Canton suffers fifth Ford Road defeat

By Darrell Clem
Staff Writer

Canton has lost a fifth attempt to secure federal money to fix Ford Road traffic woes. BILL BRESLER / STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Canton has lost out in its fifth attempt to win federal dollars to improve Ford Road, one of Michigan's most accident-prone and traffic-clogged thoroughfares.

Disappointed by the latest blow in a decade-long battle, Supervisor Phil LaJoy said local officials remain committed to finding a fix.

A move to turn Ford Road into a boulevard from I-275 to Sheldon has emerged as the preferred alternative from the Michigan Department of Transportation for easing traffic congestion and reducing crashes along Canton's prime retail corridor.

"We've got a study, so we'll continue to pursue our efforts with the state to get it funded,"

LaJoy said Tuesday.

Fight continues

Undeterred by five rejections, LaJoy said local officials also will continue to seek other federal grants that could be come available.

U.S. Transportation Secretary Anthony Foxx just this month announced that $2 projects in 37 states would receive $474 million from the U.S. Department of Transportation.

"The emphasis is trying to help communities become what they envision," he said. Backed by two separate traffic studies by MDOT, Canton has sought a fix to Ford Road traffic congestion for a decade or longer.

Yet the community has been repeatedly snubbed for funding.

LaJoy has said it's time to stop studying the problem and resolve it.

Canton had sought $15.8 million from the latest federal program dubbed TIGER, or Transportation Investment Generating Economic Recovery.

Boulevard support

Earlier this year, MDOT project manager Gorette Yung said a decision to transform Ford Road into a boulevard had become the state's preferred alternative, though she said a project schedule wasn't known due to issues such as funding.

Dog owners ready for annual Bark for Life

Fundraising event will benefit ACS

By Darrell Clem
Staff Writer

Dog owners, their pets and supporters are ready to gather Saturday in Canton for a tail-wagging event with a serious goal of fighting cancer.

Bark for Life of Canton happens from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. by the amphitheater and pond in Heritage Park, not far from the Canton Administration Building at 1150 S. Canton Center. Registration starts at 10 a.m.

Dog fans had registered 40 pets by early this week, but organizer Kathie McFry is hopeful the turnout Saturday will surpass last year's 75 pooches and their owners.

"Normally we have a pretty good crowd that does on-site registration," she said. "We expect anywhere from 40 to 60 (new entries) the day of the event."

Record attendance?

That could potentially push the number of dogs close to — or perhaps past — the 100 mark, which could possibly set a new record for Bark for Life's third annual fundraiser to help the American Cancer Society.

Jon LaFever, Canton Leisure Services recreation and facilities supervisor, has said Bark for Life "serves a niche" by bringing together cancer patients and survivors, their pets and their friends.

As of Monday afternoon, Bark for Life of Canton had raised just over $12,000 toward the $25,000 goal, but more donations still are expected Saturday and through Dec. 31 on the organization's website.

www.relayforlife.org/barkcantoni, and its Facebook page.

"We're still progressing," McFry said. "We're not at our goal yet."

McFry, who continues to battle cancer, has said her golden retriever Bo has been a constant companion, along with her family, as she fights the disease. Patients and health care professionals

Canton police seek help locating suspect

By Darrell Clem
Staff Writer

Canton police have released photos of a suspect sought for questioning for at least one in a series of vehicle break-ins that have occurred at the Lower Rouge River Recreation Trail.

The female suspect is believed to have used a credit card at a local retailer after it was taken from a purse stolen between noon and 1 p.m. Sept. 7 from a vehicle parked at the trail head, Detective Sgt. Chad Baugh said.

The trail head is located off Morton Taylor north of Michigan Avenue. Baugh said two similar thefts occurred around 3 p.m. Aug. 25 and 7 p.m. Aug. 15.

During the latest incident, a car window was broken out and a woman's purse was taken from inside the vehicle. The victim's credit card was later used at a local retail store, leading police to release the surveillance photos.

Anyone who has information about the suspect or any of the incidents is asked to call the Canton Police Department at 734-394-5400. Police also are

Lenore loves returning to her roots in Plymouth

By Brad Kadrich
Staff Writer

Sure, Sarah Lenore has traveled a long way from her hometown, to places like New York and Miami, while kick-starting her musical career.

But the 25-year-old Lenore has never really moved far from her roots, hanging onto the small-town attitudes she developed growing up in Plymouth, even as she edges into the fast lane of the recording industry.

Lenore, who grew up in Plymouth and still comes home to visit her parents and grandparents here, was back in town this week, headlining a charity event for Henry Ford Hospital. Though she now lives in Miami, Lenore brought back with her the hometown sensibility she says she's never let go.

"I love Miami," Lenore said. "But at heart, I'm completely a small-town, hometown girl."

Miami must agree with her, too. She's the owner of a recording deal with Universal Republic/Cash Money Records, the New York- and Miami-based label that's home to Nicki Minaj and Lil' Wayne. She's working on her first single, which she expects to be released late this fall or shortly after the new year.

The bright lights

After spending a few years in Nashville trying to get noticed, Lenore is adjusting to life in the big city while taking aim at the big time.

"I love Miami. I love the weather and it's a very different culture," she said. "Miami opened my eyes (to new alike say dogs and other pets can make a tangible difference.

Lots of activities

Dog owners or anyone who wants to help the fight against cancer are encouraged to turn out for Bark for Life. Owners pay $20 for their first dog and $5 for each additional canine up to three.

"If a family doesn't have a dog but enjoys being around dogs, they can come out and just enjoy the music and watching the games," said McFry, who organizes the event with co-chair Janet Stafford.

Bark for Life features a doggie costume contest, a musical sit game similar to musical chairs, a best trick competition, longest and shortest tail contests and a survivor walk around the park, among other activities. It also includes food for sale by Burger Spot of Plymouth and Metro Entertainment DJ Service, which is expected to play tunes such as Who Let the Dogs Out and Hound Dog.

Vendors such as a dog massage, canine costume-makers, groomers and trainers also are expected Saturday. Bark for Life raised $6,000 in its first year and $18,000 the second year, leading organizers to set this year's $25,000 goal.

Salvation Army looking for volunteers

Now that school has begun, the Plymouth Salvation Army is kicking off a couple of its annual programs and officials are looking for help in doing so.

One of the programs the Plymouth Salvation Army is kicking off is its Youth Night. Starting at 5:30 p.m. each Tuesday, the Corps will offer a light dinner, character building activities (scouting program) and music classes. Youth Night is open to youngsters between pre-K and 12th grade. All kids can expect to participate in games, crafts, music, field trips and much more.

Officials are looking for volunteers to assist in a couple of different ways.

The first one is the light dinner. "We serve very basic and easy to prepare items. Most items can just be heated up in the oven," said Sandy Kollinger, volunteer and special events coordinator for Plymouth Salvation Army. "Rarely is the stove top needed."

Officials are looking for two volunteers 4:30-6:30 p.m. each Tuesday to help prepare, serve and clean up for dinner — an estimated 30-35 meals.

The second program is the actual character building groups. Each grade-appropriate group already has a dedicated leader to "help transform the lives of our young people," Kollinger said. "As you can imagine, this can sometimes be a difficult task for just one person. We are looking for three volunteers that can assist the leaders in some of the groups."

Volunteers need to be over the age of 18 and pass the Salvation Army's criminal background procedures.

Volunteers also need to commit to a regular schedule of at least one time per month during the school year.

To volunteer or for more information, call Kollinger at 734-453-5464.

FORD ROAD

The plan calls for separating westbound and eastbound lanes of Ford Road by a grassy median, prohibiting left turns at intersections, adding turnaround lanes similar to those on Michigan Avenue and transforming Haggerty into a boulevard for 1,000 feet in both directions from Ford.

The plan also calls for adding a new westbound lane from I-275 to Lilley, a new eastbound lane from Haggerty to I-275 and paving Lotz Road between Ford and Cherry Hill.

State officials scuttled an earlier proposal to reconfigure the I-275/Ford Road interchange after federal officials indicated they wouldn't approve the project, amid concerns it could worsen traffic problems.

Canton Historical Society announces crafts series

The Canton Historical Society has announced a Heritage Arts and Crafts series with proceeds going to buy supplies needed to preserve historical photographs and documents.

The first two events, separate classes making annual nut wreaths, are set for 7 p.m. Thursday Oct. 3 and Oct. 10 at the Bartlett Travis House, in Preservation Park on Ridge Road north of Cherry Hill.

Tickets are $25 each and are available at Summit on the Park.

Each workshop is limited to eight adults, who may bring along one child age 10 and up.

Participants should bring a 12-inch foam wreath form that's green and rounded and two to three pounds of unshelled mixed nuts.

Wire and glue will be provided at the workshop.

Attendees also may bring other materials such as walnuts, a piece of cardboard and foam-board.

The second event focuses on making holiday pomander balls. It happens 7 p.m. Nov. 12 at the Bartlett Travis House. Tickets are $25 at the Summit.

Participants should bring two oranges to class. Cloves and ribbons will be provided. Instructor Shelley Hansen will guide the class in creating personalized hand-crafted items. She has extensive experience in arts and crafts including painting, beading and quilting.

Share your favorite fall tradition

The school year has begun, leaves are starting to turn shades of red and orange and autumn is just days away. It's a special time of year for Michiganders. Fall festivals, harvest time at local farmers markets, cider mills and college football and much more.

What's your favorite fall tradition or memory? Share it with Hometown Life Woman readers and you could win a gas card or a gift card to Joe's Gourmet Market or Meij-er to make more memories. Deadline to submit items is 5 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 1.

In August, we asked readers to share their best resale shop find and the responses were fun to read. Woman readers look for quality items at a fair price.

Thanks to everyone who emailed their photos and resale shopping experiences. We selected five "finds" in a random drawing for a $10 gas card (so our readers could shop some more). They went to Sandra Kallagan of Livonia, Phyllis Hess of Plymouth, Michele Martin of Northville, Dar Cotham of Westland and Marsha Szmatala of Livonia.

So keep sharing. Send your favorite fall memory (50 words or less or a photo, if that says it best) to soxis@hometownville.com. Be sure to tell us your hometown and include a daytime phone number in case we need to reach you.

things).” Before moving to Florida, Lenore tried Nashville for three years. A self-styled country/pop artist, she said she “took a lot of meetings” with recording industry folks in Nashville, but couldn’t shake free of all the other young female artists trying to get signed.

She said she heard a lot of “we’re excited about you, come sing for us,” but none of it translated into a deal.

“In Nashville, I was one of a million girls just like me,” she said. “The meetings were good, but they just weren’t signing females.”

Then a friend of a friend sent a tape to executives at Cash Money and Lenore said the label expressed interest.

“They called and said, ‘Come now’ and I was very excited,” Lenore said. “I met them, played live for them and it was a done deal.”

YouTube sensation

In announcing the deal, Cash Money co-founder Bryan “Birdman” Williams said in a release that Lenore’s collaboration with renowned musicians from different perspectives helped her create and develop her own style.

“Sarah is a star in every sense of the word,” Williams said in the release. “She is a strong performer, has a beautiful voice and lights up the room. She is glamorous, but also very much the girl next door, and very relatable.”

It’s the biggest thing that’s happened to her career so far. She appeared on the NBC show America’s Got Talent and has sung the national anthem for football and baseball teams. She got to sing it live on national television — “That was incredible,” she said — before the NCAA women’s basketball championship game a couple of years ago.

She’s also taking advantage of YouTube, starting out with modest interest — maybe 300 views per video — before signing with Cash Money, when her per-video views jumped to some 15,000.

“You can make it or break it via social media,” Lenore said. “There’s a handful of acts that made their name that way. I did a Lil’ Wayne cover and it shot up there. It was super exciting.”

In the meantime, she’s sticking to her roots. She refers to herself as pop/country, though she doesn’t think there’s much delineation. The biggest names in country, singers like Taylor Swift and Carrie Underwood, are as much pop stars as country.

Same style

“When you turn on the radio, pop is country and country is pop,” Lenore said. “I’m not ‘yee-haw,’ but I’m not Britney Spears, either. I’m the same as I’ve always been.” That’s what her mom says is the best part about Lenore’s success to this point: She’s “still Sarah Lenore.” She grew up watching her grandfather Bill Wiercioch feeding the hungry and helping the homeless. She’s so hometown, Susan Wiercioch said, that her “entourage” on a recent video shoot included her parents and grandparents.

“That’s the greatest compliment as a parent that you can get, that your kid is kind and generous and caring,” Susan Wiercioch said. “That’s Sarah. She gets it from her grandpa and she learned well.”

While she’s waiting for Cash Money to decide what song will be her first single, Lenore has recorded Motor City, an homage to her native Detroit-area roots. She said she wanted to do the song after seeing so much negativity about Detroit and seeing the reaction from people when she tells them where she’s from.

“I’ll say I’m from Detroit, and people are like, ‘Oh-h-h...’” she said. “That annoys me. I’ve learned so much from here. All my goals and values I learned from people in Detroit. Maybe (the song shows) there would be a little more hope for Detroit.”

Even as her career begins to take off, Lenore said, she’s trying to keep an even keel. She has creative control over her music at Cash Money, but she doesn’t intend to let that change her style.

“I haven’t changed the way I sing or the way I write music,” she said. “I think that’s why I’ve been able to do what I’ve done. I haven’t changed a thing.”

New Plymouth Winter Fest gets commission approval

By Brad Kadrich
Staff Writer

It’s not going to carry the name and it’s happening a week earlier than originally planned, but it is going to happen.

The Plymouth City Commission approved Monday the special event permit for Plymouth Winter Fest, set to take place Jan. 10-12 in downtown Plymouth.

While it won’t carry the name — former promoter Sam Walton still owns the Plymouth Ice Festival name — the new festival, being organized by James Gietzen of Northville-based JAG Entertainment, will feature the same focus: ice carving.

The slogan is “It’s all about the ice” and we’re hoping to bring back the bigger ice sculptures,” said Gietzen.

The 32nd annual ice festival had been tentatively scheduled for the following weekend, Jan. 17-19, but no permit request has been filed and no one has heard from Walton, who still owns the city some $20,000 from last year’s event.

In Walton’s absence,

Tony Brusato, operations director of the Downtown Development Authority, and Wes Graff, president of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, have enlisted people familiar with event production and fundraising to run the festival.

It’s planned for Kellogg Park and downtown streets.

One robbery suspect sentenced, one facing trial

By Darrell Clem
Staff Writer

One suspect has been sentenced to probation for a robbery that occurred in June, when two men, one totting a weapon, forced their way inside an apartment near Lilley and Warren.

Justin Deontae Echols, 19, has been sentenced by Judge Michael Hathaway under the Holmes Youthful Trainee Act, meaning he can keep the crime off his record as long as he obeys court orders imposed on him. Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Maria Miller confirmed the latest developments based on court records.

Echols had pleaded guilty in mid-August to a charge of unarmed robbery, Miller confirmed at the time, and authorities agreed to dismiss a more serious charge of armed robbery.

The plea stemmed from an incident that occurred June 22 at Pilgrim Village, an apartment complex on Lilley, north of Warren.

A male victim told police two men with their faces partially concealed knocked on his door and forced their way inside when he opened it. One had a weapon.

A second defendant, 21-year-old Aaron Nathaniel Bourdreux-Brown, still is facing trial, Hathaway's clerk said Tuesday. If convicted as charged, he could face penalties ranging up to life in prison.

Echols and Bourdreux-Brown already had two earlier charges of first-degree home invasion and larceny in a building dismissed during a preliminary hearing in 35th District Court. Canton police Lt. Craig Wilsner has said the robbery victim alleged the two men forced their way inside his apartment and robbed him about 7 p.m. June 22.

"One of them got into a struggle with the resident, while the other grabbed some items out of the apartment," Wilsner said. No one was injured. The pair fled in a vehicle, but arrests were made following an investigation by Canton police and Michigan State Police.

Walmart tussle

A employee at the Walmart store on Ford Road east of Lotz tussled with a suspected thief during an incident that occurred about 5:40 p.m. Sept. 10, a police report said.

Police received a call about a fight in progress at the store after a loss prevention employee tried to apprehend a man who had allegedly just stolen a package of men's underwear by concealing it under his shirt, the report said.

The employee confronted the suspect as he started to leave the store. The suspect refused to comply, resulting in a confrontation as the two fell to the floor and began wrestling, the police report said. The underwear fell to the floor during the incident.

The suspect eventually broke free and fled in what was described as a green Pontiac Grand Am. He was described as a white male, 5 feet, 4 inches, 165 pounds, about 25 years old with brown hair. He was wearing a dark green shirt and blue jeans.

Stolen identity

A Canton man who lives on Doubletree, southeast of Warren and Beck, notified police to report he had been contacted by several financial institutions saying someone had tried to open accounts in his name, a police report said.

Debit deke

A woman told Plymouth Township Police her debit card had been stolen at a local fast-food restaurant.

The woman told police she'd gone through the drive-through window at the Wendy's on Ann Arbor Road. She handed the attendant her debit card and, while swiping the card, the attendant struck up a conversation with the victim. The victim then drove away without getting her debit card back.

According to police reports, she subsequently noticed fraudulent charges on the account and realized her debit card was missing. She canceled the card and filed a fraud report with her bank.

The victim then spoke with the manager at Wendy's, who subsequently reviewed security footage from the day the victim had eaten there. The footage showed the atten-

CANTON CRIME WATCH

The 49-year-old man told police about the incidents around 5 p.m. Friday. The man inquired with the financial institutions and was advised to file a police report. He had not yet suffered any monetary losses.

Fake money

Police went to the Extended Stay America southeast of Ford and Haggerty roads last Thursday after receiving a report of counterfeit money that an employee had found, a police report said.

A general manager had left work after collecting some money from paying customers. The next day, it was learned that another employee overnight had collected other money and placed it in the same envelope — including a $50 counterfeit bill.

An employee contacted the room of a customer who was believed to have paid with the counterfeit bill. A woman who was the customer's girlfriend reportedly became upset that the suspect was being accused of a crime.

The incident remained under investigation.

Traffic arrest

Canton police arrested a 43-year-old Melvindale man who was wanted for warrants out of Wyandotte and Lincoln Park after officers made a traffic stop about 2 a.m. Friday, a police report said.

Police spotted a 2007 Chevrolet HHR turn from northbound Haggerty onto westbound Van Born without coming to a complete stop for a flashing red light.

Police learned the passenger was wanted in Wyandotte for receiving and concealing stolen property and in Lincoln Park for marijuana possession and having narcotic equipment.

Canton turned the man over to Wyandotte police at I-275 and Eureka. The driver, meanwhile, was cited for a traffic violation and released.

Overnight theft

A 20-year-old Westland woman notified Canton police about 11 a.m. Friday after she said a 29-year-old man had stolen her cellphone and money when they spent the night together at a hotel on Ford Road.

The woman told police she checked her purse the next morning and learned the items had been taken. She told police she contacted the suspect and he admitted stealing from her.

An investigation led to Redford, where the suspect was located by police. The phone was retrieved and the woman told police she didn't want to prosecute.

PLYMOUTH CRIME WATCH

dant slipping the woman's debit card into her pocket.

The victim, citing the fact she'd gotten a new card and wasn't really out any money, declined to press charges.

Golf ball assault

The owner of Sparr's Greenhouse on Joy Road told Plymouth Township Police damage had been done to the greenhouse roof by someone apparently hitting golf balls onto the property.

According to police reports, the victim said three panes of glass on the roof had been broken and golf balls had also ripped holes in the plastic sheet that covers the glass.

Police talked to a neighbor, who admitted he hits golf balls in his back yard, but that he only hits them about 15 yards. The neighbor said he'd talk to others in the neighborhood to see if anyone had seen anything.

Stolen paychecks

A Plymouth Way resident told police someone had stolen several items from her car while it was parked outside her home.

She told police she got home from shopping around 4 p.m. Sept. 14 and had immediately gone inside with her groceries. She said she didn't go back out to the car that day and couldn't remember if she'd locked it.

When she went out around noon the next day, according to police reports, she saw the door ajar. She said someone had cleaned out the coin tray and had taken the contents of her center console and tossed them on the passenger seat.

She said they'd also stolen two payroll checks with a total value of $800. The victim had no idea who might have stolen the items and police couldn't find any fingerprints.

Brew, brats fundraiser benefits historical society

Beer enthusiasts and the 21-and-over crowd are invited to attend the fourth annual Brew, Brats & Bands at the Barn fundraising event 6-9 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 21, at the Cady-Boyer Barn, located in Preservation Park at 500 N. Ridge Road in Canton.

Proceeds from this unique beer tasting event will support the Canton Historical Society. Sponsors of this popular event include Canton Leisure Services, Holiday Market and the Liberty Street Brewing Co.

Admission includes seven drink tickets, each good for a four-ounce beer tasting sample. Attendees will be able to choose from more than 60 different craft and specialty beers that will be available to sample. Brats with all the fixings will also be included with admission, as well as a kegsake beer tasting mug.

Musical entertainment will be provided throughout the evening by All Directions, playing popular rhythm and blues standards, and The Tabasco Cats, bringing their Dixieland Band sound to Preservation Park.

"You don't have to be a beer connoisseur to enjoy this event," said Gregg King, facilities maintenance supervisor and fundraiser organizer. "Not only do you get to taste a variety of Michigan craft beers, but you also get a chance to enjoy some great musical entertainment and all-you-can-eat brats all for a good cause."

Tickets are $30 online or at the door and are available at www.cantonhistoricalsociety.org, in person at the Summit on the Park at 46000 Summit Parkway and the Canton treasurer's office at 1150 S. Canton Center Road, as well as the Canton Farmers Market at 500 N. Ridge Road. Designated driver tickets are also available for just $10.

Proceeds from this fundraiser will benefit the Canton Historical Society. For more information on Brew, Brats & Bands at the Barn, visit www.cantonhistoricalsociety.org or call 734-394-5314.

Secret cinema cancer fundraiser set for Sept. 26

A secret cinema movie event is being held to benefit a nonprofit founded by a former Canton resident who is battling cancer.

Scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 26, at the Canton Imagine Theater, the fundraisers for the Jill's Wish Foundation lead into Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

The Jill's Wish Foundation was established by Jill Brzezinski Conley, who was diagnosed with invasive ductal breast cancer in 2009. After two years of remission, in 2011 her cancer had returned and was now stage 4 incurable breast cancer that metastasized in her sternum.

Jill's Wish was created to help patients and their families dealing with cancer minimize their financial struggles.

Conley

In honor of her devoted dog Honey Bear, Conley also established Jillybean's Barking Bones, an all-natural dog treat with proceeds going to the Good Dog Therapy Foundation, an organization providing therapy dog service to people with health care needs.

Award-winning Australian photographer Sue Bryce heard Conley's story and was so moved that she flew Conley to Paris for a photo shoot and created a short documentary titled The Light That Shines.

Doors will open at 6 p.m. for a raffle and auction. The movie will begin at 7 p.m. with the local premiere of the 15-minute documentary The Light That Shines. Immediately following will be the secret cinema movie of Conley's favorite dog family-friendly movie.

Tickets are $5 per person and available at www.imagine-entertainment.com or at the Imagine Canton, 39535 Ford.

All proceeds go to the Jill's Wish Foundation. Conley was born and raised in Canton with four brothers, Steve, Shawn, Jason (her twin) and Jamie, and step-sister Joanna. She met her husband Bart while living in Las Vegas. The two were married in 2008, just seven months before her diagnosis. They moved to Louisville, Ky., and currently reside there.

Prison support group presents workshop

Hope 4 Healing Hearts, the support group for loved ones of incarcerated people, presents a workshop Staying on the Outside of Prison Bars.

The workshop will be held 6:30-8:30 Monday at Kirk of the Savior, 3660 Cherry Hill, in Westland.

"After attending this workshop, you will have a better understanding of what families go through when their loved ones go to prison and even more about what happens after they come home," organizer Bonnie Hilberer said.

The presenter, Mr. "MG," just wants to help others, Hilberer said. He works his day job, then volunteers twice a month to meet with families in a support group in Oakland County. The group was created a few months ago and designed to provide a safe place for families to talk, share and try to understand why their loved ones often continue to struggle with life issues.

A workshop hosted by Hope 4 Healing Hearts is designed to show what families of incarcerated loved ones deal with.

Hilberer said Mr. "MG" has spent the past 30 years "trying to encourage men and women to stay out of jail and prison, but many become repeat offenders, hurt their families emotionally and financially and just keep repeating the cycle."

Attendees will learn why many become repeat offenders and learn the devastation it has on families. The workshop will also show how families cope.

"You'll learn you aren't alone," Hilberer said. "There are hundreds of people of all ages with broken hearts because their loved one is either doing 'time' or maybe living on the street."

Folk society opens new season

The BaseLine Folk Society opens its 2013 season Saturday with featured performers The Folk Laureates.

BaseLine Folk Society, a group of talented musicians promoting and preserving the fine art of "traditional acoustical folk music," hosts performances at the Joanne Winkelman Hulce Center for the Performing Arts, the Plymouth Community Arts Council, 774 N. Sheldon, in Plymouth.

"Open mic" welcomes performers who can sign up 6:15-6:45 p.m., the third Saturday of each month through May. There are as many as 10 openings for open-mic performers to perform two songs, original or covers.

The Folk Laureates have been performing since 2011. The group consists of Cathy Fitzpatrick, John Delle-Monache and Scott Ludwig. All have been involved in folk music since the 1960s. They have a wide range of entertaining material, both original and cover.

The host is Doug McClennen, singer/songwriter; story teller and guitarist and regular performer at BaseLine. McClennen has been writing and performing for more than 30 years. Tickets are $5 at the door, including performers. Annual memberships are $25 for individuals (free monthly admission).

BaseLine Folk Society is a nonprofit group. Learn more on Facebook with information, pictures, a schedule, etc. For more information, contact the group's president, Scott Ludwig, at BFSpresident@gmail.com.

The JWS Center for the Arts is located on the east side of Sheldon, on the corner of Junction. It's just under a half-mile south of the traffic light at Sheldon and the M-14 exit, 200 yards north of North Territorial. Parking is in the building lot or on nearby residential side streets.

Cash donations from the Canton group will be used to help offset insurance deductibles and other expenses for tornado-ravaged residents of Moore, Okla.

CANTON DONORS HELP OKLAHOMA VICTIMS

Relief supplies delivered to those affected by tornadoes

By Brad Kadrick
Staff Writer

A partnership built out of generosity and concern for tornado victims in Oklahoma has resulted in the delivery of a truckload of relief supplies designed to get people back on their feet.

Earlier this summer, Canton-based MSA Delivery Service partnered with Canton Township officials and the Canton Chamber of Commerce, along with other businesses, churches and individuals, to take much-needed supplies to Oklahoma.

MSA driver Brian Jessel, who actually lives in Oklahoma, reported recently off-loading at the Powerhouse Assembly of God Church in Moore, Okla., all the blankets, towels, pillows, T-shirts, pajamas, socks, paper products, hair and dental care items, hygiene products, pet food, canned goods, cleaning supplies, books, baby products, etc., that everyone donated.

The Rev. Larry Hutcheson, pastor of the Powerhouse Assembly of God Church in Moore, Okla., welcomes the relief supplies delivered by MSA driver Brian Jessel.

Jessel called the Rev. Larry Hutcheson, pastor of the Powerhouse Assembly of God Church in Moore, Okla., and his volunteers — along with the Red Cross, which is assisting in the distribution of items — a “dedicated bunch of volunteers” and said donations will be appropriately distributed to those in need.

Monuments were put up honoring tornado victims.

Powerhouse Assembly of God is located a half-mile from where the tornado devastation occurred. Jessel told Canton volunteers that many of the distribution sites had already closed by the time the Canton donations arrived.

Marion Rozum, who organized the effort from the Canton end, said donors and local volunteers should be proud for reaching out and helping others.

“I once read, ‘You have never really lived until you have done something for someone who can never repay you,’” Rozum said. “Thank you all for supporting this project. Sleep well knowing you made a difference. Whenever you can, support those who are trying to help others. One day it may be you who needs a helping hand.”

Rozum pointed out that, in addition to all of the relief supplies, cash donations were sent via St. Vincent de Paul at St. Thomas a Becket Church to St. Andrew the Apostle Church in Oklahoma to help cover the deductibles on insurance claims and immediate person-to-person help.

“We have been assured that every penny has gone to help those in greatest need,” Rozum said. “A phone call asked us to pass on their gratitude.”

Volunteers helped distribute the supplies from the Canton donation to the Powerhouse Assembly of God.

Changes are coming to the Dow Jones stock index

The stocks contained in the Dow Jones Industrial Average are going to change. The Dow, as it is more commonly known, contains 30 different stocks. The goal of the Dow is to reflect a broad overview of the U.S. economy. Changes are not frequent, but they do happen in order for the index to continue to represent a broad picture of the U.S. economy.

The recently announced change will affect 10 percent of the components of the Dow. Alcoa, Bank of America and Hewlett Packard are the stocks that are leaving, while Goldman Sachs, Nike and Visa are being added as new stocks to the Dow.

The Dow is the most famous stock market index, but it is certainly not the only one. In fact, there are all sorts of indexes, such as the Standard & Poor's 500, the Russell 2000, NASDAQ 100, MSCI World and the MSCI EAFE. There are indexes that measure just about anything from small to large companies, both domestic and international. In addition, there are indexes that track the fixed-income market. The bottom line is that there are indexes for every type of investment you can imagine. The questions investors have is whether there is one index that they can use to measure how their portfolio is doing.

Rick Bloom
MONEY MATTERS

It would be nice if we could look at our portfolio and compare it to one index to determine performance. Unfortunately, it doesn't work that way.

Every stock or fixed-income index measures something different and there is no one index to rely on. In fact, many experts say that it is a fool's game to even attempt to compare your portfolio to one index or the other.

Comparing your portfolio to an index is sometimes dangerous, because it assumes that you're 100-percent invested in the stocks in that index. Investors with a well-balanced and diversified portfolio hold a variety of elements, often not in that index.

Typically, a stock portfolio contains large, mid and small companies, both domestic and international. In addition, it's not unusual for an investor to have a position in emerging market funds and even in something such as global real estate. Because a well-balanced and diversified portfolio has so many different asset classes, one index does not adequately reflect the portfolio.

Generally, the fixed-income side of a portfolio also contains a variety of different fixed-income investments, such as U.S. treasuries, corporate bonds and international bonds. Once again, one index would not suffice as an adequate measure for the portfolio.

It's important for investors to recognize that the goal is not to match or beat an index, but rather to achieve individual goals and objectives.

In addition, one must factor in the risk you're willing to accept. Indexes don't factor in risk, which is a critical component to portfolio construction and performance.

Never forget that, as an investor, it is your individual goals and objectives and risk tolerance levels that you must constantly monitor — not whether you beat the index.

Good luck!

Asian-Indian women's group to host elder care summit

By Julie Brown
Staff Writer

Information on elder care will be the focus of a Saturday, Sept. 28, summit of the Asian-Indian Women's Association of Michigan, to be held at Schoolcraft College's VisiTech Center in Livonia.

People from India began to move to the U.S. in large numbers in the 1960s and early 1970s, said Daksha Pandit, a board member and a founder of the association. They were studying and working, also raising families.

"We realized this is our home and this is where we're going to be," the Plymouth Township resident said. "Our parents were not here. This is the first time for us to learn these issues."

People from the Indian community have aged and many need additional care. People from Indian descent face issues with dietary restrictions and language, with some older people not speaking English.

The second annual Leadership Summit of the AIWA will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28, at Schoolcraft in Livonia. AIWA members will pay $10, non-members $20, which includes a Schoolcraft culinary arts lunch.

"We have some specific requirements to cater toward us," said Pandit, who helped found the association in 2000. "For our children, this is going to be something totally new for them, too. We want them to educate themselves."

Moving in with children is difficult, she said. "We need our own space and they should be part of it," she said of the younger generation and challenges in elder care decisions.

Speakers include state Rep. Sam Singh, D-East Lansing, and Tina Abbate Marzolf, CEO of the Area Agency on Aging 1-B. Oakwood's Marcia Filek, resource manager for Senior Care Solutions, will also speak.

Exhibitors from independent living, assisted living, rehabilitation and nursing homes, home care, physical therapy and more will attend. Advance reservations are needed. For information, email aiwamich@gmail.com. The association has a website at www.aiwami.org.

Pandit's mother-in-law is alive at 91 and lives in Texas with family. "They will need help with the language," Pandit said of families with three generations here. "There is an immediate need right now."

She said transportation is often arranged to take many seniors to Hindu temples and other houses of worship. "People do like to practice their religion wherever they live," Pandit said. "There might be a religious factor. I think personally it is not going to be a big factor."

Other Asian-Pacific organizations will also be at Schoolcraft for the summit, which is open to all regardless of ethnic group.

Pandit and others from her association are proud to present programs that help women and their families. The association also participates in the fall "Making Strides Against Breast Cancer" walk of the American Cancer Society in Ann Arbor. Members also give 10 percent of membership to breast cancer research efforts and do other volunteer work.

Pandit is retired from her public relations and advertising business and earned a degree in journalism from the University of Detroit. She's mom to two.

Ramesh Verma of Novi is also commissioner for Asian-Pacific American Affairs, an appointment of the governor confirmed by the state Senate.

Verma noted the large baby boom population. "This needs more attention for our seniors," he said.

Seeking crafters

Date/Time: Saturday, Dec. 7
Location: Plymouth Historical Museum, 155 S. Main in Plymouth
Details: The Plymouth Historical Museum is accepting applications for its annual Juried Craft Bazaar. Applicants are required to submit three to five photos of craft items for judges to determine participants as there is a limit of crafters to five per category. Table rentals are $30 each and most are eight feet wide, although there are some space variations available. Space is tight, so vendors will need to limit their display to the size of the table or an equivalent space. The museum is offering free admission that day for both museum patrons and bazaar shoppers. Crafters are requested to donate an item for the museum's raffie.
Contact: The application is available at www.plymouthhistory.org/mjdp/download/events/17/craft\_show.pdf. Crafters not accepted for the bazaar will receive a full refund.

OUR VIEWS

Internet sales tax

Legislation will help level business playing field

When it comes to shopping, we have always encouraged readers to do it locally, whether it's for a hammer, pair of shoes or piece of furniture. It's part of our fundamental purpose listed every week on our editorial page. But those local retailers are at a disadvantage in the marketplace.

The Main Street Fairness Act, legislation introduced earlier this year in Lansing, will, if passed, help contribute to the success of the mom and pop stores that make up the bulk of our community.

We hope the state Legislature acts quickly to pass this legislation, a small step in leveling the playing field among stores in the community with online retailers.

Currently, online retailers don't have to collect sales taxes if they don't have a physical presence — such as a brick-and-mortar store or office — in the state. Some web-based companies collect the tax on a voluntary basis, but not all do. And that's the rub for state Rep. Eileen Kowall, R-White Lake, who is sponsoring the legislation.

"Our bricks-and-mortar businesses in our community employ our family and friends and neighbors," Kowall said. "They are getting harmed by the uneven playing field this creates."

The legislation would essentially shift reporting responsibilities from individuals to companies. They would be required to collect and submit the tax under state oversight.

In 2011, only 107,900 people reported untaxed online purchases, paying about $6 million in sales tax as part of their tax returns. The state Department of Treasury estimates that total represents only 1 percent of the total amount due.

The department also estimates Michigan has lost $204 million to $249 million in sales tax revenue each year since 2011 because Internet retailers aren't collecting sales taxes.

That amount is expected to grow to $272 million in the 2014 fiscal year, which begins Oct. 1. Factoring in all other remote sales — which include catalog and other types of mail-order sales — the amount increases to $491 million in 2014.

In addition, a 2012 report by Lansing-based Public Sector Consultants stated the online sales tax loophole has a significant negative impact on job makers.

That amount is expected to grow to $272 million in the 2014 fiscal year, which begins Oct. 1. Factoring in all other remote sales — which include catalog and other types of mail-order sales — the amount increases to $491 million in 2014.

These are the businesses that pay local taxes, hire local employees and give back to their communities.

Kowall first introduced this legislation last year, but the Legislature never acted on the measure. This time around, it appears elected officials will consider the measures. It was scheduled for a hearing Wednesday in the state Tax Policy Committee. Whether the measure will be passed at the state level is still up in the air. Ari Adler, spokesman for Speaker of the House Jase Bolger, said the measure is something that seems better addressed at the federal level.

A House fiscal analysis of the bill agreed, indicating the impact would be far greater if passed at the federal level. Unfortunately, that doesn't appear to be happening any time soon. While the U.S. Senate passed legislation, it appears the U.S. House won't approve the measure, at least for the time being.

Correcting this loophole is a no-brainer, which is why Gov. Rick Snyder is among the governors in calling on Congress to act.

Not everyone, besides online retailers themselves, thinks taxing online retailers is the right move.

Critics of the national initiative are calling it a money grab by states that should be focused on reducing spending. Opponents say it's unfair to require online companies to pay sales taxes in all 9,600 state and local jurisdictions that levy a tax.

Ultimately, an online sales tax bill simply requires businesses to collect taxes that, legally, are already owed. That's only fair and the state Legislature and Congress should send the bills to the governor and president, respectively, for their signatures. Michigan's passage of such a law will be another step to show federal officials the importance of its passage.

COMMUNITY VOICE

Is Michigan's $7.40-an-hour minimum wage fair? If not, what should it be?

We asked this question at the Canton Public Library.

"Yes, I think it's fair. Others go to school and work hard to get a better job. I'm a big fan of education."

Susan Puchalt
Canton

"Moving back from (Washington) D.C., it wouldn't be fair (here), but I think it depends on your age. If you're a teen it might be all right, but not if you can't make a living off it."

Steven Chumney
Canton

"I don't think it's fair. I think probably $10 an hour would be fair."

Jennifer Moore

"I actually think it's fair. If you raise it, then it will have to be raised for people with a college education, too. If you want to make more money, you have to work for it."

OUR VIEWS

Be a part of the process: Register and then vote

It may have slipped by unnoticed to many that Tuesday was Constitution Day, a time set aside to honor the document that formed the United States of America. The freedoms we hold dear are part of the document, its Bill of Rights and the 17 amendments that have been added since it was signed by our Founding Fathers.

"One of the freedoms it guarantees is the right to vote. As written, the Constitution didn't determine voting qualifications; that was left to the individual states. But over time, through amendments and legislation, such as the Voting Rights Act of 1965, the right to vote has been clearly established. Men and women of all races, religious beliefs and economic status and who are age 18 by election day are eligible to vote.

This brings us to Tuesday,

Sept. 24 — National Voter Registration Day. It's not the deadline to register to vote, but a day that has been set aside to remind people to take the necessary steps to be eligible to vote this year, including filling out the needed registration forms.

It goes without saying that voting is one of our most sacred freedoms, but in 2008, when America elected its first African-American president, some six million people didn't vote because they missed a registration deadline or didn't know how to register.

In Michigan, there are really only three requirements to register to vote:

- » Applicants must be 18 years of age by Election Day.
- » They must be a U.S. citizen.
- » They must be a resident of the city or township in which they wish to register.

While the idea of National Voter

Registration Day is to get as many people around the country as possible registered Sept. 24, the actual deadline to register to vote for Michigan's November general election is Monday, Oct. 7.

And there are several ways to sign up. People can register by mail, at their county, city or township clerk's office or by visiting any Secretary of State branch. They can get information about registering to vote or even check their status as a registered voter by visiting the Secretary of State's website at www.michigan.gov/SOS.

Voting is an important part of the freedoms we have as Americans. It's one that should be exercised in each and every election. If you're registered to vote, great. If you aren't, don't wait another day. Register and then get out and be a part of what makes us the land of the free.

Smart about meters

Our Canton officials will have to carefully consider both sides of a complicated issue: DTE's smart meters.

Canton residents organized and attended a recent township board meeting to express their concerns. DTE provided its position. Our leaders will have to take into account all of the facts, then choose whether to side completely with DTE or Canton residents or determine a reasonable and fair compromise.

I am not sure a compromise will work, but Canton officials will try to be fair to both groups.

Will Barwick
Salem High School

Separate agendas?

What is happening with the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees?

First, Treasurer Ron Edwards refuses to disclose township financial information as requested by fellow Trustee Bob Doroshewitz at a public board meeting.

Weeks later, the board votes to secretly borrow money for recreation projects (despite its previous high-intensity campaign arguing the urgent need to cut costs in regards to police and fire services). Now the board rejects Doroshewitz's proposal for an ethics ordinance, which would offer some transparency and accountability in limiting gifts from vendors.

It seems that the fearless four — Reasume, Edwards, Arnold and Conzelmann — have their own agenda. Did they need to be reminded of the need for transparency and that they are elected officials to represent the voters in Plymouth township?

Common Core foes lack facts

When you attend all the hearings (this was my third) and read the commentary from those in favor and those opposed, you quickly discover that the supporters of the Common Core and the Smarter Balance Assessment provide factually accurate information that is verifiable via many sources.

Those opposed — including state Rep. Tom McMillin, R-Rochester Hills, New York University professor Diane Ravitch and University of Arkansas education professor Sandra Stotsky — provide opinions that do not stand the test of fact checking or verification.

The verifiable evidence supporting adoption of the Common Core curriculum standards is overwhelming; the opposition is strong in their emotion, but is credibly void of factual support.

McMillin and others repeatedly assert that we will be unable to change the standard because National Governors' Association "owns" them. The NGA copyrighted Common Core for good reason. Just what is a standard? It is a standard because it is consistent, you can rely on it as a guide, a common resource upon which to build and continually improve. Think Underwriters Laboratories, Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, the ISO Series of Business Standards and the communications standards for the Internet.

Common Core as written is copyrighted to protect the integrity of the standard and avoid one of the major problems standards are intended to correct: inconsistent and wildly variable expectations.

Michigan and 45 other states adopted the Common Core and agreed not to infringe the copyright. Standards do not inhibit in any way creativity, imagination and the insatiable curiosity and diversity each child brings to the classroom.

They will enable a meaningful response to the question that should be asked of any conclusion: "Compared to what?" With Common Core in place, accountability will finally mean something.

Just imagine what navigating the interstate highway system would be like if each community along its route were allowed to provide signage of its own design and not the familiar, standard, green and white signs we all use today.

Standards work; they increase quality, effectiveness and lower costs.

Isn't that what we all want from our system of education? Chuck Feltz

too. The study found that closing the online tax loophole would lead directly to the creation of as many as 1,600 new jobs and increase investment in Michigan's economy in the form of sales at brick-and-mortar retail outlets by as much as $126 million per year.

These are the businesses that pay local taxes, hire local employees and give back to their communities.

Kowall first introduced this legislation last year, but the Legislature never acted on the measure. This time around, it appears elected officials will consider the measures. ## As systems go

New-look Whalers primed to follow Vellucci's winning blueprint

By Tim Smith
Staff Writer

No matter that Plymouth Whalers standouts such as Stefan Noesen, Rickard Rakell, Garrett Meurs and Vince Trocheck won't return to the Compuware Arena ice in 2013-14, all getting closer to careers in the National Hockey League.

There's a pretty good chance you can add Tom Wilson's name to that impressive list.

Still, the Whalers figure to once again have plenty of talent, desire and the main constant over the Ontario Hockey League team's 22-year run of consecutive playoff berths — Mike Vellucci at the helm.

Returning veterans such as average defenseman Nick Malysa and 17-year-old forward Matt Misteale do not discount that last point on the eve of the season, which begins Friday night at London.

"We have a lot of new guys this year, about half the team is new," Malysa said. "But it doesn't change anything. We're still going to play the same system, we're still going to play the same way."

Just 'Whalers hockey'

Malysa described "Whalers hockey" in matter-of-fact fashion: blocking shots, getting the puck in deep, playing the body. "That's not going to change," he said. "We still have something to finish that we started last year."

According to Misteale, who led the Whalers in goals last season with 34, the loss of NHL-bound players won't sidetrack the team from the new mission at hand.

"We're not worried," Misteale said. "We've got a great team. It's a young team, but we're going to be one of the hardest-working teams. Vellucci will make sure of that and the older guys will make sure the younger guys understand the tradition to make the playoffs."

dent, general manager and head coach, does every September is flip to the start of a fresh chapter. The book itself is the same.

BOYS SOCCER

Rocks solid in 2-0 victory

By Brad Emmons
Staff Writer

It appears to be a seamless transition for the Salem boys soccer program as former coach Ed McCarthy, who has stepped aside to become a part-time assistant, has passed the torch to former Rocks player Scott Duhl.

Salem, boasting a veteran cast, improved to 6-0-3 overall and 4-0 in the KLAFA's Central Division on Monday with a 2-0 victory over visiting Livonia Stevenson.

"It's been good," said Duhl, a 2000 Salem grad who played at Western Michigan University. "This group in particular, being an older group, they're kind of set in their ways a little bit. I think their aggressiveness and desire is so high that sometimes they are almost over the top in critical of each other and demand a lot of guys. For me, taking over this group, a really talented group, I'm fortunate."

Fortunate was the word on Salem's first goal as senior Brady Cole scored with 25:41 left in the first half off an assist from fellow senior David Schroeder to make it 1-0.

But officials missed an apparent offside call, which would have nullified the goal. But there was no mistake about the Rocks' second goal as Nick Massey drilled a shot from 25 yards out into the upper left corner over the outstretched arms of Stevenson goalkeeper Mike Bolin with 16:04 remaining in the first half to make it 2-0.

Stevenson, meanwhile, thought it had the equalizer with 23:57 remaining, but Jake Plisko's shot was wiped out by an offside.

But this time the officials may have gotten it right.

"From my angle I couldn't

Canton 7th at Grosse Ile

Booned by another outstanding performance from Canton senior girls golfer Kelsey McDougall, the Chiefs finished seventh out of 18 teams at Saturday's Grosse Ile Invitational.

Stoney Creek captured the championship, tallying a 341 at par-75 Grosse Ile Country Club.

In second was Grosse Pointe South (355) while Canton placed seventh with 372.

McDougall finished eighth out of the 88 golfers, with her score of 85. Other Chiefs and their scores included Alyse Krumm (93), Chloe Luyet (96), Rachel Pisano (96) and Madelyn Mans (102).

Heroes on Hines races Oct. 5

Wayne County Parks will sponsor its first Heroes on Hines half-marathon and 5-kilometer race Saturday, Oct. 5, with proceeds going toward the creation and maintenance of the First Responders Memorial to be erected at Hines Drive and Haggerty.

The half-marathon starts at 8 a.m., followed by the 5K at 8:30 a.m. The event is sponsored by Running Fit and the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

The cost is $34 (5K) and $59 (half-marathon) if registering through Oct. 4. Visit heroesonhines.com.

Hole-in-one club grows

Bruce Palen of Livonia Sept. 7 ace'd his 355-yard, par-4 No. 9 hole at the Fox Hills Woodlands Course.

Carl Schultz, of Plymouth, last month scored his first hole-in-one, sinking his tee shot at the 174-yard, No. 8 hole at the Meadowbrook Country Club Men's Invitational.

Golf and triathlon

PGA professional Tami Bealert will be staging a 5-kilometer run-walk, 20K hike and nine-hole golf scramble at 9 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 29 at Hickory Creek Golf Course. The cost is $75.

For more information, visit TrainWithTami.com or call 734-731-0238.

Report prep scores

Coaches are encouraged to report varsity results to the Observer. Send emails to Plymouth-Canton Observer sports editor Tim Smith (tsmith@hometownlife.com) or call him at 734-469-4128.

Please help your athletes get the recognition they deserve. Deadlines for information are 10 p.m. Tuesdays and Fridays. Information that does not make the print edition will be published at www.hometownlife.com.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Chiefs tee off early on Patriots

By Tim Smith
Staff Writer

A fast start by Canton's heavy hitters propelled the Chiefs Tuesday to a three-set sweep over visiting Livonia Franklin.

Canton romped to a 25-14 win in the opening set before following up with 25-13 and 25-22 victories to take the KLAFA South Division varsity girls volleyball matchup.

With the win, the Chiefs improved to 6-2-0 overall and 2-0 in the KLAFA South while the Patriots dropped to 4-3-1 overall and 1-1 in the division.

"Our starting lineup did a good job tonight moving the ball around," Canton head coach Steve Johnson said. "We were able to run a bunch plays off serve-receive and get it to our hitters tonight."

Franklin head coach Desiree McMahon lamented early struggles from the service stripe and inconsistency in other areas.

"The first two sets we struggled to get our serves in and connect," McMahon said.

"We definitely need to work on our blocking more, but by the third set we were stepping up into it and our serves were going in."

"We were connecting with our setters and our hitters. It's a process."

McMahon did note Canton's hard-hitting lineup, however: "They definitely have a lot of potential on that team."

Strong up front

Hammering home plenty of points for Canton were southpaw-swinging right-side hitter Sasha Cucuz (11 kills) and junior Haley Diedrick (six kills) — with on-a-tee sets provided by a trio of setters.

Senior Chelsea Janice orchestrated the early success, with all nine of her assists in the first two sets.

Later on in the match, senior Rachel Buzenberg (15 assists, nine in the third set) and

Longtime A.D.'s grateful for added help at the Park

By Tim Smith
Staff Writer

A lot has happened at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park since 2007 budget cuts dropped the heavy load of overseeing athletics at three high schools into the laps of incumbent athletic directors Steve Heinzman and Tom Willette.

"When Tom Willette and I took over the three schools in 2007 we did so at the height of the recession," wrote Heinzman in a weekend e-mail to the Observer. "The school board was making cuts to all departments and athletics was no different."

That's because the same school board is making the athletics department whole — and then some.

The green light was given to Superintendent Dr. Michael Meissent to hire a third A.D. as well as an athletics administrator who will oversee programs across the entire district. The long-awaited decision brought a thumbs up from Heinzman, who spoke on behalf of Willette in the e-mail. Both long-time A.D.'s also are getting title changes to assistant principal of athletics.

"The decision to add a dedicated assistant principal who is in charge of athletics in each of the schools is a positive," Heinzman noted. "Adding a district person we hope will assist with securing funding for facilities, improve communication for athletics and activities, and setting policy for the district."

"... It will provide clarity and consistency for all activities as well as athletics and we believe this will also be a positive for the district."

Heinzman and Willette each will be an A.D. (actually, they will be named assistant principals in charge of athletics) either at Canton, Plymouth or Salem. Another person will be hired for the third school, along with the K-12 administrator.

"We have not been told that the district has anyone specific in mind" for the two new positions, Heinzman continued. "Each of us will remain at one of the schools, which has yet to be determined."

She said administrative postings for the positions should be out within the next couple of weeks from the district's human resources department.

Until then, it will be business as usual with Heinzman and Willette teaming up to make sure the many sports and co-curricular activities at the Park continue to run smoothly.

And despite some bumps in the road, particularly over the past year, the tandem has plenty to point to with pride.

Since 2007, they implemented the addition of competitive cheerleading, boys and girls bowling, boys and girls lacrosse, ninth grade pom pom.

"We also absorbed the responsibility of covering ice hockey which we did not have to do when there was a district person assigned," Heinzman stressed. "Working so close together these last few years we have a good grasp on what needs to be done with the challenges of three schools sharing facilities."

"This too will be an asset moving forward as we have seen where we can improve on working collectively."

Lutheran Westland gridders lose in final seconds

By Brad Emmons
Staff Writer

A monster defensive effort turned to horror Saturday afternoon for host Lutheran High Westland in its Michigan Independent Athletic Conference football opener.

The Warriors kept Sterling Heights Parkway Christian off the board until the final six seconds when quarterback Noah Allen scrambled 21 yards for a touchdown to give the Eagles a dramatic 7-0 victory.

The game-winning TD was set up when tight end Philip Lapinski threw a double pass and left Cole Kasperowicz for 31 yards putting the ball down on the Lutheran Westland 22.

"We always have something and we always try to find the perfect time," Parkway coach Todd Francis said of the trick play. "This was the perfect time with us and a minute left... we were just trying to do anything we could to find a victory."

Meanwhile, Lutheran Westland coach Paul Guse had an inkling the game-winning play was coming.

"We saw that on film," he said. "Kids react to what they see. We talked about it. We just didn't react the way we should have."

Parkey regained possession of the ball with just 45.1 seconds left. The Warriors had been forced to punt, unable to make a first down after taking a pair of successful illegal procedure calls.

"We had to make sure that we were able to score right away," said Francis, whose team improved to 3-0 overall. "We had a little bit of time. We had a nice pass that Phil threw to Cole, and Cole made a great catch. But the honest with you, our defense just played solid. They kept us in the game.

"We're very proud of our defense. It was a great win, we're excited."

Parkey limited Lutheran Westland to 114 total yards, including just 62 on the ground (in 29 attempts).

But the Warriors had chances to get on the board.

Travis Fry recovered a Parkway fumble at the Eagles' 34 on the opening kickoff, but the Warriors couldn't capitalize after gaining just four yards and taking a pair of costly penalties.

Caleb Richter then intercepted a Parkway pass early in the second quarter and returned it 59 yards down to the Eagles' 11, but once again the Warriors turned the ball over on downs.

"First half, first-and-goal on the 11 and we couldn't do anything," said Guse, whose team slipped to 0-3 overall.

"It's really frustrating. Give Parkway credit. They took us out of our comfort zone, which is running the ball. First-and-goal and didn't score. We didn't take advantage and that's the name of the game and we didn't do it."

In the two previous games, Lutheran Westland had rushed for a combined 515 yards.

But against Parkway, the Warriors made just five first downs. Quarterback P.J. Guse was 9-of-19 passing for 52 yards.

"We're not built to throw the ball," Paul Guse said. "We just have to keep working at it and getting in sync in our passing game. We still have to run the ball, so... We've got to look and see what they took away from us inside against our running game. We ran a little spread, but it wasn't a more effective than what else we did, so we kind of went back to what we're comfortable with."

Parkey had the better scoring opportunities, especially in the third quarter when they missed field goal attempts of 42, 45 (blocked by Jacob Davoport) and 31 (bad snap) yards.

The Warriors, meanwhile, also came up short on a 35-yard field goal try with only 6:13 to go.

"Our guys played smash-mouth football," Francis said. "They got low. They made blocks and they made tackles, and they went after them. They did a real good job against these guys."

Parkey had 294 total yards with Allen accounting for 168. The Parkway QB was 7-of-21 passing for 93 yards and had 75 yards rushing on 18 attempts.

Teammate Nathan Schick added 74 yards rushing on 15 carries.

Davenport and Nathan Abbott paced Lutheran Westland's defense with 25 combined tackles and two sacks.

"Forty seven minutes and 54 seconds were a 0-0 game," Guse said. "They're not happy. Obviously they're not happy, but they know they played a tough football game today and they know it could have gone either way. We need to clean some things up. We can't keep taking penalties late in the game like we did."

1954 PA 188 PROCEEDINGS
NOTICE OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENT HEARING
Charter Township of Plymouth
Wayne County, Michigan

TO: THE RESIDENTS AND PROPERTY OWNERS OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH, WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN AND ANY OTHER INTERESTED PERSONS:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that as a result of Petitions of property owners within the Township signed by the record owners of land whose front footage constitutes more than 50% of the total front footage of the hereinafter described Special Assessment District and the Township Board of the Charter Township of Plymouth proposes a road paving project on Ridgewood Drive and to create a Special Assessment for the recovery of the cost thereof by Special Assessment against the property benefited thereon.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested, that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth has tentatively declared its intention to make the hereinafter described improvement.

The proposed improvements shall consist of milling, and/or pulverization, and/or removal of the existing bituminous road with the placement of a new bituminous pavement surface and/or cross section, as well as miscellaneous driveway and drainage work, which may be needed to facilitate the replacement of the asphalt road pavement. It is understood that this is primarily a road improvement project and therefore any drainage problems existing prior to the project pavement. Existing water problems, such as standing water, etc., outside of the roadway will not be resolved by this program. It is further understood that this alternate, if permitted by the County of Wayne, could be subject to special conditions dependent upon the findings of the soils investigation report, existing subsurface conditions, etc. The project commences at the north right-of-way line of North Territorial Road and proceeds northward on Ridgewood Drive for approximately 2130 feet to the south right-of-way line of M-14 Expressway.

That it has further been tentatively determined that the following described lots and parcels of land will specially benefit from said improvements and will constitute a Special Assessment District against which the cost of said improvements shall be assessed:

The district limit for frontage along Ridgewood Drive consists of parcels numbered R-78-031-99-0001-000, R-78-031-99-0002-000, R-78-031-99-0003-702, R-78-031-99-0003-701, R-78-031-99-0004-000, R-78-031-99-0005-004, R-78-031-99-0008-000, R-78-031-99-0009-001, R-78-031-99-0010-000, R-78-031-99-0011-000, R-78-031-99-0012-000, R-78-031-99-0013-000, R-78-031-99-0014-000, R-78-031-99-0016-000, R-78-031-99-0018-000, and R-78-031-99-0019-000 located in the Northwest 1/4 of Section 27, T1S, R8E, and R-78-015-99-0002-000, R-78-015-99-0003-000, R-78-015-99-0004-000, R-78-015-99-0005-000, R-78-015-99-0006-000, R-78-015-99-0007-000, R-78-015-99-0008-000, R-78-015-99-0009-000, R-78-015-99-0010-000, R-78-015-99-0011-000, R-78-015-99-0012-000, R-78-015-99-0013-000, R-78-015-99-0014-000, R-78-015-99-0015-000, and R-78-015-99-0016-000 located in the Southwest 1/4 of Section 22, T1S, R8E of Plymouth Township, Wayne County, Michigan.

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth shall meet on Tuesday, October 8, 2013 at 7:00 p.m. at the Plymouth Township Hall, 9955 N. Haggerty Rd, Plymouth, Michigan 48170, for the purpose of reviewing said proposed Special Assessment District, and hearing objections to the improvement, creation of the Special Assessment District, and the assessment thereon. All persons may then and there appear and make any objections they may have to such improvement and assessment. Appearance and protest at the hearing is required in order to appeal the amount, if any, of special assessment to the state tax tribunal. An owner or party in interest, or agent thereof, may appear in person at the hearing, or may file an appearance or protest by letter. All parties or agents appearing in person at the hearing for purposes of protest should request the appearance be entered into the record of the meeting.

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that the plans, specifications, estimates of cost and record drawings of the engineer for said proposed Special Assessment District have been filed with the Township and are available for public examination at the office of the Township Engineer, Special Assessment District, and hearing objections to the improvement, creation of the Special Assessment District, and the assessment thereon, at the approximate amount of $28,000.00. Clerk. The estimate of costs of such construction is in the approximate amount of $28,000.00.

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that periodic redemption of costs for the proposed Special Assessment District may be made without further notice to the record owners or parties in interest in the property.

WV Steelers upend Redskins, 42-27

By Ed Wright
Staff Writer

There was no stopping Plymouth-Canton Steelers junior varsity running back Carson Miller Saturday afternoon.

The West Middle School seventh-grader sprinted past the host Dearborn Heights Redskins for five touchdowns to lead his team to a 42-27 victory in a pivotal Western Suburban Junior Football League contest.

In addition to his running exploits, Miller also booted three two-point extra points for the winners.

Miller was aided by the crushing blocks of Steelers offensive linemen Luke Fisher, Nick Downs, Zack Svet and Tyler Overatits.

The Steelers were bolstered in the second half by strong running from Darrin Moore, Ethan Rottell and Cole Myers, whose paths were paved by strong blocking from Jack Gregory, Jeremiah Penick, Mason

Hackney, Cooper Doolin, Gage Wheatley and Ben Vetter.

The Steelers' defense was spearheaded by outstanding efforts from Jason Perko, James Hanson, Liam Radomski, Ben Bennett (fumble recovery), Drew Pwet, Jake Cain and Logan Walkley (interception).

Following a bye week, the Steelers will host Belleville on Sept. 28 at 2 p.m. at Central Middle School.

The varsity and freshmen Steelers also registered victories. Details were not available at press time.

YOUTH FOOTBALL

Canton Lions excel across the board

The Canton Lions youth football teams enjoyed a big day against the Belleville Cougars.

The varsity won 25-0 to improve to 2-1. They scored first with a long touchdown run by Matthew Steuple. Quarterback Noah Brown and center Max Mulvaney led the offense and assisted in carries by Jalen Williams, Nick Krone, Rubin Williams and Michael McMullen and catches by Adam Stepek.

The throws were on target and allowed touchdown catches by Alex Azzouz, who also threw a touchdown to Ryan Cassidy.

The Lions' defense wowed spectators with tackles in the backfield by Chase Meredith, a blocked punt by Colin Troup and tackles by Zach Beadle, Kyle Petruski, Bradley Tyszkiewicz, Jaydon Johnson, and Mulvaney.

JUNIOR VARSITY LIONS.
The Canton Lions JV improved to 2-1 with Saturday's 33-13 win. Justin Reynolds led the offense with an opening kick. He was instrumental in the win with three touchdowns, an interception and multiple tackles.

A touchdown by quarterback DJ Harding and a pass by Kameron Arnold added to the score.

The offense line — including Michael Abughaman, Blake Poppy, Jack Mulvaney, Christopher Lufkin, Seth Hurm and Nick Azzouz — held off the defensive efforts of the Cougars and added a 20-yard reception to Kameron Arnold and a 20-yard catch by Tyneya Williams.

FRESHMAN LIONS

The Canton freshman Lions had a strong game against the Cougars, winning 45-28. Leading the way to Saturday's win was a strong running game, led by Makelans Clements, Justin Johnson, Kameron Mhisen, Jayce Williams, Spencer Korach, Daniel Baldwin and Marco Johnson.

During the first quarter, Spencer Korach intercepted a fumble and then Darrell Johnson scored a touchdown. Ryan Anderson scored the next touchdown. With two extra points by Kobe Kyle, it was 14-0 after one quarter.

The second quarter began with Belleville scoring following a Canton fumble. But Anderson and Kyle (following a fumble recovery by Ryan Okurouwu) added the lead to 25-0 at halftime with TDs.

Scoring two TDs in the second half for Canton was Daniel Johnson, with Preston Long also scoring.

JUNIOR FRESHMAN LIONS

In their third game of the season Saturday, the Lions' junior treatment team shutout the Cougars, scoring four touchdowns. Strong blocking by the offensive line, led by Peter Mahamedy and Bryanke, helped to pave the way for two long touchdowns by Daniel Johnson and Kreshgar Lesley. Running back Caleb Williams scored the Lions' third TD.

JACOB'S LAZER

Ex-Chiefs goalie Dugan seizes junior hockey chance

By Tim Smith
Staff Writer

Even when things didn't go smoothly as a goalie for the Canton Chiefs' varsity hockey team last winter, Jacob Dugan kept his nose clean and kept on working to get better.

By persevering and not giving up, the 2013 Canton High School graduate not only finished his prep career with dignity, he caught the attention of Michigan Ice Dogs coach Jeff Price.

"This opportunity is massive for me," said Dugan, who really credited his experience in 2011-12 with the Canton Chiefs junior varsity prep career for his continuing transformation. "I get to continue playing hockey after high school which is something that not many get to do."

Dugan signed a deal to play for the Ice Dogs following a few months of summer conditioning skates with the squad. The team is based out of Farmington Hills Ice Arena and is currently gearing up for the 2013-14 regular season.

It was fitting that the person who guided Dugan through some rough patches as a high school goalie produced the goal for the Ice Dogs — namely, John King, one of the JV team's coaches and stepfather of one of Jacob's then-teammates, Brandon Zachs.

"During my junior year at Canton, John took a liking to me and has been somewhat of a guide through the paths of my hockey career," Dugan noted. "... My junior varsity season was the season that... And feel I showed the most growth as a goaltender. "I entered the season as an underdog having only once played ice hockey since my ninth grade year and once the season was over I was one of the best goaltenders in the league."

In his corner

Having only originally donned the goalie pads as a high school freshman, Dugan's progress between the pipes has been nearly as quick as his style of stopping pucks.

In 2010 he suited up for the Livingston Lightning, followed by the Henry Ford Hurricanes in 2010-11. Both of those years were Midget A teams. Still unsure about his net minding ability entering his junior year of high school, he played on the Canton JV squad that was coached by King, Tom Stahl and Adam "Teddy" Lazorka. "That season's coaching staff was fantastic," Dugan continued. "They were all incredibly supportive and knowledgeable about the game."

Certainly, he was greatly encouraged along the way by his mom, Marti Dugan.

But the way King and the other coaches he believed in him continues to have a lasting impact, something MJWHL shooters could soon learn for themselves. Of course, Dugan did not make the jump from the JV to the Ice Dogs. He had to get through the roller-coaster ride of his senior season, spent with the Canton varsity team.

He had a difficult first appearance for the Chiefs, giving up four goals in relief as Canton lost 9-0 to Plymouth. "After a few poor appearances I sat most of the rest of the season only playing during my crew (in) hopeless games," Dugan said. "Though there was a silver lining — the hardships of that season developed my mental strength, showing me that the real reason I play hockey is because it is a love I have."

"I pushed me and off the ice to be a better person." Even his varsity coach, Jeremy Majszak, tipped his cap to Dugan. "I wish Jacob Dugan a lot of luck," Majszak said. "He truly loves the game and works very hard to better himself."

Case in point, Dugan is taking classes in engineering at Schoolcraft College by day and playing for the Ice Dogs by night.

He hopes he'll continue to rise as a goalie, perhaps moving up to his senior season, spent or joining a college program someday.

It must be of some comfort that his new team sports the same color scheme as his old one. "As of now the Ice Dogs is my home where I will bleed the red and white once again for the next six months," he said.

BOYS SOCCER ROUNDUP

Park teams all victorious

Salem continued to roll with Tuesday's 4-0 varsity boys soccer victory over South Lyon East at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park.

Scoring for the Rocks (7-0-3 overall, 5-0-1 in the KLA A Central Division) were Nick Massey, Andriy Pelekh, Matt DeMoss and Connor Cole.

Drawing two assists was William Benintende with single helpers to Massey, Pelekh and Cole. Sharing the shutout were goalkeeper Collin Hewett and Chad Winn.

PLYMOUTH 1, CHURCHILL 0: Alex Decker's goal midway through the second half enabled the Wildcats (3-7-1, 3-1-1 to earn a KLA A South Division victory Tuesday at Livonia Churchill (4-5-1, 2-3).

Plymouth goalkeeper James Gibbs posted the shutout, while Churchill's Colton Robison made five saves.

CANTON 8, WAYNE 0: Sophomore Mathew Cautioner notched a hat trick and added one assist Tuesday as the host Chiefs (9-0-2, 5-0) invoked the mercy rule against Wayne Memorial (1-7, 0-5) in a KLA A South Division match.

Griffin Parks had a goal and two assists, while Cody Widlak and Carter Schenk each contributed a goal and an assist. Finishing off the scoring were Ammar Chisht and Dominick Murphy with a goal each.

Sharing the shutout were goalkeepers Jay Krebs and Andrew Loehtnis.

Lady Ocelots win in 2 OTs

The nationally-ranked Schoolcraft College women's soccer team recorded a huge victory on the road Sunday, pulling out a 2-1 double-overtime win at Cincinnati State.

The No. 14 Lady Ocelots (5-0 overall) broke a 1-1 tie with only 48 seconds remaining in the second OT when Kelly McKay tallied the game-winner, her fourth of the year, on a header off a cross from Tiffany Gattuso.

"I think our level of fitness and team depth played a big role in the win," said Schoolcraft coach Deepak Shivraman, whose team improved to 5-0 in NJCAA Region XII.

"It's exhausting to play 90 minutes and then two overtime periods, not to mention all of the presens that come with the situation."

Cincinnati State, ranked No. 18 in the latest NJCAA Division I poll, scored on a penalty kick by Julie Martin in the 53rd minute to take a 1-0 lead, but Schoolcraft's Jessica Perry tied it in the 67th minute on a blast from 20 yards off an assist from Samantha Jarrett.

"I am hoping that the resilience and composure taught our players that we can play at a high level with a great degree of pressure," Shivraman said.

"These types of games will certainly help strengthen our team as it relates to focus, confidence, and mental toughness."

Schoolcraft goalkeeper Tara Gessler made four saves, while Kelsie Lee had 15 stops for Cincinnati State (4-1 overall, 2-1 NJCAA Region XII).

tell, but the linesman was pretty adamant that guy was like a yard offside and he (Plisko) was behind him," Duhl said. "But any time you get the (first) call you'd be upset about that for yourself."

That second goal proved more than enough for the Rocks, but they couldn't add to their lead as Stevenson sophomore keeper Austin Kazmarek kept it a two-goal margin by making four spectacular one-handed saves.

"I thought we played much better in the second half and I liked our energy," said Stevenson coach Ken Shingledecker, whose team dropped to 4-4 overall and 2-2 in the KLA A Central. "And there's really no quit with this group, which is good."

"We got a big week. We play right away tomorrow (vs. Novi) and we're just trying to get the sophomore (Kaczmarek) in as much as we can. And he's been excellent. Every time we put him in he plays really well. We'll go back to Bolin tomorrow and those two guys are both capable of getting the job done."

There was a lot to like about Rocks' performance — except their finishing.

"We were able to get on the ball a lot," Duhl said. "I would feel more comfortable telling you what I didn't like, which is the decision making in the final third. We were right on the edge of the box 40 times tonight and we chose to dribble when we should have been passing. And we were passing when we should have been shooting."

"We got it wrong a lot, but we scored a really good second goal. I think first goal actually was offside. I'm pretty sure our guys even think so. I've said this all year — we move the ball really well, but it's all about the final product. That's the difference in any game." Duhl also singled out three unsung players who made it possible for senior goalkeeper Collin Hewett to post the shutout.

"I thought our two center backs — Jordan Salhani and Alex Price — were good," the first-year coach said. "We actually had a new pairing and these two guys playing together. But I thought they did a pretty good job."

"It's a work in progress. Even moving Walid (Kandah) into the center field is more of a calming presence in the game. I thought those three guys did a really good job defending them, and playing out of it, so we could connect and keep the ball a lot."

Facing the Central Division's three toughest teams this week was a tall order for an inexperienced Stevenson squad which played six sophomores.

"We're young, we're injured and they (Salem) are pretty good," Shingledecker said. "I do kind of like where we're going, though. The scoreboard says 2-0 and the first goal was a tough deal, and I thought maybe we could have been offside ..."

"We just have to continue to get better. We're just getting healthy. We got Billy Werthman back since the first one. It's good to have him back today. It's a chance to move Gino (D'Orazio) out of the back. And I thought Gino really responded in the midfield and gave us some life in there. Things are starting to come. We have some guys still out hurt that hopefully will get back. It's not a finished product, but we'll get there."

Meanwhile, Duhl is comfortable with the way the season has unfolded thus far. "I think it's good," he said. "I think these guys are comfortable with me and I'm comfortable with a lot of them. I think it's been a smooth transition."

WHALERS

said before a recent practice in his office at Compumare. "But it's not just to make the playoffs. We want to win our division first and foremost, then the conference. That's our goal."

"I talked to the guys the other day. People are saying we're young, we're rebuilding. We don't rebuild. We're just ready to go and we're ready to fight for the championship."

Early optimism
Vellucci and the Whalers don't rebuild, they reload. Yet it would be impressive if they even came close to the special season they enjoyed in 2012-13. It all begins Friday at London, followed by the home opener, set for 7 p.m. Saturday.

"We're young, but we're skilled and we're big, so I'm excited about it," Vellucci said. "There's a lot of guys who have been here for the last year or two that are going to get in and we'll have increased ice time and your chance to make the most of it." Plymouth finished the regular season with the West Division championship and 93 points, sparked by the mid-season acquisition of Trocheck, who finished the season with 109 points (59 in 28 games with Plymouth) to lead the league.

The team reached the third round of the playoffs before ultimately falling to regular-season champion London in a hard-fought, overtime-filled conference final.

Vellucci does have a roster featuring a number of players who saw important minutes in 2012-13.

Up front, the team probably will be led by left wing Ryan Hartman, who netted 23 goals and 47 points, and assisted on 37 others on the top line with Trocheck. Hartman won't be at Compumare for a while longer as he remains with Chicago's NHL camp.

Wesley, who just came over from the U.S. Developmental Program," Vellucci said. "He's young and his dad is Glen Wesley that played in the NHL for 20 years."

Rounding out the defense will be Alex Peters, Mitch Jones (Rochester), Mathieu Henderson and Yannick Rathgeb.

"We have eight very good defensesmen," Vellucci said. "It's going to be tough to find them all ice time."

Net presence

The defense will have one of the OHL's top goaltenders behind it in acrobatic Alex Nedeljkovic, who during his rookie season took over the No. 1 job last year around the time the Whalers took off. He won 19-2-1 and posted a 2.28 goals-against average and .923 save percentage in 26 outings.

"It's a big year for Alex, but he's a great goalie," Vellucci said. "He's got that great demeanor and so we expect big things from him."

Fighting for the top backup spot are returnee Rickey Corbin and 2013 draft pick Zach Bowman. The latter appears to have the inside track, following an outstanding training camp.

Where the team will look different will be up front.

Forwards Trocheck (50 goals, 59 assists, 109 points), Meurs (32 goals, 33 assists, 65 points), Noesen (25 goals, 28 assists, 53 points) and Rakell (21 goals, 23 assists, 44 points in just 40 games) won't be back. Also gone is center Mitchell Heard, who tallied 17 goals in 36 games.

All are at NHL camps and at the least will be sent to the American Hockey League.

Right wing Cody Payne (24 goals, 21 assists, 45 points) was traded over the summer and fan favorite Wilson (23 goals, 35 assists, 58 points) could stick with the NHL Capitals. If not, Wilson would again leave them up for the Whalers.

Their loss will be felt by those back for another season, such as Mistle. "All those guys were important last year," Mistle said. "Obviously, Trocheck had 109 points. That's a pretty big pit to fill. No one can really fill those shoes."

"But I mean, hopefully, I want the best for Willie (Wilson) and if he comes back, he comes back. But if not, guys like me and (Zach) Lorentz and (Carter) Sandlak and (Connor) Chatham, we've got to step up and put more pucks in the net."

Vellucci also is pumped up to see what his new forwards can do. He said first-year player Chatham is destined to be a first-round NHL draft choice in 2014.

"We got (Victor) Crus-Rydbert, the Swedish player," he said. "He's been very impressive so far. And (Francesco) Vilardi, who we traded for, is a '96 first-year player. He's got a lot of skill."

Sandlak (Belleville Bulls last year) is an overage power forward who Vellucci said "plays the game like I like my players to play — tough, hard-nosed, but he has a lot of skill and can puck the puck in the net."

Meanwhile, abrasive forwards Danny Vanderville (four goals, 10 assists, 14 points) and Connor Sills will be looking to move up the depth chart.

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Canton girls 2nd at Sparta Invitational

Canton's varsity girls cross country team came oh-so-close to capturing Saturday's Sparta Invitational, but the Chiefs still were happy to finish second. Topping the eight-team field in the Varsity Girls Blue division was Grand Rapids Forest, with the top five finishers amassing a total time of 1 hour, 41:25.01 seconds. The Chiefs were not far behind, coming in with a total of 1:42:26.89 seconds. Members of the squad included Olivia McIntee, Jessica Siegler, Maddison Johnson, Kate Cotham, Alyssa Bradley, Anna Gorzalski and Samantha McGrath. Rounding out the remaining teams were third-place Rockford (1:43:01.20), Holland West Ottawa (1:45:14.86), Lowell (1:48:46.10), Greenville (1:55:08.77) and Holland (1:56:54.77).

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

PCA nearly pulls off upset; 'Cats win in 3

For a while Tuesday night, it looked as though host Plymouth Christian Academy might put one of the few blemishes on Oakland Christian's record this volleyball season.

PCA won 25-19, 25-22 in the first two sets and had a 22-21 lead in the potential clincher before the visiting Lancers rebounded for a 25-22 win to keep the MIAC match alive.

Oakland then went on to win 25-11, 15-12 for the 3-2 match victory, improving to 20-2 overall for the season.

"I think they (Eagles) got a little overconfident because the first two games I think they felt very secure," PCA head coach Katie Decker said. "We got off to quick leads, we came out firing and swinging."

"I think there was a little bit of our inexperience that showed at the end. We got overcon-dent and it got away from us."

For the Eagles, now 5-3-2 overall, leading the attack with 13 kills each were senior Rachael Fuller and freshman standout Olivia Mady.

Others chipping in were junior libero Callie Morby (21 digs) and senior middle blocker Jen Malcolm (18 assists, five blocks).

Wildcats sweep

In the words of Plymouth varsity volleyball coach Sarah Marohy "everyone contributed" as the Wildcats swept a three-set match over visiting Westland John Glenn on Tuesday night.

By topping the list was Shayla Smalls, with five kills, six aces and 17 assists to lift Plymouth (8-4 overall, 1-1 in the KLA) to the 25-15, 25-20, 25-23 victory.

"Shayla's precise and consistent serving in the third game sparked our offense and helped to secure the win," Marohy said.

Olivia Beyer (14 kills, 14 digs) and Emily Burkman (five kills, 10 digs) "provided timely and crucial hits" to stop Glenn serving runs. Dani Barile added 10 digs while Haylee Weber (nine digs) and Aleah Rogalski (seven digs) played well on defense.

Rocks fall short

Salem lost in three sets last Thursday to Nov. 14-25, 25-27, 14-25, but head coach Amanda Nies saw positives in defeat. She said Kelly Idsbarski played a strong match at libero with 22 digs while Tess Ganich was a force with 10 kills, 10 assists and six digs. Audrey Boike collected seven kills.

"Our passing is just way too inconsistent," Nies said. "Without it we can't do much."

PREP CROSS COUNTRY

Rocks look to halt struggles

The Salem girls cross country team is going through a bit of a rough patch, but Rocks head coach Dave Gerlach knows a turnaround is just around the corner.

Salem finished 19th with 511 points at Friday's Spartan Invitational at Forest Akers Golf Course, but bounced back a bit Saturday with a 12th-place showing at the Holly Invitational.

At Springfield Oaks Park, with a largely junior varsity lineup, the Rocks tallied 269 points led by Sierra Bowden (21:16), Erin McCann (22:00) and Kati Binsfeld (22:03).

Others to finish were Katy Robeson (22:39), Kariissa McCarthy (22:41), Marlo Sharpe

(22:50) and Brianna Es-sien (22:03).

Toledo Whitmer won the event with 77 points.

"This group was aggressive today and stepped up," Gerlach said. "I saw some good things today and athletes making positive steps toward varsity."

At the Spartan Invite, Anya Cho and Kayla Hughes were the top performers with times of 19:14 and 19:59. Natasha Stevenson (20:03), Elizabeth Tripp (20:45) and Emily Marcano (21:10) were next in line.

Winning the invite with 98 points was Northville.

Salem boys win

Salem's boys cross country team defeated

South Lyon East 19-44 on Tuesday, sparked by senior Donovan Drouillard, who finished first with a time of 17:29.

It was Drouillard's first individual victory, coach Steve Aspinall said.

Also scoring were junior Noah Enger (third), senior Brendan McCann (fourth), junior Jason Rogers (fifth) and junior Nabil Ahmed (sixth).

"There were a number of personal bests, including from many younger guys," Aspinall said. "I was particularly happy with the performance of freshman Alex Kroll, who ran a new personal best by over a minute to finish as our No. 9 runner on the day."

Lady Ocelots go 3-4 at tourney

The Schoolcraft College women's volleyball team got off to a tough start Tuesday in its Eastern Conference opener in the Michigan Community College Athletic Association.

Host St. Clair County CC improved to 16-4 overall and 4-1 in the conference with a 25-17, 25-11, 25-23 triumph over the Lady Ocelots.

Schoolcraft (8-10, 0-1) got a team-best 20 digs from Megan Wright, while Katie Summers was the top attacker with seven kills.

Ajsha David added five kills and dished out 14 assist-to-kills.

Over the weekend, Schoolcraft finished 3-4 in the Shannon McBride Tournament held in Kirtland, Ohio.

On Saturday, Schoolcraft fell to No. 20-ranked Sinclair (Ohio) CC, 20-25, 15-25, St. Clair County CC, 22-25, 20-25, and Lorain County (Ohio) CC, 25-20, 18-25, 8-15, while defeating Lake Michigan, 25-18, 25-18.

On Friday, the Lady Ocelots posted victories over host Cuyahoga (Ohio) CC, 25-8, 27-25; Notre Dame College (Ohio), 25-18, 25-22, while falling to Geneseo (N.Y.) CC, 19-25, 25-12, 12-15.

Schoolcraft returns to action at 7 p.m. Thursday at home when it faces MCCA Eastern Conference foe Flint Mott CC.

junior Carleigh Vela (seven assists in the third set) took over.

"We don't have just one player they can go to," Johnson said. "But we always have somebody that's hot that night."

"Most of the time it is Sasha, but it could be (Kayla) Buford, (Lauren) Shornak or Haley Die-drick."

Buford was a thorn in the Patriots side with her perfectly timed blocks, finishing with four to lead Canton.

Helping finish off Franklin in the second set was Die-drick, with a four-point service run helped along by timely blocks by Shornak and Buford.

The Chiefs tallied a 12-6 edge in the clincher, with Vela strong at the stripe with five points including an ace.

It was 17-10 following a Buzenberg-to-Die-drick power slam, but Franklin tried to chip away after that and did cut the deficit to 23-21 following an ace served up by libero Kelly Newton.

That was about as close as the Patriots would get, however. Despite the fact the final outcome wasn't doubt for much of the evening, Johnson still saw some wrinkles in the blocking department he'd like to see ironed out.

"I think they were getting up in the air a little too soon and not holding back," Johnson said. "It could be communication. I'd like that to improve a little more."

Leading Canton in defensive digs were junior Megan Roy and Sydney Torres, with nine each. Adding seven was Shornak.

Top contributors for Franklin included Newton (13 digs), Buzenberg (three aces, 12 assist-to-kills), Mikayla Sinekiewicz (18 assist-to-kills) and Sarah Cramton (four kills).

Garden City native reveals his life, hometown through sketch comedy

By Sharon Dargay
Staff Writer

Garrett Fuller loves Garden City, so it's no surprise the 28-year-old sketch comedian and improviser references his hometown on stage.

"I have a couple of different ones about Garden City," said Fuller, describing the stories that underpin his current show at Go Comedy! Improv Theater in Ferndale.

"After being in the community so long, I've become synonymous with Garden City. It's a thing people bring up to me all the time. I must talk about it a lot. When people drive through Garden City, they'll text me and say, 'Hey, I was in your hometown. I'm proud of my city. I love where I come from.'"

Fuller, who grew up in Garden City, but now lives in Livonia, is half the comedy team that makes up "An Evening with Fuller & Lark." Bryan Lark of Ferndale shares the stage with Fuller for 70 minutes, beginning at 8 p.m., Thursday-Friday through Oct. 4 at the theater, located at 261 E. Nine Mile, east of Woodward. Tickets are $15 and are available online at www.gocomedy.net or at the theater box office beginning at 6 p.m., Wednesday-Sunday.

The pair tells personal stories in the form of monologues, sketches and songs. Some of the material came out of improvisation and some from writing individually or in collaboration. For Fuller, the two-man show is a culmination of his work in the Detroit-area improv community.

"I've always wanted to do my own show. I love being part of a resident cast but I always wanted to write my own stuff, create my own thing. Bryan is my best friend, so we've always had a million ideas through the years that we always wanted to put on stage, and this is the show that made all those ideas come to fruition."

Decade of experience

Ten years after starting classes at Second City in Novi, where he and Lark met, Fuller, a Garden City High School graduate, considers himself a "weathered veteran" of the improv stage.

"For years and years I was the kid, the young guy. Everyone was older than me. Now that I'm 10 years in, there are all these young people around."

Rather than view the up-and-coming crop of improvisers as competition, Fuller welcomes the chance to share the stage with them.

"If someone is good, you really want to play with them on stage more than you would want to beat them. In a stand-up comedy environment you would feel competition because it's you against them."

Improv theaters

Fuller performed in student shows while taking classes at Second City. He also improvised at Improv Inferno, in Ann Arbor; at Planet Ant in Hamtramck where he's still a member of the home team; and at Go Comedy! where he is a former resident cast member.

"I still perform there all the time, every single week," he said, referring to the Ferndale venue.

"I teach there but I'm not on the resident cast any more because when the kids were born I wanted to be home more," he said.

Fuller is a stay-at-home dad for his twin 3-year-old boys. He said they inspire much of his writing.

"I never thought my comedy would come from my children, but nowadays 90 percent is from my life. I can pull humor from my everyday situations."

When the show ends, Fuller hopes to move on to bigger opportunities. He and his wife are making plans to move to New Jersey, where she grew up. She's interviewing for jobs there, so that he can "make a run" at New York City.

Reunited band's first CD is hard rockin' 'Joy Ride'

By Sharon Dargay
Staff Writer

Reuniting after a 30-year hiatus and then recording a first CD is like "riding a bike" says Skid Marx, bass guitarist for the rock band, The Seatbelts.

Marx, a Redford Township resident, and fellow musicians, guitarists Rick Mills of Royal Oak and Chris Flanagan of Ferndale, drummer Tony Bojanic of Grosse Pointe and singer Greg Upshur of Stockbridge released Joy Ride, a collection of 13 songs on CD, last month and will "rock the finish line" at the Detroit Women's Half Marathon and 5K, Sunday, Sept. 22 on Belle Isle in Detroit. The concert is free.

"It came fairly simple, but also it was refreshing. It was new, something we hadn't done in all that time," said Marx, referring to the CD re-coding. "Some of the songs on the CD are 30 years old. They had never gotten recorded. We updated them as far as the drum and guitar sounds and changed the arrangements on some of them."

Other bands

Marx left the band a year after it formed in 1977 and although other members stayed together until the early 1980s, The Seatbelts didn't record until now.

After leaving The Seatbelts, Marx joined the band, Flirt, which performed through the late 1980s, disbanded and reunited in the 1990s and again in 2003. He's still plays with Circus Boy, a punk rock band.

Other former Seatbelts members were busy working with other bands, including The Cubes and 3-D Invisibles over the past several years.

Reuniting

In 2010 four of them happened to attend the same benefit event. They talked about jump-starting The Seatbelts.

"I contacted Greg, we talked about it and within a month we had our first show."

The band has worked steady gigs ever since, drawing fans from age 19 to 50-plus to its performances.

"I call it Detroit rock," said Marx, describing the band's sound. "It's not classic but it's got a Detroit 1960s feel to it. Sometimes I call it dance-oriented rock because a lot of people dance to it. It's fun to see that in a bar, people getting up to dance."

Catch The Seatbelts on Oct. 26 at the Bullfrog Bar and Grill in Redford Township.

For more about the band visit Facebook.com/seatbeltsdetroit.

The Seatbelts will "rock the finish line" with a free concert at the Detroit Women's Half Marathon, Sunday, Sept. 22 on Belle Isle. CYRILLE COODH

bake sales

Back-to-school season marks the start of the most delicious extracurricular activity: bake sales. Cookies and brownies are two of the most popular bake sale items, and this year, they'll taste even better with a flavor twist. The McCormick Kitchens have developed easy cookie and brownie recipes — including one that combines the two — to make sure your treats are the talk of the table.

"Our new Choco-Mint Crownie recipe combines a vanilla-rich chocolate chip cookie with a cool peppermint brownie," said Mary Beth Harrington of the

Spice up goodies with flavor twist

McCormick Kitchens. "They're easy to make — just add a splash of peppermint extract to your brownie batter, pour into a pan, spoon chocolate chip cookie dough flavored with pure vanilla on top and bake." Other easy recipes from the McCormick Kitchens take brownies and chocolate chip cookies from bake sale favorites to bake sale stars. It's as simple as adding extracts to brownie mix or folding in tasty ingredients like cinnamon and cocoa to your favorite made-from-scratch cookie recipe.

CHOCO-MINT CROWNIES

Prep Time: 20 minutes
Cook Time: 40 minutes
Makes: 24 servings

- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, softened
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 3 teaspoons pure vanilla extract, divided
- 1 package (12 ounces) miniature chocolate chips
- 1 package (family-size) fudge brownie mix
- 1/2 teaspoon pure peppermint extract

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Mix flour, baking soda and salt in medium bowl. Set aside. Beat butter and sugars in large bowl with electric mixer on medium speed until light and fluffy. Add egg and 2 teaspoons of the vanilla; mix well. Gradually beat in flour mixture on low speed until well mixed. Stir in chocolate chips. Set aside.
2. Prepare brownie mix as directed on package, adding remaining 1/2 teaspoon vanilla and peppermint extract. Spread in greased 13- by 9-inch baking pan.
3. Bake 15 minutes. Drop cookie dough by tablespoonsfuls on brownie, covering the top evenly. Batter will spread during baking.
4. Bake 20 to 25 minutes longer or until cookie top is golden brown. Cool in pan on wire rack. Cut into bars.

CINNAMON CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIES

Prep Time: 15 minutes
Cook Time: 8 minutes
Serves/Makes: 5 dozen or 30 (2 cookie) servings

- 3 1/2 cups flour
- 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups butter, softened
- 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
- 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
- 1 package (12 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate chips
- 1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

1. Mix flour, cinnamon, baking soda and salt in medium bowl. Set aside. Beat butter and sugars in large bowl with electric mixer on medium speed until light and fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla; mix well. Gradually beat in flour mixture on low speed until well mixed. Stir in chocolate chips and walnuts.
2. Preheat oven to 375°F. Drop by rounded tablespoons about 2 inches apart onto ungreased baking sheets.
3. Bake 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool on baking sheets 1 minute. Remove to wire racks; cool completely.

RASPBERRY BROWNIES RECIPE

Prep Time: 10 minutes
Cook Time: 30 minutes
Serves/Makes: 24 servings

- Brownies:
  - 1 package (family-size) fudge brownie mix
  - 4 teaspoons McCormick Raspberry Extract
- Raspberry Chocolate Frosting:
  - 2 teaspoons McCormick Raspberry Extract
  - 1 container (16 ounces) chocolate frosting

1. Prepare brownie mix as directed on package. Stir in raspberry extract. Spread in greased 13- by 9-inch baking pan.
2. Bake and cool as directed on package.
3. Meanwhile, for the frosting, stir raspberry extract into chocolate frosting. Spread over cooled brownie. Cut into squares

CHOCOLATE CHUNK MOCHA COOKIES

Prep Time: 20 minutes
Cook Time: 10 minutes
Makes: 1 dozen or 24 (2 cookie) servings

- 2 cups flour
- 1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup (2 sticks) butter, softened
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 4 teaspoons McCormick Pure Coffee Extract
- 6 ounces semi-sweet baking chocolate, coarsely chopped
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Mix flour, cocoa powder, baking soda and salt in medium bowl. Set aside. Beat butter and sugars in large bowl with electric mixer on medium speed until light and fluffy. Add eggs and coffee extract; mix well. Gradually beat in flour mixture on low speed until well mixed. Stir in chocolate and walnuts.
2. Drop by rounded tablespoons about 2 inches apart onto baking sheets sprayed with no stick cooking spray.
3. Bake 8 to 10 minutes or just until cookies are set. Cool on baking sheets 2 minutes. Remove to wire racks; cool completely.

Fabulous food tasting

Livonia — Tickets are still available for Schoolcraft College Foundation's signature food and wine event, Culinary Extravaganza, which runs 2-5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 22, at the Vis '1a Tech Center, located on the main campus, 18600 Haggerty. Tickets are $30 per person — of which $20 is a charitable contribution — and will include food and drink sampling from approximately 50 restaurants, pastry shops and beverage vendors; a silent auction; a raffle with cash prizes and a demonstration by Master Chef Jeff Gabriel and expert vintner, Lee Hershey on healthy food and wine pairing. Football fans won't miss any of the action at the Detroit Lions-Washington Redskins — the televised game will be featured along with pub-style fare in one area at the event. Proceeds from Culinary Extravaganza benefit student scholarships and the culinary arts department at Schoolcraft College. For tickets, call 734-462-4689 or visit www.schoolcraft.edu/foundation.

Heated competition

Plymouth — The Great Lakes Regional Chili Cook-off and Motorcycle Show could be your ticket to a cash prize, trophy and bragging rights for best in red chili, chili verde or salsa.

The 18th annual event is set for Sunday, Oct. 6 in downtown Plymouth. Chili cooks can register to participate in the Cook-off online at www.greatlakeschili.com. Fees are $40 for the red chili category, $25 for chili verde, $20 for salsa and $40 for a "People's Choice" competition. In addition to the competitive cooking, a motorcycle show will run from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; live bands will perform beginning at noon and children's activities will keep little hands busy from noon to 5 p.m.

The public will get a chance to sample chili throughout the day. Samples will cost $1 each. All money raised from the event goes to Habitat for Humanity and Penrickton Center for Blind Children. For more information, contact Annette Horn at 734-776-9669 or GLRChili@sbglobal.net

Preventing kitchen fires focus of a national safety effort

GETTY IMAGES

The National Fire Protection Association's (NFPA) annual awareness campaign, Fire Prevention Week, will be held Oct. 6-12. The nonprofit fire safety organization is encouraging the public to prevent kitchen fires. The kitchen is the leading area of origin for home fires and most kitchen fires are caused by cooking. On average, there are roughly 3,000 reported kitchen fires per day in the United States.

The Fire Prevention Week website is the central portal for information and resources to help families, teachers, community leaders, and fire officials spread the word about fire safety.

The site includes fire safety tip sheets, fire statistics, a family safety checklist, Sparky the Fire Dog activities for kids and public service announcement videos. Videos on the site include "Sparky's Kitchen Rules," a fire safety song for kids, and safety tips from Sparky's Aunt Dottie.

Visitors can also test their knowledge of fire safety with the Fire Prevention Week Quiz, a fun, interactive resource that lets families see how well-prepared they are for an emergency. Quiz-takers can review their results and compare them with others on Twitter and Facebook.

Continuing for 2013 will be the Sparky's Wish List Campaign. The program, now in its second year, is designed to help fire departments connect with their local communities. Fire departments across the country have registered for public safety education materials they need in their communities. Individuals can then help their local fire department prepare for Fire Prevention Week by fulfilling the wishes.

NFPA offers these important fire safety tips:

- » Be alert! If you are sleepy or have consumed alcohol don't use the stove or your house.
- » Keep an eye on what you fry! Stay in the kitchen while you are frying, grilling, or broiling food. If you leave the kitchen for even a short period of time, turn off the stove.
- » If you are simmering, baking, roasting, or boiling food, check it regularly, remain in the home while food is cooking, and use a timer to remind you that you are cooking. Keep anything that can catch fire - oven mitts, wooden utensils, food packaging, towels or curtains - away from your stovetop.
- » Have a "kid-free zone" of at least 3 feet around the stove and areas where hot food or drink is prepared or carried.

About Fire Prevention Week

NFPA has been the official sponsor of Fire Prevention Week since 1922. According to the National Archives and Records Administration's Library Information Center, Fire Prevention Week is the longest running public health and safety observance on record. The president of the United States has signed a proclamation proclaiming a national observance during that week every year since 1925. Visit www.firepreventionweek.org for more safety information.

About the National Fire Protection Association

NFPA is a worldwide leader in fire, electrical, building, and life safety. The mission of the international nonprofit organization founded in 1896 is to reduce the worldwide burden of fire and other hazards on the quality of life by providing and advocating consensus codes and standards, research, training, and education. NFPA develops more than 300 codes and standards to minimize the possibility and effects of fire and other hazards. All NFPA codes and standards can be viewed at www.nfpa.org/freeaccess.

Check fine print, rights on 'fees'

Q: I just entered into a listing agreement and noted in the fine print that the brokerage firm has a right to take an "administrative fee" over and above the commission. Is that something that is unusual?

A: Apparently, a number of real estate companies are now charging this "administrative fee" in addition to a commission to cover alleged expenses with respect to the closing. My view on behalf of our many real estate clients is that fee should not be charged given the nature of the commission that is being paid by you, presumably six percent in a residential closing. Obviously, other types of brokerage firms will charge a commission as less and/or waive the administrative fee if you ask. Most people don't even recognize or realize that there will be a fee in the closing since it is generally in small print in the listing agreement and not emphasized by the realtor. I would suggest that you bring it to the attention of the realtor at this point, and in the future carefully review your listing agreement before you sign it or have an attorney review it who has experience in dealing with realtors who impose this brokerage fee.

Q: A developer promised to provide to our association a certain tract of land before the first unit was sold to be used as a clean-up area. However, the developer then sold the land to the city without us receiving any compensation. Do you think this is a clear violation of the city and/or the developer for what they did?

A: Obviously, you have a claim against the developer if it breached your declaration or master deed as the case may be. Also, based on similar facts out of the Tennessee appellate court, the city was found to be needed required to compensate the HOA for taking open space that was to be provided to the association by the developer. The fair market value of that open area was to be determined at a separate hearing. Accordingly, your association should immediately retain capable legal counsel to pursue not only the developer, but the city for just compensation.

Career Seminar

Keller Williams Realty will hold a free Career Seminar, explaining the $50,000 income guarantee, 6:30-7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 19, at 40600 West Arbor Road, Suite 100 Plymouth.

For more information, contact Mary Beth Kaljian at 734-459-4700 or mb@marybethk.com.

Seminar

The Meisner Law Group announced that Robert M. Meisner will conduct a four-week course Tuesdays in October from 7-9 p.m. covering "Introduction to Successful Condominium Operation."

This seminar is designed for board members and officers, managers, developers, and association members living in or working with a condominium, subdivision, cooperative, or community association. Explore the many legal issues involved in the successful operation of an association. Cost is $95 ($85 per person when two or more enroll from the same organization). For registration information, contact The Meisner Law Group at 248-644-4433 or 800-470-4433, via email at bm@meisner-law.com, or visit the seminar page on the website: meisner-law.com.

Short sales

If you owe more than what your house is worth, you may be interested in a free informational seminar on short sale procedures. Many sellers are misinformed or not sure about how the procedures work. Organizers will also discuss the internal workings of short sales and the different steps involved. Bonnie David, broker/owner of Quantum Real Estate, is the presenter. It will be 6-8 p.m. Thursdays at 129 N. Lafayette, downtown South Lyon.

For additional parking across the street in back please call the office at 248-782-7130 or email june.quantum@gmail.com for your reservation or additional information.

Seminar on Tuesdays, Thursdays

A free seminar on government-insured reverse mortgages is offered by Colonial Mortgage Corp. on Tuesdays at 6:30 p.m. and Thursdays at 2 p.m., held at various locations. RSVP with Colonial Mortgage at 800-260-5484.

Free foreclosure tours

Free foreclosure tours are 1 p.m. every other Sunday. Meeting place is Panera Bread on the southeast corner of Middlebelt and I-96.

Email Georgia@addvalueducerealty.com or visit FreeForeclosureTour.com.

Investors

The Real Estate Investors Association of Wayne will have an open forum. Investors will answer questions and offer a market update. Meetings are at 7:30 p.m. each first Tuesday of the month at the Red Lobster on Eureka in Southgate.

Members are free, guests $20, which will be applied to their membership. Any questions or concerns, call Wayne Koehler at 313-277-4168.
