Water line location is concern

Farmers and subdivision residents can peacefully co-exist as neighbors, township planners believe. A new housing development slated for Canton's west side will test the theory.

BY VALERIE OLANDER
STAFF WRITER

Planners call it "leapfrogging." Others might call it one more step at suburbanizing rural Canton.

Either way, the extension of water and sewer lines to a soon-to-be 313-home subdivision is at issue in the farming community.

A recommended rezoning in the agriculturally zoned area bounded by Ford, Saltz and Ridge roads drew a handful of residents to last week's planning commission. The proposed subdivision saddles Duane and Sharon Bordine's farm to the east and west.

Altogether, developer Dick Lewiston bought 221 acres for his Founders Woods housing project from two property owners, Florence Bordine and Greg Donovan. Duane Bordine owns the two parcels in between.

At issue is extending city water and sanitary sewers through an area that currently depends on wells. Planners call it "leapfrogging" since the proposal will bypass properties without providing utility hook-up.

Duane Bordine said he was concerned that the installation of the water and sewer lines would dry up his well. A similar situation occurred on the south side of Cherry Hill during the development of the north side. Lewiston said he doesn't expect a similar problem.

Despite the concern, other residents welcomed the utility hook-up. In fact, Dixie Deaton, who lives on the north side of Saltz Road, drew applause from the small crowd for making the request.

"All the new subs are getting water and sewer. Why can't we, the residents that have been here for more than 20 years, benefit from it also?" said Deaton.

Community Planner Jeff Goulet said the township's Engineering Department will dictate which route the utility will take. According to a Ten minutes and it was all gone.

In just 10 minutes Tuesday night, Bruce Nelson's wavy, shoulder-length blond hair – a look the bartender carefully cultivated for years – lay in locks on the floor of the Rusty Nail saloon on Ford Road.

More than 100 patrons roared their approval as Toni Wilcox ran the clippers back and forth, curl after curl tumbling from Nelson's head.

The Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute was the beneficiary of Nelson's $3,000 haircut.

Board approves raise, tables longevity pay

STAFF WRITER

Canton's non-union employees will get a 3 percent raise, instead of the 4 percent increase originally recommended by the township's Merit Commission.

The hike will be retroactive to Jan. 1.

Some of Canton's highest paid employees in 1997 are: John Santomauro, public safety director, $76,000; Aaron Machnik, municipal service director, $73,700; Dan Durack, administrative services director, $71,500; and Tony Minghine, finance and budget director, $69,000.

The non-union employees also will have to wait until later in the year, possibly into December, to find out if Canton officials will change longevity pay and Paid Time Off (PTO) Cash Out benefits.

The three-member Merit Commission recommended phasing out the vacation buyouts and introducing a longevity pay system based on a salary percentage and years of service.

The township board wasn't prepared to make a decision on longevity . However, it approved an across-the-board pay increase of 3 percent on Jan. 27.

A similar longevity pay system based on a percentage of an employee's salary was won in arbitration two years ago, first by the firefighters' union and then, by the police command officers' union. The township's previous longevity plan was based on a flat dollar amount.

"It works out that some of them are getting all the way up to an 8 percent increase," said Supervisor Tom Yack.

A firefighter or command officer with over 20 years of service received $1,200 per year under the previous flat dollar amount system. The township proposed to increase the flat dollar amount to a maximum of $1,500.

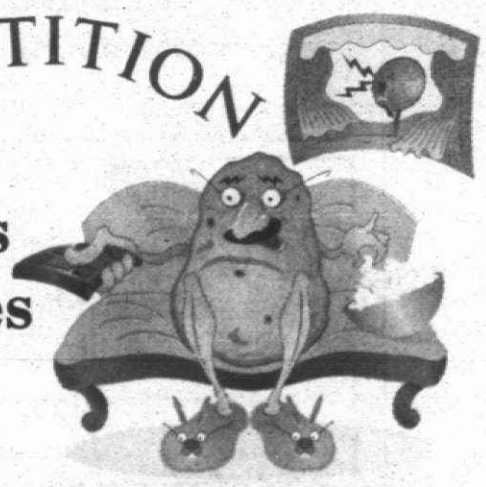
CABLE COMPETITION

Channel surfers get more choices for lower fees



BY KEVIN BROWN

Hey, channel surfers – the greatest invention since the clicker has arrived in Canton Township.

Its name is cable TV competition. And it sure makes a difference:

- Free PASS, Disney Channel, and ESPN 2 and more come with basic cable packages in the western Wayne County communities of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township and Garden City – because two cable TV companies compete for customers.
- In Canton Township, Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Garden City, residents also get three or more movie channels for the price Livonia or Redford folks pay to Time Warner for just one, thanks to competition.

Ameritech is providing the competition in western Wayne County to existing cable franchises. That competition forced the fall 1995 sale of Plymouth-Canton's old cable firm Omnicom to Continental Cablevision, the third largest cable TV company in the United States.

Continental soon announced to Plymouth-Canton customers that they'd be doing equipment upgrades that matched those announced by Ameritech – then announced premium channel packages and money-off deals to get folks to stick with Continental.

Isn't competition grand?

Canton Treasurer Elaine Kirchgatter said the public now has better service, as two cable

Stores pull key chain off shelves

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

A flammable liquid found in a child's ball-end key chain Tuesday got the attention of the Canton Township Fire Department and neighboring Plymouth Community Fire Department. Both agencies had the item removed from shelves.

David Champagne of Canton Fire Prevention said the liquid —splashing around a tiny plastic frog inside a clear plastic ball — is a petroleum product.

" Lab tests show its a medium to heavy distillate It is a flammable or combustible liquid," he said.

The fire department became aware of the item Tuesday afternoon when a Plymouth woman came into fire station offices in both communities.

The woman told the fire department she'd bought the $2.49 key chain for her young son at a party store at Joy and Tavistock. Attached to the chain, which also held a ring for keys, was the plastic ball containing the fluid.

"It apparently comes in two colors, blue and clear," said Plymouth Fire Chief Larry Groth.

The mother told the fire department that after she gave the key chain to her son, it was dropped. "The kid handed it back to the mother and said he didn't want it because it smelled bad, she could tell it was something like gasoline," Groth said.

"In our opinion it is an unsafe product to put in the hands of a child and to put near any open flame," he said.

"It could make a kid extremely sick."

Champagne said Thursday he is in the process of notifying Canton businesses and asking them to voluntarily remove it from the shelves. So far, three merchants have cooperated with the request.

The Plymouth fire marshal's division on Wednesday searched all retail stores in Plymouth city and Township, and found the item at the Amoco station at I-275 and Ann Arbor Road and at the Hop-In at Ann Arbor Trail and Mill Street.

"They both agreed to remove them immediately from the shelf, we have subsequently notified the Canton Fire Department," Groth said.

While the Michigan State Police Fire Marshal lab had tested the liquid on Wednesday, they found it to be a flammable medium to heavy petroleum product. By late Thursday, authorities had yet to report what petroleum product the liquid might be.

The state fire marshal had determined by Thursday afternoon that the item had come from a warehouse in Cincinnati, Ohio, and had been shipped from Taiwan. It is manufactured by Novelty, Inc. While the product did not pass one of that country's standards for export, it was allowed to be shipped anyway, Groth said.

Police agencies around the state would be alerted about the key chain, along with consumer product safety officials, Groth said.

utility master plan, that route is Beck Road to Saltz. Lewiston said his proposed route will head west along Cherry Hill and then north, approximately half-way between Ridge and Beck roads, into his subdivision.

The route will be determined during the planning commission's consideration of the Planned Development District (PDD). Park area will buffer Bordine's farm to the east and west, Lewiston said.

"Nothing we do affects his rights.. The tree line will be sufficient to barricade his property. The wetlands will be left 100 percent untouched. I don't see anything we do will have an adverse affect on Mr. Bordine. Of the 220-acre development, 82 acres will be left untouched. That's 37 percent," he added.

Resident Rob Mayfield said he wanted Saltz Road to remain unpaved.

A traffic study will be conducted by Wayne County Road Department to see if more than 1,000 cars per day will travel on Saltz Road, said Associate Planner Judy Bocklage. If so, the county will require that the road be paved, she said.

Lewiston said the subdivision won't generate 1,000 cars per day. There will be two entrance to the subdivision from Saltz Road.

The construction of the Founders Woods will not begin before 1998 and possibly not until 2000 depending upon the status of other projects, Lewiston said.

An arbitrator sided with the firefighter's plan based on a percentage of an officer's salary. It maxes out at 8 percent or an approximate payout of $4,000 for an officer with over 20 years of service.

"That benefit became a discussion for the Merit Commission. If the unions get it, than other groups are going to look at that and say 'me too.' We either need to extend the benefit to all or say no, that was forced on us by the arbitrator," said Yack.

The Merit Commission proposal phased in the longevity pay benefit and phased out the vacation buyout. In 1997, it is expected that the township will pay out $28,625 in iongevity benefits and $87,544 in vacation buyouts, altogether $116,169.

If the system stayed as is, Canton would pay $37,525 in longevity and $95,662 in vacation buyouts in the year 2000. If vacation buyouts were phased out by 2000, the township would pay only $115,471 in longevity under the proposed percentage plan.

"Philosophically, I have a hard time embracing compensation on longevity. I'd rather see it based on performance," said Yack.

Since longevity and vacation buyouts aren't given out until December of each year, officials have until then to decide, he added.

District will buy six portables to ease local overcrowding

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

■ PLYMOUTH-CANTON SCHOOLS

After weeks of haggling, a compromise has been reached concerning overcrowding at Bentley and Hulsing elementary schools.

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education voted to buy or lease six portable classrooms for the coming school year – one for Bentley; four for Hulsing; and one for Gallimore Elementary School.

Under the one-year plan, enrollment at Bentley and Hulsing will be on a first-come, first-served basis. When enrollment exceeds the target at Bentley, students will be sent to Hulsing. When Hulsing is full, students will be sent to Gallimore.

Because of greater-than-anticipated enrollment, siblings have been separated and assigned to Bentley and Hulsing, which has upset many parents.

Dave Rodwell, executive director of research and technology, said the citizens' housing committee approved the administration's recommendation with one change. Instead of placing two portables at Hulsing and two at Gallimore, the committee suggested placing four at Hulsing and one at Gallimore. The arrangement would allow families to keep siblings together at Hulsing only.

Students in new subdivisions Central Park and Fairways West – south of Cherry Hill and west of Beck Road – will be reassigned from Hulsing to Gallimore.

Ione Skaggs of Canton is among the parents whose children are separated, but will be reunited next year.

"I thank you for not increasing class size," she told the board. "That is the last thing anyone wanted. Now that these proposals have been accepted, can we take this to the bank? We have been made promises in the past that have been reneged upon."

Board president Mark Horvath said, "It's as certain as any other board decision. It would take board action to change it."

Should the $79.7 million bond issue pass in March, the attendance boundary changes will remain in place.

The bond issue would finance the building of a new high school and a new elementary school.

Robert Jones, finance committee member and former Plymouth mayor, asked about contingency plans. "This is just a one-year fix. We need a two-year fix. Heaven forbid the bond doesn't pass. Do we have a plan or the beginnings of a plan as to how we'd proceed without a new high school and without an elementary? "

If the bond proposal passes, said Superintendent Charles Little, "It will be at least two years until an elementary school opens and three years until the high school opens. There will be some rough times ahead for everyone."

If the bond fails, a stakeholders' committee would be formed after the election to help decide what to do, added Little.

Board vice president Michael Maloney expressed concern about how the recommendations were brought to the board. "The (superintendent's) cabinet (of administrators) changed the recommendations of the citizens housing committee. In the discussion at the last meeting, I was under the mistaken impression that a consensus had been reached, when it fact it hadn't. I don't think it's inappropriate for staff to change recommendations, but we should have circled back to the committee prior to coming back to the board."

The only other change school officials made to the committee's recommendations was to substitute the words "target enrollment" for "enrollment caps" in the policy.

"When you have firm caps, you take away any flexibility to put students where they will best be served educationally," said Errol Goldman, assistant superintendent for employee relations. "What we have are targeted areas, but not firm caps."

Little supported the idea. "If you take the policy of capping buildings to the 14th degree, you will run out of room for students."

Agreed Horvath: "Whoever is last on the train will end up with classes of 40 kids."

Administrators and board members commended the housing committee for its hard work and expressed concern about the several members who've resigned. "The whole committee, with just a few exceptions has been very active. They've dedicated a lot of time and effort to this process, conducting hearings and listening to the community," said Rodwell.

"We would like to have from the board the opportunity to have other citizens volunteer" to fill vacancies.

raising idea last month. Nelson's mother, Barbara Ann Nelson, died from cancer three years ago and Hardiek had also lost her father to the disease.

Beginning Super Bowl Sunday, the popular, neighborhood bar sold raffle tickets at $5 each (three for $10) for the right to cut off Nelson's tresses. Other prizes included T-shirts and a framed, Red Wings poster.

Wilcox and Gerald Hoffman won the haircut drawing. Hoffman, whose ticket was drawn first, used a scissors to claim Nelson's pony tail.

The raffle generated about $2,000. A late donor contributed a check for an additional $1,000 minutes before the event.

"We thought we'd have some fun and raise money for a good cause, but nobody thought it would be this kind of a success," Hardiek said.

They chose Tuesday for the party because it was Nelson's 40th birthday.

"I figured 'Why not cut my hair?' Forty is kind of a time to make changes," Nelson said.

Rusty Nail owner Russ Johnson of Canton said the attendance was closer in size to a weekend crowd. "Tuesday isn't usually our best night for business," he said.

Johnson, a former accountant who changed careers in the 1970s, met Nelson some time ago when the bartender was working at Mr. Mike's in Westland. He convinced his friend to move to the Rusty Nail a few years ago.

Nelson, who took the evening in stride, nevertheless appeared a little nervous as his appointment with the cutting shears approached. The mood among patrons grew more raucous as organizers waited for the end of the Red Wings game

Moments later, his head fit for Marine boot camp, the bartender was likely thinking about shopping for some new hats as soon as the stores opened Wednesday.

Charges filed in fatal crash

BY VALERIE OLANDER

An "immoderate" rate of speed and reckless driving at a deadly curve on Warren, east of Lilley, caused the traffic death of a 55-year-old Canton woman, according to the criminal complaint filed against John Gorski of Livonia.

Gorksi, 22, is being charged with negligent homicide in the Nov. 16 death of backseat passenger Carolyn Ann Jeungel. He stood mute at his arraignment in 35th District Court Thursday before Magistrate Eric Colthurst. Gorski was released on personal bond. A preliminary exam is set for March 7.

According to police reports, a Mustang was traveling at a speed of approximately 35 mph behind a 1996 Chevrolet Camaro driven by Gorski on westbound Warren. As the Mustang attempted to pass, the Camaro allegedly sped up. The driver of the Mustang told police that he also sped up to pass and then saw the curve causing him to brake.

The car went airborn, struck a ditch at a construction site and rolled over. Juengle and front seat passenger Aaron Skowronski, 23, were thrown from the car. Neither was wearing a seat belt, police said.

The stretch of Warren, east of Lilley, is the scene of several fatal accidents. Another fatality occurred at the curve in July.

Police put brakes on car thefts

■ COP CALLS

Police nabbed two alleged car thieves Feb. 2 during a sting operation at the Canton Crossings apartment complex, where a rash of car thefts was reported.

Lt. John MacDiarmid and officers Pat Sullivan, Chad Baugh and Scott Hilden were posted in unmarked cars at several locations within the complex when they noticed a black Ford Explorer suspiciously cruising the parking lots.

Baugh reported watching a passenger in the Explorer get out of the truck near Building 6 and use a tool to break into a Pontiac Bonneville. Police arrested Anthony Riley of Detroit for the attempted theft.

The driver of the 1997 Ford Explorer was arrested at Joy and Canton Garden, police said. James Ernest Doby, 30, also of Detroit, was in possession of .2 grams of marijuana, according to reports.

Purse snatching

A 61-year-old woman's purse was snatched when leaving a Lilley Road doctor's office about 2:30 p.m. Wednesday. The woman was not hurt during the incident although she was pulled to the ground by the thief. The thief was a passenger in a black car, possible a Chevrolet Cavalier, police said.

companies compete where just Omnicom was available before. But ironically, she can't receive cable as some outlying areas have yet to be wired.

"The impression is that service will be coming to our area, but I have called and have yet to receive a response," she said.

Ameritech spokesman David Onak said the company will soon expand to Southgate, Wayne, Lincoln Park and several Oakland County communities.

Will the rest of Wayne County follow?

"What we're trying to do is expand, build clusters of franchises around towns that already have franchises," he said, adding metro Detroit is a primary focus.

He said there is no current timetable for when further Ameritech expansion will happen in Wayne County.

In Garden City, Comcast Cablevision and Ameritech are battling it out for the minds and remote controls of viewers and residents welcome the competition.

In towns where Ameritech has approval to operate, each company has blanketed residents with promotional and marketing information touting their strengths.

Debie Comstock of Canton said she never had cable TV until she recently subscribed to Ameritech's "Americast" service. "They told us in the future you could do your banking and shopping over the system. I thought 'Who could beat out Ameritech?' because they do the phone lines," she said.

Donice Armstrong of Canton subscribes to Continental. When the company offered more channels after taking over from Omnicom, "I thought it was great," she said.

"Before we had to pay for each individual channel. We watch HBO and Cinemax, the kids watch Disney a lot. The cost isn't any greater than it was before."

"Once we're in the market, the other companies get religion," Onak said. "They start wearing uniforms like we do, they start wearing IDs and doing the same things we do."

In Plymouth-Canton-Northville, cable TV competition has also sparked competition for Internet services. Continental Cablevision spokesman Bill Black said, "We have a couple dozen test customers in Plymouth and Canton right now for our high speed Internet service. Over the next few months it will available throughout Plymouth, Canton and Northville," he said.

"Improved technology will also give us the ability to deliver a more specialized customer channel lineup," Black said.

Once the cost of digital set top converters comes down, as many as 300 channels will be available. "The customer probably for the same price they're paying right now will have the opportunity to choose the channels they want," Black said.

For Ameritech and its "Americast" cable TV service, "We believe there's a great opportunity for us," Onak said. "We've done surveys that show three out of four consumers want a choice in cable TV.

"We also believe that competition – and our early results are showing this – increases the number of people watching cable. Eight percent of customers told us they never had cable before."

A surplus

State government ran a surplus of $88.1 million in fiscal 1996, said Mark Murray, budget and management director.

Murray credited the improving economic climate and "strong, disciplined fiscal management," adding, "This represents the fourth consecutive year that no department overspent its appropriated budget."

Of the $88.1 million, Murray said:

- $58.1 million will go into the budget stabilization fund, or "rainy day" fund, to tide the state over in economic downturns. Total size of the rainy day fund is $1.1 billion.
- $10 million will go into cultural facilities. Applications to receive funds are being accepted through mid-February and are available through the Department of Management and Budget's office of education at 517/373-8883.
- $10 million will go to airport projects statewide.
- $10 million will go into special maintenance and remodeling projects.

The state's fiscal year ended Sept. 30. Final releases of funds will be made in March.

Democrat Bob Brown and Republican Michelle McManus were disappointed – but hardly surprised – when the state House of Representatives rejected their efforts to block pay hikes for state officials.

They needed a two-thirds vote –73 of the 109 sitting members – and both fell short. Lawmakers had until Feb. 1 to reject the 2.5 percent pay hikes before the State Officers Compensation Commission proposals took effect.

Voting yes (to reject) were: Lyn Bankes, R-Redford, Brown, Eileen DeHart, D-Westland, Tom Kelly, D-Wayne, Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, and Deborah Whyman, R-Canton.

Voting no: none.

McManus' resolution would have rejected only the legislative pay increase and got 66 votes.

Observer area representative voted the same except Kelly, D-Wayne, who missed the vote.

An increase in the minimum wage was reported out of the Senate Labor Committee, amended by Democrats on the Senate floor and moved into position for a final vote this week.

SB 1 is sponsored by Sen. Loren Bennett, R-Canton. The bill would:

- Raise the state wage (paid by companies not engaged in interstate commerce with gross receipts of less than $500,000) from the current $3.35 an hour to $4.75 on July 1 and $5.15 on Sept. 1, 1988.
- Permit a $2.52 per hour wage for employees who earn tips as long as the tips make up the difference to the minimum wage.
- Allow a $4.25 "training wage" for employees under age 20 for the first 90 days of work, equivalent to the summer season.

The Senate's version died in the House late in 1996 and had to be reintroduced this year.

The House Labor Committee also reported out its version of a minimum wage increase. It's more generous than the Senate bill:

- It would raise the minimum wage to $4.75 immediately instead of on July 1.
- It would apply the $5.15 rate on Sept. 1, 1997, a year earlier than the Senate bill.
- It would extend coverage to workers 14 and older instead of the current 18.

The state AFL-CIO applauded the House Democrats' version of the minimum wage bill, noting that the last increase occurred 16 years ago when legislators made $27,500, a bit more than half their current salary base.

Satellite TV: a full dish of choices

BY BARRY JENSEN
STAFF WRITER

First there was broadcast TV. You bought a TV set and an antenna. And you watched what was broadcast and liked it.

Then there was cable TV. You paid $20 a month to receive the programs broadcast and special-interest programming such as movies, local government and local schools. You watched what you wanted to pay for – and you paid every month.

Then along came a satellite receiver system and a big dish antenna that could be pointed at any satellite you could see. For a while, the only additional cost was $1,000 for the dish antenna and controller. You watched what you wanted, with no additional charge.

Then satellite transmission services started scrambling much programming and you watched what you wanted to pay for.

The newest approach is direct-broadcast satellites. It is very much like cable TV. You pay a monthly fee to receive movies, sporting events and special-interest programming.

Like the general satellite receiver system, you laid out several hundred dollars for the equipment; like cable TV, you watched what you wanted to pay for – and you paid every month. Now you have the choice of buying the equipment up front or leasing it.

The best-known providers of programming for direct-broadcast systems (although not the only ones) are Echostar, DirecTV and USSB. They are kind of like giant cable companies. They lease space on a satellite and sent out a broad variety of programming.

Advantages

In southeast Michigan, probably the biggest advantage of satellite TV companies is the quality of the sound and pictures, said Rod Paulson of Paulson's Audio and Video in Farmington Hills. One digital system currently offers horizontal 550 line of resolution, compared with the 330 lines on a traditional TV signal. You can also get CD-quality sound with satellite TV.

Satellite companies also offer a broad selection of programming, wider than most cable systems. The largest satellite TV companies can offer up to 200 channels.

Another plus of direct-broadcast systems is that you can use a much smaller dish antenna, about the size of a large pizza. Although RCA is the best-known name in satellite TV hardware, several other electronics companies make the hardware you would need to receive satellite TV service.

Disadvantages

One of the disadvantages is that you don't get local channels. "But you could receive local stations from your regular antenna. Or you could buy the most basic cable service," Paulson said.

The DishNetwork allows you to type in your ZIP code and the electronic system tells you where to point your antenna. But there must be no obstruction between the antenna and the satellite, he added.

Another disadvantage is that if you can receive broadcast TV, you are forbidden by law from receiving network programming from a satellite TV company. However, if you live beyond the reach of a broadcast station, you can get network programming from a satellite TV company.

If you want to watch different satellite channels on two TV sets at the same time, you'll have to buy another receiving setup, Paulson explained.

As with cable TV service, you can't watch programming from one satellite channel and, at the same time, record programming from another satellite channel on your VCR.

- DIRECT BROADCASTING SATELLITE - System in which signals are transmitted directly from a satellite to a home rooftop receiving dish (antenna).
- SATELLITE MASTER ANTENNA TELEVISION SYSTEM (SMATV) - Systems that serve a concentration of TV sets such as an apartment building, hotel, etc., utilizing one central antenna to pick up broadcast and/or satellite signals.
- SCRAMBLING - A signal security technique for rendering a TV picture unviewable, while permitting full restoration with a properly authorized decoder or descrambler.
- DESCRAMBLER - Electronic circuit that restores a scrambled video signal to its standard form.
- HDTV (High Definition TV, sometimes referred to as digital tv) - A television signal with greater detail and fidelity than the current TV systems used. The USA currently uses a system called NTSC; HDTV would provide a picture with twice the visual resolution as NTSC as well as CD-quality audio.
- INTERCONNECT - Connection of two or more cable systems by microwave, fiber, coaxial cable, or satellite, so that programming or advertising may be exchanged, shared, or simultaneously viewed.

Cable TV

- ACCESS CHANNELS - Channels set aside by the cable operator for use by the public, educational institutions, municipal government, or for lease on a non-discriminatory basis.

- CABLE TELEVISION - Communications system that distributes broadcast and non-broadcast signals, as well as a multiplicity of satellite signals, original programming and other signals by means of a coaxial cable and/or optical fiber
- COAXIAL CABLE - Actual line of transmission for carrying television signals. Its principal conductor is either a pure copper or copper-coated wire, surrounded by insulation and then encased in aluminum.
- COMPETITIVE ACCESS PROVIDER - A telecommunications entity engaged in providing competitive access service.
- CONVERTER - Device that is attached between the television set and the cable system that can increase the number of channels available on the TV set, enabling it to accommodate the multiplicity of channels offered by cable TV.
- FIBER OPTICS - Very thin and pliable tubes of glass or plastic used to carry wide bands of frequencies.
- FRANCHISE - Contractual agreement between a cable operator and a governmental body which defines the rights and responsibilities of each in the construction and operation of a cable system within a specified ~~geographic area. Under~~ the Cable Act, a cable operation may not provide cable service without a franchise.
- FRANCHISING AUTHORITY - Governmental body responsible for awarding a franchise, specifying the terms of a franchise, and regulating its operation. While the franchise authority is usually a local city of county body, some areas are regulated exclusively on the state level.
- LOCAL ORIGINATION PROGRAMMING - Programming developed by an individual cable television system specifically for the community it serves.
- PAY-PER-VIEW - Cable programming for which customers pay on a one-time basis (e.g., for prize fights, Broadway shows and movie premieres).
- PAY PROGRAMMING - Movies, sports, and made-for-cable specials that are available to the cable customer for a charge in addition to the basic fee.
- TIERED PROGRAMMING - A group of programs for which the customer is charged a fee. For example, most cable systems offer a satellite programming tier.
- SET TOP BOX - Any of several different electronic devices that may by used in a customer's home to enable services to be on that customer's television set. If the "set top" device is for extended tuning of channels only, it is called a CONVERTER. It restores scrambled or otherwise protected signals, it is a DESCRAMBLER.
- VIDEO ON DEMAND - An entertainment and information service that allows customers to order programs from library of material at any time they desire.

Isbister teacher cited by district

Penny Joy, Isbister Elementary School learning specialist and seven-year district employee, was given the Extra Miler Award by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education recently.

Joy has been involved with the Early Childhood Committee, the National Science Foundation Systemic Change Council and several district task forces.

As an early childhood advocate in the district, Joy recently earned national certification from the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards. There are just 376 teachers nationally who have received this recognition.

Joy was nominated by Karen Menke Paciorek, an early childhood consultant who has worked with Joy for three years. "Penny has shown great interest in early childhood issues in Plymouth-Canton. She is always aware of current research and works to inform others about the best teaching practices," Paciorek said. "Penny is very professional, knowledgeable and enthusiastic about the many wonderful successes in the district."

Isbister Principal Lee Harrison said, "Penny's positive outlook and attitude touch everyone at Isbister. Children flourish with her guidance; staff members appreciate her insight and assistance, and parents are pleased with the support she provides for children."

Radio days

Staff at WSDP, 88.1FM, recently dug up a stack of old reel-to-reel tapes featuring programs from the mid-1970s through the mid-1980s.

Tapes featured interviews, promotional announcements, program introductions and much more. "I felt like an archeologist searching for the lost treasures of the WSDP tomb," said Bill Keith, station manager.

CANTON CONNECTION

The tapes had been sitting in a cabinet, outside WSDP's production studio. "We've been working on the 25th anniversary for the station and some of our alumni asked if we had copies of old tapes. I didn't think we did but the next day I stumbled on these tapes," said Keith.

One of the tapes featured a Community Focus program from September of 1984. Host Noelle Torrace interviewed Bill Brown, former Salem High School Principal. During the show they discussed his long career in education. WSDP will re-air the interview on Wednesday, Feb. 19, at 5:40 p.m. as part of the stations 25th anniversary celebration.

WSDP is owned and operated by the Plymouth-Canton Schools. The station has been serving the community since Feb. 14, 1972.

Successful campaign

Shoppers at the Meijer store on Ford at Canton Center might want to offer congratulations to employees, who were part of a successful fund-raising effort for the United Way.

Final numbers are in and employees of the superstore chain raised more than $2 million during the 1997 campaign. "our employees should feel proud," said Fred Meijer, company chairman.

County to field questions on Newburgh project

■ The restoration plan is a multi-step process that needs the support and assistance from individuals and agencies across the Rouge River Watershed and the state.

The Wayne County Department of Environment will be conducting a public information meeting on the $10 million Newburgh Lake Restoration Project at 7 p.m. Thursday at Livonia City Hall Auditorium at 33000 Civic Center Drive.

The staff from the Wayne County Department of Environment and project consultants will answer questions from the public.

Newburgh Lake, located in the middle branch of the Rouge River west of Newburgh Road, is along the Edward Hines Parkway. It is in the city of Livonia and Plymouth Township.

Because many fish are contaminated with PCBs, a fish kill will be conducted this spring. Rotenone will be used to kill the fish in the lake once the water warms up and is lowered during the excavation. Native fish will be restocked in the lake once the kill is completed.

The Department of Environment has prepared answers to commonly asked questions:

What is wrong with Newburgh Lake?

Although Newburgh Lake does offer recreational opportunities like paddle boating, this resource suffers from various problems. Since Newburgh Lake was created in the early 1900s, sediments have accumulated. These sediments, some contaminated with pollutants, have significantly degraded the recreational quality of Newburgh Lake.

Shallow water depths resulting from the sediment accumulation and nutrient rich water have led to excessive growth of aquatic plants, Moreover, some of these sediments contain toxic contaminants such as polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) that have entered the food chain and are currently present in the fish.

These contaminated fish result in a potential human health hazard associated with their consumption. To eliminate this possible hazard, it is necessary to remove the contaminated sediments.

What studies were conducted on Newburgh Lake?

Various studies were conducted to design a restoration plan for Newburgh Lake. In November 1993, Newburgh Lake sediment was sampled at 21 sites, with an average core length of 7 feet.

The process of sediment sampling - called sediment coring - removes the first inches all the way to several feet into the lake bed, allowing scientists to analyze the sediment from various depths. Other studies measured the water depth, determined the volume and shoreline length.

What were the results of sediment sampling?

The sediment was analyzed for PCBs, various metal contamination and polyaromatic hydrocarbons (PAHs). Concentrations of total PCBs in Newburgh Lake sediment samples exceeded scientific-based toxicity guidelines for 43 percent of the samples analyzed. Of the levels exceeding this standard, 88 percent were found in the top 20 inches of sediment.

The highest metals concentrations also occurred in samples collected for the top 20 inches of sediment. The metals that most often exceeded their respective toxicity guidelines were nickel (41 percent of the samples), lead (26 percent) and zinc (26 percent).

Elevated levels of PAHs (associated with petroleum-based products) were also observed in the uppermost sediments. However, only 6 percent of the samples exceeded the toxicity guideline.

What is the Newburgh Lake restoration plan?

The restoration plan is a multi-step process that needs the support and assistance from individuals and agencies across the Rouge River Watershed and the state.

The plan has the following components:

■Remediation of contaminated sediment

The plan includes the removal of contaminated sediments from the lake bottom. Mechanical equipment will be used to excavate the sediments.

The contaminated sediment will be disposed of properly after it is removed.

The remediation began in the fall of 1996. It is scheduled to be complete in 1998. Approximately 390,000 cubic yards of contaminated sediment will be removed, and about another 230,000 cubic yards of additional sediment will be excavated to increase the lake's depth.

■Increase lake's depth

Another problem addressed by the restoration is the shallow water depths (currently averaging 3.9 feet). The restoration plan will provide for an 8-foot minimum depth, with the exception of shallow areas built for fish spawning and nursery.

■Fish removal and restocking

A prime goal of the Newburgh Lake restoration effort is to remove the PCB fish advisory in Newburgh Lake. Removing the fish advisory requires the fish be "eradicated" (killed) and removed, and the source of contaminants removed.

A final phase of the restoration will be to restock native fish in the lake. The predominant species expected to either be stocked or recruited from the upstream Rouge River are bluegill, largemouth bass, pumpkinseed and possibly northern pike.

■Aquatic plant control

Throughout the summer, Newburgh Lake suffers from "blooms" of aquatic plants that cover much of its surface, causing odor and other visual problems for humans.

As was stated above, a major component of the restoration is the removal of the contaminated sediments. This process should remove all existing vegetation, including the dominant vegetation, Chara.

Although this initial removal of the Chara provides an immediate solution, the potentially problematic vegetation may return. This vegetation can be controlled in the future by mechanical (harvesting) or chemical means.

■Vegetation restoration

Although some aquatic plants can be nuisances, other plants are essential in the restoration effort.

These plants are capable of removing pollutants through a variety of physical, chemical and biological processes. In addition, aquatic vegetation near the shoreline provides valuable fish and wildlife habitat and can be visually attractive using plants with showy flowers.

■Fish and wildlife habitat enhancement

A viable fishery can be created to contribute to a healthy lake ecology and recreation for anglers. Planting appropriate areas with a variety of plant life beneficial to fish and areas containing rocks to create a diversity of habitats.

Many of the plant species, trees and shrubs selected for the restoration will also enhance the wildlife in the area.

Nuisance wildlife must be controlled by informing the public. Many Canadian geese flock around the lake. Their numbers overwhelm the park. Ironically, the public is to blame for much of this problem through constant feeding of these birds throughout the year.

The restoration project's goal also is to inform the public about the ecosystem processes and work together to improve the environment.

■Public outreach and long term water quality goals

Storm water runoff becomes polluted from fertilizers, pesticides, oil and grease from roads.

This polluted storm water enters surface waters directly or through drains. Ensuring long term water quality benefits requires educating the public about their role in preventing pollution to the lake, including, but not limited, to information on fertilizer application, household hazardous waste management and controlling some wildlife.

■Who is involved in the restoration project?

Wayne County, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, local governments and residents are involved.

Dentistry in the 90s
GRINDING TO A HALT
The first indication that many people have that they are grinding their teeth at night comes from bedmates who report the sound of gnashing teeth. However, because only 20 percent of people with this problem (called bruxism) actually make noise in their sleep, their dentists are usually the first ones to spot the signs of teeth grinding. They include worn-down teeth, damaged dental work, and even tooth fractures. Symptoms of bruxism that patients themselves may notice include waking up with aching jaws, muscle pain, or dull headaches. The culprit of all this grinding and its serious effects is usually tension. Until a change in lifestyle or a stress-management technique an be put in place to stop the cause of bruxism, the dentist can prescribe a plastic mouth guard to be worn at night over the upper or lower teeth to protect teeth from chronic grinding.
Are you a candidate for a night guard? At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we provide quality, comprehensive dental care for the entire family. Preventing dental disease is less costly and more rewarding than correcting the problems after they occur. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road, where we're always happy to discuss improving your smile, and thus, your total felling of self-esteem. Romantic dinner 'Sets Hearts Afire'

As history tells, a priest named Valentine of Rome was said to be martyred about 269 during the persecution ordered by Claudius the Goth, which resulted in the Saint Valentine Feast Day. Since its origin, the Feast Day (a religious holiday) has been far overshadowed by its non-religious traditions such as, the sending of love notes, which began in the Middle Ages on Feb. 14.

The Europeans believe that birds began to mate on that very date. Once the Valentine custom became established, it came to be the exchange of tokens of love. With the organization of the postal service, Valentine's Day exploded with "say it all" greeting card companies.

May I suggest that this Valentine's Day be a "Feast of St. Valentine" for two with recipes for food, love and life.

Food

Our Hearts AFire, dinner for two, features Citrus marinated shrimp • beautiful baby greens • chicken or salmon "Lover's Lane" • fresh bundled asparagus, julienne vegetables, and winter risotto • Hearth baked breads and rolls from Breadsmith Bakery • chocolate chambord fantasy. You can make it yourself, or order it to go from Schoolcraft College in care of Chef Sylvia Hayes (313) 462-4491. The cost is $34.95 per couple. Proceeds help fund scholarships for Schoolcraft College culinary arts students.

Dinners can be picked up at Schoolcraft College's Professor Pantry, in the Waterman Center on campus, 7 Mile Road at Haggerty, Livonia, between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Friday, Feb. 14, or at Two Unique Caterers, 1250 Kensington Road, Bloomfield Hills, (810) 642-5240; Breadsmith of Bloomfield, 3592 W. Maple, Bloomfield Hills (810) 540-8001, Breadsmith Cafe of Farmington Hills, 32990 Middlebelt Road, Farmington Hills (810) 855-5808, or Breadsmith of Troy, 5069 Livernois, Troy (810) 879-8997.

- 1 pinch of cayenne

Combine all prepared ingredients. Mix in a bowl and adjust the seasoning. Let the bowl set a few hours in the refrigerator.

Arrange the sliced shrimp on an appetizer plate in a circle. Place a scoop of tropical salsa in the center of the plate. Drizzle the shrimp with some extra juice left from the bowl. Shrimp and salsa can be prepared up to one day in advance.

• Dim the lights, light some candles, a romantic dinner for two begins.

BEAUTIFUL BABY GREENS

- 1 cup cleaned and cut Romaine lettuce
- 1 cup Mesclin greens — baby field greens, gourmet or exotic greens

From the Halls of Montezuma comes a treat for you and me

BY PEGGY MARTINELLI-EVERTS
SPECIAL WRITER

Who can resist the sweet, smooth, creamy, satisfying flavor of chocolate, that wonderful treat that is loved by women, men and children all over the world and has been for centuries?

The world "chocolate" comes from the Aztec xocolati, meaning "bitter water" and the unsweetened drink the Aztecs made of pounded cocoa beans and spices was probably extremely bitter. Nevertheless, the Aztec king Montezuma so believed that chocolate was an aphrodisiac that he purportedly drank 50 golden goblets of it each day. Casanova used chocolate as an inducement to romance.

Scientists know that chocolate has certain bioactive characteristics that influence the central nervous system. It contains caffeine and is a stimulant. However, they have not actually proven chocolate to be an aphrodisiac. We do not know whether it is the bioactive substances in chocolate or whether it is the luxurious taste, texture and aroma that really satisfies us and improves our mood.

Chocolate comes from the tropical cocoa bean, Theobroma ("food of the gods") cacao. After the beans are removed from their pods they're fermented, dried, roasted and cracked, separating the nibs (which contain an average of 54 percent cocoa butter) from the shells. The nibs are ground to extract some of the cocoa butter, leaving a thick, dark brown paste. Further processing and the addition of milk and sugar turns the paste, called chocolate liquor, into the voluptuously smooth chocolate we know and love.

For all of its wonderful attributes, chocolate is not a "nutritionist's" dream food. It is rich in calories and saturated fat and low in vitamins. But the good news is that you can enjoy the luscious taste of chocolate, without all the fat, if you're willing to indulge in moderation, try some new recipes and select your chocolate "fix" carefully.

If you're watching caffeine consumption, remember that a 1.45 ounce bar contains about 27 milligrams. As a comparison, six ounces of brewed coffee contains 103 milligrams and 6 ounces of brewed tea has 36 milligrams.

Dr. Dean Ornish, the world-famous director of the Preventative Medicine Research Institute in Sausalito, Calif., and a leading exponent of ultra low-fat eating, indulges in chocolate regularly. For Dr. Ornish the taste treat that thrills him most deeply is a dark, bittersweet chocolate candy with a bit of caramel in the center. However, unlike Montezuma, Dr. Ornish takes his chocolate in very strict moderation — one piece is all he needs.

To make the most of his indulgence, first he takes a good look at it. Then he closes his eyes and smells it. He bites slowly, noticing all the different flavors; the textures; the way it feels as he swallows.

In a recent edition of a popular magazine he said: "I notice that the flavors occur at different times, almost like a symphony, in different parts of my mouth and throat. Then, there

MMMM CHOCOLATE

■ Good chocolate choices:
Instead of chocolate snack cakes try cupcakes made with low-fat cake mix

■ How to measure chocolate quality
The chocolate should be glossy. Milk chocolate will have less of a hard shine than dark chocolate. If the chocolate has gone through some temperature extremes it will "bloom" whereby the cocoa butter comes to the surface, dries, and leaves a gray-whitish film.
The chocolate should smell fresh, moist and fragrant. When you break the chocolate bar into pieces, it should separate clean, without crumbling – (crumbling means it is stale). When chocolate is chilled, it will splinter into distinct pieces.
The chocolate should melt quickly and evenly on your tongue without leaving any dry lumps.

■ Storage
Store chocolate in a cool, dry place away from direct light (60-70 degrees F.) Serve at room temperature. Chocolate freezes well, just be sure to thaw before eating to enjoy the full chocolate flavor.

■ Dark or milk chocolate
Stumped by whether you should buy your sweetie dark or milk chocolate? As a guideline, if someone likes their coffee black, they will probably prefer dark chocolate. If they take cream and sugar in their coffee, chances are they'll enjoy milk chocolate.

LAURA'S FAT-FREE KITCHEN

BY LAURA L. SYKES
SPECIAL WRITER

Bisque is a rich creamy soup that is made from fish or game. It can also be a frozen ice cream dessert. Either way, it doesn't sound very low in calories or fat. Today's original recipe is not extremely bad for us. But, we know there is always room for improvement.

Our first ingredient is one pound of salmon. The rule of thumb is that fresh is always better. The only problem with this philosophy is that fresh is not always more convenient. Fortunately, in this case, it is not true. Both canned and fresh fish must have the bones and skin removed. Since fresh fish is still in one piece, it is easier to find the bones and skin and remove them. Canned fish must be sorted through to find these items.

The benefit of canned fish is that it can be bought well in advance of making the recipe. But, 16 ounces of canned salmon contains 27.5 grams of fat, 631 calories and 2,513 milligrams of sodium.

The same amount of fresh fish contains 15.7 grams of fat, 526 calories and only 304 milligrams of sodium. The reduction in fat is significant, but the enormous reduction in sodium is the true benefit of fresh fish.

As always, reaching for the low sodium version of canned tomato products painlessly reduces our salt intake.

By substituting evaporated skim milk for the regular version, we were able to eliminate 30 grams of fat, 232 calories and 106 milligrams of cholesterol from this recipe. The sodium content remained about the same.

In the low-fat version I added one teaspoon of lemon pepper. This made a significant difference in the flavor. It mellowed the fish taste. This is definitely the "secret ingredient" of this recipe.

Be sure to add the skim milk as directed. Otherwise, it may curdle while cooking. Although this will not affect the taste of the soup it will make it look unappetizing.

Chocolate Chambord Fantasy

2 sheets of parchment paper
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/8 cup sugar
3 tablespoons chambord
3/4 pound finely chopped bittersweet chocolate
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1/2 cup Dutch process cocoa powder

Line 6 by 9-inch baking dish with parchment paper.

In a saucepan combine cream, sugar and chambord over medium heat and bring to a boil. Remove from the heat. Stir in 3/4 of the chopped chocolate and vanilla. Stir until the chocolate is melted.

Place in a bowl in the fridge, scaping the sides of the bowl every 10 minutes until the ganache is chilled, but stir pourable. This process takes 25-35 minutes.

Beat the ganache at medium speed until it lightens in color and thickens to a mousse-like consistency, approximately 1 minute.

Scrape the ganache into prepared baking dish working very quickly, and spreading evenly. (Use the 2nd sheet of parchment to help smooth the top).

Refrigerate for 20-30 minutes. Melt the remaining chocolate and spread it over the ganache. Dust with cocoa powder. Refrigerate for 20 minutes. Remove from refrigerator and cut into heart shapes or any shape you desire.

are different aftertastes."

Eating the piece of chocolate takes Dr. Ornish several minutes. By making time for his special treat — alone without interruptions — he finds that usually one piece is all he wants, the experience lingers.

Moderation is certainly the key to healthful enjoyment of chocolate, or any dessert for that matter. Another important consideration is your choice of chocolate products. When preparing chocolate recipes, remember to check labels of all the ingredients you buy.

For example, Bakers chocolate-flavored chips contain about 9 grams of fat in 1/4 cup versus Hershey's semi-sweet chocolate chips, which contain almost 13 grams of fat. Plus there are many reduced-calorie pudding, cake and dessert mixes available. Check and compare nutrition labels and select those lowest in saturated fat and cholesterol.

Grocery store shelves are lined with new reduced-fat cookies, chocolate bars and desserts that appear to be better choices than traditional chocolate bars. But are they?

It is important to always read the nutrition label on each package. Just because a package is lower in fat, it is not always lower in calories too. Those green boxes are not necessarily green lights that allow you to eat as much of the product as you want. However, some manufacturers have hit the mark with great tasting products that also provide some of your daily nutritional needs.

We recently tried the nonfat milk chocolate yogurt from Snackwell's and found it quite good. In addition to satisfying our chocolate craving, it also provided five grams of protein and 15 percent of the daily requirement for calcium.

For just about everyone, chocolate can be a part of your diet if you choose wisely and allow for the calories and fat.

Bakers ready to roll out the Cadillac of doughnuts — Paczki

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Paczki used to be a Polish thing — not anymore. Everyone loves paczki — plump, jelly-filled doughnuts traditionally eaten on "Fat Tuesday," the day before Lent begins.

Bakers will be working round the clock to make paczki for customers who will begin lining up this weekend. "We're getting ready for the big day," said Dan Domzalski and Rich Jurkiewicz of Paris GM Bakery, 28418 Joy Road, Livonia, (313) 425-2060. "We start making them Saturday, and continue Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. We'll be open 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday; 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Tuesday. Last year we sold 5,000 dozen. This year we anticipate selling over 6,000 dozen."

What makes paczki the "Cadillac of doughnuts?"

Mary Denning, who just expanded her popular Cake Shoppe at 8036 N. Wayne Road, Westland, (313) 261-3680, to include a coffee shop where cake decorating classes will be offered beginning Feb. 24, is getting ready for the big day too.

"It's like having cookies at Christmas," she said. "Paczki are a tradition, and everything is coming back full circle. People are interested in these old traditions. The dough is richer, and they take longer to fry, that's why they're so good. Regular jelly doughnuts are made with a lean dough that doesn't include egg yolks or milk."

Chris and Jacqui of Ridley's Bakery Cafe, 4054 Rochester Road, Troy, (810) 689-8638, has introduced a "guilt-less" paczki that "tastes as good and yet is much more gentler on the tummy." They've developed a paczki that's lower in fat, and baked, not deep fried. Fillings include chopped spy apples, red raspberries, lemon, cherry, apricot and chocolate chip, canoli bavarian cream.

Call your favorite baker, and order early — "so we'll know how many to make," said Denning. "It helps." Expect to pay $11.95 to $7.50 a dozen.

Sister Mary, who grew up in Poland, and helps out at my church, St. Barbara, in Dearborn, showed me how to make paczki a week ago Saturday.

For Polish Americans, many of whom are Catholic, making paczki is a way to use up the extra fat, eggs and rich jams around the house so they would not go to waste, or tempt those in the household, during Lent when many Catholics fast. Sister Mary adds homemade candied orange peel to her paczki dough.

I learned a lot about making paczki, and patience helping Sister Mary make paczki. She shops for ingredients in Hamtramck, and fills her paczki with prune butter. Other popular fillings include custard, blueberry and raspberry jam.

For those planning a trip to Hamtramck, some of my favorite stops are: Polish Art Center, 9539 Jos. Campau; Ciemniak's Meat Market, 9629 Jos. Campau, and Kopytko Meat Market. There are lots of good bakeries on Jos. Campau too including—New Martha Washington, New Palace, and Oaza.

Here's a recipe to try.

Paczki

4 (1/4 ounce) packages active dry yeast (4 tablespoons)
1/3 cup warm water (110 degrees F.)
2 tablespoons plus 1 cup granulated sugar
6 3/4 cups all-purpose flour
1 1/4 cups milk, warmed
12 egg yolks
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup butter, melted, cooled
1/2 cup margarine, melted, cooled
2 tablespoons Polish spirits or rum
About 3/4 cup thick cherry jam or other favorite jam
Vegetable oil
Powdered sugar

Grease 3 baking sheets. in a medium bowl dissolve yeast in water. Stir in 2 tablespoons granulated sugar and 1/4 cup flour. Blend in milk until smooth. Let stand until foamy, 5 to 10 minutes.

In a large bowl beat egg yolks, 1 cup granulated sugar, salt and vanilla until pale and creamy. Add yeast mixture, melted butter and margarine, 3 cups flour and spirits (strong vodka will work too) or rum. Work mixture into a soft dough, adding flour as needed. Turn out dough on a lightly floured surface. Clean and grease bowl.

Knead dough 8 to 10 minutes or until smooth and elastic, working in additional flour as needed. Place dough in greased bowl, turning to coat all sides. Cover and let rise in a warm place, free from drafts, until doubled in bulk, about 2 to 2 1/2 hours.

On flat surface, roll out about 1 cup raised dough until 1/4 inch thick. Keep remaining dough covered to prevent drying. Using a 2 1/2-inch round cutter, cut out dough. Place 1/2 teaspoon jam on 1 dough round. Lightly place another dough round directly on top of the first, covering the jam. Using your fingers, crimp dough edges together tightly to prevent halves from separating during frying.

Place filled doughnut on a flat working surface. Using a 2 1/4-inch round cutter, press over doughnut so crimped rough edge gets trimmed smooth and round. Place filled doughnut on a lightly greased baking sheet.

Repeat process with remaining dough and jam until all baking sheets are filled, being careful to leave enough room between each doughnut for spreading when dough rises.

Cover each baking sheet of doughnuts with a clean cloth. Let rise in a warm place, free from drafts, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Pour oil (Sister uses Mazola) in a deep fryer or large saucepan to a depth of about 5 inches. Heat to 360 degrees F or until a 1-inch bread cube turns golden brown in 60 seconds. (Sister checks the temperature of her oil with a slice of potato).

Add doughnut without crowding, (so they have room to swim in the oil), raised or top-side down, so bottom will round out during cooking. Fry 3 to 4 minutes until golden brown. Turn and fry other side about 3 minutes or until golden brown on both sides. Drain on paper towels. Dust paczki with powdered sugar. Makes 50 to 60 doughuts.

Tip: Sister adds raw potato slices to help cool down the oil when it gets too hot!

Duo sees all, knows all from perch at Westland mall

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Perhaps you're troubled by a past-life experience that you need to confront and sort out.

Maybe you simply want a psychic to read your palm or unveil your future with Tarot cards.

Possibly you're seeking a hypnotist to help you lose weight or stop smoking.

Maybe you want to tap into your psychic abilities.

Perhaps you even need a ghost-buster to rid your house of unwelcome spirits.

Who 'ya gonna call?

Try your local mall.

Tucked away in Westland Shopping Center's lower level, Ray Fraser and daughter Wendy offer these services and more at their business, Mystiques-West.

Forget those television psychic hotlines that can put you into debt faster than you can say "Dionne Warwick."

You can visit Mystiques-West without even calling, although the Frasers do have a business number (1-888-FORTOLD).

They also have a radio show, "Mystical Connection," that airs Fridays from 11 a.m. to noon on AM-1460, WPON. Listeners receive mini-psychic readings.

When this reporter visited Mystiques-West, Wendy Fraser, 27, agreed to give a sample reading from her Tarot cards.

It seems I spent too ~~much~~ money in 1996. (As opposed to other years?)

A job promotion or change may be looming in 1997. (But I like my little corner of the newsroom.)

I may have educational opportunities. (Ain't I smart enough?)

And, about my love life.

"I see that you became involved in a relationship in 1996," Wendy said.

And I see a sudden need to separate reporter from story. Now.

"Everybody has the ability to be psychic," Wendy Fraser said. "It depends on how you develop it."

The Frasers say they will help you during psychic development classes offered on Mondays from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Don't tell Dionne, but they're free.

But the Frasers know that you can't run a business without charging customers for something, even though Ray Fraser, a Canton Township resident, makes money in his job erecting billboards for a major outdoor advertising company.

Psychic readings cost $20 for 30 minutes, but you get to keep a cassette tape of the session. Cheaper readings are available at $10 for 10 minutes, but the tape will cost an extra $1.

Mystiques-West also sells metaphysical supplies, such as Tarot cards, stones, incense and necklaces.

Never let it be said that psychics are selfish. Ray Fraser said he has helped with fund-raisers for Garden City Hospital, the Pediatric AIDS Society and Parents of Murdered Children, among other organizations.

Ray Fraser began delving into the psychic world 22 years ago, when he says he made contact with the spirit of a young man who had been killed in a Jackson residence and then buried under a cistern.

Unlike his daughter, he doesn't use Tarot cards. He said he just "tunes into" the customer.

At Wisconsin's Morris Pratt Institute, he has completed enough pastoral studies to qualify as a spiritual minister, although he has to wait a year for his certificate.

On occasion, the Frasers have been accused of doing the work of the devil – a criticism that Ray Fraser dismisses as stemming from ignorance.

"We actually don't even believe in the devil," he said.

"We're here to help people," her father said. "It's not entertainment, and we're not here to make a lot of money."

Most Mystiques-West customers are women. Men, it seems, have barriers.

"It's a macho thing," Ray Fraser said. "A lot of this is passive, and men don't want to feel passive."

The business started in February, 1994, in Plymouth, but the Frasers moved to Westland Center in October.

"This location makes us visible to thousands of people each month," Wendy Fraser said. "Hopefully we can help others to realize that being psychic is normal."

They have help from other staff members such as Arlene Lane, a Tarot card reader for 30-plus years; Ada Graham, an equally experienced palmist and card reader; Gloria Swenson, a numerologist who also reads playing cards; Brady Epps, an astrologist and Tarot card reader; and Ron Lane, a psychologist and hypnotherapist.

Spread some joy with a Valentine

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
EDITOR

Deep in the dark, damp of winter comes a fun little holiday to brighten spirits.

At least that's what Valentines Day on Feb. 14 has always meant to me.

Growing up, too young for sweethearts, my sisters and I could always depend on dear 'ol dad for some surprises.

When we came downstairs for breakfast we'd each find a Valentine card, small box of Sanders chocolates and a flannel nightgown tied together with big red ribbon on our chair. It was the same wonderful treat Valentines Day after Valentines Day through the 60's and 70's – card, candy, nightgown – and we loved it!

I remember my first real Valentine in seventh grade when a crumbled pink piece of paper flew through the air in math class and landed on my desk.

Written with red checking pencil: "Sue, do you like me? Yes? No?" – Sam F.

There were two boxes at the bottom of the note where I was supposed to check off the answer.

When I met my true love, Valentines Day took on new meaning. I never dreamed it could be so grand! Jewelry, flowers, boxes of chocolate and poetry written especially for me. I still recall his most eloquent, "Susan dear, I have this bug. I always want to see your mug."

The point of all this, is that a Valentine is a powerful thing!

That's why card shops are all pink and red this time of year (Hallmark reports 900-million love notes will be exchanged in 1997 – half will be hand-delivered) and candy store windows grab your eye with beautiful heart-shaped boxes brimming with sweet assortments.

Jewelers showcase glittering garnet and diamond pieces this month resting on pillows of velvet and lace. Florists move thousands of roses by the dozen through their doors. China shops feature romantic patterns and crystal vases in candlelit vignettes for two.

Valentines Day is the third most popular occasion of the year for going out to eat, according to a survey by the National Restaurant Association. (Birthdays are tops, followed by Mother's Day.)

But Valentines Day is not about spending big bucks at the mall. Knowing my dad and mom back in those days, our flannel nightgowns were probably bought for half-off at Sears or Hudson's during the January clearance sales.

I called dad the other day to find out.

"Well, well, well," came the familiar cherished voice. "Funny, you should mention those nightgowns. Mom and I were walking through Sears a few weeks ago and nightgowns were on sale. I asked her if we should mail you girls some this Valentines Day as sort of a nostalgic surprise."

"No kidding dad!" I laughed. "What a coincidence, I'm only asking about them because I'm writing a column on Valentines and those nightgowns used to mean so much to Karen, Nancy and I!"

"Too bad," he sighed. "I knew we should have bought some, but mom insisted you girls don't wear them anymore."

Crowley's 'solid' as old store closes

Crowley shoppers fear not! Despite a rocky few years, the venerable Detroit retailer has refueled, is back on track, and heading for new suburban shoppers and markets – according to CEO Denny Callahan.

JUDITH DONER BERNE
SPECIAL WRITER

Denny Callahan

If you look at the Birmingham Crowley's, almost midway through a liquidation sale that includes furs and oriental rugs, you'd never guess that "Detroit's own department store" chain is in an expansion mode.

"It wasn't our decision to leave Birmingham," said CEO Denny Callahan. The store is expected to be razed in favor of a movie theater-restaurant-retail complex. "But to be totally honest, the real estate and taxes were very expensive. We were not profitable to the extent we needed to be."

His search for another Birmingham-Bloomfield location has come up empty so far, but he's still looking there and in other locations accessible to what he calls metro Detroit's second tier of suburbs: Rochester Hills, Novi-Brighton, Plymouth-Canton-Northville.

Although department stores nationally and locally are having problems, "We'd like to open more stores," Callahan said. And last year's acquisition of Steinbach Stores, Inc., a Columbus Ohio company that operated a 10-store chain in the Northeast, gave Crowley's the capital to expand operations in the Detroit area.

Meantime, Callahan announced that Crowley's will expand its store in the New Center area by 20 percent. And he's currently negotiating with General Motors to follow it to the Renaissance Center and open a Crowley's there.

Callahan, who took over as CEO in 1992, is generally credited with turning Crowley's around. The company actually faced bankruptcy in 1993. But through a combination of cost-cutting and carving out Crowley's niche in the Detroit market, expenses were reduced from 38 percent of sales to less than 30 percent.

"We went back to what Crowley's customer was," the mild-mannered, accessible CEO said. In what he described as an over-retailed metro Detroit market, "you have to give them as good merchandise at the same price but customer service along with it."

A visit to the Farmington Hills' Crowley's finds Diane Klein trying on gloves.

"The store is convenient and I have 20 minutes to shop," explained Klein, of West Bloomfield. "I've always liked their quality. Now, if I can just find a sales person."

Finding that sales person is relatively easy. Ceiling signs denoting "Service, service, service" are perched over each cash register. And Klein is just who Crowley's CEO is targeting.

"We're trying to offer a customer a chance to get what she wants in an hour."

They accomplish that, Callahan said, through their location in small malls with accessible parking, a map of the store at each entry and well-marked departments and designers.

Klein is younger than most of the shoppers on this wintry Thursday morning. But not quite as young as the new audience of women Callahan is trying to lure to Crowley's. Ninety-five percent of Crowley's shoppers are female. And even in their well-stocked men's department, most merchandise is bought by women.

The over-50 woman (on this morning most are well over 60) has been Crowley's bread and butter. But since Callahan took over, they have tried to appeal to a younger woman, as well, by upgrading their petite and maternity departments and expanding children's clothing.

Luggage, small electric appliances, plush toys and gifts have been added to their apparel offerings, because "there's a lot of competition particularly for the apparel dollar."

Less than exciting designs and little interest in hemline lengths have prompted a national decline in sales of women's apparel, according to Callahan. "They buy it more when they need it. So we decided that we weren't going to sell you two blouses if you only needed one."

At the same time, they stepped up to the reality that they can't entice the teen shopper who frequents the mega mall. So they no longer have separate young men's departments and offerings in junior sizes aren't "the bubblegum junior looks."

"They've made their own niche that's separate from other department stores," concluded Jeff Green, head of a retail consulting group in Troy.

"I call them a promotional department store with good quality and good sales at an affordable price. That to me is their strength."

"For 10 years there have been rumors that Crowley's would close," Green reported. "Now they seem stronger than they've ever been. That's a great tribute to Denny."

With Jacobson's closing three Michigan stores and rumors that Hudson's has been or is about to be sold, Crowley's turnaround is particularly impressive. Still, Callahan isn't resting on his laurels.

"We've been able to get expenses down significantly but we can't be stagnant."

For the future, "We'll probably either be absorbed by someone else or grow and acquire other companies."

Birmingham stylist is a local legend

BY BARB PERT TEMPLETON

Those are just a few of the compliments area salon owners bestow on longtime Birmingham hair stylist Antonino (Nino) Genna, 80.

Genna, the patriarch of the hair biz in metro-Detroit for the last five decades, has trained hundreds of hair dressers including many who currently own salons in the area.

"I've seen a lot of hair dressers over the years, some have come from all over the world, I haven't seen any better then Nino," said Gerald Haynes, who trained with Genna many years ago and currently owns Geralds in Franklin Village.

In fact, Genna himself still spends several week day mornings cutting and styling hair at Antonino's Salon in downtown Birmingham.

"It's like a hobby to me now," smiled Genna. "I go in see a few friends who are longtime customers and I enjoy it."

Making that "hobby" a career isn't what Genna had in mind when he graduated from Cass Tech High School in Detroit in 1935. He had spent many hours studying art and had hoped to pursue a career in commercial art or advertising but that type of employment was scarce.

"A friend said you like to do things with yours hands Nino. Why don't you take up hair dressing?" recalled Genna. "At first I didn't think I was going to like it but it was inexpensive to train to I started going to beauty school during the day and working in a factory at night."

He landed his first job in 1937 at a salon in Detroit's Book Cadillac Hotel and was building a strong client base when he was drafted in 1943.

Returning from his tour of duty Genna, who by now had a wife and daughter to support, decided he wanted to open a business of his own. "Coiffures by Nino" was a tiny studio along Six Mile Road but Genna soon began drawing in his old clients from the Book Cadillac Hotel.

"All the real prestigious shops were downtown at that time but I did alright," said Genna. "I won some national competitions and so did one of my hairdressers so companies like Clairol and Revlon started calling and asking me to do work at their (trade) shows," said Genna. "It was good for my ego and good to get recognition from fellow workers."

"Nino is an artist and there aren't many who are in this profession," said Haynes, who worked along side Genna at the Six Mile shop. "He brought class and dignity to the profession."

When Haynes decided to open his own salon he didn't leave alone. He took his wife Barbara, who was Nino's top stylist, with him. There were no hard feelings.

"When I opened Nino brought me enough shampoo and permanent waves to last eight months," smiles Haynes. "He's a marvelous guy."

Agim and Sheriban Bardha, longtime owners of Bardha's Salon in Birmingham echo Haynes praises of the man they call "a good friend who is like a father to us."

"My husband Agim worked for Nino Genna for many years when he first arrived in this country from Albania," said Mrs. Barhda. "When my husband and his brother decided to open a shop of their own Nino offered them money to get started, that's how good a man he is."

In the 1960's Nino decided to move his salon from Detroit to Birmingham and had a new building constructed along Woodward. The floor plan included 12 booths, a shampoo room and an area at the back for hair dryers.

"In 1970 I got talked into moving to Somerset, so I opened Nino over there."

"It was exciting to work with Nino in the 70's because anybody that was anybody worked with him," said Peter Scaglione, owner of Pete's Place in Birmingham. "And you could go to salons around the city and tell which ones were owned by people who worked with Nino just by the cuts they were doing, how clean it was and how the business was run."

After the death of his wife Angela, Genna sold the Somerset store that still bears his name.

Wild ideas for Valentines Day
Trend watcher Gerald Celente, in his new book "Trends 2000," said Valentines Day "is a pretty big deal, particularly in a society that is very short on affection and emotion. People are working harder and longer than ever before. As they have less and less time to show affection to the special people in their lives, they'll rely on Valentine's Day as a time to show affection."

Celente said that much like Halloween, "we only see the Valentines holiday growing in importance."

Aveda founder visits new lifestyle store in Troy

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
EDITOR

Horst Rechelbacher, CEO and founder of the Aveda hair and skin products, swept through his newest store at the Somerset Collection North in October, surrounded by staff and public relations people.

He was anxious to discuss his "pure plant and flower products – nothing petroleum-based" which he insists "are simply the best."

"Now I am on the board of 16-hospital body in Minnesota which will use Aveda products in the hospital environment to promote healing through aromatherapy. This is very exciting."

Rechelbacher, 56, refers to himself as a "jack-of-all trades" - having enjoyed careers as a hairdresser, herbalist, visionary and entrepreneur. He mentions with a wry smile that it took him 28 years to earn a doctorate in aromatic medicine.

In 1978 he launched Aveda. It's pronounced A-vay-da which in sanskrit means "knowledge of nature." His first product was a clove shampoo.

Today Aveda Concept Businesses (spas, salons and stores of which there are more than 1,500 in the United States) offer clients "wellness beauty centers." This multi-million dollar international company has more than 700 pure-flower and plant-based lifestyle products for sale. Not bad for the son of a small town Austrian herbalist.

Rechelbacher points to a desktop ionizer and explains that it is one of the lifestyle stores' best-selling items. The staff nods in agreement. "We can't keep it on the shelves. It keeps home and workplace pure."

At Aveda, shoppers can customize hair and skin products with their favorite scents - "classics of the past" based on old European and Asian formulas of bergamot, jasmine, patchouli, cinnamon bark in clove, and Ylang Ylang, to name a few.

Depending on the essences, the products claim to "decongest, energize, relieve stress, soothe irritated skin, and purify the air." There are restorative teas to "strengthen self and ease stress."

The problem with other cosmetic and skin care companies, according to Rechelbacher "is they try to chemically duplicate nature instead of cultivating it."

"Aveda searches the globe for ingredients derived from plants that are organically grown without the use of petrochemical pesticides," he said. "Our research and development team works with physicians, botanists, chemists, pharmacologists and indigenous healers to learn more about the benefits of plants." Rechelbacher has written a book on the subject "Rejuvenation."

In 1991 he established the Give to the Earth Foundation a non-profit providing assistance to people and projects with a "direct, identifiable and positive impact" on the environment. He has won a UNICEF Mother-Friendly Workplace award for his company's on-site daycare program, a Corporate Conscience Award for pro-active environmentalism, and the Green Spade Award for "preservation of the earth and commitment to sustainable agriculture."

Basketry has natural appeal

Editor's note: We have good news! Linda Ann Chomin will be joining the Observer Newspaper staff as a full-time arts reporter on Monday. You can reach her during business hours at (313) 953-2145.

Antlers from a veterinarian's deer and llama farm in St. Clair, gourds grown in the South and pine needles gathered by a friend in Florida – Kathi Fricke uses all these materials and more to create baskets with natural appeal.

While Fricke was in town this week to install an exhibit of her basketry in the second floor showcases at the Livonia Civic Center Library, I decided to inquire where she acquired her natural materials. Being an animal lover, I was hoping the antler hadn't been retrieved during a hunting trip.

"They're all naturally shed because horns are shed yearly. There are several game laws I have to abide by, so I check with the DNR about twice a year to keep up with any new regulations. As far as the feathers I use, there are none from songbirds, rapters or migratory non-game birds," said Kathi Fricke, who took her first basket making class at a craft store in Farmington Hills more than six years ago. Since then she's honed her skills and turned them into a full time business called Dakota Designs.

She exhibits her work in 15 shows a year including the Dayton Institute of the Arts Oktoberfest, Michigan Renaissance Festival, Dexter Historical Society show, and the Westacres spring art fair in West Bloomfield.

"The grape vine used in the wall hangings comes from the six-and-a-half acres around our house in Eaton Rapids as does the gladiola and yucca leaves and wisteria branches."

A miniature quiver holder woven from raffia, a miniature replica of an Apache burden basket and a pine needle vessel used to entice the spirit of porcupine during healing ceremonies, all find their roots in Southwest American Indian culture. The gourd baskets are accented with beads, feathers, agate, turquoise stone carvings of buffalo, and Native American woodburned designs such as turtles and bears.

"A lot of the baskets I do have a Native American design, but it can go into a variety of homes. On a trip to Taos, Santa Fe and Albuquerque, I went from gallery to gallery in search of baskets woven by Native

EXHIBITION PLANNED FOR EARLY 1998

Turning Point: Claude Monet's "The Breakup of the Ice, (La Debacle)" 1880, is the focal point around which an exhibition of the French Impressionist's paintings will focus in early 1998 at the University of Michigan Museum of Art in Ann Arbor. The oil on canvas was a gift to the museum from Russell and Andree Stearns of Massachusetts in 1976.

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
SPECIAL WRITER

Excitement levels rose rapidly last week as members of the local art community learned the University of Michigan Museum of Art is organizing an exhibition of Monet paintings for early 1998. The last Monet exhibit to visit the area was at the Art Institute of Chicago in 1995.

"Turning Point: Monet's Debacles at Vetheuil" will magnify a crucial period in the French Impressionist's career when Monet lived at Vetheuil, 40 miles west of Paris on the Seine River.

Assembled around the Michigan museum's "La Debacle" painting, the tightly focused exhibition includes 11 other landscape, still life and portrait paintings lent by Paris, Madrid, New York, Toronto, Dallas, Minneapolis, Switzerland, and New Zealand museums. All were created in 1879 and 1880. Five of the landscapes deal with the debacle of 1880 when rising temperatures, during the coldest winter ever recorded, thawed the ice on the Seine. The natural cataclysm sent a torrent of ice and snow rushing through Vetheuil and Lavacourt across the river, toppling trees and wreaking havoc. The Michigan painting was done after the death of his wife Camille in September 1879.

As former museum administrator, Janet Torno took part in the exhibition's planning stages begun in 1994. Now executive director of the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association, Torno thinks "the exhibit will expand people's consciousness."

"I think the Monet exhibit will be a great resource for our members at the BBAA. It's a learning experience. Art and art history is very important because we learn more about the artist's life and what motivated them," said Janet Torno.

Ralph F. Glenn, art department chairman at Madonna University in Livonia, agrees with Torno that the exhibition will prove very educational, especially for his modern art students.

"Monet is famous for being one of the plein air or out-of-doors painters. In contrast to Manet who did Parisian scenes, he did scenes outside of Paris. Monet's one of the pivotal figures that leads us into the 20th century, not only as a plein air painter but because he pursued his own path, which is very 20th century," said Glenn of Bloomfield Hills.

According to Annette Dixon, curator of Western art, the Jan. 24 to March 15 exhibition will provide a rare opportunity to view the museum's Monet and "La Debacle at Vetheuil" from Madrid's Museo Thyssen-Bornemisza, side-by-side for the first time since the two oil-on-canvas paintings were painted. These works precede Monet's series of paintings of grainstacks and water lilies.

"It was a period of crisis emotionally because his wife was dying, and a critical period artistically because his paintings weren't selling. Before this he'd been criticized for his paintings being too sketchy," said Dixon, who co-curated the exhibition with museum collections manager Carole McNamara.

"The paintings have a melancholy mood. They touch us emotionally. Monet did about 20 paintings like this which showed he saw both the destruction as well as the beauty."

A portrait of the dying Camille, lent by Musee d' Orsay in Paris, reveals the inner turmoil Monet endured at Vetheuil. The Monets and their two children were sharing a household with Ernest and Alice Hoschede and their six children. A supporter of Monet since the early 1870s, Ernest went bankrupt in 1877. They combined the two families with the hope of easing their strained finances. Instead his love affair with Alice began to create problems.

As he was about to turn 40, Monet wrote to his friend and patron Dr. de Bellio that there was no hope left because he'd painted nothing worthy to show at an upcoming exhibition with his Impressionist friends. This depression was to haunt him periodically throughout the rest of his life.

"His art turns around eventually as he experiments with light, atmosphere and weather. He stops painting people and focuses on nature. He begins serial painting. When he exhibited with the Impressionists, Monet was paintings triplets. Now he was painting 20 on the same theme, varying times of day and other conditions" said Dixon.

In April Dixon and McNamara will travel to Paris to research the archives in Paris. Photographs will be taken of the topographical site where Monet sketched the winter landscape in Vetheuil.

"We're going to Paris because there are some books and letters we can't get anywhere but France. While it's going to be a small exhibit, it's going to be a mini-blockbuster. It will pull in people from all over the state, Ohio, Indiana and Ontario because it's a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to see the paintings from a period when Monet's sense of himself was changing. It's a very experimental period which took place over a period of a few weeks in January and early February of 1880," said Dixon.

One of three venues, "Turning Point" will travel to the Dallas Museum of Art after leaving Michigan, then to the Minneapolis Institute of Arts. A catalog will feature essays by Dixon, McNamara and Monet scholar Charles F. Stuckey, curator of paintings at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts. Stuckey will examine the psychological aspects which fueled Monet's work at Vetheuil.

In the past several years, the Plymouth Community Arts Council has organized trips and train weekends to various exhibitions of Cezanne and Degas in Philadelphia and Chicago. Executive director Randy Lee plans to schedule a day away to Ann Arbor for local art enthusiasts to view the Monet exhibition in 1998.

"It's thrilling to have an exhibit of that importance, this close to us," said Randy Lee.

Rampal brings magic to flute festival

BY CORINNE ABATT
SPECIAL WRITER

Legendary French flutist Jean-Pierre Rampal will lead a parade of stars at the fifth annual Michigan Flute Festival Feb. 24 at Temple Beth El, 7400 telegraph (at 14 Mile Road), Birmingham.

The program is part of the 10th anniversary season of Musica Viva International concerts under founder and artistic director Ginka Gerova-Ortega of Bloomfield Hills, herself a noteworthy flutist and former student of Rampal.

"We usually have our flute festivals in May, but we changed because Jean-Pierre Rampal is here in America on tour, that's how he could accept our invitation. His gesture to come here is a gesture of respect for what we are doing. He was my teacher on and off for three or four summers," said Gerova-Ortega.

Leading Spanish flutist Claudi Arimany, who is with Rampal on this American tour, will be on the Temple Beth El program as well. With them will be pianist John Ritter, who has been Rampal's accompanist since the late 1970s. The threesome will perform works for two flutes and piano by J.C.F. Bach, Mozart, Kuhla, Doppler and Verdi.

"Rampal is tremendously inspiring – just being around him is inspiring," Gerova-Ortega. "He made the flute what it is today."

Few would question that statement. Rampal, considered by his legions of admirers throughout the world to be forever young at 74, has been performing in concert halls for more than 50 years. He is also, very likely, the most-recorded soloist on any instrument. Appropriately for his five decades of concertizing, he plays a 14-karat solid-gold flute. Gerova-Ortega describes Rampal as "a life-loving person, touring, always touring, from Japan to Alaska."

DSO offers music for romantics

What is romance without music? The Detroit Symphony Orchestra and resident conductor Leslie B. Dunner are preparing for a weekend of Classical, Romantic and Contemporary music 10:45 a.m. Friday, Feb. 14; 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 14 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 15 at Orchestra Hall.

These "Valentine" weekend performances will begin and end compositions by two famous composers of the Romantic era: "Roman Carnival" by French composer Hector Berlioz and "Pictures at an Exhibition," a piece originally written for piano by Russian composer Modest Mussorgsky and later orchestrated by Maurice Ravel.

The "heart" of these concerts will feature pianist Ursula Oppens performing Wolfgang A. Mozart's Piano Concerto in E-flat Major, and the Detroit premiere of a work titled "BluesKonzert" by Unisys Resident Composer Alvin Singleton.

Unisys sponsors the annual African-American Composer Residency & National Symposium, an educational program hosted by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, designed to put the spotlight on contemporary African-American composers.

Tickets range from $16 to $40, (box seats; $58) call (313) 833-3700.

■ David and Carole Trepeck will be honored Feb. 16 for their insight to refurbish the Birmingham Uptown Theatre into eight state of the art theatres in the building. The Birmingham-Bloomfield Symphony Orchestra Board of Directors will salute this couple at their Benefit Dinner and Concert beginning at 5 p.m. followed by the concert at 7:30 p.m. at Temple Beth El, 14 Mile and Telegraph.

The BBSO Dinner and Concert is one of their major fund-raisers. The "Famous Couples Concert" under the baton of Felix Resnick will feature Saint-Saen's Bacchanale from "Samson and Delilah," Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade," Khachaturian's Adagio from "Spartacus," Menken's Highlights from Disney's "Beauty and the Beast," and Tchaikovsky's Overture Fantasy from "Romeo and Juliet."

But on this particular program, he will hear many flutes besides his own, as all the musicians will be paying tribute to him. The Michigan Flute Orchestra, made up of professional and semi-professional musicians conducted by Shaul Ben-Meir, will perform.

Also in attendance and playing will be flute professors and flute artists-in-residence from Michigan colleges and universities.

And there will be more. All flutists are invited to bring their instruments and join the performance by the mass-flute choir. The music is available at Flute World of Farmington Hills, (810) 855-0410. Gerova-Ortega said that in previous flute festivals at Orchestra Hall, there have been 200-500 in the mass flute choir.

There have been more than a few notes of magic in Rampal's life off stage, as well as on. He was born in 1922 in Marseille, France, where his father was principal flutist with the Marseille Symphony and professor of flute at the Marseille Conservatory. His mother wanted him to be a doctor, so he didn't begin flute studies with his father until age 12, but his talent was quickly recognized.

Still a flutist, he entered medical school and, while in his third year there in 1943, he was drafted by Germans occupying France. To escape, he went to Paris and enrolled at the Conservatory of Music. Until the war ended he was constantly dodging the German secret police.

When Rampal started performing, the flute had little identity as a solo instrument apart from the orchestra. He is credited with bringing it to the attention of conductors and audiences worldwide.

Gerova-Ortega has received many honors as a flutist and impresario. She made her Carnegie Hall debut in 1983 and performs throughout the world – Europe, Canada, South America, China, Hong Kong, Finland and the United States.

She is an annual guest artist for the International Festivals of Spain as well as in Mexico, the West Indies and Maliorca. Closer to home, she received the title of "Michigan Musical Ambassador" and an arts award from the Governor and is a soloist with Michigan Touring Artists and Arts Midwest Americans which were more traditional, not contemporary," said Fricke.

"The burden basket has a leather band which was worn around the head so the basket could be carried on the back. The reason for the long dangles and cones was to discourage snakes from their feet."

A third generation fiber artist whose mother and grandmother practiced the needle arts, Fricke learned to sew early. By age 12, she had her own sewing machine and made all of her clothes. For the last 17 years, she's worked as a floral designer so she is well-grounded in the basics of design. It's no wonder Fricke's free-form baskets flow so naturally from the deer, elk and moose antlers.

When Livonia arts commissioner Lee Alanskas saw Fricke's baskets at a Madonna University arts and crafts show last year, she admired the originality so much she asked the weaver to show her wares in the showcases.

"I was impressed with her creativity, choice of materials, and design," said Lee Alanskas.

The Livonia Arts Commission exhibit of Fricke's basketry continues until Feb. 26. Library hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, until 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 1-5 p.m. Sunday.

'In Love and War,' entertaining view of Hemingway romance

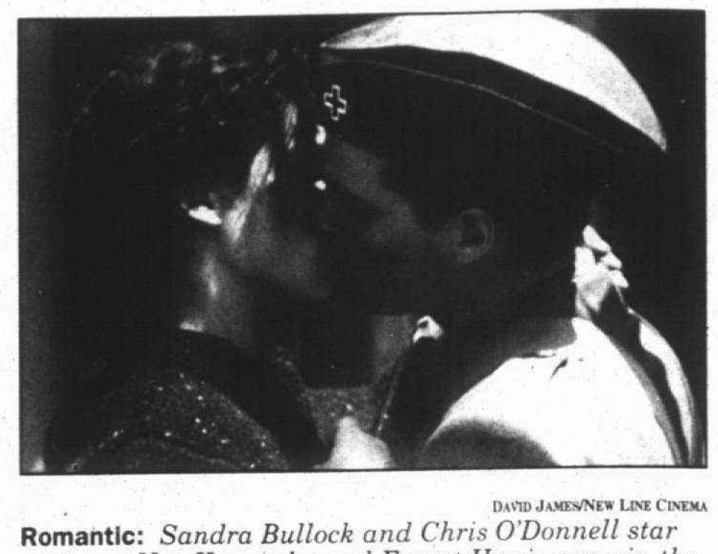
BY BOB THOMAS
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

LOS ANGELES (AP) _ One of the most famous love stories of the century took place in the final months of World War I. The two lovers were Ernest Hemingway, a young reporter who volunteered at 18 to serve in the Red Cross with the Italian army, and Agnes Von Kurowsky, also an American and Red Cross volunteer. She was 26.

The romance was immortalized in Hemingway's second novel, "A Farewell to Arms." Long after Hemingway's suicide, a truer story was told in "Hemingway in Love and War: The Lost Diaries of Agnes Von Kurowsky," written by Dimitri Villard and James Nagel.

Richard Attenborough has drawn from the Von Kurowsky book for his film "In Love and War," with Sandra Bullock and Chris O'Donnell as the star-crossed lovers. Attenborough has directed an admirable film, well acted and handsomely produced, contrasting the horror of trench warfare with the urgency of young people in love.

Hemingway arrives in Italy with the macho brashness one associates with his later years. Brimming with ego, he is dissatisfied with the humdrum chores of a Red Cross driver. He maneuvers himself to the northern front, where he encounters a bombing mission. While trying to carry a wounded Italian friend to safety, he himself is struck by machine-gun fire.



DAVID JAMES/NEW LINE CINEMA

Romantic: Sandra Bullock and Chris O'Donnell star as Agnes Von Kurowsky and Ernest Hemingway in the epic love story "In Love and War."

An Italian surgeon (Emilio Bonucci) prepares to amputate the young man's leg, but Agnes applies a treatment that makes surgery unnecessary. Ernie and Agnes engage in some romantic sparring until finally their love flowers, just before he is shipped back to the States.

"In Love and War" has been beautifully produced, despite having been photographed in a mere 11 weeks in the Dolomites in northern Italy, Venice, England (interiors) and Montreal. The scenes of battle and of Venice are especially striking, thanks to the cinematography of Roger Pratt.

Attenborough was fortunate in his selection of the two lovers. Sandra Bullock brings an unexpected tenderness and vulnerability to her portrayal of the nurse who struggles against involvement because of the disparity of ages.

Chris O'Donnell gives an insightful study of the young Hemingway, brash, profoundly self-assured, confident of his future greatness.

The only disappointment of "In Love and War" comes toward the end, when Hemingway reveals himself as proud, bitter and vengeful. True to life no doubt, but a sour conclusion.

Hollywood has done right by Elmore Leonard

BY JOHN MONAGHAN
SPECIAL WRITER

Since emerging from the typewriter in 1977, Elmore Leonard's "Touch" has passed through more hands than the Maltese Falcon.

The story of how it found its way onto the screen has as many twists and turns as the Birmingham author's latest crime yarn.

His study of a bonafide faith healer, and the media circus that springs up around him, was shelved because the publisher, Bantam, didn't know how to market it. As Leonard remembers, "I'd call them and say, 'I think we're ready for a stigmata story,' but they just couldn't commit to publish it." When Leonard received notoriety for "Glitz" in 1985, the earlier book became such a hot property that he bought it back and sold it for ten times the price to a rival publisher.

The opportunity to make a movie out of "Touch" originally fell to David Sole, best known as half of TV's "Starsky and Hutch." The option was sold to Norman Lear, then Bruce Willis and eventually to a South African production company. The film has finally been made by the French company Lumiere, the same one that produced "Leaving Las Vegas."

Opening Friday at area theaters, "Touch" is the second film in as many years to get Leonard right on film. Like "Get Shorty," it allows the tale to unfold gradually, much like a book. The low budget (about $5 million) and ensemble cast of character actors like Christopher Walken and Tom Arnold makes sure that the story remains the star.

Here a young social worker named Juvenal (newcomer Skeet Ulrich) discovers that he has the power to heal the sick. When he lays his hands on their heads, blood begins to pour from wounds on his palms and a deep gash appears mysteriously on his side.

Walken and Bridget Fonda are the first to get to Juvenal, urging him to make a television appearance and cash in while the buzz is hot.

Leonard explains: "What if you take a person who has stigmata and performs miracles and drop him into society? How does he act? How do people react to him? The whole point is the acceptance of himself and how he doesn't make a big deal of it at all. He accepts all these different characters who approach him, even though in many cases they're trying to exploit him."

The possibility of a person developing the wounds of Christ is the kind of story Leonard remembers from his days attending high school at the University of Detroit. "Going to a Catholic school you can't avoid it. Sisters would talk about miracles and stigmata on a regular basis," he says. "I remember reading about an Italian monk who had it all the time. People would come to him for confession and he knew what they were going to confess. He was an industry in his village; people would approach the monastery on their knees."

For the book, which was originally set in Detroit, Leonard visited Sacred Heart rehabilitation center for background information. The movie is now set in Los Angeles, but the Sacred Heart name remains. Juvenal even suggests moving to Detroit, though he opts for Des Moines instead.

Leonard is especially pleased with the choice of Paul Schrader as director, citing his writing in "Taxi Driver" and "Raging Bull" as some of the screen's best. "I thought he was especially right because of his religious background," he says.

"He was raised on a strict Calvin doctrine. He didn't even see a movie until he was 18."

Leonard got the writing bug while growing up in Detroit and Highland Park. After serving in the Seabees in World War II, he attended the University of Detroit, where he majored in English and philosophy. Even before graduation, he landed a job at Campbell-Ewald advertising agency.

The western genre offered Leonard his initial inspiration. His first novel, "The Bounty Hunters," was published in 1953, quickly followed by a handful of short stories, another two novels, and two sales to the movies. The sale of "Hombre" to Twentieth Century Fox in 1966 enabled him to write fiction full-time.

It wasn't until a decade later that Leonard (or "Dutch" as he's still known to friends and fans) branched into crime stories and much-deserved cult following.

The snappy dialogue and unique characters of "City Primeval" and "Stick" resulted in increased attention from Hollywood. Even though Leonard has written his own scripts, his relationship with Hollywood has been spotty.

"I wrote the first draft for 'Stick,' " he says with more than a touch of sarcasm. "Then they had another writer to come in and add the machine guns and scorpions ... making movies means working for a lot of people who all have their own ideas of what it's going to look like."

BRUCE BIRMELIN

Healer: Skeet Ulrich stars as Juvenal, a former Franciscan monk from the jungles of Brazil whose touch can heal in United Artists' "Touch."

Leonard may have found a kindred spirit in Quentin Tarantino. The writer/director of the cult hits "Reservoir Dogs" and "Pulp Fiction" has optioned the rights to no less than four of Leonard's books.

"The way I heard it, he stole one of my books from a store when he was a teenager and his parents grounded him," Leonard says of Tarantino, who he has only talked to on the phone. "When 'Rum Punch' came out, he sees three of the same characters in it. Thirteen years later (after that first incident) he's got the option to buy it."

Tarantino has recently completed the screenplay for "Rum Punch." Leonard figures he must be ready to cast. "Miramax, the production company, ordered 50 copies of the book so they must be trying to interest actors," he says.

Meanwhile, Leonard continues a reasonably normal life, enjoying the publication of his latest book, "Out of Sight," last August. He has published a book a year, stopping only during 1993, the time between the death of his first wife and marriage to his second.

He is patient with the inevitable question of why he continues to remain in the Detroit area. "Because I like it," he answers. "I've lived here since the fifth grade. I have really good memories of a kid growing up and taking the streetcar downtown. I still think of it as a big blue collar town full of a lot of interesting people."

Tobias Wolff's stories are powerful

"The Night in Question," by Tobias Wolff (Alfred A. Knopf, $23, 206 pp.)

VITCTORIA DIAZ

I met Tobias Wolff once. A tall, graying individual with a neatly clipped moustache, he wore a brown, tweedy jacket complete with leather patches at the elbows.

He had what I remember as a voice that made me think of the word "mellifluous." He seemed the very picture of a competent, middle-aged actor, costumed to play the part of a lauded writer and English professor at a rather large American university.

As all his readers know, Tobias Wolff ("This Boy's Life") is not an actor. He is, however, a middle-aged, critically acclaimed writer who also happens to be an English professor at Syracuse University in New York.

And as this remarkable collection of short stories reveals, he can bring new importance to the phrase "imaging-making."

These 15 contemporary tales touch on other matters too: moral timidity, paternal obligation, the power of words, free will, schemes, dreams – weighty stuff. But the flavor of the stories (some of which first appeared in such magazines as The New Yorker, Esquire and Harper's) is never ponderous. Before anything else and like fine stories everywhere and always, they are, each one, utterly engaging, much of their fascination lying within Wolff's clear, accessible and finely drawn "sightless" characters, for whom, paradoxically, image and appearance rule the day.

In the opening story, "Mortals," a rather superficial young newspaper reporter loses his job for the best of reasons: He has not checked the "facts" and consequently writes a story that only appeared to be true. Mark Twain might have titled this story, "Rumors of My Death Have Been Greatly Exaggerated." Poignant and comical, it makes for a compelling introduction to this book of fiction.

Three of the stories – "The Other Miller," "Smorgasbord" and "Firelight" – were selected for inclusion in the Best American Short Stories series. "The Other Miller" opens as one boneweary soldier is excused from "war games," to be told that his mother has died. "No problem," he says as he is led away from the mock battlefield, believing it's all a case of mistaken identity but glad for relief from the rain, the mud, a sickening toothache and his nagging stomach ulcers.

"Smorgasbord" focuses on two rather pathetic prep school boys. It's March on campus, a free weekend, and most students are elsewhere, leaving behind "foreigners and scholarship students ... and a few other untouchables." The narrator and the campus dork, Crosley, are invited out to dinner by one classmate's exotic stepmother, Linda. What ensues makes for a striking story about innocence and appetites.

In "Firelight," a boy goes home-hunting with his glamorous (but poor) mother on a chilly autumn afternoon. Seduced by a cozy domestic scene and an inviting fireplace, he discovers the place of his dreams and comes to a kind of parting-of-the-ways with his mother. This marvelous, many-layered story reveals perhaps more vividly than any other in this collection Wolff's insight into the heart of youth, and our lifelong need for a feeling of belonging and a place we truly can feel at home.

The title story is a story within a story in which a rather self-centered, unstable man named Frank delivers to his loving sister, Frances, the sermon he had heard that morning in church. Within the sermon is a true tale about a man who has sacrificed his only son for the lives of a large number of people. Frances is appalled by the story and its moral implications, while her brother (for whom she has willingly sacrificed much of her own life) somehow finds comfort in it. (Wolff's word-picture here of a monstrous engine room at a drawbridge station is enough to make you break out into a sweat.) All of the insightful works in this coherent, well-balanced collection provoke thought, and this one perhaps most of all. As Wolff proves throughout, a small number of words can carry much weight.

TRAVEL

With good advice, Hawaii really is magical

BY BARRY JENSEN
STAFF WRITER

Things you will want to take along:

A credit card
Another credit card
Cash
Sun screen lotion
Mosquito repellent
Enough film
A couple packets of hot chocolate
Body powder
A hat
Your car insurance policy number and insurance company's name
Sunglasses
Several pairs of shoes
Several paperback books

Before my wife and I visited Hawaii last month to celebrate our 25th wedding anniversary, we talked with friends who had already been to Hawaii. They had lots of good suggestions. Listen to those recommendations. All the suggestions that we took worked out well.

We flew into Honolulu (via Northwest from Los Angeles). From there we took an inter island flight to our first destination, Maui.

Flying first class is worth the expense. The five-hour flight from Detroit to Los Angeles gets you not quite half way to Hawaii. The flight from Los Angeles to Honolulu is another 5-1/2 hours. That's a lot of time to sit in one place. And the free movies in first class make turbulence more bearable.

Hawaii's time is five hours behind Detroit's. Coupled with the length of the flights, the time change will throw your body out of sync. After we landed in Honolulu, took an inter island flight to Maui, rented a car and drove to our hotel, we were exhausted. We spent much of the first day sleeping and taking it very easy. The next day jet lag became minimal.

Maui is retail-oriented, with more than a few shopping centers. As is appropriate in a tourist area, the people were friendly and their merchandise expensive. But we did run into a couple good deals.

The old whaling port of Lahina is still there, but it has a thriving commercial district where you can buy nearly anything. Attention fans of James Michner and the TV mini-series "Hawaii." The house put up by the first missionaries is also in Lahina.

We did the usual tourist things: eating at and watching a luau (many hotels sponsor them), sailing out on a whale watch (whale watching is best in winter when the whales are off the Hawaiian Islands), swimming in the hotel pool, and visiting "historic" sites. Some aren't so historic, others are. Caveat emptor.

We also ate dinner in restaurants aimed at tourists: The food was good, but it was not cheap. One place that came highly recommended was Roy's, in the Kahana Gateway Shopping Center on Maui's northwest coast. They make a great chocolate souffle. Ask them about it when you order your entree.

The weather is as wonderful as billed, and the vegetation is every bit as lush. Most nights we were in Hawaii, it rained. Most days were sunny and breezy. Many of the public buildings are open to the breezes and are not enclosed. That comes as a shock to someone living in Michigan.

Prices are higher: 30-percent higher, according to one Hawaiian newspaper. Gasoline is $1.75 there vs. $1.25 here. But the fast food in Hawaii costs about the same as fast food in Detroit.

After we flew to Kauai, we did very little. That's what the "Garden Island" is all about: taking it easy. Oh, the hotel did have tennis courts (and golf courses seem to be a Hawaiian tourist's idea of paradise).

If you are going to Kauai, look up the Brick Oven pizza place on Highway 50. (It's called a highway, but most of the automobile transportation on the island is on two-lane blacktop – which tends to go every which way but straight.)

A well-known attraction is the Fern Grotto, an honest-to-pete natural stone grotto that is covered with ferns. The ferns used to be a lot longer and there used to be more of them, but the island took a direct hit in 1992 from Hurricane Iniki, and some greenery is not yet fully recovered.

Hawaii's official state bird is the Hawaiian goose, but it should be the wild chicken. Wild roosters can be heard all over the island.

The island has many tourist attractions, such as Na Pali coast on the northwest corner of the island, the Olu Pua Gardens and the Fern Grotto, but Kauai is not swarming with high-profile tourist attractions. One you may well unintentionally overlook is Kauai's historical museum.

We were surprised when we entered the historical museum 45 minutes before closing and the woman selling tickets told us we wouldn't have time to see the museum. But she was right. The Kauai museum occupies two floors, with all kinds of visual and electronic displays. The museum is in a stone building just to the left of the county building on Rice Street in the city of Lihue, home of the island's main airport. Notice I said the museum is next to the county building, not the Annex to the county building.

(NAPS) – What would make the perfect family vacation? According to a recent survey conducted by the U.S. Travel Data Center, learning something new and not having to drive head the list.

Although nearly eight out of 10 Americans (77 percent) are likely to drive on a family vacation, an almost equal number (78 percent) say the perfect family vacation would avoid the hassles that come with driving.

Seeing or leaning something new along the way appealed to 42 percent of respondents in a nationwide sampling of adults who have taken a vacation with children under 18 in the past year.

They say other important ingredients for the perfect family vacation include a mixture of time with and without children (22 percent) arriving still speaking to one another (18 percent) and meeting interesting people (10 percent).

"Clearly train travel offers families the kinds of pluses that make their wish lists," suggests family travel authority Candyce Stapen, author of 50 Great Family vacations: Western North America, 50 Family Vacations: Eastern North America and Cruise Vacations With Kids.

Cruising has it all in a convenient package

BY CASEY HANS
STAFF WRITER

Ever dream of days filled with tropical sun and drink and nightly five-course meals — that you don't have to cook?

How about snorkeling, shopping or walking the beach by day and variety shows every evening? Visiting different islands or ports every day, and learning about different cultures?

If these things appeal to you, then a cruise may be the vacation for you.

After taking two Caribbean cruises — one to the Western islands in 1992 and the other to some Eastern isles just recently — I'm an avowed cruising enthusiast.

We like the one-price package, which on many cruise lines includes airfare, transfers, ship passage, and all meals and entertainment and use of ship's facilities such as the health club, pool, library and game room. Many lines also have a cashless system on board the ship, where vacationers put down a deposit or credit card, and charge any shipboard purchases — such as wine or alcohol or items from the gift shops — to the card, which is tallied and paid for at the end of the cruise.

Cruising the Caribbean often includes visiting the popular Cancun or Cozumel in Mexico, the mountainous Jamaica, the British Cayman Islands and isles like Barbados — independent since 1966 with a British influence — or the French-speaking Martinique.

The Mexican stop can mean beaches and shopping, or something more cultural like a day trip to a Mayan ruin.

Beach-lovers can enjoy a stop at Antigua, where local tourism officials and cabbies tout the 365 beaches — one for every day of the year and many with plenty of white coral and shells for collecting.

Shoppers often look forward to a visit to St. Thomas, where jewelry, linen and perfume stores abound and where U.S. residents can take back up to $1,200 in merchandise tax and duty free. Although there is a touch of the Caribbean here, the island is a U.S. territory, so is highly Americanized; expect people on the street hawking time shares.

Nearly all the islands boast good snorkeling, but Grand Cayman and Martinique received the most raves from my traveling companions.

Most ships also provide a myriad of entertainment for those who wish to stay on the ship, or for the days that the ship is at sea. Pool volleyball, early morning aerobics and walking club, art auctions and other activities are scheduled throughout the day — or you can simply sit on the deck with a good book.

But everyone really wants to know about the midnight buffet and other food delights.

It's true that you can eat regularly scheduled meals, or eat throughout the day and go to the daily midnight buffets as well. Most cruise lines offer sit-down meal service in a formal dining room for three meals each day, as well as a poolside buffet service for breakfast, lunch and snacks. The midnight buffet usually features a theme nightly, and includes ice carvings and activities spearheaded by the cruise staff.

Cost for a 7-day cruise usually starts at about $800 for a basic package and goes up from there, depending on the time of year you're traveling and the package you choose. Cabin upgrades to a larger room and outside stateroom — which includes a window — come at an additional cost.

Tell us about your cruise

The cruise industry is busy touting February as National Cruise Vacation Month. When the snow falls and the winds howl, residents of Southeast Michigan begin thinking seriously about drifting through the islands on a cruise ship.

We'd like to know what your experiences were. Did the cruise live up to its billing? Was the food fantastic or just so-so? What about the ports of call, were they inviting or frightening? Was your captain like Capt. Stubbing on "The Love Boat" or Capt. Bligh on "The Bounty?"

Tell your neighbors in 75 words or less what it was like to take a cruise and we'll print a sampling of your comments.

Travel agent says cruising means value

BY BETTY SWARTZ
SPECIAL WRITER

February – snow, wind and ice – an approriate month to declare as National Cruise Vacation Month and target the first-time cruisers and, of course, those that have cruised and are ready to do it again. The anticipation of the hassle-free, relaxing cruise vacation can warm the bones of any Northerner at this time of the year.

Cruising has become today's most popular worry-free vacation. Almost every corner of the world has been or will be visited by a cruise ship with itineraries varying in length from three days to as many as 180 days. More than a dozen new ships have entered service in the last few years, with several more scheduled to debut and even more on the drawing board. The people are out there to fill those cabins and suites. It is estimated that only six percent of American's have cruised, and based on industry data, nearly all of them will choose to cruise again. Are you one of them or are you one of the 94 percent that want to cruise but have not made the commitment?

What is cruising other than being on a ship for days and nights? A cruise is value and value is on everyone's mind. Like resorts, which land lovers have experienced, there are a vast number of different ships and itineraries and there is one to fit your lifestyle, budget and time allotment.

In addition to the convenience of a cruise vacation, a complete cruise vacation package can be designed (round trip air transportation, transfers to and from the pier, a pre or post cruise hotel package etc.)

To make this dream a reality, a reality with good, lasting memories,plan your cruise vacation with a cruise counselor, a person that has experienced the various cruise lines and is knowledgable about the cruise industry. . Remember cheap is not value, value is being totally satisfied with the cruise experience.

First win

Last Wednesday, Plymouth Canton — the state's runner-up at the Class A meet last year — got its first dual-meet win of the season, beating Walled Lake 129.85-127.65 at Canton.

The win gave the Chiefs a 1-6 record overall.

Marcie Emerick led Canton, scoring 33.4 in the all-around to finish first. Emerick was first in the floor exercise (9.1), tied for first in the balance beam (8.2), third in the vault (8.25) and tied for third in the uneven parallel bars (7.85).

Other top scorers for Canton: Liz Fitzgerald, first in the vault (8.5), fifth in the bars (7.7) and sixth in the floor (8.75); Nicole Vaagenes, tied for first in the bars (8.1), fourth in the beam (8.05) and sixth in the vault (8.05); Becky Wolfrom, fourth in the vault (8.2) and sixth in the bars (7.6); and Holly Graham, fourth in the floor (8.85).

Canton hosts Hartland at 6 p.m. Thursday.

Head-ing home

After playing four of their previous five games on the road — and losing two of them, both in Mid-American Conference play — Eastern Michigan University's men's basketball team returned home and got a win.

The Eagles bounced Miami of Ohio 82-77 Thursday with a near-errorless performance. EMU had just six turnovers in the game and committed just nine personal fouls, resulting in only 10 Redskin free throws.

Big offensive producers for the Eagles were, as usual, the diminutive Earl Boykins (35 points for the 5-foot-5 point guard) and Derrick Dial (20 points, eight rebounds).

But don't overlook the contributions of James Head, the 6-7 junior from Plymouth Salem. Head came off the bench to aid the EMU cause in every way: He scored 10 points, grabbed a team-best eight rebounds, hit 4-of-6 floor shots (including 1-of-2 three-pointers), dished out three assists and made a game-high three steals.

The Eagles are 17-4 overall, 8-2 in the conference; Miami is 12-6 overall, 7-3 in the MAC.

High-point scorers

Three members of the Plymouth-Canton Cruisers swim team came away with high-point honors at a meet hosted by the Bulldog Aquatic Club in Warren last weekend.

•Kyle Silbernagel finished first in total points accumulated in the 9-10 year-old boys division by winning seven events: the 50-yard, 100-yard and 200-yard freestyle; the 50 and 100 butterfly; the 100 individual medley; and the 100 backstroke. Silbernagel was also second in the 50 back.

•Katie Meyer was second in the 11-12 girls division, placing first in the 50 free, the 50 breast and the 100 breast; second in the 100 free; third in the 200 free; fourth in the 100 back; fifth in the 50 fly; and sixth in the 50 back.

•Ben Dzialo was fourth in the 11-12 boys division. He was first in both the 50 and 100 fly, second in the 100 free, fourth in the 50 free, fifth in the 200 free, and sixth in the 200 IM.

Indoor soccer champs

Spring hoop tournament

Applications are being accepted for the first annual North American Youth Basketball spring tournament, Friday through Sunday, May 9-11 at Schoolcraft College.

The age brackets for boys and girls include: grades 5-6, seventh, eighth, 9-10, and 11-12.

Hawks prey on Canton

BY NEAL ZIPSER
STAFF WRITER

Plymouth Canton's five-year reign as Western Division champ in the Western Lakes Activities Association came to an end Friday.

Farmington Hills Harrison displayed some of its second-half magic to rally and hold off the host Chiefs 55-52 in winning its first division title since 1989.

"This was actually the first time since the league playoffs in 1992, when we were playing to advance to the semi-finals, that we've played a game for something to put in our trophy case," Harrison coach Mike Teachman said.

"This was all heart. It looked like we were done, trailing by 12 at one point, but the team stepped up and played huge."

The Hawks improved to 11-3 overall and 6-3 in the WLAA, while Canton slipped to 9-6 overall and 5-4 in the league.

There's a good chance the two teams will meet again in the first round of the league playoffs, which begin Feb. 25. Currently, Harrison is seeded fourth with the Chiefs fifth.

If the teams do meet, it won't be a game you want to miss if it resembles Friday's affair.

Harrison's Jerrard Johnson calmly sank two free throws with nine seconds remaining for the final margin. Canton's desperation three-point try missed as time expired.

Both teams were forced to play shorthanded. Harrison's starting center, Justin Snow, sat out with a twisted ankle he suffered Thursday in a scrimmage against the J.V.

The Chiefs were without Donte Scott, who has missed the past two weeks with a strained knee ligament. He is expected back this week, however.

It didn't appear as if it would be Harrison's night early on, as the Chiefs jumped out to a 10-2 lead. After a 6-0 run by the Hawks, Canton countered with a 7-1 rally to lead 17-9 after the first quarter.

Chiefs gain division title with victory

■ VOLLEYBALL

In perhaps the most impressive performance this decade by a Plymouth Canton volleyball team, the Chiefs traveled to league-power Livonia Churchill Wednesday to claim an impressive 15-12, 15-7, 15-5 victory.

The win boosted Canton's overall record to 31-5-2. The Chiefs are now 7-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and unbeaten in four Western Division matches, which means they can do no worse than tie for the Division title.

Churchill fell to 19-5 overall, 5-3 in the WLAA.

The division crown is the first ever in WLAA play for Canton. Again, it was defense and serving that spurred the triumph.

In the opening game, Churchill led 5-0 and 12-9, but Canton stormed back behind Nikki Kovachevich, who served out the last six points of the game — three coming on aces.

The Chiefs' team defense took over from there, limiting the Chargers' offensive opportunities. For the match, Canton averaged 19.3 digs and 4.6 service aces per game.

Kovachevich finished with eight assists to kills, eight digs and four aces. Donna Logsdon 4 had 13 digs, five kills and five aces; Jessica Orleman got 13 kills and 11 digs; Stephanie Chefan collected 12 kills and two blocks; and Courtney Wells totaled 14 assists to kills.

As tough a challenge as Churchill presented, tonight's figures to be even more difficult. The Chiefs are at Plymouth Salem, and the Rocks have not lost a WLAA regular-season match in nearly four seasons (42 wins in a row).

Salem survives

Plymouth Salem again found itself on the brink, but managed to avert disaster with a come-from-behind win over visiting Livonia Franklin, 15-11, 12-15, 7-15, 15-1, 15-4 Wednesday.

The Rocks improved to 26-6-4 overall, 8-0 in the WLAA.

"Our serve fell apart for a little while," said Salem co-coach Allie Suffety, noting four service errors in the first two games. "And that's indicative of our season — up and down, up and down."

Shot at 1st place evades Ocelots

BY C.J. RISAK
SPORTS EDITOR

The alignment of the stars seemed perfect.

Indeed, all factors seemed to favor Schoolcraft College's women's basketball team in its showdown against St. Clair CC. Sure, the Lady Skippers were in first place in the Eastern Conference with just one loss, but that loss had come on their home court — and against SC.

Last Wednesday's rematch was at SC. A win for the Lady Ocelots, a game behind St. Clair in the conference standings, would put them in command of their own destiny.

But the first rule of competitive sports remains: Never take anything for granted. That's something SC seemingly forgot, failing to take advantage of their opportunities and eventually losing all focus in falling 60-49.

The defeat left SC with a 16-6 overall record and a 7-3 Eastern Conference mark. St. Clair is 16-8 overall, 9-1 in the conference.

"We didn't score," a disgusted Ed Kavanaugh, the Ocelots' coach, said. "What was even worse, in the last four minutes we didn't concentrate on defense — we relaxed on defense.

"I think they got so frustrated on offense, they just got tired and lost focus defense."

The Ocelots could not have played a worse half this season than Wednesday's second half. And the timing could not have been worse.

At halftime they led 31-28, and with 4:44 left in the game they were within a point, thanks to two Julie Schmidt free throws.

Unfortunately, those free throws proved to be SC's final points of the night. St. Clair scored the game's last 10 over the last 4:44 — all while trying to run the clock and while making just 4-of-7 free throws.

How bad did it get? The Ocelots took 32 shots at the basket in the second half — and made just four. That breaks down to 12.5 percent shooting.

Of course, the loss can't be totally attributed to SC's poor performance. Some strong play by the Skippers helped.

"We concentrated a lot on defense," said St. Clair coach Chris Huss. "When we played them the first time, they scored 45 on us in the first half.

"We knew we had to play aggressive defense and rebound against them. It was a team effort."

There's no arguing the Skippers outplayed SC

Salem reigns over Churchill

The match was a WLAA cross-over, with the third-place team from the Lakes Division (Salem) facing the third-place team from the Western Division (Churchill).

Even though both teams finished in third place in their respective divisions, it was obvious the Rocks were the superior team. Salem took control of the match by winning the first eight weight classes.

And in what was supposed to be the featured match of the evening — the 189-pound contest between Salem's Teono Wilson and Churchill's Joe Ramlawi — never occurred. Ramlawi was forced to sit on the sidelines ill, as Wilson won on the void.

Salem's John Mervyn became the match's first winner, gaining a 16-3 decision over Brian Kramer, 16-3. Dan Morgan made it two in a row at 112 by pinning Steve Vasiloff in 3:14.

The Rocks then won the next three weights on voids; Eric Coburn at 119, Josh Henderson at 125 and Sam Reid at 130.

The winning continued as James Greene took a 8-1 decision over Mike Carter at 135, followed by Dan Hamblin's pin of Brandon LaPointe (140) in 1:53.

WRESTLING

In the quickest match-up of the night, Salem's Jeremy Wollschlager needed only 24 seconds to pin Ryan Cannon at 145. Anwar Crutchfield's 3-2 decision over Nate Muchow at 152 put the match out of reach.

The Chargers picked up their first win of the match at 160 when Brian Panczyszyn pinned Mike Popeney in 5:28. Bill Rampe then pinned Salem's Jason Baydoun in 2:45 at the 171 category.

Glenn stomps Canton

Unlike Salem, Canton entered the WLAA meet reeling, as visiting Westland John Glenn pounded the Chiefs on Thursday, 63-15.

Canton won only three matches, but Brent Buttermore and Kevin Stone kept their perfect league record perfect with victories.

Buttermore improved to 5-0 after recording a pin in 4:29 over Mike Schornak at 130 pounds. Stone won his sixth without a loss with an 11-6 decision over David Mason at 135.

Continuing to look impressive was Vince St. Louis. The 112-pounder who came out midway through the season improved to 3-1 by pinning Jess Pundon in 50 seconds.

Glenn winners included: David Teets won on void at 103; Greg Anderson won a 12-5 decision over Rob Lintz; Andy Bass pinned Matt Bush in 1:10 at 125; John Fedulchak needed 4:49 to pin Brian Musser at 140; Bob Provost pinned Jim Sheldon in 3:29 at 145; and Matt Bidiner pinned Jim Sheldon in 51 seconds at 152.

Glenn's Tim Reeves won on void at 189. The Rockets finished the romp with Ryan Cox (215) pinning Brian Sinischo in 2:59 and heavyweight Mark Dugas winning on void.

Rocks' dual win assures another division crown

It comes as no real surprise, really.

Plymouth Salem has captured another Western Lakes Activities Association Lakes Division boys swim championship. The Rocks did it by beating Livonia Stevenson 101-85 Thursday at Salem, running their dual-meet record to 10-1 overall, 4-0 in the division.

The two teams kept the score close by splitting the firsts, each winning six events. As expected, the Rocks superior depth was ultimately decisive.

Mark Dettling had a superb day for Salem. He bettered the 200-yard freestyle state qualifying standard of 1:49.19, going 1:49.12. Unfortunately, Stevenson's Keith Falk also beat the state cut — and Falk beat Dettling, too, winning the 200 free in 1:47.47.

SWIMMING

Other individual winners for the Rocks were Brent Mellis in the 200 individual medley (2:08.03); Andrew Locke in the 50 free (23.63); Otto Geiseman in diving (290.40 points); and Tim Buchanan in the 100 breaststroke (1:07.10).

Mellis, Locke, Buchanan and Nick Corden teammed to win the 200 medley relay for Salem (1:44.46).

All that remains now for the Rocks is the MISCA meet Saturday at Eastern Michigan University, which Salem coach Chuck Olson hopes to use as a state-meet qualifier, followed by the WLAA championship Feb. 21-22 at Salem.

on this night. But the truth is, neither team played like a champion.

Had St. Clair been on their game, they would have blown the Ocelots out.

Turning points? There were two for SC.

The first came with just under 14 minutes left in the second half and the Ocelots clinging to a 39-38 lead. In the next minute-and-a-half, they forced five St. Clair turnovers.

It should have been a major turning point favoring SC. Instead, it was the reverse; the Ocelots did not realize a single point from those ample opportunities.

Magnifying the mistakes, in a 30-second span directly following the missed chances, St. Clair caused two SC turnovers and scored four points off of them.

A six-minute span without a point certainly contributed to SC's demise. However, had that been the only scoreless streak in the half, the Ocelots still could have won.

It wasn't, however. Combined with the streak that ended the game, SC went 0-for-points in two streaks covering 10:44 of the second half.

Sheilah Coulter's 12 points was best for SC. Esther Ross and Schmidt added 11 apiece.

St. Clair got 17 points from Traci Robinson (10 in the second half) and 12 from Erica Sopha.

"I told them at the beginning of the game, whoever made the plays would win," said Kavanaugh. "They didn't make the plays."

Madonna mangles Cougars

A rematch on the road figured to be even tougher for the Lady Crusaders. But it wasn't — Madonna opened up a 17-point lead by halftime and continued to shoot apart the Cougars, rolling to a 103-58 triumph Thursday.

The win brought the Crusaders to 11-12. Spring Arbor is 10-13.

Two factors in particular keyed the Madonna triumph: shooting, particularly from three-point range (39-of-78 from the field, or 50 percent, including 12-of-26 on threes, 46.2 percent), and a defense that forced 36 turnovers, making 20 steals.

By comparison, Madonna made 20 turnovers, with Spring Arbor getting nine steals.

Katie Cushman led the Crusader attack with 32 points and six assists; she also had five steals. Cushman connected on 13-of-22 from the floor (59.1 percent), making 6-of-12 threes.

COLLEGE HOOP

Mary Murray added 17 points; Meegan Zann had 16 points, eight assists and three steals; and Michelle Parmentier got 12 points.

For Spring Arbor (10-13 record), Courtney Thompson had 16 points and Karrie Kuchek netted 10.

It never got any better for the Cougars. Madonna outscored them 57-29 in the second half.

St. Francis 85, Madonna 79 (men): A strong first half for College of St. Francis proved more than Madonna could overcome Thursday at St. Francis.

Madonna trailed 42-27 at the intermission and, despite a strong comeback attempt in the second half (the Crusaders outscored St. Francis 52-43), the deficit was too large.

Leading the Crusaders were Kristian Magro with 22 points and nine rebounds; Christian Emert, with 20 points, eight assists and four steals; and Mike Maryanski, with 16 points, seven boards, five assists and four blocked shots.

The difference came at the free throw line. Madonna made 10-of-13 (77 percent); St. Francis was 26-of-30 (89 percent).

St. Clair CC 79, SC 63 (men): At least St. Clair CC overcame its slow start. Schoolcraft College never did in losing Wednesday at SC.

The Skippers outscored the Ocelots 49-36 in the second half to pull away to the victory, their sixth in 10 Eastern Conference games. St. Clair is 14-9 overall. SC slipped to 5-17 overall, 2-8 in the conference.

Both teams started the game frigidly — the score after five minutes of play was just 2-2. The Ocelots did not break into double-figures in the scoring column until 8:13 remained in the first half, when a basket by Tymon Marshall made it 14-11, in favor of St. Clair.

The pace picked up after that, but the Skippers stayed in control. Marshall led SC with 16 points; he also grabbed six rebounds. Naron Burks continued his stellar play -- he totaled 38 points and 24 rebounds in two previous losses, to Alpena CC and Delta CC — collecting 15 points and 13 boards.

Dwaun Warmack added 10 points and 14 assists, and Rudy Hatfield (from Livonia Churchill) grabbed eight rebounds.

For St. Clair, Cory Bridges had 19 points and Joe Kozel netted 15, hitting five three-pointers — all in the second half.

Salem holds on for victory over Stevenson

Free throws drive basketball coaches crazy.

They rarely remember the ones that go in, only the ones that don't. Because the ones that don't will kill you.

Plymouth Salem went to the line 14 times. And made all but one.

It was a key factor in the Rocks' 51-49 victory over Livonia Stevenson.

The Spartans stepped up for free throws 13 times — and made 11. Salem and Stevenson went 14-for-16 in the final period.

"It was a good free throw shooting game," Coach Bob Brodie of Salem said. "But it was an offensive struggle.

"We both had trouble scoring — except from the free throw line. We're just happy to get out of there with a win. Stevenson has a good ball club."

Stevenson was ahead, 22-20, at the half but Salem outscored the Spartans, 16-13, in the third period and 15-14 in the fourth. The teams traded baskets and free throws in the final period.

"It was a good game," Stevenson coach Tim Newman said. "A great game to watch. It was a shame one team had to lose.

"We had an opportunity to go for the tie but we opted to go for the win. The shot went awry."

Ed Szumlanski scored 20 points and Tyrone Davidson nine for Stevenson, now 5-8 overall and 3-6 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Andy Power hit 13 for Salem, including four free throws in the final minute to keep Stevenson at bay. Power made the last two of his free throws with 30 seconds to play and they stood up for the final score.

"We had some key threes by Power and Nate Perry in the fourth quarter," Brodie said. "And we did a nice job defensively in the last 30 seconds or so."

The Rocks, 12-3 overall and 7-2 in the WLAA, also got nine points from Tony Jancevski and eight from Andres Lopez.

Jancevski blocked four shots and had seven rebounds. Lopez stole the ball eight times and had five assists.

The Wolverines earned the chance to win the MCC with their victory Friday over visiting Pontiac Greater Life.

Both teams are 7-1 in the conference after splitting their two games this season. Agape owns the tie-breaker, however, which is based on point differential between the two games played.

BASKETBALL

Greater Life won its game over Agape by only two points.

Friday's game was never that close as Agape led 22-10 after the first quarter and 42-22 at halftime. Greater Life got as close as seven points in the fourth quarter.

Senior guard Matt Major scored 18 of his 21 points in the first half to lead the Wolverines (9-3 overall). Senior forward Adam Martin played a strong all-around game, recording 16 points, eight rebounds and 11 assists.

Ronnie Harmon, a junior forward, tallied a game-high 25 points for Greater Life (12-2 overall).

On Monday, Agape beat Saline 73-48 as Major and Martin poured in 26 points each.

Ross Gordon led Saline (6-6, 3-3) with 30 points.

Baptist Park 53, PCA 44: It wasn't one of Plymouth Christian Academy's better nights Friday, as the host Eagles struggled in all facets of the game.

PCA shot only 35 percent from the floor (18-for-52) and made only four of its 15 free throw attempts. The Eagles also committed 22 turnovers.

Baptist Park broke open a close game with an 18-8 second quarter. PCA went the first four minutes of the quarter without scoring.

With the loss, PCA slipped to 6-9 overall and 1-6 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference.

CC 68, Brother Rice 51: When Redford Catholic Central got down to the fourth quarter of its game against Birmingham Brother Rice, it must have seen the Detroit Catholic League playoffs coming up.

CC limited Brother Rice to just six points in the third quarter in expanding a 25-24 halftime lead, then exploded for 30 fourth-period points Friday night to roll to an easy victory.

Catholic Central improved to 9-5 overall but is 7-3, good for second place, in the Central Division. Brother Rice, 3-12, has a 3-7 Central Division record.

The Shamrocks will play Southgate Aquinas or Detroit St. Martin de Porres on Saturday at Calihan Hall.

Junior center Chris Young scored 10 of his game-high 26 points in the fourth period and also got 11 rebounds plus four blocked shots.

With two games left in the WLAA regular-season race, the Vikings are in the driver's seat following Friday's convincing victory over visiting Westland John Glenn.

The win gives Central an 8-1 record in league play with two games remaining. Plymouth Salem stands alone in second at 7-2, while the Rockets slipped to 6-3.

Central got a career-game from Brad Burlingame, who scored 29 points. Todd Negoshian added 18 and Jeff Mathison had 13.

The Rockets, now 7-7 overall, got 16 points from Eric Jones and 13 from David Jarrett.

Back-to-back three-pointers by Corey Heitsch (nine points) and Burlingame early in the third quarter pushed Central's lead to 20 points, 41-21.

Jarrett, who missed much of the first half with a hip pointer, kept the Rockets within striking distance as he dumped in 10 points in the third. Glenn scored six of the final eight points in the quarter to close the gap to 52-37 heading into the fourth quarter.

Glenn made a bit of a charge in the closing minutes, closing to within 10, but couldn't overcome the double-digit deficit.

Mathison scored six of his 10 fourth-quarter points in the closing minutes to preserve the lead for the Vikings.

Northville 48, Franklin 39: Livonia Franklin's Western Lakes playoffs hopes took a jolt Friday as the host Mustangs methodically broke down the Patriots.

Dave Terakedis led victorious Northville (8-5, 5-4) with 17 points, including three triples. Luis Guarardo added 13.

Junior guard Nick Mongeau led Franklin with 16 points on four triples. Jay Fontaine and Matt Bauman each added eight.

"Northville did a good job of running their motion offense after taking the early lead," said Franklin first-year coach Dan Robinson, whose team couldn't recover from an 18-11 first-period deficit. "We spent a lot of time playing defense.

"And at times we made key turnovers. It was a long night, but give Northville credit. They played well."

W.L. Western 72, Churchill 54: The Chargers were finally overpowered by the Warriors after Coach Rick Austin's team gave them a battle.

Western jumped out to a 22-10 lead but Churchill whittled it down by six over the next two quarters and trailed, 47-41, entering the fourth.

"Western had great athleticism we couldn't match up," Austin said. "Our kids played as hard as they could. We did a real nice job defensively. They just outmanned us."

Sophomore George Kithas had 12 points to lead the Chargers, 1-13 overall and 1-8 in the WLAA. Kevin Renaud contributed 11 and Matt Van Buren had his second double-double of the season with 10 points and 12 rebounds. Dale Smith had eight points.

Mike Massey scored 21 points and Mark Mitchell 16 for Western. The Warriors made 20-of-30 free throws while the Chargers sank 12-of-21.

Luth. Westland 58, Cranbrook 39: The Warriors jumped out to an early lead and cruised in the second half Friday to square their record at 7-7 overall and 6-6 in the Metro Conference.

Joe Pruchnik scored 21 points and had 21 rebounds, Kevin Wade added 11 points and Brad Woehlke nine for host Lutheran High Westland.

Cranbrook, 2-12 overall and 1-11 in the Metro, got 10 points from Adam Partridge.

Lutheran Westland, which plays at Hamtramck on Tuesday, was ahead 13-8 after one quarter and 27-19 at halftime.

Three-straight layups by Kevin Bambenek provided a spark before halftime as Harrison cut the deficit to 29-22.

The Hawks, who committed only five turnovers in the game, switched their zone defense to man-to-man to begin the second half. The move paid off as Harrison scored 16 of the third quarter's first 20 points to take a 38-33 lead.

"We had trouble finding their shooters so we went to a man," Teachman said. "We also spread the floor and that allowed Kevin to drive. It also took away Canton's help defense."

Leading the charge was Bambenek, who paced Harrison with 17 points. Aaron Iaconelli (eight points) came off the bench to hit a big three-pointer to cap the Harrison rally.

"Their run in the third quarter was the turning point," Young said. "We had good opportunities at the basket but couldn't get it done."

The Chiefs trailed 44-39 early in the fourth quarter when Bambenek was called for a foul against a driving Cortellini. A frustrated Bambenek was then called for a technical foul after slamming the ball to the floor.

The two fouls resulted in four free throws for Cortellini, who sank all four to slice the Harrison lead to one.

But, more importantly, Bambenek fouled out.

Layups by Matt Derocher, Brian Lewis and Johnson gave Harrison a 50-46 lead. A putback by Canton's Bryon Lake and another Lewis layup made it 52-48 with 1:12 left.

"With Justin out, coach told us someone had to pick up his minutes and his inside game," said Lewis, who finished with nine points.

Canton closed to within two after free throws by Johnson and Cortellini, but a Kareem Smartt foul shot extended the lead back to three with 25 seconds left.

A layup by Matt Ammons made it 53-52 before Johnson's two free throws put the game away.

"Harrison was a better team tonight and wanted it a little more," Young said. "In high school sports, the team that wants it more usually wins in a close game."

Ammons recorded seven points and nine rebounds for Canton. Nick Hurley chipped in with seven points and nine assists.

It was Harrison's first win in a close game against a top WLAA team. The Hawks have lost close games to Walled Lake Central, Plymouth Salem and Westland John Glenn.

"We've been a second-half team all year, and even though our coach gets on us about that, we take pride in the fact we can come back," Lewis said.

"I'm 51 years old and have learned to accept a lot of ideals I didn't accept when I was 27," Teachman replied.

Fortunately, the Rocks finished on the up-side, doing something they haven't been able to do much this season — score in streaks.

"The game's all about momentum," Suffety said. "One thing we haven't been able to do this year is hold onto momentum."

After stumbling around for the first three games against a solid Franklin team (now 16-12-9 overall, 4-4 in the WLAA), Salem did put together an impressive streak in the last two games. Amanda Abraham, who led the Rocks with 24 kills, got 12 of them in those final two sets.

Abraham also totaled two solo blocks and six block assists. Jenny Trott contributed 12 kills, Angie Sillmon had seven kills, three solo blocks and three block assists, Kelly Street had six kills and Kari Flynn collected 23 assists to kills and five aces.

Through Wednesday's match, the Rocks have been struggling for more than a week. Any further letdowns against the type of competition they'll face this week — Canton at home tonight and at Walled Lake Central Wednesday — will almost certainly force a conclusion to Salem WLAA regular-season win streak, which now stands at 42.

CC freezes No. 3 Trenton

BY STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

Detroit Catholic Central and Trenton were tied at 3 again Wednesday night, but this time the stalemate lasted only 31 seconds.

CC senior winger Nick Lewarne saw to that.

Lewarne scored two-straight goals in the third period to break a 3-3 tie and give the Shamrocks a 5-3 hockey victory over the Trojans before a sellout crowd at Trenton's Kennedy Arena.

The two state powers played to a 3-3 deadlock on Jan. 18 at Redford Arena, leaving them 18 days to think about their rematch.

Trenton, which fell behind 2-0 in the first five minutes Wednesday, tied the score at 3 when Jeremy Giles scored at 1:22 of the third period.

Lewarne added an insurance goal 4:18 later, scoring on a rebound off a shot by linemate Dan McLellan.

"I just shot it as hard as I could, put it toward the net," Lewarne said of his game-winner. "It was a lucky shot. Our line (including Tim Cibor) worked awesome, worked a lot in the corners, banged a lot. Every shift we went 100 percent."

CC entered the week No. 1 ranked in Class A and Trenton, the defending state champion, was No. 3. The Shamrocks, upset on Monday by Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook, 3-2, moved to 17-1-1 overall and 1 1/2 games ahead of Trenton in the Michigan Metro Hockey League at 12-0-1.

Trenton fell to 12-2-3 overall and 10-1-2 in the Metro, losing for the first time in its building in 3 1/2 years.

The Shamrocks jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Eric Bratcher (assisted by Mike Porter and Scot Curtin) and Greg Berger (assisted by Matt Bieniek). The third CC goal came in the second period by Cibor, assisted by Brett Murphy.

But CC learned a 2-0 lead isn't safe, just as Trenton did the first two goals.

RECREATION

TIM NOWICKI

Snow on roads, highways, and sidewalks can make travel difficult. But snow in the forests and meadows allows the observant explorer to follow the movements of animals.

Without snow, tracks made by animals are limited to mud and sand.

Just like different boot manufacturers make various tread patterns on the sole, different animals make different tracks.

With the aid of a field guide on tracks it's easy to learn the track patterns of our local animals.

In suburban areas there are cats, dogs, raccoon, opossum, skunk, squirrel and rabbits.

Opossum have a track pattern similar to a raccoon. Both species have a human hand like paw print.

In soft snow that's melting and not too deep, each toe can be seen distinctly.

Raccoons have five toes on their front paw that are arranged more like a human hand. The opossum has a front paw pattern that's more star-like.

A raccoon has a long pad with five toes pointing forward at the front end. An opossum's hind foot track looks like a human hand with the thumb pointing almost backwards.

Just the other day, I followed a fresh opossum track as it seemed to wander aimlessly through the forest.

At one point it had dug though the snow to uncover something.

It must not have been very successful because down the trail it ate something I wouldn't have expected it to eat.

Last summer a volunteer at the nature center placed some deodorant bars of soap in their wrappers with the narrow ends cut off near a flower bed. The purpose of the soap was to deter animals from eating the plants.

During the summer we didn't notice any plants being eaten and the bars of soap remained inside their wrappers. That was until the opossum found one.

Its tracks led to the bar of soap. The only thing remaining was the wrapper and a small section of the soap.

I know opossum have been known to eat many things, but I never thought they would eat a deodorant bar of soap.

I wouldn't be surprised if that opossum had one wail of an upset stomach that night.

ON THE RUN

MARYBETH DILLON

There's nothing like a race in mid-winter to rid a runner of the blahs. Racing is a good way to assess your fitness, get a good workout, and have some fun socializing in the process.

Herb Seegert of Plymouth and his son, Jeff, of Farmington Hills, along with the Metro Macomb Runners, are sponsoring runs year-round at the picturesque Metropolitan Beach Metropark, on Metroparkway (16 Mile Road) off I-94 in Harrison Township. It's not as far as it sounds, and it's well worth the drive.

Their next run, the St. Valentine's 5-Kilometer Run, is at 11 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 15. Entry fee is $6. Awards go to all finishers.

For more information, call Jeff Seegert, (810) 426-7221.

Saturday, March 8: The Livonia Family YMCA and St. Mary Hospital host the St. Pat's Fun Run and Pancake Breakfast.

The 3-mile race kicks off at 8:30 a.m., followed by the 5-miler at 9:15 a.m. and 1-mile run at 9:30 a.m.

Registration, through March 6, is $12. Late entry fee is $17.

Runners receive a long-sleeved T-shirt and will be served all-you-can-eat pancakes.

Check-in begins at 7:30 a.m. at Frost Junior High, 14041 Stark Road, Livonia.

Breakfast for non-runners is $3 per adult; $1.50 per child ages 3-10; and free for children under 3.

For more information, call (313) 261-2161, Ext. 314.

Sunday, March 16: The United Irish Societies and the Motor City Striders present the 15th Annual Corktown Races, preceding the St. Patrick's Parade. The 4-mile run begins at Tiger Stadium at Michigan and Trumbull, and takes runners through Corktown, Detroit's oldest neighborhood.

The quarter-mile walk and run for kids 12 and under gets under way at 12:30 p.m. A 1 1/2-mile walk begins at 1 p.m., followed by the 4-mile run at 1 p.m. Entry fee before March 7 is $12; $15 thereafter.

Entry forms are printed in Michigan Runner Magazine. They're also available at the Gaelic League, 2068 Michigan Ave. For more information, call (313) 963-5745.

Snowboarders hitting slopes in greater numbers

Vanleuven is filming his passion and he's not sending it to America's Funniest Home Videos.

Vanleuven, a student at Spec's Howard School of Broadcasting in Southfield, is one of eight snowboard instructors at nearby Mount Brighton who are teaching many western Wayne County residents the thrill of the newly evolving sport.

Bavarian Village, with stores in western Wayne County, has teamed up with Mount Brighton for a Learn to Ski and Snowboard program which lasts until Feb. 26.

Snowboarders say that learning can be fun. And half of it is wiping out.

"I started last winter. It's a brutal way to attempt suicide," said Chris Counts, 24, of Livonia. "But that doesn't keep me from going again."

Vanleuven, 19, is a veteran of a sport in its infancy. It's an alternative for those tired of downhill skiing.

While snowboarding may look a bit like skiing to some, the boarders don't use poles, and the art is to keep balanced on a six inch wide, 150-centimeter long board, which can cost upwards of $500 to buy.

The sport's popularity is taking off, even getting play on ESPN. Next year it will debut as a Winter Olympic sport.

"I remember when I first started, you'd hear it all the way down the slopes (from others): 'Look at that snowboarder,'" said Vanleuven. "Nobody was out boarding then, maybe five or six a day. Now I'd say half of the people out here are boarding. I'm going to make a movie about it."

The sport once attracted mostly younger males, but now there are more women and older people in the classes.

"I'm teaching some snowboarders in their 40s, 50s. I think my oldest is 65," he said.

Snowboarders like the thrill of hitting a table top — a hill with a flat surface — at high speeds, and flying, sometimes twisting, through the air.

"I like to lay down some carves," said Tim Digous, 24, of Westland who has been snowboarding for about five years.

The jumps attract Scott Cataline, 25, of Livonia. "I like to get major air," he said.

Vanleuven said women are becoming as daring as their male counterparts.

Janie Huling, the ski school director at Mount Brighton, said snowboarders lost their rebel label long ago.

"In years past, you used to think they were on guided missiles," Huling said. "Now the skill level has gone up. These guys are good carvers. At the beginning they're all dangerous, just like skiers."

Huling said she got out for the first time on a snowboard this year. "I was scared and I've been skiing 25 years," she said.

The Bavarian Village/Mount Brighton snowboarding school offers private and semi-private lessons daily 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Semi-private lessons cost $50 and covers a lift ticket, one hour lesson and four-hour rental; $60 gets you a private lesson, four-hour board rental, lift ticket and one-hour lesson. Pick up a registration card at any Bavarian Village. Three lessons gets you a certificate of completion, discounts on items at Bavarian Village and a free lift ticket.

So you're interested in snowboarding?

Chris Curry, assistant manager at Bavarian Village in Farmington Hills, says you're not alone. In his two years at Bavarian Village, Curry estimates about a 30 to 50 percent increase in snowboard sales.

Snowboards on sale range in price from $200 to $350, according to Curry, a Farmington Hills resident.

Aren't interested in owning snowboards? Mount Brighton rents snowboards for $34 per four hours.

"Absolutely," Curry said, when asked if sales are taking off, like the people riding the boards. "It's more word of mouth, friends doing it. One friend is doing it, five others want to do it with them. It expands from there."

The popularity of snowboarding has had an effect on the new technology of skis, according to Curry. Snowboards in general have a larger "side cut," allowing for more maneuverability, according to Curry.

That style has led the skiing industry to come up with a new kind of ski called shape skis, which have a larger side cut than a typical ski.

Binders typically cost about $130 to $160 and boots about $150.

Why are binders sold separate from the board?

"There are wider ones, stronger ones, some easier to get in and out of," Curry said. "Now you have step-in bindings, where you don't need to buckle straps.

Ski manufacturers Burton and K2 also are two of the more popular snowboard makers, according to Curry.

TEN PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

While bowling in the "Royalettes Classic League" at Southfield Bowl, she registered scores of 299-299-255.

That adds up to a whopping high series of 853, the highest ever by a woman in this state and the second highest ever nationally, only 12 pins short of LPBT Star Anne Marie Duggan's 865. Glenn, now at the tender age of 21 has the ability to break records like this.

She won the 1994 GDBA singles and all-events titles, in which she beat the best of all Greater Detroit area male bowlers, not to embarrass the guys, but to compete at this level and win.

I started to take notice of this phenomenally talented young lady when she was around 15 and was winning so many MJMA titles in Michigan and Ohio, 26 in all.

The previous state record was 825, set by Cheryl Daniels of Detroit and a top pro bowler for many years.

Tamika is what I would best describe as "Poetry in Motion," a picture perfect delivery, the arm-swing and extended follow-through is pure textbook, but not too many people can deliver a bowling ball this well, shot after shot, each and every time.

The Senior/Youth Challenge, otherwise known as the Match of the Ages was a huge success, thanks to the efforts of everyone involved.

Michael Bar of WJR, not only MC'd the event, he even threw the ceremonial "first ball" in which $210 per pin was donated to the "Strike Out child Abuse" campaign by the Evergreen Children's Services.

Mike was in perfect form, as he threw a strike and won a check of $2,100 for this worthy cause.

The Tournament itself was dedicated to the memory of Frank Verbanac, who passed away suddenly two days before he was scheduled to participate.

Frank Verbanac was a good bowler, and quite a man. Physical fitness was a way of life. He worked out every day and at the age of 69, could bench press 250 pounds.

He didn't brag or boast but he surely could have, for he excelled at all sports, he was a fine baseball player, good enough to rate a tryout with the Detroit Red Wings, though he didn't quite make it. He taught and coached.

Perhaps his first love was bowling, having shot one perfect game and several 700 series. He was a director in the Greater Detroit Bowling Association.

His love for bowling came about as a "Family Thing," as the five Verbanacs formed a good team in the '70's and '80's, with his dad, Tony, brothers, Bob and Steve and cousin, John.

MEDICAL BRIEFS

Kids and smoking

Perhaps more than ever, smoking has become a pediatric disease. The playground has become the battleground in efforts to stop teen smoking and, by extension, diseases such as lung cancer.

The Food and Drug Administration, in an effort to limit sales of tobacco products to minors, has established tough new regulations on the sale of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco. These regulations, which go into effect Feb. 28, are designed to protect children and adolescents from the dangers of tobacco use.

To help retailers, doctors, parents and community groups understand these regulations, the FDA will present "Children & Tobacco: A Guide to the New Federal Regulations." The symposium, hosted by Detroit's Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute, will be held 1:30-2:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 12, at The Detroit Medical Center's Harper Hospital.

"I think we're going to have a mixture," said FDA public affairs specialist Evelyn DeNike. She anticipates parents, health organization representatives, retailers and others attending. Health care professionals such as nurses and pharmacists are welcome to attend.

The symposium will offer an opportunity to see firsthand how to prevent tobacco sales to children, to learn how the new regulations will be enforced, and to speak directly to the government officials who designed the rules. Two FDA staffers will present the program, DeNike said.

"Most kids can get cigarettes, even though it's illegal." Such sales have been illegal in Michigan for a number of years, she said, but poor enforcement of existing laws made federal intervention necessary.

The regulations carry the impact of law with penalties such as fines. They generally ask retailers to ask for identification of those up to age 27, based on appearance.

Smokeless tobacco, which has been a problem among Michigan young people, is addressed in the regulation. Parents and others in the community who learn about the regulations can observe happenings in their local stores, she said.

Those who wish to attend should make reservations by calling DeNike at (313) 226-6158.

Sinai joins DMC

Sinai Hospital officially became part of The Detroit Medical Center Monday, Feb. 3, with the signing of final documents merging the northwest Detroit hospital with the medical center. The Sinai Hospital name will continue at the current hospital and will be added at DMC's Huron Valley Hospital, located in Commerce Township.

Cancer survivors

Going back to work. Marriage and relationship decisions. Looking – and feeling – like yourself again. These are only a few of the social, sexual and interpersonal challenges facing 100,000 metro Detroit cancer survivors and their families.

To help, a coalition of 15 area hospitals, health care organizations and survivors' groups is hosting a special program, "Meeting the Needs of Cancer Survivors," Saturday, March 8, at the Costick Activities Center, on the campus of Mercy High School, 11 Mile and Middlebelt in Farmington Hills. Registration for the half-day program begins at 8:45 a.m.

This sixth annual event addresses the unique needs of both men and women with cancer, healing and coping techniques, the power of positive thinking and where to find cancer information on the Internet. The program is presented by The Metropolitan Detroit Community Coalition for Cancer Survivorship, an advocacy group formed in 1992 to enhance networking opportunities among individuals and organizations involved in survivorship activities.

"Life after cancer treatment is about quality of life, not just quantity of life," said Gwen MacKenzie of the Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute, coalition chairwoman. "What we're trying to do is make each new day a good day."

The coalition defines a cancer survivor as anyone with a history of the disease, from the time of diagnosis and for the remainder of life – be it months, years or decades. Ten million Americans are surviving cancer, seven million of those for five years or more.

"Meeting the Needs of Cancer Survivors" is a free program. Seating is limited and reservations are encouraged. For reservations, call Sharon Cure at 1-800-527-6266.

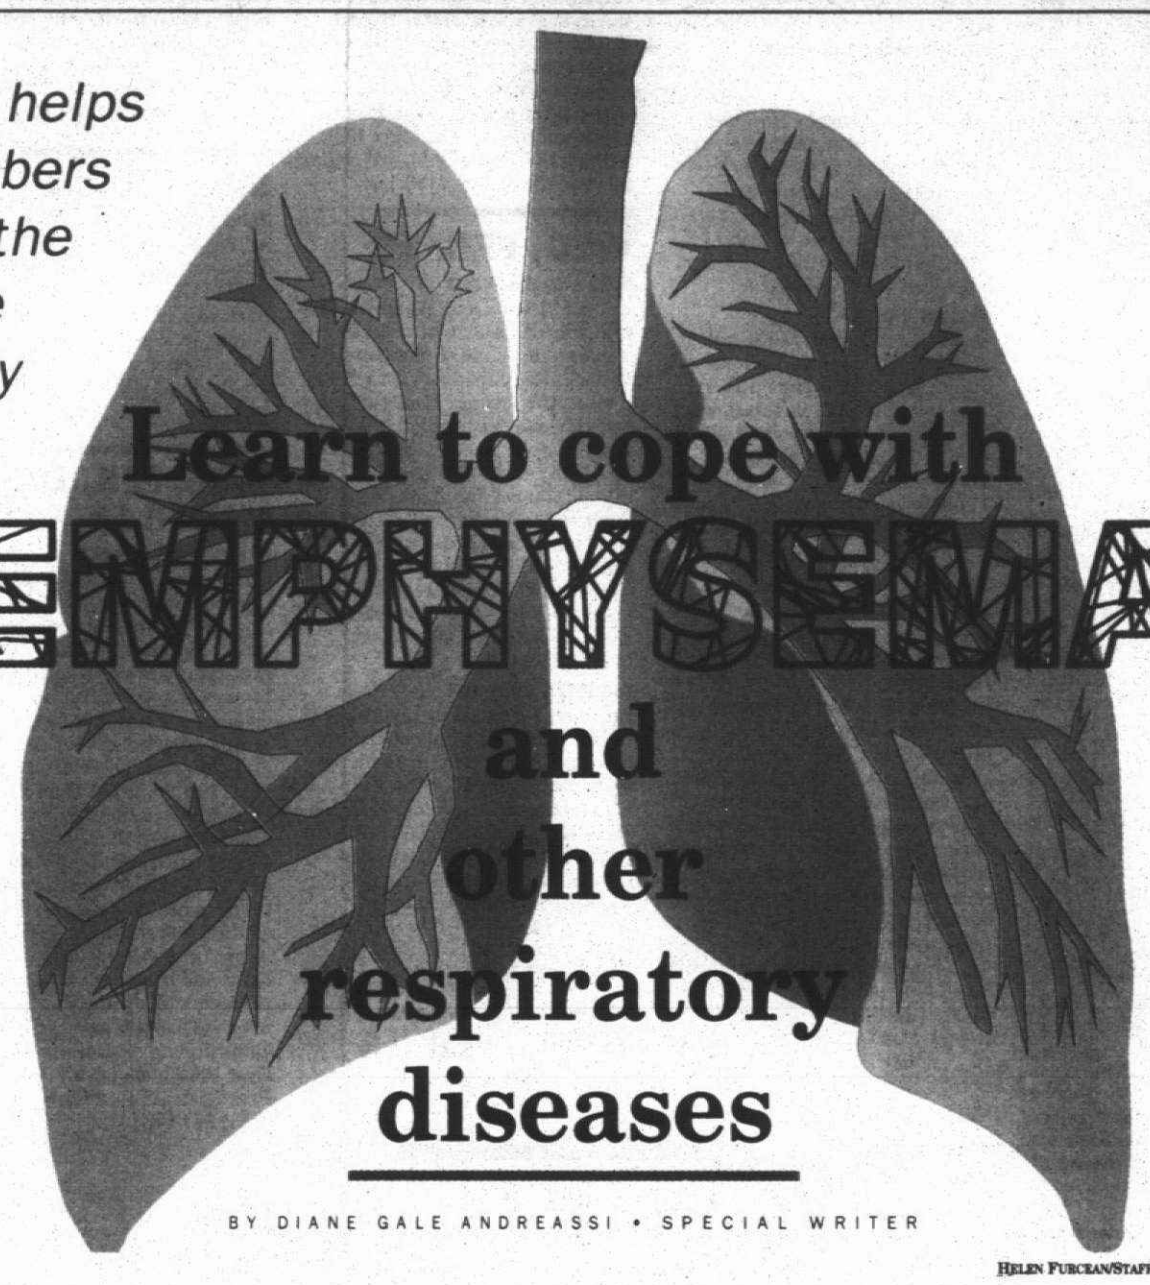
Club helps members breathe more easily

Learn to cope with EMPHYSEMA and other respiratory diseases



BY DIANE GALE ANDREASSI • SPECIAL WRITER

HELEN FURCEAN/STAFF ARTIST

Most of us take a breath and never give it another thought. For others, it's a constant struggle.

"Everyone takes breathing for granted, but when you can't breathe that's a traumatic thing – it's a panic thing when you can't breathe," according to John H. White, a Farmington resident. White attends the Plymouth Breathers Club meetings held at 2 p.m. the second Wednesday monthly at the St. Joseph Mercy Health Building at Ann Arbor Trail and Harvey in Plymouth.

"Doctors from Ann Arbor come in and they give you tips that pertain to breathing," White said. He's a walking advertisement for the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Pulmonary Rehabilitation Center, also in the downtown Plymouth building.

Lifesaver

"They have an exercise program that saved my life," White said, explaining that when he started the program he couldn't complete the warmup routine without leaning against a wall.

"I was in bad shape," he said. "I'm back on the dance floor now and I have seen people come in there in just about the same shape I was in. It's remarkable about what those kids do down there. Before you know it you're breathing normally again."

Marvin Boullion, 72, of Northville is hoping for a new technique or apparatus that will make breathing easier for him and maybe save his life. And that's one of the reasons he regularly attends the Plymouth Breathers Club, sponsored by the American Lung Association.

"There may be a medication that comes along in the future that can help me," Boullion said. "But you don't get any benefit out of it unless you know how to use it."

During one Plymouth Breathers Club meeting, Boullion and others learned how to correctly use inhalers. Surprisingly, even those who used them for years were scratching their heads when they realized they hadn't been using them right.

The Plymouth Breathers Club gives him access to current information about things like traveling with breathing apparatus and recent lung research breakthroughs. Speakers have included physicians, social workers, exercise physiologists, respiratory therapists and other medical professionals, according to Plymouth Breathers Club facilitator Karen Neigebauer, respiratory therapist.

Boullion has two breathing conditions. One was caused, he said, by working in the insulation industry for 25 years.

"There's a scarring of the lung tissue by minute particles of asbestos that you inhale without even realizing it," Boullion said. He has another problem that was caused by an infection in his lung two years ago. The surgery that followed worsened the problem, he said.

Besides the information that's dispensed at the meetings, there's a certain amount of camaraderie among the regulars. They refer to each by first names, sometimes make a call or send a card. Making people with lung problems aware that they're not alone is another club goal, Neigebauer said.

"They can bounce ideas off each other and they can learn," said Neigebauer, adding that many times physicians don't adequately explain lung conditions to their patients.

"They can learn about their lung condition, help control it and understand what things they can and can not do," said Neigebauer, coordinator of the Pulmonary Rehabilitation program for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at the St. Joseph Mercy Health Building in Plymouth and at an Ann Arbor location.

Many of the people who attend meetings have emphysema; others have asthma, chronic bronchitis and a host of other conditions. Consider that lung disease is the fifth leading cause of death in the United States and is the second leading cause for people leaving work. The first leading cause of people leaving work is heart disease.

"The more we can keep these people at work the better it is," Neigebauer said.

The person with emphysema, an obstructive disease that destroys lung tissues and causes limited breathing capacity, can learn new breathing techniques to improve lung functions and exercise their lung muscles.

Reducing disability

"We can't reduce the disease, but we can help reduce the patient's disability from the disease," she said. "Education is the key. The more you know about something the more you can help to understand and control it."

Barbara Gagnon has attended Breathers Club meetings in Milford and Plymouth for more than a decade and her reward is a store of knowledge.

"I have learned so much about the lung diseases since I've gone to the meetings," according to the South Lyon resident who is also involved in the Pulmonary Rehab program at Plymouth. For instance, she learned that exercise is great for people with lung conditions.

"By exercising with the rehab program I have come a long way," said Gagnon who has emphysema. She quit smoking in 1980 and feels fortunate that she doesn't need an oxygen machine except when she is exercising during the rehab program.

"Other times I'm a little winded, but I do great," she added. "I was surprised by the doctors who did not know about the rehab programs," Gagnon said. "In fact I discovered it through the Breathers Club."

Most Plymouth Breathers Club members participate in the Pulmonary Rehab program in the St. Joseph Mercy Health Building, however, the public is encouraged to attend meetings.

"We would prefer to get more people in the community to come," Neigebauer said. "We are trying to reach them in fact."

The next meeting is 2 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 12, at the St. Joseph Mercy Health Building in Plymouth. For more information call Neigebauer at (313) 712-5367 or 995-1540.

Campaign gives heart health a boost

During February, which is American Heart Month, the American Heart Association is launching a nationwide campaign to educate the public about different aspects of cardiovascular disease. Heart disease will kill nearly one million Americans in 1997 and will cost the U.S. more than $135 billion in health services, drugs and lost wages and productivity.

More than 44 percent of Michigan deaths in 1994 were caused by heart disease, 35 percent more than cancer.

For February 1997, the educational message is "Get In on the Action!" It urges everyone to make physical activity a part of their daily lives.

"It's important to fit in a workout every day. It could save your life," said Dr. Charles Webb, M.D., president of the AHA's Michigan Affiliate. "Regular exercise is one significant way to help reduce heart attack risk. No matter how busy you are, your workout should have the same importance as any other appointment of the day."

Someone in America dies every 33 seconds from cardiovascular disease, the No. 1 killer in the U.S. Lack of physical activity has been clearly shown to be a risk factor for cardiovascular disease. Yet, alarmingly, only 22 percent of all Americans get enough leisure time exercise to achieve cardiovascular fitness.

Fitness among young people is a concern of the AHA, particularly as more schools eliminate physical education programs and more children choose TV over sports. Many metro Detroit children are obese, have high blood cholesterol, have high blood pressure, and even smoke.

During Heart Awareness Week, which was Feb. 3-7, the association helped young people learn how to care for their hearts.

A total of 78 school districts took part in the second annual educational event. More than 340,000 youths in kindergarten through 12th grade received specially created lesson plans.

Other highlights included:

- a conference on Children and Cardiovascular Disease at Children's Hospital.
- Detroit Rockers School Day Soccer Game.
- presentation of an achievement award to Brandon Avery, 13, who recently lost 54 pounds through proper nutrition and exercise.

Studies have shown than risk factors in children often predict heart disease later in life. Heart Awareness Week was created by the Metro Detroit Corporate Advisory Board in response to the startling statistics about children and the risk for heart disease.

For more information, call the AHA's Metro Detroit Area Office at (810) 557-9511.

EMORY DANIELS
O&E ONLINE

With Valentine's Day approaching, let's take a look at three authors who are breaking out of the mold with fresh approaches to love and romance.

"Cyberlove is possible and pleasurable but until you meet, it's only 'cyberfatuation,' " says author Lorilyn Bailey, who claims to have written the first guidebook to online dating, "The Little Book of Online Romance: How To Find It, How To Keep It." Anyone interested in spending $6.95 on the book may send an E-mail inquiry to lorilynb@guestfinder.com

In her book, Bailey offers suggestions from safety tips to keeping long-distance love alive and lists 500 questions for cyber couples to discuss. Her first book, "The Original Lovers' Questionnaire Book," has silly-to-serious questions on such topics as money, politics, sex, romance, AIDS, body weight, household chores, and etiquette.

Visit her Web site, "Online-Romance Central," at http://www.online-romance.com and find free online "Electronic Antique" Valentine's Day postcards for use at this time of year.

After sending out an electronic greetings, turn your attention to Shel Horowitz, who is a self-proclaimed expert on high living and romance for Valentine penny-pinchers. His Web page is http://www.frugalfun.com.

Horowitz shares ways to slash the cost of every kind of pleasure, including romance. Among the ideas are: fabulous free dates; free concerts and plays; travel for pennies on the dollar; cost-free gifts; and tightwad weddings.

Horowitz, author of "The Penny-Pinching Hedonist: How to Live Like Royalty with a Peasant's Pocketbook," shares his tips and offers a free idea sheet, "17 Great Romantic Dates for Penny-Pinchers." Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Shel Horowitz, (413) 586-2388, AWM Books, P.O. Box 1164 Northampton, Mass. 01061. To find out how to purchase the $17 "Penny-Pinching Hedonist ..." book, send an E-mail inquiry to shel@frugalfun.com.

Horowitz is a popular media guest, speaker and teacher. He's written more than 700 articles and edits Global Arts Review, an Internet-only international arts magazine, that can be accessed at http://www.frugalfun.com/review.html.

The Valentine season may be a time to light fires. If it might be for you, then read David LeClaire's book on how to rekindle the passion in your marriage

LeClaire, author of "Bridges to a Passionate Partnership," offers a step-by-step pathway to keeping passion alive as couples grow together. LeClaire shows how to avoid and defuse "land mines" that partners plant in their relationships and how to maintain open communication to keep the passion alive.

LeClaire and wife Kristin have led the "Keeping Love Alive" programs for couples since 1991. He shares the difference between what men and women say they want in the bedroom, why so many married women rarely experience sexual fulfillment, the value of a conflict in relationship and why it should not always be avoided, ways to reduce friction, and why nearly half of all divorces and separations happen before the first child is 3 years old.

To find out how to purchase "Bridges to a Passionate Partnership" paperback for $12.95, write Equestrian Press/HARA Publishing, P.O. Box 19732, Seattle, Wash. 98109 or send an E-mail enquiry to dleclaire@earthlink.net. Or to learn more about his book, visit Alternative Books Superstore at http://web.star.com/Alternative/Bridgess.html.

Valentine Jewels

- Where does Valentine's Day originate? Some would, with good reason, say from The Feast of Lubercus. There are several interpretations as to the origin of Valentine's Day at http://www.america.net/valentine/origin.html.
- Visit the NJWeb Valentine's Web site at http://www.njweb.com/valenti.html and read this site's explanation of how Valentine's Day got its start. Use this site's links to launch to other Web sites to learn about "History of Valentine's Day" or "Kids on Love" (humor), "Men's Guide" (humor), "Women's Guide" (humor) and other Valentine's links.
- If you feel like a snoop, point to the Valentine's Day Message Center at http://www.teleport.com/almanac/valentine.html and read Valentine greetings of others, such as JJ's greeting to Lynsa, "I love you more than butterscotch squares and Thai food. Of course, that's easy if you eat them both at once. But I even love you more than if I eat 'em separately."
- A child can print out a Valentine story that's customized with his or her first name, the name of a best friend, favorite cookie and other details. Presented by Sears Portrait Studios as part of the original "Story Creations" series, this site is designed to encourage parent-child reading interaction. The Valentine story is free and does not require an E-mail address or user registration. Point to http://www.searsportrait.com.
- On-line sweethearts looking for virtual Valentines may choose from 19 selections, including four animated cards. Offered by CPI Photo, Fox Photo and Sears Portrait Studios, the cards can be customized with a personal message and E-mailed to your valentine. There's no limit on the number of cards you can send, and there's no charge to customize or send cards. Available at three sites; point to http://www.cpiphoto.com, http://www.foxphoto.com, or http://www.searsportrait.com.

GROUND BROKEN

A 30,000-square-foot building expansion has begun at Detroit College of Business in Dearborn's main campus in response to increased enrollment, a pending graduate program and the relocation of the Adult Accelerated Career Education program to the campus. Expected completion will be in the fall.

The $4 million-plus addition is being made to the southwest side of the Academic Building and will include 10 lecture classrooms, four computer classrooms and two distance learning laboratories. The library and bookstore will also be expanded by as much as 50 percent.

The original Academic Building was 60,000 square feet, growing to 100,000 square feet in 1994. Upon completion of this year's two-story addition, the building will total 130,000 square feet.

Detroit College of Business has campuses in Dearborn, Warren and Flint.

NEW HOMES

Pulte presents large houses at Wyngate

How's this for country?

A pair of horses frolic in the snow next to Wyngate of Clarkston, a platted subdivision of 85 home sites off Clarkston Road west of Sashabaw Road in Independence Township.

Yet, Pine Knob Theatre, ski resort and golf course are just down the road. I-75 with access to the Palace of Auburn Hills, the Silverdome, Chrysler Technology Center and other points of commerce north and south is a short drive.

Wyngate, developed and built by Pulte Master Builder, the volume leader in Michigan, would seem to have the best of both worlds.

"We have the ability to give you a lot of home for the money," said Deen Hyde, marketing coordinator for Pulte. "The country setting, trees – it's a beautiful, natural setting."

"The other thing is location," said Bob Dunston, project manager at Wyngate. "We're a mile and a half off I-75. That's a huge benefit."

Five floor plans are available.

Base price ranges from $281,990 for a colonial of 2,935 square feet with four bedrooms and 2-1/2 baths, to $321,990 for a colonial of 3,329 square feet with four bedrooms, three full baths and two half baths.

Dunston described the average buyer as a family with an upper-level executive in his mid 40s or 50s and older children. Buyers have owned several houses and have built previously.

"We're very customer oriented," Hyde said. "The fact is someone like Bob is going over every detail of the house so there's no problems, no questions."

Standard features in all five plans at Wyngate include three-car, side-entry garage, fireplace, first floor laundry, crown molding, basement, and built-in oven, cooktop, microwave and dishwasher.

TAMMIE GRAVES/STAFF ARTIST

A two-story foyer and curved staircase greet visitors at the front door. The living room is off to one side of the foyer, a formal dining room to the other.

A two-way fireplace separates the kitchen/nook/hearth room from the family room, which has a two-story ceiling.

The kitchen features an island with overhang that can be used as a breakfast bar and a built-in desk.

Two half baths are downstairs – one off the laundry/mud room, the other off the library. A second staircase goes upstairs from the kitchen/nook area.

The laundry has built-in cabinets and a sink. A separate side entrance in addition to the one from the garage leads gives access to the laundry/mud room.

All bedrooms are upstairs.

The master, with pan ceiling, has a separate tub and shower, a pair of walk-in closets, a vanity with two sinks separated by a sitting make-up area and a compartmentalized toilet.

A second bedroom, also with a full bath and walk-in closet, can be used as a guest suite.

Two other bedrooms and a third full bath also are on the second level.

Base price of the Carrington is $321,900. The model, with upgrades like landscaping, deck, air and a partially finished basement with a fourth bath would carry a price upwards of $363,000 now were it for sale.

"They love this floor plan, I think, because of the spaciousness," she said. "Tall ceilings they like. They're impressed with the finish work. Obviously, they love the decorating. The kitchen they like with the hearth room. Extra baths, obviously, the guest suite and the second half bath down here."

Wyngate is serviced by city water and sewers. There are no sidewalks.

The property tax rate currently is $28.47 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation, half of market value. That means the owners of a $290,000 house would pay about $4,130 the first year.

An annual association fee of $100 is charged to landscape and maintain common areas.

Pam and Wally Johnson were among the first to move into the sub. The attraction?

"It was basically the size of the house, plus the size of the lots," Wally said. "Clarkston schools, we wanted that. We looked around and Pulte had a good reputation."

The couple purchased a colonial.

"The plan for our money, the dollar for square footage, was the best buy," Wally said. "We wanted the master on the second floor and a larger kitchen attached to the family room."

"Clarkston is a community we both enjoy," Tom said. "Pulte, looking at the model and other floor plans, I think they had quality. In talking to members of their team, I knew they had customer focus. There's a lot of livable space in this floor plan."

The sales model at Wyngate of Clarkston, (810) 620-6300, is open 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

Binghamton home plan offers 2,000 feet of elegance

Squared columns, each supported by a stone pedestal, give a distinctive look to the wrap-around front porch that welcomes visitors to the Binghamton.

Arched windows and a small gable add to the charm of this mid-sized family home. Inside, a coffered ceiling and bay windows give a touch of elegance to the living room.

Light from the gable spills down to brighten the vaulted entry and family room. Family members will enjoy spending most of their time together in this pleasant space. Standing at the kitchen sink, you face into the family room or nook, and can also gaze out into the back yard. This angled island could also be outfitted as an eating bar. A step-in pantry that nestles into the corner provides ample storage space for canned goods and staple items.

Windows fill most of the rear wall. One set flanks the fireplace and another set slides open to provide easy access to a patio that spans the home's entire back side. A small utility room is on the left. Directly connected to the garage, this space is also handy for shucking off messy footgear after gardening or tramping through rain or snow.

The master suite is vaulted and has sliding glass doors. This comes in particularly handy if the family ever wants to install a hot tub on the deck or patio. Other amenities include a walk-in closet and private bathroom with double vanity. Shower and toilet are separately enclosed, for privacy and steam containment.

Secondary bedrooms are well-separated from the Binghamton's master suite and share a two-section bathroom with tub. The front bedroom is vaulted.

For a review plan, including scaled floor plans, elevations, section and artist's conception, send $15 to Associated Designs, 1100 Jacobs Dr., Eugene, Ore. 97402. Please specify the Binghamton 10-259 and include a return address when ordering. A catalog featuring over 170 home plans is available for $12. For more information call (800) 634-0123.

Do It Yourself

READER'S DIGEST BOOKS FOR AP SPECIAL FEATURES

Chairs suffer more stress, strain and mistreatment than any other type of furniture, considering their lightweight construction and the heavy load they carry. However, there are several methods you can use if they have to be repaired:

Two basic chairs

Straight-chair construction falls into two basic categories: frame or platform. A frame chair is composed of flat pieces that form a frame that supports the seat. It has two continuous back posts that serve both as the rear legs and the sides of the back rest. A platform chair has round legs, rungs and spindles. It has a separate back assembly that fits into a seat and the seat is supported directly by the legs. The joints that hold the platform chair together are mostly all dowel joints _ the round legs, rungs and spindles fit into holes in the seat and legs.

All but the finest straight chairs can often be repaired at home with simple tools. The repairs you can make depend in part on the way the chair is constructed. Frame chairs, for example, are prone to break at the joints near the back of the seat. In platform chairs, the joints between the rungs and the legs are most vulnerable to damage.

Before taking a chair apart, examine it carefully. Plan to correct any previous quick-fix repairs. Before disassembly, remove all the fasteners. Label the components to ensure correct reassembly.

In any chair, the best way to fix a loose joint is to dismantle only the affected parts and reglue them. To dismantle a joint, gently work the pieces loose by hand, or use a rubber mallet or a hammer with a padded wooden block. If a joint is only slightly loose, you may be able to fix it by injecting a liquid wood sweller into it. Leave tight joints undisturbed.

Never substitute screws, nails, metal plates or angle irons for a good glue job. It helps to place a chair in a warm, dry room for a few days before dismantling it.

A chair part may work loose because the glue has dried out, the wood has shrunk or because damage to another part of the chair has put a strain on the joint. Many loose joints can be repaired by pulling the joint apart, removing the old glue, applying new glue and clamping the pieces. After the glue is removed, test fit the pieces without glue to make sure all joints fit properly.

Sometimes the tenon on the end of a rung or spindle may need to be enlarged to fit snugly in its hole. Try wrapping thread or a wood shaving around the tenon, using glue to hold it in place.

Loose frame

If you notice play in a frame chair during use, check to see whether the frame is working loose around the seat. If it is, strengthen the frame by installing glue blocks. Cut a triangular block of hardwood, about 1 1/2-inches thick, to fit snugly into each corner of the frame. Make the block about 5-to-6-inches long and drill two holes through it and into the frame. Glue the mating surfaces and screw the blocks into place. If the frame already has glue blocks, reinstall them with fresh glue and slightly larger diameter screws to increase their holding power.

Clamp and glue tips

Most repairs require gluing and clamping. You can, though, overdo both. Use too much glue and you'll not only create a mess, but weaken the joint or connection by creating a thick, easy-to-break glue line. Aim for a thin, even glue line.

Likewise, don't overtighten clamps. You can drive too much glue out, creating a starved joint. Or you can compress the wood so much that when the clamps are removed and the fibers spring back into shape, they weaken the repair.

Law warns of lead

(AP) – Parents shopping for a new home would have some piece of mind under a new federal law that requires sellers to tell prospective buyers if a home contains lead-based paints.

But government and business officials worry that the new law aimed at protecting people from buying a home with the potentially toxic paints could cause confusion.

Under the new law, if lead is detected in a home, the would-be buyer can simply walk away – or go ahead and buy the house, intending to have the paint removed by a contractor.

Jonathan Swain, an information officer for the Indiana State Department of Health, said homeowners run the risk of hiring unqualified firms because state law doesn't require that lead paint abatement contractors be licensed.

"There's not a law on the books, so there is no way we could say one firm is better than the other," Swain said.

Rose King, owner of Best Home Inspection in Hobart, agrees. She notes that paint dust produced during paint removal poses a health threat if improperly handled. Children often are exposed to lead paint when they eat paint chips.

"They're going to put this law into effect and we have no testing facilities in the area," she said. "This is going to scare people."

While it doesn't address lead screening or require that lead paint be removed from the home, the law requires sellers to disclose known information about lead-based paint in the home.

The seller also must give potential buyers an informational packet regarding lead and the buyer has 10 days to check for lead hazards.

STEVEN SIVAK

There is good home design and bad home design. I admire the work of a few (mostly fairly obscure) architects whose work is known to but a few clients and architects. But like many of the people reading this article, I am also a big fan of Frank Lloyd Wright.

Wright's work ranges from the readily accessible and familiar to the esoteric. It is architecture with the rheostat turned up to 11!

It was not until my return to the Midwest after years of school and work on both the west and east coasts that I really took notice of Wright's architecture. A great deal of this is due to the fact that Lawrence Technological University in Southfield is the owner of Wright's Affleck House in Bloomfield Hills. Due to my teaching position at Lawrence Tech, I have been able to spend extended periods of time "feeling" this elegant modern and modest home. This is one of Wright's Usonian houses, which tend to be simple yet beautifully detailed with natural materials (as most of his houses are), flat roofs and of modest size: The Affleck House is just 1,600 square feet.

Yet this house seems much larger because of how the space is claimed, i.e. the bedrooms are small and the public spaces are large, and how the spaces overlap and have dual purposes. They are detailed very elegantly with no excess yet the choice of materials – here Wright used red cypress and a warm reddish-brown brick and minimal amounts of plaster. It is sumptuous compared with today's palette of materials – primarily paint on drywall. The vast majority is made up of the raw cypress and brick – ceilings being the cypress used in a stepping bevel pattern, which creates interest in terms of both the shadows that are created as well as in the inherent variations of the material itself.

In the private areas, the scale of spaces is kept to the minimum – this is one of Wright's standard tricks. Bedrooms are not comfortable for extended periods of time and are supposed to encourage family members to seek comfort in the larger public spaces of the houses. In a like manner, the house is revolutionary for its time in that it puts the kitchen in the middle of the house, which connects the family together through the living room. With these sorts of moves, we can see how Wright in particular and architecture in general deeply affects those who come in contact with it.

The house's appearance is that of some sort of cross between an airplane and a boat. huge cantilevers extend gracefully into space, or at least they used to. Wright pushed the material strength of the wood, steel and concrete that are used in the project beyond our current use of these materials. The cantilevers are sagging and the concrete terraces deflect beyond what our current "conservative" engineering guidelines allow. Maybe this is due to the lack of rigorous maintenance, but these are also problems at Fallingwater (Wright's masterpiece at Bear Run, Pa.). So while exterior appearance is slightly abstract and atypical, the interior is much more readily accepted.

Part of the beauty of the house is the ravine that the house is so nicely situated on. There is actually a small stream that runs under the house and is caught in a retaining basin. Wright advised Affleck to find a difficult site to build upon, and it is indeed the site that is fixed and can only be modified slightly. A good lesson can be learned here, and that is to start off with the best and most interesting site that one can find/afford.

Certainly the quality of the construction is very high and took special skills to pull off. Beveled cypress is used on the interior to make walls, doors and even furniture. The cypress is anchored to the walls with brass screws, all of which are oriented in the same direction! Flat cypress is used to make the exterior doors and windows as well. The heating system is hydronic (water based) and is distributed through lines that were set in the concrete floors prior to the pouring of such. The Romans invented the system, but Wright made good use of the ideas.

The nice thing about this system is that the floor is kept an even and warm temperature while one's head is cool. There are not drafts or dust blowing through the house, but there is also no humidification system nor fresh air intake nor duct work for cooling, and they cost about $7 per square foot for heat only.

This kind of workmanship does not come cheap and it is my guess that to reproduce such a fine house would run about $175 to $200 per square foot.

Good luck!

AAA Michigan has cold house cure for Michigan winter

Frigid weather is expected to make houses chilly across the state this week. But improper use of alternative heating sources could make things too hot to handle.

AAA Michigan reports a 20-30 percent increase in the number of claims arising from improper use of propane heaters, kerosene heaters, electric heaters and conventional ovens. To help prevent serious injury, AAA Michigan offers the following home safety tips:

• Use alternate heat sources, such as kerosene, propane or electric heaters, with care. Follow manufacturer's guidelines and never leave unattended. Keep heaters at least 12 inches away from curtains, corners and walls. Always refuel kerosene heaters outdoors and never place directly on a carpet or rug.

• Gas ovens should never be used as an alternate heat source.

• If your furnace makes an odd noise, call for service immediately.

• Clean your chimney and have your furnace inspected annually. This service can range between $50-$65, but it could prevent your house from burning down.

• Do not overload electrical outlets.

• Install and maintain smoke detectors on all living levels.

• If sub-zero temperatures are predicted and you have reason to believe your water pipes may freeze, turn on your tap to a steady trickle. This will help prevent pipes from freezing.

• If you wish to install "heat tape" on your pipes, hire a professional. Improperly installed heat tape can cause fires.

• Do not attempt to thaw pipes using an open flame; hair dryers have been known to do a great job.

Breathe new life into rooms with wallcovering, borders, fabrics

Have you been staring at your plain, solid-colored walls lately, thinking of ways to redecorate and add some style and interest? Why not try wallcoverings? When combined with coordinating boarders and fabrics, wallcoverings are a great way to give rooms a dressed and polished look. They infuse a room with pattern, color and texture. They give the room character and make it look more comfortable and "lived in." A dining room with solid-colored walls and trim can be transformed with a simple monochromatic pattern. A wallcovering, Toile de Savile, is a French country scene toile from Tibaut's newest collection, Lennox Park is available in blue on a white background, soft green, wheat, rose and black, on white and cream-colored backgrounds. The design provides a lot of pattern without being too bold or overbearing, and the monochromatic color scheme is very versatile. It can match a lot of different looks and colors found through the home.

Creating a similarly beautiful look in you home is not difficult. You can do it without having to hire an interior designer. The design experts at Thibaut offer the following tips for decorating rooms with toiles and other monochromatic or multicolored patterns:

■ Start by picking a pattern for the walls. This should be the pattern you want to dominate the room. Choose patterns with colors that appear in adjoining rooms

■ Select a border. Wallcovering books typically show coordinating borders alongside each wallpaper pattern. You can install the boarder at varying heights: Where the wall meets the ceiling; a few inches to more than a foot below the ceiling, interrupting the wallpaper pattern; or at chair-rail height. If you place the border at chair-rail height, you might consider using a coordinating sidewall pattern below the boarder for variety and interest. Stylized striped pattern are popular. If you place the border higher up on the wall, you might even reverse the sidewall patterns so that the stripe appears on top.

■ Offset the border with wood molding painted to match the baseboard molding and trim. This adds architectural interest. Molding can be an especially important design element in newer houses constructed without crown molding, windowsills or trim around the windows. If placing the boarder a foot or more down from the ceiling, you also might add a narrow shelf above it to display pictures, plates or other decorative items.

■ Use a coordinating fabric for draperies. Keep the window treatments simple, and let the light come in. A long, tied-back curtain with soft edges and a pretty tassel finishes off the window in the pictured room. Sheers were added for privacy and a more formal look.

■ Perk up furniture with coordinating fabric. Make slipcovers for worn, plain or dated pieces. Or, use fabric for seat cushions and to cover the backs of chairs. Pretty ties and buttons on the backs of the chairs add a personal touch.

■ Accessorize. Add a colorful flower arrangement to draw the eye. Brighten quiet corners with plants. Cover the floor with a sisal rug to add warmth and texture. These accent pieces bring the influences of nature indoors and help make the room feel more inviting.

Thibaut offers a variety of toiles and numerous other wallpaper and fabric designs. All wallcoverings are vinyl-coated paper and are scrubbable, washable and stripable. The fabrics are treated with DuPont Teflon fabric protector to guard from spills and soiling.

Lennox Park and other collections are available nationally through designs and fine wallcovering and decorating retail outlets. For the name of a local retailer, call 1-800-223-0704.

Radon gas can be hazard in the home

BY DR. NAOMI H. HARLEY
FOR AP SPECIAL FEATURES

The furor over residential radon has died down over the past few years, but this radioactive gas still is a potential problem for some unwary homeowners.

Radon is emitted by the radioactive decay of radium, which is found in all soil. Radon in turn decays into radioactive elements that deposit on the lung airways and can cause lung cancer when inhaled in high concentrations or for prolonged periods.

The radon problem was first detected in underground miners. It erupted into national headlines in 1984, when a Pennsylvania nuclear plant worker named Stanley Watras found radioactivity on his clothing during a routine radiation check. Surprisingly, the source of the radiation was traced not to his work, but to his home.

When scientists tested the air in the Watras house, in Boyerstown, Pa., near the New Jersey border, they found a radiation level of 3,000 picocuries per liter. To put that into perspective, it is about one-thousand times the current Environmental Protection Agency safety guidelines, which call for home radiation at a level of 4 picocuries per liter.

An alarm was sounded. One result was a legislated requirement in 13 states for mandatory radon testing when homes are purchased. It is to be done as part of the standard pre-purchase check of the home.

Some areas have naturally low levels of radon. Information about the radon-emitting status of a given area often can be obtained from the state's Department of Environmental Protection. The federal Environmental Protection Agency also has such information.

Radon levels may vary greatly from house to house on the same block. If a house is found to have high radon levels, the problem generally can be solved by subslab ventilation, that is, using a fan system to exhaust air from the basement floor of the house. Such a system reduces the indoor radon levels to about twice that existing outdoors. Outdoor radon concentrations are about half a picocurie per liter.

Apartment dwellers, especially those on higher floors, don't have to worry. Radon content is diluted significantly with height above the ground.

It is difficult to estimate an exact number of lung cancer cases caused by radon exposure since most, but not all, radon-lung cancers occur in people who also smoke cigarettes. Radon exposure is second only to cigarette smoking as a single environmental cause of lung cancer.

Dr. Naomi H. Harley is a Research Professor of Environmental Medicine at New York University School of Medicine.

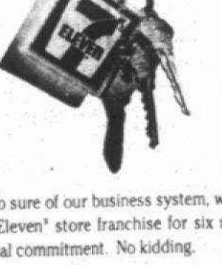
Test drive your new business.



We're so sure of our business system, we'll let you try out your 7-Eleven® store franchise for six months before making a final commitment. No kidding.

As our 3,000 current franchisees have discovered, there's no other franchise with as many benefits as a 7-Eleven convenience store. At $53,000, the 1995 average initial cash requirement was surprisingly reasonable. Especially when you consider the proven business system and ongoing support offered by 7-Eleven.

After repositioning the company to meet the challenges of the '90s, 7-Eleven continues to be the best convenience retailer in the world. When you discover all the benefits we offer, you'll find nothing else compares with 7-Eleven. Call today.

The world's #1 convenience store franchise.

The six month trial offer is not available in the state of Ohio. The initial franchise fee may vary for each store. The method of computing the franchise fee is fully disclosed in the Uniform Franchise Offering Circular. Franchisees who are selling the franchise interest in their 7-Eleven stores may also seek an additional payment. This is not an offer to sell or solicitation of an offer to buy a franchise. An offer is made by prospectus only. Franchises are only available in certain states. An equal opportunity organization.

JOBS/CAREERS

Capitalize on First Quarter Recruiting Rush

BY SHERYL SILVER
CAREER SOURCE

Have you decided to change jobs this year? If so, you might want to consider the benefits of making a move during the first quarter of the year, a period when a lot of hiring activity takes place.

What fuels the flurry of hiring the first few months of each year? "Companies typically have their new budgets this time of year," says Robert Worley, a chapter president of the International Association of Career Management Professionals (IACMP) and director of counseling services for the Washington office of Manchester Partners International, a career transition firm with 127 offices in 16 countries, "For-profit enterprises also tend to hold off hiring during the last month or two of each year to keep the bottom line looking good," then resume their recruiting efforts in January.

This year in particular, Worley believes hiring will remain brisk because the economy continues to look stable. Several local recruiters concur. Conversations with individuals who place candidates in a range of fields, from information technology and accounting to administrative support, indicate that positions are plentiful and in fields like information technology, demand actually exceeds the pool of qualified talent for some positions.

How can you capitalize on this circumstance? What strategies can help you maximize your job search results? Worley offers some expert advice.

His first suggestion: Include a customized cover letter with your resume when responding to ads. "Since so many people continue to respond to ads, you've got to write a cover letter that addresses what employers are looking for," advises Worley. "It's not enough to explain what you want. Job seekers need to talk instead about how they can contribute, and how they match the qualifications outlined in the company's ad."

It's also important to pursue multiple opportunities simultaneously. "People must get out of the 'eggs in one basket' Mentality," says Worley. "Far too often, people count on a particular opportunity because they're so convinced it's going to work out. Then it falls through," and they've got to start the search from scratch. It's far better, says Worley, to create a lot of activity so no one situation is as critical.

Equally important, according to Worley, is learning how to use the telephone to maximum advantage. "Being able to use the telephone effectively is vital, both from the viewpoint of employers calling you and you calling them," he notes. "Begin by making sure you've got a way for your telephone to be answered. One missed call can mean a lost opportunity."

Be sure, as well, that the telephone is answered in a professional way, even if it's your home phone. "Don't have the kids singing on the outgoing telephone message" if you have an answering machine, says Worley.

When trying to reach employers to follow up on resumes you've submitted, Worley suggested, "Call early in the morning, at noon, or late in the afternoon after 5 p.m. Often you can get directly to a decisionmaker at those hours before their secretary or administrative assistant arrives, after they leave, or while they're at lunch."

Before picking up the telephone to make a call, Worley advises some advance preparation. "Jot down the points you want to be sure to cover," he suggests. "And have your resume handy. Employers may refer to it," and it's important to have all the facts and dates readily available. For the same reason, Worley advises keeping a copy of your resume near the telephone so you're prepared to talk any time employers call to follow up on materials you've submitted to them.

Worley also suggests that people give themselves the latitude of standing up while talking on the telephone if it enables them to speak more confidently. He even encourages gesturing while speaking if that makes someone feel more comfortable.

One Worker's Idea Can Change a Company

BY DEBORAH L. JACOBS
CHRONICLE FEATURES

Every great thing starts with an idea from someone. With that thought, John Landwehr dashed off an e-mail message last fall to members of the NeXT Software executive team. The gist of his message: NeXT should consider licensing its operating system to Apple Computer.

Landwehr, a product manager at NeXT, thought he had simply come up with another way for his company to expand its business. I a matter of months, it evolved into much, much more. Shortly before Ch ristmas, the two Silicon Valley enterprises announced a $400 million merger.

Of course, not every sensible suggestion ultimately grabs business headlines. But Landwehr's strategy–and Next's response–holds lessons for both workers and companies.

The idea came from a clever employee who read between the lines of trade journals and saw potential opportunity. Apple was looking for a new operating system (the software that runs a computer). NeXT had one to offer. Perhaps they could help each other out, he thought.

Unlike many business proposals, which take the form of glossy presentations and lengthy reports, Landwehr's pitch was decidedly low-key. He opted for electronic mail, the preferred mode of communication at NeXT and many other high-tech companies. It took very little time and energy to prepare. And, if recipients didn't spark to his idea, he figured they could simply hit the delete key.

At NeXT, "People realize that not every e-mail has to be responded to and that you shouldn't let your feelings get hurt if you crank out a long e-mail and nobody says anything," he says. This may well be true at other companies too. It could be that management doesn't have time to consider your recommendation, or is mulling it over.

In this case, executives thought the initiative "sounded great," but timing was an issue, Landwehr recalls. Apart from some brief discussions in the hallways, he had few clues that it was gaining momentum.

While Landwehr turned to other assignments, NeXT executives passed along his idea, until it landed on the desk of the company's head produce manager. He placed a call to Apple, whose chief technical officer called him back. Ultimately, Apple offered to buy the entire company.

In the process, Steven Jobs, who co-founded Apple in 1976 and started NeXT after getting kicked out less than a decade later, will go back to Apple. Next's 350 employees will become part of a much more visible entity.

Meanwhile, Landwehr has become something of a corporate hero. He says co-workers have thanked him for, in effect, helping increase the value of their stock in the company. Much to his surprise, at the press conference announcing the merger, Steven Jobs gave credit to "two young hotshot marketing people," Landwehr says. He knew he was one of them.

Sure, Landwehr–and NeXT–got lucky, but what happened wasn't a total fluke. All along, NeXT had wisely encouraged workers to present new ideas, and had gone to the trouble of sorting the good from the bad. Although the company's CEO wasn't aware of the first informal overture to Apple, he apparently wasn't miffed (as some corporate leaders might be) that he hadn't been consulted before the initial talks. By giving credit where it was due, Jobs may encourage other workers to step forward with good ideas in the future.

CAReport

The Sierra accounts for more than 40 percent of all GMC sales. In 1995, more than 177,850 were sold. That's a lot of trucks.

BY ANNE FRACASSA
Avanti NewsFeatures

You want choices on a full-size pickup truck? Well, you've got it with the 1997 GMC Sierra.

There are several body styles: 2-door regular cab, 2-door extended cab, extended cab with third door, 4-door crew cab and a choice of 6.5- or 8-foot box lengths with Wideside or Sportside design.

There are also five engines to choose from: Vortec 4300 V6, Vortec 5000 V8, Vortec 5700 V8, 6.5-liter turbo-diesel V8 or Vortec 7400 V8. It also comes with a 5-speed manual or 4-speed automatic transmission and in 2-wheel and 4-wheel drive options.

It's even built in different places: Pontiac, Mich.; Oshawa, Ontario, Canada; Fort Wayne, Ind.; and in Flint, Mich. (crew cab only).

I picked the Sierra 4x4 extended cab with third door, 6.5-foot box and 5.7-liter (Vortec 5700) V8 with automatic transmission.

Great choice, too.

And although this is a no-nonsense truck that looks more at home at the construction site rather than your suburban driveway, it isn't a Tim Allen "hu-hu-hu"-type pickup truck that a lady wouldn't find comfortable to drive to work every day. Or even a mom doing errands shopping and carting around the kids.

I'm not kidding.

My only suggestion is if you are that lady or mom, do yourself a favor and get the running boards. If nothing else, it helps the kids a bit. Although both my 3-year-old and 5-year-old climbed up through the third door and into that rear seat without a complaint.

We (hubby and I) took our good friends, Kathy and Joe, to dinner and a community theater play in the truck. It served us well and everyone was comfy. And when Joe dared me to parallel park the truck on what looked like an incredibly small parking spot on Grand River Avenue, I took the dare. And surprised myself when it fit — on the first try.

The Sierra performed flawlessly when a snowstorm hit unexpectedly and I was quite a few miles away from home. Threw it into 4-wheel drive and off I went. Never a slip, never a slide — just even, solid, stick-to-the-road driving. It's so nice not to have white knuckles when you get home.

Although the Sierra's sheet metal is nearly the same as last year's model, much has changed. On the inside, you'll find a passenger-side airbag and a vehicle control module that has greater control over the cooling fan and air-conditioning system.

This year you'll also find a tighter turning radius on the 4-wheel drive models, speed-sensitive power steering, improvements to the automatic transmission and better control of evaporative emissions. This truck can also now be outfitted to

And the Sierra is a lot of truck. It's solid — oh, I said that already. It's versatile, functional, has proven durability, has all the features important on a well-designed pickup and has smart styling.

I really felt at home driving the Sierra. It's comfortable. It's big and high off the ground, giving you a commanding feel. But it's not just feel. The Sierra is commanding all by itself.

The Sierra's third door, added last year, makes all the difference in the world for rear-seat passengers. There's a full bench seat back there, complete with restraints for all three passengers. The only problem you'll have is if you have long legs. The front seats can go back quite a ways for the comfort of front seat passengers, but the rear seat passengers will suffer.

We mentioned the addition of the passenger-side airbag. Located just above the large glove box, the airbag can be deactivated by a switch on the instrument panel if you plan to transport an infant in a rear-facing infant seat. The bag will remain deactivated until you turn the switch back to the "on" position.

The speed-sensitive power steering really came in handy during the parallel parking. It's the best, giving you minimal effort and high maneuverability when parking, and more effort at cruising speeds to provide you with feedback from the road. This steering feature even improves fuel economy because the power steering is only on when needed.

The 5.7-liter sequential fuel injection engine is rated at 255 horsepower. This is a strong engine that gives you power when you need it. In passing, in acceleration, in just about everything you throw at it. In the same realm, it's not so powerful you can't control it. You'll always feel totally in control.

The Sierra is also quiet. Several times I was forced to look at the tach to make sure the engine was running. It doesn't roar to life in cold-weather starts. The only increase in noise came when 4-wheel drive was engaged. And it wasn't intrusive, just a little more hummmmmm.

I rarely use my garage for vehicle storage. But when the snow is flying, I hate to be out there scraping. I was pleasantly surprised I could fit the Sierra in the garage this week — and there was about 4 feet of trikes and Power Wheels vehicles parked in front of it.

The extended cab Sierra I drove had a ton of equipment, both standard and optional, and the price was just a hair over $30,000. Base price of the Sierra 2-door regular cab is $14,602. Base price of the extended cab with third door is $20,896.

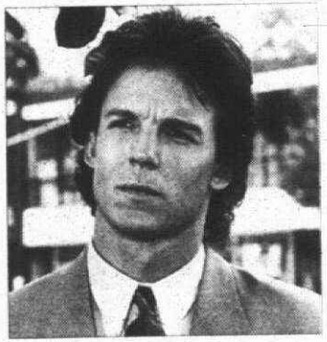
TV PIPELINE

By Taylor Michaels
©TVData Features Syndicate



Chris Potter

Q: What can you tell me about Chris Potter? Where can I write to the cast of Silk Stalkings? –S.L. Brown, Wallingford, Conn.

A: Born in Toronto, Potter was discovered by actress Martha Henry while performing in a community theater production. She quickly cast him in a Toronto production of Neil Simon's Biloxi Blues, which was followed by a role in Material World, a sitcom that ran for three years.

A number of TV guest appearances ensued, capped by his starring role as Peter Caine in the long-running Kung Fu: The Legend Continues. He and his wife have three children.

Write to him c/o the very active Chris Potter Fan Club (P.O. Box 876, Station F, 50 Charles St. E., Toronto, Ont., Canada M4Y 2N9), which sponsors an annual "Chrisfest, two days of celebrating Chrisdom."

Write to his co-stars c/o the show at USA Network, 1230 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10020.

Q: I say the actor who played the prince in the well-known TV version of Cinderella with Lesley Ann Warren was the same actor who plays Alan Quartermaine on General Hospital. My supervisor says it was someone else. Who is right? –Linda Ivory, Wilmington, Calif.

A: You are, Linda. Stuart Damon is the actor behind both characters.

Q: We at Earth 2 Foundations, the Earth 2 fan club, hope you can shed some light on when the original episodes will be rebroadcast on the Sci-Fi Channel. We have heard rumors that it could be this spring, but that only half the original episodes will air. –Lauren via e-mail.

A: The good news, Lauren, is that the Sci-Fi Channel has purchased rights to all of the original episodes.

The bad news is, they aren't scheduled to begin airing until early 1998, although Sci-Fi media director Karen Reynolds says there's a chance they may start at the end of this year.

Q: Are Joan Fontaine and Olivia de Havilland sisters? –M.W., Pottsville, Pa.

A: Yes. But after Fontaine (born Joan de Havilland) won an Academy Award™ for Suspicion, beating her older sister for Hold Back the Dawn, the two were estranged for years.

Q: Who was the actor who appeared as Walter Matthau's young robbery accomplice in Charley Varrick? I always thought he strongly resembled a young Liberace. –Fred Glaude, Lincoln, R.I.

A: You weren't the only one who thought that, Fred. Andrew Robinson, Matthau's Varrick co-star, later played the title role in the 1988 TV movie Liberace – not to be confused with Liberace: Behind the Music, another 1988 TV biography of the keyboard star.

Television can teach us a few things about romance

By Jocelyn Beard

With Valentine's Day fast approaching, couch potatoes may seek comfort in the fact that romance is alive and well on prime time. In keeping with the spirit of this season of love, we offer "The Romantic's Guide to Prime-Time Viewing."

Die-hard romantics who like beautiful, brainy heroines with long, flowing hair and heroes who are buckskin-clad supermen (also with long, flowing hair) need look no further than CBS' Saturday hit Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman. The frontier never looked so good.

When the lovely Dr. Michaela "Mike" Quinn (Jane Seymour) first arrive in Colorado Springs, Colo., a few seasons back, you just knew the bachelor days of husky mountain man Byron Sully (Joe Lando) were over. Their romance, set against the sweeping backdrop of the Western frontier, has kept fans enthralled for five years, and the arrival of a new baby, Katie, is positive proof that the thrill is fat from gone. This fantasy marriage rates a perfect "10" on the "This Could Only Happen on TV" scale.

In fantasy and bulky costumes aren't your thing, and you prefer love stores on the edge and fraught with danger, then the hotter-than-hot pairing of NYPD Blue (ABC, Tuesdays) detectives Bobby and Diane (Jimmy Smits, Kim Delaney) will get your blood pumping.

When Diane scorches co-worker Bobby with a tortured, smoky glance, it's a good bet that his beloved racing pigeons are going to go hungry - at least until the next commercial. This sizzling couple gives new meaning to the term "undercover."

The compelling new hourlong series Relativity (ABC, Saturdays) spotlights the passion of young love. Though not superhot in the ratings, the energy between the two stars in electric.

Isabel and Leo (Kimberly Williams, David Conrad) are the most likable 20-something couple on prime time. The nucleus of the show is their extravagantly wholesome passion that has already foiled Isabel's betrothal to another man and overcome class and lifestyle differences.

Pert and winsome Isabel cannot resist dark and brooding Leo. This is one couple whose love is guaranteed to draw happy sighs from all generations.

Look a little further up the romance food chain and you'll find Paul and Jamie Buchman. This endearing couple on Mad About You (NBC, Tuesdays) is perhaps the most romantic on prime time. Portrayed by Paul Reiser and Helen Hunt, Paul and Jamie have become icons for all that is good about marriage.

"The feeling of this show is like a couple's car ride home from a party," Reiser says, "when you can finally say what you've been thinking about all night."

Somewhere in that thought lies the key to Paul and Jamie's continued romantic success. As we watch these self-described former newlyweds try to figure out their new roles as parents-to-be, one thing is clear: This is a relationship that will one day go into the TV romance hall of fame.

If all this earnest unconditional love makes your skin crawl, TV offers quirkier couples, such as Kevin and Sarah (Ron Eldard, Justine Bateman) from Men Behaving Badly (NBC, Wednesdays). While you may think this show's title says it all, romantics are urged to take note: Kevin and Sarah enjoy a relationship that many of us can easily relate to. While they dance around the topic of commitment, viewers are treated to predicaments that are sometimes hilarious, sometimes infuriating and almost always poignant.

Quirkier still are the rascally Ned and effervescent Stacey (Thomas Haden Church, Debra Messing), who manage to bring lots of heat to the offbeat romantic comedy Ned and Stacey (Fox, Mondays). Whether these two knuckleheads will ever figure out they're made for each other is the premise that keeps viewers tuning in for more.

John Lithgow and Jane Curtin have brought unexpected romantic delight to 3rd Rock From the Sun (NBC, Sundays). Alien commander Dick Solomon (Lithgow) was sent to Earth on a fact-finding mission, but the only fact he seems to have found is his powerful attraction to Dr. Mary Albright (Curtin), who has finally succumbed to his unearthly charm. While some may say this couple's future is uncertain, the high ratings and awards the show has won seem to indicate that their love is written in the stars.

Speaking of aliens, it's time the truth finally came out about Mulder and Scully (David Duchovny, Gillian Anderson) from The X-Files (Fox, Sundays). The show's creator, Chris Carter, has maintained for years that there will never be any romance between Dana Scully and Fox Mulder, but there are those of us who know better.

This is Soap Opera Logic 101. We don't need to see Mulder and Scully lock lips to know it's all they're thinking about when they exchange those long, soulful looks between chasing monsters and shadowy government bad guys. This in one of the most formidable romances in television history.

TRIVIA

Canadian Peter Jennings, a high-school dropout, first anchored ABC's evening news at age 26. After three years he turned to reporting.

The ballroom tango was introduced in 1880 in Argentina. By 1915 it was the rage among fashionable dancers on three continents.

India's marble Taj Mahal took 18 years to build and was completed in 1650. It was erected by Shah Jahan as a tomb for his beloved wife.

More than half the world's people, about 3.5 billion, live in Asia. Africa is the next most populous continent, with fewer than a billion people.

By Suzanne Gill
©TVData Features Syndicate

Jane Tennison walks into the lair of a sadistic street boss without the benefit of a service revolver or communication with her backup in the finale of "Errors of Judgment," the fifth Prime Suspect crime drama.

Airing on consecutive Sundays, Feb. 9 and 16, on PBS' Masterpiece Theatre (check local listings), the four-hour thriller lives up to its predecessors in its portrayal of a uniformly bleak world – both inside and outside the station house – through which the beleaguered heroine finds her way. Old boys, dead ends, insolent subordinates, grisly murders and the near certainty of failure have a stimulating effect on Detective Superintendent Tennison. She always wins her case, and she pays dearly for every victory.

Helen Mirren has earned much praise for her portrayal of Tennison, a woman wedded to her career with more grit than regret. Good men soon discover they come second to her work, so she is left to choose her lovers from the ranks of cads and adulterers.

Helen Mirren

Finally Tennison is assigned to investigate the murder of a drug-ring operative, and she focuses on the ring's leader, Clive Norton (Steven Mackintosh), a k a "The Street."

Almost as soon as she begins her investigation, clues wither and witnesses become evasive. The case becomes nearly as impenetrable as the dialogue is to American ears. Much of it is in British street slang.

Her insistence on pursuing The Street, who always seems to slip out of the legal noose, is bewildering to her investigative team. They feel if one aims too high in the organization, there is a risk of losing the case.

Tennison's tenacious, instinctive style is a particular affront to Detective Inspector Clare Devanney (Julia Lane), who is accustomed to being the highest-ranking woman in the squad.

The case is still a jumble after Tennison interviews the only survivor of the murderous attack, a young member of The Street's army named Michael Johns (Ray Emmet Brown).

Yet this episode of Prime Suspect feels like the prelude to something rather than the thing itself. In the course of a good story, nothing new is learned about the heroine.

And whether a real-life Jane Tennison would have emerged from The Street's execution parlor is up to the viewer to decide.

Mirren once intended to close the book on Jane Tennison with this film, but she recently agreed to play her again, with the assurance of a greater role behind the camera in the sixth episode of Prime Suspect.

WEDNESDAY

Tom Miller (Kane Picoy) vows to keep quiet about the dark secret from Valerie's (Tiffani-Amber Thiessen) childhood in Beverly Hills, 90210, airing Wednesday on Fox.

SOAP TALK

By Candace Havens
©TVData Features Syndicate

It was supposed to be a one-day job, but that was 12 years ago, and Jay Hammer is still playing Fletcher Reade on Guiding Light.

"I was a writer for the show at the time," Hammer says. "They asked me to do this one-day thing. I guess they liked me better as an actor."

Hammer makes light of his writing, but he was nominated for a Writer's Guild Award.

The actor says he can't believe he is still playing Fletcher after all these years, but he's grateful. "It's a great character, and I like to work," Hammer says.

"It irks me when these people complain about what a tough job this is. Hey, you come to work, sometimes it is a long day, but you do your job and that's it."

Hammer has always been outspoken, and sometimes that hasn't made his life any easier.

"There was a time when I didn't care very much for what was being written for the show or for Fletcher," Hammer says. "Each day I received a script and then rewrote it, which didn't make the writers very happy.

"After a few months of me rewriting every script, I received one that had Fletcher dressing up in a diaper and crashing a baby shower. Other members of the cast were horrified. But I thought, if they want me to wear a diaper, I'll wear a diaper. It's just a job."

One of Hammer's favorite story lines is his current one. Fletcher and Holly (Maureen Garrett) have a new baby, Meg, with Down syndrome. It is a story that touches his heart.

"It isn't an easy story to watch, but it is an important one. There are 49 million disabled people and they are virtually invisible in the media," Hammer says. "GL has mainstreamed two stories about the disabled with Meg's story and Abigail (Amy Cox), who is hearing impaired.

"Disabled people refer to us as the temporarily abled, because eventually all of us break down in one way or another."
