Help ring the bell

The Salvation Army is still in need of bell ringers for the holiday season.

Time periods in which volunteers are needed most are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Anyone can volunteer, including retirees, groups of friends who can cover a site for a day, as well as neighborhood groups and apartment and condo residents.

This is the first year the red kettles will be out so early in the season.

Anyone interested in volunteering to ring the Salvation Army bells should call Martha Schultz at 453-5464.

Election ballot lengthy; voters will need time

BY VALERIE OLANDER

Almost one-third of the alphabet will be on the Tuesday, Nov. 5, ballot in the form of proposals.

For the Canton clerk's office that spells L-O-N-G L-I-N-E-S for voters and an even longer day for election workers.

Most Canton residents will vote on nine ballot proposals. Two of the precincts, Nos. 220 and 215, also will vote on a millage renewal for Wayne County Community College. Six of the proposals, A-E and G, are state propositions. Wayne County has three.

Canton residents will also vote in state and national political races, and in a contested race for the Canton Library Board and state house races. They will also vote in non-contested races for Wayne County Commission, and for township board seats.

New township budget drops

BY VALERIE OLANDER
STAFF WRITER

FINANCE

A bigger Canton Township doesn't necessarily mean a bigger Canton government.

The township boasted an 11 percent increase in its taxable value over the past year due to new construction. However, the Board of Trustees approved a 1997 budget that was 6.5 percent less than its current amended budget of $12.2 million.

The proposed budgets for police and fire, however, show a different trend. The police budget increases by 8 percent, while the fire budget increases by 7 percent.

Supervisor Tom Yack said officials were able to reduce the 1997 general fund budget by keeping a line on the number of new township jobs. Only one full-time employee will be added to assist in the township's computer services department. A part-time clerical position also will be added to its communication division.

Requests had been made for a new building inspector and more employees in the recreation department.

The 1997 general fund expenditures and transfers total $11.4 million – a decrease of $788,109 from its current budget.

Fire budget expenditures are projected to increase from its amended 1996 budget of $4.1 million to a proposed $4.4 million. Two new firefighters will be added to the payroll. The budget also supports payments on the $3.5 million debt of a new fire station and police station addition.

The police budget increases by $543,828 to a proposed $7.6 million in 1997.

The township will levy the same 9.3523 mills as it did last year, including 5.1508 mills for police and 3.0915 mills for fire. Charter mills represent the remaining 1.1 mills. The amount of mills levied hasn't changed in three years.

Residents pay about $9.35 per $1,000 of a property's taxable value for their township taxes.

An average homeowner will see an increase on his or her tax bill due to the 2.8-percent inflationary increase on their state equalized value (half of a home's market value).

Cuts in capital and new positions were necessary to halt the further reduction of the township's fund balance, which is projected to be $1.3 million lower on Dec. 31, 1997, than it was on Dec. 31, 1994, marking a 33-percent reduction. If the trend continues, the fund balance will fall below the $2 million mark by the year 2000.

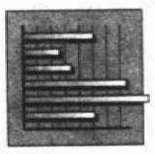
Guidelines would give fewer breaks

■ Changes in local guidelines are being considered which would affect tax abatements for businesses looking to locate here. The new rules would mean shorter timeframes, and no breaks at all for some businesses.



BY VALERIE OLANDER

Businesses looking for a tax abatement in Canton Township will have a much more difficult time under new guidelines being considered by local officials.

Plans include shortening the number of years for which abatements are allotted and eliminating tax cuts altogether on warehouse and distribution businesses.

Under state law, Canton can give a maximum 12-year abatement on 50 percent of the mills it levies as a way to attract business to the township. School district taxes are not affected by abatements.

"Most people who come in and apply get a fairly lengthy abatement," said Canton Community Planner Jeff Goulet. "The criteria we have now are very flexible."

Responsibility. Citizenship. Respect. Caring. Fairness. Trustworthiness.

Get use to these words. The Community Youth Initiative is hoping they'll be as popular in Canton and the Plymouths as Nike, Coca-Cola and other words familiar to today's young people.

The Community Youth Initiative is comprised of individuals representing government, churches, businesses, social agencies, law enforcement and schools. The group began meeting in March of 1995 to discuss challenges facing young people and determine desired assets that need to be developed in youth.

They came up with the "six pillars of character." The values or beliefs are the same as those adopted by the Character Counts Coalition, which is utilized in 500 communities across the country.

The Community Youth Initiative plans to hold a Kick-Off Rally Nov. 7 at Summit on the Park in Canton. What they hope to accomplish is a grass roots movement from the community to influence young people with the six core beliefs.

"We need to get fired up to buy into the notion that young people will flourish with them (the core beliefs)," said Township Supervisor Tom Yack.

"Character development begins in the home, but unfortunately not many of us stay in our houses. Positive reinforcement needs to be in

Prevent more fires

The demand for presentations and mock-fire demonstrations using Canton's Fire Safety House was so great that the township's fire department extended its Fire Prevention Week through the remainder of the month.

An additional demonstration using the house will take place noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 27, at the Home Depot in Canton. The event is open to the public.

Canton's fire prevention team visited a total of 12 schools, presenting fire safety information to some 791 youngsters.

Meet candidates

The Canton Chamber of Commerce Government Relations Committee will host a Candidate Forum 7-8:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 28, at Canton Township Hall.

The event will feature a debate between state Rep. Deborah Whyman, R-Canton, and her Democratic challenger Deborah Nesbit, and a pro/con discussion regarding the Wayne County stadium proposal. For more information, call the chamber at (313) 453-4040.

Welcome all walkers

The Detroit Downtown Runners and Walkers welcome local runners and walkers to join them for a scenic tour of Northville at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 22.

The meeting place will be the Starting Gate Saloon, 135 N. Center St. in downtown Northville. Downtown runner John Cruz of Plymouth Township, who designed the routes, promises that both the 4-mile and 6-mile runs will traverse "every hill in the vicinity."

Parking is available behind the Starting Gate, on Center just north of Main Street, on the streets, or in public parking one block south of the Starting Gate.

Local man is honored for license plate design

Vincent J. Geraci, a Canton resident and designer with Johnson Controls in Plymouth, was honored by Secretary of State Candice Miller recently for his outstanding license plate design submitted in the 1996 Great State Plate Challenge held in May.

Miller recognized Geraci during a ceremony at the Michigan Library and Historical Center in Lansing in which the winning license plate designed by Richard Watkins of Bay City was unveiled. The design features a sunrise over the Straits of Mackinac, the Mackinac Bridge and the slogan "Great Lakes Splendor" in hues of orange and blue.

Geraci's design entitled "Better than ever' was based on a theme of the waters of Michigan It features a white silhouette of sailboats racing on the waters, which swept to one side in the shape of the map of Michigan. The scene was against a sky emblazoned in pink.

The contest netted 4,300 entries. The Department of State staff narrowed the field to 150 and then pared down to 12 finalists in June after being reviewed by celebrity judges. The finalist were notified in early September with the grand prize winner notified last week.

A designer with 40 years of experience in the transportation field, Geraci is currently a design consultant with Johnson Controls, Inc., a Plymouth automotive systems group. His major responsibilities center around design direction for both JCI Corporate projects and associated Chrysler interior seating program. An antique car enthusiast, Geraci is a pencil, pen and ink sketch artist of classic cars.

For his entry, Geraci received a $250 gift certificate from Farmer Jack, where he obtained his entry form, and a commemorative plaque that features his design on a license plate.

The new Great Lakes Splendor license plate will go on sale Jan. 2, 1997 for a fee of $5, over and above the annual vehicle registration fee. It will also be available in personalized handicapper and veteran versions.

1996 CONGRESSIONAL RACE

Money was the topic of the day for two congressional candidates – money for economic expansion, money that is wasted by the federal government and money that is part of a tax system.

On center stage were U.S. Rep. Lynn Rivers, D-Ann Arbor, seeking her second two-year term at the Nov. 5 election, and Joseph Fitzsimmons, her Republican opponent and former head of UMI Inc. of Ann Arbor. The two squared off at a recent Westland Chamber of Commerce forum.

The 13th Congressional District includes Canton, Westland, Garden City, the Plymouths and part of Livonia.

In prepared comments and answers to chamber members in the audience, Rivers and Fitzsimmons covered what they would do for small businesses, tax reform, campaign spending, welfare reform and gun control.

On helping home-based businesses, Fitzsimmons said he would provide assistance through his platform of expanding the national economy through cuts in the personal income tax, cutting the capital gains tax in half and allowing businesses to deduct health care premiums.

"I want to create the best climate for small businesses to grow," he said.

Rivers' position is to improve productivity through increased savings which would lead to more money for potential investments.

On the related issue of federal tax cuts and balanced budgets, Rivers said that "we must balance the budget before we cut taxes."

She said history has shown that the supply side economics theory supported by Republican presidential nominee Robert Dole hasn't been successful.

Dole's plan to cut income taxes 15 percent is supported by Fitzsimmons, who said "we must have it to stimulate the economy."

He also insisted that if taxes are cut, there must also be a reduction in government spending.

On campaign reform, both agreed that something must be done.

Fitzsimmons said that he plans to spend $1 million in the campaign and has been successful so far in raising money.

Rivers said that while she has received money from Political Action Committees and individuals, she will match her opponent's campaign spending.

The incumbent said campaign reform is needed to enable qualified people to run for public office.

"We need ideas, not dollars" in campaigns, she added.

In a question about his being a "career politician and being influenced by special interest groups," Fitzsimmons said he believes in term limits and that if elected next month would only serve three terms.

He said he is receiving few donations from PACs.

On welfare reform, Rivers said she supports Michigan Gov. John Engler's plan to give more flexibility in administering federal programs and that she voted for Engler's request for waivers of requirements.

But "we must give people the tools to be self-sufficient," such as job training and child care, Rivers said.

Fitzsimmons said that Engler and Michigan "have done a wonderful job on welfare reform."

"The best welfare is a job," he said. That can be done through his plan to expand the economy to create jobs.

He also said he favors the use of private organizations to get involved in helping people.

On other issues, there was a major difference between the two candidates on gun control.

Rivers said she supports the existing Brady Bill and ban on assault weapons, although she is willing to review the list of those weapons.

"The community made it very clear that it wants the ban on assault weapons continued," Rivers said.

Fitzsimmons said he feels that everyone has the right to have a gun in the home for protection or a weapon for hunting.

But he would repeal the Brady Bill and replace it with an "instant check" system to keep guns away from criminals.

The Republican nominee said he is mostly concerned with the root causes of the gun problem, saying that drugs are behind 75 percent of crimes.

"We need to educate kids and parents" about drugs, he said.

Is the Internal Revenue Service a friend or enemy of small business?

"That depends on what you are asking for," Rivers said.

She admitted that some people in government "don't have the mission of serving people."

"Certainly the IRS is not a friend to business," Fitzsimmons said, citing the high cost of complying with government forms and regulations.

He said that cost is $600 billion nationally, or about double the defense budget.

2 Hardee's restaurants to be purchased by Wendy's

The Hardee's restaurants on Ford Road and Michigan Avenue in Canton are among 45 company-operated restaurants in the Detroit area that will be bought by Wendy's International.

The transaction is expected to be completed by the end of the year, subject to the satisfaction of various conditions. Terms of the cash transaction were undisclosed.

Wendy's plans to convert 10 of the units to Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers restaurants and the remaining 35 units to freestanding Tim Hortons coffee and fresh baked goods restaurants. Tim Hortons is a subsidiary of Wendy's. Conversions will take place as soon as possible after the transaction is completed.

Gordon F. Teter, president and CEO of Wendy's, said the purchase of the Detroit-area Hardee's restaurants is consistent with Wendy's strategic growth plan. It closely follows the company's acquisition from Hardee's last year of 40 Roy Rogers restaurants in the New York metro area.

Due to the lengthy ballot, Clerk Terry Bennett and her staff asked a visitor to take a sample ballot just to get a sense of how long it will take voters on election day it took the man six and half minutes, said Bennett.

In addition to the large number of ballot questions, Bennett expects some confusion at the polls because of two new precincts and three altered ones to accommodate the burgeoning population. (See related story.)

There have been two elections since the precinct change, but both had low voter turnout, said Bennett.

In the 1992 presidential election 63 percent of Canton's 33,219 voters came to the polls. Another 5,622 or 17 percent voted absentee. So far, approximately 40,598 people registered to vote in the Nov. 5 election.

Canton will have five or six election workers available at each precinct, but are still expecting longer than usual lines, especially during peak hours.

"With high voter turnout there's going to be lines, not in our ability to serve people, but rather getting all the people to the number of machines we have available," said Bennett.

Also adding confusion to the upcoming election, a number of college students, recruited to vote by mail-in applications, won't receive absentee ballots due to a quirk in the law.

First-time voters are required to either be sworn in (by the clerk's office or Secretary of State) or vote in person, said Bennett.

Anyone requesting an absentee ballot has until Monday, Nov. 4, to pick one up from the clerk's office.

To get an idea of how busy the clerk's office has been as the election approaches, here are some numbers: Since Oct. 11, Canton had 4,100 voters request absentee ballots; all were mailed out except for the 458 people who came in to pick ballots up personally; of the 4,558 who registered to vote absentee, all but 472 have been returned already.

■ 'With high voter turnout there's going to be lines, not in our ability to serve people, but rather getting all the people to the number of machines we have available.'

Canton Clerk Terry Bennett

Precincts changed, new locations added

Canton Township voters should be aware that two precincts have been added and three altered to accommodate a burgeoning population.

New additions are precincts are 25 and 26:

Precinct 25 is bounded by Canton Center, Hanford, Napier and Cherry Hill roads. Voters in this precinct will cast their ballots at Plymouth-Canton High School.

Precinct 26 is bounded by Cherry Hill, Canton Center, the township's western border and the dividing line between Plymouth-Canton and Van Buren school districts. Voters in this precinct will cast ballots at Canton Township Hall.

Precincts that have been altered are Nos. 8,16 and 19:

Precinct 8 is bounded by Joy, Napier, Hanford and Beck roads. Voters in this precinct will cast ballots at Resurrection Parish Church.

Precinct 16 is bounded by Cherry Hill, Morton Taylor, Palmer and Sheldon roads. Voters in this precinct will cast ballots at Bentley School.

Precinct 19 is bounded by Warren, Canton center, Hanford and Beck roads. Voters in this precinct will cast ballots at Tonda School.

Make a Difference

Local groups come together Oct. 26

Canton volunteers from many organizations are sponsoring a variety of Make A Difference Day projects Saturday, Oct. 26.

Make A Difference Day is a national day of volunteering designed to get everyone involved in doing something to help others. The day is promoted by the Points of Light Foundation and "USA Weekend."

"There are many different projects being done across the nation," said Kathleen Salla, Canton volunteer coordinator.

The Good Food Company West on Ford Road, just west of Lilley, will be the host site 9 a.m.-9 p.m. where volunteers can stop by to register and enjoy a variety of activities there. Free food tasting and entertainment will be provided, as well as a mini-health fair.

"I'm excited because we have a number of groups who are working in collaboration with each other. That is part of having a sense of community," Salla said.

Families and individuals who want to participate are welcome to join in these projects and the activities at the Good Food Company West store. For more information on how to get involved call Salla, 397-6450.

A number of the efforts planned in Canton on Make A Difference Day are designed to help First Step, which is a domestic violence program and shelter.

If you are interested in joining any of the following groups and their efforts on Oct. 26, Salla asks that you contact her:

■ Charity fundraiser at the Good Food Store Company West will benefit the Canton Community Fund, Children's Leukemia Fund and St. Peters Home for Boys. The Canton Chamber of Commerce, Close Up students from the Plymouth-Canton schools and the Canton Business & Professional Women's Club are involved.

■ Vietnam Veterans are hosting a clothing drive to benefit homeless veterans. The group will collect clean, good quality used clothing at the Good Food Company.

■ Close up classes will collect non-perishable foods, as well as personal grooming items 9 a.m.-2 p.m. at the Salvation Army Food Pantry, 9451 S. Main Street, Plymouth.

■ Canton Goodfellows will sell raffle tickets for a quilt made by the community's senior women as a way of raising money for the organization's Christmas efforts. Residents may also sign up to volunteer to help the Goodfellows. The ticket sales and sign up will be at the Good Food Company.

■ 'There are many different projects being done across the nation . . . I'm excited because we have a number of groups who are working in collaboration with each other. That is part of having a sense of community."

Kathleen Salla
— Canton volunter coordinator

■ Canton Beautification Committee will clean up the yard at First Step with Girl Scout Troop 1203 from Tonda Elementary School. All volunteer positions are filled.

■ Canton Newcomers Club will deliver lunches to residents who can't leave their houses. Food donations will be coordinated with food stores and restaurants and packaged by volunteers from the Calvary Baptist Church.

■ RSVP-Retired Senior Volunteer Program are collecting new socks throughout October in their "Sock It To Me" new socks collection at the Summit on the Park community center and the high school offices. On Oct. 26, the collection will continue at the Good Food Store.

■ Bentley PTO and the school landscaping and beautification committee will clean up the school yard and make some landscaping improvements at the school, 1100 Sheldon Road. Student volunteers from the WSDP radio station will also help.

■ Canton Historic District Commission and community volunteers will clean up the yards at the historic Cherry Hill and Sheldon schools.

■ Canton Rotary Club will conduct a food drive at the Canton vs. Salem football game Nov. 1. The drive will benefit First Step.

■ Scary Story Fest benefit at 7 p.m. Oct. 26 near the Heritage Park pavilion. Admission is a non-perishable food item that will be donated to First Step.

■ Canton Township employees will collect needed items for First Step.

■ Girl Scout Troop 900 will knit and crochet afghan squares to be assembled into afghans for the homeless 12:30-3:30 p.m. Oct. 26 at Our Lady of Good Counsel at North Territorial and Beck roads.

■ Vietnam Veterans Association will conduct a Red Cross Blood drive at Canton Township Hall 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Oct. 26.

SCHOOL NEWS

Verna Anible is Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' new director of instruction.

The board of education approved her hiring this month.

A resident of Monroe, Anible has served since 1987 as principal of Waterloo Elementary School with Monroe Public Schools.

She fills a vacancy created by executive director of instruction Tom Tattan who left to become superintendent of the Clarenceville school district in Livonia.

Anible and assistant superintendent of instruction Patrick O'Donnell will work closely with Donna Aveck, director of computer services and instructional technology.

"One of the goals that Donna and I are attempting to achieve is to get a more effective integration of the instructional division with the integration of technology for instructional purposes," O'Donnell told Superintendent Charles Little and the board.

O'Donnell added that the departments "need to move forward more systematically in the district."

Anible was selected from a field of 32 qualified applicants by a hiring committee consisting of O'Donnell, two parents, one teacher, and one support staff.

From 1983-1987, Anible taught math at Monroe Junior High School. She also taught at the elementary level, from 1974-1983, in the same district.

Anible received a specialist degree in educational leadership at Eastern Michigan University in 1993. In 1986, she attended the Middle School Mathematics Institute at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. She received her masters of arts degree at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti in 1979. She earned her bachelor of science degree in math and social sciences form Eastern Michigan in 1972, graduating cum laude.

The hiring of Verna Anible was approved 6-0 by the board. Trustee Liz Givens was absent

In other personnel matters:

■ The district has yet to fill the curriculum coordinator positions vacated by Sheila Alles and Kathy Harenda during the summer.

■ Also hired was Arlene Shields of Livonia as executive secretary for business. She was one of 20 qualified applicants recommended by a committee consisting of district employees John Birchler, Dave Kaumeyer, Luann Grech and one support staff. Most recently, Shields worked as an executive assistant for the Phoenix Group.

Murder trial to begin this week

Opening arguments could begin as soon as this afternoon in the trial of Jerry R. Mitchell, a 33-year-old Canton man accused of second degree murder in the death of a 2-year-old Taylor girl in December of 1994.

Canton police were told that Becca Meloche received head injuries when she fell in a bathtub at the West Point Mobile Home on Haggerty, south of Michigan Avenue. The toddler had been on life support for 10 days at the University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mitchell reportedly is the boyfriend of the baby's mother. He was baby-sitting the girl at his mother's mobile home in Canton when the incident occurred.

Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor David McClory said Meloche died from brain injuries sustained by "shaken baby syndrome."

Jury selection was expected to begin this morning before Recorders Court Judge Robert Evans. Defense attorney Jeffrey Schwartz said opening statements could begin by afternoon. Schwartz would not discuss any details of the case.

McClory said his witness list includes Dr. Michael Caplan from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, who performed the autopsy, another doctor from Annapolis Hospital, family members and police.

Change of plans: Dole won't appear here

Last week, Bob Dole campaign supporters said it was likely the candidate for president would appear Tuesday in Kellogg Park.

But local supporters got what they said appears to be the final word late Thursday — Dole would not be stopping in Plymouth.

"It's not that Bob Dole didn't want to come to Plymouth, Michigan," said press secretary Susan Shafer, of the Lansing Dole-Kemp office.

"An advance team lands and people start talking," she said. But due to time constraints, Shafer said Friday that Dole would spend Monday night in Saginaw, appear at 10 a.m. in Grand Blanc and at 12:15 p.m. in Troy.

From there, he's scheduled to travel to Ohio, Shafer said.

Could he still appear in Plymouth before the election?

"I'm not sure — anything's possible," she said.

Thirteenth Congressional District Republican Chairman Carl Berry said after being told Tuesday afternoon the candidate would appear in Plymouth, plans got under way for Dole to appear in Kellogg Park if weather was fair or the Compuware Ice Arena under inclement weather.

But not long after, Berry said he was told Dole "needed to cut an hour and a half out of his schedule."

Local Dole backers were disappointed.

"First, Plymouth has had the fortune in the past of having candidates for president as well as seated presidents come here. I would have loved to see that tradition continue," Berry said.

"It would have been good for him and great for us."

every segment of the community," he added. "This is a community issue, not a schools issue."

Plymouth-Canton School Superintendent Chuck Little said, "It's about recruiting adults and having businesses put these words on their letterheads... and establish these values in their daily lives."

After the November Kick-Off Rally, 35 individuals will be sent on a three-day training seminar in April, sponsored by Character Counts, a national project of the Josephson Institute of Ethics. The members will serve on a steering committee to oversee the implementation of the Character Counts program in Canton and the Plymouths.

"If there are enough voices out there and enough parents out there . . . we can make a change," said Plymouth-Canton area Chaplain Dennis Williams.

Some projects will be physical in nature, such as developing a program where senior citizens can mentor children without grandparents, said Ginny Hauck, manager at Canton Place, a low income housing center for senior citizens at Ford Road and Sheldon. But mostly the program will influence by having positive reinforcement from adults in the community.

"What we need is not people buying into the program, but people buying into the fact that we need to act as examples at home and at work," added Hauck.

Little said, "We need to quit looking around for things for kids to do. We don't need to build a building to get (results)."

The first signs of the movement within the community will be visible proclamations of the "six pillars of character" hanging in schools, businesses and community gathering places.

be given, such as cost of improvements, the number of jobs created, the amount of wages and whether the facility is a headquarter. It currently uses a 58-point system. The new scale will weigh the same criteria, but on a more stringent 100-point system.

For example, K & Y Screw, which relocated from Redford Township to a Canton location on Koppernick Road, received a 10-year abatement in early September. It received 41 of the total 58 points. But the proposed guidelines reweighed the same criteria giving it only 55 of 100 points. K &Y Screw would have only received a four-year abatement under the proposal.

Colwell Equipment on Belleville Road would not have received an abatement at all under the proposal. Last week, the township board voted 4-1 to give the company a seven-year tax cut.

Board member Melissa McLaughlin voted against Colwell's abatement, saying she was uncomfortable giving a tax cut when only one job would be created as a result of the company's expansion.

Colwell currently has an abatement in place on its existing facility, which was expanded in 1984. It expires Dec. 30, 1996. Peter Morrissey from Colwell told the board that its warehouse/office facility is expected to create only one job, although several manufacturing jobs might be created from the expansion. A manufacturing facility is located next to its expanding office/warehouse.

Andy Istvan of K & Y Screw said his company would not have relocated in Canton if the new guidelines were in place. The abatement would have been for four years opposed to the 10-year tax break.

"Part of the reason people relocate is because of the incentives," he said. "It certainly would be a consideration; we're not GM or Ford Motor Co. with unlimited resources."

Istvan said he looked at Westland, Livonia, Farmington Hills and various other communities before deciding to relocate K & Y in Canton. The decision was made because of the 10-year abatement and the community's close proximity to the freeways.

Goulet said the township board will consider the new guidelines in November. They will not go into effect until 1998.

this trend by replenishing the township's reserves. According to the projected fund balance in the 1997 budget, township officials hope to increase the fund balance to $3.3 million by 2000.

Major expenditures in the 1997 budget are:

- $5.4 million in salaries and fringe benefits,
- $2.9 million in operating expenses, $800,000 in capital outlay,
- $1.5 million in rubbish disposal, and
- $105,000 in grants expenditure.

As promised by Yack during the development of The Summit on the Park, the Community Center Fund will receive no subsidy from the general fund. However, it will receive a $200,000 transfer in revenues from the Golf Course Fund.

The Golf Course Fund subsidy is due in large part to the Fellows Creek Golf Club, making a contribution of $183,000. Pheasant Run Golf Club is projecting that it will be within $80,000 of breaking even in 1997. The difference will be borne by the Golf Course Fund.

The Community Center Fund presents a balanced budget of $1.86 million.

Expert says land policy offers savings

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Growth communities like Canton and Novi could save homeowners and local governments millions of dollars with 10 percent more compact land development, a Rutgers University expert told regional leaders.

"If you develop differently, can you save land, infrastructure, housing costs and municipal costs?" asked Dr. Robert Burchell, of the New York state university's Center for Urban Policy Research.

Yes, he told the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments at its Oct. 17 general assembly meeting in Southfield. The savings nationally would be 15 percent in developable land, 12 percent in local roads, and an average of 15 percent in water-based development utilities" because homeowners would be watering smaller lots.

"There is also a possibility of moderate savings in overall housing costs and cost-revenue impacts," he added.

Officials from 135 local governments applauded politely but saved comment until after they had studied the text of Burchell's one-year study. It covered 18 communities that are expected to see 20 percent of Michigan's building growth between 1995 and 2020.

Missing the meeting were county executives Ed McNamara of Wayne and L. Brooks Patterson of Oakland.

"They contained skipped-over, low-density development at the fringes," Burchell said. He said development models would be available to SEMCOG members in December.

A casual passer-by would hardly notice that lot sizes were smaller and houses clustered. But Burchell said such development patterns would mean:

- Preserving more agricultural land.
- Protecting open water and wetlands.
- 12 percent fewer lane-miles of local roads though not much saving on state trunklines.
- A 6.5 percent savings in housing costs.
- A 15 percent savings in utility costs.

Burchell drew his conclusions from planning efforts in New Jersey; Maryland; Lexington, Ky.; the Delaware estuary; and the state of South Carolina.

Burchell didn't discourage suburban development. "This study would not alter locations but would alter land development patterns," he said, adding that suburbs have high scholastic aptitude scores and low crime rates.

Local impact

Here is how he characterized area communities:

- Canton – 36-square-mile township in western Wayne County, two-thirds developed. "Development is proceeding steadily westward, encroaching on remaining agricultural lands and forested areas. Substantial demand for low-density residential uses is occurring and is creating conflict with airport development lands and preservation objectives."

A compact growth policy would "encourage higher residential development densities in the peripheral area and retain other lands in their natural state in order to preserve agricultural lands and open space."

Compact development could save Canton 2,000 acres, including 1,400 acres of farmland; 49

Newburgh Lake restoration set to begin

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK
STAFF WRITER

The first phase of the Newburgh Lake restoration is set to begin within the next week to 10 days.

Contractors are expected to start work then on the lake's dam, according to Robert Fredericks, director of the division of watershed management, department of the environment with Wayne County. Fredericks reported to the Rouge River Remedial Action Plan's Advisory Council on Wednesday about the proposed restoration.

The lake, located in Hines Park on the border of Livonia and Plymouth Township and covering about 105 acres, is contaminated with PCBs, which make it unsafe for recreational activities.

Fredericks reported that the sediments were located mainly in the northwest section of the lake and were on the upper 6 to 20 inches of the lake's floor surface.

The project is expected to cost between $5 million and $10 million. It will be funded through federal grants in the Rouge River Wet Weather Demonstration Project.

Wayne County officials hope to eliminate the fish advisory there, restore the habitat in and around the lake and increase recreational use of the lake.

Fredericks also updated the council on the following items:

- Newburgh Lake will be closed for at least 18 months starting in November and possibly as long as two years while the lake is cleaned up.
- Two periods of fish kills will occur, one in December 1996 or January 1997; the second in June 1998 or July 1998. Native fish will be restocked in August 1998.
- Motorists will have limited access to Hines Drive between Haggerty and Newburgh roads next year.

The project will channel the river, while soil contaminated with PCBs (polychlorinated biphenyls) is removed from sediment at the bottom of the lake.

Wayne County officials say the source of the PCBs was Evans Products, a manufacturer of lubricants in Livonia that is no longer in operation.

The lubricant is used on railroad cars with large wheels so the wheels' metal will not degenerate in the heat, Fredericks said. It originated from chemical mixtures of dielectric fluids in electrical equipment, hydraulic fluids and lubricating oils.

The lake will be lowered in phases, then the river channeled. The actual sediment removal begins in April 1997 and continues through June 1998.

The lake will be filled and vegetation planted next summer. The dam will be operational, and deepen the lake.

Jim Graham, executive director of Friends of the Rouge and advisory council member, asked what the increased flow would do downstream to the river.

A county official said the average flow currently was 25-35 cubic feet per second. It would flow up to 200 during the restoration and the dam can handle up to 200 cubic feet per second.

Some of the dam work includes building a temporary dam, replacing the gate on an existing dam, removal of stop logs, Fredericks said.

The fish kill will be initiated by the placement of a blocking net across the dam. The lake will be partially drained, and a detoxification station installed at the dam.

A chemical called rotenone will be sprayed on the water to kill the fish. The fish kill will be collected, and sorted to check the species. Collecting the fish also will prevent them from deteriorating along the shore.

"Potassium magnate will be injected into that water to mix with rotenone and oxidize it, so downstream it will eliminate the rotenone and confine the kill zone," Fredericks said.

Rotenone levels will be monitored 24 hours a day. Fish activity will be monitored along the shoreline and downstream to ensure the kill is confined.

Fredericks said the idea of a fish kill was to eventually restore a healthy fish population. Wayne County is working with the Michigan Department of Environment in reviewing these specifications.

Where the contaminated soil will be housed depends on contamination levels. Concentrations greater than the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) requirements of 2 parts per million will be housed in a landfill. The PCBs are resistant to degradation and "bioaccumulate" in the food chain, Fredericks said.

Newburgh Lake has had a fish advisory on it for several years.

Concentrations less than MDEQ levels on Wayne County property will be capped, reused on site or used to develop shoreline or clean fill uses.

"We get much better control of what goes on with the lake (by draining it) because the water doesn't move it around," Fredericks said.

A small drain carried the contaminant into the river. That area between the drain and the lake also will be cleaned up.

Once the sediment is removed, the lake will be about six or seven inches deeper. Contamination from PCB and other sources will be prevented from entering the lake once the upstream site is remediated, storm water pollution is reduced, the lake depth is increased and the public is educated.

Work schedule released

The following schedule was released to the Rouge Remedial Action Plan Advisory Council:

- Dam rehabilitation construction: (November-December 1996)
- Lake lowering (first phase): December 1996
- Fish kill: December 1996-January 1997
- Lake lowering (second phase): March 1997
- Sediment removal and grading: April 1997 to June 1998
- Plantings: June 1998
- Fill lake: June 1998-July 1998
- Contractor cleanup: June 1998-September 1998
- Fish kill: June 1998
- Fish restocking: August 1998

Dentistry in the 90s
by Herbert M. Gardner, D.D.S. & Martha P. Zinderman, R.N., D.D.S.

ORAL CANCER DETECTION
Regular examinations of the teeth and oral soft tissues by the dentist and hygienist can do more to preserve health than uncover signs of tooth decay and gum disease. These exams may also uncover warning signs of oral cancer, which then leads to referral to physicians for further evaluation. Of the approximately 30,000 new cases of oral cancer that arise each year, 95 percent involve people over the age of 40. Symptoms that should prompt these people and those in other age groups to schedule an exam with the dentist include: a persistent sore in the mouth; a lump or thickening in the cheek; a white or red patch on the gums, tongue, or lining of the mouth; soreness or sensation of something being caught in the throat; difficulty chewing or swallowing; and numbness of the tongue or other part of the mouth. the dentist's concern for your oral health extends beyond tooth decay and gum disease.
At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we stress periodic, professional checkups. It is one certain way to ensure a healthier oral profile. Existing conditions receive early interventions, reducing the severity of problems and possibly even cost and length of treatment. Please call 478-2110 to schedule an appointment. Our office is located at 19171 Merriman Road, where we offer gentle dental care in a warm and caring environment. Smiles are our business.

313 area code to change outside greater Detroit

The number 734 has been assigned to replace the existing 313 area code in the area outside greater Detroit in mid 1998.

This assignment of area code 734 marks the next step of a telecommunications industry plan announced in June 1996 to deal with the shortage of numbers in southeastern Michigan.

The plan was recommended by a Citizens' Advisory Committee and approved by a team of industry representatives from southeastern Michigan telecommunications companies.

The number 734 was assigned by the North American Numbering Council, which serves as the national administrator of area code assignments. The plan now will be implemented by the southeastern Michigan telecommunications industry team.

The plan calls for Greater Detroit to retain the 313 area code. This area includes Hamtramck, Highland Park, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, the city of Detroit, Redford, Lincoln Park, Ecorse, River Rouge, Harper Woods and the Grosse Pointes. The remaining portions of Wayne County, Washtenaw County and Monroe County will receive the 734 area code.

Southeastern Michigan's need for area code relief mirrors the situation all over the country. Since 1995, 55 new area codes have been assigned.

The supply of available numbers is rapidly being depleted due to explosive demand for telephone numbers for a wide variety of services, including fax machines, pagers, voice mail, cellular phones, computer modems, security systems, automatic teller machines and additional phone lines.

The increase in competition in the local telephone market also has increased the demand for telephone numbers.

An optional dialing period to introduce customers to 734 will take effect Dec. 13, 1997. During this period, calls to locations within the 734 area may be dialed using either the new 734 or the old 313 code.

The optional period is slated to end July 25, 1998, when use of 734 will be required to complete calls to the 734 area.

The area code expansion will not alter local calling areas or rates. A local call won't cost any more, even if you have to dial more than seven digits.

Customers can get answers to their questions about the area code expansion by calling toll-free 800-831-8989.

Commissioner named chair of subcommittee on job training

Kay Beard, vice chairman of the Wayne County Commission, was named chair of the National Association of Counties (NACo) Job Training Subcommittee of the Employment Steering Committee. The appointment was made by NACo president Michael Hightower.

NACo's 13 steering committees form the policy-making arm of the association. Each committee is comprised of approximately 50-60 county officials who meet several times during the year to examine issues critical to local government.

The Employment Steering Committee focuses on employment and training programs and the jobs aspects of welfare reform; including youth employment, public service employment, vocational education, rural manpower, employment security and unemployment insurance.

The steering committee's recommendations on legislative policies and goals are presented to NACo's membership at the association's annual conference. If approved, the recommendations become part of NACo's American County Platform, which is the foundation of the association's efforts in representing counties before Congress and the White House.

CWW director to leave post next week

Daniel Gilmartin, 30, of Northville has been named manager of state and federal affairs with the Michigan Municipal League effective Oct. 28. He has been executive director of the Conference of Western Wayne, a consortium of 18 townships and cities, for the past seven years.

In his new position with the Lansing-based MML, Gilmartin will be lobbying on behalf of 510 cities and villages in both Lansing and Washington.

He said his tenure with CWW has prepared him well for his new position. "In dealing directly with 18 communities, I have a real good pulse of what cities and villages need."

Over the years, Gilmartin said the CWW has grown in terms of becoming "involved in more substantial activities." In 1989 CWW had a budget under $200,000; today, the budget is more than $2 million.

Gilmartin said the seed of the government process starts at the community rather than the federal level, with issues of roads, parks and public safety. "I'll argue that what happens locally affects people more."

lane-miles of local road; and 409 million gallons of water a year; $30,000 per housing unit; and yield $859 million in cost-revenue benefits to government.

- Novi – a 30.5-square-mile city in southwestern Oakland County 50 percent developed. "Novi has experienced rapid conversion of farmland to commercial uses, some of which are of regional significance. The Town Center at the intersection of Grand River Avenue and Novi Road is a primary focal point of nonresidential uses. Many of the remaining agricultural tracts are zoned for residential uses.

"Novi seeks to reduce development densities for single-family attached residences in the existing development area and increase them in the peripheral area. The proportion of the city's overall housing in the peripheral area will increase to 50 percent. However, commercial uses will be encouraged primarily in the existing Town Center area. The city also seeks to protect currently designated woodlands and wetlands."

Compact development could save Novi 685 acres of land, including 662 acres of farmland; 6.4 lane-miles of local roads; 261 million gallons of water a year; and yield $136 million in cost-revenue benefits to government.

Other communities in the study included: Macomb, Bedford and Pittsfield townships in southeastern Michigan; Kentwood, Allendale, Montague and Muskegon in the Grand Rapids-Muskegon region; Bear Creek, Petoskey, Resort and Garfield in the Traverse City region; Portage, in Kalamazoo County; Hartford, in Van Buren County; Meridian, near Lansing; and Mount Pleasant, in the middle of the state.

Merit in platting

SEMCOG delegates also heard state Sen. Leon Stille, R-Spring Lake, describe 30 months of struggle in rewriting the Subdivision Control Act. His Senate Bill 112 was pared from 120 pages to 12 in efforts to get farmers, state agencies, developers and real estate interests on board.

"There is great merit in platting," said Stille, because platting requires plans for roads, driveways and municipal infrastructure.

SB 112 has passed the Senate but is stalled in the House Local Government Committee.

Halloween fun for spooky times

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
SPECIAL WRITER

Ghouls, goblins and ghosts. Halloween sets the imagination in motion unlike any other American holiday. Retailers around town are playing to that craving for creativity whether it comes in the form of dressing up or decorating.

Hudson's is getting into the act by introducing Shocktober Shops which offer items like life-size fabric scarecrows ($60) haunted house centerpieces ($45) and black cat place mats.

"People are entertaining more and are creating themes throughout their homes. It used to be people who bought Halloween items would throw them away after, now there are pieces in ceramic and tapestry which can be reused year after year," said Hudson's spokeswoman Chris Morrisroe, herself a big Halloween fan.

At Gags & Gifts/Halloween USA in West Bloomfield, animated mice rise up from a sound activated cauldron ($24.99) as skeletons rattle their bones ($19.99). "People are really into decorating their yards," said salesperson Patti Canoy. "We're selling a lot of fake pumpkins that don't decay, and gravestones!"

"Ghost Crossing" yard signs ($5.25); tombstones; pumpkin costumes for cement geese ($18.99); and fabric scarecrows ($23.95) will surely set a scary scene for trick or treaters entering your yard. Find them at the Countryside Craft Mall in Livonia. Handpainted eggs resembling ghosts and mummies, little wooden pumpkins, or a centerpiece featuring two skeletons looming above a gravestone by Chris and Debbie Bonbright of Westland, can be used to create vignettes on a holiday table or in windows. To set an even scarier table, stop at Rite-Aid in Livonia for 10 black and white mice party favors (1.99).

Halloween grew out of man's earliest traditions more than 2,000 years ago, especially ancient Druid pagan festivals during which Celtic tribes communed with the spirits of the ancestral dead and offered them sweets. To avert malicious spirits, the Celts would hide themselves in ghoulish disguises so that the wandering spirits would mistake them for one of their own. Halloween's American roots can be traced to the Irish immigration of the 1840s and their celebration of All Soul's Eve.

Jane Hasse of Northville was buying costumes for her four children, aged 2 to 8, at Gags & Gifts/Halloween USA in West Bloomfield. "Doug is going to be a skeleton, and Greg a cowboy. The kids like dressing up. It's such a big deal for them," mom said.

"I'm going to be a pirate because I like pirates," added an enthusiastic Tim, 4.

Dolores Beaumarchais of Novi was looking for white gloves to go with the nun and priest costumes she and her husband would wear to an office party so that co-workers wouldn't know them by their hands. "I'm really excited because this is the first time we've done something like this in 20 years," she said.

Besides Halloween costumes for rent and sale, Bee's Costume Creations, Garden City, has everything for those who wish to be truly creative.

"All you need is a little imagination," said manager Lisa Ferguson.

Bubblin' brew: Kmart has a fun selection of Halloween costumes and decorations. This foot-high tabletop witch has a lamp in the cauldron, $12.99.

Selling spooky stuff: Shops like Spencer's at Twelve Oak in Novi and Oakland Mall in Troy, capture your imagination as well as some of your pocketbook.

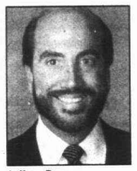
Make-up for fall is timeless

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Remember Jeffrey Bruce?

In the heyday of Channel 7's "Kelly & Co." show, make-up artist Bruce would team with local fashion directors to perform makeovers on members of the audience.

His sarcastic repartee was appreciated by viewers who recognized that behind the sharp tongue, was a guy who really knew his stuff. Bruce went on to make guest appearances on "Our Magazine" with Gary Collins, and Sally Jesse Raphael's show.



Jeffrey Bruce

Bruce, based in Boca Raton, has kept his connection to southeast Michigan. He flys into town frequently to offer make-up workshops through the salons that sell his line of aloe-based cosmetics.

He was in Birmingham last week to discuss the latest fall cosmetic looks and pitch a column idea to the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

"I'm in my 33rd year in this business and I think I know a thing or two about beauty," he said. "Beauty is the average person doing best with what he or she has. It's NOT about vanity. It's about self respect. Everyone should care about the way they look, because people react to what you look like – like it or not!"

Bruce criticized "freeze-dried beauties," people who hold onto the way they looked years ago, so now appear old because they look dated. He called this "the Barbara Eden Syndrome."

"There's nothing wrong with looking your age if you look fabulous, just picture Candace Bergen or Lauren Bacall."

Bruce, 50, a native of Long Island, started out as an art student. In 1964, he got a job as a make-up artist at the famous Kenneth Salon in New York "because Kenneth knew I knew bone structure."

Bruce said his next jobs were at Estee Lauder and Revlon where he was director of cosmetics.

"After a stint in Hollywood, I teamed up with a chemist friend to produce my own line of cosmetics," Bruce explained. "I pioneered the less is more look. In 1986, I published "About Face," a beauty book. Then I did some community theater. That's my passion."

Bruce said this season, look for less color but more definition. Out are the obvious blues and greens; In are layered shades of beige, taupe and the naturals.

"And it's time for people to take an honest look at their hairstyles," he advised. "Men, cut the pony tails. Women, wear your hair length in proportion to your height and body. Everyone should take about a half-hour to do their hair/make-up in the morning, any longer and you need the advice of an expert to simplify."

Editor's note: Malls & Mainstreets will present a beauty/fashion column by Jeffrey Bruce beginning next Monday, and then, the last Monday of each month. He welcomes reader inquiries at 1-800-944-6588, or by writing: Jeffrey Bruce, c/o Malls & Mainstreets, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham, 48009.

The Perfect Gift

Do you remember the best holiday gift you ever received?

Was it a pair of ice-skates when you were 10? The four-slice toaster the year your fourth child was born? The framed finger painting from your 5-year-old grandson?

The Eccentric Newspapers wish to publish readers' recollections of their very best gifts ever and what made them so, in a special gift guide on Dec. 12, 1996.

Just jot down your memories, 150 words or less, and mail them to: Susan DeMaggio, c/o The Birmingham Eccentric, 805 East Maple, Birmingham, MI 48009.

Be sure to include your name and phone number in case there are questions. Stories selected will be based on the gift's uniqueness and impact on your life. Published stories will win for their author, a special gift from the newspaper.

So. . . Now do you remember the best holiday gift you ever received?

Deadline for stories is Friday, Nov. 8 at 5 p.m.

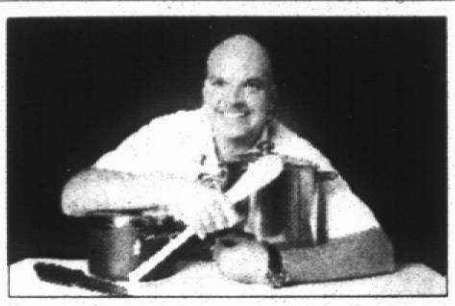
TASTE BUDS



CHEF LARRY JANES

Mushrooms are among my favorite foods

Trying to label my favorite food would be nothing short of impossible. Listing the top 10, now that's something I can do, without any hesitation, as long as you realize the list is subject to change at any given moment.

Somewhere within the list would be ice cream, bread, veal, chocolate, leeks, cheesecake, potato salad, momma's dumplings, wine and mushrooms. Just by reading the list, you can tell why I'm always trying to stay in control of my weight. But of all the items listed, none give my taste buds more pleasure than mushrooms.

Exotic

The heartiness of a fresh roasted Portabello, the richness of a fresh sauteed Morel, the peppery Chanterelle or a meaty Porcini, anyway you serve mushrooms, I'll be first in line. Of course, it probably doesn't hurt that I've sampled the mushroom plate at the Golden Mushroom in Southfield, and have purchased exotic mushrooms for years from Don Schneider of Plymouth, the self proclaimed "Mushroom Man." You'll find him under the bird mural at Detroit's Eastern Market.

Anyone who reads this column knows of my mushroom forays in the north woods with Morel hunter extraordinaire, Aunt Phyllis. Friends in Okemos and Wellston have led me on mushroom hunts, and even though I have yet to really train my eye on where to look and what to look for, I now feel that I can venture into the woods with a more secure and confident attitude. Just how did this metamorphosis occur? I've just received a copy of "The Mushroom Book" by Thomas Laessoe, Anna Del Conte and Gary Lincoff, (copyright 1996, DK Books, $29.95) and I can honestly say that I haven't found time to put it down.

This book catalogues more than 450 rare and common fungus species and includes more than 2,000 annotated photographs and illustrations supported by notes on appearance and occurrence. Anyone interested in learning how to identify, gather and cook wild mushrooms and other fungi will certainly appreciate this book.

Exotic mushrooms have come a full about face within the last 10 years. There was a time when the only fresh mushrooms available were those milky white moonlight mushrooms sold en masse in every grocery store in town. Last weekend, Don Schneider offered fresh Morels, Chanterelles, Porcinis, Trumpets, Portabellos and dried cloud ears (Chinese) for sale at his stand in Eastern Market. My local green grocer carries Enoki, Portabellos, Criminis and Moonlights.

The ability to farm raise mushrooms, and ship them overnight via air freight has really opened up the exotic mushroom market. But if you, like me, think nothing of spending $5 to $20 per pound on exotic mushrooms, there are a few rules that should be followed so that you can truly enjoy their taste.

Storage tips

First proper storage is tantamount to great tasting mushrooms. Fresh exotic mushrooms are best cooked and eaten within 48 hours of purchase. Since they are a fungi, you can imagine what happens when they are not used, cooked or stored properly.

Remember that it is very important that the mushrooms be removed from any plastic bag they are placed in. Mushrooms need air to circulate around them and if left for anything more than 3 hours in a plastic bag, they begin to rot. I store my mushrooms in a colander in the vegetable crisper of my refrigerator.

Lastly, and I'm sure I'll rile a few feathers over this suggestion, fresh mushrooms should never be washed in water. If you must purchase dirty mushrooms, they should be brushed clean with a damp cloth or mushroom brush. Soaking them in water only makes them absorb more liquid than they need to.

Even usually sandy morels should be sliced and then rinsed. To those still worried about dirt, if you knew what most mushrooms were grown in, you could soak them in bleach and never remove all the dirt. Nonetheless, fresh exotic mushrooms are one of the trendy, hot new gourmet foods and if you're looking to learn more about them, you'll enjoy "The Mushroom Book."

QUAKER OATS

Harvestime muffins

BY RENEE SKOGLUND
STAFF WRITER

Chilly fall days are perfect for baking up batches of moist, tender muffins. They're quick to make and a delicious breakfast, after-school or bedtime snack.

Fortunately, now you can have your muffins and eat them, too. Thanks to the health benefits of whole grain oatmeal and moisture-adding ingredients such as pumpkin puree and applesauce, muffins can be a guilt-free treat.

For generations, savvy bakers have been substituting oats for some of the flour to give their muffins a wholesome flavor and texture. Quick or old-fashioned oats work equally well, but the old-fashioned will give the muffins a heartier texture.

Muffin recipes are wonderfully adaptable. You can use regular, chunky or unsweetened applesauce, and if you're a purist, you can bake and puree your own pumpkin. It's easy.

To prepare a pumpkin (or a butternut squash, which yields a more delicate flavor) just split the vegetable in half, remove seeds and place cut-side down in a baking pan.

Fill pan with about an inch of water, cover with foil, and bake at 350 degrees F. for approximately 1 1/2 hours, or until a fork or toothpick easily pierces the skin. When done, scoop out flesh and mash.

Less patient bakers can streamline the process by skinning the pumpkin or squash, cutting the flesh into cubes, and steaming the vegetable in a steamer or in a little water in a saucepan until tender.

Bakers devoid of any patience can microwave their pumpkin or squash according to directions.

Who says there's no such thing as a perfect muffin. These tips will bring you as close to muffin perfection as possible:

- Thoroughly combine dry ingredients in one bowl and liquid ingredients in a separate bowl. Add liquids all at once to dry ingredients and stir just until dry ingredients are evenly moist. Overmixing can make lower-fat muffins tough and rubbery.
- Fill muffin cups almost full and bake in a preheated oven just until a wooden pick inserted in the center comes out with a few moist crumbs clinging to it. Overbaking will make muffins dry.
- Let muffins cool 5 minutes in the pan on a wire rack. Remove muffins from pan and serve warm. Cool leftover muffins completely, wrap airtight and freeze. To reheat, place one muffin on microwave-safe plate and microwave on HIGH about 30 seconds.

While the muffins are baking, put on a pot of coffee and invite over a few friends. Then enjoy these great fall treats.

Oregon's King Estate wines here at last

FOCUS ON WINE
BY RAY & ELEANOR HEALD

When we first tasted Oregon's King Estate wines two years ago, we were disappointed to learn that they were not available in our area. After we visited in summer 1995 and saw the ultra-modern, state-of-the art vineyards and winery, we were even more frustrated that the wines were not available. It has taken some time, but there is finally sufficient wine supply for the winery to open up this market. The wait has been worth it because the current releases, 1993 Chardonnay $13, 1993 Pinot Noir $19, 1994 Reserve Pinot Gris $15.50 and 1995 Pinot Gris at $13 are outstanding, delicious, lush, rich and balanced pours.

There's been significant hype about Oregon pinot noir, but in many years, due principally to less than ideal weather during the growing season, the promise has not been delivered. At King Estate, located southwest of Eugene, literally tens of millions of dollars have been spent on developing top-quality pinot noir on a 550-acre estate with elevations between 800 and 1,100 feet. Grafted to eight different phylloxera-resistant rootstocks are 16 clonal selections of pinot noir growing along sloping hillsides on well-drained soils.

The estate is solely owned by the King family of Kansas City who amassed its earthly fortune in founding and operating King Radio Corp. which designed, manufactured and marketed navigation, communication and identification equipment, including auto-pilots and radar for both military and private aircraft.

Frequent travels to France and Italy sparked Ed King Jr.'s wine interests. He took on the wine entrepreneurial challenge with his son Ed III and other family members. A visit to the 100,000-square-foot winery, architecturally designed to replicate a French chateau, showcases the seriousness with which the wine challenge is being met. Maxed out as vineyards come into full bearing, the winery will produce a little more than 160,000 cases, which is large by Oregon standards of small, family-owned wineries.

In addition to multiple pinot noir clonal selections, King Estate's underground barrel cellar holds French oak cooperage from France's Vosges, Allier and Nevers forests made by a number of coopers. When it comes time to make a final blend before bottling, the winemakers have a significant number of components — a literal palette of aromas and flavors from which to choose.

Pinot gris, long a favorite white wine from France's Alsace region and known as pinot grigio in Italy, is popular among wine drinkers in the northwest, but it's only beginning to be appreciated throughout the rest of the country. King Estate has the varietal planted, but is buying much of what is making the luscious bottlings today.

Cueing into the avid interest of consumers to match wine and food, King Estate's chef Stephanie Kimmel has acted as project coordinator for two cookbooks, "New American Cuisine Pinot Gris Cookbook" and the just-published "King Estate Pinot Noir Cookbook." In both, renowned chefs from across the U.S. have contributed recipes to harmonize with the two grape varietals. We've had more time to work with the pinot gris recipes than the pinot noir. They are very good and not too difficult for the home kitchen. If recipes for pinot noir follow the same pattern, those interested in making palate tantalizing matches have a treat in store. Each color-illustrated cookbook is $16.95 plus $4 shipping and handling and can be ordered from the winery by calling 1-(800) 884-4441.

■ The King Estate story brought up pinot gris or as the Italians refer to it pinot grigio. There are a number of high-priced versions from Italy available, but a new offering has just been introduced into our market: 1995 Ecco Domani Pinot Grigio $9 showcases fresh pear and green apple aromatics, complemented by crisp-edged flavors that make a good pairing for seafood or Pan-Asian cuisine. Its sister red is 1995 Ecco Domani Merlot $9 with bright red plum, cherry and raspberry notes in a light, fruity wine unencumbered by oak. Serve it with dark-fleshed grilled fish or pasta with tomato-basil sauce.

Ecco Domani translates from Italian as Here's Tomorrow. These wines are here today and represent a good effort to show an Italian style of winemaking with correct varietal character at a value price.

Wine Selections

■ Each year, area consumers speak out about their favorite wines at The Great Wine Shootout organized by Dennis Walsh of Ye Olde Wine Shoppe in Rochester Hills. This year's results represent the votes of 300 attendees choosing from among 54 wines. Top five wines in each category are:

■ Most Popular Red Wines:

1994 Ravenswood Merlot $22 beat out 1992 Guenoc Cabernet Sauvignon, Beckstoffer Vineyard $44 by only one vote. Following very closely were 1994 Fife Zinfandel $20, 1994 Lytton Springs Zinfandel $20 and 1994 Sanford Barrel Select Pinot Noir $18.

■ Most Popular White Wines:

1994 Stags Leap Wine Cellars Reserve Chardonnay $35 bested 1993 Simi Reserve Chardonnay by only two votes. Then came 1994 Chalone Chardonnay $36, 1995 Francis Coppola Chardonnay $22 and 1995 Optima Chardonnay $27.

■ Interesting reds loaded with flavor. Try with lamb, pork or stews.

1994 Iron Horse Sangiovese, $15

Marvelous ways to enjoy mushrooms

See related Taste Buds story on Taste front.

Mixed Wild Mushroom Soup

5 tablespoons unsalted butter
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 garlic clove, finely chopped
1/2 cup flat leaf parsley, chopped
8 ounces mixed wild mushrooms, chopped
4 tablespoons milk
salt and fresh ground pepper to taste
1/2 teaspoon fresh rated nutmeg
1/3 cup flour
3 1/2 cups vegetable or chicken broth
4 tablespoons sour cream

Heat half the butter with the onion, garlic and parsley in a saute pan for 3 minutes. Add mushrooms and saute for 5 minutes more. Add the milk and season with salt and pepper. Set pan aside. In another saucepan, melt remaining butter. Remove the pan from the heat and beat in flour. Return the pan to low heat and cook until the flour turns a light brown, about 5 minutes. Remove the pan from the heat and whisk in broth gradually. Stir constantly to avoid lumps and return the pan to low heat. When all the stock has been added, add the mushroom mixture and all their juices. Bring to a boil and boil for 5 minutes. Pour into bowls and top with a dollop of sour cream. Serves 4.

Baked Mushroom Polenta

3 cups coarse ground yellow cornmeal
salt and fresh ground pepper to taste
4 tablespoons unsalted butter
1 pound mixed fresh mushrooms, sliced
1/4 cup flour
3 1/3 cups whole milk
1/4 pound Italian Fontina cheese, grated
1/4 pound Gruyere cheese, grated
1/2 cup Parmesan cheese, grated

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Place 1 1/2 quarts of hot water into a large saucepan. Add the cornmeal and 1 teaspoon salt, stirring constantly. Bring to a boil, cook for 5 minutes, then spoon the mixture into a lightly greased or buttered shallow baking dish. Cover with foil buttered on one side and bake for 1 hour.

Allow the polenta to cool for 2 hours before cutting lengthwise into 1/2 inch slices. Meanwhile, prepare the mushrooms sauce. Melt the butter in a heavy pan. Add the cleaned, sliced mushrooms and saute for 10 minutes, reserving a few slices for the top of the polenta. Stir in the flour and cook for 1 minute.

Remove from heat and slowly whisk in the milk. Add salt and pepper and return pan to low heat and simmer for 5 minutes.

Lightly butter a rectangular oven dish and spread 2-3 tablespoons of the mushroom sauce over the bottom. Cover with slices of polenta, followed by cheese. Repeat the layers, finishing with the sauce.

Scatter the remaining mushrooms over the top. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Remove from the oven 5 minutes before serving. Serves 4-6.

Avoid muffin mishaps

Problem: Muffins have tunnels or large air holes and a tough texture.

Solution: Muffins were over mixed. Mix gently by hand with a spoon or fork, just until dry ingredients are moistened – about 15 to 20 stroke

Problem: Muffin tops are cracked, wobbly-peaked and unevenly browned.

Solution: Oven temperature was too high; reduce by 25 degrees.

Problem: Muffins did not rise properly.

Solution: Baking powder was old; check the expiration date. Oven was not preheated or muffins were not baked immediately after mixing. Preheat oven for 10 to 15 minutes and bake promptly.

Problem: Interiors of muffins have yellowish holes and an acidic/soapy flavor.

Solution: Baking powder and/or baking soda were not evenly distributed. Combine dry ingredients thoroughly before adding the liquid ingredients.

Problem: Muffin tops are flat.

Solution: Muffin cups were overfilled or muffins are overleavened. Fill cups just two-thirds to three-quarters full of batter. Check to make sure you are not using self-rising flour instead of all-purpose flour.

Problem: Muffins are not uniform in size.

Solution: Muffin cups were unequally filled. Next time use a 1/4 cup measure instead of spoon to portion batter.

Problem: Muffins stuck to the pan.

Solution: Grease bottoms of muffin cups more thoroughly — a vegetable cooking spray does a good job – and let muffins cool 5 minutes in the pan on a wire cooking rack. (The steam that condenses will facilitate their removal.) Then, gently run a narrow metal spatula between the sides of the muffin and the muffin cup to loosen before turning out from pan. An alternative is to use paper baking cups.

Problem: Bottoms of muffins are soggy/wet.

Solution: Muffins that are left in the pan to cool can steam and become soggy. Next time, remove from pan after 5 minutes of cooling

Serve waffles for brunch

AP — Start your brunch off right with Cheddar Cheese Waffles.

Cheddar Cheese Waffles

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 large egg yolks
1/2 cup melted butter
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
3 egg whites

Savory Syrup (recipe below)

Preheat a Belgian or standard waffle iron. Preheat oven to 200 degrees F to keep waffles warm before serving. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt into a mixing bowl. In another bowl, combine egg yolks, melted and cooled butter and milk. Stir liquid and dry ingredients together; add cheese.

In a separate bowl, beat egg whites until stiff. Fold into batter until barely blended. Spoon batter into waffle iron, covering about two-thirds of the grid surface. Cook according to manufacturer's instructions. Place waffles into heated oven, uncovered, until ready to serve. Makes 4 servings.

Savory Syrup

1 cup maple syrup
1 whole bay leaf
1/4 teaspoon ground thyme

Place ingredients in a heavy saucepan. Stir and heat until boiling. Lower heat and simmer about 5 minutes. Remove bay leaf and pour syrup over waffles.

Pumpkin not just for jack-o'-lanterns

Nutritionally speaking, pumpkin is the richest fruit- vegetable source of vitamin A in the form of beta-carotene. According to medical studies, beta-carotene-rich foods, as part of a healthy diet, may help lower the incidence of some cancers. This nutrient also plays a role in good vision, healthy skin, a strong immune system and bone and teeth development.

History

Long before the pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock, the Native American tribes cultivated the pumpkin as a staple food to their diet. It was eaten roasted, boiled and stewed. Some archeological sites indicate that pumpkins were grown as far back as 3000 to 2300 B.C. The squash/pumpkin blossom held a sacred place in the religion of some of the Native American tribes particularly in the Southwest.

Through migration of people, the New World and the Old World varieties of pumpkin became well mixed.

Variety

The Jumbo variety of pumpkin is traditionally used for Halloween decorations.

The Sugar variety of pumpkin is the best for pie baking. This variety gives the best flavor to the finished pie product. It usually takes 2 cups of cooked pumpkin for a 9-inch pie. Approximately 1 1/2 pounds of fresh pumpkin yield the 2 cups cooked pumpkin. The pies made from fresh pumpkin may not be as firm as those made from canned pumpkin pie mix.

Not only can pumpkin be used for decorations and pie, but it can also serve as a side dish seasoned with butter and cinnamon. Small pumpkins can be stuffed with meat, vegetables or seafood. Depending on how much pumpkin soup you wish to make, a pumpkin can not only be the soup but also the serving dish.

Preparation

To serve baked, cut and place in a shallow pan, shell side up and heat to 325 degrees for an hour or until tender.

Toasted pumpkin seeds are a bonus treat that can be saved from the Halloween pumpkin by those with time and patience to clean and toast the seeds.

Once the seeds are separated from strings, wash well and spread on paper towels to dry. To roast, spread seeds evenly over a cookie sheet and heat to 375 degrees in the oven for 20 to 30 minutes. Dot with margarine or butter, raise oven temperature to 400 degrees. Brown seed for 5 to 10 minutes, sprinkle with salt, garlic powder or taco seasonings and serve hot or cold. This snack is an excellent source of fiber.

Michigan apples: a journey into flavor

(NAPS) – The 1990s are going into history among apple lovers as the Decade of Flavor. Many new varieties are soaring in popularity because of the delicious sensations they present to our tastebuds.

Michigan, which is consistently one of the leading national producers of apples, is enhancing its reputation as "the variety state" by not only growing so many long-cherished varieties, but adding new ones that consumers are increasingly demanding.

One of the most popular of the newer varieties is Empire, a cross between two of the most popular of the older varieties, McIntosh and Red Delicious, that combines the tartness of the former with the sweetness of the latter. It's a versatile all-purpose apple, as is Jonagold, crossed from two old favorites, the spicy tart Jonathan and the milder and sweeter Golden Delicious.

Also gaining momentum in the U.S. are Gala, which adds a snappy zest to its basic sweetness, and Braeburn, with moderate tartness over a sweet undertaste. Both varieties provide subtle flavors that apple connoisseurs find truly pleasurable. Fuji is sweet like Red Delicious, one of its parents, but with a more robust flavor. It is excellent for eating out of hand and in salads and desserts.

While Michigan apple growers are expanding their plantings of new varieties, they remain dedicated to growing traditional varieties such as Red and Golden Delicious, McIntosh, Jonathan, Ida Red, Rome and Northern Spy.

There are a lot of ways to savor apples, and there are many new and traditional varieties to add to your pleasure. Michigan's apple growers wish you good eating!

MICROWAVE MARVEL

A fast, easy recipe for breakfast, a snack or dessert

Core a Michigan Apple, being careful not to cut all the way through. Peel 1/3 of the way down from stem end. Combine 1 Tbsp. brown sugar and 1/2 tsp. butter. Fill center of apple and sprinkle with cinnamon. Microwave 2 - 2 1/2 minutes on high. (Time varies depending on size of apple and wattage of oven.)

Other suggested fillings:

1. Sugar and oatmeal
2. Raisins and nuts
3. Breakfast cereal
4. Sausage and oatmeal
5. Cheddar cheese
6. Celery, raisins and nuts
7. Red hot or peppermint candies
8. Coconut and caramel
9. Hazelnuts and chocolate chips
10. Cranberry sauce

'Kindertransport' riveting drama

Jewish Ensemble Theatre presents "Kindertransport" through Nov. 3 in the Aaron DeRoy Theatre at the Jewish Community Center, 6600 W. Maple, West Bloomfield. Tickets $13 to $23, call (810) 788-2900 or Ticketmaster (810) 645-6666.

REVIEW

BY HELEN ZUCKER
SPECIAL WRITER

The Jewish Ensemble Theatre production of "Kindertransport," by Diane Samuels, is riveting. Directed by Rivi Yaron, the play could use a quicker tempo in Act II, but much of it is powerful. Using one terrific set, a storage room that does duty as a train station and a living room, designed by Melinda Pacha, the cast delivers half a century of madness, guilt and courage.

Dana Powers Acheson is remarkable as Eva, the child who leaves home at 9. She takes one suitcase. All that's permitted is clothes, but she manages to keep her harmonica, a Passover book, and the Rat Catcher book. The horrible illustrations haunt her until she becomes a young woman, adopted, happy in her new life; so happy she doesn't want to go to the U.S. with her mother who has miraculously survived. Acheson is appealing in her outbursts, her brightness, her honesty with Lil, the Englishwoman she comes to love. Acheson has presence.

Cheryl Leigh Williams does a wonderful job as Helga, Eva's mother. Helga sends her daughter to England, wanting her to be self-sufficient enough to wait out the war. Williams looks like upper-crust German, very blonde, very pretty, very well-dressed. When Helga turns up after the war, she's still blonde, but Williams gives us a woman who's been turned inside out. She leaves for "Uncle Otto's in America because there is nothing here."

Hillary Ramsden as Evelyn, (Eva who now has a grown daughter) wipes dust from chairs, glasses, tables, as if she were attacking old enemies. Her outbursts verge on hysteria.

Evelyn is trying to find someone to blame; she opens Pandora's box, a trunk full of old letters from her German mother, and tears them up, burying her past, calling it ashes, leaving her daughter without a heritage. At the end she gives her the harmonica, the Passover book, and the Rat Catcher book she arrived with, but her daughter doesn't know what she's got.

Elif Celibi is full of confidence as Faith, Evelyn's daughter. Celibi looks like someone who was raised in freedom and never thinks about it.

She pokes about in jeans, discusses different apartments, asks if she's Jewish. Reminded of her baptism, she nods. She helps clear the room of silver and glass.

Chuck O'Connor does a fine Job as the Rat Catcher, a creature who screeches at windows. He plays screaming conductors, mailmen, and all sorts of persona with passion.

Evelyn Orbach does a wonderful job as Lil, the warmhearted, practical Englishwoman who meets Eva at the train station in 1938, and cares about her for the rest of her life. Lil is the serene heart of the play. Terrible forces whirl around her. She manages to evacuate Eva to the country at one point, but Eva returns, and Lil never loses her balance. Orbach manages to convey all this.

As Artistic Director of JET, much of the credit for this production goes to Evelyn Orbach. Sound Designer R. Thomas Bray has put together a poignant medley of train whistles, bells, and night sounds. Kudos to all.

Band marches on

BY DIANE HANSON
SPECIAL WRITER

More than 6,000 spectators packed the PCEP stadium Saturday, Oct. 12, but it wasn't for a football game. It was for a pageant of sight and sound, imaginative movement, splashes of color to rival the overcast sky, creative storytelling and masterful musical composition.

It was The Great Lakes Invitational Marching Band Competition. "We had over 2,800 student musicians here today," said Tom Wysocki, chairman of the event. The musicians were members of the 25 participating high school bands from as far as Mt. Pleasant, Portage and Flushing. The Spirit of Windsor, a Canadian youth band, added an international flavor with their exhibition performance.

"A lot of preplanning goes into this," Wysocki said. He said they started putting the program together back in March. "I'm sure we're in the hundreds of volunteers from the band boosters," he said. "The boosters did a superb job putting on a show like this."

The show started at 10:30 a.m. with an eighth grade band comprised of students from all five area public middle schools and Our Lady of Good Counsel, playing the national anthem. This was the second year for the combined band and it was again under the direction of PCEP associate band director Amy Boerma.

"There's a peer teaching thing going on with members of the marching band helping the kids with the music," said Boerma of the practice sessions last week. She said some of the middle schoolers felt they wouldn't be good enough for the high school bands. "So many of those kids would fit right in but they never give it a try because they're intimidated by it," said Boerma. "So, hopefully, we're going to break some of those barriers."

Boerma said the eighth graders picked up very quickly on the instructions and felt good about their performance. "They walked away two inches taller than they were before their performance."

Flutist Sarah Skinner, a Pioneer Middle School student, enjoyed her performance as well as watching the rest of the bands. "It was fun," she said.

■ SCHOOL NEWS

Joe Wysocki, a West percussionist, knows how much practice is involved for marching band students. His sister, Erin, is a Plymouth Canton junior and third year clarinetist in the marching band. Of his GLI experience, Wysocki said, "I liked it." Both Wysocki and Skinner plan to join the Plymouth-Canton Marching Band in 1997.

Saturday's competitors and scores included Livonia Franklin, third place in Flight I with a score of 70.77; Farmington, with a score of 67.55 captured sixth place in Flight II ; and Westland John Glenn received a score of 68.45 for fifth place in Flight I. First-place awards went to Chesaning in Flight IV with a score of 82.95; Flight III, Wyoming Park, 81.47; Flight II, Lakeland, 89.17; and Flight I, Milford, 86.02.

The GLI trophy for overall highest score went to Lakeland again this year. Plymouth-Canton played their jazzy award-winning program, "The Road to Oz," in exhibition as hosts of the competition. Once again, they brought cheers from the crowd. "It's a great program. It's fabulous. I love it," said Plymouth Canton Schools Superintendent Charles Little who was one of the award presenters at the Great Lakes Invitational.

Little had nothing but kudos for the PCEP Marching Band and has already made plans to attend the Bands of America Grand National Championships in Indianapolis in November. This will be his third trip to watch the Plymouth-Canton band in national competition. "The band's success is because they're so focused, supported by parents and community who are focused in the same way," Little said.

"They know what their target is, the national championship and they work on it from August to August. They invest a tremendous amount of time and energy. It's a real focal point of some positive hard work," Little added.

WLAA's best in soccer

Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton are each represented by two players on the all-Western Lakes Activities Association's 11-man soccer team.

Canton, which won the Western Division with a perfect 5-0 record and then defeated Livonia Stevenson, 3-1 last Wednesday to claim its third-consecutive conference title (the Chiefs tied with Stevenson in '95), placed seniors Jason Bennett, a midfielder, and Kevin Gniewek, a forward, on the all-WLAA squad.

Salem, which finished second to Stevenson in the Lakes Division with a 4-1 record and then blanked Livonia Churchill 2-0 last Monday for third place, put senior midfielder Matt Sarkesian and junior forward Brett Konley on the WLAA's top team.

Other first team selections were: from Stevenson, keeper Eric O'Neill and midfielder Scott Babinski, both seniors; from Churchill, junior defender Dave George; from Walled Lake Western, senior defender Shane Patterson; from Northville, junior defender Sam Vida; from Livonia Franklin, senior midfielder Steve Finneran; and from North Farmington, sophomore midfielder Craig Hearn.

Canton and Salem combined to put seven other players on the all-division teams. Canton honorees were defenders Matt Ammons and Dan Steinert, seniors, and Mike Bennett, a sophomore, and senior forward Nick Wright. Salem's all-division selections were seniors Ryan Konley, a forward, and Chris Curry and Josh Fair, both defenders.

Scott Wright, Ben Davis, Ryan Dyer and Steve Epley were honorable mention all-WLAA picks for Canton. Salem had Andres Lopez, Rob Zdrodowski and Andy Power as honorable mention choices.

EMU prospers

Eastern Michigan University's men's soccer team rallied to score twice in the second half and edge University of Michigan's club team 2-1 Wednesday.

Drew Drummond, a freshman forward from Plymouth Salem, got his first-ever collegiate goal at an important time -- it tied the score at 1-1. Victor Rodopoulos, a junior forward from Livonia Franklin, scored the game-winner for the Eagles.

George Tomasso, a freshman from Plymouth Canton, was in goal for EMU. He made five saves.

The win made EMU 5-7-1 for the season. U-M is 8-7-2.

College standouts

•Kelly Collins, a sophomore from Plymouth Salem and a member of Kalamazoo College's golf team, saved her best performance of the season for the last Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association tournament, at Winding Creek Golf Course in Holland.

Collins, who finished the season with a 101.6 stroke average in the seven MIAA tournaments, placing her in a tie for 19th in the conference, shot a 94. Her previous best this year was a 98, in the season-opener at Marshall Country Club in Olivet.

Collins tied Demrie Wilkinson, also a sophomore, as the Hornets' best golfers.

•Tom Raven, a senior center on Abion College's unbeaten football team, saw his first action of the season in the Britons' 69-14 clobbering of Kalamazoo College Oct. 12.

Raven, a 6-foot-2, 255-pounder from Plymouth Canton, was slated to be a starter until he injured his knee during the preseason.

•Siena Heights women's soccer team was rolling right along, going 3-0-1 over a four-game stretch. And then, the Saints went up against Aquinas College, leaders of the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference -- and lost, 3-1.

Amy Gillin scored Siena Heights' only goal, assisted by Liz Peltier, a freshman midfielder from Plymouth Canton. For the season, Peltier has two goals and three assists (seven points).

The loss dropped the Saints to 6-6-2 overall, 2-2-1 in the WHAC.

Hawks 2nd at WAGS

The Michigan Hawks under-11 girls soccer team proved to be one of the best in the nation at the Washington Area Girls Soccer (WAGS) League Tournament.

The three-day event in Washington D.C. attracted 450 teams from across the nation, each with winning credentials (state, regional, provincial or national championships to their credit), and the under-11 Hawks reached the final four unbeaten.

They beat teams from Washington D.C., Pennsylvania and New Jersey to reach the tourney semifinals. In the semis, the Hawks beat a team from McLean, Va., 2-0, before falling to the Oakville, Ont. (Canada), Angels 2-0 in the final match.

Team members are Colene Brockman, Nicole Cauzillo, Erin Closser, Melissa Dobbyn, Katie Henrickson, Nikki Hermann, Jill Kehler, Tegan Lanning, Kelly McMann, Jenny Murray, Sophia Naum, Michelle Phillips, Jamie Poole, Marissa Sarkesian, Jennnifer Szymanski and Laine Williams. The team is coached by John Buchanan.)

Spartan girls rule; Canton edges Salem

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

The "perfect season" continued on for Livonia Stevenson, the top-ranked girls cross country team in Class A.

The Spartans captured their third straight Western Lakes Activities Association championship and 13th meet of the season Friday at Cass Benton Park.

As expected, Stevenson ran away with the title with 28 points followed by Plymouth Canton (72), Plymouth Salem (86), Farmington (98) and Livonia Churchill (148). See statistical summary.

You could say this was the first jewel garnered by the Spartans in quest of the triple crown. Next up is Saturday's regional at Ann Arbor Pioneer followed by a Nov. 2 date with potential destiny, the state Class A championships at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn.

"This was our most important meet up to this point," said Stevenson coach Paul Holmberg, who has guided the Spartans to four WLAA crowns in the 1990s. "I'm very happy. Our goal was to get under 30 points and it was a tough goal. Last year we had 21, but the league this year is tougher. There are more good individuals and teams."

Junior Kelly Travis three-peated as WLAA individual champion, covering the 5,000-meter course in 19 minutes, 5 seconds, only seven seconds off her personal best.

Ironically, the two-time defending champion Travis was somewhat of an underdog entering the meet.

Churchill sophomore Ashley Fillion, who had won her first six races of the year and had posted a Cass Benton best of 19:05, suddenly became ill and dropped out midway through the race.

Central gains another title; Chiefs 3rd

BY C.J. RISAK
SPORTS EDITOR

By now, the rest of the boys cross country coaches in the Western Lakes Activities Association must be sick of hearing this:

"I certainly never thought that we'd be here at the beginning of the season."

At the outset of the season, no one would have figured Dave Darnton's Walled Lake Central team, winners of the '95 WLAA cross country race, would -- or could -- repeat.

"We lost our top four runners from last year," Darnton said, before adding the above remark. "We have only two seniors in our top 10 runners."

So how could one anticipate what happened Friday? And yet happen it did -- the Vikings, with a deep lineup that no other WLAA squad could match, easily captured its second-straight conference crown.

Central put four runners in the medals (top 20 finishers) and scored 71 points. Next best was Walled Lake Western, which had beaten the Vikings in an early-season dual-meet, with 92.

Plymouth Canton placed third (103), followed by Livonia Stevenson (114), led by junior Rob Block, who ran away from the rest of the field to win the individual title in 16:17.

The remainder of the team standings: Plymouth Salem, fifth (137); Westland John Glenn, sixth (157); Northville, seventh (192); Farmington Harrison, eighth (193); North Farmington, ninth (206); Farmington, 10th (220); Livonia Franklin, 11th (296); and Livonia Churchill, 12th (311).

"I thought we could give it a good shot," said Western coach Mike Formanek. "And I thought that we ran well. We just got beat by a team that ran better.

"Their top five guys -- we're a bit

Vikings power past Rocks; Canton falls

FOOTBALL

Plymouth Salem ran into an offensive buzzsaw Friday night when it hosted Walled Lake Central in its final Western Lakes Activities Association regular-season game.

Problem with the Vikings isn't scoring points, that's for sure. It's stopping the other team that's been their undoing.

Against Salem, Central got into a scoring race -- and won, 47-33. The result left both teams with a 4-3 overall record; Central, however, finishes third in the WLAA's Lakes Division with a 3-2 mark. Salem ends at 2-3.

Neither knows who they'll play next, though, in the WLAA crossover Friday. Tenatively, Central will go against Livonia Franklin, while Salem plays Northville.

"They are a very, very athletic team," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said of Central. "They've got a ton of receivers, they've got those big horses up front, and that quarterback -- he's a good one."

The game's opening play set the stage. Central quarterback Adam Bruce scrambled 86 yards for the touchdown to give the Vikings the early lead.

Salem answered with a nine-play, 71-yard drive that belonged mostly to quarterback Nate Gray. He had runs of 15 and 10 yards before finishing it with a 4-yard run, tying the game at 6-all.

Central scored the next three times it got the ball, with Bruce rambling 32 yards for the first and passing 29 yards to Dave Shaw on the second, opening up a 20-6 advantage. A 32-yard interception return by Jeff Mathison boosted the Vikings' lead to 26-6.

Then Gray took center stage, Salem drove 65 yards on nine plays, with Gray passing 21 and 14 yards to Jeff McKian, then plunging 1 yard for the score, narrowing the gap to 26-12.

Canton outlasts feisty Harrison

BY NEAL ZIPSER

Who needs offense?

Plymouth Canton and Farmington Hills Harrison battled in a classic defensive struggle Thursday before the host Chiefs escaped with a 44-34 victory.

The win came after both teams struggled on offense earlier in the week. Canton edged North Farmington 40-34 on Tuesday, while the Hawks also had a power shortage, losing at Walled Lake Central 39-36.

But the lack of scoring Thursday was more a testament of Canton's tight man-to-man defense and Harrison's active zone defense.

"They played very hard and were very scrappy," Canton coach Bob Blohm said. "But I think we also played hard. Both teams played tough defensively tonight and it was a well-played game. We're getting back to where we want to be and putting the other things behind us."

With the win, Canton improved to 13-2 overall and 8-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association. The Hawks slipped to 8-5 overall and 5-3 in the league.

The Chiefs were led by senior center Kristi Fiorenzi, who scored 15 points and grabbed 10 rebounds. Nkechi Okwumabua added eight points off the bench, and Tiffany Williams chipped in with seven points.

Forward Amy Roble played a great game for Harrison, giving Canton headaches in the post all game long. The junior finished with a game-high 16 points, on eight-for-15 shooting.

The problem for the Hawks was that the rest of the team didn't shoot well, making only five-of-25 shots combined. Harrison relied on the three-pointer, nailing only four-of-20 tries from behind the arc.

"Canton is a strong, physical team and it's hard to get good shots against them," Harrison coach Pete Mantyla said. "We're used to having more room to shoot."

Canton jumped out to a 6-0 lead before the Hawks went on an 8-3 run. Three of the baskets came on post-up layups by Roble.

"We had trouble with Roble inside," Blohm said. "We have to learn to give better help or sag down more."

Harrison rallied to tie the game at 13-13 with 6:09 to play in the second quarter after another post-up lay-in by Roble. But that was the last points the Hawks would score until early in the second half.

spell by taking a 19-13 lead into halftime. A three-pointer by Kristin Lukasic to start the second half gave the Chiefs a 22-24 advantage.

A pair of three-pointers by Ali Ault kept the Hawks within striking range at 28-22 with 1:34 left in the third quarter. Ault netted nine points off the bench.

But the Chiefs regained the momentum after baskets by Fiorenzi and Okumabua.

Canton converted six-of-seven free throws in the fourth quarter to hold off the Hawks, who could get no closer than eight points.

"I felt we were in this game the whole way," Mantyla said. "They got an 8-point cushion and protected it. They're a team that can pass and catch the ball as well as anybody."

The difference in the game may have been at the free throw line, where the Chiefs made 15-of-19 attempts. The Hawks made only four-of-10 foul shots.

Canton also held a 28-16 advantage on the boards.

"Kristi, Tiffany and Nkechi did a good job around the basket and played solid defense all night," Blohm said. "Nkechi played very well off the bench. She played good defense, ran the court well and was active underneath on offense."

Blohm said after the game he was happy that Harrison is now off his schedule -- hoping they won't meet in the WLAA playoffs.

"I believe Harrison is one of the most improved teams in the league," Blohm said. "They went to Central, which is a hard place to play, and lost by only three. They're a young team and will win a lot of games in the future. And I think they'll be tough down the stretch and make a good showing in the league playoffs."

Salem 42, Stevenson 35: One of the measures of a good team is that you win the games you're supposed to.

Plymouth Salem measures up to that yardstick after taking a tougher-than-expected victory from Livonia Stevenson.

"It doesn't replace a win," Spartans' coach Wayne Henry said, "but our last three wins weren't against state-ranked teams, either.

"We've come a long ways from early in the season. They were worried. It's a lost, but it's still a good feeling for our kids."

The visiting Rocks rolled out to a 13-9 first-quarter lead but neither team could put the ball in the basket in the second so the half ended with Salem holding an 18-13 lead.

Coach Fred Thomann's team added five points to the margin to take a 32-22 lead into the final period.

"From our standpoint, we weathered the foul situation pretty well," Thomann said. "(Andrea) Pruett had three fouls early in the second period.

"We were able to get out of that in pretty good shape, then we lost Amanda (Abraham) early in the fourth period with her fifth foul."

Sophomore Angela Sillmon paced Salem with 15 points while center Merritt Walker plus forwards Pruett and Heather Guerin scored six apiece.

Walker also had eight rebounds and blocked three shots. Pruett got four rebounds and Guerin contributed four assists.

Salem improved to 12-3 overall and 7-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association. Stevenson dropped to 6-9 overall, 3-6 in the WLAA.

Stevenson was paced by forward Jackie McClowry's 12 points and five rebounds. Junior guard Carolyn Courtright scored 10 points and center Gina Palmeri had nine points plus 11 rebounds.

"Stevenson made a nice little runback," Thomann said. "But we handled it, and got going again.

"Losing Amanda really hurt us. She was doing some nice stuff with her interior passing and her defending."

"We were more patient with the ball," Stevenson's Henry said," and we have been for the last several games.

"And because we were patient, we never let them get into the running game they probably wanted to.

"We had offensive rebounds, putbacks and played a strong enough defensive game where we kept it close. We got it down (to under five points) in the fourth quarter.

"We had a couple of defensive lapses at the end. But we never quit. They came through at end to win. So give them credit for not collapsing. And our kids deserve a lot of credit, too."

Salem made 13-of-21 free throws to Stevenson's 7-of-14.

"It was a competitive game," Thomann said. "The Stevenson players did a nice job. They had a nice plan and executed it very well."

Salem adjust well, too. And won the game it was expected to.

The mark of a good team.

more strung out than they are."

Central's medalists were Nate Stoll, at sixth their top finisher (16:44); Todd Mobley,eighth (16:59); Randy Morgan, 17th (17:25); and Roland Alix, 18th (17:26). The Vikings' fifth runner was Eugene Vyortkin, who was 22nd (17:32).

"We have a group of kids who made a believer out of me," Darnton said. "They never believed we were rebuilding. They refused to. They worked as hard as any group I've ever had."

Going into the race, any one of five teams figured to challenge for the title, but Central had emerged as the favorite. Canton had seen a three-year dual-meet winning streak come to an end earlier last week when it lost to Western; still, the Chiefs were one of the challengers.

"(Darnton) should be real proud of his kids," Canton coach Mike Spitz said. "I know I'm proud of my kids.

"We had a down meet on Monday (against Western). We talked about it, and today they responded. They all posted personal bests -- a coach can't be upset with that."

Shaun Moore was Canton's top runner, finishing fifth (16:44). Western got the kind of up-front performance Formanek wanted, with Jason Aspinall placing third (16:41) and Nick Bremer fourth (16:42).

Harrison's Jared Roth was second behind Block (16:36).

Other medalists were Mike Felczak of Stevenson, seventh (16:45); Jon Little of Salem, ninth (17:00); Kevin Arbuckle of Northville, 10th (17:05); Jeff Chrzanoski of Salem, 11th (17:10); Josh Burt of Franklin, 12th (17:11); Joe Wojtowicz of John Glenn, 13th (17:14); Jon Berman of North Farmington, 14th (17:16); Paul Galbraith of John Glenn, 15th (17:16); Scott Kwiatkowski of Stevenson, 16th (17:23); Adam DiGeorgio of Canton, 19th (17:29); and Mike Whiting of Western, 20th (17:30).

Summarized Darnton: "This year was even more satisfying than last year. Last year, everyone kind of expected us to win."

But what wasn't expected at the start of this season became fact by the end of it.

"I feel like I'm coming back," said Travis, who regained her confidence by winning Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard Invitational a week earlier. "I don't like making excuses, but I've had bronchitis and asthma, and I felt like I had to start up again. I had to catch up. I feel better than I had been when I had a hard time breathing."

Stevenson teammate Kelly McNeilance, also a junior, was right on Travis' heels throughout the race, finishing second for the second consecutive year with a personal best 19:08 on the Cass Benton course.

Westland John Glenn senior Marjorie Brooks was third in 19:24, nearly 21 seconds ahead her previous Cass best. (Brooks did not race in last year's WLAA meet, sitting out with a sore Achilles tendon.)

Rounding out Stevenson's contingent was sophomore Kim McNeilance, who was fourth (19:36); freshman Andrea Parker, sixth (19:45); sophomore Christy Tzilos, 15th (20:15); and freshman Leslie Knapp, 19th (20:31).

Five of Stevenson's top six posted personal bests.

"I thought we could get four in the top seven with the others in the top 15," Holmberg said. "These kids have been working hard all season and I think the rest gives them freshness in their legs. We're starting to taper off now and I hope we're not ahead of schedule. I just hope we can hold it for two more weeks."

Despite their distant second-place finish, Canton coach George Przygodski wasn't at all disappointed. "I thought we had a great race," he said. "Our goal was to win the meet. As I said earlier this week, we had to run our best and Stevenson had to give us some help.

"We did our part."

Canton was led by Becky Wolfrom, who placed fifth (19:38). Four of the Chiefs medaled (finishing in the top 20). The others were Beth Knight, 11th (20:03); Angkana Roy, 14th (20:12); and Lori Schmidt, 20th (20:44). Rounding out Canton's scorers was Christiana Bradford, 22nd (20:50).

While Canton excelled, Salem decelerated. "We didn't have a good team day," said coach Dave Gerlach. "We had two consecutive great team days before today, when our pack (top five runners) was a minute apart.

"We were prepared today, we were ready, we were fired up. It just didn't come together for us."

Best among the Rocks was Kristie Giddings, who was ninth (19:57). Nicole Bolton was next in 13th (20:06), followed by Ellen Stemmer, 16th (20:17); Mari Disbrow, 23rd (20:53); and Rachael Moraitis, 25th (20:56). Giddings, Bolton and Stemmer medaled.

So the Spartans appear to be right on schedule toward a possible state crown.

"Not all at once have we run our best race," McNeilance said. "Everybody is saving it for the most important one."

That would be Saturday's second crown jewel, the regional.

Ocelots top Macomb; Crusaders win easily

VOLLEYBALL

A word all coaches fear: Slump.

What Schoolcraft College's volleyball team was enduring last week could be termed as one. That was the bad news for the Lady Ocelots; the good news was -- they won in spite of it.

SC played at Macomb CC Thursday and, against a team with just two wins in its previous seven Eastern Conference matches, went five games before collecting the victory: 15-4, 15-13, 13-15, 7-15, 15-13.

"We're struggling a little bit," admitted SC coach Tom Teeters. "But we came through when we had to.

"We've been playing very erratic. We're not playing well right now."

What helped SC (18-8 overall, 6-2 in the conference) survive against Macomb was its bench. Teeters said that Gretchen Baisch (from Plymouth Agape Christian) "came in and did well defensively," while Tracy Rucinski provided some "good passing."

"They provided a spark off the bench," Teeters said.

Yvette Sixbey (Garden City) led the offense with eight kills. Michelle McRae added seven, and Hermina Angeles and Jamie Clark (Livonia Churchill) had five apiece, with Clark adding three service aces and 13 digs.

Amber Wells (Plymouth Canton) contributed 26 assists to kills, Stacy Sailus had two solo blocks and three block assists. Angeles also had 12 digs.

Madonna rips Tri-State

It was a short trip for Madonna University's volleyball team Thursday. The Fighting Crusaders visited Tri-State and rolled to a 15-7, 15-8, 15-4 at Tri-State.

Kelly McCausland (Redford Union) led the way with 12 kills, 11 digs, one solo block and five block asists. Julie Martin (Livonia Stevenson) added 11 kills, six digs, two solos and seven block assists; Karin Sisung totaled six kills and 10 digs; Erin Comment collected five kills and 10 digs; and Meg Paris had 31 assists to kills and eight digs.

The win improved 16th-ranked Madonna's record to 28-3.

"Basically, we controlled play the entire match," said Madonna coach Jerry Abraham. "It was a win on the road. We played everybody, and they played consistently with all the different lineups.

So: "So far, so good," the Madonna coach said of the season for his 16th-ranked Crusaders.

Gray switched to defense after that, intercepting a Bruce pass and racing 92 yards for a touchdown that pulled Salem to within 26-18 late in the first half.

It might have stayed that way, but Salem's attempted short kickoff was returned 67 yards by Mathison to the Salem 7-yard line with 40 seconds to go. On the final play of the half, Jay Laura -- subbing for Bruce, who was shaken up but did return -- tossed a 7-yard TD pass to Shaw, building Central's lead to 33-18 at the intermission.

Salem drew to within a touchdown in the third quarter when Charlie Schmidt intercepted Bruce and returned it to the Central 37. Gray passed 7 yards to Brian Lehane and, with a two-point conversion pass from Gray to Lehane, the Rocks were within 33-26.

But Central could not be stopped. Bruce -- who finished with 200 rushing yards on 15 carries -- scored his third touchdown on a 16-yard run, increasing the Viking lead to 40-26.

Salem answered with a Gray 11-yard run, capping a 74-yard drive. But Central returned the ensuing kickoff to the Salem 48, and Bruce finished Salem off by tossing a 26-yard scoring pass to Gary Sparks.

Bruce was 8-of-18 passing for 92 yards, with two touchdowns and three interceptions. His brother Nathan Bruce added 79 yards rushing on 15 carries, as Central pierced Salem for 365 yards on the ground.

Gray was Salem's offense. He rushed for 81 yards on 13 attempts, scoring four touchdowns, and completed 12-of-23 passes for 167 yards and another TD, with one intercept. McKian was his favorite target, catching six balls for 82 yards and a touchdown. Matt Johnson added 41 yards rushing on eight tries.

Central outgained Salem, 457-246.

Western 33, Canton 13: It was the Johnson and Johnson show Friday night at Walled Lake Western High School.

Western's Dave Johnson and Canton's Rob Johnson put on quite an exhibition as they combined for five touchdowns. Fortunately for the Warriors, Dave Johnson outscored Rob Johnson, 3-2.

The victory gave Western (6-1 overall) the outright Western Division championship of the Western Lakes Activities Association and a 5-0 league record. The Warriors host WLAA Lakes Division champion Westland John Glenn at 7:30 p.m. Friday for the overall WLAA crown.

The last time Western won the conference title was 1992 – the year the Warriors played in the Class A state championship game at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Canton fell to 3-4 overall and 2-3 in the division.

Western took a 13-7 halftime lead as sophomore Dave Johnson scored on runs of four and one yards. Rob Johnson scored Canton's second quarter touchdown on a 1-yard run.

The Warriors iced the game with an 8-yard TD run in the third quarter by senior Scott Naz and a 34-yard scoring run by junior quarterback Frank Stanford.

Dave Johnson completed the Warriors scoring with a 31-yard run. Rob Johnson, a senior, completed the Chiefs' scoring with a 91-yard kickoff return.

Western had 403 total yards – 379 of which came on the ground. Dave Johnson finished with 148 yards rushing.

The win also kept the Warriors in the hunt for a state playoff berth. Western was second in the Class AA Region II rankings heading into Friday's game.

Salem trips up Churchill

In a WLAA crossover game Monday at Churchill, Plymouth Salem made some adjustments and got goals in each half to subdue the Chargers, 2-0.

Brett Konley converted a pass from Brent Mullin for the only goal of the first half. The pair then turned it around, with Mullin scoring off an assist from Konley in the second.

Salem coach Ed McCarthy moved Chris Curry from midfield to sweeper, a position he played for Salem the last two years, and it helped strengthen the defense.

Andres Lopez was in goal for the shut for Salem, which finishes with a 13-3-2 regular-season record.

BANKING OPPORTUNITIES
Due to our market expansion through the use of in-store supermarket branches, Old Kent has exceptional opportunities available to individuals with knowledge of retail banking who seek a stimulating setting in which to demonstrate their strong sales orientation, superior customer-service skills and high degree of initiative.
IN-STORE MANAGER
In this leadership role, you will manage and direct all in-store branch operations, including sales and administrative functions; oversee, develop and coach employees and promote a team spirit; provide full service banking to customers; evaluate loans and extend credit; and expand the customer base through your technical knowledge and selling techniques. This position is responsible for implementing a business development plan and monitoring results. Management/supervisory experience is required.
ASSISTANT IN-STORE MANAGER
We will rely on you to assist the In-Store Manager in promoting a team spirit among personnel and overseeing and maintaining the quality performance of all operations, sales and administrative functions. You will provide full service banking to customers, including loan transactions and opening accounts; introduce customers to products and services; and assist in developing sales goals. Supervisory experience and leadership skills are necessary.
Both management positions require excellent written and verbal communication, problem solving and decision-making skills. PC/CRT skills are necessary. A bachelor's degree or equivalent background is a requisite.
FINANCIAL SERVICE REPRESENTATIVES
Full- and Part-Time
Your enthusiasm and professionalism will be utilized in expanding the customer base through successful selling techniques, and providing superior banking services and a clear understanding of the benefits of our products and services. Excellent written and verbal communication skills, PC/CRT skills, and the ability to handle reconciliations and solve problems are necessary. Part-time opportunities are for 20 hours/week.
Candidates for all positions must be available to work between the hours of 9 AM - 7 PM, Monday-Friday, and the hours of 9 AM - 4 PM on Saturday. Please complete an application for employment at, or submit resume to: Old Kent, Human Resources, 300 W. North St., Brighton, MI 48116.

1997 Nissan Pathfinder makes the grade

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

This year's Nissan press guide has a little present in it — a couple of chuckles in a parable about what's inside a Nissan "dream garage". Let me share a few with you during this column about the 1997 Nissan Pathfinder.

Redesigned and re-engineered less than a year ago — February 1996 — the Pathfinder now has prettier and softer lines, a longer wheelbase, a new engine and quite a bit more cabin and cargo space.

"Those who doubt the concept of eternity have never taken a road trip with a 3-year-old."

The 1997 lineup consists of 5 distinct models, each for a different type of driving experience — 4x2 XE and LE and the 4x4 XE, SE and LE.

All five models feature a 3.3-liter single overhead cam V6 engine that provides 168 horsepower. This is a more powerful engine than the previous model, but we still need a few more horsepower here, guys. Sure it gets you there, but not in an all-fire hurry. It just seems a little underpowered. It can get you around town with little annoyance, however.

The new engine provides great flexibility and torque for towing and off-road driving. The zero-to-60 mph time is 10.5 on the 4x2 automatic and 11.2 on the 4x4.

"Need a hug? Try fastening your seatbelt a little tighter."

A couple of things have been added to the 1997 Pathfinder to make it even better, such as storage pockets on all doors (SE models), seat back pocket added to the passenger side of the XE models, a new exterior color and an advanced Bose 6-speaker 15-watt AM/FM CD system on the LE models.

You can mate the 3.3-liter engine to either a 5-speed manual or electronically controlled 4-speed automatic transmission with overdrive. If you choose the 4-wheel-drive models, you'll be happy there is a shift-on-the-fly feature that can be activated at speeds of up to 50 miles per hour. What convenience.

And this thing is as quiet as a mouse inside. Comfortable to drive and ride in as well. Heavy-duty strut-type front suspension allows better tire contact with the road and comfort all around — whether you're on or off-road.

"Without cars, how would the world know your child is an honor student?"

Nissan also installed the proven 5-link rear suspension design with springs and shock on the outboard for better stability and exquisite body roll control. There are stabilizer bars both in the front and rear.

"In a million years, will bugs evolve a way to bounce off windshields? Or will they simply learn not to fly near highways?

Four-wheel anti-lock brakes are standard equipment on all models of Pathfinder this year. When on the highways and byways, the ABS works like your ordinary run-of-the-mill traditional ABS. But off-road, it's a little different. It incorporates a special "G-sensor" that reads the road surface and adjust braking controls accordingly. That eliminates the "skimming effect" you get on dust, gravel or sand.

Also, every Pathfinder is outfitted with a standard power-assisted rack-an-pinion steering system for better and easier maneuverability. It has a really tight turning radius, as well, something you wouldn't expect on a vehicle this large.

The Pathfinder is a large vehicle that provides comfortable seating for five. In front, there are large bucket seats that can provide comfort for even the largest buckets. In the rear, there's a 60/40 split fold-down seat that folds flat for added cargo area.

"The earth spins at 1,000 miles per hour. Please wear your seat belt."

Also in the rear, you'll find large rear door pockets, a concealed side storage bin and a mini-storage compartment under the floor of the rear cargo area. What's in there is a spare tire. You can opt for an out-side spare tire carrier, but you know what? The car looks so much cleaner and sleeker without it.

Ahead of the driver is a really smart instrument cluster. Nissan engineers listened to the consumer when designing the IC because all the gauges are arranged "according to need." That means the most used displays are center in the driver's field of vision and switches are varied in size and shape to avoid confusion.

The Pathfinder XE is available in 4x2 and 4x2 models that have 15-inch steel-belted radials, smartly styled 6-spoke alloy wheels and fabric seats. The SE, which is only available as a 4x4; has shift-on-the-fly, 15-inch radials on alloy wheels, chrome trim, fender flares, step rail roof rack, fabric seats, cargo tie downs, cruise control, power remote windows, door locks , heated outside mirrors, remote keyless entry, security system and driver's seat lumbar with height adjustments.

"Without cars, how would shopping carts stop?"

Finally the LE is available in 4x2 or 4x4 models and come standard with 4-speed automatic transmission, limited-slip rear differential (on 4x4), running boards, fog lights, aluminum alloy wheels, roof rack, simulated wood-grain interior trim, air conditioning and automatic temp controls, leather seats, cruise control, remote-controlled power windows, door locks and out-side mirrors, keyless entry and vehicle security system.

What really struck my eye about the Pathfinder is its sleek look. Even the rear door handles are recessed and up high. It actually looked like a 2-door at first. The lines are softer and it doesn't look boxy, like the previous generation Pathfinder did. It's become a little more Americanized, where before it looked too Japanese.

"Look into your heart for wisdom and under your seat for change."

The Nissan Pathfinder has changed, and this change is really good. It's good looking, better powered, more comfortable and user friendly. Good option to look at when considering a sport utility.

Here's just a few more:

"Maybe traffic jams happen because cars like to be with other cars."

"Why can't there be double yellow lines between right and wrong?"

"If you name your car you'll have someone to blame when you lock your keys in it."

"Have fun. Smile. Drive happy. Enjoy the ride."

MAKE THE MOVE NOW!!

THERE'S NO BETTER TIME TO BUY

If you've been thinking about moving from your current residence to the house of your dreams or from an apartment to a starter home, this is the time to do it.

- The selection is excellent.
- Low interest rates are available.
- There are many financing options available.

Go ahead, make the move. Now is the right time to buy a home.

NOW is the right time to Buy a Home!

Purchasing a home has always been a wise decision, but current market conditions are making it even more attractive to buy now.

EXCELLENT FINANCING IS AVAILABLE NOW

Interest rates are lower, and mortgage lenders are offering a wide variety of financing options. Low interest rates mean you can get more for your money.

- 30-year fixed mortgages are still available as well as many other financing alternatives.
- First time buyers are encouraged to purchase now through financing packages offering small down payments.

YOUR HOME IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT

Purchasing a home is the best way to build a solid financial foundation. A home not only provides you with warmth and comfort, it also serves as a secure investment.
