat, protein-rich beans are surging in popularity. But face it, most of the Mexican dishes we love— the nachos, enchiladas and chiles relenos — are high in fat. Fortunately, creative cooks can make Mexican favorites with leaner ingredients and fat-trimming techniques without sacrificing authentic Mexican flavor.

Make a savory gazpacho with eight tomatoes, a cucumber, red onion, bell pepper, two ribs of celery and five jalapeno peppers (seeded). Cut the vegetables in chunks and pulse in a food processor until finely-chopped. Combine them with 4 cups of tomato juice, 3 tablespoons fresh lime juice, 2 tablespoons red wine vinegar and 1 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Mix, cover and refrigerate until thoroughly chilled. Serve topped with a dollop of low-fat, plain yogurt.

Fill tacos with spicy flaked fish and salsa. cut a pound of white fish fillets into pieces and simmer in two cups chicken broth seasoned with 2 tablespoons juice from pickled jalapeno peppers for 3 to 4 minutes. Remove form the heat and let the fish cool in the liquid for 30 minutes. Remove the fish and pat dry with paper towels, then flake with a fork. In a bowl, toss the fish with 1/4 cup thinly sliced scallions and one finely diced tomato, and season with salt and pepper. Fill each taco with fish mixture and shredded lettuce, then top with a tablespoon of your favorite mild salsa.

Mexican corn relish is really a cooked salad. Saute one diced white onion in a tablespoon of canola oil, stirring occasionally.

Add two cups of corn and cook until tender, three to five minutes, then transfer to a medium-size bowl. Add one diced red bell pepper, 1/3 cup diced poblano chile or green pepper, 2 tablespoons of chopped cilantro, 1 1/2 tablespoons of fresh lime juice or white wine vinegar and a 1/2 teaspoon of salt. Mix well and serve at room temperature.

Jiffy Mexican Burritos are so simple that even kids can make them.

JIFFY MEXICAN BURRITOS

- 1 can (16 oz) fat-free refried beans
- 1/3 cup salsa or water
- 4 (9-inch) soft flour tortillas
- 1 medium tomato, chopped
- 4 small green onions, chopped
- 1/2 green pepper, chopped
- 1 cup reduced-fat shredded mozzarella cheese
- Shredded lettuce
- Salsa or taco sauce, as desired
- Low-fat sour cream or low-fat plain yogurt (optional)

Combine beans and salsa or water; mix well. Spread about 1/3 cup of the bean mixture thinly over each tortilla, leaving a 1-inch border.

Sprinkle tomato, green onions, green pepper and half the cheese over tortillas.

Roll each tortilla and place, seam side down, in a lightly greased baking dish. Bake in a 400 degree F. oven for 10 minutes.

Sprinkle with remaining cheese; bake for 5 minutes longer or until heated through and cheese melts. (Or cover with waxed paper and microwave on medium-high (70%) power for 2 to 4 minutes or until heated through).

Serve burritos on shredded lettuce. Pass salsa or taco sauce and sour cream or yogurt separately.

Each of the 4 servings contains 323 calories and 7 grams of fat.

Barbecue without burgers features vegetables

AP — For a barbecue without the burgers, Linda McCartney suggests vegetable kebabs, grilled mushrooms with rosemary and garlic, and grilled eggplant.

McCartney is the author of "Linda's Kitchen" (Little, Brown).

She and her husband, former Beatle Paul McCartney, converted to vegetarianism more than 20 years ago.

CHAR-GRILLED MUSHROOMS WITH ROSEMARY & GARLIC

- 8 ounces shiitake mushrooms
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 3 garlic cloves, crushed
- 1 teaspoon finely chopped fresh rosemary, or 1/2 teaspoon dried rosemary
- Freshly ground black pepper

Trim the mushroom stalks.Mix together the remaining ingredients. Add the mushrooms; toss to coat. Marinate for up to 30 minutes. Grill on rack over hot coals for about 3 minutes on each side; serve hot. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

VEGETABLE KEBABS

- 8 ounces medium carrots (about 1/4 of a bag), cut into chunks
- 1 small cauliflower, separated into florets
- 6 ounces snow peas, topped and tailed
- 6 ounces baby onions, peeled
- 3 small corn cobs, cut into 1-inch slices
- Milk or soya milk
- Vegetarian sausages, cut into chunks (optional)
- Olive oil

Cook all the vegetables separately in boiling water to which you have added 1 tablespoon milk until the vegetables are tender but still crisp. Drain in a colander under cold running water.

Thread the pieces of vegetables onto skewers, alternating thecolors. Include the chunks of vegetarian sausages, if using.

Brush with oil and grill on the rack over hot coals for 5 minutes, turning frequently. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CHAR-GRILLED EGGPLANT

- 2 large eggplants
- Olive oil
- Chopped fresh herbs
- Sea salt
- Freshly ground black pepper

Cut eggplants diagonally into 1/2-inch slices.

Mix the olive oil with the herbs, salt and pepper. Brush overthe cut sides of the eggplant slices. Leave to marinate for up to 1 hour, basting and turning frequently.

Grill on a rack over hot coals for about 5 to 6 minutes on eachside, until the eggplant is soft and well cooked.

Serve with the sauce of your choice. Makes 6 servings.

Tips for using your microwave oven

Here are tips from home economists at Whirlpool Corporation

• Use covers on cooking utensils when possible to retain heat and moisture.

• Cook and serve in the same microwave dish to cut down on preparation and serving dishes.

Coconut oatmeal cake recalls fond memories

Cake holds the distinction of comeback food of the year. On an emotional level, Gale Gand, owner of Chicago's acclaimed Brasserie T restaurant, credits baby boomers' affinity for "comfort food" with cakes recent resurgence on the dessert menu.

"I think baby boomers remember the good things from childhood," said Gand. "Cake certainly qualifies as one of those things that made them happy as kids. Well, now that the baby boomers are grown up and loaded down with mid-life responsibilities, there's a desire to latch onto childhood pleasures."

This Coconut Oatmeal Cake, showcased by Gand at the International Association of Culinary Professionals Conference on April 26, is a recipe for those seeking adventuresome taste. Flavored with nutmeg, cinnamon and brown sugar, anyone can rejoice in this dessert's charm.

COCONUT OATMEAL CAKE

Cake:
1 cup rolled oats
1 1/4 cups boiling water
1/2 cup or (1 stick) butter, softened
1 cup packed light brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Topping:
6 tablespoons butter, softened
2/3 cup packed light brown sugar
1/4 cup half-and-half
2/3 cup chopped pecans or walnuts
1 cup flaked coconut

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. and butter a 13 by 9 by 2-inch baking pan.

Place oats in medium bowl. Add boiling water; let stand for 20 minutes and rain off water. Sift together the all-purpose flour, baking soda, salt, ground cinnamon, and nutmeg and reserve.

Mix butter and both sugars until light and creamy, about four minutes. Add eggs and vanilla. Beat until creamy, about one minute. Beat in rolled oats and sifted dry ingredients until well mixed.

Spread batter evenly in the prepared pan. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, 25 to 30 minutes. Remove cake from oven and cook in cake pan.

For topping: mix butter and sugar until light and creamy, about 4 minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients. Spread on cake. Broil in oven until golden brown, about 1 minute. Serves 12.

Recipe from the American Dairy Association.

n Say "Happy Father's Day" with a homemade chocolate cake. The kids can help Mom bake and frost an edible Chocolate Greeting Card Cake. Decorate the cake with your own personalized greeting.

Chocolate Greeting Card Cake
1 3/4 cups all-purpose flour
1 3/4 cups sugar
3/4 cup cocoa
1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda
3/4 teaspoon salt
2-3rds cup butter or margarine, softened
16-ounce container dairy sour cream
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
One-Bowl Buttercream Frosting (recipe below)

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Grease and flour a 13- by 9- by 2-inch baking pan.

In large bowl, stir together flour, sugar, cocoa, baking soda and salt. Add butter, sour cream, eggs and vanilla; beat on medium speed of electric mixer for 3 minutes. Pour batter into prepared pan.

Bake 40 to 45 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan to wire rack.

Cool completely. Transfer cake to serving plate. Frost with One-Bowl Buttercream Frosting. Decorate cake as desired. Makes 15 servings.

One-Bowl Buttercream Frosting
6 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
2 and 2-3rds cups powdered sugar
1-3rd cup cocoa
4 to 5 tablespoons milk

Comforting cake: Coconut Oatmeal Cake, flavored with nutmeg, cinnamon and brown sugar, is sure to satisfy.

Easy-to-make cheesy dishes are sure to please dad

Superhero Cheese Dogs are easy to make and serve on Father's Day with help from Mom.

Just cook a basic hot dog, then dress it up with cheese, chopped tomatoes and salsa-style ketchup.

Serve with a homemade shake. Just put scoops of Dad's favorite ice cream in a blender or food processor.

Add milk as needed during processing to achieve the desired consistency. Plop in a straw and it's ready!

Another easy recipe: Dad's macaroni and cheese.

For this recipe, wagon-wheel pasta is cooked and then flavored with butter, milk, cheese and seasonings.

SUPERHERO CHEESE DOGS

4 jumbo frankfurters
4 slices (3/4 ounce each) American cheese, cut diagonally into triangles
Shredded iceberg lettuce
1 medium tomato, chopped
4 frankfurter buns
Salsa-style ketchup
Celery seed, if desired

Arrange frankfurters on a broiler pan. Broil about 2 minutes or until heated through; turn once.

Remove from broiler; arrange cheese triangles on each frankfurter. Return to broiler and broil just until cheese melts.

To serve, arrange frankfurters, lettuce and tomato in buns. Top with ketchup. Sprinkle with celery seed, if using. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Nutrition facts per serving, with bun and topping: 394 cal., 15 g pro., 25 g fat, 26 g carbo., 176 mg calcium.

DAD'S MACARONI AND CHEESE

8 ounces uncooked wagon-wheel pasta (about 3 cups)
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1 3/4 cups milk
2 cups (8 ounces) shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan or Romano cheese
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons chopped canned chilies, drained, if desired

Cook pasta according to package directions; drain.

Meanwhile, in medium saucepan, melt butter over medium heat. Stir in flour, cook 1 minute. Gradually stir in milk. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly, about 3 minutes.

Add cheeses, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Cook and stir until cheese melts. Stir in pasta and chilies. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

Nutrition facts per serving: 405 cal., 17 g pro., 22 g fat, 34 g carbo., 390 mg calcium.

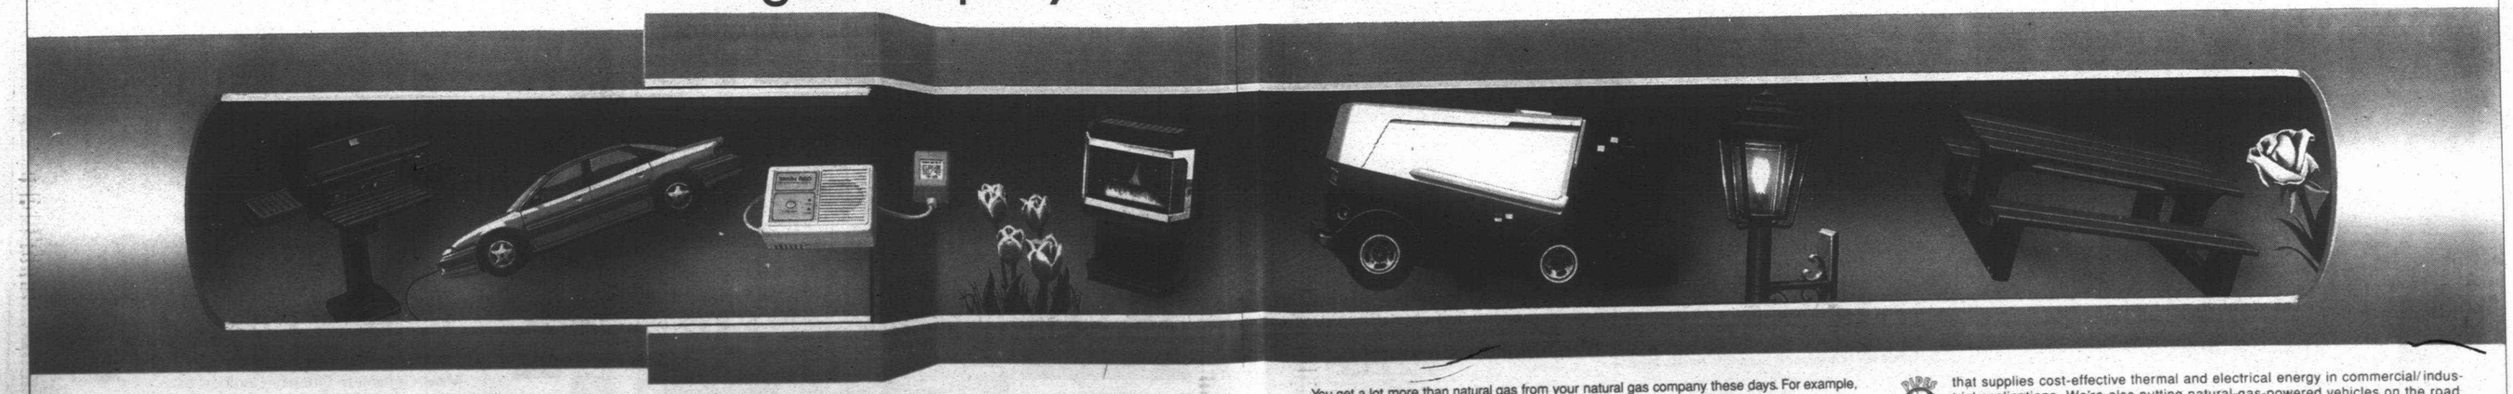
A gas company that's much more than a gas company? It's no pipe dream.



You get a lot more than natural gas from your natural gas company these days. For example, we've just introduced Home Protection Plus,℠ a new program to protect you against costly appliance repairs.
To help you confidently purchase natural gas appliances such as grills and fireplaces, our Ideal Energy Dealer Network connects you, toll-free, to qualified dealers in your area.
Then, too, we now offer helpful products ourselves, such as carbon monoxide detectors and gaslights. Plus advanced technologies such as cogeneration that supplies cost-effective thermal and electrical energy in commercial/industrial applications. We're also putting natural-gas-powered vehicles on the road (and Zambonis on the ice) to protect the environment. We're even turning trash-bound plastic pipes into picnic tables as part of our Pipes 4 Parks program.
To find out what we can do for you, call MichCon.
You won't believe what's coming down the pipe.

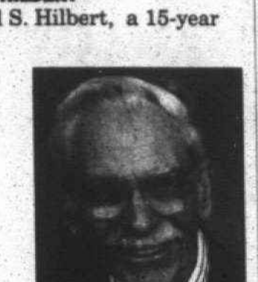
OBITUARIES

RUSSELL HILBERT

Russell S. Hilbert, a 15-year superintendent for Redford Union Schools when it was one of the fastest growing districts in Metro Detroit, died June 3 in Largo, Fla.



Russell Hilbert

He was 92.

Hilbert Junior High School was named in his honor and Mr. Hilbert also worked on the committee to establish Schoolcraft College.

Services were held Saturday from Archer-Hampel Funeral Home in Wayland, Mich., with the Rev. Kenneth Larson officiating. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery.

A native of Wayland, Mr. Hilbert came to Redford Union in 1948, after serving as superintendent in the Romeo school district and as a teacher in Sebewaing, Mich. He was also a science teacher and football coach at Grass Lake High School in the 1920s.

He served as RU superintendent through 1963, when he retired to Florida and Hamburg, Mich.

Mr. Hilbert earned a teaching certificate from Western State Teachers College (now Western Michigan University) in Kalamazoo. He also attended the University of Michigan and University of California.

He has an honorary degree from Schoolcraft College.

Mr. Hilbert enlisted in the Army Air Corps in 1942 and served as a communications officer in the south and central Pacific. He was discharged as a captain.

He is survived by two sons, Dr. Roger Hilbert of Rockford, Ill. and James Hilbert of East Lansing; a daughter, Dr. Mary M. Fritz of Plymouth; eight grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

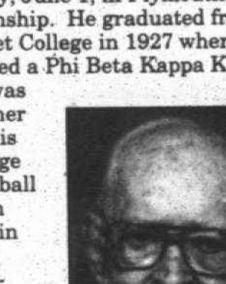
Mr. Hilbert was a member of the Michigan Association of Retired School Teachers and Administrators, the Masonic Lodge in Redford, the Seminole Hi-12 Club in Seminole, Fla. and Sons of the American Revolution in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. Stephens Episcopal Church, P.O. Box 436, Hamburg, Mich., 48139.

RALPH BRANT

Services for Ralph E. Brant, 91, of Plymouth Township were Tuesday, June 4, at the Metropolitan Seventh Day Adventist Church, in Plymouth. Burial was in Augusta Cemetery, in Augusta. Funeral arrangements were made by Schrader-Howell Funeral Home in Plymouth.

He was born June 20, 1904, in Harmonia, Mich., and died Saturday, June 1, in Plymouth Township. He graduated from Olivet College in 1927 where he earned a Phi Beta Kappa Key. He was catcher for his college baseball team and in the summers he was paid to play semi-professional baseball at $150 a month with room and board. He received his master's degree from Columbia University and worked toward his doctorate at Michigan State University and the University of Michigan. He graduated from Bellevue High School in 1923 .



Ralph Brant

His first teaching position was in Augusta, where he later became principal, the youngest principal in the state in 1928. He taught taught five classes, three study halls, coached football, basketball, baseball, tennis and track, and transported the teams to their away games in his own car, all for the sum of $1500 a year.

He was superintendent of schools in Vassar, Menominee, Owosso and in Ecorse where he remained for 19 years. He was active in civic and professional organizations and was listed in who's who in education in the Midwest. Upon retirement, with 40 years in education, he became an educational consultant for Jahr-Anderson Architectural Firms, a builder of Michigan schools.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothy; sister, Margaret Replogle of Caballo, N. M.; daughter, Frances Crain, Betty Freemark of Delaware, Dianne Heckert, Kim Nahrgain; six grandchildren; three great-grandchildren.

HENRY A. STARR SR.

Services for Henry A. Starr Sr., 76, of Dearborn were Saturday, June 8, at L.J. Griffin Funeral Home in Canton. The Rev. Daniel W. Cave, of St. John Lutheran Church officiated.

He was born July 19, 1919, in Detroit, and died Thursday, June 6, at Angela Hospice in Livonia. He was a parts and distribution operator for G.M.

He is survived by his wife, Jewell; sons, Henry A. Jr., Richard A. of Canton, Ronald J.; sister, Irene Johnston; brother, Jerry Starr; eight grandchildren; one great-grandchild.

MARILYN M. KREMER

A memorial Mass for Marilyn M. Kremer, 67, of Canton will be held at a later date at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church in Plymouth.

Mrs. Kremer was born April 30, 1929, in Detroit, and died Tuesday, June 4, in Ann Arbor. She was a medical technologist at St. Mary Hospital for 23 years. She came to the Canton community in 1959 from Detroit. She was a member of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church. She was a member of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists and the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority at The University of Michigan. Local arrangements were made by the Schrader-Howell Funeral Home, in Plymouth.

She is survived by her husband, Luke E. of Canton; daughter, Ellen Lutz of Pelkie; sons, Eric of Ohio, Matthew of Plymouth, Kurt of Ann Arbor, and Glenn of Plymouth; three grandchildren; sister, Barbara Pruder of Clinton Township; mother, Helen Berg of Plymouth.

Memorials may be made as Mass offerings or to the charity of your choice.

EUNICE HAYES RAY

Services for Eunice Hayes Ray, 86, of Canton were Friday, June 7, at the Neely-Turowski (Pawlus Chapel) Funeral Home in Canton with the Rev. Rob Shoup officiating. Burial was in Michigan Memorial Cemetery.

She was born Sept. 28, 1909, in Wayne Co., W. Va. and died Tuesday, June 4, in Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

She is survived by her children, Violet Lovett, Angela Burkhardt, and Bonnie Sherlock; 13 grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren.

The Planning Commission seek input to determine if approval of the Use Subject to Special Conditions would be issued under Section 15.2 of Zoning Ordinance No. 83. The land is currently zoned IND, Industrial District.

Questions regarding the request may be directed to the Community Development Department during regular business hours, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The Planning Commission will consider the request at its regular meeting on June 19, 1996, commencing at 7:30 p.m. Written comments concerning the request will be received prior to the meeting. The meeting, application review and address for written comment is: Plymouth Charter Township, Community Development Department, 42350 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, MI 48170. Telephone Number 453-3840, Ext. 209.

Credit union announces scholarships

The Community Federal Credit Union awarded three Margaret Dunning Scholarships and a George Lawton Memorial Scholarship.

Two of the four recipients are Plymouth Salem High School students.

Erin Reid, a 4.0 GPA student, was chosen as the recipient of the $1,000 Margaret Dunning Scholarship. She has been accepted into the University of Michigan Honors Program in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts.

She plans to major in actuarial mathematics. She is a junior Rotarian and president of the Plymouth-Canton student council. Reid is captain of the tennis team.

Melissa Lyons of Plymouth is a 3.6 GPA student at Plymouth Salem and was awarded the $500 George Lawton Memorial Scholarship. She plans to attend Michigan State University this fall to study political science and pre-law. In addition to her strong academics, Lyons was chosen for her outstanding volunteer work in the community.

Lyons has volunteered for the Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, Plymouth Rotary Club and is a drummer in the highly honored Plymouth Fife and Drum Corp.

Eight years ago the Margaret Dunning Scholarship Fund was established to honor Plymouth's community leader Margaret Dunning, who served 23 years as a volunteer member of Community Federal's board of directors.

The George Lawton Scholarship Fund was established to honor his memory and reward students who demonstrate the credit union's philosophy of "People Helping People."

Filmmakers target women

BY JOHN HORN
AP ENTERTAINMENT WRITER

LOS ANGELES (AP) _ Cyclones, terrorists and Demi Moore nude. Could there be a bit too much testosterone in Hollywood these days? Yes, say several filmmakers who consider women a target audience, not just the people tagging dutifully along with moviegoing husbands and boyfriends: A small harvest of new films is aimed at the 51 percent of the population not always served by the typically manly summer movies.

"People in Hollywood say, 'Girls don't go see movies,' so they stop making movies for them. And then it becomes a self-fulfilling prophesy: Girls don't go see movies because there aren't any movies for them," says Jim McKay, the co-writer and director of the independent movie "Girls Town" (opening Aug. 9), which follows three deeply loyal high-school classmates.

"But I think we underestimate people _ and we are constantly underestimating the audience."

The summer movie avalanche began with two blockbusters _ "Twister" and "Mission: Impossible" _ stocked with lots of boyish action scenes and little empathetic female characters. Helen Hunt's starring role in "Twister" is overshadowed by funnel clouds, and Emmanuelle Beart is no more than a benchwarmer in "Mission: Impossible."

Since all but one of the major studios are run by men, it's not surprising that most of this summer's few women-oriented movies come from outside the studio system. Three exceptions are "Moll Flanders" (June 14), MGM's account of a persevering orphan in 18th-century England; "Courage Under Fire" (July 12), 20th Century Fox's friendly fire drama that puts Meg Ryan in a Gulf War foxhole, and Paramount's "First Wive's Club" (July 26), an ensemble story of sarcastic ex-spouses.

Contrary to conventional wisdom, "Women make much more of those decisions about what TV shows are watched, what movies will be seen," says Ed Zwick, the director of " ourage Under Fire." The movie explores not only battlefield heroism but also the emerging issue of women in the military (Shannon Faulkner won't be the last Citadel cadet) and the dynamics of male soldiers under a woman's command. Co-starring Denzel Washington and featuring plenty of guns and ammo, "Courage Under Fire" will be marketed as a complex story with equal appeal for men and women.

"I think the studio will go to great lengths to describe it as a drama of character," says Zwick. "It's not a war movie. It's much more than that," Zwick says, noting that in early research screenings women "are more connected" to the movie than men.

Pen Densham, who loosely based his film, "Moll Flanders," on Daniel Defoe's novel, says he wanted to make a movie in which honesty can be chivalrous, where a difficult life journey can be spiritually uplifting. "I don't want to make movies that are destructive. I can't make movies where you say this guy's a hero because he's killed 200 people," Densham says. "Women can be heroes without using violence to achieve that goal. Moll Flanders is a woman who does the best she can humanly do to love and protect the people around her."

Several of the films catering to women examine the real-life trials of adolescence and the promise (and disappointment) of young love. In place of car chases, exploding buildings and male-fantasyseductions, these films are about universal experience, not Y-chromosome pyrotechnics.

The well-observed script for McKay's "Girls Town" sprung from months of improvisation with young actresses. Writer-director Todd Solondz's "Welcome to the Dollhouse" (opening wider June 7) portrays a wildly unpopular schoolgirl with you-were-there authenticity. And in the movie version of Joyce Carol Oates "Foxfire" (July 26), five young women discuss their lives and futures with vivid candor.

MGM originally scheduled "Moll Flanders" for March, but sensed the film might do better going toe-to-toe with action films in the middle of summer. After a barrage of "Twister," "Mission: Impossible" and "The Rock," MGM decided, "Women might say, 'It's payback time. Now I get to see 'Moll Flanders,' " says Larry Gleason, MGM's distribution chief. He estimated as many as three-quarters of "Moll Flanders"patrons will be women.

Producer Simpson hopes that "Foxfire" might appeal to an audience numbed by action films and bored by Olympic basketball, boxing and badminton. Says she: "Maybe not all of these kids are going to be glued to the television."

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Canton blanks Troy in Class A final

One final victory: Canton players (from left, Angie Lebbon, Jenny Parviainen, Melissa Marzolf and Jessica Bradley) begin their celebration after holding off a tough Troy team for a 2-0 triumph - a result that gave the Chiefs a Class A state championship.

Through six state tournament games, Canton carried an underdog tag. In the seventh game, however, there were no underdogs - not in a state final. And the Chiefs emerged victorious.

Cinderella's dead.

To be truthful, that misnomer ended when both Plymouth Canton and Troy reached Saturday's Class A final in girls soccer. Each team had to wear that tag throughout the state tournament, as if getting to the final, which was hosted by Canton, was a matter of luck.

It wasn't. Still, as Troy coach Kevin Kelly noted, "I'd rather be lucky any day."

On Saturday, his Colts weren't. Two well-matched teams battled for 80 minutes, but it was Canton that cashed in the big plays to emerge with a 2-0 triumph.

The victory gave the Chiefs their second state girls soccer championship - the first came in 1988 - and the school's second state title in soccer in as many years. The Canton boys were champs in '95.

"We've been playing one good game, one bad game, going back and forth," said Canton coach Don Smith. "I think the girls were ready to come out and have a good one today."

And they did - right from the start. But Troy withstood the Chiefs' early onslaught, which consumed the game's first 10 minutes; indeed, it was the Colts who were on the attack through the middle part of the opening half.

But breaks determine champions, and Canton got one when Liza Reissenweber was fouled 23 yards away from the Troy goal, resulting in a direct kick.

Kelly West, a senior defender for the Chiefs, took the restart and lined it at the near post, just out of the reach of Colt keeper Katherine Kobylak. The ball grazed the post and deflected into the net, giving Canton a 1-0 lead with 3:59 left in the first half.

"That was incredible," said West. "It was only my second goal this year."

It was arguably the biggest goal of the season for the Chiefs. It gave them something they hadn't had when the two teams met May 3 at Canton - a lead.

Which, as Troy's Kelly later admitted, was instrumental. His game plan prior to the final had been simple: "Score early."

After a short, retrospective pause, he added, "It didn't work."

As any of their opponents this season would admit, it's easier pulling alligator's teeth than scoring against the Chiefs. In six previous state playoff matches, Canton had five shutouts, and in its last nine games surrendered just three goals.

Troy won that first meeting of the season 1-0 on a penalty kick, and Smith believed the result may have worked to Canton's favor.

Chiefs prove doubters wrong by winning title

PROFILE

BY C.J. RISAK
SPORTS EDITOR

What a way to go.

That's how the five seniors - Sarah Warnke, Dawn Koontz, Kelly West, Becky Vachow and Kristie Drinkhahn - who dotted Plymouth Canton's roster for Saturday's Class A final against Troy felt about the final result - a 2-0 triumph for the Chiefs.

It didn't come easily for them, but nothing did this season. And yet, at the end, it was Canton that was still standing.

"It was great," said West, a senior defender whose first-half goal off a direct kick supplied Canton with the only goal it would need. "It was just incredible to play my last game here and win a state championship."

West will continue playing in college; she's accepted a partial scholarship to play at Schoolcraft College in the fall.

Her Canton teammate, Warnke, doesn't plan on playing anything but occasional recreational games. Her sport now is basketball; she'll play for Wayne State next winter.

Which made this victory, in the state finals, that much sweeter. "It's the best thing ever," Warnke said. "I can't expect anything more."

She certainly did her part. Although she's never truly gotten her due, the 5-foot-10 keeper has been superb throughout her soccer career at Canton. She showed it earlier in the playoffs - in the controversial win over Livonia Churchill, in the district final triumph over Plymouth Salem and in the regional final victory over top-ranked Brighton.

Warnke netted shutouts against Salem and Brighton, and made several diving - and often spectacular - saves against both.

But winning the state championship wasn't just her doing, or so she insisted. "The whole team worked hard all year," Warnke said. "It was not an individual thing. We all worked for each other."

True team spirit, it would seem. And yet, with the Churchill debacle still clouding the post-season (officials incorrectly used the wrong overtime format; if they had used the right one, Canton would have lost), and with a second-place finish in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association, some would rather cast doubt on the Chiefs.

Warnke shrugged such a suggestion off. "They want to say we're not a good team? Well, we just proved we are."

The best in the state this year.

Holmes grades high

University of Michigan softball standout Kelly Holmes has been named to the 1996 GTE Academic All-America second team by members of the College Sports Information Directors of America.

An accounting major, Holmes - a junior and a Plymouth Canton HS graduate - carries a 3.28 cumulative grade point average and a 3.90 in her major course work. She has twice earned academic all-Big Ten citations and has received University Class Honors three years.

During the '96 season, Holmes posted a 16-7 won-loss record in 31 pitching appearances, with 177 2/3 innings of work. She had a 1.81 earned run average, with 96 strikeouts, eight shutouts and her first-ever collegiate save. She ranks 10th on the U-M season win list.

Also, Holmes collected two no-hitters - the first of her college career - within a week of each other. She beat 20th-ranked Illinois-Chicago 709 on March 16 and beat Indiana State 7-0 on March 23. She was named the conference's pitcher of the week March after getting three wins without allowing an earned run and being named to the Tennesee Tournament of Champions all-tournament team.

U-M won its second-straight Big Ten title and reached the college softball World Series. Holmes pitched seven innings of relief in two games during the World Series and did not allow a run, with four strikeouts.

Holmes is sixth in career wins for the Wolverines (43), fourth in winning percentage (.694), fifth in shutouts (18) and second in no-hitters (two).

SC golfer in NJCAA

Dan Gourley, captain of the Schoolcraft College golf team, is competing at the NJCAA Golf Tournament at Mid Pines Golf Course in Southern Pines, N.C. The six-round (18 holes each) tournament began Sunday and will end Friday.

Gourley qualified by placing in the top 10 in a field of 70 golfers at the NJCAA regional tournament, which included competitors from Michigan, Indiana and Ohio.

A freshman at SC, Gourlay also was named to both the all-Michigan Community College Athletic Association and NJCAA all-regional golf teams. He finished in a three-way tie for medalist honors in the MCCAA state championship, losing in a playoff.

Soccer champs

The Plymouth Hurricanes, an under-14 boys team, finished first in their Plymouth recreation league with a 6-1-1 record.

Holes in one

It was a busy - and for a few golfers, fruitful - week at Hilltop Golf Course in Plymouth last week.

Four aces were recorded. Those who got the holes in one were:

- Dan Patrick of Northville, May 30 on the 185-yard second hole. It was his first;
- John Lavrakas of Bloomfield Hills, May 31 on the 191-yard ninth hole. It was his first, too.
- Carle Kozlowski of Redford Township, June 1 on the 199-yard 11th hole. It was her first.
- Lou Rice, June 1 on the 191-yard ninth hole. It was his third.

Boosters Club meeting

The Canton Chiefs Football Booster Club will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Room 165 of Canton HS. Coach Bob Khoenle will be present, with upcoming season schedules and information on summer conditioning and training.

All parents of Canton football players are requested to attend. Parents of freshmen-to-be are also encouraged to attend. Regular meetings will be every second Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Room 165. For further information, call Gail Sarrault at 455-6234.

Recreation offerings

- A supervised playground program in Canton will begin Monday, June 24 and continue through Thursday, Aug. 8.

The program, sponsored by the Canton Parks and Recreations Service, is free for Canton residents (except for special events). There are 19 park locations open, with different days and times, all on Mondays through Fridays. The program is for kids age five to 15 years; children under five must be supervised by an adult.

For inforamction, call 397-5110.

- A junior golf program will be offered through the Canton Parks and Recreation Service starting June 24. The program, for boys and girls 8-17 years old, will be at Fellows Creek.

Cost for the six-week program is $42 per person. The program will include six nine-hole rounds of golf and a clinic. Tee times will be 10 a.m. until noon, Monday through Friday.

Rockets miss upset; Blazers go hitless

SOFTBALL

The heart may permit an "almost," but the record book is unforgiving.

Westland John Glenn's softball team nearly pulled off a classic upset Saturday in the Class A regional semifinals at Brighton, but let heavily favored Ann Arbor Pioneer escape with a 6-3 victory.

Earlier in the same regional, Livonia Ladywood got no-hit by Tauna Kinsey and Monroe, a 7-0 winner, advanced to play Pioneer to determine which would enter the quarterfinals.

With shortstop Katy Duncan and pitcher Chrissy Harkless attending Westland's graduation ceremonies, coach Nancy Oestrike turned to sophomore Katie Foran in the infield and junior Lisah Cane on the mound. Both turned in sharp performances.

Foran got a key infield single back through the box to drive in the second run of a sixth inning rally which gave the Rockets a 2-1 lead.

But, needing just two outs for the upset, things fell apart for John Glenn and grateful Pioneer rallied for five runs to win.

"She pitched tough," Oestrike said of Cane, who walked three and struck out one while keeping heavy hitting Pioneer off balance with off-speed pitches. "She pitched a good game. But they started hitting in the seventh inning. You've got to give them credit.

"We had a pitcher (Chrissy Harklesss) and a shortstop (Katy Duncan) who didn't play, but that wouldn't have affected the outcome. Our shortstop is our valedictorian, our valedictorian. That means something."

Amy Weir doubled into the left field corner with one out in the seventh to start the rally for Pioneer, 32-7 after the win. Alisha Dick reached base on an infield error and Shari Stadel walked to load the bases.

Pinch batter Kristi Ehnis walked to force in the tying run and third baseman Jamie Grigal made a sensational snare of a hot shot by Tara Strasser. She got up and threw to home for a force that should have been the final out of the inning.

But it wasn't. And winning pitcher Jenni Pieper, who struck out 12 and didn't walk a batter, singled to left to drive in two runs. An error in left let in another run and Elissa Brode doubled in one more.

"We had a lot of injuries this season," said Oestrike, whose team ended 15-20. "Our third baseman (Grigal) hurt her knee in the first game of the season. She was out a while and she's still not full strength, or she would have beaten out the ball in the sixth."

Jocelyn Fondelet started the Rockets' rally in the bottom of the sixth with a single up the middle off Pieper, whose habit of feeding most of the John Glenn hitters a changeup or curve finally caught up with her.

She moved up on two ground-outs and came home on a wild pitch by the tiring Pieper to tie the score, 1-1. Jackie Baylisss singled to right and made it to second when the right fielder overthrew first. She advanced on another wild pitch and scored on Foran's grounder behind the mound off Pieper's glove.

Pieper got the first seven outs of the game on strikeouts before John Glenn's hitters adjusted, "opening up our stance, choking down and poking it. When Fondelet started the inning with a single, we started thinking, 'We can hit this girl.'

"She's the best pitcher we faced this year. She's got a great changeup."

Kinsey had a decent changeup for Monroe, 34-4, but she relied more on a rising fastball. The no-hitter was her sixth of the year, three of which came in a row.

Signed by Eastern Michigan as a future shortstop, Kinsey walked the first batter she faced but retired the next 18 in a row - not counting leadoff hitter Gina Yaquinto who was thrown out stealing with one out in the first.

Kinsey hit Grace Allen with one out in the seventh, but got the final two without trouble. Monroe scored three in the third and four in the seventh but all were unearned as the Blazers made five errors.

"My kids played well but they were a little nervous when we started out," coach Lisa Parsons said after Ladywood finished 12-14. "They didn't seem like the same group of kids who won the district last Saturday."

"I hate to say it, but I think they may have taken us too lightly again," the Chiefs' coach said, a reference to several of Canton's earlier tournament opponents. "You can't do that in a state tournament game, there's just too much emotion."

It seemed unlikely that a team which started the state tournament with a 7-8-1 record, as Troy did, could take anyone lightly. Still, one of those seven regular-season wins had been against Canton.

"It was probably a blessing," Smith said of the earlier loss. "Had we beaten them, we might have taken them lightly."

If there was an edge to the Chiefs in that, they embraced it. Any edge, physical or mental, in a game of this stature was gladly accepted.

What Canton did that Troy didn't - or couldn't - do was take advantage of its chances. The Colts, who finished their season 13-9-1, put the ball into the Chiefs' box on numerous occasions. But the danger always passed with nary a shot on net.

"We had our opportunities," said Kelly, "but we didn't finish 'em off. What can I say?"

Canton had an answer. Ten minutes into the second half, after a corner kick by Troy's Katy Tripp drifted a bit too far away from the Canton goal, the Chiefs struck quickly.

Jenny Parviainen started a break down the left wing. She passed the ball to Beth Knight, who centered it to Melissa Marzolf. Marzolf's shot got past Kobylak, and Canton's lead was 2-0 with 29:15 remaining in the match.

A 1-0 deficit might have been surmountable. Two goals - no way.

"(Canton) did a really great job defending us and keeping pressure on us," said Kelly. "Early in the game, we were defending too much and not attacking enough.

"They don't have a single player you have to mark out of the game, like (Troy's) Shannon Poole. But they have a lot of good kids."

Which translated into enough scoring chances for the Chiefs to get two goals and win a state championship. And it wasn't with glass slippers and a lot of luck, either.

LaJoy resigns as CC's soccer coach

Citing business interests, Redford Catholic Central boys soccer coach Phil LaJoy has resigned after five seasons.

LaJoy owns Norrell Services, Inc., a temporary employment agency, which is adding offices in Jackson and Brighton to its previous locations of Ann Arbor and Adrian.

LaJoy had a 63-20-1 overall record, winning a Catholic League and Class A district championship in 1992.

"I love the school and think the world of Catholic Central, but for me it's a case where I just can't do it anymore because of my business situation," said LaJoy, 52, of Canton. "It's hard for me to leave at 2 in the afternoon to run a practice. I was able to do that but with the growth we've had I would be shortchanging myself and my family."

Some of LaJoy's most agonizing losses occurred in the state tournament, including an overtime loss to Livonia Churchill in 1994 when a potential game-winning goal by CC was disallowed.

The referee later admitted he made a mistake.

"There is only so much you can do. I think you have to put it in persective what it is," LaJoy said. "Hopefully I left the kids something that will help them as they grow in the future."

SHAMROCK SPORTS

"I think it's important working with kids to set the right example. There's more to coaching than winnning. It's part of the educational process. A lot of guys do that very, very well and combine both. We tried to do it, too, no question about that."

When LaJoy took over at CC, the Shamrocks were playing games at Bell Creek Park on Five Mile and Inkster roads in Redford Township. The Shamrocks have played on their own field across the street from the school since '94, and LaJoy credits athletic director Bob Santello and the school's commitment to soccer for that.

"We got a new soccer field, were making some progress," LaJoy said.

Prior to his stint at CC, LaJoy was a junior varsity girls and boys soccer coach at Plymouth Salem under Ken Johnson.

LaJoy's soccer coaching career dates back to 1977 when he began coaching in the Canton Soccer Club. He was past president and board member of the Canton Soccer Club.

He started the Memorial Day Soccer Tournament in 1983 and it remains one of the area's top youth tournaments.

"He's an outstanding coach, all of us at CC, the kids, administration and parents will miss him," Santello said. "Besides having a great knowledge of the game, he was always a real gentleman and real class act."

Anyone interested in applying for the coaching vacancy may call Santello at (313) 534-0660.

CC loses lacrosse final

A strong third quarter by Birmingham Brother Rice led to some desperate moments in the fourth quarter by Redford Catholic Central in the Class A lacrosse state championship Saturday at Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook.

Rice outscored CC 3-0 in the third quarter en rout to a 14-5 victory over the Shamrocks, who trailed only 5-4 at halftime.

Coach Scott Tynan believes a 13-5 win over Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook in the quarterfinal and an 11-2 win over Detroit Country Day in the semi-final may have taken their toll on the Shamrocks in the final.

"That was the downfall right there," CC coach Scott Tynan said of the third quarter. "We kind of ran out of gas. We played two very emotional games earlier in the week and came out tough against Rice in the first half."

CC's defense suffered when senior defender Mike Smiley went out after being hit in the mid-section with a thrown ball.

Dan McLellan had two assists and Tom Valente one for the Shamrocks.

Jeremy Metz, a junior all-state candidate, led the Warriors with four goals and three assists.

"He's kind of hard to hold in check," Tynan said. "He's got a great shot, a lot of shifty moves and moves great with ballhandling skills."

Senior Nick Lachapelle was voted the game's Outstanding Defender.

Senior Bryan Jeffords played admirably for Shamrocks in net, according to Tynan.

"He played a great game," Tynan said. "We had a little bit of a defensive lapse. He was making saves but Rice was getting a lot of 'layup' opportunities near the crease."

The Shamrocks' final record was 17-3.

1996 ALL-OBSERVER BOYS TRACK TEAM

Taking flight

Lutheran Westland relay quartet, Terek set pace

BY BRAD EMONS
AND DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITERS

Despite poor weather most of the spring, Observerland enjoyed another successful season in boys track.

Plymouth Salem was the area's top team, capturing a co-championship with Westland John Glenn at the Observerland Relays, along with winning the Western Lakes Activities Association crown, and finishing second to eventual state champion Detroit Cass Tech at the Class A regional.

Salem's Geoff Baker was named Observerland Coach of the Year by the sports staff. He is a graduate of Plymouth Salem and also coaches the Rocks' boys cross country team.

There were several outstanding individual performances as well this season, led by Lutheran High Westland's state champion 3,200-meter relay squad and Livonia Franklin junior Paul Terek finishing second in the Class A pole vault.

Introducing the 1996 All-Area Boys Track Team as selected recently in a meeting of Observerland coaches.

Coach of the Year: Geoff Baker, Salem.

FIELD EVENTS

Dan Dominguez, shot put, Redford CC: The junior turned in an area best of 51 feet, 4 inches in winning the Catholic League. He was also regional runner-up, Observerland, Jackson Invitational and Operation Friendship champ.

Dominguez played on CC's Class AA state-championship football team and excels in the classroom.

"Dan came on strong after putting 42 feet last year as a sophomore," CC coach Tony Magni said. "He improved his strength and speed tremendously by perfect attendance at morning weight workouts.

"Together, with fellow junior Brian Douglas (50-10), he forms a strong one-two punch in the shot."

Matt Lawson, discus, Liv. Franklin: The 6-foot-7, 265-pound sophomore had a big season, taking firsts at both the regional and WLAA meets. He was also WLAA champion in the shot put.

Lawson set the school record in the discus with a toss of 161 feet, 1 inch, breaking an 18-year-old mark.

"The nice thing we know about Matt is that we know by next year he will be quicker and stronger," Franklin coach Dale Lee said. "He really stepped up and competed in the big meets this year, and was always there in the dual meets.

"His work ethic and character are strong, and this year he has proved to himself that he is among the best."

Keith Sudheimer, high jump, Farmington: The senior is headed for the Midwest Meet of Champions after leading the area with a leap of 6-7.

He took firsts at the West Bloomfield regional (6-7), Oakland County meet (6-6), Western Lakes meet (6-4), WB Invitational (6-4) and Farmington Public Schools meet (6-2).

Sudheimer tied for sixth in Class A at 6-4 and took second in the Michigan Interscholastic Track Coaches Association indoor meet.

"Keith is a hard worker who deserves every honor he receives," Farmington coach Chip Bridges said. "He has a great future in the high jump after high school."

David Jarrett, long jump, Westland Glenn: The junior won the Western Lakes meet title with an area-best jump of 22-6.

He also is a second-team All-Observer pick in basketball and a member of the Glenn football squad.

"For a first-year jumper, David displayed a tremendous amount of God-given talent," Glenn coach Jess Shough said. "He has yet to learn how to be a complete long jumper and it will be very exciting to see what more he can accomplish next season."

Paul Terek, pole vault, Liv. Franklin: The junior set several records this season en route to a runner-up finish in the state Class A meet (15-1).

Terek set the Observerland meet record (15-1) and WIAA record (14-0). He also took second at the regional and was the MITCA indoor state champion (15-0).

He also showed his versatility by finishing fifth in the regional 200 dash (23.1) and ranking in the area's top 10 in the long jump.

"Paul was our most effective athlete in so many areas," Lee said of the state All-Academic pick. "We would load him up every meet and Paul would do anything for us if it would help the team. And he came through for us this year in a big way. A true competitor and leader. He sets examples for the team and makes my job easier."

HURDLES EVENTS

Ryan Kearney, 110-meter highs, Liv. Churchill: Just a freshman, Kearney set Charger ninth-grade marks in the 110 hurdles (15.0), 200 (23.7) and 400 (52.5).

He was WLAA champion in the 110 hurdles and took second place in the regional high jump (season best 6-0).

"Ryan is an excellent student (3.5 grade-point) and plays football and basketball," Churchill coach Rick Austin said. "He's our best all-around athlete, but you forget he's a freshman.

"He has an incredible work ethic and works as hard at practice as he does in a meet. He has a great competitive attitude when he is challenged in any event."

Dan Johnson, 300 intermediates, Ply. Salem: The senior set a school record in the 300 intermediates with an Observerland-best time of 40.3.

Among his accomplishments this season: State qualifier; second in the WLAA meet; third at the regional; ninth at the Mansfield (Ohio) Mehock Relays.

"Dan worked hard all year to get to this point," Salem coach Geoff Baker said. "He also helped all the other hurdlers become better."

Johnson also competed in the sprint and hurdles relay events this season.

RUNNING EVENTS

Jason Granger, 100 dash, Harrison: Granger was the Observerland and West Bloomfield champion in the 100 and was co-leader in the area at 10.8 seconds. The senior was one of Observerland's top long jumpers with a best effort of 22-1.

As a junior, he was second in the state for 100 meters. He was injured this year in the regional, which caused him to miss the Western Lakes and Oakland County meets, and he re-injured himself during the Class A final.

"A hamstring injury kept Jason from performing up to his true potential this year," coach John Reed said. "He had an outstanding four years. He is one of the greatest athletes to ever compete in track and field in Observerland history."

Richard Buford, 200 dash, Wayne: Buford had the best area time at 22.7 but also excelled in the 100 and hurdles. In several dual meets, he won both sprint and hurdle races. As for best times, he was the co-leader in the 100 and tops in the high hurdles at 14.9. He was the Mega Conference champ in the 110 hurdles and had a best time of 41 flat in the 300 hurdles.

"Richard is a versatile athlete and a hard worker," coach Floyd Carter said. "He competed in any event that would help the team. Richard is going to play college football, and I know he will be successful."

Richard Johnson, 400 dash, Wayne: Johnson qualified for state with an area-best time of 49.7. The senior also competed in the long jump and sprint relays.

"Richard is a hard worker who finished every workout strong," Carter said. "He was a leader for the younger runners because of his work ethic. Richard is going to play college basketball, and I know he will be successful."

Scott Pengelly, 800 run, Salem: Pengelly is the Western Lakes champion, finished second in the regional and was a state qualifier. The senior was a integral part of an outstanding group of middle-distance runners who made Salem a force for several years. His fastest time of 1:58.7 was the best in the area.

"Scott is a hard worker and had a great year for us at Salem," coach Geoff Baker said.

Steve Warner, 1,600 run, Stevenson: Warner finished second at the regional and was a state qualifier with a 4:23.9 time, the best 1,600 run of the season in Observerland. In the 3,200 run, the senior won the West Bloomfield Invitational and was second in the WLAA.

"Steve was also a member of our school record-breaking 3,200 relay team," coach John Gores said. "Steve has been an outstanding athlete for the past four years and has been our most valuable athlete the last two years."

Jared Biniecki, 3,200 run, Salem: Biniecki capped a fine, four-year career this season and was another of Salem's outstanding distance runners. He was second in the conference and fourth in the regional in the 3,200. He has the area's best time at 9:42 and was second in the 1,600 at 4:24.2.

"Jared was part of the 3,200 and 1,600 relays, as well as conference champ in the 1,600 run," Baker said. "He was a great asset to the Salem track team."

RELAY TEAMS

400, Farmington Harrison (Keith Battle, Chris Knox, Jerrard Johnson and Jason Sharpe): The Hawks were first at the Observerland Relays, second in the regional and ninth in the state. Harrison ran an area best of 43.9 in the Class A finals. Everyone on the relay will return next season.

"They did a great job, finishing ninth at the state meet," coach John Reed said. "It was a great performance while under a lot of pressure."

800, Farmington Harrison (Keith Battle, Chris Knox, Jerrard Johnson and Jason Granger): The Hawks were Observerland and regional champions and placed ninth in the state meet. Harrison had the area's fastest time at 1:30.2. Granger is the only senior in the group.

"They ran the (best) time at regional and could have run faster if Jason was healthy," Reed said. "It was a tremendous team effort."

1,600, Plymouth Salem (Jason Barylski, Jared Biniecki, Scott Loewe and Scott Kingslien): The Rocks won the Western Lakes, Observerland and Mangan Meet championships. Salem was a regional runner-up and state qualifier. The Rocks ran an area-best time of 3:27.5.

3,200, Lutheran Westland (Jason Collins, Sam Patterson, Phil Kimmel and Brad Polkinghorne): The Warriors won the Class C championship with a state-meet and area-best time of 7:59.45. They also won the regional with an 8:18 finish. All four runners are seniors.

"All four team members ran their fastest relay times in the state meet, which was a credit to their determination to be a state champion relay team," Lutheran Westland coach Mike Unger said.

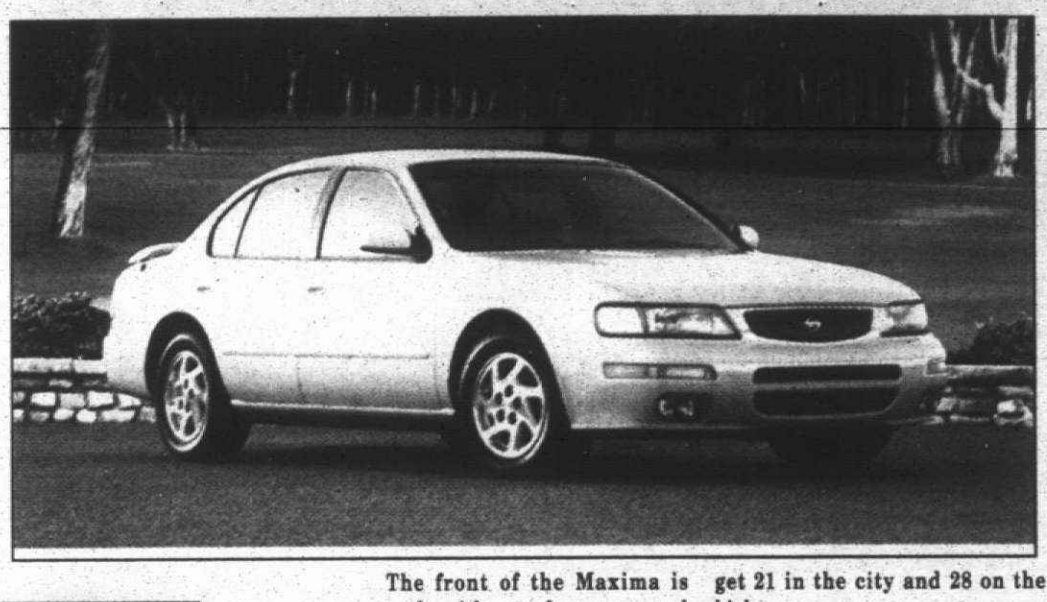
Maxima becomes benchmark for mid-size luxury sedans

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures



ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

The 1996 Nissan Maxima has become one of the best mid-size luxury sedans around.

Last year's Motor Trend Import Car of the Year uses a lot of damping in the engine compartment and in other places to deliver such a quiet ride you don't even hear the engine running with the windows rolled up tight.

The ride and handling on the Maxima rivals the first Infinitis. The relatively new multi-link beam suspension package provides wonderful ride comfort due to minimum camber change during cornering, and softer bushings, springs and shocks.

The best refinement on the 1996 Maxima, which is in its fourth generation since its introduction in 1981, is a new four-way power passenger seat. Oh, and the front-seat cupholder in the center console is bigger, too, this year. There are three cupholders in the car altogether.

The 3.0-liter DOHC V-6 powerplant kicks out 190 horsepower and roars from 0-60 in 6.6 seconds.

The Maxima's redesign last year included placing the alternator, air-conditioning compressor and power steering pump in strategic areas to reduce the overall size of the engine. Now the engine is smooth, it's quiet — what more do you want?

The front of the Maxima is smooth, with round corners, and the rear deck sits high for an aggressive look.

On the interior, there's comfort all around. The instrument panel is exactly like an Infiniti's — soft white backlit numbers on an all-black rear. The needles are also bright white, making instrumentation pleasing. It's also analog all around. The switches and controls are placed strategically and placement of the stereo and climate controls are easy to reach and easier to operate than Maximas made before 1994.

This four-door is spacious in the interior and the doors open wide for easy access. The trunk area is larger than most four-doors; bet you can fit six bags of clubs back there.

The Maxima's mileage rating is excellent. The 5-speed offers up 22 mpg in the city, 27 on the highway; with the 4-speed automatic you'll get 21 in the city and 28 on the highway.

On the safety side, there are dual air bags up front, three-point belts for all outboard passengers, child safety door locks, an energy-absorbing steering column and front and rear crumple zones. The Maxima, which comes in GXE (entry level), SE (performance) and GLE (loaded) trim levels, also meets 1997 federal side-impact standards. ABS is available as an option.

With the new Maxima, Nissan hopes to conquest mostly Honda Accord, Toyota Camry, BMW 5-series and Ford Taurus and current Altima owners who want to move up, as well as current Maxima owners.

Nissan isn't bragging or lying when it tells prospects why they should buy the Maxima. Earl Hesterberg, general manager of Nissan, simply tells the truth: "It's become the benchmark in its class."

Buying a Used Car Can Be Risky.

Blackwell Ford can help minimize the risk you take when purchasing a used vehicle. Every used vehicle sold by Blackwell Ford undergoes extensive reconditioning and safety inspection before it is offered for sale. If the vehicle does not meet our high standards, it will never be displayed on our lot. In the unlikely event that something does go wrong with your vehicle during the first 30 days or 2,000 miles, whichever occurs first, we will stand behind it 100% and repair it free of charge. It's that simple. We offer new car peace of mind with your used vehicle purchase. Stop in today to see our large selection of quality used vehicles, all priced to sell. And please remember...
